SHIPPING CATTLE FROM ST. JOHN

Montreal, April 1.—As it is expected in shipping circles that the port of Montreal will be open to navigation somewhat earlier this year than last, the shipment of cattle which left the Canadian Pacific market here for West St. John yesterday will in all probability be the last to pass through Montreal this season destined to England. Eleven carloads, comprising some 250 head, were entrained, all having been inspected, branded and rested in preparation for the long journey. Seven carloads came from Western Canada and four from the Toronto district.

The closing season has seen heavier movements of cattle through the market here than ever before. Not only have improved handling facilities induced more export trade, but local marketing to date has also increased considerably over last year. Although not taxed to capacity, the abbatoir has been working at a unprecedented rate.

Missing $15,000

Toronto, April 1—it was brought out at a session of the public accounts committee of the Ontario Legislature last night that a cheque for $15,000 insued as a rebate from the Home Bank to the Ontario Treasury Department in December, 1919, on a bond transaction apparently never reached the Department, although it was cashed. The original cheque cannot be located by G. T. Clarkson, liquidator of the Home Bank, who gave evidence. All that could be found was a stub on which was marked "P. Smith, $15,000." There also was an item in the teller's book of December 18, 1919, indicating the cheque had been paid.

According to the chief auditor and the chief clerk of the Treasury Department at the Parliament Buildings they could find no trace of the cheque or of a credit to the province at that time of $15,000 aithough they searched for a week. This cheque was issued and cashed about a month later when Peter Smith took office as Provincial Treasurer in the Drury Government.

It was also brought out by Mr. Clarkson's evidence that credit motes were cashed by the late J. Cooper Mason, general manager of the Hon.e Bank, to the extent of $38,100, as commission for securing Provincial Government deposits. This sum, representing one per cent, of the deposits, was supposed, it is claimed, to have gone to the province, giving it four per cent. Interest on its money in the Home Bank instead of the usual three per cent.

Vote Appeared Even Until Speaker Ruled Out One

Resolution on National Coal Supply Policy Approved After Debate

Ottawa, April 1.—The House of Commons was the scene at midnight of one of the strangest divisions ever recorded in the Canadian Parliament. It saw what at first appeared to be an absolutely even vote, and the Speaker was called upon to give a casting vote.

For hours the House had discussed a resolution by T. L. Church, Conservative, North Toronto, calling for a national policy on coal stopply. To the resolution both an amendment and a sub-amendment had been moved, the sub-amendment providing that the question be referred to the House Committee on Mines and Minerals.

The church resolution called on the Government to initiate a policy which would give the Dominion an all-British and Canadian coal supply. It urged the placing of a duty on coal from the United States and set forth that whereas coal was a necessity in effect equal to that of food, it should therefore be carried on a preferential toil basis by the rail-ways on the same basis as food.

AN EVEN DIVISION The House voted first on the subamendment and divided evenly eighty-two to eighty-two. All the Liberals voted for the sub-amendment with the saception of Hance Logan, Cumberland, N.S., who voted against it. The Progressives, with one or two exceptions, and all the Conservatives present voted against it.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, announced, the House breaking into roars of laughter, that he had voted with the Government members by mistake.

The Speaker intimated, amid more laughter, that Mr. Forke having voted, his vote could not be withdrawn. The House voted first on the sub-mendment and divided even

The Speaker ruled that Mr. Finn's vote should be struck out, as he war not in his seat, and the sub-amendment was rejected by 112 to fifty two. But the resolution was carrie only after a further amendment habeen adopted without division.

DEPENDENT ON U.S.

At present the central part of Canada was dependent upon the United States for its coal supply, said Mr. Church.

He thought the Canadian National Railways, instead of selling their ships, should use them to carry coal from the Maritime Provinces. The Canadian National Railways should be used to break-up shipping comblines. He was surprised to hear that the representatives of these railways sat in with the combines to fix rates. The Railway Comment, however, are disgruntled that such big sums were applied to debt redemption.

The Times, recognizing that the hopes for tax relief in the coming budget will be rekindled by the revenue returns, hopes the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Mr. Logan urged that proper railway equipment for the carrying of coal in big coal trains from Alberta and the Maritime Provinces to Central Canada was the probable solution of the difficulty.

The country needed money to carry on its affairs, therefore he advocated a duty of twenty per cent. on bituminous coal, which would amount to about sixty-six cents a ton and a duty of fifty cents a ton on anthracite.

