OCCUPATION OF PRETORIA

Forces, Under Lord Roberts, Are Now in Possession of the Transvaal Capital.

THE BRITISH PRISONERS AT WATERVAL

Gen. French Has Been Sent to Relieve Them—How the Burgers Attempted to Check the Advance—Driven Back by Mounted Infantry.

(Associated Press.)

London, June 5.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon, almost eight months after the declaration of war, Roberts entered Pretoria. The commander-in-chief fulfilled the promise he made to the Guards at Bloemfontein to lead them into the capital of the Transvaal, and England is celebrating the event with enthusiasm.

Throughout the length and breadth of the country the news spread like wildfire. Based on recollection of European wars when the occupation of the enemy's capital signified the end of hostilities, Roberts's terse message universally means the practical Finish of the War, which has tried Great Britain's resources as they were never before.

In London the Mansion House and war office almost instantly became the centres for jubilant throngs. Flags again appeared as if by magic and traffic had to be diverted through other streets. Hatless and coatless men and boys ran through the city, all eyes to see for themselves the bulletin announcing the good news and stayed to join in the thunder of cheers and singing of "God Save the Queen." Hats from thousands of heads were waved in the sun while old men on the top of omnibuses and aldermen from the windows of the Mansion House encouraged the crowds to still further efforts. Lord Roberts's Six-Mile Spruit dispatch was hardly printed by the extras before the Union Jack over the war office was hoisted up the flag staff and the message was passed from mouth to mouth. "Pretoria is occupied."

Everyone who had a chance to read Roberts's account of the resistance encountered yesterday were at that moment commenting on the probability of a fierce fight before the city should be occupied and were wondering at the Boers' capabilities to make such a stand when Pretoria was hemmed in on all sides. The presence of French north of

The Boer Capital came as a surprise and explained the commander-in-chief's reticence about the position of the energetic cavalry leader. It was evident that Roberts himself delayed attacking until all his columns were ready to co-operate.

Judging from Lord Roberts's phraseology the occupation be not accompanied by loss of life. Presumably the Boer forces which so insistently opposed the British advance at Six-Mile Spruit got away.

The latest press dispatches from a representative of the Associated Press at Pretoria, dated June 3rd, quote General Botha as saying: "So long as I can still count on our thousands of willing men we must Not Dream of Retreat or throwing away our independence." General Botha, it is added, annulled the regulations appointing a special committee to preserve order, substituting military control for the committee.

General Lucas Meyer, addressing the Thus, though their efforts were pitifully futile, it is evident that a few faithful Boer generals were working desperately to resist the force of Roberts's army.

The war office has information that one of the first things done by Lord Roberts after the occupation of Pretoria was to direct General French to relieve the British prisoners confined at Waterval.

OCCUPATION OF PRETORIA.

London, June 5.—It is officially announced that the British have occupied Pretoria.

London, June 5, 11 a.m.—It is officially announced that Lord Roberts occupied Six Miles Spruit on June 4th.

London, June 5, 12:47 p.m.—The war office has issued the following dispatch from Lord Roberts: "Pretoria, June 5, 11:40.—We are now in possession of Pretoria. The official entry will be made this afternoon at 2 o'clock."

London, June 5.—It was announced verbally at the war office this afternoon that Lord Roberts entered Pretoria at 2 o'clock, South African time.

FIGHTING NEAR THE TOWN.

London, June 5.—The war office has issued the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Six Miles Spruit, June 5, 8:30 p.m.—We started this morning at daybreak and marched about ten miles to Six Miles Spruit, both banks of which were occupied by the enemy.

"Henry's and Ross's mounted infantry with the West Somerset, Dorset, Bedford and Sussex companies of Yeomanry quickly dislodged them from the south bank and pursued them nearly a mile, when they found themselves under a heavy fire from guns which the Boers had placed in a well constructed commanding position.

"Our heavy guns of the Naval and Royal Artillery, which had been placed in the front part of the column, were hurried to the assistance of the mounted infantry as fast as possible that mules could travel over the great rolling hills surrounding Pretoria. The guns were supported by Stevenson's brigade of Pole-Carew's division, and after a few rounds drove the enemy from their positions.

"The Boers then attempted to turn our left flank, in which they were foiled by the mounted infantry and Yeomanry, supported by the Maxim brigade of Tucker's division. As, however, they still kept pressing our left rear, I sent word to Ish Hamilton, who was advancing three miles to our left, to incline towards us and fill up the gap between the two columns. This finally checked the enemy, who were driven back towards Pretoria.

"I hoped we would have been able to follow them up, but the days now are very short in this part of the world, and after two hours' marching and fighting we had to bivouac on the ground gained during the day.

"The Guards brigade is quite near the southernmost fort by which Pretoria is defended, and less than four miles from the town.

"French, with the third and fourth cavalry brigades, and Hutton's New South Wales mounted rifles, is north of Pretoria. Broadwood's brigade is between French's and Hamilton's columns, and Gordon is watching the right flank of the main force, not far from the railway bridge at Irene station, which was destroyed by the enemy.

"Our casualties, I hope, are very few."

CANADIANS WOUNDED.

Ottawa, June 5.—Lord Minto has received the following cables from Sir Alfred Milner:

"Capetown, June 2.—I regret to report that Private C. H. Boot, Royal Canadian Regiment, died of enteric fever at Naanwpoort, on June 1. (Signed) Milner."

"Capetown, June 3.—I regret to report Private J. W. Gray, 2nd Canadian Mounted Infantry, severely wounded near Johannesburg, on May 28th; Corporal R. A. Stevens, dangerously wounded, and SS Private L. Dore, slightly wounded, both of Canadian Mounted Infantry, on May 28th."

"Capetown, June 3.—I regret to report Captain E. J. Harrison, Canadian Mounted Infantry, dangerously ill with enteric fever at Wynberg. (Signed) Milner."

DETERMINED TO FIGHT.

New York, June 5.—A fac simile cablegram dated Lorenzo Marquez and signed by Kruger is printed in the World today. The cablegram extends thanks for the offer of homestead farms in the United States, but adds that the Burgers have determined to fight for their liberty loving country to the bitter end.

