230.033(23 May 51)ESS/FIN, Memo for Rec., Subj: Japanese Navy Wartime Order for Machine Tools from Switzerland (cont'd)

4. DA by letter dated 14 March 1951 (Restricted) forwarded copies of letters from Mr. George Santry, 10 East 40th Street, New York, N.Y., together with inclosures which included a list of subject tools with prices in Swiss Francs but which did not include specification details. DA letter stated DA would be pleased to endeavor to obtain such additional information as might be required and in any event would appreciate advice as to SCAP's ultimate decision in the matter.

5. DA's radio 43895 dated 12 May 1951 requested information as to present status of case and that reply be expedited.

6. The attached radio reply to DA states:

a. That settlement of subject acount should await peace treaty decisions;

b. That it is not considered appropriate that negotiations be initiated for settlement of account against YSB balances in Switzerland. That to do so would result in preferential treatment of subject claim and would also be questionable from point of view of YSB Liquidation;

c. Description of tools has been given to JG which states question of import against Japan's free foreign exchange under study and that JG will give definite answer later with advice to DA.

Z-14369 For OOA (Dr. Reid). Subject is Customs Valuation of Imports from Japan.

1. Please pass to U. S. Customs Bureau (L. P. Johnson). Japanese Government has prepared draft of proposed amendments to commodity tax law in connection with U. S. Customs Bureau valuation of Japanese exports into the United States. Substance of proposed amendments are the following:

a. Commodity tax redefined as tax on consumers.

b. Consumers are defined as individuals who buy commodities for purposes other than sale or resale or for processing.

c. Tax is billed separately on all invoices.

d. Tax is based on manufacturer's charges(first distribution stage).

e. Tax is paid in advance by manufacturer (first distribution stage).

Pertinent provisions of Japanese Commodity Tax Law amended are as follows:

Article 3, paragraph 2. "The commodity tax imposed on the commodities under Class I or II shall be borne by a person who consumes such commodities in the enforcement area of this Law (referred to as the consumer; hereinafter the same). The consumer under the preceding paragraph shall be defined as a person who purchases commodities for a purpose other than sale or resale, or for processing in his own enterprise, or to have them processed by another party by consignment."

Article 4, paragraph 2. "In case a person who buys or sells the commodities under Class I or II intends to settle the account relating to the transaction of the said commodities, he shall settle the account on separating the amount of consideration for such commodities from the amount of commodity tax."

Article 16, paragraph 4. "A manufacturer or seller of the commodities under Class I or II shall indicate separately, as may be prescribed by Order, the price and the commodity tax amount of the commodities under Class I or II to be sold; provided that, the same shall not be required where the price of commodities under Class I or II to be sold is less than 10,000 yen and, moreover, the manufacturer or seller of such commodities fails to indicate the price of the commodities."

FROM SCAP TO DA WASH ESS/IR WFM/KPS/my

Article 16, paragraph 5. "In case a manufacturer or seller of the commodities under Class I or II sold commodities under Class I or II to other person than the consumer, he shall issue to a purchaser the voucher certifying such fact (referred to as selling invoice; hereinafter the same) in which the price and quantity of such commodities and the amount of commodity tax are stated separately; provided that the same shall not apply to cases where the price of commodities sold is less than ¥10,000 and, moreover, the manufacturer or seller of such commodities failed to prepare the selling invoice."

2. Request earliest reply as to whether Japanese Government's proposed amendments will permit Japanese exports to the United States to be valued by U. S. Customs exclusive of Japanese internal commodity tax. Japanese Government may submit proposed amendments in present Diet session which is scheduled to end 28 May.

Ref Part 5 urmsg DA 87865, 7 Apr, the following comment is made.

Part 1. Concur that no problem exists if peace treaty is concluded prior to redeployment of troops from Korea.

Part 2. In the event that redeployment of a substantial portion of the Korean forces occurs prior to the peace treaty, it still appears mandatory that such material increase over the existing strength be supported wholly with a US appropriation.

Part 3. It is estimated that an increase of 100,000 troops in Japan would result in an increased cost of approximately $106,817,255 or 38.45 billion yen, tabulated by appropriation as follows. Column one is appropriation; column two is TOW-type increase.

SFE	$ 1,270,143
FSA	150,000
QSA (less WEMA)	9,153,070
QSA (WEMA)	3,775,695
SSA	6,723,535
M&HD/A	364,100
ESA	70,345,793
OSSA	4,791,658
AT	590,445
TSA	9,652,816
Total	$106,817,255

Part 4. In the event the Japanese Government were required to provide for a 50% share it would be necessary to go to the Japanese Diet for an additional appropriation of approximately 20 billion yen, which is considered not only unwise but probably economically unattainable.

