LIBERALS WIN ANOTHER SEAT; GOVERNMENT NOW HAS WORKING MAJORITY

Unexpected Victory in Mackenzie Gives Administration Twenty-three Straight Liberals and Two Independent Liberals; Premier to Remain at Head of Party; No Difficulty in Way of His Election; Nelson Mentioned as Possible Seat.

Strengthened by the unexpected election of a Liberal, D. G. McKay, in Mackenzie, the Oliver Government faced the future to-day with sufficient support in the Legislature to meet any emergency and to ensure its continuance in office until the end of its present term. The Government now has twenty-three straight Liberal supporters and two Independent Liberals—more than half an Assembly of forty-eight. In addition, it can count upon the support of three Labor men if necessary and it is confident that its straight Liberal bloc will be augmented by the return of Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith on the absentee vote in Vancouver. With Mrs. Smith the administration would have twenty-six supporters, including the two Independent Liberals.

OLIVER NOT RETIRING

While the Government's strength was thus increasing it became clear to-day that rumors of Premier Oliver's retirement are absolutely without foundation. Several seats have been offered to the Liberal leader, and it is believed that his election would be a matter of no difficulty. Arrival of Kenneth Campbell, Liberal member for Nelson, here to-day started the rumor that the Premier would run in Nelson. He is personally known to high esteem, he is considered likely that he would be returned by acclamation in the interior city. In any case, there is no probability now that the Premier will resign. It is believed that this public information to the public is a surprise to many politicians who were taking it for granted that Mr. Oliver was about to return to private life.

STANDING OF PARTIES

With one of the Vancouver seats and the Dewdney seat still doubtful, the standing of the various parties at noon to-day, following changes treated by absentees, was as follows: Liberals, 23; Independent Liberals, 2; Conservatives, 15; Provincials, 3; Labor, 2, doubtful 2.

These figures shattered Conservative hopes that the Government could easily be embarrassed and perhaps forced into another general election either at the next session or at least before the end of its term. Including the two Independent Liberals the Government actually has exactly the same number of supporters as it had in the last session.

Final results in Vancouver and Dewdney, the only two doubtful ridings, may be known to-night. The election of Mrs. Smith in Vancouver is generally anticipated. In Dewdney, however, the figures are so close that the outcome cannot be predicted. J. A. Catherwood, Conservative, won on the original count but a recount has been ordered and will be carried out immediately.

If the Government were to gain a seat in Vancouver and Dewdney it would have twenty-seven members or two more than in the last House. Mrs. Smith's election in Vancouver would force out General A. D. McCreath and leave the Provincials with only three seats—Richmond Point, Grey, Cariboo and the Cariboo seat held by D. A. Stoddard, a life-long Liberal, who is expected to support the government in a close vote and so swell the administration's already ample support.

Election of Mr. McKay, Liberal, in Mackenzie came as a surprise to-day. It was expected that Mr. McKay, Conservative, had a majority of more than 100 on the original count. Reports that Mr. McKay had been elected in the absentee vote were learned last night. His election followed the rejection of numerous ballots allowed in the first count. These ballots were rejected because of irregularities in the poll are understood to have been discovered.

The final count of ballots as announced to-day, shows Mr. McKay's 629 and Manson 622. Mr. McKay's majority being 7, Leicester, the Provincial candidate, was not a strong factor in the count.

The total absentee vote counted was 227, of which Manson got 54, McKay 98, the remainder going to Leicester.

LIQUOR MAJORITY GOES OVER 25,000

People of Saskatchewan Decided Issue With Emphatic Vote at the Polls

Legislature Will Meet Earlier Than Usual Date to Pass Bill

Regina, July 17.—Up to this afternoon 1,560 polls had reported the result of yesterday's prohibition plebiscite, out of 2,581 polls in Saskatchewan, bringing the majority against prohibition to 25,133. The figures showed 64,120 for prohibition, 89,253 against; 63,188 for Government shops and 54,618 for retail beer sale.

Prohibition was renounced by Saskatchewan yesterday after four years of experience with the Saskatchewan Temperance Act. The voters expressed their preference for straight Government control of the sale of liquor through official vendors, as opposed to such control accompanied by licensed beer premises.

BEYOND EXPECTATIONS
Cities and counties alike condemned prohibition and voted for change. The cities contributed 10,000 to the majority, but the landslide struck urban and rural districts without distinction and carried the majority to heights which only the most enthusiastic members of the Moderation League had predicted. Prohibitionists were advised to call on the country to hold down or overcome the adverse vote which they expected in the larger cities.

The beer clause found it hard going throughout and only three cities, Regina, Saskatoon and Prince Albert, gave it majorities, in no case large. The prohibitionists were advised to vote against it, after voting for prohibition, the straight Government control being their second choice.

TWO VIEWS VOICED
Prohibition leaders to-day expressed disappointment with the results and said they had taken up the fight at too late a date. Moderation League officials were frankly pleased, although they had expected a victory and they promised to do all in their power to assist in the enforcement of the resulting legislation.

NO SPECIAL SESSION
Hon. A. P. McNab, Acting Premier in the absence of the Old Country of Premier Dunning, said the Legislature would not be called in special session to deal with the matter, but probably the House would meet somewhat earlier than usual. He said he had expected the vote to go against prohibition with a majority of between 25,000 and 30,000.

JAPANESE DESTROYERS CONTINUE SEARCH FOR BRITISH WORLD PLANE IN REGION OF KURILES

The upper map indicates how much of their route the British round-the-world aviators had covered when they disappeared in the Kuriles between Yatorofu and Paramashiru Islands. It is hoped one of the two searching Japanese destroyers will quickly find the missing plane and its three air pioneers. The lower map shows the present position of the three United States world planes.

Tokio, July 17.—No trace of A. Stuart MacLaren, British aviator, overdue at Paramashiru Island, in the Kuriles, and his two companions in a round-the-world flight, had been found up to 9 o'clock to-night. The seaplane then was more than thirty-three hours overdue. Japanese destroyers are continuing the search for the missing party.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN PRESENT SUGGESTIONS TO COMMISSION

Representatives of Local Organization Wait Upon Survey Commissioners; Advocate Smaller Classes and Schools and Psychological Expert in Big Centres.

The report of the Victoria University Women's Club before the Educational Survey Commission this morning dealt, with many phases of the present day education as it is in British Columbia at the present time, and made suggestions which were given favorable reception and consideration by the commissioners. The report was rendered in parts by the various delegates who waited on the Commission and read as follows:

"In the opinion of the club, education should be free up to the end of the high school course. The case where a fee might be charged would be that of children repeating a year without good cause, and the wisdom of such a course is open to question. The idea of charging fees and instituting a system of scholarships seems to be most unpractical.

Another resolution of importance brought forward by the delegates was as follows: "Whereas the report contained in the report of the department of education, further inspection of inspectors who advise reports should be done away with. An efficient municipal inspector and good principals should, it would seem, be able to direct all general matters of administration and teaching."

"Whereas the report contained, that certain principals have been doing a free choice of assistants, and also to teachers to submit reports of inspectors who cannot in a yearly visit get a thorough understanding of a teacher's particular problems, principals be given more power in choosing their assistants."

SMALL SCHOOLS BEST
A further resolution of the club was read as follows: "That whereas in the opinion of this club small high schools are much more efficient than large ones, in that there exists more intimate relationship between the teachers and the pupils, and a fine school spirit, therefore be it resolved that preferably no high school have more than 200 pupils."

This resolution was qualified in certain phases. In the case of a large high school already existing, it was suggested that the school be divided into various parts, leaving the whole unit under the supervision of one principal, who did not teach, and each portion having a vice-principal at its head. Crowding of classes was to be avoided, the number of pupils in each class should be over thirty-five, no class should be over thirty-five.

REST IN LONDON
Croydon, Eng. July 17.—Half a dozen British planes were in the air when the United States round-the-world fliers left here to-day for Brough, Yorkshire, and started with them on the 155-mile hop. The same American and British officials who yesterday welcomed the American fliers to England wished their guests a good journey.

TWO SHIPS SEARCHING
The Japanese destroyer Isokawa has searched as far north as Shimushu Island without finding any trace of the aviators, and the destroyer Hamakaze which was on duty at Paramashiru to aid the fliers, is searching southward.

The original MacLaren party included besides the aviators, the doctor, Firing Officer W. N. Penderleith and Sergeant R. H. Andrews. These three were joined here by Lieut.-Colonel L. G. Broome, who led the advance party which laid down a number of supply dumps at points in the Kuriles, where the United States fliers were delayed by storms and fog, said it was cloudy, but there was no wind, which circumstances is regarded as favorable to the fliers' safety.

YOUTHS PLANNED TO ABDUCT FATHERS

But Leopold and Loeb, Chicago, Rejected Plan Because of Laws

Chicago, July 17.—Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, whose trial for the kidnapping and murder of young Robert Franks will open in a few weeks, planned to abduct their fathers for ransom, according to information brought to the state attorney's office to-day. They had also planned to make Thomas Loeb, ten-year-old brother of Richard, their victim.

Both plans, however, were rejected when flaws appeared in the informant stated. Loeb's father was ill and could not have been kidnapped without serious danger of detection, while in the case of Mr. Leopold, the youths believed that the fact that Mrs. Leopold was dead would make it more difficult for them to exact ransom from other members of the family.

MEGHEN SUPPORTS KING'S STAND ON CANADA'S SHARE IN CONFERENCE OF ALLIES

Conservative Leader Says Government Should not be Embarrassed When Asking for Full Representation for This Country; Premier Protests Against Press Being Given Information Before it is Sent to Ottawa by British Government.

London, July 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—The High Commissioners of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa this morning conferred with Colonial Secretary Thomas with reference to the position of the Dominions in connection with the Inter-allied Conference now being held in London, but it is stated nothing will be settled with regard thereto pending the arrival of further information from Canada.

Ottawa, July 17 (Canadian Press)—There was an angry scene in the House this morning when Premier King was being questioned on Canadian representation at the Inter-allied Conference now in progress in London.

Premier King had outlined communications which had passed between the Canadian and British Governments in regard to Canadian representation at the conference and the stand taken by Canada. He had intimated the Canadian Government was awaiting further advice from the British Government when Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, read a press dispatch of this morning's date bearing on the conference.

Mr. King heatedly protested against the press getting information with regard to the conference in this manner, which is not given to the Government of the country and which the Government is not in a position to reply to.

The matter came up on a question of J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg, who asked regarding the status of Senator N. A. Belcourt, by statement by the Premier on the general policy of the Government in regard to Canada's position at the Inter-allied Conference.

Mr. King confirmed the report that Senator Belcourt had been appointed as the representative of Canada at the conference, but stated that, although he had not received any message from London since Mr. Belcourt's arrival, he expected that full powers had been granted him in accordance with the request made by the Canadian Government.

PREMIER DISPATCH JUNE 24
Mr. King then reviewed the correspondence with the British Government. The first intimation that the Canadian Government had of the intention to hold the conference, he said, was a press dispatch in the morning papers of June 24, in which the British Premier had intimated that a conference would be held and that he was in communication with the Dominions on the subject.

On June 25 the Canadian Government received a formal communication from the British Premier intimating that the Inter-allied Conference would open on July 16 and that a week prior to that date a preliminary conference of representatives of the Canadian Government with the British Government would be held to arrange for representation at the Inter-allied Conference. This dispatch had stated that the Inter-allied Conference came within the terms of the resolution adopted at the last Imperial Conference and Canada was asked to send a Canadian Government representative to the conference. They regretted, however, that the time was too short to allow a Minister to be sent, but that Canada would be represented by the High Commissioner.

WITH FULL POWERS
That there might be no mistake as to the Canadian position, the Canadian Government had intimated that in its opinion representation should be based on the precedents of the Versailles and Washington conferences and that Canada should be represented by a delegate with full powers to act on behalf of Canada.