Celebrations in the East.

Montreal, June 5.—As was to be expected, the official news of the occupation of Pretoria was received throughout Eastern Canada with wild enthusiasm. National colors are much in evidence everywhere.

Proposed Public Holiday.

Ottawa, June 5.—There is some talk of there being a proclamation issued declaring a public holiday over the Dominion on account of the official announcement of the capture of Pretoria.

How Envoys Received the News.
Chicago, Ill., June 5.—The Boer delegates arrived here this morning and were immediately taken in charge by a reception committee headed by Mayor Harrison and conducted to the Auditorium hotel.

The delegates received the news of the fall of Pretoria calmly. Mr. Fischer remarking: "The news does not come as a surprise. Fighting will continue." Mr. Wessels said that the fall of the Transvaal capital meant there would no longer be organized resistance on a large scale to Lord Roberts, but from now on the Burgers would pursue guerrilla tactics. A mass meeting will be held to-night, and the party will leave for St. Paul tomorrow.

Gen. Delarey Says the Capital Will Be Defended to the Utmost.

London, June 5.—Little or no official intelligence is obtainable regarding what is transpiring outside Pretoria.

President Kruger commands the telegraph eastward from Pretoria, and telegraphic news from Pretoria to Johannesburg has ceased.

but most of the commandos are in larger numbers outside. A great war council of generals has just concluded its deliberations.

Another dispatch brought to Lorenzo Marquez by messenger and dated at Pretoria, Friday at midnight, says: "The war council assumes the powers of the government."

President Kruger is somewhere to the eastward, but is in constant wire communication with the leaders here.

From Lorenzo Marquez came a dispatch dated June 4th, saying: "It is known that some great British movement is in progress outside of Pretoria."

Power operations to break Lord Roberts's communications have been completely baffled, and the Boers are in danger of being surrounded by the British forces.

Established Communication with Gen. Buller. The Boers marched parallel with Ruddle, intending to seize a strong position on the Fieksburg road.

MR. MINNES AND MR. TURNER. There were now, both several times changes of compliments between Mr. Turner and other members of his government and the Messrs. Minnes, and we think the demand which the private secretary of the Lieut.-Governor makes in the Times to-day is not an unreasonable one.

treasury. He spoke of the letter of July 14th in which the Governor gives his reasons for not signing Fauguer's appointment, etc. He (the private secretary) said that he had written that letter. He said that Your Honor considered that the result of the elections generally was against the government, and therefore no new appointments should be made, and no special warrants drawn. He then went on to say that there was a method by which it could be secured by the government, and he was of the opinion that it would be well to back me up by support from some of the members who had been elected to support the opposition; and he desired to know that his brother, W. W. R. McInnes, M.P., would carry out an arrangement of that kind. He (W. W. R. McInnes) was prepared to resign his seat in the Commons and enter into local politics. He was really a friend of mine, and fully supported most of my policy, more particularly that of railways, agriculture and finance. He would, however, want a seat in the cabinet, and if I were inclined to give him that he was quite sure he could bring over two of the present opposition Island members to my support in addition to his own. This would give me, in the event of Cassiar being a majority government, at least 21 or 22 government supporters, and I should, he thought, have little difficulty in getting over one or two more, thus securing a good working majority. A few days after Mr. W. W. R. McInnes called at my office and discussed the situation in the House suggested by his brother. Your Honor's private secretary, and confirmed the statements made by the latter. Mr. W. W. R. McInnes subsequently had other interviews with me on the same subject in my office, and negotiations have practically continued until the present time. Your Honor will observe that such representations from such a quarter necessarily required serious consideration on the part of the Governor, and I was surprised to receive Your Honor's letter, inasmuch as it placed an entirely new complexion on the whole situation.

cannot wonder that the authorities are afraid of him and refuse to consider the question in the same friendly spirit which they otherwise would. But when we send the brains of the province back and lay the matter before them in a reasonable way these men will surely grant our request. We stand for reason, we stand for loyalty, and these men with whom we have to deal at Ottawa and London are the same reasonable, loyal men as ourselves. Joe Chamberlain is surely as honorable as Joe Martin, and it is exciting our cause at the outset to approach these men with a rifle and sword when they should be approached with a cool head and a reasonable presentation of the justice of our cause. He was prepared to use all his influence in this way, but he was not prepared to shoulder a gun and demand what he was convinced could be obtained in a constitutional way. So firm was he in this opinion that if the Ottawa authorities failed to do what they ought to do in this matter he was disposed to think there was something wrong with the representation. If the British North American Act is not broad enough to allow the kind of legislation we want, let us attack that and continue our efforts until all constitutional means have been exhausted. Neither did he believe in making it a political issue. It was too serious a matter for that. Send our strongest men back and present the case to the authorities in a friendly, reasonable way and say "these are the sentiments of the people of British Columbia," and he felt sure the legislation would be passed.

