

Handwritten text in vertical columns, likely in Japanese or Chinese characters, is visible on the right page. The text is faint and difficult to read due to fading and the aged nature of the paper. The columns are arranged in a traditional vertical format, starting from the right edge and moving towards the center. There are approximately 10-12 columns of text. The ink is very light, and the characters are mostly illegible. Some faint characters are visible, but they do not form a readable passage.
