NO. 65

PREMIER WILL BE ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION

QUEBEC, Sept. 16.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be returned for Quebec East by acclamation, R. Leduc, who was nominated to oppose him, having retired from the field.

ON THE FIRING LINE

Remember that the Polls Open at 9 a. m. and Close at 5 p. m. On September 21

The weapons of tyranny are being swung over the heads of Canadians to-day as they have not been for many years before. Wherever there is, in politics or in business, a man who can be "got at" by the enemies of reciprocity, that man is marked, and the choice put before him of fighting reciprocity or preparing to get down and out.

Six months ago the hesitating Mr. Borden was brought upon the carpet by the Montreal moguls, and was told that for him there were two alternatives, and two only. He must go at reciprocity hammer and tongs or must quit the leadership of the party over which these financial big-wigs have for the time secured control. Mr. Haultain, failing apparently to comprehend the signs of the times, or to correctly measure the punitive power of the party dictators ventured to say that he favored the reciprocity agreement, and to vote that way in the legislature. But they "got him," and to-day he is recanting his speech of last March with the lame apology that he did not know what he was talking about, and is doing what lies in him to get an opponent of reciprocity elected in Qu'Appelle. Absolute submission to political dictation is the price demanded for the political support of the moneyed interests—and the price paid by the leaders who are receiving that support.

But political intimidation is not the only weapon brought into the fight by those whose privileges are threatened or thought to be threatened by the reciprocity agreement. There is commercial intimidation also. A couple of weeks ago Mr. Moyer, who is running as reciprocity candidate in South Waterloo, was served with notice that he must retire from the candidature or give up his position as manager of an industrial concern. To his credit he sacrificed his job and is fighting for his freedom on the stump.

A hundred other equally tyrannical instances could be cited. Here in British Columbia the same weapons are being employed to a merciless extent. An employee in the government buildings in this city told the Times yesterday that it would cost him his position if it became known that he will vote for reciprocity. He said the whole staff is in fear and trembling and they are not free men.

So, the fight for trade liberty is to be turned into a fight for personal, civil, and political liberty; a fight to determine whether a man in this country shall be free to form his political opinions under the guidance of his own conscience, or whether he shall take them with humble gratitude from the man who pays him wages; a fight to determine whether Canada's policy is to be determined and her destiny settled by a race of free-thinking and free-voting men, or dictated by a group of industrial slaveholders to an army of enfranchised menials; a fight to say whether Canada shall be governed in the interests of her people or in the interests of the "Rowleys," and whether the men who do the governing shall be chosen by a free people or nominated and placed in office by the lords paramount of the plunkocracy. Are we to be slaves or free men? That is the question.

LIBERAL GOES IN BY ACCLAMATION

J. A. C. ETHIER RETURNED FOR TWO MOUNTAINS

Conservative Candidate Fails to Comply With the Law

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—James G. Foley, clerk of the crown in chancery, has received the declaration of the returning officer for the county of Two Mountains, which makes J. A. C. Ethier, Liberal, elected.

Mr. Fauteux, who was Mr. Ethier's opponent, did not file in his nomination papers properly and after consulting legal authorities the deputy returning officer decided that his papers did not conform to the law.

WORK STARTED ON HUDSON BAY LINE

Scores of Men Are on Way to Scene of Operations on New Railway

Hudson Bay Jet, Sept. 15.—Work has been begun on the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway. Scores of men are passing through here daily on the scene of operations. Last night both hotels were crowded and many were unable to find hotel accommodation. Six hundred men are needed for the lumber company at the pass to meet the demand for timbers.

LEAPS FROM STEAMER

Quebec, Sept. 15.—During the passage of the steamer Empress of Ireland, a steerage passenger jumped overboard in mid-ocean and was drowned. When the man leaped overboard the ship was stopped and every effort made to rescue him, but without avail.

HANGS HIMSELF

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—John Westbourn, who arrived from Montreal about a week ago, committed suicide last night by hanging himself in his room by a strap fastened to his bedpost.

LIES, FAKES AND FORGERIES

At the beginning of the present election campaign there were some evidences that the Matson senior organ in this city had made up its mind to try and atone for the moral and criminal offences it committed during the contest of 1908—to live down the evil reputation it had gained as the most atrociously untruthful newspaper published in any section of the universe. But natural inclinations, in the face of a desperate situation, have prevailed, and the organ has resumed its old tactics. The Times early in the fight realized what would occur and warned its readers and the people of Victoria generally that nothing of a political character appearing in the Colonist between then and election day could be regarded as truthful. Whether the opinions expressed bear the "dignity" of editorial expressions or be stamped with the imprimatur of "the interests" in Montreal, they may from this day until the 21st of September be accepted as lies, fakes or forgeries. This may seem strong language to use, but we ask all who believe in fair-play—even in a fight for the spoils of office—because that is what the election amounts to as far as the forces led by R. L. Borden and Henri Bourassa in this contest are concerned—to remember what took place in 1908 and to note what is going to occur in 1911. The Colonist stamped itself with infamy in 1908. It is in a fair way to sink itself beyond redemption in 1911.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN

Supposing, just supposing, the mutineers marooned Captain Laurier.

FOWLER'S FLIGHT

Decides to Thoroughly Test Biplane Before Resuming Journey to Atlantic Coast.

Colfax, Cal., Sept. 15.—Failure to receive certain parts necessary in the reconstruction of his biplane prevented Aviator Robert G. Fowler resuming his ocean-to-ocean flight to-day. Fowler has been assured, however, that the parts will be here to-day and he expects to make a number of trial flights to-morrow, having decided that he would make better time in the long run by giving his biplane a thorough test. He will endeavor by flying from early morning to dark for several days, to make up the time lost by reason of the accident.

MR. TEMPLEMAN AND CHINESE IMMIGRATION

"The statement that I am in favor of removing the Chinese head tax is a deliberate untruth. I am not in favor of any tampering with the present tax, unless the Chinese immigration act is made more strong, whether that amendment he made in the direction of increasing the amount of head tax or in the way of a more rigid and more stringent means of controlling the immigration of that race."—Mr. Templeman at Institute hall, Sept. 15, 1911.

SUES CANDIDATE

Returning Officer Brings Action as Result of Statement at Public Meeting.

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 15.—Charles May, returning officer for Edmonton riding, has issued a writ for $10,000 against the Conservative candidate, W. A. Griesbach, as a result of statements made at a political meeting in Thistle rink on Monday night. It is alleged in the statement of claim that Griesbach charged that there has been sent to northern polls thirty ballot boxes constructed in such a way that by pulling out a wire the contents could be reached without breaking the seals.

REAL ESTATE INTERESTS APPROVE BREAKWATER

Men Who Have Watched Victoria Grow During Half a Century, and Later Comers, are All Agreed as to Value of Improvements

The announcement of the plans for the improvement and development of Victoria's harbor has had a strengthening effect on the real estate market, and those who are closest in touch with the reality situation have no hesitation in stating that values throughout the whole city will advance materially at once and that this advance will continue as the works progress.

Thus far they speak as men interested in one particular line, but all unite on the broader outlook in endorsing the harbor plans because of the beneficial effect their completion will have on general business conditions here and the opportunity afforded for the port of Victoria to secure its proper share of the great traffic which will come to the Pacific on the opening of the Panama Canal.

EX-MAYOR REDFERN. C. E. Redfern, Jeweller, Douglas street, a former mayor and one of the oldest and most respected businessmen of the city, said to-day:

"There is no doubt but that the breakwater will be a benefit to Victoria, or that the city needs it. With the opening of the Panama canal Victoria must have increased facilities to take care of the shipping. Everyone is agreed, I think, that the breakwater would be of immense benefit to Victoria."

F. LANDSBERG. F. Landsberg, of the Empire Realty Co., when asked this morning for his opinion regarding the effect of the harbor improvement on real estate in the city, stated that he was sure the value of real estate would be doubled. He further remarked that it would be the finest thing that ever happened to Victoria. To put it in his own words:

"It is time that Victorians wakened up and took advantage of a good thing when it is offered to them. The opening of the Panama canal will take place in a year or so and provided that it has the proper facilities Victoria will be one of the first ports of call for shipping through the canal. If they neglect to take advantage of the opportunity some other near-by city will prepare to receive the shipping and Victoria will be relegated to the back-ground.

Many Victorians will recollect the finest thing that ever happened in the nineties. If during that period Victoria had inaugurated suitable shipping facilities wealth would have been acquired from the Klondike to build the city up; but instead it went to Seattle, which had made preparations for the sending of steamships to and from the scene of excitement.

"The harbor scheme will entail an immense advertisement for the city and will bring in European and other outside capital. Not only that, but the money spent on this improvement, for labor and material, will greatly help the city."

"In my thinking all the electors, Liberals and Conservatives both, who have the interests of Victoria at heart, should drop party politics and work hand in hand to keep the present government in power and see that Mr. Templeman's pledges, as regards this improvement, are carried out. Every man of intellect knows that the more outside capital that is brought in, the more the value of real estate is enhanced."

EDWARD WHITE. A pioneer of Victoria, and one who has kept in touch with the progress of the port and city since the early sixties, Edward White, real estate and financial agent, is in a position to speak with some knowledge of the harbor improvements. He said in the first place that Victoria was suffering from the original mistake made when the Hudson Bay located here, and not in the Esquimalt harbor, which had a better entrance. However, circumstances had forced the present location of Victoria, and with the town had come the development of the harbor. They had seen in the past four years more real progress made in Victoria than in the previous forty, and the increase of the shipping had been one of the most pleasing features of that development.

The scheme was one which must appeal to every business man who had the future of the district at heart. It was feasible, would supply the requirements and prepare for that greater business which would flow here with the opening of the Panama canal, and the increase of business with the United States due to the pending fiscal act.

SCOTTISH FOLK AND RECIPROCITY

SPLENDID MEETING IN INSTITUTE HALL

Hon. Wm. Templeman, F. J. Stacpoole and W. W. Baer Speak on Main Issue

There was a very large and enthusiastic gathering of Scots folk, and men and women of Scottish descent, at the Institute hall, View street, last evening, when a number of political speeches were interspersed with the harmony of a most agreeable evening. All the musical selections had special reference to old Caledonia and its institutions, and the speeches were listened to with careful attention.

The platform was gayly decorated with the Union Jack, Bunting and real Scottish thistles, and around the walls were photographs of the illustrious Prime Minister of Canada, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and pictures bringing home to each industry the benefit of the reciprocal agreement.

The chairman's table was covered with the Stewart tartan, and a large spray of purple heather stood on it. At the back of the stage hung "oor stag," as one enthusiastic Scotswoman exclaimed when, on entering the hall, it was the first thing to catch her eye.

TWO HOURS ALLOWED LABORERS TO VOTE

Difficulty in Regard to Smoke Nuisance—Reservoir Resoluition is Shelved

Through the agency of the Victoria Laborers' Protective Association and a sympathetic city council the laborers in the civic employ will have two hours leave next Thursday in order to have ample time in which to record their votes either for or against reciprocity. A communication was received from the above named body last night pointing out the inadequacy of one hour, the allowance previously arranged for by the council, and requesting that an extension be granted.

Ald. W. F. Fullerton re-echoed the request of the association, and stated that two hours was allowed by the Dominion statute in that connection. The ward voting, which was being tested for the first time, was likely to lead to some confusion, and he thought therefore that the two hours would be little enough time for such an important function.

The council was unanimous on the point so that the laborers will now "knock off" at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. Their wages will not be affected by the release.

Two smoke nuisances in the city were brought to the fore last night, and a request made that the city should take action against the offenders. It was pointed out, however, that so far as the city was concerned the public nuisance might go on for ever, the jurisdiction for dealing with such matters being vested in the provincial authorities. Of course a private individual, having a private nuisance, to complain against, was at perfect liberty to take what action he chose, but in the matter of public nuisance such as smoke the city was powerless to act.

The council decided that the mayor should confer with the city solicitor, with a view to having the attorney-general take action when the necessity arises.

Ald. Hubber's humorous resolution in regard to the condition of Smith's Hill reservoir was read to the council last night, but as the matter is already in the hands of the water commissioner, it was ruled out of order. The resolution joked about the diving and submarine methods which had been adopted with a view to remedying the defects of the reservoir, and demanded that the best scientific method be now applied to effect a cure for the enormous "seepage."

When the matter had been disposed of in the manner indicated, Ald. Ross made the statement that there was more truth than poetry in the text of the resolution.

A grant of $100 was made to the local branch of the Seaman's Institute on the recommendation of the finance committee.

By resolution the council stopped all heavy traffic over the Rock Bay bridge in view of its weakened condition. The council also decided to paint and repair Point Ellice bridge at a cost of $2,800. The repairing consists of the relaying of the floor with blocks. In the event of the necessary funds being available the contract for the work will go to Newton & Greer, who submitted the lowest tender.

In connection with the widening of McKenzie street, between Linden avenue and Cambridge street, the claim of J. A. Turner for portions of lots 10, 11, 18, 32 and 33, amounting to $5,280, will be accepted, and the claim of T. S. McPherson and G. A. Hunter for lots 11 and 12, originally put at $2,000, will also be accepted at $1,200. The claim of William Scott for sub-lot 18, put in at $2,000, will not be accepted, but he will be offered $2,750, and if this latter figure is refused arbitration proceedings will be instituted.

Permission was given the Worwick Paving Company to remove their asphalt plant from May street to a point on Fairfield road, near Earl street, to facilitate their operations on the paving contract recently awarded to them in that section of the city.

COST REDUCED AT TRANQUILLE

TUBERCULOSIS HOME ASKS PUBLIC SUPPORT

Quarterly Report Calls for Supply of 400 Tons of Coal for Winter

In the three months May, June and July this year the work of the Tranquille Sanitarium has, according to report submitted to the directorate yesterday afternoon by the secretary, been carried on at a reduction in cost per patient from $2.10 per day last year to $1.98 per patient per day this year. Despite the reduction the institution is $3,000 in arrears for maintenance.

For the three months twenty patients were discharged apparently cured, eight as incurable, and there were seven deaths. In each of the three months there was an average of 60 patients in the home.

A plea for more generous public support is made in the report and attention drawn to the necessity for 350 to 400 tons of coal at $10 per ton for winter use. The sanitarium at present has no funds to secure this fuel.

Furnishings for a pavilion for incipient cases of tuberculosis have been subscribed for by the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., members who have undertaken to provide $1,500 worth of equipment.

An assistant to the medical superintendent has been appointed without salary, and the first probation nurse has been engaged. The report asks that the board determine the rate of pay at length of service for pupil nurses, so that others may be encouraged to undertake the work. All useful furniture from the marine hospital, now closed, has been given to the sanitarium by the department of marine and fisheries. The statistical report for the three months is as follows:

In May 64 patients were treated (49 male, 15 female); seven (five male and two female) were discharged as apparently cured; one male was discharged as incurable, and two male patients died, leaving 54 receiving treatment on June 1. The total number of hospital days was 1707; of these 591 were 30 day patients and 1016 were for 34 free patients. The amount received from patients in the sanitarium during May was $907.10.

In June 64 patients were treated (50 male, 14 female); seven (five male and two female) were discharged as cured, six (three male and three female) as incurable, and three (small boys) died. The total number of hospital days was 1516, and of these 615 were for 31 day patients, 155 were for six patients paid for by municipalities and 740 were for 27 free patients. The amount received from patients in the sanitarium during June was $1,658.26.

In July 56 patients were treated (47 male and nine female); six (four male and two female) were discharged as cured, one male as incurable, and two male patients died. The total number of hospital days was 1516, made up as follows: 694 for 24 day patients, 127 for five patients paid for by municipalities, and 695 for 27 free patients. The amount received from patients in the sanitarium during July was $908.30.

