BELIEVE MURDER MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Vancouver Police Opinion About Killing of J. C. Jones

Chong Sam Bow Appears in Police Court

Vancouver, July 19.—Chong Sam Bow shot John C. Jones in Pender Street Wednesday believing him to be someone else. It was a case of mistaken identity and the Chinese has concocted the story about Jones having beaten him some days ago, and slapped him prior to the shooting, in extenuation of his fatal error.

This is the opinion held in city police circles following close examination of all the circumstances of the tragedy, which occurred at Pender and Main Streets at 12.40 Wednesday.

A Denial.

Thomas McEwan, a fellow employee of Jones, and his companion at the time of the tragedy, denies emphatically that Jones assaulted the Oriental.

"I was close beside Jones at the time," he said. "Jones neither stepped him nor did he say anything which the Chinese could have construed other than as a casual inquiry."

In Police Court.

An inquest has been set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

This morning Chong Sam Bow appeared in the police court. The preliminary hearing will not be proceeded with, however, until after the inquest, following which the Chinese will be formally charged with murder.

Jones was a lineman employed by the B. C. Electric Railway Company.

BOY IN JAIL AS RESULT OF SHOOTING

Eric Stanley, Held in Vernon, Says He Accidentally Shot Woman

Vernon, B. C., July 19.—Eric Stanley, seventeen, who confessed, according to the police, that he accidentally shot Mrs. Hall, who may die as a result, was lodged in the Vernon jail to-day. Physicians to-day said Mrs. Hall was not expected to recover.

Stanley's confession, police say, states he was sitting at a rabbit and struck Mrs. Hall, who was working in a field on her farm near Salmon Arm. She managed to crawl into the house.

According to the confession, Stanley tried to shoot her, became frightened when he failed, fired the house and fled. Mrs. Hall escaped through a window of a party of boys brought over from the Old Country by the Salvation Army three weeks ago.

In the cell the boy shows no concern. He has not inquired as to the condition of Mrs. Hall, and spends his time reading magazines.

OPPOSE GIVING OF BINDING PROMISES

British Agriculturists Pass Resolution Dealing With Empire Conference

London, July 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The quarterly meeting of the Council of the Central Land Owners' Association, presided over by the Earl of Northbrook, yesterday adopted a resolution protesting against any renewal of the practice of giving pledges at the Imperial Conference to the detriment of British agriculture without either the knowledge or consent of Parliament or the British agriculturists and placing on record that they can give no consent in any arrangement so reached.

The resolution is taken to refer indirectly to the undertaking given at the conference in 1917 that the embargo against Canadian store cattle would be removed.

"MAN WITH ROSE" HAS DISAPPEARED

Sold Over $100,000 in Steamship Tickets in New York

New York, July 19.—Arthur Brooks, a ticket agent known as "The Man With the Rose," has disappeared with more than $100,000 belonging to steamship companies. He had offices in two hotels, advertised widely abroad, and advised his customers when they arrived in New York to look for two things, "the Statue of Liberty and the man with the rose on his pin."

He was formerly a doorman at the British Embassy in Washington, and regarded this service as sufficient to entitle him to have his cards engraved. "Mr. Arthur Brooks, formerly with the British Mission to the United States."

Officials of steamship companies said to-day he had sold thousands of dollars' worth of accommodations on the best ships and his last set of figures in payment had come back to him worthless.

CANADA'S TRADE FIGURES REFLECT IMPROVEMENT

Ottawa, July 19.—(Canadian Press)—Canada's trade is climbing ahead. The total trade in the three months ending June 30 was $462,544,420, an increase of $10,841,965 over the corresponding three months of last year. For June alone the total trade was $178,724,000, an increase of $2,944,732 over last year. Domestic exports in the three-month period increased approximately $50,000,000 and imports approximately $61,000,000.

SUN APPROVES NEW CONFERENCE PLAN IN CHINA

Hongkong, July 19.—Sun Yat Sen, political leader of Canton, has telegraphed his approval of a plan launched here for a round table conference of the principal leaders of China to bring about peace in the war-torn republic.

The plan was formulated by Sir Robert Hoh Tung, prominent and wealthy Chinese resident of Hongkong, who was knighted by the British King for his services in cementing British and Chinese relations.

HAUGHTY SENATE MUST GO, SAYS HON. A. M. MANSON IN INDICTMENT OF RED CHAMBER

Mr. Bowser, Provincial Conservative Leader, Called in by Attorney-General to Support Provincial Government Against Conservative Dominion Senators

Attorney-General Manson to-day charges that Senators, in their security, able to ignore the votes of the people, have brought about a situation where it seems "we must fight over again the battle for responsible government."

At the same time he made a complete analysis of the whole move for the outlawing of the importation of private stocks in this Province.

He pointed out how Conservatives in the House of Commons, responsible to the electorate for their actions, did not dare obstruct the bill to give the Province complete control of liquor imports.

"I do not wonder that Tory Senators from this Province are busy complaining," Mr. Manson went on. "They have much to answer for. Conduct such as theirs is what brings the Senate into disrepute. They represent the most undesirable form of autocracy."

The Attorney-General also dealt the Conservative Senators an embarrassing blow by calling Mr. Bowser, Provincial Conservative leader, to his support in strong advocacy of the Government's effort to get Dominion legislation to stop private importation.

"Mr. Bowser Supports 'A. G.'"

"Some Senators have endeavored to contend that since there was no statement on the part of the Government as to the people interested in these bills," (Continued on page 2.)

G. T. P. STATEMENT CAUSES COMMENTS

London Financial Writers Dissatisfied With Canadian Government's Attitude

London, July 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Grand Trunk Pacific four per cent debentures fell to thirty here following the publication of the statement of the Canadian Government on the G. T. P. bondholders' claims.

The financial writers of the London newspapers comment on the reply from the Government at Ottawa to the representations made to the Government by the bondholders' committee on the visit of the Canadian Government is prepared to hand the road back again.

The Financial News asks, if the Grand Trunk property is such a white elephant as the Government's reply makes out, whether the Canadian Government is prepared to hand the road back again.

MONUMENT IN CALCUTTA ATTACKED

Repeated Attempts Made; Three Nationalists Jailed

Calcutta, July 19.—Repeated attempts to mutilate and destroy the "Black Hole" monument here have resulted in numerous conflicts between the police and Nationalist volunteers.

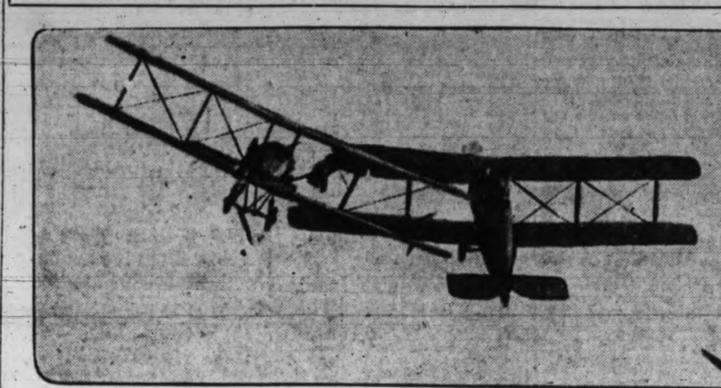

The monument was erected in memory of 117 employees of the British East India Company, who lost their lives in 1757, smothered to death in the famous "Black Hole."

Three of those who tried to damage the monument were sent to jail for one year after they had admitted in court they were determined to demolish the pillar.

NEW SOVIET RULES FOR INDUSTRIES

Moscow, July 19.—A Government order establishes the legal position of big industries in the Far East. It rules that all big private concerns where the management has already been organized according to the decree for the nationalization of industries shall under no circumstances be returned to the owners, while all other private concerns, even though they might have come under the scope of the nationalization decree, are to remain the property of the owners.

AEROPLANE CRASH WAS PHOTOGRAPHED

Said to be the first time since man conquered the air, a photographer recently caught two planes in collision in the air. It happened at Hendon, England. The picture, reproduced above, shows the two planes starting to fall after the impact. The photograph was taken from another aeroplane.

DOLLAR DAY IS SET FOR SATURDAY

Special Bargains Will Be Offered in Victoria Stores

Readers of The Times to-morrow will have an opportunity to plan for some attractive bargains to be acquired in the local stores on Saturday, when Dollar Day comes round again.

The department stores will carry attractive lines, which will be advertised in Friday's issue, and from them may be secured everything which the housewife and the various members of the family desire. Almost all stores will join in the special "bargaining" which will again show what can be purchased at the lowest figures, as reductions will rule in all lines of activity.

It is just nine years ago this month since the Dollar Day principle was inaugurated here. Twice a year since 1914 the bargain days have been held with great benefit both to the retail trade and to the general body of customers.

New York, July 19.—Rear-Admiral Charles Sigbee, of the United States navy, retired, captain of the ill-fated battleship Maine, died suddenly to-day. He was fifty-two years of age at the time of the "blowing up" of the Maine, a captain, veteran of the Civil War and an inventor of deep-sea exploring and sounding apparatus.

ADMIRAL SIGBEE, OF WARSHIP MAINE FAME, DIED TO-DAY

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 19.—Chester Park, Cincinnati's largest Summer amusement resort, was partly destroyed by fire which early to-day swept the northeast side of the park and attacked the rear end of the shops of the Cincinnati Car Company, adjoining the park. The total damage was estimated at $275,000.

CINCINNATI SCENE OF FIRE; LOSS $275,000

Portland, Ore., July 19.—(Special)—Victoria will attract more than 400 photographers and photographic specialty men from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana during the annual convention of the Photography Association of the Pacific Northwest, which will be held there August 28 to 31.

This was indicated this week when pledges were made for the beautiful British Columbia city, designed by more than 60 photographers from Oregon. The studio operators were convinced that the trip would be of great benefit to them following a get-together meeting in the Sovereign Hotel here.

All of the charms of Vancouver Island were presented to the Oregon artists by Wilfred Gibson, of Victoria, president of the Association. Mr. Gibson came to Portland armed with some of the attractive folders and descriptive matter of Victoria and Vancouver Island and completed his argument with an address before the get-together meeting.

