LEAVE TEACHING FOR OTHER WORK

Many in Saskatchewan Are Finding Other Fields More Attractive

Regina, Aug. 16.—Calling attention to the serious nature of the exodus from the teaching profession now taking place in this Province, W. J. McNeely, of the Teachers' Exchange of Saskatchewan Department of Education, shows that there are several other considerations besides those of salary which are operating to the detriment of the profession, and consequently of the interests of the children's education.

"Even at salaries of $1,400 and $1,500 per year, with free house and fuel," said Mr. McNeely, "we find that teachers are leaving the profession for more remunerative work where living conditions are more favorable than are found in many rural districts. Lack of good boarding accommodation, lack of interest on the part of trustees and ratepayers and the short term of engagement also are playing their part in forcing good teachers to take up other work. A teacher cannot do efficient work in any district unless she has the co-operation of the trustees and the ratepayers and can safeguard her health and keep her energy by having good living quarters. She must also have good equipment and a comfortable place in which to do her work."

Mr. McNeely's report for 1919 shows that during the year 729 teachers were placed, an increase of 27.9 per cent. over the placements for 1918. The records up to the end of June this year show that 524 teachers were placed.

He now has 300 of them in his factory and has found that these crippled soldiers, properly trained, not only cost the least to employ, but are a man with two hands, but are given a new interest in life working untiringly with men of their own kind.

BOY, REPRIMANDED, HANGED HIMSELF

Chicago, Aug. 15.—William Douglas, thirteen years old, yesterday was found strangled to death by a rope fastened to a nail high up on a wall in the basement of his home at 3538 South Robey Street. It is the belief of his father, W. A. Douglass, assistant telegraph superintendent for the Rock Island Railroad, that the boy placed the rope around his neck in an effort to frighten his mother, who had just scolded him, and then was unable to loosen the slip knot.

William had just been graduated from grammar school, and was to have taken up a course in electrical engineering. His mother had been compelled to rebuke him for breaking a clothes wringer which she had forbidden him to try to fix. When she threatened to tell his father, the boy's eyes filled up with tears and he went to the basement.

ALMOST TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE SHE STATES

Victoria Woman Was Almost Without Hope of Regaining Health When She Got Tanlac and is Overjoyed at Her Restoration

"This time last month I was on the verge of nervous prostration, but today I am feeling so well it seems almost too good to be true," said Mrs. F. Shaper, of 2438 Quadra Street, Victoria, B.C., while telling of the remarkable benefits she has derived from Tanlac.

A CHIMERA.

The Board of Commerce, which has been indulging in a trip across the continent, reflects merely an expenditure of public money, the Dominion Government's genius for dodging the chief problems of the day and its soulful tenderness for the profiteer. In this respect it is the final descendant of the numberless other boards, commissions, committees and conclaves which have been set up in succession during the last six years for the purpose of diverting public irritation from Governments that lacked the backbone to grapple with these matters in a decisive, straightforward manner.

The first of these commissions flitted across Canada in 1913, stole into the various cities and out again, in many instances unknown to the public and without conducting an inquiry. This ghostly visitation, of course, had no effect upon the cost of living or upon anything else except the public chest, and never was intended to have. Nor have the more pretentious organizations which followed done much, if any, better. That is not to say they have not been composed in many instances of capable, conscientious men, but rather that they have been so handicapped by restrictions that they have been unable to do little more than ask questions and submit reports.

The present Board of Commerce is little better than a mirage. It does not know what its own powers are except that it can travel from point to point and ask questions. Whether it can control prices or not is being decided by the law lords of the Privy Council, and it is difficult to resist the suspicion that the Government, which could have put that question beyond all doubt at the last session of Parliament, is hopeful that the court of last resort will decide that it cannot do so. The original Commissioners Judge Robson, W. F. O'Connor and James Murdoch retired some time ago, the resignation of the latter being accompanied by charges of Ministerial interference with the functions of the Board which never have been met by any member of the Government.

The present Commissioners were appointed merely for the purpose of keeping the Board in existence until the Privy Council has decided what it can or cannot do, and they are filling in the time conducting meaningless and futile investigations from coast to coast. These burlesques are about played out. If the Government thinks extortionate trusts and combines are healthy things for a young country like Canada it ought to be frank enough to say so and stake its political life on its belief. If it thinks they are injurious to the country it ought to have spine enough to dissolve them.

"OPRESSED" IRELAND.

It has been generally accepted that Ireland was misgoverned for centuries; but it is not so readily conceded that successive British Governments during the last few decades have endeavored to atone for the blunders of other years.

Most people, for instance, think they are overtaxed, and a stock argument of the Sinn Feiner takes advantage of this very popular belief. In a little pamphlet published some time ago, however, a few facts about Ireland include a statement to the effect that Scotland contributes more than Erin to the British Exchequer and receives back considerably less for her own internal uses, although the population of both countries is about the same.

Nor does the suggestion that the Irish peasant is obliged to pay a high price for his land stand a very close analysis. The pamphlet, to which reference already has been made, explains that the British Government has advanced $700,000,000 at three and a quarter per cent. interest in order that the farmer might purchase his holdings; another $25,000,000 has been loaned at a little over two per cent. to build over fifty thousand laborers' cottages with half an acre of ground to each. Each dwelling contains four rooms and the weekly rental ranges from thirty to thirty-six cents, the rental discharging the whole liability in fifty years.

No such privileges as these obtain in either England, Scotland or Wales. Yet this is part of the Sinn Fein case for an Irish republic.

CHECK THE LISTS.

As soon as the new Provincial Voters' Lists have been printed and distributed every registered elector should make it his or her business to see that the proper name and essential details have been duly recorded. In all cases of error it is the privilege of every voter to apply to the Court of Revision—the first sittings of which are scheduled to take place on September 13—in order that the necessary corrections may be made. The actual process of registration, therefore, should not be regarded as a guarantee of qualification to mark a ballot on polling day. Wrong christian names or improperly spelled surnames more often than not lead to disappointment.

MR. HART'S APPOINTMENT.

The selection of Mr. H. W. Hart for the position of Secretary of the Provincial Bureau of Information will be popular throughout the Province for many reasons. Apart from the fact that his qualifications and former association with this department of the public service admirably equip him for the duties to which he has been assigned, he has shown a practical interest in the welfare of new citizens—returned men and others—concerning whose prospects and conditions he has written instructively and entertainingly in various publications. The Times congratulates Mr. Hart upon his appointment in the certainty that it will be justified by a wholly successful record of service.

NEAR BEER.

Not every defendant in a liquor case has the advantage of an argument in which the sympathy of the police magistrate very largely is attracted to his side. There is, however, something to be said in support of a victim of the British Columbia Prohibition Act who is able to prove that he purchased near-beer for licensed re-sale on the distinct understanding that he was getting a liquid possessing alcoholic content in conformity with the provisions of the law. To penalize the retailer because it is proved that the beverage sold by him contained half of one per cent. above the legal strength lays bare a serious flaw in the Act. Once the liquid has been bottled as near-beer—and, as such, salable openly as long as the bottle contains the brewery label—the onus for its conformity with the law should not justly be upon the retailer.

NO IDLE THREAT.

British Labor's "council of action" is losing no time in organizing the workers of Great Britain for the part which they are to play in preventing any kind of military aid reaching Poland from the tight little isle. Mr. William Adamson, a Labor member of the House of Commons and an outspoken opponent of "red" methods, and Mr. Harry Gosling, another cool headed official of British Labor, have been chosen to go to Paris with the object of obtaining a common understanding between the organized workers of both countries to prevent war with Russia.

The best indication of Labor's determination in the temporary role of a League of Peace lies in the choice of men of the type of Adamson and Gosling. Through the dark days of Britain's post war industrial unrest these were the men who held the extremists in check. Their attitude towards Poland, however, is just as clearly defined; but it differs completely from the interventionist one and acts as no mean barometer to guide the Prime Minister in his dealings with the Russo-Polish situation and the de facto Government of General Wrangel.

A MARVELLOUS RECORD.

Out of 38,954 flights in which seventy thousand passengers were carried during the first year of civil flying in England, there was but one fatal accident. In making this announcement at the International Air Show in London the other day Major-General Sykes, Controller-General of Civil Aviation, declared that Britain had conquered the air to the point that her immediate task should be to exploit the victory in the interest of commercial development.

Nearly 750,000 miles were flown in the year and more than a million dollars' worth of imports and exports were carried by air between the United Kingdom and the Continent. All this confirms the opinion that the older transportation systems will not have to wait much longer before the development of aerial navigation will deliver the airship and the aeroplane into the competitive field. Britain's first year is a striking commentary upon the tremendous strides made in commercial aviation since the initial use of aircraft demonstrated its practicability as a fighting weapon.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Russo-Polish armistice negotiations have disclosed the fact that the good old game of hide-and-seek is still in fashion.

Gabrielle d'Annunzio, the Italian poet and annexationist, is ready to declare the independence of the city of Fiume. He may as well go ahead and complete the farce.

Hope is expressed in Dublin that the next message of the Government will be one of peace and a general agreement for a full measure of independent government. The hope is not confined to Dublin.

Farley P. Christensen, the Farmer-Labor candidate for President of the United States, has cabled his congratulations to the British Labor party in its stand against intervention in the Russo-Polish question. Mr. Christensen feels much more satisfied that his country will not fight than do some British Laborites about Britain's real intention.

OTHER PAPERS' VIEWS

THE "ENGLISH-SPEAKING RACE." (From the Listener in The Boston Transcript.)