LABOR REPRESENTATION. It has been contended that the conditions which result in the election of men known as "Labor" representatives to the parliaments and assemblies of our land are abnormal; that if the body of men were in a healthy state there would be no need, and therefore no demand, for class representation, and that men would secure the suffrages of the electors not because they were laborers, mechanics or followers of any particular profession, but because they possessed the confidence of the community and it was felt that the interests of all classes were safe in their hands. There is certainly a great deal in these contentions, and probably when the day of ideal conditions has arrived and selfishness and greed have disappeared from the earth we may attain to the lofty plane which looks so beautiful away in the dim distance, but in the meantime we must accommodate ourselves to the circumstances as we find them. The population of British Columbia in the future must in the very nature of things be largely made up of miners and laboring men, and that class of people will undoubtedly have a large influence in shaping the legislation of the province. In the contest now going on there are a number of labor candidates in the field, and while the contingent which will take its seat in the House is not likely to be very strong, it will grow and in time may become a body of considerable importance. Those who have labor element in British Columbia know that he is not a blatant demagogue of the red, roaring anarchist type so common in the United States, but a conservative, reasonable, safe, intelligent, broad-minded man, and withal one of the best and most convincing debaters that has ever sat in the assembly. Here is an extract from one of his speeches, and from what he said on this and on other occasions it is clear that Mr. Ralph Smith cannot be set down as a "dangerous" man. In his conversation with Dunsmuir that day he had been told by Dunsmuir himself that he came very nearly running against him in this city, at the solicitation of a large number of men, among whom were some miners, who objected to Smith because he had the "big head." Now, there were not very many miners in Nanaimo who would be small enough to do that. As for getting the big head, he didn't know why that should be so. He was no richer and certainly no prouder, and any prospects he might have of the responsibilities of office only served to impress him with the conviction of his own defects, and a humble regard for the high importance of official position. If he thought that 25 per cent. of the miners of Nanaimo would crowd into a single hall, he would not have resigned his position at once. He had transacted the miners' business during the time he had been there in a manner that he was prepared to discuss in the open light of day at any time and any influence he had in the country to-day was due to his disinterestedness, his honesty, and his integrity. He had every consideration for the claims of capital and was not in any sense disposed to ask for labor any more than for just deserts, and that he wanted it in the right way; not by the rifle, but by the power of united effort and reason. If the claims of this province, with respect to the special legislation, which had been disallowed, were placed before authorities in a reasonable manner he was convinced that their claims would be granted, but when one starts out on the strength of a press campaign, and in the face of those from whom he expects a patient and friendly hearing, we ORACLE SONG. J. N. Holland. What is the little one thinking about? Very wonderful things, no doubt; Unwritten history, Unfathomable mystery, Yet he chuckles and crows, and nods and winks As if his head were as full of kinks and curious riddles as any sphinx. Warped by cold, and wet by tears, Punctured by pins and tortured by fears, Our little nephew will lose two years, And he'll never know Where the summers go; He need not laugh, for he'll find it so, Who can tell what a baby thinks? Who can follow the pounce links By which the mannikin feels his way Out from the shore of the great unknown, Blind, and waiting, and alone, Into the light of day? Out from the shore of the unknown sea, Tossing in the light of agony, Of the unknown sea that reels and rolls, Specked with the bark of little souls; Jarks that were launched on the other And slipped from Heaven on an ebbing tide. What does he think of his mother's hair? What does he think of his mother's eyes? What of the cradle roof that flies? Forward and backward through the air? What does he think of his mother's breast? Bare and beautiful, smooth and white; Seeking it ever with fresh delight, 'Cup of his life and' couch of his rest? What does he think of her quick embrace? Pressing his hand and bracing his face? Deep where the heart throbs stark and sweet, With a tenderness she can never tell, Though she murmurs the words Of all the birds. Words she has learned to murmur well? Now he thinks he'll go to sleep; I can see the shadows creep Over his eyes in soft cellipse, Over his brow and over his lips, Softly slaking, down his cheeks, Down he goes; Down he goes! See! He's hushed in sweet repose.

NEW LIGHT. The Winnipeg Tribune claims to be a Liberal paper, yet it did its best to defeat a Liberal government in Manitoba, and undoubtedly it was largely due to its efforts that the Macdonald administration was enabled to take office. It has apparently had new light on the political situation at home, and as it appears to be the mouthpiece of a wing which also desires to compass the defeat of the Dominion government it is sincerely to be hoped that it will commune with itself with regard to Federal issues and admit that its course has been a mistaken one all round. In regard to the report of the commission which was appointed by the Macdonald government to inquire into the financial condition of the province of Manitoba the Tribune says: "The report of the financial commission, of which so much has been heard, does not bear out the sensational rumors that have been current as to the startling disclosures to be made. It turns out to be a sort of auditors' report. * * * It had to say what the financial position of the province was, as shown by the books of the treasury department, and to report on how the administrative business of the province had been carried on by the various departments. No government, of course, is perfect, but the report seems to us to be negative evidence that on the whole, the executive business of the departments was well and economically managed. The fact that the new government and its supporters, though they have indicated their anxiety to 'economize' by cutting down their own salaries of two of the ministers, are yet unable to make reductions to any large amount in the ordinary expenditure of the departments, seems good evidence of incapacity in executive administration which would not be well founded. When the Greenway government came into office twelve years ago, it was able to make a sweeping reduction. The new government have faithfully carried out pledges in reducing the sessional indemnity of members and in having only three salaried ministers, and have thus effected an appreciable saving, but in the regular expenditure of the departments they seem to have found that the preceding government had managed affairs almost as well as it is possible to manage them."

COMMUNICATIONS. A CHALLENGE TO MR. TURNER. To the Editor: This morning's Colquhoun reports Mr. Turner as having said last night's meeting in the Opera House "referring to his old charge against myself, and the charges against me, and on the 14th July, just after the elections, the Governor refused to sign warrants for money voted by the House, also to sign the orders for some appointments. On the 18th July, however, the letter of Mr. T. H. E. McInnes had been written to Mr. Turner, opening up the negotiations above referred to." In my letter to the Victoria Times of the 29th May last I referred to this resurrected lie of Mr. Turner's, closing my letter with the following challenge: "I hereby challenge Mr. Turner, or any one else, to publicly produce any letter or letters whatsoever, in possession of himself or his friends, or any evidence of any nature whatsoever, showing any correspondence or communication between the Hon. Mr. Turner and myself, in which he has referred to the above charges." This challenge I repeat. Let Mr. Turner give to the press the alleged letter of the 18th July, or any letter "opening up the negotiations above referred to." There is but one of two things now, Mr. Editor, Mr. Turner is lying in this matter or I am. If he is lying, let him be called to account. Now is the time Mr. Turner, show up or for decency's sake shut up. T. H. E. MCINNES. June 5th, 1900.

