

AFFAIRS IN EUROPE

Politically, Last Week Was the Liveliest Known for a Long Time.

London Bankers on Free Silver—Germany's Desire to Annex Samoa.

London, Aug. 29.—Politically, the past week has been the liveliest in a long time. The bombardment of the palace of the sultan of Zanzibar, the rioting in and about Constantinople, the settlement of the trouble in Rhodesia, the beginning of the Czar's tour of Europe and the advance of the British expedition to the Nile, have provided columns of interesting news.

The Spectator says to-day: "The official account ascribing the affair to the Armenian agitators is stamped in every way as a falsehood, and there is certain proof that it is a tissue of lies."

Regarding the bombardment of the palace of Zanzibar, it appears that the government, in spite of pressure brought to bear upon it from Zanzibar quarters, does not intend to make Zanzibar a British colony.

still at the German consulate, pending advice from Europe as to his ultimate disposition. The fire at the palace has now been quenched, and the sailors from the British squadron are removing the debris. The flagship St. George will remove most of the guns belonging to the sultan's batteries. Business is still suspended.

Rome, Aug. 29.—An official note has been issued, announcing that, owing to the gravity of the situation, the government has decided to send Signor Martini, formerly Italian minister to Brazil, on a special mission to Rio Janeiro on board the Italian warship Piedmonte, armed with precise instructions to demand and obtain all the measures which the dignity of Italy and the security of her subjects demand.

Rome, Aug. 29.—A government proclamation prohibiting the immigration of Italians to Brazil, a result of the recent troubles there, has been issued.

Athens, Aug. 29.—Reliable information has reached here from Constantinople that the sultan has accepted the proposition of the powers for the future government of Crete, with the addition of a civil and military power shall be in the hands of a governor general.

It is stated here that owing to the recent crisis in Constantinople the sultan has postponed his reply on the Crete question. The British consul at Heraklion, fearing the consequences, has applied to her majesty's government for aid and asked protection for himself and the English residents of Crete.

London, Aug. 29.—The Daily News this morning publishes a dispatch from Athens which says that the sultan is a mere figurehead in the hands of British officials; the present system of government is much cheaper than a colonial government, and it will please the natives better, as they want to live under a Mohammedan sultan.

OTTAWA LETTER

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—Never in the history of Canada was there such a crowded attendance at the opening of any parliament as was the case on Wednesday and Thursday last. The formalities in connection with the opening extended over two days. There was the election of a speaker on Wednesday, and this occupied the entire proceedings which did not last very much over half an hour.

According to the latest Zanzibar dispatches, Said Khalid had a revolutionary centre at Zanzibar for months past in a mosque near the French consulate, and had been waiting for an opportunity, which was furnished to him in the death of the sultan, to make an outbreak.

The situation of affairs in Rhodesia is daily more reassuring. The leading chiefs are already carrying out the arrangements with Mr. Cecil Rhodes to lay down their arms. Over 1000 kralis have surrendered, and others are preparing to do so.

It is announced that France has signed a twelve-year treaty of commerce with Japan by which France agrees to renounce consular jurisdiction and the French concessions at the open ports within three years and the two countries exchange the most favored nation treatment. France is thus put upon the same footing as the United States.

Several leading bankers and brokers have been asked what effect the unlimited coinage of silver would have upon American securities and interests. The manager of the Rothschild's said: "England, being a gold country, naturally feels alarmed at any attempt to pay American debts at half their value. It would have a disastrous effect upon such securities, and, in fact, this crisis was foreseen by us months ago, and our very slight. The free coinage of silver would have very little effect upon London, as the dealings in American have since the beginning of the year been extremely light. It would, however, have a tendency to make a rush in disposing of such securities."

The pitiable mental and physical condition of the recently released Irish political prisoners is resulting in demands for an inquiry into the prison system here, and the affair is likely to be a burning question in the next parliament.

Sikhbaron, Aug. 29.—The undersecretary and treasurer of Alfred G. Whitehead, the Irish political prisoner who was recently released from Portland prison, and who disappeared the evening after being restored to his friends here, have been found hidden in a briar bush near this place.

