VICTORIA, B. C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1912

NO. 106

OVERWHELMING VICTORY FOR THE DEMOCRATS

Governor Woodrow Wilson Will Be Next President of United States—Col. Roosevelt Has Big Majority Over President Taft

The Presidential Vote.

New York, Nov. 6.—On the basis of at least partial returns from every state to-day, the indicated vote of yesterday's balloting was:

Wilson—Thirty-six states, 387 electoral votes.

Roosevelt—Five states, 99 electoral votes.

Taft—Three states, 12 electoral votes.

Doubtful—Four states, 33 electoral votes.

House of Representatives.

Democrats, 267; Republicans, 99; Progressives, 6; districts unreported, 63. Total members, 435.

The foregoing showed the standing at noon to-day of the House of Representatives in the 63rd (New) congress. The total of 347 gave the Democrats 49 more than the 218 necessary for a majority and 27 more than the Democratic membership in the Sixty-Second Congress.

New York, Nov. 6.—Overturning big Republican majorities in states never before captured by Democrats in a presidential election, the Wilson-Marshall ticket was swept into office on the wave of victory that carried with it state officers, congressional seats and the control of a number of legislatures that will have the opportunity to oust Republicans from the United States Senate and add to the Democratic strength in that body. Second only in interest to the overwhelming victory cratic lead, Iowa, given to Roosevelt in the midnight returns, showed a strong reversal of form and this morning partial returns give Wilson a slight lead.

The Roosevelt lead in Illinois showed signs of being reduced as the "downside" precincts came in during the early morning hours.

No efforts were made during the night to compute the popular vote for the presidential candidates. In the majority of states, however, the record vote was larger than at any previous presidential election, and the final returns on the actual number of ballots cast for the three candidates is expected to exceed all records.

The division of the Republican vote between Taft and Roosevelt resulted in a complete Democratic victory in many states. In New York the Democrats carried the state ticket and the legislature. In Illinois the Democratic candidate for governor had apparently carried the state. Democratic senators appeared certain as successors to Republicans from Colorado, New Jersey, Delaware, Montana, and several other states.

A general increase in the Socialist party vote polled by Eugene V. Debs, the presidential candidate, was accompanied by setbacks to the local Socialist organizations in two of their strongholds. In Wisconsin, Congressman Berger, the only Socialist in the House of Representatives, was defeated with a number of other office-holders, and in Schenectady, N. Y., where the party had elected almost a complete local ticket at the last election, practically all of its candidates were defeated.

President-elect Wilson will have behind him a greatly strengthened majority in the national House of Representatives, and on early returns the senator to succeed Senator Biggs, Republican.

Doubtful States.

New York, Nov. 6.—Later.—Without affecting in the slightest the certainty that Wilson and Marshall yesterday captured an overwhelming majority of the electoral vote, conservative estimates at 1 p.m. to-day compelled a transfer to the doubtful column of some states where the results had been recorded as certain. Among these states are Iowa, with 13 votes and Minnesota with 12, and ultra-conservative even included Illinois, with 29 votes and Pennsylvania with 38. At that hour Wyoming's three votes and South Dakota's five had not been placed.

Heavy reductions in the early reports of a large plurality for Roosevelt in Kansas upset all calculations so that at this hour Roosevelt's lead over Wilson was narrowed to 425 votes on returns from about one-fourth of the precincts.

In Illinois the heavy Wilson vote outside of Cook County had reduced Roosevelt's lead to about 15,000 as against the estimated 100,000 or more given late last night upon the Chicago returns.

The Roosevelt supporters declared at 1 p.m. there was no reason to put Pennsylvania in the doubtful list, even though they admitted that early returns of the colonel's plurality probably had been exaggerated.

Wilson Congratulated.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 6.—"I can't realize that it's true," Woodrow Wilson, president-elect, thus greeted to-day visitors who gathered to his house to offer congratulations. Among them were many members of the Princeton faculty.

"I can't realize that it's true," repeated the governor. "It has not quite dawned on me. I have been in an impatient atmosphere for the last three

GOVERNMENT AID FOR STEEL WORKS

PLANT TO BE BUILT AT NEWCASTLE, N. S. W.

Ministry Concludes Fifty Years Agreement With Company —Will Relieve Shortage

Sydney, N.S.W., Nov. 6.—The government of New South Wales has concluded a fifty-years agreement with the Broken Hill Proprietary Company with regard to the establishment of iron and steel works at Newcastle, the second largest city in New South Wales, situated on the coast some 100 miles north of Sydney.

Newcastle is the centre of the great coal producing fields and has an immense trade with all the states and the east. The government agrees to lease a large area of land, suitably situated, on which to build the works, also to dredge the channel, so that the company may construct wharfing accommodation. The establishment of these works, it has been stated, means an expenditure of about $15,000,000, so some idea of the magnitude of the undertaking may be gained.

The policy of the government is strongly in favor of state-owned iron works, but no objections are being placed in the way of private capital seeking legitimate investment. The Proprietary Company owns the immense silver mines situated at Broken Hill, in the extreme west, on the South Australia border.

The coming of these works will help to satisfy an urgent need, as many public and private projects in railways, bridges and buildings are being delayed through a shortage of steel and iron material and the high prices demanded by the alleged international steel pool. The Commonwealth government requires immense quantities of steel rails and girders for the trans-continental railroad now under construction, connecting the South Australian railway system with that of West Australia. These requirements should now be filled by local production, resulting in general prosperity.

ARIZONA FAVORS VOTES FOR WOMEN

All Large Towns in State Declare for Amendment of Constitution

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 6.—Women leaders, who believed up to the moment the polls closed last night that their hopes of gaining the ballot were vain, were jubilant to-day when returns from all the large towns of the state showed substantial majorities in favor of the constitutional amendment granting suffrage. Practically every important precinct in the state voted to invest women with the franchise. The count is progressing so slowly, however, that it is practically impossible to estimate the size of the majority for the amendment.

CANADA RETURNING TO SIR WILFRID

LIBERAL POLICIES GROWING IN FAVOR

Dr. Clark of Alberta and Ralph Smith Speak at Big Rally

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—Pent-up enthusiasm for Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the great cause of battling for Liberalism bursting forth at the conclusion of the stirring speech by Dr. Michael Clark of Alberta, formed the most sensational development of last night's splendid Liberal rally in Dominion hall. Here the three thousand who have not bowed the knee to the Baal of the Bowser-McBride administration in British Columbia assembled at the rallying call of their own party.

Splendid addresses were delivered by Ralph Smith, veteran campaigner of the Liberal cause, and by Dr. Clark, who aroused unbounded enthusiasm with his words on the question of trade and tariff in view of the return of Woodrow Wilson across the border. That the swing of the national pendulum of world-opinion is against high tariffs, and that the hour of the glad return of Canada to the policies of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, both naval and for reciprocal trade, is at hand, was the feeling of both speakers, expressed unhesitatingly and cheered to the echo.

Dr. Clark nearly brought down the house with his clever rally that "in Manitoba the despotic character of the present Conservative regime takes the form of putting men into prison. In British Columbia, on the other hand, the despotic disposition of the same despotic administration takes the form of keeping women out of prison."

At the remark the audience went into a gale of enthusiasm and applause.

Dr. Clark's remarks related particularly to Vancouver and the province of British Columbia, showing the necessity for more actual production of goods in the district, as in all the Canadian west, the need for more ships in Vancouver harbor and for more ships going out deeper and fewer in ballast, aroused further enthusiastic approval.

The Naval Question.
Proceeding to take up the naval question, Dr. Clark strongly favored the Laurier policy, declaring that let Borden delay as he dared, that policy was bound to come and the ships will be built on the British Columbia coast, where the materials are. He had no use for war scares. The nation that first tries to annex Great Britain will be the first, he said, to regret it.

That British Columbia has no Liberal opposition Dr. Clark regretted, but the defect was repaired at Ottawa, where they have a live Liberal opposition, whose leader in force, in standing, in ability in the district, and in personal magnetism is worth the whole government put together.

Altogether the meeting showed a mighty rallying of the Vancouver Liberal strength, and justified Dr. Clark's declaration that he saw in Dominion hall before him the force which was to conquer yet for Liberalism in British Columbia, this veritable citadel, as it seemed, of Conservatism.

"In time of peace, prepare for war," was the keynote of the chairman, R. Deb Farris' introductory remarks. He pointed out that while no immediate election fight was on, nor in sight, and while not the season for politics, the present is an "off season," still the occasion is ripe for active interest in the Liberal cause. To the newcomers he made a special appeal.

To the old members the chairman enunciated again the battle-call to rally the forces, and to spare no effort to spread the principles of Liberalism by every means in their power.

Mr. Smith, who was greeted with cheering, prolonged and renewed, reminded the audience of the sensation of the streets and the states by simply suggesting that the era of democracy seemed about to dawn. With this topical touch he went on to refer in terms of especial tribute to Dr. Clark, whose work for Liberalism had been of immense value, and whose presence on the platform he welcomed. It was strange, he admitted, that British Columbia should have handed over its administration into the power of one man. A clergyman in Vancouver had asked whether the attorney-general should override His Majesty the King. "Why, bless your heart," he exclaimed, "the King is not in it at all. Even the King has to consult his ministers—British Columbia is administered by a czar."

Cheers for Sir Wilfrid.
Very different from the reception accorded the name of McBride, was the ovation given the mere mention of the name of Laurier.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier," began Mr. Smith, and instantly the whole hall burst into cheers. "Sir Wilfrid," he went on, "was defeated in 1911. What was the reason of that? The main reason given was, of course, reciprocity—the policy of a reduction of the tariff barrier between Canada and the United States. As for reciprocity, he would put his own position in a nutshell. "Stand firm," he exclaimed, "for anything that means for Canada a reduction of tariffs." (Cheers.)

Mr. Smith thoroughly disclaimed the theory that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was defeated on the real issue of reciprocity. "If Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal administration were defeated on reciprocity," he declared, "then Canada is peopled by the greatest nation of hypocrites in the world."

Canada's Trade.

Mr. Smith proceeded rapidly to explain that Canada's trade is greatest with the United States. If Canada defeated Laurier on the question of reciprocity, it is then to be understood that Liberals only are the people who trade with the United States (Laughter). He quoted the Conservative press of Vancouver to the effect that only 21 per cent. of Canada's trade is done with Britain, and that "considering the geographical situation of Canada and the United States it is not surprising that Canada should trade with the United States."

"No," exclaimed Mr. Smith, "Sir Wilfrid Laurier was not defeated on the real issue of reciprocity. He was defeated by sentimental flag-waving and its effect was that the people went directly home after voting in a frenzy against reciprocity to trade in cold, hard business frames of mind—with the United States." (Prolonged cheers.)

SUCCEEDS M. J. BUTLER.

D. H. McDougall Appointed General Manager of Dominion Steel.

Sydney, N.S., Nov. 6.—It is announced and officially confirmed by President Plummer of the Dominion Steel Corporation that D. H. McDougall, assistant general manager of the Dominion Coal Company, has been promoted to the general management of that company. This being made necessary by Mr. Butler's resignation, Mr. Butler's duties with the steel company are being conducted for the present by Mr. Martin, general superintendent. Mr. Plummer will not say who is to be appointed as manager of the steel company, although an announcement is expected shortly.

SEEKING MEN FOR CANADIAN NAVY

OFFICER'S MISSION TO THE MOTHERLAND

London Truth Comments on Move Now Being Made to Secure Recruits

London, Nov. 6.—The visit of Lieut. White of the Canadian navy on a recruiting mission here is not passing without comment. It is announced that the mission is necessary because personnel is so low in Canada that it is impossible to obtain local recruits.

To-day's Truth says: "The training of colonial seamen was one argument advanced for local navies. Australia with a smaller population than that of Canada is carrying out her plan so effectively that the Admiralty has just lent two more cruisers, but if at a time when the shortage of our own personnel is so notorious Canadians come here to take the cream of our recruiting stations by offering more tempting terms, they are not contributing much to our sea power."

FACES MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE.

Morden, Man., Nov. 6.—Dr. Erskine, of Searles, N. D., who was arrested charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. William McCleod, of Pilot Mound, was committed for trial on the charge. The accused has made application for bail, but so far this has not been granted. The accused waived all rights of extradition, electing to return and stand trial of his own free will.

NEW TARIFF EXPERT.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—J. H. K. Bristol, appraiser in the department of customs, has accepted the position of tariff expert with the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in Toronto. The position was vacated by R. W. Bredner, who has returned to the government service. Mr. Bristol goes to his new post on December 1.

LOCAL OPTION FIGHT IN ONTARIO

Dominion Alliance Preparing for Contests in Seventy- Eight Municipalities

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 6.—Seventy-eight municipalities throughout Ontario will contest the local option issue on election day, according to the revised list made this morning by Rev. D. Spence, secretary of the Ontario branch of Dominion Alliance. Petitions have been filed with local councils to this effect. Peterboro, with 24 licenses, is in the throes of "dry" war. Twenty towns will take a vote, 23 villages and 24 townships. There are 300 licenses in the 78 districts and the "dry" forces anticipate wiping out the great majority.

AWAITS STATEMENT BY THE PREMIER

SIR WILFRID'S LETTER TO HOHELAGA LIBERALS

Opposed to Fight in Bye-Election Until Government's Policy is Announced

Montreal, Nov. 6.—There will be no contest in Hochelaga unless the Nationalists make a fight. Sir Wilfrid wrote to the local executive yesterday, strongly urging them not to make a fight in this division on the naval policy of the government until that policy has been announced, and his advice will, of course, be acted upon. The letter Sir Wilfrid Laurier sent is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Letourneau.—Our friends of the Liberal Association have come together to choose a candidate on the occasion of the election to be held in the county of Hochelaga, and inform me that before taking the final decision they desire to consult me. Without wishing to impose my way of thinking, but rather to conform to the desire expressed by our friends, I take the liberty to submit to you the following consideration:

"Before his departure for London, and since his return to Canada, the Prime Minister has declared that, after consultation with the Admiralty, he would make known his naval policy to the people of Canada. We do not know as yet of what this policy consists, and notwithstanding the resignation of one of his colleagues, we do not know more than imperfectly the real causes of this disagreement. The session will open in a few days and the government will then have to acquaint us with the negotiations that have been had with the Imperial authorities, the programme agreed upon and the divergence of opinion between the minister who has resigned and his colleague."

"I recognize the desire of the Liberals of Hochelaga to oppose the candidature of the new minister and to show once more their allegiance to the Liberal cause. Our naval policy is known; it has not changed since March 23, 1909. But will it be opportune to take up the fight before knowledge is had of the new policy of the government? I have said many times since the last conference at London that I would await the explanations of the government before discussing their naval policy.

"It is on the floor of the House, when we are in possession of all the documents, that we can pronounce ourselves. To make the fight in the county of Hochelaga on the eve of the session, and with no other information than is furnished by the vague rumors appearing in the press for the last few weeks, would be, to my mind, to prejudice the question.

"It is before parliament that the naval policy may be announced, and in my opinion it is there that it must be judged on its merits and combated if there is need.

"Yours very truly,
"WILFRID LAURIER."

NO VOTES FOR WOMEN IN IRELAND

Suffragettes Declare They Will Organize Demonstrations— Disorder in London

London, Nov. 6.—The suffrage movement suffered a setback in the House of Commons yesterday, when an amendment providing for women suffrage which it was desired to insert in the Irish Home Rule bill was defeated by a large vote.

The suffragettes declare that they will retaliate by organizing outbreaks in Ireland. As a protest against the rejection of the amendment suffragettes went on a rampage in Bond and Oxford streets. They smashed many windows. Two of them were arrested.

ILLNESS OF LORD FURNESS.

London, Nov. 6.—The illness of Lord Furness, whose activities in Canadian shipping circles are well known, is causing grave anxiety.

DELAYED BY GALES.

London, Nov. 6.—The Cunarder Ascania, from Canada, arrived to-day twenty hours late, having encountered fearful gales.

POLICE CHIEF DISMISSED.

Orangeville, Ont., Nov. 6.—Because William Marshall, the chief of police here, did not, in the opinion of the town council, devote enough of his attention to the suppression of illegal liquor selling, he was removed from Monday night.

GREAT BRITAIN AND BALKAN SITUATION

FOREIGN SECRETARY'S STATEMENT IN COMMONS

Rights of the Allies to Dictate the Terms is Not Disputed

London, Nov. 6.—The British attitude in the Balkan situation was explained yesterday in the House of Commons by Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, who was loudly cheered, when in reply to a question he said: "No one, in view of the result of the war up to date, will be disposed to dispute the rights of the Balkan states to formulate the terms on which they are prepared to conclude peace.

"Do not think that the great powers are more slow than were the people to adjust their views to the march of events. The powers are exchanging views in regard to the position in the Near East, but it must be a very delicate matter for them to interfere between the belligerents unless they do so at the request of both."

Asked whether Great Britain could not follow the precedent of Mr. Roosevelt in the Russo-Japanese War, Sir Edward did not reply.

Sir Edward denied that Great Britain had given a warning of any kind to Bulgaria. The movements of British ships and their crews, he said, were precisely similar to those of the other powers, namely, to protect lives. The steps had been taken as a result of communications which had passed between the powers.

IS ACQUITTED.

Montreal, Nov. 6.—Albert Gingras, the returning officer for Matouneuve at the last general election, who was charged with endeavoring to defraud the Dominion government out of $200 by false pretences and also falsifying election returns, was acquitted in the court of special sessions by Judge Bardin. In giving judgment Judge Bardin declared that even though there might have been some changing of accounts it did not amount to a fraud. He said it was the duty of the government in all such cases to prove fraud and the crown, he said, in this particular case did not do so.

MILLWRIGHT KILLED.

Grand Forks, Nov. 6.—J. W. Chambers, millwright at the Western Pine Lumber Co. mill on Smelter Lake, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon. While passing one of the large pulleys his coat was caught in the wheel and before assistance could be rendered was drawn into the pulley and his body badly mutilated. Deceased was about forty years of age and had been working at the mill for only a month. He leaves a wife and family residing in Ontario.

INQUEST ADJOURNED.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 6.—The serious illness of James H. Buller, foreman of the coroner's jury engaged in investigating the death of the late Private Bannatyne, of the Forty-Eighth Highlanders, in the Streetsville wreck, on Thanksgiving Day, has necessitated a postponement of the inquest. Pending developments an adjournment has been taken until Friday evening.

MAIL FOR POINTS IN FAR NORTH

Post Office Department Arranges Service for the Coming Winter

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—The post office department has arranged for a mail service during the coming winter of 1912-13 to Fort Resolution, Fort Macpherson and intermediate points. Mail will leave Edmonton on November 25 for Fort McMurray, Fort McKay, Fort Chipewyan, Smith Landing, Fort Smith, Fort Resolution, Hair River, Fort Providence, Fort Simpson, Fort Wringley, Fort Norman, Fort Good Hope and Fort McPherson. Mail will leave Edmonton December 25 for Fort McMurray, Fort McKay, Fort Chipewyan, Smith Landing, Fort Smith, Fort Resolution, Hair River and Fort Providence; January 25-1913, for Fort McMurray, Fort McKay, Fort Chipewyan, Smith Landing, Fort Smith, Fort Resolution, Hair River, Fort Providence, Fort Simpson, Fort Wringley, Fort Norman and Good Hope; February 24, 1913, for Fort McMurray, Fort McKay, Fort Chipewyan, Smith Landing and Fort Smith. It is necessary to limit the weight of mail matter, and the weight of each letter is to be not more than one ounce. Letters may be registered, but not insured. Expenses will be given first to registered letters and second to ordinary letters, according to date of posting.

GOVERNOR WOODROW WILSON, PRESIDENT-ELECT OF THE UNITED STATES.

of Wilson and Marshall was the strength shown by Col. Roosevelt in Illinois, Pennsylvania and other states. On returns received this morning from states where the result is reasonably certain, it appears that Governor Wilson has 387 of the 531 votes in the electoral college, Roosevelt 99 and Taft 12. Four states with 23 votes are in doubt.

The race between Taft, Roosevelt and Wilson was almost an even affair until more than 135,000 ballots had been counted. As precincts outside the large cities began to report, Roosevelt and Wilson forged ahead and with something like half the vote counted, Roosevelt this morning had a majority of over 20,000.

Minnesota, conceded to Wilson at midnight, later slipped back into the doubtful column as accession to the Roosevelt strength reduced the Democrats apparently have a chance to secure control of the United States Senate.

In Illinois the Progressives and Socialists hold the balance of power in the Legislature which is to select two senators; in Colorado, where two senators are to be chosen, the Democrats are in apparent control, and in the other states later returns may show a shift in the legislative power from Republican to Democratic hands.

Governor Wilson not only carried his own state, New Jersey, by a large majority, but he carried also the states of his opponents, the state of his own running mate, Indiana, and the state of Col. Roosevelt's running mate, California. Control of the legislature in New Jersey assures to the Democrats the choice of Governor Wilson's successor in the gubernatorial chair and the choice of William Hughes, Re-

MOTHER AND SON PERISH.

Montreal, Que., Nov. 6.—Somewhere in the waters of Lake St. Louis there floats the bodies of Mrs. Wm. St. Marselle and her 18-year-old son, of Cascade. In the trousers pocket of the boy is $2142, a sum paid to his mother by Messrs. Haney, Quinlan and Robertson, a settlement of a claim for the death of Mrs. St. Marselle's husband, who died in July last.

