TWO HUNDRED DEAD AT NOME

News Received of the Terrible Results of a Blizzard Experienced in Far-Off Gold Fields.

BODIES STREWN ALONG THE SHORE

The Calamity the Worst Known in the North—Body of Dr. Bettinger, Surgeon of Dawson Hospital, Found.

All stories of disaster and of suffering in the far North pale into insignificance with the startling news which comes from Dawson to-day. Two hundred miners are said to have perished in the extreme cold about the Nome shores, the awful mortality being the result of a terrible blizzard visiting the place in the early part of the year.

Unprepared for the death-dealing storm, which came as a sudden change in the weather, the miners endured excruciating suffering. It was not for some time after the blizzard abated that the full extent of the suffering was known.

The scene of horror extends along Behring Sea from Port Clarence to St. Michael, where the lifeless were to be found in all manners of condition, some wrapped in scanty clothing, huddled up in the corner of a cabin, improvised perhaps, and with only a board or a thin piece of canvas between the victim and the cruel and penetrating winds of the Arctic without. Others were found still more exposed, showing that they had been overtaken by the storm in their journeys along the beach in the fond endeavor to locate wealth, and frozen in their tracks. The privations of others were shown by the emptiness of many of the little huts wherein the unfortunate fellows found shelter.

The story of this calamity of calamities is given on the authority of Clerk Reed, of Judge Noyes's court, at Nome, who, according to a special dispatch to the Daily Alaskan, is en route to Washington, D. C., on official business in connection with Judge Noyes's troubles with the department. The special reads as follows:

"This town was shaken from one end to the other when Mr. Reed announced that just before he left Nome 200 miners were frozen to death from exposure during one of the storms for which that camp is noted. The forepart of the season was mild, and the chieftains thought that all of the stories of 50 degrees below zero and of blizzards were myths, and in spite of all of the warnings given by the soundhough residents, they persisted in stampeding to every jim-crow creek which was boomed by the various recorders, who were prompted simply by a desire to take in money from recording fees.

"By New Year's a real winter set in. The mercury dropped to 50 degrees below, and a wind such as a white man never before encountered blew for weeks. The dogs which were left outside over night perished, and carcasses of frozen animals were strewn all over the town. The newcomers living in single board and tarpaper shanties, poorly put together by inexperienced hands, suffered untold agony from the cold, and it was with the greatest difficulty that hundreds of lives were saved. Medical skill was called many times, and the hospitals were full of people who were frozen on some part of the body. The capacity of the St. Bernard hospital was taxed to its utmost, and too much credit cannot be given to Mr. Elliott, who is in charge, for his ministering care of the sufferers.

"On the occasion of the storm in question a horrible blizzard was blowing, and when it abated the bodies of 200 miners were found lying all along the coast.

SERIOUS LANDSLIDES.

Passenger Trains Stopped—Two Houses Carried From Their Foundations.

(Associated Press.)

Wheeling, W. Va., April 20.—Two big land slides were reported last night on the Ohio River railway below here. One below Moundsville held up two passenger trains, which transferred passengers and baggage. The South bound train returned to Wheeling at midnight. Wheeling creek ran out heavily, and at 2 a. m. many houses had been entered at Elm Grove, Leatherwood and other suburbs of Wheeling. The creek is still rising.

Houses Carried Away.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 20.—One of the effects of the heavy rains here was a landslide at 2 o'clock this morning just beyond Sobo, which carried the houses of Michael Cult and Edward Collins down into the Baltimore & Ohio road tracks. Mrs. and Mr. Cult were thrown from their beds, but escaped with a few slight injuries. One Baltimore & Ohio track was blocked by the wreckage, and the entire hill from Lewen street to the Baltimore & Ohio tracks, a distance of 300 feet, was slipping, and might go down at any minute.

Boers Took Train Carrying Cattle and Coal Near Molteno, Cape Colony.

(Associated Press.) East London, Cape Colony, April 19.—A train laden with cattle and coal was captured by the Boers near Molteno, Cape Colony, last evening.

