Cancers Cured!

OR NO CHARGE.

DR. KINGSLEY,

OF ROME, N. Y.,

Has discovered a perfect cure for Cancers without the use of the knife. Thousands of cases cured can testify to the efficacy of this plan of treatment. This preparation will destroy the specific nature of most Cancers in from ten to sixty minutes. Even in those large Cancerous affections of the breast, from which so many females die annually, my specific is equally as effectual as in those smaller surface Cancers. Ninety-nine out of a hundred of all those persons who have died from Cancer, could easily have been cured. Cancer has been considered from time immemorial the greatest scourge of the human race; but the time will come when all shall see that it is as remediable as any other disease. At the same time remedies are given to purify the blood and fortify the system against a renewed attack. In all cases, if the Cancer is not too far advanced, a perfect cure is warranted, or no charge.

Most persons are greatly deceived in regard to the first symptoms and appearance of Cancer, considering it very painful from the commencement. This is a sad mistake, (causing the death of thousands,) there being but little or no pain until the Cancer is far advanced. The only symptoms for months, and in some cases even for years, is occasionally either a stinging, itching, smarting, burning, creeping or shooting sensation, and in some cases not even any of these. Nearly all of those kernels or lumps that occur in the female breast, and also those unnatural appearances in the form of crusts or warty excrescence, which appear in either sex on the face, lips, nose, eye lids, or any other part of the surface, are cancers. Cancer is very easily cured in its early stage, consequently it is of the very greatest importance that all thus afflicted should have immediate treatment; as thousands of very valuable lives have been lost from pure neglect, having been misguided by physicians having no knowledge of the disease, who, by calling it Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum or some other non-terrifying disease, lull this unfortunate class in the cradle of ignorance, until upon the very verge of death, when, to hide such ignorance, the physician tells the patient that it has finally turned to Cancer, and cannot be cured. There is no such thing as turning to Cancer. Whatever ends in Cancer, began in Cancer. Be no longer deceived. If you have the slightest suspicion of trouble, seek immediate relief and thereby preserve life.

Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, Scald Head, Piles, Tape Worms, or Worms of any kind, all Diseases of the Skin, Pimples, Scrofula or King's Evil, Fever Sores, Spinal Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Diabetes, Kidney Diseases, Gravel, and all Diseases peculiar to Males or Females, successfully treated.

Warts, Corns, Bunions, Moles, Wens, Birth-Marks, Tumors &c., removed. Especial attention given to the treatment of Crooked Feet, Legs, Arms, Spine, Neck, and all other deformities. Cross Eyes straightened, Hare-Lips cured by an entirely new plan of operating. Operations for Stone in the Bladder, Polypus, Strangulated Hernia, Fistula, or the cure of False and Crooked Joints, and all deformities of the Eye Lids, Nose, Lips, Neck &c., resulting from Burns or Wounds, performed upon the most scientific principles. All Diseases of the Eye and Ear treated with very great success.

Especial attention given to the treatment of all diseases originating from the errors of misguided Youth.

Patients from a distance, except in Surgical and Cancer cases, by sending a full description of their symptoms, can have medicines sent by Mail or Express, and be treated at home.

All letters promptly answered, and medicines ordered, immediately forwarded.

The Doctor is a graduate with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine, twelve of which have been spent in Rome.

N. B.—All persons troubled with Asthma should send for Dr. Kingsley's ASTHMA SPECIFIC, which is warranted to relieve any case or money refunded.

Send for DR. KINGSLEY'S AGUE SPECIFIC, which is purely vegetable and never fails to cure.

All troubled with a Cough of any kind should be sure to send for DR. KINGSLEY'S COUGH BALSAM, which cures as by magic.

For Further Particulars, Write the Doctor.

THE REYNOLDS

Mower & Reaper KNIVES.

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY BY US, UNDER REYNOLDS' PATENTS for Tempering Steel without the aid of any liquids, received the only award at the Great National Implement Trial, held at Auburn, in 1866. They possess the following superior qualities:

1. They are made with a fine Cutlery Temper at the edges.
2. They hold only a Spring Temper at the center and at the heel.
3. They are warranted perfectly uniform, every knife being exactly alike in temper.
4. We warrant they can be ground from 8 to 10 times without losing their cutting edge.
5. Finally, we will warrant them to cut from 40 to 50 acres of grain or grass without being once ground.

We are the sole Manufacturers of these Knives in the United States.

INTRODUCTION.

In presenting to the public the initial number of the "Gazetteer and Directory of Montgomery and Fulton Counties," the publisher desires to return his sincere thanks to all who have so kindly assisted in obtaining the valuable information which it contains, and without whose aid it would have been impossible to collect it in the brief space of time in which it is essential that all such works should be completed. Especially are our thanks due to the several editors of the Mohawk Valley Democrat, Fonda; Canajoharie Radii, Canajoharie; Mohawk Valley Register, Fort Plain; Amsterdam Recorder, Amsterdam; Montgomery Republican, Fultonville; Fulton County Democrat and the Johnstown Independent, Johnstown; Gloversville Standard, Gloversville Intelligencer, and the Gloversville Democrat, Gloversville, for the uniform kindness which has been evinced in calling public attention to the author's efforts; and to the following persons, viz., L. F. Burr, Johnstown, late School Commissioner of Fulton County, and Cyrus Stewart, Gloversville, the present incumbent of the office; A. B. Miller, Fultonville, late School Commissioner of Montgomery Co.; James P. Brookman, County Clerk, Fonda; James H. Cook, County Judge and Surrogate, Canajoharie; Hon. S. Pulver Heath, Amsterdam, Assessor Internal Revenue; Pythagoras Witmore, and to many others in various parts of the County who have kindly volunteered their aid.

The following works were consulted in its preparation; "French's Gazetteer of the State of New York;" "Annals of Tryon County;" "Stone's Life of Brant;" Stone's Life of Sir William Johnson ;" "Simms' Trappers of New York ;" "Losing's Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution ;" New York State Census Reports of 1865 ;" and "Proceedings of Boards of Supervisors" of Montgomery and Fulton Counties.

That errors may have occurred in so great a number of names and dates as are here given, is probable, and that names have been omitted that should have been inserted is quite certain. We can only say that we have exercised more than ordinary diligence and care in this difficult and complicated feature of book-making. Of such as feel aggrieved in consequence of error or omission, we beg pardon, and ask the indulgence of the reader in marking such as were observed in the subsequent reading of the proofs, and which are noted in the Errata, following the Introduction.

It is also suggested that our patrons observe and become familiar with the explanations at the commencement of the Directory.

The Map of the County was engraved with great care by Messrs. "Weed, Parsons & Co.," of Albany, and, it is believed, will prove a valuable acquisition to the work.

The Advertisers represent some of the leading business men and firms of the County, and also many enterprising and reliable dealers in other parts of the State. We most cheerfully commend them all to the patronage of those under whose observation these pages may come.

With thanks to friends generally, we leave our work to secure the favor which earnest endeavor ever wins from a discriminating business public.

Postal Rates and Regulations.—On and after January 1st, 1870, the postage on letters between the United States and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland will be six cents United States currency and three pence English money, for half an ounce or under; if not pre-paid, or insufficiently pre-paid, a fee of six cents (three pence) will be added to the deficient postage.

GAZETTEER—Montgomery County.

Palatine.—Palatine p. o., at Palatine Church, has been discontinued.

St. Johnsville.—St. Johnsville (p. v.) contains two churches, viz., Reformed and Union; two hotels, a bank, a grist mill, two saw mills, a woolen mill, two carriage shops, a cheese factory, a union school, several stores, mechanic shops &c., and an estimated population of 1150.

The Flouring and Custom Mill of Beekman Brothers is built of stone, forty by sixty feet, three stories high, and has a capacity for grinding 700 bushels per day.

The Carriage Manufactory of Saltsman Brothers was established in 1848, employs 14 hands and turns out from 75 to 100 carriages and about 50 sleighs annually.

Union School occupies a building 40 by 70 feet, and two stories high besides the basement. Four teachers are employed and the average attendance of pupils is about 150.

The Easterbrook Brick Manufactory was established in St. Johnsville in 1857, by John B. Churchill. Mr. Easterbrook, the present proprietor, manufactures from 500,000 to 700,000 bricks annually.

Mather Creek Cheese Factory, in the north-east part of the town, was established in 1867 and uses the milk of 400 cows.

The Reformed Church of St. Johnsville was organized as an independent German Reformed Church in 1770. Rev. John H. Dryslin was the first pastor. In 1812 it was re-organized as a Reformed Dutch Church. Rev. David Devoe was the first pastor after the re-organization, and continued his ministry until 1830. Rev. J. Kneeskern is the present pastor. The present church edifice was erected in 1804. It is of wood, was repaired in 1848 and will seat 400 persons. The present membership is 110.

A. Smith & Co's Cheese Factory uses the milk of 450 cows. Bates's Cheese Factory uses the milk of 325 cows. Both make first quality cheese.

Dewitt C. Cox's Distillery uses 225 bushels of grain and makes 900 gallons of whisky daily. About 280 head of cattle are kept upon the premises.

GAZETTEER—Fulton County.

Caroga.—Pine Lake (p. o.) is a hamlet in the center of the town, about three-fourths of a mile south of Wheelersville.

Perth.—The following historic sketch of the United Presbyterian Church in the town of Perth, was furnished by the pastor, Rev. I. L. Clark, but too late for insertion in its regular place.

This Church was formally organized in the year 1804, on the 20th day of Sept., by the ordination and installation of the following persons as Ruling Elders in the congregation, viz: Mr. John McIntosh, Sen., Mr. John Walker, Mr. John McBrath. It was organized by the Associate Reformed Presbytery of Saratoga, and it retained its ecclesiastical connection with the Associate Reformed Church until the union of that body with the Associate Church, forming the United Presbyterian Church, when it entered the new organization and has been since known as the United Presbyterian Church of Broadalbin. It was organized in the town of Broadalbin, and was therefore named the Associate Reformed Church of Broadalbin; but on the erection of the new county of Fulton, and the new town of Perth, it fell in with the "new comers," but without giving up either its location or name. This explains why the Church is now in one town and yet bears the name of another. It is the oldest Church in the town and for a number of years the only one. Its first house of worship was a frame building, located on the south side of the street, opposite the present one. The entrance to it, unlike the way to Heaven, was obscure, the door, for some reason, being placed in the rear, or the end most remote from the street. It was also innocent of artificial heat. No fire was kindled against the winter's wind and frost save that which burned on God's Altar—the love and zeal that glowed in Christian hearts. This doubtless beguiled the hour from tediousness and warmed the saints, but how the sinners endured we never learned. We may smile at the simplicity and rudeness of these olden times, but when we remember how much we are indebted to them, we may well reverence them and go down upon our knees in gratitude. And while we admit progress in these later days we may well ask the question, "Has not modern catering to taste and fashion, and fleshly ease and comfort, done much to drive out the angel life of religion from the soul, and smother out the fire of piety in the heart, and thus robbed the Church in a great measure of that spiritual power that characterized it in more primitive days?" The second and present house of worship is built of brick, and is beautifully located on the north side of the street. It is a fine looking building, both neat and comfortable. It will accommodate some six hundred worshippers. The first pastor of the congregation was Rev. Robert Prouditt, D. D. He held this relation for sixteen years, when it was dissolved, and he removed to Schenectady to fill a Professor's chair in Union College. Rev. Jas. Otterson was their next pastor. He remained about five years, when he was called to another field of labor. They were then blest with the faithful and efficient labors of Rev. Malcom McLarren, D. D., who held the pastoral relation for seven years, and was dismissed to take another charge. Then the pastorate was filled ten years by Rev. David Caw; then eleven years by Rev. John M. Graham, and now nearly twelve years by the present incumbent, Rev. J. L. Clark. And during all these 65 years of its existence this Church has been united and prosperous, doing a work for the Master, the extent and importance of which the Judgment Day alone will reveal. It has sent forth a number from its communion to preach the Gospel, some of whom have risen to eminence in the ministry. Many of its members from time to time have gone West, some to organize new churches, others to reinforce old ones. Thus it has been a fountain from which have issued streams that have made the desert and the solitary places to rejoice and blossom as the rose. It is doing the same work still. Yearly the old hive swarms. And thus by sending out its little colonies, tho' it has ever been a growing Church, it has been prevented from increasing its membership to a very high number at any one time. At present its membership is something over two hundred. May it still flourish like the palm tree and bring forth fruit in old age, and may its candlestick never be removed.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR.

P. H. Munson..... Fort Plain

Randall & Mathewson, proprietors of Retail Woolen Mills, Ephratah, Fulton Co. N. Y., advertise on page 224. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our patrons to this establishment, feeling that we are doing them a favor in telling them where they can find goods which are warranted made of wool, without any waste, shoddy or shearings of any kind. Cloths made from old rags can be purchased at a lower price than that made from pure wool, but the wool is the cheapest after all. Call on Meers. Randall & Mathewson and see for yourselves.

A. H. Avery & Son, manufacturers and dealers in China, Crockery, Yellow Ware and Kerosene Goods, No. 131 Main street, Gloversville, N. Y., advertise on page 2. Those who will take the trouble to look into this large establishment and examine the splendid stock of goods will be very likely to purchase, as the prices correspond with the times. Dealers in adjoining towns will do well to call, as they will find every style of goods in their line at such prices that it will not pay to go to the city to purchase. Paper Hangings, Window Glass, and Glass and Plated Ware may at all times be found at this establishment. Give them a call.

Johnstown Marble Works.—The proprietor of this establishment, Mr. James Y. Fulton, keeps a well selected stock of Foreign and Domestic Marbles and is prepared to furnish any kind of work found in any ordinary shop in the country. Customers will find on examination, as great a variety of designs and as good material and skillful workmanship as at many establishments of greater pretensions. His stock of Freestone, Granite and Limestone is large, and we advise all interested to give him a call. By promptness and fair dealing, Mr. Fulton is meriting the patronage of the community. His works are located in the village of Johnstown, where all customers will be welcomed. See card, page 314.

Tingue & McBride, dealers in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, St. Johnsville, N. Y., advertise on page 315. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our patrons to this establishment as it is one of the most pleasant and best arranged stores to be found in this part of the State, and their stock of goods is among the best that we have seen for a long time. The members of the firm are energetic young men of good business qualities, and we can heartily recommend them to all who desire anything in their line. Call and see for yourselves that you can get as good goods at as low prices here as at any other place in this part of the State.

Joseph Plantz, manufacturer of all kinds of Harnesses and dealer in Buffalo Robes, Trunks, &c., publishes an advertisement on page 232. We call the attention of all in want of plain and heavy or light and fancy harnesses to the stock of Mr. Plantz, believing that he will do as good work and furnish as good material as any other man in the county, and at the same time make his prices as low as those of any other establishment. His stock of Rings, Whips, Brushes, Bridles, Halters, Blankets, Trunks, Valises, Buffalo Robes, &c., is large and complete. In fact he has everything usually kept in a shop of this kind, and is determined by close application to business to merit a liberal patronage. Give him a call, south side of Main Street, Johnstown, N. Y.

The Mohawk Valley Democrat, published at Fonda, by C. B. Freeman, editor and proprietor, is advertised on page 300. It is the only Democratic paper published in the County, and is a worthy exponent of the principles of the party it represents. Its news and local departments are well sustained, and its circulation is such as to make it a good medium for advertising. Job Printing of all kinds neatly and cheaply done.

The Warrior Mower Company of Little Falls, successors to Bramer & Pierce, of Fabius, advertise on page 18. The Young Warrior Mower, of their manufacture, has been gradually growing in favor with the public since its first introduction, six years ago, and the improvements which have been suggested by its use have made it one of the most perfect and reliable machines ever offered to a discriminating public. At several trials of Mowing Machines during the past season, the Young Warrior was declared by the judges superior to the others. It has very light draft and does its work well. This popular Mower was invented by Mr. Frank Bramer a few years since, and secured by letters patent. Its manufacture was commenced and carried on at Fabius, Onondaga County, until 1868. An exhibition of one of these machines in the field at Little Falls in that season, produced an impression so favorable on some enterprising citizens of that place, that a company was organized and incorporated for its manufacture at Little Falls. It commenced business there on the first of December, 1868. The establishment is on the south side of the river, adjoining the tow path of the Erie Canal. The principal building is of brick and stone, 80 feet by 40, four stories high, with an excellent water power. Another building has been erected adjoining, one story high, with an area of 3000 square feet, to increase its capacity. Its castings are procured from the neighboring furnace of Mr. Raddy. The Company commenced moderately, producing only 600 machines the first year, intending to enlarge its capacity and number of the mowers from year to year, as its merits became better known. It employed 40 men last winter, besides the furnace men. Arphaxed Loomis is the President of the Company, and Frank Bramer the Managing Agent. The Company hope by their increased facilities for the manufacture of this machine to keep pace with the increasing demand.

C. H. Norton, Watch Maker and dealer in Watches, Jewelry, Silver and Plated Ware &c., 114 Main street, Gloversville, N. Y., advertises on page 313. His stock is one of the best selected in the County and contains a variety seldom seen in places of this size. Persons in want of good Watches, either American or Foreign, will find them here and at prices to suit, while his stock of Jewelry and Plated Ware is from the best manufacturers in the country. Let those interested call and satisfy themselves of the truth of our statement.

Mason House, Gloversville, N. Y., under the proprietorship of James J. Barr, has recently been fitted up with all the modern improvements, and is now prepared to receive and entertain guests in a manner not surpassed by any hotel in this part of the State. The floors are marble, the rooms are spacious, well ventilated, kept in good order and lighted with gas. Being located at the corner of Main and Fulton streets, it is favorably situated for the transaction of business in any part of the village. Persons visiting Gloversville temporarily on business, or wishing a permanent place to board, will find this house admirably adapted to their wants. The tables are furnished with the best the season affords; the barns are kept in good order and are attended by careful grooms, and everything inside and out is arranged for comfort and convenience. Mr. Barr will spare no pains to make his guests comfortable and happy.

A very fine Hall is connected with the house, fitted up for the accommodation of public meetings, Theatricals &c. It has a gallery, a large stage, dressing rooms, foot lights &c., and a capacity for seating about one thousand persons. See card, page 198.

The Howe Sewing Machine, advertised on colored page 216, by the agents, Messrs. Bostock & Newbury, No. 114 Main street, Gloversville, N. Y., has proved triumphant, after years of trial. To those who are desirous of knowing why this Machine is the favorite with so many people, we would say that the needle used is smaller with the same sized thread, than that used by other machines, making the work firm and strong, and using silk, linen or cotton thread equally well. The tensions of both upper and under threads do not vary, so that the threads are exactly interlocked in the center of the fabrics, giving the seam the same appearance on both sides. The Machine is simple in construction, employing only one cam and lever each for the needle action, shuttle course and feed, which are all placed upon one shaft, so that the Machine is not liable to get out of order. Each stitch is drawn tightly into the fabric and finished as it is made. The Family Machines are provided with the very best attachments for Hemming, Felling, Tucking, Cording, Quilting, Binding, Braiding &c., and are without a rival for ease of management, beauty and strength of work, and elegance of finish. The A. B. and C. Machines, with wheel feed, are used for manufacturing Boots, Shoes, Gloves and all kinds of Clothing, and have no superior for these purposes. They have only to be tried to be approved.

Levi Stahl, dealer in Spruce and Hemlock Lumber, Rockwood, Fulton Co., N. Y., publishes a card on page 240. In addition to a general assortment of Lumber, which he is prepared to sell cheap, he manufactures Pump and Water Logs of large size. The work is done by machinery and is all warranted. He will fill all orders at short notice.

Cancers Cured!

OR NO CHARGE.

DR. KINGSLEY,
OF ROME, N. Y.,

Has discovered a perfect cure for Cancers without the use of the knife. Thousands of cases cured can testify to the efficacy of this plan of treatment. This preparation will destroy the specific nature of most Cancers in from ten to sixty minutes. Even in those large Cancerous affections of the breast, from which so many females die annually, my specific is equally as effectual as in those smaller surface Cancers. Ninety-nine out of a hundred of all those persons who have died from Cancer, could easily have been cured. Cancer has been considered from time immemorial the greatest scourge of the human race; but the time will come when all shall see that it is as remediable as any other disease. At the same time remedies are given to purify the blood and fortify the system against a renewed attack. In all cases, if the Cancer is not too far advanced, a perfect cure is warranted, or no charge.

Most persons are greatly deceived in regard to the first symptoms and appearance of Cancer, considering it very painful from the commencement. This is a sad mistake, (causing the death of thousands,) there being but little or no pain until the Cancer is far advanced. The only symptoms for months, and in some cases even for years, is occasionally either a stinging, itching, smarting, burning, creeping or shooting sensation, and in some cases not even any of these. Nearly all of those kernels or lumps that occur in the female breast, and also those unnatural appearances in the form of crusts or warty excrescence, which appear in either sex on the face, lips, nose, eye lids, or any other part of the surface, are cancers. Cancer is very easily cured in its early stage, consequently it is of the very greatest importance that all thus afflicted should have immediate treatment; as thousands of very valuable lives have been lost from pure neglect, having been misguided by physicians having no knowledge of the disease, who, by calling it Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum or some other non-terrifying disease, lull this unfortunate class in the cradle of ignorance, until upon the very verge of death, when, to hide such ignorance, the physician tells the patient that it has finally turned to Cancer, and cannot be cured. There is no such thing as turning to Cancer. Whatever ends in Cancer, began in Cancer. Be no longer deceived. If you have the slightest suspicion of trouble, seek immediate relief and thereby preserve life.

Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, Scald Head, Piles, Tape Worms, or Worms of any kind, all Diseases of the Skin, Pimples, Scrofula or King's Evil, Fever Sores, Spinal Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Diabetes, Kidney Diseases, Gravel, and all Diseases peculiar to Males or Females, successfully treated.

Warts, Corns, Bunions, Moles, Wens, Birth-Marks, Tumors &c., removed. Especial attention given to the treatment of Crooked Feet, Legs, Arms, Spine, Neck, and all other deformities. Cross Eyes straightened, Hare-Lips cured by an entirely new plan of operating. Operations for Stone in the Bladder, Polypus, Strangulated Hernia, Fistula, or the cure of False and Crooked Joints, and all deformities of the Eye Lids, Nose, Lips, Neck &c., resulting from Burns or Wounds, performed upon the most scientific principles. All Diseases of the Eye and Ear treated with very great success.

Especial attention given to the treatment of all diseases originating from the errors of misguided Youth.

Patients from a distance, except in Surgical and Cancer cases, by sending a full description of their symptoms, can have medicines sent by Mail or Express, and be treated at home.

All letters promptly answered, and medicines ordered, immediately forwarded.

The Doctor is a graduate with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine, twelve of which have been spent in Rome.

N. B.—All persons troubled with Asthma should send for Dr. Kingsley's ASTHMA SPECIFIC, which is warranted to relieve any case or money refunded.

Send for DR. KINGSLEY'S AGUE SPECIFIC, which is purely vegetable and never fails to cure.

All troubled with a Cough of any kind should be sure to send for DR. KINGSLEY'S COUGH BALSAM, which cures as by magic.

For Further Particulars, Write the Doctor.

The Gloversville Democrat, A. S. Botsford, editor and publisher, whose advertisement appears on page 280, is a newspaper of local, general and political information, and worthy of the patronage it receives. Its circulation, 1,000 copies weekly, makes it an object of interest to advertisers, the advantages of which they should not be slow to comprehend. All descriptions of Job Work and Fancy Printing is here executed in the best style. Call on them.

S. P. Hayes, manufacturer of Drain Tile, Oppenheim, N. Y., publishes a card on page 272. By referring to the card, persons will ascertain the size and price, while the quality is such as to recommend the use of these tile in all cases where Drain Tile can be used to advantage. Mr. Hayes will fill all orders at short notice, and we are confident that no investment of this kind will pay better than if invested in the Tile made by Mr. Hayes. Give him a call.

The Buckeye Mowing and Reaping Machine.—When the great U. S. Trial of Mowers and Reapers was held at Auburn in 1857, this admirable machine, which had just been brought out, surprised every body by its novelty and many excellencies, and won the highest awards. At that time the valuable patents under which it was built were secured for several States by the enterprising firm which now continues its manufacture, Adriance, Platt & Co. At the second great trial of Mowers and Reapers, made by the N. Y. State Agricultural Society in 1868, the Buckeye again carried off the highest honors, showing that in the years' intervening it had not gone backward in the race for superiority. Every new suggestion is thoroughly weighed, improvements only are adopted. The verdict of the people is nearly as unanimous as that of the learned and practical committees who made these awards, for its sales far exceed those of any other machine in the sections supplied by Adriance, Platt & Co. In fact they increase so fast, that the demand is almost always in excess of the supply. The Self-Raking Attachment on the Buckeye Machine has met with a success corresponding to that of the Mower, and has surpassed all others in the perfection of its operation. One great secret of the success of Adriance Platt & Co., as manufacturers, has been in the conscientious manner in which they have built their machines, and the great durability of the Buckeye machine has been largely due to the excellence of the material used and the mechanical perfection of the workmanship. See advertisement on Map.

Dr. H. Gilbert, Fultonville, N. Y., advertises on page 313. He makes a specialty of treating all diseases of the throat and lungs by inhalation. By this method of treatment, medicines are applied directly to the diseased parts and produce an immediate effect. Patients are not obliged to experiment for months before finding out whether they are benefited or not. This treatment certainly looks reasonable. Let the afflicted give heed.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society.—The time has long since passed that popular opinion was averse to the principal of Life Insurance. It has often been demonstrated that Life Insurance may be a "Life Preserver" as well. How often has the convalescent invalid expressed it as his belief that the satisfaction he experienced in knowing that through his Life Insurance Policy, his family would be substantially provided for in case of his death, relieved the mind from many of the troubled thoughts that would naturally find place in the brain of a kind and loving husband or father, who through negligence had omitted to provide for his loved ones in case of his decease, and this freedom from trouble on their future financial account, was the main spring to his recovery. Cases like these are numerous, and to-day no thoughtful or prudent man of sound health, and having a family to provide for, is wise if he longer neglects to provide for them in this way. It is believed among the many companies, none can offer inducements superior to the "Equitable." This company is officered by experienced and well known financiers and business men. Cyrus Stewart of Utica is General Agent, with a Branch Office at Gloversville, under the management of Mr. Edward Ward. The business of this Agency amounts to the enormous sum of $1,000,000 annually. Patrons will find these gentlemen courteous and always ready to serve them on the most liberal terms, and no company can offer better inducements to Agents. See advertisement, colored page 197.

D. C. VanCamp, proprietor of Livery Stable, Fort Plain, N. Y., advertises on page 288. Mr. VanCamp keeps good horses and carriages, and any one having occasion to patronize a Livery, will not do better than to call on him. His charges are always reasonable. Mr. VanCamp also advertises the famous trotting Stallion North Star, whose good points are too well known to need any recommendation from us. Let those interested read the advertisement and then call and see for themselves.

The Gloversville Intelligencer, published by Geo. M. Thompson, was first issued in 1867, since which time it has steadily gained in public favor and influence. Circulating, as it does, extensively in the surrounding country, business men in the vicinity and elsewhere will find its column a profitable medium for advertising. People wishing bills, circulars, programmes, ball tickets, or in fact anything in the line of Job Printing, will find Mr. Thompson ever ready to accommodate them at reasonable terms. He advertises on page 264.

John Caldwell, Master Builder, at Amsterdam, publishes a card on page 314. His experience and knowledge of his trade warrant us in commending him to the patronage of those desiring the erection of any kind of building, where durability, expedition and cheapness, with beauty and fine finish together, is to be taken into consideration.

YOUNG WARRIOR MOWER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

WARRIOR MOWER CO.,

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y.

Successors to Bramer & Pierce, Fabius, N. Y.

This popular Mower has been in use for the past six seasons, and is, therefore, no new untried Machine, but one that has been practically tested and perfected, and is a perfectly reliable first class Mower, as hundreds who have them in use will testify. We claim for this Mower superiority over most others in the following points:—

It is the lightest draft of any Machine made, average draft in the heaviest grass being only 175 pounds. It is simple, compact, neat and durable; no bearing down on the horses necks, no side draft, has an easy riding seat, is the easiest and most convenient Machine to manage in the market. Iron frame, two driving wheels, planetary gearing, entirely enclosed and protected from dirt or grass, flexible folding cutting apparatus, closely guarded, is made of the best material and in the best possible manner, and is fully warranted.

This Mower was built for five years by BRAMER & PIERCE, at FABIOUS, N. Y., who in January, 1869, moved their Works to LITTLE FALLS, and associated with themselves some of the most reliable business men of the place, incorporating a Stock Company, known as the WARRIOR MOWER CO., with a large capital. The Company refer with pride to the record made by the Young Warrior the past season, and hereby pledge themselves to sustain, and if possible, increase the reputation it has already attained by a judicious use of such improvements as would seem to make it better or more convenient, and by keeping the workmanship and material used in its construction fully up to the present high standard.

The YOUNG WARRIOR will be offered for sale in the Counties of Fulton and Montgomery the coming season, and we would respectfully ask those wishing to buy Mowers to give it a trial.

Send orders for Machines or Circulars to the

WARRIOR MOWER CO.

Fulton Co. Democrat.—This old established paper has been published by Walter N. Clark, Esq., at Johnstown, for nearly thirty years, during which time it has gained warm friends, many of whom have doubtless come to regard it as one of the necessaries of life. Mr. Clark also publishes the "Hamilton County Sentinel," at Sageville, in Hamilton County. Both papers are well conducted and deserving of liberal patronage. At the "Johnstown Insurance Agency," managed by Mr. Clark, applicants for all kinds of Insurance may be accommodated with policies in reliable companies. See advertisement, page 256.

Globe Mutual Life Insurance Company.—It is with the greatest pleasure that we call attention to the advertisement, inside first cover. The institution there represented is, we are satisfied from personal inspection, possessed of every substantial advantage which is presented by any company, and particularly of one which is not universally possessed, that of the most judicious and economical management. This, after all, is perhaps the most important merit which a company can possess, and this we conceive the Globe to be most certainly assured of, from the character of its organic structure, and of the well and widely known men who constitute the board of management, and the features in its charter to which we allude, are calculated to secure a continuance of the same careful and skillful control which has so rapidly pushed it forward into the foremost rank of life companies in America.

We take it for granted that the reader approves of life insurance, and if not already insured, designs at some time to effect an insurance upon his life. If rich he will do so for an investment; for men of wealth have learned that it pays, and that while it pays, it surely protects against those reverses and misfortunes from which even they are not exempt. The poor and those of moderate means, will insure because it is the only way in which they can secure a fortune or a support to their loved dependent families, if death comes before they have had time to accumulate one.

We cheerfully commend the Globe to the insuring community. It has for its president one of the fathers of life insurance in America, the founder of the company first chartered in the State of New York, and the author of the most beneficent feature of insurance—the non-forfeiture system. The Globe was the first company to apply this most just condition to all its policies. Into the hands of such men, it would be judged, we might safely trust our interests, and experience has demonstrated that it is so.

Samuel Rose, File Manufacturer, Johnstown, N. Y., advertises on page 240. By referring to his descriptive list it will be seen that Mr. Rose makes a great variety of files, and persons can hardly fail of being suited. He re-cuts files of all kinds, at reasonable prices and warrants all work to give satisfaction. Let those interested call and examine for themselves.

Important Knowledge.—As music is now an indispensable necessity in every household, any reliable information is valuable as to the best place to buy musical instruments. We have been acquainted for years personally with the firm of Redington & Howe, and have known of their business facilities. We know that no House between New York and Chicago can compete with them successfully, as their facilities are unequalled. In addition to the immense capital at their control, they have special contracts with several leading first-class manufacturers, whereby they buy cheaper than any other dealers in the United States anywhere. Their immense trade requires only a small profit on each one of their many transactions to ensure them a handsome income. Their terms are most highly liberal. And another important consideration is that their treatment of their customers is perfectly honorable, a very important matter in the purchase of such a complicated affair as a musical instrument. Their recommendation of instruments can be depended on implicitly.—This we know from an extensive acquaintance among hundreds to whom they have sold instruments. We advise our readers to give them a call, or certainly to write to them before deciding on the purchase of a Piano Forte, Organ or Melodeon, or any musical merchandise. See card on Co. Map.

To all Whom it may Concern.—Three Points.—We invite attention to the card of Cohen Brothers, published on page 2. They have perhaps one of the largest and best selected stocks of Groceries in Fulton County. The citizens will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine their stock and learn their prices before making their purchases. A visit to their store will satisfy any unbiased mind that Cohen Brothers are masters of their business. They have an experience that enables them to make the best selections. By dealing on so large a scale they get the lowest possible rates, and the greatest variety. We take great pleasure in introducing them to the public as affable, courteous business gentlemen. Call on them; they will be pleased to make your acquaintance. Examine their extensive stock of Groceries and their prices, compare with other stocks and prices, and satisfy yourselves that theirs is a reliable place to deal. Keep your eye on the three points, viz: The choicest selections, the greatest variety and the lowest prices. Remember, at 94 Main street, Gloversville, you will find the true philosophers' stone. Though it may not have the property of turning everything to gold that touches it, it has an equivalent quality, that of saving your money. Call and examine; you will never regret it.

I. E. & J. E. Smith, Druggists, Grocers &c., at St. Johnsville, publish a card on page 304. By fair and honest dealing they are determined to merit the confidence and patronage of the community in their vicinity. We cordially commend them to the favorable notice of our patrons.

The Reynold's Steel Tempering Works, Reynolds, Barber & Co., Proprietors, at Auburn, are largely engaged in the manufacture of Reaper and Mower Knives, Plane Irons, Chisels &c. The process by which they temper steel is a peculiar one, and as patented by Mr. Reynolds, is the result of over forty years labor. This gentleman always worked on the plan that tempering steel was simply changing it from a fibrous to a granular state. He certainly has succeeded in producing a finer granulation (temper) than has ever before been produced. Messrs. Reynolds, Barber & Co., control the patents for these processes, and are applying them successfully in all their manufactures.— Their establishment is capable of turning out an immense amount of work, yet their orders are now, and have been for some months, accumulating far in advance of their present ability to supply; a circumstance which they will not long allow to be the case. We predict that the time is not far distant when all Mower and Reaper Factories and farmers will use their improved sections. See their advertisement on page 6, fronting the Introduction.

The Montgomery County Republican, under the proprietorship and management of that veteran "Knight of the Quill," T. R. Horton, still makes its welcome weekly visits at the firesides of a goodly portion of the citizens of Montgomery and Fulton Counties. During the many years since the birth of the paper, it has been steadily improving, and is now one of the largest papers in this section of the State. Its liberal subscription list makes it a valuable advertising medium.

In addition to the interests of his paper, Mr. Horton also caters to the public appetite for neat and tasty Job Printing. Find advertisement on page 308.

William L. Dorn, dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries &c., Garoga, N. Y., keeps a fine assortment of all goods usually found in a country store, and sells at prices that cannot fail to suit. Farmers will find this a good place to sell all kinds of produce, for which they will receive cash or goods. His stock of Ready Made Clothing, Hats, Caps, &c., is just what is needed in the community, and those wishing to purchase will find it for their interest to call and examine his stock. Mr. Dorn's card appears on page 240.

Davis Brothers, manufacturers and dealers in Fancy and Ornamental Wood Work, Rockwood, Fulton Co., N. Y., publish a card on page 224. Cabinet makers and builders will find here every variety of ornamental work required in their business, and at cheaper rates than they can make it for themselves. Messrs. Davis are prompt and reliable men and will fill all orders at short notice. Give them a call.

THE STATES,

THEIR SETTLEMENT, ADMITTANCE TO THE UNION, POPULATION, SUFFRAGE LAWS, ETC.

ALABAMA was settled near Mobile, in 1702, by the French; was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1817, from the eastern portion of the Territory of Mississippi; framed a Constitution August 2, 1819, and was admitted into the Union December 14 of the same year. Area 50,722 square miles, or 32,462,080 acres.— Population in 1860, 964,201, of whom 435,080 were slaves. It is the chief cotton growing State of the Union. White male citizens who have resided one year in the State and three months in the county, are entitled to vote. An election for a Convention was held December 24, 1860, and a majority of over 50,000 votes cast for secession; the Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 11th passed the ordinance of secession, by a vote of 61 to 39, which was followed on the 21st by the resignation of its members of Congress.

ARKANSAS was settled at Arkansas Post in 1685, by the French, and was part of the Louisiana purchase ceded by France to the United States, April 30, 1803. It was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, March 2, 1819, from the southern part of the Territory of Missouri; its western boundary was settled May 26, 1824, and its southern, May 19, 1828. Having adopted a Constitution, a memorial was presented in Congress, March 1, 1836, and an act for its admission into the Union passed June 15 of the same year. Area 52,198 square miles, or 33,406,720 acres. In 1860 its population was 435,450, of whom 111,115 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, its staples being corn and cotton.— Citizenship and residence in the State for six months, qualify voters in the county and district where they reside. January 16, 1861, its Legislature ordered a State Convention, which assembled, and on May 6, voted to secede, 69 to 1. January 4, 1864, a Convention assembled in Little Rock, which adopted a new Constitution, the principle feature of which consisted in a clause abolishing slavery. The Convention adjourned January 22. This body also inaugurated a Provisional Government. The Constitution was submitted to the people, and 12,177 votes cast for it, to 226 against it. The State was re-organized under the plan contained in the Amnesty Proclamation of President LINCOLN, in pursuance of which an election was held March 14, 1864. The vote required under the Proclamation was 5,405. About 16,000 votes were cast.

CALIFORNIA was settled at Diego in 1768, by Spaniards, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty concluded at Guadaloupe Hidalgo, February 22, 1848. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it as a Territory or admit it as a State, a law was passed by Congress for the latter purpose, which was approved September 9, 1850. Area 188,981 square miles, or 120,947,784 acres. Population in 1860, 305,439. It is the most productive gold mining region on the continent, and also abounds in many other minerals.—White male citizens of the United States, and those of Mexico who may choose to comply with the provisions of the treaty of Queretaro, of May 30, 1848, who have resided in the State six months and in the county or district thirty days, are entitled to vote.

CONNECTICUT was settled at Windsor, in 1633, by English Puritans from Massachusetts, and continued under the jurisdiction of that Province until April 23, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until a Constitution was formed, September 15, 1818. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, January 9, 1788. Area 4,674 square miles, or 2,991,360 acres. Population in 1860, 460,147. It is one of the most densely populated and principal manufacturing States in the Union. Residence for six months, or military duty for a year, or payment of State tax, or a freehold of the yearly value of seven dollars, gives the right to vote.

DELAWARE was settled at Wilmington, early in 1638, by Swedes and Finns; was granted to William Penn, in 1682, and continued under the government of Pennsylvania until the adoption of a Constitution, September 20, 1776; a new one was formed June 12, 1792. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, December 7, 1787. Area 2,120 square miles, or 1,356,800 acres.—Population, in 1860, 112,216, of whom 1,798 were slaves. It is a grain and fruit growing State, with some extensive manufactories. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote, except that citizens between twenty-one and twenty-two years of age need not have paid the tax.

FLORIDA was settled at St. Augustine, in 1565, by Spaniards; was formed from part of the territory ceded by Spain to the United States by treaty of February 22, 1819; an act to authorize the President to establish a temporary government was passed March 3, 1819; articles of surrender of East Florida were framed July 10, and of West Florida, July 17, 1821, and it was then taken possession of by General Jackson as Governor. An act for the establishment of a Territorial Government was passed March 30, 1822, and by act of March 3, 1823, East and West Florida were constituted one Territory. Acts to establish its boundary line between Georgia and Alabama were passed May 4, 1826, and March 2, 1831. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it into two Territories, or into a State and Territory, an act for its admission into the Union was passed March 3, 1845. Area 59,268 square miles, or 37,930,520 acres. Population, in 1860, 140,425, of whom 61,745 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, tropical in its climate and products. Every free white male citizen, who has resided in the State two years and in the county six months, and has been enrolled in the militia (unless exempt by law,) is qualified to vote; but no soldier, seaman or marine can vote unless qualified before enlistment. Its Legislature called a Convention, December 1, 1860, which met January 3, 1861, and passed a secession ordinance on the 10th by a vote of 63 to 7.

GEORGIA was settled at Savannah, in 1733, by the English under General Oglethorpe. It was chartered June 9, 1732; formed a Constitution February 5, 1777; a second in 1785 and a third May 30, 1798.— It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution January 2, 1788. Area 58,000 square miles, or 37,120,000 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,057,286, of whom 463,198 were slaves. It is a large cotton and rice growing State. Citizens of the State, six months resident of the county where voting, who have paid taxes the year preceding the election, are entitled to vote. November 18, 1860, its Legislature ordered an election for a State Convention, which assembled and passed a secession ordinance January 19, 1861, by a vote of 208 to 89, and on the 23d of the same month its members of Congress resigned.

ILLINOIS was settled at Kaskaskia, in 1683, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. An act for dividing the Indiana Territory and organizing the Territory of Illinois, was passed by Congress, February 3, 1809; and an act to enable it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., was passed April 18, 1818; a Constitution was framed August 26, and it was admitted into the Union December 23 of the same year. Area 54,405 square miles, or 64,819,200 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,711,951. It is the chief "prairie" State, and the largest grain growing and second largest cattle raising State in the Union. All white male inhabitants, who have resided in the State one year and election district sixty days, can vote in the district where actually residing.

