EX-KAISER'S RETURN TO GERMANY OPPOSED

Allies to Hold Holland to 'Strict Accountability' If Wilhelm Goes

BULLETIN
BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Official denial was made here today that a passport has been granted to the ex-kaiser to enable him to return to Germany.

BULLETIN
LONDON, Nov. 13.—Foreign office officials said today the allies would hold Holland to "strict accountability" to prevent the former kaiser from leaving that country for Germany.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 13.—There was much bustle and activity at the home of the former German kaiser at Doorn, according to information from that town today.

It was reported that the ex-kaiser and his family were preparing for a journey. The report that the courier arrived at Doorn from Berlin with twelve German passports, enabling Wilhelm and his entourage to cross the German frontier, is not yet officially confirmed, but is given credence.

The allied powers are bringing pressure upon the Dutch government to prevent the departure of the ex-kaiser. So far as known, the Dutch government has not yet granted formal permission to Wilhelm to leave the country.

It was understood that the German passports set no time limit but permitted Wilhelm to return to Germany immediately, if Holland assented.

The report that Germany had permitted the former kaiser to return home, coupled with the fact that the former crown prince, Friedrich Wilhelm, already has reached German soil, created a sensation.

The report concerning the former war lord's return is understood to have originated in Brussels, where it was printed in a newspaper.

May Demand Trial
PARIS, Nov. 13.—Indignation and surprise were expressed in official circles today over the report from Brussels that Berlin has granted passports to the former kaiser to return to Germany.

If Wilhelm is allowed to return to German soil, France may seek a united allied demand for surrender of the ex-kaiser for trial. Foreign office officials pointed out that under article 227 of the Versailles treaty, Wilhelm may be placed upon trial before an international tribunal.

IGNORE CROWN PRINCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The United States government will not protest individually or will join in any allied protest against the return of the former German kaiser or members of his family to Germany. It was announced officially at the White House this afternoon.

Seek Bandits Who Killed and Robbed Man on L. A. Road

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Police detectives today combed the underworld for the trio of bandits who early this morning shot and killed Richard Nagel, 45, wealthy Ohio farmer, in Vernon avenue, and then robbed him of $500.

Nagel was in company with his brother, Edward Nagel, when the robbery took place. Before his brother was shot, Edward Nagel engaged one of the bandits in a hand-to-hand encounter, but was unable to frustrate the robbery.

The money, which was proceeds from an American Legion carnival at Culver City, was strapped to Richard Nagel.

The robbers, who are believed to have followed the Nagel brothers from Culver City, forced them to the curb at a lonely spot on the road and immediately started shooting. Nagel died before reaching the hospital.

CITY HONORS WORLD WAR HEROES

Glendalians Pay Tribute at Shrine of Patriotism to Ex-Soldiers

Glendale's tribute yesterday to the men who bore the brunt of the country's battles during the World War was one of the most pronounced of any city in Southern California, as almost all the local business establishments closed for the day to permit their executives and their employees to march in or to witness the Armistice day parade.

Other cities in this section of the state, it is shown, observed the day in what may be described as a half-hearted manner, leaving it to the individual merchant to close or not, as his own ideas on the subject dictated.

Honor to Heroes
Following the recommendation of the Glendale Merchants' association, the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, and the Glendale Realty board, the people of Glendale gave themselves to the duty that they realized is a paramount one, that of paying honor to the soldiers, living and dead, who marched down that bloody lane that led from the training camps to the front-line trenches during the dark days of 1917-1918, and none of those who stood on the sidewalks yesterday and watched the veterans who fought in the Civil war, the Spanish-American war and the World war march past, and who watched, bareheaded, as Old Glory snapped in the breeze at the head of each detachment in the line, but felt that he was a better American for even that brief spell at the shrine of patriotism.

Glendale 'All-American'
Glendale's boast that it is an "All-American city" was amply made good yesterday, when men willingly placed their duty to their country and to that country's heroes above the thoughts of barter and of gain, and turned out to pay the honor that was due to the men who stood between America and the sword that was pointed at her throat.

Additional details of Glendale's celebration on Armistice day appear on page 3 of this edition of The Glendale Evening News.

WILL HEAR EXPERTS

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The international reparations commission unanimously decided this afternoon to give an audience to a delegation of financial and economic experts "as soon as possible." It will probably be within ten days.

LABOR GROUP READY FOR FIGHT ON PREMIER

Liberal Party Agrees on Reunion; Tory Party To Face Contest

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
For International News Service
LONDON, Nov. 13.—Premier Stanley Baldwin officially announced today that the present parliament will be dissolved on Friday. A general election will follow to choose a new parliament.

The nominations will be made on November 26 and the election will be held December 6.

Immediately after parliament re-assembled today, Ramsay MacDonald, laborite and leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, moved a vote of censure against the government of Premier Baldwin's tariff policy. Debate on the protection issue will open tomorrow.

Demand Discussion
Baldwin has planned only a business session but he will be met by the powerful labor group that is demanding discussion of the unemployment question.

Although the session will be short-lived, the laborites plan to make a lively one. If the laborites co-operate with the laborites, the premier will get a taste of the opposition he will encounter on his protection policy in the political campaign after dissolution.

Premier Baldwin planned to confine today's proceedings in common to a memorial service for the late Andrew Bonar Law, former premier, leaving debate upon the tariff to go over until Wednesday.

After years of factional dissension, the liberal party today agreed upon a reunion. One section of the party had been led by former Premier David Lloyd George, the other by former Premier H. H. Asquith.

The reunion followed a conference of Lloyd George, Asquith, Sir Alfred Mond and Sir John Simon. The laborites intend to oppose the Tory party in the forthcoming election with a united front.

Mexican Ranch Proves Paradise for Hunters

Ducks and quail, lobsters, abalone and several varieties of fish form the "bag" secured by Chas. W. Kent, W. F. White and Charles White, the last named of Compton, when they spent the greater part of last week as the guests of E. A. Malcom, 115 West Broadway, at the ranch owned by Mr. Malcom and his associates at Boca de la Playa, near Ensenada, Lower California, Mexico.

The 5000-acre ranch at Boca de la Playa is described as a hunter's paradise, where the game is so thick, and where it has been hunted so little, that a man can kill the limit in little or no time.

The ranch lies along a three-mile shore front that permits deep sea fishing, and Mr. Malcom and his associates are planning to lease another 5000 acres, security a game preserve that teams with both large and small game of all kinds.

A big turn-out is expected tonight at the Glendale Union High school auditorium, when, starting promptly at 7:30 o'clock, the Community band will make its second bow to the public, sponsored by the Glendale Exchange club.

Inasmuch as admission is free and an especially fine program has been prepared, it is felt by those who have put their effort into this affair that it should reveal to the public of Glendale an even better band than when the former concert was given, under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

CITY CLERK ACTS AS CUPID'S AIDE

Love-Lorn Swain Asks Van Wie to Help Find Sincere Home Loving Girl

City Clerk A. J. Van Wie this morning blossomed out in a new role, after he was injudicious enough to reveal to his conferees at the city hall the contents of a letter he had received from a love-lorn swain down in Los Angeles who is on the search for a wife.

Now it's Cupid's aide. He has been furnishing up his little bow and arrows to see if he can't plunk some fair charmer somewhere between the shoulder blades when she isn't looking, and steer her into the more or less troubled sea of matrimony.

The writer says, "I am appealing to you in search of a good, true girl for a wife. I regret very much to use this method in finding a wife, but I am sincere in this write-up and I certainly would appreciate your help, as I would rather find a good girl in a small city.

This Is No Joke
"I am a good, respectable man and of good character and sincerely hope this will not be taken as a joke. If I could find my ideal I would like to marry in the near future and sincerely hope that I will hear from good, true, sincere girls. I have no objection to a widow.

"I prefer a true, sincere, home-loving girl that will make me and my home happy and be willing to live in the country in the future. Either an American or German Protestant. I prefer a true, plain girl, plain cook and housekeeper, and not be too extravagant.

LOWER TAXES ON INCOMES WILL AID BUSINESS

Building Materials, Clothing and Food to Cost Less If Plans Carry

By W. H. ATKINS
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Decrease in costs from building materials to food and clothing will follow lower taxes on incomes, government tax experts predicted today.

Secretary Mellon attributes the present high cost of living in no small measure to high taxes on big incomes, which have driven wealth from the field of productive enterprise into tax-free securities.

While approval has been voiced by returning congressmen over plans for reducing income taxes, it nevertheless became apparent today that congress is going to view the Mellon plan with some suspicion. The Mellon program is recognized as his first assault on the soldiers' bonus, to which a great majority of both house and senate are pledged.

Question of Bonus
Secretary Mellon's whole scheme of taxation is based on congress not passing the bonus. It will not be possible, he contends, to both reduce the taxes and pay the bonus. Thus, many congressmen are going to be caught in an embarrassing position—they are pledged to both reduce taxes, if possible, and they are also pledged to the bonus.

Mellon, however, is going ahead with his drive against the bonus with his tax reducing plan, stressing the contention that lowering surtaxes on big incomes will prove the largest boon to business possible at this time.

The extent to which this wealth has been driven into the tax-free security fields is revealed by treasury figures showing the decline of taxable incomes over $300,000.

In 1916, net income reported to the internal revenue bureau on incomes of this size was $942,000,000. Under the high surtax present taxation system, it had dropped to $153,000,000 last year.

Treasury experts hold that reduction of surtaxes to 25 per cent, as Secretary Mellon recommends, must be authorized by congress, or the people will witness a complete breakdown in the present taxation system.

Wealthy investors, under lower surtax rates would be influenced to invest their capital into productive purposes, it was asserted. Capital is now kept out of developments on which the country's continued progress depends, because all the profits investments is virtually confiscated by the government.

Dr. Sun's Soldiers Captures Key City of Southern China

SHANGHAI, Nov. 13.—Dr. Sun Yet Sen, president of the southern Chinese government, today officially announced the capture of Waichow, key city of the entire south.

