

PLANS FOR STORY HOUR TO GIVE PLANT PARTY

MRS. DANFORD HAS WIDE RANGE OF SUBJECTS FOR INSTRUCTION OF LITTLE ONES

Those who had experience of the vast benefits received by those children who attended the story hour at the Glendale Public Library, instituted by Mrs. Danford, the librarian, will be glad to learn that plans are already being considered for the revival of that popular institution. Last summer the story hour was attended by a very large number of children. The number sometimes reached as high as 100 and once at least considerably over that number. It may be reasonably expected that those numbers will be exceeded this summer.

Throughout the vacation there is often a lack of safe amusements for the children and a danger that they may entirely lose their grip on their school studies. In the library hour the children will have a constant stimulus to further study while the instruction they obtain there will not be in any manner burdensome nor in any sense a task. The children who attended last summer were delighted with the hour and showed their appreciation of the stimulus received by their increased use of the library.

This summer the scope of the studies will be greatly widened. Nature study is now being taken up in the schools to a considerable extent and a great deal of interest has been created in gardening by the activities of the Glendale Garden society. In consonance with these efforts the library hour will be devoted at times to such subjects as "Trees and Birds," "Insects and Fruits," "Plants and Flowers," "Songs and Ballads," "Music and Musicians." Some attention will be paid to Shakespeare and Shakespeare's plays.

The attention of the public is directed to the Bulletin board in the library, where new books and lists of new books will be displayed from time to time. In this connection it would be well for the public also to keep an eye on the columns of The Glendale Evening News, where the bulletins will be published as soon as ready.

Now that so much interest has been stirred up in horticulture by the Garden Society and the coming flower show in April, the librarian has thought it well to gather together the books on that subject and they will be found in a group. Such valuable books as Murman's "California Gardens," Wickson's "California Fruits and How to Grow Them," Tivol's "Farmer's Cyclopaedia," Bailey's "Fruit Growing," "Gardens" in the Library series, McLaren's "Gardening," James' "Horticultural Possibilities of the Desert," "The Luther Burbank Series"—12 volumes; Harwood's "New Creations in Plant Life," Roe's "Success in Small Fruit" and many others are now to be had readily and should prove of much value to those who have taken up the cultivation of the backyard.

MEN'S MEETINGS

The attendance at the men's meeting in the Chamber of Commerce room yesterday at noon was the largest thus far. Mr. Egerton Shore of Los Angeles gave a direct, inspiring address. The speaker tomorrow will be Mr. W. S. Allen, an attorney from Los Angeles. He will have a message.

Home prayer meetings in connection with the First Methodist church Revival Mission will be held tomorrow as follows: The residences of T. A. Wright, 305 S. Louise; C. W. Ingledue, 725 W. Third; C. W. Burkett, 704 W. 5th; Miss H. Brockman, 341 S. Belmont.

FINED FOR DEER KILLING

Tony Ferriera was arrested at Gould castle, La Crescenta, Wednesday, on a charge of shooting and killing a doe deer, about Feb. 1. Part of the deer's hide was presented as evidence of the offense in Judge Miller's court Thursday morning, when Ferriera pled guilty and was fined $100.

BEN HUR ENTERTAINMENTS POSTPONED

The Ben Hur entertainments which have been advertised to take place at the Palace-Grand Theatre this (Thursday) evening and Friday evening, have been postponed indefinitely on account of the serious auto accident which so seriously injured Mrs. Sloan, the manager, and Miss Bonnell, the principal participant in the entertainment.

C. H. Munson visited his father at Rialto, Cal., Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

GARDEN SOCIETY TO HOLD UNIQUE GATHERING THURSDAY, APRIL 6

The next regular meeting of the Glendale Garden society will be held at the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock, preceded by the usual social half-hour at 7:30. The special feature of the evening will be a Plant Party. Each member or friend present is invited to bring one or more plants, or cuttings, which they can conveniently spare from their gardens. They may bring violet plants, or chrysanthemum slips, or seedlings of stocks or pansies, or cuttings of verbenas, or young pot plants of ivy geranium or vincus major, or any growing thing, as long as it is something from the garden.

All these gifts, shall we call them, will be laid side by side, and every member or friend can then choose from amongst the collection whatever they would like to have. It will really be in the nature of an exchange. Mrs. Jones, for example, will bring a little plant of fern, of which she has a plenty, and Mr. Brown will be delighted to take that fern. Mr. Brown, on the other hand, brings shasta daisies or golden rod, which Mrs. Smith is eager to get. While Mrs. Smith brings stock or smilax, and Mrs. Jones finds that stock was just what she wanted. This will prove a pretty and gracious way of helping each other out at no expense to anyone.

So everybody come, whether member or not; bring some little plant with you, make somebody else happy, and get something yourself in return.

Many interesting features of the Flower Show will be laid before the audience at this meeting—suggestions from all will be welcomed—and volunteers for assistance in the thousand-one details during the three days' floral fete will be gladly received. Any friends desiring to have their names mentioned on the Flower Show program as members of the Garden society should join before April 10. Membership fee, 25 cents per annum.—NANNO WOODS, President.

