ENORMOUS AMOUNT OF BOOTY IN HANDS OF THE VICTORS

ENEMY'S RESISTANCE GROWS MORE STUBBORN AS HE ATTEMPTS STAND ALONG AISNE AND VESLE RIVERS

Germans May Try to Hold on Present Line for a Time, But Opinion of Allied Observers Is That They Will Withdraw Line Completely to Aisne

With the French Army in France, Aug. 5—1.30 p. m.—(By the Associated Press.)—The German resistance along the banks of the Aisne and Vesle Rivers is growing more stubborn. Allied patrols which have crossed these rivers have met with the sternest resistance. Near Muizon, on the south side of the Vesle, the Germans fought fiercely last evening before they were forced back. The battle was especially severe around the Vaules farm and the adjacent woods. On the end of the line nearest Rheims a heavy artillery duel is going on.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Germans, it is believed by observers here, will try to stop at an intermediary position between the Vesle and the Aisne, but probably they will not attempt a definite halt before the Aisne is reached.

Paris, Aug. 5.—There was a lull in the battle along the Soissons-Rheims front last night and the breathing spell extended into this morning. The Germans are being favored by the weather conditions, which have transformed the banks of the Vesle River into swamps and morasses, and they are making a stiffer stand there than was anticipated.

Paris, Aug. 5.—French detachments which crossed the Vesle River are meeting with resistance from the Germans, says a report from the War Office this afternoon, the text of which follows:

There is nothing of importance to report from the battlefield. Small French detachments which crossed the Vesle are meeting with German resistance everywhere.

On Defensive. London, Aug. 5.—The Germans are preparing to assume the defensive on the front from Ypres to Rheims.

While continuing their retirement toward the Aisne, the Germans have abandoned good defensive positions in Picardy east of Amiens. The movements north and south of the Somme have been only local in character. It indicates that the German command is aware of the danger of an Allied attack north of the present battlefield.

Between Soissons and Rheims the Vesle virtually has been cleared of enemy troops, and Fismes is in the hands of American troops, having been carried by storm. West of Rheims French troops have made important gains and beyond Soissons French forces are near the Aisne.

Bringing Up Guns. The Allied troops have not advanced so rapidly during the last forty-eight hours. The leading units are keeping in close touch with the Germans, but it is probable that heavy artillery will have to be brought up.

There is little doubt in the Allied capitals that the German Crown Prince's army will retire to the north of the Aisne. The heights of the Chemin-des-Dames offer the most suitable defensive positions, but even this would be precarious if the French should advance north of the Aisne. This also would threaten seriously the enemy positions in the vicinity of Montdidier and in Picardy, and probably accounts for the withdrawals north and south of Somme.

British Gains. British troops now hold Hamel and Dernancourt, the right bank of the Ancre. At Albert, where the Ancre divides the town, the situation is not clear.

The Allies now control the heights west of the Ancre and Ayre Rivers. Military experts have called the Ayre the path to Amiens and the enemy positions on the west bank were very important if the drive for Amiens was to be continued.

The Situation. Paris, Aug. 5.—Only a few enemy troops remain south of the river Vesle, says the Havas Agency to-day in reviewing the situation. French patrols have crossed the Vesle at Bazoches and Jonchery, west and east of Fismes, respectively.

Allied troops hold the entire southern bank of the Vesle between Fismes and Rheims. Stubborn resistance was made by the Prussian and Bavarian Guards between Muizon and Champigny, but they were forced back, suffering heavy losses. Both banks of the Vesle now are under heavy artillery fire from the opposing armies.

German Losses. London, Aug. 5.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Since the German Crown Prince began his retreat his armies have fallen back twenty miles and lost over 40,000 prisoners. The present German position is nearly a straight line between Soissons and Rheims. The latter town still is surrounded by the enemy on three sides, though the latest Allied successes have relieved the pressure east of the city. The enemy requires fewer divisions to defend this line than if he retreated across the Aisne, the many windings of which would necessitate large bodies of troops to defend them. The Aisne, however, would be most dangerous in the rear of a beaten army and indicated

AMERICAN SUBMARINE CHASER SANK AFTER HITTING OTHER SHIP

Washington, Aug. 5.—The sinking of submarine chaser No. 137 in a collision with another vessel last night near Hog Island, off the Virginia Coast, was reported to-day by the Navy Department. All members of the crew were rescued.

MANGIN'S ARMY ALONE HAS TAKEN MORE THAN 500 GUNS FROM ENEMY SINCE FOCH LAUNCHED OFFENSIVE

These and Guns and Booty Taken by Other Allied Forces Make Huge Amount; Some Time Will Be Required to Make Inventory of the Captures

Paris, Aug. 5.—More than 500 guns have been captured by one French army alone, that of General Mangin, since the beginning of the Allied offensive on July 28. This army also took an equal number of trench mortars in the same period.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Each day adds to the booty captured by the Allied forces. It will be impossible to take full stock for some time, but the booty includes a considerable number of 77-millimetre guns, many of them found in the depths of the woods of Arcy and Tournelle and the Forest of Fere. The number of 77-millimetre shells salvaged up to the present totals 1,500,000.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Germans have suffered serious losses in men and material in the great battle. Enemy dead are scattered along all the leading roads to the north. A large number of platforms for 380-millimetre guns have been found in the old Marne pocket, further indicating that the Germans intended to stay there.

PRESENT LOCATION OF BATTLELINE

The above map gives an impression of the extent of the great victory won by the Allied forces in France. The present location of the line along the Aisne and Vesle Rivers is shown. The lower line indicates how far south the enemy had pushed just prior to the launching of the mighty thrust by Gen. Foch.

RAIDS NEAR ARRAS BY BRITISH TROOPS

Prisoners Taken; Scottish Troops Commanded by Mangin Are Praised

London, Aug. 5.—Raiding operations were carried out last night by British troops southeast of Arras, near Neuville-Vitasse, in which prisoners were taken, the War Office announced to-day.

On the northern front, opposite La Bassée, the German guns have been very active, German artillery has shown some activity also north of Bethune and between Ypres and Hazebrouck.

Scots Are Praised. Paris, Aug. 5.—The newspapers here print long items from their special correspondents on the British front dwelling on the praise accorded by General Mangin to the Scottish troops fighting under his orders. One correspondent says: "Never has the old Thistle of Scotland raised its head more bravely; never did any enemy attack more obstinately, more stubbornly, than the Germans. In the words of one of our leaders, who is a great organizer of victories, and knows the meaning of the word 'bravery,' the gallantry of our friends, the Scots, reached during these operations the highest expression."

A Victorious Peace Is Not Far Distant, Declares King George

London, Aug. 5.—King George, replying to a message from President Wilson on the occasion of the fourth anniversary of Great Britain's entry into the war, said: "I am proud that my forces and those of the United States are fighting side by side, and you may rest assured of our unwavering determination to continue with all our strength until a victory of right over wrong is achieved." King George also wired appropriate messages to the heads of all the other Allied states, expressing the Empire's determination to continue the struggle and confidence that the dawn of a victorious peace is not far distant.

LINER CANADA MARU IS HAULED FROM ROCKS AND NOW HEADING FOR PORT

At 11.30 o'clock this morning the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Canada Maru was successfully floated from the rocky ledge on which she has rested at Cape Flattery for the past five days and is now on her way up the Straits under her own steam. The news that the Canada Maru had been floated was received shortly before noon to-day by A. C. Burdick, managing director of the British Columbia Salvage Company, in a wireless message from William Allan, superintendent-engineer of the local salvage concern, and who has been supervising the salvage operations.

Most Remarkable Feat. The salvage of the Canada Maru is considered the most remarkable feat every accomplished in salvage history on this coast, as the 6,000-ton Japanese passenger liner was considered a total loss and had been practically abandoned by the experts, who have been working off the ship from the time she piled up.

How the liner was pulled from the rocks this morning was learned through message information that filtered through from the scene of the accident. It was a last desperate attempt, but complete success crowned the effort with the result that the ship, valued at $2,000,000, and the greater part of her cargo, valued at $3,000,000, has been saved from the fate which threatened her on the treacherous and

ABOUT 100 KILLED WHEN A BRITISH HOSPITAL SHIP SUNK BY ENEMY SUBMARINE

British Port, Aug. 4.—Delayed.—The ship torpedoed yesterday morning was nearing home from France and was struck in the aft part of the engine room. Three members of the staff were killed there and the dynamo was destroyed, plunging the vessel into darkness.

Just over the dynamo was the ward room, containing more than 100 patients. Most of these were killed outright by the explosion. The others, injured by the explosion, were trapped and perished, except for a few who jumped overboard and were picked up.

London, Aug. 3.—(Delayed.)—One hundred and fifty patients are reported to have been killed by the explosion of a torpedo which sank a ship this morning. The ship was returning from France and nearing a home port when the torpedo struck her, penetrating the ward room where patients were accommodated.

About 100 wounded have been landed at a British port, coming ashore in what clothing they could reach when rudely awakened.

About 400 patients were on the vessel. It is not known definitely what the loss of life was. One hundred patients, however, are accounted for as having landed at one port, where they are being cared for by British organizations and the American Red Cross. Two American officers and five privates were on board the vessel. Both the officers are reported officially as saved. They were Captain J. T. Beatty and Lieut. H. T. Hubert. The fate of the privates is uncertain. The official report indicates that two of them were saved.

INFLEXIBLE DETERMINATION TO CARRY ON UNTIL ALLIES' SACRED CAUSE IS SECURED

Four completed years of war, the bloodiest conflict the world has ever known, has neither dampened the ardor nor subdued the patriotic fervor of Victoria's citizens. In its pledge of inflexible determination to continue to "carry on," the huge audience which filled the Royal Victoria Theatre yesterday afternoon re-echoed the sentiments of the British race. And if any justification of the sanctity of the Empire's cause were needed, Bishop Schofield's portrayal of British and German conceptions of human life in both national and international relationships provided a heavily-weighted balance in favor of the freest of all nations. But four years of unparalleled sacrifice, with the course of long weary months milled by fluctuating fortunes, have tested the weight of Britain's word, steeled the will of her people, and convinced her of the righteousness of her cause. Hopeful, then, that the more reassuring news of the day betokened an early and complete victory, with British ideals of liberty and justice paramount, the citizens of Victoria re-echoed with ringing assent to the following resolution, moved by the Hon. John Oliver, and seconded by W. J. Bowser, K.C., M.P.P.:

"That on this the Fourth Anniversary of the declaration of a righteous war, this meeting of the citizens of Victoria records its inflexible determination to continue to a victorious end the struggle in maintenance of these ideals of liberty and justice which are the common and sacred cause of the Allies."

Ninety-Seven Lost Lives When British Destroyers Were Sunk

London, Aug. 5.—Two British torpedo boat destroyers were sunk by enemy mines on August 1, according to a report issued by the British Admiralty. Five officers and ninety-two other ratings were lost, according to the statement.

U. S. Troops Fought Splendidly at Fismes, Worsting the Enemy

Paris, Aug. 5.—The American troops covered themselves with glory in the hand-to-hand fighting in the streets of Fismes yesterday when they captured the German base. The fighting is said to have been among the bitterest of the whole war. The Prussian Guards asking no quarter and being bayoneted or clubbed to death as they stood by their machine guns.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Vladimir Bourtzoff, Russian revolutionist, who is opposed to the Bolsheviki leaders in that country, has arrived here from London. He will leave soon for the United States.

Another Withdrawal Made by the Enemy North of La Bassée

With the British Army in France, Aug. 5.—Advanced lines on a sector nearly half a mile long north of La Bassée Canal have been evacuated by the Germans and British troops have pushed forward and occupied the ground.

Enemy Makes Serbian Men Gather Harvest for the Enemy's Use

London, Aug. 5.—It has been learned from a trustworthy Serbian source that a notice calling up all the Serbian male population between the ages of seventeen and fifty-five has been published in a Belgrade newspaper. This new outrage upon the unprotected Serbian population appears to mean a collective forced recruiting of Serbians for the purpose of gathering the harvest for the Austro-Hungarian military stores.

Plot Against Lenine and Trotzky Found, Says German Report

Amsterdam, Aug. 5.—A plot against Nikolai Lenine, the Bolsheviki Premier of Russia, and Leon Trotzky, Minister of War, has been discovered, according to a Moscow dispatch in the Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin, Sunday. These officials therefore have doubtless their precautionary measures. Lenine, it is said, appears in public only with a strong guard. He visited Dr. Helfferich, the German Ambassador at Moscow, Friday, passing through streets which had been closed to the public by a cordon of troops.

SIBERIAN GOVERNMENT ON POINT OF DECLARING WAR AGAINST THE BOLSHEVIKI

London, Aug. 5.—The semi-official Russian newspapers Pravda and Lzvestia declare that the Provisional Government of Siberia intends formally to declare war on the Soviet Government within a few days, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. The Omsk (Siberian) Government, it is added, has informed all the neutral and Allied Powers of the establishment of an independent Siberian Government.

Amsterdam, Aug. 5.—Before leaving Volodga for Kandalaska, the Entente diplomatic representatives in Russia made known the attitude of their Governments toward the Soviet Government, according to the Russian newspaper Pravda, as quoted by German newspapers. They declared that the Allies did not desire to maintain any sort of connection with the Soviet Government so long as that Government was supporting "the German junker power on Russian soil," as within public knowledge, the newspaper reports.

NEIGHBORING CHIEF EXECUTIVE IN CITY

"Labor Suffers From Blind Following of False Leaders," Says Governor Lister

The fact that the State of Washington and British Columbia were neighbors understanding each other peacefully and industrial progress at all times, went to ensure an even better understanding when the neighboring territories found themselves allied in common cause against a common enemy. With that in mind Governor Lister, who is visiting the city to-day for the express purpose of addressing the Victoria Canadian Club, said to a representative of The Times this morning that he felt there was little to add regarding the relationship between his own state and this province. Outstanding in his opinion, however, are the possibilities held by the future. With all prejudices effectively removed he sees the closer coming together of the two great English-speaking nations, a re-uniting of the same common stock in which by reason of a long established friendship, Washington and British Columbia may share in to the full extent of its meaning.

Shipbuilding. With war uppermost in his mind—and Governor Lister agrees that no mind is normal unless it gives first place to the matter absorbing the nation—reiterates the view of those who had a clearer conception of the need for President Wilson's delay in entering the conflict, when he says that the assistance of the United States to-day is of a character that will be of most benefit to the Allied cause and to posterity. Following similar reasoning as applying to latter day requirements he naturally takes due pride in the achievements of the Northwest in her shipbuilding activities. While he realizes that the passage of time will see the record of Pacific Coast yards pass on to the East, Governor Lister finds pardonable consolation in the fact that ships constructed this side of the American continent have been delivered at a time where their valuable space has possessed the same significance.

An additional list of 396 names, bringing the total for the day to about 700, was checked at the War Department in preparation for publication in the morning papers of to-morrow.

New York, Aug. 5.—Reinstatement of 1,800 Western Union telegraphers, said to have been discharged for joining or sympathizing with the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, and the adoption by the Government of an "open shop" policy in the telegraph industry, similar to that adopted for railway employees, is asked of Postmaster-General Burleson in a resolution adopted by members of the union here yesterday.

ENEMY DEVASTATED | TAKING OF FISMES

CITY OF SOISSONS REPORTED BY PARIS

Followed Usual Barbarous Methods Before Fleeing From City Before Allies

Toronto, Aug. 5.—A special dispatch from William Cook, dated at Paris, to The Toronto Mail and Empire to-day, says:

"The silence of death broods over the city of Soissons. As at Chateau Thierry and Pere-en-Tardenois, all is ruin and devastation. The noble trees which lined the Villers-Cotterets road leading to Soissons are now prostrate and shorn of their branches. The foliage is discolored by gas. One of the western suburbs of the city no longer merits the name, having been razed to the ground. No houses and scarcely a wall are left standing. It was here that a battalion of French 'Blue Devils' entered the city. As at Chateau Thierry, there were barricades, but they did not serve to cover the flight of the German rear guard, being made of charred beams and soft stones. The Allied troops arrived through streets over splintered glass, a debris of household utensils and furniture shattered by German heels.