The forward locomotive escaped and ran to Stromberg and returned with troops, who found the train on fire. A couple of natives were killed.

The train hands had been stripped and then released.

D. M. Sawyer is Trying to Reach Liverpool Before His Wife.

(Associated Press.) New York, April 20.—It is said at the office of the White Star line that Decatur M. Sawyer, the father of Otis Sawyer, a schoolboy drowned at Lakeville, Conn., and who is on the steamer Deutschland, endeavoring to reach Liverpool before his wife reaches there on the Majestic, will be able to accomplish his object. The Deutschland is due at Plymouth next Wednesday morning about the same time the Majestic should reach Queenstown. Queenstown is 15 hours from Liverpool. Plymouth is six hours. Probably an effort will be made at Queenstown to prevent Mrs. Sawyer from learning of the death of her son. The Majestic left New York at noon on Wednesday, and the Deutschland at 3 p.m. on Thursday.

CONCEDED MEN'S DEMANDS.

LADIES ON THE WARPATH.

The provincial political situation has been so "strenuous" of late that we must plead guilty to paying less attention to municipal matters than the importance of the interests at stake warrants. In this period of abstraction we find that the school trustees have announced their intention of initiating a departure from an established custom in this province which we do not believe public opinion will uphold them in.

Although most of the arguments with which we intended to confound the trustees have been appropriated, it may be well to point out that in order to qualify for the profession the women are compelled to undergo the same training as the men, and that in the schools of Victoria where the principals are women they receive the same salaries as the men.

ment of British Columbia that in educational work there shall be no distinction of sexes as far as remuneration for services of the same class are concerned. Whatever the rule may be in other provinces, we desire to see no change here. We pride ourselves on being just a trifle ahead of the efforts East in most things.

EXPERIMENTAL LEGISLATION.

Many of the legislatures of the American states are fond of experimental legislation. In this respect Kansas is probably unique. It gave to the world Mrs. Carrie Nation, although it must be admitted that she was only indirectly a product of legislation. If there had been no prohibition and the saloons had been carrying on business legally we suppose we should never have heard of Carrie.

BEFORE THE WAR.

There is no doubt that the great majority of the Boers of the late Transvaal and Orange Free State long for peace and opportunities to resume their old occupations. Some have cast off the restraints imposed upon them by autocratic military commanders and boldly proclaimed the course of the British government to be eminently just and the action of their leaders before and since the outbreak of the war to be entirely unreasonable.

Where should we find food to feed the thousands of our families that are fed by the British government day by day? Where shall we find the means of our thousands of our brothers now captive? How shall we pay the debts incurred during the war, even supposing that Mr. Kruger's gang have any of their funds to restore to us?

to clear themselves of existing obligations and raise funds for the next decade, the very means to that end would be their undoing. "We should have pawned every asset in the state at the lender's own price, for we cannot dictate terms to the money market. Then we should find ourselves in the remorseless grip of the usurer, our farms and our very administration would be in the hands of men who cared for nothing but the reward of the greatest profit."

The letter ends with an eloquent appeal to the burghers to consider whether the independence of the Canadian and Australian is not more real than that of the bywoner and broken farmer, and with a glowing picture of the prosperity which awaits South Africa within "that great sisterhood of nations which comprises empire with liberty."

The government has practically decided that there shall be no increase in the revenue tax. It is wise in its generation, for the proposal was undoubtedly very unwise from a political point of view and unjust from a standpoint of equity. It would have inflicted a great hardship upon the poor man as compared with his rich neighbor.

The new British challenger for the America Cup has been launched, and as usual she is a marvel. We hope she will give proof of it in the water. Her chances appear to be fairly good. From the description of the Associated Press expert she is evidently a light weather boat first of all and is therefore eminently fitted for the weather conditions around New York about the end of August. But the Americans are on that trick too, and everything in construction is in their favor.

There have been some hot times over the Bay of late, but hotter days may be in store.