PARCHER NAMES CANDIDATES

TO THE EDITOR OF THE GLENDALE NEWS:

The question is heard as we go up and down through the city, "Who are you going to vote for?" meaning in the coming municipal election. This is a question surely worthy of every one's consideration, and after having given it our best thoughts I believe we should not be backward in naming those in our opinion who are well qualified to fill the positions they have been named for, thus letting our friends throughout the city know of our preference, and giving our reasons for the faith that is in us.

I feel that it is every man's privilege, and I believe every man's duty to speak out openly and candidly on the merits of the man or men whom he prefers. In giving my reasons for the candidates of whom I shall speak, I desire it distinctly understood that I have no grievance or fight with anyone of the other candidates, but on the other hand, I have only the most kindly and friendly feeling for each one of them, and give them all the privilege of asking for our franchise.

I will speak only of three candidates for office at this time,—viz. Mr. R. M. Jackson, Mr. Frank L. Muhleman and Mr. George B. Woodberry—all capable and most worthy citizens, making the records of their past qualifications the answer for my supporting them. If others have their preference let them advance it in the name of the man they prefer. In this way I believe the merits and interests of each candidate will be advanced, and each one will become better known to the voters of our city.

In the name of Mr. Jackson, the present secretary of our Chamber of Commerce, we have a southern gentleman, a native Kentuckian, whose past honorable record of doing things is a surety of his fitness for a trustee of our city.

After Mr. Jackson finished his education at the State University of Lexington, Ky., he entered the drug business with his father and brother. When the First National Bank of London, Ky., was organized, he was its first vice president, and four years later he was elected cashier, which position he held for twelve years. On the death of the president he was elected and served as president for four years. His health failing, he entered the coal mining business, being president of the new Diamond Coal Co. at Lamont, E.,

STREET-CAR COLLISION ALMOST PRODUCES RIOT—POLICE FIGHT FURIOUS CROWD

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, March 30.—Fifty persons were injured, many of them seriously today, when two street cars collided in the heart of the loop district. The cries of the wounded people infuriated the crowd which surged round the scene. The police had to club their way through the swaying mass of excited people and force a way for the ambulances to take away the injured.

TWELVE ENTOMBED IN COAL MINE

EXPLOSION NEAR JOHNSTOWN, PA., SETS ROBINDALE PROPERTY ON FIRE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 30.—Twelve miners are entombed in a burning coal mine not far from this city. Shortly after dawn this morning a terrific explosion shook the country round about this center. #### SAN FRANCISCO CONSTRUCTION COMPANY WOULD CONNECT OAKLAND, BERKELEY AND ALAMEDA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda are likely to be connected some of these days if the plans devised by a wealthy bridge construction company go through. ### FRENCH REPEL DESPERATE GERMAN SMASH

TEUTONS SACRIFICE THOUSANDS OF MEN IN EFFORT TO CAPTURE IMPORTANT ROADS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, March 30.—After a particularly heavy shelling from three sides a furious infantry attack was directed by the Germans on the French works at Malancourt. The Teutons had evidently launched a supreme effort to seize the two important highways that diverge from the French position. The French admitted that the position was imperiled for a time. The French, however, by means of a continuous rain of heavy shells from Dead Man's hill and Hill 304 ploughed up the highway making the German attempts at advance mere suicide.

TEN THOUSAND TROOPS IN MEXICO

AMERICAN FORCES HAVE PENETRATED THREE HUNDRED MILES INTO SOUTHERN REPUBLIC

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, March 30.—Ten thousand American troops have penetrated 300 miles into Mexico. The question of transport has now become exceedingly difficult. The troops are lacking in equipment and provisions and munitions are not going to the front with the dispatch required. The Mexican Northwest Railway announced today that it would be impossible to ship munitions south before Saturday. Col. Dodd has been unofficially located 60 miles south of Santo Tomas, which is south of Madera and not very far from the Mexico Northwest Railway line. Dodd's command passed through Madera, Tuesday.

FUNSTON REFUSES TO COMMENT ON MEXICO

AMERICAN AUTHORITIES FEAR CARRANZA IS EXPERIENCING DIFFICULTIES IN CONNECTION WITH "INVASION"

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 30.—Gen. Funston refused today to comment on the railroad situation in Mexico. It is believed that there will be considerable difficulty experienced in getting supplies to the American troops as Carranza has met with strong opposition to his policy of admitting the American soldiers to Mexico. The problems facing the de facto government of Mexico are such as to demand exceeding caution in their handling.

LABOR TROUBLES CALL LLOYD-GEORGE BACK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, March 30.—Lloyd-George, British Minister of Munitions, returned from the conference of the Allies' leaders in Paris today, for the purpose of settling the Glasgow labor troubles. The strike threatens the output of munitions seriously and at a most critical moment in the progress of the war.