The cathedral is now a mere skeleton and its towers phantoms. What is left of Soissons is an underground city formed of cellars of what once were houses. French sappers are making a careful inspection of these cellars, in which Germans took refuge.

Around Soissons great columns of smoke, pierced by tongues of flame arising, mark the site of burning villages, for the Germans are burning everything in their path as they flee. They have now set fire to crops, villages and forests.

GERMANY MUST BE BEATEN IN FIELD

Germans Must Do Away With Their Barbarous System, Says Churchill

London, Aug. 5.—In the form of a long letter to his constituents at Dunfermline, Hon. Winston Churchill, Minister of Munitions, replies to the Marquis of Lansdown's recent letter and makes the following remarks among others:

"The war has got to be won. It is not won yet. These two facts dominate every form of argument not arising from despondency or treason.

"Appearance of power is with the enemy; reality of power is with us.

"President Wilson, with searching thought, has spoken the only words which should be heard in the councils and camps of the Allies: 'Force without stint, force without restraint, force to the uttermost limit.'

"Two separate conditions are required from the German people, according to Mr. Churchill. First, they must be decisively beaten in the field by the Allies, and second, they should by their own free and spontaneous action make a definite break with the system which has led them to so many fearful and monstrous crimes. Not until then will they be allowed to take a place in a league of nations and be received by the brotherhood of mankind.

TWO RUSSIAN EX-GRAND DUKES ARE EXECUTED

WAR ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED IN BRITAIN

Special Services Held in Churches of All Denominations Yesterday

London, Aug. 5.—The fourth anniversary of the beginning of the war was observed yesterday, not only as a day of prayer and remembrance in churches of all denominations throughout the United Kingdom, but also as a day of thanksgiving and hope. The news of the glorious triumph of the Allied armies in France has sent a thrill through the whole country.

The newspapers are not forgetful of the nation's past sorrows, but characterize the anniversary as marking the turning point of the war and the breaking of a new dawn for the deliverance of the world from the menace of German militarism.

In Hyde Park, as elsewhere throughout England, shrines were erected where thousands laid flowers in memory of the dead.

King George, Queen Mary and members of both Houses of Parliament attended special services at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster. The Archbishop of Canterbury delivered the sermon. The congregation included the Prime Ministers of Overseas Dominions, with other representatives of the Empire.

Germans Failed to Strike Back When Allied Troops Out-ran Guns

London, Aug. 5.—"The salient is gone," said the Reuter correspondent in a dispatch from American headquarters in France dated Sunday afternoon. "The Allied troops, French, British and American, already are holding the south bank of the Velze River."

Ludendorff calls the German operation a strategic success. No, it is not that. It is a great tactical failure, relieved by various tactical successes, and it may not be too soon to say that the failure, even retrieved as it has been, probably spells ruin to the Germans' offensive, for this season at least, against Paris.

"True, the Germans have an attack they may deliver in Flanders at almost any moment they please, if Crown Prince Rupprecht's reserves have not been drawn upon too largely in the German Crown Prince's interest. But October is likely to be the earliest date for any vital operations there, and October will mean a half million more of these excellent American fighters on the line."

Weakness Exposed.

"The extreme weakness of Ludendorff's 'strategic success' was exhibited yesterday. A great general with an opportunity yesterday for a tactical blow, which surely would have tempted him had not some serious reason intervened. The German retirement was rapid, and the Allied pursuit, in order to keep pace with it, was forced to outrun the protection of its heavy guns."

"The roads, which had been ankle-deep in dust, were churned into mud by the passage of the troops, this slowing the progress of everything on wheels. The day, with its heavy clouds and thunder showers was difficult for aircraft observation, and our cavalry patrols were far from numerous."

"It was a most tempting moment for a counter-stroke which would have been certain to inflict heavy losses and put a pretty finish to that strategical retirement which has so depressed Berlin."

One of Two Reasons.

Yet, Ludendorff refrained. Why? Well, two reasons suggest themselves. Either he never had the needful force at his disposal, or a defensive attitude to the north of the Aisne having been decided on, the troops required to cover the retirement had been cut down to the lowest possible number. And every available division was being turned round to Flanders for the long deferred attack on the British front, for which all things had been in readiness since June 3. A success there would have important consequences and would cover up the failure here. And once back on the Chemin-des-Dames, von Boehm's defeated army would have time to recruit itself.

"The key of yesterday's interest was, of course, Soissons, and Soissons presented a sorry spectacle when the Allied troops entered it. The Germans as usual had wreaked their spite upon it, destroying objects with the same deliberate intensity of insane hate which they had exhibited in so disgraceful a manner at Chateau Thierry. Houses had been despoiled of all that had made them homes. Everything had been flung into the streets. The western suburbs had been razed to the ground and the cathedral was but a phantom of its former beauty."

"And what had happened to Soissons has happened everywhere in the track of the retiring Germans. The Crown Prince's proud boast is amply justified. His shameless troops have devastated another region of France. They have left flames and ruin everywhere behind them, proving themselves worthy of their word, and not a whit altered by a thousand years of Christian dominion."

Wastage.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Of the American soldiers wounded in the Marne-Aisne offensive, probably less than one in twenty will die from their wounds, more than four-fifths will be returned to service and only fourteen per cent. will be discharged for disability, according to a statement of the Chief of Staff based upon officially-attested experience of the Allies during the four years of war.

A Prussian Admission.

Amsterdam, Aug. 5.—The American troops who have been employed in battle in France have shown themselves to be thoroughly good fighters, remarks the Reuter correspondent of the Koelnische Volks Zeitung. "That enhances the success which our brave troops and their commanders have attained," he adds.

Rhims Defended.

London, Aug. 5.—Telegraphing from French headquarters in France Sunday evening a Reuter correspondent said: "On the Tardenois battlefield our troops are closing in to the east of Fismes. They have crossed the river a few miles west of Rheims. The advance to the village of La Nouvillet means that on the western side Rheims is disengaged and that the enemy has renounced the hope of capturing the town by an enveloping attack."

German Admission.

Berne, Aug. 5.—That the German offensive in France had been stopped and the present operations could not be publicly discussed, was a statement made by General Hellingrath, the Bavarian Minister of War, in the first Chamber of the Bavarian Diet on Saturday.

"The fourth year ends by what amounts to a stoppage of our offensive," he said, "but it is not possible to judge the situation apart from the operations now in progress, which can not be discussed in public. Besides, our people are sufficiently steady and patiently will accept the events which delay a final result."

Losses inflicted on Austrians by French and British Detachments

Rome, Aug. 5.—The following official report was issued here last evening:

"South of Nago our 29th assault detachment yesterday wrested from the enemy by a surprise attack Hill 173, on Rosso Alto, where on June 15 the enemy, after violent artillery preparation succeeded in gaining a foothold and maintaining himself at the cost of many casualties. Our occupation was promptly conducted under protection of heavy artillery. Large enemy parties hidden in caverns attempted brisk local resistance, but were overcome, the enemy suffering considerable losses. Four officers, 172 men and a large quantity of arms and material were captured."

"On the night of August 2-3, French detachments, during brilliant surprise attacks, overcame the enemy's resistance, and penetrated very far into the enemy line at Zocchi, to the east of Asiago, and brought back one senior officer and 124 men, and captured much war material and many arms, including a gun and a machine gun."

"West of Asiago British parties broke into Gaiga, inflicting losses on the enemy and capturing some prisoners."

"In the Lasonon region and in the Alano basin our reconnoitering patrols succeeded in capturing prisoners and material."

"Albania: The fighting activity yesterday was limited to bursts of fire on our part, which drove the enemy parties back to the north of Berat."

Austrian Statement.

Vienna, Aug. 4, via London, Aug. 5.—An official statement issued here yesterday says: "The enemy penetrated into portions of our positions on the Rosso Alto."

THE INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CO. IN U. S. TO BE DISSOLVED

Washington, Aug. 5.—After six years' battling against the Government's contention that it was a combination in restraint of trade, the International Harvester Company has given up the fight, and has agreed to immediate dissolution.

Announcement was made at the Department of Justice today that the company will withdraw its appeal to the Supreme Court against a decree of the district court that declared it was operating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, and ordered its dissolution. The appeal from this decision was to have been argued at the next term of the Supreme Court.

THREE WEEKS' GRACE.

We invite attention to the Proclamation appearing on Page Seven of The Times giving deserters and absentees in Class 1 under the Military Service Act until August 24 to report without being subject to the penalties prescribed by the law as it stands.

The number of absentees whom the Government is trying to reach by this Proclamation is estimated at 32,140, of whom 17,929 belonged to Category A.

GOVERNOR LISTER.

Victoria's welcome to the chief executive of the State of Washington has a certain special character of its own. In the first place, Governor Lister is the head of an important unit of a great ally whose gallant sons are fighting shoulder to shoulder with our own soldiers in France for the freedom of the world and whose numbers in the chief theatres of war before long will be counted in millions.

BACK TO THE AISNE.

Indications point to the continuation of the German retirement at least as far as the Aisne. The Allies this morning had reached the Vesle for half its distance between Soissons and Rheims, and at some points had effected a crossing, but encountered stiffening resistance on the north bank.

The situation around Soissons is not clear. The German right flank, apparently, is now anchored to the heights north of the Aisne beyond that place, and although it is unofficially reported that the French have crossed the river the official bulletins up to this morning made no mention of such progress.

The Berlin official bulletin describes the German retirement as a "victory" and says it is due to the success of von Boehm's army last Thursday. This "success" involved the loss of the Hartennes plateau north of the Ouseq to the brilliant co-operative operation of the Scottish divisions forming part of General Mangin's army and the French troops under de Gouttes, who cut the German right flank from its anchor, with a remarkable scissors-like movement and forced the whole Hun line to retreat so precipitately that it left behind incalculable stores and prisoners whose numbers, a Paris dispatch says, will "thrill" the Allied powers when it has been revealed.

Still there is every evidence that the Huns have scored a success according to one of their most cherished standards. They have devastated the country over which they retired, as thoroughly as time would permit, just as they ravaged the area between the Somme and the Hindenburg Line last year.

It is not only in the Aisne-Marne salient, however, that the German armies are retiring. They also appear to have begun a retrograde movement in the great Amiens salient, retiring from the west bank of the Ancre, north of Albert, and north of Montdidier. This suggests that not only do they not contemplate delivering another stroke in the salient the creation of which last March under the "eye of our Emperor and King," was to bring the war to a speedy end, but that they fear Foch may repeat in that sector the dose he has been administering between the Aisne and the Marne.

VISITING THE KIRISHIMA.

The high standard of courtesy shown by the Japanese Government when it placed its finest battle-cruiser at the disposal of Prince Arthur and his suite for their journey across the Pacific is being maintained by the captain and company of the ship during its stay at Esquimalt.

It is not often, if ever, in this war that the public of any community has been permitted the freedom of a vessel like the Kirishima even though it may have been visiting the port of an ally, for always in such circumstances there must be an element of danger which, in the case of so important a unit, calls for exceptional precautions.

The Kirishima and her three sisters are not only the finest fighting-ships of their class in the Pacific, but at least up to the nearest point of which there is any published record, they are the most powerful battle-cruisers afloat. The Kirishima is 599 tons larger than the Tiger which, with the Queen Mary, was the largest battle-cruiser in the British navy up to three years ago, and 1,000 tons larger than the Lion, Beatty's flagship when he commanded the British first battle-cruiser squadron.

Japan has every reason to feel proud of the Kirishima, every line of which reflects high efficiency in warship construction and armament; and of the officers and crew who, it is easy for the visitors to see, are entirely worthy of such a vessel.

A USEFUL LESSON.

The incident in Vancouver on Saturday should serve a useful purpose as a fresh demonstration of the attitude of the public towards any movement which impedes this country's war effort. It also teaches a lesson that we hope the Dominion Government, whose Minister of Labor is now in this city, will thoroughly digest, and this is that unless the laws of Canada aiming at the suppression of activities calculated to aid the enemy are adequately enforced by Ottawa patriotic people will carry them out themselves.

The people of Canada have given the Government a sweeping mandate to devote all the resources of the country to the prosecution of the war. That was what the Government promised and it is what the public expects to be carried out. And the fulfilment of the pledge demands the strongest measures against German propaganda and any attempts to inoculate this country with the poison of Bolshevism and its handmaid, anarchy.

The defect of the system under which Germany organized her shock troops is now being disclosed. These units were composed of the best material combed from all the German armies and during last winter and spring were specially trained for attack.

The defect of the system under which Germany organized her shock troops is now being disclosed. These units were composed of the best material combed from all the German armies and during last winter and spring were specially trained for attack. But the advantages of such a system necessarily must be confined to one big campaign which must end decisively; otherwise, the result must be disastrous, for the system concentrates the losses in the best fighting-men of the army and lowers the standard of the forces which, if the shock units should fail, must meet the counterstroke.

ACCURACY.

Accuracy is a prime factor of conservation. An American engineer stated recently that he had seen a British plant employing eleven thousand persons making over American-made fuses.

Aching or Burning in the Eyes is due to one or all of the following causes—muscle imbalance, inflammation, inability to focus, fifteen inches from the eyes. In any case these conditions demand a prompt examination of the eyes by one qualified to locate the exact cause or causes.

NEIGHBORING CHIEF EXECUTIVE IN CITY

Canoe to the Kaiser as an avalanche of seventeen-inch shells. Labor. Asked as to labor conditions the distinguished visitor said that Washington had had her troubles. Unrest had not been confined to any section of the American continent. Nor was there any yard south of the border in such a position as to warrant the visible sign.

General War Work. The visitor takes pride in the fact that so far Washington has contributed some fifty thousand men to the colors, while a similar number are at work in the shipyards. He speaks of the great strides made in the neighboring states in the recovery of spruce; the monthly output rising by leaps and bounds since the very necessary network of railways—completed and contemplated—have made possible the tapping of greater areas of the much needed material.

SIBERIAN GOVERNMENT ON POINT OF DECLARING WAR AGAINST THE BOLSHEVIKI

The people are fleeing from the town of Manchuria to Khabarovsk, on the Trans-Siberian Railway, sixty miles to the eastward. Indescribable confusion reigns in that region. It is reported that German agents are buying large numbers of cattle in Mongolia. The Chinese are said to be signing the "Bolshevik" and Austro-German prisoners who cross the frontier.

German Statements. Amsterdam, Aug. 5.—A copy of The Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin, received here contains a Stockholm dispatch, which says: "Up to the middle of July the Soviet authorities at Archangel controlled the situation there, but since then Entente troops have arrived to protect the Entente Embassies, which came from Volodga.

A small peninsula separates the Gulf of Archangel, in the bend of which is located the city of Archangel, from the Gulf of Onega. Situation Improves. Washington, Aug. 5.—Consolidation of the political factions in Siberia, opposed to the Soviet Government, and the liberation of six additional Siberian cities from the Bolsheviki through the combined efforts of the Czecho-Slovak troops and the military organizations of the Siberian Government were announced in dispatches received to-day by the Russian Embassy here from Omsk.

ENEMY'S RESISTANCE GROW MORE STUBBORN AS HE ATTEMPTS STAND ALONG AISNE AND VESLE

Conditions are that the enemy will continue his retirement north of the Aisne, as even this natural rampart has been jeopardized by the French bridgehead at Soissons and the suburb, St. Vanst. The latter commanding the whole sharp bend of the river east of the city.

