A Delightful Easter Breakfast

Easter morning! Herald of Spring-time; sounding the call of Nature's reawakening to life and vigor. No wonder Easter is a glorious festive season, impatiently awaited; no wonder mankind seeks adequate expression—in new apparel—new colors—

—and—in thousands of homes by a special breakfast of Premium Bacon or Ham. But be sure it is "Premium", for, as Easter is an outstanding day, it is but appropriate that you should mark it by that which is outstanding in quality and goodness.

Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon

Look for this blue identification tag when you buy a whole ham or when you buy a slice

Be careful to get Swift's "Premium" when you buy Bacon or Ham—make sure of it this coming Easter Morning. Order from your Butcher or Grocer.

HOUSE DISCUSSED
C.N.R. BRANCHES

Several Bills For Prairie Extensions Were Given First Reading

Ottawa, April 9.—First reading was given by the Commons yesterday afternoon and last evening to the following Canadian National Railway branch line bills:

—From the end of steel at Mile 24 on the Melfort Northeastern line of the Canadian Northern Railway to Mile 41 near Nipawin, Saskatchewan. The estimated mileage, including existing grading of six miles, totals seventeen miles. The estimated cost is $360,000.

PEEBLES LINE

From Peebles, on the Canadian Northern Saskatchewan Railway, southerly to a point near Township 10, Range 13, west of the Second Meridian, Saskatchewan. Twenty miles of this line has already been graded and the estimated mileage, including existing grading, is twenty-two miles. The estimated cost is $390,000.

GRAVELBOURG LINE

Gravelbourg extension of the C.N.R. from mile 108 to mile 128 at Neidpath, Sask., at an estimated cost of $144,000. The Minister said the grading had been completed in 1920, and it was proposed to lay the steel during the present Summer. A. J. Lewis, Progressive, Swift Current, said the proposed construction left a gap of twenty-four miles to Swift Current, and he asked the minister whether there would be no further extensions for a period of three years. Mr. Graham replied that Parliament could do so, as it desired each year and that the programme for next year would depend on recommendations by the Canadian National board.

MANITOBA LINE

From mile fifteen on the Ste. Rose du Lac extension of the Canadian Northern Railway to mile thirty-seven at Rorketon in the Province of Manitoba, a total of twenty-two miles, the estimated cost being $278,000.

From Hanna to Warden in Alberta, a distance of fifty-seven miles at an estimated cost of $1,445,000. A. Speakman, Progressive, Red Deer, suggested some slight alteration, and asked the Minister to consider the possible expense involved in the changing of the terminal point if it was the intention of the Government to make Warden the new terminus.

NO LIVESTOCK
SHIPMENT EMBARGO
IN OLD COUNTRY

London, April 9.—There will be no "stand still" order issued by the Ministry of Agriculture prohibiting movement of animals by rail or boat for a certain period in order to stamp out the foot and mouth disease among animals in this country. The intimation to this effect given some weeks ago has just been officially confirmed. The Ministry of Agriculture states that a stand still order not only would be onerous, but enforcement would be impracticable.

TRADE DISPUTE
BILL IN BRITAIN

London, April 9 (Canadian Press cable)—The House of Lords yesterday gave second reading to the Industrial Courts Amendment Bill, which Lord Asquith explained, provided that where the Labor Minister had referred a trade dispute to the court of inquiry it would be unlawful for an employer or workman to precipitate a breach.

Lord Haldane, speaking for the Government, doubted whether the bill was practical, though he agreed as to its main object.

PRAIRIE FARMERS' VIEWS STATED TO EAST BY FORKE

Montreal, April 9.—Addressing the Montreal Board of Trade yesterday, Robert Forke, parliamentary leader of the Progressive Party, stated that while the grain growers of the prairie wanted to work with the rest of the Province for the continued welfare of the Dominion, they wished to see all ideas of protection out of the tariff, which if here to be continued at all, should only be a tariff for revenue. His other main topic was the Hudson Bay Railway and the development of Fort Nelson. He did not personally commit himself on this, but stated the people of the prairie provinces wanted the Hudson Bay Railway with or without Fort Nelson, and were determined it should be completed to the shore of the bay.

The great gap from North Bay almost to Winnipeg, he said, was the greatest political fact in Canada. The problem was to bridge this wilderness that separated East from West.

