TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

UPON THE

COMMON GAOLS, PRISONS AND REFORMATORIES.

In presenting this Report upon the Gaols, Lock-ups and Reformatories of the Province, I regret that I am unable to repeat the statement made in last year's report as to a continued diminution of crime. On the contrary there is an increase of 831 committals as compared with the year 1893, although the number is much less than in 1892.

Of this increase a little over half arises from committals for petty larceny (286), trespass (136), and burglary (38).

The number of males committed during the year was 8,063, being an increase of 883 over 1893; while the females committed show a decrease of 52.

The committals of boys and girls under 16 years of age, show a decrease as to the former of 110, and as to the latter an increase of 3, when compared with 1893. The decrease in the number of boys is to some extent, if not wholly accounted for by the courts sending them to the Industrial School at Mimico instead of to gaol. The convictions for 1894 represent 60.93 per cent. of the committals, which is considerably less than last year, when the percentage was 67.11.

The committals for drunkenness show a decrease of 378 as compared with last year, which is a proof of the continued good work being accomplished by the various temperance and kindred organizations in checking the drinking habits of our people.

A comparison of the statistics for 1894 with those of the past twenty years shows a favorable condition in the present management of the gaols throughout the province. The average cost per prisoner was a little less than 14 cents per day.

THE OLD PEOPLE.

I have again to call attention to the large number of old people who are committed to the gaols, under the Vagrancy Act, simply because they have no home and are without friends to provide for them.

The result is the crowding of the gaols, rendering them unsanitary and unfit for the purpose for which they were erected, namely, the safe-keeping of prisoners and their proper classification. This condition of things has a tendency to make the officials of the gaols less careful in the surveillance of prisoners under their charge and escapes occur in consequence. In many of the gaols there is not sufficient cell accommodation for the old people, and they have to lie upon the floor on "shakedown". It is on account of this class of habitués of the gaols during the past two or three years that the statistics show a larger criminal proportion than actually exists. They are not incarcerated for crime but to keep them from perishing outside, and while they are to some extent made more comfortable as to food and clothing, the fact of their being kept in gaols is a disgrace to our civilization and the christiauity of this province.

Owing to the general depression in business and consequent hard times during the past year the number of paupers has greatly increased in the county gaols.

The only remedy for this state of affairs is the erection of suitable industrial county homes where this class can be cared for more comfortably and less expensively. This would relieve the pressure upon the gaols, and leave sufficient room for the proper classification of criminals which would add to their safe-keeping.

During the year there has been the usual repairs and improvements in the gaols as required. In a few instances additions should be made to them, or separate houses erected on the premises for the accommodation of the gaolers' families; also the underground apartments occupied by the turnkeys and their families should be used for tramps, who seek the gaols for shelter and food for short periods.

EMPLOYMENT OF PRISONERS.

There are but few gaols where any employment other than general cleaning is provided; in the others the prisoners are employed in breaking stone, sawing wood, digging, leveling ground, etc.

PROFESSIONAL TRAMPS.

I am pleased to report that, as the result of strict discipline and compulsory work, the number of professional tramps seeking comfortable quarters for the winter has been greatly diminished throughout the province.

LOCK-UPS.

The lock-ups are all in good condition, having been carefully repaired during the year. Their management is very satisfactory. A new lock-up and court house has been built at Mattawa, and sites have been chosen at Sturgeon Falls and Webbwood on which it is expected that new lock-up buildings will be erected during the coming season.

In my notes of inspection will be found full details regarding the condition of the various gaols, lock-ups and reformatories in the province, and the number of prisoners in them on the days of my visits, the offences for which they were committed, duration of sentence, etc.

SEPARATE REPORTS UPON COMMON GAOLS.

BARRIE GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	172	150	203
Greatest number confined at any one time	30	30	33
Number of re-committals - - -	36	26	36
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$4,533.39	$4,901.39	$4,148.20

Copies of my reports made to the Government by me upon this gaol, are annexed:

An inspection of this gaol was made by me on the 16th March. There were twenty-six prisoners in custody, twenty-four males and two females.

One of the males was waiting trial for murder; one was serving a sentence of two months in gaol for using threats, and another three months for destroying property; two were under sentence to the central prison for ten and twelve months respectively, for shop-breaking; two were insane, and the remainder were vagrants and drunks.

One of the females was insane, and the other a vagrant.

I ordered the woodwork around the water-closets at the end of corridors to be removed as it affords a shelter for prisoners who may be disposed to attack the gaoler or turnkey, the door of entry being immediately adjoining it. Also that the wooden door be put on the opposite side to open in against the wall, and that an iron barred door be put in its place.

The general condition of the building was satisfactory. The beds, bedding, corridors and cells were clean and in good order. The drainage is good and ventilation fair. The water supply is from the town system. There were thirty suits of prison clothing and nine suits of civilians' clothing in good order.

The food supplies were found to be of good quality; they are obtained by contract, and furnished according to the gaol dietary regulations.

The books were written up to date.

I inspected this gaol on the 19th October, and found twenty-four men and four women in custody. Of the former, three were awaiting trial for aggravated assault, arson and stabbing; and the others were under sentence—two for larceny, one for burglary, sixteen for vagrancy and one for drunkenness. One of the male prisoners who is insane and blind, has been in the gaol nine years as an imbecilé.

- Two of the women were committed for vagrancy and the other two as insane.

A better diet than that prescribed for prisoners was ordered for the old people who were formerly residents of the locality and now in gaol on account of their poverty.

Since my last inspection some new flooring has been laid and general repairs made to the building. Everything was in good order.

BERLIN GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	72	79	73
Greatest number confined at any one time	11	11	11
Number of re-committals - - -	31	23	22
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$1,764.57	$1,812.80	$1,802.17

A copy of a report, made to the Government by me upon this gaol, is annexed.

I inspected the Berlin gaol on the 27th January, when there were only three male prisoners in custody—no females. One was waiting trial on a charge of rape; one was a vagrant, and the third had been certified as insane. The beds, bedding, cells, corridors, etc., were well kept; and the building generally was in good order. The drainage and ventilation are satisfactory. The water supply is from the town system. The food supplies are contracted for, and served according to the gaol regulations. There were eight suits of clothing in good order. The books were correctly kept.

Since my last inspection a furnace has been put in the building, for heating with steam. Water-closets have also been placed in the corridors, and connections made with the town sewers. The building is lighted by gas, and supplied with town water.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make the second inspection of this gaol, a copy of his report is annexed:

When I visited Berlin Gaol on July 23rd only one boy prisoner was in custody. His offence was for being drunk and disorderly. The gaol had just received its annual coat of kalsomine. Some papering and painting had also been recently done, so that inside it presented quite a fresh and clean appearance. The turnkey accompanied me over the premises. The old wooden bedsteads still remain. The prisoner was employed in the kitchen and at work cleaning the cells. The general condition of the building was very satisfactory, and the books were in the same condition.

BELLEVILLE GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	160	186	130
Greatest number confined at any one time	21	23	19
Number of re-committals - - - -	16	36	21
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,350.00	$2,259.00	$2,279.00

I inspected this gaol on the 8th January, when I found eight men and three women in custody.

The building was in satisfactory order. The beds, bedding, cells and corridors were clean and well kept.

The drainage and ventilation are well provided for. The books were found to be properly written up to date.

The prisoners were held for the following offences: Males—Bigamy, one; larceny, three; vagrancy, four. Females—Keeping house of ill fame, one; vagrancy, two.

There were 15 suits of clothing on hand.

I beg again to call the attention of the county authorities to the necessity of heating the court house, registry office and gaol by steam; also the placing of the water closets inside the gaol building. I learned that there are between thirty and forty stoves in the county buildings and that some eighty cords of wood and sixty or seventy tons of coal are consumed yearly. Apart from the danger it involves, this means of heating is very unsatisfactory, and it would be much more economical to adopt a system of steam or hot water heating to include all the public buildings.

My second inspection of this gaol was made on the 17th September.

There were fifteen prisoners in custody—thirteen men and two women. Of the former one was under sentence for carrying concealed weapons, one for abusive language, four for assault, one awaiting trial for larceny and one was held for want of sureties to keep the peace. The others were drunks and vagrants. One of the women was sentenced to the Mercer Reformatory for twelve months for abusing her child: the other was sentenced to sixty days in gaol for vagrancy.

The general condition of the building was good. The beds, bedding, cells and corridors were in satisfactory order. Good drainage and ventilation. City water is supplied to the kitchen.

The dietary is according to gaol regulations and the supplies are contracted for. There were fourteen suits of clothing in good condition.

I have again to call the attention of the county council to the necessity for heating not only the gaol, but all the county offices, by means of a hot water furnace. This could be done at a very moderate cost and would effect a great saving in fuel, besides adding to the comfort, safety and convenience of all concerned.

BRANTFORD GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	224	241	259
Greatest number confined at any one time	23	17	21
Number of re-committals - - -	105	113	126
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,906.85	$2,721.78	$2,997.17

Copies of the reports made to the Government by me, upon this gaol are annexed:

At my inspection of this gaol on the 13th January, there were twenty-one prisoners in custody—all males. Their offences were as follows: Assault, two; drunkenness, five; selling diseased meat, one; larceny, four; vagrancy, six; trespass, three.

The general condition of the building was good; the beds, bedding, cells and corridors were clean and in good order; the yards and water-closets were also well kept; good drainage and ventilation are provided; the water supply is from the city system; the food supplies are obtained by contract and served in accordance with the dietary regulations; twenty-six suits of clothing were on hand in good order; the books were well kept.

A second inspection of this gaol was made on the 25th October. There were on that date twelve prisoners in custody—nine males and three females.

Of the former, three were under sentence for drunkenness, two for house-breaking, one for receiving stolen goods, and one for keeping a disorderly house. One of the females was on trial for murder and the other two were under sentence respectively for receiving stolen goods and keeping disorderly house.

The male prisoners are employed in sawing wood, attending to grounds, etc. Some improvements have been made to the building and grounds during the year, and everything pertaining thereto was in good order.

BRAMPTON GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	167	132	222
Greatest number confined at any one time	10	10	13
Number of re-committals - - -	39	41	55
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$1,606.39	$1,502.80	$1,904.79

Copies of reports made by me to the Government upon this gaol are annexed:

I inspected this gaol on the 11th January. Eight persons were in custody—seven males and one female, charged as follows:—Murder, two; accessory to the fact, one; and one retained as a witness; vagrancy, four.

The building was in good condition; the beds, bedding, corridors, cells, etc., were neat and clean; the water-closets are in the yards; there is good drainage and ventilation; town water is used for washing and cleaning, and well water for drinking and domestic use; the dietary is in accordance with the gaol regulations and the supplies are obtained by contract; there were twenty-four suits of clothing in good condition; the books were entered up except the dietary and register.

I have again to call the attention of the county officials to the necessity for placing iron bedsteads in the cells. I have also to repeat my recommendation as to heating the county buildings by steam; and I would urge the placing of water-closets in the corridors.

I trust some action will be taken by the county council at an early day in the way of making these improvements.

I again visited this gaol on the 21st September, when there were four prisoners in custody—all males. One was awaiting trial for murder, and one for fraud; one was under sentence of death and the fourth was a vagrant.

The general condition of the building, corridors, cells, yards, water-closets, etc., was good, all being clean and orderly; the dietary is in accordance with the gaol regulations and the supplies are furnished by contract; there are fifteen suits of clothing in good order; good drainage and ventilation; the building is heated with wood-burning stoves; well water is used for drinking, and town water for domestic purposes; the water closets are in the gaol yards.

An extra guard has been placed in charge of McWhirrell, the prisoner who is sentenced to undergo the extreme penalty of the law.

New iron bedsteads have been put in the cells since my last visit. The water-closets should be placed in the corridors and the sewage from the gaol connected with the Court House drain emptying into a cesspool.

Another desirable improvement would be the heating of the gaol by placing a furnace in the basement.

BROCKVILLE GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	160	198	213
Greatest number confined at any one time	33	25	34
Number of re-committals - - -	61	95	106
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,531.61	$2,429.79	$2,298.48

Copies of the reports, made by me to the Government, are annexed :

My first statutory inspection of this gaol for the current year was made on the 2nd January. There were twelve prisoners in custody on that day, namely, ten men and two women. The charges for which they were committed were as follows :—Assault, two ; larceny, one ; vagrancy, five ; drunkenness, four.

I found the corridors, cells, beds, and bedding clean and neatly kept. The yards and water-closets were also in good order. There is good drainage, but the ventilation is bad.

The dietary is according to the gaol regulations, and the quality of the food good. Twelve suits of clothing on hand, in good order. Books well kept. Discipline and management good.

I have again to call the attention of the county council to the very great necessity for carrying out the recommendations made by me on former inspections, namely, the building of a house for the gaoler and his family at the east corner of the gaol, so that the apartments he now occupies may be given to the turnkey and his family, reserving one of the lower rooms for the gaoler's office.

Also the putting in of a furnace for heating the gaol, and the appropriating of the third floor for the use of female prisoners.

Some rearrangement as to lighting and ventilating the cells is also required.

I hope that now, at the commencement of the year, the council will take this matter up actively and endeavor to make these much needed improvements.

On inspecting this gaol on the 19th June there were ten prisoners in custody—nine males and one female.

Of the former, four were under sentence for vagrancy, three for drunkenness, one for obtaining goods under false pretences, and one awaiting trial for rape. The female was committed for vagrancy and drunkenness.

The corridors, cells, beds and bedding, water-closets, bath-room, kitchen, yards, etc., were found to be in a well-kept condition.

I have again to call the attention of the county property committee to the necessity there is for erecting a house for the gaoler, and also for rearranging the cells for female prisoners in the upper story of the gaol.

I made a third inspection of the Brockville Gaol on the 28th August, and saw all the prisoners then in custody—thirteen males. Two were awaiting trial—one for rape and the other for poisoning a horse.

The remainder were under sentence as follows : One for assault, two months in gaol ; one for larceny, one month in gaol ; one for cruelty to animals, one month in gaol ; two for destroying property, a month and a half each in gaol ; and five for drunkenness, undergoing short sentences. One man who was reported insane has recovered.

The general condition of the building and premises was good. The corridors, cells, beds and bedding were clean and in good order.

The food supplies are contracted for, and served according to the regulations.

There was a plentiful supply of gaol clothing on hand. The water supply is from the town system.

Number of re-committals - - -	- 4	..	2
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	- $450.00	$450.00	$575.00

Copies of the reports made by me to the Government upon this gaol are annexed :

This gaol contained three prisoners—two men and a boy—when I inspected it on the 27th July. They were all under sentence. One man for threatening to shoot, six months in gaol; and the other for assault, nine months in the Central Prison; the boy was awaiting removal to the Reformatory, for larceny.

The commitments to this gaol since the 1st October numbered 120.

Owing to the large number of arrests for vagrancy, drunkenness, and assault it is found that the accommodation is inadequate. In most cases such prisoners are only detained over night or for a day or two.

I had an interview with the town authorities, and recommended that they should provide some other accommodation for the above class of prisoners. This could be done very conveniently by placing some cells under the Court House, of which the town constable could take charge. The gaol would then be relieved from overcrowding from that source. The mayor promised to call a meeting of the council to consider my recommendation.

The fence at the west end of the gaol yard should be moved fifteen or sixteen feet further back to prevent prisoners from reaching the top of it by climbing the water pipe on gaol wall.

A small kitchen is required for the use of the gaoler, at the south corner, and should be built as soon as convenient.

The building was clean and in good order. The water-closet requires to be moved to the rear of the lock-up, some eight or ten feet distant.

The sheriff's office needs painting, and a door-way should be cut through from the street to the entrance to his office.

I inspected this gaol on the 5th November. There were four male prisoners in custody; no females.

One was waiting trial for stabbing and one for cattle stealing; the other two were committed for vagrancy.

The premises were in good order, clean and well-kept. One of the iron bars covering the sheeting inside the cells had been torn off by a prisoner who attempted to escape.

The gaoler was instructed to have this repaired immediately.

A small kitchen for the gaoler's residence is very much needed.

Copies of my reports made to the Government upon this gaol are annexed :

An inspection of this gaol was made by me on the 6th July.

The prisoners numbered seven—four men and three women.

My attention having been called to the necessity for more accommodation for court purposes in connection with the court house, and it having been stated that the county property committee intended to provide same by building an extension in front of the entrance and against the present wall, I have to say that such a procedure could not be allowed, as it would afford an easy means for prisoners to escape from the gaol. A much better way to provide more room would be to raise the south wing one storey higher and make an opening into it from the present stairs going into the gallery.

This would give all the room required and would not in any way interfere with the gaol or the security of the prisoners.

I made an inspection of this gaol on the 26th November.

There were eleven prisoners in custody—all males. They were sentenced as follows: One for corrupt practices at elections, one year in gaol; one for cattle stealing, three months in gaol; one for indecent assault, twenty-one months in Central Prison; two for obtaining money under false pretences, five months in gaol, and six for vagrancy. One prisoner was sick.

The general condition of the building was good. The beds, bedding, cells, corridors, etc., were in a well-kept condition. There is good drainage and ventilation. The water supply is from well and cistern.

The food supplies are obtained by contract and the dietary is according to regulations. Eighteen suits of clothing in good order. Books well kept.

Copies of reports, made by me to the Government upon this gaol, are annexed: I inspected the Cornwa'l gaol on the 5th February, when there were three male prisoners in custody—no females. One was sentenced to one year in gaol or a fine of $50, for shooting; one for assault and threatening, three months in gaol or $50 fine; and one for larceny, three months in gaol.

The general condition of the building was good. The beds, bedding, cells, corridors, yards, water-closets, etc., were clean and in good order. There is good drainage and ventilation.

I found the books well kept. There were six suits of prison clothing in good order.

Mr. Kippin has lately been appointed turnkey in the place of Mr. Martin, resigned.

A bath-tub is very much required for the use of the gaol and I trust the authorities will see that it is provided at an early day.

I made an inspection of this gaol on the 6th September.

There were twelve prisoners in custody on that day—all males; One was under sentence for being drunk and disorderly; two for burglary; one for assault; one was waiting trial for indecent assault, and one for larceny; four were charged with insanity.

The general condition of the gaol and premises was good.

There is good drainage and ventilation. Town water is supplied.

A further supply of clothing for prisoners is needed.

A new bath-tub has been put in and some repairs made which will make the gaol more comfortable. The books are properly kept.

Number of re-committals - - -	38	26	42
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,480.47	$3,641.78	$3,055.72

Copies of my reports, made to the Government on this gaol, are annexed :

I inspected this gaol on the 30th January. There were fourteen prisoners in custody on that day, namely, nine men and five women. Of the former, one was sentenced to three months in gaol for bigamy; one for fighting, three months in gaol; two for larceny, three months in gaol; three for vagrancy; one for drunkenness; one insane. The women were all old, and had been committed for vagrancy.

The building is old and ill-adapted for the purposes of a gaol.

The beds, bedding, cells and corridors, yards and water-closets, were all in a well-kept condition.

The food supplies are contracted for, and the dietary is as prescribed by the gaol regulations. There were thirteen suits of prison clothing in good order. The books were examined and found to be properly kept.

I inspected this gaol on the 11th September when there were fourteen prisoners in custody—eleven men and three women. One of the men was certified insane, and the others were all under sentence—one for indecent assault, two months in gaol; one for stabbing, six months in Central Prison; two for drunkenness, thirty days each in gaol; one for larceny, three and a half months in gaol; and four for vagrancy. Two of the women were vagrants and the other a prostitute.

The general condition of the gaol and premises was satisfactory. The corridors, cells, beds and bedding, yards and water-closets were in a well-kept condition.

There were twenty-four suits of clothing in good order. The water supply is from wells, and tanks in the attic. The water-closets are in the corridors. The building is lighted with coal oil, and heated with stoves for burning coal and wood.

During the past season a new barn has been built, and a flagstaff has been erected in front of the gaol building.

The third flat of the building is now being fitted up to accommodate the poor people who are sent to gaol under the vagrancy Act. I am entirely opposed, however, to taking up room in the gaol for the purposes of a county poorhouse; and if the county authorities persist in doing so they will be required to furnish such accommodation as is afforded in an industrial home, and not compel the inmates to be treated as criminal prisoners.

Number of re-committals - - -	7	16	10
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,291.92	$2,523.80	$2,343.42

A copy of my report to the Government on this gaol is annexed :

I made an inspection of this gaol on the 5th July, when there were five males and one female in custody. Of the males two were waiting trial charged with larceny, and the others were under sentence—one for horse-stealing twenty-three months in Central Prison ; one for assisting in abortion, one year in Central Prison ; one for larceny, ten months in Central Prison.

I found the premises in good condition generally. The beds, bedding, corridors and cells, yards and water-closets were clean and in good order.

There is good drainage and ventilation. The water supply is from the town system. Dietary in accordance with regulations, and the supplies contracted for. Thirty suits of clothing on hand in good order. Books are well kept, and the discipline and management good.

I have again to bring to the notice of the county council the necessity of heating the gaol with a furnace.

The improvements made in the gaoler's office in the way of furnishings give it a very respectable appearance.

I instructed Mr. Aikins to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed :

I made the second inspection of Chatham gaol on October 6th. Fourteen male prisoners and two females were then in custody.

One of the males was awaiting trial for murder, two for highway robbery, two for larceny, one for assault with intent to rape, one for indecent exposure, one for obtaining money under false pretences, one for cutting and wounding, one for using insulting language, and the others for minor offences. One of the females was a lunatic, and the other was committed for using insulting language. The prisoners were cleaning and flushing out their cells and corridors on the day of my visit. The gaoler reports the drainage system very good except that at times it becomes choked at the mouth. The same wood burning stoves will be used to heat the gaol this coming winter, no action having been taken upon your recommendation to put in a furnace. The beds and bedding were clean and wholesome. No entry appeared in the surgeon's book since June last, although I understand he makes regular entries in a private memorandum book, and makes his official entries accordingly. The gaol register and other books were duly entered up to the end of the year.

Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,287.74	$2,085.98	$2,169.52

A copy of my report to the Government upon this gaol is annexed :

I inspected this gaol on the 24th January. There were twenty-two prisoners in custody on that day, namely, twenty men and two women.

Two of the former were insane, and all the others were vagrants.

The premises generally were clean and well kept. There is poor drainage, and poor ventilation.

Town water is supplied in part.

The food is supplied according to regulations, and the supplies are contracted for.

There were eleven suits of clothing in good order. The books were well kept. The prisoners are employed at cutting wood, and doing chores about the premises.

I have again to call the attention of the county council to the recommendations made in my minutes of inspection 12th September, 1892, and 23rd June, 1893, which I hope will receive attention as early as possible.

I instructed Mr. Aikins to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed:

Very little in the way of favorable comment can be said of Goderich gaol, except that the gaoler and turnkey are making the best of their surroundings. Much has been said by yourself and by others in condemnation of the gaol building, but after making a minute inspection of the premises on August 1st, I have come to the conclusion that the half has not yet been made officially public. There is only one drain about the building, that is from the gaoler's kitchen. All the sewage has for years past been deposited in cesspools in the yard. As one has filled up another has been made, till now the gaoler reports the entire soil in the yards in an unsanitary condition. The closets are in the yards. They are far from sanitary. Many of them are crumbling in pieces and fallen in in several places. The wood-work is very rotten and putrid. The gaol surgeon has forbid the gaoler sleeping in his own apartments. He is therefore obliged to use a part of the gaol building for a dormitory, which is very inconvenient.

On the day of my inspection ten prisoners were in charge, seven males and three females. Two of the latter were insane and one was a vagrant. One of the males was committed for attempting rape, one was insane and the others were vagrants. Two of the latter were men over 80 years old; one was utterly unable to do or know anything, and was simply breathing out the remnant of a miserable existence lying on the floor of his cell, as when put in a bed he falls out of it. I recommended the gaoler to get a supply of rubber sheets to put under him. I inspected the books and found them well kept.

A copy of my report, made to the Government upon this gaol, is annexed:

I inspected this gaol on the 22nd January, when I found in confinement seven prisoners, five males and two females. One male and one female were on remand charged with being insane. The others were under sentence as follows: two for larceny, one month in gaol; one threatening to do bodily harm, three months in gaol; and two for vagrancy.

The general condition of the gaol was satisfactory. The beds and bedding, cells and corridors were in neat order. The yards and water-closets were well looked after. The drainage and ventilation were good. The gaol dietary regulations are observed and the food supplies are obtained by contract.

There were twelve suits of clothing in good order.

The building is heated by hot water and lighted by gas. The books were correctly kept.

I instructed Mr. Aikins to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed :

I visited Guelph gaol on July 23rd and inspected the building and prisoners. The general condition of the gaol was good. The corridors and cells were quite clean and neat, and the yards were undergoing a cleaning-up process. In the absence of a sewer the cesspool system is still used. These are cleaned out regularly by contract, and from outside appearances are about as satisfactory as a cesspool can be made. The gaoler has a perfect system of keeping prison books, by reference to which any statistical information can be readily obtained.

On the day of my visit there were seven male prisoners and one female idiot. Two of the males were of the ordinary vagrant type, two more were committed for burglary, one for larceny, one for assault and one for want of surety. They were all in fair bodily health, and none of them had any complaints to make.

Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$5,177.73	$5,498.18	$4,939.98

Copies of my reports upon this gaol, made to the Government, are annexed :

This gaol was inspected by me on the 12th January. There were twenty-one prisoners in custody on that day—twenty men and one woman—all of whom were committed for minor offences, such as vagrancy, drunkenness, assault, larceny, etc.

The gaol was in good order, and the beds, bedding, cells and corridors were in a well-kept condition. There is good drainage and ventilation. The water supply is from the city system. The dietary is in accordance with the gaol regulations. The food supplies are obtained by contract, and are of good quality.

Thirty suits of clothing on hand in good order. The records are well kept.

As previously recommended, the water-closets should be placed in the corridors of the gaol.

One of the prisoners was a young man committed for vagrancy, who was sick and needed hospital treatment. I was told that application had been made for him at the hospital, and that he was refused admittance. If such be the case, it is simply an outrage on humanity, and I am surprised at the action of the magistrate who so far misused his authority by committing this unfortunate man to gaol under the Vagrant Act.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make the second inspection of this gaol; a copy of his report is annexed :

In accordance with the instructions received, I made an inspection of this gaol on the 24th August.

There were then twenty-four male and two female prisoners in custody. Of the males one was insane, six were on remand and two awaiting trial. The others were under sentence for larceny, assault, drunkenness, vagrancy, etc. The females were vagrants. The commitments during the year up to date were 418.

The various books were examined and found to be correctly kept. The gaol was also in good order.

A prisoner named Cartwright, who was serving a sentence of two months for larceny, escaped from this gaol on the day previous to my visit. He was working in the stone-yard with other prisoners, in charge of the turnkey, when a knocking was heard at the door leading into the yard, and the turnkey ran to open it. In doing so he had to turn a corner of the wall, and thus lost sight of his prisoners for a few seconds. In this brief interval, with the supposed aid of another prisoner, Cartwright escaped over the fence, which is 13½ feet high. The sheriff, in reporting the occurrence, says there was only one key whereby the door in question could be opened, and he has therefore ordered a duplicate key. This should obviate a like contingency in the future.

This gaol was again inspected by me on the 24th October. There were twenty-two prisoners in custody charged with the following offences: Males—larceny, six; assault, three; vagrancy, three; drunkenness, two; waiting extradition for forgery, one; breach of city by-law, one; housebreaking, one; want of sureties to keep the peace, one; insane, two. Females—neglecting to support her child, one; insane, one.

The books were examined and found to be correctly kept, and the general condition of the gaol was satisfactory.

Copies of my reports to the Government upon this gaol are annexed:

This gaol was visited by me on the 22nd February. There were twelve prisoners—eleven males and one female in custody. Of the former, two were under sentence for larceny, one for assault, and the others for drunkenness and vagrancy. The female was under sentence for vagrancy.

A new ceiling has been put on the kitchen, which prevents the lime and dust from falling, and is a great improvement. If the gaol was lighted by electricity it would be much more convenient.

The prisoners were engaged in sawing wood and shovelling snow.

Four suits of civilian clothing have been purchased for old people committed under the Vagrant Act.

The necessity for a residence for the gaoler, convenient to the gaol, still exists, and I would strongly recommend that the council take immediate steps towards erecting such a building.

I inspected this gaol on the 26th December, and found twenty-two prisoners in custody—eighteen men and four women—charged with the following offences: Males—keeping a disorderly house, one; larceny, one; military desertion, one; insane, two; drunkenness, thirteen. Females—keeping a disorderly house, one; vagrancy, three.

The general condition of the building and grounds was very satisfactory. The beds, bedding, cells and corridors, yards and water-closets, were clean and in good order.

The drainage is bad. The food is supplied in accordance with the regulations. The supply of clothing on hand was ample. The books were properly kept.

A copy of my report, made to the Government upon this gaol, is annexed :

I made an inspection of the London gaol on the 25th January. There were on that day twenty-four prisoners in custody, twenty-one men and three women, committed for the following offences :

Males—larceny, four ; drunkenness, five ; vagrancy, eight ; horse-stealing, one ; housebreaking, one ; illegally practising medicine, one ; insane, one. Females—drunkenness, two ; vagrancy, one.

The general condition of the building was good. The beds, bedding, corridors and cells were clean and orderly. The yards and water-closets were in good order.

The water supply is from the city waterworks. There were twenty-four suits of clothing on hand in good order. The books were well kept.

I instructed Mr. Aikins to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed :

I inspected London gaol on the evening of July 30th and found twenty-three prisoners in charge—nineteen males and four females. One of the males was there for the crime of murder, one for burglary, seven were drunks, eight vagrants, and the others for minor offences. The females were all vagrants. The interior appointments of this gaol presented a fair appearance ; the corridors and cells were wholesome. The register gave the names of 484 prisoners committed since the beginning of the year, which is quite an increase from last year. The other gaol records were inspected and found complete. A portion of the gaol yard is at present occupied as a loft for storing straw for bedding purposes. This loft is rather close to the main building, and in case of fire the greatest efforts would be necessary to prevent a general burning up of the county buildings. The same old-fashioned water-closets are in use, but are kept as sanitary as possible. The management and discipline are all that could be desired.

A copy of a report, made to the Government by me, upon this gaol, is annexed :

I inspected the above-named gaol on the 19th of January, on which day there were three prisoners in custody, all males. Two were sentenced for vagrancy, and one for larceny six months in the Central Prison.

The general condition of the gaol was satisfactory. The beds, bedding, cells and corridors were clean and in good order. The yards and water-closets were also in good order. There were twelve suits of regulation clothing in store.

This gaol is very compact and convenient for the classification of prisoners.

As soon as the town has a system of sewerage and waterworks it is intended to have the water service laid into the building and water closets placed in the corridors, the arrangements for which are all complete.

I instructed Mr. Mann to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed :

On the 28th August I paid a visit to the Lindsay gaol, as instructed by you, for the purpose of inspection. There were ten persons in custody, committed for the following offences: Larceny, one; assault, one; lunatics, two; vagrants, three, making seven males. One of the females was committed for vagrancy and the other two were awaiting removal to an asylum: The condition of corridors, cells, yards, closets was good. I was told that the town was about to construct a system of sewers, which, when completed, the gaol property would be connected therewith.

The principal food supplies are procured under contract.

The gaol surgeon is very regular in his attendance to duty, which is very necessary, more particularly perhaps on account of the frequency of committals on the charge of lunacy, there being at the present time no less than four of this class out of a total of ten prisoners.

The books were well kept and entered up to date.

Copies of reports made by me to the Government upon this gaol are annexed:

I inspected this gaol on the 6th February and found six prisoners in custody—four males and two females. The former were imbeciles and idiotic, and the women were vagrants.

The general condition of the building was satisfactory. The beds, bedding, cells and corridors were clean and in good order. The water-closets are in the gaol yard. The water supply is from wells. The drainage and ventilation are fairly good. The food supplies are obtained by contract. There were four suits of clothing in good order. The books were well kept.

Half a dozen iron bedsteads must be placed in the cells immediately. This cannot be delayed any longer.

I inspected this gaol on the 7th October. There were ten prisoners in custody—seven males and three females. There were under sentence one man for drunkenness, and one man and one woman for larceny. All the other prisoners were idiotic and insane.

The general condition of the building was good, and the yards, water-closets etc., were well kept. The books were entered up.

Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$1,343.64	$1,340.72	$1,262.36

A copy of a report made by me upon this gaol to the Government is annexed :

I made an inspection of the Milton gaol on the 15th January, when there were eight male prisoners in custody—no females. One was waiting trial for arson ; the others were under sentence—one for assault, six months in gaol ; one drunk and disorderly, fifteen days in gaol, and the others were vagrants.

The corridors, cells, beds and bedding, as well as the premises generally, were in excellent order. The drainage and ventilation were good. The food supplies were found to be of good quality, and they are served as required by the dietary regulations. The stock of prison clothing comprised twelve suits, in good order.

The prisoners are employed in breaking stones and sawing wood.

Since my last inspection a new kitchen has been added to the gaoler's residence, much to the comfort and convenience of the family. An examination of the gaol records showed them to be properly kept.

I instructed Mr. Aikins to make a second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed :

When I made the second inspection of Milton gaol, on October 8th, there were three male prisoners in custody for larceny, and one female for the same offence. Very little, if any, change has taken place throughout the building since your last visit. The criminal population is limited, but the gaol is made the resort for all the tramps in the vicinity, and during the winter months is more like a tramps' home than a county gaol. This is doubtless owing to the fact that Halton county is not over supplied with public institutions where vagrants and poor people can be accommodated.

The general character of the gaol is well sustained from year to year, good management and discipline at all times prevailing. The books had just been completed for the official year, and after a close examination of them it was evident that the system of bookkeeping is all that could be desired.

Copies of my report made to the Government upon this Gaol are annexed :

I inspected this gaol on the 31st March. On that day there were eight prisoners in custody—five males and three females—committed for the following offences : Males, one for larceny, one for selling liquor without license, three for vagrancy. Females, one for keeping disorderly house, two for being inmates.

All the windows of bedrooms on the front of the gaol, occupied by the turnkey are barred. I do not think this is necessary, and would recommend that the bars should be removed from one of the windows, at least, as in event of a fire the turnkey's family would have no means of escape.

The gaol is lighted with coal oil lamps, and heated with ordinary stoves. The general condition of the building was good, the beds, bedding, cells and corridors were clean and in good order. The water-closets are in the yards. There were eighteen suits of clothing in good order. Good discipline and management.

I made the second inspection of the Napanee Gaol, on the 10th September, and found only one prisoner in custody,—a man sentenced to the Central Prison for one year for threatening to shoot.

The general condition of the building and grounds was good.

The corridors, cells, beds and bedding, yards and water-closets were all in good order. Good drainage and ventilation. The water supply is from the town waterworks and also from a well. The dietary is in accordance with the regulations, and the supplies are obtained by contract. There were twelve suits of clothing in good order. The books are properly kept.

Prisoners committed during the year -	488	374	456
Greatest number confined at any one time	39	30	39
Number of re-committals - - -	51	38	44
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$4,417.49	$3,842.46	$4,483.73

Copies of my reports made to the Government upon this gaol, are annexed :

I made an inspection of this gaol on the 7th February. The prisoners in custody were fourteen men and ten women. Of the men, one was waiting trial for larceny, six were under sentence for the same offence from one week to three months in the common gaol, two for conspiracy, one year in gaol; one disorderly, three months in gaol; one drunk, three months in gaol; one vagrant; one insane; one larceny, six months in Central Prison. The females were under sentence, as follows: Three for larceny; one for disorderly conduct; three for keeping house of ill-fame; and three for vagrancy.

The building was in good order throughout. The water-closets are in the corridors. Good drainage and ventilation are provided.

The food supplies were in good order, and are obtained by contract.

There were forty-five suits of prison clothing in store. The books were well kept.

More iron bedsteads are very much needed and should be furnished immediately.

This gaol was inspected by me, the second time for the current year, on the 10th of October. On that occasion there were thirty-two prisoners in custody—twenty-four females and eight males. Twelve of the former were under sentence as follows: Four for larceny, one to three months in gaol; three for assault, one to three months in gaol; one for furious driving, one month in gaol; one frequenting house of ill-fame, six months in gaol; three for drunkenness, one week to one month in gaol. Nine were charged with being insane, four of whom had been certified, two were waiting trial, and one was on remand for larceny.

The females were all under sentence—two for larceny, three months in gaol; one for disorderly conduct, six months in gaol; one for selling liquor without license, three months in gaol; one for drunkenness, one month in gaol; one was committed as insane.

A new supply of clothing for the winter has been obtained. General repairs and painting have been attended to. The furnace boilers have been renewed.

It is very important that a man be appointed to act as night-watch, to attend to the fires and look after the premises. The saving in fuel would more than pay his wages, say from the 1st November to the 1st May.

The general condition of the building was very satisfactory. There was a good supply of clothing on hand. The discipline and management are commendable.

Copies of my reports to the Government upon this gaol are annexed:

When I inspected this gaol on the 9th August, there were seven prisoners in custody—five men and two women. One of the men was sick.

The gaol premises generally were in good order. The beds, bedding, cells and corridors were clean and well kept. Good drainage and ventilation.

The water supply is from the town system. The food supplies are of good quality, and served as prescribed by the regulations. They are supplied by contract. There were ten suits of clothing in good order. The books are properly kept.

I made an inspection of this gaol on the 21st November.

On that occasion there were twenty-five prisoners in custody—twenty-four males and one female. Of the former, four were under sentence for larceny; one was waiting trial for burglary, and the others were vagrants. The female prisoner was committed for vagrancy.

The building was found to be in satisfactory order throughout. There were twenty suits of clothing on hand in good order.

I have to call the attention of the county property committee to the necessity of having some electric or ordinary call bells arranged for in connection with the gaol, and trust the matter will be attended to immediately.

A copy of my report to the Government upon this gaol is annexed:

I made an inspection of this gaol on the 22nd November.

There were seventeen prisoners—fourteen males and three females in custody on that day. One of the males was under sentence for larceny, and all the others, male and female, for vagrancy.

The general condition of the building—beds, bedding, cells, and corridors was satisfactory. The yards and water-closets were clean and in good order. There is good drainage and ventilation. The water supply is from a well. The food supplies are contracted for. There were fifteen suits of clothing in good order. The books were written up.

Copies of the reports made by me to the Government upon this gaol, are annexed:

This gaol contained twenty-one prisoners at the time of my inspection, on the 23rd February, namely, seventeen males and four females. All the prisoners, both male and female, were of the vagrant class.

