NARBERTH HOME GUARD NEEDS MEN

The Narberth Home Guard has not been supported as it should be by the men of Narberth. There has been a gradual falling off in attendance at the weekly drills, from about 50 men to 18 or 20. Matters have come to such a pass that a special committee has been appointed to rally men to the support of this patriotic and important organization.

In other fields of work, Narberth citizens have done their duty well, and now we must awaken to the realization that this organization, so faithfully kept alive by a small number of men, is in danger of dissolution unless there is an immediate response to their appeal for increased membership. It would be a disgrace to Narberth to record a failure in this work, when neighboring communities along the Main Line are keeping up such fine bodies of men as are regularly drilling.

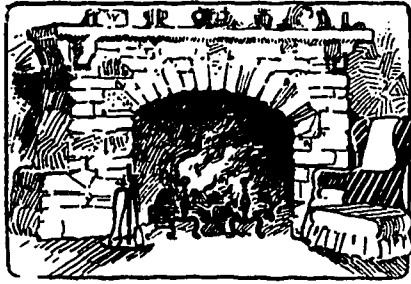

Aside from the patriotic duty that should urge our men to take active part, there are many advantages. Many of our younger men are of draft age, and are liable to be called in the near future. It is a distinct advantage to be familiar with military drill, manual of arms etc. To go to camp absolutely ignorant of the routine is a decided disadvantage. Many a man, with Home Guard training, has paved the way for quick advancement when going into camp. Drill sergeants are quick to see which of the recruits is best qualified for promotion from the ranks.

Another advantage is the physical exercise obtained. This is particularly desirable for older men, many of whom take no exercise at all, much to their detriment. The ranks of the Home Guard are open to men from 18 years of age to those of 60 or more. The participation of the older men is a distinct encouragement to the younger men, both at home and at the front. This in itself is a patriotic assistance that merits consideration by many men, who cannot possibly go to the front, but who can materially help in this way.

There are many new residents in town who are not very well acquainted with their neighbors. Joining the Home Guard would be an excellent way to become acquainted, combined with the fulfillment of duty.

There will be many occasions when the co-operation of a Home Guard will be a material help in campaigns for selling bonds, taking part in celebrations, etc. Think what a fine thing it will be to have a thoroughly well-drilled and large Home Guard, ready to welcome our boys home, at the close of the war!

The need now is greater than ever. The enemy is at our very doors. Submarines are raiding our coast, and they are provided with hydro-aeroplanes, which may bomb out larger cities and suburbs at any time. Now is the time to rally to the support of the Home Guard. Let there be an instant response to the appeal of the special committee. Messrs. Harris, Hartley and Dothard.

THE JUNIOR HARVESTERS BEGIN SECOND SEASON

The "Boys in the Blue Overalls" Ready to Do Their Share Toward Beating the Hun. Concerning Membership. Season's Suggestions

In the summer of 1917, a volunteer organization known as the Junior Harvesters was formed in the Main Line district, with Mrs. R. Howard Eisenbrey as chairman; Miss Emily Philler, as secretary, and Mrs. Caspar W. Hacker as treasurer, to gather produce that would have gone to waste, owing to the labor shortage, and to afford expression to the patriotic impulses of young boys who wished to have their share in the national service.

Membership in this organization was limited to boys from 9 to 12 years of age. The unit met once a week and after a drill and marching exercises the boys were divided into groups, each under a competent supervisor, and were taken in volunteer motors to the gardens from which fruit and vegetables were to be gathered.

In some cases the harvesting was done for property owners on a percentage basis, in others, all the produce was donated to local charitable institutions, such as the Bryn Mawr Hospital, and to the Community Canning Centres. About fifty boys were enrolled. That they not only made their contribution to the national effort, but also added materially to the food resources of the community, is made clear by the record kept of products gathered, totaling several hundred bushels. Too much cannot be said of the spirit of the boys throughout the season. Granted that the work was important in that it conserved food that would otherwise have gone to waste, it was far more important in developing in each boy manliness and responsibility, and materially helped in the character building of future citizens.

