Ottawa, April 9 .- (Canadian Press)-The House of Commons will meet again this afternoon after a ten-day recess for Easter. From now on till prorogation the members will be more actively engaged. In presenting his budget, Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance, will, it is expected, be able to show a surplus of ordinary revenue over ordinary expenditures, but owing chiefly to rallway expenditures there will be an increase in the net debt. Although his financial proposals will not be made known until submitted to the House, there is a general expectations that Mr. Fielding will indicate some increases in the British preference, particularly in regard to articles affected by the trade treaties recently concluded with France and Italy. Criticism made of the treaties is that reductions granted under them has reductions granted under them has adversely affected the British pref-

To-day the House will consider supply, the Departments of Trade and Commerce, Labor and Public Works being under review.

VOTING OF FEES BY DIRECTORS OF G.T.R. TO BE INVESTIGATED

Government of Canada Will Name Royal Commission to Inquire Into Act of Officials When System Was Being Taken Over By the Government.

Ottawa, April 9.-A royal commission is to be named by the Government with power to investigate all circumstances and conditions surrounding and connected with the granting of gratuities to the Grand Trunk board of directors in London in December, 1919, and also gratuities voted to certain officials of the company in London and in Canada. Announcement to this effect was made from the Prime Minister's office.

The Grand Trunk board of directors, meeting in London, it was stated in the House of Commons a short time ago, had voted themselves five years' directors' fees, and also had voted gratuities of one year's salary to a number of officials of the road in Canada and the Old Country.

The statement issued here says:

"In view of the fact that these payments were made just prior to the coming into operation of the agreement between the Grand Trunk Company and the Canadian Government, by which that railway system came under control of the joint committee of management, it is thought in the public interest that a full investigation of the circumstances should take place. These payments were made in December, 1919, and under he agreement which became operative in March, 1920, it was stipulated that the Grand Trunk Company could not dispose of any of its assets without the approval of the Canadian Government. It is stated that although this agreement was not an accomplished fact until March, its terms had practically been decided upon prior to the date on which these resolutions were passed by the directors. It also appears that the gratuities to the officials were paid of Western Canada College. Dr. A. O. MacRae Will Suc-Brings Fine Reputation from Western Canada College

Rev. Dr. Sipprell Addresses Address is Given by C. L Gyro Club Harrison to Chamber of

That "the way to bridge the chasms in the industrial and social life of the world is by the exercise of the spirit of Goodwill." was the declaration made by Rev. Dr. J. W. Sipprell in an address to-day before the Gyro Club on "Business Men and Human Welfare." The world would come to-gether in one glorious whole if the spirit of brotherhood, and goodwill were allowed to dominate, he said, and he pointed to the example and teachings of Jesus Christ.

Dr Sipprell stated that he was deeply interested in the business affairs of the world. He had a conviction in his heart that in these trying times business men must find it "tough sleighing," and he admired the spirit of heroism with which the old and young business men were tackling their problems. The business men were showing themselves of heroic mould, and in some cases he thought that the men who were forced to go to the banks must see the interest on their borrowings." A plea for the development of the west Coast, its timber, fisheries and tourist possibilities was voiced to the directors of the Chamber of Com-merce to-day by C. L. Harrison, local barrister.

merce to-day by C. L. Harrison, local barrister.

Develop West Coast.

Mr. Harrison declared the situation was not as bright as some people pretended: Years ago Victoria was larger than Seattle. Mr. Harrison thought development should be up the West Coast. People on the East Coast could get service more rapidly from Vancouver, because the route from there was shorter, he stated. The Port San Juan road would have to be built: Firstly, to bring down the timber. There should be a railway and a road. It would not be a difficult job to build a railway. There was a satisfactory route which had been gone over in 1909. The railway would pay from the start, he said. The land, for the most part, was excellent and would be available when the timber was cut. Then there were the minerals which were known to be there and could be developed. There were also the fish. Hailbut were caught right from the mouth of San Juan Bay, it could be shown that the scheme was sensible and feasible, and he thought, if this were shown, the Government would put it in. All of this great wealth would be tributary to Victoria.

H the tourist could also be sent to San Juan, which was worth seeing and where the fishing was good, the tourist would have to come back, and Victoria would thus see him twice. The Leech River country could be bought cheaply from the C. P. R. and was well worth seeing. It should be acquired and held as a tourist resort. It would be needed for the city watershed eventually. Only six miles of new road would be required. San Juan and back, the Leech River country and back would keep the tourist here two days and give him something for his money. Perhaps the tourist ould even be induced to remain as a resident.

