Irish Leaders and Lloyd George Debate Unsolved Problems

Griffith and Collins Have a Conversation With British Prime Minister; Early Meeting of All Treaty Signatories Expected.

London, May 30.—Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, the chief Southern Irish delegates attending the British-Irish conference here, had a long conversation with Premier Lloyd George prior to a meeting of the Cabinet to-day over which the Premier presided.

Replying to a question as to whether arrangements had been made for another meeting of the Irish Treaty signatories, Collins said: "Not yet, but they will be made during the day."

London, May 30.—The Irish difficulty continues to cause the gravest concern, with no solution apparently in sight.

The Ulster border is manifestly complicating matters for the Ulster members of the British Parliament and their sympathizers believe that the Southern Irish are preparing for war against the North on a large scale.

It is reported in these quarters that the munitions factories controlled by the Daily Minister of Defence are manufacturing war materials under high pressure.

HALL-NORTH SUITS

That the four cases in the Hall-North slander suits, tried recently in the Supreme Court, would go before the Court of Appeal here before that session opens on June 6, was indicated by J. B. Clearihue, solicitor for the defendants, to-day. The grounds of appeal were not stated.

HEAVY FIRING IN STRABANE REGION, NORTH IRELAND

London, May 30.—Heavy firing occurred on the Tyrone-Lonegal border at Strabane and Efford between midnight and 7 o'clock this morning, says a Central News dispatch from Strabane. Sniping from the roofs of houses was continuous and armored cars and machine guns were in action.

The people of both towns were up all night long in a state of terror. The casualties are not known, but are reported to be heavy.

ULSTER FORCES GIVE UP PART OF BORDER AREA

Belfast, May 30.—The evacuation of a considerable stretch of country in the border region by the Ulster forces was announced to-day. The special constables were withdrawn from the Belleek salient in County Fermanagh, Ulster, thus abandoning it to the Free State troops.

TROOP MOVEMENT FROM DUBLIN HAS BEEN HALTED

London, May 30.—British troops are being kept in Dublin not by the request of the Irish Free State Provisional Government, but because the process of evacuation has been temporarily suspended, Winston Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, stated in the House of Commons this afternoon.

According to Mr. Churchill's statement, the military authorities are aware of the fact that the three British officers and a private who were captured at Macroom several weeks ago are alive, and their relatives have been so informed.

EXCURSION RATE BILL NOT PASSED

Commons Committee Kills Measure Affecting Railways

Ottawa, May 30.—(Canadian Press)—The Railway Committee of the House to-day killed the bill presented by P. L. Church, Conservative, North Toronto, to re-establish excursion rates on railways.

"What reason will the committee give for not reporting the bill to the House?" asked Chairman Cahill.

"Not sound," said F. N. McCrea, Sherbrooke, as the committee laughed.

The bill was opposed by the railways. Gerard Ruel, representing the Canadian National Railway, argued that while the Canadian National was in favor of the principle of the bill and would be glad to go back to the special rates when practicable, the bill was unworkable.

"It," he said, "the railways are required by act of Parliament to give excursion rates, we shall have to meet excursions in every direction."

GERMANS TO MEET ALLIES' CONDITIONS

Reply on Reparations Regarded as Satisfactory

Doubtful Details Expected to Be Cleared

Paris, May 30.—The German reply to the Reparations Commission's demand says the German Government will undertake, on the hypothesis that it be given aid through a foreign loan within a suitable time, to maintain its paper circulation within the limits reached March 31 and in general comply with the conditions fixed by the committee for a partial moratorium.

The reply is generally regarded as satisfactory with the exception of a few immaterial details, provided that the German text, which does not make compliance conditional upon a foreign loan, is correct, instead of the French translation submitted by the German, which clearly establishes that condition.

The French text embodying this condition was given out for publication, and this apparently indicates that it has been accepted as official. It is expected in reparations circles, however, that an exchange of views with Berlin will promptly dissipate the confusion, making the reply satisfactory and going away with all necessity for action by the Allies against Germany.

Many Details Accompanied by a mass of data and statistics in which the German Government sets in great detail the situation of the Reichsbank is already ready to assume the bill passed May 25 and that economies already have been effected to the amount of 24,000,000 marks as compared with the appropriations for 1922—23, the reductions amounting to 3,000,000,000 marks, it says, will be effected under the extraordinary appropriations.

A special Commission of Economy, it is announced, will be attached to the Ministry of Finance.

The German Government agrees to the principle of control of receipts and expenditures proposed by the Reparations Commission, but says it "understands" that this control will not intrude on the sovereignty of Germany or violate the secrecy of the fortunes or private affairs of taxpayers.

Loans The Government agrees with the Reparations Commission, it says, that every possible effort must be made to remedy the conditions regarding capital, and it proposes taking all necessary measures to induce the return of expatriated capital through the means of interior and foreign loans.

The German Government, the reply says, will deliberate with the Reparations Commission on the form of a bill which will also confer with the committee regarding the application of fiscal legislation and railroad rates and inform itself fully regarding receipts and expenditures.

Memorial Day IS OBSERVED IN UNITED STATES

New York, May 30.—(Canadian Press)—To-day is Memorial Day in the United States and is being observed as a general holiday throughout the country.

A feature of the year's celebration is the dedication at Washington of the Lincoln Memorial Monument, which has been erected in Potomac Park.

Hon. W. S. Fielding said also held at Arlington Cemetery, near Washington, which contains the graves of thousands of United States soldiers and sailors.

OPPOSE NEW TAX ON CONFECTIONERY

Candy Manufacturers Send Delegation to Ottawa

Ottawa, May 30.—(Canadian Press)—A strong protest against the new five per cent excise tax on confectionery was voiced by a delegation of the confectionery and candy industries of Canada which interviewed Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, this morning.

Hon. W. S. Fielding said every industry that was taxed protested. All of them said they were being discriminated against. He thought the members of the delegation were not being "rightened than hurt."

He promised that the Government would give careful consideration to representations made.

FOREIGN ARTISANS TOLD NO WORK FOR THEM IN CANADA

Ottawa, May 30.—That foreign artisans intending to emigrate to Canada were clearly warned there was no employment for them in this country at the present time was stated in the House yesterday afternoon by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Immigration.

The statement was made in answer to J. B. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg Centre, who asked if it was correct that the money qualification of $250 for immigrants had been removed.

Mr. Stewart said the money qualification had been removed, but the greatest care was exercised to point out the conditions in this country.

There was abundant room, however, for farmers, farm laborers and household workers.

WARMER WEATHER EXPECTED

While a gentle breeze was blowing, the forecast this afternoon anticipated a higher reading to-day for the maximum temperature than had been reported either for Sunday or Monday. Sunday's maximum was 80 degrees, while the highest reading yesterday showed 52. At 11 o'clock this morning the reading was 73 degrees, with prospects of rising temperatures over Southern British Columbia, and a distinct advance in the interior, notably in Vancouver.

I. O. D. E. President Says Order Inculcates Genuine Patriotism

(From Times Staff Representative)

Vancouver, May 30.—"A concerted public opinion on such great questions as immigration is much needed in Canada. The Order can do much to help in the moulding of that opinion, to see that every citizen who comes to Canada to be the progenitor of future Canadians should be 'handpicked,' Canada needs real citizens—not merely population to fill its vast spaces."

This declaration to each of its members as to individual responsibilities was sounded by Miss Joan Arnoldi, National President, in the course of her second annual presidential address before the National Chapter yesterday afternoon.

The earnest sincerity of her address, her youthful optimism and faith in the Order and its ideals emphasized the fitness of the popular president's cognomen bestowed upon her by members of the Order, "Joan of Arc."

Citizen's Responsibility. After briefly reviewing the year's record of "steady progress, hearty enthusiasm and real patriotism," Miss Arnoldi voiced satisfaction that the members of the I. O. D. E. were recognizing their responsibility as citizens, and were determined that Canada should remain true to her history, her ideals and her traditions at a time when unrest was rampant throughout the Old World.

"We cannot but realize the imposing growth of our importance within the national community. Men are now realizing that they need the cooperation of the I. O. D. E. They are no longer willing to exist in isolation. They do not always get us, but if it is wise they do," continued the President.

This knowledge brings home to us our individual responsibility. One of our greatest opportunities offered to us is for each Chapter to be a popular force in its local community, especially in the rural districts. The special (Continued on page 3)

CANTON REJOICES OVER VICTORY

Sun Yat Sen's Men Rout Enemy Faction

Manchurians Abandoning the Leadership of Chang

London, May 30.—The army of Dr. Sun Yat Sen has captured Taoling, a position considered the most important stronghold in the province of Kiangsu, says a dispatch to The Times from Hongkong. The Southern army also took forty field guns and much ammunition.

Chang is losing. Peking, May 30.—The Manchurian mutiny against General Chang Tao Lin, the Manchurian leader, is spreading. The garrison at Harbin has joined the mutiny and declared in favor of General Wu Pei-fu, victor in the recent Peking fighting, and Harbin is controlled by the mutineers, who also have seized the Chinese Eastern Railroad from Harbin to the Maritime Province of Siberia.

An official dispatch received by the foreign legations said the only foreign troops along the railroad were 1,000 Japanese guards.

General Wu, anxious to avoid foreign interference, is sending forces to replace the mutineers.

JUDGMENT WOLVES A LARGE TOTAL

Canada Timber and Lands, Ltd., to Appeal

Vancouver, May 30.—A judgment in which the liability is estimated to exceed $1,000,000 has been rendered by Mr. Justice Murphy against the Canada Timber and Lands, Ltd., whose head office is in London.

The successful plaintiffs are seven loggers who entered into a contract with the company to purchase 200,000,000 feet of timber at Toba River. A portion of this had been logged when the company repudiated the contract. The loggers, Julius Carlos Clausen, Rex Buttort, Charles Clausen, Andrew Clausen, Alexander Philson, and William W. Blundell, claimed damages for breach of contract and joined an eighth logger, William Norton, as a co-defendant.

According to the plaintiffs, the damages are the profits which they would have made from the contract and these are calculated at $1,250,000. The decision is to be appealed, and in any event, it is stated, the case will be carried to the court of last resort, the Privy Council in London.

FIRE IN FOREST ENDANGERED TOWN IN QUEBEC

Quebec, May 30.—News has just come through that the town of Parent, on the line of the Trans-continental Railway, was seriously threatened by a forest fire. The fire raged so furiously at one time that freight cars had to be removed from the yards. Upwards of 200 men fought the fire for two days.

Latest reports stated that the fire in the immediate vicinity of the town was under control.

New Order Forbids Parades in Italy While Unrest Lasts

Rome, May 30.—The Government is becoming concerned over the evidences of growing unrest in the provinces where the feud is raging fiercest between the Communists and the extreme Nationalists. As a measure for the restoration of order, the Government has forbidden all parades and assemblies throughout the country.

ASKS MANSION TO RUSH MORE FIATS

Present "Suspense" Unsatisfactory, Mayor Tells Attorney-General

Wants Complete Sunday Settlement Before He Starts Vacation

Disregarding the City Council's request that enforcement of the Lord's Day Act be suspended here, Mayor William Marchant to-day asked Attorney-General Manson to rush through further steps for the prohibition of shops which remained open here on recent Sundays. Only three flats have been issued, although the Police Board has asked for about sixty, the Mayor explained.

"Please give this matter your immediate attention," the Mayor says in his letter to Mr. Manson, asking for more flats, "as the present state of suspense appears to be a little unsatisfactory to all parties concerned. I am satisfied that if prosecutions immediately take place we will have compliance with what is known to be the attitude of both yourself and the Police Commission of the City. I may add that I am the more eager to have this matter settled because I purpose leaving for a trip to the Prairies on Monday next, and I do not wish any controversial matters left in abeyance pending my return."