I have again to point out the necessity there is for having a kitchen, store-room, and wash-room built outside the gaol. This should be done this season.

The general condition of the building was very good. The beds, bedding, corridors, and cells were clean and orderly. There were fifteen suits of clothing in good order. The books were well kept.

I inspected this gaol again on the 21st December. There were eighteen prisoners—eleven men and seven women—in custody on that date. One man and one woman were insane; one man was sentenced to the Central Prison for two years and to be lashed, for committing rape. All the other prisoners were vagrants.

The gaol and premises were in good order. The building is heated by stoves. The water supply is from cistern and well. The dietary is in accordance with the gaol regulations.

The gaol is practically being made a county poor house, and I would strongly recommend that steps be taken to provide an Industrial Home for the poor; or that an addition be built to the present building to be used exclusively for this class.

Copies of the reports made by me to the Government upon this gaol, are annexed:

I made an inspection of the Pembroke gaol on the 9th February. There were on that day twelve prisoners in custody—seven males and five females. They were committed for the following offences: males, three for larceny, one for drunkenness, one for obtaining goods fraudulently, one for assault, one for disorderly conduct. Females, one for murder (waiting trial), three for vagrancy, one for concealing child birth.

The gaol was undergoing repairs at the time of this visit.

A new hot water heater was being put in to take the place of wood burning stoves for heating the building.

The water supply is from wells. There is good drainage and ventilation. The water-closets are in the gaol yard.

Ten suits of clothing on hand in good order. The books were well kept.

One dozen iron bedsteads are very much required, and I trust the authorities will see that they are supplied without further delay.

I made an inspection of the Pembroke gaol on the 19th December. There were eight prisoners in custody on that day—five men and three women. One of the men was waiting trial for arson, and the others were sentenced, three for larceny (two for five months in gaol, and one for six months in Central Prison), and one for vagrancy, six months in Central Prison. One of the women was under sentence to the Reformatory, and the other two for vagrancy, six months each.

The general condition of the building and grounds was fairly good. The beds and bedding, cells and corridors, yards and water-closets were clean. The quality and quantity of food supplied was found satisfactory.

There were twelve suits of clothing on hand.

I beg to call attention to the condition of the drainage; it is very bad, and has been condemned by the Health Inspector.

I would also urge the necessity of placing the water-closets in the corridors, and of arranging for a supply of water for the gaol.

A copy of the report, made by me to the Government upon this gaol, is annexed:

This gaol was inspected by me on the 2nd July. There were two male prisoners in custody; no females. One was waiting trial for larceny, and the other was undergoing a sentence of two months for larceny.

The gaol, in all its parts, corridors, cells, kitchen, yards, water-closets, etc., was clean and in good order. There is good drainage and ventilation. Well water is used. The water-closets are in the yards.

There were six suits of clothing in good order. The building is lighted with electricity.

The books were written up to date.

I have again to call the attention of the county council to the necessity of furnishing the cells with iron bedsteads and wire mattresses.

I made a second inspection of this gaol on the 4th October, when it contained two male prisoners.

The general condition of the building was good. The beds, bedding, cells, corridors, yards, etc. were all in satisfactory order. Water supply from well and cistern.

The dietary is in accordance with the gaol regulations. The supplies are of good quality, and are obtained by contract.

Half a dozen iron bedsteads are very much required, as mentioned in the minutes of my last inspection.

Total cost of maintaining gaol - -	$2,774.47	$2,624.70	$2,540.07

A copy of my report, made to the Government upon this gaol, is annexed :

I made an inspection of the Peterborough gaol on the 18th January, when it was in a well kept and orderly state. The beds, bedding, cells and corridors were clean. The yards and water-closets were in good order.

There were twenty suits of clothing in stock. The food supplies are obtained by contract, and served as required by the dietary regulations.

The books were examined and found to be correctly kept.

Good management and discipline are maintained.

There were twenty prisoners in custody—eighteen men and two women. One of the latter was insane, and the other was charged with keeping a house of ill-fame. The men were all committed for minor offences such as vagrancy, larceny, and drunkenness.

I instructed Mr. Mann to make a second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed :

As instructed by you, I made the second inspection of the Peterborough gaol on the 27th day of August, 1894. There were only eight prisoners in custody, all being males. The offences were as follows: vagrants, five; indecent assault, one; larceny, one; larceny, one,§(awaiting trial). Corridors, cells, yards, water-closets, drainage, ventilation, water supply, etc., were seen and enquired about generally, and were found to be in a very satisfactory state. The number of prisoners at this time is the lowest at any time during the year, the highest number being twenty-five at any time. The kitchen, I may remark, would be improved by laying a new floor. The same remarks so often used in connection with the gaol, regarding the number of old people (although not so many of them in custody to-day as on other occasions) will apply, there being no county poor house.

I examined the books, also the food supply, and could find no reason for complaint.

A copy of the report, made by me to the Government upon this gaol, is annexed :

I made an inspection of the gaol at Port Arthur on the 14th August. There were then five male and three female prisoners in custody. Of the males one was sentenced to the Central Prison for eighteen months for an attempted assault, one six months in gaol for vagrancy, and three were waiting trial for assault and injury to property. The females were all under sentence—one for larceny, six months; one for keeping a disorderly house, six months; and one for assault, three months and a fine.

The building was clean and in good order. There were twenty-four suits of clothing in good order. The food supplies are obtained by contract.

A copy of a report, made to the Government by me upon this gaol, is annexed:

I made an inspection of this gaol on the 22nd October. There was only one prisoner in custody—a man charged with assault, who was waiting trial.

The building was found to be in good condition generally with the exception of the roof, which requires to be re-shingled.

The cells, beds and bedding, corridors, etc., were in good order.

The water supply is at present obtained from a well. I would recommend that the town system be introduced into the gaol.

There was plenty of gaol clothing and the books were properly kept.

RAT PORTAGE GAOL.

Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,452.89	$2,338.16	$2,749.30

A copy of a report upon this gaol, made by me to the Government, is annexed:

I made an inspection of the Rat Portage gaol on the 15th August. There were nine male prisoners in custody; no females.

Two were waiting trial for larceny and drunkenness respectively. The others were under sentence, two for selling liquor to Indians, two months in gaol; one for attempting to commit rape, twenty-three months in Central Prison; one for larceny, one year in the Central Prison; one for larceny, three months in gaol; two for drunkenness, ten and fifteen days in gaol.

The ceilings of the gaoler's house require calsomining, and the floors require painting. This work was ordered to be done.

The general condition of the gaol was very satisfactory.

The water supply is from a cistern and from the lake. The water-closets are in the gaol yards.

There were nine suits of clothing in good order. The dietary is according to gaol regulations, and the supplies are bought as required. The cost per day is fourteen cents per prisoner.

SIMCOE GAOL.

Copies of my reports, made to the Government upon this gaol, are annexed:

I made an inspection of the Simcoe gaol on the 7th July, and found in custody three prisoners—one male and two females.

The man was under sentence for refusing to pay a fine; and the women for keeping a disorderly house.

The general condition of the building was good; the beds, bedding, cells, and corridors were clean and orderly. There is good drainage and ventilation. The water supply is from wells.

The dietary is as prescribed by the gaol regulations. Sixteen suits of clothing on hand in good order. Management and discipline good.

I have again to call attention to the necessity of raising the wall over the little building in the women's exercise yard to the same height as the gaol yard wall, and the slanting of the roof the opposite way, so as to prevent the escape of prisoners.

I inspected this gaol on the 26th November, when it contained eleven prisoners—seven men and four women. They were all under sentence—males: two for keeping disorderly house; two for larceny; one for escaping; one for abusive language; and one for vagrancy. Females: one for drunkenness; three for keeping disorderly house.

The building and grounds were in good order. There are dry-earth closets in the gaol yards. The food supplies are contracted for. There were 12 suits of clothing in good order. The books were properly entered up to date.

Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,300.28	$2,266.46	$2,226.26.

A copy of my report made to the Government upon this gaol, is annexed:

I inspected this gaol on the 9th July, and saw all the prisoners then in custody—ten males. Three were waiting trial, two for shooting with intent, and one for larceny—the others were under sentence, one for larceny, four for vagrancy, and two for drunkenness.

The general condition of the building was good. The beds, bedding, cells and corridors were in satisfactory order. The dietary is according to the gaol regulations, and the supplies are contracted for. A further supply of gaol clothing is much required, and has been ordered.

The water-closets should be placed in the corridors now that the city water service is available for flushing. The closets in the yards should be dispensed with.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed:

According to directions, I visited this gaol on the 15th September and found in custody twelve prisoners—ten men and two women.

The gaoler was absent, having taken the three prisoners to the Assize Court who were implicated in the shooting case on the Grand Trunk Railway. Of the other male prisoners, one was insane, and the rest were serving short sentences for larceny, drunkenness, etc. One woman was under sentence to the Penitentiary for seven years for arson, and the other three months in gaol for larceny.

Every part of the gaol was found to be in a satisfactory condition as to order and cleanliness. The beds and bedding were clean and neatly made up. Some of the male prisoners under sentence were wearing their civilian dress, the supply of prison clothing being deficient. A further supply has been ordered. The books were examined and found to be entered up.

Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,744.91	$3,265.50	$2,525.38

A copy of my report to the Government upon this gaol is annexed:

There were fifteen male prisoners in custody when I inspected this gaol on the 26th of January. Two were certified to be insane; four were waiting trial for larceny; and the others were under sentence for vagrancy and drunkenness.

The beds, bedding, cells and corridors were clean, and the building generally was in good order.

Their is good drainage and ventilation. The water supply is from the town system. The dietary is according to the gaol regulations, and the supplies are contracted for. There were fourteen suits of clothing in good order. The books were well kept.

Some iron bedsteads are very much required in the cells as previously recommended. The repairs made to the gaol during the past year have added to its security and convenience.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make a second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed:

I made the second inspection of Sarnia gaol on the morning of October 5th. Thirteen male prisoners were then in the building. After making a tour over the premises and noting the minutes of your last inspection, I found little to chronicle of a new character. Inside and out the building was neat and in a sanitary condition. Some time ago, upon your recommendation, the windows in the kitchen were enlarged. This alteration has been found so advantageous that a like alteration should be made in the windows of the storeroom. At present this room is too dark and not easily ventilated. There is no structural or other objection to having a couple of feet added to the storeroom windows. It would be a great advantage and the cost would only be nominal.

The office books and gaol register were entered up to the end of the official year, and the latter showed an increase in the criminal population over last year.

STRATFORD GAOL.

Number of re-committals - - -	57	49	79
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,311.44	$2,742.75	$3,598.82

A copy of report, made by me upon this gaol to the Government, is annexed:

I inspected this gaol on the 24th January and found it in a very satisfactory state of cleanliness and order.

Seventeen men and three women were in custody. One man and one woman were insane; six men were waiting trial, one for rape, one for murder, two for larceny, one for neglecting to provide for his family, and one for disorderly conduct; the remainder (males and females) were vagrants.

There were eighteen suits of gaol clothing in good order. A new furnace has lately been put in for heating with hot water. The water supply is from the town waterworks. The dietary is as required by the gaol rules, and the supplies are obtained by contract. The water-closets are in the corridors. There is good drainage and ventilation. The books are well kept.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed:

The county gaol of Perth is one of the best in the province. Its position is good for both ventilation and drainage, and hence the absence of the offensive smell that characterizes so many gaols where the prisoners are largely of the pauper vagrant class. On the day of my inspection, July 31st, I found a steady breeze blowing through the building. The corridors and cells were therefore kept in a good and healthy condition. Iron stairways, solid hardwood floors and well-constructed brick and stone walls all contribute to give the building a good appearance.

Seven males and one female prisoner were in the gaol on the day of my inspection. The female was insane; four of the males were vagrants, one was committed for larceny, one on remand, and the other for wounding. None of these had any complaints to make.

I examined the register and other books in the office and found them extremely neat, clean and business-like.

SANDWICH GAOL.

Number of re-committals - - -	33	22	32
Total cost of maintaining gaol - -	$3,615.85	$2,884.79	$3,745.07

A copy of a report, made to the Government by me upon this gaol, is annexed:

This gaol was inspected by me on the 6th July. There were in custody on that date nine men and four women.

Five of the males were awaiting trial for larceny, horse-stealing, arson and murder; two were under sentence for larceny; and two for drunkenness. Two of the females were under sentence for prostitution; one waiting trial for larceny, and one insane.

The general condition of the building was good. The beds, bedding, cells and corridors, yards and water-closets clean and in good order. There is good drainage and ventilation. The gaol dietary is according to the regulations. There were twelve suits of clothing in good order and the books were properly written up.

I beg to call the attention of the county council to the fact that there is no airing yard for female prisoners. This should be provided immediately.

I instructed Mr. Aikins to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed :

Upon your request I made the second inspection of Sandwich gaol on Oct. 5th. Upon referring to the minutes of your last inspection, I found that no action had been taken in regard to your recommendation as to the airing yards. The county authorities have approved of some changes being made in the heating of the gaol, and a large coal stove was being put in on the evening of my visit. The gaoler and his wife complain of dampness in their apartments, and upon examining these I saw the effects of damp walls. Being night when I inspected the gaol I did not have an opportunity of discovering the cause of this, but whatever that may be, it should be remedied. The gaol had fourteen male prisoners and two females in custody on the evening of the 5th October, most of them for crimes of great magnitude, including prisoner Truskey, awaiting execution for murder. The city of Detroit, across the river, no doubt contributes largely to this class of prisoners. I examined the gaol books and found everything therein satisfactory.

Total cost of maintaining gaol - -	$2,113.91	$2,112.50	$2,075.33

Copies of the reports, made upon this gaol by me to the Government, are annexed :

I inspected this gaol on the 27th January. There were then in custody six prisoners, all males.

One was waiting trial for murder. The others were under sentence—one for fraud, two for larceny, one for vagrancy, and one was insane.

The condition of the gaol was good; cleanliness and order prevailed as regards the beds, bedding, cells, corridors, etc. The water supply is from the town waterworks.

There is good drainage and ventilation.

The gaol dietary regulations are adhered to, and the supplies are obtained under contract. Six suits of prison clothing in good order. The books are well kept. The building is heated with hot water and lighted with gas.

The floor joists of one of the day rooms have decayed and must be renewed at once, as the floor is dangerous in its present condition.

Hot water should be supplied to the bath-tub.

A second inspection of this gaol was made by me on the 27th November. There were nine male prisoners in custody on that day; no females.

One was waiting trial for horse-stealing, one for felony, and two for larceny. The others were under sentence as follows: One for injuring a horse, six months in Central Prison; one for larceny, six months in Central Prison; and two for drunkenness, thirty days and three months in gaol; one man, committed as insane, should be in the county poorhouse.

The premises were in a satisfactory state of cleanliness and order. There were twelve suits of gaol clothing in good condition.

Hot water service has not yet been put in bath-room, as recommended in a previous report.

I trust that the county council will see that this matter is attended to without further delay.

A copy of the report, made to the Government by me upon this gaol, is annexed :

I made an inspection of this gaol on the 12th August. There were two prisoners in custody—one male and one female—both committed as lunatics. Forty-eight prisoners have been committed since the beginning of the official year.

The general condition of the gaol was good. The water-closets are in the yards. The water supply is obtained at the river. The dietary is according to regulations, and the supplies are contracted for. Twelve suits of clothing on hand, in good order.

The grounds are well kept. They are three acres in extent. A new fence will soon be required.

Five or six incandescent lights should be placed in the gaol.

The court-room and offices were in a well-kept condition.

Some improvements are required in the court-room, regarding which instructions have been given.

The gaol records were found to be well kept.

TORONTO GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	2,973	2,865	2,786
Greatest number confined at any one time	186	174	197
Number of re-committals - - -	1,513	1,478	1,309
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$29,584.83	$26,734.30	$22,982.83

Copies of my reports to the Government upon this gaol, are annexed :

My first inspection of the Toronto gaol during the year was made on the 10th March, when 176 prisoners were found in custody—109 males and 67 females.

The building was in excellent order, and all departments were neat and clean. The drainage and ventilation are satisfactory. The water supply is from the city service. The stock of prison clothing comprises 200 suits, in good order.

The small room used by the matron as a dining-room should be fitted up as a bedroom in lieu of her present bedroom, and the latter changed into a dining and sitting room. It is also necessary that an opening should be made from the females' department, as recommended some months ago, to afford a means of escape in event of fire.

Most of the male prisoners are employed in reclaiming the swamp north of the gaol.

About twenty are employed in sawing wood, painting, cleaning, and doing laundry work.

A ventilating shaft is required from the engine-room to extend through the roof.

A hot-air furnace has been put into the laundry, which heats the working-room above. This does away with the necessity of keeping in repair the old pipes, which have been burst by frost.

Discipline is well maintained, and the management is good. The records are correctly kept.

This gaol was inspected by me again on the 28th September. There were then in custody 119 male and 54 female prisoners—a total of 173.

The general condition of the building, bedding, cells, and corridors was very satisfactory. The yards, water-closets, etc., were in good order. There is good drainage and ventilation.

The food supplies are of good quality, and are obtained by contract. The water supply is from the city service. There is a sufficient supply of clothing, in good order. The discipline and management are commendable. The male prisoners are employed in improving property on the Don flats belonging to the county; they also do the work required about the gaol and grounds. The female prisoners are employed in the laundry, kitchen, etc.

No action has yet been taken by the authorities towards providing a fire-escape for the female prisoners, as I have repeatedly requested.

I trust this matter will receive early attention without further notice from me.

WALKERTON GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	79	79	102
Greatest number confined at any one time	13	8	12
Number of re-committals - - -	18	24	38
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,117.05	$2,705.89	$2,034.20

A copy of the report, made by me to the Government upon this gaol, is annexed:

I inspected the Walkerton gaol on the 23rd January. It was in good order in every department.

The beds, bedding, cells, and corridors were neat and clean, and the yards and water-closets tidy.

There were ten prisoners in custody—nine men and one woman. Two of the men were duly certified as insane, five were committed for larceny, and two for vagrancy. The female prisoner was sentenced to the Mercer Reformatory for two years for vagrancy.

The ventilation of the gaol is very good, but the drainage is bad. The water supply is from the town system. The food supplies were of good quality; they are obtained by contract. There were twelve suits of gaol clothing, in good order. The books were well kept.

The building is heated by a hot-water furnace. Half a dozen iron beds are very much required and should be supplied immediately.

I instructed Mr. Aikins to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed:

I inspected Walkerton gaol on August 3rd. It then contained eight prisoners—seven males and one female. The female was a vagrant. Two of the males were awaiting trial for larceny, two were committed for horse-stealing, one for being disorderly, one for trespass, and one for giving liquor to Indians.

The building has been recently fitted up with hot-water heating furnaces and other accommodations, and is much more modern than it has been in these particulars. Nevertheless, I found that no action has yet been taken on your last recommendations to put in a drain and get the iron beds. I found the building in good order both inside and out. I examined the books and records, from which I saw that the gaoler gives daily attention to this branch of his work, and keeps everything well up to date.

WOODSTOCK GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	150	179	161
Greatest number confined at any one time -	35	31	27
Number of re-committals - - - -	75	82	68
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$3,776.95	$3,770.64	$2,933.38

Copies of my reports to the Government upon this gaol are annexed :

An inspection of the Woodstock gaol was made by me on the 6th June. There were nine prisoners in custody, namely, eight males and one female. The general condition of the building was very good; the beds, bedding, corridors and cells were clean and orderly. Water-closets should be placed in the corridors of the gaol, and those now in use in the yards be discontinued. The drainage is very poor and must be remedied immediately. The water supply is from wells. The dietary is as prescribed by the gaol regulations, and the supplies are obtained by contract. There were twelve suits of gaol clothing in good order. I found the books well kept.

The offences for which the prisoners were committed were as follows: Males—burglary, one; forgery, one; attempt to break gaol, one; horse-stealing, one; carrying firearms, one; drunks, two; vagrancy, one. The female prisoner was a vagrant.

On this occasion I had the pleasure of meeting the county property committee and members of the county council, with whom I discussed the improvements required to be made in connection with the gaol and the gaoler's residence. I recommended as very necessary improvements that a portion of the kitchen connected with the gaoler's house should be carried up one storey higher, the upper part to contain a servant's room, bath-room and water-closet; that a new system of drainage, which I fully explained to them, should be provided for the gaol; that town water should be put into the gaol and gaoler's residence; that water-closets be placed in the corners of the corridors or day-rooms for the use of prisoners, and that new iron bedsteads with wire mattresses be purchased to displace the old bedsteads now in use, which, from their construction, are dangerous, the prisoners being able to take off the slats and legs and use them as a means of escape. I was pleased to see the interest that is taken by the gentlemen in charge of the county buildings, and believe that they will make the improvements recommended at an early day.

I made an inspection of the Woodstock gaol on the 26th September. There were ten prisoners in custody—nine males and one female. Five of the males were waiting trial for rape, one for arson and one for an unnatural crime; one was sentenced for thirty days for trespass. The female was sentenced to the Mercer Reformatory for one year for prostitution and vagrancy.

The corridors, cells, yards and water-closets were all clean and in good order. There were twelve suits of clothing in good order. The dietary is in accordance with the gaol regulations, and the supplies are contracted for. Well-water is used. The books are well kept.

I regret to find that no action has been taken in regard to the recommendation made in my minutes of inspection, dated the 6th June last. The improvements then referred to are very important, and I trust that no further time will be lost in making the repairs required to the gaol and gaoler's residence.

WELLAND GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	222	216	224
Greatest number confined at any one time -	55	40	52
Number of re-committals - - -	101	83	85
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$3,180.60	$3,030.26	$3,510.38

A copy of the report, made by me to the Government upon this gaol, is annexed :

I made an inspection of the Welland gaol on the 7th July. There were three male prisoners in custody, all under sentence, two for obtaining goods under false pretences, three months in gaol and nine months in Central Prison, respectively ; one for indecent assault, one year in Central Prison.

The general condition of the building was very satisfactory. The beds, bedding, cells, and corridors, yards and water-closets were all in good order. Good drainage and ventilation. The dietary is in accordance with the regulations, and the supplies are obtained by contract. There were thirty suits of clothing in good order. The books are well kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make the second inspection of this gaol. A copy of his report is annexed :

I beg to state that I made an inspection of the Welland gaol on the 15th September. There were eight male prisoners in custody—no females. They were all under sentence for the following offences: Drunk and disorderly, one ; trespassing on the railway, three ; larceny, one ; vagrancy, two ; contempt of court, one. The committments since the beginning of the official year were 220.

I found the gaol in all respects in a good state of cleanliness and order, and the books of record written up.

WHITBY GAOL.

Prisoners committed during the year -	43	60	57
Greatest number confined at any one time -	10	14	11
Number of re-committals - - -	19	19	24
Total cost of maintaining gaol - - -	$2,119.30	$2,276.71	$2,243.75

Copies of my reports made to the Government upon this gaol, are annexed :

I inspected this gaol on the 29th January. On that occasion there were five prisoners in custody—four males and one female. The latter was a vagrant, and the others were under sentence, one for assault, two for larceny, and one for vagrancy.

The general condition of the building was good. The beds, bedding, cells, corridors, yards, water-closets, etc., were in good order and clean. The drainage and ventilation are very good. The water supply is from wells. The dietary is as prescribed by the gaol regulations, and the supplies are obtained by contract. Six suits of clothing were on hand in good order. More clothing is required for prisoners, and three iron bedsteads are very much needed.

I visited the Whitby gaol on the 11th September, finding two male and three female prisoners in custody. One of the former was under sentence for assault, and the other was waiting trial for larceny. Two of the women were vagrants and one insane.

The gaol premises were found to be in good order. The building is heated by steam. Well-water is used, and the water-closets are in the gaol yards.

The food supplies are served according to regulations, and are obtained by contract. There were five suits of clothing in good order. The books were well kept.

MATTAWA LOCK-UP.

I visited this lock-up on the 24th July. There were no prisoners in custody. The commitments since the 1st October were fifty-three.

It is the intention of the town authorities to procure a suitable site for new courthouse and gaol, and as soon as that is done the Government will erect suitable buildings thereon for the purpose.

SUDBURY LOCK-UP.

This lock-up was inspected by me on the 26th July. The only prisoners were two men, one waiting trial on a charge of larceny and the other for vagrancy.

The building was found to be in a satisfactory state of cleanliness and order, and the books were properly entered up.

NORTH BAY LOCK-UP.

I made an inspection of the North Bay lock-up on the 24th July, when it contained two prisoners. One, a man, was under sentence for three months for selling liquor without a license. The other, a woman, was sentenced to the Mercer Reformatory for one year for prostitution.

The corridors, cells, bedding, etc., were clean and in good order.

The fence has been extended so as to enclose the windows opening into the corridors in order to prevent anything being handed to prisoners by persons outside on the street.

The outside woodwork of the building was being painted.

A kitchen is very much needed for the gaoler's family, as well as for doing the cooking for prisoners. The books are well kept.

GORE BAY LOCK-UP.

I made an inspection of the lock-up at Gore Bay on the 12th August. It contained one prisoner, who was waiting trial for drunkenness. Since the beginning of the year seven prisoners had been committed.

An addition to the lock-up is very necessary for the accommodation of the keeper's family.

Thirty cents per day per prisoner is paid for food.

LITTLE CURRENT LOCK-UP.

On the 11th August I made an inspection of this lock-up. No prisoners in custody. The building was clean and in good order. It is a stone structure and stands on half an acre of ground. There were three suits of clothing in good order.

Two pairs of blankets are wanted for the winter.

John Lewis, a son of the late keeper, has been acting since his father's death.

MANITOWANING LOCK-UP.

I found this lock-up empty of prisoners when I inspected it on the 10th August. The building was not in a clean state, but the keeper informed me that he would have it put in order at once.

There is good drainage. Well water is supplied. Thirty cents is allowed for food for each prisoner committed.

The building requires painting.

HUNTSVILLE LOCK-UP.

I made an inspection of the lock-up at Huntsville on the 23rd July. There was only one prisoner, a boy, who was waiting trial on a charge of larceny.

I found the building and fences in need of considerable repairs, and also of painting. I arranged with Mr. John Slatter to do the painting, and also with Mr. L. H. Ware for the carpenter work required.

There have only been six prisoners in this lock-up since the 1st October.

The rooms were clean and in good order, and the books were properly entered up. Electric light is used and the water supply is from a well.

FORT WILLIAM LOCK-UP.

On my annual inspection of this lock-up on the 14th August, I found six prisoners in custody—four men and two women.

The building in every respect, was in a satisfactory condition. There were ten suits of clothing in good order.

The food supplies are contracted for. The discipline and management are good.

The offences for which the prisoners were serving sentence were as follows: males: one for larceny, five months; one for assault, sixty days; one for drunkenness, twenty days; and one waiting trial for drunkenness. Females: one for prostitution, three months; one for vagrancy, six months. A bath-tub was ordered to be purchased for the use of the prisoners. Fire protection is very much needed.

BURK'S FALLS LOCK-UP.

I made an inspection of this lock-up on the 23rd July. There were no prisoners in custody on that date. Since the beginning of the official year there had been twenty-seven commitments. The building was clean and in good order. The exterior of the lock-up as well as the outbuildings and fence should be painted.

There is no water on the premises except cistern water, which is used for washing purposes. The books are well kept.

FORT FRANCIS LOCK-UP.

I inspected the lock-up at Fort Francis on the 19th August. There were no prisoners in custody. The building was clean and in good order. It is supplied with lake water. A supply of clothing, and books of record are required; also some furniture and cooking utensils for the use of the gaol. The latter were ordered to be purchased. The books will be forwarded.

ANDREW MERCER REFORMATORY FOR FEMALES AND REFUGE FOR GIRLS.

In submitting this, the fourteenth annual report of the Reformatory for Females, I am pleased to state that the health of the inmates has been exceptionally good during the year, the number of hospital cases being less than in any corresponding period since the institution was established, as will be seen by the report of Dr. King, the attending surgeon.

The usual repairs to buildings, drains, etc., and work upon the grounds have been attended to during the year. A brick house has been erected on the grounds as a residence for the gardener.

During the coming year new distributing water pipes throughout the institution will require to be put in, and the painting of the building inside and out will have to be done.

A house should be built on the premises for the engineer, so that he may be at hand in case of emergency during the night time.

Arrangements are being made for the erection of a fire-escape for the exit of the inmates in event of fire.

As regards the officers and attendants there is no change of importance to note since my last report.

In the refuge department the girls have made very good progress in acquiring a knowledge of housework, knitting, sewing and laundry work while devoting a portion of each day to studies in the school room under the instruction of Miss Elliot, teacher.

The inmates of the Reformatory have carried on satisfactorily the laundry-work, knitting, sewing and housework during the year.

Their moral and spiritual welfare has been carefully looked after by the Women's Christian Association and kindred societies. Mrs. O'Reilly, superintendent, and the other officers speak with confidence as to the good results of the Sunday and week-night services as exhibited in the conduct of the inmates while in the institution and after leaving it.

The officers and attendants have shown their zeal for the success of the institution by maintaining good discipline and order in every department during the year.

The number of inmates at the beginning, October 1st, 1893, was 81, or 17 more than at the corresponding date last year. There were admitted during the year 122, as compared with 132 in 1893, and the total number in custody during the year was 203, as compared with 196 in 1893. At the close of the present year, September 30th, there were 82 inmates as compared with 81 at the end of last year. The average number of inmates in 1893 was 126, and the average number for 1894 was 121.

In the refuge department there were 44 girls at the beginning of the year, October 1st, 1893, as compared with 46 the previous year. The total number in residence during the year was 59 as compared with 61 in 1893. The number in residence at the close of the year was 47 as compared with 44 in 1893.

The cost per capita for this year is $178.52 as compared with $196.72 for 1893. The expenditure for maintenance was $3,700 less than for 1893; and in the net earnings there has been an increase of $532.97.

The total revenue received from the Reformatory for the year amounts to $3,083.68 as compared with $2,754.07 in 1893.

In my notes of inspection will be found full details of the institution work during the past year.

INSPECTIONS.

An inspection of the Reformatory was made by me on the 12th April.

On that day there were 76 adult female inmates and 4 infants, and the distribution of the women was as follows :

Knitting for supplies.....	5
Learning to knit.....	2
Sewing, mending, etc.....	1
Corridor and house cleaning.....	4
Cooking and baking.....	5
Dining room.....	4
Public laundry.....	30
House.....	15

In the refuge branch there were 39 girls, all of whom were attending school, their hours being from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 3 p. m., and from 7 to 8 p. m.; they study in the school-room. On Mondays from 2 to 5 p. m. they are instructed in sewing, knitting and repairing in the work room.

Every department of the building was clean and in good order. The bursar's department and stores were found to be well managed.

I made an inspection of this institution on the 19th November.

Considerable improvement has been made in the interior of the building and about the grounds during the past year. The plaster ceilings, which have fallen down in many parts of the building, have been replaced with wood sheeting; and the floors have been repaired in many places.

The laundries, where the inmates are principally employed, were found to be in good working order.

The prisoners' cells, working rooms, dining rooms, etc., were all in good condition; as also were the attendants' rooms, officers' rooms, store department and bursar's office.

The boiler rooms, kitchen, bathrooms and water closets were in a well kept condition.

There were 78 women in the Reformatory on this date, distributed as follows :

Employed at laundry work.....	42
Employed in knitting and sewing.....	12
Employed in learning to knit.....	3
Employed in house cleaning.....	4
Employed in kitchen, bakery and dining room.....	9
In nursery.....	1
Insane.....	1
Sick.....	4
Incapable.....	2
	—78

Services are held in the chapel during the week and on Sunday.

REFUGE BRANCH.

There were 43 girls in this department at the time of my visit. They were all in good health, and the apartments occupied by them were in excellent order.

The inmates attend school during certain hours each day of the week, excepting Saturday. They are also instructed in knitting, sewing, housekeeping, cooking and laundry work.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT.

TORONTO, December 17th, 1894.

DR. T. F. CHAMBERLAIN,

Inspector of Prisons, etc :

SIR,—In submitting to you the fourteenth annual report of the Andrew Mercer Ontario Reformatory for Females and Refuge for Girls, for the year ending September 30th, 1894, I beg to call your attention to the fact that we have had fewer convictions for short sentences this past year than we had the year preceding. This we find a decided advantage, as those short termed women have a disturbing influence on those who have been sentenced for long terms.

Our most troublesome subjects are those women who for the last few years have known no other home than the goal or reformatory; they are seldom at liberty more than a few days; they have no ambition and no desire to change their degraded lives. When sentenced to the Reformatory we find them idle and cunning schemers, and I fear that they are utterly irreclaimable.

If women on the second or third conviction were sentenced to one or two years and then time remitted for good conduct it would assist materially in the work of reformation and better results than such as we have already experienced might be looked for.

Although the too sanguine hopes we entertained on the opening of this institution have not been realized to the full, still it is gratifying to know that very many of our former inmates have benefited by reformatory discipline and the influence of religious instruction in so much, they now occupy respectable positions in society. Some are well married, others are living at service.

As usual we have a number of incapables, women who through either mental or physical weakness are almost wholly unfit for any kind of work; added to these we have a few confirmed invalids; one old woman sentenced for two years who seldom leaves her bed; the Dr. marks her insane.

In consulting our books I am pleased to find such a number that have never been recommitted. These woman we must conclude are doing well. We frequently receive letters from those at a distance and visits from those in the city, in all cases we strive to keep track of them.

One hundred and eleven women were discharged during the year:

Religious Services.

In the absence of Mr. Tilly, who succeeded the late lamented W. H. Howland Esq., no regular superintendent of the Sunday school has been appointed. H. Castles, Esq. has given his valuable services occasionally; Mrs. Chamberlain and the lady teachers have been constant in their attendance every Sunday morning; members of the Salvation Army have held prayer meetings every Monday evening; R. Harvey Esq. has held meetings every Wednesday evening during the year; Miss M. Keith, bible woman, has a bible class every Saturday afternoon; Rev. Father Welsh of St. Michael's College ministers to the spiritual wants of the Roman Catholic portion of the inmates. In the majority of cases the women enjoy and appreciate those united efforts for their spiritual good and reformation.

Work done.

A house has been built on the grounds for the gardener; ceilings have been repaired and plastering done; new sidewalks have been put down; new tubs and boilers for laundries have been supplied; drains put in order. The coal scales were repaired, and library books for the use of inmates have been supplied.

Requirements.

The building requires painting both inside and out; the front gate and fences are looking weather-beaten and delapidated; electric bells are required all over the house.

A house for one or other of the engineers on the grounds is very necessary, as we are often obliged to send for one of them during the night to repair a defective water-pipe. Last Sunday the assistant engineer was obliged to work a good part of the day to prevent a broken pipe from deluging the store room.

Grounds and Garden.

The grounds around the institution were kept as usual in good order.

Fresh vegetables from the garden was supplied to the different tables all through the year.

Education.

Fourteen girls entered during the year; nine of these could neither read nor write; three were in the II. reader, and two in the Junior III.

At the close of the year the classes stood as follows :

Junior I. Book, 8; Senior I. Book, 3; Junior II. Book, 6; Senior II. Book, 10; Junior III. Book, 9; Senior III. Book, 4; Fourth Book, 7.

The subjects taught in the Junior grade—I. and II. Book classes—are reading, writing, spelling and numbers.

The course for the senior grade is reading, spelling, form dictation, writing, arithmetic, grammar, physical geography, English and Canadian history and oral instruction in morals and deportment.

Religious instruction is given daily to both Protestants and Roman Catholics.

Our girls live at all times as the members of one family, and at no time are they subject to greater restraint than the daughters of a well regulated household. Their work is changed every two months. so that a girl entering at the age of twelve years or over and remaining two or three years has a fair knowledge of housework at the time she leaves the institution. Mrs. W., who has one of our girls, writes, "G. has a nice and thorough way of going about her work, and seems anxious to do her best and to be a credit to her friends," etc., etc.

The majority of our girls have to fight the battle of life against heavy disadvantages: Miserable parents, hereditary incapacity, ignorance, disease, homes of intemperance and vice. Our aim is to arm them to feel that labor is not ignoble, nor necessarily the cause of unhappiness, but a birthright to be enjoyed.

Seventy-five per cent. of the girls entering the Refuge can neither read or write; few have any knowledge of housework or sewing, they are unstable in purpose, reckless in action, boisterous in manner, chafing under restraint that curbs their wild desire to do that which is right in their own eyes. In its truest sense their education must include the patient training of the girls in habits of industry, morality and Godliness. Godliness of the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ is not an incidental but a fundamental principle in the training of the young committed to our care.

It is with factors as our aid that we are able with grateful hearts to record that 86 per cent. of our girls are to-day respectable citizens. Only twelve girls have returned during the last fourteen years as prisoners to the Reformatory; another dozen have failed, but have not continued to lead vicious lives.

We endeavor to keep in communication with girls after they leave the Refuge by visiting them frequently where convenient, and by correspondence where at a distance. We are now in correspondence with girls who left here eight, ten and twelve years ago. Several visited us during the summer who were unknown by face to those at present in the institution.

We are not unmindful of the benefits of a glimpse of the outside world, and new pleasure and instruction may be found apart from the variety halls and cheap shows. Many times during the year a party of girls were taken to a lecture, concert, World's Fair views or a visit to the museum of the Normal School.

The periodicals supplied by the Prison Aid Association have been regularly received and eagerly read. We are also indebted to the editor of the "Canadian Mute," for the monthly paper issued by the Institute of the Deaf and Dumb, and to Mrs. E., of Howard street, Toronto, for the "Methodist Magazine," a monthly periodical, which has been much appreciated by some of the older girls. For these we tender our sincere thanks.

I am, Sir,

Yours faithfully,

M. C. ELLIOT.

 REPORT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL, ANDREW MERCER FEMALE REFORMATORY.

WOMAN'S REFORMATORY SUNDAY SCHOOL.

During the past year the Word of Life has been faithfully and prayerfully carried to our sisters. This year as others has brought forth joys and sorrows, losses and gains. Our much loved brother, William Holmes Howland, whose presence, prayers and sympathy were of great value to us, has been called to the better land, and not lost only "gone before" to be forever with the Lord. We who still remain labor on gladly, hopefully, knowing that our work is not in vain in the Lord.