Sun's troops apparently retreating before the drive of Chen-chui-Ming, suddenly switched back on the right wing and took the strong-hold. Its capture is regarded throughout China as the most important development in South China in many months. Martial law in Canton has been repealed as a result of this success.

Following the death today of General Hsu-Kuo-Liang, commander of the Shanghai constabulary, martial law was declared in the Chinese territory surrounding Shanghai.

General Hsu was fatally wounded Saturday night by Cantonese assassins.

COL. FORBES IN DENIAL OF GRAFT

Attacks General Sawyer In Statement; Not Guilty of Neglect, He Says

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the United States veterans' bureau, today began "beating back" against wholesale charges of graft, waste and inefficiency in his administration of federal aid to soldiers.

Arising from a sick bed, Forbes took the witness stand in his defense before the senatorial investigating committee and entered a "general, sweeping and absolute denial" of all accusations against his integrity. He charged his enemies with fomenting a conspiracy to destroy him through "perjury, subornation of perjury and suppression of material facts."

Attack on Sawyer
Forbes attacked Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, former White House physician and head of the federal hospitalization board, charging him with constant interference with the bureau's work.

"Most of the deficiencies in the administration of laws providing for relief of disabled soldiers," Forbes declared, "has been due to two things—politics and Sawyer."

Forbes flatly denied much of Sawyer's statement that he had been "fired" by President Harding for insubordination in selling surplus supplies at Perryville.

On the contrary, Forbes declared, he retired from office a month before the Perryville incident, after having told President Harding he would rather resign than stay "if Sawyer was to continue in office."

Crowd Is Present
Forbes read his statement with visible effort before a committee room that was packed with spectators eager to hear him tell his own story.

He denied specifically that he had ever obtained a dishonest penny in administration work.

"I admit there were imperfections in the bureau under my direction," said Forbes, "but I do assert I have not consciously been guilty of any wrong-doing by act or neglect."

LONE BANDIT IN HOLDUP AT LOCAL CREAMERY

Robbs Calla Lily Plant of Cash and Threatens Two With Death

An unmasked bandit held up two employees and robbed the Calla Lily creamery, 1245 East Windsor road, of between $200 and $300 in cash this morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Had the bandit been five minutes later, he would have made a better haul, as a collector for the Southern California Gas company with $2000 that he had collected, entered the office shortly after the hold-up.

After jerking the telephone connections loose, the bandit jumped in his car, and drove down Windsor road, turning east on Colorado street toward Eagle Rock.

The bandit is described as being about 30 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches tall, and weighing about 140 pounds. He was smooth shaven and wore a light grey suit.

In the office at the time of the hold-up were E. H. Sanborn, bookkeeper, and D. C. Kerns, driver, who was checking up the receipts of his route.

He Helps Himself
The bandit drove up and stopped his car outside of the office, entered and asked for a job. He was referred to the manager who was not in at the time, and he left the office, only to return in an instant later with revolver in his hand, and ordered the two men to "stick 'em up."

He directed Kerns to a chair and made Sanborn, the bookkeeper, lie on his stomach on the floor while he scooped up the driver's money which was on the office desk, helped himself to three bags of money in the safe, which was open, rifled the petty cash drawer and backed up to the door. He then noticed the telephone and pulled the wires loose.

"How long are you going to keep quiet?" he asked.

"As long as you want," replied Sanborn when the bandit flourished the gun in his direction.

"Five minutes," said the bandit.

Kills His Engine
He then left the office and entered his car, but killed the engine. He returned to the office window, looked through to see if the two employees were in the position that he had left them, then entering his car once more, drove off at a fast pace.

As soon as he was out of sight, the two employees ran and notified E. Pagt, manager of the creamery, who jumped in his car and followed the bandit to where he turned east on Colorado street. Seeing that pursuit was hopeless he turned to the left at this point.

Do You Know What a Joint Account Is?

A JOINT ACCOUNT is one held in the names of two persons—usually a husband and wife, or a business partnership—both parties having the right to deposit or withdraw. Not only does this form of account provide a convenience to depositors during the life of both, but, since either has absolute right to withdraw all or any part of the funds on deposit at any time, legal complications which might otherwise be incurred by the death of one are completely eliminated for the survivor.

Joint accounts, as well as various other kinds to meet the requirements of our depositors, may be opened in the Savings Department of this Bank.

Veterans of Three Wars In Parade to Celebrate Fifth Peace Anniversary

Glendale belonged to the ex-soldiers yesterday. In celebration of the fifth anniversary of the signing of the armistice, everybody, it seemed, turned out to witness the parade in the morning, the athletic events of the afternoon and attend the dance in the evening.

All three of the soldier organizations were in line, the Grand Army of the Republic, the Spanish-American War Veterans and the American Legion. In addition, there were the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, police department, fire department, City Council, Red Cross, Women's Relief Corps, and numerous smaller organizations without any distinguishing banner. M. V. Cook acted as marshal.

Hold Brief Service
Led by the Scouts' band, the column, after following the line of march prescribed, down Broadway and Brand boulevard, entered Moyses field for short services appropriate to the occasion. After a selection by the band, Chalmers D. Day, commander of the local post of the American Legion, introduced Mayor Spencer Robinson, who paid a tribute on behalf of the city of Glendale to the ex-soldiers, both living and dead.

Mayor Robinson in turn introduced Rev. Henry L. Rasmus, Jr., who gave a splendid ten-minute talk on the duties that confront American citizens of today if they are to keep faith with their soldier dead.

"Memory is one of the noblest faculties of the human mind," said Rev. Rasmus. "There are times when it is well to forget, but there are times when the greatest tragedy of life is not to remember. No one could doubt the patriotism of America during the war. It was a vital thing. But some of us wonder what has become of that intense spirit of patriotism today."

"I am thinking of the after problem, the treatment of our world war veterans. We received them home with cheers and kisses a few years ago, but what of today? Some of them die in poverty, squalor and want, while bureau chiefs debate as to what our nation can afford to do for them. They cannot give back the limbs to him who gave them in the war, nor can they give sight to the sightless eyes of him who yet smiles in his pitiable condition; but they can provide, in a reasonable way, that care and that living which shall show some small measure of appreciation for that which they did for their nation. We cannot afford to do less."

Needs America
"The world needs America today," Harry Holmes, of Australia, has said. "I used to covet the position that America held in the hearts of the Belgians and I wondered why this was so. I shall never forget hearing a member of one of the noblest patrician families in Brussels say when asked why America was revered by the Belgians, 'Why, for two years the only flag seen in Belgium was the Stars and Stripes, and it was no uncommon thing for the people of the small towns and even in Ostend and Brussels to empty the American flour sacks, gaily decorate them with this motto, 'Give us this day, Lord, our daily American bread.'"

"Then there was the American fighting man, so wonderfully represented here this morning. When he first went to France and Belgium, because he was unused to trench fighting and was unacquainted with hand to hand combat, he was given some minor tasks to do in the rear lines. Finally, in response to the appeal of General Pershing, he was sent into battle. It was at that time that a German wedge had broken through the Allies' line and was making its last, it seemed, triumphant drive on Paris. The American soldier was sent into battle, and this so-called raw recruit proved himself the equal of any fighting man on the field. He was placed at the point of the wedge and not only turned the point of that wedge, but drove the pick of the German troops back, back, until Paris was safe. The world needs America as truly today as then—not her fighting men, not her gold, but that intangible, invaluable something which we call moral support. Without it, world peace cannot be assured, and we cannot expect to keep the respect, the love, the esteem of the world if we neglect this."

"Then a word of tribute to our soldier dead should be spoken. At the close of the world war, Harry Lander stood beside the grave of his boy who had fallen in battle, and offered this prayer, 'Oh God that I might see my Laddie just this once to thank him for what he has done for humanity.' The best way to thank our dead, is to live for that for which they died. We must finish the task for which they gave 'the last full measure of devotion.'"

Gave Their Best
"Old fellow—no words of praise or appreciation this hour, could half tell what is written in burning letters upon our memories. You gave your best that a world might be better, and now you rest with the laurels of the brave upon your brow. We like to think of you as you trudged along the dusty roads of France and Belgium, shoulder to shoulder, singing your marching song, with the full glory of body and mind crowning your life. And we thank thee for the strength which you did so willingly give in order to preserve a nation's honor. Now a white cross marks your place and the inscription of that cross is engraved upon our hearts this hour—They say it was a torch that you held high for the hands of us to catch, and it is our prayer that we may bear that torch as nobly, as willingly, and as unflinchingly as did you. Or was it on San Juan Hill or at Vicksburg, or Gettysburg you fought for principle and liberty, we have not forgotten that you wrought, and we are clinging to the liberty for which you did pay the price. Old fellow, comrade, can we name thee such, our sacrifice has been small beside the pure white sacrifice of your service, but could we be true, could we be honest, mayhap we could enter that magic circle of comradeship hallowed forever by the matchless valor of our soldier dead."

This concluded the exercises, and the parade was then dismissed.

Athletic Program
The afternoon was given over to an athletic program on Moyses field. A large crowd was on hand to witness the various events. The American Legion were not as good on the pushball field as they were on the battlefield, and battled to a draw against a picked team, much to the amusement of the crowd. Harley G. Preston's efforts in running along the edge of the warriors, shouting encouragement instead of getting in and pushing, were particularly noticeable. Van Nuys won the fly-weight football game, but Glendale evened the score by taking the honors in the heavy-weight encounter by a score of 21-0.

In the evening a variety of amusements was offered. The American Legion basketball team played the Glendale alumni at the high school gym at 7:30. The Glendale Athletic club staged a big boxing card at Hahn's auditorium, and for those to whom these two events did not appeal there was the dance at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. This was attended by a record-breaking crowd. The dance exceeded the expectations of Leroy Fortier, chairman of the Legion dance committee, both in the number present and the enthusiasm displayed. Several feature numbers were put on throughout the evening, both by the dancers and the ten-piece orchestra under the direction of Don Campbell.