"I don't think the City Council's action last night in asking the Attorney-General to suspend prosecutions until the Federal Government acts on the City's suggested amendments to the Lord's Day Act amounts to much," the Mayor said to-day. "In any case, the request will have no effect, I expect. And it is growing clear that the Federal Parliament will not have time at the present session to take up the City's proposals for Lord's Day Act amendments. No, the issue seems settled."

GOVERNOR TO GREET SEATTLE TEACHERS

1,000 Coming Here on Two Boats on Saturday

Will See Government House, Motor Men Prepare

One thousand school teachers of Seattle, who will come to Victoria on two special steamers on Saturday, will be entertained at the Chamber of Commerce by the Hon. Walter C. Nichol, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia.

This announcement was made this afternoon following a conference at the Parliament Buildings between the Lieutenant-Governor and Alderman Healy, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Major Wendell B. Shaw, president of the Anglo-American League; Harry Charlesworth, president of the Canadian Teachers' Federation; and G. H. Bevan-Fritchard, teacher.

They asked the Lieutenant-Governor whether he would permit the visiting teachers to have all the magnificent grounds at Government House.

Hon. Mr. Nichol said that not only would he do this, but he would have them as his guests and greet them personally.

Mrs. Nichol will also receive the teachers, it is expected by the reception committee which is anxious for the visitors to meet her.

The Seattle boats will arrive in Victoria shortly after noon. They will leave after 6 o'clock in the evening. The fast turbine Kalamazoo, and the Sioux will bring them.

Most of the teachers will be taken to Burchart's gardens at Brentwood during the afternoon. For this the B. C. Electric are putting on special suburban trains with a 35-cent fare. When motor car men here to-day learned the plans for the reception of the 1,000 teachers they immediately gave orders for all spare cars and motor sightseeing cars to be put into shape to take care of the big business.

MISS M. McCORMICK GOES TO CHICAGO

Chicago, May 30.—Miss Mathilde McCormick, instead of sailing to-day from New York for Switzerland to wed Max Oetz, Swiss riding master, returned to Chicago rather unexpectedly. She refused to make any statement of her plans for her marriage or otherwise.

CANADA'S PLACE IN WORLD TRADE IS MADE PLAIN

London, May 30.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Sir Charles Gordon, of Montreal, who was one of the Canadian delegates to the Genoa Conference, addressed the Parliamentary Committee of the League of Nations, Union here last night, dealing with statistics of commerce which were the subject of discussion at Genoa.

He pointed out that in volume of imports and exports Canada ranked fourth among the thirty-four nations represented at the conference. In volume of commerce per head of population, Canada stood first, and in export trade third, being exceeded only by Great Britain and France.

IS AN M. P. TILL HIS APPEAL HEARD

Bottomley Not Called at Once Before British House

London, May 30.—Horatio Bottomley, former publisher of John Bull, who was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude on special licence of misappropriation of funds of the Victory Bond Club, will retain his seat in the House of Commons until after his appeal from conviction. This, it is thought, is at least a month distant.

Expulsion of a member of Parliament is rare, the last occasion being in 1892. The convicted person is summoned to attend a session of the House and hear the reading of the motion for his expulsion. He is allowed to speak in his own defence before the motion is put to a vote. Mr. Bottomley is the member for South Hackney.

Farmers' Views on Freight Rates Are Stated at Ottawa

Secretary of Canadian Council of Agriculture Appears Before Commons Committee; Urges Crow's Nest Agreement Be Restored.

Ottawa, May 30.—(Canadian Press)—Norman Lambert, secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, appearing this morning before the Railway Transportation Costs Committee of the House, urged restoration of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement on behalf of the organized farmers of Canada.

Mr. Lambert said this was supported by boards of trade as well as by farmers' organizations.

The present rates from country points to the elevators cost the prairie farmers $11,000,000 more for freight to market a crop on the basis of the 1917 rates, he said. A carload of grain from Manitoba averaged 55 per cent. higher, Saskatchewan 97 per cent. and Alberta 111 per cent. higher than in 1917. And this was in the face of wheat values reduced by 25 per cent. This was the direct burden.

The actual machinery necessary for half a section of land cost in freight rates nearly $12 more to-day for delivery from Eastern Ontario to the prairie farmer than in 1916. This meant 140 bushels of wheat at last year's average value. Freight charges were one per cent. on the dealer's selling prices.

BOND CHARGES A JOKE, SAYS DEALERS

Andros Allegations Not Worth Considering, They Declare

Finance Committee Claims to Have Saved City $500,000

Bond dealers whose transactions with the city were assailed at the City Council meeting last night by Alderman E. B. Andros do not regard the Alderman's charges seriously, R. P. Clark, head of the leading bond houses with which the City Council does business, declared this morning after he had conferred with other bond dealers.

"Alderman Andros is regarded as the joker of the City Council and so we accept his latest outburst with the same amusement as we have accepted other utterances from him," General Clark said. "His remarks about the City's recent bond deals and the bond dealers' connection with them are not worth considering seriously and we certainly pay no attention to them whatever. They are simply persiflage. The bond dealers are paying no heed to them, and as the Council endorsed all the recommendations of the Finance Committee last night, evidently Alderman Andros' colleagues are not affected at all by his assertions. The City's recent bond deals—the transfer of its moneys into long-term, gilt-edged securities—is so sound that it is unnecessary to make any answer to Alderman Andros' vague remarks."

Saved Much Money. Members of the Finance Committee, which was Alderman Andros' chief target last night, to-day adopted the same attitude as the bond dealers. Alderman Andros' charges, they said, were too absurd to be considered for a moment.

There has not been the slightest element of speculation in the Finance Committee's transactions this year," said a statement given out by Alderman E. S. Woodward, Chairman of the committee, who has simply taken out short-term securities and (Continued on page 3)

STUBBORN FOREST FIRES EAST OF HAZELTON REPORTED

Prince Rupert, May 30.—Bush fires continue to rage in the territory adjacent to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway for some distance east of Hazelton, according to word received here this morning. The Government telegraph wires are down in the vicinity of Hazelton as a result of the fires and details, in consequence, are lacking.

WRANGLER ISLAND WAS MENTIONED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Ottawa, May 30.—The question of ownership of Wrangler Island was brought up in the House of Commons when Hon. R. J. Hooper, Conservative member for Fort Williams, referred to a press report that the State Department at Washington considered the island was the property of Russia.

Premier King replied that he had not seen the dispatch. He had nothing further to say.

WORLD LEAGUE COMMITTEE TO MEET JUNE 6

Geneva, May 30.—The Economic and Financial Committee of the League of Nations will meet here June 6 to examine questions referred to the League by the Genoa Conference.

THREE VIEWPOINTS

Ottawa, May 30.—Three diverse attitudes have been outlined up to the present before the special committee of the Commons which is investigating the question of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement and the general issue of a reduction in railway freight rates. The investigation has grown out of the two facts that the Crow's Nest agreement will come into force automatically in June unless suspended by act of Parliament and that there is a general demand for lower freight rates. The railways claimed that if the agreement were brought into force again the rates on reductions could be granted, hence the inquiry.

British Columbia. British Columbia, through Premier Oliver, has asked for suspension of the agreement for another year, with a new rate structure to smooth out the discriminations against that province. If the new structure should not work well, then the agreement would be available.

"If I have a double-barrelled shotgun in my hand," said the Premier when asked why he intended to keep the agreement, "I would not want to hand it over to my opponent."

Prairie Attitude. The fight for the Crow's Nest Agreement in its original form is being made chiefly by the Progressives on the basis of the agreement. They are open to accept reductions on other basic commodities, but they want the agreement first. They put much emphasis on the opinion of President Hanna of the Canadian National, that the enforcement of the agreement will bring other reductions in its train because of the law against discrimination.

Eastern members of the committee are advocating the scrapping of the agreement and the substituting for it of reductions on rates on basic commodities. These would include grain, forest products, iron and steel and a few others.

The "army" now numbers about 350 men.

The Governor of Macao, who was in Hongkong on his way to Lisbon, has returned to Macao.

Are You a Born Advertiser?
Certain merchants get a reputation for being born advertisers.
They may have earned the reputation. They were not born that way. Their particular genius has lain in the fact that, having marvelous faith in the power of Daily Newspaper Advertising, they went ahead with it regardless of immediate results.
They had courage. And the courageous advertiser gets the greatest rewards.
There are those whose temperament is not suited to Napoleonic tactics. Neither will their product or pocket-book permit them to use these tactics even if they were so inclined.
Daily Newspaper Advertising is as another brain to the sales force of these men. It is the one medium from which they get quick and accurate returns; and are so able to repeat their advertisements as often as conditions warrant, and the treasury justifies.
This is particularly true at this time of the year when the season, the weather, the change of fashion, the state of public mind and attitude of competitors, all combine to affect daily sales.
The born advertiser is not necessarily the large space advertiser nor does he have to have more than one thing to advertise.
If he is quick to seize every incident in his daily life and capitalize it in his next day's advertising—the public will soon pay him that tribute of admiration expressed in the words "a born advertiser."

TAX ZONES BASIS OF NEW GREATER VICTORIA SCHEME
Plan Would Assure All Sections of Fair Share of Costs, Says Todd
If Victoria and the surrounding municipalities are merged into one Greater Victoria this year the city so created will be divided into taxation zones so that no portion will have to bear an undue share of taxation or to assume the old liabilities of former areas.
This announcement was made at a late hour to-day after Alderman A. E. Todd's new Greater Victoria Committee had held a preliminary conference in its effort to consolidate Victoria and its neighbors. "We have adopted the definite principle that a system of taxation zones must be created when the new scheme comes into effect," Alderman Todd explained. "The object of these zones will be to prevent any one area having to take over the old liabilities of any other area. This will remove the common objection that the Greater Victoria scheme is a scheme to saddle neighboring municipalities with Victoria's debts. No such idea is entertained. The plan we have in view will be fair to every section of the Greater Victoria. We are delighted with the support which already has been assured. We have received encouragement from quarters from which we might least expect it."
Alderman Todd's Committee, which was instructed by the City Council last night to proceed with its work immediately and was voted $1,000 for expenses, consists of: Alderman Todd, chairman, and Aldermen R. W. Perry, J. H. Gillespie, David Lesing and Reginald Hayward. The fact that Mayor Marchant, who received the Greater Victoria idea early this year was not placed on the committee, has caused some comment at the City Hall. It is expected, however, that, as the Mayor is ex-officio a member of every committee, he will be called into conference on the scheme frequently.

WAGES FOR GIRLS IN FRUIT INDUSTRY TO REMAIN AT $14
J. D. McEwen, chairman, and Miss Mabel Cameron, secretary of the Minimum Wage Board, returned to Victoria after the hearings of the conference board at Kelowna and Vancouver on the wage for experienced help in the fruit and vegetable canning industries.
At both these places a conference board heard evidence from employers and employees as to whether the present minimum scale of $14 a week for experienced help should be lowered in accordance with the wishes of the canners.
The conference board was composed of Col. C. E. Edgett, of the Okanagan United Fruitgrowers Producers, Ltd., E. L. Cross, of the Dominion Canners (B. C.), Ltd., and W. A. Hunter, of the Empress Manufacturing Company, Vancouver, representing the employers; Mrs. Margaret Paul, of Kelowna; Miss Elsie King, of Kaleden, and Miss Isabella Smythe, of Penticton, representing the employees; and Mrs. Paul Smith, of New Westminster; Mrs. William McConkey, of Naramata; and Arthur Cowgill, of Nanaimo, disinterested persons representing the public.
This conference board after hearing all the evidence in public sessions unanimously decided that the minimum wage rate in this industry remain at $14 a week. This decision the Board will put into effect according to the terms of the act.