The meeting was called to arouse interest in the northern convention and the largest number of photographers ever gathered together in Portland were in attendance.

Ora L. Markham, of Portland, vice-president of the Northwest Association presided at the meeting. Following the address by Mr. Gibson, J. A. Zimm, of Seattle, secretary-treasurer of the association spoke of the variety of "manufacturers' displays" that will be set up in connection with the convention.

Another interesting talk on the convention of the association and the convention was given by N. G. Pike, a prominent Portland photographic supply man. Professional entertainers were present to keep the crowd delighted between speeches.

The indications are that the photographic display in connection with the convention this year will be the most brilliant presented in years, and it is expected that in addition to the photographers themselves many people will be attracted to see the exhibits.

PREMIER OLIVER CUTS CABINET TRAVELING COSTS TO THREE-FIFTHS

Premier Oliver to-day checked up critics who have been indulging in loose talk about cabinet ministers spending too much money in traveling expenses on Government business.

He issued a statement showing that the average per minister, per year, of his ministers, is only three-fifths of what ministers of the former Conservative Government spent, despite the fact that transportation fares have soared enormously since the early days of the war.

In connection with his statement, the Premier issued this table: Traveling Expenses of Ministers

Conservative Government.		Liberal Government.
1910-11	$10,196	1917-18	$ 5,162
1911-12	24,454	1918-19	8,955
1912-13	16,732	1919-20	11,474
1913-14	19,323	1920-21	12,789
1914-15	32,159
1915-16	5,178
Total six years	$82,652	Total four years	$38,380
Average per year	$13,775	Average per year	$ 9,595
Average per Minister per Year	$ 1,985	Average per Minister per Year	$ 1,199

Hon. W. F. Bowser, as leader of the Opposition, is voted by the Legislature an annual grant of $2,000, in addition to his indemnity as member, to cover traveling expenses. In order to enable him to become acquainted with the Province and its requirements," the Premier said.

The Premier also made it clear that some persons who spread incorrect reports apparently did not even read the newspapers, as Ministers like Hon. E. D. Barrow going on a pure holiday trip to England, pay all their own expenses.

At the same time the Premier sent a message to J. Thornley, of Saan-

318,000 GERMAN MARKS TO-DAY FOR ONE DOLLAR

New York, July 19.—German marks dropped to .0003 1-8 cent, a new low record for all time in the New York foreign exchange market to-day. This is at the rate of nearly 318,000 marks to the dollar.

HON. J. D. MACLEAN LAYS CORNER STONE OF MENTAL BLOCK

Minister Receives Trowel in Commemoration of Event Will Be Valuable Addition at Essondale

Vancouver, July 19.—With silver trowel engraved to commemorate the occasion, and which was presented to him afterward, Hon. J. D. MacLean, M. D., Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, Wednesday afternoon laid the cornerstone of the new acute mental hospital at Essondale, before a large crowd of officials, public men and women interested in the humanitarian work of aiding the afflicted.

It was pointed out by Dr. MacLean that the building has been greatly needed for a long time and as a matter of fact it will be filled immediately. It is ready on account of the capacity of the other hospitals being already exceeded.

"Erection of a building is at all times important, but it is especially so when it is to be a hospital and particularly important when it is a place for the care of the mentally afflicted," said Dr. MacLean. He went on to differentiate between the old idea and the new with regard to mental cases. It used to be the desire to take them into custody for the protection of other persons. But to-day the desire is to restore them in so far as possible to a sane state of mind. It was for this purpose, he said, that the present building is to be used.

It is expected the majority of the miners on the mainland will side with John L. Lewis, president of the international union of mine workers, against the MacLachlan-Livingstone faction.

John Foster, an international organizer from Indianapolis, and a brother of Kent Foster, the well known Spring Hill miner, has gone to Cape Breton, where he will aid Sibby Barrett, provisional president of District 28 of the U.M.W.A., in the effort to settle the existing trouble. MacLachlan, it is expected, will conduct a fight against the Lewis edict.

About 4,000 miners, at a mass meeting at Glace Bay last night, voted to continue the strike in sympathy with steel workers of the British Empire Steel Corporation and against the presence of troops in Cape Breton. The vote was taken on a resolution which reads as follows:

"Resolved that we condemn the action of President Lewis, and declare our sympathy with the steel workers."

Some interesting statistical information was given in the course of the Minister's remarks. One of his statements was that three persons for every one thousand of British Columbia's population was an inmate of the hospitals for the mentally afflicted. This was not more than the average.

BIG OKANAGAN CROPS REPORTED

Grain Cutting Is General Throughout Northern Part of District

Vernon, July 19.—Grain cutting is general throughout Northern Okanagan, and farmers are reaping the biggest crops the land has produced for years. Hay is a particularly good crop, but much difficulty has been experienced in getting it cured owing to showery weather.

In some sections where a short second crop of alfalfa has been cut in other years, farmers will gather a bumper harvest.

DOCK MEN AT LIVERPOOL HAVE RESUMED WORK

Liverpool, July 19.—The striking dock workers here returned to work this afternoon. The men at Birkenhead are still out, but are expected to return to-morrow. No delay is considered likely in the sailing of the island mailer hotel reservations in advance, and thus save trouble both for themselves and the hotel authorities. This report was confirmed by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, which has letters from several hotels stating that they are filled to capacity, and wish arrangements for rooms to be made in advance by those coming north.

ISLAND HOTELS FULL

Reports have reached Victoria from points up the Island to the effect that many of the hotels are full to capacity. It is urged by hotel authorities that tourists intending to make the tour of the Island make hotel reservations in advance, and thus save trouble both for themselves and the hotel authorities. This report was confirmed by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, which has letters from several hotels stating that they are filled to capacity, and wish arrangements for rooms to be made in advance by those coming north.

The Premier explained that the B. C. Government is not paying Mr. Smith at all, and that under those conditions all Mr. Thornley's criticism was wasted.

BRITISH REPARATIONS NOTE WILL BE READY BEFORE END OF WEEK

For More Than Two Hours To-day Cabinet Considered It and Accompanying Statements, Making Number of Changes in Drafts Submitted by Lord Curzon

London, July 19.—More than two hours' consideration was given by the British Cabinet to-day to its reply to the German reparations memorandum as drawn up by Lord Curzon, the Secretary for Foreign Affairs. A number of modifications were made in the reply and the supplemental documents.

The revised drafts will be given further consideration privately by Lord Curzon and other members of the Cabinet this afternoon, and it is hoped to place the completed text in the hands of the Allied Governments and the Washington Government before the week-end.

It is recognized that these state papers may mark a turning point in Great Britain's relations with her neighbors. Therefore infinite care is being bestowed on their preparation by Lord Curzon and his associates.

Adequate Basis. Despite the extreme tactfulness of the Ministers, it has been learned from other reliable sources that the draft reply will furnish what Great Britain believes to be an adequate basis for fruitful discussion among the Allies and an ultimate accord on the fundamental points of difference with France. In the British view, the propositions advanced will be of such a liberal character that France can not afford to refuse them without risking the disapproval of the world.

German Resistance. As already indicated, the vexed question of Germany's passive resistance and the assessment of Germany's ability to discharge her indemnity obligation will be treated. It is said stress will be laid upon the accurate interpretation of the Treaty of Versailles, and the necessity of united and progressive action upon the basis of that treaty.

Lord Curzon, the Earl of Derby, Secretary for War, and the Marquis of Salisbury, Lord President of the Council, as well as Premier Baldwin himself, are especially anxious that nothing shall be said to hurt the susceptibilities of France on any point, while members of the Cabinet appear to favor a firmer, more independent attitude.

A Third Statement. It is thought possible that the documents when completed may embrace a third one in the nature of an explanatory memorandum setting forth points not contained in the draft reply and the covering letter.

It has been agreed among the British, French and Belgian Foreign Offices that nothing shall be made public regarding the progress of the negotiations. It also seems certain that most of the documents will not be submitted to public scrutiny until the comments from all of the interested Governments have been returned and the final text is in the hands of Germany. It is conceivable, however, that if the present efforts fail all the documents will be handed to the newspapers in order to justify the Government's policy.

His First Visit. For twenty-five years Mr. Wright has been a passenger agent. "The visit has been a revelation," he said, "and there are many outstanding features that I could hardly credit. I have spent hours at railway stations and places where people mix, getting in touch with them. There is a little grumbling, but generally prosperity seems to abound. Hard work seems to be stamped on the brow of the agriculturists, but they seem to be people who realize there is a time for work and a time for play. Canada will give us opportunities for both. The people of Canada, I must admit, seem to be more alert to possibilities than the people of the Old Land."

Mr. Wright is making a tour of Canada covering nine weeks from the time he left Liverpool until he lands back in England August 3. In his trip from east to west he has visited Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, several points in Ontario, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Jasper, Vancouver and Victoria, and from Victoria will go to Calgary and pay another visit to Ottawa. He has visited the immigration authorities at each point. Every possible information regarding British Columbia was given to Mr. Wright at the offices of the Publicity Bureau in Victoria.

Some Opinions On Immigration Issue. "We tell people in the Old Country that Canada needs men who will take their coats off and work, exercise patience and perseverance, and by these means they will attain prosperity. My tour of Canada has strengthened that view," stated Charles Wright, honorary secretary and treasurer of the British Passenger Agents' Association to The Times this afternoon.

GERMAN PLAN NOT ACCEPTABLE TO FRENCH LEADERS

Paris, July 19.—The German Government, through its Embassy in London, is trying to have the forthcoming British note on reparations convey to the French Government Germany's willingness to cease passive resistance in the Ruhr, subject to certain concessions on the part of France.

This information has reached the French Government, on what is regarded as an unquestionable but unofficial authority.

The desired concessions appear to include: First—Withdrawal of the Franco-Belgian troops of occupation, with the exception of a mere skeleton military force, which would be the diplomatic sense of "invisible."

Second—Permission for German officials and functionaries expelled from the Ruhr to return to their posts, restoring the local administration of all civil services as it existed before January 11, when the occupation took place.

Third—That the French Government agree to restore the currency. It has concatenated these conditions.