The bulk of Canada's export trade, he said, was produced between Winnipeg and the Rockies, where the producers all had to pay an increased price for everything they had to buy, owing to the protective tariff. This was the problem he had to meet and overcome as a member of Parliament, and it could be solved only by sensible men getting together from all Canada and adopting a general system of compromise.

The position was that to win all tariff was giving one industry an advantage at the expense of another, and "our industry has no chance of getting protection."

On the one side there was over-production and on the other inability to purchase, he charged.

If it's Valuable It's Advertisable

New furniture, for the home or for the office or place of business, displaces the old—sometimes the almost new.

What to do with used things is a classified advertising problem. A For Sale or Exchange advertisement makes it possible for you to realize the cash value of such things—either in cash, or in other things which you may need.

These For Sale ads have a peculiar interest to people—for they often show opportunities to secure needed things, good as new, at bargain prices.

WELCOME AWAITS
PRINCE OF WALES

People of South Africa Hope to See Him After General Election

Statements in Parliament by Premier Smuts and Hertzog, Nationalist

Cape Town, South Africa, April 9 (Canadian Press via Reuters)—Speaking to the House of Assembly of the Union of South Africa to-day, General Hertzog, the Nationalist leader, questioned the accuracy of the announcement of the postponement of the visit of the Prince of Wales to South Africa and expressed the hope the announcement was not equivalent to saying the Prince would not come at all. (Cheers.)

Undoubtedly the change of plans meant disappointment to a great many, but he hoped he was voicing the feelings of all sections when he said that if the Prince should visit South Africa in the future he would be greeted with respect and warmth worthy of his high position and of the South African people.

INVITATION RENEWED

Premier Smuts, replying, said the statement of General Hertzog was quite correct. The Prince would be perfectly welcome under any circumstances and was assured of a most royal welcome by every shade of opinion. It was only the proprieties of the case which had induced the Government to advise him to postpone his trip until after the general election. He hoped the invitation would be renewed when the election was over so the people might have an early opportunity of seeing the future King. He added that he knew the Prince was anxious to come to South Africa and would probably find occasion to do so.

AUTO DEALERS'
AGENT INTERVIEWS
OTTAWA MINISTERS

Ottawa, April 9.—Claiming the automobile dealers were under an unjust and suffered heavy losses as a result of the imposition of the luxury tax on automobiles, J. Dixon, a member of the advisory committee of the automobile section of the Retail Merchants' Association, interviewed Premier King and members of the Cabinet yesterday.

Mr. Dixon presented a memorandum which set forth that the automobile dealers had suffered at the time of the imposition of the luxury tax because they were forced to pay a tax on all cars which they had in stock or in transit, while several months elapsed before they could pass the tax on to the customers. They also suffered at the time the tax was removed, because the Government, it was claimed, had refused to refund the tax which had been paid in advance on cars which were unsold at the time of the removal.

H. J. WILLIAMS TO SERVE LIFE TERM

Ottawa, April 9.—Henry J. ("Slim") Williams, sentenced to be hanged April 13 for the murder of Russell Campbell of Melbourne, Ont., will not pay the death penalty. The Governor-in-Council has commuted his sentence to life imprisonment. Williams was associated with Sydney Murray, who will be executed Thursday in an attempt to rob the Home Bank at Melbourne, during which Campbell was killed.

MICHIGAN GIVES COOLIDGE SUPPORT

Detroit, April 8.—Calvin Coolidge won a sweeping victory in Michigan. Returns from 1,847 of the state's 2,890 precincts gave him a lead of 36,198 over Senator Hiram W. Johnson for Republican preference in the presidential primary.

Henry Ford continued to hold a meagre advantage over Senator Woolbridge N. Ferris for the Democratic preference, the vote from 1,907 precincts showing: Ford 27,399; Ferris 24,467.

My Rosy Skin
 How I clean it—how I preserve it
 By Edna Wallace Hopper

My skin is the marvel of millions. Even softer and more rosy than 40 years ago. Yet mine is a grand-mother's age.

Mine has been no easy life. I have lived in the limelight. I served France five years in the rigors of the war. Yet countless young girls envy my complexion. I can easily pass for 19.

France gave me the methods I employ. Now, in gratitude, I am supplying them to others. They multiplied my beauty, gave me permanent youth. Now I hope to bring to millions the benefits I got.

How I keep clean
 The first step to beauty is a clean skin—a skin that is clean to the depths. Lucie Lantelme, a famous Parisian beauty, taught me how to get it.