Greater Freedom.

Mr. Harrison declared there were too many laws over trifles in this country. He condemned especialled.

There were many business men in Victoria who had his admiration. After twenty-five years in this Province, during which time he had had ample opportunity to watch from the outside the business man, he had formed the opinion that the business man in British Columbia was not an individual whose man in dea was the increasing of his wealth and his range of business, but one who through those channels was endeavoring to make his contribution to the welfare of the country.

By human welfare Dr. Sipprell said he meant everything and anything, small or large, which contributed to the happiness and prosperity of men and women. The business man by getting a proper attitude to life could link up the industrial en-

Greater Freedom.

Mr. Harrison declared there were too many laws over trifles in this country. He condemned especially the early closing laws. There was nothing of the kind in Los Angeles or Seattle. Leave the stores open as much as possible, he contended.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Harrison for his remarks. The president suggested that the problem of West Coast development would be a good one to take up at a forum meeting, sometime in the near future.

Mr. Parkinson, of Point Renfrew, spoke of life-saving on the West Coast, and arged that something be done to make further provision in Detaining .Overseas' Passengers.

Detaining Overseas' Passengers.

With regard to not allowing passengers to land while ocean going vessels are docked at Victoria considerable indignation was expressed at the present immigrant regulations. Alderman Todd thought the officials should be dropped overboard with life preservers, and if this hint was not taken, they should be dropped overboard next time without life preservers. It was alleged that the trouble which occurred here in connection with the Niagara's passengers, was repeated at Vantouver.

Procession.

After the formal felicitations the guests found their places in the wedding procession for the brief journey to the Pauline Chapel, which was being used for the first time since 1870 for a religious service. Preceded by the Master of Ceremonies, the bride and groom, the King and Queen and the chief officials of the court, the gay party wound its way out of the chamber while 'the cuirassiers of the King's bodyguard, resplendent in their shining breast-plates and helmets, rendered military honors.

AFFAIRS UP AGAIN

Rearrangement of the affairs of the Dewdney dyking district was proposed to Premier Oliver to-day by Hamilton Read, representing the settlers, and G. S. Gamble, representing the bondholders.

The proposals involve a loan by the Government of $25,000 to meet immediate obligations and this would require legislation. Re-assessment of the district was also asked as one of the complaints has been that the original assessment embraced high land clear of any water, the quality of the land in the original assessment is not what it should have been, and there was not the difference in the ament of the assessment allowed on account of the variation of the quality of the land.

The Premier explained that there are debentures of $167,500 now outstanding, and there are arrears of interest and other charges amounting to $55,000, which the delegates explained they proposed to settle at the rate of 50c on the dollar.

A yearly contribution from the Government on account of the roads to be protected was also asked.

Governor-General's Dinner.

Ottawa, April 9.—Representative officers of every unit of the Canadian Corps that was identified with the capture of Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917, and also the British officers of senior rank who were attached to the corps at that time, have been invited to attend a dinner to be given by His Excellency, Baron Byng, of Vimy, who was corps commander during the battle, at Government House to-night. This dinner will be the occasion for one of the largest reunions of officers of the corps that has ever been held in this country and Baron Byng is looking forward to meeting many of those who served under him, numbers of whom he has not seen since he left the Canadian in France to take over the command of the Third British army in June, 1917. The Governor-General of Canadia, when raised to the peerage, took the title of Byng of Vimy, in honor of the capture of what the Germans regarded as an impregnable fortress on the western front.

The attack on Vimy was the outstanding feature of the battle of Arras, which was waged by British and Canadian troops on a 12-mile front on Easter Monday six years ago.

The statement regarding the Ruhr is interpreted generally and in political circles as the official reply to the suggestions made in certain quarters opposed to the present policy in the Ruhr, that M. THE ODDS?

The chief attractions of the first day will be a Spring blossom show, an afhletic carnival with 5,000 participating school children, and the coronation of the tulip queen. The queen will be crowned in the evening, with elaborate ceremonies.

On the second day there will be a parade in which 5,000 or 6,000 persons will march, including a dozen bands and nearly 1,000 Boy Scouts. There will be 100 floats and private cars, headed by the queen's car.

In the evening at the State Armory the coronation ball will be held and there will be a pyrotechnic illumination of Schome Hill, at the back of the city, that will make it blaze like Vesuvius. League bastball games will be another feature of the day.