BAD AUTO ACCIDENT

MRS. CORAL HARRISON SLOAN AND DOROTHY BONNELL BADLY INJURED IN COLLISION

One of the worst car accidents that have happened in this city took place Wednesday night when two cars smashed together at the corner of Central avenue and Second street. The accident occurred at 8:30 p. m., when Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan, accompanied by Dorothy Bonnell, her assistant in the dramatic presentation of "Ben Hur," and Mrs. Ed Kirri, who has also been assisting Mrs. Sloan, were returning home after rehearsal. Mrs. Kirri and her husband, Mr. Ed Kirri, a contractor, live in an apartment at the corner of Third and Glendale. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Conner of Kenneth road. Dorothy Bonnell's parents reside in Los Angeles, but her mother is at present in the East, and Dorothy has been identified with Mrs. Sloan and her work for some time. Dorothy is only 14 years of age and has endeared herself to all who know her by her delightful temperament and gentleness and sweetness.

The auto in which Mrs. Sloan and her party were riding was driven by Edgar H. Sargent, of 1425 Sargent street, Los Angeles. Mr. Sargent is an old friend of Mrs. Sloan's family. The party had left the Palace-Grand theatre, where Mrs. Sloan had been rehearsing the dramatic presentation of "Ben Hur," which she was to put on Thursday and Friday nights, this week. As the car which conveyed the Sloan party turned from Central into Second street it collided violently with another car driven by C. Thompson, 1415 Burchett street, who was coming southward with his wife and son in his car.

Violently colliding the two cars were thrown out of their course. Mrs. Sloan was thrown out on the street and Dorothy Bonnell was thrown against the radiator of the other car with great violence and then dashed on the street. Mrs. Kirri, who was standing on the footboard, fortunately for herself jumped as she saw the inevitability of a smash and escaped with a slightly bruised knee.

When the police and the Glendale Sanitarium ambulance arrived on the scene it was found that Mrs. Sloan, though conscious, was very badly injured. Dorothy Bonnell was unconscious and apparently very badly hurt. They were taken to the Sanitarium, where immediate attention was given them. It was found that Mrs. Sloan had broken three ribs and was otherwise bruised. She is in a serious condition, though now resting as well as could be expected.

Dorothy Bonnell had apparently received serious injuries, probably a fracture of the base of the skull. This morning at 9 o'clock she had not recovered consciousness. It is feared that she has also suffered serious displacement of some of the spinal vertebrae.

The accident has cast quite a gloom over the community, where both Mrs. Sloan and Dorothy Bonnell were beloved and widely known. Mrs. Sloan's work in training children has always been remarkable and the community was looking forward to the presentation of the great spectacular presentation of "Ben Hur" tonight, in which 250 children were to take part. Dorothy Bonnell was one of the leaders in this presentation and had done a great deal in training the children in their parts.

Mr. Sargent retained his seat and was uninjured. Mr. C. E. Thompson, who was driving the other car, was accompanied by Mrs. Thompson and his little daughter. They had motored down from Washington state in an Overland car and had taken up their residence on Burchett street. The other day they had purchased a new Buick, which they were driving at the time of the accident. The Thompson party was going to prayer meeting at the time the smash occurred. It is stated that the Sargent car was imperfectly lighted.

The presentation of the "Ben Hur" spectacle will now be postponed and the children who were to take part in it are notified hereby to that effect. The postponement will be indefinite, the resumption of the play depending entirely on Mrs. Sloan, who is in no condition to make any statement on the matter.

The "Ben Hur" postponement will be a great disappointment to everyone but the disappointment is lost in the sense of the terrible calamity that has happened to Mrs. Sloan and Miss Bonnell.

In the struggle for the mastery of the seas men have forgotten the divine purpose of their lives and become enslaved and fettered by new burdens of debt—insofar a slave.

IRELAND ON POWER

EVANGELIST THRILLS AUDIENCE—CRANDALL WITH VIOLIN TONIGHT

With the passing days, interest in the mission at the First Methodist church deepens. The service last night was characterized by an intensity of earnestness and desire. The attendance was large. It was "Sisterhood Night," and with their friends, occupied the center of the church.

Evangelist Ireland chose "Power" as his subject. And with characteristic zeal he went after men and women of weak lives both in and outside the church. He showed that the Christian lives ought to be the most useful, helpful lives in the community. But many are weak and never have a message of helpfulness for others who need encouragement and uplift.

You may be a 1 financially and spiritually a pauper. You may be so poor that you could not give a "hand-out" to some poor fellow in doubt, in wretchedness, and despair. Emotion is not religion. Under the influence of some spectacular revival service you may be moved; you make good resolutions and promise to be God's man or woman, but in a little while you are as dry as a bone and cold as an iceberg. Christ has staked his cause on Christian lives.

"Men are eight cylinders when in business, in their social life; but in the service of God they are one-lungers. You say you cannot endure enthusiasm in religion; why bless my soul, people will sit on the bleachers at a ball game and shout themselves hoarse who would drop dead if they raised a whisper for God. Unless you get some enthusiasm for religion you will never have much religion."

The tremendous earnestness of Mr. Ireland made a great impression on his hearers. The message found its way into the lives of all and moved many.

