NORTH IN GRIP OF 15-HOUR RAINFALL

Steady Downpour Overflows Rivers, Ties Up Traffic In Many Counties

BULLETIN
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Despite the torrential downpour of rain in Northern California, Southern California, the San Joaquin and central portions of California in which the greatest shortage of rain exists, failed to share in the "million-dollar precipitation."

Up to 10 o'clock the rain had not reached much below the bay counties, none being reported at either Sacramento or Fresno. The weather bureau predicted rain tonight and Thursday as far south as the Tehachapi, with unsettled weather and probably rain in Southern California.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Feb. 11.—Sonoma and other Northern California counties were in the grip of a heavy rainstorm today which has flooded river sections, washed out small bridges, tied up railroad traffic and blocked county roads in mountain and hill sections.

Up to 8 o'clock this morning 4.32 inches of rain had fallen in the past fifteen hours here, bringing the total rainfall for the season to date to 26.60.

The main line of the Northwestern Pacific railroad from Eureka south to San Francisco was tied up. Two south-bound passenger trains were held here due to tracks being covered by water in the Cotati region, and slides and general softening of the tracks at other points. Other trains were held up at other terminals, pending cessation of the flood conditions.

River Overflows
The Russian river and its tributaries overflowed their banks and low sections are under water. No great damage has

Postal Pay Bill Now In Hands of Senate
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The administration's postal pay and rate increase bill was laid before the Senate this afternoon by the postoffice committee. As reported, it was the same bill passed by the Senate several days ago, but action is again required through the refusal of the House to accept the Senate bill and the passage of one of its own. Senator Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, the committee chairman, said the bill would be called up at an early date for passage.

Expedition Airplane Falls, Killing Sergeant
PARIS, Feb. 11.—One person was killed and three seriously injured today when one of the Pelletier D'Oisy African expedition airplanes fell.

COOLIDGE IS ELECTED Democrats Come Second

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Today might have been one of the most tumultuous days in the history of the republic—but it wasn't.

Instead of a stalemate in the electoral college, with Congress running around in circles trying to elect a president—so freely speculated on and predicted a few months ago—the Senate and House met in joint session this afternoon and went through the constitutional formality of declaring Calvin Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes to have been elected president and vice-president, respectively of these United States.

Northern California Floods Halt Trains, Make Lakes Of City Streets, Cover Farms

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Feb. 11.—One passenger train was derailed and a half dozen others are tied up, thousands of acres are under water, highways blocked by landslides and all rail traffic at a standstill as a result of a terrific downpour of rain over northern California which flooded Marin, Napa, Sonoma, Mendocino and other northern counties today.

A Northwestern Pacific railroad train which left here at 6:40 this morning, taking the place of the Eureka Express which was held up farther north by high waters, was derailed near Novato. The engine and baggage car went into the ditch, reports received here said, but the passenger cars remained on the tracks. No one was reported injured.

Two children were badly injured in Marin county when a house near Escalante toppled down the hill. It burned and set fire to another house against which it rolled. Cord and Barry Bruce are the children injured. Their parents were less seriously hurt.

Landslides were frequent throughout the affected counties. One at Dennyman, ten miles south of Santa Rosa, was reported blocking the state highway. Another at Corte Madera blocked the main highway north. The town of Gurneville was reported cut off from the outside world by a huge slide at Pocket Hill. Streets in the lower portions of Petaluma were under water and many persons had to be taken from their homes by rescuing parties.

The whole Cotati section was under water. Mill Valley, Larkspur, Kentfield and many other small residential towns were suffering severely from the storm which crippled communication in Marin county. Many families marooned were rescued in Larkspur.

Many small bridges throughout the northern part of the state went out and the main bridge at Kentfield went out under pressure of fourteen feet of water.

Scores of summer homes were reported loosened from their foundations in Marin county and some were said to be floating in the lakes formed by the high water. In some of the streets water was standing from three to six feet deep.

Governor Richardson Opposes Big Budget
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—Governor Richardson was on record today as an opponent of "pork barrel" legislation, following his address here last night before 600 members of construction industries. The governor urged a campaign among members of the Legislature to cut down asked appropriations of $110,000,000.

China Withdraws From Third Opium Council
GENEVA, Feb. 11.—China withdrew from the third opium conference today, giving as the reason the same criticism that led to her withdrawal from the second opium conference Saturday, namely, the failure of the session to fix a date of the fifteen-year period of reduction of opium cultivation.

PLAN SPANISH FIESTA FOR GLENDALE DURANT KEEPS WALL STREET GUESSING

Realty Board Directors to Arrange Celebration as Annual Event One Eye on Tape, Other On Auto Maker as He 'Cleans' Millions

Glendale will be the scene of a three-day fiesta of pagentry, song and story reviving again the romantic spirit that characterized the early development of Southern California, members of the board of directors of the Glendale Realty board decided at the meeting today.

"Glendale is the largest city in the original land grant given Jose Maria Verdugo by the Spanish king," said W. L. Twining, president of the realty board, in speaking of the proposed event at the meeting of the realty board today noon at the Harriett Mae tea room. "In and about the present city of Glendale the most stirring and picturesque events of the Spanish and Mexican rule of Southern California were enacted."

May Wheat Drops Off On Chicago Exchange

NOT GUILTY! Dorothy Ellington's Plea

DOROTHY ELLINGTON, 16-year-old San Francisco matricide today appeared in court and entered a plea of not guilty. She will go on trial for the murder of her mother on March 23.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—Dorothy Ellington, 16-year-old "jazz-baby," will go on trial for the murder of her mother on March 23. Appearing today before Superior Judge Louderback, the child-slayer, in almost a whisper, entered a plea of "not guilty."

The clerk repeated the plea to Judge Louderback. "Did the defendant enter that plea in her own words?" Judge Louderback asked.

"Yes, sir," answered the clerk. At this point Alexander Mooslin, of counsel for the defense, broke in with a request that the trial be postponed until March 23. The court suggested March 16.

"March 16 is a day before a holiday and besides we need the time to bring in important witnesses and to complete our defense," Mooslin persisted. So March 23 was set.

Dorothy appeared haggard and care-worn. She wore the same rust-colored hat given her by the mother she confessed she murdered. She was enclosed in a big black coat, trimmed with a black fur collar. Her attire was completed by a pair of flesh-colored hose and black slippers.

Police Take Hand In Japan Labor Strikes
TOKIO, Feb. 11.—Special police precautions were taken today to prevent violence when Japanese labor unions held a demonstration against the proposed laws for the regulation of unions and the suppression of radicalism.

Slaying of Farmer Is Mystery to Officials
SUISUN, Cal., Feb. 11.—Officials today admitted being baffled by the mysterious circumstances surrounding the murder of Lee Branscomb, wealthy farmer, found slain in a lonely cabin five miles east of here. Shot through the head as he was reading a magazine in the cabin, Branscomb apparently came to his death at the hands of an unknown enemy.

Senate Delays Action To Approve Humphrey
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—After a brief session the Senate interstate commerce committee today postponed until tomorrow action on the nomination of William E. Humphrey of Seattle, as a member of the Federal Trade commission. The committee is directing an inquiry into Humphrey's lumber connections.

WORKERS FIND BANANA OIL STRONG IN SHAFT

Presence of Gas Indicates Crew Is Nearing Place Where Collins Held

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 11.—The depth of the "life or death" shaft by means of which it is hoped to rescue Floyd Collins, trapped cave explorer, was officially announced as being 44½ feet, shortly after 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The announcement said digging had been stopped temporarily to permit timbering.

Banana oil gas, placed in the crawl-way where Collins lies, was reported penetrating the shaft flooring in increasing volume. Cave crickets, a sign of the nearness of a cavern, hopped about in large numbers, it was said. Hope skyrocketed that a rescue might be effected within twelve hours.

A new entrance to the cave was found today due to the extreme cold weather prevailing here. The contrast of heat in the cave and the surface cold caused heat waves to rise from a crevice. It was investigated and the entrance found. It will be explored further.

Light Extinguished
The last slender thread that has linked Collins with the outside world snapped today. A radio test conducted early this morning brought back only silence and the flickering needle of the ammeter at the miniature electric power plant on the cliff above the pit, showed the light which had burned constantly above Collins' head in the blackness of the crawl where he has lain trapped for twelve days has been extinguished.

Sycamore Petitioners Lose In Court Fight
R. Belcher and other property owners in the Sycamore Canyon road assessment district received a setback this morning in the Los Angeles superior court, when their application for a temporary restraining order was denied. Ray L. Morrow, Glendale city attorney, represented this city in the action, which sought to restrain the defendants from proceeding with the collection of assessments for the improvement of Sycamore Canyon road.

Motor Registration 1,350,759 Year's Total
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 11.—California's motor vehicle registration increased 229,974 during 1924, Will H. Marsh, chief of the state motor vehicle department, reported today, the grand total for the year being 1,350,759.

If the same rate of increase is maintained during 1925, Marsh said California would pass New York and lead every state in the union in the number of machines. Automobiles registered number 1,125,381; solid trucks, 41,939; pneumatic trucks, 132,054; motorcycles, 12,325, and trailers, 19,040. Total registration figures for the three leading counties of the state were announced by Marsh as follows: Los Angeles, 541,024; San Francisco, 105,038; Alameda, 91,490.

FIFTY MARK REACHED BY MORE CANDIDATES

Residents Send in Many Votes During Last Few Days; Sixteen Pictures Appear in The News Today

Last-minute rushes by friends of possible candidates for City Council resulted in three new pictures and biographies appearing in The Glendale Evening News today, in addition to the pictures and biographies of thirteen possible candidates which have appeared before.

When it was announced that The Glendale Evening News would present a gallery on Wednesday, showing the pictures and giving the biographies of all possible candidates who had received fifty or more votes, the grand rush of votes started.

Several candidates who were low in the list jumped up almost to the fifty mark, but there were only three who "made the grade." Those who fell short of getting the required fifty votes, it is believed, will succeed in passing the half-century mark, and their pictures and biographies will appear later.

One resident of Glendale, in sending in the nomination of Ben F. Bolen, writes the following letter to A. T. Cowan, publisher: "I want to nominate Ben F. Bolen, of 511 South Belmont street, as a possible candidate for City Council. Mr. Bolen is an old resident of Glendale, a man of sturdy character, well known for his honesty and ability. He would make a fine representative of our city and understands our city needs."

Several persons, in sending in the names of possible candidates, fail to heed the rules. Where the business address only is given for a possible candidate, the vote does not count. This rule is repeated again for the benefit of those who disregard it or at any rate, fail to observe it.

Blank Appears Daily
Each day there appears in this newspaper a blank form on which Glendale residents are invited to write the names of citizens who they believe are fitted for service on the City Council. Five candidates are to be elected next April.

When a person nominates a possible candidate, his or her picture and a brief biography will be published in The Glendale Evening News.

Five nominations is the limit any one person is permitted to make. Names of all persons nominated will be published.

The nomination blank appears on page two of today's Glendale Evening News. Make use of it at once and mail it to Nomination Editor, 139 South Brand, Glendale, California.

Following is the complete list of those who have been nominated thus far:

Polite Southerner Is Relieved of Bankroll

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 11.—L. W. James of College Park, an Atlanta suburb, is polite at all times. Therefore, when he was stepped on quite accidentally by a woman who entered the elevator in which he was waiting to go up, he hurriedly got out of the way and asked her pardon for having been there. Two men who boarded the elevator with the woman were squarely behind James as he backed away and he jostled them. In the ensuing scuffle James was knocked about quite a bit.

After apologies had been made and the trio had departed from the car, James entered an office to pay a bill. He had no money. A sum of $197 he had carried in a rear pocket with a w. o. l. The woman and her two friends had vanished from the building.

Teacher Ousted When She Marries Pupil, 16

CANBY, Ore., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Rosamond Lee Shaw Samuelson, Canby, high school teacher, ousted because she married one of her pupils, is going to stick it out with her husband, despite "what other folks think."

This militant little woman, who is about ten years older than her 16-year-old husband, LeRoy Samuelson, doesn't think it is any of the school board's business whether she marries a high school boy or not. Though the school board voted to oust her, she remained in her classroom until the town marshal ordered her to go.

How to Solve the Cross Word Puzzle

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram.

Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterrupted. Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white spaces remain uninterrupted.

EASTERN STAR OFFICIAL IS HONORED

Chapters Unite to Receive Worthy Grand Matron For California

Honors of receiving Zell. Whitford Sampson, worthy grand matron of California, Order of Eastern Star, were shared last night by the two Glendale chapters, Burbank and Eagle Rock chapters at a dinner at Oakmont Country club and lodge gathering at the Masonic temple, Eagle Rock.

Other grand officers received with Mrs. Sampson were Russell B. La Fontaine, worthy grand patron; Cora Spring Holland, associate grand matron; Mildred Blair, grand Ada; Sallie C. Braden of Glendale, deputy grand matron; Alice C. Artz, deputy grand matron.

Golden aeneia bougths were used in profusion in the scheme of decoration at the clubhouse. The decorative feature on the table of honor was a long, low basket filled with flowers in the colors of the emblem of the order. Among those seated with the honored guests were the worthy matrons of the hostess chapters: Mrs. Nellie C. Jennings, Glendale chapter; Mae Warrick, Glen Eyrie chapter; Beulah Ludlow, Burbank chapter; Ericie Tate, Eagle Rock chapter. There were 167 persons seated for the dinner at tables arranged in the form of a hollow square.

Visit Eagle Rock

From the club the company motored to the temple in Eagle Rock, where the lodge work was exemplified by the hostess chapters. Eagle Rock chapter presided over the opening and closing of the meeting. Glendale chapter of escort duty. Burbank chapter of initiatory work and Glen Eyrie chapter of balloting and presentations. Mrs. Warrick, assisted by her worthy patron, Frank B. Beckett, made the presentations. Mrs. Sampson was presented with crystal glassware, while Mr. La Fontaine received a piece of silver to add to the set the chapters are presenting to him this year.

There were over 300 persons in attendance at the temple gathering. Glendale chapters sent lodge delegations. Reports state that the message from Mrs. Sampson was most inspiring.

Western Pioneer Pays Visit to Mrs. McRae

Mrs. A. M. McRae of 822 East Wilson entertained for the past two days her brother, Thomas O. Andrews of Corona, Calif. Mr. Andrews is a pioneer of the West, coming first to Oregon and then later to California. He has many interesting stories for his young friends concerning the early days in Oregon, telling among other things of the Klamath Indians and their methods of fishing and gaming.

Mr. Andrews is well known in the G. A. R. organization, of which he is a member, having served as commander of the Grand Army Encampment of Southern California held at the Palisades in 1923. He has been a bee-keeper in Riverside county for many years, and until recently for fourteen years held the office of inspector of apiaries for that county.

For having concealed the fact that he had worked a day in a colliery from the local employment agency, a Burnbank, Scotland man was arrested and fined $10.

Glendale To Stage Giant Air Program

Complete plans for the great air meet scheduled for Glendale airport March 14 and 15, will be outlined by Dr. T. C. Young at the weekly meeting of the Greater Glendale Luncheon club tomorrow noon at the Masonic temple. Dr. Young will be the main speaker. He will outline plans for a great aeronautic celebration worked out by the Chamber of Commerce committee, consisting of himself, Councilman Sam Davis and George B. Karr. Three hundred airships and 25,000 persons will feature the meet, Dr. Young said.

CIVIC BODIES HOLD LIBRARY MEETING

Plans Laid for Opening Of North Branch In New Building

There was held a meeting of committees representing the Foot-hill Improvement association, the Greater Northwest Improvement association and the Grand View Parent-Teacher association with the Glendale library board at the main library last night for the purpose of completing plans for the opening of the north branch of the library in the new library building at the corner of Fifth street and Ruberta street, opposite the Grand View school, next Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. There will be an elaborate entertainment, music and refreshments, the three very active associations heartily co-operating with the library board with the purpose of making the opening a memorable occasion for all who may attend. C. L. Jenkins, of the Greater Northwest Improvement association, will have the responsibility of providing the musical entertainment, which he promised those present at the meeting last night will be worth coming to the opening to hear. Alex Mitchell will be master of ceremonies, it was planned, and the dedication of the building will be participated in by Mayor Robinson, Mattison B. Jones and J. H. Randall. Mr. Mitchell reported. The Grand View Parent-Teacher association is planning to care for the children and provide refreshments for everyone. Those present at last night's meeting were: T. W. Preston, Nathan Higdon, Alex Mitchell, C. L. Jenkins, Mrs. R. M. Sawtelle, Mrs. Alma J. Danford and C. L. Jenkins.

Glendale Club Woman In Demand as Speaker

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson of 245 North Orange street, prominent club woman and Parent-Teacher association leader, has kept many speaking engagements this month with Parent-Teacher associations as chairman of "Founder's Day" of the first district P-T. A. Yesterday she spoke before the P-T. A. at Compton and today at Santa Monica.

Speakers to Appear on Lydia Class Program

Several speakers of note will appear on the program at the meeting of the Lydia class of the Glendale Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church parlors. Mrs. Alice Reed of Chicago, and Mrs. Milton Canfield, of Glendale will present the program. Mrs. D. L. Wanless, missionary in India for twenty years will be a speaker. Mrs. Beckett, president of the class will preside.

REVIVAL TALK BRINGS OUT GLENDALE

'Fishers for Men' Chosen By Evangelist; Brown Here Tomorrow

Throngs of people from Glendale and surrounding points heard Rev. Gideon Higginbotham preach a stirring revival sermon last night at the John E. Brown tabernacle on North Kenwood street. Choosing "Fishers for Men" for his topic, the advance evangelist of the Brown party pointed out the need for Christians to cast their nets into the deep ocean of humanity and gather in new converts to the Lord.

"If Christianity is worth anything, it is worth everything," he said. "It is worth talking about everywhere you go. Folks, the importance of personal work for Jesus cannot be overestimated. If you believe in Him, cast out your nets and help Him in the great work of saving souls for God."

Rev. Higginbotham then recounted some of his personal experiences in Red Bluff, a dozen years ago, telling how he was converted to Christianity because someone cast out a net and brought him the personal message.

Brown Expected

Tonight Rev. Higginbotham will preach again at the tabernacle. Rev. John E. Brown, who is now en route from Birmingham, Ala., to take personal charge of the revival, is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles via the Southern Pacific at 2:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon and will be met by a delegation comprising Rev. W. E. Edmonds, president of the Glendale Ministerial union, representing the clergy; H. L. Finlay, chairman of the general committee, representing the laymen; Rev. Gideon Higginbotham, and Clarence L. Virgin, advance manager of the Brown party.

Rev. Brown will make his headquarters at the Maryland hotel, corner of Wilson and Maryland avenues, where Rev. Higginbotham is stopping. It is anticipated that the tabernacle will be packed to the doors Thursday night, when Rev. Brown delivers his first personal message.

Two Business Women Are Speakers at Club

Recognized as two of Southern California's most capable business women, Miss Grace S. Stoermer, director of the women's banking department of the Bank of Italy, and Miss Reginald D. Deane, of the public relations department of West Coast theatres, spoke yesterday at the Tuesday Afternoon club luncheon.

Miss Stoermer, who was introduced by Mrs. Claude G. Putnam, curator of the Maids and Young Matrons' department of the club, put aside the subject of "Women in the World of Finance" assigned to her work in the banking world. During the two years she has been in her present position with the Bank of Italy she has developed a department now having 5600 patrons with total deposits of over $2,000,000.

BREAD JUMP

ST. PAUL, Feb. 11.—An increase of 1 cent a pound-loaf in the bread price in the Twin Cities will go into effect Monday. Rolls and doughnuts are to be put up 5 cents a dozen.

BAKERS OPTIMISTIC

ATLANTA, Feb. 11.—Atlanta bakers contemplate no immediate advance in the price of bread, feeling that recent breaks in wheat indicate a lower level of flour prices.

"Of the $5,000,000 women employed in the United States, the majority of them are supporting themselves and some of them their families," said Miss Stoermer.

"So many people ask me about Glendale. It is attracting as much attention as Hollywood," she said, in telling about a recent trip east. The speaker left with her audience the following advice as to successful and happy lives: "Work, living according to a budget, have a bank account, have life insurance, own your own home, make a will, invest in safe savings, pay bills promptly and share with others."

Speaks On Films

One feature of her talk was her emphasis on women earning as big salaries as men "if they deliver the goods."

Mrs. E. S. McKee, chairman of the films for the Hostess club, introduced Miss Doran. Possessed of a vivacious personality, with a pleasingly subtle sense of humor, and ability to speak, Miss Doran proved one of the most popular luncheon speakers the club has heard this year. She spoke both as a club woman and as a motion picture exhibitor. In addition to her work with the West Coast theatres, she is a member of the Better Films committee of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs. She told of the co-operation between clubs and motion picture producers and exhibitors to "make the best pictures play best."

