CHAPTER 16.

An act to amend sections one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-six of the Political Code, relating to the national guard of the State of California.

[Approved January 26, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand nine hundred fifty-three of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1953. No person shall hereafter be commissioned as an officer of the national guard unless he shall have been selected from the following classes and shall have taken and subscribed to the oath of office prescribed in section seventy-three of the act of congress approved June 3, 1916: Officers or enlisted men of the federally recognized national guard; officers, active or retired, reserve officers, and former officers of the army, navy, or marine corps; enlisted men and former enlisted men of the army, navy, or marine corps who have received an honorable discharge therefrom; graduates of the United States military and naval academies; and graduates of schools, colleges, universities, and officers' training camps, where they have received military instruction under the supervision of an officer of the regular army who certified their fitness for appointment as commissioned officers; and for the technical branches or staff corps and departments, such other civilians as may be specially qualified for duty therein; provided, that all medical officers shall be regularly graduated, licensed and

of national guard
officers.

practicing physicians or surgeons, licensed to practice their profession in California, or shall have been surgeons in the United States army or navy. All judge advocates of the national guard of California shall be members of the bar of the supreme court of the State of California. All engineer officers, except engineer officers of the naval militia of California, must be graduate engineers, able to design as well as to direct engineering works. All chaplains shall be regularly ordained priests or ministers of the gospel of some denomination; provided, further, that persons having served in the army, navy, or marine corps of the United States, of this state or any other state in the United States, and who have not been honorably discharged therefrom shall not be eligible for a commission in the national guard of the State of California.

SEC. 2 Section one thousand nine hundred fifty-six of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Age of retirement.

1956. To comply with the provisions of section 110, of the act of congress entitled "An act for making further and more effectual provisions for the national defense, and for other purposes," approved June 3, 1916, it is hereby provided that staff officers, including officers of the pay, inspection, subsistence, and medical departments, now on the active list or hereafter appointed shall have had previous military experience and shall hold their positions until they shall have reached the age of sixty-four years, unless retired prior to that time by reason of resignation, disability, or for cause to be determined by a court martial legally convened for that purpose, and that vacancies among said officers shall be filled by appointment from the officers of the militia of this state.

Repeal.

SEC. 3. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Urgency
measure.

SEC. 4. Inasmuch as the provisions of the existing law relating to the national guard are in conflict with the provisions of the national defense act, and the provisions herein contained are necessary to enable the national guard of this state to comply with the requirements of said national defense act at the earliest possible date, this act is declared to be necessary for the public interests and to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section one of article four of the constitution.

CHAPTER 17.

An act to repeal an act entitled "An act granting rights of way for lines, roads, structures, levees, canals and excavations to the United States, over the public lands of this state," approved March 21, 1907.

[Approved January 25, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An act entitled "An act granting rights of way for lines, roads, structures, levees, canals and excavations to the United States, over the public lands of this state," approved March 21, 1907, is hereby repealed. Stats. 1907,
p. 848
repealed.

SEC. 2. Inasmuch as it has been contended that the aforesaid act hereby repealed authorized the interference with the natural conditions prevailing with respect to certain interstate fresh water lakes in this state and the disturbance of the outlets of such lakes by excavation of the lands belonging to this state lying under or adjacent to such outlets and inasmuch as any such interference or disturbance would occasion much damage to citizens of this state and interfere with their water supply and might lead to serious conflict and breaches of the peace, it is hereby declared that this act is an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, peace and safety and that under the provisions of section one of article four of the state constitution an emergency exists, and this act shall take effect immediately. Emergency measure.

SECTION 1. The sum of seven hundred fifty dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to meet the deficiency in the appropriation for salaries of assemblymen for the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years.

Deficiency
appropriation:
salaries of assemblymen.

SEC. 2. Inasmuch as this act provides an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state, it is hereby declared an urgency measure and shall, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 21.

An act making an appropriation to meet the deficiency in the appropriation for the mileage of assemblymen for the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years.

[Approved March 4, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Deficiency
appropriation:
mileage of assemblymen.

SECTION 1. The sum of three thousand five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to meet the deficiency in the appropriation for the mileage of assemblymen for the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years.

SEC. 2. Inasmuch as this act provides an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state, it is hereby declared an urgency measure and shall, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 22.

An act to amend sections three thousand six hundred sixty-four a, three thousand six hundred sixty-four b, three thousand six hundred sixty-four c and three thousand six hundred sixty-four d of the Political Code, all relating to taxation of public service and other corporations, banks and insurance companies for the benefit of the state.

[Approved March 5, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand six hundred sixty-four a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Public utilities
state tax.

3664a. 1. All railroad companies, including street railways, whether operated in one or more counties; all sleeping car, dining car, drawing-room car and palace car companies, all refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loading, and other car companies, operating upon the railroads in this state; all companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel, or stage line in this state; all telegraph and telephone companies; and all companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity shall annually pay to the state a tax upon their franchises, roadways, roadbeds, rails, rolling stock, poles, wires, pipes, canals, conduits, rights of way, and other property, or any part thereof, used exclusively in the operation of their business in this state, computed as follows: Said tax shall be equal to the percentages hereinafter fixed upon the gross receipts from operation of such companies and each thereof within this state.

2. When such companies are operating partly within and partly without this state, the gross receipts within this state shall be deemed to be all receipts on business beginning and ending within this state, and a proportion, based upon the proportion of the mileage within this state to the entire mileage over which such business is done, of receipts on all business passing through, into, or out of this state.

Companies partly within and without state.

3. The percentages above mentioned shall be as follows: On all railroad companies, seven per cent; on all street railways, herein defined to include interurban electric railways and gaso-line propelled railways, five and a quarter per cent; on all sleeping car, dining car, drawingroom car, palace car companies, refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loaning, and other car companies, five and one-quarter per cent; on all companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel or stage line, one per cent; on all telegraph and telephone companies, five and one-half per cent; on all companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity, seven and one-half per cent.

Percentages.

4. Such taxes shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon the property above enumerated of such companies except as otherwise provided in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state.

In lieu of other taxes.

5. The word "municipal" as used in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and in the sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect shall apply to incorporated towns and cities formed under article eleven of the constitution of this state and to none other.

"Municipal" defined.

In the event that it shall be hereafter finally determined by the courts that the legislature is without power to fix a different percentage upon the gross receipts from operation of street railways than the percentage herein fixed for railroad companies, then the percentage upon the gross receipts from operation of street railways is hereby fixed at seven per cent.

Percentage for street railways.

SEC. 2. Section three thousand six hundred sixty-four b of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3664*b*. Every insurance company or association doing business in this state shall annually pay to the state a tax of two and sixty hundredths per cent upon the amount of the gross premiums received upon its business done in this state, less return premiums and reinsurance in companies or associations authorized to do business in this state; provided, that there shall be deducted from said two and sixty hundredths per cent upon the gross premiums the amount of any county and municipal taxes paid by such companies on real estate owned by them in this state. This tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon the property of such companies, except county and municipal taxes on real estate, and except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state; provided, that when by the laws of any other state or country, any taxes, fines,

Tax on gross premiums of insurance companies.

penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, are imposed on insurance companies of this state, doing business in such other state or country, or upon their agents therein, in excess of such taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, imposed upon insurance companies of such other state or country, so long as such laws continue in force, the same obligations and prohibitions of whatsoever kind must be imposed by the insurance commissioner upon insurance companies of such other state or country doing business in this state.

SEC. 3. Section three thousand six hundred sixty-four c of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

bank stock.

3664c. 1. The shares of capital stock of all banks, organized under the laws of this state, or of the United States, or of any other state and located in this state, shall be assessed and taxed to the owners or holders thereof by the state board of equalization, in the manner hereinafter provided, in the city or town where the bank is located and not elsewhere. There shall be levied and assessed upon such shares of capital stock an annual tax, payable to the state, of one and forty-five hundredths per centum upon the value thereof. The value of each share of stock in each bank, except such as are in liquidation, shall be taken to be the amount paid in thereon, together with its pro rata of the accumulated surplus and undivided profits. The value of each share of stock in each bank which is in liquidation shall be taken to be its pro rata of the actual assets of such bank.

other taxes.

2. This tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon such shares of stock and upon the property of such bank, except county and municipal taxes on real estate and except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state.

Value of real estate
deducted.

3. In determining the value of the capital stock of any bank there shall be deducted from the value, as defined above, the value, as assessed for county taxes, of any real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, owned by such bank and taxed for county purposes.

Banks liable for tax.

4. The banks shall be liable to the state for this tax and the same shall be paid to the state by them on behalf of the stockholders in the manner and at the time hereinafter provided, and they shall have a lien upon the shares of stock and upon any dividends declared thereon to secure the amount so paid.

Tax on unincorporated banks, etc.

5. The moneyed capital, reserve, surplus, undivided profits, and all other property belonging to unincorporated banks or bankers of this state, or held by any bank located in this state which has no shares of capital stock, or employed in this state by any branches, agencies, or other representatives of any banks doing business outside of the State of California, shall be likewise assessed and taxed to such banks or bankers by the said board of equalization, in the same manner as above provided for incorporated banks, and taxed at the same rate that is levied upon the shares of capital stock of incorporated banks, as provided in the first paragraph of this section.

6. In the case of a branch, an agency, or other representative of any bank doing business outside of this state, the capital of said branch, agency, or representative used in this state shall be taken to be the average amount owed by the said branch, agency, or representative to the bank of which it is a branch, agency, or representative during the year ending the first Monday in March. The value of said property shall be determined by taking the entire property invested in such business, together with all reserve, surplus, and undivided profits, at their full cash value, and deducting therefrom the value as assessed for county taxes of any real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, owned by such bank or banker and taxed for county purposes. Such taxes shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county and municipal, upon the property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this section, except county and municipal taxes on real estate, and except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state. All moneyed capital and property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this paragraph shall be assessed and taxed at the same rate as an incorporated bank, provided for in this section. In determining the value of the moneyed capital and property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this section, the said state board of equalization shall include and assess to such banks all property and everything of value owned or held by them which would go to make up the value of the capital stock of such banks and bankers, if the same were incorporated and had shares of capital stock.

Branch of bank doing business outside of state.

7. The word "banks" as used in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state and in the sections of this code enacted to carry the same into effect shall include banking associations, unincorporated banks and bankers, branches, agencies or other representatives of any banks doing business outside of the State of California, savings and loan societies, and such trust companies, as conduct the business of receiving money on deposit, but shall not include building and loan associations.

"Banks" defined.

SEC. 4. Section three thousand six hundred sixty-four d of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3664*d*. All franchises, other than those of the companies mentioned in sections three thousand six hundred sixty-four a, three thousand six hundred sixty-four b, and three thousand six hundred sixty-four c of this code, shall be assessed at their actual cash value, after making due deduction for good will, in the manner hereinafter provided, and shall be taxed at the rate of one and six-tenths per centum each year, and the taxes collected thereon shall be exclusively for the benefit of the state. These franchises shall include the actual exercise of the right to be a corporation and to do business as a corporation under the laws of this state and the actual exercise of the right to do business as a corporation in this state when such right is exercised by a corporation incorporated under the laws of any other state or country, also the right, authority, privilege, or permission to maintain wharves, ferries, toll roads, and toll bridges, and to construct, maintain or operate, in, under, above, upon, through or along any streets, highways, public places, or waters, any mains, pipes, canals, ditches, tanks, conduits or other means for conducting water, oil, or other substances.

Assessment and tax of franchises.

Procedure in determining tax levy.

SEC. 5. This tax levy, and each and every of the percentages or rates of taxation herein and hereby determined, made, fixed and established to be paid by the persons, firms, companies and corporations specified, described or included in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution, are and have been determined, made, fixed and established after a full, complete, open and public investigation and hearing by and before this legislature upon and respecting the value of each and all of the properties and franchises included within or enumerated in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution, and of all other and different property subject to taxation of any kind within the State of California, of which investigation and hearing every and all persons, firms, companies and corporations concerned therein or affected thereby had due notice; and at which investigation and hearing the legislature took oral and written evidence and at which hearing every and all persons, firms, companies and corporations concerned therein or affected thereby and who desire so to do, were given an opportunity to and did appear and were heard and introduced evidence before this legislature respecting and showing the value of said properties and franchises included within or enumerated in said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution and also respecting and showing the value of all other and different property subject to taxation of any kind within the State of California, and after the due consideration of all of said evidence by this legislature and its ascertainment and determination therefrom and thereon of the value of said and all of said hereinbefore mentioned properties and franchises; and the percentages or rates of taxation herein and hereby determined, fixed and established have been and are determined, fixed and established, and have been and are based, upon the value of each, all and every of the properties and franchises included within or enumerated in said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution as ascertained and determined as aforesaid by this legislature and constitute and are the percentages or rates of taxation ascertained and determined by this legislature which when applied in the manner provided and required by law, do and will levy a tax upon said properties and franchises included within or enumerated in said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution in proportion to the value of the same and in proportion to the value of every and all other and different property subject to taxation of any kind within the State of California as ascertained and determined as aforesaid by this legislature.

SEC. 6. If any section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Constitution-
ality.

SEC. 7. This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy, shall, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution, take effect immediately.

Urgency
measure.

CHAPTER 32.

An act to validate bonds of Marin municipal water district of Marin county, California, and all proceedings relating thereto.

[Approved March 31, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Bonds in the amount of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) of the Marin municipal water district of Marin county, California, known as "water works extension bonds" and all the acts and proceedings of said district and of the board of directors thereof leading up to the special bond election and including the acts of the election officers and the board of directors, sitting as a board of canvassers of the vote had at the special water district bond election, held in said district on November 23, 1920, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes and said bonds when issued and sold shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and valid obligations of said district, and the faith and credit of said district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds, and the said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the legality of all proceedings leading up thereto. Said bonds were authorized by virtue of an election held in said district on November 23, 1920, at which more than two-thirds of the votes cast were in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, as found and determined by the board of directors of said district upon canvassing such election returns. Said finding and determination of the result of said election shall be and is hereby determined to be final and conclusive.

CHAPTER 33.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred three and one-half of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the distribution of estates of deceased persons where a portion of the estate consists of money, and the distributee can not or will not receive distribution thereof personally.

[Approved March 31, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred three and one-half of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1703½. When any estate is distributed by the judgment or decree of the court or a judge thereof, as provided in this chapter, to a distributee who can not be found and his or her place of residence is unknown or to a distributee who refuses to accept the same or to give a proper voucher therefor, or to a minor or incompetent person, who has no lawful guardian to receive the same, or person authorized to receipt therefor, the portion of said estate consisting of money shall be paid to and deposited with the county treasurer of the county in which the estate is being probated, who shall give a receipt for the same, and shall be liable on his official bond therefor; and said receipt shall be deemed and received by the court or judge thereof as a voucher in favor of said executor or administrator, with the same force and effect as if executed by the distributee thereof. And this section shall be applicable to any and all estates now pending in which a final decree of discharge has not been granted. Said moneys so paid into the county treasury, shall be paid out upon petition to, and the order of the superior court or judge thereof to the person entitled to receive the same.

Distribution of estate to person whose address is unknown, etc.

CHAPTER 34.

An act concerning corporations of this state and the issue to employees and to persons actively engaged in the conduct of their business of their stock.

[Approved April 2, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Corporations
permitted to issue stock to employees.

Assent of stockholders.

SECTION 1. In all cases and subject to the manner in which corporations are authorized by existing laws to issue or sell shares of their capital stock any corporation may, with the consent of the stockholders under such restrictions as they shall impose, issue by way of additional compensation, or pursuant to sale, shares of its capital stock, whether of an original or of an increased issue, to employees of the corporation and to persons actively engaged in the conduct of its business, or to trustees for such employees or persons; and if such issue be pursuant to sale, such corporation may provide for payment for such stock in installments or at one time, and may provide for aiding any such employees or such persons in paying for such stock by contributions, compensation for services, or otherwise, with or without the right to vote thereon, pending issue thereof, or payment thereof in full. Such consent may be given by the written assent or assents of stockholders holding two-thirds of the subscribed or issued capital stock, which assent or assents must be filed with the secretary of the corporation, or by a vote of stockholders holding two-thirds of the subscribed or issued capital stock of the corporation, at a regular stockholders' meeting, or at a special meeting for that purpose called in the manner prescribed by section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code. If such approval be by the written assent of stockholders, the directors of the corporation must first adopt a resolution at a regular meeting of the board, or at a special meeting called for that purpose for such issue, stating the maximum amount of stock which it is proposed to issue, and how the price therefor is to be fixed, if said stock is to be sold, or how the same is to be issued, if the same is not sold, and the secretary of the corporation must address by mail, postage fully prepaid, a copy of such resolution to each of the stockholders whose names appear upon the corporation books, at the address of each stockholder as registered on the corporation's books, and if there be none then at the place in which the principal place of business of the corporation is situated, which notice shall be mailed to such stockholders at least thirty days before such written assent of two-thirds of such stockholders shall be final or conclusive.

SEC. 2. Any corporation may provide in its articles of incorporation or by-laws, at the time of organizing the corporation, for the issue of stock to its employees or persons actively engaged in the conduct of its business, as hereinbefore provided. Provision in articles of incorporation.

SEC. 3. Where a corporation has been formed without its charter or by-laws containing provisions for the issue of stock to employees or persons actively engaged in the conduct of its business, as herein provided, any stockholder holding stock issued by such corporation before the enactment of this law, and not voting in favor of such issue or assenting thereto, may, within thirty days after the approval of such issue by two-thirds of the stockholders as herein provided at a regular meeting or special meeting called for that purpose, or by the written assent of two-thirds of the stockholders, as herein provided, filed with the secretary of the corporation, file with the secretary of the corporation a dissent in writing from such issue. The person so dissenting shall, within ten days after the filing of such dissent, and upon five days' notice to the corporation, apply by petition to the superior court of the county in which the corporation has its principal office for the appointment of three disinterested appraisers to appraise the fair value of the stock held by such stockholder in said corporation and issued prior to the enactment of this law without regard to any depreciation or appreciation thereof in consequence of the approval of such issue, whose award (or that of a majority of them) when confirmed by the said court, shall be final and conclusive on all parties, and said corporation shall pay to such stockholder the value of such stock as aforesaid. On receiving such payment, or on a tender thereof, or in case of any legal disability or absence from the state, on the payment of such award into said court, said stock shall be transferred to the said corporation, to be disposed of by the directors thereof or to be retained for the benefit of the remaining stockholders; and in case the said award is not paid within thirty days from the filing of said award and Dissent by stockholder.

confirmation by said court and notice thereof to be given in the manner aforesaid unto such corporation, the amount of the award shall be a judgment against said corporation, and may be collected as other judgments in said court are by law collected. Such court may fill any vacancy in the board of appraisers occurring by refusal or neglect to serve or otherwise. The charges and expenses of the appraisers and appraisal as approved by the court shall be paid by the corporation; provided, however, that the corporation may at any time before the proceedings hereinbefore mentioned are instituted or completed, in case of sale of stock pursuant to the provisions hereof, elect to permit such dissenting stockholder to subscribe for his proportionate share of such stock issued at the price at which stock is so sold to employees or to persons actively engaged in the conduct of the business of the corporation, in which event the said proceedings shall not be instituted, or, if instituted, shall be terminated upon the payment of the appraisal expenses as aforesaid by the corporation.

Stock subject

act.

SEC. 4. Any issue of stock pursuant to the authority of this act shall be subject to the provisions of the act approved May 18, 1917, chapter five hundred thirty-two of the laws of 1917 and any amendments thereto.

Sale of stock not affected

SEC. 5. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to control, limit or otherwise affect the power of any corporation to issue, by way of sale or otherwise, shares of its capital stock, whether to employees or those actively engaged in the conduct of its business or to other persons.

Constitution-
ality.

SEC. 6. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

An act to make available for the use of the United States government suitable places in this state for the public defense and other federal purposes and uses and for that purpose authorizing any county or municipal corporation now or hereafter organized to incur indebtedness, issue negotiable bonds, levy taxes to pay the principal and interest thereof, acquire by condemnation or otherwise land within the county or municipal corporation and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation to convey the same to the United States; conferring on such counties and municipal corporalions the power of eminent domain for the purposes of this act and providing the procedure therefor; granting the consent of the state to such conveyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the land so conveyed, and to repeal an act entitled, "An act to make available for the use of the United States war department suitable places in this state for the public defense, and for that purpose authorizing any county or municipal corporation now or hereafter organized to incur indebtedness, issue negotiable bonds, levy taxes to pay the principal and interest thereof, acquire by condemnation or otherwise land within the county or municipal corporation, and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation to convey the same to the United States for the use of the war department thereof; conferring on such counties and municipal corporations the power of eminent domain for the purposes of this act and providing the procedure therefor; granting the consent of the state to such conveyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the land so conveyed," approved April 21, 1919.

[Approved April 2, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county or the legislative body of any municipal corporation now or hereafter organized in this state shall consider it desirable or expedient to tender to the United States for the use of the war department or the navy department thereof, and for other federal purposes and uses, a designated tract or parcel of land at such location or locations within any such county or municipal corporation as may be determined upon by the said board of supervisors or legislative body, and such board of supervisors or legislative body shall also determine that it is desirable for the general welfare and benefit of the people of such county or municipal corporation and for the interests of the county or municipal corporation to incur an indebtedness in an amount sufficient to acquire land in such county or municipal corporation aggregating approximately the number of acres so designated at such location or locations as may have been selected and designated by the said board of supervisors or legislative body and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation, to convey all such lands to the United States to be used by the war department, navy department or for other governmental purposes or uses of the United States, such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered by and through its said board of supervisors or legislative body to incur an indebtedness evidenced by negotiable bonds of such county or municipal corporation for such purposes, in any amount not exceeding, together with all existing bonded indebtedness of such county or municipal corporation, five per cent of the taxable property of the county or municipal corporation, as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof, whenever two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county or municipal corporation voting thereon shall assent thereto, at any election either general or special, at which the proposal to incur such bonded indebtedness may be submitted to such electors in the manner provided by law.

Bonds.

SEC. 2. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of a county shall be issued in the manner provided for in section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code, and a payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said section for the payment of principal and interest of other bonds issued by any county, and said section, except as herein modified, is hereby specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of municipal corporations shall be issued in the manner provided for in an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, townships and municipal corporation for municipal improvements, regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," which became a law on February 25, 1901, without the approval of the governor, and the amendments thereto, and the payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said act for the payment of the principal and interest on other bonds issued by any such municipal corporation, and said act, except as herein modified is specially made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act.

Right of eminent domain granted.

SEC. 3. The acquisition of land for the use thereof by the war, navy or other departments of the United States and all such military, naval or other governmental purposes and uses as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States is hereby declared to be a public use, and the right of eminent domain is hereby granted and extended to every county and municipal corporation availing itself of the provisions of this act for every purpose of condemnation, appropriation or disposition intended by this act and such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and appropriate all lands and rights whatsoever necessary or convenient for carrying out the provisions of this act. Such right of eminent domain may be exercised on behalf of such public use in accordance with the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California.

Title to conveyed lands.

SEC. 4. Pursuant to the constitution and laws of the United States and especially to paragraph seventeen of section eight of article one of such constitution, the consent of the legislature of the State of California is hereby given to the United States to acquire, upon the conditions and for the purposes herein set forth, from any county or municipal corporation acting under the provisions of this act, title to all lands herein intended to be referred to; such title to be evidenced by a deed or deeds of such county or municipal corporation signed by the chairman of said board of supervisors or the chairman of said legislative body and attested by the clerk of such county or municipal corporation under seal, and consent of the State of California is hereby given to the exercise by the congress of the United States of exclusive jurisdiction in all cases whatsoever over such tracts or parcels of land so conveyed by it; subject, however, to the right of the state to have concurrent jurisdiction so far that all process, civil or criminal, issued under authority of the state may be executed by the proper officers thereof within such tract, upon any person or persons amenable to the same in like manner and with like effect as if such conveyance had not been made. The said board of supervisors or legislative body shall have the power to insert in every conveyance made under the authority of this act, such conditions subsequent as such board or legislative body shall deem necessary to insure the use of such lands by the United States government for the purposes herein mentioned and to carry out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 5. An act entitled, "An act to make available for the use of the United States war department suitable places in this state for the public defense, and for that purpose authorizing any county or municipal corporation now or hereafter organized to incur indebtedness, issue negotiable bonds, levy taxes to pay the principal and interest thereof, acquire by condemnation or otherwise land within the county or municipal corporation, and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation to convey the same to the United States for the use of the war department thereof; conferring on such counties and municipal corporations the power of eminent domain for the purposes of this act and providing the procedure therefor; granting the consent of the state to such conveyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the land so conveyed," approved April 21, 1919, is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 36.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of drainage districts, for the drainage of agricultural lands other than swamp and overflowed lands, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the drainage of the lands embraced within such districts," approved March 20, 1903, by amending sections twenty-nine, thirty-six, thirty-eight and thirty-nine thereof.

[Approved April 8, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

p. 300.

SECTION 1. Section twenty-nine of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of drainage districts, for the drainage of agricultural lands other than swamp and overflowed lands, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the drainage of the lands embraced within such districts," approved March 20, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sale of
bonds.

Sec. 29. The board may sell said bonds from time to time in such quantities as may be necessary and most advantageous, to raise money for the construction of said drains and works, the acquisition of said property and rights, and otherwise to fully carry out the objects and purposes of this act. Before making any sale the board shall, at a meeting, by resolution, declare its intention to sell a specified amount of the bonds, and the day and hour and place of such sale, and shall cause such resolution to be entered in the minutes, and notice of the sale to be given, by publication thereof at least three weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors is located, and in any other newspaper, at its discretion. The notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by the board at their office, for the purchase of bonds, till the day and hour named in the resolution. At the time appointed the board shall open the proposals, and award the purchase of the bonds to the highest responsible bidder; provided, however, that they may reject all bids. Said board shall, in no event, sell any of the said bonds for less than ninety (90) per cent of the par value thereof.

p. 303.

SEC. 2. Section thirty-six of said act approved March 20, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Value of

Sec. 36. It shall be unlawful to sell or exchange any of the bonds as herein provided for less than ninety (90) per cent of their par value.

Stats. 1903,
p. 303.

SEC. 3. Section thirty-eight of said act approved March 20, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bonds may be sold from time to time.

Sec. 38. When said bonds are issued for the purpose of sale to the highest bidder, the board may sell said bonds from time to time, in such quantities as may be necessary and most advantageous, to raise money to pay bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness of the district which were outstanding at the time of the filing of said petition, and generally described therein. Resolution of intention must be declared and notice given, and the sale conducted in the manner prescribed in section twenty-nine of this act for the sale of original bonds. Said bonds shall in no event be sold for less than ninety (90) per cent of their par value including accrued interest. All moneys realized from the sale of bonds, issued under the provisions of this section, shall be paid into the hands of the said treasurer, and by him kept in a separate fund, known as the funding fund, and shall be applied exclusively to the payment of bonds, coupons, or other evidences of indebtedness of the district outstanding at the time of filing of the said petition, and described therein.

Sec. 4. Section thirty-nine of said act approved March 20, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats.
p. 303.

Sec. 39. The bonds issued as herein provided for may be exchanged, at not less than ninety (90) per cent of their par value, including accrued interest, for any of the indebtedness set out and described in the notice of the election authorizing the issuance of said refunding bonds. A contract for such exchange may be made by the board of directors upon such terms as said board may deem advisable; provided, that they must receive not less than ninety (90) per cent of par value for the bonds so exchanged.

An act to amend section fifteen of an act entitled, "An act to regulate the use and operation of vehicles upon the public highways and elsewhere; to provide for the registration and identification of motor vehicles and for the payment of registration fees therefor; to provide for the licensing of persons operating motor vehicles; to prohibit certain persons from operating vehicles upon the public highways; to prohibit the possession or use of a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner thereof, and to prohibit the offer to or acceptance by certain persons of any bonus or discount or other consideration for the purchase of supplies or parts for motor vehicles, or for work or repair done thereon; to provide penalties for violations of provisions of this act, and to provide for the disposition of fines and forfeitures imposed thereon; to limit the power of local authorities to enact or enforce ordinances, rules or regulations in regard to matters embraced within the provisions of this act; to provide for the disposition of registration and license fees, fines and forfeitures collected hereunder; to create a motor vehicle department and to provide for the organization and conduct thereof; to provide for carrying out the objects of this act, and to make appropriation therefor; and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved May 11, 1915, as amended.

[Approved May 3, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 212.

SECTION 1. Section fifteen of an act entitled "An act to regulate the use and operation of vehicles upon the public highways and elsewhere; to provide for the registration and identification of motor vehicles and for the payment of registration fees therefor; to provide for the licensing of persons operating motor vehicles; to prohibit certain persons from operating vehicles upon the public highways; to prohibit the possession or use of a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner thereof, and to prohibit the offer to or acceptance by certain persons of any bonus or discount or other consideration for the purchase of supplies or parts for motor vehicles, or for work or repair done thereon; to provide penalties for violations of provisions of this act, and to provide for the disposition of fines and forfeitures imposed thereon; to limit the power of local authorities to enact or enforce ordinances, rules or regulations in regard to matters embraced within the provisions of this act; to provide for the disposition of registration and license fees, fines and forfeitures collected hereunder; to create a motor vehicle department and to provide for the organization and conduct thereof; to provide for carrying out the objects of this act, and to make appropriation therefor; and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved May 11, 1915, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Cleats, etc.,
on tires.

Sec. 15. (a) Other than on vehicles actually engaged at the time in construction or repair work on public highways, no tire on any motor or other vehicle operated on or over any public highway or bridge shall have on its periphery any block, stud, flange, cleat, ridge, bead or any other protuberance of metal or wood which projects beyond the tread or traction surface of the tire; but this section shall not be so construed as to prohibit the use of tire chains of reasonable proportions on motor vehicles when required for safety because of snow, ice or other conditions tending to cause such motor vehicle to slide or skid; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, may be operated upon the public highways with transverse corrugations upon the periphery of said movable tracks, on condition that a permit shall first have been obtained as hereinafter in this section provided.

(b) No motor or other vehicle shall be operated on or over any public highway or bridge, nor shall any object be moved over or upon any public highway or bridge on wheels, rollers, or otherwise, except when transported in or upon vehicles running exclusively on stationary rails or tracks, in excess of a total weight, including load, of thirty thousand pounds, when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance is equipped with four wheels running on the highway, or in excess of a total weight, including load, of forty thousand pounds when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance shall be equipped with six wheels running on the highway and with three axles not less than ninety-six inches apart, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided.

Total
limit.

(c) No motor or other vehicle or other object, or contrivance for moving loads, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, shall be operated or moved upon or over any public highway or bridge, the weight including the load of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds seven hundred pounds upon any inch of the channel base width of tire, when said vehicle is equipped with tires made of other material than metal; and no motor or other vehicle, object, or contrivance for moving loads shall be operated or moved upon or over any public highway or bridge the weight including the load of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds five hundred pounds upon any inch of width of tire, roller, wheel, or other object supported on the surface thereof when such tires or the rolling surface of such rollers, wheels, or other objects are made in whole or in part of metal, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, shall not be subject to the foregoing limitations upon permissible weights per inch of width of tire if the portions of the movable tracks in contact with the surface of the highway present plane surfaces: and provided, further, that cities heretofore or hereafter organized under freeholders' charters may permit or prohibit the increase, beyond the maximum weight per inch of width of tire hereinabove prescribed, of the weight of loads carried within the limits of such cities in or upon metal-tired vehicles drawn by muscular power, but where any such city has not by proper and suitable ordinance or other regulation permitted or prohibited such increase of maximum weight of loads, the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act shall not apply.

limit per inch of tire width.

In freeholders' charters cities.

No solid rubber tire shall be used on any motor or other vehicle or contrivance for moving loads over any public highway or bridge unless such tire has rubber on its entire traction surface at least one inch thick above the edge of the flange.

Solid rubber tires.

Regulation
by county.

The supervisors of any county shall have power to require a lighter load on county roads in their respective counties.

Penalty.

Any person violating the provisions of this subsection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable to a penalty of twenty dollars for each full ton in excess of the limitation herein imposed, and any peace officer making the arrest of the owner or driver of any vehicle violating the provisions of this subsection shall keep said vehicle with its load in his custody until such time as said penalty shall have been paid; provided, that the owner or driver of any such vehicle may give to said peace officer a bond in favor of the State of California in case of state highways, and in the name of the county in which the offense has occurred in the case of county roads, conditioned to secure the payment of said penalty within the time prescribed in said bond. Furthermore, any peace officer may require the owner or the driver to drive any such vehicle to the nearest public scales to be designated by such peace officer for the purpose of establishing the weight and the load of any such vehicle.

limitation.

(d) No motor vehicle shall be operated or driven over any public highway or bridge drawing or having attached thereto more than two trailers; provided, that all four-wheeled trailers excepting light camping trailers shall be equipped with suitable brakes.

Permits
by department
engineering.

(e) Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, upon application in writing to the state department of engineering, said department of engineering in its discretion may issue a special permit to the owner or operator of any vehicle allowing heavier or wider loads than hereinabove in this section or elsewhere in this act permitted to be moved or carried over and on the public highways and bridges, or allowing more than two trailers to be drawn by a motor vehicle; and may also issue such special permit to increase the permissible weights per inch of width of tire and may also permit the use of corrugations on the periphery of the movable tracks of traction engines or tractors propelled not by wheels resting upon the ground but by flexible bands or chains. Such permits shall be in writing and they may limit the time of use and operation over the particular highways and bridges which may be traversed and may contain such special conditions and provisions and require such undertaking or other security as the said department of engineering shall deem to be necessary to protect the public highways and bridges from injury, or provide indemnity for any injury resulting from such operation. All such special permits shall be carried in the vehicles to which they refer and shall upon demand be open to the inspection of any peace officer, any authorized agent of the department of engineering or of the motor vehicle department, or any officer or employee charged with the care or protection of the public highways. It shall be unlawful for any person to violate, or cause or permit to be violated, the limitations or conditions of such special permits and any such violation shall be deemed for all purposes to be a violation of the provisions of this act.