On the third day a carnival programme will have the right of way and at night there will be an electrical parade. The Festival Association has appropriated about $2,500 for parade and blossom show prizes and in addition it offers fifteen trophies.

prizes and in addition it offers fitteen trophies.

The blossom show will continue three days and will far surpass that of last May. It will be held in Liberty Haft in the centre of the city. Many flowers besides tulips will be displayed. The tulip display should be exceptionally good this year because many more tulip bulbs have been planted. It is estimated that not less than 2,000,000 bulbs are in Federal and private gardens, and most of these are tulips.

Richard Scanlan Arrested in San Francisco in Company With Another Man

San Francisco, April 9. — Richard Scanlon, arrested here a few days ago in connection with the robbery of $30,000 in stamps from the post office at Olympia, Wash, has been positively identified as Richard Williams, wanted in Springheld, Mo., in connection with a big payroll robbery from the Citizens' Bank there, Detective Fred Bohr, of the police department, announced. Bohr said the identification was made through photographs. Scanlon denied all knowledge of the Springheld robbery.

Scanlon was arrested in company with George Conley. The police found $3,000 in stamps in their rooms and confiscated all of their property, including a $3,500 automobile.

Bohr said the police department had been unable to connect Conley with the Springfield robbery.

Policeman Frank Ryan of Springfield was killed in the Springfield robbery.

Scanlon also went under the alias of Richard Riley here. Both men will be held for trial here on larceny charges and then may be returned to Olympia for trial on the stamp robbery charge, according to the police. The Springfield charge will await the outcome of these trials.

JOHN BULL AND HIS DEBT.

None better than the British taxpayer knows debt about twelve times the size of the 1914 figures staring him in the face he might went be used given for looking a little blue occasionally. But he can take consolation from the fact that the he can take consolation from the fact that the latest that

This big surplus is mainly due to unexpectedly large reductions in expenditures, the chief saving being under the heads of civil services, which cost approximately £287,000,000, as compared with estimates of £450,000,000, and de fence services of £111,000,000, as compared with an estimated £190,000,000. On the revenue side, although the income tax was reduced, it produced £50,000,000 more than was estimated, while the excess profits duty and sale of war stores together produced £64,000,000 less than estimated.

Reduction of the nation's debt at this rate will see an end of the greater part of the burden in less than half a century—a contrast with more than one hundred years of payment for the wars of William the Third. Last year's progress is all the more remarkable when it is borne in mind that the period was not particularly noteworthy in the matter of trade expansion. Easier money was naturally responsible for a revival in the industrial world; but the weight of taxation is given fairly generally as the reason for the slower movement. This argument will no doubt be pushed with still greater vigor now that last year's trading has furnished a talking point of onsiderable importance. Mr. Baldwin is being bombarded with demands for such reductions, and there is general expectation of a reduction of sixpence or a shilling on the income tax, with relief in the beer and sugar duties. It is believed, however, the Chancellor himself favors mainten ance of existing duties and taxes and application of all realizable surpluses to reduction of the na-

It goes without saying that the Government's peculiar unpopularity, the general insecurity that the Ministry's political weight in the House of the Ministry's political weight in the House of Commons does not mitigate, will probably operate against undue persistence on Mr. Baldwin's part.
After all a reduction in the existing duties and taxes should stimulate a quicker expansion of trade that would furnish indirect returns at least equal to the results which came from direct sources last year. Political considerations will

In a general sense the large and unexpected surplus shows what Britain can do when necessity drives. Her effort in the war and her effort in the face of the greatest bill ever presented to her are in striking contrast with the spectacle of Germany - the Germany with 20,000,000 more population and productive capacity that made her Britain's greatest commercial rival still unimpaired.

WELL DONE, WEST SAANICH!

West Saanich Women's Institute is entitled to warm congratulations upon the establishment of a community centre that will serve as its headquarters. The inaugural ceremony which took place on Saturday marks another stage in the progressive march with which the municipality of Saanich has long been associated. Many larger centres might well look to our neighbor for inspiration in civic matters. The Institute building s in keeping with the line of expansion that has marked several other enterprises that pay tribute to a valuable community spirit. Saanich puts intelligent co-operation behind its public movements. That is worth years of talk.

TRAINING EMIGRANTS.