BONDS ARE ENDORSED BY MEMBERS OF CLUB

Resolution Presented at Meeting By Mrs. Max Green in Favor of Added School Facilities is Passed

Endorsement of the $2,400,000 bond issue for development of Glendale's two school systems was given by Tuesday Afternoon club members at their meeting yesterday afternoon. The resolution endorsing the bonds was read by Mrs. Max Lynn Green of the civics committee.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, club president, presided over the meeting. Other resolutions presented and endorsed were: A resolution favoring the creation of a state game refuge in the San Jacinto mountains, presented by Mrs. William F. Macpherson, chairman of conservation; and a resolution endorsing the state farm for women, endorsed in 1923, and for which the 1923 Legislature failed to vote appropriations for maintenance, presented by Mrs. B. O. Holbrook of the American citizenship and legislation department.

An announcement was made of the paying of $5000 on the club's debt to L. C. Brand. It was made known that this will decrease the interest on the principal $600 per year, as well as decrease the principal to $40,000. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, junior past president of the club, visited Mr. Brand and told him of the payment made by the club on the debt. A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood, chairman of ways and means, who was largely responsible for raising the $5000.

Program Presented

A most delightful entertainment program was given by Mrs. Beulah Wright Cunnstock, formerly dean of the College of Oratory, University of Southern California, who is instructor of the drama department of the club. She was presented by Mrs. F. L. Wallace, program chairman. In addition to being a talented reader Mrs. Cunnstock has a charming presence which interests her audience from her first appearance to her farewell.

Opening with a western poem, her program was full of human interest. Because of the patriotic spirit of the month she gave the poem "Your Flag and My Flag" and an artistic sketch of reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln by Tarzwell. Her other numbers were Kipling's "Boots, Boots", Van Dyke's "An American in Europe", a tribute to Roosevelt, T. A. Daly's "An Italian's Tribute to George Washington", and excerpts from "Aunt Jane of Kentucky." She was presented with a bouquet of spring blossoms by Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, curator of the drama department of the club.

LETTER DAY IS PLANNED FOR GLENDALE

Residents Will Be Asked to Write Eastern Friends About California

Glendale Letter Writing day, on which every Glendalian will be expected to write letters back east, refuting unfavorable publicity given Southern California, will be launched by a Chamber of Commerce committee headed by A. H. Voelker, rector. The full committee, appointed by President D. H. Smith of the chamber, was announced at the meeting of the board of directors last night. It includes Mr. Voelker, chairman; E. W. Gilliland, Don Packer, George Lyons, W. F. Drewes, T. Watson, C. W. Ingelude, L. T. Montgomery and Ed N. Radke.

Upon recommendation of the legislative committee, headed by Bert P. Woodard, the directors voted to endorse redistricting of Los Angeles county into seven instead of five supervisory districts. The directors voted not to endorse a movement sponsored by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, asking the repeal of California inheritance tax law.

Colors Prove Help to Happiness, Says Speaker

"People can mar or make their happiness by the colors they wear or use in their homes," Dr. Roy A. Hall, Los Angeles psychologist, told Tuesday Afternoon clubwomen yesterday at the meeting of the Fine Arts department. "Everyone has a keynote in the color scale and they should use it," he said.

Mrs. Roy Ballagh, curator of the department, announced that Tuesday, February 24, will be "Art Day" at the club. Miss Leta Horlock, district chairman of art, will be the speaker before the Fine Arts department and at the club luncheon. Glendale people are invited to visit the clubhouse during February to see the exhibit of paintings by western artists, loaned by the Biltmore salon.

Nearly 72,000,000 eggs laid in America were shipped to Mexico within a year.

Evening News Given Thanks By Lions' Den

The Lions' club of Glendale, through its secretary, A. R. Holland, has sent the following self-explanatory communication to A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News:

"The Lions club of Glendale at the regular meeting of Wednesday, February 4, 1925, voted to extend your publication an expression of appreciation for the splendid co-operation and valuable assistance which has been so freely given in the upbuilding of our organization. We wish to especially mention the excellent edition of The Glendale Evening News of January 22 last, which celebrated our charter night banquet at the Oakmont Country club. "Assuring you that this Lions' den is for Glendale 'first, last and all the time,' and again thanking you for your kindness, we are "Most cordially yours, "A. R. Holland, Secretary."

History Teacher Gets Arts Degree at U.S.C.

Miss E. Maud Soper, head of the history department of Glendale High school, was given her Master of Arts degree from the University of Southern California yesterday when the mid-year commencement exercises were held at Boverd auditorium. Miss Soper is a graduate of Goucher college at Baltimore, Md., where she received her A. B. degree and was a missionary in Japan for five years, 1903 to 1908. Miss Soper resides with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Julius Soper at 1305 North Maryland avenue.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The modern women may shake in these bitter days, but she will never shiver in chiffon no matter what the thermometer. For chiffon is the fashion. The galaxy-printed floating fabrics are being almost universally used for tea and semi-formal evening costumes.

ASKS SUPPORT OF CITIZENS FOR LINE

Glendale-Montrose Railway May Discontinue Route To Los Angeles

Discontinuance of their Los Angeles service unless patronage of the line is greatly increased was hinted at by the Glendale-Montrose Railway Co. in a communication to the Chamber of Commerce, read at the directors' meeting last night. The communication, signed by F. L. Hatch, general manager, is the second received by the chamber within several weeks.

It is pointed out by Mr. Hatch that service to Los Angeles over the old Union Pacific right-of-way was inaugurated at the request of the people of Glendale, and at a cost of $150,000. Loss sustained during the first year's operation has brought the officials of the road face to face with the serious question of whether the line should not be discontinued. Mr. Hatch said negotiations with the Los Angeles Railway Co. are under way to have special yellow cars meet the Glendale-Montrose line at Glendale junction. These cars will be clearly labeled "Glendale," and will eliminate the objectionable confusion of having passengers board a Los Angeles city-traffic car. This service will be installed, however, only in the event patronage is increased, he said. The desirability of having more than one rail line from Glendale to Los Angeles was stressed by Mr. Hatch in his letter.

Asks Bus Service

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce voted to investigate the matter in conference with the transportation committee before taking further action. The directors will also make an inspection tour of the rail line in a move to retain the Glendale-Los Angeles service for the city. Coincident with the request for better patronage by the Glendale-Montrose railway, a recommendation was made to the directors

MATERIAL WEALTH

There are three ways of enjoying material possessions: First, in accumulating them; second, in possessing them, and last, in sharing them with others, and of the three the last is not the least. Public spirit and generosity are traits very much worth-while, for they bring happiness to the object and at the same time they react upon the one who possesses them. All too often the man who amasses wealth acquires selfishness with it. He knows the pleasure of accumulation and possession, but he deprives himself of the satisfaction of sharing and giving. He thinks he can best enjoy what he has acquired by keeping it selfishly for his own use and so builds a prison for himself with his possessions. He is like those of whom Thoreau once said, "I am wont to think that men are not so much the keepers of herds as herds are the keepers of men, the former are so much the freer."

The recent gifts of L. C. Brand, including a portion of his magnificent foothill estate, comprising 800 acres, to the city of Glendale for a park proves that Mr. Brand is both generous and far-seeing and that he possesses a wisdom beyond that of many men of wealth.

As for the city of Glendale, it is fortunate beyond words to have such a generous citizen and patron. Mr. Brand was instrumental, years ago, in bringing the Pacific Electric railroad to Glendale, the first incentive and requisite for the city's growth. Of course he profited, too, since he owned large tracts of land here, but his enterprise gave quite an impetus to the settlement of the western portion of the city and made possible much of our subsequent growth and prosperity.

Mr. Brand has been honored by the people of Glendale, who call the fine, wide boulevard that traverses the city from Mt. Verdugo on the north to the limits of Los Angeles on the south, by his name. A few years ago, when a newcomer to Glendale suggested that Glendale boulevard would be a better name for the street as a continuation of a street of that name in Los Angeles, there was a protest from those who were familiar with the history of Glendale and knew what the name signified.

To have been so generous as Mr. Brand has been to Glendale and to certain individuals must be a source of satisfaction to him. To have his name perpetuated through generations to come in Brand boulevard and Brand park is an honor of which anyone might be proud. Words of gratitude are inadequate for such services as Mr. Brand has rendered the city of Glendale. The best thanks for his gift would be to make provision for maintaining the street and the park that bear his name in a way to make them sources of pride to the people of Glendale forever.

BACK UP THE PRESIDENT

The New York Times lauds President Coolidge because in his program of economy he is doing nothing to strike the general public as heroic. He could make flamboyant speeches on foreign relations that would cause a sensation and elicit applause. What he has undertaken is neither picturesque nor romantic, but it is important work and requires initiative and courage. The people should respond whole-heartedly to his appeal for endorsement of his plans. Telegrams of approval should rain upon him and public meetings should be held to urge Congress to back up the president's budget.

The Times says: "In working hard for government retrenchment and the saving of the public funds, President Coolidge is working for every American. He is doing something really more vital to our present and lasting interests than could possibly be any provocative words about the French debt or a flourish regarding the Japanese navy. Nothing really comes closer home to the business and bosoms of all our citizens today than the policy which the president advocates. It may seem routine. To the lavish-minded it may appear petty. Why make such a point of cutting down the budget of rich Uncle Sam by $60,000,000 next year? What does it matter whether the superfluous government employees who ought to be got rid of number 5,000 or 50,000? Just after the publication of the figures of our enormous national wealth some may think it trifling for the president to affirm that he would rather save a few pennies in fact than theorize in vain about saving millions. But in reality he is applying the soundest business principles to the conduct of the nation's business."

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Vocational training is a cure for the pleasure-madness that has gripped the youth of today, so thinks Nicholas Ricciardi, state commissioner of vocational education. "The solution of this problem, I believe, will be found when we afford high-spirited, adventurous youth constructive work of an enjoyable nature," Mr. Ricciardi said in taking the wasted girlhood of Dorothy Ellingson as a text for a sermon on the value and virtue of vocational high schools.

That Satan finds work for idle hands is all too true. The normal young person is vibrant with energy. If this energy is not directed in the right channels the individual is very likely to follow the paths of pleasure with increasing momentum until he runs up against the realities of life and finds himself trapped, knowing not which way to turn.

Love of pleasure is inherent in youth and should be gratified. Every child should have some time for fun. But there is a pleasure in constructive work that mere amusement can never provide, and if a young person can be interested in some vocation he will work off a lot of surplus energy that might otherwise be used in pursuing the kind of pleasure that leads to a wasted life.

"The ruin of most men dates from some idle moment," it has been said. So it is imperative that parents who would counteract the lure of jazz and its effects upon the lives of their children must provide them with work of some kind. And the vocational high school makes it possible for the child to select the work for which he is best fitted and in which he can take the most pleasure.

"Motor cars not only are taking business away from railroads," comments the Cincinnati Enquirer, "but are also adding quite a little to their expense by making them replace the gates at the crossings so often."

The law says a man on trial may be tried by a jury of his peers, but when a man is acquitted of bootlegging, can it be said that all the jurors are bootleggers?

STILL USING THE DOG-SLED

Pride and Crime

By DR. FRANK CRANE

It is recognized that the chief characteristic of most criminals is that of pride.

A man is proud to be known as a leader in crime, proud of his thuggism, proud of his skill as a gunman.

It is a well-known fact that pride is one of the chief incentives to crime.

Newspaper publicity is sweet to the soul of the law-breaker.

The trouble is that crime is egocentric in its character. All criminals are individualists. They are at war with society. At the same time they care more for the plaudits of society than they are willing to admit.

One of the worst punishments of a criminal who has achieved some celebrity is to tell him that you have never heard of him.

It follows from this that one of the best cures of crime is obscurity. The criminal feeds upon notoriety.

Even when he is hanged it is some consolation to know that he is in the spotlight. He is in the center of the stage and he rejoices that his passing is dramatic.

All religion is religion of the other fellow. Its object is to induce a man to have respect for the rights of others. Irreligion of any kind is egocentric. A man dwells upon his own importance. His chief complaint is that enough attention is not paid to him.

Everything should be done to bring the criminal to a realization of the importance of his fellow men, that he is to live for them and work for them, and not for himself.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

"Know the truth, and it shall set you free," is, after all, an idle saying. How is one to know the truth?

The search after truth is like the search after perpetual motion or the attempt to square the circle.

Samuel Butler held that all we should aim at is the most convenient way of looking at a thing—the way that most sensible people are likely to find to give them the least trouble for some time to come.

It is not true that the sun used to go around the earth until Copernicus' time, but it is true that until Copernicus' time it was most convenient to us to hold this belief.

If truth is not trouble-saving in the long run it is not truth. Samuel Butler contended. He held that truth is only that which is most largely and permanently trouble-saving.

The ultimate triumph, therefore, of truth rests on a very tangible basis—much more so than when it is made to depend upon the will of an unseen and unknowable agency.

It does not matter what the truth is, but our knowing the truth—that is to say our hitting upon the most permanently convenient arrangement of our ideas upon a subject whatever it may be—matters very much; at least it matters, or may matter, very much in some relations. And however little it matters, yet it matters, and however much it matters it does not matter.

This is a whimsical, round-about way of saying that every question has two sides. Know both sides and you are in position to know the truth.

What Cicero practiced as the means of forensic success, requires to be imitated by all who study any subject in order to arrive at the truth. The greatest orator, save one, of antiquity has left on record that he always studied his adversary's case with great, if not with still greater, intensity than his own.

He who knows only his own side of the case, knows little of that.

Who's Who

With an appreciation of splendor worthy of an oriental monarch, Simon Y. Patino, South America's mining king, is now ensconced in a palatial apartment in a New York hotel. His suite consists of his two sons, two secretaries, two valets, a manager and a physician.

Patino has been variously referred to as the "Stinnes of Bolivia," as "Rockefeller's rival in wealth"—but none of his titles, according to one of his secretaries, does him justice. He is indisputably one of the richest men in the world; the secretary says he is the richest.

The financier is in New York on a business mission. He is said to be one of the large stockholders of the National Lead Co., a North American concern.

He traveled on a diplomatic passport, as he holds and has held for several years, the post of Bolivian ambassador to Spain.

He traveled on a diplomatic passport, as he holds and has held for several years, the post of Bolivian ambassador to Spain.

Senior Patino is 59 years old, a stockily built man of medium height and dark complexion. He wears a mustache. He doesn't speak English. Both his sons, however, do. They are Rene, 30, and Antonio, 28 years old.

Thirty-one years ago Senior Patino was a general storekeeper at the little town of Oruro. He saved enough money to buy a tin mine for $18,000. From that modest start he has become the Croesus of South America.

He owns all the tin mines of Bolivia, all the oil fields, all the lead industries and is the biggest cattle breeder in his country. He owns the biggest bank in South America, and recently, when the Bolivian government wanted a loan of $30,000,000, he handed the president a check. Recently Patino has reorganized all his business into one company, of which he owns all the capital stock, $50,000,000.

Patino, according to his secretary, doesn't like discomfort. He doesn't like to be annoyed by the servant problem. In consequence, he maintains thirteen palaces in various parts of the world, all of them fully stocked, fully equipped with food and drink, and fully manned with servants. He has a fleet of fourteen motor cars. One of his chateaux is at Nice, another at Biarritz, another at Cochabamba, Bolivia, where he has a country place of 100,000 acres. He has town houses in London, Paris and at Oruro, the country village which he has made the principal city of Bolivia.

BANK DEBITS GAIN

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 11.—The best evidence of the general improvement in business conditions in the south is the fact that bank debits of two leading southern cities showed an average improvement in January of 10 per cent, as compared with January a year ago. The weekly average of these cities is $438,000,000, compared with $397,000,000 in 1924.

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as an unfortunate day. Uranus dominates in malefic aspect and Mercury is adverse. Neptune is friendly.

Under this planetary government the mind is likely to be muddled and disturbed, given to apprehensions and uncertainties.

It is a time to defer all decisions, for the judgments may be unreliable.

All financial investigations or estimates should be postponed, for Mercury is in threatening aspect and so tends to perplex even the keenest mathematician.

While this configuration prevails it is well to avoid making new friends, especially those of the opposite sex, for the impression may be unfavorable.

The mind should be closed to all suggestions that are not of a wholesome and stimulating nature, for it will be peculiarly sensitive under this sway.

Popular misconception of public questions is to be expected while this planetary government has sway.

Neptune is in a place read as prefiguring the spread of the democratic spirit and the elimination of formality in social matters.

In Russia and the Balkans the malefics in fourth and twelfth show that revolutionary plots will be prepared at this time.

Notable men in the iron and steel trade come under a sinister direction of the stars.

Australia is subject to the most disturbing influences and may suffer from much wrong-thinking among the people.

This should be a fairly lucky day for starting on journeys by water, but storms on the ocean will be serious later.

Persons whose birthdate it is should avoid all changes and travel in the coming year. Young persons may have trouble with their love affairs.

Children born on this day may be high-strung and restless and should be trained to concentration.

DRILL IN COLORADO

DENVER, Feb. 11.—The Union Oil Co. of California is laying plans for expenditure of $15,000,000 during 1925 in the Colorado fields. Material is now being assembled for drilling fifty-six wells in the Welling-Port Collins district.

DEMAND FOR PRUNES

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 11.—A greater domestic demand for prunes is being shown at present than at any time for years. Oregon and California products are holding very firm, anticipating a further advance of at least a quarter cent a pound.

LILLIAN GISH 'ENGAGED' BY BROADWAY

Movie Star's Differences With Manager Reveal 'Promise to Wed'

By EDNA MARSHALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Has Lillian Gish, the beautiful and famous, the brilliant conversationalist, heart only for her work in the movies—and none for any man? Or have deep love stories run under the apparently smooth surface of her life maintained by her demureness—and is she one of the most fickle of movie stars? These are the questions over which Broadway and her adoring public are agog—the only ones which perturb them with the progress of the suit of Charles H. Duell, her manager, to prevent her working for any other company than his.

For sweet Lillian's answer, made through her attorney, Louis Levy, is that "he took too much upon himself. He assumed to act as lawyer, trustee, manager, and, at the same time, made contracts as the head executive of a company to produce Gish pictures."

And Mr. Duell answered simply in a clause in his complaint, "I was engaged to be married to her until April 2, 1924." While, on the other hand, stands Miss Gish's most drastic reply, "Never" and she goes right on with her work.

Either Lillian was or was not engaged to Mr. Duell. If she was and broke it, she enters the class with her "fickle movie stars"—and that is like to Broadway. If she was not engaged to Mr. Duell, Lillian has managed, once again, to maintain her erstwhile reputation for undivided devotion to her work.

Lillian's 'Loves'

Certainly, the movie world and its fans have tried often enough to make Lillian the heroine of a real love story.

Every now and again rumor has coupled her name with that of some supposedly lucky man. And then the bubble has burst. Either her natural reticence has helped her keep her inner life a secret or else there has been none.

There was Bobby Harron, attractive, winsome lad, who played with Lillian years ago. The world thought "it would be just too sweet" if those "darling children" were to become engaged. Then Bobby Harron died—and that was the end of that.

When Lillian smiled so winsomely at Joseph Schildkraut in "Orphan of the Storm," and again at Richard Barthelmess in "Broken Blossoms," those who knew nothing of the private life of the stars just hoped that something might be stirring.

Even lately, with Ronald Colman wooing Lillian in her latest picture, the public has wondered if Lillian might not be succumbing at last.

But Broadway and filmland had small idea that Lillian had been engaged to Charles Duell. Or was she?

Glendale 'Y' Directors To Attend Convention

Glendale Young Men's Christian association will officially be made a part of the state association at the forty-fourth annual state convention of the California association at Santa Ana Friday and Saturday of this week.

Directors of the Glendale Y. M. C. A. will attend the convention. President George D. McDill is scheduled to make a response to the official welcome of Glendale into the state body.

H. Park Arnold and Secretary Rex C. Kelley will attend the third general assembly in behalf of service with boys, to be held at Estes Park, Colo., June 4 to 12, it was announced today. This assembly, international in its scope and character, is held every five years and is said to be the most important conference on boys' work in the world.

Hollywood Pythians to Entertain Local Lodge

Members of Glendale lodge, Knights of Pythias, will make their monthly visit to Hollywood lodge, tomorrow night, February 12, at their Castle Hall, corner of Sunset boulevard and Western avenue. The meeting promises to be of unusual interest as Van Nuys and Burbank will also be present in large delegations. It is expected that the rank of esquire will be exemplified and a social time will be enjoyed as Hollywood lodge is noted for its hospitality. Knights of Pythias day at the Orange show at San Bernardino will be Saturday, February 21, and large caravans from Los Angeles and San Diego will be present. Definite information will be given at a later date.