(f) Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the state department of engineering may in its discretion limit the maximum load to be carried over or on any public bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam, below the maximum established by law: provided, however, that in such event said department of engineering shall cause suitable signs to be erected and maintained, specifying such limitation of load, such signs to be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet nor more than one hundred fifty feet from the approaches to such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam. Weight on bridges, etc.

(g) Anything to the contrary in this act notwithstanding, the owner and the operator, driver or mover of any vehicle, object or contrivance over a public highway or bridge, shall be jointly and severally responsible for all damages which said highway or bridge may sustain as the result of so operating or driving or moving such vehicle and the amount of such damages may be recovered in an action at law by the authorities in control of such highway or bridge. Liability for damages.

Sec. 2. One copy of said index shall be distributed to each member of the legislature and the balance of the copies printed shall be offered for sale to the public at the price of seven dollars and fifty cents per volume to cover the cost of publication and distribution. Such portion of the receipts as may be required to complete the cost of printing, publication and distribution shall be paid into the state printing fund, and the balance of such receipts shall be paid into the general fund in the state treasury.

CHAPTER 86.

An act to amend section one thousand fifty-seven a of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to justification by corporate surety on bonds or undertakings.

[Approved May 12, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand fifty-seven a of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Justification
by corporate surety on bonds.

1057a. Whenever the surety on a bond or undertaking authorized or required by any law of this state is a corporation of the state or a foreign corporation, authorized to become surety on bonds or undertakings in the state, and exception is taken to the sufficiency of such surety as required by law, such corporate surety may justify on such bond or undertaking as follows:

Procedure.

Any agent, attorney in fact, or officer of such corporation shall submit to the court, judge, officer, board or other person before whom the justification is to be made:

First—The original, or a certified copy of, the power of attorney, by-laws or other instrument showing the authority of the person or persons who executed the bond or undertaking to execute the same;

Second—A certified copy of the certificate of authority issued by the insurance commissioner as required by section 596 of the Political Code, showing that the corporation is authorized to transact business;

Third—A certificate from the county clerk of the county or city and county in which the bond or undertaking is filed, showing that the said certificate of authority has not been surrendered, revoked, canceled, annulled or suspended, or in the event that it has been, that renewed authority to act under such certificate has been granted, as provided for in section 625a of the Political Code;

Fourth—A financial statement showing the assets and liabilities of such corporation at the end of the quarter calendar year prior to thirty days next preceding the date of the execution of the bond or undertaking; such financial statement must be verified under oath by the president, or a vice-president and attested by the secretary or an assistant secretary of such corporation.

Upon complying with the foregoing provisions and it appearing that the bond or undertaking was duly executed, that the corporation is authorized to transact business in the state, and that its assets exceed its liabilities in an amount equal to or in excess of the amount of the bond or undertaking, the justification of the surety shall be complete and it shall be accepted as the sole and sufficient surety on the bond or undertaking.

The county clerk of any county or city and county shall, upon request, issue the certificate hereinbefore provided for, which certificate shall state whether or not the certificate of authority of such corporation has been surrendered, revoked, canceled, annulled or suspended, and in the event that it has, whether or not renewed authority to act under such certificate of authority has been granted as provided in section 625a of the Political Code. For each certificate issued the county clerk shall receive a fee of fifty cents to be paid by the person obtaining the certificate. County clerk to issue certificate.

SEC. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed. Repealed.

CHAPTER 87.

An act to amend sections two thousand nine hundred sixty-nine and two thousand nine hundred seventy of the Civil Code, relating to attachments and executions upon mortgaged personal property.

[Approved May 12, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two thousand nine hundred sixty-nine of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Attachment
and executions on mortgaged personal property.

2969. Before the property is so taken, the officer must pay or tender to the mortgagee the amount of the mortgage debt and interest, or must deposit the amount thereof with the county clerk or treasurer, payable to the order of the mortgagee: provided, however, that when an attachment or execution creditor presents to the officer a verified statement that the mortgage is void or invalid for reasons therein specified and delivers to the officer a good and sufficient indemnity bond in double the amount of the mortgage debt or double the value of the mortgaged property, as the officer may determine and require, the officer shall take the property, and, in the case of an execution, sell it in the manner provided by law. The bond shall be made to both the officer and the mortgagee and shall indemnify them and each of them for the taking of the property against loss, liability, damages, costs and counsel fees. Exceptions to the sufficiency of the sureties and their justification may be had and taken in the same manner as upon an undertaking on attachment.

SEC. 2. Section two thousand nine hundred seventy of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Application
of proceeds of sale.

2970. When the property is taken after payment or tender of deposit as provided for in section two thousand nine hundred sixty-nine, and is sold under process the officer must apply the proceeds of the sale as follows:

1. To the repayment of the sum paid to the mortgagee, with interest from the date of such payment; and
2. The balance, if any, in like manner as the process of sales under execution are applied in other cases.

When the property is taken after presentation to the officer of the verified statement and bond mentioned in the proviso in section two thousand nine hundred sixty-nine and is sold under process the officer must apply the proceeds of the sale as follows:

1. To the satisfaction of the amount specified in the process including interest and costs; and
2. The balance, if any, in like manner as the proceeds of sales under execution are applied in other cases.

CHAPTER 88.

An act authorizing the governor of California to appoint a representative of the State of California to serve upon a joint commission composed of representatives of the states of Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming and the United States of America, and constituted for the purpose of negotiating and entering into an agreement between the several states hereinabove mentioned and between said states and the United States of America, subject to the consent of congress, respecting further use and disposition of the waters of the Colorado river and streams tributary thereto, and fixing and determining the rights of each of said states and rights of the United States in and to the use, benefit and disposition of the waters of said stream and its tributaries.

[Approved May 12, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The governor of California shall appoint the state engineer who shall serve without additional compensation as the representative of the State of California on a joint commission composed of one representative from each of the states of Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming, and two duly authorized representatives of the United States of America, the principal duty of which commission shall be to negotiate and enter into an agreement between the several states hereinabove mentioned and between the said states and the United States of America, subject to the consent of congress, respecting the further use and disposition of the waters of the Colorado river and streams tributary thereto, and fixing and determining the rights of each of said states and the rights of the United States in and to the use, benefit, and disposition of the waters of the Colorado river and its tributaries: provided, however, that any agreement so entered into by said states and the United States of America shall not be binding or obligatory upon any of the high contracting parties thereto unless and until such agreement shall have been ratified and approved by the legislature of each of the above mentioned states and by the congress of the United States.

State
engineer to serve on Colorado river joint commission.

SEC. 2. The governor of California, immediately after such representative of the State of California has been appointed and has qualified, shall notify the governor of each of the above mentioned states of the appointment of the said representative of California, giving his name and address, but said representative shall not enter upon the performance of his duties until a representative to serve upon said joint commission shall have been named and qualified for each of the states named in section one hereof.

Notice to governors of other states.

Authority of representative.

SEC. 3. Said representative from California shall have full authority to make any and all investigations of the Colorado river and the drainage area thereof, which may become necessary in order to sufficiently advise said representative of the physical conditions obtaining upon said streams, and of the present and future need of the State of California and its citizens to the use and benefit of the waters of said stream. To that end, said representative shall have authority to administer oaths, examine and require the attendance of witnesses, and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to sufficiently apprise said representative of the facts and furnish him with adequate information in order that he may properly perform his duties as representative of the State of California upon said joint commission.

measure.

SEC. 4. Inasmuch as the Colorado river during flood periods constitutes a menace to life and property within this state and the purpose of the commission is to meet immediately upon the appointment and qualification of the representatives of the several states for the purpose of adopting a plan of agreement which will ultimately make possible the construction of impounding dams that will eliminate this hazard, it is hereby declared that this act is an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, peace and safety, and that under the provisions of section one of article four of the state constitution an urgency exists, and this act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 89.

An act to amend section two hundred forty-five of the Penal Code, relating to assault with a deadly weapon.

[Approved May 12, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two hundred forty-five of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

An act to add a new section to the Penal Code to be numbered six hundred fifty-four c, regarding the advertisement of the sale of second-hand or defective merchandise.

[Approved May 12, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

654c. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, in any newspaper, magazine, circular, form letter or any open publication, published, distributed or circulated in the State of California or on any billboard, card, label or other advertising medium, or by means of any other advertising device, to advertise, call attention to or give publicity to the sale of any merchandise, which merchandise is second-hand or used merchandise, or which merchandise is defective in any manner, or which merchandise consists of articles or units or parts known as "seconds," or blemished merchandise, or which merchandise has been rejected by the manufacturer thereof as not first-class, unless there be conspicuously displayed directly in connection with the name and description of such merchandise and each specified article, unit or part thereof, a direct and unequivocal statement, phrase, or word which will clearly indicate that such merchandise or each article, unit or part thereof so advertised is second-hand, used, defective, or consists of "seconds" or is blemished merchandise, or has been rejected by the manufacturer thereof, as the fact shall be. Advertising sale of second-hand merchandise.

Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this statute shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed five hundred (500) dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Penalty.

An act to add a new section to the Penal Code to be numbered section 402f, defining pillows; regulating the making, re-making and sale thereof; requiring that materials used therein shall be accurately described, and prescribing the manner in which pillows shall be labeled; and making the violation of any of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, and repealing legislation inconsistent with this act.

[Approved May 12, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

"Pillow" defined.

402f. 1. The term "pillow" as used in this act, shall be construed to mean a bag or case of cloth filled or stuffed with feathers or down, to be used as a rest or support for the head in reclining or sleeping.

Sterilization of materials.

2. No person, firm or corporation shall use or employ in the making, remaking or renovating of any pillow, any second-hand material of any kind unless any and all of such materials have been thoroughly sterilized and disinfected by a reasonable process, approved by the state board of health.

3. No person, firm or corporation shall sell, offer or expose for sale, barter or trade, or have in possession with intent to sell, deliver or consign any pillow made, remade or renovated in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Tag showing kind of material.

4. No person, firm or corporation shall directly or indirectly, at wholesale or retail, or otherwise sell, offer or expose for sale, barter or trade, deliver or consign or have in possession with intent to sell, deliver or consign, any pillow that shall not have plainly and indelibly stamped or printed upon the face of a muslin or linen tag not smaller than three inches square securely sewed to the covering thereof, a statement in the English language setting forth the kind or kinds of materials used in making and filling said pillow, and whether or not said materials are in whole or in part second-hand, and the name and address of the manufacturer or vendor or both.

material.

5. Any pillow made from any second-hand material shall have stamped or printed upon aforesaid tag attached thereto, in type not smaller than twenty-point, the words "second-hand."

6. For the purpose of this act, only such materials as shall not have sustained a prior use shall be called new, all others must be called second-hand.

Statement on tag

7. The statement required under section four of this act, shall be the following form:

MATERIALS USED IN MAKING.

----- feathers
 ----- ticking Vendor ----- Address -----

This article is made in compliance with the act of the State of California, approved the ----- day of -----.

8. Any person who shall remove, deface, alter, or in any manner attempt same, or shall cause to be removed, defaced, or altered, any mark or statement upon any such tag attached to any pillow under the provisions of this act and any person, firm or corporation who shall make any false statement upon said such tag shall be guilty of a violation of this act. Penalty for removing tag.

9. The unit for a separate and distinct offense in violation of this act shall be each and every pillow made, remade, renovated, sold, offered for sale, delivered, consigned, or possessed with intent to sell, deliver or consign, contrary to the provisions hereof. Unit for separate offense.

10. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, and not to exceed five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than three months and not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment. Penalty.

11. Any individual who has reason to believe that this act has been or is being violated may institute proceedings to enforce this act and to punish violations of its provisions.

12. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed. Repealed.

CHAPTER 93.

CHAPTER 94.

An act to amend section one thousand ninety-eight of the Penal Code, relating to the trials of defendants who are jointly charged with crime and to repeal section one thousand fifty-six of said code, relating to the exercise of challenges when defendants are tried jointly.

[Approved May 13, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand ninety-eight of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Trial of defendants jointly charged with crime.

1098. When two or more defendants are jointly charged with any public offense, whether felony or misdemeanor, they must be tried jointly, unless the court order separate trials. In ordering separate trials, the court in its discretion may order a separate trial as to one or more defendants, and a joint trial as to the others, or may order any number of the defendants to be tried at one trial, and any number of the others at different trials, or may order a separate trial for each defendant. If the defendants are tried jointly, the state and the defendants shall be entitled to the number of challenges prescribed by section one thousand seventy of this code, which challenges on the part of the defendants must be exercised jointly. Each defendant shall also be entitled to five additional challenges which may be exercised separately; the state shall also be entitled to additional challenges equal to one-half the number of all the additional separate challenges allowed the defendants, any fraction to be regarded as an additional challenge.

Sec. 2. Section one thousand fifty-six of the Penal Code Repealed. is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 95.

An act to amend sections one hundred seventy-two b, one hundred seventy-two c and one hundred seventy-two d of the Civil Code, relating to the obtaining of orders relative to disposition of property of insane and incompetent persons.

[Approved May 12, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one hundred seventy-two b of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

172b. Where real property is held as community property, and either the husband or wife has been adjudged insane or incompetent, the husband or wife not insane or incompetent may petition the superior court of the county in which such community real property is situated for an order permitting the husband or wife, not insane or incompetent, to sell and convey, mortgage or lease, such community real property to raise moneys to provide for the support and care either of the sane or insane or incompetent spouse, or of their minor children, and also to raise moneys for the payment of the necessary taxes, interest and other charges incurred and required to be paid for the protection and preservation of the community estate and whenever it appears it is for the advantage, benefit and best interests of the spouses, the estate or their dependents. Such petition must be subscribed and sworn to by the applicant, setting forth the name and age of the insane or incompetent husband or wife; a description of the premises constituting the community real property petitioned to be sold, mortgaged, or leased; the value of same; the county in which it is situated; and such facts, in addition to the insanity or incompetency of the husband or wife, relating to the circumstances and necessities of the applicant and his or her family as he or she may rely upon in support of the petition.

Permit to sell, etc. community property if husband or wife insane

Sec. 2. Section one hundred seventy-two c of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice of
application
for permit.

172*c*. Notice of the application for such order must be given by publication of the same, in a newspaper published in the county in which such community real property is situated, if there is a newspaper published therein, once each week for three successive weeks, prior to the hearing of such application, and a copy of such notice must also be personally served upon the nearest relative of such insane or incompetent husband or wife, resident in this state, at least three weeks prior to such application; and in case there is no such relative known to the applicant, a copy of such notice must be served upon the public administrator of the county in which such community real property is situated; and in such case it is the duty of such public administrator to appear and represent the interest of such insane or incompetent person. For all such services rendered by the public administrator he must be allowed a reasonable fee, to be fixed by the court, and the same must be taxed as costs against the person making application for the order herein provided for.

Sec. 3. Section one hundred seventy-two d of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Validity
of sale.

172*d*. If it appears to the court that such husband or wife has been adjudged insane or incompetent, the court may make an order permitting the husband or wife, not insane or incompetent, to sell and convey, or mortgage or lease such community real property, and thereafter any sale, conveyance, mortgage or lease, made in pursuance of such order is as valid and effectual as if the property affected thereby was the absolute property of the person making such sale, conveyance, mortgage or lease. If a sale is ordered it must be reported to and confirmed by the court.

CHAPTER 96.

An act to add a new section to the Civil Code to be numbered four hundred two, relating to the determination of the identity of directors of dissolved corporations and settlement of affairs of such corporations.

[Approved May 12, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered four hundred two and to read as follows:

Determination of identity of directors of dissolved

402. If, upon the dissolution of any corporation, whether heretofore or hereafter occurring, the identity of the directors or managers of the affairs of such corporation, at the time of such dissolution shall not be otherwise judicially established, any person interested in the property, comprising the assets of such corporation at the time of such dissolution, may file a verified petition in the superior court of the State of California in and for the county wherein was located the principal place of business of such corporation, at the time of its dissolution, setting forth the facts of dissolution of such corporation, the petitioner's interest in the property which formerly comprised the assets of such corporation, the absence of any judicial determination of the identity of the directors or managers of the affairs of such corporation at the time of its dissolution, the names and places of residence, so far as known to petitioner, of the persons who were such directors or managers of the affairs of such corporation (or if any be dead, or unable to act, or their names or places of residence be unknown, then such facts shall be stated), also any other facts pertinent to the relief prayed for, and a request that a decree be entered in said court, establishing the identity of the persons who were such directors or managers of the affairs of such corporation at the time of its dissolution, and for an order appointing successors for any such directors or managers who may be dead or unable to act, or, if it be impossible to determine the identity of all or any of such directors or managers, then for an order appointing trustees of the creditors and stockholders or members of such corporation in the place of such unknown directors or managers.

Upon the filing of such petition the clerk of said court shall ^{Hearing.} fix a time and place for hearing said petition, not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the filing of said petition, and shall give notice thereof by posting notices in three public places in said county at least ten days before the date fixed for said hearing, and, if the place of residence of any such directors or managers be stated in the petition, then by mailing copies of said notice to each of the persons named in said petition as directors or managers of the affairs of such corporation at the time of its dissolution, at their respective places of residence as stated in said petition.

At any time before the date fixed for such hearing, any person interested in any property formerly comprising the assets of such corporation, or any person named in said petition as one of the directors or managers of the affairs of such corporation, may answer said petition and deny any of the matters contained therein and set forth such affirmative matters as may aid the court in making a proper decree in accordance with the purposes of the petition.

At the time fixed for such hearing or at such time thereafter ^{Order determining identity.} as may be fixed by the court, the court must hear the proofs offered by the petitioner and by any person answering the same, and must make an order and decree, conformable to the proofs, determining and establishing the identity of the persons who were the directors or managers of the affairs of such corporation at the time of its dissolution, and appointing successors for any such directors or managers who may be dead, or who may be unable to or may refuse to act, or appointing trustees in the place of any of such directors or managers whose identity can not be determined. Any such successor or trustee so appointed, shall thereupon become one of the trustees of the creditors and stockholders or members of such corporation, with the same powers and duties as by section four hundred of this code, and otherwise by law, shall be given to or imposed upon directors or managers of such corporation upon its dissolution.

Said court shall thereafter retain jurisdiction in said proceeding to hear and determine all matters pertaining to said trusts, which may arise out of the provisions of section four hundred of this code, or which may not be otherwise expressly provided for, and to make all necessary orders, judgments and decrees pursuant thereto.

The dissolution of a corporation, as the term is used in this section, shall include any legal termination of corporate existence, whether by forfeiture of charter, expiration of term of existence, dissolution by order of court of competent jurisdiction, or otherwise.

The provisions of this section shall be cumulative of any other remedy provided by law, and shall not impair or affect any remedy or proceeding otherwise provided by law for settling the affairs of a corporation which has been dissolved.

CHAPTER 97.

An act to amend section one thousand two hundred seven of the Civil Code, relating to defectively acknowledged instruments.

[Approved May 12, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand two hundred seven of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Defectively acknowledged instruments.

1207. Any instrument affecting the title to real property, including any instrument executed by a married woman on or after the first day of July, 1891, which was, previous to the first day of January, 1921, copied into the proper book of record, kept in the office of any county recorder, in parts, after that date, notice of its contents to subsequent purchasers and encumbrancers, notwithstanding any defect, omission, or informality in the execution of the instrument, or in the certificate of acknowledgment thereof, or the absence of any such certificate; but nothing herein affects the rights of purchasers or encumbrancers previous to the taking effect of this act. Duly certified copies of the record of any such instrument may be read in evidence with like effect as copies of an instrument duly acknowledged and recorded; provided, when such copying in the proper book of record occurred within fifteen years prior to the trial of the action, it is shown first that the original instrument was genuine.

An act to amend sections one thousand seven hundred sixty-eight, one thousand seven hundred seventy, one thousand seven hundred seventy-seven, one thousand seven hundred seventy-eight, one thousand seven hundred eighty-eight, one thousand seven hundred eighty-nine, and one thousand seven hundred ninety-one of the Code of Civil Procedure, and to repeal sections one thousand seven hundred eighty-one, one thousand seven hundred eighty-two, one thousand seven hundred eighty-three, one thousand seven hundred eighty-four, one thousand seven hundred eighty-five, one thousand seven hundred eighty-six, one thousand seven hundred eighty-seven and one thousand seven hundred ninety of the Code of Civil Procedure, all relating to the sale by a guardian of real property belonging to the estate of his ward, and the disposition of the proceeds of the sale.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred sixty-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1768. Every guardian appointed under the provisions of this chapter, whether for a minor or any other person, must pay all just debts due from the ward out of his personal estate and the income of his real estate, if sufficient; if not, then out of his real estate upon selling or mortgaging it and disposing of the proceeds in the manner provided in article four of this chapter.

Guardian to pay debts of ward from ward's estate.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand seven hundred seventy of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1770. Every guardian must manage the estate of his ward frugally and without waste, and apply the income and profits thereof, as far as may be necessary, for the comfortable and suitable maintenance and support of the ward and his family, if there be any; and if such income and profits be insufficient for that purpose, the guardian may sell or mortgage the real estate, as provided in this code, and must apply the proceeds of such sale or mortgage, as far as may be necessary, for the maintenance and support of the ward and his family, if there be any.

Guardian to manage estate frugally.

SEC. 3. Section one thousand seven hundred seventy-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1777. When the income of an estate under guardianship is insufficient to maintain the ward and his family or to maintain and educate the ward when a minor, or to pay for his care, treatment and support, if confined in a state hospital for the insane, his guardian may sell his real or personal estate, or mortgage the real estate for that purpose subject to confirmation of such sale or mortgage by the court; provided, that when the ward is or has been, during the guardianship, confined in a state hospital for the insane in this state notice of the hearing of the guardian's return of proceedings of sale shall be given to the secretary of the state commission in lunacy or its attorney at least five days before the hearing.

SEC. 4. Section one thousand seven hundred seventy-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sale of real estate upon confirmation by court.

1778. When it appears to the guardian, that for the benefit of his ward his real estate, or some part thereof, should be sold, and the proceeds thereof put out at interest, or invested in some productive stock, or in the improvement or security of any other real estate of the ward, his guardian may sell the same for such purpose, at public or private sale subject to confirmation by the court.

SEC. 5. Section one thousand seven hundred eighty-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bond of guardian before sale.

1788. Every guardian authorized to sell or mortgage real estate, must, before the sale or mortgage is confirmed, give bond to the ward, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the court, or a judge thereof, with condition to account for the proceeds of the sale or mortgage as provided for in this chapter and chapter seven of this title.

SEC. 6. Section one thousand seven hundred eighty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sales of property to conform with law governing executors.

1789. All the proceedings by guardians concerning sales of property of their wards, giving notice of sale, reselling the same property, return of sale and application for confirmation thereof, notice and hearing of such application, making orders rejecting or confirming sales and reports of sales, ordering and making conveyances of property sold, allowance of commissions, accounting and settlement of accounts, must be had and made as required by the provisions of this title concerning estates of decedents, unless otherwise specially provided in this chapter. All known relatives of the ward within the third degree residing in this state whose addresses are known to the guardian shall within two days after filing of the return of sale be served by mail with a brief notice of the time set for hearing of the return.

SEC. 7. Section one thousand seven hundred ninety-one of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Conditions of sales.

1791. All sales of real estate of wards must be for cash, or for part cash and part deferred payments, the credit in no case to exceed three years from date of sale, as the guardian deems most beneficial to the ward, the terms being subject to the approval of the court. Guardians making sales must demand and receive from the purchasers, in case of deferred payments, notes, and a mortgage or deed of trust on the real estate sold, with such additional security as the court deems necessary and sufficient to secure the prompt payment of the amounts so deferred, and the interest thereon.

SEC. 8. Sections one thousand seven hundred eighty-one, one thousand seven hundred eighty-two, one thousand seven hundred eighty-three, one thousand seven hundred eighty-four, one thousand seven hundred eighty-five, one thousand seven hundred eighty-six, one thousand seven hundred eighty-seven, and one thousand seven hundred ninety of the Code of Civil Procedure are hereby repealed. Repealed.

CHAPTER 112.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred four of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to entry in minute book of orders and decrees made by the court or a judge thereof.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred four of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1704. Orders and decrees made by the court or a judge thereof, in probate proceedings, need not recite the existence of facts, or the performance of acts, upon which the jurisdiction of the court or judge may depend, but it shall only be necessary that they contain the matters ordered, or adjudged, except as otherwise provided in this title. All orders and decrees of the court or judge must be entered at length in the minute book of the court, or must be signed by the judge and filed; but decrees of distribution must always be so entered at length. Orders and decrees in probate proceedings.

CHAPTER 113.

An act to amend section four hundred sixteen of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the time and manner of acquiring jurisdiction by the court in civil actions and proceedings.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four hundred sixteen of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

416. From the time of the service of the summons and of a copy of the complaint in a civil action, where service of a copy of the complaint is required, or of the completion of the When jurisdiction of action is acquired.

publication when service by publication is ordered, the court is deemed to have acquired jurisdiction of the parties, and to have control of all the subsequent proceedings. In all cases where a corporation has forfeited its charter or right to do business in this state, the persons who become the trustees of the corporation and of its stockholders or members may be sued in the corporate name of such corporation in like manner as if no forfeiture had occurred and from the time of service of the summons and of a copy of the complaint in a civil action, upon one of said trustees, or of the completion of the publication when service by publication is ordered, the court is deemed to have acquired jurisdiction of all said trustees, and to have control of all the subsequent proceedings. The voluntary appearance of a defendant is equivalent to personal service of the summons and copy of the complaint upon him.

CHAPTER 114.

An act to amend section one thousand four hundred ninety-two of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to recording decree of notice to creditors.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand four hundred ninety-two of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Recording
decree of notice to creditors.

1492. After the notice is given, as required by the preceding section, a copy thereof, with the affidavit of due publication, or of publication and posting, must be filed and upon such affidavit or other testimony to the satisfaction of the court, an order or decree showing that due notice to creditors has been given, and directing that such order or decree be entered in the minutes, must be made by the court.

CHAPTER 115.

An act to require the furnishing of seats for elevator operators.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Seats for

SECTION 1. All elevators used for the carriage of passengers shall be provided with a suitable seat for the operator in charge of the same. Failure to comply with this act shall be deemed a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each offense.

CHAPTER 116.

An act to amend section one thousand three hundred ten of the Civil Code, relating to devisees or legatees.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand three hundred ten of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1310. When any estate is devised or bequeathed to any child or other relation of the testator, and the devisee or legatee dies before the testator, leaving lineal descendants, or any such child or other relation is named in a will as a devisee or legatee and is dead at the time the will is executed, but leaves lineal descendants surviving the testator, such descendants take the estate so given by the will in the same manner as the devisee or legatee would have done had he survived the testator.

Distribution of estate when legatee dies before testator.

CHAPTER 117.

An act to amend sections three thousand seven hundred sixty-four, three thousand seven hundred seventy-one of the Political Code, relating to the publication of the notice of sale and the sale of properties for delinquent taxes, and to add a new section to the Political Code, to be known as section three thousand seven hundred seventy-one a, relating to the same subject.

[Approved May 13, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand seven hundred sixty-four of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3764. (1) On or before the eighth day in June of each year, the tax collector shall publish the delinquent list, which must contain the names of persons and a description of the property delinquent, and the total amount of all taxes, assessments, penalties, and costs due, and which are a lien thereon. Whenever any property appears in this list, which was sold to the state five years previous to the date fixed herein for the sale to be had under the provisions of section three thousand seven hundred seventy-one a of this code there shall appear immediately following the description of such property a notice, which notice shall be in substance, and may be in form as follows:

Annual publication of delinquent tax list.

“To be sold at public auction-----19-- See sale No.-----in addenda to this list.”

sale.

(2) In addition to the publication prescribed in subdivision one of this section, there shall be appended thereto a notice of sale, and a list of all property which was sold to the state five years previous to the date fixed herein for the sale to be had under the provisions of section three thousand seven hundred seventy-one of this code, on which the taxes remain unpaid, or which has not been redeemed or the sale thereon cancelled, and to which property the state would otherwise be entitled to a deed thereof after the lapse of five years from the date of said previous sale. Such notice shall state the day and hour and the place of sale, which sale must be had not less than twenty-one or more than twenty-eight days from the time of the first publication, and the place shall be in the tax collector's office, and shall contain a description of the property to be sold and the least amount which will be accepted as a bid thereon, which amount shall be the amount of the taxes, penalties and costs for which the property was sold to the state at said sale. The properties enumerated shall each be preceded by a sale number, such sale numbers running in regular sequence. Said notice herein provided for shall be in substance, and may be in form as follows:

“Addenda to delinquent tax list.

Notice of sale of property for delinquent taxes of 19---- at public auction.

In pursuance of law, public notice is hereby given that, commencing on the _____day of_____19-- at the hour of_____o'clock____m., of that day, and continuing from day to day thereafter, if additional time is required to complete the sale, in the office of the tax collector of the county of_____, State of California, the undersigned, tax collector, will, unless the delinquent taxes thereon are sooner redeemed, sell or offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, the several parcels and lots of property hereinafter described upon which date five years will have elapsed from the date of the sale of said property to the state. No bid for said property will be accepted for less than the amount of all taxes, penalties and costs due on said property for the year the same was sold to the state (in the year 19---- for the taxes of the year 19----) which minimum amounts are set forth opposite the description of each of said properties.

In order to entitle the successful bidder to a deed of the property purchased he must, in addition to the price paid pursuant to his bid at such sale, within thirty days pay by redemption any and all further delinquent taxes and assessments against said property, together with all penalties, costs, interest and charges accrued thereon.

After a bid has been made and accepted at such sale, the right of redemption (except by the purchaser) shall cease.

Dated this _____ day of _____ 19__

Tax collector of _____ County,
State of California.

The properties to be sold and the subject of this notice are situated in the County of _____ State of California, and particularly described as follows, to wit:

No. _____ (description of property _____ _____) assessed to _____ Least acceptable bid _____ $ _____”

SEC. 2. Section three thousand seven hundred seventy-one of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3771. On the day and hour fixed for the sale in accordance with subdivision one of section three thousand seven hundred sixty-four of this code, all property upon which the taxes and assessments of all kinds, penalties and costs have not been fully paid except as provided in section three thousand eight hundred fourteen of this code, shall, by operation of law and the declaration of the tax collector, be sold to the state, and said tax collector shall make in appropriate columns on the delinquent list, opposite each parcel of land so sold an entry, "Sold to the state," the date of sale, and the total amount for which such parcel of land was sold, and he shall be credited with the amount thereof in his settlement, made pursuant to sections three thousand seven hundred ninety-seven, three thousand seven hundred ninety-eight and three thousand seven hundred ninety-nine: provided, that on the day of sale the owner or person in possession of any property offered for sale for taxes due thereon, may pay the taxes, penalties and costs due; and provided, further, that when the total amount of taxes and assessments together with penalties and costs thereon amounts to the sum of three hundred dollars or more, the state may bring suit against the owner of said property for the collection of said tax or assessments, penalties and costs, in the manner provided in section three thousand eight hundred ninety-nine.

by the state for which the full purchase price has not been paid shall be deeded to the state.

(2) After such bid has been made and accepted, the right of redemption shall cease, except as to the purchaser, who shall have thirty days within which to make redemption, as provided in section three thousand seven hundred eighty-five b of this code. If not so redeemed, or if no sale is had under the provisions of this section, then said property shall be deeded to the state as provided in section three thousand seven hundred eighty-five of this code; provided, that when any property is to be sold at public auction as provided in this section, the tax collector shall, within five days after the first publication of said delinquent list, mail a copy of said list or publication, postage thereon prepaid and registered, to the party to whom the land was last assessed next before such sale, at his last known address, said notice to be mailed at least twenty-one days before the date of sale or in lieu of mailing the entire printed list said tax collector may mail to the party to whom the land was last assessed next before the sale at his last known post-office address, postage thereon prepaid and registered, a printed notice of such sale, which notice shall be in substance, and may be in form as follows:

Notice of tax sale.

In pursuance of law, notice is hereby given that unless sooner redcedmed, the undersigned will on the----- day of-----19----- commencing at ---- o'clock -----m., and continuing from day to day thereafter if additional time is required to complete the sale, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, all properties which were sold to the state for delinquent taxes for the year 19-----, on which the taxes remain unpaid, of which the following described property is a part and which property was assessed for the year 19----- to -----

----- and described as follows: -----

Redemption of the above described property may be made at any time prior to the acceptance of a bid for such property.

For full information as to the amount necessary to redeem the property, apply to the county auditor of said----- county.

(Signed)----- Tax collector of said----- county.”

Distribution of money.

(3) The money received hereunder shall be distributed as provided in section three thousand eight hundred ninety-eight of this code. The charge for advertising shall be at the rate fixed by the board of supervisors for other advertising in said county.

CHAPTER 118.

An act for the relief of purchasers of school lands.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. When application has been made to purchase lands from this state and payment of twenty per cent of the purchase price has been made to the treasurer of the proper county for the same and certificate of purchase was issued on or after May 1, 1911, to the applicant therefor, and such applicant served his country in the world war and failed to pay the interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase price of such land, said certificate shall be in full force and effect; provided all interest due on the balance of the purchase price is paid to the proper county treasurer on or before December 31, 1921; and provided, further, that the lands described in said certificate of purchase are open to entry and sale under any law of this state at the time this act shall take effect.

CHAPTER 119.

An act to amend sections one thousand three hundred eighty-seven and one thousand three hundred ninety-three of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the recording of letters testamentary and of administration and bonds.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand three hundred eighty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1387. Before letters testamentary or of administration are issued to the executor or administrator, he must take and subscribe an oath before some officer authorized to administer oaths, that he will perform, according to law, the duties of executor or administrator, which oath must be attached to the letters. All letters testamentary and of administration, with the affidavits and certificates thereon, must be forthwith recorded by the clerk of the court having jurisdiction of the estates, with books to be kept by him in his office for that purpose.

executor or administrator.

letters.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand three hundred ninety-three of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Justification
of bonds.

