JAPANESE LEARN SALMON CANNING IN BRITISH COLUMBIA AND NOW COMPETE FOR EXPORT WITH COPIED MACHINERY

After Many Years' Importing From Canada, Orientals With Cheap Labor Supply Their Home Market and Send $300,000 in Product to United Kingdom and Australia

Ottawa, July 21.—That the Japanese, after having for many years imported practically all their canned salmon from Canada and the United States, have recently commenced the industry themselves, and are producing at a price that will be a great factor for the Pacific coast to deal with a few years hence, is reported from an interesting item published in the weekly bulletin of the trade and commerce department to-day. The British consul at Hakodate has drawn the attention of the British board of trade to the beginning of the industry, and it is said that Japanese who have worked in British Columbia canneries have made machines and superintending operations through their experience in coast canneries.

Two years ago, says the report, only two or three persons were interested in the industry, but since that time several canneries have sprung up in Nemuro and Karafuto, and the tinned food dealers in Tokio, Yokohama and Kobe are selling large quantities. The canners are able to obtain their fish very cheaply, and salmon and salmon trout are in large quantities in northern waters. The market prices last recorded were $3.40 per box of 48 pounds of Kamachitka red salmon and $2.40 for trout. The prices showed signs of increasing toward the end of the season, the supply being far short of the demand. In the trade figures issued by the government at the end of 1912 the total production was valued at $738,500, an increase of 40 per cent. over the preceding year.

Japan also entered the export trade in canned salmon last year, sending the product to the United Kingdom and Australia, the value of these being roughly $200,000. It is stated in the report that the exports are due to firms who have agents in Japan, and that they have been exported without difficulty.

ARCHIBALD, KING OF ARORAI, WILL QUIT

Only Crowned American in Existence
Went His Elevation by Phonograph.

New York, July 21.—Archibald C. Everett, the only American king in existence, has today up his mind to renounce his throne and is coming back to New York. He is king of the savage island of Arorai, in the Gilbert group of South Sea Islands, and until 1909 was a New York curb broker.

The insistence of the wives, of whom he has thirty, for English gowns, which he describes as an "expensive encroachment on civilization," of his lameness, are the prime factors of his decision.

He makes his intentions known in a letter just received by Stephen D. Day, of 160 West One Hundred and Sixth street.

The gowns, he said, were recently introduced on an accidental visit of an English trader. His wives were fastidious and discarded their beads, the chief features of their simple, tropical garb. Now, he humorously writes, they demand the latest fashions.

The career of Everett has been romantic. In 1899 he was a well known figure on Broadway and was regarded as wealthy. Things did not work right for him in Wall street, however, and in the latter part of 1909 he disappeared without a word of farewell.

The next heard of him was in 1911, when, in a remarkable letter, he told of being made king of Arorai Island. He won his honor by means of a phonograph he had in his possession. The reigning king, as so reported by hearing his own voice, everett, and when he died Everett was proclaimed king.

ARMED GUARDS OVER VANDERBILT'S BABY

Take Alfred to Summer Farm and Plan to Make Him Sturdy and Athletic.

Newport, R. I., July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, with Master Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Jr., arrived here early yesterday morning on Mr. Vanderbilt's private car Wayfarer. They were met by one of Mr. Vanderbilt's largest automobiles and the three, with the young Vanderbilts' nurse, went at once to Oakland Farm, Mr. Vanderbilt's summer home in Portsmouth, a suburb of Newport.

The baby will sleep in a room in which every window is wide open and at the door of which is stationed an armed guard, changed twice every night. During the day armed guards will never leave the baby's side and a strict watch will be kept on whoever comes near the baby.

In the daytime it is planned to keep the little fellow out of doors all the time when the weather is good. On rainy days he will be kept in his carriage.

The plan is to raise him to become a sturdy, athletic man.

MEXICAN ALLIANCE IS UNWELCOME IN JAPAN

Tokio, July 1.—Mexico's terms of friendship are pleasing but embarrassing to Japan. It is feared here that they might be misunderstood in the United States and affect the friendly relations with that country. The Japanese newspapers are chagrined at the outcome of the California negotiations but express gratification that Mexico, unlike the United States, welcomes Japanese immigration. They point out, however, that anything in the nature of an alliance between Japan and Mexico would be impossible, as it would undoubtedly awaken suspicion that Japan was fostering bellicose designs.

SUSPENSION OF LIFE SECURED BY RUSSIAN

Professor Bakhametieff Invents
New Substance Known as
"Anabiose"

CAN USE TREATMENT
ON HERD OF CATTLE

Send Them to Sleep and Save
Food and Attendance During Winter Cold

MAKING PLANS TO TRY
IT ON HUMAN BEINGS

St. Petersburg, July 21.—Professor Bakhametieff, of Moscow, announces that he has been experimenting to determine the source of life, and has obtained some remarkable results along a collateral line, the suspension of life by the use of a substance which he calls "Anabiose." He has been a specialist for 17 years in the study of hibernation, and the results of cold upon animals, particularly bears, and his discoveries are in this field.

He has progressed to a point, he says, where he can place an entire herd of cattle in a state of suspended animation during the severe Russian winter, thereby saving the cost of fodder, shelter and attendance, and revive them in the spring in good condition.

The treatment, which he has applied successfully to several different kinds of animals, reduces them to total unconsciousness, respiration and digestion cease completely. They are kept for months at a uniform temperature, regulated by a thermostat, and when they are brought into light, humidity and warmth, they recover consciousness, apparently not weakened by their experience.

Professor Bakhametieff has not yet been able to apply "Anabiose" to human beings to determine if healthy persons could be transferred to complete suspended animation and then restored at will to their previous health; but he is now negotiating with the prison department to obtain volunteers among condemned men who will submit themselves to the treatment.

The other day he brought back to full life a large sturgeon, which he had kept under "Anabiose" since winter without any kind of nourishment and in complete stillness. It proved to be perfectly healthy, with the roe in fine condition, which will not be the case with a fish kept frozen.

GIRLS' BASEBALL TEAM WAS COMPOSED OF MEN

One Policeman Injured and Bail Park
Wrecked When Deception is Discovered.

Washington, D. C., July 21.—One policeman is in a hospital, two others are nursing bruises and awaiting new uniforms and part of the Union League baseball park is a wreck to-day as the result of a riot at Sunday's baseball game when 4,000 enthusiasts discovered a team of "blooming" girls were men in disguise. The trouble began when the "girls" centerfielder, a husky young blonde, threw a ball from deep centre to home plate, catching the runner. The spectators grow suspicious.

A moment later a boy slipped up behind the supposed divinity at third base and gave her golden locks a vigorous pull. They came away, revealing a chunky young man with an elaborate moustache, ending just above his eyebrows. The team fled through a storm of bottles and bricks to the shelter of the club house where the police massed.

The crowd then stormed the ticket windows, demanding that money back, venting their ire on the park property. Several persons were hurt, and a number of arrests made.

MAN INHERITS FORTUNE UNDER ODD CONDITION

Philadelphia, Pa., July 21.—Edward Masse, an American-born German of this city, who is a bartender at a prominent Delaware Gap hotel, has just fallen heir to $250,000 from an eccentric German uncle, who imposes upon him the most tantalizing condition. Masse is now 24 years old and when he is 30 he will come into possession of the principal sum, "providing he stays continuously employed at the position he now occupies when he learned that he is heir to my fortune," the will reads. Hence he must continue to dispense Scotch highballs for the next six years to become a wealthy man.

TURKISH ARMY RE-ENTERS ADRIANOPLE AFTER BRIEF CONFLICT WITH BULGARS NEW FRONTIER IS DRAWN AT MARITZA

Important Territorial Concession Offered Roumania, Whose Army Threatens Rumelia—Delegates of Three Balkan States Sent to Nish to Negotiate Armistice—Prospect of Peace With New Bulgarian Cabinet

London, July 21.—The Turks have entered Adrianople after a brief conflict with the Bulgarian garrison, says a Sofia dispatch to the Times. Bashibazouks are burning, pillaging and committing atrocities.

The Roumanian troops are advancing in an easterly direction and threaten Eastern Rumelia. The events of the last few days, adds the correspondent, indicate the complete collapse of the authority of Europe. The advent of a new Bulgarian cabinet, comprising a coalition of the Liberal groups, seems to have brought a prospect that peace negotiations will soon be entered into.

After vain attempts to negotiate separately with Roumania the Bulgarian government accepted the advice of Austria and Russia and offered Roumania an important territorial concession. Bulgaria also sent delegates to meet the Serbian and Greek and presumably the Roumanian representatives at Nish to negotiate an armistice and peace.

Turkey, however, has introduced a new complication, giving as her reason for taking the river Maritza, that she has always claimed this frontier, but that the powers set the claim aside in order to facilitate and expedite peace; that the Porte would be prepared to settle the question by diplomatic measures, but that the atrocities of the Bulgarians make it impossible to hope for a diplomatic settlement, and that new conditions arising from the last war between the allies make it doubly necessary for Turkey to obtain a frontier guaranteeing safety to Constantinople and the Dardanelles.

It is not considered likely, however, that Europe will permit the decisions of the London conference to be thus thrust aside.

BULGARIA READY TO CEASE HOSTILITIES WHILE TURKEY MAY ISSUE DECLARATION

Constantinople, July 21.—The Sublime Porte yesterday issued formal orders to the army to occupy Thrace and Adrianople.

In a note acquainting the powers with this decision it is announced that the new Turco-Bulgarian frontier will be the river Maritza. The Porte declines Bulgaria with responsibility for any fighting that may ensue.

The Porte's note is regarded as foreshadowing a declaration of war against Bulgaria. This course has been discussed by the council of ministers as a means of enabling Turkey to recover

VATICAN GUARDSMEN SUBMIT CONDITIONS

Have Some Grievances Which They Present to Cardinal Merry del Val.

Rome, July 21.—The mutinous Swiss Guardsmen at the Vatican presented to-day to Cardinal Merry del Val, papal secretary of state, a memorial relating their grievances and the conditions on which they are disposed to remain in the service.

The conditions are:
1. The dismissal of the commander of the Swiss Guards.
2. An increase in Swiss Guards of eighty to one hundred.

3. The commander and all officers to be chosen from among themselves.
4. The abolition of the prohibition against the Guards frequenting stores on the right bank of the Tiber and the granting of permission to frequent wine-shops.

5. A return to the original system of military instruction, with the abolition of bayonet drill, target shooting and the climbing of roofs to protect the Vatican from imaginary assaults.

6. No punishments to be inflicted in connection with the present agitation.

Cardinal Merry del Val afterward conferred for a long time with the Pope in an endeavor to find a satisfactory solution of the incident.

BIRRELL'S FIGURES ON IRISH LAND PURCHASE

Three Hundred Million Dollars Additional to Amount Expended Already.

London, July 21.—Three hundred million dollars, in addition to the $225,000,000 already expended, was the estimate given to-day by Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, for the sum necessary to complete the operation of land purchase in Ireland, in accordance with the provisions of the land purchase acts of 1903 and 1909. These acts make it compulsory for a landlord to permit his tenants to purchase the land he cultivates.

Of the $300,000,000 Mr. Birrell said it would be necessary to borrow only $120,000,000 through the public issue of land stock. The rest will be financed by the national debt commissioners under a new bill which will give compulsory powers to the government to make the vendors receive half the purchase price in 3 per cent. stock.

FIVE ARE DROWNED DURING WEEK-END

Water Accidents at Vancouver
Saturday and Sunday Result Fatally

HEROIC EFFORTS TO RECOVER GIRL'S BODY

Chinese Carried Out by Tide
While Swimming in False
Creek

ROW BOAT OVERTURNS
TWO ITALIANS SAVED

Vancouver, July 21.—Five drowning accidents marked the week-end in and about the city. The dead are Nellie Whitworth, 7 years old, drowned in False Creek by slipping off a log, Sun Ti Chung, a Chinese who was carried out by the tide in False Creek; Fred Sibbald, aged 25, who fell overboard in the Fraser river near Eburne from his sailboat, and two Italians who were drowned late last night off Kit-silano Beach.

Nellie Whitworth was playing with several companions, including her 9-year-old brother, about the trestle work at the head of False Creek on Saturday, when shortly before dark she slipped off a log. Hearing the cries of her playmates, Arthur Sangier, who was working in his launch nearby ran to her assistance, and although fully dressed at the time, sprang into the water, but although he dived repeatedly, he could not locate the body.

When almost exhausted himself, Sangier secured the assistance of Walter McIvor, a resident of Third Avenue, who also attempted to recover the body by diving. Shortly after the arrival of McIvor, John Whitworth, the father of the dead child, arrived from his home at 1734 Broadway East, on the scene. He stripped off his clothing, and with the others continued diving until he was almost exhausted. The police were notified, and several constables assisted in the search. The body was recovered early yesterday morning when the tide turned.

Sun Ti Chung, 11 Canton alley, an indifferent swimmer, went bathing near the Granville street bridge on Saturday afternoon, and in some manner got out beyond his depth. He was unable to breast the fast-running tide, and was carried out to his death.

Fred Sibbald, a resident of Eburne, was sailing his boat near that place on Sunday afternoon when in some unexplainable manner he slipped and fell overboard. The water at that point was very deep, and the body did not reappear, and although searches worked nearly all night it was not recovered. He was a nephew of Mr. James Mutter of this city and a cousin of Mr. J. A. Paton, editor of a Point Grey paper.