The method is a liquid cleanser. I call it my Facial Youth. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. So it cannot grow hair on the face. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. But it penetrates every pore. When I wipe it off, all the dirt and grime, all that clogs the skin comes with it.

You may think you clean your skin without it, but you don't. Ap-

V.O.N. MEETING
 The regular monthly meeting of the local board of the V.O.N. was held on the afternoon of Tuesday, April 8, at 115 Collinson Street. Miss Curry reported 122 cases nursed, 827 visits, of which 521 were free and 173 insured. The next meeting of the service forty-seven, instruction 112, head nurse's visits forty, nursing visits 464, telephone consultations ninety-eight.

Interesting Exhibit—The monthly meeting of Garden City Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon last at Marigold Hall. The president was in the chair and there was a good attendance. The reports given were very energetic. All arrangements have been made for a concert and display of physical drill by the pupils of Miss Gladys Thorpe, in the Marigold Hall on Saturday, April 12 at 8 p.m.

SPRING BAZAAR A BIG SUCCESS
 Church of Our Lord Will Benefit by Yesterday's Affair

The schoolroom of the Church of Our Lord, Humboldt, St. was given over to the ladies' bazaar yesterday afternoon and filled to overflowing for the very successful bazaar held under the auspices of the ladies' aid whose efforts were crowned with success. A variety of dainty and useful articles found ready customers and a substantial sum should accrue to the church funds in consequence.

Mrs. Brae, Mrs. Shandley and Miss Newberry sold dainty fancy work; aprons and children's wear, found ready sale at the stall handled by Mrs. Dodds, Mrs. Pontifex and Mrs. Harmon; and delicious confections made and sold by the Misses Murray drew many patrons to the candy stall with its charming decorations of mauve and pink. Antiques of all kinds graced the stall at which Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Middleton and Mrs. Martin presided; Miss W. Warren sold fragrant Spring postcards; Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Luxton quickly disposed of their tempting delicatessen. Mrs. Duncan McTavish superintended the affairs of the small anglers at the fishpond in its mossy dell.

Throughout the afternoon delicious afternoon tea was served under the direction of Mrs. D. C. Hughes and Mrs. Hoey, assisted by the Misses Harris, Tobin, Laundry and Bushby.

To Hold Old Time Fair—An old-time fair has been arranged by the Scottish Daughters League of Esquimalt to take place at the Rex Theatre on Saturday next at 3 p.m. Many attractions have been planned to make a success of the event, which is for the benefit of the juvenile pipe band. Home cooking and balling for which the Scottish Daughters enjoy quite a reputation for excellence will be on sale. There will be a candy stall and a stall displaying aprons and other practical needlework. During the afternoon tea will be served and besides the more usual dainties, hot pies will be included in the menu. "Captain Cuttle" will be on duty to keep the children amused, the brain pie is also likely to be popular with the little folk. Fortunes will be told by tea cup readings and by palmistry. No charge will be made for admission to the fair before bathing. Thus I remove wrinkles from the face. I remove wrinkles from the face. I remove wrinkles from the face.

BOYS FIND PEARLS
 On a fishing trip to Chain Island, in the Chatham Island group, recently two fifteen-year-old boys, resident in this city, collected a quantity of mussels for bait. To secure the meat of the mussel more readily they cooked them over a fire. In one mussel a pearl the size of a pea was found, while an excited search of a few dozen more gave up three more pearls, of seed size. The pearls, while not of very good quality, are nevertheless interesting proof of the ability of the mussel to coat an irritant substance with nacre.

YOUR HEALTH
 CRYING MAY NOT BE SYMPTOM WHEN ONE HAS HYSTERIA

By Royal S. Capellan, M.D.

We live in an age characterized by constant hustling and bustling. From morning until night there is a never-ending rush of duties. It matters little whether we are obliged to do things just on the minute or not, we cannot overcome the inclination to hurry.

If we take time to reflect for a few minutes on our manner of living, is it any wonder that we suffer from such things as hysteria?

The word hysteria brings to the average mind the picture of a crying woman. As a matter of fact hysteria is not confined to women.

Hysteria may be evidenced by lack of self-control, by choking, spasmodic twitching of the limbs or the muscles of the face, fainting spells, melancholy, indigestion and many other symptoms.

Probably the most common causes of hysteria are overwork, long continued ill-health, worry and other excesses. In all but a few instances much can be done by the victim of hysteria to overcome this condition.