WERE MEN SHARING IN DRUG TRAFFIC?
Strong suspicion was aroused in city police court to-day in the cases of George Davis and Frank Thompson, alias Wilson.
They were charged by Detective Rogers and Acting Detective McLellan at 512 Fort Street the accused were facing a joint charge of being in possession unlawfully of cocaine. Davis denied ownership of the drug. Confronted with a packet of letters found on the premises, Frank Wilson (Thompson) upon whom the key to the ownership of certain innocuous letters, but denied others that were of more serious importance. A letter from a man nicknamed "Bill" urged the recipient to "Remember me to all the boys. Has Bobbie gone over yet," and concluded with "be careful and go slow." This letter was addressed to a Martin Jordan at 512 Fort Street. A further letter said that $15 was enclosed, and asked a nameless recipient to "bring M. and C."
This letter was repudiated by the accused, who agreed with the court that "M and C" would likely be a request for morphine and cocaine. Sixteen packets of cocaine found in the house was denounced by both accused, when produced in evidence "Bobbie Roberts," "Smoky," "Alec," and "Spill" were nicknames cited in the various letters. Some of whom were admitted as friends of the accused, while Smoky turned out to be the accused Davis. "Bobbie" it was learned, passed through the same court here last week, on a drug charge. The hearing was remanded.

Six battling Chinese warriors faced Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court, charged and counter charges of assaults resulting from a difference of opinion in Chinatown, and smiled at one another while C. J. Prior and J. B. Clearhue, counsel, announced that the differences had been settled out of court, and that the Attorney-General had consented to a withdrawal of the charges.

CARE OF FEEBLE MINDED CHILDREN
Subject Is Dealt With at I. O. D. E. Sessions
Vancouver, May 30 (Canadian Press)—Much good has been accomplished by the I.O.D.E. chapters, in co-operation with local authorities and others interested in child welfare, in their efforts to ensure the care of children, according to the report of the child welfare committee, read by Mrs. P. E. Doollittle, convenor, at the session of the National Council of the I.O.D.E. here.
Reports of rural districts were on the average less healthy than their city brothers, and this condition is taken to indicate the increasing knowledge of the practice of hygiene in the cities and the need of similar education in the country districts.
Experts had said that two per cent of any average community comes into the category of mental deficiency. On this basis Canada to-day has 175,000 mental defectives.
It is wholly practicable, the report continues, to secure for the most part of feeble-mindedness in children and arrange for a special course of treatment and training which would make them self-sufficient for the most part of their lives.
The report recommended segregation and permanent training for feeble-minded females of child-bearing age.
Surveys in each province had been made by the national committee for mental hygiene and for the most part the recommendations made to the provincial governments had borne fruit, although much remained to be done. Manitoba, perhaps leads all provinces in the care of feeble-minded, says the report.
After a discussion of valuable work done by trained workers in occupational therapy, regret was expressed by prominent delegates that these aids were gradually being absorbed into United States institutions owing to failure of Canadian hospitals to introduce departments for this work. A resolution was passed urging hospitals to make use of these trained workers.

Case for the prairies is yet to be determined.
An Appeal for Harmony.
The Premier of British Columbia said during his statement yesterday afternoon that the existing discrimination in railway rates against the Pacific Coast province was contrary to the Terms of Union of the Canadian Confederation. He said an appeal to the British Government might be necessary if suitable changes were not made.
"I want to say to you," added Premier Oliver, "that the people of any province have a right to resort to the last argument, and that is the argument of brute force. No man would regret that more than I. But I want to point out that the present trend of events is to set East against West—that the opposition of East against West already exists. This Parliament has it in its hand at the present time to prevent this feeling from spreading further. You have it in your power to bring about what the people of British Columbia were promised at the time of Confederation, one harmonious whole.

POSITION OF CANADIANS IN JAPAN DESCRIBED
Ottawa, May 30.—Canadians in Japan may follow their fellows outside the foreign and mixed residential areas. This privilege is also extended to nationals of countries with which Japan has commercial treaties. This information was given in the Commons by Premier King. The Prime Minister made the statement when correcting an answer given some time ago to Hon. S. F. Tolmie, member for Victoria, B. C.
The Japanese Consul-General had informed him, the Prime Minister said, that Canadians could work outside the foreign and mixed residential quarters. Nations of the countries which did not have treaties with Japan were required to get permission from the Japanese administration before working outside the limited areas. Canadians were enabled to hold Japanese land on a system of leasing which was almost equivalent to purchasing the land.

COURT ORDER ENDS CONTROL
Washington, May 30.—Dissolution of ownership and control of the Central Pacific Railway by the Southern Pacific Company is ordered by the Supreme Court of the United States in an opinion delivered by Justice Day. The decision in the case, the last of the railroad merger suits to come before the court, holds that the two lines are competitive. Justices McReynolds and Brandeis, because of their official connections prior to going upon the bench, did not participate. Justice McKenna delivered a short dissent.
The Court directs that a decree be entered averring the control by the Southern Pacific of the Central Pacific by stock ownership or by lease, but in accomplishing that end so far as compatible, says the mortgage lien of the Union Trust Company of New York should be protected.

Hon. C. Stewart States Canada's Attitude Toward United States

Ottawa, May 29.—Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, during the budget debate in the Commons yesterday, pressed the point that while the Fordney Bill was a direct blow at Canada, Canada was willing to trade with the United States along lines advantageous to both countries.

Woodsworth's Views.

J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg Cent., said the sales tax was wrong in principle. It bore most heavily on men with families who could not well afford to pay the impost. Under present conditions it was becoming increasingly difficult for the laboring man or the low salaried employee to provide his family with the comforts of life. Mr. Woodsworth referred particularly to the salaries paid to some of the servants who, he said, were receiving less for their work than the amount which the Labor Department said was necessary to maintain a proper standard of living. Some of them were being paid less for their work than the city of Winnipeg had been paying in its unemployment relief.

"For myself," said Mr. Woodsworth in reference to the huge national debt, "I can see nothing for it but repudiation or a capital levy. For those who made large fortunes during the war, it would be a highly just thing to take them back."

PRAIRIE FARMERS' REPORTS OPTIMISTIC

Favorable Weather Brings Crops Along Splendidly

Winnipeg, May 30 (Canadian Press)—Weather conditions have been excellent on the prairies during the last week, with showers of sufficient moisture to prevent soil drifting, according to the weekly crop report issued by the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Crops are making fine headway, with even growth. Considerable spring ploughing, new breaking and summer-fallowing have been accomplished in each province.

Conditions in Manitoba have been very favorable to crop growth. All wheat seeding is completed. Oats have been seeded to the extent of 90 per cent, barley 65 or 70 per cent, and flax 60 per cent. Rain and warm weather have caused prolific growth, so that the season is little, if any, behind the average year, and crop conditions are particularly promising. No damage has been suffered from frost or soil drifting.

Saskatchewan

Saskatchewan has experienced ideal weather for work. Wheat seeding is completed in this province with the exception of the Regina and Moose Jaw districts, where 60 to 70 per cent has been completed. Oats have been seeded to the extent of 65 per cent, barley 50 per cent and flax 25 per cent. The seeding is terminating rapidly. Such excellent progress has been shown with wheat seeding during the week that the anticipated decrease in acreage under this crop will not exceed two per cent.

Alberta

Showers of rain enough to wet the ground will benefit the newly seeded crops in Alberta, where high winds during the last week had absorbed the surface moisture. Conditions, however, are good throughout the province, and seeding is practically completed. Oats and other coarse grains have been seeded to the extent of 70 to 80 per cent. The grass-hopper menace in the southern district, where prospects are considered exceptionally good.

Washington, May 29.—In a summary of crop prospects, the United States Department of Agriculture presents a favorable outlook for Canadian wheat. It says moisture conditions are very good and a large acreage of spring wheat is being sown. The autumn sown wheat wintered well and is making good growth.

In the Peterboro district, fall grains are shooting into head.

In effect, this policy amounts to the loaning of teachers between the two countries.

The League of the Empire will be the medium through which the exchange will be made, subject to the approval of the Ontario Department of Education.

SPIRITUALISM NOW GROWS, SAYS DOYLE

Believes It Will Be Religion of United States

New York, May 30.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle came to America as a prophet, not an evangelist, he said here yesterday. He then declared that within ten years there would be religious landslides in this country and Australia, and that when the dust clouds lifted spiritualism would be the prevailing religion.

Sir Arthur had just returned from a tour of the country during which he lectured on his knowledge and belief in spiritism. He said he was fatigued and intended going to Atlantic City for a "dip," and may be a lecture, if he could find an audience.

During his tour Sir Arthur said he had sought merely to interest his audience, and then let them look further into his mysteries themselves.

"Just as I did, they must spend years at it. They must squeeze the juice out of it, and fit it to their religious belief as best they can," he said.

"I have not been looking to make facile conversions. I have been sowing a crop for the future," he continued. "The results will be here in ten years. I am certain of it, as certain as I am of anything under the sun. During the war I was a fairly good prophet. I foresaw that the Germans would do with the submarine. I know I'm prophesying again. Within ten years there will be a landslide in this country, and I think Australia, too, of spiritualism. It will be the prevailing religion."

It was not so easy to say whether the landslides would come to England, too, he added, because the public mind was different in England. "It is not so open, so receptive as here," he said. "I have received no anonymous and threatening letters in America, and I did in England."

In Churches.

Spiritualism is filtering into the churches and spreading rapidly over the world, Sir Arthur declared. "A striking example," he said, "was the remarks of former President Wilson on the Unknown Soldier."

"You may recall," he said, of the Unknown Soldier that he was not alone; that hovering about were the souls of thousands who had given their lives in war," said Sir Arthur.

"You even hear the clergy saying the same sort of thing. What is it? Spiritualism. But they don't call it that because they don't like the sound of the name. Well, we may have to change the name."

He suggested that Psychic Christianity might do.

INDEFINITE.

The resolution passed by the City Council yesterday evening urging the Attorney-General to withhold flats for prosecutions under the Lord's Day Act until the Minister of Justice had indicated the attitude of the Government at Ottawa on the request of the Council for certain amendments to that law, is an indefinite contribution to the controversy on the subject.

on this magnificent oak. A decayed branch near the top was not sufficient justification for the destruction of the whole.

THE LATE MR. BURT.

Particular interest attaches to the death of Mr. Thomas Burt, who was the first miner to enter the House of Commons at Westminster as a parliamentary representative. For over forty years he sat for the Morpeth constituency and only after having reached the ripe old age of eighty did he resign—four years ago.

CIVIC GOLF.

Other parts of Canada are debating the possibilities of municipal golf—or golf for the multitude at popular prices. Even the national capital is taking the thing seriously if the following comment from The Ottawa Journal means anything at all:

GOOD ADVERTISING.

Although Canada's magnificent progress and her vast potential wealth are understood in the Motherland it may have surprised the unthinking to learn from Sir Charles Gordon—this country's representative at Genoa—that in volume of imports and exports Canada ranked fourth among the thirty-four nations which were represented at that Conference.

TOO LATE!

Mr. Joseph Martin, K. C., has written a letter to The Vancouver Sun in which he declares Vancouver is making itself ridiculous over the drydock question. He says in part:

When Dr. Toimie was taken into the Government, an express promise was made to Victoria, that a drydock would be built there. Now, in my opinion, that was the times for the Board of Trade or the City Council or both, to have intervened.

STILL OBSCURE.

In spite of frequent and lengthy conferences between the representatives of the British Government and the emissaries from the provisional authority in Southern Ireland the effect of the recent Collins-de Valera pact still remains obscure.

interest in Ireland is when the signs of a better understanding appear. At the same time the arrangement between Collins and de Valera may yet be capable of providing the vehicle for some sort of reconciliation between the rival factions in the Sinn Fein.