DEPTAR msg, DA 87865, 7 Apr, states in par 5: "If redeployment of Korean forces will not be concluded until after treaty is signed, no pre-treaty problem of increased forces appears likely however do you consider it advisable to assume increases wholly with US apprns? It appears that if US apprns are used to pay for any increases in US troops in Japan above planned FY 52 strengths for those items that are listed in Part 2 of URMSG, such action might affect treaty negotiations and hamper a smooth transition into post treaty pay as you go plan; further would create difficult problems of audit and administration."

MEMO FOR RECORD:

1. Request to change the departure time of the courier planes to one hour later was made by Capt Stemmer, 1503d ATW MATS, who stated that the Pacific Div schedules had already been published and that changing to Daylight Saving Time made that schedule incorrect for GCT. Capt Stemmer stated in his opinion it was to the advantage of most GHQ sections to have the courier plane depart an hour later since the couriers would have more time to collect the various material which they must carry, and delays in departures would be less frequent.

2. Major Thompson stated that G-4 had no objection to changing the time of courier flights to K-2 and K-9 as stated. Major Thompson stated that he conversed with the following persons and there were no objections to the change in time.

Lt Col McCown	-	C/S &SGS
Major Freer	-	G-3
Lt Col Maykovich	-	G-2
Lt Col Pederson	-	G-1
Lt Col Carpenter	-	AG Strength Accounting
Lt Col Castegneto	-	AG Operations Div
Lt Col Nash	-	AG Mail & Records
Major Agnew	-	" " " "
W.O.Hedglin	-	AG Casualty

Of the above persons, Lt Col Maykovich, G-2, stated to Major Thompson that an hour later departure would be more convenient.

3. Major Bass, GHQ Trans Sec, talked to Lt Col Graves, Trans Sec, Army Eight, who stated that Army Eight had no objection to an hour later departure of the GHQ courier flights. In fact, Col Graves stated that the hour later departure would be better suited for Army Eight's operations.

4. Lt Col Aaron (FEAF Opns) stated that FEAF had no objections to an hour later departure of the GHQ Courier flights.

5. All persons mentioned in Para 2 of the M/R plus Lt Col Graves, Army Eight, Major Cakalic, TOKPAC and Capt Stemmer, MATS have been notified verbally of the new schedule.

Reurmsg DA 90060, 3 May 51. This msg in 2 parts.

Part I. Concur in your proposed text.

Part II. It is earnestly recommended that this press announcement be released at once for the following reasons:

a. The Japanese Government needs considerable time in which to implement its portion of new responsibility, and until this subject can be declassified, no arrangements can be made with Japanese Government officials at this end.

b. A further delay may cause this announcement to be anticlimatical, thereby losing much of the political advantage that this action should create. Evidence available here indicates that the Japanese have already learned a good deal about this program by piecing together fragmentary information. Any current Japanese version of the US plan would necessarily be distorted and might result either in undue alarm regarding the nature of the proposal or in a later disappointment once the actual plan becomes known.

For CSUSA.

1. Reference urmsg DA-85310, dated 9 March 1951 in which you request comments on Treasury Department Memorandum dated 22 February 1951 subject, Proposed Financial Arrangements for Handling the Overseas Costs of U.S. Armed Forces (including military procurement).

2. The objectives of the Treasury memorandum are understood and appreciated. As applied to Japan, however, the overall proposal as outlined is considered impractical. Specifically unsound are the proposals which would:

a. At this time set aside and reserve exclusively for the purpose indicated dollars earned as a result of the institution of partial pay-as-you-go for the local support of U.S. military forces;

b. At any time set aside and reserve exclusively for the purpose indicated dollars earned from U.S. military procurement for purposes other than local U.S. military support and;

c. Have the effect of preventing necessary increases in working capital.