The British Premier had replied that there was some doubt as to the interpretation to be placed upon the resolution of the Imperial Conference regarding Dominion representation, but had suggested that the preliminary conference might be arranged.

CONFERENCE JULY 10
This conference, continued Premier King, had been held on July 10, and Canada had been represented by Hon. P. C. Lawkin, High Commissioner in London. It had then developed that the purpose of the conference was not to arrange for separate representation of the Dominions, but to discuss the nature of representation which had already been decided upon. It was stated that not more than three representatives of any Dominion could be present at the conference and apparently these three were to be representatives of His Majesty's Government.

PRECEDENT URGED
The Canadian Government had intimated that this was not satisfactory to the Dominion and in its opinion the Canadian Parliament would expect that a representative of Canada with full powers from His Majesty to represent Canada would be a member of the British

HALIFAX ARTILLERYMAN SHOT AFTER QUARREL; GEORGE COLEMAN IN CUSTODY

Halifax, July 17.—"I went there to get him. I did not care whether I killed him or not. I did not take rifle and ammunition down for nothing."

So declared Bombardier George Coleman, thirty, of the Royal Canadian Artillery, who shot and killed his comrade, Acting Bombardier W. F. Greaves, forty-one, at the Connaught Battery near here, this morning, following a quarrel which the two men had yesterday.

Greaves, who was shot in the abdomen while engaged in opening the battery gate for Coleman's admission to the fort, was rushed to Camp Hill Hospital, where he died shortly after being admitted.

Coleman, who was in custody, made a statement to the police in which he admitted the shooting and declared it was intentional.

PLAN ACCEPTED

Premier King had replied that his understanding of this message was that the British Government agreed to follow the practice in force at the Paris Conference; that in accordance with that understanding Senator N. A. Belcourt had been appointed as the representative in the nature of a panel of the British Empire delegation might be arranged, and that representation in the conference might be arranged among the delegates from time to time.

The French members also expressed their joint conviction that the economic unity of Germany could not be restored until the proposed loan was underwritten.

The statement was made before the French officials entered a meeting of the committee which was formed by the conference to deal with the authority of the Reparations Commission in regard to the action to be taken in the event of possible default by Germany in the execution of the experts' scheme.

needed immediately the article states "The German industrial invasion of Canada is on. This is no military manoeuvre such as plunged the world into four years of bloodshed in 1914, but a trade invasion equally dangerous on the part of some Canadians and equally vital to the business on Canada.

Claiming that depreciated currency has brought a splendid weapon with which to compete unfairly against the business interests of the world the article states "the most unfortunate part of the whole matter is the failure on the part of some Canadians to realize what is going on. Without doubt the unscrupulous trade competition being carried on in Canada to-day involves the greatest dangers which Canadian business has faced for many a year. A great deal of the unemployment and resulting slackness in this country to-day is directly attributable to the shortsightedness of Canadians buying German merchandise.

"Canadian imports of German hardware have tripled, and in some cases quadrupled in the past year. Many new lines of German hardware merchandise from Germany are making their appearance among our imports. Having secured a foothold in Canada, German hardware dealers are just as they did in the war unless Canadians realize the dangers and take action to meet the situation."

INFORMATION SAYS AN AMERICAN MADE USE OF REVOLVERS

Police Told of Scuffle in Office Over Loaded Revolver

Charged in police court this morning with carrying a loaded revolver, without license, and for a purpose dangerous to the public peace, Harry Watson was remanded until tomorrow for trial. The accused pleaded guilty to the charge of carrying firearms without license, and sentence was deferred. On the other count trial was postponed.

In explaining the matter to the court, H. C. Lowe, for the Crown, stated that the prosecution would allege that the accused went to premises of the Consolidated Whaling Corporation with the loaded revolver in his pocket and used threats to a man named Scaplen, an employee there, it is alleged.

Scaplen, grappled with the accused, continued Mr. Lowe, and the gun was not drawn. The dispute, the police understood, was over a private matter.

Gerald H. Sedger appeared for the accused, who freely pleaded guilty to the charge of having the revolver on his person without a permit, but reserved election and plea on the more serious count. Trial was set for tomorrow. The accused, stated counsel, for the defence, asked an explanation for his actions which he would make to the court at the trial.

ROTARIANS SEE HOW SCOUTS TRAIN BOYS CHARACTER

Interesting Demonstration of Ability Given by Fairfield Troop

G. H. Scarrett, Deputy Provincial Commissioner, one of the leaders of the Boy Scout movement in this city, and a recognized authority on the activities of the scouts throughout the province of British Columbia, today addressed the Rotary Club members at their regular weekly luncheon. He was accompanied by Moses Prampton, scout master of the Fairfield Troop, and A. R. Sherwood, another prominent figure in scout work.

"In the first place I wish to tell you that the Boy Scout movement is not a brigade of officers and privates for drilling manliness into boys," Mr. Scarrett asserted, introducing his curriculum and standards of examination.

"It is not a school having a definite curriculum and standards of examination. It is not a charitable organization for people in society to run for the benefit of poor children.

"Scouting is a game, in which elder brothers can give their younger brothers healthy environment and encourage them in healthy activities such as all help them develop good citizenship. Its strongest appeal is through nature study and woodcraft.

"The word 'scout' originally was a military term applied to men who were especially useful in getting information about the enemy. Scouts scouting about the work and attributes of the pioneers of civilization, whether they be explorers, missionaries or police.

"In order to carry out their work, they must be self-reliant and able to endure dangers and difficulties, with cheerfulness, to be self-helpful, as well as helping others—in every sense of the word.

"The necessity of such a movement is obvious: the safety of a nation depends not on fighting power, but also and chiefly in such things as purity of personal and home life, commercial worth and integrity, peace and order, and energetic industry.

"The Scout effort is based on the experience of boy life to train each generation of boys in development of character by leading them in free, guided companionship, under which they best learn to sacrifice themselves.

"In general training, the principle applied in scouting is that character is caught, not taught; the boy's ideas are studied and he is encouraged to educate himself instead of being instructed. Scouting is therefore a highly educative movement, since the best education is obtained by doing things oneself under competent direction.

"The Boy Scout movement is the most successful attempt which has yet been made for the education of adolescents. It is successful due to the fact that it makes provision for the satisfaction of two imperious needs in man's nature, viz., (a) the need to realize one's self; (b) the need to work with and for others.

"In other words, in scouting the balance between the attitude of individual and the community in general is maintained.

"With reference to our key activity of camping, it is a recreation, but it differs in this particular from almost any other organization, chiefly that we utilize every possible thing in nature which adds to our comfort. There is a great difference in camping and living under canvas.

"With reference to funds, I am confident in stating that no organization can exist without a budget. In British Columbia we have some 2,600 scouts and cubs, with approximately 200 officers."

Men of the P.P.C.L. Resign From Ranks as Protest

Between fifteen and twenty privates of the P.P.C.L., stationed at Esquimalt, have resigned from the ranks, in exercising their rights under enlistment regulations following the reduction of their pay, according to advice received to-day.

It is reported that a number of men in the Canadian Garrison Artillery units and Engineers are contemplating similar action.

An upward revision of pay for officers and warrant officers has been under consideration for some time, and its publication came coincidental with the news of the reduction in privates' pay. The lieutenant by $5 per month, while increasing allowances by $3. Other commissioned ranks receive similar adjustments.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN PRESENT SUGGESTIONS TO COMMISSION

In mixed schools the club thought it essential that there should be a woman principal or vice-principal, to offer advice and suggestions and deal particularly with the school's problems as they affected the girls of the institution.

Another resolution brought in by the club was to the effect that a trained psychologist be employed to elementary and high schools, in the grading of pupils, the segregation of sub-normal children, and also to advise parents and children with regard to educational and social problems, or discontinuance of school after a certain age.

The resolution recommended that the appointee be a person of high character, with a wide education, and of mature understanding of child nature.

Co-operation between parents, children and teachers might in the future be affected and stimulated.

"Years ago," the report read in continuation, "it has been observed that the high schools in Canada for musical examinations at the same time as they do for their matriculation papers, thereby impairing their health and diminishing the efficiency of their work. Why cannot the degree granted by such institutions as the Royal Academy of Music or our Canadian Conservatories of music be accepted as equivalent of one matriculation subject?"

"In view of the fact that there is an ever-increasing exodus of young workers of both sexes from Canada into the United States, it is essential that there be greater co-operation between the government departments of Labor and Education.

The Club favored the adoption of the curriculum of the Commercial College of British Columbia, saying that since this was one of the two Canadian languages, it was all-important in the lives of the students, and that it should be made a compulsory subject.

A six months' commercial course for junior matriculants was proposed by the club, as in this way the best students of the school would not go out to finish their business training in private institutions in Canada.

The club also suggested that a Provincial supervisor of domestic science was deemed necessary by the delegates, seeing that there were forty-nine teachers in that subject in the Province, and that the course of study was a large one, with many students in its classes.

An interesting contribution was made by Mrs. Alice Thompson, who spoke of the work of her daughter as housekeeper of Trinity College, Cambridge, and a position offered to her as a woman for the first time because of the unsatisfactory financial position of the college. In less than a year she had cleared the college of its debt and placed on a thoroughly business basis.

In connection with the better libraries movement, club members advocated the consideration of the commissioners to the following suggestions:

"That approved books and periodicals bearing upon the teaching profession should be assembled to form a departmental library, which might be a part of the traveling library system.

"That inspectors should be required to familiarize themselves with these books and periodicals so far as to be able to advise rural teachers as to their professional reading;

VICTORIA MECCA FOR HONEYMOON COUPLES

Over Hundred Tourists a Day Register at Publicity Bureau

Tourist registration at the rate of as high as one hundred a day is reported at the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. Cars arriving at the auto camp at the rate of from twenty to thirty a day register with other tourists who do not register. It is estimated that vacationists are flocking into the city at the rate of over three hundred every day. They come from all points and among them are many young couples, obviously on their honeymoon.

Washington still appears to be leading in the registrations and in the number of automobiles bearing Washington licenses. California runs second with far more California cars in evidence this year than last. Arizona and Oregon are well represented. Many prairie people who have made the trip by automobile are among those here for the Summer.

KILLED MAN WHO WAS HIDING THEM

Two Men in South Carolina Murdered Motorist Who Offered Them Ride

Asheville, N.C., July 17.—Major Samuel H. McLeary, missing arms officer, was killed by Mortimer H. King, living near Canton, and a companion whose identity is still unexplained by the authorities, on the afternoon of July 2, says a South Carolina newspaper. King, a young man, was the driver of the automobile in which the motorist was killed. A search is being conducted for the body of the major, which is said to be hidden in the brush about ten miles from Cheraw, S.C.

MAN WHO ROBBED COMPANY KILLED

Cashier in Wyoming Took Payroll; Shot by Foreman of Mine

Rock Springs, Wyo., July 17.—Clyde N. Fisher, cashier of the Gunn-Quealy Coal Company here, who disappeared Tuesday morning at the time the semi-monthly payroll of the company vanished, was shot and fatally wounded yesterday by J. Walker, mine foreman and friend of Fisher. He died a few hours later without making a statement.

Walker, who was one of several who had started searching for Fisher soon after the disappearance of the mine payroll, encountered the cashier a few miles from town about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Called upon to throw up his hands, Fisher said to have complied by raising one hand. The other, in which he carried an object, remained at his side. Walker, declaring he believed Fisher had a revolver, opened fire and the cashier fell to the ground. Walker approached and found the object in the man's hand was a water

That "Kruschen" Feeling!

Welcome Everywhere

Wherever he goes, Grandpa is the life and soul of the party.

His merry laughter is infectious. Nobody can resist his endless flow of high spirits. He has even been known to make a tax collector smile.