1393. In all cases where bonds or undertakings are required to be given, under this title, the sureties must justify thereon in the same manner and in like amounts as required by section ten hundred and fifty-seven of this code, and the certificate thereof must be attached to and filed with the bond or undertaking. All such bonds and undertakings must be approved by a judge of the superior court before being filed. Upon filing, the clerk shall thereupon enter in the register of actions the date and amount of such bond or undertaking and the name or names of the surety or sureties thereon. In the event of the loss of such bond or undertaking; such entries so made shall be prima facie evidence of the due execution of such bond or undertaking as required by law.

CHAPTER 120.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred fifty-six of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the recording of letters of guardianship and bonds.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred fifty-six of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Recording
letters of guardianship.

1756. All letters of guardianship issued under the provisions of this chapter, with the affidavits and certificates thereon, must be recorded by the clerk of the court having jurisdiction of the persons and estates of the wards.

CHAPTER 121.

An act to amend section six hundred seventy-two of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the docket to be kept by the clerk.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred seventy-two of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Clerk's
docket.

672. The docket mentioned in the last section is a book which the clerk keeps in his office, with each page divided into nine columns, and headed as follows: Date of entry in docket; judgment debtors; judgment creditors; judgment; time of entry; where entered in judgment book; appeals, when taken;

judgment of appellate court; satisfaction of judgment, when entered. If the judgment is for the recovery of money, the amount must be stated in the docket under the head of judgment; if the judgment is for any other relief, a memorandum of the general character of the relief granted must be stated. The names of the judgment debtors must be entered in alphabetical order.

CHAPTER 122.

An act to amend sections one thousand three hundred eighty-eight, one thousand three hundred eighty-nine, one thousand seven hundred twenty-seven, and one thousand seven hundred fifty-four, of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to bonds given by executors, administrators, and guardians.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand three hundred eighty-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1388. Every person to whom letters testamentary or of administration are directed to issue, must, before receiving them, execute a bond to the State of California, with two or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the superior court, or a judge thereof. In form the bond must be joint and several, and the penalty must not be less than twice the value of the personal property, and twice the probable value of the annual rents, issues and profits of real property belonging to the estate, which values must be ascertained by the superior court, or a judge thereof, by examining on oath the party applying, and any other persons.

executor or administrator.

Where, however, a surety company is authorized by law to furnish such bond, the court in its discretion may fix the amount of the bond given by such surety company at not less than the value of the personal property and the probable value of the annual rents, issues and profits of property belonging to the estate.

Surety
company
bond.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand three hundred eighty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1389. The superior court, or a judge thereof, must require an additional bond whenever the sale of any real estate belonging to an estate has been made and before confirming the sale; but no such additional bond must be required when it satisfactorily appears to the court that the penalty of the bond given before receiving letters, or of any bond given in place thereof, is equal to twice the value of the personal property remaining in or that will come into the possession of the bonds.

executor or administrator, including the annual rents, issues and profits of real estate, and twice the probable amount to be realized on the sale of the real estate ordered to be sold.

Surety
bond.

Where, however, a surety company is authorized by law to furnish such bond, the court in its discretion may fix the amount of the bond given by such surety company at not less than the value of the personal property and the probable value of the annual rents, issues and profits of property belonging to the estate.

SEC. 3. Section one thousand seven hundred twenty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

When public administrator takes charge.

1727. Whenever a public administrator takes charge of an estate, which he is entitled to administer without letters of administration being issued, or under order of the court, he must, with all convenient dispatch, procure letters of administration thereon, in like manner and on like proceedings as letters of administration are issued to other persons. His official bond and oath are in lieu of the administrator's bond and oath in the following cases: on grant of special letters of administration; on grant of general letters of administration; on grant of letters of administration with the will annexed. But when real estate is ordered to be sold, another bond may be required by the court.

SEC. 4. Section one thousand seven hundred fifty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

Bond of
guardian.

1754. Before the order appointing any person guardian under this chapter takes effect, and before letters issue, the court shall require of such person a bond to the minor, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the judge, and in such sum as he shall order, which sum shall not be less than twice the value of the personal property and the probable value of the annual rents, issues and profits of property belonging to the minor; where, however, a surety company is authorized by law to furnish such bond, the court in its discretion may fix the amount of the bond given by such surety company at not less than the value of the personal property and the probable value of the annual rents, issues and profits of property belonging to the minor conditioned that the guardian will faithfully execute the duties of his trust according to law, and the following conditions shall form a part of such bond without being expressed therein:

1. To make an inventory of all the estate, real and personal of his ward, that comes to his possession or knowledge, and to return the same within such time as the court may order.

2. To dispose of and manage the estate according to law and for the best interest of the ward, and faithfully to discharge his trust in relation thereto, and also in relation to the care, custody, and education of the ward.

3. To render an account on oath of the property, estate, and moneys of the ward in his hands, and all proceeds or interests derived therefrom, and of the management and disposition of the same, within three months after his appointment, and at such other times as the court directs, and at the expiration of his trust to settle his accounts with the court, or with the ward, if he be of full age, or his legal representatives, and to pay over and deliver all the estate, moneys, and effects remaining in his hands, or due from him on such settlement, to the person who is lawfully entitled thereto. Upon filing the bond, duly approved, letters of guardianship must issue to the person appointed. In form the letters of guardianship must be substantially the same as letters of administration, and the oath of the guardian must be indorsed thereon that he will perform the duties of his office as such guardian according to law.

CHAPTER 123.

An act approving, confirming and declaring valid the organization of sanitary district number one, Marin county, California, heretofore organized under and by virtue of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of sanitary districts in any part of the state for the construction of sewers and other sanitary purposes; the acquisition of property thereby; the calling and conducting elections in such districts; the assessments, levy, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance and disposal of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity and making provision for the payment of such bonds and the disposal of their proceeds," approved March 31, 1891, under and by virtue of the provisions of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation, reorganization, dissolution and alteration of boundaries of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers, septic tanks, and other sanitary disposal of sewerage matter, the acquisition of property thereby, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levying, collection, custody, and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance, disposal and retirement of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds," approved May 27, 1919, which reorganization was voted upon at a special election called and held for that purpose in said sanitary district number one on the fifteenth day of September 1919, and approving, confirming and declaring valid the annexation of certain territory to said sanitary district number one voted upon at an election held the thirtieth day of August, 1920.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Reorganization of sanitary district
No. 1, Marin
county,
validated.

SECTION 1. The reorganization of sanitary district number one, Marin county, California, heretofore organized under and by virtue of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of sanitary districts in any part of the state for the construction of sewers and other sanitary purposes; the acquisition of property thereby; the calling and conducting elections in such districts; the assessments, levy, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance and disposal of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity, and making provision for the payment of such bonds and the disposal of their proceeds," approved March 31, 1891, under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation, reorganization, dissolution and alteration of boundaries of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers, septic tanks, and other sanitary disposal of sewerage matter, the acquisition of property thereby, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levying, collection, custody, and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance, disposal and retirement of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds," approved May 27, 1919 which reorganization was voted upon at a special election called and held for that purpose in said sanitary district number one on the fifteenth day of September, 1919, and the annexation of certain territory to said sanitary district number one voted upon at an election held on the thirtieth day of August, 1920 and all actions and proceedings of said sanitary district and the members and officers thereof, and of the board of supervisors of the county of Marin, State of California, in relation thereto, are hereby approved, confirmed and declared valid.

CHAPTER 124.

An act to add a new section to the Civil Code to be numbered six hundred two b, authorizing the amendment of articles of incorporation of corporations sole, and providing the manner thereof.

[Approved May 14, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered six hundred two b, and to read as follows:

602b. The bishop, chief priest, presiding elder, or other incumbent of any corporation sole, incorporated under the laws of this state, may at any time amend the articles of incorporation of said corporation sole by changing the name of said corporation sole or the term of its existence or its territorial jurisdiction or the manner of filling any vacancy in the incumbency thereof, or by providing for any mode of administering the temporalities and property of said corporation sole during any vacancy in the incumbency thereof, or during the absence or disability of the incumbent, and may by amended articles of incorporation make provision for any act or thing for which provision is authorized in original articles of incorporation of corporations sole by any law of this state. In any amended articles of incorporation so filed, it shall be competent to ratify or confirm any change made prior to the enactment of this section in respect of any matter which it is herein provided may be the subject matter of amendment of articles of incorporation of a corporation sole.

of articles of incorporation of corporations sole.

Amended articles of incorporation of a corporation sole shall be subscribed and verified by the affidavit of the incumbent of said corporation sole, and shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which said incumbent resides.

county of-----, State of California, on the -----day of-----, 19--, at the hour of-----o'clock in the-----noon of said day; and to have with you, then and there, all books, papers, and witnesses needed by you to establish your defense to said claim.

And you are further notified that in case you do not so appear, judgment will be given against you for the amount of said claim as it is stated in said affidavit.

Dated this ----- day of -----, 19-----.

Justice of the peace.

Filing
affidavit.

927c. When the claimant appears he shall prepare such an affidavit as is set forth in section nine hundred twenty-six b of this title or, at his request, the judge of the court shall draft the same for him. Upon the affidavit being sworn to by the claimant the justice shall file the same and make a true and correct copy thereof. At the same time the justice shall fill in the blanks in the order printed on said copy and sign the order. Immediately thereafter the said justice shall enclose said copy and order in an envelope, address the said envelope to the said defendant at the address so stated in said affidavit, prepay the postage and mail said envelope to said defendant by registered mail, and request a return receipt, or said justice may deliver personally, or cause to be delivered, said copy and order to the defendant in person. The justice shall then attach to the original affidavit the receipt for the registered letter and the return card thereon or other evidence of service.

927*d*. The date for the appearance of the defendant as provided in the order endorsed on the affidavit shall not be more than fifteen days nor less than five days from the date of the said order. When the justice has fixed the date for the appearance of the defendant he shall inform the plaintiff of said date and at the same time order the plaintiff to appear on said date and to have with him his books, papers, and witnesses necessary to prove his claim. Appearance of defendant.

927*e*. The justice shall enter in the docket kept by him as a justice of the peace: Entries in docket.

1. The title of every action;
2. The sum of money claimed;
3. The date of the order provided for in section nine hundred twenty-seven b, and the date of the trial as stated in said order;
4. The date when the parties appear, or their nonappearance if default be made;
5. Every adjournment, stating on whose application and to what time;
6. The judgment of the court and when returned;
7. A statement of any money paid to the justice, when, and by whom; and the date of the issuance of any abstract of the judgment.
8. The date of the receipt of a notice of appeal, if any be given, and of the appeal bond, if any be filed.

927*f*. No claim shall be filed or prosecuted in such small claims court by the assignee of such claim. Assignee of claim.

927*g*. No attorney-at-law or other person than the plaintiff and defendant shall take any part in the filing or the prosecution or defense of such litigation in the small claims court. The plaintiff and defendant shall have the right to offer evidence in their behalf by witnesses appearing at such hearing, or at any other time. The justice may also informally make any investigation of the controversy between the parties either in or out of court and give judgment and make such orders as to time of payment or otherwise as may, by him, be deemed to be right and just. Attorney not to appear.

927*h*. No formal pleading, other than the said claim and notice, shall be necessary and the hearing and disposition Informal pleadings.

of all such actions shall be informal, with the sole object of dispensing speedy justice between the parties. No attachment or garnishment shall issue from the small claims court, but execution may issue in the manner prescribed in chapter nine, Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California.

Payment of judgment.

927i. If the judgment or order be against the defendant, he shall pay the same forthwith or at such times and upon such terms and conditions as the justice shall prescribe.

Appeal by defendant.

927j. The judgment of said court shall be conclusive upon the plaintiff. If the defendant is dissatisfied, he may, within five days from the entry of said judgment against him, appeal to the superior court of the county in which said court is held, and if final judgment is rendered against him in such superior court, then he shall pay, in addition to said judgment, an attorney's fee to the plaintiff in the sum of fifteen dollars ($15).

Statement of defendant's appeal.

927k. The defendant's appeal may be taken by filing in the small claims court a statement substantially in the following terms:

In the small claims court of _____, county of _____, State of California.

Plaintiff.

Defendant.

Comes now the defendant and appeals from the judgment of the above entitled court in the above entitled action, to the superior court in and for the above named county and state.

Dated this _____ day of _____, 19__.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this----- day of ----- 19--.

927m. If no appeal be taken by the defendant and the defendant fails to pay the judgment according to the terms and conditions thereof, the justice before whom such a hearing was had, shall, on application of the plaintiff, certify such judgment in substantially the following form: Abstract of judgment.

In the small claims court of-----, county of-----, State of California.

Plaintiff,

vs.

Defendant.

ABSTRACT OF JUDGMENT.

In the above entitled court and action on the----- day of -----, 19--, judgment was entered for plaintiff for $-----; that no appeal from said judgment has been taken.

Dated this-----day of-----, 19--.

Justice of said court.

927n. The abstract may be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the judgment was rendered, and the judgment docketed in the judgment docket of the superior court thereof. The date of the receipt of the abstract by the clerk must be noted by him thereon, and entered in the docket. Filing of abstract.

927p. No fee or charge of any kind or nature shall be charged or collected by any officer for any service rendered under this title. But the justice may, in the manner provided by law, make a claim against the county to reimburse No fees to be charged.

him for moneys expended for postage stamps and registry charges of the post office department when the said justice was sitting as such small claims court; provided, that in those counties where the compensation of justices of the peace consists of fees allowed by law, the justice of the small claims courts may charge and collect the same fees which a justice of the peace may charge and collect and no others.

CHAPTER 126.

An act to amend section eight hundred sixty of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to pleadings in justices' courts.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section eight hundred sixty of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Answer to amended pleadings.

860. When a pleading is amended, the adverse party may answer or demur to it within such time, as the court may allow, not exceeding five days after notice of the amendment.

CHAPTER 127.

An act to amend section eight hundred seventy-two of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to judgment by default in justices' courts.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section eight hundred seventy-two of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Judgment
by default.

872. In the following cases the same proceedings must be had and judgment must be rendered in like manner as if the defendant had failed to appear and answer, or demur:

1. If the complaint has been amended, and the defendant fails to answer it, as amended, within the time allowed by the court;

2. If the demurrer to the complaint is overruled, and the defendant fails to answer within the time allowed by the court, not to exceed five days.

3. If the demurrer to the answer is sustained and the defendant fails to amend the answer within the time allowed by the court.

CHAPTER 128.

An act to amend sections nine hundred two and nine hundred five of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to executions and proceedings supplementary thereto.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section nine hundred two of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

902. The execution must be directed to the sheriff or to a constable of the county in which it is to be served, and must be subscribed by the justice and bear date the day of its delivery to the officer. It must intelligibly refer to the judgment, by stating the names of the parties, and the name of the justice before whom, and of the county and the township or city where, and the time when it was rendered; the amount of judgment, if it be for money; and, if less than the whole is due, the true amount due thereon. It must contain, in like cases, similar directions to the sheriff or constable, as are required by the provisions of title nine, part two, of this code, in an execution to the sheriff. Contents of execution.

SEC. 2. Section nine hundred five of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

905. The sections of this code, from seven hundred fourteen to seven hundred twenty-one, both inclusive, are applicable to justices' courts, the word "constable" being substituted, to that end, for the word "sheriff," whenever the writ is directed to a constable, and the word "justice" for "judge." If the judgment debtor does not reside in the county wherein the judgment was entered, an abstract of the judgment, in the form prescribed by section eight hundred ninety-seven, may be filed in the office of the justice of any town, township, or city wherein the defendant resides, and such justice may issue execution on such judgment, and may take and exercise such jurisdiction in proceedings supplemental to execution, as if such judgment were originally entered in his court. Proceedings supplementary to execution.

Where an execution issued by a justice of the peace is to be served out of the county in which it was issued, the execution shall have attached to it a certificate under seal, by the county clerk of such county to the effect that the person issuing the same was an acting justice of the peace of said county at the date of the writ. Thereafter such execution may be served and levied against any property in any county of the state by the sheriff or any constable therein, Service outside of county.

An act to amend section two hundred eighty-seven of the Civil Code relating to the continuance of existence of corporations.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two hundred eighty-seven of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Continuance of corporate existence.

Certificate
filed with secretary
of state.

287. Any corporation existing on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred seventy-three, formed under the laws of this state, and still existing, which has not already elected to continue its existence, under the provisions of this code applicable thereto, may, at any time hereafter, make such election by the unanimous vote of all its directors, or such election may be made at any annual meeting of the stockholders, or members, or at any meeting called by the directors expressly for considering the subject, if voted by stockholders representing a majority of the capital stock, or by a majority of the members, or may be made by the directors upon the written consent of that number of such stockholders or members. A certificate of the action of the directors, signed by them and their secretary, when the election is made by their unanimous vote, or upon the written consent of the stockholders or members, or a certificate of the proceedings of the meeting of the stockholders or members, when such election is made at any such meeting, signed by the chairman and secretary of the meeting and a majority of the directors, must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and thereafter the corporation shall continue its existence under the provisions of this code which are applicable thereto, and shall possess all the rights and powers, and be subject to all the obligations, restrictions, and limitations prescribed thereby. The secretary of state shall forthwith issue a certified copy of said certificate and transmit said copy to the county clerk of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation was situated at the time said corporation was incorporated which copy shall be filed by said county clerk upon payment of the fee prescribed by law. A copy of such certificate, certified by the secretary of state, shall be filed by such corporation in the office of the county clerk of every county in which said corporation has or holds real property. Any corporation which shall fail to comply with the requirements of the preceding sentence shall be subject to the penalties and liabilities provided in section two hundred ninety-nine for a failure of corporations to file copies of their articles of incorporation with the county clerks of the counties in which they shall purchase, hold or locate real property.

CHAPTER 130.

An act to amend sections two hundred ninety a, two hundred ninety-six, two hundred ninety-seven and two hundred ninety-nine of the Civil Code, relating to corporations.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two hundred ninety a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

290a. Before any corporation, authorized in its articles of incorporation to conduct the business of acting as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, or to engage in the business of banking, or of receiving the money of others on deposit, may file with the secretary of state its articles of incorporation, or a certificate of extension of its term of existence, or a certificate increasing or decreasing the number of its directors, or a certificate increasing or decreasing its capital stock, or its amended articles of incorporation, or its articles of incorporation and consolidation, there must be attached thereto the certificate of approval of the superintendent of banks; provided, that this section shall not apply to any corporation authorized to engage in the business of receiving and holding in escrow money or its equivalent pending investment in real estate or securities for or on account of its principal, or to act as trustee under deeds of trust given solely for the purpose of securing obligations for the repayment of money other than corporation bonds, nor shall such corporations be subject to the supervision of the superintendent of banks.

SEC. 2. Section two hundred ninety-six of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

296. Upon filing the articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state, and the affidavit mentioned in the last section where such affidavit is required, the secretary of state must issue to the corporation, over the great seal of the state, a certificate that the original articles containing the required statement of facts have been filed in his office, and thereupon the persons signing the articles and their associates and successors shall be a body politic and corporate by the name stated in the certificate, and for the term of fifty years, unless it is, in the articles of incorporation, otherwise stated, or in this code otherwise specially provided; provided, however, that no corporation shall be authorized to transact any business until it shall have filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which its principal business is to be transacted, a copy of its articles of incorporation certified by the secretary of state; provided, further, that the secretary of state shall not file the original articles of incorporation, or issue any certified copy thereof, or issue any certificate of incorporation to any corporation, which articles set forth the corporate name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state, or which articles set forth a name so closely resembling the name of such corporation as will tend to deceive.

SEC. 3. Section two hundred ninety-seven of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Copy of articles prima facie evidence.

297. A copy of any articles of incorporation filed in pursuance to this chapter, and certified by the secretary of state, must be received in all the courts of this state, and other places, as prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated.

SEC. 4. Section two hundred ninety-nine of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Filing copy of articles with county
clerk

299. No corporation hereafter formed must purchase, locate, or hold property in any county in the state, without filing a certified copy of its articles of incorporation filed in the office of the secretary of state with the county clerk of the county in which such property is situated, within sixty days after such purchase or location is made. Every corporation now existing whether formed under the provisions of this code or not, must, within ninety days after the passage of this section, file a copy of the copy of its articles of incorporation filed in the office of the secretary of state, duly certified by the secretary of state in the office of the county clerk of every county in the state in which it holds any property, except where certified copies have heretofore been filed, or where original articles are on file under an act in force at the time of filing thereof; and if any corporation hereafter acquires any property in a county other than that in which it holds property, it must within ninety days thereafter file with the clerk of said county, such certified copy of the copy of its articles of incorporation, or if incorporated after the passage hereof, a certified copy of the original articles of incorporation filed in the office of the secretary of state. The copies filed with the several county clerks, have the same force and effect in evidence as the originals. Any corporation failing to comply with the provisions of this section can not maintain or defend any action or proceeding in relation to such property, its rents, issues, or profits, until such certified copy of its articles of incorporation are filed at the places directed by the general law and this section; provided, that all corporations are liable in damages for any and all loss that may arise by the failure of such corporation to perform any of the foregoing duties within the time mentioned in this section; and provided, further, that the said damages may be recovered in an action brought in any court of this state of competent jurisdiction, by any party or parties suffering the same.

SEC. 5. Section three hundred sixty-one of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

361. Any corporation or association may increase or diminish the number of its directors or trustees by the vote or written assent of stockholders representing a majority of its subscribed capital stock, or, if it has no capital stock, by the vote or written assent of a majority of the members. A certificate over the corporate seal, setting forth the action taken by the stockholders, or members, and stating the new number of directors, shall be signed by the president and secretary of such corporation or association, and filed in the office of the secretary of state whereupon the number of directors or trustees shall be changed as stated in said certificate. The secretary of state shall forthwith issue a certified copy of said certificate and transmit said copy to the county clerk of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation was situated at the time said corporation was incorporated which copy shall be filed by said county clerk upon payment of the fee prescribed by law. A copy of such certificate, certified by the secretary of state, shall be filed by such corporation in the office of the county clerk of every county in which said corporation has or holds real property. Any corporation which shall fail to comply with the requirements of the preceding sentence shall be subject to the penalties and liabilities provided in section two hundred ninety-nine for a failure of corporations to file copies of their articles of incorporation with the county clerks of the counties in which they shall purchase, hold or locate real property. This section shall apply to all corporations existing under the laws of the State of California, whether organized and incorporated prior to the enactment of this code, or subsequent thereto.

of directors.

CHAPTER 131.

An act to amend section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code, relating to the issuance of stock or bonds creating or increasing bonded indebtedness or increasing or diminishing the capital stock of corporations.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

359. No corporation shall issue stocks or bonds except for money paid, labor done or property actually received, and all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness is void. Every corporation may increase or diminish its capital stock, and every corporation, or two or more corporations, may create or increase its or their bonded indebtedness, subject to the following provisions:

Fictitious increase of stock void.

How capital stock may be increased or diminished.

1. The capital stock of a corporation may be increased or diminished at a meeting of the stockholders by a vote representing at least two-thirds of the subscribed or issued capital stock, or in the manner otherwise in this section provided; when by meeting as aforesaid, then such meeting must be called by the board of directors or trustees, and notice must be given by publication in a newspaper published in the county or city and county where the principal place of business of the corporation is located, or if there be none published in said county or city and county, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county, or city and county, such paper to be designated by the board of directors or trustees in the order calling for the meeting; provided, however, that where the articles of incorporation provide for two or more kinds of capital stock, no increase or reduction of capital stock shall be made without the assent of two-thirds of all the subscribed stock, and in making such increase or reduction, the assent shall identify the particular class or classes of stock to be increased or reduced, and the amounts apportioned to each.

What notice must specify.

2. The notice must specify the object of the meeting and the amount to which it is proposed to increase or diminish the capital stock, the time and place of holding the meeting, which latter must be at the principal place of business of the corporation and at the building where the board of directors or trustees usually meet. The notice herein provided must be published once a week for at least sixty days. The capital stock can not be diminished to an amount less than the indebtedness of the corporation.

Creation or increase of bonded indebtedness.

3. The bonded indebtedness of a corporation may be created or increased by a vote of the stockholders representing at least two-thirds of the subscribed or issued capital stock at a meeting called by the board of directors or trustees, and after notice of the time and place of the meeting published in the same manner and for the time prescribed, which notice shall state the amount of the bonded indebtedness which it is proposed to create, or the amount to which it is proposed to increase such indebtedness, and shall in all other respects contain the same matters as are above provided and set forth in the notice of meeting to increase or diminish the capital stock; or such original creation of bonded indebtedness may be made as otherwise in this section provided.

Notice to stockholders.

4. In addition to the notice by publication, when proceedings are to be had hereunder at a meeting of stockholders, the secretary of the corporation shall also address a notice to each of the stockholders whose names appear on the company's books as sufficiently addressed or identified, at his place of residence, if known, and if not known, then at the place in which the principal place of business of the corporation is situate, which notice shall be so mailed to such stockholders at least thirty days before the day appointed for such meeting.

5. In lieu of such call for meeting of stockholders and of such notice and publication of the same and of a stockholders' meeting held in pursuance thereof and of said vote thereat representing at least two-thirds of the subscribed capital stock, any corporation may diminish its capital stock and also originally create its bonded indebtedness by a resolution adopted by the unanimous vote of its board of directors or trustees at a regular meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose and approved by the written assent or assents of the stockholders holding two-thirds of the subscribed or issued capital stock, which assent or assents must be filed with the secretary of the corporation; but the secretary of the corporation must address by mail, postage fully prepaid, a copy of such resolution to each of the stockholders whose names appear upon the company's books as sufficiently addressed or identified, at his place of residence, if known, and if not known, then at the place in which the principal place of business of the corporation is situate, which notice shall be so mailed to each stockholder at least thirty days before the certificate hereinafter provided is made and signed or filed, as hereinafter provided, and within that time any stockholder may file with such secretary his dissent in writing; but it is further provided, that if at any time within said thirty days such written assent or assents of the stockholders holding all of the subscribed or issued capital stock be so filed with the secretary, then and at once and without further delay the certificate hereinafter provided for may be so made, signed and filed as hereinafter provided and with the same effect, but such capital stock can not be diminished to an amount less than the indebtedness of the corporation, and no increase of capital stock or bonded indebtedness can be made, except at a meeting of the stockholders as in this section provided.

may diminish stock and increase indebtedness.

6. Any two or more corporations may by a separate compliance by each corporation with the provisions of this section applicable in the premises in respect to creating or increasing bonded indebtedness, create or increase a consolidated bonded indebtedness of such corporation, to be binding, jointly and severally on such corporations, and which may be secured by a consolidated mortgage or deed of trust executed by all such corporations, mortgaging or conveying in trust all or any of the properties of all such corporations, acquired or to be acquired.

Consolidated
indebtedness.

7. Upon such increase or diminution of the capital stock or creation or increase of the bonded indebtedness being made in accordance with the provisions of this section there shall be made, if proceedings are had under the provisions first, second, third and fourth above, a certificate under the corporate seal and signed by the president and secretary of the corporation or of each corporation acting in the premises and a majority of the directors or trustees of such corporation, or each corporation so acting, showing a compliance by such corporation, or each corporation so acting, with the requirements of said

Certificate of increase or diminution.

last named subdivisions and the amount to which the capital stock has been increased or diminished and the number of shares into which the capital stock, as increased or diminished, is to be divided and the par value thereof or the amount of the bonded indebtedness created, or to which the bonded indebtedness may have been increased, and the amount of stock represented at the meeting and the total vote in the affirmative by which the same was accomplished and the total vote in the negative; or if such proceedings be had and taken under subdivision fifth of this section as to diminution of capital stock or original creation of bonded indebtedness a like certificate shall be made and sealed and signed as aforesaid, showing a compliance by such corporation, and by each corporation acting in the premises, with the requirements of said subdivision fifth, and the amount to which the capital stock has been diminished and the number of shares into which the capital stock, as diminished, is to be divided and the par value thereof or the amount of bonded indebtedness so originally created, and the total amount of the stock represented by the said written assent or assents so filed with the secretary and the total amount of stock represented by the said written dissent or dissents so filed. In case of a consolidated bond of indebtedness each corporation which is a party thereto shall cause to be made and signed and sealed and verified and filed, as in this section provided, a separate certificate.

certificate.

8. In all cases the certificate shall state the total number of subscribed or issued shares of the capital stock of the corporation, or of each corporation respectively acting in the premises, and shall be verified by the oath of the said president and secretary, or of the said respective presidents and secretaries. Such consolidated bonded indebtedness may be created or increased to an amount equal to the par or face value of the aggregate amount of the subscribed or issued capital stocks of said two or more corporations, but shall not exceed such aggregate amount. In each and every case the certificate must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and thereupon the capital stock shall be so increased or diminished, or the bonded indebtedness or consolidated bonded indebtedness shall be created or increased accordingly. The secretary of state shall forthwith issue a certified copy of said certificate and transmit said copy to the county clerk of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation was situated at the time said corporation was incorporated which copy shall be filed by said county clerk upon payment of the fee prescribed by law. A copy of such certificate, certified by the secretary of state, shall be filed by such corporation in the office of the county clerk of every county in which said corporation has or holds real property. Any corporation which shall fail to comply with the requirements of the preceding sentence shall be subject to the penalties and liabilities provided in section two hundred ninety-nine for a failure of corporations to file copies of their articles of incorporation with the county clerks of the counties in which they shall purchase, hold or locate real property; and such certificate or certificates so filed shall be, when said certified copy or copies are so filed, conclusive proof of such increase or diminution of capital stock or such creation or increase of bonded or consolidated bonded indebtedness and the validity of each thereof. When the by-laws of a corporation prescribe the paper in which notices of meetings of directors or trustees or stockholders are to be published the notices or publication herein provided for shall be published in such paper, unless publication thereof shall have ceased.

An act to amend section six hundred five of the Civil Code, relating to religious, social, and benevolent corporations.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred five of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

605. Any corporation now or hereafter organized for purposes other than profit may consolidate with any other like association or associations, or corporation or corporations, created either under the laws of the State of California, or under the laws of any other state or territory, so as to form a new or consolidated corporation, in such manner as may be authorized by the respective boards of directors or trustees of such associations or corporations by resolution adopted at meetings of the respective boards called for that purpose. The resolution to be adopted by each of the respective boards shall state the names of all the corporations or associations to be united by the consolidation, the name of the state or territory under the laws of which they are created or organized, and the dates of their respective incorporation, the name by which the new or consolidated corporation is to be called or known, the purposes for which it is to be formed, the place where its principal business is to be transacted, the term for which it is to exist, the number of its directors or trustees, and the names and residences of those who are appointed to act as such for the first year, and shall designate three or more persons by whom articles of incorporation of the new or consolidated corporation shall be subscribed and filed in compliance with this section. Articles of incorporation of the new or consolidated corporation shall be subscribed and acknowledged by the persons so designated as last aforesaid in the manner required by section two hundred ninety-two of this code. Said articles shall contain and set forth all the matters required by section two hundred ninety of this code, and in addition thereto there shall be attached to said articles copies of the aforesaid resolution of the several associations or corporations uniting in the consolidation, certified by the respective secretaries of such associations or corporations under the corporate seal thereof; and the said articles of incorporation shall in the body thereof refer to the said resolutions and to the certified copies thereof so attached, and by such reference make the said certified copies a part of the said articles. The said articles of incorporation shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and thereupon the secretary of state shall issue to the corporation, over the great seal of the state, a certificate in manner and form as provided by section two hundred ninety-six of this code. From and after the filing of such articles of incorporation with the secretary of state the former associations or corporations uniting in the consolidation and comprising the component parts of the new or consolidated corporation shall cease to exist, and the new or consolidated corporation shall succeed to all the rights, duties and powers of the component associations or corporations, and shall be possessed of all the rights, duties and powers set forth in its articles of incorporation not inconsistent with this title, and shall be subject to all the liabilities and obligations of the former component associations or corporations, and shall succeed to and become vested with all the property thereof, both real and personal, of every name and nature, and may make by-laws and do all things permitted by this title; provided, however, that no corporation shall be authorized to transact any business until it shall have filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which its principal business is to be transacted, a copy of its articles of incorporation certified by the secretary of state.

CHAPTER 133.

An act to amend section four hundred one of the Civil Code, relating to extension of corporate existence, how made.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four hundred one of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Extension
existence.

401. Every corporation heretofore or hereafter formed, and existing under the laws of this state, may at any time prior to the expiration of the term of its corporate existence extend such term to a period not exceeding fifty years from the date of such extension. Such extension may be made at any meeting of the stockholders, or members, called by the directors especially for considering the subject, if voted for by stockholders representing two-thirds of the capital stock; or by two-thirds of the members where there is no capital stock; or may be made upon the written assent of two-thirds of the members or of stockholders representing two-thirds of the capital stock. A certificate of such vote or assent bearing the corporate seal and signed and sworn to by the president and secretary and by a majority of the directors of the corporation, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and thereupon the term of existence of the corporation shall be extended for the period specified in such certificate. The secretary of state shall forthwith issue a certified copy of said certificate and transmit said copy to the county clerk of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation was situated at the time said corporation was incorporated which copy shall be filed by said county clerk upon payment of the fee prescribed by law. A copy of such certificate, certified by the secretary of state, shall be filed by such corporation in the office of the county clerk of every county in which said corporation has or holds real property. Any corporation which shall fail to comply with the requirements of the preceding sentence shall be subject to the penalties and liabilities provided in section two hundred ninety-nine for a failure of corporations to file copies of their articles of incorporation with the county clerks of the counties in which they shall purchase, hold or locate real property. The fees for certifying such certificate and filing the same and the certified copy thereof, shall be the same as those prescribed by law for certifying and filing articles of incorporation in such cases. In no event shall such extensions be construed to prolong or extend the duration of any franchise or privilege heretofore granted to any corporation or joint stock company by special legislative act, or by the municipal authorities of any county, city, city and county, town or other political subdivision of this state, beyond the term fixed by the provisions of the act, ordinance or resolution conferring such privilege or franchise, or beyond the term fixed for the maximum period of existence of such corporation or joint stock company by laws in force and governing the formation and organization thereof at the time such corporation or joint stock company was formed or organized.