NOTE AND COMMENT

To-morrow will be the last day of May; but there is little danger of French armies marching to the Ruhr because of unpaid reparations.

The fighting between Generals Chang and Wu for control of the Pekin Government prompted a general of the South China Republic to take a hand.

Other People's Views

NOT OUR DAY.

To the Editor—I wish to point out to "Ajax" that the idea that the days mentioned in the Bible story of creation were periods or stages instead of literal days, is very odd.

THE REAL CAUSE.

To the Editor—I read with much interest the letters in your paper that are passing between Bishop Macdonald and "Ajax" on the cause, and hope I am not intruding. But will either of those gentlemen kindly tell me what caused man's mind to cause so many of us so much discomfort and inconvenience through the enactment of that foolish idea, "Daylight saving," and what good it has ever accomplished?

THE CHURCH A FAILURE?

To the Editor:—In persistently appealing to the secular arm to enforce their moral standards the churches are seemingly unaware that they are loudly proclaiming to the world their incompetency as persuasive factors, the only material excuse for their existence.

ESQUIMALT PARK.

To the Editor:—It would seem from a report in this morning's paper that a certain letter published in The Times a few days ago was a "bill that worked" in certain quarters in our midst re a playground for our children and their children.

public meeting of ratepayers to discuss the foregoing question. Ratepayers come forward and stand together. Just now the air is full of froth and false promises. Don't be hoodwinked by it.

CAUSE OF CAUSES

To the Editor:—In accordance with the time-honored punctilio of the duello I lower my rapier in acknowledgement of the Bishop's compliment contained in his last contribution, but on passing would remark that I used the expression "cover his case with ridicule," and not "cover himself with ridicule," as he mistakenly says I did.

The last contribution from the Bishop is headed "The Genesis Narrative." So be it—we will deal with it later—but, after all, perhaps we may find something worth discussing in his much-maligned "Genesis Narrative." Why is the sun so many times smaller than Sirius? The actual size of this star is not of any particular moment being granted by both sides that it is much larger than our sun, and the question is why? According to my friend, we are to conclude existing that these suns which we call stars must have been made by intelligence or they would not have been of different sizes.

Astronomers think it possible, nay probable, that these stars or suns may be accompanied by planets and some of these in the same stage of development as our planet, inhabited, in fact, on any planet exactly similarly developed as our own, it is impossible to conceive of no life being thereon, not necessarily by people exactly like ourselves, but living sentient beings.

I should like also to urge that intelligence acting or even existing in that star is altogether inconceivable; that intelligence is an effect, the outcome of impressions made on our sensory organs as sight, hearing, smell, etc., that it acts by directing our bodies and mind working by nourishment supplied through the stomach, etc. Have these First Causes senses? Do they think, collate, separate, compare, contrast and draw conclusions from sense impressions? If not, what is intelligence in it or them?

I am sorry to take up so much space, Mr. Editor, but I assure you I find it the hardest task to keep within better bounds. I am sorry there is neither space nor time at present to go into the matter of the Genesis Record and the Early Fathers. Next time, perhaps, but meantime, adieu, mon cher Eveque, adieu, vous.

VALEDICTORY TO REV. T. MCCONNELL

A farewell concert was given last evening in the lecture room of St. Columba Church where a large assembly gathered to take formal leave of their pastor, Rev. T. McConnell, who will sail en route for Ireland on Thursday next.

The chair was taken by Mr. MacNaughton, and an interesting musical programme included vocal items by Miss MacNaughton, Messrs. Mitchell, Helms, and Wright, and pianoforte solos by Mrs. Wright and Mr. Andrus. Many encores were also given.

Refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid at the close of the proceedings, and afforded those present a welcome opportunity for a last personal chat with Mr. McConnell before his departure from the pastorate.

It seems that a near date will see Lampson Street School open for a

Judge Lampman Orders $500 Penalty Paid

Judgment for $500 and costs was given by Judge Lampman in the County Court this morning in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Vancouver Island Milk Producers' Association versus Lloyd.

The fact that Lloyd was dissatisfied with a special arrangement with Raper which defendant alleged constituted "fraudulent discrimination" had nothing to do with Lloyd's obligation under his contract, His Honor held.

The One Unwanted

By RUBY M. AYRES

INSTALMENT NO. 3

"Before you've been here three months you'll never want to go back to London again," he answered, confidently.

"Don't you ever want to?" I inquired.

"He shrugged his shoulders.

"Oh, well perhaps for a week now and then."

"We might arrange so that we go together next time we go," I said. He turned round and stared at me, then his face crinkled up into a smile, but before he had time to answer his cousin came back into the room, followed by an elderly lady, who was introduced to me as Mrs. Albery, and then we all sat down to tea together.

It was a lovely tea! Or perhaps it seemed more lovely than it really was because I was so hungry, but we had home-made bread and home-made jam and cakes hot from the oven, and I am afraid I ate a great deal more than was strictly polite. And my spirits rose, and I chattered away nineteen to the dozen, and it was only afterwards that I remembered how silent both Nina and her mother were during the whole meal, and how frigidly they bade me goodbye when it was time to go.

"They don't ask me to come again, and when we were out of earshot I turned anxiously to Mr. Anderson.

"I don't think your cousin liked me," I said.

"Not like you! Nonsense! Why, she doesn't know you yet."

"I think some women know one another straight off—from the very first minute," I answered. "And I am sure she did not like me."

He flicked the whip through the cold air with a little stinging sound.

"Have you got any sisters?" he asked, irrelevantly.

"Yes. Two." I told him promptly.

"Nellie and Winnie. They're both awfully pretty and very good!"

"So good that they have never been sent away into—exile?" he asked chaffingly.

I nodded. "Oh, yes. Not that I should like to be like them," I added quickly. "I would much rather be myself."

"I am sure you would."

"They wanted a boy when I was born," I told him for the second time. "My mother and father were both dreadfully disappointed when I came! There aren't any sons in our family, you see."

"Nobody to inherit the old family name, nobody to carry on the old traditions?" he said with mock tragedy.

"Nobody to look after posterity and spend the wealth of generations..." I interrupted bluntly. "We haven't got much money—unless you count the aunt's!"

"Aunt's!" Mr. Anderson echoed.

"Yes. We've got some rich aunts," I explained. "One of them is Nell's godmother and another one is Winnie's. Their's is the only money we are likely to get."

Mr. Anderson laughed.

"And you! Have you got a rich godmother, too?" he asked, looking down at me with a twinkle.

"I've nearly told him the truth! I've nearly answered bitterly that I had got nothing of all the many things which my two sisters possessed, neither beauty, nor love, nor a rich godmother; that I was the one unwanted, the one to be pushed aside and lost sight of as much as possible; but something in his eyes checked the words on my lips.

Something, I don't know what it was, made me want him to think well of me—made me wish that I, too, was as pretty and attractive as my sisters—made me sorry for all the silly, scatterbrain things I had done in the past, and sent a warm, inexplicable glow to my heart as I thought of the future; and I laughed recklessly as I said:

"Oh, yes! I've got a rich godmother, too, of course! Like Cinderella in the story, I shall turn into a princess one of these days."

I was distinctly sorry when we reached the Gable Farm. It was not nearly as picturesque as Mr. Anderson's home, but as he had said, it was probably far more comfortable, seeing that it was fairly modern, but I was conscious of a chilly feeling as I clambered down from the tree and stood looking up at my companion.

"Aren't you coming in?" I asked. He laughed and shook his head.

"Not now, I think, thanks. Hello! Here is Mrs. Albery."

The door of the house had opened behind us, and a short, rather stout woman with a cheery face was beaming out at us.

"The farm boy, Ned, who, as I afterwards discovered, was groom, coachman, gardener and man of all work, had told her of our accident, and I think she was relieved to see me delivered at the door safe and sound, with no broken limbs.

"She thanked Mr. Anderson profusely for his care. She begged him to come in if only for a minute, but he would not. It was cold to leave the horse standing, he said. Besides, he must get back. He looked down at me.

"Well, good-bye," he said, "till tomorrow."

"Are you really coming to see me to-morrow?" I asked, doubtfully, and he laughed.

"I am! That is, unless you forbid me."

"You can please yourself," I said, "in that case," said Mr. Anderson, "I shall certainly come."

He turned the trap about and drove off again down the snowy road, and I reluctantly followed Mrs. Albery indoors.

She was a dear old soul! From the first moment I knew that I should love her, and so I did.

I don't know what she had been told about my misdeeds at home, but, at any rate, she received me as if I was a princess of royal blood. She was one of the old-time, seldom-to-be-found sort of women, and because of some kindness she had received from my Aunt Isabel years before she felt that she could not do enough for me as a sort of repayment.

I don't know what the kindness was; I never asked, but from my knowledge of Aunt Isabel I should say it was about the only good turn she had ever done in her selfish life.

Mrs. Albery, however, seemed to think the world of her, and she talked about her with a breathless sort of enthusiasm as she took me upstairs to my bedroom.

It faced the front of the house, and from it I could see the roof and top windows of Mr. Anderson's house. There was a light in one of them now, and it shone out like a cheery beacon through the closing dusk of the afternoon.

Mrs. Albery was watching me anxiously, and I realized that I ought to be admiring the room instead of the view outside, so I turned hastily and looked around.

It was a long, rather narrow room, with two windows, and there was a cheery fire burning in the grate.

It was furnished with dark, early Victorian furniture, and a heavy four-poster bedstead, which I found rather attractive after the extremely modern furniture we had at home. There was an old-fashioned Paisley quilt on the bed, too, and Mrs. Albery told me later, with great impressiveness, that it had been in her family for generations and that she herself had seen two relatives—her mother and her grandmother—breathe their last beneath its warmth.

I don't know whether she thought it would please me to hear such doleful recollections; but I was too young to mind, and I spent many happy and dreamless nights cuddled warmly beneath it.

We had supper downstairs; mine had been set in solitary state in the best parlor. But I objected so strongly, and declared I would not eat my meals alone, that Mrs. Albery, with many misgivings, consented to my joining herself and her husband in the kitchen.

I always liked the kitchen best of any room in the house. Though it had been built fairly recently, it had a warm red brick floor and a wide open fireplace, and bunches of dried herbs always hung from the ceiling and gave the place a delicious scent.

I don't know what your mother would say, miss," Mrs. Albery said in despair, as I drew my chair up close to the fire and prepared to enjoy myself. "It was arranged for you to have the best parlor."

"I hate the best parlor," I retorted, "and I love the kitchen. I won't eat a thing if you drive me in there alone."

She gave in with a sigh.

"I don't know what I'll tell your mother," she murmured, and I said cheerfully: "Why need tell her anything. Why need you? As long as I'm safe and out of the way, that's all she minds about."

Mrs. Albery tried to look shocked, but it was a half-hearted attempt, and she was chattering away happily once more, when the door opened to admit her husband.

He was a big man, with square, broad shoulders that were just now covered with snow, and he looked very cold as he stood there in the doorway stamping the snow from his boots.

"Has the little 'un come, mother?" he began, blinking in the light; then he saw me and dragged off his hat with eager apology.

"You have no use for such a beautiful gown," said the Stepmother.

Then the Stepmother must know where she got the gown, and when

COMPLETE DETAILS FOR EXCURSION

G.W.V.A. Committee Expects Large Party at Port Angeles

On Saturday next the King's birthday, Victorians will invade the city of Port Angeles. When the Canadian Pacific boat leaves the wharf here it is anticipated that the full capacity of 500 will be on board to participate in the hospitality offered by the citizens of Port Angeles, who are co-operating to entertain everyone that goes.