Legion's Appreciation
Both Commander Chalmers Day of the American Legion post, No. 127, of Glendale, and E. L. Sullivan, chairman of the Legion Armistice Day committee, have requested the Glendale Evening News to thank, on behalf of the Legion, the various organizations which participated in the parade, or co-operated otherwise with the Legion in making the celebration the success that it was. Through the kindness of J. R. Thorpe of the Oakmont riding stables, horses were furnished for all the horses to be mounted, and the Scouts' band very kindly offered their services.

"The spirit of co-operation was very evident," said Commander Day, "and we believe that Armistice Day went over the top with a bang. It will be impossible for me to thank all of the various organizations that took part, in person, so I am taking this method of showing them the Legion's appreciation."

Much of the success of the celebration is due to R. Ernest Tucker, executive secretary of the local committee of the Community Service organization. Mr. Tucker has been busy with the details of the parade and other events for the past week.

It was also announced that this government is not interested in the suggestion of Premier Poincare to have the reparations commission name its own experts to inquire into Germany's capacity to make payments.

TUJUNGA

COMMITTEES WILL URGE WIDER ROAD

Improvement of Highway to Be Sought by All Civic Organizations

Civic organizations are going to continue their efforts to have the highway widened through Tujunga valley and adjacent territory. Committees will be appointed to urge the highway commission to make some permanent improvement of the gravel borders of the pavement this year instead of just filling the ruts as heretofore.

A road repair crew has been at work building and grading shoulders at the sides of the pavement and filling the ruts caused by rains. Unless this work is protected with a coating of oil the first rains will undo the work in a short time.

Relief Promised
This method promises relief of a sort from the congestion that is continually increasing along the highway clear to San Fernando.

The organizations and property owners have not abandoned their efforts to have permanent paving laid to widen the boulevard, but as the officials of the highway commission have stated that no permanent work can be done on the present year's funds, they feel that the work of the road crew should be protected with oil until such a time as permanent work can be done. This will be the argument presented to the highway commission.

New Legion Head To Pursue Present Veterans' Program

JOHN R. QUINN

The campaign of the American Legion, carried on through the past year, for adjusted compensation, rehabilitation aid and other vital needs of the veterans, will be continued unchanged during the coming year. So announces John R. Quinn, recently elected commander of the Legion to succeed Alvin Owsley. Quinn is a Californian and a wealthy cattle owner and ranchman. He was a cowboy at one time and served as captain of field artillery in France.

'LITTLE 3' RALLY BEHIND M'CARTHY

Election of Harvey Williams As President of League Called Illegal

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—"The little three"—the baseball clubs of San Francisco, Vernon, Sacramento—still claimed today that William H. McCarthy was president of the Pacific Coast league despite the action of the "big five"—Portland, Seattle, Los Angeles, Oakland and Salt Lake—yesterday at Avalon, in electing Harry Williams president of the league.

The "little three" claim that Williams is NOT president, because he failed to get the necessary votes for the office. On the other hand, members of the "big five" claim that Williams was duly elected president and secretary and that he will receive $10,000 a year for the next five years.

Barred Sullivan
All during the time he was in the chair yesterday at the Avalon meeting McCarthy refused to recognize John Sullivan as the Seattle director. He claimed in the open meeting that some of the money Sullivan used to purchase his stock was supplied to him indirectly by William Wrigley, Jr. According to McCarthy, Sullivan had no right to vote and there was no election because the constitution calls for five votes to elect a president.

When the board of arbitration of the minor leagues meets next month in Chicago the question of the presidents will be up to them, McCarthy claims.

Hunting for Players
The "big five" clubs have started negotiations with major league clubs for players. Men coming from the majors will be subject to the draft, but the Williams voters claim that the draft is allowable now.

Not only has the Pacific Coast league two sets of officers, but it has two sets of policies. Part are opposed to the draft and the other side favors it.

Both Williams and McCarthy declared today they were president of the league.

Find Body of Woman Strangled to Death

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The body of a blonde woman, who had been strangled, was found early today lying in an alleyway in Chicago's black-and district by a teamster on his way to work. The woman had evidently put up a fierce struggle for her life. Police were summoned by the workman.

The woman, according to detectives, had suffered a broken nose, lacerations about the head and bruises on the body. Her throat was swollen and clearly bore the imprint of fingers which had ended her life. The body had been dragged to the spot where it was found and the face covered with a checkered overcoat.

Girl Faces Trial on Manslaughter Charge

SEATTLE, Nov. 13.—Winifred Gibbons, 19-year-old divorcee, was placed on trial in superior court here today on a charge of manslaughter for the shooting of Harry Lacelle, former San Francisco advertising man, at a roadhouse near here on the morning of October 7.

Miss Gibbons' defense will be that her revolver was accidentally discharged as she drew it in an attempt to frighten a group of men into helping her with her automobile, which had skidded into the ditch a short distance away.

Announcing A Series of Garden Parties

Thursday will be Glendale Day at

BENMAR HILLS

"Burbank ~ The City Beautiful"

A CELEBRATION!

These garden parties are being given to signalize the official adoption of Benmar Hills by the City of Burbank and to mark the widespread recognition of Benmar Hills as a pronounced, established success.

They also come just at the right time to celebrate fittingly one of the most important events in the history of Burbank and the San Fernando Valley—the sanction by the Los Angeles City Council, November 6, of the Pacific Electric subway on the line to Burbank and other San Fernando points.

This subway will bring Burbank 20 to 30 minutes closer to Los Angeles. Already being sought as a suburban home by hundreds of Los Angeles residents, Burbank now holds an unrivaled desirability as a City of Homes.

Burbank has already demonstrated a phenomenal power to grow by increasing in population from 2900 to over 10,000 in less than three years. Assured of this vast improvement in its transportation facilities, this rate of growth, amazing as it is, must continue to increase.

Never was a city better situated to care for its development than Burbank. Because, in Benmar Hills she has, fully prepared, the foundation for an entire city—thousands and tens of thousands of people! It has a metropolitan street and boulevard system—a 20-acre civic center site—carefully segregated and properly restricted residential, commercial and industrial sections—every public and private convenience—A COMPLETE MODEL CITY PLAN.

Benmar Hills has progressed along the scheme of her development to the extent of more than $2,000,000 worth of property sold—official acceptance of her civic center, park sites, and street system by Burbank—the erection of the Burbank High School within her confines—work on her streets and other improvements well advanced—and scores of homes and other buildings planned or in progress of construction! Benmar Hills is a unique, idealistic, wonderful REALITY.

You, who live in Glendale, must have a keen appreciation of how tremendously property values have been increased in Burbank simply by the sanction of that new subway. Benmar Hills offers you your one BIG opportunity to profit by these increased values whether you seek an investment opportunity or an ideal homesite. To those who act promptly—who act NOW, big rewards are sure to accrue. Come out TODAY and make your selection.

Thursday—afternoon and evening

We sincerely hope you will accept our invitation and come to our party, for your presence will help to make it a success. Many of your friends will be there and it will add to their enjoyment to have you there, too. We promise you a delightful afternoon and evening and an instructive one as well, for, if you have not been out Benmar Hills way lately, you will be amazed at the strides this district has been taking.

Drive out San Fernando Road or Kenneth Road to the western part of the city of Burbank. The Garden party will be at our headquarters at Amherst Drive, just beyond the new Burbank High School at Benmar Hills.

SUNLAND

RANGER STATION IN NEW LOCATION

Change Will Save Time for Campers and Autoists Bound for Canyon

The United States Forest Ranger station at Sunland has been moved to Walnut drive and North street, Tujunga. Fred Montgomery is the ranger in charge and expects the new location to afford motor and camp parties bound for Tujunga Canyon a convenient place to get information and permits.

The new location is on the street that connects the state highway with Tujunga Canyon. Heretofore motorists and camping parties desiring permits were obliged to go a couple of miles out of the way to get them at the old location.

Mrs. Williams, who has been with the Pacific Electric company at Big Bear Lake for the past season, has returned to Sunland and is now with the Rice cafe.

Rev. and Mrs. Limes are building a home. Rev. Limes will teach the Bible class at the Sunland Baptist church.

Thorns of the cactus, dressed and sharpened with a file, are being used for phonograph needles and are said to produce a soft tone without scratching the records.

CHAIRMAN TELLS RED CROSS WORK

Mrs. Bartlett Urges Support of Glendale Chapter in Chest Drive

"The American Red Cross, which is being included in Glendale's first Welfare Chest, has a direct appeal to all of us," declares Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman of the local chapter. "It was the one army that did not lay down its arms with the signing of the Armistice. On the contrary most of its work has just begun."

"The recent calamity which befallen Japan when millions of her people suffered dire distress following the earthquake has served again to reveal to the people of the nation the readiness of the American Red Cross to respond immediately for service in a great emergency and to apply the generous gifts of our people to the amelioration of human suffering."

Mrs. Bartlett has the following to say relative to the work in Glendale:

"During the summer the chapter members worked on layettes to be sent overseas, 40 were made, consisting of 16 pieces each. The chapter has recently made and filled 50 comfort bags, to be sent as Christmas gifts to men in service in our insular possessions. Because of the pressing need of warm clothing for the Japanese the National Red Cross issued a call for 15,000 layettes to be made. Glendale accepted a quota of 50, which will soon be ready for shipment."

"In the Home Service Department, ex-service men are assisted, also their wives and children, with money, clothing, bedding, advice and sympathy. About 50 this year have requested aid. When a man's compensation stops without notice, when he is ill, out of work, wishes to enter a hospital, he appeals to the Red Cross, and very seldom appeals in vain. Your contribution will greatly assist in carrying on the work."

"Nothing of all kinds (for men), jams and jellies are now being collected for a Thanksgiving gift for the men at Sawtelle."