Members of Boards of Guardians in Great Britain have enlisted the sympathy and support of Parliamentarians and educationalists in connection with a suggestion for the training of young people for Empire employment—getting them ready for migration and settlement.

The Under-Secretary of the Colonial Office re ceived a deputation the other day and heard its request for inclusion in the national curriculum of education such subjects as practical instruction in agriculture and outdoor eccupations, these to be taught in the educational institutions of the country from the universities downwards. That provision should be made for training centres and farm camps so as to enable prospective British emigrants to qualify for suitable employment overseas was the chief plea.

Another request was for the formation of a far-reaching organization to promote the group settlement of families, to carry on rural industries on a co-operative basis, and also to provide stringent safeguards for the protection of child emigrants and for the supervision of their employ-

There is a great deal to be said in support of the proposal submitted by the deputation. In-struction in the subjects mentioned could be given by officials from the Dominions whose intimate knowledge of Empire conditions would be availby officials from the Deminions whose intimate knowledge of Empire conditions would be available for the prospective emigrant. It does not follow that all the strangeness with which one meets in a new country would be eliminated through an educational course so far away from the seene of the pupil's future labors; but it is obvious that a plan like that proposed should be extremely valuable and do much to reduce the number of misfits

After all there are camps for the various emi-recreational pursuits where the youth of the country gets a substantial amount of useful training. Why not a farm camp? If only a few of those in attendance had any thought of migrating to other parts of the Empire the instruction that all would receive should be well worth having.

SUPERSTITION.

Many people will agree with Sir Rider Haggard when he says that "if God would permit a Pharaoh to murder people by magic means, thousands of years after death, then, indeed, we are in the hollow of a hand of darkness." Superstitions become want very little to set them out stitious people want very little to set them out upon a course of fantastic speculation. The sug-None better than the British taxpayer knows gestion that Lord Carnarvon was the victim of a what it means to the individual pocket to run a curse has given them a thrill that will keep them war for more than four years. With a national occupied for some time to come. Sir Rider Haggard calls the idea nonsense and dangerous nonsense because of the effect it will have upon the growing tide of superstition which he believes is constantly in attendance. If he had thought that the insect's bite had been serious enough to have demanded prompt treatment he would have sought advice at once. On the contrary he did as many others would have done; he neglected it and was almost careless about it. The rest is known. People have been bitten in this and other countries and will continue to be bitten until the end of time. Those who are cautious will suffer no ill effects; the neglectful ones may have trouble and possibly die of consequences of which the insignificant bite will have been the root cause. What will the superstitious ones have to say about these cases?

WHAT DOES MR. BOWSER SAY?

Mr. Bowser appears to doubt the sincerity of Mr. Sloan when he discusses the question of levy-ing a tax on the consumers of oil fuel. The Leader of the Opposition went to Nanaimo to express himself on the subject; but his apprehension in respect of the good faith of the Minister of Mines was not accompanied by anything in the nature of a suggestion from his Party. If Mr. Bowser expects to get the support of the Nanaimo riding he must come out with some proposal related to a very real issue in that community. Mr. Sloan's constituents have a reputation for being fond of plain speech. We presume, however, that in this instance, as in all other cases, the Opposition Leader will say that the time is not for constructive criticism, that any idea which he might make public would be instantly grabbed by the Governmet. At any rate he has a chance to say where he stands on this

NOTE AND COMMENT

It must be quite difficult for Mr. Bonar Law to detect the note of tranquility from the screeching political chorus that is going on round about him and his Government these days.

Documents captured from Irish insurgents inicate that "republican" fighters are losing hope of ever making their wild dreams come true Their fate was sealed when the Anglo-Irish Treaty became operative.

Ontario's Blue Sky bill is not intended to stop speculation, but to stop fraud. This is all that is required. No honest company promoter in British Columbia should fear a similar measure in this Province.

Mr. Justice Romer suggests that music be in roduced to liven up British courtrooms. For instance, a burglar on trial might be asked to render that pathetic little ballad entitled. "I opened the Window Because the Door Was Locked," while the jury decided his fate.

"England remains solid as a rock. She is re-building on a broad, deep, secure foundation. She has been through hard, shaking times and has been stripped of much of her fat, but her basic structure has not cracked. English characters. structure has not cracked. English character has not changed. These people are still resolved to retain their dominant places in the world. They 1923. have not the faintest notion of letting go their hold or receding one inch from the place they have held so long." This is part of a dispatch from The New York Times correspondent in London. He deserves a pat on the back. He does not belong to the "All Is Lost League."