Among the attractions which will be staged by the American Legion in the afternoon will be a field day of races, when prizes will be given, also an open air dance. It is hoped that many runners will go in these races from Victoria, and the secretary of the local Great War Veterans Association is anxious to secure the names of all intending contestants.

Arrangements have been made for hot coffee or some such refreshments for those who wish to picnic to be obtained at the city park there. Concluding the lunch hour, several speeches will be made, probably at the city park, though the place has not been definitely settled.

Immediately upon arrival the American Legion will have a committee at the boat to direct the excursionists and advise them where and how to go to have a good time. Considering that the day is not a holiday in the United States, the local committee deeply appreciates the way that the members of the Walter Akeley Post No. 29, American Legion, are co-operating with the local G.W.V.A. to give all that go over a most enjoyable outing. The G.W.V.A. orchestra will play both coming and going on board. Everything is being done to give all that go on Saturday next a real outing and a day that will never be regretted.

Tickets are selling rapidly at the C.P.R. ticket office, Government Street, where reservations should be made early.

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

THE MAGIC NEEDLE. Part II.

The Stepmother and Nina stood still with surprise for a minute. "Where did you get that dress? Take it off and let my beautiful Nina have it. You have no use for such a beautiful gown," said the Stepmother.

Then the Stepmother must know where she got the gown, and when Hilda told her about the magic needle she took the needle away from Hilda, too.

"Now, my beauty, you shall have all the finery you want for the ball," said Nina's mother, but this was not so easy; for when they tried to sew the needle pricked their fingers until they had to stop with the pain.

Then they sent for Hilda and told her to make the things they wanted. But as fast as Hilda finished making them and handed them to her Step-mother or Nina, the beautiful garments disappeared, and only a piece of cloth or a ragged garment was left.

The needle was charmed only for and there was no dancing that night.

When the Prince learned how Hilda had been treated, he told the King the wedding must take place that very night, for Hilda must never return to her Stepmother, and when the guests bowed before the Prince and Princess Hilda there were none that bowed lower than Nina and her mother.

But the Prince ordered them from the Palace and told them never to enter it again, but though the magic needle would not make clothes for Nina and her mother, Princess Hilda sent once a year to them a bag of gold and all of her old clothes.

Hilda never again had use for the magic needle, but on a blue satin cushion it rests under a crystal globe, and the Princess tells her children the story of the needle that was found in a haystack and helped a poor little girl to become a princess, and being like other children who love fairy stories, they listen with wide open eyes and believe it is all true.

RECOVERING BODIES FROM SUNKEN SHIP

Heroic Rescue Work by Member of Welsh Prince's Crew

Astoria, Ore., May 30.—Crews today were to resume work for the recovery of two bodies left in the wreck of the steamship Welsh Prince, sunk ten miles above here in the collision with the steamship Iowan.

The bodies were located late yesterday after five others had been recovered but a rising tide forced workmen who had been operating with acetylene torches cutting steel girders and plating, to suspend their efforts.

LARGER FISHING FLEETS FROM EUROPE TO CANADIAN BANKS

Halifax, N. S., May 30.—The European fishing fleets coming to take cod this season on the banks off the coast of Canada and Newfoundland will, it is reported, be larger than in any year since the war.

The French fleet will number over a hundred sailing craft and thirty odd steam trawlers. In the six years preceding the war France sent across the Atlantic an average of 228 sailing vessels to the fishing, while the island of St. Pierre outfitted a local fleet averaging 43 sail.

SCYTHIA TRAVELER CROSSED ATLANTIC ON SCOTIA IN 1869

A passenger by the Cunard liner Scythia on her last voyage from Liverpool to New York was George S. There are some traits which all men have in common. "For instance?" "Every man thinks he would have been an awful ladykiller if he hadn't married, a great golf player if he only had time, and a successful stock market operator if he only had the money."

IOWAN'S SKIPPER TELLS OF CRASH

Maintains That Welsh Prince Attempted to Cut Across His Bows

Portland, May 30.—Entire blame for the collision between the steamships Iowan and Welsh Prince off Altonna, is placed on the Welsh Prince by Capt. L. La Verge, of the Iowan.

The crash took place, Captain La Verge asserted, when the Welsh Prince attempted to cut across the bow of the Iowan in the narrow channel near the bend in the river at Altonna.

"We were headed up the river taking our course from the range lights at Altonna," said Captain La Verge. "There was a buoy on our right near the bend in the river."

"The Welsh Prince rounded the bend, and, instead of continuing straight on its course as it should have done and allowing us to make the turn, it swung in across our bow. We did not realize what was happening until it was almost upon us. Then we reversed full speed, but it was too late, and we came together."

"How fast were you going?" Captain La Verge was asked. "We were going about ten knots, maybe less," he replied.

"You see we had gone into reverse. The other ship was traveling about ten knots, too. That would make 20, at the impact."

"How far away was the Welsh Prince when you first sighted her?" "About three-quarters of a mile," the captain answered.

Stood By. "We pulled away as soon as we struck," he continued, "and then stood by to render what assistance we could. Fire broke out forward in the bow, and we brought three hoses to play on it. Later we gave one hose to her and continued shooting the other two. About 2 o'clock the fire died down, but it broke out again at 3. The hydrants on the Welsh Prince seemed to be covered with lumber as they had a hard time with their own lines."

"At 4 o'clock the tide set in, so we could not lay along side any longer. I asked the captain of the Welsh Prince if we could do anything more, and he said no, so we pulled away."

Captain La Verge is a short, wiry man of French lineage. He signed with the Iowan only a few days ago in San Francisco, relieving Captain F. E. Curtis, who left the vessel to become a marine underwriter inpector.

SECOND ENGINEER OF FREIGHTER IS SLAIN BY WOMAN

Port Blakely, Wash., May 30.—Edward Brown, second engineer of the steamship Colcha, was stabbed to death on board that vessel last night by Mrs. Vivian Harde, wife of Chief Engineer J. D. Harde, of the vessel. Mrs. Harde was taken to the Kitsap County jail at Port Orchard, where she refused to make a statement.

According to witnesses, the slaying took place following a quarrel between Mrs. Harde and Brown in the captain's cabin. Harde, who was aboard the vessel at the time, said he had no idea of the cause of the killing. He accompanied his wife to Port Orchard.

The weapon used, a snatched up from the dining table apparently on the impulse of the moment, according to officers of the Colcha.

TRUE COURTESY SPRINGS FROM HUMAN HEART

W. G. Gaunce Talks to Kiwanis Club Members

That beyond the limits of affability and civility lay a higher asset, that of courtesy, was the contention of W. G. Gaunce in a brief but excellent address to the regular luncheon to-day at the Dominion Hotel.

"It is no implication of softness of character to have the element of amiability and geniality, but beyond this again is the element of courtesy. Courtesy is the poetry of this religion of intercourse between man and his fellows.

"The lap root of courtesy springs from the heart, and not from the intellect. Opportunities for the display of true courtesy are unlimited. Many a man has attractive and genial ways for the public, but he does not carry courtesy to his home. A home without courtesy is no home at all. Opportunity for the display of courtesy are unbounded in the school, in business, and in all activities of this life. Our national life at the present stage affords a splendid opportunity when national sympathies are deepening under the interchange of thought. Our attention to the stranger within our gates is an indication of the degree of our civility," resumed the speaker. "If a young lady drop a handkerchief in the street and one rushes to pick it up, that is not courtesy, but philanthropy, very often foolishness. On the other hand if one sees an old lady standing timidly at the street corner, to conduct her in safety through the traffic is courtesy."

Labor and Capital.

"In the struggle between capital and labor there lies a great opportunity for the display of courtesy. I like to think of capital and labor as twin giants, the money capital and the labor capital, interdependent one on the other.

If these two giants would only come to the place where they would feel deep down in their hearts a courtesy for the feelings of the other, these forces would be much more rapid in their coalescence.

"Partnership, of the home or in business, will be a failure without courtesy. If we could only get to that place where each could see in the other the gleam of the pearl, the world would be a much better place to live in. The last word in the creed of courtesy, which says that we should look for work and love, lift, and are we lifting?"

W. G. Gaunce was given a hearty ovation at the close of his address.

2,000 LOGGED ACRES ON ISLAND BURNED

Work Done to Prevent Forest Fires

Also Makes It Easier for New Crop of Trees

Two thousand acres of logged off lands on Vancouver Island has been burned over during the last couple of weeks by the orders of the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, in an effort to forestall forest fires.

Lands covered with slashings and old logs are the most inflammable, experts under Mr. Pattullo have discovered. Some of the areas are like tinder after a few weeks of dry weather.

The burning of these logged off areas is being done with thoroughness. After the work is done there is nothing left but a jet-black landscape of cinders.

Forest experts explained to-day that natural reforestation proceeds with greater rapidity and better trees are produced on such areas than if the new crop had to work its way up through the slashings.

New orders of the Forestry Department make it compulsory for timbermen to burn over slashed areas in conjunction with the Government.

Burning of slashed areas will be arrested for a while because of the present spell of warm weather. If the weather keeps warm for a while all burning may be postponed until next Fall.

FOREST FIRE TOTAL TAKES BIG JUMP

Number of forest fires in British Columbia so far this season has jumped from 56 to 92 during the last few days, it was announced to-day by P. Z. Caverhill, chief forester.

Fire does not take into consideration the big fires reported to-day as underway on all sides of Prince George. These fires, it was explained, have been quickened by high winds, until safety of the straggle yards in connection with the construction of the P. G. E. is feared.

The district embracing Vancouver, Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands leads with 30 fires so far. Fires in the other districts are: Cranbrook, 12; Kamloops, 14; Carleton Place, 14; Prince George, 12; Vernon, 7.

MENZIES WOULD MAKE VANCOUVER ISLAND FLOW WITH HONEY

Activities of the Rev. Thomas Menzies, M. P. P. for Comox, are likely to result in the establishment of demonstration apiaries on Vancouver Island. It was learned to-day at the Parliament Buildings.

W. N. Finlay, of Huntingdon, chief apiary inspector, arrived in Victoria to-day to confer with Mr. Menzies about the opening of the demonstration plants which are aimed to increase the number of bee broods and the efficiency of honey production.

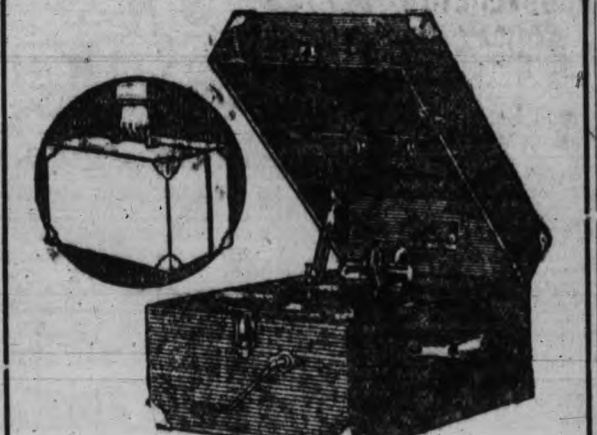

Bee experts who have been investigating honey possibilities of Vancouver Island, assert that conditions throughout the whole of the island with the large amount of prolifically flowering flora are such that the island could be made literally a land flowing with honey.

ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR SHELBOURNE PAVING THIS YEAR

"Audiences don't vary materially," is the observation of Harold Lloyd; the Hal Roach Associated Exhibitors comedian who will be shown at the Capitol theatre all week in "A Sailor-Made Man," his first four-reeler.

"There are no set rules as to the psychology of audiences," he says, "but their habits are pretty much the same. They like to be surprised when the surprise takes them utterly unawares. They like to come into the theatre with one set of thoughts and depart with another. They like to be thrilled, but best of all they like to be a part of what they see."

