DRAMATIC SCENES WHEN OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT COMES LEADER OF REDS SUCCEUMBS TO ILLNESS

Delegates Meet to Celebrate Anniversary of Revolutionary Outbreak; Men Moan, Women Faint and Bands Play Dirges

By WILLIAM J. RESWICK For The International News Service. MOSCOW, Jan. 22.—Official announcement was made today that Nicolai Lenine, president of the council of people's commissaries (the Russian Red government), is dead. He died last night at his country home with his wife at his bedside. Lenine had been sinking for some time, owing to heart weakness induced by paralysis of the side. As soon as news of Lenine's death was circulated here, flags were placed at half mast upon all the government buildings and upon many private houses.

The soviet cabinet conferred upon plans for the funeral, which will be held Saturday. The greatest public demonstration of sorrow Russia has ever known in her history is anticipated. The body will be brought here, according to present plans, to rest in state at the Kremlin before it is interred in Red Square, where the body of John Reed, American writer and Socialist, lies buried. The official communique said: "Lenine died at Gorky, thirty miles from Moscow, at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening. His wife and sister were at the bedside."

Services were planned in honor of fallen "comrades." Kameniev, Xynoviev and Kalinin appeared upon the stage with tears streaming down their cheeks. Immediately the audience knew some great tragedy had befallen the nation.

"Our beloved leader passed away last night. All that is left for us is the glorious teachings he has left behind him."

"I never have been, and am not at the present time, a candidate for the position of city manager," said W. E. Hewitt, president of the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

"The report that my name was even mentioned in that connection was a surprise to me. I am glad to do what I can for the city in my capacity as head of the Chamber of Commerce and as a private citizen, but as far as wanting or asking for any city position, that is out of the question."

No Action Taken Mayor Spencer Robinson stated this morning that there was nothing new on the subject. No definite action has been taken by the City Council, in fact no meetings have been held since the regular session last Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Edward W. Bok, originator and promoter of the $100,000 peace plan project, came back at his senatorial inquisitors today with a startling offer. Improvement of Fourth St. To Connect Pasadena and Burbank Planned

An organization that has for its object the improvement and development of Fourth street until it is part of a through thoroughfare from Pasadena to Burbank, will be formed tonight at a meeting called for the Grand View school at 7:30 o'clock.

V. B. Stone, assistant city engineer, in charge of the right of way work, will be the principal speaker of the evening, and will give a detailed report of what has been accomplished along the line of opening Fourth street to Burbank on the west and Pasadena on the east. It is suggested that the street be extended to Pacific avenue, where it would connect within one block with Arden street through Monterey road and Sierra avenue to the new Glen Oaks boulevard to Pasadena.

Present Plans

O. M. Newby, C. L. Jenkins and Jesse Gygger, all of whom have been very active in the pre-organization work, will be present and talk on the subject.

"It is our general idea to follow the line of the Pacific Electric and the Verdugo wash as far as we know now," said Mr. Jenkins this morning. "We understand that Burbank is doing some work on the western extension of the street, and the association will be formed with a view to co-operating with the City Council and Jesse Gygger, all of whom have planned on this project in the near future. Fourth street is a logical part of the Pasadena-Burbank thoroughfare, and we want to do all that we can to see it go through."

Overcoat Vanishes Under Owners Nose

It cost George E. Clayton an overcoat valued at $100 to say hello, last night.

He had been visiting R. E. Corrigan, local Dodge dealer, parking his car outside. When he left the Dodge agency, he noticed a negro standing close to his machine, and casting longing eyes at a fine overcoat thrown over the back of the seat. He decided to play detective and watch the black boy's actions.

A friend came along the street, said "Hello, George," and George turned around to say "hello" in return. He did. When he again looked at his car the negro and the overcoat were gone, and no trace of either has been found.

DIRECT SERVICE BY YELLOW CARS

G. & M. Railway Officials Plan Quick Connection Into Heart of City

Preston L. Hatch, general manager of the Glendale & Montrose Railway, has been successful in his efforts to provide direct connections for patrons of his line with the yellow cars in the new Glendale avenue service, and the Los Angeles Railway yesterday submitted a plan to the board of public utilities for a new schedule and route, which will provide this service.

They asked permission to operate a line of the South Main street "O" cars to a point as far as South Verdugo road on the Eagle Rock line, to connect with cars from Glendale on the Glendale & Montrose railway. The railway proposes to give a 20 minute service in the peak hours and a 30-minute service at other times. With these cars, in addition to the regular "E" cars on the Eagle Rock service, Mr. Hatch believes there will be a sufficient number of cars to handle the traffic originating in Glendale satisfactorily.

The "O" cars will run to South Verdugo road will use North Main street, Avenue 20, Avenue 28 and the private right-of-way to the point of connection.

"We will be ready to go on February 1," said General Manager Preston L. Hatch, this morning, "and with the additional service provided by the yellow cars of the "O" line, will be in shape to give our passengers excellent service. Our depot at the junction with the yellow car line is practically completed. There will now be plenty of room on the Los Angeles railway for Glendale passengers, a thing that was not assured with service by the "E" cars alone. It will provide excellent carrying facilities right to the heart of Los Angeles."

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 22.—America is the most remarkable country in the world, and Henry Ford is the most remarkable man in America, according to Dr. Sven Hedin, noted Swedish explorer, who has just returned from a visit to America, the Far East and Russia.

"I was enormously impressed with the resources of American science," said Dr. Sven Hedin in an interview; "she is a wonderful country."

Dr. Hedin plans to write a book of his travels, in which he will deal with the political situation in America and American responsibility and her attitude toward European problems.

Preachers Must Talk Slowly in Cathedrals

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Cathedral preachers must deliver halfy-speed sermons, according to Hope Bagelal, an authority on acoustics.

One spoken syllable in almost any of the larger English cathedrals may remain audible for five seconds, and an organ note for ten seconds, Bagelal states. As four syllables are ordinarily spoken in one second, in a lively sermon in a cathedral, reverberating for five seconds, the syllables assemble upon the ear twenty at a time.

New preachers in St. Paul's Cathedral are warned that their sermons must consist of only half the number of words used in a parish church.

Reverberation in cathedrals prevent rapid speech.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—May 2 has been provisionally fixed as the date for the departure of the Prince of Wales on his state visit to South Africa.

It has been found impossible to detach a battle cruiser from the British Atlantic fleet for the Prince to travel in so that he will make the voyage in one of the ordinary liners.

He will not travel as an ordinary passenger, however, and special suites will be prepared for the Prince and his staff.

He will be away about three months.

Bok Gets Out from Under Investigation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Because of his refusal to testify concerning the cost of promotion of a peace plan, Edward Bok of Philadelphia was excused from further attendance at the Senate committee's "propaganda" investigation.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"The Governor's Lady" shows at the Glendale theatre for the last times today, where it has thrilled audiences since the first of the week. The picture is an adaptation of David Belasco's famous stage success of that name. In the cast are Jane Grey, Ann Luther and Leslie Austen. Harry Millarde made the film.

In screen form "The Governor's Lady" is even more realistic than the original stage production. It scored a tremendous hit in New York and then toured the country with Emmett Corrigan and Emma Dunn in the leading roles. Milton Sills also had an important part in the original production.

We can find the counterpart of the characters in the play all around us among our acquaintances in real life.

THE GATEWAY

"Anna Christie" shows at the Gateway theatre for the last times today. This is the Thomas H. Ince adaptation for which he paid Eugene O'Neill $100,000. It fully warrants the expenditure and has scored an immense success throughout the country.

"Anna Christie" offers conclusive proof that the great love stories of the world do not need silken backgrounds. In saloons and on a coal barge, deep-coated in soot and grime, the romance of "Anna" flowers and blossoms. It comes to a climax in one of the most powerful scenes ever conceived by a poet-dramatist or pictured by an artist-producer.

John Griffith Wray directed the production, which bears the hallmark of finished technique.

DEATH SUMMONS SOVIET DICTATOR

Head of Russian Government Passes Away at End Of Long Illness

followed paralysis of the brain center controlling the breathing organs. He suffered great agony before he died, but bore his sufferings stoically.
For some time it was not really known by the populace at large that Lenin was dead.
While flags were placed at half-mast, many persons thought this was in memory of the fallen heroes of the red revolution.

Great State Funeral To Take Place Saturday

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Nicolai Lenin, founder of the Russian soviet government, expounder of communism and the most spectacular figure in European statecraft since Napoleon Bonaparte, is dead at the age of 53, according to word reaching here today. He had been ill for two years of heart trouble and partial paralysis.

Word of Lenin's death reached London in a code message from Moscow. He died at his country estate near Moscow. Plans are under way for a great state funeral Saturday. He will be buried at the Red burial ground at the Kremlin in Moscow.

Trotsky Is Ill

Lenin's death came at a time when his colleague, Leon Trotsky, as spectacular a revolutionary figure as himself, was ill and at war with the central executive committee of the Communist party. Disease and death thus removes from the arena two of the most active figures that set the Red flag flying over Russia.

Members of the people's council of commissaires (the government of the federal soviet sovets) visited him at intervals for counsel. Sick or well, Lenin remained the idol of the Russian Communists.

At the last meeting of the executives of the all-Russian Communist party, which ended only last week, a resolution was adopted that Russian youths should be compelled to study the political teachings of Lenin as the basis for the future government. While Lenin's death is felt throughout the world, he has always remained more or less of an obscure figure. He was content to remain in the background and allow the lesser lights to occupy the limelight.

Dictator Six Years

It had been long reported that Lenin would be succeeded by a triumvirate. It was a notable circumstance that his death found a virtual triumvirate in power. Zinoviev, head of the Petrograd soviet, leader of the Third Internationale and member of the Communist executive committee; Stalin, people's commissaire for minorities (nationalities) in the soviet government, and Leo Kamenev, third vice president of the council, are virtually in power.

For six years Lenin was practically dictator of Russia. Allied powers waged war against him, but without success. His notable military failure was the war against Poland, when Poland was saved by French troops.

Lenin's real family name was Vladimir Ilyitch Ulyanov. He came of a noble family, but was banished from Russia because of his Nihilist (socialist) principles. He lived a great part of his life in France and Switzerland. He was living in Switzerland during the World war.

In 1917, when the Russian government was tottering, Germany allowed Lenin and a few colleagues to pass through the country in a sealed train. At that time the czar, Nicholas, had been overthrown. Alexander Kerensky was in power and Russia was still waging war against Germany. But the "councils" in the army and navy had weakened their strength, and Germany saw a chance for a bloodless coup.

Start Revolution
Lenin and his adherents arrived from Switzerland about the same time that Trotsky arrived from the United States. They started their red revolution in Petrograd and, after bloody fighting, the moderates under Kerensky were put down. Lenin and Trotsky came into power.
The following year (1918) they negotiated a treaty of peace with Germany at Brest-Litovsk. This treaty was bitterly denounced by the allies, and later by the Russians themselves; but they abided by it, and from that time on Russia ceased to be a factor in the World war.

Lenin put George Tchitcherin in power as people's commissar for foreign affairs (foreign minister), a post he still holds. The first three years of the soviet regime were marked by internal warfare and foreign invasion. The United States, France, Great Britain, Japan, Roumania and Poland united in making war against Russia, but it was like trying to walk through a giant's feet.

One by one the invasions and rebellions were crushed, leaving Lenin secure at Moscow. But the strain of his position told upon his health. At first

SELF-DEFENSE IS CHAUFFEUR'S PLEA

Principal Witnesses Seem to Be Willing Case Be Brought to Close

hearing is being conducted by making a special investigation into the failure of Mrs. Edith Burns, close companion of Miss Normand, for not appearing in court. Dr. L. D. Hollingsworth, her physician, was called into court and stated that Mrs. Burns suffered a spinal injury and a complete nervous collapse. He said she had been under the care of two nurses. He said he would permit court to be held at her bedside, however, and Judge Hanby ordered the trip to Mrs. Burns' home for this afternoon.

In his testimony Bain told that Dines said to him, "her chauffeur," meaning Miss Normand, shot him and asked that Miss Normand and Miss Purviance not be arrested. He said Miss Normand had said she was in the doorway leading to a room and that Miss Purviance had said she was in the bedroom when the shooting occurred. Bain denied the actresses were in such a condition that they could not make coherent statements. He also said that Greer denied he was in love with Miss Normand.

Mrs. Edith Burns Is Wanted To Tell Story

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—Ascertaining he was not satisfied with the physician's certificate stating Mrs. Edith Burns, close companion of Mabel Normand, was too ill to appear in court as a witness in the preliminary hearing of Horace A. Greer, Miss Normand's chauffeur, who shot and wounded Courtland S. Dines, Justice Hanby today ordered an investigation of Mrs. Burns' failure to appear in court.

Justice Hanby despatched an officer to Mrs. Burns' home to ascertain her condition and ordered that her physician be summoned to the courtroom for questioning.

A trip to the home of Mrs. Burns to take her testimony at her bedside was planned, should she be too ill to appear in court. The plan to hold court at Mrs. Burns' bedside was to be similar to the one held late yesterday at Dines' bedside at Good Samaritan hospital.

May Decide Case

With Dines, Miss Normand and Edna Purviance showing a distinct tendency to "let up" in the prosecution of Greer, failing to remember all that happened at the time of the shooting, the testimony of Mrs. Burns loomed as a deciding factor in the case today.

Greer's story that he shot Dines in self defense, when he reached for a bottle, has not been contradicted by Miss Normand, Miss Purviance or Dines. Greer's attorneys pointed out, should Mrs. Burns confirm his statement that she sent him to Dines' apartment to bring Miss Normand home the chauffeur's story will remain intact and his exoneration is inevitable, his attorneys say.