Farewell Dinner Given At Fortunatos' Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fortunato of 534 North Isabel street were hosts at a farewell dinner Sunday night to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Freeman on their departure for Chile, South America. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Mary Grawitt, Mrs. Louise Morton, T. Fortunato of Buffalo, N. Y.

occasion. All chamber directors will attend.

Specific data on the telephone situation in northwest Glendale, where a change from the Burbank to the Glendale exchange is being sought, was turned over to the directors by the public service corporation committee, headed by W. B. Kelly. The directors will, in turn, furnish the information to City Manager Virgil B. Stone for reference in taking action with the State Railroad commission.

A clean-up campaign under the auspices of the civics committee was endorsed by the directors. In a written report the committee urged that "parking stalls" be painted on Brand boulevard in the congested business district, so that motorists will not use more space than their share in parking. Action will be sought through Chief of Police John D. Fraser and the City Council. The civics committee report was submitted by R. E. Johnston, chairman.

May Take Census

Whether Glendale will follow the lead of Burbank and have a corrected census taken during 1925 was not decided by the directors last night. Information presented by Secretary Wood showed that either the City Council or board of supervisors may conduct a legal census-taking. When a copy of such census is filed with the secretary of state, it becomes the official census in the United States. Glendale is now rated by the United States census authorities as a city of 13,190.

The Chamber of Commerce will petition Glendale banks to remain open Saturday nights in the future as an accommodation to business houses of the city.

Industrial questionnaires will be mailed out to all industrial and business concerns of the city today as the first step in Glendale's industrial survey. A report on the first week's work on the survey by M. N. Alderman, statistician, was given by Secretary Wood.

The Chamber of Commerce was informed that the American Legion bugle corps will represent Glendale at the joint Canadian and American tourists' clubs' gathering, to take place at Los Angeles next Saturday. S. C. Kinch was appointed to represent the chamber in the Association of City Planners, which meets at Pomona on February 14.

Miss Florence Nelson to Be Bride at Wedding In L. A. Tonight

Miss Florence Nelson, daughter of Dr. Lurr Bingham Nelson of 5654 Lemon Grove avenue, Los Angeles, will become the bride of Dr. Howard Manson McGillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis of 1002 East Lomita avenue, Glendale, at 8:30 o'clock tonight at a church wedding in Wilshire Presbyterian church, Los Angeles.

There have been 500 invitations issued for the wedding, and 150 invitations for the reception following the wedding at the Nelson home. Rev. John A. Eby, pastor of the church, will officiate.

Music program will include songs by Mrs. Greeley Kolts, accompanied by Mr. Dorr. Mr. Dorr will also play the wedding march. Miss Nelson will be given away by her grandfather, S. S. Nelson. Her matron of honor will be Mrs. Charlotte Broaderson of Los Angeles. Miss Irene Fisher of Los Angeles will be maid of honor, and Mrs. Frank McGillis of Glendale, and Mrs. Howard Bentley of Los Angeles, bridesmaids. Billy Nelson of Los Angeles and Carolee Broaderson of Los Angeles will be ring bearer and flower girl.

Miss Lorine Czerniski Is Engaged to Marry

The engagement of Miss Lorine Czerniski of 209 West Doran street to Cassius E. Culbertson, jr., of La Crescenta was formally announced at a tea given Saturday afternoon at sorority house at Occidental college. A number of Glendale guests were present.

Miss Czerniski is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Czerniski of Occidental college. She is at present a teacher at the Central Avenue school, teaching second and third grades. She was also graduated from St. Mary's academy, and is a Gamma Kappa Theta. Mr. Culbertson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cassius E. Culbertson, sr., of La Crescenta. He attended Cornell university and University of Wisconsin. He is with The Daily Illustrated News, located temporarily at Miami, Fla. The wedding date has not been set, as Miss Czerniski and a party of her sorority sisters are attending Dr. McGillis of Glendale, and plan to be gone until September. A number of pre-nuptial courtesies are being planned for her on the return of the party from their European tour.

FATHER IN FAVOR OF SCHOOL BONDS

Executive of Improvement Association Urges All To Vote 'Yes'

Editor The Evening News:—I am the father of a child who at present is attending the grammar school in our section of the city and who will some day undoubtedly attend high school. I heartily in favor of the elementary school bonds and the high school bonds.

To my mind the secret ballot taken by the member of the Kiwanis club last Tuesday gives us an idea of how these representative citizens stand with respect to these bonds. The result of this secret ballot was: 68 for and 14 against.

The sixty-eight who are in favor of the bonds will vote YES on election day, while the fourteen negative votes undoubtedly included some who had not fully made up their minds and who will still swing over in favor of the bonds now and the day of the election, making the result even better than 5 to 1.

Schools Needed

This whole school business can be summed up in a very few words: Our city has grown fast, we simply have to have more schools to take care of the present and immediate future needs.

These bonds, I am informed, cover a school program which will take care of every part of the city for a long time to come. If I do not carry them we will simply have to worry along until the first opportunity for calling another election, and in the meantime we will have to waste good money building temporary quarters and later more money for buying sites which if bought now would save us thousands of dollars.

But here is the most important thing to consider: How will it affect Glendale if the bonds do not carry? If you do not vote for a civic center you simply do not have it; if you do not vote for additional parks you have to get along without them, and the same is true of other desirable public improvements. But how is it with schools? Can we have overcrowded conditions which handicap the school faculty, constitute a drawback to the child and facilitate the spreading of contagious diseases, and then expect our Chamber of Commerce to get more people to come to our city?

Progressive Step

There is no surer way for a city to stifle its growth, and even lose some of its citizens, than to ignore its school needs. A progressive city knows that the interest and pride taken in its schools have a direct bearing on the type of citizens drawn to it.

Every city that has late voted on school bonds has put them over by a large majority.

Are you willing for Glendale, a city primarily of homes, to get a lot of advertising as the city that failed to pass its school bonds?

Lets all get together and keep Glendale "The Fastest Growing City in America."

C. L. JENKINS,
Treasurer, Greater Northwest Improvement association, 1614 West Glenoaks boulevard.

ATTACK METHOD OF EXPENDITURES

J. C. Sherer Claims Call for School Bond Election Is Not Specific

Editor The Evening News:—The call for the school bond elections is so comprehensive in its scope that if it is approved by the voters that if it is approved by the voters the school authorities can legally spend the money in any way their utility dictates, as it legalizes anything from building to bigamy, provided it is done in the sacred name of education. In voting money for municipal or other than school purposes it is almost invariably required that the specific purpose to which the money shall be devoted is set forth on the ballot so that the voter can vote with some judgment.

In voting on school questions, however, the voter is assumed to be an individual without discretion and must swallow the prescription in its entirety or get none at all. The educational combine must be credited with knowing how to work upon the "herd instinct" of the human being quite as skillfully as the disciples of Lenin and Marx.

The present campaign in Glendale is a concrete example proving this to be a fact. No chance is given the voter to approve expenditures which he may deem necessary and reject others; the powers that rule in school matters are taking the chance that the same tactics which have formerly been successful will win in the present instance. Their position may be stated as follows:

Decrease Knowledge

"It has been the history of past experience to be a psychological fact that if we get a sufficient number of leading citizens to act as bellwethers the crowd will follow in their wake." Now the trouble with these "leaders" is that they have no first-hand knowledge of the subject of school expenses and little at second-hand that is valuable.

Now suppose we vote $1,000,000 each for the high and the elementary schools, what can a board of trustees do to see that the money is wisely expended, or even legally or honestly expended? They all have their own business to attend to and can hardly be expected to go very deeply into the matter. "They're not to reason why," but sign on the dotted line.

So in the final analysis the expenditure of this really immense sum devolves upon the two men who head the two school systems.

Now it is no reflection on these two gentlemen at all to say that they were not selected for their present positions by reason of their proved capacity as business men. It is quite possible to have complete confidence in them as educators and yet be unwilling to trust to their judgment for the wise and economical expenditure of this very large sum of money. Their task would be much easier for them if the expenditure were properly budgeted beforehand. But it is not, and at almost every turn they are called upon to exercise a discretion which can only be safely entrusted to men of experience in handling large sums of money.

Program Is General

The program is so general in its scope that no one has even a fairly approximate idea how much any one thing is to cost. That it has not been budgeted is evidenced by the fact that (as far as the public knows) there is no sum set aside for the cost of the ornamental lights on Broadway, but citizens inquiring about the matter recently were told "if the bonds carry we will pay for the lights."

Was this promise in the nature of a bribe or is it known that there will be a good surplus left when all "necessary" expenditures are made? The sum of about $5000 required for these lights will be a mere nothing compared to the whole amount. Out of $1,200,000 a great many miscellaneous items may be taken care of and as no report of these expenditures ever is made to the taxpayer there are possibilities for many things, none of which should be left open in the expenditure of such an immense sum of money.

This condition of affairs may be good "business," as some of our business men seem to think, but if they practiced it in their own business they would be candidates for Paton or the county farm.

Cites Broadway Bonds

When the Broadway High school bonds were voted the people were told that the sum asked for would complete the school up to capacity for the number of students that school "authorities" allowed in any one place, except for gymnasium and some other similar accessories. It is now found that $300,000 additional is required. But we have a "stadium"! The gross sum of $800,000 asked for the school in the northwest would be only a starter.

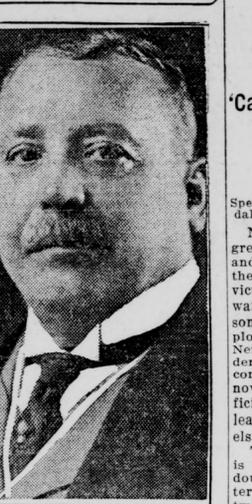

The proposition to buy sites in Tujunga and La Crescenta is the climax of absurdity. Even at this time a petition is before the supervisors to call an election for the incorporation of that territory, and the probability is that before a building could be erected on such a site the community would be an independent entity and cut off from the district. The bonds, however, would not be cut off. It must strike the average citizen that there is a singular coincidence in the fact that the alleged "necessities" of the two districts should require an expenditure of precisely the same amount of money. The "necessities" of the high school district, $1,200,000 and of the elementary district, $1,200,000!

For Junior Schools

It shows remarkable co-ordination. Such co-ordination, if exercised in the interest of the districts, would be of great value. It would result in the establish-

EASTER VACATION SET FOR SCHOOLS

From April 3 to 13 Pupils Will Have Holidays, Ferguson Says

The Glendale city schools will close Friday, April 3, and reopen Monday, April 13, for Easter vacation, it was decided last night by the board of education, at a meeting held at the board offices, 107 1/2 South Brand boulevard, Mrs. A. A. Barton, president, presiding. This holiday period corresponds with that announced by the Glendale Union High school, in the annual handbook. There has been no change in this date since it was named last September, A. L. Ferguson, vice principal said today.

The board of education last night abolished the annual visiting day, with the provision that special permission may be obtained by teachers to visit other schools, on application to Superintendent Richardson D. White. It was decided to conduct adult classes in English at the Grand View and Magnolia schools. The classes will be held two nights a week and will be open to the public. They will begin after the necessary preliminary arrangements have been made.

The board authorized Mr. White to forward to the Central Labor Union of Glendale a communication from the Los Angeles county counsel's office, answering questions raised in a communication from that body received January 31, relative to working conditions on city school buildings that may be erected if the school bonds carry at the election of February 17.

So seriously do the Chinese observe their New Year that for several weeks just before the time which was late last month, business slowed down.

ment of junior high schools to supersede the intermediates, where the pupils of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades could be distributed among such schools instead of being bunched together in the High school. This would relieve the High school of something like 900 pupils, who could be accommodated nearer their homes in the great majority of cases and so help solve the transportation problem as well.

The trustees of the High school a year ago went on record as willing "to foster the idea of a junior high," but for reasons which see in to have been based upon more or less jealousy the matter was pursued no further. The robbery of the High school of some 900 pupils at one fell swoop did not appeal to those ambitious for the greatness of that institution as a thing desirable.

Here is something to be explained. The statement recently made by the trustees of the High school gave the present enrollment as approximating 2350. In January, 1924, the enrollment was stated to be 2126. These figures show an increase of only 224 pupils in a year; nothing phenomenal, surely!

Harvard High Capacity

Another discrepancy that calls for elucidation: The statement above alluded to, gives the "class room capacity of the Harvard High "as about 800." Yet we find that in January, 1924, just previous to the removal to Broadway, the enrollment at that school was as stated above, 2126. What occasioned this shrinkage of the capacity of the Harvard schoolhouse? The condition there was crowded, of course, but that does not explain.

The writer wishes to thank Mr. Knuehell for confirming his statement regarding the number of High schools in Los Angeles. Mr. Knuehell says: "Pasadena has four junior and one senior High school, and that "Los Angeles has twenty-two High schools, including, of course, Junior High schools." Junior High schools are, of course, not High schools in the usual sense of the word, as they teach nothing above the ninth grade. Glendale demands five Senior High schools for the district, as against one in Pasadena and ten or a dozen in Los Angeles.

POWDER USES EXTEND TO CLOTHES

'Cannon Fodder' Now Goes Into Silks, Chemicals And Dyestuffs

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The great manufacturers of munitions and war supplies have found in the last year that peace has its victories no less renowned than war. This applies specially to some of the great makers of explosives, such as the Dupont de Nemours Co. and the Atlas Powder Co. Products which formerly contributed to "cannon fodder" now are being used to supply artificial silk, dyestuffs, chemicals, leather cloth, lacquer and enamels.

The demand for artificial silk is such that there seems small doubt that prices for second quarter delivery will be advanced between 10 and 30 cents a pound. Plants are booked solid until April 1 and the Dupont Co. this week marketed the first of the output from its great new plant at Old Hickory, Tenn., formerly devoted to the supplying of munitions to the United States and the allies.

Production and consumption of artificial silk have touched a new high point in the last twelve months. Domestic business alone is expected to exceed last year's 1924 by about 4,000,000 pounds, while world demand is expected to reach 150,000,000 pounds. The extent of the growth of this new industry can be estimated when it is realized that natural silk production probably will be under 100,000,000 pounds this year. Every American maker has extensive programs for expansion under way and some new companies are expected to come into production before 1926. Foreign producers in many instances have already contracted for all the artificial silk they can deliver in this country up to April 1.

Seconds Good

Right now supplies in second hands are being held at a premium of about 25 cents a pound above the regular price scale so that advances which may be announced when books are opened for second quarter business between February 15 and March 1 will not be unexpected. Every big manufacturer expects to turn out from 250,000 to 2,500,000 pounds more than in 1924. The largest price advance undoubtedly will be in the lower grades such as B and C.

Whatever prices are quoted at the new openings, they will still be far below the costs of natural raw silk. For example the 150 denier A grade artificial will probably be listed at about $2 a pound, whereas Japanese double extra cranks now are quoted around $6.75 a pound. The silks which fall below the standards of the perfect or near perfect are known respectively as B and C grades according to regularity of thread, amount of fuzz and divergence of color.

The new prices are counted on to reduce the spread between A grade and the other two.

Hosiery, Knit Goods

Hosiery, knit goods, and other textile manufacturers are making a strong stand against price advances, asserting that the cause of the huge increase in demand has been stability in price.

With the Atlas Powder Co., the making of explosives now accounts for only 75 per cent of the total sales which last year were $17,462,295. Twenty-seven per cent is represented by sales of leather cloth, lacquer and lacquer enamels largely used in automobile and furniture manufacture. The year was marked by the heavy increase in demand for furniture lacquer and enamels. This promises to continue since Grand Rapids furniture makers reported today that a period of steady business is ahead. Buyers, they say, who formerly bought cheaper grades, now are devoting 60 to 90 per cent of their orders to high grade furniture.

Postal Clerks' Dance Postponed Indefinitely

The annual dance of Glendale chapter No. 841, National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, has been indefinitely postponed, according to Lloyd Gomers, because the date set conflicts with the benefit affair to be given on February 20 by the Glendale Letter Carriers. The proceeds of the letter carriers' dance will go to the baseball team.

The Wrath To Come

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM, Copyright 1924

CHAPTER XLIV

"This," he pronounced, "is not the place or the hour to discuss the future. The Limitation of Armaments Conference has ceased to exist. The Pact, I imagine, must be either dissolved or reconstructed, full account having been taken of the dangerous position in which your two countries, gentlemen, have placed the peace of the world. That, I think, is all we can say at present.

Prince Lutrecht bowed solemnly. Prince Yoshimo followed his example. They left the room together, undismayed, with little apparent loss of dignity. Lord Yeovil accepted a cigarette and lit it thoughtfully.

"Queer brains, some of these people," he observed. The Secretary smiled.

"What about a cocktail and some luncheon?" he suggested. "The Chief would like to see you."

Lord Yeovil glanced at his watch.

"I am taking a day off," he announced. "And, by the bye, I shall have to hurry. My daughter is being married to Grant Slattery at one o'clock, and we have a little family party afterwards at the Embassy. Your life will have received a note by now. I hope we may have the pleasure of seeing you both."

"I am quite sure that you may count upon us," the other replied heartily. "Let me offer you at once, however, my best wishes for your daughter's happiness. Grant Slattery's a fine fellow. Only a very few of us will ever know how much our country owes to him for his work during the last two years."

"Not only your country, but the world," Lord Yeovil acquiesced. "War brings equal disaster to victor and vanquished."

"A relic of the Middle Ages," the American statesman declared, "in which the victors sometimes derived an illusory benefit from the simple fact that international commerce consisted merely of a primitive attempt at barter, and the complication of exchanges was unknown."

"And yet," Lord Yeovil sighed, "there will always be wars."

Views and Previews From Studios

THE GATEWAY

Betty Compton, Theodore Roberts, Kathryn Williams, Theodor von Eltz and Robert Edeson are featured in the cast of the William de Mille production of "Locked Doors" at Paramount. It's an original screen story by Clara Beranger, due at the Gateway Theatre today only.

The story is one of a beautiful young girl who marries a wealthy architect many years her senior. The marriage is a loveless affair for the girl, entered upon more for the fact of assuring her elderly and crippled father of a comfortable home than anything else.

Theodore Roberts has the role of Betty's father in the production. It is his first screen role in a year. He is said to rival even his character, "Grumpy" Edeson, in Miss Compton's husband in the picture and Theodor von Eltz has the role of the young fellow Betty meets and falls in love with. Kathryn Williams is well cast as the architect's sister, who sees that her brother is unhappy and in trying to smooth things over complicates matters the more.

Others in the strong cast of the production include Elmo Billings, trekked and extremely clever in the part of the young mountain lad who tells Betty and von Eltz of the "big one that got away" while he was fishing, and Jane Winton, "Follies" beauty.

"Locked Doors" is a picture that appeals to everyone in that it is extremely human—a story of what might be happening in the house right next door to you this very moment. It has drama, comedy, thrills and all the rest—a picture you'll never forgive yourself for missing. There is also the usual Wednesday feature of Selected Vandeville.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"Wedding Bells" is a great laugh tonic, declares those who have seen this sparkling comedy being offered this week by the Dobinson Players at the Playhouse Theatre, Central avenue at Lexington drive. The curtain rises nightly at 8:15 o'clock.

Mary Worth is seen in the stellar role, that of a vivacious young divorcee. Joseph McManus appears as an undiplomatic bridegroom. The winsome bride-to-be is portrayed by Mary Isabelle Alpaugh. So cordial a reception is this clever comedy receiving that capacity houses are predicted all this week.

"Wedding Bells" is the first play offered by the Dobinson Players under the new six-day-a-week program. An added attraction to the presentation February 13 will be a valentine party, with supper and dance after the show. Many of Glendale's younger set have already made reservations for this gala event. A jazz orchestra is announced as a special feature.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND TOPPY SNOWTAIL

Topsy Snowtail was a little boy saw the bad chap who was trying to catch Uncle Wiggily.

"I'm going to run fast!" brayed the donkey.

So away he ran, dragging the bad Bob Cat over the rough ice and snow, bumpity-bump. And the Bob Cat, wanting the donkey to stop, but thinking he worked by opposites, like Tippy, cried:

"Giddap! Giddap! Giddap!" He thought this would make Topsy stop. But instead it only made him go the faster, so that the Bob Cat was pulled along and bumped and scratched and bruised and banged, until he was so lame and sore and tired that he couldn't have nibbled even a pancake if he had one.

Then, with an extra jump, Topsy pulled the wagon and Uncle Wiggily in it to the top of the hill, but before he went down the other side the Bob Cat loosed his claw hold and fell off in a snow-bank.

"He's gone, Topsy!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "You got rid of the bad chap for me. Thank you so much!"

Then Topsy was very glad and drew the bunny home to the hollow stump bungalow. And if the poll parrot doesn't try to fly through a hole in the lace curtain, thinking it's Swiss cheese, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's big bounce.