At the end of the harvesting season an exhibition drill was held. Prizes were given to those who had been most efficient in work and faithful in attendance and service stripes were awarded to those who had attended a stated number of meetings. The boys also marched in the Red Cross carnival and pageant given at Bryn Mawr in September.

This year the necessity is much greater of enlisting every one in some form of national service and of increasing and conserving the food supply. The Junior Harvesters will gladly assist in such undertakings, along the general lines indicated above. The membership is to be increased so as to include boys from 10 to 15 years of age, and sections of the unit will harvest on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. The assembling point for the harvesters will be the grounds of the Haverford School.

The suggestion is made that those who are planting vegetable gardens increase the areas and reserve for the harvesters the excess produce from the gardens. The boys will gather produce for owners who wish the entire amount harvested to be donated to charity; or on a fifty-fifty basis for owners who wish the services of the harvesters because other labor is not available.

If you will have any vegetables or fruit that the boys may harvest, will you send word to the Junior Harvesters, Box 365, Haverford, Pa.

Narberth Men Write From French and Italian Front

Interesting Letters From Samuel W. Foster and George W. Braden

Some time in April a so-called "Round Robin" letter was sent to Samuel W. Foster and George W. Braden by their fellow-members in the Men's Bible Class of the Narberth Presbyterian Church.

Each member wrote separately a letter of good cheer and friendship to each of these representatives at the front. As there are about twenty men in the class, these letters formed a unique and interesting collection. It will be recalled that Mr. Foster is doing Y. M. C. A. canteen work in the front line trenches in France, and Mr. Braden has charge of instructing the Italian army in Y. M. C. A. methods of mental and moral upbuilding, recreation, games, etc., for the important purpose of maintaining the morale of the men.

Replies to the "Round Table" letters have just been received by Mr. A. Clark Warner, president of the class, as follows:

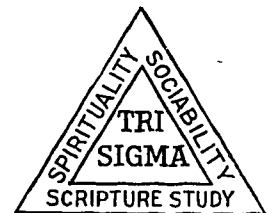

France, May 2, 1918.

Dear Clark: This is to you and to each one of my friends of the "Round Robin." I wish it were possible for me to write a separate letter to each one who contributed to my joy, for never in my life have I appreciated anything more than I did that joint communication.

It was brought to me in the afternoon when very busy selling canteen goods. I opened it and found out what its contents were, and put it away in my pocket until after my night's rounds were over, and then in my dugout, stretched on my bunk, with a lone candle burning, I devoured the contents.

It made me ashamed, for I felt how unworthy I was of the many kind expressions and good wishes. Many times a big lump came into my throat, and I closed my eyes and tried to picture each fellow, and bring his face clearly before me.

I have been a front-line secretary now for nearly three months, and sometimes I have wondered if I had (Continued on Fourth Page)

EXTRA! EXTRA! THE CUB GOES OVER THE TOP!

Read and See What Happened to Our Famous Wit When He Did a Little Bargain Hunting for Birthday and Wedding Anniversary Gifts

Of course, we may be all wrong—a certain somebody may have given us a bad "steer"—but just the same we have every reason to believe that at last we have "the goods on" that notorious town character, "the Cub." And having unlimited faith in the hitherto unimpeachable character of our informant, we shall proceed to pen the great expose of Narberth's foremost wit and literary light.

So all hands gather 'round, especially Bill Cummer, for as the poet has well said, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party," and get sweet revenge. Here, then, is the story—or rather, the evidence in the case.

First of all, "the Cub" has just had a birthday. In the second place, he has just had a wedding anniversary. And in the third place, the birthday and the wedding anniversary both fell on the same day. So in order to do himself proud, our fellow citizen, who weekly regales us with his pungent and gossipy news items, started out one morning a week or ten days before the double anniversary to buy fitting and appropriate gifts for "Mrs. Cub."