No Guarantees. These conditions, it is declared here, would be unacceptable to France because they are uncompensated by any definite assurance or guarantee that reparations payments would be forthcoming.

Likewise, it is explained, the French Government feels that Belgium, which has completed the peace treaty, and Germany, which is refusing to execute it, it would not be equitable that Germany should be permitted to have the benefit of the peace treaty.

Allyen Taschereau, K. C., of counsel for the defence, obtained permission to introduce the evidence of two witnesses who declared they had seen Raoul in a dance hall in the outskirts of the city on the supposed night of the murder and that shortly after he left the place a revolver shot was heard.

INSULIN SUPPLIES ARE AVAILABLE

Report in Britain Denied; Five British Firms Manufacturing It

London, July 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Replying to the charge of a newspaper correspondent, an official of the Medical Research Council, when interviewed yesterday, stated the Council was in a position to disprove entirely the charge that insulin, for the treatment of diabetes, was being sold at exorbitant prices in England, and was not generally procurable. When insulin, which was discovered by Dr. F. G. Banting of Toronto, was first put on the market in April last, said the official, there was only a limited supply, and it was necessary to place restrictions on its use. The shortage, however, was pronounced for only a short time. There were now five firms in Great Britain manufacturing insulin according to the Toronto formula, and it was procurable on short notice at any druggist's shop, he said, and most of the London hospitals had supplies for people unable to pay for it.

DISCUSS BRITISH FOOD SUPPLY

Members of House of Lords Consider Bearing On National Defence

London, July 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The question of the bearing of home food production on national defence will come before the Imperial Conference in October, Lord Selburn, speaking for the Government, stated in the House of Lords yesterday. A member had suggested offering the question to the Committee on Imperial Defence. Lord Long referred to the large purchase of wheat which Great Britain had made in Canada in recent years, and suggested that a definite arrangement, somewhat on these lines, would contribute largely to a solution. "It might be said," added Lord Long, "if we entered into any arrangement with Canada to secure a large part of her crop, that we would give offence to the other Dominions, but I have never found among the representatives of the Dominions the slightest evidence of any feeling either of dissatisfaction or of protest. Assuming it would be easier to get a large quantity of our wheat in Canada, I am quite convinced that no other Dominion would enter any protest. The question is whether we can arrive at an arrangement which will give us a supply to prevent any possibility of starvation." Lord Long emphasized that the Dominions were more than ready to meet Great Britain half-way. Was it not extraordinary, he asked, that even as the House was debating this question, Canada was asking herself how on earth she was to dispose of the bumper crop of wheat she was going to reap this year?

$1,000,000 LOSS CAUSED BY STORM

Wind, Rain and Hail Did Damage in Saskatchewan

Regina, July 19.—A survey of the property and crop damage in the Lumsden and Tuxford districts, hit by a cyclone Tuesday evening, indicates the loss will exceed $1,000,000. Eight persons were injured, one seriously, in the tornado, which cut a narrow and erratic path from east to west, starting at Dodland and moving through the Marquis and Tuxford districts into the valley west of Lumsden, out of the valley south of Lumsden on the Pliapot Reserve, and going as far east as Wapella. In the valley the wind tore buildings from their foundations and huge trees and telephone poles were snapped like matches. At Tuxford the wind was confused and terrific rainstorm. Crop damage was very heavy. Rain on the heavy wind drove crops to the ground at Lumsden. Hail did similar damage at Tuxford, and in a lesser degree at Marquis. Beautiful groves of trees for which the Qu'Appelle Valley is famous, were riddled and torn by the storm near Lumsden as if caught under concentrated power.

Not Flint-like "Carbon"

which you must chisel out of motors

ALL motor oils deposit some carbonaceous residue, known as "carbon." No oil does otherwise.

But there are two kinds of "carbon." That from some oils attaches to piston heads, spark plugs, and valves. It becomes hard and flint-like. And it stays.

Chisels are required to remove it or acetylene torches to burn it off. It is hard enough to score cylinder walls.

Causes Four Motor Troubles

This hard "carbon" acts as an abrasive, wearing cylinder walls, piston rings, bearings, etc.

Parts of it often become incandescent, causing "knocking" due to pre-ignition.

Other particles become attached to the spark plugs, short-circuiting the spark, so your motor misses.

Still others work up under valves, causing bad seating and loss of compression, which means loss of power.

And this hard "carbon" forms more quickly than another kind about which you should know.

The Other is Soft and Fluffy

The residue that Aristo Motor Oil deposits is of another kind. It is soft and fluffy so that most of it blows out with the exhaust. It is softer than your cylinders, pistons and bearings, so cannot scratch or wear them.

Cars run thousands of miles farther without having valves ground or cylinders, pistons and spark plugs cleaned. Your motor retains full compression. It doesn't "knock."

With Aristo Oil motors get efficient lubrication without developing these troubles. They last longer, run more smoothly and give more power.

Aristo is made by lubrication specialists equipped with every known facility for the production of a perfect motor oil. Used by famous drivers in the most grueling tests.

Try Aristo Oil for three months. Test it under all conditions. Note the improvement in the operation of your motor.

Avoid Motor Oils containing paraffin, asphalt or any other non-lubricating substance. Aristo Oil refined by the most advanced processes, designed to remove everything in the crude which has no lubricating value.

521 BRITISHERS ENTER THE U. S.

Those Who Arrived at New York On S.S. Baltic Admitted

New York, July 19.—Immigration Commissioner Curran, instructed from Washington yesterday, admitted 521 British subjects who arrived on the steamship Baltic to the United States under a special "quota."

The immigrants were detained after the British quota for the month of July was believed exhausted.

Mr. Curran said Commissioner-General Huston had made a close check of all ports on the Atlantic seaboard and the Gulf of Mexico and had discovered that the 521 men, women and children could enter this country.

I. W. W.'S MARCH TO TEXAS FOLLOWING ALLEGED KIDNAPPING

New York, July 19.—Every foot of I. W. W. in New York City will start as soon as possible toward Fort Arthur, Texas, under orders "to protect the I. W. W. constitution," and the rights of three members who are reported to have been kidnapped there recently and so severely beaten that they are now in a hospital, officials of the I. W. W. said yesterday.

GERMANS OBJECT TO SUGAR DEMAND OF THE FRENCH

Paris, July 19.—Sugar is not building material, declared Fischer, German delegate to the Reparations Commission yesterday, when the French demanded sugar from Germany under the Versailles Treaty. The article calls upon Germany to provide such material and labor as any of the Allied Powers may require, subject to prior approval by the commission. The commission, toward the restoration of the devastated areas of that power.

REALTORS MEET IN PORTLAND

Portland, July 19.—How to elevate the realtor in the estimation of the public is an outstanding topic for discussion at to-day's session of the convention here of the Northwest Real Estate Association. Alfred Carmichael, of Victoria, B. C., is chairman of the meeting devoted to this subject, and Will Moore, Real Estate Commissioner of Oregon, is one of the speakers.

LONGER FRENCH ARMY SERVICE FOR RUHR OCCUPATION

Brussels, July 19.—The Chamber of Deputies, on a preliminary vote yesterday, adopted, after a long and pending military bill extending military service two months while the occupation of the Ruhr continues.

TO FOSTER MOTHER.

Los Angeles, July 19.—Superior Judge Leslie Hewitt last night awarded the custody of five-year-old June Shosted to her aunt and foster mother, Mrs. Elsie Shosted, denying the habeas corpus petition of the child's mother, Mrs. Lois Pollan, by which the latter sought to recover the baby she "loaned" to her sister in Kansas five years ago.

WOMAN WAS KILLED.

Folborne, Ont., July 19.—Mrs. F. Weeks, of New Toronto, was instantly killed and her fourteen-year-old daughter had both legs broken when a motor car in which they were riding collided with a telegraph pole. The driver escaped serious injury.

WHEAT MARKETING.

Calgary, July 19.—Premier Herbert Greenfield's statement yesterday that the Government was following a conference with his fellow Ministers, Aaron Sapro, co-operative marketing expert, would be invited to come to Alberta to discuss wheat marketing with the Government.

HAUGHTY SENATE MUST GO, SAYS MANSON IN STINGING INDICTMENT OF RED CHAMBER

It should be a continuance of private importation under the Government control system," Mr. Manson went on.

"They forget that the Provincial Government could not stop private importation. I prefer to give the people credit for intelligence and to believe that the people intended that the Government of the day should implement their verdict as fully as possible by seeking supplementary legislation at Ottawa.

"That this was the view of Mr. Bowser and his colleagues is amply clear from his platform prior to the 1920 election, which speaks as follows:

"This new Government (Conservative) will also use every effort with the Dominion Government, under whose jurisdiction the matter lies to see that legislation is passed at Ottawa which will stop the importation of liquor into this Province by private parties, so that all liquor purchased and sold in British Columbia will be absolutely under Government control."

Senators Even Differ.

"It is very interesting to note from the press clippings which I have seen since I returned from the North on Monday, that Conservative Senators are busy explaining their attitude on the vote upon the amendment to the Canada Temperance Act which prohibits the private importation of liquor which was promoted by the Provinces of Quebec and British Columbia at the session of Parliament which has just closed at Ottawa. Apparently the honorable gentlemen have not all the same explanation, but they find it necessary when they get home to make the best explanation they can.

Must Think Public Fools.

"No one appreciates better than I that there are in the Senate of Canada many extremely able and experienced men, but the people of Canada have long been of the opinion that the irresponsibility to the electorate which characterizes the Upper Chamber has negated its intended usefulness.

DISTRIBUTING OUR FRUIT.

Would it not be possible for the growers of soft fruits on Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland to take some action that would result in a better and more comprehensive policy of distribution in the prairie provinces?

The disadvantage of unloading such perishable goods in a more or less concentrated area, without facility for its distribution in quarters where there would be ready buyers, is reflected in the situation which arises as soon as some atmospheric disturbance interferes with ordinary transportation services.

As far as collection and forwarding on the co-operative plan is concerned there is very little to be desired. There is already ample justification for the operations of a resident markets commissioner in Calgary.

THE BRITISH PEOPLE.