Did Not See Shooting

Miss Normand testified she did not see Greer shoot Dines or see what took place immediately before the shooting.

Miss Purviance, in her testimony, placed herself in the bathroom at Dines' apartment at the time of the shooting and said she knew nothing of how and why the shots were fired.

Dines, in his testimony, late yesterday virtually admitted that he provoked the argument.

He did not say so in those words, but he would not deny that he might have attempted to hit Greer with a bottle. That was the only significant spot in his testimony and was taken to foreshadow the virtual exoneration of Greer.

In Self-Defense
Judge Hanby gave no indication at the conclusion of Dines' statement what his disposition of the case would be, but it was predicted that Dines' negative admission that he might have attempted to assault Greer would substantiate the claim of Greer's attorneys that he fired in self-defense.

Police Officer Bain, one of the first officers to reach the scene of the shooting, was the first witness today.

BALKS AT TREATY

MADRID, Jan. 22.—The directory today issued a note stating that Spain in making new demands before she will sign the Tangier treaty specifying the rights of the allies in Morocco.

Lenin took frequent vacations. They became longer, until, finally, he had to give up power altogether.

Powerful Figure
Foreign statesmen united in admitting that Lenin was not only one of the most spectacular figures Europe has produced in the past century, but one of the most powerful. From his place in the Kremlin he issued orders that were obeyed by the proletariat, not only in his own country, but in foreign lands, as well. He had become almost a myth when his death was announced today.

Lenin had married, but had no family. He was the author of many books upon communism and socialism.

Many attempts were made upon Lenin's life, but he escaped them all, to die a natural death, peacefully in bed.

Dora Kaplan, a woman Socialist, shot Lenin, and he had a narrow escape from death. The bullet was not removed from his breast until over a year later. This wound is said to have hastened his death.

LABOR PARTY NOW IN FULL CHARGE

Baldwin Out and MacDonald In; Entire Country Is Torn By Strife

cashire—Josiah Wedgwood, Secretary for Scotland—William Adamson.

There will be no women members of the new government although there are eight women members of commons. The policies of the new government will be announced when commons reconvenes February 12.

After Baldwin had visited Buckingham palace, where he tendered the resignation of his government, J. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the labor party and chief of the opposition in the House of Commons, was invited to the palace to receive the designation of premier.

Torn with Strife

MacDonald readily accepted the post, knowing in advance that the honor would be his.

Labor comes into power at a time when the entire nation is torn with labor strife, the railway locomotive engineers and firemen and some of the coal miners being on strike.

MacDonald's followers said he would set his face at once toward settling these disputes.

Many of the Liberals voted for the Laborite resolution of "no confidence," the result being 323 in favor of it and 256 in opposition.

In Last Session

The final meeting of the old cabinet was held this morning just before Baldwin visited the house to hand in the resignation of himself and his colleagues.

The House of Commons met this afternoon with Premier-designate MacDonald in power.

After Baldwin had announced his resignation, the House of Commons adjourned until February 12 to give the new government time to organize.

Isabel MacDonald, daughter of the Laborite premier-designate, visited 10 Downing street, official residence of premiers, this evening to view her new home. Mrs. Baldwin, wife of the retiring minister, graciously received Miss MacDonald. She showed her over the house, saying:

"You see, we are all prepared to go. I hope you will like it."

Mrs. MacDonald, wife of the new premier, died twelve years ago, leaving three daughters. MacDonald is 57 years of age.

Great Britain realizes that the whole world is watching the experiment being made to have the dominant party is officially denominated Laborites, many of the newspapers call them socialist.

longer be happy in Sinclair's employment."

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, also a witness, testified that he had advised his brother to resign from the Sinclair company after Archie had told him of a conversation with Walberg, in which the latter had advised the same thing. The department of justice, given full access to the committee's records, taken in a year's investigation, has launched a probe of its own into the leasing with a view to possible criminal action, it was learned.

Rush L. Holland, assistant attorney general, was in the committee room when Roosevelt and Walberg told their amazing stories that led to their resignations.

"Of course, the department of justice is investigating," Holland said today. "We shall certainly bring criminal prosecution if evidence sufficient to warrant such action is unearthed."

He admitted that members of the department were working on the case but would not say whether he considered the present revelations sufficient.

"I have a general idea of what is going on up there but they are welcome to question me as much as they like," Fall said.

MARKS FALL AND BUILDINGS RISE

False Veneer of Prosperity May Mislead Visitor In Germany

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—All available reports on building activities from the various provinces of Germany during the last twelve months reveal a decided increase over any corresponding period since pre-war days. Such an increase is a striking fact in "crumbling Germany."

In all large cities and in rural districts, especially in agricultural regions, construction work of a permanent nature is being pressed with energy. In the business centers of Berlin alone a score of handsome buildings are being erected. Railroads are being repaired and improved, streets re-paved and pavements laid, and in the exclusive residential districts luxurious homes are springing up in nearly every street. In Unter Linden, adjacent to the French embassy, where reports are being drawn on Germany's ability to pay reparations, an imposing white structure is now being completed by a banking firm.

There is plenty of work for masons, carpenters, plasterers and bricklayers, and while these men are making their land materially more solid they and their families are suffering heavy hardships because of the economic and financial chaos now existing.

"Built on Paper" There is reason for this feverish building activity which is so deceptive to visitors, who upon entering Germany are struck by the outward appearance of prosperity. Many of these visitors arrive at the Friederichstrasse station, where a gigantic modern stone structure is now under construction. It is the headquarters of the finest railroad stations in the world. But these foundations of stone are laid by paper marks.

For many months business houses and manufacturers have been trying to put their paper profits into something substantial. They can build on a reasonable rate and cut their building expenses by contracts which are slower growing than the slide of the fictitious currency. Business men who have made huge profits from the war and post-war periods have not been so short-sighted as to let them go with the mark. They have built homes in which to live comfortably, bought automobiles and jewels and fine clothes, so that if their country goes bankrupt and their life's savings is shattered they will still have their material wealth.

The only fear of this new luxury class is a revolution. If the country can struggle on and avoid the fate of Russia the restored Germany will have a new and entirely different wealthy class than that which enjoyed the halcyon days before 1914.

Farmers Better Off The farmer farmer is perhaps better off than the American farmer. He has had excellent crops since the war ended, and he has been able to collect huge profits. In recent months he has seen the necessity of investing his profits. Large Frigidaire refrigerator. Fair Oaks 216, 1185 N. Hill St., Pasadena.

FOR SALE—Breakfast set, table and four chairs. Reasonable. 277 North Maryland, Call evenings.

Panama Canal in 1923

Netted Ten Million and Enlargement Appears Sure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—In forty years the Panama canal will have completely paid for itself and will return to the government a net profit of approximately $10,000,000 annually, according to figures just compiled at the war department. This in addition to the thousands of dollars annually saved by American shipping firms through utilizing the canal and its inestimable value as a vital link in our system of national defense.

It is doubtful whether the most optimistic of those who fostered the project when it was first conceived ever expected it to actually pay a profit.

The tremendous expense of building the canal was justified in the minds of the engineers who drew up the first plans because they considered the project in the same category as government work on rivers and harbors in the United States. Furthermore, they pointed out a large portion of the huge sum could be charged off to the item of national defense.

Of course it was expected the revenue in tolls would probably pay for the upkeep of the canal, and it was also hoped that in time the revenues would cut down to a considerable extent the original cost of construction; but even the most enthusiastic never thought this could be achieved in the short period of forty years.

The original cost of construction, in round figures, was $375,000,000. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, the total revenue from the canal was $17,500,000. Of this amount $7,500,000 was expended in general upkeep, leaving a net profit of $10,000,000, and furthermore the auxiliary business in the zone owned by the government returned a profit of another $1,000,000. This auxiliary business consists of supply stores, food, fuel, ship apparatenes and the like to vessels passing through.

Officials declare it was first expected that considerably under 100 vessels would pass through the locks every month. This was the case when the canal was first opened, but since that time the activity there has increased every day. The record to date is the passage of thirty-eight vessels through the canal in twenty-four hours. The average for the year

Every time a ship passes through the locks the volume of water in the lake is lessened, and at the end of the three-month period, when the mountain streams which feed the lake have been dried up, the water supply recedes to a very low level.

All in all, officials contend that the building of the Panama canal was the best business proposition the United States ever entered.

The importance of the canal to American shippers is shown by the fact that 40 per cent of the vessels which pass through are owned by American firms. The actual return in dollars and cents in regard to the value of the canal as a part of the defense system, of course, cannot be estimated.

In addition, the treasury department will receive $10,000,000 annually (and perhaps more after a few years) that otherwise would be sought in the pocket-book of Mr. Taxpayer.

FIRE MENACE TO GLENDALE SHOWN

Casa Verdugo, Unprotected In Event of Outbreak, Is Serious Danger

The need for more fire protection for Glendale was stressed by L. T. Rowley at the weekly board meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, when he declared that the thickly settled district of Casa Verdugo immediately adjoining the city, and to a great extent surrounded by Glendale, constitutes a menace that imperils the city. It was brought up in the discussion that Casa Verdugo is without fire hydrants to which the fire hose could be hooked on in the event of a fire.

Mr. Rowley, who has been a government ranger and a state fire warden with years of experience in fighting forest and brush fires, declared that the continued dry spell has permitted the fallen leaves and brush in the hills to the north of the city, backed by a strong wind from the north, would threaten the very existence of Glendale, unless some immediate steps are taken to safeguard the city.

Wright's Suggestions Supervisor Henry W. Wright has suggested to representatives of the Chamber of Commerce that the matter be taken up with the residents of Casa Verdugo through the Los Angeles County Forester, Stuart Flintham, to see if proper protection could not be installed in that region.

Mr. Rowley also reported on the last meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando Valley, with special reference to the plans that are now under consideration for the erection of a new bridge at the south end of Brand boulevard across the Los Angeles river, of Commerce be prepared to act with the committee that is to be appointed by the associated organizations.

The civic committee, headed by H. M. Butts, will take up the matter of additional fire protection for the city.

C. D. Thom, chairman of the school committee, reported on the meeting that had been held at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning when the plan for the consolidation of the two school boards and the establishment of a Junior High school was discussed.

It was suggested by President W. E. Hewitt that additional solicitors be employed to secure more members for the Chamber of Commerce, emphasizing, in their canvass of the city, the work that the organization is doing for the development of Glendale and the need for a united citizenship behind it at every stage.

A new advertising committee, to succeed the one which resigned last week, will be selected by the committee on assistants.

G. Clay Goodloe assistant secretary, reported on the collections that had been made during the week, and it was stated that eight

Chemists obtain poisons, substitutes for sugar and perfumes from coal.

FRANKLIN MARSH

CRITIC OF WOMEN

Compared Those Too Fond Of Clothes With Apes; Rapped Love-Making

By GEORGE T. HOOK For International News Service PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—"When I reflect on the interest women take in each other's clothes I cannot conceive you to be human creatures, but a sort of species, hardly a degree above a monkey, who has more diverting tricks than any of you and is an animal less mischievous and expensive."

You won't believe it, but those words are attributed to none other than one Mr. Benjamin Franklin, philosopher, et al., and are a portion of his address to a young woman about to be married, the address forming a chapter in his book "Reflections on Courtship and Marriage." The book was recently purchased at auction for $270 by Dr. Asa Don Dickinson, librarian at the University of Pennsylvania, in charge of the Franklin collection. The "Reflections" comprise a volume of less than 100 pages and were written in 1746. Franklin then being young and unfamiliar with society, according to Dr. Dickinson. The known copies number not more than three.

Continuing on courtship, Franklin writes: "That hedge-podge of nonsense which is called 'love-making,' such as using frothy and intemperate sallies of fancy, as found in novels and romances, must be avoided. Instead, endeavor to inspire the young woman with sentiments of esteem and steadfast friendship."

In his dissertation on marriage Franklin makes comments which, perhaps, are applicable even in these modern times. His list of reasons for unhappiness in marital enterprises includes disorderly rooms, breaking of china, dinner not prepared on time, and immodest dress. Hardened husbands, of course, might exclude the last.

"It is not proper, even for married people, to make love in public," Franklin also writes. "Leave this cooling of doves for ill-bred fools."

100 Dairymen Caught in California Law Net

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—In his annual report to Governor Richardson, made public today, Dr. J. P. Iverson, chief of the division of animal industry of the State Department of Agriculture, declared that more than 100 California dairymen were prosecuted during the past year for violations of milk, butter and cheese standards.

Watered milk has virtually been done away with, Iverson said. Fifteen persons were prosecuted during the year for violating cattle quarantine laws, the report added.

To pull skaters over the ice, a motor wheel, fastened to a pair of steel runners and a bicycle frame, has been invented and has attained a speed of thirty miles an hour.

Those present from Glendale were Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Totman, Mrs. E. Knittles, N. W. McBryde, Otto Hagenjos and M. B. Gibson.

Blood of Christ Is Remedy For All Sin

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, preached in the Glendale theatre Sunday morning, taking as his theme "Grievous Wolves." A special musical program was rendered on the organ by Paul Carson. Mr. Edmonds said in part: "The grievous wolves spoken of by St. Paul did not refer to the persecutions suffered by the early church. Regarding bonds and afflictions he said, 'None of these things move me.' His reference is to certain false teachers who endeavored to assure the people that they could be saved by keeping the law. "Paul sets forth in a strong argument that the grievous wolves of ancient and modern times are trying to set aside the cross of Jesus Christ, for three reasons: First, the cross speaks of the curse of sin. The word curse is to the human ear a harsh, cruel and horrible word, but since sin is horrible in all its forms, the penalty must be commensurate. 'Cursed is everyone that hangeth on the tree.' 'Jesus Christ is become a curse for us' that we might be freed men in Christ Jesus. Second, these grievous wolves are opposed to the cross because it teaches that the wages of sin is death. Every sinner is under condemnation, and only through forgiveness of sin can he come into possession of everlasting life. Third, these grievous wolves are opposed to the cross because it teaches that the natural man is enmity against God. The human heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked. "Paul's remedy is through the shed blood of Christ, which cleanseth from all sin."