On Thursday, October 31, Mr. Rheume paid over to the widow woman ten $100 bills and fourteen $10 bills of the Bank of Commerce issue, and while in the lawyer's office the money was entrusted to the boy for safe keeping. The mother and son were passengers on the ill-fated Cecilia when it foundered on Friday night. Their bodies have not yet been recovered, but it will not be difficult to identify that of the son.

Within a period of fifty years the number of the insane and feeble-minded in the United States has increased 360 per cent. While the population has increased 250 per cent.

MOUNT KATMAI IS NOT IN ERUPTION

Volcanic Ashes Deposited During Last Outbreak, Carried Broadcast by Wind

Seward, Alaska, Nov. 6.—The fall of volcanic ashes in the vicinity of Kodiak two weeks ago was caused by a high wind which blew the ashes deposited by the eruption of Mount Katmai last June over the island, and was not the result of a second eruption of Katmai, as was at first believed.

C. M. McNeil and M. L. Thurston, mining men, who have arrived from Kamachak Bay, west of Mount Katmai, say a high wind from the west raised a great cloud of ash which obscured the sun. Two inches of ashes fell at Kodiak, October 24 and 25.

M. L. Snodgrass, in charge of the government experimenting station, said the air was so thick with ash that objects could not be seen at a distance of 100 feet, and the people on the island believed the volcano was again in eruption. Mining men who saw the first eruption say Katmai has not been active since last June.

LETHBRIDGE POLICE CHIEF.

Tenders His Resignation—Was Under Impression Commission Controlled Department.

Lethbridge, Alta., Nov. 6.—Chief of Police William Davis, recently of Toronto, at a meeting of the city council, submitted his resignation, dated November 2, and asked that it take effect one month from that date.

In speaking of his action, the chief stated that he had come to Lethbridge believing that the department was controlled by a police commission. Finding that not to be the case, he believed that he was within his rights in asking the council to grant him a five-year contract. Unless he could be afforded that amount of protection he did not feel that he was warranted in breaking up his home in Toronto.

He therefore asks the council to consider a five-year contract, and, in the event of this proposal not being satisfactory, to accept his resignation.

WOMEN ATTACK CARMEN.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 6.—Women joined in the violence in connection with the street car strike Monday when a party of more than a dozen attacked a car with bricks, bottles and other missiles. They made their escape before a squad of militiamen arrived. The street railway company announced to-day that in addition to granting an increase in wages it is willing to recognize the local carmen's union, but refused to recognize the amalgamated association.

MORE AMENDMENTS TO HOME RULE BILL

New Irish Parliament Will Have Right to Change Its Constitution

London, Nov. 6.—In the proceedings in the House of Commons, the Home Rule Bill, clause 11, providing for a joint session of both Houses of the Irish parliament in the event of a disagreement, was amended to limit the jurisdiction of the clause to public bills.

An amendment requiring all public bills to be sent to the Irish senate at least one month before the end of the session, was also agreed to.

A third amendment to exclude from the operation of the clause any bill affecting the qualifications of the Irish parliamentary electors, or the right to vote at any parliamentary election, was rejected by 260 to 150.

Sir Harry Samuel moved an amendment to exempt any bill which affected the legislation of either Houses of the Irish parliament, or their relations to each other in the constitution which they are setting up. The new Irish constitution should not suffer, as the Imperial parliament is now suffering under a weakening upper chamber, he said.

The amendment was defeated by 214 to 120.

RAILWAY FIREMAN SHOT BY ROBBER

Highwaymen Rob Wounded Man, Who Dies Few Hours After Shooting

Kamloops, B. C., Nov. 5.—A dastardly murder was committed in this city a few minutes after 9 o'clock Saturday night, when Charles Acheson, a C. P. R. fireman, was fatally wounded by a shot fired deliberately and in cold blood from a revolver in the hand of one of the highwaymen, who held up Acheson and two companions in the yard just east of the brewery. The bullet entered Acheson's back, piercing the lung and stomach. He was removed to the hospital, where he died at 6.30 Sunday morning.

The place where the fatal shot was fired is very dark and as Acheson, in company with Fred Dayton and Carl Brophy, were making their way toward the street they were confronted by three men, who pointed revolvers at their heads and told them to hold up their hands. Brophy obeyed, but Acheson and Dayton, thinking the matter a joke, continued on, Dayton walking ahead, making some laughing remark. Without warning one of the robbers fired, the bullet striking Acheson in the back. The robber then walked down to Dayton, who had stopped, and ordered him to return. While Brophy and Dayton were guarded by one of the men, the other two went through the pockets of the wounded man, taking his watch. The only remark made as they did so, was: "We are sorry, old man, but you ought to know better than to run away."

The robbers then returned to Dayton and Brophy, taking from them $2.35 and were about to pocket the latter's watch when they were told that it had Brophy's initials engraved in it and would incriminate them.

"Are you railroad boys?" asked one of the robbers, and on being told that they were, he remarked to the others: "We've sure made a bull of this."

In the meantime Acheson had risen to his feet and walked to the doorway of a nearby house, where he fell prostrate.

About fifteen constables were on the scene of the killing in a very few minutes, but the three highwaymen had made good their escape. The police have very few clues to work upon. One suspect has been arrested and tells a remarkable story of having been present at the time of the shooting and he also was held up by the trio and knocked unconscious by a heavy blow from one of the robbers. He lay there, he claims, from ten o'clock Saturday until 1 o'clock Sunday morning. The man had a return C. P. R. ticket for Chase but was found stealing a ride on the freight.

TWO MILLION-DOLLAR PLANT COMPLETED

Tacoma Now Lighted by Its Own Electricity—Generated at Nisqually

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 6.—After about two years' work on the $2,000,000 municipal-owned Nisqually power plant, Tacoma was lighted by its own electricity Sunday night for the first time. The change was made from the Stone & Webster service, which has supplied the city for years.

The power from the city plant was cut in to the new sub-station on the corner of Twenty-fifth and C streets on all the circuits except one. The Nisqually plant as it stands to-day is capable of delivering 32,000 horse-power to the city. The daily consumption is between 3,500 and 4,000 horse-power during the peak load hours. This gives the plant about thirteen times the capacity of Seattle's hydro-electric plant.

DOUKHOBORS MEET COMMISSIONER

Efforts Being Made to Settle Differences With the Government

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—A conference between William Blakemore of Victoria, a commissioner appointed by the provincial government, and a deputation representing the Doukhobor colonies in British Columbia looking to settlement of differences which have arisen between the government and the Doukhobors, was held in this city yesterday. These differences relate to the observance of laws to which the foreigners demur. The Doukhobors have hitherto been especially opposed to laws in regard to registration. Peter Veregin, the leader of the Russian sect was to have attended with the deputation but unfortunately has contracted a severe cold and could not come.

Mr. Blakemore feels hopeful that a satisfactory settlement of the difficulty will be reached. The deputation which was appointed by the Doukhobors in session at Brilliant, a colony in the Kootenays, consists of three of the most prominent members of the community, the leader being John Sherbinin, who is Mr. Veregin's deputy and business manager in British Columbia, John Kenken, one of the oldest members of the community, enjoying the fullest confidence of his people, and Simeon Verechahen.

Mr. Blakemore heard many witnesses during the recent session of the commission in the interior. Later he visited the parent colonies in Saskatchewan. His investigations disclosed that over 5,000 Doukhobors had left there and located at the new colonies in British Columbia. At various sessions of the commissioners many of the fruitgrower witnesses objected to the Doukhobor invasion on the ground they led a communal life, did not observe Canadian laws and were unlikely to become homogeneous like the rest of the white population of the Dominion. Mr. Blakemore will shortly submit the evidence and a report to the provincial executive.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

Mountain Lion, Which Attacked Occupants of Auto, Killed After Sharp Fight.

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 6.—Julian Hurd and wife, of this city, gave an account of an encounter with a mountain lion one mile west of San Gregorio, in which Hurd killed the lion after it had pounced upon the automobile in which they were driving. The lion leaped out of the brush as they were rounding a turn on the mountainside and hurried itself against the machine. It was thrown back and Hurd shot the car ahead at top speed with the lion close behind.

Fearing it would leap into the tonneau on Mrs. Hurd, he stopped the car and gave battle with the iron crank of the car. As the animal sprang at Mrs. Hurd, it was felled by a blow with the crank, but renewed the attack. Hurd carried only a small revolver, from which he fired a shot which killed the lion after he had been unable to dispatch it with the crank. He was painfully lacerated and his injuries were treated at Redwood City. Hurd is a well-known insurance man of Oakland.

ROUTED BY SUFFRAGETTES.

Militants Create Uproar and Home Secretary Flees.

London, Nov. 5.—The Home Secretary, Reginald McKenna, was prevented from making a speech last night in Marylebone town hall because of the uproar caused by suffragettes. The secretary escaped a mauling by fleeing with his wife through a side door.

ADVANCE OF THE BULGARIAN ARMY

FIGHTING AROUND TCHATALJA FORTS

King Nicholas Will Bombard Scutari Unless City Surrenders Within 48 Hours

London, Nov. 6.—It was officially announced in Constantinople yesterday that fighting has been going on between Bulgarians and Turkish troops at the Tchatalja forts, according to a special dispatch from that city. The result of the fighting is not stated. Except for a few straggling detachments of men in fighting formation and fleeing Turkish troops, the country beyond the Tchatalja forts, forming the last Turkish defences before Constantinople, is now cleared of Ottoman troops.

The investing Bulgarians on the plain below the Tchatalja hills presents a front extending about thirty miles across the peninsula.

At the present time in Turkish circles, however, the hope of defending the Tchatalja lines has not been abandoned.

Turkey's Note.

It is now officially confirmed that Turkey agrees to place herself in the hands of the powers. A note in which the Porte announces this agreement contains the phrase:

"In view of the immediate cessation of hostilities Turkey leaves to the Great Powers the fixing of the terms of peace.

"Turkey has proposed terms that should be discussed at a joint council of the cabinet with the ambassadors. The ambassadors have given the Porte to understand that while they accept the principle of mediation it will not have the least chance of success if it is to take the form of a similar invitation to the Bulgarians to interrupt their military operations without making them a corresponding offer.

"The ambassadors advised the Porte to declare that it was left entirely to Europe to arrange any basis of mediation which Europe regarded as possible of a chance. The Turkish government decided to follow this advice, but learned that the Bulgarians had determined to refuse any offer of mediation; that they were resolved to march into Constantinople and sign the treaty there without permitting themselves to be restrained by the possibility of ulterior revision of the treaty by Europe.

"That we can make our voice heard we do not doubt and that we may be able to do so without coming into conflict with the rightful claims of others. We are prepared to make a large allowance for the new situation created by the victories of the Balkan states and thus lay the foundation of a lasting and friendly understanding with them.

"On the other hand, we have the right to demand that the legitimate interests of the monarchy suffer no harm from the new settlement of things."

Demands Surrender of Scutari.

The Post's correspondent at Mustafa Pasha learns from a refugee that Adrianople has provisions sufficient to stand a siege of 20 days. The garrison numbers 60,000 regulars and 20,000 irregulars. Disturbances are occurring within the city between the soldiers and citizens who have been placed on short rations.

A Budapest dispatch reports that a Turkish column has occupied Monastir. From Podgoritza comes word that King Nicholas has sent another demand to Scutari to surrender within 48 hours, failing which the bombardment will be renewed.

Bulgarians' Plans.

Vienna, Nov. 6.—The Reichspost correspondent with the Bulgarian army describes the Bulgarian plans for the advance on Constantinople. The Bulgarians are advancing along three lines. Their right is on the coast of the Sea of Marmora. Their centre is through the town of Tchatalja and their left through Istrandia.

The left wing is the most important. It comprises about 54,000 men. Advancing through Serai it has reached the heights of Istrandia and will endeavor to turn the Tchatalja line of forts.

It will advance in conjunction with a smaller force moving in a southerly direction on Tcherkesskeul and Yenikoi, while the centre division executes the principal frontal attack against Tchatalja along the railway to Constantinople, and through Kadikieve, seven miles to the westward. He also says that the actual Bulgarian military headquarters have been moved to Kirk-Kiliseh, and that after Adrianople has fallen the royal headquarters which remain at Stara Zazora will also be moved forward.

Turkey's Appeal.

Sofia, Nov. 5.—The Turkish harems in Constantinople have been transferred to Bursa, in Asia Minor, which was at one time the capital of the Turkish sultans, and lies about 57 miles to the southeast of Constantinople. The archives of the city also have been sent there.

The Turkish government has sent an urgent request to the powers to prevent the Bulgarians from entering the capital.

GIRL IS TURNED BACK AT BORDER

Nine-Year-Old Child, With Tag Attached to Clothing, Sent to Nelson

Nelson, Nov. 5.—Unable to speak a word of English a little 9-year-old German girl with a tag attached to her clothing was placed on board the Great Northern train at Nelson yesterday morning with a ticket for Spokane, and on reaching the international boundary line was turned back by the United States immigration officers because she was not accompanied by parent or guardian.

For some hours last night the tot, very much bewildered, was in the Great Northern ticket office, while constables tried to locate her father, who she says is A. Manrau. Through a German boy who acted as interpreter, the child gave her father's name and said that he was building a house in Nelson. He had sent her to Spokane to meet her mother, whom she had not seen since she was four years old. The tag was pinned to her clothing so that her mother could pick her out on reaching the Spokane depot.

The tot said that she came from Winnipeg four weeks ago, and since then has been in Rossland. Some German people took charge of the girl last night, and to-day search for the father will be resumed.

BABIES BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Los Angeles Health Officer Urges Law Regulating Adoption of Children.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—"Babies in Los Angeles are being given away or bought and sold like so many puppy dogs," declared Dr. L. M. Powers, city health officer, yesterday, who said laws regulating the adoption or transfer of children were a necessity.

"It would be impossible to say how many babies vanish each year, leaving no clue to their fate. Many babies are taken for adoption by people who don't leave their correct identity, and of whom we can find no trace. A few babies occasionally find good homes, but there are a great many whose fate is entirely different."

CHILDREN TESTIFY AT MURDER TRIAL

Lawrence Millworkers Give Evidence on Behalf of Accused Men

Salem, Mass., Nov. 6.—A group of children, millworkers and members of the Lawrence strike committee, testified at the Eitor trial yesterday. The jurors waived their rights to go to the polls and vote in order that the trial might proceed.

Pearly Shinberger, a millworker, 14 years old, testified she was one of the strikers and a "regular picket."

"I never heard Mr. Eitor tell the strikers to fight," she said. "He always said: 'You can't fight anyone except with your fists.'"

On cross-examination the girl said she was instructed to go on the picket line by the officials.

James Falvey, another striking millworker, told the jury of several public speeches he heard Eitor make. "He always told us to fold our arms," said Falvey, "and to give the police and soldiers a chance."

BUILDING BY-LAW.

Changes Suggested by the Fire Wardens of Nanaimo.

Nanaimo, Nov. 6.—At the last meeting of the city council the appended report was submitted by the fire warden committee: "We, your fire warden committee, beg to report that whilst considering the present building by-law, we are of the opinion that the same should be amended, at an early date so as to prohibit the erection of any frame or wooden buildings within the fire limits of the city as now described, whether undermined or not, and that all buildings must be of brick, concrete or other fire-proof and other-indestructible material."

Ald. Cavaleky moved the report be referred to the committee.

In Anderson county, Green Brown was killed by County Magistrate Hardin Saterle, it is charged.

APPEAL DISMISSED.

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—The appeal of Peter Bancroft, proprietor of the Bismarck cafe, against two convictions in the police court, for selling liquor without a license, has been dismissed by His Honor Judge McInnes. Bancroft's case rested on the contention that his license had been improperly received and recommendation adopted. Ald. Shepherd seconded the motion, which was carried.

The ratapayers of Nanaimo will be called upon in the near future to vote on a proposal to give the Nanaimo Agricultural Society the sum of $5,000 to aid in the erection of suitable exhibition buildings, improvements to the grounds, etc. In furtherance of the proposal a by-law was submitted to the council and given the first and second readings and will be considered in committee at the next meeting of that body.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

The election of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency of the United States was by no means a foregone conclusion yesterday morning. Though there was a widespread opinion that the ballots would total in his favor, the wish was chiefly faghter to the thought, as no one could tell accurately how the very active campaign of the Republican machine would work out. The question is now settled and the result is one which must inspire confidence, hope and gratitude in the breast of everyone who has the economic welfare of society on the American continent at heart. For whatever may have been the minor issues which played their consequential part in the campaign, it must be admitted that the superlative issue upon which the people of the republic yesterday expressed their vociferous sentiment was the tariff issue. Even Theodore Roosevelt, whose stage play was an onslaught on monopolies, trusts and machine politics, did not succeed in blinding the eyes of the American people to the fact that protective tariffs are the parents of monopolies. The electorate, with an overwhelming plurality, said, with Woodrow Wilson "there must be a revision of the tariffs and that steadily downward, downward, downward." In spite of the threats of the interests, the persuasive influence of the high tariff press, the specious sophistry of the pleading demagogue, the promises of full dinner pails and permanent prosperity made by the trusts, the people of the United States have said that they have had enough of tariff ruled institutions. And it is safe to say that the American vote as a whole has, this year, been the most intelligently cast vote of the people for many a year. Not in two decades have they been better informed.

It is useless to say that the Taft-Roosevelt factions split the Republican party and that had the issue been between low tariff Democrats and protectionist Republicans the results would have been different. The plurality of Woodrow Wilson is the answer to that argument. It is probable that had not Roosevelt executed his strange yet characteristically meteoric part the results might have been more emphatically pronounced than they were. The persuasive eloquence and the fighting spirit of Roosevelt, coupled with his promises to reform the trusts, doubtless diverted many votes that would otherwise have gone to Wilson in a straight fight on tariff issues.

It will not do to expect immediate and direct results from the election of Mr. Wilson to the president's chair. Whatever else President-Elect Wilson is, he is not a smasher or wrecker of established institutions. While he left no doubt at any time as to his attitude upon tariff questions, he always made it clear that orderly procedure must be followed. His election is, therefore, more the establishing of a principle than the opening of sluice gates to the flow of partisan fanaticisms and theory exploitation. That was what made his election possible and what bears tribute to the intelligence of the American voter in this campaign. The tariff walls will be lowered, but not ruthlessly, nor in such a way as to precipitate the calamitous conditions predicted by the protectionists. Before Wilson's term is over the effect of the policy which he will carry out will be so beneficially manifest that the rule of trusts through high tariffs will be over in the republic.

All this must have its effect in world politics. The nations must know that it was no brainstorm which elected Woodrow Wilson. The stomach of the people has simply vomited up high tariffs and spued them out. They have had enough of them. The effect will be manifest in discouragement of the tariff reform movement in Great Britain, and it cannot but have a disastrous effect upon the advocacy of higher production in Canada.

EXPENSIVE ENGINEERING.

The contract entered into by the government for the services of an American engineer to supervise the opening up of Strathcona Park at an annual salary of five years has evoked not a little criticism throughout British Columbia. The protest of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, and their appeal to Hon. R. L. Borden against this discrimination is now followed with more direct criticism from qualified persons on the ground and in a position to judge of the quality of work being carried on under Col. Thompson's supervision. The letter published in the Times to-day, being a copy of one sent to the Minister of Public Works, affords an interesting insight on the expenditure of public money by the department in charge of Hon. Thomas W. Taylor. Mr. James, who lodged the complaint with the department, writes from personal observation and expresses what he has reason to know is the sentiment of all those familiar with the engineering feats being performed by Col. Thompson's subordinates.

What is more remarkable than the incapacity of the American subordinates in charge of this work is the enormous salary the government is paying the chief engineer. The salary of Col. Thompson is said to be $15,000 per annum, and there is no other public official in Canada receiving such largesse from any government to-day. Neither lieutenant-governors, judges, ministers, deputy ministers nor the chief engineer of the Public Works Department at Ottawa is in receipt of so enormous an "honorarium," for it can scarcely be called a salary. Col. Thompson's "fee" is next highest in amount to the salary of the Governor-General.

It is not wondered at that the engineers of British Columbia have appealed to Hon. Mr. Borden against this monstrous discrepancy. Irrespective of the responsibility of the position and the nature of the work that is being done, the salary attached to the position is out of all keeping with either the dignity of the place or the return to be made for such profligate dissipation of the public funds. More than this, the largesse of the McBride administration is being bestowed upon an engineer who is not a citizen of Canada, nor a British subject, but an official who has no stake in the country beyond the stipend he is to receive.

MORE LIGHT NEEDED.

Unannounced by the government, but told of by the promoter of the scheme, the chief government organ publishes a vague account of an arrangement entered into between the government and an American syndicate by which more than a million acres of land in the northern interior have been alienated to a colonizing company. The brief interview tells nothing more than that the lands lie along the Peace and Quesnel valleys; that the syndicate agrees to place a settler upon every 160 acres and that the alienation of the lands will bring the provincial treasury a payment of over a million and a half dollars. A part of the brief story as told in the government organ reads as follows:

"Most of the lands are along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and include 150,000 acres in the Nation Lakes district, 160,000 acres on Babine Lake, 200,000 acres on North Tacla lake and 100,000 acres on the Naas river. The Babine lake portion will be opened up first."

"It is stipulated that a settler must be placed upon every 160 acres, or its equivalent. In return, the provincial government will build highways, open schools and ask the federal government to open post offices and provide other conveniences."