At the Lincoln statue unveiling in London, Viscount Bryce spoke of the "English-speaking race." On the same day, speaking at the Imperial Press Union conference at Halifax, N. S. Robert Donald, as chairman of the Union, spoke of "the two branches of the English-speaking race." Very few Americans could find fault with such a reference to our "branch," since they are intended in a wholly friendly way. But the question may be raised whether there is such a thing as an English-speaking "race." The Scotch and the Irish both speak English, but they both firmly decline to belong to the English race. Scotch and Irish are nearer to being of the same race than either one of them is to being of the English race. Nor is similarity of language at all a proof of identity of race. At Gibraltar, in Malta, in South Africa, in Canada, there are a great many habitual English-speakers who are not English. And how many many Americans now know no other language but English who have not a drop of English blood in their veins! English is spoken in the jungles of Guinea by black bush-savages. The Spaniards of Florida have long ago forgotten their mother tongue, and they are some who think that eventually the Porto Ricans, who are extremely bright and quick in learning and using English, will forget theirs. Creole French is almost extinct in Louisiana—not quite. The Listener can remember when a few old people in the Mohawk Valley still spoke their inherited German, but it has been forgotten by their offspring. A corrupt form of German survives in certain parts of Pennsylvania, but it is disappearing. The Scandinavian counties and townships of Wisconsin and Minnesota now preferably speak English; but could one include them as members of an "English-speaking race?"

THE BOARD OF COMMERCE.

It will take considerable explaining on the part of members of the government to convince the people that the board was not simply appointed as a piece of camouflage to serve as an excuse for the government's failure to tackle the task of making the price-fixers disgorge. If the government was sincere in the appointment of the board and really desired to regulate prices, the members of the board should have been dismissed long ago for as a price regulator the board of commerce has long been a dismal failure. If the board exercised any control over prices, the people who had to buy goods from the retailers failed to notice it as about the only thing noticeable in prices since the board started to operate was the tendency to go up.

LEADER KING SAYS ELECTION NEEDED

this great question. As a true Liberal, however, he took the constitutional position that here was a great issue on which the people had not passed at the time his Government was returned.

Finances. He quoted from Premier Meighen's speech at Stirling: "The financial policy of this Government is to go into debt no further. We shall find nothing to encourage us in any belief in economy on the part of the Ministers who have had to do with war expenditures and have acquired the war habit of mind within recent years."

Other Speakers. Besides Mr. King's address, speeches were delivered by the chairman, Sir Allen B. Aylesworth; H. Hartley Dewar, M.P., Ontario Liberal Leader; Hon. Henri S. Beland, M.P., and former Postmaster-General in the Laurier Cabinet, and Mr. King.

G.W.V.A. CONCERT

A delightful concert was held on Saturday at the G. W. V. A. club-rooms at 712 Fort Street. The G. W. V. A. orchestra was in attendance under the able leadership of Comrade B. Sheret. Amongst the chief items on the programme were songs by Mark Sampson, the well-known Cornish tenor.

Great laughter was created by popular Jack Melville, the lively Scottish comedian from Vancouver. Comrade Laurie Brunell was encored several times, his deep bass tones creating quite an effect.

Comrade Potter, the one-armed baritone, proved himself a great favorite also by his repeated recalls. Tom Obee, comedian; Bert Brennan, soloist; Comrade Harper, whistler, and Comrade Rumsby, late bandmaster, 5th Regiment, displayed unusual skill with his violin by his excellent interpretations of Beethoven's "Minuet" and "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn." The success of the concert was due to the indefatigable efforts of Comrade Haggerty, who also acted as chairman.

TO TAG OFFENDING AUTOMOBILES HERE

Civic Authorities Planning to Enforce New Traffic Bylaw Police Instructed

Preparations for the enforcement of the new Traffic Bylaw are being made by the civic authorities at present and the Police Department is getting ready to educate the public concerning the changed regulations.

The most notable feature of the system of law enforcement which is to be inaugurated is the use of warning tags to train motorists in the way they should handle their cars. The Police Department intends to have a large number of cards printed, warning motorists that they have transgressed the Traffic Bylaw and, that on committing a second offence, will be fined. These cards will be hung on all cars found improperly parked in the newly-created business district.

The police will keep an eagle eye upon all standing motors for the purpose of detecting any violation of the law and, when they find a car which is standing on a street in contravention of the regulations, they will hang a warning tag upon it. The tag will state exactly what offence has been committed. In this way the public will gradually learn to understand the new ordinance and as soon as fair warning has been given prosecutions will be instituted. So changed are the traffic regulations that motorists are urged to secure copies of the bylaw and acquaint themselves with its provisions. The regulations will come into effect in the near future, as the Bylaw will be finally ratified by the City Council at its next meeting.

AN INSPECTION OF WESTERN OFFICES

Major Ashton, Member of Soldier Settlement Board, in City

"The great majority of the soldier settlers in British Columbia are making good," states Major E. J. Ashton, of Ottawa, one of the three members of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, "and several are going to do exceedingly well. Of course, one must allow for a few failures and the great thing in this province is to find the right sort of land for the right man, that is the man that has had experience in adapting himself to local conditions. The selection is the great thing, and it is not the policy of the board to encourage the practice of putting an inexperienced settler on high-priced land. The S.S.B. feels that it cannot pay for land what some retired farmers on the prairie is prepared to pay, and is paying, simply to make his home in British Columbia."

Major Ashton arrived in Victoria Saturday, in the course of a western inspection trip. He has just made a tour of the Fraser Valley.

Major Ashton stated that some changes may shortly be expected among the personnel of the staffs, consistent with the closing up of a number of offices throughout eastern and western provinces, and the amalgamation of small centres with larger ones. Major Ashton was not yet prepared to say what will be done in British Columbia.

It is a noticeable point in the administration of the Soldier Settlement Board, Major Ashton observed, that while it had approved loans amounting to well over $70,000,000 and had actually dispersed over $60,000,000 cash, which was handled by 90 per cent. returned soldiers, there had been practically no defaultations.

ONLY A GLANCE.

Over steaming tea-cups the two damsels sat and talked. The conversation turned upon an unfortunate individual who had incurred the disfavor of one of them.

"No, I never did like him," she said.

"Why, when he used to write me glowing love-letters I would only glance over them once."

"Only once, dear?"

"Well—or—sometimes when I couldn't make out his abominable scrawl I would glance over them the second time."

"Indeed?" said the other maiden, "and was that all?"

"Except sometimes at night; I would take them from under my pillow and read them just to kill time."

"And that was the end?"

"Yes," was the reply; "only on rainy days I used to look over them again just to see how silly a man can be when he starts writing love-letters. But I only glanced over them, dear, I never did like him."—Tit-Bits.

BAKING BREAD ON 105TH BIRTHDAY

A jolly party of some note was held at the home of Mrs. Rebecca Blackwood, in Hazelmere, on August 5. The hostess, who was celebrating her one hundred and fifth birthday was surprised in the act of taking a loaf of delicious bread from the oven. Mrs. Blackwood is in splendid health, a very able worker and an extensive traveller. Two years ago she took a motor trip to California, and last year, she spent some time in St. Paul and Minneapolis. She is hoping this year to make a flying trip to her old home in Scotland.

Happy Youngsters in Camp Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bushby Yesterday

The "dog days" have no terrors for the thirty-two boys of the Boys' Naval Brigade who are attending the Provincial Summer camp at Rockside Farm, near the Gorge, for camp life holds for them one long round of undiluted pleasure. After being in camp since Monday last, the boys with their officers, Camp-Commandant Sub-Lieutenant Tribe, Lieut. Crowther and Paymaster Lieut. P. A. Rayner, were cordially welcomed by their host and hostess at their lovely home "Clairden," St. Charles Street yesterday afternoon.

Six Rotarians, Messrs. E. J. Down, W. N. Kelly, R. W. McPherson, W. Gardner, W. Moore and Dr. Tanner, gave up the afternoon to the boys, calling for them at 2:30 in their automobiles at the camp and taking them for a much-enjoyed trip. The jolly party of youngsters were first taken over the Dockyard, then for a tour of the Marine Drive, their enthusiastic singing of the Naval Brigade song making of the journey a species of triumphal progress.

On arrival at "Clairden," the boys and their officers were cordially welcomed by their host and hostess and without loss of time the youthful guests were regaled with sandwiches, cake and ice cream galore. The party was held on the lawn and so hearty were the young appetites, whetted by a week's sojourn in camp, that even crumbs were conspicuously absent at the end of the feast. Among the guests invited to help in the entertainment of the boys were: Sir Charles and Lady Piers of Vancouver, General and Mrs. Murray, H. T. Ravenhill and Miss Ravenhill, Mrs. A. D. Crease, Mrs. Mortimer Appleby and Miss Sylvia Appleby, and B. C. Nicholas.

Before leaving for the return journey, the boys gave a mighty cheer for Mr. and Mrs. Bushby, who have always taken a keen and active interest in the Boys' Naval Brigade movement and the Camp Commandant on behalf of the boys expressed their thanks and appreciation of the generosity of their hosts.

Entertained at Gorge. The week-end was an eventful one for the lads, for on Saturday evening, through the courtesy of A. T. Goward of the B.C. Electric Company and M. Fielding, manager of the amusement park, the boys and their officers were entertained at the Gorge Park. Long-cherished dreams of unlimited rides on the scenic railway and trips on the galloping horses proved even more enjoyable in the realization than the anticipation, while to crown the evening's happiness, candies were distributed in generous quantities so that it was a thoroughly tired but happy band of boys who made the return trip to the camp.

The boys are assuming a healthy coat of tan as the result of their open-air life under ideal conditions. Unmistakable evidence of their appreciation of the commissariat arrangements was given on Saturday when the boys gave three stentorian cheers for the cook, an unsolicited testimonial which doubtless touched the heart of that culinary expert.

Presentation to Mrs. Beckwith—At the monthly meeting of the Y.W.C.A. on Friday afternoon, Mrs. Beckwith, of the Board of Management, was presented with an illuminated address and life membership in token of her untiring work on the Board as member and president. Miss Bishop, the president, made the formal presentation. The address and certificate were illuminated by Mrs. K. Andrews, a former member of the Board. Tea was afterwards served.

One teaspoonful of vinegar is a good substitute for an egg, and lightens cakes in which dripping has been used.

Suits and Coats

That Portray the Trend of Autumn Style

ONCE more the thought of apparel for a new season is a topic of feminine interest. And as it is the Fall season that approaches, the suit is, of course, the most important of all.

Here, then, is a brief resume of the Autumn style tendencies in suits. Jackets will be long, with slim, tailored sleeves, and skirts remain both narrow and short. "Chocker" and shawl collars, with or without fur, are noticed, and beautifully executed hand-embroideries are favored. Navy blue is again a predominating shade, but many beautiful tones of brown are presented. Prices range from $49.50 to $195.00.