London, Aug. 29.—The Times in its financial article this morning says: "Nearly all the gold withdrawn from the Bank of England yesterday consisted of eagles intended for export to America. The bank has raised the price of gold here. We understand that Australia already has exported 900,000 gold sovereigns to San Francisco, and that more is now going in the same direction."

Berlin, Aug. 29.—The German newspapers continue to discuss the Samoan question. The Vossische Zeitung says: "A tripartite agreement providing for a re-arrangement and revision of the Berlin Treaty will shortly become necessary and the annexation of the islands to one of the treaty powers, which is the best solution of the riddle."

The Cologne Gazette published a dispatch from Zanzibar saying that the German consul there has refused the request of the British officials to surrender Said Khalid, who recently assumed the title of sultan, and was subsequently driven from the palace by the squadron at anchor off the palace.

ally opened by Lord Aberdeen, and the crowd was as large as the previous day. The senate chamber was packed. The floor was reserved for the fashion and beauty of the city, as well as the friends of members of parliament and senators from a distance. The press gallery and the public galleries were filled to overflowing, and still thousands were turned away. All the ministers appeared in plain dress and did not wear any of the trappings-peculiar to the Windsor and form, etc. This was an innovation which the people generally will approve of.

It is very evident that the opposition is desirous of making the session long enough to permit the members getting full indemnity. To do this parliament must be in session 30 days. It was to extend the meeting of parliament that Sir Charles asked that the debate on the address be postponed until Monday.

The British Columbia Liberal members along with the Manitoba and the Northwest Liberal members, form a nucleus on the government side of the house, all sitting together, and it is safe to say that the interests of the West will now be attended to. The bulk of the western representatives are young men.

FUTURE OF HAWAII

Princess Kaiulani May be Asked to Head a New Regime.

Honolulu, Aug. 22.—(Per steamer Rio Janeiro to San Francisco, Aug. 29.)—E. C. Macfarlane, a prominent Royalist, left two days ago for England, where, it is rumored, he will confer with Princess Kaiulani, who was heiress to the Hawaiian throne. A royalist paper here says: "The natural outcome of the present situation is that President Dole will gracefully retire and that Princess Kaiulani will be asked to head a new regime of which Dole's present cabinet officers will be leaders."

Supporters of the republic still claim that President Cleveland has empowered Minister Willis to negotiate for an annexation treaty, or, failing in that, to offer the present government the protection of the United States.

It Saved Our Child.

"My little daughter, three and a half years old, suffered three years with eczema. Her little body was covered with the itching rash, and doctors did no good. Four boxes of Chase's Ointment entirely cured and saved our child. Her skin is clear and not a sign of rash is to be seen." Andrew Alton, Hartland, N. B. Mr. Alton is one of the thousands benefited by this unfailing cure for piles and skin diseases.

WHERE SAPPHIRES ARE FOUND.

The Palla mines, from which most of the sapphires come, says a writer in the Philadelphia Press, are spread over an area six miles by two, and consist of thirteen mining villages, the chief of which are Bay Dineo. These two are more than four miles apart, but they are joined by an excellent road cut through the forest and well drained. Sapphires are found all over this district; the whole country soil is riddled with holes sunk in the red soil down to the sapphire layer.

Formerly the stones were found quite near the surface, but these places have long since been exhausted, although the Burmese still continue to turn over the old heaps in the firm conviction that precious stones grow. Now the stones are found at a depth of from 15 to 25 feet in a reddish, gravelly layer of varying thickness up to 18 inches. The pit sunk is usually some five feet in diameter, and either square or circular. Soil is raised in bamboo baskets, attached to the end of a balanced lever, and when the sapphire layer is reached the stratum is carried to the nearest water and washed carefully for stones. No more than one shaft is three feet for its working expenses, but when the sapphire layer is struck the profits may be large. It is an "question-of-luck." To dig and work one shaft occupies two or three men one month. Two or three Burmese generally go in to partnership and hire Laos miners to work for them and sink the shaft at the rate of two tiels, or about 30 cents, per 18 inches.

When the abscess broke, the pain was terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. CHANG AND GROVER

President Cleveland and the Oriental Statesman Exchange Greetings.

The Wily Old Diplomat's Fervent Expression of Good Will and Friendship.