INDIANA was settled at Vincennes, in 1690, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. It was organized into a Territory May 7, 1800, from which the Territory of Michigan was set off in 1805, and Illinois in 1809. An act was passed to empower it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., April 19, 1816, and it was admitted into the Union December 11 of the same year. Area 33,809 square miles, or 21,637,760 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,350,428. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to grain growing and cattle raising. A residence of one year in the State entitles males of 21 years of age to vote in the county of their residence.

IOWA was first settled at Burlington by emigrants from the Northern and Eastern States. It was part of the region purchased from France; was set off from the Territory of Wisconsin and organized as a separate Territory June 12, 1838; an act for its admission as a State was passed and approved March 3, 1845, to which the assent of its inhabitants was to be given to be announced by Proclamation of the President, and on December 28, 1846, another act for its admission was passed. Area 50,914 square miles or 32,584,960 acres. Population, in 1860, 674,913. It is an agricultural State, resembling Illinois, and contains important lead mines. MARYLAND was settled at St. Mary, in 1634, by Irish Roman Catholics, having been chartered June 20, 1632. It was one of the original thirteen States; formed a Constitution August 14, 1776, and ratified the Constitution of the United States April 28, 1788. Area 11,124 square miles, or 7,119,260 acres. Population in 1860, 687,049, of whom 87,189 were slaves. It is mainly an agricultural State, producing grain and tobacco. A residence of one year in the State, and six months in the county, gives the right to vote to every white male citizen who takes the oath of allegiance prescribed in the Constitution. January 28, 1864, a bill passed the Legislature submitting to the people the question of a Convention to revise the Constitution of the State. The popular vote on the question was as follows: For Convention, 32,203; against, 18,337. The Convention assembled and adopted a Constitution abolishing slavery, which was submitted to and adopted by the people; and in accordance with its provisions, on the 29th of October, 1864, the Governor issued his Proclamation declaring the slaves in that State free from the 1st day of November.

MASSACHUSETTS was settled at Plymouth, November 3, 1620, by English Puritans, and Charters were granted March 4, 1629, January 13, 1630, August 20, 1726, and October 7, 1731. It was one of the original 13 States; adopted a Constitution March 2, 1780, which was amended November 3, 1820, and ratified the Constitution of the United States February 6, 1788. Area 7,800 square miles, or 4,992,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,231,066. It is a largely commercial, the chief manufacturing and most densely populated State in the Union. A residence of one year in the State, and payment of State or county tax, gives the right to vote to male citizens of 21 years and upward, except paupers and persons under guardianship.

MICHIGAN was settled at Detroit in 1670, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Virginia. It was set off from the territory of Indiana, and erected into a separate Territory January 11, 1805; an act to attach to it all the territory of the United States west of the Mississippi river, and north of the State of Missouri, was passed June 28, 1834. Wisconsin was organized from it April 30, 1836. In June of the same year an act was passed to provide for the admission of the State of Michigan into the Union, and a Constitution having been adopted, it was admitted January 26, 1837. Area 56,243 square miles, or 35,995,552 acres. Population in 1860, 749,113. It is a grain growing and cattle rearing State, with rich and extensive mines of copper and iron in the Northern Peninsula. A residence in the State of six months preceding the election, entitles white male citizens to vote.

MINNESOTA was settled about 1846, chiefly by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress approved March 3, 1849, and admitted into the Union February 26, 1857. Area 95,274 square miles, or 60,975,536 acres. Population in 1860, 172,123 whites, and about 25,000 Indians, many of the tribes being of a warlike character. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to Northern grains. The right to vote is extended to male persons of 21 years of age, of the following classes, if they have resided in the United States one year, the State four months, and the election district ten days: White citizens of the United States, and those of foreign birth who have declared their intention to become citizens; persons of mixed white and Indian blood who have adopted the customs of civilization, and those of pure Indian blood who have been pronounced capable by any district court of the State.

MISSISSIPPI was settled at Natchez, in 1716, by the French, and was formed out of part of the territory ceded to the United States by South Carolina in 1787, and Georgia in 1802. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress, April 7, 1789, and enlarged on the north March 27, 1804, and on the south May 14, 1812. After several unsuccessful attempts to enter the Union, Congress finally passed an act March 1, 1817, enabling the people of the western part of the Territory to form a State Constitution and Government, which being complied with August 15, it was admitted December 10 of the same year. Area 47,156 square miles, or 30,179,840 acres. Population in 1860, 791,305, of whom 436,631 were slaves. It is the second cotton growing State of the Union. Citizens who have resided one year in the State, and four months in the county, and having performed military duty or paid taxes, are entitled to vote. A Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 9th passed an ordinance of secession by a vote of 84 to 15.

MISSOURI was settled at Genevieve in 1763, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded by France by treaty of April 30, 1803. It was created under the name of the District of Louisiana, by an act approved March 26, 1804, and placed under the direction of the officers of the Indiana Territory, and was organized into a separate Territory June 4, 1812, its name being changed to that of Missouri; and was divided March 2, 1819, the Territory of Arkansas being then created. An act authorizing it to form a State Constitution and Government was passed March 6, 1820, and it was admitted into the Union December 14, 1821. Area 67,380 square miles, or 43,123,200 acres. Population in 1860, 1,182,012, of whom 114,931 were slaves. An act of gradual emancipation was passed July 1, 1863, by a vote of 51 to 30. On the 6th of January, 1865, a Constitutional Convention assembled in St. Louis, and on the 8th of April adopted a new Constitution, declaring the State free, prohibiting compensation for slaves, and adopting many other radical changes. On the 6th of June the Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 43,670 to 41,808, and pursuant to a Proclamation issued on the 1st of July, the Constitution went into effect July 4, 1865. It is an agricultural and mining State. Citizens of the United States who have resided in the State one year, and county three months, are entitled to vote. By an act passed by the Legislature of 1863, voting by ballot was adopted, and the viva voce system abolished.

NEBRASKA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was formed out of a part of the territory ceded by France, April 30, 1803. Attempts to organize it were made in 1844 and 1848, but it was not accomplished until May 30, 1854. Area 75,955 square miles, or 44,796,160 acres. Population 28,841, besides a few roving tribes of Indians. A Convention adopted a State Constitution February 9, 1866, which was submitted to the people on the 22d of June, and adopted by a vote of 3,938 for, to 3,838 against, and State officers were elected. A bill was passed by Congress, July 27th, admitting the State, but the President withheld his signature. In February, 1867, Congress passed an act imposing certain conditions to admission, which were promptly accepted, and the territory became a State. It is an agricultural region, its prairies affording boundless pasture lands.

NEVADA was organized as a Territory March 2, 1861. Its name signifies snowy, and is derived from the Spanish word nieve (snow.) It comprises 81,539 square miles, or 52,184,960 acres, lying mostly within the Great Basin of the Pacific coast. Congress, at its session in 1864, passed an act which was approved March 21, to enable the people of the Territory to form a Constitution and State Government, in pursuance of which a Government was organized and the Territory admitted as a State by Proclamation of the President, October 31, 1864. At the time of its organization the Territory possessed a population of 6,857 white settlers. The development of her mineral resources was rapid and almost without parallel, and attracted a constant stream of immigration to the Territory. As the population has not been subject to the fluctuations from which other Territories have suffered, the growth of Nevada has been rapid and steady. At the general convention election of 1863, 10,934 votes were cast. During 1864 great accessions to the population were made. It is probably the richest State in the Union in respect to mineral resources. No region in the world is richer in argentiferous leads. It also contains an immense basin of salt, five miles square. Quartz mills are a very important feature in mining operations. The State is barren for agricultural purposes, and is remarkably healthy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE was settled at Dover, in 1623, by English Puritans, and continued under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until September 13, 1679, when a separate charter was granted. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution June 21, 1788; its State Constitution was framed January 5, 1776, and amended in 1784 and 1792. Area 9,280 square miles, or 5,939,200 acres. Population in 1860, 326,073. It is a grazing and manufacturing State. All male citizens, except paupers, are allowed to vote.

NEW JERSEY was settled at Bergen, in 1624, by the Dutch and Danes; was conquered by the Dutch in 1655, and submitted to the English in 1664, being held thereafter under the same grants as New York, until it was surrendered to the Crown in 1702. It was one of the original thirteen States, adopted a State Constitution July 2, 1776, and ratified the United States Constitution December 18, 1787. Area 8,320 square miles, or 5,324,800 acres. Population in 1860, 672,035. It is a grain and fruit growing region, its orchard and market products being relatively greater than those of any other State. A residence of one year in the State gives the right to vote, except to paupers, &c.

NEW YORK was settled at Manhattan, in 1614, by the Dutch; was ceded to the English by grants to the Duke of York, March 20, April 26, and June 24, 1664; was retaken by the Dutch in 1673, and surrendered again by them to the English, February 9, 1674. It was one of the original thirteen States; ratified the United States Constitution July 26, 1788; framed a Constitution April 20, 1777, which was amended October 27, 1801, and November 10, 1821; a new one was adopted November 3, 1846. Area 47,000 square miles, or 30,080,000 acres. Population in 1865, 3,831,777. It is the most populous, wealthy and commercial of the States. White male citizens of the United States, who have resided in the State one year, in the county four months, and election district thirty days, are entitled to vote; and all men of color who have resided in the State three years, and own and pay taxes on a freehold assessed at $250.

NORTH CAROLINA was settled at Albemarle, in 1650, by the English, and was chartered March 20, 1663. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, November 21, 1789; its State Constitution was adopted December 18, 1776, and amended in 1835. Area 50,704 square miles, or 32,450,560 acres. Population in 1860, 992,622, of whom 331,059 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, with some mines and extensive pine forests. Every freeman of 21 years of age, having resided one year in any county in the State, may vote for a member of the House of Commons, but must own fifty acres of land to vote for a Senator. A State Convention passed an ordinance of secession May 21, 1861. An election for delegates to a State Convention took place September 21, 1865. The Convention assembled October 2. On the 2d of October it passed an ordinance forever prohibiting slavery. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional amendment December 1. An election was held on the first Thursday of November, for Governor, Members of Congress and the Legislature.

OHIO was settled at Marietta, in 1788, by emigrants from Virginia and New England; was ceded by Virginia to the United States October 20, 1783; accepted by the latter March 1, 1784, and admitted into the Union April 30, 1802. Area 39,964 square miles, or 25,576,960 acres. Population in 1860, 2,339,511. It is the most populous and wealthy of the agricultural States, devoted principally to wool growing, grain and live stock. A male of 21 years of age, who has resided in the State one year, and has paid or been charged with a State or county tax, is eligible to vote.

OREGON, although it had previously been seen by various navigators, was first taken possession of by Capt. Robert Gray, who entered the mouth of its principal river May 7, 1792, naming it after his vessel, the Columbia, of Boston. Exploring expeditions soon followed, and fur companies sent their trappers and traders into the region. In 1811 a trading post was established at the mouth of the Columbia river by the American Fur Company, who named it Astoria. For some time a Provisional Territorial Government existed, but the boundary remained unsettled until the treaty with Great Britain in 1846, when the 49th parallel was adopted. It was formally organized as a Territory August 14, 1848; was divided March 2, 1853, on the 46th parallel, the northern portion being called Washington and the southern Oregon. November 9, 1857, a State Constitution was adopted, under which it was admitted February 14, 1859, about one-third of it on the east being added to Washington Territory, its northern boundary following the Columbia river until its intersection with latitude 46° north. Area 102,606 square miles, or 65,667,840 acres. Population in 1860, 52,465. It is an agricultural State, possessed of a fertile soil, extensive pastures, genial climate, and is well wooded. Gold and other precious metals are found in considerable abundance.

PENNSYLVANIA was settled at Philadelphia, in 1681, by English Quakers, and was chartered February 28 of the same year. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution December 12, 1787; adopted a State Constitution September 28, 1776, and amended it September 2, 1790. Area 46,000 square miles, or 29,440,000 acres. Population in 1860, 2,906,115. It is the second State in wealth and population, and the principal coal and iron mining region in the Union. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote; except that citizens between 21 and 22 years of age need not have paid the tax.

RHODE ISLAND was settled at Providence in 1636, by the English from Massachusetts, under Roger Williams. It was under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until July 8, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until the formation of a Constitution in September, 1842. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 29, 1790. Area 1,306 square miles, or 835,840 acres. Population in 1860, 174,620. It is largely engaged in manufactures. A freehold possession of $13; or, if in reversion, renting for $7, together with a residence of one year in the State and six months in the town; or, if no freehold, then a residence of two years in the State and six months in the town, and payment of $1 tax or military service instead, are the qualifications of voters.

SOUTH CAROLINA was settled at Port Royal, in 1670, by the English, and continued under the charter of Carolina, or North Carolina, until they were separated in 1729. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 23, 1798; it framed a State Constitution March 26, 1776, which was amended March 19, 1778, and June 3, 1790. Area 29,385 square miles, or 18,806,400 acres. Population in 1860, 703,708, of whom 402,406 were slaves, an excess of 101,270 over the whites. It is the principal rice-growing State. Whites, who have resided in the State two years and district six months, and have a freehold of fifty acres of land, or have paid a State tax, are entitled to vote. December 17, 1860, a Convention assembled in Columbia, adjourned to Charleston, and on the 24th unanimously adopted an ordinance of secession, which was followed the next day by a Declaration of Causes claimed to be sufficient to justify the act. An election for delegates to a State Convention was held September 4, 1865. The Convention assembled September 13, and adjourned on the 28th. It repealed the ordinance of secession, abolished slavery, equalized the representation of the Senate and taxation throughout the State, giving the election of Governor and Presidential electors to the people, ordered voting in the Legislature by viva voce, endorsed the Administration unanimously, and directed a commission to submit a code to the Legislature for the protection of the colored population. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional Amendment November 13, 1865.

TENNESSEE was settled at Fort Donelson, in 1756, by emigrants from Virginia and North Carolina; was ceded to the United States by North Carolina, December, 1789, conveyed by the Senators of that State February 25, 1790, and accepted by act of Congress April 2 of the same year; it adopted a Constitution Feb. 6, 1796, and was admitted into the Union the 1st of June following. Area 45,600 square miles, or 29,184,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,109,601, of whom 275,179 were slaves. It is a mining and agricultural State, and is largely productive of live stock. Citizens of the United States who have resided six months in the county are entitled to vote. A military league was formed between the Governor, Isham G. Harris, and the rebel States, May 7, 1861, ratified the same day by the Senate by a vote of 14 to 6, and a Declaration of Independence submitted to the people, the election to be held June 8, the result of which was declared by the Governor, June 24, to be 104,913 for, and 47,238 against. This movement not being acceptable to the people of East Tennessee, which had declared against separation by a vote of 32,923 to 14,780, they, in a Convention held at Greenville, June 18-21, repudiated it. Andrew Johnson, Provisional Governor of the State, called a State Convention to be held in Nashville the second Monday in January. Delegates were elected, the Convention met, declared slavery forever abolished, prohibited compensation to owners of slaves, and abrogated the secession ordinances. These amendments of the Constitution were submitted to the people 22d of February, 1865, with the following result: For ratification, 22,197; rejection, 63. The United States Constitutional Amendment was ratified April 5, 1865.

TEXAS was first settled at Bexar, in 1694, by Spaniards; formed a part of Mexico until 1836, when she revolted from that Republic and instituted a separate Government, under which she existed until admitted into the Union by a joint resolution approved March 1st, 1845, imposing certain conditions, which were accepted, and a Constitution formed July 4 of the same year, and another joint resolution adopted by Congress, consummating the annexation, was approved December 29, 1845. Area 237,504 square miles, or 152,002,500 acres. Population in 1860, 604,215, of whom 122,566 were slaves. It is an agricultural region, principally devoted to grain, cotton and tropical fruits. Free white male citizens of 21 years of age, who have resided in the State one year and district six months are entitled to vote. A Convention assembled at Galveston January 28, 1861, and on February 1 passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 166 to 7, to be submitted to the people February 23, and on March 4 they declared the State out of the Union, and Gov. Houston issued a Proclamation to that effect.

VERMONT was settled in 1724, by Englishmen from Connecticut, chiefly under grants from New Hampshire; was formed from a part of the territory of New York, by act of its Legislature March 6, 1769; framed a Constitution December 25, 1777, and was admitted into the Union March 4, 1791, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 18 of the same year. Area 10,212 square miles, or 6,535,680 acres. Population in 1860, 315,098. It is a grazing region, producing more wool, live stock, maple sugar, butter, cheese and hay, in proportion to its population, than any other State. Any citizen of the United States who has resided in the State one year, and will take the oath of allegiance, is entitled to vote.

VIRGINIA was settled at Jamestown, in 1607, by the English, and was chartered April 10, 1606, May 23, 1609, and March 12, 1612. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution June 25, 1788; it framed a State Constitution July 5, 1776, which was amended January 15, 1830. The State was divided in 1863. Present area 37,352 square miles. Population in 1860, 1,314,532, of whom 481,410 were slaves. It is a large corn producing, and the chief tobacco growing State. Every white male citizen of the age of 21 years, who has been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county, city or town where he offers to vote for six months next preceding an election, and has paid all taxes assessed to him, after the adoption of the Constitution, under the laws of the Commonwealth after the re-organization of the county, city or town where he offers to vote, is qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly and all officers elective by the people. A Convention sitting in Richmond on the 17th of April, 1861, passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 88 to 55, which was submitted to the people at an election held May 23, the result of which was announced June 25 to be 128,824 for, and 32,134 against. The State Government was re-organized by a Convention which met at Wheeling, May 11, 1861. Upon the division of the State in 1863, the seat of Government was removed to Alexandria. A State Constitutional Convention, March 10, 1864, adopted a section abolishing slavery.

WEST VIRGINIA.—On the passage of the ordinance of secession by the Virginia Convention, a Convention of the western and other loyal counties of the State was held at Wheeling, which assembled May 11, 1861, and on the 17th unanimously deposed the then State officers and organized a Provisional Government. On the 26th of November, 1861, a Convention representing the western counties assembled in Wheeling and framed a Constitution for West Virginia, which was submitted to the people on the 3d of May, 1862, and adopted by them by a nearly unanimous vote. The division of the State was sanctioned by the Legislature May 13, 1862, and ratified by Congress by an act approved December 31, 1862, conditioned on the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution providing for the gradual abolition of slavery, which was done on the 24th of March, 1863, by a vote of the qualified electors of the proposed State, 23,318 voting in favor of the amendment, and 572 against it. In pursuance of the act of Congress, the President issued a Proclamation, April 20, 1863, admitting the State sixty days from the date thereof, and on the 20th of June the new State Government was formally inaugurated. Area 24,000 square miles. Population in 1860, 350,599, of whom 12,754 were slaves. It is a large corn producing State, and abounds in coal and other minerals. The Alexandria Legislature adopted the United States Constitutional Amendment February 9, 1865. White male citizens, residents of the State one year and county thirty days, unless disqualified by rebellion, are entitled to vote.

WISCONSIN was settled at Green Bay, in 1669, by the French; was a part of the territory ceded by Virginia, and was set off from Michigan December 24, 1834, and was organized into a Territory April 30, 1836. Iowa was set off from it June 12, 1838, and acts were passed at various times setting its boundaries. March 3, 1847, an act for its admission into the Union was passed, to take effect on the issuing of a Proclamation by the President, and by act of May 29, 1848, it was admitted into the Union. Area 53,924 square miles, or 34,511,360 acres. Population in 1860, 775,881. It is an agricultural State, chiefly engaged in grain raising and wool growing. Both white and colored citizens of the United States, or white foreigners who have declared their intention to become citizens, are entitled to vote. Colored citizens were admitted to the franchise, by a decision of the Supreme Court, rendered the 27th day of March, 1866, holding that, whereas an election was held in 1849, under the provisions of chapter 137, of that year, at which election 5,265 votes were cast in favor of the extension of the right of suffrage to colored men, and 4,075 against such extension, therefore, the section of said law conferring such right had been constitutionally adopted and is the law of the land.

THE TERRITORIES,

THEIR BOUNDARIES, AREA, PHYSICAL FEATURES, ETC.

ALASKA, our new territory, recently purchased of Russia, comprehends all the north-west coast on the Pacific, and the adjacent islands north of the parallel of 50 degrees 40 minutes north, and the portion of the mainland west of the meridian (about 140° west) of Mount St. Elias. The area is computed at 481,276 square miles. The climate, although warmer than in the same latitude on the eastern coast, is too rigorous to admit of successful agricultural operations, and the chief value of the country and adjacent seas is derived from their fisheries and hunting grounds. The southern and central portions are mountainous; the northern portion along the Arctic ocean is quite flat, nowhere rising more than fifteen or twenty feet above the sea. The population is estimated at about 80,000, mostly Esquimaux.

ARIZONA was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, in the winter of 1863, out of the western half of New Mexico, the boundary between the two Territories being the 109th meridian (32d west from Washington,) and includes the greater portions of the valleys of Colorado and Gila, which two rivers drain its entire surface, with parts of Utah, New Mexico and Nevada, and yet convey, it is reported, a less volume of water to the sea than the Hudson at Albany. The fertile Messilla Valley was left with New Mexico. The Territory forms a block nearly square, and contains 126,141 square miles, or 80,730,240 acres. Its white population is probably considerably less than 10,000. For agricultural purposes it is probably the most worthless on the Continent, owing to the absence of rains, but it is reputed to abound in silver mines.

COLORADO was organized March 2, 1861, from parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Utah, and is situated on each side of the Rocky Mountains, between latitude 37° and 41°, and longitude 25° and 32° west from Washington. Area 104,500 square miles, or 66,880,000 acres. Population 50,000, besides numerous tribes of Indians. By an enabling act passed March 21, 1864, the people of the Territory were authorized to frame a State Constitution and organize a State Government, and a Convention accordingly met in 1865, and on the 12th of August adopted a Constitution, which was submitted to and adopted by the people September 5, and State officers elected November 14. A bill to admit the Territory as a State passed Congress, but was vetoed May 25, 1866. It is said to be a superior grazing and cattle producing region, with a healthy climate and rich soil. An extensive coal bed, and also gold, iron and other minerals abound.

DAKOTA was first settled by employees of the Hudson Bay Company, but is now being peopled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was set off from the western portion of Minnesota when that Territory became a State in 1857, and was organized March 2, 1861. Area 148,932 square miles, or 95,316,480 acres. Population 2,576 whites, and 2,261 Indians, besides the roving tribes.

IDAHO was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, at its second session, in the winter of 1863. Its name means 'Bead of the Mountains,' and it embraces the whole breadth of the Rocky Mountain region, and has within its bounds the head waters of nearly all the great rivers that flow down its either slope, but the greater portion lies east of the mountains. Its southern boundary is the 41st, its northern the 46th parallel of latitude. It extends from the 104th meridian on the east to the 110th on the west. Area 326,373 square miles, or 208,870,720 acres. For agricultural purposes it is comparatively worthless, but abounds in gold and other valuable mines.

MONTANA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. Organized in 1864, with the following boundaries: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the 27th L. W. from Washington with the 45th N. L.; thence due west on said 45th degree to a point formed by its intersection with the 34th degree W. from Washington; thence due south along said 34th degree of longitude to its intersection with the 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L.; thence due west along said 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L. to a point formed by its intersection with the crest of the Rocky Mountains; thence following the crest of the Rocky Mountains northward till its intersection with the Bitter Root Mountains; thence northward along the crest of said Bitter Root Mountains to its intersection with the 39th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence along said 39th degree of longitude northward to the boundary line of the British possessions; thence eastward along said boundary to the 27th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence southward along said 27th degree to the place of beginning. This makes it the northernmost Territory next the States east of the Missouri Valley. It is a good mining and agricultural region. The total population is put down at 15,822. Large accessions have been made since the census was taken.

NEW MEXICO was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory September 9, 1850.—Area 121,201 square miles, or 77,568,640 acres. Population 83,000, besides large tribes of warlike Indians. The principal resource of the country is its minerals.

UTAH was settled by the Mormons, and was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory, September 9, 1850. Area, 106,382 square miles, or 68,034,480 acres. Population, 40,273, of whom 29 were slaves. Brine, sulphureous and chalybeate springs abound; limestone, granite, sandstone and marble are found in large quantities; iron is abundant, and gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc have been found. Not one-fiftieth part of the soil is fit for tillage, but on that which is, abundant crops of grain and considerable cotton are raised. A Convention was held at Great Salt Lake City, January 22, 1862, and a State Constitution formed, but it has not been acted on by Congress.

WASHINGTON was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was organized into a Territory, March 2, 1853, from the northern portion of Oregon, to which was added another portion from the eastern part when the latter Territory was admitted as a State, February 14, 1859. Area 69,994 square miles, or 48,636,800 acres. Population 11,168, besides numerous tribes of Indians.

WYOMING was organized in July 1868. It lies between the 27th and 34th meridians of longitude west from Washington, and between the 41st and 45th parallels of latitude. The Territory is rich in mineral wealth, having large quantities of iron, coal, gypsum and building stone, besides vast quantities of gold, silver and copper. Salt springs of great value are found within its limits. The western portion of the Territory embraces what is generally known as the "Sweet Water Mines." The climate is healthy, and the Territory is rapidly filling up with an enterprising and hardy population. The act of Congress organizing the Territory, provides that "There shall be no denial of the elective franchise or any other right, on account of color or race, and all persons shall be equal before the law."

the collection from the United States Government of claims by soldiers, or their legal representatives, for pensions, back pay, bounty, or for property lost in the service, exempt.

CANCELLATION.

In all cases where an adhesive stamp is used for denoting the stamp duty upon an instrument, the person using or affixing the same must write or imprint thereupon in ink the initials of his name, and the date (the year, month, and day) on which the same is attached or used. Each stamp should be separately cancelled. When stamps are printed upon checks, &c., so that in filling up the instrument, the face of the stamp is and must necessarily be written across, no other cancellation will be required.

All cancellation must be distinct and legible, and except in the case of proprietary stamps from private dies, no method of cancellation which differs from that above described can be recognized as legal and sufficient.

PENALTIES.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who makes, signs, or issues, or who causes to be made, signed, or issued, any paper of any kind or description whatever, or who accepts, negotiates, or pays, or causes to be accepted, negotiated, or paid, any bill of exchange, draft, or order, or promissory note, for the payment of money, without the same being duly stamped, or having thereupon an adhesive stamp for denoting the tax chargeable thereon, cancelled in the manner required by law, with intent to evade the provisions of the revenue act.

A penalty of two hundred dollars is imposed upon every person who pays, negotiates, or offers in payment, or receives or takes in payment, any bill of exchange or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn or purporting to be drawn in a foreign country, but payable in the United States, until the proper stamp has been affixed thereto.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who fraudulently makes use of an adhesive stamp to denote the duty required by the revenue act, without effectually cancelling and obliterating the same in the manner required by law.

Attention is particularly called to the following extract from section 155, of the act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the act of July 13, 1866:

"If any person shall wilfully remove or cause to be removed, alter or cause to be altered, the cancelling or defacing marks on any adhesive stamp, with intent to use the same, or to cause the use of the same, after it shall have been used once, or shall knowingly or wilfully sell or buy such washed or restored stamps, or offer the same for sale, or give or expose the same to any person for use, or knowingly use the same or prepare the same with intent for the further use thereof, or if any person shall knowingly and without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on the person accused) have in his possession any washed, restored, or altered stamps, which have been removed from any vellum, parchment, paper, instrument or writing; then, and in every such case, every person so offending, and every person knowingly and wilfully aiding, abetting, or assisting in committing any such offence as aforesaid, shall, on conviction thereof, * * * be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment and confinement to hard labor not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court."

It is not lawful to record any instrument, document, or paper required by law to be stamped, or any copy thereof, unless a stamp or stamps of the proper amount have been affixed and cancelled in the manner required by law; and such instrument or copy and the record thereof are utterly null and void, and cannot be used or admitted as evidence in any court until the defect has been cured as provided in section 153.

All willful violations of the law should be reported to the United States District Attorney within and for the district where they are committed.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

The law does not designate which of the parties to an instrument shall furnish the necessary stamp, nor does the Commissioner of Internal Revenue assume to determine that it shall be supplied by one party rather than by another; but if an instrument subject to stamp duty is issued without having the necessary stamps affixed thereto, it cannot be recorded, or admitted, or used in evidence, in any court, until a legal stamp or stamps, denoting the amount of tax, shall have been affixed as prescribed by law, and the person who thus issues it is liable to a penalty, if he omits the stamps with an intent to evade the provisions of the internal revenue act.

The first act imposing a stamp tax upon certain specified instruments took effect, so far as said tax is concerned, October 1, 1862. The impression which seems to prevail to some extent, that no stamps are required upon any instruments issued in the States lately in insurrection, prior to the surrender, or prior to the establishment of collection districts there, is erroneous.

Instruments issued in those States since October 1, 1862, are subject to the same taxes as similar ones issued at the same time in the other States.

No stamp is necessary upon an instrument executed prior to October 1, 1862, to make it admissible in evidence, or to entitle it to record.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "promissory notes."

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by either of them; and "when more than one signature is affixed to the same paper, one or more stamps may be affixed thereto, representing the whole amount of the stamp required for such signatures."

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and, whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers—such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgement of the instrument which is not stamped.

Particular attention is called to the change in section 154, by striking out the words "or used;" the exemption thereunder is thus restricted to documents, &c., issued by the officers therein named. Also to the changes in sections 152 and 158, by inserting the words "and cancelled in the manner required by law."

The acceptor or acceptors of any bill of exchange, or order for the payment of any sum of money, drawn or purporting to be drawn in any foreign country, but payable in the United States, must, before paying or accepting the same, place thereupon a stamp indicating the duty.

It is only upon conveyances of realty sold that conveyance stamps are necessary. A deed of real estate made without valuable consideration need not be stamped as a conveyance; but if it contains covenants, such, for instance, as a covenant to warrant and defend the title, it should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

When a deed purporting to be a conveyance of realty sold, and stamped accordingly, is inoperative, a deed of confirmation, made simply to cure the defect, requires no stamp. In such case, the second deed should contain a recital of the facts, and should show the reasons for its execution.

Partition deeds between tenants in common, need not be stamped as conveyances, inasmuch as there is no sale of realty, but merely a marking out, or a defining, of the boundaries of the part belonging to each; but where money or other valuable consideration is paid by one co-tenant to another for equality of partition, there is a sale to the extent of such consideration, and the conveyance, by the party receiving it, should be stamped accordingly.

A conveyance of lands sold for unpaid taxes, issued since August 1, 1866, by the officers of any county, town, or other municipal corporation in the discharge of their strictly official duties, is exempt from stamp tax.

A conveyance of realty sold, subject to a mortgage, should be stamped according to the consideration, or the value of the property unencumbered. The consideration in such case is to be found by adding the amount paid for the equity of redemption to the mortgage debt. The fact that one part of the consideration is paid to the mortgagor and the other part to the mortgagee does not change the liability of the conveyance.

The stamp tax upon a mortgage is based upon the amount it is given to secure. The fact that the value of the property mortgaged is less than that amount, and that consequently the security is only partial, does not change the liability of the instrument. When, therefore, a second mortgage is given to secure the payment of a sum of money partially secured by a prior mortgage upon other property, or when two mortgages upon separate property are given at the same time to secure the payment of the same sum, each should be stamped as though it were the only one.

A mortgage given to secure a surety from loss, or given for any purpose whatever, other than as security for the payment of a definite and certain sum of money, is taxable only as an agreement or contract.

The stamp duty upon a lease, agreement, memorandum, or contract for the hire, use, or rent of any land, tenement, or portion thereof, is based upon the annual rent or rental value of the property leased, and the duty is the same whether the lease be for one year, for a term of years, or for the fractional part of a year only.

Upon every assignment or transfer of a mortgage, a stamp tax is required equal to that imposed upon a mortgage for the amount remaining unpaid; this tax is required upon every such transfer in writing, whether there is a sale of the mortgage or not; but no stamp is necessary upon the endorsement of a negotiable instrument, even though the legal effect of such endorsement is to transfer a mortgage by which the instrument is secured.

An assignment of a lease within the meaning and intent of Schedule B, is an assignment of the leasehold, or of some portion thereof, by the lessee, or by some person claiming by, from, or under him; such an assignment as subrogates the assignee to the rights, or some portion of the rights, of the lessee, or of the person standing in his place. A transfer by the lessor of his part of a lease, neither giving nor purporting to give a claim to the leasehold, or to any part thereof, but simply a right to the rents, &c., is subject to stamp tax as a contract or agreement only.

The stamp tax upon a fire insurance policy is based upon the premium.

Deposit notes taken by a mutual fire insurance company, not as payment of premium nor as evidence of indebtedness therefor, but to be used simply as a basis upon which to make rateable assessments to meet the losses incurred by the company, should not be reckoned as premium in determining the amount of stamp taxes upon the policies.

When a policy of insurance properly stamped has been issued and lost, no stamp is necessary upon another issued by the same company to the same party, covering the same property, time, &c., and designed simply to supply the loss. The second policy should recite the loss of the first.

An instrument which operates as the renewal of a policy of insurance, is subject to the same stamp tax as the policy.

When a policy of insurance is issued for a certain time, whether it be for one year only or for a term of years, a receipt for premium, or any other instrument which has the legal effect to continue the contract and extend its operation beyond that time, requires the same amount of revenue stamps as the policy itself; but such a receipt as is usually given for the payment of the monthly, quarterly, or annual premium, is not a renewal within the meaning of the statute. The payment simply prevents the policy from expiring, by reason of non-performance of its conditions; a receipt given for such a payment requires a two-cent stamp, if the amount received exceeds twenty dollars, and a two-cent stamp only. When, however, the time of payment has passed, and a tender of the premium is not sufficient to bind the company, but a new policy or a new contract in some form, with the mutuality essential to every contract, becomes necessary between the insurer and the insured, the same amount of stamps should be used as that required upon the original policy.

A permit issued by a life insurance company changing the terms of a policy as to travel, residence, occupation, &c., should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

A bill single or a bill obligatory, i. e., an instrument in the form of a promissory note, under seal, is subject to stamp duty as written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at a time designated, at the rate of five cents for each one hundred dollars or fractional part thereof.

A waiver of protest, or of demand and notice, written upon negotiable paper and signed by the indorser, is an agreement, and requires a five-cent stamp.

A stamp duty of twenty-five cents is imposed upon the "protest of every note, bill of exchange, check or draft," and upon every marine protest. If several notes, bills of exchange, drafts, &c., are protested at the same time and all attached to one and the same certificate, stamps should be affixed to the amount of twenty-five cents for each note, bill, draft, &c., thus protested.

When, as is generally the case, the caption to a deposition contains other certificates in addition to the jurat to the affidavit of the deponent, such as a certificate that the parties were or were not notified, that they did or did not appear, that they did or did not object, &c., it is subject to a stamp duty of five cents.

When an attested copy of a writ or other process is used by a sheriff or other person in making personal service, or in attaching property, a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of attestation.

A marriage certificate issued by the officiating clergyman or magistrate, to be returned to any officer of a State, county, city, town, or other municipal corporation, to constitute part of a public record, requires no stamp; but if it is to be retained by the parties, a five-cent stamp should be affixed.

The stamp tax upon a bill of sale, by which any ship or vessel, or any part thereof, is conveyed to or vested in any other person or persons, is at the same rate as that imposed upon conveyances of realty sold; a bill of sale of any other personal property should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

An assignment of real or personal property, or of both, for the benefit of creditors, should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

Written or printed assignments of agreements, bonds, notes not negotiable, and of all other instruments the assignments of which are not particularly specified in the foregoing schedule, should be stamped as agreements.

No stamp is necessary upon the registry of a judgment, even though the registry is such in its legal effect as to create a lien which operates as a mortgage upon the property of the judgment debtor.

When a "power of attorney or proxy for voting at any election for officers of any incorporated company or society, except religious, charitable, or literary societies, or public cemeteries," is signed by several stockholders, owning separate and distinct shares, it is, in its legal effect, the separate instrument of each, and requires stamps to the amount of ten cents for each and every signature; one or more stamps may be used representing the whole amount required.

A notice from landlord to tenant to quit possession of premises requires no stamp.

A stamp tax is imposed upon every "manifest for custom-house entry or clearance of the cargo of any ship, vessel, or steamer for a foreign port." The amount of this tax in each case depends upon the registered tonnage of the vessel.

If a vessel clears in ballast and has no cargo whatever, no stamp is necessary; but if she has any, however small the amount—a stamp should be used.

A bond to convey real estate requires stamps to the amount of twenty-five cents.

The stamp duty upon the probate of a will, or upon letters of administration, is based upon the sworn or declared value of all the estate and effects, real, personal, and mixed, undiminished by the debts of the estate for or in respect of which such probate or letters are applied for.

When the property belonging to the estate of a person deceased, lies under different jurisdictions and it becomes necessary to take out letters in two or more places, the letters should be stamped according to the value of all the property, real, personal, and mixed, for or in respect of which the particular letters in each case are issued.

Letters de bonis non should be stamped according to the amount of property remaining to be administered upon thereunder, regardless of the stamps upon the original letters.

A mere copy of an instrument is not subject to stamp duty unless it is a certified one, in which case a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of the person attesting it; but when the instrument is executed and issued in duplicate, triplicate, &c., as in the case of a lease of two or more parts, each part has the same legal effect as the other, and each should be stamped as an original.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

LETTERS.—The law requires postage on all letters (including those to foreign countries when prepaid), excepting those written to the President or Vice President, or members of Congress, or (on official business) to the chiefs of the executive departments of the Government, and the heads of bureaux and chief clerks, and others invested with the franking privilege, to be prepaid by stamps or stamped envelopes, prepayment in money being prohibited.

All drop-letters must be prepaid. The rate of postage on drop-letters, at offices where free delivery by carrier is established, is two cents per half ounce or fraction of a half ounce; at offices where such free delivery is not established the rate is one cent.

The single rate of postage on all domestic mail letters throughout the United States, is three cents per half ounce, with an additional rate of three cents for each additional half ounce or fraction of a half ounce. The ten cent (Pacific) rate is abolished.

NEWSPAPERS, ETC.—Letter postage is to be charged on all handbills, circulars, or other printed matter which shall contain any manuscript writing whatever.

Daguerreotypes, when sent in the mail, are to be charged with letter postage by weight.

Photographs on cards, paper, and other flexible material, (not in cases), can be sent at the same rate as miscellaneous printed matter, viz., two cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

Photograph Albums are chargeable with book postage—four cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.—Postage on daily papers to subscribers when prepaid quarterly or yearly in advance, either at the mailing office or office of delivery, per quarter (three months), 35 cts.; six times per week, per quarter 30 cts.; for tri-weekly, per quarter 15 cts.; for semi-weekly, per quarter 10 cts.; for weekly, per quarter 5 cts.

Weekly newspapers (one copy only) sent by the publisher to actual subscribers within the county where printed and published, FREE.

Postage per quarter (to be paid quarterly or yearly in advance) on newspapers and periodicals issued less frequently than once a week, sent to actual subscribers in any part of the United States: Semi-monthly, not over 4 oz., 6 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 12 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 18 cts.; monthly, not over 4 oz., 3 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 6 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 9 cts.; quarterly, not over 4 oz., 1 cent; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 2 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 3 cts.

TRANSIENT MATTER.—Books not over 4 oz. in weight, to one address, 4 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 8 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 12 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 16 cts.

Circulars not exceeding three in number to one address, 2 cts.; over 3 and not over 6, 4 cts.; over 6 and not over 9, 6 cts.; over 9 and not exceeding 12, 8 cts.

On miscellaneous mailable matter, (embracing all pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, hand-bills and posters, book manuscripts and proof-sheets, whether corrected or not, maps, prints, engravings, sheet music, blanks, flexible patterns, samples, and sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes or wrappers, cards, paper, plain or ornamental, photographic representations of different types, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions,) the postage to be pre-paid by stamps, is on one package, to one address, not over 4 oz. in weight, 2 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 4 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 6 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 8 cts. The weight of packages of seeds, cuttings, roots and scions, to be franked, is limited to thirty-two ounces.

Any word or communication, whether by printing, writing, marks or signs, upon the cover or wrapper of a newspaper, pamphlet, magazine, or other printed matter, other than the name or address of the person to whom it is to be sent, and the date when the subscription expires, subjects the package to letter postage.

3. Must be open at the ends to allow inspection.

Samples of merchandise must not be of intrinsic value.

Dutiable articles—books, music, &c., sent from Great Britain to the United States, must, in addition to the postage, pay the regular duties, which are—On books and engravings, 25 per cent.; music and photographs, 20 per cent.

If letters or articles sent to Italy are not prepaid, or are insufficiently paid, they will be charged with deficient postage, and subject to fine, on arrival at their destination.

Infallible Rules for Detecting Counterfeit or Spurious Bank Notes.

RULE 1st.—Examine the shading of the letters in title of Bank called LATHEWORK, which in genuine notes presents an even, straight, light and silky appearance, generally so fine and smooth as to appear to be all in one solid, pale body. In the counterfeit the lines are coarse and irregular, and in many of the longer lines breaks will be perceived, thus presenting a very inferior finish in comparison to genuine work.