Mrs. Ruenitz of Los Angeles sang two solos, which were a great inspiration.

Mr. Crandall, the well-known violinist of Glendale, will assist in the service tonight.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the church and congregation was held last evening, and from every standpoint was one of the most successful and harmonious gatherings ever held in the church. Reports from all departments showed a most remarkable growth. A hundred new members were added during the year. The finances were never in better condition, for after having paid all bills, there was reported a balance in the treasurer's hands of $300.00. The pastor's salary was increased, and enlargements along many different lines planned for the coming year.

Reports in writing were presented as follows: Sunday School, including a splendid report from the Primary department, Home department; Cradle roll, which has a membership of 50, Baraca class, Philathea, and the Brotherhood.

The Ladies' Aid through their secretary and treasurer, Mrs. W. S. Carmichael and Mrs. E. A. Sinclair, presented the most flattering report in all their history. The C. E. and Junior society showed a great gain in members and efficiency.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society, through their secretary and treasurer Mrs. Z. L. Hesse and Mrs. F. P. Wilkin, reported all obligations met in full with a small balance in their treasury. Among other items of interest was the payment of $1000 for the support of the Church's missionary, Miss Helen Smith of Nanking, China, whose support will be continued for the coming year. The "Light Bearers," a missionary organization of girls, made a very interesting report through their secretary, Kathleen Campbell.

Other reports were from the Church Deaconess, Mrs. Clyde Brooks; Mr. W. S. Perrin, secretary of Board of Trustees; W. S. Carmichael, secretary Board of Deacons, and John Camphouse, clerk of the church. The auditing committee also made their regular report.

Officers were elected as follows: Trustees, Dan Campbell, W. S. Perrin, F. P. Wilkin, T. W. Preston, R. W. Meeker, T. D. Ogg. Elders, for three years, H. H. Schumaker, Frank J. Adams, A. E. Hennon, S. P. Stahl. Deacons for three years, Edmund Stafford, C. C. Widney, Wm. Prendeville, R. Van Kolken; for two years, J. J. Davis and J. W. Cooper.

RUMORS OF RUSSO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE

Alliances of powerful nations intimately concern every other nation. Out of these alliances frequently grow the most far-reaching consequences as may be seen in the second treaty of Shimomoseki by which Britain and Japan agreed to mutual support. This was the means of driving the Germans out of the Shantung peninsula in China. It is therefore with feelings of interest that it is learned that there is talk in Japan of a treaty between that country and Russia.

Recently the Russian Grand Duke George Mikhailovitch visited the court of Japan on his accession to the throne. This visit has been the subject of much comment on the part of leading Japanese newspapers. At the same time there was a tendency on the part of certain foreign-subsidized newspapers in Tokyo to cry down the British alliance. The German element in Tokyo was particularly active in paying for and developing this propaganda; but the leading newspapers ridiculed their whole movement and exposed it.

At the same time there was a strong tendency to have such a treaty on the part of such papers as the Tokyo "Kokumin," which expressed its delight at the prospect of more friendly relations between Russia and Japan. Papers like the world-known "Asahi" express doubt as to the sincerity of Russia's approaches in view of the Muscovite encroachments on Japanese established rights in Manchuria and elsewhere.

Probably the real leader of Japanese opinion and the real exponent of that opinion is the Tokyo "Jiji-shimpo," which approaches the subject with its usual caution and advises the nation not to attach too much importance to such an incident as the visit of the Russian grandduke. The "Jiji-shimpo" ridicules the idea that there is any likelihood of an alliance between Japan, Russia and Germany. The origin of this idea says the Jiji is to be traced to a group of foreigners in Japan which has been predicting victory for Germany in the present war,—a victory which, after a year and a half is farther away than ever. The editor of the Jiji admonishes those writers who under this influence have been talking of repudiation of the treaty with England not to mistake the tone of the nation which is entirely on the side of Britain and her allies.

Any treaty or alliance with Russia says the Jiji-shimpo need not be considered at this juncture. In any case it adds, should the necessity arise after the war for some such move it could only be made with the unreserved consent and approval of Great Britain.

There is little doubt, however, that there is a drawing closer of the two countries, Japan and Russia since the war broke out. This has been largely caused by the Japanese treaty with Britain which first aligned Japan on the side of the allies and thus brought that country into friendly relationship with Britain's other ally, Russia. Such are the changes wrought by treaties and so great is the significance of such agreements, Japan will do well to follow the advice of its leading journal and leave so delicate a matter alone just at present.

CENSORSHIP IN WAR

After the European war broke out many were the grumblings and denunciations of the American correspondents concerning the various censorships established over their communications to their respective newspapers. The censors of Germany were particularly scored, so were those of Britain, that country bearing the burden of condemnation vicariously for France. Now the United States has established the very strictest of censorships over all communications into and out of Mexico, and the newspapermen do not know what to say. They don't like it, but even the most enterprising newspaperman has some fragment of a conscience left and may well hesitate to do what would injure his own country.