New York, Aug. 29.—President Cleveland, accompanied by Attorney-General Harlow and Private Secretary Thurber, arrived this morning on the yacht Sapphire and were driven direct to the home of Secretary Whitney, where the reception to Li Hung Chang took place about noon.

Li Hung Chang arose at 6 o'clock this morning. His first caller was ex-Secretary John W. Foster, between whom and the Chinese ambassador a strong friendship has existed since Foster's mission to the East during the Japan-China war. Yan Phou Lee, who was sent here by the Chinese government as a student in 1873, presented an invitation from the governor of Tennessee to visit Nashville.

The report that the ambassador and the Russian minister had a conference last night was confirmed this morning by Edward B. Drew, commissioner of customs in the Chinese service. Drew would say nothing as to what passed between his excellency and the minister.

The programme for today was presented to Li. By it he found that the great feature of the day was to be his reception by President Cleveland at the residence of William C. Whitney, Secretary of State Olney is at the Waldorf. It is expected that he and Li will exchange visits.

A large crowd gathered in Fifth avenue early to see the parade to the Whitney house. A large force of police was necessary to preserve order. At the Whitney residence a clear place was reserved.

Li Hung Chang and Secretary Olney exchanged visits in the hotel, after which they proceeded together to the Whitney residence, escorted by a troop of the Sixth cavalry. The reception by the President was quite simple and lasted only 25 minutes. Among those present were Secretary of State Olney, Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle, Secretary of War Lamont, Assistant Secretary of State Rockhill. After the reception Li returned to the Waldorf.

Whitney's hall room, in which the President received the Chinese ambassador, was decorated with American and Chinese flags. When Li entered he seemed to realize Mr. Cleveland as he glanced at his eyes upon him as he advanced. Secretary Olney formally presented the distinguished visitor to the President, who extended his hand, which was grasped by Li.

After the formal greeting Li Hung Chang addressed the President as follows: "Your Excellency: It affords me great pleasure to have the honor to be presented to your excellency. The reputation of your highly esteemed virtues is widely known throughout the world, and in you the citizens of the United States have invariably placed their confidence; consequently the exterior administration and the interior relations of this great republic are in a state of prosperity. It will always be the desire of my august master, the Emperor of China, to maintain the most cordial relations with America, whose friendly assistance rendered to the government of China after the China-Japanese war, and whose protection for the safety of Chinese immigrants in America are always to be highly appreciated. I am now specially appointed by my august master, the Emperor of China, to present your excellency with the assurance of his most friendly feelings toward the United States of America in the hope that your excellency will reciprocate his sentiments and co-operate with him to promote friendly intercourse between the two countries for the cause of human kind. I trust your excellency's government will continue to afford protection and kind treatment to the Chinese immigrants in America and render friendly assistance to the Chinese government when required. May the people of your nation enjoy the blessings of continued peace."

When the speech ended the ambassador turned to one of his suite and received from him a package wrapped in silk, which, when opened, was seen to be a huge sheet of parchment with a gilt and gold seal. It was Li's letter of credentials, and was given to the President, who intrusted it over to Secretary Olney. Mr. Cleveland replied as follows: "Your Excellency: It gives me great pleasure to receive from your hand a personal letter from your august sovereign and to greet you as his personal representative. Since our two countries became better acquainted many incidents have occurred calculated to increase our friendly relations, and not the least gratifying of these are the friendly expressions contained in the letter of your emperor and the visit to our country of his most distinguished subject who has been so honorably and prominently connected with public affairs in his own country and with all that has been attempted in the direction of advancement and improvement. Your visit to us at this time is made more impressive by the thought that it serves to join in one suggestion the most ancient civilization of the east and the best type of the newer civilization in the western world. Notwithstanding the widely different characteristics of the two countries, the welcome which is tendered you by the government and the citizens of the United States illustrates in the strongest possible manner the kinship of nations. We feel that in the advancement of your tour you have not allowed to your sojourn among us sufficient time to gain an adequate observation of all we have accomplished as a nation. It will not, however, escape your notice that a rich and fertile domain has been quickly created by those who were assured they would retain what they had sown; that a strong and beneficent government has been here established by those who love freedom, and that we have a generous and patriotic people, who have their government because it is theirs, constructed by them, administered by them and protected and saved from harm by them. We heartily wish that your stay may be most pleasant and that, at its close, you may enjoy a safe and agreeable return to your home and your field of duty and usefulness."