"Mr. Maclean has associated with him a strong syndicate of American capitalists, with one or two Canadians, and promises that he will show as much enthusiasm in settling the selected areas in this province as he has done in the settlement of the irrigated lands around Spokane, of which he was the pioneer."

It is suspected that this is the same scheme as was referred to in grandiloquent terms by the Attorney-General at the Conservative convention in Revelstoke. This Twin-Autocrat in the government announced that thirty thousand settlers would be located on British Columbia land "within a year or so," though he gave no details of the plan under which this new land-deal has been pulled off.

If such a project is carried into effect and results in the settlement of large agricultural areas with bona fide producers it is a consummation devoutly to be wished. Without further light on the project it must appear only another intolerable usurpation of power by the executive of the administration without the knowledge or consent of the legislature, that is to say—the representatives of the people. It looks like a deal by which a million acres of the choicest land in the New North of British Columbia has been already alienated and put in the possession of another syndicate for the sum of $1.50 per acre. The terms "a million acres," and "a million and a half dollars" leave room for no other conclusion.

The public is entitled to more light on this enormous project of the combined genius of the Attorney-General

Women Never Lose Their Interest in Beautiful Black Velvet Coats

 OR a handsome appearance, perfect comfort, plenty of warmth and durability without the loss of your first interest in the garment, there is nothing that can equal a velvet coat. This is especially true when the materials from which the coats are made is of such a fine grade that it looks almost as good, and has most of the advantages, as the expensive sealskin garments that have become so rare. There is a full range of sizes to choose from and the styles vary from the strictly plain tailored coats made for its general utility, up to the highly trimmed and elaborate styles that are so desirable to women who have social functions to attend. Prices start as low as $47.50 and range up to.....$175.00

It's a Comparatively Easy Matter to Keep Your Boy in Good Clothes When You Can Get Them at These Prices

EVEN at the best of times it is a difficult matter to keep an active boy well clothed, and that is the reason why we believe that this news will be welcomed by many parents. Here are two excellent lines made to stand the hard wear that most boys' clothes experience, and at the small prices we are asking they are a bargain that rarely come at this time of the year.

300 STURDY TWEED SUITS
 This is an entirely new line that has just come to hand and includes both the Norfolk and the double breasted styles. They come in all the newest shades and patterns and are tailored in the best possible manner. They are good and look it in every detail. All sizes are to be had and the prices range, according to quality, from $3.75 up to$6.75
25 HEAVY TWEED OVERCOATS AT, EACH, $4.75
 And every one of them is a bargain worth an early shopping trip. They are made with two-way collars, have smartly belted backs, and are full length. Most sizes are included and the prominent colors are green, brown and grey mixtures.

Now is the Time When "Home Sweet Home" Counts

AND THERE IS NO BETTER WAY THAN TO MAKE YOUR FLOORS LOOK THEIR BEST

WHEN your floors have a bright and cheerful appearance, the whole of the room and those who occupy it share with the benefit of the smile from the floor.

Everything looks better, and you feel better for having the objects you see the most, in a bright and cheerful condition. However, the subject of floor coverings is usually associated with a great expense, but in this case the outlay is so slight that you will readily lose this impression.

Now that the dark days are with us it is more important than ever to make your home as pleasant as possible, and those who try the experiment will be pleased with the effect.

ENGLISH OILCLOTHS AT 25c A SQUARE YARD

It is an offer that should tempt the most economical woman in town, especially when she sees the splendid assortment of patterns and colorings that are here to choose from. They are all well seasoned goods and have a very high finish. Block, floral and tile patterns are the styles to be had, and we had better accommodation for our large stock we wouldn't think of offering such fine qualities at this price.

TAPESTRY CARPET SQUARES PRICED LOW

Here is a special lot of 24 carpets measuring 9x10 1/2 feet. They are made with only one seam down the centre, having interwoven borders and the centres come in very artistic patterns. The colors are greens, fawns, reds and blues in a variety of shades and the rugs are closely woven and have a good surface. A splendid value at, each$10.50

A BARGAIN IN AXMINSTER RUGS

The fact that there are only 50 rugs to be sold should be a warning to all who require them to be at the store in good time. They measure 27x54 inches, have a beautiful velvety pile, so rich and soft that they present a most inviting appearance. There is a good range of colorings and a wide variety of patterns to choose from, and at such a low price they should leave this department in a hurry. Price, each$2.25

TWO VERY POPULAR LINES FROM THE BEDDING DEPT.

THAT SHOULD BE SPECIALLY INTERESTING NOW THAT COLD NIGHTS ARE WITH US

ONE is an excellent line of eiderdown comforters that is selling at a price that means a distinct saving to the purchaser, and the other is a splendid line of all wool Scotch blankets that should appeal to all women who desire to get the very best possible value for her money.

Both are light in weight, wonderfully warm and durable, and are therefore ideal bed coverings for the winter months. The lighter your bed coverings the better you rest; your muscles have less weight to support and you have a better chance of resting.

Stables as Woodsheds.—A new use has been found in a number of cases for the old wooden stables condemned by the city for the purpose for which they were built. Instead of utilizing them in this manner, they have been cleaned, and being turned into woodsheds, in order to save them from being pulled down, following condemnation proceedings.

County Court List.—Cases one to six on the November list will not be called before 5th, 7 to 25 not before 15th. McKee against Rithet is set for the 8th, Muddle against Smith for the 14th, Hanna against Planta 14th at 2.30 p. m. LeSueur against Royal Trust 19th, Martin against Mitchell 21st, and Cowie Mfg. The competition is open to members of the club and also to prospective members. At the close of the year medals will be presented to the holders of the three highest aggregate points.

Must Return Deposit.—In the Supreme court this morning Arthur Lineham sued Charles S. Roberts for the recovery of $500 paid as a deposit on a piece of property at Great Central lake. The sale was made on the representation that the shore of the property consisted of gravel. At Easter time the plaintiff visited his property and discovered that the shore was not all gravel as represented. Photographs taken at the time were submitted in court this morning for the plaintiff. Mr. Justice Gregory gave judgment for the amount asked.

Building Permits.—Building permits have been granted to G. Brunst for a seven-roomed house on Ash street, costing $2,800; and to W. W. Warwick for a ten-roomed house on Cardin street, costing $3,000.

Opening Week of Prayer.—Dr. Scott, of the Metropolitan Methodist church, will open the world's week of prayer at the local Y. M. C. A. on Sunday next with an address on the subject of "The Value of Prayer in a Man's Life." The meeting will open at 8 o'clock. The services of the Metropolitan church, will render vocal selections. Fellowship supper will be served after the meeting.

Losing an Opportunity.—Some time ago the city had under consideration the widening of Foul Bay road, but the matter was dropped because Oak Bay municipality wanted the city to pay the cost of expropriations, and as a boundary road they would share the cost of the expropriation. Now Pemberton & Son have informed the council that land required for which the city was treating has been sold, and if the city wants it it must apply to the new owners.

Freights Committee.—The freights committee of the board of trade met this morning in the Bastion street rooms to determine what questions would be brought before the railway commission, when they meet in this city on December 2. The commission is at present at Fort William, and is visiting all the large cities on the journey westward. Local shippers having any complaints to make will do well to communicate with the secretary of the board of trade at the earliest possible date. The results of this morning's meeting have not yet been made public.

Progress on Extension.—The new Cowichan Lake extension of the E. & N. Railway has been very successful ever since its construction. Though passenger trains have not yet been run upon it the line has helped considerably in the transportation of logs to the mills, and the hauling operations thereon have been most extensive. So excellent has been the progress made that it has been found necessary to establish two stations, one at the lake, and the other half way between Duncan and the terminus. The line will be ready for passenger traffic probably by the first of the year.

The Unsettled Weather.—According to reports received this morning at the Meteorological Office, the weather is likely to remain unsettled for some time. The chief cause of this state of affairs lies in the fact that the barometric area to the south is of very high pressure, while the pressure is low over this province. A thick fog obscured the streets last evening, due to the abnormal difference in temperature between the upper strata of air and those near the ground. A very heavy downpour of rain took place in the city at six this morning, nearly half an inch being recorded in little over an hour. The temperature fell to zero for the first time in Canada this winter in the Yukon last evening, while the prairies are still having merely light frosts.

Test Chassis.—The new motor chassis for No. 1 fire hall which arrived on Saturday, was tested this morning with an engine attached, and proved a success.

Advertising Victoria.—It is the object of the promoters of a handbook on British Columbia to devote at least ten pages of the same to the city of Victoria, and the secretary of the Vancouver Island Development League has been asked to contribute the necessary matter for this capital means of advertising.

Indecent Behaviour.—For behaving indecently towards two women in the Empress theatre on Saturday last Robert Peter was yesterday afternoon sentenced to two months' imprisonment. The accused regretted his offence and said it was unaccountable to himself. Friends and employers told of his previous good behavior.

Monthly Meeting.—The date of the monthly meeting of the board of trade, if held, will be Thursday, November 14, but unless something important offers in the meantime, it is doubtful whether the business at present on the agenda will be of sufficient attractiveness to induce members to attend. Any having business to be brought forward for that occasion should notify the secretary at once.

Building Permits.—Building permits have been granted to Mr. Greenwood through James & James, architects, for alterations to a brick store on Government street; S. Ritter for a five-roomed house on Pine street, costing $18,000; A. Colton for additions to house on Alpha street; A. Bianco for a garage on Ladysmith street; and to Teed & Cummings for a five-roomed house on McKenzie street, costing $22,500, for which Rochfort & Sankey are the architects.

Change in Uplands Line.—A special sub-committee of the general works committee of the Oak Bay council will meet this afternoon at 5.30 to discuss the changes in the proposed carline to the Uplands. The change under consideration is a very slight one, the line instead of turning down Bowker avenue, will be continued up Cadboro Bay road for a short distance and then reach Dunlevy street by Margaret street.

Manufacturers' Committee.—The postponed meeting of the manufacturers' committee of the local Board of Trade, which was to have been held yesterday forenoon, has been announced for Friday morning. The business of the committee will be to reply to a message from the provincial government asking for details of the openings for different trades in the city of Victoria. The committee will make every attempt to gather suitable data for presentation.

Ceaseless Stream of Enquiries.—All sorts and conditions of enquiries reached the Vancouver Island Development League this morning. Among the most interesting was from a West Australian anxious to secure details of climate, population, business chances, etc., in Vancouver Island. From Johannesburg comes a communication asking for the price of "ready to wear" farms for men with only small capital. Alexandria furnished another correspondent who is desirous of obtaining fruit land in the near vicinity of Victoria.

Police Court.—A charge of speeding was admitted this morning by the owner of a car which was driven at 70 miles an hour in the city. The car was at the time driven by a man named Robert Miller, the owner stated. As the miller was not in the car a fine of $20 only was imposed. A colored man named Anabel Mendes, who refused to spell his name and afterwards explained he had never learned to spell, was returned to jail until to-morrow on a charge of drunkenness because of his exceeding volubility. An Indian pleaded guilty to having whiskey in his possession yesterday. The chief of police took him in charge. What the chief said sounded like "mikatuksamkanich." The Indian replied in even a longer word and went to the cells to await his friends appearing with $25, the amount of the fine.

MANY EXCELLENT POSITIONS OPEN
New Federal Law Compels Vessels to Have More Wireless Operators.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 6.—Many good positions are open to young men and young women in the field of "Wireless" and of commercial telegraph service. The passage of the new United States law, effective October 1, compelling all sea-going vessels to be equipped with wireless instruments and two competent operators, has created a great demand for operators in the marine wireless service. United States laws now require railways to use more operators than ever before. The Morse Telegraph Company, opposite the Orpheum Theatre, Seattle, operates in close connection with wireless and commercial officials, and can place graduates in good positions. It will pay you, to write for full particulars.

PAVING CLOSING UP.

When Gorge Road is Finished Mineral Rubber Company Will Complete Work for Year.
Paving in Victoria will terminate for 1912, so far as the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company is concerned, with the closing of the work on Gorge road, which is to be undertaken at once, immediately Douglas street is completed so far as it is intended to go during the present week.

The by-laws which have yet to be completed in order that the substructures may be sold, are numerous, and cover every class of work. It is understood that these by-laws, which a week ago numbered 358, according to the return furnished the council, represent an enormous amount of money, which cannot be levied in that time.

WONDERFUL SAILER IS TO HAVE STEAM

Erskine M. Phelps on Her Last Voyage as Windjammer—For Canal Trade

Holding more records for fast voyages than any other sailer afloat and distinguished for being the first vessel to be built in the United States of steel, the fine American full-rigged ship Erskine M. Phelps is now on her last voyage as a sailing vessel.

She is now on her way around Cape Horn en route from Philadelphia to San Francisco, and on her arrival there her owners will say good-bye to her as a sailing vessel and formally enter her in the steam class by having installed in her an auxiliary engine of high type. Then she will go into the Panama trade.

The day of the sailing vessel is about over—or nearly so. Shippers these days are demanding quick delivery of freight, and the proud old sailing vessels which for centuries have been masters of the sea are giving place to the steam-propelled ship. The majestic old Phelps is one of the unfortunates that have been hard hit by the development of steam engineering.

MARINE ITEMS RECEIVED FROM GOLDEN GATE PORT

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—The Norwegian steamer Solvig has been taken on time charter by Hind, Rolph & Co. at 6a. for a period of five months. She will load coal at Newcastle, Aus., for South America, come up here in ballast and load lumber on the Sound for Port Pirie.
The British steamer Cape Breton arrived Sunday from Antwerp with general cargo for Henry Lund & Co. and will proceed to the Sound about November 15 to load lumber for Australia for J. J. Moore & Co.
The British steamer Magician of the Harrison Line also arrived Sunday from Antwerp. When she will sail on her return voyage for Antwerp has not been announced. She will probably proceed to the Sound about November 15.
The Japanese liner Chivo Maru arrived Monday from the Orient and the steamer Inveric from the Sound.
The schooner Bainbridge has just been chartered by W. R. Grace & Co. for lumber from Grays Harbor to Valparaiso, for orders. She sailed from San Diego Saturday.
Three days after the wreck of the steam schooner J. J. Leagie, Frank W. Belcher, a Eureka insurance man, was given checks to turn over to the stockholders of the vessel who carried insurance.

ELECTION RESULTS BY WIRELESS

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Fifteen thousand persons on board fifty steamships upon the Pacific ocean received election returns by wireless last night from stations in this city. The first wireless election bulletin was flashed at 8 o'clock last night and the operator had hardly closed his key upon the news of Wilson's apparent victory before the operator on the Pacific Mail liner Nile, just entering the port of Honolulu, from the Orient "ok'd" it.

H. Olds, an apprentice on the British steamship Harpalycos, now at Tacoma, slipped and fell 35 feet into the vessel's hold yesterday, sustaining injuries from which he was unconscious more than three hours. He was removed to the Tacoma general hospital. It is believed he will recover.

AWA HELPED ALONG BY WIND AND WAVE

JAPANESE LINER HERE 14 DAYS FROM ORIENT

Maru Had Some Boisterous Days—Many Passengers Aboard and Much Cargo

Helped along by strong winds and following seas the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Awa Maru, Capt. Shimidzu, which arrived here at noon to-day, made the run from Yokohama in 14 days. Considering the fact that this is the winter season the passage is regarded as a smart one and is better than some of the Japanese liners logged during the summer. There was some doubt here as to whether the Awa would reach William Head in time to pass quarantine before sundown to-night and shipping men were agreeably surprised to find her in port this morning.

Capt. Shimidzu said that although the weather was favorable throughout the trip on some days it was very boisterous. The wind was westerly, some days blowing hard from the southwest and other times howling from the northwest. In mid-Pacific the Awa encountered a nasty following sea and much water was shipped over the stern. The Awa, being light, was playing high for the elements and she rolled and pitched badly on the passage.

Other Ships Feel Storm.
While the weather was favorable to the Awa several other steamships crossing the Pacific bound for Yokohama were feeling the brunt of the storm. The wind and sea being dead against them they were forced to proceed slowly and consequently were losing time. The Awa was in wireless communication with the Shidzuoka and her master Capt. Iriwasa reported that he expected to reach Yokohama three days late. The liner was forced at different times to reduce her speed. The Inaba Maru, also of the same line, was four days late reaching Yokohama from this port.

The Awa brought in a large list of passengers, the majority of whom were Asiatics. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Platt, of Shanghai, where Mr. Platt has been in business, were the only whites aboard the steamship. Y. Yokota, a Japanese journalist, arrived here with the Awa and he will join the staff of a Japanese publication. There were 46 Chinese and 19 Japanese for Victoria and for the Sound there were six Chinese, two Russians and 41 Japanese.

A cargo amounting to 3,500 tons was brought in by the Awa and she will be here until early to-morrow morning putting off 1,000 tons of general freight. She has in her stowage room 1,497 bales of silk, valued at over $750,000.

PUEBLA MADE FOURTH SHIP BERTHED TO-DAY

Cleared for San Francisco With Passenger Accommodation All Taken

Making the fourth liner to berth at the outer docks to-day the Pacific Coast steamship City of Puebla, Capt. Paulsen, came into port about 10 o'clock on her way from the Sound to San Francisco. She cleared at 1 o'clock and took out a large list of passengers, her accommodation being sold out both here and at Sound ports. Besides the Puebla the Blue Pannel liner Kasaan, the steamship Fitzclarence and the Japanese liner Awa Maru were tied up at the wharves.

Among the passengers who went south was Reginald Harris, formerly in the employ of the G. T. P. S. S. Co., as purser of the Prince Albert and Prince John. He is going to Frisco to look for a position on one of the big steamships, following the same course as A. Cooper, who was on the Prince Rupert. Cooper, who has been seen enough of the Harris for the present, having spent about two years running in and out of Prince Rupert.

Other passengers who joined the Puebla here included the following: Mrs. C. Spring, Miss Spring, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clark, Miss M. Brinque, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Taylor, R. J. Maynard, J. S. Beattie, H. Brown, Miss Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hanson and Miss M. Kegan.

Umatilla Expected In.
The steamship Umatilla, Capt. Rilly, of the same fleet, is expected to arrive here to-morrow night from San Francisco. She left the Golden Gate yesterday afternoon and is bringing several hundred tons of cargo to Victoria. The steamship also has many passengers for the Sound.

While the Union steamship Aorangi was being berthed at San Francisco a few days ago struck a mud bank and remained fast for an hour. She was undamaged.

CENTURION IS AGAIN COMING TO VICTORIA

Harrison Liner Sails From Glasgow Nov. 26—Magician Due Middle of Month

Advice has been received here from the head offices of the Harrison Direct line in England stating that the steamship Centurion, which inaugurated the service from European ports to Victoria via the Straits of Magellan, has again been assigned to load for this coast. She will leave Glasgow, which is the clearing port for the Harrison port, on November 26, and it will be late in February of next year before she docks here.

The Magician, which will be here about the middle of the month, is being followed by the Crown of Cordova. The Craftsman, which also has visited Victoria before, cleared from Glasgow yesterday for Victoria, and the Centurion is following the Craftsman. The new Harrison liner Crown of Seville, a sister ship to the fine steamship Crown of Toledo, which visited here a short time ago, is scheduled to take the last sailing from Glasgow this year. She will depart from the Clyde port on December 24.

Since the Centurion arrived here in April of 1911, she has been operating in the Harrison service to India. This company does a great business with the Asiatic country, and has some 30 vessels in that trade.

The 1913 Sailings.
The Harrison line has announced its sailings for next year. Leaving Glasgow the Senator sails on Jan. 21; Director, Feb. 18; Crown of Galicia, March 13; Workman, April 15; Magician, May 13; Crown of Toledo, June 19; Politician, July 8; Craftsman, Aug. 5; Crown of Seville, Sept. 2; Director, Sept. 30; Workman, Oct. 25; Crown of Galicia, Nov. 25, and Magician, Dec. 22.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE

Astoria, Ore.—The steamer Stanley Dollar arrived this morning from San Francisco with cargo. Steam schooner Wamp sailed for San Francisco with 650,000 feet of lumber loaded at Prescott. Schooner Hill, from San Francisco, which has been trying for nearly a month to reach Nehalem, put into port last evening after water supplies. She has been beating about off Nehalem for a number of days, but on account of the unfavorable weather conditions was unable to make that port. Steam schooner George W. Fenwick arrived to-day from San Francisco. Steamer Oceanic sailed with lumber for California. Steam schooner Yellowstone arrived from San Francisco this morning.

San Pedro, Cal.—Steamer President arrived to-night from Seattle via San Francisco, with 351 passengers and 300 tons of miscellaneous cargo and will proceed to-morrow for San Diego. Steamer J. B. Stetson arrived from Portland with 650,000 feet of lumber. Steamer Shasta arriving from Columbia river, will discharge 550,000 feet of lumber for the E. K. Wood Lumber Company. Passengers steamer Roanoke, arrived from San Diego, took additional cargo and proceeded for Portland, via San Francisco. Steamer Excelsior completed discharging 550,000 feet of lumber and cleared for Coos Bay in ballast to reload. Other departures included the oil steamer Roma, for Port San Luis; Doris, Willapa Harbor, via Redondo Beach, and torpedo boat destroyer Paul Jones, for San Diego.