3. The adoption of these proposals would create serious problems as regards Japan in at least three connections:

a. Dollar Gap - Japan is still faced with a critical dollar gap problem which is being met only through the utilization of dollars accruing from U.S. military procurement and "pay-as-you-go". As you are well aware the FY 1952 GARIOA budget request omitted any funds for economic aid for Japan on the assumption that dollars accruing from these sources would be available to meet Japan's economic requirements. Additionally, a leading argument used in securing approval of partial "pay-as-you-go" for Japan in the pre-treaty period was that there would be no additional net cost to the U.S. Under the Treasury proposal it would become necessary immediately to submit a supplemental GARIOA request for a sizeable economic aid appropriation. This might be expected to raise serious questions in the Bureau of the Budget and the Congress. Additionally, it would prolong the present unhealthy grant-in-aid concept and would work against our objective of stimulating Japan to maximize its efforts to achieve self-support.

b. Industrial Production Plan - The basic objective of this plan now being discussed with you by representatives of this headquarters is to achieve full utilization of Japan's industrial resources. This is fundamental to any effort to maximize Japan's contribution to mutual defense. Implementation of this plan would require a substantial increase in the volume of imports largely from the U.S. and other dollar areas. If Japan's earnings from U.S. military purchases are to be made available only in the form of military end items Japan would be unable to secure necessary dollars to replace the imported raw materials entering into the purchased products. The net result would be to force Japan to discontinue such production thereby reducing her participation in Western mobilization. Some part of the productive capacity available for this purpose could be diverted to other exports. Opportunities are quite limited however for any substantial increases in other dollar earnings. Japan's dollar resources would be inadequate to secure the dollar imports required for production at levels permitting economic self-support, much less any significant contribution to its own defense.

It must also be pointed out that increased imports in the volume required to implement this production plan must be supported by increased working capital, primarily in the form of dollars. Since it is assumed that Japan will receive at least military assistance, the Treasury policy to prevent such assistance from resulting in increased holding of gold or dollars would preclude the accumulation by Japan of the needed working capital.

c. Military Establishment - Japan has not been authorized to date to create any military forces. It would appear most untimely to impound earnings of Japan and earmark them exclusively for military use prior to the negotiation of a mutual defense agreement. Not only might Japan consider such action to be unwarranted and unjust but it could also be interpreted as a device to force Japan's hand. This may well complicate already rather delicate negotiations re Japanese peace treaty with countries concerned about Japan's defense force. This device would also tend to cause Japan to attempt to maintain a defense organization in excess of her economic ability to support.

4. The fullest consideration must be given to the present economic and political situation of Japan. The preclusion of normal trade relations with China and Manchuria occasioned largely by political influences of the United States is a tangible deterrent to the closing of Japan's dollar gap by virtue of the fact that these sources of cheap non-dollar primary raw materials are denied. Japan is well prepared psychologically and politically to face the termination of American aid in light of anticipated earning increases attendant with U.S. procurement in Japan. Since the continuation of procurement for the Korean effort is of uncertain duration, the development of an integrated production plan which would permit Japan to participate in Western defense programs on a normal commercial basis has become an increasingly important factor in Japanese efforts to attain a condition of self-support. Should such earnings not accrue promptly to Japan in accord with standard practices there would undoubtedly develop interior economic pressures to resume trade with Communist China which could well be attended by strong movements of local dissonant elements to achieve political reorientation with the Communist orbit.

5. It appears that without sacrificing the basic objectives the Treasury proposal could be modified in a manner susceptible of application to Japan. It is suggested that consideration be given to:

(a) Limiting the application of the Treasury proposal to govern U.S. procurement made for the local support of the U.S. military forces in Allied countries participating in a mutual defense agreement with the U.S., and receiving U.S. military aid.

(b) Revising Treasury proposal to permit cash established in proposed suspense account to be made available to meet dollar gap requirements to the extent considered necessary to maintain economic equilibrium. A decision to extend such cash for this purpose should be related not only to a judgment regarding need but also to a determination as to the most desirable method of administering economic aid.

(c) Modifying policy regarding gold and dollar reserves of countries receiving U.S. assistance to permit increases in working capital to support trade and production programs essential to the implementation of mutual defense efforts or the maintenance of economic stability.

For your information, SCAP has decided to support Japanese Govt decision to restrict use of the Palace Plaza Tokyo for public assemblage. Press release issued 1600I 27 April 1951 as follows:

"The Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers today announced that he desires and expects all organizations in Japan to comply with existing restrictions imposed by the Japanese Government on the use of the Palace Plaza for public assemblage.

"This announcement has been occasioned by a careful investigation within General Headquarters of the current controversy reported in the press between the Japanese Government and the General Council of Japan Labor Unions (SOHYO) with regard to use of the Palace Plaza for a May Day labor rally.