"All Red Cross Chapters have charters from our government and are pledged to 'carry on' along the lines defined therein. "All work by the local chapter is done by the advice and according to instructions from the Pacific Division, which has headquarters at San Francisco."

Four Officers Shot In Moonshine Battle

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 13.—Four West Virginia and federal officers were wounded in a battle with moonshiners in the Allegheny mountains on the West Virginia-Virginia border early today.

Reinforcements were being hurried into the mountains. Some of the men are hot on the trail of the moonshiners, according to reports received at state police headquarters here.

W. Va. Gasoline Taxes Yield Million Yearly

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 13.—West Virginia's new state tax of 2 cents on each gallon of gasoline sold to retailers will yield approximately $1,000,000 a year, according to estimates of Grant P. Hall, state tax commissioner. The tax went into effect July 26 and figures have just been compiled of the returns for the month of August, showing a yield of $102,443 for the month.

GRILL GIRL SUSPECT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Evelyn Wallingford, 20, held in jail here with three companions as the "grill bandit," who, according to the police, may have shot E. Abhart during an attempted hold-up yesterday, was grilled by the police today.

NEPHEW HASTENS TO MRS. EDWARDS

Sister Sends Son to Take Place of Fire Victim in Mother's Heart

The heartache of a Glendale mother, whose only son, a devoted companion and provider, was suddenly and tragically taken from her, has struck a chord of sympathy and sacrifice in a mother heart clear across the continent in New York City, and Mrs. Johanna Edwards, mother of Clarence Edwards, who lost his life in the recent bill fire, is anticipating the arrival of Rudolph Karstadt, one of the five sons of her sister, living in New York City.

"I am sending Rudolph to take care of you. I have four others left," is what Mrs. Karstadt wrote her sister in a special message telling her that her son would leave shortly for Glendale to work and make his home with his aunt and try in some measure to take the place of his cousin, Clarence Edwards.

Sheds Thankful Tears

Mrs. Edwards visited The Glendale Evening News this morning and, smiling through her tears, expressed her appreciation for the sympathy and kindness of Glendale people.

She has expressed her love and appreciation in the following message:

"To all the kind-hearted, loving citizens of Glendale; to the editor and staff of The Glendale Evening News; to the Masons and the American Legion post of Glendale; to the members of the Tuesday Afternoon club and their friends and to the members of the theatrical profession and cinema world:

"It is my earnest desire to express my heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation of the loving kindness of all Glendaleans and their friends who so cheerfully gave of their time and money for me. Although my heart is full at this time, I hope, with God's help and my good friends in Glendale, to continue to abide within its gates, a city which has been definitely proven to me to be a city of true brotherly love."

Slain Duck Lands in Face; May Cost Sight

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 13.—One of the freakiest accidents in the lore of Missouri nimrods may cost the eyesight of Dr. Max C. Starkloff, city health commissioner.

Dr. Starkloff was shooting ducks near St. Charles when a flock flew over his head. The commissioner shot one duck and was aiming at another when the first bird fell on him, striking him squarely in the face. The wing feathers of the duck pierced one of Starkloff's eyeballs and a hemorrhage in the eye followed.

Attending doctors hold out slim hopes that the eye may be saved.

City Clerk Is Now In Role of Cupid

"I am American of German descent. I lead a clean, respectable life. I have a kind and loving disposition and will do all I can to make the right girl happy. I will be true and kind and devoted. I have a common school education. Hoping I may have the pleasure of hearing from sincere girls I will not give my name. P. O. Station C, Box 1068, Los Angeles, Calif."

KLANSMEN PARADE

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Nov. 13.—Nearly 100 members of the Ku Klux Klan, dressed in full regalia, but unmasked, took part in the Armistice Day parade at the central coast counties armistice celebration at Santa Maria yesterday.

Chic Hats Show Varying Modes

Small, off-the-face shapes are favored again for the early winter modes. All those illustrated would be rather trying for a good many women to wear, but would be very chic for the young face. A little brim giving a shade to the face and softening its outline is much to be preferred by the older woman.

The hat at the top of the picture reminds one of the helmets worn by the ancient Greek and Roman warriors. The trimming, however, unlike that of the plume of the helmet is worn from side to side instead of from front to back.

The hat in the center shows an elaborate use of chenille trimming not only on the hat, but neckpiece and muff are made of it. It is a very soft and effective trimming.

The chapeau pictured at the bottom turns back sharply from the face and is heavily embroidered. The "whisker" veil which encircles the face but does not cover it is illustrated. While it does not do the things one expects of a veil it is very attractive, and what more could one ask?

SKELETONS SHOW RACE ATE HORSES

Old Lover Feud Revealed In Arrow Found Sticking In Ancient Skull

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Fifteen thousand years ago (and perhaps more) the horse was the favorite food of the villagers of Solutre, in southern France. The bones of tens of thousands of the animals killed and eaten by the nomad tribes form an important strata of the surrounding country.

Recent discoveries made by French excavators have brought to light skeletons of the Aurignacian age—a woman and two men, in prehistoric sepulchres, the bodies placed with the feet toward the east, the heads toward the west, and the faces toward the rising sun.

The men must have been young ones, from 25 to 30 years, tall and well built, with large, broad heads, not very long, with rectangular eye orbits and long, narrow noses. There are traces of a love drama, for one of them has an arrow imbedded in his skull. While conserving a powerful individuality, they show that these men belonged to the quaternary race of Cro-Magnon, the horse-hunters of the valley of the Saone, and affirm the ethnic relationship with the troglodytes of the Vizeze and Mediterranean coast.

Justice Halts Trial to Perform Nuptials

LIMA, Ohio, Nov. 13.—A wedding may be more important than a trial. This, apparently, is the judgment of Justice of the Peace William H. Guyton. A jury case was in progress in Justice Guyton's court. It was halted, however, by the squire until he performed the ceremony uniting in wedlock Miss Edna MacKile, 19, and Walter Martin, 29, carpenter, in the presence of attorneys and jurors as spectators.

M'GRAW PLANS TO REBUILD GIANTS

Deadwood on N. Y. Team to Be Traded Off for Live Ones, Report

By DAVIS J. WALSH For International News Service NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Regulars on the New York Giants were thrown into panic today by reports that other stars are to follow Dave Bancroft, Casey Stengel and Bill Cunningham to rival clubs, in line with the alleged intention of John McGraw to break up his old world's champions. The reports followed respective deals last night whereby Bancroft went to the Braves as player-manager in exchange for Outfielder Bill Southworth, and Stengel and Cunningham followed in lieu of the return of Pitcher Joe Oeschger to New York.

The story now whispered behind the hand is that Frank Frisch is the only member of the once all-star infield, comparable with the Chance-Brewer-Tinkersteinfield and McGraw-Collins-Barry-Baker combinations, who is certain to remain on the New York payroll. The others, Heinie Groh and George Kelly, may or may not go elsewhere, it is said, depending upon McGraw's established ability to swing a trade when the spirit moves him.

Sails for Europe

The Giant leader is to sail for Europe today on the George Washington to remain several months. Yet the fact will not month that The Giants' present condition is such that McGraw would hardly turn his back on the situation without having definite assurance from some source that business in the trading market will brisk when he returns. McGraw will have another good infielder before the start of next season.

Some say the latter is to be Rabbit Maranville of the Pirates; others that Charley Hollocher of the Cubs is headed here. The Hornsby deal is said to have fallen as flat as a silver dollar, yet McGraw has trading material in which St. Louis might be interested.

Groh, as we understand it, is to be the bait, with others tossed in for good measure. Heinie can no longer stand up for a full season because of his legs, and with only young Maguire, who does not hit well enough to get by, as an infield understudy, the Giants would be glad to part with Groh if they could get a live one in return.

SISTERS RESIGN MESSENGER JOBS

Telegraph Couriers Learned Names and Addresses of Every Citizen

TONOPAH, Nev., Nov. 13.—Tonopah can no longer boast of having the only girl telegraph messenger in the west.

The Misses Dorothy and Ethel Rowe, 16 and 19, the skirted telegraph bearers, have left the celebrated silver city after five years of service that made them the pets of the camp.

In a unique way the girls solved the problem of messenger service in a town where house numbers are the exception and where streets curve more than a burro's trail. They simply learned the names of everyone in town and familiarized themselves with the location of every building and shack.

Rough miners took pride in protecting them from the evils of the community and at Christmas time the whole camp showered them with money and gifts. Accompanied by their mother the two girls have gone to attend school at Culver City, Cal.

New 'Pinchot Cocktail' Said to Be Kickless

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—The "Pinchot Cocktail," named after the extra dry governor of Pennsylvania, has made its appearance at saloons here that have remained open in defiance of the 48-hour closing edict served upon them some weeks ago.

This latest development in the Battle of the Bars (state and refreshment varieties) has been so named, according to bartenders, because there's "no kick to it."

Iron Weights on Tree Prevent Frost, Claim

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Four pieces of plain iron, a foot long and a few inches in diameter, hung from each mature limb will largely prevent frost damage to fruit trees, according to William F. Heitzman, gardener and orchardist, who offers his idea to ranchers free of charge.

Heitzman claims the iron draws the frost to it and prevents a sharp drop of temperature near the tree. He says he has made many experiments and found the idea successful.

Norwegian Warships at Bargain Prices

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 13.—Astounding prices were obtained at a sale of several out-of-date warships of the Norwegian navy here. The Valkyrien, a good-sized cruiser, brought only $600 while six torpedo boats were knocked down to a shipbreaking firm for a little more than $300 each.

The bandit was driving a Chevrolet touring car with license number 608-700, according to the two men in the office, who got a good look at it as he drove away. He was evidently familiar with the office routine, and no doubt he was aware that a large amount of money would be in the safe following the business of Saturday, Sunday and Armistice day Monday, when the banks were not open for deposits. However, since the safe had been rifled some time ago, no large amount of money is kept in the office. R. L. Garber, cashier, was in town at the time of the hold-up, and had with him $2000 of company money.