Now take it from us, "the Cub" is some bargain hunter, even in these war times, as you will presently see. The first store he visited was a well-known china and glassware emporium on Chestnut street, and "the Cub" proved himself to be a veritable economic bull in that place, before he left. He had set his mind on a dozen after-dinner coffee cups and saucers, but when he heard the price, he almost fainted. However, he quickly revived and declared, by heck, that he'd be darned if he'd pay all that money for twelve half-sized cups and saucers! Didn't he have a friend up-State who was in the china-ware business? He did, by jingo, and he forthwith wired a long telegram to his friend, stating what he wanted and giving as complete a description as it was possible for a man to give of the particular kind of cups and saucers that he had in mind. And he got just what he wanted, we'd have you know, and the gift made a big hit with "Mrs. Cub," and everybody was pleased and happy except "the Cub," who, when he counted up the cost of the cups and saucers at wholesale, plus the cost of the telegrams, expressage and postage, discovered that he had saved exactly three cents on what he would have paid at the Chestnut street store.

(Honest now, Bill, how does this compare with that visit to your old home up in Canada? The next time "the Cub" goes shopping he ought to take you along as a special guardian.)

But that isn't the end by any means. Not satisfied with the cups and saucers, "the Cub" went to another store and bought two of the finest tablecloths he could find, and on the morning of the great day he presented them to "Mrs. Cub."

"And what do you suppose happened?" the Cub is reported to have said: "Why, blame me, if she didn't say the tablecloths were almost too fine to use! Now can you beat that?"

So all and all it was a highly successful celebration, and the best wishes of the whole town go to you, "Cub" for many more birthdays and wedding anniversaries. Only the next time you go out to buy china-ware take Bill Cummer along with you, and before you attempt to buy table linen for your wife, take the advice of every "sadder but wiser" husband, and consult her first.

THE meeting of the Narberth Civic Association has been postponed from June 21 to June 28. Further announcement in our next issue.

Narberth is a mighty pleasant summer resort during these delightfully cool June days.

We are glad to know that vegetable gardens will come under the criticism of the Garden Committee, as well as flower gardens and lawns.

There are rumors that a spy has been taken "from our midst." We can easily spare all of that profession, and are thankful for the alertness of the authorities.

Narberth's speedway, Haverford avenue, from Narberth avenue to the Pike, is the daily scene of exciting contests with Father Time. More by good luck than good management, there has been no accident thus far.

We heartily endorse the appeal made in this issue for increased membership in the Narberth Home Guard. Every one of the arguments put forth is valid and convincing. We hope to be able to record within a short time that from 75 to 100 men have joined for the weekly drill. An hour and a half, once a week, is little enough to show that we are on the right side. Out of 800 voters, there are surely 100 who can offer this service. We would like to see these men in uniform. We are informed that a suitable uniform may be obtained for about $10. For those who cannot afford this expense, we are very sure that subscriptions could easily be secured from those more fortunately situated.

A committee headed by Mr. Charles E. Kramer, with Mr. Bowen as secretary-treasurer, including in its membership Mrs. Nickerson, Mrs. Derby, Mrs. Ward, Miss Super, Mr. Warwick and Mr. Gara, appointed by the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist pastors, is promoting this innovation for Narberth. One object is to relieve the monotony of the long vacation days.

The plan of this school was described in the June 6 issue of Our Town.

The committee named above is raising a budget of $200 to cover the expenses of four trained teachers and the many kinds of hand work material for hammocks, baskets, etc. No charge will be made for enrollment, which is open to all boys and girls between the ages of four and fourteen years. Articles made by scholars can be taken home for the bare cost of the material used.

MAIN LINE SHOW

Judging by the interest that is being taken in the open all breed show to be held next Saturday by the Main Line Kennel Club on the grounds adjoining the General Wayne Inn, Narberth, Pa., the outlook is promising for a big show. The demand for premium lists from both new and old exhibitors is a healthy sign that the entry will also come up to expectations. As the proceeds of the show will be turned into the coffers of the Narberth Chapter of the American Red Cross the fanciers of all the breeds expect to bring out their stock.

One of the main factors will be the number of recent circuit winners on the bench. Alf Delmont, of Wynnewood, Pa., who is one of the best known exhibitors in the country, announces that he will enter several of his recent importations which have done considerable winning at the various English shows. Practically every fancier in the Main Line will have one or more entries. This will create more than usual interest, especially as several good dogs are owned by these fanciers and which are only exhibited at charity shows.