Tanto Celljolin and Emmanglio Battello, with two friends hired a boat yesterday afternoon at English Bay and late last night were returning from the Kitsilano shore, when off the Indian reserve, in some manner the boat upset. The cries of the men were heard, and several boats put off from the shore. Mr. Cluff, of Cluff & Morrison, was the first to reach the scene, and found the two men who were saved clinging to the bottom of the overturned boat. Telling them to remain in the boat, he went in search of the others, but could not find them. The bodies were not recovered last night by the searchers.

Captain Anderson and the harbor police were engaged nearly all day yesterday in searching the Narrows for the body of the young man, Harvey, who was drowned there earlier in the week.

MINERS STAMPEDE TO THE SHUSHANNA STRIKE

Morning Train From Cordova Crowded
With Prospectors, Crews Quit to Join Rush.

Cordova, Alaska, July 21.—This morning's train was crowded with stampedees to the Shushanna placer strike. Twenty-five from Cordova, including George C. Haselet, Dr. Montgomery, Chief of Police Hennick and other business and professional men, left for the new diggings. Thirty-two prospectors and eighteen horses from Chitina; sixteen men and three horses from Strela, and others from along the railroad, have joined the stampede. All pleasant camps in the interior are pretty well abandoned.

A launch is on the way from Katalia with a number of men, and Valdes and Seward are sending over a crowd on to-day's Mariposa.

M. Finkelslein wired the chamber of commerce from Kennecott yesterday that the strike has been confirmed and means a big stampede.

YOUTH CONFESSES TO THEFT OF LARGE SUM

Lake Charles, La., July 21.—Herschel Pierce, a 17-year-old express wagon driver, confessed to-day that he stole $22,000 in currency from a Wells-Fargo chest in a railroad station here last November, according to the police. His arrest followed the apprehension of his uncle, A. E. Amy, on Saturday.

The police said Pierce told them he had no assistance in planning or executing the robbery and that voluntarily he divided the currency with his uncle. It was Amy's lavish spending that first directed suspicion to him. Pierce appeared to have spent almost nothing of his share.

He led officers to-day to a cache of $7,000 and $2,000 was found in Amy's garage at Eunice, La.

SOCIALISTS DECLINE.

The Hague, July 21.—Pieter Jelles Troelstra and the other Dutch Socialist leaders definitely decided to-day to decline the invitation given them to join the new cabinet under the premiership of Dr. Kirk Bos, the Liberal Democrat deputy. Socialists generally, in Holland express themselves as opposed to the suggested coalition.

POLICE OUTWITTED BY MRS. PANKHURST

Detectives Capture Taxicab and Woman Leaving Suf-frage's House

MOCK ASSAULT MADE
BY MEN AND WOMEN

Militant Leader Believed to Have Fled When Police Were Drawn Off

MANY MAIL BOXES
DAMAGED LAST NIGHT

London, July 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, has again succeeded in outwitting the police. It was thought she had been arrested last night, but it was another woman, impersonating Mrs. Pankhurst, whom the police captured in a taxicab and took to Scotland Yard. When they discovered the mistake they were forced to liberate their prisoner. At first the whole affair was considered a hoax, but it developed into an apparently well-laid scheme whereby Mrs. Pankhurst could escape from her flat by another passage while her impersonator was luring away the police.

Late last night a woman emerged from the militant leader's flat. She walked feebly and was assisted to a taxicab.

The detectives who had guarded the building day and night since Mrs. Pankhurst escaped after the rioting at the Women's Social & Political Union, July 10, concluded that Mrs. Pankhurst was attempting to escape.

They jumped into the cab as it was driving off and ordered the driver to proceed to Scotland Yard. Before they reached their destination they lifted the woman's veil and discovered their prisoner was not the militant suffragette leader.

Sixty-five men and women, including a number of navvies, gathered at the entrance as the taxicab, leaning heavily on her supporters, descended the steps. Immediately there was a clash between the police and the men. Two detectives managed to cling to the cab. After the taxicab had rounded the corner the crowd scattered.

Within half an hour the detectives reappeared and resumed their investment of the premises. Meanwhile, however, the flat was unguarded and it began to dawn on the police that they had been hoodwinked. There were lights in the Pankhurst flat again to-night, and there were detectives in the streets, but all information was refused.

Many mail boxes in London and the provincial cities were damaged last night, it is believed by suffragettes. Mrs. Pankhurst, it was discovered later, outwitted the police for the purpose of being able to leave her house to attend a meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union. With the police drawn off by the veiled woman and the taxicab, the Suffragist left the unguarded house and proceeded to the public hall where the weekly convocation of the Union was to be held. As she was entering the building she was recognized and arrested. She had intended at the meeting to issue another defiant challenge to the government.

Detectives pounced on Mrs. Pankhurst with dramatic suddenness and whisked her away in a taxicab. A few of the women accompanying Mrs. Pankhurst made an attempt to rescue her, and in doing so vigorously trampled the detectives with their umbrellas. Six of them were arrested.

A big force of uniformed policemen closed up behind Mrs. Pankhurst and her captors and stemmed the rush of infuriated women, whose yells of "murderers" and "assassins" drew great crowds to the scene. Some of the women used hats as weapons of offence and several persons were badly hurt.

When she arrived at Holloway jail Mrs. Pankhurst refused to leave the taxicab and was carried in by detectives.

PROVINCE OF FUKIEN BECOMES INDEPENDENT

Kwang Tung to Send Fifteen Thousand
Troops to Engage Government Forces.

Washington, D. C., July 21.—Fukien province has seceded from the Chinese republic, according to a dispatch to the state department to-day from Consul Fowler at Foo Chow, Fukien borders on Kiang Shi and Kwang Tung, the two provinces which already have thrown off allegiance to the Peking government.

The legation at Peking reports that the local government of Canton, in Kwang Tung province, proposes to send fifteen thousand troops north within a week to engage the government forces. The provincial assembly has confirmed Chen Chung King as military governor for Kwang Tung province and appointed him commander-in-chief of the army which is to proceed against the northern forces.

POWDER EXPLOSION STARTLES NANAIMO

Plate Glass Windows Shattered—Northfield Works Reduced to Ruins

Nanaimo, July 21.—The residents of this city and district were awakened from their slumbers at 4:40 o'clock yesterday morning by a tremendous explosion which shook all the houses and frightened most of the sleepers. The experience reminded the people of the circumstances which accompanied the explosion of the powder ship Oscar in the harbor last year, when much damage was done to property. This time, however, though the disturbance was caused by an explosion, no lives were lost, but a good deal of property was damaged, most of the plate glass windows in the city stores being smashed to fragments.

The explosion occurred in the glazing house of the black powder works at Northfield and it reduced the building to ruins. It is impossible to yet state what the cause was, but it is believed to have been a spark from a bonfire of debris, which had been started early in the evening. The only persons injured were two Chinese who were asleep in a shack some distance away.

CAPTAIN LATTA WINNER OF LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR'S PRIZE AND THE AGGREGATE

Rifle Meeting at Richmond Closes—Thomas Wins Shoot-off From Farley in Vancouver Match and Many Successes by Other Victorians

Vancouver, July 21.—The British Columbia rifle matches closed on Saturday after a record meeting, the one drawback of which was the limited capacity of the Richmond ranges. This, however, will, according to report, be eliminated next year when marksmen expect the 21-target range at Victoria will be completed. Captain Latta won the Lieut.-Governor's match, shooting magnificently and compiling 201 out of a possible of 210 over the 200, 500, 600, 800, 900 and 1,000 yards ranges. Mr. McCallum, of the Victoria R. A., was second with 198, the same score as that which won the Governor-General's prize in the Dominion matches at Ottawa last year. The shooting at the long ranges was most phenomenal, possibilities being recorded at every range and with great frequency at 800 and 900 yards.

Captain Latta is this year the winner of the two big individual events, as he also heads the grand aggregate. The following are the winners in the Lieut.-Governor's match: First, 250, Capt. STRINGENT REGULATIONS FOR FIRE PREVENTION Railway Commission Issues Order in Regard to Precautions to Be Taken.

Ottawa, July 21.—Even more stringent this year than formerly are the regulations designed to prevent forest fires along railway lines in British Columbia. An order has just been handed down by the railway commission of conservation for the province of British Columbia and the railway companies were represented.

The order first provides for mesh netting guards over all smokestacks and fireboxes, and requires the railway companies to keep inspectors who must record the condition of these meshes every month and report to the commissioners' engineers. Chief fire inspector will each year submit to the railway companies the measures which will be necessary for fire prevention, and the railway companies are ordered to maintain from April to November forces of fire rangers in dangerous districts, these gangs to be under the supervision of the fire inspectors.

Another new regulation compels engineers, under heavy penalty, to report by telegraph to the superintendent at any divisional point the existence of any fire near or upon the right-of-way, and if reasonably supposed that the fire has been started through the fault of the railway, the superintendent must order out all available section men and other regular employees in sufficient numbers to extinguish the fire. Instruction to this effect must be published in the operating orders-book previous to April of each year.

All engines on any division must be nothing but oil fuel under conditions approved by the railway board. The latter can relieve the railway of any portion of the new regulation if it sees fit, but every railway can be penalized $100 for each offence for failing to obey these regulations.

MAY NOT CHALLENGE.

New York, July 21.—Fear that the British international trophy for motor-boats may be kept in England another year through default of the American challengers to get any American boat across to British waters in time for the cup races is now being taken seriously. Another chapter of accidents spoiled the trial of the speed boats which were set for Saturday afternoon of Los Island.

BASKETS OF BOMBS FOUND IN LISBON

Organized Attempt at Destruction Frustrated by Police, Who Received Warning.

Lisbon, July 21.—An organized attempt to continue bomb-throwing in various parts of the city early yesterday, was frustrated by the police, who had been warned and were on the lookout. They captured several automobiles in which they found baskets of bombs, and arrested many persons who had gathered in the streets. While the police were engaged in these operations, shots were fired and several persons were wounded. One bomb, thrown from an automobile, killed a policeman and injured others. A man, dressed as a sailor and carrying a bomb, was arrested while attempting to enter the barracks. Many of those arrested are said to belong to the advanced radical party.

Children playing in the streets later in the day found two bombs: A boy hit one of the bombs with a hammer, and it exploded, wounding him severely.

CHINESE GIRL FOUND CHAINED IN BATHTUB

Case of Inhuman Treatment by Mother Discovered by Vancouver Police

Vancouver, July 21.—Chained hand and foot with heavy steel shackles and helpless within the narrow compass of a bathtub in a house at 451 Pender street, East, Nellie Ho Chung, a fourteen-year-old Chinese girl, was found and released by the police yesterday. For four days she had lain helpless in constant agony. Her mother, who is responsible for the inhuman treatment which the girl suffered, is being held by the police pending an investigation. As yet no charge has been made.

About noon, several Chinese entered the station house in great excitement with the information that screams had been heard at intervals for several days. Detectives on entering the house found the girl helpless in the bath tub, and presenting an alarming spectacle. Her struggles for four days had left her in a pitiable condition of weakness, and the friction of the chains had torn away her clothing and made wounds on her arms and ankles.

She was taken to the police station and put in charge of the matron. After her injuries were attended to and she had been given food she was so far recovered that she was able to proceed to Salvation Army headquarters, where she is being held pending the investigation. The girl is good-looking, well-educated and speaks English. She was born in Vancouver. Her mother, who is responsible for the outrage, gave as her reason, the story that the girl has been frequenting the streets against her wishes, and she took that method to restrain her.

The chains which were used to secure the girl were not filed off until she arrived at the police station, where Inspector Yorke spent nearly an hour working with a heavy file before she was liberated. The girl had little to say in connection with her sufferings or her detention, accepting the entire situation with Oriental stoicism.

THREE YEARS' MILITARY BILL PASSED IN FRANCE

Peace Footing of Army Will Be Increased 210,000 Men—Service Begins at Twenty.

Paris, July 21.—The chamber of deputies has concluded the debate on the measure which is France's reply to Germany's increase in armaments, by passing the three-years' military service bill. The vote was 353 to 204. Prior to the taking of the vote, Joseph Gaillaux, ex-premier, speaking on behalf of 104 colleagues, made a final attack on the bill, which he denounced as hasty, full of contradictions and supported by the reactionaries.

Premier Barthou said that he recognized none but Frenchmen in a matter affecting the existence of France. He denied that the measure was a provocation to Germany, and insisted upon making the vote a question of confidence.

The bill provides for a three-years' term of service in all branches of the army, instead of two years as hitherto. Two hundred and ten thousand men, at the lowest estimate, will be added to the peace footing of the army, which now stands at 578,783, excluding officers.

One clause provides that the term of service shall begin at the age of 20 years.

MAN DROWNED FALLING IN PARACHUTE DESCENT

Seattle, Wash., July 21.—Francis L. Thayer, aged 47 years, a parachute jumper known all over the west, was drowned Saturday while making a parachute descent from an aeroplane as part of the Potlatch air sports. Thayer went up in an aeroplane with John Bryant. At a height of 700 feet he dropped from the aeroplane and his parachute spread above him and the descent began. At a height of 600 feet he broke loose from the parachute and fell into the water. Thayer did not rise to the surface after going into the water.

Several small boats from the warships near which Thayer disappeared put out to search for the body, but after cruising about for half an hour the search was abandoned.