The maintenance accounts presented to the finance committee amount to $1,662.02. Notwithstanding that $700 was by authority of the board of directors transferred from building to maintenance, and $700 was loaned by the Victoria Auxiliary society, there is for the last three months a shortage of over $1,700 and payment of some of the accounts has to be withheld each month until such time as there may be sufficient funds in the bank to meet them. For July, the milk and meat account, $709.15, has not yet been met.

Last year the cost per patient per day was $2.10; to date this year it is $1.98. Every effort is being made to reduce expenses, but it must be remembered that our treatment largely consists in supplying good, plain food in large quantity. We are now over $2,000 in arrears for our maintenance, and I would ask the board to appeal to the public and to societies for assistance. We cannot curtail the needed supplies to our patients, and I am sure the public, when they know the conditions, will not hesitate to meet our request.

Building accounts amounted to $2,527.79. The work on the construction and installation of the electric plant has begun, and will be completed within the next month. The erection of a laundry has also been begun. Furniture accounts amount to $1,064.47.

ANOTHER FRENCH AVIATOR KILLED

Dies as Result of Injuries Sustained When He Falls With Aeroplane

Verdun, France, Sept. 16.—Eduardo Nieupert, the French aeronaut, died to-day as a result of internal injuries received when he fell with his machine yesterday.

Nieupert accomplished some notable feats in flying at Châlons last Tuesday, competing in the preliminaries for the international aviation cup. He established a new aerodrome record, covering ninety miles at the rate of 80 miles an hour. He finished third in the contest for the cup, which was won by the American, Charles T.

DOCTORS HAD GIVEN UP ALL HOPE

"Fruit-a-lives" Saved My Life

Riviere A Pierre, Q., May 9, 1910.

"I look upon my recovery as nothing short of a miracle. I was for eleven years, constantly suffering from Chronic Dyspepsia and Indigestion. I was treated by several doctors and they simply did me no good. During the latter part of my illness, I was so thin that I weighed only 90 pounds, and I vomited everything I ate.

"The doctors gave me up to die as the stomach trouble produced heart weakness and I was frequently unconscious. I received the Last Rites of the Church.

"At this time, a lady strongly urged me to try 'Fruit-a-lives.' When I had taken one box, I was much better and after three boxes, I was practically well again, and had gained 20 pounds. I have taken 13 boxes in all and now weigh 150 pounds and am well.

"Madame Arthur Tourangeau." "Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine in the world made of intensified fruit juices and always cures indigestion. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-lives, Limited, Ottawa.

Wynn, at Eastchurch, Eng. Wynn on this occasion used a neopont aeroplane, one of the fastest types yet developed. As the designer of this machine, Neopont won wider fame than he did in flying and it was in one of his own make that he established his record.

"Did you receive the volume of poems I sent you?" asked a caller who had purchased a small volume of verse. "Oh, yes, it was lovely," replied the hostess smilingly. "Let me see, where did I put it?" "You put it under this table, Eg—mother," said her little son, "to keep it from wobbling."

Eagles can exist for as long as twenty days without touching food, while condors can fast for forty days.

MURDER MYSTERY.

Bodies of Woman and Man Found on Farm.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 15.—A murder mystery with two victims, possibly three, was unraveled at a farm north of Minneapolis on Thursday.

The body of Mrs. Walter Bolton, who managed the farm for her husband, who is employed in Minneapolis, was found in the cellar of the farm house, and the body of a slain man was discovered buried under a few inches of earth in the garden. Frank Rhodes, a cousin of Mrs. Bolton, and a hired man on the farm, is missing. Neighbors observing that no one was seen entering the farm house, entered the place. The floors and walls were scattered with blood and the furniture was in confusion.

Bolton received a letter from his wife saying that she was well and happy. There was no intimation of trouble, and it is believed that the letter was written by the murderer to keep Bolton ignorant of the crime.

Bolton had scarcely finished reading the letter when word was brought him of the murders.

Some 50,000 Londoners are at present living more than two in a room, while for 100 or more in a room the figure is 25,000.

INJURIES CAUSED DEATH.

Vancouver, Sept. 15.—T. Lawrence, the man who was found Thursday morning in the basement of a new building on Water street, died in the General Hospital yesterday from the effects of a fracture at the base of the skull. It is conjectured that Lawrence struck his head on a piece of timber when he fell into the place where he was found, but nothing certain is known of the manner of his death. He was found lying insensible and never regained consciousness.

TAKES STEPS TO RELIEVE CHENG TU

Chinese Government Orders Former Viceroy to Suppress Rebellion

Pekin, Sept. 16.—An imperial edict issued yesterday admits that the situation in the province of Szechuan is dangerous and orders have been sent General Tzen Chun Suan to proceed thither immediately. He formerly was viceroy of Szechuan and Kwang Tung, and has the reputation of being a ruthless suppressor of rebellions.

Tuan Fang, director-general of the Kang Kong and Konkow-Szechuan Railroad, is instructed to devise means for raising the siege of Cheng Tu, capital of Szechuan. According to Chinese reports, modern troops who are outside Cheng Tu refuse to join the rebels' side.

The British gunboat Widgeon is leaving Sui Fu for Kiating territory. The Taotai of Chung King reports that the situation at Cheng Tu is serious. The rice supply has been cut off, and it is feared that a shortage of provisions will precipitate disturbances within the walls.

All approaches to Cheng Tu are held by rioters, the number of whom constantly is being augmented. There are reports of disturbances at Sui Fu (where the refugees recently arrived) and of fighting at Kiu Tung, east of Cheng Tu on the Yangtze, and a station of the China Inland British mission, and at the American Baptist mission at Kiu Tung.

It is not expected that there will be trouble at Chung Kiang for the present, as all of the disorderly ones have left for Cheng Tu. The missionaries generally are hastening to the nearest points of safety.

A Japanese gunboat is proceeding to Wan Hsien.

Demand Release of Leaders.

Chung King, Sept. 16.—Several American families from Kiating and elsewhere have arrived here safely. Two thousand modern troops outside Cheng Tu have not yet joined the besiegers, but have moved from their quarters outside the walls, into a camp five miles distant. They refuse to obey the viceroy or participate in the siege. It is reported that the students of the military college have joined the non-combatants.

Authorities outside fear to attempt the relief of Cheng Tu, lest the neutral soldiers in the city. The besiegers are armed only with antique weapons. They demand the release of the ring-leaders of the railway league as a condition upon which they will raise the siege of the capital.

The British consul, temporarily in charge of American interests in this district, has issued an order to all American and British citizens in the upper districts of the province of Szechuan, where a rebellion is in progress, must leave immediately for the nearest place of safety.

Missionaries at Cheng Tu.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—A cablegram was received Thursday by Rev. T. E. Shore from the Baptist Missionary Society at Chung Kiating stating that all American Baptist Missionaries had reached there, also that the Kiating missionaries were en route and that telegraphic communication with Yachow and Ning Yuan was cut off.

These places are in the American Baptist territory, and not in that of the Canadian Methodist Mission. The Kiating party of missionaries would include the Canadian Methodists. It therefore looks like a confirmation of the despatches published Thursday, that the Cheng Tu missionaries were still in that city.

The walls of the Chinese cities for the most part are high and strong. Mr. Shore says, that of Cheng Tu, which is the most strongly fortified, is fifty feet high and about as broad. The Canadian Methodist compound is one of the best and most easily defended in the city, the walls being eight or ten feet high and unscalable except by ladders.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

There is, after all, no God but My God. Whoever the habitant of heaven's throne and earth's rule may be, He is in the last analysis my personal something. Whatever real religion a man has is entirely an affair between himself and this peculiar "Deity." No spiritual revelations come to crowds. Saint Francis was alone in the chapel when he received the stigmata. Every soul has been alone when it has received any spirit touch. Moses was alone in the mountain. God is as secret as one's guilt. He is as private as one's conscience. He is as intimate as one's emotion.

The God of multitudes, of the congregation, of the world is imposing to the imagination, but He does not reach the soul. The soul's God dwells in the very bottom of the funnel of silence, in the last locked isolation of solitude. Whoever does not find God alone does not find Him at all.

God, as a usable idea, is not the Lord of Hosts, but the Lord of one single human being. He bears upon men, not in the lump, but individually. To use a phrase of Victor Hugo, "He is the ocean-roar in the single soul, the rising tide in one heart." Doubting Thomas had never believed in God at all until he cried: "My Lord and my God."

REPORTS RADIUM ORE IN AUSTRALIA

Antarctic Explorer Says He Has Discovered Vast Lode

London, Sept. 16.—A dispatch to the London Daily Mail from Sydney, N. S. W., says that some months ago the Antarctic explorer, Dr. Douglas Mawson, who is an eminent geologist, aroused excitement in local mining circles by the announcement that he had discovered a valuable deposit of radium ore at Mount Painter, in the fourth northern district of South Australia.

Dr. Mawson has again visited the spot and issues a long report in which he declares that there is a vast lode of radium ore, at least three miles long and from a few feet to several hundred yards wide. The deposit is of high grade, the report says, and a quarter of a ton is ready for shipment. Dr. Mawson calculates the net profit per ton of crude ore at £227, or some $1,100.

He adds that huge deposits of corundum and aluminum-bearing ore exists in the vicinity.

TAPT PRAISES DR. WILEY.

President Will Not Ask for Resignation of Pure Food Expert.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 15.—The resignation of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry in the department of agriculture, and probably the best known pure food expert in the government service, will not be asked for by the president, despite recommendations that it be requested, made by the personal board of the department and endorsed by Attorney-General Wickersham. This "condign punishment" for Dr. Wiley, which Mr. Wickersham held to be necessary, will not be meted out by the chief executive. The president's opinion, carrying no word of criticism for Dr. Wiley, but many a word of praise, is made public here. There is no indication in it that the president feels that he "trumped down" Wickersham by not accepting his recommendations.

The "Wiley case" arose over the employment by the bureau of chemistry of Dr. H. H. Rusby of New York. In effect Dr. Wiley, Dr. L. F. Kehler, chief of the drug laboratory, and Dr. W. D. Bigelow, assistant chief, were charged with having conspired to pay Dr. Rusby a salary of $1,500 a year, with the tacit understanding that he was to do only enough work to secure this amount at the rate of $25 a day. This was held to violate the act of congress, which declared that no classified scientific investigator should receive more than $9 a day. In addition to the reason that Wiley is requested to resign, the board held that Dr. Rusby should be dismissed, that Dr. Kehler be reduced and Dr. Bigelow be allowed to quit the service. None of these recommendations is upheld by the president's opinion.

Dr. Rusby is held to be as guiltless as Dr. Wiley in this particular matter. Dr. Kehler is, however, reprimanded for disingenuous conduct.

RAILWAY COMPANIES TO FILE STATEMENT

Will Submit Reply to Charges on Discrimination in Rates in the West

Winnipeg, Sept. 16.—Before the railway commission here yesterday an application was dealt with from the Vancouver board of trade for an order directing the C. P. R. and other companies to cease charging discriminating rates on Alberta grain to the Pacific coast as compared to grain rates to Port Arthur and Fort William.

The C. P. R., C. N. R. and G. T. P. railways were required to speak of the reasonableness of the mileage tariffs on grain and grain products now being charged for local shipments within the territory between Lake Superior and the mountains.

This application was adjourned until some time next week, when the three railway companies will each make a statement.

BARNARD'S AFFILIATIONS

The Times has scarcely departed from the assiduous line of argument which has characterized its educative campaign respecting the economic features of the reciprocity agreement. As the day of decision approaches, however, it is impelled to devote some consideration to the affiliations of the Conservative candidate who is appealing for the votes of Victorians. If Mr. G. H. Barnard were in every other respect a person with sufficient dignity and statesmanlike proclivities to represent the capital city of the province, the company in which he would be compelled to sit in the House of Commons and the votes on questions affecting the peace and dignity of the Dominion must disqualify him. A single individual does not count for much in parliament especially in opposition but an aggregation of individuals inspired by a common purpose, and that purpose a mischievous one, is a menace to the body politic. That Mr. Barnard as well as his leader would be dominated—should they be elected—by a faction of the House of Commons that would brook no denial of their demands is asserted by the leaders of that faction, and the bragging statement is not repudiated by either Mr. Borden or Mr. Barnard. Mr. Borden when asked what he thought of Bourassa's boasts in Quebec that he would have enough Nationalists elected to hold the balance of power—and defeat the navy and Imperial projects of the Liberal government, said he "preferred not to discuss the matter." Mr. Barnard has never discussed the matter and is presumably and so far as the people know whose votes he solicits, quite agreeable to Mr. Bourassa's ambition to dominate the House so long as it defeats Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The ultimate result of this alliance between the Conservative party and the Nationalists of Quebec is a matter fraught with too many and too serious possibilities to be taken lightly by the people of Canada. Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed this out in his Montreal speech on Thursday. The one thing which must be admitted respecting the French-Canadian Nationalists is that they are absolutely and religiously sincere in their opposition to the Canadian navy and to the slightest evidence of imperialism in Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It is this their attitude toward a leader of their own race and their own faith, what would be their attitude toward Mr. Borden, whose influence and whose Anglo-Saxon nationality they despise? If they should succeed in overthrowing Sir Wilfrid's government, could they be held in check by Mr. Borden? No one believes they could be controlled if they held a balance of power. The election, then, of any single candidate to swell the forces of the opposition is simply adding to the danger of placing the Parliament of Canada at the mercy and under the despotic power of the very people who are to-day being inflamed with hatred of the English, and this is a situation too serious to be trifled with. It might prove that Mr. Barnard's pretended ultra-imperialism would be but as a red rag to a mad bull in the further inflammation of these excitable factionists. The ambitions of these reactionaries is apparent from their words.

In a speech delivered in Montreal on October 25, 1910, Mr. Bourassa said: "What I should wish is that between the old English frigate about to sink and the American corsair preparing to pick up its wreckage, we should manoeuvre our barque with prudence and firmness, so that it will not be swallowed up in the vortex of the one nor carried away in the wake of the other. Let us not sever the chain too soon, but let us not rivet its links too closely. I am not referring to the situation which the triumph of Imperialist ideas would impose on us. If the partisans of such ideas should gain the upper hand, oh! then I would say forward! Let us be independent without hesitation."

As establishing the unity between Nationalism and Quebec Conservatism under Mr. Borden, the following paragraph is noteworthy. It is from L'Evenement, the chief Conservative newspaper in the province of Quebec:
 "These who vote for the candidates of Monsieur Laurier must not forget that they thereby approve the navy, and that they will no more have the right to complain on the day when they and their children will be carried off to defend the country in danger. That will be only justice after all. One reaps as one sows."
 Why does Bourassa so lustily hate Sir Wilfrid Laurier? He has been in parliament several terms. He admits that he has been disappointed in his ambitions. Has he then assurances from Mr. Borden that he can have what he wants for his support in an effort to obtain the treasury benches? What else would make him turn so completely away from his Liberal instincts which have been disappointed only in respect of his inordinate ambition for place and power? The situation is ominous.

Here are some more of the utterances of this faction recalled from the stumping campaign in Drummond-Athabasca last year.

Bourassa: "At the time of the harvest the agent of the paternal Government will knock at the door and say to the father (still robust) and to all his children: Quit your home; for England, or at least a group of agitators, demands your flesh and your blood in order to enlarge her territory or to promote an enterprise!"
 Affronting: "Those who disembowelled our fathers on the Plains of Abraham are asking you to-day to go and get killed for them. We have had enough both of England and of the English."
 The same: "We have wrested our liberties from England and we owe her nothing."

Tancrède Marsil: "The blood of the patriots killed by the English at St. Eustache must be avenged!"
 The same: "At St. Eustache the English watered their horses on the holy chorum; and it is for them that a navy is to be built."

Armand Lavergne: "The French-Canadians are not going to work themselves to death for the English."
 Mr. Bourassa, over his own signature in his own paper Le Devoir, gave expression to these sentiments literally virulent with hatred of all things British and Mr. Borden's lieutenant; paid-out of Borden's campaign fund for their distribution among the people of Quebec.