At the conclusion of his speech the President presented to Li the members of his cabinet and others present. A general conversation followed. When it ended Li and his suite were escorted back to the Waldorf, where his excellency remained during the afternoon. Shortly after the reception to Li Hung Chang President Cleveland started for Buzzard's Bay on the yacht Sapphire.

SOUDAN EXPEDITION

The English Advance Up the Nile Delayed by Very Stormy Weather.

Great Anglo-Egyptian Expedition to the Sudan to Annihilate Mahdism.

London, Aug. 31.—The advance of the British expedition up the Nile was seriously retarded by the unheated weather during last week. A heavy cyclone swept the advance camp with barely any warning, and a sand storm followed by a thunder storm demolished hundreds of huts and houses, destroying 12 miles of new railroad and cut-off telegraphic communication with the front for several days.

London, Aug. 22.—Interest in the Anglo-Egyptian expedition to the Sudan, which waned somewhat during the period the troops were awaiting the rise in the Nile, has been revived by the receipt of intelligence that the preparations for the resumption of the advance have been completed, and the troops will go forward from Koshah within a fortnight. The whole force is ready for the advance. The Nile on Thursday had risen to a point that would enable the steamers that are waiting below the Zemmeh gate to ascend the river. Once Zemmeh is passed the route will be clear. A sign that action is imminent is a general order was issued Wednesday forbidding the sending of further communications from the camps beyond Koshah. Henceforth the press dispatches will be controlled by the military authorities, but it is not believed that the censorship will prevent the transmission of news of importance.

Simultaneously with the news of the imminent advance of the Anglo-Egyptian forces came advices from the Congo Free State that the expedition under Baron Dhanis has reached the White Nile and occupied Lado. When Baron Dhanis started it was officially denied that an Anglo-Belgian movement had been concerted against the Mahdists, although the British government allowed several hundred Hussars to join Baron Dhanis' forces. The news now at hand confirms the statement originally made by the United Associated Presses that the object of the Belgian expedition was to operate in conjunction with the Anglo-Egyptian forces. There is now no doubt that the British-Egyptian and the Belgian governments are jointly interested in the plan to inflict a crushing blow upon the Mahdists and reconquer the Sudan.

Lado, the place where Baron Dhanis has arrived, is north of the territory proper to the Congo Free State. It is situated on the White Nile, about 325 miles north of Victoria Nyansa. The Belgians, it is believed, will go further north in the direction of Khartoum, while the Anglo-Egyptian expedition proceeds south from Zemmeh. Thus the Mahdists will be caught between the two forces, and the result, it is hoped, will be the final extinction of Mahdism. The pretense that the advance south is solely for the purpose of strengthening the Egyptian frontier and to prevent an incursion of the dervishes into Southern Egypt is about abandoned, and it is now generally conceded that the object is to subdue the dervishes and again take possession of the country so long held by them.

To hold the territory in question, once it is reconquered, will require a British force, and with British soldiers employed in this service the question of the British evacuation of Egypt will be indefinitely postponed. And this, it is charged in some quarters, was the object of Lord Salisbury in embarking Great Britain in a scheme that in the end is bound to raise a protest from the British taxpayers.

Now that the Upper Nile is at last in a condition to be traversed by steamers, a lively dash forward to Dongola by the British is a matter of a few days. For the past few weeks there has been a sharp censorship in the English camp over both telegrams and mail letters, so the public here is quite in the dark as to the amount and character of the opposition which the Sirdar expects. This, however, disturbs no one, since it is taken for granted that the dervishes are played out as a serious fighting force. Such public interest in the Sudan affair as exists is absorbed in the problem of what is to happen after Dongola has been occupied and the Caliph chased out of Chadarrah, for this is universally assumed to be included in the plans of the campaign. When the expedition was first announced last spring these dispatches reflected Sir Charles Dilke's suspicion that nothing less than the conquest of Darfur and equatorial Africa was its ultimate object. At that time the military-industry population repudiated such an idea, but now we hear of a Congo State force advancing northward to help clear this dark and little-known land, and if it happens in the end that the whole Nile valley and the road into Uganda are rid of dervish control, and that somehow it has all come to be British territory, no wise man will be surprised. The French at least firmly believe that this is what is intended, and it is likely that the British or the Belgian advance, will find French posts near the source of the Nile in unexpected places. This prospect must be kept in mind as a possible occasion of trouble, but no one here regards it with apprehension.