WINDY CITY GANG VENDETTA LOOMS

Shooting of Two Brothers in Underworld Battle Is Signal to Clans

By LARRY SMITH
For International News Service.
CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Cold-eyed young men, killers by trade, today eased shoulder holsters into position for quick action and fondled the flat, black automatic in the diplomatic exchanges of gangland. A new vendetta was in the making. At the University hospital, where surgeons removed a bullet from his abdomen, "Davey" Miller, west side fight referee and politician, kept his own counsel as to the identity of his assailant. His brother, Willie, who escaped with a flesh wound when a belt buckle deflected a bullet, also was silent. The brothers were shot as they left the La Salle theatre Sunday night after the performance of "Give and Take." Mrs. Max Miller was with them and escaped the bullets. Crowds in Panic
Police believed they knew the four men who waited outside and sent bullets singing among hundreds of panicky theatre patrons who jammed and fought to get away from the battleground. But the officers were not aided in the search by Davey or his brother. The seriously wounded man only muttered the underworld formula: "I'll tend to 'em." Maxie Miller, once acquitted of murder and a figure in west side law troubles, though knocked down by the bullet which slightly wounded him, was able to help his brother into a taxicab and rush him to the hospital. Though neither of the brothers would talk, police were aided in their search for the gangmen by their recollection of a west side saloon fight of two years ago, in which Abe Rubin was killed.

Oath of Vengeance
They recalled a wounded gangster who raised his left hand—he could not raise his right because of two bullet wounds—and swore that he would "get Maxie Miller and the whole Miller tribe." This and a description of a man 30 years old, heavy set, well dressed, who pocketed a gun and jumped into a waiting taxicab, were starting points of the search. Miller referred a fight in Omaha five months ago and barred the boxers for alleged "framing." Enemy grew out of the bout, detectives said. Miller also was referee of the Benny Leonard-Pinky Mitchell fight last June here and Milwaukee fans took violent exception to Miller's decision, awarding the match to Leonard on a foul in the tenth. A free-for-all fight followed, which was stopped by the police. The riot put an end to a threatened revival of boxing in Chicago.

Although Davey Miller refused to give police information, he told Hirschle, a younger brother, also a gangland figure, that he had been shot by a gambler with a police record, authorities announced.

The election comes January 29. Anti-annexationists protest the straw ballot, pointing out that it represents only one vote to a house and that in many cases the household is divided against itself on the issue.

Near Beer In Accident
ANAHEIM, Jan. 22.—Messrs. Volstead and Bryan would have been delighted to see the freak accident here yesterday, when a Santa Fe train struck a truck loaded with "near beer" at the Northam station, scattering it to the four winds. POISON GAS WILL TAKE TWO LIVES

Nevada Building Death Cells For Chinese Gunmen's Death Sentence

By W. H. HUNTING
For International News Service.
RENO, Nev., Jan. 22.—Two airtight death cells are under construction in a stone building in the Nevada state penitentiary yard at Carson City in preparation for the first lethal gas execution to be held in the United States. Two Chinese, Gee Jon and Hughie Sing, convicted of murdering a countryman two years ago, will on February 3 inhale the scent of bitter almonds and pass into oblivion within ten seconds, according to experts planning the execution. The lethal gas used will be hydrocyanic gas, commercially known as cyanogen. Having an odor of almonds, this gas, the experts say, is invisible, lighter than air, paralyzes respiratory organs, displaces oxygen in the body and causes instant and supposedly painless death after one deep breath. The paralyzation of the respiratory organs prevents even an outcry from the victims. Piped Into Cells
The gas will be piped from metal cylinders to the floors of the two airtight cells. Each cell is seven feet long, seven feet high and five feet wide with glass observation windows. The gas will spread to all parts of the cell rapidly, rise to the ceiling and be dissipated into the outer air through a chute sufficiently high to avoid danger to witnesses. The gas and two of compressed air will be used. At the signal of Warden Denver S. Dickerson, five guards will open the respective valves, each believing his tank contains the harmless compressed air instead of the death gas. The hour of the execution remains to be set and will be named by Warden Dickerson. The desired gas can be obtained on the Pacific coast only in Los Angeles and difficulties are expected in securing its transportation to the Carson City prison due to interstate rail restrictions as to transportation. The process of making the gas locally is considered impractical.

Geo. Jon, an elderly Chinese Tong gunman, looks forward to death behind a wrinkled, yellow mask of Oriental indifference. Hughie Sing, a boy of 19, Nevada born and educated, and in the Carson City high school when called upon to do the bidding of his Tong, while trying to hide his emotions, does not look upon his forthcoming execution with the same stolid calm of the older man.

Only action by the state parole board can now step in to prevent the execution. Every legal remedy has been used. It is possible that Thomas Russell, a Mexican convicted of killing an Indian girl, Mamie Jonnie, at Elko, Nev., will be executed on the same date, as Judge Joseph McNamara, who refused to set a date for the execution, was given thirty days by the state in which to act.

Emery's Baby Girl Aids Male Quartet
A quartet of lusty-voiced boys that made its appearance at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital yesterday was hampered somewhat in its efforts to entertain the other patients by the lack of an accompanist, and that feature was taken care of this morning when it was announced that Judge and Mrs. Owen C. Emery are the parents of a baby girl. So the concert may now proceed. The Emery baby has been named Barbara Virginia. The following births were reported: Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Morgan, 606 Howard street, boy, January 21, 1924. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lesh, 1449 North Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena, boy, January 21, 1924. Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Tucker, 974 North Van Ness avenue, Hollywood, boy, January 21, 1924. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Paulsrud, 1627 Glendale boulevard, Los Angeles, boy, January 21, 1924. Mr. and Mrs. Owen C. Emery, 610 West Myrtle street, girl, January 22, 1924.

SOLONS IN ROLE OF GRAND JURY

Big List of Investigations Occupy Attention of Present Congress

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Without a single new law to its credit, the sixty-eighth Congress entered into its eighth week yesterday in the role of a national grand jury. Lacking only the power of indictment, the Senate launched the greatest number of concurrent investigations in its history. The House, meanwhile, contented itself with settling a dispute between opponents and adherents of the Mellon tax reduction and the soldier bonus and with launching the great governmental appropriation bills. The most extensive Senate inquiry was launched into the existence of "lobbies" and the activity of paid propagandists, under a resolution by Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri. The first subject was the Bok peace award. Then inquiry will be directed into "propaganda" circulated in support of the Mellon tax program and in opposition to a soldiers' bonus. Soviet Recognition
Affecting the nation's foreign policy, a second inquiry was directed by the Senate committee on foreign affairs into the question of American recognition of soviet Russia. Senator William E. Borah, Republican, of Idaho, chief proponent of Russian investigation, was in charge. Adding a small-town touch to the general inquiry, the Senate also began an investigation into the desirability of 5-cent street car fares in the capital. A fourth investigation and one of national importance was launched by the Senate Interstate Commerce Commission into railroad freight rates. The Senate public lands committee met to resume its investigation into the leasing of national oil reserves by former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall. Another inquiry—into farm depression and proposals for relief—was continued before the Senate agriculture committee. Many Minor Probes
In the background were less important inquiries into proposals for creating a department of education, for reorganizing all government departments for revising civil service laws. Two more inquiries—the contest to unseat Senator Earle B. Mayfield, Democrat, of Texas, and into the existence of medical "diploma" mills, were temporarily held in abeyance while agents sought additional advice. Senators were planning to inaugurate even more investigations. The principal one of these was an inquiry into the administration of Governor Leonard Wood in the Philippine islands and the stock dealing transactions

Veteran Avers Lee Story Is All Wrong

History pictures General Robert E. Lee as mounted upon a splendid white horse when he surrendered to General U. S. Grant at Appomattox in 1865; but history is wrong on that point, according to John Meagher, 77, of Fayetteville, a color-sergeant in the days of '61, with Company E, Sixty-third Regiment, New York City.

Meagher says his flag was nearest to the rebel lines when Lee surrendered and that Lee appeared, seated in a wagon, with three other officers of the Confederate army; that the words "Southern Express" were painted upon the sides of the wagon and that it was drawn by four squirrel-gray horses. Meagher fought two years in the Civil War, participating in twenty-four battles, among which were the battles of Gettysburg and the Wilderness. Every color-sergeant in his regiment excepting himself was either killed or promoted, leaving him the only one at the end of the war.

Ohio Town Installs Hobo Drinking Fount

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Jan. 22.—A drinking fountain for hoboes! The unique distinction of inaugurating this innovation falls to Defiance. From time immemorial almost the water works plant here has been an oasis for tramps on the railroads which conveniently arranged a junction point not far away. It was lots of trouble to fill a tumbler for each caller. So Superintendent H. T. Campion has had constructed a drinking fountain near the road, where a walk enters the ground. It's really an ornamental affair, and, of course, any wayfarer is welcome to quench his thirst at its bubblers.

Italy May Send Ship Line to Ireland Ports

ROME, Jan. 22.—Plans are under consideration for the establishment of a regular shipping line between Italy and Ireland, the steamer, touching at the Faro islands and Spanish ports. The main idea for the new route is to make it possible for smaller exporters to get fish sent direct to Spain and Italy without transshipment. The Senate public lands committee met to resume its investigation into the leasing of national oil reserves by former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall. Another inquiry—into farm depression and proposals for relief—was continued before the Senate agriculture committee. Many Minor Probes
In the background were less important inquiries into proposals for creating a department of education, for reorganizing all government departments for revising civil service laws. Two more inquiries—the contest to unseat Senator Earle B. Mayfield, Democrat, of Texas, and into the existence of medical "diploma" mills, were temporarily held in abeyance while agents sought additional advice. Senators were planning to inaugurate even more investigations. The principal one of these was an inquiry into the administration of Governor Leonard Wood in the Philippine islands and the stock dealing transactions

CHICAGO TO USE SCHOOL CENTERS

City Far Behind Others in Community Life, Claim of Committee

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—A plea for more extensive use of public school buildings for cultural and social purposes, after school hours, was made to the local board of education recently by a committee of citizens. It was charged that Chicago is far behind many other cities in this respect, many of which were of far less population and with fewer facilities. General use of the school buildings as community centers was urged. The committee reports disclosed that Chicago now has only nineteen community centers operating. In 1917 there were sixty-three and in 1921 sixty. From the appropriation of nearly $50,000 which the board made for similar centers this year only about $20,000 has been used, as against approximately $63,000 in 1921. The committee concluded its report with a recommendation that the board immediately shape plans to increase appropriations for these centers. What Other Cities Do
Members of the committee said that Boston, one-fourth the size of Chicago, spends more than twice as much as this city on community centers. New York, it was said, has sixty-three and thus far this year has made an outlay of nearly $100,000, which is nearly four times Chicago's 1923 expenditure. Many cities have spent much money for added equipment for school playgrounds. In addition to this, large numbers of school buildings in various communities are kept open from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 or 11 o'clock at night, affording residents an opportunity for various activities and amusements at a nominal cost, according to statistics.

Bitter Battle Over House Rules Ends

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The bitter fight over House rules ended yesterday with a compromise forced by a coalition of insurgents and Democrats over the regular Republicans. With the signature of 150 of the 435 members any bill can be voted up or down in the House, and any committee in charge of a bill can be forced to act on it in thirty-seven days or have it taken away and brought to the floor for debate and vote. Congressman John M. Nelson of Wisconsin, leader of the insurgent group, standing out for a recall by 100 votes, said he was content with the House decision because it placed responsibility for locking up of popular legislation with the Republican majority of the House. He said he still belonged to the Republican party.

Soviet Has Fund for Propaganda in America

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The state department has direct evidence showing the soviet government of Russia created a fund for propaganda use in the United States, Robert S. Kelly, a state department official, testified Monday afternoon before the Senate committee considering American recognition of Russia. It was the first reference to an action of soviet Russia indicating an attempt to interfere with American institutions. Cuba's coast line, including indentations, is more than 6,500 miles.

ANXIOUS FOR RAIN TO SPROUT GRAIN

Lack of Pasture Serious as Alfalfa Advances in Price, Says Report

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—Rain fall in most sections of the state is so far below normal as to cause much anxiety among farmers especially grain growers and livestock men, according to the semi-monthly report just issued by E. E. Kaufman, federal agricultural statistician in co-operation with the state department of agriculture. Lack of pasture is seriously affecting cattle and in many places cattle are being fed. From various sections comes the report that local supplies of hay are ample providing rain falls in the near future. The heavy demand has caused both alfalfa and grain hay to advance in price. Grain is almost at a standstill because of low temperatures and lack of moisture. Very little wheat has yet germinated in the Sacramento valley, according to the report. Prayer for rain in many districts yesterday was reported. Some damage has been inflicted on the orange and lemon crop by the freezing weather in the first part of January, but it is stated that definite estimate of the injury sustained cannot be made at the present time.

Banks of Northwest in Critical Condition

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A possible financial aid will be extended by the government to banking institutions in the northwest now described as being "in a serious condition." ANDY GUMP WILL SETTLE IN CITY

Candidate for Manager's Job Plans to Build Home on Glendale Lot

Editor The Evening News—I have recently announced my candidacy to the office of city manager, and am anxiously waiting the decision of Glendale's most honorable and esteemed city fathers.