We have seen several leave the Reformatory soundly converted to God—their after-life proving that they had made the acquaintance of Him whom Moses and the prophets did write. On the women's side of the reformatory we have had ever a quiet, respectful and in very many cases a hungering listening to the truth. On the children's side we are very especially encouraged. Every Sabbath these little ones have repeated the memory verses and the golden texts—repeated them correctly and intelligently. The Word has been stored in the memory and "the entrance of Thy Word giveth light." These correct recitations are the result of the careful training by Miss Elliot, Teacher of the Girls' Refuge. And now as another year draws to a close we report 16 teachers, 52 adult scholars and 22 children in our school. Total 90.

When our late superintendent passed to the "glory land" the teachers met and after prayer and consultation unanimously elected Mr. Chas. Tilley Superintendent; Mrs. Dr. Chamberlain is still assistant superintendent and Miss Sams organist. We have to thank the Hon. S. H. Blake, Conductor Snider, Rev. John Salmon and Rev. W. F. Wilson for addressing the school on quarterly review Sunday. The Christmas service last year took the shape of a song service, Mr. and Mrs. McGrath, Messrs. Martin, Woodland, Hackney and Burns, leading in sacred song. This service was productive of much good. The Rev. W. F. Wilson addressed the women on these words, "yet I show you a more excellent way." I. Cor., 12-31.

For the matron and guards we tender thanks for their kindness and assistance wherever needed.

We now go forth gladly, hopefully, prayerfully, to labor in this corner of the Master's vineyard, sure that He is near to help and guide and direct, for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway."

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) E. Y. SAMS,
Secretary.

 REPORT OF THE SURGEON.

TORONTO, October 1st, 1894.

J. F. CHAMBERLAIN, ESQ., M.D.,
Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities.

SIR,—I have the honor of herewith submitting to you my fourteenth annual report as Surgeon of the Andrew Mercer Ontario Reformatory for Females and the Industrial Refuge for Girls, for the year ending September 30th, 1894.

THE REFORMATORY FOR FEMALES.

I am pleased to be able to report that the health of the inmates the past year has been unusually good, as compared with preceding years. There have been fewer hospital cases, less severe sickness, fewer in the specific or syphilitic ward, than during preceding years. No death has occurred among the inmates; and only one death occurred in the institution, that being a child born deformed, or with congenital spina-bifida, about one month after birth.

There have been several cases of insanity the past year, but none of a troublesome character. Each year brings its quota of women unable for work, or more or less decrepit and suffering from some chronic ailment; and hence requiring treatment; but unable to earn their food, and better adapted for a hospital or women's home, than for a reformatory.

Complaints regarding food and clothing have been few and trivial. Fewer attempts have been made at malingering.

REFORMATORY AND REFUGE STAFF.

The health of the staff has likewise been good during the year, no single case of serious illness having occurred.

Following were the presentations for treatment, viz.: abrasion, 1; colds, 18; constipation, 2; contusion, 1; cough, 7; cramps, 2; eczema, 5; febriculæ, 2; indigestion, 5; inflamed toe, 2; leucorrhœa, 1; operation on toe, 2; pain, 3; psoriasis, 1; rheumatism, 6; sore throat, 4; and weakness and want of appetite, 7.

THE REFORMATORY HOSPITAL.

The hospital record is the best and most favorable made during the past fourteen years the institution has been in operation. Only four inmates were hospital cases during the year. Of these three were childbirth cases, and one was a case of consumption and syphilis complicated.

Following was the time spent by each, as an inmate of the hospital, viz.:

1 case of consumption and syphilis (complicated) . . . . .	107 days.
1 " " childbirth (girl babe) . . . . .	25 "
1 " " " (boy babe) . . . . .	19 "
1 " " " (boy babe) still in . . . . .	15 "

THE NURSERY.

In addition to the births in the institution, there are always additions to the nursery department, on account of the commitment of women carrying infants in their arms; and hence it becomes necessary to maintain the nursery as a department. The sickness of the babes, however, has been trivial. The situation of the nursery at the top of the building, the pure air, sanitary surroundings, together with regular feeding under supervision does much to obviate sickness. Following were the few cases treated: Colds, 4; convulsions, 2; cough, 3; cutting teeth, 1; diarrhœa, 3; eczema capitis, 1; hernia, 4; icturus, 1; parotidis, 1; spina-bifida, 1; and suppression of urine, 1. The spina-bifida case is the one which died, as referred to in a former portion of this report.

THE SYPHILITIC WARD.

The number of cases in this department appears to be lessening from year to year. The total number under treatment during the year was only ten. Of that number but three occupied the ward at the close of the year. Of the cases treated, their varied occupancy of the ward was as follows, viz.:

1	under treatment, (still in)	46	days
2	“ “	between	50 and 100 “
5	“ “ (2 still in)	“	100 “ 150 “
1	“ “	“	150 “ 200 “
1	“ “	for	212 “

Fully half of the above were in the ward under treatment before; but left before cured, on account of the expiration of their sentence.

Presentations for treatment during the year, excluding hospital cases.

INDUSTRIAL REFUGE FOR GIRLS.

Of this department I have again a favorable report. It is rather remarkable that in the period of over fourteen years there has been but one death among the hundreds who have, during that time, been admitted. The past year came and went without one single case of a serious nature; and the current ailments have not only been mild, but fewer in number than for years past.

The most casual observer cannot help noticing the robust look of the large majority of the little ones; and one has not far to go to find the reason. Good sanitary conditions inside and out of the building prevail; regular hours are appointed for sleep and rest; for work and play; and for feeding the body, and feeding the mind.

ONTARIO REFORMATORY FOR BOYS.

There is this year, as in past years, a decrease in the number of inmates. Last year there were 170 boys in the Institution, while this year there were only 158. At the close of the official year, 1893, there were 173 inmates; at the same date this year there were 152.

The total number in residence during the year was 224, as compared with 230 in 1893.

In the report of the superintendent, the causes which contribute to the decrease in the committals to the Reformatory are set forth. I agree with him in his remarks as to the desirability of having the judges, police magistrates, members of the Legislature and others visit the Reformatory, and make themselves conversant with the manner in which it is conducted and the facilities which it affords for the instruction and reformation of the boys undergoing sentence there.

The health of the inmates during the year has been very good, with the exception of the epidemic "la grippe," which disabled many of the boys and members of the staff of officers at the beginning of the year.

Very few changes have taken place in the staff of officers during the year. Mr. Rourke, one of the oldest officers of the Institution, was compelled to resign his position on account of illness, and has since died regretted by his associates on the staff, as well as all who had the pleasure of knowing him.

The superintendent, officers, teachers and chaplains report the conduct, deportment, and progress of the boys during the year as being, with but few exceptions, most satisfactory.

The usual repairing has been done during the year, the details of which will be found in the superintendent's report, and the requirements for the coming year are also stated therein.

During the past year the Penetanguishene Electric Light Company have installed their lighting system in the Reformatory and buildings on the grounds. This is found to be a great improvement, and gives a consciousness of security against fire as compared with the old method of lighting with coal-oil lamps, which occasioned much anxiety to the officials and the Government. We have now perfect systems of lighting and water supply for the Institution.

The boys are employed at work on the farm, in the tailor-shop, machine shop, bakery, laundry, sewing, knitting, housework, etc.; they also attend school daily. The details of their employment will be found in the reports of the chaplains, teachers and instructors.

Their moral and spiritual training is diligently attended to by the chaplains, who are constantly in charge of the boys. See their reports. The physical condition of the inmates was carefully attended to by the officers. Ample playgrounds and rooms are provided where they take their exercise every day, "rain or shine," in addition to their ordinary work. Football, military drill and band practice take up their leisure hours.

The cost per inmate during the year was $219.50, as compared with $222.55 in 1893. The slight decrease in the per capita cost is owing to the lesser number of officials for the year.

The various duties of the superintendent, deputy superintendent, storekeeper and bursar have been faithfully performed, and their offices and books well kept.

The report of Mr. Isaac Day, Inspector of Schools, who made an examination and inspection of the boys during the year, is very satisfactory. The teachers in the Institution devote their whole time to teaching the various branches as they are taught in our common schools. See their reports.

Copies of the minutes made at the time of my inspections are appended, and the tables following show the movements of the inmates during the past year and preceding ones.

The table given below shows the movements of the inmates during the past year, and also of the two preceding years.

Copies of the minutes made by me of my inspections are appended, showing the condition of the buildings, farm, employment of the boys, etc., at various times during the year.

The summary given below shows the operation of the Reformatory during the year as well as in the two preceding ones.

The general health of the boys was good and they appeared to be contented. They are taught in the school-rooms a certain number of hours each day of the week by qualified teachers.

They also attend services in the chapel regularly, which are conducted by two resident chaplains. The remainder of their time they are variously employed as shown above, with due allowance for recreation.

I found the building and grounds in good condition.

The offices of the superintendent, deputy superintendent and bursar were in proper order, and the books and records well kept.

Stock had recently been taken of the goods in store department and also of the farm stock and agricultural implements.

The putting in of waterworks has been of great advantage to the Institution and affords a thorough protection against fire. The system of electric lighting has just been completed and the trouble, expense and danger attendant upon the use of coal-oil lamps for lighting the Institution is now done away with.

It is the intention, during the present season, to remove the high fence enclosing the grounds and give the place a more home-like appearance.

There is, I am glad to say, a very much less inclination to escape among the boys than in former years.

The management and discipline maintained under the superintendent, Mr. McCrosson and his deputy is good in every respect.

Dr. Spohn, the medical officer, looks carefully after the health of the boys and as a rule they have very little sickness.

I visited this Institution on the 20th October. There were then 150 boys under charge.

Three were sick, none were undergoing punishment.

All the departments were clean and in good order. The usual repairs have been made to the buildings. New windows were being placed in the dormitories and the dining room.

A new brick chimney or smoke-stack, has been built for the boiler house and a bridgeway has been made from the rear platform to the bank. A house for storing fire appliances has been completed and a thorough system of fire protection is now established.

New boilers had just arrived and were soon to be put in place.

About three-quarters of a mile of new fencing has been built during the year.

The farm produce was very good, especially the hay and vegetables. There will be a sufficient supply of potatoes and other vegetables for the winter's requirements.

There were about 600 or 700 cords of dry wood on hand, and about 1000 more will be taken from the redoubt during the winter.

The boys were distributed in the workshops, schoolroom and about the farm. The Inspector of Schools had just closed his examination.

The teachers, chaplain and other officers seemed to take a very great interest in the work of reforming the boys.

The superintendent's office, bursar's office and stores department were in good order.

The barns and outbuildings were in good condition and the agricultural implements had been housed for the winter. The live stock consisted of 10 horses, 17 head of cattle and over 90 pigs.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

PENETANGUISHENE, November 9th, 1894.

SIR,—Again I have to report a still further decrease in our population. The average number of inmates last year was 170 as against 158 for this year. In 1893, at end of official year, our inmates numbered 173. This year, at similar period, 152 only were in residence. It is true that for the past five or six years there has been a considerable diminution in the number of commitments to the jails and prisons of the Province, yet this diminution would hardly account for the gradual and persistent decrease in our numbers since 1883, a period of eleven years. Releases for meritorious conduct and the more extended application of the apprenticing system may, to some extent, account for the reduction noted. The establishment of the Victoria Industrial School may also have contributed to this result, as its management, more especially in the larger cities and towns, has been most active in securing commitments to that institution. Another reason may be found in the fact that many of the County Court judges and police magistrates of the Province, particularly those more recently appointed, have but limited knowledge of the resources of the Reformatory and of its means for the mental and moral betterment of those relegated to its care. Should the latter be the case, the remedy is within easy reach. There should be no difficulty in so arranging as that those dignitaries would have opportunity, in proper time and season, to visit this institution, inspect its workings, and become acquainted with its resources, thereby satisfying themselves that it is fairly equipped for the purpose for which it was established, viz., the reclamation and rehabilitation of juvenile offenders. A similar suggestion was made in my report of 1882, after the Reformatory had been structurally changed and enlarged, and, in respect to its domestic and disciplinary character, thoroughly revolutionized; thus being brought into consonance with the recognized fact that comfortable and attractive surroundings, opportunity for the acquirement of a fair education, united with technological training, and, best of all, thorough religious instruction, are the most potent factors in the reformation of wayward and delinquent boyhood and youth. Could such a visit be arranged, a more correct and clearer knowledge of the work done and the ways and means available for its due performance would be acquired, and, through this many prejudices, traditional in great part, would be dispelled. Knowing well, sir, your great anxiety to have this Reformatory so conducted as to be up to the full standard of your expectations and those of the Government, I may therefore suggest that no system is better calculated to ensure unremitting thought and action on the part of its management than visits such as those above urged.

I am here tempted to give voice to a few thoughts which are present in my mind and which, in relation to the subject on hand, may not be wholly out of place. To achieve success in the work of reclaiming juvenile offenders, many agencies are required to be put in operation. I will confine myself to the more important, and these are: First, an anxious and hearty desire on the part of those engaged in the work, to accomplish the much to be desired result. Second, thorough conviction on their part that their charges, one and all, are capable of being reformed. This is an absolute essential towards success, for no man or woman can succeed in a work of this character who is swayed by doubt as to the ultimate result of their efforts; nor can they earnestly strive to accomplish what, in their hearts, they despair of accomplishing. To doubt is to fail; to believe is to succeed. Third, moral forces only should prevail in connection with this work, the physical to be resorted to only in the last extremity. Persuasion should be the sole dominating idea; coercion only to be exercised in extreme cases, and the latter to be put in operation in such manner as to convince those subjected thereto that love and friendliness only actuate the agent engaged in the work of subjection. Fourth, to ensure the highest improvement of the inmates they should, —like children in the same household—be, to a certain extent, treated individually. Though all must be placed under the same general law, the conduct of each, as directed by it, should be specially noted and be handled, so far as may be, according to his individuality.

The foregoing reflections being general in their application, I will now proceed to indicate another agency in the work of reclamation—the most powerful, consequently, the most important. I refer to religious instruction, and this being special work, performed by specially qualified teachers, whose sole duty is the care of souls, and, as such, demands recognition outside of general lines. Just here I am reminded that being a layman, consequently endowed with but a limited appreciative capacity in this relation, I am, therefore, in considerable degree, unfitted to estimate or to even attempt to measure the far-reaching influence of religious teaching on the mind, or of its potent influence on the human heart and life, and that only to those dedicated expenditure of work, is that power given. Still, even the most careless and the most ignorant dare not call in question its soul-subduing and at same time elevating and inspiring effects. Here may be quoted the opinion of an eminent prison director of the past generation, when this question was put: "What do you think of a prison or reformatory without chapels where the inmates can be assembled on Sabbath for worship and Sunday school instruction, and on week days for morning and evening prayers?" The reply was: "They are like a ship laden with a rich cargo and sent to sea without rudder, chart, or compass." In this connection I might venture a suggestion—at the same time begging that my temerity in so doing may be overlooked—to the effect that, besides inculcating piety and complete submission to God's holy will, teachers of religion in public institutions should also encourage and stimulate feelings of healthy self-respect in reasonable ratio.

We will now proceed to the discussion of matters more immediately in unison with our everyday movements.

Apart from a serious visitation of la-grippe during December and January of this year, the physical health of the boys has, as usual, been excellent. The epidemic, during the period indicated, was, in character, most virulent and far-reaching, over 50 of the inmates and fully one-half of the staff being laid up at same time. All but three of the latter were, for a shorter or longer period, prostrated by the disease, and over one-half of the boys suffered from its attack during the two months it was prevalent. One of our most valued employees—teamster Rourke—has, from its after-effects, been utterly incapacitated, and will, I fear, be compelled to resign his position. He is the oldest member of the staff, having served from 1861, and, consequently, is in his thirty-fourth year of service. Yet, comparatively speaking, he is not an old man, being only in the fifty-fourth year of his age. To part with him will be most painful to me, as, throughout, he proved to be faithful and capable always, and, in the handling of the boys, surpassingly thoughtful, kindly and intelligent. It is not my intention, when his pending resignation is handed in, to ask that the vacancy thus created, be now filled.

The conduct, deportment and progress of the inmates during the year, with but few exceptions, have been most satisfactory. Much of this happy condition of affairs is due to the care, attention and efficiency displayed by the staff.

The lads had their usual summer outing to the Islands. The trip was most enjoyable to all concerned; feasting, fishing, swimming, singing, etc. being indulged in with zest and heartiness.

In the material order, many works were entered on and completed this year, the more important being: The placing of an auxiliary boiler in laundry boiler-house, and an addition built to latter for storage of fuel; erection of fire-hall; setting of steam pump therein, and connecting latter with boilers and hydrants; regrading grounds; new roof to boiler-house of main building; four thousand (4,000 ft.) feet of wire fencing; installation of electric light; cleaning up, papering and painting of two houses for guards; new drains and water-courses; new sashes in dining hall, Protestant chapel and school-room, and in dormitories C and D; new brick smoke-stack and painting same; bridge from platform to revetment wall; extension to greenhouses, 30x12; steam-heating of recreation hall; painting halls; painting ante-rooms of dormitories; excavating, overhauling and re-covering of main steam-pipes; many other works, such as road-making, renewing of culverts etc. were also in due season performed during the year.

For the Province, part of the appropriation on capital account for the following, viz. knowledge of the resource stalls; renewing steam-pipes to stables; smoke-house for oral beef steam-piping, valves, etc., wherewith to carry and distribute, for heating purposes, steam to residences of the bursar, the Protestant and Roman Catholic chaplains, and the store-keeper; circular saw, with requisite shafting and belting, for sawing fire-wood; grain crusher; chopper for meat and vegetables; fencing for farm and grounds; lumber and tiles for farm drainage; ten thousand (10,000) feet stock lumber—assorted—for general repairs, etc.; three new sewing machines for tailor shop, and one for shoe shop.

Hoping you will see your way to recommend appropriation for above purposes,

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your most obedient servant,

THOMAS McCROSSON,
Superintendent.

Dr. T. F. CHAMBERLAIN,

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.

ORILLIA, October 19th, 1894.

Sir,—I have the honor to submit for your consideration my annual report of the state of the schools in the Reformatory for Boys, Penetanguishene.

As in former years, I visited the schools twice in May and again in October.

At my first visit I found only two teachers there, Messrs. Macpherson and Macnamara. Mr. Ferguson was then at home ill. At my last visit I found the three teachers at work.

The apparatus is now satisfactory. The blackboards are very good. The rooms are large enough and comfortable. The boys had all books, pens, etc., necessary.

The subjects taught during the year were the same as those taught to the corresponding classes in the public schools. Most time, of course, is given to such subjects as reading, writing and arithmetic. Each boy attends but half time, i. e., either the forenoon or the afternoon of every day, therefore not much time can be given to such subjects as drawing.

The discipline was very good in each department. Commands were promptly and pleasantly obeyed. I did not see any of the teachers having to resort to corporal punishment but once, and that was because of a misdemeanour in the hall.

In May I found Mr. Macpherson with most of Mr. Ferguson's pupils as well as his own.

There were present 63 boys, 29 in the forenoon and 34 in the afternoon. Of these 6 were in the fourth book, 18 in the third, 30 in the second and 9 in the first. In Mr. Macnamara's room 35 boys were present, 3 being in the fourth book, 11 in the third, 15 in the second and 6 in the first. In October there were 64 present in Mr. Ferguson's room, 36 in the second book and 28 in the first book. Of the 28, 13 were in the second part. In Mr. Macpherson's room there were 33 boys present, 18 in the forenoon in the fourth book and 15 in the afternoon in the third book. In Mr. Macnamara's room there were 33 present, 13 in the morning and 20 in the afternoon. Five of these were in the fourth book, 19 in the third, 4 in the second and 5 in the first.

As I have stated in former reports, it is very difficult to judge the progress made during the year. But where the discipline is of a proper nature the teacher's methods good and where he is hard working and energetic there must be progress. I found those requisites in a marked degree in the rooms of Messrs. Macpherson and Macnamara. Mr. Ferguson is also of an industrious nature and keeps the boys very well employed.

While all the classes showed a very fair degree of efficiency, I cannot forbear to mention the reading in Mr. Macpherson's room. While in both his room and Mr. Macnamara's the boys were carefully taught in the subject matter of the readers.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

ISAAC DAY.

 PROTESTANT CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

DEAR SIR,—I have great pleasure in presenting you with my annual report as Protestant Chaplain of the Ontario Reformatory for Boys, for the year ending September 30th, 1894. I have under my charge at present 114 boys. During the year 29 have been discharged by expiration of sentence. A still greater number, however, have been discharged by being reprieved or apprenticed out because of their good conduct and progress. To have retained all these and the Catholic boys similarly discharged would have kept our numbers up, but it would in a measure have defeated the purpose for which the institution exists, viz., to reform those committed thereto, so that after leaving they will earn an honest living in some respectable calling.

Quite a number of very clever boys have been received during the past few months, boys that will, the greater part of them, we feel assured, give a good account of themselves in time to come. Our discharged boys are as a rule doing well, and we are thereby greatly encouraged to continue our work with those who remain or who may be sent to the reformatory.

In our Sabbath services the boys are attentive and interested, and in these respects they will, we think, compare favorably with any similar number elsewhere.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

STEPHEN CARD,
Protestant Chaplain.

 ROMAN CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

PENETANGUISHENE, Oct. 1st, 1894.

DEAR SIR,—I have the honor to transmit to you my report as Roman Catholic Chaplain of the Reformatory for Boys for the year ending September 30th, 1894 :

Boys in attendance September 30th, 1894.....	38

The conduct of my boys throughout the year has been all that could be desired. A strict observance at the religious services, an entire attention at the different instructions and an humble and devout preparation for the reception of the sacraments characterizing the Catholic inmates.

Prayers are said daily at the hours of 7.30 a.m., and 5.40 p.m.

As there are many small boys under charge, it has been a difficult task all along the line to teach them their prayers, as many of the lads had forgotten or had never been taught them before their incarceration; so that any pains that have been put forth on my part have not been lost. Thanks to their submissiveness and their endeavors to learn to elevate their hearts and souls to God.

It is a subject of edification for those who have in the past years visited the chapel during the recital of the daily prayers.

Sunday service is held at 9.30 a.m., and during this hour they are taught to elevate their hearts to God and to live in His divine presence; and they conduct themselves accordingly.

At 2.30 p.m. Sundays takes place the catechism class or doctrinal instruction; the warm interest, the bright intelligence, and the respectful courtesy exhibited by the lads has always been most gratifying.

In order to have a more intimate knowledge of the lads and at the same time to give them ample opportunity of examining their consciences and looking into their faults, I see them in the chapel many times throughout the year at the hours of 6.30 a.m. in winter and 6 a.m. in summer.

The choir boys sing very nicely and add to the solemnity of the respective services. They are under the care of the organist and practice the hymns once a week.

The present teacher of the Roman Catholic School, Mr. James McNamara, renders me a great deal of assistance in teaching catechism during school hours.

I must repeat here as mentioned in my last year's report that the library is very deficient in reading matter, especially for the younger portion of my charge; requisition was made last year for a supply of new books, I had hoped that the demand would have been attended to. It is a most essential thing that simple little story books should form the main part of the library; to-day we cannot count any fitted for the young boys. The larger boys can do with the present supply. In the Roman Catholic School Teacher's Report may be seen the different grades of boys under his charge so that from the same one may judge pretty fairly as regards the readable matter that should be placed at the disposal of the boys.

In conclusion, I must acknowledge the unvarying courtesy rendered by the authorities in the discharge of my duties during the year.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES GIBBONS,

Roman Catholic Chaplain,

Reformatory for Boys.

Inspector of Prisons, etc., Toronto, Ont.

PROTESTANT SCHOOL MASTER'S REPORT.

REFORMATORY FOR BOYS. October 9th, 1894.

SIR,—I have the honor to transmit you the annual report of the Protestant school for the year ending September 30th, 1894.

There has been a slight decrease in the number of boys attending the Protestant school, the number having dropped from 124 on October 1st, 1893, to 113 on September 30th, 1894.

During the year forty-eight boys were discharged or liberated, while thirty-seven were entered. Two boys of the number discharged, died.

Fourteen boys were promoted from the junior division to the senior division during the year.

The progress made in the different subjects taught has been considerable, as is shown by the accompanying report of progress.

Owing to the presence of "la grippe" among the boys, it was considered advisable to close the schools for a week, during which time the teachers did duty in the recreation room. Our aggregate attendance is thereby somewhat lessened.

The tabulated statements of attendance, etc., are herewith enclosed.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Senior Protestant Teacher.

ROMAN CATHOLIC SCHOOLMASTER'S REPORT.

PENETANGUISHENE, Oct. 2, 1894.

SIR,—I have the honor to transmit the following report as Catholic teacher for the year ending September 30th, 1894.

The accompanying tabulated statement shows attendance, changes and positions in the classes since last report.

I have nothing to add to the report of former years. The tardiness which characterized the past periods by its slowness in justly rewarding boys by liberation for candid perseverance in striving to reclaim themselves is still further accentuated by the department in whose hands the pardoning power rests. The disappointment to the boys, and the resulting carelessness in the pursuit of studies, are consequently proportionate to the delay.

The subjects of the Public School programme are taught, but most attention is given to subjects that may be of most practical importance to the boys after they leave here.

As has been the case the past few years, the greater number went out in the higher classes, while but few came in in these classes. Nine went out in fourth class and eight in third class, only one came in in fourth and five in third class.

One little boy, who should have been sent to the hospital instead of here, died last December.

Christian doctrine is taught to all the boys.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. McNAMARA.

Inspector of Prisons, Toronto, Ont.

VICTORIA INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL, MIMICO.

I beg to report that I made an inspection of the Victoria Industrial School, Mimico, on the 7th December.

This institution is planned on the cottage system, and is well situated on fifty acres of good tillable land. There are in all six cottages, five of which accommodate forty boys each and the other twenty-five boys. There is a commodious schoolhouse containing two large school rooms and cloak-rooms on the first floor, and a large assembly hall on the second floor where concerts, lectures, etc., are held from time to time.

In the basement are store-rooms for vegetables, coal vaults, etc.

Another large building is used for offices, private rooms for the officers, library, associate dining-room for the boys and officers dining-rooms, pantries, kitchens, bakery, sculleries, etc.

The officers' bedrooms are on the second flat.

There is also another building used for workshops, supplied with a large boiler for heating the building, and a small engine for driving the machinery. A hand fire engine is kept in this building.

The industries carried on are shoemaking, tailoring, carpentering, wood-turning, etc., and excellent work was being done in each of these departments.

In this building there is also a small printing office in which the boys are instructed in type-setting and other work in connection with the business, and a very creditable little paper is issued weekly. There is a small building occupied entirely by boys engaged in knitting. They do all the knitting for the institution as well as some for sale.

The boys reside in the cottages with the exception of the hours they are at work and when taking their meals in the associate dining-room previously mentioned. They spend their evenings in their cottages and are there instructed in home work by the teachers and instructors who have charge of them. They are supplied with writing material and books for their studies.

In each cottage there is a general sitting and reading room in which the boys congregate after supper in order to pursue their studies. They attend religious services night and morning for half an hour, each service being presided over by the officers of the respective cottages. Two officers, a male and female, reside in each cottage.

The male officers act as instructors or in some other capacity during the day and the female officers take special charge of the work of the cottages, giving instructions to the boys in house-work, cleaning, etc.

There is an infirmary in the upper flat of cottage No. 3 where all who are sick from time to time are cared for by a practical nurse who is employed by the year.

Each cottage has its bath-room, play-room, sewing or work-room; and in the upper storey are dormitories for the inmates.

There was no sickness among the boys on this occasion, and only one death has occurred during the past year.

The resident officers are the superintendent, secretary, two teachers (male and female), one chief matron who supervises the under officers and servants and attends to the clothing, etc., one lady relieving officer to assist her, a foreman printer, a knitting instructor, a female superintendent of the bakery, a foreman tailor instructor, a foreman shoemaker instructor, two women in the kitchen, and one in the dining-room, a carpenter instructor, an engineer and assistant, a florist and two farmers (single men.)

The superintendent has a separate house, and there is a good farm-house. All the buildings are constructed of brick.

There is a good barn with stables in the basement, and a drive-house built of wood; also, a conservatory and ice-house. Well water is the only supply at present, and coal oil is used for lighting. The buildings are heated by a combination system of hot air and steam.

The present accommodation is for 200 boys, and 25 more can be provided for by furnishing a building which is available when required.

I found every department of the institution in good order, clean and well-kept.

In cottage No. 1 there were 36 boys from nine to sixteen years of age. I examined the committals in each case and found all correct. In cottage No. 2 there were 40 boys, with proper committals and registration.

The same remarks apply to cottage No. 3 with 40 boys, cottage No. 4 with 40 boys, and cottage No. 5 with 40 boys. There was a committal for each boy excepting a lad named Harold Leech from Picton, who was sent to the Institution by an aunt and she pays in full for his maintenance.

However, papers are to be forwarded by the Police Magistrate at Picton, in this case. The boy was admitted on the 11th October. There are now 196 boys in residence.

The routine of the inmates is as follows: Rise at 6.30 a.m. and retire at 8.30 p.m. Breakfast 7.30 to 8.00, dinner 12.25 to 12.50 p.m. Supper 5.30 to 6 p.m. 15 minutes are allowed for recreation or play in the morning about 9 o'clock, and at 10.30 there is another 15 minutes' recess. From 12, noon, to 1.30 is for dinner and play. Again there is a recess from 2.45 to 3 o'clock p.m., and from 5 o'clock to 6.30 p.m.

They are in their cottages at 6 p.m. Half of the boys attend school every day from 9.00 a.m. to 12.00, noon, and the other half from 1.30 p.m. to 4 p.m., alternately. The half not attending school is engaged in the several occupations in the carpenter shop, shoe shop, tailor shop, knitting room, printing office, dining room, kitchen, bakery, laundry, and farm work.

A few of the boys who are particularly adapted to the trade they are learning are devoting their full time thereto, and do not attend the school classes, the object being to fit them for earning a livelihood at their trade upon leaving the Institution.

On Sunday the boys attend church once a day. They are divided into three groups and attend the Presbyterian, Methodist and English Churches. They have Sunday School in the assembly room of the Institution from 3.00 to 4.00 p.m.

All the boys appear to be contented and happy, and doing well. I was pleased to hear from the superintendent that over 80 per cent. of the boys who leave the Institution become good citizens.

Two teachers are supplied by the Toronto Board of Education. There is no stated annual inspection by an official Inspector of Schools.

Friends and municipalities who send boys to the Institution are compelled to pay $2.00 per week for their maintenance.

The boys do all the work about the Institution and grounds under the supervision of instructors, making all their own clothing, and doing their washing, cooking, house-cleaning, etc. When their term expires places are found for them, or they go back to their friends or parents, as the case may be. The majority of those who have left the Institution have had homes provided for them among the agricultural classes.

The live stock upon the Institution farm comprises 4 horses, 14 cows, and 30 pigs, and there is a good outfit of agricultural appliances, carriages, etc.

A gymnasium is to be built, and brick for that purpose is being delivered upon the ground. This will be a great advantage in the physical training of the boys.

The boys are taught to play musical instruments, and they have a very good band.

The sanitary condition of the building was satisfactory. Dry-earth closets are used and are situated on the grounds convenient to the buildings.

There is good drainage.

I examined the various books of record and found them well kept, and the management seemed to me to be good, under the superintendence of Mr. Thos. Hassard.

As there are only two officers in each of the dormitories, a matron and an instructor, and the instructor's time being occupied through the day it would appear that from the time the boys retire in the evening until they rise in the morning there is no supervision over them—namely, from 9.00 p. m. till 6.00 a. m. I am of opinion that where so many boys are together at night it is necessary to have a night-watch whose duty it would be to visit the dormitories at intervals of not longer than five or ten minutes.

CENTRAL PRISON.

The most noticeable feature in the Report for the year is the distinct increase in the number of committals to the Prison, and in the average daily population. The number of committals in 1892 and 1893 were 630, while during 1893 and 1894 they have been 741, showing an increase of 111.

For the year ending 30th September, 1894, the daily gross cost of maintenance for each inmate has been 44.81, as compared with 51.39, the cost of the previous year, the reduction to be attributed in part to the larger average population, the reduced expenditure for fuel and for the staple food supplies. The aggregate cost of maintenance for the year is $61,129.17, against $59,839.07 the year before, being an excess of $1,290.10, while the average prison population is 59 greater than in the previous year.

The net earnings in the industries are $11,031.76, against $19,896.14 the preceding year, and the net cost of maintenance per capita per annum is $131.25, as compared with $125.21 for 1893.

The subjoined tabulated statement shows the result of the industrial operations of the Prison for the year.

All industries show increased earnings except the woodenware carried on in the north shop which shows a loss of $8,556.50. The deficit is a comparatively large one, and to some extent no doubt may be accounted for by the damage to the stock saved from the fire of the previous year being greater than was allowed for in the stocktaking at the close of that year. It cannot be claimed, however, that this accounts for any very large portion of the loss, and a further portion may be attributed to the drawback in starting new machinery, which is almost invariably attended with expense and loss of time before it is finally adjusted and fitted to do properly the work required of it. But after making these allowances there is still a loss which can only be explained by a lack of skilled and experienced management. This had become so apparent that a change was determined upon and carried into effect in the month of August last, since which time the working of the business has been much more satisfactory. To test the efficiency of the present management stocktaking was again ordered on the 31st December, 1894, before the closing of this report, when it was shown that for the three months ending at that date, instead of a continued loss there had been a large gain, and such as to give promise that this industry will prove, under competent management, a highly satisfactory and profitable one. In the cordage industry there were unfortunately a number of mishaps to the pulleys and shafting, which caused a stoppage of the machinery and limited the actual running time to less than ten months in the year. As there are a number of fixed charges in connection with the running of the plant, these, together with the cost of such extensive repairs, have to some extent increased the operating expenses out of proportion to the quantity of the product and to a corresponding extent diminished the gain made in this department. The productive industries of the prison are subject to the same influences that other enterprises are, and the results of the year are such as to give encouragement that they may be made to contribute in a much larger degree to its maintenance. It must ever be recognized that one of the chief obstacles to obtaining large results in productive labor in the prison is the shortness of the average time of sentence, which for the last year does not exceed 7 2-5 months per prisoner. It is not, however, the sole aim to make the labor of the prisoner provide for his maintenance, but rather to combine instruction with production, and without crushing his spirit by making prison life harsh and oppressive, to so direct his labor as to invest him to the fullest extent practicable with an education in the use of his hands, with the way of acquiring a trade, with self control, with elevation of mind and all the essentials to equip him to maintain himself as a good citizen when he shall be restored to society.

UNEMPLOYED PRISONERS.

With the recent reorganization of the industries, the introduction of new ones, with the increase of 59 to the average prison population for the year, and before the industries have had time to become rooted in conditions to sustain them with a vigor to safely admit of their expansion, it has been found impracticable to give employment to all who are capable of active physical labor. The result has been that a considerable percentage of idle prisoners has been scattered in the several workshops amongst the employed, solely that they may be under the supervision of a guard. This in turn has had the effect of inducing a disposition to idleness amongst the employed, and to this extent the industries have been deprived of the essential element of success. The personal effect on the prisoners is likewise bad because it retards in them the growth of industrious habits and self reliance which it is the object of prison discipline and management to instil. It is therefore important that employment should be provided for all prisoners, and it is as desirable as important that this should be done without multiplying industries that require expensive plant to install and high-class expert skill to manage them. With this end in view it is advisable to equip the cordage shop with spinning and rope machinery equal to the capacity of the present preparing machinery that employment may be given to a number of men with no additional expense other than the cost of putting the machinery in place. Binder twine and rope, so far as our present range of knowledge extends, must continue to be manufactured from fibre suited to the machinery now in use, and are as certain of a constant demand as that agriculture shall continue to flourish and produce crops of grain to be harvested. This industry therefore has the important element of permanency which is a feature to recommend it, and may safely be extended within the limit specified.

The north shop and also the machine shop may admit of some additional men being employed, and eventually it may be found possible to give work to all in the industries already established.

NEW HOUSES.

The two new houses on the Prison premises have been completed and are now occupied by the Bursar and storekeeper, so that these officers are within convenient call for any of the purposes or emergencies of the Prison that may at any hour require their attention or demand their assistance.

PIGGERY.

The new piggery which it was proposed to erect upon the Prison premises was forbidden, by the City Health Department, to be erected within the city limits, and it was therefore necessary to find a location for it outside the city. This has been done, and the building is now erected at the Humber and occupied. The refuse from the Queen street Asylum, Central Prison, and Mercer Reformatory, are delivered there and turned to profitable account, whereas it had previously been an almost absolute waste, because pigs to consume it were not permitted to be kept on the premises.

HEATING OF WORKSHOPS.

The heating of all workshops, over one million cubic feet of space, is now most successfully accomplished, and never so comfortably, by using the exhaust steam from the engines which supply power to the machinery, and at a very large saving in the cost of fuel.

PRISON ENLARGEMENT.

Attention is directed to the report of the Warden, wherein he urges the construction of an addition to the Prison to relieve the overcrowding and the pernicious effects of doubling in the cells. If the overcrowding were likely to be the permanent condition of the Prison, the necessity for something being done in the way of structural changes to provide enlarged accommodation, would be of pressing urgency, but the point that may well be considered in this connection is, whether all who are now within the Prison are where it is most fitting they should be confined and maintained. When it is remembered that one-sixth of the entire commitments for the year are for vagrancy, it is pertinent, before enlarging the Prison to relieve the overcrowding, to consider if it is not the Prison that should be relieved of the vagrants confined in it for no crime than that of having in the hard conditions of life become stranded, and ceased longer to struggle to make themselves useful in the world. It is most painful to reflect that this class instead of receiving a treatment calculated to rekindle afresh the hope and confidence in a useful future for their lengthened days, should have their misfortunes made almost irretrievable by being consigned to a criminal's lot behind prison bars, and to bear the double misfortune of a criminal stain whenever they shall be discharged from the Prison gates to renew the struggle of life, to them before so hopeless, but now in utter despair. With the provision already made for the indigent class by a considerable number of the counties of the province, and which every year additional counties are providing, it is a serious problem whether vagrants whose records are free from crime, instead of being sent to the Central Prison might not in some way be provided for in houses of refuge where their labor can be employed in cultivating the land attached to them and made to contribute in a larger measure to their maintenance and comfort than it is now possible it can do at the Prison. Were they removed from the Prison there would be very little overcrowding to complain of, and the management would be able to labor more effectively for the reformation of the criminals within its walls. The projected Dominion Reformatory at Alexandria, whenever it shall be built, may be expected to divert from the Central Prison, a portion of those who now find their way there, and it is possible the needed relief may come from this quarter. Over 62 per cent. of all the commitments for the year were of the age of 30 years and under, and as it is from this class the candidates for that Institution are to be drawn, it would be prudent to await the results of its completion, if that should appear to be within a reasonable distance of time, before incurring a large expenditure for an extension to the Prison. The erection of a drill hall and the providing facilities for imparting trades and technical instruction to prisoners, referred to in the Warden's report, may also well await the same event.