His breezy good-humour and amazing energy both spring from his unflinching good health; and the source of his unflinching good health is the tasteless pinch of Kruschen salts.

As Grandpa is so fond of saying, "It's the little daily dimeful that does it."

Profit yourself by his experience. Don't allow your energy to be sapped, your constitution undermined by the indoor life you are forced to lead, with insufficient fresh air and exercise, business worries and hasty meals. You can wipe out the ill effects of these conditions if you follow the Kruschen Way to Health.

Every little pinch of Kruschen is a combination of just the six salts your body needs every day for its health. Nature would supply you with these six salts if you led a natural life in the open air and indulged in no errors of diet. It is in supplying the daily deficiency of these vital salts, caused by modern conditions of life, that Kruschen is invaluable.

What the "little daily dimeful" does is to clear your system of all the clogging waste matter that has been lowering your vitality, and to send pure, refreshed blood coursing through your veins. In a few days you feel a new being—braced in body, and in mind, ready to tackle your work and your play with an unwonted zest and capacity.

Get a 75c bottle of Kruschen now and begin to test for yourself the virtue of the "little daily dimeful." Continue taking it after you've acquired "that Kruschen feeling" of fitness and cheeriness, for your body is in daily need of the good that Kruschen does.

REDISTRIBUTION BILL IS APPROVED

Given Third Reading by Commons and Sent to the Senate

Ottawa, July 17.—The Redistribution Bill which had been in contention for two sessions, was given third reading by the House of Commons shortly before midnight. The Duff amendment in regard to Maritime Province representation was declared out of order by the Deputy Speaker.

SOLDIERS' PENSION ACT IS AMENDED

Ottawa, July 17.—Several amendments to the Soldiers' Pension Act were given third reading in the Commons yesterday. It is provided that no pension will be awarded when death or disability of a member of the Canadian forces was due to improper conduct, but that the commission may award such pension as it deems fit when an applicant is in a dependent condition. An exception to this rule is when death occurred in service after the Pension Act came into force. Some slight changes also are made in the conditions under which dependents of a pensioner are awarded, and a provision is made for "specially meritorious" cases, claiming compassionate pension or allowance.

A number of unusual cases, claiming compassionate consideration were cited by various members who took part in the debate. "If this sort of thing continues," said G. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South, "we shall have a pension system like that in the United States, where old men on their death beds are married to young women."

Mr. Power was speaking in reference to the lengthening from five to ten years the period within which the widow of a pensioner would be entitled to pension.

PAYMENTS ON LIQUOR

Ottawa, July 17.—British Columbia's liquor imports netted the public purse of the Dominion by way of customs duties alone $4,779,119 in 1922, and $5,592,167 in 1923. On domestic spirits and malt liquor the excise payments totalled in the two years $98,745. These figures were given in a report tabled in the House yesterday.

HUDSON BAY LINE MOTION DEFEATED

Saskatchewan M.P.'s Effort to Censure the Federal Government Failed

Public Opinion Strongly Against Completion of Railway, Says Graham

Ottawa, July 17 (Canadian Press)—A motion moved by the Hon. G. P. Graham, M.P., that the House, after an all-night sitting, at 7.30 this morning, should vote on the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway, was defeated by a vote of 107 to 105.

At 11 o'clock last night Hon. G. P. Graham moved that the House go into supply on the estimates of the Department of Railways. After a preliminary protest, Mr. Knox moved his amendment, on the understanding that this might be his last opportunity to bring up the question this session, asking the House to express the opinion that the failure of the Government to complete the Hudson Bay Railway had resulted in serious loss to the prairies. Mr. Graham pointed out that the motion was for a vote of non-confidence in the Government.

Mr. Knox regretted that he was compelled to introduce his motion so late in the session, but felt it was his duty to do so.

EIGHT-HOUR DEBATE

A dozen Progressive members spoke in favor of the amendment, two Conservatives, Sir Henry Drayton and A. E. Ross, Kingston, and J. J. Hughes, Liberal, King's, P.E.I., against, and the House divided at 7 a.m. on the subject after eight hours of debate.

After the debate, which brought out a variety of arguments in favor of the completion of the railway, Mr. Graham suggested that its supporters had chosen the wrong time to advocate completion of the railway. There was a good reason back of it, a contract and initiative might carry it through, but there was too much adverse opinion at present to justify its adoption as a national enterprise.

R.C.M.P. BILL

The bill providing for the issue of pay and allowances to members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police was given third reading by the House yesterday afternoon. A number of members appealed for more generous treatment of pensioners of the force.

Hon. H. H. Stevens thought higher pensions should be granted to the Chief Justice of the province in the chief justice in such cases to the Chief Justice of Canada.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of the Interior, added that his department was now fighting before the British Privy Council to uphold the act.

WINDING-UP ACT

The House concurred in the Senate amendment to the bill amending the Winding-Up Act, which the House in order to find a compromise on a Senate amendment to the Industrial Disputes Act, which the House had refused to accept.

The Premier said he had not yet heard of the act being declared ultra vires of Parliament.

CANTEEN FUND

The bill to distribute the canteen fund of the Canadian Expeditionary Force was given third reading yesterday afternoon.

Hon. H. S. Beland, Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, said he expected to find three men out of standing in the ranks of the returned men who would consent to represent the interests of the returned soldiers. The money would be distributed among the Provinces on a proportionate basis, and the final spending of the funds would be in Provincial hands.

A sum of $100,000 had been set aside out of the fund for expenses of distribution. If the interest thereof did not pay any staff required in Ottawa—Dr. Beland thought four or five persons could handle the work—the principal could be drawn upon.

J. A. Clark, Conservative, Burrard, thought the Government should pay this staff and leave the funds intact for the soldiers landed here yesterday. The Minister consented to insert in the bill a provision that the trustees, both Federal and Provincial, should be appointed for three years, with provision that they could be re-appointed if they had not become for any reason ineligible.

ADVERTISING HAS ASSISTED GROWTH OF THIS COUNTRY

C.P.R. President Gives Facts at International Advertising Convention in London

Settlers Brought to Canada; Which Has Much of Value to Sell

London, July 17.—Indicating how advertising had fostered the growth of Canada, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, told the convention of Associated Advertising Clubs of the World here to-day that since 1881 his road had spent $67,000,000 on colonization in contrast with $35,000,000 expended by the Canadian Government.

These figures, he explained, included more than what might strictly be termed advertising, the colonization efforts having been directed at rather different types of settlers. The Canadian Pacific was particularly interested in getting settlers for the lands it had to sell, he said, while the Canadian Government directed its efforts more to securing settlers for its free homesteads of 160 acres each.

Tracing the part played by advertising in the building of Canada, which began with the Jesuit missionaries in the days of the French dominion, Mr. Beatty said it was not until the Canadian Pacific appeared on the scene that an aggressive, consistent and comprehensive advertising campaign for the colonization of Canada was planned and directed from Canada itself. In the last forty years a campaign of invitation and welcome had been conducted, he asserted, in which the Canadian Pacific had given the example and set the pace.

ASSETS DESCRIBED—Canada's snow and hard winters are among its greatest assets, Mr. Beatty declared. "Without that winter we should not be able to grow the hard wheat on which so much of the prosperity of the Canadian West is based," he said.

Without that winter we could not have the fur-bearing animals and the fur trade which for 300 years has been one of Canada's basic industries. Without that winter we could not have so economically as do the products of our forests to our lumber and pulp mills. And last but not least, without that winter we could not have the verile, sturdy manhood which has built the Canadian Empire, particularly since the achievements of the Canadian army in the Great War, has come to identify with the Canadian race. So long as Canada has winter, she will be a Canadian and ready and able to bear the white man's burden."

MUCH TO SELL—The most important thing in any selling campaign was that the speaker continued. "Therein lies the strength of Canada's position. Canada has had the confidence to advertise and to keep on advertising, because she knows she has something worth while to offer. She has good agricultural land, with markets for what she produces. She has almost unlimited natural resources in mines and forests. She has ample power at moderate cost for industrial purposes. She has respect for law and order, and she has a climate in which white men can make homes. With such assets, Canada has no reason for hiding her light under a bushel. She has ample justification for advertising her advantages, and that advertising has been of substantial benefit to the Empire to which she is proud to contribute."

COURAGEOUS SPIRIT—Canada's greatest asset, Mr. Beatty said in conclusion, was the courageous spirit of the people, "a spirit which breathes an unquenchable faith in free enterprise. This faith is possessed by Canadians in the highest degree, and that is why they look forward to their future with confidence and unimpairment."

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Reviewing newspaper development in the United States at a section meeting of the convention yesterday, Louis Wiley, business manager of The Associated Press, stressed the importance of the part The Associated Press has played in that development.

"One agency in the United States which has contributed in large measure to the development of our strong newspaper press," he said, "and whose value in every way can scarcely be estimated is The Associated Press, the great mutual news-gathering and distributing organization. Its reports of daily happenings are impartial and accurate. They are not entirely remote from our contribution to both the business and profession of newspaper making. For some time there has been a reciprocal exchange of news between newspaper publishers on both sides of the Atlantic. We are both borrowers and lenders of ideas, testifying to the international solidarity existing between newspapers on all sides."

AIDS DEVELOPMENT—After telling briefly of the diversity of its membership, Mr. Wiley added: "The Associated Press is a part of the development of newspapers in the United States. Its efficiency is owing to the fact that it is a part of the beginning of journalism. We believe, however, that we cannot be entirely remote from our contribution to both the business and profession of newspaper making. For some time there has been a reciprocal exchange of news between newspaper publishers on both sides of the Atlantic. We are both borrowers and lenders of ideas, testifying to the international solidarity existing between newspapers on all sides."

COPY FOR EACH HOME—Mr. Wiley traced the development of American newspapers from the period prior to the American Revolution, when weekly gazettes were considered sufficient to carry the scattered and badly reported news down to the present times, when, he said, there are in the United States 2,915 daily newspapers, including 428 morning and 1,410 evening editions.

WITH THE FLIERS

THE disappearance of Major McLaren and his companions along the Siberian coast reminds us of the experience of Major Martin, who commanded the American round-the-world fliers, on the Alaska peninsula last Spring. Martin was found little the worse for his trials, but his machine was completely wrecked and he had to abandon the adventure. It is to be hoped that the gallant British aviator and those with him have met with no serious mishap either to themselves or to their machine. They have gone ahead so manfully in spite of misfortune after misfortune that it would be a calamity if they were unduly delayed again just as they were about to commence their trans-Pacific flight. If it should turn out that their machine has been wrecked, another one should be sent to them and, if necessary, Canada should send it.

Major McLaren has some four thousand miles to cover to Prince Rupert. His original schedule called for a stop at Vancouver, but it is understood he will turn eastward from Prince Rupert and drop in on Edmonton. After crossing Canada to Newfoundland he will prepare for his last and longest water jump—to the Azores. From the Azores home by way of Portugal and France will be an easy feat.

Major McLaren thus has two oceans and a continent to cross. The American world fliers who arrived in London yesterday have a much more favorable prospect ahead of them. They have only the Atlantic to jump by way of the Orkneys, Flores, Iceland and Greenland, after which they soon will be in their own country. They are not likely to meet nearly as much difficulty in crossing the north Atlantic at this time of the year as they met in crossing the north Pacific in the early stages of their tour. Aviators frequently fly to Iceland and, occasionally to Greenland. Moreover as they are flying three machines they can afford to risk an accident or two.

It is now four months since these two world flights began, and it will be nearly five before either party has returned to its starting place. In that period a traveler by land and sea could have rounded the world twice and been well on the way a third time. The flight when it has been completed will have established nothing new or surprising, since it has been obvious to everybody for years that given enough machines and unlimited time skillful aviators could fly around the world. The spanning of the Atlantic by Alcock and Brown in a single flight from Newfoundland to Ireland was a more startling thing.