Because of the specials being above the ordinary and include nearly $100 in actual cash not to mention the grand array of valuable trophies, this will give the various judges lots to contend with on placing the various entries. Mrs. Edward Odell, owner of the General Wayne Inn, expects to have a corps of assistants on the day of the show disposing of various useful articles to help swell the receipts.

It is also likely that several members of the Emergency Aid will attend the show and lend their assistance in stewarding for the various judges, which was the case at the recent Kennel Club of Philadelphia show, where they made a signal success of their work. The judges' list is also one that compares with any of the big circuit shows. Not only have all the breeds been taken care of expressly by specialty judges, but the three all-rounders, Messrs. Dale, Wilcox and Lewis, Jr., are also noted for their abilities at picking 'em out according to the recognized standard.

CUB'S WEEKLY LETTER

To the Editor of Our Town:

When the complete history of the present world war is written it will record many masterpieces of English reflecting the thoughts and aims of great men during the progress of the conflict.

American literature will be vastly enriched by the addition of these treasures, as it was by the acquisition of the never-to-be-forgotten Gettysburg address by Lincoln and others of the same class.

President Wilson's several communications to the German Government are prized by the possessors of the greatest intellects in the world as the utterances of a vastly superior mind conveyed in language of purest gold. Americans are naturally proud of these, but it is reserved for the people of Narberth to have revealed to them in the person of their Chief Burgess, the author of the most wonderful document of them all. The proclamation as printed in last week's issue of Our Town, born in our own Executive Mansion and startling the world during one of the severest crises of the struggle, will go thundering down the ages as the most impressive pronouncement ever delivered.

Just think of it, Narberth the home of the magnificent slogan, "Save the powder for Pershing!" How beautifully inspiring and how original the thought! How it will cheer the general and his men to hear that the children of Narberth are saving their firecrackers and the cannons to send to France.

But it will need a more eloquent pen than mine to do even partial justice to the statesman and thinker who conceived the thought, "Save the powder for Pershing."

At the present price of lamb chops Mary can make a lot of money by selling her little lamb.

There'll be a ball game at Shand Field next Saturday afternoon—Narberth B. B. vs. Narberth Tennis Club. There are two excellent reasons why you should go there.

One is to see a good ball game and you will. The other is that the collection will be for the benefit of that very worthy charity, the Holiday House, the little institution up in Horsch's woods which usually takes slum children in summer and gives them two weeks' vacation amidst healthful and pleasant surroundings. The little home is sadly in need of funds this year and may be forced to close its doors unless financial assistance is forthcoming.

It has been planned to use the home this season for taking care of the wives and children of men who are at the front. Is that a good reason for your going up to the game?

If you want to see some fine young farms take a stroll down to the old golf links just south of Rockland avenue.

Nobody seems to know or to care for that matter to whom belongs the land, but whoever he is very likely he'd be delighted to find how his property has been improved by these squatters. You don't have to go more than a few feet outside the borough limits to witness some well tilled and well kept vegetable gardens. One of these is laid out in squares each of which is devoted to its one special crop, while separating the squares are a number of nicely mown grass walks.

In one corner of the garden is a "potato pan." "What is that?" did you say. Well, it's a potato patch on the skyscraper style and consists of a box like structure about five' feet square in which are placed several plantings of spuds, one above the other. The "box" has openings on its sides to admit sun and air, while extending through the centre is an opening to admit moisture.

But you had better go down and look at the thing yourself. I am not telling you the name of the man who is responsible for all this, but maybe you can guess when I tell you that right in the centre of this park-like farm is a great letter G cut in the

I am told that this letter stands for German, so that in case a Zeppelin should come along the initial would be recognized and the place spared. But, of course, I cannot vouch for the truth of that.

So Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cole have left Narberth. That's hard luck for this town and don't you forget it. Always ready and willing to jump in and hustle when anything of benefit to the community was afoot. And how efficient and how human.

We cannot afford to lose people of that kind—and everybody who reads this will heartily second the motion.
Cub.