In these times when there are foolish people trying to tell us that the British Empire is on the rocks, and that Great Britain and the United States never could be real friends and agree on joint action in the cause of progress, it is refreshing to take a look over the policy which successive British Governments have followed for more than one hundred years.

From time to time something happens to confirm our suspicion that the British are a remarkable people. What other people, for example, would join in honoring the anniversary of the day on which a colony declared its independence and started a successful rebellion?

The British keep on doing quixotic things. They fought the Boers for years and then granted them complete self-government. They annexed Egypt, but gave the natives local autonomy. They established an empire in India, but are permitting the population to have an ever-growing control of governmental power.

Britain cherishes no grudge because of the revolt of the American colonists. Rather, she admires the spirit of the men who would not brook outside control. To-day she clasps hands with the United States as an Anglo-Saxon country, having similar ideals, with whom she must co-operate in world tasks if humanity is to be led away from bitter rivalry into work for the good of common humanity.

NOT EVEN GOOD POLITICS.

Cabinet Ministers' travelling expenses furnish an easy subject for a political Opposition. To the elector who has just paid his taxes the announcement that the men whom he has appointed to look after his affairs are touring here and there looks like excellent material for complaint.

There is a gentleman living in the City of Chicago who has informed the Vancouver Board of Trade, that he is a practical mechanic and has enough money to purchase a rooming house. He says that he would like to come to British Columbia because he is fed up with "grafting business agents, crooked real estate dealers, no money to pay when you do a job, and hurry and hustle all the time, which threatens your life, makes you nervous, and your life a hell on earth."

of to-day is looking for efficient administration. He knows that there are problems to be understood and mastered that cannot be understood and mastered if the official responsible for their solution remains cooped up in his office in the Parliament Buildings from one year's end to another.

WHY NOT CANADA NEXT?

Although it may take a few years to remove the Empire's metropolis from the Old World to a more roomy spot in this Dominion there is a great deal to be said in favor of holding the next consultation of the Empire's representatives in Canada.

It would mean a considerable saving of time and travel for the Antipodean delegates and an excellent purpose would be served by the visit to Canada of a British Prime Minister and one or two of his colleagues. It is also obvious that such an arrangement would add to the cordiality which obtains among the members of the British family—a factor in world affairs that may be endowed with considerably more value by such an outward recognition of the position which the Dominions occupy in the Empire.

Premier Baldwin observed to a questioner on this subject yesterday that the suggestion of holding the Imperial Conference in one or other of the Dominion Capitals was one with which he is familiar. It will no doubt be one of the topics of the October gathering.

WILD BERRIES AND FIRE.

Quite a number of forest fires in this Province in past years have been caused by carelessness on the part of people who roam the hills and valleys in quest of wild berries. Statistics compiled from a careful analysis of section reports indicate the popularity of a search for fruit that may be obtained for the trouble of picking it.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Germany says she does not intend to discontinue her policy of passive resistance. That is her own lookout. France is in a position to make it uncomfortable for any official who gets in the way of collection.

It looks as if the various ocean greyhounds that ply the Atlantic will have their work cut out to lower the speed colors of the Mauretania. Her recent performance seems to be sufficient to hold the pennant for the time being.

When tariff reform was the paramount issue in British politics in the election of 1905 the present Prime Minister was almost unknown in the political world. But he is as familiar with the arguments that were employed as he is mindful of the overwhelming defeat which the protectionists sustained.

There is a gentleman living in the City of Chicago who has informed the Vancouver Board of Trade, that he is a practical mechanic and has enough money to purchase a rooming house.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

BRITAIN MUDDLERS THROUGH. New York Times:—The Lausanne conference drags its slow length along, and from time to time the British delegates declare that the limit of concessions has been reached.

RIVALRY IN THE AIR. Toronto Globe:—The British government has embarked on a great aeroplane programme, which will still leave Britain a long way behind France as an air power. It is distressing to know that the British project has been provoked by France, and that the two former Allies are now rivals in new forms of armament.

THE TOURIST AND FISHING

To the Editor:—In your editorial of the 16th inst. you state that Victoria will derive the greatest benefit from the tourist when he can be induced to remain for longer periods on the island than seems to be the case at present.

Thousands of dollars are being spent in advertising the claims of Victoria as a tourist resort, with remarkable success. The tourist is invited to see the beauties of our island, to enjoy our climate, and to take to himself the good fishing which one of the great attractions—when, on his arrival, he is faced with a demand of $10 by the order of the Fishery Department.

THE "ROOM OF DEATH"

To the Editor:—Many of your readers must have felt their sympathies roused by the illustrated news item in last night's Times recording the appalling tragedy in the "Room of Death" just outside Calgary.

It will interest your readers to know that some help has been sent to the victims of the "Room of Death" from the City of Victoria. A committee of citizens, which has been slow to act, partly because of pressure of other work and mainly because of the difficulty of raising a live secretary, I myself undertook to act as treasurer and the Rev. W. P. Freeman as chairman of the committee.

CURRENCY VALUE.

To the Editor:—The extract taken from The Halifax Chronicle, which you print to-day under the heading, "Intrinsic Currency Value," contains several false and misleading statements.

Money is only valuable in so far as the materials of which it is composed are valuable. And again, "A gold coin is valuable in itself, because it contains actual metal of the worth stamped upon it in the process of coinage."

Both the above statements are untrue. Money is decidedly not dependent for its value upon its material composition.

The value of money depends on its command over goods and services, i. e. its purchasing power. This power is governed by the relation of money seeking to buy goods, to the goods available.

MINIMUM WAGE NOT TO BE CUT

Learnership Periods in Industrial Groups Prescribed; to Consider Boys

After lengthy sessions during which a mass of evidence was deduced from employers and employees of the industries concerned, the conference called by the Minimum Wage Board sitting in session at the Vancouver courthouse yesterday decided to leave the minimum wage in the industries affected as it is at present, namely, $1.00. The industries affected include chocolate dipping, candy-making, brush-making, the various branches of garment-making, including machine-knit goods, printing, embossing and many other classes.

Evidence tendered by a large number of girl employees at the public session revealed the necessity for the regulation of the period and wages of learnership.

The conferees after considering all the evidence divided the various trades into three groups, according to the length of time required for learning the trade such as tailoring, paper box making, book-binding, fur manufacturing, millinery, dress-making and boot and shoe industries.

Unusual interest was taken in the public sessions, the courtroom being crowded with interested employers, manufacturers, and members of the general public.

The conference also passed a resolution to the effect that the Minimum Wage Board consider the advisability of extending the minimum wage to include boys under eighteen years of age. This step was taken following evidence that in certain cases manufacturing employers employ boys in stead of girls in order to escape the payment of the minimum wage.

NOT MENTIONING NAMES

It was Donald's first experience in grown-up church, though the little chap had attended Sunday school. When the collection was being taken his father placed the weekly family offering in the plate. The pew was a short one and no other contribution was received from it. This aroused Donald's curiosity, and he blurted out, with all the eagerness of childhood, trying to understand: "Pa, did you have to pay for the whole row?"—Atlanta Journal.

HOW HE DID IT

"This fellow Skinner tried to tell me that he has had the same automobile for five years and has never paid a cent for repairs on it," said the fat man. "Do you believe that?" "I do," replied the thin man, sadly. "In the man who did his repair work for him."—The Continent (Chicago).

ROYAL VICTORIA

The spirit of reckless daring was never more strikingly exemplified than in the latest production, "What a Wife Learned," a powerful drama of modern love and adventure by Bradley King.

That a screen star's life is at times a hazardous one became evident to those who were privileged to witness the brilliant performance of John Bowers and Milton Sills as they worked in the icy waters of the mighty Colorado River while the camera men were "shooting" the climax of the story. It took eight days in the treacherous currents to get the closing scenes of the picture. The heavy sands washing down from the desert lands above Yuma made swimming extremely difficult, and the temperature of the water was so cold that the players could remain in it only a few minutes at a time.

Only those who saw the filming of the picture know the great personal danger to which both Bowers and Sills were exposed during the making of the scenes. Expert swimmers who have seen previews of the picture are unanimously of the opinion that the realism of these remarkable scenes carries one of the "biggest punches" ever screened. Repeatedly Bowers and Sills were actually fighting for their lives against the treacherous undercurrents that threatened to engulf them, and the shots obtained of their struggles are tremendous thrillers. Specially constructed rafts were anchored in mid-stream for the director and the camera men to get close-ups of the struggle. It was from these rafts that the pictures were "shot." When the big temporary dam built above the Laguna Dam was destroyed to get the scenes for the bursting dam in the story, and the raging waters swamped down into the Laguna Dam with a mass of wreckage in its wake, the safety of the director and the camera men as well as that of the actors was imperiled repeatedly.

During the filming of the scenes visitors from all sections of the city who had stopped off at Yuma to see the big dam remained to watch the "Ice Company" at work. They declared that it was a real "experience" to be able to witness the making of such exciting scenes. "What a Wife Learned" will be shown at the Royal again to-day.

He did not know what the word meant but he knew how to do it! Charles de Roche, the versatile French screen star, who makes his American screen debut with Dorothy Dalton in "Law of the Lawless," which is showing at the Capitol Theatre all this week, speaks and understands only a few words of English.

That is why the phrase "bull-dogging a steer" meant nothing to him until it was explained to him in French that it meant a steer by the horns and throwing it to the ground. Whereupon he declared that he knew all about it, and proceeded to make good by "bull-dogging" the wildest steer on the Lasky ranch for the benefit of the cameras.

"The Law of the Lawless" is a tale of the Tartar and gypsy tribes of Southeastern Europe written by Konrad Bercovici, a gypsy author. De Roche plays a gypsy chief who among other accomplishments, is a stellar cattleman. Although the term "bull-dogging" isn't known in France, de Roche learned his cattle lore in the heart of the French cattle country—the region known as Camargue. Here the French cowboys use exactly the same technique as their American cousins in "throwing the bull" before applying the branding iron.

In order that there might be no question of doubt as to de Roche's ability, Director Victor Fleming first shows the French actor leaping from horseback to the steer and then twisting it to the ground. The entire action is played far enough away from the camera to prove that the steer is not tied yet close enough to show that de Roche himself performed the feat.