"The basic elements of the situation are that the Japanese Government by administrative action has determined that the use of the Palace Plaza for assemblies other than those of a national nature is not in the public interest and is therefore prohibited by administrative order. The Japanese Government has proposed to the labor organization that it should select some other place for its May Day celebration, for instance, the outer gardens of the Meiji Shrine.

"In view of this decision by the Japanese Government, any actions by individuals or groups in contravention of the existing restrictions involve risk of public disorder.

"It is the ultimate responsibility of the Supreme Commander to preserve conditions of public peace and order which will not endanger the security of the Occupation. Hence, the possibility of creation or development of situations in conflict with this basic responsibility is a matter of grave concern to the Supreme Commander.

"Notwithstanding the Supreme Commander's action in this matter, it is his desire and intent to protect the right of public assembly and to encourage the healthy growth of a free and democratic labor movement in Japan. Since the Japanese Government has made available other suitable and convenient places in Metropolitan Tokyo and other cities, it is considered that these fundamental objectives are being respected."

For FAOA. Pass for info to State Dept and OFAR, Dept of Agriculture.

1. Production of each of the major summer-harvested grains will decrease in 1951 as compared with 1950, the Japanese Crop Reporting Service indicated in a forecast released 18 April. The forecast included all Japan except Hokkaido, the northernmost prefecture. The following report excludes Hokkaido.

2. Production forecasts for 1951 and the 1950 production estimates for comparison are, in thousand metric tons: wheat 1247 and 1299; covered barley 855 and 860; naked barley 966 and 1039. These are decreases of 4.0, 0.6, and 7.0 percent respectively. Combined 1951 production is forecast at 3068 compared with 3198 in 1950, a decrease of 4.1 percent.

3. An estimated reduction in planted area accounts for the forecast of lower production. The area estimates for 1951 and 1950, in thousand hectares, are: wheat 700 and 734; covered barley 392 and 404; naked barley 531 and 572. Combined area is estimated at 1623 compared with 1710 in 1950, a decrease of 5.1

percent. The Crop Reporting Service attributes this decrease to excessive rain at fall seeding time, and diversion of grain area to other crops, chiefly rapeseed and vegetables, as result of farmers' anticipation of removal of government controls on 1951 wheat and barleys. These 1951 area estimates are based on farmer reports and observation by officials. Later surveys in May and June will use more precise sampling methods.

4. Yields in 1951 compare favorably with 1950. Estimates for 1951 and 1950, in metric tons per hectare, are: wheat 1.78 and 1.77; covered barley 2.18 and 2.13; naked barley 1.82 and 1.82 (same). Yield forecasts for 1951 are based on observation by officials, plant measurements on small sample of test fields, and meteorological data. Later yield estimates will utilize grain count and yield samples.

5. Geographically, crop condition is best in northern and eastern Japan and relatively poor in the south and west where the weather has been less favorable. Relatively high yields, compared with normal, are forecast for the Hokuriku region on the Japan Sea side, with lowest yields, comparatively, on the island of Shikoku. South and west Japan also account for most of the decrease in area.

6. In previous years the Crop Reporting Service did not release area and production estimates until about time of harvest.

asking for a revocation of the basic policy.

2. Outgoing message relates opinion here that while Mr. Hutchinson maintains that the SCAPIN should be revoked in its entirety, he will in due course accept the resolution of this issue already effected by the Japanese Govt. in postponing the scheduled prohibition for another year.

3. Incoming radio, para 1, referred to allegations by Mr. Hutchinson in letters written from Tokyo to State Dept and Senators WILEY and GILLETTE that "subordinate officials GHQ, SCAP, have informed Japanese that United States position is reaffirmed and made no reference to the power of Japanese to determine for themselves whether postponed, or modified". Outgoing radio indicates that Mr. Hutchinson has stated to USPOLAD officer that he could not substantiate these allegations.

transmitted at the request of the State Dept asking GHQ, SCAP concurrence to statement of policy in regard to Japanese application for readmittance to International Labor Organization (ILO) to be used as a basis for informal discussions to assist the State Dept in soliciting support for approval of Japan's application. The Japanese Government has been informally advised of the existing policy through verbal discussions between Mr. Amis, Chief, Labor Division, ESS, and Mr. Hori, Ministry of Labor, Japanese Government. Should it become desirable at a later date to transmit this information formally to the Japanese Government the Diplomatic Section will prepare the appropriate document. It is intended to counter the objections of U.K. representatives who have stated that in order to qualify for membership, Japan must be accorded complete freedom under the ILO constitution, including:

a. Power to vote for, ratify and implement ILO conventions and recommendations.

b. A declaration must be made by the SCAP recognizing the rights of Japan as an ILO member to undertake, within ILO framework, actions considered useful in furtherance of ILO aims.