2d.—Observe the dies, circles and ovals in the genuine; they are composed of a network of lines, which, by crossing each other at certain angles, produce an endless variety of figures; SEE THRONE CENT STAMP ATTACHED. The fine line alone is the unit which enables you to detect spurious work. In the counterfeit, the REPRESENTED white lines are coarse, irregular, and cross each other in a confused, irregular manner, thus producing blurred and imperfect figures.

3d.—Examine the form and features of all human figures on the note. In the genuine, the texture of the skin is represented by fine dots and lines intermixed. In the eyes, the pupil is distinctly visible, and the white clearly seen; the nose, mouth and chin, well formed, natural and expressive; the lips are slightly pouting, and the chin well thrown out; and the delicate shading of the neck perfectly harmonizes with the rest of the figure. Observe the fingers and toes; they should be clearly and accurately defined. The hair of the head should show the fine strands and present a natural appearance. The folds of the drapery of human figures should lay natural and present a fine, finished appearance. In the counterfeit the female figure does not bear the natural prominence in outlines; observe, the eyes and shading surrounding does not present the lifelike appearance it should. The fingers and toes are not properly and proportionately defined; the hair does not bear that soft and finished appearance as in the genuine.

4th.—Examine the imprint or engraver's names in the evenness and shape of the fine letters. Counterfeits never bear the imprint perfect. This rule should be strictly observed, as it is infallible in detecting counterfeits.

5th.—In the genuine note the landscapes are well finished; trees and shrubs are neatly drawn; the limbs well proportioned, and the foliage presenting a fine natural appearance; clear sky is formed of fine parallel lines, and when clouds or heavy skies appear, they cross each other, and bear a soft, smooth and natural appearance. The perspective, showing a view of the surrounding country, is always clear and distinct. The small figures in the background are always plainly seen, and their outlines and general character recognized. Ships are well defined and the canvass has a clear texture; railroad cars are very accurately delineated; in examining a train observe carefully the car most distant. In the counterfeit the landscape is usually poorly executed; the leaves of trees poorly and unnaturally defined.—The lines representing still water are scratchy rather than parallel, the sky is represented generally in like manner, and where rolling clouds are to be seen, the unnatural effect is obvious. Domestic animals are generally poorly executed, particularly the head and limbs; the eyes are seldom clearly defined. Ships are poorly drawn, the texture of the canvass coarse and inferior in style of workmanship, thus giving an artificial appearance. Railroad cars are also poorly executed; the car farthest from the eye is usually the most imperfect. The perspective is always imperfect, the figures in the background can seldom be recognized.

6th.—Bills altered from a smaller to a higher denomination, can readily be detected by a close observer, in consequence of the striking difference between the parts which have been extracted and the rest of the note. This difference is readily perceived in the lack of color, body and finish of the dye; we have seen bills where the surrounding shading in altered dies was too dark, but from the back or finish of the white lines you have a sure test. Again observe particularly the words "Five" or "Ten Dollars" as the case may be, denoting the denomination of the note; the parallel outlines and shading (if any) are coarse and imperfect. Alterations are frequently made by pasting a greater denomination over a smaller, but by holding the bill up to the light, the fraud will be perceived. Another method resorted to is to cut out the figures in the dies as well as the words one dollar, or the words two or three as the case may be, and with a sharp eraser, scrape down the ends and also the edges of the pieces to be inserted; when the pieces thus prepared are affixed they are hardly perceivable; but by passing the note through the hand, so as to feel the die both with the finger and thumb at the same time, the fraud will be detected by the stiffness of the outer edges, "occasioned by the gum or method adopted" in affixing the parts. The letter S should always be examined, as in many alterations it is pasted or stamped at the end of the word "dollar;" and even when stamped there, the carrying out of the outlines for its shading will readily show the fraud. Bills of broken banks are frequently altered by extracting the name of bank, state and town; they may readily be detected by observing first the state, second the title or name of the bank, third the town or location.

GENERAL REMARKS IN REFERENCE TO COUNTERFEITS.—The paper on which they are printed is generally of a very inferior quality, with less body, finish and toughness than bank note paper has. The ink generally lacks the rich luster of the genuine; the red letters and figures are generally imperfect, and the ink does not present the vermilion hue as it should. The printing is generally inferior, usually exhibiting specks of white in the most prominent letters. The date and filling up, and the President's and Cashier's names are generally written by the same person, although in many instances they present a different appearance. There are bills in circulation bearing either genuine dies or vignettes; but upon close examination you will be enabled to detect any spurious bill, whether counterfeit or altered, by the instructions here given, if persevered in for a short time. We beg to suggest, if time will admit, the learner should examine minutely every bill he receives. A powerful pocket magnifying glass, which can be purchased for from fifty cents to one dollar at any of the opticians, will greatly enable you to see and comprehend the difference between genuine and spurious work

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS.

What will my readers give to know how to get rich? Now, I will not vouch that the following rules will enable every person who may read them to acquire wealth; but this I will answer for, that if ever a man does grow rich by honest means, and retains his wealth for any length of time, he must practice upon the principles laid down in the following essay. The remarks are not original with me, but I strongly commend them to the attention of every young man, at least as affording the true secret of success in attaining wealth. A single perusal of such an essay at an impressive moment, has sometimes a very wonderful effect upon the disposition and character.

Fortune, they say, is a fickle dame—full of her freaks and caprices; who blindly distributes her favors without the slightest discrimination. So inconstant, so wavering is she represented, that her most faithful votaries can place no reliance on her promises. Disappointment, they tell us, is the lot of those who make offerings at her shrine. Now, all this is a vile slander upon the dear blind lady.

Although wealth often appears the result of mere accident, or a fortunate concurrence of favorable circumstances without any exertion of skill or foresight, yet any man of sound health and unimpaired mind may become wealthy, if he takes the proper steps.

Foremost in the list of requisites are honesty and strict integrity in every transaction of life. Let a man have the reputation of being fair and upright in his dealings, and he will possess the confidence of all who know him. Without these qualities every other merit will prove unavailing. Ask concerning a man, "Is he active and capable?" Yes. "Industrious, temperate and regular in his habits?"—Oh yes. "Is he honest? Is he trustworthy?" Why, as to that, I am sorry to say that he is not to be trusted; he needs watching; he is a little tricky, and will take an undue advantage, if he can. "Then I will have nothing to do with him," will be the invariable reply. Why, then, is honesty the best policy? Because, without it, you will get a bad name, and everybody will shun you.

A character for knavery will prove an insurmountable obstacle to success in almost every undertaking. It will be found that the straight line is, in business, as in geometry, the shortest. In a word, it is almost impossible for a dishonest man to acquire wealth by a regular process of business, because he is shunned as a depredator upon society.

Needy men are apt to deviate from the rule of integrity, under the plea that necessity knows no law; they might as well add that it knows no shame. The course is suicidal, and by destroying all confidence, ever keeps them immured in poverty, although they may possess every other quality for success in the world.

Punctuality, which is said to be the soul of business, is another important element in the art of money getting. The man known to be scrupulously exact in the fulfillment of his engagements, gains the confidence of all, and may command all the means he can use with advantage; whereas, a man careless and regardless of his promises in money matters will have every purse closed against him. Therefore be prompt in your payments.

Next, let us consider the advantages of a cautious circumspection in our intercourse with the world. Slowness of belief and a proper distrust are essential to success. The credulous and confiding are ever the dupes of knaves and impostors. Ask those who have lost their property how it happened, and you will find in most cases that it has been owing to misplaced confidence. One has lost by endorsing, another by crediting, another by false representations; all of which a little more foresight and a little more distrust would have prevented. In the affairs of this world men are not saved by faith, but by the want of it.

Judge of men by what they do, not by what they say. Believe in looks rather than words. Observe all their movements. Ascertain their motives and their ends. Notice what they say or do in their unguarded moments, when under the influence of excitement. The passious have been compared to tortures which force men to reveal their secrets. Before trusting a man, before putting it in his power to cause you a loss, possess yourself of every available information relative to him. Learn his history, his habits, inclinations and propensities; his reputation for honor, industry, frugality and punctuality; his prospects, resources, supports, advantages and disadvantages; his intentions and motives of action; who are his friends and enemies, and what are his good or bad qualities. You may learn a man's good qualities and advantages from his friends—his bad qualities and disadvantages from his enemies. Make due allowance for exaggeration in both. Finally, examine carefully before engaging in anything, and act with energy afterwards. Have the hundred eyes of Argus beforehand, and the hundred hands of Briarius afterwards.

Order and system in the management of business must not be neglected. Nothing contributes more to dispatch. Have a place for everything and everything in its place; a time for everything, and everything in its time. Do first what presses most, and having determined what is to be done, and how it is to be done, lose no time in doing it. Without this method all is hurry and confusion, little or nothing is accomplished, and business is attended to with neither pleasure nor profit.

A polite, affable deportment is recommended. Agreeable manners contribute powerfully to a man's success. Take two men, possessing equal advantages in every other respect, but let one be gentlemanly, kind, obliging and conciliating in his manners; the other harsh, rude and disobliging; and the one will become rich, while the other will starve.

We are now to consider a very important principle in the business of money-getting, namely—Industry—persevering, indefatigable attention to business. Persevering diligence is the Philosopher's stone, which turns everything to gold. Constant, regular, habitual and systematic application to business, must in time, if properly directed, produce great results. It must lead to wealth, with the same certainty that poverty follows in the train of idleness and inattention. It has been truly remarked that he who follows his amusements instead of his business, will, in a short time, have no business to follow.

The art of money-saving is an important part of the art of money-getting. Without frugality no one can become rich; with it, few would be poor. Those who consume as fast as they produce, are on the road to ruin. As most of the poverty we meet with grows out of idleness and extravagance, so most large fortunes have been the result of habitual industry and frugality. The practice of economy is as necessary in the expenditure of time as of money. They say if "we take care of the pence the pounds will take care of themselves." So, if we take care of the minutes, the days will take care of themselves.

The acquisition of wealth demands as much self-denial, and as many sacrifices of present gratification, as the practice of virtue itself. Vice and poverty proceed, in some degree, from the same sources, namely—the disposition to sacrifice the future to the present; the inability to forego a small present pleasure for great future advantages. Men fail of fortune in this world, as they fail of happiness in the world to come, simply because they are unwilling to deny themselves momentary enjoyments for the sake of permanent future happiness.

Every large city is filled with persons, who, in order to support the appearance of wealth, constantly live beyond their income, and make up the deficiency by contracting debts which are never paid. Others, there are, the mere drones of society, who pass their days in idleness, and subsist by pirating on the hives of the industrious. Many who run a short-lived career of splendid beggary, could they be but persuaded to adopt a system of rigid economy for a few years, might pass the remainder of their days in affluence. But no! They must keep up appearances, they must live like other folks.

Their debts accumulate; their credit fails; they are harassed by duns, and besieged by constables and sheriff. In this extremity, as a last resort, they submit to a shameful dependence, or engage in criminal practices which entail hopeless wretchedness and infamy on themselves and families.

Stick to the business in which you are regularly employed. Let speculators make thousands in a year or a day; mind your own regular trade, never turning from it to the right hand or to the left. If you are a merchant, a professional man, or a mechanic, never buy lots or stocks, unless you have surplus money which you wish to invest. Your own business you understand as well as other men; but other people's business you do not understand. Let your business be some one which is useful to the community. All such occupations possess the elements of profit in themselves.

How to Secure the Public Lands,

OR THE ENTRY OF THE SAME UNDER THE PRE-EMPTION AND HOMESTEAD LAWS.

The following circular gives all necessary information as to the procedure necessary in purchasing and securing the public lands:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
GEN'L LAND OFFICE, July 19, 1865. }

Numerous questions having arisen as to the mode of procedure to purchase public lands, or acquire title to the same by bounty land locations, by pre-emptions or by homestead, this circular is communicated for the information of all concerned.

In order to acquire title to public lands the following steps must be taken:

1. Application must be made to the Register of the district land office in which the land desired may be situated.

A list of all the land offices in the United States is furnished by the Department, with the seats of the different offices, where it is the duty of the Register and Receiver to be in attendance, and give proper facilities and information to persons desirous of obtaining lands.

The minimum price of ordinary public lands is $1.25 per acre. The even or reserved sections falling within railroad grants are increased to double the minimum price, being $2.50 per acre.

Lands once offered at public sale, and not afterwards kept out of market by reservation, or otherwise, so as to prevent free competition, may be entered or located.

2. By the applicant filing with the Register his written application describing the tract, with its area; the Register will then certify to the receiver whether the land is vacant, with its price; and when found to be so, the applicant must pay that price per acre, or may locate the same with land warrant, and thereafter the Receiver will give him a "duplicate receipt," which he is required to surrender previous to the delivery to him of the patent, which may be had either by application for it to the Register or to the General Land Office.

3. If the tract has not been offered at public sale it is not liable to ordinary private entry, but may be secured by a party legally qualified, upon his compliance with the requirements of the pre-emption laws of 4th September, 1841, and 3d March, 1843; and after such party shall have made actual settlement for such a length of time as will show he designs it for his permanent home, and is acting in good faith, building a house and residing therein, he may proceed to the district land office, establish his pre-emption claim according to law, by proving his actual residence and cultivation, and showing that he is otherwise within the purview of these acts.— Then he can enter the land at $1.25, either in cash or with bounty land warrant, unless the premises should be $2.50 acre lands. In that case the whole purchase-money can be paid in cash, or one-half in cash, the residue with a bounty land warrant.

4. But if parties legally qualified desire to obtain title under the Homestead Act of 20th May, 1862, they can do so on complying with the Department Circular, dated 30th October, 1862.

5. The law confines Homestead entries to surveyed lands; and although, in certain States and Territories noted in the subjoined list, pre-emptors may go on land before survey, yet they can only establish their claim after return of survey, but must file their pre-emption declaration within three months after receipt of official plat, at the local land-office where the settlement was made before survey. Where, however, it was made after survey, the claimant must file within three months after date of settlement; and where actual residence and cultivation have been long enough to show that the claimant has made the land his permanent home, he can establish his claim and pay for the same at any time before the date of the public sale of lands within the range in which his settlement may fall.

6. All unoffered surveyed lands not acquired under pre-emption, homestead, or otherwise, under express legal sanction, must be offered at public sale under the President's Proclamation, and struck off to the highest bidder, as required by act of April 24, 1820.

J. M. EDMUNDS,
Commissioner General Land Office.

LAW MAXIMS.

1. A promise of a debtor to give "satisfactory security" for the payment of a portion of his debt, is a sufficient consideration for a release of the residue by his creditor.

2. Administrators are liable to account for interest on funds in their hands, although no profit shall have been made upon them, unless the exigencies of the estate rendered it prudent that they should hold the funds thus uninvested.

3. Any person who voluntarily becomes an agent for another, and in that capacity obtains information to which as a stranger he could have had no access, is bound in subsequent dealing with his principal, as purchaser of the property that formed the subject of his agency, to communicate such information.

4. When a house is rendered untenable in consequence of improvements made on the adjoining lot, the owner of such cannot recover damages, because it is presumed that he had knowledge of the approaching danger in time to protect himself from it.

5. When a merchant ship is abandoned by order of the master, for the purpose of saving life, and a part of the crew subsequently meet the vessel so abandoned and bring her safe into port, they will be entitled to salvage.

6. A person who has been led to sell goods by means of false pretences, cannot recover them from one who has purchased them in good faith from the fraudulent vendor.

7. An agreement by the holder of a note to give the principal debtor time for payment, without depriving himself of the right to sue, does not discharge the surety.

8. A seller of goods who accepts, at the time of sale, the note of a third party, not endorsed by the buyer, in payment, cannot in case the note is not paid, hold the buyer responsible for the value of the goods.

9. A day-book copied from a "blotter" in which charges are first made, will not be received in evidence as a book of original entries.

10. Common carriers are not liable for extraordinary results of negligence that could not have been foreseen by ordinary skill and foresight.

11. A bidder at a Sheriff's sale may retract his bid at any time before the property is knocked down to him, whatever may be the conditions of the sale.

12. Acknowledgment of debt to a stranger does not preclude the operation of the statute.

13. The fruits and grass on the farm or garden of an intestate descend to the heir.

14. Agents are solely liable to their principals.

15. A deposit of money in bank by a husband, in the name of his wife, survives to her.

16. Money paid on Sunday contracts may be recovered.
17. A debtor may give preference to one creditor over another, unless fraud or special legislation can be proved.
18. A court cannot give judgment for a larger sum than that specified in the verdict.
19. Imbecility on the part of either husband or wife, invalidates the marriage.
20. An action for malicious prosecution will lie, though nothing further was done than suing out warrants.
21. An agreement not to continue the practice of a profession or business in any specified town, if the party so agreeing has received a consideration for the same, is valid.
22. When A consigns goods to B to sell on commission, and B delivers them to C, in payment of his own antecedent debts, A can recover their value.
23. A finder of property is compelled to make diligent inquiry for the owner thereof, and to restore the same. If, on finding such property, he attempts to conceal such fact, he may be prosecuted for larceny.
24. A private person may obtain an injunction to prevent a public mischief by which he is affected in common with others.
25. Any person interested may obtain an injunction to restrain the State or a municipal corporation from maintaining a nuisance on its lands.
26. A discharge under the insolvent laws of one State will not discharge the solvent from a contract made with a citizen of another State.
27. To prosecute a party with any other motive than to bring him to justice, is malicious prosecution, and actionable as such.
28. Ministers of the gospel, residing in any incorporated town, are not exempt from jury, military, or fire service.
29. When a person contracts to build a house, and is prevented by sickness from finishing it, he can recover for the part performed, if such part is beneficial to the other party.
30. In a suit for enticing away a man's wife, actual proof of the marriage is not necessary. Cohabitation, reputation, and the admission of marriage by the parties, are sufficient.
31. Permanent erections and fixtures, made by a mortgagor after the execution of the mortgage upon land conveyed by it, become a part of the mortgaged premises.
32. When a marriage is denied, and plaintiff has given sufficient evidence to establish it, the defendant cannot examine the wife to disprove the marriage.
33. The amount of an express debt cannot be enlarged by application.
34. Contracts for advertisements in Sunday newspapers cannot be enforced.
35. A seller of goods, chattels, or other property, commits no fraud, in law, when he neglects to tell the purchaser of any flaws, defects, or unsoundness in the same.
36. The opinions of witnesses, as to the value of a dog that has been killed, are not admissible in evidence. The value of the animal is to be decided by the jury.
37. If any person puts a fence on or plows the land of another, he is liable for trespass whether the owner has sustained injury or not.
38. If a person, who is unable from illness to sign his will, has his hand guided in making his mark, the signature is valid.
39. When land trespassed upon is occupied by a tenant, he alone can bring the action.
40. To say of a person, "If he does not come and make terms with me, I will make a bankrupt of him and ruin him," or any such threatening language, is actionable, without proof of special damage.
41. In an action for slander, the party making the complaint must prove the words alleged; other words of like meaning will not suffice.
42. In a suit of damages for seduction, proof of pregnancy, and the birth of a child, is not essential. It is sufficient if the illness of the girl, whereby she was unable to labor, was produced by shame for the seduction; and this is such a loss of service as will sustain the action.
43. Addressing to a wife a letter containing matter defamatory to the character of her husband is a publication, and renders the writer amenable to damages.
44. A parent cannot sustain an action for any wrong done to a child, unless he has incurred some direct pecuniary injury therefrom in consequence of some loss of service or expenses necessarily consequent thereupon.
45. A master is responsible for an injury resulting from the negligence of his servant, whilst driving his cart or carriage, provided the servant is at the time engaged in his master's business, even though the accident happens in a place to which his master's business does not call him; but if the journey of a servant be solely for a purpose of his own, and undertaken without the knowledge and consent of his master, the latter is not responsible.
46. An emigrant depot is not a nuisance in law.
47. A railroad track through the streets is not a nuisance in law.

48. If an agreement upon which a party relies be oral only, it must be proved by evidence. But if the contract be reduced to writing, it proves itself; and now no evidence whatever is receivable for the purpose of varying the contract or affecting its obligations. The reasons are obvious. The law prefers written to oral evidence, from its greater precision and certainty, and because it is less open to fraud. And where parties have closed a negotiation and reduced the result to writing, it is presumed that they have written all they intended to agree to, and therefore, that what is omitted was finally rejected by them.— [PARSONS.]

49. Delivery of a husband's goods by a wife to her adulterer, he having knowledge that she has taken them without her husband's authority, is sufficient to sustain an indictment for larceny against the adulterer.

50. The fact that the insurer was not informed of the existence of impending litigation, affecting the premises insured, at the time the insurance was effected, does not vitiate the policy.

51. The liability of an innkeeper is not confined to personal baggage, but extends to all the property of the guest that he consents to receive.

52. When a minor executes a contract, and pays money, or delivers property on the same, he cannot afterwards disaffirm such contract and recover the money, or property, unless he restores to the other party the consideration received from him for such money or property.

53. When a person has, by legal inquisition been found an habitual drunkard, he cannot, even in his sober intervals, make contracts to bind himself or his property, until the inquisition is removed.

54. Any person dealing with the representative of a deceased person, is presumed, in law, to be fully apprized of the extent of such representative's authority to act in behalf of such estate.

55. In an action against a railroad company, by a passenger, to recover damages for injuries sustained on the road, it is not compulsory upon the plaintiff to prove actual negligence in the defendants; but it is obligatory on the part of the latter to prove that the injury was not owing to any fault or negligence of theirs.

56. A guest is a competent witness, in an action between himself and an inn-keeper, to prove the character and value of lost personal baggage. Money in a trunk, not exceeding the amount reasonably required by the traveler to defray the expenses of the journey which he has undertaken, is a part of his baggage; and in case of its loss, while at any inn, the plaintiff may prove its amount by his own testimony.

57. The deed of a minor is not absolutely void. The court is authorized to judge, from the instrument, whether it is void or not, according to its terms being favorable or unfavorable to the interests of the minor.

58. A married woman can neither sue nor be sued on any contract made by her during her marriage, except in an action relating to her individual property. The action must be commenced either by or against her husband. It is only when an action is brought on a contract made by her before her marriage, that she is to be joined as a co-plaintiff, or defendant, with her husband.

59. Any contract made with a person judicially declared a lunatic is void.

60. Money paid voluntarily in any transaction, with a knowledge of the facts, cannot be recovered.

61. In all cases of special contract for services, except in the case of a minor, the plaintiff can recover only the amount stipulated in the contract.

62. A wife is a competent witness with her husband, to prove the contents of a lost trunk, or when a party.

63. A wife cannot be convicted of receiving stolen goods when she received them of her husband.

64. Insurance against fire, by lightning or otherwise, does not cover loss by lightning when there is no combustion.

65. Failure to prove plea of justification, in a case of slander, aggravates the offence.

66. It is the agreement of the parties to sell by sample that constitutes a sale by sample, not the mere exhibition of a specimen of the goods.

67. An agent is liable to his principals for loss caused by his misstatements, tho' unintentional.

68. Makers of promissory notes given in advance for premiums on policies of insurance, thereafter to be taken, are liable thereon.

69. An agreement to pay for procuring an appointment to office is void.

70. An attorney may plead the statute of limitations, when sued by a client for money which he has collected and failed to pay over.

71. Testimony given by a deceased witness on first trial, is not required to be repeated verbatim on the second.

72. A person entitling himself to a reward offered for lost property, has a lien upon the property for the reward; but only when a definite reward is offered.

73. Confession by a prisoner must be voluntarily made, to constitute evidence against him.

74. The defendant in a suit must be served with process; but service of such process upon his wife, even in his absence from the State, is not, in the absence of statutory provisions, sufficient.

75. The measure of damages in trespass for cutting timber, is its value as a chattel on the land where it was felled, and not the market price of the lumber manufactured.

76. To support an indictment for malicious mischief in killing an animal, malice towards its owner must be shown, not merely passion excited against the animal itself.

77. No action can be maintained against a sheriff for omitting to account for money obtained upon an execution within a reasonable time. He has till the return day to render such account.

78. An interest in the profits of an enterprise, as profits, renders the party holding it a partner in the enterprise, and makes him presumptively liable to share any loss.

79. Males can marry at fourteen, and females at twelve years of age.

80. All cattle found at large upon any public road, can be driven by any person to the public pound.

81. Any dog chasing, barking, or otherwise threatening a passer-by in any street, lane, road, or other public thoroughfare, may be lawfully killed for the same.

82. A written promise for the payment of such amount as may come into the hands of the promisor, is held to be an instrument in writing for the payment of money.

83. The declaration of an agent is not admissible to establish the fact of agency.—But when other proper evidence is given, tending to establish the fact of agency, it is not error to admit the declarations of the agent, accompanying acts, though tending to show the capacity in which he acted. When evidence is competent in one respect and incompetent in another, it is the duty of the court to admit it, and control its effects by suitable instructions to the jury.

84. The court has a general power to remove or suspend an attorney for such immoral conduct as rendered him unworthy of confidence in his official capacity.

85. Bankruptcy is pleadable in bar to all actions and in all courts, and this bar may be avoided whenever it is interposed, by showing fraud in the procurement of the discharge, or a violation of any of the provisions of the bankrupt act.

86. An instrument in the form of a deed, but limited to take effect at the termination of the grantor's natural life, is held to be a deed, not a will.

87. A sale will not be set aside as fraudulent, simply because the buyer was at the time unable to make the payment agreed upon, and knew his inability, and did not intend to pay.

88. No man is under an obligation to make known his circumstances when he is buying goods.

89. Contracting parties are bound to disclose material facts known to each, but of which either supposes the other to be ignorant, only when they stand in some special relation of trust and confidence in relation to the subject matter of the contract. But neither will be protected if he does anything, however slight, to mislead or deceive the other.

90. A contract negotiated by mail is formed when notice of acceptance of the offer is duly deposited in the post-office, properly addressed. This rule applies, although the party making the offer expressly requires that if it is accepted, speedy notice of acceptance shall be given him.

91. The date of an instrument is so far a material part of it, that an alteration of the date by the holder after execution, makes the instrument void.

92. A corporation may maintain an action for libel, for words published of them and relating to its trade or business, by which it has incurred special damages.

93. It is unprofessional for a lawyer who has abandoned his case without trying it, a term or two before trial, to claim a fee conditional upon the success of his client, although his client was successful.

94. Although a party obtaining damages for injuries received through the default of another, was himself guilty of negligence, yet that will not defeat his recovery, unless his negligence contributed to cause the injury.

95. A person may contract to labor for another during life, in consideration of receiving his support; but his creditors have the right to inquire into the intention with which such arrangement is made, and it will be set aside if entered into to deprive them of his future earnings.

96. A grantor may by express terms exclude the bed of a river, or a highway, mentioned as boundary; but if without language of exclusion a line is described as 'along,' or 'upon,' or as 'running to' the highway or river, or as 'by,' or 'running to the bank of' the river; these expressions carry the grantee to the center of the highway or river.

97. The court will take pains to construe the words used in a deed in such a way as to effect the intention of the parties, however unskillfully the instrument may be drawn. But a court of law cannot exchange an intelligible word plainly employed in a deed for another, however evident it may be that the word used was by mistake for another.

98. One who has lost his memory and understanding is entitled to legal protection, whether such loss is occasioned by his own misconduct or by an act of Providence.

99. When a wife leaves her husband voluntarily, it must be shown, in order to make him liable for necessaries furnished to her, that she could not stay with safety. Personal violence, either threatened or inflicted, will be sufficient cause for such separation.

100. Necessaries of dress furnished to a discarded wife must correspond with the pecuniary circumstances of the husband, and be such articles as the wife, if prudent, would expect, and the husband should furnish, if the parties lived harmoniously together.

101. A fugitive from justice from one of the United States to another, may be arrested and detained in order to his surrender by authority of the latter, without a previous demand for his surrender by the executive of the State whence he fled.

102. A watch will not pass under a bequest of "wearing apparel," nor of "household furniture and articles for family use."

103. Money paid for the purpose of settling or compounding a prosecution for a supposed felony, cannot be recovered back by a party paying it.

104. An innkeeper is liable for the death of an animal in his possession, but may free himself from liability by showing that the death was not occasioned by negligence on his part.

105. Notice to the agent of a company is notice to the company.

106. An employer is not liable to one of his employees for an injury sustained by the latter in consequence of the neglect of others of his employees engaged in the same general business.

107. Where a purchaser at a Sheriff's sale has bid the full price of property under the erroneous belief that the sale would divest the property of all liens, it is the duty of the court to give relief by setting aside the sale.

108. When notice of protest is properly sent by mail, it may be sent by the mail of the day of the dishonor; if not, it must be mailed for the mail of the next day; except that if there is none, or it closes at an unreasonably early hour, then notice must be mailed in season for the next possible mail.

109. A powder-house located in a populous part of a city, and containing large quantities of gunpowder, is a nuisance.

110. When the seller of goods accepts at the time of the sale, the note of a third person, unindorsed by the purchaser, in payment, the presumption is that the payment was intended to be absolute; and though the note should be dishonored, the purchaser will not be liable for the value of the goods.

111. A man charged with crime before a committing magistrate, but discharged on his own recognizance, is not privileged from arrest on civil process while returning from the magistrate's office.

112. When one has been induced to sell goods by means of false pretences, he cannot recover them from one who has bona fide purchased and obtained possession of them from the fraudulent vendor.

113. If the circumstances attendant upon a sale and delivery of personal property are such as usually and naturally accompany such a transaction, it cannot be declared a legal fraud upon creditors.

114. A stamp impressed upon an instrument by way of seal, is good as a seal, if it creates a durable impression in the texture of the paper.

115. If a party bound to make a payment use due diligence to make a tender, but through the payee's absence from home is unable to find him or any agent authorized to take payment for him, no forfeiture will be incurred through his failure to make a tender.

Government Land Measure.

A township, 36 sections, each a mile square.

A section, 640 acres.

A quarter section, half a mile square, 160 acres.

An eighth section, half a mile long, north and south, and a quarter of a mile wide, 80 acres.

A sixteenth section, a quarter of a mile square, 40 acres.

The sections are numbered from one to thirty-six, commencing at the northeast corner, thus:

6	5	4	3	2	n	w	n	e
					s	w	s	e
7	8	9	10	11	12
18	17	16	15	14	13
19	20	21	22	23	24
30	29	28	27	26	25
31	32	33	34	35	36

The sections are all divided in quarters, which are named by the cardinal points, as in section one. The quarters are divided in the same way. The description of a 40 acre lot would read: The south half of the west half of the southwest quarter of section 1 in township 24, north of range 7 west, or as the case might be; and sometimes will fall short, and sometimes overrun the number of acres it is supposed to contain.

THE DECIMAL SYSTEM OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

As Authorized by Act of Congress--Approved July 28, 1866.

STANDARDS.

In every system of Weights and Measures it is necessary to have what are called "Standards," as the pound, yard, gallon, &c., to be divided and multiplied into smaller and larger parts and denominations. The definition and construction of these Standards involve philosophical and scientific principles of a somewhat abstruse character, and are made and procured by the legislative department of the government. The nominal Standards in the new system are the METER, the ARE, the LITER, and the GRAM. The only real Standard, the one by which all the other standards are measured, and from which the system derives its name of "Metric," is the METER.

THE METER

Is used for all measures of length, distance, breadth, depth, height, &c., and was intended to be, and is very nearly, one ten-millionth of the distance on the earth's surface from the equator to the pole. It is about 39 $\frac{3}{8}$ inches, or 3 feet, 3 inches and 3 eighths, and is to be substituted for the yard.

THE ARE

Is a surface whose side is ten Meters, and is equal to 100 square Meters or about 4 square rods.

THE LITER

Is the unit for measuring solids and capacity, and is equal to the contents of a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a meter. It is about equal to 1 quart, and is a standard in cubic, dry and liquid measures.

 A cubic Meter (or Kiloliter) is called a stere, and is also used as a standard in certain cubic measures.

THE GRAM

Is the Unit of weight, and is the weight of a cube of pure water, each edge of the cube being one one-hundredth of a Meter. It is about equal to 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ grains. It is intended as the Standard in all weights, and with its divisions and multiples, to supersede the use of what are now called Avoirdupois, Apothecaries and Troy Weights.

Each of the foregoing Standards is divided decimally, and larger units are also formed by multiples of 10, 100, &c. The successive subordinate parts are designated by the prefixes Deci, Centi and Milli; the successive multiples by Deka, Hecto, Kilo and Myria; each having its own numerical signification, as will be more clearly seen in the tables hereinafter given.

The terms used may, at first sight, have a formidable appearance, seem difficult to pronounce, and to retain in memory, and to be, therefore, objectionable; but with a little attention and use, the apprehended difficulty will be found more apparent than real, as has been abundantly proved by experience. The importance, also, of conformity in the use of commercial terms, on the part of the United States, with the practice of the many nations in which the system, with its present nomenclature, has already been adopted, must greatly overbalance the comparatively slight objection alluded to.

TABLES.

OLD.	MONEY.	NEW.
4 farthing make 1 penny.		10 mills make 1 cent.
12 pence " 1 shilling.		10 cents " 1 dime.
20 shillings " 1 pound.		10 dimes " 1 dollar.

LONG AND CLOTH MEASURE.—NEW.

10 millimeters	make	1 centimeter.

10 decimeters	"	1 METER.
10 meters	"	1 dekameter.
10 dekameters	"	1 hectometer.
10 hectometers	"	1 kilometer.
10 kilometers	"	1 myriameter.

SQUARE MEASURE.—NEW.

100 square millimeters	make	1 square centimeter.
100 square centimeters	"	1 square decimeter.
100 square decimeters	"	1 square meter or CENTARE.
100 centares	"	1 ARE.
100 ares	"	1 hectare.

☞ The denominations less than the Are, including the Meter, are used in specifying the contents of surfaces of small extent; the terms Centare, Are and Hectare, in expressing quantities of land surveyed or measured.

The above table may, however, be continued beyond the Meter, thus:

100 square meters	make	1 square dekameter.
100 square dekameters	"	1 square hectometer.
100 square hectometers	"	1 square kilometer.
100 square kilometers	"	1 square myriameter.

CUBIC MEASURE.—NEW.

Acts and Resolutions of Congress.

PUBLIC—No. 183.

AN ACT to authorize the use of the metric system of weights and measures.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful throughout the United States of America to employ the weights and measures of the metric system; and no contract or dealing, or pleading in any court, shall be deemed invalid or liable to objection, because the weights or measures expressed or referred to therein are weights or measures of the metric system.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the tables in the schedule hereto annexed, shall be recognized in the construction of contracts, and in all legal proceedings, as establishing, in terms of the weights and measures now in use in the United States, the equivalents of the weights and measures expressed therein in terms of the metric system; and said tables may be lawfully used for computing, determining and expressing, in customary weights and measures, the weights and measures of the metric system.

Discount and Premium.

When a person buys an article for $1.00—20 per cent off, (or discount,) and sells it again for $1.00, he makes a profit of 25 per cent. on his investment. Thus: He pays 80 cents and sells for $1.00—a gain of 20 cents, or 25 per cent of 80 cents. And for any transaction where the sale or purchase of gold, silver, or currency is concerned, the following rules will apply in all cases.

RULE 1st.—To find premium when discount is given: Multiply 100 by rate of discount and divide by 100, less rate of discount.

RULE 2d.—To find discount when premium is given. Multiply the rate of interest by 100, and divide by 100, plus the rate of premium.

Suppose A has $140 in currency, which he wishes to exchange for gold, when gold is 27 per cent. premium, how much gold should he receive? In this case the premium is given, consequently we must find the discount on A's currency and subtract it from the $140, as per rule 2d, showing the discount to be a trifle more than 21 per cent. and that he should receive $110.60 in gold.

Facts on Advertising.

The advertisements in an ordinary number of the London Times exceed 2,500. The annual advertising bills of one London firm are said to amount to $200,000; and three others are mentioned who each annually expend for the purpose $50,000. The expense for advertising the eight editions of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" is said to have been $15,000.

In large cities nothing is more common than to see large business establishments, which seem to have an immense advantage over all competitors, by the wealth, experience, and prestige they have acquired, drop gradually out of public view, and be succeeded by firms of a smaller capital, more energy, and more determined to have the fact that they sell such and such commodities known from one end of the land to the other. In other words, the establishments advertise; the old die of dignity.—The former are ravenous to pass out of obscurity into publicity; the latter believe that their publicity is so obvious that it cannot be obscured. The first understand that they must thrust themselves upon public attention, or be disregarded; the second, having once obtained public attention, suppose they have arrested it permanently; while, in fact, nothing is more characteristic of the world than the ease with which it forgets.

Stephen Girard, than whom no shrewder business man ever lived, used to say: I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule too, to advertise in the dulllest times as well as the busiest; long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as by keeping my business continually before the public it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost.

Brilliant Whitewash.

Many have heard of the brilliant stucco whitewash on the east end of the President's house at Washington. The following is a recipe for it; it is gleaned from the National Intelligencer, with some additional improvements learned by experiments: Take half a bushel of nice unslacked lime, slack it with boiling water, cover it during the process to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer, and add to it a peck of salt, previously well dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste, and stirred in boiling hot; half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of clean glue, which has been previously dissolved by soaking it well, and then hanging it over a slow fire, in a small kettle within a large one filled with water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir it well, and let it stand a few days covered from the dirt.

It should be put on right hot; for this purpose it can be kept in a kettle on a portable furnace. It is said that about a pint of this mixture will cover a square yard upon the outside of a house if properly applied. Brushes more or less small may be used according to the neatness of the job required. It answers as well as oil paint for wood, brick or stone, and is cheaper. It retains its brilliancy for many years. There is nothing of the kind that will compare with it, either for inside or outside walls.

Coloring matter may be put in and made of any shade you like. Spanish brown stirred in will make red pink, more or less deep according to the quantity. A delicate tinge of this is very pretty, for inside walls. Finely pulverized common clay, well mixed with Spanish brown, makes a reddish stone color. Yellow-ochre stirred in makes yellow wash, but chrome goes further, and makes a color generally esteemed prettier. In all these cases the darkness of the shades of course is determined by the quantity of coloring used. It is difficult to make rules, because tastes are different. It would be best to try experiments on a shingle and let it dry. We have been told that green must not be mixed with lime. The lime destroys the color, and the color has an effect on the whitewash, which makes it crack and peel. When walls have been badly smoked, and you wish to have them a clean white, it is well to squeeze indigo plentifully through a bag into the water you use, before it is stirred in the whole mixture. If a larger quantity than five gallons be wanted, the same proportion should be observed.

How to get a Horse out of a Fire.

The great difficulty of getting horses from a stable where surrounding buildings are in a state of conflagration, is well known.—The plan of covering their eyes with a blanket will not always succeed.

A gentleman whose horses have been in great peril from such a cause, having tried in vain to save them, hit upon the expedient of having them harnessed as though going to their usual work; when, to his astonishment, they were led from the stable without difficulty.

The Chemical Barometer.

Take a long narrow bottle, such as an old-fashioned Eau-de-Cologne bottle, and put into it two and a half drachms of camphor, and eleven drachms of spirits of wine; when the camphor is dissolved, which it will readily do by slight agitation, add the following mixture: Take water, nine drachms; nitrate of potash (saltpetre) thirty-eight grains; and muriate of ammonia (sal ammoniac) thirty-eight grains. Dissolve these salts in the water prior to mixing with the camphorated spirit; then shake the whole well together. Cork the bottle well, and wax the top, but afterwards make a very small aperture in the cork with a red-hot needle. The bottle may then be hung up, or placed in any stationary position. By observing the different appearances which the materials assume, as the weather changes, it becomes an excellent prognosticator of a coming storm or of a sunny sky.

Leech Barometer.

Take an eight ounce phial, and put in it three gills of water, and place in it a healthy leech, changing the water in summer once a week, and in winter once in a fortnight, and it will most accurately prognosticate the weather. If the weather is to be fine, the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the glass and coiled together in a spiral form; if rain may be expected, it will creep up to the top of its lodgings and remain there till the weather is settled; if we are to have wind, it will move through its habitation with amazing swiftness, and seldom goes to rest till it begins to blow hard; if a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed, it will lodge for some days before almost continually out of the water, and discover great uneasiness in violent throes and convulsive-like motions; in frost as in clear summer-like weather it lies constantly at the bottom; and in snow as in rainy weather it pitches its dwelling in the very mouth of the phial. The top should be covered over with a piece of muslin.

TO MEASURE GRAIN IN A BIN.—Find the number of cubic feet, from which deduct one-fifth. The remainder is the number of bushels—allowing, however, one bushel extra to every 24. Thus in a remainder of 224 there would be 225 bushels. In a remainder of 448 there would be 450 bushels &c.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

[The following recipes are vouched for by several who have tried them and proven their virtues. Many of them have been sold singly for more than the price of this book.—PUB.]

HORSES.

RING BONE AND SPAVIN.—2 oz. each of Spanish flies and Venice turpentine; 1 oz. each of aqua ammonia and euphorbium; $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. red precipitate; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. corrosive sublimate; 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. lard. When thoroughly pulverized and mixed, heat carefully so as not to burn, and pour off free from sediment.

For ring-bone, rub in thoroughly, after removing hair, once in 48 hours. For spavin, once in 24 hours. Cleanse and press out the matter on each application.