RELIEF FOR DISPEPTICS. Rules Fully Tested and Found to be of Assistance in Cases of Indigestion. The number of people afflicted with this peculiar and uncomfortable sensation after eating is by no means small. It means simply that either because the person is fatigued or because the food has been injurious to the general health, the system which controls the digestive process is out of order; the act of digestion is either wholly arrested or is very imperfectly carried on. People troubled in this way can observe two or three plain rules which will entirely prevent the difficulty and will be of great benefit to their general health. First, eat nothing until there is a positive appetite for food. It will be far better to skip one's dinner entirely, and than to eat when weary, when excited, when nervous or when the appetite is not present. If great hunger comes on in the middle of the afternoon an apple or a piece of bread and butter will have a relish and flavor undreamed of under ordinary circumstances, and will prevent the faintness which might arise before the regular hour for a nourishing supper. Second, eat something which requires considerable chewing, especially at the beginning of a meal. This involves the use of dry foods, but it does not mean the entire absence of liquids from the meal. The reason why food that has been chewed is valuable is because in the process of mastication a large amount of saliva is secreted, and this is an important factor in digestion. If liquid is desired at meal time it is not likely to do great harm if it is not too cold, provided it is not swallowed at the same time the dry food is put in the mouth. The man who washes down each mouthful of bread with a swallow of milk, tea or coffee, has no saliva mixed with his food; whereas, if he thoroughly masticates his mouthful of dry food, swallows it and then takes his swallow of milk, he will interfere far less with the proper processes of digestion. Dr. J. H. Kellogg has made some interesting experiments, showing the amount of saliva secreted by the glands of the mouth while dry food is being chewed. A piece of paraffin chewed for five minutes produced two-thirds of an ounce of saliva; one ounce of granose, a dry food prepared from wheat, increased in weight to two ounces; one ounce of bread chewed for five minutes caused the production of one ounce of saliva; one ounce of raw apple produced one and one-quarter ounces.

THEY COUNT BY THE SCORE

Yea, By the Hundreds, Those Who Have Been Cured of Dire Disease By South American Nervine.

A Remedy Widespread and Universal by Its Application. Where Other Medicines Have Failed and Doctors Have Pronounced the Cases Beyond Cure, This Great Discovery Has Proven a Genuine Elixir of Life.

The Same Virtues Come From Old and Young, Male and Female, Rich and Poor, and From All Corners of the Dominion.

If it is the case that he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one had grown before is a benefactor of his race, what is the position to be occupied by him who by his knowledge of the laws of life and health gives energy and strength where languor, weakness and anticipation of an early death had before prevailed? Is not he a public benefactor? Let those who have been down and are now up through the use of South American Nervine give their opinions on this subject. John Boyer, banker, of Philadelphia, Pa., had made himself a nervous wreck through years of overwork. At least he felt his case was desperate, for the best physicians had failed to do him good. He tried Nervine, and these are his words: "I gladly state that Nervine cured me and I am today as strong and well as ever." Wm. J. Meador, of Meador, was cured of indigestion of the stomach and bowels by three bottles of this medicine. Jas. Wood, of Windsor, at 70 years of age, suffered from an attack of paralysis. His life, at that age, was despaired of. But, from Lott's Nervine, he regained his natural strength. A man of indigestion, W. F. Bolger, of New York, says: "Nervine cured me of my suffering, which seemed incurable and had baffled all former medicine and efforts." Peter Eason, of New York, lost flesh and rarely had a good night's sleep, because of stomach trouble. He says: "Nervine stopped the aching pains in my stomach the very first I used it. I have now taken two bottles and I feel entirely relieved and can sleep like a top." A respectable farmer, of Western Ontario, is Mr. C. J. Curtis, residing near Windsor. His health was seemingly completely destroyed through a gripe. No medicine did him any good. "To my relief," he says, "I took a few bottles of Nervine, and my strength was restored to health and vigor." Neither man or woman can enjoy life when troubled with liver complaint. This was the sentiment and feeling of W. J. Hill, the well-known hallif of Brantford. "I was so bad," he says, "that one of my medical attendants said that I was dying, but thank God, I am not dead yet. From the first few doses I took of Nervine I commenced to feel better, and am to-day restored completely to my usual health." A resident of the Province of Ontario, in the person of E. J. Jones, of Essex, N.B., says: "For twelve years I was a martyr to indigestion, constipation, and headache. The treatment of several physicians was of little avail. I have taken a few bottles of Nervine, and my health is restored to its normal condition."

