E SSEN, Jan. 22.—More than 10,000 miners in the Ruhr coal fields, in addition to thousands of German railway workers, quit work today in protest against French occupation. Although the German workers adopted a policy of "passive resistance" in open defiance of French orders to continue at work, there had been no disorders up to this hour. The French attempted to placate the population by elaxing military control. German officials declared: "Our defense is functioning." The Germans claimed two "bloodless victories," as follows: First-Release of Director Ahrens, one of the Prussian state owned mines, on $5 bail. Second-Withdrawal of French troops from the occupied branches of the Reichsbank in Rhineland

The French have promised not to interfere with the Reichsbank branches in the future. General De Goutte refused to release Fritz Thyssen.

Thyssen and other coal magnates were arrested Saturday, although the Germans are threatening a general strike unless they are liberated.

Sneezing In a Foreign Language

Sneezing in a foreign language is as intelligible as any other elemental sound. Everybody knows its meaning, but in the northern countries of Europe a sneeze is more treasured than anywhere else, and the one who sneezes is considered blessed.

But in almost all of North America, where nose colds are common, and sneezing occurs at a certain stage of the development of such colds, the sneeze has come to be taken as a sign. One who sneezes is told, "you're catching cold." Nose colds are annoying and exasperating, but not painful. Some never catch cold, others are always going from one cold to another. The cause is under elimination. It may be the liver, the kidneys, or the lungs, or it may be any two of them, or all three in combination, and the only way to remove the cause is by combination, and the only way to remove the cause is by chiropractic spinal adjustments. Fort Sam Houston Biggest Army Post

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 22.-Historic Fort Sam Houston, cynosure of the military world since its recent consolidation with Camp Travis here, is now the largest military post in the United States Judge and Mrs. Owen C. Emery mander of the Eighth Corps area, of which this post is headquarters, is authority for this information. It has been disclosed that virtually every man connected prom nently with the achievements of the United States army during the last sixty-five years, has served at this post at some time or other during his career.

In the historic old clock tower. situated in the center of the quadrangle, can be found, written and carved on the winding stairs that lead to the balcony, names as Robert E. Lee, John J. Pershing, Frederick Dent Grant, Frederick Funston, August Thomis, Phil Sheridan and scores of others.

If one would have luck while in the service it is essential that one's name be scribbled or carved some place in or near the tower is a traditional superstition with army men here.

Many of the names of army officers now enshrined in the hearts of Americans as a result of brave deeds performed on the battlefield were made legible when their owners were "shavetails," or second lieutenants, just from school.