STILL ANOTHER

WITH the election of the Liberal candidate in Mackenzie, the new constituency in the Peace River region, the Government has twenty-three supporters, with two friendly Independents. Hence it can now reckon on a majority in the Legislature. The Vancouver absentee vote count is proceeding to-day, but if this shall be divided in the same proportion among the candidates as the general vote was the margin of General McRae over Mrs. Smith is likely to be wiped out. In any case the Government will be able to command a majority of the House without the support of the Labor members.

If those Provincial members who were formerly Conservatives return to their old-time party allegiance, as they are likely to do, Mr. Stoddart, who was elected in Cariboo as a Provincial but who was a Liberal in other times, probably will support the Government. According to present prospects the Government will meet the House with the loss of only two votes in the first division as compared with the old Legislature.

The present roll-call of Conservative members numbers sixteen. Half of these are from Vancouver Island south of Ladysmith. Thus the Island is well represented in the Opposition and will have a commanding influence in the Conservative caucus. But it is, unhappily, the wrong caucus for the best interests of this part of the Province.

SASKATCHEWAN'S VERDICT

SASKATCHEWAN has followed the example of her neighbors and has placed herself in the "wet" column. The people have ordered a system of Government control of the liquor business, but they have been wise enough to have nothing to do with the open sale of beer by the glass.

When it was decided to ask the electorate for instructions on this highly controversial subject the Government made it clear that it required definite and conclusive proof that a change was required before it would undertake to ask Parliament to remove Saskatchewan's Temperance Act from the realm of operative legislation. That is to say, a bare majority would not do; it would have to be thoroughly convincing. With less than half the polls heard from this morning there is already a majority which suggests that that instruction has been effectively given. Government control with no open sale of beer by the glass is the verdict.

Five out of the nine provinces of Canada have now abandoned Prohibition. British Columbia and Manitoba have so far confined themselves to a straight vending business over the counter. Alberta and Quebec employ these privileges and dispense the lighter beverages in public places, wine being allowed with meals in the Ancient Province. Ontario will make its choice next October. There is no active movement afoot in the Maritime Provinces for a test of public opinion on the subject.

Saskatchewan has not borrowed trouble by submitting a bill drawn up by the Moderationists. Alberta did this and has discovered a number of ticklish features which may undergo a change at the next session of the Legislature. Saskatchewan can now frame its legislation and profit by the mistakes of at least four provinces.

TWO SERIOUS ACCIDENTS

TWO serious accidents, one of them attended by fatal results, already have occurred at the corner of Linden Avenue and Fairfield Road.

Motorists complain of the "blindness" of the intersection in question and marvel that there are not more spills during the dark hours. It would cost very little to erect red signals which would be caught by the headlights of cars traveling in each direction.

These would not guarantee immunity from accident. But they should be sufficient reminder to the motorist with his wits about him.

GIVE THEM FACTS

SEVERAL Scottish editors have come to this country to find out for themselves just what Canada has to offer the emigrant from the Old Country—and especially the Scottish emigrant.

Every facility will very naturally be given to these distinguished visitors. Their presence in the country should furnish an excellent opportunity for the proper authorities in the Dominion and in the various provinces to dispense information of an essentially practical kind. The fact that the trip has been undertaken at all is proof in itself that there is a genuine desire on the part of thinking people on the other side of the Atlantic for facts that tower above the almost pitiable ignorance of Canada and Canadian conditions with which one meets in many Old Country newspapers from time to time.

These men will have no time for generalities and honeyed phrases. They will want to know where their surplus population can go, what they will have to pay for land, how they will be allowed to discharge their liability, where the markets are, and everything which has a bearing on the subject.

Nor need there be any hesitation about giving plain facts. Canada can take as many guests as Great Britain can send her and it is a healthy sign when newspapermen are sent out as investigators. Their opportunity for education when they get back should be almost unlimited.

THE LATE MRS. MAHON

IN the death of Mrs. Winnifred Mahon the Province has lost an extremely valuable and conscientious servant.

As factory inspector for the Minimum Wage Board the late Mrs. Mahon has performed duties of practical interest to the workers themselves—especially women workers—and of value to employer and Province as well.

It is three years since she commenced her task and in that short time she had earned the warmest regard of all with whom she came in contact.

Actively interested in women's welfare work for many years, and with a practical experience of industrial conditions, the late Mrs. Mahon was particularly suited for the task from which death has now called her.

There is another Conference pending. It is reported that holly has been uprooted in a garden at Duncannon and "reparations" are demanded.

Premier Berge of Norway says his Government will resign unless Prohibition is done away with. That's the worst of these hot and dry spells.

Premier MacDonald's opening remarks at the inter-Allied Conference yesterday were typical of the sincerity of the man. But the hand-shaking which precedes a prize fight is a harmless little ceremonial.

TRANSFERABLE VOTE

From The Manitoba Free Press
The transferable vote is but an instalment of P.R. It is a very simple change in the manner of marking the ballots, and will bring fairer and more sensible results. In contests where there are three or more candidates, Parliament should pass this measure along with the redistribution bill.

A POPULAR DERBY

From The London Morning Post
We are all not only a little giddy, but also a little sentimental on Derby Day. And so the victory of Sansovino was accepted on all hands as a worthy reward to an ancient family which has waited so patiently for some success in the great race to which it has given its name. Even those daring souls who have backed outsiders were willing to admit that there was a rough justice in the fact that after 137 years an Earl of Derby should win the Derby. And so the sentimentalists were satisfied.

LIFE, SLOW CANDLE, BURN, BURN

Now that I've met him—Hours of nights come swift—Days speed by—Shade on the sundial, sharp, spin! Future, waiting feet, begin! Past and present, die, go! Sand in the hour-glass, spill, flow! Wheel of fortune, move, turn! Life, slow candle, burn, burn!
—Mary Carolyn Davies.

Dr. Frank Crane on "What a Woman Can Do"

IN THESE days of emancipation, women are dabbling about at all sorts of things.

It is natural also that many of them should make mistakes, the business of making mistakes being the one in which we are all more or less adept.

And the principal mistake that they make is the very primary one of mistaking the peculiar kind of activity in which they are endowed by Nature to excel and in which no mere man can cope with them.

There is such a thing as sex in ideas. There is such a thing as femininity of spirit. And it is not a thing to be ashamed of nor to be regarded as in any wise second-rate.

There are three things a woman can do better than any man can do them; three things so vital that the world's pulses would stop and the world's spirit would droop without them.

These three things are Love, Management and Appreciation.

In the first place the world's most precious treasure, the immediate jewel of its soul, the last possession with which it would willingly part is Love.

It is no extravagance to say that Love belongs to her, and that without her this so great fire of the gods would fall upon every hearthstone.

The second of her possessions is Management.

Man thinks he manages, but he does not. He has strength as the horse has strength, but the woman has wit. In these a woman cannot cope with him. But he cannot preserve the result of his work, and his production and creation become wastage without the woman's management.

The third business of woman is Appreciation. Appreciation is the Bread of Life. It is the Vitamine of the spirit.

Appreciation does not judge; it does not condemn; it does not punish. It understands.

Father of Responsible Government in Canada

APPOINTED special commissioner to Upper and Lower Canada in January, 1838, just after the rebellious outbreaks in Lower Canada had been suppressed by Sir John Colborne, the Earl of Durham was unable to start until the first of April. He landed at Quebec with his staff on May 27, entrusted with extraordinary powers as Governor-in-Chief of Upper and Lower Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince-Edward Island, Newfoundland. In the forty-sixth year of his life, he was a person of commanding position in the politics of Great Britain, though considered erratic and lacking somewhat that traditional stability and solidity of British statesmen. There could be no doubt, however, about his honesty, his sterling character, his remarkable ability very close to genius. He left no room for doubt also, of his masterful, not to say arrogant, disposition, his very definite convictions, his determination to have his own way. On the other hand, he possessed a charm which, when he chose to exercise it, was well-nigh irresistible.

Lord Durham was faced with a difficult situation, but his action was prompt and decisive. The prisons were full of political offenders. Sir John Colborne had been unable to deal with them, for a French Canadian jury would have acquitted them all, an English-Canadian jury would have hanged a large number of them, a court-martial would have been considered oppression, would have exasperated a great portion of the unoffending French-Canadians, and, what was even more dangerous, have given an opportunity for the demagogues of the northern States of the United States to have wrought their hostile populations to a sentimental fury against Great Britain. The sympathizers in these States with the rebel Canadians were very numerous and powerful, and there was actual danger of a wave of feeling through the Republic's volatile electorate which would sweep the country into war with Great Britain, another war for the possession of Canada, that old ambition of two centuries which cannot be said to be utterly dead even yet.

LORD DURHAM persuaded the important prisoners to sign a confession of guilt throwing themselves on his mercy, banished eight of these to Bermuda, forbade Papineau and fifteen other rebels escaped to the United States to return, and extended amnesty to all the rest. It was a brilliant practical solution of a formidable problem. Most important, perhaps, it caused a revolution of feeling in the United States and the menace of war was over. Charles Grey, Lady Durham's brother, sent to Washington as envoy, managed to secure the co-operation of the United States Government in maintaining the peace along the border where American sympathizers and Canadian rebel exiles were awaiting opportunity for invasion of Canada. United States opinion was turning, and the French-Canadians were soothed by the unexpected mildness of the disposal of the rebels.

Then Lord Durham made a tour of observation in Upper and Lower Canada. He left Quebec on July 4, with his suite, proceeded to Montreal, where he was given a royal welcome. Thence he traveled up the St. Lawrence and into Lake Ontario, arriving at Niagara-on-the-Lake on July 13.

It was on July 17 that Lord Durham held there a great review of the military forces in Upper Canada. In all probability he chose this spot instead of Toronto for his demonstration and ceremonial because of its proximity to the United States. It was to the gallery there that he was playing as much as to the loyal and enthusiastic citizens of Upper Canada. There was a crowd of United States people to witness the review and they were visibly impressed. Moreover, they were made to feel that they were welcome.

Always disposed toward whatever display and pomp seemed to fit the occasion, Lord Durham gave full rein to his taste in this instance. No detail was omitted on account of its cost. That evening His Lordship gave a banquet, elegant, lavish, impressive. To this, with the distinguished personages of Upper Canada, he invited a number of Americans, and included a toast to the President of the United States. To see a British statesman and Governor-General of Canada drinking the health of their President had a profound effect upon the American guests.

Lord Durham's short term of office in Canada pacified the French-Canadians and smoothed the deeply stirred American republican sympathies with all rebels against the "tyranny" of Great Britain.

Sidelights on a Great Industry

THE DESTINY OF A GREAT PROVINCE

FOREST INDUSTRIES OUR MAIN FACTOR IN PROVINCE'S EXPORT TRADE

A Twelve-fold Increase in Shipments in Ten Years

AS more and more of her products are carried along the trade routes of the world, so is British Columbia fulfilling her destiny of becoming the greatest maritime trade centre on the Pacific.

The forest products industries of British Columbia are taking by far the greatest share in building up the export trade of the province. Fully sixty per cent. of the big vessels that travel down the sea lanes of commerce from the ports of British Columbia carry full or part cargoes of wood products to the principal markets of the world.

Creates Offshore Trade
It must be remembered that as the lumbering industries have been the main factor in creating our offshore trade, so would their deflection at this time mean a sudden eclipse of British Columbia's commercial aspirations.

The following figures give some idea of the growth of the Province's lumber export trade: In 1894 B.C. exported 35,000,000 feet lumber.

1904 B.C. exported 33,000,000 feet lumber.

1914 B.C. exported 41,000,000 feet lumber.

1923 B.C. exported 521,000,000 feet lumber.

Over $12,000,000 was paid out in ocean freights last year on wood products exported from British Columbia.