Many distinguished shades of brown and taupe are present in the new coats for Fall. Fur collars and cuffs are more popular than ever. Collars are wide and deep—indeed, some are so large that they are veritable cape effects. The wrap effect coats present a finished elegance that will be universally admired. Coats are priced from $45 to $175.

Quite a representative collection of the new Autumn millinery is now displayed in our showrooms. We will deem it a pleasure to show you these lovely hats.

AT OTTAWA MEETING

The Dominion Rifle Association Meeting Opened To-day

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—(Canadian Press)—About 400 riflemen were on hand when the first matches of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association since the war, opened at Rockcliffe Ranges this morning.

The fact that reorganization of the militia units has in many sections not advanced to such an extent as to give the same attention to rifle shooting as in pre-war days, is probably the cause of the falling off in attendance as compared with every Province in the Dominion, competed for the highest honors in marksmanship in this country.

Antwerp, Aug. 15.—Lehtonen, of Finland, won the ancient pentathlon of the Olympic Games, contested in the Stadium here to-day, scoring fourteen points. Everett L. Bradley, University of Kansas, was second with 25 points. (The least number of points determined the winner).

Antwerp, Aug. 15.—(800 metres)—Istait, D. M. Scott, United States Army, won the first of three qualifying heats for the semi-finals in the 800-metre run. E. D. Mountain, Cambridge University A. C., was second and A. B. Sprott, Los Angeles A. C., third. The time was 1 minute, 57.7-5 seconds. All three qualify for the semi-finals.

The second was won by B. G. D. Rudd, of South Africa. Thomas Campbell, of Yale University, was second, and Paulsen, of Holland, third. The time was 1 minute, 57 seconds.

The third and last heat was won by A. G. Hill, of England; Earl Eby, Chicago A. A., was second, and Eastman, of France, third. The time was 1 minute 56.2-5 seconds.

WIND WRECKS CHAPEAUX

Many Costly and Adorable Summer Creations Meet Sudden End To-day as Wind Tears Them From Fair Owners

This is the busy day for chivalrous men on down town streets. Women, habituated by the long hot spell to wearing light airy hats with large wings and flaps to exclude the sun from delicate complexions, have been heavy sufferers to-day from the wind that has blown from the north since the morning of the season. The middle of the morning the wind started swooping down in the streets and swinging upwards would lift high in the air hats and everything else insecurely fastened. Many men whose business, or lack of business, keeps them on the curb have been jumping all day chasing chapeaux from one side of the street to the other. Some of them tore up Government Street just before noon as if there were a cuf race on.

Men's hats did not figure so extensively in the casualty list as women's. This is said to be because women with their Summer finery were caught off their guard by the rough weather.

J. G. Thomson Looking For Somebody With a Bright Idea to Boost Made-in-Victoria Week

Who has a bright idea in the way of a motto or design for the Made-in-Victoria week, September 6 to 17?

J. G. Thomson, Commissioner of the Victoria and Island Development Association, wants somebody to suggest something catchy, out-of-the-ordinary, and suggestive that can be put on the Made-in-Victoria week cards that will be placed in the windows of all shops.

There are no prizes being offered for this idea. Mr. Thomson says that people are anxious to do anything they can to help the Made-in-Victoria drive. Besides in the cards the best idea being able to point to the inscription on the cards in all the windows and say: "My brainchild."

MEET TO DECIDE CITY'S STAND ON CAR FARE DISPUTE

Unless the B. C. Electric Railway Company alters considerably the terms which it has offered the city in the street car dispute, the civic authorities will wage a determined fight against the Company's application to the Board of Railway Commissioners for a seven-cent car fare. This fact has become clear during the last forty-eight hours, though the City Council has not considered the matter yet.

Alderman Joseph Patrick, Chairman of the civic Legislative Committee, has conducted all negotiations with the Company, has called a meeting of his colleagues for to-morrow morning. At this meeting the Company's refusal to agree to the city's proposals on the dispute will be considered, and the city's attitude determined. Until the meeting takes place, and until he has received official information from the Company regarding its stand, Alderman Patrick will not discuss the matter.

CONSOLIDATION OF RURAL SCHOOLS

J. W. Gibson Shows in National Official Publication Progress in B.C.

Interest in rural education is steadily growing, says J. W. Gibson, director, elementary agricultural education, in the current issue of the Agricultural Gazette of Canada. The country life movement, which for many years has barely managed to keep alive and which has always been more or less confined to a discussion of theories growing out of the publication of statistics relative to our rural population, now seems to be gathering force. This revival of interest in rural affairs is widespread in Canada and the United States, and is manifesting itself generally in improved methods of production, better business management, and a desire on the part of the farming population for greater participation in the affairs of the country at large.

With this rural awakening there is bound to come a greater appreciation of the value of education, and consequently dissatisfaction with the old form of rural school organization—the ungraded country school. Already in certain parts of the province the movement towards improvement in education through reorganization and consolidation of school districts is under way. On Vancouver Island the municipalities of Duncan and North Cowichan have been working for school purposes and have got off to a very good start. Four of the one-roomed schools of North Cowichan—those nearest to the city of Duncan—were closed and the pupils are being transported in vans to the central school at Duncan.

The consolidation of the municipality of Spillimacheen with the city of Armstrong for school purposes has also been effected, and steps have been taken to erect a new school at Armstrong to accommodate all of the children attending school from both city and municipality. More recently the question has come up for discussion at Chilliwack, and there seems to be a growing sentiment throughout the city and the adjoining municipality in favor of a complete reorganization of their local system.

In several other districts the same problem is being faced and is receiving serious consideration. "Better education under improved conditions" seems to be the main thought in the minds of people everywhere who think along educational lines, or who manifest any sign of interest in the future welfare of the country.

This re-organization of rural schools will undoubtedly result in improved instruction in all branches, but it will be particularly advantageous in connection with the teaching of elementary agriculture, manual training and domestic science. Under the new system it will be possible to have such up-to-date equipment and such improved conditions for the teaching of these subjects as are obviously impossible under the old system of small, ungraded schools.

With the enlarging of the unit of organization for rural consolidated schools and the added facilities for better teaching, will also come an ever-enlarging field of usefulness for the school itself. Courses of instruction will be improved and brought more into harmony with the best life and interests of rural people, the people themselves will find an interest opening up for them, and these will all centre around their most important institution—the school.

THIS COUNTRY AND BRITISH CAPITAL

Winnipeg, Aug. 15.—Dr. Ellis Powell, managing director of The Financial News, London, who is here with the Imperial Press Conference delegates interviewed here on the subject of foreign capital invested in Canada, said:

"Canada is British to the core and she must be financed in British money so that every influence must be British too. I have the warmest admiration for your neighbors to the south, but their predominance in Canadian business is utterly inconsistent with imperialism in the higher sense."

"Among a multitude of phenomena in Canada, one stands out in conspicuous prominence," continued Dr. Powell. "It is the necessity for a far greater inflow of British capital."

HOLD-UP BY THUG AT COAL CREEK

Fernie, Aug. 15.—Another holdup was recorded in this immediate vicinity when shortly after 9 o'clock Sunday evening Mrs. J. The robber secured only two or three dollars in cash, all that was in the house at the time. Mrs. Manning was entirely alone in the house when the robber entered.

TAHITI'S ARCHAEOLOGY WILL BE EXAMINED

Papeete, Tahiti, Aug. 4.—The ancient lore of Tahiti is to be resurrected and the ruins of the temples of the South Pacific Islanders ordered destroyed a century ago by Christian missionaries, are to be uncovered by excavation. Efforts to gather the relics of a forgotten worship are being vigorously prosecuted here.

Interest centres upon the great central temple of Marae at Tehera, on Tahiti Island, where human sacrifices were offered to the blood-thirsty god of war "Oro." So completely were the wishes of the missionaries carried out that nothing remains save traces of the foundations of this extensive temple. Excavations are expected to bring to light some interesting objects, which it is hoped, will reveal the purposes and uses of the ancient structure.

Marae, while being the chief temple of Tahiti, was not the oldest or the most important in the islands. The temple at Opoa traces of which remain on the islands of Raiatea, was the sacred centre of religion in the eastern Pacific and not until a stone from this has been incorporated in the structure did the Marae temple on Tahiti become consecrated.

It was at Marae that Captain Cook witnessed the ceremonies of human sacrifices chronicled in his "Voyages." The natives while professing Christianity, and manifesting it by the most active church attendance, have a deep fear of these places. Under no circumstances will they approach these temples at night, nor venture near them by day without great trepidation, believing that should they in any way offend the sleeping gods, vengeance will come.

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING.

A clerk went to work for a certain Manchester firm, and as the offices were situated some distance from the centre of the city, the workers were provided with a midday meal.

The new clerk was a huge man and had an appetite of corresponding magnitude.

During the second week with the firm he said to his neighbor at the table

after the first course, "I wonder what we shall have for luncheon to-day?"

His colleague replied, "Oh, rice pudding."

"Yes," replied the clerk, "but we've had rice pudding every day for over a week."

"Well," was the reply, "I have only been here eight years and we have had rice pudding every day, so I guess it's rice pudding to-day."—Tit-Bits.

THE WOMEN OF VICTORIA.

To the Editor:—As I have received considerable correspondence and calls in answer to my letter, "Lonely Veterans," and as all ask for the correct address, it is as follows: Dr. Collins, medical superintendent, Balfour Sanitarium, Balfour, B. C. Truly the service the ladies have rendered to the defenders of Canada, and are yet rendering, can never be sufficiently praised.

For their kind wishes to my comrades I beg to tender them likewise my sincerest thanks.

FRILLS VERSUS NON-FRILLS.

To the Editor:—I observe that our friends in Saanich are discussing the question of frills versus no-frills in the public schools. Might I have a little of your space in which to add a contribution to the discussion?

I see that my friend Collis is in the midst of the fray, and as he is a gentleman who both by his ability and his eloquence is well able to make the worse appear the better reason, I shall confine my effort to setting forth a few facts on the other side, in order that any who may be interested may have an opportunity of judging of this question after hearing a little at least of both sides.

