5. COUNTER INTELLIGENCE:

Negative.

6. MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS:

a. On 15 December 1945 an officer of this Regiment, acting upon a report that swords and knives were being offered for sale at Sogo Department Store, Osaka City, investigated and submitted the following report:

The officer, 1stLt. F. M. Watson, declares that he personally examined five (5) assorted types of bladed weapons, average price of which was 250 Yen each. The swords were brought out from a hiding place in the souvenir department, 2nd floor, of the Sogo Department Store. No action was taken at the time.

b. Acting upon verbal instructions from Captain Hyde, G-2 section, 98th Division, an investigation was made of a possible grave location of an Allied flyer. The following report of the findings is submitted:

The grave is located on the left bank of the Kashii Gawa (River) about fifty (50) yards from the mouth of the river, coordinates (1028.2 - 1258.5), near the town of Okada (1028.1 - 1257.6). Four newly cut sticks and a strand of new rope mark the grave. The grave is only a few inches below the surface of the earth and is covered by four planks and two large stones.

Mr. Iomaji YAMADA, Odada town office representative, stated that he had not seen the body but had been told that the face bones were visible, all hair was missing, and only shoes and straps (believed to be from a parachute) were on the body. When the body was found, Hisato TANAKA, policeman, notified the Kempei-Tai at Sano who took charge of the burial. TANAKA is now stationed at Otsu Police Station and could not be located at the time of the investigation. Mr. Seichi IMAI, living at Shintachi Cho, Makino, Ichiba, witnessed the burial but was not at home at the time of the inquiry.

No information could be obtained concerning dogtags or other identification.

6. MISCELIANEOUS MATTERS:

For supplemental report on graves of Allied personnel found on Awaji-Shima the following letter is submitted. See paragraph 6, Report No. 54, 6 Dec 45, for information on original investigation.

Letter submitted to this Headquarters by Captain Fuller, Medical Detachment, 389th Infantry:

5 Dec 1945

Subject: Further investigations of graves of U. S. Army Air Corps personnel on Awaji Shima, Japan.

To: Commanding Officer, 389th Infantry.

Further investigations of two additional graves of U. S. Army Air Corps personnel on Awaji Shima were made on 5 Dec 1945 by Capt. John B. Fuller, Med Det, 389th Inf., and Mr. Akira H. OCDAIRA of the Kobe Army Personnel Office (Kobe Rentarku Shireibu).

We went first to the village of Shiota on the east coast of Awaji Shima and contacted Mr. Kiyoshi Tada, who is in charge of the sanitary section of Shiota Village. He accompanied us to the Heianura Section of Aiga Village (adjoining Shiota Village) where there is a Special Cemetery for Unknown Bodies. This cemetery is about one mile south of Shiota Village, near the beach.

Here there are two adjacent graves with wooden markers over them. On both markers are written the words, "Tomb of unkown soldier of Allied forces", in Japanese, and one is dated 19 June 1945 and the other 23 Aug 1945.

We were told by Mr. Tada that on 19 June 1945 a body was discovered by civilians on the beach near Shiota. This body was examined by a Japanese doctor who estimated that death had occurred one week previously. Age was estimated at about 24 years and height was measured at 5 ft. 4 in. The body was clad in a U. S. Army type fliers jacket and an unopened parachute was strapped on the back. The police of Shizuki Village retained the dogtags, parachute, and other personal possessions. The body and clothing were cremated and the remaining bones were buried that same day (19 June 1945) in the grave to the right facing Osaka.

After obtaining the above information, Mr. Ocdaira and I then went to Shizuki Village and contacted Mr. Sakakita, Chief of Police of Shizuki. He reported that an officer of the Yura Military Police Unit visited the Shizuki police office a few days after 19 June and took the personal possessions, dogtags and parachute to Yura. At that time Mr. Sakakitawas not stationed at Shizuki, and he told us that his predecessor who was chief of police at Shizuki on 19 June is now in Kobe and could be contacted by Mr. Ocdaira for further information.

Mr. Tada, of Shiota Village, then told us that on 5 Aug 1945 a second body was discovered on the beach near Shiota. This body was also examined by a Japanese doctor who estimated that death had occurred about 10 days previously. No marks of violence or broken bones were observed. The body was clad in a uniform described as resembling fatigues, without shoes. No bars or dog-tags were reported, and there was no parachute. The body and clothing were cremated 5 Aug and the remaining bones were buried in the grave to the left facing Osaka.

On 23 Aug 1945 there was a storm at sea and high tides washed away the marker on the grave of 5 Aug 1945. A new marker was then erected over this grave, dated 23 Aug 1945, we were told. During the typhoon of 17 and 18 Sept 1945 both grave markers and possibly the contents of the graves were washed away and new markers were erected at the sites, one dated 19 June and the other 23 Aug.

This island is divided into four police jurisdictional districts and each of these four district police stations reported that to their knowledge no additional Allied military personnel were buried on Awaji Shima. During investigations of 4 and 5 Dec 1945 therefore, we were told that 5 U. S. Army Air Corps personnel had been buried on this island - two at Ura Village, one at Kamaguchi Village, and two at the Heianura Section of Aiga Village, near Shiota Village.

NOTE: Get information from documents or interrogation of any or all personnel.

REMARKS: The name Shionomisakai is the area on the peninsula itself. There are two settlements in the area and the installations, labeled Shinomisakai, are spread throughout the area, mostly underground. All ammo and weapons (except AA guns) have been taken to the Naval Base proper (in the naval detachment) and to Tanabe (in the case of army det.) The coast road from Tanabe to Kushimoto is the only road (according to all reports) that will handle a ¼ ton truck. At the present, this road is washed out in four places making railroad travel the only means of approach other than ship or planes. Atttached sheets give more complete reports of unit strengths and inventoriesof equipment. There are some subordinate units of Capt T. KAWAI's No. 35 FN Information Corps, No. 3 Guard Unit. The names and locations and inventories of equipment are attached.