CHAPTER 134.

An act to amend section three hundred sixty-two and section six hundred forty-eight a of the Civil Code, relating to the amendment of articles of incorporation, and filing thereof.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three hundred sixty-two of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Amendment
of articles of incorporation.

362. Any corporation organized under the laws of this state may amend its articles of incorporation for any or all of the following purposes:

(1) To set forth a new name.

(2) To alter or repeal any provision appearing in its original or amended articles of incorporation relative to the purposes for which the corporation is formed, or to set forth, additional powers or purposes.

(3) To designate a principal place of business other than the place designated in its original or amended articles of incorporation.

(4) To state the date to which its existence has been extended.

(5) To state the number of its directors, as increased or diminished.

(6) To state the amount of its capital stock as increased or diminished and the number of shares and the par value thereof, or to change the number of shares and their par value or to provide for the classification of its capital stock into preferred and common shares, in which event there must be set forth a statement of the number of shares of stock to which preference is granted and the number of shares of stock to which no preference is granted, also a clear and succinct statement of the nature and extent of the preference granted, and except as to the matters and things so stated, no distinction shall exist between said classes of stock or the owners thereof; provided, however, that no preference shall be granted nor shall any distinction be made between the classes of stock either as to voting power or as to the statutory or constitutional liability of the holders thereof to the creditors of the corporation; and provided, further, that both the preferred and common shares shall be of the same par value.

(7) To change the statement appearing in its original or amended articles of incorporation of the nature and extent of such preference, subject to the above limitations.

(8) And generally to provide for any other amendment not contrary to law. The articles of incorporation may be amended as aforesaid by a majority vote of the board of directors of the corporation and by the vote or written assent of the holders of at least two-thirds of the subscribed capital stock of such corporation, or if the corporation has no capital stock then by a majority vote of its board of directors and by the vote or written assent of a majority of the members. Upon the adoption of amended articles of incorporation, a copy of the articles as thus amended shall be certified to as correct by the president and secretary and a majority of the directors of the corporation and the corporate seal of such corporation shall be affixed to the certificate. Such certificate shall also set forth the proceedings by virtue of which the amended articles were adopted, which proceedings must be in accordance with the provisions of this section above set forth. The copy of amended articles of incorporation thus certified, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, whereupon such corporation shall have the same powers and the stockholders thereof shall thereafter be subject to the same liabilities as if such amendment had been embraced in the original articles of incorporation. The secretary of state shall forthwith issue a certified copy of said amended articles of incorporation and transmit said copy to the county clerk of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation was situated at the time said corporation was incorporated, which copy shall be filed by said county clerk upon payment of the fee prescribed by law. A copy of such amended articles of incorporation certified by the secretary of state, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of every other county in which such corporation has or holds real property. Any corporation which shall amend its articles of incorporation and shall fail to file copies of its amended articles, as required by the preceding sentence, shall be subject to the penalties and liabilities provided in section two hundred ninety-nine for a failure of corporations to file copies of their articles of incorporation in the office of the county clerks of the counties in which they shall purchase, hold, or locate property. Nothing contained in this section must be construed to cure or amend any defect existing in the original articles of incorporation, where such defect is of such character as to render such original articles invalid. And it is hereby expressly provided that no corporation shall amend its articles of incorporation to alter the statements which appear in the original articles, of the names and residences of the first directors or the statements which appear in such originals, of the amount of capital stock subscribed and by whom. Nothing appearing herein shall be construed as permitting a corporation to change its name or its principal place of business, extend or reduce its term of existence, or increase or diminish its number of directors or its capital stock, by amending its articles of incorporation.

Amended
articles filed with secretary of state.

SEC. 2. Section six hundred forty-eight a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Formation
building
and
associations.

648*a*. Building and loan associations may be formed under this title with or without guarantee or other capital stock, with all the rights, powers and privileges and subject to all the restrictions and liabilities set forth in this title. If formed without any capital stock or with guarantee capital stock only, the working capital may be accumulated by the issue of membership shares, units or certificates having a paid-up or ultimate matured installment value of one hundred or two hundred dollars each, and entitled to all the rights, powers and privileges and subject to all the restrictions and liabilities provided in this title for shares of authorized capital stock of a similar class. Any building and loan association heretofore formed may reincorporate under the provisions of this section and may substitute membership shares, units or certificates of similar classes for its outstanding or authorized shares of capital stock, other than guarantee capital stock by amending its articles of incorporation in the manner prescribed by section three hundred sixty-two of this code, except that such amended articles of incorporation must be adopted by a unanimous vote of the board of directors.

CHAPTER 135.

An act to amend section one thousand six hundred of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to estates of decedents.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand six hundred of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Decree authorizing conveyance.

1600. If after a full hearing upon the petition and objections and examination of the facts and circumstances of the claim, the court is satisfied that the conveyance of the real estate described in the petition to the party entitled thereto should be made, a decree authorizing and directing the executor or administrator to execute a conveyance thereof to the party entitled thereto must be made.

CHAPTER 136.

An act to add a new chapter to title two of part three of division first of the Civil Code, to be numbered chapter three, embracing section two hundred thirty-one, relating to actions to determine parental relation.

[Approved May 14, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

CHAPTER III.

DECLARATION OF PARENTAL RELATION.

SECTION 1. A new chapter to be numbered chapter three is hereby added to title two of part three of division first of the Civil Code of California, relating to declaration of parental relation, and to read as follows:

231. An action may be brought for the purpose of having declared the existence or nonexistence between the parties of the relation of parent and child, by birth or adoption.

Action to determine parental relation.

CHAPTER 137.

An act to amend section one thousand three hundred seventy-three of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to notice of petitions for letters of administration.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand three hundred seventy-three of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1373. When a petition praying for letters of administration is filed, the clerk of the court must set the petition for hearing by the court, and give notice thereof by causing notices to be posted in at least three public places in the county, one of which must be at the place where the court is held, containing the name of the decedent, the name of the applicant, and the time at which the application will be heard. Such notice must be given at least ten days before the hearing. The clerk shall cause similar notice to be mailed, postage prepaid, to the heirs of the decedent, named in the petition, at least ten days before the hearing, addressed to them at their respective post-office addresses, as set forth in the petition, otherwise at the county seat of the county where the proceedings are pending.

Notice of petition for letters of administration.

CHAPTER 138.

An act to amend section one thousand three hundred eighty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to bonds of executors and administrators.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand three hundred eighty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Additional bonds of executors and administrators.

1389. The superior court, or a judge thereof, must require an additional bond before a sale of any real estate belonging to an estate is confirmed; but no such additional bond must be required when it satisfactorily appears to the court that the penalty of the bond given before receiving letters, or of any bond given in place thereof, is equal to twice the value of the personal property remaining in, or that will come into, the possession of the executor or administrator, including the annual rents, profits and issues of real estate, and twice the amount to be received from such sale.

CHAPTER 139.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred forty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to notice of petitions for letters of guardianship.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred forty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Appointment of guardians.

1747. The superior court of each county, when it appears necessary or convenient, may appoint guardians for the persons and estates, or either of them, of minors who have no guardian legally appointed by will or deed, and who are inhabitants or residents of the county, or who reside without the state and have estate within the county. Such appointment may be made on the petition of a relative or other person on behalf of the minor, or on the petition of the minor, if fourteen years of age. Before making such appointment, the court must cause such notice as such court deems reasonable to be given to any person having the care of such minor, and to such relatives of the minor residing in the county as the court may deem proper. In all cases notice must be given to the parents of the minor or proof made to the court that their addresses are unknown, or that, for other reason, such notice can not be given. In all such proceedings, when it appears to the satisfaction of the court, either from a verified petition, or from affidavits, that the welfare of the minor will be imperiled if such minor is allowed to remain in the custody of the person then having the care of such minor, the court may make an order providing for the temporary custody of such minor until a hearing can be had on such petition; and when it appears to the court that there is reason to believe that such minor will be carried out of the jurisdiction of the court before which the application is made, or will suffer some irreparable injury before compliance with such order providing for the temporary custody of such minor can be enforced, such court may at the time of making such order providing for the temporary custody of such minor cause a warrant to be issued, reciting the facts, and directed to the sheriff, coroner, or constable of the county, commanding such officer to take such minor from the custody of the person in whose care such minor then is and place such minor in custody in accordance with the order of the court.

CHAPTER 140.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred sixty-five of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to guardians of incompetent persons.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred sixty-five of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1765. Every guardian appointed, as provided in the preceding section, has the care and custody of the person of his ward and the management of all his estate, or the care and custody of the person of his ward or the management of all his estate, according to the order of appointment, until such guardian is legally discharged, and he must give bond to such ward in like manner and with like conditions as before prescribed with respect to the guardian of a minor. An appeal from the order of appointment shall stay the power of the guardian, except that, for the purpose of preventing injury or loss to person or property, the court making the appointment may direct the exercise of the powers of the guardian, from time to time, as though no appeal were pending, and all acts of the guardian pursuant to such directions shall be valid, irrespective of the result of the appeal.

incompetent persons.

CHAPTER 141.

An act to amend section one thousand two hundred thirty-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to eminent domain.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand two hundred thirty-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

CHAPTER 142.

An act directing the commission of immigration and housing to investigate and propose legislation for the acquisition and building of homes for workingmen, with the financial assistance of the State of California.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The commission of immigration and housing is hereby directed to investigate the practicability of the State of California assisting workingmen to acquire and build homes, and to report to the next session of the legislature a bill or bills embodying a plan and the method of carrying it out whereby, with the assistance of the state, workingmen may acquire lots of ground and build houses thereon, such lots and houses to become homesteads and to be sold on the installment plan.

Investigation of plan to build homes for workingmen.

CHAPTER 143.

An act to amend section one thousand one hundred fifty-eight of the Civil Code, relating to instruments that may be recorded.

[Approved May 14, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand one hundred fifty-eight of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1158. Any instrument or judgment affecting the title to or possession of real property may be recorded under this chapter; provided, however, that deeds or grants conveying to a political corporation or governmental agency real estate, or any interest therein, or easements thereon, for public purposes shall not be accepted for recordation without the consent of the grantee, evidenced by its resolution of acceptance attached to such deed or grant.

Recording deeds conveying to a political corporation.

CHAPTER 144.

An act to amend section one thousand one hundred eighty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the retention of moneys due and to become due to contractors.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand one hundred eighty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice to owner of labor performed
and
furnished.

1184. Any of the persons mentioned in the preceding section, except the contractor, and all persons, firms and corporations, excluding the contractor, performing work or furnishing materials, or both, upon any public improvement, including highways, streets, wagon roads, viaducts or sewers, may at any time, prior to the expiration of the period within which claims of lien must be filed for record, as prescribed by the provisions of section one thousand one hundred eighty-seven of this code, give to the owner a notice that they have performed labor or furnished materials, or both, to the contractor or other person acting by the authority of the owner, or that they have agreed to do so, stating in general terms the kind of labor and materials and the name of the person to or for whom the same was done or furnished, or both, and the amount in value, as near as may be, of that already done or furnished, or both, and of the whole agreed to be done or furnished, or both, and any of said persons who shall on the written demand of the owner refuse to give such notice shall thereby deprive himself of the right to claim a lien under this chapter. Such notice must be verified by the claimant, or by some person acting in his behalf, and may be given by delivering the same to said owner personally, or by leaving it at his residence or place of business with some person in charge, or by delivering it to his architect, if any; provided, however, that in all cases in which said work is being done under a contract with the state, or with any public board, commission, or officer thereof, or with any political subdivision thereof, such notice must be filed, within said time, in the office of the controller, auditor or other public disbursing officer whose duty it is to make payments under the provisions of such contract or with the commissioner, managers, trustees, officers, board of supervisors, board of trustees, common council or other body by whom the contract for the improvement was awarded. No such notice shall be invalid by reason of any defect in form, provided it is sufficient to inform the owner of the substantial matters herein provided for. Upon such notice being given it shall be lawful for the owner to withhold, and in the case of property which, for reasons of public policy or otherwise, is not subject to liens in this chapter provided for, the owner or person who contracted with the contractor, shall withhold from his contractor sufficient money, and bonds, where bonds are to be issued in lieu of money, by the political subdivision which contracted for said work, due or that may become due to such contractor to answer such claim and any lien that may be filed therefor, including the reasonable cost of any litigation thereunder.

The word "owner" as used in this section, includes the state or any public board, commission or officer thereof, or any political subdivision thereof, whether the said work be done by or under the direction of said state, public board, commission or officer thereof, or any political subdivision thereof.

"Owner"
defined.

CHAPTER 145.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred two of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to appointment of trustees.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 23, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred two of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to appointment of trustees, is hereby amended to read as follows:

1702. Any person named or designated as a trustee in any will which has been or shall hereafter be admitted to probate in this state may, at any time before final distribution, decline to act as such trustee, and an order of court shall thereupon be made accepting such resignation; but the declination of any such person who has qualified as trustee shall not be accepted by the court, unless the same shall be in writing and filed in the matter of the estate in the court in which the administration is pending, and such notice shall be given thereof as is required upon a petition praying for letters of administration. The court in which the administration is pending shall have power at any time before final distribution to appoint some fit and proper person to fill any vacancy in the office of trustee under the will, whether resulting from such declination, removal, or otherwise; provided, it shall be required by law or necessary to carry out the trust created by the will, that such vacancy shall be filled; and every person so appointed shall, before acting as trustee, give a bond such as is required by section one thousand three hundred eighty-eight of this code, of a person to whom letters of administration are directed to issue. Such appointment may be made by the probate judge upon the written application of any person interested in the trust filed in the probate proceedings, and shall only be made after notice to all parties interested in the trust, given in the same manner as notice is required to be given of the hearing upon the petition for the probate of a will. In each of the preceding cases the court may order such further notice as shall seem necessary. In accepting a declination under the provisions of this section, the court may make and enforce any order which may be necessary for the preservation of the estate. This section shall be applicable to any and all estates now pending in which a final distribution and discharge has not been granted.

CHAPTER 146.

An act to validate municipal bonds, and to provide for the levy and collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest on such bonds.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Municipal
bonds
validated.

SECTION 1. Where in any municipal corporation, proceedings have been taken for the purpose of issuing and selling bonds of such municipal corporation, for any purpose or purposes, all such acts and proceedings leading up to and including the issuance of such bonds, if they have heretofore been sold, and all such acts and proceedings heretofore had, although the bonds are not yet sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared validated to all intents and purposes, and the power of said municipal corporation and of the legislative body thereof, to issue such bonds, is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared, and the bonds already sold are declared to be, and the bonds hereafter sold shall be, the legal and binding obligation of and against the municipal corporation, having heretofore issued or hereafter issuing such bonds, and the faith and credit of such municipal corporation is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

Tax to pay interest
principal.

SEC. 2. The legislative branch of such municipal corporation shall at the time of fixing the general tax levy and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect annually each year until said bonds are paid, or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of said municipal corporation, set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all sums coming due for the principal and interest on such bonds a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance of such bonds, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually each year, sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected and be used for no other purpose than for the payment of said bonds and the accruing interest thereon.

SEC. 3. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds which have been sold for less than par, nor to legalize any bonds the issuance of which has not received the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, voting at an election held for the purpose of determining whether such indebtedness should be incurred, nor to legalize any bonds which mature at a date more than forty years from the time of their issuance. Bonds excepted.

CHAPTER 147.

An act to add a new section to the Penal Code to be numbered three hundred eighty-four a, providing for the protection of the Toyon or Christmas red-berry and prescribing penalties for violations of the provisions thereof.

[Approved May 14, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code, to be numbered three hundred eighty-four a, and to read as follows:

384a. Any person, firm or corporation is guilty of a misdemeanor— Protection of red berries.

(a) Who mutilates or destroys any Toyon or Christmas red-berry tree (Heteromeles arbutifolia) growing on public or private land, unless, in the case of private land, the owner gives his consent thereto; or

(b) Who sells, offers, or exposes for sale any Toyon or Christmas red-berry (Heteromeles arbutifolia) or any part thereof grown on land in this state; provided, that this paragraph shall not prevent the sale of such Christmas red-berry taken from privately owned land, by, or with the consent in writing of the owner of the land.

CHAPTER 148.

An act to amend section one thousand two hundred seventy-four a of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to unclaimed property and the escheat thereof.

[Approved May 14, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand two hundred seventy-four a of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Deposit of unclaimed
property.

1274a. All money or other property distributed in the administration of an estate of a decedent and heretofore or hereafter deposited with a county treasurer to the credit of the distributee, must be forthwith delivered into the state treasury by the county treasurer upon the expiration of one year from the date of such deposit. Money so deposited in the state treasury may be recovered by the person or persons entitled thereto, upon the conditions herein prescribed, in the manner provided in section one thousand six hundred ninety-six of this code.

Proceeding to vest title in
state.

Money or other property so deposited in the state treasury, if not claimed by the person or persons entitled thereto within five years from the date of such deposit, shall become the property of the State of California by escheat, and the attorney general shall commence a proceeding on behalf of the state in the superior court for Sacramento county, in accordance with this title, to have it adjudged that the title to such property has vested in the state.

CHAPTER 149.

An act to amend section four hundred eight of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the writ of summons.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four hundred eight of the Code of Civil Procedure, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Alias
summons.

408. If the summons is returned without being served on any or all of the defendants, or if it has been lost, the clerk, upon the demand of the plaintiff, may issue an alias summons in the same form as the original, and within such time as the original might have been served if it had not been lost or returned.

CHAPTER 150.

An act to amend section one thousand eight hundred sixty of the Civil Code, relating to the liability of innkeepers, hotel keepers, boarding house and lodging house keepers.

[Approved May 14, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand eight hundred sixty of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1860. If an innkeeper, hotel keeper, boarding house or lodging house keeper, keeps a fireproof safe and gives notice to a guest, boarder or lodger, either personally or by putting up a printed notice in a prominent place in the office or the room occupied by the guest, boarder, or lodger, that he keeps such a safe and will not be liable for money, jewelry, documents, furs, fur coats and fur garments, or other articles of unusual value and small compass, unless placed therein, he is not liable, except so far as his own acts shall contribute thereto, for any loss of or injury to such articles, if not deposited with him to be placed therein, nor in any case for more than the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars for any or all such property of any individual guest, boarder, or lodger, unless he shall have given a receipt in writing therefor to such guest, boarder or lodger.

SEC. 2. All other acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 151.

An act to amend section one thousand eight hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code, relating to the liability of innkeepers, hotel keepers, boarding or lodging house keepers.

[Approved May 14, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand eight hundred fifty-nine is hereby amended to read as follows:

1859. The liability of an innkeeper, hotel keeper, boarding and lodging house keeper, for losses of or injuries to personal property, other than money placed by his guests, boarders, or lodgers under his care, is that of a depository for hire; provided, however, that in no case shall such liability exceed the sum of one hundred dollars for each trunk and its contents, fifty dollars for each valise or traveling-bag and contents, and ten dollars for each box, bundle, or package and contents so placed under his care, and all other miscellaneous effects including wearing apparel and personal belongings, two hundred fifty dollars; unless he shall have consented in writing with the owner thereof to assume a greater liability.

Repealed.

SEC. 2. All other acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 152.

An act to add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered three hundred forty-one a, relating to the time for the commencement of actions other than for the recovery of real property.

[Approved May 14, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered three hundred forty-one a and to read as follows:

Actions to recover
in hotel.

341a. All civil actions for the recovery of personal property, wearing apparel, trunks, valises or baggage alleged to have been left at a hotel, boarding house, lodging house or apartment house, shall be begun within ninety days from and after the date of the departure of the owner of said personal property, wearing apparel, trunks, valises or baggage from said hotel, boarding house, lodging house or furnished apartment house.

An act to amend section one hundred seventy of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to disqualification of judges.

[Approved May 14, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one hundred seventy of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Disqualifica-
tion of judges.

170. No justice, judge, or justice of the peace shall sit or act as such in any action or proceeding:

1. To which he is a party or in which he is interested;

2. When he is related to either party, or to an officer of a corporation which is a party, or to an attorney, counsel, or agent of either party, by consanguinity or affinity, within the third degree, computed according to the rules of law: provided, however, that if the parties to the action, or the executor, or administrator of the estate, or the guardian of the minor or incompetent person, or the receiver, or the commissioner, or the referee, or the attorney for a party in all special proceedings of a civil or criminal nature, shall sign and file in the action or matter, a stipulation in writing waiving the disqualification herein, the judge or court may proceed with the trial or hearing with the same legal effect as if no such disqualification existed;

Disquali-
fication
of Judges.

3. When in the action or proceeding, or in any previous action or proceeding involving any of the same issues, he has been attorney or counsel for either party; or when he has given advice to either party upon any matter involved in the action or proceeding;

4. When it appears from the affidavit or affidavits on file that either party can not have a fair and impartial trial before any judge of a court of record about to try the case by reason of the prejudice or bias of such judge, said judge shall forthwith secure the services of some other judge, of the same or another county, to preside at the trial of said action or proceeding; provided, that in an action in the superior court of a county, or of a city and county, having more than one department, said action shall be transferred to another department thereof, and tried therein in the same manner as though originally assigned to such department. The affidavit or affidavits alleging the disqualification of a judge, must be filed and served upon the adverse party or the attorney for such party at least one day before the day set for trial of such action or proceeding; provided, counter-affidavits may be filed at least one day thereafter, or such further time as the court may extend the time for filing such counter-affidavits, not exceeding five days, and for this purpose the court may continue the trial; and in no one cause or proceeding can more than one such change of judges be had. But the provisions of this section shall not apply to the arrangement of the calendar, or to the regulation of the order of business, nor the power of transferring the action or proceedings to some other court, or the hearing upon such affidavits and counter-affidavits;

5. In an action or proceeding brought in the superior court or justices' court by or against the reclamation board of the State of California, or any reclamation, levee, swamp land or drainage district, or any public agency, or trustee, officer or employee thereof, affecting or relating to any real property or any easement or right of way, levee, embankment, canal, or any work provided for or approved by the reclamation board of the State of California, the judge of the superior court of the county, or justice of the peace of the township in which such real property, or any part thereof, or such easement or right of way, levee, embankment, canal or work, or any part thereof is situated shall be disqualified to sit or act, and such action, if brought in the superior court, shall be heard and tried by some other judge of the superior court requested to sit therein by the governor, or if brought in the justices' court, by some other justice of the peace requested to sit therein by the governor; unless the parties to the action shall sign and file in the action or proceeding a stipulation in writing, waiving the disqualification in this subdivision of this section provided, in which case such judge or justice of the peace may proceed with the trial or hearing with the same legal effect as if no such legal disqualification existed. If, however, the parties to the action shall sign and file a stipulation agreeing upon some other judge of the superior court or justice of the peace to sit or act in place of the judge or justice disqualified under the provisions of this subdivision, the judge or justice agreed upon shall be called by the judge or justice of the peace so disqualified to hear and try such action or proceeding: provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as preventing the judge of the superior court of such county from issuing a temporary injunction or restraining order, which shall, if granted, remain in force until vacated or modified by the judge designated by the governor as herein provided.

of judges.

Nothing in this section contained shall affect a party's right to a change of the place of trial in the cases provided for in title four, part two of this code.

An act directing the state board of equalization to gather and report to the legislature certain data relative to property values in this state; requiring persons or corporations taxed under section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution to submit certain data on values to the state board of equalization and defining the use to which such data may be placed.

[Approved May 16, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Report by State board of equalization regarding property values.

SECTION 1. On the first day of the convening of each regular session of the legislature, the state board of equalization shall report to the legislature a detailed statement regarding the values of properties taxed under subdivision (a) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution, which report shall contain in detail for each person or corporation so taxed the following information:

(1) The physical value of each of said properties, reported as required by section two hereof.

(2) The stock and bond value of each of said properties when obtainable.

(3) The value of each of said properties as may have been determined by the railroad commission.

(4) The values of such properties as may have been claimed before the railroad commission by any or all of said persons or corporations.

(5) The reproduction cost of each of said properties when obtainable.

(6) The original or historical value of each of said properties.

SEC. 2. Each person or corporation enumerated in subdivision (a) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution between the first day of July and the first day of October in each and every year preceding a regular session of the legislature, in addition to all of the information now required by law to be filed, must file with the state board of equalization upon forms to be furnished by said board the statements of values enumerated in section one of this act.

Reports by corporations taxed for state purposes.

SEC. 3. The values required to be reported under section two of this act shall be certified to by the person or corporation submitting the same and shall be competent evidence against said person or corporation as to such values before any court in the state, before the railroad commission and before any legislative committee.

Certified values as evidence.

An act transferring the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, heretofore appropriated by an act approved May 26, 1913, to the use of the "state compensation insurance fund," from said "state compensation insurance fund" to the general fund of the state.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The "state compensation insurance fund," created by an act approved May 26, 1913 (chapter 176, laws of 1913), having become self-supporting as contemplated by section thirty-seven of said act, and the sum of one hundred thousand dollars appropriated for the use of said fund by an act approved May 26, 1913 (chapter 180, laws 1913), not having been expended and being no longer required for the support or use of said fund, and the industrial accident commission consenting to the surrender of the use of said sum of money, said sum of one hundred thousand dollars is hereby transferred from the said "state compensation insurance fund" to the general fund of the state.

Transfer of compensation insurance fund to general fund.

SEC. 2. The state controller and the state treasurer are hereby authorized and directed to transfer said sum of one hundred thousand dollars from the "state compensation insurance fund" to the general fund of the state.

CHAPTER 156.

An act to amend section fourteen and one-half of an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts and to repeal an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into six fish and game districts," approved March 21, 1911, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith,' approved May 15, 1915," approved May 28, 1917, as amended.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1919,
p. 432,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section fourteen and one-half of an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts and to repeal an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into six fish and game districts," approved March 21, 1911, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith,' approved May 15, 1915," approved May 28, 1917, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 14½. Fish and game district one "M" shall consist of and include all of that certain territory within the county of Kern bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the San Joaquin Power Company's plant located on the bank of the Kern river in section six, township twenty-nine south, range thirty east, Mount Diablo base and meridian, thence running in a northeasterly direction following the south bank of the Kern river to the mouth of Clear creek, thence following Clear creek in a southerly direction to the intersection of the Caliente-Kernville highway, thence following said highway in a southerly direction to the intersection of Basin creek; thence following the northerly bank of Basin creek in a southwesterly direction to the intersection of the west boundary line of township thirty south, range thirty-one east, Mount Diablo base and meridian, thence following said township line north to the intersection of the west boundary line of township twenty-nine south, range thirty-one east, thence following said township line north to the intersection of the national forest boundary line as established January 1, 1919, thence following said national forest boundary line west to the San Joaquin Power Company's plant at the place of beginning.

CHAPTER 157.

An act authorizing the state controller to destroy certain reports and other documents.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. All reports from county and city officials and individuals which have been in the custody of the controller for a period of five years preceding, may be destroyed; provided, however, that this act shall not apply to claims upon which warrants have been issued nor warrants which have been canceled nor other records involving the expenditure of state money, nor books of original entry.

State controller may destroy certain reports.

CHAPTER 158.

An act to provide for the reversion of unexpended balances of certain appropriations.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. All balances remaining unexpended, from appropriations made by the legislature of the State of California, four years after such appropriations became available shall revert to and become a part of the unappropriated moneys in the general fund of the State of California; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to repeal or otherwise affect any act providing for the transfer of moneys from the general fund for the benefit of elementary schools, high schools, the university, the interest and sinking fund, or any other bond interest fund; provided, also, that this act shall in no manner affect acts creating statutory salaries or acts whereby the regular annual expenditure of fixed sums for any public purpose is provided for; provided, further, that this act shall in no way affect appropriations made for cooperative work under specific agreements or under contract.

Reversion of unexpended balances

SEC. 2. Appropriations made prior to 1921 shall not lapse until six years have expired from the date they became available.

CHAPTER 162.

An act to amend section six hundred twenty-eight a of the Penal Code, relating to the protection of fish and game.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred twenty-eight a of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Protection of striped bass.

628a. Every person, who at any time, buys, sells, offers for sale or has in his possession any striped bass of less than three pounds in weight, or who between April first and May thirty-first, both dates inclusive, buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale or has in his possession any striped bass of more than ten pounds in weight, or who, except with hook and line, and in the manner commonly known as angling, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any striped bass or shad between the seventeenth day of September and the fourteenth day of November, inclusive, of any year, or between the first day of June and the thirty-first day of July, both dates inclusive, of any year, or who, between the seventeenth day of September and the fourteenth day of November, inclusive, or between the first day of June and the thirty-first day of July, inclusive, of any year, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession more than five striped bass or shad, or who, between the seventeenth day of September and the fourteenth day of November, inclusive, or between the first day of June and thirty-first day of July, inclusive, of any year, buys, sells, offers for sale, ships or offers for shipment, or receives for shipment or transportation, any striped bass, or who at any time offers for shipment, ships or receives for shipment or transportation from the State of California, to any place in any other state, territory or foreign country any striped bass is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who takes any striped bass or shad in a net, any of the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knots, less than five and one-half inches in length, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who shall cast, extend or draw, or assist in casting, extending or drawing any net or seine, for the purpose of taking or catching any shad or striped bass in any of the waters of this state at any time between sunrise of each Saturday and sunset of the following Sunday is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who, in fish and game district number two, takes, catches or kills more than five striped bass in any one calendar day, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Be it provided, that nothing in this section shall prohibit any person from having in his possession, in any one calendar day, not to exceed five striped bass between twelve inches in length and three pounds in weight, but such striped bass must be caught only with hook and line and must not be bought, sold or offered for sale, or shipped or offered for shipment.

And be it provided, further, that nothing in this section shall prohibit any person from holding in his possession, during the closed season of June and July, striped bass legally caught in open season, when the holder of such striped bass shall comply with the regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. Every person who violates any of the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 163.

An act to amend section six hundred thirty-six of the Penal Code, relating to the protection of fish and game.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred thirty-six of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

636. Every person who shall use or operate, or who shall assist in using or operating any net, trap, line or other appliance for the purpose of taking or catching fish, mollusks or crustaceans in the State of California at any time, or in any manner, except as otherwise provided in this chapter, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Protection
of fish.

It shall be lawful to use drift gill nets in fish and game districts five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, twelve A, twelve B, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen and twenty-two, and to use set gill nets in fish and game districts seventeen, eighteen, nineteen and twenty A; provided, that in fish and game districts eleven, twelve, twelve A, twelve B and thirteen the cork line of any gill net shall not be submerged more than twelve feet below the surface of the water, and that the lines attaching the buoys or floats to the cork line of such submerged nets be not more than twelve feet in length and that the points of attachment of said lines on the cork line be not more than ten fathoms apart; provided, further, that it shall be lawful to use gill nets of not less than six and one-half inch mesh, in fish and game district seven A from October eight, 1921, to December seven, 1921, both dates inclusive; and provided, further, that in fish and game districts eleven, twelve, twelve A, twelve B and thirteen the meshes of the gill nets shall be approximately the same size and shall not vary in length more than one inch; and provided, further, that gill nets are not to be used in fish and game districts twelve A, and twelve B between September seventeenth and November fourteenth of any year, both dates inclusive, or between June first and July thirty-first of any year, both dates inclusive; provided, however, that in fish and game district twelve B gill nets having meshes measuring not less than seven and one-half inches may be used between the June first and July thirty-first of any year, both dates inclusive, for the purpose of taking salmon only; and any gill net found in any fishing boat in fish and game districts twelve A and twelve B during said closed season shall be prima facie evidence that the owner of such net was using same in said fish and game district; and provided, further, that no gill nets are to be used or operated in fish and game district twelve between the first day of March and the thirty-first day of July of any year, both dates inclusive, the meshes of which measure between five and five-eighths inches and seven and one-half inches in length. Any line used on gill nets which shall tend to cause the webbing of such gill nets to bag or hang slack shall cause such net to lose its identity as a drift gill net and become a trammel net.

Trammel
nets.

It shall be lawful to use trammel nets (also known as two mesh and three mesh nets) in fish and game district twelve B, the minimum meshes of which shall measure not less than five and one-half inches in length.

It shall be lawful to use trammel nets (also known as two mesh and three mesh nets) in fish and game districts ten, eighteen and nineteen, the minimum meshes of which shall measure not less than eight inches in length.

Purse nets and round
haul nets.

It shall be lawful to use beach nets (also known as beach seines or haul seines.) in fish and game districts five, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve A, thirteen, eighteen, nineteen and twenty-two; provided, that in fish and game districts five and twelve A the meshes of any such beach nets shall measure not less than five and one-half inches in length, and that in fish and game districts ten, eighteen, and nineteen, the meshes of the beach nets shall measure not less than one and one-half inches in length; and beach nets shall only be used in fish and game district nineteen between the first day of September and the thirty-first day of January of the year following, both dates inclusive, and for the purpose of taking smelt only.

Beach nets.

For the purpose of this act, any net hauled from the water to the beach or shore for the purpose of taking fish, shall be known as a beach net.

It shall be lawful to use fyke nets in fish and game districts twelve B for the purpose of catching carp, pike, hardheads and suckers between the first day of December and the last day of February of the year following, both dates inclusive; provided, that the smallest meshes of any fyke net so used shall measure not less than two and one-half inches in length.

Fyke nets.

It shall be lawful to use trawl nets (also known as paranzella nets, beam trawls or shrimp trawls) in fish and game districts five, six, seven, twelve, thirteen and eighteen; provided, that the use of any trawl net in fish and game districts twelve and thirteen shall be for the purpose of taking shrimp only; and provided, further, that it shall be unlawful to use trawl nets in any bay in fish and game district number eighteen.

Trawl nets.

