Deposits in Glendale Banks Total Close to Eleven Million Dollars

FIRST TIME FIGURES ON FUNDS ARE AVAILABLE

New State Law Provides Branch Institutions Make Segregation

THE total of deposits in the banks of Glendale, as shown by the statement of business on September 14, 1923, amounted to $10,927,918.72, according to figures compiled by C. E. Pyle, head of the commercial development department of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, North Brand boulevard.

Of this sum the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, led with a total of $4,335,600.62, followed by the Security Trust & Savings bank with a total of $2,121,219.59. Deposits in both Glendale branches of the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank are included in the total reported.

"This is the first time that these figures have been made available," says Mr. Pyle, "and the present compilation has been made possible by the provisions of Section 130 of the Bank Act, as amended in 1923, requiring banks in the large cities to publish the deposits of their branches that are located within the corporate limits of cities other than that in which the head office of the bank is maintained.

Must Be Separated
"In the past it has been the custom to publish the assets and deposits of the entire organization, without segregating the deposits in the branch banks, but the amended law demands that the branch bank deposits must now be given separately for every community where a branch is in operation.

Farmers in Better Financial Position Than Last Year, Says Federal Reserve Board

By W. H. ATKINS
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The farmer is in better financial position than last year, despite rumors of agricultural discontent and the farmers' dollar has steadily increased in purchasing power, the Federal Reserve Board declared today. The board, studying conditions in the farm regions, found credit needs are being fully met by local banks supplemented with the reserve system's facilities.

The improved position of the farmers, the board said, is due mainly to the larger buying power of domestic consumers. Larger earnings and fuller employment of industrial workers has brought increased demand for farm products. Increased domestic demand has been enough, the board said, to offset the unsatisfactory phase of the foreign market for American products.

The board's survey disclosed that the net returns of the farmers had been adversely affected by higher costs of labor, fertilizer and

COURT FIGHT CERTAIN IN OKLAHOMA

Both Factions Prepare to Hold Legal Contest in State Court

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 4.—A call for a grand jury to investigate Governor J. C. Walton's employment of "gunmen" to stop Tuesday's special election was issued this afternoon by District Judge George W. Clark.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 4.—Although a military guard was patrolling the state house and "vigilantes" surrounded the court house in Oklahoma City, ostensibly to guard election materials, the city was more serene this morning than for several weeks.

Secret conferences of the governor and his advisers and closed planning by state legislators were in progress and these were the only activities along the "trenches" in Oklahoma's invisible war.

Regardless of the outcome in district court of a suit to restrain the national guard from interfering with the assembly of the house of representatives set for hearing this morning, but continued until 1:30 p. m., it was certain that the battle would be brought to the state supreme court.

Ready for Action
General belief was that if the decision favored the legislators, such prompt appeal would be taken as would preclude the possibility of a hasty gathering in the interim. In turn, the soldiers were prepared to act if an injunction is refused.

Governor Walton declared today that Tuesday's election established the Ku Klux Klan's strength at 200,000 in Oklahoma. His opponents insisted that his reputation was a popular uprising of both Klan and anti-Klan forces.

SIEGE DEATH LIST GETS INCREASE

Another Victim as Result of Gun Duel at Prison With Trapped Convicts

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 4.—Another was added to the list of slain at the hands of three desperate convicts now besieged in the Kentucky state prison here today, when V. B. Mattingly, wounded yesterday, died in a hospital. W. M. Gilbert, a third wounded guard, is dying in a Paducah hospital, it was said.

As the siege drew closer about the trio of trapped men, preparations were made to explode tear and other gas bombs, while expert riflemen directed a steady fire against the barricade erected by the men. Great caution was being taken, however, due to the fact that Monte "Tex" Walters, leader in the dash for liberty, is recognized as a crack shot.

Expert Marksmen
Walters was serving a life term for murder. With him are Lawrence Griffith, another lifer, and Harry Farland, serving sixteen years for manslaughter.

State militiamen have placed their most expert marksmen in the front line of attack on the convicts who, it has been learned, were to have led a concerted dash for freedom among the prisoners at about noon today. Something is believed to have gone amiss with their plans.

'Diana Dollar' Still in Dangerous Plight

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—The freighter Diana Dollar, of the Robert Dollar line, which was reported last night to be proceeding to this port under her own power, after being ravaged by fire in her holds last Monday, may yet be in a serious plight, according to radio messages intercepted at the local harbor today.

The mother is Mrs. Pearl Roderick and states that anyone interested in the adoption of Bobby call at her home, 437 1/2 Ivy street or call Glendale 1854-W.

In the meantime Bobby is the happy, laughing, healthy baby of the Roderick family, in no way conscious of the ache that is in his mother's heart in anticipation of the day when she will have to tell her baby "Good bye."

Glenna Collett Loses Match for Golf Title

RYE, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., who held the national golf championship for women in 1922 and was favored to repeat this year, was eliminated today in her third round match of the championship tournament by Mrs. Clarence Vanderbeck of Philadelphia, 2 and 1.

The defeat of the Providence girl came as a stunning surprise to the large gallery.

While Miss Collett was losing her championship, Miss Alexa Stirling, the Atlanta girl, moved into the semi-final round by defeating Mrs. Melvin Jones, 7 and 5.

Places Valuation of State Realty at Eleven Billions

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4.—The assessed valuation of California real estate jumped approximately 11 per cent during the past year. Controller Riley places the total assessed valuation of real estate at $5,715,519,965, as compared with $5,135,305,200 for the preceding year. The actual value of all California real estate will approximate $11,000,000,000, Riley said, as the assessed value is only 42 per cent of the real valuation.

CALL ON HEIR TO THRONE FOR AID

Unemployed Harvest Hands Swarm Hotel to Seek Help of Prince

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4.—Police guarding the Prince of Wales were pushed aside today and a swarm of harvest hands, who came here from England only to find no work and be stranded, over-ran the Alexandria hotel and were successful in obtaining an audience with his royal highness.

Despite efforts to keep them from the heir of the British throne, the Englishmen succeeded in wlaying the prince and shouting their grievances to him. The prince directed that no effort be made to eject them, promising to receive a delegation of them and talk matters over this afternoon.

It was the first time the prince had been troubled with anything resembling affairs of state since he came to Canada as "Lord Renfrew" on what he vowed would be an informal vacation.

Quits Post!

GEORGE W. HARVEY

Plans to Take Part in Republican Campaign Work, Is Report

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—George Harvey, American ambassador to the Court of St. James, has resigned and will return to this country about January 1, it was learned officially at the state department this afternoon.

Harvey's resignation is in line with an agreement made with the late President Harding just before returning to his post in England, it was said.

No mention was made of a possible successor to Harvey, who was said to be anxious to return home to resume his private business.

It was with an agreement with President Harding and later with President Coolidge that his resignation to be accepted about the first of the year, that Harvey returned to his post in London in September.

Reports have prevailed in Washington for some time that Harvey was slated to be one of the most important managers of the Republican presidential campaign in 1924. He is said to have expressed the wish that he be allowed to come home in January to assist in the pre-campaign work.

Also, Harvey was said to feel that the expense of ambassadorial living in London was too great.

TEMBLOR SHAKES JAPANESE CITIES

Shock Caused by Settling of Earth After Major Quake, Is Claim

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A severe earthquake shock was felt in Tokio early today, according to a despatch from that city. Many residents were driven from their homes and the electric lights were cut off. The tremors were felt as far as Osaka.

Damage Not Serious
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Advices to the Radio Corporation of America from the Tomioka, Japan station today indicated that no serious damage was done by the earthquake felt in Tokio today. Details were lacking, but it was said the quake had not registered heavily. Opinion was expressed here that the latest tremor was "a settling shock." According to seismologists, these minor jars follow a major earthquake at various intervals as the earth's crust adjusts itself to its new position.

DEFEAT OF SOCIALISTS DIRECTED BY HUGO STINNES

Main Aid of Industrial Magnate Slated for Finance Minister

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—Dr. Gustav Stresemann made progress today towards the formation of a new government to take the place of the coalition cabinet which resigned at midnight. The tentative slate this afternoon included the following:

Finance and economics—Herr Minoux.
Defense and interior—Dictator Gessler.
Labor and food—Brauns.
Chancellor Stresemann wishes to condense the cabinet by consolidating numerous posts.

In the struggle between the nationalists (as represented by the German peoples party) and the socialists, the former have emerged the victors.

It is, in reality, a victory for Hugo Stinnes, one of the leaders of the German peoples party, who is opposing the socialist doctrine of an eight-hour day, now established by law in Germany.

It is reported that Herr Minoux, right hand man of the industrial magnate and director of many of his enterprises, has been slated for minister of finance.

Poincare Attitude Gets French Cabinet Approval

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service
PARIS, Oct. 4.—The cabinet today unanimously approved the stern and uncompromising attitude maintained towards Germany by Premier Poincare since announcement was made in Berlin that Germany would end passive resistance in the Ruhr.

Poincare contends that all Germany's previous reparations offers to France are null and void because of the anti-French policy of former Chancellor Cuno. Consequently there is no German offer "on the table" at the present time for allied consideration.

Poincare's policy of neutral observation of German internal events was approved. According to advices received at the foreign office from Nuremberg, Premier Von Kahr of Bavaria threatens death or life imprisonment to any Bavarian who works for the occupational military forces.

Activities of the Literature section of the Tuesday Afternoon club began yesterday afternoon with over forty club members meeting in the tea room at the clubhouse.
It was an informal, get-acquainted affair, and Mrs. Harry Wilcox, club president, and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice president and chairman of ways and means, were special guests and spoke briefly to the club women of the work for the year.
Delightful vocal numbers were given by Mrs. Gretta Cordary and Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Jr. Mrs. Pauline Cordary sang "Will O' The Wisp," "Last Hour" (Kramer) and "Moon Behind the Cottonwoods" (Cadman). Mrs. Puffer, who was accompanied by Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb, sang "Sundown" (Huntington), "Black Roses" (Sebelius), and "Spring Song of the Robin Woman" (Cadman).
Mrs. Wilcox gave as an inspiration for the year, the story of "The Desert In Waiting" (Johnston).
Mrs. H. S. Garlinghouse, chairman of programs, outlined the events for the coming months. Mrs. Frankie Webb and Mrs. Edw. Wilcox are chairmen of music for programs.
Late in the afternoon tea and cakes were served by Mrs. Higgins and Mrs. Walton.
The section is to serve the Klwanis club luncheons this week and next.