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

WHY NOT THE PROFITEERS?

Edmonton Sulletin:—J. Ramsay Macdonald, leader of the British Labor Party, thinks the government should confiscate capital and pay the war debt. If he would stipulate that the levy should be confined to the fortunes of war profiteers, he would get a good deal of sympathy outside the ranks of his party, and beyond the shores of the United Kingdom.

THE STEELWORKERS' STRIKE

Halifax Chronicle:—The strike at the Sydney steel plant is over. It has cost the workmen from $75,000 to $100,000 in wages lost; it has cost the company probably a good deal more while the loss to the community cannot be computed. Heavy as the cost is, it would not be too heavy if it should be the means of inducing the workers to get rid of the loud-mouthed agitators who are trying to pose as the leaders of honest workingmen.

PERFORMING ANIMALS

To the Editor:—May I speak a few words on behalf of performing animals. The average person is probably unacquainted with the miseries these unfortunate creatures endure during transportation—cramped quarters, lack of liberty, etc.—apart from the cruelty often used in training to perform abnormal tricks. They have rights, too, and surely we can forego a little so-called pleasure when it is gained at the expense of a dumb, sentient animal.

RE DAYLIGHT SAVING

To the Editor:—Our City Council says Victoria is to have Daylight Saving from May 6 to September 9 inclusive, regardless of what other cities may decide. Now, these gentlemen were elected by the taxpayers to look after the City's affairs in general, not to tell folks what time to get up. Besides, I do not see where they get the power to do this.

Daylight Saving may be all right if it is universal, but until it is settled either by the Provincial or Dominion Governments, it is best leftalone. Think of all the inconvenience it causes the traveling public, when the trains, boats and ferries run on standard time. And this year we expect 150 per cent, increase in our tourist traffic. What will they think of us when they are just one hour lotted to find they are just one hour late for their meals? I guess our wise men at the City Hall don't think about these minor things, but are more concerned about golf and other pleasures. For all that we expect to get out of the Daylight Saving is more time for pleasure, not for

Victoria Daily Times, April 9, 1898

With a roar that startled the country for miles around and went echoing down Lynn canal, the snow and ice, which all Vinter had been gathering between the two glaciers at the head of Chilkoot Pass came thundering down the mountain side on Sunday morning, leaving death, destruction, and desolation in its wake.

I have been told by several up sland business men that if Victori adopts the Daylight saving it will work a hardship on them, as they have to run their business on standard time, as the trains do not change their time. Don't you see we are just playing into the hands of the Vancouver business houses? So let's forget Daylight Saving and work in conjunction with other cities.

EVANGELISTIC

Dr. Price Commences Series of Addresses at the Metropolitan

Twenty Churches United Herein Joint Effort

Will Victoria during the next three weeks be the scene of the healing of bodily, as well as spiritual ills by the power of Christ? That such might be the case was hinted, not obscurely, by Rev. Dr. C. S. Price at the Metropolitan Methodist church yesterday

He intimated that in the course of his work he had witnessed many such instances of the efficacy of prayer, and he gave specific details of two of them, one at Fresno and one at Eugene. Incidentally, Dr. Brice decleared that he carried no hammer, and would endeavor not to say a harsh, critical, or unkind thing during his stay in the city. He proclaimed also his belief in the Gospel, from the first chapter of Genesis to the last chapter of Revelations. "You will, find I am a very simple preacher," said he. "I know only one story—the story of Jesus."

"If you have ever had boils, you thow how painful and annoyins wen one or two can be. But imagine laving your whole body almost entirely covered with them I am a watchmaker by trade, making a speciality of repairing the highest grade movements. This is probably the most trying of any mechanical work, particularly for a nervous individual like me. Working under great strain both daw and night for three months, brought me almost to a state of coilapse. I was so irritable and nervous that the slightest thing would senime up in the air.' If I managed to get a few hours of sleep at night, was lucky. I had no appetite for food. I certainly was miserable. During this time boils began to appear on different parts of my body and the pain from them made life a misery. My suffering was so great at times that I felt there was nothing left for me to do but to end it all. I consulted doctors but they all told me that if I didn't give up my work and live out of deors, I would go into a decline. As I had no money I couldn't do this. The new seam will be worked from the No. 5 shaft. The incline of No. 5 shaft is now being continued down through rock so that the very heavy expense of a new pit head and all that it entails will not have to be met. The coal found in the diamond drill cores shows a product that may satisfy domestic needs and would thus stabilize the market for the Comox product since the competition of fuel oil does not so seriously affect the domestic coal market as it does bunker coal.