Surgeon Opens Office In Security Building

Dr. S. H. Welch of 905 East Raleigh street, ear, eye, nose and throat specialist and formerly of Alva, Oklahoma, has opened offices at 404 Security building. Dr. Welch came to Glendale eighteen months ago and has invested in real estate holdings. He is a native of Kentucky and a graduate of the class of 1905 of the Vanderbilt university of Nashville, Tennessee. In preparation for his work Dr. Welch took a two-year post-graduate course in New York city, Chicago and Los Angeles. He is a member of the Odd Fellows, Shrine and Masonic lodges.

Troop 17, Grand View Scouts, Is Organized

Troop 17, Grand View Boy Scouts, now is officially organized and registered with the national headquarters. Badges and certificates have been received by members and some have their uniforms. National Boy Scout Day was observed a Friday and special services were held by the troop at Grand View church. The troop attended the services in a body with Scout Executive Harvey Cheesman and Scoutmaster George W. Thomas. After a musical program of patriotic songs by the congregation a solo was sung by John P. Ogle. The candle ceremony was performed by the scouts, and an address made by Mr. Cheesman who presented the badges and certificates.

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, Feb. 11.—Women of Verdugo City held a joint meeting last night in Fowler hall to complete arrangements for a 42-together birthday party, to be held Friday night with a family supper and Saturday night with a dance in Fowler auditorium.

Harry Fowler and his colleagues of the Verdugo City Association of Commerce plan to have a fair a gala one as this is the first anniversary of the founding of Verdugo City.

The Fowler building will be gaily decorated with bunting and flags, and at the Saturday night dance there will be horns, confetti and everything to make the fiesta a happy occasion.

Grand View Church In Prayer Meeting Friday

Prayer meeting services of the Grand View Community church will be held Friday night instead of Wednesday in order to accommodate the school board for its community meeting at the school-house.

Emerson Pupils Will Give Legion Program

Pupils from the Emerson School of Self-Expression have volunteered to appear at the weekly meeting of Glendale post No. 127, American Legion, to be held Friday night at 335 North Brand boulevard. The program to be presented by the Emerson pupils will include a sketch, playlet and several surprise numbers. The entertainment committee is headed by Walter Horstman.

Legionnaires from Monrovia post and from the newly formed Tujunga post will be present at the meeting. It has been announced. Following the entertainment, refreshments will be served. Glen Mapes is in charge of the committee arranging the "eats." An invitation is extended to all Legionnaires and former service men to attend.

Candidates and Proposed Candidates For City Council

Frank Rhode

Frank Rhode, 1004 Cornell drive, is a well-known Glendale builder who has, since coming here four years ago, taken an active part in many civic affairs. He was born in Detroit, Mich., educated in the grammar and high schools of Michigan, becoming interested in the building business at an early age. During most of his life Mr. Rhode has been a builder, first in Detroit, later in Los Angeles, and now in Glendale, which he declares is the best city of all.

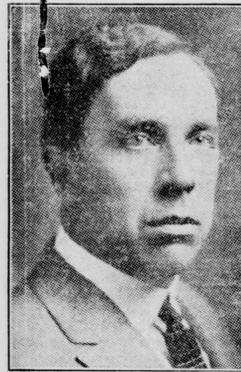

Mr. Rhode, with his wife, has wintered in Southern California since 1910. In 1919 they came here to stay, removing from Los Angeles to Glendale four years ago. Many business structures and a large number of residences have been financed and built under the management of Mr. Rhode here.

Before coming to California, Mr. Rhode was prominent in political circles in and around Detroit. Although he never ran for an office, he figured in a number of campaigns in Michigan, and is well versed in political affairs. He is now a heavy property owner in Glendale, having large holdings in all four corners of the city. With these many interests he has been active in many projects for the development of Glendale.

"If I am elected to the City Council, I will vow to fulfill my duties 100 per cent and can assure my friends a peppy administration," Mr. Rhode said, when informed that his name had been placed on the special Evening News' ballot by more than fifty citizens of this city.

Mr. Rhode is a member of the Masonic order in Michigan and also an Odd Fellow.

George H. Seal

George H. Seal, Glendale real estate investor and home builder, with offices at 1312 South Central avenue, first came to this city seventeen years ago. He has resided here ever since, excepting for a period of six years spent on his large wheat land holdings in Montana.

Mr. Seal was born at Knoxville, Tenn., residing there until he was 21 years old. He came directly from Knoxville to Glendale and in 1908 went into the railroad business here, being employed by the Southern Pacific Co. Mr. Seal remained in the employ of the railroad until 1911 when he went to Montana.

Returning here in 1918, Mr. Seal engaged in the real estate business for two years, then becoming a home builder. He is widely known in south Glendale for his business ability and success in the building industry.

"In making the race for the City Council, I will stand solely on my past record of accomplishment in Glendale. I am proud to be able to give every real estate client I have ever had as reference as to my ability in efficiently and honestly handling their affairs," Mr. Seal said.

P. L. Hatch

P. L. Hatch, manager of the Glendale & Montrose Railway Co., was born in Isleboro, Maine, on October 6, 1881, and has been a resident of Glendale since February, 1919, making his home here when he was placed in charge of the railway company.

When Mr. Hatch was 19 years old, he moved to Boston, Mass., where he entered the dry goods business. He followed this line of endeavor for five years, coming to California in November, 1905, and started in the railroad business for the Pacific Electric.

Mr. Hatch remained with the Pacific Electric until 1911, when he went to Riverside to assume duties with the Portland Cement Co., who own the Glendale & Montrose Co.

In February, 1911, Mr. Hatch was placed in charge of the local company and since that time has built it up to its present standard, an example of his ability along business lines. Employees of the company, who work under Mr. Hatch, have expressed confidence in him by sending in their votes for him as a possible candidate for City Council.

Edward H. Kerker

Edward H. Kerker, 344 West Wilson avenue, is a well-known Glendale pioneer real estate broker, and has been a resident of this city nineteen years. He was born in Chicago, Ill., on October 27, 1878, and received his education in grammar schools of that city, taking up chemistry at the age of fourteen years, and after being confined through hard study for seven years, was compelled on account of poor health to seek outside occupation.

He took up the selling of life insurance with the Prudential Life Insurance Co., which line he followed until, with his wife, he moved to Los Angeles in 1903. He returned to Chicago the following year, but succumbed to the "churn" of California and moved back to California in 1905. He became collector with the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., and worked his way to manager of the Glendale exchange. Later he was elected secretary of the Glendale Valley Improvement association, an organization of twenty men having for their object the welfare of this part of the San Fernando valley. Through Mr. Kerker's effort, the membership of the association was increased to 200, and the foundation for the consolidation of Tropic and Glendale was laid.

When he resigned as manager of the telephone company's local exchange, Mr. Kerker became deputy tax assessor in the Glendale district under W. O. Welch. It was at this time there was a big demand for houses and Mr. Kerker saw an opportunity to serve residents of Glendale. He set out at once to develop his home property into income, the place being located on Elk street back of where the Elks' home now stands. In 1913 he sold his Elk street property and entered the real estate business. For the past two years he has given his entire time to subdivision work and loaning money. His place of business for the past six years has been located at 136 North Brand boulevard.

Mr. Kerker is a notary public, also an active stockholder of the Glendale State bank. He has been a member of the Glendale Elks' lodge since 1917. "This is great kindness and loyalty from my true friends and they know if my health permitted, I would fight for their rights, no matter what the personal cost might be," Mr. Kerker said.

The queen of Holland rides in an American automobile.

R. E. Johnston

R. E. Johnston 415 Riverdale drive, is prominent in the business, civic and fraternal life of Glendale. He is at present toparch of Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciois, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce civics committee and a member of Glendale lodge, No. 544, F. and A. M. Last year Mr. Johnston was president of the Glendale Exchange club and is a past president of the Associated Concrete Industries of Southern California.

Born near Auburn, Neb., August 16, 1888, he moved to Kansas City at the age of 10 and entered the public schools there. After finishing his schooling he entered the building materials business. After a varied experience in this line of work he returned to California in November, 1911, and was married in 1913.

For ten years, after coming to California, Mr. Johnston worked for the Hammond Lumber Co., first as manager of their San Nays yard and later as manager of their Redlands yard.

Three years ago he founded the Concrete Brick & Tile Co., 440 South San Fernando road, of which he is proprietor and manager. From a small beginning, this firm has grown until it is now recognized as one of the leaders in Glendale industrial life.

"I have been approached by many friends, asking if I would run for councilman," said Mr. Johnston, "and to all I have given the same answer. If I run, it will be because I am drafted. I am busy in my own work and my time is largely taken up with the various civic and commercial enterprises in which I am engaged. I have no political aspirations. My desire is to see five good, clean-cut business men elected to the Glendale City Council on April 14, men whose desire is to serve their fellow citizens and advance the interests of their chosen city."

Harry G. MacBain

Harry G. MacBain is a native of Michigan, and was born at Grand Rapids, forty years ago next June. He came to Glendale fifteen years ago and began his business life in Glendale as manager for the Shaver Grocery Co. at 636 East Broadway, the present home of the MacBain grocery store.

For several years he managed the business for the Shaver Co., and then bought the company out, operating it thereafter as the MacBain Grocery Co.

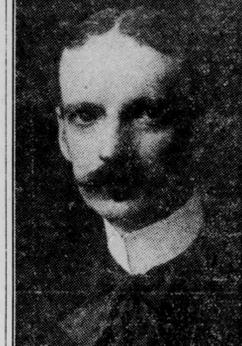

Before coming to Glendale he was engaged in the general mercantile business in Nevada during the early boom days, and not only saw, but participated in, several of the gold rushes there.

Seventeen years ago he was married to Miss Laura Wulff, in Los Angeles. His bride was a native of Nebraska.

Mr. MacBain is a member of the Elks' lodge, Unity lodge of Masons, Unity chapter, Glendale Knights Templar, a director of the Glendale Kiwanis club, a director of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, and also a member of the Glendale City Council, a post for which hundreds of his business friends and acquaintances are urging him to seek reelection at the coming city election.

Proof of Mr. MacBain's business ability is furnished by the success of his own business and various other enterprises with which he is associated. He is part owner of Oakmont Heights, part owner of La Crescenta Oaks tract, part owner of Glendale Industrial tract and a half owner in the Frazier Mountain Park property.

S. W. Huntington

Stephen W. Huntington, 624 North Brand boulevard, is numbered among the leaders in Glendale business life. He came here three years ago with his family, after an active career in the east, and has since made numerous investments in this city. He is now with H. S. McCormack & Associates, Inc., whose offices are in the Security building. He is a Mason and an Elk.

Mr. Huntington was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1873, and was educated at the Brooklyn Polytechnic institute. Later he traveled and studied abroad, entering the banking business on his return in 1890. His early banking experience was gained in the Dime Savings bank of Brooklyn, of which his father was president.

He was with this institution fourteen years, rising to the position of receiving teller and secretary. In 1906 Mr. Huntington removed with his family to New Rochelle, a suburb of New York, and in 1913 became a councilman of that city, following in the footsteps of his grandfather, Stephen Haynes, who was once commissioner of Prospect Park and built a number of the first public buildings in Brooklyn.

For six years Mr. Huntington served on the New Rochelle City Council, serving four years as vice-president of that body. During the war he was one of the leaders in the Home Defense corps and in the Police auxiliary, while his sons were actively engaged in the defense of their country.

The friends of Stephen W. Huntington feel him to be admirably qualified for a position on the Glendale City Council. They point out that he has no "axes to grind," is a man of wide experience, with the advantages of high education and extensive travel, and is, in addition, a thorough-going business man, with half a lifetime of banking experience behind him.

Possessed of abundant means, with no conflicting interests, they feel that he has the requisite talents and energies to devote to the upbuilding of Glendale, should he be elected to the City Council.

James Connor

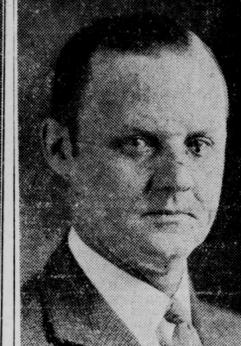

James Connor, 1027 Glenwood road, has been a resident of Glendale for twenty years. He is a heavy property owner in this city. During his years of residence in the San Fernando valley, Mr. Connor has been engaged principally in the dairying and fruit business but is now vice-president of the North Glendale Pipe & Reservoir Co. and director of the Verdugo Canyon Water Co.

Before coming to Glendale Mr. Connor was for five years manager of the land department of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railway Co., at Ensley, Ala. Mr. Connor went to Alabama from Stanford, Conn., where he was engaged in the nursery business. He was born in Antrim county, Ireland, and first came to America at the age of 17 years.

Here in Glendale, Mr. Connor has been active in many civic affairs. He is vice-president of the Glendale Poothill Improvement association and has served conspicuously in a number of organizations and on many committees representing residents of the northern part of the city.

STEEL ORDERS HEAVY
CLEVELAND, Feb. 11.—Orders are plentiful for structural steel and building materials is shown by recent price advances. Leading Ohio independents have increased prices on sheets $2 a ton and quotations on bars and plates are expected to follow.

Thomas White

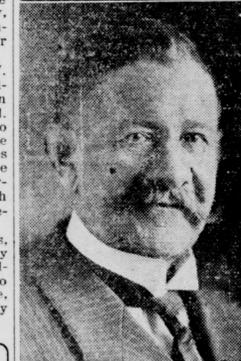

Thomas White, owner of the Glendale Groceries market, has been a successful Glendale business man for six years. In 1919 he came to this city and established the market department at the groceries, associating with J. Herbert Smith, owner of the grocery department of the concern. Since that time Mr. White and Mr. Smith have conducted the business on North Brand boulevard.

Mr. White was born and reared in England where he received his education in the public schools and later at polytechnic night school. He came to America in the year 1901 and located in Colorado. Sixteen years ago he came to California and engaged in the grocery and meat trade in Long Beach. During a period of five years he forsook this business to deal in lumber and is thoroughly familiar with that line as well.

During his six years of residence in Glendale, Mr. White has been active in many affairs, civic and fraternal. He is a member of Glendale Blue lodge No. 544, Unity chapter No. 116 and Glendale Elks' lodge. Mr. White and his family reside at 346 West Wilson avenue.

Frank Booth

Frank Booth, of 111 South Kenwood street, was born in London, England, January 4, 1864. Fifty years ago he was a choir boy in Westminster Abbey and twenty-five years ago he had the honor of singing before the late Queen Victoria and the royal family, at Windsor castle. For this her majesty presented him with a gold stickpin, which he has ever since treasured.

After an Oxford university education, Mr. Booth served through the Boer war in South Africa, under Lord Roberts. He came to Southern California over twenty years ago, settling in Glendale almost at once. The generation of fifteen to seventeen years ago will remember the "coffee king," who used to call at their homes with a weekly supply of coffee and tea. It was in London as a young man that he gained his experience in this line of business, serving as a tea-taster and blender in old Mincing lane.

Two years ago Mr. Booth ran for Glendale city councilman, being defeated by a small majority. His hat is now in the ring again, he declares. Mr. Booth is a pharmaceutical chemist.

Valentine Party Plan For Art Association

The Glendale Art association will be entertained at a Valentine party Friday night, at the home of Mrs. Bion S. Warner, 345 Chester street. Mrs. James P. Armstrong will assist the hostess. The members are requested to telephone acceptances to Mrs. Warner, Glendale 4342, by Thursday if possible.

EMPLOYMENT BOOM

CLEVELAND, Feb. 11.—Employment here has increased faster since January 1 than at any time since last March. Figures collected by the Chamber of Commerce show that enrollment at 100 Cleveland plants increased 5 per cent last month, 3987 men having been taken on. Improvement in steel and automobile production accounted for the larger part of the increases, with textile mills coming next.

Pounding of torrential rains cause more wear to roads of Java than traffic.

James M. Rhoades

James M. Rhoades was born at Placerville, Calif., May 27, 1871. Shortly after his birth, his family moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, where Mr. Rhoades was reared, attending the Cincinnati Grammar and High schools.

In 1890 Mr. Rhoades returned west to Glendive, Mont., where he served as assessor for Dawson county from 1894 to 1896, and also engaged in the insurance business. He was appointed receiver for the United States land office by President McKinley in 1897, and was reappointed by President Roosevelt in 1900.

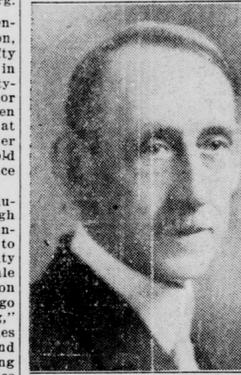

With the opening of the new century, Mr. Rhoades removed from Glendive to Missoula, Mont., and, until 1906, conducted a real estate and insurance business there. He then became right-of-ways and land agent for the Northern Pacific railroad, serving in this capacity until his election as mayor of Missoula in 1912. Mr. Rhoades held the high municipal office until 1914, when he became secretary-manager of the Bozeman, Mont., Chamber of Commerce.

Commencing in 1916, Mr. Rhoades spent two years as sergeant-at-arms in the Montana state senate, retiring from this work to again enter the chamber of commerce field as secretary-manager at Everett, Wash.

Mr. Rhoades came to Long Beach in 1919 and in the spring of the following year was elected secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. As executive head of the local body he served two and one-half years, retiring to enter the real estate and insurance business in partnership with Fred L. Smith, at 106 East Wilson avenue. A year ago he purchased the interest of Mr. Smith, and now conducts the business with his son under the name of James M. Rhoades & Son, handling real estate and insurance.

Mr. Rhoades resides with his wife at 329 East Chestnut street. He is a member of Glendale Elks' lodge, Odd Fellows' lodge, Masonic order and of the Glendale Realty board.

John S. Knox

John S. Knox was born in Nashville, Tennessee, of Scotch and English parents. He moved to St. Louis when quite young. For several years he was a traffic official of the Missouri Pacific railway system, and was organizer of the traffic departments of the Cudahy Packing Co., of Chicago and Omaha. He was for eleven years general traffic manager and general manager of a refrigerator car line. He left the Cudahy Co. to engage in the bond, stock and investment securities business in Omaha and Kansas City. He was vice-president of two prominent concerns and served two years as president of the Kansas City Stock Exchange. He has been handling securities independently for the last five years.

Mr. Knox is married and resides at 435 South Central avenue, which has been his home for five years. He has owned property in Glendale for seventeen years.

"I have never held a political office," said Mr. Knox, "but have always taken an active interest in public affairs. I have devoted much time during the past year toward the improvement of Central avenue, which will reflect credit upon the whole city. I am not in any sense an office seeker, but have told my friends that I am willing to serve the people of Glendale if I am needed. I have no pet theories of government, but if elected would apply to city matters the same principles of honesty, economy and efficiency that have governed my business life."

Ed F. Heisser

Ed F. Heisser, 351 Riverdale drive, came to Glendale three years ago. At that time he organized the Independent Lumber Co., located at 522 North San Fernando road, serving as secretary and general manager of this concern. Mr. Heisser has been associated with the lumber business virtually all his life. Prior to coming to Glendale and establishing himself in the lumber industry here, he spent ten years in the same business at Fargo, N. D.

Mr. Heisser was born in Minneapolis and received his early education in that city. He has traveled extensively throughout the United States and other countries including many in Europe.

Mr. Heisser is prominent in Masonic circles. In addition to his many other Masonic connections, he was one of the organizers of the Glendale Shrine club and served as its first president. Mr. Heisser is also a member of the Elks and Knights of Pythias.

R. Belcher

R. Belcher was born in Kentucky in 1877 and in 1893 went to Illinois where he was employed on a ranch. Mr. Belcher left the ranch in 1900 to take a position with the Chicago & Alton railroad. He remained in the train service until 1905 when he came to Los Angeles.

In Los Angeles Mr. Belcher first engaged in similar business to that he had left in Chicago, joining the force of the Southern Pacific. Here he remained until 1909 when he became a member of the Los Angeles police department, serving three years in the capacity of patrolman. At the end of this time Mr. Belcher took up the painting trade and for two years had charge of the Los Angeles park department painting crew.

In 1915 Mr. Belcher went into the paint contracting business for himself, remaining in the business until 1922 when he took a position with the Alexandria hotel Co., serving as painter and having charge of the department when he resigned to again engage in the contracting work.

Mr. Belcher came to Glendale more than five years ago, purchasing at the time, the property at 605 West Colorado street where he now resides with his family. Mr. Belcher is a director of the Colorado Boulevard Improvement association and chairman of the committee on flood control of the Southwest Glendale Improvement body.

SPRING BUSINESS

ATLANTA, Feb. 11.—Department stores here have just about finished clearing out their remnants in preparation for a strong drive for spring business, when the new lines formally are displayed next week. Millinery purchases from all sections of the south have exceeded expectations of local jobbers.

LUMBER PRODUCTION

SEATTLE, Feb. 11.—Lumber production in Washington and Oregon reached 103,898,678 feet last week, which was 11 per cent above new business. Shipments totalled 7 per cent more than new business. Since January 1 production has been about 34,000,000 feet above new business.