D. A. R. Chapter
The General Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R. of Glendale, are to be represented October 16 at the large gathering of Los Angeles county D. A. R.'s at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles. It was announced yesterday at the first meeting of the year at the First Congregational church.
Mrs. C. W. Houston, regent, directed the meeting yesterday and presented as speakers Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, Mrs. E. W. Myers, Hayward and Miss Ida E. W. W. Mrs. Ocker returned recently from a year's visit in the east, and she told of the 1923 congress she attended in Washington, D. C., an account of which was given in The Glendale Evening News at the time.
The Daughters yesterday listened to the reading by Mrs. Hayward of the message given at the congress by the past regent, Mrs. Miner. It was an inspiring message on "Our Duty to the Government."
The talk on the Constitution of the United States by Mrs. Myers was most instructive and it is planned that at each meeting of the chapter ten minutes will be devoted to the study of this document.
The next meeting on the first Wednesday in November will be devoted to a program on Benjamin Franklin.
The committee announced yesterday by Mrs. Houston are: Recreation, Mrs. T. D. Addison, Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Purrier, Mrs. Libby Peirce; flag, Mrs. S. C. Leppelmann; Mrs. A. D. Pearce, Mrs. Milton Baird; patriotic education, Mrs. Harriet Rathburn, Mrs. Irene Flower, Mrs. Pearl, Mrs. Jencks; calling a membership, Mrs. Sawyer, Mrs. O. Holbrook, Mrs. William McMillan; reciprocity, Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker.

Comrades Reunited
A reunion of Spanish-American War comrades was the outstanding pleasure last night at the dinner given by the Women's Auxiliary of the Glendale camp in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard. There were over fifty veterans and Auxiliary members present, and the company represented Glendale, Pasadena and Los Angeles.
Mrs. Fred Butler was chairman of the dinner committee, and she was assisted by Mesdames Elizabeth Hall, Martha Warren and Alberta C. Merrihew.
The tables were artistically decorated with cosmos.
Impromptu speeches were given after the dinner and later the camp and the Auxiliary met separately.
The Auxiliary initiated one new member, Miss Wilder, who served as a nurse during the Spanish-American war.
An interesting announcement was that the Glendale camp is to entertain Wednesday night, October 10, the inter-camp council of Los Angeles county. Each camp is represented by the president and two delegates and the Glendale members are anticipating entertaining a large crowd.
Mrs. Mary R. Hill, president of the Auxiliary, and Dr. W. C. Mabry, commander of the camp, were in charge of the meetings last night.

THE GLENDALÉ
"Youth to Youth" shows at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today. The film, which is distributed by Metro, has a distinguished cast headed by Billie Dove.
The story is by Hulbert Footner, direction by Emile Chautard. It is the first of a new Metro series, aiming to present stories of fidelity to life. Narrating how a youthful musical comedy star quits her career when she hears some one intimate more than friendly relations between herself and her wealthy manager, she is shown to quit and go with a barnstorming troupe, where she falls in love with a young farmer she meets in a rural town.
From this point on "Youth to Youth" tightens into a strong drama of love and ambition. The end is a pleasing one, coming after complications had apparently made happiness impossible.

THE GATEWAY
In "Human Wreckage," robbed of her husband, with two orphaned children to ask her painful questions about their absent father, but the favorite of myriads, Mrs. Wallace Reid stands out as a modern Joan D'Arc, fighting to save millions from the rising yellow tide of drugs.
In the powerful cast assembled for the telling of this grim tale, are to be found, in addition to Mrs. Wallace Reid, James Kirkwood, Bessie Love, George Hackathorne, Claire McDowell, Robert McKim, Victory Bateman, George E. Croyer (Mayor of Los Angeles), Louis D. Oaks (former Los Angeles police chief), and many other public officials.
"Human Wreckage" tells a story that grips and fascinates, showing the dread consequences of drug addiction. C. Gardner Sullivan wrote the scenario and John Griffith Wray directed the picture.

PROBE IDENTITY OF KELS VICTIM

Employment Agency Records, Lodging Houses Combed, in Mystery

STOCKTON, Oct. 4.—With Alex Kels, confessed murderer of an unknown itinerant worker, back in jail facing the formal filing of a murder charge, San Joaquin county authorities today turned their attention to solving the mystery of the identity of the man who was buried as Kels.

"McVice or McVickers, I think his name was," Kels told Sheriff W. B. Ricks. "I got him from the employment agency for the purpose of killing him and because he was about my height."

Find No Trace "One man for Kels," reads the entry on the employment agency docket. Search of boarding houses has revealed no registry of either "McVice or McVickers."

Kels expressed a desire to plead guilty en route here and "take his medicine." He, from the time of his confession until his incarceration in jail here, has been seemingly callous of his own fate.

By a curious irony of fate, the insurance money now withheld from Mrs. Kels will be paid to her, according to legal opinion, in case Kels pays the supreme penalty for his crime on the gallows.

Kels told the officers he was "in for about $75,000" and had hoped the insurance money would "fix his wife and child comfortably."

STRIKE HAMPERS BUTTE BUSINESS

Employers Discharge Clerks When Druggists Demand Advance in Wages

BUTTE, Oct. 4.—Practically every business house in Butte is closed indefinitely, all theaters, with the exception of one, is dark, small shops and stores are doing business with the proprietor as the only clerk and a quiet calm prevails throughout the city.

All of this is the result of the action of the Silver Bow county employers' association in releasing 700 clerks because their union refused to order them back to work at the old scale, following the walkout of druggists who struck Monday, after a demand for an increased wage was refused.

A deadlock of at least two weeks is expected as the association refuses to meet with the drug clerks as an individual unit of the union, while the union stands equally adamant for recognition.

There will be a regular public meeting of the Glendale Art Association at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 7, in the juvenile room of the public library, announces Mrs. Roy A. Ballagh, president.

A feature of the occasion will be an address on "The Art of Portraiture," by J. B. McCloskey, noted portrait painter.

"Let us get acquainted with our own artists," says Mrs. Ballagh, "and help them in the same way we help our local merchants, by buying at home. We would do well to observe the slogan of Mrs. Beery, national president of Federated Art — America first, American art and artists first, American landscape painters are leading the world today."

Trojans Tackle Nixon Sagehens

Pomona Grid Team Goes Into Battle to Avenge Last Year's Defeat

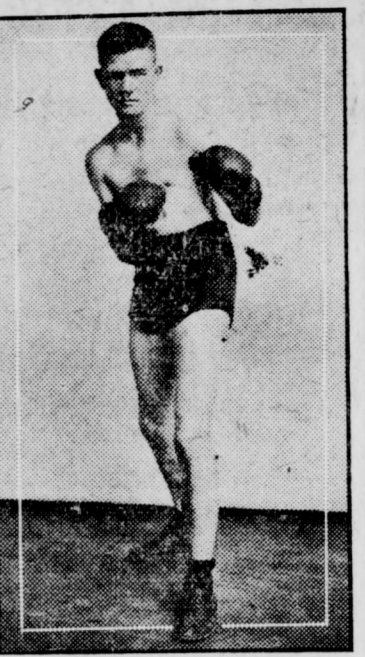

By "DOC" MCGILLIS
Written for The Evening News
With a clear recollection of last year's overwhelming defeat at the hands of the University of Southern California huskies, Coach Eugene Nixon of Pomona College is working overtime this week in an effort to prepare his Sagehens for an avengeful afternoon Saturday. At this time the two gridiron machines will hold their annual fall meeting at the new Los Angeles Coliseum, where it is expected at least twenty thousand pigskin followers will turn out for the dedicatory services.

Although Nixon hardly figures on a victory for his squad, nevertheless, it's a cinch that the Trojans will know they've been in a battle when the closing whistle blows. The boys from Claremont have always had a habit of making themselves as "pesky" to Cardinal and Gold elevens as any other team in the South, and this year promises no exception. Last year's game resulted in Pomona's biggest defeat in several seasons, and for this reason it is generally opined that the Sagehens will be fighting harder than ever.

F. S. C. Squad Puzzle
Football fans throughout the South, and also in the northern part of the state, are puzzled when it comes to discussing "Gloomy Gus" Henderson's U. S. C. squad. Doped to be one of the outstanding teams on the Pacific coast this year, and picked by many as the class of the entire conference, last Saturday's contest with Caltek provided an exhibition of the poorest playing of any opening day game at Bovard Field in the last six years. But class will out, and if all the nice things said about the Trojans are true we will have a chance to find out in the Pomona game and also a week later in the Nevada contest.

As a preliminary to the Saturday fracas Coach Leo Calland's U. S. C. Frosh eleven, which is recognized as the best in the history of the institution, will mix with Santa Ana high school, a prep squad which always gives a good account of itself. The first dish will be served at 1:30 o'clock, while the main attraction will take place at 3:15.

OXY TIGERS MEET LA VERNE ELEVEN

Conn's Athletes Will Tackle Worthy Foe in Friday's Gridiron Battle

By LARRY RAYMOND
Coach Tufty Conn's Tiger babes tackle the La Verne eleven on the Oxy gridiron Friday afternoon at 3:30. Both teams are in superior condition and have developed some classy teamwork. Each has held several scrimmages and now they meet in an attempt to rub each other's noses in the dirt.

The Yearlings are favored to win. They have a collection of football men worth boasting about. It does not matter which players are used for there are two complete teams made up entirely of prep stars who are two-three and four year letter men. Nothing seems impossible when this team gets into action. Pitzer, Purser, Hall, Gregory, Wells, are all capable of plowing through the line for downs. The entire backfield is large, strong and speedy. The Oxy frosh line is anything but what one might call weak. The wing men, Teachout and Godet, are all-city ends on the championship Franklin High eleven last season. Cuthbert at center played on that same team four years. Hitch and Condie are a set of tackles that prove torture to the worthiest opponents.

Klempell and McHann, husky guards, allow no one to break through the Tiger line without a calling card. Every afternoon they hold a stiff scrimmage with the big varsity squad and are now in the best of shape for the La Verne game tomorrow.