The announcement has already eeen made that a directional wireless station will be established at Pachena Point to warn shipping off the dangerous sections of the coast in bad weather.

sight of the Cuttynunk goastguards, was believed to have been damaged by collision with another yessel. Whether the second also sank also was in doubt, but lacking wreckage to indicate the parts of a yessel other than those of the John Dwight, coastguards and the fishermen who found the bodies believed that only one craft went down. The theory most generally held by coastguards and fishermen was that the John Dwight, which left Newport, R. I, last Wednesday, picked up a cargo from a rum running motorship and was anchored in Vineyard Sound without lights, as is the rum trade practice, when she was run down.

After fog had held through Thursday night, the coastguards at Cuttyhunk Friday night found the pall lifting and, scanning the rift with glasses, saw a steamer at anchor in the Sound with a torn shirt or a piece of rag as a signal of distress in the rigging. The surf boat was brought out and all was ready to hurch and roll over. She sank a few minutes before the coastguards could get to her. There was no sign of yeasel or man when the lifesavers reached the position.

The fishermen who went out again early Saturday made the discovery. Seven bodies wraped in life preservers were found. The eighth body was found face downward in a small boat. The man apparently having drowned in a few inches of water in the hottom. THREE BOYS REPORTED MISSING

That three boys were missing from their homes in Esquimalt was reported to the City Detective Office on Saturday evening. The boys names were given as Alfred Phillips, David Dickinson, and Raine Pepin, between the ages of 12 and 13. The boys, who are said to have packed up their clothing and cleared out without telling their relatives, were being sought by the city force to-day and yesterday. Up to a late hour to-day Chief Dawley, of Esquimalt, had not been acquainted of the disappearance. No particular anxiety is felt for the boys at present, it being thought their absence might be due to a sudden and surreptitious fishing trip or other adventure dear to the heart of a boy.

The past Summer in New Zealan was a productive one. The pasture was good and the sheep herds most numerous. Increased prices for butter and mutton have gone a long way to improve conditions, said Dr. Christie.

Asked concerning the political situation in New Zeatand, Dr. Christic stated that Premier Massey was carrying on with a very slim majority. After the recent election the Massey Government had a majority of two, with three independents sitting on the fence. Came via Orient.

Within a month of the end of the senson, Sunderland is putting up a spirited and stern chase in an effort to wrest the first league championship from the holders, but Liverpool appears to have just enough in hand to retain the distinction for the second consecutive season. Sunderland won Saturday, while Liverpool drew. Huddersfield has now lost its chance of gaining, sixth place. Stoke gained a noteable victory on Saturday over Notts Förest, and now has an outside chance of not being relegated to the second division.

Local "High" Team Wins B.C. Hoop Laurels

Defeated King Edwards, of Vancouver, and Won Thomson Cup

Playing against vast odds in the matter of weight and size the Victoria. High School basketball team stacked up against the King Edward High School, of Vancouver, at the local High gym on Saturday night, and was successful in winning the Thompson Cup, emblematic of the provincial High School basketball champlonship, by the score of 23-19. The teams were very evenly matched, the Mainlanders having the advantage in speed and weight, while the superb combination of the locals made up for losses in other departments. The work of the guards for both quintettes was a sight well worth watching, and kept the spectators on their feet the whole of the time. From the opening whistle the visitors hit a merry pace and netted two baskets before the locals secured their bearings. The Victoria guards then stuck tighter to their checks, especially Parfitt, who guarded his man like a leech. The local forwards began to find the hoop, and in a few minutes scored two baskets in quick succession.

Superb Combination.

The locals were now warming up to their job, and three forwards, Nachtrieb, Bothwell and Wachter, got their combination working like a charm. They staged a series of combination rushes which boosted their score to cleven, while their opponents had to be content with eight points at half time.

The second half opened with the bear of the second toria boys, and they bombarded the Vancouver hoop for three more baskets, bringing the final count up to 29.18.

For the winners Nachtrieb played a brilliant game at the pivot postion, while Bothwell and Wachter, the forwards, were excellent, and played a phenomenal game.

For the losers McMasters and Thompson on the forward line were the pick of the Mainlander clan.