Awaiting their decision, I have had a great amount of pleasure in an intensive and exhaustive search for the most beautiful building lot in Glendale. I find this is a greater problem than the intricacy of all my successful schemes in the sale of my famous Combination Hair Brush and Mirror.

Glendale, the city beautiful—it is natural that I should choose the locality which gives the most promise for the future and whose promise is not in the future alone, but is being translated into performance now. A permanent home is one of the essentials for happiness. You know I have been traveling around so much all over the world, I can more fully appreciate the problem I am up against than many of the old-timers around here. Nowhere in all my travels have I found a more ideally perfect location for a home than here in Glendale. The selection of my lot has been impossible at the present writing, for Glendale is so beautiful in each and every spot.

Picks House Plans

Although there is a question in my mind as to the lot location, I have absolutely decided where I will buy my building material for the home I will erect in Glendale. It is a wonderfully interesting department, this Plan Service Department of the Bentley Lumber Company, situated at 460 Los Feliz road. I inspected hundreds of beautiful photographic views of the "Ideal California Home" which this company maintains for the home-builder's inspection. I find their building ideas are thought out by one of the southern's foremost architects, and there is no charge to their customers for plans.

Surely the home I have selected is in a class by itself. It radiates the more distinctive ideas with complete harmony reflected from its every detail. The exterior shows conclusively the careful study and competent execution of efforts embodied, and the interior is divided into one of the most satisfying arrangements you could hope to find. The living room, a spacious affair with high cove ceiling; the patio with fountain, cement floor, art leaded glass skylight; three bedrooms with large airy closets; two baths; the breakfast room, one of the most attractive you have ever seen, and a kitchen that is a model to perfection; a playroom for Chester, a den for Uncle Bim, and a fine, big place for a large safe. Trusting I will receive a favorable reply from the city fathers, I am, Yours respectfully,
ANDY GUMP.

Oil Companies Order Another Price Boost

"Good morning. Gasoline is 2 cents higher today."
Such was the pleasant (?) news you received at the oil stations this morning, in accordance with the Standard Oil company that the public would pay 17 cents instead of 15. Increased consumption was given as the reason for the boost.

The public will recall that one year ago, when prices began to drop, the state legislature was on the verge of investigating the gasoline business. It was alleged then that refinery costs are about 7½ cents a gallon. And some local refiners had the price down to 8 and 9 cents during the year.

But it will be another twelve months before the legislature meets. In the meantime the oil companies have made peace after a merry war. And the public can expect 20-cent gasoline, or higher, in the next few months.

GROWTH OF CITY TOLD BY PHONES

Glendale District Reveals Striking Increase in New Instruments

Southern California's growth; and particularly that of the Glendale district, is revealed in figures each month assembled by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company for the Pacific coast.

Glendale, according to figures shown in the January number of the Pacific Telephone magazine which has just reached the hands of Fred Deal, manager here, had 24 per cent growth in the first eleven months of 1923 which brought it into the class of those cities having from 5,000 to 10,000 telephones.

Alhambra led in its class while Inglewood, in group five, showed greatest gains. Burbank and Van Nuys were second and third, respectively, in the sixth class, being exceeded by Culver City which topped everything with a 40 per cent increase, excepting those cities whose consolidations have been effected during the year.

Lankershim's Growth

Lankershim, which was established as an exchange in the Glendale district last year, shows 60 per cent increase as a result of the changed conditions. Altogether, Mr. Deal has every reason to be proud of his offices in Glendale, Burbank, Van Nuys and Lankershim.

At the same time Glendale will do well to look to her laurels, for Culver City, Alhambra, San Pedro and other exchanges are "making tacks," as the old saying goes.

It is interesting to note that Los Angeles now exceeds San Francisco by a large number of telephone subscribers, the southern metropolis having 213,000 and its northern neighbor 189,000.

Incidentally, the Los Angeles figures do not include phones in the San Fernando valley annex or the harbor district, which gives San Francisco a decided advantage in population claims.

Will Call Mass Meeting To Help Property Owners Fight Assessment Suits

A mass meeting to discuss the present and future status of the Los Feliz tax assessment suits that have been started by Steddom & Blanchard against property owners in the Los Feliz improvement district will be held within the next ten days, according to a decision reached by the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night, following the presentation of the report of the legislation committee by Attorney Bert P. Woodard.

The object of the meeting will be to bring together all the persons who are defendants in these suits, as well as all other interested property owners in Glendale, and to aid them in forming a plan of campaign to combat the suits that are now on file. A number of the leading attorneys of Los Angeles who are recognized as experts in litigation of this nature will be asked to attend the meeting, which will be arranged by the Chamber of Commerce citizens committee. Mr. Woodard's report follows:

To the Board of Directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce:

A week or so ago you requested your Legislation committee to investigate and report to you the condition of the suits pending in the Superior Court of Los Angeles county to foreclose certain assessment liens which were levied for the improvement of Los Feliz road, together with our recommendations in the premises.

We find that two hundred or more such suits were filed, each being a separate action to foreclose the lien against the lot of the defendant. The plaintiff in all of these actions is the same, but the defendants are different, which makes it necessary for each defendant to defend the action to which he is a party. It was readily seen that it would be too expensive for the defendants to act separately, and an effort was made to organize them and have one attorney handle as many of the actions for them as possible. G. H. Wende, Ben S. Beery and Frank Adams were employed, and thereafter appeared in about eighty of the actions. Some money was collected from the defendants which was used to pay appearance fees and other court costs, printing bills and expenses. The amount so collected has not been sufficient to pay the actual court costs and expenses in the actions in which these attorneys were authorized to appear, and we are informed that they have appeared in some of their own money in appearing for some of the defendants and presenting their defense.

Action Premature

A demurrer was filed to the complaint in a number of the actions, the main ground of which was that the complaints of the plaintiff, on their face, showed that the actions were premature.

In some few cases, the plaintiff obtained a judgment by default before the appearance of the defendant had been entered. Mr. Wende and his associates then appeared on their face, showed those in which they had been authorized to appear, and made a motion and a proper showing to have the default judgments set aside, which motion was granted. He thereupon raised the same points by a demurrer in these cases as was raised in the cases where no default judgments were taken.

The assessments involved in each of said actions were levied under the Act of the Legislature commonly known as the "Vrooman Act." This Act provides:

"... no suit shall be brought for the recovery of any such assessment and no attorney's fees or costs shall be recovered until a demand in writing has been personally served on the owner of the lot or parcel of land assessed and such owner has failed to pay such assessment before the expiration of ten days after the service of such demand, or unless one year has elapsed from the date of the assessment."

We are advised that no demand was made upon the owner or owners of the lots or parcels of land assessed before the actions were filed, and there was no allegation in the complaints of the plaintiff that such demand had been made. It further appeared from the com-

DEMANDS JOB AS CITY EXECUTIVE

August September Willing to Quit President Race, For Managership

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of the following self-explanatory communication:

Tujunga, Calif., U. S. A., Jan. 21, 1924.

To the Hon. Mayor and City Council, City of Glendale, California. Honorable Gentlemen:

In view of the fact that the position of city manager is about to be vacated, I hereby respectfully, but insistently, present my demand for appointment to the position.

Regarding qualifications I will say that I have had wide experience as an inventor of the perpetual calendar, politician and as a temperance lecturer. The advent of Volstead ruined the last named profession, and since then I have found it very difficult to make a living for myself and family.

Although at the present time I am selecting the furniture I will use during my term of office as president of our glorious country, having outdistanced all rival candidates in the campaign, I would gladly forego the honor of being president for that of serving the city of Glendale. I severely would. If appointed to the position of city manager I would immediately take steps to start a factory to manufacture wireless hairpins to supply the demand created by the bobbed hair fad. This would be a distinct commercial asset to the city. Another reason for desiring this appointment is that I fear that Professor Xavus Zantippe will lose his alleged mind unless he is elected president, and in view of the present conditions, he is due to become candidate for one of Mr. Patton's upholstered apartments, for he hasn't a chance as long as I am in the race. Therefore, I would be charitable and withdraw in his favor if your honorable body will but make the necessary appointment.

As for references, I need but one, Professor Zantippe. He will tell you, on the slightest provocation, all my faults, sins, shortcomings, family peculiarities and no doubt he can think up several crimes to add to the list. All that is necessary is to balance his allegations with the natural virtues of a man of my personal ability and social standing. Modesty alone prevents me enumerating my many exceptional qualities which fit me for any position of responsibility. I am very desirous of seeing my name announced as the next city manager of Glendale.

Hoping you are the same, I am, Perpetually yours,
Hon. August September, Esq.

Charles Bryan May Enter Primary Race

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 22.—Governor Charles Bryan made public the following telegram from William McAdoo Monday afternoon:

"Am informed that your name has been mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination. In view of our long friendship, therefore I shall not permit my name to be entered in the Nebraska primary."

Bryan refused to declare whether or not he would be a presidential candidate, saying that he had no announcement to make at this time.

Kerrigan's Promotion Leaves Vacant Job

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—Judge Frank H. Kerrigan's nomination to be federal judge will leave a vacancy on the California supreme bench. Judge Kerrigan was born in Contra Costa county and has been successively justice of the peace, superior judge, judge of the district court of appeals, and in 1923 was elevated to the supreme court bench.

Students Ready for Inglewood Argument

Preparations are complete for the Glendale-Inglewood debate which will be held at the high school auditorium February 8.

Charlotte Busby and Arden Gingsby, for Glendale, will uphold the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that Congress should have the power to re-enact bills nullified by the supreme court." Velma Bolton will act as alternate.

Glendale must get the unanimous decision of the judges in order to be eligible for entrance in the finals for the southern California championship.

Massive I Beam for Pendroy Annex Arch

The massive twenty inch I beam which will support the dividing wall over the archway entrance into Pendroy's new addition in the Chamber of Commerce building has been placed in position and workmen today are replacing that part of the partition torn away to permit the handling of this huge piece of steel, which weighs over 2000 pounds.

The archway has been cut through on the second floor and will connect direct with the main building. The additional floor space made available through this entrance will relieve the congestion which has caused Mr. Pendroy annoyance in the past.

The new waiting parlor is practically completed. It is finished in white tile and will be one of the most up-to-date parlors for miliary in southern California.

DR. S. M. ROSSITER WRITES OF BODY

Romance Woven Around Living Temple by Prominent Local Physician

Dr. Frederick M. Rossiter, prominent Glendale physician and surgeon, whose offices are at 203 West Broadway and residence at 130 North Belmont street, has received word from his New York publishers, George Sully & Company, that his new book, "The Romance of a Living Temple," will be out the middle of March.

This is the second popular medical book from Dr. Rossiter's pen, the first, "A Practical Guide to Health," appearing in 1919, since when it has been translated into German, French, Spanish, Danish and Swedish, and has sold in the aggregate 430,000 copies, he states.

Study of Body

"The Romance of a Living Temple" is said by its author to be a study of the human body, its object being to arouse in the young a deeper interest in the laws of physiology and hygiene.

"The young mind can easily be led to regard the human building as a masterpiece of creation," says Dr. Rossiter in his preface to this new book, "a beautiful structure worthy of the most profound admiration. The teacher who can create in the young mind a love for the laws of health has accomplished a mighty task in preventive medicine."

Dr. Frederick M. Rossiter, B.S., M.D., L.R.C.P., London, and M.R.C.S., England, is a deep student of medicine and a writer and editor of renown, as well as a leading physician and surgeon. For many years he has been associated in editorial work on medical journals, and was formerly connected with the famous sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich.

Prolific Writer

During the period of five years required to write his first book, "A Practical Guide to Health," Dr. Rossiter was editing a health department for The Oregonian, in Portland, Ore., and in addition contributing a feature article every Sunday to this newspaper.

In the spring of 1920 he went to England, remaining there for fifteen months. It was during this time he passed examinations admitting him to the London Royal College of Physicians and became a member of the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

Dr. Rossiter came to Glendale in December of 1922, and has since been engaged continuously in the practice of his profession. (Continued on Page 6)

SUNLAND CIVIC PROGRAM BEFORE PEOPLE

Fire Protection, Street Work and Mail Service Topics Of Vital Interest

A mass meeting of voters of Sunland has been called for Thursday, January 24, at the Monte Vista school auditorium in Sunland. The different committees will report and the fire committee will have additional information to report, following the meeting held in Tujunga Friday night.

The street lighting committee has mapped out a program to be followed in securing additional lights for the Sunland district. It will be necessary to circulate and place before the county supervisors a petition, signed by the voters, before March 1. A map is also necessary, which will show the desired locations asked for in the petition. This committee consists of Mrs. Dan G. Keane and Messrs. Marsh, McDonald, Brown, Chitwood, Springer and Quin Adams.

Favor Better Street
A movement has been launched by a number of residents of Sunland to have North street improved from Michigan avenue, where it crosses the bridge over Tujunga wash west of Sunland, to Walnut drive, following an easy grade past the Sunland ripe olive cannery. This route is advocated to eliminate the steep grade in Steamboat canyon, where the highway comes up out of the Tujunga wash and enters Sunland on the west. It is believed by the promoters of the plan that trucking, especially, would find this an improvement. First street is being considered for improvement also. Walnut drive is now being graded and oiled by the county road crew.