LOAN THEIR HOUSE TO ANNOY LANDLORD

Paris, July 21.—Count and Countess Antoine de la Rouchefoucauld have loaned their magnificent house on Boulevard Lannes, facing LeBois de Boulogne, in the most aristocratic part of the city, to M. Cochon, the man who has a self-imposed mission to find abodes for the poor who are unable to go to hotels. Eight families moved in yesterday to the accompaniment of a pot and kettle band after they had paraded in the Bois. The base of de la Rouchefoucauld has 15 months to run.

The painter installed himself in a fine studio in the nursery and made arrangements for a second studio. Champagne was opened in honor of the occasion. Their hospitality is due more to a desire to annoy a landlord than to charity.

THE RELIABILITY OF

ADVERTISED

ARTICLES

A man who is an authority on advertising said recently: "You may have a business without advertising, but you can't have advertising without a business."

Just think of the full significance of that statement to the newspaper reader.

It means that when you see any man advertising regularly in the better newspapers he must have something real and genuine to advertise; that he has merchandise of such quality that it meets the needs of his customers, and that he is so sure of the desirability of what he has to offer that he is willing to spend real money to tell people about it. He knows that money spent in advertising is well spent, because he is so sure of his product that his chief problem in selling is to let everyone know what he has to sell.

Knowing this, can you afford to let this valuable information offered you by the daily newspaper slip by you through your own negligence? Do you not owe it to yourself to keep up to the minute by reading regularly the advertising columns of good publications like THE TIMES?

Court of Appeal.—At eleven o'clock to-morrow forenoon the Judges of the Court of Appeal will sit for the purpose of rendering some judgments in cases heard by them at the recent sittings here and in Vancouver.

Decorated Graves.—Nearly one thousand members of the Ancient Order of Foresters marched through the streets of Victoria yesterday on the occasion of the annual memorial day exercises. Each man wore his full decorations and carried a bouquet of flowers to be placed on the graves of the departed members. J. J. Randolph, of New Westminster, the chief district ranger, and Rev. J. B. Warnick conducted the service at the cemetery. The Fifth Regiment band headed the procession.

Relatives Sought For.—Auguste Jordan, who was living in Nanaimo in May, 1912, and spoke then of coming to Victoria to reside, is sought by his brother, R. J. Jordan, 46 Syvan avenue, Bowes Park, London, England. Another missing man whom the local police have been asked to look for is Arthur M. K. Saul, who left the service of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company two years ago and has only once been heard of since. His wife, Mrs. L. Saul, 55 Surfok avenue, Southampton, England, is seeking for information as to his whereabouts.

Twenty-five Passed.—Out of thirty-three candidates who presented themselves at the tri-monthly examinations for provincial government certificates for stationary engineers, the following passed: For second class, J. W. Wilson and J. H. Blake. For third class, G. Gordon, E. Valentine, J. A. Asher, T. S. Jones, W. Bryden and F. J. Bell. For fourth class, William Strayer, J. H. McLean, A. Patrick, J. Glennie, J. Brickman, R. B. Moulton, W. Gyver, C. E. Foster, R. Reid, B. Mayer, C. Ferguson, R. Duggan, J. H. Turner, S. R. Anderson, H. McCarthy and A. Southwell. S. Baxter, inspector of machinery, who conducted the examinations here, will go to Nanaimo during the coming week and continue the tests at the Court House there for the convenience of candidates in that district.

Attempted Burglary.—Between Saturday night and this morning an attempt was made to break into the jewelry and watchmaking establishment of G. B. Simon, corner of Government and Cormorant streets. On opening the door this morning the proprietor, a Chinaman, discovered the marks of a burglar's "jimmy" on the door and the side frame. Apparently the burglar had been frightened away before he could secure an entrance. The store is in full view of the police station and but a door or two from the city detective office, so that it must have been a bold individual who made the attempt. The door is in a recess which is very dark at night, and it would be impossible for a man to stand in there and not be seen except on a very close scrutiny.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"The Trapper's Mistake"—This two-reel melodrama has many features to commend it. There are splendid backgrounds, some of them wintry scenes, with snow-covered ground and leafless trees, others at less altitude, all splendidly photographed and tinted. One of the situations of suspense is where a great bear wanders into the cabin and a little girl hides under the table. A real spectacle is the ride of the red men through the two and three feet deep water of the shaded creek in pursuit of the escaping family. "The Sands of Time," a strong allegorical drama, depicting the hopeless flight of humanity when pitted against eternity, let hereditary traits. "The Old Monk's Tale"—in this picture an infatuated youth robs the statue of the Virgin Mary of jewels to deck a coquette, but is discovered in the act and a tragedy follows. "Ma's Apron Strings," a Bunyan comedy. This splendid programme will be shown on Monday and Tuesday.

DROWNS WHILE BATHING.

Victoria Lad Sinks in Shawnigan Lake Before Eyes of His Mother.

A very sad bathing fatality occurred at Shawnigan lake on Saturday afternoon when Clifford Eilers was drowned before the eyes of his mother. He had gone out to the summer resort only that morning to spend a week with his mother and two sisters, who are staying there for the holiday months, and had gone in for his first swim, tempted by the heat of the day and coolness of the water.

The lad was bathing near the Strathcona hotel, and evidently was seized with a cramp and with heart failure. He had been in for some time in company with some friends, when he suddenly cried out in pain and sank at once. The others immediately swam to his assistance, and dived for him repeatedly, but it was twenty minutes before they succeeded in bringing the body to the surface and the shore.

Efforts were made to resuscitate him and a telephone message to the city brought Dr. W. J. C. Tomlin out in record time, forty-five minutes by motor car. Nothing that could be done was of any avail, as heart failure and not drowning was the immediate cause of death. Lewis Eilers, his father, and his brother Walter went out from the city as soon as word of the accident was received by them.

Clifford Eilers was a just over eighteen years of age, and for the past couple of years had been employed in the jewelry establishment of Little and Taylor, Fort street. He lived with his parents at 2315 Prior street. Besides the members of the family here there are two brothers away, one in Prince Rupert and another in Missouri.

An inquest was not considered necessary.

HOUSE SET ABLAZE

In Absence of Occupant Coal Oil is Spread Around, and Fire Results.

An incendiary fire, the ruddy glare of which reflected on the glass in the windows of the Fernwood hall, called the men out to control it, occurred shortly after 3 o'clock this morning.

The blaze took the fire company to 251 Rosebery avenue, James Ferguson, the owner and occupier of which is away from the city. Considerable damage had been done both to roof and contents before the department arrived.

The building is a frame one and the loss, which is partially covered by insurance, amounts to about $500 on contents and about the same on the building. Coal oil had been used to make the fire spread.

Last night a call came in from 577 Yates street, where a grease pot on the stove had upset, but the loss was trifling. There was also a fire this morning at 16 o'clock at the old shed belonging to the British Columbia Electric railway on Store street, near Telegraph street, which was extinguished without much loss, the property being of little value.

SUPPLYING INTERDICTS.

Many Persons Appear to Be Breaking the Law, Whether Ignorantly or Otherwise.

There appears to be a great lack of a sense of responsibility on the part of those who assist interdicted persons to obtain the liquor which they crave, and which the law says they must not have. It is thought there is a mistaken idea that the prohibition against supplying liquor only applies to the saloonkeeper, but there could be no greater mistake.

Again in police court to-day an interdict was in the dock on a charge of being drunk in the street. He was asked where he got the liquor and said that a friend went down to Johnson street and got it for him, but when asked the name of the friend he stated that he had never met him before and did not know his name.

The act, which was increased in stringency at the last session of the legislature, forbids anyone to supply liquor to any interdicted or Indian and in very clear terms. The prohibitory section says: "No person and no holder of a license to sell liquor shall sell, barter, give, deliver or furnish for any purpose or on any pretext whatsoever, any liquor" to these classes of persons. The fine for a breach of this prohibition is anything between $100 and $200. An interdict can be compelled, under penalty of fine and imprisonment, to dispose of the source of liquor he has received.

Found by Police.—W. J. MacLellan, whom the local police were asked to find by the police of Calgary, acting for the man's wife, has been notified this city and his wife has been notified his address. MacLellan himself is writing home.

WEALTH.

I dreamed last night that I had stores of gold untold, And toward my fellow-men turned risen so cold.

They fled away and left me to myself, In a forlorn enjoyment of my pelf; And 'stead of joy amid that golden dower

I found the prospect drab, and chill, and sour. I came to hate the dross, and when the dawn

Awoke me, I rejoiced to find it gone, And in its place the truest kind of wealth.

The love of all my neighbors and good health.

COMES ON JULY 30

U. S. Battleship Not Here for Carnival; California Needs Repairs.

The unfortunate necessity of having a cracked gun-mounting repaired in order to be ready for service for August 12 will prevent the United States battleship California from being present in Victoria waters during the progress of the carnival.

Word was conveyed to this effect in a wire to Secretary Randolph Stuart just before he left Seattle. However the naval department at Washington has given permission for the vessel to come to Victoria from July 30 to August 2, so that Victorians will have a chance to view the battleship on Wednesday week.

Flag Lieut. Klein had sent a wire to Mr. Stuart stating that the vessel would be in Victoria on August 1 and leave on August 5, and the secretary was under the impression that this arrangement would hold good, but at the last moment the date was contradicted by a wire from Washington to the effect that the California would have to report at Mare Island on August 5 without fall in order to repair the cracked gun mounting. The California has to be in active service by August 12, when she will be sent on duty to San Francisco. Capt. A. S. Halstead is her commanding officer.

Governor Lister, of the state of Washington, will be a visitor to Victoria during the carnival, if his engagements will permit. Alderman Cuthbert received this assurance from the executive head of the neighboring state last week.

READY TO OPEN HOME.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Reception in New Building on Tuesday.

Everything is practically in readiness for the opening of the Young Women's Christian Association's new home, at the corner of Courtenay and Douglas streets, to-morrow. The opening reception will be from 2 to 6 and 8 to 10 p. m., when many visitors are expected. The drawing room is being furnished by Mrs. James Dunsmuir, the entrance hall by Mrs. David Ker, and the library by the Agnes Deans Cameron Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire. There will be a tea room and a meeting room suitable for gatherings of all sorts, and these will be for rent.

PREPARING FOR SHOW.

Colwood Women's Institute Plans for Large Attendance at Flower Show.

The members of the Colwood Women's Institute are making arrangements for the largest annual flower show they have yet held. Many entries have been promised and the details of the event are being planned. As a special motor service has been arranged to and from Victoria for the afternoon, it is expected that there will be many who are interested in the culture of flowers who will take the opportunity of attending.

After the business of the meeting last Tuesday had been disposed of, a paper on first-aid and a demonstration of bandaging were given by an experienced member of an ambulance class, lately from England. It was the wish of the members present that a class should be formed to further this useful work in the rural districts.

NEW SERVICE STARTED.

B. C. Electric Line to Mount Tmolie to Be Inaugurated Next Wednesday.—Hourly Schedule.

The British Columbia Electric car service will be inaugurated to Mount Tmolie on Wednesday next. The track for the new line has been in shape for a considerable period, having been placed here to accommodate the gravel train service. But so great has been the development of settlement in that district and so increasing the need of tramway facilities, that the company felt it incumbent upon them to meet the needs of the people by the inauguration of a new service.

The service will be an hourly one. The first cars will leave the city at 9 a. m. and every hour thereafter until 11 p. m. Sundays the first car will leave Victoria at 9 a. m. and the last car at 10 p. m. The new service will no doubt be much appreciated by the residents in the extreme northeastern section of the city, who have been so long without adequate facilities for getting into town.

LITTLE BUSINESS.

City Council Will Have Quiet Session This Evening.—By-laws May Be Passed.

Very little of interest is promised for the meeting of the city council this evening. Not a single notice of motion has been posted for consideration to-night. Beyond possible further controversy over the mayor's proposal for a greater Victoria commission, there is nothing expected to arouse debate. It is thought that the majority of the council will favor reference to a com-

TELLS COMMISSION WHY HE LAYS CLAIM

Capt. Cox Explains Conditions of Three Years Previous to 1894

PERIOD BEYOND SCOPE OF SEALING INQUIRY

Capt. Gould, Asking $12,115, Also Heard at To-day's Session

Sealers this morning were given the opportunity by Mr. Justice Audette to explain to the commission the facts on the industry of the regulations introduced in 1891, prohibiting the schooners from entering Behring Sea. Nearly every claim that has been filed before the commission includes claims for damages for the years 1891, 1892 and 1893, but owing to the fact that the jurisdiction of the court does not extend further back than the year 1894, all these claims have had to be abandoned.

Capt. William Cox was called to the witness box this morning and his claim contained damages for the three years. Hon. A. E. McPhillips, K. C., representing Capt. Cox, stated that he recognized that these years were beyond the court's powers, but he asked permission to have the matter explained, the evidence only to be taken notice of providing an extension of the commission's powers were made.

This met with an objection from Mr. Curran, who is watching the inquiry for the Dominion government. His lordship, however, allowed Capt. Cox to proceed with his evidence.

Warned on Coast Twice.

In the year 1891, Capt. Cox said he was in command of the schooner Sapphire, and met with his first interference. He started sealing along the British Columbia coast and followed the seal herd north. On August 10 he was ordered home by a British cruiser. Capt. Cox explained that the schooner generally started to seal early in January and the season extended until the end of September. Some sealers stayed out until October, but he never did. The weather as a rule got bad in September. "You have to come home some time," he said.