Newspaper space is too valuable to permit of further additions to these earnest words of testimony from those who know just what they are talking about. In the common language of the day, they have been there, and are speaking from the heart. The dozens of more witnesses that here speak have their counterparts by the hundreds, not only in the province of Ontario, but in every other section of the Dominion. How American Nervine is based on a scientific principle that makes a cure a certainty, no matter how desperate the case may be, it strikes at the nerve centers from which flows the life force of the whole system. It is not a medicine of patchwork, but is complete and comprehensive in its application.

The proposal made by Alderman Marchant for the redistribution of the wards in the city is a most reasonable one, and we hope every member of the civic council will endorse it.

four or more wards we do not care to discuss. Our impression is that a smaller council might be more effective for work, and we would favor proposals to this end, but those who have served in the council would probably be more fitted to judge.

Col. Prior succeeded very well in his endeavor to gather information regarding some British Columbia matters. The promptness of action indicated by Hon. Mr. Davies' answer must have been extremely pleasing to the colonel, though perhaps he was not so well satisfied with the statement that the government had not needed any spur from him.

Mr. Laurier has committed another serious offence, for which he will hardly find pardon. It is shown in the following question and answer at last Monday's sitting of the house:

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper—1. Are the controllers of inland revenue and customs, or either of them, members of the cabinet? 2. Was any assurance given either of these honorable gentlemen on behalf of the government, on taking office, respecting his position in the government, and if yes, what was it?

Mr. Laurier—The controllers of customs and of inland revenue, under the existing law are not and cannot be members of the government. It is the intention of the government to ask parliament to amend the existing law respecting the department of trade and commerce, so as to restore to the controllers the rank of cabinet ministers and the fact has been so publicly stated by the prime minister.

To the Editor: It was outlined and provided for in the plan of settlement of fishermen and others, referred to in my former notes, in reply to "Inquirer," to transfer and locate 250 families during the first two years, 350 the 3rd and 4th years, and 400 the 5th and 6th years.

ALEXANDER BEGG, C.C. Victoria, 31st August, 1896.

A PUMICE STONE BARBER.

A floating barrier of pumice stone, nineteen miles long, over a thousand yards wide and fifteen feet deep, closing a seaport to all vessels as effectually as a boom could do, is not the sort of thing one is likely to forget.

RECORD IS BROKEN.

Spain, of Vancouver, Lowers the Northwest Amateur Mile Record.

Victoria Cricket Team Defeated the Oregonians in Saturday's Match.

The truthfulness of the old saying that "appearances are deceitful" was never more clearly determined than at the closing bicycle meet of the season at the Oak Bay track on Saturday.

With the possible exception of the one mile amateur, the best race of the day was the ten-mile amateur, Bartholomew and Essary were close being seconds faster than the provincial record.

THE WHEEL.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Joe Peaches, the champion racing stallion, has been matched against W. W. Hamilton, the Maycat, who holds most of the superior records, for a race at Rochester, N.Y., September 19, mile heats, best two in three, for a purse of $2,000.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The J. R. A. A. regatta having been set for Sept. 12, the Y. M. C. A. regatta has been postponed until the 19th.

THE HAUSFRAU.

Germany is not a rich country and only a very little observation is needed to see that the incomes of the professional and mercantile classes are much smaller than in England, and that German women are therefore obliged to devote a great part of their time and thought to household work.