PARASOL STYLE

MIAMI, Feb. 11.—The majority of the parasols seen here are cretonne and are lined with silk, so that, when interposed between the face and the sun, the most charming and becoming light effects are produced for the women who carry them.

E. C. Williamson

E. C. Williamson, 373 Milford street, is a real estate man and builder of many years' experience. With but one interrupting period spent in the transportation business in the Imperial valley, Mr. Williamson has engaged in building and real estate in Los Angeles and Glendale for twenty-five years.

Mr. Williamson was born in Kirksville, Mo., in 1875. During the early years of his life his parents moved to Kansas and later to South Dakota. On the ranges of the Dakotas and Michigan, Mr. Williamson spent most of his young manhood. For some time he was located in Wyoming also.

Prior to coming to Los Angeles in 1899, Mr. Williamson spent four years in the building business in Portland, Ore. In Los Angeles he engaged in similar occupation until 1912 when he came to Glendale for the first time. This city was his home until 1916. During this period he continued in the building and real estate lines. From 1916 until 1922, Mr. Williamson spent in the Imperial valley. Here he conducted a hay and grain transportation service, then returning to Glendale to do building once more.

Mr. Williamson is a Mason and past master of Los Angeles Blue lodge No. 405. He is well known in civic activities not only here in Glendale but in Los Angeles as well.

Dr. P. S. Traxler

Dr. Paul S. Traxler was born in Chicago thirty-three years ago, educated in the Chicago public schools, and later graduated from the college of medicine, University of Illinois, in 1914. After serving one year as interne in the City hospital at St. Louis, Mo., he returned to Chicago, where he engaged in the general practice of medicine and surgery.

Upon America's entry into the World War, Dr. Traxler joined the medical corps of the army and was assigned to surgical service. Following several months in France camps here, he was sent to France with the surgical staff of Evacuation hospital No. 15, and spent eleven months in relief work abroad.

Re-entering active practice upon his discharge from the army, Dr. Traxler came to California, believing that the climate here might have beneficial effect on the health of Mrs. Traxler. He located in Glendale in 1922, establishing offices in the Central building in conjunction with Dr. James A. Belyea, with whom he served in the army in France.

Since coming to Glendale, Dr. Traxler has invested heavily in local property, now having extensive holdings in the northwest part of the city. Dr. Traxler is a member of the Central Christian church. He is also an active Mason, member of Glendale Elks lodge, Glendale post American legion, Sciois, Isak Walton lodge of America, Maccabees, and Glendale Physicians' club.

MILK COWS GAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The number of milk cows on Illinois farms increased three per cent during the last year, from 1,259,000 head to 1,394,000, while other cattle and sheep decreased 5 per cent, dogs 19 per cent and horses and mules 2 per cent. Total number of live stock animals now is 8,642,000 head, compared to 9,955,000 a year ago.

WANT MORE PAY

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Feb. 11.—Shippers at the Baldt steel plant are on strike for a pay increase of 5 cents an hour. They have been receiving 45 cents.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Dr. Lulu: Thanks, least six glasses of water, besides what you drink at your meals, in the form of beverages, etcetera. Better have two glasses before breakfast.

Slow down, girl. You're too speedy. You may have ill effects otherwise.

EXCESSIVE AND BAD-ODORED PERSPIRATION

J. J.—The formula solution for malodorous perspiration (one ounce of formalin to the quart of water) should not prove irritating. However, if it did to you, perhaps it is because you have what we call an idiosyncrasy (a special sensitiveness) to it.

Here are two other formulas: Ten grains of salicylic acid and one ounce of talcum powder. A 25 per cent water solution of aluminum chloride.

The latter will not only destroy the odor but will contract some of the pores so that less perspiration from them is excreted.

Any of these preparations should be used after a thorough washing with soap and water whether used under the arm pits or on the body.

For your bad catarrh, you should see a nose specialist.

Do you follow the column advice as to diet and exercises?

Mrs. V. C.—You did not put the name of your city and state on the envelope enclosed, so we cannot forward the reducing booklet. Please write again, correcting this and stating the circumstances.

Tomorrow — Answers To Correspondents

My Dear Followers—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type them. Write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Morning Wedding

The wedding of Miss Roene Zaun of 439 West Burchett street and Herbert L. Perrin of 1296 Winfield street, Los Angeles, took place this morning, Wednesday, February 11, 1925, at 9 o'clock in the home of Rev. J. J. Jones, pastor of the Pasadena Congregational church. Only immediate relatives of the young couple were present to witness the marriage ceremony. The single ring ceremony was used. The bride wore a henna-colored ensemble with summer felt hat and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Irene O'Brien, of Hollywood, was bridesmaid. She wore an afternoon dress of oxblood crepe roman with hat to match. Clarence Perrin of Los Angeles, brother of Mr. Perrin, was best man. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Perrin left for Stockton to visit with his mother, Mrs. A. M. Perrin. On their return to the southland they will be at home to their friends in Los Angeles after March 1. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Zaun, parents of the bride, Mrs. Mary E. Zaun and Miss Ethel Zaun, grandmother and aunt of the bride, and Victor Hagedone of Los Angeles. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Zaun and has resided in Glendale for two years, coming here from Wichita, Kansas. She is a member of the Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's Episcopal church. The groom is employee of Los Angeles and came to Los Angeles two years ago from North Dakota.

Plan Anniversary

Plans for celebrating the fifth anniversary of Mary Jane Gillett Tent, No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, March 24, were made at the meeting last night at 1430 1/2 South San Fernando road. Mrs. Queen Danner and Mrs. Alma Dutton have charge of arrangements for the affair. Plans will be made at the next meeting of the tent. A patriotic program was presented in honor of the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, with Mrs. Pearl Moore, patriotic instructor in charge. The program opened with the singing of "America." A paper on "The Greatness of Lincoln" was given by Miss Amy Miller, color bearer number one; "When Lincoln Died" was given by Mrs. Evelyn Moniot, color bearer number three, "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean" was sung by the audience. "A Short Story of Washington's Life" was given by Miss Dorothy Danner, color bearer number four; "Our Washington" was presented by Mrs. Pearl Moore, patriotic instructor; and a poem "The Emblem of Our Country" was read by Mrs. Susie Peck, guide. The program closed with the singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "The Star Spangled Banner." Mrs. Mae H. Dutton, president, conducted the business meeting when a number of reports were given. Mrs. Dutton and Mrs. Susie Peck attended a meeting of the past presidents at the Daughters' Memorial hall in Sawtelle last week. Mrs. Peck reported on this meeting. She stated that four of the units had been completed and furnished and that they were homes for the daughters or soldiers' widows. She also reported on the memorial service held at G. A. R. hall Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Queen Danner, chairman of relief work, stated in her report that clothing to the amount of $17.75 had been given the Lester Meyer Chapter, American War Mothers of Glendale, for disabled veterans. Mrs. Dutton, president, reported on the meeting of Glendale patriotic organizations held last week, when plans were made for a memorial hall for all patriotic organizations. Mrs. Pearl Moore has recently been installed as patriotic instructor of the tent and Mrs. Irene Fuller has been installed as chaplain. After the business meeting a social time was enjoyed and a large Valentine box was opened and the Valentines distributed. When the box was opened a large cake decorated with red hearts was presented to the tent from Mrs. May Lyons, who is the baby of May Jane Gillett tent. Refreshments were served by the committee.

Princess Girls

Princess class girls of St. Mark's Episcopal church held a meeting last night at the Guild hall with Miss Lucille Eldridge, president, in charge. The meeting was held at 5 o'clock. Supper was served later. Mrs. Frank Parr and Mrs. Philip K. Kemp, advisors, were both present. The reading of the book "The Meaning of Service" by Harry Emerson Fosdick was started by Mrs. Parr. She explained various parts of the book as she read. Plans are being made by the class to perform special acts of service to others during the season of Lent, which begins February 25 and continues until April 2. The next meeting of the class will be held February 25.

Musical Resume

A resume of "The Bohemian Girl" by the Irish comedian, William Michael Balfe, will be given Friday afternoon at the meeting of the Music department of the Tuesday Afternoon club. Mrs. Frank Arnold is in charge of the program, to begin at 2:30 o'clock. There will be music by the quartet, including Miss Elizabeth M. C. Jackson and J. Arthur Myers. Hostesses will be Mesdames Edwina Cleophas, C. C. Bowerman and Charles H. Bird. Mrs. Robert Young, curator, is compiling plans for the open program Friday, February 17, when the San Carlos Opera Co. will entertain.

Supper Dance

Many Glendale, Los Angeles and Hollywood people have made reservations for the Valentine supper dance, which will be a feature Friday night after the performance of "Wedding Bells" by the Robinson Players. The affair will be held immediately following the performance in the banquet hall of the Danbourn. Music will be furnished by Lieberman's twelve-piece orchestra from Los Angeles. Supper will be served buffet style. One admission price will cover the show, dance and supper. Special Valentine favors and decorations are being arranged for. Reservations will close tonight.

Class Will Meet

The Loyal Women's Bible class of Central Christian church will meet with Mrs. Minnie D. Walker, 611 Fairmont avenue, Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. A program has been arranged with a prayer service.

With Mrs. Cable

Mrs. Colin Cable of 505 South Columbia avenue opened her home Monday afternoon for a group of members of the Shakespeare department of the Tuesday Afternoon club, for rehearsal of scenes from "The Winter's Tale," to be presented at the club recital program. Plans for the presentation were made. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Present were Mesdames H. W. Ralston, J. T. Edwards, Rowsey, Ernest Carr and Cable.

Relief Society

Women's Relief society of the Latter Day Saints' church held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the Knights of Pythias hall, corner of South Brand boulevard and Park avenue. Mrs. Margaret Farnsworth had charge of the social service lesson. Twenty-five members were present. Mrs. Leona Jones will be in charge of the literary program next Tuesday, when writings of Sidney Lanier will be studied.

Security Bank Is 36 Years of Age

Institution Pays $35,000,000 In Interest Since It Was Founded

"The growth of the Security Trust & Savings bank is no more astounding than the growth of Southern California," said R. F. Kitterman, vice-president and manager, Glendale Security bank, this morning, in speaking of the bank's thirty-sixth birthday, celebrated today. "When J. F. Sartori founded the Security bank on February 11, 1889, it was in a rented room about 18 feet wide on upper Main street. The room had three cages, one of which was not used, one front window and a double door. Mr. Sartori was then cashier.

"Southern California was at that time readjusting itself after one of the most tremendous booms in its history. The boom left Los Angeles with fourteen banks on its hands. Mr. Sartori had come from Iowa, and at first settled in Monrovia where he organized the bank which is now a part of the Security system. Despite the collapse of the boom he entered the banking field in Los Angeles. He says it was the right time to build a business from the ground up.

"From that one small room on Main street, the Security has grown to its present size, with forty-two banking offices in the Los Angeles metropolitan area, 285,000 depositors, a capital and surplus of $11,075,000 and resources of over $200,000,000.

"$35,000,000 Interest

"In the thirty-six years it has paid to its depositors in interest over $35,000,000, and its position today is that of one of the most important financial institutions in the United States."

In celebration of its thirty-sixth anniversary, the Security bank is sponsoring a special anniversary program to be broadcast radio program between 8 and 10 o'clock tonight. According to an announcement from Mr. Kitterman, the following worthwhile program will be given: Popular songs of thirty-six years ago sung by the Hollywood Athletic club quartet; Frank Ridge, first tenor; Robert Cheatlen, second tenor; W. M. A. Brand, baritone; Harry Sherman, bass. Mr. Sherman is

WOOD'S ADDRESS GIVEN ANALYSIS

Taxpayer Urges 'Pitiless Publicity,' Agreeing With Educator

Editor The Evening News—It is a regretful fact that the splendid address of the state superintendent of public instruction delivered at the Broadway High school Monday night was not heard by a large audience representative of the entire community. Instead of the small and select one composed almost exclusively of persons engaged professionally in educational activities or intimately connected in some capacity with public school affairs. The announced subject of the speaker was "What is a School For?" and it does not require a careful analysis of the address to see that some things that Mr. Wood said must have fallen as discordant notes on the ears of some of the distinguished persons present.

Asserting that he did not know until after he arrived in Glendale that he was expected to act the part of a booster for the school bonds issue, he did not dwell at length on that subject and what he did say on it was in good taste and fairly stated. For instance, he appeared content to leave the subject to the decision of the local community which he asserted would act with patriotic intelligence and business sagacity. Nor did he attempt to dismiss the subject of bond issues as one that did not entail a very serious burden of taxation. Evidently Mr. Wood is not a Micawber member of the Security's Hollywood branch staff. Sold and ensemble numbers will be played by the distinguished International trio, composed of Christian Timmer, violinist; Annie Timmer, cellist; and Joseph Vecsel, pianist.

When it comes to considering questions of finance.

Another feature of the address was still more out of harmony with the local conception of official responsibility in school finance. He earnestly advocated turning the searchlight on the management of all public institutions—those supported by public funds. By fair implication it was plain that, in his opinion, star chamber sessions of boards of education were as incongruous in the management of school finances as they would be in other public bodies charged with duties of a legislative nature. He strenuously advocated "pitiless publicity" in all public business and he said he invited it in the matter of the expenditure of the $74,000,000 annually for the public schools of California. It was noticeable that the speaker did not receive even a ripple of applause for these "kind words."

Opinions Differ

Still another feature of the address was the stressing of the importance of parental responsibility in matters of an educational nature in the training of children. This also was out of harmony with sentiments that have been publicly expressed by a high authority in local educational circles. It has been asserted here in Glendale that in matters of child training the public school has come to stand in loco parentis, and that has been ascribed as one of many reasons for the increase of the duties and activities of the teachers in our modern and complex system of education, a duty not required of her prototype in the days of "the little red schoolhouse."

Chats On Beauty

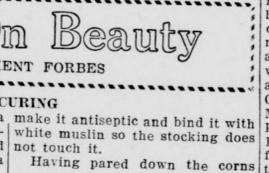

By EDNA KENT FORBES

Many people cannot get to a chiropodist with any sort of regularity. When opportunity and money permit I would suggest a monthly visit to a good chiropodist, or pedicurist, as some of them call themselves, for the returns in comfort and good looks will be great. Pretty feet always look well cared for, for bad joints and bunions, or a limp from badly fitting shoes can never add to a woman's attractiveness.

But if you cannot see a regular chiropodist, learn how to treat your own feet. Assuming you have only the usual troubles the treatment should be as follows:

Soak the feet in a basin of hot soapy water or else start your treatment as soon as you are out of a hot bath. Better soak the feet, they should be immersed about twenty minutes to soften the hard skin the treatment more effective. Put little pieces of cotton soaked in the water over each corn, to keep each soft while you work over other parts of the foot.

Scrape off yellow callous skin with a piece of manicure emery board or a regular corn file, then cut off as much of the horny, dead skin of the corn as you can with either a regular corn knife, or a safety razor blade. But be sure you know how to use these, and do not cut the live skin of your foot. If you do, by any chance, treat the cut as a real wound.

Keep your toe nails trimmed.

CURRIED DISHES

India Curried Veal: Buy from your butcher a slice of veal, which weighs about one and one-half pounds and sear this in a hot frying pan, without fat, on both sides. Now remove it from the pan and cut it in small pieces about an inch square. Fry two large peeled and sliced onions in one-half cup butter on a light brown, then turn these in a saucepan; add the veal cubes and one teaspoon of curry powder, then cover with boiling water and let cook slowly till the veal is tender (about one and one-half hours). Thicken with a flour-and-water paste, add one-half teaspoon of vinegar, and serve hot with boiled rice.

Curried Chicken: Have your butcher cut up chicken for boiling. Sear these pieces of chicken in a frying pan till brown, then put them into a pot with three peeled and sliced raw onions, one tablespoon of curry powder, one teaspoon of salt, and enough boiling water to cover well. Let simmer till the chicken is tender, then thicken the liquor with flour-and-water paste, add the vinegar, and serve.

Curry Sauce: Make an ordinary white sauce, or an ordinary brown sauce, and simply add the proportion of curry powder desired.

—If you are losing a great deal of hair it shows that your scalp needs treatment; or possibly you are a bit run down in health. In any case, massage the scalp every day until it glows from the quickened circulation, and do not mind the falling hair as all loose hairs must come out so that new ones can take their place.

The pilocarpine tonic often mentioned in the "Chats" would be helpful in toning your scalp. If you wish it and send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the formula I will be glad to mail it to you.

A Glendale program will be presented Monday afternoon by the MacDowell club of Los Angeles. Virginia Freeman, Glendale vocalist and teacher, will present Lura Jennings Burris, one of her most talented pupils. Mrs. Burris will give in costume Finden's "Japanese Cycle," including "Yo San," "When the Almond Blossoms Fall," "Little Dove," "I Sometimes Wonder" and "There Are Maidens in Japan." She will also give "One Fine Day" from the opera "Madame Butterfly" (Puccini). Mrs. Alice Ripley will be accompanist.

Club Women to Hear Property Law Lectures

Property laws for women and children will be discussed in a series of three lectures to open Wednesday afternoon, February 25 by Mab Copeland Lineman, Los Angeles woman attorney, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, under the auspices of the American Citizenship and Legislation department. The lectures will be given at 1:30 o'clock and will be open to the public. Admission will be free.

MOVIES UNKNOWN

Moving picture shows or open amusement places are unknown in some French towns and villages; even on Saturday nights most of the inhabitants retire at dusk.

DRAMA'S HISTORY GIFT TO PLAYERS

Valuable Collection Waits Erection of Dobinson Theatre Here

Comparison of Los Angeles theatres of today with those of fifty years ago is interesting. Residents of Glendale will have the opportunity to make this comparison at their leisure, for some time during the coming summer this city is to become the home of one of the most unique literary collections in America. The collection is already in Southern California. It awaits only erection of the proposed new theatre, which those financially interested in the Dobinson Players are to build this year.

The collection is the property of Florence Dobinson, general manager of the Dobinson Players, and is internationally famous as the Dobinson Collection of Theatrical History. It comprises books, programs, photographs and manuscripts dating back 100 years and is one of the most valuable collections in the country. It is especially valuable here as containing an authentic history of Los Angeles theatres and the drama since 1873.

Glendale is indebted for the gift to Mrs. Dobinson and Mary Isabelle Alpaugh, her protegee and ingenue lead at the Playhouse, whose home is Glendale, and also to a small body of capitalists who intend to make it possible for "The Fastest Growing City" to support a Temple of the Drama and Arts.

MITCHELL HAS BACKING OF CONGRESS

'Flying General' Stirs With Aviation Charges and Backed by Records

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Brigadier-General William Mitchell, of the army, who has shown he can throw bombs as well as drop them, had belonged to the navy, he would have been known far and wide as "fighting Bill." Perhaps he might even have been referred to as an "Old Sea Dog." The army, however, has not gone in very much for sobriquets since the days of "fighting Joe" Wheeler or "Terrible Teddy." So "Billy" Mitchell has not brought to his present combat, his death struggle, as it were, as much popular personality as so gallant a fighter in what he regards as so worthy a cause should have.

But the personality is there, a grim, bull-dog type of it. "Bill" has the fighting jaw and he is just as willing to fight in peace as in war. His gallantry in action has been attested by the ribbons which adorn his manly chest. Congress is willing to back him as a fighter in peace.

There are some in Washington who attribute the "hot water" in which General Mitchell has found himself, to the old "West Point crowd" in the navy. Mitchell is not from the Point. He went into the army as a private during the Spanish-American war. He remained a private just six days. That's the type of hustling soldier Mitchell is. He came out of the Spanish conflict a first lieutenant. If that tidy little war had only lasted a couple of years, Billy Mitchell would have been a brigadier, or maybe more than that.

Congress for Billy

As it is, he has the rank of temporary brigadier-general today in the regular army and he is only 45 years old. There is talk that he may be reduced to his regular rank of colonel before very long. There is talk also of his quitting the army and running for Congress. Maybe he will do all of that, but no matter how high he flies in the political firmament, Billy Mitchell cannot become president of the United States on an aviation or any sort of ticket. This ambitious general, our "only flying general," as he is referred to in Congress, had the misfortune to be born in France, his parents temporarily sojourning in Nice. Under the constitution this bars General Mitchell for all time from presiding over the White House. However, if one-half the support is given to the general that is talked for by members of Congress they may pass a constitutional amendment permitting him to run for the presidency.

It would not be at all surprising to his friends if General Mitchell should take up politics. He is one of the Wisconsin Mitchells known to political fame. His father, John C. Mitchell, was governor of the Badger state from 1893 to 1898. General Mitchell regards Milwaukee as his home and would return there if he quit his army career.