It shall be lawful to use crab nets or crab traps in fish and game districts five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, seventeen, eighteen and nineteen, and lobster traps in fish and game districts seventeen, eighteen and nineteen.

Crab nets.

It shall be lawful to use shrimp nets (also known as Chinese shrimp or bag nets) in fish and game district thirteen for the purpose of taking shrimp only.

Shrimp nets.

It shall be lawful to use dip nets for the purpose of taking fish other than game fish to be used as bait only, in any fish and game district, excepting fish and game district fourteen; provided, that in fish and game districts one, one and one-half, two, three and four such dip nets shall not be baited; and provided, further, that any dip net in fish and game districts one, one and one-half, two, three, four, nineteen and twenty, shall not measure more than six feet in its greatest breadth; and provided, further, that it shall be unlawful for any person to have in his possession any nets other than such bait dip nets within fish and game district twenty.

CHAPTER 165.

An act to amend section four thousand forty-one of the Political Code, relating to the general powers of boards of supervisors.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand forty-one of the Political Code be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

Powers of supervisors.

4041. The boards of supervisors, in their respective counties shall have jurisdiction and power, under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law:

Supervise work of county officers.

1. To supervise the official conduct of all county officers, and officers of all districts and other subdivisions of the county and particularly those charged with the assessing, collecting, safekeeping, management, or disbursement of the public revenues; to see that they faithfully perform their duties, direct prosecutions for delinquencies, and, when necessary, require them to renew their official bond, make reports and present their books and accounts for inspection.

Divide county into districts.

2. To divide the counties into townships, election, school, road, supervisor, sanitary, and other districts required by law, change the same, and create others, as convenience requires.

Establish election precincts.

3. To establish, abolish, and change election precincts, and to appoint inspectors, clerks and judges of election, canvass all election returns, declare the result and order the county clerk to issue certificates thereof; provided, that no election precinct shall be established or abolished, or the boundaries of any election precinct changes within ninety days prior to any election.

Build roads.

4. To acquire and take by purchase, condemnation or otherwise land for the uses and purposes of public roads, highways, boulevards, turnpikes and other public ways, and to lay out, maintain, control, construct, repair, and manage public roads, boulevards, highways, turnpikes and other public ways, and to incur a bonded indebtedness for any such purposes; provided, that no such indebtedness shall be incurred for any of such purposes until after the question of the issue of bonds therefor shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of the county, at a special election called for that purpose, and two-thirds of the electors of the county voting at such election shall have voted in favor of issuing such bonds; said election to be called and held and said bonds, if authorized, to be issued, sold and made payable in the manner and form prescribed by section four thousand eighty-eight of this code. Said board shall also have power to make and enforce rules and regulations for the protection, management, control and use of such public boulevards, roads, highways, turnpikes and other public ways. Such boards shall also have power to expend from the general fund of the county such moneys as may be necessary to pay the whole or any part of the cost of the improvement of that portion of any street, highway, lane, alley, court, or other public place within any incorporated city of the county, upon which abuts any real property of the county used for public purposes, not exceeding the amount, however, which, but for such public ownership and use, would be properly chargeable to and assessed against such real property under the provisions of the law governing such work or improvement; provided, no liability shall be created against the county in connection with any such work or improvement unless, prior to the commencement thereof, or to the letting of any contract therefor, the board shall, by resolution, determine and declare the amount to be so expended and direct that such sum be set apart and reserved out of any moneys in the general fund available for such purpose, to be used exclusively for paying the cost of such work or improvement.

4a. To construct, operate, manage or maintain summer bridges or ferries under such rules and regulations and at such times and places as they may deem necessary; such bridges or ferries to be paid for out of the county general fund. Maintain summer bridges.

5. To lay out, maintain, control, construct, repair and manage public ferries, wharves, chutes, and other shipping facilities and bridges within the county, unless otherwise provided by law, and to grant franchises and licenses to collect tolls thereon. Maintain ferries.

6. To purchase, receive by donation, lease or otherwise acquire water rights or real or personal property necessary for the use of the county, for a courthouse, jail, hospital, historical museum, art gallery, art institute, stadium and almshouse, and an exposition building or buildings, public pleasure ground, public parks, and other public purposes, and also property upon which to sink wells to obtain water for sprinkling roads and other county purposes, and to improve, preserve, take care of, manage and control the same; provided, that no purchase of real property shall be made unless a notice of the intention of the board of supervisors to make such purchase, describing the property to be purchased, the price to be paid therefor, from whom it is proposed to be purchased, and fixing the time when the board will meet to consummate such purchase, has been published for at least three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county; or if none be published in the county, then that has been posted at least three weeks prior to the time when the board meets to consummate such purchase, in at least three public places in each supervisorial district. Acquire land for court house, etc.

7. To construct or lease, build or rebuild, furnish or refurbish or repair hospital and almshouses, courthouse, jail, historical museum, county free library building, branch library building, art gallery, art institute, exposition building or buildings for exhibiting and advertising farming, mining, manufacturing, livestock raising, and other resources of the county, stadium and such other public buildings as may Build hospitals, etc.

CHAPTER 169.

An act to amend section five hundred twenty-eight of the Political Code, relating to the duties of the state printer in connection with the laws of the state.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section five hundred twenty-eight of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

528. There must be printed of the laws of each session of the legislature, two thousand two hundred fifty copies, in English, to be deposited with the secretary of state, who, after retaining a sufficient number of said volumes for distribution, in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred nine of the Political Code, shall deposit one hundred fifty copies with the state librarian; the remaining copies to be sold at a price to be approved by the state board of control, who may authorize the superintendent of printing to compile and print any number of additional copies; the moneys thus received to be paid into the state treasury at the end of each month. Whenever any bill, joint or concurrent resolution, is passed to enrollment, by either the senate or assembly, the committee on enrollment of the house, in which the bill, joint or concurrent resolution originated, shall transmit the same, without delay, to the superintendent of state printing, who shall receipt for all such bills and resolutions, and proceed at once to have the same printed, in the order in which received, in the measure proscribed by law for the statutes. So soon as printed, one copy, with proper blanks for the signatures of the officers whose duty it is to sign enrolled bills, shall be printed on bond paper, which, together with the engrossed bill, shall be sent to the committee on enrollment of the house in which the bill originated. Said committee shall compare such copy with the engrossed bill, and if it is found to be correct shall present it to the proper officers for their signatures. When such officials shall have signed their names, thereon, as required by law, it shall be an enrolled bill, and shall be transmitted to the governor for his approval. If the same is signed by the governor and becomes a law, the printed law shall go to the secretary of state and become the official record.

Distribution

CHAPTER 170.

An act to amend sections six hundred fifty three d, six hundred fifty-three i, six hundred fifty-three o and six hundred fifty-three v of the Civil Code, relating to cooperative associations and corporations.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred fifty-three d of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Articles of association of
associations.

653*d*. Every association formed under this title must prepare articles of association, in writing stating: The name of the association, the purpose for which it is formed, the place where its principal business is to be transacted, the term for which it is to exist, not to exceed fifty years, the number of the directors thereof, and the names and residences of those selected for the first year, the amount which each member is to pay upon admission as membership fee, and that each member signing the articles has actually paid in such sum, and that the interest and right of each member therein is to be equal. Such articles of association must be subscribed by the original associates or members, and acknowledged by each before some person competent to take an acknowledgment of a deed in this state. Such articles so subscribed and acknowledged must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who shall thereupon issue his certificate in the form, and having the effect prescribed in said section two hundred ninety-six; provided, however, that no corporation shall be authorized to transact any business until it shall have filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which its principal business is to be transacted, a copy of its articles of incorporation certified by the secretary of state.

Filed with
secretary of state.

SEC. 2. Section six hundred fifty-three i of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

653*i*. Two or more associations formed and existing under this title, or under any preexisting law authorizing their formation for the same purposes, may be consolidated, upon such terms, and for such purposes, and by such name, as may be agreed upon, in writing, signed by two-thirds of the members of each such association. Such agreement must also state all the matters necessary to articles of association, and must be acknowledged by the signers before an officer competent to take an acknowledgment of deeds in this state, and be filed in all respects in accordance with the provisions of section two hundred ninety-six of this code; and from and after the filing of such certified copy the former associations comprising the component parts cease to exist, and the consolidated association succeeds to all the rights, duties and powers of the component associations, and is possessed of all the rights, duties, and powers prescribed in the agreement of consolidated association not inconsistent with this title, and is subject to all the liabilities and obligations of the former component associations, and succeeds to all the property and interests thereof, and may make by-laws and do all things permitted by this title.

Consolidation
of
associations.

SEC. 3. Section six hundred fifty-three o of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

653*o*. Each association formed under this title must prepare and file articles of incorporation setting forth:

of cooperative agricultural associations.

1. The name of the association.
2. The purpose for which it is formed.
3. The place where its principal business will be transacted.
4. The term for which it is to exist, not exceeding fifty years.

5. The number of directors thereof, which must not be less than three and which may be any number in excess thereof, and the names and residences of those selected for the first year and until their successors shall have been elected, and shall have accepted office.

6. Whether the voting power and the property rights and interest of each member shall be equal or unequal, and if unequal the articles shall set forth a general rule or rules applicable to all members by which the voting power and property rights and interests, respectively, of each member may and shall be determined and fixed, but the association shall have power to admit new members who shall be entitled to vote and to share in the property of the association with the old members, in accordance with such general rule. This provision of the articles of incorporation shall not be altered, amended, or repealed except by the unanimous written consent or the vote of all of the members.

7. Said articles must be subscribed by the original members and acknowledged by one of them before an officer authorized by the law of this state, to take and certify acknowledgments of deeds of conveyance. Such articles so subscribed and acknowledged must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who shall thereupon issue his certificate in the form and having the effect prescribed in section two hundred ninety-six; provided, however, that no corporation shall be authorized to transact any business until it shall have filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which its principal business is to be transacted, a copy of its articles of incorporation certified by the secretary of state. When so filed, said articles of incorporation or certified copies thereof shall be received in all the courts of this state, and other places as prima facie evidence of the facts contained therein.

secretary of state.

SEC. 4. Section six hundred fifty-three v of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Articles of incorporation of non-profit cooperative
associations.

653*v*. Each corporation formed under this title must prepare and file articles of incorporation in writing setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The purpose for which it is formed.
3. The place where its principal business will be transacted.
4. The term for which it is to exist, not exceeding fifty years.

5. The number of directors thereof, which must not be less than three and which may be any number in excess thereof, and the names and residences of those selected for the first year and until their successors shall have been elected, and shall have accepted office.

6. Whether the voting power and the property rights and interest of each member shall be equal or unequal, and if unequal the articles shall set forth a general rule or rules applicable to all members by which the voting power and the property rights and interests, respectively, of each member may and shall be determined and fixed, but the corporation shall have power to admit new members who shall be entitled to vote and to share in the property of the corporation with the old members, in accordance with such general rule.

7. Said articles of incorporation shall be subscribed by three or more of the original members, a majority of whom must be residents of this state, and acknowledged by each before some officer authorized to take and certify acknowledgments of conveyance or real property. Such articles so subscribed and acknowledged must be filed in the office of the secretary of state who shall thereupon issue a certificate in the form and having the effect prescribed in section two hundred ninety-six; provided, however, that no corporation shall be authorized to transact any business until it shall have filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which its principal business is to be transacted a copy of its articles of incorporation certified by the secretary of state. When so filed the said articles of incorporation or certified copies thereof shall be received in all the courts of this state and other places as prima facie evidence of the facts contained therein.

Filed with secretary of state.

CHAPTER 171.

An act to add a new section to the Penal Code of the State of California to be numbered section six hundred thirty-two a, relating to the protection of fish and game.

SEC. 2. All patents or conveyances of such lands which may hereafter be located or filed on shall be issued subject to the rights of way herein provided for. Patents subject to act.

CHAPTER 174.

An act to amend section thirty-one a of an act entitled "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909, designated the "bank act," relating to the consolidation of banking corporations.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section thirty-one a of an act entitled "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917, p 608.

Sec. 31a. Any bank incorporated under the laws of this state may consolidate with one or more banks incorporated under the laws of this state, its capital stock, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, obligations, debts, liabilities and assets of every kind and description, upon such terms and in such manner as may be agreed upon by their respective boards of directors, a copy of which agreement must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks; provided, that such agreement shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of banks and shall not be valid until such approval be obtained; provided, further, that no such consolidation shall take effect until such agreement shall have been ratified and confirmed in writing by the stockholders of the respective banks holding of record at least two-thirds of the issued capital stock of their respective banks, or such agreement may be submitted to the stockholders of each of such corporations at a meeting thereof to be called upon notice specifying the time, place and object thereof, addressed to each stockholder at his last known post-office address and deposited in the post office, postage prepaid, at least two weeks prior to Consolidation of banks. Ratification by stockholders. Notice.

Publication. the date fixed for said meeting, and published for at least two successive weeks, prior to the date of said meeting, in a newspaper in each of the counties of the state in which any of such banks shall have its principal place of business, and if such agreement shall be approved at each of such meetings of the respective stockholders separately by the vote or ballot of the stockholders owning at least two-thirds of the stock of each such bank, the same shall be the agreement of such banks. In case of such consolidation "articles of incorporation and consolidation" must be prepared, setting forth:

incorporation and consolidation.

First—The name of the new corporation;

Second—The purpose for which it is formed;

Third—The place where its principal business is to be transacted;

Fourth—The term for which it is to exist, which shall not exceed fifty years;

Fifth—The number of its directors (which shall not be less than three) and the names and residences of the persons appointed to act as such until their successors are elected and qualified;

Sixth—The amount of its capital stock and the number of shares into which it is divided;

Seventh—The amount of stock actually subscribed, and by whom;

Eighth—The names of the constituent corporations.

By whom signed.

Said articles of incorporation and consolidation must be signed and countersigned by the president and secretary of each constituent corporation and sealed with their corporate seals. There must be annexed thereto the approval of the superintendent of banks and memoranda of the ratification and confirmation thereof by the stockholders of each constituent corporation, which must be respectively signed and acknowledged by stockholders representing at least two-thirds of the capital stock of their respective corporations.

Filed with
of state.

When completed as aforesaid said articles must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation, certified by the secretary of state must be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the new corporation. The secretary of state must issue over the great seal of the state a certificate that the articles of incorporation and consolidation containing the required statement of facts have been filed in his office. A duplicate of the certificate hereinbefore provided for must be filed by the secretary of state in his office and copies thereof duly certified by the secretary of state shall have the same force and effect in evidence as the original. A copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation certified by said secretary of state must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks and also in the office of the county clerk of each county in which a principal place of business of either or any of the constituent corporations was situated at the time said corporation was incorporated.

When the superintendent of banks issues the certificate of authorization provided for by section one hundred twenty-eight of this act the new or consolidated corporation shall be a body politic and corporate by the name stated in the certificate, and for the term of fifty years, unless it is, in the articles of incorporation and consolidation, otherwise stated and thereupon each constituent corporation named in the articles of incorporation and consolidation must be deemed and held to have become extinct in all courts and places, and said new corporation must be deemed and held in all courts and places to have succeeded to all their several capital stocks, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, assets, choses and rights in action of every kind and description, both at law and in equity, and to be entitled to possess, enjoy, and enforce the same and every thereof, as fully and completely as either and every of its constituents might have done had no consolidation taken place. Said consolidated or new corporation must also, in all courts and places, be deemed and held to have become subrogated to its several constituents and each thereof, in respect to all their contracts and agreements with other parties, and all their debts, obligations, and liabilities, of every kind and nature, to any persons, corporations, or bodies politic, whomsoever, or whatsoever, and said new corporation must sue and be sued in its own name in any and every case in which any or either of its constituents might have sued or might have been sued at law or in equity had no such consolidation been made. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to impair the obligation of any contract to which any of such constituents were parties at the date of such consolidation. All such contracts may be enforced by action or suit, as the case may be, against the consolidated corporation, and satisfaction obtained out of the property which, at the date of the consolidation, belonged to the constituent which was a party to the contract in action or suit; as well as out of any other property belonging to the consolidated corporation, and the stockholders of each constituent corporation so entering into such agreement shall continue subject to all the liabilities, claims and demands existing against them at or before such consolidation to the same extent as if the same had not been made. The right of said new corporation to increase or decrease its capital stock, to change the number of its directors, to amend its articles of incorporation, to change its principal place of business, or its name, or to effect any other organic change shall be governed by the general corporation laws of this state and by the bank act, and the procedure to effect any such change shall be that defined by the general corporation laws and the bank act.

The superintendent of banks shall transmit to the secretary of state a duplicate of the certificate of authorization hereinbefore referred to and the secretary of state shall file the same in his office. The superintendent of banks shall also file a duplicate of such certificate in his own office.

Powers of consolidated corporations.

CHAPTER 175.

An act to amend section five hundred one of the Political Code, relating to fees to be charged by the register of the state land office.

[Approved May 19, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

abandonment.

SEC. 3. Notice of the said declaration of abandonment and of the proposed removal of the human remains from any such cemetery or part thereof shall be given to all persons interested therein by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the incorporated city, city and county, or town, wherein said cemetery or part thereof is situated, which publication shall be made once a week for two successive months. Said notice shall be entitled "Notice of declaration of abandonment of lands for cemetery purposes and of intention to remove the human bodies interred therein," and shall specify a date, not less than ten months after the first publication of such notice when the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery lands and causing such notice to be published will proceed to remove the human remains then remaining in such cemetery or part thereof. Copies of said notice so published shall within ten days after the first publication thereof be posted in at least three conspicuous places in the said cemetery or part thereof from which said removals of the human remains interred therein are to be made, and a further copy of said notice shall be mailed to every person who owns or holds or has the right of burial in any lot or plat in said cemetery or part thereof affected by such resolution or declaration of abandonment and removal whose name appears as such owner or holder upon the records of such cemetery, which such notice so mailed shall be addressed to the last known postoffice address of said respective lot owner or lot holder as the same appears from the records of said cemetery, and if no such address appears or is known, then the same shall be addressed to such person at the city, city and county or town wherein said cemetery land is situated; such notice shall be mailed to each known living heir-at-law of any person whose remains are resting in said cemetery, when the address of such heir is known.

SEC. 4. After the completion of the publication, posting and mailing of the "Notice of declaration of abandonment of lands for cemetery purposes and of intention to remove the human bodies interred therein," as provided for in section three of this act, and after the expiration of the period of ten months specified in said notice, any cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling any such cemetery shall have power to cause the removal of all human remains interred in any such cemetery or part thereof to be abandoned as a cemetery or burial place for the dead, and to cause the reinterment in other cemeteries in this state where burials are permitted, or to deposit the said remains in a mausoleum or columbarium erected for that purpose, without further notice to any person claiming any interest in said cemetery or part thereof, or in the remains therein interred: provided, however, that at any time before the date fixed for the removal of such remains by the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery lands, any relative or friend of any person whose remains are interred in such cemetery or part thereof from which it is proposed to make such removals may give such cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person proposing to make such removals written notice that he or she desires to be present when such remains of a friend or relative so giving notice are disinterred or are reinterred or deposited in such mausoleum or columbarium. Such notice shall state the name of the person whose remains are referred to, and, as accurately as possible, shall describe the lot or plat where the remains are buried and the date of burial, and shall specify an address at which the notice hereinafter in this section provided for may be given. Such notice may be delivered at the office or principal place of business of said cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole, or other person owning or controlling such cemetery lands and proposing to make such removals, or may be forwarded thereto by registered mail.

ment.

Upon receipt of any such notice before the date fixed for the removal of said remains by the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person proposing to make such removals, it shall be the duty of said cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person to give written notice to the person giving the notice hereinabove provided of the time when such remains shall be disinterred and of the time when and the place where the same will be reinterred or deposited. Said last named notice may be given by delivery thereof at the address stated in the notice first above referred to or by mailing the same to the person giving such notice at such address, such delivery or mailing to be made at least ten days prior to the date specified for the disinterment of such remains. Whenever such written notice shall be given by a relative or friend of any person interred in such cemetery lands from which such removals are proposed to be made said cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole, or other person owning or controlling said cemetery lands and proposing to remove the bodies interred therein shall not disinter the remains referred to in said notice until the notice of the time of such disinterment is given such relative or friend, as herein provided.

of remains.

SEC. 5. At any time prior to the removal by said cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling said cemetery lands, of the remains of any person buried therein, any relative or friend of said person may voluntarily remove such remains and dispose of the same as he may desire; provided, however, that the person desiring to cause such removal shall, prior to such removal, deliver to said cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery an affidavit duly sworn to before an officer qualified to administer oaths, stating the name of the person whose remains it is desired to remove and further stating, so far as is known to affiant, the date of burial of such remains and the names and places of residence of the heirs at law of such deceased person. In the event that the person desiring to cause such removal is not an heir at law of the person whose remains he desires to remove, such removal shall not be made by him until he shall have delivered to said cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery the written consent of a majority of the known heirs at law of such deceased persons who are residents of the State of California. The statements in the said affidavit shall be sufficient evidence of the numbers, names and residences of such heirs at law for all of the purposes of this section, and the written consent of the majority of such heirs at law named in said affidavit shall be sufficient warrant and authority for the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery to permit the removal of the remains by such person; and provided, further, that the purchaser or owner of any burial lot or plat in any such cemetery or part thereof, or of the right of burial therein, or any one of the joint purchasers or owners of such lot or plat or burial right therein, may cause the removal of any or all of the remains interred in such lot or plat without the necessity of filing any affidavit of consent as hereinabove specified; and if the right, title or interest of any grantee of any burial lot or plat in such cemetery or the right of burial therein shall be passed by succession to the heir or heirs at law of such grantee without formal distribution by order of court, such heir or heirs at law may remove the remains of persons interred in any such lot or plat, and the affidavit of any such heir at law setting out the facts of such heirship shall be accepted by the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery lands from which such removals are to be made as sufficient evidence for all the purposes of this section of the fact of the transfer of such title or right of burial to such heir or heirs at law, as alleged in said affidavit.

SEC. 6. Whenever under the provisions of this act the remains of any person shall have been removed from any such cemetery or part thereof abandoned as such burial place under the provisions of the act by the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person having charge or control of such cemetery lands, such remains shall be transported to and reinterred in any other cemetery in this state where burials are permitted by such cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person having charge or control of said cemetery lands, or part thereof, or deposited in a mausoleum or columbarium as herein provided. The remains of each person so reinterred shall be placed in a separate and suitable receptacle and decently and respectfully interred under such rules and regulations now in force or that may hereafter be adopted by such cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person making such removal. If the remains of any such person so removed from said cemetery lands are deposited in a memorial mausoleum or columbarium built for that purpose each body so removed shall be enclosed in a separate and suitable receptacle or container and shall be so deposited in a decent and respectful manner, in accordance with such rules and regulations now existing or that may hereafter be adopted by such cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery lands.

SEC. 7. Whenever the remains of any person shall have been removed from any cemetery by any relative or friend of such person, under the provisions of this act, the person causing such removal shall also be entitled to remove any vault, monument, headstone, coping or other improvement appurtenant to the grave from which such remains have been removed, and the affidavit or written consent given under the provisions of the preceding section shall be sufficient warrant and authority for the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery to permit such removal of any vault, monument, headstone, coping or other improvement appurtenant to such grave. Whenever the remains of any person buried in any lot or plat shall have been removed and any vault, monument, headstone, coping or other improvement appurtenant thereto shall remain on said lot or plat for more than ninety days after the removal of the last human remains therefrom, such vault, monument, headstone, coping or other improvement may be removed and disposed of by the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole, or other person owning or controlling such cemetery lands, and thereafter no person claiming any interest in said lot or plat, or any such vault, monument, headstone, coping or other improvement appurtenant thereto, shall have the right to maintain in any court any action in relation to any such vault, monument, headstone, coping or other improvement so removed or disposed of.

of land.

SEC. 8. Whenever such a cemetery or part thereof has been abandoned as a cemetery or place of burial for the human dead as provided for in section one of this act by the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling the same, the parts or portions thereof in which no interments had been made, and such parts and portions thereof from which all human remains have been removed, may be sold by the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other persons owning or controlling such cemetery lands, or may be mortgaged or otherwise pledged as security for any loan or loans made to such cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning, or controlling such cemetery lands. No order of any court shall be required prior to the making of any such sale mortgage, pledge or other encumbrance of such lands abandoned for cemetery purposes or from which the human remains have been removed; provided, however, that any sale of such cemetery lands made by any cemetery corporation or association controlled by a board of directors or other governing body shall be fairly conducted and the price paid therefor must be fair and reasonable and all such sales must be confirmed, as to the fairness and reasonableness of the price paid, by the superior court of the county, or city and county in which such lands are situated. Petitions for confirmation of such sales by cemetery corporations and associations governed by a board of directors or other governing body shall be made to the superior court of the county or city and county wherein such lands are situated, and the clerk of said court shall fix a day for the hearing and give notice thereof in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand five hundred fifty-two of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California relating to confirmation of sales of real estate by an executor or administrator.

Confirmation of
sale.

SEC. 9. Whenever any cemetery corporation or association shall have resolved upon the abandonment of any cemetery or part thereof and the removal of the human remains therefrom, under the provisions of this act, such cemetery corporation or association shall have power to employ any moneys in its treasury to defray the expense of such abandonment and removal, including the expense of purchasing or otherwise providing a suitable place for the interment or depositing of such remains in any other cemetery, mausoleum or columbarium in this state; also including the expenses of disinterment, transportation and reinterment, or the depositing of such remains in such mausoleum or columbarium; also the expenses of the removal and disposal of such vaults, monuments, headstones, copings or other improvements which may remain after the human bodies are removed from any such cemetery or part thereof; also including all necessary expenses incident to the sale or mortgaging of any of said lands; also all other expenses necessarily incurred in carrying out such abandonment of such cemetery lands and the removal and reinterment or disposing of the bodies so removed, and all other expenses incident to any of the above purposes. Any moneys remaining in the treasury of such cemetery association or corporation after making the removal and reinterment of the bodies from such cemetery lands shall be retained and used as a fund for the perpetual maintenance and care of the cemetery lands wherein such bodies so removed have been interred, or for the maintenance and care of any memorial mausoleum or columbarium in which said human remains have been deposited, or such fund may be used for such other purposes as such cemetery corporation or association may lawfully declare.

Expenses
abandonment.

SEC. 10. Whenever any such cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling any such cemetery lands from which the bodies interred therein are to be removed, in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall have purchased or otherwise acquired any lands or mausoleum or columbarium, or the possession or use thereof, for the purpose of providing a place for the reinterment or depositing of any human remains which may be removed from any such abandoned cemetery or part thereof, such new lands may be surveyed and subdivided into lots and plats and avenues and walks for cemetery purposes; and any such mausoleum and columbarium, or any part thereof, may be divided into niches, compartments or receptacles for the receipt of such remains as may be therein deposited. Thereafter such lots or plats, niches, compartments or receptacles may be sold to persons desiring to make reinterments or to deposit human remains therein and the board of directors or other governing body of any such cemetery corporation or association may receive and accept as part or full consideration for the purchase price of such new lots or plats, niches, compartments or receptacles and under such terms and conditions as to the value or price thereof as the said directors or other governing body may seem equitable, full or partial releases from the members of such corporation of their respective right in or to the whole or any part of the assets of said corporation or association other than the lot or plat, niche, compartment or receptacle conveyed to such purchasers respectively. Any retransfer to said cemetery corporation or association of any lot or plat in the cemetery from which the removal of the human remains are to be made shall operate as such a release. Sufficient lands may be reserved from any such cemetery lands abandoned as a burial place for the dead and from which the human remains have been removed to erect a memorial mausoleum or columbarium for the depositing of the bodies disinterred from such cemetery lands and to provide sufficient grounds around the same and to preserve such historical vaults or monuments as the board of directors or other governing body of any such cemetery corporation or association may determine to be proper or necessary.

SEC. 11. After the removal and reinterment or deposit in a mausoleum or columbarium of the bodies disinterred from any such abandoned cemetery or part thereof the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such abandoned cemetery lands and making such removals shall cause to be erected upon or imbedded in any lot or plat wherein any such body is reinterred a suitable permanent marker identifying such remains, and shall prepare a complete map or plat describing and showing the location and subdivision into lots and plats of the cemetery lands where such bodies are reinterred, or a plan of any mausoleum or columbarium wherein such bodies may be deposited; and there shall also be attached to any such plan or plans a description of the name of each person whose body is so reinterred or deposited, where known, and the lot or plat in the cemetery, or the niche or compartment in any mausoleum or columbarium, where such body is reinterred or deposited; such map or plan shall be kept on file in the office of such cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person making such removals and reinterments or depositing bodies in a mausoleum or columbarium, and shall at all times be open to inspection by the relatives or friends of those so reinterred or deposited.

Declaration that all remains have been

SEC. 12. After the removal of all human remains interred in any part or the whole of the cemetery lands abandoned as a burial place for the human dead as in this act provided, the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery lands may file for record in the office of the county recorder of the county or city and county in which such lands are situated a written declaration reciting that all human remains have been removed from the part or portion of such lands described in such declaration. Such declaration shall be acknowledged in the manner of the acknowledgment of deeds to real property by the president and secretary, or other corresponding officers of such cemetery corporation or association or by the incumbent of any such corporation sole or by the person owning or controlling such cemetery lands, and thereafter any deed, mortgage or other conveyance of any part of said lands shall be conclusive evidence in favor of any grantee or mortgagee therein named, his successor or assigns of the fact of the complete removal of all human bodies therefrom.

SEC. 13. Whenever any cemetery corporation or association having a board of directors or other governing body shall have caused the removal from any cemetery or part thereof owned by it, or under its charge or control the human remains therein interred, and said cemetery corporation or association shall have funds in its treasury which are not required for other purposes of said corporation, said corporation shall have power to set aside, invest, use and apply from such unexpended funds such sum as, in the judgment of the directors of said corporation, shall be necessary or expedient to provide for the perpetual or other care or improvement of any lands or mausoleum or columbarium or part thereof in which said remains may be reinterred or deposited; provided, however, that in lieu of itself investing, using or applying said funds for the purposes in this section specified, said cemetery corporation may transfer said funds to any other corporation under such conditions and regulations as in the judgment of the directors of said cemetery corporation will insure the application thereof to the purposes in this section specified; and provided, further, that before any such transfer of such funds is made said cemetery corporation or association shall have obtained an order authorizing such transfer from the superior court of the county or city and county where the cemetery or part thereof abandoned under the provisions of this act is situated. Such order shall be obtained upon petition of said cemetery corporation, and any member of said corporation may support or oppose the granting of the order by affidavit or otherwise. Before making the order, proof must be made to the satisfaction of the court that notice of the application for leave to transfer such funds has been given by publication in such manner and for such time as the court has directed, and that it is for the best interests of the said cemetery corporation that such transfer be made.

reinterred.

SEC. 14. In the disinterment, transportation and removal of human remains made under the provisions of this act, it shall not be necessary for the cemetery corporation, association, corporation sole or other person owning or controlling such cemetery, to obtain from the board of health or health officer of the city, city and county or town where such cemetery lands are located, a separate permit for the disinterment, transportation or removal of the remains of each person so disinterred, transported or removed, but such disinterment, transportation and removal of such human remains shall be made subject to such reasonable rules and regulations relative to the manner of disinterring, transporting or removing such

SEC. 15. Nothing in this act contained shall authorize or permit, or be construed or deemed to authorize or permit, the heirs, relatives or friends of any deceased person whose body has been interred in any cemetery owned, governed or controlled by any religious corporation or by any church or religious society or any denomination or by any corporation sole administering temporalities of any religious denomination, society or church or owned, governed or controlled by any person or persons as trustee or trustees for any religious denomination, society or church to disinter, remove reinter or dispose of any such body except in accordance with the rules, regulations and discipline of such religious denomination, society or church.

Con-stitu-
tionality.

SEC. 16. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Repealed.

SEC. 17. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 189.

An act to amend section one thousand four hundred fourteen of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to bond of special administrator.

[Approved May 20, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand four hundred fourteen of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bond of special administrator.

1414. Before any letters issue to any special administrator, except to a public administrator, he must give bond in such sum as the court or judge may direct, with sureties to the satisfaction of the court or judge, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties; and he must take the usual oath, and have the same endorsed on his letters.

CHAPTER 190.

An act to amend sections one thousand five hundred seventeen, one thousand five hundred twenty-six, one thousand five hundred fifty, one thousand five hundred fifty-one, one thousand five hundred fifty-nine, and one thousand five hundred ninety-eight, of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the sale and conveyance of the property of decedents.

[Approved May 20, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred seventeen of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1517. All sales of property must be under oath, reported to and confirmed by the court, before the title to the property passes. Confirmation of sales.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand five hundred twenty-six of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read as follows:

1526. The sale of personal property may be made at public auction or private sale, for cash, and after public notice given for at least ten days by notices posted in three public places in the county, or by publication in a newspaper in the county, or both, as the executor or administrator may determine, containing the time and place of sale, and a brief description of the property to be sold, the property to be sold be perishable property, in which latter case at least one day's notice by posting as aforesaid shall be given. Public sales must be made at the courthouse door, or at some other public place, or at the residence of the decedent; but no sale shall be made of any personal property which is not present at the time of sale, unless the court shall otherwise order. Sale at public auction or private sale.

SEC. 3. Section one thousand five hundred fifty of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1550. No sale of real estate at private sale shall be confirmed by the court, unless the sum offered is at least ninety per cent of the appraised value thereof, nor unless such real estate has been appraised within one year of the time of such sale. If it has not been so appraised, or if the court is satisfied that the appraisement is too high or too low, a new appraisement must be had, as in the case of an original appraisement of an estate. This may be done at any time before the sale or the confirmation thereof. Appraisement.

SEC. 4. Section one thousand five hundred fifty-one of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1551. The executor or administrator must, when the sale is made upon a credit, take the notes of the purchaser for the purchase money, with a mortgage or deed of trust on the property to secure their payment. Sale upon credit.

SEC. 5. Section one thousand five hundred fifty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sale by real estate agent.