Abegdon, Wash.—Arrived: Daisy Mitchell and G. C. Lindauer, San Francisco and Santa Monica.
Seattle, Wash.—Arrived: Steamer Northumbria, Astoria; Edith, Washenaw, Atlas, towing barge 93, San Francisco; La Touche, Southeastern Alaska; Jefferson, Skagway. Sailed: Steamers Tamba Maru, Orient; City of Puebla, San Francisco; Alki, Southeastern Alaska; Spokane, Skagway; Yukon, Tacoma; Governor, Sound ports; Jeanie, Southeastern Alaska; Vladivostok.—Arrived previously: Mexico Maru, Seattle.

Tacoma, Wash.—Arrived: Steamers Columbian, Seattle; Yukon, Seattle. Sailed: British steamer Fitzclarence, Victoria.

ADMIRAL FARRAGUT IS NOW STEAMING UP THE PACIFIC

Tacoma, Nov. 6.—H. F. Alexander, president of the Alaska Pacific Steamship Company, has received advice from the Company's Exchange of New York, saying the steamer Admiral Farragut passed through the Straits of Magellan Oct. 29, on her voyage from Philadelphia to Puget Sound. The message received brings the first word from the Admiral Farragut since she left the Atlantic coast port and Mr. Alexander says the steamer is making a successful trip. She is expected at the Sound Nov. 30.

The Farragut was purchased by the Alaska Pacific Company recently in the East, and is being brought to the coast for the Tacoma-San Francisco service. She will be completely overhauled and extensive alterations made to fit her for the new service. The vessel is a sister ship to the Admiral Sampson of the Alaska Pacific Steamship Company's fleet. Captain Bartlett is bringing her to the Pacific.

The directors of the port of Boston have appropriated $3,000,000 for the improvement of the dock and railroad terminals of East Boston.

CAPT. LINDGREN TO BRING ESTEVAN OUT

Well Known Mariner to Command New Marine Steamer on Voyage Via Magellan

Once again Capt. Lindgren, the well known British Columbia mariner, is to make a trip to Victoria via the Straits of Magellan as commander of another new steamer. This time Capt. Lindgren will bring out the steamer Estevan, which left the builders' yards at Collingwood, Ont., yesterday. The Estevan will be used by the marine and fisheries department on this coast, and Capt. Lindgren will join her at Quebec.

Capt. Lindgren has made many trips through the Straits of Magellan, and knows its rugged coastlines thoroughly. The last steamer he brought out was the Princess Sophia, of the C.P.R. Previous to the Estevan steamer he piloted the Princess Alice and Princess Adelaide out to Victoria from the Old Country. He has also brought out several other steamers now operating in the coast trade.

The Estevan will have a lake pilot on her until she reaches Quebec. It is expected that she will arrive at the ancient capital some time on Friday, and Capt. Lindgren will immediately board her and start on the long voyage to the port. Although the distance by rail from Victoria to Collingwood is about 2,500 miles, the Estevan will have to travel 17,000 by sea before she is berthed here.

Here in February.
Early in the spring the Estevan took the water at Collingwood, and at first it was expected that she would have arrived here before the end of the year. It will, however, be well on in February before the Estevan arrives here. She will enter the service of the marine department immediately after overhauling.

The dimensions of the Estevan are: Length, 210 feet; breadth, 28 feet, and depth, 18 feet. Before her departure the steamer was taken to Owen Sound, where trials of speed were made over a measured course. The log showed an average of 11 knots per hour, two knots more than the contract called for. The shipbuilding company is under contract to deliver the steamer at Victoria.

COLLISION CASE HEARD

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—A collision between logs in the First Narrows on May 28 last, in which a scow loaded with sand for the Canadian Building Supply Company was crushed and damaged, formed the basis of a suit in the Admiralty Court yesterday. The owners of the scow sued C. V. Hansen, owner of the tug St. Alice for $1,000 as damages. The plaintiffs' scow was being towed into port by the tug Staffa at the time of the accident.

The question of the rules of navigation for the Narrows, which are fixed by special order-in-council, the ordinary rule of the road at sea not being applicable to the Narrows, formed the centre of the contention.
Martin Griffin appeared for the plaintiff and J. E. Bird for the defendant. The argument on the case is to be heard on Friday afternoon before Mr. Justice Martin.

ANOTHER STEAMSHIP TAKEN TO LOAD SUGAR FOR B. C.

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—Another sugar charter was announced yesterday. The vessel is the Twickenham, and she will go on berth at ports in Peru for Vancouver during November and December. The Twickenham is a new vessel owned by Watts & Co., of London, Newport and Cardiff. Several vessels owned by this firm have traded from Vancouver, notably the Henley and the Benham on the Mexican run.
The Twickenham charter is the first full cargo from Peruvian ports for some considerable time. Most of the sugar brought here comes from Java, and there are three vessels now bound this way from Semarang and other Java ports. The Auchendale left there on Sept. 26 and Shimonaki on Oct. 20, and she will be followed by the steamers Strathmore, Aberloer and Manningry.

MONTEAGLE SAILING

It is expected that the R. M. S. Montague, Capt. Davison, will sail from the outer docks at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning.

FEAR EXPRESSED FOR SAFETY OF SCHOONER

Mable Gale Out 26 Days From Sound for Frisco—Is Known as Smart Sailer

Out 26 days from Seattle for San Pedro without having been reported, the four-masted schooner Mable Gale, one of the best-known sailing vessels on the coast, is causing some uneasiness on the part of those interested in her movements. Usually she completes crack passages. Under ordinary circumstances she would make the run from the Sound to San Pedro in 12 or 15 days. A strong southerly wind has been blowing the greater part of the time she has been out. Those most interested in her hope that this is what has held her back, and that she escaped any serious damage in the succession of gales which have swept the coast.

The little schooner C. T. Hill, which had been causing considerable anxiety, put into Astoria Monday afternoon short of provisions. She had been out from San Francisco for Nehalem for more than five weeks.

Ravenhill in Storm.
When 300 miles southwest of the Columbia River the British ship Ravenhill, Capt. Roberts, arriving at Portland yesterday, ran into a gale which blew 90 miles an hour. Her decks were flooded and she came near going over on her beam ends. Her ballast shifted slightly, but she lost none of her sails. The Ravenhill completed the passage from Callao to the Columbia River in 57 days.

PRESENT MEDALS TO COWICHAN INDIANS

Three Braves, Natives, Are Rewarded by Heroic Work in Iroquois Wreck

Recalling the terrible sea tragedy off Sydney on April 10, 1911, when the little steamer Iroquois foundered...

The audience, which was largely an Indian one, evinced the greatest interest in the proceedings.

Mr. Hayward, in his opening address, expressed his great regard for the action of the Indians and the appreciation of the government for those who were willing to help their fellowmen in times of stress.

The chairman then called on Mr. Shepherd to address the Indians and present the medals on behalf of the Canadian government.

Mr. Hayward, in his opening address, expressed his great regard for the action of the Indians and the appreciation of the government for those who were willing to help their fellowmen in times of stress.

The medals bear this inscription: Presented to by the Canadian Government in recognition of his heroic conduct in rescuing three passengers from the wreck of the S. S. Iroquois on the 10th of April, 1911.

Mr. Shepherd spoke of the importance and honor of the occasion and gave credit to Mr. Justice Martin for procuring these tributes of heroic bravery.

BAYLEY MEETS HYLAND ON XMAS DAY UNDER CLEAN BREAK RULES

Champion Agrees to Return Bout at Calgary—Side Bet of $2,000 Asked by Condon—Title Holder Cancels O'Leary Contest to Meet Goode at Prince Rupert Nov. 15

Champion Joe Bayley and Fighting Dick Hyland have been matched to fight at Calgary on Christmas Day in a return bout for the lightweight title of the Dominion. Manager Condon agreed to a battle with the "Frisco" fighter this morning, and is now making arrangements to have Bayley in the best of shape for the fight. A $2,000 side bet will feature the bout, and Bayley's manager also insists upon a deposit of $500 that Hyland will weigh in at 133 lbs. Bayley is desirous of fighting under clean break rules, and as Hyland appears agreeable, the contest will in all probability be conducted under these rules.

Referee Selection Open.

"I have every confidence that Joe can defeat Hyland in the return bout," stated Manager Condon, "and I only hope that a strictly impartial referee shall be agreed upon, one who will give Bayley credit for whatever leading he shall do. Bayley is willing to leave the selection of a referee open for a few weeks, but would like to have a competent outsider take charge.

Leave For Rupert Saturday.

Bayley, together with his manager and Cyclone Scott, leave on Saturday for Prince Rupert, where they tackle Sammy Goode, of Vancouver, on November 15. Articles for this bout were signed last night, the match with O'Leary, of Seattle, having been cancelled. Bayley will get a big percentage for going on against Goode, who is looked upon as an easy opponent for the lightweight champion. A match with Ernie Barriau has been agreed upon, and the latter's manager has signed not to take on any more fights after the Scaler battle, until the dispute between Bayley and Barriau has been settled.

Scott May Also Fight.

Cyclone Scott is dickering with Joe Uvan, of Calgary, for a match, and if possible this bout will be staged at Cumberland, or as a preliminary to the Barriau-Bayley contest.

TRACK TITLES MAY BE HELD ON COAST

R. C. A. U. Will Ask for Annual Championships Next Summer

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 6.—Control of amateur athletics in Canada will be shifted to Western Canada for the next year at least if the recommendations of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union are adopted by the A. A. U. of Canada at the annual meeting, which will be held at Toronto on Saturday, November 23.

Mr. Milton Oppenheimer, secretary of the British Columbia union, will leave next Monday for the East, and will attend the meeting as a delegate from the Coast union. He will carry with him recommendations from the British Columbia union that the presidency and secretaryship of the governing body be transferred to the West. The British Columbia Athletic Union will also ask to have the 1913 national track and field championships awarded to this province.

The track and field championships are assured the B. C. Union for next year, but there may be some opposition to the boxing tournament going to the Coast union.

Baden, the champion in the harness world of 1912, has been sold to a Russian syndicate for $25,000. He won over $25,000 during the past season.

LADIES' CHAMPION FANCY SKATER TELLS OF HER ART

Confidence Necessary to Attempt the Different Curves and Figures—Equipment Also an Important Feature—The Shoulders Work "Harder" Than Feet in Leading

One would imagine that in fancy skating as well as in ordinary skating the feet do the most work. This impression, however, is a wrong one, according to Mrs. Butler, the professional champion lady skater of the world, who paid a visit to Victoria last week. Mrs. Butler, who is the skating partner of Norval Baptie, the famous speed and fancy skater, was pleased to give the Times representative a short talk on fancy skating, and in her interview revealed the startling truths with regard to fancy skating.

Confidence Necessary.

"First and foremost," stated Mrs. Butler, "it is absolutely necessary that the beginner shall have confidence. Without feeling in your own heart that you can and will do the fancy figures, there is no use taking up fancy skating. Practice is a secondary consideration, and the beginner should not be timid in making a few falls on the ice, and to accomplish anything one must be fearless. Practice brings confidence, and for this reason I would recommend a couple of hours practice every day. The more one attempts the various figures the more perfect will one become in their execution."

Equipment Important.

"For those who intend going in for fancy skating I would ask that particular attention be paid to the skates and shoes that are used. It is just as necessary that the equipment shall be as perfect as possible, as it is that keen ice be secured. I find that stiff shoes

BOWLING CONGRESS.

Terminal City Prepares for Gathering of Alley Men There in March Next Year

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—That teams from all over the Pacific Coast and western states will be sent to the Western Bowling Congress which will be held in Vancouver possibly early in March, was the announcement made at last night's meeting of the special committee chosen to form a Vancouver association in conjunction with the W. B. C. Secretary Mr. "Joe" Morris read letters from a number of cities wishing to send teams to the tournament and if the enthusiasts will only get behind the movement and give it their earnest and energetic support, the committee is confident that the progress will prove one of the best on record.

A committee consisting of R. H. Gibbard, J. A. McIntyre and J. W. Morris was nominated to interview thirty prominent business men and sporting enthusiasts with a view to having them consent to act as members of a permanent organization committee.

FRANKIE GAGE WAS WINNER OVER DALTON

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—Frankie Gage, of Los Angeles, knocked out "Kid" Dalton, known as the "trial horse of the Pacific," in the second round at the Vernon Arena last night. Dalton was outclassed. He went to the floor seven times in the two rounds and at no time did he have the slightest chance to win. Both men are lightweights.

WANT NEW LEAGUE.

Class "D" Organization Will Be Formed in California.

Los Angeles, Nov. 6.—Another baseball league, under the sanction of organized baseball authorities, is being planned for this Coast, and it practically has been decided by Coast league magnates to organize it as a class D affair, and put it into operation next spring in four California cities. Just what cities will be included in the circuit has not yet been decided, but in all probability it will be San Jose, Fresno, Stockton and Modesto.

OTTAWA COLLEGE OUT OF UNIVERSITY LEAGUE.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Ottawa College intend to drop out of the Intercollegiate Hockey League, in which they were bracketed with Laval University. The local students will apply to the Inter-provincial League for admission. Their determination to withdraw from the hockey ranks is in accord with their resignation from the intercollegiate Rugby Union, the college authorities wishing to entirely sever their connection with all intercollegiate sport.

ROW AMONG MEN ON VANCOUVER TEAM

FAVORITISM ALLEGED IN TEAM SELECTION

Seven Players Say They Will Not Come to Victoria for McKechnie Cup Game

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—Consequent upon the stormy meeting of the Vancouver Rugby Union on Monday night at which it was alleged that favoritism had been shown by the selection committee in favor of the Crusaders, it is reported that the members of that club, some seven in all, will not go to Victoria next Saturday to meet the Capital City team in the first game for the McKechnie cup.

The reason the Crusaders allege for their refusal to appear on the "rep." team is that they feel if the selection committee have shown favoritism as the other teams allege, they do not care to take advantage of any such measure, to the exclusion possibly of better players. It is understood that action will be taken by the higher officials of the union to arrange an amicable understanding so that Vancouver may be represented by the strongest fifteen possible in Saturday's game.

STRENGTHENS VICTORIA TEAM FOR SATURDAY'S RUGBY GAME

New Forwards Expected to Add "Pep" to Local Attack—Referee Selection Left Open—Senators Will Practice Every Night This Week

Two changes were made in the forward line of Victoria's McKechnie Cup Rugby squad at last night's meeting of the Rugby Union, R. Edwards and J. M. Simpson, replacing Chalk and Davies. The changes, it is expected, will add strength to Victoria's attack, and with such three-quarters as the local team boasts of, the Senators look for a decisive victory over the Terminal City fifteen. No selection has been made of a referee, but this official will be agreed upon before the end of the week. The game will start at 3 o'clock at Oak Bay, and practices of the local team have been called for tonight, Thursday and Friday nights at the J. B. A. A.

Teams Selected.

The teams will line up as follows: Victoria—Fullback, Ed Steele; three-quarters, D. M. Grant, C. C. Grant, D. Thomas and C. Martin; halves, J. Shires and F. H. B. Champain; forwards, R. Gillespie (Capt.), G. Heinkeley, G. Carstairs, R. Edwards, J. Ackland, R. Denniston, J. Houston and J. M. Simpson. Reserve forwards—A. W. Milligan, T. C. Reed and E. McCallum. Vancouver—Fullback, Bullen; three-quarters, Bell, Baker, McLorg, Dean; halves, Caddell, McRoberts; forwards, Gray, Leggat, Smith, Thomas, McDiarmid, Spiers, Matthews, Hamilton; reserve backs, Hogarth, Watkins, Orme, Bell-Irving; reserve forwards, Sachs, Manley, Turner.

WATTELET WILL REMAIN

Rumors That Bees' Manager is to Be Deposed Unfounded—Seattle Report Says Bill Hurley Will Direct Local Club Next Season—Latter May Play for Senators

Bill Hurley, one of the best known players on the Northwestern circuit, is dickering with Manager Wattelet of the Bees, with a view to holding down a position on the local club next summer. Hurley is a grand ball player. A Seattle sport sheet publishes a story to the effect that he is to replace Manager Wattelet, but this is hardly likely, as the Bees' manager is after ball players and not managers at the present time. He is at present in the east, and before he returns hopes to have landed a bunch of real ball players. Hurley has handled teams in the Twilight League for two years, and won two pennants. He won the pennant for the first half of the season last year as manager of the Red Deer team. Calgary won the flag in the second half of the season.

RITCHIE WILLING TO SIGN UP WITH BURNS

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Willingness to take on Frankie Burns in a Thanksgiving Day battle if he is unable to secure a match with Champion Ad Wolgast was expressed here by Willie Ritchie, who has just returned to San Francisco after several weeks of hunting and fishing at the Lake County ranch of Billy Nolan, his manager. Ritchie says his injured wrist had completely healed. "Of course I would rather fight Wolgast as that would give me a chance at the title," said Ritchie, "but if such a match cannot be made, I will take on Burns. They all look alike to me."

NORTH WARDS HAVE AN AMBITIOUS PLAN

Amalgamation of Three Clubs Into One Strong Body Expected to Produce Results

Once again will the North Wards appear in action on the athletic field. At a meeting of that association last night, plans were decided upon for the reorganization of the North Ward Club, and bright prospects are in store for the supporters of the N. W. A. A. Quarters will be secured immediately, and steps will be taken to boost the membership lost, also to make arrangements for the handling of the different teams that are to be embraced by the North Wards. Affiliation with the Capitals, East Ends and other clubs will be effected at once, and the amalgamated clubs will start out with the determination to engage in all branches of sport.

Revive Basketball.

Basketball will be revived among other sports that are to be taken up, and the North Wards will endeavor to bring about the formation of a city basketball league. The Wards will enter a team in the Island league, while track and field athletics will also receive the attention of the athletic committee. Twenty-seven members were listed last night and by the next meeting it is hoped to have boosted this mark over the century. The officers were chosen as follows: Hon. presidents, Russ Humber and J. Ball; president, Ed. Christopher; vice-president, J. Dakera; secretary-treasurer, W. Blake; executive committee, A. McGregor, E. Taylor, F. Brown, W. Appleby, E. Brynjoifsen and J. Tunney.

COAST RECORDS AT CALIFORNIA FIELD

Enormous Crowd Will Witness Saturday's Big Contest at Berkeley

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—With the referee question happily settled by the selection of William W. Hill, the Australian Rugby expert, with all of the 17,500 seats sold and standing room at a premium, and with both fifteen presenting a line-up guaranteed by the disbandment of crack men, nothing but the possibility of a downpour of rain threatens the outlook for a splendid setting for the annual Stanford-California game at Berkeley Saturday.

OAK BAY RUN.

The following Oak Bay Rugby players are requested to turn out to-night at 8 o'clock at Oak Bay for a run and scrum practice: F. Nason, C. Tuohy, G. Dixon, F. Schneider, A. Williams, B. Johnson, Yates, A. McInnes, K. McDonald, E. McDonald, Cooper, Sprinkling, Campbell, Samson, R. Scott, Seder, F. Sweeney, E. Brynjoifsen and R. McInnes.

DROP NEW SECTION.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—The proposed new section of the N. H. A., consisting of North Bay, Port Arthur and Sault Ste. Marie, has been abandoned, owing to the fact that the promoters were unable to get another town to enter.

The National Baseball Commission should stamp its feet on Sunday ball playing in forbidden territory. Don't these diamond stars make enough during the regular playing seasons?

Hyland Really Wants a Bout.

Whatever may be said or written concerning Fighting Dick Hyland, the California boy must be given credit for being sincere in his application for another bout with Joe Bayley. For the past week letters and telegrams from Calgary have been received asking Bayley's terms for a bout, and one in particular from the sporting editor of the News-Telegram states that Burns is willing to stage the bout at his arena. Morris Condon is right in insisting upon a new referee, for even if Burns did act, Bayley would not fight at his best when he did not consider the third man in the ring the best that could be procured. The whole matter sums itself into a question of agreeing upon the terms for a bout, and by the time Bayley has disposed of O'Leary, the Seattle boy, these will undoubtedly have been agreed upon. A second bout between Hyland and Bayley will be a repetition of the Allen fight, Bayley being the winner in a few rounds in the return engagement. The one best bet is that it will be a boxing contest, Hyland having had his turn at infighting.

Wolgast's Title is in Danger.

It will not be many moons before there is a new holder of the world's lightweight title. Wolgast's showing against Joe Mandot at New Orleans on Monday was not of the brightest, and unless all signs fall, the Cheese Champion, as Wolgast was popularly called a year ago, will have stepped down before a better and cleverer ring star.

This fellow Mandot has come to the front rapidly and has demonstrated that his victory over Joe Rivers was no fluke by outpointing the title-holder. Wolgast, of course, has been famed for his ability to eat punishment and outgame an opponent over the longer route. Mandot, however, is a very clever boy, and with the confidence gained in Monday night's battle against Wolgast, will prove a much better man when next this pair clash. The champion's value as a drawing card was given an awful bump by the showing that Mandot made against him, and Tom Jones will not be such a high-minded financier when it comes to dealing for matches in the future; indeed, it will not be surprising if Mandot becomes the favorite in the eyes of the fight promoters across the line.

Frank Chance Gets in Wrong.