During the last seventeen years my work as a member of the teaching staff of the Victoria High School has been chiefly with the first and second year students who come from the city schools. I prefer to do that work because these two years are the most important years in the work of the High School. They are the years when the foundation is laid for the educational structure, when studious habits and tastes are formed and when the best work can be done.

During these seventeen years I have found to an increasing degree that the students we receive from the public schools, or at least one-half of them, are deficient in the following respects:

1. They are not good readers.
2. They are very poor spellers.
3. They are wretchedly poor writers.
4. They cannot add, subtract, multiply or divide simple numbers, simple fractions and decimals without making many mistakes.
5. They cannot write a short paragraph of a few sentences, with correct use of capitals and punctuation marks.
6. They cannot solve the simplest problem, which requires originality of thought.

I have talked with nearly all the members of our staff about these matters, and all agree with me in recommending the following:

THE FIRST IMPERIAL PRESS CONFERENCE.

By Sir Harry Brittain, K.O.B.E., M.P., in Mayfair.

"It is doubtful whether any gathering within the Empire, official or unofficial, has ever been more conducive to good understanding and to sound, practical results." This was the verdict of a Government Blue Book (an austere organ which seldom enthuses upon unofficial events), after the Completion of the First Imperial Press Conference in 1902.

The idea of convening a congress of the editors in chief of the great newspapers of the Empire occurred to me during a visit to Canada in the year 1907, at the back of my mind being the conviction that such a gathering would be the means of dispelling many a misunderstanding between our scattered nations, and be the most effective method of bringing home to millions of scattered Britishers what were the Empire's potentialities, needs and dangers. I confided my scheme to my old friend Earl Grey (then Governor-General), who proved to be an enthusiastic supporter. Immediately upon my return to London, I discussed the idea with the leaders of the British Press, and it was decided to go ahead.

But the idea was a new one; unexpected difficulties cropped up and two years' hard labor was before me. The task, however, was an invigorating one and entirely a labor of love, and I shall never forget the kindness and ever ready help of my good friends of the British Press and particularly of those who throughout the months of preparation spared neither time nor effort in ensuring success: the powerful aid of such men as Lord Burnham, Lord Northcliffe, Sir Arthur Pearson, Robert Donald, Kennedy Jones and H. A. Gwynne (to mention but a few), was a full assurance that our object should be achieved. The invitations were in due course dispatched, the editors from the Dominion, Crown Colonies and India being bidden as our guests from the time they left their homes until the date of their return.

In this short article it is impossible to deal even in outline with all the events crowded into those eight memorable weeks. The first to come afforded our guests was at the hands of 700 Journalists of the old land, at which Lord Rosebery made what was perhaps the most remarkable of all his splendid efforts of oratory. In the great room of the Foreign Office our visitors were enabled to meet practically every leading British statesman for the purpose of discussing one momentous topic after another.

Their Majesties the King and Queen (then Prince and Princess of Wales), invited the delegates to a garden party at Marlborough House, where each member learnt at first hand how intimate was the knowledge of the Empire possessed by his Royal host. One little incident at that delightful gathering I shall not forget. After the presentation of the delegates and their wives—to the number of about 100—naturally merged into the general gathering. A few minutes later I was sent for by the Royal Highness, who informed me that a message had just arrived from Buckingham Palace to say that King Edward, accompanied by Queen Alexandra, was on his way to Marlborough House and had graciously expressed a wish to have the delegates presented to him individually! As there were at least 500 people present, the garden party, the least-numerous and the most enjoyable, was a big success. The following committee was in charge: Mrs. F. Stevens, Mrs. A. Stevens, Mrs. Dobbie, and Mrs. Blackwood; Messrs. Bob Laughland, convener, Ward, Buchanan, R. Stewart, McDuff, R. Balfour, Allan and Angus.

THE LUCK OF EDEN HALL.

After an ownership of 400 years, the mansion and estates of Eden Hall, Cumberland, England, are to pass from the Musgrave family. Sir Richard Musgrave has not lived at Eden Hall for about twenty years, and the mansion and grounds, with the shooting, have been leased for a considerable number of years to C. H. Shaw, who is leaving on purchasing an estate at Watermillock, Uthwater. The house was built about 200 years ago by Sir Philip Musgrave, and stands in a beautiful situation on the banks of the Eden and Edon near their confluence. The estate, which will come into the market, comprises practically the whole of the parish of Edenhall, with a portion of the adjoining parish of Langwathby.

The legend of the "Luck of Eden Hall" is known to many people who have never seen the house. The "Luck" is a goblet of Venetian glass reputed to be of early 14th century workmanship. The tradition is that one night when the ancestral of the Musgraves went across the lawn to St. Cuthbert's Well he surprised a party of fairies dancing round the frail glass vessel, which he secured and refused to return. Thereupon the Queen of the Fairies repeated the well-known prophecy: "If e'er this cup shall break or fall, 'Forewell the luck of Eden Hall!"

The "Luck" has always been very carefully guarded, at least in modern times.

As Lord Milner, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, remarked only a few days ago, these conferences are likely to be landmarks in history; at this first gathering 'great Imperial questions were thoroughly discussed, and a community of ideas established, to which he attributed in a great degree the marvellous way in which the Empire pulled together when the hour of trial came.' And now we look forward to the second Imperial Press Conference which is to be held in Canada during the present year.

My colleagues upon the Empire Press Union, of which I sincerely appreciate the privilege of being an honorary member—did me the honor of asking me to act as chairman of the Imperial Conference Sub-committee, at the wish of our hosts the Central Branch of the Empire Press Union in dealing with invitations and general arrangements for the Homeland and the rest of the Empire.

PICNIC AT PATRICIA BAY.

The first annual picnic of the combined Scottish societies was held at Patricia Bay Saturday afternoon, when over 200 people had a most enjoyable outing. The affair took the form of a basket picnic, and was a big success. The following committee was in charge: Mrs. F. Stevens, Mrs. A. Stevens, Mrs. Dobbie, and Mrs. Blackwood; Messrs. Bob Laughland, convener, Ward, Buchanan, R. Stewart, McDuff, R. Balfour, Allan and Angus.

Which Flavor, Please?

Now, in Chiclets, you can take the choice your fancy dictates—Fruit or Peppermint.

Both have the dainty shape and superfine candy-coating which make Adams Chiclets the supreme confection.

The difference lies only in their flavor—the original tingling, refreshing peppermint, or the new fruit flavor, luscious and tempting as the basket of Nature's sweetest gifts on the banquet table.

You'll enjoy both. Both are good for you—aid digestion, ease nerves, preserve teeth, quench thirst.

THE BASKET BABIES.

The organization of the London Foundling Hospital—the financial condition of which is causing anxiety—has altered essentially since its institution by big-hearted old Captain Thomas-Coram.

Five years after Coram's death Parliament made a grant of £10,000 to the hospital on condition that every child under a certain age for which application was made should be admitted.

A basket was hung outside the gate, and all that was necessary was to place the child therein, ring the bell, and decamp. On the first day 117 children were left in this fashion, and within four years more than fifteen thousand. Then Parliament woke to the folly of the thing, and passed a resolution "that the indiscriminate admission of all children had been attended with many evil consequences, and that it be discontinued."

Enlarged pores in the skin are caused through neglecting to rinse the face in cold water after it has been washed with warm water.

Grass Fires.—Bush and grass fires kept the Fire Department busy on Saturday. During the afternoon a bush fire broke out behind the Sir James Douglas School, a grass fire occurred on Beach Drive in Oak Bay, while another grass fire, which started in the Uplands, required considerable effort on the part of the fire fighters before it was subdued.

Fire Alarms.—The prevailing high wind and the dry weather were responsible for several fires to-day. Shortly after noon the Fire Department extinguished a blaze in the factory building of the Canadian Puget Sound Timber and Lumber Company's plant on Rock Bay, a roof fire at 2112 Rock Bay Avenue and a grass fire near the old Fairfield Fire Hall.

His Sanity Doubted.—James Black, who is faced with a charge of indecent assault, appeared in the Police Court this morning, but his case was remanded until doctors could examine him and determine whether he is sane or not. J. A. Alkman asked the court to have the case remanded for this purpose and City Prosecutor Harrison offered no opposition.

The flames consumed a small amount of lumber which was lying about, but they were quickly subdued by the Fire Department. The office buildings were being torn down when they toppled over.

NO CHANCE.

"Strike!" shouted the bowler. "Swell show for a strike. The things ain't organized."—The American Legion Weekly.

BALL PLAYERS AND WIVES FACED WITH CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Carman and Land, of Victoria Team, Charged Over Chopp Suey House Fight

Bearing a resemblance to the near-riot which occurred at the Stadium ball grounds recently was the scene which, it is alleged, occurred in a Chinese-shop suey joint last week, and the sequel to which is a charge of assault against two Victoria baseball players and their wives.

The charge was read in the Police Court this morning but as the accused, Frederick Carman, Grover Land, Mrs. J. Carman and Mrs. G. Land, were not present, the case was remanded. The prosecution will proceed when Carman and Land return to the city for the next ball series here.

When Carman and Land and their wives were called in the Police Court this morning to answer a charge of assault, Magistrate Jay immediately remarked that the names were those of Victoria ball players, W. C. Moresby, appearing for the defence, observed that His Honor was a ball fan. To this His Honor readily agreed. Mr. Moresby said that the two men involved in the case were out of town and would return with the Victoria team next Monday. One of the women was in hospital, he said, and was under a doctor's care, while the other woman appeared in court. At his suggestion the case was adjourned until next Monday, when it will be adjourned again until Tuesday.

The information against the players and their wives was sworn out by G. N. Bord, who claims that he was assaulted by the accused.

According to police reports the affair which gave rise to the Police Court proceedings was anything but dull. It is reported, in fact, that pandemonium reigned in the chop suey house for a short time and that a number of guests departed with black eyes and other casualties.

EPITAPHS

Some Selections by L. M., in The Irish Independent.