Coach Conn's proteges that will start the game are:

Walter Westbrook, one of the country's leading tennis experts, is now in the west and expects to make a permanent home here. Westbrook is well known in the east and middle west, where he has taken an active part in many of the greatest tennis tournaments.

The Occidental College varsity tennis team is fortunate in securing Westbrook as coach this season and a big net year is predicted. Walter played on the Michigan university tennis team during the '20 and '21 seasons, when that college team won distinction and high honors in the United States. He has played in the national doubles twice, paired with his college teammate, Hennessey. They are ranked as the fourth best doubles team in the country. Westbrook stands very high on the list of single players. He hails from Detroit, Mich.

Oxy has plenty of good material for the tennis team and now that they have a coach things look bright for the future. The new coach showed plenty of class in practice yesterday.

British Turf Star Ready for Title Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Basil Jarvis, trainer of Papyrus, the English colt that will race America's champion here on October 20, declared today that if the English champion is beaten, he will have no excuse to offer. He made the statement regardless of the fact that all of those connected with the British stable are of the opinion that the main course at Belmont park is too hard for Papyrus.

Jarvis is a bit uncertain as to how he will shoe the horse for the race. In England all shoes are flat because of the turf course. Here, too, toe clips, which dig into the dirt and get a good grip, are used.

Jack Dempsey Offers L. A. Home for Sale

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, has placed his home in South Western avenue on the market. The big fighter is offering the house and furnishings for $200,000, a figure much less than was paid for them, according to the champion's brother, Joe Dempsey.

"The house is valued at a quarter of a million," Joe Dempsey said today. "The furniture cost $70,000, but Jack wants to sell and is willing to cut the price for a quick sale."

It is estimated that the big fighter's real estate holdings here amount to approximately a million dollars.

Champion Base Burglar

EDDIE COLLINS

A lot of speedy youngsters have broken into the American league in the decade and more that Eddie Collins has been coveting at second base. But a glance over the records in the American league right now shows that the veteran star is still carrying the fleetest pair of heels, judging by the base stealing records. Collins leads the league in base thefts.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Without committing himself on the identity of the man in question, John McGraw admitted today that he would have to step out with one of the best pitched games of the year in order to beat the Yanks in the first game of the world series on Wednesday next. John McGraw admitted today that he would have to step out with one of the best pitched games of the year in order to beat the Yanks in the first game of the world series on Wednesday next.

"I have been given to understand that Jones will pitch the opening game for the Yankees," quoth John. "We will have to have a great pitcher to oppose that man. He is a wise old bird with a great curve—slow and fast. He knows how to mix them up. Comparisons have been made between Jones and Johnny Morrison, another great curve ball pitcher, whom we have knocked out almost every time he has faced us. These are out of order. As I understand it, Morrison isn't nearly the pitcher Jones is."

As matters stand, the Giant pitcher to oppose Jones will remain a matter of doubt until the series. It may be any one of four men, namely: Nehf, Scott, Ryan or Watson.

But if the selection were left to the judgment of the Giant players, Nehf would be the almost unanimous selection, with Scott or Watson held in reserve for the second game and Jack Bentley tossed in for the third. However, the players have as much to do with the selection of our Mr. McGraw's pitcher as the bat boy.

"I won't make any decision until the night before the series," McGraw declared. "Perhaps even then I will not pick my man definitely. It may be Nehf or anyone who happens to look good to me. I will say this for Nehf: He has been improving with every appearance lately."

Baseball men in general believe McGraw could look further and do worse. Nehf has proved himself a fine "money" pitcher in the last two series and he holds the psychological edge of having stopped the Yankees every time he has faced them.

But McGraw is in a more strategic position than he was at this time last year. Then it was to be Nehf or no one. Now, he can start any of five men and be assured of a reasonably well-pitched game.

"Our pitching looks better than it did at this time last year," McGraw admitted. "However, you can't tell about that. Scott, Barnes, Nehf and McPuaillan came through with splendid performances then, but it is hard to say what my men will do now. In fact, doping any short series is precarious business."

"I see they have made the Yankees favorites again. That suits me. I like to fight against odds and so do my men. It should be a great series. That is all I care to say about the matter."

PEKING, Oct. 4.—The foreign diplomatic body at Peking will strongly demand that the central government of China immediately take steps to dismiss Tien Teh-shing as governor of Shantung province as a result of his indifferent attitude regarding the Linchun kidnaping of last May, when train bandits captured several foreigners and subjected them to severe indignities, reports reaching Shanghai today from the capital indicate.

According to the same reports, the collective note of the diplomatic body, which will be presented late today, will insist that the Chinese foreign office comply in every particular with the foreign demands in connection with the Linchun case. The recent answer made by the Peking cabinet to the foreign diplomats is not taken seriously by the latter, who claim that China is not showing sincerity in its efforts to prevent further outrages being committed against foreigners in this country.

THE BEST Clothing Store FOR YOU

—You don't care how good a store is, if it isn't good for you; your money ought to benefit you more than the store.

—Of course, every clothing store wants your trade; we do. And we figure that the best way to get it is to make this a store for you. If we do that and you know it, we'll have business enough.

—Our idea in making a store that serves its customers' interests first is this:

- 1 Good quality in merchandise is necessary
- 2 Prices as low as good quality allows; there's a bigger total profit in many sales at a small margin than in a few sales at a large margin
- 3 Guarantee the customer's satisfaction

These are some of the ideas we have to make this "The best clothing store for you"

REVEALS ALLEGED PLOT OF STOKES

Woman Makes Denial of Sensational Charges in Affidavits

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Helen Elwell Stokes today went before the grand jury with tears darting down her cheeks and her voice broken with emotion to tell of the alleged efforts of her millionaire husband, W. E. D. Stokes of New York, to divorce her by making it appear that she had been a notorious woman.

Before going before the jurors, she said: "I want nothing for myself. I don't care for my own part. Fighting back is the only means I have of providing for my children."

Quickly after reports came from grand jury ante-rooms that two indictments had been voted. It was reported that Mrs. Stokes had been asked what she knew of the Everleigh club, a notorious immoral resort of Chicago's past. Her charges that Stokes was trying to show with perjured affidavits that she was one of its women brought on the grand jury investigation.

"I never knew of the place," Mrs. Stokes is reported to have replied.

Mrs. Stokes emerged from the grand jury room still sobbing. Her appearance before the jurors was occasioned by the decision of the New York courts to bring to trial Monday her husband's divorce action. Counsel for her said Mrs. Stokes would be present in New York when the case was called.

Shortly after Mrs. Stokes had given her story to the grand jury, Assistant United States District Attorney Harry F. Hamlin, announced that federal investigation of correspondence pertinent to the case will be undertaken at once to determine if there have been violations of the federal laws against using the mails with intent to defraud or defame.

Oats Blown Into Barn by Freak Whirlwind

PARISH, N. Y., Oct. 4.—A whirlwind played a peculiar prank on the George Weaver farm.

Mr. Weaver had returned from the lot with a load of oats, which he left standing near the barn.

A few minutes later a strong wind was blowing. A whirlwind, cone shaped, resembling a small tornado, formed and struck the load of oats and carried the load into the barn, the doors being open.

When the whirlwind had spent its force Mr. Weaver went to the barn and pitched the oats into the lot.

PINCHOT STRIKES AT PENNSY WETS

Utter Disregard of Volstead Act Causes Governor's Ultimatum

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 4.—Notice on the saloons of Pennsylvania, which have been dispensing alcoholic drinks with utter disregard of the Volstead law and state prohibition enforcement measures, has been served in an emphatic manner by Governor Pinchot. Every saloon, hotel or establishment in the state, against which evidence of violations of the law can be secured, will be closed, the governor declared.

Served by agents of the federal department of justice and the state authorities, the ultimatum has been successful in the anthracite coal regions, where 254 saloons out of 444 which were served with closing orders have discontinued.

"The law is supreme," Governor Pinchot declared. "The department of justice and state police will see that it is enforced when saloons defy it, when the whole sixty-four counties of Pennsylvania have been brought under its mantle. We mean business."

Watchful Waiting
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—With every saloon doing business as usual today and reports of the Retail Saloonkeepers' Association and the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment being arranged for, this city settled down to watchful waiting of the situation created by the closing order served by state and department of justice agents at the behest of Governor Pinchot.

Data on Rum-Running
LONDON, Oct. 4.—George Harvey, American ambassador, submitted data upon rum-running into American waters to the British imperial conference. This data contains the requests made by the United States to England and other parts of the British empire for assistance and co-operation to prevent whiskey smuggling into the United States.

Dry Issue in Ireland
DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—Measures for regulating the liquor traffic in the Irish Free State will be put before the Dail Eireann for enactment, Governor-General Timothy Healy announced in his opening address to that body.

REPORTS TOOLS STOLEN
B. A. Heacock of 534 East Palmer street last night had several tools stolen from his garage.

When Jazz Becomes Classic Old-Time Selections. Glendale's Music Club Each Nation's Own Art

By Gil A. Cowan

PERHAPS you have a phonograph. Almost every home has one nowadays, and all apartments seem to have a dozen. And no doubt you have a radio set, as many people do, and you are becoming more and more accustomed to jazz syncopation as a result.

We heard two waiters last evening that were "jazz" alright, but you would think not if you had no information as to what "jazz" has been.

In other words, the melody is becoming musical. It is reaching such a point of perfection that it will live on and on as the twentieth century.

We have no reason to doubt that the jazz of 1923 will be the classics of 1963. We read with some interest an editorial in the San Bernardino Sun, regarding old time song selections yet are popular. In spite of jazz and syncopated melodies, one of the largest music houses in the United States makes known the fact that "The Maiden's Prayer," "The Blue Danube" and "Poet and Peasant" are ranked among best sellers. The "Blue Danube" is the oldest of the three, having first appeared about 1851. The other two came out between 1862 and 1867.

What makes songs live? Why, fifty years or more after it was written, do people sing "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp" and "Dixie" when such war songs carrying a closer bond of interest to the present generation as "Dear Old Pal of Mine" and "Keep the Home Fires Burning" are not so often heard? Why is the old fashioned "Annie Laurie" still good enough when that song hit of half a dozen years ago, "There's a Girl in the Heart of—" Maryland or some other state, or even the "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" seem to have died quite natural deaths. John Howard Payne is immortal for his author of "Theater a Light Still Burning in the Window" is forgotten, with his song.