If you are one of these unfortunate people take counsel with yourself and decide how to help yourself. Let me make a few suggestions.

Start the day in a leisurely way—you will say immediately that you have to be at business at 8 o'clock perhaps. Even so, get up half an hour earlier than your usual habit, so that you have ample time to bathe, dress and eat your breakfast.

After your breakfast walk a few blocks, if the distance to your work is too great to walk the entire way. You will be surprised to find that instead of starting the day with indigestion and general "grouch," you will find interest in your work and associates.

At the luncheon hour, do not attempt to eat a sandwich and an ice-cream soda while you are still nervous and fatigued from the morning's work. Instead, walk around the block once or twice, then have a dish of hot soup, toast and tea, or some other light food. After your lunch, walk more and go back to enjoy your afternoon's work.

In the evening have a little diversion of some sort and go to bed with as tranquil a mind as possible. Get as much sleep as you can. A fresh air, sunlight, good food and a fair amount of fun will ward off most cases of hysteria.

YOUR HOME AND YOU
 BY HELEN KENNEDY
The Lantern-Lamp

Nothing lends greater charm to the vista of connecting rooms in our homes than a number of decorative lamps. The glow from a distant mellow shade in shadowy corner, a soft light upon a bowl of flowers, a shapely lamp reflected in a mirror—all these add a hundred fold to the beauty of an interior.

It is not necessary that all of these lamps be reading lamps. In fact, since it is not necessary for the shade of a reading lamp to flare at the base, the lamps in the room would be covered with shades of the same shape and this would be inartistic and monotonous. An occasional lamp whose light is entirely enclosed, and which depends for its beautiful effect upon a decorative shade itself, makes a very attractive variety in a room where a number of lights are displayed.

A really lovely tall lamp for an obscure corner where no one is apt to want to read, is the Japanese lantern lamp shown in our sketch to-day. The shade in this case is one of plain mellow Japanese parchment, with a framework of black lacquer. It stands upon a black enamelled metal standard, and the pulls for its two electric bulbs are of Chinese vermilion cords, with tassels of the same rich red. Pulls and tassels of jade green or Chinese blue would be attractive in rooms using these colors or contrasting tones.

The oriental shades show many designs in the patterns. A stunning shade is of the yellow parchment with black dragons and full orange moons painted upon it. In some cases the shade is decorated with light showing through Japanese pagodas, under little bridges, and through the same orange moon, would be effective in a room where the beams of light by which one may read, the subdued glow is sufficient to light up the corner and one may read the title of a book, the address on a letter, or see the detail of an ornament on the table. Their particular purpose, of course, is purely decorative, and they are ideal for providing a beauty spot in an otherwise uninteresting space in the room.

Mystery Play Repeated Thursday
 By repeating on Thursday evening the Lenten mystery play, "A Mirror for Souls" in Christ Church Cathedral schoolroom, the "Eager Heart" players will give Victorians another opportunity of seeing a modern mystery play. This play, which was first produced in England in 1916, has been as warmly received in America, where its simple charm and heart-stirring appeal have won high commendation. A Mirror for Souls is most appropriately played in the Lenten season, close to Good Friday, for in presenting in dramatic form one aspect of the mystery of the Cross of Christ, the play has a unique teaching value. Members of the cathedral choir will again render the musical accompaniments, and will sing during the intervals, the hymn, "Loving Divine, All Loves Excelling," and the quartette, "God So Loved the World."

Streets of Paris Before Revolution Were Seas of Mud

In mud, old, bad Paris just before the Revolution, the streets were seas of mud. Who but the white stockings, carefully shod aristocrat, who picked his way across the cobble stones on the Avenue de Richelieu? One first of a careering coach wheel as soon as it touched the mud, who dashed on to the Tuileries, and the infuriated citizen was a mass of mud. So on each and every corner was a man with a great brush and an ample supply of polish for the shoes of dirt-stained citizens.

"These 'first aid' stations are only a trifle of the local times that Rex Ingram has included in 'Scaramouche,' his newest Metro production now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

Divorce Problem Tragic Subject of Playhouse Feature

The final disillusionment—the bare courtroom, with benches for the morbid and humiliation for the principals, with treasured intimacies flaunted before a cynical public and for those over whose interests attorneys wrangle, the ashes of human hopes and desires!