1559. Any executor or administrator may enter into a contract with any bona fide real estate agent to secure a purchaser for any real property belonging to an estate, which contract shall provide for payment to such agent out of the proceeds of sale to any purchaser secured by him of a commission, the amount of which must be fixed and allowed by the court upon confirmation of the sale. If a sale to a purchaser obtained by such agent is returned to the court for confirmation and said sale be confirmed to such purchaser, such contract shall be binding and valid as against the estate for the amount so fixed and allowed by the court.

By the execution of any such contract no personal liability shall attach to the executor or administrator, and no liability of any kind shall be incurred by the estate unless an actual sale is made and confirmed to the purchaser procured by said agent.

In case of sale on an increased bid made at the time of confirmation to a purchaser not procured by said agent, the court may allow a commission to the bona fide real estate agent procuring such other purchaser, on the full amount of such sale.

SEC. 6. Section one thousand five hundred ninety-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure hereby is amended to read as follows:

Petition to make conveyance.

1598. On the presentation of a verified petition by the executor or administrator, or by any person claiming to be entitled to such conveyance from an executor or administrator, setting forth the facts upon which the claim is predicated, the court, or a judge thereof, shall appoint a time and place for hearing the petition, and shall order notice thereof to be served on the executor or administrator personally when he is not the petitioner, and to be published at least once a week for four successive weeks before such hearing, in such newspaper in the county as the court or judge thereof may designate; provided, however, that if such contract was of record at the date of the death of the person executing such contract, then in that event notice of such hearing may be given by serving such notice on the executor or administrator personally, when he is not the petitioner, and posting such notice in three public places in the county where the court is held for at least ten days prior to the day fixed for hearing.

CHAPTER 191.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred ninety-two of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to investment of moneys of estates.

[Approved May 20, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred ninety-two of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1592. Pending the settlement of any estate, on the petition of any person interested therein, and upon good cause shown therefor, the court may order any money in the hands of the executors or administrators to be invested for the benefit of the estate in securities of the United States or of this state.

Investment of moneys of estate pending settlement.

Such order can only be made after ten days notice of the hearing of the said petition, by notice posted in three public places in the county, or by publication in a newspaper in the county or both, as the court or a judge thereof shall direct.

CHAPTER 192.

An act to amend sections nine hundred seventy-four and nine hundred seventy-five of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to appeals to superior courts.

[Approved May 20, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section nine hundred seventy-four of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

974. Any party dissatisfied with the judgment rendered in an civil action in a police or justice's court, may appeal therefrom to the superior court of the county, at any time within thirty days after notice of the rendition of the judgment. The appeal is taken by filing a notice of appeal with the justice or judge, and serving a copy on the adverse party. The notice must state whether the appeal is taken from the whole or a part of the judgment, and if from a part, what part, and whether the appeal is taken on questions of law or fact or both.

Appeals to superior courts.

SEC. 2. Section nine hundred seventy-five of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

975. When a party appeals to the superior court on a question of law alone, he must, within ten days after notice of the rendition of judgment, prepare a statement of the case and file the same with the justice or judge. The statement must contain the grounds upon which the party intends to rely upon the appeal, and so much of the evidence, as may be necessary to explain the grounds, and no more. Within ten days after receiving notice that the statement is filed, the adverse party, if dissatisfied with the same, may file amendments. The proposed statement and amendments must be settled by the justice or judge, and if no amendment be filed the original statements stand as adopted. The statement thus adopted or as settled by the justice or judge, with a copy of the docket of the justice or judge, and all motions filed with him by the parties, during the trial and the notice of appeal, may be used on the hearing of the appeal before the superior court.

Appeal on question of law.

CHAPTER 193.

An act to amend section four thousand one hundred fifty-three of the Political Code, relating to the duties of the district attorney.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand one hundred fifty-three of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Duties of district
attorney.

4153. The district attorney is the public prosecutor, and must:

1. Attend the courts, and conduct, on behalf of the people, all prosecutions for public offenses.
2. Institute proceedings before magistrates for the arrest of persons charged with or reasonably suspected of public offenses, when he has information that any such offenses have been committed; and for that purpose, when not engaged in criminal proceedings in the superior court, or in civil cases on behalf of the people, must attend upon the magistrates in cases of arrest, when required by them, and attend before and give advice to the grand jury, whenever cases are presented to them for their consideration.
3. Draw all indictments and informations, defend all suits brought in his county against the state or his county wherever brought, prosecute all recognizances forfeited in the courts of record, and all actions for the recovery of debts, fines, penalties, and forfeitures accruing to the state or his county.
4. Deliver receipts for money or property received in his official capacity, and file duplicates thereof with the county treasurer.
5. On the first Monday of each month file with the auditor an account, verified by his oath, of all moneys received by him in his official capacity during the preceding month, and at the same time pay them over to the county treasurer.

6. Give, when required, and without fee, his opinion in writing, to county, district, and township officers, on matters relating to the duties of their respective offices.

7. Prepare, without fee, upon request of any board of education, board of school trustees or high school board, all the legal papers and forms necessary for the voting of school bond issues within the county and advise such boards as may be necessary in relation to school bond issues.

8. When requested by the auditor or treasurer so to do, defend or prosecute, except as hereinafter provided, any action brought by or against the auditor or treasurer for the purpose of testing the validity or constitutionality of any act of the legislature providing for the payment of county funds or funds held in trust by the county in those cases only where the interest of the county is not adverse; provided, that in counties having a freeholders charter creating the office of county counsel, it shall be the duty of the county counsel to defend or prosecute any such action and any and all other civil actions or proceedings in which the county or any other officer thereof is concerned or is a party and to perform all the duties mentioned in subdivisions 6 and 7 of this section.

CHAPTER 194.

An act to amend sections three thousand ninety-one, three thousand ninety-two, three thousand ninety-four, three thousand one hundred forty-nine, three thousand one hundred fifty-seven, three thousand one hundred sixty-six, three thousand one hundred seventy-two, three thousand one hundred ninety-five, three thousand two hundred twenty-seven, three thousand two hundred forty-nine, three thousand two hundred fifty and three thousand two hundred sixty-six of the Civil Code, relating to negotiable instruments.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand ninety-one of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3091. The instrument need not follow the language of this title, but any terms are sufficient which clearly indicate an intention to conform to the requirements hereof. Language of instrument.

SEC. 2. Section three thousand ninety-two of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3092. Where the instrument or an acceptance or any indorsement thereon is dated, such date is deemed prima facie to be the true date of the making, drawing, acceptance or indorsement as the case may be. True date.

SEC. 3. Section three thousand ninety-four of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Insertion of date.

3094. Where an instrument expressed to be payable at a fixed period after date is issued undated, or where the acceptance of an instrument payable at a fixed period after sight is undated, any holder may insert therein the true date of issue or acceptance, and the instrument shall be payable accordingly. The insertion of a wrong date does not avoid the instrument in the hands of a subsequent holder in due course; but as to him, the date so inserted is to be regarded as the true date.

SEC. 4. Section three thousand one hundred forty-nine of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Liability of indorsers.

3149. As respects one another indorsers are liable prima facie in the order in which they indorse; but evidence is admissible to show that as between or among themselves they have agreed otherwise. Joint payees or joint indorsees who indorse are deemed to indorse jointly and severally.

SEC. 5. Section three thousand one hundred fifty-seven of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

When person liable is dead.

3157. Where the person primarily liable on the instrument is dead, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment must be made to his personal representative if such there be, and if, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, he can be found.

SEC. 6. Section three thousand one hundred sixty-six of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Time of payment.

3166. Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instruments payable on demand may, at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before twelve o'clock noon on Saturday when that entire day is not a holiday.

SEC. 7. Section three thousand one hundred seventy-two of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice of dishonor.

3172. Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not.

SEC. 8. Section three thousand one hundred ninety-five of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

When notice of dishonor is not required.

3195. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in either of the following cases:

- (1) Where the drawer and drawee are the same person;
- (2) When the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract;
- (3) When the drawer is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;
- (4) Where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument;

(5) Where the drawer has countermanded payment.

SEC. 9. Section three thousand two hundred twenty-seven of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3227. A bill may be presented for acceptance on any day on which negotiable instruments may be presented for payment under the provisions of sections three thousand one hundred fifty-three and three thousand one hundred sixty-six. When Saturday is not otherwise a holiday, presentment for acceptance may be made before twelve o'clock, noon, on that day. Presentment of bill of exchange.

SEC. 10. Section three thousand two hundred forty-nine of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3249. Presentment for payment to the acceptor for honor must be made as follows: Presentment to acceptor.

(1) If it is to be presented in the place where the protest for nonpayment was made, it must be presented not later than the day following its maturity.

(2) If it is to be presented in some other place than the place where it was protested, then it must be forwarded within the time specified in section three thousand one hundred eighty-five.

SEC. 11. Section three thousand two hundred fifty of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3250. The provisions of section three thousand one hundred sixty-two apply where there is delay in making presentment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need. Delay in presentment.

SEC. 12. Section three thousand two hundred sixty-six d of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3266*d*. The provisions of this title do not apply to negotiable instruments made and delivered prior to the taking effect hereof. In any case not provided for in this title the rules of the law merchant shall govern. Application of act.

CHAPTER 195.

An act relating to the paving of highways within municipalities, and requiring the board of supervisors of any county to pave such highways whenever they constitute part of a county highway system, and the funds therefor have been raised by a bond issue or special tax.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever county bonds shall be voted or a special tax levied for paving a county highway system, and the natural course of such highway system runs into or through any municipality, it shall be the duty of the county board of supervisors to include in, and pave such portion of, said system located within such municipality as may be designated by the Pavement of highways within municipalities.

mayor or other chief executive thereof and the county supervisor in whose district such portion of the highway is located, and said portion shall be constructed of the same width and materials (or equal thereto), as the highway approaching such municipality; provided, that in case such chief executive and such supervisor shall not agree as to what highway or highways shall be designated, then the chairman of the state highway commission shall designate the same and his judgment shall be final and conclusive.

CHAPTER 196.

An act to repeal an act entitled, "An act to provide for local improvements in or upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, public ways, property, or rights of way within or belonging to municipalities, and providing for the issuance and payment of bonds to represent assessments levied for such improvements," approved May 16, 1919.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 527,
repealed.

SECTION 1. The act entitled, "An act to provide for local improvements in or upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, public ways, property, or rights of way within or belonging to municipalities, and providing for the issuance and payment of bonds to represent assessments levied for such improvements," approved May 16, 1919, is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 197.

An act to amend section four thousand one hundred thirty-five b of the Political Code, relating to indexing deeds and certain other documents once recorded.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand one hundred thirty-five b of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Indexing recorded instruments.

4135b. Whenever any instrument or document has been filed for record with the county recorder of any county in the State of California, as a deed, deed of trust, mortgage or chattel mortgage, or copied into any book of deeds, deeds of trust, mortgages or chattel mortgages, such instrument need not be again filed for record or recorded in such office as a different instrument from that so filed for record or so recorded, but such recorder must index such instrument in any of the indices kept in his office upon the request of the persons recording such instrument and the payment to him of his legal fees for such indexing, and must note at the foot of the actual record where such instrument or document is transcribed, all such indices in which such instrument is so indexed. Such instrument from the date of such indexing, imparts notice of its contents to all persons; and subsequent purchasers, mortgagees, lien-holders and encumbrancers purchase and take with like notice and effect as if such instrument had been copied or recorded in the proper book of records corresponding with such indices where so indexed, notwithstanding such instrument has been but once recorded or copied in the records of such office.

CHAPTER 198.

An act amending section eighteen of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section eighteen of the above entitled act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 18. The superintendent of streets is hereby authorized in his official capacity to make all written contracts, and to receive all bonds authorized by this act, and to do any other act, either express or implied, that pertains to the street department under this act; and he shall fix the time for the commencement, which shall not be more than fifteen days from the date of the contract, and for the completion of the work under all contracts entered into by him, which work shall be prosecuted with diligence from day to day thereafter to completion, and he may extend the time so fixed from time to time, under the direction of the city council. All applications for such extensions of time, if in writing, must be filed in the office of the city clerk before the expiration of the original time fixed in the contract, or of the time granted by extension, as the case may be. An extension of time may be granted by the council after the expiration of the time originally fixed in the contract or extended as herein pro-

amended.

Conditions
in contract.

vided, and the extension so granted shall be deemed to commence and be effective from the date of such expiration. Any such extension of time shall not release the sureties upon any bond required under this act. The work must, in all cases, be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets and the materials used shall comply with the specifications and be to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets and all contracts made therefor must contain a provision to that effect; provided, however, that if the city council by resolution adopted within ten days after the passage of the resolution ordering the work so directs the work shall be done under the direction of the city engineer and the materials used shall comply with the specifications and be to the satisfaction of said engineer, instead of said superintendent of streets, and in such case the contract shall contain a provision to that effect. Said contract shall contain also express notice that, in no case, except where it is otherwise provided by law or the city charter will the city, or any officer thereof, be liable for any portion of the expense, nor for any delinquency of persons or property assessed. The city council may, by ordinance, prescribe general rules directing the superintendent of streets (or the city engineer, in the cases herein provided) and the contractor as to the materials to be used, and the mode of executing the work, under all contracts thereafter made. The assessment and apportionment of the expenses of all such work or improvement shall be made by the superintendent of streets in the mode provided by this act.

CHAPTER 199.

An act amending section twenty-seven of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1460,
amended.
Contractor
may sue.

SECTION 1. Section twenty-seven of the above entitled act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 27. At any time after the period of thirty-five days from the day of the date of the warrants, as herein provided, or if an appeal is taken to the city council, as provided in section twenty-six of this act, at any time after five days from the decision of said council, or after the return of the warrant or assessment after the same may have been corrected, altered, or modified, as provided in said section twenty-six (but not less than thirty-five days from the date of the warrant), the contractor or his assignee may sue, in his own name, the owner of the land, lots or portions of lots, assessed on the day of the date of the recording of the warrant, assessment, and diagram, or any day thereafter during the continuance of the lien of said assessment, and recover the amount of any assessment remaining unpaid, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum until paid. And in all cases of recovery under the provisions of this act, where personal demand has been made upon the owner or his agent, but not otherwise, the plaintiff shall recover such sum as the court may fix, in addition to the taxable cost as attorney's fees, but not any percentage upon said recovery. And when suit has been brought, after a personal demand has been made, and a refusal to pay such assessment so demanded, the plaintiff shall be entitled to have and recover such attorney's fees as the court may deem reasonable, in addition to all taxable costs, notwithstanding that the suit may be settled or a tender may be made before a recovery in said action, and he may have judgment therefor; provided, that if the court finds an unnecessary number of actions have been brought, where the parties are identical, it may allow the costs of one action only. Suit may be brought in the superior court within whose jurisdiction the city is in which said work has been done, and in case any of the assessments are made against lots, portions of lots, or lands, the owners whereof can not, with due diligence, be found, the service of each of said actions may be had in such manner as is prescribed in the codes and laws of this state. It shall be competent to bring a single action under any such assessment irrespective of the number of lots assessed where the parties defendant are identical, and where separate actions are brought, the same may be consolidated by order of the court. The said warrant, assessment, certificate and diagram, with the affidavit of demand and nonpayment, shall be held prima facie evidence of the regularity and correctness of the assessment and of the prior proceedings and acts of the superintendent of streets and city council upon which said warrant, assessment and diagram are based, and like evidence of the right of the plaintiff to recover in the action.

In a complaint in any such action it shall be held sufficient Complaint. to allege briefly that the city council ordered the work, the performance of the work under the contract, the making of the assessment, the issuing of said warrant and certificate and the making of said diagram; that an assessment (naming the amount) was levied against that certain lot or parcel of land (describing the same) which, according to the information and belief of the plaintiff, is owned by the defendant; that payment of said assessment has been demanded in the time, form and manner prescribed in this act and that the same has not been paid.

Description
of lots.

In describing said lot or parcel of land in said complaint it shall be sufficient to refer to the same by its number upon said diagram, provided a certified copy of said warrant, assessment and diagram shall have been previously filed in the office of the recorder of the county or city and county in which the same is situated. It shall be the duty of such recorder to so file any such certified copy presented to him upon payment of the filing fee therefor, which fee is hereby fixed at fifty cents.

CHAPTER 200.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered four thousand forty-one c, relating to county employees.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered four thousand forty-one c and to read as follows:

Additional assistance for county
officers.

4041c. Whenever in the judgment of the board of supervisors of any county it is necessary for the expeditious transaction of the business of any county office, the board by unanimous vote may provide for and allow additional assistance to any county officer. In any such case the board of supervisors shall fix the amount of compensation of such additional employees and shall limit in advance the period of time for which assistance is allowed. The powers granted to the supervisors under the provisions hereof shall not be so exercised as to result in increasing the compensation of any county officer after his election or during his term of office.

CHAPTER 201.

An act to amend section four of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four of an act entitled, "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1911,
p. 733,
amended.

Sec. 4. Whenever the contemplated work or improvement, in the opinion of the city council, is of more than local or ordinary public benefit, or whenever, according to estimate to be furnished by the city engineer, the total estimated costs and expenses thereof would exceed one-half the total assessed value of the lots and lands assessed, if assessed upon the lots or land fronting upon said proposed work or improvement, according to the valuation fixed by the last assessment roll whereon it was assessed for taxes for municipal purposes, and allowing a reasonable depth from such frontage for lots or lands assessed in bulk, the city council may make the expense of such work or improvement chargeable upon a district, which the said city council shall, in its resolution of intention, declare to be the district benefited by said work or improvement, and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof. Such district may be described by specifying the exterior boundaries thereof, or by giving the numbers of lots and blocks contained therein according to any official or recorded map or maps, or by showing or referring to a printed drawing or plat indicating the exterior boundaries thereof.

When

CHAPTER 202.

An act to amend section five of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1465,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section five of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911 as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice of
improvement.

Sec. 5. After the adoption of the resolution of intention, the street superintendent shall cause to be conspicuously posted along the line of said contemplated work or improvement, at not more than three hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all, or when the work to be done is only upon an entire crossing or intersection or any part thereof, in front of each quarter block or irregular block liable to be assessed, notices of the passage of said resolution. In case the work is chargeable upon a district as herein provided, copies of said notice shall also be posted on all the open streets within such district at not more than three hundred feet in distance apart on each street so posted, but no proceeding shall ever be held invalid for failure to post any street or streets therein if this provision has been substantially complied with. In every case all the posting must be fully completed at least ten days before the day set for hearing protests or objections as provided in section three hereof.

Said notices shall be headed "Notice of improvement" in letters of not less than one inch in length; and shall, in legible characters state the fact of the passage of the resolution of intention, its date, and briefly, the work or improvement proposed, and refer to the resolution of intention for further particulars. Said notices shall contain also a statement of the day, hour and place when and where any and all persons having any objections to the proposed work or improvement may appear before the legislative body and show cause why said proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with said resolution.

The council may, if they deem it advisable, direct the clerk to mail copies of said notices to the owners or reputed owners whose names and addresses are known to him, but the mailing of such notices shall not be essential to obtaining jurisdiction by the council, and the failure so to do shall not affect in any manner the validity of any proceedings taken hereunder.

CHAPTER 203.

An act to amend section four thousand one hundred thirty-seven of the Political Code, relating to the indorsement and recording of documents filed for record.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand one hundred thirty-seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4137. When any instrument, paper, document or notice, authorized by law to be recorded, is deposited in the recorder's office for record, the recorder must indorse upon the same its proper filing number in the order in which it is deposited, the time when it was received, noting the year, month, day, hour and minute of its reception, the amount of fees for recording, and must record the same without delay, together with the acknowledgments, proofs and certificates, written upon or annexed to the same, with the plats, surveys, schedule, and other papers thereto annexed, in the order in which the same were received for record, and must note at the foot of the record the filing number of the same, the exact time of its reception and the name of the persons at whose request it was recorded, together with a notation by the comparer that said record has been compared.

CHAPTER 204.

An act to amend section thirty-five of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1911,
p. 634,
amended.

Superintendent of construction.

SECTION 1. Section thirty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 35. The superintendent of streets shall, when in his judgment it is necessary, appoint a suitable person to take charge of and superintend the construction and improvement of each and every sewer constructed or improved under the provisions of this act, and of piling and capping sidewalks, or of the paving of whatever character heretofore mentioned, in whole or in part, of one block or more, whose duty it shall be to see that the contract made for the doing of said work is strictly fulfilled in every respect, and in case of any departure therefrom to report the same to the superintendent of streets. Such person shall be allowed for his time, actually employed in the discharge of his duties such compensation as shall be just, but not to exceed seven dollars per day. The sum to which the party so employed shall be entitled shall be deemed to be incidental expenses, within the meaning of those words as defined by this act.

CHAPTER 205.

An act to amend sections five, six, nine, eleven, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen and nineteen of an act entitled "An act to provide for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent and be secured by certain assessments made for the cost of certain work and improvements made in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, to provide for the collection of such assessments, the sale of the property affected thereby and for the payment of the bonds so issued," approved June 11, 1915.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917,
p. 211,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section five of an act entitled "An act to provide for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent and be secured by certain assessments made for the cost of certain work and improvements made in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, to provide for the collection of such assessments, the sale of the property affected thereby and for the payment of the bonds so issued," approved June 11, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. (a) After the full expiration of thirty (30) days from the date of the warrant, or if an appeal be taken to the city council as provided in said street work act, then five (5) days after the final decision of said council, and after the street superintendent shall have recorded the return, the street superintendent shall make and file with the clerk of the city council a complete list of all assessments unpaid, upon any assessment. Said clerk shall then give notice of the filing of said list and of a time, to be therein fixed by said clerk, when interested persons may appear before the city council and show cause why bonds should not be issued upon the security of the unpaid assessments shown on said list. Such notice shall be posted for not less than five days on or near the council chamber door and be published twice in a newspaper published in such city, if there be any, the first of which publications shall be not less than five days before the time fixed for such hearing. Such notice shall also be given by mailing same to the owner of each lot listed according to the name and address appearing on the last equalized assessment roll for city taxes prior thereto, or as known to the clerk; provided, that a failure of the clerk to give such notice by mailing or of the person addressed to receive same shall not affect the jurisdiction of the council to proceed with the hearing noticed. Reference shall therein be made to the resolution of intention and the date of its passage for a description of the work therein mentioned and no other description thereof shall be necessary. The council shall at the date so fixed hear any objection so presented and shall pass upon the same and shall thereupon determine the assessments which are unpaid and the aggregate amount of same. If it does not so meet it may hear the matter at its first adjourned or regular meeting thereafter. It may adjourn the hearing from time to time. Its decision shall be final. The city council shall then prescribe the denominations of such bonds, which shall be in convenient amounts not necessarily equal, and shall provide for issuance of same in annual series.

(b) Said bonds must be sold at a time to be fixed by the council, and to the highest bidder therefor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds of the sale shall be deposited in the city treasury. Before selling said bonds, or any part thereof, the city council must advertise for bids therefor, by publication once a week for at least two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the city, or if there is no such newspaper published in the city then by notice of sale, posted for at least two weeks on or near the council chamber door of said city. If satisfactory bids are received the bonds offered for sale must be awarded to the highest bidder. If no such bids are received or the council determines that the bids received are not satisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders the council may reject all bids received, if any, and either re-advertise or deliver said bonds to the contractor in satisfaction of the sum due him upon his assessment and warrant. From the proceeds of any sale of said bonds, there shall be paid to such contractor the balance due him upon his assessment and warrant including interest upon the principal amount thereof at the rate specified in said bond declaration computed from the date of filing said unpaid assessment list, and the surplus of such proceeds shall be credited to the redemption fund for the payment of such bonds. The cost of such publications shall be paid from such redemption fund. (Amended May 4, 1917.)

bond.

SEC. 2. Section six of the act referred to in the preceding section of this act is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 6. Said bonds shall each be substantially in the following form:

“IMPROVEMENT BOND.

City (or other form of municipality) of (naming it) $_____ No._____ Under and by virtue of the act of the legislature of the State of California, entitled (title of this act) the _____ of _____ (a municipal corporation) will on the second day of July, 19_ __, out of the redemption fund for the payment of the bonds issued upon the assessments made for the work upon and improvements on certain streets (or on _____ street, or in improvement district No._____, or on certain rights of way owned by, or by other suitable description.) more fully described in the certain resolution of intention passed by the city council (or other board) of said municipality on the _____ day of _____ 19____, pay to bearer, the sum of _____ dollars ($_____), with interest thereon from the _____ day of _____ 19____, at the rate of _____ per cent per annum, all as is hereinafter specified, at the office of the treasurer of said municipality.

This bond is one of several annual series of bonds of like date, tenor and effect, but differing in amounts and maturities, issued by said municipality under said act for the purpose of providing means for paying for the work and improvements described in said resolution of intention, and is secured by the moneys in said redemption fund and by the unpaid assessments made for the payment of said work, and including principal and interest, is payable exclusively out of said fund.

The interest is payable semiannually, to wit, on the second days of January and July in each year hereafter, upon presentation of the proper coupons therefor; provided, that the first of said coupons is for the interest to the second day of January, 19____, and thereafter the interest coupons are for the semiannual interest.

This bond will continue to bear interest after maturity at the rate above stated; provided, it is presented at maturity and payment thereof is refused upon the sole ground that there is not sufficient moneys in said redemption fund with which to pay same. If it is not presented at maturity interest thereon will run until maturity.

This bond may be redeemed and paid in advance of maturity upon the second day of January or July in any year by giving notice provided in said act and by paying principal and accrued interest together with a premium equal to five per centum of the principal.

In witness whereof, said _____ of _____ has caused this bond to be signed by the treasurer of said _____ and by its clerk and has caused its clerk to affix thereto its corporate seal all on the _____ day of _____, 19____. _____ treasurer. _____ clerk."

amended.
Advanced maturity.

Sec. 9. The city treasurer may advance the maturity of any bond to the second day of January or July in any year and pay and cancel the same whenever there shall be surplus moneys in the redemption fund with which to pay same, by giving notice of such redemption as herein provided. Such notice may be given in writing to the holder or owner thereof by registered mail or personal service, or it may be addressed "To whom it may concern" and be given by publication twice in a daily or weekly newspaper published in said city; provided, that if such notice be so given by publication or posting then a copy of same shall be mailed to the last known holder or owner thereof at his last known address at least sixty days prior to such date of advanced maturity. If the service be made personally, it shall be made at least sixty days before the date fixed for advanced maturity; if by registered or other mail the mailing shall be made at least sixty days before such date; if by publication or posting the first publication or posting shall be made at least sixty days before such date. In the event of such notice being given, the maturity of such bond shall be advanced and said bond shall be deemed to mature on the date fixed for the advanced maturity of same, at which time the same shall be paid; provided, however, that the holder or owner of such bond may prior thereto surrender same and receive the principal thereof together with interest thereon to date of payment and together with a premium thereon equal to five per centum of the principal. On said second day of January or July fixed for advanced maturity, if said bond has not been sooner surrendered, the treasurer shall set aside to the credit of the owner of said bond the amount of principal and accrued interest then due on said bond together with such premium of five per centum of the principal, and said bond shall then be deemed to have matured and interest thereon shall thereafter cease to accrue on said bond. The amount so set aside shall on demand be paid to the holder or owner of said bond on surrender and cancellation of the same. The costs of such advertising, or other service, shall be paid from the redemption fund. More than one bond may be covered in a single notice. Prior to the surrender of any bond or the setting aside of said funds, the treasurer may waive and vacate any notice of advanced maturity upon being tendered for cancellation some other bond or bonds of an equivalent amount and of a maturity not earlier than that noticed; providing, that ten days notice of his intention so to do shall have first been given by mail or otherwise to the holder or owner of said bond and such holder or owner shall not have objected to such action.

SEC. 4. Section eleven of the act referred to in the preceding section of this act is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. (a) In the event of such bonds being so issued, then the assessments, which shall be unpaid, as shown on the list filed by the superintendent of streets and determined by the city council, together with interest thereon, shall remain and constitute a trust fund for the redemption and payment of said bonds and of the interest which may be due thereon. Such assessments and each installment thereof and the interest and penalties thereon shall be and shall continue to constitute a lien against the lots and parcels of land on which made, until the same be paid, but for a period not exceeding the time within which an action might be brought on the last series of bonds issued upon the security of such unpaid assessments. Such lien shall be prior and superior to all other liens, except the lien for other state, county and municipal taxes and public improvement assessments; provided, however, that unmatured installments, interest and penalties shall not be deemed to be within the terms of any general warranty of title.

(b) In the event of nonpayment of any assessment or installment thereof, or of any interest thereon, and as an alternative remedy, the same when due as hereinafter provided, may by order of the council be collected by suit brought to foreclose the lien thereof in the same manner as provided in said street work act for the foreclosure of other assessments by action in a superior court, and with like costs, attorneys' fees and other relief. Thereupon the tax collector shall be credited upon the assessment roll with the amount charged against him on account of such assessments ordered to suit and be relieved of further duty in regard thereto.

(c) Such action shall be brought in the name of the city. The complaint may be brief and include substantially only the following allegations with reference to the assessments sought to be collected; that on a date stated the council passed its resolution ordering certain work to be done, without describing same; that work was done thereunder; that an assessment and warrant to pay for the cost thereof was duly given and made; that same was returned on a stated date; that certain property (describing it) was therein assessed a stated amount; that bonds upon the security of such assessment were duly issued giving the date of said bonds, their interest rate and the number of years the last installment of same were to run and that same were duly issued under this act, but it shall be unnecessary to state the amount, number, denomination or other terms thereof; that on a date stated a certain sum came due against said property on said assessment and had not been paid, and that the council had directed the action to foreclose. In such action the plaintiff upon recovering judgment shall be entitled to a reasonable counsel fee to be allowed by the court and taxed as costs.

SEC. 5. Section thirteen of the act referred to in section one of this act is amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1448,
amended.

Sec. 13. (a) Interest on all unpaid assessments shall run from the return of the warrant and assessment, and be computed at the same rate specified in the bonds secured by such assessments. Such interest shall be payable annually or semi-annually as above provided, according as such general municipal taxes on real property in such city are payable annually or semiannually, but shall for each year be computed and collected up to the next second day of July succeeding, no deduction being made by reason of any installment of such assessment being due or paid prior thereto in such year.

Interest on
assessments.

(b) Wherever it shall appear to the council that, according to the dates when taxes are collected in any city, there will be an insufficient amount on hand to pay the interest when due, according to the method of collection provided by the preceding provisions of this act, then said council may direct that such interest or some portion of same be collected in the year preceding that in which same would otherwise be collected under this act, and thereupon such interest or portion thereof shall be extended on the rolls for such preceding year and be due and collected therein.

SEC. 6. Section fourteen of the act referred to in section one of this act is amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1448,
amended.

Sec. 14. (a) A copy of the order of the council determining the assessments remaining unpaid and upon the security of which bonds are issued shall be filed in the office of the auditor. The auditor shall keep a record in his office showing the several installments of principal and interest on said assessments which are to be collected in each year during the term of said bonds. The auditor shall annually enter in his assessment roll on which taxes will next become due, opposite each lot or parcel of land affected in a space marked "public improvement assessment," or by other suitable designation, the several installments of such assessment coming due during the fiscal year covered by such assessment roll, including in each case the interest due on such total unpaid assessments as herein provided. Taxpayers shall have the like right to pay such assessment as so entered with interest, and any penalties thereon, under protest as they have to pay general municipal taxes under protest, but in making such payment under protest must accompany the payment with their written protest. They may pay such taxes separately from the assessment payments. In the event of the lot or parcel of land affect by any assessment not being separately assessed on said roll so that the installment to be collected can be conveniently entered thereon, then said auditor shall enter on said roll a description of the lot or parcel affected, with the name of the owners if known, but otherwise described as "unknown owners," and extend the proper installment opposite same.

(b) In the event of a subdivision of the lot or parcel affected into separate holdings, the owners of same may in writing request the auditor to separate the installments according to some fixed proportions to be stated by them and to enter same in said roll opposite their respective holdings in accordance therewith. Such owners shall in connection therewith in writing waive objections to the proceeding and to the method of collecting assessments proposed by them and agree to pay future installments in accordance therewith. Thereafter the auditor shall enter such installments opposite the respective lots or parcels of land in the proportions agreed upon; provided, however, such division of the installments shall not be so disproportioned to the relative values of the separate holdings of land as to jeopardize the security of the assessments.

assessments.

SEC. 7. Section fifteen of the act referred to in section one of this act is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15. Any interested owner may release and pay any such unpaid assessment by depositing with the city treasurer the total unpaid balance of any such assessment together with the total interest which would become due on such assessment were it paid in the regular way; provided, that if the amount of same be sufficient to provide surplus moneys with which to redeem any bond outstanding and not due the next second day of July, then such person so releasing such assessment may direct the treasurer to redeem such bond, and the treasurer shall then give the proper notice for redeeming such bond, by advancing its maturity as hereinbefore provided upon which redemption the person releasing such assessment shall be entitled to credit and reimbursement for the par value of any coupons thereon which shall be cancelled but not paid less any accrued interest paid thereon and less the premium paid on said bond as hereinbefore provided, and less any costs incurred for publishing or serving any notice of redemption.

Special tax to purchase lands at tax sale.

SEC. 8. Section sixteen of the act referred to in section one of this act is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 16. (a) The city council may, and in the event of demand by the tax collector therefor as provided in section twelve hereof must, at the time of fixing the annual tax rate and levying the taxes to be collected for general municipal purposes, levy a special tax upon the taxable property in the city for the purpose of paying for the lands purchased or to be purchased at such tax sales, but not to exceed for each local improvement ten cents on each one hundred dollars of assessable property. Such special tax shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes, and shall be computed, entered and collected in the same manner, and by the same persons and at the same time and with the same penalties and interest as are other municipal taxes of said city.