If Chubby Charlie Murphy pulled a "barney" when he fired Frank Chance, the latter is making matters worse by his long-winded interviews, on the drop that he predicts the Cubs will take without him. Chance comes out with the statement that the Chicago Nationals are a second-rate team under any other manager and makes the break that they will finish near the bottom than the top next season. Mr. Chance, no doubt, is a bit peeved over the manner in which he was ousted from the leadership of the Cubs, but that was no reason for him to insinuate that his former team mates were a bunch of dubs, either to cast reflections upon the managerial ability of one Jawn Evers. The latter is credited with having some grey matter and it is up to the public to judge whether or not he is a fit major league manager. Chance might have taken a leaf out of Hughie Jennings' book. When the Tigers' boss was being grilled last summer for the part that he took in the players' "Strike," he simply kept his own counsel and refused to be drawn into a discussion. The result was that Owner Navin, of the Detroit club, gave Hughie a two-year contract, at an increased figure, at a time when most fans looked for his discharge. A little tact would have allowed Frank Chance to retire with all honors, as he is known to be worth thousands. Instead he lowers himself to the class of his accusers by attempting to defend himself by the same line of "hop."

Hockey Trades in Prospect.

Should the Coast hockey league promoters find it possible to bring Didier Pitre to the B. C. H. A. in place of Newey Lalonde, they will be doing the fans a great favor. Lalonde is a star hockeyist, but as a spectacular player he is not in the same class with Pitre. The latter is of the Taylor, Ross and Johnson type. A huge athlete with tremendous speed. His tremendous rushes down the ice bring the crowds to their feet every time and his bear-like tactics are sure to make the biggest kind of a hit. Should Johnson fall to come West, Pitre would fit in on that Royal City defence to perfection. There is a strong probability of Fred Taylor coming to Vancouver, and here again the coast clubs will score, the Cyclone being another defence star whose individual efforts rouse the fans to the highest pitch of excitement. The signing of Dubbie Kerr brings another new star into the B. C. H. A. hockey firmament, and should that threatened "war" break loose, it will be "Good Night" for the National Hockey Association, the Patrick boys being determined to corral the hockey market should they be forced to show their strength.

Rugby Situation in the East.

Argonauts' victory over the Rough Riders in Ottawa, virtually hands the Big Four title to the Queen City fourteen. Had Ottawa beaten the Oransmen, they would have clinched the title. However, the heavier and more aggressive Toronto team doubled the score on the Capital City aggregation in the latter's own garden, and that settles matters. Ottawa still has a chance, but to win, her team must beat Argos in Toronto, an unlooked-for feat. McGill looks the class of the intercollegiate, while the Hamilton Alerts won the Ontario Rugby Union title without an effort. The doers, in summing up the chances of the teams in the finals for the Earl Grey Rugby trophy are favoring the inter-provincial team. They figure that the College Union lacks the class of a year ago, while the O. R. F. U. has not yet reached that stage where it may claim recognition with the two other major bodies.

JACK LAVIOLETTE
Famous French-Canadian hockey star, who threatens to jump to the Coast League if the Eastern promoters do not come up to his terms.

The Stormfair Overcoat

It has a warm, comfortable look that will appeal to the young fellow who wants a practical garment as well as a good-looking one. The "Stormfair" has the long, convertible collar, so much in vogue this season.

Come in and put one on to-day and button it up close around the neck—feel the softness and warmth and protection of the knit wind shields around the wrists, and you will realize what an excellent storm coat it is. It is shower-proof, too.

SPEED FEATURES INITIAL WORKOUT OF HOCKEY STARS

Victoria Professionals Get Down to Hard Work for Coming Season—Pitre Slated for New Westminster—New Players for the Coast League

Unlooked for speed was uncorked at the initial practice of the Victoria professional hockey club last night at the Arena, several of the players displaying mid-season form. The workout was entirely satisfactory and Manager Patrick expressed himself at the windup as entirely pleased with the limbering up. Walter Small, Lester Patrick and McAuliffe, of the local pros, were in uniform, while Ranny MacDonald, the speedy New Westminster wing star, was also on the ice. Charlie Burnett, Frank Gallher, Bill Reynolds, signed to play again in goal for New Westminster and Lehman is at Montreal. Neway Lalonde says that there is no chance of George Kennedy, of the Canadians, releasing him and that he will go back to the coast.

There is some talk of trading Pitre for Lalonde, but "Neway" said positively that he would not play for Kennedy under the circumstances. It is also rumored that he will be placed at the head of one of the Toronto teams. Both are surely in need of good players.

Taylor Is Doubtful.
Word has not been received from the East with regard to the decision of the National Hockey Association, but the Coast league will decide on the stand it will take at Saturday's meeting in Vancouver. Fred Taylor's failure to reply to the Coast telegram is taken as an indication that the Cyclone will stay in the East this winter. Sibby Nichol, it is reported, will play in Toronto this winter, but this is not confirmed.

"War" Looks Likely.
This would indicate that the hockey commission is as far distant as ever. Sam Lichtenhein is dickering with Hugh Lehman, whom Lester Patrick absurd, but something very nearly approaching a scandal.

I am told, with what truth I do not know, that Mr. Milroy draws $250 per month. In such a position he is not worth five, and it would further appear a question whether such anomalies do not bring the government that employs them into disrepute; in fact, it is common talk that of the three outfits in that neighborhood, that of the British Columbia government is in all respects the least desirable or efficient.

I hope the idea is not to introduce American "slave-drivers," whose driving power is their only qualification, but let me venture to repeat, sir, if we must be driven by them, let them be men that know their business. It would be less galling.

In conclusion, I believe I possess the right as an individual to make this protest, and should wish to make it as emphatic as possible. Any action is, of course, optional with you. Not hearing from you in the matter I shall conclude that you have good and sufficient reasons for not taking it up, and possibly seek other means for publicity.

GERMANS FRIENDLY TO GREAT BRITAIN

No Thought of War, Declares Leader of National Liberal Party

Toronto, Nov. 6.—Assurance that Germans never thought of war with Great Britain were given by Dr. Gustave Stresemann to members of the Board of Trade and the Manufacturers' Association at a luncheon tendered by those organizations to Dr. Stresemann in the National Club. Dr. Stresemann is leader of the National Liberal party in the German Reichstag, and is also president of the German-Canadian Economic Association, president of the Standing Exhibition Commission of Germany, and president of the Federation of Saxon Industrials. He returns immediately to contest an election.

Dr. Stresemann was emphatic in his assurance that Germans had no thought of a war with Great Britain, and declared that the Kaiser was the best friend of peace in the world. He had been surprised that the erroneous belief was abroad in Canada, fostered by erroneous reports that the German Empire entertained unfriendly feeling towards England. Such an assertion was utterly ridiculous.

The speaker explained that he appeared as the representative of the German-Canadian Economic Association, which was formed at his own suggestion during the recent strained relations between Germany and Canada, on account of the British preference. Its object was the promotion of trade relations between the two countries, and its methods were based on the belief that future trade relations must be based on mutual understanding, not on conflict. The removal of the surtax had been one result, and both countries had benefited. Since its removal the trade of Canada with Germany had increased 50 per cent, and Germany's trade with Canada 35 per cent, and the growth was continuing in proportion.

Dr. Stresemann declared, however, that there was great room for the

ROASTS WORK AT STRATHCONA PARK

PROTEST TO HEAD OF WORKS DEPARTMENT

Hon. Thos. Taylor Receives Letter Making Complaint—Canadians Passed Over

The appointment by the provincial government of Col. R. H. Thomson, of Seattle, at an annual salary of $15,000, to direct the laying out of Strathcona Park, has provoked a great deal of criticism throughout the province. It is felt that as far as Col. Thomson and his staff are concerned, the Strathcona Park work is a closed Seattle enterprise which Canadian engineers may contemplate only from a distance. The spectacle of the government wrapping itself in the Union Jack and constantly spouting imperialism, at the same time turning down Canadian engineers, is not a very inspiring one. In this connection the following letter, received a short time ago by the minister of public works, makes interesting reading:

Campbell River, B. C., Oct. 11, 1912.
Hon. Thos. Taylor, Minister of Public Works, Victoria, B. C.

Sir,—From the standpoint of a voter and taxpayer for seven years in the Chilliwack district, and a resident for some four years previously in this district, I beg leave to direct your attention to a matter that appears to me to be in urgent need of it. I refer to the general conduct of affairs in connection with the government work in Strathcona Park, the trails leading thereto, and the general employment of Americans to "boss" the job in question in preference to men from this province, who from their knowledge of local conditions, are naturally far more competent—or British subjects in general.

Now, sir, I cannot pretend to hold with this employment of aliens for the best positions, which seems to me unnecessary and also somewhat of a reflection on the capacity of men of Canada, but if, for reasons unknown to me, we must be run by men from the other side, at least let them be men that know their business, and not of the type of Mr. W. I. Milroy (commonly known as "Judge" Milroy) on the Goose-neck Lake section of trail, whose entire ignorance of any such work would be ludicrous—in fact is the laughing-stock of all parties in there—if it were not to be regarded more seriously.

Here are some instances, amongst many, to prove the point of his unfitness:

1. Thought fair-sized trees, with a considerable lean, could, and ought to be, thrown backward with the axe.
2. Would not allow trees to be "under cut" in falling—"cut them right through from one side, that's the way."
3. There was "no such thing" as undercutting a log that was "blinding."
4. And thought a 2 ft. cedar, barely started by the wind and securely lodged in a big fir, could be knocked down by rolling a log against it with peavies!

Such ideas would seem to imply not merely inexperience, but natural incapacity. There is hardly a 10-year-old boy in this country but could tell Mr. Milroy more in line than he ever knew, and it certainly seems to me that the control by such a man of a crew of men, all of whom have been more or less in the woods, and are therefore infinitely better posted than himself, whom, moreover, he cannot refrain from "driving," and pestering with his foolish notions, is not only strengthening of the present connection. The fact that the present trade treaties could be dissolved upon very short notice militated against the success of the present negotiations. Moreover Germany had granted to Canada the position of the most favored nation on 25 articles, and, as there were 946 articles on the German tariff schedule, this left great room for the extension of the Canadian trade.

Germany no longer had any opposition to the British preference, as the Fatherland now had similar relations with colonies of her own. Germany believed in a protective tariff for her own possessions, and did not object to the tariff in other countries. "Permanent trade relations," said Dr. Stresemann, "on the basis of a fair give-and-take in the exchange of products, would tend towards an improvement in shipping facilities between Canada and Germany. Both the Hamburg American Line and the North German Lloyd are very much interested in having their service to Canada improved. This, of course, is only possible through an increase of freight, consequent upon an improvement in trade relations."

R. S. Gourlay replied in behalf of the Toronto hosts, and assured Dr. Stresemann that Canadian business men were quite as opposed to war as those of Germany. He hoped to see a great expansion of Canada's export trade to Germany.

ELECTION METHODS IN UNITED STATES

CONSUL A. E. SMITH TELLS OF PROCEDURE

Stars and Stripes at Half-Mast To-day Has Nothing to Do With Yesterday's Result

Although the Stars and Stripes are at half-mast and there is a decoration of crepe on the door at the U. S. Consulate office, Metropolitan block, Government street, this morning, it has no reference whatever to the presidential election of yesterday, said Consul Abraham E. Smith this morning when furnishing information regarding United States presidential elections. Visitors in the building this morning, forgetting the recent death of Vice-President Sherman, could not gather the meaning of the crepe and the flag at half-mast; but the genial consul in a few words put them right, explaining that the death of Vice-President Sherman was the cause.

The election has resulted as most people expected it would, said Mr. Smith, referring to the contest of yesterday. It was the greatest revolution in presidential elections, he said, since the election of Cleveland in 1884, which was by a narrow margin. Grover Cleveland was elected over James G. Blaine by the vote of the state of New York alone. For the last twenty years there had been talk of Mr. Wilson as a presidential candidate, but he was never prominent in the field until six years ago, when he was elected governor of New Jersey by a large majority. He then loomed more prominently as a presidential candidate.

It is twenty years since there was a Democrat elected as president of the United States. At that time, 1892, President Cleveland was elected for the second time, and he was the only president who ever "came back" after having left the White House. He was first elected in 1884, then defeated in 1888, and re-elected just twenty years ago.

Referring to President-elect Woodrow Wilson, Mr. Smith said the new United States executive was one of the noblest of men in the land. He was a scholar, a good man, and a gentleman. He was a Southerner by birth. Mr. Smith recalled with pleasure the fact that he heard the president-elect deliver the baccalaureate address at the time of the graduation of Mr. Smith's daughter from Wesley College, Mass. That was in 1892.

VOTERS' LIST WILL BE LARGER THIS YEAR

Names Will Be Split Up Into Five Classes to Meet With New Situation

Now that the voters' lists for the next municipal election have been made up notice of motion is posted today to be considered at the next meeting of the city council for the appointment of aldermen to act as a court of revision on the lists. It is not probable that their duties this year will be as onerous as those of last year, when the court had the unpleasant task of calling into question the legality of a large number of votes, sufficient as events proved to turn the election.

An estimate made this year gives the figures of the list at some 700 to 800 more than in 1911, although owing to the duplications from the agreement holder franchise, the net increase will not be more than 400 to 500. Last year there were 6,328 registered voters on the majority list. The names will appear in five divisions on this occasion. "H." for householder and "L." for licenseholder, remaining the same, while the letter "P." which formerly signified property holder, has been subdivided into three classes, "R.H.P." for registered holder of property, and "R.V.P." for registered vendee of property, while if the registered holder wishes to vote on other property he is marked "R.H.O.P." signifying registered holder of other property, these letters being adopted to facilitate the work of the deputy returning officers.

V. & S. AGREEMENT

Committee Will Meet Again To-day to Endeavor to Reach Conclusion.

The special committee appointed by the city council on Thursday to go into the question of naming an auditor to look into the books of the Victoria & Sidney Railway and report, met yesterday afternoon and adjourned till to-day without reaching a conclusion.

It has not been found possible to appoint a member of the comptroller's staff as they are all busy, and an outside man must be secured. The adjournment was taken in order to get into touch with members of this profession who can spare the time at once, so that the full information may be in possession of the council before the next election. It will probably take the auditor some weeks if the books from the time the Great Northern Railway took over the road in March, 1909, are to be thoroughly examined.

The United States are fortunate in their new president," said the consul. "There were three of the finest men of the country as candidates at this time." He then went on to explain the system under which the United States elect their president. Under the American system of presidential election, he said, "the vote of every state is counted separately. The state is entitled to as many electoral college votes as the number of congressmen and senators combined. For instance, Washington has five congressmen and two senators, making seven electoral college votes. New York has 43 congressmen and two senators, making 45 votes. It looks now as though there would be over 100 majority of Mr. Wilson in the electoral college, as large states with large electoral votes have been gained by him. Each party nominates electors to the college pledged to the party candidates, but there is no legal obligation. Their obligation to vote as instructed is a moral one that has never yet been violated. The electoral college meets the first Wednesday in December in each state of the union for an election, and casts votes for president and vice-president. One copy of the vote is mailed to the president of the United States Senate and another copy is sent by messenger elected in each state from the college, the messenger being one of the delegates.

"Yesterday's voting was to elect delegates to the electoral college. The Senate of the United States meets in February to open the returns from the college. These are compared with the results brought by the delegates, and the result is then announced by the president of the Senate. The concluding step in the election of the president of the union is the swearing in, which takes place on March 4 and is performed by the Chief Justice of the United States. The president is then in office for four years.

"In 1872 Horace Greeley was a Democratic candidate against Grant and other candidates. Grant had an electoral college majority, but when Greeley died before the meeting of the college those electors who were for him voted for other candidates." Mr. Smith said this morning that it was the only case known where the college delegates had voted other than as determined at the time of their election. They were released from their pledge by the death of Greeley. In the event of death of the president-elect after the meeting of the college and before declaration by the Senate and the swearing in, the vice-president-elect would succeed.

"MARTHA" PRESENTED BY SHEEHAN COMPANY

Work Was Excellently Rendered—The "Chimes of Normandy" to Be Given To-night

In "Martha," presented last evening at the Victoria theatre by the Sheehan Opera Company, opera lovers had an opportunity of hearing this most popular of Von Flotow's works once more, and it is only to be regretted that no excellent performance should have been given to a small house. Although old-fashioned and lacking in the qualities that make for real greatness, the music of this opera-bouffe is tuneful, lively and catching, and is woven round a story which, making all the usual allowances for its improbability, has enough comical situations to be amusing in itself. Although not often heard nowadays in its entirety in this country, the principal melodies are well-known, and rounds of applause rewarded the singers of the familiar airs.

As a whole the work was excellently sung, and it was gratifying to find Mr. Sheehan in better form than he has been heard for some time, while the remainder of the company were quite up to expectations. As two ladies of high rank, who as the result of a prank in search of amusement find themselves bound as servants to two young farmers, Miss Gladys Caldwell and Nancy, or Lady Harriet (Martha and Nancy respectively) were very pleasing. The former possessed a clear, strong soprano which she used with considerable effect, and won considerable praise for her singing of "The Last Rose of Summer"; the latter had a pleasant contralto which blended melodiously with the other voices in the various part songs which appeared during the opera. As Plunkett, Mr. Francis Boyle was in strong voice, and another cleverly impersonated role was that of the sheriff. Of the various pleasing scenes none was better than the third act, in which Plunkett's farmhouse was shown, the singers warming up to their work as the opera progressed. The Spinning Chorus was undoubtedly one of the prettiest and most finished things in the whole production, and helped to counteract the effect of the bad make-up which was used by both the ladies.

LOCAL NEWS

Council of Board.—The council of the Board of Trade will meet on Friday morning instead of on Tuesday as previously stated.

Take Local Offices.—Representing a number of Scottish clients and investors, Martin Kerr & Co., have taken over the offices of A. C. Flimmerfelt in the British American Trust Company building, Fort street. The firm has offices at St. Vincent street, Glasgow. The members of the firm are St. John Martin and Lawrence K. Kerr. Mr. Martin recently acquired 630 acres of land near Todd Inlet on the Saanich Peninsula.

Engineer Meets Officials.—The city engineer, in his capacity as water commissioner, made the acquaintance this morning of the officials charged with carrying out the duties of bringing Sooke Lake water to the city. The former commissioner, James L. Raymond, introduced the officials to him, in the party being the resident, Boyd Ehle, and the present situation was thoroughly discussed.

C. O. C. F.—An important meeting of Council No. 577 will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the K. of P. Hall, at which nominations will be received for 1913 officers.

The Painting Contract.—The report of the city analyst on the samples taken recently at South Park school will be taken up at the meeting of the Board of the council this evening. The divergences of opinion between the two sets of samples will be taken into consideration, and probably some action will be taken thereon.

Ladies' Musical Club.—In connection with the second amateur concert of the Ladies' Musical Club, which is to be held on Saturday afternoon next, it is requested that all music teachers will send in a list of the names of pupils who would care to become members of the society, all applications to be sent to Mrs. Richard Nash, at the Alexandra Club, not later than Saturday morning, and all applications must be signed by the teacher.

Mayor to Address Delegates.—Mayor Beckwith will deliver an address of welcome to the delegates at the thirteenth annual convention of the British Sunday School Association this evening at 8 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Metropolitan Methodist church. This address of greeting was to have been delivered by Sir Richard McBride, who, however, is absent in the East, and will be unable to attend.

Only One Tub.—Before Judge Lampman in the county court yesterday afternoon there arose a dispute between plumbing and house contractors, the case being Hayward and Dod against McDonald. Plaintiffs had contracted for the plumbing of a house to include one bath tub. The defendant contractor claimed two tubs were needed, but as one only was installed there should be a deduction of $71 in the contract price. Judgment was given for the plaintiff for the amount of deductions from the contract price, and H. G. Hall for the defendants.

Christ Church Cathedral.—At a meeting of the cathedral committee held at the vestry yesterday evening, the following resolution was passed and referred to a special vestry meeting called for on Wednesday at the Christ Church school room for consideration. The churchwardens have decided that the system of renting sittings in Christ church works a hardship and injustice to a very large and ever growing majority of parishioners, and is detrimental to the best interests of the parish. Be it therefore resolved that, by and with the full consent of the rector of the parish, on and after the first day of January, 1913, this system be abolished and all seats in Christ church declared free and unappropriated. Mover, H. H. Woolson, people's warden; seconder, H. O. Litchfield, rector's warden.

Devonian Entertainment.—The Victoria theatre will be on fete on the "Gala Night" to be given by the Victoria Devonians on Saturday, when the Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Paterson will honor them with their presence. The society have been extremely fortunate in securing the services of Madam Marie Wood a famous English contralto, now residing in Victoria, and also in acquiring (Miss Viola) Miss Violet Vickers, a graceful dancer, making her first appearance in Victoria. W. B. Parkyn, of London, England, is another fine "scoop" for the evening's bill of entertainment as he is an eminent London entertainer and impersonator. Many other local and impersonators have kindly come forward to assist the programme which as a grand finale will have a naval tableau representing Britannia Armed and the legend of Drake. This last item is under the special management of Messrs. Crammer & Kay.