German Withdrawal. London, Aug. 5.—Telegraphing from French Headquarters Sunday evening, Reuter's correspondent said: "The German withdrawal on the Aisne extended to Fontaine-aux-Monts, and the withdrawal of the German army. Needless to say, the enemy was cocksure of victory this summer or he never would have risked so irreparable a loss of his human resources.

No Talking Machine Manufacturer Dares to Make This Test

No talking machine manufacturer dares to invite a public comparison between a great artist's voice and the reproduction of that voice by a talking machine. No talking machine could sustain such a test.

The NEW EDISON

has been tested in this manner before two hundred thousand people. Great artists such as Marie Rappold, Anna Case, Alice Verlet, Christine Miller, Marie Kaiser, Elizabeth Spencer, Helen Clark, Arthur Middleton, Thomas Chalmers, and numerous others, have matched their voices against Mr. Edison's Re-Creation thereof and two hundred thousand music lovers have confessed their inability to distinguish the real voices from Edison's Re-Creations of them.

WILL PLAY ALL RECORDS. NOT A TALKING MACHINE. The New Edison is not a talking machine. It does not reproduce music. It literally recreates music. It is the world's most wonderful musical instrument.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly and Sammie's Water Ship
Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard K. Garis.)

Once upon a time Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy, was very fretful. He had to stay in the burrow, or underground house, where he lived, because he had caught cold, and he fussed and wined and twisted his ears every which way, because he couldn't go out and play.

"I don't want to stay in the house, mother," said Sammie. "I want to go out and have some fun!"

"But you can't until your cold is better," said Mrs. Littletail. "Oh, dear, Sammie! Don't fuss so!"

"But I want to have some fun!" I want to have some fun as Johnnie Bushytail did with his airship, or as Billie, his squirrel brother, did with his land ship. Why can't I have fun?"

"The only way I know how you can have fun," said Sammie's mother, "is to ask if Uncle Wiggly Lemnears will come over and see you. Since you can't go out he may come in. Shall I ask?"

"Oh, please do," cried Sammie, and he stopped fussing.

"Come over? Of course I'll come and cheer up Sammie," said Uncle Wiggly, when Mrs. Littletail talked to him on the morning glory flower vine, which, as you know, is just like a telephone for animal folk. "I'll be right there."

Sammie was very glad to see Uncle Wiggly. The bunny rabbit gentleman twinkled his pink nose like a drop of rain on a sunflower and said:

"What shall I do to make some fun for you, Sammie?"

"Could you make me a water ship, Uncle Wiggly?" the rabbit boy wanted to know.

"A water ship? Oh, my, Sammie! No!" cried his mother. "You have a cold, and if you play in water it will be worse."

"I won't make it any worse," said Uncle Wiggly, with a jolly wink of his left hand eye. "I'll just bring a tub of water up in this room, Mrs. Littletail, if you have no objections, and in that I'll sail a water ship for Sammie. Then he won't get cold."

"But where will you get a water ship?" asked the rabbit boy.

"I'll make it," said the bunny rabbit gentleman, bravely like. "A water ship is something that goes on water, just as a land ship is something that goes on land and an air ship goes in the air. I'll make the water ship!"

So Uncle Wiggly brought a wash-tub full of water up in the sitting room where Sammie was getting better of his cold. Then with a cloth, he scooped some bits of string and cloth and a few other things, Uncle Wiggly soon made a water ship.

"Will it sail?" asked Sammie, as he saw the new toy almost finished.

"Of course it will!" laughed Uncle Wiggly. "All I'll have to do will be to put it in the tub of water, and then we'll blow on it and it will sail!"

So he did this, and surely enough, the water ship floated in the tub and sailed to and fro.

"Oh, that's fine!" cried Sammie. "That's dandy, and I think you very much, Uncle Wiggly. I'm sorry I was so fussy and I won't be that way any more. But could I have a ride on the water ship?"

"Not this one, Sammie. It is too little," said Uncle Wiggly. "But when you get better, so you can play near the duck pond, I'll make you a big water ship. And then we'll have lots of fun sailing it."

"Oh, he!" No you will not!" suddenly cried a harsh and angry voice, behind Uncle Wiggly and Sammie, and, turning, they saw a bad old Kazunk standing in the room looking at them. The Kazunk is a very queer animal and very proud of his large nose, which it hates, more than anything else to get wet.

"You'll not sail any large water ships and have fun!" growled the Kazunk, "for I'm going to carry you both off to my den!"

"Oh, dear!" cried Sammie. "What shall we do? Mother! Save us from the Kazunk!"

But Mrs. Littletail had gone out to the store, seeing that Sammie was all right playing with the bunny uncle, so she was not in the burrow. The Kazunk had sneaked in through a window.

"I'm going to take you away, and the little toy water ship, too!" grunted the Kazunk. He leaned over the tub to lift off Sammie's ship, which the bunny gentleman had made for him.

"Splish!" cried the Kazunk. "By dose id's full of old wader!" (He meant his nose was full of water.) And away he ran very much distressed, not bothering Uncle Wiggly or Sammie any more, and he didn't take the water ship.

"Then everything was all right, you see. But it's a good thing the bunny knew about the Kazunk's proud nose, wasn't it? And if the coffee spoon doesn't go to breakfast with the tea-kettle and leave the fork to tickle the knife all alone I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the kingfisher."

Good music, combined with an excellent floor, contributed greatly to the enjoyment of all. The beautiful piano (property of the Sunshine Guild) was ably presided over by A. A. Bittan, who gave his services free.

After all expenses had been paid, the committee reported that the dance netted something over twenty-one dollars, which they are forwarding direct to the institution's treasurer in England.

On the same steamer came the representative of a leading educational institution in Shanghai, who had a similar object in view to place a pupil in a local school, and to examine the situation at first hand.

Dr. Marshall sets down the present rush of foreigners resident in the Orient to Vancouver Island to two causes—the shutting off of transportation from Europe, and the very favorable rate of exchange between China and this country. He points out that a ton which was worth about fifty cents has appreciated to about $1.16, so that the visitor from across the Pacific is able to have a comparatively cheap holiday, and one which brings him in touch with new scenery. He points out that the Japanese resorts to which large numbers of foreigners are usually adjourn in the hot season are now full of Russian refugees of the "march" class, and that accordingly the price of accommodation everywhere in Japan has advanced greatly, so that the Britisher in China does not require to consider long before determining to take the trans-Pacific route for his holiday.

The Two Conceptions.

To the Right Rev. Bishop Schofield fell the lot of delivering the commencement address, and His Lordship built up his theme by placing the audience in possession of a clear mental picture of the ideals of human life as seen through British eyes, and as understood and practised by her people. On the other hand he portrayed the Teuton view of life and showed how Germany had given effect to her theories by a diabolical application in practice during the four years she had defied civilization. The speaker believed he was on safe ground when he said that for many months after the war had commenced it was difficult to believe that the human race could descend to the depths typified by the earlier reports from outraged Belgium, and while credence at times was accorded, the world had long ago understood the magnitude of Germany's crime against mankind. Therein lay the justification for the people of the British Empire to resolve itself again on August 4, 1918, to fight on until just punishment had been meted out to the perpetrators of a world-wide calamity, and until the world had been freed of militaristic aggression.

How Deep the Cause.

His Lordship asked the question: What would the centuries to come say of these times? The present might be holding the most critical hours of the awful enterprise, not particularly of success, but of the condition of the people engaged in it, proceeded the Bishop. He declared with pride that never before had the Empire been so united as she stood to-day. Heroism had been heaped upon the world's history, and the speaker reminded his audience of the magnificent heroism of those who had sent their best and had continued to "carry on" with brave faces when the casualty list had had its well-understood significance. Other things, too, were in the balance; moral and spiritual complications. "Is there," he proceeded, "a cause lying beneath this thing which makes it worth while? Is there a goal that will stand the test of time?" It was easy to ask, commented His Lordship, but a somewhat more difficult matter to answer such a question.

"Do we see something in these events deep enough for Him to take unto Himself," he continued as he proceeded, "to examine the plea of justification. His Lordship's train of thought will be immediately understood from his text, which, by the way, he announced at the conclusion of his address. He took Psalm 97, verses 1 and 2: "The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of isles be glad thereof." And: "Clouds and darkness are round about Him; righteousness and judgment are the habitation of His throne."

All for the State.

Confessing to some doubt of the depth of the cause and in consequence its commendation to Almighty God during the earlier days of the war, the Bishop proceeded to emphasize the contrast between the two ideals, throwing out in relief that point at which a similarity between British and German conceptions became widely separated. Prussia demanded self-sacrifice, public spirit, loyalty and patriotism, morality and religion—subordinated to the loyalty to the state. Morality within the state must be encouraged and all virtues hammered into the service of the state. With state supreme and all powerful His Lordship went on to show "how the Prussian conception permits the state to override religion, to refute all international obligations and retain the inevitable will to go to war. It was because the world saw the application of the Prussian conception—prior to the outbreak of war generally believed to be merely theories destined to dormancy—that Victorians had gathered together imbued with the one spirit—the spirit of a just cause.

They Cannot Lie.

To consolidate his justification the Bishop alluded to matters that could not lie. He told the audience that from the platform in one of the western states had stood an orator from France. He had told the people of the United States some of the things that had contributed to a fairly general belief that atrocities in Belgium had been magnified. The visitor from the French Republic pointed to the proof preserved in the museum in Paris: photographs, duly certified, of the mutilated victims found in the first German trenches captured. Secondly, the bodies of the victims were themselves preserved in alcohol and proof for all time of Hunnish bestiality. Thirdly, there were the medals for German soldiers, struck before the war as if for inspiration, duly inscribed on one side "Kill everybody: man, woman and child." Those were facts, continued His Lordship, and in the devastation of brave Belgium he saw the first application of the German conception of human life, and that established a cleavage between the two ideals became complete and the Allied cause justified. True it might be said without fear that many Germans would still be found, ready at such opportunities, but so long as the people willed it, actively or passively, so long would the leaders of the people pursue their way without let or hindrance. And so long as that people condoned the applied conception, so long would God hold them responsible.

The Great Foundation Stone.

Nation and nationhood stood for good and noble things, recalled His Lordship, and the man who could not love his country had fallen in his appreciation of one conception of life. Even in patriotism, the speaker declared, the depths were not fathomed. "There is that great foundation stone of our Empire, the great foundation stone, higher and more sacred than state or government, the key to the living God who holds the key to life and death. It is because this is the real conception of human life that we are assembled here to-day. The separating chasm ceases to see a cause which is not our cause but God's cause. It is a cause worthy of the terrible burden of sorrow and of the moral and spiritual upheaval; a cause which must have its end where it began—in God's hand. Declared His Lordship finally placing the empire's fight as the fight of His Creator. "Look to your cause and as you agree in it, a readiness to forgive when genuine repentance becomes manifest, but not before punishment has been administered," said His Lordship in conclusion, "as for ourselves, there must be a Christian Church capable of settling its own ecclesiastical difficulties with the cleansing of our own national life resultant. When that has been accomplished we shall assuredly be on the Lord's side."

Inspiration of God.

Immediately following the singing of "God the All-terrible," the Premier of the Province moved the resolution previously set out. As he finished reading the terms Mr. Oliver told the audience that a clergyman had recently declared his office in the Parliament Buildings and had said that it was only by the inspiration of God that the Allied nations had been able to reach the position which they occupied to-day. When reason and knowledge had failed, there had been many occasions during the four-years of gigantic struggle in which the inspiration of God had intervened to give effect to divine will. There could be no better example than in the case of Belgium, commented the Premier. It had been supposed that nothing on earth could stop the great grey coated mass when Prussian statesmen had willed that Belgium's independence should no longer remain a barrier to her aims of conquest. By ordinary reasoning in comparison with numerical strength the German army of Belgium would have perforce to yield almost at once. Whatever the divine interference might be termed it was significant, the Premier continued, that the magnificent Belgian army was endowed with sufficient intelligence to be able to delay the Prussian hordes until France and Great Britain could catch their stride.

The Man Provided.

The Premier cited the many disconcerting political crises in Great Britain at a time when a leader of men was so vitally demanded by the pressing circumstances of the hour. At the right time there had been given to the nation with supreme control the present Premier, England. And with his great burden, aggravated by many conflicting conditions from time to time, he still stood there as the leader of the nation. In all these things where the cause was right and the man was designated it could only be righteous on one side. But whether it be termed a righteous war or not it could be claimed that where reason and knowledge had failed there still remained the indications of the intervention of divine inspiration.

Division of the Waters.

It was significant to the mind of the speaker and proof of the righteousness of the cause for which they were fighting that there should have been made manifest on the fourth anniversary of the war so clear an example of God's will. The division of the waters in Biblical history, whereupon the people of the world were divided into safety, was a striking contrast provided by the telegraphic dispatches which had flashed across the continent on this day of all days, indicating that the German hordes had been caught in the hungry water of the Ancre, many finding death in its watery depths, while others, prevented from crossing, met their end in battle on its banks. There was no division of the waters this time, said the Premier, as he completed his comparison.

Personal Pledge.

There must remain on the minds of all people, Mr. Oliver went on, no matter what their condition may be, the inflexible conviction that the struggle must go on until the world is safe from the dangers of a repetition. The British Empire, said he, is fighting to the limit of its ability; the nation is assuming great burdens of liability to itself and to the world. It is a devastating conflagration of the kind now entering the fifth year of its ravages. Mindful also of the aftermath, Mr. Oliver urged upon every man himself the full meaning of the pledge of re-determination. It was not, he said, merely a resolution as applicable to the continent of Europe as to British Columbia, or to Victoria in general; it was a personal pledge involving personal responsibility. Its terms were to be the continuance of the struggle until the Allied ideals of liberty and justice ran out paramount, while to secure that desirable end the demand for personal subscription to the pledge became the necessary and personal practical devotion to the aim would complete the compact.

They Did Right.

In seconding the resolution Mr. Bowser took his auditors back to the beginning of the war. He went on with bated breath to know the course of action Downing Street would take. While the world wondered and soon knew the decision of the leaders of the Empire, he felt that all who waited at that time remained content in the knowledge that their nation's cause was in good hands. With customary British optimism, he said the people of the Empire had not taken the prediction of the great Kitchener very seriously to heart when he declared that a three years' war to be in store; six months had been regarded as sufficient to end the catastrophe. As the war went on, however, never for one moment forgetting the enormous sacrifices so cheerfully borne by the British people and the agony through which the whole Empire had passed, he asked the huge audience whether there was a single person who would have desired the Empire's leaders to have steered a course so different to that now memorable history. (Chorus of No's).

Beginning of the End.

In common with the Premier, Mr. Bowser rejoiced in the good news which had reached the city at that time, and he hoped it would be possible to read into the significant dispatches the heralding of the end. It would be the wish of all present, he felt sure, that instead of celebrating another year's anniversary of war in 1919 there should be a thanksgiving for an honorable and a lasting peace. His Worship Mayor Todd, who presided, then put the resolution to the gathering, and unanimous passage was followed by three rousing British cheers and a "tiger." "Onward, Christian Soldiers," sung by the huge concourse with renewed determination reflected in its voice, and the pronouncement of the Benediction by Captain Martier preceded the singing of the National Anthem, which concluded the proceedings.

The earlier part of the programme, already referred to in these columns, was carried on in the usual manner. The meeting commenced with the singing of "O Canada," followed by the invocation from the Rev. H. S. Osborn; the singing of "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," Scripture readings, Psalm 121, by the Rev. J. G. Inkster; prayers by the Rev. A. deB. Owen; "Hear Ye, Israel," sung with fine feeling by Mrs. Macdonald Fahey.

His Worship Mayor Todd, at the outset, read the buffets received from France. On the platform supporting His Worship were representatives of the various civic, commercial and patriotic bodies of the city. The Salvation Army Band provided the music.