HEATING AND VENTILATING CELL BLOCKS.

The present heating boilers and steam pipes for heating the cell blocks are worn out, and will require to be renewed before the close of another year. The system of heating the cell blocks by direct radiation has been attended, not only with a widely varying temperature in the upper and lower tiers of cells but also with difficulty in the ventilation necessary to maintain them in a condition of sanitation. It has only been possible to overcome the defective ventilation by throwing open the windows to let in fresh air, and turning a full flow of steam into the heating pipes to keep up the temperature, no doubt a very necessary, but as regards fuel, a wasteful practice. I regard it as practicable to so remodel the system that the surplus exhaust steam from the engines after heating the workshops shall be utilized to heat the cell blocks during the hours the industries are in operation and without extra cost for fuel. The heating boilers in this case would be used to heat the cell blocks only when the industries are not running, and in combination with the system effective ventilation would likewise be secured.

The Prison has been kept clean and orderly and all buildings and structures in good repair. The provisions supplied have been of good quality, and no complaints have been made of the cooking. The general conduct of the prisoners has been good, and punishment of a severe nature has been exceptional. The Sunday and night-school services have been conducted with zeal and efficiency, while the Prisoner's Aid Association and the Helping Hand have been equally faithful in attending to the moral and material welfare of discharged prisoners. The most generous acknowledgements are due to those engaged in this good work, as set out in the respective reports of the officers of these philanthropic organizations.

JAMES NOXON,
Inspector.

REPORT OF WARDEN.

TORONTO, February 1st, 1895.

James Noxon, Esq., Inspector of Central Prison, Toronto :

SIR,—In submitting the twenty-first annual statistical report of the Central Prison, I shall but briefly refer to some extensions, which, for a number of years, I have thought desirable for the improvement and more effectual carrying on of the work of the prison in its twofold object of punitory and reformation, and which has become more pressing as new conditions arise. First, in the enlargement of cell space. The total number of cells in the two blocks is 336. The prisoners at this date number 415. If the 28 cells in the basement of the main building are added to the two blocks, the number would be 364, but is not intended that well behaved prisoners should be confined in them; with these all occupied as at present, there are still 51 doubled in the cells in the two blocks. It is unnecessary to repeat what has so often been said about the serious evils of doubling, evils so well understood by all engaged in prison work. By all prison reformers it is condemned, and no excuse can be offered for its continuance but insufficient accommodation for the number of prisoners to be provided for. When it is fully realized what the placing of two criminals in association in one cell during the night and at all times when not in the workshops, means, with only such supervision as one guard on patrol can give, be he ever so efficient, with facilities for practices which it is indelicate to particularize, the urgency for enlargement can be understood. To maintain that degree of order and good conduct, which is essential to proper discipline at all times, not only during cell confinement, but also in the workshops, where the conduct in the cell is reflected, is an impossibility under existing circumstances, and so soon as it is possible sufficient cells for all prisoners, to have only one in each should be furnished.

During the last winter there was insufficient employment for all the prisoners held, and in consequence they were placed in the shops where they were in some respects a detriment to carrying on the work; this winter there is an even larger excess of men for whom there is not enough employment at the several industries and domestic work, who have to be placed in the shops to be under the supervision of the guards. Until from the industries, work can be found for all, it is desirable to provide accommodation for placing them under a military form of drill. To do this there is ample space in what we call the hospital yard, of about three acres, I would again recommend that the brick wall be extended round the property to the west of the prison, and a building, capable of drilling from two to three hundred men, and of introducing to a limited extent, a trades school for technical instruction, so that all the surplus men not required in the shops, can be kept busy at some exercise which would be beneficial to them, both in their physical and mental development. We have the brick, the sand and men required to do all the work, so that the only outlay in money would be for the lime.

Then there exists great need for a limited number of cells for the separation of a class of men, who should not be placed in the workshops, nor at any time allowed to mingle with others; about twenty would be sufficient, they should be of a size sufficient to admit of keeping the inmate at work. The system upon which the British prisons are built is admirably suited for this purpose, being roomy and well ventilated. Were this provided, with sufficient cell space to avoid the necessity of doubling, and suitable buildings furnished for drill and technical instruction, the efficiency of the prison would be materially increased. It has been the purpose of the management heretofore that all confined within the prison should work diligently, since work is an essential to good health and discipline, and specially conducive to reformation.

The several industrial pursuits, combined with the evening school, and the religious services have a healthful influence upon the prisoners while the care bestowed upon their dietary and clothing, and the strictest attention given to cleanliness in their persons and of the premises, is productive of the general good health among them, as verified by the surgeon's report, which shows how few had to be cared for in the hospital during the year.

Mr. Hamilton Cassels has for upwards of seventeen years superintended the Sunday school, and when I mention the long time he has with unbroken regularity, except an occasional short holiday, come to conduct the services, in all sorts of weather, and at all seasons of the year, it will be understood in some measure at least to what an extent his devotion and self-sacrifice has exerted an influence for good upon the prisoners. Respected and esteemed by the inmates of the prison, and loved by his staff of teachers, his devotion to this branch of the prison work commands our love and commendation, and of all who know him personally, or hear what, for so long a period he has done.

It is due that I acknowledge the unceasing efforts of the Rev. Father Walsh among his portion of the prisoners; coming as he does every Monday and Saturday evening and on Sunday morning, to minister to their spiritual wants, taking upon himself in large measure the blame for any misconduct among them, individually or collectively, it can be understood to what an extent he exercises authority for good upon them, and the invaluable assistance he renders to myself in the maintenance of good order. It affords me much pleasure to testify to the healthy effects of his ministrations to the prisoners, and to the friendship and esteem in which he is held by all the officers of the prison.

To the assistant teachers in the Sunday school and the clergymen who have taken part in the religious services, I give my sincere thanks. It is invigorating and hopeful to meet every Sunday morning a number of zealous men, who often at much personal inconvenience come to teach and exemplify the true principles of life, and bring from the Master his message of forgiveness and love.

I thank all associated with me in the management, and specially those who by their example of fidelity to their duties, by diligence and firmness tempered with kindness, exercise so much influence for good upon the men placed under their charge.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JAS. MASSIE,

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Inspector of Asylums, Prisons, etc., for Ontario, Toronto.

SIR,—I have the honor to present my report upon the Central Prison Sunday school for the year ending the 30th of September, 1894.

It is with satisfaction that I am able to state that the teaching staff has continued to be of adequate force to meet all the requirements of the work without interruption of any kind during the year. There has been an average attendance of teachers of 27 and an average attendance of men of 214. During the first three months of 1894 the average number of men in attendance was considerably in excess of that during any other portion of the year, but I regret to say that there has not been since that time so great a diminution of the number of scholars as we have experienced in other years. No doubt this will appear in fuller detail in the other reports connected with the Prison, but it has been quite noticeable in connection with our Sunday school as well.

We have, as always heretofore, received courteous and helpful treatment at the hands of the warden, deputy warden, serjeant and other officers of the Prison, and we desire to take this opportunity of returning to them our thanks for their courtesies.

It has also been a pleasure to find the priest in charge of the Roman Catholic inmates ready to co-operate with us in our work and to manifest that spirit of Christian unity which is so earnestly desired among the churches, and which cannot fail to have a beneficial influence upon the men incarcerated in the prison.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

HAMILTON CASSELS,

REPORT OF THE PRISONERS' AID ASSOCIATION.

To the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities of Ontario.

SIR,—I have the honor to present to you the following report of the different departments of work, under the supervision of the Prisoners' Aid Association of Canada in Toronto.

The following is a summary of practical work of the Association for twelve months ending September 30th, 1894 :

Total number discharged from city prisons, Toronto .....	1,931
The number assisted by the Association .....	457
Meals and lodging provided for.....	229
Articles of clothing given to.....	222
Employment for .....	120
Assisted with tools .....	6
Railway fares to homes or where employment could be found	21
Families of prisoners given provisions .....	25
Rent paid for .....	1
Loans to discharged prisoners .....	$26 09

The agent and Bible woman have made 556 visits to the prisoners, and 1,320 visits outside in the interests of the prisoners and their families, and 260 visits to the Police Court, and have had 2,657 personal talks with prisoners.

As heretofore, a preaching service is conducted once a week at the Central Prison, and twice a week at the Woman's Reformatory, by the Toronto Ministerial Association. With a view of preventing any disappointment in these services a telephone has been placed in the house of Mr. Robert Hall, city missionary, and he now supplies the service when necessary. The night-school in the Central Prison is now conducted four nights a week, and we look upon this as a very important factor in the means used by our Association for giving the prisoner a fresh start in life.

Perhaps we may be allowed this opportunity for saying that the experience of the past twenty years has convinced us that our system of religious instruction, combined with the means we employ for giving the discharged prisoner a helping hand, is very much superior to the plan of employing a paid prison chaplain.

Respectfully,

S. H. BLAKE,
President.

A. M. ROSEBRUGH,
Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SURGEON OF THE CENTRAL PRISON
FOR YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30TH, 1894.

SIR.—During the year the general health of the prisoners has been excellent.

We had, as usual, many cases of insanity. Some of these were insane when formerly in the Central Prison. These cases of insanity are very demoralizing, when in the same building with the sane prisoners, shouting and singing at night—rattling anything in their cells that will make a noise—throwing the contents of their buckets into the passageway, fouling the atmosphere, and thus making more difficult the management of the other prisoners, many of whom are not very evenly balanced. There is really great necessity for a detached building, in which the noisy, whether sane or insane could be placed; and when this building is erected, it is hoped on sanitary grounds that the basement cells will be avoided, so that the interior of all cells can from time to time be flushed with sunlight. The opening of the new asylum in Brockville should relieve our prison of all insane. I have always entertained the view that just as soon as a clear diagnosis of insanity is made out, it is only right to the afflicted one, right to the Institution, and right to the country that he should be sent to an asylum, and not turned loose, at the expiration of his sentence, on society, a weak and maybe a dangerous man. Does life in the Central Prison tend to develop insanity? On the other hand abundance of excellent food, abundance of pure air, quiet and plentiful sleep, regularity of hours, discontinuance of liquor and tobacco, cleanliness, sufficient but not excessive exercise, and increase of flesh all tend to develop health; though it may be charged that this very increase of vigor without a corresponding increase of morality, with an absence of free conversation, and the unavoidable solitary cell life during the long evenings, Sabbaths and holidays, tends to promote secret vice in the full blood of adolescence and early manhood.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS,
TORONTO, December, 1894.

To the Honorable GEORGE AIREY KIRKPATRICK, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOR:

I beg to submit herewith the Twenty-fifth Annual Report upon the Houses of Refuge and the Orphan and Magdalen Asylums for the official year ending on the 30th September, 1894.

I have the honor to be,
Your Honor's most obedient servant,

T. F. CHAMBERLAIN,
Inspector.

This class of institutions, which provide shelter, food, clothing, care and comfort for the aged and for infants, are all doing good work. They are well managed and deserve the best consideration of all classes of our citizens. The refuges and orphanages of this province are the most deserving of our charitable institutions.

In the orphanages teachers are provided by the public and separate school boards of education for instructing the children in most of the branches taught in our public schools. There appears to be no difficulty in finding suitable homes for the children of the orphanages as soon as they are fitted for going out.

During the past year these homes have been improved by the erection of new additions, and new furniture, libraries, school-room appliances, improved heating, lighting, plumbing and sewerage.

The ladies who are engaged in providing for these institutions and in supplying the wants of the inmates, deserve the sympathy and liberal assistance of all true and loyal citizens.

The particulars as to name and location of each institution, the number of inmates, condition of buildings and grounds, and the work done, will be found in the following tables, together with the reports taken from the minutes made of my inspections during the year, the cost of maintenance, the amounts contributed by bequests, subscriptions, etc., the amount contributed by the government, the nationality, religion, places of previous residence, days' stay in the institutions, etc.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I made an inspection of the House of Industry, Toronto, on the 15th June.

An examination of the register showed that since the 30th September last, 39 persons had been admitted, 26 discharged, and 6 had died.

On the present date there were 101 inmates—71 men and 30 women—nearly all old people. Only two or three contribute anything towards their maintenance.

The Institution is supported by grants from the city and the Government, and subscriptions and donations from citizens.

The city grant, amounting to $16,000, goes wholly to the casual or outdoor poor. The cost per inmate is about 19 cents per day. 2,300 families were assisted during last year.

All departments were clean and in good order, including dormitories, water-closets, bath-rooms, etc. The building is well heated and lighted; good ventilation and drainage; supplied with city water. The books were properly entered up, and the management is commendable.

I beg to call the attention of the board of management to the necessity for more storeroom accommodation; the present room is quite inadequate and not at all suitable for the purpose.

I made an inspection of this Institution on the 26th November.

On that day there were in residence 72 males and 32 females, all of whom appeared to be proper inmates for such an Institution.

It is contemplated to enlarge the building on account of its present crowded state.

An important feature of the work of this Charity is the relief afforded to the "outdoor poor" and the "casual poor." In the former case the necessities of over two thousand families were provided for; and the large number of 31,930 meals were supplied to "casuals" during the year.

The building was scrupulously clean in all departments, and the records were neatly and correctly kept.

INSPECTIONS.

I visited this Institution on the 4th April, and found 136 adult males, 221 adult females and 39 children, making a total population of 396. One hundred and ninety-two of the adults were inmates of the incurable ward. Forty deaths occurred during the year.

All the departments were clean and in good order and the books well kept.

An addition to the south side of the building is contemplated in order to provide more accommodation for the old people.

I visited this Institution on the 25th September, when there were 377 inmates, namely, 119 men, 224 women, and 34 infants.

I found no change in the buildings or premises since my last inspection. All departments were clean and in good order and the books properly kept. The infants are cared for in this Institution until they are three years of age, when they are taken to the Home at Sunnyside.

On this occasion I inspected the plans of the new wing that is about to be erected in connection with the House of Providence.

INSPECTIONS.

A visit was made by me to this Home on the 14th July.

There were then 116 inmates, 55 males and 61 females.

The register showed that 39 had been admitted since the 1st October, and 22 had died.

I found no change in the building or premises since my last visit. All the apartments, private rooms, dining-rooms, sitting-rooms, library, etc., were clean and in good order, and the same may be said of the laundry, kitchen, bath-rooms and water-closets. There is a resident surgeon, and a good medical and nursing staff. The books were entered up to date.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make the second inspection of this Institution, he reported as follows:

I made an inspection of the Home for Incurables, Toronto, on the 30th October. The record showed that there were 56 men and 64 women in residence on that day. In the absence of the matron and her assistant, I was shown over the building by the resident doctor, and found it in satisfactory order in all respects.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I visited the Aged Women's Home, Toronto, on the 17th February. This Charity is now comfortably settled in its new building on the premises of the old Home, as described in the report of my last inspection.

There were 29 old ladies in residence on this occasion, and there is accommodation for 40.

The building is well supplied with modern conveniences, bath-rooms, water-closets, etc. All the rooms were clean and in good order. This Home is under the same management as the Industrial Refuge. The books were well kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make the second inspection of this Institution, he reported as follows:

I made an inspection of the Aged Women's Home, Toronto, on the 5th November, and found that there were 33 inmates on that day, all of whom were apparently proper subjects for the care of such an Institution. Besides the matron, there are two nurses and three servants.

The Home was in excellent condition in all respects.

INSPECTIONS.

I visited the St. John's Hospital, Toronto, on the 14th July. There were 23 patients, all adult females.

The number admitted since the 1st October was 208, and during the same period there were 12 deaths.

The public wards, private rooms, dispensary, operating room, dining rooms, sitting rooms, kitchens, bath-rooms and water closets were in an excellent state of cleanliness and order.

In the basement are the laundry, servants' bedrooms and mission room, where clothing is kept for distribution among the poor during the winter. The furnace room is also in the basement. The building is heated with hot water, lighted by gas, and supplied with city water. Since my last inspection a new verandah has been erected, and some painting done. The books were entered up to date.

I made an inspection of the St. John's Hospital, Toronto, on the 17th November, when there were 33 female patients under treatment.

The building was in good condition from basement to attic.

During the year 264 cases were treated, and there were fifteen deaths. The average stay of patients was thirty days. There is a good staff of nurses and medical attendants. The books are well kept.

INSPECTIONS.

I inspected the Convalescent Home, Toronto, on the 17th February.

The public wards and private rooms were clean and in good order. The dining-rooms, bath-rooms, wash-rooms and water-closets were also clean and well kept. The building is heated with hot water and lighted with coal oil. Well water is in use.

There were 25 patients on this date—12 men and 13 women. There have been 83 patients received since the 1st October and no deaths. Most of the inmates are convalescing patients from the general hospitals, who come here to regain their strength before going out to work.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make the second inspection of this Home. He reported as follows :

I visited the Convalescent Home, Toronto, on the 28th November.

There were thirteen persons—seven males and six females—in residence on that day.

Every part of the building was seen, and found to be clean and in good order. The sanitary condition of the premises has been improved by connecting the drainage system with the city sewers.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Home. He reported as follows :

I visited the Church Home, Toronto, on the 29th October, when there were twenty-four inmates, namely, ten men and fourteen women. There has only been one death among the old people since they moved into their new building, eighteen months ago.

The majority of the inmates pay a little towards their maintenance. The apartments were found to be in neat order, and the comfort of the old people well provided for.

I made an inspection of the House of Refuge, Hamilton. There were then 107 inmates—67 men, 38 women and 1 child.

They are well cared for and made as comfortable as the condition of the building will admit of. The structure is very dilapidated and entirely unfit for occupancy in its present state. The books were properly kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make a second inspection of this Refuge. He reported as follows:

As instructed by you I made an inspection of the House of Refuge, Hamilton, on the 24th August. I am glad to be able to report that the erection of a new House of Refuge is now under way, ground having recently been broken for the necessary excavation on the land adjoining the old building. The present accommodation is very inadequate in every respect. Many of the rooms contain two and three beds more than were originally allotted to them. The inmates appeared to be well cared for, and the House was in as good order as its condition would admit of.

There were 58 men, 32 women and 2 children in residence on the day of my visit. A few of the inmates contribute towards their support. The books were properly kept.

I made an inspection of the Home for Aged Women, Hamilton, on the 3rd March. There were 24 old people in the Home on that day. During the winter there was considerable sickness among them, and one died.

The building generally was in good order. The books were properly kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make a second inspection of this Home. He reported as follows:

I beg to report that, as directed, I made an inspection of the Home for Aged Women, Hamilton, on the 25th August.

The register showed that there were twenty-five women in residence. Three of them were confined to bed by illness.

The building was in its usual condition of good order. Coal oil lamps are used for lighting. The books were entered up to date.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the St. Peter's Home, Hamilton, on the 3rd March, when there were twenty inmates, six males and fourteen females. Some of these are more properly subjects for the Refuge and should be removed to that Institution.

Unless this is done the Home will have to be placed upon the list of charities receiving aid under schedule B.

I found all the apartments clean and in good order; but the books are not as well kept as they should be.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make a second inspection of this Home, he reported as follows:

In accordance with your instructions I visited the St. Peter's Home, Hamilton, on the 24th August.

There were twenty-two inmates on that day, eight males and fourteen females. The home is pleasantly situated just outside the city limits, and is surrounded by extensive grounds which are laid out in garden, orchard, etc. The building was in good order throughout, and the inmates appeared to be well cared for.

INSPECTIONS.

On the 31st March I made an inspection of this Institution.

The number of inmates was 55, 34 males and 21 females.

The building has been renovated and painted, and presents a much pleasanter appearance.

All departments were clean and in good order. Stoves are used for heating and the lighting is by coal oil; city water is supplied.

Since my last visit the superintendent's wife (acting matron) has died, and he (the superintendent) has been very ill. He is now recovering and expects to resume his duties soon. The management is good, and the books properly kept.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I visited the House of Providence, Kingston, on the 31st March.

The population of the Home was 121 persons, of whom 59 were males and 62 females.

The dormitories, dining-rooms, sitting-rooms, wash-rooms, bath-rooms, water closets, laundry, etc., were clean and in good order.

The management is very satisfactory and the books are well kept.

INSPECTIONS.

This Institution was inspected by me on the 25th January. There were 56 old people in residence, 22 men and 34 women. They are comfortably provided for, having good rooms, clothing and food. All the apartments were in neat order, and the books properly entered up.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make a second inspection of this Refuge. He reported as follows :

The inspection of the Roman Catholic House of Refuge, London, was made by me on July 30th. Twenty adult males and thirty-seven females were then being cared for. The Institution is kept in very fair order, considering the unfortunate class of inmates. The beds and bedding looked clean and orderly, as also were the yards and outbuildings. The managers say they have had a hard year, a large attendance, limited accommodation, and limited means. The building and furnishing of the new hospital across the road, together with the withdrawal of the city grant has contributed toward this end ; nevertheless by dint of the strictest economy and management, they have not been obliged to turn any away. It was washing day when I visited the Refuge, when some disorder might have been expected ; but on going through the laundry and other apartments, I found nothing to criticize.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the Home for Aged People, London, on the 25th January. On that day there were 32 men and 18 women being cared for. There is accommodation for 75.

The sitting-rooms, dining-rooms, bed-rooms, laundry, kitchen, etc., were all in good order. There are bath-rooms and water-closets on each flat. The Home is well furnished throughout.

Since my last visit a new stable and woodshed have been erected and side-walks have been laid. Coal oil is used for lighting the Institution. The books are well kept. The Home is managed by a matron and four servants.

I instructed Mr. Aikins to make the second inspection of this Home. He reported as follows:

I made the second inspection of the Aged People's Home on July 30th. Twenty-six old men and nineteen old women were then in residence. This Institution is some half a mile distant from the city sewer system, and has therefore to depend on the cesspool method of getting rid of its sewerage. The pool is situated in the yard only a few yards from the building, and is emptied by means of a pump. I made an effort to see how the apparatus works when the wind is blowing towards the building, and concluded at once that the cesspool is a menace to the health of the inmates. The stench was abominable. The whole arrangement should be investigated by the Local Board of Health and steps taken to have a proper sewer constructed to the river. The authorities informed me that several times during the past spring the sewerage has backed up into the building and that already over $150 has been expended this summer in cleaning out the pool.

Another matter also that needs attention is the question of fire escapes. The building is very deficient in this respect. Although a new building, it is rapidly beginning to look as though it would fall to pieces. Great cracks appear in the walls and stairways, and the foundation outside looks much the same way. The management and bookkeeping I found very satisfactory.

INSPECTIONS.

I visited the Convalescent Home, London, on the 25th January, when I found four males and one female in residence.

All the rooms were clean and in good order. The inmates of this Institution are received from the hospitals, and remain until sufficiently strong to resume their usual avocations.

The building is lighted with coal oil and supplied with city water. The city gives a small yearly grant. A committee of ladies look after the management. The books were properly kept.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make a second inspection of this Home. He reported as follows:

The Convalescent Home in London is situated in rather an unfavorable locality for its particular class of inmates. It is too close to the railway tracks. It purposes to do a work that cannot be done so well in a hospital or in a home for incurables, and from what I could learn from the lady in charge it is doing it well. They have a perfect system of admissions so that all applications can be first considered as to their suitability. On the day of my inspection, July 30th, there were four males and one female patient in the building. There is accommodation for fourteen in all. Like many of the other city charities, the managers express their dissatisfaction with the way they have been treated by the council this year. The Convalescent Home declare they feel it the more because all their patients are free. I made a tour of the building, and examined the rooms and books, and found the latter in fair order, one or two entries not having been made.

INSPECTIONS.

On the 7th February I made an official visit to this Institution.

It is a good brick building, heated with hot-water, supplied with city water, and lighted with coal oil.

All the rooms were neat and clean, and the old people (mostly French) appeared to be very comfortable. There were 80 inmates on this date, namely, 26 men and 54 women. The books were properly kept.

I inspected the St. Charles' Hospice, Ottawa, on the 9th October, when there were 84 old people being cared for, namely, 26 men and 58 women.

The house was in its usual condition of good order. The chapel has been enlarged and some other improvements made in the building, during the season.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the Home for the Aged, Ottawa, on the 9th February, when there were 34 old men in residence. No deaths have occurred during the year.

The Home was in a satisfactory state of cleanliness and order.

I found no change to record in the building or grounds since my last visit. It is supplied with electric light, city water, and hot water heating. The bathrooms and water-closets are outside the building. The books are properly kept.

A second inspection of this Home was made by me on the 10th October. The building has been undergoing general repairs during the season, and is now in good order. All departments were in a clean and well kept condition, and gave evidence of good management.

Thirty aged men were being maintained as inmates on this date. Very few of them contribute towards their support.

INSPECTIONS.

I visited the Refuge Branch of the Orphans' Home, Ottawa, on the 8th February. There were twenty old women in residence on that day. I found no change in the Institution since my last visit calling for special comment. This department was in its usual good order, and the books were properly entered up.

I made an inspection of the Refuge Branch of the Orphans' Home, Ottawa, on the 8th October, when eighteen old women were registered as inmates. All their rooms were clean and neatly kept.

This building caught fire in the early part of the season, and considerable damage to it resulted. Its interior has been entirely refitted with new flooring, etc., and new galleries and verandahs have also been built. Additional fire escapes have been erected as well. No lives were lost by the fire. I found the books properly kept.

INSPECTIONS.

This Home was inspected by me on the 9th February. On that date the inmates were 26 adults and 19 infants. There has been no change made in the building since my last visit; it is not very well suited for the purpose for which it is used. Confinements take place in this Home. The management is good, and the books are properly kept.

I made an inspection of the Home for Friendless Women, Ottawa, on the 8th October.

There were then 25 women and 12 children in residence.

There has been no change in the building or premises since my last inspection. Laundry work is the principal employment of the women. Sewing, knitting and mending are also done. All the rooms were clean and in good order.

The Home is managed by a committee of ladies.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I made an inspection of the Refuge of our Lady of Charity, Ottawa, on the 7th February. There were, on that day, 98 inmates, all adult females who are mostly from the criminal and unfortunate classes. They are divided into three grades according to their ability and their stage of crime, and each class is kept separate and distinct from the others. The first or more respectable class are employed at tailoring; the second class are employed at laundry work, and the third class do the general domestic work of the Institution.

All the departments were clean and in good order. The building is heated with hot water and steam.

Homes are found for the inmates so soon as the authorities feel warranted in recommending them. All nationalities and creeds are received on application.

The books were properly entered up and the Institution appeared to be well managed.

I inspected the Orphanage Branch of the Refuge of Our Lady of Charity, Ottawa, on the 7th February. The building in which the children are kept is entirely separate from the adult department; although upon the same premises a separate building is provided.

There were 24 children under charge at the time of my visit, ranging from 2 to 14 years of age. The older ones attend school daily in the building, and a common education in French and English is imparted to them. Two teachers are employed.

The children are also taught sewing, housework, etc., and homes are found for them as opportunity offers. The teachers in charge live in the building with the children.

This Institution was inspected by me, the second time for the current year, on the 9th October. The inmates on that day numbered 135, namely, 113 adults, and 22 children under 12 years.

The building was in a well kept condition in every part, and the industrial work, bookbinding, tailoring and laundry work was being carried on satisfactorily.

INSPECTIONS.

This Institution was inspected by me on the 22nd January. There were 21 men and 17 women in residence. The majority of them occupy the third flat of the building; a few are domiciled in a separate stone building on the premises. They all take their meals in the dining hall on the first flat. All the different departments were clean and in good order, and indicated good management. The books were well kept.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make the second inspection of this Institution, he reported as follows:

The House of Providence at Guelph was inspected by me on July 23rd, and contained 16 old men and 21 old women, most of whom I saw. The building is much too small to accommodate this number, but several of them sleep in one of the apartments of the hospital adjoining, which is under the same management. This difficulty will be obviated when the new hospital building is completed, which will leave the old premises entirely for the use of the old people. Connected with the two institutions is a farm of between 50 and 60 acres, which serves the double purpose of supplying produce to the inmates and giving employment to as many of the old men and women as can work. I examined the building and premises, which were found in fair order, but as clean and sanitary as possible. The books also showed care and accuracy in their keeping.

INSPECTIONS.

On the 26th January I inspected this Institution. The number of inmates was 24—6 men, 15 women and 3 children.

Hot water, gas, bath-tubs and water-closets have been put into the building since my last visit.

A furnace for heating the building is very much required, and would render the Home very comfortable and complete.

I made another inspection of this Home on the 27th November, when there were 27 old people in residence—9 men, 14 women and 4 children.

All the rooms were clean and in good order. A number of the old people are sick and helpless. Stoves are still in use for heating the building.

The books are well kept.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the House of Providence, Dundas, on the 3rd March. There were then in residence 52 male and 64 female adults, and 61 boys, making a total of 177. Since the 1st October 10 of the old people have died, but there have been no deaths among the children during the past two years.

The boys attend school, and do the general work about the house and premises

The chapel, dormitories, dining-rooms, kitchen, laundry, etc., were in their usual satisfactory state of cleanliness and order.

The books are well kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make the second inspection of this Institution. He reported as follows:

I made an inspection of the House of Providence, Dundas, on the 25th August. There were then in residence 51 male and 68 female adults, and 70 boys, making a total of 189. All the inmates were reported to be in fairly good health. Twelve deaths among the old people have occurred since the beginning of the official year.

The house and grounds were found to be in usual condition.

INSPECTIONS.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make an inspection of this Home. He reported as follows:

I made an inspection of the Home for the Friendless at Chatham on October 6th. This building will accommodate from 25 to 30 inmates, although but 8 old men and 4 old women were in it on the day of my visit. During the past summer there has been a number of deaths, but otherwise nothing has occurred of an unusual nature. I took a tour through the building from basement to top and found it in a very fair condition. The same remarks might be said about the outside. The building is equipped with a bath-tub and other conveniences, but the closets are in the yard. After examining the Institution records I saw that the entries therein gave all the information necessary and that these had been regularly attended to.

INSPECTIONS.

I visited the Widows' Home, Brantford, on the 13th January. There were nine old ladies in residence on that day. Some of them contribute towards their maintenance.

The Home is managed by a committee of ladies, and is supported by the Government grant, donations, etc.

The apartments were all clean and in good order. Bath-rooms and water-closets are in the building.

A new hot water heater has lately been placed in the basement of the building. The lighting is by coal oil lamps. The water supply is from the city system. A new slate roof is to be put on the building in the spring.

The books were properly entered up.

On the 25th October I inspected the Widows' Home, Brantford.

There were the same number in residence as at my last visit.

The Home was in its usual satisfactory state of cleanliness and order in every part. General repairs, painting and cleaning have had due attention.

INSPECTIONS.

The Home for the Friendless, Belleville, was inspected by me on the 21st February. There were seven old people in the Home on that day, as inmates. There is accommodation for nine persons.

They are well provided for. This Institution is under the same board of management as the Hospital, and is attached to that building.

I inspected this Home on the 19th September. There were six inmates—four women and two men. The bed-rooms, sitting-rooms, dining-rooms, water-closets, etc., were all in good order. The old people are well cared for, and apparently comfortable and happy.

I visited the Protestant Home, Peterborough, on the 18th January, and found 9 men, 7 women and 3 children in residence, all of whom appeared to be comfortable and happy.

All the apartments were clean and in good order, and the books were properly kept.

I instructed Mr. Mann to make a second inspection of this Home, he reported as follows :

According to instructions received from the Inspector of Prisons, etc., I visited the Protestant Home, Peterborough, for the purpose of inspection, on the 27th August, 1894. On this occasion there were 17 inmates in residence, viz., 9 males and 8 females, all old people. There has been no change in the premises since the last inspection, and matters were in the usual satisfactory state.

The city drains on the street in front of the building were complained of by the matron.

Books were properly kept.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I made an inspection of the House of Providence, Peterborough, on the 18th January.

There were 25 inmates on that day, namely, 14 men, 10 women and 1 child. A number of the women are domiciled in the third storey of St. Joseph's Hospital which is on the same premises and under the same management.

I believe it is in contemplation to build a new and larger house to be occupied by the old people.

The books were properly kept, and the building was in good order throughout.

I instructed Mr. Mann to make a second inspection of this Institution, he reported as follows :

Agreeable with your instructions I inspected the House of Providence, Peterborough, on the 27th August, 1894, on which occasion there were 21 old people in residence, 8 men and 13 women.

No change has been made to this Home since your last visit, and everything appeared to be in good working order.

INSPECTIONS.

I visited the Old Ladies' Home, Galt, on the 7th June, when there five old people in residence.

This Charity is now in occupation of the new premises provided by the ladies of Galt.

This building is now well fitted up, and supplied with modern improvements. It is heated by hot water furnaces, lighted by gas, and supplied with town water.

The Home was clean and in nice order throughout. All the inmates pay something towards their maintenance.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make a second inspection of this Home. He reported as follows:

I made the second inspection of the Old Ladies' Home, Galt, on October 8th. This is a new building, but evidently some cheap work has been put on it, as I saw in several places cracks in the plaster. The lady in charge thinks the trouble is with the foundation. The building has thirteen beds, but only five old ladies were being cared for on the day of my inspection. Last winter I was informed they burned a ton of coal per week. For the size of the building this is altogether too great a quantity, and would seem to imply that the furnaces were put in to burn coal, rather than to heat the building. The Home, however, is very well adapted to its purpose, and is kept in a neat and clean condition throughout.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the Home for the Friendless, Windsor, on the 7th July. There were then 18 inmates—9 men and 9 women.

The building was painted and renovated this spring, and presented a clean and tidy appearance. All the apartments were in good order, and the records properly kept. The inmates do not pay anything towards their maintenance.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make the second inspection of this Home. He reported as follows:

I visited the Home for the Friendless at Windsor, on October 5th. The building has a much better appearance inside than out, but a coat or two of paint would remedy this. Upon speaking with the authorities on this subject, I learned that they have almost enough funds in hand to build an addition to the premises to be used as an orphanage, and that when this latter is in progress the present Home will be repainted. There were 5 old men and 9 old women being cared for on the day of my inspection, and there is accommodation for about twice that number. The ladies in charge report a very successful year's work, a great deal of it being devoted to outside poor. The daily record I found entered up to end of September.

ORPHAN ASYLUMS.

The following institutions have been added to the list receiving Government aid during the past year :

Rescue Home for Women, London ; Rescue Home for Women, Toronto ; The Children's Shelter, Toronto.

The statistical tables on the following pages of this report show a considerable increase in the contributions to several of the institutions, while in some cases there is a slight falling off as compared with the past year.

The total number of children cared for in the Orphanages during the year was 4,406, as compared with 3,992 in 1893.

In the tables and my minutes of inspection will be found full details of the method of receiving and discharging children, the course of training they receive, their nationality, religion, etc., also the condition of the buildings and grounds.

The statistics relating to the sex, religious denomination and nationalities of the inmates are given in the following summary :

Sex.
Male	-	1,911
Female	-	2,495
		4,406
Religious Denominations.

The receipts of the Institution during the year, including the Government grant of $2,204.34, were $10,979.36, and the expenditures were $11,972.72.

The collective stay of the inmates was 103,236 days, entitling the Institution to receive the sum of $2,064.72 as Government aid for the year 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum, Toronto, on the 1st December.

There were 268 children being cared for, namely, 145 boys and 123 girls. They attend school daily, and three teachers are employed for the class-rooms. When out of school they assist in the laundry work, housekeeping, gardening, etc. They are placed in homes and apprenticed as opportunities occur. The boys, as soon as old enough, are sent to the St. Nicholas' Home, in order to obtain employment in the city.

There was no change to note in the buildings since my last inspection. The grounds have been improved, and new drainage provided leading into the lake.

A shed is being built on the grounds as a shelter for the boys while taking exercise in bad weather.

The dining-rooms, kitchen, laundry, working-rooms, schoolrooms, dormitories, cloak-rooms, play-rooms, nursery, bath-rooms, water-closets, etc., were all in good order. The ventilation and sanitary condition of the building was good. The books were properly entered up.

The receipts of this Institution during the year, including the Government grant of $1,415.92, were $10,423.25, and the expenditures were $8,785.05.

The collective stay of the inmates was 71,611 days, entitling the Institution to receive the sum of $1,432.22 as Government aid for the year 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I inspected the Orphans' Home, Toronto, on the 17th February. The names of 113 boys and 83 girls appeared on the register, making a total of 196 children whose ages were from three to fourteen years. They are taught to do housework, sewing and knitting, and receive the rudiments of an English education. The children were all in good health, and no deaths had been recorded since my last visit. They are placed in homes as opportunities occur.

The dormitories, play-rooms, dining-room, laundry and kitchen were all in good order. The school building is situated conveniently to the main building and is well adapted for school purposes. Five teachers are employed. The buildings are supplied with modern appliances, heated with hot water, and lighted with gas. The books are well kept and the management was good.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Home. A copy of his report is annexed :

I made an inspection of the Orphans' Home, Toronto, on the 27th November. There were then in residence 106 boys and 83 girls, making a total of 189. The children were all in good health, clean and comfortably clothed. Their ages ranged from three years up to twelve. They all attend school in an adjoining building, a kindergarten being provided for the younger ones.

The Home was found to be in a clean and well kept condition in all parts and the well being of the inmates appeared to be a matter of first consideration.

Including the Government grant of $707.74, the revenue of the Asylum during the year amounted to $6,830.34, and the expenditure to $8,065.93.

The collective stay of the inmates was 32,930 days, entitling the Asylum to receive a sum of $658.60 as Government aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I inspected the Girls' Home, Toronto, on the 11th July. There were 94 girls in residence on that day, from two to fourteen years of age. Their general health was reported to be good. They have their own school, for which two teachers are supplied by the School Board.

The school-rooms, gymnasium, play-grounds, dormitories, dining-room, kitchen, laundry, and sewing-room were visited and found to be in good order.

Homes are found for the children from time to time, and they are carefully looked after when they have left the Institution. While in the Home they are taught general housework, sewing, knitting, etc. They attend Sunday school in the building and churches in the city. Part of the building is used as an infirmary when required.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make the second inspection of this Institution. He reported as follows:

I made an inspection of the Girls' Home, Toronto, on the 30th October, when there were 113 girls in residence. Excepting 4, who were troubled with ring-worm, they were all in excellent health and clean and neat in appearance. Their ages ranged from two to fifteen years. The older girls were seen at their school-work in the class-rooms, and the younger ones in the nursery.