The Evening Chit-Chat
 By Ruth Cameron

When a child fools its nurse and escapes taking some disagreeable but much needed medicine, he thinks he is lucky.
 When a grown-up apparently fools his nurse nature, and apparently escapes the medicinal consequences of some health defying act, he thinks he is lucky.
 And one is just about as mistaken as the other.
 I heard a young man declaring the other day that this idea that you shouldn't go in bathing right after eating is all nonsense. "I do it often," he said, "and it never hurts me."
 He is a man of fine physique and unusual endurance, and by reason of these things he is able to break the laws of health without any apparent punishment. But I haven't a doubt that that foolish trick is injuring him in some way or other, and that some day he will be asked to pay this debt he is running up—and with compound interest.
 "That doesn't hurt me." How often I have heard one or another making that foolish boast about some infringement of the laws of health! Of course, in all the cases I have not had a chance to watch and see if the boast was justified, but in a great many I have seen that it was not.
 "I can eat anything at any time and it never hurts me," a woman I know used to say, and so she overtaxed and abused her stomach in every possible way for many years. Finally there came to this woman a time of stress and trial. She broke down. Her digestion, that stronghold in which she thought herself so safely fortified, gave way. "I can't understand it," she said, "I always thought my stomach was the strongest part of me. I used to eat anything I wanted at any time." "Quite so," said the doctor dryly.
 And now this woman is committing the second blunder of wondering why she cannot get over her trouble in a few months. Foolish woman! If she had been getting into debt for fifty years, would she wonder why she couldn't save up enough to pay it in five months?
 Another woman I know used to abuse her eyes outrageously. She would read by the hour with a feeble gas or electric light placed high above her head. She would keep on sewing in the late afternoon when the twilight was so dim that I could hardly see across the room. She read incessantly on the cars even through a veil.
 And when I tried to warn her she would laugh and say, "Oh nothing hurts my eyes, they are my strongest point."
 Now she also is paying the debt of many years' contraction.
 Consequences are costly things. When we suffer immediately for some infringement of the laws of health we think we are unlucky. In reality we are very lucky. "It never hurts me" is a dangerous thing to think.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, obline—double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by D. E. Campbell under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of obline and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask for the double strength obline; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

WOMEN LISTEN TO INSPIRING ADDRESS

MISS MACNAUGHTAN ON WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE

Talented Writer Spoke to Large Audience Yesterday Afternoon

It was to a splendid audience that Miss Sarah MacNaughtan spoke yesterday afternoon, when, as the guest of honor at their tea, she addressed the members of the Women's Canadian Club and others who had come to the gathering on purpose to hear her. Mrs. Jenkins, who took the chair, introduced the speaker, who, she said, was well-known to all through her delightful books.

Miss MacNaughtan in addressing the ladies, referred to the previous occasions on which she had met members of the Canadian Women's Club at London, Ont.; at Calgary, and at Vancouver, and before leaving Canada on her return to the Old Country she hoped to meet them at Toronto and Ottawa. It would give her great pleasure, she said, if any of those present would renew the acquaintance if at any time they visited London, and she would always be glad to welcome them at her home in Norfolk street.

Woman's Suffrage. "When I was asked to speak this afternoon," continued Miss MacNaughtan, "the woman suffrage question was suggested to me as a subject, and I could not resist the opportunity to say something about it. I have heard a good deal about this woman suffrage question, and have asked questions everywhere that I have been in this country. Almost on every side I got this sort of answer: 'Of course I am interested, but I am absolutely against militancy. The militants are awful people.' Now I want to say from my personal acquaintance with many of the militants that many of these 'awful' people are very fine women. I do not want to suggest militancy here or anywhere. I do not myself think it is the best plan to adopt now, and it is not helping on the cause now, nor do I want to suggest to you that you should adopt these methods. But, I know these women personally, and I know them not to be—as so often supposed—hysterical women.

"I dined with Dr. Louisa G. Anderson just before I left London," said the speaker in support of her statement, "and met a great number of the militants there, and I cannot say of any of these women that they were anything but charming. Most of them had been in prison. I do not think that you can lightly put these women aside with the comment that they are 'hysterical women.' Dr. Anderson, for instance, who is very high up in the profession—a daughter of Dr. Elizabeth Garrett Anderson, one of the first women doctors in England and the first woman in England to be elected a mayor, and a niece of Mrs. Fawcett whose name is so prominently identified with the suffrage movement in England—could not be classed under such a name, and it does not seem to me that it could have been a very trivial thing that would send such a woman to prison. I went with Dr. Anderson to Albert Hall that same night to attend a suffrage meeting, and I heard her say to a man from the staff of the Times that they gave little space to the discussion of the question, to which he replied that they had not room to give to the arguments in their paper. This is undoubtedly one reason why they have adopted the militant tactics they have.

"Dr. Ethel Smyth, again, another of the cleverest women in England, who was about to go to Berlin to take the very greatest musical honors that a woman in the musical world can possess.

SALT RHEUM CAME OUT ON HANDS

Formed Watery Pimples, Itchy and Had Horrible Burning Sensation. Lost Some of Finger Nails. Could Not Open Hands. Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

215 N. Ligar St., Toronto, Ontario.

"For seven years I have been troubled with salt-rheum. It came out on my hands and formed kind of watery pimples all over them which became itchy and it had a horrible burning sensation which caused me a good deal of pain. It came out on my hands in the fall and remained there till after spring. I might mention that I lost some of my finger-nails by the disease. During this length of time I was utterly useless, as I could not open my hands. I tried several other patent medicines without a bit of relief. Some of my friends advised me to try Cuticura Remedies so I sent for samples and by using them there was a great improvement. Then I went to the druggist and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment; after using them I am glad to say I am completely cured. I had given up all hope of being cured. I can say to all those who have suffered as I have, not to lose courage but to give Cuticura Remedies a fair trial." (Signed) Miss Lillian Irwin, Oct. 13, 1911.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded the most economical treatment for afflictions of the skin and scalp that torture, itch, burn, scale, and destroy sleep. Sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post card Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 361D, Boston, U. S. A.

sibly obtain, gave all this up in order to go to prison. I am not pleading for militancy, but for the militants. I do not think I would altogether condemn the women, though you may condemn their methods. It always helps me a little when I hear this universal condemnation, as I have heard it in Canada—to think of the position that women in all time have had to face if they took an unusual stand. Joan of Arc, for instance, met her death because she had done a thing which women were generally supposed to be incapable of; Florence Nightingale, even, whom everyone acknowledges to be one of the greatest women in the world, I find had detractors in her time, many of the clergymen of the day having pronounced from the pulpit that it was very unwomanly to go out nursing in the way this brave woman did. Remembering these things, we should say to ourselves at least that these women are doing what they think right.

"There was a picture in Punch lately which seems to have rather pointed significance in this instance. This showed a third-class compartment of a railway carriage, with an anaemic, round-shouldered, wizened little man holding forth in grandiose tones to the following tune: 'Now, if I had been Kitchener. . . . It seems to me that that is the sort of tone we are prone to adopt when discussing this question of woman suffrage. We can all say how much better we would have done, but I think it would be more generous to say less in abuse of these methods until we can really do something ourselves that is better.'"

"It is a very old cause; it is a cause that ought to be studied historically. It would carry more force if we knew more about it. You know it was one of the burning questions in the days of old Greece. The invariable argument to the plea of the women then was that there were two things in the life of a nation which could never come to pass—freedom of slaves and the enfranchisement of women. But the first has come, and I have no doubt that the other will come too.

"In Saxon times," said the speaker, "women either married or went into a convent. The abbess of the convent used to ride to the Saxon parliament, and the women of the abbey were represented by the abbess. However, now that this convent life is over, women are still doing their work in the world, although we are still talking of it in England as if women might some day become workers. Why, there are five million women workers in England to-day, and the question is not what may come some day, but what has already come. We need only go to the criminal statistics to find that these five million women are the best citizens that England has. At present women have no protection for their work. Trades unions are out of the question along the same lines as the men's unions, as the women, on the small wages they get, cannot form these. A strike carries no weight because the women have no vote behind them. Mr. Hobhouse made a speech in which he said that it had not been proved that women wanted the vote; when men wanted the franchise, he said, they tore down the park palings and demonstrated in other ways that they wanted the vote—and I think this statement was in a large part responsible for the recent suffrage disturbances.

"There is another frequently used argument," continued Miss MacNaughtan. "So many people say that there is no hope that the cause will be won until there is an element of humor brought into it. We are all too much in earnest at present for humor; but at the same time there is unquestionably an element of humor about a condition which allows the wife to pay the rent and the husband to vote—as often happens. There was a tremendous outcry when the Women's Poverty Act came into being, and wreck and ruin were prophesied just as they are now in connection with the granting of the franchise. There was going to be terrible trouble when the women had their own purse. But nothing has happened. If there is one thing about which women show universal genius, it is in the management of the purse.

"Finally, I would say to all, read John Stuart Mills or some other great thinker on this subject. Read about what women have done, and don't think that it is merely a question of snatching at rights. The thing is, are we going to undertake these duties which the privilege or the votes will impose on us; are we going to claim them; are we going to use them?" At the conclusion of her address, Mrs. Carow, a visitor from England, spoke in endorsement of the arguments of the previous speaker, both the ladies, on the motion of Mrs. Hanington, seconded by Mrs. Frank Andrews, being thanked by a standing vote, a beautiful bouquet of pink carnations being presented to Miss MacNaughtan by Mrs. Ker's little daughter.

FATHER OF HIS PEOPLE.

The Emperor's Personality Is Over All Germany.

To write about Germany without writing about the Emperor is as impossible as to jump away from one's own shadow. When the sun is behind any phase or department of German life, the shadow cast is that of Germany's Emperor. This is not said because it is pleasing to whomsoever it may be, for in Germany, and in much of the world outside Germany, this situation is looked upon as unfavorable, and even deplorable; and certainly no American can look upon it with equanimity, for it is of the essence of his Americanism to distrust it. It is, however, so much a fact that to neglect a discussion of this personality would be to leave even so slight a sketch of Germany as this hopelessly top-sided. He so pervades German life that to write of the Germany of the last twenty-five years without attempting to describe William the Second, German Emperor, would be to leave every question, institution, and problem of the country without its master-key.

In other chapters dealing more particularly with the political development of Germany, and with the salient characteristics, mental and moral, of the people, we shall see how it has come about that one man can thus impregnate a whole nation of sixty-five millions with his own aims and ambitions to such an extent that they may be said, so to speak, to live their political, social, martial, religious, and even their industrial life in him. It is phenomenon of personality that exists nowhere else in the world to-day, and on so large a scale and among so enlightened a people perhaps never before in history.

Nothing has made scientific accuracy in dealing with the most interesting and most important factors in the world so utterly inaccurate and misleading as those infallibly accurate and impersonal agents, electricity and the sun. If one were to judge a man by his photographs, and the gossip of the press, one would be sure to know nothing more valuable about him than that his mustache is brushed up and that his brows are permanently lowering.

The relation of such a ruler to his people is like that of a Catholic bishop to his flock. The contract is not one made with hands, but is an inalienable right on the one hand, and an undiminishable upon the other.

On several occasions the German Emperor has made it unmistakably clear that this is his view of the origin and sanctity of his responsibilities. "If we have been able to accomplish what has been accomplished, it is due above all things to the fact that our house possesses a tradition by virtue of which we consider that we have been appointed by God to preserve and direct, for their own welfare, the people over whom he has given us power." These words are from a speech made in 1897 at Bremen. In 1910 at Konigsberg, he declares: "It was in this spot that my grandfather in his own right placed the royal crown of Prussia upon his head, insisting once again that it was bestowed upon him by the grace of God alone, and not by parliaments and meetings and decisions of the people. He thus regarded himself as the chosen instrument of heaven, and as such carried out his duties as a ruler and lord. I consider myself such an instrument of heaven, and shall go my way without regard to the views and opinions of the day."

Prince Henry of Prussia, the popular, and deservedly popular, sailor brother of the Emperor, has signified his entire allegiance to this doctrine by saying that he was actuated by one single motive: "a desire to proclaim to the nations the gospel of your Majesty's sacred person, and to preach that gospel alike to those who will listen and to those who will not."

This language has a strange and far-away sound to us. It is as though one should come into the market-place with the bannered pomp of Milton's prose upon his lips. The vicious would think it a trick, the idle would look upon it as a heavy form of joking, the intelligent would see in it a supererogation, or a dream of knight-hood that has faded into unrecognizable dimness. Some men, on the other hand, might wish that all rulers and governors, whatsoever were equally touched with the sanctity of their obligations.—From "Germany and the Germans from an American Point of View," by Price Collier, in the November Scribner.

“SUMMERLAND”

The Most Beautiful Sea-Frontage Property Ever Placed on the Market

We have always been particular in the class of land we offer to investors, our main consideration always being the suitability of the property for the purpose for which it is sold, its intrinsic value and its possibilities for profitable investment. This subdivision is widely known as the famous HEATHERBELL ORCHARDS, fronting on Esquimalt Lagoon, and adjoining Hatley Park, the residence of Hon. James Dunsmuir.

A GENERAL VIEW OF BEAUTIFUL “SUMMERLAND”

EVERY LOT WILL HAVE ACCESS TO THE LAGOON

EVERY LOT WILL HAVE ACCESS TO THE LAGOON by a sixty-six foot street, at the end of which will be a landing place for the convenience of all the property owners in the subdivision. The principal streets will be graded by the present owners without any cost to the purchasers; and there is sufficient pure spring water on the property for a hundred families.

This property is being sold at prices below what has been offered for the adjoining property as acreage, and there is no waterfront property around Victoria with the same sized lots, unimproved, at the prices at which we are offering this.

We are under contract to sell off this subdivision quickly, and in order to do so, the prices have been made low, considering the merits, the advantageous position and the improved nature of the property.

But as an advertising proposition, in order to draw the attention of those who otherwise might not be attracted to it, and in order, also, to save the expense of a prolonged advertising campaign, WE WILL GIVE AWAY the eight roomed residence on the property, with three-quarters of an acre of surrounding land (value $5000) to the person who is fortunate enough to be the holder of the first prize number; and as we usually buy a new car each year, WE WILL GIVE AWAY A 1912 CHALMERS 36 H.P. AUTOMOBILE, which cost us with equipment, $3000, to the fortunate holder of the second prize number. We wish it to be understood that these prizes have not been reckoned in the prices of the lots, but are offered with the idea of making a record sale and to clean up a nice piece of business within the shortest possible time.

We would remind the public of the fact that we placed “Elliston Orchards” on the market, and sold it out within three days, giving away a $14,000 house (for which $12,000 was refused by the lucky owner). The lots, however, were some of the most beautiful ever sold in the city of Victoria, were excellent value for the price paid, and will make excellent profits for those who purchased them.

In offering SUMMERLAND to the public, we are repeating our previous effort, and expect that we shall be just as successful; and we know that purchasers will make a splendid investment, as well as a chance of having $5000 or $3000 given them.

The terms on this property, notwithstanding the above premiums, are exceptionally easy, being ten per cent cash, fifteen per cent more in thirty days, and the balance spread over nearly three years, in equal installments, payable in 9, 18 and 27 months from the first day of December.

A NOTABLE DATE IN ORANGEISM

VICTORIA MEMBERS BANQUET TOGETHER

Dr. Tomalin Draws Attention to Defenceless State of This Coast

The defenceless state of the British Columbia coast formed the subject of reference at the Guy Fawkes Day banquet last evening. Addressing the guests assembled round the festive board under the auspices of L.O.L., 1425, whose worshipful master, Stephen C. Court, presided, Dr. Tomalin responded to the toast of the "Empire."

The doctor first dealt with what he called the hilltops of the defence question, taking his text from the remarks of Bishop Roper at the Navy League demonstration last Wednesday in this city. The bishop spoke on the land hunger which compelled nations to expand, and Dr. Tomalin said that was the policy which created the danger to the Empire from Germany and Japan. In the pretensions of the latter nation their own situation was more closely identified. And yet what did they find? There was not a single destroyer or submarine to protect the harbors of Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert from a hostile fleet from the Orient, and Victoria would be at the mercy of a Japanese fleet within ten minutes, and within two weeks a Japanese army would have occupied the strategic positions in the province. They must have a Pacific unit, and one which would be equal to the emergencies of the case. As a former Winnipeg medical man he regretted that in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta there was not that realization of the danger of invasion which ought rightly to exist, and also an ignorance of the necessity of naval defence. It was their duty to instruct the people of Canada, who did not know these dangers, of their innumerable. Let them in naval defence use the same motto as Hereward the Wake, "Watch and pray." (Applause.)

tenance of the British inheritance unimpaired. As they looked round the Dominion they could see how well it was worth fighting for, and how the Empire stood for freedom, victory, success, prosperity and perseverance, in all of which Canadians took their share. (Applause.) Canada also stood for morality, for those principles which embodied in the life of the subject created a great country. They as a people were determined that in the immigrants which come to this country there should be no breaking away from the traditions Canadians had built up for themselves, and no lowering of the ideals of which they rightly and properly boasted, rooted deep in the soil of British liberty. J. Braden gave the "Empire" and Dr. Tomalin replied, this toast being followed by the "Friendly Societies."

Other Toasts. Others given at a late hour were the "Royal Black Knights," proposed by G. A. Grimshaw, and replied to by W. H. P. Trowsdale, and "The City of Victoria," confided to the hands of Alderman Dilworth. Mayor Beckwith made a brief response, speaking of the future of the city, and expressing the trust that in its development the Orange Association would take a fitting share. During the evening an Orangeman of 83 years was introduced to the audience, Brother MacShaney, and the octogenarian received a great ovation from the company when he replied. The dinner was held at the Prince George hotel, and so large was the company that it overflowed into another room, the repeat and music being irreplaceable. Mr. Court made a capital toastmaster.

months, reading about myself, reading that I was to be elected and now I can hardly believe it is true. The governor rose at 10 o'clock. His breakfast was interrupted by a constant stream of congratulatory messages and the arrival of a huge cake sent from New York by Henry Morgenthau, chairman of the Democratic national financial committee. On top of the cake was a horseshoe on which was inscribed: "Greetings to the twenty-seventh president." There was also a miniature White House over which floated an American flag bearing a portrait of the governor. Mrs. Wilson and her daughters assisted the governor in receiving callers. Governor Wilson received the following message from President Hibben, of Princeton: "I extend to you the congratulations and best wishes of your alma mater on your election to the presidency of the United States."

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—Complete returns from 301 Los Angeles city precincts out of 455 indicated a very close race between Bell (Prog.) and Criswell (Socialist) in the ninth congressional district. Bell is leading by only 112. The vote stood: Bell, 3,552; Criswell, 3,740; Kirk (Dem.), 2,748. Criswell showed surprising gains during the morning count. In New York. New York, Nov. 6.—New York state went Democratic in practically every branch of its government. Congressman Sulzer was elected governor by a plurality estimated at 150,000 over the nearest opponent, Job E. Hedges (Republican). The legislature probably will be strongly Democratic in both branches. Sulzer received a plurality not only in the Democratic stronghold of New York City, but also in the up-state districts. The totals in New York City were: Sulzer, 263,741; Straus, 193,572; Hedges, 111,950. Governor-elect Sulzer's activity in urging an abrogation of the treaty with Russia for discriminating against passports presented by American Hebrews, helped to split the Jewish vote that would otherwise have largely gone to Straus. Ex-Speaker Clark Elected. Chicago, Nov. 6.—Illinois remained in the Progressive column on the vote for presidential electors by barely 15,000, with a third of the state yet to hear from at noon to-day. Governor Wilson gained 10,000 on the plurality of 24,477 that Col. Roosevelt was given by Chicago. Governor Deneen apparently ran third. Judge Dunne, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, is generally conceded a plurality of 60,000. The vote from 1,990 precincts gave Dunne 312,361; Funk (Prog.), 141,632; and Deneen (Rep.), 137,643. Dunne led in Cook county and down state. The entire Democratic state ticket was swept into office. Two surprises were the defeat of former Speaker Cannon by O'Hair, Democrat, in the eighteenth district, and the size of the Socialist vote. In Cook county, Cannon, Socialist, ran ahead of the Republican candidate for state's attorney, and only about 5,000 behind Hoyne, Democrat, who was elected. Cannon's vote was estimated at 73,000. Two Socialists were elected to the Legislature. Progressives and Republicans hold the balance of power in the Legislature on joint ballot. Nine Progressive, 97 Democratic and 94 Republican were elected. There are 204 members with 103 necessary for a choice in the selection of two United States senators. It is believed early to-day that William McKinley, President Taft's campaign manager, had been defeated to succeed himself in Congress. Kansas Returns. Topeka, Kas., Nov. 6.—The constitutional amendment giving women full suffrage was carried in Kansas by a majority of 50,000, according to scattering returns received up to early to-day. A comparison of ballots from a dozen precincts show that not more than two-thirds of the men marked the suffrage ballots. Republican State Chairman Dolley said at noon that the reduction of Roosevelt's lead was only temporary and that the rural returns would increase it from 10,000 to 12,000. He claimed the state for Stubbs and Capper by 20,000, and the remainder of the state ticket by close to 30,000. Secretary Martin, of the Democratic state committee, claimed the state for Wilson by 15,000, and for Thompson and Hedges by an equal amount. Cross Desert to Vote. San Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 6.—Unprecedented loyalty to a presidential candidate, so far as San Bernardino's record shows, was displayed by 43 voters of Hinckley who travelled 33 miles across the desert to Kramer and voted to a man for Col. Roosevelt. Their devotion to the cause of Progressivism became known to-day when returns from the desert districts were received at the office of the county clerk in this city. Votes for Electoral College. Chicago, Nov. 6.—The electoral college: State. Taft Wilson, velt. Alabama 12 .. Roosevelt .. 8 .. Arizona 3 .. Arkansas 9 .. California 13 .. Colorado 6 .. To Remove Sallowness, Blisters or Wrinkles

(From Family Physician.) Do you realize that just beneath that coarse, muddy or discolored complexion there's an exquisitely beautiful skin of youthful tint and delicacy? If you could only bring this complexion to the surface, discarding the old one! You can—in the easiest, simplest, most natural manner imaginable. Just get an ounce of ordinary meringue wax at any drug store, apply nightly like cold cream, removing it mornings with warm water. The wax assists Nature by gradually taking off the lingering particles of dead and half-dead surface skin, causing no discomfort whatsoever. Ordinarily it takes from a week to ten days to complete the transformation. Cutaneous defects like pimples, blotches, liver spots, moth patches, freckles, of course disappear with the old skin. Nothing else I know of will accomplish such wonderful results in so short a time. Fine lines and even the deeper wrinkles often appear at an early age. In such cases nothing is better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1-2 pt. witch hazel. This is remarkably effective.