NEW HOTEL FEATURE

Empress Management Has Turned Green Room Into New Armenoville.

A change is about to be made in the Empress Hotel that will give officers and men returning from France a pleasant surprise when they visit the favorite hostelry on their return to Victoria. Manager Carlo E. Calza has decided to turn the Green Room, now used as a writing and lounge room into a "New Armenoville" copied from the famous original garden in Paris. Mr. Calza says he intends making the Empress Armenoville as nearly like the original as possible. Palms and flowers will adorn the walls in profusion, and tea tables will be arranged so that dancers may glide in and out between them. The idea is one that has spread, and has been in practice in many places for some time. The Empress orchestra under the direction of Prof. L. Turner will be in attendance on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons between the hours of 4 and 6.30 p. m.

A CAUTIOUS WITNESS.

Concerning the lighter side of his work at the Bar, Sir Marshall Hall tells a good story of a witness whom he asked to give a definition of absent-mindedness.

"Well," said the witness cautiously, "I should say that a man who thought he had left his watch at home and took it out of his pocket to see if he had time to go home and get it—I should say that that chap was a little absent-minded."

PROCLAMATION

GEORGE THE FIFTH by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the seas King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India—
To all to whom these presents shall come or whom the same may in any wise concern—Greeting.

A Proclamation of Conditional Amnesty respecting men belonging to Class 1, under the Military Service Act, 1917, who have disobeyed our Proclamation of 13th October, 1917, or their orders to report for duty, or are deserters, or absent without leave from the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

WHEREAS, considerable numbers of men belonging to Class 1, under our Military Service Act, 1917, called out on active service in our Canadian Expeditionary Force for the defence of Canada under our proclamation of 13th October, 1917, although they have thus become by law soldiers enlisted in the Military Service of Canada, of absence, have failed to report at the expiry of their leave or have become deserters from our Expeditionary Force, provided they report for duty on or before the Twenty-fourth Day of August, 1918.

AND it is represented that the very serious and unfortunate situation in which these men find themselves is due in many cases to the fact that notwithstanding the information and warning contained in our proclamation aforesaid they have misunderstood their duty or obligation or have been misled by the advice of ill-disposed, disloyal or seditious persons; and

WHEREAS, we desire it possible to avoid the infliction of the heavy penalties which the law imposes for the offences of which these soldiers have thus been guilty and to afford them an opportunity within a limited time to report and make their services available in our Canadian Expeditionary Force as is by law their bounden duty and as is necessary for the defence of our Dominion of Canada.

Now know ye, that we in the exercise of our powers and of our good will and pleasure in that behalf, do hereby proclaim and declare and cause to be published and made known that the penalties of the law will not be imposed or exacted as against the men who belong to Class 1 under our Military Service Act, 1917, and who have disobeyed our proclamation aforesaid or who have received notice from any of our registrars or deputy registrars to report for duty on a day now past and have failed so to report, or who having reported and obtained leave in testimony whereof we have caused these our letters to be made patent and the great seal of Canada to be hereunto affixed.

WITNESS—Our right trusty and entirely beloved cousin and councillor, Victor Christian William, Duke of Devonshire, Marquis of Hartington, Earl of Burlington, Baron Cavendish of Hardwick, Baron Cavendish of Keighley, Knight of Our Most Noble Order of the Garter, one of our Most Honourable Privy Council, Knight Grand Cross of Our Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and St. George, Knight Grand Cross of Our Royal Victorian Order, Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of Our Dominion of Canada.

VICTORIA NORTHWEST AND THE WORLD

VICTORIA OBTAINS DECISION BY 105 RUNS AT VANCOUVER

Ackroyd Makes 58 Runs, and Catches Home Eleven's Star Bat

There is little or no doubt in the minds of those who witnessed the game between Vancouver and Victoria on the Mainland that the Victoria team deserved in every way their victory.

Some people thought that in the game on the first of July, here, the home team were rather lucky in defeating their opponents, but after repeating the performance on Saturday last at the Brockton Point grounds, this impression must be thrown to the winds.

Victoria won the toss and decided to bat on a somewhat dead pitch resulting from the rain of the previous day.

Sparks was the next man in, but promptly hooked a delivery from Mends into the hands of Gill, the score remaining at the same figure.

Imay appeared on the scene and after playing himself in made some excellent shots, and with his captain took the score to forty-six before he was caught by Broadfoot, Mends again being the bowler.

The century was reached in an hour and fifty minutes, and it was not until twelve runs further were on the board that Ackroyd was sent back to the pavilion, being taken at the wicket off Gill—122-5-58.

Freeman then partnered Goward and things were made more lively, although the incoming batsman was not quite at home at first.

Wilkinson was the next man to take his place at the wickets, but very shortly lost Tucker—the latter being bowled by a good ball from Stroyan.

ELKS MEET CUBS IN GOLDSMITH CUP BALL

The Elks, who scored their first win in the Goldsmith Cup series against the Garrison in an exciting seven-innings game Friday, are up against the Cubs, the league leaders to-night at the Royal Athletic Park.

with but six on the score-board Kortlang was well taken by Ackroyd off Sparks behind the wickets.

At 22 Speak relieved Sparks, and at 26 Goward took over the ball from Verrall. This double change soon met with success.

Reed was now in and soon got Wilkinson's bowling in hand. A mishap then happened to the Victoria attack, Goward straining his side and shortly afterwards had to retire from the field.

Ackroyd, the Victoria captain, was using his bowling with great judgment and replaced Tucker with Speak, who immediately got Peel stumped after making eight with the total score reading 85.7.8.

Stroyan, who followed, was bowled second ball by York. (24.9.0.) Gill, the last man in, fell also to York, and the innings closed for the same total, 94.

W. H. Davies has written to Vancouver suggesting an open back stroke handicap as a feature of the programme to be held at the gala and has also promised entries for several of the other events.

Vancouver opened their innings with Kortlang and Arnsby—Sparks and Verrall handling the bowling. Things went badly with the home side, for

ELKS HOLD PICNIC AT WHITTY'S LAGOON

Accept Invitation to Compete for Baseball Cup at Nanaimo Field Day

The Elks' ball team has decided to accept an invitation to compete for a big silver cup to be played for at a field day of the Nanaimo Lodge of Elks to be held on Labor Day.

A game of baseball was played between the married men and the single men, in which the Elks' Goldsmith Cup nine were fairly evenly divided, and the married men won by a score of seven to three.

The results of the sports were as follows: Ladies' swimming race, 50 yards—1, Mrs. Proctor; 2, Miss Chatton; 3, Mrs. O'zard.

Double canoe race (mixed)—1, Mr. and Mrs. Spence; 2, Mr. and Mrs. Goodfellow; 3, L. Sweeney and Mrs. Brooks.

Winning, Aug. 4.—Larry Moore's aggregation of all stars from Duluth broke even on the opening day of their baseball series here with the local amateurs, winning the afternoon game from the Arenas 3 to 2 and losing in the evening to the Dominion Express 5 to 4.

Score follows: A. H. Ackroyd, c Peel, b Gill..... 58 F. J. Sparks, c Gill, w Speak..... 4 H. A. Imay, c Broadfoot, b Mends..... 20 H. H. Allen, b Peers..... 19

A polo team representing the Victoria and Island Athletic Association will make the trip to Vancouver August 17 for the mainland club's gala to play an exhibition game.

LOOKS FOR SLOVAKS TO PUSH WESTWARD

J. W. Prins States That Peasantry in Siberia Are Rallying to Aid Emancipators

That there is no reasonable ground for supposing that the Czech-Slovaks will be unable to recover the greater part of Siberia, is the opinion of J. W. Prins, a Dutchman by birth, but now a naturalized American, who returned from Eastern Siberia on the Atsuta Maru. On Saturday an interview appeared with Mr. Prins, in which reference was made to the situation as he had gathered it at first hand in European Russia.

What he had to say about the conditions in Eastern Siberia is also of considerable interest. He states that even in the best hotel of so important a city as Irkutsk, the conditions are closely approaching famine, the food being of the most unwholesome character, and scanty. As he came down the Amur River, the Czechs were pushing steadily westward into the Transbaikalian province, and the most noteworthy situation was the change of heart shown in the course of a few weeks by the peasantry towards them. "At first," he said, "we did not know what popular support was behind the movement, but more recently the peasantry took food to the regulars, and refused to be paid for it. The chaos has been so complete, and the people are so absolutely sick of what has been going on that they will do anything to secure a change. It was stated just before I left that the Czech-Slovaks had forty-two trains of a thousand men each, so that with subsequent additions to their strength they will be able to make good progress in the westward advance. There is a splendid spirit of confidence among them—they are all trained soldiers and will form the nucleus for the Allied intervention, which has recently been announced."

Mr. Prins, who has been working through Russia for the Red Triangle, describes scenes of absolute wreckage and upheaval of every institution, and says it is not to be wondered at that the more sane element of the people has revolted against the license of Bolshevism.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE NOTES

The dance given by the Sylvania Logging Company on Friday night, in aid of the Red Cross, was a great success. About 140 people danced till a late hour to the strains of Mrs. Watt's orchestra. The supper was served up to the hall from the camp kitchen and was admirably served by Miss J. Calder, assisted by Mrs. Eardley-Wilmet, Mrs. Christison, Mrs. Frayne, Miss Calder, the Misses Wilson, and the Misses Wilson. Thanks to Mr. Kennedy's generosity in paying all expenses there will be at least $100 to hand over to the Red Cross. J. Christison was presented a valuable picture to be raffled at Strathcona Red Cross sale on August 10. C. W. Lonsdale has had so many new pupils promised that a "class" entitled "Chirachivette" for six months from September 1 to enable him to accommodate them. Mr. and Miss E. Ravenhill will go to Victoria but will retain their interest in the Red Cross here. Miss A. Ravenhill returns to the Agricultural College, Utah, in September.

RETURNS TO FRONT

Lieut. Burgess J. Gadsden Leaves for England To-day. Lieut. Burgess J. Gadsden, who reached here on leave from the front in March, will leave to-day for the Mainland en route to England to report for duty. Lieut. Gadsden left here with the 2nd C. M. R., and arrived in France in September, 1915. He received his commission in November, 1916, and served with the artillery until October 12, 1917, when he was wounded at Passchendaele. Lieut. Gadsden was given a hearty send-off by a large number of his friends at the Great War Veterans Association rooms during the weekend.

Automobile Turned Turtle.—An automobile proceeding along Burnside Road yesterday afternoon crashed into the bank, and turned over twice at the corner of Marigold Road when the driver, Peter Johnson, tried to make a turn too sharply. As a result of the accident a man named Bonallo is at present in hospital. It is alleged that the car was going at a high rate of speed. There were several passengers in it, it is stated.

RETURNED MEN PAY TRIBUTE TO COMRADES

Impressive Parade to Christ Church Cathedral to Hear Address by Dean Quainton

LARGE GATHERING OF VETERANS ATTEND

With the double object of commemorating the fourth anniversary of the war, and to pay a tribute of respect to those who have fallen in the great struggle, a solemn and impressive service was held at Christ Church Cathedral yesterday afternoon.

Large Attendance. Over 250 returned soldiers, members of the Great War Veterans' Association and Comrades of the Great War, were present. Permission had been given by the General Officer Commanding, Major-General Leckie for the discharged men to wear uniform, and most of the veterans were in khaki. The Comrades' Association members assembled at the club rooms and from there marched to the quarters of the Great War Veterans to join the main body. R. S. M. Taylor handed over the parade to Lieut.-Col. Harvey, O. C.; Major-General Leckie, General Officer Commanding; Lieut.-Col. Major, O. C. 2nd Depot Battalion; Major Jukes, acting as Adjutant; Major McGuire, Lieut. Heinekey, Lieut. Watson and Lieut. Bolton were also on parade.

Forming up smartly in column of fours, the veterans, headed by the 5th Regiment Band, made a fitting parade for such an occasion. Crowds watched the men as they marched up Fort and along Blanshard Streets. The restraint of sorrow for the men who have fallen forbade any demonstration, but many a silent tear was shed by mothers watching the spectacle, reminded by those who have returned of those who will never come back. Although marching was difficult for some of the men, they attended the parade to pay their tribute of respect to their fallen comrades, and there were several in the parade who were only able to take their place along with the other soldiers with the assistance of a cane, others for whom a parade was impossible went direct to the church.

With the attendance of soldiers augmented by the civilian population, the cathedral was crowded and an eloquent address by the Very Rev. Dean of Columbia was listened to with rapt attention. "O, God, Our Help in Ages Past" and "Holy Father in Thy Mercy" hymns sung to the accompaniment of the band. After the reading of the National Anthem, the congregation remained standing respectfully at attention while the buglers impressively sounded "The Last Post" in respect for those fallen in battle since 1914.

The Dean's Address. Dean Quainton spoke as follows: St. John 13: 7: "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."

The Dean said it was not an easy thing in this day of tears and blood to justify the ways of God to men. Surprise would not have been caused had the war driven men to blasphemous denials of God. This had not, speaking broadly, taken place, but yet faith was puzzled and strained, and men asked "Why does God not stop the war?" He would submit four simple propositions, but as a complete solution of difficulties, but as an aid to clearer vision. "1. God did not cause this war. In its origin it was diabolical. "2. God had permitted it. And a God who permitted suffering an evil and at last conquers it is a greater God than one who dramatically intervenes. "3. We can't expect," he said, "to comprehend why God has permitted it. We can't adequately comprehend anything God does, but we can apprehend Him, for we are in His likeness, and His great love-gift, Jesus Christ, is intelligible, and is the potential rectification of life's problems. "4. God has permitted the war, not because He could not stop it, but because man is free. To have made man incapable of war would have been to make man an automatic machine. Already we could see the partial harvest of the war: Germany has made the British Empire a greater reality than ever, and will make of the heterogeneous factions in America a united people."

The brotherhood of English-speaking peoples was more than a dream, and a concert of great nations with their international police guarding the world's highways was coming within the sphere of practical politics. In conclusion the Dean spoke of the great opportunities for service that presented themselves to the returned soldiers, urging them to keep a united front, and counselling the soundest brains amongst them to give a sane leadership to their movement.

AT THE WILLOWS CAMP

At the Willows a joint camp parade yesterday was made of the 2nd Depot Battalion, the C. A. M. C. Army Service Corps and Engineers in the morning. The men formed up in the oval under Major Bullock-Webster with the officer commanding the 2nd Depot Battalion, Lieut.-Col. Major in charge. The men were marched to the grandstand where they were addressed by Lieut.-Col. Rev. G. H. Andrews, a returned chaplain.

The Colonel stated that it was an especial pleasure to address a body of soldiers at the Willows, for it was from that camp that he left with his battalion for overseas, and although it brought home to him sad regrets for the men who had left in the highest of spirits, never to return. There was consolation in the fact that they had laid down their lives gladly for a great cause. "Self-effacement is a characteristic of the British soldier," said the speaker. "Although he risks his life and faces dangers more horrible than death, he wants no commendation or fuss, but is ever belittling his own actions in fighting for all that is dear and honorable. In action and in camp the soldiers of the empire honor not only their flag but also their God and their conduct in the present war has won them the respect of the people in every country to which the great struggle has caused them to be sent. The men realize that they are fighting for the principles which Christianity stands for." As an instance of the soldier's self-effacement the speaker quoted the wounded men. "In nearly every instance," he said, "they will underrate their wounds and in their letters which in many cases have to be written for them informing their relatives of their injuries they always persist that it shall be recorded as very slight. "One man to whom I offered help," said the speaker, "looked as if he had met a whole barrage and stopped it but insisted that he had received 'just a scratch.' " "Stand Up for Jesus," "Onward Christian Soldiers," and "O God Our Help in Ages Past" were the hymns sung.