GOVERNMENT DOZE. Hamilton Herald. George E. Foster, speaking on a temperance platform in Toronto, came out in favor of government control and management of the liquor traffic.

This system would offer many advantages over the license system. It would practically abolish the custom of treating, for under the Gothenburg system liquor must not be consumed on the premises. There wouldn't be much treating done if a man who wanted to treat another were obliged to buy a can of beer or a bottle of whiskey and carry it away somewhere to be drunk.

An Ontario editor asks for proposals from the merchants of the town to furnish him a pair of socks, a bushel of potatoes, and five yards of calico, contract to be awarded to the lowest bidder. This is the way they do business with him when they want two dollars' worth of job work.

Gatarrh Sense

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH GATARRH THE EXPERIENCE OF OTHERS MAY BE WORTH SOMETHING TO YOU.

You have possibly seen Powders, Snuffs, and Tablets you have advertised to cure Gatarrh, others advise you to load your stomach with some of their Blood Purifier; now if you had an ulcer, a sore, or inflamed surface anywhere else on your body you would not think of blowing cocaine powders on it, would you? And as for Tablets and Blood Purifiers, you might as well think of taking them to cure Corns as Gatarrh of the Head.

Some of these so-called Gatarrh remedies contain dangerous narcotics; they relieve at the time, but give rise to a false security, the disease keeps on spreading deeper, until the hearing and lungs are affected. You take more and more of the stuff each time. To relieve. Soon you will wake up to the reality of these statements and find you have neglected the proper treatment too long. Now there is a cure for Gatarrh, not one that gives only temporary relief, but permanently cures. It is called Japanese Gatarrh Cure. This remedy is a pleasant, heating antiseptic pomade, which in fact is not an experiment. It has been successfully used during eight years in Canada, and has cured thousands of very bad cases of the air cells themselves. It immediately kills the Gatarrh germ, heals, soothes, allays the inflammation, and removes every sign of Gatarrh. Japanese Gatarrh Cure is not an experiment. It has been successfully used during eight years in Canada, and has cured thousands of very bad cases of the air cells themselves.

Mrs. H. Nigh, of Springfield, Ont., writes a few commendable words regarding her experience "in trying Japanese Gatarrh Cure. She says: "Enclosed find $2.50 for six boxes of Japanese Gatarrh Cure, and from days ago I received a sample box, and from the results obtained from this sample I am sure the remedy will cure me. I have great faith in a remedy like this for gatarrh, and believe it to be the proper thing. We never blow powder on a sore of any kind, and I don't see why people advertise powders to cure gatarrh. I have tried all the powders on the market, they relieved at the time, but I was worse when I stopped using them."

From latest returns it would appear that English manufacturers of cocoa are doing an immense home trade—in ten years it has doubled, and since 1881 quadrupled. They worked into chocolate and cocoa 17,000 tons of the raw article last year. During the past month they have paid £2,050 duty on 1,000 tons, against £14,550 and 1,001 tons in February of last year.

Roseate Prospects

Pioneer Miner States That the Wealth of Klondike Has Only Been Touched. Danube Arrives After Fast Trip Queen City Will Carry No Powder.

After the fastest trip she has ever made in the Klondike service, the steamer Danube, Capt. Foot, returned this morning from Skagway, having left that port for Victoria on Tuesday last and having only called at Union en route down. The steamer brought but two passengers, these being George Wilkinson, auditor for the White Pass & Yukon railway, and E. Williams. Capt. Foot reports that there were few if any people from the interior coming out to the coast now because of the bad condition of the trails, and the many arriving on American steamers represent residents of the coast.