A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, spoke of, Mr. Church's proposed policy as a national policy intended for the East. He criticized the Canadian Government Merchant Marine for not buying Western Canadian coal to use in its ships. The same coal had been proved to be the best coal for the use of vessels on the Pacific.

A LARGE FACTOR

Hon, Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, said Alberta was able to compete successfully with any coal as far east as Winnipeg, and Nova Scotla could compete successfully as far west as Montreal, and perhaps Ottawa. The central portion of Canada was the "acute fuel area." The bituminous coal fields in the United States close to the Canadian border would always be a large factor in competition with the Canadian product.

CHAMPION WHEAT EXPORTER

ROM July last year to February 1924 Canada shipped more than 223,000,-000 bushels of wheat and flour. The United States exported 94,654,000 bushels, Argentina 56,887,000 bushels, Australia 32,987,000 bushels and India 11,301,000 bushels. Russia and some smaller countries got rid of 35,000,000 bushels, so Canada's exports were within a few mil-lion bushels of the combined shipments of all of those other countries.

As a wheat exporter Canada thus becomes a world celebrity. It is a striking advertisement of the productivity of the country which eventually will bring pro-fitable returns. Unfortunately the impressive export figures do not mean that all those who raised the wheat made money by the process. If it did business would be humming in Canada and British Columbia's economic condition in particular would be highly satisfactory. No other part of Canada benefits more promptly from the prosperity of the prairie region than this Province. Good times in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba mean good times in British Columbia. Our fortunes are inseparbound up with theirs and we should

MACDONALD SURVIVES AGAIN

R AMSAY MacDONALD survived another crisis in his career as Premier of Britain yesterday when the Lon-don transway men voted to accept the compromise terms reached between union delegates and representatives of the companies. The Premier's part in it was that he talked things over with the men reasonably and without threats and the compromise was quietly accepted by them.

Dispatches say that had the workers declined to accept the compromise, Mac-Donald might have fallen because of discontent within his own party and dissatis-faction on the part of Liberals and Conservatives who are against any weak handling of the labor situation.

But no sooner is one issue disposed of successfully than another appears. The demands of 2,000,000 British workers, in a mass movement for better wages and living conditions, which they claim industry has denied them so far in its history, now face the Premier. It is one test after another, but each one getting down nearer to the fundamental issue of social reconstruction which is in the back of all men's minds in Britain.

NOTHING PESSIMISTIC ABOUT THESE FIGURES

TORONTO GLOBE says there is no excuse for sweeping pessimistic de-clarations about Canada as indulged in by some politicians and points to the savings deposits and new life insurance written in the country lately.

The deposits in banks last year amounted to $1,690,842,359. New life insurance written last year totalled $635,bringing the total in force up to $4,433,355,000, a sum almost twice as great as the national debt. Taking the population of the country at nine mil-lions, it represents insurance of $492 for every man, woman and child in the coun-These savings and insurance totals represent investment and thrift.

Nobody denies that the national debt of Canada is heavy and taxation high and that efforts ought to be made to reduce both, The Globe says. But gloomy views are not warranted by the facts. A nation whose people can save money as represented by the foregoing figures is not an impoverished nation.

With the Government of a sister province, after sending its officials here to investigate, paying our organization a high compliment in this way, it is opportune to take note of the efficiency which has marked the inauguration and operation of the liquor control system here under the officials chosen by the present Gov-ernment. British Columbia was the pioneer in Canada in developing the system of handling liquor which permits of sale only by Government vendors. British Co-lumbia had no example to go by. It was all an experiment, and the chances for mistakes were many.

But in less than three years an organization-the largest trade organization in the country-has been called into being and built up, with seventy stores opened in every part of the Province where there was a demand for facilities for the sale of liquor under the terms of the Act. The system is working without friction, so smoothly that it has ceased to cause public agitation. Bootlegging has materially decreased, in contrast with conditions in other parts of Canada where attempts have been made to proceed along different

The Government had to deal with the problem of handling the liquor traffic in a new, and experimental, way. But the system which has been worked out and the facility of operation it has achieved, when there were so many possible pitfalls, are creditable to those responsible for them. Opinions may differ on the question of the sale of liquor by the Government, or the sale of liquor at all, but there is no difference of opinion as to the skill with which the problem put up to the Government by the people, has been dealt

Nobody need be surprised at the report that the Provincial Party is preparing to flood the country with its own peculiar interpretation of the proceedings in the P.G.E. inquiry. Norneed anybody be surprised at anything this interesting organization may say. Anybody with nerve enough to provide such a farcical exhibition as the Provincial Party made of itself in that investigation is likely to do or say anything no matter how fantastic. Presumably, we shall be told that the evidence taken before the Commissioner justifies a demand for another Royal Commission. Demanding Commissions appears to be about the beat thing the Provincial Party so far has been able to do. Its capacity for achievement, judged by recent experience, stops right there.