(b) In the event of a deficiency remaining in the redemption fund after one year from the issuance of said bonds, the council may require all persons interested to be and appear before it at a day, hour and place fixed by it for hearing and to show cause why a supplemental assessment should not be made to pay for the cost and incidental expenses of the original work done upon which the original assessments were made upon which said bonds were issued. Notice thereof shall be given by publication twice in a newspaper published in said city, and shall also be posted in the same manner as provided in the street work act for the posting of notices of the passage of the resolution of intention, by the street superintendent, the first publication of which notice and which posting shall be completed ten days before the time fixed for said hearing. At the time set for such hearing the city council shall proceed to hear any person appearing and may determine whether or not such deficiency was due to the fact that the original assessment for such cost and incidental expenses was not apportioned equitably nor in accordance with benefits. Such hearing may be postponed from time to time. If it shall appear to said council that the amount apportioned to any lot or lots was less than the amount which such lot or lots should equitably bear according to the benefit received by same, from the improvement, the council may levy a supplemental assessment apportioning to such lot or lots the additional sums which the same should equitably bear according to such benefits. The cost of such publication and posting and of making such supplemental assessment may be included therein. A copy of the order levying such supplemental assessment shall be recorded in the office of the street superintendent and from and after such recording, the sum therein levied on any lot, shall be and constitute a lien thereon and thereafter bear interest at the rate specified in said bonds. The several amounts therein levied shall be extended on the next succeeding tax rolls to be delivered to the tax collector and shall be collected in the manner herein provided for the collection of installments of the original assessments; provided, that the council may provide in its order that such supplemental assessments may be in like manner collected in annual installments during the remaining term of years during which said bonds shall run, an equal proportion of principal coming due in each of said remaining years, in which event, however, any property owner may pay the whole of said supplemental assessment subsequent to the order of said council and before the amount has been extended on any roll whereupon interest shall cease on such assessment. Any moneys collected on said supplemental assessment shall be paid into the redemption fund and be applied to the payment of the costs of such publication and posting and of making said assessment and then to the payment of said bonds and interest thereon. After satisfaction of said bonds, repayment of all funds collected on such supplemental assessment shall be made to those paying same, if possible, first, out of recoveries had through collection of the delinquent installments of the assessments upon which said bonds were originally issued and of the interest and penalties thereon, and then out of any surplus remaining in the redemption fund after repayment to the city of special taxes and costs as provided by the preceding section.

(c) In the event of a surplus remaining in said redemption fund after payment of all said bonds and the interest thereon, the same shall, subject to the provisions of the preceding subdivision of this section, first be applied to repayment to said city of any special taxes so levied less its recovery on the lands purchased at delinquent sale, and also of any costs incurred by it hereunder, and then be proportionately credited upon the final installments due upon said assessments securing said bonds and repaid to those paying same if previously paid.

certificates of sale and deed.

SEC. 9. Section seventeen of the act referred to in section one of this act is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 17. (a) In the event of sale by the tax collector of any lot or parcel of land for nonpayment of taxes and of any installment of the assessment thereon, or of the penalties, interest or costs on same, or for nonpayment of any installment, penalties, interest or costs, then any certificate of such sale and deed issued pursuant thereto, is primary evidence of the regularity of all proceedings theretofore had, and shall be conclusive evidence of all things of which bonds issued upon the security thereof are conclusive evidence, and prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings subsequent to the issuance of the bonds, and such deed conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, free of all incumbrances, except the lien for other state, county and municipal taxes, and unmatured public improvement assessments thereon.

(b) Upon application by the city council or of any holder or interested party, the superintendent of banks shall examine into the regularity of the issuance of said bonds and relative to the sufficiency of the security provided for the payment thereof and if satisfied therewith may certify the same as suitable for investment by savings banks and trustees whereupon the same may be so used for investment of savings deposits and trust funds. The cost of any required appraisal may on approval of the city council be paid out of any surplus moneys in the redemption fund not required for the payment of the interest or principal of said bonds.

SEC. 10. Section nineteen of the act referred to in section one of this act is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 19. The provisions of this act relative to the performance of official duty as to any time or place relative to the form of any resolution, notice, order, list, certificate of sale, deed or other instrument, shall be deemed directory. No bond, coupon, assessment or installment thereof or of the interest or penalties thereon, or certificate of sale or deed, shall be held invalid for error in the computation of the proper amount due on same, provided, the error be found to be comparatively negligible, or be found to be one in favor of the owner of the real property affected thereby. If no newspaper be published in the city any notices called for under this act may in lieu of publication, be given by posting in three public places in said city for at least ten days, and with like effect as if published, the first posting being had at least as many days prior to the date noticed as required for the first publication.

CHAPTER 206.

An act to amend sections six, eleven, and fourteen of an act entitled "An act to insure the better education of dental surgeons and to regulate the practice of dentistry in the State of California, providing penalties for the violation hereof," approved May 21, 1915, and to add a new section thereto to be numbered six a, providing special licenses for limited dental operations.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six of an act entitled "An act to insure the better education of dental surgeons and to regulate the practice of dentistry in the State of California, providing penalties for the violation hereof," approved May 21, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915,
p. 701,
amended.

Sec. 6. Any person over twenty-one years of age shall be eligible to take an examination before the board of dental examiners of California, upon making application therefor, and upon (1) paying a fee of twenty-five dollars; (2) furnishing satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; (3) furnishing satisfactory evidence of having graduated from a reputable dental college, which must have been approved by the board of dental examiners of California; provided, that after August 1, 1918, he shall also file his diploma or certificate of graduation with recommendations from a high school accredited to the University of California or any other university of equal standing; or a certificate signed by a state superintendent of public instruction, or similar officer to the effect that such applicant has had scholastic preparation equivalent in all respects to that demanded for graduation with recommendations from a high school giving a four-year course of instruction in the state from which such certificate is issued; (4) in lieu of such diploma or certificate from an accredited high school, such applicant, after said date, may and with like effect furnish to said board of dental examiners a certificate Eligibility to take examination.

from the board of dental examiners, or similar official body, of some other state in the United States, showing that such applicant has been a duly licensed practitioner of dentistry in such other state for a period of at least five years; provided, however, that every person actually engaged as an apprentice to a regularly licensed dentist who has practiced in the State of California for ten years or more shall be eligible for examination, if, within thirty days after the passage of this act, he shall file with the secretary of the board an affidavit stating his name, age, the length of time for which he has been actually apprenticed and with whom; and who, at the time of his application for examination shall show to the satisfaction of the board that he has served an apprenticeship of at least five years and is a graduate from a high school or similar institution of learning in this or some other state of the United States requiring a three years' course of study; and provided, that no examination shall be given to an applicant claiming the right to take the same as an apprentice later than December 30, 1915.

Apprentice.

Each applicant for the certificate of scholastic preparation to be issued by the state superintendent of public instruction as hereinbefore provided shall pay a fee of ten dollars, all of such fees to be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the contingent fund of the superintendent of public instruction and applied by him in defraying or in partially defraying the expense of investigating the qualifications of such applicants.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to said act approved May 21, 1915, to be numbered six a, and to read as follows:

Examination for dental hygienist.

Sec. 6a. Any person over eighteen years of age shall be eligible to take an examination before the board of dental examiners of California as dental hygienists upon making application therefor.

Preliminary to examination by the board of dental examiners, a dental hygienist shall comply with the following requirements:

1. Such person shall deposit with the board a fee of fifteen dollars which in no case shall be refunded.

2. Such person shall present evidence of graduation from an institution of the standard herein described, which is as follows: Any legally incorporated dental college, dental infirmary, or any other institution of equal standing which maintains a course of instruction for dental hygienists equivalent in all respects to similar courses of instruction maintained in the University of California.

3. Such person shall present evidence that he, or she, is at least eighteen years of age and of good moral character.

4. Such person shall present evidence that he, or she, has complied with and fulfilled the preliminary and professional requirements of the statute.

Upon satisfactory evidence of compliance with the fore-said requirements, the state board of dental examiners shall give said applicant a thorough examination in the following subjects: Elements of inorganic chemistry, physiology, anatomy, bacteriology, anesthesia, radiography, materia medica, dental histology, principles of nursing and hygiene; and a practical examination in the removal of deposits from and the polishing of the exposed surfaces of the teeth.

Having satisfactorily passed such examination such person shall obtain a license as a dental hygienist from the board of dental examiners and shall be by them registered as such. Such licenses shall remain in force until the following first day of May and thereafter so long as the holder thereof shall comply with the provisions of this section relating to an annual tax, but not otherwise, and notwithstanding the payment of such tax, such license may at any time be forfeited or revoked for a violation of any provisions of this act that are applicable to dental hygienists.

To provide a fund for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, every person holding a license as a dental hygienist in this state without exception, shall pay an annual license tax for the year commencing with the first day of May next following the issuance of such license and annually thereafter, such payment to be effective shall be made prior to the commencement of the year for which the same accrues and the receipt of the secretary of the board shall be indispensable evidence that the same has been made. The failure, neglect, or refusal of any person who was a regularly licensed and registered hygienist to pay in advance said annual tax of two dollars during the time such license remained in force shall ipso facto work a forfeiture of such license and it shall not be restored except upon a written application therefor and the payment to said board of five dollars except that such person shall not be required to submit to any examination.

Any licensed dentist, public institution or school authority may employ such licensed and registered dental hygienist.

Such dental hygienist may remove lime deposits, accretions and stains from the exposed surface of the teeth, but shall not perform any other operation on the teeth or tissues of the mouth. Such dental hygienist may operate in the office of any licensed dentist or in any public institution or in the schools under the general direction or supervision of a licensed dentist and nothing herein shall be construed as authorizing any dental hygienist to perform any operation in the mouth without supervision.

The board of dental examiners may revoke or suspend the license of any licensed dentist who shall permit any dental hygienist operating under his supervision to perform any operation other than that permitted under the provisions of this section, and the said board may also revoke or suspend a license of any dental hygienist violating the provisions of this section.

Every person licensed to practice as a dental hygienist in this state shall comply with all of the provisions of section eight of this act except that a separate book shall be kept by the county clerk for the registration of dental hygienists and except that the fee for the restoration of a license shall be five dollars instead of twenty-five dollars.

Practicing dentistry defined.

SEC. 3. Section eleven of said act approved May 31, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 11. Any person shall be understood to be practicing dentistry within the meaning of this act who shall (1) by card, circular, pamphlet, newspaper, or in any other way advertise himself as a dentist or (2) who shall, for a fee, salary or reward, paid directly or indirectly either to himself or to some other person, perform an operation of any kind, or treat diseases or lesions of the human teeth or jaws, or correct malimposed positions thereof, or (3) in any way indicate that he will perform by himself or his agents or servants any operations upon the human teeth or jaws, or (4) make an examination of, with the intent to perform or cause to be performed any operation on the human teeth or jaws, or (5) who manages or conducts as manager, proprietor, conductor, or otherwise a place where dental operations are performed; but nothing in this act contained shall prohibit bona fide students of dentistry or dental hygienists from operating in the clinical departments of the laboratory of a reputable dental college, or an unlicensed person from performing merely mechanical work upon inert matter in a dental laboratory or a licensed physician from practicing oral surgery.

Stats. 1915,
p. 706,

Proceedings to revoke licenses.

SEC. 4. Section fourteen of said act approved May 21, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 14. The proceedings to revoke or suspend any license under the first subdivision of section thirteen, must be taken by the board on the receipt of a certified copy of the record of conviction.

The proceedings to revoke or suspend any license under the third subdivision of section thirteen, may be taken upon the information of another. All accusations must be in writing, verified by some party familiar with the facts therein charged, and three copies thereof must be filed with the secretary of the board. Upon receiving the accusation the board shall, if it deem the complaint sufficient, make an order setting the same for hearing, at a specified time and place, and the secretary shall cause a copy of the order and of the accusation to be served upon the accused at least ten days before the day appointed in the order for said hearing. The accused must appear at the time appointed in the order and answer the charges and make his defense to the same, unless for sufficient cause the board assign another day for that purpose. If he does not appear the board may proceed and determine the accusation in his absence. If the accused plead guilty or refuse to answer the charges, or upon the hearing thereof the board shall find them or any of them true, it may proceed to a judgment revoking his license or suspending it. The board and the accused may have the benefit of counsel, and the board shall have power to administer oaths, take the deposition of witnesses in the manner provided by law in civil cases, and to compel them to attend before it in civil cases, by subpoena issued over the signature of the secretary and the seal of the board and in the name of the people of the State of California. The board shall have power in proper cases to authorize the payment of fees and traveling expenses of necessary witnesses required to appear before the board and actually examined in any proceedings properly before it. Upon the revocation of any license, the fact shall be noted upon the records of the board of dental examiners and the license shall be marked as canceled, upon the date of its revocation. Written notice of such suspension or revocation shall be mailed by the secretary of the board to the county clerk of each county in which such license is then registered.

An act to authorize counties to cooperate with the secretary of agriculture of the United States for the survey, construction and maintenance of roads and trails, and to pay part of the expenses thereof, pursuant to the provisions of section eight of the act of congress approved July 11, 1916, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads and for other purposes."

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows.

SECTION 1. The board of supervisors of any county, in the State of California, by a four-fifths vote of the board, is hereby authorized to enter into cooperative agreements with the secretary of agriculture of the United States for the survey, construction, and maintenance of roads and trails within such county, pursuant to the provisions of section eight of the act of Congress, approved July 11, 1916, entitled, "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads and for other purposes," upon such terms as may be agreed upon by such county and the secretary of agriculture, to incur expenses necessary to perform its part of such cooperative agreement, and to pay the costs and expenses thereof out of the general county fund, the general road fund, or the district fund of the road district within which such road or trail is situated.

CHAPTER 208.

An act to add a new section to be known as nine tt to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled, 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, to be numbered nine tt and to read as follows:

Salary of
county librarian,
counties of thirty-eighth class.

Sec. 9tt. In counties of the thirty-eighth class the salary of the county librarian shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, to be paid by said counties in equal monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid, said librarian shall also be allowed the actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred by him on business of the office.

CHAPTER 209.

An act to amend section four thousand one hundred twenty-three of the Political Code, relating to moneys erroneously paid to the county.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand one hundred twenty-three of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Moneys
erroneously paid to counties.

4123. Any money other than taxes, erroneously paid in to the county treasury, may be returned to the person paying it in, upon a warrant drawn by the county auditor on the order of the board of supervisors, based upon such voucher as will show proper evidence of the facts.

CHAPTER 210.

An act amending the Political Code by amending section four thousand three hundred a thereof, relating to the fees of the county clerk.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand three hundred a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4300a. In addition to the charges otherwise provided for by law, the county clerk shall charge and collect the following fees: Fees of county clerks.

For the filing of the first paper in a civil action or in a special proceeding, except a probate proceeding or an adoption proceeding, six dollars; provided, that in every special proceeding in which more than seven applicants or petitioners join, one dollar shall be collected for each additional applicant or petitioner above seven.

For filing the papers transmitted from another county on the transfer of a civil action or a special proceeding, except a probate proceeding or an adoption proceeding, six dollars.

For filing the papers transmitted on appeal from a justice's court in a civil action or a special proceeding, six dollars.

On the appearance of any defendant, intervenor or correspondent, whether separately or jointly, except for the purpose of making disclaimer, to be paid upon filing the first paper in the action on his behalf, one dollar.

For filing the first petition for letters of administration, a petition for special letters of administration, a petition for letters testamentary or a petition for letters of guardianship, six dollars; for filing a second or any subsequent petition for letters of administration, special letters of administration, letters testamentary, or letters of guardianship, in the same proceeding, or a petition to contest any will or codicil, three dollars; provided, that when the public administrator or the secretary of the state commission in lunacy, in his official capacity is the petitioner, he shall be required to pay said fee only out of the assets of the estate coming into his possession.

For issuing an execution, or order of sale, one dollar.

For filing any notice of intention to move for a new trial of any civil action or special proceeding, two dollars.

For preparing a copy of any record, proceeding, or paper on file in his office, per folio, ten cents.

For certifying to a copy of any paper, record or proceeding on file in his office, fifty cents.

For comparing with the original on file in his office the copy of any paper, record or proceedings prepared by another and presented for his certificate, one cent per folio.

For exemplification of record or other paper on file besides the charges allowed for copying or comparing, one dollar.

For filing and docketing an abstract of judgment from a justice's court, one dollar.

The foregoing fees shall be in full for all services rendered by the county clerk in any civil action or special proceeding.

No fee shall be charged by the clerk for service rendered in any criminal action or adoption proceeding, nor for any service to the State of California, or any municipality or county in said state, or to the national government, or for any service relating thereto, except for making or certifying to a copy of a filed paper, record or proceeding, when not otherwise provided by law.

For issuing a marriage license, one-half to be paid to the county recorder, two dollars; provided, that in counties where the salary of the county recorder is the sole compensation allowed by law this fee shall be paid to the county treasurer, who shall credit one-half to the county recorder. Said fee shall be in full for all services of the clerk and recorder in connection with the issuance of a marriage license and the recording of a marriage certificate.

For filing and indexing articles of incorporation, amended articles of incorporation or a certified copy of articles of incorporation, one dollar.

For filing a certificate of increase of the capital stock of a corporation, one dollar.

For filing a certificate of decrease of the capital stock of a corporation, one dollar.

For filing a certificate of increase of the number of directors of a corporation, one dollar.

For filing a certificate of decrease of the number of directors of a corporation, one dollar.

For filing a certificate of notice of removal of the principal place of business of a corporation, one dollar.

For filing a certificate of creation of bonded indebtedness of a corporation, one dollar.

For filing a certificate of increase of bonded indebtedness of a corporation, one dollar.

For filing any charter, by-laws, or any other certificate, etc., of any corporation, granting power to do business in this state, one dollar.

For filing and indexing a certificate of partnership, including affidavit of publication, one dollar.

For filing and indexing a certificate of fictitious name, including affidavit of publication, one dollar.

For filing and indexing an auctioneer's bond, one dollar.

For filing and indexing all papers for which a charge is not elsewhere provided, other than papers filed in actions or special proceedings, official bonds, or certificates of appointment, one dollar.

For either recording or registering any license or certificate or issuing any certificate, or both, in connection with a license, required by law, for which a charge is not otherwise prescribed, one dollar.

For each certificate of the clerk, except a certificate to a copy of a filed record, paper or proceedings, twenty-five cents.

For taking an affidavit, except in criminal cases, or adoption proceedings, fifty cents.

For searching records or files, for each year, fifty cents.

For taking acknowledgment of any deed or other instrument, including the certificate, for each signature, fifty cents.

SEC. 2. Section four thousand one hundred ninety of the Political Code shall not be repealed or affected by this act, but the fees therein provided for shall be in addition to those hereinabove provided for.

CHAPTER 211.

An act to amend section four thousand four of the Political Code, relating to loaning the credit of the county.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand four of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4004. No county shall, in any manner, give or loan its credit to or in aid of any person or corporation. An indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision shall be void. But it shall not be deemed a violation of this section for the county, whenever it shall be economical and satisfactory so to do, to perform work or to furnish goods for any road improvement, lighting, irrigation, waterworks, flood control or any other special district within the county, whose affairs and funds are under the supervision and control of the board of supervisors, or for which the board of supervisors is ex officio the governing body; provided, that before the work or the goods are ordered to be done or furnished by the county an amount equal to the cost thereof or an amount ten per cent in excess of the estimated cost thereof shall be so reserved from the funds of the district to be charged that it may be transferred to the county when the work shall have been done or the goods supplied. Charges for work so done or goods so supplied may be made by properly approved bill, in such form and manner as the auditor may direct, from the department, division or account supplying the goods or service to the department, division, account or district supplied and payment therefor may be made by transfer of funds upon the books of the auditor and the treasurer, on the order of the board of supervisors, without the formality of claim and warrant.

Loaning credit of county.

of board of supervisors.

and all ordinances shall be entered at length in the "ordinance book." Except as provided in section four thousand fifty-eight no ordinance passed by the board shall take effect within less than thirty days after its passage and before the expiration of fifteen days after the passage of an ordinance it shall be published, with the names of the members voting for and against the same, for at least one week, in some newspaper published in the county, if there be one, and if there be none published in the county, then such ordinance shall be posted at the courthouse door at least one week. An order entered in the minutes of the board that such ordinance has been duly published or posted shall be prima facie proof of such publication or posting.

CHAPTER 216.

An act to amend sections two and three of an act entitled "An act relating to ferries across navigable rivers separating counties, and empowering the boards of supervisors of such counties to establish and maintain ferries across such rivers, and to pay the expense thereof," approved March 16, 1903.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows.

Stats. 1903,
p. 156,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act relating to ferries across navigable rivers separating counties, and empowering the boards of supervisors of such counties to establish and maintain ferries across such rivers, and pay the expense thereof," approved March 16, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Proportion of expenses.

Sec. 2. Each of such counties shall pay such proportion of the expenses of establishing and operating said ferry or ferries as may be agreed upon by the boards of supervisors of such counties. Such proportion of the expenses of establishing and operating said ferry or ferries may be paid for out of the county general fund or the general road fund of the respective counties.

Stats. 1903,
p. 156,
amended.

Sec. 2. Section three of the said act approved March 16, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Operation by one
county.

Sec. 3. In case either of said counties shall refuse to enter into an agreement to establish and operate such ferry or ferries, the county situated upon the opposite bank of such river may establish and operate a ferry or ferries across such river, and such county is hereby empowered to acquire landing places for such ferry or ferries on the bank of such river opposite the boundary of such county, and may pay the expense of establishing and operating said ferry or ferries out of the general road fund of such county, or out of the general county fund of such county.

CHAPTER 217.

An act to amend section forty-two of the act known as the "Improvement act of 1911," approved April 7, 1911, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section forty-two of the act known as the improvement act of 1911, approved April 7, 1911, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 1470, amended.

Sec. 42. The superintendent of streets (or the city engineer, if the city council has by resolution directed that the work be done under his direction and to his satisfaction, as provided in section eighteen of this act) shall, when in his judgment it is necessary appoint a suitable person or persons to take charge of and superintend the construction and improvement of any work authorized by this act, whose duty it shall be to see that the contract made for the doing of said work is strictly fulfilled in every respect and in case of any departure therefrom to report the same to the superintendent of streets, or to the city engineer, if appointed by him. Such person shall be allowed for his time actually employed in the discharge of his duties such compensation as shall be just, but not to exceed seven dollars per day. The sum to which the party so employed shall be entitled shall be deemed to be incidental expenses within the meaning of those words as defined by this act. Superintendent of construction.

CHAPTER 218.

An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal utility districts, authorizing such districts to incur bonded indebtedness for the acquisition and construction of works and property, and to levy and collect taxes to pay the principal and interest thereon.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A municipal utility district may be created as herein provided and when so created may exercise the powers herein granted. Any municipality together with unincorporated territory may so organize and incorporate; likewise any two or more municipalities, whether contiguous or otherwise or in the same or different counties, may organize and incorporate as a municipal utility district. Unincorporated territory may be embraced and included therein, but no municipality or Municipal utility districts may be organized.

election precinct shall be divided in the formation of such a district, nor shall any municipality or unincorporated territory be included therein without the consent of a majority of the electors thereof voting at any election on such proposition. Unincorporated territory in separated parcels and not contiguous, shall be considered separately in the organization of a district.

Procedure.

SEC. 2. The procedure for organizing and creating a municipal utility district under the provisions of this act is as follows:

Resolution of intention by municipalities.

Resolutions shall first be passed by the legislative bodies of half or more of the municipalities designed to be included in the proposed district, declaring that in their opinion public interest or necessity demands the creation and maintenance of a municipal utility district to be known as "the (giving the name) municipal utility district." Said resolutions may state the kind of utility proposed to be first acquired, but failure to acquire such utility shall not affect the validity of the district. They shall describe the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, provided that if it is intended to organize said district of incorporated municipalities only, then and in that case a statement of the names of such municipalities shall constitute a sufficient description of said district. Certified copies of said resolutions shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county containing the largest number of registered electors within the proposed district requesting said board to call an election without delay for determining whether such district shall be created.

Petition
by electors.

Instead of said resolutions, a petition may be presented to the board of supervisors of said county signed by qualified electors within the boundaries of said district equal in number to at least ten per cent of the total vote cast at the last general state election within the territory proposed to be included in said district. Said petition shall contain substantially the same declarations and statements required to be contained in the resolutions aforementioned, and declare that, in the opinion of the petitioners, public interest or necessity demands the creation and maintenance of a municipal utility district. Such petition may be on separate papers, but each paper shall contain the affidavit of the party who circulated it certifying that each name signed thereto is the true signature of the person whose name it purports to be. The clerk of the board of supervisors of said county shall compare the signatures with the affidavits of registration and certify to the sufficiency or insufficiency of such petition.

Election.

SEC. 3. Upon receipt of certified copies of the resolutions aforementioned or of a sufficient petition as aforesaid, said board of supervisors shall call an election within the proposed district without delay for the purpose of determining whether the proposed district shall be created and established, also for the purpose of electing the first board of directors therefor in case the same is created.

SEC. 4. The government of every municipal utility district so created and established shall be vested in a board of five directors, one from each of the wards or subdistricts hereinafter mentioned, together with the other officers hereinafter mentioned. Said directors shall be residents and electors of the respective wards or subdistricts from which they are respectively nominated. They shall be elected at large, and every qualified elector in the proposed district may vote for all of the directors to be elected.

Board of directors of district.

SEC. 5. Before calling said election the board of supervisors shall divide the proposed district into five wards or subdistricts, the boundaries of which shall be so drawn that each shall contain approximately an equal number of electors, as nearly as may be. The municipalities and any other territory included in the proposed district may be divided for the purpose of establishing the boundaries of said wards or subdistricts, provided no election precinct shall be divided therefor.

Division of district into wards.

SEC. 6. Upon establishing the wards as aforesaid the board of supervisors of said county shall give notice of an election to be held within the proposed district for the purpose of determining whether the same shall be created and established, also for the purpose of electing directors if established. Said notice shall state the name of the proposed district, and describe the boundaries thereof; it shall also describe the boundaries of the wards or subdistricts provided for the purpose of electing directors. Said notice shall be published once a week for at least three weeks before the day of said election in each municipality included in the proposed district. In case no newspaper of general circulation is published in any of the municipalities included therein said notice shall be posted for at least three weeks in not less than three public places in each of such municipalities. In case unincorporated territory is included therein said notice shall be posted for a like period in at least three public places in such unincorporated territory.

Notice of election.

The ballot for said election shall contain such instructions as are required by law to be printed thereon and in addition thereto shall appear thereon the following:

Ballot.

Shall the (giving the name thereof) "municipal utility district" be created and established?

YES
NO

Said ballots shall also contain the names of the persons nominated in each ward to serve as a member of the board of directors from such ward, showing separately each ward and its nominees. Any person may be nominated for the office of director upon written petition of fifty or more qualified electors of the ward or subdistrict in which such person resides.

General laws to govern.

(a) Said election, including the nomination and election of directors and all matters pertaining thereto not otherwise provided for herein, shall be held and conducted and the result thereof ascertained, determined and declared in accordance with the general election laws of the state, as nearly as may be, and no person shall be entitled to vote at said election unless he or she be a qualified elector of the territory included in the proposed district. Said election may be held on the same day as any other state, county or city election and be consolidated therewith.

Canvass of votes.

(b) Said board of supervisors shall meet on Monday next succeeding the day of said election and canvass the votes cast thereat.

They shall canvass the returns of each municipality and each parcel of unincorporated territory, if any, separately, and shall order and declare said district created and established of the municipalities and territory in which a majority of those who voted on the proposition voted in favor of the creation of said district; provided, however, that the total number of electors in such approving municipalities and territory be not less than two-thirds the number of electors within the district as first proposed, according to the register used at said election.

Qualification of director.

No person shall be entitled to serve as a director unless he be a resident and elector of the district as finally determined, and any vacancies on the board of directors caused by the elimination of territory shall be filled by the remaining directors, in which case ward lines may be disregarded in their appointment thereof. Said board of supervisors shall also canvass the returns of the election with respect to the persons voted for as directors, and shall declare the persons receiving the highest number of votes for each ward, respectively, to be duly elected as directors of said district, providing they are residents and electors thereof as finally determined.

Declaration of result.

(c) The board of supervisors shall cause a certified copy of said order, declaring the result of said election to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, from and after which the establishment of said municipal utility district shall be deemed complete, and the persons elected as directors thereof shall enter immediately upon their official duties after qualifying according to law. Said directors shall hold their respective offices only until the next general election as provided by section one thousand forty-one of the Political Code, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Cost of election.

The board of supervisors calling the election shall make all provision for the holding thereof throughout the entire district as proposed, and shall pay the cost thereof. In case a special election is held exclusively on the proposition of organizing such a district, the expenditure therefor shall be reimbursed by means of a special tax on all the taxable property within the municipalities proposed to be included in the district, which tax shall be added to the next county tax bills by the proper officials of the counties involved, respectively.

(d) No informality in any proceeding or in the conduct of said election, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any citizen, shall be held to invalidate the incorporation of any municipal utility district, and any proceedings wherein the validity of such incorporation is denied, shall be commenced within three months from the date of filing the aforesaid order, otherwise such incorporation and the legal existence of said municipal utility district shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

The legislative body of such municipality shall negotiate with the board of directors of said district, and if satisfactory terms are agreed upon, the same shall be incorporated in any ordinance and adopted by said board of directors. If the referendum is not invoked on such ordinance by the electors of said district within sixty days after its final passage, the terms and conditions incorporated in said ordinance shall be deemed satisfactory so far as said district is concerned.

Thereupon the legislative body of the municipality proposed to be annexed shall call an election in said municipality to determine whether said municipality shall be annexed to said district on the terms and conditions stated in said ordinance, which ordinance shall be incorporated in the notice of election. The notice of said election shall be published at least once a week for two weeks before the day of said election, or be posted for at least two weeks in three public places in said municipality in case no newspaper of general circulation is published therein. Election.

The ballots for said election shall contain such instructions as are required by law to be printed thereon and in addition thereto shall appear thereon the following: Ballots.

Shall the city (or town) of _____ be annexed to _____ municipal utility district?

Said election, in all matters pertaining thereto not otherwise provided for herein, shall be held and conducted and the result thereof ascertained, determined and declared in accordance with the general election laws of the state so far as the same may be applicable.

If, upon a canvass of the result thereof, it appears that a majority of all the votes cast at said election were cast in favor of annexation, the proposition shall be deemed to have been carried and approved by the electors; provided, however, if the terms and conditions aforementioned necessitate the incurring of an indebtedness by the municipality proposed to be annexed, in order to contribute its share of any expenditure theretofore authorized or incurred by said district, then and Canvass of result.

in that case the proposition of incurring such indebtedness shall be submitted at the same election, and the proposition for annexation shall not be deemed carried unless the proposition for incurring such indebtedness shall be approved by a vote of two-thirds of all the voters voting at such election. Unincorporated territory may be annexed to said district in accordance with the procedure provided by statute for the annexation of unincorporated territory to municipalities, in so far as the same may be made applicable.

(f) Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize or empower the board of directors of the district to interfere with or exercise any control over any existing utility owned and operated by any municipality in said district unless by consent of the city council of such municipality and upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon between the board of directors of the district and said city council.

Subsequent elections.

SEC. 7. All subsequent elections shall be called, held and conducted, and the returns thereof canvassed and result thereof ascertained, determined and declared by the board of directors of said district.

Term of directors.

Of the directors elected at the next general state election following the election at which the district is created, those three elected by the highest vote shall hold office for four years, and the other two for two years. Thereafter at each biennial general election provided for under section one thousand forty-one of the Political Code a number of directors corresponding to the number whose term of office expires shall be elected for the term of four years.

Fixing boundaries of wards.

SEC. 8. The board of directors shall have authority to fix the boundaries of the wards or sub-districts for the purpose of electing directors therefrom, after the first election creating and establishing the district.

The board of directors may provide by ordinance that each of its members shall receive for each attendance at the meetings of the board the sum of ten dollars. They shall not receive any other compensation, and no director shall receive pay for more than two meetings in any one calendar month.

President of board.

Meetings.

SEC. 9. The board of directors shall choose one of its members president, and shall provide for the time and place of holding its meetings, which shall be held at least once each month. All legislative sessions of the board of directors, whether regular or special, shall be open to the public. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board of directors shall establish rules for its proceedings.

Ordinances and resolutions.

SEC. 10. The board of directors shall act only by ordinance or resolution, and shall fill all vacancies on the board caused by the death or resignation of a member. No ordinance or resolution shall be passed or become effective without the affirmative votes of at least a majority of the members of the board. The enacting clause of all ordinances passed by the board shall be in these words:

“Be it enacted by the board of directors of-----municipal utility district:”

All ordinances shall be signed by the president of the board of directors and attested by the secretary.

No ordinance passed by the board shall take effect within less than thirty days after its passage, and before the expiration of said thirty days the same shall be published with the names of the members voting for and against the same for at least one week in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the district.

SEC. 11. The board of directors shall constitute the legis- ^{Appointed}
lative body of said district and shall determine all questions ^{officials.}
of policy. Said board may appoint a general manager, an accountant who shall be ex officio secretary of the board of directors, a treasurer and an attorney, and fix their compensation. Said appointed officials shall hold office during the pleasure of said board and give such bonds and in such amounts as the board of directors may require. The board of directors shall supervise and regulate every utility owned and operated by the district, including the fixing of rates, rentals, charges and classifications, and the making and enforcement of rules, regulations, contracts, practices and schedules, for or in connection with any service, product or commodity owned or controlled by said district.

SEC. 12. Any municipal utility district incorporated as ^{Powers of} herein provided shall have power: ^{district.}

First—To have perpetual succession.

Second—To sue and be sued, except as otherwise provided herein or by law, in all actions and proceedings, in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

Third—To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.

Fourth—To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, or otherwise acquire, and to hold and enjoy, and to lease or dispose of, real and personal property of every kind within or without the district, necessary to the full or convenient exercise of its powers.