One interesting feature of the match was the different methods that the two teams used in the matter of shooting. The visiting team was great on long shots, which, however, failed, were erratic and seldom went in. On the other hand the Victoria boys bored right through the opposing defence and slipped the ball over the rim.

The teams were as follows:

Victoria High—F. Olson and H. Parfitt, guards; W. Nachtrieb, centre; McMasters and Henderson, forwards.

Spare, D. McLennan.

King Edward High—Warren and Henderson, guards; Manone, centre; McMasters and Henderson, forwards.

College Girls Win.

In the preliminary game the Victoria College defeated the Normal School Girls, 27-4. The college team showed a marked superiority over, the Normals, and had no trouble in taking the match. Neille Stayna showed her usual ability in netting long shots, which were very effective for the College team, while Ella Lewis played a good game at guard.

The teams were as follows:

Ladysmith deserved the victory. There was no question as to which was the better feam. The Wests played a hard game and had they capitalized a couple of grand openings in the first twenty minutes of the game there might have been a different tale to tell. His Work At Calgary.

Being invited to Calgary to found a Boys College, he succeeded in starting the well known Western Canada College, now in its twentieth year, an institution which has been affiliated with the University of Toronto for upwards of fifteen years. Western Canada College was founded by Dr. MacRae on the lines of Upper Canada College, Toronto, which, as its well known, combines the best of English and Canadian methods and traditions for boys residential schools.

Nearly four hundred of the old boys of Western Canada College served in the Great War, and upwards of forty made the supreme sacrifice. During the period of his principalship the College has made liself an enviable-reputation for work from the boy, and character in the boy. When the Eniversity of Alberta began the first scholarship offered to the Province was won by a Western Canada College boy, now a master in the College. Dr. MacRae informed The Times that he would continue the general policy of the University Military School in discipline and athletics for which it is so well known and will see that the same success attends the school as heretofore. With this he will combine the high scholastic standard for which Western Canada College is so well known throughout the Prairie Provinces and in the centres of learning in the East. The following day a tug was brought to the crib and Holzworth was removed while the crew of seven risked their lives in the stormy waters.

Canadian Shareholders Given Estimate by Toronto Solicitor

Montreal Stocks

Toronto, April 9.—L. R. Steel tharcholders may get thirteen to fifteen cents on the dollar if the present receivers remain in control and are allowed to sell the assets to the best possible advantage. This is the view of D. J. Coffey, solicitor for certain shareholders, who visited Buffalo and investigated the situation, with special reference to plans for reorganization.

Fredericton, N. April 9.—At a tuburlent gathering of Corpony shareholders here Saturday, only one really constructive fact was brought out. That was the statement of Charles Dougherty chairman of the stockholders protective committee, that four big business men have agreed to put $1,000,000 into a plan to reorganize the L. R. Steel stores.

Stock-selling Company Not Forced to Register Here

Bakers and Confectioners

The provincial office of the Retail Merchants' Association has been notified through its solicitors that the Dominion Government proposed to go ahead with the case of the Attorney-General vs. Boyd, a Vancouver baker and confectioner. To, consider the situation an emergent meeting was held in Vancouver this afternoon.

Late last Fall the Federal authorities, in prosecuting confectioners in various parts of Canada for non-payment of the sales tax, selected Boyd, a retailer on Granville Street, Vancouver. After reviewing the case in court, the association finally secured an adjournment at the time of the agreement at Ottawa that no further cases would be instituted until the old-ones had been disposed of. At that time the Dominion board retained Patullo & Tobin to fight the case in the Vancouver court, and Alex Henderson, K.C., is handling the matter for the Attorney-General.

It had been understood that the test case—that of the Attorney-General vs. Versailles Sweets Limited, of Toronto—would have been finally disposed of before B. C. actions were heard. Manager, of Canada Cycle and Motor Company, Limited, at Vancouver, has been British Columbia epresentative for C. C. M. bicycles, C. C. M. automobile skates and other nes for some years.

He is well known both in the Interior and on the Coast, and the trade will be pleased to learn of his well-earned promotion.

that a company does not have to be registered here for its stock to be sold here, as it is quite easy for ar outside company to get an agent to sell its stock here, and that is not a criminal offence. criminal offence.

What action the Government will take will be decided on after the Dixie investigation is completed.

"Don't you know that Mr. Badger is a very tidy animal, exceedingly clean in every way? His whole home is a model of neatness. He is just cleaumodel of neatness. He is just cleaning up, that is all."