"Give them something that is a pull on their sympathies. Just a gentle tug, and they will back the hero and heroine in all their difficult days. The human touch is what they like. They reflect something that is their own experience, and that makes it their own picture."

Critics fortunate enough to have already witnessed "A Sailor-Made Man," say it is unusually well provided with that "human touch" that has always been a distinctive mark of the Harold Lloyd comedies.

David Haggard and Tess, his wife, love each other but have few tastes in common. David being wrapped up in his engineering projects, which kept him much away from home, and

IMPROVE YOUR SKIN

Be on your guard against that early patch of eczema, which if unheeded, may lead to nights and days of fiery irritation! Watch for the first pimple and rash that may spell ugly disfigurement! Don't let that simple cut, bruise or burn, take "bad ways."

Examine your skin frequently and carefully, and treat the first sign of disorder at once with Zam-Buk.

The secret of Zam-Buk's power in creating a clear healthy skin is that it stimulates the cells to renewed activity, and rid the tissues of accumulated impurities. Nightly dressings with Zam-Buk soothe, soften and purify the skin, and improve your appearance wonderfully.

Unlike coarse lard ointments and fatty creams, Zam-Buk contains active medicinal essences that sink into the skin and expel inflammation and itching irritation. Zam-Buk quickly replaces diseased tissue and grows healthy new skin.

HERBAL Zam-Buk THE REAL SKIN PURIFIER

For eczema, pimples, boils, abscesses, ringworm, poisoned wounds, bad legs, cuts, burns, scalds, or for piles Zam-Buk provides the unrivalled relief.

Few motion picture directors have followed their profession in as many different parts of the world as John S. Robertson, who is at present directing Mary Pickford in her elaborate revival of "Tess of the Storm Country," which will be released under the title of "Tess." Mr. Robertson has exerted his directorial influence over such stars as John Barrymore in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," Gareth Hughes and May McAvoy in "Sentimental Tommy," and Elsie Ferguson in "Footlights," pictures made both in Hollywood, California, and New York.

"The Devil Within"

More than forty years ago, when shipping boards and prohibition were things almost undreamed of, a sailor's life was one of the hardest on earth. He was completely at the mercy of his captain—and captain as a rule in those days were not famous for either gentleness or piety.

These conditions are dramatically revealed in "The Devil Within," Fox's play starring Dustin Farnum, which will be seen at the Columbia theatre to-day.

BIG OPPORTUNITY FOR BULB GROWING

Island Is Ideal Spot for Interesting Vocation

Increased interest in the bulb business at present draws attention to the local situation, now being investigated here.

Across the border are going in extensively for bulb growing, and Bellingham has now become famous as a result of her tulip festivals.

Word now comes from Lynden, a small town near Blaine, where climate and general conditions are identical with Victoria to the effect that the recently formed American-Holland Bulb Company has taken up forty acres of land there, seven to ten acres of which will be planted this fall, and it is expected the whole forty acres will be in flower in four years.

GETTING RID OF INSECT PESTS

With Spring comes the time when every tree, every bush, every plant is a prey to insect pests of a hundred kinds. These must be fought if perfect fruit or blooms are desired. This can be done effectively if the trees and bushes are sprayed just as the larvae develop.

For general all round Kero-Spray is a safe and effective spray. It is prepared according to a formula which is approved by leading orchardists and gardeners and all who have used it praise it highly. A great point in its favor is that it is inexpensive and that it comes in a concentrated form, the spray being easily prepared with water. For the orchard a sprayer is needed but for the garden a "whisk" is just as good. "Kero-Spray" should be applied in the evening and the underside of both leaves and bloom should receive special attention.

CHILEAN-PERUVIAN CONFEREES AWAIT CHILEAN STATEMENT

Washington, May 30 (Associated Press)—The next move in the Chilean-Peruvian conference was awaited here today for a definite proposal from Peru to submit to arbitration their ancient dispute over the sovereignty of Tacna.

The Peruvian plan, on which the advice of the Santiago Foreign Office has been sought by the Chilean delegates, is understood to propose that the arbitration shall decide not only whether a plebiscite is to be held as provided in the Treaty of Ancon, but also shall establish a basis for determining finally to whom the province belongs.

CONFESSES KILLING

Everett, Wash., May 30.—Donald E. Stevenson, a railway brakeman, confessed here late yesterday, according to the police, that he killed A. A. Almour, Seattle salesman, whose body was found Thursday last in a patch of woods near Stanwood, Wash. A police officer, stating the man said he killed Almour with a club during a fight over the question whether or not they would rob a farmer in the vicinity to procure funds to buy moonshine.

ESQUIMALT PARK SPACES OCCUPY COUNCIL THOUGHT

Suggestion for Esquimalt Race Meet Finds Council Unresponsive

Municipal Golf Links, Parks and Recreational Beaches to Be Considered

That a public meeting should be called by the Reeve and Council of the Esquimalt township for the purpose of an open discussion on the whole question of "open places, beaches and a municipal golf links" was the substance of a motion made at a special meeting of that Council last night with Reeve Lockley in the chair.

Invite Public Discussion

The date of the public meeting is to be set after the next regular meeting of the Council, when E. H. Willson, land agent, Projector, Sound and Agricultural Society, will be asked to attend. At the regular meeting of the Council, too, data on the projected public park area to be forthcoming, as to the cost, terms of purchase or lease and other matters of like import.

May Have Golf Links

That the Council would consider seriously a proposal to establish a municipal golf links was indicated also with the discussion of that matter being tabled.

A suggestion from Councillor Young to the effect that Macaulay Plains should be turned into a race course for annual horse racing fell on barren ground and did not bring forth fruit.

Horse-Racing Cows

Brother councillors scoffed at the suggestion and asked Councillor Young if he wished to display his "string of horse-racing cows." "Horse-racing cows," the point was, would be an innovation more novel than of actual value as a permanent recreation for the public.

Even Blessing Bite

Even the latest blessing to the district, the drydock, meant a withdrawal of seventeen and a half acres of taxable land that would now be withdrawn from the coffers of the district, stated Councillor Pomeroy.

Large Taxpayers Willing

Reeve Lockley pointed out that the Puget Sound Agricultural Society would pay over $10,000 in taxes this year, and that at the lowest assessment on record for some years, the holdings of the company with that of three or four large taxpayers in addition comprising fifty per cent. of the entire district. The company, paying the greater burden of all taxes, would be willing to have the park created, held the Reeve, in his advocacy of the plan.

Further Consideration

Councillor Pomeroy, supported by Councillors Brider and Young advocated that the idea be dropped for this year at any rate, and made a motion to that effect. Reeve Lockley supplied an amendment that a public meeting be called, and that the whole recreation question be further attention. The amendment carried with Councillor Mesher, temporarily in the chair, deciding a tie vote, in favor of the amendment.

Beaches Under Review

The use of beaches as recreational aids received a preliminary discussion, to be tabled finally for discussion at the public meeting. Reference to the golf and park projects would be necessary if it came to the expenditures of sums over $2,000 it was pointed out. The feeling of the people of the district will be sought before plebiscites are launched, in the event of these being necessary, it was decided.

Delegation Waits

A delegation attended from the Esquimalt Protective Property Owners' Association, but on hearing that the whole question was to be tabled and discussed at an open meeting later, the delegation did not press its views on the Council.

Investigated Site

Prior to the session the Reeve and Council, with members of the school board viewed the site of the projected park and discussed the matter with Engineer Bourne. The site, which is a question bear taxes between $150 and $200 annually, it was said, and could be leased for twenty-five years or purchased.

B. C. ANTHROPOLOGY, GATHERED IN MUSEUM, PLACED ON DISPLAY

Francis Kermode, director, gave a lantern lecture last night at the opening of the new anthropology section of the Provincial Museum by the members of the Natural History Society and the Chamber of Commerce. He showed types of B. C. Indians, their villages, pottem, poles, and various habits of life.

Dr. Newcombe, known as the highest authority on Indians and anthropology in this Province, explained the collection in the museum.

What you should know about a Fountain Pen

A FOUNTAIN PEN is nothing more or less than a writing instrument which carries its own supply of ink. It is virtually a tube containing ink, with a pen point inserted in one end of it.

The difference in efficiency between one make of fountain pen and another lies in how closely they approach perfection in controlling automatically the flow of ink from the tube to the pen point during the act of writing.

Thirty-eight years ago, Mr. L. E. Waterman invented Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen. It was the first fountain pen with a device that in scientific conception and practical application automatically controlled the flow of ink from the barrel to the point of the pen. It did this with a degree of perfection never before known and which, to the present moment, has never been equalled.

This device is the famous Waterman spoon feed and it can be found only in extensive scale, told how it was decided to go out and obtain the anthropological material here when it was realized that it was being shipped out of the Province in large quantities to foreign museums. Dr. Newcombe was put in charge of the work of collecting the valuable specimens.

Mr. N. Kelly, president of the Natural History Society, said it was hoped that the Government would continue the work of the museum. For the Society he thanked Mr. Kermode and Dr. Newcombe.

Dr. Young moved and the Rev. R. Connel seconded the vote of thanks to Mr. Kermode, as director, W. R. McCarty, assistant biologist; E. H. Vlackman, associate curator, and Reginald Park, museum floor manager.

Mrs. Jens, of the Vancouver Natural History Society took part in the proceedings.

TEA PRICES RISING WITH INCREASED DEMAND

The shortage of the supply of tea available for consumption, due to the 20 per cent reduction in production in the gardens of Ceylon and India, during 1921, has, as was expected, pushed the price of the tea offered on the market to-day, up and up. At the same time the use of tea has been gaining in popularity, and the reduction of fourpence a pound duty on tea entering England with further stimulus the demand. Those in touch with the situation advise us that higher prices are inevitable.

ACCORDING TO INSTRUCTIONS.
Two musicians sat in a concert hall, listening to a famous orchestral selection.
After a while the first musician blazed fiercely into his friend's ear: "The fools are playing this movement too slowly. Push too slowly!"
The other musician hissed back: "Yes, I expect their union only allows them to play so many notes an hour."

BY-LAW TO MAKE CLUBS PAY HEAVY TAX

Vancouver Beer Measure Aims to End Undesirable Establishments

Heavy license fees would be paid by beer clubs here if the City Council decides to bring in a beer by-law like that which is being passed in Vancouver.

The Vancouver by-law aims to legislate out of existence the many beer clubs that have sprung into being and includes the imposition of a $600 annual license fee on all clubs operating within the city limits, except fraternal organizations, as well as providing for police inspection of all clubs at any time without a search warrant.

E. P. Davis, K.C., and A. Malins, secretary of the Vancouver Club, appeared before the Vancouver City Council when the by-law was up, on behalf of the Vancouver and Terminal City clubs to protest against this by-law. They objected particularly to those clauses which provided for police inspection and the keeping by the club manager of a daily liquor stock book, which records the names, identifies and deliveries of all liquor brought into the club.

Similar to Home.
"A club is to all intents and purposes exactly the same as a man's home and should be treated as such," declared Mr. Davis. "The city is taking an unprecedented stand when it proposes to authorize policemen to enter club premises at any time without a warrant. A man's home is his castle and should be treated as such, and his club is the same as his home."
Mr. Davis suggested that all clubs which serve three meals a day and have fourteen or more bedrooms be exempted from the proposed by-law. Dealing with the proposed keeping of a liquor stock book, he said this was most unfair, as it would entail employing at least one extra clerk to record the daily transactions in the "Vancouver Club alone."