MORGAN-RUCKER PROTEST.

To the Editor: Kindly allow me, as an officer of the V. W. C. meet on Saturday, to correct the sporting editor of the Colonist in regard to the fouting of Morgan by H. D. Rucker in the one mile professional. In the Colonist of Sunday morning the editor states that Rucker was riding about eighteen inches from the pole, while as a matter of fact he was riding about four feet from the pole, consequently Morgan had sufficient room to take the pole. It is true, he did so at his own risk, but when he was up even with Rucker he had the pole, not Rucker, therefore Rucker was guilty of an intentional foul when he turned in and forced Morgan out on the grass.

LACROSSE.

VANCOUVER WINS. By winning Saturday's match from Victoria by a score of five goals to one, the Vancouver team pretty well established its right to hold the championship pennant for 1896.

THE WHEEL.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Joe Peaches, the champion racing stallion, has been matched against W. W. Hamilton, the Maycat, who holds most of the superior records, for a race at Rochester, N.Y., September 19, mile heats, best two in three, for a purse of $2,000.

CRICKET.

WIN FOR VICTORIA. All-Origins team were unable to equal Victoria's score of 93 made on Saturday morning, the visitors making but 75 runs. The match therefore went to Victoria on the first innings.

A STORM AHEAD.

James J. Hill is Apparently Very Much Alarmed.

St. Paul, Aug. 31.—The priests of this archdiocese took advantage of their first coming together since the seminary was dedicated to present to James J. Hill a token of their gratitude for his gift of half a million dollars for the erection and endowment of the diocesan seminary.

Mr. Hill in his reply said: "Your spokesman has said that nowhere is religion 'raining more necessary for the social welfare of the people than in our country, where liberty is so great and abuse of it so easy. I will add that never in all our country's history was there a time when this instruction was more needed than now. I have just come from the east, where men already feel this truth keenly. We hear it said at times that Wall Street and the eastern banks are full of gold. They are full, not of gold, but of fear. On my way from Buffalo to Chicago I have seen thousands of men die. There is nothing for them to do. Within a few weeks their numbers will be hundreds of thousands. What is the matter? Our country contains the same intelligence, the same population, the same resources as it did years ago. What we need is confidence."

"We are in the presence of a gathering storm. If it breaks our condition will be worse than it was during the darkest days of the war. In those times when men lose their judgment by the heat of debate it will be your privilege at once and your duty to speak words of peace to the people."

Of Value to You

Is the knowledge of our business valuable to you or not? Suppose we investigate. How much do you know about clothing? Do you know what ought to go into a suit to make it worth the price the dealer asks? Let's your judgment regarding the value of the suit based entirely on what you have to pay for it? Don't you see that you are in the hands of the dealer? All clothing merchants ought to be honest. Some are. Some clothers mark two or even three prices on their goods. We don't. Some dealers sell on credit. We don't. We mark our prices in plain figures, one price to all, and sell for cash every time. Which is the fairer and better way? We think ours is. Don't you?

Horrific Massacres in Constantinople Recalled the Armenian Atrocities.

Berlin, Aug. 31.—The main subject for discussion between the Russian minister of foreign affairs, Prince Lobanoff-Rostovsky, and Prince Hohenzollern, the imperial chancery, and between the Czar and Emperor William, the correspondent of the Associated Press is informed, will be the eastern question, especially its Armenian and Cretan features.

During last week there was a lively exchange of notes between Berlin, St. Petersburg and Vienna, and on Thursday, when the alarming news of the uprising in Constantinople was received, Prince Hohenzollern was communicated with on diplomatic circles here that the Eastern question has now reached a point requiring vigorous and concerted action on the part of the European powers, and that such action is imperative.

Constantinople, Aug. 23.—Great uneasiness prevails among British residents in villages on the shores of the Bosphorus, where Armenians have sought refuge. It is feared that the houses will be attacked, Michael Herbert, British charge d'affaires, has ordered the British guardship Dryad to receive families desiring protection, and any British vessel in port may be requisitioned in case of necessity.