IMPROVEMENTS TO NECHACO RIVER

Railway Contractors Clear Waterway of Rocks — Transportation Plans

Fort George, Nov. 6.—After two months' steady work on the Nechaco river, Foley, Welsh & Stewart, Grand Trunk Pacific contractors, have made that river absolutely clear and safe for navigation from its mouth, where it empties into the Fraser, to this point, to Fraser Lake, a distance of more than one hundred miles, and when the company's present plans for improving navigation on the Upper Fraser are completed next spring they will be in a position to load their fleet of transports at Tete Jaune cache and run them straight down the Fraser, up the Nechaco to Fraser lake, without any danger from rocks or rapids.

This will mean a clear waterway of 420 miles or more and its freedom from rocks and other menaces to navigation will go a long way to expediting the completion of the transcontinental.

Some time ago the railway contractors obtained permission from the provincial government to improve the channels of the Fraser and Nechaco so that they would be safe for steamers during the entire summer season. This work was to be done by Foley, Welsh & Stewart, and was chargeable to the provincial government. The railway builders went ahead and a couple of months ago they put a gang to work on the Nechaco. Between this point and the Mud river there was no trouble encountered, the only two bad spots lying west of the Mud, one a few miles beyond and the other about forty miles further. Both these have been blasted out and the heavy charges of powder used in clearing the way for the steamers.

Now the work is finished as far as the entrance to Fraser lake and the Nechaco is a more navigable stream than the Fraser in its present condition.

The blasting gangs have now headed for the Upper Fraser, where the Grand canyon, the Goat rapids and other stretches of bad water will receive attention. It is expected all the work of clearing the channel there will have been completed before the ice finally breaks up next spring, and then the crews will be shifted to Fraser lake, where the entrance to that body of water will be blasted open. When that is done the contractors will have a straight run for their steamers and barges from the Canyon cache, or the end of steel, to a point along construction more than one hundred miles west of this place and 420 miles from Tete Jaune cache.

On the Nechaco, Foley, Welsh & Stewart have done a complete job and they intend to follow the same tactics up the Fraser. The contractors intend to have a fleet on the Upper Fraser and Nechaco rivers next season that will be a record in size and carrying capacity in the history of railway building.

MR. JUSTICE MURPHY ILL

New Westminster, Nov. 6.—So sick with tonsillitis that he was unable to appear yesterday to preside at the trial on a charge of perjury against a Hindu, Mr. Justice Murphy sent word that the case should be postponed. The assize court was accordingly adjourned until next Monday, when it is hoped that his lordship will be able to resume his seat on the bench.

MAYOR C. P. NEWBURY DEAD.

Swamp Service in Cuba and Philippines—Had Interests in North.

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—Major Charles P. Newbury, who has resided in Vancouver at intervals during the past five years, succumbed to an attack of heart disease at the Vancouver General hospital Monday night.

Major Newbury served with distinction in the late Spanish-American war, both in Cuba and the Philippines. Later he was first chief of police in Manila after the American occupation, and introduced methods that soon put a stop to the prevailing lawlessness. He proved of great service to Hon. W. H. Taft when the latter, now president of the United States, filed the office of attorney-general of the Philippines.

The late Major Newbury, with his brother, F. M. Newbury, were pioneer operators in the Queen Charlotte Islands and on the northern mainland before engaging in the real estate business here. He also owned large landed interests in Old Mexico and the Southwestern States. Major Newbury was a prominent member of the Order of Elks, having been a charter member of the first lodge established in Manila. He was a cousin of Hon. Truman H. Newbury, secretary of the navy under Roosevelt. He is survived by F. M. Newbury, of this city, and four brothers and one sister, all of Detroit.

THE LESSON OF BALKAN STRUGGLE

GLORY FOR THE FEW AND DEATH FOR MANY

How War Could Have Been Avoided—No Peace Until the Turk Goes

The following trenchant article on the Balkan situation, taken from the London Daily News, is from the pen of H. W. Massingham:

Again war. Again its horrors, cruelties, follies, and crimes. Again wounds, and massacres of the wounded, again murderous fevers, agonizing deaths, painful sufferings of starving and frost-bitten men lying out on battlefields, broken homes, wholesale robberies, the destruction of crops and all the instruments of peaceful labor, thousands of men who escape the bullet or the shell made useless for civil life. Again crushing taxation for millions of peasants and workmen. Again glory for a few score or hundreds of princes and gentlemen. Again, maybe, a futile peace, gleaming a few grains of good from the harvest of evil and madness. Again solemn talk of diplomatists, ignorant, foolish, conscienceless men, neither able enough to suggest a remedy for these errors, nor strong enough to apply it when discovered.

Thus the round of State life in Christian, civilized Europe goes on. What can one do but apply the reflection of the Latin poet, and say of the peasantry of the Balkans that these innocent folk are atoning for the sins of their forefathers? For the old popular hate and dynastic quarrels pursued in the name of religion. For the incapacity, proved and proved again, of the Ottoman race to govern a people of an alien faith and stock. For the feeble handling of the Near Eastern question by the European powers. For their senseless divisions, for which the statesmen of Britain bear their full and special responsibility. For the policy of Lord Beaconsfield and the much-applauded feat by which he tore up the Treaty of San Stefano and substituted the Treaty of Berlin. For the absence of all foresight of the inevitable consequences of the failure of the Young Turk revolution, for which again are largely culpable.

An Avoidable War.

Thus we see for the hundredth time the need of constant criticism of the men who work the machinery of foreign relations, men who by the nature of things lose touch of common sense, of public morals, of the true interests of communities, of the obligations which they themselves contract and rarely attempt to fulfil until outburst is applied to them, or until the march of events overcomes their slow and blundering dispositions. If the representatives of the powers had only the habit of meeting with some regularity, as the board of a business house meets, to discuss the problems which their own treaties bind them to keep in mind, this catastrophe in the Balkans could have been avoided. If there had been a foreign minister able to give Count Berchtold's proposals due shape and emphasis, the Macedonian problem—the danger of which every journalist knew—might have been put in trim for solution. And if Sir Edward Grey had had the courage and wisdom to tell Turkey, which trusts England, or, at all events, thinks her more disinterested than the other Great Powers (which in this matter she is), that her only chance of saving her dominion in Europe was to put Macedonia in charge of a committee of the Powers, with a commission to draw up a scheme of internal autonomy, and to superintend its execution, her sovereignty might have passed, and she would have had a long further breathing-space.

Divided Europe.

But it is vain to put forward these considerations. So long as Europe is divided, so long as England watches every move of Germany, and Germany England, and so long as Russia and Austria dispute with each other for any fragments of Turkish territory that may still fall their prey, there is no stable situation in the Near East. The concert in a form, a decent cloak thrown over the naked just and fears of Christian Europe. Nor can any form of public law, such as that which The Hague convention has in charge, be cast into any durable or practical shape so long as no powerful public opinion exists to enforce it when the need arises. Italy, the chief offender in this new crime against the order of civilization, opened her raid on Tripoli with our assent. If not our complicity, by a cynical defiance of the rights of nations, and even of the forms of war. As for The Hague tribunal no thought of an appeal, even for a stay of hostilities, was ever thought of.

No wonder that Tolstoy poured contempt on the whole procedure and organization, from its initiation by the power which has since been foremost in its disturbances of the peace of the world and its disregard of international justice. No wonder that the wild, half-civilized state of Montenegro, with its bands of brave guerrillas, was emboldened to march on the Turk without so much as a by-your-leave to the Powers, or their precious machinery of arbitration which never works. Not that we need exercise any Pharisaic right of judgment over her. Berane, where one of the latest of the recurring massacres took place, is within a few miles of her frontier, and if the people of Brixton were subject to periodic interruptions, let us say, from Croydon, they, too, might begin to see red.

Till the Turk Goes.

What prospect, therefore, is there of a limit to the area of sheer lawlessness in Southeastern Europe? None until the Turk goes as a direct governing force. One does not need to be a Pan-Slavist or a fanatical anti-Turk or anti-Oriental to come to such a con-

COQUITLAM

"The Industrial City"

We are working along a carefully conceived plan to build up Vancouver's greatest manufacturing sub-city at Coquitlam.

As we own or control about 85 per cent of the townsite area and almost all the waterfrontage, as well as being owners and builders of the two miles of industrial railway, we are in a more favorable position to meet the requirements of manufacturers than any other location in or about Vancouver.

COQUITLAM'S ADVANTAGES

Include cheap hydro-electric power, sites at cost, special taxation concessions, splendid fresh water harbor facilities, cheap homes, cheap lots and houses on easy terms or low rent for workmen, low cost of living, cheap fuel, large car storage, splendid local trackage and outside distribution facilities, and last, but not least, the cordial co-operation of a large and powerful corporation—our company—which is prepared to assist deserving industries with financial and moral support.

Get our new booklet "Coquitlam, the Industrial City," now in preparation, which tells all about the new town that is securing such a reputation for solidity and genuineness.

RICH FINDS OF FREE MILLING ORE

Strike at Kitselas is Attracting Attention—Many Claims Staked

News was brought down by Fire Warden G. A. Kerr, whose headquarters are at Kitselas, that great excitement reigns at that place over the rich finds of free milling ore that have lately been discovered, says the Prince Rupert News.

That it is the real thing and is tremendously rich is established beyond doubt. Assays made recently have run as high as $700 to the ton, and quantities of it are to be found within a short distance of the railroad. The recent strike made at Kitsumakalum lake in this district, and the present find is attracting much interest in mining circles to the gold-bearing quartz of that section of the interior where gold is known to exist and which was worked some years ago.

So far no great amount of work has been done, and will not be, probably, until spring, on account of the snow and difficulty of getting supplies, material, etc., on to the ground, for the early stages of development work.

Quite a rush has been going on to the vicinity and a number of claims staked and despite the obstacles to be contended with stated above, one company thinks with the railroad facilities at hand, they may be able to make a trial shipment.

The coming spring will see a great development in quartz mining in this promising district, as for some years experienced prospectors have been going over the ground, and mineral in paying quantities has been known to exist. These men have only been waiting for the railroad through the country to be completed to enable them to open up their mines and obtain the commercial returns from the known mineral wealth of this rich section of the province in the shape of the much to be desired dollars and cents.

intense realism of sympathy that the heart is strangely stirred.

Three lovely Strauss songs follow, essentially picturesque and vivid in their extraordinary power of adapting music to the words of the poet.

A charming series of sparkling lyrics comprise the second group. In conclusion there is a magnificent array of great Wagnerian arias.

Such largesse is seldom found on a single programme. This concert is given under the direction of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club, the sale of seats opening this morning. The complete programme follows:

- Wehe so willst du Brahms
- Nachtigall Brahms
- In dem Schatten meiner Locken Wolf
- Das Verlassene Magdlein Strauss
- Ruhe, meine Seele Strauss
- Das Geheimnis Strauss
- Piano Solo—Romance Sibelius
- Mr. Edwin Schneider.

- Operatic Selections.
- Arias—Elsa's Traum from "Lohengrin" Wagner
- Elsa's Song to the Braggart Wagner
- Brunnhilde's Farewell to Siegfried from "Gotterdammerung" Wagner
- Piano Solo—Rain in the Garden Debussy
- The Lamp of Love Schneider
- Mr. Edwin Schneider at the piano.

- June Morse-Rummel
- Sleep, then, ah, Sleep Branscombe
- Love and Springtime Metcalf
- The Cave Schneider
- In the Tree-tops High Schneider
- The Lamp of Love Turner-Salter
- Mr. Edwin Schneider at the piano.
- Stelway piano used.

"The Secret of Suzanne."

A concert programme given by artists of the first quality, followed by a complete opera, its roles invested by principle artists of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, is an entertainment memorably promising for breadth and diversity—such is the one given under the arrangement with Andreas Dippel of the Chicago Grand Opera Company. Wolf-Ferrari's opera "The Secret of Suzanne," has not only sprightliness of action but a rippling strain of melody to complete its charm. The score for a string orchestra complies with the original intent of the composer and is in all points eminently satisfactory. The quaint costumes and the scenery utilized in the original production will be used in this event which will be revealed at the Victoria theatre on the afternoon and evening of the 6th inst., when the opera will have its introduction to Canadian music lovers.

ALLEGED INCENDIARY.

St. Louis, Nov. 6.—Miss Barbara Gladys Arnold, an 18-year-old nurse girl, was arrested yesterday and charged with having set fire last Friday night to the Berlin hotel, in which three persons lost their lives. The girl, the police say, fired the Berlin hotel for love of excitement by scattering paper through the halls and igniting it.

H. LILYWHITE, Bridgen, Ontario.

Samarita prescription is tasteless and odorless, and dissolves instantly in tea or coffee or can be mixed with food. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge. It removes the craving for drink, builds up the system and restores the nerves. Drink becomes distasteful and even nauseous. Drink is a disease, not a crime. One drink of whiskey always invites another. The inflamed nerves and stomach create a craving that must either be satisfied by more whiskey or removed by scientific treatment like Samarita Prescription. Samarita Prescription has been in regular and successful use by physicians and hospitals for over ten years.

If you know of any family needing Samarita Prescription tell them about it. If you have a husband, father or friend that is drifting into drink, help him save himself. Write to-day. A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samarita Prescription with booklet giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. Madame Labadie.

Of Madame Harriet Labadie, the world-famous dramatic interpreter who will interpret the play "The Great Galeoto," at the Victoria theatre on Thursday night, the P.-I. says: "Never since Mrs. Scott Siddons and Charlotte Cushman held audiences spellbound with their portrayal of the different characters in a drama has there appeared a reader of such high attainments. Scenes, atmosphere, characters and the deeper significance of the poet's theme, none of them were lacking.

It was a Drama Lived. It was not a drama read, but a drama lived, fully and completely, in the imagination, with the absence of those many discordant notes which necessarily appear in the most perfect representation of plays performed by a full company.

Some one has said that a great play is for the library and not the stage. "Lear," "Macbeth," "Enoch Arden," can never satisfy the heart and mind in performance as they do in the stillness of the study conformed from the printed page. This satisfaction Mme. Labadie supplies in a high degree.

She interpreted each character in the play with subtle distinction, was reserved, honest, sincere and flowed from one character into another with exquisite delicacy and fine discernment.

Mme. Gadski. Gadski's generous heart is shown by the remarkable programme she has arranged for her concert next Friday evening. There are enough riches in it for half a dozen programmes. Only a voice of extraordinary freshness and power could meet such heavy demands upon it. With consummate art she has selected two songs by Brahms to open the programme, thereby plunging the hearer without delay into a mood of profound and rapt attention, for Brahms, of all song writers the world has ever known, has given the most impassioned expression to the rapture and pathos of love. The depth and sincerity of his appeal strike deep into the inmost recesses of the human heart with convincing truth and poignant tenderness.

In "Nachtigall" Brahms shows his wonderful insight into wild nature and his genius for picturing in music the reflection of bird-song upon the mind of the hearer. Brahms in his portrayal of nature has been called the Wordsworth of music, but he has a warmer passion, a higher ecstasy and a deeper insight than Wordsworth could ever attain.

Following Brahms come two songs by Hugh Wolf full of vivid imagination and fantastic flame of thought and such

CROSS OR FEVERISH HALF-SICK CHILDREN

Mean Their Bowels Are Waste-Clogged—Liver Sluggish and Stomach Sour

Your child isn't naturally cross, irritable and peevish. Mother! Examine the tongue; if coated, it means the little ones' stomach is disordered, liver inactive and its thirty feet of bowels clogged with foul, decaying waste.

Every mother realizes after giving delicious "Syrup of Figs" that this is the ideal laxative and physic for children. Nothing else regulates the little one's tender stomach, liver and bowels so effectively, besides they dearly love its delightful fig taste.

For constipated bowels sluggish liver, biliousness, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without griping or nausea and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious Figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

IDEAS OF A PLAIN MAN

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

There is a deal of wast' emotion. Just as there is a deal of waste food. All food one takes, that does not go to make force and healthy tissue, clogs the system and breeds disease.

And all emotion, in which one indulges, that does not get itself somehow transmuted into action, ferments and develops moral perversion.

A man who has no religious feeling at all cannot be as wicked as the man who regularly experiences religious sentiment, but does not put it into practice. The one field where you cannot afford to be a dilettante is morals.

An ideal that never is put into your life steadily corrupts your character. A conviction that never works out into concrete deeds makes you worse and worse.

Excessive indulgence in music, art, the theatre or the romance, if it does not in some way get expressed in your words and fingers and actual human relations, tends to make you morally flabby.

William James says: "Never to suffer one's self to have an emotion at a concert, without expressing it afterward in some active way. Let the expression be the least thing in the world—speaking genially to one's aunt, or giving up one's seat in a horse-car, or nothing more heroic offers—but let it not fail to take place."

The Sugar Industry Faces Revolution

G. W. McMullen Talks of New Evaporation Process

G. W. McMullen, of Picton, Ontario, whose researches in regard to the bacteriology of foodstuffs have attracted the attention of experts all over the continent and will undoubtedly result in greatly lengthening the period within which milk, eggs and other dairy products may be kept "fresh," has consented to make public through the Toronto Globe the results of experiments conducted during a series of years, and now practically concluded, which it is confidently believed will revolutionize the sugar industry and greatly cheapen the cost of that staple of human food. The processes are of course covered by patents. Mr. McMullen's statement follows:

In a series of circumstances which would take too long to recount in detail I became, some six or seven years ago, interested in the question of preserving sugar-bearing plants so that the sugar content might be recovered during the entire year, instead of for a short period, as is now the case. All sugar-bearing plants in their natural state are subject to rapid deterioration and eventual decay, but when properly dried I became satisfied that the sugar content would remain uninjured and be subject to no deterioration for a long period of time, or because of transportation to distant countries.

My first idea was to dry sugar beets. The beet season, as is well known, is limited to about ninety days, and even when prolonged that far the fast of it witnesses a great deal of deterioration in this valuable vegetable. For quite a time, in connection with some friends, I pursued the project of drying beets with success, and convinced myself and those associated with me that a large saving could be effected by properly drying and thus permitting the use of valuable plants costing a large amount of money during the whole twelve months, instead of not to exceed three. It became quite evident that, successfully carried out, this would effect a reduction of practically a cent a pound in the cost of refined sugar.

The Advantage of Cane.
After considerable outlay in this direction, and when in sight of complete success, my attention was turned to the character of sugar cane as compared with beets, and I was impressed with the following facts:

That the sugar content of high grade cane and beets is practically equal, i.e., about 16 per cent of saccharine matter. The cane is distinctly a tropical plant, only brought to perfection in regions where frost is unknown. The beet is exactly the reverse, and is best at the most northerly point at which it can receive its sugar content at the close of its season of growth.

A careful examination of the characteristics of the two plants convinced me that the possible by-products of the cane, i.e., its value outside of the sugar, far exceed anything that could be expected from the beet; and further, because of its tropical character, the cane could be produced with not more than half the labor and cost incident to raising the beet, ton for ton.

With these facts thoroughly impressed upon my mind, I at once turned my attention to the subject of preserving the cane by drying. The contents of the cane may be stated to be, say, 70 per cent. water, 10 per cent. (or thereabouts) saccharine, between 11 per cent. and 12 per cent. cellulose of two kinds, a certain amount of intercellular matter, and the remainder oils, waxes and gums. I became convinced that the large yield of cellulose from the cane made it much more attractive as a matter of profit than the beet could possibly be, and when two tons of cane could be produced as cheaply as one ton of beets the contrast was too glaring to permit of any further argument.

Experiments in Drying.
I therefore turned directly to the subject of treating the cane as the only possible source for the world's sugar when it became a question of the "survival of the fittest." We at once, secured a limited number of cane and made preliminary laboratory tests, with the results all pointing to a full confirmation of the opinion stated above. Subsequently we brought up to Chicago three carloads of Louisiana cane, put up a shredder and drying plant, and dried nearly all of it. Following that, upon the plantation of the United Fruit Company, in Cuba, we erected at large expense a series of dryers and conducted the matter on a commercial scale. It goes without saying that we found many "hurdles" to obstruct, but pursued our object with a good deal of industry and determination, causing the expenditure of a large sum of money. As a final result we have found that the drying question is perfectly solved, and that cane can be taken from the field, shredded into a consistency of rather coarse excelsior for the fibre, and branlike material for the pith, dried in a very brief period—thirty or forty minutes—to a condition for indefinite preservation without any injury to the sugar content or any loss of sugar juices; baled in compact blocks, kept without injury for months in the tropics; shipped to any part of the world without injury, and total sugar content recovered and the by-products saved for useful and valuable purposes.