Dr. Frank Crane on "Our Enemies"

The human race is singularly stunid when are influenced by fallacious passions, the heritage of ignorance.

The human race is singularly stupid when its units fight one another. All men should unite to contend with our common foes.

Who are our enemies? Here are some:

1. Insects. Dr. Woods Hutchinson said in an address:

The real enemy of the pioneer, the chief obstacle to the spread of civilization, is not Indians, or wolves, or rattlesnakes, or even famine or flood, or Winter cold or tropic heat, but insects. Most schemes of colonization that failed, failed not from famine or the atfack of enemies, but through disease. And more than half of them from one disease—malaria. This is not merely the age of men, but the age of insects, geologically considered, and the battle is to the death between them for the possession of the earth.

In the tropics the insects get the whip hand of man and keep him stupid, short-lived, uncivilized.—It was the plague of flice, the bloody tyranny of insects, that drove man out of the warm, comfortable, fertile tropics into the chilly rain-swept, half-the-time-frozen North. Now, grown to full human stature, he is coming back to invade and reconquer the tropics and put to flight the ancient foes of the race.

2. The ghost of the past; "dead ideas and lifeless old beliefs; they have no vitality, yet we cling to them just the same." These enthrail our efforts toward free expression; they vitiate our energy; they twist our minds.

3. All forms of special and uncarned priyilege. The sound principle here is that a man should get what he carns; no more, no less. This involves the limitation of inheritance, putting our system of taxation upon a rational and scientific basis, and establishing money upon the whole wealth of the people instead of upon gold only.

the whole wealth of the people instead of upon gold only.

4. Impure foods, habit-forming drugs, and all that decreases or destroys human vitality.

5. False ideas, that deprave men's minds; ideas of fear, hate, violence, revenge, sex-morbidity, egotism and the like.

Come, let us cease fighting one another and league together to combat the common destroyers of mankind.

Canada's Baron Adventurer

De Lahontan Roved the Great Lakes Country, Gained an Insight into the Indian Philosophy of Life and Wrote Priceless Volumes on Early Life

ON April 1, 1888, the young Baron de Lahontan, stationed at Fort St. Joseph at the point where River St. Clair flowes out of Lake Huron, near the site of the present city of Port Huron, mear the site of the present city of Port Huron, Michigan, during the Winter of 1687-1688, which he had hoped to spend in France once more, left his command without autherity but having formulated several very plausible excuses, and made his way to Michillimackimae, between Lake Huron and Lake Michigan. Restless, vivacious, he had grown utterly weary of the place during the forced inactivity of the severe Winter months, and resolved to be on the move. Unofficially he wanted to see the country in the Spring, felt he needed a holiday, and, suspecting that he had been forgotten where he was, decided to get in touch with the outside world at the most important western centre, Michillimackimae.

at the most important western centre, Michillimackinac.

In truth, though the action of the young Baron (he was only twenty-two) seems to savor of dereliction of duty, there was a great deal to be said for him from a human point of view. He had come to Cunada five years before, a boy of seventeen, junior officer in the marines, and having served in garrison and on campaign duty, had been promised leave to go to France in the Autumn of 1687. Just as his leave permission had arrived from France, the Governor, the Marquis de Denonville, had sent for him and ordered him off to this desolate post on the River St. Clair, forsooth because of his proficiency in the Indian languages, his knowledge of the Indian character and habits, and his tact in dealing with these people. The Governor very kindly assured him that he would fully inform the Government at home as to why he was being detained in Canada.

In suppressed rage the young Baron set off in the Autumn of 1687 in company with M. Greysolon, Du Lhut and Toaty, both distinguished explorers, the latter the friend and trusted fleutenant of La Salle, who had recently fallen by the builet of a murderer among his own men in the swamps of Louisiana. Together they had traveled up by Lake Ontarto, by the Niagara River to Lake Eric, where they bagged great numbers of wild turkeys, by the Detroit River to Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair River.

bagged great numbers of wild turkeys, by the Detroit River to Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair River.