Enviably Record

In the service "Billy" Mitchell is known as a "bug" aviator. His recent fighting tactics have proved to the world that he is all of that. A great believer in the efficacy of the bomb, General Mitchell can almost be compared with the famous Gilbertian "sensational captain" who "could not come into a room without causing a boom" which startled ladies greatly. During the war he commanded what is said to have been the greatest aero concentration in all history. There was something like 320 fighting planes aloft under his direction. General Mitchell is not what is known technically as an "ace," but he commanded combat squadrons. Pursuit and individual fighting planes he has regarded generally as scouts, his great faith in the plane being in connection with its value for smashing an enemy's base of supplies.

On the staff of Fitzhugh Lee in Cuba, on duty in the Philippines, Mitchell saw about all there was to service in the Spanish war. Then he went into the regular army and made the signal corps, which early had to do with more than his comrades knew more of the World War, for he was in Europe as early as 1914 as a military observer. He grabbed the first opportunity to go to the front with the French aviation corps and was the first American officer to fly over the combat lines. His services in the World War are notable. He was in the American operations at Cambrai, at the Somme defensive, Champagne-Marne; Aisne-Marne; Oise-Aisne, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne. He watched also in eight French and English operations, as his decorations cover most of his best territory, and it must be admitted the general has some chest.

LOS ANGELES

Another Industry Is Assured District As Tract Is Secured; Missionary Union Will Meet Tomorrow

Another new light industrial plant for the Atwater district was assured when Anthony L. Rogelmair completed the purchase of 35 feet fronting on Los Feliz road near the new playground, today. The land was formerly owned by H. E. Konekamp.

Erection of a plant on the site for the manufacture of art tile mantels will be commenced immediately, according to C. S. Decker, who announced the deal. Half a dozen men will be employed by the mantel tile concern when it gets into operation. The new building will be 35x85 feet, according to present specifications.

Starts Class In Art

Mrs. B. Frances Larson, 3238 Perilla avenue, has opened a class in art for children. Already fourteen boys and girls of the Atwater district have joined the class. Lessons will be given regularly by Mrs. Larson at her home.

Missionary Union to Meet

The regular weekly meeting of the Women's Missionary Union of the Atwater Baptist church will be held tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors. The women are engaged in home missionary work among Mexican families of the district at present, and a large attendance is expected at the meeting tomorrow.

Builds New Residence

A new four-room stucco residence is being erected by I. M. Mills on Glenfield boulevard, between Gardendale and Appleton avenues. The grounds surrounding the new house will be beautifully landscaped with a water garden in the center. Four new stucco bungalows are contemplated by Barney Kennoffel. One five-room residence is now under construction on Edenhurst avenue between Diver place and Hollywood avenue. Two others will be built on the corner of Dover place and Edenhurst and one on Edenhurst.

COMMENT BY GIL A. COWAN

SENATE FREE FROM STONE WORRIES

Not alone gratifying, but surprising, indeed, was the tribute paid to A. T. Cowan, publisher, and The Glendale Evening News, by Governor Friend W. Richardson in his speech at the father and son banquet of the Glendale H-Y. The state's chief executive considers your home Glendale daily newspaper as a model.

The governor formerly published papers in San Bernardino and Berkeley, the latter a field center in Glendale, and for years he has served as president of the California Press association.

All of which make the compliment greater, coming, as it does, from one who is qualified to speak.

And, of course, the people of Glendale appreciate The Glendale Evening News, as is shown by its dominance of the field.

Gradually the weaker newspapers are being weeded out as serving a useless purpose. In Sacramento the Star has been effaced by the Sacramento Bee, which covers northern California thoroughly.

Incidentally, the Bee is in its second generation of McClatchy control and fast passing to a third. First came James McClatchy, and his sons, V. S. C. K. and the rest, and now comes the third generation assisting "C. K.," as the editor signs himself.

The McClatchys know their people and their field, and while lots of the Bee subscribers disagree with the publishers' views, they read the paper for the news.

That's why the Star no longer shines. It was a Scripps-Howard syndicate sheet with non-resident ownership.

From evidences of communications, pro and con, there is to be a spirited school bond election held in Glendale next Tuesday. It is to be hoped that every person reads the arguments presented by those individuals who go to the trouble of preparing something more worthy of your perusal than mere comment.

The more others write, the less the editorial and reportorial staff have to prepare. And that's that.

SENATE FREE FROM STONE WORRIES

Solons Glad to Be Over Squabble Over Act of Approval

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The United States Senate has disentangled itself from the Wheeler-Stone controversy in about the only way that disinterested members of that body thought it could be done.

To have refused to confirm Attorney-General Harlan Stone as associate justice of the supreme court would have been an admission that because he had endeavored to prosecute a member of the Senate he ought to be punished. To have done this also would have meant trying the Wheeler case in the Senate instead of the regular judicial channels.

Whether Mr. Stone acted wisely or unwisely in pressing the charges against Senator Wheeler of Montana is a question which now passes out of the realm of relevancy. He will not be eligible to sit in the case if it comes before him as an associate justice and a new attorney general will take up the thread of evidence and decide for himself whether an indictment is essential in Washington as well as in Montana.

Charles B. Warren, the new head of the department of justice, is by no means in sympathy with radicals and starts with no sympathy for Senator Wheeler, but he is an impartial individual who will not be swayed by what has happened before he takes office.

Question of Equity

There is a large question of equity involved at once in the Wheeler case, namely, whether it is right to force Senator Wheeler to pay the expenses of witnesses and bring them away from their business pursuits to attend a long, businesslike trial in Washington when the federal government has obtained an indictment in Montana on virtually the same ground and if it has additional evidence could secure another indictment in the Montana jurisdiction.

Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana, counsel for Mr. Wheeler, made this the main point of his attack against Attorney General Stone, but while many in the Senate recognized this a hardship they did not feel it was a point that ought to be determined by Mr. Stone as a price of confirmation.

It is an unusual case in many respects, but principally because the department of justice has concealed its evidence on the theory that disclosures at this time would be premature and should not be made till after the grand jury has acted. This has left many senators in doubt as to what evidence the department really had.

If the senators who are friendly to Mr. Wheeler—and they are numerous—had voted against confirmation of Mr. Stone, and the latter had remained in office and prosecuted the Montana senator and secured a conviction, the whole controversy might have been made the subject of debate in the individual states by opponents of the senators who voted for Mr. Wheeler.

Senators in Doubt

Being in doubt, the senators, for the most part, felt that the best way to handle the mixup was to confirm Mr. Stone and eliminate him from the case. Then a trial on its merits would determine whether the department of justice had acted wisely or unwisely. If Senator Wheeler is exonerated from charges at present made, his friends will without doubt use it as a basis for attacking the alleged political persecution engineered by the Republican administration because of supposed resentment over the part Senator Wheeler played in forcing Harry Daugherty out of the department of justice.

Almost everybody in Congress was glad the case had been disposed of so far as the Senate is concerned, because it was the kind of controversy which could have consumed much time in debate.

Nothing Decided

Just now the sponsors of various pieces of important legislation are anxious to get their favorite measures acted upon in the few remaining days left of this session of Congress. The vote of 17 to 6 for confirmation of Mr. Stone represents, therefore, neither the view of the Senate on the charges against Mr. Wheeler nor its opinion of Mr. Stone's judgment in bringing the case before the grand jury, but simply a ratification of President Coolidge's choice of a good lawyer to go to the highest court of the land as an associate justice.

Nothing was brought up that reflected on Mr. Stone as an individual or an attorney, though many members of the Senate, even of his own party, privately have admitted that Harlan Stone does not have the faculty of political judgment. But on the supreme court, at least, its omission is supposed to be a virtue.

C. E. Jones Candidate For City Treasurer

Among the candidates for city treasurer will be Charles E. Jones, of 206 North Louise street, proprietor of the Poppy Shoppe, 125 North Brand boulevard. He has been a resident of Glendale five years, served as superintendent of the Western Union at Zanesville, Ohio, for ten years, held a similar position at Dayton, Ohio, for eight years, and one year in the Glendale office. He was secretary of the Zanesville Masonic club for seven years, and is a member of the Shrine, various Masonic orders, Rotary club and Methodist church.

Music Halls Doomed In London Nobleman Says

LONDON, Feb. 11.—High-class music hall entertainment is doomed in London because of a dearth of talent and the fact that really first-rate entertainers are able to command much higher salaries in the United States than music hall managers are able to pay them here.

That's the belief of Sir Alfred Butt, who has just announced that the Empire Theatre will revert to "movies," after a five months' trial of high-class vaudeville.

CAMPBELLS LIVE HERE LONG TIME

Twenty-second Anniversary Of Building of Home Is Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell, pioneer residents of Glendale, have just celebrated the twenty-second anniversary of the building of their foothill home, Ard Ewin. As long time residents of Glendale the Campbells have enjoyed for twenty-two years the beauties of the northern foothills. From their attractive home-place they have watched the phenomenal growth of Glendale and nearby valley communities.

At an informal celebration of the anniversary of building their home, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and their daughter, Miss Kathleen, entertained recently Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Edmonds, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Worley, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Montgomery, W. E. Hewitt and Miss Mollie Cory.

Another social affair taking place on next date at Ard Ewin was a luncheon given by Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Mary Pollock and Mrs. Edith Freeman for the worthy matrons' association of 1919, O. E. S. Mrs. Campbell, who was grand chaplain of the Eastern Star in '19, is an honorary member of the association. Special guests at the luncheon, enjoyed by twenty-seven, were Mrs. Zella Whitford Sanson, of Corning, worthy grand matron of the California Eastern Star; Mrs. Wheeler, of Los Angeles, grand trustee of the grand chapter of the United States; Mrs. Sibley, junior past grand matron of the state; Mrs. Sallie C. Braden, of Glendale, district deputy grand matron, and Mrs. Martella Lane, California artist.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Feb. 11.—Interesting talks on the value of proper home keeping added to the attraction of a delicious luncheon given by members of the home economics section of the Women's club yesterday afternoon when they met at the home of Mrs. Virna Harman Walker. Tables were decorated with centerpieces of lilies the place cards being valentines. Hostesses were: Mesdames Elizabeth Wattel, Vernon Hall, R. Newton and Virna Harman Walker assisted by Mrs. H. Jones of the Red Hussar Co., who made the salad and coffee demonstrating the company's products.

After the luncheon Mrs. Zelpha Merritt, curator of the department introduced Dr. Lucrecia Turner, who gave an interesting talk to the mothers on breakfasts for the school child, and younger child, care of infants' colds and care of the mother in her daily routine, psychology of dress in the home and pleasant conversation in the home. Mrs. Merritt read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were accepted.

Mrs. Jones not only gave an interesting talk on canned goods but demonstrated each article of food as she mentioned it. Discussion of a club luncheon in the near future took up the remainder of the afternoon. It was decided to hold the luncheon with a small cover fee to defray expenses. The affair will be held at the home of the club president, Mrs. Charles Tuck. Twenty-five tables such as seating four guests will be arranged. Members of the home economics department will prepare and serve the food. The art department will be called on to provide the place cards, flowers will be in the club colors. This luncheon will take the place of the regular monthly meeting of this section. Twenty-two members were present yesterday afternoon.

Fire Chief Duncan answered a fire call yesterday afternoon and found a Packard limousine belonging to M. C. Surtstiff at the corner of Michigan and Rosemont avenues. There was little for the chief to do as the Surtstiff chauffeur had extinguished the blaze when he arrived. Mr. Surtstiff is touring Southern California.

Verdugo Hills post No. 288 of the American Legion will give another of its popular dances which have made so many friends for the local post, tonight in the Fowler auditorium.

Members of the Guild of St. Luke's of the Mountains will meet this evening at the church to discuss Lenten services, also to prepare plans for the Mardi Gras tea to be given February 24. All officers of the Guild are requested to be present at the church promptly at 7 o'clock to discuss various phases of the tea before the general meeting. Ca. on Renison of Eagle Rock will be present to arrange with the ladies about Lenten services and meetings.

Enthusiastic competition is being shown by the school children in the sale of tickets for the showing of the "Life of Lincoln" to be given at the Montrose theatre on Friday night and Saturday afternoon. Children of the Montrose school have prepared a prologue showing the life during Civil war times. There will be southern pikanninies, southern belles and stern statesmen. Through the courtesy of the management of the local theatre half of the proceeds will go to the treasury of the Montrose P. T. A., as this is its first affair to raise funds.

A new club in the local school is the Drama club organized this week when aspirants for histrionic fame passed tests and ten chosen by the drama teacher, Miss E. Rasmussen. Many of the members of the Girls' Glee club qualified but cannot, according to the ruling belong to both organizations. Those belonging to the school orchestra

FIND TRACES OF ANCIENT CITIZEN

Unusual Discoveries Made Near Santa Barbara by Noted Scientists

By CAL FISHER
For Southland News Service

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 11.—Was Southern California's climate a lure to a Mongolian race thousands of years ago? That is the broad subject opened here by recent discoveries that more than three score ancient Indian villages, the home of the first men on the American continent it is believed, existed along the Pacific coast from Carpinteria on the south to Point Arguello on the north.

Discoveries in 1923 under the direction of the Smithsonian institution, Washington, D. C., revealed "homo barbarensis," who is said to have corresponded in history to the Neanderthal man of Europe. Since then D. P. Rogers, who was with the Smithsonian in 1923, has been observed in this city as an expert to work under the direction of Harold Gladwin, honorary curator of the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History.

Recently he has dug up nearly a score of skulls on Shell knoll of the John Catlin estate where the Indian village of Mishopshnow is being restored. He also has found skeletons on the sites of other villages, which have caused no end of profound historical discussion.

Moved From Asia

According to Gladwin the race migrated from Asia by land which has since been restored. He also doubts that this was more than 10,000 years ago, but it was long before the days of King Tut in Egypt.

Other finds made by engineers of the highway commission working on the new ocean spray highway in the Malibu mountains tend to prove that the entire coastline of Southern California was dotted with Indian villages, a race living on fish and birds.

Few of these ancient aborigines penetrated the mountains at the time their villages were established, but it is probable that in later years their progeny wandered to Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico and Colorado, meeting with other ancient races in war which with pestilence blotted them from the face of earth so far as the present races of Indians realize.

Request School Tunnel

Members of the Atwater Park Parent-Teacher association voted to send a letter to the board of education of the school, asking their co-operation in the placing of a tunnel under the Atwater crossing on Glendale boulevard at the regular monthly meeting of that organization, held yesterday afternoon at the school. Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president of the association, was in charge. Mrs. Maxfield councillor for the district P. T. A., was present and gave a short talk.

Plans for a dressmaking class, to be held at the school each Tuesday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock, were made. A woman will be the instructor.

A change in the meeting dates of the P. T. A., was necessitated by this arrangement, and hereafter the executive board will meet the first Friday of the month and the association meeting will be held on the second Friday. The executive board will hold the next meeting on March 6, and the association will meet March 13.

A patriotic program, including readings and musical numbers, was presented by the children of the school and Miss Hairsch sang a solo. A box social and Valentine party will be given at the school Friday night, arrangements for the affair being in charge of the executive board and the room mothers. Residents of the Atwater district are extended an invitation to attend.

Rail Routes Before Commerce Chamber

Last night that they take steps to revive the movement for a motor bus line franchise between Glendale and Los Angeles. This recommendation came from the chamber's civics committee, and was presented in writing by R. E. Johnston, chairman.

Revision of interurban rates on the Pacific Electric line to Los Angeles, has been asked by the chamber. Upon request of the directors, the City Council has requested a return to the former fifteen-minute schedule on the Pacific Electric. The request has been made to the railroad commission.

Casa Verdugo Invited To Become Part of City

Annexation of Casa Verdugo to the city of Glendale, agitated from time to time in the past, looms with action taken by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night. The chamber directors, after discussing the proposed annexation, voted to invite Casa Verdugo into the city.

Residents of the section, which lies on either side of Brand boulevard and north of Arden street, are favorable to annexation at this time, mainly because they hope to gain sewerage facilities by becoming a part of Glendale. Sewerage disposal problems in the Casa Verdugo section are acute, and it was deemed that it is immediately necessary.

More than 3000 persons would be added to the population of Glendale, it was estimated, should Casa Verdugo annex. The territory, now in the county, runs back into the hills and comprises approximately thirty-five city blocks. It is built up solidly over the greater part of the district with high-class residences. Chamber directors declared their belief that annexation at this time would be beneficial to Casa Verdugo and Glendale alike.

Twelve New Members Admitted to Organization

Twelve new members were admitted to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce by unanimous vote of the board of directors last night. The new members are: Goodfellow's Grill, 116 East Broadway; H. C. Buzzell, 1421 South San Fernando road; Fred Kinsley Service, 225 West Los Feliz road; H. W. Swanson, 223 South Brand boulevard; Claude Caswell, Gateway Market, San Fernando; and Brand boulevard; Yellow Cab Co. Brand and Broadway; Poppers Furniture Co., 1508 South San Fernando road; Ever Ready Service Station, 101 South Central avenue; Glendale Transfer & Storage, Charles E. McNary, 115 West Broadway, R. S. S. Jackson Co., 302 Los Feliz road; Frank M. Schaefer, 305 West Los Feliz road; Pa. K Avenue Pharmacy, O. H. Kehake, 1023 South Brand boulevard.

Giant White Whales Far From Habitat

EDMONTON, Alberta, Feb. 11.—A giant white whale was observed swimming against the current of the Mackenzie river, near Fort Good Hope, more than 300 miles from his natural habitat in the Arctic ocean. At the upper rapids in the river, near here, the mammal was forced to abandon his desire to sample inland life, because there was insufficient water to permit him to cross the shallows.

150 Consecutive Tilts Won by Basket Tossers

PASSAIC, N. J., Feb. 11.—The Passaic High school basketball team won its one hundred and fiftieth consecutive game here by defeating the Arlington, Mass., High school team, 73 to 33.

Two thousand persons saw the "wonder team" stretch its string of consecutive victories to the century and a half mark.

MIDWINTER SHOES

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Lizard is one of the most popular of the midwinter leathers for shoes. The skin of a death valley lizard on a woman with cold feet seems somewhat incongruous, but few women nowadays get cold feet, no matter where their paths lead. The Spanish heel keeps the desert lizard company.

Wig-Wearing Craze Is Due to Hit England

LONDON, Feb. 11.—English wig-makers are preparing for a revival of the wig-wearing craze among society women. The new wig, they say, will be snow-white and cap-shaped, and the craze will start as soon as sufficient women get that "I'm-pellecty-bored-with-this-shingle" idea.

GREGG HARDWARE COOKING SCHOOL

Special Pie Crust Feature For Class Tomorrow, Also Pickford Cake

At the cooking school now being held each Thursday by Mrs. Mae Cummings, domestic science expert, the D. L. Gregg Hardware Co., 107 North Brand, will feature tomorrow, a special pie crust with banana cream filling and a Mary Pickford cake.

These Thursday classes, according to Mr. Gregg are proving very popular with Glendale women who are finding them instructive as well as entertaining. At the close of each session a special drawing is made and some fortunate woman is presented with a cake or pastries that were made by Mrs. Cummings. The attendance prize for this Thursday will be a 3-layer Golden Glow cake. On last Thursday Mrs. H. L. Wiles received the prize cake.

PLAY WATER POLO

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Feb. 11.—Stanford's water polo team will meet the University of Arizona five in a series of two games Friday and Saturday nights at Tucson.

A school newspaper will be published by the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Editors will be instructed in the work by Miss Allen and Miss Ross. Miss Fink will continue to conduct the Boys' Glee club with Mrs. F. Brown in charge of the school orchestra.

White House Favors Borah Seizure Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—President Coolidge is in favor of the principle contained in the Borah bill which would return all German property seized in the United States to its original owners, but is inclined to doubt the feasibility of such a wholesale return as Borah has proposed.

No definite indication was forthcoming from the White House today as to whether the administration will support the Borah bill, but it was announced that President Coolidge considers the basic policy of no confiscation in the Borah bill to be a sound one.

SHORT SKIRTS FAVORED IN NEW STYLE

Some Below Knees, Some Above Are Featured In French Creations

By AILEEN LAMONT
Special Correspondent of the Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Somebody who attended the Democratic national convention last July must have said "cut it short" to the French couturier, as they rate the great Parisian dressmakers have done just that—to the skirt. There is no question that skirts this spring are to be extremely short, according to models which have just crossed the Atlantic.

The newest creations seldom come much below the knee and often get well above the knee under the exigencies of steep stairs and low chairs. This vogue seems destined to be extremely popular in this land of well-turned ankles for "them as has 'em shows 'em," and "them as hasn't shows 'em," too.

A world-renowned English woman who arrived here Thursday after a month on the Riviera said today after a stroll on the Avenue that the things which impressed her most about New York were the absence of dogs, the paucity of walking sticks and the wonderful ankles of the American women.