Mr. Laurier did not stop at the violation of the Canadian Constitution, from his own admission, by taking, without authorization, the money of the Canadian people to arm the Canadian troops and to have Canada participate in this infamous war (South African War); his cynicism carried him to the point of proclaiming—in the full light of parliament—that this war was the most just that England had ever carried on. No responsible statesman, not even Mr. Chamberlain, had ever dared to go so far.

Yes, the Nestor of the Imperial Conference, the Canadian Washington, found it right and good that 50,000 men should be massacred, millions of farms to be burnt and ravaged, peaceful home to be pillaged, women to be outraged and little children to be shut up in pestilential camps, where they died like flies.

English and Afrikaander soldiers who fell on the velvet for the glory of Chamberlain, women who died from shame or misery for the glorification of Laurier, children whose entrails have dried up in the concentration camps for the honor of the Empire! What do you think of the man?

(Signed), HENRI BOURASSA.
 M. Borden "prefers not to discuss the matter" and Mr. Barnard does not repudiate this alliance. Mr. Barnard voted with Mr. Bourassa during several sessions on every question when a division was called. Should Mr. Barnard be re-elected and Mr. Bourassa also both these men—one anti-imperialist and fire-eater and the other ultra-imperialist and without the shadow of influence in the House of Commons—would sit near together and vote together to stir up strife in our now peaceful Dominion. We do not know how Mr. Barnard can square himself on this unholy alliance. He had had several opportunities to do so and has refrained. His silence can only be construed as a willingness to subjugate every fibre of his boasted imperialism and grovel in the dust before the domination of Bourassa if he may be but honored with a seat in parliament to save the face of his shattered party.

CAMPAIGN TACTICS

How the "Leading Liberal" who suddenly became a convert in opposition to reciprocity is being worked all over Canada is shown in the following:

Brockville, Sept. 8.—The Montreal Star of last night contained a lurid article headed: "Leading Liberal of Brockville will fight reciprocity." Mr. Thomas J. Storey gives seven reasons why he cannot support tariff-breaking pact; Mr. Storey in the present contest is using his utmost efforts to bring about the defeat of the Minister of Railways.

For the sake of the Montreal Star and the individuals who do not know much about Mr. Storey, The Brockville Recorder says, he is president of the Tory Association in Brockville and as such is chief engineer of the Tory machine here. He never was known to be a Liberal in this town nor known to cast a Liberal vote. He has taken part in elections sometimes very actively and always on the Conservative side.

On with the dance!
 Mr. Barnard is in a position to answer the question: "Who forged that telegram?" Also: "Why did he continue to hold a seat obtained by such means?"

A vote for Barnard is a vote for Bourassa and the Conservative-Nationalist fire-eaters of Quebec. The Conservatives and Nationalists have united for political purposes, and the French tri-color is to be the flag of the new alliance. Is that it? Does Mr. Barnard consent to have it replace the old Union Jack?

Albert Whitney, a prominent business man of Prescott, and brother of Sir James Whitney, has come out strongly in favor of reciprocity. At the Liberal convention for Grenville, when

COAL

V. I. COAL CO.

S. J. Martin was placed in the field, Whitney delivered a vigorous address in support of the trade pact. Reciprocity, he believed, would be a great benefit to all interests in Canada, and he denounced in strong language the suggestion that larger markets obtained and consequent development and prosperity would lead to annexation. He is brother to the Tory premier of Ontario.
 Hon. W. R. Ross explained to a Fernie audience that the placing of constables at Coal Creek had been done without his knowledge. Perhaps the attorney-general could explain how it came that the maintenance of order and the placing of armed troops over men who were peaceable in a strike was of more apparent importance than the votes of the striking miners. Protect the corporations at all hazards says Mr. Bowers. Vote for my candidate; I didn't know about it says Ross.

Speaking at Sudbury Sir Wilfrid Laurier said: "My message to you is this: If Ontario gives us no more than she gave us in 1908—and I believe she will do more (cheers)—if Quebec gives us as much—and she will do it, I'm sure of that (renewed cheers)—if the Maritime Provinces join the procession, and they will do even better, and if the west—but there is no doubt about the west—parliament will be called within five weeks, and reciprocity will become an accomplished fact." (Prolonged cheers.) The west, without question, will give a splendid majority for reciprocity. No wonder many of the farmers instead of holding vast quantities of their barley and flax for the higher prices under reciprocity.

We still do not understand the attitude of the Colonist respecting the Brocton Ledge Breakwater. It endeavors to cast doubt upon the statements of Hon. Mr. Templeman and the Times respecting the bona fides of the government and the veracity of the Minister's statements. Hon. Mr. Templeman has not an established record for dishonorable campaign promises, and we think that the Colonist in its endeavor to cast reflections upon his honor and good faith is showing very bad spirit. That is the method of political warfare resorted to only by calumniators. Has the Colonist nothing better to say in endorsement of this scheme?

The Colonist is to be pitied and despised. At last night's meeting Hon. Mr. Templeman defined his position and the position of the government on the question of Oriental immigration. He said there would be no tampering with the present Act or readjustment of the headtax unless any changes were for the explicit purpose of further restriction. Mr. Templeman repeated this assertion several times and after the last predicted that he would be again misrepresented by the Colonist. It is even so. In its editorial, and on its front page the Colonist this morning repeats its deceptive articles. It is only a short time since the Colonist proved to its own satisfaction that an editorial writer who would wilfully and deliberately deceive the public is as criminally responsible as a perjurer. The people of Victoria who were at the Institute hall last evening and who to-day read the Colonist will know exactly where to go to find the perjurers.

The Colonist, in its characteristically slippery style, endeavors to draw an analogy between the fisheries treaty negotiated between the United States and Canada and the reciprocity agreement. There is no similarity between the two. The joint fishery regulations were drawn, after investigation, by Prof. Prince and Prof. David Starr Jordan, acting for the Dominion and the United States respectively. They were not to go into force until adopted by the national legislatures of the two countries. They have not been acceptable to the Senate of the United States because certain local interests successfully interposed objections. Therefore the treaty has not gone into effect and there is no necessity for its being denounced. Certain interests attempted to kill the reciprocity agreement (which is not a treaty) also, but public opinion was too strong even for the United States senate. It has been adopted by that hostile body, and will go into effect as soon as it receives the endorsement of Canada. It can be abrogated at any time by the will of the parliament of Canada. Our contemporary, as usual, has failed in its dishonest attempt to make a point.

Women's Ready-to-wear Apparel Women's Skirts in all Useful Styles. Prices that Mean a Big Saving to You

All the latest ideas that are now becoming popular are to be seen in the Mantle department to-day. The most popular are the Tweed Skirts, in mixtures of greys, greens and browns, made up in a variety of very clever designs, not too elaborate, but effective. We have devoted special attention to the exacting requirements of our clients, and are prepared to offer you a collection that will make choosing an easy matter. A visit to the Mantle department should prove to be both profitable and interesting to you, and we invite you to examine the numerous garments, fresh from the fashion centres, that are now being displayed. AN ENTIRELY NEW LOT that has just been unpacked, and is a really fine line of the newest ideas in tweeds and plain cloths. They come in all sizes and a variety of styles; some rather plain and others with panels back and front, and may be had in colors navy, brown, black and a variety of popular tweed mixtures. All the usual sizes are included in this lot, and the price to-day is $4.75 TWEED SKIRTS, made in the six-gored styles, with panel back and front, wide double stitched seams, small patch pocket on the right hip, and come in colors grey and brown mixtures. These are very smart outing skirts, and may be had in all sizes. Price $7.50 PLAIN SKIRTS, in entirely new styles, have panel back and front, and a divided flounce trimmed with buttons. Price $7.50 PANAMA AND SERGE SKIRTS, made in plain gored and with the new loose panel or sash effect. These skirts come in a variety of the newest colors and are a very superior garment to be sold at $6.75

A Big Display of Girls' Coats

We never had such a large and interesting selection of these Coats, and the prices are so moderate—quality being considered—that all mothers should be greatly interested. Like our lines of Women's Coats, these are the pick of the markets and are the smartest models that have come to our notice for a very long time. The selection includes stylish models in English and Scotch Tweeds, Broadcloths, Serges and good Wool Mixtures, made up with shawl, sailor, military and many other styles of collars. SOME VERY FINE REEFER COATS are being shown in this line. They are made of heavy tweeds, have large collars, patch pockets and turnback cuffs. Let us show them to you. The range is too wide to permit a description of every model, and you must see them to appreciate their values. Prices start at $4.75

Men's Suits at $15, $18 and $20, Worth More

At these three prices we are now showing a very fine selection of Men's Suits, made of high grade tweeds and fancy worsteds, in single and double breasted styles. The workmanship of the suits are all that the dressy man can possibly wish for at the price. In fact, we don't suppose that you can duplicate the values at less than $18, $25 and $28, respectively, at any other time than now. Our buyers have been very fortunate in making their purchases this year, and we are in a position to supply some of the best values that we ever offered at these popular prices. THE TWEED SUITS are the most popular this season, probably on account of the long run that the fancy suitings have had, and we cannot think of another material that is more appropriate for Fall or Winter wear. It is warm, looks smart and comes in a variety of mixtures, chiefly browns, greys and greens. Three prices, $20, $18 and $15.00

A Choice Selection of Waists in Silks And Chiffons

On the first floor we are showing a splendid line of Silk and Chiffon Waists in all the newest and most approved styles. BASEBALL SEASON OVER IN VICTORIA

Club Has Done Well Considering Handicap Under Which It Was Running

As far as Victoria is directly concerned the Northwest League baseball season is over. Yesterday afternoon the Spokane and Victoria teams left for Spokane, where they will finish of the present series and play next week. It is possible that there may be a few post-season games here, but it is hardly likely.

Victoria's record during the season is certainly not an enviable one, but when the handicap under which the club was running is taken into consideration, there is really no reason to wonder at the result. The club did not know whether it was going to get a franchise until early in the spring and after getting it had to build up a team within a few months. That it did not do worse than it did is a real cause for wonder.

Thirty-eight games won out of 150 is nothing to brag of, but then teams have done worse than that. Victoria started out as strong as the majority of the other teams, but dissension in the ranks held it back while the other teams went ahead. The result was that the local team was just as fast an aggregation at the beginning of the season as it was a few weeks ago, if not a little more so. Later, however, the right man has stepped in and all the fans know what happened. With Holmes at the helm in the beginning Victoria might have been fighting for a place now.

Naturally the club has not paid. Throughout the greater part of the season it did fairly well at home, but was a dead letter on the road. But as it has been run more cheaply than is customary the loss is not so great. A couple of thousand dollars will about cover it.

Victoria has been "lucky in disposing of players and, in fact, has done exceptionally well, considering that it is the first season in professional ball. "Smoke" Thomas was sold to the Boston Americans; Bill Goodman to the same team; Ten Milton to Cleveland, while McCreey was drafted by Cleveland.

With a good manager and the nucleus of a good team the club ought to get away with an even break next season. The grounds will be transformed into a real ball park with a deeper field and a better grandstand. Victoria will have made her debut and become a fixture in the Northwestern League.

TECUMSEHS LEAVE EAST ON TUESDAY

Play Two Games With Western Champions on Sept. 30 and Oct. 7

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 16.—Arrangements were completed yesterday for the Tecumsehs, champions of the N. L., to leave for the coast next Tuesday night to play for the Minto cup on Saturday, September 30, and Oct. 7, Premier McBride, of British Columbia, is trustee of the trophy at present and another will be appointed shortly.

The Tecumsehs will go straight through to the coast on the C. P. R. and will have a week's rest before the first game. It will be known this afternoon who their opponents will be.

The Tecumsehs consider their chances of lifting the cup to be first-class. They know the calibre of the players composing the Vancouver team and figure out that as they could always beat them when they lived in the east they should be able to win from them on a western field. The Indians are a wonderful "Road" team, not having lost a game away from home this season, and their friends hope they will maintain their record on the trip to the coast.

The Tecumsehs will return home via Chicago, where they will play an exhibition game on the American League park grounds with the Winds City champions. They will also play matches at Calgary, Regina and Winnipeg, if the necessary guarantee is forthcoming.

CALIFORNIA RETAINS OLD RUGBY RULES

Student Bodies of South Will Not Change Game—Bitter Fight Waged

Chiefly through the efforts of William Unmack, sporting editor of the San Francisco Call, supported by President Wheeler of the University of California and Dr. Andell of Stanford, the efforts on the part of the coaches and student bodies of the southern universities to tamper with the rules of the Rugby union have never failed to arouse great interest amongst the sporting fraternity, so that there is little doubt that the rink will be well patronized on Thursday.

Good music is being played and an all round good time will be afforded.

Mr. Powell wishes it to be understood that he does not permit any rowdiness at the rink and that in order to keep the attendance select the management is determined to enforce its right to show to the door anyone who does not act in a gentlemanly or ladylike manner.

Not since the adoption of the Rugby Union rules six years ago has such a sensation been recorded in California football circles. For two weeks the fight raged bitterly. Newspaper representatives from all over California took different sides in the argument and opinions were solicited from authorities in British Columbia, Australia and the Old Country. On September 8 a deputation of the clubs in and around San Francisco appointed a committee, of which Mr. Unmack was chairman, which went over to Berkeley and interviewed Graduate Manager Farmer of the University of California. He was told point blank that if the student body dared to change the rules all games between the varsities and the teams represented as well as British Columbia clubs would be cancelled instantly. Mr. Farmer placed the matter before the student bodies, that night with the result that no alterations were made in the rules and in future no attempt will be made to change them without the clubs interested being directly represented.

The chief agitators in favor of the alteration of the rules are J. J. Lafferty, a San Francisco club man, and a Mr. Conlon, a professional player of the Northern Union League from Sydney, Australia, but for the time being their efforts to change the rules have been checked through the decided stand taken and the publicity given by Mr. Unmack.

MILE SKATING RACE AT ASSEMBLY RINK

Splendid Programme of Sporting Events Not a Myth—Hall and Hodnett

That the splendid programme of sporting events promised by L. C. Powell, manager of the assembly skating rink is not a myth but an actuality is revealed by the fact that already he had come out with an announcement which will be very pleasing to the skating public. W. Hall of Vancouver, who is touted as being the Pacific Coast champion and Del Hodnett, undisputed mile champion of Victoria, will race on Thursday evening next at the Port street rink for the Championship of British Columbia.

Several of these races were run off last year by Mr. Powell and they never failed to arouse great interest amongst the sporting fraternity, so that there is little doubt that the rink will be well patronized on Thursday. Good music is being played and an all round good time will be afforded. Mr. Powell wishes it to be understood that he does not permit any rowdiness at the rink and that in order to keep the attendance select the management is determined to enforce its right to show to the door anyone who does not act in a gentlemanly or ladylike manner.

ABOUT BASEBALL

Roger Bresnahan Has Signed a Contract to Manage the Cardinals for Five Years at a Salary of $8,000.

Pitcher Marquard, of the New York Giants, has won seventeen games and lost five this season.

They talk about Mathewson losing skill and yet, in thirty-two games, the hostiles have been able to make but eighty-six runs off his delivery. Less than three runs to the game is a record that doesn't imply any loss of ability.

They say King Cole has been ineffective this year. The figures show that he has won twelve games, tied one and lost only five—a percentage of 76. Good enough for anybody's club.

With the opening of the baseball drafting season the Portland club is showing a record for the Coast League by going after no less than eight new players. The Los Angeles club is after only two, while Sacramento is seeking four. Among the men sought by Portland are three from Butte and one from Helena. McCredie also wants Peters, a San Jose, Cal. boy, who farmed out to Trenton, N. J., by the Philadelphia Athletics. The drafts of Sacramento are for two catchers and two outfielders. Oakland and San Francisco so far have not announced their needs.