"Well, I must say it is not very comfortable to be a guest in the home of one who is so neat and fussy," said Mr. Possum.

"Yes, he' thought we had not brushed up or cleaned the stove," said Mr. Fox. "For my part, I thought the place looked right well."

Mr. Fox suddenly stopped talking for he saw something under Mr. Coon's arm. It was dark in the passageway, but Mr. Fox saw something, he felt certain—a piece of Mr. Badger's tinware.

"Raccy, what have you under your arm?" he asked.

"Me?" inquired Mr. Coon, forgetting his granumer "Under warm?"

? he asked. le?" inquired Mr. Coon, forget-his grammar. "Under my arm? l, if I shan't give up! It is one of

"Yes." replied Mr. Fox, "very, but you trot right back with it. Don't you know that he counts all that set of tin every night when he puts it in his bed? And besides that, he is our neighbor for the rest of the Winter; and more than that, with a passage-

"But we will be leaving at the end of Winter and shall not need to clean," argued Mr. Coon.

"That is just the point," replied Mr. Possum, "we don't have to clean at all."

"Possy, I have done you a great wrong," said Mr. Fox. "All this time I have thought you rather stupid, but you are not. You have a great deal of wisdom in that funny little head of yours. Let us sit down and enjoy ourselves; let's smoke and throw the matches all over the floor."

POLICE FEAR TWO

Fulford Reserve Pair Missing Since February 28

Further light on the disappearance of the aged Indian couple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stace, from the Fulford Harbor Reserve, uncovered by inof the aged Indian couple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stace, from the Fulford Harbor Reserve, uncovered by investigating officers of the Provincial Police has again drawn the attention of the authorities to the possibility of foul play. They have been missing since February 28.

At first it was thought that they got in their cance and were swept away, meeting death by drowning before their empty cance was washed up on a rock near Portland Island, south of the Reserve. It transpired, however, that the day of the disappearance was a fine, clear day without any of the elements' that mightenter into a drowning at sea.

Further, the police found underneath the upturned cance a package of liver, a boot, and some loose apples. If the cance had upset in the water the apples would have been washed away, it is held. The anchor weight carried by all cances is missing, "Charlie," well known for his successful fishing ventures, was known to have had a heavy weight attached to the painter in his craft. The import of the missing weight is peculiar to Indian tragedies, say the police, who point to a long line of similar disappearances where later, the bodies of the victims were found with weights attached to their feet, where they had been thrown overboard to sink.

The case now engaging the attention of the police recalls the mysterious disappearance of McLeod, an Indian doctor, and Mrs. Miller, an Indian widow on July 1, 1921. A gasoline launch the party were known to have used was found holed on the rocks later in that day. The occupants of the boat were missing, as was also the anchor.

The assailant in the Mcleod-Miller murder was not brought to light, though at one time it appeared certain that he could not escape. It was thought at the time that the bodies had been weighted, and cast into the sea.

Holding this method of disposal a possibility in the present case the sea.

Holding this method of disposal a possibility in the present case the provincial officers have dragged the bottom of the water near the scene of the disappearance and in the neighborhood. The Indians, too, have been lending a hand urged on by the esteem in which they held the victims of the mystery, and in some cases by the reward offered by the Indian Agency for the recovery of the bodies. The missing couple were known to have saved about $500, and some of this was supposed to have been carried in gold by the Indian woman.

From the scattered nature of the settlements and the long distances between the various islands, the police are finding it difficult work to the settlement of the set trace down the various clues. The police are determined to see the mys-tery through to solution.

ANNUAL MEETING OF LOCAL BRANCH

W. B. Pease presided at the monthly Board meeting of the local Antivivisection Society held Friday night.
Among other matters considered by the Board were the tuberculin test, insulin, human experiments, results of serum treatment, recent and authentic reports on animal experiments. The B. C. and other societies have recently protested to Ottawa against the use of public funds for vivisection. It was also decided to join the Interstate Conference for Investigation of Vivisection, in accordance with suggestions made from New York, as the societies organized to fight vivisection fully realize the importance of mutual support on a question of such importance. Mrs.
Hodgson, Secretary of the Vancouver Society, was present and gave a report on the progress of affairs in Vancouver, where two members of the local Board had recently ad-Vancouver, where two members of the local Board had recently ad-dressed a meeting. Plans were dis-closed for furthering the society's work and increasing funds, and the annual meeting was arranged to take place during the present month.