Theodore Kosloff and Tully Marshall play the other important roles in support of Dorothy Dalton in the Paramount picture and the cast includes, also, Margaret Loomis and Fred Huntley.

"SAFETY-LAST" NOW AT COLUMBIA

Harold Lloyd Comedy With Plenty of Thrills

Idea for comedies are rare. For the type of feature comedies that Harold Lloyd makes they are "rarer than rare."

The happy thought that led to the making of the spectacular comedian's latest and longest feature, "Safety Last," a seven-reel Pathe comedy, came like a flash out of a sky.

One day, about a year ago, Harold Lloyd and his producer, Hal Roach, were walking on a downtown street in Los Angeles. It so happened that at the Roslyn Hotel that day "Bill" Strother, known world over as the "human-fly," was putting his skill against the intricacies of the Roslyn's granite walls.

Immediately the idea hit Harold that it might be a good plan to make a thrill picture, and to fill it with just such daring and hilarious situations as he made in "Never Weaken" and "High and Dizzy," outstanding successes in Lloyd's early achievements.

The idea was not long in the crystallization stage, for it was put into concrete form by Hal Roach, Sam Taylor, Tim Whalen and Harley M. Walker—the last three on the Lloyd scenario staff—and the filming began after the completion of "Dr. Jack" Strother, himself, was engaged to play the part of Lloyd's pal, and to, incidentally, climb one building for the benefit of the camera.

"Safety Last" will be seen to-day at the Columbia Theatre, and it is declared to be filled to the brim with thrills. The funny situations are there in abundance, and with Mildred Davis, Harold also demonstrates that he can take his place with the foremost Romances of the screen.

The bigger a man is the less his wife is afraid of him.

'BILLETED' COMEDY NOW AT PLAYHOUSE

Unusual Plot Makes Comedy Most Remarkable Production

To learn that one is dead, and to even wear a black arm band on the occasion of your own death would make splendid material for a comedy play, and such was the case at the Playhouse last night when Francis Compton appeared in the leading role in "Billeted," which is the title of this week's play at the popular Yates Street Playhouse.

A feature of the production, which will be of interest to local people, is the fact that Miss Belle Eilers once again made her presence on the stage last night. Her role was a more prominent one this time than previously, and indicates her rapid progress as an actress.

Peggy Dundas portrayed the character of a mournful widow who has just received a telegram stating that her husband, who she has been separated from for two years, is dead, only to find that he has assumed another name, and is adjutant to the colonel whom she is entertaining at her house.

Of course this all works into a most unusual plot but the climax unfolds things and like the fairy stories, there is a happy reunion after they live happily ever after. Frank Compton takes the role of the cruel husband who quarrelled with his wife, thus bringing her to away. Miss Belle Eilers characterizes Penelope Moon, who is a friend of Betty Fardine, Peggy Dundas.

Miss Agnes Burton provides the lead to the entire comedy as Miss Liliput, the vicar's sister, who has a penchant for scandal but also likes nice looking men. Her distaste for meddling in other people's business helps the comedy to more than succeed in producing a most laughter-producing night for the patrons who came away well satisfied with the entertainment.

The vicar, desirous of getting married, but not to a woman who does not know what she is a widow or a divorcee, is portrayed in the usual finished style by Herbert Leslie. Other suitors were visitors to Betty's House but Col. Freddy, watch-is taken by George Buchanan, mistakes sympathy for love, and eventually finishes by marrying Penelope.

CAPITOL

William Norris, well known musical comedy star who is seen in the role of Cappy Ricks in Cosmopolitan's "The Go-Getter," by Peter B. Hyne, recently was a witness to a case where a man who manipulated a make-up box, and he suffered all the tortures that come to a small boy when he takes his maiden puff on a cigar. Norris did just that thing during the "shooting" of a scene and hasn't got over it yet.

In his years behind the footlights Norris has always been loud in his toast to his wife. He has appeared in scores of big Broadway successes, and in numerous pictures, including "When Knighthood Was in Flower," but in none of them was he required to smoke—at least not until he was cast for the role of Cappy Ricks in "The Go-Getter," which will be on view at the Capitol Theatre all this week.

As readers of the popular story are aware, Cappy is an inveterate smoker, and cigars are his mania. Norris didn't fully realize this fact until, just before the start of a scene when Director Griffith told him that he would have to smoke, and smoke madly.

"But I've never smoked in my life," said Norris. "Can't help it," replied Griffith; "the story calls for it." And with that he handed the actor a long black weed, saying: "I'll have another ready when you finish that one."

Being an artist, Norris did as directed, and at the end of the scene he was as pale as a ghost and weaker than a kitten. T. Roy Barnes, Seena Owen, Tom Lewis and Louie Wolheim are featured with Mr. Norris in this production.

of the plebiscite in 1920, and that it was a sheer waste of money to submit again the question as to whether or not private importation should be permitted. We consider "no" occasion for the expenditure of $75,000 of the people's money upon a plebiscite where the people had already spoken very emphatically, knowing as we do, that Government control and private importation are contemporaneously impossible.

That Warehouse Issue. "My sincerity in the matter has been questioned by Conservative Senators. It is said that I consented to the establishment of export warehouses. I have no control over the matter and I am supported in this opinion by the opinion of the Department of Justice read in the Senate. The consent of this Province was required prior to the granting to export concerns of a customs bond."

"A customs bond is not essential to the carrying out of the business of an export concern. Several have been carried on during the years 1921, 1922, and 1923 without a customs bond. I gave one new consent and one only, for a customs bond, and that was in the case of a single car of liquor already in the Province, when the matter was submitted to me, and upon which heavy demurrage was being paid. I gave that consent under the special circumstances of the case, believing that it might be unfair to penalize a concern by reason of the changed attitude of the Government. I refused a consent for a customs bond to the concern owning the car of liquor and I refused repeated applications for consents in other cases."

"Furthermore, on April 25, 1922, I wrote the Minister of Customs advising him that I had given my consent to a customs bond for liquor concerns, and advising him that I would like to have the existing ones cancelled."

"On June 27, 1922, I wired the Minister of Customs, setting out the situation fully, and withdrawing the consent that had been given prior to my time for customs bonds for the storage of liquor. I followed my wire of June 27 up by a letter under date of August 2, 1922, quoting my wire, asking for a reply and urging in the strongest possible language the cancellation of existing customs bonds. I followed this letter up by a subsequent one pressing for action, and as matters stand at present, the consent of this Province to customs bonds for liquor has been withdrawn since June 27, 1922."

"In view of the answer of the Minister of Customs to a question at the recent session of the House on April 18 last, in which he stated that a customs bonded warehouse for storage of intoxicating liquor remains in force until cancelled by the Minister for cause or withdrawal of Provincial consent, I have wired the Hon. J. Bureau calling to the fact that in the case of this Province, Provincial consents have been withdrawn for over a year, and again asking for immediate action. Would Even Have Taken a Plebiscite.

"I regret that the amendment sought was not passed. Had the bill not been jockeyed until the closing moments of the Senate, I have no doubt that the Ottawa Government would have consulted this Province before dropping the bill with the plebiscite clause in it."

"Had our Government been consulted, we would have accepted the bill, with the plebiscite clause, despite the needless expense that would have been entailed, rather than see the legislation go by the board. I do not wonder that my Senators from this Province are busy explaining. They have much to answer for—Constantly asking the question what brings the Senate into disrepute. Relying upon their irresponsible position, they ignore the will of the elected representatives of the people. They represent the most undesirable form of autocracy. Their conduct on several other occasions was on a par with their conduct on this. It was not as if we would fight over again in Canada the battle for responsible Government."

"The Senate in its present form and the export houses must go."

METERS FOR SAANICH BY EMPIRE SHOW TO BE DEVELOPED

Saanich's waterworks by-law to enable the municipality to instal meters for measuring and charging water services and readjust consumers' rates was given formal approval at the Parliament Buildings to-day by Premier Oliver and his Ministers when it came before them.

Approval was also given to Prince Rupert's by-law to permit the borrowing of $25,500 for the construction of a bridge over Hayes Creek at Sixth Avenue.

R. O. D. Harvey, of Victoria; A. F. Crowe, of Grand Forks, and J. S. S. Penny and David Gillis, of Vancouver, are to be notaries public, Attorney-General Manson announced.

Premier Oliver announced the appointment of Wood Lee, of Alberni, as Government agent during the absence of A. L. Freeze.

SUICIDE NOT HIS INTENT

Three months hard labor waited for Hanley, known to waterfront circles as "Johnny," in the city police court to-day. Hanley, with the exploits of jumping from the George and Point Ellice bridges safely tucked away, arranged with companions to dare all in a flying leap from the top of the new Johnson Street bridge. Suicide was not his intent, but merely the acceptance of a challenge.

Waving his hat in signal to hoistmen who stood by, Chief Fry on Hanley leaped from the top of the steel work on the bridge into the water below. The hoistmen fulfilled their part of the bargain and "rescued" him in due course. Unfortunately for the accused at this stage of the proceedings a bridge worker thought he witnessed a man in the act of taking his life and turned in an alarm to the police. The police arrived, and Hanley was arrested on a charge of being intoxicated.

All his denials in court to-day availed him nothing. The judge, O'Donnell and George Langwell, his longshore friends, that they saw him just before the jump in strict sobriety was discounted. Constable Wood with keen noses had detected the odor of alcohol, they told the court, and their word carried.

The defence Gordon Cameron submitted that the jump from the bridge was not the act of a drunken man. People had jumped from going places, and even the exploit of going over Niagara Falls in a barrel was not generally conceded to be the act of a lunatic. The accused admitted to being "pretty gay" the night before, but denied drinking anything of an intoxicating nature on the day in question. He had taken a drink of fruit salts that morning, but that had not gone to his head, he averred.

The Court: Who challenged you to jump off?

The accused: A man from Nanaimo. I don't know his name, but he gave me $25 for the last one, but there was no bet on this.

The Court: It is hard to accept the story of the defence. It was certainly not the act of a sober man. It is something a man intoxicated or temporarily insane would attempt. The statute provides imprisonment for the third offense for not less than three months. The accused will be sentenced to three months—and with hard labor.