RAILWAY BUILDING. To the Editor: It is doubtful whether the public attention is being directed to the building of railways in the province in such a way as to aid in its early development. In order to throw some light upon this subject, it is necessary to go back to first principles. The older well populated European countries could in some instances build railways without state intervention, because the travel and traffic, although not so great as ours, were sufficient to go into operation as soon as the road was built. This applies more to Great Britain than to other European countries. In every country in the world where the above trade and travel conditions exist, the people have had to grant aid in one form or another. In the Western States of the Union land grants were given liberally in a country of unexamined fertility, which was already beginning to fill up with the overflow of European immigration. The companies receiving these land grants became the most active and successful colonization agents that the world has ever seen, turning their lands into money and obtaining traffic for their roads at the same time. In other countries, France for instance, concessions were given for a term of 30 years, with a guarantee of interest. In South America the Transandine railway capital was raised in England upon a guarantee of interest. As are the resources of the country which requires

"CHEAP JACK STORES." To the Editor: One raised a gentleman, or who poses as one, should in all conscience be truthful and free from misleading statements and above any and all suspicion, especially if he intends to attack others and thereby lay himself open to public ridicule, providing he misleads. Mr. Clive Phillips-Wolley did not aid the opposition by his uncalculated attacks while acting as chairman last night, when he referred to "cheap jack stores" and people who come from them. Two things are fresh in the memory of all voters: 1st. When C. Phillips-Wolley supported those who opposed the Turner government. 2nd. When C. Phillips-Wolley was appointed provincial nuisance inspector by the Turner government. Comment is quite unnecessary. But to return to his slur about people raised from low origin or position. I may tell him that many of the bright minds of England came from lower than "cheap jack shops," and I say as one, all honor to them for so raising themselves. It is the old "gag" Wolley, that won't work this time. This scheme of keeping British Columbia for a few select "drones" won't "pan out." This country is for the masses and not for the classes. The present opposition have nothing to offer the voter except abuse, and I may inform the worthy captain "Lace abuse never won any battles, political or otherwise."

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING. To the Editor: I attended the opposition meeting at the Victoria theatre last evening, but I must candidly confess that regarding the account thereof in this morning's Colonist, I had to rub my eyes to convince myself that I had awaked. By actual count there were present during Mr. Geo. Powell's address, which was the zenith of enthusiasm, two hundred and ninety-eight gentlemen and twenty-six ladies, when Mr. McPhillips arose thirty per cent. of those present left the hall never to return, yet, according to the Colonist, the balance contributed a vote of public opinion which is to sound the death knell of Martinism in Victoria City. "Long is the party to which I give allegiance to suffer from this malicious misrepresentation, the gaily beggling of their opponents at the expense of truth." P. C. MACGREGOR.

CHRONIC INDIGESTION. By far the most important part of digestion takes place in the intestines, and it is folly to expect stomach medicines to cure a severe case of indigestion or dyspepsia. The kidneys, liver and bowels must first be made regular and active and the only remedy which acts directly on these organs is Dr. Cassel's Kidney-Liver Pills. They are purely vegetable, act pleasantly and naturally, and positively cure dyspepsia, biliousness, and stomach troubles. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, take no substitute.

Mining News

In Camp McKinley.

Special Correspondence to the Times. Greenwood, June 1.—Recent information from Camp McKinley tells of the finding of the ledge in the east drift on the 65-foot level of the Waterloo. This drift, still a short time ago, had not been opened up, the main work being confined to following the rich ore for a distance of 205 feet in the west drift. In the east drift the vein was found in place for 56 feet, when it suddenly faulted, and as the faulting is short-circuiting the vein, it is probable that the ledge will be continued west to the strike line of the claim, where it adjoins the Fontenay. There is over 100 feet of available ground to run through, so if the vein holds out as expected it will add a nice stopping area when opened up.

Superintendent Graham has in view considerable improvements for the more economical development of the Waterloo. He now proposes the sinking of a new main working shaft at a point 165 feet on the ledge from the present No. 2 shaft. This new shaft will cut a big saving in the cost of raising. It will be sunk in dry ground, the present shaft being troublesome by reason of the necessity of much pumping. Then to it will be adjacent a good supply of clear water. The collar of the shaft will be suitably high to permit of the construction of ore bins so that an abundant supply of ore may always be maintained; as it is now, the ore has to be taken up by the old shaft and to the mill direct, there being no ore bins. Again, the proposed shaft will be sunk in the center of the known rich pay chute and will follow the same down.

Present stoping in the west drift is confined to an area of 35 feet in extent, starting from a point 165 feet on the level. The stopes are being pushed surfacewards, and in a short time when the surface is reached all that will be necessary for the new shaft will be to dress up the excavation to the 65-foot level and then resume the sinking. West again of the present stoping ground is another extremely rich piece of ground that will not be touched until the shaft is completed to the present level and the additional larger hoisting machinery, which will then be absolutely necessary to continue the sinking, is installed. A new tramway will also have to be constructed from the proposed shaft to the mill.

At the present time between eight and nine tons a day is being put through the mill, which is of a five-stamp capacity, supplemented with a Johnston concentrator. Since the mill first started no concentrates have been shipped out for smelting treatment. The mill has thoroughly demonstrated the ore to be free-milling. It is probable, too, that the capacity of the mill will also be increased at an early date with an additional battery of five stamps. It was first put into operation last November 1st and ran steadily until the end of January, when the water in the open ditch froze up with the extremely cold weather. The gold saved during this period amounted to $3,200. It was again started up on May 7th, and the next week up will be on the 7th of the present month. The ore is said to average 115 per cent, of which 112 is saved on the plates. The addition of a new pattern concentrator to replace the present rather antiquated one would also be the means, the superintendent says, of a larger saving. The mill runs smoothly, is well installed, and foundations are in so that at any time five more stamps could be added in short order.

The completion of the new shaft, the installation of a larger hoisting plant and an additional battery of five stamps would rapidly place the Waterloo in the list of dividend payers.

East Kootenay.

Work on the Black Bear, near Kimberley, will be resumed as soon as the new pumps and hoists are installed.

The French company is working the lower portion of the vein, and the present force will be increased in a short time.