The old songs do not necessarily claim more classical or even homely tunes than some of our new ones. Yet of the new crop there seems, at the most, only a dozen or so that will live. A poor crop! Perhaps the answer lies in that music writers of today have become inoculated with that modern plague—quantity production, to the detriment of feeling.

The Glendale Music club is fostering higher class music in this community. It is bringing to Glendale this fall and winter several concert artists, as well as developing local talent. It is a most commendable plan.

The music club is deserving of the public's support. It is doing a great deal in a cultural way which cannot be seen on the surface, but as the young folks grow up in the city they will look back upon the organization which fostered their musical ambitions as a fairy godmother which exists in all too few cities.

Here is a whimsical editorial note from the Christian Science Monitor which has an appeal to our many devotees to art. "Perhaps, if there is one point demonstrated more clearly than another at the International Exhibition of the London Salon of Photography, it is that each nation gets its best results from following its own individual bent. For instance, an English photographer would hesitate to make a decoration of a dragon fly on a branch of a tree, or of tadpoles in the water, or of snow melting on a roof, but the Japanese artists get wonderful values from just this very type of thing. Then a French contributor obtains a strange effect by taking two of the pegs out of a cello and letting the top rest against the sitter's face, while an American artist sees beauty in some dishes waiting to be washed on the sink. Chacun a son gout."

HUMAN WRECKAGE FILM ATTRACTION

Narcotic Evils Revealed in Mrs. Wallace Reid's Stirring Play

"Human Wreckage," opening at the Gateway theatre tonight for a three-day run, is on a level with Stevenson's immortal conception of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," in the scenes where James Kirkwood, playing the role of Alan MacFarland, exerts his will in vain against a body that overpoweringly craves the curse of drugs.

Notable Cast
In the notable cast are to be found such well-known public figures as Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles; Louis D. Oaks, former police chief of that city; Dr. L. M. Powers, Los Angeles health commissioner; Brigadier C. R. Boyd of the Salvation Army and a score of others.

And among the wealth of talent from the studios will be found Mrs. Wallace Reid, James Kirkwood, Bessie Love, George Hackathorne, Claire McDowell, Robert McKim, Victory Bateman, Eric Mayne and Lucille Rickson.

D. H. L. Kirby, former executive secretary of the China club of Seattle, who has just completed a tour of the United States on an anti-narcotic crusade, assisted Mrs. Reid in the production of "Human Wreckage," as the White Cross, a subsidiary organization of the China club, had for some time been planning to put out such a film.

"I have read the story off 'Human Wreckage' and have watched the filming and studied the motives behind the production," declared Mr. Kirby, when the historic film was finished. "I have so wired the drug addiction committee, financed by the Rockefeller Foundation, telling them that I am satisfied beyond doubt this is the picture to support."

FRESNO OFFICIAL ADMITS FRAUDS

City License Tax Collector Confesses Conspiracy With Commissioner
FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 4.—Harry S. Erickson, city license tax collector, who a few weeks ago was jointly indicted with Charles Dillon, city commissioner in charge of finance, charged with falsifying public records and embezzlement, yesterday took the witness stand in the superior court here and testified against Dillon, making a full confession of his own crimes.

As a result of Erickson's action, the case against him was ordered dismissed by District Attorney George Lovejoy. Erickson on the stand confessed to a long series of irregularities in the city funds. Dillon, he said, instructed him to make alterations on license receipts and memorandums; had knowledge of the entire affair and received 50 per cent of the license money diverted to their own use. During the course of the testimony Erickson explained how duplicate licenses were issued by him, allegedly at Dillon's request, and how other license records were changed and lesser amounts written in. The balance, Erickson told the court, was split "fifty-fifty."

The confession created consternation among the spectators in the courtroom and caused a verbal tilt among the attorneys that for a time appeared as though it would end in a fist battle between District Attorney George R. Lovejoy and the defense counsel, Carl E. D. Lindsay.

Glendale Student Wins College Honors

Dr. Virginia Smith Stricken at Tujunga

Dr. Virginia T. Smith of Tujunga was found unconscious in the back yard of her home on Monte Vista boulevard, this morning, and was removed to the Tujunga Sanitarium in the ambulance of the Bramble Undertaking Co. of Los Angeles. Her illness was diagnosed as a stroke of apoplexy. Dr. Smith, who is a woman of advanced years, has been actively engaged in the practice of her profession in Tujunga.

The ambulance, traveling rapidly, was escorted through Glendale by a member of the Glendale traffic squad.

R. E. SPICER TELLS OF LONDON FOOD

Gives Typical Menu Found In Middle Class Home and Hostelrys

Interesting glimpses of living conditions in London, England, are given by R. E. Spicer, president of the Harrower Laboratory, 920 East Broadway, who states that California oranges cost no more there than here.

English people eat plenty of plain food, he states, and Londoners are no exception to the rule. He gives the following as a typical middle-class menu:

Breakfast—Bacon and eggs, marmalade, tea or coffee.

Luncheon—Cold meats, hot vegetables, dessert.

Dinner—Hot meats, hot vegetables, dessert, tea or coffee.

Food Equal to Any

"The food served in the typical London restaurant of the better class is the equal of any in the world," says Mr. Spicer. "I was in London less than a year ago and ate in a large number of hotels and restaurants, finding the food always excellent."

"Here is what you get, for instance, at Simpson's, in the Strand, where all Americans who are 'tipped off' go at least once, for the atmosphere. Simpson's is a national institution. It has been there 300 years, or long before the American colonies were founded."

"At Simpson's, for five shillings, or approximately $1, you will have a large joint of beef, mutton or pork wheeled up to you, be asked to select your cut, and will then be helped until you say 'sufficient.' To this will be added potatoes and some sort of green. And afterward deep-dish apple pie, for which your Londoner lives, will be served, together with coffee and cream."

Fruits Cost No More

"Salads are rarely served with the typical English meal, and ice cream is practically unknown. Tinned fruits are the exception, but when served cost no more than here in California, where they mostly originate."

"London hotels of the better sort offer very reasonable accommodations, $5 a day procuring a room and bath at practically the best of them, while $1.50 a day will obtain a very good room without bath. Even in the most modern London hotels not more than half the rooms have baths."

This idea of requiring a hotel room with a bath every night in the week is purely an American one and will not be found in England or elsewhere in the world."

The South Dakota state society will hold its all-day summer picnic at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, Saturday, October 6, when a big attendance is looked for. Basket lunches will be brought by the guests and coffee will be served free to all the visitors.

Dan Campbell Home Offers Inspiration to Realtors In Attendance at Noon Dinner

THE beauty of "Ard Eevin," the foothill home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell, which is the nucleus of Campbell Heights, one of Glendale's most beautiful and exclusive residential subdivisions, was emphasized yesterday to members of the Glendale Realty Board, who were royally entertained at a noon dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell.

It was an ideal California fall day and the Glendale realtors who were privileged to enjoy the hospitality of "Ard Eevin" lying within the glory of "The Green Verdugo Hills" and gaze out over the attractive Campbell Heights and the panoramic view of the wonderful San Fernando valley were indeed inspired by the charm of "Glendale," the fastest growing city in America."

Real Inspiration

Dinner was served on tables arranged on the contour driveway before the sloping lawn of the Campbell home and the unique and enjoyable feature was that Mr. and Mrs. Dan Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell and the men who are associated with Arthur Campbell in the realty business, arranged the dinner, supervised its preparation and served the guests.

It was truly an inspiration for the realtors to take with them to the coming state convention and their pleasure and appreciation of the affair were voiced in the following well adopted for the northern meet, and led by W. L. Twining:

Rah! Whistle! Glendale Rah! Glendale BOOM! Our Home Now! Your Home Soon! Howdy!

On behalf of the Realty Board, Cameron Thom, president, said: "Words fail me in trying to express my appreciation to our hosts for the wonderful time we have had today. We realtors have never had anything like it before. We certainly thank you for this genuine hospitality."

Graciously responding Dan Campbell replied: "We just wanted to show you a good time and incidentally let you see the beauties of our property. We think we have the finest section in the valley. We are proud of it."

Mrs. Campbell's greeting was given in her usual delightful manner. She said:

"It is a real pleasure for my sisters and brothers and me to entertain you. We wanted you to see our place. No place on earth appeals to us as this spot and Glendale as a whole. No place is dearer. It has been our home for twenty-one years. My youngest son and daughter were born here. We think that God kissed this spot, that he kissed it twice. We want you to come up in the evening. The moonlight up here is simply wonderful, it cannot be described. We think there is nothing nearer heaven than that."

In closing she spoke as president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, telling of the Los Angeles district convention in Glendale April 8, 9 and 10 and urging immediate action on the proposed hotel projects so that one will be ready for the entertainment of the club women.

Peter Hanson was another speaker, giving the five-minute talk that will be given at the Sacramento convention on "A Boom for the Home Town." Dr. Jessie A. Russell also told of the caravan that will journey to the convention and of the delegates' dinner at the Egyptian Village Friday night at 6:30 o'clock, and Charles B. Guthrie displayed the yellow streamers that the Glendallians will wear bearing Glendale's motto.

The praises of Glendale will also be sung at the Sacramento convention and yesterday E. P. Hayward as song leader vied for honors with Yell Leader Twining, in directing the singing of the official song, "Glendale Realtors sing to the tune of 'Barney Google.'"

INVESTMENT FIRM ENTERS GLENDALE

Pacific Building & Loan Assn. Officials Open Branch Offices Here

The Pacific Building & Loan association, of Culver City, Calif., have opened a Glendale office at 103 1/2 South Brand boulevard, with E. J. Hermans and R. L. Bowen as managers. Mr. Hermans says:

"There are few persons who realize the magnitude of the building and loan associations at the present time and the wonderful influence they are exerting in the creating of thrift and helping the people of the country to secure homes."

"The annual financial reports show that Los Angeles associations have assets aggregating $37,243,826 and Philadelphia associations have $50,000 members with over $400,000,000 in resources. These facts simply show that where the public are familiar with building and loan securities they appreciate their value."