POLL-EVIL.—Gum arabic $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.; common potash $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.; extract of belladonna $\frac{1}{2}$ dr. Put the gum in just enough water to dissolve it. Pulverize the potash and mix with the dissolved gum, and then put in the extract of belladonna, and it will be ready for use. Use with a syringe after having cleansed with soap suds, and repeat once in two days till a cure is affected.

SCOURS.—Powdered tormentil root, given in milk, from 3 to 5 times daily till cured.

GREASE-HEEL AND SCRATCHES.—Sweet oil 6 ozs.; borax 2 ozs.; sugar of lead 2 ozs. Wash off with dish water, and, after it is dry, apply the mixture twice a day.

CHOLIC IN HORSES.—To $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. of warm water add 1 oz. laudanum and 3 ozs. spirits of turpentine, and repeat the dose in about $\frac{1}{4}$ of an hour, adding $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. powdered aloes, if not relieved.

BOTS.—Three doses. 1st. 2 qts milk and 1 of molasses. 2d. 15 minutes after, 2 qts. warm sage tea. 3d. After the expiration of 30 minutes, sufficient lard to physic.—Never fails.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PILES—PERFECTLY CURED.—Take flour of sulphur 1 oz., rosin 3 ozs., pulverize and mix well together. (Color with carmine or cochineal, if you like.) Dose—What will lie on a five cent piece, night and morning, washing the parts freely in cold water once or twice a day. This is a remedy of great value.

The cure will be materially hastened by taking a table-spoon of sulphur in a half pint of milk, daily, until the cure is affected.

SURE CURE FOR CORNS, WARTS AND CHILBLAINS.—Take of nitric and muriatic acids, blue vitriol and salts of tartar, 1 oz. each. Add the blue vitriol, pulverized, to either of the acids; add the salts of tartar in the same way; when done foaming, add the other acid, and in a few days it will be ready for use. For chilblains and corns apply it very lightly with a swab, and repeat in a day or two until cured. For warts, once a week, until they disappear.

HOOF-AIL IN SHEEP.—Mix 2 ozs. each of butter of antimony and muriatic acid with 1 oz. of pulverized white vitriol, and apply once or twice a week to the bottom of the foot.

COMMON RHEUMATISM.—Kerosene oil 2 ozs.; heats-foot oil 1 oz.; oil of organum $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. Shake when used, and rub and heat in twice daily.

VERY FINE SOAP, QUICKLY AND CHEAPLY MADE.—Fourteen pounds of bar soap in a half a boiler of hot water; cut up fine; add three pounds of sal-soda made fine; one ounce of pulverized rosin; stir it often till all is dissolved; just as you take it off the fire, put in two table-spoonfuls of spirits of turpentine and one of ammonia; pour it in a barrel, and fill up with cold soft water; let it stand three or four days before using. It is an excellent soap for washing clothes, extracting the dirt readily, and not fading colored articles.

WATER PROOF FOR LEATHER.—Take linseed oil 1 pint, yellow wax and white turpentine each 2 ozs. Burgundy pitch 1 oz., melt and color with lampblack.

TO KEEP CIDER SWEET.—Put into each barrel, immediately after making, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. ground mustard, 2 oz. salt and 2 oz. pulverized chalk. Stir them in a little cider, pour them into the barrel, and shake up well.

AGUE CURE.—Procure $1\frac{1}{2}$ table-spoons of fresh mandrake root juice, (by pounding) and mix with the same quantity of molasses, and take in three equal doses, 2 hours a part, the whole to be taken 1 hour before the chill comes on. Take a swallow of some good bitters before meals, for a couple of weeks after the chills are broken, and the cure will be permanent.

CURE FOR SALT RHEUM OR SCURVY.—Take of the pokeweed, any time in summer; pound it; press out the juice; strain it into a pewter dish; set it in the sun till it becomes a salve—then put it into an earthen mug; add to it fresh water and bees' wax sufficient to make an ointment of common consistency; simmer the whole over a fire till thoroughly mixed. When cold, rub the part affected. The patient will almost immediately experience its good effects, and the most obstinate cases will be cured in three or four months. Tested.—The juice of the ripe berries may be prepared in the same way.

SUPERIOR PAINT—FOR BRICK HOUSES.—To lime whitewash, add for a fastener, sulphate of zinc, and shade with any color you choose, as yellow ochre, Venetian red, etc. It outlasts oil paint.

FELONS.—Stir 1 oz. of Venice turpentine with $\frac{1}{2}$ tea-spoonful of water, till it looks like candied honey, and apply by spreading upon cloth and wrapping around the finger. If not too long delayed will cure in 6 hours.

A poke root poultice is also said to be a sure remedy.

WATER-PROOF BLACKING AND HARNESS POLISH.—Take two and a half ounces gum shellac and half a pint of alcohol, and set in a warm place until dissolved; then add two and a half ounces Venice turpentine to neutralize the alcohol; add a table-spoonful of lampblack. Apply with a fine sponge. It will give a good polish over oil or grease.

MOSQUITOS.—To get rid of these tormentors, take a few hot coals on a shovel, or a chafing dish, and burn upon them some brown sugar in your bed-rooms and parlors, and you effectually banish or destroy every mosquito for the night.

CHEAP OUTSIDE PAINT.—Take two parts (in bulk) of water lime ground fine, one part (in bulk) of white lead ground in oil. Mix them thoroughly, by adding best boiled linseed oil, enough to prepare it to pass through a paint mill, after which temper with oil till it can be applied with a common paint brush. Make any color to suit. It will last three times as long as lead paint, and cost not one-fourth as much. It is SUPERIOR.

CURE FOR A COUGH.—A strong decoction of the leaves of the pine, sweetened with loaf sugar. Take a wine-glass warm on going to bed, and half an hour before eating three times a day. The above is sold as a cough syrup, and is doing wonderful cures, and it is sold at a great profit to the manufacturers.

How to Judge a Horse.

A correspondent, contrary to old maxims, undertakes to judge the character of a horse by outward appearances, and offers the following suggestions, the result of his close observation and long experience:

If the color be light sorrell, or chestnut, his feet, legs and face white, these are marks of kindness. If he is broad and full between the eyes, he may be depended on as a horse of good sense, and capable of being trained to anything.

As respects such horses, the more kindly you treat them the better you will be treated in return. Nor will a horse of this description stand a whip, if well fed.

If you want a safe horse, avoid one that is dish-faced. He may be so far gentle as not to scare; but he will have too much go-ahead in him to be safe with everybody.

If you want a fool, but a horse of great bottom, get a deep bay, with not a white hair about him. If his face is a little dish-ed, so much the worse. Let no man ride such a horse that is not an adept in riding—they are always tricky and unsafe.

If you want one that will never give out, never buy a large, overgrown one.

A black horse cannot stand heat, nor a white one cold.

If you want a gentle horse, get one with more or less white about the head; the more the better. Many persons suppose the parti-colored horses belonging to the circuses, shows, &c., are selected for their oddity. But the selections thus made are on account of their great docility and gentleness.

Measurement of Hay in the Mow or Stack.—It is often desirable, where conveniences for weighing are not at hand, to purchase and sell hay by measurement. It is evident that no fixed rule will answer in all cases, as it would require more cubic feet at the top of a mow than at the bottom. The general rule adopted by those who have tested it, is $7\frac{1}{2}$ cubic feet of solid Timothy hay, as taken from mow or bottom of stack. The rule may be varied for upper part of mow or stack according to pressure.

EXPLANATION.—Find the Year and observe the Letter above it; then look for the Month, and in a line with it find the Letter of the Year; above the Letter find the Day; and the figures on the left, in the same line, are the days of the same name in the month.

Leap Years have two letters; the first is used till the end of February, the second during the remainder of the year.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

THIS COUNTY was formed from Albany, March 12, 1772. It was first called Tryon County, in honor of William Tryon, the Colonial Governor, and embraced all that part of the State west of the Delaware River and a line extending north through Schoharie County, and along the east lines of Montgomery, Fulton and Hamilton Counties, to Canada. Its name was changed to Montgomery, in honor of Gen. Richard Montgomery, April 2, 1784. Ontario was taken off in 1789; Herkimer, Otsego and Tioga in 1791; Hamilton in 1816, and Fulton in 1838. It lies on both sides of the Mohawk, is centrally distant thirty-nine miles from Albany, and contains 436 square miles.

The general system of highlands which forms the connecting link between the northern spurs of the Alleghany Mountains on the south, and the Adirondacks on the north, extends through this County in a north-east and south-west direction. Mohawk River cuts through these highlands and forms a valley from one to two miles wide, and from 200 to 500 feet below the summits of the hills. The valleys of some of the tributaries of the Mohawk extend several miles into the highland district at nearly right angles to the river valley. The hills bordering upon the river generally rise in gradual slopes, and from their summits the country spreads out into undulating uplands, with a general inclination towards the river, into which the whole surface of the County is drained. The principal tributaries of the Mohawk are the East Canada, Garoga, Cayadutta, Chuctenunda Creeks and Evas Kil on the north, and Cowilliga, Chuctenunda, Schoharie, Auries, Flat, Canajoharie and Otsquaga Creeks on the south. The highest point in the County is Bean Hill, in Florida, which is estimated at 700 feet above tide; and the lowest point is the bed of the Mohawk on the east line of the County, 260 feet above tide.

The lowest rocks of the County are primary, consisting of the various kinds of gneiss, granite, &c., and appear chiefly at "The Noses," on the Mohawk. Next above these, and appearing on the north bank of the river, is the calciferous sandstone group. This rock often contains in its cavities quartz and small pieces of anthracite coal, leading some to suppose that it may be found in quantities that will pay for mining. Traces of lead have been found near Spraker's Basin. Next in order are the Black River and Trenton limestone, which furnish valuable quarries of building stone. The slates and shales of the Hudson River group extend along the south border of the County, and are found in a few places north of the river. Drift and bowlders abound in some parts. The soil along the river consists of alluvial deposits and a deep, rich, vegetable mold, and upon the uplands it is mostly a highly productive sandy and gravelly loam. The productions are chiefly grass and spring grains. The uplands are well adapted to pasturage, and dairying forms the leading pursuit. Immense quantities of broom corn are raised along the Mohawk flats. Manufacturing is carried on at various points and will be noticed under the various towns. Important quarries are worked at several points.

The principal public works are the Erie Canal, extending along the south bank of the Mohawk, and the New York Central R. R., on the north bank. A wire suspension bridge crosses the Mohawk at Fort Hunter, and iron bridges at Fort Plain and at Canajoharie also span the river, while wood structures still afford the means of crossing at Amsterdam, Fonda and St. Johnsville.

The County Seat was located at Fonda, the site of the ancient Dutch Settlement of Caughnawaga, in 1836, on its removal from Johnstown. The conditions of removal were that a subscription of $4,500 should be raised, and a site of not less than three acres donated to the County. The Court House is a fine brick structure, surmounted by a dome and containing the usual County offices. It has undergone extensive repairs during the past year, and is now well adapted to the purposes for which it was designed. The Jail is a stone building in the rear of the Court House. A tablet with the following inscription is in the front wall of the Court House: "This building was erected in the year 1836, by Lawrence Marcellus, carpenter, and Henry Holmes, mason, under the charge of Aaron C. Wheelock, Henry Adams and Howland Fish, Commissioners charged with its erection."

The Montgomery County Poor House is located in the town of Glen, about one and a quarter miles east of Fultonville. The following is taken from the Report of the State Commissioners of Public Charities:

"In 1866, under authority conferred by special act of the Legislature, the Supervisors of Montgomery County disposed of by sale, their county poor house together with a farm of one hundred and forty acres, for the sum of $8,000. Since that time the poor of the county have been supported in the house by contract, the purchaser of the property being the contractor. The overseers of the poor arrange for the support of paupers of their respective towns, and the supervisors contract for those becoming a county charge. The price paid for the support of ordinary paupers is $2.50, and for insane and idiotic $3.50 per week. A single county superintendent attends to the general duties pertaining to the administration of out-door temporary relief.

"The buildings occupied are constructed of wood, and have been in use for nearly forty years. Since being taken possession of by the present owner, they have undergone extensive repairs and are now quite comfortable. The main building is two stories in height, and eighty-five feet in length by thirty-two feet in width; another building of the same length crosses at the rear, and the two buildings are connected by lateral wings on the right and left. The space enclosed by the several buildings forms a central yard, to which the inmates have free access at all times. A few aged persons are provided with separate apartments and receive marked attention; beyond this no classification of the inmates is made, except separation of the sexes at night.

"The buildings are warmed by stoves, readily ventilated, and supplied with water in abundance. There are no bath tubs in the house, but the inmates are required to bathe weekly in their rooms. The Sabbath is observed in attendance upon appropriate religious services held in the house, the supervisors appropriating funds to defray the necessary expenses, and also for the support of a week-day school, maintained during the entire year. The house is furnished with iron bedsteads throughout, and all the beds are covered with white counterpanes. Everything pertaining to the Institution was found neat and in good order, and, as far as could be learned, the poor of the county are well fed and properly cared for. The contractor stated that the price paid for support had proved reasonably remunerative since his connection at the house.

"The expenditures connected with the house during the past year amounted to $4,350.00, and that of temporary relief for the same period to $3,796.09; the aggregate expenses for the year on account of the poor being $8,146.09. Three thousand two hundred and eighty-three persons are reported as having been supported or relieved. About one-half of them were native born, and nearly one-third were reduced to want in consequence of sickness, infirmity or old age; a large number were the victims of intemperance.

"At the date of visitation, August 31st, sixty persons were found in the house. The majority of them were females, and two-thirds were native born. Included, and among the number, were eleven children under sixteen years of age, nine insane and four idiotic.

"The insane are assigned quarters in the main building situated at the rear of the main structure. The cells have been recently repaired and enlarged and without doubt this class of persons are better cared for than formerly, but nothing was seen to particularly commend in reference to their management. Four were found in confinement, and the only means of restraint employed is shutting up in cells. The balance are quiet and allowed their liberty during the day, being confined at night. Seven have been inmates of the State Asylum, and it was stated that a few had improved since their discharge, but it was not claimed that any had fully recovered. A physician visits the house, but the insane receive no special medical attendance except when sick; and the only care bestowed upon them is given by the keeper, aided by pauper inmates. The labor performed by those committed to the house inures to the benefit of the contractor."

The original purchaser of the property was Mr. Hiram Sammons. In December, 1868, he died, and Robert Wemple purchased the property and assumed the contract for the support of the poor. The number of paupers is about eighty.

At the time of the advent of the whites to this County it was the chief seat of the Mohawks, one of the most powerful tribes of Indians in the State. The first settlers were German Palatinates, and the policy which they adopted towards the natives strongly attached a majority of them to the interests of the settlers. During the subsequent wars between the English and French, the Five Nations were faithful allies of the English and in many instances shielded them from hostile attacks. In 1665-6 a French expedition consisting of 600 men under De Courcelles and De Tracy, was sent against the Indians. It proceeded as far as Schenectady, but after much suffering and the loss of many men the army returned to Canada without accomplishing anything. Several expeditions were sent against the western tribes during the next few years, and by way of retaliation the Indians made a descent against Montreal in 1689 and laid waste a large tract of country and destroyed many lives. In retaliation several expeditions were sent against the Indians and English by Count Frontenac, one of which destroyed Schenectady in 1690. The Indians had three castles in the Mohawk Valley, one of which was at the mouth of Schoharie Creek, another at the mouth of Otsqaga, and a third at the mouth of the Nowadaga, in Herkimer County. In the winter of 1692-3 the French invaded this region and destroyed two of the castles and took about three hundred prisoners. In one engagement the French lost thirty of their number, and in their retreat were followed by Major Peter Schuyler, at the head of two hundred regulars and militia, who succeeded in killing about thirty and in rescuing about fifty prisoners. The remainder escaped and fled to Canada through the great northern wilderness. As early as 1642 the French Jesuits sent their missionaries among the Mohawks, and through their exertions some were induced to embrace the Roman Catholic religion and subsequently removed to Canada.

In 1711 a military post known as Fort Hunter was established near the mouth of Schoharie Creek, and about the same time a large number of German Palatinates, sent out by Queen Anne, settled on the Hudson, and soon after removed to the Mohawk Valley and settled on lands belonging to the Government. A considerable number of the Holland Dutch also settled in the County about the same time.

The land grants were issued in comparatively small tracts. In 1714 a tract of 2,000 acres was granted to John and Margaret Collins; in 1722, 6,000 acres to Lewis Morris & Co.; in 1723 a tract of 12,700 acres was granted to John Christian Garlock and others, for the benefit of the Palatinates, and called Stone Arabia. In 1737 a tract of 10,000 acres, south of the Mohawk, and 5,426 acres, north of the same stream, was granted to James De Lancey and others and called De Lancey's Patent. Other grants were made, so that in 1760 but little remained in the County that had not been granted to some party.

About the year 1735, Sir Peter Warren, an Admiral in the British Navy, acquired the title to a large tract of land lying on the south side of the Mohawk, in the present town of Florida, and known as Warren's Bush. He sent his nephew, afterwards known as Sir William Johnson, to take the charge of it. Johnson at first located at the mouth of Schoharie Creek, but after obtaining the title to a tract of land north of the river, he erected a stone house, about three miles west of the village of Amsterdam, and made that his residence until his removal to Johnstown about 1762. This place was fortified and known as Fort Johnson, a name which it still bears. Through the influence of his uncle he obtained the appointment of Indian Agent, and by learning the language and adopting the dress and habits of the Indians whenever it appeared expedient, he acquired a greater influence over them than any other white man had ever before obtained. He died July 11, 1774. His son, Sir John Johnson, and his sons-in-law, Guy Johnson and Daniel Claus, were among the most influential of those who adhered to the King when the struggle for Independence began. The German Palatinates generally united with the Colonies, and the other settlers entertained similar sentiments, but for some time they were overawed by the Johnsons, and their efforts to organize were thwarted by the activity of the Tory leaders.

Tryon County was divided into six districts, and for the purpose of a more thorough organization, delegates were appointed in each by the Patriots to form a Committee of Public Safety. These districts were Mohawk, adjoining Albany; Canajoharie, in the south side of the Mohawk, and Palatine on the north, extending up the river to Little Falls; German Flats and Kingsland, still further up the river; and Old England District, west of the Susquehanna. The first five of these districts were formed March 24, 1772. On the 8th of March, 1773, the original name, Stone Arabia, was changed to Palatine, German Flats was changed to Kingsland, and Kingsland to German Flats. Old England District was formed April 3, 1775. Col. Guy Johnson had succeeded to the office of Indian Agent, and his acts were so aggressive and partisan that the Committee addressed a remonstrance. In June, 1775, he withdrew to Cosby's Manor, under pretense of holding a council with the Indians in the west part of the County, and shortly after fled to Montreal by way of Oswego, accompanied by a large number of dependents and followers. He continued to act as Indian Agent during the war, and by liberal rewards and more liberal promises incited the Indians to active hostilities. In Canada he was joined by Joseph Brant, a distinguished and educated Mohawk Chief, and by John and Walter N. Butler, two Tories who gained an infamous notoriety for their barbarity, which surpassed that of the Indians. These persons had all resided in Tryon County and were well qualified by their knowledge of the settlements to lead marauding parties of Tories and Indians on their work of desolation. Sir John remained at the Hall, and though he could still count among his relatives and neighbors many adherents, yet he was not ignorant of the fact that the leaven of civil liberty was working among the Colonists to a greater extent than was desired by him. He therefore began to fortify Johnson Hall and to arm his attendants and make preparations to support actively the cause of the Crown whenever an opportunity should offer. The Committee of Safety suspecting that he was meditating hostilities and that he was in correspondence with Guy Johnson, determined to ascertain his intentions. For this purpose they addressed him the following letter:

"TRYON COUNTY COMMITTEE CHAMBER, }
October 26, 1775. }

"HONORABLE SIR:

"As we find particular reason to be convinced of your opinion in the questions hereafter expressed, we request that you will oblige us with your sentiments thereon in a few lines by our messengers, the bearers hereof, Messrs. Ebenezer Cox, James M' Master and John J. Clock, members of our Committee. We wish to know whether you will allow the inhabitants of Johnstown and Kingsborough to form themselves into companies according to the regulations of our Continental Congress for the defense of our country's cause; and whether your Honor would be ready himself to give his personal assistance to the same purpose; also whether you pretend a prerogative to our County Court House and Jail and would hinder or interrupt the Committee making use of the same to our want and service in the common cause. We do not doubt you will comply with our reasonable request and thereby oblige,

Honorab! Sir,

Your obedient and humble servants,

By order of the Committee,

NICHOLAS HERKIMER, Chairman."

To this Sir John replied, that as to embodying his tenants, he never did or should forbid them; but they might save themselves further trouble, as he knew his tenants would not consent. Concerning himself, sooner than lift his hand against his King, or sign any association, he would suffer his head to be cut off. As to the Court House and Jail, he would not deny the use of them for the purpose for which they were built, but that they were his property until he should be refunded seven hundred pounds. He further said he had been informed that two-thirds of the Canajoharie and German Flats people had been forced to sign the association.

Johnson continued his defensive works about the Hall, and it was currently reported that, in addition to his tenants and adherents, three hundred Indians were to garrison the works, to be let loose upon the settlement as occasion might offer.

Having become convinced of his hostile intentions, General Schuyler, who had charge of the Northern Department, wrote to him in January, 1776, stating that he had been informed that "designs of the most dangerous tendency to the lives and liberties of those who are opposed to the unconstitutional measures of the ministry, have been formed in a part of Tryon County," he was ordered to march a body of men into that County to contravene those dangerous designs. Influenced by motives of humanity, he declared that he wished to comply with his orders in a manner the most peaceable, that no blood might be shed, and therefore requested that Sir John would meet him the next day at any place on his way to Johnstown. To this letter Sir John returned an unsatisfactory reply. A correspondence ensued which resulted in an agreement on the part of Sir John to disarm his Scotch tenants and to refrain from any and all acts hostile to the Colonies. For some reason this agreement was violated, and he resumed his intrigues, secretly instigating the Indians to hostilities. Under these circumstances it was thought best to secure the person of Sir John, and Col. Dayton was dispatched with a force to arrest him. Being warned of their approach, Sir John and his followers escaped to the woods, and after nineteen days of great hardship and suffering reached Canada by way of Sacandaga and Racket Rivers. Sir John received a commission of Colonel in the British service, and raised a regiment of Tories known as "Johnson's Greens," and was active and bitter in his hostility to the Colonists throughout the war. Through the influence of the Johnsons all of the Six Nations, except a portion of the Oneidas and Tuscaroras, united their fortunes with the British and were liberally aided by arms and provisions in their incursions into the frontier settlements. Several efforts were made on the part of the Americans to attach the Indians to their cause, or at least to induce them to remain neutral, but with the exceptions named, all to no purpose. During the summer and fall of 1777 this County, in common with other portions of the northern and western frontier, was the scene of great alarm and stirring events caused by the expedition of Burgoyne. General Barry St. Leger had been dispatched with an army of Tories and Indians, by the way of Oswego, to reduce the forts and settlements on the Mohawk and join the main army of Burgoyne at Albany. Fort Schuyler, where Rome is now situated, was besieged on the third day of August. The militia of Montgomery County were called out, and under the command of General Herkimer, marched to the relief of the Fort. At Oriskany they were surprised by a body of Tories and Indians, and a bloody battle was fought in which two hundred of the patriots of the County were killed and as many more taken prisoners. There was scarcely a hamlet in the valley that did not lose one or more of its inhabitants. A few weeks after this, General Arnold, at the head of about 900 troops, marched to the relief of the Fort, and St. Leger hastily retreated. During the fall and the following year Indian scouts prowled around the settlements upon the western border, murdering or carrying into captivity small parties of settlers and soldiers when the opportunity offered. Sir John Johnson was present at the siege of Fort Schuyler, but as this proved a failure he made two other incursions into the County. On the 21st of May, 1780, he suddenly appeared at Johnson Hall at the head of 500 Indians and Tories. He arrived about sunset on Sunday, and dividing his force into two parties, at daylight the next morning he made an attack simultaneously upon Tribes Hill and Caughnawaga, (Fonda,) killing several persons and taking others prisoners, and burning every building upon the route except those belonging to Tories. The militia collected in considerable numbers, and towards night Sir John retreated to Canada by way of the wilderness west of the Adirondack Mountains. The principal object of this incursion was to obtain the silver plate which had been buried on his hasty retreat from the Hall. Near the last of July of the same year, the militia of the County were sent to guard a provision train sent to the relief of Fort Schuyler. On the 2d of August, while they were absent, Brant, at the head of 500 Indians and Tories, made an attack upon the settlements in the vicinity of Fort Plain. Fifty-three dwellings were burned, sixteen persons were slain and sixty women and children carried into captivity. The party retreated on the approach of the militia from Johnstown and Schenectady. In October a large body of Tories, Indians and Canadians, under Sir John Johnson, Brant and Cornplanter, made their appearance at the mouth of Schoharie Creek after having laid waste the settlements above. The troops of Sir John were chiefly collected near Montreal, from which point they ascended the St. Lawrence to Lake Ontario and Oswego, from this point to Oneida Lake, where they left their boats and proceeded over land to join the Tories and Indians collected at Tioga Point. They had with them two small mortars and a three-pound brass cannon, called a grasshopper, from the circumstance of its being mounted on legs instead of wheels; these pieces were carried through the woods on pack horses. These troops, to the number of 2,000, were all provided with eighty rounds of cartridges. They passed along the east bank of the Susquehanna to its source, thence across to the Schoharie Creek and down that to the Mohawk, spreading destruction and desolation in their course. From the mouth of Schoharie Creek the main body passed up the Mohawk on the south side, while Captain Duncan, with three companies of the "Greens" and some Indians, crossed to the north side, and proceeding up the river, destroyed all that was left of Caughnawaga in the preceding raid, and all that had been rebuilt. The march upon both sides of the river was one of the most complete devastation; rapine and plunder were carried to the fullest extent, and every thing combustible was given to the flames. The inhabitants, panic stricken, escaped death or captivity only by flight. On the night of the 18th Sir John encamped a short distance above The Noses, and the next morning crossed the river at Keeder's Rifts. Most of the army continued up the river, but a detachment of one hundred and fifty men was dispatched against a small stockade fort in Stone Arabia called Fort Paris. This was in command of Colonel Brown with one hundred and thirty men. As soon as the news of Johnson's incursion reached Albany, General Robert Van Rensselaer, at the head of a party of militia, started in pursuit. He arrived at Caughnawaga on the 18th, and having learned that Fort Paris was to be attacked the next day, dispatched orders to Col. Brown to march out and attack the enemy while he would fall upon his rear. Brown promptly sallied forth to the attack, but Rensselaer had been so impeded in his march as to be unable to create any diversion in Brown's favor, whose force was too weak to withstand the enemy or check his progress. Col. Brown and about forty of his men fell in the attack, the remainder sought safety in flight. Johnson now dispersed his troops in small bands in all directions to plunder and destroy. Towards evening these marauders were collected together and marched back to the river road east of Garoga Creek. Avoiding a small defense near the mouth of the Creek, Sir John moved west, continuing his course to Klock's Field, where, from the fatigue of the troops and the burthen of the plunder, it became necessary to halt.

General Van Rensselaer was now in close pursuit with a strong force. He had encamped the previous night at Van Epps, on the south side of the river, not more than three miles from Johnson, whose troops must have been weary from their long marches and heavy knapsacks, while Van Rensselaer's were fresh in the field. Captain McKean, with about eighty volunteers and a strong body of Oneida warriors, had also joined him, making his force superior to that of Johnson. Sir John had placed a guard of forty men at the ford to dispute the passage. On approaching this point Van Rensselaer halted and did not again advance until the guard was withdrawn. He continued on the south side while Johnson was continuing his work of death upon the north. He arrived opposite the battle ground where Col. Brown had fallen before the firing ceased and while the Indian war-whoop was still resounding. While halting about three miles below Garoga Creek, some of the fugitives from Brown's regiment arrived, fording the river without difficulty. General Van Rensselaer made an excuse for not crossing that he was not acquainted with the fording place. Being informed that there was no difficulty in crossing, Capt. McKean and the Oneida Chief led their commands through the river, expecting the main army to follow. General Van Rensselaer, however, immediately mounted his horse and rode away to Fort Plain to dine with Gov. Clinton. Meantime the baggage wagons were driven into the stream to serve in part as a bridge for the army, which commenced crossing in single files. In this way the passage was not effected until four o'clock P. M., at which time the General returned. Col. Louis, as the Oneida Chief was called, shook his sword at him and denounced him as a Tory. Col. William Harper also remonstrated with him on account of the unnecessary delay, attended as it had been by a needless loss of life and property. From this time the troops advanced without unnecessary delay, in three divisions, the advance led by Col. Morgan Lewis. Sir John, anticipating an attack, had disposed of his force upon a small alluvial plain, partly surrounded by a bend in the river. A slight breastwork had been thrown up across the neck of the little peninsula, and the Indians under Brant were secreted among the thick scrub oaks that covered the land a little to the north and a few feet higher. Here a spirited engagement took place in which Sir John and his troops were routed, and had he been followed up as he should have been, the whole force might have been destroyed or captured. General Van Rensselaer has been severely censured for his course and denounced by many as a Tory at heart. The prospects of the Mohawk Valley were now shrouded in gloom. Nearly every settlement had been desolated and nearly every family had lost some of its members. The Supervisors of Tryon County prepared a statement dated December 20, 1780, and presented to the Legislature, giving some idea of the desolation made throughout this region. This statement declares that 700 buildings had been burned in the County; 354 families had abandoned their habitations and removed; 613 persons had deserted to the enemy; 197 had been killed; 121 taken prisoners, and 1,200 farms lay uncultivated by reason of the enemy. This statement did not include Cherry Valley, Newtown, Martin, Middlefield, Springfield, Harpersfield, and Old England District, which had been utterly destroyed and abandoned. The population at the beginning of the war was about 10,000. Though the sufferings of the colonists were great the Indian loss was much greater. Their whole country had been ravaged, their crops destroyed and many of their number had died in battle or by starvation. At the close of the war a miserable remnant of the once powerful nations returned to sue for peace.

In the spring of 1781, Colonel Marinus Willett assumed command of the American forces on the Mohawk, and by his military skill, daring and knowledge of Indian warfare, repelled all the attacks made upon the Mohawk settlements and carried the war into the enemy's own country. On the 9th of July, 1781, about 300 Indians, under a Tory named Doxtader, made a sudden attack upon the settlement of Currytown in the town of Root, burning the buildings and collecting a large amount of booty. Col. Willett, with 150 militia, immediately pursued and overtook them at Dorlach, a few miles over the line of Schoharie County. By stratagem he succeeded in drawing the Indians into an ambuscade and defeated them, killing forty of their number and retaking all their plunder. Some of their prisoners were murdered to prevent their escape. The last incursion of the Indians into the Mohawk Valley was made October 24, 1781, by a party of 600 British and Indians, under Major Ross and the notorious Walter N. Butler. They made their first appearance in the vicinity of Warren Bush, and proceeded to Johnstown, engaging in their usual work of plunder and murder. Here they were attacked by Colonels Willett, Rowley and Harper. A severe engagement ensued in which the enemy were defeated and forced to retreat. Col. Willett pursued, and coming up with the rear guard at West Canada Creek, a skirmish ensued in which Butler was killed. History has handed down his name as one of the most inhuman wretches that ever disgraced humanity. He surpassed the savages in barbarity, appearing to revel with delight at the spectacle of human suffering. Many a victim was saved from his clutches by Brant, the Mohawk Chief. This affair practically ended the war in Tryon County, and the remaining citizens, who had so often suffered from savage incursions, were permitted to resume in peace their accustomed employments, though stripped of almost everything except the soil.

At the close of the war, and when peace once more smiled upon the land, emigrants from New England and other parts settled in the Mohawk Valley, and the fertile fields so recently made desolate by the torch of the savage and the Tory, began to bud and blossom, and in a few years almost every trace of the war had become obliterated.

In closing this sketch of Montgomery County we would gladly give a record of the deeds of the brave men who fought to preserve the Government from disintegration at the hands of traitors. As the necessary statistics are not at hand, we must be content to say that those who volunteered in their country's defense, fought worthy of their illustrious sires of the Revolution. If our fathers who founded the Republic are worthy of all commendation for the sacrifices which they made to found so glorious a structure, of not less praise are those worthy, who gave their lives that the Republic might be preserved and transmitted unimpaired to our posterity.

GAZETTEER OF TOWNS.

AMSTERDAM, named from the place in Holland from which many of the early settlers came, was formed from Caughnawaga, March 12, 1793. Perth, Fulton County, was taken off in 1838. The original town of Caughnawaga was formed March 7, 1788. It embraced all that part of Montgomery County lying north of the Mohawk and east of a line extending from "The Noses" to Canada. In 1793 it was divided into Amsterdam, Mayfield, Broodalbin and Johnstown, and the original name was discontinued. It lies on the north bank of the Mohawk, in the north-east corner of the County. Its surface consists of the alluvial flats along the river, and a rolling upland, gradually rising for a distance of two miles, and attaining an elevation of 300 to 500 feet. The principal streams are the Fort Johnson, Chuctenunda and Evas Kil Creeks. The first was formerly called Kayaderosseras Creek, and its name was changed in honor of Sir William Johnson, who erected a residence near this stream in 1744, and a saw mill about the same time. It enters the Mohawk about three miles west of Amsterdam village. Chuctenunda, signifying Twin Sisters, is a name applied to two streams flowing into the Mohawk on opposite sides. Evas Kil was named in honor of Mrs. Eva Van Alstyne, who was wounded and scalped by the Indians in 1755, while crossing this stream. The stream enters the Mohawk near the east border. The soil in the valley is a deep rich alluvium, and upon the hills it is a fertile, gravelly loam. Near Tribes Hill are extensive stone quarries, at which stone is now being quarried for the new State Capitol. Manufacturing is carried on quite extensively at Amsterdam village and at several other places.

Amsterdam, (p. v.) formerly called Veedersburgh, was incorporated April 20, 1830. It is situated on the north bank of the Mohawk, from which the land slopes gradually to the extreme northern limit of the village, then rises more abruptly to the hight of 500 feet. The main street runs nearly parallel with the river and is well paved and lighted with gas. The village contains five churches, viz., Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Episcopal and Roman Catholic; an academy, a newspaper office, three banks, four hotels, a large number of manufactories and about 6,000 inhabitants.

The Shoe Manufactory of McElwain & Co., gives employment to forty hands and turns out 150 or 200 pairs of shoes daily.

The Mohawk Knitting Mill employs forty hands and turns out forty dozens of shirts and drawers per day.

Amity Knitting Factory employs thirty hands and turns out thirty dozen shirts and drawers daily.

American Hosiery Mill is run by steam and turns out 175 dozen shirts and drawers daily.

Sanford's Carpet Factory employs 300 hands, uses 3,000 pounds of wool and turns out 1,000 yards of carpet daily.

Kellogg & Miller's Oil Mill employs 30 hands, uses 900 bushels of seed, and makes 2,000 gallons of oil and fifteen tons of oil cake daily.

The Globe Hosiery Mills employ 50 hands and turn out 90 dozen shirts and drawers daily.

Amsterdam Knitting Mills employ 55 hands and turn out 80 dozen shirts and drawers and 30 dozen jackets daily.

Amsterdam Iron Works employ 25 hands and turn out $50,000 worth of work annually.

The Forest Paper Mill turns out from 2,500 to 3,000 pounds of paper daily.

W. K. Green & Son's Hosiery Mills employ 200 hands and turn out from 250 to 300 dozen shirts and drawers daily.

Pioneer Hosiery Mills employ 60 hands and turn out 60 to 65 dozen shirts and drawers daily.

The Broom Factory of J. H. Bronson turns out 20,000 dozen brooms annually.

The Malt House of Charmichael uses 40,000 bushels of grain annually.

The Monitor Clothes Wringer Manufactory employs 25 hands and turns out 20,000 wringers annually.

The Broom Factory of E. D. Bronson employs 30 hands and turns out 80 dozen brooms and 30 dozen brushes daily.

The Amsterdam Steam Soap Works turn out 4,000 pounds of soap per week.

Shuler's Steel Spring Manufactory turns out $200,000 worth of springs annually.

J. C. Shuler & Co's Coffin Manufactory turns out $500,000 worth of work annually.

The Presbyterian Congregation of Amsterdam village was organized March 3d, 1832, with Rev. James Wood, pastor. The number of members at present is 300. The church edifice now in process of erection is 104 by 66 feet, and 148 feet to the top of the spire. It is constructed of brick and hewn stone and will cost, when completed, $40,000. Rev. M. S. Goodale, D. D., is the present pastor.

The Methodist Episcopal Church numbers 290 members. The edifice is of wood, located on Market Street. The present pastor is Rev. W. J. Heath.

The First Baptist Church numbers 268 members; the Sabbath school 200 scholars, 27 teachers and five officers. The church edifice is 100 by 50 feet and has a fine bell and organ. The present pastor is Rev. John Enoch Chesshire.

St. Ann's Episcopal Church numbers 65 members. The church edifice is a substantial stone building located on Division Street. Rev. Porter Thomas is the present pastor.

St. Mary's Catholic Church was organized in 1844. The present number of communicants is 600. The church edifice is of brick, located on Main Street, has a fine spire and stained glass windows.

Green Hill Cemetery is located on an eminence a little north-east of the village. The grounds are beautifully laid out and ornamented with trees, shrubbery and flowers. A soldiers' monument is soon to be erected. Nature and art are combined to make it a beautiful rural cemetery.

Amsterdam Academy is located on a slightly eminence north-east of the village, about two minutes walk from the R. R. Depot. It was incorporated by the Legislature, March 29, 1839, and by the Regents of the University, Feb. 16, 1841, under the name of Amsterdam Female Seminary. It was located in a central part of the village until 1865, when its present site was chosen. Its boarding department was for ladies, its day department for both sexes. April 27, 1865, its name was changed to Amsterdam Academy. New buildings, at a cost of $40,000, were erected and fitted up with all the modern improvements. The boarding department, as formerly, is for ladies, while the day school is for both sexes. The grounds are artistically laid out and when completed will furnish a delightful walk and drive for the people of Amsterdam. The following are the names of the members of the first Board of Trustees under the new charter: Hon. Stephen Sanford, M. C., President; Hon. S. Pulver Heath, Sec.; Davis W. Shuler, Treas.; Hon. Samuel Belding, Hon. Adam W. Kline, Abram V. Morris, Hoel S. McElwain, Hon. John Kellogg, John McDonnell, Leonard Y. Gardiner and Chandler Bartlett. C. C. Wetsell is the present principal, assisted by a board of seven teachers.

Hagaman's Mills (p. v.) is located on Chuctenunda Creek, about four miles north-east of the village of Amsterdam, and contains two churches, viz., Methodist and Reformed; manufactories of hosiery, hubs and pumps, and about 200 inhabitants.

The Hosiery Mill of H. Pawling & Son is a fine wood building, run by water and steam, contains four sets of woolen machinery and turns out about 15,000 dozen shirts and drawers annually. Attached to the main building is a fire-proof picking room. This knitting mill was started in 1857, one of the first in the town, and has been in successful operation ever since. The dam of Messrs. Pawling & Son is of cut stone, laid in cement, and is the only one of the kind on this creek or in the County, constructed by private enterprise.

The Hub Factory of Inman & Son turns out about 6,000 sets of hubs annually. A planing mill is attached.

The Pump Factory of Mason & Rogers turns out about 1,000 pumps annually. A reservoir in Saratoga County supplies the stream on which these mills are located.

The village received its name from Joseph Hagaman, the first settler, in 1777, and who subsequently erected the first mill.

Conner's Grist and Saw Mills are located near Hagaman's Mills. The grist mill contains three runs of stones and the saw mill one upright saw.

The Reformed Church, of Hagaman's Mills, was erected in 1835 as a Presbyterian church in connection with the First Presbyterian Church of Amsterdam, and remained so for about ten years, when it became an Independent Society with about 50 members. About five years after this it united with the Dutch Reformed, with which it is now connected.

The Methodist Church was organized in 1864 with 24 members, and their house of worship was erected the same year. The present membership is 50.

Cranesville, (p. v.) situated on the Mohawk, three miles east of Amsterdam, contains a hotel, a store, a wagon shop, a saw mill, a tannery and about 120 inhabitants. It was named in honor of David Crane, who settled here in 1804 and kept a hotel for many years.

Swarts' Grist Mill is located about a mile east of Cranesville and contains two runs of stones.

McLachlan's Saw Mill is located about two miles north of Cranesville, is run by water and contains one upright saw.

Tribes Hill (p. v.) received its name from the circumstance that the Indian tribes were accustomed to assemble here. It is located on the N. Y. C. R. R., about five miles west of Amsterdam, on the town line, and contains two churches, viz., Presbyterian and Methodist; a store, a tin shop, a harness shop, a blacksmith shop, two shoe shops and about thirty dwellings. About half of the village lies in the town of Mohawk. Near the village are several large stone quarries from which immense blocks are now being quarried for the new State Capitol. Stone cutting and quarrying form the main business of the place. A suspension bridge, 536 feet between abutments, crosses the Mohawk, connecting this place with Fort Hunter. It was erected by a stock company in 1852-3 at a cost of $17,500. The bridge is supported by six cables of three inches in diameter each. The towers are constructed of heavy oak timbers and the bridge will support 5,000 pounds per foot.