The dormitories and other apartments were scrupulously clean, and in neat order.

The receipts of the Home during the year, including the Government grant of $607.00, amounted to $6,943.44, and the expenditures were $6,270.90.

The collective stay of the Institution was equal to 35,577 days, entitling the Institution to receive the sum of $711.54 as Government aid for the year 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I inspected the Boys' Home, Toronto, on the 11th July. There were the names of 94 boys on the register, whose ages ranged from two to fourteen years.

Every part of the Home was found to be in its usual state of cleanliness and good order.

The boys are kept fully occupied in doing domestic work. They are apprenticed from time to time as places are found for them with farmers in the surrounding country, and they continue under the supervision of the Home until they attain the age of 18 years. They were all in good health at the time of this visit.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Home, a copy of his report is annexed :

I beg to state, as directed by you, I made an inspection of the Boys' Home, Toronto, on the 29th October. The inmates, who numbered 97, were all seen, the younger boys' in the school room, and the older ones at drill exercise in the basement. Their ages ranged from three up to thirteen years; seven were over the age of twelve.

They were all reported to be in good health, and appeared to be well looked after. Every part of the Institution was found to be in excellent order.

The collective stay of the children was equal to 7,367 days, entitling the Institution to receive the sum of $147.34 as Government aid for the year 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the Newsboys' Lodgings, Toronto, on the 4th April. There were twenty boys registered as inmates on that day, ranging in age from nine to seventeen years. All under fourteen years attend school for half a day each week day, and those earning money pay a small sum to the Institution, averaging about 10 cents per day; some pay as high as 15 cents per day. They are supplied with clothing at cost, or nearly so.

---

The boys retire to bed at 9.30 p.m., and are not allowed to be about the streets at night.

The management is good and the books are well kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Institution. A copy of his report is annexed:

I visited the Newsboys' Lodgings, Toronto, on the 29th October. On that date there were 21 boys residing in the Institution, whose ages are from twelve years upward.

The older ones attend night school during the winter three nights a week, and the younger ones go to day school. A number of them are regularly employed at trades and in other situations where their prospect in life will be improved. The superintendent has provided a set of band instruments, and the boys are being trained in the use of them.

THE INFANTS' HOME, TORONTO.

The following summaries show the operations of this Home during the past year:

The receipts of the Home during the year were $5,639.85, and the expenditures were $6,142.10.

The collective stay of the children equalled 16,492 days. The Home will be entitled in respect of them to $329.84.

The collective stay of the mother nurses, for whom 10 cents a day is allowed, was 6,691 days. The Home will therefore be entitled to $669.10.

The collective days' stay of the other women, for whom 7 cents per day is allowed, was 1,856 days, for which the sum of $129.92 will be allowed.

The total grant, therefore, to the Home for 1894, including the grant of $200 for the Infirmary work, will amount to $1,328.86.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I made an inspection of the Infants' Home, Toronto, on the 11th July. On that date there were 76 inmates, viz.: 52 infants from two days to three years old, and 24 mother nurses.

There have been received since the 1st October, 111 infants, and during the same period 42 have been discharged and 18 have died.

Homes are found for the children from time to time. The work of the Home is performed by the mothers.

All the rooms were clean and in good order. The building is heated by steam, lighted by gas and supplied with city water.

Miss Gibbon is the matron in charge and Mrs. Jordan is superintendent.

I made an inspection of the Infants' Home, Toronto, on the 22nd November. There were in residence on that date 20 adult mother nurses and 45 infants.

The nursing-rooms, dormitories, dining-rooms, play-rooms, and all other parts of the building were in satisfactory order.

The children are cared for here until they are five years of age, when they are either adopted or transferred to the Boys' Home and Girls' Home in the city.

The revenue of the Home during the year, including the Government grant of $343.18, was $3,753.27, and the expenditure was $3,753.27.

The collective stay of the boys was 15,867 days, entitling the Institution to receive the sum of $317.34 as Government aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I made an inspection of the St. Nicholas' Home, Toronto, on the 18th May.

---

There were 41 boys in the Institution on that day. They obtain work in the city whenever it is possible. They are fed, clothed and lodged in the Home, and they contribute what they can from time to time from their earnings. They attend the different churches on Sunday, and a night school is provided for them during the winter. They also have a reading room.

The dormitories, dining-room, chapel, bath-rooms, wash-rooms, water-closets, etc., were clean and in neat order. The building is heated by steam, supplied with city water and lighted with gas. The books were properly kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Home. A copy of his report is annexed:

I made an inspection of the St. Nicholas' Home, Toronto, on the 1st November. The Mother Superior being absent I was unable to see the records and ascertain the number of boys in residence on that date. The Home was in good order. A night school is carried on during the winter for the benefit of the inmates, and they are provided with a library of books and papers.

in good order. Laundry work is the principal industry, the earnings from which amount to about $175 per month, and from sewing about $12 per month is realized.

The inmates numbered 52 on this date, namely, 46 adult females and 6 children.

The women are received from the city prisons, and the surrounding country. They remain in the Institution as long as they like. They receive no wages, but are supplied with clothing, food, books, etc. They attend divine service in the building three times on Sunday, and in the morning and evening during the week.

A library and reading-room are provided for their use.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Institution. A copy of his report is annexed :

As directed by you, I inspected the Haven and Prison Gate Mission Home, Toronto, on the 30th October.

There were 62 women and 12 children receiving the benefits of the Institution on that day.

Laundry work is the principal occupation of the inmates, and appears to be a profitable source of income. The Institution was in good order throughout, and appeared to be well managed.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the St. Mary's Orphan Asylum, Hamilton on the 3rd March.

---

There were 48 girls in the Institution, of all ages from infancy up to twelve years.

This Home is for the girls what the House of Providence, Dundas, is for the boys. The management is the same for both places.

All the rooms and different departments were clean and in good order. The Institution is well managed, and the books are properly kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Institution a copy of his report is annexed :

I beg to report that, as instructed, I made an inspection of the St. Mary's Orphan Asylum, Hamilton, on the 25th August. The names of forty-five girls were on the register. Of these, two were in the St. Joseph's Hospital, making the actual population forty-three.

Those in the Home were all in good health. On enquiry I found that they had not been vaccinated, as required by the circular issued by you in July last. Every part of the building was inspected and found to be in satisfactory order.

The receipts of the Asylum during the year were $4,441.85, and the expenditures were $4,521.34. The receipts and expenditures of the Aged Women's Refuge are included in these amounts.

The collective stay of the children was 4,409 days, entitling the Institution to receive the sum of $88.18 as Government aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I made an inspection of the Protestant Orphan Asylum, Hamilton, on the 3rd March. There were thirteen children in residence, namely, eight boys and five girls, from seven to thirteen years. They have all been very well during the winter. They attend school in the building.

All the departments, dormitories, dining-room, play-room, school-room and bath-room were clean and in good order.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Home. A copy of his report is annexed:

I visited the Protestant Orphan Asylum on the 25th August.

The names of twelve children were on the register—nine boys and three girls. One of the girls was absent, having been sent to the "Elsinore" Home at the Beach for a temporary stay.

The apartments occupied by the children (which are under the same roof as the Home for Aged Women) were found to be in good order and neatly kept. The books also were entered up correctly.

INSPECTIONS.

I visited the Boys' Home, Hamilton, on the 3rd March.

There were 70 boys in residence, from five to fourteen years of age. They are taught housework, sewing, knitting, etc., and also attend school in the Home, two teachers being employed. The boys were all in good health and have had no sickness during the past year.

They are placed in homes, by indenture, for three years.

Only boys from the city are admitted to the Home.

I found the premises in good order throughout.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Home. A copy of his report is annexed:

According to instructions, I made an inspection of the Boys' Home, Hamilton, on the 24th August, finding it neat and clean in every part.

There were 68 boys in residence, all in good health.

The books were correctly kept.

INSPECTIONS.

I inspected the Girls' Home, Hamilton, on March 3rd.

Fifty-three girls were in residence on that day, from three to twelve years of age. They are taught housework, knitting, sewing, laundry work, etc. They also attend school in the Home. Those that have relatives or friends are taken from the Institution by them at the age of fourteen. The others have homes found for them.

The Institution is well managed, and the books are well kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Home. A copy of his report is annexed :

I made an Inspection of the Girls' Home, Hamilton, on the 24th August. There were fifty inmates on that day, all of whom I saw, and all were in good health.

Housecleaning was in progress when I called, which occasioned a temporary disarrangement of some of the apartments, but otherwise the Home was in its usual excellent condition.

A number of the children have had the benefit of a change of air at "Elsinore."

The revenue of the Home, exclusive of the Government grant of $377.52 was $3,437.32, and the expenditure $3,895.10.

The collective stay of the children equalled 10,302 days. The Home, therefore, will be entitled in respect of them to $206.04.

The collective stay of mother nurses for whom 10 cents a day is allowed, was 1,574 days. The Home in respect of these will be entitled to $157.40.

The collective days' stay to those mothers for whom 7 cents per day is allowed was 647 days, for which they are entitled to receive $45.29.

The total grant to the Home, therefore, for 1894 will amount to $408.73.

INSPECTIONS.

I inspected this Home on the 3rd March. There were then in residence 11 adult females and 31 infants. When the children attain the age of five years they are transferred to the Girls' or Boys' Home or Orphan asylum. In some cases they are placed with private families. The mothers are also provided with homes, leaving their children in the Institution and contributing to their support until they are removed.

The dormitories, dining-rooms, play-rooms, wash-rooms, bath-rooms, and water-closets were all clean and in good order.

There were a number of cases of scarlet fever among the children, but no deaths have resulted. For the summer the children are taken to the Home at Burlington Beach, provided by Senator Sanford.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Home. A copy of his report is annexed :

On visiting this Home on the 25th August, I found it closed, the inmates having been removed to "Elsinore," their summer quarters at Burlington Beach, where I subsequently saw them. They numbered 25 children under five years, and five adult mothers. The children had all been vaccinated lately.

"Elsinore" is pleasantly situated on the Beach, with the lake on one hand and the bay on the other, and is surrounded by wide verandahs where the children can enjoy the fresh breezes from the water. This building was erected a few years ago through the generosity of Senator Sanford.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the Protestant Orphans' Home, Ottawa, on the 8th February.

The names of 48 children were on the register, namely, 27 boys and 21 girls.

They are taught housework, sewing, knitting, etc. They also attend school in the Home, a teacher being provided by the Public School Board. Homes with private families are found for the children from time to time.

The schoolroom, dormitories, bath-rooms, wash-rooms, water-closets, etc., were all clean and in good order.

I inspected the Orphans' Home, Ottawa, on the 8th October. On that day there were 46 children in residence from two and a half to twelve years of age, namely, 23 boys and 23 girls. There was only one death during the year. Good order and cleanliness prevailed throughout the premises.

The Home is supplied with electric light, city water, and hot-water heating. All the inmates have been vaccinated lately.

The receipts and expenditures of this Institution are included in the financial statement of the Refuge Department vide Schedule B Refuge Report.

The collective stay of the children was equal to 23,863 days, entitling the Institution to receive the sum of $477.26 as Government aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I inspected the St. Patrick's Orphan Asylum, Ottawa, on the 8th February. The register contained the names of 66 children—45 boys and 21 girls—from two to twelve years of age. They attend school, and are also taught housework, sewing, knitting, etc. Two teachers are employed.

The apartments used for the orphanage were in good order. The books were properly kept.

I visited the St. Patrick's Orphan Asylum, Ottawa, on the 8th October. There were 60 children in residence under twelve years of age.

Homes are found for them from time to time, and some are placed in apprenticeships as opportunities offer.

All the departments were clean and orderly. The building is lighted with electric light, heated with hot air, and supplied with city water.

The schoolrooms are in the Institution, and public school teachers are provided to take charge.

The receipts of the Institution were $6,098.65, and the expenditures $6,106.99.

The collective stay of children was 47,617 days, entitling the Asylum to receive the sum of $952.34 as the Government aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

On the 7th February I inspected the St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum, Ottawa. There were 130 children in residence, 54 boys and 76 girls.

There has been no change in this building since my last visit. All the departments, play-rooms, schoolrooms, dormitories, bath-rooms, etc., were in a well kept condition.

The Institution is well managed and the books properly kept.

I inspected this Orphanage on the 9th October. The building has lately undergone a general renovation—cleaning, repairing, painting, etc.—and everything was in as good condition as it can well be. The Institution has electric light, hot water heating, and city water.

On this date there were 123 children in residence—45 boys and 69 girls, from three to twelve years of age.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I inspected the Roman Catholic Orphans' Home, London on the 25th January. There were 102 inmates—52 girls and 50 boys, from two to fourteen years of age. All who are old enough attend school in the building, for which two teachers are employed.

All the rooms of the various departments were found to be in good order. The Institution is supplied with city water, lighted with gas, and heated with hot water. No change has taken place in the building or premises since my last visit.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make an inspection of this Home. A copy of his report is annexed:

The Roman Catholic Orphans' Home, London, which is under the same management as the Roman Catholic Refuge, was inspected by me on the 30th of July. The children were scattered all over the building and grounds, and seemed to look healthy and happy. There were 99 of them, according to the daily record. Upwards of 100 have been in the building at one time during the past winter, which taxes the dormitory accommodation to its utmost. As soon as the sisters can see their way it is their intention to enlarge the premises. After going the rounds of the Orphanage and grounds and enquiring as to its management and history, I found that nothing in the way of changes have taken place since your last visit.

The revenue of the Home was $3,548.81 and the expenditures were $3,626.30.

The collective stay of the children was equal to 14,128 days, entitling the Institution to receive the sum of $282.56 as Government Aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an Inspection of the Protestant Orphans' Home, London, on the 25th January. There were 38 inmates—16 girls and 12 boys—all under twelve years of age.

---

I found the Institution clean and orderly in every department.

The children attend school in a separate brick building on the premises; it is also used as a hospital when required.

Homes are found for the children as the opportunity occurs.

The Institution is heated by hot air, lighted with coal oil and supplied with city water.

A committee of ladies have the management of the Home.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make an inspection of this Home; a copy of his report is annexed:

I made the second inspection of the Protestant Orphans' Home, London, on July 30th. The daily record when examined gave the names of 38 children in residence on that date. There is accommodation in all for 52. The basement of the building is not very satisfactory. The furnaces, four in number, are inadequate to properly heat the building, and considerable discomfort is experienced during the cold weather. The furnaces should either be repaired or replaced by others of a different pattern.

The building is kept in very fair order inside, and the grounds likewise. Two acres of land are attached, which is industriously cultivated. It being holiday time the school building was not utilized. The matron reports a very prosperous year, and some good effects resulting from the operation of the new Act respecting Neglected Children.

The receipts during the year, exclusive of the Government grant of $238.81, were $357.90, and the expenditures $1,230.77.

The collective stay of the children equalled 3,379 days. The Home will, therefore, be entitled in respect of them to $67.58.

The collective stay of mother nurses, for whom 10 cents a day is allowed, was 1,338 days. The Home, in respect of these, will be entitled to $133.80.

The collective days' stay of those mothers for whom 7 cents per day is allowed, was 559 days, for which they are entitled to receive $39.13.

The total grant to the Home, therefore, for 1894, will amount to $240.51.

INSPECTIONS.

I made a visit of inspection to this Home on the 25th January, when it contained 5 women and 12 children.

Everything pertaining to the Home was in its usual state of good order. I found no change to record either in the building or premises since my last visit.

When the infants become two years of age they are placed in the Orphans' Home.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make an inspection of this Home; a copy of his report is annexed:

The Womens' Refuge and Infants' Home, London, was inspected by me on July 30th, and 5 women and 8 infants were then in the building. The matron reports a very successful year inasmuch as no deaths have taken place since October 1st, 1893.

The Institution was in good order inside. It has plenty of ventilation, and no defect of any kind exists in the plumbing.

I looked over their books and saw that attention had daily been given to them.

The collective stay of infants to 2,131 days at 2c. entitle the Home to $42.62

INSPECTIONS.

I inspected this Home on the 9th July. There were only two children in residence on that date. The building was undergoing repairs, to be in readiness for the return of the other inmates. A furnace for heating is very much needed, and I would strongly urge upon the Committee of Management the importance of making this improvement.

The children are cared for until homes are found for them.

Mrs. E. Swinton is matron.

The books are well kept.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Institution. A copy of his report is annexed:

According to instructions, I made an inspection of the Protestant Home, St. Catharines, on the 15th September, when its only inmates were two boys. The record showed that there had been sixteen admissions during the year.

The building is heated by stoves. Cleanliness and order characterize the management.

The collective stay of the children was 18,842 days, entitling the Asylum to receive the sum of $376.84 as Government aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I inspected the St. Agatha Orphan Asylum on the 7th August. There were in residence 37 boys and 15 girls—a total of 52—from two to fourteen years of age.

They attend school in the Home and are also taught farm work, housework, sewing, knitting, etc.

The school is conducted under the Separate School Act, and Roman Catholic children from the surrounding school section attend during the school terms. Two teachers are employed. The school rooms are large, well lighted and ventilated and will accommodate about 100 children.

Homes are found for the inmates from time to time, and those who are old enough are apprenticed to learn trades. The health of the children was good. They were all vaccinated lately in compliance with the request of this Department.

I found the Institution in excellent order. It comprises two stone buildings—one containing the schoolrooms and chapel on the ground floor and dormitories on the second floor; the other containing sitting-room, dining-room, and the sisters' quarters.

The Institution is heated by hot air, lighted with coal oil lamps, and supplied with well water. There is a good fire escape.

The grounds are fourteen acres in extent. Cows and fowls are kept for the supply of milk and eggs.

The Home is well managed and the books properly kept.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the Orphan's Home, Fort William, on the 13th August, and found it very much improved since my last visit, a year ago, upwards of one thousand dollars having been expended upon the dormitories and different departments. The work-rooms, play-rooms, bath-rooms, etc., were all in good order. The water-closets are outside of the building.

There were 43 inmates on this day—17 boys, 23 girls and 3 adults. The childrens' ages ranged from three to fifteen years. They are taught housework, sewing, knitting, etc., and as they become old enough they are apprenticed to trades, etc.

INSPECTIONS.

Petition having been made by the Salvation Army for aid under the Charity Aid Act, I inspected their Rescue Home for Women, Toronto, on the 12th October.

The Home is well situated in Parkdale facing the lake.

The building is of brick and stands in two acres of ground.

Girls and women from 16 to 40 years of age are received as inmates, and are employed at sewing, knitting, dressmaking and laundry work.

They remain from three to six months, when homes are found for them.

If any of the inmates have children under twelve years of age the latter are sent to the Children's Shelter, on Bleeker street.

Those about to become mothers are kept in the Home until near their confinement, when they are sent to the Burnside Lying-in Hospital, and after their recovery they are taken back to the Home until situations are found for them as servants. They are furnished with board, clothing and lodging while they remain in the Home, and when they take situations they are regularly visited by some officer of the Army, who looks after their welfare.

A record is kept of all the inmates, which is continued after they leave the Home so long as they can be kept track of.

The Institution is supported by collections and donations, and it is managed by two members of the Army with a matron in charge.

The building is heated by stoves and fireplaces, lighted by gas and supplied with city water. There were 11 inmates on the day of my inspection. The reception-room, sitting-room, working-rooms, offices and board room occupy the first flat.

The second flat contains the sleeping-rooms for the inmates, and likewise the third flat, with water-closets, etc. In the basements are the kitchen, laundry, dining-room, coal room and bath-room.

I have the honour to recommend that an Order-in-Council be passed giving authority for the Rescue Home for Women, Toronto, to be taken as named in Schedule C of the Charity Aid Act; and to receive aid in accordance therewith from the 1st October, 1893.

COPY OF AN ORDER IN COUNCIL, APPROVED BY HIS HONOR THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR THE 1ST DAY OF MARCH, A.D. 1894.

Upon consideration of the report of Mr. Inspector Chamberlain, dated 13th November, 1893, and upon the recommendation of the Honorable the Provincial Secretary, the Committee of Council advise that, subject to the ratification of this order by the Legislative Assembly, "The Rescue Home for Women, Toronto," be hereafter taken as named in Schedule C of the Charity Aid Act, and receive aid accordingly from the first day of October, 1893.

The revenue of the Shelter during the year amounted to $513.43, and the expenditure to same amount.

The collective stay of the inmates was 7,421 days, entitling the Shelter to receive a sum of $148.42 as Government aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

The Salvation Army having petitioned the Government for aid for institutions carried on by them, I made an inspection of their Children's Shelter, on the 12th October.

This Charity is located at 218 Bleeker street, Toronto. The building is of brick, three storeys high, heated by a hot air furnace and lighted by gas, and supplied with city water. It is very well adapted in every way for its purpose.

Children from the age of six months up to six years are received and cared for until the age of twelve, when they are placed with private families. I was informed that no difficulty is experienced in finding such homes for them. They attend the public schools as soon as they reach school age.

A lady officer called Ensign Williams, has charge of the Home, and is assisted by two other female officers who take care of the children, and do all the work.

There were ten inmates on the day of my visit. They are all children who have been abandoned by their parents, or orphans.

In the basement of the building is the kitchen and furnace rooms. The first flat contains the dining-room and sitting-room; second flat the attendant's rooms, children's bath-room, wash-room and water-closets, third flat, the children's rooms and caretaker's room.

This Charity is doing a good work for poor children, and I beg to recommend that an Order-in-Council be passed, giving authority for the Children's Shelter, Toronto, to be taken as named in Schedule C of the Charity Aid Act, and to receive aid in accordance therewith from the 1st October, 1893.

COPY OF AN ORDER IN COUNCIL, APPROVED BY HIS HONOR THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR THE 1ST DAY OF MARCH, A.D. 1894.

Upon consideration of the report of Mr. Inspector Chamberlain, dated 15th November, 1893, and upon the recommendation of the Honorable the Provincial Secretary, the Committee of Council advise that, subject to the ratification of this order by the Legislative Assembly, "The Children's Shelter, Toronto," be hereafter taken as named in Schedule C of the Charity Aid Act, and receive aid accordingly from the 1st day of October, 1893.

The collective stay of the children was 3,631 days, entitling the Asylum to receive the sum of $72.62 as Government aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

The Rescue Home for Women, London is one of the institutions included in the petition of the Salvation Army for aid under the Charity Aid Act. I inspected this Home on the 25th January, when there were eight inmates, 5 women, 2 children, and 1 woman in the hospital awaiting confinement.

These unfortunate girls are received into the Home upon a personal application to the lady officer in charge. They are provided with clothing, shelter and food, and given employment in sewing, knitting and housework, until such time as the matron, or lady officer in charge is satisfied that they have reformed and can be recommended for service, when good homes are found for them.

The management is by the Salvation Army, and a record is kept of each inmate, giving the previous history so far as it can be obtained, and after leaving the Home, track is kept of their movements, so that they can be visited from time to time by officers of the army.

There is accommodation for ten women in the Home, and as many infants. The building is supplied with water from the city system; it is heated with coal and wood-burning stoves and lighted with coal oil lamps.

I have the honour to recommend that an Order-in-Council be passed giving authority for the Rescue Home for Women, London, to be taken as named in Schedule C, of the Charity Aid Act, and to receive aid in accordance therewith from the 1st of October, 1893.

COPY OF AN ORDER IN COUNCIL, APPROVED BY HIS HONOR THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR THE 1ST DAY OF MARCH, A.D. 1894.

Upon consideration of the report of Mr. Inspector Chamberlain, dated 23rd February, 1894, and upon the recommendation of the Honorable the Provincial Secretary, the Committee of Council advise that, subject to the ratification of this order by the Legislative Assembly, "The Rescue Home for Women, London," be hereafter taken as named in Schedule C of the Charity Aid Act, and receive aid accordingly from the 1st day of October, 1893.

Certified,

J. LONSDALE CAPREOL,

Assistant Clerk, Executive Council.

The Inspector of Prisons, etc.

I instructed Mr. Aikens to make an inspection of this Home, a copy of his report is annexed:

I visited the Rescue Home for Women, London, on July 30th. The accommodation is at present limited to eight beds for inmates, but the authorities expect to have a larger building as soon as funds will permit. The water-closets are in the yard, as there is some slight defect in the drainage. The rooms and bedding looked neat and clean. On the evening of my visit there were 6 women and 5 infants receiving attention from the staff.

Upon asking for the books I discovered that no entries had been made in those furnished from this department. The reason assigned was that they did not understand the method of keeping them. I instructed the lady in charge in this particular, and then examined the private records in use for keeping trace of the daily movements of the inmates, from which I observed that with care and thought the official daily record could be entered up and kept.

MAGDALEN ASYLUMS.

There has been no increase in these Homes during the past year. In my reports of inspection will be found particulars regarding each Institution, and the tables show the length of stay of inmates, amount of receipts and expenditure, etc.

The revenue of the asylum, exclusive of the Government grant of $201.62, amounted to $3,779.09, and the expenditures to $3,396.56.

The collective stay of the inmates was 7,942 days, entitling the Institution to receive the sum of $158.84 as Government aid for 1894.

INSPECTIONS.

I beg to report that I made an inspection of the Industrial Refuge, Toronto, on the 17th of February. I found that since my last inspection new bath-rooms and water-closets have been put in the building. All the apartments were clean and in good order.

There were 24 women in residence at the time of my visit. They are employed at knitting, sewing and laundry work; and are required to remain in the Institution at least a year before being recommended for employment elsewhere, and receiving an outfit of clothing. They are supplied with necessary clothing while in the Refuge, but receive no money. All creeds and nationalities are admitted and are required to work if able to do so. The records were well kept, and the management was satisfactory.

I instructed Mr. Nicholson to make an inspection of this Refuge. A copy of his report is annexed :

I made an inspection of the Industrial Refuge, Toronto, on the 5th November. There were then 22 inmates, the majority of whom were employed in knitting, sewing and laundry work. If they remain in the Institution for a year they are furnished with a liberal outfit of clothing on leaving.

The house was in good order, and the records were entered up.

A new matron has recently been appointed.

INSPECTIONS.

I made an inspection of the Good Shepherd Female Refuge, Toronto, on the 19th November. The buildings have been greatly improved during the past year, and now are very comfortable so far as the accommodation of the inmates is concerned.

The largest building is three storeys in height, and in this a children's department has been established during the year. The little girls, from 14 to 16 years of age, attend school daily, and are also instructed in housekeeping and other industrial work. When they attain the age of 18 or 19, places will be found for them as domestics, or to learn trades. The building has been newly fitted up.

The laundry is in another building to the rear of that just mentioned. Forty of the women are employed at laundry work.

The dining-room and dormitories for the older inmates are over the laundry.

Still another building, conveniently situated, has been fitted up as a school-room for the children.

There were 69 inmates on the day of this visit, 11 of whom were children under twelve years of age. The women are allowed to remain as long as they choose, and are allowed to leave whenever they desire to do so. There have been five deaths during the year.

The books are well kept.

The buildings are heated with stoves for burning wood, and are lighted with gas, and supplied with city water. The water-closets, which are in the rear, have lately been fitted up. The bath-rooms are inside the main building.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, TORONTO, 26th November, 1894.

To the Honourable COLONEL GIBSON, Q.C., M.P.P., &c.,

Provincial Secretary,

Toronto.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the accompanying reports respecting the various organizations authorized to undertake contracts of insurance, indemnity or guarantee, in the Province of Ontario. Of these organizations the Act of 1892 (55 Vict. chap. 39), as amended by the Act of 1893 (56 Vict., chap. 32), distinguishes three great Divisions :

A. Registered Dominion Licensees : being Insurance Corporations, Companies, or Underwriters, operating under the Insurance Act of Canada and registered by the Province of Ontario, for the transaction of insurance in the Province.

B. Provincial Licensees : being Insurance Companies licensed, inspected and registered by the Province of Ontario, for the transaction of insurance therein.

C. Registered Friendly Societies : being Societies registered by the Province of Ontario, for the transaction of insurance therein.

Of these Divisions the Companies comprised in Division B (Provincial Licensees) are alone inspected by the Province, and are here reported on in the usual form and with the usual financial details pursuant to the provisions of the Ontario Insurance Act.

The report upon Division A (Dominion Licensees), made on the 26th January, 1893, described fully their mode and place of incorporation ; their statutory powers, duties, rights and obligations ; their internal organization ; the relation of the members inter se ; the liabilities of the members to creditors of the Company ; the kind or kinds of insurance for which the Company is registered in Ontario ; and the extent to which assets of the Company have been deposited in various countries as special security for the policy holders of those several countries. In the present report, except in case of new licenses, it has not been considered necessary to set out all of these details. Where any change has occurred in the Company's powers or status the nature and extent of such changes are indicated.

All of the Companies in Division A, except Ocean-Marine Companies, make financial statements annually to the Dominion of Canada ; and those statements, as revised by the Dominion Superintendent, can be found in the Superintendent's Annual Report. The balance-sheets therefore printed here, under Division A, are limited to those of Ocean-Marine Companies.

The report upon Division C (Friendly Societies), made on the 26th January, 1893, related to their mode and place of incorporation ; the statutes and instruments under which the Societies were constituted, and those by which they are now governed ; the kind of insurance or insurance-benefits undertaken ; that report also showed inter alia, whether or not the certificate holders generally are secured by a reserve fund ; and, if a reserve fund is maintained, whether any of this reserve is held in Ontario, any, how much, how invested, and by whom held and controlled.

The present report on Division C consists of abstracts of the Annual Statement for the year ending 31st December, 1893, made by the Friendly Societies to the Insurance Department of Ontario under section 47 of the Insurance Corporations Act.

Examples of the judgments given during the year by the Registrar of Friendly Societies, are printed as an Appendix to Division C, and will serve further to illustrate the practical operation of the Act. The receivership proceedings of the Dominion Provident, Benevolent and Endowment Association have been retarded in consequence of an appeal from the report of Mr. Harding, Q.C., the Local Master at Stratford. His report, and the judgment of Armour, C.J., upon the appeal will be found in the same Appendix ; as will also an important judgment of Mr. Hodgins, Q.C., Master-in-Ordinary, deciding the question, how far suspended members of a friendly society are liable as contributories in receivership proceedings.

While gambling and speculative benefit societies were tolerated in Ontario, the legitimate societies, generally, found the struggle for existence too keen to raise their rates, even where these were admittedly quite insufficient to provide for maturing certificates. That disturbing influence was removed by the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, and a number of the registered societies, during the year 1893, have been compiling actuarial data for the solution of the great question, what is the lowest rate at which, consistently with safety, stability and proper oversight, the various insurance benefits can be undertaken by the Society. For most gratifying evidence of sound progress in this inquiry I must refer to the proceedings of the various societies noticed in the Appendix to Division C of this report.

In order to prevent unnecessary delay in publication, the three Divisions have been placed simultaneously in the printer's hands—the pages of the several Divisions being distinguished by the Division letter prefixed. Division indexes have been inserted at the end of the volume. These indexes show the Companies and Societies standing registered at dates therein mentioned.

Besides requiring all bodies undertaking insurance to be registered, the Act requires registration of the individual agents of Life and Accident Insurance Companies. The concluding index shows in alphabetical order the names of all such agents standing registered at the date specified therein.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. HOWARD HUNTER,

Inspector of Insurance and Registrar of Friendly Societies.

DIVISION A.—REGISTERED DOMINION LICENSEES, BEING INSURANCE CORPORATIONS, COMPANIES OR UNDERWRITERS OPERATING UNDER THE INSURANCE ACT OF CANADA AND REGISTERED BY THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO FOR THE TRANSACTION OF INSURANCE IN THE PROVINCE.

NOTE.—The report upon Division A (Dominion Licensees), made on the 26th January, 1893, described fully their mode and place of incorporation; their statutory powers, duties, rights and obligations; their internal organization; the relation of the members inter se; the liabilities of the members to creditors of the Company; the kind or kinds of insurance for which the Company is registered in Ontario; and the extent to which assets of the Company have been deposited in various countries as special security for the policy holders of those several countries. In the present report, except in the case of new licensees, it has not been considered necessary to set out all of these details. Where any change has occurred in the Company's powers or status, the nature and extent of such change are indicated.

All of the Companies in Division A, except Ocean-Marine Companies, make financial statements annually to the Dominion of Canada; and those statements as revised by the Dominion Superintendent can be found in the Superintendent's Annual Report. The balance sheets therefore printed here under Division A are limited to those of Ocean-Marine Companies.

THE GUARDIAN FIRE AND LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY (LIMITED) OF LONDON, ENGLAND.

Register No. 399.

Certificate of Registry No. 253.

1. Head Office, London, England. Chief Agent and Attorney for Ontario, Henry D. P. Armstrong, Toronto. Suits by or against the Company may be brought in the name of the Company, which (as mentioned below), became on the 25th May, 1893, incorporated as a Company limited by shares.

2. The legislative enactments by which the powers, duties, rights and obligations of the Company are now declared, defined or governed are the following: United Kingdom, 13 and 14 Vict., 1850, chap. 25, an Act for the better enabling The Guardian Fire and Life Assurance Company to sue and be sued, and to alter certain provisions of their Deed of Settlement, and to give other powers to the Company; 29 and 30 Vict., 1866, chap. 225, an Act to enable The Guardian Fire and Life Assurance Company to reduce the amount of their paid up subscription capital stock, and to alter certain provisions of their Deed of Settlement and to amend The Guardian Assurance Company's Act, 1850, and to give further powers to the Company and Directors thereof; 33 and 34 Vict., 1870, chap. 61, The Life Assurance Companies' Act, and The Guardian Assurance Company's Act, 1893. More particularly referred to below.

3. The members, prior to the 25th May, 1893, were related as shareholders in an unincorporated joint stock company, and the liability of the members was unlimited, except so far as their liability was limited by the 51st article of the Deed of Settlement, which required that all policies and instruments of assurance to be granted by the Company should contain a proviso limiting the liability of the shareholders in the Company to the amount of their respective shares in the capital stock and funds of the Company, and by the 109th article of the same deed which required that all deeds and contracts entered into by the Directors and other officers of the Company should contain a like proviso, and by the proviso to the effect aforesaid, which by the practice of the Company was actually inserted in all the policies of assurance issued by the Company. The Company was advised that by the laws of the United Kingdom the effect of the said articles and proviso when so inserted was to restrict the liability of the shareholders to the amount remaining unpaid upon the shares held by them, so far as regarded their liability to the persons assured by or claiming under any such policy, instrument, deed or contract containing such proviso.

By the Guardian Assurance Company's Act, 1893, (Imp.) which received the Royal Assent April 29th, 1893, the Company was empowered to register under the Companies' Act, 1862 to 1890 as a limited liability Company, and this was done on the 25th May, 1893. Section 9 of the Act of 1893 provides: "Nothing in this Act shall operate to prejudice or affect the rights of the existing policy holders of the Company." Copies of the Act of 1893, of the Memorandum of Association, 1893, and of the Certificate of Incorporation are filed in the Department of Insurance for Ontario.

4. The Company is now authorized by license issued by the Dominion of Canada, bearing date the 31st day of March, 1894, and expiring on the 31st day of March, 1895, to transact Fire Insurance.

5. Deposited assets.—Assets of the Company are deposited and held in Canada as special security for the policy holders therein as follows: Deposit accepted at the value of $167,900, held by the Receiver-General in Canada.

LLOYD'S.

Register No. 393.

Certificate of Registry No. 247.

Applicant for Registry, Chas. B. Watts, Board of Trade Building, Toronto, agent for Messrs. Dent and Vaizey, Insurance Brokers, Lloyd's, and 6 Crosby Square, London, (Eng.) E. O.

Service of Process.—See 56 Vict., chap. 32 (O.), sec. 10 (5), cited infra.

Lloyd's is an association of merchants, shipowners, underwriters and insurance brokers, which, since 1774, has had its headquarters in the Royal Exchange, London, England. The committee of Lloyd's devised a general printed form of Marine policy, which was finally adopted by the members on the 12th January, 1779, and with but slight alterations continues in use by Lloyd's underwriters to the present day. The association was reorganized in 1811, and in 1871 was incorporated by the Act of the British Parliament, 34-5 Victoria, chapter 21, which still continues in force.

According to this Act of incorporation the three main objects for which the association or society exists are: 1. Carrying on the business of Marine Insurance by individual underwriting. 2. The protection of the interest of the members of the association. 3. The collection, publication and diffusion of intelligence and information with respect to shipping. For this last object Lloyd's "Register" was devised; the Register Committee have, since 1834, undertaken the survey of ships, which when surveyed they classify and publish the lists.

The underwriting members of Lloyd's pay an annual fee of £100, and are required to deposit securities varying in value from £5,000 to £10,000, according to circumstances, as a guarantee for the member's engagements. Failure to meet a loss forfeits for ever all right to do business at Lloyd's. Each of the underwriting members conducts his business according to his own views, and for those views, or for the business transactions of underwriting members, Lloyd's as a corporation is in no way liable.

In order to admit Lloyd's underwriters to transact Marine Insurance in Ontario, the Provincial Statute, 56 Vict., chap. 32, section 10 (5), enacts as follows:

"Upon due application of any underwriter of the establishment or Society known as Lloyd's, and more particularly described in an Act passed by the Parliament of the United Kingdom in the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth years of Her Majesty's reign, and chaptered 21, or upon due application of any such underwriter's broker, or broker's agent, the said establishment or Society may, for the undertaking and transaction of Marine Insurance, be registered under the general name of Lloyd's, which shall include the corporation, all underwriters of Lloyd's for the time being and their brokers, and the agents in Ontario of the corporation or of the underwriters or brokers. In any action or proceeding against the corporation, or against any underwriter, or broker, or agent as aforesaid, for liabilities incurred in Ontario, the Inspector of Insurance may receive and accept service of process; and acceptance of service in writing under his hand shall to all intents and purposes whatsoever be legal and binding upon the corporation, underwriter, broker or agent."

Lloyd's was, upon due application, admitted to registry for the transaction of Ocean-Marine Insurance for the term ending 30th April, 1895, pursuant to Statutes of Ontario, 56 Vict., chap. 32, sec. 10 (5), above cited.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS
ACT 1892, AND THE CONSTITUTION OF THE SELECT KNIGHTS OF CANADA.

BEFORE THE REGISTRAR OF FRIENDLY SOCIETIES.

JUDGMENT.

26th May, 1894.