For twenty-one innings the Senators and Angeles battled in a no-decision contest at Washington park, Los Angeles, yesterday, darkness ending the game. The score was 4 to 4. Spider Baum, Sacramento's elongated twirler, and Halla, the Angeles' recruit, were the principals in a grueling pitcher's game. With both improving as the game advanced, all records probably would have been broken had not darkness intervened. With four hits in the first inning Los Angeles to all appearances had the game won until the third, when Sacramento made two. In that inning the Angeles also made one, and this lead they maintained until the eighth, when Sacramento with three driver tied the score. At no time thereafter did either side get anywhere near the home plate. Baum pitched the last 18 innings without a run being scored, an equivalent to two full games. From the eighth to the seventeenth inning he did not allow a safe hit, which lacks one inning of being a no-hit, no-run game in itself. Halla retired the last 12 men that faced him, in one, two, three order.

There were no Northwestern League baseball games yesterday. The rain again butted in. Next week Victoria plays with Spokane, Seattle at Vancouver and Portland at Tacoma.

SPORT NOTES

In view of the fact that the American team has won the right to compete in Australia for the Davis cup, emblematic of the world's tennis championships, it is not unlikely that the Victoria team will have a chance to see two of the finest tennis exponents in the game on local courts. As mentioned some time ago, W. Larned virtuously promised B. Schwengers, when the latter was in the east, that he would stop over at Victoria on his way to Australia and if he comes, it is expected that he will be accompanied by Bolt Wright. Mr. Schwengers, expressed a wish to play a little shooting in this victory, which fact largely increases the probability of his visiting the island. Mr. Schwengers expects to hear from either of the stars, Mr. Larned or Mr. Wright, at any time now.

Tom Jones, Manager of Ad. Wolgast, and Emil Thiry, manager of Pucky McFarland, were in conference during the greater part of yesterday and until a late hour last night at Chicago, trying to come to terms for a new set of articles for the two pugilists. Jones demanded that Wolgast receive $25,000 w.p. loss or draw, and also demanded that McFarland make 13 pounds. Jones declared he was willing to go on the tour, A. E. Todd of Victoria, one of the Good Roads enthusiasts of Vancouver Island, went to Seattle on Thursday to escort the party to Victoria. He said that elaborate preparations had been made for entertaining the tourists, but the money collected for the purpose would be saved for the tour next season.

The following players have been chosen to represent the Vancouver A. Lacrosse team on its trip to the east in an effort to lift the Mann cup: Goal, J. McGeer; point, F. Matheson; coverpoint, F. Burns; defence, C. McCraig, C. Donohue, E. Matheson, and B. Painger; centre, Fierheller; home, S. Gunn, W. Peaceck, R. Knight, A. Murray, A. Wright, D. Crookall, and A. Gilman.

Shooting season is here. Don't fail to call on the Victoria Sporting Goods Co., Pemberton block, Broad street, for supplies.

FLYNN OUTFOUGHT MORRIS.

Oklahoma Giant Failure As White Hope—Ten Fast Rounds.

Madison Square Garden, New York, Sept. 16.—Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, fought a winning battle of 10 terrific rounds last night with Carl Morris, the giant heavyweight of Oklahoma. At the end of the bout the Oklahoma man's face was battered to a pulp, while Flynn was unmarked save for a lump over the left eye.

As a possible "white hope" for championship class recognition, Morris is a failure. He had nearly fifty pounds in weight and five inches in height advantage over the Pueblo man, but failed to daze Flynn at any stage. Morris really had only one round, the third, and in all the others Flynn was the master in ring work. All through the fight Morris kept using his great weight and strength to weaken Flynn, but the latter invariably had the better of the close work. His left hook and jab soon sent the blood flowing, and at all times he was willing to take punishment in order to send back worse than he got. Morris landed many hard lefts and rights in every round, but Flynn seemed impervious to the grueling.

It was the bloodiest fight ever seen in this city, and many of the spectators around the ringside were astonished at the stamina of both men, which carried them at a wonderfully fast pace.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

Herrshoff and Hilton Represent Highest Talent of Two Nations.

Rye, N. Y., Sept. 16.—When Frederick Herrshoff, of New York, playing from his mountain summer home at Manchester, Vt., and Harold H. Hilton, of the Royal Liverpool Club, stood on the first tee at Apawamis to-day for the finals in the American amateur golf championship, they represented the highest golfing talent of the two nations.

Hilton has won the British championship three times, and once has won the British open championship, which means that he has defeated the British professionals in the golfing world.

"Can Herrshoff stop him?" was the question asked many times both last night and this morning, and more than a thousand followers of the game came out to Apawamis to-day and trudged over the rain-soaked links to see it answered.

WHAT IS TO BECOME OF SONGHEES RESERVE?

Promises of Premier McBride That Disposition of Valued Property Should Be Settled Last June Remains Unfulfilled

The determination of the Dominion government to enter upon a gigantic scheme of improvement of Victoria harbor, and in particular of the inner harbor, brings prominently to the fore the question of the disposition of the Songhees Indian reserve. What is to be the future, what the disposition, of this virgin tract lying close by the busiest thoroughfares of the city? Here under the new conditions will be created a great water frontage suitable for docks for ocean liners and all other kinds of floating craft, convenient to the business sections of the city and therefore with the rapid historic reserve across the harbor. The event, as was stated for the occasion, was celebrated in columns of boasting matter and scarce heads three columns wide and all for the delectation of the white brother with a vote. The credit for the whole affair was taken by Premier McBride and one Mr. Samuel Matson, and their pictures, with that of the chief, of the tribe illuminated the pages of many issues, for the commission was large and sufficient to cover expenses. Everybody connected with the affair was a chief even unto Chief Oukam himself. The Indians safely removed to that return, but the premier is back and still there is nothing doing at the Indian reserve. Rumor, of course, is busy with the causes for this extraordinary shifting about in dealing with a public property which should be disposed of fairly to everyone, and above all, in a manner completely above suspicion. It is stated openly by some that the scheme of the government is to divide up the tract between two favorite corporations; the city (in the simple mind of someone) to be squared by receiving a fair-sized slice for use as a public park.

VIEW OF HARBOR AND INDIAN RESERVE

growth of Victoria to become enormously valuable. Are the citizens of Victoria to share in this good fortune? Is no portion of this water frontage to be reserved for the use of the people as a protection against the greed of corporations in future? Readers of the Times will recall a few facts in reference to the settlement of the reserve.

Many moons have waxed and waned since the Indian tribe voluntarily consented to their removal from the most beautiful of all suburban homes, "Maple Band" farm. The question of the disposition of the reserve arose, and it will be remembered that Premier McBride announced that an auction sale would take place in June, the whole tract first to be plotted and laid out in the most modern and scientific manner.

In June Mr. McBride had to go to the coronation. It was forthwith announced that the delayed auction sale would take place in September on his arrangements. So far as the actual scheme itself went, he believed they would see the drawing together of the harbors of Victoria and Esquimalt, and the practical unity of the districts; in fact the whole waterfront as far as Metchosin would benefit accordingly.

Property would advance in value from the improvement, and as a real estate man he hoped to see an early start made, as it represented considerable personal results to him and every owner of property in the city. All property owners along the waterfront to be affected must recognize the value of the proposal, the most comprehensive, and most effective yet devised for the Greater Victoria of the future.

adrian ports? Seattle was nearly 300,000 in population as a consequence of seizing the opportunity when it offered. He was confident they would see a remarkable development as a result of the harbor works, not only in the city but throughout Vancouver Island, whose mineral resources had so far been hardly touched.

Property would advance in value from the improvement, and as a real estate man he hoped to see an early start made, as it represented considerable personal results to him and every owner of property in the city. All property owners along the waterfront to be affected must recognize the value of the proposal, the most comprehensive, and most effective yet devised for the Greater Victoria of the future.

It was impossible to over-estimate the effect the scheme would have on the Greater Victoria which must follow as soon as the business of the Middle West began to flow down the natural grade to the Pacific Coast. Railways were building rapidly, both on the Mainland and Vancouver Island, and when the grain began to come westward it must begin that industrial development which proceeds in a way undreamed of by the citizens of this town, whose drawback had been so often in the past that they had let slip natural opportunities. The Dominion government owed it to the Pacific ports to do something for them when they were spending such large sums on the maritime provinces, as opportunities for trade were in many cases being lost.

"It is a scheme which should receive the endorsement of everyone who has the interests of Victoria at heart, irrespective of politics," GILLESPIE & HART. "Mr. Templeman's announcement regarding the breakwater has struck the nail on the head as far as the future of Victoria as a good commercial port is concerned," said John Hart, of Gillespie & Hart.

"This removes the reproach Victoria has always labored under of possessing but a cramped harbor, difficult of access," said Hugh Kennedy, local manager of the Dominion Trust Co. "It will place her in her proper position as one of the great ports of the Pacific and enable her to compete on even terms for the trade which will come by the Panama canal. "It is a scheme which should receive the endorsement of everyone who has the interests of Victoria at heart, irrespective of politics," GILLESPIE & HART. "Mr. Templeman's announcement regarding the breakwater has struck the nail on the head as far as the future of Victoria as a good commercial port is concerned," said John Hart, of Gillespie & Hart.

the two harbors into one business centre, and even if the tendency of the future should be towards the western harbor owing to special conditions, the present one required immediate attention, and the proposal showed a recognition of the need for improvements which meant so much for the future development of the city and district. The scheme was a comprehensive one, and would receive a large amount of attention from Victoria business men, whose interests were so closely bound up in the expansion of the shipping business of the district.

MARRIOTT & FELLOWS. G. E. Jubb, representing the realty firm of Marriott & Fellows, thought that the electors of this city as a whole should support the harbor improvement plan.

"If they do not," he said, "the city will fall behind. I consider it the time should be towards the western harbor owing to special conditions, the present one required immediate attention, and the proposal showed a recognition of the need for improvements which meant so much for the future development of the city and district. The scheme was a comprehensive one, and would receive a large amount of attention from Victoria business men, whose interests were so closely bound up in the expansion of the shipping business of the district."

NORTHWEST REAL ESTATE. The opinion of T. W. Howard, of the Northwest Real Estate Co., was brief and to the point. He said it would cause a tremendous boom in the Victoria realty market without the slightest doubt. An expenditure of $2,000,000 should be of incalculable value to the city. He concluded by tersely remarking that he was entirely in favor of it, as it would help every business man in the city.

MOORE & JOHNSON. W. W. Moore, of the well-known firm of Moore & Johnson, unwittingly repeated the remark of the majority of the others, when he said that it would be the best thing that ever happened to Victoria.

"Trade is going to be developed on the coast," he said, "and if it does not come here it is going some place else. If Victoria cannot produce a harbor large enough to accommodate ocean-going steamers we are going to have a port at Port Alberni or at some other northern port of the Island to compete with."

"The people of this city have been agitating for a harbor for years and now that they have a chance to get it it would be a big mistake to let it pass."

"I myself have no doubt that the Laurier government will be returned and think that Victorians would be foolish not to return Mr. Templeman as their representative in view of what he holds out to them."

"As regards real estate it is merely an axiomatic statement to say that the value of property here would be tremendously enhanced should the harbor improvement go through."

GRIFFITHS & CO. "To my mind," said J. A. Griffiths, of Griffiths & Co., Government street, "the harbor improvement scheme, if carried through as outlined in the Times, will serve to advertise the city better than anything I can imagine. When it is planned to spend three million dollars here, it will be known from one end of Canada to the other. Large wholesale and manufacturing concerns will be induced to locate here, and of course an immense rise in realty values will follow. By the efforts of the Vancouver Island Development League, the Dominion is being informed of the resources of the island, and this city. The harbor breakwater scheme will at one stroke accomplish infinitely more than the league could do in years of work."

J. G. ELLIOTT. J. G. Elliott, who has carried on business in Victoria for many years and has always taken a keen interest in anything tending to further the development of the community, thought that the improved shipping facilities included in the scheme of making a breakwater and outer harbor for Victoria, was one of the finest things that could strike the town. Our inner harbor was too congested even now. Several plans had been brought forward to improve and deepen it but none had been as far-reaching as to provide for the increased trade that would be beyond all doubt follow on the completion of the Panama canal. Any thing that improves the shipping must as a matter of course create a corresponding increase in the values of land.

ROBERT W. CLARKE. Robert W. Clarke, the well-known real estate dealer, looked at the harbor improvement scheme from a far broader standpoint than the effect it would have on land values. If Victoria was going to hold her own as a shipping port, if she was not to fall into the background and see her neighbors on the Sound spring into wealth and prosperity as a result of the stream of trade that would come this way when the Panama canal was opened and would pour its riches into every port that could accommodate it, it was absolutely necessary that she should have some such harbor as was contemplated in the plan of Hon. Wm. Templeman. Large docks give employment to a great number of men, and thus an increase in population would result. Naturally the influx of people, of trade and of manufactures would be accompanied by great activity in land values.

SHANGHAI CHARGES DENIED. Three Members of Schooner Blakeley's Crew Clear Tacoma's Shipping Master.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 16.—Affidavits from three members of the crew of the schooner Blakeley, contradicting sensational charges that United States Shipping Commissioner James Knox, Tacoma, entered into a plot with a sailors' boarding house to shanghai Henry Hawkins, a seaman of the crew, were received by Knox this afternoon from Captain J. W. Manka, master of the Blakeley. Hawkins charged while in Seattle that he had been shanghaied by the Blakeley with the connivance of Commissioner Knox.

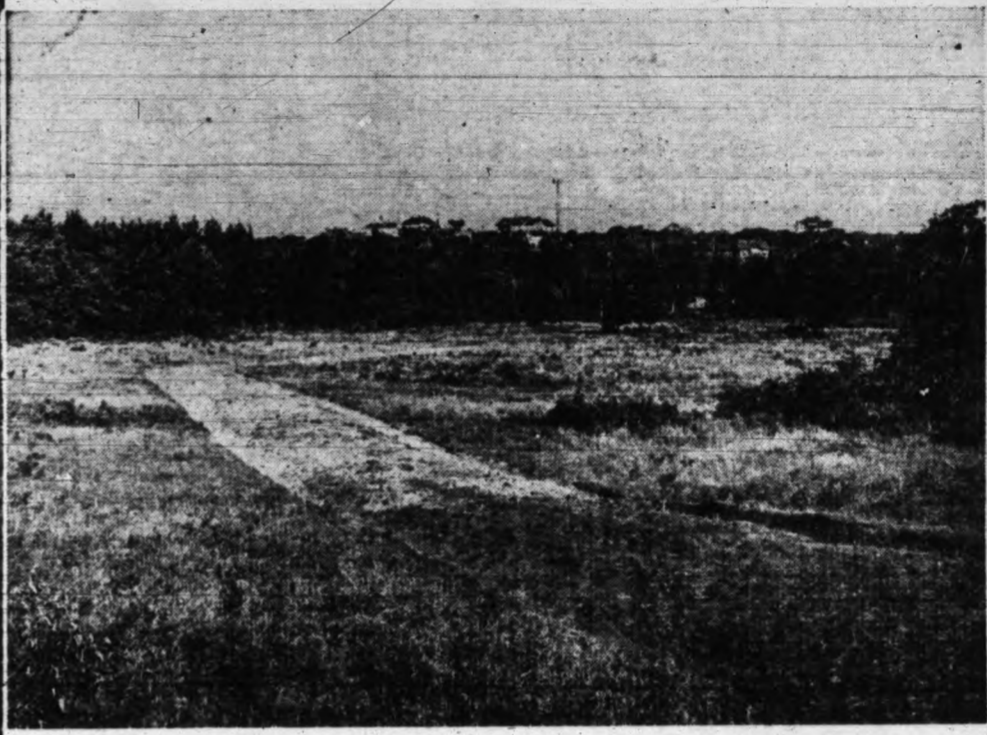

H. S. LOTT. H. S. Lott, real estate dealer, said he had not given any special attention to the latest proposal, but from the general outline he was confident that Mr. Templeman's letter opened a great future for the port of Victoria. While there was undoubtedly a strong opinion that the ultimate destiny of the industrial development of the port would be towards the Esquimalt harbor, where there were unrivalled track facilities, the present proposal would mean the tying-up of

Victoria's Premier Residential Subdivision

There are many subdivisions on the market and probably all have their respective merits, but when the matter is sifted to the bottom, the fact will remain that RICHMOND PARK is the most desirable subdivision for sale within the limits of Victoria—a city of residential attractions.