"The Pacific Building & Loan association have assets of over $700,000 and are offering investment certificates paying 7 per cent dividends with a real estate security of six to one and under state supervision. The money invested through the Glendale office, together with other available funds of the association, will be loaned in Glendale and vicinity, thus helping local business and residential development."

The officers of the association are Harry H. Culver, president; B. C. Kelson, general manager, and R. P. Davidson, Will A. Dunn, Hon. B. F. Bledsoe, C. E. Shillito, C. E. Lindblade, P. H. Uplike, directors.

FOREIGN PUPILS WILL FORM CLUB

Forty Oxy Students From All Over World, Join in Organization

The organization of a Cosmopolitan club at Occidental college began yesterday afternoon when the first meeting of the newly-organized chapter of the national group was held at that institution. Professor George Day of Oxy, international secretary of the Foreign Students in the United States, opened the meeting and started the ball rolling.

Edward Jones was elected temporary president, and he immediately appointed a committee to draw up a constitution which will be presented to the members for their approval. About forty students were at the meeting, among them being representatives of more than half the countries in the world.

The purpose of the club is to create understanding and friendship between the nations of the world. Already there are Cosmopolitan clubs at the University of Southern California; University of California, Southern branch, and Pomona college.

Record Enrollment

The enrollment at Occidental College has now gone over the limit mark set by the trustees, 501 students are now attending the Tiger institution. All classes are crowded to capacity, and additional teachers are being added to the faculty. Saturday classes will have to be held in order to accommodate the students without conflicting courses.

Never in the history of Occidental has the enrollment exceeded the 500 goal. Last year's high mark was of 476. Students are still registering, many of them transferring from eastern institutions, and others coming from the Middle West and northern prep schools.

Plan Soph Stunts

The Class of 1926 at Occidental are beginning preparations for the annual traditional "Soph Stunts," to be presented in the college Friday night, October 26, at 8 o'clock. The stunts will be in the form of a Halloween celebration, and as Halloween adopted the Oxy colors of orange and black, the decorations will be carried out in those colors.

The faculty, seniors, juniors, sophs and lowly frosh, are each to give a short, snappy one-act skit. The different classes will have their respective stunts, and as a whole, where candy, novelties and all sorts of eatables will be for sale during the twenty-minute intermission.

The officers of the Class of 1926, in conjunction with several committees, are working hard to make this semi-vaudeville and carnival a great success for the students and public. The public are cordially invited to attend this unique entertainment. There will be a small charge to cover the expenses of producing the affair.

Picked for Glee Club

The results of the second competitive tryouts for the Occidental college men's glee club, held under the direction of Mr. Kirchoff Tuesday afternoon, have just been announced. Rehearsals will be held one each week.

Many students were candidates for the club, and it was only after holding two tryouts that the right men for the right places could be selected.

Following is the list of present participants: First tenor, Miller, Eddlemon, Noobyer, Pederson, Roucek; second tenor, Lindquist, Lawrence, Hamilton, Wyman, Lewis, Bailey, Bender, Stoller, Moeller; baritone, Morrow, Taylor, Mosgrove, Peck, Knoch, Hancock, Randall, Kelson, Moore, Beane; bass, Jacobson, Miller, Perkins, Schats. Further selections will be made later.

Latin Class 100 Pct. In Student Body Race

Student body ticket sales at Glendale Union High school are not progressing as rapidly as they did last year. A total of 95 per cent was obtained the first two days last year, while only an average of about 60 per cent was the total yesterday. The juniors lead with 89.5 per cent, and bring along in order come seniors, 75.6 per cent; sophomores, 70.8 per cent, and freshmen, 45.8 per cent.

The first to get 100 per cent membership was room 300, Miss Stevens' Latin class. There were only four pupils in the class, so quick time was made. Several other rooms followed closely behind.

It is expected that the sales will have increased by the end of the week as some of the students did not have the money the first two days. Mr. Baker, head of the commercial department, has rigged up four boxes with class numerals on them. The one in the lead is lighted and in this way the students are kept informed of the progress of the classes.

SELLS CANDY SHOP

W. W. Welch has sold his candy shop at 504 East Broadway to Allan McDaniel of Montrose. Mr. and Mrs. Welch are moving to 422 East Harvard street and Mr. Welch will devote his time exclusively to the brokerage business.

Summer and winter temperatures are the same 600 feet below the surface of the ocean.

POTTERS' WHEELS SPIN NEAR HERE

History Repeats Itself In Terra Cotta Industry; Many Building Uses

"The glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome" are reflected at the Italian Terra Cotta works, 1149 Mission road, near Glendale, together with the charm of the Holy Land and the triumph of Egypt.

Amid an artistic riot of Italian bas-reliefs, Greek urns, Hebrew sun-dials, Indian bowls and quaint jugs, the potters spin their wheels and the clay takes shape, just as a thousand years ago.

Only here modern methods supplement the old ways that have characterized pottery, one of the most ancient of arts. The clay comes from Alberhill, Riverside county, it is first "milled" until it is soft and powdery, then "pugged" by mixing with water, then "wedged" or kneaded to remove the air, after which it is moulded with great accuracy, by the most up-to-date machinery, all seams being later finished by hand. The last process is the "firing," by which the glaze is set in. This firing takes three days, at a temperature of 2200 degrees Fahrenheit.

Completes Cycle

"Terra cotta," it was pointed out, "has come into its own of late, not only in landscape gardening but also in architecture, thus completing a historic cycle that began at old Pompeii. In cornices, window and door jams and other places in modern construction, it is supplanting stone for decorative purposes, while sculptors see great possibilities in terra cotta, reflecting the vision of the Pignatelli, Luca della Robbia, who once worked so charmingly in that medium."

"History repeats itself. Today again, terra cotta is adorning gardens and building fronts, studios and salons. At a distance of 100 feet, even an artist would be deceived into thinking the medium used was marble, so beautifully does terra cotta weather in Southern California."

Exchange Club Starts Drive for Members

A membership drive was launched yesterday noon in Jensen's Egyptian Village by the Glendale exchange club. Fred Hill of 124 South Orange street and George H. Thomas of 104 North Brand boulevard were appointed captains of opposing teams. The losing team will be expected to defray the cost of a banquet at the Biltmore. The individual prize is a gold watch donated by Captain D. Ripley Jackson, of 1860 South Brand boulevard, president of the club.

Save Files From Fire

I had directed about twelve of the boys, who remained after the quake to assist in getting out books and papers. Practically all of the accounting and engineering records were lost. Since the floor dropped in from the accounting department, there was no possible way to get them.

In addition to this, the side of the building was swaying in the wind, so it was absolutely impossible and impractical to take the chance. We got out our active stock cards and executive files, but the safe in Nee's room could not be thrown out the window on account of its size and it burned with all the contents.

Glendale Parents Hear of Son's Thrilling Experiences When Quake and Fire Hit Tokio

THE recent earthquake disaster in Japan is related in a letter Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Salisbury, 1136 North Central avenue, received today from their son, D. R. Salisbury, who is administration manager for the Allied Machineries Company of America in Tokio, Japan, where he was at the time of the recent tragedy. The letter was written by Mr. Salisbury to his wife, who is at present visiting in St. Paul, Minn., and she sent it on to Mr. Salisbury's parents in Glendale.

This letter is the first word Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Salisbury received from their son since the one-word cablegram, "Safe," received shortly after the earthquake. He writes:

Excerpts From Letter

"September 4, 1923.—I was sitting in my office talking to a young Argentinian when just a little before 12 m. three terrible vertical thumps came, and immediately violent horizontal shakes began. Mr. Hilton was in my room at the time, also.

"We all made an attempt to get away, but got as far as the door to my room and stood there. The building must have been rocking back and forth two or three feet. I never expected to be able to tell you anything about it, although I was not particularly frightened. I thought the shake would not stop. It seemed hours, but I presume it lasted fully two or three minutes.

Heroic Rescue

"As soon as it let up we got down the stairs and out on the street. Most of the employees had gotten out of the building before we got down, but the floor of the accounting department dropped through to Dunnell's room.

"We got a couple of girls out from the wreckage, and one fellow escaped by sitting on the sill of a window on the second floor, and we got him out by a ladder from the outside.

"Everything here is under martial law and soldiers are in command everywhere. Of course, the fire swept the business district after the quake, but all the power stations were cut off at once so there was no danger from the electric wires. All the water mains were broken, so we had no water to fight the fire with. The fire departments were tremendously inadequate, so the pumps from the canals did not do anything to speak of.

"The Japanese disaster is likely to have marked political and cultural effects. The destruction of the Tokyo-Yokohama district, which means to Japan what the destruction of the Atlantic seaboard from New York City to Washington, D. C. would mean to America, accelerates and probably assures the culmination of the trend set in several years ago to make China rather than Japan the dominant factor of the future Asiatic politics and culture."

Foresees China Benefiting At Japan's Expense

MRS. E. W. W. Hayward, chairman of programs for the Tuesday Afternoon club, has received an interesting letter from Upton Close (Josef W. Hall), who is to address the club next Tuesday afternoon, October 9, concerning the recent disaster in Japan.

Mr. Close, who has made a study from real life and documents of the institutions, political evolution and psychology of the orientals, writes:

"The Japanese disaster is likely to have marked political and cultural effects. The destruction of the Tokyo-Yokohama district, which means to Japan what the destruction of the Atlantic seaboard from New York City to Washington, D. C. would mean to America, accelerates and probably assures the culmination of the trend set in several years ago to make China rather than Japan the dominant factor of the future Asiatic politics and culture."

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN MRS. BRINK

Sunday School Class Honors Pastor's Wife on Eve of Leaving City

The parsonage of the Central avenue Methodist church was the scene last night of a delightful surprise which was the happy thought of the "Willing Workers" class of the Sunday school, to honor Mrs. Brink, a member of the class.

Rev. and Mrs. V. Hunter Brink will leave next week for their new home in Los Angeles, where Dr. Brink will be the pastor of the Pico Heights Methodist church.

Surprise Party

When Dr. and Mrs. Brink arrived home from prayer meeting they found the parsonage in possession of about seventy friends who came to bid them farewell.

Mrs. C. A. Bowen, the class teacher, on behalf of the class, presented Mrs. Brink with a beautiful serving tray and a hand-painted fruit bowl and a bouquet of flowers.