Beaux Arts Ball
The Beaux Arts ball given Thursday night gave ample opportunity for the display of the nether limbs since the circus was chosen as the inspiration of the funny dress costumes and settings. Charity not only covered a multitude of sins at the charity ball given earlier this week but also formed the only covering of most of the backs. In fact, with the shortened skirts, the effect might have been called in photographic parlance a double exposure.

The French designers this year have stuck to simplicity only when it is expensive. That is, they have designed suits of the slim, straight, tight, strictly boyish mode, strictly tailored. Few women can make their own suits but many could and did make the straight simple frocks of last season. In dresses, therefore, the artists have stressed the more elaborate designs with flare effects to the skirts, contrived through handkerchief points, godets, flounces and pleats, much harder for the amateur to duplicate. They say frankly that too great simplicity is not good for the dress business.

Pleats Featured
Pleats are featured by nearly every new spring design for daytime wear. There are box pleats and double box pleats and folds and double folds and they put a "kick" in the skirt with a kick pleat. The pleats now are produced by recently perfected machinery, a different machine being required for each pattern.

The women tennis players on the Riviera are sponsoring bare knees, rolled down hose, and a skirt resembling a Scotch kilt. This costume not only assures freedom but a large increase in the size of the gallery of spectators.

It is no cause for mourning that black is to be prominently among us again this spring. There are many beautiful ensembles in sheer black crepe trimmed with braid in a bright color. Black chiffon also is the basis for many frocks sometimes printed in bright colors and sometimes trimmed with lace of contrasting hue. Dark blue also bids fair to be extremely popular. With the soft materials peasant sleeves are frequently employed and within the last week there has developed a distinct vogue for peasant blouses.

Wickedness of Actors
Legend, Priest Claims
NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—"The wickedness of actors is but a legend."
Father Martin E. Faby, chaplain of the Catholic Actors' Guild, made this statement at a luncheon given him by the Cheese club. He added:
"The reputations of actors suffer because there are many disorderly persons getting themselves into trouble who call themselves actors. I am sure that there is no more bad behavior among the real actors than there is among men of any other profession."

Stops Gossip

ROBERT E. WATKINS, police judge of Owensboro, Ky., who is enforcing a law against talking about neighbors.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Feb. 11.—Robert E. Watkins, police judge of this city, is just about the most unpopular man with the women in this part of the Blue Grass state. The reason is the anti-gossiping statute that the judge is enforcing.

He fined a woman $10 as a starter, and says he is going to stop all the gossip in his jurisdiction.

The law was enacted by the state legislature in its last session, and in fairness to the women, it ought to be stated that the first person convicted under it was a man, who lived in another part of the state. He was fined for saying that a minister was friendly with a woman member of his congregation.

The first woman Judge Watkins fined announced in an advertisement in a newspaper that she regretted that the fine was not $25 at least—the lowest sum on which an appeal could be taken. Until such a case is taken to the supreme court it will not be known whether the law is constitutional.

This particular woman, who lives on a farm, was convicted of having said that certain police officers received 25 cents a gallon on liquor sold by bootleggers.

Plan Spanish Fiesta As Annual Event Here

to pay their devotion to the dark eyed senoritas.

"This in brief, is the spirit which is the prospect of the Glendale Realty board to revive and perpetuate here for all time. While the complete details have not been worked out as yet, the general plan contemplates three full days of fiesta activities to be preceded by a great spectacular pageant that would attract the attendance of thousands of visitors annually.

"The board of directors of the realty board, as suggested by Lon J. Haddock, are serving as general preliminary committee for the present and the various organizations, civic and fraternal, will be asked later to furnish representatives for the various working committees."

Mapmaker Speaks
J. T. Edwards, F. R. G. S., addressed the realtors at their luncheon today. He told of the construction of the butterfly relief map of the world that will be on exhibition at Philadelphia during 1926 and of the American highway maps now being built. Mr. Edwards also told of experiences he had in the early days of development in the diamond mines of South Africa.

A spirited discussion of the multiple listing system of the board preceded a vote to carry the matter over for further consideration next week. J. I. Werette, Elwood M. Ingledue, James M. Rhoades, Gould H. Warren and others spoke in favor of the system.

A. H. Voelker announced that Col. W. L. Thornton will address the realtors on legal phases of the realty profession at next week's meeting.

Judge of Nutmeg State Recalls Whipping Post

STAMFORD, Conn., Feb. 11.—Fines or short terms of imprisonment for beating a wife or a child do not meet the measures of the offense, in the opinion of Alfred N. Phillips, retiring mayor. In a communication to his successor, John F. Keating, he urges that a law be passed by the legislature bringing back the whipping post.

The retiring mayor says that he feels strongly that it is an offense against justice and human decency to permit a man who beats his wife, or a parent who cruelly treats a child, to escape with the punishments now provided.

PURSES AND BAGS
PARIS, Feb. 11.—Purses and bags now may be secured to match the exact shade of practically any costume. These are of celluloid which can be colored any tint. They are lined so that it is impossible to tell how much money the bearer is carrying within.

BRAND PARK DEED NEARLY COMPLETE

Trust Company Rushes Work That Donors May Sign Tomorrow Night

Efforts are being made by the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. of Los Angeles to have the deed to Brand park ready for the signature of Mr. and Mrs. Brand by tomorrow night, so that it may be presented Friday morning to the Glendale City Council for official acceptance, it was learned today. Announcement that this magnificent tract of 800 acres in the Verdugo range had been tendered to the city as a gift from the Brand family was made last Saturday. L. C. Brand is president of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. and a pioneer in the development of Glendale. It was in his honor that Brand boulevard received its name, at the time he brought the Pacific Electric line to this city. Inasmuch as tomorrow, the regular meeting date of the City Council, is Lincoln's birthday and a legal holiday, the council will meet the following day, Feb. 12. Van Wie, city clerk, said today.

In an exclusive interview with a reporter of The Glendale Evening News, A. F. Morlan, vice-president and manager of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., stated today that every effort is being made to get the deed ready for signature by Mr. and Mrs. Brand by tomorrow night. Should this not be possible, a special meeting of the council might be called for the purpose of officially accepting the gift, inasmuch as the next regular meeting date is Thursday, February 19.

Tract's Location
Virgil B. Stone, Glendale city manager, spent yesterday afternoon in the offices of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., conferring with Vice-President Morlan and other officials of the company, in regard to certain details of the deed. The delay in completing the document for signature, if any, will be occasioned by the necessity of getting the intricate description of the tract boundaries correct to the last detail, according to Mr. Stone. Ray L. Morrow, Glendale city attorney, is assisting in the work of preparing the deed for signature by Mr. and Mrs. Brand.

The tract extends into the Verdugo foothills some two miles from behind the palatial Brand home estate known as "Miradero," lying at the north end of Grand View avenue, at the corner of Mountain street. It varies in width from a half-mile to a mile and includes one main canyon and four branch canyons. Well watered and well wooded, it is felt to provide unexcelled scenic and recreational facilities and to settle for all time the troublesome problem of a city park for Glendale, a problem which has agitated the city for years.

Survey Planned
The tract adjoins the east entrance to the Sunset Canyon Country club and its main approach will be just west of the Miradero castle grounds. As soon as the deed has been signed by Mr. and Mrs. Brand and officially accepted by the Glendale City Council, the tract will be surveyed and developed for park purposes under provision of the city charter and existing city ordinances, according to City Manager Stone. The park will be operated under supervision of the Park board, whose president is L. H. Wilson.

In accepting this generous gift from the donors, the City Council will adopt resolutions of thanks and appreciation, copies of which will be suitably drawn up for presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Brand, and to be permanently treasured by them and their family, as a city's official expression of gratitude to its benefactors.

hour and a quarter after the market opened. Last year its low point was 64 and its high 169 7-8. Durant's friends said he became interested in Cast Iron Pipe in 1923.

The stock has earned heavily. Its 1923 earnings were estimated at $21.92 a share, in 1924 at $44.67 and now they are put at about $60.

The increased earnings resulted from the corporation's acquisition of a method for making cast pipe of such strength that it would hold a thread for jointing.

This is "comeback" for Durant, for at one time he was "taken over" by bankers and the General Motors corporation, of which he twice was the head. Cast Iron jumped to 245 for a gain of 9 1-2 points in the first period of trading today.

The bears paid heavily to bring Durant back.

Committee Meets and Talks Plans for Radio

Members of the purchasing committee, composed of presidents of the various service clubs of Glendale, have met with Chief A. H. Lankford and discussed plans for securing and installing in fire stations the three radio sets for which readers of The Glendale Evening News contributed. Since the contribution list was closed and the list of donors published, checks have been received from the following: Foxwood Lumber Co., $10; Lounsbury & Harris Lumber Co., $5, and Max L. Green, $1. These sums have been turned over to the committee.

been reported from any section despite the exceptionally high waters.

Slides on many roads will block traffic for days, it was believed. Should the rainfall continue at the present rate, some sections may be cut off altogether.

In Mendocino and other coast counties further north the rainfall was reported even heavier than it has been here and streams there were reported over their banks.

Rains for 14 Hours
And Still Is Pouring
VALLEJO, Cal., Feb. 11.—A flood stage was rapidly being reached by the Napa river today, following fourteen hours of unprecedentedly heavy rainfall.

With precipitation already heavy for the season, a downpour started last night at 7 o'clock which was continuing without signs of abatement at 9 o'clock today.

Heavy Rainfall Blocks
Roads in Northern Section
REDDING, Cal., Feb. 11.—There was heavy rainfall throughout Northern California last night. Three inches fell at Redding, the greatest downpour of any day this season.

The Sacramento river is at a stage of ten feet two inches and rapidly rising. Five inches of snow fell at Dunsmuir and heavy rain at Weed. The state highway to the north is blocked at Cottonwood where the subway under the railroad is flooded.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—Smiling skies greeted Los Angeles and vicinity today despite predictions of rain during the day and for tonight. A warm sun was out in the morning.

Mill Valley Under Three Feet of Water

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Feb. 11.—While flood conditions in Marin county generally improved this morning, the past eighteen hours lessened a serious situation was still faced by the picturesque little town of Mill valley.

Boats sent in by the Northwestern railroad this afternoon were removing residents to high ground as the afternoon tide steadily deepened the waters which swirled through the streets of the town. The water was reported three feet deep all over the town and much deeper at low points.

The home of Joe Santos was washed down the hill and he and two of his children injured. They started to a hospital in an automobile but the machine was washed off the road and they were treated at a private home.

The passenger train from Point Reyes ran into a slide as it emerged from a tunnel, the passenger car remaining in the tunnel. No one was injured but passengers were forced to walk a mile to safety.

Tracks Washed Out
Women passengers on the Northwestern Pacific train which was washed from the tracks at Novato were carried a mile through two feet of water by male passengers.

Conditions were worst at Mill valley, San Anselmo, Ross, Kentfield and Fairfax. San Rafael and Sausalito escaped with flooded cellars and first floors, although at one time water stood two feet deep in the streets here. At Kentfield families were being removed from houses, this afternoon by boats and taken to higher ground.

The Northwestern railroad tracks at Mill valley were completely washed out and after the flood subsides it will require several days to restore service.

Salmon Fleet Runs Into Heavy Winds

MONTEREY, Cal., Feb. 11.—A heavy storm which arose at 7 o'clock this morning caught the entire Monterey bay salmon fishing fleet. The wind inside the harbor beating their way back against the wind the fleet made anchor only after a terrific battle with a heavy swell and high wind.

Two skiffs manned by G. Cullo and A. Lovocino capsized in the bay, but both occupants were rescued. The run chaser, C-253, which has been lying in the port for several days went to the rescue of the salmon fleet and aided them in entering the harbor.

Later Captain W. J. Breetzma, commanding the chaser, departed for Mare Landing to aid in the rescue of the crews of two fishing boats reported in trouble at that place. The heaviest rain of the season began falling at 10 o'clock and was still falling early this afternoon.

Thirty-two Inch Eel Found In Water Faucet

OLEAN, N. Y., Feb. 11.—An eel, thirty-two inches long, was captured by George Youngs, janitor of police headquarters, with a money-wrench. The eel came to the janitor's home to meet its doom. George was awakened in the night by a strange noise in the kitchen. He said he sneaked down and learned the noise was in a water faucet over the sink. Getting the wrench he unscrewed the faucet, and the eel fell into the sink, where it was slain by a blow of the wrench.

LIONS' CLUB LAWS BAR BOND ACTION

Glendale Den's Constitution Is Found to Prohibit Expressing Opinion

Members of the Glendale den of Lions took no action on the school bond issues at today's luncheon at the Harriet Mae tea room, although at last week's meeting the subject was postponed until today. It was pointed out at today's meeting that the by-laws of the Lions organization do not permit political or religious issues to be voted upon as an organization. In fact, the by-laws provide that any matter coming before the people on a ballot is not to come before the organization for approval or disapproval.

Plan Golf Tourney
Albert D. Pearce, chairman of the Lions golf committee, announced that the date of the inter-city golf tournament was selected for March 25 and that the Glendale den would have at least six players in the event. His committee was authorized to make arrangements to secure a cup to be played for.

E. S. Beggs made a report on conditions found on his trip to San Francisco. He reported that financial conditions were "dead" and that Southern California business men "should" congratulate themselves on being in the "white spot."

L. E. Olson, secretary of the Glendale Optimist club, was a luncheon guest and made a brief talk.

Good Financial Showing
Committee reports brought out that the expenses of the den's charity night at the Oakmont club, totaling more than $800, were met and that a substantial surplus remains in the treasury.

It was decided to hold next week's meeting of the den at 1526 East Colorado, when a musical program and other features will be offered.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Erratic price movements featured most of the principal speculative markets today. A strong forward movement in prices of industrial stocks on the stock exchange was followed by profit-taking operations in which prices declined severely. Other stocks which bore the brunt of the selling early this week were then brought out and returned to higher price levels. The grain markets exhibited the same erratic trends. Cotton and listed bonds maintained a level ebb.

There was no apparent effort to liquidate or to grab profits, as is generally characteristic of the day preceding a holiday in the exchange. A return of speculative interest in the oil shares and the comparatively small floating supply of stock proved the strong position of the oil stocks, which was further strengthened by the falling off in crude oil production and the advance in oil prices.

Bullish pools took hold of the market in vigorous fashion immediately after the opening and pushed prices of their favorite stocks to new high levels for the movement.

Cast Iron Pipe reached 250, up fifty-five points since Monday; Savage Arms, Worthington Pump, American Can and other market performers ran forward from three to six points. Universal Pipe reached a new high at 50 7/8, but settled at 48 on realizing.

Heavy buying of the motor stocks was also a feature. Maxwell "B" jumped seven points, to 44 1/2, on excited trading, while the "A" stock gained about three points to six points. Studebaker went through 46, up nearly two points, while Pierce-Arrow, Chamberlain and Willys-Overland enjoyed a good demand.

American Sumatra Tobacco gained four points, at 22, and American Tobacco was strong. Railroad stocks were featureless. The same was true of equipment stocks, coppers, the shipping stocks, sugars and other active shares, which divided speculative attention earlier in the week.

General Motors declined on profit-taking, while Foundation Co., another prominent industrial company, to fulfill expectations with larger dividends, had an excellent record and sold at a new high. The stock was placed on an 8 per cent dividend basis today.

Stock sales, 1,812,400 shares. Bonds, $17,233,000.

CHICAGO WHEAT

By International News Service

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Grains closed sharply lower here today. May wheat dropped back into the $1.70 class and closed at $1.77 1/2 to $1.78. Wheat finished firm from 4 1/4 to 5 1/4 lower. Corn was off 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 at the close. Oats closed 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 lower. Provisions also closed lower.

Remember the Number 106 E. Broadway

It is unnecessary to pay exorbitant prices for fine dentistry. Take advantage of our special get-acquainted prices during February.

Remember the Number 106 E. Broadway

It costs very little more overhead to do dental work for 100 than for 25. By dividing the overhead cost by 100 in place of 25 enables us to lower the prices for fine dentistry accordingly. Simply a modern business idea. Less profit per person, brought about by doing work in volume. If we work for 25 people in a month, our rent, fixed expense and living costs must be added to the price of work done for 25, lest we cease to exist. BUT, if we work for 500 people in a month, the fixed expenses are divided among 500 patients in place of 25. Therefore work in volume pays us more in totals, yet costs each patient a great deal less. Business methods in dentistry are just as necessary as business methods in automobiles or electric light globes. The day of charging a few for the expense of operating a business is past, and business must be done in volume and the expense divided by the many, or high prices for like quality prevail.

Prices at this office are based on work of the Highest Quality done in volume. This is one of the reasons why we offer you the finest vulcanite plate with best grade of teeth (the exact duplicate of those sold up to $50 and worth it) for only $20. Also others down to $5 in proportionate saving to you. And the saving applies to all branches of dentistry, whether it be a simple case of painless extracting or filling, or a complicated, highly technical and usually high priced piece of removal bridge or inlay work.

Correct Constipation

this natural way—Try it for ten days FREE

Los Angeles, Calif., July 7, 1923.
Every other night for twelve years I had to take pills for constipation. My kidneys and bladder were also in very bad condition. After the first day I discontinued pills and all medicine and after forty days my complaints have all disappeared.

I am writing this letter with the sole purpose that it may assist others to find relief. I shall continue to recommend this water and anticipate a wonderful demand for your Radium Jar.

MRS. HERMAN DUFF,
311 West 2nd St., Los Angeles.
El Paso, Texas.
About six months ago I commenced drinking Radium-Active Water and I cannot begin to tell you in this short letter all it has done for me. In that space of time I have discontinued taking cathartics. I am full of pep, have put on more weight, and it has also cleared up my skin so that lots of my friends have remarked about the change. The vitalizing effect from the drinking of this water is remarkable.

JOHN T. TURNER, Optometrist,

My family drinks the water from this jar and we need no other regulator.
H. W. THURSTON.

Callup, New Mexico, Nov. 21, 1924.
I use the jar in my own family and was surprised at the quick action as well as the wonderful results I have gotten in my chronic constipation.
H. G. WILSON, M. D.

Thousands have corrected constipation by drinking radium water. It is a time-tested method. For radio-activity in water is the secret of the remarkable results obtained by those who go to Hot Springs, Arkansas, for treatment. Radio-active water is true water. It properly cleanses the organs, freeing them from the poisons that too frequently remain in the body to lower vitality and resistance to disease.

How to Get This Water
Radio-activity can not be retained in water which is stored even for ten days to two weeks. The vital element is lost. But this element can be returned to the water by a simple economical, sure method. The Radium Ore Regulator is the means by which this is accomplished without changing the taste of the water.

Try for Ten Days FREE
See for yourself the effect of Radium Water. A number of Regulators have been installed locally for your convenience. You are cordially invited to drink the water, as much as you like. Or, if you desire, fill a bottle with the water to drink at home. Not the slightest obligation. Prove to yourself the claims that owners make for the Regulator. Call for your radium water today at R. HULL TRUCKS ARE LEADING LEAGUE

Defeat Radios 32 to 28 In Fast Game to Stay on Top of City Loop

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

The Hull Trucks retained their lead on first place and forced the Radios down into second place by defeating the Radios last night, 32 to 28, at Harvard High school gym in the fastest city league basketball game played here since the opening of the loop. The outcome of the game was in doubt until the last minute of play, and the lead swung back and forth like the pendulum of a clock.

McKowan, forward for the Radios, was easily the outstanding star of the game, getting nine baskets and making two free throws for a total of 20 points. He was finding the hoop from all angles and spots on the court, and with a little more teamwork the Radios would have swamped the truckmen.

First Quarter

The truckmen were the first to score, when Fanset caged a free throw on McKowan's foul, holding McKowan put the Radios in the lead with a basket after working the leather down the floor. Jensen, center for the truckmen, swung the pendulum back with a basket. McKowan tied the count when he made a free throw after Wilde's charging. Fanset found the basket, but McKowan evened up matters when he dribbled the length of the court and made an overcross while closely guarded. Soth put the Radios in the lead by shooting a basket from one corner, but Jensen tied it up with a shot from near the sideline in midcourt. Fanset caged a pretty shot to put the truckmen out in front as the quarter ended. Score: Hull Trucks 9, Radios 7.

Second Quarter

Soth again tied the score when he made a basket shortly after the second quarter had opened. Jensen worked the ball down the court and found the hoop, and a few minutes later caged another, giving the truckmen a four-point margin, 13 to 9. McKowan was called for charging and Fanset made the free throw, 14-9. McKowan cut down the lead by shooting from near the center ring, 14-11. Wimmer added the point on a free throw for Doll, blocking, 14-12. Fanset increased the lead with a basket, 16-12, and made one of two free throws on Schenck's holding, 17-12. McKowan pulled another sensational shot to make it 17-14, and Doll caged a basket as the half ended, with the truckmen leading 19-14.