Postal Petition
Petitions are being circulated asking for the removal of the Sunland postoffice from the present location at the Monte Vista Inn, near the park, to First street and Michigan avenue, and the appointment of Mrs. Nina McDonald as postmaster. A counter movement is being waged by people located near Center street and Sherman way who object to the move from the present location. The petition recites complaints of service and centers the main point of the controversy on the question of whether the business center is at the present location or on Michigan and First street. Michigan avenue is the principal artery of travel through the district. New subdivisions have been opened and the new Sunland Baptist church will be in the vicinity of First street. Most of the pioneer business houses are located near the park, where the postoffice now stands. It is stated that C. H. McDonald is willing to erect a two-story building on Michigan avenue to house the postoffice and equip a hall on the second floor for community use.

To Number Houses
A committee from the Sunland Chamber of Commerce has been working on plans for numbering the houses of Sunland and for getting street signs located at all street intersections. Members of this committee are Messrs. Brown, Campbell and Rev. Smith.
W. H. Vance, formerly a merchant of Sunland, is making a success of cotton growing in India, according to report made by Mr. Marsh, Mrs. Tenny and Mrs. C. H. McDonald, who made a short visit to their former neighbor recently.

TUJUNGA FIRE WARDEN AT VALLEY MEETING

Stuart Flintham States County Policy Toward Protective Measure

County Fire Warden Stuart Flintham attended a mass meeting of Tujunga citizens Friday night at Legion hall and explained the details of county fire districts. A fire engine of the type used in these districts was sent out to demonstrate its efficiency. The meeting was held for the purpose of informing voters on the question of fire protection in preparation of the coming election January 30. At that time voters of the Tujunga-Sunland territory will cast their ballots for or against the formation of a fire district by the county.

Harry Zachan, appointed temporary volunteer fire chief by a committee working on the problem, has made an appeal for voluntary subscriptions to buy a siren to be used for giving fire alarms. This siren would be placed in a central location where it could be heard in both Tujunga and Sunland, and where it would be easily accessible at all times.

Letter States Policy
A letter from Mr. Flintham to the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce states that the administration of the county fire districts is in the hands of the county supervisors, or their agents, but that the policy of the county authorities is to act on the recommendations made by a local committee representing the people of the district.

According to figures obtained by the committee a siren of sufficient power to be heard all over the district would cost $400. It has been proposed that the siren be connected with the Tujunga telephone exchange, so that a telephone message to the operators would get quick action.

Tujunga Growing
An average of one new meter each working day is the pace maintained by the Haines Canyon Water company. This average has been the rate of growth for the past two years.

A feature of the vaudeville show to be given next Friday night, January 25, at the Tujunga school will be a playlet written by William C. De Mille called "The Spice of 1924." This act will be produced by special arrangement with Mr. De Mille. All the proceeds from the show will go toward a fund for purchasing seats for the auditorium of the school, which has just been finished. Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Reynolds are in charge of arrangements and have booked several entertainers who are familiar to Tujunga audiences.

New Stores Soon
The new Sam Seelig store on Michigan avenue near Hillhaven road will soon be open for business. Fixtures are being installed and the stock moved onto the shelves.

Work was begun several days ago on the new store building on Sunset boulevard, corner of Greeley street. It will be a brick structure of one story and is reported to be partly leased to a grocery concern for one of a chain of retail stores.
Improvements at the Garden of the Moon, Tujunga's popular dance pavilion on Michigan avenue, have been completed and Saturday night dances will be resumed. A huge stone fireplace

Smuck, Third street and Michigan avenue; Mrs. Nellie J. Portwood, Walnut drive and Joatte street, and Elmer Chitwood, South Page street, near Michigan avenue.

Postal Figures
Figures compiled by Postmaster Halferty of the Tujunga office show a net gain of 115 per cent for the quarter ending December 31, 1923, over the same period of 1922.

Miss Smellie, deputy registrar for the Tujunga-Sunland district, will be at the Tujunga postoffice Wednesday and Thursday of this week and at Major Blake's real estate office at Michigan and Los Angeles street Friday. Monday and Tuesday will be spent in Sunland. Bray and Siddons have opened a real estate office at El Centro street and Michigan avenue. They were in business together several years ago in the east.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally, and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

COMMENT That's All

World Surely Progressing New Universe Is Located Propaganda, Bad and Worse Glad To Be In Glendale

—By Gil A. Cowan—

Sometimes we wonder why it takes people so long to comprehend truth, to become sophisticated, as it were, and then we read that the stars in the constellation of Orion are 600 light years away from the earth.

It takes six centuries of traveling for their rays to reach the earth, a distance of thirty-six hundred trillion miles, which is covered at a speed of 186,000 miles a second.

And then we think of the centuries it has taken the human race to develop the simple little mechanical devices it now boasts. They are mere nothing, considering the possibilities.

Although we have not the conception of some, there will be a day, perhaps in the twentieth century, A. D., when people bound either by air, or vacuum tube, they will be hurtled from coast to coast in minutes, rather than hours and days.

Some people consider jazz as maddening, yet it is only a process in evolution that will train our minds to think of more than one tune at a time. Some day we all will be able to read, write and talk about different subjects all at the same time. A few people boast that that process mentally already.

If you only stop for a minute, however, and look at the rising generation with their ability to do so many more things than their elders at the same age you will realize how rapidly the world is progressing. It is an interesting contemplation, but look out that you are not run over while day dreaming.

Another scientific discovery that gives us reason to feel humble is the announcement that Mt. Wilson's telescope has discovered a new universe somewhat smaller than our own, six quintillion miles away. It is the most distant object ever seen by the human eye, according to reports, and it takes a million years for its light to penetrate to the earth.

Yet it only takes a minute to describe this important astronomical discovery and in another minute we will have forgotten it.

Vicious, malicious and despicable propaganda seems to come to the editor's desk with every batch of mail. It ought to be stopped, but what's the use of talking about it when some supinely ignorant people, and such there are, occupy editors' chairs through fortune? They are the ones who are victimized by the propagandist.

An instance of the vicious publicity received comes from the so-called "Defence News Service" at Chicago. William Z. Foster, noted radical leader, has his name attached thereto and the articles are intended to build a reason for the existence of such radical organizations as the I. W. W., which has been outlawed in this state.

An instance of the malicious propaganda is seen in so-called "Ex-Service Men's leagues" which are paid to fight the adjusted compensation efforts on the part of the American Legion. Any legionnaire knows that the great majority of former service men are in favor of some sort of a settlement, but these malicious "leagues," directed from New York, would make you believe otherwise.

And of all despicable propaganda we have seen is the effort of Edward Bok to put across his $100,000 revival of the League of Nations. The reason we despise this particular piece of work is because it subtly attempts to undo the work of those who have striven for years to keep America free of foreign alliances.

Even these papers which gave space to Mr. Bok in the beginning of his "prize peace plan" are making haste to inquire whose $100,000 is being given away. The public has been awakened to the fact there is a joker in the cards being dealt from New York, once again.

Glendale may be glad it is a long way from Chicago and New York. Its people here are American, happy, healthy and contented.

Go back to Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Jersey City and give 'em the once over. No wonder all who can afford to come west are doing so. Even Washington, D. C., is undesirable to a westerner.

The hypocrisy, the mockery of wealth, the furtive glances of the foreigner, the sordidness and all—it gives a person heart to the open spaces a case of jimjams.

BURBANK WAGE DEBATE ON OCCUPATION TAX

Protective Tariff Against Outside Interests Is Urged by Many

Free trade vs. protection vies with auto-campers vs. taxpayers as a topic for debate on street corners and in trustee chambers, the Burbank city fathers being as well divided on these two important issues as the citizenry in general.

A questionnaire is now being prepared on the former.

"The matter of whether or not the city will be better off with all occupational licenses removed has long been a moot subject in Burbank," says Manager J. W. Charleville of the Chamber of Commerce, who is preparing the questionnaire. "Some think all should have an equal right to do business here, regardless of where they live. Others are in favor of retaining the present 'high protective tariff' as a check against undue invasion by outside interests."

The matter of occupational tax was brought before the chamber by Tom Walker, chairman of the newly formed industrial division, an ardent "free trader," well known locally as president of the Burbank Planning mill. He is backed up by Charles B. Wood of

VALLEY NEWS WATCH CLIMBING PRICES OF LAND

Old Timers Recall Days When $200 Per Acre Seemed Large Sum

Average in the San Fernando valley now sells at around $3500. In 1893, when the Southern Pacific came to Lankershim, $200 an acre was considered a stiff price. Last week ten acres brought $35,000.

Ed Varney today wishes he had the ten acre corner he sold about the time the railroad came. He thought $200 an acre was a whacking good price. Today the Blanchard Lumber company stands on his site, in the very heart of a beehive of development.

W. C. Weddington also wishes he had kept his twenty acres back in 1893. He had a fine apricot orchard where the Espee depot and business blocks now stand. Mr. Weddington was tickled to death to take $4000 for that tract. Today it would be worth a fortune.

William Beddome is another "old timer" who would be a rival of Midas if he had held on to his ten acres over where the Lankershim Auto Supply company is now located, but fortunately he reserved a few acres for his home site, which he still holds. But many reserved nothing and San Fernando To Annex?

Annexation talk is being heard in San Fernando these days. At a recent meeting of the Realty board the majority favored the idea, matters of water, taxation, fire prevention and fighting, public utilities, economy in municipal administration being urged in favor of the suggested annexation.

Although no time has been mentioned in any of this talk, it is felt advisable by the annexationists to bring the matter to an issue before the regular city election in April.

It has been suggested by M. V. Hartman of Tujunga that fire protection would be less involved than a legal fire district. It is understood the water company would extend mains over a fire district, however, were one formed.

Van Nuy's C. of C. Drive As a prelude to a far-reaching drive for new members, a community dinner was held Monday night, January 14, at the Women's clubhouse, under auspices of the Van Nuy's Chamber of Commerce.

The principal speaker of the evening was Will C. Farrell of Utah, very active in welfare and civic work and an orator of exceptional ability. He outlined ways a Chamber of Commerce could better serve the community and laid the foundation for the morale that will be needed to put over the drive.

$300,000,000 Surplus Is Lauded by President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Taking economy as his watchword, President Coolidge went before a meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce yesterday and warned them that he would neither tolerate nor approve governmental expenditures this year in excess of the estimates made by the budget bureau. At the same time he warmly congratulated them on the economy record they have made in the last year—a record that turned an expected deficit into a surplus of more than $300,000,000.

GLENDALE GLOMS READY TO CLOSE FOOTBALL HONOR

Contract Signed for Red and Black Playing U. S. C. Frosh This Fall

By AL DIX
Member of The Evening News Staff.
By the provisions of a contract signed yesterday, Glendale will appear September 27 at the Los Angeles Coliseum in the first game of the 1924 football schedule, against the University of Southern California freshmen.

This game will be a curtain raiser to the main event between U. S. C. and Caltech at Pasadena.
The offer was made to Coach Hayhurst as a result of the Goldston showing made by Glendale last season. The distinction of playing the first game has gone to Bakersfield, state champions, for the past few years, and in casting about for new opponents against whom to try out their new material, U. S. C. settled on the Red and Black eleven.

The game will have an added interest in that "Breezy" Elliott, local full back, picked on every all-state team for that position, and recognized as one of the greatest gridiron men ever turned out from any school in southern California, probably will be playing with the freshmen against his old school mates.

Certain of Position
Rumor has it that he will attend U. S. C., although he is silent on the matter. If he does, it is certain that he will make the frosh squad, and will have a chance to slip a few passes by Ryan and his brother Bud, who played with him last year.

"I am glad of the opportunity to play the U. S. C. freshmen for two reasons," said Coach Hayhurst yesterday. "In the first place, it will be the second appearance of Glendale in the Coliseum, and may dispel some of the stage fright which every one says worked such havoc with our chances during the first six minutes of the Long Beach game. When we played Long Beach we had never trod on the turf there before, and the boys may have been a bit awed by the size of the bowl and the throng present. Another game there will help to straighten matters out."

"Tough Assignment"
"The second reason is that it will send Glendale's fame farther abroad as a real football institution, and by that I mean, one that turns out good football teams. I realize that I have picked a tough assignment in tackling the freshmen, but it will toughen my boys for the Central league schedule again."
There is some talk going around that Glendale will, by force of circumstances, be compelled to take her place in the coast league. Tentative offers have already been received to have the Red and Black squad join forces with Pasadena, Long Beach and others in the big circuit. It is probable that no action will be taken this year, however, and Glendale will be in the Central League schedule again.

Due to the financial success of last season's games, Glendale's receipts in the Long Beach game being more than the entire athletic budget for the school year, Coach Hayhurst is ordering some new athletic equipment which has been needed for a long time and expects to experience the greatest boom in high school athletics that Glendale has ever witnessed.

Rumors, Denials, Alibis

By F. A. GRAHAM

The customary before-the-battle steaming-up of the public is now in progress. Promoter says Dempsey and Gibbons are signed for a match in June. Manager says it is apple-sauce. Principals say it is fine weather. Next day they change corners in the steaming-up process and one yesses and the other noes. Column after column of rumor and denial are shoved down the fight fans' throats. Fighters and their attendants spend weeks before each fight bullying the public, when all the public craves is action, not conversation. To put it into pre-Volstead language, "Talk is cheap, it takes money to buy whiskey."

Just as the foregoing was written some school boys went past our workshop. Their voices were raised in hostile debate and all of a sudden one yells, "You're nothing but a big headed crook" and wham! went the answer. Two of the kids exchanged choice juvenile insults at a fast clip for a few seconds and one finally landed a solid smack on his adversary's nose, which caused the recipient to start a strategic retreat. A short distance down the street he turned and fired a dornelike at the other and then both were crying. The nose-mitten one disappeared with the threat to get his big brother to knock the tar out of Red and Red left in the opposite direction in search of his gang. It was better while it lasted than anything ever viewed from a $5 seat. Did we try to stop it? Why, certainly! Boys shouldn't fight. We stuck our head out the window and said severely, "Now, boys, no hitting on the breaks."