It was also the wedding anniversary of three of the class members, Mrs. Frahm, Mrs. C. A. Bowen and Mrs. Chas. Rushworth, and each was presented with a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas.

Fruit punch and wafers were served during the evening by the hostesses.

Clarence Whitehill to Sing Here October 12

There are two paramount features of the opening concert of the Glendale Music Club Friday night, October 12, and they are that Clarence Whitehill, American operatic baritone, is to be the artist presented, and that the big event will take place in the perfectly equipped auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

And Glendallians are responding to these attractions, according to Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the club, who states that reservations are going fast, and that by the middle of next week the seats will be nearly all taken. Season tickets for the club year are on sale at the Glendale Music Store and the Brunswick shops, and at these places Glendale people may hear and purchase Whitehill records.

American critics have said that Mr. Whitehill is looked upon as the finest American baritone. In this connection it is interesting to learn that for several years Mr. Whitehill was looked upon as a basso and for three years sang leading bass roles in Paris and at Brussels. Finding that a baritone was more in demand, especially in the opera field, he set to work to have his voice trained into a baritone. He enjoys the honor of being the first American male singer to be engaged at Opera Comique, Paris.

Marching with American Legion

World war chaplains will receive special entertainment at the American Legion's national convention in San Francisco, October 15-19. Chaplain Major Joseph P. McQuaide has been appointed chairman of a sub-committee named by Lieutenant-General Hunter Liggett, general chairman of the convention committee, to welcome and entertain the visiting "padres." A chaplain is elected in each of the 11,000 posts of the legion and a large number of them will attend the national gathering.

From 335 replies received in the American Legion's poll on the question of an international air disarmament conference, 302 letters have expressed approval of the gathering, five qualified approval, ten were undecided and only seventeen voted against the proposal. The legion's questionnaire has been answered by twenty-one United States senators, seventy-six representatives, fourteen governors, 158 newspaper editors, thirty-five college presidents and thirty-one other prominent citizens. The legion has advocated a conference of all leading world powers in Washington to discuss reduction of armament because of the international race for air supremacy now in progress among France, England, Italy and Russia. The veterans' organization hopes to obtain a cut in air forces before it becomes necessary for the United States to spend billions of dollars for air defense.

Thousands of members of the American Legion will be able to attend the organization's national convention in San Francisco next October as a result of the decision of practically all cabinet members to permit their legion em-

TODAY—Men Invade Women's Sphere; Baths Taboo in Lancashire.

By LUTHER A. HUSTON For International News Service

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The ancient complaint about women invading the spheres of activity long considered as belonging to the masculine gender seems about to be reversed. In England men are invading that historic citadel of femininity—the home.

Lady Conan Doyle, wife of the famous novelist, is in the vanguard of the movement that may revolutionize domestic routine and solve the ever-present servant problem. She started staid English householders by installing men servants in roles hitherto occupied exclusively by women.

In Lady Conan Doyle's pretentious country home she has installed a "parlorman" in place of a "parlormaid," a "houseman" in place of a "housemaid" and a "between man" in place of a "between maid." She declares the experiment is proving a distinct success.

"I made the innovation," Lady Conan Doyle said, "not only to solve my own servant problem, but because I was anxious to help alleviate the distress caused by unemployment. I want other women to know that I am pleased with my new system, and I am sure thousands of housewives could be relieved of their worries by following my example. Many men would be only too grateful for a chance to earn a livelihood in this way."

Lady Conan Doyle declares she was forced to hire men for servants after vainly trying to obtain satisfactory women for the positions.

Soft-living, soft-bodied sybarites who dwell in London or other populous centers of England may weaken themselves by bathing; but out in Lancashire, where dwell the sturdy miners and other toilers of the land, a bath is the symbol of pampered luxury and an abomination unto the citizenry. Bathing among the miners of Lancashire are exceedingly scarce.

Down through the years has come the tradition that Britain's sons are the world's most sincere bathers.

Not long ago this tradition was rather tarnished by a debate in the House of Commons. The worthy parliamentarians were discussing the government's proposed housing scheme, and the contention was raised that no house was a proper dwelling until equipped with a bathtub. Up rose several august statesmen and declared that bathtubs were not necessities but luxuries.

The tradition really got its knockout blow, however, at a recent meeting of the Royal Sanitary Institute, where problems of public health were discussed.

Colonel Freemantle, a member of Parliament, who spent several years in Japan, raised the question. The colonel started yearning for greater cleanliness among the working people of England. He painted a pleasing picture of the tidy Japanese. The Japs, he said, were "sweet smelling" because of their proneness to have their bodies in the cleansing waters of their "vertical baths."

All Colonel Freemantle got for his pains was an argument.

Dr. Watts, noted health official, said:

"There is a superstition prevalent in Lancashire that even if the miners take baths it is never wise to wash their backs. There is a deep-rooted impression that to wash the back would weaken it, and the miners need strong backs."

Knowing the tenacity of superstition among the miners, the institute refrained from further discussion of methods of turning the great unwashed toilers of Lancashire into "sweet smelling" workmen like their brothers in Japan.

The British Labor party has not been turned over to a pro-German organization under a pledge to promote class warfare as a means of achieving economic independence for the workers.

Charges recently were made by a London newspaper that, at a conference in Hamburg last May, the leaders of the British Labor party had pledged themselves to promote class warfare and had given allegiance to an organization known as the "Sozialistische Arbeiter Internationale." This organization, the newspaper declared, is controlled by Germans. Officials of the Labor party in London have entered a vigorous denial of the charges.

Regarding the "class warfare" charge, labor leaders here declare it was British influence that prevented the organization from being pledged to a definite class warfare program. The term "class war" appeared in the proposed constitution, but a resolution pledging the British organization to "foster the independent industrial action of the workers' organizations" was substituted.

The purpose of the new organization, labor leaders assert, is distinctly opposed to the policies of the Moscow, or "Third" Internationale. Its object is to bring about unification of the international labor and Socialist movements.

Adventures of Billy Whiskers

By Frances Trego Montgomery

For Japan, the beautiful, at the exposition there were kimonos, embroidery, lacquered trays and queer little slippers with thick white soles and gayly embroidered tops, strings of beads of all colors, and quantities of cheap jewelry. These did not interest Billy, as he had seen such things in the shop windows in San Francisco time and again, so he hurried on, ever listening for the ha of a goat that might turn out to be Nannie calling him. No such welcome call greeted him, so he kept on, and presently he saw a crowd of people standing before one of the shops. When he reached the spot he found there was a young Jap inside selling puzzles and explaining to his listeners how they were done.

Directly opposite this shop on the other side of the street was a Japanese grocery store, with many kinds of queer looking things to eat displayed outside. Billy stood looking at them and trying to make out what they were. Not being able to do so from the unusual way they were put up, he decided to taste them. No one being in the store, as the keeper himself was watching the puzzle man, Billy began unmolested.

First he tasted a queer looking pressed thing, and found it was a fig. Then he bit into some candy made out of prickly pears, and next some dried fish which he disliked exceedingly, so he quickly seized two or three oranges and ate them down to take the salty

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY BAKES THE CAKES
"Haven't you anything else for breakfast, Nurse Jane?" asked Uncle Wiggily one morning, as the rabbit slid down the stair banister in the hollow stump bagelaw.

"Anything else for breakfast? What do you want?" inquired the nursemaid. She could tell by the way Uncle Wiggily slid down the banister that he was hungry. "Here I have carrot biscuit, cabbage coffee and turnip marmalade," she said.

"No pancakes?" asked the bunnym gentleman.
"Pancakes!" cried Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. "Pancakes at this time of year! It is much too early," and she flapped her tail around on the floor until it tangled in the legs of a chair and tipped it over.

"It is never too early for pancakes with maple sugar sauce sprinkled on them," laughed Uncle Wiggily, with a funny twinkle of his pink nose. "And if you don't want to bake the pancakes for me Janie, my dear, why I must do it myself."
"Ho! Ho! I'd like to see you make the cakes!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper. Then she gave Uncle Wiggily his breakfast, such as it was.

But as the rabbit gentleman went out to look for an adventure he said to himself:
"Tomorrow morning I'll get up early and bake the cakes. I'll show Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy what I can do!"

So Uncle Wiggily went ad-venturing. He hopped over the fields and through the woods until he came to a place where a poor old animal lady, wrapped in a shawl, sat on the edge of a pond of water.

"Poor thing!" thought Uncle Wiggily. "The old animal lady, whoever she is, wants to get across the pond and she can't swim. I'll make a little raft of wood for a boat and push her over."

So Uncle Wiggily made a wooden raft and, coming up behind the little old animal lady, he gave a gentle push saying:
"There, poor thing, get on my boat and you can cross the pond."

"I don't want to get on your boat!" croaked the old lady, and when she turned around and took off the shawl, Uncle Wiggily saw that she was Mrs. No Tail, the frog mother of Bully and Bawly.

"Oh, my goodness! Such a mistake as I made!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Why you are one of the best swimmers in the world."
"Of course I am," said Mrs. No Tail. "I was just sitting here waiting for Bully and Bawly to pop up, for they are swimming under water."

Then Uncle Wiggily hopped home, feeling rather queer at trying to teach a frog lady how to swim. And the next morning the rabbit gentleman arose very early and tiptoed softly down the stairs.

"Now, I'm going to bake the cakes," he said to himself. In a brown jug he mixed up flour, water, sugar, molasses and whatever else goes into pancake batter. Then the bunny put the griddle on the stove, greased it as he had seen Nurse Jane do, and on the hot griddle he poured a little dab of batter, which spread and began to get little holes in, showing that the under side was browning nicely.

"When it's brown on one side I'll flip it over on the other side with the pancake turner," said the bunny gentleman, "and brown the other side."
Pretty soon he slid the thin pancake turner under the smoking hot cake and turned it over. Just as he did so a growling voice at the back door asked:
"Is that the best you can do?"

"Do what?" inquired Uncle Wiggily, turning quickly.
"Can't you flop a pancake over more than once?" the voice went on, and there stood the Black Bushy Bear, very ugly and hungry. "Why," went on the bear, "I can flop a pancake over seven times, making it turn somersaults in the air before it comes back to the griddle. You don't know how to bake cakes! Not at all!"

The Black Bushy Bear flopped it up in the air.

in a spring of water. So he did not nibble, the bunny's ears after all.