gating preparations for an active summer's work. The price of lumber will remain at $80 for rough lumber to $125 for that dressed on four sides. The Klondike royalties for the past three seasons have amounted to $2,040,000. There is now a sum of $128,000 to the Territory's credit at Ottawa. The Klondike has to date produced in excess of $50,000,000 worth of gold, and before the diggings are exhausted upwards of $200,000,000 more will have been taken from the remarkable district for its size, probably the greatest placer gold-bearing section ever discovered. Such is the opinion expressed by Capt. Nels Peterson, one of the most successful miners in the Klondike country. There is abundant promise of a heavy demand in Dawson this summer for building material, lumber, shingles, glass and builders' hardware. According to the Daily News of that city the spring has opened with a building boom that promises a season of activity in the erection of modern public structures, residences and business houses, that will surpass anything before known in the far north. The most important private buildings now known to be decided upon for the summer include a brick warehouse for T. G. Wilson to cost $35,000; a church and manse for the Presbyterians, cost $25,000; business house for the Canadian Bank of Commerce, $25,000; residence for Dr. Wharton, $4,500. To this may be added the big warm and cold storage plant of the Pacific Refrigerator Co., now being rushed to completion and expected to be ready for business in ten days, to cost $25,000. Among buildings contemplated are a hall for the Arctic Brotherhood, a new Episcopal church, and a big warm and cold storage building by the Standard Commercial Co., managed by C. W. Theobald. Small buildings are already going up in all directions, and many more are contracted for. Since last May there have been 11 patients admitted to the Bishop Howe hospital, Alaska, and the fees due from this season by the C. D. Co. for all the trail remains good. Another reason why there are few coming out from Dawson is the number of idle men in the city is now very limited. Wages as yet range on the average from $3.50 to $4 or $5 a day and hard, with the lower figures more often quoted and the hope of an advance as the season opens. All of the Dawson sawmills are making great preparations for an active summer's work.

way a man named R. Curry, who had met with a terrible accident in the woods of Prince of Wales island, arrived there. He was being taken to Juneau for medical treatment, but expired when the boat was in the narrow. Curry was at work in the woods for a sawmill company cutting logs. Before he could get out of the way of a falling tree he was struck by the trunk as it rebounded, and was thrown violently against a jagged stump. The closing chapters of a fearful tragedy enacted in October, Cal., were expected to be disclosed in Dawson on April 12th. Detective H. Murray, who has worked on many famous cases up and down the coast, arrived in Skagway not long ago under an assumed name and left immediately on the morning train with his destination the Klondike capital. There he hoped to find Thos. Mason, accused of the murder of his wife and child. Mason is now living under an assumed name with a variety of names and is a prosperous claim owner, worth probably $25,000. If Detective Murray is successful in spotting his man an attempt will be made to bring him out over the ice if winter travel is not brought to a close too suddenly.

SERVICES APPRECIATED. Capt. J. W. Trapp, general manager of the C. P. N. Company, who has been in the Kootenay country for the last week or so, has been royally entertained at Nelson, where the citizens gave him a hearty send-off in recognition of his record in there as manager of the C. P. N. transportation interests. He was tendered a banquet on Tuesday night, at which function the mayor and a large number of the most prominent citizens of Nelson presided. Another public official who has been winning the highest esteem in public services on the Mainland is H. Darling, for many years manager of the Union Steamship Company of Vancouver. He has just resigned that position to become general manager of the British Yukon Navigation Company at White Horse, operating sixteen steamers on the Dawson waterways. On Thursday Mr. Darling received an invitation from His Worship Mayor Towney, and President F. F. Burns, of the Board of Trade, to take a final farewell of his fellow-citizens of Vancouver at an informal gathering at the Merchants' Exchange. At the gathering His Worship asked Mr. Darling to accept a souvenir from the citizens of Vancouver, as a tangible expression of their sincere good wishes and appreciation of his consistent efforts to advance the interests of the city. Mayor Towney then uncovered a very handsome marble clock and pair of candelabra, a set of solid silver dessert dishes and a large framed testimonial inscribed with the names of those gathered to wish him a life-long success.