HAS NOW MOVED TO CENTRAL LOCATION

Willis Piano Company is Situate on Government Street

The Willis Piano Company, Limited, has moved from its former location at 769 Fort Street and is now ready for business at 1003 Government Street. The building, which was only recently vacated by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company, together with Captain George McGregor, manager of the Union Steamship Company of British Columbia, has been completely renovated and is admirably suited for the purpose for which it is now used.

The Willis Piano Company has been doing business in Victoria for the past five years, during which time it has built up a large connection and a reputation for reliable goods and fair treatment. The company, which includes W. Arthur Willis, general manager, and Charles Dodds, secretary-treasurer, is now devoting all its attention to the piano business, the firm having always specialized in these instruments, handling such famous pianos as the Willis, Knabe and Chickering.

The Willis Company holds the distinction of manufacturing its own pianos, a firm bearing the same name having its head office in Montreal, enjoying the patronage of the Duke of Connaught and the Duke of Devonshire, the late and present Governors-General of Canada.

The local concern maintains in connection with its sales department an up-to-date tuning and repairing branch which is under the management of W. H. Horne, whose experience in this line dates back to the days of his boyhood and whose ability as a pianist is very widely known. Mr. Willis states that he finds business extremely favorable under the present circumstances.

PANTAGES VAUDEVILLE TO HAVE RIOT OF FUN

Frederick Galetti, who is offering his tremendously clever baobabs in "Monkey Day at the Races" as one of the feature attractions on the bill of Pantages vaudeville which will open with the matinee performance on Wednesday, is considered one of the most successful animal trainers on the American stage. In this pantomimic novelty, Mr. Galetti has presented an excruciatingly funny, and at the same time marvellously interesting exhibition.

In the Denishawn dancers admirers of the terpsichorean art will find all that the most discriminating could desire. The act is presented by Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn and assisted by a bevy of beautiful girls. Fully a Harry, natural-born comedians, will contribute an original and funny little offering, consisting of cross-fire patter that is new, bright and snappy and a number of vocal selections.

Billy Elliott is "a corker in cork." In the realm of backface comedians Billy Elliott has but few equals. He sings and yodels in a most pleasing fashion. The Eastman trio, consisting of Lou Eastman, soprano; William L. Vick, tenor, and Harry W. Smith, basso, have a varied repertoire of songs, ranging from high-class to the latest popular hits, and they also introduce a number of exquisite harmony numbers. "In Hounce Inn" is the novel idea of Reddington and Grant, in the form of a comedy bounding act, using an elastic mate—called in stage parlance a "trampoline." Both in eccentric make-up and comedians of ability they are said to cause roars of laughter.

WEDDED SATURDAY

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Murray, 344 Cook Street, Victoria, on Saturday at 9 p.m., when their second daughter, Olga Louise, was married to E. A. Gregory-Aliens, of the Imperial Bank, Vancouver. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph McCoy, of Knox Church. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Gregory-Aliens left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, where they will take up their future residence.

The Charming Story of a Dear Little Girl Who Ran Away With a Strolling Player

MARGUERITE CLARK in "Prunella"

"PRUNELLA" is the play in which Marguerite Clark triumphed at the Little Theatre and at the Booth Theatre, New York. "Prunella" was heralded throughout the land as a brilliant drama. Marguerite Clark and her Director, Maurice Tourneur, have made it an even more wonderful picture. The dainty charm of the star, the splendid beauty of the production, will make this a photoplay that the whole nation will go to see.

TO-DAY'S AMUSEMENTS

Royal Victoria—Marguerite Clark in "Prunella."
 Pantages—Mrs. R. H. Pooley presents "In Gay Paree."
 Princess—Red Cross Stock Company in "Jane."
 Variety—Sylvia Breamer in "Missing."
 Dominion—Alla Nazimova in "Revelation."
 Columbia—Bessie Barriscale in "The Rose of Paradise."
 Romano—Frank Keenan in "The Ruler of the Road."

ROYAL VICTORIA

Marguerite Clark in "Prunella" is the attraction at the Royal Victoria for the first time to-night. This charming love story of Pierrot, the worldly-wise and Prunella, the innocent, makes a picture, the poetry and beauty of which has seldom been equalled. It was this play in which Marguerite Clark was last seen on the speaking stage, before her entry into the moving picture world. The play, a beautiful creation of poetic imagination, or rather two, was written by Granville Barker and Laurence Housman and relied upon its rare lines and fanciful settings, as well as exquisitely simple love story, as old as the ages. On the same programme is also a very laughable two-reel Mack Sennett comedy, the whole performance being well above the average.

DOMINION

Nazimova, the great Metro star, is assisted by a superior cast in her initial Metro picture, "Revelation," now at the Dominion. Her leading man is Charles Bryant, who is seen as Paul Granville, an American artist. Bryant has previously played opposite the star in both the vaudeville and motion picture versions of the war play "Brides," and in many other productions.

Frank Currier, who plays the reverend Prior of the Monastery, is a Metro constellation. Among the pictures in which he has appeared are: "Outwitted," with Emily Stevens; "The Trail of the Snow," with Emory Walker; and "The Greatest Power," with Ethel Barrymore.

Bigelow Cooper, who portrays Count de Roche, is a well-known screen player who was for years a member of the Edison forces, appearing in their leading productions.

Syde De Conde, who plays Ducios, the Apache lover, is a talented French player, who makes his American motion picture debut in "Revelation." He was a favorite actor in his native land and has seen service in the great world war. Another Frenchman in the cast is Eugene Borden, who plays the boy, Pierre. He played George Allen in "Dread 25," and George Wallace in "The Slacker," both patriotic pictures produced by Metro.

The other members of this capable cast are John Martineau, Fra Augustine, Philip Sandford as Mestaire; Hazel Washburn as Madeleine Lerevort; Dave Turner as a German officer; True James as Monastery Gatekeeper; Fred Radcliffe as Patti, and A. C. Hadley as Pochard.

ROMANO

"Ruler of the Road," the five-part Pathe play, starring Frank Keenan, which will be shown at the Romano Theatre to-night, shows up in a striking manner the railroad situation as it was before the Government took charge of the gigantic business.

In studying for his part in "Ruler of the Road," Mr. Keenan devoted much of his time to investigating the underlying powers which controlled the railroads while they were privately owned corporations. As a result of this investigation he became a strong advocate of government ownership of the railroads.

"Ruler of the Road" shows the possibilities which may permit one railroad organization to utterly ruin a rival organization for purely selfish motives, thereby causing the public great inconvenience and the stockholders great financial loss.

Such conditions are impossible, Mr. Keenan believes, where the interests of all the people are looked after by their duly elected representatives.

"Ruler of the Road" was produced for Pathe by Ernest C. Warde. It was adapted for the screen from the successful novel, "Simeon Tetlow's Shadow," by Jennette Lee.

VARIETY

The picture attraction at the Variety Theatre this week is a remarkable production. It is an appealing story of love and sacrifice with the great war forming a background, although without the usual scenes fighting to be found in most pictures of this nature. The story has been produced by J. Stuart Blackton, "the master of screen-craft" from the famous novel by Mrs. Humphrey Ward, the noted English writer, and it portrays the wonderful courage and self-sacrifice of the women of Britain in this hour of trial. Mr. Blackton's power to awaken sympathetic interest is manifested at all stages, and it counts most heavily where least expected, in little side issues, branching away from the main line of action. The Neil of Sylvia Breamer is an unusually fine performance, while that of Heister, the designing sister, portrayed by Ola Humphrey, is highly artistic. Thomas Meighan, who appears as Sir William Farrell, and Robert Gordon in the role of Lieut. Surratt, are to be congratulated on their clever portrayals. The support generally is excellent, and the photography all that can be desired, while the story is timely, well typed, and a genuine piece of artistry.

MUST FIGHT UNTIL SWORD IS BANISHED

Washington, Executive Tells of Pacific North West Activities

CANADIAN CLUB HEARS GOVERNOR LISTER

About eighty members, in addition to a number of ladies who came in after the luncheon, listened to a stirring address by Gov. Ernest Lister, of Washington, at the Canadian Club's luncheon this afternoon. The governor, who is an eloquent talker, clearly and concisely placed before the members the war activities in the Northwest, and spoke of the common feeling that existed between Canada and the United States not only in the destruction of their common enemy but commercially and socially.

President Cochrane. The speaker was introduced by the President, John Cochrane, who said that on the occasion of a visit from the Governor of Washington it was appropriate to refer to the good news which has come through from France on the fourth anniversary of the war of the success of the troops of Great Britain, the United States and her Allies united in a common struggle. He believed it was a sign from the Almighty of the ultimate triumph of right. The speaker referred to the fact that not a gun or a fort existed on the boundary line of Canada, and for over a hundred years peace has reigned between the two countries. On account of the similarities of ideals and common interests, the associations of the two countries have been and will continue to be of a mutually satisfactory nature. "We," he said, "could frankly acknowledge that there had been some criticism of the attitude of the U.S.A. in the early part of the war, but we could have nothing but the most enthusiastic praise of the U.S.A. for the way in which they are placing the resources of their country on the altar of human liberty at the present time. The boundary line between Victoria and Olympia was merely an imaginary line and in greeting the highest executive from Washington he could cordially say on behalf of British Columbia "hands across the sea" in their mutual ideals of common democracy.

Cordial Reception. The members stood up and greeted the Governor with three rousing cheers and a cheer. In opening he humorously remarked that the only difference that existed between British Columbia and Washington was a little difference in fishing. The speaker will insist on coming into the waters of the State of Washington before reaching the Fraser river, and it would be a hard task indeed to stand on the banks of Puget Sound and let this valuable food produce go by without having a hand in landing it.

"I was nearly," said the speaker, "addressing you as fellow citizens, although I am unable to do so I am nearer being able to do so than at any other time in history (applause). We are jointly facing a great responsibility. No such four years has ever been recorded as the last four years. We have wondered at times whether this much vaunted civilization which has been built up for so many years amounts to anything at all and whether the so-called civilization of the world has not reached a point beyond the realms of what we call barbarism. This war has developed a condition of fighting that far exceeds the conditions of barbarism created by the American Indians in the early days of civilization. We have seen evidence that the mind control of our common enemy in warfare is of a lower degree of civilization than that of the American Indian when he made war on the white race.

They were all cheered by the good news which had recently been received and every loyal citizen of the Allies would hope that the move forward on the West front will continue to be a move eastward towards the German's own territory. "We must not consider we are winning the war until we have driven the German out of Belgium and into his own country," he said. "We must not talk of a finish to the war until we are assured of a complete victory for the right. Victory can only be spoken of when we are assured that no nation can prepare for a future war which may be even more disastrous than the one we are now engaged in. I have a feeling," said the speaker,

"that this time we are going to settle for once and all time that civilized nations will not be controlled by military force and that questions of right or wrong are going to be settled by the human mind and not by the sword. We must have an assurance that the work of building up states and provinces for the good of the people can never be undone by future wars. We have a wonderful place to live in in the conditions of barbarism created by the American Indians in the early days of civilization. We have seen evidence that the mind control of our common enemy in warfare is of a lower degree of civilization than that of the American Indian when he made war on the white race.

America's Delay Justified. Speaking of America's entry into the war, the Governor stated that he realized that the people of Canada and the Allies must have an assurance that the work of building up states and provinces for the good of the people can never be undone by future wars. We have a wonderful place to live in in the conditions of barbarism created by the American Indians in the early days of civilization. We have seen evidence that the mind control of our common enemy in warfare is of a lower degree of civilization than that of the American Indian when he made war on the white race.

In one month there had been produced over ten million feet of lumber for the manufacture of aeroplanes, and so splendidly had the situation been met that within four months they would be producing in the Northwest over thirty million feet of aeroplane lumber a month. Based on the figures that it requires one thousand feet of lumber to produce one plane it would be seen that they would produce sufficient lumber to make 30,000 aeroplanes a month. The Liberty motors of which they all must have heard are being produced at the rate of about 100 a day on the other side of the line. When the next big drive begins in the spring of 1919 there will be thousands of aeroplanes over the enemy's lines instead of dozens and hundreds.

Regarding wooden ships, the difficulty in the Northwest had not been in producing hulls. Their only delay was in obtaining machinery with sufficient speed to place the ships in service. The Pacific Coast excels in the manufacture of wooden ships. A ship delivered to the Government to-day," said the speaker with emphasis, "to be used in winning the war is worth five ships delivered a year from to-day." In the matter of Liberty bonds and other financial efforts for the war the Northwest was not found wanting. She has in fact over-subscribed for every call made upon her. "These are the lines," he declared, "she intends to continue on until the end of the war. (Applause.)

In the course of a short address the Hon. T. W. Crothers said that any strike or lock-out at the present time is a blow struck on behalf of the enemy. Premier Oliver moved, and Mayor Todd seconded a vote of thanks to the speaker, which was enthusiastically endorsed.

FAILURE TO REPORT CASE OF SMALLPOX

Chinaman Lectured by Magistrate, and Heavily Fined

A Chinaman named Lee Wong, 1728 Government Street, was fined $100 in the City Police Court this morning, the maximum penalty under the Act, for failing to report a case of smallpox. Sanitary Inspector Lancaster laid the complaint and J. S. Brandon appeared for the accused.

It was represented that in China smallpox is looked upon as something that everybody must have, and it is not serious, in fact it is as common in the Orient as measles is in this country. Therefore, when Wong's boy was laid up with the disease and none of the tenants in the building, including the Chinese barber, raised any objection, Wong thought the matter did not concern anybody else and said nothing about it.

The Magistrate took a very different view of the situation, however, and pointed out what a serious thing it would be for a disease like smallpox to get a hold and spread about the city. As the failure of Wong to report the matter made it very dangerous for the citizens of Victoria, he decided that an example should be made of the case and the maximum fine was imposed.

"WEEK" CASE UNDECIDED

Judgment Reserved by Magistrate on Charge Under Censorship Orders. Judgment on the case of the "Week," a local publication which was lately suppressed by the police acting on instructions from the Secretary of State at Ottawa, was reserved until to-morrow by Magistrate Jay in the Police Court this morning. W. E. Peirce is accused of having copies of the journal containing objectionable matter in his possession.

No evidence was heard, for under the law what the Secretary of State, classes as objectionable matter is prima facie evidence. Mr. Peirce pointed out that when the papers were found in his possession no order of suppression had been promulgated.

Thomas R. Cusack, who faces a charge of printing the "Week," stated that he had received no notice previous to the visit of the police that the paper had been suppressed.

Again Lord's Day Act.—With sublime disregard for the repeated refusal of the Attorney-General to consider their request that they be allowed to give the public "that intelligent enforcement of the Lord's Day Act to which they are entitled," the police yesterday, as usual, recorded the names of all Sabbath breakers. The list, a usual total to about two hundred and names of all Sunday violators will be forwarded to Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, with the request for prosecution.

Bigamy Case.—After hearing the evidence on the case of Giacomina Menghini, aka Pina Bernick, charged with committing bigamy, Magistrate Jay sitting in the Police Court this morning, committed accused for trial. City Prosecutor Harrison brought forward evidence to show that accused had married John Menghini before a priest in Colorado, and after coming to Victoria entered into marital relations with Valentinus Bernick.

COL. F. C. M'TAVISH TAKES ON NEW DUTY

Capable A. D. M. S. Will Be Missed From Headquarters of M. D. No. 11

With the departure of Lieut.-Col. F. C. McTavish from the headquarters of Military District No. 11, this city loses a popular Assistant Director of Medical Services and the members of the staff at Belmont House a capable officer. From August 1 the office now vacated by Colonel McTavish will be filled by Lieut.-Col. C. E. Doherty, whose appointment was announced in these columns several days ago.