It is this business that is attracting so many big ships upon whose comings and goings our ports are dependent for their very existence.

Victoria Patrol Received With Open Arms by Up-island Communities

Tanned and fit after the first week of 300-mile cycle tour, which will encircle the island, the picked patrol of the Victoria Boy Scout Association is meeting with a warm reception at every up-island stopping-point. The boys, writes Assistant District Commissioner H. T. Ravenhill, are all in the best of health.

The patrol passed through Cumberland, Qualicum, Parkville and is now on the way to Alberni. Trains were boarded for a portion of the journey which led over a rough road which would later have to be retraced.

At every centre the Victoria boys are met by up-island scouts and their leaders. District Commissioner Money and a troop of Girl Guides, under Captain Mary Money, met and entertained the boys at Qualicum. Scoutmaster, Rev. W. Leverage, entertained the boys royally at Cumberland, proving an invaluable host.

From the boys' viewpoint the trip has been accompanied by a succession of banquets, interspersed with the acquaintance of many new friends. One outcome of the island tour by the Victoria boys is the likelihood of a Vancouver island camp to bring together all members of the scouting movement, resident on the island.

Writing to the local office of the Provincial Headquarters, Assistant District Commissioner H. T. Ravenhill cannot say enough for the splendid way in which the boys of the Great Commission have received the warmth of their reception at every point. The trip, he says, is one that will last long in their memories.

Not the least valuable part of the tour is the interchange of scouting training methods and the giving of demonstrations in the latest scout lore. While at each centre the boys are billeted by brother scouts, and to such a success that the boys have great difficulty in resuming their journey due to the warmth of pressure to prolong their stay.

VANCOUVER FOUR ROVS GREAT RACE AGAINST BRITAIN

Beaten by Length and a Half After Bad Start and Poor Position

Cut Down Early Lead by Britain But Could Not Make Finish a Winner

Argenteuil, France, July 17 (Canadian Press cable).—Pulling up on even terms at the three-quarter mark, after being half a length behind England at the 1,000-metre mark, the Vancouver Boat Club crew was unequal to the strain and was beaten by Great Britain by a length and a half this afternoon for first place in the finals of the four-oared, without coxswain, Olympic boat race. Switzerland finished third and France fourth. The time was 3 minutes 3.4 seconds and was comparatively slow owing to the mild upstream wind and current which prevailed.

At the 1,000-metres the English boat headed the Canadians by half a length, with France three lengths and Switzerland five lengths in the rear. Increasing its pace, Canada pulled up abreast with England at the 1,500-metres, Switzerland moving into third place, with France bringing up the rear.

From the boys' viewpoint the Canadian challenge and pulling a strong, steady stroke again took the lead, passing the finishing mark a length and a half ahead of the Vancouver crew, who put up a plucky exhibition. Switzerland and France were well beaten.

DREW BAD POSITION

Canada was unfortunate in the draw for starting position, getting an unfavorable course on the outside. Owing to a short curve in the bank 400 metres from the start, the British Columbia oarsmen were compelled to stiffen their stroke on the outside to correct the curve and the course and were fully a length in the rear at this distance.

Thereafter they gradually recovered the lost ground until at the 1,000-metres, or half the distance, they were within a half-length of England, the leading crew. From the half-way mark there was a ding-dong struggle between the two leaders for supremacy, but with England always having the initial advantage gained at the commencement of the race. Both crews rowed magnificently and had no opposition from either the French or Swiss boats.

CANADA LAST AWAY

The starter's gun was fired at 4.10, the boats getting away in the following order: France, England, Switzerland and Canada. Passing the quarter-mark the order was: England, Canada, Switzerland and France.

The two leaders maintained this order for the remainder of the race, but Switzerland and France changed places twice, with the Swiss boat crossing the line ahead of the French crew.

The time made in the finals this afternoon was thirty-six seconds slower than that made by Canada on Monday when Switzerland, the European champions, were beaten by two lengths.

The Canadian Olympic four-oared crew, which is the senior four-oared crew of the Vancouver Rowing Club, and was sent to the Olympic Games by that club, has won the Pacific Coast championship for the past two years. The members of the crew are: Bill Wood, bow; A. Marbacher, No. 2; Archie Black, No. 3 and George Mackay, stroke. Colin Finlayson accompanied the crew as spare man, while A. E. Tennant acted as coxswain.

TENNIS

R. Norris William II, was eliminated from the Olympic singles competition, losing to Henri Cochet of France. The score was 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup of the American women's team, was eliminated in the round before the semifinals by the Wimbledon champion, Miss Kathleen McKane 6-2, 6-0.

WIE FAIL TO FIND "MOUNTAIN DEVILS"

Only Tracks of Cougars Where Strange Beasts Were Said to Have Been Seen

Kelso, Wash., July 17.—Only tracks of cougars were found where strange beasts were said to have been seen in the Spirit Lake region by mining prospectors last week. It was reported by Dan Parker, Frank Hein and Roy Dalley, who were the first of a number of explorers to make an expedition into that section, when they returned to Kelso today. They completely discredited the report that wild men had been seen or that had attacks with rocks. These men said they slept in the canyon all night and found the country so barren there that they believe it to be impossible for animal life to live there.

U.S. WINS TWO OF SWIMMING FINALS AND GETS GOOD LEAD

Los Angeles, July 17.—The United States won two out of three final Olympic swimming events today, finishing one, two, three in the 100-metre, 200-metre, and 400-metre freestyle events, and placing the United States well ahead of Australia, its nearest competitor, in the water sports.

JAPANESE DUTIES ON LUXURIES RAISED

Import Charges on 250 Articles Put up by Parliament to 100 Per Cent

Foreigners of Kobe Say Occidental Standards of Living Impossible

Tokio, July 17.—Both Houses of the Imperial Diet today passed the Government bill raising the tariff on about 250 articles classed as luxuries to an ad valorem duty of 100 per cent.

The date the increase will become effective will be announced in the imperial ordinance promulgating the act.

It is understood the measure will not affect goods that are in transit, an arrangement to this effect having resulted from diplomatic representations made by Great Britain and France. The bill had been before the Diet just ten days.

The increased tariff was opposed bitterly by the importers and other business interests dealing in imported luxuries. The foreign community of Kobe went on record in opposition to the increase, expressing the conviction that "it will make the maintenance of a European standard of living in Japan virtually impossible, thus doing a grave injustice to the foreign community."

PLAIN BALLOT FOR ONTARIO LIQUOR VOTE

Ferguson Government Wants no Uncertainty After Plebiscite on October 23 Next

Toronto, July 17.—"Trick ballot" charges which have resounded from "yes" platforms ever since the 1919 liquor vote will not, according to the Ferguson Government's resolve, persist from either side after the plebiscite on the liquor issue on Thursday, October 23 next, states The Mail and Empire today.

Along with the desire to make the question one in line with public opinion of the time, Premier Ferguson states, there is a determination on the part of the Government to make the ballot one readily understandable by the voters.

"The vote, the Premier declares, will be an entire fulfillment of the pledge made while the Conservatives were campaigning in the Spring and Summer of 1923 to take a vote of the people if and when public opinion demands," The Mail concludes.

Canadian Oarsmen Pull Second In Two Events

Vancouver Crew Second to Great Britain in Four-oared Event While Toronto Varsity Was Second to Yale in Eight-oared Race; Beresford, jr., Holder of Diamond Sculls Defeats Gilmore, of America in Single Sculls; Other Olympic Events

Argentuil, July 17.—Yale's champion varsity eight to-day won the Olympic eight-oared race. Yale's victory made America the winner of the Olympic rowing competition, giving her 33 points to Switzerland's 32.

The ten points earned by the triumph of the Yale crew were just enough to give the United States victory in the rowing competitions by one point over the Swiss oarsmen.

The single sculls race in the Olympic rowing championship, contested here to-day, was won by Holland, with a time of 19:25 seconds.

Four-oared with coxswain—Switzerland first, France second, United States third, Italy fourth, Holland fifth. Time 7:30 minutes, 19:25 seconds.

Double sculls—United States first, France second, Switzerland third, Brazil fourth. Time 7:30 minutes 43 seconds.

WEISMULLER A WINNER. Johnny Weismuller, of the United States, to-day finished first in the semi-finals of the Olympic 400-metre free style swim.

OLYMPIC SWIMMING SUMMARIES. 100-metre backstroke—First semi-final, two to qualify for finals to-morrow. Warren Kealoha, Hawaii, first; Paul Wyatt, Uniontown, Pa., second. Time one minute 13 2/5 seconds.

RICHARDS JUST WINS. Columbus, July 18.—Vincent Richards, of the United States lawn tennis team, defeated Rene Lacoste, of France, in the round before semi-finals of the men's singles in the Olympic championships to-day, 8-6, 6-2, 6-3.

HELEN BEATS MOLLA. Columbus, France, July 17.—Miss Helen Wills, the American women's lawn tennis champion, to-day defeated Mrs. Molla Mallory, former American champion, representing Norway, in the Olympic tennis championships, 6-3, 6-4.

FRANCE POLO CHAMPIONS. Paris, July 17.—France won the Olympic polo championship to-day, defeating Belgium in the final three to nothing.

Paris, July 17.—Two more Canadian boxers took the Olympic honors yesterday. A. S. Rennie, Montreal, and J. MacGregor, of Hamilton, flyweights, defeated N. Yelver, of Sweden, and Vitta, of Spain, respectively.

Rennie and his opponent spent their first round in a quite evenly matched fight. In the second round the Canadian landed several times at close quarters. In the third, Rennie demonstrated his superiority in striking and offensive. He easily won his bout.

The MacGregor-Vitta bout opened with a rapid exchange of courtesies. The men appeared to be quite evenly matched. The Spaniard showed much cleverness and speed in the second round, but the Canadian offset this by upcutting to advantage. MacGregor steamed up in the final round and won a close decision.

Canadian Shots Begin Nicely In Prince's Prize

Major Richardson, Victoria, Within One of a Possible at 300 Yards

Burke, of Ottawa, Who Leads in King's Prize, Only Nineteen Years Old

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—Sergeant T. Anger of Calgary, scored 98 yesterday in the first stage of the shoot for the King's Prize and thus he is the 16th Canadian qualifying to compete in the second stage to-morrow by reason of having made an aggregate of 94 or better in the first stage.

Captain E. H. Robinson, late of the R.A.F., who won the King's Prize last year in a shoot-off with Corporal W. T. Norton, late of the Queen's Regiment, Westminster, failed to reach a place in the first stage.

In the shoot to-day for the Prince of Wales Prize at the first of the two ranges, 300 yards, the Canadians scored as follows: Major R. S. Cross, Ottawa; Major F. Richardson, Victoria; Sergt. Wilson, Ottawa; each 49 out of a possible 50; Pte. Beaumont, Victoria; Lieut. Bishop, Ottawa; Pte. Burke, Ottawa; Lieut. Martin, Calgary; Pte. Sellwood, Vancouver; Sergt. Storer, Mimico Beach, Ont.; Lieut. Board, Toronto; Staff Sergt. Binnie, Hamilton, 47; Sergt. Major Goodhouse, Ottawa; Sergt. Major Hawkins, Toronto; Sergt. Ho Lem, Calgary; Major Kingsley; and Pte. White, Toronto, 45; Sergt. Bowen, Edmonton; Sergt. Steadman, Toronto; 45; Sergt. Parnell, Victoria, 44; and Sergt. Stuart, Ottawa, 42.

Bisley Camp, July 17.—Marksmen from all parts of the Empire to the number of 969 got into action yesterday in the competition for the big prize of the meeting—the King's Prize—and in the opening stage the honors went to a Canadian, Pte. Burke of Ottawa, who led the field with a score of 49 in a possible 105, on the two, five and six hundred yard ranges, seven shots on each. A special prize donated by the National Rifle Association consisting of a bronze medal and a bronze badge for the competitor making the high aggregate in the opening stage goes to Pte. Burke.