A Revolution in Handling.
This summarizes briefly what will appear to any sugar man as a thorough revolution in the handling of this material. To the layman it will be more understandable by the following explanation:

Sugar cane is now harvested by hand cutting. The leaves are stripped off because their bitter juices would injure the sugar, and then the body of the cane is crushed by heavy presses, involving one or two washings, and additional pressing until the recovery of the saccharine matter reaches about 80 per cent. What is left, having so much unextracted sugar, is liable to ferment and become offensive very quickly in the tropics, and is therefore used as fuel. I had become convinced that by this method fully half or more of the ultimate value of the cane was lost—first, by the incomplete extraction of the sugar, because of inability to press out the total, and, secondly, because the valuable by-products of the pith and fibre of the cane were used, not in their proper direction as products of enormous value, but to make an indifferent fuel under the boilers of the sugar houses. I may say here that the chief trouble was in drying cheaply and without injuring this vast tonnage of cane. If subjected to too much temperature it either inverted or caramelized the sugar contents. Everything had to be done to perfection or else we encountered the risk of largely damaging the valuable contents of the cane.

It would surpass the reasonable limits of any such estimate as this to detail the numberless experiments made before we were able, perfectly and expeditiously, to dry this cane. More than two years of time was required and a very large amount of money had to be spent before this was settled, and one of our associates who has devoted his energies and abilities conspicuously in this direction solved the problem. As a result, cane is now dried for about 80 cents per ton and placed on shipboard to be transported safely to any part of the world. The sugar is extracted at its final location.

The New and Old Methods.
The contrast between the new and old methods may be briefly summarized. By the old method the saccharine content of the cane was incompletely extracted, the average yield being about 80 per cent. of the total. In a few instances this percentage is somewhat exceeded, but not in the island of Cuba, and only at a very considerable extra expense. Eighty per cent. extraction may, therefore, be considered the average by the present process. Beyond this recovery, the only value from the cane was the use of the residue as an indifferent fuel. By the new method the extraction is complete, or one hundred per cent, showing at once a large advance in the sugar yield per ton.

I omitted in my previous statements to say that, after the cane has been shredded and dried, and before extracting the sugar, its two chief contents, the pith and fibre, are separated by screening. These two materials furnish each, in made more valuable because of being separated from the other. The cellulose from the fibre produces a high grade paper stock, and that from the pith a cellulose so low in ash that it takes the place of cotton in the manufacture of celluloid and nitro-cellulose combinations, and also makes a non-conducting, ebony-like artificial wood, either for high-grade house furnishings or for any telephonic or electric appliances where non-conductors are used.

The Strongest Paper Made.
We have had a special paper plant and disputer at work for about two years, and have demonstrated practically that the fibre has produced a stronger paper than ever heretofore made. A square-inch bar of the pulp shows a tensile strength of over 20,000 pounds, or practically the equivalent of cast iron.

In mentioning the percentages of cellulose in the cane preliminarily, I put it at eleven to twelve. Of this a portion is lost in digesting, as would be natural, but the percentage of the total content recovered is from 70 to 85, this making it higher than any paper stock, unless cotton or linen. In cane with saccharine content of sixteen, we recovered the entire saccharine and about nine per cent. of ultimate cellulose for the uses above described.

Besides this there is a wax content and a number of other substances that promise to add largely to the value. They have not been fully worked out, and therefore I do not set specific estimate upon them. It is safe, however, to say that by using this process we extract the sugar percentage of 100, or a gain of 20 per cent. or 25 per cent. over present methods, and we recover by-products that have already been determined in value to be nearly or quite as much as the present yield of the cane, thus doubling in value the present recovery.

The Cost of Extraction.
It will naturally be asked how much all this costs, as compared with present methods, before passing judgment on the extent of the revolution. The sugar juices from dried cane have been found to average a higher purity, i.e., the albumenoids in the cane are partly or almost completely coagulated by the heat of drying. We extract the juices not by pressure but by simple solution with cold water. It will be readily seen that cold water is not likely to carry off or dissolve any of the coagulated albumenoids which have heretofore contaminated the juices and hindered their clarification. We therefore get not only a higher yield of juice because of complete extraction, but we get a superior juice, because it is largely free from those contaminations which are inevitable to the juices recovered by heavy pressure. The following broad statement has been proven by all of our experience; that is, we not only get a larger amount of juice, but we get, because of its high purity, a larger yield, of granulated sugar and a less yield of sugar in molasses; and, furthermore, we can make white granulated sugar with a single process from the dried cane and eliminate the present necessity for melting up raw sugars and refining them. This last saves some fifty cents per hundred in making sugar. The cost of manufacture is not more than, if so much as, at present per ton of cane, and therefore if we double the values, as we more than do, the added 100 per cent. is practically a clear gain. There are a number of items of saving and profit which seem certain, but, as they have not been fully worked out, they need not be put into this statement. It is certain that they will largely add to any statements made hereinbefore.

The By-Products.
The waxes and gums of the cane promise a large value. The paper stock, it is believed, can be increased by utilizing the leaves, which have heretofore been left on the ground because they could not be used in the presses. If these are to be used I have no doubt they will make a large saving in the cost of harvesting the cane, besides adding materially to the tonnage of paper stock. We have found that the paper from the cellulose of the leaves is of high character.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Aberdeen, Wash., Nov. 6.—While John Dehart, an engineer of Oakville, lay pinned under a tree, his 7-year-old son worked frantically to pry off the immense trunk, and falling, ran four miles to call help. Men found Dehart lifeless.

The boy said he and his father had been fishing and stopped to rest on the river bank when suddenly a tree toppled without warning. Dehart grabbed the boy and threw him out of harm's way. The father's heroism cost him his life.

EMPIRE TRADE MARK.

London, Nov. 6.—The Dominion Royal Commission yesterday received deputations advocating an empire trade mark. Col. Pelletier, of Quebec, said that since he had been here he had seen Canadian goods sold, the origin of which he was unable to trace. If the proposed trade marks were instituted, he said, it would mean that the province producing such article would get the credit for it.

CAN BE DEMONSTRATED TO A NICETY BY THE PURCHASE OF ONE OR MORE OF THE SPLENDID LOTS IN OUR HIGH CLASS RESIDENTIAL SUB-DIVISION

Collingwood

Values are certain to advance as soon as the Saanich suburban line is completed. According to reliable report, this line will be in running order by about December 20th.

This means excellent transportation facilities for Collingwood. The station will lie directly opposite the property at an easy distance. All the section surrounding Collingwood is building up very fast. Adjacent subdivisions have sold out in record time, and many resales have been made recently at marked advance in prices.

Collingwood is bound to be one of the finest suburban residential sections of Victoria. It has every natural advantage conducive to that end. Fronts on Carey road, one of the main arteries leading from the business heart of the city. Glanford avenue lies to the rear of the subdivision; and the V. & S railway is within a few rods. The city of Victoria is extending its boundaries particularly in this direction. It will only be a short time before Collingwood will be the centre of a beautifully built up suburb, wherein pleasant natural surroundings, spacious grounds and expansive view will be the outstanding features.

Collingwood lots are selling fast. Enquiries are coming in from the prairie and the Mainland to supplement local demand. If you are open to the claims of an absolutely gilt-edged investment wherein small capital talks, this is your opportunity.

Bearish Feeling Marks Opening of Session—Coarse Grain Condition Weak

(By Courtesy F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, Nov. 6.—For a time this morning it looked like a fighting market in wheat. Later the conditions were nearly all of a bearish character, and feeling in the trade turned bearish. There appeared to be no support of a leadership character. Later there was some active buying, and the market gained one cent. The cables referred to uneasy feeling over possibility of fresh political news. Late wires reported Argentine weather fine. The smaller Russian and world's shipments had little effect, because discounted by the prices last week. Much of the best buying of May wheat was more than offset by heavy sales of December. Mr. Inglis returned from Ohio and Indiana and reported average corn yield from actual husking in those states of 40 bushels per acre, some fields running 50 to 60 bushels. He also stated that feed of all kinds, including pastures, were never so abundant at this time of year. Experts figure that the excess hay crop this year, if expressed in grain bushels, would be 753,000,000. This, with the excess of corn and oats, raises the total feed proposition to fully 2,000,000,000 bushels over 1911.

LOSSES BY FIRE.
New Zealand's Record Shown in Excessive Insurance.
The superintendent of the fire brigade for Wellington, New Zealand, reports that the total loss caused by fire throughout the Dominion in the last eight years amounts to $4,450,116, averaging 125 per cent. against 100 in Europe. "This must be," he says, "very near the world's record" loss per head of population, but no concerted movement is made towards a reduction. The report shows that excessive insurance is much in evidence. No doubt it is one of the principal factors as the cause of the heavy fire loss that prevails, inasmuch as it does, in addition to, but entirely outside, the question of criminal and moral hazard, general carelessness in respect to fire that would not obtain otherwise. Before the excessive fire waste that now prevails can be brought within reasonable bounds concerted action is necessary between the public bodies and private companies. The general public must be educated up to a sense of the national loss that is going on.

FINANCIAL NOTES.
A Minneapolis dispatch says: Duluth is reported to be buying December wheat today.

A BOY WITH A FUTURE.
"Now, boys," said a schoolmaster, "what is the axis of the earth?"
Johnny raised his hand promptly.
"The axis of the earth," said he proudly, "is an imaginary line which passes from one pole to the other, and on which the earth revolves."
"Very good," exclaimed the teacher.
"Now, could you hang clothes on that line, Johnny?"
"Yes, sir," was the reply.
"Indeed," said the master, disappointed, "and what sort of clothes?"
"Imaginary clothes, sir."

British School in Egypt, to have been carved about 1200 B. C.
Many other remarkable discoveries, taking the mind back as far as 5500 B. C., and lifting the veil of centuries from Egypt's romantic story, have also been made by the same school, and, with the exception of a red granite group of Rameses II. and the god Ptah, which will be sent direct to the Ny Carlsberg Museum at Copenhagen, and a few other details, are now on exhibition at University College, Gower Street, London. They include many objects quite new to Egyptian students.
Amongst these are coffins made of basket work reeds or willow, and trays, an axe handle, in which the grip is composed of delicately knotted string, a pot of unburnt incense for a free-offering of 4000 B. C., and numerous pieces of timber, showing by their formation the principles of building construction that were in vogue nearly 6,000 years B. C.
Most of the relics come from Tarkhan, an extensive cemetery about thirty-five miles south of Cairo, which dates from the earliest historic age down to the Pyramid period. The site is the most northerly upon which Prof. Petrie has conducted excavations, and the results have been most gratifying. In spite of the great antiquity of the graves, the objects found are in a most remarkable state of preservation.
There are bedsteads with hoof-like feet, which, although nearly 6,000 years old, look capable of sustaining a fair weight to-day, and long rolls of soft linen cloth, also 6,000 years old, but as tough and pliable as any modern texture straight from the loom. One of the withy hampers now in the Cairo museum, although of the same age, had the small leaf-buds of the withy still showing when it was found.
The graves of the early Egyptians were always well provided with such necessities as were thought essential for the spirit of the departed when it again materialized. Consequently the relics from Tarkhan include head rests (some of them carved out of trees trained specially into peculiar shapes), sandals, large jars of food, and various vessels of gypsum and semi-transparent alabaster. Some of the vases bear the name Menes, the earliest known Egyptian king. They are considered by some experts to be a tribute corresponding to the modern floral wreath.

AUSTRALIA'S CAPITAL.
Arrangements are now in hand to celebrate the laying of the foundation of the capital city of the Australian Commonwealth at Yass-Canberra. It is anticipated that the function will be held before the end of the year. The name which the city will bear has not yet been decided upon. Shakespear, Burns and Pacific have been picked out from hundreds of suggestions. "Qualesoria" a combination of the names of several of the states—is regarded as a freak suggestion.

The census bureau figures show nearly 1,000,000 more men than women in the United States. The excess of male population increased 1 per cent. from 1900 to 1910. The largely in immigration, a large proportion of immigrants being males.

WILSON'S BIG LEAD IN NEW YORK

PLURALITY OF 200,000 OVER ELECTRIC TAFT

William Sulzer Elected Governor—Latest State Returns

New York, Nov. 6.—Wilson's New York plurality is about 200,000 over Taft, according to latest figures, and William Sulzer was elected governor by about the same number. Latest presidential figures give Wilson 638,851; Taft, 438,975; Roosevelt, 378,434.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 6.—Returns from 2,829 out of 4,372 districts in California show the following: Wilson, 187,324; Roosevelt, 182,719; Taft, 438; Debs, 33,653; Chafin, 5,656. Wilson's plurality over Roosevelt was 4,612. This includes returns from San Francisco city complete and from two-thirds of Los Angeles county, where the major Roosevelt strength lies. Should the present ratio be maintained in Los Angeles county, which at present shows a plurality for Roosevelt close to 14,000, Wilson's apparent plurality may be wiped out. This is figuring a plurality of 3,600 for Wilson in San Joaquin county, from which only half of the precincts have been heard. It also includes an estimated plurality for Wilson of 3,800 in Kern county, 2,400 in Sacramento county, 1,400 each in El Dorado and Amador counties.

Roosevelt had an apparent plurality of 400 in Riverside, 4,600 in Alameda county and 1,400 in Santa Clara county. As was expected, Roosevelt's strength developed in the counties of the southern part of the state. Alameda, Santa Clara, Siskiyou, Placer and Humboldt were almost the only northern counties to go for Roosevelt.

A feature of the election was the great strength developed by the Socialist party.

Will Continue Work.

New York, Nov. 6.—(Progressive headquarters)—Governor Johnson, the defeated Progressive candidate for vice-president, said to-day the work of the Progressive party would go on unabated for the next four years. At 11 o'clock he started for Oyster Bay to consult with Col. Roosevelt.

CANADIAN NORTHERN WORK AT ALBERNI

Four Construction Camps Have Been Established Along Canal—Rock to Be Moved

The piles for the wharf at the Canadian Northern Railway construction headquarters on Alberni canal, between Franklin and Coleman creeks, have all been set, and the pile driver will commence operations on Monday next, says the Alberni News of last week. Two miles of road into the interior have been cut, and the work is being pushed with all possible speed, there being at present fifty men on this job. There are now four construction camps along the canal and two hundred men are engaged in clearing right-of-way. Mr. Murdoch, of the firm of Murdoch & Co., contractors, expects to be moving rock before the end of this month. The construction camps are all built after the most modern and approved fashion and fresh water is piped to each of them. The gasoline boat Sonness Queen is now making daily trips from Port Alberni to construction headquarters calling at all camps on the way. The boat leaves Port Alberni at 8:30 in the morning and returns before 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and is doing a heavy passenger carrying business. The gasoline boat J. G. Cox is also in the service of the contractors hauling general freight and towing lumber scows.

SPLENDID LECTURE BY PROF. KELSEY

A ROMAN FARMHOUSE AND BURIED TREASURE

The Story of the Excavations in Four Decades—The Art of Yesterday

Under the auspices of the Natural History Society, one of the finest lectures ever delivered from a Victoria platform was listened to with rapt interest by a small audience at the Hebron hall last evening. The lecturer was Prof. Kelsey, of the Michigan University, and the subject dealt with "A Roman Farm House and its Buried Treasure," magnificently illustrated by views from the stereopticon. With great eloquence and a wealth of allusive imagery, the professor opened the majestic portals that lead to the echoing halls of the Past; he carried his audience back to the youth of the world, to a time when there were no factories, steam engines, smoky cities, careworn operatives, outcast classes, workhouses or prisons, but when a beautiful and happy life was lived on the unspoiled earth; a life that in itself was dignity and poetry, whose only shadow was the shadow of its end.

Introduced by R. S. Day, Professor Kelsey said that the Roman farmhouse of which he was to treat was situated one mile north of the city of Pompeii, in the midst of that great plain which was dominated by Mt. Vesuvius in antiquity as it was to-day. The great eruption which smothered the two cities of Herculaneum and Pompeii happened in the year 79, when the volcanic forces, first pressing upward to reach an outlet, found an opening vent in the crater plane, and hurled great masses of pumice four or five miles high into the air. A Lytton-esque picture. There was a Lytton-esque touch in the imaginary picture the professor painted of the great eruption which buried the "campagna" for miles around. The continued and terrifying explosions caused by the steam, the great black cloud of volcanic sand that hid sun and sky and brought a premature midnight upon the earth, lit up at times by the explosions from the crater—and then the great plain covered to a depth of ten feet by the falling "lapilli" and fragments of pumice. He showed how in the deadly stillness of the lull which occurred in the outburst a great earthquake shattered the country, and after the earthquake a treeless, barren waste, like a vista of the northern Sahara, was all that remained of a beautiful Italian valley, faced by the turquoise of the matchless Bay of Naples, and resplendent in the gold and green of late Italian summer. Modern Excavations. The periods of excavation in Pompeii could be divided, he said, into four ten-year periods, or decades. The first one occurred in 1763 and continued until 1772, when were discovered the small and large theatre, the Colonnade, a chapel and several villas. The next period, 1813-1823, brought to light the Temple of Apollo and the Forum. The decade immediately subsequent disclosed the small baths, described by Bulwer Lytton, and the House of the Tragic Poet. The last period, from 1893-1902, was the most prolific in discoveries, and among the farm house, of which the professor had made a special study.

This farm house, according to the lecturer, represented completely the peculiar attributes of the period in that it was at once the centre of agricultural operations and the country seat of persons of wealth and taste. Its inhabitants perished with it, and yet after the lapse of ages everything is now just as it was when the lapilli rained down from the darkness eighteen centuries ago.

A Remarkable Collection. The farm house in question was most remarkable for the finest collection of silver plate that has ever been bequeathed by the ancient world. It was owned by the lady who inhabited the house—the Lady Maxima—and may now be seen in the famous Louvre Museum in Paris.

With the aid of an excellent plan, Professor Kelsey demonstrated the disposition of the various departments and rooms of the farm house, the mill room, the court, the dining room, the mill room, the storage and a large and luxurious bath room. A curious anomaly in architecture was shown in regard to the stables, where the horses had to be conducted through the kitchen to their resting place.

The wine press was the most wonderful feature of all. The lecturer outlined the method in which the wine was made. It appears that the carts containing the grapes were backed on to a cement platform where the whole mass of fruit was covered over by loose, flat boards placed together. A press beam was brought to bear on the front end and in this way the juice was extracted. The pure juice was conducted to large circular vats. Afterwards water was thrown on the grapes and once again they were pressed; this time the juice was led off to a huge cistern from whence it was bailed out by rope and bucket and carried across to vats placed in the open air for fermentation.

Vain Struggles. At the time of the outburst the people at the farm were going peacefully about their vocations. The end was very sudden. A dog which was chained to the wall just inside the door had evidently tried to struggle away from its bonds, for its skeleton was found with the chain stretched taut. Inside the wine press the skeleton of the Lady Maxima was found stretched across those of a young and an old man who had taken refuge with her. She had drawn her robes over her face when the fumes stifled her. The nails of the elder man's fingers were found crushed into his palms, so fierce had been his struggle to escape.

The fine sand of the volcano had settled in and had wrapped them round with a marvellous cere-cloth and patron that neither time nor weather could penetrate—had made a natural cast of the bodies which formed the most sublimely pathetic sight in the whole of that great city of the dead.

Faithful Unto Death. The magnificent collection of silver owned by the Lady Maxima had been in charge of a slave who had instructions to place it out of the reach of any depredations that such a crisis might bring. Accordingly, he laid out a large square of linen cloth, wrapped the ware in it and, after lowering himself into the great, empty cistern, laid the silver on the floor of it. In the same manner he deposited 5,000 pieces of gold, part of his mistress' treasure—when the storm overtook him. He died at his post in the cistern, and his skull was found touching the silver which had been his ordinary care.

It was no ordinary plate of which Professor Kelsey produced reproductions on the sheet. The symmetry of line and curve, the beauty and daring of the design, an pity the old, trite saying that (in art at least) "there is nothing new under the sun."

All the figures in classed form, practically are represented in the repoussé work of the world-famed cups which form the most magnificent part of the treasure. Bacchus is, of course, the god most represented, while satyrs, emperors, sultans, and diadems form the "motifs" in a most wonderful display of ancient art.

Two of the cups, however, bore representations of Augustus, Emperor of Rome, surrounded by his court and army. In one is shown the gaze of all men resting reverently on the Imperial head and the professor concluded by deducing from the picture a symbol of the modern reverence for the Eternal City.

There was no city in the world so attracted and held the hearts of men, no city that was so much the Mecca of culture as she who sits on the seven hills with the yellow Tiber flowing beneath her. She had climbed to dizzy heights, had fallen, had risen again, phoenix-like, from the ashes of the past and was to-day the most loved of all the cities of the civilized world.

COL. MAIDMENT TO PAY A VISIT HERE

New Chief Secretary Will Arrive With Commissioner Rees Two Weeks From To-day

Commissioner Rees, head of the Salvation Army in Canada, will shortly pay his second visit to Victoria since his appointment. In connection with the congress in Vancouver this month, the commissioner will visit this city in about two weeks and will conduct service at the citadel.

He will be accompanied on that occasion by Col. Maidment, chief secretary of the Army in Canada, who has just been appointed to succeed Col. Mapp, Assistant Secretary Col. Gaskin, of Winnipeg, and Brigadier Green, divisional officer for British Columbia. While the latter two are known in Victoria, Col. Maidment will pay his first visit. The colonel is a man of great force of character, and has had a wide experience of the Army in different parts of the world. Three successive charges required him to learn new languages, and this is the first time he has held a charge in an English-speaking community for years. Latterly he has been in command of the Army in South America.