The Methodist Church at this place was reorganized in 1864 with a membership of about 40. Their house of worship is of stone and erected the same year.

Finhou's Saw Mill is located about three miles north-west of Amsterdam and contains one upright saw.

Hollenbeck & Coughnel's Mills are located about three miles north-west of Amsterdam, on Fort Johnson Creek. The saw mill contains one upright saw.

Fort Johnson Grist Mill, near the same place, contains three runs of stones.

Wer's Saw Mill is located on Fly Creek, about five miles north-west of Amsterdam, and runs one upright saw.

Hollenbeck's Mill runs one upright saw.

West Amsterdam M. E. Church was organized about the year 1810. The present church edifice was erected in 1860, and is located on Fort Johnson Creek, about four miles north-west of Amsterdam; the membership at present is about 75.

A Lutheran Church is located in the north-west corner of the town. Their house of worship was erected in 1858, and the present membership is about 75.

The First Presbyterian Church was organized about the year 1800. Their house of worship is located about two and a half miles east of Amsterdam. It was erected in 1802 and is still occupied by the society. The frame is of oak and in good condition; the outside has undergone some repairs. The present membership is about thirty.

The first settlement of the town was commenced about 1710 by Dutch and Palatinates. In 1742 Sir William Johnson built a large stone mansion, about three miles west of the village, and resided there for about twenty years, or until he erected Johnson Hall. This edifice was richly ornamented with carvings of oak and mahogany, and at the time of its erection was one of the finest mansions in the Colony. It was fortified and called Fort Johnson. Sir William subsequently built a mill on the creek near his residence. Here he was surrounded by a great number of dependents and was often visited by great numbers of Indians over whom he exerted great influence. Guy Johnson had a fine stone residence one mile west of the village, called Guy Park, and Col. Daniel Claus had another about two miles from the village. The first two are still standing. A tract of land one mile square was originally attached to each of these residences, but the whole was confiscated and sold with the estates of the other Tories. The two men last named were sons-in-law of Sir William Johnson. The first settlers at Amsterdam village was Albert Veeder, E. E. De Graff, Nicholas Wilcox and William Kline. The first church, (Reformed Protestant Dutch,) was organized in 1792, and became Presbyterian in 1803. The first settled minister was Rev. Conrad Ten Eyck in 1799. Casper Van Warmer settled in the south-east part of the town about 1779, and lived there about eighty years, being 89 years old when he died, in 1859.

The population of Amsterdam in 1865 was 5,135 and its area 18,866 acres.

CANAJOHARIE was formed as a district, March 24, 1772, and as a town March, 1788. Minden was taken off in 1798, a part of Root in 1823 and a part of Minden in 1849. It was called by the Indians Gana-jo-hi-e, and said to signify "a kettle shaped hole in the rocks," or "The pot that washes itself," and refers to a deep hole worn in the rock at the falls on the creek, about a mile from its mouth. It lies on the south border of the County, west of the center. The surface consists of the flats along the Canajoharie Creek, and the undulating uplands from 200 to 600 feet above the valley. The soil is a gravelly loam, derived from the disintegration of the underlying slate, in some places intermixed with clay. Agriculture is the principal pursuit of the inhabitants, though there is a limited amount of manufactures.

Cánajoharie, (p. v.) incorporated April 30, 1829, is situated in the north part of the town, on the Mohawk River and Erie Canal. A substantial bridge connects it with the village of Palatine Bridge, a station on the N. Y. C. R. R. The village contains six churches, viz: Episcopal, Reformed, Methodist, German Lutheran, English Lutheran and Roman Catholic; a printing office, several mills and manufactories and about 2,000 inhabitants.

Arkell & Smith's Paper and Cotton Flour Sack Manufactory is one of the most important establishments in the village. The business was started in 1860 and gives employment to seventy-five hands. They have two large paper mills in Troy, N. Y., for the manufacture of the manilla paper. The works are run by water, which has a fall of nearly forty feet. The sacks are made chiefly by machinery at the rate of 120 per minute on each machine. Three drum cylinder printing presses print in colors at the rate of 40,000 per day. Every sack is counted by machinery as it is printed.

A Flour, Feed and Plaster Mill, 40 by 60 feet, and five stories high, is run by a steam engine of 45 horse power. The capacity of the mill is 100 bushels per day. The sales amount to about 50,000 bushels of corn per year and 1,000 tons of plaster. An elevator, 35 by 50 feet, with a storage capacity of 25,000 bushels, is connected with the mill.

M. L. Smith's Malting House, in the west part of the village, is of brick, 62 by 106 feet, and uses 30,000 bushels of barley per year.

Knox & Yates' Malting House was erected in 1863 on the south bank of the canal. It is built of limestone, 50 by 116 feet, and three stories high. A frame building attached for storage is 52 by 40 feet. About 45,000 bushels of barley are used during the season.

Ames, (p. v.) in the south part of the town, contains two churches, viz., Methodist and Baptist; an academy, a hotel, a saw mill, a grist mill, several mechanic shops of various kinds and about 200 inhabitants.

The Methodist Church was organized in 1809, with Rev. Benj. Paddock as the first pastor. The present membership is 94; Rev. Charles T. Moss is the pastor.

The Baptist Church was organized at an early day and their house of worship erected in 1834. Rev. George Elliott was the first pastor. Rev. Mr. Crandall is the present pastor.

Buel, (p. v.) in the south-west part, on Bowman's Creek, contains a Presbyterian church, a wagon shop, a store, a grocery, a blacksmith shop, a large cheese factory and about twenty-five dwellings. The cheese factory is owned by the Buel Cheese Manufacturing Association. The capital invested is $5,000, and the milk of 700 cows is used.

The old homestead of General Keys is still standing in the east part of the village of Ames. It is a one story building, surrounded by trees and shrubbery.

Sprout Brook, (p. o.) in the south-west part of the town, contains a Methodist church, a hotel, a store and about a dozen dwellings.

Vandeousenville is located a short distance south-east of Sprout Brook, and contains a woolen mill, a saw mill and a large cheese factory.

Marshville, (p. o.) near the center, contains about a dozen dwellings.

Mapleton and Waterville, in the north-east part, are hamlets.

The settlement of this town was commenced at a very early day, long before the breaking out of the Revolutionary war. As early as 1764 an Indian school was taught here by Philip Jonathan. During the Revolution the people generally were warm supporters of the cause of the Colonists and were among the greatest sufferers of the Mohawk Valley. At the battle of Oriskany many of the prominent citizens of the place were killed. Among them were Col. Cox, Lieut. Col. Hunt, Maj. Van Slyck, Capt. Henry Devendorf, Robert Crouse, Jacob Bowman, Andrew Dillenback, Capt. Jacob Leeber, Charles Fox and Lieut. Wm. Leeber. While marching to join Gen. Sullivan in 1779, General Clinton made this place his headquarters for several weeks. While here two notorious Tories, Henry Ware and Wm. Newbury, were arrested and executed as spies. They had formerly been citizens of the town. A deserter named Titus was also shot here. With the other towns in the County, Canajoharie suffered from incursions of the Tories and Indians and the inhabitants were often driven to the greatest extremities. Several small forts were built which afforded some protection to the people. A fort was erected here at an early day as one of the chain of fortifications to Oswego. It was 100 feet square and fifteen feet high, with bastions at the angles, and was armed with several small cannon. In 1781 the house of Philip Van Alstyne was palisaded and named Fort Van Rensselaer. It is now called Fort Washington, and is in the south part of the village, on the east bank of the creek, nearly opposite the dwelling of Mrs. Gertrude Moyer. It was constructed of limestone. At the Indian burying ground in Canajoharie village, skeletons have been found in a sitting posture, with hatchets, arrow heads, beads and other articles used by the Indians. In excavating for clay to line the Erie Canal, among other articles found was a gold cross about two inches in length. As the skeleton found in connection with this appeared to have been buried in a horizontal position, it was supposed to be that of a Jesuit missionary. The lands adjacent to the village were occupied by a small tribe of Indians belonging to the Mohawks, and called Canajoharie Tribe. Most of the flats were cleared when first discovered by the whites, and were cultivated with corn, beans and squash. The hills abounded in apple trees.

The first grist mill in this town stood east of the creek, near where the present mill dam is located. It was owned by a man named Scrambling. The next one was built by Col. Hendrick Frey, who owned a large tract of land extending to Frey's Bush. He was postmaster and lived at this mill site. On the lot now owned by Charles W. Knox was a house occupied during the Revolution as a fort, and in which the Committee of Safety of Tryon County held their meetings. In 1795 Archibald and James Kane established themselves as merchants at this place, and for many years were the principal merchants in this part of the State. Their early trade consisted largely of potash, grain and furs, for which they exchanged dry goods, groceries, &c. In 1799 their purchases of potash and wheat amounted to $120,000. They had a small canal cut from the river to their store to admit the passage of flat boats.

The story of the "Yankee Pass," so often told, is too good to be lost, and is in substance as follows: Judge Henry Staring, a magistrate of Herkimer County, saw a man coming from the west on horse-back one Sunday morning, and as traveling that day was a violation of the statutes of the State except in certain cases, the Judge called the traveler to an account. Not receiving any satisfactory excuse for his conduct, the Judge fined him six York shillings. After paying the fine, the traveler, who was a New England Yankee, asked for a pass, that he might not be called to account by other magistrates. The Judge could not refuse a request so very reasonable and told the traveler to write one and he would sign it. This being done, the stranger proceeded on his way. A few months after this the Judge visited the store of Messrs. Kane and was requested to pay an order of twenty-five dollars that he had previously drawn on them. Being very much surprised at this he at first denied having given the order, but the signature was in his own handwriting and could not be denied. Upon further inquiry with reference to the person who presented the order, the Judge came to the conclusion that it was the Yankee Pass, that he had signed without reading.

The village was at first called Roofville, from Martin Roof, the postmaster, who kept a drug and book store near the present bridge. John Roof purchased the farm of Scrambling, who built the first mill and a stone house where the Eldredge House now stands. A hotel was kept in this house for many years, and it was a rendezvous for recruits in the war of 1812-15. The first physician who settled in the town was Dr. Eights, who afterwards went to Albany. Drs. John Atwater and Libbeus Doty afterwards opened offices in the village.

Among the early settlers, whose names are remembered by some still living, are Rev. Jonas Gross, Col. Yates, John Seeber, Conrad Seeber, General John Keyes, Capt. Roger Mills, Ebenezer Hillard, Frederick Mills, Charles Powell, Noah Dodge, Col. Elisha Daniels, Dr. Simeon Marcy, Abijah White, Joseph Jessup, Deacon Kimball, Rev. George Elliot, Gideon Elliott, John St. John, Elisha Taylor, James Knox and Jacob Ehle. Gen. Keyes, Capt. Mills and Ebenezer Hibbard purchased one thousand acres of land where the village of Ames is now situated, at three shillings per acre. At that time there was no clearing on the land except at a place known as Taylor Hill. Taylor had cleared about fifty acres and made other improvements, having some twenty years previously purchased of a Squatter. These new purchasers came on and endeavored to expel him by force, but not being disposed to be ejected in that way they finally bought him off.

Jacob Ehle and James Knox settled near Mapleton, in 1791, on the farm now occupied by Aaron Ehle. They paid $2.62 an acre for their land. John White, born in the town in 1785, is the oldest person now living in the town who was born there. Benjamin Button settled just after the close of the Revolution, on the farm now occupied by Amos Button. He was a soldier in the war. Thomas Conklin settled where William D. Watson now lives, and kept a store there for forty years. Samuel Tillotson settled in Ames in 1781; Esquire Hill, a soldier of the Revolution, settled where S. Hill now lives; Adam Garlock, a Revolutionary soldier, was taken prisoner, afterwards settled where his grandsons Reuben and Adam now live. George Dunkle settled previous to the Revolution where Henry Dunkle now lives. He purchased four hundred acres of land, served in the army, was shot in the left eye, the ball coming out behind the left ear. He died in the town in 1845. Adam Flint settled before the Revolution, where Levi Flint now lives. Nicholas Van Alstyne settled east of the Round Top, was a Lieutenant in the war, drew a pension and finally died in town.

Among the interesting trials that have taken place in this County was one that occurred in 1828. Henry Garlock brought an action for trespass against Henry J. Failing to recover the value of his negro slave, Jack, who, it was alleged, the defendant had wrongfully and maliciously killed. Garlock had a deed of the negro, the consideration being $350. Failing admitted killing the negro but that it was through a mistake. The circumstances as they were proved in Court were as follows: On the night of the homicide the negroes had a gathering near the river below Dutchtown, became intoxicated and broke up at a late hour. Jack and one of his companions started for home, on the road passing defendant's house. During the night a black man called at Failing's house saying that he had seen a bear a short distance from the house. Failing took his rifle and, accompanied by his dog, started in search of the bear, which he soon discovered sitting upon his haunches about ten rods distant. The dog refused to advance, and Failing could see by the dim starlight the eyes of the bear. Taking good aim between the eyes he fired. A terrible groan, a struggle and all was still. A light was procured, and on proceeding to the spot there lay Jack, stone dead. It appeared that the negro had taken a keg from a trough where it had been placed to soak, and seated himself upon it in the middle of the road, with his back towards Failing, who mistook the bright buttons upon his coat for the eyes of a bear. Eminent counsel were employed on both sides, and the result was a verdict for the plaintiff for $250.

In 1798 a duel was fought between Barney Roseboom and Archibald Kane. The affair had its origin at the gaming table. The parties were the two combatants and Henry Frey Cox. During the playing Kane became indebted to Roseboom for $100, and Cox to Kane for the same amount. Kane proposed to cancel his indebtedness by a transfer of the obligation of Cox to Roseboom. This Roseboom refused to accept, and Kane, considering himself insulted, challenged him to mortal combat. The duel was fought upon the hill near Kane's dwelling, and the weapons used "horse pistols." Kane was wounded in the arm at the first fire. The combatants then made up and became warm friends afterwards.

Among the early incidents related is the following account of a marriage in which Esquire Bowman officiated. While working in his hay field a couple came to his house on horseback to be married. The party were sent to the hay field where they found the Esquire upon a load of hay. Wishing to dispatch the business with as little trouble as possible he requested the parties to join hands. He then said, "Hans, you dake dis voman to be your wife?" "Ya," replied the expectant groom. "Lisbet, you dake dis Hans to be your husbant?" "Ya, ich will." "Den

I make you one vlesh and one peepe. Now vat man has put togedder let not Got put asunder." Thus ended this marriage ceremony.

The population of the town in 1865 was 4,248, and the area 24,764 acres.

CHARLESTON was formed from the old town of Mohawk, March 12, 1793. The remaining part of Mohawk was organized as Florida, and the original town abolished. Glen and a part of Root were taken off in 1823. It lies upon the south border of the County and is the only town that does not border on the Mohawk. It occupies a portion of the high plateau region immediately west of Schoharie Creek, and the greater part of the surface is an undulating upland. On the east it descends in steep declivities to the valley of the creek, at this place, a narrow ravine. The streams are small. The soil is a fertile loam, mixed with clay, and is especially adapted to spring grains and dairying. The town has some manufactures, consisting chiefly of sash and blinds, woolen goods and flour.

Burtonville, (p. v.) in the south part of the town, on Schoharie Creek, contains two churches, two hotels, two stores, a woolen factory, a grist mill, a saw mill, a sash and blind factory, two carriage shops, three blacksmith shops and 36 dwellings.

The Woolen Mill of A. G. Randall runs one set of cards and 240 spindles.

The Flouring Mill of C. M. Satterly contains five runs of stones and grinds about 50,000 bushels annually.

The Christian Church at Burtonville was organized December 23, 1865, with 18 members, and now numbers 60.

The Methodist Church was organized in 1857 and now numbers 90 members.

The village received its name from Judah Burton, the first settler.

Charleston Four Corners, (p. v.) in the south-west part of the town, contains a church, a hotel, a store, a cabinet shop, a blacksmith shop, a carriage shop, a cooper shop, two hay hoop manufactories and twenty-nine dwellings.

Charleston (p. v.) contains a church, a hotel, a store, a tannery, a blacksmith shop, two shoe shops and nine dwellings.

Oak Ridge contains about a dozen dwellings.

The Christian Church of Charleston Four Corners was organized in 1813, with twelve members, and now has over 200.

The Cheese Factory at the same place uses the milk of 350 cows and makes about 100,000 pounds of cheese annually.

The Baptist Church at Charleston was organized in 1793, and now has 80 members. Elijah Herrick was the first pastor.

A portion of this town was included in Corry's Patent, a tract of 25,000 acres granted to William Corry and others in 1637; and other parts were included in the Stone Heap Patent, granted to John Bowen and others in 1770; and Thomas Machin's Patent of 1787.

The first settlements were made previous to the Revolution. Among the early settlers were Robert Winchell, Nathan Tracy, Aden Brownley, Abia Beaman, Henry Mapes, Abner Throop, David and Nathan Kimball, Thomas Machin, Captain John Stanton, John Eddy and Ezekiel Tracy.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,687, and its area 26,326 acres.

FLORIDA was formed from Mohawk, March 12, 1793. It lies in the east part of the County, south of the Mohawk. The surface is chiefly a rolling upland, 600 feet above the valley. Bean Hill, in the south-west part of the town, is the highest land in the County. Most of the declivities bordering on the streams are steep. The principal streams are Chuctenunda and Cowillaga Creeks. The soil is a clayey loam and well adapted to dairying. Several sulphur springs are found in the town, the most noted of which is at Scotch Bush. The Erie Canal crosses the Schoharie Creek between this town and Glen on a costly aqueduct. Broom-corn is one of the principal products, and brooms are extensively manufactured.

Port Jackson (p. v.) is situated on the Mohawk and the Erie Canal, opposite Amsterdam, and contains a church, a hotel, a foundry and machine shop, a saw mill, a broom factory, a dry dock, a tannery, several stores and mechanic shops and about 400 inhabitants.

Minaville, (p. v.) on Chuctenunda Creek, near the center of the town, contains two churches, viz: Methodist and Reformed; a hotel, two stores, a grist mill with two runs of stones, a saw mill, a fanning mill manufactory, two wagon shops and about 200 inhabitants.

The Reformed Church of Minaville was reorganized by a consolidation of the old Reformed Dutch Church and the Remson's Bush Society, and the new church edifice erected on the present site in 1808. The number of members at the reorganization was 20; the present number is 140. The old Reformed Dutch Society was organized about the year 1784.

The Methodist Church edifice was erected in 1836. The society was organized several years previous to that, and now numbers about 60 members.

Fort Hunter, (p. v.) at the mouth of Schoharie Creek, and containing a church, is a hamlet.

Wellsville Mills are located on Schoharie Creek, about six miles south of Fort Hunter. The mill contains one run of stones and one upright saw.

Stewart's Paper Mill is about a mile above the preceding. This is a new enterprise and is not yet in operation.

The Empire Cheese Factory of Alfred Peck is at Miller's Corners, near the south line of the town, and makes about 150,000 pounds of cheese annually.

Florida Cheese Factory, near Minaville, is leased by Mr. Peck and makes about 170,000 pounds annually.

Devendorf's Cheese Factory, about three miles south of Fort Hunter, makes about 113,000 pounds of cheese annually.

Mickle's Saw Mill, about one mile south of Scotch Bush, runs one upright saw.

Scotch Church is a hamlet situated chiefly in Schenectady County. The Church from which the hamlet was named is in Florida. The Associate Church was organized about the close of the last century, and a house of worship was erected about the same time. It was rebuilt in 1846, and in 1858 it became known as the United Presbyterian Church. The number of members is about 125.

Scotch Bush, (p. v.) situated on the Chuctenunda Creek, about six miles south of Port Jackson, contains a hotel, a store, a shoe shop, a wagon shop, a blacksmith shop, a cider and vinegar factory and about 100 inhabitants. About 600 barrels of cider and 100 of vinegar are made annually. Near the village is a sulphur spring, known as the "Powder Spring," which has obtained some notoriety for its medicinal qualities. Considering the accommodations afforded to visitors, it has been quite a resort in former years. The prospect now is that it will pass into the hands of those who will provide first-class accommodation and make it a delightful summer resort. The place received its name from the fact that it was originally settled by the Scotch.

The first white settlement in the County is supposed to have been made in this town. Fort Hunter was built in 1711. The contracts for this and one at Oswego were taken by Garret Symouce, Barent and Hendrick Vroman, John Wemp and Arent Van Petten, of Schenectady. The walls at first were twelve feet high and inclosed a space 150 feet square. It was afterwards enlarged and strengthened. Within the inclosure was an edifice called Queen Anne's Chapel, to which was attached a parsonage built of stone. This chapel was for a long time under the charge of the "Society for propagating the Gospel in Foreign Parts," and a missionary and Indian school were supported here. The chapel was demolished in 1820 to make room for the canal. The parsonage was sold several years ago for $1,500 and the proceeds were divided between the Episcopal churches of Port Jackson and Johnstown. Soon after the erection of the chapel it was furnished with a valuable set of communion plate by Queen Anne. The Fort was garrisoned until after the French War, when it was abandoned. During the Revolution the chapel was inclosed by palisades and converted into a fort, defended by cannon.

One of the Mohawk castles was located at this place. During the raid of Sir John Johnson, in October, 1780, all the buildings in this vicinity were burned and all the stacks of hay and grain except a few known to belong to Tories. The Whigs, exasperated at the destruction of their own property, set fire to that of the Tories, and the whole region was one of complete desolation.

Several newly arrived German immigrants settled in the town before the close of the war, and they were soon followed by Scotch and Irish families. The first store at Port Jackson was kept by William Bent. The first bridge of any importance over Schoharie Creek was built in 1796, by Major Isaiah DePuy. The route south of the Mohawk was the principal thoroughfare through this County for a good many years. An Indian school was taught at Fort Hunter as early as 1769. The first preacher after the war was Rev. Thomas Romeyn, of the Reformed Dutch Church, in 1784.

The Reformed Church of Port Jackson was organized September 8, 1850. Its first officers were John Freyre, Don C. Bent and Cornelius Phillips, elders; William McClumpha and Frederick Vedder, deacons. The Consistory of the Church comprised all its members at the first communion. At the second the number had increased to 25. The first pastor was Rev. G. L. Roof, who was succeeded in 1855 by Rev. C. Gates. After serving the Church one year he was succeeded by Rev. I. G. Duryea, who labored successfully until the outbreak of the Rebellion, when he resigned to accept the position of chaplain in the army. In July, 1863, Rev. H. M. Voorhees accepted a call to this Church, and labored as its pastor eighteen months. In May, 1865, Rev. A. M. Quick, the present pastor, was ordained and installed as its pastor. The present membership is 102.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,835, and its area 31,167 acres.

GLEN, named in honor of Jacob S. Glen, a prominent citizen of the town, was formed from Charleston, April 10, 1823. It lies on the south bank of the Mohawk and west of Schoharie Creek. Its surface is chiefly uplands about 600 feet high, descending by abrupt declivities to the narrow intervalles along the streams. The principal streams are Auries Creek, which flows into the Mohawk, and Irish Creek, flowing into the Schoharie. The first named is the Dutch for Aaron's Creek, and received its name from an Indian in the vicinity. The Indian name was Ogh-rack-ie. The soil is a clayey loam, for the most part, and very productive. One mile east of Voorheesville is a chalybeate spring. Attempts have been made to obtain iron but without success. Upon Schoharie Creek, about two miles above its mouth, is a high bank formed by a land slide and called by the Indians, Co-daugh-ri-ty, signifying "Steep Bank," or "Perpendicular Wall."

Fultonville, (p. v.) named in honor of Robert Fulton, is located on the Mohawk River and the Erie Canal, adjoining the corporate limits of Florida. It was incorporated in 1846 and contains two churches, viz., Methodist and Reformed; two hotels, a union school, a steam flouring, planing and plaster mill, two steam saw mills, a steam sash and blind factory, a grain elevator, a furnace and machine shop, several other manufactories of various kinds and about 1,300 inhabitants. John W. Wilson is the president of the village.

The Methodist Church at Fultonville was organized in 1855 with twelve members. N. G. Spaulding was the first pastor. The church edifice was erected the same year, at a cost of $6,000. The number of members at present is 40. E. Baker is the pastor.

Glen, (p. v.) located near the center of the town, contains two churches, a hotel, a store, a tannery, a wagon shop, a cheese factory, making 144,000 pounds annually; two blacksmith shops and about 125 inhabitants.

The Reformed Church of Glen was organized at an early day and the church edifice erected in 1795. A new edifice is about to be erected at a cost of $12,000. The present membership is 99; the pastor is Rev. F. V. Van Vranken.

Auriesville, (p. v.) near the mouth of Auries Creek, is a canal village and contains about 200 inhabitants.

Van Epp's Cheese Factory, located about three-fourths of a mile west of Fultonville, makes about 50,000 pounds of cheese annually.

Mill Point is a hamlet on Schoharie Creek, in the south-east part of the town, and contains a hotel, a store, a grist mill, a saw mill and a broom factory.

The Union Star Grist Mill of James J. Faulkner is a framed building, nearly new, has three runs of stones and a capacity for grinding 800 bushels per day.

The land bordering upon the river was granted in ten patents to different persons from 1722 to 1726, and most of the remainder was granted to James De Lancey in 1737. Peter Quackenboss settled on Scott's Patent, near Auries Creek, soon after it was secured, and was probably the first white inhabitant of the town. About 1740 sixteen Irish families, under the patronage of Sir William Johnson, settled on Corry's Patent, a few miles south-west of Fort Hunter. After making improvements to some extent, they finally returned to Ireland in consequence of threatened disturbances by the Indians. A son of the first settler married Annie, daughter of Captain John Scott, the patentee, and settled about a mile east of Fultonville, on what was formerly the County poor farm. Their son John, born about 1725, was the first white child born on the south side of the Mohawk, between Fort Hunter and German Flats. Cornelius Putnam settled at Codaughrity, Richard Hoff one mile west of Glen, Nicholas Gardiner and John Van Epps on the Mohawk, and Charles Van Epps at Fultonville. A small block house was erected here near the close of the Revolution.

The first school was taught at the house of J. S. Quackenboss by a man by the name of Hazard. William Quackenboss kept the first inn at Auriesville, in 1797, and Myndert Starin kept one at Fultonville at an earlier date. The first store at Glen was kept by John Smith, in 1797, and one was kept on the Mohawk, east of Fultonville, by Isaac Quackenboss. Peter and Simon Mabie built a saw mill and carding machine in 1797, and Peter Quackenboss a grist mill, on Auries Creek, soon after.

This town was the scene of many interesting incidents during the Revolutionary war. It furnished its full proportion of victims for the Oriskany battle and for the Indian incursions during that long and bloody struggle for Independence. In the fall of 1779 a noted Tory by the name of George Cuck, who had frequently led parties of Indians in their incursions upon the homes of his old neighbors, was seen lurking about and was fired upon at one time and narrowly escaped death. It was supposed that he had returned to Canada, but towards spring it became known that he was concealed at the house of John Van Zuyler, a relative and brother Tory. A party surrounded the house, dragged Cuck from his hiding place and shot him, and arrested Van Zuyler and sent him to Albany a prisoner. In the fall of 1780 the whole settlement was ravaged and many of the people were murdered. On one occasion Isaac Quackenboss was out hunting and discovered three Indians sitting on a log. He fired, killing two and mortally wounding the third. The last council between the Indians and Americans held in this County previous to the Revolution, was in October, 1775, about two miles east of Fultonville.

The first church (Ref. Prot. Dutch) was formed at Glen; Rev. Henry V. Wyckoff was the first pastor.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,737, and its area 21,273 acres.

MINDEN was formed from Canajoharie, March 2, 1798. Danube, Herkimer Co., was taken off in 1817. It lies upon the south bank of the Mohawk and is the most western town in the County. Its surface is principally an undulating upland, with steep declivities bordering upon the streams, the chief of which are the Otsquaga, and its tributary the Otsquene. Prospect Hill, called by the Indians, Ta-ra-jo-rhies which is said to signify "Hill of Health," or "Fort on a Hill," lies upon the Otsquaga, opposite Fort Plain. The soil is a fine quality of gravelly and clayey loam and is especially adapted to grazing. The dairy products of this town are very large, surpassing those of any other town in the County.

Fort Plain, (p. v.) incorporated April 5, 1832, is situated on the Mohawk River and Erie Canal, about sixty miles from Albany. A bridge across the Mohawk connects it with the N. Y. C. R. R. It contains many wealthy citizens and more fine residences than any other place of the same size in this vicinity. It has four churches, viz., Methodist, Universalist, Dutch and Dutch Reformed; a commercial college, a very extensive steel spring and axle manufactory, a printing office, various mills and manufactories, and about 2,500 inhabitants. It received its name from "Fort Plain," a block house formerly situated on the hill a little west of the village.

Mindenville, (p. v.) on the canal in the west part of the town, contains a hotel, a store, a shoe shop, a blacksmith shop and about 25 dwellings.

Ford's Bush (Minden p. o.) is in the extreme west part of the town, about eight miles from Fort Plain, and contains two churches, viz: Universalist and Lutheran, a store, a blacksmith shop, a wagon shop, a school and about twenty dwellings. There is a fine cemetery belonging to the village.

Frey's Bush, (p. o.) about two miles south of Fort Plain, contains a cheese factory, two blacksmith shops, a shoe shop and about a dozen houses. It received its name from John Frey, a lawyer and leading patriot, who resided here during the Revolution.

Hallsville, (p. o.) about four and a half miles west from Fort Plain, on Otsquaga Creek and the Cooperstown gravel road, contains a sawmill, a gristmill, a blacksmith shop and about a dozen dwellings.

Hessville is a hamlet about five miles south of Fort Plain.

In this town are found the remains of one of those ancient fortifications which are so common in Central and Western New York, and throughout the Western States, indicating that it was inhabited long prior to the advent of the Indians. These mounds are the most easterly of any of the kind yet discovered. They are about four miles south of Fort Plain, on a tongue of land formed by the valleys of Otsquaga Creek and one of its tributaries. This tongue is one hundred feet above the streams, and the declivities are very steep. Across the tongue, at its narrowest part, is a curved line of breastworks, 240 feet in length, inclosing an area of about seven acres. A gigantic pine, six feet in diameter, stood upon one end of the embankment, showing that the work must have been of great antiquity. During the Revolutionary war a fort was erected upon the high plain, near the site of the present village. Though a sort of defense was erected in the early part of the war, the Fort proper was not erected until 1778. Its form was that of an irregular quadrangle, with earth and log bastions, embrasures at each corner, and barracks and a strong block-house within. The block-house was erected in 1780 under the supervision of a French engineer, employed by Col. Gansevoort. It was octagonal in form, three stories high and constructed of hewn timbers fifteen inches square. The first story was thirty feet in diameter, the second forty, and the third fifty, each story projecting five feet over the next lower. In the first story three or four cannon were placed and all were provided with port-holes for musketry. In the floor of each projection were port-holes for firing upon an enemy below. There was a stockade about two miles southwest of Fort Plain, called Fort Clyde, in honor of Col. Clyde of the Tryon County Militia; it was on land now owned by H. G. Nellis & Sons. Another was situated about the same distance north-west, called Fort Plank, or Blank, as it stood upon land owned by Frederick Blank. The latter and Fort Plain have been confounded.

In August, 1780, Brant with about 500 Tories and Indians made an attack upon the settlement while most of the troops under Col. Gansevoort were absent guarding provisions which were on their way to supply Fort Schuyler. Taking advantage of this, Brant made a circuit through the woods, reached their rear and fell upon the Fort. On their approach a cannon was fired from the Fort by a woman, women and children being the principal occupants. In their approach they burned every barn and dwelling, destroyed the crops and carried off everything valuable. The house of Johannes Lipe was saved from plunder and fire by the coolness and courage of his wife. She had been busy carrying her most valuable articles from her house to a place of concealment and had made several deposits there. The last time she returned, she met at the gate two Indians. Being familiar with their language, she inquired if they knew anything of her two brothers who were among the Tories that fled to Canada. Fortunately the Indians had seen them, and supposing her to be a Tory they walked off and the house was saved. The church was burned, and a brass ball upon the spire attracted the eager gaze of the savages, who supposed that it was gold. When it fell they rushed for the prize, scattered the burning timbers and seized the glittering ball, but soon learned at the cost of blistered hands that "all is not gold that glitters." In a letter to Gov. Clinton, dated August 6th, 1770, Col. Clyde gives the following account of the devastation. "On the second day of this inst. Joseph Brant, at the head of about four or five hundred Indians and Tories, broke in upon the settlements, and laid the best part of the district in ashes, and killed sixteen of the inhabitants, that we have found, took between fifty and sixty prisoners, mostly women and children, twelve of whom have been sent back. They have killed and driven away with them upwards of three hundred head of cattle and horses; have burnt fifty-three dwelling houses, besides some out-houses and as many barns; one very elegant church, and gristmill and two small forts that the women fled out of. They have burned all the inhabitants' weapons and implements of husbandry, so that they are left in a miserable condition. They have nothing left to support themselves but what grain they have growing, and that they cannot save for want of tools to work with, and very few to be got here."

Among the incidents of this incursion, the following is related by Mrs. Dunckel, mother of John P. Dunckel, who now resides at Frey's Bush, near the site of Fort Clyde. Peter Dunckel, the grandfather of Mrs. D., came from Germany in 1766 and settled where his descendants now reside. Two uncles of Mrs. D., Peter and Franz, were splitting timber for a wagon, about half a mile from the block house, when suddenly the Indians fired upon them and rushed forward with uplifted tomahawks to complete the massacre. Peter was wounded and captured, but Franz, unharmed, started for the Fort, which he reached in safety, but fell exhausted at the entrance and was dragged in by the inmates. The women of the Fort, by their energetic defense, deceived the attacking party and they withdrew. Peter D. was taken to Canada, where, after a year's captivity, he was exchanged. A Mrs. Pletts was taken at the same time. Her house was near the Fort, and while seated under a tree near by, she was surprised by the approach of the Indians and ran, pursued by a single savage. Being closely pursued she endeavored to escape by running around a tree, but the Indian stopped and she ran into his open arms. She was taken to Canada and treated quite well; was assigned to the duty of cook for her captors. She returned at the close of the war, and after the death of her husband, married Peter Dunckel, her fellow captive. When taken prisoner she left a baby six months old, which was overlooked by the Indians. In one of Brant's incursions into the Mohawk Valley, he came down through what is known as Dutch Town, in Minden, and with torch and tomahawk laid waste the country. After an attack upon Fort Nellis, a block house near St. Johnsville, they crossed over to Fort Willett, a block house built by the Lipes, Countrymans and Windeckers, on land now owned by William Timerman. An old tree near the residence of D. T. Timerman is pointed out as the spot where the wife of Dr. Frame was killed. Their house was back of Timerman's and would probably have been passed by unseen, but Mrs. F. hearing the yells of the savages, started for the Fort; she was discovered, tomahawked and scalped. At the stone house of Henry Seeber, on Sand Hill, above Fort Plain, a boy, John A. Lipe, was doing picket duty. When the alarm was given, the women fled to the Fort, followed by the men, who were at work in the field. Dinner was already prepared and upon the table ready for the laborers; this the enemy disposed of and then set fire to the house. The wood work was burned out and the walls remained until purchased by Mr. Lipe, who rebuilt it. In 1848 it was taken down to make way for the house now occupied by Mr. Adam Lipe.

The early settlers of this town were Germans, among whom were the Devendorf, Wagoner and Gros families, Andrew Keller and Henry H. Smith. John Abeel, an Indian trader, settled here in 1748. In his previous intercourse with the Indians, Abeel had married the daughter of a Seneca chief, after the Indian fashion, and the offspring of this marriage was the famous chief, Cornplanter. Abeel afterwards married a white woman, and at the commencement of the war was living on his farm. During the incursion of 1780 he was taken prisoner, and while expecting death at the hands of the Indians, Cornplanter addressed him as father and assured him of his safety. He was given his choice to accompany the Indians under the protection of his son or return to his white family. He chose the latter. After the war, Cornplanter visited him and was received by his Fort Plain relatives with all the civilities due to his rank and his manly bearing.

Henry Hayes, a German, kept the first school in the town; Isaac Countryman built the first grist mill after the war, and Isaac Paris kept the first store about the same time.

The population of the town in 1865 was 4,637, and its area 29,458 acres.

MOHAWK was formed from Johnstown, April 4, 1837. It lies upon the north bank of the Mohawk River and near the center of the north border of the County. The surface is uneven and gradually rises from the river to the north line of the town, where it attains an elevation of about 400 feet above the valley. The principal streams are Cayadutta and Dadenoscara Creeks. The soil generally is a good quality of gravelly loam.

Fonda, (p. v.) named in honor of Douw Fonda, who settled here in 1751, is pleasantly situated on the Mohawk River and N. Y. C. R. R. It is the County Seat and contains besides the County buildings, three churches, viz., Reformed, Methodist and Episcopal; four hotels, two flouring mills, a bank, a newspaper printing office, several other manufactories of various kinds and about 1,800 inhabitants. The principal business street was paved during the last season.

The Cayadutta Mill has a capacity for grinding 150 barrels of flour daily, and the Empire State Mill 700 bushels of corn daily. A plaster mill and saw mill are owned by the same parties, G. F. Mills & Co.

Zion Episcopal Church of Fonda is a stone structure in the gothic style of architecture. It was consecrated by Rt. Rev. Wm. C. Doane, D. D., May 29, 1869. It will seat about 200 persons and cost between $5,000 and $6,000. Rev. R. T. Howard is the present pastor.

The Methodist Church was organized in 1842 with seven members, under the pastoral charge of T. W. Pearson. The church edifice was erected in 1844 at a cost of $4,000. The present membership is 116, and the present pastor, P. P. Harrower.

Tribes Hill, (p. v.) on the border of Amsterdam, is partly in this town and contains about 400 inhabitants.

A Fair Ground of fifteen acres is located a short distance east of Fonda.

The Saw Mill and Cheese Box Factory of Thomas S. Sammons are located on the north border of the town, on Cayadutta Creek.

Mohawk Cheese Factory is located about five miles west of Fonda, and makes about 100,000 pounds annually.

Mohawk Valley Cheese Factory, about two miles west of Fonda, makes about 80,000 pounds annually; and Sweetzer Hill Factory about 100,000 pounds.

The site of the present village of Fonda was called Caughnawaga by the Indians, a name signifying "Stone in the Water," or "At the Rapids." It was one of the favorite resorts of the Mohawks. It was the scene of some of the earliest labors of the French Jesuits among the Five Nations, two of whom lost their lives here in 1646. The names of the first white settlers are not known. Patents of one thousand acres each, on the Mohawk, were granted to Nicholas Hausen and his brother Hendrick, July 12, 1713. Nicholas Hausen settled at Tribes Hill previous to 1725, and others by the name of Fonda, Vanderworker, Doxtader and Fisher, settled at an early day. Among other residents of the town before the Revolution were Col. John Butler and his son, Walter N. Butler, who gained an infamous notoriety by their inhuman atrocities inflicted upon their old whig neighbors. The "Butler Place," where these infamous Tories resided, was about a mile north-east of Fonda, on an open eminence overlooking the Mohawk, and now owned by Mr. Wilson. Alexander White, Colonial Sheriff of Tryon County, resided on the present site of the Court House. He was a zealous Tory and was obliged to flee to Canada. He was succeeded by John Frey, appointed by the Provincial Congress.

The incursion of Sir John Johnson, in May, 1780, fell chiefly on the settlements of Tribes Hill and Caughnawaga. The detachment against Tribes Hill was led by Henry and Wm. Bowen, who had lived in the vicinity. The principal object of the incursion was to obtain the silver plate and other valuables which Sir John was obliged to leave on his hasty retreat from Johnson Hall in 1776. The enemy proceeded to the house of Garret Putnam, a staunch Whig. Unknown to the invaders, he had rented his house to two Tories, named Gort and Platto. The assailants broke into the house in the night, scalped the two men and did not learn of their mistake until daylight, supposing that they had killed Putnam and his son instead of two of their own friends. From this point they proceeded up the river, plundering and burning the buildings and murdering their old friends and neighbors. Several slaves and white male prisoners were taken to Canada. The women were not generally molested on this occasion.