Things written upon tombs are notoriously untrustworthy. Indeed, an anonymous epigrammatist long ago addressed to his friend, an epitaph-writer, the following lines:

"Friend, in your epitaphs I'm grieved, so very much is said. One half will never be believed, the other never read."

Laudatory epitaphs we all know, and most are too long to quote. They belong to all periods and centuries. Here is one from ancient Athens:

"If there was ever a thoroughly good woman I am she—both in reference to righteousness and in all other ways. But being such, I got no just return neither from those from whom I expected it nor from the gods. Unhappy, I lie apart from my mother and father. I say nothing about what gratitude they showed me. Not they, but my sons provided for me."

Although the dead woman is supposed to speak, one feels that probably those sons who provided for her were the authors of the inscription.

OPPOSITE KIND.

Of the opposite kind, directly critical and condemnatory, there are plenty of examples, and, sad to say, many of them are placed by husbands over the graves of their wives in cases where "love did not outlive the lapse of years." The following three are of this type:

"Here lies my poor wife without bed or blanket, but dead as a doornail, and God be thanked!"

This is from Selby Churchyard, in Yorkshire:

"Here lies my wife, a sad slattern and a shrew. If I said I regretted her I should lie too."

And this from Pere-la-Chaise, in Paris:

"Ci-git ma femme; ah, que c'est bien. Four son repos et pour le mien."

In some of the learned professions are satirized, as:

"Here lies the corpse of Dr. Chard, Who filled the half of this church-yard."

An Honest Lawyer.

And in the famous epitaph of the great lawyer, Sir John Strange:

"Here lies an honest lawyer, That is strange!"

Many epitaphs are noted for their brevity and point. That of Cardinal Onuphrio in Rome in its five words contains a sad reflection on all human grandeur: "Hic jacet umbra—civis—nihil." Here lies a shadow—ashes—nothing. Over the grave of the actor Burbage are the two words "Exit Burbage," while a tomb in Worcester Cathedral is inscribed simply "Miscerinus," even the name of the most respected defunct does not appear. The epitaph of Dr. Caius, founder of the College which bears his name, is almost the shortest on record, "Fui Caius" (I was Caius); but it is beaten by another consisting only of the three-letter word "Fui."

SUMMER GALE SUDDENLY STARTS

Wind Velocity 44 Miles at Two O'clock This Afternoon

This morning the heaviest gale of the Summer broke over Victoria, and at noon the velocity of the wind was 44 miles an hour. It continued to strengthen until 2 o'clock the meteorological observatory at Gonzales Hill reported 44 miles an hour.

The harbor and strait are covered with white caps. The sea in the strait is very heavy.

The terrific wind is fanning the shoudering forest fires and causing considerable destruction of timber, and in some parts is warranting some apprehension. About noon a small fire broke out in the Sooke Hills, within a couple of hours it had spread over a large area and continued a destructive march at the will of the wind. The bush fires across the strait in the State of Washington were whipped into a seething mass by the sudden gale, and are sweeping away great sections of timber.

MORE STABILITY IN THIS COUNTRY

Britain Disturbed, Robert Donald, London ex-Editor, Tells Winnipeg Rotarians

Winnipeg, Aug. 16.—Robert Donald, chairman of the Empire Press Union and formerly editor of the London Daily Chronicle, who is here with the Imperial Press Conference delegates on their tour across Canada, addressed the Winnipeg Rotary at a special luncheon to-day. He reviewed conditions in Europe and Asia at the present time, their causes and cure. He contrasted conditions in Canada, where he found more stability. He found a peace and security in Canada in sharp contrast with the worries overshadowing the Old Country. The chaos of continental Europe was reflected in Great Britain, he said, and the unrest of labor and its uncompromising attitude toward intervention by Great Britain in Russia were a part of the general upset. Britain had shouldered too many responsibilities and taken on too many mandates, he said. The British middle classes shared the distaste which labor felt for intervention in Russia.

Mr. Donald reviewed political conditions in Europe and the Near East, and touched on the danger of a spread of Bolshevism beyond the borders of Russia unless Germany, as the economic hub of continental Europe, soon got down to producing and commercial soundness. But the danger of Bolshevism spreading to Britain he found less evident.

Embassies of British labor had studied conditions in Russia, and returned to the unions denouncing the methods and policies of the Russian Bolsheviki. British labor had found these the antithesis of their ideals and aims.

Complimenting Canada on her commercial soundness and solid national life, Mr. Donald prophesied great things for the Dominion. Her status in the British Empire would be always that of equal nationhood and rights, he said.

The World's Finest Phonograph—and It Is Made to Last a Lifetime

THOUGH it costs more the beautiful bulge effect cabinets of the Sonora are made three-quarters of an inch thick. Average panels in other phonographs are three-eighths of an inch.

In every detail of construction the Sonora never deviates from the highest standard of quality. The all-brass tone arm of the Sonora is another point of interest. This tone arm is made of seamless brass—like a cornet or other brass instrument. Is it to be wondered at that the Sonora's tone is infinitely superior when its construction is so genuinely high-grade?

When Life feels Life

As the inspector stands at the table, his sensitive finger tips subtly feel the "life" in the leather he is examining. So accurate is this sense of touch that he knows instantly whether that piece of leather is up to the LECKIE standard. His 40-years of "knowing" makes it impossible for a piece of "dead" leather to get by. That's one reason why the LECKIE BOOT gives "More Miles Per Dollar."

In making the LECKIE DRESS BOOT, only "live" leather is used. The pictures at the side show the difference in leather. The upper one is of first quality, after having been stretched by the inspector it still retains its original appearance and shows no wrinkles. The lower picture shows what happens to the poorer grades—note the wrinkles.

It is such thoroughness in the manufacture of THE LECKIE BOOT that has made it the greatest wearing boot today. Slip your foot into one.

GAMES SATURDAY

Fine Cricket Both at Mount Tolmie and Work Point Barracks

(By Veritas).

The cricket played on Saturday was of a very high order. The important game at University grounds between the Incogs and Victoria resulted in a draw after Victoria had rolled up the highest total that the Incogs have had to face this season. The Victoria batsmen were in splendid form, and Sholto Gillespie particularly so. The player made a splendid effort for his side and carried out his bat for 79 runs. G. C. Grant added another splendid contribution to the score, having run up 67 before being dismissed by Sparks off the bowling of Verrall. Hebben Gillespie was very unfortunate in the manner of his dismissal, being run out after making the useful score of 29. It was indeed a poor day for the Incog bowlers; Sparks bowling ten overs without capturing a single wicket, whilst Tracy's four wickets cost 90 runs, and Verrall's analysis was four wickets for 70 runs. Victoria's innings closed for 227 runs, and these were put together in two hours and a quarter. The Incogs were then left with two hours and five minutes in which to get the necessary runs to win, but apparently thought that half a loaf was better than no bread, and they had scored only 128 for five wickets at the time stumps were drawn. Of this number Sparks scored 42 and was not out at the close. Kinch had scored 28 by good cricket, when he retired hurt. It was very unfortunate for Victoria that they were without the services of "Oddy" Goward and Vaughan, as their bowling might have made an appreciable difference to the result. As matters stand, the Incogs, who are in second place, have a chance of finishing first and capturing the Virtue cup, but to do this they will have to beat the Congos, and they will find this no easy task.

At Work Point Barracks an interesting and sportsmanlike game ended in a win for the Garrison. The Army and Navy Veterans going in first, put together the useful score of 101. The chief scorers were Warburton 25, Preston 41 and extras 10. When the Garrison went to bat they found C. P. Preston and P. Welch in form with the ball, and the whole team was dismissed for 47. The Army and Navy Veterans thus had a lead of 54 on the first innings, and as they also scored 62 in their second venture, it looked as though they would gain their second victory of the season. The Garrison started their second innings with the knowledge that they required 117 runs to win, and had not any too much time in which to get them. They did manage to get them, with just a couple of minutes to spare, thanks to a fine innings of 68 by Major Cobbett.

MORTON TOOK AWFUL TRIMMING FROM YAKS.

Harry Morton lacked condition and received a terrible beating at the hands of the Yakima ball team at the Stadium on Saturday afternoon. The Fruit-pickers won by 10-0. Morton, who is the best pitcher in the league when right, was terrible. Yakima collected 20 hits off his delivery. Valencia held the Capitals to three hits and no runs. Victoria plays in Spokane this week and will clash with Seattle here next week, concluding the season here with Yakima at the end of the month.

TEN SWIMMERS TRY OUT FOR BIG SWIM

V.A.S.C. Water Stars Swim From Point Ellice Bridge to Gorge

Ten members of the V.A.S.C. tried the long distance swim held yesterday afternoon. Of these eight swam from Point Ellice Bridge and the other two entered the water at "The Narrows" and covered about half the distance. The swim was of the nature of a big handicap. The first swimmer dove in at Point Ellice about 2 o'clock and at intervals of two and three minutes other contestants left. The two scratch men, Geo. Silburn and Jerry Wellburn, were handicapped twenty-two minutes and by the time they started the other swimmers were all out of sight. Gracie Wellburn made the best time and finished first in 42 minutes. Considering the distance of the race the finish was very close.

The two last men were joined at the half-way mark by J. D. McNeill, and from then on the three kept neck to neck, passing several of the others just a few minutes of each other. The swimmers were: Gracie Wellburn, Minnie Fanthrope, Ethel Heathcote, W. Barritt, J. Clyde, L. Plumb, J. D. McNeill, G. Silburn, G. Wellburn and D. Rainave.

To Play Polo Game.

On Tuesday evening the V.A.S.C. has been invited to the B.C.E.R. bathing beach, where the weekly 50-yard handicap will be swam. This will be followed by a fast polo game between the V.A.S.C. team and the Elks. R. Alcock of the bathing house has kindly promised to serve hot coffee and look after the swimmers after leaving the water.

A general meeting of the club will be held at the club house at nine o'clock to make arrangements for the swim to be held on August 28, and also about the Vancouver gala to be held this Saturday. It is expected that there will be a very large representation of club members at Vancouver.

POLICE CALLED IN TO STOP BALL RIOT

Fans Threw Straw Hats as Well as Pop Bottles at New York Yesterday

National League.