MARINE NOTES. British bark Manchester, 2,801 tons, has been added to the list of overdue stations in San Francisco and 30 per cent. reinsurance is asked for her. The Manchester sailed from New York on August 23rd for Yokohama. She was spoken on September 23rd in latitude 12 north, longitude 29 west. Bark Stillwater arrived from Vancouver this morning to enter the dry dock for caulking, cleaning and painting, the contract for which work has been obtained by W. Turpel. The vessel is under charter to load lumber on the Sound for Capetown. The iron ship Senator, wheat laden from the Sound for the United Kingdom, arrived here last evening for three men with whom to complete her crew before proceeding to sea. Schooner Eric, which is under charter to load pros at Pender Island for Santa Rosalia, is reported to have arrived at Port Townsend from Honolulu yesterday.

CONDOR DID NOT ARRIVE. Sloop of War Not Yet Here—Torpedo Boat Puts Out to Investigate. The ubiquitous boatmen at Esquimalt in reply to solicitous inquiries these days invariably say that things are quiet "at the little naval village, and possibly there is no better authority on this point than the men who depend upon the harbor traffic for their livelihood. The Amphion still swings at anchor, but so far there is no Condor. Neither is the latter at William's Head, as reported by this morning's paper. It appears that this morning word was received at Esquimalt that a warship was entering the Straits with snailpots on board, and it was naturally thought that the Condor with the yellow flag flying was making port. A short while afterwards a torpedo boat shot out of the harbor, and scoured the straits in the direction of the entrance, but the search was futile, and the speedy craft returned to Esquimalt. It is understood that another trip was made with a change crew at 7 o'clock, which was also unsuccessful. The intelligence which led to the belief that the Condor was on her way up the Straits, was received in good faith through the telegraph office at Esquimalt. The wire in itself is somewhat of a mystery, and simply states that "a warship is reported entering the Straits with snailpots on board." Where the word came from cannot be learned, but it is quite evident that somebody is laboring under a misapprehension. H. M. S. Warspite is due about the 15th of next month.

CANCER CROWING TWO YEARS. A Remarkable Case Cured Completely by the New Constitutional Remedy. Not long ago we had the pleasure of receiving the following letter: "When I began your treatment there was a hard lump in my breast, which had been growing for two years, and it was so bad at last that it drew the nipple in. I consulted two doctors, and they both pronounced it cancer, and advised me to have my breast cut off. Your remedy was recommended to me by a friend, and I am very thankful to say that it not only saved my life, but did away with the necessity of having to undergo the painful operation, which I so much dreaded. We do not publish the names of those who give testimonials for the remedy because of the curious, but any sufferer from cancer or tumor may have the name and address of the lady who wrote the above, by sending two stamps to Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont.

Advertising Comment

By Emerson De Puy.

THE BUSINESS AT YOUR DOOR.

WELL has a lecture on the value of advertising. He says that "diamonds" in which he makes plain the fact that they who seek the stars will lose the jewels at their feet. In other words, that we do not need to go to South Africa for diamonds, nor to Australia for gold. We can find the latter in our back yard and the things we have kicked around for years as pebbles, may after all be diamonds.

The advantages to be gained by improving the opportunities we have never seen to appeal to some folks. I saw a striking illustration of this some years ago.

I was then a resident of a lively town in northern Illinois of about 20,000 inhabitants. There were a number of wall paper, house painting and general decorating establishments there, all eminently respectable and entirely reliable.

None of them believed that advertising paid.

This knowledge was not gained from any experience they had over had themselves, but some one had told them so.

Ask any of them about business and you would hear a doleful wail.

Town no good, people ditto; would sell out if they could, and go to some better town where more money could be made.

There came a town early one year a bright young fellow who opened up a wall paper and house painting establishment.

He started on a small scale in order to keep the scale somewhere near his capital.

For a time I hardly thought it worth while to call on him, in the letter of the paper I then represented, but finally went in and "sang my little song" about the value of advertising.

He listened, and then said: "Can you write advertisements?" I said I could, and he told me to go ahead and get him up a half page for the Sunday issue.