The bandit went at his work in an amateurish way, according to Kerns and Sanford. They stated that he had been drinking, as the odor of whiskey on his breath was very noticeable. The entire police force of the county are on the lookout for the car. At 2 o'clock he had not been apprehended.

Paper bags are now marketed which are dust-proof and heavy enough so that they can be used for covering automobiles during the winter months.

PLANS APPROVED FOR POSTOFFICE

Final Specifications to Be Ready Today; Work Will Commence At Once

Preliminary plans for the new Glendale postoffice that is to be erected at the corner of East Broadway and Jackson street have been approved by government inspectors to whom they have been submitted by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, and the architects are now preparing the finished plans for the building and will have them ready, it is believed, today. The sketches submitted by Postmaster Jackson, while subject to alteration in a minor degree by the architect, will be followed in preparing the specifications for the new postoffice.

The building will have a central lobby, after the style of a bank, with tiled floor, with the administrative offices opening off the lobby and affording opportunity for patrons of the office to secure easy access to the postmaster and the assistant postmaster.

1,000 Mail Boxes
One thousand boxes will be provided for the use of the residents of Glendale, and the various departments will be arranged in such a manner that the work can be handled quickly at all times. The registry department will have three windows, the parcel post two windows, the money order three windows, and the stamp department will also have three, according to the plans. The office of the superintendent of mails will immediately adjoin a new department, to be styled information and inquiry.

A sixty-foot loading platform on the alley will permit the rapid handling of incoming and outgoing mails, and a large double vault, fire and thief proof, will safeguard the valuables in the office.

Most of the equipment in the new office will be specially purchased, but a large amount of the equipment in use at present will be taken over from the lessor of the building in which the postoffice is now housed on West Broadway.

Immediately after the final plans have been approved by Postmaster Jackson the work on the new building will be started, and the contract that calls for a ninety-day limit will, it is stated, be rigidly adhered to.

Jules Jacot Comes With Golden Bros. Animal Circus

Two of the Elephants in Golden Bros. Trained Animal Circus, Showing in Glendale Thursday.

Jules Jacot is coming to town. That is a statement that means a lot. If you know something of the training of big groups of wild animals, quartette of tigers, riding elephants, trios of lions atop galloping horses, and huge troops of tumbling leopards, pumas, jaguars, hippopotami and rhinoceri... for Jules Jacot is said by the cognoscenti to be the greatest of all wild animal educators, and it is he who teaches the score of women trainers with "Golden Bros. Big Four Ring Trained Wild Animal Circus" coming to Glendale on Thursday to handle their jungle charges without weapons of any kind.

For Jules is the exponent of bluff so far as the cowing of ferocious beasts is concerned. Make yourself unafraid, he explains, and the animals will obey. They fear the fearless trainer, and he is thrice armed who fixes them with a steady eye.

You'll see Jules with his animals and his corps of girl trainers on the "Golden Bros. Big Four Ring Trained Wild Animal Circus" circus day, and when you do you have viewed the master of them all and his pupils.

NEW INTEREST IN SALESMAN'S CLUB

Circulation Drive Going Good With All Members Working for Prizes

By J. A. MALCOLM
Salesmanship Club Manager
The announcement of the standing of the club members in The Glendale Evening News $10,500 salesmanship campaign created new interest to the already popular circulation drive. Club members have awakened a new determination to do or die and there are a score in district one who are determined that they shall get their share of the big prizes and many have stated they are going to win one of the grand capital prizes or know the reason why.

The first period of the campaign is rapidly drawing to a close. Only ten more working days remain. Just ten more of big credits. Ten more days to win or lose prizes worth many hundreds of dollars. During this first period you receive more credits for the subscriptions than at any other time during the campaign. Get the subscription before a week from Saturday if you want to be a winner for after that time the subscriptions will lose about one third of their credit value. Those who fail to do their best during the coming ten days will have only themselves to blame if they do not win one of the big prizes that are being offered.

Work Hard Now

Persons who make up their mind to win one of the capital prizes—who work hard all the time with that one goal in mind—who turn every possible opportunity to advantage—will win The Prize They Desire. Bear in mind that subscriptions are the only thing that counts in this campaign and that no one will be allowed to put up any money to buy credits but that every cent turned in must be for subscriptions and that credits will not be sold. Remember it takes subscriptions to get the credits and credits mean success.

There are hundreds of subscriptions to be had for the asking and if you will devote the time and effort necessary to get them you cannot help but be a winner. The next standing of the club members will be published in this paper Wednesday night and all subscriptions and credits received up to tonight will be counted and the total published in the Evening News tomorrow. RECALL THEATRE OPENING IN 1920

Manager W. A. Howe Celebrates Third Anniversary Of Popular Playhouse

The Glendale Theatre, now entering its fourth year, recalls to residents of this city the great changes that have come with the passage of the last three years. How many of the 1,251 guests who filled the big house to capacity on that opening night late in 1920 dreamed that the Glendale of 13,350 population would grow in three brief years to a city of 45,000? Only in Southern California, of all the world, can such wild dreams come true.

Built in 1920 by Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Goodno and leased by William A. Howe, who has managed it with high success from the very start, the Glendale Theatre is now reaping the rewards of those who had a clear vision of the future of this city and built to meet it.

Brilliant Function
How many of the 1,251 guests who attended that opening night recall what a brilliant social affair it was? The program was opened with Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever," with Clarence Buzek as musical director. F. Brooks Cole, noted baritone, sang the prologue from "Pagliacci."

Manager Howe then addressed the large audience, stating that it would be his policy to make the atmosphere of his theatre restful and recreative; thanking the board of trustees for changing their meeting from Thursday night to Wednesday, that week, in honor of the opening of his playhouse; and expressing his pleasure that so many of the motion picture fraternity should be on hand, 150 being among the audience, including scores of the most famous of the film folk.

Mr. Howe then introduced the builder of the Glendale Theatre, Dr. Goodno, who expressed his confidence in the future of Glendale, paying tribute to the city's growth and stating that he was satisfied this growth would be more remarkable in the years to come, a prophecy well borne out.

Built By Local Men
It was brought out by Dr. Goodno that the theatre was largely the work of local men, Alfred F. Priest being the architect and Roy L. Ken, the contractor. In closing, Dr. Goodno dedicated the theatre to the people of Glendale.

Words of welcome and congratulation were spoken by Hartley Shaw, president of the Glendale Board of Trustees, as the governing body was then called. He was followed by Mayor M. P. Snyder of Los Angeles and many other speakers and entertainers, who contributed to a program hundreds of Glendaleans still recall with pleasure.

Today the Glendale Theatre stands true to all its pledges, firmly fixed in the public esteem, established, prosperous, a monument to the courage of pioneers who three years ago saw "Greater Glendale—Straight ahead!"

NEW OWNERS TAKE OVER STAGE LINE

Verdugo Hills Co. Purchased by Fitz and Dunlap; Order More Busses

R. F. Fitz, 623 North Central avenue, Glendale, and W. C. Dunlap, of San Fernando, joint owners of the Original stage line, completed the purchase today of the Verdugo Hills Transportation company, operating busses through Sunland, Tujunga, La Crescenta, La Canada, Montrose and Glendale to Los Angeles. They will take possession Thursday, November 15.

"We have placed orders for $100,000 worth of new equipment, which will be delivered in a short time," said Mr. Fitz this morning. "When this is received, we plan to increase the service now given Glendale. The busses will run at more frequent intervals and they will be of the latest type that the White company turns out. For the present there will not be any change in the schedule."

Girl Cheated Out of Happiness, Dies

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—With but $1 in her possession, the body of a young woman known as the rooming house as Miss Hazel Williams was found Monday in a gas-filled room. Hollenbeck disclosed that he had married Miss Williams without divorcing his first wife and subsequently disappeared.

LETTERS TO BEAR FULL ADDRESSES

P. O. Department Orders Local Office to Eliminate Directory Service

Orders that have been received from the postoffice department in Washington have instructed Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson to discontinue the present method of handling insufficiently addressed letters by what is known as the directory system. The new arrangement will go into effect on December 1, 1923.

It is pointed out by Assistant Postmaster George Hallett that the government is at present spending immense sums of money and taking up much of the time of its employees all over the country in hunting through the directories for the addresses of persons and firms that have been omitted by the senders of mail. In order to reduce this expense it is the intention of the postoffice department to return immediately to the sender, where a return card is carried on the envelope, any letter that does not specify the address of the person to whom it is sent.

Another aspect of the new ruling that will affect many persons in Glendale is that which provides that those who live outside the carrier delivery district, but who live inside the city, even though the letters addressed to them bear the proper street and house number, will not have their mail delivered. The letters addressed to such persons must bear the number of a box in the postoffice, of a rural free delivery box, or a box at some street corner within the carrier district, if they are to reach their destination.

Realtors Will Greet New Board Members

Old and new members of the Glendale Realty board will gather tonight at the Odd Fellows' hall on West Broadway, when a party will be held to welcome the members who joined the organization during the recent membership campaign, that resulted in sending the number of names on the rolls up beyond one hundred and in placing Glendale in the front rank of realty boards in the state and in giving it a one hundred per cent standing in both the state and national real estate organizations.

The party has been arranged by W. L. Truitt, chairman of the membership committee, and his aides in the campaign, who, although they have been discharged as a committee, have stuck to their knitting until the new members have been shown that they are welcome to the board and have been made to feel at home. The party, which is to be absolutely informal, and at which dress suits are barred, will be featured by an old-fashioned barn dance, with card tables for those who do not care for the more active form of amusement, and light refreshments will also be served to the guests and their families.

Copper did not become prominent as a mineral product of the United States until 1844.

TODAY—Bulgaria Stamping Out Reds.

CONSTANTINE STEPHANOV For International News Service

SOFIA, Nov. 13.—The wave of communism that resulted in recent disturbances in various parts of Bulgaria is subsiding.