SAANICH TAKES ACTION.

The payment of road and pooll tax was sought yesterday in the Saanich police court, when a remand of one week was granted in the charges against Felix Barera, Arthur Luther, Thomas Pepler and Raymond Howlett. C. E. Straker was fined $20 for speeding. W. W. J. Hughes was fined $5 for failure to have the necessary tail light in operation on his car after dusk. E. Sarup was fined $5 for an infraction of the building by-law, and John Vato paid $1 for incorrect parking of his motor car. The court was held at Royal Oak before two Justices of the Peace.

SAANICH TAKES ACTION.

The mechanical department of the B.C.E. R. Co. will hold the annual picnic at Deep Bay on Saturday at 12 o'clock. Another train will leave for the picnic at 1.30 p.m. Some 200 persons are expected to attend and an enjoyable time is promised those who participate in the sports. A series of games will be held in the afternoon, while the concluding event on the programme is a dance at the chalet. Two tombola prizes will be given away at the grounds.

SAANICH TAKES ACTION.

The Japanese whisky, made of rice and called sake, is now to be made in British Columbia in large quantities for general consumption as well as for Japanese. It was announced to-day when Vancouver interests obtained approval for the organization of the Vancouver Sake & Brewing Co., Ltd., with a capital of $100,000. Products of the company will be sold through Government liquor stores, and many white persons have taken to the Oriental drink.

Dr. Moody, dentist, of Vancouver, has had an incorporation put through changing his name to Painless Moody, $10,000.

Other incorporations given approval to-day include Victoria Tile and Brick Supply Co., Ltd., $15,000; Belle View Hotel, $10,000; Stewart Stamp Lumber Co., Ltd., $10,000; and the Victoria X-Ray Corporation of Canada, Ltd., $50,000, which is registering itself in Vancouver as well as in Chicago.

JUVENILE FORESTERS

Transportation will be provided free for parents and children attending the picnic to be held at Mount Douglas park on Saturday afternoon for the Juvenile Foresters, Court Library, A.O.F. Tea, sugar, milk and hot water will be provided free. Those attending the picnic are asked to meet at the Foresters' Hall at 1 o'clock and bring their own cups.

MANSION EXTERS JUVENILE COURTS

Juvenile court districts are to be established in North Vancouver, South Vancouver, Burnaby and Point Grey, as a result of action taken to-day by Attorney-General Manson. Those who have not yet been brought under juvenile court jurisdiction.

Mr. Manson has had the police magistrates of the districts appointed as judges of the juvenile courts as follows: North Vancouver, L. Watts Doney; South Vancouver, T. F. Johnson; Burnaby, J. Stuart Jameson; Point Grey, George R. McQueen.

Mr. Manson has before his proposition to bring in the fullest operation of the juvenile court in Victoria, with the possible appointment here of a woman judge to preside as Judge Mrs. MacGill does in Vancouver.

L. C. B. TO OPEN ESQUIMALT SHOP

Esquimalt's liquor store will be opened on Saturday it was announced to-day at Liquor Board headquarters. The establishment of the store is the result of petitions from residents of the district who asserted there was no reason for their business district being slighted and people forced to come into Victoria to do their liquor shopping. The store has been constructed next to the Rex Theatre.

In preparation for the opening of the store, Attorney-General Manson to-day put through an order-in-council approving of the Liquor Board's appointment of R. P. Mathison as vendor in charge.

The Departmental Aggregate Cup at the Civil Service picnic, which was held at the Esquimalt Hotel, was also the Tug-of-War Cup, it was announced to-day by A. D. Fairbairn. The following shows the number of points gained by the different departments: Attorney-General's Department, 19; Forestry branch, Lands Department, 19; Lands Department, 19; Survey branch, Lands Department, 19; Finance Department, 3; Public Works Department, 2; and the Agriculture 1.

Will Forge Great New Trade Links With Empire, Says Director

The British Empire Exhibition in London next year will help in a big way to develop Canada's overseas trade, J. S. McKinnon, who will direct Canadian exhibits, told the Rotary Club at its luncheon to-day.

"As a result of the war the European market has slumped seriously, but we can always count upon the British Empire," Mr. McKinnon declared. "Not only would the exhibition forge new trade links between the nations of the Empire, he said, but would help to increase British immigration to Canada."

Canada's exhibit will be such as to give British people a clear-cut idea of this country's resources and possibilities, Mr. McKinnon asserted, telling of plans for a big exhibition building.

Tells of Business Future.

British Columbia and Victoria offer splendid opportunities for industrial development but people here have failed to take advantage of them, he said. R. W. Maw, head of the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company and well known manufacturer, asserted in a speech at the Rotarians' luncheon on the business future of this city.

"This city is as good as any other city for industries but so far Victorians have not had the courage and vision to seize the opportunities that are now available," he asserted. "We have been asleep at the switch. That is the whole trouble."

With the natural resources tributary to it and its location at the gateway to the Orient, Victoria, he said, should become a big industrial city. Because western businessmen had failed to develop industries business which should centre here went to the East, he said. All that was needed was the courage and more vision, he affirmed.

Tourist Trade.

Businessmen of to-day, Mr. Maw went on, must lay the foundation of business for the next generation. Because western businessmen up and now and many of whom are going to the United States for employment.

In laying this foundation, he emphasized, Victoria should develop its tourist trade, but should be careful not to base its development entirely upon this source of revenue. Victoria boys must not be brought up to take pleasure in playing. They must learn to work to build, he warned.

Miss Marie McLaughlin, whose splendid soprano voice has developed remarkably during the last few months and who is now one of Victoria's most popular singers, entertained the Rotarians to-day with two beautiful solos.

BASEBALL CRICKET GOLFING SWIMMING

Oarsmen All At Lake For Start of Regatta

Portland Crews Went to Shawnigan Yesterday, While Victoria and Vancouver Oarsmen Made Journey This Morning—Trial Spins on Course This Afternoon—Junior Races To-morrow, With Seniors Racing Saturday

About fifty oarsmen from Vancouver, Portland and Victoria are at Shawnigan Lake to-day having their trial spins previous to the start of the N.P.A.A.O. regatta to-morrow afternoon. The Portland crews arrived yesterday morning and went to the lake in the afternoon, while the Victoria and Vancouver oarsmen went north this morning. The shells from the three clubs were shipped in a special automobile car this morning and were unloaded and placed in the water at noon. After lunch the various crews got into their boats and were put through their paces on the mile and a half course by their respective coaches.

All the oarsmen will be put to bed early to-night in order to be fit and ready for the grueling tests on the water on Friday and Saturday. The oarsmen will be on the course to themselves to-morrow, while the seniors will perform on the course to-day.

Interest in the various events is very keen, and it is expected that several thousand people will witness the races. All the folks who are at their summer cottages at the Lake will be out in their boats, and the residents from as far north as Duncan, and as far south as Victoria will join the holiday-makers in assuring the event an outstanding success.

Row Against Old Town

Vancouver is bringing over two oarsmen who in past years have rowed for the B.A.A. George Kingsley, senior sculling champion, and John Wickson, will both pull an oar for the Vancouver Rowing Club. Wickson and Kingsley have entered the senior doubles and will be about the biggest pair that have ever rowed in this event. Kingsley will stroke the boat with a bow seat, while Wickson will be at the stern. The flashy pair, Newell and McDonald, of Portland, will have to set a merry pace to nose out the Mainland. In Cleveland the Senators lost 4-1. St. Louis, at home, shut out Philadelphia, winning 2-0.

In a close fought game at Philadelphia the locals beat Chicago 7-5. Pittsburgh took a mean fall out of Boston, 5-1.

New York, July 19.—The New York National League Club will raise the 1922 world's championship banner, and the 1922 National League banner before the New York-St. Louis game July 21.

Commissioner Landis will preside at the ceremony.

J.B.A.A. BANKING ON "BABIES" WINNING THEIR RACE

One of the "sure" things of the N. P. A. A. O. regatta at Shawnigan Lake on Friday and Saturday is believed to be the Victoria crew in the 140-pound event. This crew has been together for four years and is rowing in such style that it is believed to be capable of taking the measure of any other lightweights. The boys are in great shape this year and are confident of victory. They have never been beaten in this class. The crew shown above is as follows: From left to right: A. D. MacLachlan, stroke; J. D. Hartley, No. 3; J. Riddell, No. 2, and H. Watson, bow.

CENTURY BY WARD FEATURES CRICKET

Hudson's Bay Batsmen Helps Compile Record Score for League; Broad St. Win

Broad Street kept up their merry race in the Wednesday Cricket League yesterday by defeating the University School. The leaders made 100 runs in the first innings. Hudson's Bay showed great batting strength and assisted by Ward's century, compiled the greatest score in the league this season.

Yesterday's results were as follows: Hudson's Bay, 259; St. Aidan's, 112 for six wickets.

Broad Street, 141; University School, 25.

Ward's century was the choice bit of work of the afternoon. He hit everything and was only out when he hit his own wicket. Besides leading the batting, he was the best bowler, catching four wickets for 39.

The bluk of the Bays' big total was compiled by the top half of the team. St. Aidan's might have run up a fairly comfortable score against the Bays, but part of their team went home too soon and did not bat. As it was, they made a 57 not out, and Wenman went along nicely for 45.

Broad Street batted consistently and disposed of University. Six of the team reached double figures, with Heinekey retiring with his score at 35. Goodday led the youngsters with a 34.

Heinekey captured the bowling honors with 8 for 34, while Goodday was the best of the schoolboy trundlers with 4 for 48.

The scores were as follows: Hudson's Bay, 259; St. Aidan's, 112 for six wickets.

Getting Ready For Play-Off For Ball Title

Amateur Baseball Moguls to Meet in Vancouver Saturday to Arrange Series

Vancouver, July 19.—The most successful championship play-off in the history of the sport in this province is cheerfully anticipated by officials of the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association which will meet in the sports room of Hotel Vancouver on Saturday evening for the purpose of arranging the annual title series.

Three Island and six Mainland leagues are affiliated with the B.C. body in the senior division and their representatives to the provincial play-off will therefore participate in the play-off. As in the past the Island division will be asked to stage its own play-off, the winner to meet the Mainland champions in Vancouver.