While off the coast in 1892 the American revenue cutter ordered Capt. Cox not to proceed into Behring Sea. The following year no clearances were issued for Behring Sea, so Capt. Cox had to take his schooner across to the Copper Inlet.

In 1893 the claimant bought a portion of the schooner Sapphire and the following year secured an interest in two other schooners. He suffered a heavy loss as a result of the modus vivendi. "It crippled me so that I have never recovered from it since," said Capt. Cox.

Again in 1894 the witness was interfered with, the Paris Award Regulations having come into effect since he put to sea early in January. When in latitude 57.40 N. and longitude 140.40 W., H. M. S. Pheasant overhauled the Sapphire and sent Capt. Cox home to get a special license in order that he might enter Behring Sea. In 1894 his catch was 2,640, and Capt. Cox estimated that had it not been for the restrictions he would have taken 1,500 additional skins. In 1895 on the Sapphire Capt. Cox took 1,975 skins and claims for 1,500 more, and in the following year on the same vessel he caught 1,420 skins and claims again for 1,500. In 1896 the Sapphire was burned at sea, and Capt. Cox entered no claim for that year. He took 1,051 skins on the Triton in 1896, and believes he would have taken 1,500 more had it not been for the restrictions.

Tried Steamboats.

During the two succeeding years Capt. Cox did not get out owing to the regulations. He tried steamboating, but did so poorly that he decided to return to the sealing industry. He left Victoria on the schooner Florence M. Smith, and took her for the spring season bringing in 1,500 skins. There was a claim for 1,500 additional skins, but the commissioner pointed out that Capt. Balcom had the schooner out for the Behring Sea cruise. After some argument it was shown that had it not been for the restrictions, Capt. Cox would not have been forced to return home, and would have gone into Behring Sea. The claim was reduced from 1,500 to 500.

Capt. Cox left sealing for good in 1901 to try and do better. He went steamboating, and in 1902 was given a position as pilot for the district of Victoria and Esquimalt.

A claim for five years' loss of income was made by Capt. Cox, and in supporting his claim he stated that he might lose his present post some day. The government could do away with the pilotage, or if he met with an accident with one of the steamers he might be dismissed.

Mr. Curran before starting to examine the witness stated that he would not deal with the evidence taken prior to 1894, owing to the fact that it was beyond the powers of the commission. He pointed out that after the modus vivendi was brought into force compensation was given to many of the Victoria sealers. A commission was appointed to deal with the claims of the sealers that were seized, and he quoted the sums which had been paid to some of the vessels.

The commissioner at this juncture,

SANTA CATALINA LAUNCHED SATURDAY

New Grace Liner Will be Hand-some Addition to Atlantic-Pacific Trade

Another of the new vessels for the Atlantic-Pacific Steamship Company, of which W. R. Grace & Co. are the general representatives on the Pacific coast, has been launched for the New York-Pacific service. This is the Santa Catalina, sister ship to the Santa Cruz, which was launched on Saturday at Cramp's Philadelphia shipyard. She is due to steam from New York in September. The Santa Catalina has a gross tonnage of 4,621 tons, and a net tonnage of 3,284 tons, with a dead-weight carrying capacity of 5,000 tons.

The Santa Catalina will run in the same service as the Colusa, whose first appearance here this month aroused considerable interest, not only because it was the arrival of a ship on her maiden voyage, but because it marked the inauguration of a new service from this port.

The Colusa arrived at San Francisco yesterday from Portland with 3,500,000 feet of lumber, and is due to get away to-day for an excursion trip to the Panama canal, returning at the end of next month. She has her cabins filled with tourists, and is carrying and general merchandise for the canal commission. The extensive building programme of this company shows that it is confident that business will be abundant, and that the Green Funnel line will take a permanent place in the transportation channels of the north-west Pacific.

The other two vessels of the "Santa" type, of which there are four, for this company, are the Santa Cecilia and Santa Clara. The last named, loads at New York next month and is due at San Francisco about October 4.

MANY GO NORTH ON PRINCE GEORGE

To escape the heat of the summer in the cool breezes of the inside passage, there was a large company at the Grand Trunk Pacific ticket office this morning before the Prince George, Capt. Donald, cleared for Vancouver and the north.

The members of the labor commission, who will hear evidence in Hazelton and in Prince Rupert, including J. G. Parson, chairman, and J. A. Harper and R. A. Stoney, with F. R. McNamara, the secretary, went north on the steamer, while round-trip passengers to Stewart represented a considerable section of the list. Among those so making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. George Stock and son, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Dunn and son. A survey party under W. Meyerstein travelled on the steamer, and Harold and Miss Cunningham went to Port Essington. The Misses Newton, daughters of a former mayor of Prince Rupert, are en route home, while other passengers for Prince Rupert included J. A. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jackman and son.

The Princess Sophia, which left on Friday night, also had a large number of round-trip passengers.

DUTCH WILL UTILIZE PANAMA FOR EAST INDIES

The Dutch are preparing to use the Panama canal for its full value in connection with their island possessions, according to a report of William M. Bunker, commissioner of foreign trade to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, which was read on Saturday at a meeting of the foreign trade committee of the organization. Bunker's report related a meeting in Java with the president of the Chamber of Commerce of Batavia.

The Dutch control the transportation of the Dutch East Indies and are indicating remarkable enterprise, Bunker reads a portion of the report. "The Netherlands Royal Mail Company has just increased its fleet by two 10,000-ton mail steamers and is building a 12,000-ton steamer. I have been assured that the increased tonnage is partly due to the anticipated use of the Panama canal."

ALLAN LINERS' MOVEMENTS.

The Tunisian, from Liverpool, reached Quebec on Friday morning last and Montreal on Saturday morning. Passengers for Victoria are due on July 25.

The Scotian, from London, arrived at Montreal last night, and will dock at Victoria on Friday. Passengers for Victoria are due July 27.

PRINCESS MAQUINNA MAKES MAIDEN TRIP

C. P. R. Vice-President Inspects Steamer; Passenger Accommodation is Fully Taken

Vice-President G. J. Bury inspected the Princess Maquinna last evening before she sailed on her maiden trip to the west coast at a late hour, every berth being filled. He expressed his satisfaction that local yards had been able to turn out such a satisfactory example of the shipbuilding art, and shortly afterwards left for Vancouver, en route east. Capt. Troup, manager of the C. P. R. Coast Service, however, accompanied the steamer, and will go through to Hobart.

Numerous visitors made inspection trips to the vessel as she lay alongside the Canadian Pacific wharves yesterday and were struck with the design of the vessel. They realized that she is built for service, and not for ornament, and that no unnecessary frills have been allowed to interfere with her seaworthiness. She was reported at noon as having reached Pachena, and at Port Alberni will be accorded a hearty welcome when she reaches the west coast port late to-night. Mayor Burde has the subject in hand with a committee, and there is no doubt she will be warmly welcomed.

Yesterday morning she made a trial run into the Straits to adjust her compass and everything was found to be satisfactory.

MAKURA WILL BERTH EARLY ON WEDNESDAY

Panama Maru on Thursday Morning; Harpagus Passes Up Straits

Wireless messages from the Canadian-Australian liner Makura this morning announce that she will berth at the outer wharf at an early hour on Wednesday, probably reaching quarantine at daybreak. The Makura brings a considerable passenger list.

A wireless has also been received by the local agents of the Osaka Steam Navigation Co., that the Panama Maru, which has been in touch with the wireless stations since Friday evening, will take up her berth at the outer wharf early on Thursday morning. It had been expected with the good time she was making that the Osaka liner would report by Wednesday afternoon, although Thursday is her scheduled day. The Tacoma Maru, of the same line, will leave to-morrow with a capacity cargo for the Orient. When the Panama Maru arrives there will be no occasion for her to make a lengthy stay as the cargo for the port is only 135 tons.

The Empress of Japan was at 5 p.m. last evening in 50.11 north, and 138 degrees west. She will be here on Wednesday. One of the extra vessels of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, the Harpagus, passed up the Straits to Vancouver this morning. For that port she had 640 tons, and 420 tons for Puget Sound ports, together with 78 tons for overland points.

She completes her charter to the Royal Mail line on discharge of her cargo at North Pacific ports, having been engaged at Manila to fill a charter.

As there are several other vessels due this week there is every prospect of a busy week on the waterfront.

MARY SACHS IS BOUGHT FOR EXPEDITION

Nome, July 21.—The gasoline schooner Mary Sachs, a vessel of 33 tons net register, which was built at Benicis, Cal., in 1898, and which has been engaged in trading out of Nome, has been purchased by Vilhjalm Stefansson as the third vessel of the Canadian polar expedition which he will lead into the Arctic.

Loading of the Mary Sachs was begun Friday night, and would have been finished yesterday had not a strong south-west wind caused a suspension of operations.

It is expected that the Sachs will be ready to sail to-day, when Stefansson will join Capt. Bartlett on the Karuk at Port Clarence.

WISHES OTHER BAIT.

The halibut schooner Jesse is preparing to leave for the grounds to-day. Capt. Heater is anxious to have the necessary permission given to use salmon for bait in vicinity of the latter account of the success of the latter fish. It will be necessary to get permission from the authorities to make the change. Most of the skippers complain that herring cannot be obtained now, as was formerly the case, and some alterations must be made.

CANADIANS LOSE TO AMERICAN PAIR

United States Will Now Meet England's Cup Defenders for Tennis Title

Wimbledon, Eng., July 21.—The United States Davis cup lawn tennis team Saturday fought its way through the final round of the preliminary tournament and by adding a victory over the Canadian team in the doubles to the two singles matches gained the right to challenge the English holders of possession of the international trophy.

Harold H. Hackett, of New York, and Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, represented the United States, and by brilliant team work scored in three straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 12-10, from R. B. Powell, the Canadian captain, and B. P. Schwengers, the Canadian singles champion.

The matches in the challenge round are to be played, according to present arrangements, at Wimbledon on July 25, 26 and 28.

The United States will be represented by McLoughlin and Hackett, R. Norris Williams and Wallace F. Johnson. The English defenders are C. F. Dixon, J. C. Parke, A. W. Gore and H. Roper Barrett.

Hackett and McLoughlin captured the first set in rather easy fashion. The score followed the service until the sixth game, when the American players broke into the sequence and afterward the chances of the Canadians were few.

Hackett was rather weak in this department. On the other side Powell played consistently for the Canadians, and his service gave the United States couple some trouble.

The Americans began the second set by breaking into Schwengers' service, taking the first two games. The Canadians were somewhat wild and McLoughlin showed fine judgment in letting "out" balls go past him.

The score by points was as follows: First set: United States, 414, 244, 404—27, Canada, 240, 422, 041—19.

Second set: United States, 443, 414, 145—30, Canada, 115, 141, 413—21.

Third set: United States, 425, 242, 716, 062, 454, 246, 504, 4—71, Canada, 143, 414, 544, 424, 071, 404, 340, 1—64.

CARNIVAL ENTRIES.

Victoria's Carnival regatta is certainly taking on an international aspect. Besides entries from Portland and Seattle, the Nelson Rowing Club has sent along a bunch of entries, including the following:

Four-stroke: E. T. Phillips, W. Allan, F. E. Elliott, bow. Doubles—George Paterson and Another. Singles—T. D. Desbrisay.

R. V. Y. C. OPENING AT CADBORO BAY

Dr. Nash Wins Rickaby Cup Race on Saturday Afternoon

Favored by perfect weather conditions, the official opening of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club took place on Saturday afternoon, the event being a pronounced success. A large turnout of Victoria's prominent social leaders featured the function.

Hon. Mr. Eberts, gave a short history of the Royal Yacht Club in which he outlined the rise of the R. V. Y. C. from a few yachts to its present position as the leading yacht club in British Columbia.

Dr. Nash's Spendthrift was the winner of the weekly race for the Rickaby Cup. Dr. Rundle Nelson piloted his boat in the lead for the first lap, but was unable to maintain the pace.

LOCAL GOAL-TEND STARRED SATURDAY

Boss Johnson's work in the nets for the Vancouver pro. team featured the city championship game at Vancouver on Saturday, when the Vancouver amateur athletic club twelve, former amateur champions of the world, went out in their pro. debut and held the All-Star professional aggregation to a five-goal draw at Hastings Park.

Dave Gibbons and George Matheson strengthened the V. A. C. twelve, while the pros. trotted out the same team that gave Westminster such tough battles this season.

SIDNEY WON.

The Lathers were defeated by the Sidney lacrosse club on Saturday, the final score being 4 to 1 for the Sidney twelve.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Travelling at their present speed, it will just take the Bees about a week to land in the cellar with a loud flop. The team, crippled as it is, is playing the worst ball that has been seen this year.

With Brooks back in the game, Victoria's infield and catching staff will be complete, but the twirling department certainly does not shape up to mark.

BEAVERS TAKE DOUBLE HEADER

Rawlings' Absence Demoralized Local Defence—Some Heavy Slugging in Both Games

Vancouver made a clean sweep of the series with the Bees when they took down both ends of a double header on Saturday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park, the afternoon game being a joke contest in which the Terminala trampled all over the local club, the final score being 16 to 7.

Except for the uniforms, it would have been hard to identify the Victoria ball club as the same team that had fought its way up to third place in the Northwestern League standing.

In the evening the gathering was very slim. Boatman was sent to the mound for the local crew, and he started out well.

AS SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

Only a couple of games ahead of Tacoma. Bees only captured one game during last week, out of nine played.

It's about time that our heavy hitters started to clean up the sacks once more. Mike Lynch and his Indians are showing up better in every series.