Situated between Rockland avenue and Foul Bay Road, and being two blocks south of Oak Bay avenue, it is practically surrounded by the best homes in Victoria's best residential district. It requires little imagination to see what this unique position will mean in the future developments of this subdivision. Richmond Park is a place of certainties.

General View of Richmond Park

Richmond Park will have well graded streets and water will be laid as required by home builders. Sewers are already on three streets and will be laid on others as required. Building operations have already started under the building restriction of from $2,000 to $4,000. Other homes are contemplated, which means that home improvements in Richmond Park will be rapid and of a nature to enhance values quickly.

On almost any street in Victoria you may meet men who will tell you that they are poor, and that the fault is entirely their own. A few years ago they could have bought for a mere song lots on Government, Fort or Douglas, which to-day are worth thousands of dollars.

THOSE MEN HAD THEIR CHANCE

and shut their eyes to it. They should be substantial citizens to-day, free from financial worry and the need of work. Instead, they must grind on, and their only part in our story of progress is to tell of what might have been. They lacked faith in this country, and are paying the price of envy and regret.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR YOU

Only the big guns can touch Victoria property now. But the conditions which existed in Victoria a few years ago are repeated in Tofield to-day. Tofield has a future which no investigator can question or doubt. Here will be told again the story of men who saw their chance and took it, and of men who had the same chance but lacked faith and foresight. In which class will you be? CIVIC CENTRE IDEA AGAIN DISCUSSED

ARCHITECTS FAVOR A BURDETTE AVENUE SITE

Long Report on the Subject Offering Alternative Plan to Mayoral Schemes

The question of a civic centre, which has lain dormant for some little time, was aroused to life again last night at the meeting of the city council, on receipt of the report of the Architects' Association to which body the two mayoral schemes had been referred for an opinion.

The report of the Architects' Association, which is given in full below, shows that while favorably impressed with the schemes already devised, they outlined another alternative scheme, with Christ Church cathedral on Burdette avenue as the site for the municipal buildings. The beauty of such a location and the magnificent perspective attaching to it were admitted in the report to have had something to do with the conclusion that the site indicated was the ideal one for the purpose.

The opinion was also expressed that Pandora avenue was not central enough for such an aggregation of distinguished buildings, an opinion which several of the aldermen present, on hearing the report, took the opportunity of dissenting from. The report was as follows:

"The Architects' Association of Victoria begs to thank you for your invitation to give an expression of opinion upon the suggestions which have been before your council for the creation of the proposed civic centre, and the beautification scheme in connection therewith. The association appreciates in the fullest possible manner the respect and attention given to it on so very important a subject.

"After very mature consideration at several meetings, the association has arrived at an opinion regarding the two schemes submitted by his worship, the mayor, when we had the privilege of meeting him and receiving his personal explanation of the general lines of each. The Architects' Association has, however, formulated an alternative scheme which it desires to submit to the council for due consideration in comparison with the former suggested schemes. For the purpose of the following expressions of opinions, we enumerate these three schemes as follows:

"1. Being the expropriation of the instance of the Market block, and the existing city hall block, and the expropriation of certain property between Vancouver street and Cook street, also portions of property on Pandora street between Chambers street and Quadra street, to create a public square. Note: The two schemes being those submitted to the association for report.

"2. Being the alternate scheme submitted herein for the council's consideration. The association is not in favor of this scheme because, independently of its large cost, the erection of such a block of buildings in this important business position on Douglas street and Government street would, in its opinion, be a very great detriment to the development of business property north of the site, causing a serious break in the continuity of this important business section. The two thoroughfares being undoubtedly the chief business thoroughfares in the city.

"It is also apparent to the association that by effecting a sale of the market hall and city hall property, the money derived therefrom can, with the greatest possible advantage for all purposes, be expended in the development and improvement of a more favorable location in the city.

"The association has visited this proposed site and viewed it from all possible points, arriving at the following conclusions, viz.: The opinion is that it would be necessary to ultimately form a development scheme to widen Pandora street direct from Cook street to Douglas street in order to achieve the desired motive of a grand avenue leading from a principal thoroughfare to the proposed new civic centre, at the head of the avenue at its intersection with Cook street. This would naturally involve a greater outlay than provided for in the present estimate of cost. It is submitted, therefore, that there are the plan submitted to us, there are not give the best advantages for the desired effect. It therefore begs to submit suggestions which would add more dignity and architectural beauty to the general grouping of the whole scheme, viz.:

"The site allocated for the civic buildings is not altogether in the most suitable position, because there is no central axis to the buildings from either Vancouver street or Cook street, which is a very important point to be taken into consideration. Inasmuch as Cook street continues through on the north side of Pandora street, it would only be possible to get such an axis to this portion by breaking the existing line of the road on either side in a square or arcuate shape around the block. On the other hand, if the block were formed with an axis to Vancouver street, such a deviation of the widening would not be necessary, for the reason that Vancouver street is not continued north of Pandora avenue, excepting for a very short length. The buildings erected with such an axis to either of these positions, would have a direct vista for the whole length of one of these important streets.

"As an alternative to the council's suggestion (set forth in the plan handed to us) and which should appeal to the council, the association feels very strongly that the main axis of the civic centre should be given to the proposed grand avenue formed by the widening of Pandora street. The civic hall would then occupy an island site at the head of the proposed avenue on the Cook street frontage. The vista of the public buildings would thereby not only be given to the western portion of the grand avenue and Cook street but also to the eastern portion of Pandora avenue, which should enhance the importance of property in that direction.

"The association submits an outline of the alternative to scheme No. 2, which will readily explain the several points of suggestion. Regarding the building feature, in order to give a fine architectural treatment, at the same time a complete one, the association suggests that the grouping of the buildings could remain as outlined by his worship the mayor, that is, for the grand civic hall to be placed centrally on the island site. The administrative block on the southeast corner, and the library block on the northeast corner. These two blocks could be connected to the civic hall by means of a colonnade, thereby joining up the block and forming a very important architectural feature, and at the same time affording direct communication to the upper floors for the whole group of buildings. If it is necessary for the police department and the central fire station to be grouped with these chief buildings, there would be ample space to erect them in the rear of the central block. Additional space on either side of the island is given for civic extensions.

"While scheme No. 2 commends itself in many material points, the association begs to submit its opinion that Pandora street is not a sufficiently important or central position for such buildings. As undoubtedly they would be the most important in the city, they should be erected on the most dignified and commanding site that can be acquired, both from an architectural, business and civic point of view.

"As an alternative to the foregoing schemes, the association is of opinion that such an ideal situation for these civic buildings can be obtained on the site now occupied by Christ Church Cathedral, should this property be upon the market for sale. We, therefore, respectfully desire the council to take the merits of this alternative suggestion into consideration. The property on the adjoining block is owned by the Cathedral authorities, and would probably be a more advantageous site for the erection of the contemplated new cathedral as it would be open to the public space of the old cemetery grounds.

"The association is of opinion that a view of the adjacent main thoroughfares, and a central beautification scheme in this magnificent position could thereby be accomplished. If this site be acquired, the buildings will be a landmark for many miles around, both from land and sea.

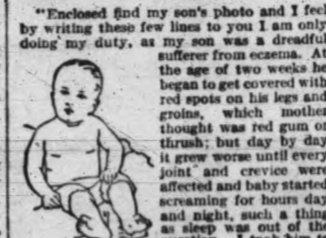

"The scheme suggested by the association on the foregoing site would comprise the block bounded on the south by Burdette avenue, on the north by Pandora street, on the east by Quadra street, and the city also to acquire the whole of block 4, forming the crescent-shaped area to Maclure street and Quadra street. The block to be cleared of its present buildings (none of which are of a permanent business character). Owing to the natural contour of the land, this block could be terraced down from the front of the civic buildings to Maclure street, and an ornamental public space formed therein, which would be a fitting site for any monumental erections contemplated in the future.

"The general impression of the association is, that by the sale of the present city hall site and market building, very little additional money would be required to completely carry out such a scheme. It is indeed an ideal site and a most natural one for these very important buildings, lending itself to great architectural treatment and the development of a beautification subject. It would be in close proximity to the government and other important buildings around the harbor. Other important buildings are contemplated in the near future within a short radius of this site, and with all these factors it does seem necessary that the city's civic buildings should be located as a crowning point to a city with so famous a reputation.

"The association desires to make another suggestion. There being an axis practically from Beacon Hill to the cathedral site, cutting through (in the centre of the crescent) Maclure street and Burdette avenue, the central boulevard from Beacon Hill, if produced in a northerly direction, could with some slight engineering modification be produced to the south of the proposed

Baby Dreadful Sufferer. Could Not Keep Him from Scratching. Every Joint Affected. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and He Is Well.

"Enclosed find my son's photo and I feel by writing these few lines to you I am only doing my duty, as my son was a dreadful sufferer from eczema. At the age of two weeks he began to get covered with red spots on his legs and groin, which, mother thought was red gum or thrush; but day by day it grew worse until every joint and crevice were affected and baby started screaming for hours day and night, such a thing as sleep was unknown to me. I took him to two of Sydney's leading doctors; one said it was one of the worst cases he had seen; the other did not think it so serious; one ordered ointment for rubbing in, the other a dusting powder. I followed their prescriptions for over four months and still baby kept getting worse. I could not keep him from scratching so great was his agony.

"When he was five months old I tried the Cuticura Remedies and I am very thankful to say my baby is today free from eczema. At first his groins were bleeding when I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and other parts affected were the lower part of his body, under the knees, his arms, joints, eyebrows and neck, but after twice using Cuticura Ointment I began to see a difference and by the third day the eczema, along with the itching with Cuticura Soap, baby was nearly cured. I still kept on using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and now, thank goodness, he is quite well and has had no further return of the trouble. (Signed) Mrs. G. Martin, 2 Knight St., Eastbourne, Sydney, N.S.W., Mar. 21, 1911. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, but a liberal sample of each, with a 25-page book on the cause and treatment of the skin and hair, will be sent free on application to Foster Drug & Chem. crecent in front of the buildings, thus providing a vista unsurpassed by anything of the like in the great continental centres, and at an expenditure which would be quite easily provided for on a par with the suggestions proposed by the mayor in conjunction with the other schemes.

"To illustrate the suggestion, we beg to enclose a rough diagram of this proposal.

"The association would have preferred to enclose a perspective diagram showing the whole proposition, but cannot do so in the short time at its disposal.

"After your perusal of these expressions, the association will be most happy to send a representative body to discuss with the council the possibilities and details of either of the schemes mentioned herein, as the association is very deeply interested in the matter and most desirous of rendering to you every possible assistance in your endeavor to make Victoria the true 'City Beautiful'.

"We are, gentlemen, yours faithfully, THE ARCHITECTS' ASSOCIATION OF VICTORIA.

"P. Leonard James, Hon. Sec." Aldermen H. M. Fullerton and Bishop expressed the view that the proper place for the civic centre was Pandora avenue.

Ald. Peden moved that the Architects' Association be thanked for its work and invited to send a representative to the council to discuss the matter at the special meeting which will be called for the purpose on Friday next.

THE VERGIN COMMUNITY.

About eleven years ago some 3,000 Doukhobors sought a home in Canada. The worldly possessions of these Russian refugees were not very much in evidence, and it was a moot question with many who met them whether they would ever make good in their new home. But the Winnipeg Free Press tells us that the Doukhobors' possessions are now counted in six figures, and M. W. Casakoff, general manager of the Doukhobor community at Vergin, says that this year fully $1,000,000 would pass through his hands. In addition to this the $185,000 given them by the Quakers of Great Britain and the United States has all been refunded. Around the Vergin headquarters are clustered 35 Doukhobor villages. These have now 100,000 acres of land, and the government has also loaned them 100,000 acres more on a 40-year period. All the property and money of this community is in the name of the leader, Peter Vergin, who is now in British Columbia superintending the establishment of the Kootenay-Columbia preserving wood at Eastport and Nelson. "Thousand Doukhobors have already moved to British Columbia, and others will go this fall. This year the Vergin colony has 10,000 acres in crop, 7,000 in oats and 2,000 in wheat. They have also a brickyard, which this year will export about 1,000,000 bricks. In addition they have a mill which puts out 200 barrels of flour and 100 barrels of oatmeal daily. Evidently the Doukhobors are beginning to "fit in."—Christian Guardian.

CHINESE KIPLINGS. (Montreal Witness.)

"The Chinese have their Kiplings and their 'Stars.' The government of China is running a railway up to China's innermost province, the garden of the Yangtze—a province with a population of seventy million people. These seventy million have been content hitherto to do their commerce with the outer world by human portage, and by river boats, on the navigable reaches of the river, which below there is perturbed by fierce rapids. When this railway is built the porters and the boatmen will be out of employment. The railway is being built with foreign money—a safer investment could not be. So a mighty wall has been raised that the foreigners are taking possession; that the country is being annexed by the United States, Great Britain and Germany; and the people are up in revolt against the railway which will double the value of everything they have. They are being told by the Van Hornes of Szechuen that they should not be controlled by a few cents on their rice, wheat and corn when the Manchus are selling their country to the foreigners, and they have risen in patriotic revolt, with the

MENTAL PHOTOGRAPHS.

Recording Rays From the Human Body.

Major Dargat, who has made a prolonged study of the "X"-rays which issue from the human body, has, it is reported, succeeded in obtaining some curious photographs by their aid.

With the object of ascertaining whether it was possible to procure a photographic record of mental images he shut himself up in a dark room illuminated by a red light. He first fixed himself in a sitting position and then concentrated all his thoughts on a photographic plate in a developing bath into which he also plunged his hand. In a quarter of an hour the walking stick was reproduced on the plate, and a similar experiment with a bottle was quite as successful. Each photograph was obtained in the presence of half a dozen witnesses. London Mail.

Fort George

... will be one of Canada's largest cities. Because it is the geographical and strategic commercial centre of British Columbia.

The junction of 1,000 miles of navigable waterways.

So situated that all railroads building through Central British Columbia—north, south, east or west—must build to Fort George following the waterways.

Fort George is on the line of eleven railroads chartered—some building.

British Columbia is Canada's largest and richest province.

The best part of British Columbia is tributary to Fort George.

When comparing Fort George to any other city it is only necessary to point out that Fort George has all resources of any of the prairie cities in the way of agricultural possibilities of the country tributary to it in addition it has an immense timber area, assuring the development of the lumber industry.

Coal has been discovered within ten miles of Fort George and it is the supply point for the great Cariboo gold district which has produced one hundred million dollars to date.

A 1000 horse power water-power is within sixteen miles, thus insuring cheap power for manufacturing purposes.

No city in Western Canada can class with Fort George in regard to richness and extent of natural tributary resources.

In making your investments don't overlook the fact that all the new cities cannot be Winnipegs of Vancouver.

There will be a repetition of Winnipeg's growth—of Vancouver's financial triumphs.

In casting around for the next young giant among cities you cannot get by Fort George.

