

BROWN MAJOR CAMPBELL
CALHOUN TIMES SEPT 7, 1893

Major Campbell Brown, probably the wealthiest live stock breeder in Tennessee, committed suicide at Grand Rapids, Mich., Wednesday, by shooting himself through the head with a .82-caliber revolver. Major Brown has suffered from mental trouble for five years and treatment has been without permanent benefit. SEPT 7, 1893