He made possible on both the 200 and the 600 yard ranges and dropped to 33 on the 500-yard range. Prize competition is conducted in three stages. The second stage is open only to the 300 competitors making their best scores in the opening stage and the third stage only to the 100 taking the highest places in the second stage. The second stage will be held on Friday and the final stage on Saturday.

Competitors with scores of 94 and over entered the second stage and thirty-five Canadians got in. Other Canadians from the western and coast provinces to enter the second stage were: Sergt. J. A. Lem, Calgary, 98; Pte. P. W. Sellwood, Vancouver, 95; Lieut. Martin, Calgary, 91; failed to make the second stage. Pte. Burke's victory yesterday was a popular one. Burke is only 19 years old and has been shooting less than three years.

Vancouver, B.C., July 17.—Worthman, Hollywood stable gelding, won the closing day feature event at Lansdowne Park track yesterday. Nabob, second, purse of $1,000. There were six starters in the race and Worthman went to the post favored. Near the wire, and the distance was a mile and an eighth, Flaxy Mac Petzoldt up, led the greater part of the distance, but could not stand off Worthman's rush down the stretch, the latter winning easily by a length and a half. Full of it, outsider, was third. The results were: First race, five furlongs—Rosa Atkin, $18.90, $9.20, $4.50, won; Kinetic, $5.00, $2.50, second; Needy, $3.20, third. Time 1:03 1/5.

Second race, five-and-a-half furlongs—Thelma, C. $7.95, $3.60, 2.40, won; Shadow Spark, $3.75, $2.40, second; Expressive, $3.25, third. Time 1:05 3/5.

Third race, six furlongs and fifty-five yards—Golden Red, $3.50, $1.50, $0.40, won; Emma, Williams, $1.45, $0.80, second; Porter, Ella, $7.15, third. Time 1:19.

Fourth race, one mile and one-eighth—Worthman, $4.80, $3.50, $3.55, won; Flaxy Mac, $3.50, $2.50, second; Full of Fun, $4.70, third. Time 1:55.

Fifth race, five-and-a-half furlongs—Nantucket, $12.20, $3.60, $2.75, won; Lady Gorham, $3.40, $2.65, second; John Morrill, $3.90, third. Time 1:06 3/5.

Sixth race, one mile and seventy yards—Topmast, $5.50, $3.75, $3.10, won; Leenack, $5.70, $3.50, second; Reput, $3.40, third. Time 1:47.

EDMONTON GIRL BASKETBALLERS WHO ARE SHOWING UP EUROPEAN QUINTETTES

The Edmonton Grads seem to have an easier time disposing of their opposition in Paris than they did in this country. In the two games to date the team has run up over 120 points, while they have had less than thirty-five points scored against them. The Grads will undoubtedly prove to Europe that they have every right to the world's championship.

Canadian Soccer Team Best But Only Draws With Victoria

Melbourne, July 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—The challenge match played here this afternoon between the All-star Canadian soccer football team touring Australia and a team representing the State of Victoria, ended in a draw, each team scoring one goal. Linning scored Canada's counter. The Canucks played a better game than the Victorians, but were weak in front of the goal.

Linning, Anderson, Stobart, and Harley played great football. Three thousand persons saw the game. The Canadians return to Sidney for their next fixture on Saturday. Mosher and Chapman, the two injured members of the team, are progressing favorably in hospital.

Tigers Won Two Games Yesterday and Are Right on Heels of Two Leaders

Yankees Are Game and a Half Ahead of Them; Cleveland Halts Champions

AMERICAN LEAGUE. New York, July 17.—The Cleveland Americans won the first contest of a six-game series from New York yesterday, 4 to 3. The defeat reduced New York's lead in the American League race to one-half game.

DETROIT MOVES UP. Detroit advanced to within a game and one-half of the league leaders yesterday by defeating Boston twice, 6 to 1 and 11 to 1. Cobb went hitless but his mates batted fiercely. In the seventh inning of the second game when Detroit made eight runs, Burke doubled off Piercy and tripled off Workman.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—The Philadelphia Athletics took the Chicago White Sox into camp yesterday for a double victory, winning the first game 5 to 0 and the second 6 to 3. Sam Gray's elusive pitching proved too much for the White Sox in the opening half of the day's engagements, the youthful Texan holding them to four scattered safeties, enabling the ninth run behind, the Athletics walloped out three successive safeties that scored two runs and brought them in the closing contest.

NATIONAL LEAGUE. St. Louis, July 17.—Bunching their hits off Jess Barnes in the first game and driving in four hits, scoring four runs for a safe lead over their former team mate, Lou North, in the second game, St. Louis won both games of their double header with Boston here yesterday.

PHILLIES TAME CUBS. Chicago, July 17.—Chicago staged a rally in the ninth, knocking Ring out of the box out full short by one run, Philadelphia winning 3 to 2. Joe Bush, just in from the Texas League, pitched eight innings for the Cubs.

REDS BREAK EVEN. Cincinnati, July 17.—Cincinnati and Brooklyn broke even in a double-header yesterday, the visitors winning the first game 5 to 4, and the home club capturing the second 9 to 0. Both contests were close and were marked by hard hitting of both teams.

COAST LEAGUE. Salt Lake, July 17.—Salt Lake had all the luck, and this, coupled with heavy stick work, enabled them to defeat Seattle, 12 to 2, here yesterday. The Bees gathered in sixteen hits off Jones and Plummer. Lewis and Bowker hit homers.

SHOOTING AT PORTLAND. Portland, July 17.—The Pacific Coast zone handicap shoot opened at the Portland Club to-day. The tournament will last four days and 200 shooters are expected to take part.

SIMONICH A WINNER. Oakland, Cal., July 17.—Joe Simonich of Butte, Mont., claimant of the Pacific Northwest welterweight championship, won a decision over Young Dudley, negro champion of San Francisco, last night in the four-round main event.

VALIA DROPPED A FLY BALL IN THE NINTH, and the Tigers put over three unearned runs. Kliduff and Kimmick collided head-on in the fifth; both were rendered unconscious, and later Kimmick had to be assisted from the field. Kliduff was able to finish the game.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE. Newark, N. Y., Buffalo 4. Reading 3, Syracuse 1. Jersey City 1-14, Rochester 1-5, Baltimore-Toronto, rain.

Competition Was Keen At Annual Police Sports

Seattle Team Captured Tug-of-war While Vancouver Runners Took Honors in Most of Track Events; Times Relay Bicycle Team Won; "Chuck" Staples Carried Off Honors in Bicycle Races; Seattle Police Won Revolver Shooting; Cairns, of Vancouver, New Star

Keen competition featured the annual Victoria Police Sports staged at the Willows track yesterday afternoon. All the events were run off in fine style and plenty of excitement was provided for the large crowd of people which turned out. The majority of the track and field events were copied by the athletes from Vancouver and Seattle. The tug-of-war, one of the features, was won by the Seattle police after a couple of hard pulls with the local team.

One of the outstanding athletes at the meet was D. J. Cairns, of Vancouver, who carried off the honors in the policemen's 100 yards and 220 yards, came second in the sack race, and won the 880-yard relay race for his team when he beat Watson, the Seattle crack, in the last lap of the race. This is the first time in years that Watson has been beaten in the dashes.

In the open male open event Whitworth of Vancouver ran one of the prettiest races of the day. McGivern kept pace with him until the home stretch, when the Vancouver runner put on a lovely sprint, crossing the tape fifty yards in the lead. In the half-mile, the Seattle crack, in the last away from the field on the home stretch with Joe Bastedo of South Vancouver capturing second place.

Times boys win. In the newboys' two-mile relay bicycle race, The Daily Times team won after a hard fight with a team from The Colonist. In the first lap the two riders were neck and neck at the finish, but on the second round The Times' team secured the lead, and although the last rider for the Colonist made a great effort to catch the evening paper boy, The Times nevertheless crossed the line fifty yards in the lead.

In the 440 yards open handicap, Sampson, a local boy, won by a margin of one of the closest finishes seen for some time. J. McLaren, of the Vancouver Elks, won the 200 yards open handicap and the 100 yards open handicap.

STAPLES WINS EASILY. "Chuck" Staples of Vancouver, former champion of this city, had no trouble winning the bicycle events, the one-mile and three-mile. In the first event, after being trailed by the remainder of the pack, he made a great start on the home stretch, and although Peden, of this city, made a great effort to keep the pace, Staples went over the line with a good lead.

In the hurdle race open, Stewart of Vancouver won first place honors, with Watson of Seattle second.

STAN-BEST AT POLY. In the vaulting event, Stan Featherstone, of this city, left his opponents when he went over the bar at 9 feet 6 inches. Alex. Stewart of Vancouver was second.

Cameron of Vancouver won the 16-lb. shot put and came second in the 16-lb. hammer. Walsh of Seattle winning this event. Cameron and Walsh, in the committee race Chief Fry showed his heels to the field and romped home a winner. Sergt. Boulton captured second place.

During the afternoon the Seattle Police Band, the Boys' Naval Brigade and the Juvenile Pipe Band rendered a number of splendid performances. At the conclusion of each race Mrs. John Fry, wife of the Victoria police chief, presented the prizes to the winners.

The officials in charge of yesterday's meet were as follows: Management committee, Chief Fry, Sergeants Boulton, Sergt. Blackstock and Constable Bishop; reception committee, Deputy Chief O'Leary, Sergt. Boulton, Sergeants Blackstock and Constable collectors at cars, Constables Pook, Ireland and Clare; police of course, M.C.C. Peterson and Acreman; clerks of course, Sergt. Heatley and Constable Cremer; judges, Hon. Mr. Justice Gallihier, Brigadier-General Clark, Colonel Codville and Lieut. R. O. Oland; judges of the many fine plays in the semi-final games for the Spencer trophy. From present prospects all the events will be cleared up by the end of the week. The winners will be ready for the big rink game on Saturday afternoon at the Bernard Cup, when more than fifty rinks will participate in the same. Calls for thirty-one ends, with a compulsory stop after sixteen ends for thirty minutes. The final in the Spencer Cup will be played to-day.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS BY VISITING C.G.M.M. MANAGER

B. C. Keeley Expects Definite Word Regarding New Liner for Alaska Run; Decision Expected Within a Week; British Columbia-Mexican Service to be Inaugurated September 10.

Several important announcements were made this morning regarding Canadian Government Merchant Marine expansion, by B. C. Keeley, coast manager of the C.G.M.M. and Grand Trunk Pacific, who arrived in the city this morning on a business trip from Vancouver.

Regarding the new Grand Trunk Pacific liner for the B. C. Coast and Alaska service, Mr. Keeley stated that he expected something definite to be announced within the next week.

Plans and specifications have been offered and a decision is now expected. In any event the vessel will be the largest operating on the coastwise run, it being planned to have her built 300 feet long with a speed of twenty knots an hour.

When this vessel is added to the present fleet of coastwise liners, the Prince George, Prince Rupert and Prince John, a new itinerary will be arranged, stated Mr. Keeley. Practically the old schedule will be resumed, that is calling at Victoria, Seattle and Vancouver and going as far north as Skagway instead of Prince Rupert.

IMPORTER HERE FROM MONTREAL Discharging Large Inter-coastal Cargo; Busy Scene at Ogden Point

Unprecedented in the history of the Ogden Point docks is the busy session that is being experienced there this week. Five vessels were tied alongside Pier A yesterday, loading and unloading cargo, while the cabin ship Restorer was being discharged here from the Importer, and it is hoped to be able to clear the ship for Vancouver this evening.

Mr. Keeley, who arrived in the city this morning on business, was highly pleased, not only with the volume of business that is being handled by the Ogden Point docks, but also the consistent manner in which the inter-coastal and United Kingdom freighters are picking up cargo.

