

Sept. 7, 1854.

Dear Garrison:

I wish you would read this hurried note to Phillips, and answer me as if it were addressed to you; then forward to him. I am anxious to get the arrangements for our lectures made as soon as possible. Your judgment as to all the persons whose names are mentioned to Mr. Phillips is solicited.

I spent Saturday, Sunday & Monday last with our dear Chester County, Pa., friends, who were generally in good health. The corner stone of the new "Progressive"

meeting-house was laid on Sunday morning. The edifice will probably be finished early in the winter. The aspects of the new religious movement are very encouraging.

It is probable that I shall go to Vermont to meet Mary Aime about the 20th of Sept.
I may go by the way of Boston.
As to the Lyrause meeting, I presume that either Mr. Ga or myself can go, if the Committee think it desirable.

Restly yours,
J. Johnson.