There is considerable attention being paid to No. 2 creek, above Horseshoe. At least 30 prospectors are waiting for the snow to get off the mountains. Nothing further has been heard from the recent strike on the Quantrell. Mr. Jennings is now at the prospect, and will push development. There is a strong belief that other large bodies of ore will be opened up on other claims on North Star Hill.

The work on the John Bull group has been going on for several weeks with a small force. The property is improving all the time. The shaft is now down forty feet in ore, some of which will run $200 to the ton. The ledge is eight feet thick.

The Sullivan is now a slippier in fact as well as theory. Henceforth ore will go out at an average of a carload a day or more. It will be but a short time now for the compressor plant, ordered some weeks ago for the Sullivan, will be here and installed. This will be followed as speedily as money can accomplish it in proper shape by a tramway on the aerial system, which will enable more rapid and economical transportation of ore from the mine to the railroad.

Recently work was recommenced on the Fayrol, and starting from the bottom of the shaft, a drift was run for a distance of 25 feet, the face of which shows a four-foot ledge between two good walls and carrying ore all the way, and a drift of 25 feet, the face of which shows a four-foot ledge between two good walls and carrying ore all the way, and a drift of 25 feet, the face of which shows a four-foot ledge between two good walls and carrying ore all the way.

A strike of a small stringer of very good mineral has just been made on the Rose claim. Ore is being hauled from the Atholton to Hartwood Junction for a carload shipment to the Trail smelter.

Work has been started on the Great Hopes in Deadwood camp. Recent development on the Evening Star, adjoining the Vancouver and Sibber, shows a large body of high-grade copper ore. Recently in excavating for a powder house on the Victoria a fine ledge of copper ore was opened up almost on the surface.

The new machinery at the R. C. is set up and has been running several times for testing purposes. The new tunnel under the railway spur, on the Suwahoe, is now in over 200 feet, and some of the best ore yet seen on the property is being encountered.

It is stated that work is to be resumed on the Morrison and Great Hopes, both in Deadwood camp, and on the Dominion Copper Company's mines in Phoenix and Summit camps.

Some nice ore has been encountered in both faces of the north and south drift at the 900-foot level of the Mother Lode mine, Deadwood camp. It is more plentiful than that met with at the 200-foot level, and carries richer gold values.

Work is being resumed on the Whinnipeg mine, in Wellington camp. Mr. David Orley has instructions to put on all the men he can employ in the mine to advantage.

There are now some 50 men on the payroll at the British Columbia Copper Company's smelter near Greenwood. Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

THIS FAMOUS WINE

Is more than ever the popular Champagne of American Wine drinkers, as shown by the increase in imports over 1898 of over 25 per cent. and the fact that three times as much "Extra Dry" was imported as the next highest in the list.

BELEAGUERED IN KIMBERLEY.

Brother of Provincial Constable Hoskins Among Those Besieged - Wounded in a Scuffle From the Town.

Among those who have certainly passed through adventures as exciting as any which have fallen to the lot of many youths some spirits now on active service in South Africa is Claude H. Hoskins, brother of Provincial Constable S. H. Hoskins, of Plumper's Pass, who is now in the city.

Mr. Hoskins, who is a native of Hudson's Bay, England, joined the Cape Mounted Rifles eight years ago and naturally, as a member of this splendid organization, has been on the scene of the various thrilling occurrences which have more or less for the past ten years disturbed the tenor of affairs in that portion of British possessions.

When the clouds of the present struggle appeared ready to burst, the Cape Mounted Rifles, being on the scene, were at once ordered to proceed from Allival North, where they were encamped, to Mafeking, to reinforce the garrison there.

It is in that portion of the country, should the reinforcements be held in Mafeking, that the reinforcements of ten men and one gun arrived at Kimberley, and the little outpost for some time held the line against the Boer forces.

Urinary Troubles

Kidney and Bladder Affections That Would Yield Only to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Mr. Wm. Giles, carpenter, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., writes: "Unsollicited I write to tell you of the good qualities of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in curing urinary troubles. I do not write for your special profit, but for the good of those afflicted as I have been. I have used eight boxes, and do not now feel the old trouble in the least."

a cousin, E. J. Christie, in South Africa, a member of the 2nd Irish Rifles. This regiment was in the engagement at Stormberg under General Gatacre, and Mr. Christie was among those captured at this battle and sent to Pretoria. Another cousin, Capt. Donat O'Brien, is at present serving with the mounted infantry under Lord Durnford in Natal.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Business Quickly Dispatched at Last Evening's Session of Civic Board.

It took the City Council considerably less than an hour to transact the business of the regular meeting last evening. Anxiety on the part of the members to attend the big meeting in the theatre was very apparent during the proceedings, and by 9 o'clock the meeting adjourned, it being agreed on that a special session for the consideration of business standing over be held one week from Wednesday evening.

Little other than communications were dealt with. One, from William Grant, asked that the sewerage system be extended as soon as possible to two of his houses on King's road. This was referred to the streets, sewerage and bridges committee. An application from Chas. Hawkins for a position at the new pumping station was tabled; a request from Phos. Hooper in behalf of another for the replacing of a section of sidewalk on Broughton street was referred to the city engineer for report at the special meeting.

Mr. S. Baxter, chief engineer of the steamer City of Nanaimo, wrote from Nanaimo offering the council the gift of an albatross for the park. The bird was brought to Vancouver from Cape Horn by some sailing vessel and would, the writer said, be sent down to Victoria on the steamer 'Thistle, if accepted. The council were, of course, grateful for the gift, and Ald. Hall was delegated to meet the bird.

Mr. J. H. Malmgren reported that the installing of the machinery at the pumping station was being done expeditiously and from the finance committee came the regular statement of accounts totalling $4,822.34. These were passed and a recommendation to purchase seven copies of the B. C. Directory from the Hengstenberg Publishing Co. was approved.