HERE Lahontan took over his dismal command, a little bastioned blockhouse built of logs under the direction of M. Du Lhut the year before. The outgoing garrison gave over jayfully enough, and when Du Lhut and Tonty passed on to Michillimackinae Lahontan settled down to make the best of this spot into which fate had so unceremoniously kicked him. For weeks during the Autumn the weather was superb and he hunted far over the beautiful countryside, which charmed him immensely. The river, too, furnished interest, for it was a highway to tribes far and near. Party after party of Indian hunters and warriors passed up and passed down. Some he merely watched. Most he met and conversed with. It was a strange "window in Thrums." this primitive fortress in a wild primeval land, but it added greatly to the stock of knowledge of this keen-eyed, brilliant, caustic young observer.

The Winter palled. There was no fun to be had to relieve the deadly monotony. Moreover, there was on his mind the constant speculation as to what was gappening to his family estates in France. Good reason was there for this apeculation, too, for when he reached Michillimackinac, he heard that several powerful persons in France, managing to establish some sort of trumped-up creditor's claim, had succeeded in sequestering the barony of Lahnotan, and lands of his contiguous, together with a hundred thousand livres of his money in bankers' hands. Fate had played him false indeed. Far away, a very young man with few influential friends, he knew how slight the chance of success was for the protest that he forwarded at once to the first minister of Louis. Yet he might not go in person. So he roved the Great Lakes country that Spring and Summer on all sorts of wild adventures with Indian parties on the warpath, vurthering nothing the service of France or the particular duty of commanding the outpost of St. Joseph, but enloying himself most thoroughly and i

IU HUN GAIVIE FAKIVI ON MODERN PLAN

By-law Before City Council in Committee

The terms on which the Provincial Government will lease from the city a portion of the Elk Lake reservoir and water shed property for the purpose of establishing a game farm were discussed at length with the City Council sitting as a committee on the Elk Lake Game Farm By-law yesterday. Alderman A. E. Todd and the City Solicitor were asked to see M. B. Jackson, chairman of the Game Conservation Board, with regard to compensation clauses in the event of a cancellation of the lease before the twenty-year period expires.

The by-law calls for the leasees without unnecessary delay to establish a modern game farm for the raising of pheasants, grouse, partridge or other game birds, the game farm when established to be operated along the most modern and approved lines and in a manner that will be attractive to claisens and tourists. Provision will be made for the admission of the public to the farm subject to reasonable rules and regulations and without charge unless otherwise agreed to by the city. The land will be used for no other purpose than a game farm.

"Oh but Bobby! Your hair isn't haif combed!" his mother cried.
"My cap will slick it down by the time I get to school!" called back Bobby.

your hair is all right before you gotto school."
"My hair is good enough, mother," said Betty. "If Bobby doesn't have to comb his hair I'm not going to comb mine! It's all right!"
"Oh, but it isn't!" cried Mrs. Ringtail, as she saw the tangle of Betty's hair. "Give me your comb, my dear, and I'll help you smooth your hair so you will look neat going to school."
"Oh, don't bother, please!" begged Betty, "I'm in a hurry. Never mind my comb—my hair is all right!"
"No, indeed, it isn't!" said her mother. "It is all snarls and tangles. You must use your comb, Betty!" For the little raccoon gril was trying to ito as her brother had done—run her baws through her hair, which was longer than Bobby's.

Mrs. Ringtail took Betty's comb and tried to make her little girl's hair look more tidy. But Betty had hot combed her locks out the night before, and there were more snarls and tangles in them than her mother.