The Grand Legion of Ontario Select Knights of Canada—a registered Friendly Society—at its last general session (14th March, 1894) passed a resolution affecting all the certificate holders of the society and altering the scheme or basis upon which they should, after the 1st July, 1894, be assessed. Instead of the single monthly assessment being as heretofore, for each $1,000 insured, 50 cents per month upon each certificate holder irrespective of his age at entrance into the society, the new scheme imposed differential assessments graded according to the age of the certificate holder at his entrance into the society. This new scale (as set out in Exhibit 3) places the single monthly assessment at 45 cents per $1,000 insured for an assurant entering at any age between 18 and 22, and the scale then rises with the age until the single monthly assessment for one entering between the ages of 46 and 50 reaches 80 cents per $1,000 insured. The resolution embodying this scheme was passed as an amendment to the constitution, and is to apply to all certificates heretofore issued as well as to those hereafter to be issued—the assessment on the certificate holder to be based on his age when he first entered the society.

A protest against this amendment to the constitution was filed in behalf of the three Legions (as in this society the lodges are called) situated in Hamilton; but one of these legions during the proceedings withdrew from the protest. For the protest it is contended:

1. That notices of two specific amendments to the constitution (described by the witnesses as the Lewis resolution and Lamont resolution) were properly given for the last general session of Grand Legion; that neither of these resolutions was passed; but that a resolution variously described as the "Reid resolution" and the "Lamont-Reid resolution," of which no notice had been given, was passed amending the constitution.

2. That even if proper notice had been given of the Lamont-Reid resolution, that resolution was ultra vires of the Grand Legion, because

(a) It is a fundamental principle of the original constitution that the single monthly assessment shall be a uniform sum of 50 cents levied upon all members irrespective of age; and that this monetary basis cannot be altered; also

(b) Because the Lamont-Reid resolution is a breach of the formal contract made in terms of the said constitution by the society with the complainants.

For the executive officers of the society it is contended:

1. That the Registrar of Friendly Societies has not jurisdiction to entertain the protest; or, that if the Registrar has jurisdiction, that this is not a proper case for his intervention.

2. That the so-called Reid or Lamont-Reid resolution is the Lamont resolution with an admissible amendment incorporated therein; and that the Grand Legion was legally competent to pass the said resolution.

3. That the contract of the society with the complainants consists not alone of the insurance certificate, but also of two instruments preliminary to the certificate, viz., the application and the medical certificate; and that of these the application expressly binds the applicant to compliance with such amendments as shall from time to time be made in the constitution and rules.

4. That the alteration of the basis of assessment was absolutely necessary to the financial soundness and stability of the society.

First, as to the question of jurisdiction. The Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, excludes from registry certain societies undertaking certain business, or containing certain features in their organization and management. For example a society is excluded from registry if it undertakes insurance other than with its own members exclusively; or, undertakes insurance with its own members for other than certain benefits specified in the Act; or for a sum payable at death exceeding $3,000. (Sec. 4 (2) C.) A society is excluded from registry which is in effect the property of its officers or collectors; or belongs to a private proprietary; or which is conducted as a trading or mercantile venture, or for purposes of commercial gain; or if the insurance fund of the society is held other than as a trust fund for the members (Sec. 4 (2) D). A society is not admissible to registry if the funds of the society are not within the effective control of the persons insured, or if the funds of the society are in the control of persons holding office for life. (Sec. 8 (2)) There are also other cases in which the Act declares a society to be inadmissible to registry or renewal of registry; and generally whether the corporation is Provincial or foreign, it must be a bona fide provident society as contemplated by the Benevolent Societies' Act, and must be managed and operated according to the true intent of that Act. (Ins. Corp. Act, Sections 8, 10). The duty of determining what societies are admissible to registry or to renewal of registry is cast upon the Registrar of Friendly Societies (Section 11). If the Registrar finds that the society applying for registry is one of those societies that are prohibited by the Act it is of course his duty to refuse registry. And obviously it may happen that the society, though heretofore registered, has by important alterations in its "rules" (which in the Act includes the constitution) so altered its character as to make it in its altered character disentitled to continued registry or to renewal of registry. Where particular provisions in the rules constitute the impediment to registry the Registrar may direct such amendments as will remove the impediment. (Sec. 8 (2) proviso, and sec. 4 (2) B proviso.) From all this it seems quite clear that the Registrar has jurisdiction to entertain a complaint by members of the society that the rules of the society governing insurance contracts have been wrongfully and illegally altered to their prejudice, and the Registrar has in a proper case jurisdiction to intervene and grant relief.

The next question that I shall have to consider is whether the present case is a proper one for intervention.

The complainants allege that a resolution of which no notice was given was proposed and passed altering the constitution in a vital particular. The executive of the society say that the resolution proposed and passed was the Lamont resolution (of which proper notice admittedly was given) with certain permissible amendments grafted thereon. The complainant's rejoinder is that it was not competent to amend the Lamont resolution, of the specific terms of which notice had been given, that it must be either passed or rejected without alteration. The society had not enacted any rule of procedure in such matters, nor has the society adopted any manual of procedure; this question must therefore be determined by the public general law.

Even writers of authority have fallen into serious error as to the law on this question. Mr. Palmer, the well known author of "Company Precedents," lays it down in his Shareholders' and Directors' Legal Companion (12th Ed., 1892, pp. 46-7) that where notice of a specific resolution is given, the shareholders are limited to accepting or rejecting that resolution without amendment; and that where it is desired to leave the specific resolution open to amendment then the notice should be expressed in such terms as these: "For the purpose of considering, and if thought fit, passing the subjoined resolution with or without any modifications." Dr. Bourinot in his recent Manual of Procedure at Public Meetings (pp. 117-8) cites and follows Palmer and lays down the law in these terms: "Where the notice is framed in general terms, amendments can as a rule be moved, but where the proposed resolution of which notice has been given is specific and definite, no amendment can be submitted. In this latter case the meeting is bound strictly to the specific terms of the notice. The proposed resolution must be simply affirmed or negatived." And he adds in a footnote: "All societies in proposing amendments to their charters or constitutions, of which notice is always given, should carefully bear in mind the principles laid down in the text."

The law of the question was definitely settled to the contrary of all this by the Courts of England, in 1890, in Henderson v. Bank of Australasia, L.R. 45, Ch. D. 330. In that case a special general meeting of the proprietors was to be held to consider a certain specific resolution, the effect of which would be to alter the scale of voting by giving to every qualified proprietor one vote for each share. That specific resolution was expressed as repealing the 18th clause of the deed of settlement and as substituting the following in lieu thereof. "That every proprietor shall have one vote for every share held by him or her, provided that no proprietor shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting, or ballot in respect of any share, unless he or she shall have been registered as the holder of such share for at least six calendar months prior to such general meeting, or in the case of a ballot prior to the general meeting at which the ballot is granted." At the special general meeting, Henderson, a proprietor, proposed two amendments to the specific resolution. The first amendment related to the qualification of directors. In the circular calling the meeting there was no notice that the qualification of directors would be dealt with, and the chairman ruled that this amendment was inadmissible. Then Henderson made a second proposal to amend the specific resolution by striking out the whole proviso. This would have cut down the specific resolution to the words: "That every proprietor shall have one vote for every share held by him or her." The bank's solicitor advised the chairman that the specific resolution could not be amended, but must be accepted or rejected as it stood. Thereupon the chairman ruled Henderson's second amendment also inadmissible. The unaltered specific resolution was then voted upon and declared to be carried; and at a subsequent general meeting was declared to be confirmed. Henderson, an individual proprietor, brought action to have it declared that the resolutions purporting to be passed at the meetings in question were void and invalid, and for an injunction to restrain the bank from acting upon or treating as valid the said resolutions or any of them, and from disregarding the existing regulations of the bank which the said resolutions purported to repeal.

The plaintiff, Henderson, in support of his individual right of action cited Jessel, M. R., in Peuder v. Lushington, L. R., 6 Ch. D. at 75. As authority for the chairman's action in refusing Henderson's second amendment, the defendant bank cited in re British Sugar Refining Co. (3 K. & J. 408, 416), also Smith's Handbook of Public Meetings.

When the case came before Chitty, J., he held that Henderson's first amendment imposing a qualification on directors was altogether outside the notice and scope of the meeting and could not have been put to the meeting (L. R. 45, Ch. D. at 338 and 339). As to Henderson's second amendment, Chitty, J., said (at p. 339): "If the amendment was put in the form of proposing to omit all the words which relate to the six months' qualification of the shareholder, that is to omit certain words in the resolution itself which was then before the meeting, the amendment certainly could have been put. If the advice given to the chairman was that no amendment could be received to the resolution, the advice was erroneous. About that I entertain no doubt whatever." The judge, however, held that Henderson should have either in writing or words formally tendered and pressed his amendment, and because this was not done he dismissed the action. From this judgment Henderson appealed. In the Court of Appeal it was held that Henderson had made a sufficient tender of his second amendment, and that it ought to have been put to the meeting, and that the resolutions passed were invalid. Cotton, L. J., (45 Ch. D. at 344) held that as to Henderson's first amendment (imposing a qualification on directors) that it was beyond the notice given for the meeting and that the chairman was perfectly right in refusing it. But as to Henderson's second amendment (striking out the proviso in the specific resolution) Cotton, L. J., (at p. 346) said that "this amendment was within the notice calling the meeting, and therefore might properly be put before the meeting for consideration. I think then that the chairman was entirely wrong in refusing to put the amendment, and that the resolutions which were passed cannot be allowed to stand, because the chairman under a mistaken idea as to what the law was which ought to have regulated his conduct, prevented a material question from being brought before the meeting." Fry, L. J., said: "I am entirely of the same opinion,—holding that the chairman was right in rejecting the first, and wholly wrong in rejecting the second amendment to the specific resolution." As to the latter ruling, Fry, L. J., said (at page 347): "Now I think that was an entire error. Neither Mr. Rigby or Mr. Maclean (council for defendants) has attempted to justify the correctness of that ruling—and it was a ruling of very serious description with regard to a meeting of this character. The meeting was called to consider certain proposed amendments in the deed of settlement, and to conduct it on the plan that no amendments should be proposed to any of the proposals, so that each resolution should be taken as it stood or rejected, was to conduct the meeting under a very serious misapprehension of the rights of the shareholders and of their powers of discussion."

Applying the foregoing very instructive case to the question of the Select Knights, I find that the Lamont resolution (of which specific notice had been given) in its original form (Exhibit 7, p. 4) sets out with a clear proposal to introduce the system of graded assessments, and for this purpose proposes to strike out the matter contained in Articles A, B and C, Sec. 40, p. 20 of the Constitution, General Laws and Rules of the Order; and substitutes new provisions indicated as "Articles A and B," the text of which is then set out in the notice. Article B contains the scale of graded assessments and ends with a proviso limiting the operation of the new articles to future certificates. At the general meeting the proposed Article B was amended by the Reid resolution which altered the figures in the scale and made the proposal cover the case of past as well as future certificates.

Another specific resolution known as the Lewis resolution embraced both of these features, viz, the graded scale and the retroactive application; so that it can hardly be argued that members attending that general meeting were not affected with notice that both of these questions were to be considered and dealt with either through the Lewis resolution or through the Lamont resolution. On the law as laid down in the above case of Henderson v. Bank of Australasi, it would clearly have been competent for a delegate at the general meeting of Select Knights to move an amendment striking out the proviso at the end of the Lamont resolution, thus making the resolution apply to certificates old as well as new. It would also have been competent for the same or another delegate to move a further amendment varying the figures in the schedule, or he might at once make a proposal combining the two amendments as was actually done by Mr. Reid. Upon this branch of the case I therefore think that sufficient notice was given of the amendment which the general meeting passed or purported to pass and against which the complainants protest.

The next objection taken by the complainants is that even if within the terms of the notice, the Lamont-Reid resolution is ultra vires of the Grand Legion. This is argued on two grounds: First, it is alleged that it is a fundamental and unalterable principle of the original constitution that the single monthly assessment shall not be a differential one graded according to age, but for each $1,000 insured shall be a uniform sum of 50 cents, assessable alike upon all members irrespective of age. The evidence offered in support of this position is (Exhibit 5) the constitution, bearing imprint 1884, entitled "Constitution for the government of the Grand Legion of Ontario, Select Knights A.O.U.W.”—reference being made to Section 3 Article 11, p. 15 also, and more particularly to section 5 on p. 28. This latter section was as follows: “This constitution may be amended or altered at a regular meeting of the Grand Legion, if two-thirds of the valid votes be in favor of it, providing the same shall not be in conflict with the principles or laws of the A.O.U.W. or the Supreme Legion.” In the Ancient Order of United Workmen it was and still is the rule that for each $2,000 insured the single monthly assessment shall be $1.00 irrespective of the age of the assured. At the date of the constitution just cited it was a condition precedent to becoming a member of the Select Knights, that the applicant was already a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. The order of Select Knights had then a close fraternal relation to the Order of United Workmen, and the letters A.O.U.W. formed part of the corporate name of the Select Knights. In fact the Select Knights formed a kind of auxiliary body to the United Workmen. But all relation of the kind has long since ceased; the corporate name of the Select Knights was in 1889 amended in the High Court by excision of the letters A.O.U.W.; and the two societies are now, and have for years been wholly independent, each revising its constitution without the slightest reference to the other. So far as appears, there was nothing in 1884, nor is there now, in the constitution of the United Workmen to prevent that society from changing its system of assessment, if such a change were considered beneficial to the members. The mode of assessment is a question not of principle but of finance. In 1884 if the United Workmen had changed from the uniform assessment to the graded scale it would hardly have been argued in seriousness that the Order of Select Knights was by the above quoted provision obligated to change its system of assessment; and a fortiori in 1894, after even all fraternal relation between the two Orders has ceased, it cannot be seriously argued that the Order of Select Knights is estopped by its former relation from altering the mode of assessment in vogue in 1884 to some other mode that is considered more equitable and beneficial to the members. In fact, the complainants themselves scarcely venture so far, their real objection being not to the altered mode of assessment but to the retroactive application of the new system to the old certificates. And this leads in the second and more important reason that the complainants urge why the action of the Grand Legion should be held ultra vires, viz.: that the retroactive application of the new system of assessment is a breach of the formal contract made by the Select Knights with the complainants.

There is no doubt that all the Courts, American as well as British, strongly disfavor any alteration made in an insurance contract without the assent of the assured.

But a distinction is made where the contract itself reserves to the insuring corporation the right from time to time to amend its rules or by-laws, and binds the assured to compliance with such rules or by-laws as shall from time to time be in force. Hobbs v. Iowa Mutual Benefit Assn., 20 Ins. Law Journal, 434; Becker v. Farmers' Mutual Ins. Co. (Sup. Court, Michigan, 1882); 11 Ins. L. J. 595; Supreme Commandery, etc. v. Ainsworth, 71 Ala. 436. In the last cited case it was laid down that where a contract of insurance is issued conditioned that it shall be subject to such by-laws as may thereafter be enacted by the society, by-laws subsequently passed become a part of the contract. Two English cases which were cited by Mr. MacWatt appear to me very much in point: Stooke v. Mutual Provident Alliance (Q. B. D., Pollock B., and Charles J., 27th January, 1891) reported in the Manchester Unity collection of Friendly Society cases, 1892, p. 226; and Dixon v. Thompson (Q. B. D., Cave and Vaughan, Williams, JJ., January 29, 1891) Ibid. p. 259. In the former case the policy was granted on a proposal (or as we call it an application) in which the applicant agreed to abide by the present rules and regulations of the society and by any others that may hereafter be made and certified by the Registrar of Friendly Societies.” A new rule was made by which the assured was, while on sickness allowance, deprived of all such further benefit. Baron Pollock could see nothing unreasonable in this where there was a special stipulation such as that above cited, and Charles, J., held that it was open to the society either to raise the dues or to reduce the benefit. The Court came to the conclusion that as the contract expressly provided that the members should be bound by rules made from time to time, it could not be said that the new rules were ultra vires. The plaintiff was therefore bound by them. The judgment of the County Court and Judge, therefore, was wrong and must be reversed.

In Dixon v. Thompson also the question raised involved the validity of rules altered under a like stipulation, and the Court followed the decision in Stooke v. Mutual Provident Alliance affirming the validity of the new rules.

But in the present case it is denied that by the contract the complainants assented to any such stipulation. This raises the question what instrument or instruments constitute the contract between the society and the complainants? The question relates in the present case to contracts prior to the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, and must be decided without the aid of that enactment. The complainants say the insurance certificate alone is the contract; the society contends that the contract consists of three instruments, viz.: The insurance certificate, the application for insurance and the written and signed answers of the applicant to the medical examiner's questions. Now in an ordinary insurance contract, if the application is by the terms of the policy incorporated with it either expressly or by reference, the application undoubtedly forms part of the contract. Worsley v. Wood, 6 T.R.; Rutledge v. Burrell, 1 H. B.L. 254; Oldman v. Bewicke 2 id 577, note; Holmes v. Charlestown Mut. F. Ins. Co. 10 Met. (Mass.) 211; Burritt v. Saratoga M. F. Ins. Co., 5 Hill, N.Y., 188; Kennedy v. St. Lawr. M. Ins. Co. 10, Barb., N.Y. 285; Williams v. N. Eng. M. F. Ins. Co. 31 Me. 219; Battles v. N.Y. Co. M. Ins. Co. 41, Me. 208. But when the application is not thus incorporated with the policy, the question is more difficult, though in all cases the application may be resorted to to show misrepresentation, mistake, etc.

The certificate which the complainants say constitutes the entire contract is in the following form (Exhibit 4):

"BENEFICIARY CERTIFICATE."

"This is to certify that ..... is a Select Knight in good standing of ..... Legion No. ...., located at ..... and at the time of his death, if he is in good standing in the Legion and in the Beneficiary department, his heirs and legal representatives are and shall be entitled to the sum of one dollar for each Select Knight in good standing in the Beneficiary Department and belonging to Legions within the grand jurisdiction of Ontario, not exceeding two thousand dollars ($2,000), and he now directs that in case of his death the said sum be paid to ..... And should the said Select Knight while a member in good standing as aforesaid, become totally disabled for life so as to be unable to follow his own or any other avocation, and providing such disability did not arise from any immoral conduct on his part, when upon satisfactory proof of such total disability, he shall be entitled to receive one half the amount that would have been paid in case of his death, and the balance at his death if he remains in good standing in the Legion."

Now this instrument, whether it shows the complete contract or not, evidences the fact that a contract of insurance against death or disability was entered into between the society as insurer and the member as insured, and that the contract was subject to a three-fold stipulation, viz.: (1) The insured in order to recover anything must at the happening of the contingency insured against have been "in good standing" in his local lodge; (2) He also must at the same time have been "in good standing in the beneficiary department of the Grand Lodge," and (3) the maximum amount recoverable (while in no case exceeding $2,000) was to be measured by the total number of members then in "good standing" in the beneficiary department of the Grand Lodge, a dollar being allowed for each such member. Upon the phrase "in good standing," which is evidently the hinge of the whole contract, the certificate itself throws no light; and for the interpretation we are thrown back upon the constitution by which any question as to the standing of members was to be determined. The constitution then in force and upon which the complainants themselves have taken their stand, was that bearing imprint 1884 (Exhibit 5.) On page 13 of that document I find "Article xi, Beneficiary Article," authorizing the issue of beneficiary certificates of the form above recited and with the stipulation as to "good standing." Then in evident explanation or enforcement of this phrase the article has the following proviso: "Provided that said member, while living, shall fully comply with each and every requirement of this article, and with all the laws, rules and regulations of the Grand and subordinate Legions which are now in force or may hereafter be enacted by this Grand Legion. "The application for beneficial certificate" (Exhibits 9, 10) signed by each of the complainants individually contained an express agreement on their part to comply "with all the laws, regulations and requirements which are or may be hereafter enacted by the Order;" and even if I refused to treat this instrument as part of the contract, and limited the instrument of contract to the beneficiary certificate alone, the practical result would be the same, that is to say: the contract included an agreement by the assured to comply with the constitution and rules of the society as amended from time to time; and so far as the evidence discloses, there was no reservation made as to the basis or mode of assessment. In addition to the cases already cited, I refer to Grossman v. Supreme Lodge Knights of Honor (1888) 13 N. Y. State Reporter, 592; and to Mutual Co. v. Bratt (1880) 55 Md., 200.

It is quite true that this right claimed by Friendly Societies to revise their contracts of insurance, is something not met with in other insurance corporations, is in short a seeming anomaly in the law of contract. But it is to be remembered that Friendly Societies when first undertaking sickness and disability benefits were venturing into an entirely unoccupied and unexplored region of insurance, where the proper rates of premiums must have been mere guess work and for long years afterwards must have continued a matter of experiment. It is only in our own day that such a body of experience has accumulated as to enable the managing officers of such societies to say what are proper rates of premiums for the benefits promised. Now where a society started out on an erroneous financial basis and has begun to feel the strain which an increasing ratio of old members brings, it would be extremely serious for the old members—now perhaps uninsurable elsewhere—if their own society could not recede from its former error, and amend its rates, but must helplessly await the collapse. It would of course be better (if at all possible) in amending the rates to avoid retroactive measures; but sometimes this cannot be done. If the old certificate-holder has to pay something more than under the old rule he is not without compensation, for in his certificate he now holds an improved security—a better assurance that the society will be able to fulfil its obligations.

The present case does not appear a proper one for my intervention.

Given in triplicate under my hand and the seal of my office, this twenty-sixth day of May, A.D. 1894.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS
ACT, 1892, AND THE CANADIAN RELIEF SOCIETY.

BEFORE THE REGISTRAR OF FRIENDLY SOCIETIES.

JUDGMENT.

19th June, 1894.

The question of the solvency of the Canadian Relief Society was primarily raised through the non-payment of an admitted claim arising out of the death of H. J. Ware, who held certificate No. 1,283 and died on the 17th May, 1893.

The financial position of the Society on the 18th June, 1894, as set out in Exhibit 7, shows liabilities amounting to $15,911.61, made up of :

Death claims . . . . .	$11,860 00
Sick benefit claims . . . . .	1,098 00
Bereavement claims . . . . .	250 00
Disability claims . . . . .	450 00
Accounts (including $132.32 due to Secretary, and $20 due to Treasurer) . . . . .	253 61
Claims not yet proven or passed (estimate) . . . . .	2,000 00
	$15,911 61

The assets are shown as :

Cash in Treasurer's hands . . . . .	$610 00
Cash in Secretary's hands . . . . .	382 32
	992 32
Excess of liabilities over assets . . . . .		$14,919 29

From the evidence of the officers of the Society it is quite clear that they have lost all hope of retrieving the position, and that the Society is in fact insolvent within the meaning of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892.

The registry of the said Society is hereby absolutely revoked and cancelled ; and pursuant to Section 59 of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, I hereby direct and require Charles Bonnick, the Secretary of the said Society, and James Watt, the Treasurer thereof, and all other persons having the accounts, account books, and insurance funds of the said Society in their charge, possession, custody or power, forthwith to comply with the provisions of Section 53 of the said Act.

Given in triplicate under my hand and the seal of my office this 19th day of June, A.D. 1894.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS
ACT, 1892, AND THE REGISTRY OF THE CANADIAN MASONIC MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION.

BEFORE THE REGISTRAR OF FRIENDLY SOCIETIES.

JUDGMENT.

19th July, 1894.

1. The proceedings in this case arise upon the question of continuing the registry of the Canadian Masonic Mutual Benefit Association. It is alleged by the complainants that the Association is in such a financial position as to be legally disentitled to registry; that amendments recently made or purporting to be made in the Constitution amount to a repudiation of all existing insurance certificates and to the substitution of entirely new contracts without the assent of the several certificate holders; and that generally the Association is not so managed and operated as the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, requires of a registered Friendly Society.

2. The Association under the name of the London Masonic Mutual Benefit Association was established on December 27th, 1870, as appear from one of its own publications (Exhibit 63) which contains the Rules and Regulations as they stood in 1872 and a prospectus of the Society. Many of the present complainants joined the Society upon the representations contained in this prospectus; and the following extracts will serve to make clear the references in the evidence given by some of the old members.

“Upon the death of any member of the organization the secretary shall issue a circular to each member, notifying him of such death and calling for the sum of one dollar. This amount, when collected, shall remain as a reserve fund to meet the next call. It is confidently believed that this scheme will be found to work admirably at a trifling expense—at least it is worth the trial and can be dropped at any moment if unsatisfactory, by a simple refusal to pay a call. (Article 12 of the Rules and Regulations following the prospectus in the same Exhibit, enacts in effect that non-payment of assessments within one month after notice terminates membership.)

All who desire to have their names enrolled as members of this Association will fill up properly the application, which will be furnished them, enclosing the sum of two dollars, one dollar of which shall be for defraying office expenses, printing, stationery, postage, secretary's salary, and other disbursements for the year ending 27th December, and the balance of one dollar will remain in bank at interest to retire the first certificate of membership which may become due. And thereafter, the secretary will make an annual call for such sum as the directors may deem necessary, but in no case to exceed one dollar.

On and after the 27th December, 1872, a sliding scale (of application fees) will be adopted, as follows: Over 30 years, $5; over 40 years, $10; over 50 years, $20.

As the number is positively limited to 2,500 and no more will be admitted under any circumstances, all who desire to participate in the certain advantages which this mutual benefit plan guarantees will send their applications and remittances without delay to the Secretary, H. A. Baxter, London, Ont.”

3. By the name of the London Masonic Benefit Association the Society became incorporated on the 2nd March, 1874, under the Statute of Ontario, 34 Vict., cap. 32. This enactment by Section 1 empowered "any number of persons not less than five" to "unite themselves into a society for making provision by means of contributions, subscriptions, donations, or otherwise against sickness, unavoidable misfortune or death, and for relieving the widows and orphan children of members deceased," and to "become incorporated by making and signing a declaration in duplicate, or in as many parts as shall be required, of their having united themselves together for the purposes aforesaid, which declaration shall set forth :

- (1) The corporate name of the Society ;
- (2) Its purposes ;
- (3) The names of those who are to be its first trustees or managing officers ;
- (4) The mode in which their successors are to be appointed ; and
- (5) Generally, such other particulars and provisions as the Society may think necessary, not being contrary to law."

4. The declaration filed in the Registry Office at London, Ont., under the above Act on the 2nd March, 1874, has, except as to the corporate name, remained unaltered up to the present, and is set out at the beginning of Exhibit 11 (Constitution and By-laws of the Canadian Masonic Mutual Benefit Association, bearing imprint, London, 1890.) This declaration constitutes the Charter of the Association.

Article 1 sets out that its corporate name is "The London Masonic Mutual Benefit Association."

Article 2 states "Its purpose shall be for making provisions by means of contributions, subscriptions, donations or otherwise, against bodily disability, resulting from loss of sight, hand, arm, or leg, or from severe spinal injury, and against death, and for relieving its members, and the widows and orphan children of deceased members."

Article 3 sets out the names of the office bearers of the Association ; and

Article 4 states the mode in which their successors shall be appointed.

Article 5 states that "The character of the Association shall be purely mutual."

Article 6, which is important in the present issue—states that the Association "shall consist of several classes of members ; the maximum number of members of the first class being two thousand and five hundred, and the maximum number of members of any subsequent class being one thousand ; but no subsequent class shall be formed before the preceding class has reached its maximum number of members."

Article 7 states that "the provision against such bodily disability and against death shall be, that the disabled member shall receive out of the Association, at the rate of fifty cents, and the legal representatives of a deceased member at the rate of one dollar for every member at the occurrence of such disability or death enrolled in the books of the Association as a paying member of that class of which such disabled or deceased member was at that time a member ; provided that if a member has received the said fifty cent rate, then such legal representative shall not be entitled to receive said one dollar but instead thereof, a fifty cent rate only."

Article 8 states that "the mode of raising the funds of the Association shall be, by an entrance fee, payable by each applicant for membership, by the payment of fifty cents by each member on the call of the secretary on the occurrence of any such bodily disabilities of a member and by the payment of one dollar by each member on the call of the secretary on the death of a member."

Article 9 states that "ample security shall be given by the Association for the safety of its funds by the parties interested (? intrusted) with the same."

The 10th and last article of the declaration states "the details for carrying out the purpose and object of the Association shall be specified in its Constitution, By-laws, Rules and Regulations, a printed copy of which, marked A, and certified by the president and secretary of the Association, together with a general statement, marked B, of the nature and amount of all the property, real and personal, held by or in trust of the said Association are hereby filed."

The Act of 1884, 47 Vict., Cap. 27, s. 3, (continued as R.S.O., 1887, c. 172, s. 19), empowered a Society upon the order of a High Court or County Court Judge to change its corporate name or to change "any of the purposes contained in the original certificate or declaration of incorporation." On the 22nd February, 1890, the Association availed itself of that section to alter its corporate name to the "Canadian Masonic Mutual Benefit Association," but up to the present the Association has made no further or other alteration in the original declaration just recited.

5. From the report of the Medical Referee, Dr. V. A. Brown, on page 3 of Exhibit 35, it appears that up to 1875 the members were admitted into this insurance Association without any medical examination, and that, in the six years 1872 to 1877, inclusive, 102 deaths had occurred, 31 dying of consumption. This want of selection in the first lives insured aggravated the erroneous plan of insurance, and soon brought the Association into financial difficulties. In 1876 (Exhibit 33), at the fourth annual meeting held on 26th January, various insurance schemes were proposed and voted down—among others I find a proposal to create a Class B by taking selected lives out of Class A, ($1,000 policies), application fees and monthly calls being graded according to age. This scheme was lost, 606 nays to 321 yeas. The same Exhibit (33), page 3, mentions that the creation of a reserve fund was discussed at the annual meetings of 1874 and 1875, but that nothing was done until the annual meeting of 24th January, 1877, when (Exhibit 34, pages 3, 4) a scheme for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a permanent reserve fund was brought down by a committee and carried by 762 yeas to 130 nays, and was made part of the Constitution and By-laws. As much of the evidence taken in the present proceedings turns upon vested rights in the reserve fund thus established, I shall extract from Exhibit 34 the report of the committee setting out the scheme of reserve:

"The committee appointed to consider and report upon the several schemes propounded, of which notices have been given, for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a permanent reserve fund for the Association, beg leave to report as follows:

"1st. They have amended all the various proposals set forth in the notices laid before the directors, pursuant to the 20th Article of the Constitution, and they hereby beg leave, unanimously, to recommend that Articles 4 and 16 of the Constitution be repealed and the following substituted therefor:

"2nd. The membership shall consist of those affiliated Masons who join the Association in pursuance of this Constitution, without limit as to number.

"3rd. That each member shall pay the sum of one dollar on the call of the secretary, made in accordance with the by-law, on the death of any member of the Association, and the sum of fifty cents on the call of the secretary, to meet the claims of disabled members of the Association, in like accordance with the by-laws

"4th. That all sums received by the secretary over $2,000 on any such calls on death of members, or $1,000 on calls on disability, shall be placed to the credit of the reserve fund, to be used for the purpose of keeping down and reducing the calls for death and disability.

"5th. That when in any one year the said calls exceed one and a half per cent. of the membership, such excess shall be supplied by and taken out of the reserve fund.

"6th. That all surplus of the reserve fund, not required for the uses aforesaid, shall be invested and kept invested in advantageous and safe securities to answer the objects of the Association.

"7th. That the amount to be paid out of moneys received from calls on members shall be at the rate of four-fifths of eighty per cent. on such receipts; but the sum of $2,000 only shall be paid on the death of any member, and the sum of $1,000 only shall be paid on the disability of any member.

"8th. That any member of this Association who has been a member thereof for a period of ten years and over, and who shall prove to the entire satisfaction of the board of directors that he is not in a position to pay further calls, shall receive a compensation that may be decided on by said board; such amount of compensation to be held by the board of directors in trust for him till the date of his death, together with the interest (at the same rate as received by the Association for moneys invested by them) that may have accumulated on said sum or sums during the time it may have been held by the Association, and in no case to exceed the amount paid by him to the Association. This clause to apply to all members in good standing at this date, and to date from January 24th, 1877; and further, said proofs of inability to pay said call must be confirmed by the W. Master and secretary of the lodge to which such member belongs and bear the seal of said lodge, so that the board of directors may arrive at proper and satisfactory proofs to said inability."

6. In Exhibit 35, "Sixth Annual Report," dated London, 31st December, 1877, the directors state that "The Reserve Fund," being established and augmented since last annual meeting, has given that "stability" which was heretofore considered advisable. And from the financial statement December 31st, 1877, in the same exhibit I find the reserve fund stated at $18,538.25.

7. In 1885 financial difficulties were again confronting the directors. In a circular dated May 26th, 1885, (Exhibit 38, also in Minute Book (Exhibit 9, p. 138) the directors frankly admit the failure of the level assessment system and propose serious changes in the constitution, if indeed the changes did not also amount to a breach of the charter. The old certificates for $2,000 insurance were to be cancelled and new certificates to be issued for $500, $1,000 or $1,500 at the option of the applicant; and assessments graded according to age were to be levied. The scheme was submitted to the adjourned annual meeting held on the 14th October, 1885, only 46 members being present and holding 240 proxies. (Exhibit 41, p. 2, also Minute Book (Exhibit 9), p. 165.) The amendments to the constitution were declared carried on a vote of 228 to 11. (Exhibit 41, p. 5.) Whether the amendments were legally made was at the time a matter of great doubt, Exhibit 9, p. 257 et seq.; but nine years' acquiescence now renders it unnecessary to consider that question. It was upon the faith of these new provisions that nearly all the certificate-holders now constituting Class A surrendered their certificates entitling them to $2,000 insurance and accepted new certificates for reduced sums. I here set out the provisions themselves which became incorporated with the constitution as sections 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24:

"16. To pay death claims the directors shall from time to time, as may be necessary, levy assessments upon all members according to the following scale per $1,000:

Grade.	Age.	Death.	Expenses.	Reserve.
A .....	21 to 25	$ c. 0 68	$ c. 0 12	$ c. 0 17
B .....	26 to 30	0 77	0 12	0 19
C .....	31 to 35	0 86	0 12	0 22
D .....	36 to 40	0 96	0 12	0 24
E .....	41 to 45	1 09	0 12	0 27
F .....	46 to 50	1 27	0 12	0 32
G .....	51 to 55	1 60	0 12	0 40
H .....	56 and over	2 00	0 12	*

*For present members only.

“(Assessments on present members shall be based on their age at the time of joining.)”

“18. There shall be three funds: (1) The general fund; (2) the expense fund; (3) the reserve fund, the accounts of which shall be kept separate; all assessments for death claims shall be credited to the general fund, and all death and disability claims paid therefrom; the expense, assessment, admission fees, fines and new certificate fees shall be placed to the credit of the expense fund, and the expenses of the Association shall be paid thereout, and the directors shall, when occasion may require, levy additional expense assessments, so that the expense fund shall be sufficient to pay all the expenses of the Association.

“19. There shall be placed to the credit of the reserve fund the moneys of the Association now on hand, whether invested or otherwise, and the directors shall invest the said fund and its accumulations in safe securities; the assessments for reserve shall be placed to the credit of this fund.

“20. Any one who is a member of this Association on the 24th day of January, 1877, or any one who thereafter may become a member thereof, and who remains such member for at least ten years, and who at any time thereafter becomes unable to pay such further calls, such member shall be credited in the books of this Association with such a sum of money—not, however, exceeding the amount paid by him upon calls under Clause 16—as the board of directors may determine. The sum of money thus credited shall bear interest at the same rate as received by this Association upon investments to the date of the death of such member, and the same shall be payable upon the death of such member in like manner and upon like conditions as moneys are paid under Clause 18. Provided any brother in good standing on the 14th of October, 1885, shall receive a paid policy on demand for the amount paid in by him, and any present member who desires to remain in full standing, but through inability may be unable to meet his calls in full, said balance thereof unpaid may be charged against him, and at his death shall be deducted with interest from the amount of his claim as the board of directors may determine.”

“21. After the year 1890 the yearly revenue of the reserve fund shall be applied in reduction of death and disability assessments, provided that no member shall participate in such reduction until after the expiry of five years from the date of his certificate.

“22. The assessment for reserve shall be paid by new members for five years, and by present members who have not held a certificate for five years for the unexpired portion of the five years.

“23. Upon the death of a member in good standing the directors shall pay the amount of such member's certificate to the person or persons legally entitled to receive the same, proper evidence being furnished them of such death and of the legal status of the person or persons applying for payment.

“24. Present members (that is, those whose certificates are dated before the fourteenth day of October, 1885,) shall receive new certificates for $500 or $1,000, or both, at their option, such option to be communicated to the secretary before the first day of January, 1886. Until a present member expresses his option, his present certificate shall be considered to call for $1,200, and he will be assessed for that amount; such present member, when he communicates his option to the secretary, shall also state the name or names of the person or persons to whom the amount of his new certificate is to be paid, as provided by Clause 13.” (Exhibit 9, p. 105; Exhibit 41.)

8. Several of the members (Minute Book (Exhibit 9), p. 182) having applied for paid-up policies under the above proviso to section 20, the secretary was instructed to write them that applications for paid-up policies cannot be entertained until 24th January, 1887; and that the clause added to section 20 “was only provisional.” However, on the 17th February, 1886, (Ibid, p. 217) an actual settlement by way of paid-up policy was made in the case of R. Smith, who had paid in death assessments to the amount of $236 and received a paid-up policy for $216.20. The Minute Book (Exhibit 9, p. 219) gives the mode of computation which is of importance as showing what in 1886 was considered by the directors an equitable basis of settling a certificate-holder's interest in the reserve fund.

The certificate-holder in question had paid 236 death assessments at $1 each . . . $ 236 00
 Less 20 per cent. ("the usual reduction on all claims") . . . $47 20
 Less expenses . . . . . 25 00

$163 80

Add interest (simple) at 4 per cent. for eight years (the member's expectancy) . . . 52 40

Paid-up policy for . . . . . $216 20

If the certificate-holder desired cash the directors treated the $216 20 as an obligation maturing in eight years, and were willing to give the present value at the current rate of interest. The same mode of computation was adopted as a guide in future cases. (Ibid, p. 217.) Nevertheless the next applicants (Ibid, pp. 222, 223, 231) were informed that the matter of paid-up policies was postponed to 1887. At next annual meeting (9th February, 1887, Ibid, p. 273) the paid-up policy proviso was suspended by resolution until the following annual meeting (8th February, 1888)—when apparently without notice given of such an intended alteration in the constitution the paid-up policy proviso was left out altogether. (Ibid, 515.) The minutes (Ibid, p. 321) state that some of the members at the meeting "asked about paid-up policies when the president referred them to the new constitution just passed. No provision for such."