The motion of Ald. Hall for the inviting of tenders for the cutting of hay at Beacon Hill was next adopted, after which the Mayor's recommendation, previously referred to in the Times, was brought up. It was as follows:

Whereas, by a proclamation of His Excellency the Governor-General-in-Council, dated on or about the 23rd day of April, 1896: All that piece of crown land from time to time covered by tide water situated to the east of James Bay bridge, Victoria harbor, and commonly known as the "Mad Flats," was granted unto the corporation of the city of Victoria for the purpose of providing for the erection of a new bridge or wall to take the place of the present James Bay bridge; and that such new bridge or wall should include the full width of Government street;

Now, therefore, it is resolved: That in view of the necessity for a new bridge or wall across James Bay in the city of Victoria to replace the present wooden structure, commonly known as James Bay bridge, this municipal council do humbly petition the Dominion government requesting that a grant be made to the city of a further piece or strip of land covering the ground on which the present bridge stands and a piece of land extending seven feet beyond the west line of Government street westward along the whole length of the said bridge.

Ald. Williams and Bryden were desirous of having the extension asked for 20 feet instead of seven, but the amendment to this effect was lost and the former passed.

The second reading of the Expenditure By-law, which was postponed until after the meeting of the court of revision, was brought up, but deferred again until after the election.

Provincial News.

THE ALBI AND ALBO. The case of Albi and Albo, charged with attempting to murder Herbert McArthur and for being accessory to the same, in the Columbia lodging house, on First avenue, on the 2nd ult., was resumed on Friday forenoon. The evidence of Herbert McArthur had already been taken, and the testimony of Horace J. Kaymer, Peter Dickie and Dr. Reddick was alone heard. Both prisoners were committed for trial.

WELSON. During May a total of 1,000 miners' licenses were issued at the government office. The total revenue in the mining recorder's department for the month was $9,807.02.

ANDREW CHRISTOPHER, a carpenter employed on the new bank house at the Poorman mine fell from the building on Friday and sustained a severe concussion of the brain. He was walking up a ladder with a keg of nails on his shoulders and overbalanced himself.

Every year Kootenay lake claims its victims. In the past few days no fewer than five miners are supposed to be drowned. They are called W. Freeman, W. Kenyon, Adam Baird and Harry Sutherland. The first named couple left here Monday last for some mining claims beyond Fry Creek. Kenyon went in the same direction a day later, while Baird and Sutherland travelled to Larde-Duncan in small row boats some weeks since and have never more been heard of. Lemons' boat was found floating in the lake on Wednesday, while people who have searched for Baird and Sutherland can find no trace of them. It is hoped that Freeman and Kenyon are still alive but their friends fear for their safety. If they have been drowned it is not likely that their bodies will be recovered. Kootenay lake seldom gives up its dead. In fact until last year it was known as the lake that never gave up its dead, but last fall two bodies were taken out of it. These are the only two recovered out of scores.

ASHCROFT. Ashcroft hotel on Monday, at 9 a.m., came as a great shock to the people of Ashcroft and vicinity, because few knew of the accident that had befallen him and that he was in danger as the result of it. Death was due to injuries received by falling from a wagon while driving from Ashcroft to the Williams' ranch at 8-Mile creek on Friday night, the 25th inst. He had spent most of the day in Ashcroft, and left C. Brown's place on the Bonaparte (the old Harper mill) late in the evening, and was not seen again until found on Saturday in an unconscious condition nearly opposite the Perry ranch. He was at once brought to the Ashcroft hotel, where he was attended by Dr. Williams, who was with him when he died.

Mr. Glassey was born in Reynolds town, County of Tyrone, Ireland, in 1847. In 1862 he came to Victoria and for some time conducted a grocery business on Government street; afterwards he was engaged in the same business on the waterfront. He was married to a Miss McLean of Hat Creek. When the Ashcroft hotel was owned by Messrs. Barnes & Evans, Mr. Glassey was their manager, and continued in the same position under different owners of the hotel until five or six years ago, when he engaged with John Wilson as foreman and bookkeeper on his ranch. He leaves a son, Herbert, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert Borland, of the 150-Mile House, both of whom reached Ashcroft only in time to attend the funeral.

Mr. Glassey while a resident of Ashcroft was foremost in all plans that were for the best welfare of the town, and mainly by his untiring efforts in interesting others and his personal gifts, was the English church, commenced and completed, for which he received the warm thanks of the late Bishop Sillito, Ashcroft Journal.

THE ASIATIC IMMIGRANT.

To the Editor: The Chinese agitation which has engaged the attention of public men throughout the Dominion for some 25 years past bids fair to be settled by the recent influx of what will prove a far more troublesome question - the Japanese bight. I speak of it in this sense after a study of this little man's capabilities, in developing the resources of this province. We in Victoria are accustomed to seeing large numbers arrive here, but pay little attention, as they remain but a short time in the city. A trip around the Mainland and the Interior are sufficient, however, to create some feeling of apprehension on the part of those who have to provide for and at a later date secure employment for those in their own little circles. Let us take, for instance, the salmon cannery industry on the Fraser river. We all know this, with the small agricultural section surrounding it, is the chief mainstay of the Royal City. Will any intelligent man after viewing conditions existing there to-day doubt the ability of the Japanese to own their own canneries in another two years' time? Will any of our political salmon cannery content that their production is superior in point of cleanliness to the Japanese article? Will any one familiar with the habits of Chinese and swashes prefer this brand to that put up by clean Japanese? Cheap labor is coming here in vast numbers, and it is not likely that some of our capitalists, and I fancy the Hon. J. H. Forner will be one of those who will realize what opportunity he had to contend with in Asiatic competition. Our Japanese friends are already at hand in the shoe, tailor, dry goods and grocery businesses. Mr. Elliott, we have the schools full of young men and women who are graduating every term in large numbers. How are they to obtain employment if our development is to be made by the employment of Asiatics? These men are not brought here by the C.P.R. and N.P.R., without guarantee of employment. If corporations are to be permitted to people British Columbia with these Asiatic immigrants, what provision will be made for the right here and make some provision for government ownership or control of the development of our resources? A proper representation of this subject to the Mother Country would no doubt enable British statesmen to detect a flaw in the chain of Empire. If past governments were sincere on this question a settlement would have been effected. This Japan and China are not to blame. It is a question of demand and supply. Railways and other corporations well fed by the people were the factors in introducing this element, and we are now asked to stamp our approval of such actions by the election of men selected by them to serve their interests in the next assembly. Verily, Mr. Editor, this is a tall order. Is it any wonder that a large number of our citizens are giving serious consideration to Mr. Martin's proposition of government ownership, seeing in such a plan the probability of at last getting a double ditch on one of the great concerns which have lost sight of the fact that the people are, by reason of the concessions granted by them, entitled to some consideration in the development of the resources of this glorious province? VICTORIAN.