U.K. representatives have stated that a declaration of the above nature would represent relinquishment of some powers conferred on the SCAP by Part II, paragraph 12, Basic Post-Surrender Policy, since it would make Japan autonomous internally and externally within the ILO field. While the British expressed doubts as to whether the SCAP could make such a declaration without FEC authorization, they did not appear to feel too strongly on the point, and stated they have no desire to obstruct Japan's application for admission in the ILO but were merely stressing the importance ILO attached to the competence of members to act independently.

3. LS, having studied British objections and the State Dept policy proposed, reports that the SCAP would not, through acceptance of the policy, relinquish any authority. Maintenance of adequate authority is insured through the stipulation stated in para 4c (4) below.

4. State Dept's proposed policy contains the following points:

a. The Japanese Govt is competent to assume and carry out the obligations of membership in ILO.

b. The SCAP has no objection to the assumption of such obligations by the Japanese Govt and is fully sympathetic with the desire of the Japanese Govt to participate in ILO.

Confidential

Memo for Record, contd

c. Assumption of obligations includes:

(1) Voting at ILO conferences and other meetings.

(2) Contributing to the expense of the organization.

(3) Application of ratified ILO conventions and transmission of other business and correspondence with ILO.

(4) Complete freedom with respect to ratification of additional ILO conventions except in those cases where SCAP, in line with his duties to the Allied Powers, considers that the security of those powers or the Japanese people may be involved.

(5) The SCAP's power to exercise authority in behalf of the Allied Powers for the continued security of Japan and the Japanese people should not hamper the Japanese Govt in fulfilling its obligations to the ILO.

5. No problem is anticipated in meeting the financial obligations imposed by readmission to ILO membership. ESS/CON states that although current Headquarters' policy is to defer foreign exchange payments to other countries which reflect prewar obligations of Japan, it is considered that no objection should be interposed to payment of obligations to international bodies, when the same is a condition precedent to assumption of desired Japanese membership participation.

6. It has consistently been the attitude of the SCAP that adherence to principles enunciated by ILO should be incorporated into Japanese legislation and that Japanese participation in ILO conferences should be encouraged, in preparation for the assumption by Japan of the responsibilities and eventual full membership in the organization. To this end, Japanese and SCAP observers have attended and participated in the annual conferences of ILO for the past two years and are planning to attend the 34th Session of the ILO in Geneva during Jun 51. Also, both Japanese and SCAP representatives have been present at special conferences under ILO sponsorship including: Coal Mine Committee Conference in Pittsburgh, Apr 49; Asian Regional Conference in Ceylon, Jan 50; Textile Committee Conference in Lyons, France, Nov 50; and Japanese representatives have attended other specialized conferences and technical training institutes during 1950. It is considered that full Japanese participation in ILO as soon as possible is desirable, inasmuch as it will add to the dignity of Japanese labor, serve as a weapon against Communism, as a safeguard to the freedom and gains in working conditions made by Japanese workers under the Occupation, and prevent retrogression in both the legislative framework and administration of protective labor programs after the ratification of a peace treaty.

7. While it is recognized that the propcsed policy statement might not satisfy the technicalities raised, members of the State Dept will take the position in soliciting support of other governments that the statement does meet the legal situation and that the desirability of Japanese membership on economic and political grounds outweighs possible legal doubts.

Much of these materials are of little value for their purposes, however, due to their specialized nature and limited quantities. On the other hand they would be of considerable value to the Japanese and would contribute to the fulfillment of long range Occupation objectives.

2. If legal authority can be established, request authorization to donate surplus GARIOA books and materials to Japanese public and/or private agencies in cases where they are determined to be of little value to agencies mentioned in DA 87139 or probable successor agencies.

3. Screening would also be made to determine suitability for Japanese consumption.

Memo for Record:

1. The cutter head Army suction dredge Gulfstream, while working on the channel to Naha Port, Okinawa, was blown against a sunken hull and sank on 12 April. The dredge was under the operational control of the contractor having the contract for the harbor work.

2. The funds for the Naha harbor work are FY 50 GARIOA funds which expire 30 June 52. The major portion of the dredging remains to be done and unless dredging can be resumed with minimum delay, loss of funds will occur.