Great interest is being taken in the play-off possibilities in all parts of the province. Victoria, Mid-Island and Comox Valley leagues will stage their play-off commencing at the first of the month with three Vancouver corps. Dewdney, Westminster and Chilliwack Valley leagues will play-off here.

Secretary Ray Jones has notices in the mail to-day calling all league representatives to Saturday night's gathering and it is expected that a full attendance will respond. The final date for the signing of men from one team to another expires on Sunday so that champion teams in each loop will have to go into the play-off at their present strength. Secretaries of the various leagues are being advised that play-off forms must be in the hands of Secretary Jones before the end of the week.

Vancouver has a special interest in the provincial play-off since the champions of the Senior Amateur, Twilight and Terminal leagues all have a bid for the British Columbia honors and the right to enter the first round of the Dominion play-offs for the Gale trophy. Local fans are pulling for Vancouver squads and some excellent games are expected.

Japanese Net Star Beaten by Youth From Pacific Coast

Boston, July 19.—Wallace J. Bates, a youth from the Pacific coast, eliminated Masanosuke Fukuda, Japanese Davis cup player, from the Longwood bowl singles tournament yesterday in straight sets and to-day will oppose R. N. Williams II in the round before the semi-finals. Fukuda was puzzled by Bates speed and the count in the first set reached five love before he could break through for a game.

Favorites advanced in the singles draw from top to bottom and the best match of the eight fourth round encounters was that in which H. M. Niles, veteran Bostonian, defeated Philip Neer of Leland Stanford University in straight sets. Neer's aggressive strokes enabled him to force Niles to two deuce sets. The first of which required 18 games.

Niles' steadiness was the difference in their game.

The seeded teams in the doubles tournament held their places in the draw and two of the strongest combinations were the Williams and Niles pair and the Bates and Neer pair.

Shimizu face Williams and Niles in a fourth round encounter.

Police Gun Team

The gun squad to represent the city police at the Seattle Police Sports meet Sunday will leave to-morrow. The revolver marksmen will include Chief Bart Dawley, of Esquimalt, Detective John H. Rogers, Constable George Allen and Thomas Palmer, and Clerk Thomas H. Bamford.

JAP IS SPORTSMAN SAVING WEINSTEIN

Kurata Refused to Accept Default Tuesday in Seattle Tennis

Seattle, July 19.—Irwing Weinstein, of San Francisco, who on Tuesday defaulted a match in the Washington State tennis championship tournament, in progress on the courts of the Seattle Tennis Club, because his arm had been hurt, won two victories yesterday.

J. Kurata, Seattle, who benefited by the default when Weinstein was compelled at the opening of their second set on Tuesday to quit because of a shoulder he sprained last week in play in the Oregon State championship tournament with Elmer Griffin, was swollen and sprained intensely, yesterday refused to accept the boon. Weinstein was erratic and was forced to use an underhand service, but he won easily over Kurata.

In the afternoon the sun's waning rays seemed to help Weinstein.

Weinstein was matched with Armand Marion, of Seattle, Washington State junior champion, in the men's singles. The gallery thought that the Californian would do well to achieve a close contest. He defeated Marion 4-6, 6-4, 9-7. Marion went to pieces in the deciding games of the third set.

Fought Stubbornly.

In this contest Weinstein seemed to bring to his aid, under stress of physical incapacity, all the craft that he had gained in years of tennis competition. Lobs and serves underhand, he stuck stubbornly to his foe until victory.

Griffin, who lives in San Francisco, and who retained the Oregon title last week, defeated Tom Gallery, Los Angeles movie performer, 6-0, 6-0. One mistake marred the service in the second set, a hand-drawn which Gallery caught near the outside line. Griffin was caught flat-footed just getting his racket on the court.

Griffin and Weinstein meet in the fourth round of the singles to-day.

Non-Partisan Sport Gallery Unknown in U.S.

Tilden Says Partizanship Is Really American; Fans Make Or Break Players

(By William Tilden, Tennis Champion)

"What is so rare as a day in June?" the poet asks in naive innocence. I arise to answer in forceful tones "A non-partisan sporting gallery in America."

Partizanship is essentially American. We are a country of hero-worshippers, and root most loyally for our Ty Cobbs, Babe Ruths, Gene Sarazens or Billy Johnstons. This loyal admiration is an inspiration in the enthusiasm is held within bounds.

But sometimes it runs away with a crowd and becomes dangerous. I remember the sad match in New York when R. L. Murray beat George M. Church in five sets after Church led at 2 sets to 0 and 5-3 because a crowd—whose emotion was applauded Murray's heroic comeback, turned from pro-Murray to anti-Church and literally hooted and jeered Church to defeat. This was quite unintentional and wholly unexcusable, for Church was always a fine sportsman; but it was none the less a fact.

The Reason of It.

This wild partizanship of Americans is due to the fact that every person present lines up on one side or the other of the net and plays the match with his man. The gallery is part of the match. There are sullen galleries, due often to heat or cold; happy, merry galleries, usually a holiday crowd; tense, dangerous, mob-galleries at the big final championship matches. Every player should recognize these types and play accordingly. There are few galleries in America that are not partizanship, and the American public is a sporting public. It is not coldly critical, analytical and non-partisan like the British, but it is just as inherently sporting in its views.

Queer incidents occur in great matches. Last year when Billy Johnston and I were locked in the bitter of all championship finals, Johnston leading two sets to one and the games 3-3 as I was fighting to pull even, we had a back-breaking backhand pick-up which tossed over Johnston's head for the point. It was a wild stab, and to the onlookers seemed impossible. Johnston groaned, floated a man's voice: "Tilden's a liar. He didn't make that shot. He couldn't." A few minutes later in the middle of the dead pause of a hard rally a woman, struck to the breaking point of excitement, screamed, "Oh, my God!" If either Johnston or I had unintentionally done anything to irritate the gallery, it would have turned on us and ridden us out of the match.

May Break a Player.

The gallery must be considered as part of every big match played. Every person who enters a big match should realize that quite unintentionally he or she may make or break a player. The enthusiasm of the American public will always be a handicap to a foreign team in its first appearance, but invariably the foreign visitors enjoy and appreciate the cordial greeting the tennis public gives them. The University of Washington Davis Cup challenge round in New York and again at Philadelphia during the national singles, Gerald L. Patterson, the captain of the Australian team, made a short speech of thanks on behalf of his team for the welcome and sporting reception they had received from the American public.

If the players (and I think this particularly applies to me) will only remember that all partizanship galleries are for the underdog, and that they are "pro some one" and not "anti anybody," they will enjoy the whole-hearted enthusiasm of our American tennis galleries.

All the world loves a winner, but the same old world also loves to see a champion get spilled. We may be a republic, but we all know the meaning of the words: "The King is Dead! Long Live the King." (Copyright, 1923, by Public Ledger Company.)

JIM JEFFERIES OPENS HIS SPEAKING TOUR IN SOUTH TO-MORROW

Los Angeles, July 19.—James J. Jeffries, formerly heavyweight boxing champion of the world, who some time ago was reported to be preparing for a career as an evangelist, will preach in the Women's Christian Temperance Union Temple here to-morrow night on the restoration of Palestine to the Jews.

He plans a world tour, it is said, preaching the doctrine of amalgamation of peoples of the white race to promote the highest standard of civilization.

Mechanics to Hook Up With Railroaders

Spark Plugs Confident of Beating Leaders; Seattle Nine Here Saturday

Tonight the Automobiles and the C.P.R. will provide the thrills at the Stadium in the senior baseball game. Great interest is being taken by the fans in this battle, as a win is badly needed by the railroaders if they are to retain their lead over the fast-stepping Eagles, who are right on the ground for the lodgement, and it is expected that the record for the event will be broken.

Tommy Wellburn, of the V.A.S.C., Canadian half-mile champion; George Lewis and C. A. Hills, Vancouver; Gus McKinnon and Johnny Larsen, of the Y.M.C.A.; Dave Barclay, of the Elks, Canadian 50 and 100-yard champion, and George Silcumburn, of the V.A.S.C., a British Columbia champion, will start in the event. All swimmers are in the very best of shape, and the race should be the prettiest and closest seen here in years.

After Diving Title

One other British Columbia championship will be at stake. Seven divers will compete for the B. C. diving title. George McEwan, L. A. Bidlake and C. Rievely, will represent the V.I.A.A.; George Lewis and C. A. Hills, carry Vancouver's colors, while Gordon Willoughby, of the Y.M.C.A., and Dave Barclay for the Elks.

The programme has been well arranged for the Elks' annual gala, and the sailors from H.M.S. Curlew and the Naval Barracks have agreed to take part. The Curlew will provide a water polo team to oppose the Elks. The sailors have played in several American ports and have a cracking good team.

Large entries have been received for the many events on the programme, which is as follows: 50 yards, boys, open; 100 yards, breaststroke for United Services; 100 yards, men's B. C. championship; 50 yards, ladies; Club novelty; 50 yards, backstroke; United Services relay; 200 yards, boys, open; Boys' club; 200 yards, relay, open; Obstacle race; C. Diving championship; Water polo; Duck chase; Officers' gig race, Royal Navy vs. Royal Canadian Navy; Stokers' gig vs. Royal Navy vs. Royal Canadian Navy; Cutters' obstacle race, boys of H. M. S. Curlew vs. boys of the R.C.N. Barracks; Skiff motor fight, H.M.C.S. Patriotican, H.M.S. Curlew and R.C.N. Barracks.

The Sandman Story For To-night.

MR. FOX AND NEIGHBOR DOG
 Mr. Fox named him Neighbor because Mr. Dog lived at the farm-house nearest to Mr. Fox's home. But Mr. Fox did not like the name. He didn't mind a bit making all the visits, he used to tell Neighbor Dog from the other side of the barnyard fence—"and, of course, you can't call me, Neighbor," he would say, "because you do not know where I live. Ha, ha, ha!"

This would make Neighbor Dog very angry, of course, and he would tell Mr. Fox that if ever he caught him he would show him how sharp his teeth were.