I held my breath to be sure there was no mistake, and in a faded manner went to the office and prepared the copy.

Business began coming his way at once. It was so long since the inhabitants of that town had been invited to a wall paper house that they literally "fell over themselves" in their earnest efforts to accept the invitation.

He kept it going in the newspapers and in the shape of attractive illustrated booklets until he was doing about all the business in town.

His hobby was "pure material" in his paints, and whenever his men were painting a house he had a big sign out in front. "This house is being painted with pure material by Bricker."

These signs got so thick that you began to think Bricker was doing all the house painting in town, and naturally went to him to have your own painted.

Man is a monkey.

He does things that he sees other men do, and right here is where the greatest cumulative power of advertising comes in.

After a business has become well advertised and an announcement put out has the benefit of all that have come before, and while the advertising bills may seem to increase, the real fact is that they are diminishing, because of the greater returns secured.

Your advertisement attracts some man

DODGING THE CENSUS MAN.

Englishmen Resort to Any Trick or Trouble Rather Than Tell Their Ages.

If the average man mildly reverts the census, the average woman positively abhors it. The filling in of the schedule involves the revealing of her age! That is all.

The law requires that the age as well as the other particulars shall be accurately stated on pain of penalties, darts hinted at. Most men, being more courageous and less squeamish in such matters, would, if so disposed, knock half a score of years off their age without a blush. It is different with the fair ones. A government document, even if it come in the questionable guise of a census schedule, fills them with such awe that they would write a false statement on it would be almost akin to sacrilege.

"Fibbing" being, therefore, out of the question, the woman who declines to give her age has recourse to one or the other of several purely feminine plans for avoiding the census altogether. The formation of "all-night cycling clubs" may be expected in suburban and rural districts.

An institution of this kind consists of ladies living in a particular neighborhood who are opposed to giving their age, and who have bicycles, meeting at a given rendezvous a few minutes before midnight on the day of the census and going long rides to the homes of relatives or friends. They are careful to make no call before the clock has struck 12, and are therefore, residents of nowhere at the time the law stipulates.

Until about noon they remain under no roof enough to be described as "houses" and should the enumerator call while they are present they make partial efforts to appear as if they had just looked in casually. All this trouble seems out of proportion to the object in view, but authenticated cases show that some women, especially those of the great est intelligence rather than confuse their age to the census people.

In the 1891 census a spinner resident in a northern village sat all night in a cold and draughty railway station so as to escape making the objectionable declaration. The lady in question was

Run Down

Patrol, Ont., Feb. 18, 1901.

Dear Sirs—Last spring I was very badly run down, my blood was in poor condition, and I was unable to do my work. The doctor told me I would have to give up and go away for my health. A neighbor recommended me to get some B.B.B., which I did, and after taking one bottle, I felt better, and by taking three more I was completely cured, and thank Burdock Blood Bitters, the best spring medicine ever made.

MRS. WILLIAM MUXLOW.

After the winter the blood is impure. The whole system is clogged up with impurities. The skin breaks out in boils and pimples, and that tired, listless feeling appears.

Take Burdock Blood Bitters this spring. It will clear away all pimples or boils; purify and enrich the blood and make you feel bright and vigorous.

Pimples

On Springs, Ont., Feb. 10, 1901.

Dear Sirs—I take great pleasure in writing these few lines to let you know that I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for pimples on my face and body. I could not sleep at night they itched so badly. I took two bottles of B.B.B. and found it a wonderful remedy. I have not been bothered since, and can recommend it highly to any person troubled with bad blood as I was.

Bolls

Flat Lands, N.B., Dec. 18, 1901.

Dear Sirs—A short time ago my blood got so out of order that many boils appeared on my face and neck. Hearing Burdock Blood Bitters so highly recommended by my neighbors as a blood purifier, I resolved to give it a trial. After using the first bottle the boils began to gradually disappear, and before another bottle was used I was completely cured. I would advise any one suffering from any disease arising from impure blood to give B.B.B. a trial.