3. Informal information received from the Okinawa Engineer District indicates that the dredge Sacramento is doing work for the US Navy at Sangley Point in the Philippines. This dredge is believed to be owned by the Philippine Government.

4. The urgency of the situation makes it desirable to find out whether or not the dredge Sacramento is suitable for the Okinawa work and if it can be made available.

5. Instant message to the CG PHILCOM (AF):

a. Advises that information on the availability of the dredge Sacramento for a period of 6-12 months for work on Okinawa is desired ASAP.

b. Directs contacts with Navy and Philippine Government to determine characteristics of dredge; if dredge can be made available; on what basis and cost; when and for how long; and details on transportation and related matters.

MEMO FOR RECORD:

1. Reference is made to State msg 050312 Z (TOECA 275 Mar 22), dated 5 April 1951, which states that French Ministry of Finance has approached ECA in Paris for guidance re US policy on transactions involving goods manufactured in Japan, purchased through a European - Japanese open account and sold in US markets; that French Ministry of Finance finds it difficult to refuse authorization for this type of transaction to French traders when Dutch and other governments permit such transactions; that ECA Paris feels that the French Government should not be required to forbid such transactions unless we take a similar stand with Dutch and other OEEC Governments.

2. While there is no specific provision in either the Dutch or French Trade Agreements prohibiting multilateral trade, policy has been and is to require approval by SCAP and the foreign mission concerned of any transaction in which the goods are intended for delivery to a third country. The French and Dutch Missions have always consulted SCAP whenever they have been approached with a proposal for this type of transaction. It is thoroughly understood by both Missions that transactions involving the delivery of Japanese goods procured through an open account cannot be sold in US markets. ESS/FTC/T.B has knowledge of several such transactions that have been disapproved by the Missions.

3. If the Netherlands Government Authorities have permitted re-shipment of Japanese goods without processing to the US, it is obvious that such action was taken without the knowledge of the Netherlands Mission in Japan. The Diplomatic Representatives of both the Netherlands and France are being requested to investigate the situation outlined in the msg, reference 1 above, and to remind their respective governments of the understanding which exists with respect to the sale of Japanese goods in US markets.

4. Outgoing msg to DA for State's information states that SCAP and the French and Dutch Missions are in agreement that type of transactions mentioned in State msg, reference 1 above, are not permissible; that such transactions have been disapproved by both missions here; and that an investigation is being conducted with the Trade Representatives of both countries.

Reurmsg DA 85310, 9 Mar 51, and ourmsg C 69949, 28 Nov 50. This msg in eleven parts.

Part I. In order to review the revised FY 52 requirements under this concept, it is necessary to go to major subordinate commands, including NAVFE, FEAF and MSTS for their requirements. Revised requirements will be computed on a continuation of present conditions and strengths, to include the two National Guard Divisions. Estimates will be submitted later.

Part II. Commencing 1 July 51 and in accordance with post-treaty program for Japan, propose that TOW funds will provide Occupation requirements in full for the following:

a. Real estate rentals, to include maintenance, furnishings and their maintenance, and disaster restoration.

b. Transportation, to include water and ground transportation, but exclusive of truck transportation. Japanese economy has never been able nor required to provide the latter.

c. Use of jointly used facilities, to include telephone communications, utilities (such as electricity, water and gas), ports, and airfields.

d. Packing and crating of personal effects.

e. Pending further study labor may be added to this list.

Part III. Propose that all other TOW-type Occupation costs be paid by direct procurement with U. S. appropriated funds and by yen to be delivered to the U. S. by the Japanese Government. The amount of yen to be so delivered, plus the yen expenditures under Part II, will equal the TOW-type procurement effected with U. S. appropriated funds, thus achieving the goal of each nation bearing 50% of these costs of Occupation.

COM-B ANS/nws 2 April 1951

Part IV: TOW will continue full support to BCOF and Allied Missions. This charge will not be considered in 50% balance with U. S. funds.

Part V. Should redeployment from Korea occur prior to a peace treaty, or if for any other reason not now foreseen there should be a material increase of U. S. troops in Japan, it appears mandatory that such material increase over the present strength be supported wholly with U. S. appropriations. The setting of a level of support to be required of the Japanese Government linking that to the withdrawal of economic aid and then later demanding material increase in the level of support to be required would have grave psychological and political repercussions.