READY TO CLOSE BASEBALL TRADE

Braves and Cardinals Will Swap Several Players to Boost Teams

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Before the end of the present week a deal between the Boston Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals will be announced with due formality. The trade is already in the bag, we have been given to understand, and awaits only the arrival of Dave Bancroft in the east to become public property. It will include among others, Mickey O'Neill, to become catcher, and Jocko Conlon, fielder, of the Braves, and Pitchers Jeff Pfeffer and Bill Sherdell, of the Cardinals.

The business was settled by Branch Rickey, of the Cardinals, and Christy Mathewson and Judge Emil Fuchs, Boston officials.
Rickey immediately thereafter made a noise like a rubber heel and disappeared. It was said that he had hastened to Philadelphia for the purpose of whispering some sweet nothings to Bill Baker concerning Jimmy Ring, although just what Rickey can offer in return for the pitcher is another matter. Both clubs are in need of pitchers and infielders.

Hornby's Price
The Hornby question is alleged to have arisen at one stage of the Brave-Cardinal negotiations, but Rickey is believed to have looked slightly bored by the proceedings. Pressed to set a price on Hornby's head, he is said to have mentioned Joe Genevich, a great young pitcher; young O'Neill, the catcher; Tierney, the heavy hitting second baseman; an outfielder, another pitcher and $100,000. Polite, though poignant, silence is said to have followed.

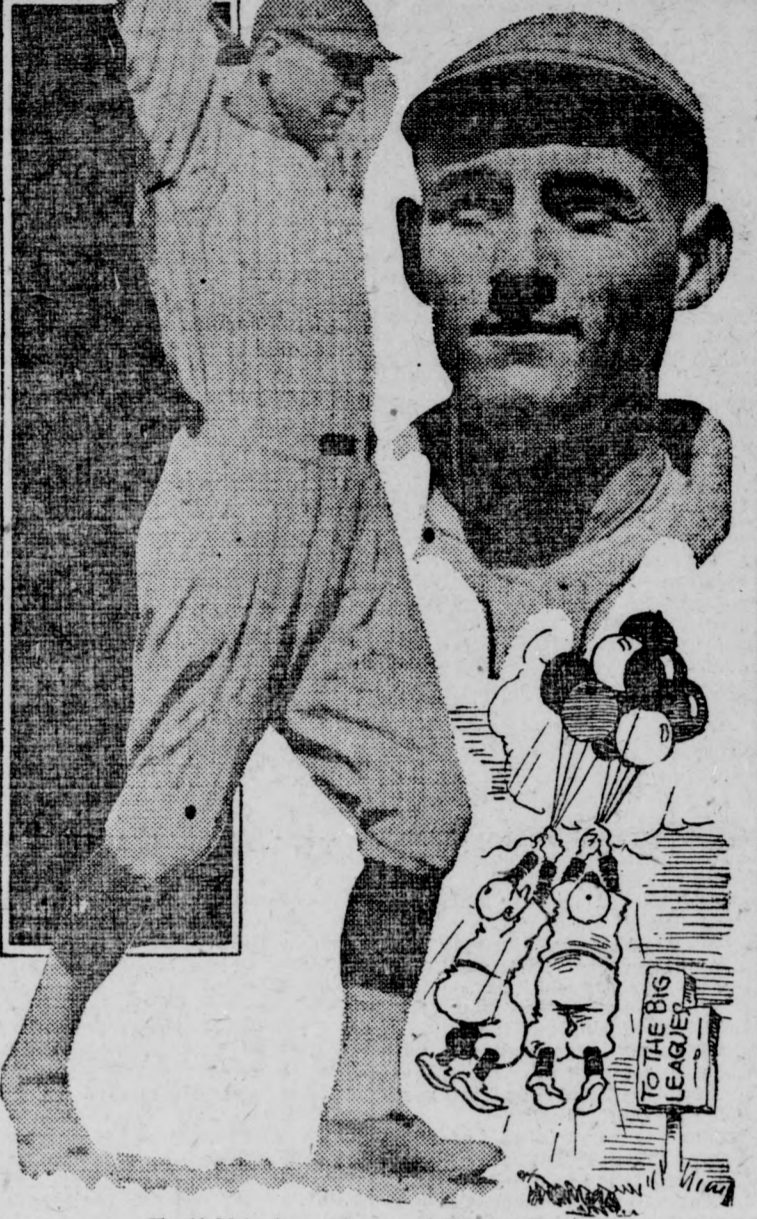

Questioned about the details of the meeting, Judge Fuchs said: "We talked about a deal that should prove beneficial to both clubs. It involves ordinary players and, in spite of statements to the contrary, did not include Catchers Gibson or Earl Smith. We put in a bid for Hornby, but with little hope of landing him."
The deal will rest, we understand, until not later than Sunday next, when Bancroft is due to put in an appearance.

Pirates and Giants Grab Two Stars of Minors for Next Year

Emil Yde in action and Ernie Maun

By NORMAN E. BROWN
The two best pitchers of the Western league will show their wares to National league fans next season.
The two are Ernie Maun of the Wichita team and Emil Yde (pronounced Ee-dee) of the Oklahoma City team.
These two men staged a neck and neck race for the mound honor in the western circuit last year and both hung up admirable records.
Maun won out in the race for honors by a margin of three points in the average column. He registered 26 victories and lost but 11 games. Yde won 28 games but lost 12. Maun's average was .703 and Yde's an even .700.

Sport Snap Shots

By JACK KEENE

That Johnny Dundee, featherweight and junior lightweight champ of parts, is an old bird in the fighting game is evidenced by the list of champions that have come and gone since he broke into the fight game. Some busy dopster has found out that Jeffries, Johnson and Willard have taken the count since Jonathan started fighting. In the middleweight class, Papke, Claus, Chip, McCoy, O'Dowd and Wilson have all gone the long way since Johnny started reading his own name in print—albeit in small type at first.

Melody, Sullivan, Lewis and Britton have walked the middleweight ranks.
The lightweight ranks were changed by the passing of Gans, Nelson, Wolgast, Ritchie and Welsh. Eugene Criqui was the last of the list of featherweights who have passed are: Coulon, Williams, Herman, Buff and Lynch. The latter lost and then regained his crown. And in the flyweight ranks Buff and Willie passed away, pugilistically speaking.

Truly, quite an array. It's a wonder Dundee can walk without a cane after reading the list.
Women are to be permitted to see boxing bouts in Pittsburg. They won't remain long if some of the battles are as punk as those we have been witnessing of late here and there.

Speaking of Dundee, wonder if he's just a wise old fox? His recent match with Jack Bernstein was in the wind for some weeks before it was finally hooked up. Dundee had wanted a chance to regain the junior lightweight title Bernstein took from him last summer. After the recent match was practically arranged, Dundee took on Al Shubert and Sid Barbarian—and was shaded by both. Now, just how much of that news did Dundee want the youthful and impressive Bernstein to hear? Probably all of it. Nothing handi-here to permit otherwise.

San Diego, Long Beach, Santa Ana and Glendale would make a good circuit, but a six club circuit would be better. Sawtelle is a good baseball town and has a park. There are two or three others near by that should find the proposition attractive. The iron is hot, and all that remains to be done is to strike.

Adolph Luque, Red pitcher, might be called "The Durable Cuban." He has pitched six years for the Cincinnati.
Fielder Jones, boss of the "Hitless Wonders," recalls one game in which Nick Altrock, pitching for Los Angeles, caught eleven men off first. 'Twas back in 1901 or 1902.

MACK SAYS BABE IS WORTH MILLION

Canny Clam of Philadelphia Gives Opinion on Stars' Baseball Value

By GEORGE T. HOOK
For International News Service.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—George Herman Ruth, alias Babe Ruth, alias the "Big Bam," the "Sultan of Swat," etc., has been voted the million-dollar beauty of baseball by a prominent and respected citizen of the Quaker City.

As a source of baseball information, Connie Mack, veteran manager and part owner of the Philadelphia Athletics, long has been more or less of a "canny clam." Mr. McGillicuddy admittedly knows "what's what and how" in many matters pertaining to baseball and players. Hence it wasn't difficult to lure him from his silence when a New York sports writer's figures on "Who is the greater player, Hornsby or Babe Ruth?" were placed before him. The scribe wrote: "Ball players say that if McGraw was willing to give $300,000 for Hornsby, Ruth should be worth $700,000."

Means What He Says
"Altogether too low," Citizen Cornelius chimed. "Hornsby is a great ball player, but I don't think there's any comparison between him and Ruth. Hornsby, of course, tops his league in batting, but you must consider that pitchers pitch to Hornsby. It's not so with Ruth. If the pitchers pitched to Ruth the way they do to Hornsby or Hellmann, why, he'd hit .600 or .700. Yes, sir, I mean exactly that."
"All things considered," Connie continued, "Babe Ruth is the best ball player in the world, and he is one of the greatest that ever lived."
"Well, now," he was asked, "if Hornsby is really worth $300,000, how much do you think Ruth is worth?"
Cornelius McGillicuddy smiled broadly, and forth came the words: "You can put him down for a million."

If the lanky manager's appraisal is correct, Babe Ruth is the first million-dollar beauty in baseball.

Sport Crucible

SPALLA BOOTS ONE
Erminio Spalla is heavyweight champion of Europe and therefore has all the ability of a second-class middleweight, if past performances mean anything. He accepted a match with Gene Tunney for February 1 and an advance of $500 from his hopeful American representative; then blantly announced that he would daily with Luis Firpo at Buenos Ayres in February.

For his efforts, if any, on this latter occasion he will be compensated to the amount of some $4,000. With Rickard pulling the strings here he would have been richer by perhaps $15,000. The only noteworthy feature of Erminio, seemingly, is his altogether deplorable lack of commercial instinct.

A boxer without commercial instinct is all right, at that. So are stairs without steps.
They say it is touch and go with the man who drops in to borrow a five-spot.

The Giant Upheaval
Layor by layor, John McGraw is tearing down the superstructure of a once great ball club, and it is said that the end is not yet. At the conclusion of the 1922 world's series the Giants were acclaimed one of the finest machines the game has known. Yet scarcely more than a year later many of its members have been waived hence.

Drawings was shifted to Pittsburgh via Philadelphia, and Smith and Jesse Barnes to Boston by way of opening the 1923 pennant race. Off-season deals have resulted since in the transfer of Bancroft, Stengel and Cunningham to Boston and John Scott, pitching hero of the 1922 world's series, has been waived out of the major leagues.

McGraw, like all baseball men, has most of his sentiment in the big toe of his kicking foot.

In view of his altogether obvious distaste for sordid money, it is suggested that Mr. Dempsey's man of business be known henceforth as Jack Koins.

Neutrality
The apparent reticence of Harry Wills and other American heavyweights of real ability to hearken to the overtures of Firpo looking toward a frolic of the fists in the Argentine is not without logic.
In spite of his thinly veiled inuendo, Firpo received fair treatment here when he was knocked into a human comma by Dempsey. But we have not forgotten the attitude of the referee and time-keeper as they chanted the fatal numerals "eight, nine, ten," over Lolling Luis. Facial and vocal expressions registered supreme and abiding satisfaction as they mouthed the syllables.

CHAMPION 'GATE CRASHER' QUILTS

'One Eyed' Connelly Always Manages to See Big Sport Events

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—"One-Eyed" Connelly, world's champion gate crasher, who has essayed free entertainment at national sport events from Boyle's Thirty Acres to Shelby, Mont., of late has been cavoring on the Pacific coast. He says he is getting tired of "breaking in" and intends to retire. He successfully saw the Wampus frolic Saturday night by carrying in a hat he claimed Bryant Washburn lost.

Although often credited with gate crashing for a period of thirty years, Connelly has only been in the "sport" a few years. He is not and does not claim to be the original "One-Eyed" Connelly, who died some years ago, in New York.
Connelly got by at the Dempsey-Gibbons bout at Shelby as an ice man, at the Dempsey-Firpo m'ill as a baggage man, and he has used as many disguises as Izzy Einstein to beat his way into famous fist attractions.

Star Cageman Also
Ernie Nevers, smashing Stanford football back, is now playing a brilliant game on the Palo Alto basketball team. He is rated one of the finest cage prospects ever uncovered on the Pacific coast. Coach Andy Kerr has expressed himself as astounded at the great showing made by Nevers in the hoop game. "Scotchey" Campbell, Harry Shipkey, E. G. Morrison, Dud De Groot and Captain Nip McHose are other Cardinal players attracting attention right now.
University of California basketball players are set for a stiff schedule, which includes the University of Southern California, Nevada, Santa Clara, Arizona and Stanford. Captain Talt, Ladar, Higgins, Kyte, Belasco, Meech and Kincaid are among the Bears' stellar performers this season.

College Golf Tourney
The Pacific coast is to witness an intercollegiate golf tourney starting February 22 at Del Monte, Cal. Stanford, University of Southern California, St. Mary's and Santa Clara will be invited to participate in the play, it has been definitely decided, and other Pacific coast colleges may be asked. If the tourney is a success it is planned to hold it annually with Washington, Oregon and others competing.

Georgie Larke's clever Los Angeles bantamweight, has battled his way to the top at last. He has been promised a crack at Pancho Villa, world champion, in New York.

Leonard Melkie has been named trainer of the Portland baseball club.
University of Washington crew men are to have a brand new shell.

Stanford and California will clash in track events, April 26.

EAGLE ROCK PARTIES PROVIDE MEETING PLACES

Social Enjoyment Is Aim of Sponsors Fostering Community Move

The public card party held at the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse last night drew a good attendance, reports Mrs. B. F. Herson, heading the committee on arrangements. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening enjoyed.