As a matter of fact, the press field correspondent got his finish on the fields of South Africa. The American and German and other correspondents abused the wide privileges given them by the British and the movements of troops were frequently made known to the Boers sometimes at first hand, sometimes cabled back from the outside to Lorenzo Marquez in Portuguese territory and thence to the various Boer generals.

After Kitchener came on the scene that was changed and the doors were shut as tightly on the irresponsible correspondents as on the Boers themselves. Japan followed suit in the Russo-Japanese war. The scores of foreign newspaper correspondents who were rushed to the front were permitted to cool their heels in Tokyo while the fighting was going on. They visited tea houses and amused themselves with geisha parties; but they did not see a shot fired. No one knew a single thing of what was going on until John F. Bass, a staff correspondent of the Chicago Daily News managed to escape Japanese vigilance and cabled home a graphic account of the battle of the Yalu.

All through that war the correspondents were restricted in their movements at the front and were only allowed to get news home long after it had become stale. The consequence was that the Russians never were able to get a single bit of light on the movements of the Japanese until they took place.

Apparently Gen. Funston, Gen. Pershing, Col. Dodd and the United States secretary of war are determined that no premature news of the movements of the American troops shall leak out for the benefit of Villa. A punitive expedition of this kind is not undertaken merely for the purpose of furnishing news to the yellow or other-colored journals. True patriotism would consist in assisting the military officers to conceal their plans not in publishing them broadcast over the land that the enemy may profit thereby.

The German war office keeps silent as to the fighting at Malancourt where they have been expecting important gains. Official statements merely say that a terrific artillery duel is in progress at Avocourt.

NO VOTE AT HOLLYWOOD

Local clubwomen will be interested to know that in the expert opinion of three well-known lawyers the Glendale candidate for the vice-presidency of the District federation, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, was not defeated, at the Hollywood election last week. The election board of the Hollywood convention has submitted the following figures: Mrs. Emma B. Reed, 97 first choice, five second choice and one third choice votes, total 103; Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, 76 first, seven second and two third, total 85; Mrs. W. A. Galantine, 33 first, 9 second and 2 third, total 44.

Since the election board confused majority and plurality Mrs. Reed was declared elected contrary to the laws of the district federation, which distinctly states that "a majority of all first, second and third class votes shall elect." Since no candidate received a majority of all such votes there was no election.

When interviewed in regard to an article appearing in one of the Los Angeles papers regarding this affair, Mrs. Jones expressed surprise. She stated that she would not seek to contest the election and that the matter now rests with the Los Angeles election board, a body of capable women, who will undoubtedly rightly solve the question of who shall serve the district as vice-president for the ensuing year.

GIRLS CLEVER ACTRESSES

From the moment the curtain rang up until the last merry peal of laughter died away in the distance, there was not one dull moment Wednesday afternoon, when five of the most vivacious of the Junior girls of the Glendale Union High School—Misses Katherine Renshaw, Evangeline Hunchberger, Jeannette McLennan, Margaret Boucher and Helen Hardin—presented "The Burglar."

The clever acting of these charming young girls most clearly depicted five young society matrons simply "scared out of their wits" at the rumor that a burglar was seen in their community. Miss Jeannette McLennan as Freda finally collected her scattered senses and nerves and proved the courageous heroine. Freda, unable to bear the suspense of imagining there is a burglar in an adjoining room, amid the shrieks and screams of the other four young matrons, rushes into the room and ere long comes forth holding aloft the burglar, which proved to be nothing more or nothing less than Bismark, a handsome blue Persian cat.

And the finale was truly a pretty picture, with Freda holding high above the heads of the other young girls handsome Bismark, whose large bright eyes looked around inquiringly while the five girls all chorused their pleasure at discovering the cat and were—just—not one—bit—afraid.

SOMEONE STOLE HOSE

Mrs. Riggs of 1112 W. Seventh street is mourning the loss of a fine new lawn hose 50 feet in length, which was stolen from her lawn Wednesday night. She had recently purchased a new hose 70 feet in length and it had been divided into two parts—one fifty feet and the other twenty. The thief was particular to see that he got the longest section and left the other piece on the lawn. Recently two sprinklers were stolen from Mrs. Riggs' lawn. Someone with the new gardening idea in his head may have lost sight of the distinction between mine and thine. Measures will be taken to have a watch kept on the premises after this.

CURIOUS WEDDING PRESENTS

When we read of some of the beautiful wedding gifts of the present day, we often wonder what our great-grandmothers would have thought if they had received even a fourth of them.

Wedding presents of seventy-five years ago were far more useful than ornamental. An old New England newspaper gives the following list of presents received by one well-to-do couple:

Groom's present to bride: Side-saddle, crayon drawing of himself and ten dollars in gold.

Bride's present to groom: Gold watch, chain and breastpin containing bride's portrait.

From bride's mother: One pair of wool blankets, double-nine-patch quilt and six gallons of apple butter.

From bride's father: One calf and four tons of hay.

From groom's mother: "Every Man His Own Physician," and one large quilt made entirely from clothes once worn by groom.

From groom's father: One pair colts and a yearling heifer.