SUFFRAGE NEWS

At the June meeting of the Narberth Branch of Woman Suffrage party Dr. Lida Stewart Cogill spoke on "The Third Line of Defense," the necessity of saving the babies. The number of children under 1 year who die also the number of mothers and the high death rate in Philadelphia of babies were startling. Dr. Cogill urged that this work be considered as important as any other war work, in fact more important.

Mrs. George E. Wobensmith, leader of the Twenty-third district, gave a stirring suffrage talk. Tracing the efforts of women from the earliest times until the present to be allowed the privileges which they now enjoy until finally the effort to be given the right to vote is probably the final one. Mrs. Wobensmith spoke of the importance of working now for suffrage and not allowing it to be put aside for the other interests of these days, working constantly until the amendment has been passed and ratified.

Food Administration Notes

The allowance of wheat flour for family use ought not to be more than five pounds per person per month.

Warning is issued to manufacturers of ice cream, sodawater, soft drinks, flavoring syrups, etc., using sugar that they must file with Mr. Boyer within three days of this date of this newspaper, the returns of sugar on hand, etc., required by the government, or their supplies of sugar will be cut off. Many of the county manufacturers have done so, but there are still a number of delinquents. Mr. Boyer is required to have this tabulated report of the situation in Montgomery county filed in Washington in a very short time. In order to make his report complete he will therefore be required to take drastic action with those who fail to obey the government requirement.

Frank A. Getty, 1226 West Airy street, Norristown, has been appointed chairman of the Retail Grocers of Montgomery county. It will be the duty of Mr. Getty to organize the grocers of the county, so that the of ice cream, soda water, soft drinks, tion affecting them can be quickly disseminated to them.

Mr. Edward S. Haws, Postmaster, Narberth, Pa.

My dear Mr. Haws—Permit me to extend my hearty congratulations to you and, through you, to the organization at Narberth which made possible, during the recent pledge week drive, the obtaining of pledges aggregating 5129 stamps. You excelled the records of both the Ardmore and Bryn Mawr postoffices.

Yours sincerely,
Benjamin H. Ludlow

A Second Appeal

TWO weeks ago the Telephone Company requested all telephone users to please refrain from asking the operators for the correct time, explaining that this request was necessary because of the considerable volume of such calls which, if eliminated, would so reduce the abnormal calling volumes as to permit of a redistribution of both operators' service and telephone equipment, and result in the Company's ability to care for the very heavy telephone demands of the present and the even greater demands for service which are expected in the months to come.

It was explained that the same service on the part of the operators, the same length of time, and an equal general use of telephone equipment are necessary to answer such questions as are required to complete an ordinary connection.

While the response to this request has been very gratifying and the volume of such calls has decreased appreciably, the burden has not been entirely lifted.

We, therefore, again bring the matter to the attention of those users of the service who did not read, or who were not impressed by our earlier appeal, urging them to discontinue the practice of depending upon the telephone operator for the correct time.

The Telephone Company feels that it can count on a continuation of the public's helpful attitude which will be of very real assistance in meeting the ever-increasing volumes of telephone calls and demands for telephone service.

of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wohlert, of Price avenue. He arrived this past week. Mother and son are doing well.

Mrs. Lewis Diehl, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. William R. Parker, Merion and Essex avenues, has returned to Charlestown, West Virginia.

Mr. W. Arthur Cole, formerly of Woodside avenue, has sold his house to Mr. J. C. Atherholt, who moved into his new residence with his family on Tuesday.

Miss Salome Downes made a flying visit to Narberth to visit her cousin, Miss Virginia Downes, as she was on her way from college to her home in Dover, Del.

Reserve the 28th for the King's Daughters' luncheon and donation day at the Holiday House. Tickets may be procured from any of the King's Daughters.

William B. Godfrey, 114 Woodside avenue, has been appointed a notary public and is now prepared to take acknowledgments to papers or issue automobile licenses.

The lobby of the new postoffice will be open for the convenience of box renters all day Sundays and holidays. The office will not be open at all for business on Sundays and holidays.

Mr. H. R. Hillegas, chairman of Narberth Flower Show, received from the Bryn Mawr Hospital a note of thanks for the flowers given them at the time of the show in the Y. M. C. A. Building.

The residents of Narberth wish to thank the Borough Highway Commissioner for the notice that appeared in the last issue of Our Town, pertaining to the collection of ashes during the summer months.