How many hundreds of families today are verging on this greatest of human tragedies? What can check the mad rush to the divorce courts? This problem forms the subject of "Divorce," a photoplay now playing at the Playhouse Theatre. Jane Novak, most recently seen in "Theima," plays a pivotal role in this latest of divorce dramas, which is directed by Chester Bennett.

Film Star Races Safely, Then is Hurt on Street

Reginald Denny, popular Universal star, cheated death and even serious injury for several days in that most thrilling and dangerous of all sports, automobile road racing, and then received injuries which put him in bed for many weeks while driving his town car around a corner of Hollywood Boulevard.

Denny spent several weeks at Del Monte and Monterey in Northern California while exterior scenes were being filmed for "Sporting Youth," his newest Universal-Jewel feature, now at the Capitol. It is a story of automobile racing and the big climax of the picture is a road race.

A regular race was staged by the Denny company, regular prizes offered and many famous drivers competed. Reg. drove his own roadster in the race and proved himself an expert racing driver. Several accidents occurred during the race, one or two of which are unusually spectacular and were caught by Ahely cameras which flanked the dangerous corners of the track. Denny was on the track every day for a week and never drove a lap slower than ninety miles an hour. He had one slight accident but was uninjured.

A week after his return to the studio he and a couple of friends were driving toward Beverly Hills in Denny's town car. They had just returned from an all day fishing trip off the coast of San Pedro and were delivering fish to friends in the screen colony.

Rounding a corner, the car skidded on a wet streak of pavement, careened across the street, failed to right itself and overturned.

The car was badly damaged and all three men injured. Denny suffered a broken pelvic bone and other serious injuries, narrowly escaping death.

"Sporting Youth" was written by Byron Morgan, author of the "Roaring Road," Saturday Evening Post series, and filmed under Harry A. Pollard's direction. Laura La Plante and a well selected cast support.

Swickard Presents Role of Prince in Play of Mystery

Josef Swickard, remembered for his superb characterization of the French father in "The Four Horsemen," presents a brief but polished portrayal as a blue-blooded prince determined to oppose the will of the masses to the last ditch, in "Bavu," the strange Universal-Jewel mystery "thriller" which is the current offering of the Columbia Theatre to-day for the last

MINSTREL SHOW TO GIVE ADDITIONAL PERFORMANCE

With the tendency of the age to turn towards the ubiquitous "jaz" for entertainment, the public has become somewhat satiated with the usual revue and the community owes a deep debt of gratitude to the Kiwanis Club for reviving the once-popular minstrel show.

The success of their clever show and the enthusiasm with which it was received last night proves the wisdom of their choice of entertainment. There was not a dull moment. The audience rocked with laughter at the drolleries of the end men, were properly impressed with the aced wisdom of the four resuscitated "King Tut's," and their views on modern life, and applauded with vigor the excellent singing of the soloists and chorus.

The staging of the production was worthy of a metropolitan theatre. In the first act the setting was that of a Mississippi levee with the darkness adding in the foreground. Into the scene floated a steamboat, the St. Kiwanis, resplendent with white paint and commanded by "Captain" Tom Morrison, his crew and the darkies on shore providing the talent for the first half of the entertainment under the direction of "Showman" Dr. Howard Miller.

Act two showed the darkies resplendent as minstrels. The Kiwanis

Colors were cleverly introduced, the blue ribbon worn across the white shirt front, while enormous sunflowers were in the buttonhole added the necessary splash of yellow, the ensemble against the dusky black-face background proving most striking.

Owing to the many numerous requests for tickets from would-be patrons who were unable to secure them for the three nights, it has been decided to give an additional performance on Thursday evening.

The proceeds of the show will be landed by the club to the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital and, judging by the packed houses, a substantial sum should accrue to this worthy cause.

No reference to the show would be complete without a word of praise to the executive committee whose combined efforts have contributed in no small measure to the success of the undertaking and whose personnel is as follows:

Stage manager, C. W. Stocker; asst. stage mgrs., T. Keisay and J. Grace; musical director, Cecil Heaton; properties and costumes, Jack Trace and Al Meugens; publicity manager, Dan Poupard; tickets and house, H. G. Hinton; committee, Messrs. First Pictures of Holdup and Murder of Bank Messenger on a Street in Montreal

CREATES CARDINALS.—Pope Pius XI, who has conferred red hats of cardinal upon the two newly elevated American prelates at a public consistory held in the basilica of St. Peter's thus marking the final ceremony in connection with their accession to the cardinalate.