Barking dogs never bite, I have heard it said. Mr. Fox would reply, "You bark a great deal, Neighbor."

If only master would let me go unchained during the day when he is away," Mr. Dog would sigh, "I would catch that saucy fellow and save the poultry."

Mr. Dog knew well enough why he was chained. He ran away when there was no one at home, so the poultry would suffer any way, was the way the farmer looked at it. Mr. Fox always seemed to know when Mr. Dog was chained and the farmer had gone to town and those were the times when he was very angry and such taunting things to Mr. Dog.

But one day Mr. Dog saw Mr. Man getting ready for a drive to town and he ran away and hid until he heard the wheels of his Master's wagon go creaking down the road. Yes, he heard his whistle calling him but Mr. Dog did not mind this time. He had a plan in his head which he intended to try even if he got a whipping from his Master afterward.

By and when the wheel sounds were far away out, crept Mr. Dog from under the steps and pecked around. Then he half crawled and half walked through the barnyard and crept under the fence.

There was an old barrel lying beside the fence and into this Mr. Dog crawled and waited for Mr. Fox to call.

He did not have long to wait. Pretty soon Mr. Fox came trotting along and when he reached the place, where he knew Mr. Dog's house was on the other side of the fence, he jumped up and leaned on his front paw.

"Howdy, Neighbor Dog, howdy," he said. "Are you asleep. Neighbor Dog? You ought to be outside your house this beautiful day—fine day for the race. Human race, you know, ha, ha, ha." Mr. Fox started to laugh at his own joke, but it was cut short, so short he almost choked.

Mr. Dog had waited until Mr. Fox was so intent upon making him hear thinking he was inside the dog house that he was not listening for sounds. And then he came from his hiding place and sprang on Mr. Fox's back.

Over tumbled Mr. Fox with Mr. Dog clinging to him. They rolled and tumbled, but Mr. Fox managed to break away, and how he ran!

There was nothing to do but to take refuge in his own house, a thing Mr. Fox never did unless driven to it, and this was one of the times he was in. In he went and Mr. Dog nipped one hind foot as he disappeared inside his doorway. "I have come to call, Mr. Fox," said Mr. Dog. "You see I know where you live and I shall be very neatly tied to you. Can assure you. And all the time he was

Lloyd-Graeme Speaks of Condition of Britain's Trade Urges Development of Resources of Empire

London, July 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Speaking in the House of Commons yesterday during the debate on the Board of Trade estimates, Sir Phillip Lloyd-Graeme, President of the Board, pointed out that Great Britain's export trade at the beginning of 1922 showed a deficit of thirty-five per cent, as compared with the pre-war trade. By the beginning of 1923 the deficit had dropped to twenty per cent.

"I think I had better change my visiting list," mused Mr. Fox as he rested under some bushes. "Neighbor Dog may get bothersome and call too often now he has found where I live, so I'll cross his name off and make my calls on the other side of the hill."

When his master found him he was still digging for Mr. Fox, and because he had worked so hard Mr. Man only patted his head when at last he called him out. "He got away, old fellow," he said, "but you have crept him, so he will do no more calling around our barnyard, we may be certain of that."

CHIEF OF POLICE ANSWERS CHARGE

Manitoba Officer Accused of Robbery With Violence

Selkirk, Man., July 19.—Alex. Martin, chief of police, and Robert Ramsay, of the Lisgar Hotel, will appear in provincial police court next Wednesday to answer charges of robbery, robbery with violence, and conspiracy. Martin has been suspended until the charges are disposed of.

It is alleged that on June 4, Martin and Ramsay conspired and used violence in robbing Gaston F. Gatin and Miller, wasn't it?"

"Miller has been my political bete noir for years," he confessed. "To me he represents the ignominious pacifist, whereas to him representing the sabre-rattling jingo. I got the best of it while the war was on. Today it seems to me that he has an undue share of influence in the country."

"Who are the men who really represent what you and I would understand as Labor?" she asked. "That is too difficult a question to answer offhand," he replied. "Personally, I have come to the conclusion that Labor is unrepresentative—Labor as a cause. There are too many of the people yet who haven't vision."

"They passed into the cool, granular, unexcited hall. She pointed to an easy-chair by the side of which was set, on a small mahogany table, a silver cocktail shaker and two glasses."

"Please be as comfortable as you can," she begged, "for a quarter of an hour. If you like to wash, a touch of the hand there will bring Mortor. I must change my clothes. I had to ride out to one of the outlying farms this morning, and we came back rather quickly."

She moved about the hall as she spoke, putting little things to rights. Then she passed up the circular staircase. At the head she looked back and caught him watching her. She waved her hand with a little less than her usual frankness. Tallente had forgotten for a moment his whereabouts, his father's lawns, his weariness. He had turned around in his chair and was watching her. She found something in the very intensity of his gaze disturbingly vaguely analogous to certain half-formed thoughts of her own.

She called out some light remark, scoffed at herself, and ran lightly out the door, calling to her maid as she went.

Luncheon was served in a small room at the back of the house. Through the wide-fung French windows was a vista of terraced walks, the two sunken tennis lawns, a walled garden leading into an orchard, and beyond, the great wood-hung cleft in the hills, on either side of which the pastoral fields, like little squares, stretched away upwards. From here there was no trace of the more barren, unkindlier side of the moorland. The succession of rich colors merged at last into a dim, pearly blue where sky and cloud met, in the golden haze of the August heat, a haze more like a sort of transparent fineness than anything which really obscured.

Lady Jane, whose gift of femininity had triumphed over her farm clothes, seemed to Tallente to convey a curious mingled impression of restfulness and delicate charm in her cool, white muslin dress, low at the neck, the Paquin-made garment of an Aphrodite. She talked to him with all the charm of an accomplished hostess, and yet with the occasional fascinating reserve of the woman who finds her companion something more than ordinarily sympathetic.

The butler served them unattended from the sideboard, but before luncheon was half-way through they dispersed with his services.

"I suppose it has occurred to you by this time, Mr. Tallente," she said, as she watched the coffee in a glass machine by her side, "that I am a very unconventional person."

"Whatever you are," he replied, "I am grateful for it."

"Cryptic, but with quite a nice sort of sound about it," she observed, smiling. "Tell me honestly, though, was nothing like as good now as it was last January. Sir Phillip stressed the vital necessity of getting stable conditions, and also the necessity for a steady and bold policy in developing imperial resources in the Dominions and colonies. Economic necessities pointed to the need of bringing raw materials from countries other than those to which the British were debtors.

"I think I had better change my visiting list," mused Mr. Fox as he rested under some bushes. "Neighbor Dog may get bothersome and call too often now he has found where I live, so I'll cross his name off and make my calls on the other side of the hill."

When his master found him he was still digging for Mr. Fox, and because he had worked so hard Mr. Man only patted his head when at last he called him out. "He got away, old fellow," he said, "but you have crept him, so he will do no more calling around our barnyard, we may be certain of that."

H. G. WELLS FAMOUS OUTLINE OF HISTORY

The Catastrophe of 1914
 U-Boats, Zeppelins and Gothas

For a year and a half, until July, 1916, the western front remained in a state of indecisive tension. There were occasional successes, but these ended in bloody repulses. The French made costly but glorious thrusts at Arras and in Champagne in 1915, the British at Loos. From Switzerland to the North Sea there ran two continuous lines of entrenchment, sometimes at a distance of a mile or more, sometimes at a distance of a few feet (at Arras, etc.), and in and behind these lines of trenches millions of men toiled, raided their enemies and prepared for sanguinary and foredoomed offensives.

In any preceding age these stagnant masses of men would have engendered a pestilence inevitably, but here again modern science had altered the conditions of warfare. Certain novel diseases appeared, trench feet for instance, caused by prolonged standing in cold water; new forms of dysentery and the like, but none developed to an extent to disable either combatant force.

Behind this front the whole life of the belligerent nations was being turned more and more to the task of maintaining supplies of food, munitions, and above all, men to supply the places of those who day by day were killed or maimed.

The Germans had had the luck to possess a considerable number of big siege guns intended for the frontier fortresses; these were now available for trench smashing with high explosive, a use no one had foreseen for them. The allies throughout the first years were markedly inferior in their supply of big guns and ammunition, and their losses were steadily greater than the German.

Mr. Asquith, the British prime minister, thought a very good practitioner in all the arts of Parliament, was wanting in creative ability; and it is probably due to the push and hustle of Mr. Lloyd George (who presently ousted him in December, 1916) and the clamor of the British Press; that this inferiority of supplies was eventually rectified.

"They Shall Not Pass!" There was a tremendous German onslaught upon the French throughout the first half of 1916 round and about Verdun. The Germans suffered enormous losses and were held, after pushing in the French lines for some miles. The French losses were as great or greater. "Ils ne passeront pas," said and sang the French infantry—and kept their word.

The Eastern German front was more extended and less systematically entrenched than the western. For a time the Russian armies continued to press westward in spite of the Tannenberg disaster. They conquered nearly the whole of Galicia on the Austrians, took Lemberg on September 2, 1914, and the great fortress of Przemyel on March 23, 1915.

But after the Germans had failed to break the western front of the allies, and after an ineffective allied offensive made without purpose—merely the turning of the Russian front, a series of heavy blows, with a novel use of massed artillery, were struck in the south and then at the north of the Russian front. On June 22, Przemyel was retaken, and the whole Russian line was driven back until Vilna (September 2) was in German hands.

In May, 1915 (23d), Italy joined the allies and declared war upon Austria. (Not until a year later did she declare war on Germany.) She pushed over her eastern boundary toward Gorizia (which fell in the Summer of 1916), but her intervention was of little use at that time if either Russia or the two western powers were merely established another line of trench warfare among the high mountains of her picturesque northern frontier.

While the main fronts of the chief combatants were in the state of exhaustive deadlock, both sides were attempting to strike round behind the front of their adversaries. The Germans made a series of Zeppelin raids upon Paris and the east of England.

Constantly these aimed at depots, munitions works and the like targets of military importance, but practically these were now available for trench smashing with high explosive, a use no one had foreseen for them. The allies throughout the first years were markedly inferior in their supply of big guns and ammunition, and their losses were steadily greater than the German.