Pinky Grindle has signed with Spokane, and that new club now boasts of as many ex-Bees as the Tigers.

Bob Brown is very sweet on Dick Kaufman, and considers the veteran one of the best right-handers in the league.

Charlie Swain appears to have recovered his batting eye, and is clouting the ball as of yore.

Johnny Rawlings was sorely missed on Saturday, especially for his snappy fielding.

A few more punk games from Jimmy Clarke and the Vancouver Boss will be turning him loose. Victoria might be able to grab him.

Boatman heaved nice ball on Saturday outside of one bad inning, and the rah-rah youngster will certainly do.

Victoria is pretty well crippled up when Shea, Brooks and Rawlings are off the team, as they were Saturday.

MAJOR LEAGUERS BOOST AVERAGES

Chicago, July 21.—Caldwell, the New York pitcher and pinch hitter, batted his way to the top among the American leaguers last week and is six points ahead of Joe Jackson, of Cleveland.

Wash, the Philadelphia utility man, and Yingling, the Brooklyn pitcher, forged ahead of Charlie McDonald, of Boston, last week, among the National League hitters.

Each has played twenty games. Wash averaging .464 and Yingling .400. McDonald's average is .378 in fifty-three games.

Daubert, of Brooklyn, is fourth with .388; Crandall, New York, fifth with .353, and Hyatt, Pittsburg, is sixth with .352.

The batters of the new Federal League are led by Porroy, of Pittsburg, whose average is .500, but he has batted

COWICHAN BATTER SCORES A CENTURY

L. S. V. York Totals 140
Against Victoria A Team—
Other Week-end Scores

Saturday was a big day for the cricketers in Victoria and vicinity, the warm weather bringing out the teams at full strength. Five big matches featured the programme and there were any number of smaller clubs that took part in the week-end cricket programme. The scores on Saturday were:

Cowichan A, 148; Victoria A, 131.
Victoria B, 258; Cowichan B, 152.
Oak Bay B, 72; Albion B, 59.
Oak Bay A, 135; Saanich, 56.
Garrison, 124; Albion A, 108.
Mens' Own, 92 and 48; Restorer, 35 and 76.

Heavy hitting won for the Cowichan A team, L. S. V. York putting on the splendid total of 140 for the winners. This is one of the best scores that has been put on this season.

On the Jubilee grounds, J. D. A. Scott batted 94 for the Victoria B eleven, while Carew contributed a very useful 77. Both of these totals contained a number of "fours."

H. Hudson, of the University School, played for Oak Bay on Saturday against the Albion B eleven, his bowling being largely instrumental in the defeat of the Albion club.

Cowichan, by their victory over the Victoria A team, have shown themselves to be one of the best batting clubs on the island.

MCGINNITY CHARGES FORMER MANAGER

T. P. McConnell, secretary of the Victoria Baseball Club, went to Portland with the Bees and will try and hunt up a couple of good right-handed twirlers to strengthen the Bees' flinging department. It was expected that Charlie Brooks might play in to-day's game, while Danny Shea will also be ready for work this week. The officers of the Victoria club also expect a new outfielder, Johnny Rawlings, joined the team at Seattle and will remain with the locals for the balance of the season.

Tacoma, July 21.—According to the statement of Secretary Frank Redpath, of the Tacoma Tigers, it is probable that charges will be filed against Umpire Harry Ostiek because of his showing during the series which has just closed. Statements have been received to the effect that Ostiek had openly stated that he would "get McGinnity" before the series was over, and that he would do his best to put the "Iron man" out of the baseball business.

C. C. Faucett, of the Puget Sound Mills Company, told Redpath that he had heard Ostiek make these threats, and gave the names of witnesses to substantiate his statement. If affidavits can be obtained they will be forwarded to President Jones.

GUNNER ROSS TO GET RETURN BOUT

A return bout between Gunner Ross and Seaman Wright is billed for the next smoker at the Victoria Athletic Club on August 6. The Garrison idol claims that he was not in the best of shape on Friday night, and has asked the management to allow him another chance against the clever sailor. The latter, while elated over his win, is willing to give Ross another opportunity to regain his lost laurels as the heavyweight champion of Vancouver Island. Six other good bouts are being arranged for, and as the smoker is billed during carnival week, a good night's sport may be looked for.

DELL WINS NICE GAME FOR CHAMPS

WELSH DEFEATED O'BRIEN EASILY

Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of Great Britain, got the decision over Young Jack O'Brien at Vancouver after fifteen rounds of lively milling. It was Young O'Brien's first attempt to go over such a long route and he plainly tired toward the close.

He is a wonderfully clever boxer, but he is not a convincing puncher, and the Welshman had it all over him in the close work. Welsh is a wonder working at close quarters, for he keeps both fists flying at all times, and while his punches are not hard they worry the other fellow and he keeps plugging up points.

Jimmy Hewitt refereed the match, and his decision met with popular approval. Some of the fellows who had on O'Brien made a yell, but that was to be expected. There was but little long-range boxing, for Welsh kept working to close quarters, and once inside he stayed there and falled away with both hands right merrily.

In the final round O'Brien was plainly tired, while Welsh tried hard for a knockout. He was on top the Philadelphia boy all the time, but could not land a hard punch. His show of aggressiveness made a hit however, for he held O'Brien in such a way that he could not fight, while he made a great showing himself.

Many Victoria fans were on hand for the bout, Morris Condon, completing arrangements with the Arena management for the Bayley-Valse contest on August 1.

BARRY SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS ROWING TITLE

London, July 21.—Ernest Barry, of London, champion sculler of the world, successfully defended his title to-day by defeating Harry Pearce, champion of Australia, by two lengths over the famous course from Putney to Mortlake on the Thames.

Stakes of $5,000 accompanied the title. The Australian led during the first part of the race, but Barry took command at Hammersmith Bridge at the middle distance.

Barry wrested the title from Richard Arnot over the same course, and since that time has defended it with ease.

WISH ALL VISITORS TO KNOW ATTRACTIONS

Committee for Carnival Endeavors to Have All Who Come Well Informed

In connection with the carnival week, but having wider significance in a tourist city like Victoria, where it is difficult for visitors to secure information about routes and hours of departure of the trains, street cars, steamers and launches, are the following remarks of Dr. W. E. Home, secretary of the accommodation committee of the Victoria carnival.

"I was talking last night," he observes, "to two of our old friends of the Flying Legion who had come back to the city, and were looking forward to being here for the carnival. They complained bitterly of the difficulty they found in discovering what there was to do in Victoria. One mentioned that in his hotel here he had been unable to discover a C. P. R. time table, and that he had utterly failed there to find anyone who could tell him anything about the Gorge launches. He said he had told two of his friends at different times to come to Victoria for a holiday, and that each had said he could not find enough to do here for more than three days, after which each of them had left."

"We know there is far more of interest in and about Victoria than can be got through in three days, but I think that on reflection we must allow more time to see that these trips are sufficiently advertised to strangers. I hope that the carnival information bureau will do something to take away this reproach and as that bureau is to be managed by the accommodation committee I ask you to appeal to all people managing shows that would interest strangers to send me at once particulars which can be announced in our public leaflets. For example, the Gorge launches, E. & N. railway to Alberni, Cowichan and Shawnigan lakes, telling time taken and cost of each trip, hours of departure and arrival; lecturers to coast points, supper room, motor drives on the Malahat road and to other points; fares and probable time taken, tally-ho round Victoria, starting points, hours and fares; Sooke, Metchosin and other stages; advertisements of good fishing, routes and rates for the day; British Columbia Electric trains to Saanich and routes through the city; motor, sailing and rowing boats by the hour; horses to ride and drive and rates. Rates are most important."

"I don't say that every advertisement sent in will be printed; probably it will not be printed in the words in which sent in; the leaflet must be very short, but we will try to make it comprehensive and after the carnival the citizens' committee may see their way to get out a similar weekly programme. I wish the citizens would send all information either to-day or to-morrow to me at 731 1/2 Fort street, and we will try to do the best with it. It will be remembered we have asked for information to be sent in writing about all hotels and apartment houses, and we particularly want to know of any lodgings available for one or more persons during carnival week if not already notified to the committee."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received at the Times office no later than the day before the day of publication. When received later they will be held over until the following day.

While non-objective anonymous communications will be published, the name and address of every writer of such letters must be given to the editor.

TIMES OUT OF JOINT.

To the Editor: No class of men are more in need of wise counsel than are the workmen. Arrayed as they are upon one side of a great contest which involves not only the things they deem of first importance to themselves, but the peace of society and the prosperity very much depends upon the nature of the course that is followed and the means employed by them to attain their ends. Unless the great power of the workmen is exercised with wisdom and unless a right spirit directs in the decisions arrived at by their organizations great harm to all classes of society must result.

The words of Scripture have been fulfilled which predicted that society would become as it was in the day before the flood, when the earth was filled with violence and the people had given themselves up to the pursuit of wealth and pleasure. Through the working of trusts and the results of labor unions and strikes, the conditions of life in the cities are becoming more and more difficult. The intense passion for money-getting, the thirst for display, the luxury and extravagance, all are forces that with the great mass of mankind are turning the mind from life's true purpose. They are opening the door to a thousand evils. Many absorbed in their interests in worldly treasures become insensible to the claims of God and the needs of their fellow-men. They regard their wealth as a means of glorifying self. They add house to house and land to land; they fill their homes with luxury while all about them are human beings in misery and crime, in disease and death. By every species of oppression and extortion men are piling up colossal fortunes while the cries of starving humanity are coming up before God. There are multitudes struggling with poverty compelled to labor hard for small wages, unable to secure the bare necessities of life. Toil and deprivation with no hope of better things makes their burden heavy. When pain and sickness are added the burden is almost unbearable. Careworn and oppressed they know not where to turn for relief. The Scriptures describe the condition of the world just before Christ's second coming. James the apostle pictures the greed and oppression that will prevail. The relations between capital and labor have not been improved by the long contest that has been waged against them. Strikes have not grown less frequent and the solution of the problem of permanent harmonious relations between the contending forces is not yet in sight. It is not apparent that any real progress toward this solution has been made by the measures that have been employed by the labor unions. But if both contending parties would heed the counsel of God, peace and harmony would be established in a single day. The rich would use their wealth as stewards of God, who requires that men should love their neighbors as themselves and their business would be conducted on the principle of the Golden Rule, while the men in their employ would lay aside all violence and bitterness and would perform their service in the spirit of love rather than that of hatred and envy.

It is so easy to lose the cork of a bottle or to get it mixed up with the corks of other bottles in cases where many of these receptacles are used, that a New York man's device for keeping the cork attached to the bottle is of interest. The corks themselves are specially made, with a cap on the top and small openings in the cap. A piece of wire is passed through the openings in the cap and looped around the neck of the bottle. The wire is then twisted until the loop is too small to slip off. This leaves a piece of wire long enough to permit of the removal or insertion of the cork. The device can be used on any bottle that the cork fits by the simple expedient of untwisting the wire and twisting it around the other end.

A STERN PARENT AND DUTIFUL SON

WHY YOUNG MARQUIS DID NOT WED DAISY

She Was His 'Beautiful Dream' but Rather an Expensive One; Solatium of $250,000

An Old Country exchange thus describes the proceedings in the breach of promise suit of Miss Daisy Markham against the young Marquis of Northampton, which ended in the lady extracting from his lordship the comfortable solatium of $250,000:

A case in which the principal parties are connected with the peerage and the stage, and which came on for hearing in the King's Bench Division recently before Mr. Justice Bucknill and a special jury, excited a considerable amount of public interest.

The plaintiff, Miss Daisy Moss, known professionally as Miss Daisy Markham, seeks damages from the Marquis of Northampton, who before he succeeded recently to his present title on the death of his father, was Earl Compton, for alleged breach of promise of marriage.

The plaintiff has appeared in some well-known plays, including the "Glad Eye," "Lea Kleschna," "Mrs. Goring's Necklace" and "The Case of Rebellious Susan."

Sir E. Carson, K.C., M.P., and Mr. Hemmerde, J.C., M.P., with juniors, appeared for the plaintiff; Mr. H. E. Duke, K.C., M.P.; Mr. E. E. Smith, K.C., M.P.; and Mr. Raymond Asquith (son of the Prime Minister) represented the defendant.

Some time before the judge took his seat a number of society people, as well as ladies connected with the stage, seized upon all the available accommodation for the public.

The Defendant.
The Marquis of Northampton, a young man of dark complexion, came into court with his solicitor, Sir George Lewis, and took a seat next to him.

The Plaintiff.
Miss Moss, dressed in black, sat only a couple of yards away from the Marquis, but did not glance at him.

The judge, noticing the crowded court, twice ordered the gangway to be cleared before the case opened.

According to the pleadings, defendant denied the promise of marriage. Counsel Confer.

There was a pause during which Mr. Duke and Sir Edward Carson conferred. Sir Edward then consulted Miss Moss and her solicitor. Again the leading counsel conferred, whilst there was breathless silence in court.

Sir E. Carson's Statement.
At length Sir Edward Carson rose and said: "I am glad to tell your lordship that we shall not have to go into the details of this case. The plaintiff is Miss Moss, whose stage name is Miss Markham, and this is an action brought for breach of promise of marriage against Earl Compton, as he was at the time the engagement was made, and who is now the Marquis of Northampton. The parties met last year, and that there was a promise; I understand, is not denied. In fact, it is clear from the letters. The defendant at a subsequent stage of the proceedings, and I think at the desire of his father, broke off the engagement, but without any loss of fondness or Defendant's Declaration.