your ears!" he cried to Uncle Wiggily "That's what I'm going to pull!"
The rabbit gentleman stood holding Betty's comb. wondering how he could get away from the Fox, when, all of a sudden, Betty said:
"Look at the tail of the Fox. Uncle Wiggily! It's all full of snarls and tangles! His tail needs combing!"
"So it does!" cried the rabbit gentleman. "I must comb your tail
Mr. Fox, before I can let you touch my ear!"
With that Uncle Wiggily drew Betty's comb through the tail of the Fox. And the Fox had so many snarls and tangles in his tail and the comb pulled them so hard that the Fox jumped up, turned a somersault and cried:
"Wouch! Wow! Oh, this is too much for me! I don't want my tail combed!" And away he ran without waiting for any more snarls to be taken out.
Then Uncle Wiggily laughed and Betty laughed. And she was thinking so much about how funny the Fox acted that she didn't mind when Uncle Wiggily finished combing out her tangles. And when her hair was all smooth, away to school ehe ran, getting there just in time.
Then Uncle Wiggily hopped along smilling to himself and twinkling his pink nose as he thought of how the Fox and howled. And after that Betty never let her hair get tangled so it was easier to comb.
Now if the cabbage doesn't try to stand on its head and read the picture book unside down I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the soap.

Two pairs of blankets will be given to the Girls' Club, 1308 Stanley Avenue, by the Kumtuks Club, which at its monthly business meeting last night decided to lend assistance whenever nossible to this very worthy institution. The club also appointed Miss Wigley to represent its members at the board meetings of the home. The Kumtuks will also assist the Dr. Q. M. Jones Chapter I.O.D.E. in its entertainment in aid of the milk fund.

While it was definitely decided that the club will not enter the May Queen contest, the members decided to decorate a downtown store window attractively for the celebration. Notice of motion was given that at the next business meeting a suggestion that the club take steps to rent and furnish a clubroom will be brought before the members for their consideration. Three new members were elected to the club roster.

At the conclusion of the business an interesting discussion was waged on the istatus of the East Indian and British Columbia, Miss Bruce bringing the matter forward with a May for the enfranchisement of those directly resident in this Province. Mrs. Matheson countered with a review of the case in its broader imperial aspect, touching particularly upon the difficulties arising in Kenyu under similar circumstances. Miss Donogh, who has lived in India for many years, also brought some interesting facts before the club.

Note is also made of the scheme for a nursery for children at the British Empire Exhibition which the Marchioness of Aberdeen will unquestionably support. She is a member of the general committee of the Women's Section. She it was who was the first to establish "baby clubs" in Ireland. where working class mothers could leave their children knowing they would be safely looked after during the day. "Baby clubs" is the Irish equivalent of "day nursery," of course.

The Marquess of Aberdeen takes a great interest in all of the Marchioness' good works, and often speaks in the cause of the children. Once, when addressing a meeting of place on May 1.

The medical profession very generally advocate that all food products should be sold in sealed packages. All cities rigorously inspect butchershops to prevent meat from being infected, many prohibit milk from being sold in bulk and gradually this will come with everything. "SA-LADA" was the first to introduce the repackage idea as regirds tea, over thirty-two years ago, and "SALADA" any; is still a little purer and a little better than other teas. It has by far the largest sale.

The Beauty of Balance

Before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in Supreme Court this morning W. J. Taylor, K.C., moved for leave to discontinue the action of Ryan McIntosh Timber Company Ltd., versus F. B. Pemberton and Pemberton & Son. H. A. Maclean, K.C., appeared for the defendant. The action was one in which plaintiff claimed commission in the sum of $9,500 on the sale of timber limits at Sahtlam, Vancouver Island. Through a technicality of the courts leave to discontinue the action had to be obtained before the action could be stayed. Leave was granted.

While the public is being urged to paint up and clean up, the other side of the picture is occupying the attention of aldermers in a number of letters and reports on dilapidated buildings, fences and other evidences of decay.

Singularly enough, the complaints do not centre on the older sections of town long out of fashion but on the condition of Rockland Avenue. One well-known citizen writes asking the council-this pointed question: "Si it more degrading to a neighborhood to have tumble-down fences bounding on an aristocratic thoroughfare than the lovely thistie flower smiling modestly on the pedestrian going past?"

Residents of the Rockland Avenue neighborhood and agents with land and beautiful hornes to sell in that most aristocratic of Victoria's residential districts, complain of the conditions, and city officials, like the health officer and building inspector, who have been sent to investigate, confirm the statements of neglect apparently by absentee owners. Dr. Price in his advice on the subject, believes that fenced property might dater some of the nuisances and junkt heaps on vacant lots down town which are now being used for all purposes. Injured in Fall at Cholberg Lying unconscious for the past for-reight hours, the condition of Harry aylor, hurt in a fall at the Cholberg hippards on Sunday afternoon, was ported as unchanged at the St. Jo-sph's Hospital this afternoon.