POOR RIDER BUT GAME.—Despite the nasty fall which the Prince of Wales sustained when he was pitched off by his mount during the course of the recent point-to-point army at Aberfeldy Cross, near Wokingham, he protested strongly against being carried off the field on a stretcher. In the above picture the heir to the throne is seen trying to raise himself to a sitting position on the stretcher. When thrown, the prince's horse, "Little Favorite," kicked him and he sustained a gash over the eye as well as several bruises and abrasions.

DRY CHIEF JAILED.—William H. Anderson, former state superintendent of Anti-Saloon League, flanked on either side by sheriffs, arrived at the New York State Prison to begin his sentence of from one to two years for forgery.

WHERE BANK BANDITS WORKED.—The subway in Ontario Street east, Montreal, where eight hold-up men ambushed a bank messengers' automobile recently and where the battle in which the chauffeur of the bank car and one of the bandits were killed. The cross near the sidewalk shows where the bank car was halted. The cross in the center of the road shows where the chauffeur fell dead. The full figure at the left is Roland Fortier, wounded bank messenger, snapped as he was leaving Notre Dame Hospital after his injured hand had been treated. The smaller portrait is of Henri Cleroux, chauffeur of the bank car, who was killed.

BANDITS ARSENAL.—Above is shown the collection of materials taken by the Montreal police from the auto in which the dead body of the bandit was found, and from the one used in the Ontario Street subway to block the passage of the bank messengers' car after the $140,000 hold-up. The chains were to stop the car if other methods failed, while the large set of pliers were used to cut the trolley cable to stop a street car that was approaching, and might have interfered with their plans. The trunks were taken from a railway station where they had been checked two hours before the hold-up was staged. Below are the rifles used by the bandits.

FAMOUS SURGEON MAY RUN.—Dr. Horace Charles Mayo, known widely to Canadians through his association with the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, who is reported to be "giving consideration" to the suggestion that he run for the U.S. presidency on the Democratic ticket. This famous surgeon and his brother contributed $2,000,000 to the Mayo foundation in 1915.

ALSO MENTIONED.—Will Hays, former Postmaster-General in the Harding Cabinet and present czar of moviedom, who was given $25,000 in connection with a deal for the presidential nomination, according to the testimony of Al Jennings, politician and one-time terror of the wild west.

TIRED OF GAY LIFE.—Theresa Manjola, the Boston girl who fled to Sydney, N.S., because she was tired of the whirl, wiles and wickedness of a great city.

GRIT LEADER.—A. P. McWhinley, M.P., who has been appointed as new Liberal whip in the Ontario legislature, succeeding L. A. Pihard.

ESCAPES DEATH.—Mrs. Wm. Leeds, former Princess Xenia of Greece, and wife of the American tin-plate king, who was nearly drowned when her motor launch upset off the coast of Georgia.

NOT BIRTH CONTROLLER AT HOME.—Dr. Marie Stopes, British birth control advocate, who has just presented her husband with a bouncing baby boy, in addition to being a leader in connection with the birth control campaign, she has written scientific treatises, books of poems and a propaganda play, "Our Orphan." Her husband is H. V. Roe, the aviator pioneer.

WAGING WAR ON THE COMMUNION CHALICE.—Above is shown the common communion chalice which is now meeting with opposition from the health authorities of the United States. This cup, passed from communicant to communicant, who sips the sacramental wine may pass along disease germs say the medical men who are moving that it be abolished on sanitary grounds. The other picture shows the individual cups which are now used in the service by some Toronto churches.

GETS PENSION FORTUNE.—Baron Rodney, Saskatchewan rancher, who has decided to commute the pension granted to Admiral Rodney's family in perpetuity for $200,000.

BACKS HUDSONS BAY ROUTE.—Elihu Stewart, Toronto surveyor, forester and writer, who expresses belief in the possibility of a Hudsons Bay navigation route.

KING MAKER.—Col. T. E. Lawrence, C.B., D.S.O., the king-maker, whose adventures among the Arabs made him one of the most romantic figures of the war, in costume as commander-in-chief of the Arab army, and as "Private Shaw" in the Royal Tank Corps, where he was discovered a few days ago.

FAMOUS SURGEON MAY RUN.—Dr. Horace Charles Mayo, known widely to Canadians through his association with the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, who is reported to be "giving consideration" to the suggestion that he run for the U.S. presidency on the Democratic ticket. This famous surgeon and his brother contributed $2,000,000 to the Mayo foundation in 1915.