My friend, Mr. Duke, has consented and, so that there may be no misconception about the case, I will read the letter in which the engagement was broken off. It is as follows:

"My Dearest, Daisy—I am just writing you a line as I am awfully miserably. I want to assure you that I am trying to do the right thing, and though, perhaps, you will find it a difficult thing, I am going to ask you to believe that I always have, and do at the present moment love and respect you more than anyone else in this world, and that you are absolutely my ideal of perfect womanhood. But, Daisy, the ways of the world are hard, and I want you to believe that what I am now doing I am doing from a sense of duty, genuinely believing it to be the best for both of us.

"Darling, I have known it all along. I have tried to smother my reason and to stifle my thoughts for your sake. My father talked to me on Friday. He only faced me with the same thoughts that I first told you when I first loved you, and which I have ever since been trying to suppress. Daisy, you don't know how those so-called ladies will treat you. I really could not bear to see you suffer it with your sweet, sensitive nature. It would be torture to me. Oh, if I could escape from my position, Daisy, I want to beg forgiveness for the way in which I have done it. I was so distracted between my feelings for you and my convictions of what was really best, and afraid I wavered in a way that was most unkind. I must also apologize for that hurried scrawl I sent you this morning. It seems ages ago. I am quite mad.

"Daisy, I feel I have nothing left to live for. Writing that note was killing the last hopes of my heart and conquering my reason.
His 'Beautiful Dream.'
'I did it in a hurry for fear of changing my mind, and though I cannot remember what I said, I believe after sending it that I had said something in extremely bad taste and brutally cruel to you, Daisy. I did not mean it, old girl.

"Well, darling, I really have no more to say. You will always be my ideal. You will always be my beautiful dream. Darling, write me one line later or when you feel inclined, and tell me you have some respect for me left. Just tell me you don't believe all it says. God bless you, darling, and give you all the luck you will need. I cannot write you any more.

"Your broken-hearted "BIM."
$250,000 Solatium.

My lord, the action was subsequently brought, but I, myself, strongly advised this lady that, if possible, the case should not be fought out to the bitter end. I believe, my lord, that in the interests of all parties, it is the wisest course. I have talked to my learned friend who appears for the Marquis of Northampton, and he will make a statement in a moment. The Marquis has consented to make provision for this lady, who would have been entitled to the position of marchioness if she had married him. Of course she has had considerable disappointment and grief, for there has been the breaking up of her whole life. He has consented to settle upon her $250,000 and give an indemnity for all costs.

I am glad the case has been thus settled, and I hope it will lead to the happiness of my client. I desire to say nothing against the Marquis of Northampton.

Mr. Duke said his learned friend was quite right in saying that there was no question of fact as to the promise of marriage. The only question there was, what compensation his client, Lord Northampton, should make to the plaintiff in respect of the breach of promise. It was impossible to hear read the letter in which the mutual relationship was broken off without recognizing that there had been and was a very sincere attachment between these people. At the time of the relationship Lord Compton was betrothed to the Marquis of Northampton, with, as he hoped and expected, no prospect of any early succession. He felt himself bound to submit his proposed marriage to his father, the late Lord Northampton, a man as to whose character and judgment nobody who knew him had much doubt.

Defendant's Sincere Desire.
The defendant submitted the proposal to his father, and, as plaintiff knew, did all in his power to obtain his father's consent, but his father took the view which was referred to in this letter, and regarded it as an impossible matter, not for reasons which would raise any question in this case, but for reasons which would appear to many people. At any rate, he laid upon his son the most absolute prohibition, and he took from him a most solemn engagement that he would not persist in his desire to marry this lady. In these circumstances, the only question was, what compensation Lord Northampton ought to make to the plaintiff in a money sense. When it became apparent that the sum, which Mr. E. Carson mentioned, was one which his learned friend thought reasonable, Lord Northampton had no hesitation in sanctioning that provision. He (Mr. Duke) hoped that, so far as money could mitigate the disappointment of the plaintiff, it was not an ungenerous provision—but it was made upon this footing, that the defendant, Lord Northampton desired it to be understood that he had a sincere wish to marry the plaintiff, and that he wrote that letter which had been read in absolute frankness and sincerity.

In these circumstances they had entered into the arrangement which had been mentioned.
Impressive Conclusion.
Mr. Justice Bucknill, addressing counsel, remarked that, having heard Sir Edward Carson's reading of this letter, no one could have any doubt of the Marquis's warm, deep, and sincere affection for the plaintiff. In regard to the money, that was not a matter for him (his lordship) to express any opinion about, excepting that it was given in a generous spirit, with a desire that provision should be made for the plaintiff. The settlement had had his fullest approval.

The fashionable crowd then dispersed. Many persons in the court were visibly affected by the letter in which the Marquis broke off his engagement. As he left the court, Miss Moss looked up, and her eyes followed him till he disappeared through the doors.

A VACATION SUIT.
Serge, in white and blue, is the material employed in this up-to-date manner. The skirt is plain except for the slight draping, and is made of the white material. The coat is of the blue with white facings outlined by black braid.

The inset front of black and white striped material, cut on the newest lines, closes with pearl buttons thickly set. A folded girdle of black satin crosses this vest and shows for an equal space on the back of the coat.

NELSON

The British Columbia poultry show will this year be held from December 9 to 13 at Grand Forks. This will be the first occasion on which the provincial show has been held in the interior of the province and it promises to equal if not surpass in success, from the point of view of the number and class of the exhibits shown, the shows previously held at Vancouver and Victoria.

Interior poultry breeders are earnestly bent on making the show the most successful ever held in the province and a great number of special cups and prizes are being put up for competition, among which are a cup by the Trail Poultry Association, a shield by the Grand Forks Poultry Association and a shield by the West Kootenay Poultry Association, which has its headquarters at Nelson.

A meeting of the executive of the provincial poultry association will be held in Nelson shortly to arrange the final details of the prize list. Executive members will be here from Sidney, Victoria, Vancouver and Grand Forks. George Horstead, president of the West Kootenay Poultry Association, is the Nelson representative on the provincial executive. Arrangements have been completed by the provincial executive for a carload of exhibits, which will be shown at the Edmonton exhibition, which will be held from August 11 to 16. In this way it is the plan of the provincial authorities to show the best quality birds in British Columbia as well as in the prairie and eastern districts. The exhibition will include some 250 birds from all parts of British Columbia, and is expected to open the eyes of prairie fanciers.

ASHCROFT

The agricultural commission met here recently, and a great deal of business was done over in a remarkably short time. All the grievances and the difficulties which confront the farmers in this vicinity were very ably placed before the members of the commission by the most prominent representatives of the agricultural interests in the district. A. Semlin produced a great deal of light touching the fruit problem; G. N. Barclay spoke of the difficulties which beset the production of alfalfa and the raising of cattle, while W. H. Hammond spoke with much enlightenment on the potato industry. The conditions which have hitherto existed in connection with all these resources require adjusting, and the plans and ideas of the various representatives were fully and clearly laid before the commission. One wise and very true point raised by Mr. Barclay was to the effect that nothing had ever been done by the government by way of experimental farming in the district, and that conditions that obtain at Agassiz, where an experimental farm has been established, cannot possibly be made to apply here. Those who attended the meeting in an official way were: C. A. Semlin, Cache Creek; M. Macabee, Eight-mile Creek; P. Parks, Cache Creek; G. N. Barclay, Ashcroft Manor; W. Hammond, Bastique; G. A. Paul, Veebles Valley, and W. C. Adam, Ashcroft.

KASLO

The death occurred in this city on July 9 of Joseph E. Porritt, one of the most esteemed and respected residents of the community, who passed away as a result of a bad attack of pneumonia that seized him during the spring. Mr. Porritt was a son of Wm. Henry Porritt, barrister, of Bridlington, Yorkshire, England. He was born at that place on February 23, 1862. He leaves a widow, resident here, also a daughter, Agnes, and his son, Basil, residing in New Westminster. The deceased was in a lingering condition for several weeks and the end was not unexpected. He and his family have not resided in Kaslo for about six years, previously living at Sandon and New Denver. He was foreman in the Cook mill when that property was last in operation, and at one time held similar positions at Payne and the Idaho-Alamo.

Before leaving Kaslo for Frederickton, N. B., J. H. Brookes, who has held the post here of manager of the Bank of British North America for a number of years, was presented with a handsome gold-headed cane by members of the Kaslo Board of Trade. The presentation took place in the residence of Mr. John Keen, where a hurriedly rounded up delegation of members of the board found Mr. Brookes as he was making a round of good-bye calls.

STEWART

"Unless the executive committee of the Stewart Citizens' Association can devise ways and means of financing the fire department, the members will be forced to resign in a body," declares Chief H. F. Kergin. "We have had only two responses to the campaign for funds from non-resident property owners, though scores of letters were written and much time devoted to the undertaking. Mr. Alvo von Alvensleben, of Vancouver, contributed $25, H. Pigrot, of Victoria, sent $10, and T. W. Falconer sent the department his cheque for $10. These amounts enabled us to meet all the expenses for the half year ending June 30. But we have nothing to continue on, and rent, light, water and chemicals also have to be provided for if the department is to be kept in instant use. The fire chief also stated that several business men who have the largest property interests at stake are the most lukewarm in contributing to the maintenance of the department. It felt that as the organization was a purely voluntary one, the least that could be expected was to see it properly financed."

ROSSLAND

J. L. Warner, manager of the Richmond Consolidated, is one of the busiest men of Rossland. At the properties of the company there is great activity and 35 men have been employed during the construction of buildings. All concrete work is finished and the bed room under the double compressor building is under cover. The assay office, a four-roomed building, is finished. The galloways and machine shop, as are the blacksmith and machine shops. Timbering of the double compartment shaft, a distance of 55 feet from the surface, is also completed.

The 12-drill compressor has a capacity of 200 tons of rock per day, and actual mining will commence as soon as all construction work is done. The outlet at present is a mile to the C. P. R. tracks, but eventually an aerial tram will be built.

George Green is retiring from the hotel business, having sold his interest in the Allan hotel to James C. Belton, of the Clarendon. In January next, according to the new license law, there will be no more saloons in the province, and a saloon license, the owners were considering the matter of erecting a hotel on the Clarendon site, and changing the saloon license to a hotel license. Mr. Belton saw the opportunities which the Allan presented in the established hotel, however, and accepted Mr. Green's proposition to sell to him. He will continue to run the Clarendon until the license expires, but will also assume his position as a partner in the Allan on the fifteenth of this month.

CHILLIWACK

The wet weather of May and June has ensured a splendid crop of fodder, roots and grain for this year. All that is required now is good harvest weather to give to the valley one of the heaviest crops in its history. Haying is later than usual, owing to the wet weather, and clovers in consequence have gone down, and to an extent will be spoiled on the bottom land, the wetness and dampness underneath having a tendency to rot the stock. Timothy hay is stretching out fine and will be a heavy crop.

Grain crops also promise well, the growth being rank and fall grain show a heavy head. The wet crop is well started, the moist weather being favorable for a splendid catch of turnip and mangold seeds. Pasture never was better, and dairymen throughout the district are wearing broad smiles over the prospect of fat milk cheques. This is certainly a season for the dairyman and heavy shipments of milk are being made to the distributing depots of Vancouver.

The fruit crop is the only one showing light. There is a plentiful supply of small fruits, such as berries and currants, but strawberries were in many places, injured by the showers. Raspberries and blackberries are shaping well and promise a good crop. Cherries are a very fair crop, lighter than the average year, but not a scarcity. Plums and prunes will be scarce, and apples will be very light excepting in certain isolated sections. The reason given for shortage of tree fruits is the forward fruit spurs and the backward, wet spring. On the whole the crops of the valley are up to the average, and in the case of grasses and roots above it.

Where moths have got inside a piano the best means of ejecting them is to make up a mixture of turpentine, benzoline, and oil of lavender, and squirt this inside the instrument by means of a scent spray or any small sprayer. Use seven parts of benzoline to one of turpentine, and add a few drops of the lavender; one drop to each ounce will be ample.

Schlitz Brown Bottle Claims Authenticated

by Dr. Robert Wahl, President of the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology. We reprint from his letter.

"Our observations, extending over the last twenty-five years, have convinced us beyond a doubt that exposure of beer to light has a very detrimental influence on its quality generally, but especially upon the flavor of the beer.

We have tested beers repeatedly in this direction, placing the bottles into direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable, on account of the peculiar odor developed.

The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are therefore recommendable."