Of the Armenians who seized the Ottoman bank, five were killed and five wounded. Fifteen survivors have been sent to Marseilles, British and French warships will appear determined to maintain order. Scores of dead have been thrown into the sea in order to save the trouble of burying the bodies.

The British charge d'affaires has refused the request of the Sultan to withdraw his forces from the city, saying he cannot do so until the disorders are thoroughly quelled.

Paris, Aug. 26.—The Temps this afternoon publishes a dispatch from Constantinople, filed Friday evening, which says: At the present moment sanguinary fighting is taking place in the chief firing on unarmed Armenians. The victims of the outbreak exceed 2,000.

London, Aug. 29.—The foreign office has received dispatches from Mr. Michael Herbert, the British charge d'affaires at Constantinople. The officials here have declined to comment on their text to the newspapers but it was made known that they confirmed the Armenian news which described the situation, which is said to be plain as day as it can be. British soldiers and marines have been landed to protect the embassy of Great Britain, the British consuls and the British post office. The Mussulmans attacked the Armenians and committed all kinds of excesses.

PORT SIMPSON. Port Simpson, Aug. 22.—The Chief, late from Esquimaux, came in on the morning of the 21st with a load of Indians from the canneries.

The Caledonia arrived the same afternoon, looking a little battered up after a quick trip on the Skeena. She will soon be put on her "ways" for the winter.

The village council is having a tower erected for the new fire bell. A party of surveyors from the Queen Charlotte Islands have been delayed here for a time waiting the arrival of the Danube. The Vigilant, from Metlakatla, visited here on the 17th and remained till the 20th.

A grand wedding among the natives took place on the 15th, followed by a feast. The Chief came again on the 17th with a large excursion party aboard. In honor of the excursionists a dance was given the same evening at the Northern hotel by Mr. G. Budge and Mr. H. Good. The party left again for the Skeena the following day.

The Indians are all back from the canneries and Simpson is once more very lively. The natives are having the village surveyed and laid out in streets as they are not satisfied with the former plan.

The Nell arrived here on the morning of the 21st for coal. The Danube came in on the evening of the 21st, and after unloading the freight started for Nana. She returned the next morning and then went to Massett. Those passengers who went on a pleasure trip to Massett were: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford and children, Miss Hall, the Misses S. and M. Alexander and W. O'Neill. The Danube returned here this evening at 7:30 and will soon leave for the south.

HINTS TO RACING CYCLISTS. Some good advice to cycle racing men is offered by Dr. E. B. Turner of England in a few remarks he makes about the death of the English champion Arthur Linton.

"It seems to me that it would be well to write a word of warning to other riders who may be endowed with pluck and standing equal to Linton's, lest they also be tempted to presume on their strength, and so meet a similar fate. From the reports which have appeared in the press, it seems that since Linton rode in the six day race at the Agricultural Hall last March he has not had a week's rest from long distance competition. He took part in the race for the Garford gold vase, in which he rode extremely well on the first day, and on the second was forced to stop by the onset of the illness which has had an unfortunate result. Now, I write this in ignorance of the precise symptom of his malady, which is stated in the press to have been enteric (or typhoid) fever, but one thing is certain, and that is that for weeks his whole system must have been poisoned by the "bionomies" suggested by his all but continuous exertions. The blood of any man who has competed in a distance race on foot or on a bicycle is found afterwards to be full of poisonous substances produced by the forced combustion of gradually exerted from his system during the next few days, but it takes a more or less long time to get quite free from it. Now, if a man, before he is recovered from these effects of one race, rides in another, he adds a fresh dose of poison to the dregs of that remaining in his tissues, and in a short time he simply becomes a storehouse of waste material.

"This is the condition of young, unseasoned soldiers in a hard campaign, who die like flies after forced marches from fatigue fever, or illness which early symptoms directly simulate those of typhoid. Now, poor Linton gave himself no rest to get rid of this poison, and whether his fatal ailment was true enteric or acute fever from long continued overexertion, which seems to be possible, it is certain that being full of poison he was in no case able to resist the onset of any serious illness, and his death may be directly attributed to over-racing. In an experience of twenty-six years of all kinds of sports, this is the first instance in which I can attribute a fatal result to athletic competition, and I hope it may be the last. Man is not a machine; he must rest