Colonel McTavish came to Victoria in the capacity of A. D. M. S. in November of last year, and when he undertook the important office he is now relinquishing it was understood that the arrangement would only be of a temporary nature. His appointment in the first place was offered to and accepted by him in following out the principle of appointing returned officers as Assistant Directors in all Military Districts, and as no other suitable senior returned medical officer was available, to Colonel McTavish went the offer. He is now vacating the office to take up duties as Chief of the Orthopaedic Department of the Vancouver Military Hospital and consulting Orthopaedic Surgeon for Military District No. 11.

Colonel McTavish is recognized as an authority on orthopaedics and before formally taking over his highly important duties he will proceed to Toronto and New York for the purpose of consulting with the foremost physicians and surgeons of the East, the fruits of which he will bring to bear on his future work in Military District No. 11. The Colonel always took a keen interest in military matters, and first had his baptism of fire during the South African war, of which he possesses both King's and Queen's medals as mementoes. His connection with the Canadian Militia antedates the present war, for he organized the eighteenth Field Ambulance, C. A. M. C., with which he served as Commanding Officer until his departure for overseas, about one year of which was spent under Colonel Sir Robert Jones, Chief of the Orthopaedic Department of the British Isles.

During his tenure of office here as A. D. M. S. the work of the medical department has been extremely heavy owing to the examination of recruits under the Military Service Act and the taking over of hospitals by the C. A. M. C. from the Military Hospitals Commission.

General Leckie pays sincere tribute to the harmonious working of the A. D. M. S. Department during the whole time Colonel McTavish has been its administrative head, and his leaving the city is regarded by the General as a distinct loss to headquarters, while he considers he will lose a warm personal friend from immediate association.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Evans, 423 William Street, Victoria West, announce the engagement of their daughter Violet Maud to Dr. William Alexander Rutledge, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rutledge, 1109 Princess Avenue, Victoria. The wedding will take place on August 12 at 1 p.m. in St. Savoy's Church, Victoria West.

Goodyear Cord Tires Now Made in Canada

WELL advanced has been the tire satisfaction of the Canadian motorist. Yet he has known of, and in some cases has used, a tire which outservices all ordinary types; not alone in the material phases of service, but in comfort, activity and security as well.

—a tire built after a different principle, more largely useful than anything he had hitherto enjoyed.

—the Goodyear Cord Tire.

Cord tires, with all their greater goodness, have been too high-priced in Canada because they have been imported. To-day Goodyear Cord Tires are built at New Toronto. They offer you all the advantages of the most highly regarded tire in America, at fair "made-in-Canada" prices. This table shows the saving to you on a number of sizes.

The Manifold Advantages of Goodyear Cords

On Motor Trucks

Buoyant and strong, Goodyear Cords now serve cross-country from the Central States to the Atlantic on five-ton trucks at passenger-car speeds.

On Racing Cars

Every major race driven on the speedways of America in the last year has been won on Goodyear Cords—every prize-winner in these races rode on them.

Great Mileage

It is not unusual for motorists to write us of their Goodyear Cords that have given 10,000, 15,000 and 20,000 miles of service.

Easier Riding

Goodyear Cords are extremely flexible. They add to the riding-comfort and distinction of any car.

Lower Fuel Consumption

They magnify gasoline and oil mileages beyond all previous experience.

The amazing gasoline records with Franklin cars were made on Goodyear Cords.

On Fine Cars

The same Goodyear Cord Tires now offered to you at "made-in-Canada" prices have been chosen as standard equipment for the Packard Twin-Six, the Franklin, the Locomobile, the Peerless, the White, the Haynes Twelve and a dozen other good cars.

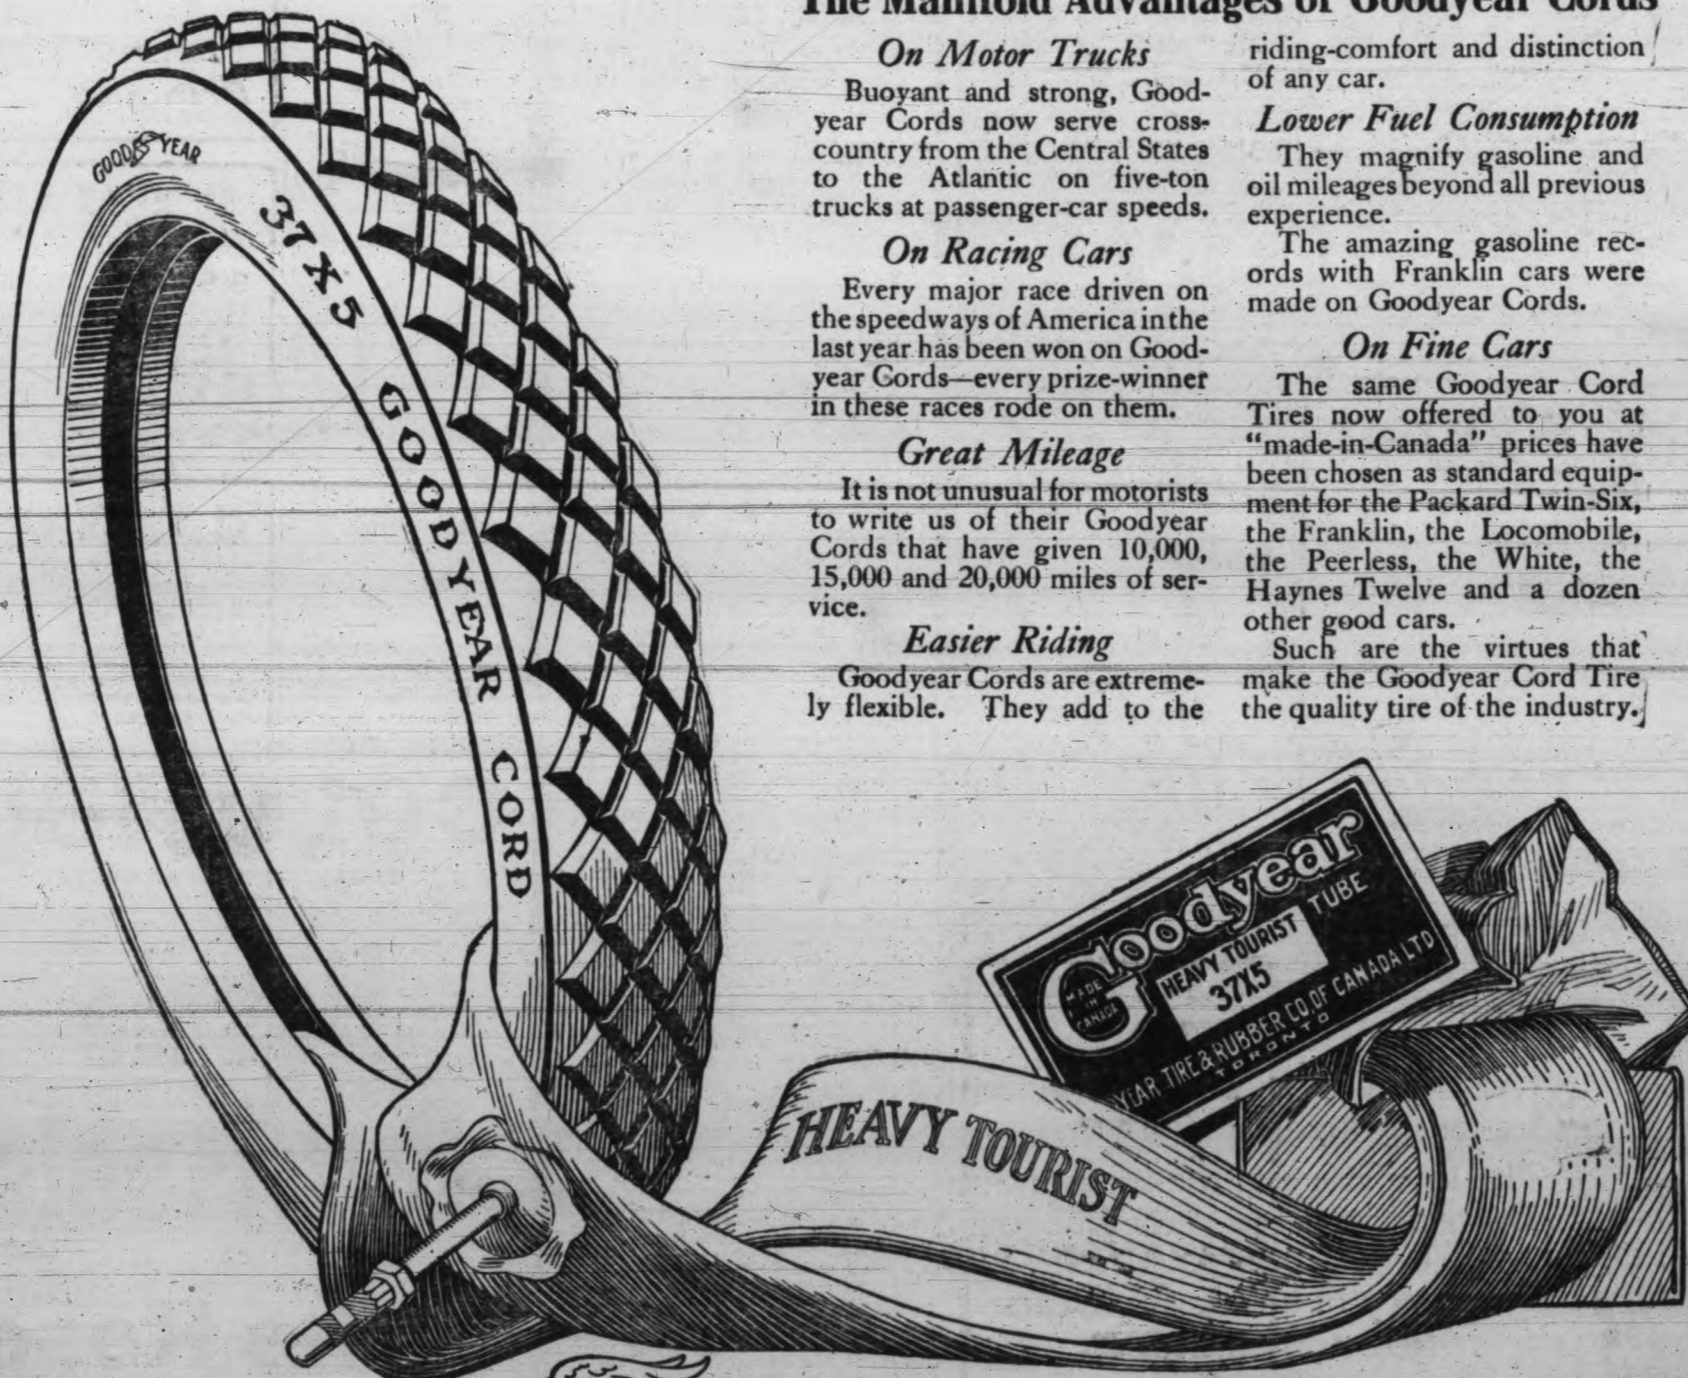

Such are the virtues that make the Goodyear Cord Tire the quality tire of the industry.

A Super-Quality Tube

The longer and better service yielded by Goodyear Cord Tires creates a demand for a tube of extra quality. To meet this need we have built the Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tube. Its longer life, greater ability to recover from stretch, freedom from air seepage, make it a fit companion of the Goodyear Cord Tire. And those same qualities make it desirable in any casing.

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes have the name "Heavy Tourist" on the tube. They are enclosed in a handsome, useful bag, also stamped "Heavy Tourist." Covering all is the familiar Goodyear Tube box with "Heavy Tourist" printed on it. Identify Heavy Tourist Tubes by these features.

VISITORS TO WARSHIP GIVEN ENJOYABLE TIME

aturday's Invitation Affair on Battleship Kirishima Was Notable Event.

Lavish hospitality was extended to several hundred visitors who boarded a Japanese battleship, Kirishima, on Saturday afternoon as guests of Captain K. Mimura, and his officers. It was a splendidly organized affair, and part from the attractions incidental to such a magnificent war craft as the Kirishima, there were numerous surprises in store which greatly added to the enjoyment of the invited guests. Speedily and comfortably the guests were transported from the Esquimaux wharf to the giant man-of-war swinging at anchor in mid-harbor by a number of steam pinnaces, and on boarding the ship the visitors were received on the quarter-deck by Captain Mimura and his senior officers. Greetings over, each of the privileged visitors were presented with an attractive souvenir in the shape of a colored reproduction of the Kirishima, and small parties were then assigned to an officer detailed to point out the various points of interest offered by the largest warship that has yet visited these waters.

Points of Interest.
Very great interest was displayed by the specially conducted parties in the big 14-inch guns, comprising the major armament of the huge fighting machine; the guns of smaller caliber, revolving turrets, powerful searchlights, bridge, control platform, range-finders, and other features to be seen on every hand above decks. A tour below decks was equally interesting. Here the visitors were given every opportunity of getting a personal insight into the interesting life of the Japanese sailor at sea. In forward compartments groups of sailors were industriously occupied in drawing and designing, and some wonderful exhibits of their skill were available for close observation by the intensely interested visitors.

Ship Thronged Yesterday.
Many hundreds of citizens visited the Kirishima throughout Sunday and were given every opportunity to inspect the big Japanese fighting craft. The crowd was handled in big barges, towed by the ship's pinnaces. The battleship is open to visitors bearing passes to-day and to-morrow.

Wonderful Teahouse.
The spacious quarter-deck of the Kirishima was enclosed by canvas awning and here the visitors partook of afternoon tea daintily served from a picturesque Japanese teahouse, ornamented with ship's rope to represent bamboo, a wonderful work of art designed and erected by the ship's carpenters. Immediately adjacent to the teahouse was located a true reproduction of the cherry tree, a perfect imitation of Japan's national tree in full blossom.

Flower Presentation.
A very pretty ceremony was observed during the early part of the afternoon. This was one of the surprises and just as much a surprise for the ship's complement of officers as to the visitors. It took the form of a presentation of flowers to Capt. Mimura by the Blue Cross Society in appreciation of the loan of the Kirishima's hand to play at the George-to-day in aid of the Society's funds. As a preliminary to the presentation ceremony a charming children's dance arranged by Mrs. Green was staged on a specially erected platform at the after part of the ship. The stage was appropriately draped with the Union Jack and the Rising Sun. At the conclusion of the

AMBITION PROJECT FOR INNER HARBOR

Floating Drydock for Repairing Vessels to Be Located Near Laurel Point

COMPANY MAY LATER BUILD DEEP-SEA SHIPS
Filling operations are now under way on a foreshore site in the Inner Harbor preliminary to the establishment of a new shipbuilding and ship-repairing plant that may develop into an ambitious project.

A syndicate, the head of which is George Watson, of the firm of Watson & McGregor, proposes to utilize the site, located to the south of Pender's Soap Works, for the operation of a floating drydock for the repairing of small vessels. The new company, it is understood, has under consideration, at some future date, the developing of its facilities for the construction of vessels from a tugboat to an ocean-going vessel. When seen this morning, George Watson stated that the new company's activities would not be confined to the repairing of vessels, intimating that shipbuilding on a considerable scale might be embarked upon in the future.

NOW WAITING FATE OF SHIP CONTRACTS

Canadian Northern Railway Manager is Helpful in Wire to Premier

Premier Oliver announced this morning that he had received a telegraphic communication from M. H. MacLeod, General Manager of the Canadian Northern Railway Company, to the effect that it was altogether likely that arrangements would be made with the province in regard to the question of terminal sites on the Songhees Reserve that would in no way interfere with the expansion of the shipbuilding industry.

The wire is in response to several representations made by Premier Oliver in an endeavor to permit of a prompt and equitable settlement for the shipbuilding company, in the matter of areas now required and likely to be required in the near future. It plans to construct a floating dock to be moored in the basin immediately adjacent. This plan will give more room for the installation of machinery shops and other gear incidental to a shipyard.