The determined campaign launched by the Bulgarian government resulted in the communists being compelled to flee to the hills.

One noticeable thing about the membership of these bands is the number of women and young men affiliated with them.

According to stories told by the authorities, the communist organizers promised the village peasants that they would become high officials and the ruling class if they could join the movement for the overthrow of the bourgeois government.

One woman told the investigating officials that she had more than 100 red flags to be waved by the victorious communist army which the organizers promised would spring up in the land to work miracles for the peasants.

That there were many within the communist ranks who were opposed to the revolutionary program was revealed by Major Vankoff, one of the witnesses before the investigating body.

Directors of performers in the theatres whose work has to do chiefly with the artistic side of the plays produced are not responsible if the house catches fire and burns down.

This legal principle was established by the Sofia circuit court in a recent decision growing out of the fire in the National theatre a year ago which caused the death of four persons and did thousands of dollars damage.

The court found that the fire was caused by a rustic lamp which the technical director had deemed indispensable to the performance.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S AUTO HORN

"Squawk! Squawk!" sounded outside of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"My goodness!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, who was sewing a button on the rabbit gentleman's coat.

"Where's Jimmie?" asked Nurse Jane.

"What Jimmie?" the bunny asked.

"Why, what a funny sound it has!" exclaimed Nurse Jane.

"Now Jimmie?" said Nurse Jane.

"Oh, my goodness!" cried the muskrat lady.

"Ha! Ha! No, it isn't anything like that!" laughed Uncle Wiggily.

"With that he pressed the button and, surely enough, the horn went."

"Honk! Honk!" "Mercy! What a noise!" cried the muskrat lady.

"Honk! Honk!" so loudly that Nurse Jane jumped out of the chair and her head nearly hit the ceiling.

"It works all right!" laughed Uncle Wiggily.

"Very well," said Nurse Jane, and she went on baking her cake while the bunny went out to wash his car.

"But, all of a sudden, the Fuzzy Fox slipped quietly into the hollow stump bungalow, and sat down in a chair in the dining room."

"I'll wait here until Uncle Wiggily comes in," whispered the Fox.

"Honk! Honk!" blew the auto horn under the chair of the Fox.

She saw the Fox.

BURBANK ECONOMY SHOWN IN CITY SCHOOLS

Superintendent L. F. Collins Makes a Gratifying Statement

Efficiency and economy are being effected in the Burbank school system, according to Leonard F. Collins, superintendent, who is credited with the following statement:

"The cost of education for each pupil in average daily attendance last year was $65.00. This is a real achievement in view of the fact that the $65.00 covers the cost of the teachers' salaries, of all paper, pens, ink, bus services, janitor services, supplies and all of the other many items that are used during the year.

"Burbank's cost per pupil is lower than that of other Southern California cities. A questionnaire recently sent out to obtain information reveals the facts that the cost of elementary education per pupil in Burbank is 47 per cent lower than it is in Los Angeles, that city's cost being $96.00 per pupil; the cost in Burbank is 16 per cent lower than it is in Alhambra, that city's cost being $76.00; the cost in Burbank is 7 per cent lower than it is in Monrovia, that city's cost being $70.00; the cost in Burbank is 36 per cent lower than it is in Santa Monica, that city's cost being $89.00. No cities have yet been heard from whose cost per pupil is lower than it is in Burbank."

Cross-Country Team Members In Training

The Oxy cross-country team is preparing for the coming conference meet to be held in about two weeks. The tracksters are seen every afternoon racing slow but sure over the rough roads and plowed fields, and jumping ditches as part of their grueling daily routine. Ernest Giffen, captain of the team, is acting as assistant to Coach Pival, who is devoting most of his time to the varsity football team. About twenty fellows have turned out for the squad.

Last week the interclass meet was held with Miller, a frosh, first; Danielvitch, senior, second, and Campbell, a frosh, third. Giffen did not enter this race, but will be on deck tomorrow, Wednesday, at 4 p. m., when the Hollywood high cross-country team will vie for honors on the Tiger course. The race will be over a three-mile route.

Concrete Hollow Tile Grows Better With Age

Unlike any other type of construction, concrete buildings grow better with age, according to government tests. As it ages the concrete becomes stronger.

This is particularly true of "wet-mix" poured CONCRETE HOLLOW TILE. Homes built of it have a great resale value. Yet it costs no more than less desirable materials.

EAGLE ROCK

C. OF C. PLANNING RADIO NOVELTY

Homeland Program Will Be Broadcasted From K H J Station

The Chamber of Commerce is working on a program for an Eagle Rock night on KHJ, which it is hoped will meet with the approval of "Uncle John." The plan calls for weaving a story around a musicale at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley W. Allen, 216 East Sycamore avenue, who are to be host and hostess to many musical folks of the Homeland.

The following program was given by the Thursday Morning Music club at their last meeting, held with Mrs. Mills, 919 Burlington avenue, Los Angeles: Idyll in G, by McDowell—Mrs. Mills.
Improvisation, by Mc Dowell—Mrs. A. R. Rose.
Betty's Music Box, by Carrie Bond—Mrs. Constance Brasch.
Trees, by Rasbach—Sung by Mrs. Ludlow.

Ellen Galpin Honored
Miss Ellen Galpin of 314 West Eagle avenue is the subject of a long write-up in the drama section of the Los Angeles Saturday Night. The article lists some of Miss Galpin's many accomplishments and evaluates her, stating: "When Miss Galpin determined to combine with her playground and Municipal Players' activities the development of marionettes, she departed from the course charted by other puppet makers. O. B. Raitt, superintendent of playgrounds, was quite willing to have the marionettes a part of the recreational program, but do you know anything about it?" he asked Miss Galpin. "No," she replied bluntly. "I don't." "Do you think you can work it out?" he queried again. "I'm sure of it," she rejoined. These were the preliminaries and Miss Galpin has since frequently expressed the profoundest gratitude to Mr. Raitt and Alma Wilson, his assistant, for their confidence and trust in her venture.

Farther along the article states that Miss Larkin, without previous knowledge on the subject and limited in the amount of literature available, set out with unbounded enthusiasm to create miniature characters.

"She improved upon Sarge's control bar," it states, "by developing an arm control that is unique and efficient, one allowing a broad, life-like motion of the arms of the puppets, a motion accomplished by one manipulation. The 'bridge' on which the puppets operate their 'players' was lessened in height, thus giving easier movement to the strings and entailing less strain on the operators. The diminutive stage of the marionettes she designed with the aid of mathematical calculations, which resulted in correct proportions and exact adherence to the laws of perspective. She worked out the details of operation and staging so minutely that 'props' had to conform to an exact measurement."

Prof. J. C. Shedd of Occidental college, who lives at 203 West Colorado boulevard, is giving a series of lectures over KHJ on popular scientific subjects, arranged through the Brown corporation. His subject last Thursday night was "Man's Place in Nature."

Mrs. A. G. Rely of 550 East Colorado boulevard has as house guests Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lamb of Worthington, Minn. Mr. Lamb is the oldest Legionnaire in the United States, being sent overseas in middle life because of his knowledge of the railroad business. He was assigned to work in Asia. Mrs. Lamb is a prominent Minnesota clubwoman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Meyers and mother, Mrs. John Krummann, former residents of Sioux City, Iowa, have decided to make Eagle Rock their home and have purchased the property at 2407 Lawrence avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. Krummann, who are motoring to Eagle Rock from Sioux City, will also settle here.

Demurrage Rate on Pine Declared Void

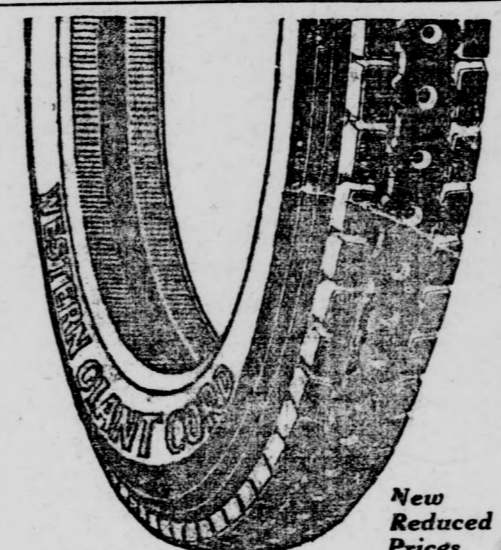

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The interstate commerce commission order of March, 1922, directing railroads to cease imposing wartime extra demurrage charges on cars loaded with lumber and forest products, has been upheld in effect by the supreme court of the United States in affirming a decision of lower courts in the case of Edward Hines-Yellow Pine trusts against the United States and the interstate commerce commission.

DANGER IN DELAY
Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Glendale People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease often follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in this locality.

Mrs. R. D. Marshall, 439 E. Fifth street, Long Beach, Calif., says: "I had kidney complaint and became run down and languid. My back ached and kept me miserable. Often I had dizzy headaches. My kidneys did not act right and I knew they were the cause of the trouble. I used Doan's Kidney Pills as directed. They soon stopped the backaches and put my kidneys in a good healthy condition."

Reno Rumors Point To Domestic Separation

BEAUTY CHATS

Menu Planning, No. 2

Yesterday I reviewed the best food foundation for each day for each child and, gave you some lessons on menu planning. You probably have noticed that I have reviewed that foundation several times. There's a reason! It is as follows:

BEST FOUNDATION FOR EACH DAY FOR EACH CHILD.

Part I, Protective Foods:—1½ pints milk (at least); 1 full cup of vegetables (especially the green leaf vegetables), part of them raw; 1 cup of fruit part fresh if possible.

Part II, Energy Foods:—Cereals, including whole grain breads, in the form of butter and cream; and egg yolks.

PRECAUTIONS.

1. Serve the children's meals at regular lines. Don't wait for father if he comes late at night, or comes irregularly. Serve the children's evening meal fairly early, because they will be cross and tired, and you will be cross and tired, if their meal is delayed. Then you can wait for father and have more time to devote to him.