"Eyes of the Forest"
Shows Athletic Fox
Star at Columbia

Deep in the big timber country of California, Tom Mix, a company of actors and a mechanical force lived for two months during the making of "Eyes of the Forest," which is at the Columbia Theatre for a three-day run. Once before, in "Sky High," Mix defied fate and drove one of the big flying machines below the rim of the Grand Canyon crater, a hitherto unattempted feat. In his latest picture, Mix will be seen as a forest ranger, an officer in the military service whose duty it is to guard the forests from fire and lumber thieves. The girl in the case is Pauline Stark, whose work in "A Connecticut Yankee at King Arthur's Court" won her film renown. Mix encounters her in a lonely forest shack, with her uncle, a back woods doctor. He learns she is wanted on a charge of killing her stepfather. A band of lumber thieves is involved and the complications of the plot, evolved by Shannon Fife, make the picture one tingling with action and suspense throughout. Mix can usually be depended upon to pull an original stunt. In this picture he leaps from a racing horse, his own Tony, to an airplane, clutching the axle bar of the wheels below the wings and rising thousands of feet in the air. William Wellman directed the picture. In the cast are Sid Jordan, Ed Wallack, Tom Lingham, J. P. Lockney and Buster Gardner.

Police Riot Squad
Ordered to Studio
for Married People

Hugo Ballin, producer and director of "Married People," now showing at the Playhouse, needed a policeman one day for a scene in the picture. So he turned to Jimmy Chanin, his assistant, and asked Jimmy to get a cop from the station across the street. A moment later Ballin turned to Bob Tansey, property manager, and said: "Say, Tansey, get me a cop for the next scene." All that morning in the studio things had been happening which were swiftly and surely wearing Mr. Ballin's nerves to a frazzle. Lights refused to work, drops and sets didn't look right, and a dozen and one things were out of kilter. There were times when Mr. Ballin didn't know whether he was afoot or on horseback, which may account for the fact that he turned to another member of the production force and said: "Say, Bert, get me a cop from the station across the street. I'll need him for the next scene." Imagine the surprise of Mr. Ballin when a squad of policemen descended on the studio stage, armed to the teeth with drawn revolvers and riot clubs.

Musicians Back at Dominion To-night on Popular Demand

Following the decidedly favorable impression which the Dominion Symphony Orchestra gained when it came before the public last Thursday evening, the authorities have decided once again to place its artists of quality before the big musical show to-night. The entertainment is expected to prove a particularly popular one. The numbers featuring the programme are "All Trouvators," "Katinka," "Maytime," "Rendezvous" and "A Dutch Windmill." "Changing Husbands," Cecil B. de Mille's comedy riot of mixed husbands and wives, will be music to the ears of those who like a good comedy and the International Concerts will give all timely and interesting events portrayed, are other features of the bill.

"The Town That Forgot God" Now Showing at Pantages Theatre Here

"The Town That Forgot God" is the title of a film now being shown at the Pantages Theatre, under new management. The film, one of the most exceptional pieces of film photography screened this year, opened to an appreciative house yesterday and will be continued to the end of the week. All the way across country, the film has met with a markedly generous reception, playing to bumper houses in all the main centres. The theme of the story has an unexpected turn to reveal, and is filmed with a touch of reality often missed on the silver screen.

European Fans go to Extremes Making Presents to Stars

Motion picture fans on this continent, in attempting to express their admiration for their favorite stars, generally limit themselves to letters or small trinkets. But the European fan goes to greater extremes in this respect—much to the grief of some screen players. Snuff, tiger and lion cubs, lizards and similar gifts have been received by stars in the past. Sylvia Breamer, the leading player in "The Woman on the Jury," First National picture, directed by Harry O. Hoyt and now playing at the Capitol Theatre, can testify to this penchant. Recently she received four banian roosters from Joe Gonzalez, manager of the Teatro Nacional, Cuba. She promptly christened them Jack Dempsey, Luis Firpo, Jess Willard and Georges Carpentier, and they can be seen any day in the rear yard of Miss Breamer's Hollywood home.

The actress also received four cats from Norma Tauret, manager of the Theatre Wien, Vienna, Austria, with this letter: "My clients like your work. Strange to say, I like no picture actors. I prefer the stage. However, as my clients flock in great numbers to see your pictures, and as they contributed to buy the late Emperor Charles's pet dog for you, I suppose you must be all right. May peace and happiness ever follow you."

VICTIM OF KU KLUX KLAN!—Nelson Burroughs, organizer of the Knights of Columbus at Rochester, N.H., who was kidnapped by a band of men near Haverhill, Mass. The initials K.K. were branded with a hot iron on his chest and his forehead. He escaped after having been held captive for seventeen days.

WIFE COMMITTED FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND. Top left: Mrs. Helen Gilbertson of Hagersville, Ontario, photographed in her cell in Cayuga jail. Top right: Mrs. Gilbertson in court. Centre: Rev. J. W. Whitelaw, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Hagersville, who testified that Mrs. Gilbertson had spoken to him on the subject of divorce. Bottom: Dr. J. F. McCracken, who attended Mr. Gilbertson just before he died, and who declared Gilbertson said to his wife: "Neil, Neil, have you done it this time?" The wife's reply, according to Dr. McCracken, was: "I have done nothing."

IN BAD LUCK.—A jinx must be pursuing the steamer Modjeska, running between Hamilton and Toronto, these days, for she has been in three accidents recently. This is what happened when the boat, with forty passengers aboard, ran into the fog breakwater at Sunnyvale in the fog. The bow was pushed in three or four feet. On the left she is shown with a sea-surgeon's patch of canvas, a big tarpaulin pulled tight with ropes, over the crushed-in bow.

FAST STEPPER.—George Taylor, winner of the 400 metre hurdles at the Olympia Stadium, Paris. Taylor's time was 52.3-5 seconds.

GUESS WHO THEY ARE!—You could not guess in a year who these folks are? Yet you surely know them—minus their makeup. It is Henry Ford, with the high hat, flowing tie and trick whiskers, up in the driver's seat! And the lady at his left is Mrs. Ford! You will notice, too, they are not riding in a flivver. They are all dolled up this way for a parade in Dearborn, the Detroit suburb, where they live.

Love Stakes

By MILDRED BARBOUR

Most of that night, Natalie lay awake, thinking this over. It lingered in her consciousness during the next day when she went about her house-keeping and social duties with a serene face.

She called on Harriet and was her usual gay self. She lunched with Constance Deering at an obscure little club of which both were members and met several women acquaintances who were obviously embarrassed in their effort to avoid the subject that was uppermost in their minds.

She spoke quite calmly of a Winter in Italy with Barry, and smiled inwardly at the look of consternation that crossed their faces.

Constance was doubtful of the outcome of her determination to stay with Barry.

"It will make you look like a poor spiritless creature who accepts her husband's faithlessness and turns the other cheek."

Natalie smiled a little. The plan was taking form. Its salient points were already outlined in her mind. It needed only a certain contact to give it vitality.

Jeannette Amory unwittingly gave it the necessary contact when, without warning and apparently without any regard for good taste, she called upon Natalie that afternoon.

AN UNEXPECTED CALLER

When Jeannette Amory's card was brought to Natalie, she could scarcely credit her eyes.

To think that the woman had such effrontery!

But when she went downstairs and found a haggard, nervous creature sitting apprehensively on the edge of her chair as though momentarily expecting dismissal, she felt pity.

It was deplorable that any woman, no matter how reckless or indiscreet, should be brought to such a position.

Never too carefully groomed at best, the trying situation in which Mrs. Amory found herself had taken its toll of her appearance. She gave the impression of being carelessly and hastily groomed. She was unbecomingly pale and her eyes looked horribly strained.

Not much trace of the siren there! Natalie, cool, poised, serenely beautiful, waited with lifted brows for her caller to state her errand.

"Please don't be cruel!" Jeannette Amory spoke quickly, with a little nervous gesture of her ungloved hands. "You have every right to be, but they say you are very fair and kind. I know I have done an astonishing thing to come to you like this, but I think I am going mad."

"TIZ" FOR TIRED, PUFFED-UP FEET

"The minute you put your feet in a 'Tiz' bath you feel pain being drawn out and comfort just soaking in. How good your tired, swollen, burning feet feel. 'Tiz' instantly draws out the poisonous exudations that puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, sweaty feet."

"Tiz," and only "Tiz," takes the pain and soreness out of corns, calluses and bunions. Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store for a few cents. Your feet are never going to bother you any more. A whole year's foot comfort guaranteed. (Adv.)

BRINGING UP FATHER

"I'M GLAD HE IS ASLEEP OR HE WOULD WANT SOMETHING TO EAT AND THE DOCTOR'S ORDERS ARE THAT HE IS TO HAVE ONLY CRACKERS."

NURSE—WILL YOU KINDLY STEP DOWN TO THE OFFICE OR POST WANT TO SEE YOU?

ME-OW!

BY GOLLY, I JUST AWAKENED IN TIME!

Won't you have pity when I swear to you that I have never wronged you in the way the world interprets wrong?"

Natalie answered truthfully: "You are quite mistaken, Mrs. Amory. If you think that I seek to harm you, or even bear you malice, I am sorry for you. Infinitely sorry, and surely you see that I have no part whatever in this catastrophe which has overtaken us all."

Jeannette Amory's eyes fell under Natalie's steady gaze. For the first time, it occurred to Natalie that the woman must have some shrewd ulterior motive in coming to her like this. Despite her apparent agitation, there was a suggestion of craftiness of deep, underlying eagerness.

But for what? "I am a broken woman," Jeannette Amory sighed. "Everything is being taken away from me—my home, my children, my reputation. Oh, it's unbearable!"

"I scarcely see, Mrs. Amory," suggested Natalie coldly, "where I have been to blame."

"No, no, of course not except—" She raised her eyes to Natalie boldly.

"I speak plainly! The time is past for subtlety."

Natalie inclined her head. "I quite agree with you."

"Then," Mrs. Amory began hesitantly, "there is this to say when the blame is apportioned: your husband—Barry—loved me when he married you."

Natalie did not flinch, even before the little triumphant gleam which Mrs. Amory could not keep out of her eyes.

"My husband did not tell me so, Mrs. Amory. I have only your word for that."

"But subsequent events have—proved it, don't you think?"

Natalie smiled. She had a trump up her sleeve, as a retort to that, but she preferred to play it later.

"It will be only charitable to conclude in the light of all subsequent events, that you love Barry, isn't that so, Mrs. Amory?"

The other woman nodded. She lowered her eyes with that old familiar trick of hers which she occasionally practiced even on other women. Her fingers plucked nervously at her gloves.

"You can't guess what Barry means to me! He has been so fine and strong and helpful. Without him to encourage me and strengthen me, I should have gone to pieces long ago. He has advised me, scolded me, set me on the right path many and many a time when I've been about to do something foolish. If there had been someone like Barry around when I was a very young girl, I would never have married Robert Amory. I would never have been in the terrible situation I am now in."

She finished with a handkerchief, applied it to her brimming eyes.

There was a silence, an embarrassing one. Why had Jeannette Amory come, Natalie still wondered.

"You can't know what all this means to me, how it's literally killing me," Mrs. Amory went on plaintively. "Why, just this afternoon, before I came here, I met some mutual acquaintance of ours in one of the shops. They cut me dead, but they said quite audibly, just to make the lash cut deeper, that they had lunched with dear Natalie at the club and she was a brick, she was going to stand by Barry!"

Natalie could not resist smiling at the perfect mimicry of Constance Deering's voice. It was like Constance, that shaft. Also, it explained the reason of Mrs. Amory's visit.

She wanted to know if Barry's wife was really not going to divorce him. Her poorly veiled anxiety, which was frantic enough to drive her to an embarrassing and humiliating interview, could signify but one thing. She counted on marrying Barry when they both were free, and her confidence was suddenly shaken.