"I guess turning a pancake once is enough for me," chuckled Uncle Wiggily, as he poured on more batter. And Nurse Jane was quite surprised when she came down stairs to find griddle cakes for breakfast.

So this teaches us that we should never try to be too smart. And if the milkman doesn't leave eggs in place of molasses for the rag doll to play marbles with, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Bunty's ball.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

PRINCE HIROHITO
Is ill fortune haunting the royal house of Japan? Emperor Yoshihito, the real ruler, was forced by illness when virtually a young man, to turn over the reins of government to his son, Prince Hirohito, through a regency. Now the prince has just escaped death in the earthquake and fire which swept Tokio.

He and other members of the royal family were in the Imperial palace when the quake came. The palace was destroyed, the prince narrowly escaping death. He fled to return later, only to suffer another narrow escape when flames burst forth, according to an eye witness of the Tokio quake.

The crown prince is not yet twenty-three. He was born April 29, 1901. Following the custom of the imperial family, he has been educated both in the army and the navy, holding the military rank of second lieutenant and the naval rank of sub-lieutenant of the second class. He wears the jeweled rosette and chain of the Supreme Order of Chrysanthemum—an imperial decoration. His younger brothers are Prince Yasuhito, born June 25, and Prince Nobuhito, born January 3, 1905.

Prince Hirohito has traveled through Europe and has assimilated the influence of western civilization. His love of the dazze of uniforms and the gleam of bayonets in the sun is pointed out by observers as an indication of the possible policy he will adopt when he is mikado.

Aunt Mary was trying to persuade little Bob to retire at sunset, using the argument that all the little chickens went to bed at that time, says Judge.

"Yes," said little Bob, "but the old hen always goes with them."

New York attorney, returning from a tour of the world, tells of having discovered in the French Indo-China, a race of people with a vocabulary of only 500 words. But you don't have to go away from your own town to find a lot of people like that.

Of Sabbath breaking north of the Tweed there are many stories, and an American who has spent a bit of his time there adds one concerning a Scot and his wheelbarrow. Judge prints it.

Donald was hammering away at the bottom of his barrow when his wife came to the door.
"Mon," she exclaimed, "you're making muckle clatter. What will the neebours say?"
"Never mind the neebours," replied the busy one. "I maun get ma barra mendit!"
"Oh, but Donald, it's very wrong to work on Sabbath!" expostulated the wife. "Ye ought to use screws."

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS
When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels
Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health with Keys to the Calories"

THE THYROID GLAND, No. III

The foods which have iodine in measurable quantities should be taken in liberal amounts by those who have simple goiter. These foods are sea-fish, lettuce, beets, turnips, green peas, radishes and tomatoes. Carrots, parsley and potatoes do not contain as much iodine as the others listed, but they do have some. It is probable that in the goiter belts, however, even these vegetables may not contain sufficient iodine, and then iodine must be taken medicinally.

In Ohio and Switzerland a chocolate tablet containing iodine in very small doses is given once or twice a week throughout the year to the adolescent girls and boys, and the results in the prevention and cure of simple goiters have been marvelous.

Your physician may prescribe these for you; if he does not know the name of this compound I will gladly give it to him if he will write to me on his official stationery. (As I explained to you yesterday, I cannot give this prescription to you, because it would not be safe for you to use it without the personal diagnosis and prescription of your physician, so please do not write to me for it.)

He may prescribe iodine in other forms: sometimes painting simple goiters with iodine once a week results in their shrinking. But you must see your physician about this, because if the goiter should not be of the simple type the iodine medication might make it worse instead of better.

A balanced diet containing foods rich in iodine should be taken in liberal amounts in cases of simple goiter. Too much fat should not be eaten because an excess of fat has been shown by animal experimentation to upset the thyroid gland. (Cod liver oil is an exception. It is rich in iodine and vitamins, and will help to cure simple goiters.) Diet not balanced in other ways, too much candy and sweets, too much meat, etc., also may upset the iodine absorption.

Now while we know that simple goiter is due to a deficiency of iodine, we do not know quite so positively what is the cause of exophthalmic goiter. Considerable evidence has shown that the thyroid can be disordered from infectious diseases, poisons, decayed teeth, diseased tonsils, etc. And it can become disordered from prolonged absorption of the purificative products of the intestines.

The diet in exophthalmic goiter should be one that will furnish a large amount of the vitamins and mineral salts, and one conducive to a complete evacuation of the bowels every day. Because the excess thyroid secretion causes a very great increase in the oxidizing, breaking down and burning of the body tissues, the diet must be very liberal to supply this great activity—else the body tissues themselves burn. This is the reason the exophthalmic goiter patients are so thin.

Kellogg excludes meats, fish and all meat and fish products from the diet of his exophthalmic

To the left is a model that adorably answers the call for something new and distinctive for Fall. It is developed in black crepe-back satin and trimmed with embroidery developed in dark blue, pale blue and green rope silk. Dark navy-blue rep develops the second model, which gives a new expression to the straight silhouette. It is trimmed only with two lovely buckles and fastens at the left side in surplice fashion. ## Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 17 and have been going with a man of 21. I love him and he says he loves me, but he doesn't treat me like it. He won't keep his word. I simply can't depend on him. He treats me mean sometimes and acts so queer and tells me he doesn't love me. I am miserable all the time but keep going with him because he says he can't give me up. He says he will do better, but since I have forgiven either cotton or linen, briskly polishing with the grain of the wood. Keep the unused remainder of the oil and turpentine polish corked in the bottle to apply whenever the furniture begins to look dull and faded—and don't be afraid of rubbing it too much with that dry cotton or linen cloth after the polish is put on! If you care for your mahogany in this way, polishing it whenever it dims, you will never be troubled with that filmy appearance which ruins the beauty of so much of the mahogany we see in homes.

Of course, there is a good deal of work involved, in keeping your mahogany looking well. I know of housewives who will not have mahogany furniture because they haven't time to care for it properly, and they don't like to have unsightly furniture standing about. Furthermore, they realize that filmy mahogany is even painful to people who love and understand the care of this beautiful old wood.

BEAUTY CHATS

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

There is an adage about cleaning the inner ear, that "nothing smaller than the elbow" should be used. In other words, don't ever try to wash out the inside of the ear, don't ever put anything in, except now and then a soft wad of cotton, not too deeply pressed, if noises keep you from sleeping. If anything is wrong with your hearing, go to an aurist, an ear specialist. There are thousands of people going about now who think they are suffering from hereditary deafness, who are afflicted with nothing but hard wax and other matter in the ear. Probably their mothers and fathers who were deaf suffered for the same reason.

Go to an ear specialist, and have your ears syringed out. Many people have it done twice a year. One aurist tells me that everyone should do this, that most of us have less acute hearing than we need have because we are careless.

Tired eyes, which mean a tired and homely face, are benefited by alternate compresses of hot and cold water. Boric acid solution baths with an eye cup are valuable, they are refreshing and cleanse the eye of dust. But natural tears usually accomplish this anyway and too many eye baths are not advisable. Compresses of hot and cold tea are good, or of salt water though plain water is really almost as effective. Such a treatment for five full minutes will rest the eyes wonderfully, and make them bright and young when they have felt old and worn out.

To relieve bad breath, first of all take a laxative, eat almost nothing for several meals, the cause being indigestion. Drink plenty of water, the first two glasses of it being hot. Wash the mouth out with a solution made of one quart of boiled water and seven-tenths of an ounce of potassium permanganate. Scrub your teeth with peppermint water, and scrape off the coating on the tongue with the ring of a handle of a pair of scissors.

Mrs. E. E. C.—The Pilocarpine tonic for which I am glad to give the formula, is not a trade preparation. You could make it up yourself at home if you could measure the ingredients properly, but there is nothing to gain in doing this for yourself, as you have to purchase everything from the druggist, why not have him make up the formula, since he has every facility for doing so.

Peggy—Sulphur is purifying and antiseptic, that is the reason it is used in so many hair tonics. Eczema must be treated by a doctor, no home remedies can be counted upon to do more than give a temporary relief. If you send a stamped self-addressed envelope, I will be glad to mail you my articles on caring for your scalp, complexion; and also the other information you need.

Mrs. L. E. J. J. J. Subscribers—I will be glad to mail you formulas for the eyelash tonic or for the creams, if you send a stamped self-addressed envelope for mailing.

Tomorrow—Sea Baths in Winter

This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. ## With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

"I have been in real estate work for myself for the past twelve years," says Mrs. Ida Torseth of Virginia, Minn. "Selling real estate may not look like a woman's job, but why not? Surely women are more interested in the making of homes than men."

Mrs. Torseth is a member of the real estate board of Duluth, Minn., of which her home, Virginia, is a prosperous suburb. She is most enthusiastic about her home city, where, as she says, "the pine is queen and iron ore king." "Eighty-three per cent of the world's iron comes from this region, and it is the home of the largest white lumber plant in the world."

Mrs. Torseth was the first woman in Minnesota to run for the state senate. She was defeated by the narrow margin of seven votes and expects to try for higher political honors in the near future.

French Girls Must Learn Darning
Leon Berard, the French minister of education, has issued a circular to all schools insisting that girls be well instructed in darning.

Often he turns around to look. He has asked me if I am what can I do? How can I meet him? It was a case of love at first sight.

There is really nothing for you to do in order to become acquainted with the singer. Since you are sure he has noticed you, it may be that he will find a way to get better acquainted. If he is really interested in you, you may be sure he will. I would not advise you to turn around after he has passed to see if he is turning around too.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 14 years old. There is a boy of whom I am very fond, but he cares more for one of my girl friends. How can I win his affections?

Your intentions are not honorable. If some boy were going with you and another girl tried to get him away, you would resent it. Since the boy cares more for your girl friend, do not try to interfere.

NEW NAME FOR SCHOOL SOUGHT

Mrs. H. R. Collins Declares O. Y. V. I. Association Disfavors 'York Valley'

The Yorkdale school vigorously objects to the proposed name of York Valley school for the new building now being erected on Toland way, reports Mrs. H. R. Collins, president of the Occidental-York Valley Improvement association.

It is felt that a better name than this can be selected and invitations to extend suggestions to the association are once more sent out.

Mrs. Collins reports that a membership campaign has been instituted by the association, divided into two groups, one captained by Oliver Phillips and the other by M. Taylor. The losing side will treat the winners.