REPORT ON FIELD CROPS IN CANADA

Per Cent Condition at End of August Higher Than at Same Time Last Year

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—A bulletin on field crops in Canada, issued yesterday, gives their average condition by provinces at the end of August, together with estimates of production of spring wheat, oats and barley at that time. Per cent condition of wheat is given as 86.80, of oats 84.44, and of barley 84.73, which is about 5 to 7 per cent higher than last year and nearly the same as two years ago. Other crops range in condition from 80 to 86 per cent, and are generally somewhat larger than in 1909 and 1910. The ratio of August harvested the ripening of grain and some injury was caused by hail storms, low temperature and rust. Towards end of month frosts prevailed in many sections of the Northwest provinces, the full extent of which could not be determined at the date of reports, but in case of wheat, oats and barley the production was lowered by probably 12 per cent. In the older provinces grain ripened earlier and little damage was sustained excepting from drought in some localities, and the reported condition was 75 or over.

The average yield of spring wheat is estimated at 19.14 bushels per acre for the Dominion, which is 7 bushels more than last year, and the total yield at 186,928,000 bushels.

For wheat was reported last month at 17,706,000 bushels, being grown almost wholly in Ontario and Alberta. The total wheat yield of the country is therefore estimated to be 204,634,000 bushels, or $1,849,000 bushels more than last year at the same date. The average yield per acre is 19.50 bushels or 4.30 bushels per acre more than last year. For the Dominion the yield of oats is given as 368,153,000 bushels, which is $4,906,000 bushels more than last year's estimate at the same date, and the average at 35.81 bushels per acre yield more than last year. The 7.10 bushels average for barley is also higher than last year by 7.31 bushels, and the total yield is estimated at 31,555,000 bushels, as against 30,388,000 bushels for last year.

The estimated yield of spring wheat for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta this year is 181,535,000 bushels, of fall wheat 3,180,000 bushels, of oats 204,590,000 bushels, and of barley 30,205,000 bushels, as compared with 182,000,000 bushels of spring wheat, 1,632,000 bushels of fall wheat, 202,201,000 bushels of oats and 14,723,000 bushels of barley in the previous year.

In Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick the estimated yield of spring wheat is 1,453,000 bushels, of oats 16,000,000, and of barley 472,000 bushels. In Quebec 1,770,000 bushels of spring wheat, 41,819,000 bushels of oats, and 2,389,000 bushels of barley; and in Ontario 2,263,000 bushels of spring wheat, 141,512,000 bushels of fall wheat, 102,077,000 bushels of oats, and 18,528,000 bushels of barley.

The final estimates of last year printed in the December monthly report gave the production for the country as 164,630,000 bushels of fall wheat, 138,419,000 bushels of spring wheat, 323,449,000 bushels of oats, and 45,141,000 bushels of barley.

and only a very moderate yield of corn is expected. In south central Europe, the small cereals though not so abundant as last year, have been better than average quantities. The corn crop promises well. In Russia the yield in both wheat and rye probably were much smaller than in the past two years. Barley promises a good crop and in corn a bountiful yield is assured.

In Argentina recent general rains throughout the grain belt have strengthened confidence in the outcome of the future harvest. The areas under wheat, flaxseed and oats are 4 per cent, 2 per cent, and 12 per cent, respectively, larger than last year, making a record for acreage.

Given favorable conditions a good wheat crop in Chile seems assured. Australian wheat acreage is said to show a slight increase and the prospects are favorable for a good crop.

In British India conditions have improved, but the rain still is lacking in some districts. An official report upon the acreage planted to cotton in 1911-12 in districts which usually have 50 per cent of the total, estimate the area at 11,356,000 acres, against 12,215,000 acres in the same territory last year, or a decrease of 7 per cent. The condition of the crop was reported as exceedingly bad in the Junjab and Rajputana districts, owing to the prolonged drought, elsewhere the crop was fair to good. Heavy rains have fallen in the Junjab and southern Rajputana districts.

OUR LETTER BOX
MEN WANTED.

To the Editor:—I see by the papers that there is a large number of men around Victoria looking for work. We are in urgent need of men in all our camps on the Canadian Northern, from Parsons Bridge to Sooker Lake, and can use about seven hundred and fifty men. We have fine camps, and are anxious to keep them going, but many have to close down soon owing to the scarcity of labor. I should be obliged if you will give this letter as much publicity as possible. The wages are from $2.50 a day up. E. A. MORRISSEY, Milne's Landing, Sept. 13, 1911.

A PROPERTY OWNER'S OPINIONS. To the Editor:—As a recent arrival in this city who has invested in real estate, and therefore desirous of seeing the city go ahead, will you kindly permit me to say a word on the political situation which particularly at this time appears to me to have so great bearing on the future of the city?

I care nothing for either Mr. Templeman or Mr. Barnard personally, any more than for any other stranger, but as I have invested my all in Victoria, I am exceedingly anxious to see the city prosper. As the return of the Laurier government seems assured, I cannot see what Mr. Barnard can get for Victoria. I do not know the gentleman, and I am not going to say that he will not try hard to help me, but no matter how I can get anything.

On the other hand, we have a distinct promise from Mr. Templeman of an undertaking which will make Victoria a world port, and as the millionaires always look out for number one, I am going to do the same thing and vote for Mr. Templeman. I have no objection to Mr. Barnard's way, but he would never do anything anyway. Being a stranger here, I couldn't say as to the truth of this, but my reply is that I cannot see how we can get anything through Mr. Barnard and we have at least the hope of getting something through Mr. Templeman.

I want my real estate to go ahead. NEWCOMER, Victoria, B. C., Sept. 15, 1911.

A SUPPRESSED LETTER. Herewith is reproduced a short letter addressed by Mr. R. L. Drury to the Colonist, which it has declined to publish. The Colonist states that as "it may not be convenient to print the letter itself we will state here what the purport of it is."

Proposition of Unquestioned Merit

"We wonder if the reader of this paper realizes that to-day on the Pacific Coast the production of coal does not equal the demand by many thousands of tons.

San Francisco to-day is importing from Japan and Australia 200,000 tons of coal annually. Many thousands of tons of coal are shipped from Wales to the Pacific Coast.

The great undeveloped coal areas of British Columbia, if properly developed, are sufficient to supply the demand for coal on the Pacific Coast for many years to come.

Many men in British Columbia are just coming to a realization of the fact that, lying at our very door, are immense coal areas, which if properly financed and developed will bring untold wealth to those whose wise forethought will take advantage of the opportunity now presented in this field.

The vast coal fields of Graham Island offer to the investors of British Columbia many advantages from the coal mining point of view, some of which are unequalled on the Pacific Coast.

Among these natural advantages are:

1st. The splendid, land-locked, deep-water harbors.

2nd. The vast unlimited market for coal that will be opened up at the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad, now building from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, with Prince Rupert as its Western terminus.

Prince Rupert is fully 600 miles nearer to the Orient than either San Francisco or Seattle, and is destined to become one of the principal shipping centres of the entire Northwest.

Among the splendid coal properties of Graham Island stands out prominently the property of the American-Canadian Coal Company, Limited, lying at the northern end of Graham Island, near Masset Inlet, and about 72 miles almost directly west of Prince Rupert city.

Masset Inlet affords one of the best land-locked deep-water harbors on the Pacific Coast.

Along the foreshore, and standing up in the form of miniature islands, coal crops to the surface, black as ebony, and stretching almost as far as the eye can reach.

In the two main seams of the property of the American-Canadian Coal Company it is estimated that there are twenty-seven millions of tons of coal. Just think of it!

This immense tonnage of coal represents an enormous profit to the shareholders, and is only a portion of the amount of coal the property is likely to contain.

The property is held by virtue of a Crown grant from the Dominion government.

This carries with it, not only the right to the coal in the property, but its surface and timber rights.

Many hundreds of acres of the property of the American-Canadian Coal Company, Limited, are to-day vast wild meadow lands, over which wild cattle have ranged for years, subsisting the year round upon the wild grasses grown there.

These lands are surely destined to become the market gardens for Prince Rupert City.

Captain Wilbur Johnston, the Trustee for the American-Canadian Coal Company, and who is so well known as a man of sterling worth and integrity, for many years a resident of Vancouver, is now offering stock in the American-Canadian Coal Company, Limited, at the low price of 20 cents per share.

The limited block of this stock that has been placed on the market at that price by the Trustee will last but a very short time at the rate that subscriptions are now being taken for the stock at the various offices of the Trustee.

It will be a matter of days only before this will be exhausted, and it will be followed by another block of stock to be sold for at least 25 cents or 30 cents per share.

This represents a sharp advance in the price of this stock in a matter of a few days only.

If you believe in the future of British Columbia; if you believe in the development of her natural resources; if you have a desire to become identified with what is certain to become one of the active shipping coal mines of the Pacific Coast; then you will be justified in taking advantage of this ground floor offer.

REMEMBER, the terms of sale are, for a few days only, 10 cents per share with the application, and the balance in two equal monthly instalments.

No application will be received for less than 100 shares.

REMEMBER, when you have paid 20 cents per share for this stock certificate will be issued showing that the stock is fully paid up and non-assessable.

Call at the office of the Trustee and investigate this splendid proposition.

The Office of the Trustee, Capt. Wilbur Johnston, is situated at 604 Broughton Street, Victoria, B. C., and is open until 9 p. m.

The proceedings were most successful throughout. Mr. Templeman's speech being loudly applauded, particularly his statement on Chinese labor.

The chairman, A. B. Fraser, looked forward to education of the electors as ultimately to displace canvassing (applause) and he believed the Liberals could fairly claim to have carried on an educational campaign on reciprocity during this election.

Duty of the Electors.

F. J. Stackpole, K.C., dealt briefly with the leading issues of the campaign, touching on the points of chief interest to the electors.

He did not feel competent, he said, to delineate the reasons why they should vote for Mr. Templeman, as the electors themselves knew better than himself the sterling qualities of the Liberal candidate.

He reviewed the work of the Laurier government in the fifteen years it has been in power, mentioning that the burden of taxation on the people had been reduced 13 per cent.

He quoted the revenue figures for the year when the Laurier government went into power, and said that Canada had passed through an era of wonderful prosperity under the existing regime.

Reciprocity Commensurate. Taking up a discussion of reciprocity, the speaker quoted Lloyd George as saying that it was sound common sense.

He assured his audience that there was absolutely no truth in the cry being raised by the Conservatives that dismemberment of the Empire would follow the introduction of reciprocity.

He pointed out that unquestionably Sir Wilfrid Laurier was doing a necessary thing, when he provided an easily accessible market for the produce of the Dominion.

Again there was the cry of the Conservative party that cheaper food would mean lower wages.

In regard to the annexation bogey the speaker thought it ridiculous, and to show how silly the arguments advanced in its favor were he quoted the remark made by Prime Minister Asquith to Austen Chamberlain recently.

Concluding, Mr. Stackpole remarked that the electors knew that they could mark their ballots for reciprocity without danger of impairing their loyalty to the Mother Country.

Reciprocity Reasons.

W. W. Baer had a good reception. He remarked, in speaking of the mixture of religion and politics—for that gathering had reminded him more of a church social than of politics—that he did not regret a mixture of the two occasionally.

He had engaged in a debate, and had effectively answered the arguments against reciprocity, for this champion of the opposition did not know that the biggest flour mills on this continent, the Pillsbury-Washburn in Minneapolis, were owned by British capitalists.

The British preference, due to the Laurier government, was just as sound to-day as ever it was, and while of free trade policy of Great Britain permitted binders, for instance, to enter freely into the Old Country from Canada and the United States.

Hon. Wm. Templeman.

"It was a happy inspiration on the part of the gentlemen who organized this meeting to combine a good deal of music with very little speaking, and to call it a Scots concert," said Hon. Mr. Templeman, who was received with resounding cheers.

"I have a strong liking for the Scots character myself. I remember an old Scots miller who came from Ayr and who came from the abbey town of Dunfermline, though I myself never saw the laird of brown heath and shaggy wood.

"I therefore feel quite at home seeing so many Scots faces, knowing that I have, if not their political support, their personal sympathy in the contest now being waged in the city of Victoria for its representation at Ottawa during another parliamentary term.

Reciprocity Issue.

The minister went on to say that while there were other issues here and elsewhere, and while people in Victoria might vote against him because of other issues, reciprocity would determine this general election.

The agreement was simply a mutual agreement whereby certain articles were to pass from each country to the other without paying customs duties, and on others the rates of duty were reduced to a common basis.

Consumer Will Benefit.

It was undoubtedly in the interests of the people of Victoria, particularly as a consuming class, that they should endorse the agreement.

Development of Fisheries.

Mr. Templeman went on to point out that, while reciprocity would benefit the consumers it would be of immense benefit to such industries of British Columbia as the fisheries.

Dealing with the assertion of Conservative speakers that employers contemplated reducing wages, Mr. Templeman declared that no such thing was contemplated.

Chinese Question.

The Colonist day after day, in the hope of confusing the minds of some of the electors of that city, had been repeating statements that he was not in favor of levelling the headtax on Chinese.

"Now," the minister proceeded, "that statement is a deliberate untruth. I cannot put it any stronger, I am not in favor of any tampering with the present tax, unless the Chinese immigration act is made more strong.

amount of the head tax, or in the way of a more rigid and more stringent means of controlling their immigration." (Cheers.)

This was a newspaper charge. He did not associate Mr. Barnard with this miserable newspaper falsehood, repeated day by day, although he had once or twice taken steps to deny it publicly.

"This is the whole question," he proceeded, "some time ago the premier, at a meeting discussed the question of probably amending the Chinese act, to conform more to the method in which we handle the Japanese.

Mr. Stackpole had spoken to them about the record of the government, and his own record was known to the citizens of Victoria during the ten years he had occupied at Ottawa a public position as senator, and then as minister.

To the musical programme the following contributed: Bagpipe selections, Piper Norman Macdonald; songs, J. Dobble; cornet solo, S. D. N. Smeaton; Highland fling and sword dance, Miss Lily Christie, and songs by Robert Morrison, the sweet Scottish singer.

British Canadian Home Builders, Limited

With an authorized capital of $500,000 in $1 shares has been organized to fill a much felt want in Victoria. The Company has its own building department, draws its own plans, builds its own houses, gets the profit from the insurance on every house it builds, and by paying cash for everything gets the benefit of every discount known to the trade.

Shares in British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., at $1 each offer a safe, and at the same time remunerative investment for either the small or large investor.

Companies run on similar lines to British Canadian Home Builders, have proved most profitable for their shareholders, notably The Los Angeles Investment Company, and "Home Builders," Los Angeles. The former has been in business about 15 years and has assets to-day of over $6,300,000.

These figures give you an idea of the possibilities in such a Company as British Canadian Home Builders, and it only remains for you to embrace the opportunity afforded.

There are no promotion shares in this Company, the directors and everyone connected with it paid $1 each for their holdings.

Everyone knows the profit there is in building houses for cash and selling on the instalment plan, and Victoria certainly offers a grand opportunity, as there is a marked scarcity of houses for rent.

Shares of British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., fully paid and non-assessable, may be purchased at $1 cash, or on the instalment plan, 10 per cent cash, and 5 per cent monthly. For example, $10 cash and $5 monthly purchases 100 shares.

It will be the policy of the directors to pay liberal dividends, at the same time building up a strong reserve fund, thereby enhancing the value of the shares.

Purchasers on the instalment plan will receive dividends in proportion to the amount paid in at time dividends are declared.

Now is the time to purchase shares and derive the full benefit of Victoria's present prosperity. Grow with Victoria.