A TRUMP CARD

When it had finally dawned upon Natalie why Jeannette Amory had favored her with a visit, she felt more pity than resentment toward the other woman.

It must be rather terrible, she reflected, to be so driven by one's desires that one could sacrifice dignity—decency even.

She began to understand to a certain degree Barry's instinct of protection toward a woman incapable of conducting herself with decorum. If ever anyone needed a guardian, it was Jeannette Amory.

In answer to Mrs. Amory's poorly camouflaged question as to whether or not she was going to divorce Barry, Natalie replied with a faint smile.

"Really, Mrs. Amory, it seems quite unnecessary for me to make a definite statement of my faith in Barry. I believe my remaining here is a sufficient testimony of my loyalty. As for the unpleasant situation in which he is involved, I can only say that I am confident there has been some mistake."

"But if there hasn't?" murmured Mrs. Amory.

Natalie looked her squarely in the eye.

"That is, I am sure, the last thing you would care to admit, isn't it? The implication would be irrevocably damaging to your reputation, which is already seriously jeopardized."

A painful flush mounted in the other woman's face. She rose quickly, drawing on her gloves with quick nervous movements.

"I am taking up your time to no purpose," she murmured. "I see now that it was unwise of me to have come, but I am always doing unwise things, and I had to know close to home, I had to know close to home."

She broke off suddenly, came close to Natalie and turned the full battery of her large sorrowful eyes upon her. "Tell me you don't hate me!" she pleaded.

The admirable histrionics did not move Natalie as they were destined to do. She merely smiled politely.

"I assure you, Mrs. Amory, that I have no real cause to feel anything against her," she murmured. "I see—she had purposely kept this trump card for the last—'You see, I know the whole truth!'"

Jeannette Amory's startled eyes sought hers.

"You mean?"

"I know," explained Natalie gently, "who it really was who visited you last night, and who, by the way, your husband mentions in his suit—it was not Barry!"

With a murmured "good afternoon" she went quickly from the room, leaving Mrs. Amory white and speechless to find her way out alone.

She didn't mention to Barry that Jeannette Amory had called. Neither did she tell her mother-in-law, but she confided in Harriet.

"Can you fancy such impertinence!" Harriet cried incredulously. "If I were in that woman's shoes, I'd want to run away and hide in the African jungle and never be seen by my own kind again. It's positively brazen her staying here at all, and she must have the hide of an elephant to withstand all the cuts and slurs she's going to encounter from all of her old acquaintances."

"It is a bit unfair, though, isn't it?" protested Natalie. "The double standard is still being accepted, even made much over."

"That's because you've stood by him," answered Harriet promptly. "Society couldn't punish him without punishing you, too. And everyone adores you and admires you for your loyalty and courage. Anyway," she added, "I'll never believe that Barry's guilty. There's a mistake somewhere."

Natalie changed the subject quickly. It wouldn't do to let Harriet get to thinking too much along that line. An unthinking remark from an acquaintance which might link Hugh's name with Jeannette Amory, coupled with that uncanny intuition which the invalid possessed, might start a train of thought which at the very least would be harmful just when Harriet was beginning to make progress under the new specialist.

It was impossible, with the secrecy which the only ones who knew the truth would jealously preserve, that the real state of affairs would ever reach Harriet in her invalid isolation. Natalie comforted herself with that thought.

The only one in the secret who might possibly, through malice, break the faith, was Jeannette Amory; but while she maintained her love for Barry and cherished the hope of ultimately marrying him, it was unlikely that she would do something which would alienate him forever.

"Do you know, Harriet," remarked Natalie by way of changing from a dangerous subject, "I've decided that I'll be the one to go away for a while, instead of Jeannette Amory. I'd like a few months in Italy this Winter."

"N-no. As a matter of fact, my idea is to get away from Barry for a while. To give myself time enough to put into execution a plan I have in mind."

"Tell me!" commanded Harriet eagerly.

"I have a plan to go to Rome for a few months. I'll be in the secret who might possibly, through malice, break the faith, was Jeannette Amory; but while she maintained her love for Barry and cherished the hope of ultimately marrying him, it was unlikely that she would do something which would alienate him forever."

The picture was adapted by Walter Woods and Harvey Thew from the novel by John Galsworthy, "The Forsyte Saga," the most startling of all the flapper, jazz novels. It's a romance dealing with the love adventures of a chorus girl who makes a laughing stock of five wealthy sophisticated men.

DIPLOMA AWARDS IN PENMANSHIP

Semi-annual Examinations Declared to be of Very High Standard

The high honor diploma awards in Penmanship for the Province of British Columbia for the school term ending June 27, have just been announced.

This competition which is held semi-annually in connection with the MacLean method of writing is open to all schools in the Province. The class which reaches the highest standard in penmanship in each grade is awarded a high honor diploma. Pupils who reach the required standard in penmanship for their respective grades are awarded individual certificates. All these certificates and diplomas are awarded free of charge.

Many thousands of examinations were received this term, the great majority of which were of a very high standard. In addition to the very large number of examinations received from the public and high schools of British Columbia many were received from private schools and from schools located outside the Province, some coming from the Canadian Academy at Kobe, Japan, where the MacLean method has recently been adopted.

All these certificates and diplomas as well as all the text books in connection with the MacLean method are produced in British Columbia. This method was adopted in 1921 by the Educational Department of British Columbia for use in the public high and normal schools of the Province.

In order to give the smaller schools an equal opportunity with the larger ones in the high honor diploma competition, the classes are grouped according to their numbers. The first group in each grade (Section A) consists of three to ten pupils; the second group (Section B) consists of classes composed of from eleven to thirty pupils; and the third group (Section C) consists of classes composed of more than thirty pupils. The names and locations of the winning schools with the names of the teachers are here given:

LOCAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS

Resolution Before Educational Commissioners Created Considerable Discussion

Greater attention to the more practical side of education, especially in such matters as home economics and vocational training in the high schools, the establishment of a bureau of information with a view to keeping in touch with the products of the Canadian educational system, the introduction of organized play and the improvement of speech and accent were urged by the Local Council of Women before the Educational Commission yesterday.

The Council's recommendations, which created the greatest amount of discussion at the session, read as follows: Home Economics—That the "home economics" course be extended to the high schools. In order that this may be efficiently done that the course of high school work be extended from three to four years. That the first two years of the course be made as full and practical as possible, in order to induce all girls to take it but that the final two years be devoted to specialization in some form of the work, such as decorative art, designing, nursing, etc. In order to do this some opportunity should be provided for all work done in the home economics course.

2. Vocational—That in every high school of any importance, or in every city where such a high school exists, there be appointed a vocational expert, whose duty it will be to study the needs and circumstances of the children entering the high school, in order to direct them in the way best suited to their capacities and needs, and thus eliminate a great deal of wasted time and energy on the part of both teacher and child.

3. Bureau of Information—That the government be asked to establish in connection with the education of some existing bureau or bureau of information as to outlets for the finished products of the schools. This information to apply not only to British Columbia and Canada, but to the rest of the world.

The law of supply and demand would show which of the products were unmarketable and would be a guide as to the most necessary requirements of the curriculum. It would also be a means of treating the value of the investment in education.

SUPERVISED PLAY

4. Organized Play—That for the best development of sportsmanship in the schools, its counterpart in character building, all organized games should be conducted outside of school hours; that this be an integral part of the school system, and that special teachers be appointed for this purpose, or when suitable teachers are already doing this, due recognition be accorded them. This committee would recommend that your commission study the games and sports system of the private schools, whose influence has special significance upon the education problem in this community.

5. Improved English—"Whereas it has been observed that the standard of pure English is much lower in this part of the Empire than in desirable, efforts should be made to improve the speech, and accent of the students in the schools and of the teachers in training in the Normal Schools.

In reply to a report given in summary of survey published, an enrolment of not more than 200 with ten teachers, one of whom shall be the principal, should constitute a High School. If under the same roof more pupils be enrolled, they be grouped in units of not more than 300 pupils to ten teachers, and a supervising principal be appointed.

Mrs. H. W. Hercher, presenting the case for the Bureau of Information in the Department of Education said that such an organization would give its value to the fact that it would be a link between the schools and the economic needs of the Province. It was hoped to prove of assistance to parents in choosing the vocations for their children, and would serve, too, as a test of the value of the school curriculum.

Home economics for girls was advocated by Mrs. McLaurin, a general course of which, she said, was urgently required in the Victoria High School, while a more intensive course might be made optional.

Mr. Putnam asked if the people would be prepared to bear the added cost of such suggestions, and Mr. Weir stated that the commission had been appointed with a view to cutting down expenditure, rather than adding any expense to already excessive amounts spent annually by the Province.

Mrs. McLaurin replied that it was time that the people realized the importance of education was greater than any financial considerations. The economy be only a secondary consideration.

Mrs. C. Clark asked for appointment of a vocational expert in the high schools of the larger centres of population, where their services would be invaluable.

PRIVATE SCHOOL EXAMPLE

Mrs. J. H. Schofield held up for comparison the private schools of Victoria to the government institutions, saying that the method of supervision of sports might well be copied from the former. Although Mrs. Schofield conceded that the cost of some of the reforms which the women advocated would cost a considerable amount, yet she asserted that the benefits which would be obtained would be sufficient to merit this outlay.

The care of children was something in which the more saving of expense should be the last consideration, said Mrs. J. D. Gordon, and by giving the teachers more children than they could properly look after, it hampered the progress of what otherwise would be beneficial and happy education.

VALUE OF MUSIC

George J. Dyke, a private citizen, urged that the studies of the children in schools of music be counted in the advancement and standing of students at public schools. A child studying music outside of school hours should not be penalized because it might be slightly behind in

TRAGIC DEATH OF POPULAR M.P.

Late W. S. Royce of British Labor Government Leaves Daughter Here

Word of the sudden death of her father, W. S. Royce, Labor M.P. in the British Parliament, has been received by Mrs. T. P. Johnston, 4004 Prior Street, Victoria, Canada, by his daughter, who was in the city two years ago during the Dominion tour of the party of British M.P.'s.

Tragic circumstances surrounded the death of Mr. Royce, who passed away just after he was appointed Governor of Tasmania. The Overseas Mail of June 23 carries the following account of his passing:

"While on his way from King's Cross Station to the Colonial Office in London, Mr. Royce, Minister of Education, was taken suddenly ill on the top of an omnibus in Russell Square, and died as he was being removed to hospital. He had just arrived from Spalding where in the morning he was being congratulated by his constituents on his election to the Government of the Governorship.

"Those who spoke to him at Spalding just before he left said he appeared to be in the best of health. He used to show signs of distress in hot weather, and at the general election last December, he was warned by his doctor not to attend the count as the excitement might affect him.

"Do you know Tasmania?" he was asked by a friend.
"No," he replied, "but if I go there they will know me all right. I have never failed anything without making it a success," he added, "and I can tell you the secret is hard work. I have often envied the talents of brilliant men, but I have found that in this life the power of sticking it is often worth more."

Sixty-seven years old, Mr. Royce had led a romantic and adventurous life. When a small boy he ran away from London and emigrated to South Africa, where he was employed on the Cape Government Railway and worked his way up to the position of a railway magistrate and was concerned in many large building contracts.

Returning to England a rich man and landowner, he settled down at The Rectory, Pinchbeck, near Spalding, and twice unsuccessfully contested the Spalding division as a Conservative. Subsequently he joined the Labor Party and returned in 1918 as member for the Holland-with-Boston division, and this seat he kept to his death.

At the last election a body of Conservatives and Liberals formed a party known as "Royceites," and decided to vote in favor of Mr. Royce on the ground that he made a great M.P. His wife, formerly a Rotterdam woman, is a magistrate.