Part VI. Under arrangement outlined in Parts II and III, TOW requirements for JFY 51 would be 100% Occupation support April-June, inclusive, 50% support July-March, inclusive, or total of five-eighths of TOW budget. The monetary cost of this increment is subject to increase, however, by virtue of the fact that wholesale price index now computed 23% above levels of Jun 50, which was price basis for JFY 51 TOW.

Part VII. JFY 51 budget adopted by Diet 28 Mar 51. Immediate changes are impracticable.

Part VIII. No independent disclosure of the elimination of GARIOA economic aid for Japan will be made here.

Part IX. It is considered politically inexpedient for Japanese to pay all TOW-type costs with U. S. making a 50% reimbursement periodically, since it would appear that the Japanese are paying twice as much as they actually will be, due to the requirement that the Diet appropriate the gross amount.

Part X. Comment on a tentative Treasury Department proposal for International Suspense Account will be made by separate radio.

Part XI. Request approval of assumption Part I and proposals Parts II, III and IV.

For SAOOA OAGO. Subject is Zaibatsu Trade Names and Trade-Marks.

1. In accordance with paragraph 6 ourmsg C 57132, JG was informed that SCAPIN 1923 would remain outstanding for its guidance, that the JG had full authority and responsibility to determine appropriate action to be taken regarding Zaibatsu trade names and trade-marks in specific cases, and that statement of intent was desired earliest.

2. Decision of JG was to postpone effective date of outstanding JG orders for one year from 30 Jun 51, stating that ". . . it is considered most desirable as well as advisable to postpone enforcement of the provisions of Cabinet Orders Nos. 7 and 8 that will become effective on 30 Jun 51 for further one year so that we can review the whole situation in the future when stabilization of Japanese economy is effected."

3. Upon receipt of above statement JG was informed that there was no objection to proposed action. Amendments of JG Orders are currently in progress.

MEMO FOR RECORD:

1. Tsumugi Silk is a "homespun" yarn woven fabric, being particularly desired by the Japanese for the manufacture of men's and women's kimonos. The Okinawa-made Tsumugi is dyed with fast vegetable dyes not available in Japan, and for that reason it is preffered over the Japanese-made Tsumugi. There are no impediments to the importation of this fabric if Japanese importers are willing to purchase it.

2. There is presently no Japanese restriction on the importation of this type fabric, other than duties applicable under Japanese customs laws. Current customs regulations permit the import of Tsumugi Silk duty free for a period of one year, expiring 31 December 1951, with proposal for extention of duty free status to be presented to the Japanese Diet in the near future. The allocation of necessary funds for the purchase of Tsumugi Silk by Japanese importers will be made available by the Japanese Foreign Exchange Control Board, in recognition of Japan's sales to the Ryukyus which far exceed dollar imports from the Ryukyus into Japan.

At 1700, 26 Feb 51 the Chairman of the NRC accompanied by Mr. Okazaki informed CCS (Col. Kunz, Messrs. Hence, the 2 individual companies would rely on their applications for license to operate private broadcasting stations in Osaka. The inability of the Commission to make a decision between the two companies would require a public hearing. For SAOOA OAEC. Urmsg DA 83770 Feb 51. Subj Rehab of Somali Salt Works.

1. Pre-war Japan relied on Mediterranean Red Sea sources for approximately 50% of her salt imports and on East Asia for the balance. Salt imports from Somalia compared with total Japanese salt imports in metric tons as follows:

Year	Somalia	Total Japanese Imports
1934	208,000	1,229,000
1935	202,000	1,183,000
1936	152,000	1,270,000
1937	107,000	1,742,000
1938	92,000	1,751,000
1939	100,000	1,858,000
1940	27,000	1,751,000

2. With imports of salt from main-land China, her principal East Asian supplier, now virtually negligible, Japan must at present rely on other sources to meet her annual salt import requirement of approximately 1,200,000 metric tons. No salt has been imported from Somalia since 1940, and rehab of Somali works will be definitely of interest to Japan since such development may mean increased quantities at competitive prices. Assuming supply, competitive prices and satisfactory basis for trade presently estimated Japan would be a market for Somali salt of minimum 200,000 metric tons annually.

3. Trade info here that private British interests also investigating investment possibilities in Somali Works as a source of salt for Japan.