The enemy met a warm reception at the house of Col. Fred. Fisher. The Colonel's wife and children had been sent to Schenectady for safety, and his two sisters and an old negro fled to the woods and escaped on the first alarm, leaving the Colonel, his mother and two brothers, John and Harmon. The Indians made a desperate attack upon the house and the inmates responded by a constant fire, until their ammunition gave out. They then all retreated to the chamber except John, who stationed himself in the stairway and defended it with a hatchet until he had killed seven Indians. He then retreated above and, slipping upon some peas which lay upon the floor, he fell and was dispatched with a tomahawk. Harmon leaped from the window to put out the fire that had been applied to the roof, and while standing on the fence was shot dead. The mother was knocked down with the breech of a gun and left for dead. The Colonel was also knocked down by a tomahawk, dragged down stairs by his hair and thrown upon the ground, when an Indian leaped upon him and drew a knife across his throat, cutting it from ear to ear, as was supposed, then cutting around the scalp, seized it with his teeth and tore it from the head, then giving him a blow upon the shoulder with a hatchet, he fled. The Colonel had retained his senses through all this mangling, and his throat, protected by a leather belt worn inside of his cravat, was only slightly wounded. As soon as the Indians disappeared, he arose, went up stairs and brought down his mother, placed her in a chair and leaned her against the fence, then brought down the body of his brother John and laid it on the grass. By this time he became so much exhausted from the loss of blood and the wounds that he had received, that he lay down to die, as he supposed. The old negro and the girls returned in a short time and found the house burned and the dead and wounded as described. By signs, the Colonel made known his desire for water, which was brought, and his head bathed, and after drinking a little, his speech was restored. A Tory named Clement passing by, the negro asked him what he should do. The reply in German was, "Let the rebel die." The negro, following the directions of the Colonel, caught some colts which had never been broken, harnessed them to the wagon and took him to the house of Putnam, at Tribe's Hill. From this place the whole family, including the bodies of his brothers, were conveyed to Schenectady in a canoe, arriving about sunset. Here for the first time he had his wounds dressed. After five years of suffering he nearly recovered from the effects of his wounds. He erected a new house on the site of the old one, and lived twenty-nine years after receiving his wounds, holding the office of First Judge of the County for several years. His mother also recovered from her wounds and lived with him. After the close of the war, the Indian who scalped him returned to the settlement and stopped at a tavern kept by a Tory at Tribes Hill. The wife of the landlord sent word to the house of Col. Fisher that the Indian was there and would soon call at his house. The family, knowing that the Colonel had sworn revenge on the Indian, and not wishing further bloodshed, kept the news from him. As they were all in the front room about the time the Indian was expected, they upset a pot of lye and requested the Colonel to go into the back room until it should be cleaned up. The Indian came to the door soon after and was met by the old lady who addressed him in the Indian language, told him her son's intentions and pointed to a gun which was always loaded in readiness for him. The Indian listened, gave a grunt and ran away with all possible speed.

In the fall of 1780, Sir John made another incursion and destroyed what was left at the previous one and all that had been rebuilt.

The first birth north of the river, of which there is any record, was that of Henry Hausen. A man by the name of Collins taught the first school, in 1774. Jellis Fonda is said to have been the first merchant west of Schenectady. He carried on an extensive trade with the whites at Forts Schuyler and Stanwix, and the forts at Oswego, Niagara and Schlosser. His sales consisted chiefly of blankets, trinkets, ammunition and rum, and his purchases consisted of peltries, ginseng and potash. At one time, previous to the Revolution, his ledger showed an indebtedness of $10,000 in the Indian country.

John Chaley was an early settler at Tribes Hill. Douw Fonda was living at the time of the Revolution on the flat between the turnpike and river, a short distance east of the road leading to the bridge. Here on the 22d of May, 1780, he was murdered by the Indians under Sir John Johnson. He was eighty-four years old and had been on the most friendly terms with Sir William Johnson and had greatly aided him at the time of his settlement. His three sons, John, Jellis and Adam, were staunch Whigs and resided in the neighborhood.

In the spring of 1775, after the Tories of Johnstown had made a demonstration against the authority of the Continental Congress, and had obtained signatures to a declaration disapproving of its acts, the Whigs, who composed a majority of the white population, became greatly aroused and held public meetings in every district in the County. The first was held at the house of John Veeder, in Caughnawaga, where patriotic speeches were made and a liberty pole was erected, which was a most offensive object in the eyes of loyalists. Before the whole was accomplished, Sir John Johnson, Col. Claus, Guy Johnson, Col. Butler and a large number of their adherents, arrived upon the ground, armed with swords and pistols, and interrupted the proceedings. Guy Johnson mounted a high stoop, near the old church, and harangued the people, expatiating upon the strength of the King and Government, and the folly of opposing the authority of the Crown. He denounced the proceedings of the people in the most virulent and irritating language, becoming so offensive that Jacob Sammons, a staunch Whig and a leader among them, boldly denounced him as a liar and a villain. This was too much for the irate Tory, and leaping from the high stoop upon which he stood, he seized Sammons by the throat, while another of the party felled the patriot to the ground by a blow from a loaded whip, and immediately bestrode him. Sammons recovered in a moment and, hurling the fellow from him, sprang to his feet, stripped off his coat and prepared for a fight, but was again knocked down. Most of his Whig friends had fled and he was carried to his father's house, "bearing upon his body the first scars of the Revolutionary contest in the County of Tryon."

At the commencement of the war there were four brothers of the Visschers, or Fishers, as they were afterwards called. A very bitter hostility existed against the family among the loyalists, caused by an unpleasant altercation between Sir John and Col. Frederick Fisher, which took place in the fall of 1775. Col. Fisher held his commission from the Colonial Congress and had ordered his regiment to parade for review on a plain near the ancient inn of Peggy Wemples, in Caughnawaga. While the parade was going on, Sir John Johnson and his lady drove along the river road. Seeing the regiment, he ordered his coachman to drive up to the parade ground, and on arriving asked the first person whom he met, who had called the assemblage together and for what purpose. The reply was that Col. Fisher had ordered his regiment to parade for review. Sir John then stepped up to the Colonel and repeated his question. On receiving an answer he ordered the regiment to disperse, but the Colonel ordered them to keep their ranks. Enraged at such presumption the Baronet raised a sword cane, with which he was armed, to strike the Colonel. The latter seized the weapon and in the scuffle the sword was drawn, the scabbard being in the hands of Fisher. Sir John threatened to run him through, and was coolly told to act his pleasure. The scabbard was given up at his request and he proceeded to his carriage and requested Lady Johnson to rise that he might take his pistols from the box. She remonstrated with him but to no purpose. Taking his pistols he again ordered the regiment to disperse for they were rebels, and at the same time threatening to shoot the Colonel if it was not done. "Use your pleasure," was again the cool reply of the Colonel. At this moment a young Irishman, a servant of the Colonel, stepped up and declared with an oath, "If ye offer to lift a hand or finger against my master I will blow you through." Not relishing such decided opposition Sir John returned to his carriage and drove away.

A church was erected at Caughnawaga in 1763. It was of stone and built by voluntary subscription, Sir William Johnson contributing liberally towards the enterprise. It had no bell until the confiscation of the property of Sir John Johnson, when his father's dinner bell, weighing over one hundred pounds, was purchased and placed in the steeple. It contained the following inscription, "S. R. William Johnson, bart, 1774. Made by Miller and Ross, Eliz. Town." In 1845 the edifice was fitted up as an academy, under the management of Rev. Douw Van Olinda, but the school was discontinued after a few years. The church was erected for the Reformed Protestant Dutch denomination, and its first pastor was Rev. Thomas Romeyn, who died in 1794 and was buried beneath the pulpit. He was succeeded by Rev. Abraham Van Horn, one of the earliest graduates of Kings [now Columbia] College, in New York city. He continued pastor for thirty-eight years. He died in 1840, having during his ministry united in matrimony 1500 couples. The present pastor is Rev. J. C. Boyd. The present house of worship was erected in 1843. During the last year it was removed to a new location, raised, so as to afford a basement for Sunday school and other purposes, and extensively repaired, at an expense of about $10,000. The present membership is about 115.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,948, and its area 19,112 acres.

PALATINE was formed as a district, by the name of "Stone Arabia," March 24, 1772, and its name was changed March 8, 1773. It was formed as a town March 7, 1788, and embraced all the territory between Little Falls and "The Noses," and extending from the Mohawk to Canada. Salisbury, (Herkimer Co.) was taken off in 1797, Stratford, (Fulton Co.) in 1805, Oppenheim, (Fulton Co.) in 1808, and Ephratah, (Fulton Co.) in 1827. It lies along the north bank of the Mohawk, west of the center of the County. The surface is chiefly an upland from 200 to 500 feet above the valley, broken by deep, narrow ravines and descending irregularly towards the river. The principal streams are the Kauadarauk, in the east part of the town, and the Garoga, in the west. The soil is fertile and well adapted to grazing. This is one of the greatest dairying towns in the County.

Stone Arabia, (p. o.) near the center of the town, contains two churches, a hotel and about a dozen dwellings.

Palatine Bridge, (p. v.) on the Mohawk and N. Y. C. R. R., contains about 300 inhabitants.

Nelliston, in the west part of the town, contains two stores, a hotel, a cheese factory and several mechanic shops.

Palatine Church, (p. o.) in the north-west part of the town, on Garoga Creek, near its mouth, is a hamlet.

The first settler in this town was the grandfather of Major John Frey, of Revolutionary fame. He came from Zurich, in Switzerland, in 1688, and the following year settled at Palatine Bridge, at what is now known as the "Frey Farm," and still owned by one of his decendants, Mr. S. L. Frey. The old stone house upon the farm was built in 1739. The German Palatinates who came over in 1710, and settled on the Hudson River, removed to the Mohawk Valley in 1713, and settled in this vicinity. The greater part of the Stone Arabia Patent was within the limits of this town. William Fox settled near Palatine Church, and Peter Waggoner a little below, on the Mohawk, in 1715. Mr. Waggoner settled on the farm now owned by J. H. Smith. He was a Colonel in the Revolutionary war, was in the battle at Oriskany, and afterwards drew a pension. George Waggoner was also in the Oriskany battle. George Fox settled where Abraham Fox now lives. Henry Shults, settled just after the Revolution, where his son Daniel now lives. He was taken prisoner at Oriskany, and carried to Canada, where he remained three years. After the war he drew a pension and died at the age of 99. Conradt Kiltz was born and raised where Albert Kiltz now lives; he was in the war, as was also George Saltsman, who settled where Henry Saltsman now lives. Sophrenus Wicks settled where James Bauder now lives. Leonard and Nellie Bauder were taken prisoners and kept a year. John Dillenback settled before the war, where Nancy Smith now lives; he was a captain in the army and afterwards drew a pension. John Sitterly was also a soldier and settled at the close of the war where Benjamin Sitterly now lives. Andrew Dillenback settled where J. A. Dillenback now lives; he was killed at Oriskany. Andrew Nellis settled in 1726, where M. L. Nellis now lives; he was wounded at Oriskany. George Kelly settled in 1784, where his son John now lives. Martin Nestle settled where Christopher now lives.

Most of the early settlers were in the service of their country during some portion of the struggle for Independence. Many of them gave their lives to the cause. During the raid of Sir John Johnson and his party, one of the severest battles was fought between Stone Arabia, in this town, and the river. A stockade called Fort Paris was erected at Stone Arabia, and another called Fort Keyzer, about a mile north. Major Jellis Fonda, a stanch Whig, had his residence in this town. He was absent at the time of Johnson's raid, attending the Legislature, then in session at Poughkeepsie. His buildings were burned and property to the amount of $60,000 destroyed. His wife escaped under cover of a thick fog, and went on foot to Schenectady.

Col. Brown, who was killed in the battle just noticed, was a native of Berkshire County, Mass., born Oct. 19, 1744, and graduated at Yale College in 1771. He was a lawyer by profession, but early in the war volunteered to serve his country. He was in several of the campaigns in Canada and along the eastern border of New York and Lake Champlain, and finally retired on account of his detestation of Arnold, under whom he served. Three years before the latter consummated his treason, Brown published a handbill in which he denounced him as an avaricious and unprincipled man, and closed by saying, "Money is this man's God and to get enough of it he would sacrifice his country." Col. Brown was serving in the militia at the time of his death. In 1836 a monument was erected to his memory by his son, Henry Brown, Esq., of Berkshire, Mass., near the place where he fell. The following is the inscription upon it: "In memory of Col. John Brown, who was killed in battle on the 19th day of October, 1780, at Palatine in the County of Montgomery. Æ. 36."

The following is a copy of a deed showing that slavery, that relic of barbarism, once existed in this State:

• "Know all men that Jacob Fox of Palatine (Yeoman) in consideration of two hundred and seventy-five dollars has sold and delivered unto George G. Eaker one certain negro man slave, named Harry, aged twenty-five years, to have and to hold the said Harry during his natural life. I Jacob Fox for myself heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, against any other person claiming said negro man, unto the said George G. Eaker and I shall and will forever warrant and defend by these presents. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this twentieth day of December one thousand eight hundred and three.

JACOB FOX. [Seal]."

"I Jacob Fox certify that the said negro man is sound.

Witness my hand.

JACOB FOX."

George G. Eaker, named in the foregoing deed, was formerly a Judge of Montgomery County.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,561, and its area 22,893 acres.

ROOT, named in honor of Erastus Root, of Delaware Co., was formed from Canajoharie and Charleston, January 27, 1823. It lies on the south bank of the Mohawk, near the center of the County. The hills that border on the river rise abruptly to a height of 630 feet, and from their summits the country spreads out into an undulating upland. The high hills just below Spraker's, on opposite sides of the river, are called "The Noses." The high ridge near the east border is known as "Stone Ridge." The principal streams are Yatesville, Fly, East and Flat Creeks. Mitchell's Cave, so called from the owner of the farm on which it is situated, is in the vicinity of The Noses, and consists of several apartments, with the roof hung with stalactites. The soil is a fine quality of gravelly loam.

Leatherville, or Rural Grove, (Root p. o.) is located in the central part of the town and contains two churches, viz., Methodist and Christian; a hotel, a store, a blacksmith shop, a wagon shop, a tin shop, three shoe shops, a saw mill, a feed mill, a cheese factory, a school house and about 100 inhabitants. The cheese factory is a fine wood building, has a capacity for using the milk of 800 cows and turns out 180,000 pounds of cheese annually. It is one of the best conducted factories in the County.

The following sketch of the village of Rural Grove has been furnished by a citizen of the town:

"Rural Grove, (Root p. o.) sometimes called Leatherville, is situated on the main thoroughfare from Canajoharie, Montgomery County, to Schoharie Court House, Schoharie County. It is five miles from Spraker's, on the Central Road, and eleven miles from Central Bridge, on the Albany and Susquehanna Road. It takes the name of Rural Grove, from a beautiful group of elms, just in the outskirts of the village, and was formerly, and is sometimes now called, Leatherville, from its former large manufactory of leather. It is one of the most important places in town. The surrounding country is very beautiful, having some of the finest and most fertile farms in this part of the County. The village is noted for the beauty and taste of its public buildings and private residences. The first building was erected in 1823, by Messrs. Stowitts and Vandemear. It was used as an extensive manufactory of leather. It was so used for over twenty years, when the business was closed and the building taken down. The site is where the new private residence of John Bowdish now stands.

"In 1824 a small store was erected, and Hon. John Bowdish, in company with Hon. Isaac S. Frost, established a small country store. They had a capital of $500, all told. In three years Mr. Frost went out with $3000 for his share of the profits. From this small beginning came the large country store occupied by Mr. Bowdish. The building rebuilt is a model of elegance and architectural taste, while the interior is filled with an assortment of goods seldom surpassed by a city establishment. Its proprietor, still in the prime of a vigorous manhood, and in possession of a generous competency, honored and respected by his friends and neighbors, still sells goods to the surrounding country. Mr. Bowdish was appointed post master in 1832, under the administration of Andrew Jackson, the post office having been removed from Corrystown, and has held the office under all administrations without interruption.

"The snug little cottage hotel, rebuilt and now kept by H. Van Buren, was originally built and kept by Isaac H. Walker. William Perrine, with a capital of $200, in 1836, established a carriage and wagon shop, to which he added plough making on a large scale, which he continued till within a few years, he retired from business, built him a very beautiful house and has a large and competent fortune. A Lodge of Good Templars, having one of the finest halls in the County, was organized a few years ago. It has sixty members and constantly increasing. There are two beautiful churches, the Methodist, built in 1845, the then pastor, Rev. A. Mosher, and the Christian Church, built in 1854, Rev. John Ross, pastor. The present pastors are Revs. Messrs. Tator and Hammond."

The Methodist Church was organized in 1843 and their house of worship erected in 1845. The number of members at the organization was about thirty; the present number is about sixty,

The Christian Church was erected about 1854, in connection with the society at Charleston Four Corners. In 1865 a society was organized at this place with 38 members. The present membership is 113.

Sprakers Basin, (p. v.) in the north-west part of the town, on the Mohawk, is connected with the N. Y. C. R. R. by a ferry, and contains a Reformed church, four stores, two blacksmith shops, two wagon shops, two shoemakers' shops, a harness shop and about 300 inhabitants. Flat Creek passes through the village, affording a fine mill privilege which has not yet been improved. This is one of the oldest settlements in this part of the State and takes its name from the descendants of Major Jost Spraker, of Revolutionary memory, who settled here. The Church was organized in 1857 and has about fifteen members.

Yatesville, (Randall p. o.) in the north-east part of the town, on the canal, contains a store, a storage and forwarding house, a blacksmith shop, a cider mill and about a dozen houses. The cider mill of George VanValkenburgh turns out about 800 barrels annually.

Stone Ridge is a hamlet of about a dozen houses in the north-east part of the town.

Currytown, located near the center of the town, about three miles south-east of Spraker's Basin, contains a Reformed church and about twenty dwellings. The society was organized about 1790 and the church edifice erected about 1806. The present membership is about seventy.

Flat Creek, (p. v.) located on the creek from which it takes its name, contains a F. W. Baptist church, a hotel, a saw and feed mill, a cheese factory, a tannery, a blacksmith shop, a shoe shop, a school house and fifteen dwellings. The cheese factory is owned by a stock company, uses the milk of 700 cows and turns out about 100,000 pounds of cheese annually. The church was erected and the society organized in 1860 with about twenty members. The present membership is about thirty.

Brown's Hollow, in the south-east part of the town, on Flat Creek, contains a hotel, a store, a grist mill, a saw mill, a lath mill, a blacksmith shop, a shoe shop, a cabinet shop, a tannery and about a dozen dwellings. The saw mill runs one upright and two circular saws. The grist mill contains three runs of stones.

Bundy's Corners, about a mile east of Brown's Hollow, contains a store and half a dozen dwellings. It received its name from Stephen Bundy, who first kept a store and hotel here.

Lyker's Corners, about one and a half miles east of Brown's Hollow, contains a store, a carriage and wagon shop, a cooper shop and about a dozen dwellings.

About three-fourths of a mile south of Spraker's Basin, on Flat Creek, is located the saw mill, cider mill and cheese box factory of P. S. Wiers. The factory turns out about 10,000 cheese boxes annually.

The Cheese Factory of J. P. Van Evera is located in the east part of the town, about one and a half miles south-east of Yatesville, and turns out about 3,500 pounds of cheese annually.

The Saw Mill of J. Kilmartin is located on Fly Creek, in the south-east part of the town, and that of D. Dunkle is on the same stream. The saw mill of C. A. Diefendorf is about half a mile east of Lyker's Corners.

Christman's Saw Mill is on East Creek, in the east part of the town, and contains an upright and two circular saws.

The Methodist Church at Root Center was organized about 1860 with about twenty members. The present membership is about forty.

Andrew Hibbard, now residing near Flat Creek, is one of the oldest residents of the town, being eighty-five years of age. He has resided for fifty-seven years on the place he now occupies, is hale and hearty, subscribing for this work, and writing his own name without glasses and with the book on his knee. Mr. Wm. B. Dievendorff has been in the dairy business since 1836, and is now the oldest dairyman living in the County. Mr. Mitchell, now deceased, was the first in the County to engage in dairying, which was in 1835.

On East Creek, about two miles south of Currytown, Mr. Jacob H. Dievendorff has a saw mill, a cheese box factory, a planing mill, a lath, shingle and broom handle factory. The saw mill is run by water, carrying an upright and a circular saw. The other machinery is run by steam. About 15,000 broom handles and 2,500 cheese boxes are made annually.

The first settlers of this town were Jacob Dievendorff at Currytown, Rudolph Keller, David and Fred. Luce, and Jacob Lainer. Like the other towns in the Mohawk Valley, Root suffered from the incursions of the Indians and Tories. The principal incursion was made in July 1781 by a Tory named Doxtader, and fell with the greatest severity upon Currytown. The whole force, consisting of about 500 Indians and a few Tories, emerged stealthily from the forest about noon of the 9th of July, and with torch and tomahawk commenced the work of destruction. Most of the settlers, unsuspecting of danger, were at work in their fields. The house of Henry Lewis was picketed and used for a fort, and on the first alarm those nearest sought shelter therein, while others fled to the woods. Among the sufferers were the Dievendorffs, Kellers, Myerses, Bellingers, Tanners and Lewises. Jacob Dievendorff, Sen., escaped, but his son Frederick was overtaken on his way to the Fort, tomahawked and scalped. After lying insensible for some time he was picked up by his uncle, Mr. Keller, who carried him into the Fort. He recovered and lived several years, when he was killed by the fall of a tree. Jacob Jun., a negro named Jacob, two lads named Bellinger, Mary Miller, a girl ten or twelve years old, Jacob Myers and his son, and two others, were captured. The Indians plundered and burned all the dwellings but the Fort and a house belonging to a Tory, about a dozen in all, and either killed or drove away most of the cattle in the neighborhood. After completing the work of destruction the enemy started off in the direction of New Dorlach, now Sharon, with their prisoners and booty.

Col. Willett was at Fort Plain when the attack was made. He had on the previous day sent out a scout of thirty or forty men, under Capt. Gross, to procure forage and watch the movements of the enemy. When near Sharon Springs they discovered a portion of the camp of the enemy in a cedar swamp. Col. Willett received information of this at the same time that a dense smoke was discovered in the direction of Currytown. Captain McKean was immediately dispatched with a small force and arrived in time to assist in extinguishing the flames of some of the buildings. Col. Willett in the meantime rallied as many of the militia as possible, and presuming that the enemy would camp at the same place as the previous night, and having been joined by the forces of McKean and Gross, determined to attack the enemy at midnight in their encampment. Col. Willett's whole force did not exceed one hundred and fifty effective men, while that of the enemy was double this number. The night was dark and the dense forest that surrounded the swamp was only penetrated by a bridle path. The guide became bewildered and it was six o'clock in the morning before he came in sight of the enemy, who had now taken a more advantageous position. Not wishing to attack him at such a disadvantage, Col. Willett sent forward a detachment from the main body, which he had stationed in the form of a crescent on a ridge near by. This detachment advanced, delivered their fire and retreated, followed by the enemy who were met by Willett with the main body. A desperate fight ensued for a short time when the Indians broke and fled, but kept up a fire from behind the trees and rocks. Willett and his men pursued them until they gave up the fight and fled precipitately towards the Susquehanna, leaving their camp and all their plunder behind. They left forty dead upon the field, while the American loss was only five killed and nine wounded.

Among the wounded on the American side was the brave McKean, who was carried from the field by his friends. Conscious that he could not long survive, he expressed a desire to be buried in front of Fort Plain. Before reaching that place he expired and was buried temporarily at Fort Clyde. About a year afterwards his remains were removed to Fort Plain and deposited in front of the Fort, as he had requested. Captain McKean was born in Londonderry, New Hampshire, previous to the French and Indian war in which he was engaged. He was taken prisoner by the Indians, and after remaining for a short time, was informed by the squaws, who felt some interest in his welfare, that he was to be burned at the stake the next day. Accordingly he was taken out, where he beheld the fagots prepared for the occasion. Some of the younger and less brave of the Indians began to taunt, kick and cuff him, whereupon he retaliated and laid several of them sprawling upon the ground. This exhibition of pluck and bravery so pleased some of the old braves that they laughed heartily, and after a short consultation concluded that he was too brave to burn. He was kindly treated after this and finally escaped or was released. He was one of the bravest of the brave and did good service for his country.

At the time of the attack the Indians had placed most of their prisoners on horses stolen from Currytown, and had left a strong guard with them. When they were about to retreat, fearing a recapture of prisoners and a consequent loss of scalps, they began to murder and scalp them. Jacob Dievendorff leaped from his horse and ran towards the swamp, but was overtaken by a savage, knocked down, scalped and left for dead. A detachment of militia under Col. Veeder was sent out after the battle to bury the dead, and fortunately discovered young Dievendorff struggling among the leaves. He was taken to Fort Plain, and under the care of Dr. Faught, a German physician of Stone Arabia, he was restored to health. It was five years before his head was perfectly healed. He died in 1854 at the age of 85, one of the wealthiest farmers in the valley. Mary Miller was found scalped and alive but survived only a short time. Most of the cattle were abandoned and found their way back to their owners. Mr. Lossing, while collecting material for the "Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution," in 1848, visited the venerable old patriot, Jacob Dievendorff, and thus describes him, "We found the old patriot busily engaged in his barn threshing grain; and although nearly eighty years of age he seemed almost as vigorous and active as most are at sixty. His sight and hearing are somewhat defective, but his intellect as exhibited by his clear remembrance of the circumstances of his early life, had lost but little of its strength. He is one of the largest land-holders in Montgomery County, owning one thousand fertile acres, lying in a single tract, where the scenes of the suffering of his early life occurred. In an orchard, a short distance from his dwelling, the house was still standing which was stockaded and used as a fort. It is fast decaying, but the venerable owner allows time alone to work its destruction, and will not suffer a board to be taken from it." The remains of Jacob Dievendorff repose in the family cemetery with those of his father, while his descendants still occupy the fertile fields which he formerly cultivated.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,456, and its area 31,652 acres.

ST. JOHNSVILLE, named from St. John's church, erected in the village at an early day, was formed from Oppenheim, Fulton County, April 18, 1838. It lies upon the north bank of the Mohawk, on the west border of the County. Its surface consists of the broad river flats, and a broken upland gradually rising north of it. The principal streams are East Canada, Crum, Fox, Zimmerman's, Caldwell and Mother Creeks. Upon East Canada Creek, about one and a half miles from its mouth, are a succession of falls and rapids, descending 75 feet in a distance of 80 rods. The soil is a fine quality of gravelly loam.

St. Johnsville, (p. v.) on the Mohawk, was incorporated in 1857. It is a station on the N. Y. C. R. R. and contained in 1865, 1,004 inhabitants. For several years most of the trains on the railroad stopped here for refreshments, but within a few years the large hotel and depot have been burned and the former has not been rebuilt.

St. Johnsville Woolen Mills are located on Zimmerman Creek, in the north-west part of the village. They were erected in 1840 by Hough, Riggs & Adams, and were afterwards purchased and run by Winegar & Yonker, of whom they were purchased by Sidney Smith & Son, the present proprietors. New machinery has been put into the mills and the proprietors are now engaged in the manufacture of a great variety of first-class goods for the home market exclusively.

St. Johnsville Agricultural Works, owned by Mr. M. Williams, manufacture thrashers, horse powers, cleaners, straw cutters and various other implements of use to the farmer.

This town was settled previous to the Revolution, but the precise date is not known. The first settlers were Germans, and among them were families named Hellebralt, Waters, Getman, Van Riepen, Walrath and Klock. The first settlement at the village was made by Jacob Zimmerman in 1776. During the Revolution the house of Christian Klock, three-fourths of a mile west of Palatine Church, was stockaded and named Fort House, in honor of Christian House, the builder. The house of Jacob Zimmerman was also stockaded. Though these forts were attacked they were never taken. Fort Hill, situated on an eminence east of East Creek, was erected during the French War. It was subsequently repaired and used during the Revolution.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,153, and its area 11,442 acres.

The battle between the forces of Sir John Johnson and the advanced guard of Van Rensselaer's army, under Colonel DuBois, was fought at "Klock's Field," near "Fort House," Oct. 19, 1780. Had this battle been followed up, Sir John and his whole force might probably have been captured, but the General ordered his forces to fall back about three miles, intending to renew the battle in the morning. The golden opportunity had passed. Taking advantage of the darkness, Sir John and his force had escaped. The next morning, while the main army was crossing the river, some of McKean's volunteers, in strolling about, found a block house where nine of the enemy were held prisoners. On being asked how they came there, Peter Cass, one of the prisoners, who had previously lived in Johnstown, said: "Why, I am ashamed to tell. Last night, after the battle, we crossed the river. It was dark. We heard the word, 'lay down your arms.' Some of us did so. We were taken, nine of us, and marched into this little fort by seven militia men. We formed the rear of three hundred of Johnson's Greens, who were running promiscuously through and over one another. I thought General Van Rensselaer's whole army was upon us. Why did you not take us prisoners yesterday after Sir John ran off with the Indians and left us. We wanted to surrender." Thus it appears that if there had been a disposition to "push things," Sir John and his whole army might have been captured. The Indians continued to prowl around the settlement during the war, occasionally shooting or capturing one of the inhabitants. In the spring of 1780 Philip Helmer deserted to the enemy. He had previously been paying his addresses to a daughter of Philip Bellinger, and upon a plan being formed to take the family of the latter prisoners, he forewarned them in time to rally a party to their assistance. An ambuscade was formed and the Indians would have been killed or captured had it not been for the indiscretion of one of the party, who, upon their approach, yelled out at the top of his voice, "Lord God Almighty, friends, here they are!" Alarmed at this demonstration, the Indians fled with a loss of only one of their number.

As early as 1756 a church was erected by Christan Klock. Rev. Mr. Rosekrantz was the first preacher, and John Henry Disland was the second. A German school was taught by Henry Hayes at an early day. The first English school was taught by Lot Ryan, an Irishman, in 1792. Christopher Nellis kept an inn in 1783, and a store in 1801. Jacob Zimmerman built the first grist mill, during the Revolution, and George Klock the second, in 1801.

MONTGOMERY CO. PRESS.

The first newspaper in the County was established at Fort Plain in 1827 by S. M. S. Gant, and called the Fort Plain Watch Tower. In 1829 it was published by John Calhoun, and in 1830 it was published by — Platt, who changed its name to

The Fort Plain Sentinel.

The Fort Plain Gazette was started in 1834 by Henry L. Gross, who continued its publication until 1836.

The Fort Plain Journal was started in 1836 by E. W. Gill. The next year Mr. H. Link took the editorial charge of the paper and was succeeded December 12, 1837, by Henry Rosebaum. On the 4th of September 1838 Mr. P. G. Webster took charge of the paper, and May 1st, 1839, placed the name of Winfield Scott at the head of its columns as the candidate for the presidency. This is supposed to be the first nomination of that distinguished general for the presidency. Mr. Webster continued the publication of the paper until the close of the campaign of 1840, when he was succeeded by David Smith. On the 3d of February 1841 the paper passed into the hands of Levi S. Backus, a deaf mute, and its name was changed to

The Montgomery Phoenix. D. F. Young was the editor. Mr. Backus continued the publication of the paper until 1854, when he sold out to Wendell & Stansel, who changed the name to

The Mohawk Valley Register. In 1855 Mr. Stansel sold out his interest to Dr. D. S. Kellogg. In June 1856 Dr. Kellogg withdrew and his place was taken by C. W. Webster. In 1858 Mr. Wendell sold his interest to J. Q. A. Crouse, and in 1859 Mr. Crouse sold his interest to Charles Bradbury. In 1860 the present editor and proprietor succeeded Mr. Bradbury, and the firm became Webster & Matthewson. In 1861 Mr. Matthewson entered the army, and after serving three years and nine months, returned, and in July 1865 purchased Mr. Webster's interest and changed the name to the MOHAWK VALLEY REGISTER AND FORT PLAIN JOURNAL. Since Mr. Matthewson became the editor and proprietor of the paper it has twice been enlarged and now ranks among the first-class weeklies of the State, and has a circulation of 1500 copies.

The Tocsin was published for a short time by H. Link, at Fort Plain.

The Lutheran Herald, semi-monthly, was published in 1839 by W. L. Fish.

The Students Gleaner, by the students of Fort Plain High School, was issued from the Journal office for a short time.

The Mohawk Valley Gazette was published at Canajoharie by W. H. Riggs, from 1847 to 1849.

The Montgomery Union was published at Canajoharie by W. S. Hawley, from 1850 to 1853.

The Mohawk Advertiser, published at Amsterdam by Darius Wells, was changed to

The Intelligencer and Mohawk Advertiser in 1834. In 1835 it was published by John J. Davis, with L. H. Nichols, editor. In 1836 it was published by S. B. Marsh, and after several changes of publishers it was issued in 1854 as

THE AMSTERDAM RECORDER and published by H. Hayward. It subsequently passed into the hands of A. Z. Neff, the present proprietor, and is now edited by C. P. Winegar.

The Mohawk Gazette was published at Amsterdam by Josiah A. Nooman, in 1833-4.

The Fonda Herald was issued by J. Reynolds, Jr., in 1837.

The Fonda Sentinel was begun in 1842. It was subsequently published by Clark & Thayer. In 1864 it was purchased by C. B. Freeman, the proprietor of the Mohawk Valley American, and united with that paper, the name being changed to MOHAWK VALLEY DEMOCRAT. It is now published by C. B. Freeman and is the only Democratic paper in Montgomery County.

The American Star was commenced at Canajoharie, April 5, 1855, by Wm. S. Hawley. It was removed to Fonda, May 17, 1855. In 1857 it was changed to

The Mohawk Valley American and published by C. B. Freeman. In 1858 this name was changed to

The American Star, and the paper was published by Wm. S. Hawley, the original proprietor. The paper subsequently passed into the hands of C. B. Freeman and assumed its former name, and was published by Freeman until 1864, when it was merged in the Mohawk Valley Democrat.

The Montgomery Whig was started October 24, 1839, by Flavius J. Mills. It was a five column paper, printed on a sheet 22 by 32. On the 10th day of March, 1840, Mr. Mills was succeeded by Benjamin F. Pinkham. On the 16th of March, 1841, T. R. Horton purchased the establishment. In 1856 he changed the name to

THE MONTGOMERY REPUBLICAN and conducted the paper until the 22d of July, 1862, when he entered the army, relinquishing the management of the paper to his brother, J. W. Horton, who published it until Aug. 1st, 1864, when T. R. Horton, its present editor and publisher again took charge of it. The paper has been enlarged from time to time and is now one of the largest local papers in this section of the State.

The Mohawk Farmer was published at Caughnawaga at an early period.

The Canajoharie Telegraph was published by Henry Hooghkirk in 1825-6.

The Canajoharie Sentinel was published in 1827; Samuel Caldwell, editor.

The Canajoharie Republican was published in 1827-8; Henry Bloomer, editor. It was subsequently edited by John McVean and D. F. Sacia.

The Montgomery Argus was published by J. McVean in 1831-2, and subsequently by S. M. S. Gant until 1836.

The Canajoharie Investigator was published from 1833 to 1836, by Andrew H. Calhoun.

The Radii was commenced in 1837 by Levi S. Backus, a deaf mute; in November, 1840, the office was burned and the paper was removed to Fort Plain. In 1854 it was removed to Madison County, but subsequently returned to Fort Plain. For several years the State made an appropriation of $200 a year for sending the paper to deaf mutes. It was subsequently removed to Canajoharie and published as the Canajoharie Radii. On the first of January, 1863, the paper passed into the hands of James Arkell, and on the 30th of April of the same year the paper was enlarged and assumed the name of the CANAJOHARIE RADII AND TAX-PAYERS JOURNAL. Mr. L. F. Allen also took an interest in it, and it was published by Arkell & Allen until Jan. 1st, 1866, when Arkell sold his interest to Angell Matthewson. On the first of May, 1868, Mr. Allen purchased Matthewson's interest, and in November of the same year, Alvin J. Plank purchased an interest, since which the paper has been published by L. F. Allen & Co.

J. H. NELLIS,

APIARIST!

BREEDER OF

ITALIAN QUEEN BEES!

CHOICE STOCK AT ALL TIMES FOR SALE.

The Italian Queens are more prolific and easier found than Black Queens. Italian Bees are more peaceable; defend themselves better against Robber Bees; are longer lived; protect their combs against moths much better, and superior in many other ways.

For particulars, send for Circular.

FULTON COUNTY.

THIS COUNTY was formed from Montgomery, April 18, 1838. It lies north of the Mohawk and east of the center of the State; is centrally distant forty-five miles from Albany and contains 544 square miles. Its surface is a rolling and hilly upland, rising into a mountainous region on the north border. The highland region is divided into three general ridges, extending north-east and south-west. The most eastern of these ridges, occupying the south-east corner, consists of rounded drift hills of moderate elevation, bounded by gradual slopes, the highest summits being about 400 feet above the Mohawk. The second ridge extends through near the center of the County and occupies a wide space along the north border. The declivities in the north are generally steep and rocky, and the highest summits are from 800 to 1,000 feet above the Mohawk. The third ridge is similar in character to the second and extends through the west part of the County. Its highest summits are 1200 feet above the Mohawk.

Sacondaga River flows south-east through the north-east corner of the County. Its name is said to signify "Drowned Lands," from the great marsh along its course. It receives from the west, Mayfield Creek, which has for its tributaries Fondas and Cranberry Creeks. Chuctenunda Creek flows through the south-east corner, and Cayadutta flows south-west through near the center, its valley separating the central from the eastern ranges of hills. Garoga Creek flows south, a little west of the center, its valley separating the central from the western range of hills. Stony Creek, a tributary of the Sacondaga, flows north-east, in the northerly continuation of the Garoga valley, and breaks through the central ranges of hills. East Canada Creek forms the greater part of the western boundary, receiving as tributaries North, Fish and Little Sprite Creeks. The other streams are branches of those already named, or of the Mohawk. The streams are generally quite rapid, sometimes interrupted by falls and affording an abundance of water-power for mills. Among the hills in the north part of the County are many small lakes, which form so distinguishing a feature of the wilderness of Northern New York. Along the Sacondaga, near the mouth of Mayfield Creek, and occupying portions of Northampton, Broadalbin and Mayfield is an extensive swamp, said to contain 13,000 acres. This swamp was probably a lake at one time, and is now covered with a small growth of evergreens around its border, and is a wet prairie in the center, where hundreds of tons of coarse wild grass of poor quality are cut annually.

The greater part of the surface of the County is covered with drift deposits. The south part of the central and west ridges are chiefly composed of calciferous sand rock; and further north, Potsdam sandstone and gneiss appear and cover a considerable portion of the surface. Black River limestone, Trenton limestone and Utica slate are also found in different localities. Quarries of gneiss and birdseye limestone have been opened in Johnstown and Mayfield. An excellent building stone is found in all the north part of the County. The soil along the south part and in the valleys of the streams is principally a gravelly and clayey loam, derived from the drift deposits. It is well adapted to pasturage, and in the most favorable localities produces good crops of grain. A large portion of the north part is too rough and broken for profitable cultivation. The mountainous portion of the north of the County forms the south extremity of the great northern wilderness of the State. The settlements are very much scattered and confined to the narrow valleys of the streams. The hills are covered with a light growth of forest trees, and when once cleared the soil is too poor to repay cultivation.

The manufactures of the County consist chiefly of lumber, leather, gloves and mittens. There are more buckskin gloves and mittens manufactured in this County than in all other parts of the United States. The center of the manufacture is at Gloversville, though it is largely carried on in Johnstown and other villages. Work is given out to families throughout a large section of country, forming the most productive branch of labor in the County.

The County Seat is located at Johnstown. This was the original County Seat of Tryon County, and afterwards of Montgomery County. The dissatisfaction arising from the removal of the County Seat to Fonda was the immediate cause of the division of the County. The first officers of Tryon County were Guy Johnson, First Judge; John Butler and Peter Conyne, Judges; Sir John Johnson, Daniel Claus, John Wells and Jellis Fonda, Assistant Judges. The first County Court was organized September 8, 1772. The first County officers after the organization of Fulton County were Donald McIntyre, First Judge; John W. Cady, District Attorney; T. A. Stoughtenburgh, Clerk; David J. McMartin, Sheriff; and Archibald McFarland, Surrogate. The Court House is a brick building erected by Sir William Johnson in 1772. The inside has been renewed within the last few years; its walls exhibit no marks of decay, and the casual observer would be surprised to learn that they had been built nearly a century. The Clerk's Office is a fire-proof structure adjacent to the Court House. The Jail is a stone structure erected in 1762 by Sir William Johnson. It contains the usual accommodations for convicts and the residence of the jailor. In 1849 the wood work of the Jail was burned and the wall upon one side was so much injured as to be rebuilt. The remaining walls are as originally constructed, four feet thick and look as though they were good for another century. It was used as a fort during the Revolution.

The County Poor House is located upon a farm of about 100 acres, at West Bush. The farm is in a good state of cultivation, the buildings in good repair and the general administration of affairs is satisfactory.

Five weekly newspapers are now published in the County. The first was published in 1796 and called The Johnstown Gazette.

The Montgomery Advertiser was published at Johnstown in 1796 by Jacob Doxtader. It soon passed into the hands of James Smith, and afterwards into those of Alvin Romeyn and — Clark. It was subsequently published for several years by David Holden.

The Montgomery Republic was commenced at Johnstown in August, 1806, by William Child. His brother, Asa Child, soon after became editor. In 1823 it passed into the hands of Wm. Holland, by whom it was published two years. The paper subsequently passed into the hands of Peter Mix, who continued its publication until 1834, when the office was burned. The paper was soon after revived and continued until November 1836, when the office was again burned and the publication of the paper discontinued.

The Montgomery Intelligencer was commenced in 1806 and discontinued in 1807.

The Montgomery Monitor was commenced at Johnstown in 1808 by Robbins & Andrews. It soon passed into the hands of Russell Prentice, who sold it in 1824 to Duncan and Daniel McDonald. In 1828 they removed it to Fonda, thence to Canajoharie, and finally to Schoharie.

The Johnstown Herald was removed from Amsterdam in 1824 by Philip Reynolds. It had been published there as the Mohawk Herald. In 1834 it was removed to Fonda and published as the Fonda Herald.