Third Quarter

Fanset missed one and made one on free throws for Wimmer holding, soon after the third quarter opened, making the score 20-14, and Doll gave the truckmen a bigger lead by getting a basket, 22-14. The Radios started in to cut down the eight-point margin. McKowan shooting from one corner to make it 22-16. Wortham missed two free throws on Melver's foul, but McKowan helped out by sinking a perfect shot from the center ring, 22-18. Jensen added another point for the truckmen when he made the first free throw on Wimmer's foul, 23-18. McKowan again found the hoop by shooting from the center ring, 23-20. Soth slipped the sphere inside the hoop from under the basket, 23-22, and just before the quarter ended, McKowan put the Radios in the lead with a basket. The score at the end of the third quarter was: Hull Trucks 23, Radios 24.

Fourth Quarter

The fourth quarter was marked by desperate playing. Doll put the truckmen ahead, 25-24, with a basket from one corner. Jensen strengthened the lead, 27-24, by shooting from near the center of the court, and Wilson made a free throw on McKowan's foul, to give the truckmen a four-point lead, 28-24. McKowan cut the lead down to 28-26 by shooting from the sidelines in midcourt, and Wortham made it 28-27 on a free throw for Wilson, holding.

Players on both teams were playing fast and furious as the final minutes of the game ticked away. Wilde made his only basket during the game, to give the truckmen a three-point lead, 30-27, and Jensen sank another basket, to make it 32-27. Wilde charged and McKowan made the free throw as the game ended, Hull Trucks 32, Radios 28.

The lineups:

Hull Trucks—22 Radios—28
Doll (6) L. F. Wimmer (10)
Fanset (10) R. F. McKowan (20)
Jensen (13) C. Wortham (11)
Mclver (13) G. Schenck (10)
Wilde (2) L. G. McAllister (1)
Substitutions—Wilson (1) for McKowan; Soth (6) for Wimmer.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP BY FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—There is a lot of foolish money being wagered on the Delaney-Slatery fight at the Garden this week. It is Slattery money.

The reason the writer thinks this Slattery money is foolish is because the odds are based upon that fact that, in their last bout, the Buffalo fighter outpointed the French-Canadian in a six-round bout.

A bout of that sort does not warrant odds one way or another, and the talk heard on the inside is that a lot of Slattery's friends are going to be out a considerable sum of money as a result of this battle.

Slattery is a first-class boxer and clever and game, but if Delaney does not go in looking for a quick knockout, as he did last time, and is content to do some boxing on his own hook, the fans who bet on Slattery will be likely to wish they had not offered odds on the Buffalo fighter.

Methodist Episcopal church for third place. The Calla Lily crew defeated the M. E. churchmen 44 to 17 in the first week of play, but dropped the next two games by close scores, the Radios beating them 29 to 27 in an extra period game, and the Hull Trucks winning 28 to 25.

Tomorrow night's battle is still in doubt, but will probably be between the Legion and Christian church. The churchmen were scheduled to meet the M. E. church Monday night, but the game was postponed. If the Legion and Christian church meet tomorrow night, it will be the third instance this week when two teams, tied in the race, have battled for advantage. The Christian church team has lost three games while the Legionaires have lost two, neither team winning.

DYNAMITERS TO WIND UP SEASON

Fleaweights Leading With One Game to Go; Heavies Have Two Contests

By ROSS M. RUSSELL
Of The Evening News Staff.

As a matter of a little recreation, Coach "Fairbreadth Harry" Hicks' little 110-pound basketballers spent yesterday afternoon dusting off the Lancaster babes in a practice match, 54 to 4, in the Harvard High gym, which topped off their training for the last big game. The Firecrackers have a fine workout. Although it was a little hard on the Lancaster kittens, they had a lot of fun and even all the subs got into a good bit of the fray.

The last two games for the class B and C teams will come tomorrow when they meet with the Lemon "cut-to-orders" on the Citrus team to decide some important issues in the league standing.

Locals Have Chance
The hopes of Coach Pierce's class A quartet rose to the high-water mark last Friday when Alhambra was barely able to pull a time game with Citrus, the final score being 18-18, and at times it looked as if the Moors were done. The locals did not play last Friday on account of the rain, but will meet Covina a week from Friday. They play their next to last game here Friday with Citrus, and the way they are going at the present time they should come out of the big end of the score. The Central league heavyweight standings:

Players	W.	L.	Tl.	Pct.
Alhambra	2	0	1	.873
Glendale	2	1	0	.667
So. Pasadena	2	1	0	.667
Citrus	1	1	1	.500
Covina	0	3	0	.000
Monrovia	0	4	0	.000

The following standing for the class B teams indicates that the Glendallians still have a whisper of a chance for the banner—that is, if either South Pasadena or Covina beats the Moors and the locals win. Although this chance seems pretty good it will take a lot to humble Alhambra.

Players	W.	L.	Pct.
Alhambra	3	0	1.000
Glendale	3	1	.750
So. Pasadena	2	1	.667
Citrus	1	2	.333
Covina	1	2	.333
Monrovia	1	2	.333
Monrovia	1	3	.250
Monrovia	0	3	.000

The class C standing finds the locals sitting pretty at the head of the list. However, if the other teams come through the remainder of the schedule O. K. there will be a triple or quadruple tie for first place.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Brooklyn is maneuvering to get into line to meet the infield strength that will be put on the field by opposing National league clubs in 1925.

The Giants have a young infield, with Groh in or out, that promises to sparkle. The Pittsburghers are satisfied, and so are others, that their infield will be the fastest young quartet playing ball. Of course the qualification "young" must be taken into consideration. The Chicagoans are confident that they have the best veteran infield.

Brooklyn crowded its way to second place last year because her pitchers were as good, or better, than any others in the league. It is not certain, however, that Brooklyn can make so much headway this season with her pitchers unless there is some improvement in an infield that does not promise to be as good as last year.

Tierney is not a fast second baseman. He is a powerful hitter. He might play second well enough to get by and make up for what he cannot cover in ground by his prowess at bat. If Johnston were unable to play in 1925 and if Stock could do no better than he did last season, High could be switched back to third. He batted well last season and he played third quite as well as Stock.

Brooklyn started with Tierney at first, Tierney at second, Johnston at short and High at third, it would have a better combination than it had in 1924 so far as attack with the bat is concerned. On hits that went direct to the players, it would have a good fielding infield, but one that would not range as far as field as it might, especially on the right hand side.

Still if this quartet could give the pitchers better than .950 support in the field with their hitting ability Brooklyn might prove to be one of the toughest propositions in the National league.

Brooklyn let Neis go to Boston. The Brooklyn outfield could take care of itself without Neis and perhaps the latter will play better for Boston than for Brooklyn. During the exhibition series out on the coast last fall, Neis had some difficulty in a hotel and he has not been popular with the fans of that section by selling them stock in the club. This experiment has been tried before in other cities and occasionally has been successful. It almost always has been successful the first year. If the club does well, the plan moves along, but if the club is not successful the public begins looking for one to take the stock off its hands and pretty soon some individual or small group of individuals has acquired control of the team.

Opinions

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey have been offered $100,000 for their presence in the movies. More evidence of art in the movies. More evidence that producers want publicized names, not artists. Some "far-seeing" ex-pawn-broker sees a lot of shekels oozing from the box-offices of the country's theaters for a glimpse of Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey. Jack Dempsey may be world's champion mitt artist, but as an artist before the camera he just about qualifies for the "extra" and "atmospheric" divisions. Estelle Taylor before she became Mrs. Dempsey attracted attention for the first time in a picture called "When New York Sleeps" produced by William Fox with Marc MacDermott doing one of the finest bits of character acting ever to grace a screen. Miss Taylor profited greatly by Mr. MacDermott's artistry.

The peculiar part of the $100,000 offer is that no one in particular makes the offer. The offer was made—that's all the information the "dear public" gets. The press agent forgot to get the philanthropist's name.

All of which reminds of some other offers that have been made stars out of a job. These offers usually come from Germany, France or England. But—they always are turned down because the "artist" doesn't want to leave dear Hollywood.

It's always good for a story, whether the offer is made or not. No doubt there are some producers who would pay that much to get Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey under contract. But if they did not be deceived into thinking that they would keep their names out of the papers as the ones who got the contract. However, it's all good publicity.

At the same time this alleged offer is made for the Dempseys, such artists as Henry B. Walthall, William Humphreys, Bessie Love, and some others, wait patiently to get just an ordinary salary for three or four weeks' work.

And the movies continue to howl for talent. If you would be talent for the movies be a world's fighting champion if you are a male or marry the champ if you are a female. That's art in the movies.

Now, if some foresighted producer would only sign Jack Kearns to do a monologue as a two-reel feature, the "art" would be complete. Whenever Jack Dempsey appears in print, that's a sure signal for his manager to follow up with a lot of words about nothing in general, always concluding with prospects for a million-dollar offer from Tex Rickard for a fight, in particular.

Kearns wants Dempsey to fight anyone excepting the only two men in America today standing a chance of winning the heavyweight crown—Harry Wills and Tommy Gibbons. Both Wills and Gibbons want to fight, but Dempsey doesn't seem to be ready.

Dempsey says he's through with fighting; Kearns says he isn't. Dempsey seems more inclined to talk to movie magnates than to Tex Rickard. That's where Dempsey's wise. Get the movies first Jack; you may not have the championship belt to offer as "art in the movies" if you talk fight with Messrs. Wills or Gibbons.

Probably three times the number of golfers in Britain—and that Americans have gained nearly all the honors in international competition during the past four seasons.

"We will assume it is not discourtesy, but simply that the United States has grown up so far as concerns golf and wants to free itself from all apron strings."

Already there has been one unfavorable result. Folk in England are raising the absurd question whether the action in favor of the larger and lighter ball has been taken to check the sale of British balls in the American market.

These British balls, now used by the hundreds of thousands in this country will be illegal when the new rules go into effect because of their size and weight. Of course British manufacturers can conform to our rules, but it is questioned on the other side whether they will be favorably regarded by Americans as are the present imported balls.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Feb. 11.—An entire boatload of Druids from the north will dock here in June for the annual convention of the order, according to information received by Pietro Romeo, local Druid chief. A big boat has already been chartered by the upstate delegation for the purpose of making the trip from San Francisco to San Pedro on the ocean. From reports already beginning to come in from the various sections of the state, Mr. Romeo declares, it is evident a big crowd of Druids will be in Burbank during the convention in June.

C. E. Talley has bought the Burbank Baseball club and announces that the name of the outfit will henceforth be the Burbank Merchants' Baseball club. The new president of the club is James Quinn and the secretary is E. W. Minton, while Mr. Talley will be general manager and treasurer. Mr. R. Beom will be field manager and have entire charge of the team. The Benmar Hills park will be retained and developed into a strictly modern baseball grounds.

E. E. Kirk, city attorney, has been elected president of the Burbank Optimist club. Other officers elected include the following: H. G. Meyers, first vice-president; L. H. Wood, second vice-president; Rev. H. O. Simmons, third vice-president; L. H. Taylor, secretary; D. E. Smith, treasurer; L. H. Boydston, sergeant-at-arms, and Rev. Byron Holley, chaplain.

Mrs. I. M. King of Parish place and Victory boulevard recently entertained friends from Alhambra. Her guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Pangborn and Mrs. Adams. Mrs. King and the Pangborns were friends years ago in Chicago.

Messrs. Riggins, French and Fleming of Magnolia Park have returned from a trip to Sutter Basin, where they went to see the country.

PRESENTATION OF PARK IS LAUDED

A. H. Lapham Approves Act Of L. C. Brand In Gift To Glendale

A. H. Lapham of 415 West Broadway, former member of the City Council, has sent the following letter to A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News:

"I noticed in Saturday's issue of The News that L. C. Brand has donated to the people of this city what will some day be one of the finest parks in the west. As a citizen who will make frequent use of this playground, I wish to extend to Mr. Brand my personal thanks.

"As a former member of the Glendale City Council, I advocated and fought for a large city park. I was defeated so many times in my efforts to really help the people secure a large park, particularly after our Verdugo park fiasco, that I had given up hope that Glendale would ever have a real park of its own.

"Mr. Brand's action has renewed my faith in human kind. Somehow, I have always felt that the good Lord never intended that all of our beautiful hills and canyons should be cluttered up with man-made houses. I am glad to know that one of the finest places in California has been saved for future generations.

"I envy Mr. Brand the peace and satisfaction that he must have in knowing the happiness that he has placed in the hearts of countless thousands of children that will use Brand park in the years to come. Mr. Brand has done a big thing, in a big way, for the people of this city."

Dental Supplies Show Increase Teeth Decay

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Teeth of the American people are getting facher or Americans are having more work done on their molars, judging by an increase of 25 per cent in the production of dental goods within two years, reported by the department of commerce in its biennial census of manufacture. The value of dental goods produced in 1923, when the census was taken, was more than $32,000,000, as against about $26,000,000 in 1921.

Iodized Salt Replaces Iodine Goitre Tablets

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 11.—So successful has been the campaign through the public schools to stimulate general use of iodized salt as a goitre preventative that the public health department here has suspended the practice of administering iodine tablets to school children. A survey of the families from which the children come shows that iodized salt is being used generally in the city, Dr. C. C. Siemens, city health officer, said.

Pretty Girls Used by Smugglers in Ireland

BELFAST, Feb. 11.—Young and pretty girls are playing a big part in the smuggling campaign now being actively prosecuted on the Ulster border. The girls are being used by men to take all kinds of contraband goods into the Irish Free State, and in consequence are causing great trouble to the excise officers. Several girls recently stopped by the officers were found to be smuggling across dancing and evening shoes, perfumes and cosmetics, and even champagne, while some of them were found to be carrying revolvers strapped to their legs. Women searchers are to be employed to assist the excise officers.

BOMB SEASON NOW ON IN CHICAGO

Deadly Dynamite Replaces Black Powder Giving Extra Worries

By O. L. SCOTT Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925. CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The spring bombing offensive by the usual thing with the timely opening of labor and liquor wars, is already under way with new manifestations that worry the harassed Chicago detective bureau.

Two of the four bombs which have scattered up the local landscape during the last two days, were filled with dynamite instead of the much more harmless black powder, the regulation charge of the past. The significance of this change, chief of detectives William Shoemaker points out, is in the deadly characteristics of dynamite. "Deaths and probably lots of them, are going to result," he declares, "if the dynamite bombs continue. The black powder variety, so common here in the past were dangerous, but not in the class of the dynamite 'pine-apples' which recently have been distributed."

Chief Shoemaker says that 82 bombs have been thrown and exploded in Chicago during the past year and a half, with most of these in the past year. Up to the present, shattered nerves, wrecked buildings and smashed windows have been the usual toll. There have been no serious personal injuries from the black powder bombs.

It's the thought of what will happen if the dynamite tendency is kept up, that worries the detectives, who admit that curbing of the bombing evil is much more difficult than clearing up the gun problem. Right now bombing is described as a safe business locally, with pay to those engaged in it made at so much per explosion.

Labor Troubles "Labor troubles, which always are with us, feeds of blackhanders, and bootlegging troubles, are principal causes of the bomb outbreaks of growing frequency," Chief Shoemaker explains. "Employers who fail to meet labor demands, union men who fall out with their unions, men with money unneeded by blackhanders, are affected by this new major worry of Chicago."

Bootleggers who have run afoul of competitors in their game, and persons too vigilant in calling for enforcement of the prohibition law have been feeling the hand of bombers. The Rev. Elmer T. Williams, the "two-gun" person, who has been active against liquor runners has had two bombs planted under his house.

Bombings which came once or twice a week until very recently have been getting down to one a week in the last few days, with them the new dynamite problem.

Different Species "Black gun-powder bombs go up," Chief Shoemaker says. "Dynamite bombs go down. A dynamite bomb placed on the roof of the apartment building would go clear through to the basement. That's where the danger lies in this present scourge."

Most bombs used here consist of a piece of gas pipe, plugged with gun-powder or dynamite with a time fuse attached. They are, as a rule, made by the same men who throw them. The better bombs have a time clock arrangement, but others are simply arranged to explode upon striking the object at which they are thrown, or upon the burning down of their straight fuse.

Tokio Plans Building 50 Miles of Subways

TOKYO, Feb. 11.—If plans now being considered by the municipal authorities are adopted, Tokio will begin construction of approximately fifty miles of subways within a few months. The plans call for six subway lines, the longest to extend for more than eleven miles and the shortest slightly more than five miles. It is proposed that the subways be municipally owned and operated and municipal authorities are now considering means of raising a foreign loan to aid in the cost of construction.

Middle-Aged Woman Is 'Cutting' Third Teeth

SANDY, Ore., Feb. 11.—For three years Mrs. Anna Hennessey, middle aged, has been cutting a third set of teeth and is still suffering pain such as babies suffer during the teething period. Seven teeth are trying to pierce her upper gum above her natural teeth, all of which are still retained. One eye-tooth of her "third set" was pulled about a year ago, and the other one is almost through the gum. Dentists have not been able to give her relief.

Runs Paper

MISS TESSIE R. McLAIN, editor and one of three sisters who own and operate a newspaper in Illinois.

Three young women, sisters, are sole owners of The La Salle (Ill.) Daily Post. It is the only newspaper in the middle west which is owned and operated solely by women. Miss Tessie R. McLain, editor, began her newspaper experience as a typesetter, and has been an editor for twenty years. Later her two sisters joined her, Katherine, who has charge of the circulation and accounting, and Elizabeth, who takes care of the advertising. Tessie is also vice-president of the La Salle board of education, the only woman to be elected to an office in La Salle county. Katherine is vice-president of the Illinois Press association.

Football Players Are Said Sleepy Students

BERKELEY, Cal., Feb. 11.—Football players do more sleeping in classes than any other type of student, says Dr. L. M. Moore, assistant dean of women, and professor of physiology at the University of California. "One o'clock classes are always the drowsiest," says Dr. Moore, "because the students have just eaten a hearty lunch, and the functioning of the digestive organs takes the blood away from the brain. When this happens it is difficult to keep awake. I have a great many football men in my 1 o'clock class," she continued. "They have great difficulty in keeping awake. This is due partly to the hearty meals they eat, and to the exercise they take just before coming to class."

Revolutionary Stock Not Dying Out, Claim

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 11.—Popular belief that native white Americans are dying out is unfounded. Descendants of old Revolutionary stock are actually increasing at the rate of 12 per cent every ten years, according to A. W. Frye, supreme commander of the Maccabees, in an address here. "Nearly 50 per cent of the white inhabitants of the United States in 1924, a recent census monograph showed, are sprung from the original stock of the early days of the Republic," said Mr. Frye, whose society is conducting a nation-wide campaign of Americanization. "Despite the dying out of the ancient strain in parts of New England, descendants of Revolutionary stock show continued increases in the southern and middle western states."

Tobacco Tax In Japan Boosts 'Home Smokes'

TOKYO, Feb. 11.—Japan's tax of 365 per cent upon imported tobacco has apparently stimulated the consumption of foreign grown smokes, according to the Tobacco Monopoly bureau. During the first ten months of 1924 more than 150,000,000 cigarettes were imported, as compared with 39,000,000 during all of the year 1923. The quality of imported tobaccos, however, is declared by the bureau to be much poorer than in previous years.

Film Insured Against Loss In Cold Weather

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 11.—Weather insurance on motion picture productions! It's a common thing to insure baseball and football contests against inclement weather, but the taking out of $14,000 worth of insurance to safeguard the box office receipts of a production running at a local theatre was a distinct novelty to Portland. The policy was written by Lloyd's at a cost of $2100. The insurance covered the picture during a week's run, following the unusual cold snap in the Northwest, which ruined the theatre business.

NAVY IN NEED OF AIRPLANE CARRIERS

Retired Rear Admiral Fullam Urges More Adequate Defensive Force

By ADMIRAL W. F. FULLAM U.S.N. Retired. Written for International News Service, Copyright, 1925. WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—A naval air force is, manifestly, a force of combatant airplanes that can be permanently maintained with the fleet and utilized in battles at sea for scouting, fighting and bombing. A naval air force that can't accompany the fleet is no naval air force at all. If it cannot move and fight with the fleet in every part of the world, it cannot be properly classed as a unit of the navy. If it can only operate from shore bases and make hops along the coast, it is a broken reed as far as the navy is concerned. Such a force is not a sea-going force. It is a land force.

MARKET SUMMARY

A chemistry instructor at Vassar college has invented a micro thermal furnace permitting accurate observation of disintegration which is expected to effect a large saving in oil refining, according to E. F. Hutton & Co. leased wire report.

A 40-cent cash dividend was declared by the McCrory stores. A woeful lack in winter rainfall in Texas has retarded planting of a large amount of Texas and Oklahoma cotton, it is reported. Small grain is having a hard time, too. General Motors going on a $6 basis of dividends had a good effect on today's transactions.