The vote of the O. Y. V. I. A. to affiliate with the Greater Los Angeles Improvement Council has been approved by practically all members present at the meeting, states Mrs. Collins.

The following committee chairmen have been appointed: H. R. Collins, transportation; G. F. Reznor, restrictions; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. James, program; Mr. and Mrs. A. Kromer, social; J. Bowman, lights, and O. Phillips, streets.

Dahlia Show Opens

The second annual Dahlia show of Eagle Rock opened at 3 o'clock this afternoon, in the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse, with hundreds of gorgeous exhibits. Great throngs marked the opening, drawing perhaps the greatest numbers of people who have ever been inside the clubhouse at one time.

Among the throngs were many tourists, many visitors from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Santa Barbara and even San Francisco, while newspaper representatives from many newspapers were on hand to report the big event for their respective sheets.

Tonight at 8 o'clock there will be another session of the show. Full report, covering the affair in detail and naming the prize winners will appear in Saturday's issue of The Glendale Evening News.

Local and Personal

The Thursday Morning club met this morning with Mrs. Ludlow of 5014 Ellis avenue. The program studied was Carl Von Weber. This was the first of the regular fall meetings.

Classes in speech correction are under way at the Eagle Rock school, from 1 till 3 o'clock each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon, in charge of Miss McClure. Pupils come from the Dahlia Heights, San Rafael, Glassell Park and Aragon schools, in addition to those from the Eagle Rock school who attend the classes.

C. W. Young, of 900 Rock Glen avenue, who has been serving on the civil jury at $2 per day, feels highly elated over his promotion to the criminal jury, where recently he was closeted over night at a Los Angeles hotel. He is reticent regarding the increase in salary.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Nye, of 5119 Paloma avenue, have moved to their ranch near Ventura. George Sherwood, son of Mrs. Robertson Abbot, 315 North Peyton avenue, has returned to Yale university, New Haven, Conn., to continue his studies.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Preston, of 137 South Royal drive, have sold their home and are now looking for another location.

Gin Cargo Captured by Glendale Police

One hundred and fifty-five gallons of synthetic gin is now being held as evidence this morning at the Glendale Police Department. This liquor was contained in a Ford truck which was being driven past the intersection of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road about 5:30 a. m. Its driver, H. Cohen of Los Angeles, was placed under arrest. He refused to explain where he got his "load," which was contained in thirty-one five gallon square oil cans.

'Petticoat Lane' Nets De Molay Good Profit

"Petticoat Lane," the two act musical comedy staged by the Glendale Chapter, Order of De Molay, netted the organization a handsome sum, according to preliminary reports yesterday after the close of Tuesday night's performance.

The exact sum will not be definitely known until all obligations have been discharged, but the officials of the chapter are pleased with the results they have obtained.

RECOVERS FROM CROUP

"My boy had a very bad attack of croup. Tried everything but nothing did him much good. Then I used Foley's Honey and Tar and he had no trouble since," writes Mrs. William Sims, Burlington, Wyoming. Coughs, colds and croup quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar, the largest selling cough medicine in the world. Free from opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper.

TUJUNGA

FILM MADE NEAR TUJUNGA SHOWN

Valley Scenes Are Featured In Picture Play With Local Players

Much interest was taken by Tujungans in the recent premiere of "The Light Giver," the first film play to be made entirely in Tujunga and the immediate neighborhood. The picture was shown at the Tujunga Valley theatre.

Scenes in the play were taken on Los Robles avenue, on the property of Dr. V. A. Humphrey, in the Begue' canyon, on South Marshall street, Tujunga, and at the Baptist church in Sunland. The story is by Roger Chadwick Neville and was adapted by J. Kenneth Stambaugh, who also directed the action.

A white-haired old hermit is the chief character of "The Light Giver," who befriends all the needy. Rattler is the apt name given the villain, who, as all good villains usually do, takes too much rope and hangs himself, and everyone lives happily ever after, presumably.

Local Actors Used

A number of local people were used in a wedding scene at the Sunland Baptist church. R. C. McKennon played the part of a sheriff.

Needlework and other salable articles are being prepared by the Ladies' Aid Society members for a bazaar they intend to hold in November. The society has pledged $500 to the building fund of the Community church, and proceeds of the bazaar will form part of this pledge.

P. T. A. Head Resigns

At the first Parent-Teacher Association meeting held since she was elected president, Mrs. P. P. Correll tendered her resignation. She gave as her reason other important demands on her time. The executive board appointed a committee to nominate her successor.

Mrs. H. B. Lynch, first vice-president, acted as chairman at the meeting. A membership campaign was outlined, with Mrs. Clarence Buck in charge. Tujunga is now rated as one of the largest Parent-Teacher Association districts, according to population, with nearly four hundred members at the close of last term. The increase in the school enrollment and an intensive drive for new members are expected to greatly increase the number. The association had a very successful year just past with Mrs. B. E. Reynolds in the president's chair.

High school transportation was brought up by Mrs. Helen Rutherford, but was dropped on the suggestion of Mrs. J. C. Greer, who stated that the Glendale trustees are to take a vote of all parents of high school pupils living in Tujunga and Sunland. The trustees will decide from the results of this vote what course to follow in getting pupils to and from Glendale.

The prize for the largest representation of mothers present at the meeting was won by Miss Buckner's room.

Club Women to Meet

The Tujunga Woman's Club will hold the first meeting of the season the second Tuesday of this month, October 9, at the Community church. The executive board will meet on Monday preceding. Much effort will be directed toward increasing the building fund this year. A lot has already been acquired by the club and the members are ambitious to erect the new building.

Plan Winter Dances

According to plans made by Judge Wilcox, owner, the Garden of the Moon pavilion will be covered for the winter and dances will be held as usual, probably twice a week. Herebefore dances and entertainments have been discontinued in the winter, but the owner believes the attraction warrants a roof and other protection against inclement weather.

Perry McNeely, artist, has placed a set of books on art at the disposal of members of the Fine Arts Guild. He expects to make his home in Tujunga in the near future.

Coke's Place, a refreshment stand at the corner of Michigan avenue and Walnut drive, has again changed hands. This makes the second change within a month.

Mrs. O. I. Perkiser of Tujunga has purchased the stand from C. W. Willis. She intends to conduct a first-class short-order stand after remodeling the building and enclosing it on all sides. The place will be known as "The Midget" and in the near future will be kept open till 11 p. m.

Temporary Home

J. L. Limes has purchased two lots on Harding place and will erect a temporary home for use while building a larger house. Mr. Limes is credited with having organized the Sunland Baptist church about fifteen years ago.

W. E. Cornwell, composer, has bought property on North Palm avenue and plans extensive improvements.

N. L. Anderson is having a home built on North Sunset boulevard. Native rock will be used, with a hardwood interior finish.

BURBANK

8TH STREET NOW IS KENNETH ROAD

Board of Trustees Agree to Glendale Name for Thoroughfare

Eighth street has been renamed Kenneth road by the Burbank board of trustees, to conform with Glendale's thoroughfare of that name.

This action comes after consultation with the City Council of the neighboring community and is part of a comprehensive plan to effect more harmony between streets passing through the two cities.

The annual chicken dinner of the Methodist church, prepared and served by the women, takes place tonight, in the church.

Tomorrow, October 5, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the church and spend the day working on articles for the forthcoming bazaar. A "pot luck" luncheon will be served at noon.

At 7:30 o'clock Sunday night, in the Baptist church, Rev. E. A. Main will deliver a special address to the Mystic Smile boys.

Motor Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hayward, who visited Miss Loretta Smith of 434 Verdugo avenue, are automotored here all the way from Springfield, Mass., where Mrs. Hayward and Miss Smith were once college chums.

The long trip, which rolled up 5,500 miles on the speedometer of their car, took them up into Canada and through the Yellowstone National park. They expect to spend the winter in and around Burbank.

Walter C. Fisher, well known local attorney, has been appointed attorney for the Atlas Mixed Mortar Company.

Local and Personal

R. M. Berglund, manager of the new J. C. Penney store soon to open in Burbank, is now in Portland, Ore., where he will take part in the semi-annual gathering of the Pacific coast Penney company's managers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kendig, Mrs. George Kendig, Mrs. Hawk, Miss Shuck and the Misses Dorothy and Ruth Kendig spent the week-end at Santa Monica beach.

Miss Elain Kaplan of 553 Angeleno avenue has returned from a three months' visit in San Francisco.

TUJUNGA

TUJUNGA HUNTER KILLS BIG BUCK

Nonchalant Nimrod Wanders Into Foothills; Brings Home 5 Pointer

Harry Zitto of East Michigan avenue, Tujunga may or may not have read in The Evening News columns of the exploits of various Glendale nimrods who are prone to venture nonchalantly forth before breakfast and bring in a deer, or two from the Verdugos at their doors.

In any case, whether he read it or heard it, that nonchalant thing must have irritated Harry some. He considers himself quite some hunter and has bagged some fine game, but never yet has felt called upon to feel nonchalant about it.

Saunters After Buck

So, to make a long story longer, Mr. Zitto shouldered his rusty (pardon) trusty rifle, summoned a lackadaisical air and sauntered more or less nonchalantly forth into the Verdugo hills just outside his dooryard.

That was on Saturday morning. At noon there was plenty of venison at the Zitto home place to last several weeks.

The scene of the action was in the hills south of Tujunga. A head with five points will soon be on exhibit at the Zitto home.

Harry yawns with the same lackadaisical manner that accompanied him on the hunt.

"Oh—hum. Yes, I'm having the head mounted and stuffed with nonchalance—er—sawdust. Just to show them city fellers."

Glendale Parents Get News From Tokio

"The employes have practically all lost their homes, and it is piteous to hear them tell about their affairs. One boy at the office with his two babies and his wife were driven into the Sumida river to escape the flames. They placed the children on their backs and took towels to cover over their heads. When the flames came close they would duck under the water and stay as long as they could. They had to continue this for hours, and if it had not been for the wet towels they would never have made it.

"Yesterday 150 foreigners left on boats. I guess you will appreciate that since Yokohama was entirely destroyed I have no clothes. I did find that the Tennis club was intact, so I had my flannel pants and two white shirts saved."