"We want the people of the community to know that these parties are open to the public," said Mrs. Herson this morning in commenting on the affair. "Our aim is to provide a headquarters for social enjoyment, which furnishes new contacts and makes for community building."

A splendid musical program was offered at the Women's club Thursday afternoon, January 10, through the courtesy of G. W. Vandegrift of Hollywood, an artist of prominence, who with others offered time and talent to a large audience's delectation.

Little Constance Shirley of Eagle Rock, recently awarded a prize by the Illustrated Daily News, of Los Angeles, was also on the program, with her mother, Irene Wakelin gave a good whistling number, accompanied by Suzanne Joyce Spear, Marion Boogar, a Grauman entertainer, gave readings. Ida Lantz, accompanied by Henrietta Russell, sang several numbers in her rich soprano voice, rendering an aria from the opera "Louise." And other entertainers contributed to the delightful program, while Dr.

L. M. Powers, Los Angeles health commissioner, made the address of the day.
Dog Licenses Due
Dog licenses have expired and applications for new ones must be made out. They may be left at the City Hall on East Colorado boulevard, states Donnell G. Montgomery, deputy city clerk, and must contain a complete description of the animal.
The reason licenses must be taken out in January and again in July is because of the fact that Los Angeles dog licenses are issued from July to July, explains Mr. Montgomery. From the period of June, following annexation, to the present time, no collection was made in the Eagle Rock district. This is being balanced by the collection of a full fee from January to July, 1924, and then another fee in July, which will cover a full year.

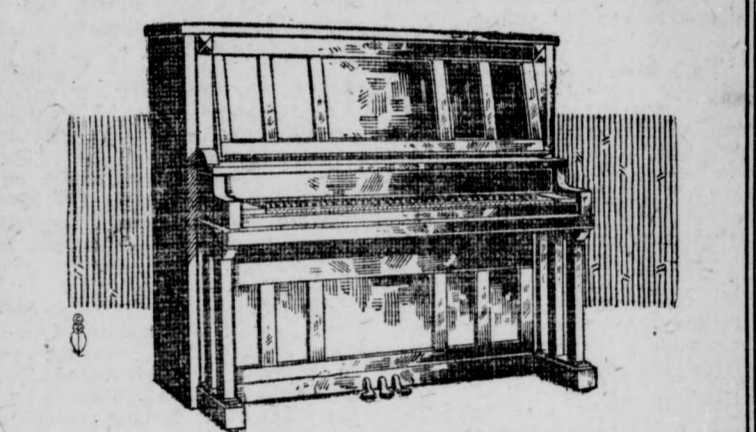

C. E. Davis of 1580 Waldron avenue was slightly injured and his automobile was when, on Tuesday, January 14, an explosion of gasoline vapor occurred in his garage.

Business License Penalty
It is likely that a number of local business men have been caught napping on the business license fee due January 1. The time limit under fine expired last Saturday.

Local members of the Red Cross organization met in Pasadena last Wednesday afternoon with the chapter of that city, to consider severing Eagle Rock a branch of that chapter. Inasmuch as this community is now a part of Los Angeles, it will be necessary for the local organization to affiliate with the metropolitan chapter.

Jack Dempsey owns a coal mine. He doesn't need a gold mine when the woods are full of suckers who are willing to pay fancy prices for ringside seats.

TODAY—Coolidge and the Mayflower.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—If you would ask around Washington what is the most valuable political asset Calvin Coolidge possesses, you'd probably get a bushel basketful of answers.

Some would promptly say William M. Butler, his campaign manager; others would allow it is Henry Ford's endorsement; still others the Mellon tax program.

It is on the half-day that the Mayflower does not swing idly in her berth, but toots her way out into the channel of the placid Potomac, that she becomes a political asset of Calvin Coolidge.

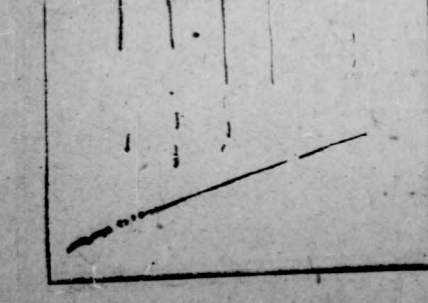

No president has ever used the Mayflower in exactly the same way that Coolidge does.

The parties that the Coolidges make up for the regular weekly jaunt down the river usually include twenty guests.

The capital was shocked, stunned and incredulous when on one of the early Mayflower parties Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, was among the guests.

One member of the cabinet circle usually is included, several senators, several members of the House, with their wives.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE ICICLE ARROWS

It was raining in Woodland where Uncle Wiggily and the other animal folk lived.

As it happened Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, was visiting Nurse Jane Fuzzy in the hollow stump bungalow of Uncle Wiggily.

"Dear me!" grunted Mrs. Twistytail, "poor Floppy will get soaking wet coming from school.

"Won't his brother Curly get wet, also?" asked Uncle Wiggily who happened to be staying home that afternoon.

"That is very kind of you," grunted Mrs. Twistytail. "But I am afraid it is too much trouble."

"Not at all!" laughed the bunnymouse gentleman. "I haven't had an adventure today, and going out may bring me one."

"It may also bring you a fall, if you aren't careful," said the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"I'll be careful," promised Mr. Longears. Then, with his extra large umbrella, which had long, strong ribs, Uncle Wiggily set forth to get the little piggie boy who was at the hollow stump school.

Now, as it happened, all the other animal boys and girls who went to the hollow stump school had brought umbrellas with them.

So when the time came for school to close for the day, the Lady Mouse teacher saw that all the animal children could go safely by home, snug and dry, under their umbrellas.

"I guess 'cause my mother was so busy giving sore throat medicine to Curly, she forgot to tell me to take one," grunted Floppy, as the rain dashed against the windows of the school.

"That's too bad," squeaked the Lady Mouse. "Well, you may wait here a while and perhaps the rain will stop."

"Sighing it doesn't stop," asked Floppy. "Well, if it still rains when it comes time for me to go home I will let you walk under my umbrella," squeaked the Lady Mouse.

But she hoped she wouldn't need to do this, for her umbrella was very small and Floppy was a very fat little piggie boy.

"Yes!" laughed the rabbit gentleman, as he twinkled his pink nose, "and I have come with my big umbrella to take Floppy home through the freezing rain."

"That's lovely!" squeaked the Lady Mouse, and then, looking out of the window, she cried: "Oh, see! There is the Fuzzy Fox waiting outside for you, Uncle Wiggily! He must have followed you here!"

And, surely enough, sitting outside the window ledge the falling rain had frozen itself into long, sharp icicles.

"Ha! These icicles will do for arrows!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "For a boy I will take one of the long ribs on my strong umbrella. I will shoot the Fuzzy Fox with an icicle arrow!"

No sooner said than done. Uncle Wiggily took a rib from his umbrella making a bow. Reaching out, he broke off an icicle from the window ledge.

"Ouch! Wow! Ouch!" howled the Fox, and away he ran. Then the bunnymouse piggie and the mouse lady could go safely home, which they did.

And if the sardine doesn't try to play tag with the codfish ball and make the phonograph laugh, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Susie's slip.

Ah ha! howled the Fox.

REDUCING IN SPOTS

The title of this paper is suggested to me because I have had many letters requesting information and using the word "spots". The "spots" most spoken of are at ankles and legs, busts, hips and upper arms. What's the cause of them? Let a contribution from one of our followers answer: "Sweet, make the mighty bosom excel in the front, line the back." Of course, this also applies to other spots.

Now, the primary size of these spots is more or less an inherited characteristic. If they are large before the accumulation of fat, naturally they are larger afterwards. If they do not seem to go down in proportion to the spots of the reduction, that is because they were larger in proportion in the beginning.

While reducing, extra exercises and massages should be taken for these "spots." Be careful not to massage the bust deep enough to break up the fat, but just to massage the bust to reduce the bust. They surely will go down in size with the general loss of weight.

Busts often seem larger than they really are on account of the roll of fat on the abdomen which pushes them up. A girdle set which only goes to the waistline and does not push that abdominal fat up, lowers the bust line appreciably. And with snug-fitting brassiere which goes down over the line of the corset, without any upward pressure. For fat hips the rolling exercises on the floor which I gave you last week, and the kicking exercises, are recommended. Brisk walks with long strides also get them. But remember, it is long to take persistence and time. I have a friend who was troubled with extra large hips and much overweight otherwise, she says she actually took off four inches in four months simply by the kicking exercises—kicking as high as possible, back and forth all day long. The rolling machine and the electric vibratory machines which reduce the excess fat, can pay particular attention to "spotty" fat.

Where there is very great disproportion in the distribution of fat, especially from the hips down, there may be some disturbance of the internal secretions. These secretions should have medication under the care of a physician who specializes in internal secretions. But diet and exercise will wonders. The rolling exercises and deep massage are good for the fat on

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

A MOTHER SPEAKS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I would like to say a word for the benefit of mothers who are troubled about their sons. I have a son, an only child, who is twenty. My advice to mothers is not to find fault with their son's friends. A mother should be a pal to her son and a friend to his friends. I invite my son's boy and girl friends to my home and I make omelets, bake a cake, have an oyster stew or something like that and we have a nice, jolly time together. If I find one of the girls has a little too much make-up on or acts a little loud, I speak to her in a nice, kind way about it and if they think anything of my son they will usually try to please his mother.

ETIQUETTE QUERY

I am invited to a dinner at my boy friend's home and I am worried as to what I should wear as I wish to make a good impression. Should I wear a lavender velvet or rust-colored serge, and should I wear gloves? I am away from home and have no one to consult. MARGOT.

LEAP YEAR QUESTIONS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Perhaps you can tell me how to win a boy's love. I work with him and he seems to be a quiet sort but is very pleasant. I like him very much and would like to know him better. I am a young girl in my teens and very sensitive about my clothing. I wear rather plain clothes and use very little of cosmetics. I powder once in a while, but that is all. BROKEN HEARTED.

C., Jeanette:—Pimples, blackheads and enlarged pores may all be traced to internal disorders. Imperfect elimination is usually responsible for all such trouble. The skin becomes overworked in its effort to keep the system cleared. It shows first in the oily skin, which indicates that the pores are being distended from the excessive amount of secretion. Blackheads follow quickly as they are none other than impacts of this oily secretion combined with soil and clogging the pores. Pimples show another great effort of the system to clear itself.

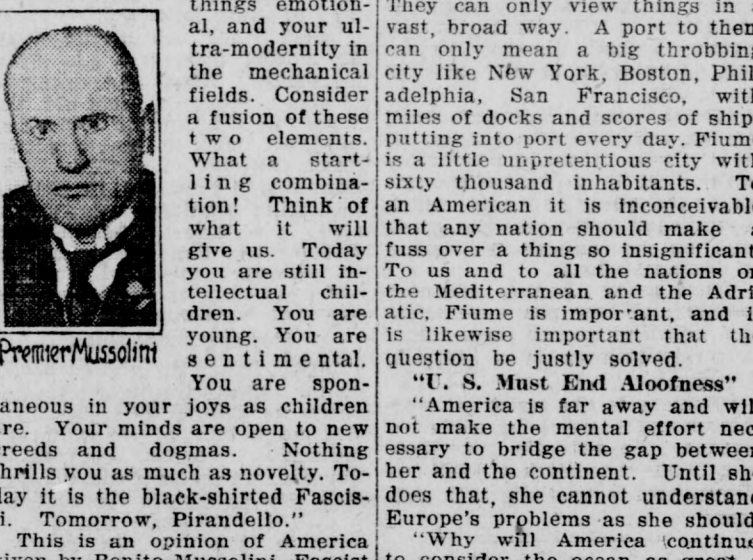

There would be very little of such trouble if people would live on a balanced diet, and eat only the amount of food that they demand. You may not realize that poor elimination is causing the trouble, but it will not hurt to give it a test. Try agar agar for a time, take with your breakfast cereal, or eat a breakfast cereal containing bran, if it does not irritate the stomach. Agar agar will not irritate as it becomes a gelatinous mass, not even requiring digestion.

While reforming the diet and clearing the system try the following for the skin: To a pound of cream add a quarter of a teaspoonful of sulphur and a heaping tablespoonful of shaved castile, or any other soap of good quality. Make a number of small cheesecloth bags and put a teaspoonful of the mixture in each to be used in place of soap when washing the face. Do this several times a day, always using warm water followed by a cold rinse in which a drop or two of benzoin has been added to about a quart of water.

Who's Who in the Day's News

MUSSOLINI SEES AMERICANS AS LEADERS OF CIVILIZATION IN 30 YEARS

Those who accuse America of being inartistic are devoid of imagination. America is working out her artistic consciousness. You have there two distinct tendencies; your simplicity, refreshing childliness, almost primitiveness in all things emotional and your ultra-modernity in the mechanical fields. Consider a fusion of these two elements. What a startling combination! Think of what it will give us. Today you are still in the "child" period. You are young. You are sentimental. You are spontaneous in your joys as children are. Your minds are open to new creeds and dogmas. Nothing thrills you as much as novelty. Today it is the black-shirted Fascist. Tomorrow, Pirandello.