Montgomery avenue is to be widened. The hard road surface is to be from three to five feet wider, to make the road safer for traffic. The holes in the roadbed will be repaired and the wet spots drained.

Those who have pledged to buy War Stamps would be doing a double service by buying soon, thus giving the money to the Government to purchase the things the boys need, and their investment will commence earning interest.

Mrs. Andrew Greene, of Chestnut avenue, entertained the following at bridge on Wednesday: Mrs. Horace G. Polyhemus, Mrs. William Claghorne, Mrs. William White, Mrs. Harry R. Felton, Mrs. William G.

Goodall, Mrs. Harry Bradley, Mrs. William S. Maddox, Mrs. Herbert Buchanan, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. William Ehn and Miss Anna MacKeag.

Miss Elizabeth Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Snyder, of Ardmore, will go to France as the Bryn Mawr College representative of the Intercollegiate Service Corps, under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Snyder is the daughter of Mrs. A. M. Snyder, chairman of the Woman Suffrage Association of Montgomery county, and is herself an ardent supporter of woman suffrage.

Mrs. Casper Hacker has arranged two canning demonstrations at Bryn Mawr for June 20 and 21 at 2 P. M., at which Miss Belle Hubbard, of the Pennsylvania State College Agricultural Department, will give demonstrations in canning and preserving. These demonstrations are being given under the auspices of the Main Line Community Canning Clubs, and every one who can is invited to be present.

"My Our United States," the massive eight-act photoplay to be shown at the Palace Theatre, Ardmore, on July 4, has swept the country on a tide of patriotism. Were it not for the fact that Mr. Arnold Daly, earnest in his desire to do something worthy, in the hour of distress growing out of the world's war, the wonderful production would never have become the property of the moving picture theatres.

The Main Line Community Clubs are planning to open for the summer's work on June 20. The canning at Bryn Mawr will be done as last year at the community centre, and at Ardmore at the women's club, on Ardmore avenue. There will surely be many women ready to volunteer to help with the work when they stop to think how much food was conserved last year, both for ourselves and for our soldiers and sailors.

A delightful musical was given by the Music Committee of the Community Club last Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Barclay, chairman of the committee. The committee consists of Mrs. Barclay, Mrs. Bradley, Miss Crist, Mrs. H. Hoffman, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Scharouth, Miss Wright and Mrs. Wheelock, all of whom rendered delightful solos, vocal or instrumental. There was also some excellent ensemble work. We expect to hear fine things of these musicians next winter.

"Masks and Faces," Charles Reade's great novel, will be shown in the silent drama, on Thursday afternoon and evening at the Palace Theatre, Ardmore, for the benefit of the Wilson College scholarship fund, under the auspices of the Wilson College Club. The cast of players includes: Sir J. Forbes Robertson, Gertrude Elliott, J. M. Barrie, George Bernard Shaw, the most notable ever seen in pictures. The usual performances will be held 3, 7 and 9 o'clock. The price for admission will be fifteen cents as usual.

Twenty-seven seniors of Haverford School received their diplomas Monday afternoon at the thirty-fourth annual commencement. The exercises were held on the lawn in front of "The Oaks," the school dormitory. The invocation was made by the Rev. Dr. Royden Keith Yerkes. Mr. Alonzo Englebert Taylor, who was a member of the United States War Mission to France, spoke on "What the War Means to Young Men and Their Future." One of the graduates was Colwyn Kennedy Humphreys, Narberth.

NARBERTH AVENUES

Amid these smiling avenues,
Lies a full world of summer views,
A land indeed where beauty seems
To know no evil, as it dreams.

For these are ways that gently hold,
The full June hour of sunborn gold,
And shadows hiding in the vine,
Could call forth praise of Proserpine.

Each day holds out a wonder morn,
Each hour that passes knows no scorn
And fret of cities where they be,
And cannot see the things we see.

These avenues are surely meet,
As woodland paths beneath the feet;
And birds are calling sweet and clear,
Where Narberth avenues are here!