The Montgomery Freeman was published at Johnstown by Yates & Co.

The Northern Banner was commenced at Union Mills, Broadalbin, by John Clark. It was removed in a few months to Johnstown and published as

The Northern Banner and Montgomery Democrat. In 1837 its name was changed to

The Montgomery Republican. It was soon after sold to Wm. S. Hawley who changed its name in 1838 to

THE FULTON COUNTY DEMOCRAT. It was published for a time by A. T. Norton, and in 1842 it passed into the hands of Walter N. Clark, who has continued its publication to the present time.

The Christian Palladium was a semi-monthly published in 1836 by Joseph Badger. It was removed to Albany about 1840.

The Fulton County Republican was commenced at Johnstown in 1838 by Darius Wells. In 1840 Alexander U. Wells became proprietor, and in 1842 he sold to George Henry, who continued its publication until 1860, when the paper was discontinued.

The Garland was a semi-monthly, published at Union Mills by William Clark. It was afterwards issued for a short time at Johnstown.

The Literary Journal was published at Kingsborough in 1843 by S. R. Sweet.

The Johnstown American was commenced at Johnstown in January 1856, by N. J. Johnson. In February 1857, it was sold to J. D. Houghtaling, who changed its name to

THE JOHNSTOWN INDEPENDENT, and continued its publication until March 1869, when it passed into the hands of George W. Heaton, the present publisher.

THE GLOVERSVILLE STANDARD was commenced in December 1856, by W. H. Case. In March 1860, it passed into the hands of A. Pierson, who continued its publication until January 1861, when it passed into the hands of Geo. W. Heaton, the present publisher. It is now the official paper of Fulton County.

THE GLOVERSVILLE INTELLIGENCER was started in 1867 by the citizens of Gloversville, C. N. Kelly, editor. In about six months it was purchased by George M. Thompson, the present editor and proprietor.

THE GLOVERSVILLE DEMOCRAT is published by A. S. Botsford.

The settlement of this County was commenced about 1760, under the auspices of Sir William Johnson, with whose life the history of the County is so intimately connected that a brief sketch will not be deemed out of place. He was born in Ireland about the year 1714, and when about twenty-one years of age came to this country to take charge of a large tract of land which his uncle, Sir Peter Warren, had purchased in the Mohawk Valley. Through the influence of his uncle he was appointed agent of Indian affairs, and by learning their language, adopting their dress and customs when the occasion seemed to demand it, and by his fair dealing with them, he acquired great influence over them, which continued until his death. He had not long been a resident of the Mohawk Valley before he obtained the title to a tract of land north of the river, in the present town of Amsterdam, and erected a stone house for his residence, which was afterwards fortified and called Fort Johnson. He continued to add to his landed property until he became one of the largest landholders who have ever been in this country. As a general he commanded the forces sent against the French at Lake George, and received as a reward the honor of Knighthood. In 1762 he erected a residence near the present village of Johnstown, which is still standing and known as Johnson Hall. He had a large number of tenants, who were attached to his interests, and the future prospects of the family were very flattering. On the approach of the troubles which subsequently resulted in the Revolution and the independence of the Colonies, he is supposed to have been liberally inclined. While his duty to his Government, whose offices he held, seemed to forbid his taking an active part in the cause of the Colonies, his attachment to his neighbors rendered the thought of any measures tending to their ruin extremely painful to his feelings. He was accustomed to receive large numbers of Indians and hold councils with them at the Hall. On the 7th of July, 1774, about 600 Indians assembled for a council, but Sir William was too unwell to attend to its duties, though the Indians requested that the conference be no longer deferred. The next day a preliminary conference was held, and on the 9th the conference was opened in due form, when the Indians set forth their grievances. The principal speaker was a Seneca Chief, followed by a Cayuga. The next day being the Sabbath, Sir William deferred his reply until Monday. His speech was delivered in the burning sun and occupied two hours, at the close of which pipes and tobacco were distributed among the Indians and they adjourned to prepare a reply. Sir William was immediately attacked with dysentery and was conducted to his library, where he died the same evening. There appears to be no real foundation for the report that he committed suicide. The funeral was attended on the 13th. The remains were deposited in the vault under the altar of the stone church in the village of Johnstown. The Indians attended the funeral in a body and exhibited the most lively marks of sorrow. The next day they performed the rites of condolence.

His will was dated Jan. 27, 1774, and in it he gave particular directions for his burial. He directed mourning for his house-keeper, Mary Brant, and for the children, and his servants and slaves. The sachems of both Mohawk villages were to be invited to his funeral and to receive each a stroud, blanket, crape and gloves, which they were to receive and wear as mourners next after his family. The whole expense of the funeral was not to exceed 300 pounds sterling. The funeral expenses were to be first paid by Sir John out of his three per cent. consolidated annuities, within six months. He bequeathed to Peter, a son of Mary Brant, three hundred pounds, and to each of her other children, seven in number, one hundred pounds, the interest to be expended in their education. To young Brant, alias Keighneghtaga, and William, alias Tagcheunto, two Mohawk lads, one hundred pounds each in New York currency. After paying the foregoing he gives one half of the remainder to Sir John, and to Daniel Claus and Guy Johnson, his sons-in-law, each one half of the remainder. He then gives his library and plate, certain portions excepted, together with one fourth of his slaves and cattle, to Sir John, and the remaining three fourths to his daughters and the children of Mary Brant. His landed estate is divided between his children and friends, designating the part that each shall receive, and especially enjoining upon his children not to sell or alienate any portion of the Royal Grant, as he had received it as a free gift from the King. The legatees of his land were Sir John and Guy Johnson, Daniel Claus, each of the children of Mary Brant, and her brothers, Joseph and William, Mary M. Grah, John and Warren Johnson, his brothers, and Dease, Sterling, Plunket and Fitzimons, his sisters, and John Dease, his nephew. He gave to Robert Adams, Joseph Chew and William Byrne, old friends, and Patrick Daly, a servant, the free use for life of certain lands. He provided further for the division of his estate in case Sir John died without issue. The executors of his will were Sir John and Guy Johnson, Daniel Claus, his brothers, John and Warren Johnson, Daniel Campbell, John Butler, Jellis Fonda, Capt. James Stevenson, Robert Adams, Samuel Stringer, Dr. John Dease, Henry Frey and Joseph Chew, or any six of them. John Dease, Jellis Fonda, John Butler, James Stevenson, Henry Frey and Joseph Chew were appointed guardians of the children of Mary Brant. Three hundred pounds were appropriated to the purchase of rings for his executors and the guardians of his children.

Sir William is said by some to have had two wives, though they were not made such until they had lived with him for some time. His first wife was a German girl, who, according to the custom of the times, had been sold to a man by the name of Phillips, to pay her passage to the captain of the emigrant ship in which she came to this country. She was a handsome girl and attracted considerable attention. A neighbor of Sir William, who had heard him express a determination never to marry, asked him why he did not take the pretty German girl for a house-keeper. The suggestion was favorably received. Not long after, the neighbor called on Phillips and asked where the High Dutch girl was. Phillips replied, "Johnson, that tanned Irishman, came tother day and offered me five pounds for her, threatening to horsewhip me and steal her if I would not sell her. I thought five pounds petter than a flogging, and took it, and he's got the gal." She was the mother of Sir John and two daughters, who became respectively the wives of Guy Johnson and of Daniel Claus. These two daughters, who were left by their dying mother to the care of a friend, were brought up and educated almost in solitude. That friend was the widow of an officer who was killed in battle. Retiring from the world, she devoted her whole time to the care of these children. They were carefully instructed in religious duties and in various kinds of needle-work, but were kept entirely from society. At the age of sixteen they had never seen a lady except their mother and her friend, or any gentleman except Sir William, who visited them daily. After their marriage they soon acquired the habits of society and made excellent wives. When upon her death-bed, the mother of these children was married to Sir William to legitimate the children. After her death, Molly Brant, sister of the famous Mohawk Chief, succeeded to her place. It is said by some that Sir William married her also, but he speaks of her in his will as his house-keeper. Sir William's first interview and acquaintance with her, as related by Mr. Stone, was quite romantic. She was a very sprightly and beautiful girl of sixteen when he first saw her at a militia muster. One of the field officers riding upon a fine horse came near her, and by way of banter she asked permission to mount behind. Not supposing she could perform the feat, he assented. At the word she leaped upon the crupper with the greatest agility. The horse sprang off at full speed, and clinging to the officer, her blanket flying and her dark hair streaming in the wind, she was borne about the parade ground with the speed of the race-horse. Sir William, who was a witness of the exhibition, admiring the spirit of the young squaw, and becoming enamored of her person, took her home as his wife. This, according to the Indian custom, made her really his wife. Colden, in speaking of the customs of the Six Nations, says: "They carried their hospitality so far as to allow distinguished strangers the choice of a young squaw from among the prettiest in the neighborhood, washed clean and dressed in her best apparel, as a companion during his sojourn with them." Sir William availed himself of the customs prevalent among the Indians, who considered it an honor to have their wives and daughters intimate with him. The result was a large posterity scattered among the Indian tribes in different parts of the country.

From the commencement of the difficulties between the Colonies and the King, Sir John Johnson, who had succeeded to the estate of his father, became an active and zealous advocate of the rights of the Crown. He fortified Johnson Hall in 1775, armed the Scotch Highlanders on the Kingsborough Patent, and used his influence to spread discontent among the Indian tribes under his control. Such conduct could not be tolerated, and General Schuyler, with a small force, came into Tryon County for the purpose of arresting Sir John or of entering into some kind of an arrangement whereby he should at least remain neutral. General Herkimer ordered out the militia and the whole force paraded on the ice, on the Mohawk River, in January 1776. Major Fonda was sent as a messenger to Sir John, and a correspondence was carried on for two or three days. The result was that he surrendered himself a prisoner, disarmed his tenants and was finally released on his parole. This for a time quieted the fears of the inhabitants, but in the following May, his intrigues continuing, Col. Dayton was sent with a force to arrest him. Receiving intelligence of the movement, he hastily collected his dependents and tenants, left his family plate, money and other valuables to be buried by a faithful slave, and took his departure through the forest to Canada. There he raised a regiment of Tories, called "Johnson's Greens," with which he made several raids upon the inhabitants as already described in the history of Montgomery County. By an act of the Legislature of New York, the large estates of Sir John and other Tories were confiscated. Inspired with feelings of revenge, he waged a most inhuman and barbarous warfare upon his old friends and neighbors. About midnight on the 21st of May, 1780, Sir John, with a force of five hundred Tories and Indians, with which he had penetrated the wilderness from Crown Point to the Sacondaga, appeared at Johnstown. He divided his force into two parties, one of which was to strike the Mohawk at Tribes Hill, thence proceed up the river, destroying all in their course, and form a junction with the other division at the mouth of the Cayadutta Creek. With the latter division Sir John proceeded through the village of Johnstown, unperceived by the sentinels of the small picketed fort there, and before daylight appeared before the Hall, once his own, where he secured two prisoners. On his way to join the other division at the mouth of the Cayadutta, he passed the residence of Sampson Sammons, who with his family, were among the most active patriots of the County. Sir John had always respected Mr. Sammons, but determined on this occasion to carry him and his family away prisoners, and thus lessen the number of his more influential enemies in the Mohawk Valley. It was scarcely light when a Tory named Sunderland, with a resolute band, surrounded the house of Mr. Sammons and arrested Thomas, the youngest son, as he stepped to the door to observe the weather. This was the first intimation of danger. The father and two other sons were immediately made prisoners without any opportunity for defense, but the females were left undisturbed, after plundering the house of all valuables. The marauders then proceeded to the mouth of the creek and up the river, plundering and burning as they went. Within a few miles, nine aged men, four of whom were upwards of eighty years of age, were murdered and scalped. In the afternoon Sir John returned to the Hall, where he secured the plate and other valuables, which filled two barrels. It was then distributed among forty soldiers, who placed it in their knapsacks, the Quarter-Master making a memorandum of the name of each with the articles intrusted to him, and in this way it was carried to Montreal. Towards night the militia began to collect, and Sir John having obtained possession of about twenty slaves, among whom was the one who buried the treasure, he took his departure for Canada. So completely panic-stricken were the inhabitants that he was allowed to escape unmolested in his retreat, and reached St. John's in safety. While halting the next day after leaving Johnstown, old Mr. Sammons requested an interview with Sir John, which was granted. He asked to be released, but the Baronet hesitated. The old man then recurred to former times when he and Sir John were friends and neighbors. "See what you have done, Sir John," he said, "You have taken myself and my sons prisoners, burned my dwelling to ashes, and left the helpless members of my family with no covering but the heavens above, and no prospect but desolation around them. Did we treat you in this manner when you were in the power of the Tryon County Committee? Do you remember when you were consulted by General Schuyler, and you agreed to surrender your arms? Do you not remember that you then agreed to remain neutral, and that upon that condition General Schuyler left you at liberty on your parole? Those conditions you violated. You went off to Canada; enrolled yourself in the service of the King; raised a regiment of the disaffected who abandoned the country with you; and you have now returned to wage a cruel war against us, by burning our dwellings and robbing us of our property. I was your friend in the Committee of Safety, and exerted myself to save your person from injury. And how am I requited? Your Indians have murdered and scalped old Mr. Fonda, at the age of eighty years, a man who, I have heard your father say, was like a father to him when he settled in Johnstown and Kingsborough. You cannot succeed, Sir John, in such a warfare, and you will never enjoy your property more." The appeal had its effect. The old gentleman was released and a span of his horses restored to him. A Tory named Duxtader was seen upon one of the old man's horses and refused to give it up, saying it belonged to an Indian. After the war he returned to the neighborhood, when Mr. Sammons had him arrested, and he was obliged to pay the full value of the animal.

In the fall of the same year Sir John made another raid upon Tryon County, plundering and burning in the usual manner. In October 1781, Major Ross and Walter Butler invaded the County and encamped a short distance north of Johnson Hall. Here he was attacked by a small force under Col. Willett, which gave way on the first fire and retreated to the stone church at the village, where they were again rallied, and by the aid of reinforcements that had come up, Butler's force was defeated and forced to retreat. He was followed by Willett along the north bank of the Mohawk for some distance, thence northerly along the West Canada Creek. Some skirmishing ensued and several of the Indians were killed and others taken prisoners. There is considerable diversity in the accounts given of this expedition, but its results were favorable and the infamous Tory, Butler, was killed. It is conceded that he was shot by an Oneida Indian upon the opposite side of the creek. The Oneida plunged into the creek, and on reaching the opposite bank, found Butler not dead but writhing in great agony. He cried for quarter while the glittering tomahawk of the Oneida was raised over his head. "Me give you Sherry Valley quarters," replied the Indian, and buried the hatchet in the Tory's head. Stripping off his scalp the pursuit was continued while Butler's body was left to the beasts and birds of the forest. This was the last incursion of the enemy into the valley of the Mohawk. Indeed there was no object for another raid even if the war had continued. The whole valley had been swept as with the besom of destruction, until there was scarcely anything left except the land, which the peaceful pursuits of agriculture soon made fruitful again. New and enterprising settlers came in, and in a few years scarcely a trace of the former raids were to be found.

At the outbreak of the Rebellion the citizens of Fulton County were engaged in the peaceable pursuits of agriculture and manufacturing; but when the first note of alarm was sounded and a call made for volunteers to rally in defense of the Union, the citizens of the County left their farms and their workshops and all the endearing associations of home, for the camp and the battle-field, and with patriotic zeal continued their efforts until every traitorous organization was disbanded, and the Stars and Stripes floated over every fort and in every State in the Union. The census reports of 1865 are too meager and too unreliable data upon which to base an estimate of the number who volunteered from this County. It is believed however that, in common with the other counties of the State, Fulton bore her full share in this great contest.

GAZETTEER OF TOWNS.

BLEECKER, named in honor of Rutger Bleecker, a patentee of the town, was formed from Johnstown, April 4, 1831. A part was re-annexed to that town in 1841, and a part of Caroga was taken off in 1842. It is the central town upon the north border of the County. Its surface is a hilly and mountainous upland, the highest summits upon the north border rising to the height of 2,000 feet above tide. The streams are head branches of West Stony and Garoga Creeks. There are several small lakes in the valleys, the principal of which are Chase's Lake in the north, and Woodworth Lake and Peck's Pond on the south border. The soil is light and thin and the surface is very stony. The leading pursuits are lumbering and tanning.

Bleecker, (p. v.) in the south part, contains a Presbyterian church, a brewery, two tanneries, two saw mills, several mechanic shops and stores, and about 200 inhabitants.

There are in the town four churches, viz., Presbyterian, Methodist, Lutheran and Roman Catholic; four stores, five hotels, three tanneries, thirteen saw mills and one grist mill. Pine Tannery is in the north-east corner of the town, Smith's Tannery is in the east part, about six miles north of the village, and Peck's Tannery is about one mile west of the village. The saw mills in various parts of the town do a large business.

The first settlements of this town were commenced about 1800 by emigrants from New England, among whom were James Morse, William Rood, Ephraim Lindsley, James Landon, Samuel Shaffer, William Eglan, Frederick Mills, George Hamilton and — Goodwell. William Chase, the patentee of a large tract of land in the town, erected a grist mill on the north branch of Stony Creek in 1804-5.

The first school house was built in 1824, chiefly through the influence of Joseph Eastman. The first school in district No. 3 was taught by Nancy Foot, and the first in No. 4 by Aseneth Greenfield.

The population of the town in 1865 was 993, and its area 35,715 acres.

BROADALBIN was formed from Caughnawaga, March 12, 1793. Northampton was taken off in 1799, and a part of Perth in 1842. It is the central town on the east border of the County. Its surface is rolling and most of it is susceptible of cultivation. Chuctenunda Creek flows through the south-east corner. Kennito Creek flows west, through near the center, Mayfield Creek through the north-west corner, and Frenchman's Creek flows north-west through the north part. The soil is chiefly of the drift formation and inclines to sand. The north part extends into the great Sacondaga Marsh, which is annually overflowed and in which the soil is alluvium.

Fondas Bush, (Broadalbin p. o.) on Kennito Creek, in the south-west part, was incorporated April 17, 1815, as Rawsonville. It contains three churches, viz., Congregational, Methodist and Baptist; two hotels, a printing office, several mills and manufactories and about 1200 inhabitants.

Benedict's Corners, in the north part, contains a Christian church and about a dozen houses.

North Broadalbin (p. o.) and Union Mills (p. o.) are hamlets.

Vanvranken Corners, in the south-east corner, on the line of Saratoga County, contains a grist mill and about a dozen dwellings.

There are five saw mills, one grist mill and three paper mills in the town.

The town was named from a place in Scotland, by James McIntyre, one of the early settlers. It comprises parts of Sacondaga, Kayaderosseras and Stone's Patents. The first settler in this town was Henry Stoner, father of Nicholas Stoner, the renowned trapper and hunter so widely known through all this region for many years. He located at Fondas Bush previous to the Revolution. Within a few miles of him, Joseph Scott, Benjamin DeLine, Philip Helmer, Andrew Bowman, Herman Salisbury, John Putnam, Joseph Desilver, John Homan, Charles Cady and Samuel Brown settled, previous to the Revolution. James McIntyre, Nathan Brockway, Alexander Murray, Alexander Oliver and Daniel McIntyre, from Scotland; Peter Demarest and Derrick Banta, from New Jersey; Aaron Manchester, Reuben Burr and Enoch Cromwell, from New England, settled soon after the Revolution.

Summer House Point is a knoll of land in the north-west part of the town, extending into the vlaie, or swamp, and so named from the fact that Sir William Johnson erected a summer house upon the point in 1772, and from that time until his death was accustomed to spend a portion of every summer at this place. This cottage is described by Simms as a tasty one story building, fronting the south, with a piazza, supported by square columns, extending around the sides and east end, with a promenade upon the top, nearly as high as the eaves. Sir William had a large garden, well cultivated, at this point, and set out fruit trees, some of which remained for many years. He kept a fine boat at this place and entertained his visitors in the best manner the surroundings would permit. The fall and spring were the best times for hunting; when the marsh was flooded a boat would easily pass over it and thousands of ducks and wild geese might be seen floating upon its surface. No traces of the buildings now remain.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,335, and its area 24,104 acres.

CAROGA was formed from Stratford, Bleecker and Johnstown, April 11, 1842. It lies on the north border of the County, west of the center. Its surface is rolling in the south and broken in the north by small sharp mountain peaks. A large hill lies west of Garoga Creek, and a swell of land rises about 300 feet, between the principal branches. Several clusters of lakes lie in the center and north part of the town. The principal ones are Garoga, East Garoga, West Canada, East Canada, Mud, Green, Pine, Otter, Prairie, Bellows, Indian, Steward, Nine Corner, Goose and the Stink Lakes. Garoga Creek flows south from Garoga Lake. Only a small portion of the soil is susceptible of profitable cultivation. The principal business is lumbering.

Newkirk's Mills, on Garoga Creek, in the southern part of the town, contains a church, a school house, a hotel and about 25 houses.

Wheelerville, near the center of the town, contains a church, a school house, a store and about 30 dwellings.

There are in the town eight saw mills and one tannery.

The settlement of this town was commenced about 1790. Within a few years thereafter the following persons came into the town and located, viz., David, Robert and Solomon Jeffers, Samuel Gage, Reuben Brookins, William Jefferson, Abram Carley, Anthony Stewart, Nathan Lovelace, Isaac Peckham, Elijah Gardner, Ira Beach, John Mead, James McLellan, Titus Foster, Lemuel Lewis and Daniel Goff.

The first marriage was that of Francis Vandercook and Lucy Jeffers, in 1800. The first death was that of Mrs. Amy Mead, in 1804.

The population of the town in 1865 was 631, and its area 29,952 acres.

EPHRATAH was formed from Palatine, Montgomery Co., March 27, 1827. A part was re-annexed to that town on the division of the County in 1838. It lies on the south border of the County, west of the center. Its surface is mostly a hilly upland, from 400 to 1,500 feet above the Mohawk. Garoga Creek flows south-west through the town, in a deep valley bordered by hills from 500 to 800 feet above the creek. The soil is sandy, and in the south-east a clayey loam.

Ephratah, (p. v.) in the south part, on Garoga Creek, contains two churches, viz., Methodist and Reformed; a hotel, four stores, two woolen mills, a tannery, a wagon shop, a blacksmith shop and about 400 inhabitants.

Garoga, (p. v.) in the east part, on Garoga Creek, contains two stores, two hotels, a saw mill, a grist mill, two straw board mills and about 150 inhabitants.

Rockwood, (p. v.) in the north-east part, contains two churches, viz., Methodist and Union; two saw mills, a grist mill, two tanneries, a buckskin dressing mill, a straw board mill, two glove factories, a turning shop and about 250 inhabitants.

Lassellsville, (p. v.) in the west part, contains two churches, two stores, a blacksmith shop and about 200 inhabitants.

The first settlement of this town was commenced about 1765, under the auspices of Sir William Johnson, who owned a large tract of land on the south side of Sprite Creek. Among those who settled previous to the Revolution were Frederick Getman, Jacob Empie and Jacob Snell, near the village; and Nicholas Rector, Jacob Fry, Henry Herring, Philip Kreitzer, William Cool, Johannes Winkle, William Smith, Henry Hart, Zachariah Tripp, John Cassleman, Peter Schutt and — Dusler, in other parts of the town. These were mostly Germans, some of whom had resided in Schoharie County. A grist mill was erected by Sir William Johnson soon after the settlement was commenced. It stood where Wood's tannery is now located. It was burned by the Tories during the war. Johannes Winkle, who settled previous to the Revolution, where James Yaney now lives, built a grist mill where Yaney's woolen factory now is. This was burned during the war and rebuilt by Mr. Shulls. Mr. Henry Yaney purchased it subsequently and finally removed it and erected the woolen mill which now occupies the site. Mr. Cool was in the Johnson mill at the time it was attacked by the enemy. He was killed and scalped. The miller was taken prisoner and carried away captive. He had a quantity of specie concealed in the walls of the mill at the time of his capture. This he recovered after his return from captivity. Henry Yaney built a saw mill in 1808 where Levi Yaney's mill now is. He was a captain in the war of 1812 and afterwards a major in the New York State Militia. In 1803 he purchased one hundred acres, embracing the village site, and had it laid out. In 1812 George Getman and — Cogswell erected a distillery and kept a store. Frederick Empie settled where John F. Empie now lives. Peter Schram built the first inn, in 1815; Thomas A. Benedict kept a store about 1810. Philip Miller, a Revolutionary soldier, settled previous to the war, where Peter Miller now lives. John Sponable settled where A. Fickle now lives; he was a soldier in the Revolution, was taken prisoner and carried to Canada. Richard Young and Richard Coppernoll, soldiers of the Revolution, settled where H. Lighthall now lives. Frederick and John Getman settled previous to the war, where Benjamin Getman now lives. He purchased 300 acres of the patent. He had four sons, three of whom settled in Ephratah. George Getman was a lieutenant in the Revolutionary war and served under Colonel Willett; Frederick settled in this town and made maple sugar from a tree which is still standing and from which the eighth generation has made sugar. John Shaver settled in 1804 where Benjamin Shaver now lives. He was a captain in the war of 1812, was at Sacketts Harbor. Henry Whitlock, a soldier of 1812, settled in 1810 where Stephen Whitlock now lives. Nicholas Smith, settled where McLaughlin lives; Henry Smith settled where Daniel now lives, and William where David now lives, previous to the Revolutionary war, in which they all served. Nicholas Rector, a captain of the militia during the Revolution, lived where Chauncey Snell now lives. He and his family were attacked by Indians but escaped. A man named Empie was shot and scalped, but killed an Indian after he was wounded. Mrs. Rector was wounded in the leg, and while on her way to the Fort at Stone Arabia, she found the body of a man whom the Indians had killed, took his shoes and wore them to the Fort. One of the shoes was nearly filled with blood on her arrival. She had one son killed by the Indians. Joseph Dennis settled in 1816 where E. Dennis now lives. He built a grist mill and saw mill. Abram Durfee settled at Rockwood in 1815, and in company with Simmons built the first carding mill in the town. The first Town Meeting was held at the house of Harvey Cook in April 1825; John Eisenlord was chosen Town Clerk; Jacob Eaker, Supervisor; George Waggoner, H. Yaney and Jacob Heas, Assessors; Jost A. Shull, Peter Markle, J. J. Shull, Commissioners of Highways; J. Nellis, George Eaker, Poor Masters; J. L. Nellis, Collector. The following is the oath subscribed to by the Supervisor before entering upon his duties:

"I, Jacob Eaker, do solemnly promise and swear that I will perform the trust reposed in me and I will not pass any account wherewith I shall think the said County is not chargeable, nor will I disallow any account or article wherewith I shall think the County justly chargeable."

The first German school taught in the town was by a man named Moot, and the first English school by — McLean.

The following are the names of some of the soldiers from this town who laid down their lives for their country during the late Rebellion; Peter Valone, George Pring, George Chatterton, Stephen Regg, Nathan Filree, James Adzit, Jacob Brown, Hiram Gray and Wallace McLaughlin.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,188, and its area 22,620 acres.

JOHNSTOWN was formed from Caughnawaga, March 12, 1793. Bleecker was taken off in 1831, Mohawk in 1837 and a part of Caroga in 1842. A part of Bleecker was re-annexed in 1841. The original town of Caughnawaga was formed March 7, 1788. It embraced all that part of Montgomery County lying north of the Mohawk and east of a line extending from "The Noses" to Canada. This town was divided in 1793 into Amsterdam, Mayfield, Broadalbin and Johnstown. Johnstown lies on the south border of the County, near the center. A range of hills occupies the north part, and a high ridge extends through the west; the remaining parts are rolling. Cayadutta Creek flows south-west through the east part, and Garoga Creek through the north-west corner. The soil is a clayey and sandy loam. The chief manufactures of the town are buckskin gloves and mittens.

Johnstown, (p. v.) incorporated April 1, 1808, is situated on Cayadutta Creek, south-east of the center of the town, and contains the County buildings, seven churches, two newspaper printing offices, several mills and manufactories, and nearly 5000 inhabitants.

The Livingston Manufacturing Co. have a capital of $100,000, employ from 100 to 150 hands, and manufacture saws, files, saw-frames &c. The head-quarters and sales-rooms of the Company are in New York City.

A Grist and Flouring Mill, with a capacity of 500 bushels per day, is situated on Cayadutta Creek.

Several Skin Mills, for tanning hides for gloves, are located in the village.

St. John's Church (Episcopal,) was the first church edifice erected in the town. It was built of stone in 1771, by Sir William Johnson. It was burned in 1836 and rebuilt the next year. The present number of communicants is 140, James Byron Murray, M. A., is the present pastor.

The Presbyterian Church numbers 320 members. The church edifice is of brick, 50 by 110 feet, and 133 feet to top of the spire. It is furnished with beautiful stained glass windows and a fine organ, and cost $33,000.

The United Presbyterian Church was organized in 1828. The church edifice is of brick, 44 by 85 feet, extreme height 110 feet. It was erected in 1869. The present membership is 112.

The First Baptist Church was organized in 1842 with 65 members; the church edifice was erected in 1851. Present membership 113.

St. Paul's Church (Lutheran) has 200 members. Church edifice of wood, located on Perry Street.

The Methodist Church has a membership of 171.

St. Patrick's Church (Roman Catholic) was organized in 1869. Church edifice, of brick, is in process of erection, 47 by 102 feet, and will cost when completed $20,000.

The Johnstown Cemetery is located about half a mile from the central part of the village, is laid out in good style and contains some fine monuments which compare favorably with those of any other cemetery of the size in this part of the State.

Johnson Hall, the former residence of Sir William Johnson, and erected by him in 1762, is located on a gentle eminence, about three-fourths of a mile north-west of the Court House. At the time of its erection it was probably one of the finest residences in the State, outside of New York City. It is 40 by 60 feet, and two stories high. A hall fifteen feet wide extends through the building; from this a staircase, with heavy mahogany balustrades, leads to the second story. The rail of this balustrade is scarred by hatchet blows, at intervals of a few inches, from top to bottom. Tradition says this was done by Brant when he fled from the Hall with Sir John Johnson in 1776, to protect the house from marauding savages, asserting that such a token would be understood and respected by them. The house remains mainly as constructed by the original proprietor, and to all appearance is good for another century. Mr. Wells, the present proprietor, has erected an observatory upon the top from which there is a fine view of the surrounding country. The grandfather of the present proprietor purchased the premises about seventy years ago, and they have remained in the family ever since. Two detached wings of stone were constructed as forts to protect the Hall, one of which is still standing and is occupied as a dwelling.

Gloversville, (p. v.) incorporated in April 1853, is situated on Cayadutta Creek, four miles north of Johnstown, with which it is connected by a good plank road. It is noted for its manufactories of gloves and mittens, in which there are nearly one hundred firms engaged, besides individuals who manufacture a few dozen pairs on their own account while engaged chiefly for the larger firms. From statements carefully gathered, it is estimated that not less than 200,000 dozen pairs of gloves and mittens have been manufactured during the year, amounting in value to about $2,500,000. The business was commenced by Ezekiel Case in 1803, and has gradually grown to its present size, making more gloves and mittens than are made in any other place in the United States. The skins of various kinds used here are dressed as well as manufactured in the town. The village contains five churches, a bank, three newspaper printing offices, a union school and about 5,000 inhabitants. The church edifices are all of brick.

The First Methodist Church of Gloversville was organized in 1838 with 69 members; T. W. Piersons was the first pastor. A new edifice is now in process of erection, 64 by 141 feet, and extreme height 153 feet. The estimated cost is $55,000. When completed according to the present plan it will be one of the finest churches in this part of the State. George S. Chadburne is the present pastor.

The Baptist Church was organized in 1839. The present church edifice was erected in 1856; it is 54 by 84 feet, furnished with a good organ, and cost $16,000. The present membership is 396. Erastus Miner is the present pastor, and Solomon Cole, assistant.

The first Congregational Church was organized in 1852 with 80 members. Rev. N. Dunning was the first pastor. The church edifice was erected the same year. It is of brick, with stone window caps and sills, 47 by 88 feet, and conference room 36 by 47 feet. The extreme height is 110 feet. The present membership is 250; W. A. McGuiley is the present pastor.

The First Presbyterian Church was organized March 12, 1864. J. A. Priest was the first pastor, succeeded by M. L. P. Hill, the present pastor. The church edifice is of brick, with stone caps and sills, and stained glass windows. It cost $36,000 and will seat 550 persons. The present membership is 170.

Trinity Church (Episcopal) was organized Oct. 1, 1856. Robert T. Howard is the pastor. The number of communicants is 25. They worship in Good Templar's Hall.

The Union School occupies a fine building that was erected at a cost of $30,000. It stands upon a gentle eminence a little back from North Main Street, and presents a commanding appearance. H. A. Pratt is the principal, assisted by ten associates. The number of pupils is about 500.

Kingsboro, (p. v.) in the east part, contains a Presbyterian church, two stores, one grocery, a blacksmith shop, and several large glove and mitten manufactories.

Sammons ville, (p. v.) in the south-west part, on Sprout Brook, contains a Union church and school house combined, a hotel, a grist mill, two paper mills, a saw mill, a cheese box factory, a cider and vinegar manufactory, a skin mill, several other mechanic shops and about 200 inhabitants.

Wemple's Vinegar Manufactory turns out about 300 barrels of vinegar and 1500 barrels of cider annually. The proprietor has just completed a fine brick building for storing cider.

Messrs. Hildebrandt & Schuyler are doing a large business in the manufacture of straw board.

The Grist Mill contains two runs of stones.

West Bush is situated about three miles north-west of Gloversville and contains a Methodist church, a grist mill, a blacksmith shop, a shoe shop, the County Poor House and about twenty dwellings.

The Methodist Society was organized in 1859 and the church edifice was erected the same year.

Smith's Corners, about two and a half miles north-west of Gloversville, is a hamlet with a skin mill, two glove factories and about fifteen dwellings.

Kecks Center (p. v.) is about four and a half miles west of Johnstown and contains a hotel, two stores, a grist mill, two saw mills, two straw board manufactories, a blacksmith shop and about 25 dwellings. Through the energy of Mr. Keck it will doubtless become quite a business place in time.

Keck's Saw Mill is run by water and carries one upright and a gang of twelve saws.

Colemire's Grist Mill contains two runs of stones. Hardy's saw mill one upright saw.

Bull Run is a hamlet, about three and a half miles north-west of Gloversville, and contains a hotel, a saw mill, a cabinet shop, a wagon shop, a blacksmith shop and about fifteen dwellings. It received its name in honor of two Irishmen who had a fight on the day of the memorable battle of Bull Run.

Peck's Saw Mill is located in the north-west part of the town, about six miles from Gloversville; it is run by water and contains two gangs of thirty and twenty saws respectively, also two circular saws, and turns out about 2,000,000 feet of lumber annually. Mr. J. Peck also owns and operates a saw mill and tannery in Bleeker. The mill is run by water and contains one circular and a gang of thirty-four saws. He is the largest lumber dealer in this part of the State and employs about 200 hands.

P. W. Peck's Saw Mill is located about three and a half miles north-west of Gloversville, is run by steam and cuts about 1,000,000 feet annually.

Van Nostrand's Saw Mill, at Bull Run, is propelled by steam and water and runs one circular and a gang of eighteen upright saws.

McEwens Corners, situated about two miles west of Gloversville, contains a saw mill, a grist mill, a skin mill, a glove factory, two wagon shops, two blacksmith shops, a grocery and twenty-five dwellings.

Simmons Saw Mill, near Gloversville, is run by water and carries an upright and a circular saw.

Cross Road Cheese Factory, about two miles west of Johnstown, is owned by a stock company, has a capacity for 800 cows, but has run during the last season with the milk of 300, making about 125,000 pounds of cheese. Eli J. Dorn is the secretary of the company.

Johnstown Cheese Factory, about one and a half miles west of Johnstown, is owned by a stock company, has a capacity for 600 cows, is running on 300 and makes about 125,000 pounds annually.

Frederick's Mills are located on Frederick's Creek, about five miles west of Johnstown. The saw mill contains three circular saws, an upright and a gang of 25 saws, cutting about 300,000 feet of lumber annually. The cider mill turns out about 1000 barrels annually.

Hale's Grist Mill, about two and a half miles east of Johnstown, contains two runs of stones and grinds about 7000 bushels annually.

Cold Spring Cheese Factory is owned by a stock company, it is located about two miles east of Johnstown; David Clark is the secretary of the company. A branch factory is located about two miles south, and makes about 150,000 pounds of cheese annually.

The settlement of this town was commenced in 1760 under the auspices of Sir William Johnson. He removed from his former residence at Fort Johnson, in the town of Amsterdam, to Johnson Hall in 1762. There were then about a dozen houses in the village and a hundred tenants on farms adjacent. The lands were leased by him with the intention probably of establishing a baronial estate for his family. Among the tenants were Dr. Wm. Adams; Gilbert Tice, inn-keeper; Peter Young, miller; Wm. Phillips, wagon maker; James Davis, hatter; Peter Yost, tanner; Adrian VanSickle, Maj. John Little and Zephaniah Bachelor. At the Hall Sir William was visited by the Sachems of the Six Nations for counsel and for trade, and there the presents sent out by the Government were distributed to the Indians. On these occasions he was accustomed to entertain and amuse his guests by games of various kinds, foot races, wrestling matches and other feats.

Sir William had a secretary named Lafferty, who was a good lawyer and attended to all of his legal business. An Irishman named Flood took the oversight of the farm and the general laboring interests. About a dozen slaves performed the labor of the farm. He had also a family physician who practiced but little outside of Sir William's family. A butler, a gardener, a blacksmith and a tailor, were all employed upon the premises. One of the stone wings of the Hall was used as an office by Lafferty, and the other contained a philosophical apparatus and was called Sir William's private study. He erected a school house in Johnstown soon after he located there. It stood on the corner, nearly opposite the post-office. He also erected six dwelling houses in the vicinity of the school house. They were each about thirty feet long, fronting the street, eighteen or twenty feet wide and one and a half stories high. The first teacher was an Irishman by the name of Wall. In front of the school house were the public stocks and whipping post. He erected an Episcopal church a few years later and encouraged settlements by offering land on the most reasonable terms. He also gave to the Lutherans and Calvinists fifty acres each upon which to erect a parsonage should they desire it. Rev. Richard Moseley was the first pastor of the Episcopal Church. He commenced his labors in 1771, but was compelled on account of ill health to resign in April 1774. Sir William took great interest in the improvement of stock and agriculture, introducing improved breeds of cattle and the best seed for agricultural products. At his death, in 1774, his titles, estates and offices fell into the hands of his son, Sir John Johnson.

Stone in his Life of Sir William, says: "Once every year he invited the warriors of the Six Nations down to the Hall, where a tournament of Indian games would be held for several days. Having himself a fondness for athletic exercises, he took special pains to introduce among his tenantry all the old English field sports. He was also in the habit of appointing 'sport days' at Johnstown, at which the yeomanry from the neighboring country contended in deeds of personal prowess for the prizes of the victors. On such occasions boxing and foot racing were the most common. The Baronet had also a keen sense of the ludicrous. The exercises would frequently be varied by races on horse-back, the riders seated with their faces toward the horses' tails. Young men, almost naked, chased guinea pigs whose tails were shaved and greased; those who were able to catch the pigs by the tail and hold them, winning the prize. Others ran races with their feet tied up in bags; and again matches would be made up between those who could sing the worst song, or contort their faces into the most hideous expressions, the victors in these encounters receiving a bear skin jacket or a few pounds of snuff and tobacco."

"With a view of creating a generous rivalry among the farming community, and thus developing the resources of the country, fairs were annually held at Johnstown under his own immediate supervision. On such occasions the live stock and produce brought in by the farmers would be carefully inspected by a competent committee, and those who raised the best cattle or raised the most upon an acre, would be liberally rewarded out of the Baronet's private purse."

As an indication of the summary manner in which he sometimes dealt with offenders the following is related: One of his tenants had struck and otherwise abused his aged father, the information of which reached Sir William. Having sent for the man he invited him into his private office and inquired about the old gentleman, saying he had heard that he was troublesome, and if such was the case perhaps he could not do better than to chastise him a little. "I have done it," was the reply. Sir William immediately locked the door, put the key in his pocket, took down a horsewhip and gave the man a severe flogging; then opening the door, said: "Go home, you villain, and flog your father again."

The remains of Sir William were, at his death, placed in his own private tomb, under the altar of the stone church which he had erected. In 1836 the church was destroyed by fire, and when it was rebuilt the site was changed so that the space occupied by the altar was left in the open space outside of the church. The precise location of the tomb was in consequence of this, unknown for several years. In the summer of 1862 Rev. Mr. Kellogg, the rector of the Episcopal Church in Johnstown, succeeded in finding the tomb. It was very well preserved, though some of the bricks composing the top had fallen in. A few pieces of the mahogany coffin were found, with some wrought nails. A plain gold ring was also found, marked on the inside "June 1739, 16." The skull and the bones of the legs and arms were in a good state of preservation; some other portions of the skeleton were also found. These remains were inclosed in a hollow block of granite, sealed up and replaced in the tomb with appropriate ceremonies. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Alonzo Potter, of the State of New York, officiated on the occasion.

The population of this town in 1865 was 9,805, and its area 47,640 acres.