Secretary Explains Aims of Investment and Loan Society

A prospectus of the British Pacific Investment and Loan Society, descibed as a child of the Chamber of Commerce, was distributed to each member by Capt. It. J. Goodlake, secretary-treasurer, who appealed for support for the society at the meeting of the directors yesterday.

While not recommending it as an investment offering big returns, Capt. Goodlake stated that it meant that those who supported the society would have their money tied up in a good cause and would eventually be assured of the return of their investment. Public spirited citizets in many parts of the United States had got behind these enterprises which offered people an opportunity, which otherwise they might not have, to become owners of their own. homes, He pointed to the following points for consideration in the prospectus:

consideration in the prospectus:

WELL TRIED

Institutions 'known variously as Building and Loan, Savings and Loan or Investment and Loan Associations are long established and well tried throughout the English-speaking and many other countries.

To-day there are 7,500 such associations in the United States with more than 8,000,000 men, women and children members, who have accumiliated more than 3½ billion-dollars of savings, loaned to members for the purchase of their homes.

On July 1, 1923, 'fity-four associations were operating in the State of Washington. Their membership exceeded 120,000 and their assets $40,000,000.

The average rate of dividend distributed to depositors exceeded six per cent per annum.

Failures and losses are unknown. The strength of these associations lies in their local and co-operative character.

There is no other means by which small savings can safely be accumulated at such a rate of compound interest.

The British Pacific Investment and Loan Society has been organized at the initiative of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce with the object of providing the people of Victoria with the facilities offered by such an institution for becoming owners of their homes.

Disorganization among the fruit growers of the Okanagan district has reached a critical state and may seriously affect the marketing of this year's fruit crop, according to reports received here from the interior during the last few days. On the other hand the members of the 1923 council display no anxiety to get back into office in the wake of the taxation dilemma now before the municipality.

The survivors of the 1924 council meet to-night under Reeve Hewlett to deal with the tax rate by-law, and again on Thursday evening to give attention to formal by-laws of routine procedure needing early attention. Homeric, Exact Image of His "Dad," Man o' War, May Lead Two-Year-Olds experts are wondering if Sarazan will fail as a three-year-old as did Morvich.

What horse will be the champion two-sear-old of 1924?

Will the progeny of the great Man o' War live up to the deeds of their illustrious "dad"?

Man o' War, generally accepted as the greates horse the United States has ever produced, was retired two years ago.

The coming season will see twelve youngsters sired by the great Man o' War make their turf debut.

With Bases Filled Pitcher Throws Ball to Coacher When He Requests a Look

BY BILLY EVANS

Hasty had just joined the Athletics, and naturally was not wise to tricks of the trade as practiced in the big leagues. Heling congenial, merely sought to oblige when he fell for Charley O'Leary's scheme The Athletics were playing at the Polo Grounds, and Hasty, despite his nexperience, was making the going tough for the Yankees. Late in the ame, with the bases full and two out and the score close, O'Leary tried to put over his ruse.

As Hasty got on the rubber to pitch, Charley O'Leary, coaching at third for the Yankees, yelled at the pitcher, complaining about the ball and requesting that he throw it over to him so he could look it over.

Hasty stepped off the rubber, dropped his arms to his side, gave the ball the once over and shook his head negatively to let O'Leary know it was all right.

The umpire, believing that possibly the ball was damaged and a new one should be put in play, called time within hearing of the bataman and catcher, and was about to request that Hasty throw the ball to him, when O'Leary again made a request that he be allowed to take a peep at the ball. Hasty, probably peeved that O'Leary refused to take his word that the ball was in good shape, threw the ball at the Yankee coach with great force. Of course, O'Leary stepped aside and permitted it to roll to the grandstand, the three runners scampering over the plate.

It got a big laugh, but the umpire, having called time, refused to allow the play, sending the runners back to their bases. O'Leary's strategy was wasted.

Fidelis Win Title For Second Year and Will Play For B.C. Laurels

Battling furiously in one of the hardest fought girls' games ever witnessed in local Sunday school basketball last year's champions, the Fidelis, scored a victory over the Metropolitans in the final for the girls' title. The score was eight to five.

A large crowd of enthusiastic supporters crowded the Y.M.C.A. galleries, and great excitement prevailed during the two halves. As is usually the case in girls' championship games the checking was too close to allow any team work by either team. Both teams started the game at a wonderfully fast pace, but so close was the checking that no score was registered for five minutes. Beth Campbell eventually scored the first basket for Fidelis, but shortly after Audrey Jost evened up the score. The Mets failed to make their free throws count, while Isobel Crawford showed greater precision, and put Fidelis ahead by one point.