PATH TO VICTORY THROUGH SERBIA

Peoples of Dual Empire Ready to Rise if Allies Intervene, Says Dr. Hinkovic

"Final and conclusive victory for the Allies can be most easily achieved by a campaign in the Balkan Peninsula, and a consequent dismemberment of Austria," said Dr. H. Hinkovic, a prominent exile from Croatia, who arrived here yesterday, to a Times representative this morning. Dr. Hinkovic, accompanied by Dr. Ljubo Leontich, is touring the continent under the auspices of the Jugo Slavic Council in Washington, and delivering lectures on conditions in Central Europe which are the object of gaining Allied support for the smaller nations that go to make up the Austrian Empire. After visiting all the countries of western Europe Dr. Hinkovic is of the opinion that an Allied army operating through Serbia would receive the support of the Jugo Slavic nations, would be able to bring about the dismemberment of Austria, and would crush for all time the German-Mitteleuropa scheme. Austria, he pointed out, is the weak link in the German chain, and it is against her that the Allies should undertake their great offensive, with the certainty that they would receive not only the sympathy, but the active support of the smaller nations over which Austria had tyrannized for years past. This support has already been evinced in tangible form, and Austria needs no further revolution. All that is needed to bring about a nation-wide revolt in Austria is Allied intervention through Serbia, which country we regard as our leader in the assertion of our national aspirations," said Dr. Hinkovic.

Entirely Pro-Ally.
From the very start of the war Dr. Hinkovic pointed out, the Jugo Slavs, who are of the same race as the Serbians have favored the Allied cause, and at the present time the majority of the whole Austrian army for one reason or another is hoping for the fall of the Hapsburgs, and the number of soldiers. Jugo Slavs to the Russian in the first year of hostilities, and these men have since formed the divisions which are now advancing through Serbia. Large numbers of Croatsians desire to join the Italians, and many more are with the army at Salonika.

The reason that the Jugo Slavs have supported the Allies from the start is that they realize that Germany plans the utter annihilation of their national life. Their country blocks the way to the Adriatic, and is an essential factor of Pan-Germanism. In addition they have no racial interest in the people of Austria, and are naturally akin to the Serbians. Starvation and misery, provoked by the war, have added to this universal desire for liberation from the talons of the Central Empire. Jugo Slavic state is seething with a revolution which only awaits Allied intervention to break forth.

Complete German Domination.
"The situation in Austria and in the Balkans," said Dr. Hinkovic, "is entirely dominated by Germany, who has by her enticements far over into Asia, and is tapping the supply of all the peoples under her control. Germany will have food but Serbia and Austria will go hungry next winter. The mis- will be a very serious one." "I am not," he said with an eloquent shrug "will be appalling. Now the Jugo Slavs, the Serbians and the Czech-Slovaks want peace, so that they can realize their national ambitions. The Bulgarians, the Turks, and the Magyars want peace, so that they can eat. But I do not believe that the Bulgarians, hungry as they are, would consider a peace at present that did not leave them in possession of the territory they have taken in this war.

"The Jugo Slavs, on the other hand, have always favored the Allies, but with their men scattered throughout the Austrian army, officers by Germans, and with only old men and children at home, revolution is well-nigh impossible everywhere, and it takes the most diabolical means. We must not only for our self-preservation, but for the future peace of the world! If the Jugo Slavs and the Serbs are not liberated then Germany will have the way open to the East and an ocean declared to be but a temporary one."

How Allies Should Act.
Dr. H. Hinkovic has given much thought to the actual mode of procedure by which an allied army operating in the Balkan Peninsula could bring about the dismemberment of Austria. Already there is a great army operating with Salonika as a base, but it is not large enough for the campaign against Austria. The invading Allied forces would have first, said the doctor, to reconquer Serbia, and in this move it would receive the support of the Jugo Slavic nation which is bleeding under the tyranny of Potsdam. When the success of such an army became known the Jugo Slavic state would rise up and join the invaders. The fact that Austria could be brought to bay, and Germany would be cut off from the East which is her source of supplies. This course of action would not interfere with allied activity on the Western front, the doctor pointed out, but it would achieve success easier on account of the weakness of Austria. In the meantime until such intervention is undertaken, Germany can procure supplies indefinitely at the expense of the weaker nations.

"The re-establishment of the Russian front is necessary," said Dr. Hinkovic, "and Allied operations in Russia would receive the support of the Poles, the Czechs Slovaks, and the Russian people. The power of the Bolsheviks is wasting away, and the senti-

AMBITIOUS PROJECT FOR INNER HARBOR

Floating Drydock for Repairing Vessels to Be Located Near Laurel Point

COMPANY MAY LATER BUILD DEEP-SEA SHIPS
Filling operations are now under way on a foreshore site in the Inner Harbor preliminary to the establishment of a new shipbuilding and ship-repairing plant that may develop into an ambitious project.

A syndicate, the head of which is George Watson, of the firm of Watson & McGregor, proposes to utilize the site, located to the south of Pender's Soap Works, for the operation of a floating drydock for the repairing of small vessels. The new company, it is understood, has under consideration, at some future date, the developing of its facilities for the construction of vessels from a tugboat to an ocean-going vessel. When seen this morning, George Watson stated that the new company's activities would not be confined to the repairing of vessels, intimating that shipbuilding on a considerable scale might be embarked upon in the future.

Orders in Sight.
Whether the construction of large ocean vessels would be embarked upon in the near future, Mr. Watson was not yet in a position to say, but he admitted that there was plenty of room for the expansion of the shipbuilding industry and gave the impression that his company had ship orders in sight.

Floating Drydock.
The initial operations, however, will be confined to the construction of a wooden floating drydock, over one hundred feet long and approximately fifty feet beam, which will be utilized for the repairing of small coasting vessels and tugboats. It will be built in sections and additional sections may be added as required.

Ever since the Turpel Marine Railway was absorbed for shipbuilding development on the old Songhees Reserve, the idea of installing a floating dock for the establishment of a marine ways for the overhauling and repairing of small vessels. The Watson site, however, is not suitable for the building of a marine railway, hence the decision to construct a floating dock to be moored in the basin immediately adjacent. This plan will give more room for the installation of machinery shops and other gear incidental to a shipyard.

The construction of small boats will mark the initial operations, but big things are expected with the development of the new plant.

The new yard will be on the site formerly occupied by Watson Bros., who engaged extensively, in boat-building up to 1914. The contract for the drydock is expected to be let very shortly.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES STRENGTHEN HIS HAND

When the Hon. T. W. Crothers, Federal Minister of Labor, reached the city this morning he was under the impression that there would be work for him to do. He found, however, that labor conditions in Victoria will not require his presence for more than the one day. And because he always prefers to work when and where there is work to do, the Minister, in company with Mrs. Crothers, left on the afternoon boat for Vancouver to-morrow and investigate certain conditions which have arisen during the last few days, particularly of which did not reach Mr. Crothers until he arrived in the capital this morning.

UNIONS WOULD HELP SOLDIERS TO TAKE UP AN EMPLOYMENT

Have Drawn Up Plans With Wage Scale Based on Union Rate of Pay
Suggestive plans for the vocational training of returned soldiers have been drawn up and submitted to the men's organizations by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, and the Council has asked the men to send a deputation to a special meeting of the Council to be held Wednesday, August 14th.

Feeling that the subject cannot be properly treated without the assistance of the returned men, the union men have sent a copy of the suggested plan to the Comrades of the Great War for consideration before meeting the Council. To some extent the scheme is in accordance with the desires of the Invalid Soldiers' Commission Vocational Department in that it favors the training of men under actual working conditions. It also advocates a graduated scale of wages based on the union rate of pay for men serving an apprenticeship.

"In dealing with this subject," says the Council, "there are many things to be considered, and which are of vital importance to the returned men and the community at large. The first is the method of training, and general experience would lead to the belief that trade schools are practically useless, and to make men efficient at their training should be carried on under actual working conditions. This can only be done by a system of apprenticeship, and in addition to technical training where available. The next thing to be considered is the placing of the men in such trades as will most likely give them an opportunity of earning a livelihood, there being a danger that men may be placed in occupations that are already overcrowded, or most likely to become so."

"Another matter of vital importance is the period of training, men cannot be trained thoroughly in any one trade in the period now allowed by the Dominion Government, viz. one year. To overcome these difficulties, and to deal intelligently with the different situations that may from time to time arise, we recommend that a central technical training advisory committee be established, who shall have the power to appoint sub-committees in such districts as the committee deems advisable."

"The central and sub-committees to be composed as follows: An equal number of representatives of the returned soldiers. The committee to act in conjunction with the vocational training branch of the Industrial Commission. Their function to be as follows: To advise the vocational training officers on the following questions: (1) As to the selection of candidates for training, having regard especially to their suitability for the trades. (2) As to the suitability of the training offered in technical schools or similar institutions. (3) As to the suitability of the training offered in workshops, with special reference to the prospects of permanent employment, and to the rate of wages offered at the termination of the training. (4) As to any other technical points arising out of the regulation of the trade."

"To report to the vocational training officer on the following questions: (1) As to the selection of candidates for training, having regard especially to their suitability for the trades. SCHOOL GIRL TELLS OTHERS

How They Can Find Relief From Periodic Sufferings.
Nashua, N. H.—"I am nineteen years old and every month for two years I would often faint and have to leave school. I had such pain I did not know what to do with myself and tried so many remedies that were of no use. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and decided to try it, and that is how I found relief from pain and found better than I was to. When I hear of any girl suffering as I did I tell them how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me."—DELINA MARTIN, 29 Bowers St., Nashua, N. H. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no medicine or harmful drugs, and gives a perfectly safe remedy to give your daughter, who suffers from such painful periods as did Miss Martin.

The reason so many girls write Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, Lynn, Mass., for advice, is because of their 40 years experience they have a store of knowledge which is invariably helpful.

officers, if at any time in their opinion, that a sufficient number of men have been trained, in any given area, having regard to the number of men that any trade in the area in question would be reasonably expected to absorb. "To act as a prevention of men being inadequately trained the committee should have power to lay down the period training in the trades selected, and wherein the committee deems advisable, technical training should be adopted as well as workshop training. "The final selection of men for training in any given trade shall be left to the committee, in order to prevent men being trained that may be unsuitable for the trade, through any physical infirmity. "The first month of training should be a trial period, and if at the end of this period, the man is considered unsuitable the training shall cease. "In the case of workshop training, the employer shall agree at the end of the trial period, if the man proves suitable, to retain him in the workshop, until the end of the training period, and which shall be determined by the committee, unless if either party for some substantial reason desire to terminate the agreement, the case shall be referred to the committee, who shall after hearing the evidence have power to terminate the agreement. "Payment of Wages. "Men undergoing training, irrespective of the vocational allowance, provided by the government, shall be paid on the following basis. "The period of training to be divided into four parts. "The rate of pay for the first period to be 25 per cent of the union rate of wages in the trade. "For the second period, the rate of wages to be 40 per cent of the union rate of wages in the trade. "For the third period, the rate of pay to be 60 per cent of the union rate of wages. "For the fourth and final price of training, the rates of pay to be 75 per cent of the union rate of wages in the trade. "In the event of the period of training lasting over one year the period of training to the government now makes vocational allowance, if the rate of wages being paid to the men in training is less than the amount that is allowed by the government, the government to pay such difference. "In the case of any man by special ability receiving more than the amount specified from the employer, this shall not effect the amount he will receive from the government, but shall be looked upon as a bonus for special ability. "In the selection of men for special training, preferential consideration shall be given to men that were formerly employed in the trade, and to new men to be introduced into the trade, where in the opinion of the committee, disabled men formerly employed in the trade are available. "Comrades Robbins and Abrahamson, selected by the comrades to attend the meeting and hear the views of the labor men on the matter."

Washington, Aug. 5.—The United States War Labor Board, through joint chairman W. H. Tait and Frank P. Walsh, yesterday announced its decision in the dispute between the Bethlehem Steel Company and its employees, granting a 25 per cent wage concession to 25,000 workers. WITH FIRM RESOLVE TILL VICTORY WON

Lieut.-Gen. Currie's Message to Canadian Troops on War Anniversary
London, Aug. 5.—Lieut.-General Sir Arthur Currie issued the following message to the Canadian troops on the fourth anniversary of the war: "On this fourth anniversary of the declaration of war two things stand foremost in the minds of all Canadian soldiers overseas. We remember with solemn pride our gallant dead. We recall with satisfaction the record of our achievements in the long struggle and count over the battle names now forever linked with Canadian history. Ypres, the Somme, Vimy Ridge and Passchendaele are the saddest yet the proudest memories of our lives—and they extracted a toll of lives that was precious beyond words to our Canadian homes, and proud because they registered the triumphant height of heroism to which Canadian manhood can rise. "And then we turn our minds to the future, and with confidence born of past success, with unshakable belief in the justice of our cause, and with unflinching faith in God, who alone gives victory, we pledge ourselves afresh to the work in hand—the fight for freedom, for righteousness and for humanity. "Therefore, with high purpose and securing determination, let us carry on until the last light is over and the final victory won."

Surgeon Probationer A. E. Beckwith Succumbs to Disease in England

The sympathy of a large number of friends will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Beckwith in the death of their second son, Surgeon-Probationer A. E. Beckwith, at the Royal Naval Hospital, Haslar, near Gosport, England, on Thursday. As reported in The Times a few days ago, the young officer was employed as medical officer on the Oriole, and it is believed he contracted pneumonia which was the cause of his death, while doing duty in this capacity. The message now received gives the cause of death as pneumonia, accompanied with a cardiac attack. Surgeon Beckwith, who was popularly known as "Fred," went overseas eighteen months ago with the second draft of the McGill University stage from Montreal, but after a few months in England transferred to the Royal Navy.

Born here nearly twenty-four years ago, he was educated in Victoria, at the public school and High School, and was very prominent in school activities. For some time he was business manager of Camosun, the High School paper, and in sports and social events of school life he took a prominent part. In addition to his parents, a brother and sister reside in the city.

KING TALKED WITH CANADIAN VISITORS

Group of Newspaper Proprietors Received by King, Queen and Princess Mary, Queen and Princess Mary.

London, Aug. 5.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—The visiting party of Canadian newspaper proprietors went to Buckingham Palace on Saturday afternoon, where they were received by the King and Queen and Princess Mary. They were accompanied by Colonel Galloway and Major Whitmore, of the Department of Information. The King discussed Canadian affairs with each member of the party and recalled incidents of his visits to Canada in 1917 and 1918. The visitors were much impressed with the King's knowledge of the Canadian provinces. The King spoke in French to the visitors from Quebec and expressed his great pleasure at the efforts of the British Empire issued by Mr. Lloyd George and promulgated in a dramatic way throughout the United Kingdom at the hour of 9 o'clock to-night. The message was read to the audience in all theatres, concert halls and other places where people were assembled, including the moving picture houses. Sealed copies of the message had been distributed to the managers of all these places with the request that they open and read it at 9 o'clock.

The message says in part: "The great atrocity of Prussia will still endeavor by violence or guile to avoid defeat and so give militarism a new lease of life. We can not seek to escape the horrors of war for ourselves by laying them up for our children. Having set our hands to the task, we must see it through till a just and honorable peace is achieved. There is no other way can we ensure a world set free from war."

(Signed) "LOYD GEORGE."

W. A. Buchanan, M. P., of the Lethbridge Herald, in a interview afterwards, said: "Any impression which we may have had that democracy and simplicity did not prevail in the household of the present monarch of Great Britain was removed when we were given an opportunity of meeting the King, the Queen and the Princess Mary at Buckingham Palace. The members of our party felt at home from the very moment they stepped into the presence of the Royal party. There was no stiffness whatever about the reception.