This is an opinion of America given by Benito Mussolini, Fascist premier of Italy, in an interview in Rome. "Fascism has given Italy a new consciousness of work, order and discipline," he said, in taking his favorite topic. "But America is not interested in details. She sees only the black shirt in Fascism, the picturesque, romantic side. She knows nothing about the fire, spirit and enthusiasm which animate the movement. She is a great big child whose imagination is stirred by the dramatic outward manifestations of Fascism. That is all she knows and all she cares." "Does she know that Italy today is working and producing? That unemployment has been diminished to the minimum in normal times? That of sixteen hundrated laws passed in a year many are in force and working admirably? That we have reorganized our army and navy so that they will not be a negligible factor when Italy's affairs are considered? Your pacifistically inclined Americans will not like this, but we are proud of it. "Americans have an extensive mentality, like their continent. They can only view things in a vast, broad way. A port to them can only mean a big throbbing city like New York, Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, with miles of docks and scores of ships putting into port every day. Fiume is a little unpretentious city with sixty thousand inhabitants. To an American it is inconceivable that any nation should make a fuss over a thing so insignificant. To us used to all the nations on the Mediterranean and the Adriatic, Fiume is important, and it is likewise important that the question be justly solved. "U. S. Must End Aloofness" "America is far away and will not make the mental effort necessary to bridge the gap between her and the continent. Until she does that, she cannot understand Europe's problems as she should. "Why will America continue to consider the ocean as great a barrier between the two continents as in the days of Columbus? Her aloof, detached attitude would be justified if we were months apart as then, but now a few hours and our thoughts are interchanged, a few days and distance is eliminated. America will learn that Europe's interests are hers. It is a pity she is not learning sooner. "I have great faith in the American people as the future leaders of civilization, but that cannot be for another 35 or 40 years. At present they are too engrossed with their own mechanical commercial development. They are rapidly reaching the climax of this development—a marvelous, stupendous thing—and then they will turn to other things. With the same thoroughness, initiative and youthful assurance with which they conquered the material world, they will take poetry, literature, music and give the world the greatest art of all times."

"Pessimism," NOT LACK OF CAPITAL, HINDERING INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY

"It is not because we have less capital than we had at the close of the war that industrial activity will only come when we get out of the doldrums about our poverty, and think less about mere saving and more about reproductive expenditure, for which there are so many opportunities and such crying need," opines Viscount Milner in his new book, "Questions of the Hour" (Doran). Lord Milner, formerly high commissioner in South Africa, and in 1918-19 secretary of state for war in the British cabinet, says that he considers nothing more remarkable in the experiences of the nation since the outbreak of the world war than the way in which general anticipation failed to materialize, and cites the exceptional prosperity enjoyed by the working classes during the years of the war as an instance. He refers to the debts contracted by Great Britain and finds no cause for despair or alarm. "I am in revolt," he asserts, "against the present all-too-perpetuating spirit of pessimism. I am weary of the endless jeremiads of

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am giving a party to some of our married couples. I have planned to include two new games I have heard of, but I want a third game. Would you suggest one played with pack of cards or with the old-fashioned Anagrams? I do not want to buy new materials to play with, but have these.

Answer: People are now playing a new game with the old-fashioned Anagrams. Here are the reactions: The players sit around a table on which the small blocks (cards) containing the letters of the alphabet, are turned face up. The leader turns up one of these letters and says: "Bird." The other players must immediately try to think of the name of some bird which begins with the letter the leader has turned up. For instance, if the turned-up letter happens to be "O," the leader turns up one of these letters and says: "Bird." The other players must immediately try to think of the name of some bird which begins with the letter the leader has turned up. I am weary of the endless jeremiads of the press, and the solemn lectures of so many public men, about our alleged poverty as a nation—the huge destruction of wealth caused by the war, the immense burden of debt, the danger of national bankruptcy and the necessity of drawing in our horns in every direction, of painfully husbanding our diminished resources and of no longer 'throwing a sprat' even in hope of catching a herring." Frankly, I am not convinced that we are as poor as we think ourselves, or that, if we are, the road to recovery is to be found in a timorous avoidance of all new opportunities of enrichment. Lord Milner deprecates the strained relations that developed soon after the close of the war between the two parties in industry. "What has become of all the good resolutions we formed during the war about the better social order which was to arise after the close of it—the improved relations between class, and partnership in industry between capitalist and workman?"

Crime Wave in Hill Town Is Believed Halted With Couple's Arrest

TUJUNGA, Jan. 22.—A daring daylight holdup started the peaceful hill town of Tujunga and ended in the arrest of two hold-ups who are suspected of being responsible for other affairs of the same nature.

Today's hold-up took place in full view of motorists and pedestrians passing along Michigan avenue near Mr. [Name] street. In answer to a telephone call from an unknown source the flying squadron surrounded the back yard of the place indicated and found two disreputable looking clothespins in the act of holding up a very pale and limp union suit. Due to the prompt arrival of the officers, the union suit had lost nothing but a button. The hold-ups were taken into custody and booked as suspicious characters. They are suspected of having been connected with many hold-ups, as they have the appearance of seasoned and experienced campaigners.

According to the oldest living inhabitant of Tujunga, the crime waves experienced by other cities do not extend to this city on account of the night patrol system. Residents have imported dogs by the dozen, and the old-timer says that he never heard such a system of signals as is now in use by the canine patrolmen. According to the old-timer, there are now seven and three-quarters dogs to every pebble in Tujunga. This calculation is based, he says, on oral evidence taken between the hours of 10 p. m. and 3 a. m.

The charms of the Riviera and the lure of Monte Carlo, the home of the goddess of fortune, are to be told tomorrow morning by Baroness Ottilie de Ropp of 520 South Brand boulevard, at the meeting of the Travel Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club in the tea room at the clubhouse.

In announcing the meeting Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker lays stress on the hour of meeting, 10 o'clock, which has been changed from 10:30 o'clock. All members of the club are invited to the meeting.

Of her subject Baroness de Ropp says: "Who has not heard of the Riviera 'Le Cote d'Azur,' the sunny coast washed by the sapphire colored waters of the Mediterranean Sea, the beautiful picturesque cities of San Remo, Ostendaletti, Bordighiera, Mentone, Beaulieu, Ville Franche, Nice, Cannes and many others, spread out in a large semi-circle like a band of jewels!"

casino, the palace of the goddess of fortune, is the Mecca for the pleasure seekers, the gold hunters and adventurers of all parts of the world.

"North, south, east and west, women and men of all ages, all classes, mix, attracted like moths to the light by the lure of the tingle of the silver and gold, which continuously rolls over the green cloth on the roulette and 'trente et quarant' tables.

"How many hopes shattered forever and how many romances and tragedies around these tables so rarely relieved by a bit of comedy.

"Endless is the string of worshippers to the glittering shrine of fortune. So pathetic in their frantic effort to catch at least one fleeting smile of the fickle goddess."

WILL HAYS URGES PICTURE FREEDOM

Tells Newspapermen Film Censorship Should Be Removed at Once

Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, made an address to the Southern California Editorial association yesterday at the Clark hotel in Los Angeles. He urged the newspapermen of Southern California to oppose censorship of the films on the same basis that opposition must be given to any effort to destroy freedom of the press or the pulpit. He contrasted the development of the printed word with the development of the motion picture, saying: "You who are the custodians of the printed word in America, have arrived at your present position of stability as the fruit of six centuries of development; but we have nothing from the past. We must make all these things and achieve all these things for ourselves. Twenty-five years ago the motion picture was a mere idea. The men who first took up this new thing are still alive.

"What John Milton did for you in the fight for freedom of the press, what Benjamin Franklin did for you, what was done for you by Horace Greeley, by Charles A. Dana, by Joseph Pulitzer, or Col. Nelson, by Henry Watterson, by Gen. Harrison Gray Otis and by other heroic figures in your long pull for finer and better service and for the constitutional protection of your freedom from the aggression of political control—all that we must achieve here and now."

Says Demand Will Pass

Film censorship, Mr. Hays termed "as ineffective in execution as it is un-American in conception." He said, however, that the demand which may have existed for the political censorship of this method of expression will pass as the reason for the demand is removed. "Without going into details as to the cause for this demand, Mr. Hays assured the editors that "It is the removal of the reason for the demand with which we are concerned." He proceeded:

"The motion picture is the one medium of art which is most universal. A certain refinement in taste and culture is required in the average man before he can appreciate or be influenced by the work of Childs or Mozart or Raphael. Milton wrote in the tongue of but one race, and many who speak it are unacquainted with his genius. But the language and art and impression of the motion picture are, of course, universal, instant and familiar. Where trade and speech and even conquest and diplomacy do not go, the motion picture has gone. There may be fifty different languages spoken, but the picture of mother is the same in every language.

"Ever since the invention of the motion picture it has been improving. When the dramatic art was a thousand years old, the players were bedded in barns and said their parts from a scroll. When the art of drawing was thousands of years old, its crudity was still primitive. Orchestral music as we know it has only existed for two hundred years, and yet perverted forms of syncope and even now are annoying the lovers of harmonics.

Fraternal Relations
"Again I say I do most earnestly ask for definite fraternal relations which we should by right enjoy with the editors of pen and brush, but stylists. When a free press is attacked, we make common cause with the publishers, recognizing in them the necessary commercial factor in literature. On the same basis you should give the producer of pictures a hand when he is being beset by forces which must find a new day in every decade. The more you help, the better picture will become. The better pictures become the higher will be their cultural influence on the public everywhere. The Congressional Library and the Louvre were founded for the very same purpose, only they have limitations of space and accessibility, but the motion picture has neither.

"As a matter of fact, of course, political censorship is only an incident. It is as ineffective in execution as it is un-American in conception. The American people are against censorship of any method of expression, against censorship of the press, of pulpit and of pictures.

"The motion picture will do three great things as no other instrumentality I can think of will do them. First, it will fill a necessity—the necessity of entertainment; second, it can and will instruct, which is indeed a most precious power, and, in the third place, it will do more than any other existing agency to unite the peoples of the world, to bring understanding between nation and nation, than which no greater thing can be done."

During the meeting, the newspapermen were addressed by Governor F. W. Richardson, for more than twenty years head of the state editorial organization, and by Walter K. Tuller of the Los Angeles Crime Commission.

A straw vote was taken on presidential candidates, and President Coolidge obtained a more than seven-to-one lead over Senator Hiram Johnson. William G. McAdoo was the majority choice of the Democratic newspapermen present.

TO FIGHT SUITS

Mass Meeting to Be Held In Next Ten Days, Is Decision

said assessment "paid" and such assessment shall thereby be deemed released.

We understand that it is the theory of the attorneys handling the matter that these premature complaints served upon their clients amount to a written demand for the payment of attorney's fees and court costs in connection with the assessment, and that they intend to file affidavits as above authorized and demand that the assessments be forfeited and marked paid.

Whether or not this can be successfully done would call for a legal opinion which we are not attempting to give, as it is not within the province of your committee to advise present counsel for the defendants or undertake to direct them in any way in representing their clients, especially as it may be a debatable question as to whether this course would be more advisable than a tender to the plaintiff, or the owner and holder of the lien, the full amount of the assessment just as if no suit or suits had ever been filed.

Must Create Fund
It appears to us that the matter is in such shape that the property owners should be given to understand that they must finance the litigation, and create a fund to cover the attorney's fees, court cost as well as expenses, such as printing, mimeographing, investigation of records and straightening out the exact condition of each case, especially in those cases where no appearance has yet been made. It is a matter which would consume practically all of the time of Mr. Wendell or any other attorney undertaking to handle the matter for a considerable time.

There is no doubt a feeling that the property owners are suffering an injustice, and that it is wrong for them to be required to pay out their money without some notice or demand being served upon them, in all of which we concur, but if sufficient funds are not raised by the parties in interest or some organization to finance the defense of the defendants, they will be forced to pay for printing and all other expenses in connection with the litigation, and an effort is not made to obtain an authorization from the property owners who have not yet appeared, further expenditure of time and energy is useless.

A sum of at least One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00) should be raised for attorney's fees alone, and in addition thereto, several hundred dollars should be provided to employ clerical assistance, printing, mimeographing, record investigation, etc., as well as to locate the defendant, who have not appeared, and probably do not know a suit is pending against them.

Other Suits Filed
We are also advised that there are several other improvement districts in Glendale in which similar actions have been filed against property owners in the districts, but there is no way for your committee, in its limited investigation, to tell how many such suits have been filed.

It is not to be understood by this report that your committee is of the opinion that the Chamber of Commerce should finance the defense of the various defendants in these various actions. Upon the other hand, the committee is of the opinion that it is incumbent upon the defendants themselves to do so, but the situation is such that some action looking to the organization of these defendants and property owners would not be inappropriate to the end that their respective interests be protected.

Chairman.

PRAYER IS TOPIC OF ELDER ADAMS

Adventist Pastor's Sermon Is Based on Petitions Taught by Jesus

Elder W. Milton Adams addressed the audience assembled at the Seventh-day Adventist church January 19, on the subject of prayer. As a fitting illustration he related the scenes described in Matthew 6 and Luke 11, where the disciples asked Jesus that he teach them how to pray. Then Jesus taught them the Lord's Prayer.

"Our Father which art in heaven." "Our" is a Jewish word and God "our Father" Jesus stands by our side as we pray to our heavenly Father and ask for help.

"Hallowed be thy name." We should not speak His name in an irreverent manner, for holy and revered is His name. His great power is directed by an infinite love.

"Thy kingdom come." So Jesus has taught us to pray for the coming of Christ.

"Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven." "Where is the will of a king?" asked Elder Adams. "In his laws," he said. "An earthly potentate expresses his will in his laws to his subjects. The will of God is found in His law." See Romans 2:13. Then the law of God is the expressed will of God.

"Give us this day our daily bread." We need food to sustain the physical life and daily food to sustain the spiritual life.

"And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors." "If we desire forgiveness we must forgive. I trust that God may come in and forgive us of all our sins and make us triumphant during this coming year," said Elder Adams in his concluding remarks.