When A Man's A Man" Magnet At Royal Vcitoria

A crowded house received Principal Pictures' screen version of "When a Man's a Man," the popular Harold Bell Wright novel, at the Royal Theatre last night.

Since Wright is one of America's most popular authors, it is safe to assume that two-thirds of the audience were Wright fans. If this be true, the picture can be called a success, for there were no disparaging comments, as is usually the case, by those that read the book.

Aside from the excellence of the photoplay is the fact that the scenes are the identical ones described in the book. The picture was made in Williamson Valley and Prescott. Arizona, and the real cross Triangle Ranch of the story is shown.

The western atmosphere is correct in every detail, and the thrilling episodes of the story build up to a climax that is positively unusual. The ending cannot be called "unhappy," and yet the hero does not "get the girl." Still the audience does not feel cheated, for the man gains something else so wonderfut that the finish of the picture leaves a little glow of satisfaction with the observer.

Frances Hodgson Burnett's famous novel, "The Dawn of a To-morrow, which was one of the stage successes of Forbes Robertson and Gertrude Elliott, will be the feature attraction at the Capitol this week. The story is laid entirely in London, England, and the picturized version abounds in wonderful types and English at monghere. The company chosen for this remarkable picture is a notable one, and the graphic scenes of the Thames Embankment and district are an adequate setting for the story. The principal characters are played by Jacqueline Logan and Richard Torrance.

Victoria-Colquitz All-Night Service to be Inaugurated

Service to be inaugurated.

Returning from an Up-Island trip, F. C. Paterson, commercial superintendent of the B.C. Telephone Company, states that the two number system between Courtenay and Cumberland will be put into operation on Tuesday. The work was being rushed to completion while he was up there. Duncan residents are appreciative of the service already in use between Chemainus and Duncan, and also Duncan and Cobble Hill. The same situation applies with regard to the service between Colquitz and Keating, which was put into use a few days ago.

"The Aristocrat of Low-Priced Cars"

THERE is no reason why a low-priced car should differ in design and construction from cars of higher price.

When deciding on your car look for these modern features: Morse silent timing chain, disc clutch, waterpump cooling system, semi-elliptic springs, tubular backbone and a rugged rear axle. They are all to be found in the Star Car.

References to the first of April as All Fool's Day appear frequently in literature, and some of the famous writers have made it the theme of allusion. Lamb's essay on fools, dedicated to the first of April is universally known, and quotations can be multiplied to show how wide has been the celebration of the day in various parts of the world.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. Under old methods, much of it clings and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. That is what makes so many teeth unsightly.

Sewer rental, sewer loan, expenditure and tax rate by-laws were passed. The traffic by-law was tanted for further thought, Fire prevention and milk protection are to be discussed when by-laws on these subjects will be introduced at the next meeting of the council.

The council spent some time on the hospital accounts, paid by the municipality, and still unpaid by the patients. Some "patients" had equipped themselves with new cars in the interim, stated one councillor. The council is to press for collection where patients are in a position to pay. Other and minor matters were considered before adjournment.

Metchosin, March 31.—An interesting lecture is to be given by Rev. Canon Stocken on Friday evening, April 4, in St. Mary's Church, Metchosin, upon the lecturer's well-known work among the Sarcee and Blackfoot Indians. Those who have arranged for the event consider themselves fortunate in securing a speaker who can draw upon such stores of reminiscences from a lifetime of work, while the interest of the address will be greatly increased

Engineer's Car Granted Raise of $10 Per Month When Salary Increase Vetoed

The upset price of tax sale lots in Esquimalt will be determined in future by a committee appointed at the regular council session last night, with Reeve Lockley in the chair. Councillors Pomeroy and Heald, with Municipal Clerk G. H. Pullen, will act under the Reeve.

The matter broached when it was suggested that a tax sale lot be sold to a purchaser for 324. Councillor Pomeroy raised the question whether this figure covered all outstanding taxes against the land. He was told that it included taxes during the redemption year.

Tax sale land should upon re-sale bring to the municipality as great a proportion of its delinquent taxes as possible, decided the council, and appointed the committee to look into tax sale property and upset prices generally.