WRITES FROM FRENCH AND ITALIAN FRONT

entirely dropped out of the lives of those I used to know and work with. I would not want to be anywhere else in all the world just now, but sometimes a fellow gets a pang of loneliness and heart hunger for the old comradeship he used to know.

I have had little chance to speak publicly, and want little, for that matter, and much of my time is taken up in selling and giving out things to the boys, but there are many times when we have a chance, man to man, to talk of those things which count in this life and the life to come.

Many times, it has been, when I have been alone with the outpost at night, gazing out into No Man's Land, that a fellow in whispers will open his heart and let the light of Jesus come in. Sometimes it has been when one of the boys has sought me and come to my dugout, and there by the side of my bunk laid bare himself to me and his Saviour.

I can never think of these boys as lost, and never see one laid away that I do not recall our Lord's words: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend."

Since I have been here I have been very closely identified with two regiments from different parts of our country, and in neither of them have I ever seen the slightest lack of courage. When calls for volunteers are made for most dangerous work there are always more than can possibly be used. Just one example. A raiding party one night came back from No Man's Land, only to find that one man was missing. The officers asked for six volunteers to go back under Boche fire, and bring him in. The whole party stepped forward, including the French officer attached to the regiment, and all of them went out. They found him dead. I believe the French officer located the body and brought him back to be given full military honors, as so many of our brave boys have been.

I would like to tell you all about the work, but, of course, cannot. The danger never bothers me; it is only the thought that in this time of splendid opportunity I may fail Him whom I love and serve.

Don't ever forget me, for surely you are all linked up in this work, and I shall continue to pray that each one of you may be richly blessed and find great joy in this service.

Ever your friend,

S. W. Foster.

May 8, 1918.

Mr. A. Clark Warner:

Dear Friend Clark: The "Round Robin" letter came in some days ago and gave me not only great pleasure, but a real and vital lift to higher ground of service. The letters were unique, and as you said, each had the special tone of the writer. All are splendid. I can never repay my dear friends in Narberth for their thoughtfulness of me. The only thing I can do is to try even harder to serve our Italian comrades, who respond so quickly to a message of good will, sympathy and appreciation. It is a rare privilege to bring songs to the life, smiles to the faces and renewed physical vigor to thousands of men at the front, in hospitals, special homes, etc. As you know, I will be here until the great struggle for democracy and liberty has ended in victory. Right must prevail against might. It was very hard to decide to do this, as I long for family and friends. I have been extended the most wonderful courtesy and the utmost co-operation by the Italian Government. I am confident that my success has been largely effected by the love and support of Narberth friends. God bless you all! I am in Rome for a meeting of military officers commanding camps in this region. Yesterday I had a demonstration for physicians.

Good bye for now—here is my hand and my heart.

George W. Braden.

Narberth exceeded Ardmore and Bryn Mawr in War Stamp pledges.

A Proclamation!

With the approach of Independence Day, July the fourth, in this, the one hundred and forty-second year of the establishment of the United States of America, there must come to every loyal American citizen a renewed sense of thankfulness for the liberties which we, as a nation, enjoy, and it is fitting and proper that we should celebrate the anniversary of the nation's natal day with appropriate exercises. In the midst of a war which is being waged for the purpose of determining whether or not these liberties shall endure, there rests on us an obligation as a community to see to it that an expression of our sentiments is given which will be in keeping with the feeling of the nation.

It has always been the custom to celebrate this day by setting off fireworks and other noise-producing instruments. It should be realized that this year the observance of this custom entails an expenditure of powder which is needed on the battlefronts of Europe. Our slogan should be "save the powder for Pershing."

Now, therefore, I, Carroll Downes, Chief Burgess of the borough of Narberth, in view of the above facts, do hereby proclaim and make public to the citizens of Narberth that on Independence Day, July fourth, 1918, all citizens should, as a patriotic duty, refrain from the use of all fireworks, revolvers, pistols, cannons and other instruments or utensils employing and using powder. And I call upon all citizens to discourage the use of such instruments by others.

Given under my hand and the seal of the borough of Narberth, Montgomery County, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, this tenth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-second.

(Signed)

CARROLL DOWNES,
Chief Burgess.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to his Register.
As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and business or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