It is always interesting to look behind the outward show for the causes of things; to look below the towering edifice, to inspect the foundation which enables those lofty pinnacles and spires to raise their fragile heads towards the sky. The student of sociology, which, as you know, is the science of social demand, for harmony, grace and elegance of form and outline in the designs for cottages and homes. Everybody who intends building wants a home that complies with architectural laws and is at the same time unconventional and entirely adapted to the individual needs of the family. Out of sand years before our era, built a pyramid and tomb for himself, which he called "The Horizon," because it was to swallow him up as the horizon swallowed his father, the sun, every night. Rather a poetic thought from the very dawn of civilization. The kings of to-day are the business and professional men of every community, the laborers and mechanics—all who add to the world's welfare and industry, and thus, indirectly, to the sum of human happiness. The palaces of the present are the homes of the development, growth, and existing conditions, is always interested in knowing the why and wherefore of things; hence, the existence of the sciences which his many devotees and patient students in all places. One of the most interesting modern social developments, from the architect's point of view, is the increasing the chaos of formless, aimless designs for homes, which once sufficed the builder, a science of domestic architecture has been developed which has no parallel in the history of the world. Time was when kings built pyramids and palaces that their names might not perish from the memories of men; an Egyptian king, who flourished a couple of thousand people. They may not be as costly as the edifices of priceless marble and priceless mosaics, which have been accepted sovereigns of a people, but that is no reason why the resources of art should not be lavished upon them. Even the smallest house can be truly beautiful, for beauty does not depend upon size, nor upon costly materials; but upon proportion, upon skilful handling of light and shade, and upon the way the design is adapted to its surroundings.

The improvement of transportation facilities has the world over had the effect of widening the radius of every city. Not so long ago, that is to say, before the adoption of the electric railway systems and elevated roads, every city was necessarily limited in its area. Only people who owned horses and carriages and had plenty of time for making the necessary journeys to and fro, could afford to live five miles away for their business interests in the city. In those days many merchants lived over their stores, brought up families there, and were finally buried from the boot shop, or the tailor shop or the wigmakers, as the case might be. But steam and electricity have changed all this, and to-day the prosperous merchant who lives over his store is, indeed, a rara avis.

The apartment house is an attempted reversion to an essentially old-fashioned way of living. Despite all its conveniences and comforts it does not tend to fasten and strengthen the bonds of love and sympathy which serve to knit the family closer together. Every family should have their own home—only thus can character be developed, and full enjoyment be obtained from all the pleasures and privileges of life.

The design accompanying this article, is admirably adapted for erection on a suburban lot of almost any size. It is admirably proportioned, with a steep roof, which Ruskin says is a desirable element in domestic architecture, tending to enhance the natural air of welcome, good cheer and hospitality which should surround every dwelling. The ground floor, also, is separated from a cosy den by a spacious hall, in Princess Theatre.

"Roanoke" all this week has played to large and enthusiastic audiences. Commencing on Monday, "Tennessee's Pardner," a western drama, will run all next week.

Manager Williams has received many requests for a western play, and has chosen "Tennessee's Pardner" as one of the best. It has a splendid plot, with a good vein of comedy, and is entirely different from anything the Williams company has yet produced.

Empress Theatre.

John R. Gordon, who has successfully supported Mrs. Leslie Carter and other notable stars, will be seen at the Empress the coming week in a farce, rich in its comedy lines and situations, called "What Would You Do?"

The act of Sheek and D'Arville that supports the headliner at the Empress next week is described as a skit with many angles. They introduce dancing, singing, character changes and gymnastics, coming over the whole route of vaudeville almost. The act was booked

The fifth act is a dancing performance by Kramer and Ross, two boys who have left musical comedy to do the Sullivan and Considine houses, and who are making success for themselves. The Empress and the orchestra programme complete the Empress bill for next week.

Sousa and His Band.

It has been said that the music is not the only remarkable feature of the success of Sousa and his band. A great deal of this success is due to the conductor himself, who is most interesting in his style. He begins quietly enough, though his direct, almost abrupt, methods and total absence of fuss, attract from the very first. But as he proceeds he assumes as many gesticulations with his hands and arms as a graceful ballet-dancer. His left hand in itself tells a story. At one time he is describing a circle with it high in the air; at another, when encouraging a series of chords from the basses he resolutely pulls it back with each chord, as if drawing an organ stop. When he wants a crescendo, he works both arms vigorously at his sides as if managing a pump, and thus helps the big sound along tremendously.

A favorite attitude of his is to incline his body sideways, and sweep his baton around much after the fashion of a man who is mowing thistles with a walking stick. Another is to hold the baton forward at a low angle, and raise it with each note of an ascending scale until it is high above his head. Still another is to poise it in the air and make tremolo signs with it, for soft effects. It is inspiring all the time to notice the attack on his players. A chord is struck at the end of the long, sweeping beat with wonderful precision, as if one man only was responding.

The personal equation is obviously a material factor in the success of this remarkable man. It is good to see him thoroughly warmed to his work, conducting one of his famous marches, as he swings both arms around in a big which would give him a keen appetite with which to eat one for breakfast. In particular, he hates the man in "the house next door," who owns the estate that was once his, with whom he is now a tenant and to whom he does not pay rent regularly, because he has not the wherewithal to pay. The man in the house next door represents everything that is the opposite of the Jew-hating baronet. He represents genius, thrift, achievement, modernity, liberality, gentleness, as against the pride of birth, reckless self-indulgence, impotent failure, ruined feudalism, inveterate prejudice and a tyrannical spleen which has made the life of his family miserable.

And yet the Jew is modest, generous, philanthropic. He lets his neighbor continue on his estate without paying rent. He is constantly engaged in deeds of kindness. He is, in a word, broad-minded, efficient, tolerant, charitable, a modern gentleman who, because of his race, is hated, and because of his success, is the object of this hatred intensified. The son and daughter of the grouch Jew-hating baron are in love with the daughter and son of the genial and liberal Sir Isaac, newly knighted. The children of the baronet are modern. The daughter has not spurned work, so as to help provide the necessities of life, and the son has just made his success as an opera singer in Covent Garden, and is full of the spirit of the world's conquest. He has brushed aside all aristocratic notions as cobwebs. He is not ashamed to make his living and a hundred pounds for singing at the house of Sir Isaac; he not only does not take it as an insult, but as a kindly deed.

The Jewish children of the house next door, playmates of the baronet's son and daughter from childhood, are willing to unite the two houses by marriage. Only the fathers stand in the way. Fathers, as the young singer has it, "have had their feelings." The play makes the baronet, Sir John Cotswold, stand out unyielding in his hatred for Jews and for Sir Isaac in particular, and this hatred is intensified by the prospect of the marriage which he uncompromisingly refuses to sanction. The Jew is represented at first as unwilling, because of his race pride, and then, ready to sacrifice his feelings for the sake of the happiness of his children.

Coronation in Color. The possibilities of color photography have been discussed but there is now a possibility of seeing for one's self what it all means. The kinemacolor is coming! We are to be given a chance to see the coronation pageant in all its wealth of color, glory of historic characters, splendor of military power, every detail of decoration and beauty of the greatest city in the world. The kinemacolor exhibition will open on Friday, September 22, at the Victoria theatre and will be here all through the following week.

While of course the coronation is the great event which the kinemacolor pictures illustrate, there are others. In reviewing a recent exhibition of the pictures in Toronto, the World said: "In an age of miracles the family of wonder is almost stunned, yet in all the miracles that have occurred since the beginning of the new age in 1897, the kinemacolor makes the most dramatic demand on one's senses of the market."

Here is the vision of the prophet and the clairvoyant materialized, the actual mirror held up to nature, the dreams of the memory bodied forth to be seen again and again as one pleases. "The coronation procession is seen just as those who stood on the streets of London. As the mounted band swung past, the royal state coach came in sight with its eight cream-colored horses—the orchestra struck up the national anthem, and a wave of local patriotism swept through the Princess theatre last night. The applause was tremendous, just as though the King could hear it, and His Majesty and the Queen bowed and smiled as though they did hear it. The scene at Temple Bar was as real as though one stood beside the Lord Mayor. And all the other multitudinous scenes with their bright color, flashing arms, puffed ranks, glittering horsemen and ever-varied military men, were in no way inferior.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier was quite recognizable as he drove past at the close of one film. The views of normal London surpass anything ever before shown. The Northwest Mounted Police were very fine—views of peers and peeresses leaving Chelsea for Westminster excited keen attention and there was at least one typical British naval scene, and the last series of flower pictures elicited unbounded enthusiasm. In some respects they were the most wonderful of all. It is impossible to deny consciousness to plants after seeing these flowers by human device teared out of their slow process of thought, and the development of a week crowded into a few seconds one realizes for the first time that the flowers are alive."

Nothing but a visit to the kinemacolor pictures will convince anyone that what is said of them is not exaggerated. But there can be no exaggeration, one simply sees reality. The entertainment lasts two hours, during which time over fifteen thousand feet of film is shown. "Jumping Jupiter," A great comedian at his best, catchy music, pretty girls, beautiful costumes and a model musical comedy cast are among the features of merit promised in the first appearance here of the famous comedian, Richard (Himself) Carter in "Jumping Jupiter," at the Victoria theatre on September 23.

MISS D'ARVILLE

Of Sheek and D'Arville, appearing at the Empress Theatre in a variety act next week.

"Jumping Jupiter," which is said to be the funniest musical play of the season, has kept audiences laughing for the past months, and it is certain to duplicate that success here. Among those who participate in the entertainment in the support of Mr. Carter are Edna Wallace Hopper especially engaged, and many others, including a bevy of pretty girls.

"The Girl in the Taxi," "The Girl in the Taxi," which comes to the Victoria theatre shortly, has a supper scene that is filled with interest and laughs from start to finish. The manner in which Bertie Stewart, the youth who is "dining out" with a young lady for the first time, manages to buy a fifty-dollar supper with but ten dollars in his pocket is one of the most original comedies in this rapidmost importation from Paris. It might be mentioned that Bertie raised the ten dollars by pawning his father's suit of clothes. In the cast can be found many well-known players.

"In Old Kentucky," "In Old Kentucky" is announced for October 11 at the Victoria theatre. A wonderful success has been achieved by this play. It is on the boards season after season with no diminution of patronage. In fact it is said that the returns are greater from the present-day performances than when the play was in the heyday of its youth. It certainly holds its own with the best of the newer offerings of the day. A cast of unusual excellence is ever maintained and a scenic production of particular merit is always provided.

Miss Mildred Johnson, who has achieved great success in the role of the mountain lass in the last two seasons of "In Old Kentucky," has been re-engaged for this year, and the customary assortment of quaint little colored lads composing the pickaninny band will be seen in their songs, dances and band selections.

CLIFF ADVENTURE.

The London visitor in Devonshire who had a long and painful ordeal at the use of the Salcombe cliffs recently recovered sufficiently to start on a long country walk. He had climbed nearly to the bottom of the cliff when his nerve suddenly failed him, and, unable either to descend or ascend, remained on the cliff, until exactly twenty-four hours later, a farm laborer named John Pyne heard his cries and rescued him in a half-conscious condition. Pyne stated that the visitor was staying at his mother's cottage at Malborough, and it was because of his long absence that he (Pyne) went in search of him. He was attracted to the cliffs by seeing a small fishing boat signalling to him that someone was in danger on the cliffs, and descending he discovered the person he was in search of.

BANK ROBBERS STILL AT LARGE

POLICE ADMIT THEY ARE WITHOUT CLUE

It is Now Believed Only Three Men Were Implicated in Robbery

New Westminster, Sept. 16. — No definite clue—that is the sorrowful admission this morning of police officials here after a day and a night fruitless search for the men implicated in the most colossal robbery in the history of Canada. A quarter of a million dollars were taken by safebreakers from the Bank of Montreal and so far there is no clue.

and Pickerton men for the insurance companies, started to work on the case yesterday afternoon and several Vancouver detectives have joined in the search. In their scouring of the countryside late yesterday the police encountered one man who thought he heard an automobile pass at great speed in the night. But nothing further could be learned of this incident, though the police made diligent inquiries all the way from New Westminster to Vancouver.

One hundred and fifty thousand dollars of the loot was in new $5 and $10 bills, which the robbers will have some difficulty in passing. Of the entire booty the most valuable from the robbers' standpoint will probably be a bunch of bills of different banks amounting to $35,000, and of these packages there is absolutely no record.

It is thought by those who have examined the safe that it was drilled. The detectives have a theory that a small charge was first used to loosen the door to a slight extent and then a good-sized charge was let in behind the door, with the result that it was blown completely off its hinges. After the explosion they loaded all the money in a blanket, pulled it into the bedroom and divided the spoils.

The detectives are also of the opinion now that the three men seen by the Chinaman were the only ones concerned in the robbery. They think that one man manned the lookout ladders in turn, while the other two—the smaller men—blew the safe. A curious fact in support of this is that the men undoubtedly divided the money amongst themselves and apparently into three packages. Each would have had about forty pounds in weight of gold to carry besides large packages of bills. There were three distinct impressions on the bed showing where the men had been sitting when they divided the coin. In digging out the masonry wall not more than two men could have occupied at a time and two could probably have handled the blowing operation as well as half a dozen.

The fact that they divided the swag into three portions is rather against the theory that they escaped in an automobile. If they had a machine standing near the bank the obvious course would have been for them to have piled the stuff into the car and get away as soon as possible. The most remarkable proposition, the police declare, is to suppose that each took a portion of the fortune and separated.

It is not likely that the burglars had more than an hour's start. When the Chinaman, who had been used in the basement, got away the first policeman he found was Officer Bourke, who found the interior of the bank still filled with smoke when he entered. He immediately telephoned for the chief and the manager of the bank and the office was still suffocating when they arrived.

The money stolen includes in $10 notes numbers 492001 to 493000 series A, B, C and D inclusive, numbers 501001 to 502000 inclusive, series C, in $5 bills numbers 82001 to 82099 inclusive, series A, B, C and D; numbers 827001 to 828000, series A, B, C and D; 802001 to 802999 inclusive, series A, B, C and D; 829001 to 830000 inclusive, A, B, C and D; and $10001 to $150000, series A, B, C and D.

The Bank of Montreal to-day offered a reward of $5,000 for the capture and conviction of one or more of the robbers. The bank will also allow a bonus

THE WAGE EARNER'S POINT OF VIEW

The issue in this campaign is not the hypocrisy of those who charge the Times with making special plea to the workman in this campaign and in the same breath deliberately misstate, mislead, falsify and attempt to frighten the wage earners against the reciprocity proposals. But in view of these attempts to stampede the electorate by gross misrepresentation it may be well briefly to consider one or two phases of the subject as it affects wage earners.

If the government offered the moneyed interests who are opposing reciprocity an additional protection of say 20 per cent, do you think the moneyed interests would be at all alarmed if the wage earners were to say, "Don't do it; goods will be so high we can't afford to buy and your factories must close down." Do you think for a moment that the moneyed interests would refuse to accept the additional 20 per cent protection? The question answers itself, and yet when the government offers cheaper food for everybody an attempt is made to frighten the wage earners into refusing to accept the offer of cheaper food on the ground that it will reduce wages.

The moneyed interests always buy in the cheapest markets, never pay any more wages than they are compelled to pay, and charge the highest price the market will permit. This is now a business proposition for the wage earner to decide. He can buy cheaper food with the same or higher wages, and he is not at this time going to throw away the opportunity to do so.

We are not going to say that the moment reciprocity passes the wage earner will get 25 cents, 50 cents or $1 a day more for his labor, but we do say that reciprocity will at once stimulate trade conditions, that trade creates greater prosperity, that employment of more labor means higher wages, so that with higher wages and lower cost of living, the wage earner to-day has an opportunity to improve his condition which if rejected may never come again. Further, and this point cannot be too strongly accentuated, a rejection of reciprocity would not alone mean the rejection of "cheaper living," but it would mean the acceptance of dearer living. The rejection of reciprocity would not alone mean the rejection of cheaper living, but it would mean the acceptance of dearer living. The rejection of reciprocity would mean a victory for the moneyed interests, the carrying out of a policy of additional protection and an increased cost of living. Do not overlook this for a moment, as the Conservative party is absolutely committed to higher protection for the men who are financing their campaign.

WHISKEY HOLDS ITS VICTIMS

Until Released by Wonderful Samaria Prescription.

