MANY TORR Auton. But the North, ferocious, exacting, intensely sectional, will fall from him, even a Docusta has failen, while the recreamant demagegue of illinois will carry with him the very flower of the National Democracy of the Northwest. How to steer 'twirt Soylls and Charytotis; how to conciliabe the Morth, without offsening the South; how to reconcile his endorsement of the Lecompton Constitution with his desire to bring back the wayward partisans whem that single act of honesty has driven into opposition, might gravel even so satute a politician as James Buchanan. If he can contrive to avoid the breakers that encompass him, he will prove hauself a more skillful pilot than Painxeurs of oid.

Next we have the Utah difficulty—a Territory in open, undisquissed revoit against the federal authority. The President speaks wall and siely in his message on this point, but alsas brave words hardly compensate for fluudiolous acts. Delay, faulty organization and insufficient numbers have characterized for long per annue and insufficient numbers have characterized for the supportance.

The blunders committed by our government arise out of that misplaced lently too common is amira contingencies, and a misconception as well of the number of the Mormons as of their determination and courage. To subdue them, either at this season or with the insignificant and innedequate force dispatched against them, is now regarded as out of the question. Strong reinforcements must be civerarded in time to secure the crossing of the desert during the milder temperature of advanced spring. Meanwhile the Saints will take good care to fortify themselves more thoroughly than ever, and complete their preparations for defense.

The attitude of the administration with the senate, Mr. Digler is making a preparations for defense.

The attitude of the administration with respect to WM. WALKER is utterly inconsistent with the principles avowed in the Osend nanifecto, and consequently with the doc-rince advanced and defended by the President himself. On this subject Mr. BUCHANAN takes extreme Northern ground, and forfeits much of the good feeling expressed for him at the South on account of his Kansas views. Every body understands Northern opposition to Gen. Walker. It originates almost exclu-sively in the lurking apprehension that if be "gray eyed" man succeeds, slavery wil be introduced into Nicaragua; that one coi quest may lead to another, and finally oper to the South an opportunity of extending bei institutions in the only direction in which herean be permanently planted. This is he secre: of Northern hostility to WM WALEER, and the apparent sympathy of the President with these ideas is painfully felt by his Democratic friends in this quarte What he gains by defending the Lecompton Convention, he loses by his distribe against

Thus it is seen that, independently of mind troubles, these three prominent causes of isquietude and bickering loom in gigantic propertions, and menace the administration with a loss of public confidence. In a single year the President has managed to disturb tty effectually the political cohesion by the vitable. Men may temporarily combine for special purposes, even though their sent ments on many points are irreconcilable, but no mechanical or chemical force can