He quotes famous authorities to corroborate his opinion

Authorities on the subject of the detrimental influence of light on beer are:

- C. Lintner, Lehrbuch der Bierbrauerei 1875, S. 343.
- Beck, Zeitschrift für das gesamte Brauwesen, 1882, S. 370.
- V. Huth, Der Bierbrauer 1876, S. 127.
- Ney, Allg. Zeitschr. f. Bierbr. u. Malzfabr., 1878, S. 273

Light cannot harm Schlitz in Brown Bottles. It is made pure and then kept pure

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

Mrs. Thomas Joseph Preston, wife of a college professor and widow of Grover Cleveland, will begin her first year to-day. The charming woman who once presided over the White House menage was born in Buffalo, July 21, 1864, the daughter of Oscar and Emma Harmon Folsom. Her father was a lawyer and for a time was the partner of Grover Cleveland. The charming woman was educated at Wells College, Aurora, N. Y., and before she graduated in 1885 it began to be whispered about that she would soon become the bride of President Cleveland. While the latter was governor of New York, he sent many huge boxes of flowers to the lovely Wells student, and this pleasant custom continued after he had become president. These gifts occasioned a tremendous amount of college gossip, some of Miss Folsom's associates maintaining that the president's attentions were serious, while others, perhaps smitten with envy, insisted that they were simply intended as marks of respect from an old friend of Miss Folsom's father. It was not until a few days before the wedding, which took place in the White House on June 2, 1886, that any definite announcement was given to the press of the impending nuptials. The bride returned from Europe only a week before she became the "first lady of the republic." She was then only twenty-one, and her youth and beauty captured the world. Professor Preston was a student at Princeton when he first met Miss Folsom. After the death of Grover Cleveland, they met again, as the president's widow was a trustee of his alma mater, Wells College, and Professor Preston a member of the faculty of that institution. The old friendship ripened into love, and the president's widow became the professor's wife a few months ago. Although just one year short of the half-century mark, Mrs. Preston appears much younger. She is intensely proud of her children, and during the period of her widowhood spent some years in Switzerland in order to take advantage of the educational facilities of that country. Tom Mason, who has been literary editor of Life for a score of years, and who is a contributor of humorous stories to all the magazines in the English language, will celebrate his forty-seventh birthday to-day. He is a native of Essex, Conn., and was educated in New Haven. Aside from his literary work and responsibilities in putting the paper together, writes one of his editorial associates, "he is a founder and president of clubs, school boards, municipal improvement societies, a political organizer, and general disturber of the peace. Besides being a professional philosopher and an expounder of such things as Kant and Schopenhauer, he is an authority on education, dogma, hens and hygiene. As a sympathizer, he is in a class by himself. Compared with Mason the President's army, as an organization, is a happy-go-lucky, chaotic rabble." Mr. Mason was one of the organizers and first president of that famous organization known as the Dutch Treat Club. He is now Dwyer King of the club, which has also voted to give him the privilege of going out of the Life office any time he wants to without first raising his hand and asking for permission to leave the room.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

In the early days of Halifax, Nova Scotia, there came from England a merchant named Michael Franklin. He was clever and energetic, and passed through many adventures. Captured by the Indians, he turned the misfortune to account by studying their customs and ways of thinking, and, in after years, when the New Englanders were doing their utmost to force Nova Scotia to take sides against the king, and were trying to rouse the savages to revolt, Franklin did perhaps more than any other man to hold them firm to British allegiance. Unlike most of his countrymen, he had also taken pains to learn French, which gave him an advantage in dealing with the Acadians. For about ten years he was lieutenant-governor, only exercising authority, however, when there chanced to be no governor in the colony; and sometimes very incompetent and tactless people were put over his head. On this date, in the year 1768, he happened to be in authority, as is shown by accounts of grants of land made and quitrents received, which he transmitted to England; but, whether in office or not, he was always loyal to the king, and always laboring to keep the dangerous Indians in good humor.

Canada's first railway line, from St. John's to L'Annapolis, Quebec, was opened seventy-seven years ago to-day, July 21, 1836. This "crude little line," only a few miles in length, was the beginning of the vast network of steel that now covers the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and which is being increased at a rate that places Canada in the forefront in the matter of railroad construction. For fifteen years after the building of the first railway, Canada made little progress in the development of transportation facilities. In 1853, however, an act was passed authorizing municipalities to incur extra-municipal expenditures for railroad purposes, and the assistance extended to railways by the government and city corporations ushered in a period of mushroom growth. The legislature gave grants to all sorts of projects, and local bodies gave their backing to numerous short lines. The first real railroad system, the Grand Trunk, was commenced in 1853 and completed eight years later. The Great Western, the European and North American line in New Brunswick, the Buffalo and Lake Huron, the Montreal and New York, and numerous smaller roads, were built during this period. In 1857 Canada had about 2,000 miles of lines. At confederation the railroad mileage was less than 3,000. In 1900 the mileage had increased to 17,500, and it is now considerably over 25,000 miles. The financial difficulties attending the Grand Trunk caused a period of depression for a time before and after confederation. It is in 1875 a second great period of expansion commenced, culminating a decade later in the completion of the Canadian Pacific.

The turning of the first sod of the Calgary and Edmonton Railway took place twenty-three years ago to-day. The road is now a part of the Canadian Pacific system.

Semi-Centenary of Death of Chief of Fighting McCooks. To-day is sacred to the memory of the "Fighting McCooks," the heroes of the greatest "brother act" ever enacted on the grim stage of war. On the 21st of July, in 1861, in 1863 and in 1864, three of the "Fighting McCooks" gave up their lives on the altar of patriotism. Fifteen of the famous "fighting family" there were who fought under the Stars and Stripes in the war between the Northern and Southern States—fifteen, and only one a private. To-day is the semi-centenary of the death of the chief of the clan, Major Daniel McCook, who died July 21, 1863, from wounds received in a skirmish with Morgan's raiders. Two years before that, to a day, one of his eight warrior sons had died in his arms at Bull Run, died, crying with his last breath, "Father, I will never surrender." Exactly a year after the elder McCook's death, July 21, 1864, another son died from wounds received at Kenesaw Mountain. Well may the descendants of the "Fighting McCooks" celebrate the twenty-first of July as their memorial day. The fifteen "Fighting McCooks" were the descendants of George McCook, an Irish refugee, who came to America in 1790, and settled at Cannonsburg, Pa.

FIRST THINGS

The arrival of the first steamship of the Cunard line, the Britannia, was publicly celebrated in Boston seventy-three years ago to-day, July 21, 1840. The Britannia was a wooden side-wheeler, and made her maiden voyage across the Atlantic from Liverpool to Boston in fourteen days and four hours. For a time the Cunarders made Halifax and Boston their American ports, but later New York was made the principal terminus of the line. Sir Samuel Cunard, founder of the line, was a native of Halifax, N. S., and built the Britannia and three similar vessels to carry out a contract with the British government for transporting the mails between England and America. In 1852 the company began to build iron screw vessels for the wooden craft with paddle-wheels in use up to that time. The record passage of the Atlantic is now held by the Britannic's giant successor, the Cunarder Mauretania, which made the voyage from Queenstown to New York in four days, ten hours and forty-five minutes. The Mauretania and her sister ship, the Lusitania, will soon be surpassed in size and probably in speed by the Aquitania, now building, which has a length of 885 feet and 50,000 gross tonnage. The Britannia was not the first steam vessel from Europe to enter Boston harbor. The Unicorn having preceded her by about a month.

NEW ZEALAND SPOKEN

Estevan Wireless Station Establishes Communication With Coming Battle-Cruiser.

H. M. S. New Zealand, the battle-cruiser, which in visiting this port, was spoken by the Estevan wireless station this morning at 1.45. She is on her way here from Honolulu, but where her exact location is at the present time is unknown, as the operator could get no particulars from the vessel when she was spoken this morning.

The New Zealand will arrive at Victoria at 11 o'clock on Friday next, July 25. The C. P. R. steamer Princess Charlotte will be on hand to take Victorians out to the man-of-war. The Charlotte will leave the city at 9 o'clock.

While the details of the civic reception to be tendered to the officers and crew have not been finally settled, the arrangements in charge of the arrangements will be pretty well determined upon what will be done to entertain the visiting officers and crew of the big battle-cruiser.

The civic banquet plan has been dropped, as only a portion of the crew can have shore leave at one time, and the entire crew cannot be ashore together. A drive around the city and the beautiful districts outside the limits will be arranged, and there will be free access for them to all the theatres and picture shows; they will also have free transportation on the street cars.

For the officers a drive around the city and through the neighboring portions of the island has been arranged, and this will probably include a trip to Shawnigan Lake, where luncheon will be given.

NEW ZEALAND SPOKEN

Estevan Wireless Station Establishes Communication With Coming Battle-Cruiser.

H. M. S. New Zealand, the battle-cruiser, which in visiting this port, was spoken by the Estevan wireless station this morning at 1.45. She is on her way here from Honolulu, but where her exact location is at the present time is unknown, as the operator could get no particulars from the vessel when she was spoken this morning.

The New Zealand will arrive at Victoria at 11 o'clock on Friday next, July 25. The C. P. R. steamer Princess Charlotte will be on hand to take Victorians out to the man-of-war. The Charlotte will leave the city at 9 o'clock.

While the details of the civic reception to be tendered to the officers and crew have not been finally settled, the arrangements in charge of the arrangements will be pretty well determined upon what will be done to entertain the visiting officers and crew of the big battle-cruiser.

The civic banquet plan has been dropped, as only a portion of the crew can have shore leave at one time, and the entire crew cannot be ashore together. A drive around the city and the beautiful districts outside the limits will be arranged, and there will be free access for them to all the theatres and picture shows; they will also have free transportation on the street cars.

For the officers a drive around the city and through the neighboring portions of the island has been arranged, and this will probably include a trip to Shawnigan Lake, where luncheon will be given.

DEATH CLAIMS TWO OF CITY'S PIONEERS

Henry Cogan Dies at 74; George Herd Succumbs After 31 Years in Province

Victoria lost two of her pioneer citizens in the deaths yesterday of Henry Cogan, one of the few remaining members of the first legislature after Confederation, and George Herd, who was well known as the forerunner of the Esquimalt drydocks.

In the death of Henry Cogan there passes one of the few remaining members of the legislature which met in accordance with the writs returnable in December, 1871. Mr. Cogan was elected on that occasion with the late A. Roche Robertson, as member for Esquimalt district, his colleague in the representation of the riding being a former mayor of Victoria, who subsequently held important positions in later administrations. Mr. McCreight was the first premier, and among those who are living to-day who sat with Mr. Cogan in that and subsequent sessions, till the dissolution of 1875, were Hon. Robert Beaven, afterwards premier and mayor of Victoria, Hon. G. A. Semlin, another later premier, J. A. Mata, who was returned for Kootenay and subsequently elected to the House of Commons and the veteran ex-sheriff of New Westminster, W. J. Armstrong, who is the oldest resident of that city.

Mr. Cogan's death took place yesterday morning at the residence, Agnes street, Victoria West, at the age of 74 years. He was born in the county of Somerset, England and came to Canada when still a young man, through a man of a splendid constitution he was stricken about seven years ago with partial paralysis. The infirmity, however, did not quench the vigor of his mind, and his very wide circle of friends continued to find mental stimulus in his company.

After coming to Victoria, he pre-empted a property in the Sooke road, which is familiar to all Victorians as the Dewdney ranch. It afterwards passed through the hands of Mr. Douglas, a son of Sir James, and from him was acquired by Hon. Edgar Dewdney. It recently changed hands again.

After Mr. Cogan's short experience of public life, he did not take any further part in political affairs, and had lived largely in retirement till the paralytic stroke required him to take up residence in the city, where he gathered round him a very large circle of friends. He is survived by Mrs. Cogan.

George Herd Dies. George Herd, was a well known builder and contractor living at 1122 Johnson street. He had been in the province for 31 years, having come here by way of Mexico before the Canadian Pacific railway was built.

The position he took after coming to the coast was that of foreman of construction on the great Canadian transcontinental line at Yale. He was later foreman for the Imperial government and Provincial government, since then he has been building houses in the city of Victoria.

His death came at the conclusion of an illness of three weeks, due to heart trouble. He was born in the Isle of Tyree, Scotland, 67 years ago.

Mr. Herd is survived by a widow, three sons, Fred, Hope and Sinclair, all residents in this city; a brother and sister in Ontario, and a brother, John Herd in Victoria.

The funeral will be from Hanna & Thomson's undertaking parlors at 3 o'clock on Thursday. Rev. H. A. Carson will officiate.

FLEET TO ATTEND. Admiral Reynolds Assures Secretary of Reception Committee of His Intentions.

Randolph Stuart, secretary of the committee of reception to H. M. S. New Zealand, announced this morning as a result of his visit to the Army and Navy ball in honor of the secretary of the United States navy at Seattle, Friday, that he expected the whole of the American Pacific reserve fleet to attend the reception to the New Zealand on July 25. Admiral Reynolds has wired for permission and knows no reason why it should not be granted. The U. S. S. California, however, will be unable to be present as she is under other orders. Mr. Stuart brought back with him the historic silver centre piece which is to be used at the Dominion and Provincial banquets to the officers of H. M. S. New Zealand.

The men of H. M. S. Algerine have constructed two New Zealand flags to be presented to the dreadnought cruiser when she arrives.

NO SYMPATHY FOR BALKAN CUT-THROATS

A Lot of Quarrelling Bandits; Pathetic Helplessness of Concert of Europe

(Special Correspondence.)

London, July 7.—The war in the Balkans, considering the absolute lack of authentic information, is occupying to the exclusion of everything else the attention of students of foreign politics. Everybody calls it "war," although of course the combatants have carefully abstained from so designating it officially. Presumably it does not make much difference to the combatants whether they are killed in a state of war or of no war (official), and the allies certainly seem to be adepts in slitting each other's gizzards. Each side is lying with the expertness acquired from long practice, enjoyed in the campaign against Turkey, and no one knows what to believe though it is difficult to say which are the madder set of people at the sudden turn of affairs—the friends of the Balkan States in this country or their foes.