9. At the same annual meeting (8th February, 1888, Ibid, p. 321) and also apparently without notice a resolution was carried creating a second class to be called B "on a similar basis to the one in operation at the present."

The charter of the Association (Supra, paragraph 4) required that before Class B could be established there be at least 2,500 members in Class A. It was admitted by the witnesses for the Association that when Class B was established Class A did not contain 2,500 members, nor half of that number, but it was said that in some prior years Class A contained 2,500 or more, and that therefore the provision in the charter was complied with. If the facts as to the early membership of Class A were as alleged this would not justify the creation of Class B in 1888. But as a matter of fact the membership in Class A never reached 2,500. From the various official documents of the Association I find that the membership was as follows :

*(Includes Class A and Class B.)

(Of evidence of Secretary, Stenog. Rept., p. 63, et seq.; and evidence of President, Ibid., pp. 79, 84.)

According to the records of the Association the greatest number of members at any time in Class A was 2,250, which was reached in 1875, after which the membership declined until at December 31, 1887, it had fallen to 1,135, and in the following December, notwithstanding the accession of members in the new Class B, the total membership in both classes was only 1,079. So that on the 8th February, 1888, when Class B was created, Class A had not (as required by the Charter of the Association), 2,500 members, nor even half that number. For the Society it is argued that Article 6 of the Charter, or Declaration (paragraph 4 supra), was unnecessarily inserted and was not binding on the Association. But Section 1 (5) of the enactment under which the declaration was filed says that the Society, in addition to certain enumerated particulars, shall set forth in its declaration "such other particulars and provisions as the Society may think necessary, not being contrary to law." When a Society considered certain provisions necessary as safeguarding the rights and interests of members, the Act (as I read it), enabled the Society to make them binding by setting them out in the declaration. From the fact that the Association set out specifically in the 6th Article as a condition precedent to the creation of Class B the requirement that Class A shall contain 2,500 members, the Association must, in the language of the Act, have considered that a necessary provision. The then members of Class A, being generally elderly men, may well have foreseen what the evidence shows to have in fact occurred, viz., that unless Class A attained vigorous growth the creation of a new Class would check, and would, in the end, altogether arrest the growth of Class A, and thus the average age and average mortality of Class A would continually increase and throw heavy burdens upon the survivors of Class A. Section 6 of the Declaration therefore prohibited any new Class from being formed until Class A had a membership of 2,500; and Section 10 of the declaration limits the Constitution to working out the details of the purpose and object of the Association as stated in the declaration.

10. The whole proceedings, with reference to Class B, from its inception to the present, appear to be tainted with illegality. Mr. Flock, Q.C., legal adviser to the Association, repeatedly attempted, as appears from the Minute Books (Exhibits 9 and 10), to keep the Association within the lines of the law. Under his advice, on the 4th April, 1888, the directors passed a rule (Exhibit 9, p. 359; Exhibit 11, at end), requiring as to Classes A and B "the funds of each Class to be kept separate and distinct." Again, on January 9, 1889 (Exhibit 9, p. 354) a resolution was passed by the Board "that all expenses pertaining to Class B be charged direct to said Class."

But in spite of legal advice and of the rules of the board the moneys of the two Classes have, all along until now, been kept in a common bank account, by means of which Class B has been continually drawing upon Class A until the principal of the gross debts now due by B to A has reached $12,000 or more. Though the resolution purporting to establish Class B (paragraph 9, supra) required it to be established on a similar basis to A, Class B was in fact established on a wholly dissimilar basis. A was then and still is conducted on the assessment system with an unlimited liability to calls; B was from the beginning (Min. Book, Exhibit 9, p. 336) and still is conducted on the system of fixed premiums, with no further liability. (Exhibit 11, p. 28; Evidence of Secretary, Stenog. Rpt., p. 105.) The fixed premiums in Class B have proved inadequate to cover disbursements; there has been an annual deficit from the beginning, and Class A, already overburdened with its heavy mortality, has also been assessed for the deficit in Class B. Though the accession of younger lives to A was stopped by the creation of B (Stenog. Rept., pp. 83-4) and the whole effort of the managing officers seems to have been directed to obtaining recruits for B, yet the salaries, rent, fees of officials and general office expenses of both Classes have been always charged to and paid by Class A exclusively. (Evidence of Secy., Sten. Rpt., p. 65, et seq.; also p. 94; evidence of President, Sten. Rpt., p. 76.)

At the annual meeting of the 12th February, 1890 (Exhibit 9, p. 379), some one bluntly asked the question: "How Class B got funds to carry on its work?" "The president, in answering, said Class B borrowed from Class A," and (the debt) would be paid back shortly to Class A. (See also evidence of President. Sten. Rpt., p. 80.) Since that date the salary of the special canvasser employed for Class B, and some smaller items, special to Class B, have been nominally charged against B, but the deficits in even this special account have been paid out of the funds of A; and the principal of this debt now due by B to A exceeds $6,000 (Exhibit 17, p. 22; also Sten. Rpt., p. 95.)

11. In Class A the average age of members has reached 60.8 years (Exhibit 23) and the death assessments have become so burdensome that many, even of the oldest members, have been unable to keep up their payments, and have forfeited both their insurance and all their interest in the reserve. For the annual meeting, which was to meet on the 10th February, 1894, notice of motion was given by Dr. Cowan (Exhibit 18) that he would move to wind up Class A and distribute the reserve among the members. When the annual meeting assembled the directors brought down a report (Exhibit 17) which strongly censured Dr. Cowan's notice of motion to wind up, and advocated the continuance of the Association on the then basis. From the Minute Book (Exhibit 10, pp. 61-2), I find that the annual meeting resolved itself into committee of the whole to consider the directors' report, and that while in committee a motion was carried not to receive the report, but to give it a three months' hoist; but that when the annual meeting received this resolution from committee of the whole, an amendment was carried that the members of the Association meet again at the call of the president not later than the 24th May, 1894, and that in the meantime a committee appointed for the purpose "meet as soon as possible and evolve some plan by which the assured in the Association may be placed on a satisfactory basis." Then a motion was passed continuing the president, vice-president and directors in office "until the adjourned meeting."

12. From the minutes of the committee thus appointed (Exhibit 10, p.p. 66 (1), 66 (2), 67, 67 (1), 67 (2), 67 (3), 70 (1), 70 (2)), it is evident that the committee spent much thought and labor upon various schemes of relief. Despairing of continuing the Association upon the existing basis, they invited tenders from life insurance companies to assume the contracts of the Association in consideration of receiving the assets, including the reserve fund. When they failed in this negotiation they submitted to Mr. J. G. Richter as actuary, the question upon what terms respectively could the Association undertake to pay to the beneficiary of each certificate holder (1) $1,000 at death, or (2) $100 per annum for 10 years after death of assured. Mr. Richter reported (Exhibit 23), and showed in an accompanying schedule (Exhibit 24) the annual premiums severally payable by the members according to their age. Of course the actuary proceeded upon the well settled data used by life insurance companies, and as the certificate holders here were nearly all old men, the annual premium, instead of being less than the assessments complained of, was, in most cases, much greater, and considering the straitened circumstances of many of the oldest members, was in effect prohibitive.

13. The committee, and then the directors, adopted Mr. Richter's scheme. Thereupon what the secretary's notice (Exhibit 21), called "the adjourned annual meeting," i.e., an alleged adjournment of the meeting held on the 14th February, 1894, was summoned for the 22nd May, 1894. This notice was dated the 11th May, only eleven days before the meeting. It did not state the hour of meeting, nor the business to be transacted; nor was it accompanied by a form of proxy so as to enable a member to exercise his franchise without being personally present (Stenographic Report, p. 18 and p. 42). The resolution passed, or purporting to be passed, at the meeting of the 22nd May (Exhibit 10, p. 72 (2) Article 6 of resolution moved by Mr. Creasor) admittedly amended the Constitution in the most vital particulars and extinguished contractual rights that had been created under the Charter and the existing Constitution. If it was competent for the Association at all to make such an amendment, it must have been done under Section 24 of the Constitution (Exhibit 11, p. 13) which provides: "This Constitution may be amended at any of the annual meetings of the Association by a proxy or personal vote of at least two-thirds of the members present thereat, provided that no such amendment shall be proposed or considered unless notice thereof shall have been sent in writing to the Board of Directors, addressed to the secretary, at least two months before the date of the annual meeting at which the same is intended to be brought up for consideration, and a copy of such proposed amendment shall have been sent by the secretary of this Association to every member thereof at least thirty days before such annual meeting is to be held, and it shall be the duty of the secretary to send such copy to each member.

“A proposed amendment, of which notice has been given, may be amended by the members at the annual meeting, and a motion to that effect will be in order without further notice.”

14. Formalities precedent to the destruction of rights are not merely directory, but imperative, and must be strictly observed. The leading case is Garden Gully, &c., Mining Coy. v. McLister. L. R., 1 App. Ca., 39; see also Bottomley's case, L. R., 16 Ch. D., 685, per Jessel, M. R.; Alexander v. Simpson, 43 Ch. D., 139; and the older cases, Naylor v. S. Devon Ry., 1 De. G. Sm. 32; Catchpole v. Ambergate Ry., 1 E. & B., 111; Dalton v. Midland Ry., 13 C. D., 474; Hinbeach Coal Co. v. Teague, 5, H. & N., 451. But it is said, as to the hour of meeting, that the annual meeting is by Section 6 of the Constitution (Exhibit 11, p. 9) appointed to commence at 2 p.m.; that the meeting held on the 22nd May was only an adjournment or continuation of the meeting held on the 14th February; and that, being an adjournment the defects in the notice are of no consequence, because no notice whatever of the adjourned meeting was legally necessary; also, as to the non issue of proxy papers, it is argued that forms were mailed to the members for the meeting of the 14th February, and were not used at that meeting because, as it happened, no poll vote or ballot was taken on any question at that meeting. As against all this, however, we have the practice of the Association itself as seen from its Minute Book (Exhibit 9; and evidence of President, Stenog. Rpt., p. 90, et seq.). For example, in 1885, what was called an adjournment of the annual meeting was held on the 14th of October to receive and consider a report of committee appointed to revise the scheme of insurance. The full details of the scheme proposed by the committee, and to be considered by the adjourned meeting were set out in notices issued by the Board of Directors more than two months before the adjourned meeting (Exhibits 38, 39, 40). And as to the proxy papers the rule and practice of companies is that a separate proxy for each meeting is requisite, though the second meeting is to be confirmatory of the first and the two meetings are convened by one notice. Palmer, Shareholders' and Directors' Legal Companion, 12th Ed., 1892, p. 63. The by-law of the Association governing the matter is No. 2, Section 5, which is as follows (Exhibit 11, p. 16): “Each member may be represented by proxy at the annual or special meetings of this Association; no member to hold more than 50 votes or proxies, and those 50 not to include more than 25 from brothers not in his own Masonic District; secretary to supply each member with printed forms direct, or by local agents with the notices of such meetings.” The only form supplied by the secretary was (Exhibit 19) one sent with the notice for the annual meeting of 14th February, 1894, and expressed as appointing “Brother——— as my proxy” at the annual meeting to be held on that day. The proxies so limited were actually used (Exhibit 50) on the 22nd May, 1894, and unless the meeting of that day was in the strictest legal sense an adjournment of the meeting of the 14th February, the proxies cast were a nullity. The form of proxy used by the Association under the above by-law demands attestation of the signature; but in several proxy papers there was no attestation, which in Harben v. Phillips, 23 Ch. D. 14, was held by the Court of Appeal fatal; see also Howard v. Hill, 37, W. R., 219. In those cases it was laid down that proxy voting is a contract right to be exercised strictly as the rules of the corporation prescribe; and that the rules governing the matter are not to be regarded as merely directory. Upon examining the proxy papers (Exhibit 50) I have come to the conclusion that some of the forms were filled in with the names of the proxies before the forms were supplied to the members of the Association. If this is so, it was a most improper interference with the free exercise of the member's franchise. In Studdert v. Grosvenor (1880), 33 Ch. D. at 539, Kay, J. observed: “It is obvious that such a course of proceeding would practically give the directors power to determine in such manner as they might think fit any question that may arise at such meeting. Occasionally, it is said, the proxy papers were altered by the insertion by the shareholder of a different name, but the average attendance at the meetings was only about 150 members, and no doubt the majority of the proxies filled up would appoint the directors named in them, and would be sufficient in number to determine any disputed question that might arise. Now, I express without any hesitation, that this is an improper mode of proceeding. The directors have no right to employ the funds of the company to get into their own hands the majority of the voting power."

15. In the case of the present Association complaint has been made that while measures were being concerted and taken to cancel existing policies of insurance, and substitute entirely new contracts, the certificate holders had no exact information given them and were unable to exercise the right of free conference. The letter of the actuary and the report of the committee adopting his proposals were printed and circulated after the meeting of the 22nd of May, but the two pages of letter paper that contained the details of the scheme thus adopted were not printed nor have they since been made accessible to the members. To some who applied for the information the answer was given, that it would cost too much to print these particulars: and that it was sufficient for any member to know what premium under the new scheme he would have to pay. (Stenographic Report p. 40 et seq.) Other members asked access to the roll-book of the Association showing the names and addresses of members so that they may communicate with the others before the meeting of the 22nd May. Though these particulars could easily have been made accessible by hanging up in the office of the Association the printed mailing list, of which a copy has been filed as Exhibit 29, this information, to which the members were, I think, legally entitled, was also refused.

It is clear from the evidence that when the members met on the 22nd May, 1894, they had no exact information as to the important business that was to be considered. Mr. A. M. Brown had been present and active at the meeting of 14th February. He was called by the officers as their witness and gave the following evidence in his examination in chief (Stenog. Rpt. p. 176):

Q. Did you attend the adjourned meeting of the Association in London? A. I did.

Q. How many members did you represent there? A. I think it was 22 or 23 proxies I held. I did not keep any memorandum, but I think it was that.

Q. You did not understand what suggestion was going to be made until you went to the meeting in London, on the 22nd May? A. No; I knew nothing about it until I got to the meeting.

Q. Consequently those who appointed you, were not aware of it? A. No; they were not aware of it at all.

16. The counsel for the complainants contends that the meeting of the 22nd May, 1894, was not an adjournment of the meeting of the 14th February, but was a special general meeting; and, therefore that as admittedly no proper notice was given for a special general meeting, the whole proceedings of the alleged adjourned meeting are a nullity. Coke's definition of adjournment clearly implies a specific day: "Adjournmentum est ad diem dicere sen diem dare" 4 Inst. 27. So the definition in Anderson's Law Dictionary is: "To put off, or defer to another day specified." In all the cases where it has been held that no notice was requisite for the subsequent meeting the first meeting seems to have been adjourned to a day certain; the principle being that persons notified for the first meeting are affected with notice of a continuation of that meeting. Lord Brougham said in Kerr v Wilkie, 6 Jur., N. S. at 385: "If such an adjournment took place, those who were members of the body so adjourning would be bound to take notice of their own proceedings; they might have objected to the adjournment if they were present; or if the adjournment were made by the chairman of the meeting as is done in some cases, those who were not present ought to have been present and taken notice of it."

The notice of a meeting to be good must be absolute, not conditional. In Alexander v. Simpson (1889) affirmed by Court of Appeal L. R. 43, Ch. D. at 141, Chitty, J. said "In my opinion a conditional notice that a meeting will be held is not a good notice." And not only the day but the hour to which the meeting is adjourned should be definitely fixed, and should be entered on the minutes in order to affect members absent from the first with notice of the adjourned meeting. Thompson v. Williams (1888) 76 Cal. 153; 9 Am. St. Rep. 187. But in the present case the first meeting was held on the 14th February, and the so-called adjournment was in effect conditioned upon two contingencies: 1st, that the committee would evolve some substitute scheme of insurance satisfactory to the directors; and secondly that the president would, upon the evolution of a satisfactory scheme, call the members together for some date not later than the 24th May. The very form of the motion passed "that when this general meeting adjourns, it stand adjourned to meet at the call of the president not later than the 24th May next," (Minute Book, Exhibit 10 p. 62) declares that a notice or "call" from the president was necessary to constitute the so-called adjourned meeting; and if such notice or call was necessary then that meeting does not possess the legal qualities or characteristics of an "adjourned" meeting; for such notice or call meant an individual notice to every member of the Association.

For the reasons above given I think that the meeting of the 22nd May was not in the legal sense an adjournment or continuation of the meeting of the 14th February, but was in law and in fact a new meeting, or in other words was a special general meeting of the Association.

17. Assuming, however, that the meeting of the 22nd May was in the proper legal sense an adjournment of the meeting of the 14th February and was competent to transact business under the notice given for the 14th February, the meeting of the 22nd May could, at the most, only complete the unfinished business of the 14th February. Scadding v. Lorant (1851), 3 H. L. Ca., 418; 15 Jur., 955; (affirming 13 A. & E., N. S. 706;) Kerr v. Wilkie, 6 Jur., N. S., 383. At the meeting of the 14th February, the motion of which Dr. Cowan had given notice was not brought forward, and was not laid over for future consideration. (Exhibit 10, pp. 61, 62.) Assuming, however, also that that notice was "unfinished business" within the meaning of the leading cases just cited, and assuming still further that under the Constitution of the Association the notice of motion given by Dr. Cowan for the 14th February was, without re-notice or revivor, good notice for the meeting held on 22nd May, I have now to find what was done upon that notice of motion.

18. The meeting of the 22nd May commenced at 3 p. m. (Min. Book, Exhibit 9, p. 72 (1), and of paragraph 14, supra.) Dr. Cowan moved the following resolution of which he had given notice for the meeting of the 14th February: "That the Board of Directors be and are hereby instructed to take all necessary steps, as expeditiously as possible, to wind up the affairs of the Association as far as Class A is concerned, and that all the reserve and all other moneys belonging to Class A, after all legitimate claims are paid, be paid to the members of Class A then in good standing, in proportion to the amount paid by each to the Association." Then the report of the Committee containing the new scheme of insurance was brought forward as an amendment to Dr. Cowan's motion. Of that scheme, as being admittedly an amendment of the Constitution, section 24 of the Constitution (Exhibit 11, p. 13 is cited, supra, par. 13) apparently required specific notice to have been given to the members two months before the meeting, and such notice admittedly was not given. But the last paragraph of that section provides: "A proposed amendment, of which notice has been given, may be amended by the members at the annual meeting, and a motion to that effect will be in order without further notice." Mr. Flock, Q.C., argued for the officers of the Association that Dr. Cowan's motion was in effect one to amend the Constitution by discontinuing a certain condition of things established by sections 17, et seq., of the Constitution (Exhibit 11, p. 12) and that the report of committee was a proper amendment as being a particular negative of Dr. Cowan's motion, the main motion being to wind up Class A and the amendment being in effect not to wind up Class A but to merge it in a new scheme of insurance. To this Dr. MacLaren, Q. C., for the complainants, replies in effect that Dr. Cowan's proposal was not really a motion to amend the Constitution at all, but was res integra, a matter never before passed upon by the Association and therefore wholly unrepresented in the Constitution; and that, even if Dr. Cowan's motion were as contended by the other side, the report of the committee dealt wholly in new subject matter, had no relevancy to Dr. Cowan's motion, and ought not to have been received as an amendment to that motion. I think that the nearest analogy in English company law would be where, in an "extraordinary general meeting" of shareholders, a winding-up resolution is moved for the purpose of commencing voluntary liquidation. Articles of association frequently make provision for winding up the company upon the occurrence of certain contingencies; but, even where this is the case, the winding-up resolution is not treated as an amendment to the articles of association (see form of notice of meeting and of winding-up resolution in Emden's Winding-Up Companies, 4th Ed, p. 710). In the case of the present Association no provision for winding up or for distributing the assets is made in the Constitution. The Charter and Constitution deal with the Association as a going concern, and none of the articles would be applicable to winding-up proceedings.

Dr. Cowan's resolution in its form did not purport to amend the Constitution, was not moved as an amendment to the Constitution, and was not in fact such an amendment, and therefore for its passage required a bare majority. But the new scheme of insurance proposed by the committee (Exhibit 25) was admittedly an amendment to the Constitution, and as such it must have a two-thirds majority before it could be legally declared carried (par. 13 supra). This scheme of insurance was moved as an amendment to Dr. Cowan's winding-up resolution, because only in this way could it without the two months' notice be brought before the meeting at all. Being received by the chairman as an amendment to the main motion, it was put to the vote first. At this stage the chairman, following as it seems the practice of former meetings, appointed the two scrutineers, and selected for this purpose the two auditors of the company. The members, ought, of course, to have been allowed to exercise their undoubted right of electing the scrutineers. Exception was taken to the chairman's action, and by way of mending matters a third scrutineer was elected to act with the other two, though the Constitution authorized only two scrutineers, both to be elected. In the vote Class A and Class B voted together. Upon the ballot being taken and the votes counted, it was announced that the amendment (that is the report of the Insurance Committee) was carried "by a very large majority" (Min. Book, Exhibit 9, p. 72 (1)), which must have meant to the hearers that the report had been carried by a large excess over the two-thirds majority requisite for its bare passage. Then, with a view, as it was said, of making the vote unanimous, the amendment was again put to the meeting by open vote, the amendment recapitulating under five articles the new scheme of insurance and ending with article 6 as follows: "6. That the Constitution be amended in accordance with the above," an express acknowledgment that the resolution amended the Constitution and therefore required for its passage at least a two-thirds majority. Whether the amendment as thus re-submitted was or was not declared carried or lost the minutes do not record (Exhibit 10, p. 72 (2)), the next entry being: "The election of directors was then proceeded with." It is also noticeable that, in the circular (Exhibit 25) mailed to each member after the meeting and purporting to give an account of these proceedings, the secretary, speaking of the first submission of the amendment, states that it "was declared carried"; but as to the re-submission he says: "Resolutions were then moved embodying the terms of the committee's report and to amend the Constitution in accordance therewith," but he does not state that the amendment so re-submitted was carried or declared carried. As Kekewich, J., said in a recent case, "when directors insufficiently or inaccurately record their proceedings they cannot reasonably complain of inferences different from those which they allege to be right (Re Liverpool Household Stores (1893), 59 L. J. Ch. 616)."

19. It is now admitted (Sten. Rep., p. 187, et seq.) that the amendment did not upon the ballot receive the two-thirds majority as the Constitution beyond doubt required (par. 13, supra). But it is argued that, on the appeal for unanimity the amendment as re submitted (consisting of the last paragraph of the report broken up into six articles—cf. Exhibit 25 and Min. Book, Exhibit 10. p. 72 (2) ) was then carried and that the irregularity was thus cured. The official record does not claim that the amendment as thus re submitted was then carried, and if it did, it would not mend the matter, for the votes claimed to be a ratification were given upon a wrongful representation of the fact. The members who had voted for winding up had been told in effect that they were in a helpless minority and were asked not to further oppose the amendment. But the fact was that those votes had defeated the amendment.

20. The amendment having been defeated (though the contrary was announced) and the main motion (the motion to wind up) not having been directly voted upon, the question is, had these proceedings any legal result? When a meeting has before it only two propositions, the main motion and an amendment to the main motion, and the amendment is the direct negative of the main motion, and the amendment is put and lost, it has been held that the main motion may be treated as carried without being directly voted upon. Reg. v. Roberts (1863), 3 B. & S., 495, (Cockburn, C. J., Wightman, Crompton, and Blackburn, JJ.) If, however, the amendment is not a direct negative of the main motion, the affirmative and negative votes should be taken on each. Elt v Burial Board, St. Mary's, Islington, 1 Kay (1885) 449; Reg. v. Vicar, etc., of Hammersmith (1862), 3 B. & S. 504 (Lord Campbell, C. J., Coleridge, Erle, and Compton, JJ.). In the present case the main motion was to wind up; the amendment was not the direct negative simply, i.e., not to wind up. It was apparently regarded as a particular negative, viz., not to wind up but to alter our plans as recommended in a certain report. This amendment was defeated, but it would not legally follow that the main motion was carried, for a member might quite consistently vote both against the amendment and the main motion. The whole proceedings in relation to both resolutions had I think no legal efficacy.

21. The result, therefore, is that the rights and liabilities of members have not been altered by anything done either at the meeting of the 14th February, 1894, or at the so-called adjourned meeting of the 22nd May, 1894. If any of the certificate holders have died, their beneficiaries are entitled to claim, and the surviving certificate holders are liable to be assessed for the claims, just as if neither of those meetings had been held.

22. Though the resolution proposing the new scheme of insurance was defeated the directors at once proceeded to put the scheme into operation. A circular (Exhibit 25) bearing date, London, May 22nd, 1894, signed by the secretary, was mailed to each member with a copy of the report of committee (Exhibit 22) "together with a copy of the actuary's letter (Exhibit 23), but exclusive of the schedules referred to therein which are very lengthy." The scheme extinguished existing insurance certificates of $1,500 and $1,200 and make $1,000 the maximum; but existing certificates for $1,000 were not reduced. This was an obvious discrimination against holders of large certificates, many of whom had under the violent proceedings of 1885 had their certificates cut down from $2,000 to $1,500 or $1,200. The new scheme increased the premium even upon the reduced certificates. As one witness put it, while his security was reduced by one-third the new premium upon the reduced security was increased to one third more than had ever previously been paid on the larger certificates. Instead of an ordinary life policy for $1,000 the certificate holder might, under the new scheme, elect to take a certificate for an annuity of $100 payable for ten years after his death to his beneficiary. As this was reckoned equivalent to an ordinary life policy of $810, payable in one sum on the death of the assured, the premium would of course be correspondingly less. As between these two policies the members were required to make their election on blank forms inclosed (Exhibits 26 and 27) and to surrender their present certificates before a date named in the circular.

23. The date named for members residing in Ontario was the 15th June; for those in Quebec, the 30th June; for those in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, the 1st July. (Sten. Rep. 19.) The Association contains two classes of members—Class A numbering 723; Class B, 674. Of Class A the mailing list (Exhibit 29) shows that nearly 600—594 is I believe the exact number—reside in Ontario, and all those Ontario members should therefore, under the penalty of forfeiting all rights in the Association, have made their election "prior to the 15th June" pursuant to the secretary's circular (Exhibit 25). According to the evidence of the secretary (Exhibit 52 and Sten. Rep., pp. 130, 131) only 268 of the 594 made their election by the 20th June. In Class B the case was still worse. Of that class which contained 674 members, only 35 (Exhibit 53 and Sten. Rep., p. 131) had made their election; or altogether only 303 out of 1,397 certificate holders; and from the letters or memoranda that were sent in with the election paper it is apparent that several of those complying with the secretary's requisition did so only under strong protest and mere compulsion. It is obvious that even if the new scheme had been technically carried in the meeting of the 22nd May, any scheme leading up to such wholesale forfeiture of the poorer members' rights and confiscation by the wealthier members must have raised the most serious doubt whether the Association was entitled to be continued on the Friendly Society Register. The Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, requires (Sec. 8 (1)) of such a society to be managed and operated according to the true intent of the declaration filed under The Benevolent Societies Act (R. S. O. 1887, c. 167) or any of the Acts consolidated thereby and according to the true intent of the Act under which the declaration was filed, i.e., in this case, according to the true intent of the declaration cited supra par. 4, and according to the true intent of 34 Vict., c. 82, (O), which in section 1 defines its intent as enabling persons by joining together to make "provision by means of contributions, subscriptions, donations or otherwise against sickness, unavoidable misfortune or death, and for relieving the widows and orphan children of members deceased." Some of the older members in this Association have, often by great self-denial, kept up their payments and have now paid nearly $800 into its funds, and when in the course of nature those dependent upon them would soon receive the provision which their self-denial had insured their certificates are now without notice cut down and the premium upon the reduced certificate is at the same time increased to a rate that for the poorer members is prohibitive.

24. Even if the proceedings had been taken under the Constitution with the most technical regularity and were so far valid, instead of being as in this case wholly irregular and invalid, the question would still remain, Is an Association which deals thus with its members a friendly society admissible under the law of Ontario? I may here repeat what I said in a former case: "Any scheme of society so contrived as to promote lapses of certain members' certificates for the aggrandizement of certain other members would, if legitimate at all, be 'a society conducted as a trading or mercantile venture or for purposes of commercial gain' and therefore (55 Vict., cap. 39, sec. 4 (2d)) inadmissible to registry as a friendly society. Under any such scheme the profits of persisting members are deliberately created out of the confiscation of the moneys of equally deserving members whom the unjust conditions of the contract have forced to the wall. To be admissible to registry the purpose of the Society must be 'a provident purpose' within the meaning of The Benevolent Societies Act. Neither as to the persisting nor as to the discontinuing members can a scheme which is based upon unjust gain and unjust loss be properly designated a provident purpose."

25. All parties seem to be quite agreed that it is financially impossible to continue the Association any longer upon the old basis; and numerous meetings of the Insurance Committee and two general meetings of the Association itself, all held during the past six months, have failed to evolve any scheme that commands the confidence or assent of the constitutional majority of the members. As to Class A: Exhibit 24 shows that, of the 723 members constituting that class, 222 are above 64 years of age; that 96 are 70 years or upwards. The average age among the whole 723 members is 60.8 years. (Exhibit 23.) The annual rate of mortality according to the table laid before the last annual meeting had reached 40 per 1,000. (Exhibit 17, p. 12.) Exhibit 54 shows that at the 20th June, 1894, there were death claims unpaid amounting to $13,300; and I understand that even while these proceedings are pending additional deaths have occurred.

Then as to Class B: It is clear upon the evidence, that from its inception to the present, it has never been able to pay its own way, the working expenses of Classes A and B having been thrown wholly upon Class A. Even for expenses especial to itself it has been constantly overdrawing upon A, the amount of these overdrafts being now admittedly over $6,000. As to the whole indebtedness of B to A it would, I think, reach if not exceed $12,000. Then for claims due, or now accruing due, B owes admitted death claims amounting to $5,000. This would make $17,000 of liabilities. How it is to be met it is impossible to see. Class B has not been established under the Constitution but under a kind of prospectus printed as an addendum to the Constitution (Exhibit 11 sub finem). The contract in Class B is (Sten. Rpt., p. 105; Exhibit 11, p. 28) that the member pays a fixed sum as premium in each year, and that he has no further liability. The fixed premium having been already paid, how is Class B to meet its liabilities? Its reserve is all spent (Evidence of Secretary, Sten. Rpt., p. 100) and its sole asset consists of $1,872.79 made up of assessments due by members. (Exhibits 54 and 55 and evidence of Secretary, Sten. Rpt., pp. 132-3.)

26. The registry of the Canadian Masonic Mutual Benefit Association is hereby absolutely revoked and cancelled, and, pursuant to Section 59 of The Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, I hereby direct and require Andrew Ellis and all other persons having the accounts, account books, and funds of the said Association in their charge, custody, possession or power forthwith to comply with the provisions of Section 53 of the said Act.

Given in triplicate under my hand and the seal of my office this nineteenth day of July, A.D. 1894.

(Signed) J. HOWARD HUNTER, [SEAL.]

4.—REPORT OF JOHN E. HARDING, ESQ., Q. C., MASTER IN THE HIGH COURT AT STRATFORD, IN RE DOMINION PROVIDENT AND ENDOWMENT ASSOCIATION.

NOTE.—Several appeals from this report were taken by the officials of the Association. The appeals were all heard together by Armour, C. J., on the 17th April, 1894. The appellants contested inter alia the constitutionality of the sections of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, which empowered a Master to wind up a corporation. The appeals were dismissed upon this ground and the constitutionality of the sections affirmed. The other questions raised by the appeal were as to the compensation to be allowed to the directors and officers of the Association, and as to the liability of the appellants as contributories. Judgment on these latter questions was reserved.

THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT OF 1892.

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE—CHANCERY DIVISION.

In the matter of the Dominion Provident Benevolent and Endowment Association, an Unregistered Insurance Corporation.

The 28th day of February A.D. 1894.

The Dominion Provident Benevolent and Endowment Association was incorporated on the 23rd day of July, 1889, under the provisions of Chapter 172, R.S.O. 1887, and was in active operation until the 31st day of July, 1893, when the registration of the said Association was cancelled by the Registrar of Friendly Societies. And upon the cancellation of the registration, pursuant to the powers conferred on the Registrar of Friendly Societies, a copy of his certificate having been brought in and duly filed in my office on the 4th day of August, 1893, I proceeded to dispose of the matters referred to me by virtue and in pursuance of the powers conferred upon me by the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, 55 Vict., chap. 39, Ontario, and I find and report as follows :

INTERIM RECEIVER.

1. By virtue of the said certificate cancelling the registry of the said association and of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, one Elijah Kitchen Barnsdale, as the manager-secretary of the said association and acting treasurer, being the officer of the corporation having in his custody, possession or power the accounts, account books and insurance funds of the corporation, became the interim receiver of said unregistered association.

2. The said E. K. Barnsdale, interim receiver, having duly deposited certain of the moneys and securities of the said unregistered association as required by sub-section 2 of section 53 of the said Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, filed in my office his application to be appointed receiver of said association, intituled in the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice in the form provided by sub-section 1 of section 54 of the said Act, and filed the receipts and affidavits required by sub-section 3 of said section 4.

3. On the said 4th day of August, 1893, I issued my certificate of the filing of the documents mentioned in the said section 54 of the said Act, and also issued my order directing one William M. English, of the city of London, physician, a trustee for the said unregistered association, being the person having in his charge, custody, possession or power the bond given by the manager-secretary to the said association, to deliver the said bond forthwith at my office to be filed. And in and by my said certificate of filing I appointed Monday, the 28th day of August, 1893, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at my office in the Court House in the city of Stratford, to hear the application of the said E. K. Barnsdale, interim receiver of the said unregistered insurance corporation.

4. On the 5th day of August, 1893, the notice required by sub-section 2 of section 55 of the said Act was settled, and such notice was, according to my direction, published in the Ontario Gazette on the 12th and 19th days of August, 1893, and in the Daily

Beacon, a newspaper published in the said city of Stratford in the county of Perth, being the place where the head office of the said unregistered insurance corporation was situated at the date of the cancellation of its registry, in its issues of the 9th and 16th days of August, 1893, and a copy of such notice having been delivered at the office of the Registrar of Friendly Societies ten days before the day appointed for the hearing of the said application as required by the said Act.

5. On the 9th day of August, 1893, the said W. M. English, pursuant to my said direction, brought in a personal bond of the said E. K. Barnsdale conditioned under a penalty of $5,000, but without sureties, being the security the said E. K. Barnsdale had given.

6. On the 12th day of August, 1893, the bond of the said E. K. Barnsdale, as interim receiver, was duly filed and approved.

7. Pursuant to my appointment the application for the appointment of the interim receiver as receiver came on for hearing before me, when I proceeded to dispose of the said matter, and thereupon I was attended by the solicitor for the said interim receiver, the solicitor for the Registrar of Friendly Societies and the solicitor for certain of the certificate holders.

I proceeded with the examination of the witnesses produced and sworn before me on the 28th and 29th days of August and the 18th, 19th, 20th and 22nd days of September, 1893, and after hearing argument I find and report as follows :

(a) That the said E. K. Barnsdale was one of the first members or promoters of the said association and signed the declaration of incorporation.

(b) That he with his seven co-trustees were by the constitution adopted by the said association declared to be life members of the executive council, the trustees and officers of the said association to be elected from said executive council only and by the members thereof.

(c) That the said interim receiver was on the 25th day of July, 1889, immediately after the incorporation of the association, elected by his fellow members of the executive council to the office of managing director ; one O. O. Benson, another member of the executive council, being elected secretary, and J. A. Robertson, another member, being elected treasurer of said association on the same day.

(d) That almost from the organization of the association the said E. K. Barnsdale performed the duties of the secretary and treasurer, in addition to his duties as managing director, and he was performing the duties of the manager, secretary, and treasurer at the date of the cancellation of the registry of the association, and became the interim receiver by virtue thereof.

(e) No auditor was appointed by the said association until the 3rd day of July, 1890, when one F. W. Byatt, the business partner and brother-in-law of the said E. K. Barnsdale, was appointed auditor, and a second auditor was not appointed until the 3rd day of May, 1892, when M. D. Dawson, of the city of London, was appointed auditor with the said F. W. Byatt, but no proper or sufficient audit had ever been made of the books and accounts of the association until the cancellation of the registry of the association.

(f) That the said interim receiver had also acted as a member of the executive council of the said association during the whole period of its operations.

(g) That the said interim receiver was at the date of the cancellation of the certificate of the said association a certificate holder in the said association, and was also seeking to collect an alleged claim from said association.

8. On the 5th day of October, 1893, I refused the application of the said interim receiver to be appointed receiver, and refused to discharge him until he had filed and passed his accounts, and I directed him to file his said accounts and to deliver up all books and papers in his possession or custody or under his control.

RECEIVER.

9. On the 11th day of October, 1893, I appointed Malcolm Cameron Molerwell and James Andrew Macfadden to be joint receivers of the said unregistered association, and on the same day filed in my office my certificate appointing them.

10. On the 15th day of November, 1893, the said receivers filed their bonds, which were duly approved.

ACCOUNTS.

11. No sufficient or proper audit having been made of the books and accounts of the said association, and no account of the receipts from the membership fees or the expenses of the said association having been entered in its books, I directed the said E. K. Barnsdale to prepare and file his accounts of said receipts and disbursements of the said association from the date of its incorporation until the date of the cancellation of its certificate of registry.

12. On the 9th day of November, 1893, in pursuance of the Consolidated General Orders of the Supreme Court of Judicature for Ontario, I appointed F. W. Gearing, of the city of Stratford, Esquire, as the solicitor to represent the certificate holders as a class.

13. On the 10th day of November, 1893, the said above mentioned accounts of the association were duly filed in my office, together with the accounts of the interim receiver.

CREDITORS' CLAIMS.

14. On the 17th day of November, 1893, I directed an advertisement for creditors to be published and the certificate holders to be notified by circular to send in their claims.

15. On the same day I duly settled an advertisement for creditors' claims to be sent in by the 7th day of December, to be adjudicated upon on the 8th day of December, 1893, and directed said advertisement to be published in The Stratford Beacon for a period of three weeks, and I also settled the form of notice to be sent to the certificate holders.

16. The said notice was published in the Daily Beacon, a newspaper published in the city of Stratford, in its issues of the 18th, 22nd, 25th, and 29th days of November and the 2nd and 6th days of December, 1893.

