GARDEN LIST OF TALL BEARDED IRIS

The accompanying list includes most of the Tall Bearded Iris in my collection. These are arranged alphabetically by introducer with date of introduction and the latest available rating of the American Iris Society on a basis of 10 as perfection. Please note that only 18 of those which have been rated, in this list of over 400 varieties, have a score of less than 7.5.

For a number of years I have been developing a collection of Iris, primarily for study and breeding purposes. I have been specializing in French and English varieties, most of which have been imported directly from the introducers. I am making a comparative study of these and all stock distributed will be true to name. Should an error occur, it will be willingly corrected or price refunded, if notification is made promptly after first blooming.

Order at Once: Stock of novelties is necessarily limited. Orders will be booked in rotation as received. No substitution will be made and prompt return of any money sent for varieties we cannot supply is guaranteed. Please, however, indicate a second choice.

Prices are based on strong single divisions and prepaid delivery on all orders over $3.00. If a lesser amount is ordered add 5 cents per plant for postage and packing. Collections listed on page 12 are not prepaid.

Terms: Cash with order. A discount of 10 per cent allowed on orders of $50 or over.

Correspondence Invited: In many cases, I may be able to furnish a limited number of divisions of those not priced on this list. I will be glad to quote prices on those I can furnish.

Delivery will be made between July 1st and September 15th or at any specified time after blooming. No spring delivery, except I. cristata and I. dichotoma as noted on page 11.

Descriptive List: It is my intention to send this Garden List only to advanced collectors and dealers. I have a Descriptive List of about 170 of the varieties listed here which I will be glad to send to those who request it.

Note: All varieties underscored, 4 divisions for the price of 3.

RARE IRIS SPECIES

The Vesper Iris

Iris dichotoma. This rare species from China is unique because of its season and method of bloom. It is the latest of the Iris, blooming in August and early September. The small lavender flowers are produced in great profusion on much branched stems, 3-4 ft. high, and make a very attractive display, which continues for several weeks. The individual flowers open in mid-afternoon and wither at sundown. A very interesting novelty. Perfectly hardy in this locality. I had 3-year plants in 1924 throw from 3 to 5 stems 4 ft. high. Grows readily from seed.

1924 seedlings, spring delivery, should bloom this fall, per doz.....$2.50

1925 seedlings, July and August delivery, per doz..... 2.00

The Crested Iris

Iris tectorum. This is sometimes called the Japanese Roof Iris because it is grown on the ridges of the thatched roofs in that country. It is, however, a native of China. The foliage is broad and light green, the flowers a deep lilac or blue purple and quite flat in outline. Well developed specimens are 6 in. broad. Said not to be hardy in some northern localities, but does well here.

Each$0.25

Iris tectorum album. The rare pure white form of the above.

Very beautiful. Each.....$0.75

Iris cristata. A native of southern Indiana and the south Eastern States. This species blooms with the dwarf bearded Iris. "It is practically stemless and the flowers are raised above the ground, chiefly by the perianth tube, which is usually three or four inches long. The flowers are borne either singly or in pairs in the long, narrow, sharply keeled spathes and are a light lilac shade. The central white ridge or crest runs along the haft of the falls. Along the haft it is tipped with orange, but with lilac on the blade. There it is surrounded by a conspicuous patch of white edged with deep lilac or lavender, which gradually fades away toward the circumference of the blade."—Dykes. I. cristata will stand partial shade and is fine for rock gardens. It can be safely transplanted only in early spring just before or immediately after blooming. Spring delivery only.

COLLECTIONS

For the benefit of those who wish to purchase collections at reduced rates I offer the following, which have been selected for range of color. Please note that all those listed in collections A to F are rated 7.1 or higher, 13 are rated 7.8 or above, and 8 are rated 8.0 or over. This insures the high quality of the collections. Collections A, C or E would make a fine foundation collection.

Please Note: Collections are not prepaid; they will be sent express collect. If wanted by parcel post add 25c for collections A, C, E, G and H, 35c for B and D, and 50c for F. They will be sent free if $5.00 or more of other varieties are ordered for shipment at the same time.