Heavy License Fees.
The proposed license fees are $600 for each club, and an additional $100 license fee for the club manager. A straight fee of $600 will be imposed on all clubs having a Dominion character. If the by-law is passed, it is expected that the by-law will come into effect on June 30. Only half the annual fees would be charged this year. License Inspector Charles Jones is in charge of the by-law.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO COURT OFFICIAL

Judge Lampman Speaks of Late Harvey Combe

A high tribute was paid by Judge Lampman and members of the Bar Association to the late Harvey Combe this morning. "Now that he is gone kindly thoughts and affectionate memories fill our minds," said His Honor, referring to the death of Mr. Combe prior to the opening of the Chamber sittings. There was a large attendance at the funeral, and H. A. Maclean, K.C., spoke on behalf of the Bar Association.
"Bereavement went upon the business of the day, an event has passed which it would ill behoove to discuss without notice. I refer to the death of Mr. Combe, which took place last Friday morning.
"In April, 1885, the late Mr. Combe was appointed Registrar of the County Court and Collector of Voters, and from that time until some time in 1919 he fulfilled the duties of those offices, and then, to the great regret of the law society, he retired. He became such that he had to retire.
"It was in 1895 that I first took up my office in the Law Courts, as secretary of the Law Society, and since that time my association with Mr. Combe was always of the most friendly nature. In fact his nature was such that no other relation with him was possible. As Collector of Voters he was brought into contact with many of the public and his unflinching integrity gained for him the respect of all that had any dealings with him in that capacity.
"As Registrar of the Court his relations with the lawyers and law students were always pleasant—he was a courteous and accommodating official."
Great Sportsman.
"Mr. Combe's name will go down through not as a great official of the Law Courts, but rather as a great golfer. Always a great sportsman, he excelled at rugby football, cricket, shooting and lawn tennis, but he became really great in golf, which he took up comparatively late in life and in which he was self taught. So good did he become that he won the championship nine different times. But much greater than his fame with the golf club was that undefinable trait in his character which made him at all times willing, I might say anxious, to show others. I do not think that he was ever even reluctant to grant anyone's request to give him instruction in the use of a golf club. Of his achievements, which were many, no one could have been more modest. Such a man could not be loved by everyone and he never played in an important match at lawn tennis or golf in which the spectators did not want him to win. Nothing could better indicate the character of the man.
"Now that he is gone, kindly thoughts and affectionate memories fill our minds."

Bar Association.
H. A. Maclean, K.C., on behalf of the Bar Association, tendered tribute to the remarks made by His Honor. "Mr. Combe was a most efficient and courteous official and also a most distinguished sportsman in the highest sense of the term. He was liked and respected by everyone I have ever known.
"His unselfish character was his most distinguishing trait. The Courts have lost an eminent official and the community a fine citizen in the passing away of Mr. Combe," said Mr. Maclean.

England All Ready For the Turf Classic

Hundreds of Thousands of Race Followers Will Trek to Epsom To-morrow to See Thoroughbreds Perform in Derby; Londoners Are Asking Themselves Many Questions; Some Think an Outsider Will Lead Field As Year Has Been Bad One For Favorites

London, May 30.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Who will win the Derby to-morrow? Will Lord Queensborough's colt St. Louis be seen to as much advantage at Epsom as he was over the Rowley mile at Newmarket in April when he won the first of the classics for three-year-olds? Was there any colt in the Two Thousand Guineas that has improved sufficiently to reverse the placings in the event, when the great Derby is run over the Downs, or is there a dark horse, as happened in 1908, Signor Inetta's year?

These are questions everyone interested in English flat racing is asking to-day. Londoners by the tens of thousands will invade the little market town in Surrey to-morrow to acclaim the equine hero of the hour and enjoy the Derby picnic in the more numerous many at an enormous crowd will gather to see a score or more thoroughbreds gallop a mile and a half in something between two and three minutes. For a great many, however, it will simply amount to jostling each other in heated but good-natured masses and to eat luncheons in booth or in the open air.

Bad Year For Favorites. Form this year is very confused. Numerous important races have gone to outsiders and the result has been a ready run has resulted in the downfall of the favorites. Indications to-day are that the field which will face the starter to-morrow afternoon will approximate thirty.

Pondoland is Alright. Sol Joe's Pondoland, which was reported a few days ago as having a sore leg, was sent a mile yesterday at a nice swinging gallop and pulled up perfectly sound. St. Louis still remains the favorite, with Pondoland well up. Capt. Cullie's chances were enhanced when Steve Donoghue was announced as his jockey.

Following are the probable thirty-one starters, with their jockeys: Pondoland (C. Neill), Re-echo (Gardner), Scamp (Lane), Simon, Pure (J. Ellis), Swiftn (—), Villars (Bellhouse), Diligence (MacGee), Ring On (Ladson), True Knight (Rohrer), Frank Bullock, Bucks Hussar (Child), Craiganower (Beary), Drydant (Carelake), Irish Belle (Whaley), Silpho (Wheatley), Stables (Elliott), Lord of Burghley (Evans), Psychology (Beattley), Norseman (Grigs), Baydon (Thwaites), Captain Cuttle (Donoghue), St. Louis (Archibald), True Knight (Rohrer), Silvanus (Piper), White Satin (Gray), Great Star (V. Smith), Jacquette (Blades), Lord Bilberry (Leach), Moyode (G. Smith), Royal Lancer (B. Jones), Flavius.

Royalty to Attend. The Royal box will be occupied by the King, the Queen, Princess Mary and her husband, Viscount Lascelles, Friday at Epsom in riding. Day when the Oak stakes will be run on the same course, furnishing almost as great an attraction as the Derby.

Archibald Gets Favorite. New York, May 30.—The ambition of every jockey to ride the favorite in the famous English Derby will fall to the lot of an American this season. On the historic Epsom Derby Downs course Wednesday afternoon, George Archibald, an American, born and raised in the United States, and racing pilot, will have the mount of Lord Queensborough's St. Louis, already quoted as favorite, in a three-year-old son of Louvois out of Princess Sterling, sensational winner of the two thousand guinea stake at Newmarket April 26, is estimated to have an excellent chance of winning with Archibald in the saddle, if the bookmakers are right, as he is taken as a criterion. Should Archibald succeed in riding St. Louis home ahead of the field, the name of racing fame and honor will be his. It would be the climax of his turf career.

BROAD STREET ELEVEN DEFEATS ALICE TEAM. The cricket match played last night between the Broad Street and Princess Alice elevens resulted in a win for the former, by 115 runs to 46. Fletcher, for the winners, retired when he had hit out 38 and he also took seven of the Alice wickets for 17 runs. Sharp and Oldershaw lead the Alice bowlers, the former having taken five for 18 and the latter 4 for 13.

KINGSTON STREET TENNIS. Entries for the annual scratch tournaments at the Kingston Street Tennis Club will close on Wednesday next, and play in the event will commence on Saturday, June 2, with matches both morning and afternoon. The tournament will be concluded on Saturday, June 10. There is already a large entry, and the majority of the members of the club has now a considerable membership, but there is still room for a few more players.

PORTLAND BOY WINS. St. Louis, May 30.—Billy Maccott, Portland, won the championship, won the referee's decision in a bout with Patsy Flanagan, of St. Louis, here last night.

COBB AND HEILMANN ARE NOW SUSPENDED

St. Louis, May 30.—Manager Ty Cobb and Outfielder Heilmann, of the Detroit Tigers, were indefinitely suspended by Ban Johnson, American League president, before the morning game of the holiday double-header here to-day with the St. Louis Browns. WE PLACE ALL CLASSES OF INSURANCE EXCEPTING LIFE. SOME EXCELLENT RATES AND CLOSE IN.

ON THE EAST SAANICH ROAD and just opposite Elk Lake, 5 1/2 acres, mostly cleared and some timber. Unobstructed view of both the lake, the sea and the mountains.

JUST BEYOND 3/4-MILE CIRCLE and just off the East Saanich Road, 5.75 acres, being a main drain, mostly all good and at the present price only $2,900.

WIDE FIELD, and I would advise the public to be skeptical about accepting the romantic claims of wonderful discoveries.

Two Rejuvenation Operations. "I have had operations which these men claim will bring out the wonder of rejuvenation. One is the transplanting of glands and the other is the ligation of a duct. The former is bunk, pure bunk and absurdity. The efficacy of the transplanting of the monkey or goat gland to the human body is the veriest fairy tale.

Whether there is any truth in Dr. Steinhach's theories, I do not know. It has not been proven, and in my opinion is not likely to be. He claims that tying the duct of the testis will increase the vitality of the surrounding cells and the old become young. Quite fanciful; reads well, but sounds very fishy. He claims to have been successful in experiments on old rats who regain second life.

Proprietary Nostrums. Dr. MacCallum condemned the methods of certain manufacturers of proprietary medicines and wholesale druggists. "I think," he said, "that the public is being misled by the medical profession to enlighten them as to the wonderful work of the glands. We do not clearly understand the work of the glands in the human body. A great deal has been learned. I think it altogether wrong for persons who have done no experimental research of this kind to pretend to explain the medical profession to enlighten them as to the wonderful work of the glands. ### OVERRIDING MAYOR, COUNCIL ASKS FOR OPEN SUNDAY HERE

Closed Sunday Halting Progress of City, Aldermen Charge

Mayor Refuses "to Bow to Baal," Stands Alone As in Boer War

But Whole Council Appeals to Manson to Stop Strict Enforcement

Deaf to Mayor Marchant's long and impassioned protests, the City Council last night unanimously passed a resolution asking Attorney-General Manson to hold up enforcement of the Lord's Day Act here until the Federal Government had taken action on the City's request for local option on Sunday closing.

"The strict enforcement of the Lord's Day Act is detrimental to the City," said Alderman David Leeming, who moved the motion appealing to Mr. Manson. "It is working in direct opposition to the efforts of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau to attract people to Victoria and help it out of its present rut."

"In the face of the recent plebiscite and the fact that the City has twice asked Ottawa for amendments to the Lord's Day Act, I should think we have a right to ask that no fiat for prosecutions should be put in force until we have got action one way or the other from Ottawa," Alderman Hayward agreed. He said that the recent Sunday closing plebiscite was widely representative of public opinion, and he regarded as rather narrow-minded the attitude of certain people who had advised their followers to refrain from voting.

Must Pay Costs of Appeal.

In answer to insistent demands from Alderman E. S. Woodward, City Solicitor H. S. Pringle explained that any citizen or any body could launch proceedings under the Lord's Day Act and it would be the duty of the police force to ask the Attorney-General for permission to prosecute. "It's probably up to the body which can most successfully influence the Attorney-General," he replied when asked whether the Council or the Police Commission should handle the Sunday closing situation. "He added, in answer to further queries, that the City must pay the costs of fighting appeals against Lord's Day Act convictions.

Alderman Hayward insisted that the Council could decide for itself whether it would pay for the expense of prosecutions or not.

"Just look at this Sunday closing matter from a common-sense standpoint," Alderman Leeming urged. "Just suppose, Mr. Mayor, you were down on Fowl Bay beach on a Sunday afternoon with a bunch of children. What wrong is there in buying them ice cream or pop? What a detrimental effect can it have upon those children's spiritualities? Here Victoria is trying to get out of its rut and mess. This Council is working and other bodies are working too—and nail to put the cork back on Montreal, for instance. Again, the Canadian Club of Calgary has asked me to address it next month. That organization would not make that request if it thought that my ideas were opposed to the true ideals of Canadians.

"While the recent plebiscite went overwhelmingly against Sunday closing at the same time the Council itself has gone on record as not believing in this kind of vote. We had a huge petition asking for a plebiscite on the improvement tax put it was not granted."

Mayor's Reply.