Will Face All Europe

China Paper Says the Dowager Empress Is Determined Not to Suppress "Boxers."

Native Troops to Prevent Landing of Men From Foreign Warships.

Shanghai, June 4.—The China Gazette says it has the highest authority for stating that the Dowager Empress has ordered the Tsung Li Yamen to face all Europe rather than to interfere with the "Boxer" movement.

Elsewhere it is asserted the viceroys has ordered the troops to oppose the further landing of men from foreign warships, and that the troops now engaged in the operations are designed to prevent further foreign reinforcements reaching Peking.

Soldiers Mutilated. Tien Tsin, June 5.—A representative of the Associated Press visited Huang Tsun, on the Peking Tien Tsin railway to-day, and found that the station had been burned and two bridges damaged.

The officer commanding the Chinese troops on duty there said that 200 of his men had bolted and only 90 remained. These fought well, killing a number of the "Boxers." The bolting troops were badly cut up in the adjacent broken country. It is stated that 90 were killed or wounded. Some of their bodies were recovered frightfully mutilated.

Hands of "Boxers" are protruding the neighborhood but have not interfered with the party of the Associated Press representative.

All the Chinese railway employees are deserting their posts and troops sent to guard the stations appear to be worse than useless. A guard of 250 sent to Fung Chi by the New York Times yesterday, running when they heard of the trouble at Huang Tsun.

Fight With "Boxers." Chicago, Ill., June 5.—Letters from missionaries stationed in China have been received at the Women's Presbyterian Board of Missions in this city. One of the letters, dated April 27th, tells of a fight between Catholics and "Boxers" having taken place not far from Pao Tung Fu.

It seems that the "Boxers" have been invited to come to this place by a rich man who has had many lawsuits with the Romanists, and has always been worsted. He wanted the "Boxers" to avenge him for he, like many others, believes the "Boxers" are invulnerable.

Engagement Commenced. Washington, June 5.—The secretary of the navy has received the following cablegram from Admiral Kempff, commanding the fleet at Taku.

dated Taku, June 5th: "Engagement has commenced. Have landed force of fifty-seventeen more, battalion of marines. (Signed) Kempff."

The cipher message is not legible and it is supposed at the navy department that the admiral means that he has landed fifty-seventeen more, the battalion of marines already ashore.

Rebels Near Peking. Washington, June 5.—The state department has received a cablegram from Minister Conger at Peking stating that matters here have taken a much more serious turn there. No details are given, but it is indicated that the "Boxers" activity is extending very closely to the Chinese capital.

News from Honolulu. Honolulu, May 29, via San Francisco, June 5.—There have been rumors of a rebellion in the Hawaiian Islands.

denied by the health authorities. Alexander Chisholm, a native of Nova Scotia, died on May 25th after suffering for six days from what was said to be malaria. The autopsy revealed swollen glands and the funeral was interrupted by the health officers, who cremated the body.

Two more quarantine stations will be established at Hilo and Kahului. Arrangements are being made by the visitors for a grand celebration of Territorial Day. Governor Dole is considering the advisability of calling a special election of the Legislature to meet prior to the regular session.

SMALLPOX ON TRANSPORT. San Francisco, June 5.—The transport Meade will not be released from quarantine until the middle of next week. Another case of smallpox broke out in the steamer, a couple of days ago, and that will necessitate the detention of the ship in the quarantine grounds.

STEPHEN CRANE DEAD. End twelfth, Baden, June 5.—Stephen Crane, the American author and war correspondent, died here to-day, aged 30 years.

CANADIAN BRIEFS. (Associated Press.) Cornwall, June 5.—St. Regis Indians held a pow wow yesterday, and the rough element, urged on by large numbers of American Indians, intimated that they would use physical force to prevent the Dominion government erecting a lock-up on the reservation. The better element of Canadian braves consider the erection of a lock-up and the services of a policeman necessary.

YACHTING. THE DOMINION SOLD.

The celebrated Canadian yacht Dominion, which won the Seawanhaka cup two years ago, and defeated the Yankee, of the White Star Club, last year, has been purchased by Shirley Davidson, and will be sailed at Cape Breton in the future. The Dominion was called a "freak" by the members of the Royal St. Lawrence club, who remarked how quickly they appreciated such differences. Indeed, Col. McLean, who most kindly gave up his time to act as referee, appeared to have quite a pleasant experience, as compared to the sometimes onerous duties of that official.

"As the teams entered the field a great disparity in point of weight and also was at once apparent, the Canadians being an exceptionally fine lot of men, fairly towering over their sturdy opponents. The Gordons having lost the toss, a matter of small moment when taking late consideration that but 15 minutes' play each way had been agreed upon, they started the game at 20 minutes to 5, Marshall returning slowly, the ball was soon in the Highlanders' quarters, a penalty against Canada relieving momentarily, only to be forced back once more on to the three-quarter line, and five minutes from the commencement of play Marshall securing the ball fairly forced his way through the defence, and struggling over the line at the extreme left hand corner, obtained the first score for Canada. Hurstall, who took the kick, however, failed to convert.

"This fairly put the Gordons on their mettle, and Lockley had brought Lawson most brilliantly to the ground, when the latter appeared well away. Hay, splendidly supported by the forwards, dribbled the ball well in Canadian territory before being pulled up for handling forward in time was soon afterwards called. During the interval, on Almond hearing that the Scotchmen were playing a fine short, he most generously withdrew one of his forwards, the game being continued with 14 a side.