The following characteristic anecdote is related of Sir William: While residing at Fort Johnson he made some alteration in his grist mill near by, and put in a new pair of mill-stones. A German named Francis Salts, who was erecting a mill on Schoharie Creek, a few miles above its mouth, called on Sir William to purchase the old grinders. The price was agreed upon, and after some conversation about the terms of payment, the Baronet told him to put his mill in operation and when the debt became due if he would sing a song that pleased him, no further payment would be exacted. The mill was soon in operation, and when the time of payment arrived, Salts, who was quite a singer, called on the Baronet to discharge the debt. Sir William had invited in some of his friends, and Salts sang song after song to the great delight of all except his creditor, whose countenance remained unmoved. At length having exhausted his catalogue of German songs, he thrust his hand into his pocket and drew forth a pouch containing the cash, singing in the German as he did so in no very good humor:

"Money bag, money bag, you must come out;
The man he will be paid."

"That will do, now put up your money," said Sir William, as he laughed heartily at the song. "Are you paid?" asked Salts, with evident surprise, as he returned the purse to his pocket. "Yes, yes, that will do, that's the best of the whole," said the Baronet, and sent Salts away rejoicing.

We have already given an account of the capture of the Sammons family. In the afternoon of the same day, Sir John returned to the Hall, and while the prisoners were strongly guarded, many of the Tory inhabitants embraced the opportunity to visit their friends and relatives who composed to some extent the force of Sir John. Mrs. Hare, the widow of a British officer, who occupied apartments at the Hall, interceded with Sir John and secured the release of some of her friends who were among the prisoners. Among these was Thomas Sammons, who had pretended to be very lame. Jacob and Frederick Sammons were carried into captivity, and imprisoned at Fort Chamblee. About forty prisoners were confined here. Jacob Sammons very soon began to contrive how to escape, but most of his fellow prisoners thought the project too daring to succeed. After this the two brothers began to plan for their own escape without regard to others. The prisoners were supplied with an allowance of spruce beer, to procure which two prisoners were detailed daily, under a guard of five soldiers, to bring the cask from the brewery. The plan was to contrive to be taken together to the brewery and at a given signal to break and run, thinking that while the guard were priming their muskets, they would be so far away as to stand a good chance to escape their shots. The plan was carried out and proved successful, though twenty or thirty shots were fired at them. They had agreed to meet, in case of separation, at a certain place at ten o'clock that night. Jacob, who had concealed himself in a thicket not far from the Fort, lay until dark, when he proceeded to the spot, where he remained for some time calling aloud for Frederick until he despaired of meeting him. It subsequently appeared that he was too early and Frederick kept his appointment. We have not the space to relate all of the hardships and hairbreadth escapes before reaching his home. Without food or the means of making a fire, he proceeded along the eastern shore of Lake Champlain, living upon birch bark for four days, chewing the tender twigs. He then caught a few little fish, but as he had no means of cooking them he ate one and threw the rest away. His feet had become scratched, bruised and so sore that he could scarcely travel, and to add to his misery great swarms of mosquitoes continually invested him. A duck eaten raw made him one meal, but the eggs upon which she sat were too far advanced to be palatable. On the tenth day he came to a small lake, where, almost exhausted, he sat down, bathed his feet, and felt that he could never rise. At length, somewhat refreshed, he started again and was met by a still greater enemy in the shape of a rattlesnake, which fastened his fangs in the calf of his leg. Quick as thought, he removed the flesh around the wound, with his pocket knife and then killed and dressed the snake for eating. Remaining here for several days to recruit his strength he succeeded in making a fire which somewhat relieved him, though he was compelled to creep on his hands and knees for fuel. On the fourth day of his sojourn here he resolved to proceed on his journey, but could not without some protection for his feet. To remedy this he cut up his hat and waistcoat, and binding them to his feet, hobbled along. A journey of two days more brought him to a house in the town of Pittsford, Vt. Thus after fifteen days of untold suffering he was again where he could recruit his strength and prepare for the remaining part of his journey. He proceeded to Albany, and thence to Schenectady, where he found his family.

The adventures of Frederick were not less marked and worthy of notice. It was near sunset when they left the Fort, and at the appointed time Frederick repaired to the place agreed upon and called so loud for his brother that the guard was turned out. The brothers had agreed to cross the Sorel River and proceed up on the east side, but a misunderstanding as to the place of crossing prevented their meeting here. Having crossed over, Frederick killed a bullock, and taking one of the hind quarters upon his shoulder, marched off into the forest. Here he proceeded to dress his beef and make a knapsack of the skin, and then proceeded on his journey. At a distance of five or six miles he called at a house occupied by a French family, but was unable to procure supplies of any kind except some tinder. Proceeding on until night, he stopped, kindled a fire, smoked and dried his meat, which he cut in small slices for the purpose. On the fourth day he reached the lake, where he found a canoe which he launched, and hoped to find some relief from the tediousness of his journey. His hopes proved vain, for the canoe soon parted and he was obliged to proceed by land. At the close of the seventh day, when he supposed he was within two days' travel of a settlement, he kindled a fire and lay down in fine health and spirits. Before morning he was taken with a severe attack of pleurisy. A drenching rain came on and continued for three days, during which he lay helpless, without shelter, fire, or sustenance of any kind. On the fourth day he attempted to take some food, but found it too offensive to eat. He then crept to a stagnant pool for water to quench his burning thirst, and found it swarming with frogs, which he devoured raw, not being able to make a fire. Here he lay for fourteen days, expecting to die. Lying upon a high bluff that overlooked the lake, he placed his hat upon a pole hoping that it might attract the attention of some vessel. This hope was realized and he was taken on board the vessel, senseless and speechless. On coming to his senses he was informed that he was on board of the enemy's vessel lying at Crown Point. Here he remained sixteen days, during which he had the satisfaction of learning that his brother Jacob had arrived at Schenectady. He also learned of Jacob's suffering from the bite of a rattlesnake, and that during their greatest suffering they were only a few miles apart. His recovery was very slow, and before he was able to walk he was taken back to his old place, Fort Chamblee, where he was heavily ironed and suffered untold hardships, the iron eating to the bones of his legs. Captain Steele, the officer in command, would not allow the irons to be removed until he received a peremptory order from General St. Leger, who was in command at St. John's, and then the hand-cuffs were not removed. In November 1781, the prisoners were transferred to an island on the St. Lawrence, called at the time Prison Island, and situated in the rapids above Montreal.

In the spring of 1782, Sammons organized a conspiracy with nine of his fellow prisoners to make their escape, but being discovered, their purpose was defeated, and Sammons, being the leader, was again put in irons, but they were removed at the end of five weeks. Impatient of his imprisonment, he induced a fellow prisoner named McMullen to join him in another attempt to escape. The plan was to plunge into the river and swim to the opposite shore. About three fourths of a mile below the island, the rapids were such as to render the river impassable to boats, but being expert swimmers they succeeded in making the perilous voyage. They attempted to land about two miles below the island but were unable to on account of the current, and were driven two miles further, when they landed at a point called by the Canadians "The Devil's Point." Each had preserved a knife and a tinderbox, and the next thing was to supply themselves with tinder. This was accomplished by entering a house and helping themselves after frightening the old lady, who was the sole occupant, so that she ran out and alarmed the villagers. After meeting with some ludicrous adventures in their efforts to supply themselves with food and other necessaries for their journey, they plunged into the unbroken forest, and after a journey of twelve days emerged from the woods within six miles of the point for which Sammons, without chart or compass, had directed his course. Their provisions lasted but a few days, and they then subsisted chiefly on roots and herbs. Their clothes were nearly all worn and torn from their bodies, so that when they arrived in Schenectady they were nearly naked. The people were at first alarmed at their appearance, but on learning who they were, rallied to their assistance, and supplied their wants. Sammons learned that his father and family had removed to Ulster County. On the morning after his arrival at Schenectady, he wrote a letter to his father and sent it by an officer who was on his way to Philadelphia. The letter was left at the house of a Mr. DeWitt, about five miles from the residence of Mr. Sammons, who had long given up his son Frederick as dead. The same night upon which the letter was left, Jacob Sammons dreamed that his brother Frederick was living and that there was a letter from him at Mr. DeWitt's, announcing the fact. The dream was repeated twice and the contents of the letter were so strongly impressed upon his mind that he repeated what he believed to be the very language it contained. The other members of the family laughed at his credulity, but so strongly impressed was he that he repaired to the place designated, and asked for the letter. Mr. DeWitt looked for it and told him there was none. Not satisfied he requested a further search, when it was found behind a barrel where it had fallen. Jacob then requested Mr. DeWitt to open the letter and examine it while he recited the contents. This was done and the letter was recited word for word. This singular circumstance is established beyond a doubt.

MAYFIELD, named from the Mayfield Patent, granted June 27, 1770, was formed from Caughnawaga, March 12, 1793. Wells (Hamilton Co.) was taken off in 1805, and another portion of Mayfield was annexed to that town in 1812. A part was annexed to Perth in 1842. It lies on the north border of the County, east of the center, and extends nearly to the south line. Its surface in the north part is broken by mountains, rising from 1,500 to 2,000 feet above tide. These elevations are of primary formation with rounded summits, the highest peaks having steep declivities. The central and south parts are rolling and generally susceptible of cultivation. Stony Creek flows through the north-west corner, Mayfield Creek through near the center, Kennitto Creek through the south-east corner, and Cranberry Creek in the east part. The soil is sandy and gravelly and in some places strewn with bowlders. The soil in the valleys is alluvial with some clayey loam.

Mayfield, (p. v.) situated near the center of the town, contains two churches, a hotel, three stores, a carriage shop, two blacksmith shops, two glove manufactories, a steel trap manufactory, a harness shop, two shoe shops, a saw mill, a grist mill and about 60 dwellings.

Vails Mills, (p. v.) in the south-east part, contains a hotel, a store, a wagon shop, two blacksmith shops, a tannery, a saw mill cutting 250,000 feet, a grist mill grinding 75,000 bushels annually, and about twenty dwellings. The tannery turns out 8,000 sides of leather annually.

Riceville, on Mayfield Creek, contains a grocery, two skin mills turning out 50,000 skins each annually, and about twenty dwellings.

Jackson Summit is a hamlet containing a tannery, capable of turning out about 18,000 sides of leather annually, and a saw mill with a capacity for cutting 800,000 feet of lumber annually. Both these establishments are owned and run by I. Jackson & Co.

Closeville is a hamlet in the east part, on Kennitto Creek, and contains a paper mill for the manufacture of wrapping and straw board paper, making about 100 tons of the former and 150 tons of the latter annually.

The Saw Mill of David W. Hathaway, on Mayfield Creek, cuts about 300,000 feet annually.

The Grist Mill of E. A. Elphee, on Mayfield Creek, has two runs of stones and grinds about 12,000 bushels annually.

The Saw Mill of B. B. Vandenburg and Isaac Brown cuts about 70,000 feet annually.

The Tannery of William Kennedy, in the north-east part of the town, turns out about 5,000 sides of leather annually.

The settlement of this town was commenced about 1760, under the patronage of Sir William Johnson, on the old road leading from Tribes Hill to the Sacondaga, and was called Philadelphia Bush. The first settlers who obtained a title from Sir William of one hundred acres of land each, were two brothers named Solomon and Seely Woodworth, Truman Christie, two brothers named Reynolds, and others named Dunham, Cadman, Canfield and Flock. Christie was a Scotchman, but most of the other settlers were enterprising Yankees. The Woodworths were from Salisbury, Connecticut. Seely settled near the present site of Mayfield Corners, and his brother about a mile to the westward of him. Solomon Woodworth was killed by the Indians in the Revolution. Mr. Dunham was also killed by the Indians, and his house was plundered but not burned. Dunham had a son in Captain Woodworth's company who shared the fate of his commander. Nathaniel Conners, Michael Croman, two families named Walters, Peter Whitman, Michael Hayes, George Cough, John Anderson and some others, settled here previous to the Revolution.

These settlers were at first obliged to go to Johnstown for their milling. To accommodate them and some other settlers Sir William erected a small grist mill at Mayfield in 1773 or 1774. It was either burned during the war or allowed to go into decay by neglect. The mill property was confiscated and at the close of the war purchased by a son of Rev. Dr. Romeyn, who rebuilt the mill and put it in operation. Some of the early settlers after the war were William and Robert Jackson, David Knapp, Alvin McDongal, Peter and John McKinley, Duncan Anderson, Isaac Bemas, Captain and Major Van Beuren, Douw and Jellis Fonda, Samuel Lefferts, William Vail, David and Luke Woodworth and Jonah Bartlett. Soon after Romeyn put his mill in operation, Thomas Shankland erected a grist mill in the present town of Providence. The bolts in these mills were turned by hand, and it was the practice for customers to turn the bolt for their own grist, a task by no means agreeable.

The first birth in the town was that of Mary Cough in 1766. Christian Furtenback taught a German school in 1771.

The first church organization was Dutch Reformed, in 1792. In March 1827 it was reorganized as a Presbyterian Church, with 56 members, and has at present about 100 members. Rev. Jeremiah Wood, the present pastor, commenced his pastorate in 1826 and has continued without intermission since that time.

The Methodist Church of Mayfield was organized about the year 1816, with about fifteen members. The present membership is 80.

The population of this town in 1865 was 2,280, and its area 37,208 acres.

NORTHAMPTON was formed from Broadalbin, February 1, 1799. It is the north-east corner town of the County. The surface is hilly, the hills in the north rising about a thousand feet above the valleys. The Sacondaga Vlaie occupies several thousand acres in the south part. Sacondaga River flows south-east through the town, in a valley from one fourth of a mile to a mile in width. Mayfield Creek flows east through the south part. The soil in the valley is a rich alluvium and upon the hills a sandy loam. In some places it is stony and very hard to cultivate. Shell marl abounds in the bed of the Vlaie.

Northville, (p. v.) situated in the north part of the town, contains three churches, three hotels, six stores, two wagon shops, a marble factory, an iron foundry, a glove and mitten factory, an undertaking and furniture shop, five cooper shops, several other mechanic shops of various kinds and about 800 inhabitants.

The Glove Factory of Bradley & Lobdale turns out about 1500 dozen pairs of gloves and mittens annually.

Northville Grist Mill, about half a mile from the village, has four runs of stones and grinds about 1,500 bushels annually.

Parkville is a hamlet about a mile north-west of Northville, on the Sacondaga River, and contains a large tannery, turning out about 18,000 sides of sole leather annually. This is the largest in the County and is owned by Wm. L. Wright.

The Saw Mill of S. Hubbell cuts about 400,000 feet annually.

Northampton, (p. v.) known as the Fish House, is situated in the south-east corner of the town and contains three churches, two hotels, three stores, a cabinet shop, a carriage shop, a shoe shop, a blacksmith shop and about forty dwellings.

The Presbyterian Church of Northampton was organized September 5, 1808. This was the first religious organization in the town. In 1814 it was changed to the Northampton Union Presbyterian Society. Their first house of worship was dedicated October 17, 1816. A new edifice is now being erected on the site of the old one.

The Methodist Church of Northville was organized in 1821, with about fifty members. The church edifice was erected in 1826, and enlarged and re-dedicated in 1849. The present membership is about 130.

The Presbyterian Church at Northville was organized in August 1849 with fourteen members. The church edifice was erected in 1853. The present membership is sixty.

The Baptist Church of Northville was organized in 1802 with about a dozen members, and has now 192.

Osborn's Bridge, (p. o.) in the south-east part of the town, contains a Methodist church and about a dozen houses.

Cranberry Creek is a post office in the south-west part of the town.

The first settlement was commenced in 1770 under the auspices of Sir William Johnson, who erected a summer residence which was called Fish House. Mr. Godfrey Shew, a German, became the first permanent settler. For some time previous to his removal to Fish House, he had lived a mile west of Johnson Hall. The house was burned during the Revolution, but the place is still known by its original name, though the post office is Northampton. John Eikler, Lent and Nicholas Lewis, Robert Martin, Zebulon Alger, families named Ketchum and Chadwick, Asahel Parker, John Trumbull, John Rosevelt, Alexander St. John and John Fay were among the other early settlers. Soon after the Revolution, Zadoc Sherwood and Samuel Olmsted settled at Northville; and Garret VanNess, Abel Scribner and John Brown, three Revolutionary soldiers, settled near Osborn's Bridge. The other early settlers were Thomas Foster, Daniel and Timothy Ressequie, John McNeil, Calvin Young, Adam Olmsted, Cornelius Richardson, Elihu Coleman, Sylvanus Sweet, Robert Palmer, John Randall, Eli Sprague, Green Wells, Cornelius Harving, Felix Porter and John Dennison, most of whom were from New England.

The first birth was that of Godfrey Shew Jr., about two years before the breaking out of the Revolution. The first marriage was that of Alexander St. John and Martha Scribner, about 1708; and the first recorded death was that of Gideon Olmsted.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,903, and its area 17,755 acres.

OPPENHEIM was formed from Palatine, (Montgomery County,) March 18, 1808. St. Johnsville (Montgomery Co.,) was taken off in 1838. It is the south-west corner town of the County. Its surface is a hilly upland, inclining gradually to the south-west. In the north-east part the hills rise from 1,200 to 1,500 feet above the Mohawk. East Canada Creek flows south along the west border, and Fish Creek flows through the north-west corner. The other principal streams are Little Sprite, Crum, Zimmerman and Fox Creeks, all flowing south-west. The soil in the south-west is clay, in the south-east a clayey loam, and in the center and north a light sandy and gravelly loam. Boulders are scattered over some portion of the town in great numbers, and primary rocks appear in the north. Limestone has been extensively quarried in the south-west part.

Oppenheim, (p. v.) near the center of the town, contains a church, two hotels, two stores, a saw mill, two blacksmith shops and about 100 inhabitants.

Brockett's Bridge, (p. o.) on the East Canada Creek, contains a cheese box factory.

Lottville (p. o.) contains a saw mill.

Crum Creek (p. o.) contains two churches and a saw mill.

Middle Sprite (p. o.) contains a store, a saw mill and about a dozen houses.

This town was first settled by Germans, previous to the Revolution. The first settler was Rudolph Yonker, followed soon after by John Shaver, Jacob Yuron, Moses Johnson, Daniel Dickman, William Alterburgh, Henry Buckdorf, Frederick Billinger and Simeon Schuyler, in the south part of the town. Benjamin Berry, Peter Clive, Jacob Ladue, James Johnson, William Bean, Richard Hewett and Daniel Guile, from New England, settled in the town about 1797. Moses Johnson, from New Hampshire, came into the town Jan. 21, 1794, with his family, Elizabeth, Susannah, Lydia and Moses, and located on the farm now owned by Emerthew Johnson. Mr. Johnson had been here during the previous summer, opened a small clearing, erected a log house and covered it with bark and slabs split from trees. He paid $2,50 per acre for 219 acres. He came with two horses, but was obliged to sell one of them to purchase provisions for the first summer. Moses Johnson, the son of this early settler, is still living with his son Zephaniah. He is eighty-four years of age and has raised a family of thirteen children, most of whom are now living in this County. The names of these children are as follows: Serntnew, Emerthew, Eunice, Zennis, Dorcas, Moses, Obadiah, Sherabiah, Ezron, Enoch, Polly, Keziah and Zephaniah. Jacob Claus settled in 1800, where Peter J. Claus now lives; Christian House, a Revolutionary soldier, settled where Mary Claus now lives; and his son, John C. House, settled where Daniel House now lives. Henry H. Hayes settled where Elias Hayes now lives, about 1800; Gordon Turner settled in the north part of the town the same year, and Peter Clive settled where K. Clive now lives, about 1796; John Rarich settled in 1798 where H. Turner now lives; Peter Mosher, where Leonard Mosher lives, in 1796; Andrew Claus settled in 1798 where Jacob A. Claus lives; and Daniel Guile, from Saratoga County, settled where John Ward lives, the same year. Mr. Guile was a soldier of the Revolution; his son William now lives in town and is 77 years old. Peter Claus, from Rensselaer Co., settled in 1801 where William Failing lives; he purchased one hundred acres of Waggoner at $2,20 per acre. Daniel Ingersoll, from Saratoga Co., settled in 1794 where Henry Ingersoll now lives; Marcus Dusler, in 1796, where Alonzo Dusler now lives; Frederick Baum settled in 1791 where Jacob F. Baum lives. The last two were Revolutionary soldiers. Mr. Baum purchased one hundred acres of Klock & Nellis Patent, of Philip Helmer, for $1,25 per acre. Peter Davis settled during the war, where Benjamin Crouse lives. He was killed by the Indians while at work in the field. His wife escaped, but his daughter was taken prisoner with a man named Pring. They were carried to Canada, and after suffering imprisonment for some time, escaped and were afterwards married. Harvey Nellis settled in 1792 where David Handy lives; he was a soldier in the war of 1812.

William Attleburgh kept the first inn; Andrew Zabriskie the first store, and John Beardsley built the first mill. Mr. Beardsley was the pioneer millwright of Central New York, and took an active part in the improvements of this class.

The following are the names of some of the soldiers from this town who fell victims to the Great Rebellion; John Williams, Isaac Yonker, John Ward, David Doxtader, Andrew Smith, Daniel Perry, Irvin Austin, Reuben Walrath, Hartley Yonker and Harmon Cool.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,213, and its area 30,540 acres.

PERTH was formed from Amsterdam, Montgomery Co., April 18, 1831. Parts of Mayfield and Broadalbin were annexed February 17, 1842. It is the south-east corner town of the County. It has a gently rolling surface and is watered by Chuc-tenunda Creek and several other small streams. The soil is chiefly a clay loam. Limestone crops out in some places, but the prevailing rock is slate.

West Galway, (p. v.) situated on the border of Perth, Broadalbin and Galway, (Saratoga Co.,) contains three churches, two stores, a hotel, a skin mill, a glove and mitten factory, a shoe shop, several other mechanic shops and about 30 dwellings.

The Skin Mill of James R. Calderwood turns out about 75,000 skins annually.

The Glove and Mitten Factory of the same turns out about 5,000 dozen annually.

The Tannery of George Donnan turns out about 800 sides of leather and about 500 skins annually.

Perth Center, (Perth p. o.) in the north part, contains a church, a hotel, a blacksmith shop, a cheese factory making 50,000 pounds annually, a saw mill and about a dozen dwellings.

West Perth (p. o.) contains about a dozen dwellings.

The first settlement of the town was commenced about 1760, on the road from Tribes Hill to Sacondaga. The first settlers of whom we find any record were Charles Mereness, Richard Bowen, Marcus Reese, Michael Swobe, Francis Frey and — Davis, all of whom settled previous to 1770. Among those who settled soon after the Revolution were Lawrence E. Van Allen, Henry Van Valkenburgh, Ira Benedict, Conrad and Francis Winne, Derby Newman, James and William Robb and Peter Vosburgh. Daniel McIntyre was one of the first settlers at Perth Center, and James Ford and — McMartin at West Galway.

A Congregational Church was organized in 1790, and in 1793 adopted the Presbyterian form of government and has since been known as the First Presbyterian Church. The present membership is 122.

The United Presbyterian Church was organized in March 1867 with 26 members, and the church edifice was erected the next year. The present membership is 37.

The Evangelical Dutch Church, in the north-east corner of the town, was organized in 1867 with about 50 members; the present number is about 60.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,053, and its area 16,305 acres.

STRATFORD was formed from Palatine, Montgomery Co., April 10, 1805. A part of Caroga was taken off in 1842. It is the north-west corner town in the County. Its surface is a high rolling and hilly upland, from 800 to 1,200 feet above the Mohawk, and in the extreme north it rises to 2,000 feet above tide and has a general inclination towards the south-west. East Canada Creek flows through the north-west corner and forms part of the western boundary. The other principal streams are North, Ayers and Fish Creeks. Several small lakes are in the north part, the principal of which are North Creek Lake, Spectacle, Long, Dexter, Ayers and Pleasant Lakes. The soil in the south-west and in the valley of the East Canada Creek is a clayey loam, and in other parts it is light sandy and gravelly.

Stratford, (p. v.) in the west part of the town, on East Canada Creek, contains several mills and is connected with Devereux on the opposite side of the Creek. The population is about 150.

Emmonsburgh, (p. o.) in the south-west part of the town, contains about a dozen dwellings.

Lumbering is extensively carried on, there being seventeen saw mills in different parts of the town.

Johnson's Saw Mill, on Sprite Creek, in the south-east part of the town, contains one gang and several other saws. Shull's Mill is also on Sprite Creek, and Stewart's and Foster's Mills are on Fish Creek. Lepper's Mill is on Ayers Creek, in the central part of the town, and Bleekman's Mill is on the same creek, in the west part of the town.

This town comprises parts of Glen, Bleeker & Co's Patent, one tier of lots of Lott & Low's Patent, and a part of the Jerseyfield Patent, granted to Henry Glen and others, April 12, 1770.

The first settlement was commenced by Samuel Bennett in 1800. John Wells, Amos Kinney, Eli Winchell, Nathan Gurney, Eleazer, Levi and Samuel Bliss, Abial Kibbe and Daniel Shotttekirk, settled on the Johnstown road; and Stephen and John Wilcox, Amasa Chappell and Abiathar Moshur, in other parts of the town.

The first birth was that of Lansing Wells in 1800; the first marriage that of Samuel Ellis and Polly Gurney, and the first death that of Jesse Wilson, who was killed by the fall of a tree, December 25, 1802 or 1803. Samuel Bennett kept the first inn, and Sanders Lansing, son of one of the patentees, built the first grist mill, on Fish Creek, in 1810. Daniel Cross built the first tannery, in 1812.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,110, and its area 46,819 acres.

WILLIAM KEGG,
LASSELLSVILLE, - Montgomery Co.,
MASTER MECHANIC!

*Inventor and Patentee of Air Suction Churn, R.
 R. Spike Jack, and Cattle Gag.*

Kegg's Ne Plus Ultra Churn is claimed to make 10 per cent more Butter, for the simple reason that a large amount of air is drawn in and forced through the cream at each stroke of the Dash. The Dasher largely increases the surface space which strikes the cream, producing remarkable agitation. The Dash is worked easily with a lever, much labor saved, a larger quantity and better quality of Butter always made. County and State Rights for sale. H. F. BUTLER, Salesman for Churn in Montgomery Co.

D. C. VAN CAMP,

PROPRIETOR

LIVERY STABLES,

Corner of Mohawk and Centre Streets,
FORT PLAIN, N. Y.

Would respectfully call the attention of strangers to his fine Stud of Horses and Superior Vehicles. The best of roadsters and latest styles of Carriages always at your service at reasonable charges. Would also take this opportunity of thanking old patrons, and beg a continuance, with the assurance of best efforts to please. I am also proprietor of the

Trotting Stallion
North Star!

Formerly known as GEN. MOIT.

This powerful and well-bred Horse will make the Season of 1870 at my Stable.

TERMS:—$50 TO INSURE FOAL.

Pedigree:—NORTH STAR was sired by the North Horse, who took the $200 Premium over Geo. M. Patchen, at Powelton, Pa., 1856. He by Hill's Black Hawk, he by Sherman's Morgan. North Star's dam is by Vermont Hambletonian, he by Messenger. North Star is own brother to Gen. Knox, (whose owner has refused $30,000,) and half brother to Lady Sherman, Plato, Tom Sargent, Lady Allen, and many other good ones. He has trotted to the pole in 2:27, with a running mate.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

Luke Dievendorf, dealer in Buckeye Mowers and Reapers, Sulky Horse Rakes, Platform Scales, Clothes Wringers, Force Pumps, &c., Fultonville, Montgomery Co., N. Y., publishes a card on page 156. Most of the articles kept by Mr. D. are too well known to need any recommendation from us, having been tested by multitudes in every town. Putnam's Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer deserves more than a passing notice, combining as it does more excellences than any other Wringer now before the public. Those in need of any of the articles kept on sale by Mr. Dievendorf will find him an honorable and fair man to deal with.

John H. Gardiner, proprietor of Livery Stable, Fultonville, N. Y., publishes a card on page 156. He keeps a first-class establishment, furnishing some of the best turnouts to be found in the County. Those who wish to ride for pleasure or business will find him ever ready to accommodate them at reasonable rates. Let those who doubt the truth of what we have said call and see for themselves.

John S. Hill, Carriage and Sign Painter, Fonda, N. Y., advertises on page 164. Mr. Hill, although a young man, has already gained for himself an enviable reputation for the skill and taste displayed in his work. We commend him to the patronage of all who wish for first-class work, and feel assured that in so doing we are conferring a favor upon the public as well as upon Mr. Hill. Give him a call.

Sturtevant & Wheelock, proprietors of the Bazaar, 159 Main street, Amsterdam, N. Y., keep a large stock of Confectionery, Fruits, Nuts &c., which they deal out to their customers in quantities to suit. Their stock of Canned Fruit, Oysters, Crackers, and other goods in their line, is such as to tempt the palate of an epicure. Goods supplied wholesale and retail. His card appears on page 124.

The Amsterdam Recorder, published by A. Z. Neff and edited by C. P. Winegar, is advertised on page 132. This is the only paper published at Amsterdam, has a large circulation and is well worthy of the patronage of the community. As an advertising medium we commend it to the patronage of the business community. The Job Printing department of the office is furnished with facilities for executing all kinds of work.

Robert Blood, Tobacconist, No. 173 Main Street, Amsterdam, N. Y., has a central location at the post office, where he is prepared to supply his customers with a great variety of all goods in his line. His long experience in the business enables him to make the choicest selections of goods, thereby giving his customers the benefit of his experience. He studies the wants of his customers and knows how to supply them. By close application and honorable dealing in all his business relations he has rendered himself worthy of public patronage. "Full weights and your money's worth" forms the basis of his transactions. His goods are selected with care and his prices are uniform and reasonable. Let those who use the weed in any form give him a call and see for themselves if he is not reliable. His advertisement appears on page 124.

Amsterdam Academy, advertised on page 166, presents a fine cut of building and surroundings. This institution is beautifully located and admirably adapted to the purpose designed. It is in charge of an efficient corps of teachers, with C. C. Wetsell, Principal. Those who wish to send their daughters where they will enjoy the best educational facilities and the comforts of a good home at the same time, will do well to patronize the Amsterdam Academy. The rooms are carpeted and well supplied with furniture, all new and of excellent quality. For particulars see advertisement and send for circular.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

Canajoharie Radll and Tax Payers' Journal, published by L. F. Allen & Co., is one of the largest and best papers in the County. It contains a great variety of reading matter, including local items, and is worthy of a large patronage. The Job Department is well furnished with the facilities for doing first-class work. See advertisement on page 148.

M. M. Mason, proprietors of Livery Stable, rear of the Arnold House, Amsterdam, N. Y., publishes a card on page 124. He keeps good horses and carriages, just such as you want for a nice drive in town or out. We cordially commend Mr. Mason to the public, believing that he will satisfy all reasonable demands at moderate prices. Give him a call.

William Kegg, Master Mechanic, Lassellville, Montgomery Co., N. Y., publishes a card on page 224. He is the patentee and inventor of several valuable articles, among which are the "Air Suction Churn," R. R. Spike Jack and Cattle Gag. The Churn is said to make ten per cent more butter than others now in use. Those who wish to make money by introducing this to the farmers should address the proprietor.

John L. Ellithorp, dealer in Fashionable Furniture, Canajoharie, N. Y., publishes an illustrated advertisement on page 140, setting forth a great variety of useful and ornamental articles. Mr. Ellithorp buys for cash and gives his customers the benefit of his good bargains. We cordially commend all in want of plain or ornamental furniture to call at Ellithorp's Ware Rooms, in Sayles' Building, south side of the canal, and feel assured that they will get their money's worth. Call and see.

E. & J. A. Eldrett, Carriage Makers, Port Jackson, N. Y., advertise on page 272. We take pleasure in calling the attention of the community to the carriages and sleighs manufactured by Messrs. Eldrett, as they exhibit superior workmanship and are made of the best materials. Those who wish for first class work will consult their own interest by calling on the proprietors of this establishment and purchasing to suit their taste.

J. H. Nellis, Apiarian, Canajoharie, N. Y., advertises on page 156. Mr. Nellis gives his attention to breeding Italian Queen Bees, which are always on hand and for sale. Those who have given attention to the habits of bees pronounce these far superior to the common Black Queens and well worthy of the attention of all interested in bee culture. For particulars send for Circular.

The Eldridge House, located at Canajoharie, N. Y., under the proprietorship of C. H. Lovett, provides a comfortable home for business men and others who have occasion to visit this place. A free Omnibus conveys passengers to and from the cars, and while at the house guests receive every attention necessary to make them feel at home. Those who patronize this House will be convinced that Mr. Lovett "can keep a hotel." See card, page 164.

L. B. Clark & Son, proprietors of Steam Planing Mill, Canajoharie, N. Y., are prepared to furnish their customers with Lumber of any kind, Sash, Doors, Blinds, &c., of as good quality and at as low a rate as any other establishment in the County. Their facilities for dressing to order all kinds of Lumber are unsurpassed. For further particulars see advertisement on page 156.

H. M. Seaman, Carriage Trimmer, Fort Plain, N. Y., whose card appears on page 172, has returned to Fort Plain and is prepared to receive and execute with dispatch all orders that may come to him from his old patrons or others. We especially commend Mr. Seaman to the farmers and carriage makers of Fulton and Montgomery Counties, who are not prepared to do their own trimming. He is a good mechanic, thoroughly understands his business and will satisfy all the reasonable demands of his customers. He keeps on hand a good assortment of Enameled and Patent Leather, Cloth, Fringes, Laces and other articles used in carriage trimming, which he will sell at reasonable rates.

Dr. L. Klock, Dentist, Fonda, N. Y., advertises on page 164. Those who are afflicted with decayed teeth will be glad to learn where they can have sound ones inserted or have the old ones filled so that they may still perform good service. We commend Dr. Klock to all who need the services of a Dentist, as one who is prepared to execute in the best manner all work in the line of his profession. Give him a call.

St. Johnsville Woolen Mills are located in the village of St. Johnsville, and are turning out various kinds of Woolen Goods for their customers. The proprietors, Messrs. Sidney Smith & Son, keep constantly on hand a large assortment of Cloths, Flannels, &c., for sale or exchange for wool. They make an excellent quality of goods and dispose of them at such rates as to make it an object for this community to patronize them. For further particulars we refer our patrons to the advertisement on page 201.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

The Mohawk Valley Register and Fort Plain Journal, published at Fort Plain, N. Y., is one of the largest papers in the County, contains a good variety of news and miscellaneous matter, and as a family journal is worthy of the patronage of the community. The Job Department is well furnished and not surpassed in its facilities for all kinds of work outside of the cities of the State. Business men will find it a convenient medium for introducing their business to the community through its advertising columns.— See advertisement on page 296.

S. A. Field, proprietor of Livery Stable, Canajoharie, N. Y., keeps good horses and carriages, which he will furnish to order at short notice. Mr. F.'s stable is one of the best furnished in this vicinity and we are confident that those wishing anything in this line will be satisfied with the teams and the charges. He gives special attention to furnishing carriages for Funerals, Excursions &c. He runs a first-class line of Stages to and from Sharon Springs. See card, page 140.

C. B. Freeman & Co., proprietors of the Fultonville Steam Mills, manufacture every description of Lumber, Doors, Sash, Blinds, Brackets, Cheese Boxes, &c., as well as Flour and Feed. Dealers in lumber and builders will find everything in the line of Lumber at reasonable prices. In the line of Flour and Feed they manufacture and keep on hand for sale the best to be found in the market. Their facilities are unequaled in these parts and we are confident that all who give them their patronage will find Messrs. Freeman reliable and honorable business men. For advertisement see page 215.

Dr. P. Sloan, Dental Surgeon, Canajoharie, N. Y., publishes a card on page 172. Nothing is more beautiful to look upon or more convenient for use than a good set of teeth, yet multitudes will allow their teeth to decay, suffer from the tooth ache and finally submit to their extraction, when by proper care and attention they might be preserved. Let those who have lost their teeth call on Dr. Sloan and have others inserted that can hardly be distinguished from natural ones except from their more beautiful appearance.

John Winning, manufacturer and wholesale dealer in Leather, Fort Plain, N. Y., publishes a card on page 288. We commend Mr. Winning to the favorable notice of all who use leather for manufacturing purposes, feeling assured that they will find the price and quality such as to suit. Mr. W. pays cash for hides. Give him a call.

John D. Wendell, Attorney and Counselor at Law, Fort Plain, N. Y., publishes a card on page 172. Those who have occasion to employ an Attorney will find Mr. Wendell a thoroughly competent and reliable man. His office is corner of Main and Canal Streets.

Edward C. Walrath, House and Sign Painter, Canajoharie, N. Y., is prepared to do all work in this line in a manner satisfactory to all reasonable customers. In the line of Graining and Paper Hanging, his customers will find him prepared to do first-class work at prices as low as can be afforded. His card appears on page 172.

J. R. Faling & Son, Iron Founders and Machinists, Fort Plain, N. Y., manufacture Iron Fence and Machinery of all kinds. Those who wish for any kind of job work in this line will find it for their advantage to call on Messrs. Faling & Son, who thoroughly understand the business in all its departments. They advertise on page 288.

J. & F. B. Garrett, Wholesale and Retail dealers in Printing, Writing, Wrapping, Tissue, Roll and Fancy Papers, Printers' Supplies, Shipping Cards, Blank Books, &c., at No. 3 West Fayette street, Syracuse, have built up a heavy trade in their line, extending from Harrisburgh, in Pennsylvania, to the Canadian border. We have dealt considerably with this establishment, and have invariably been gratified in having our orders promptly filled, and always with just the article required. See card, page 304.

Howe's Never-Falling Ague Cure and Tonic Bitters, and Howe's Concentrated Syrup, are prepared under the personal supervision of Dr. C. B. Howe, the proprietor, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., for ague and fever, and all periodic diseases, rheumatism, paralysis, etc. The "Ague Cure" has produced wonderful cures. The "Syrup," for the blood, liver, skin, digestive and uterine organs, has cured many cases of scrofula, cancer, tumors, goiter, salt rheum, scaldhead, and many other diseases too numerous to mention in this place. See card, page 20.

H. Putman, proprietor of Apollo Hall Hotel, Ephratah, Fulton Co., N. Y., is prepared to supply the wants of his guests at reasonable rates. His Hall is one of the best in these parts, and those who wish to "trip the light fantastic toe" will be furnished with good music and refreshments. Mr. Putman knows how to entertain his guests and make them feel at home. See card, page 224.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

Dr. Kingsley, of Rome, justly celebrated for the many cures he has effected of that most distressing disease, Cancer, publishes a notice on page 1. He is prepared to treat all scrofulous diseases, and others of long standing, and assures his patients that they will not be charged a heavy bill and dismissed without receiving any benefit. Persons who cannot conveniently call upon him in person, can address him by letter, and will receive prompt attention. Dr. K. is a graduate, with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine. Let the afflicted give him a call.

Dodge & Lord, manufacturers of Melodeons and Reed Organs, at Ithaca, N. Y., were formerly connected with Syracuse manufactories. They have since moved their business where lumber is cheap, and expenses less than in the larger cities, like New York, Boston, Albany or Syracuse. The styles of their organs are particularly their own, possessing all modern improvements, and some unknown to other manufacturers. They have found market for their instruments in every county of the State, and in Northern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and have an increasing trade with the West, in all of which places they are brought into successful competition with the first Eastern manufacturers. They are both practical men, and have secured workmen of long experience and tried abilities. Situated midway between the Erie and N. Y. C. railways, they can ship conveniently to all parts of the country. See card, page 272.

David Seidmore, Photographer and Jeweler, 125 Main street, Gloversville, N. Y., publishes a card on page 240. Persons in want of any kind of work in either department, will find this a good place to go, as all work is warranted to give satisfaction. Call and see.

George W. Heaton, Editor and Proprietor of Gloversville Standard, Johnstown Independent, and Hamilton Republican, advertises on page 248. These papers, published respectively at Gloversville, Johnstown, and at Wells, Hamilton Co., have a large circulation and afford a valuable medium for advertising. The central office is at Gloversville. Those who wish for a good local paper will find either of the above to answer their demand.

Improved Gerard.—Read the advertisement headed "The celebrated Oroide Watch." The advertisers (Messrs. James Gerard & Co.,) are actually selling these Watches at twelve dollars, fifteen dollars, and twenty dollars each; and that they strictly RESEMBLE gold we know—that they wear like gold, a friend of ours, who has worn ONE SIX MONTHS, assures us; and that they are, therefore, (in the words of the advertisement,) "as good as gold, in all respects, except intrinsic value." we have reason to believe. Every watch is GUARANTEED by special certificate.—Elizabeth (N. J.) Journal. See card on Map of County.

Misses Richardson & Hayes, proprietors of the Ladies' Model Store, No. 113 Fulton street, Gloversville, N. Y., advertise on page 232. These ladies keep posted in regard to the latest styles, and exhibit great taste in the selection of their goods, knowing what is required for ladies wear far better than gentlemen are supposed to know. They keep a full stock of all goods required for a lady's wardrobe, and spare no pains to please their customers. The latest styles of Corsets, Skirts &c., are constantly on hand, and Cloaks are cut to order. We advise all our lady friends to give them a call before purchasing elsewhere, feeling assured that they will be satisfied.