1. Reference para 2 urmsg. There is agreement as to need for close coordination and detailed planning between agencies now concerned and those which will carry on SCAP-CIE program in post-Treaty period. Such coordination and planning in Japan will require qualified State Department personnel in sufficient numbers and for sufficient period to study carefully all aspects of current SCAP-CIE program, determine what parts are to be continued, work out long range plans, and insure orderly transfer of these activities with no break in program. State Department personnel should include but not necessarily be limited to the following: highly qualified info specialists in various media fields; audio visual specialists; information center specialists; educationists; supply specialist; budget and financial specialists, et cetera. Since many SCAP-CIE activities currently are supported in large part by counterpart yen which will not be available in post-Treaty period, long range financial planning should receive special attention.

2. Reference para 3 urmsg. Concur in statement that capable experienced personnel should continue to handle CIE program in post-Treaty period and that pre-transfer coordination should take place in fields indicated as well as other fields. Such coordination is contingent upon availability of State Department personnel noted part 1 above. Since urmsg indicates 3 to 6 months required for USIE clearance, planning of future program and selection of personnel for post-Treaty period should start at earliest possible date. As noted para 1, above, budget planning is of special and immediate importance.

3. Reference para 4 urmsg. Since continuing success of SCAP-CIE program depends in large measure upon stateside backstopping, it is considered here that pre-Treaty transfer of any part of these functions to an agency other than DA inevitably would result in divided responsibility and possible confusion making for inefficiency both ends. If it is agreed, as stated para 1, urmsg, that CIE program in Japan must remain responsibility of SCAP until Peace Treaty becomes effective, it is difficult to understand why ZI activity in support of this program should not remain DA responsibility for similar period. It is considered that the same coordination envisaged urmsg for Japan could be carried on also by state-side agencies involved until actual transfer of over-all responsibility is effected.

4. Ref para 5 urmsg. Following are tentative recommendations as to phases of present CIE program which should be continued in the post-Treaty USIE program:

a. Information Center program should be continued at present or higher level.

b. Documentary Film program should be continued at present level.

c. Exhibits program should be continued at present or higher level.

d. General info activities, including present Policies and Programs Branch, should be continued at level to be determined in planning conference with State Department representative.

e. Press and publications, including magazine unit, activities should be continued at approximately present level.

f. Educational activities, including exchange of persons, should be continued at level to be decided in planning conference. Above recommendations tentative and not to be considered definitive or conclusive. Final recommendations will be made after planning conferences.

For SAOOA OAGC. URMSG DA 82682 February 1951 and DA 83769 February 1951.

1. Since the charges filed with the UN Secretary by three Communist-controlled labor organizations are essentially the same as those made by the Soviet member in the Allied Council meeting of 20 December 1950, believe that for this Headquarters or the Japanese Government to agree to discuss these charges with the UN at this time would serve no useful purpose but would merely facilitate the airing in the UN of Communist propaganda against the Occupation for consumption in Japan and elsewhere. The frequent efforts made by this Headquarters and the US Government to have Japan integrated in basic international organizations have so far ended in failure. Until Japan is so integrated there can be no reasonable basis for subjecting her to critical discussions by bodies in which she is not permitted membership and which have not the slightest jurisdiction over her by virture of any existing convention or agreement. When and if Japan is admitted to membership she will of course accept full responsibility for the obligations thereby entailed and at that time the subject matter may be properly introduced.

2. Recommend, therefore, that the United States take the position in the UN:

a. that since the matters in question are subject to the policy decisions of the Far Eastern Commission, every one of whose members is represented here and enjoys complete opportunity to inspect these matters, the investigation of subject charges by the UN through direct communication with this Headquarters and the Japanese Government would create a conflict of authority;

b. that there is grave question whether SCAP, as the executive authority representing the thirteen members of the FEC, could properly yield to the jurisdiction of another international body in matters covered by policy decisions of the FEC;

Confidential

c. that most of the allegations deal with Occupation matters which find their origin in decisions of the FEC, whose authority it is the plain purpose of the present effort to by-pass in order to air these matters before a totally different international body which has assumed no jurisdiction whatsoever over the Occupation of Japan;

d. that only a small fraction of these allegations deal with labor matters and these have already been discussed within the FEC, attesting the latter's jurisdiction therein (see URMSG W 96109, 9 November 1950 and OURMSG C 68808, 12 November 1950);

e. that discussion of the other allegations by UN labor organizations is an attempt by the latter to arrogate jurisdiction in areas which have not the remotest connection with labor matters for which they are presumably constituted; and

f. that since substantially the same allegations have been made and disposed of in the Allied Council for Japan, their proposed discussion in the UN would serve no constructive purpose but on the contrary would offer the mouthpieces of Communist propaganda another forum in which to air slanderous attacks against the Occupation.