From bride's married sister: One jar of plum jam and one bath towel.

From bride's maiden aunt: One dog and one cat.

From groom's aunt: Glass butter dish and one honeycomb bread.

From groom's older married brother: Accordian and song book.

From groom's aunt: One gallon of soap.

From bride's Cousin Kate: One book of poems, one recipe book, ten yards of sheeting and six sauce dishes.

Adversity, not ease, fits men for good citizenship. The fiber is made all the finer and firmer by the hammer of hardship.

the Pittsburg Coal Co., Pittsburg, Ky., and secretary and treasurer of the Waldensia Coal & Coke Co., Waldensia, Tenn. He was also president of the London Electric Light Co. and president of the Laurel County Fair Co., and during the administration of Gov. John Young Brown, Mr. Jackson was a member of his staff with the rank of Colonel. Since coming to California he has resided at 102 So. Maryland avenue. In June, 1915, when Mr. J. F. Lilly resigned as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Jackson was elected to the place and at the January election was re-elected to the office which he holds at the present time.

While the question may be asked, if he has been capable of holding these honorable positions, "Why need he be seeking a position of this kind?" I desire to say that he, or either one of the candidates, does not seek the place, but at the importuning of friends reluctantly consented to run. So with Mr. Jackson, his friends, knowing of his ability and worth, practically forced it upon him, and being like all men put up for office he is going to do what he honorably can to win, and I believe it is up to the voters to elect him, for we want efficient and capable men in the affairs of our city.

In naming Mr. Frank Muhleman as one of my choice for city council, I am naming a man who has resided in Glendale since 1906, and has been identified in many things pertaining to the best welfare of our city. He took a very active part in the formation of a city charter, in fact drafting the charter and was chairman of the commission. He has always been much interested in our municipal affairs, regarding a municipal office of any kind a position of trust. I desire to quote his own words, "It has always been my idea that a public office is a public trust and that one should only accept the office feeling that it is a public trust to be carried out in the interests of the whole people." He was our city attorney for some time, resigning the office on account of his pressing law business. Mr. Muhleman's experience along governmental lines and his affairs with men and corporations as a lawyer cannot help but fit him for a position of this kind.

With just a few words of his own I leave Mr. Muhleman to the kind consideration of the voters. His Ideas of City Affairs: "I believe that our affairs should be so administered as to give the most economical administration of all the affairs of the city as the same be done consistent with efficiency in all departments. This of necessity might conflict with the views of others who are running for the office or who are now in office. I do not think that one can honestly declare in advance all the changes, or any of the changes, that may be necessary to be made in administering the affairs of the city prior to his careful investigation of the matter. From my own knowledge of the administration of public affairs in Glendale, I believe that our affairs are in good shape. It may be that as a trustee of the city I might advocate things that are, or would be, a change to that now in force. I think a proper spirit for the City of Glendale should be the lowest possible taxes consistent with proper and efficient administration of public affairs, but the low taxation should not be insisted upon at a sacrifice to those things which make our city a desirable place to live in, and for which people organize cities for the purpose of acquiring."

In naming Mr. George Woodberry as one of my choice for city trustee, I feel that he is too well known to the citizens of Glendale to need any word from me. However, some newcomers may not know of him. Mr. Woodberry came to Glendale in 1884, and has been a resident here ever since. He says he made pilgrimages quite extensively over the state, but found no place he liked better than Glendale. He was made superintendent of the Verdugo Consolidated Water Co. in 1886, and became secretary of the Verdugo Pipe & Reservoir Co. at the same time, and has been secretary of the Verdugo Consolidated Water Co. since 1901. When our city was incorporated, he was elected city clerk, which position he held until 1914, resigning at that time on account of poor health. Born in Minnesota, moving and living for a time in Louisiana, moving from there to Maine, and from there to California—practically boxing the compass of the United States, Mr. Woodberry has always been a public spirited citizen, working for the best interest of his adopted home town, entering upon any duty that fell to his part for the public welfare with characteristic energy and fairness. He has paid over $3000 to the City of Glendale as his share for public improvements and believes if we are to have a city that is worthy of the people who now live here that we need public improvements, and is willing to cheerfully contribute his share toward them. Mr. Woodberry's experience as city clerk certainly qualifies him for the position of city trustee. In every position Mr. Woodberry has filled since coming to Glendale, be it great or small, he has exercised keen judgment, efficiency and integrity.

In presenting the qualifications of these three candidates, I would ask the voters if they do not think they are well worthy of their consideration. Does it not require men of honesty and ability to manage the affairs of our city? Let us not fall into the idea—as some people express it—that all the qualifications that are required of our incoming trustees are just to "turn the rascals out." No! We need good, honest, capable men—men of integrity and worth—men who will do things and do them with an eye single to the good of our city which we all love.

If you can name any more capable and worthy men than these above mentioned, don't be afraid to name them and bring them out.