Liquor sets up inflammation and irritation of the stomach and weakens the nerves. The steady or periodical use of a drinker is often forced to drink even against his will by his unnatural physical condition.

Samaria Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the general health and makes drink actually distasteful and nauseous. It is tasteless and odorless, and given with or without the knowledge of the patient.

Thousands of Canadian homes have been saved from misery and disgrace by some devoted wife, mother or daughter through this wonderful Canadian remedy. The money formerly wasted in drink has restored happiness, home comforts, education and respect to the families formerly in want and despair.

Read the following, one of the numerous unsolicited testimonials received:

"I can never repay you for your remedy. It is worth more than life to me. My husband has been offered liquor several times, but would not touch it. He said it had no charm for him now. May God's choice blessings ever rest on you, and yours, are my prayers ever. No one knows it but those who have tried it. As soon as I can I will see others that I know would give anything to stop their husbands from drink. I will give them your address."

"Mrs. K., Dewinton, Alta."

(Name withheld on request.)

Now, if you know of any family needing this remedy, tell them about it. If you have any friend or relative who has formed or is forming the drink habit, help him to release himself from its awful clutches. Samaria Prescription is used by Physicians and hospital.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription, with booklet, giving full particulars, testimonials, price etc., will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. Correspondence accepted confidential. Write to-day. The Samaria Remedy Co., Dept. 15, 49 Colborne St., Toronto, Canada. CITY'S MILK SUPPLY IS BEING EXAMINED

Interesting Report is Given Council by the Medical Health Officer

An interesting report on the milk supply of the city of Victoria was furnished the city council at its meeting last night by Dr. G. A. B. Hall, the medical health officer for the city. In it he stated: "We have had samples of milk taken from every vendor of milk in the city and have had the samples analyzed by the government analyst both for adulteration with water and drugs. Twenty-eight samples out of the thirty-two submitted have been reported on and a copy of the report returned by the analyst is attached herewith. Four samples are not yet reported owing to the illness of Mr. Carmichael, the analyst. So far no adulteration with drugs has been found, but seven of the samples are below standard in fat and nine are below standard in total solids. The standard is set by the Dominion Government, which is as follows:

Fat, 3.25; milk solids other than fat, 8.50; making total solids, 11.75. Some of the best authorities on artificial infant feeding place the standard for cow's milk as follows:

Fat, 4; sugar, 4.50; proteids, 3.50; salts, .75; total solids, 12.75; water, 87.25.

This is a matter deserving the careful consideration of your honorable body, as individuals suffering from many diseases, as well as hundreds of infants, have to depend entirely on milk for nourishment, which really means that their lives depend on it. It will cost the city close on $200 to have these analyses made, and in my opinion those who are below standard should be proceeded against, as the government standard is quite low. I am not submitting the names of the persons from whom the samples were taken in order that it may not be said that the council acted with prejudice or showed partiality in arriving at their decision. I will submit the names to your honorable body after my report has been dealt with.

It is my intention to have a thorough milk inspection from time to time. If the council wish to pass a resolution authorizing me to take possession of any time and space any person who may be selling milk which is below standard, it will simplify matters.

The report also stated that the buildings at the isolation hospital are now completed, and that it will be in order for the city to take over the same in accordance with contract. The Doctor also expressed the opinion that measures should be taken for fighting fire on the premises at the isolation hospital. In consultation with the fire chief he was advised that fire extinguishers, two in the administration building, two in the double building, and one each in the other buildings, should be installed. He therefore took the opportunity of recommending the adoption of this suggestion.

This latter part of the report was referred to the city engineer for a report upon the cost of the proposed installation of the fire extinguishers.

CRITICIZES KIPLING

(Chicago Tribune).

As a statesman Rudyard Kipling is the greatest short story genius of his time. Nevertheless his letter to the Canadians in opposition to reciprocity will influence votes. It is a pity.

Mr. Kipling in matters of international law has a highly excitable imagination, and as an imperialist whose great literary gifts have not saved him from chauvinism, nothing is more natural than that he should be ringing the alarm bells for Canada.

His letter is, however, merely the statement of opinion sharply edged with his dislike for the American people. There is no reasoning in it and precious little reason. He does not explain how an exchange of commodities with the United States is going to swamp the superior moral qualities of the Canadian. He does not explain why the fact that "Canada is a nation why the fact that 'Canada is a nation' should militate against her making a treaty of reciprocal trade with us.

Mr. Kipling should be told by intelligent Canadians that they do not intend to sacrifice substantial benefits of commerce to a faded chauvinism. The very fact he cites, that Canada is a great nation and is to be one of the greatest, destroys his alarmist appeal. If the Canadian people are a great nation, as they are, they will not be frightened by jingo bugaboos from entering self-respectfully into a trade treaty with another nation.

As for Kipling's suggestion that Canada may be "compelled to admit reciprocity in the murder rate of the United States," it sufficiently points the cheap, malicious, and irresponsible nature of his letter. To influence production, to encourage race and international bitterness has been a phase of what Mr. Kipling calls patriotism. We hope the Canadian people will not respond. If two great nations cannot dwell together on this continent in self-respect, in amity, and in mutual esteem, if Canada and the United States cannot be mutually helpful and co-operating in all things profitable, then the one or the other or both are not as great as they ought to be.

Street Fight at Bilbao—Food is Becoming Scarce.

Bilbao, Spain, Sept. 15.—The situation here growing out of the general strike continues very grave. Street fighting between troops and the strikers continued throughout the day and the strikers dynamited the Amoralla railroad bridge.

To add to the difficulties in the city, heavy storms have caused floods in the mountain provinces and food is growing scarce.

WITH DRUGGISTS THERE MUST BE NO SUCH THINGS AS MISTAKES.

Public opinion does not permit druggists to make mistakes. Legal qualifications and examinations are insisted on, and mistakes are considered criminal, and are treated as such by the courts.

Further, the mistake of another—even the doctor's prescription—is no excuse for the druggist who compounds a "fatal dose." The law insists that the druggist must know and prevent such errors.

This is a point that gets little thought in Canada because our druggists so fully meet these requirements. Seldom or ever do we hear of one being unfaithful to his trust, and our confidence in them is well placed.

Think of these things when next you are faced with an attack on your druggist's character. You are told sometimes that your druggist by giving you advice as to some package remedy you wish to purchase is actuated only by a desire to give you something inferior on which he makes more money.

Does this seem reasonable? Is it likely he would take such a chance of incurring your ill-will? Might it not be possible, to say the least, that he knows the formula and merits of the article he recommends and the quality of its ingredients, and is anxious to do you a good turn? Think about it. Isn't his advice worth while?

Your druggist knows that within each dandelion-colored package of Nyal's Family Remedies is a medicine of superior value and quality. He will tell you so too if you ask him.

Medals for school sports were presented by Mr. Brown as follows:

Harold Bendroff—1st for high jump under 16, and 2nd for broad jump under 16.

Douglass Drury—1st for broad jump under 14, and 2nd for 100 yards dash under 14.

Manual training certificates won by Douglas Drury, Willie Smillie and Robert Watson were handed to the successful recipients by Mr. McLean.

Miss Lawson presented domestic science certificates to Helen MacQuarrie, May MacLachlan, Dorothy Taylor, Lillian Stewart, Mildred Cuthbert, Edith Edwards, Grace Woodley, Norma Clarke, Nellie Falconer, Donna Kerr, Florence Webster and Hazel Cole.

Rev. T. W. Gladstone presented money awards won for needlework shown at the provincial exhibition to Dorothy Wilson, Mildred Sparks and Lily Widdison.

The final presentation was that of the handsome shield, won by South Park school in competition with all the other schools, by the Lieut.-Governor himself, who had a cordial reception. He was glad to think the children of that school in common with the schools of Victoria, could yield to few in the neat appearance of the children, and it reflected credit on the mothers.

The singing of the patriotic songs they had rendered that afternoon was exceptionally good.

The National Anthem brought the proceedings to a conclusion.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

A man whom I know has recently obtained a position as an "efficiency engineer."

Do you know what that means?

It means that his duties are to carefully and scientifically study the whole workings of the various plants in which he is employed and tell their owners in just what ways they are losing efficiency.

He will tell one man that he ought to abolish roll top desks because his clerks are wasting time behind them.

He will tell another that his machinery could be arranged so as to save his men's time.

He will suggest to another that he might save money by utilizing some by-product which he is allowing to go to waste.

When the efficiency engineer's recommendations are followed the firm which employs him often saves many thousand dollars a year.

Now how many hundreds of thousands, nay hundreds of millions of volts of human energy—or whatever other unit you care to measure energy by—would be saved if every man and woman would be his or her own "efficiency engineer?"

—That's my question!

Each of us possesses a certain given amount of energy. Some have more than others but all have a goodly share.

Our minds and bodies are the plants in which we use this energy.

Our pleasure in life, our characters and our achievements are the products of our manufacture.

Now if each one of us were his own efficiency engineer he would overhaul that plant about once in so often and see in how many ways he was failing to get full results from that energy, in how many ways he was failing to get full results from that energy, in how many ways he could increase his efficiency.

One girl would say—"I am wearing high-heeled shoes which tire me needlessly and take that much away from my pleasure in life and my ability to achieve."

Another girl would say—"I am wearing insufficient clothing in winter. Consequently I have to use my vitality to keep warm and cannot have it for other purposes."

A business man would say—"I am not taking enough exercise. I ride whenever I can whereas I ought to walk. The result is that my brain does not do as good work as it could."

A house mother would say: "I do not get outdoors enough and the lack of fresh air and change of scene makes me cross and nervous and incapable of enjoying my family and my work as I ought."

An apprehensive and nervous person would say: "I waste half my energy in worrying. I will remember that there are two kinds of things not to worry about—those you can help and those you can't, and I will utilize that energy in trying to help those that can be helped."

And now—if by any chance you should decide that your plant needed overhauling and should engage your self as YOUR efficiency engineer, I wonder what YOU would say?

MILLENNIAL OAK TREE.

A remarkable service, held annually, has taken place under the Goshop Oak at Poolestead, Suffolk. It is the oldest tree in Suffolk, and tradition states that beneath its shadow the first Christian missionaries preached to the Saxons. The tree has a girth of 36 feet, but having parted down the middle, people can walk inside it, though two of its branches are still endowed with vitality. Nearly a thousand persons assembled under it for the annual service, and Dr. Floyd Appleton, rector of St. Clement's, Brooklyn, New York, delivered the address.

OPENING EXERCISES AT SOUTH PARK SCHOOL

Lieut.-Governor Paterson Presents Challenge Shield for Singing Won by School

A pleasant function had been arranged at South Park school yesterday afternoon, when the commencement exercises took place in assembly hall, among those attending being Lieut.-Governor Paterson, Superintendent of City Schools E. B. Paul, Rev. T. W. Gladstone, H. B. McLean, a former member of the teaching staff and now principal of the George Jay school, and J. G. Brown, formerly of the school board.

In the absence of George Jay, chairman of the board, Principal A. A. Campbell occupied the chair, and said that the attendance of visitors was encouraging both to pupils and teachers. He wished to thank the Lieut.-Governor for giving a valuable shield to the schools of Victoria for competition in singing, and also for coming in person to present it to the winning school.

In presenting the matriculation certificates Supt. Paul congratulated the school on its success in singing, and mentioned that he had present in Mr. Brown one who had done much to encourage singing in the public schools of the province.

The certificates were presented as follows: Margaret Anderson, Olive Brethour, Norma Clarke, Mildred Cuthbert, Nellie Falconer, Marjorie Fleming, Marjorie Hirst, Donna Kerr, Ethel Leppington, Dorothy Mackie, Gladys MacDonald, May MacLachlan, Helen MacQuarrie, Annie Smillie,

EXCHANGING FOODSTUFFS UNDER DIFFICULTIES

Table Showing Volume of Trade in Natural Products With Duties Between the Two Countries.

Some very misleading statistics are current as to the interchange between Canada and the United States of foodstuffs. In spite of the high duties on both sides of the line, there is a considerable exchange, showing that at times and places this is profitable, despite the obstacles placed in the way. We have prepared from official sources a table, herewith reproduced, which shows the Canadian exports to, and imports from, the United States in foodstuffs, with the current rate of duties charged by each country:

Article	Canadian Duty.	Canadian Duty Paid from U.S. 1910.	United States Duty	Canadian Duty Paid to U.S. 1910.
Wheat	12c. bu.	$ 55,139	25c. bu.	$1,883,947
Barley	15c. bu.	29,829	25c. bu.	96,928
Oats	13c. bu.	13,829	15c. bu.	524,092
Beef	13c. lb.	75,815	15c. lb.	12,635
Eggs	3c. doz.	177,577	5c. doz.	13,896
Butter	4c. lb.	15,153	6c. lb.	201,989
Sheep	25 p.c.	181,492	75c. to $1.50 ea.	557,094
Pork	25 p.c.	2,140	$1.50 ea.	6,397
Potatoes	20c. bu.	179,549	25c. bu.	304,104
*Green Fruit		1,205,588		304,711

*Canadian schedules on green fruits are: Apples, 40c; berries, 2c lb.; cranberries, etc., 25%; peaches, 1c lb.; pears, 2c lb.; bananas, pineapples, etc., free. The United States duties are: 25c a bushel for apples, peaches, pears, etc.; and berries, 1c per quart.

These statistics of Canadian imports from the United States are taken from a tabulated statement submitted to parliament on March 29, 1911, by Hon. W. Paterson in reply to an inquiry by a member. The figures as to wheat and many other items conflict with those published in Conservative campaign literature, but the above table is official and is correct. It will be seen that the total imports of natural products into Canada for the year 1910 paid duty at $1,257,306 while the exports to the United States for the same year paid $3,961,082. The result is somewhat startling. It shows that the balance of trade in duty on natural products amounts to $2,003,776 in favor of Canada. It will thus be seen that the products which are included in the reciprocity pact and from which the duty is to be removed constitute the chief items of export and from which the duty is to be removed constitute the chief items of export. It will pay the reader to cut this table out and keep it for reference in case of the distortion of facts and publication of false figures so often resorted to by the opponents of reciprocity.

APPEAL OF FIRE ALARM.

Affects Everybody Just About the Same Way.
"Yes," said the man from the rural districts, "you folks here are so very smart and civilized and all that, very different from the slow-moving countryman, but let anything happen that makes you forget yourselves and act natural and I find you're just like us at heart, and more. I feel to hum here right away."

"You talk, for instance, a fire—now there's something, a fire, that affects everybody just about the same everywhere, but I never realized that as I did yesterday right here—I was calling on a man in a building down lower Broadway, his office being in the front of the building. While we were talking about the business that took me (here we heard fire engines in the street, and I, being a countryman, naturally wanted to look out of the window and see, and I did. But the good news gracious! I didn't feel like a countryman any more when I looked down in the street."

"You could hear the shrieking of those engines coming a-scaallyhootin' and that interested me very much, but what interested me still more was to see the people lined up on the sidewalk to see the engines go by. Why, goodness! The minute before that all these people on the sidewalks, bank messengers and bookkeepers and clerks and merchants and brokers and I don't know what not, all had been hurrying ahead in the crowd, each thinking of himself and his highly important business, just a-ploughing along with all the hustle and bustle of this terrible town, everything and everybody fitted to the last degree; and then those fire engines came along, and, say, it was just like it is at home.
"There when there's a fire the people on the sidewalks stop and the people in the grocery store and the dry goods store and the blacksmith's shop run out and stand to see our horse wagon and truck company go by; here the bank messengers and clerks and the merchants and brokers that had been hurrying along on business of such tee-rific importance all forgot it in a minute and just stood on the curbs all lined up seeing the fire engines go by just the same; and when I glanced around up I found mine wasn't the only head sticking out of a window."
"And I liked to see those fire engines, but seeing the people looking at them pleased me more still, because it goes to show that city or country, wherever men may live, people are very much alike after all."
—New York Times.