Their Majesties impressed us all with their wide information about affairs and their exceptional knowledge of Canada. The King expressed the much concern about the reported failure of the crops in certain portions of the prairie provinces where the grain has been affected badly, but he was pleased to say that the loss in Canada was offset by report of an unusually good crop in the United States. The King was very much concerned for the settlers who had suffered from adverse conditions and hoped they would have a series of good years again. The King also expressed his very high appreciation of the American soldiers and said he considered them of a very high type and remarked that the way they were undertaking the job of fighting the enemy.

Queen Mary talked with the Alberta representatives about the women's franchise in the western provinces and the presence of women in the Legislature. She was greatly pleased to know that the women representatives in the Legislature were proving to be competent legislators.

A Privilege. M. R. Jennings, of The Edmonton Journal, said: "It was indeed a privilege for the Canadian newspaper reporters to be present at the meeting of the representatives to have met the King and Queen and the Princess Mary. The informal character of the occasion and their familiarity with Canadian conditions was extremely pleasing to the members of the party. The group gathered according to provinces. Press delegates from east to west were afforded in turn an opportunity for informal discussion of their own sections of Canada. The crop situation in the west was not, however, the only subject for discussion, although its importance was largely recognized in the present crisis. In addition to praising the services of the Canadian army, the King paid high tribute to the young Canadians who had joined the Royal Navy. Although born far inland, these young Canadians seemed to have preserved the traditions of the sea, and were rapidly becoming expert as gunners and seamen, he said.

Canada's Determination. The King remarked that assurances were clear as to Canada's determination to continue in the struggle until a satisfactory settlement was gained, and paid special tribute to the courage and sacrifices of the French army. His pleasure was made clear at the knowledge that Americans were in the war with such definite purpose and such gallant spirit. It is perhaps betraying no military secret to repeat one statement made by the King, who said that in reply to a query on Friday to an American general as to how many fighting men from the United States could be depended upon without seriously affecting the essential operations at home and without jeopardizing the spirit of the people, he was told that at least an additional 15,000 men were eager and willing to take their part and would be forthcoming if necessary.

HOLD FAST, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

Gives Message for British Empire on the War Anniversary

London, Aug. 5.—"Hold fast" is the keynote of the message to the British Empire issued by Mr. Lloyd George and promulgated in a dramatic way throughout the United Kingdom at the hour of 9 o'clock to-night. The message was read to the audience in all theatres, concert halls and other places where people were assembled, including the moving picture houses. ### FISHING SCHOONERS AND A TANKER SUNK

Operations of U Boats in Bay of Fundy and Off Virginia Reported

A Canadian Atlantic Port, Aug. 5.—The members of the crew of the fishing schooner Nelson A., of Yarmouth, N. S., have landed at a Canadian Atlantic port, reporting that their vessel was wrecked by a submarine off the coast on Saturday last.

The Nelson A. is the fourth fishing schooner reported sunk Saturday in the Bay of Fundy. A dispatch last night brought news of the sinking of the Muriel, the Rob Roy and the Annie M. Perry, bound from Boston, whose crews, set adrift in dories, managed to reach the Nova Scotia coast. The boat lay in sight of Seal Island until Sunday morning, when it submerged. The sinking of the fishing schooners followed the burning of the lumber schooner Dorchester on Friday afternoon by the same submarine, which seems to direct its attention to the destruction of small vessels.

Off Virginia. Washington, Aug. 5.—The sinking of the American tank steamer G. R. Jennings yesterday, 60 miles off the Virginia coast, announced to-day, revealed the presence of at least two German submarines on this side of the Atlantic. The second raid has been reported for the coast of Nova Scotia and in nearby waters for several days.

One Escaped, One Attacked. A Canadian Atlantic Port, Aug. 5.—The auxiliary fishing vessel McLaughlin, owned by Green Bros., of Lunenburg, arrived here last evening and reported that she had been chased by an enemy submarine, but that she had managed to escape. The appearance of a large steamship which diverted the attention of the U boat. The captain of the McLaughlin reports that she was chased by the submarine, but that he could not see what the final outcome was.

Hulk Towed In. New York, Aug. 5.—An Associated Press dispatch from Eastport, Me., to-day says: "The bulk of the British schooner Dorchester, burned by the crew of a German submarine Friday in the Bay of Fundy, was towed into sheltered waters at Great Manan to-day with the cargo of lumber still afloat. The vessel, which was on her maiden voyage, was burned to the water's edge. After being stopped by a shot across the bow, the Dorchester was boarded by a prize crew from the U boat. A six months' stock of provisions, along with the personal effects of the crew, was taken off. Captain Charles E. Dagwell and his crew, who put out in a yawl, reached here Saturday.

NO MORE STRIKES, SAY RETURNED MEN

Vancouver ex-Soldiers Declare Against Movements; Statement by Labor Leader

Vancouver, Aug. 5.—Gatherings of returned soldiers here, have declared for a policy of "no more strikes in essential industries during the war." They affirm that in future industrial plants so affected will be manned by returned soldiers, many of whom are skilled mechanics.

Statement By Winch. Vancouver, Aug. 5.—President E. Winch, of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, made a statement this morning in which he said: "With regard to the twenty-four holiday I may say that even if it is admitted that our move was a bad one—which I do not admit—the move of the returned soldiers, in my opinion, was worse. We do not blame the soldiers. We know what was behind it. They were tools for somebody else. It can be proved that the seven of us whom the soldiers name have broken the law in any way, shape or form, it is up to the authorities to take action. It is not for extrajuristics to do—and there are extremists on both sides, of course. Let the proper authorities decide and I will take my medicine whatever it may be. But I intend to remain right here."

PARIS AGAIN IS SHELLED BY ENEMY

Long-Range Bombardment of French Capital Was Resumed To-day

Paris, Aug. 5.—The long-range bombardment of the Paris region was resumed this morning.

In more than one instance during the last few months the opening of a renewed period of long-range shelling of Paris has been the signal for a German offensive movement. The original bombardment was begun on March 23, just as the first German offensive on the Picardy front was getting into swing. Likewise the start of the recent offensive on the Marne front was accompanied by a resumption of the shelling of Paris by the German giant cannon, the firing beginning on July 15.

Change in Tactics. Paris, Aug. 5.—The question is being asked whether the German withdrawal north does not indicate a change in German tactics in order to obtain effectives for a new offensive elsewhere. It also is asked if the movement of retirement will not end with an effective withdrawal similar to that on the Somme in March, 1917.

According to these figures, 2,398,000 men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five inclusive would be subject to military service. Of this number, 601,900 would be men between thirty-two and forty-five. #### ITALIAN PREMIER CONGRATULATES FOCH'S ARMIES IN FRANCE

Paris, Aug. 5.—Premier Clemenceau has received the following telegram from the Italian Premier, Professor Vittorio Orlando: "Italy acclaims with joy the glorious victory which illuminates France with glory and fills our hearts with faith. The gratitude of all free men goes out to the army of liberation. 'The capture of Soissons is the crowning success of a series of admirable battles, but it also is a promise of decisive events from which we expect the triumph of our rights and for the world the restoring of peace. 'It is not a time for easy optimism, but while having consciousness of the hardships yet awaiting us, we have the right to look forward with earnest faith that the future is ours.'"

NEW YORK MARKET CAME OUT OF RUT

Belated Response to Recent Good War News Started Stocks Up

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.) New York, Aug. 5.—The stock market here started off this morning as it finished last week, in a most listless manner. It became apparent during the afternoon that there was good buying going on quietly. The market suddenly came to life and gains of from one to two points were made in the short time remaining. The steel stocks, especially United States Steel, were heavily bought. There was no news to account for the sudden betterment of prices other than the good war news which has been coming in late.

ALLIES FIGHT FOR FREEDOM OF WORLD

Have Battled for Self-Defence and Maintenance of Principles, Says Attorney-General

STIRRING ADDRESS FROM
HON. J. W. DE B. FARRIS

Supreme confidence in the justice of the cause for which the Allies have fought, and suffered during four awful years, and a hope of final victory in the fifth year were expressed by Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, Attorney-General, in a stirring address delivered at the First Presbyterian Church last night on the subject, "What are we fighting for?" Not for blood lust, not for the gratification of national greed, not wholly for self-defence has the Empire consecrated its blood and its life," said the speaker in his fifth phase. "I will continue maintenance of certain principles which the Allies and all civilized nations stand. It is fitting upon the anniversary of that August day that we should consider for a time those war aims laid down by the great statesmen of to-day, and with the knowledge that we are battling only for right that we should more set ourselves to the task of crushing militarism and establishing a reign of world-wide democracy.

War's Fundamental Causes.
"As the great struggle all over the world for international democracy and individual freedom enters upon its fifth year it was well that the Allied peoples should turn away for a short time from the bloody details of that strife, and consider the exact purposes for which our boys are fighting overseas, and to which the civilized nations of the world have consecrated themselves.
"War," said Mr. Farris, "has prevailed throughout all history, and the annals of all nations are more devoted to war than to any other subject." The causes of international strife were many, he continued. National hatred had brought about numerous bitter struggles; national greed, the desire for lost and territory had accounted for incalculable destruction; the necessity of self-defence had caused states to take up the sword at different times, and lastly peoples have given all they possess, their riches, their men and their happiness for the maintenance of some great principle in defence of which they stand, and without which they would cease to be a nation or a people.

Britain did not enter the war because of national enmity, thought the speaker, "though," he continued, "our mistake was liking Germany too well and not hating her enough. We did not find out soon enough the characteristics, the aims and the methods of the German war. Nor had the Allies turned away from their private and individual problems

The Gillette Razor's Four Years of War Service

THE Gillette Safety Razor has passed through four years of war service with a clean bill of health.

It went into the front line with the first troops, and it is still on active service, never having missed a day.

It is the proud record of the Gillette Razor that it has more users than have all other razors put together in every regiment under the Allied flags.

Under the severest conditions it is possible to impose, the Gillette Razor has supplied all the comfort and luxury a soldier derives from a clean shave. It has been his companion in many a shell-hole, dug-out and water-soaked trench.

It has gone with him to billet and reserve camp; it has shaved him in hospital and has accompanied him to "Blighty". Whether its owner has been on leave, invalided home, or finally pensioned off, the Gillette has never failed to offer the daily luxury of a perfect shave.

For more than four years it has been in action—day after day; month after month,—and it has never appeared on a casualty list, or been "invalided home".

An occasional oversight on the part of friends at home, or the uncertainty of the mails, has sometimes deprived a soldier of the new Gillette blades he prizes so highly. But the Gillette itself, so often mentioned in "despatches" home, has come through with flying colors,—a powerful factor in the maintenance of morale.

to face the Teuton hordes for purposes of national greed. On the other hand Germany had conspired for forty years to work her will, to create devastation, to secure the territory and the booty on which she has now fastened her talons.

Fighting For Empire's Life.
"When the central Empires threw law and order to the winds and the British Empire was faced with destruction," said the Attorney-General, "and any nation which will not fight for its own defence has become decayed, and any nation that will not battle for the protection of its friends and its children has ceased to be a man. And so if there had been no treaty guaranteeing Belgium's neutrality, if Germany had never invaded Belgium still, I say, would the Empire, for its very life, have been forced into the struggle."

On the other hand the Empire and the Allies had consecrated themselves to the mighty task of utterly defeating Germany with a far greater, a far nobler purpose, than even that of self-protection. They had assembled their armies and their resources for the vindication and maintenance of certain eternal sacred principles. "There are indications even to-day," the speaker continued, "that we are winning the greatest victory in the history of the world. But whether it come to-day or a year from to-day, we are confident that final success is assured."

Before considering in detail the war aims of the Allies, Mr. Farris referred to the magnificent response of the Outposts of Empire to the Mother Country in need. "And with the proud consciousness of victory," he said, "comes the glorious realization that our boys have shown themselves the equals of any fighting men the world has produced. This realization brings the highest response of which the human mind is capable. However great the present victory might be, there are long months of fighting before us, but as time goes on our victories will become more pronounced. If we were only fighting for self-defence the war would have been over long ago, because Germany is a bully, and bullies always quit when they realize that they are being beaten."

Coming Peace Offensive.

Here the speaker warned his auditors against the peace offensive that Germany will undoubtedly launch when her defeat seems inevitable, and he urged them to stand behind the great allied statesmen who have defined the terms only under which peace can be considered. For without the support of the people no such policy of international import would be successful. "When we look about us," said Mr. Farris, "and see the havoc Germany has wrought upon the world that excels the work of the devil himself, when we consider the hideous sins of that blood-mad empire, the irreparable crimes she has committed, the solemn treaties she has disregarded, we must ask ourselves at this time the question "what are we fighting for?"

Terms of Peace.
In answer to this question the Attorney-General reiterated the terms of peace as laid down by Lloyd George and President Wilson. "Germany must be beaten," declared the speaker until she is prepared to acknowledge her wrong and come into the family of nations for at present no country can sit at the council table with her, stained as she is with the blood of countless thousands and blackened with the most hideous crimes in history."

The Attorney-General quoted the British Premier's conditions of peace and he pointed out that we should establish these principles of liberty and freedom for which the civilized nations of the earth are bleeding to-day. "As we enter to-night," concluded the speaker, "into the fifth year of Armageddon while paying solemn and holy tribute to the men who by the sacrifice of their lives have made victory possible, we should consecrate ourselves anew to our cause, the great cause for which any man has lived or fought or died."

Rev. J. G. Inkster presided, and the service was directed to the special objects of the day.

COMPANY READY TO ESTABLISH MARKET

Cheap Fish Promised Victoria by Defiance Packing Company

W. J. L. Hamilton, representing A. H. Sherman, of the Defiance Packing Company, is in Victoria from Vancouver in connection with the proposal of establishing a fish market in Victoria on the same basis as that which has been operating in Vancouver for some time past. Exactly the same methods will be followed in Victoria as were worked out in Vancouver in connection with getting such a market started. Mr.

Hamilton states that the company has a five year agreement with the City of Vancouver for the sale of fish at the following prices: Pilchards 6c. per pound or 5 lbs. for 25c. These were not previously in the market, and are practically a new food commodity. As Mr. Hamilton says: "They are a sort of glorified herring—much richer and more palatable than the ordinary herring. Red Cod sells at 5c. per lb. Kipper cod, 3 lbs. for 25c.; smoked black cod, 17 1/2c. per lb.; kippered salmon, 20c. per lb.; hatters, 8c. per lb.; fancy Scotch cured herring, three fish for 5c. Fresh salmon sells at 8c. per lb. and halibut averages 15c."

A Big Reduction.
The fact that these prices are over fifty per cent. lower than it is stated that fish can be bought for in Victoria at the present time constitutes a strong argument in favor of establishing the market here, according to Mr. Hamilton. That such is the case is evidenced by the fact that through the petition asking for public support for such a scheme has been on the streets only a few days over ten thousand signatures have been obtained, he observes.

The idea of the scheme, says Mr. Hamilton, is not to force the market on the people of Victoria, or any other community, but the express purpose for which he has come to Victoria is to find out whether or not, the people want it. The Company hoping to offer the same proposition to every city in the Dominion of Canada of sufficient size to support it.

For Returned Soldiers.
Another scheme which the company has decided to enter upon is one which will provide occupation for a number of the returned soldiers who may wish to engage in the fishing industry on co-operative lines. The returned men will be given a vested interest in the concern in addition to being paid a wage based on that paid to fishermen at the present time.

Returned men will be given the opportunity of working at the canneries at West Vancouver and Port Renfrew and another point on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, and in addition to this it is hoped to be able to establish a new cannery in which the returned men will be especially interested. This proposal has been submitted to representatives of the returned men who have expressed their approval of carrying on in the manner suggested. Mr. Hamilton states that indications are that the scheme will be generally supported by the returned men, as well as the public.