The combatants have not a friend. The Pall Mall Gazette sums up the prevalent view by styling it "a squallid war," while others are not even as complimentary, and to tell the sober truth the general opinion is that the various nations are such a lot of quarrelling bandits that if a large number do get their throats cut it does not much matter—in fact, it would be an advantage. There is one very wholesome reflection which everyone would do well to take to heart, viz., that the so-called Concert of Europe is not worth a two-penny-well, let it go at that. For years the Great Powers have been pluming themselves on their autocratic control of these smaller nations, and yet when they get an opportunity of showing what they really can do they demonstrate to everybody's satisfaction and disgust that they can do absolutely nothing. Every great Power, both individual and collectively, threatened the Balkan states with dire pains and penalties if they went to war among themselves. But it did not make the slightest difference, and it can be taken as certain that in years to come when the Concert of Europe puts forward in any attempt to decree what a small Power shall or shall not do it will be received with just about as much respect as the action showed in the Ingoldsbay Legends, when he answered never a word to indicate a doubt. But he put his thumb into his nose and spread his fingers out."

In short, the value of any Power's remonstrance or representations or advice of counsel, depends solely upon its readiness and ability to go to war, to enforce by force what it recommends by diplomacy. I heard the policy of the Great Powers described this week by one of the most brilliantly intellectual men of the House, Mr. Arthur Herbert, as a mixture of arriere-pensées and the esprit d'escalier. Some clever things are not true, but this is. The whole of the policy of the Great Powers is characterized by mental reservations and by secret intentions which prevent any of them from being really honest, while all of them have got by last ideas which they never recollect in time to be of any use. The esprit d'escalier, or rather the arriere-pensée, it is a man who always recollects on the staircase when he is going away the very clever things which he ought to have said in the drawing-room but forgot. At the present moment, as Bulgaria seems to be doing rather badly, perhaps a quiet note will be restored at an early date—I do not like to say the war will end, because of course there is no war. They do say that the most amused persons at the developments are the Turks, and I am not surprised. The Albanians on the other hand are very nervous, fearing to be swallowed up by the combatants.

ORIENTAL COURTESY.

The Chinaman is too polite to say anything that might give offence to another. Here, says the Bookseller, is said to be a Chinese editor's letter of rejection: "I have read your work and am delighted with it. Nay, I swear by the sacred ashes of my forefathers that never in my life have I read anything to exalt its merits. That is why I am afraid that His Majesty, our exalted Emperor and Sire, would become so enthused over it, should we print the work, that he might forbid us ever to have anything printed hereafter that did not approach this superb masterpiece. And since in the next one thousand years another work of equal value can hardly be expected, we herewith return your divine manuscript to you with infinite regret, and beg your forgiveness for doing so."

BELIEVE BANDIT WAS LANDED AT BIRCH BAY

Bellingham, Wash., July 21.—Canadian provincial police are investigating a report this afternoon that the alleged bandit who held possession of Shaw Island for ten days while it was surrounded by posses, had escaped to the mainland, and is now in the vicinity of Custer. The local police were informed to-day that a man resembling the fugitive was given food by a woman residing near Custer yesterday. A report from Blaine says that two men landed at Birch Bay in a launch last Saturday morning, one of whom tallied with the description of the bandit, and that shortly after the boat put one of the men off and put out again, and has not been seen since. Posses are still guarding Shaw Island, although the man has not been seen here since last Friday.

CASTLE NEXT MONTH.

On her second voyage to the North Pacific from the United Kingdom the British steamer Crown of Castle, Captain McKillop, of the Harrison Direct fleet, has cleared the Brazilian port of Santos. While at Santos the Crown of Castle loaded one of the largest shipments of coffee that has ever been dispatched from the Brazilian port. When she left the British coast the Harrison liner carried practically a full cargo of general freight, and by the time she left Santos there was not much space in her capacious holds. The Castle is making quick time and is due here next month.

PASSENGERS IN PANIC.

The steamer Tremper, loaded with panic-stricken passengers, was beached on the east side of the Hudson River at Ploughkeepsie, New York, to-day with the water pouring through a big hole in her bottom. The Tremper, bound from Newburg to Albany, ran on a reef on Esopus Island. The boat had settled very low before she reached the mainland after an exciting two-mile race. The passengers were all taken off safely.

Granby Advances

STOCK MARKET ACTS STRONG IN NEW YORK GRANBY ADVANCES FURTHER TWO POINTS

Offerings Well-Taken and War News Denotes Peace Negotiations. Action in Coronation Erratic and Increased Enquiry for B. C. Copper

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.) Victoria, July 31.—With the exception of Granby Consolidated, which advanced a further two points on firmness in Boston, the local list was quietly inclined. Support was fully apparent in Portland Canal and Glacier Gold in these two issues being of a limited order. Action in Coronation Gold was extremely erratic and appeared influenced by Saturday's quotations in Vancouver. Nevertheless, no sales were made on either exchanges and bid and offer prices are well apart, indicating a narrow market for the shares. Since the improvement of the copper metal market and outside sentiment generally, B. C. Copper has manifested increased inquiry and there is a hardening tendency in consequence.

RENEWED CONFIDENCE IN WHEAT BUYING

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.) Chicago, July 31.—The wheat market was suggestive of renewed confidence on the buying side, and although gains were not important there was good sound strength witnessed during the session. Crop reports denoted no serious damage done but the trade is easily in the position to respond to adverse news. The export situation is healthy, foreign markets strong and the country less willing to sell wheat except on the sharp rallies.

WHAT BULGARIA AND SERVIA AGREED ON

Paris Paper Publishes Agreement that Balkan Opponents Had Prepared for Czar

Paris, July 31.—The agreement under which Russia was to arbitrate between Serbia and Bulgaria is published as follows in The Temps: In the first agreement a treaty of friendship is entered into between the two countries guaranteeing their independence and integrity. It provides for common defensive action in the event of any portion of Balkan territory under Turkish rule being in any way attacked. All territorial acquisition gained by the common action of the contracting parties is, according to the agreement, to fall beneath the dominion of the allies and the situation would be liquidated within three months after the conclusion of peace on the following principles: Serbia recognizes the rights of Bulgaria over all territory situated to the east of the Rhodope mountains and the River Struma, and Bulgaria recognizes the rights of Serbia over the territory situated to the north and west of the Char mountains. As for the territory between the Char and Rhodope mountains and the lake of Ochrida, if the two contracting parties arrive at the conclusion that it is impossible to organize this region as an autonomous province the following procedure will be followed for its partition: On a map appended to the document in question a line is drawn from a point to the north of Egri Palanka, passing through the middle of Utchepole, crossing the Vardar a few miles north of Veles and descending to the lake of Ochrida in the neighborhood of and to the north of the town of that name. Bulgaria undertakes to accept this line as the frontier in case the Emperor of Russia, who will be asked to act as supreme arbitrator, decides in favor of this line. It is agreed that both parties will accept as the frontier the line which the Emperor of Russia shall consider to be most in accordance with the rights and interests of the two parties within the above-mentioned limits. Any difference of opinion that may arise which cannot be settled by negotiation will be submitted to the arbitration of Russia.

The third agreement consists of a military convention. Bulgaria and Serbia undertake in the event of war to invade Turkey with 200,000 men and 150,000 men respectively. If Serbia and Bulgaria declare war on Turkey they will both send an army of at least 100,000 men to the Vardar district. If Austria attacks Serbia Bulgaria agrees to immediately declare war on Austria and send an army of 200,000 men into Serbia. Bulgaria will take similar action in case Austria, under any pretext whatsoever, with or without the consent of Turkey, should send her troops into the Sanjak of Novi-Bazar.

In the event of this action on the part of Austria leading Serbia to declare war, or if Serbia in order to protect her interests, were to send troops

AMMUNITION SERVED WAS UNSATISFACTORY

Competitors Returning From Rifle Range Declare Dominion Arsenal Supply is Poor

Grave complaint of the ammunition served during the recent meeting of the British Columbia Rifle Association at the Richmond range, was made by officers and competitors on their return yesterday from the range. So bad was the supply from the Dominion arsenal at Quebec on the first day, they declared, that a previous issue served out some time ago to the Duke of Connaught's Own, Vancouver, was brought into service, several of the subsequent competitions being fired with that ammunition.
The unusual results, by which some of the best shots were low in their averages, is attributed to this cause, and so generally was this difficulty experienced during the meeting that a resolution to the department of militia was adopted at the annual meeting on Saturday, protesting against the ammunition served out. In the opinion of officers the quality has deteriorated during the last few years, but this year the supply was worse than ever, and brought matters to a head.
Lieut.-Colonel Currie, and another gentleman were appointed to confer at Seattle with the officers of the state militia with regard to the joint meeting of the best rifle shots of British Columbia, Oregon and Washington at the Richmond range in September or October. In consequence immediately after the meeting concluded they left for the Sound to discuss the arrangements. It is, however, certain that Idaho, which was to have been one of the competing states, has declined the invitation from various reasons.
If the new 24 target range which is to be constructed at Hazel is ready for July next, the meeting will come here in 1914, as the 16 target range has been found to be entirely inadequate for the needs of the numerous competitors which number about 170. When Colonel Hughes, minister of militia, was on the coast recently, he gave orders that the construction of the new range for Victoria be accelerated by the permanent staff. If this range is ready by then at least 300 riflemen will attend the next meeting.

ROBBED OF EARNINGS.

Workman Relieved of His Savings While He is Under the Influence.
With the increase in the number of unemployed men over the normal, which has always hitherto been a very small figure in Victoria, the lower end of Johnson street and all that district is giving the police and detective departments a larger amount of work than has usually called for attention there.
There have been of late complaints of petty pilfering among the working men who congregate thereabouts, but this morning a more serious complaint was laid by a man who came in from one of the near-by contractors' camps on Saturday with between fifty and sixty dollars in his possession. On the way he bought a bottle of whiskey, and this was his undoing so far as his ability to safeguard his money was concerned.
Sometime between his arrival here and this morning he was robbed of his earnings, presumably by some of the

TIBETAN ENVOY WAS CUTTING A BIG DASH

In London When the India Office Laid a Heavy Hand Upon Him

(Special Correspondence.)
London, July 7.—From time to time one sees the doings of the young Tibetans who are over in England seeing the country, and sometimes when the papers want a spare job to fill up the composition's time they print their names. Accordingly, such an opportunity presented itself in the Court Circular of June 28, where the following appeared:
"Their Majesties afterwards received a Tibetan deputation to deliver presents and letters from the illustrious Dalai Lama. The deputation consisted of the following: Kusho Lungshar, Kusho Moudo, Kusho Kyipup, Kusho Gongkar, Kusho Ringang and Sonam Topge Laden La. The deputation was accompanied by Mr. J. J. Gould, I.C.S., political officer (in charge), and Mr. S. W. Laden La, assistant political officer. Lieut.-Col. Sir J. R. Dunlop-Smith (political aide-de-camp to the Secretary for India) was present."
Behind the idyllic publicity of this little band of undistinguished visitors there exists quite a little diplomatic contre-temps. The chief member of the band is Kusho Lungshar, who was sent by the Tibetan government to bring presents to the King as a sign, it would seem, of goodwill. He was accompanied by the rest of the party, who were mostly boys, and who according to present intentions will stay in this country from two to three years to be educated. At present they are learning the language, of which they know nothing whatever when they arrived, and they will shortly be sent to school, when one can be found, as the choice is anything but the easy job it may seem. These boys, however, do not figure in the diplomatic story. The only man of the party under the limelight is Lungshar. He is accompanied by his wife, and on this point it would seem there are other countries besides our own where women run the men.
Lungshar came over on a specific visit, and, having finished it, he had nothing to do but to return home, bearing with him the offerings of King George to the Dalai Lama. But was he to do so? He was not. He liked the country, in fact he preferred it to Tibet, and he also had quite other views of his own as to why he was here at all. He thought he would make a call on the Chinese minister, while he also planned a little journey down to Chesham place, where the Russian ambassador resides. These and other little excursions were gradually beginning to take shape at the end of which it would have been possible for him to say, "Lo, here am I the great Tibetan envoy, fixing up matters regarding the future of Tibet in this centre of the world's diplomacy. When I have done all these things, and a few more, I will go home, and the hands will meet me and I shall probably be as big as the Dalai Lama himself. Put I am not going before."
Unfortunately the India Office got to know all at this, and they came down with a heavy hand. In fact, it is rather fancied they would have liked to come down with a big boot, only he was a diplomatic envoy. All they could do was to persuade him that in June there is nothing like the British country, and that Farnham is a most agreeable town to live at. They did not also tell him that the train service is not of the best, and that the British members of his entourage had instructions to turn his longing glances away from the metropolis. In the meantime, they wired to India asking the government to communicate by telegraph with the Dalai Lama telling him to take his envoy home, and the sooner the better, or he would go and stir up all sorts of diplomatic muddling. They did not put it in quite this crude way, for they intended to tell the Dalai Lama that it was essential in diplomatic usage that an envoy of the same rank should be commissioned to take home the presents which King George was sending to him, and that if any commoner man draws from the herd of humbler people vent home with these peace offerings, the great head of the British nation would, figuratively speaking, be sitting plunged in sepulchral gloom, inspired by such a deadly insult, within the precincts of Buckingham Palace.
They are now waiting for the answer, and it is just possible the Dalai Lama may not acquiesce in the official suggestion, but in any case the odds are a hundred to one that Lungshar's visit is going to be abbreviated, and that he will never be able to see the pleasant haunts of the two diplomatic gentlemen about whose health he was obviously feeling so much solicitude.