17. I have set out in Schedule No. 1 hereunder written a list of the creditors' claims sent in pursuant to the said advertisement.

18. Schedule No. 1 above referred to:

Name of Creditor.	Nature of Claim.	Amount.
S. R. Hesson . . . . .	Director's fees and salary . . . . .	$127 00
M. D. Dawson . . . . .	Auditor's account . . . . .	27 50
F. Pratt . . . . .	Printing account . . . . .	35 25
O. O. Benson . . . . .	Commission account . . . . .	75 12
George Guillet . . . . .	Director's fees . . . . .	14 36
Henry Baker . . . . .	" " . . . . .	34 00
W. M. English . . . . .	" " . . . . .	46 20
E. K. Barnsdale . . . . .	" " and commission . . . . .	172 49
W. F. W. Findlater . . . . .	" " . . . . .	42 60
J. A. Robertson . . . . .	" " . . . . .	13 65
McPherson & Davidson . . . . .	Legal expenses . . . . .	8 00
Empire Printing Company . . . . .	Advertising account . . . . .	17 53
S. R. Hesson and E. K. Barnsdale . . . . .	Money advanced to the Management Fund . . . . .	200 00
F. W. Byatt . . . . .	Auditor's account . . . . .	30 00
Total claims sent in . . . . .		$843 70
H. Smith . . . . .	Director's fees, filed by special leave after expiration of time . . . . .	28 00
Grand total . . . . .		$871 70

19. On the 1st day of August, 1893, the said S. R. Hesson and E. K. Barnsdale discounted a promissory note at the Bank of Commerce and deposited the sum of $200.00 to the credit of the Management Fund, which sum, with the other moneys belonging to the association, was on the 2nd day of August deposited to the credit of the unregistered association.

20. On the 14th day of December, 1893, I heard the evidence of F. Pratt and examined his books and vouchers, and also examined into the claims of Messrs. McPherson & Davidson, and allowed both said claims, and I now set out in Schedule No. 2 hereunder written a list of creditors' claims proved before and allowed by me.

21. Schedule No. 2 above referred to :

Name of Creditor.	Nature of Claim.	Amount.
S. R. Hesson and E. K. Barnsdale.	Discount.	$200 00
F. Pratt.	Printing account.	35 00
McPherson & Davidson.	Legal expenses.	8 00
Total claims allowed by me.		$243 25

22. On the 14th, 19th, 20th, and 22nd days of December, 1893, the said S. R. Hesson, President ; E. K. Barnsdale, Manager-Secretary ; O. O. Benson, General Organizer ; and F. W. Byatt, Auditor, were, according to my directions, examined before me with reference to the accounts and claims presented and set out in Schedule No. 1.

23. Upon considering the evidence of the said parties and examining the exhibits put in and the books and papers on file in my office, I directed all the creditors named in Schedule No. 1, except those named in Schedule No. 2, to be notified by letter, postpaid, addressed to each of them at their post-office address, to file such affidavits as they might be advised in support of their respective claims before ten o'clock in the forenoon of the 8th day of January, 1894, and to attend before me personally at eleven o'clock in the forenoon of the same day, at my office, for adjudication thereon.

24. The said parties were duly notified, and on the 6th day of January, 1894, the parties mentioned in Schedule No. 3 filed affidavits in support of their claims, and duly notified me thereof.

25. Schedule No. 3 above referred to :

Name of Creditor.	Nature of Claim.	Amount.
S. R. Hesson	Balance of fees attending meetings Executive Council.	$ 27 00

W. F. W. Findlater	" " " " " "	42 60
Henry Smith	" " " " " "	28 00
		$386 92

26. On the 8th day of January, 1894, S. R. Hesson, F. W. Byatt, Henry Baker, M. D. Dawson, W. M. English, O. O. Benson, and W. F. W. Findlater appeared either in person or by their solicitors to support their respective claims, and the solicitor for the Registrar of Friendly Societies, the solicitor for the receivers, and the solicitor for the certificate holders also attended.

27. The hearing of evidence in support of and in opposition to the allowance of said claims was proceeded with on the 8th, 11th, 15th, 16th and 17th days of January, 1894, and upon considering said evidence and the exhibits, books and papers filed in my office I find and report as follows with respect to each of said claims.

28. I find and report that S. R. Hesson was the first president of the association having been elected at the meeting held on the 25th day of July, 1889, and continued in that office until the cancellation of the certificate, and was a member of the committee, to draft the constitution, and presented the report of the committee, and also presided at the meeting when the said constitution was adopted.

29. That the said George Guillet was the first vice-president and the said Henry Smith was the second vice-president of the association, and the said president and first and second vice-presidents were members of the executive council of the said association.

The duties of the president as defined by the constitution were to preside at all meetings of the executive council, at the annual meetings and to have a general supervision of the association, to fill all vacancies occasioned by death or otherwise and sign all documents requiring his signature.

The first vice-president was to assist the president and in his absence take his place. And the second vice-president was to assist the president and in the absence of the president and first vice-president to take their place.

By the constitution the said Hesson, Guillet and Smith were life members of the executive council and continued so until the 12th day of July, 1892, when they resigned their life membership and were re-elected members of the executive council for the ensuing year and were again re-elected at the next annual meeting.

It was further provided that the executive council should elect their officers from among themselves at their first meeting after the annual meeting of the association.

The executive council were either by themselves or by a committee, as often as necessary, but at least once a year, to thoroughly examine the books, accounts and management of the affairs of the association and report the exact condition in which they found them for the benefit of all the members.

It was also the duty of the said Hesson, Guillet and Smith to see that the several officers and trustees of the association gave proper and sufficient bonds for the due performance of the duties of their respective offices. And that the said officers and trustees performed their respective duties as set forth in the constitution, and to see that the endowment and reserve funds of the association were not drawn upon or paid out for any other purposes than those for which they were set apart, and to see that all the expenses of the association were paid from the general fund of the association only. And also to see that no change was made in the constitution or the laws relating to the endowment fund till proper notice was given at least thirty days previously to the annual meeting of the certificate holders, at which such change only could be made.

30. I find and report as a fact that the said Hesson, Guillet and Smith both as executive officers and members of the executive council did not perform, nor did any or either of them perform their duties as required by the constitution, in that they allowed the managing director to perform the duties of the secretary from the 19th day of August, 1889, until the 25th day of June, 1891, when the said managing director was appointed manager-secretary. And also permitted the said manager-secretary to perform the duties of the treasurer, the above named J. A. Robertson, during the whole period of the operations of the association, during which period no proper or sufficient bond of the manager-secretary or treasurer or any or either of the trustees was ever given as required by the constitution.

They also allowed large sums to be improperly paid out of the endowment fund to certificate holders surrendering their certificates in excess of the amounts they were entitled to, reducing the amount properly belonging to certificate holders who did not surrender.

They also, together with the other members of the executive council and trustees, paid out of the said endowment fund the sum of $843.96 to infants under the age of fifteen years, or to parties on their behalf, without the legal surrender of the certificates of the said infants, who are still entitled to rank upon the funds of the association for the amounts of their certificates.

They also allowed the business of the association to be carried on during the whole period of its operations without any proper or sufficient audit of the books and accounts of the association. Nor did the said Hesson, Guillet and Smith or the executive council or any committee thereof examine the books, accounts and management of the affairs of the association as required by the constitution.

They also, together with the other members of the executive council, improperly attempted to relieve themselves from the payment of the certificate fee and semi-annual dues by a resolution passed at the meeting of the executive council at which the minutes containing the constitution were confirmed. And the members of the executive council, including the said Hesson, Guillet and Smith, afterwards took out their certificates without paying their entrance fee or certificate fee or their semi-annual dues, and they have never paid any semi-annual dues, contrary to the constitution.

They also allowed both the manager-secretary and the general organizer largely to overdraw their accounts, and the said accounts are still largely overdrawn.

And I disallow and dismiss the claim of the said S. R. Hesson, so far as made up of fees for attending meetings of the executive council, and the claims of the said George Guillet and Henry Smith.

31. As to the balance of the claim of S. R. Hesson, I find and report that the grant of a donation of $100.00 to the president was recommended by the fourth clause of the report of the manager-secretary, exhibit 114, presented at a meeting of the executive council held on the 1st day of August, 1893, after the cancellation of the certificate of registration, it being a mere gratuity or donation made when the executive council knew that the association was in fact insolvent, and also after the executive council had good reason to know that their certificate was about to be cancelled by the Registrar of Friendly Societies. And I dismiss and disallow that part of the claim of S. R. Hesson.

32. I find and report that the claimants W. M. English, Henry Baker and W. F. W. Findlater were members of the executive council and trustees at the time of the cancellation of the certificate of registry, the said English having been elected a member of the executive council and a trustee on the 25th day of July, 1889, and continued in office until the cancellation of the certificate; the said Henry Baker having been elected a member of the executive council and a trustee on the same day and continued in office until the 8th day of October, 1889, when he resigned his office as trustee and remained out of office until the 31st day of May, 1892, when he was again elected a trustee and continued in office till the cancellation of the certificate; the said W. F. W. Findlater was elected a member of the executive council and a trustee on the 12th day of July, 1892, and continued in office until the cancellation of the certificate.

As members of the executive council the said English, Baker and Findlater had the same duty to perform as is above set forth in respect to the said Hesson, Guillet and Smith, and in addition thereto their duties as trustees are defined in the constitution as follows: The trustees shall have charge of all property of the association, they shall approve and hold the bonds of all officers who are required to give bonds, unless otherwise provided for; they shall invest all funds belonging to the endowment and reserve funds placed in their hands by the association in readily convertible securities, government or municipal, that have a stated or well known value; they shall not at any time loan money on personal security; they shall deposit with the secretary for safe keeping all deeds or securities belonging to the association; they shall collect and deposit in the bank to the credit of its proper fund all money derived from investments, carry out the instructions of the executive council in all things, and promptly report all transactions to the secretary in writing. They were also bound to give a good and sufficient bond to the association in the sum of not less than one thousand dollars each for the faithful performance of their duties, which bond was to be approved of by the executive council and deposited with the secretary.

And I find and report that besides neglecting their duty as executive councillors as above mentioned in connection with the said Hesson, Guillet and Smith, the said trustees neglected their duty in not holding and approving the bonds of the officers of the association required to give them; and did not invest the funds placed in their hands in readily convertible securities, government or municipal, that had a stated or well known value, but deposited the same with The Trusts Corporation of Ontario; nor did they give good and sufficient bonds to the association as required by the constitution for the faithful performance of their duties; nor did any of them give bonds except W. M. English, who gave his own personal bond without sureties.

And I dismiss and disallow the claims of the said English, Baker and Findlater.

33. The said claimant, J. A. Robertson, was appointed treasurer of the association on the 25th day of July, 1889, and remained treasurer until the cancellation of the certificate, but after filing his claim for fees attending meetings of the executive council he abandoned same.

34. As for the claims of F. W. Byatt and M. D. Dawson as auditors, I find and report that neither of the said parties ever properly performed his duty as auditor, and the certificates signed by them were untrue, and that they neglected their duties as auditors and are not entitled to receive payment of their accounts. And I dismiss and disallow the claims of the said Byatt and Dawson.

35. As to the claims of E. K. Barnsdale and O. O. Benson, I find and report that both of them are largely indebted to the association, and were so indebted at the date of the cancellation of the certificates, as is more particularly set forth hereafter. And I dismiss and disallow the claims of the said Barnsdale and Benson. The said Benson alone persisting in proving his claim.

36. I find and report that the claim of The Empire Printing Co. was against O. O. Benson and not against the association, and that they abandoned the same by not appearing when it came up for adjudication.

37. I have set out in the Schedule No. 4 hereto all claims disallowed by me, and the amounts thereof.

39. OFFICERS' INDEBTEDNESS.

I find and report that the said Hesson, Guillet, Smith, English, Baker, Findlater, Robertson, Barnsdale and Benson were indebted to the association at the time of the cancellation of its certificate, and are still indebted in the amounts set out in Schedule No. 5 hereunder, for membership fees and shortage of assessments with interest thereon.

And the several parties above mentioned should be ordered to pay the sums set opposite their names into Court to the credit of the unregistered corporation, as provided by sub-sections 2 and 3 of section 53 of The Insurance Corporations Act.

41. On the 25th day of June, 1891, it was arranged that the manager-secretary should be paid monthly at the rate of twenty per cent. of the full management fund receipts received by the association month by month for his services as manager-secretary, he to hire all office help and pay the same out of the above amount. And I find and report it was the duty of the manager-secretary to attend all the meetings of the association without further payment. I further find and report that on the said 25th day of June, 1891, the association was indebted to the manager-secretary in the sum of $80.00 for money advanced and for attendance at meetings of the executive council, and that the manager-secretary drew out of the funds of the association the sum of $117.00 on the above account, leaving a balance due by the said E. K. Barnsdale of $37.00 on that account.

42. On the 15th day of December, 1890, the association entered into a written agreement under seal with O. O. Benson as general organizer of the association, by which agreement he was bound to devote all his time to the work of the association, and not to undertake any other work whatsoever.

I find and report that at the date of the said agreement the association was indebted to the said Benson for attendance at meetings of the executive council and mileage in the sum of $49.50, and that the said Benson was entitled to no fees for attendance at the meetings of the executive council after the said date, and I find and report that the said Barnsdale as manager-secretary credited the said Benson with his fees for attendance at the meetings of the executive council after the date of the said agreement, and that he paid him the sum of $117.00, leaving a balance due and payable to the association by the said Benson of $67.50 on that account.

43. I further find and report that the said Barnsdale and the said Benson divided between them the sum of $156.00 belonging to the association, derived from certificate fees of the parties who surrendered their certificates and took out new certificates, it being one of the conditions of such surrender that the parties so surrendering should pay one dollar for the new certificate, and the said Barnsdale and Benson are indebted to the association in the sum of $156.00 on that account.

44. I further find and report that by the said agreement between Benson and the association he was to be paid all the entrance fees on all applications taken by him or his agents and accepted by the association, and forty per cent of all management moneys received for expenses at the head office; the percentage to be on the actual amount deposited from month to month to the credit of the management fund in the bank until the 15th day of December, 1892, and at the rate of thirty-five per cent. from that date to the 15th day of December, 1893.

And I find and report that the said Barnsdale paid the said Benson at the rate of forty per cent. of the management fund from the 15th day of December, 1892, until the cancellation of the certificate, the amount so improperly paid being $149.20, which amount is due and owing from the said Barnsdale and Benson to the said association.

45. I further find and report that by the said agreement the entrance fees became the property of the said Benson, and from that date to the cancelling of the certificate formed no part of the management fund of the association.

46. I find and report that the said Barnsdale overdraw his account for compensation for his services as manager-secretary to the extent of $468.52, and is still indebted to the association in that amount on that account.

47. I have set out in Schedule No. 6 the amount of the indebtedness of the said O. O. Benson and E. K. Barnsdale at the date of the cancellation of the certificate.

48. Schedule No. 6 above referred to :

E. K. Barnsdale, over-payment attendance at meetings of executive council . . . . .	$37 00
O. O. Benson, over-payment attendance at meetings of executive council . . . . .	67 50
Benson and Barnsdale, new certificate fees . . . . .	156 00

E. K. Barnsdale, over-drawn commission . . . . .	468 52

49. By the constitution passed on the 5th day of August, 1889, and confirmed on the 19th day of August, 1889, it was provided that all moneys other than those derived from assessments constitute the general fund of the association to be used to defray the expenses of the association, and that all surplus accruing in this fund, after paying all expenses of management, should be deposited in a contingent reserve fund, at the end of each year, to be used as the exigencies of the association required. And it was further provided that the trustees and managing officers should receive and have full control of the said general fund, and that they must pay all the expenses of management from the said general fund.

Those provisions remained in force until the 6th day of January, 1891, when a new constitution appears to have been passed at a general meeting called for that purpose, but which I find as fact was not passed in accordance with the provisions of the constitution relating to amendments, by which all membership fees and all moneys paid into the association for assessments and fines was to be deposited to the credit of the management fund to be drawn upon only for the working expenses of the association by special transfer cheques specifying the nature of the expenditure and signed by the manager-secretary and treasurer, the trustees and managing officers to pay all the expenses of management from the said fund.

After the last mentioned date the semi-annual dues were added to the assessments making one sum, and twenty per cent. of the increased amount was carried to the credit of the management fund except in the cases of the executive councillors who paid the original assessment, twenty per cent. of which went into the management fund reducing the amount carried to the endowment and reserve fund by that amount, which will be adjusted upon payment in of the sums set out in schedule No. 5.

ENDOWMENT AND RESERVE FUNDS.

50. By the constitution first above mentioned ninety per cent. of the assessments paid in by certificate holders constituted an endowment fund and ten per cent. a reserve fund. This constitution remained in force until the passage of the second above mentioned constitution when seventy per cent. of the increased assessment payable under that constitution was carried to the endowment fund which could not be drawn upon for any other purpose than to pay maturing coupons and death benefits. And it was further provided that when presented the said coupons should be attached to the official cheque of the association signed by the president, treasurer, manager-secretary and trustees, and countersigned by the coupon holder. The reserve fund consisted of ten per cent. of all assessments and could not be drawn upon for any other purpose than paying fifth and tenth coupons and could only be transferred into the endowment fund by the associations' special transfer cheque signed by the president, manager-secretary and treasurer.

SURRENDERS.

51. By the said first constitution it was provided by article eight, section two, that the executive council or managing officers, before a coupon matured, might offer the holder thereof in order of maturity double the amount of cash assessments paid in by him for the surrender of his certificate. This was the only provision for surrender contained in the said first constitution, and was not altered or amended in any way by the second above mentioned constitution.

52. On the 15th day of August, 1892, at an alleged adjourned annual meeting, a motion was carried amending article eight, section two, above referred to, to the following effect: That the executive council or managing officers, before a coupon matures, may offer the holder thereof a sum not to exceed ten per cent. per annum compound interest after two years' membership, or fifteen per cent. per annum compound interest after three years' membership, on cash assessments paid in by him (in that term).

53. At a special general meeting held on the 16th day of February, 1893, a constitution was adopted containing the following clause: "The executive council or managing officers, before a coupon matures, may offer the holder thereof a sum not to exceed ten per cent. per annum, compound interest, after two years' membership on cash assessments paid in by him." And it was further provided that members in good standing might surrender their certificates in accordance with article eight, section two.

Up to the passage of the said constitution of the 16th day of February, 1893, which I find as a fact was not passed in accordance with the provisions as to amendments contained in the constitution of the association, there was no provision giving certificate holders the option of surrendering their certificates.

54. I find and report that from the 25th day of October, 1892, to the 12th day of January, 1893, the said executive council and trustees improperly paid out of the endowment fund to eight certificate holders the sum of $715.30, being the whole amount, including entrance fees, paid in by the said certificate holders with ten per cent. compound interest added, although twenty per cent. of the said amounts paid in together with the entrance fees were placed in the management fund, and had been expended in carrying on the affairs of the association.

From the 8th to the 13th day of March, 1893, the said executive council and trustees paid the sum of $288.21 to three certificate holders, being eighty per cent. of the assessments paid in and the entrance fees together with four per cent. compound interest.

And from the said 13th day of March, 1893, to the cancellation of the certificate the executive council and trustees paid the sum of $16,228.57 to one hundred and fifty seven certificate holders (including the sum of $843.96 to infants under the age of fifteen years already referred to and set out in schedule No. 7 hereto) being the full amount of moneys paid in by the said certificate holders, excluding entrance fees, together with compound interest at from four to fourteen per cent.

55. I find that the said several sums were greatly in excess of the sums to which the said certificate holders were entitled at the date of the said surrenders.

56. That by the constitution it was provided that the said constitution could only be amended by a two-third majority vote at an annual meeting, thirty days' notice of such amendment having been given to the secretary before the said annual meeting.

57. And I find and report that the said several amendments to the constitution were not passed in accordance with the said provision, but at special general meetings of the said association.

58. On the 20th day of December, 1893, having previously discovered from the evidence and from the books and papers in my office that the sum of $843.96 had been paid out to infants, or representatives of infants, under fifteen years of age, whose certificates were still apparently in full force, I communicated with the Official Guardian, and on the 22nd day of December I appointed the Official Guardian, for the infants, to represent them on the reference and thereafter the said infants were represented by the same counsel as the Registrar of Friendly Societies, and he attended on their behalf during the remainder of the reference.

60. On the 28th day of September, 1891, one William Elliott, holder of certificate No. 0084 of the said association, by an instrument in writing assigned his interest in said certificate to W. M. English, subject to the consent of the board of directors of the said association; and on the 30th day of September, 1891, by letter of that date addressed to E. K. Barnsdale, manager-secretary of said association, directed the said manager-secretary to change the name of the beneficiary in said certificate No. 0084 from Sarah Elliott, his wife, to W. M. English, to whom his interest had been assigned.

On the 22nd day of September, 1891, the assessments on the said certificate No. 0084 were in arrear and unpaid from the 29th day of November, 1890, until the said day, when a part of the arrears, amounting to the sum of $21.00, appears by the books to have been paid by the said Elliott, and on the 12th day of October, 1891, the said W. M. English appears by said books to have paid $28.00, being the balance of the assessments up to that date, but neither the said English nor the said Elliott paid any fines or interest.

At the date of the said assignment the said English was a member of the executive council or board of directors of the said association and also a trustee of said association. By the constitution the said certificate lapsed as soon as any assessment was in arrear and unpaid for thirty days after the first day of the month in which such assessment became payable, the member of the association standing suspended by his own default without any action of the said association, and it was further provided that such member could only be reinstated within sixty days thereafter by paying double the amount of all dues and assessments in arrears.

61. And I find and report that the said certificate of the said Elliott had lapsed at the time of the said assignment and that no steps were taken to revive the same in accordance with above provisions. And I find no record of the approval of said assignment by the executive council recorded in the books of the said association.

62. That the executive councillors made payments upon their own certificates in the manner set out in the report of the receivers hereto attached marked with the letter "A," and according to the constitution the said several certificates appeared to have repeatedly lapsed, and no fines were ever paid in accordance with the constitution to reinstate the said certificates, but the said certificates were treated by the said executive council as being in full force at the cancellation of the registration.

63. And I make this report in order that the matters reported upon therein may be disposed of by the Court in order that the funds of the said association may be distributed and the matter wound up.

All which having been proved to my satisfaction by proper and sufficient evidence, I respectfully certify and submit to this Honorable Court.

JOHN E. HARDING,
Master at Stratford.

Dated this 28th day of February, A.D. 1894.

This is the Report of Receivers marked with the letter "A" referred to in paragraph No. 62 of my report hereto attached.

M. C. MODERWELL,
J. A. MAOFADDEN,

Receivers,

STRATFORD,
February 17th, 1894.

RE DOMINION PROVIDENT BENEVOLENT AND ENDOWMENT ASSOCIATION—IN APPEAL FROM THE REPORT OF THE MASTER AT STRATFORD.

JUDGMENT OF ARMOUR, C. J. (AUG. 29th, 1894).

The question raised upon the appeal in this matter of the power of the Local Legislature to confer upon the Master the powers conferred upon him by the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892, was disposed of by me upon the argument against the appellant's contention.

The principal other question raised by the appeal involved the question of the jurisdiction of the Master, under the powers so conferred to adjudicate as he did in his report made herein. And as to this question, I am of the opinion that the Master exceeded his jurisdiction.

The Master had power to "settle schedules of creditors," and this implied the power to adjudicate upon the claims of creditors, in order to ascertain whether they ought to appear as creditors in the schedules so settled, but I do not think he was empowered to adjudicate upon the question, whether they had been guilty of such neglect of duty, as deprived them of their right to claim as creditors, nor do I think that he was empowered to adjudicate upon the right of Hesson, to the grant made to him of $100.

The Master had also power to "settle the schedules of contributories," but I do not think that the persons adjudicated by the Master to be liable to pay, were "contributories" in the sense of that term as used in the Statute, Re Central Bank, Yorke's Case, 15 Ont., 625.

But whether they could be held to come within that term or not, I do not think that the Master was empowered to adjudicate upon the question, whether they had been guilty of such a breach of duty as made them liable for any loss, by reason of their breach of duty.

I do not think that he had power to adjudicate upon any matter, which involved the determination of the question, whether the appellants, as officers of the Corporation had been guilty of a breach of their duty as such officers. I think that all such matters could only be determined in an action brought in respect of such matters.

Nor do I think that he had the power to adjudicate upon the question of the indebtedness of the officers of the Corporation to the Corporation, under the circumstances under which it is alleged that such indebtedness arose; nor as to the liability of any such officers for any such alleged indebtedness, as was held to have arisen under the circumstances appearing in the evidence.

In the result my judgment is, that clauses 19, 20 and 21 of the report cannot be interfered with, but that all other clauses of the report imposing any liability upon the appellants or any of them by reason of any neglect or breach of duty of them, or any of them, or holding them liable for any alleged indebtedness, were beyond the powers of the Master, and that such liability and indebtedness could only be established in an action brought for that purpose.

Such an action the Master has power to direct the bringing of, under the power conferred upon him to "direct the realization of assets."

I refer as to the limitation of the powers of the Master to Bickford v. Grand Junction, I. S. C. R. 696; McDougall v. Lindsay, 10 Pr. Reps., 247.

The proper course for me, therefore, will be to stay all proceedings upon the report except upon clauses 19, 20 and 21, as if the motion had been for prohibition.

The Master was within his powers in taking the examination of the witnesses in order to ascertain the assets of the Corporation, and only exceeded his powers when he came to adjudicate upon the evidence.

No objection was taken before the Master as to his jurisdiction to adjudicate as he did, and was first taken in the notice of appeal.

The appellants will have no costs, but the infants receivers and certificate holders will have their costs out of the estate.

JUDGMENT :

17th November, 1894.

The certificate of insurance in these cases provides that the certificate-holder shall be entitled to certain benefits from the society, upon the condition (amongst others) that he pay all assessments within 28 days from the date of issuing, which has lately been altered to a month by the rules.

Each certificate-holder appears to have signed an acceptance of the certificate, with the conditions specified thereon, as well as those contained in the constitution of the society as then in force, or as might be amended or altered by the members of the society in annual session assembled.

By the rules now in force forfeiture or suspension of membership arises on failure to pay the monthly assessment or beneficiary dues or general dues on or before the first day of the month following that in which the assessment and fees are due and payable (General Laws, Art. II., s. 10, p. 8; Beneficiary Laws, Art. I., s. 4a, p. 30, Art. II., s. 3a, p. 36). But in each rule there is expressed or implied a condition by which a member in default may be reinstated within three months on payment of all that may be due, together with a fine of 25 cents. And there is a special provision as to reinstatement after forfeiture or suspension on notice and after payment in ss. 39 and 40 of the Insurance Corporations Act, 1892 (55 Vic., c. 39).

Whether the expression "forfeit membership" in the first cited rule (p. 8) is to receive the same construction as suspension from membership found in the later rules (pp. 30 and 36) it is not necessary to consider, as that question must be reserved for the tribunal which has to determine the quantum of the liability of each member. The jurisdiction given by the 56th section of the Act only authorizes the Master to settle a schedule of contributories, and to direct the Receiver as to the realization of the assets of an insolvent society; and from the construction given to that section by Armour, C. J., in Re Dominion Provident, Benevolent, and Endowment Association it is clear that the amount of the liability of members and contributories must be determined by action in another tribunal. All I have jurisdiction to determine is who are to appear in the schedule as members and contributories, and it may be that my decision is liable to review in any Division Court in which any such action may be brought.

The 39th section of the Act provides that "the liabilities of any member of a friendly society under his contract shall at any date be limited to the assessments, fees, and dues of which at that date notice has been actually given by the society."

There is some indefiniteness in the term "at any date" in this section; but I think its construction must depend upon the controlling word "member," and that it should be held to mean "at any date during his membership." This necessitates, I think, that a similar construction should be given to the subsequent words "at that date," which I think also implies "during his membership." The courts in the United States have held that the members of these friendly societies are under no contract or obligation to pay fees or assessments in respect of insurances or claims accruing due after their membership had ceased either by forfeiture or resignation.

Taking the rules and the contract set out in these certificates, I think it is reasonable to hold that the issuance to, and acceptance by, a member of his certificate is a consideration for his contract to pay assessments, fees, and dues properly chargeable against him during the time he continues to be a member of the society.

During the period allowed for the payment of such fees and dues, I think the membership continues, and with it the liability. Whether, after the expiration of the month given by the rules, there is a cessation or forfeiture of membership, or what is tantamount to a withdrawal or resignation, or whether the liability continues for the period during which the certificate-holder is "suspended," or in what way such liability is affected by the provisions as to forfeiture or suspension in s. 40 of the Act, it is not, as I have held, necessary for me to determine. Until each certificate-holder has ceased to be a "member" according to the terms of his contract with the society—until his withdrawal is complete in law—he remains liable to pay the prescribed fees and dues which may be required to enable the society to discharge in whole or in part its obligation for the insurances or losses which have accrued due during the period of his membership.

The schedule of contributories will therefore contain the names of all those members who have not withdrawn or resigned their membership according to the procedure prescribed by the rules of the society and the statute.

FRIENDLY SOCIETIES.

[Memorandum by Registrar of Friendly Societies.]

TABULATION OF EXPERIENCE AND REVISION OF RATES.

I.—ANCIENT ORDER OF FORESTERS—SUBSIDIARY HIGH COURT OF CANADA.

A.—Sickness and Funeral Benefits.

The lodges of the society contract to pay the following benefits to their members (Appendix to H. C. M. Report, 1893, p. 2):

"Sickness allowances for the whole of life $4.00 per week for twelve months during sickness and $2 per week for the second twelve months and the remainder of the sickness. Death benefit of $100 at death of member and $50 at death of member's wife, together with medical attendance on member. The full benefits are secured after twelve months' membership, and half after six months."

In order to determine the question whether the rates charged for these benefits were such as to ensure the stability and permanence of the system, Mr. Williams, the Permanent Secretary of the society, collected its whole experience, and the society submitted this material for actuarial advice to Mr. L. G. Fouse, of Philadelphia. As the question deeply concerns many other societies contracting to pay like benefits to their members, I extract from Mr. Fouse's report those results which are of general interest (Appendix to H. C. M. Report, 1893, pp. 7 et seq.) Mr. Fouse recommends that the contributions to the mortality fund, including the funeral rates be graded according to age, and that the following net mortality and sickness rates be adopted:

MONTHLY CONTRIBUTIONS.

Ages (inclusive).	Sickness.	Mortality.	Total.	Ages (inclusive).	Sickness.	Mortality.	Total.
18-20	.53	.20	.73	48-49	1.24	.42	1.66
21-23	.55	.20	.75	50	1.34	.44	1.78
24-26	.57	.20	.77	51	1.40	.47	1.87
27-29	.61	.21	.82	52	1.47	.49	1.96
30-32	.67	.23	.90	53	1.54	.51	2.05
33-35	.75	.25	1.00	54	1.61	.53	2.14
36-37	.79	.27	1.06	55	1.69	.55	2.24
38-39	.84	.29	1.13	56	1.77	.58	2.35
40-41	.90	.31	1.21	57	1.87	.61	2.48
42-43	.97	.33	1.30	58	1.97	.64	2.61
44-45	1.05	.36	1.41	59	2.07	.67	2.74
46-47	1.14	.39	1.53	60	2.18	.70	2.88

In addition to the foregoing rates is the usual 3c. per month constant at all ages for contingencies. The entrance fee is also exigible.

"So far as the past experience of the Subsidiary High Court of Canada is concerned, the sickness premium rate has been sufficient to pay the sick and burial benefits, and probably will be sufficient in the future; but just as the actual sickness experience in the one year of 1890 exceeded the expected sickness, so a time may come when the average actual experience will be more than 80 per cent. of the expected. A small surplus is always better than a large deficiency.

"If the contributions to the sick fund be relieved from the payment of funeral benefits, then I am certain, on the basis of past sickness experience, that the premiums previously charged for sickness are ample; but as already intimated, the graduation can be materially improved, and I, therefore, revised the monthly contributions for sickness. For the purposes of valuation, it is more convenient to have the funeral benefits included with the mortuary fund benefits than to have them included in the sick fund benefits as heretofore. It being assumed that the wife is the same age as the member, the mortuary benefit is valued at $150, instead of $100, $50 being valued on the survivorship basis. The convenience in valuation is, however, only a minor reason for affecting the change. The principal reason is, that a deficit exists in the mortuary fund, and, a change being necessary to cure the same, it is well, as an additional precaution, to guard against a deficiency in the sick fund by relieving it from the payment of the burial benefits. To this end I included in the graded mortuary rates the funeral benefit to be paid upon the death of the wife.

"It will be noticed that the table of monthly contributions is extended to age 60, and if the persons are admitted to membership above the age of 45, they should be required to pay a rate in proportion to the risk they entail upon the Order."

B--LIFE INSURANCE CERTIFICATES ("BENEFICIARY FUND.")

The society also submitted for the actuary's advice its table of rates for an insurance of $1,000 payable at death. On this important question, which concerns all friendly societies undertaking life insurance, Mr. Fouse reported as follows:

"If the rates given in Rule 4, page 8, High Court Meeting Reports, and page 51, General Laws, 1891, are intended to remain stationary through life, then they are decidedly insufficient. If the rate be according to attained age, that is, changing every year, then they are approximately sufficient up to age 45, but of course must continue to increase with the advancing age of the member. I do not believe that the Subsidiary High Court could do better than adopt Neison's net rate, which I enclose herewith, based on $1,000 insurance. The first column is the natural rate or premium which must change with age. The last column is the level rate, which remains uniform through life."

In the foregoing table of Mr. Neison, lapses or "secessions" are not taken into account. If these were considered then Mr. Neison's figures would, according to Mr. Fouse's approximations (Proceedings of the Association of Underwriters of the U. S., 1885, p. 116), be reduced to the following net rates:

II.—CANADIAN FRATERNAL ASSOCIATION.

This association of friendly societies at its session in 1893, with a view to promoting uniform medical examinations, and uniform rates of insurance, appointed committees to deal with those two questions respectively. At the annual session held in Toronto, March 22nd, 1894, the medical committee consisting of Doctors B. E. McKenzie, J. S. King and A. D. Watson, reported forms of medical examination and statistical report; the insurance committee (Messrs. A. J. Pattison, W. Williams, and W. W. Buchanan) reported tables of sick benefit rates and of level premium monthly rates for $1,000 insurance payable at death. These latter rates the committee derived from the rates in Mr. Neison's table above given by deducting therefrom 33 per cent. for the effect of lapses. This, for a permanent rate, is, I fear, below the standard of safety, though it would be a great advance upon the financing heretofore in vogue in many of the societies. So long as the death rate is still very low, the managing officers of friendly societies have very great difficulty in rousing the members to a sense of the approaching disaster. They resent being roused from their sleep upon the track, because the express "is still miles away?"

III.—SONS OF SCOTLAND.

In this society Dr. John Ferguson has been doing the members good service by placing before them in a practical way the seriousness of this question of rates. In laying before the society a revised table (Proceedings 17th August, 1894, pp. 28, et seq.) which certainly does not lie on the side of excess, Dr. Ferguson says: "It is to be sincerely hoped that no member will object to the rates because their adoption for the time being increases the amount of his contributions. I can assure all that the rates are not too high. They have been calculated on the assumption that four and a half per cent. will be realized on all moneys in the hands of the executive. This rate may come down; and in that event, the charges on the members may then have to be increased very slightly.

“On the other hand, when you call to mind the fact that in the Ancient Order of Foresters for Britain, now an old society, the death rate is over 12 per thousand on 379,000 lives; in the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows in Britain, the death rate is nearly 13 per thousand on over 300,000 lives; in the American societies, making sworn statements, the death rate is nearly 13 per thousand on 949,000 lives exposed; and in 31 life offices with 1,000,000 lives at risk the rate is 15 per 1,000, it is quite clear that our death rate will in time come to the same; and when it does, we will not be able to retain our young members, nor to secure young additions to the order. Then will be experienced an ever increasing death rate with an ever decreasing entrance of young members. Ruin is then inevitable. Let us therefore rise to the true ideal of honor and wisdom, and follow the paths that have been mapped out for us by experience and science. Let us do right in the matter of the rates.”

IV.—INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ODDFELLOWS.

In this old and prosperous society the insurance is limited to lodge benefits in the way of sickness, funeral and widows' allowances. Even here, however, the strain increasing with the age of the lodge is distinctly perceptible. Mr. J. B. King, Grand Secretary, in his report to the Grand Master (February 19th. 1894), has published an interesting and valuable table which I here subjoin with Mr. King's explanations:

INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ODDFELLOWS.

Table prepared by Mr. J. B. King, Grand Secretary, (with Mr. King's explanations.)

“The following statistics of the year 1893 gives a resume of the sick benefit feature of the Order in Ontario, and shows clearly the increasing ratio of sickness and death, and corresponding increase in cost, as lodges and members grow older.

“The average age of the 145 brothers deceased was 43 years, 4 months. The ages of the sick have not been as fully returned as they should have been, therefore the averages cannot be given until the information asked for has been received.”

V.—ORDER OF CANADIAN HOME CIRCLES.

Mr. A. J. Pattison, the late Supreme Secretary of this Order, presented at the Session held at Toronto, in March, 1894, a series of most instructive tables showing the experience of the Order during the nine years ending 1893.

The Insurance Certificates of this Order undertake not only to pay a stated sum at death but also to pay half that sum when the assured reaches his expectancy. It is idle to say that with this endowment feature grafted on the life insurance certificate the same provision will suffice for paying the liabilities of the society. If municipality A issued $200,000 of debentures maturing at 40 years, and municipality B issued $200,000 of debentures such that half of each debenture would become payable in 30 years, and the remaining half 10 years thereafter, no well-informed person would say that an annual sinking fund assessment barely adequate to discharge the debentures of A would suffice to discharge the debentures of B. In the case of life insurance certificates the difference is very much greater; for here we are dealing, not with a liability certain, (as in debentures,) but with a contingent liability, which may, through the default of the certificate-holder, never become an actual liability at all. During the period of 5, 10 or 15 years, by which the certificate holder may outlive his expectancy, he may, by neglect or otherwise, lapse his certificate so that if the certificate was payable only at death no liability whatever would fall upon the society in respect of that certificate.

In a report (January 2nd, 1894), accompanying his tables Mr. Pattison shows (p. 5) by the statistics of an older society that if this endowment feature were grafted on the life insurance certificates of that society in the same way as is done in the Home Circles the actual liabilities in 1892 would have been increased by $1,327,000.