New York, Aug. 15.—New York and Boston divided a double-header yesterday, the Braves winning the first game, 8 to 7, in eleven innings, and the Giants the second, 4 to 1. The latter game was called in the seventh because of darkness.

Disorder occurred in the eighth inning of the first game, after Kelly made a home run, sending in two men. First came a shower of stray hats on the field. Then some one tossed a pop bottle almost to the diamond. This was taken up as a sign and the field soon was literally covered with bottles. Boston players gathered about the pitchers' box to be out of danger and when the bottle throwing ceased reserve police came into the grounds and were stationed about the upper and lower stands.

NEXT-OF-KIN PICNIC.

The Great War Next-of-Kin Association held their third annual picnic at the Willow Beach on Thursday. There was a large attendance of members, friends and children. After lunch Mrs. Shaw took charge of the sports, in which both grown-ups and children participated, in spite of the great heat. Prizes were given to the winners in each event and, as a consolation to those less fortunate, chocolate bars, so all were made happy. Mrs. H. J. Scott, Miss Scott, assisted by Mrs. Guy Langton, entertained several of the patients from Craigdarroch Hospital. Mrs. Sakiston sent a generous basket, not being able to be present. Mr. Spouse very kindly donated a smoked salmon, to be given to the person guessing the weight. As Mrs. Spouse and Master Daxies had it was divided between them. ## "HEART STRINGS" IS PICTURE OF PATHOS

a remarkable story of devotion and sacrifice. The photoplay has been given a most effective production by William Fox, and the star is supported by a company of distinction. As many of the scenes are laid in the

Mr. Farnum in this production adds a most lovable character to the extensive gallery of his screen creations. It is the role of a young musician who, when just at the threshold of artistic fame, sacrifices all for love of his sister.

The story, in its unfolding, is replete with dramatic incidents, giving this great actor wide play not only for the tenderest of all emotions, but also for a virile, manly portrayal of the big brother who, turning upon those who have wronged one he adores, fights as only a real man can fight whose muscles are used for the right.

In wonderful contrast to his sentimental scenes with the sister, Mr. Farnum's character work in this picture reaches unusual heights, giving the story great force. His admirers will find in Pierre, this young and devoted violinist, a character at once affecting and compelling the love and admiration of all those who hold a William Farnum picture as one of the screen's genuine delights.

POPULAR YOUNG STARS AT DOMINION

"Let's Be Fashionable" Features Douglas McLean and Doris May

The brightest pair of screen stars, Douglas McLean & Doris May, who will be remembered by Victoria audiences for their past productions such as "Twenty-three and a Half Hours Leave," and "Mary's Ankle," will again appear at the Dominion Theatre this week in their latest comedy drama, "Let's Be Fashionable."

Advance notices claim this to be the far and away the best picture they have yet appeared in, and that is saying a good deal when one remembers the delightful entertainment provided by their former successes.

"Let's Be Fashionable," contains a problem that faces every young married couple. If you are young and married (or going to be) and in love and ambitious and all that sort of thing—this very human story of a very human couple is something you can not afford to miss.

MAKES COMPARISON OF NATION'S LOVERS

Alice Joyce at Variety Shows to Perfection as Wife of French Aristocrat

Which nationality produces the most skillful courtiers and love makers? The opportunity to observe the different forms of love making as employed by English, French and American men of high type is offered by Vitagraph's newest superfilm, "The Vengeance of Durand."

This production, with Alice Joyce in the stellar role, will be shown as the feature attraction at the Variety Theatre this week. There are four distinct types of wooers presented in the persons of Henri Durand, a French aristocrat, passionately in love with his beautiful young wife; Armant La Farge, a French dandy, who seeks to win the wife from her husband; "Tubby" Livingston, fat, middle-aged Englishman, who loves all the ladies, but means no harm to any of them; Captain St. Croix Trouvier, a coy young Frenchman who adores all the ladies, but is afraid of them, and Tom Franklin, a robust, hearty, handsome young American.

Miss Joyce plays the role of Marion Durand, wife of the French aristocrat, and later the role of her own daughter, Beatrice.

Durand demonstrates the form of love making employed by a person of highly volatile temperament. He is consumed with jealousy, which grows into suspicion and distrust.

La Farge portrays the character of rake and roue, who is a foe to the virtue of wives. He gives a finished exhibition of the adroit French school of love making in its highest form. Trouvier and "Tubby" Livingston exhibit a more chivalrous, likeable method. "Tubby's" efforts, seeming to represent the quiet, English type of love making, wins sympathy.

"IN MIZOURA" STARS ROBERT WARWICK

Popular Major Embodies Type of Soldier-Hero in Columbia Film

Say what one will, nothing that the screen or stage offers is more entertaining or thrilling than a real red-blooded melodrama, when the story is natural and in the hands of experts. A supreme example of how such a motion picture can make an audience enthusiastic will be furnished at the Columbia Theatre, where "In Mizoura," the new Paramount Artcraft picture, starring Robert Warwick, opens run to-day. The photoplay was adapted from the stage drama by the same name, the work of the foremost American playwright, Augustus Thomas, and for several seasons played with great success by the late Nat Goodwin.

Robert Warwick is of the ideal type to be cast in the role of the hero. Of fine physical stature, he embodies an heroic quality in his acting that makes Sheriff Jim Radburn one of the outstanding characters of the screen.

The story concerns Sheriff Jim and his love for Kate, daughter of his friend, Jo Vernon. Jim secretly pays for the girl's education, but when she returns from her years at school, she has grown too fine for her plain lover and has been fascinated by Robert Travers, a St. Louis Beau Brummel. Sam Fowler, sweetheart of Jim's sister Emily, is accused of conspiring with the highwayman who robbed the express car on which he is messenger and is thrown in jail. Jim and a lawyer succeed in having him paroled and, while in town, he recognizes Travers as the man who held up the train. Travers kills a man to make good his escape and hides in Kate's house. Jim tracks him there, takes him to his own house, and tries to protect him against a mob that is bent on lynching him. In an attempt to escape, Travers is shot dead. Kate then recognizes Travers' true character and that it is Jim whom she really loves.

Major Warwick is supported by an exceptionally strong cast. Eileen Percy, who has been leading woman for several stars, including Douglas Fairbanks, makes an appealing heroine, her beauty being enhanced by real ability as an emotional actress. Others in the cast are Robert Cain, Noah Beery, Monte Blue, Milla Davenport, Gertrude Short and Hazel Branch.

Many and varied are the honors that have been bestowed upon picture stars, but it remained for Anna Q. Nilsson to achieve what is probably the most signal and unique distinction ever won by any one in the Flicker Realm.

This striking roddeger of the celluloid was the guest of Sir Thomas Lipton during the final clash between the Resolute and Shamrock, and from the deck of the famous Irish sportsman's private yacht Victory, watched the challenger go down to defeat.

Just before the American defender rode the wings of the wind to victory, Miss Nilsson and Lord Thomas Dewar, famous Scottish nobleman and distillery owner, were united in mock marriage by Sir Thomas. This stunt was part of an impromptu programme arranged by Miss Nilsson and her host to entertain the race guests during the preliminaries while the yachts waited for a breeze. There was a wild and frenzied scaterment. Men, white-faced and staring-eyed, fled as if pursued by a pestilence. They dropped whatever they had in hand and stood not upon the order of their going, but departed like frightened roebucks, hitting only the high places as they went.

HAD STAIN OF MURDER ON HER SOUL

Strong-Willed Heroine of "Lifting Shadows" Will Appear at Pantages

Sonia Howard loved Hugh Mason but refused to marry him because of the things in her past that were haunting her. Mason was a lawyer who had so successfully pleaded her case when she was being tried for the murder of her husband that she was acquitted. What he did not know was that Sonia had the stain of murder on her soul—she shot the beast that was her husband!

The other shadow that hung over her life was an insidious and dangerous one. She had in her possession papers that were wanted by the Ring of Death. These she refused to turn over because they contained plans for a revolution in America—the land of her adoption, and the land she had learned to love. Sonia Howard is the greatly wronged, strong-willed, and loyal heroine of "Lifting Shadows," the gripping drama of romance and intrigue showing for the first time at Pantages Theatre to-day and to-morrow.

Emmy Wehlen, too long absent from the silver sheet, returns more exquisitely beautiful than ever—in the leading role, supported by Wyndham Standing, Stuart Holmes, Julia Swayne Gordon and others. It is a Leonce Perret-Pathé production. The popular leading man, Wyndham Standing, was chosen by Leonce Perret for the role of the lawyer lover of Emmy Wehlen in "Lifting Shadows," a new Pathé feature.

Wyndham Standing is one of the seven sons of Harbert Standing, the well known character actor. His early screen career was with Triangle, where he usually played the role of villain. He reformed, however, when he became leading man for such stars as Pauline Frederick, Elsie Ferguson, Norma and Constance Talmadge, Hope Hampton and others.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

A Large Deal. The Toronto Telegram publishes in its financial columns the following report of a mining deal now being negotiated between the McIntyre and Temiskaming Mining Companies of the Forcupine and Cobalt, respectively, and the Blue Diamond Coal Mines, of Brule, Alta.

One of the biggest industrial mining deals of the decade has been completed so far as the preliminaries go. It involves two northern Ontario mines, the great coal fields of Alberta. The Ontario companies are purchasing the Blue Diamond Coal Mines, Ltd., of Brule, Alta., a concern with an acreage of some six square miles, producing more than 600 tons of steam and cooking coal daily, and have optioned the Canadian Coal Fields Ltd. for the great coal tract, lying along the Hay River, some thirty miles from the Blue Diamond, and known to contain anthracite. The Blue Diamond's capitalization is $1,500,000 and that of the Canadian Coal Fields $10,000,000. The option on the latter is understood to be for fifteen years, the great coal properties have been secured at very low prices.

The seller of the Blue Diamond is Mackenzie Mann & Co., and this firm is also a very holder in the optioned property.

The purchaser of the mines, The Telegram is officially informed, is the McIntyre, and it is the intention of that company to share the deal with the Temiskaming on a fifty-fifty basis at the purchase price. In this way will a portion of Temiskaming's big mine be utilized.