2. See that the proper proportion of the Protective Foods and whole wheat bread for each meal is consumed before desserts are allowed.

3. Nothing between meals except water and one lunch of fruit; or milk for the undernourished child.

4. Insist on thorough mastication and give the children some hard food at every meal. Have dry toast eaten with the cereals to insure their being chewed also. (Or you can sprinkle the cooked cereal with grape nuts.)

5. Have the meal time a happy time. This is important for good digestion.

6. Insist on the children washing their hands and faces before eating.

7. Do not permit hurried eating to get back to play. On the other hand, do not permit dawdling and playing with the food.

8. Have the child seated comfortably at the table. If you haven't a special chair, place something on the chair so as to bring the child's elbows nearly to the top of the table. Provide something for a foot rest.

9. Don't permit the child to play or work so hard before meals that he is too tired to eat.

10. Serve the food attractively and teach and insist on good table manners—if they are not learned in childhood, they are seldom acquired.

A few suggestions:

Sit erect. Butter only a small portion of bread at a time, not a whole slice. If necessary to push the food on the fork or spoon, use a bit of bread, never the fingers. Take soup from the side of the spoon, not the tip, so the elbows do not have to stick out in front. Take only enough ice cream or other food on the spoon for one mouthful—not enough to lap the top off and come again! Leave the spoon in the saucer and not in the cup. Small mouthfuls. Chew with the mouth closed. Noiseless eating. Correct use of knife and fork. No reaching in front of others. No conversation on disagreeable subjects. "Please" and "Excuse me, please," etc.

Tomorrow: — Menu Planning, No. III.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose a stamp. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Mrs. Dustin Farnum and, inset, Dustin

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The rumor will not down here that Dustin Farnum, of "The Virginian" and "The Squaw Man" fame, and his pretty wife have agreed to disagree. What strengthens the rumor is word from Reno that Dustin himself is remaining there for a period.

Farnum himself, it is said, attributes his presence in Reno to his motion picture business and says he is selecting locations for new pictures. If there has been a rift in their happiness it will be a surprise to many of their friends here. They point out, however, that they have seldom been apart until recent months.

The present Mrs. Farnum is the actor's second wife. They were married in 1919. Farnum's first wife was the former Agnes Johnstone. The second Mrs. Farnum immediately took much interest in her husband's work. She has appeared in plays with him, including "The Squaw Man," one of the plays in which he scored tremendous hits. She is much younger than he, however. He is close to 48 and she is about nine years younger.

Farnum has not appeared on the legitimate stage for any length of time, at least since he played in "The Little Rebel," back in 1913. He realized the future in the motion picture field and cutered that game several years ago.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a certain young man for about a year and recently he stopped coming to see me. He had no cause to stop unless he was tired of coming around. He is a very popular young man and does not approve of dancing and will not let me dance. Can you tell me of some way to become popular with the boys and girls and also a way to win back the boy I like?

BLUE EYES.
It is wasted effort for a girl to try to win back a young man who has stopped coming to see her. He has lost interest or he would still seek her company. To pursue him would only make him dislike the girl further.

To become popular with boys and girls is indeed a problem. In the first place be very careful of your appearance. Even if you cannot afford expensive clothes you can be neat and clean and make a good appearance in what you have. Also it is necessary to get their point of view. An imaginative person who is sensitive and tactful enough not to hurt the feelings of other people is very apt to be popular. Read, think and observe so that you will grow more and more interesting. The more interesting you become, the more apt you will be to be popular.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of sixteen and a junior in high school. I went to the prom last year with a very nice boy friend of mine. On the way home he asked me for a kiss, but I protested strongly against it. Was I right in doing so? Is it right for a boy to ask that of a girl? It shocked me, because he had always been very nice and I couldn't tell him what I thought of him. A lady once spoke to us about this in school and she said that a boy who asked a girl that should be counted off her list. Do you think so? He is dear to me and I can't do it.

Does asking for a kiss show love and affection?

KEEN-CUTTER.
Yes, you were right in protesting against the kiss. It is not right for a boy to ask for a girl's kisses unless he loves her. Nevertheless, the best of boys will ask.

The lady who spoke to you at school was a little extreme, it seems to me. Almost always a girl will find that a boy will respect her wishes in the matter of love-making, if she is sincere. I have observed only too often, however, that a girl will say "no" when she means "yes," and when she is doing all in her power to lead on the boy. Love is so sacred a thing that it is a great pity when boys and girls cheapen it with promiscuous love-making.

Asking for a kiss does not show love and affection. Many boys find it extremely easy to ask for kisses when they mean absolutely nothing by it.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What will make eyelashes and brows grow? Is clay good for wrinkles?

YOURS TRULY.
Red vaseline applied in small quantities to the lashes and brows will promote their growth. Great care should be taken not to get the grease into the eye. Apply the vaseline every other night. You will find that while you are using it the skin around the lashes will be greasy.

Specialists differ in regard to the use of clay for the complexion. It is not considered injurious by most if it is used once in two or three months, but if it is applied more frequently in time the skin will wrinkle more easily.

ANSWERED LETTERS

Mrs. E. M. T.:—To avoid this tendency to become too stout, train yourself to eat a little less than is your usual habit, and omit the foods in which there is much starch, oil or sugar.

Unhappy.—As your case is unique it will be of special interest to the doctors at any hospital, where I am sure you will get the help you require. Choose one where they specialize in skin troubles, but do not shut yourself up from your friends at this time. Get out into the sun as you have always done and seek the proper treatment, which I think you will have no trouble in receiving.

June.—When the cuticle is allowed to grow over the nails to any extent, it interferes with the circulation and the nails become impoverished. This may be the reason for yours not growing and being so frail that they break off. Learn to do your own manicuring and nourish the nails by rubbing oil into the part where they grow out from the skin.

F. R.—Fine lines that are the result of worry or other mental depression, will disappear with the cause for them. At 24 years of age such lines would not be serious. A tonic, cheerful associations, together with a daily good cream message should effect a recovery in a short time.

Bright Eyes.—For a person with medium brown hair, gray eyes and a light colorless skin, the colors to choose will be the warm shades of reddish brown, bright or deep blues, rose, maroon, or amber.

Dorothy.—To bleach and also soften the skin of hands and arms, apply at night on retiring, a lotion made from equal parts of glycerine, rose water, and peroxide. The henna preparation that you used must have had a dye in it, which accounts for its color; also for the effect it had on your hair. Pure henna is the shade that its name implies.

I will be glad to send you a hair tonic formula that will help build up the health of your scalp, but there is not room to permit it at this time.

Grateful Reader.

The position to assume when sleeping is the one that is the most relaxing, it doesn't matter whether this is that of lying on the right, or the left side. If you sleep on your side use a very small pillow, if on your back, train yourself to sleep without any pillow, avoid a high one as it tends to make the shoulders round.

Lying on the stomach is not to be encouraged in adults, as it causes creases in the neck; but this should not matter much in the case of so young a child as your daughter. Children sometimes take this position because of a full stomach.

Tomorrow.—The Well Tailored Girl.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns at their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Also advise me concerning my stairs; as they are not hard wood, I have to varnish them frequently and I would like to know if you think the varnish would stay on longer if rubbed with wax?"

Answer: To make your own floor wax: Melt one-fourth pound of beeswax over boiling water, and when melted remove from range and stir into it one pint of turpentine. Stir till the mixture is like a thick batter, then put it into a jar to be used when needed. I do not advise you to wax your varnished stairs. It is very dangerous to do that, because of the slipperiness. I believe in stair carpets if one can manage to afford them. Until then you will just have to keep on varnishing the stair periodically.

C. M.: "Can you tell me what kind of overdrapes to have at my living room windows? The furniture is mahogany with leather upholstery, the wall-paper brown. I cannot afford anything expensive."

Answer: A brown-and-gold color scheme is the right one for the room. Or the "popular Autumn Color Scheme," which consists of a mixture of all the Autumn tree colors put together—deep reds, browns, a touch of gold and ecru, and deep greens. (Often you can find cretonne which combines these colors.) There is nothing like cretonne for inexpensive overdrapes. But in a living room you should have some conventional design—not roses or other flowers. By a conventional design, I mean a formal pattern of, say, squares, diamonds, stripes, Fleur de Lis, or these designs combined in some way.

If it were my living room I would have cretonne overdrapes (consisting of one long curtain on either side of the window and a short ruffle valance across the top) in a brown-and-ecru mixture, and I would have gold or yellow articles about the room in various places—for instance, a yellow pottery vase, a brass candlestick holding a yellow candle, a buff-colored velvet cushion in a chair, and a yellow shade for the droplight.

Get health—Keep health—Feel fine by eating Kellogg's Bran regularly!

Constipation and the toxic poisonings that come from it not only take the enthusiasm out of life, making you depressed and physically and mentally dull—but they lead you into the most dreaded of human diseases. You can actually rid yourself of these dangers if you will EAT KELLOGG'S BRAN REGULARLY!—at least two table-spoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with every meal!

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that as no other food can! Don't take a chance of "getting away" with constipation—IT WILL GET YOU! Don't ruin your health with pills and cathartics—they are as dangerous as constipation itself and give but temporary relief, at the very best!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN, because Kellogg's is ALL BRAN!

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

When the weather changes
Your food needs ICE!

The weather doesn't have to be hot to cause rapid deterioration of food. Any time the temperature gets above 50 degrees—and it frequently does during the Fall months—your perishable food is actually spoiling unless it is in the cold, even temperature of a refrigerator.

Perhaps it doesn't spoil sufficiently to be noticeable, but it loses much of its nourishing qualities and is not conducive to good health.

You will find that it pays to take ice regularly all the year around—it pays in the food it saves and in the protection of your family's health.