I desire to say I have written this without any solicitation whatever on the parts of the candidates named.
—WILMOT PARCHER.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

The Mothers' Reading Circle met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Toll, 1635 Kenneth road. Twenty-five mothers were in attendance. The reading of "A Study of Child Nature" was finished, after which a set of questions that had been carefully prepared was submitted to the members for consideration. Volunteer answers were given, and these showed how well the text had been understood and remembered, and how the spirit of this fine work had been absorbed.

A communication from the Bureau of Education at Washington, D. C., was read. This recommended that "Mottos and Commentaries" of Froebel's Mother Play, and "The Education of Man" by Friedrich Froebel should be used in connection with the book being read. Mrs. O. H. Ormsby and Mrs. T. W. Sampson were appointed respectively to read and report a portion of these works at each meeting.

"Misunderstood Children," also by Elizabeth Harrison, was begun, and the reading will probably take the time of several meetings.

Those recently enrolling with the circle are, Mmes. R. T. Burr, F. H. Cassell, D. E. McDanel, F. K. Myton, M. E. Plasterer, M. E. Dinsmore, C. A. Lehman and F. T. Salter.

Mr. L. B. Taylor, manager of the Stough ranch, Burbank, and Mr. C. B. Hubbard of the Hubbard Fruit company, were callers at the dairy ranch of Mr. and Mrs. James Connor, Kenneth road, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Connor says that on that day she had thirty-two callers from Los Angeles and also from Glendale. The run out to the foothills is very popular with the inhabitants of the crowded city.

TROPICO

The voters of Tropicco are urging the re-election of Mrs. Charles A. Barker as school trustee. The other members of the board, Clyde R. Carmack and Irving Oliver, are most capable officers and Mrs. Barker, during her three years' incumbency, has demonstrated the fact that the services of a good, capable and conscientious official, such as Mrs. Barker has proven, are certainly indispensable. Again it is earnestly desired that a woman be on the school board and Mrs. Barker's three years of experience, aside from her executive ability and strong personality, amply qualify her for re-election.

Mrs. Harriet C. Collins, Mrs. E. Bowman and Mr. E. Framm have been selected to serve on the election board of the Tropicco city school election which will be held in the Cerritos Street school building Friday afternoon, from two to six, April 7.

Mrs. J. Herbert Smith will entertain the Auction Bridge Luncheon club at her home on South Central avenue Monday.

W. J. Birney of North Central avenue, a prominent young business man of Tropicco, and connected with Raymond Barker in the real estate business, left for Pittsburg, Pa., Tuesday evening, on a business trip.

Mrs. J. E. Bahrenberg entertained with a farewell dinner party at her home, "Twin Pines," on West Park avenue, Tuesday, when among her guests were Mrs. A. Buissett, Mrs. Norman C. Bahrenberg, Mrs. M. J. McConnell, Miss Agnes Buissett and Miss Rhea Bahrenberg, all of Los Angeles. Mrs. Bahrenberg, who but recently exchanged "Twin Pines" for a ranch near Perris, will leave shortly for her future home in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Albert Hayden of Chicago, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hayden, Jr., and Julian Hayden of Estes Park, Colorado, have been enjoying several days as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Millard Turk of 521 North Glendale avenue.

Mrs. Herman Goodrich of North Central avenue entertained as over Sunday guests her sister, Mrs. Eva Owens, and children, of Los Angeles.

Edgar S. Ayres was the complimented guest at a prettily appointed dinner party Wednesday evening, when his mother, Mrs. Samuel A. Ayres, was the charming hostess at her home on South Central avenue. A low cut bowl of roses centered the table at which generous hospitality was extended the guest of honor, Edgar S. Ayres, Mrs. Edgar S. Ayres and son Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Ayres of Los Angeles.

Hal H. Davenport of South Glendale avenue left for Culbertson, Nebraska, Wednesday evening, in response to a message announcing the serious illness of his aged father. Mr. Davenport's friends trust that he will find his father much improved upon arriving at his old Nebraska home.

It was truly a most stormy scene that occupied the attention of the many citizens and voters who attended the regular weekly session of the board of trustees that convened in the city hall Tuesday evening. The storm waxed higher and fiercer, as new recruits appeared from all parts of the hall; many of the citizens taking part in the war of words. Councilmen Henry and Alspach sat mutely, powerless to stop the great battle of words, which some of the candidates (whose names appeared on the sample ballot) hurled at city clerk Nelson C. Burch, who was in the right and maintained his just rights, aided by the two councilmen and Hartley Shaw and those of the voters who stand for honor and justice. Mr. Burch has always battled for the best interests of the city and has had the support of Councilmen Henry and Alspach, who Tuesday night attempted to support the city clerk. Finally the questions at issue passed beyond the jurisdiction of the city council and then this heated discussion and fiery gabfest continued long and angrily, with the result that many unkind remarks and bold insinuations were made that will ever linger as a bad, bitter taste to people of keen sensibilities.

Many an angry word and unkind and unjust remark and thrust was made that will always be remembered and forgiven, perchance, but never forgotten.

"Boys flying kites haul in their white winged birds, but you can't do that when you are flying words."