Extensive plans are being made for the further development of the Blue Diamond mines. Engineers of that company are at present on the field and equipment is understood to have been ordered which will increase the capacity from 600 to 2,000 tons.

McIntyre already owns the property and Temiskaming shareholders will be asked to vote on entrance within a week or two.

Ontario Production. During the first three months of the present year Ontario has produced 142,840 ounces of gold, against 58,188 ounces for the corresponding period of last year; 44.29 pounds of cobaltic oxide against 13,584 pounds; 1,785,193 pounds of nickel oxide against 5,670 pounds; and 2,159,316 pounds of metallic nickel, against 1,839,949 pounds during the first three months of last year. The production of silver, blister copper, copper-nickel matte, iron ore, and pig iron has been considerably less than during the corresponding period of last year.

Geological Survey Progress. A very large proportion of the work of the Geological Survey of Canada is being carried on in British Columbia this year. We have no less than twelve parties in the field," stated Charles Cammell, Deputy Minister of Mines, when seen by The Vancouver World on his arrival from the East.

The topographical branch of the survey is making two fine maps of Vancouver area. Other parties working in the province are at Salmon River on iron deposits, in the Lardeau, in the Eutsuk Lake area, on the west coast of the island, a party is also at the mouth of the Fraser studying the sedimentary deposits of the river. There is much important work being done in Alberta. Mr. Dowling is back on his oil investigation work, another party is examining the Peace River coal fields, still another is mapping the extension of the Crow's Nest Pass coal fields to the north. A further party is in the Mackenzie River country working out the structural of possible oil bearing rocks. Oil drilling rigs are actually installed and working in two areas, one in the Great Slave Lake region and another near the Arctic Circle. The latter the scene of the most northerly oil drilling in the world. There is much oil drilling going on around Peace River Crossing, and much gas and some oil has been found. The latter is heavy oil, and is a pumping proposition. General Lindsay has obtained a lease for 2,000 acres of the great tar sands area of the Peace River from the Dominion Government and the terms of the lease call for the installation of a plant for experimental work on the recovery of bituminous material from the sands. The whole tar area is reserved by the department of the interior.

Syria and Col. Thomas Lawrence

Edmonton Journal

On Saturday the news came that the French had begun operations against the Arabs in Syria. This followed an ultimatum to Feisal, who was proclaimed the Arab king of that country some months ago, demanding his acquiescence in the French mandate and also in the adoption of the French as the official language and French currency.

Nowhere else has Great Britain had to face a more embarrassing situation than in Syria. Here the claims of two most friendly powers with which she had co-operated very closely during the war, were in conflict.

France had for centuries considered that she had special and incontestable rights there. She had financed Syrian railways, founded educational institutions and established interests of other kinds. The Christian population has all along regarded her as their especial protector. At the same time, further south in Palestine the Jews expected to establish a state of their own under British protection, just as soon as the Turk was driven out.

On the other hand the Arabs, under Feisal, claimed the Arabian kingdom should include all of Syria and Palestine and Mesopotamia as well. The story of the part which they played in bringing about the collapse of Turkey forms one of the most striking chapters of the whole war. They acted, it will be remembered, as Allenby's right wing in his sensational advance northward, and the skill with which their movements were directed was a factor of immense importance.

Feisal, it seems, is a most unusual type of Arab chieftain, but of course the genius back of his movements was not of Asiatic origin. It was Col. Thomas Lawrence, the quiet, mannered Oxford scholar, who welded the warring Arab factions into an effective whole under Feisal and who, more than anyone else, directed their military movements. The information which he personally was able to secure by his frequent journeys many miles within the Turkish lines, in the disguise of a Turkish woman, was invaluable to Allenby.

At the Paris conference Lawrence stood by Feisal's side and helped contest the French claims. The final outcome was, however, the establishment of the French Syrian mandate, though Feisal was recognized as ruler of the part of the interior of the country, including the cities of Aleppo, Damascus, Hamah and Homs, though he was to act under French advisers. Apparently this compromise has not worked out as hoped for or the French military operations now reported would not have been necessary.

Some weeks ago there was a statement from Lawrence published in which he gave the information that his work in the Near East was finished. He accompanied it with a criticism of Allied policy there. In the August number of "Asia," an American magazine which deals with Oriental problems, Mr. Lowell Thomas presents Lawrence's views at greater length. He recognizes the difficulties which had to be faced and there is not wholesale denunciation included in it.

What he fears is that sufficient attention is not being paid to the outstanding characteristics of the Arab people. They resent outside interference. It was because of this resentment as directed against the Turk, that he was able to unite them on the Allied side during the war. But, he warns the public, the protest "next time may be launched against France, Italy, the United States or any Western nation that develops a tendency to be disregarding of another people's deep-seated racial sentiments." What strikes the Journal as a most significant utterance follows:

"When Lawrence goes on, 'you can understand the point of view of another race, you are a civilized being. I think that England (out of sheer conceit and not because of any inherent virtue in my countrymen) has been less guilty in its contacts than other nations. We do not wish other people to be like us, to conform to our customs, because we regard imitation of ourselves as blasphemous.' Not in recent times, at least, has the English genius for controlling alien races by these methods been so forcibly illustrated as in the career of Lawrence himself. It could not be more arrogant. Nothing about it is so exceptional as the manner in which his connection with the Arabs ceased. Mr. Thomas asked one of Feisal's generals at Paris how the Arabs intended to repay Lawrence for his great service. He replied:

"We have offered him everything we have, but he refuses to accept anything. But if he will consent we wish to give him the exclusive archaeological rights to all the buried cities of Arabia and Syria."

It is refreshing in an age when most people talk so exclusively in terms of money, to find at least one man who has done big things who finds his reward entirely in the service performed.

Lawrence has gone back to his archaeological studies, which he is pursuing in almost complete retirement at Oxford and in London. Nor must it be thought that he has a private income which makes him independent of money. He has no such assured income; but his needs are so simple that he can get along with very small earnings.

When the war was over it was expected that Lawrence would return to Asia Minor and help the Arabs build up their new state. Mr. Thomas explains why he has not done so.

"It is conceivable," he tells us, "that because of his tremendous influence over the Arabs during the war, he might at the outset have had a large following. But in a few months someone would have raised the cry 'away with the infidel!' If he had remained in Damascus simply in the capacity of adviser to Feisal, that action alone would have caused the Emir's downfall. The Arabs are jealous, spiteful and suspicious, and they would have accused Feisal of being a mere puppet manipulated by Lawrence. If Lawrence craved power, I believe he might have made himself dictator of Arabia merely by becoming a Moslem. But nothing could be more remote from his mind. He had no personal motive behind his action. His only ambition was to defeat the Turks and give the Arabs their freedom in order that they might work out their own salvation."

"Could there be a more legitimate pride than that which Britabara have in producing such men to help

In the carrying of the Empire's burden? The English preacher Stephen Jenkins was not a highly educated man, but he had a native wit which often helped him out of difficulties. One Sunday, while reading as the Scripture lesson, the third chapter of Daniel he came to a batch of words that gave him trouble. "At what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer," etc. Now this list of instruments is repeated several times in the chapter, and the second time he stumbled through it with even greater difficulty than the first. Before he reached it again, however, he had discovered a way of escape. So the third time he renewed himself and his listeners by reading with the utmost gravity, "And the sound ye hear as before."—Boston Transcript

IF ELECTORS PASS
SEWERAGE BYLAW

Reeve Watson Gives Pledge
to Meeting at Cloverdale;
Sentiment Favorable

"There will be no drydock stunt" with regard to the Saanich sewerage system, Reeve Watson assured a questioner at Tolmie School Saturday evening.

He was speaking at a Ward II, Saanich, meeting in support of the sewer and water by-laws. Mr. Watson was asked how soon the work would begin if the by-law is voted upon on Saturday favorably. He could not pledge himself to the exact date of starting work, but stated there would be no unnecessary delay on the matter.

"I contend," he stated, "that no one area should have the power to deprive another in the municipality of sewers if they want them." He declared that the council would like some assurance that Wards II and VII were a unit on the question, but time prevented the calling of preliminary meetings except during the actual campaign in support of the measures. He was not there to talk the electors into voting for the sewer measure, but to lay the facts before them.

Day Labor

R. McNicol: "Is the Reeve in favor of day labor?"

Mr. Watson: "I am in favor of the engineer submitting a bid on the work at the time contracts are invited, and if the engineer's figure is anywhere near the contractors, I am anxious to see the work done by day labor."

The Reeve, continuing, explained the situation with regard to the northwest sewer, and stated in answer to ex-Reeve Nicholson that while the agreement with the City of Victoria was only signed this year, the interest had been mounting up for a number of years, hence the advance to $54,000.

The Reeve warned the meeting that whatever view the electors might take on Saturday every election thereafter, till the debt was honored, would find a sewer by-law submitted, because that undertaking had been made with the City of Victoria.

The Councillors Speak

Councillor Graham, representative of the ward, read the statement and reports, which have already appeared in The Times, and explained to the meeting what the actual cost would be to a fifty-foot lot. He estimated that the cost would not press heavily on the district.

Councillor Dooley was wholeheartedly for the sewers, and recommended an affirmative vote on Saturday in the interests of public health and the urgency of starting remunerative employment for the idle. Mr. Dooley stated that the day of the septic tank was done, and there were not a half a dozen acting efficiently in the whole municipality.

Varying Opinions

Needless to say, conflicting opinions were then expressed on the merits of the scheme from the body of the hall, but the general feeling was distinctly favorable to the scheme. Ernest Orr strongly urging an affirmative vote.

Gordon Head Water

To Reeve Watson and Councillor Clark fell the duty of explaining the Gordon Head water scheme to the meeting. The Reeve explained that he had no personal interest in the success of the by-law, as he had a sufficient supply, but he believed that the residents of Gordon Head and Calboro Bay had spent more money in recent years in seeking water than it would have cost to put in an efficient water system from Shelbourne Street. He repudiated the suggestion from the audience that the scheme was a real estate suggestion to encourage the movement in realty now going on in that district.