"In reply to Alderman Leeming's suggestion that the efforts of the Police Commission are opposed to the work of bettering Victoria let me say that I have entered a deliberate and distinct protest," said the Mayor, beginning his vigorous but vain appeal to the aldermen. "I will never accept that statement. I will never believe it. I could point to many cities where the Lord's Day Act is enforced and they are still on the map, Toronto and Montreal, for instance. Again, the Canadian Club of Calgary has asked me to address it next month. That organization would not make that request if it thought that my ideas were opposed to the true ideals of Canadians.

"While the recent plebiscite went overwhelmingly against Sunday closing at the same time the Council itself has gone on record as not believing in this kind of vote. We had a huge petition asking for a plebiscite on the improvement tax put it was not granted."

To Run Again.

At this point the Mayor intimated that he would run again at the expiration of his present term. "The people will judge my conduct at the proper time and I shall abide by their decision," he said. "Quoting Scripture I may point out that a great reformer once said that there were still 7,000 people who had not bowed their knees to Baal. And there is a large number of people in this city who will not agree to the disregard of the law and who will vote when a plebiscite is put before them in a proper manner."

"During the present agitation many issues unworthy of our citizens have been raised and many statements, unworthy of our best citizenship made. I would be a coward were I to yield to every adverse vote and you would have no respect for me if I am alone I will still stand alone."

"Eighteen years ago," the Mayor recalled, his voice raised and shaken with emotion, "a large crowd gathered in this room and attacked me for my attitude towards the Transvaal War and yet within two or three years of that time the British people stood overwhelmingly by the men who voted adversely on that war. And to-day one of those men is the greatest man in the British Empire—Mr. Lloyd George. Don't you think that people's opinions change in the course of time?"

The Mayor thus pleaded, but he pleaded in vain. When he called for a vote on the Leeming motion, asking the Attorney-General to hold up strict Sunday closing, ten right hands shot into the air. The Mayor alone voted against the resolution.

MUST OPEN DOOR TO ALL IMMIGRANTS EXCEPT ORIENTALS

That is Only Way to End Population Shortage, Says Colonel Dennis

To estimate the chances for the development of the P. G. E. country, Col. J. S. Dennis, C. M. G., of Montreal, head of the department of natural resources of the C. P. R., has arrived on the coast. He will investigate the possibilities of the P. G. E. country at the request of Premier Oliver and the Provincial Government.

"Canada should throw her doors open wide to the people of all the world, except Orientals, who will come into the country and develop our natural resources," said Col. Dennis on his arrival.

"Present Government restrictions on immigration and the lack of a policy at Ottawa are retarding the development of Canada to a tremendous extent."

"We not only need people who will become farmers, fruit growers and stock raisers, but those who will develop our mineral wealth, our fisheries and our timber resources. Without these people Canada cannot progress or become prosperous."

Col. Dennis declared that the stream of British immigration has definitely turned from Canada to Australia and South Africa.

Canada Losing Population.

"There is no question that our population situation is serious," he went on. "In 1911 we had approximately 7,500,000 people in Canada. Between 1911 and 1921 1,000,000 people came into the country. Our natural increase during the same period was 1,500,000. The last census shows but 8,500,000 people in the country, instead of the 11,000,000 which we should have. In other words we have failed to hold 2,000,000 people in Canada."

This situation will persist while the Government drifts along without any policy and while what he terms "intolerable restrictions" remain in force.

The Canadian Pacific is doing its best to bring out settlers from Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and other countries of Northern Europe, but is being greatly hampered by the present regulations, he declared. The law which calls for continuous passage from the country of origin is one of the greatest drawbacks to immigration.

Colonel Dennis is pessimistic as to immigration he is an optimist when he comes to discuss the grain harvest for this year. "Prospects are exceedingly bright," he says.

"For fifty years I have been in the Canadian West, and my experience is that a late Spring means a fine crop," he said. "Seeding has been late in nearly all parts of the West, but moisture conditions are excellent and yielding appears to be favorable for a bumper crop."

THE WAY HE FIGURED.

"Mother, what are prayers?" asked a small boy.

"Messages to heaven, dear."

The small boy, who has a brother who works for the telegraph company, said: "Oh, I see; we wait till bedtime to get the night rate."

WILD BOND DEALS RISK CITY MONEY, ANDROS CHARGES

Finance Committee on Thin Ice to Profit of Dealers, He Says

Warns Against Speculation in Slashing Attack on Finance Policy

No Speculation, Finance Committee Replies; Larger Committee Urged

Charges by Alderman E. B. Andros that the Civic Finance Committee is playing fast and loose in speculation with City sinking funds to the profit of local bond dealers stirred the City Council last night as nothing has done this year. Discussion of the committee's present large bond transactions reached a climax when Alderman Joseph Patrick urged that the Committee be composed of six instead of three aldermen as in past years, but finally all the Committee's recommendations for further bond investments were accepted.

The broad-side attack on the Committee's financing suddenly broke out when the Committee recommended that bonds to the amount of $110,000, floated to complete the new Johnson Street Bridge and bearing 6 per cent interest be sold to A. E. Ames & Co., at 100.85; that up to $100,000 worth of Victory Bonds maturing December 1, 1922, be purchased from R. P. Clark & Company at par for the purpose of retiring local improvement debentures due 1923; and that the City's holdings of 1939 5 per cent B. C. Bonds to the amount of $108,000 be sold at 95.27 to A. E. Ames & Company and the proceeds invested in Canadian Northern Ontario Railway, Government-guaranteed stocks, maturing 1961 at 72.70, this investment to increase the City's capital sum by $13,000.

"What is the idea of floating this Johnson Street Bridge loan now when the money will not be needed until next year?" Alderman Patrick demanded. "We have been told by the Finance Committee that money will be easy next year, and yet they want us to float bonds now."

To Avoid Later Flooding.

Members of the Finance Committee replied that the market was in a satisfactory condition now. Later the City would be too busy refunding sinking fund shortages and the Federal Government would be deluging the market with refunding loans to make a city loan very successful.

Then Alderman Andros, former Finance Committee Chairman, started taking the same line of attack as the committee. "I was stopped on the street by the Sargent finance administration years ago. 'This business of City financing is a great inducement to speculation in City money,' he remarked. 'We buy bonds to-day and it's all right. If the bonds decline in price we don't hear any more about it. Lately the Finance Committee has been investing and running wonderful risks. But when you have a good Victory Bond you have something to go on. We had a half million dollars' worth of them once, and against my advice the City got rid of them, and we were done!'"

"With the exception of the Finance Committee the Council can not spend enough time on these matters to reach a decent decision, but we are treading on very thin ice when we go on with this trucking and trading!" Alderman Andros warned solemnly. "Why, there has been more of these transactions in the last five months than in the last five years."

"The more pity," Alderman Leeming interjected.

"Other People's Money."

"If you knew as much about finance as you think you do, you would own Victoria by this time," Alderman Andros replied hotly. "It's wonderful to speculate with other people's money. The average alderman, and I am not excepting those present of the past aldermen, of which I am one, is not educated to combat these men who make it a business doing up their corporations. I was stopped on the street by one of the finance men who didn't have his claws into our vitals and he said, 'When you were Chairman of the Finance Committee things were scrutinized, but now they are easy.' I am not blowing my own horn, probably I was easy, too. These men consider that we are fair game, and the less we speculate in these things the better."

Denies Imputation.

Alderman Perry protested vigorously against Alderman Andros's charges. He did not believe that the Finance Committee was being victimized by bond dealers. "Some of the aldermen have just as many brains as the bond dealers of the City," he said, "and I don't like to see an alderman getting up and saying that they are being done by bond dealers. I don't think that the bond dealers could do that if they wanted to. The Council has too much brains for that."

Alderman Woodward, Chairman of the Finance Committee, explained that the Committee, contrary to Alderman Andros's charges, was endeavoring to do away with all speculation in its financing. In line with this policy it was investing City funds in solid long-term securities upon which the interest could be reckoned for a long period. "We refuse to be speculators," he said.

Not Speculating.

Then Alderman Andros wanted to know why the City's new loan was payable in Toronto. How much extra would this cost, he demanded. When Alderman David Leeming replied for the Finance Committee that the exact cost was not known yet, Alderman Andros suggested that the whole matter should be referred back to the committee until it found out about these matters. Alderman Woodward explained that the best price could be secured in Toronto.

Alderman Andros was soon on his feet again hurling more criticism at the Finance Committee. He said the bond dealers were watching the City's present bond transactions with glee. "I met four with their heads together over this deal to-night," he asserted.

"No, not this deal," Alderman Leeming objected.

"Well, I don't care what deal it was, but what I say is this: These men are out for themselves. We have to defend ourselves from these men. They are in this to do us—no, I take that back—they are out to do the best they can for their firms."

Surprised With Action.

Alderman Patrick thought it was funny that the bridge loan should be floated now after the Mayor had announced that the money would not be needed until a year from July. "We have a Finance Committee which poses as experts in bonds, and we have sold and bought more bonds in the last four months than the previous four or five years," he said. "I was hauled over the coals by men who are expert in these things for our last bid bond deal. We were told by the Finance Committee in connection with that deal that we were making $400,000, and yet I am told by an expert who should know that there actually was a deficit of $200,000. No one knows what the bond market will be next year."

Made Big Profit.

Alderman Leeming replied that the former bid bond deal, to which Alderman Patrick had referred, had made a profit for the city of $400,000. If the Council had put through such a deal a year earlier it would have made $200,000 or $300,000 more, he asserted.

Alderman Patrick urged the Council to hold up the new transactions

Always The Best

lating in its financing. In line with this policy it was investing City funds in solid long-term securities upon which the interest could be reckoned for a long period. "We refuse to be speculators," he said.

"No, not this deal," Alderman Leeming objected.

"Well, I don't care what deal it was, but what I say is this: These men are out for themselves. We have to defend ourselves from these men. They are in this to do us—no, I take that back—they are out to do the best they can for their firms."

Surprised With Action.

Alderman Patrick thought it was funny that the bridge loan should be floated now after the Mayor had announced that the money would not be needed until a year from July. "We have a Finance Committee which poses as experts in bonds, and we have sold and bought more bonds in the last four months than the previous four or five years," he said. "I was hauled over the coals by men who are expert in these things for our last bid bond deal. We were told by the Finance Committee in connection with that deal that we were making $400,000, and yet I am told by an expert who should know that there actually was a deficit of $200,000. No one knows what the bond market will be next year."

Made Big Profit.

Alderman Leeming replied that the former bid bond deal, to which Alderman Patrick had referred, had made a profit for the city of $400,000. If the Council had put through such a deal a year earlier it would have made $200,000 or $300,000 more, he asserted.

Alderman Patrick urged the Council to hold up the new transactions proposed by the Finance Committee so that the aldermen could look into them. He said that under the former system, when the committee was composed of six aldermen, business could be done more efficiently. In the old days a majority of the Council was in close touch with finance matters and did not have to depend upon three men, as at present. The present system meant delay or the transaction of business with which the majority was not familiar.

A True Pessimist.

"These firms are making money out of us!" Alderman Andros warned again. "As an old man I would give the Finance Committee this advice: Things are seldom what they seem."

Members of the Finance Committee explained that the new bond deal would be accepted or rejected, as the offers of the bond houses stood only for the day.

Alderman Hayward did not think that the Finance Committee was under the influence of bond dealers, but he agreed with Alderman Patrick that the value of the three-man Finance Committee system was open to question.

Finally all the committee's recommendations were adopted over the votes of Alderman Patrick and Alderman Andros.

OF TWO EVILS.

A Scotsman and an Australian were discussing the conditions in Scotland and the Commonwealth. The Scot said he believed there were many Scotsmen in Australia. "Yes," replied the Australian, "but the worst feature is the rabbits."