THE GLENDALE

How eager Glendale audiences are to enjoy clever screen comedy founded on a famous stage success that makes the house vibrate with roars of laughter was proved yesterday at the Glendale theatre, where Douglas MacLean's screen version of "Going Up" was presented to the holiday crowd.

"Going Up" was frankly built solely for laughing purposes, and it hits the bull's-eye squarely. It is funny from beginning to end without a single lagging scene. The screen story might well serve as a model for comedy producers. It is unusually coherent, filled with suspense and excitement, while the laugh-provoking situations convert a pretty drama into a riotous comedy once more can be done on the screen than on the stage.

"Going Up" is a personal triumph for Douglas MacLean. He never permits a guilty laugh to escape. He makes his funny scenes funny, and that is no little thing to do. The role of Robert Street fits him like a new kid glove, and he could not possibly get more laughs out of it unless he came down from the screen and tickled the audience in the ribs.

There are some remarkable flying scenes in the picture—the sort that drag an audience to the edges of the seats and permit it to sink back with a loud laugh when a close-up of Mr. MacLean reveals that he has escaped that danger and is still battling heroically to subdue his pirouetting plane.

Tomorrow affords the last opportunity to see this great comedy. Better attend tonight.

WOMEN PAY BIG TAX ON INCOMES

Collector Goodcell's Report Reveals Their Capacity to Earn Wages

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—An army of 46,000 California women reported personal income amounting to $127,416,212 for the calendar year 1921, and paid tax on it, according to figures which became available yesterday and were made public by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell.

The income reported by these women was within ten million dollars of the combined personal income of all classes turned in by the states of Arizona, Utah and New Mexico.

Collector Goodcell's survey showed that 7505 women filed income returns as heads of families, and reported personal incomes for the year amounting to $20,923,294.

That the unmarried women of California are not only real wage-earners, but have become a powerful factor in the production of income taxes, was indicated by Collector Goodcell's report that 33,395 single women filed separate returns which disclosed total personal incomes of $78,200,189.

There were 5150 women who filed returns separate from their husbands, in which $30,292,738 was listed for taxes.

Joint Returns Listed

Joint returns filed by husbands and wives, separate returns filed by single men and by men who were heads of families, reported personal income of $1,036,531,518.

Of these returns, 194,295 were joint reports calling for personal income of $726,731,477.

Men filing as heads of families numbered 21,131, and they reported personal income of $60,304,098.

A total of 124,256 single men turned in personal incomes of $249,495,943, on which tax was paid.

More single women filed income returns in California than the combined number of similar returns filed in the eleven western states of Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Utah, New Mexico, Nevada, Idaho, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and North Dakota. The number filing in these states was 31,357, as against 33,395 reported in California.

"This survey," said Collector Goodcell, "indicates that the women of California have become a remarkable factor in the production of income taxes. Income of $127,416,212 reported for taxation by the women of a single state means something."

Three Die in Battle At Montesano, Wash.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 13.—Three men are dead, another is in the hospital in a critical condition, and Guldal Grass is in the county jail at Montesano, facing a charge of murder following a wholesale shooting episode at the home of the five men.

G. Tolloni was shot and killed as he went to the window of his home, as the slayer stood on the front porch. Joe Buerich, a roomer, had his jugular vein severed when the murderers slashed his throat with a knife. John Rittl, another roomer, was found dead in a shack at the rear of the house. Carl Pallegri, the injured man, was shot in the neck, and so far has been unable to give a connected account of the shooting.

A. S. Cooper, Noted Oil Geologist, Dies

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Nov. 13.—A. S. Cooper, one of the best known oil geologists in the United States, and known as "the father of Signal Hill oil field," was found dead in his office here Monday. Cooper was seated before a petroleum map, where he is believed to have been studying new fields, when friends found him. Death is believed to have been due to heart trouble, physicians said.

Mr. Cooper was former head of the state mining bureau and won national prominence while connected therewith.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

LA CRESCENTA JUVENILE WORKER TO ADDRESS P.-T. A.

La Crescenta School Pupils to Present Thanksgiving Program Thursday

The Parent Teachers' association will hold their regular monthly meeting on Thursday and every member should make an effort to be present, as an especially interesting program will be given.

Mrs. E. K. Foster of Los Angeles, who is head of the Juvenile Protective league of that city, will talk on juvenile work. It was through the efforts of Mrs. W. Van Duesen the Parent Teachers' association was successful in having Mrs. Foster present on their program.

Another feature of the program will be Thanksgiving numbers presented by pupils of the La Crescenta school. Mrs. C. W. Angier, president of the association wishes to announce to the mothers of small children, that care will be provided for the little ones during the program for the afternoon. The committee on arrangements feel sure numbers of mothers will come, knowing their little ones will be well taken care of and will therefore not disturb others.

Mrs. G. Findlay entertained with a birthday party on Saturday afternoon for her small daughter, Violet. The invitations did not state the affair was a birthday celebration, but a little bird whispered the news around and the young hostess was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Present were Martha and Olive Graywarren, Karlene Burt, Lester and Phillip Van Duesen, Virginia Haskins, Betty and Jean Angier, Philip and Jack Stine, Elizabeth Talbot-Martin, Nancy Findlay and the honoree, Violet Findlay. Games of all sorts were enjoyed. The hostess, Mrs. Findlay, was assisted in entertaining the kiddies and serving refreshments by Mrs. W. Van Duesen.

Mrs. F. Burkey of Los Angeles, is entertaining as her house guests, Mrs. Lorenz and daughter, Marie, of Oklahoma City. The Lorenz's have just returned from a European trip of some months' duration.

The new subdivision San Souci was placed on the market yesterday, the Glendale and Montrose R. R. cars being decorated with banners to that effect. Judging from the way all the new subdivisions are opening up and selling, it is very doubtful if in two years there will be any vacant property in this vicinity.

Mr. Simmons has rendered great service to Occidental college in helping to promote intercollegiate athletics. He will speak on the general subject of Phi Beta Kappa.

Last year in order to arouse interest in scholarship and in the Phi Beta Kappa association, the organization offered a prize of $50 for the best essay on scholarship in Southern California. This year was won last year by an Occidental student, Miss Isabella Corbett. The association will offer a similar prize again this year, the subject to be announced later.

COMMENT That's All

Glendale a Peaceful Place. Praise for the Worthy. Polite Policemen Pay. Wit, Also Some Wisdom.

By Gil A. Cowan

Glendale is about the most peaceful place we know—when it comes to a holiday. As is the custom with all large daily newspapers, The Glendale Evening News printed its paper at noon and left only two or three people to attend to business.

Strange to say, there was little or nothing to be done. This writer held the fort in the news room and performed it was necessary to write this comment to keep the mind from stagnating. Only an occasional inquiry disturbed the afternoon's siesta of the telephone operator.

Glendale was at peace! It was neither at home, nor downtown. It was at the football game, the seaside, or somewhere, at peace.

However, we were visited by one person who stopped to inquire why? Why doesn't this city make a bigger showing in its parade? Why doesn't it do this and so? Well, why doesn't it? We don't know.

Fact is, we were in the parade, and don't know why anyone else wasn't. We talk about current issues, and don't know why anyone else shouldn't. But we do not go around crabbing about the things which are not done. We brag about accomplishments. That's our idea of having a good time.

Incidentally, did you notice Glendale's policemen and firemen in yesterday's parade? Mighty good looking outfits, we say. Yes, they are much better than the average. And we like 'em, these boys on the force who fight fire and keep the peace.

There is a current editorial about "Polite Policemen" which they will be glad to read, surely. It follows:

"The New York police commissioner, in a communique to the 12,000 members of the force, enjoins courtesy. 'Nothing,' he reminds them, is more necessary in the conduct of a police officer, nor is there anything to which the public more readily responds."

"Right there Commissioner Enright hits the nail on the head. Observe two traffic officers, one of whom is courteous and the other discourteous. The latter violently 'bawls out' an automobile driver for any infraction of the rules, voluntary or involuntary. The driver, if he is a normal human being, thereupon gets mad and argues with the policeman. Both get loud and red in the face. If nothing worse happens, they hold up traffic and irritate everybody else while they fight it out. The other officer calls the driver's attention to his violation of the rules, mildly or sternly as the case seems to require, but without any vulgarity or personal abuse. The driver, nine times out of ten, expresses his regret and promises better driving in the future. Neither has his temper soured and traffic moves along expeditiously as traffic should.

"The opposite angle, however, should not be forgotten. Courtesy is the duty of the public, even the policeman's lot is not a happy one, and he is usually doing the best he knows how, for the public's own benefit."

Here is some wit and wisdom we borrow from the newspapers throughout the state. See how you like it:

The world is full of people who imagine if they had a million they would stop working and devote themselves to helping the poor.—Willows Journal.

Mrs. L. C. Brand Sails For New York Visit

Mrs. L. C. Brand of Miradero and her sister, Miss Tessie Dean of Los Angeles, left Monday afternoon on the steamship Kroonland, for a trip via Panama canal to New York and New Jersey, where they will spend the next two months. Mrs. Brand was accompanied to the harbor by Mr. Brand, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pomeroy and others from the estate. A number of relatives from Los Angeles were at the docks to wish them bon voyage.

Prizes Offered In Short Story Contest

The Scribblers' League of Los Angeles announces a short story competition, open unconditionally to all non-professional writers in Los Angeles county.

This league is of some years' standing and well known in newspaper and literary society, existing, according to its president, A. W. Macy, "for the advancement of better literature," and having for its ultimate goal "to see Los Angeles recognized as the literary center of the west," and for its object "the encouragement of writers hitherto unencouraged."

All entries in the competition must be sent to Miss A. M. Kirby, competitive secretary, 2503 Buckingham road, Los Angeles, from whom all entry forms and additional particulars may be obtained.

The rewards, according to President Macy of the Scribblers' League, will be made by competent and independent adjudicators, not connected with the organization.

It was on this same "Kroonland" that their brother, Charles Dean, returned from overseas at the end of his service in France at the close of the world war.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.