"Almost immediately after commencement E. G. Cameron, smartly taking a sharp prissy pass, went off at terrific speed and racing right around his opponents, amidst tumultuous cheering from the Highlanders thronging the ground, seemed certain to equalize scores, when he unfortunately got within inches of the Canadian boundary. After this brilliant effort some rather loose play was noticeable until Swift made himself conspicuous with several short runs, the Canadians now doing most of the attacking. Time after time Lockley and the McCamrons raising a cheer for their determined tackling. Indeed, this was the feature of the game.

"By sheer weight of their forwards, the Canadian contingent now forced the Gordons back, and Swift, smartly dodging, got in range, but the ball going far over the Highlanders' goal line, a desperate race ensuing for the touch down, but Marshall's great speed took him clean past the Gordons' full back, and he secured the second try for his regiment, Hurstall again falling at a very easy chance.

"Time was called a few minutes later, and the Canadians, victor by 2 tries to nil.

"For the winners, Almond, Marshall, Swift and Lawson played a fine game; whilst for the losers, Lockley and E. G. Cameron were in great form.

"Teams: 1st Contingent Royal Canadian Engineers (Capt. 1900): three-quarters, Lieut. Barker (capt.), Lieut. Swift, half backs, Capt. Almond, Lieut. Marshall, Lieut. Stewart, forwards, Lieut. Willis, Lieut. Oland, Lieut. Lafferty, Lieut. Lauder, Lieut. Bustall, Capt. Weeks, Capt. Brown, Lieut. Armonie.

"1st Batt. Gordon Highlanders—Three-quarters, E. G. Cameron (capt.), Lieut. A. Cameron, 2nd Lieut. R. Lockley, 2nd Lieut. J. Hay; half backs, Lieut. J. N. McLaren, Lieut. W. Marshall; forwards, Capt. R. B. Younger, Lieut. S. Allen, Lieut. T. Forbes, 2nd Lieut. Gordon Duff, 2nd Lieut. W. Luncheon, Lieut. P. Blay, Capt. R. Ripson, 2nd Lieut. J. Smuder.

"Lieut. Marshall, who was undoubtedly the most brilliant player in the match is one of the best inside wing players of Canada, and was for many years a member of the Hamilton team. He is possessed of a magnificent physique, and is undoubtedly as formidable on the battlefield as on the football grounds. He was the winner of the great race of 18 miles around Hamilton Bay in 1894.

W. T. Lawless is a well known Ottawa

Capt. R. K. Barker played in the Osgood Hall intermediate team in '92 and '93.

BOUND HIMSELF TO A CROSS. Painter Munkacsy His Own Model for the Saviour in "Christ on Calvary."

The late Munkacsy's weird methods of conceiving and working out his pictures never had a more startling illustration than in the case of his most famous canvas, "Christ Before Pilate," says the Chicago News. All the figures save one were sketched in with a rapidly almost maniacal between dawn and twilight of one day. The one space remaining empty was that reserved for the figure of Jesus, and it remained so many days while Munkacsy worked on the other figures. As he approached the oasis of white canvas left, untouched by his blazing colors the artistic and devotional fervor grew upon him and he shut himself away from the sight of man that he might, in perfect solitude and silence, realize his conception of the man of sorrows.

When the picture was finished and had brought him world wide fame he always insisted that, while he was sitting alone and lost in profound reverie, a white vision beamed before his eyes and passed into the unspangled space on the canvas. The painter, shaking with excitement, sprang forward, and with trembling hands painted in the figure which had come to him like the phantasmagoria of a dream. However, the inspiration for that dead white figure, set amid resplendent crimsons and purples, came to him, we all know what its effect upon the world was. Another theatrical incident marked the execution of Munkacsy's subsequent achievement in his great trilogy of the "Christ on Calvary," he claimed that no

REGBY FOOTBALL. That the Royal Canadians, besides knowing how to fight with a bayonet, are capable of more than holding their own on a South African football field, is amply demonstrated by the following account taken from a recent issue of the Blidensetter.

"The match was a match played at the capital of the late Orange Free State between the officers of the Gordon Highlanders and the first Canadian contingent. A blazing hot day and ground like iron are conditions under which footballers at home might not care to pursue their favorite pastime. But out here our soldiers take things as they are with just as much zest as though they were all at their liking. Thus those who of Friday last found their way out to the Gordon's camp, and there were many who did so, had the fortune to see a rattling good game of Rugby football between the officers of the 1st Battalion Gordon Highlanders and the officers of the first contingent Royal Canadian Regiment.

"The match had excited great interest. Scotland has ever been famous for the part she has taken in 'Rugger,' as enthusiasts term it, whilst on the other hand to what particular style of play Canadians had adapted themselves was to most of us merely a matter of conjecture; indeed, they were perhaps at a slight disadvantage from the fact that their rules are a little different to our own. But it artist could reproduce on canvas even a faint semblance of the anguish Jesus had felt upon the cross, where he remained so many hours that he fainted from pain and weakness. He afterwards declared that the fearfully poignant attitude in which he had painted the Saviour, with the chest thrown forward, the body swaying somewhat to the left, the left shoulder lifted, and the head, with its pain-scared features, leaning toward it, was the result of his own modified experience on the cross.

"The first view of the 'Christ on Calvary' was granted to a select company of notables on Good Friday, 1884. The scene has been described as one of profound and touching significance. The company gathered in the dimly lighted studio and was hushed in silence. All were started when a shaking voice cried: 'Masters! Indignation at the interruption gave way to admiration when it was discovered that the speaker was one of the famous painters of Paris, an artist who had himself frequently depicted incidents in the divine tragedy.'

"The same spirit of hero worship had another picturesque manifestation at a banquet tendered Munkacsy in Paris after one of his triumphs at an exhibition. Breton was to propose the toast 'in his fellow artist's honor, and an address of signal meaning was anticipated. Breton rose, looking at Munkacsy, who was at his right, threw his arms about him and shouted: 'This is my toast!' The company rose and cheered to the point of exhaustion.