Following is N. C. Burch's communication:

OFFICE OF CITY CLERK
CITY OF TROPICO
March 27, 1916.

To the Honorable Trustees of the City of Tropicco,

Gentlemen:—I beg to report my disregard of the attempt of Messrs. Bancroft, Bullis and Webster, by their attorney, Goodwin, to have me exclude from the ballot to be voted at the ensuing election the names of their competitors for the trusteeship of this city, Messrs. Alspach, Peters and Seal, for the following reasons:

The nomination papers of all these persons when filed in my office were precisely alike in that neither of them stated specifically in the affidavit of candidacy the term, whether full or short, for which the person filing them desired to be a candidate, with the exception that, in his affidavit of candidacy, Mr. Walter C. Seal, when he finally filed the same in my office, expressed the desire to be a candidate for the unexpired term of the office of trustee. That is to say: The unexpired term of James Rich, deceased.

Section 854 of the Municipal Incorporation Law, under which this city incorporated, provides that any person appointed or elected to fill a vacancy shall hold office only until the next regular election, at which time a person shall be elected to serve the remainder of the term.

Furthermore, Section 1197, Subdivision 8, of the Political Code, provides that, if at a general election an officer is to be elected for a full term, and another to fill a vacancy, the term for which each such candidate is nominated shall be printed on the ballot as a part of the title of the office.

And, in the case of Wilson vs. Blake, it is held by the Supreme Court of California, 169, Cal., 449, that unless the term of the office for which a person is a candidate is printed on the ballot, under the title of the office and term for which he is a candidate and marked with a cross, the vote can not be counted.

With these provisions of the law and the nomination papers of these persons only before me, on the 21st of March and late in the afternoon of that day, I was proceeding to arrange and prepare the ballot to be printed for use at the pending election, when, within 20 or 30 minutes of 5 o'clock of the evening of that day, Mr. Bancroft, Mr. Bullis, and Mr. Webster, with their attorney, Goodwin, entered my office and left with me new nomination papers differing only from those already on file in that each specified the term therein for which it was his desire to be a candidate, at the same time demanding of me that I cause their names only to be printed on the ballot to be voted for as members of the board of trustees for the full and short terms at the pending election as exclusively entitled thereto.

I have disregarded these new nomination papers except insofar as they indicated to me the desire of the persons presenting them as to the term for which they seek to be elected: Mr. Bullis and Mr. Webster for the full term and Mr. Bancroft for the short term, the same as, by letters of instruction and direction, Mr. Alspach and Mr. Peters for the full term and Mr. Seal for the short term, have done.

To do this was my only alternative short of lending my aid to the accomplishment of a trick alike discreditable and unjustifiable in law or morals.

I have therefore caused the names of the candidates for the office of members of the Board of Trustees to be printed on the ballot for the full term and for the short term in the order and under the caption shown on the sample ballot hereto attached.

Respectfully submitted,
NELSON C. BURCH,
City Clerk City of Tropicco.

LIGHTEST WOODS

Up to the time of the introduction of balsa wood, the scientific name of which is Ochroma lagopus, a Missouri tree was believed to be the lightest wood grown. This is the corkwood, otherwise Leitneria floridana. Balsa wood weighs only about a third as much as Missouri corkwood, however. Cypress is four times as heavy. Maple weighs six times, hickory nearly eight times, and ebony more than ten times as much as balsa wood. Prof. John C. Gifford, in a letter to the Missouri botanical garden, writes from Porto Rico that the balsa tree grows to be a foot in diameter and that there are no knots or other defects in the wood.

He fought like a madman at first, but was overcome by the officer and tied. He then calmed down and begged to be untied, but Mr. Graham's experience in the business was enough to convince him and Mr. Marquette remained securely tied until he was landed in the insane ward of the county hospital. His hearing on insanity charges will come up Thursday.

Chamber of Commerce

The Chamber of Commerce met in special session Monday night and was called to order by President Percy. Then a recess was given to allow all to pay dues. After this the regular order of business was taken up on reports from the different committees were heard, all of which were encouraging and showed progress in our work. The matter of our mail service created considerable discussion on account of the change which takes effect June 1, discontinuing rural routes 11 and 13 and merging the two into one route, D, to be served by auto. It is not looked upon with favor as it will make one end of the route very late. After considerable discussion it was left in the hands of the postoffice committee to report on at the next meeting.

A resolution was then presented by Mr. Halfinger asking the Chamber of Commerce to adopt it, concerning a writup in the Times magazine by M. V. Hartranft, which caused considerable pretty warm discussion, and when a vote was taken it resulted in a tie; neither lost or won. No further business. Regular meeting next Monday evening.

Considerable work is being done on the Roscoe road by boat cities between Roscoe and McKinley Hill and by the County between McKinley Hill and Sunland, which is a great benefit.

Mr. Scribner, cashier of The Farmers and Merchants bank of Burbank, who is making Sunland and Little Lands every Tuesday and Friday mornings with a view of establishing a regular branch bank very soon, reports the business as very encouraging and if the banking people of the valley would only patronize it we would soon have another splendid business institution located here.