Councillor Clark supported the by-law strongly, but fell in for criticism when he renewed the expression of the view he stated in council that the sewer measure had not been sufficiently considered to be placed before the people after the receipt of the consulting engineer's report, which showed material variation from the municipal engineer's report.

This remark led to interruption, the councillor being asked why he came to Ward II, to ask them to vote for the water by-law while he was lukewarm on the sewer measure.

Councillor Clark replied that he was satisfied for the urban wards to get the sewers (if they wanted them, but said he was sure the council was not satisfied with the reports of the engineers. If the by-law was defeated Councillor Clark hoped to see a new measure next year.

Mr. Orr said sewers had been promised to the district for years, and they had not got them. It was nonsense to talk about lower cost of material and labor when everything was going up.

The meeting broke up without submitting a resolution on the matter. J. C. Richards, president of the Central Ratepayers' Association, acted as chairman, and controlled a somewhat difficult meeting with success.

VEGETABLE BEEF-STEAKS.

The vegetable beef-steak grows on the oak tree. It is fungus, which is dark red above and flesh-colored below. When it is cut through, the alternate dark and light streaks exactly resemble the joint from which it gets its name. It is a wholesome article of food.

During a wet season this fungus grows about seven feet from the ground. It may be broiled, stewed, fried, or, if preferred, treated like beetroot and added to the salad bowl.

The lace-bark tree provides the women of Jamaica with ready-made lace, from which caps, bonnets, and nets are made. The inner bark of the tree is soaked in water and divided into separate layers. Each layer is stretched and spread in the sunshine. The application of water bleaches the lace.

A tree that flourishes in the South Sea Island produces fruit which, as a food, resembles very closely a newly-baked loaf. On account of this it is known as the bread-tree.—Fitz-Bits.

Lessons in Tire-Saving

THE Goodyear Tire Conservation Course, in 6 lessons, is a miniature encyclopedia of tire-saving, outlining for the benefit of the motorist the things he should do to prevent tire injuries, and to cure those injuries if they do occur. Its specific purpose is to help squeeze the very last mile out of tires.

The course parallels the service of the Goodyear Service Station Dealer. He, also, will explain to you the prevention of, and the cures for, tread cuts, under-inflation, wheels out of line, sand blisters, fabric breaks; he will supply you with Goodyear Tire Savers which will prolong the life of your tires. He can test your wheels for alignment. He can calculate the proper air pressure for your tires. The motorist who utilizes this service is getting extra mileage—lower cost-per-mile—than the motorist who buys on a price or discount basis.

In the local Goodyear Service Station you will find the Goodyear Tire Conservation Course displayed in the holder shown here. Ask for your set.

and price range from $125 per acre. One-quarter cash.

Write, phone or call for plan—do it today.

This is not a subdivision in the bush nor one of difficult access to the city (it's only 5 miles out). It is a close-in, subdivision where values are bound to increase owing to the demand for property in this and other parts of the Saanich district. The demand is keen for both residential and agricultural purposes, for people are realizing that it is by far healthier and cheaper to live outside the city.

With the reasonable prices and terms we are asking we expect quick disposition of this land, and the present indications are that it will take but a few weeks to dispose of it.

Don't forget to write, phone or call for plan and any further particulars you may desire.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE CANDIDATES HEARD IN CLOVERDALE

D. S. Tait Describes Extra Subjects as "Basic Essentials" of Education.

D. S. Tait, candidate for the Saanich School Board, speaking in support of his candidature at Tolmie School Saturday evening, described the subjects in the curriculum which are described by the opposition as "frills" to be basic essentials.

As one who had taught in the provincial schools from junior grades up to the principalship of the Rossland school, before he left the profession for the law, Mr. Tait felt he could speak with authority on the subject of education. He defined in a brief historical sketch the development of education, took the view that the Roman motto "Mens sana in corpore sano" expressed best the system of modern educational thought—a sound body housing a sound mind.

He had taken the manual training work as taught in the Saanich schools, and was confident that it was satisfactory although not on the advanced lines of European continental development. Yet whatever defects there were, that training was better than none at all, and in body, hand and eye training the greater results for future life were developed in the children, said Mr. Tait.

Bad Cooking and Family Feuds
In addition to supporting manual training, Mr. Tait took the view that the domestic science work was more than mere cooking, and that, as a lawyer, he had had personal knowledge of many cases where homes were broken up because of the lack of home management by the mother.

Clarence Oldfield declared himself the candidate of the Central Ratepayers' Association, in favor of cutting out "frills," yet having efficiency in the school curriculum. They could, he contended, practice economy without impairing the education of the children.

Large Failure Percentages
Trustee Holloway, the only member of the Board supporting economy as evidenced in the anti-frill poll, gave figures to show that of eighty-seven candidates submitted for the High School entrance examination in Saanich last year, thirty-three passed, and fifteen of the latter number by a narrow margin. He contended the system was defective, and advocated concentration on a limited number of subjects in which the pupils would be properly schooled.

If it was essential, said Mr. Holloway, to teach these extra subjects, they should not be commenced before fourteen years of age, and then in special technical or industrial schools.

A remark from Major Hibben with regard to the children often being underfed led to a warm debate in which almost everyone participated, the argument being that the Old Country children now resident in the district were better educated in comparison with those of their younger brothers and sisters who had passed through British Columbia schools.

Food and Instruction
Several of the audience instanced cases in their own families, and Councillor Dooley particularly stated that it had been the experience in his own family. Although the children of the British workmen were gone too well fed in their growing years they made better progress at school, he said.

This remark led to great controversy, and the meeting broke up after hearing a defence from John Kyle of the attitude of the Department of Education to special subjects. Mr. Kyle, as Director of Technical Education, attempted to straighten out the impression of some remarks of J.

MRS. LEWIS OF BROOKLYN

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—For one year I was miserable from a displacement, which caused a general run-down condition with headaches and pains in my side. My sister induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I found it helped me very much and such a splendid tonic that I am recommending it to any woman who has similar troubles.—Mrs. Elsie G. Lewis, 30 Vernon Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Such conditions as Mrs. Lewis suffered from may be caused by a fall or a general weakened run-down condition of the system, and the most successful remedy to restore strength to muscles and tissue and bring about a normal healthy condition—has proved to be this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have disturbing symptoms you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

W. Gibson, Director of Agricultural Education, and found some difficulty in convincing the audience.
Mr. Cheetham warned the meeting against the wild cat schemes contemplated by the majority members of the board, whom he proceeded to name, but was checked by Chairman J. C. Richards, president of the Central Ratepayers' Association, on the ground that it was unfair to attack the absent.

COUGAR FATTENS, GROWS PLAYFUL

Romps Around Northern Part of City—Likes Chicken Dinners

Persons who are out after the amiable panther that is strolling through the back yards in the Cloverdale and Shelbourne Street districts living on chicken dinners with goat suppers at night, expect to get him almost any day now.

The cougar on his plump hen roose fare is growing too fat for his own good and is becoming lazy and careless. He is growing such a corporation that apertures in fences through which he could once pass quite easily are no longer big enough.

Besides the pedigree goat of J. W. Pomeroy taken several days ago, the cougar has consumed two more goats on Lansdowne Road and innumerable chickens. Goats seem to be his favorite, however, probably because they are easy to track by their scent. He also has taken one or two calves.

Has Own Meat Stores.
Persons on his trail explain that he is very careful about his goat meat. None of it is ever wanted. What he does not eat when he makes the killing, he buries in a deep hole where it is kept cool and hidden. When he becomes hungry he returns to this storehouse and digs enough for a meal.

Persons who have been trailing the cougar have hoped to catch him at one of his meat stores when he is getting a meal under way. So far, however, he has not been fooled. He now has so many private meat stores around the district where there are choice legs of goat, shoulders of calves and preserved chickens that when he sees persons too near one, he trots off and goes to another store for his meal.

Frisky in Evening.
Outside of his visits to his stores, when he is always circumspect, he is being much of his timidity. Not only has he several times been seen playing in the Cloverdale district in the warm nights, but he recently visited the orchard of George McGregor. He seems almost anxious to make friends with anybody. Those who have seen him lately say that the more rotund and plump he gets the jollier he becomes.

Bands of hunters have been organized and with trained cougar dogs they have scoured the northern part of the city. They have never been able to come close on his trail when anyone had a rifle. When there is no organized hunting on the cougar seems to be around playing

To End Chicken Dinners.
Panther trackers in the district say that it is almost impossible for the dogs to follow this animal's trail as the ground is too dry just now. To be able to do anything they have to get on his track with the dogs within thirty minutes after he has been around.

As soon as the first rain falls a big hunt with dogs will be organized. After that it is thought there will be no more free goat and chicken dinners in the district.

Australia has cows enough to give each man, woman, and child in the continent three each; while Argentina can do even better. There are five cattle to each inhabitant in the South American republic.

BEST HONEY AT CAMPBELL RIVER

W. H. Turnbull has returned to New Westminster after an inspection trip which covered the beekeepers' places on Vancouver Island and as far up the coast as Rock Bay. Ninety-five per cent of beekeepers in those districts are now registered, and as a result there were demands for inspection, hence this trip, the first of its kind.

Mr. Turnbull was away two weeks and was immensely pleased with the results of his tour. He states that the stock is mostly good Italian, and the holdings run from one to thirty-five colonies. The best crop of honey was at Campbell River, where Mrs. Morris Peterson had an average of 150 sections to a colony, of exceptionally good quality product.—A. H. Honey, I have seen none better." Beekeepers everywhere during the trip were anxious to take advantage of the presence of the inspector, and frequently fetched him long distances to their ranches and farms, and returned him to headquarters, after a conference with him on the spot.

ALL IN ONE WORD.

As the man and the maid strolled through the picture gallery, the woman stopped before one of the exhibits.

"Oh, how sweet!" she breathed. "I wonder what it means!" questioned the young fellow, as he eyed the pictured pair who clung together in an attitude of love and longing. "Oh, Charlie, don't you see?" the girl chided tenderly. "He has just asked her to marry him, and she has consented. It's lovely! What does the artist call the picture?"

"The young man leaned nearer and eyed a label on the frame. "I see!" he cried. "It's printed on this card here—'Sold!'—Fit-Bits (London)."