Fifth—To acquire, construct, own, operate, control or use, within or without, or partly within and partly without, the district, works for supplying the inhabitants of said district and municipalities therein, without preference to such municipalities, with light, water, power, heat, transportation, telephone service, or other means of communication, or means for the disposition of garbage, sewage, or refuse matter; and to do all things necessary or convenient to the full exercise of the powers herein granted; also to purchase any of the commodities or services aforementioned from any other utility district, municipality or private company, and distribute the same. Whenever there is a surplus of water, light, heat, or power above that which may be required by such inhabitants or municipalities within the district, such district shall have power to sell or otherwise dispose of such surplus outside of the district to persons, firms, and public or private corporations, or municipalities outside said district.

Sixth—To have or exercise the right of eminent domain in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use. To take any property necessary or convenient to the exercise of the powers herein granted, whether such property be already devoted to the same use or otherwise. In the proceedings relative to the exercise of such right the district shall have the same rights, powers and privileges as a municipal corporation.

Seventh—To construct works across or along any street or public highway, or over any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state, and to have the same rights and privileges appertaining thereto as have been or may be granted to the municipalities within the state, and to construct its works across any stream of water or water course. The district shall restore any such street or highway to its former state as near as may be, and shall not use the same in a manner to unnecessarily impair its usefulness.

Eighth—To borrow money and incur indebtedness, and to issue bonds or other evidences of such indebtedness; also to refund or retire any indebtedness that may exist against the district; provided, no indebtedness shall be incurred exceeding the ordinary annual income and revenue of the district without the approval of a two-thirds vote of the electors voting on the proposition to incur such indebtedness.

Ninth—To levy and collect, or cause to be levied and collected, taxes for the purpose of carrying on the operations and paying the obligations of the district.

Tenth—To make contracts, to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary and convenient for the full exercise of the powers herein in this act granted.

Eleventh—To proceed in the name of the district in case of condemnation proceedings.

manager.

SEC. 13. The general manager shall have full charge and control of the construction of the works of said district and of their maintenance and operation, also of the administration of the business affairs of said district. He need not be a resident of the State of California at the time of his appointment. His salary shall be fixed by the board of directors. The powers of the general manager shall be:

- (a) To see that all ordinances of the district are enforced;
- (b) To appoint or hire, except as otherwise provided herein, all heads of departments, subordinate officials and employees necessary for the administration of the affairs of said district, and to remove the same;
- (c) To act as purchasing agent for all the departments of said district;
- (d) To attend all meetings of the board of directors and submit a general report of the affairs of the district;

(e) To keep the directors advised as to the needs of the district;

(f) To prepare or cause to be prepared, all plans, specifications, etc., for the construction of the works of said district;

(g) To devote his entire time to the business of the district;

(h) To perform such other and additional duties as the board of directors may require.

The general manager, in January of each year, shall render and immediately cause to be published a verified statement of the financial condition of the district, showing particularly the receipts and disbursements of the last preceding year, together with the source of such receipts and the purpose of such disbursements. Said publication shall be made at least once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the district, or, if there be no such newspaper in the district, then within some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where such district is situated. Statement of financial condition.

All other things being equal, the board of directors shall appoint as general manager some person who has had experience in municipal engineering or in the construction or management of public utilities.

SEC. 14. The accountant shall install and maintain a system of auditing and accounting which shall completely and at all times show the financial condition of the district. He shall draw all warrants for the payment of demands against the district when the same have been approved by the general manager and the board of directors. He shall perform such other duties as the board may require. Accountant.

The treasurer shall be the custodian of the funds of the district and shall make payments only upon warrants duly and regularly signed by the president of the board of directors and attested by the secretary. He shall keep an account of all receipts and disbursements. Treasurer.

The attorney shall be one who has been duly admitted to practice law with the supreme court of the state and shall have been actively engaged in the practice of his profession for the period of at least three years next preceding his appointment. It shall be his duty to take charge of all suits and other legal matters to which the district is a party or in which it may be legally interested. He shall be in attendance at each meeting of the board of directors and shall give his advice or opinion in writing whenever required by said board. He shall be the legal adviser of the manager and other district officers and shall prepare and approve the forms of all ordinances, resolutions, contracts, bonds and other legal documents connected with the business of the district. He shall perform such other and additional services as the directors may require. Attorney.

SEC. 15. (1) Whenever the board of directors by resolution shall determine that the public interest or necessity of the district demands the acquisition, construction, or completion of any public utility or utilities by the district, or whenever Acquisition of public utilities.

the electors of the district shall petition the board of directors, as hereinafter provided, for the acquisition, construction, or completion of any public utility or utilities, the board of directors must procure plans and estimates of the cost of original construction and completion by the district of such public utility or utilities; provided, that no public utility shall ever be acquired or contracted for unless the acquisition of said utility has first been approved by a majority of the electors of said district.

Estimates
of cost.

(2) In securing estimates of the cost of original construction and completion of waterworks by the district, the board of directors must procure and place on file plans and estimates of the cost of obtaining, from such sources as the board of directors may find and designate as available, a sufficient supply of good, pure water for the district.

Offers for sale of existing utilities.

(3) Before submitting propositions to the electors for the acquisition by original construction or condemnation of public utilities, the board of directors must solicit and consider offers for the sale to the district of existing utilities of the same character, or such portion thereof, as would be used and useful to the district. In case no such offer or offers can be procured, the board of directors must, or, in case such offer or offers are procured the board of directors may, apply to the railroad commission of the State of California to ascertain the value of such existing utility or utilities for the purpose of submitting to the electors estimates of the cost of acquiring such public utility or utilities. Such valuation by the railroad commission shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section forty-seven of the public utilities act of the State of California, and said railroad commission shall have power upon such application, and it shall be its duty, to make such valuation without delay. When the railroad commission shall have made and filed its findings and decision, the board of directors of the municipal utility district may have said findings reviewed, as in sections forty-seven and seventy of said public utilities act provided; or such board of directors may immediately adopt such findings and decision as the basis of its estimate of the cost of acquiring such public utility or utilities by purchase or by condemnation.

Valuation.

Petition for construction
of utility.

(4) Whenever any petition or petitions, each signed by electors of the district equal in number to fifteen per centum of all the votes cast within the territory of the district at the last preceding general election held for the election of state and county officers, shall be presented to the board of directors asking for the construction, completion or acquisition of the public utility or utilities therein named, it shall be the duty of the secretary of the district to immediately proceed to examine and verify the signatures to such petition or petitions and to certify the result of such examination to the board of directors. If the required number of signatures be found to be genuine, the secretary shall transmit to the president of the board of directors an authentic copy of such petition or petitions, without the signatures thereto.

Upon receiving the petition or petitions, with the certificate of the secretary stating that it or they contain the required number of signatures, the board of directors shall formulate for submission to the electors of the district at a general election or at a special election called for that purpose, a separate proposition for the construction, completion, or acquisition of each public utility named in such petition or petitions. Election.

All propositions formulated under the provisions of this subdivision shall be completed within six months after the filing of such petition or petitions, unless more time is required by reason of the making of a valuation applied for to the railroad commission under the provisions of subdivision three of this section, in which case the said proposition or propositions shall be completed as soon as may be possible after such valuation shall have been made and become final.

Upon the completion of the proposition or propositions for the acquisition, construction or completion of the public utility or utilities named in said petitions, the board of directors of the district by ordinance shall submit to the electors of the district at a general election or at a special election the proposition or propositions of incurring a bonded indebtedness for such purpose or purposes. Bond election.

The ordinance calling such election shall recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the proposed public improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such election will be held, the manner of holding such election and the voting for or against incurring such indebtedness, and in all particulars not recited in such ordinance, such election shall be held as provided in the act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns, and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction, or completion thereof," statutes 1901, page twenty-seven. Election ordinance.

The interest on such bonds shall not exceed six per centum per annum and be payable semiannually. The redemption of said bonds shall begin not later than ten years from the date of said bonds and be completed in not more than fifty years from said date. All matters and things pertaining to the issuance of bonds by such district including the form, limit of denomination, interest, redemption and sale of said bonds, not otherwise provided herein, shall be in accordance with the provisions of said last named act as near as the same may be made applicable. Interest on bonds.

No municipal utility district shall incur an indebtedness for public works which shall in the aggregate exceed twenty per cent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of such district; provided, however, any indebtedness Limit of indebtedness.

which has been incurred for the construction and operation of a public utility, where the revenue from said utility for three years or more next preceding has been sufficient to pay the interest and principal due on any bonds issued for its construction and acquisition in addition to the cost of operation and maintenance, shall not be counted and included in ascertaining the limit of indebtedness.

Action to determine validity of bonds.

SEC. 16. The board of directors may at any time within sixty days from the date of the election authorizing the issuance of any bonds cause to be brought in the name of the district an action in the superior court of the county in which said district or the greater portion thereof is located, to determine the validity of any such bonds. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem, and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three weeks in some paper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending, such paper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings. Jurisdiction shall be complete within ten days after the full publication of such summons in the manner herein provided. Any one interested may at any time before the expiration of said ten days appear and by proper proceedings contest the validity of such bonds. Such action shall be speedily tried and judgment rendered declaring such bonds to be valid or invalid. Either party may have the right to appeal to the supreme court at any time within thirty days after the rendition of such judgment, which appeal must be heard and determined within three months from the time of taking such appeal. After the expiration of ninety days from the date of such election no action may be brought by any person to contest or question the validity of said bonds and proceedings thereto. If there be more than one action or proceeding involving the validity of any such bonds, they shall be consolidated and tried together. The court hearing any proceeding or action inquiring into the regularity, legality or correctness of the proceedings leading up to the issuance of bonds or the validity of such bonds must disregard any error, irregularity, or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to said action or proceeding. The rules of pleading and practice provided by the Code of Civil Procedure, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are applicable to all actions or proceedings herein provided for. The motion for a new trial of any such action or proceeding must be heard and determined within ten days from the filing of the notice of intention. The costs on any proceeding or action herein provided for may be allowed and apportioned between the parties, or taxed to the losing party, in the discretion of the court.

Expert to examine accounts.

SEC. 17. The directors of the district shall employ annually an expert who shall be qualified to, and who shall with all due diligence, examine and report upon the system of accounts kept by the district; all the contracts of whatsoever kind made and entered into by the board of directors within the two years immediately preceding; the management of the utilities of the district, the operation of the same, the service furnished, and the rates charged by the district; the properties and investments of the district: all official acts of the board of directors relating to acquisition, construction, completion, extension, improvement, and betterment of the public utility or utilities of the district; the efficiency and adequacy of each public utility, and of the property used in connection therewith or with the operation thereof, the reasonableness of the service and commodities furnished, and of the rates and charges therefor; and generally all the business and affairs of the district relating to the ownership, management and operation of each public utility of the district. Said expert shall in his report make such recommendations and suggestions as to him shall seem proper and required for the good of the district, and the efficient and economical or advantageous management and operation of the public utility or utilities of the district, and of the business and affairs of the district relating to such management and operation; and he shall in his said report make such recommendations and suggestions as to the system of accounts kept, or in his judgment to be kept, by the district, in connection with each public utility, the classification of the public utilities of the district and the establishment of a system of accounts for each class, the manner in which such accounts shall be kept, the form of accounts, records, and memoranda kept or to be kept, including accounts, records, and memoranda of receipts and expenditures of money, and depreciation and sinking fund accounts, as in his judgment may be proper and necessary.

SEC. 18. Only revenue producing utilities shall be acquired, owned or operated by a district formed under the provisions of this act. So far as possible the board of directors shall fix such charges for commodities or service furnished by any revenue producing utility, as will pay the expenses of the government of the district, including salaries, office expenses, and other necessary disbursements; the operating expenses of the utility; the interest on any bonded indebtedness incurred for the acquisition, construction and completion thereof; and provide a sinking or other appropriate fund for the payment of the principal of such debt as it may become due, and also provide an appropriate fund for repairs, replacements and betterments; it being the intention of this section that the district pay all of such charges and expenditures, and the interest and principal of its bonded debt, from the revenues derived by the district from the operation of its public utilities, and that each public utility owned and operated by the district shall be self-sustaining.

Revenue producing utilities only to be acquired.

SEC. 19. The district and any municipalities included therein, may at any time enter into appropriate contracts for the use by such municipality or municipalities of commodities or service furnished by any of the utilities acquired, owned, and operated, or authorized to be acquired, constructed, or completed by the district, as in this act provided.

Tax levy
to pay
indebtedness.

SEC. 20. (1) If from any cause the revenues of the district shall be inadequate to pay the principal or interest on any bonded debt as it becomes due, the board of directors must, or if funds are needed to carry out the objects and purposes of the district, which can not be provided for out of the revenues of the district, then the board of directors may, levy a tax for such purposes as herein provided. The board shall state the purposes for which such taxes are necessary, and must fix, by resolution, the amount of money necessary to be so raised by taxation.

Assessments.

(2) The board of directors may by ordinance provide the mode and manner of assessing, and of correcting and equalizing assessments upon, the taxable property situated within the district, for the purpose of levying district taxes, and of levying and collecting such taxes, and may provide for the collection of delinquent taxes by actions or legal proceedings which are hereby authorized to be brought, prosecuted and maintained in the name of the district against the several owners of property from whom such taxes may be due and delinquent, for the purpose of recovering the amount of the delinquent tax, with penalties, interest, and costs; provided, that the provisions of such ordinance shall be conformable to general law.

Assessment
by county
officers.

(3) The board of directors may elect to avail itself of the assessment or assessments made by the assessor or assessors of the county or counties in which the district is situated, and may take such assessment or assessments as the basis for district taxation; provided, that the board of directors shall declare its said election by ordinance and file a certified copy of the same with the auditor or auditors of the county or counties in which the district is situated, on or before the first Monday in February of each year. Thereafter all assessments shall be made and taxes collected by the county assessor and tax collector, or county assessors or tax collectors, of the county or counties in which the district is situated until the board of directors of the district by ordinance elect otherwise. The said county auditor or auditors thereupon must, on or before the second Monday in August of each year, transmit to the board of directors of the district a statement in writing showing the total value of all property within the district, which value shall be ascertained from the assessment book of the said county or counties for that year as equalized and corrected by the board or boards of supervisors of such county or counties. In case the board of directors shall so elect, as hereinabove provided, it shall, on or before the first week day in September, or if such week day falls upon a holiday then on the first business day thereafter, fix the rate of taxes, designating the number of cents upon each hundred dollars, using as a basis the value of property as assessed by the county assessor or assessors and so returned to such board of directors by the county auditor or auditors, as hereinabove provided, which rate of taxation shall be sufficient to raise the amount previously fixed by the board, as hereinabove prescribed; which acts by said board of directors are declared to be a valid assessment of such property and a valid levy of such taxes so fixed. The board of directors must immediately thereafter transmit to the county auditor or auditors of the county or counties in which the district is situated a statement of such rate so fixed by the board of directors.

The said auditor or auditors must then compute and enter in a separate column in the assessment book or assessment books, to be headed "Utility district tax, ----- municipal utility district (naming it)," the respective sums in dollars and cents or dollars or cents to be paid as a district tax on the property therein enumerated and assessed as being in the municipal utility district, using the rate of levy so fixed by the board of directors of the district, and the assessed value as found in such assessment book or assessment books. Such taxes so levied shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes; and when collected the net amount, as ascertained as hereinafter provided, shall be paid to the treasurer of the district, under the general requirements and penalties provided by law for the settlement of other taxes.

Each county auditor and tax collector affected by the provisions of this act shall annually file with the board of supervisors of his county itemized statements showing the additional expense to his office caused by the performance of the duties imposed upon him or his office under the provisions of this act, and upon the filing of such statements the board of supervisors shall, by an order spread upon its minutes, deduct such expenses from the tax money of the district, while in the hands of the tax collector, and transfer the amount deducted into the county salary fund; provided, that not more than one-half of one per centum on the amount collected shall be so charged or deducted by any county. The board or boards of supervisors of such county or counties may provide such extra help for their county offices or officers as in their judgment may be necessary for the proper performance of their duties hereunder.

Whenever any real property situate in any municipal utility district formed under the provisions of this act, which district has availed itself of the provisions of this subdivision of this section, has been sold for taxes and has been redeemed, the money paid for such redemption shall be apportioned and paid by the county treasurer or treasurers receiving the same to such municipal utility district, in the proportion which the tax due to such district bears to the total tax for which such property was sold.

(4) All taxes levied under the provisions of this act shall be a lien on the property on which they are levied; and the enforcement of the collection of such taxes shall be had in the same manner and by the same means as is provided by law for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes, all the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of the latter being hereby made a part of this act, so far as applicable.

Classified civil service.

SEC. 21. The general manager shall classify all the places of employment in or under the district, with reference to the examinations hereinafter provided for, excepting such positions as superintendent, foreman and heads of departments. The places so classified by the manager shall constitute the classified civil service of the district, and no appointment to any such place shall be made except according to the rules hereinafter mentioned.

The manager shall make rules to carry out the purposes of this section, and for examinations, appointments, promotions, and removals, and may from time to time make changes in existing rules.

The examinations shall be practical in their character, and shall relate to those matters only which will fairly test the relative capacity of the persons examined to discharge the duties of the positions to which they seek to be appointed, and shall include, when appropriate, tests of manual or professional skill. No director shall in any manner attempt to influence the general manager in the making of any appointment or in the purchase of supplies. A violation of this provision shall work a forfeiture of the office of such director.

contract.

SEC. 22. In the purchase of all supplies and materials, when the expenditure required for the same shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, the same shall be done by contract and be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation, said notice to be printed at least ten days before bids are received; provided, the directors may reject any and all bids and readvertise in their discretion: provided, further, that after rejecting bids the directors may determine and declare by a four-fifths vote of all its members that in its opinion the materials and supplies may be purchased at a lower price in the open market, after the adoption of which resolution, the directors may proceed to purchase said supplies and materials in the open market without further observance of the provisions first above stated;

Provided, further, that in case of any great public calamity, such as an extraordinary fire, flood, storm, epidemic or other disaster, the directors may, by resolution passed by a four-fifths vote of all its members, declare and determine that public interest and necessity demand the immediate expenditure of public money to safeguard life, health or property, whereupon they may proceed to expend or enter into a contract involving the expenditure of any sum needed in such emergency.

Eight hour day.

SEC. 23. The maximum time of labor or service required of any laborer, workman, or mechanic employed upon any work of the district, whether so employed directly by the district and its officers, or by a contractor or subcontractor, shall be eight hours during any one calendar day, except in case of emergency.

The board of directors may from time to time contract for or employ any professional services required by this district, or by the board, or any officers of the district.

SEC. 24. No director or any other officer of the district shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board of directors, or in the profits to be derived therefrom; and for any violation of this provision such officer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and such conviction shall work a forfeiture of his office, and he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Directors and officers not to be interested in contract.

SEC. 25. Every incumbent of an elective office of a municipal utility district formed hereunder is subject to recall by the voters of such municipal utility district, in accordance with the recall provisions of the general laws of the state with reference to county officers.

Recall of officers.

SEC. 26. All matters and things necessary for the proper administration of the affairs of said district which are not provided for in this act shall be provided for by the board of directors of the district, by ordinance.

Powers of board of directors.

SEC. 27. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER 219.

An act amending the Political Code by amending section four thousand forty-three thereof, relating to the protection of highways from damage by floods.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand forty-three of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4043. Whenever it appears to the board that any public road, in any road district of the county, is in danger of being damaged by storm waters or floods, or whenever any public highway has already been damaged by storm waters or floods, it is hereby made the duty of the board to adopt such measures as may be necessary to prevent such damage, or to repair the same; and the board is hereby authorized to construct flumes, ditches, or canals, for the purpose of carrying off such storm waters or floods to a place of safety, and may condemn the right of way for such flumes, ditches or canals for such purpose. Any expense incurred under this section may be paid out of the general fund of the county, or out of the fund or funds of the road district or districts the roads of which were protected by the work done.

An act to amend sections two, thirty-two, and thirty-six of an act entitled "An act providing for the incorporation of public utility districts by municipalities and unincorporated territory, authorizing such districts to incur bonded indebtedness for the purpose of the construction of works and the acquisition of property, and to levy and collect taxes to pay the principal and interest on bonds and for carrying on their operations, and providing for the powers, management and government of such districts, and imposing certain duties and functions in connection with such districts upon certain county officers, approved May 27, 1915."

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 866,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act providing for the incorporation of public utility districts by municipalities and unincorporated territory, authorizing such districts to incur bonded indebtedness for the purpose of the construction of works and the acquisition of property, and to levy and collect taxes to pay the principal and interest on bonds and for carrying on their operations, and providing for the powers, management and government of such districts, and imposing certain duties and functions in connection with such districts upon certain county officers," approved May 27, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Two or more municipalities may unite.

Sec. 2. Two or more municipalities may join in the formation of such a district. When any two or more municipalities desire to organize such a public utility district, as herein provided for, the legislative body of each such municipal corporation, at a regular meeting of such body, shall pass an ordinance declaring that the public interest requires the incorporation by such municipality, jointly with the other municipality or municipalities, naming the same, of a public utility district under this act, comprising its territory with that of the other or others, and stating the name of the proposed district, which shall include the words "public utility district." Such ordinance shall also provide for the submission of the proposition by the council or other legislative body of the city to the qualified electors thereof at a special municipal election; provided, that the procedure for the formation of such public utility district when initiated by the legislative bodies of the municipalities included therein shall be in accordance with the procedure in this act provided for the formation of a public utility district by petition except where otherwise herein provided.

SEC. 2. Section thirty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 880
amended.

Sec. 32. The board of directors shall act only by ordinances or resolution. The ayes and noes shall be taken upon the passage of all ordinances or resolutions and entered upon the journal of the proceedings of the board of directors. No ordinance or resolution shall be passed or become effective without the affirmative votes of at least a majority of the members of the board. The enacting clause of all ordinances passed by the board shall be in these words:

Action only by ordinance or resolution.

"Be it enacted by the board of directors of ----- public utility district."

All resolutions and ordinances shall be signed by the president of the board of directors and attested by the secretary.

No ordinance passed by the board shall take effect within less than thirty days after its final passage, and before the expiration of said thirty days the same shall be published with the names of the members voting for and against the same for at least one week in some daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the district or at least twice in some weekly newspaper of general circulation similarly printed and published, in case there is no such daily newspaper printed and published in the district, and posted at the main entrance to the offices of the board of directors at least one week. An order entered in the minutes of the board that such ordinance has been duly published and posted shall be prima facie proof of such publication and posting.

taking effect.

No action providing for any specific improvement or the appropriation or expenditure of any of the district funds except such as are provided for in the regular annual budget, nor any action providing for the appropriation, acquisition, sale or lease of public property or for the levy of any tax or assessment, shall be taken except by ordinance.

All ordinances shall be subject to referendum (exercised in accordance with the provisions of the general laws of the State of California with reference to the referendum) during the period of thirty days above referred to between the time of final passage and the time of taking effect.

Referendum.

Each member of the board of directors shall receive such compensation as the board of directors by ordinance shall provide: not to exceed, however, the sum of five hundred dollars per year.

Compensation
of directors.

Stats. 1915,
p. 882,
amended.

Plans and estimates.

SEC. 3. Section thirty-six of said act, approved May 27, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 36. (1) Whenever the board of directors by ordinance, as hereinafter provided, shall determine that the public interest or necessity of the district demands the acquisition, construction, or completion of any public utility or utilities by the district, or whenever the electors of the district shall petition the board of directors, as hereinafter provided, for the acquisition, construction, or completion of any public utility or utilities, the board of directors must procure plans and estimates of the cost of original construction and completion by the district of such public utility or utilities.

Water
works.

(2) In securing estimates of the cost of original construction and completion of water works by the district, the board of directors must procure and place on file plans and estimates of the cost of obtaining, from such sources as the board of directors may find and designate as available, a sufficient supply of good, pure water for the district.

Offers for sale of existing utilities.

(3) Before submitting propositions to the electors for the acquisition by original construction or condemnation of public utilities, the board of directors must solicit and consider offers for the sale to the district of existing utilities, in order that the electors may have the benefit of acquiring the same at the lowest possible cost thereof. In case no such offer or offers can be procured, the board of directors must, or, in case such offer or offers are procured the board of directors may, apply to the railroad commission of the State of California to ascertain the value of such existing utility or utilities for the purpose of submitting to the electors estimates of the cost of acquiring such public utility or utilities. Such valuation by the railroad commission shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section forty-seven of the public utilities act of the State of California, and said railroad commission shall have power upon such application, and it shall be its duty, to make such valuation without delay. When the railroad commission shall have made and filed its findings and decision, the board of directors of the public utility district may have said findings reviewed, as in sections forty-seven and seventy of said public utilities act provided; or such board of directors may immediately adopt such findings and decision as the basis of its estimate of the cost acquiring such public utility or utilities by purchase or by condemnation.

for
of utility.

certify the result of such examination to the board of directors. If the required number of signatures be found to be genuine, the clerk shall transmit to the president of the board of directors an authentic copy of such petition or petitions, without the signatures thereto.

Upon receiving the petition or petitions, with the certificate of the clerk stating that it or they contain the required number of signatures, the board of directors shall formulate for submission to the electors of the district at a general district election or at a special election called for that purpose, a separate proposition for the construction, completion, or acquisition of each public utility named in such petition or petitions. Proposition formulated.

All propositions formulated under the provisions of this subdivision shall be completed within six months after the filing of such petition or petitions, unless more time is required by reason of the making of a valuation applied for to the railroad commission under the provisions of subdivision three of this section, in which case the said proposition or propositions shall be completed as soon as may be possible after such valuation shall have been made and become final.

At the next regular meeting after the completion of the proposition or propositions for the acquisition, construction or completion of the public utility or utilities named in said petitions, the board of directors of the district by ordinance shall submit the proposition or propositions to the electors of the district at a general district election or at a special district election called for the purpose. Election.

When the cost of any public utility or utilities named in such petition or petitions can be paid out of the revenues of the district derived from the operation of its public utilities, in addition to the other necessary expenses of the district, each proposition therefor, submitted to the electors, shall specify the cost of the public utility therein proposed for acquisition, construction, or completion by the district, the proposed method and manner of payment thereof, and the board of directors shall submit therein to the electors the question whether the same shall be acquired upon such terms. The affirmative vote of a majority of the electors voting at such election shall be necessary to accept such proposition. When cost can be paid from revenues.

At as early a date after the determination of the result of such election as the board of directors shall deem for the best interests of the district, it shall undertake proceedings and enter into such negotiations and contracts as may be necessary for the acquisition, construction, or completion of any public utility or utilities named in any proposition or propositions accepted by the majority of the electors voting at such election. Majority vote.

If, however, the cost of any public utility or utilities named in such petition or petitions shall so far exceed the revenues of the district derived from the operation of its public utilities, in addition to the other necessary expenses of the district, as to render it necessary to incur a district bonded indebtedness therefor, each such proposition shall specify the amount of the Proceedings after election.

bonded indebtedness necessary therefor, and the rate of interest thereon, and the board of directors shall submit to the electors, at such election, the question of whether such bonded indebtedness shall be incurred. The assent of at least two-thirds of the electors voting at such election upon the proposition shall be necessary to secure the construction, completion, or acquisition of such public utility or utilities and to warrant the issuance of district bonds therefor.

Ordinance declaring need for utility.

(5) Whenever the board of directors shall determine that the public interest or necessity of the district demands the acquisition, construction or completion of any public utility or utilities, it shall specifically declare such determination by an ordinance, which shall be published for at least two weeks in some newspaper or newspapers of general circulation printed and published in the district.

When
cost can be paid from revenues.

When the cost of such public utility or utilities, or any of them, can be paid out of the revenues of the district derived from the operation of its public utilities, in addition to the other necessary expenses of the district, the board of directors shall, as soon after the filing of the plans and estimates of the cost thereof as it may deem for the best interests of the district, enter into such negotiations and contracts as may be necessary for the acquisition, construction or completion of the same; provided, however, that in such case the ordinance declaring the determination of the board of directors to acquire, construct or complete such utility or utilities, and published as hereinabove provided, shall state the proposed cost of such acquisition, construction or completion, and the proposed method and manner of payment therefor; and provided, further, that no such ordinance, in case it involves the expenditure of more than one hundred thousand dollars, shall become effective before thirty days from and after its final passage.

If cost exceeds revenues.

If, however, the cost of such public utilities, or any of them, shall so far exceed the revenues of the district derived from the operation of its public utilities, in addition to the other necessary expenses of the district, as to render it necessary to incur a district bonded indebtedness therefor, the board of directors shall, at a regular meeting held within sixty days after the filing of the plans and estimates of cost thereof, by ordinance, as hereinafter in subdivision six of this section provided, submit the proposition or propositions to the electors of the district at a general district election or at a special district election called for the purpose. Such propositions shall specify the amount of bonded indebtedness necessary for the acquisition, construction or completion of the public utility or utilities therein named, and the rate of interest thereon, and the board of directors shall submit to the electors the question or questions whether such bonded indebtedness shall be incurred. The affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the electors voting at such election upon the proposition or propositions shall be necessary to warrant the issuance of district bonds for the acquisition, construction, or completion of such public utilities, or any of them.

(6) Whenever under the provisions of section thirty-six of this act, of which this subdivision is a part, a special election is called for the purpose of submitting to the electors a proposition or propositions for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness, the board of directors shall pass an ordinance calling such election. Ordinance calling election.

At such special election all propositions formulated under the provisions of this section may be submitted to the electors of the district, but no question other than such propositions shall be submitted at such special election.

The ordinance calling such election shall set forth the purposes for which it is called, the estimated cost of each utility proposed for acquisition, construction or completion by the district, the proposed method and manner of payment thereof, and shall fix a day on which such special election shall be held, the manner of holding such election, and the manner of voting for or against each proposition thereat submitted to the electors; and if it shall be necessary to incur a district indebtedness for any utility or utilities therein proposed, the ordinance shall specify the objects and purposes for which such indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, and that bonds of the district shall issue for the payment of the cost of such utility or utilities, as in said ordinance set forth (if the proposition or propositions therefor be accepted by the electors). Such election shall be held as provided for holding elections in the district. What ordinance shall set forth.

(7) Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize or empower the board of directors of the district to interfere with in any way or exercise any control of any existing utility owned or operated by any municipality belonging to said district unless by consent of the city council of said municipality by ordinance and upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon between the board of directors of the district and the legislative body of such municipality. Municipally owned utilities.

CHAPTER 221.

An act to amend sections twelve and twenty-six of an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and change of grade of public streets, lands, alleys, courts, places and rights of way within municipalities, and providing for the improvement thereof in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby and to provide a system of local improvement bonds to represent the assessments, for the costs, damages, and expenses of such improvement and for the payment and effect for such bonds," approved June 16, 1913, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1913,
p. 3011,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section twelve of an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and change of grade of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and rights of way within municipalities, and providing for the improvement thereof in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby and to provide a system of local improvement bonds to represent the assessments, for the costs, damages, and expenses of such improvement and for the payment and effect for such bonds," approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Objection to report of
commission.

Sec. 12. Any objection to said report shall be in writing signed by the objector, or his agent, and shall comply with the requirements of section four hereof for the form and substance of protests, and shall be filed with the clerk of the legislative body at or before the time fixed for the hearing. At the time fixed, or at any other time to which the hearing may be continued, the legislative body shall hear said report and any objections thereto, and any person interested may appear and be heard upon said report and objections. After such hearing the legislative body shall pass upon the report, and may confirm, modify, or correct the same, or may confirm the report as modified or corrected, or order the commission to make and file a new report which shall be heard in like manner as the first report and after like notice of hearing. If no objections are filed, or if the objections filed are not sustained, the legislative body shall confirm the report. The action of the legislative body upon said report shall be declared by resolution entered upon its minutes, and shall be final and conclusive, except as to the damages to be caused by the proposed improvement; and when such report is confirmed, or is confirmed as modified or corrected, the clerk of the legislative body shall transmit the diagram and assessment provided for in section ten hereof, as finally confirmed, to the superintendent of streets. The superintendent of streets shall thereupon record such assessment and diagram in his office, in a suitable book to be kept for that purpose, and append thereto his certificate of the date of such recording, and such record shall be the assessment roll. From the date of such recording all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of such assessment roll. Immediately upon such recording the several assessments contained in such assessment roll shall become due and payable, and each of such assessments shall be a lien upon the property against which it is made, paramount to all other liens, except liens for state, county and municipal taxes; provided, however, that such lien shall be subordinate to all special assessment liens previously imposed upon the said property, but it shall have priority over all special assessment liens which may thereafter be created against the same property; and such liens shall only be discharged by payment of the assessment or by redemption of the land after sale for delinquency. The superintendent of streets shall, upon the recording of said assessment, give notice by publication for five days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or by two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated; or in case no such daily or weekly newspaper is so published and circulated in said city, then by posting such notice for four days in three public places in said city, that said assessment has been recorded in his office and that all sums assessed therein are due and payable immediately, and that payment of the said sums must be made to him within thirty days after the date of the first publication or posting, which date shall be stated in the notice. Said notice shall also contain a statement that all assessments not paid before the expiration of the said thirty days shall become delinquent, and that thereupon five per cent upon the amount of each such assessment will be added thereto. When payment of any assessment is made the superintendent of streets shall mark opposite such assessment the word "paid," the date of payment, and the name of the person by or for whom the same is paid, and shall give a receipt therefor. Upon the expiration of said period of thirty days, all assessments then unpaid shall become delinquent, and the superintendent of streets shall mark each such assessment "delinquent" on said assessment roll, and add five per cent to the amount thereof.

When assessments delinquent.

SEC. 2. Section twenty-six of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1913.
p. 970,
amended.

Sec. 26. Whenever any assessment heretofore issued or which may be hereafter issued is or shall be void, or unenforceable, for want of sufficient authority for its issuance or from irregularities, or illegalities in the proceedings, or if bonds shall have been, or shall be, issued to represent any assessments and such issuance shall not have been, or shall not be effective through the curative provisions thereof to make them valid and enforceable, then, in any of such events a reassessment therefor shall be issued. The true intent and meaning of this section is to make the cost and expense of work or improvement made through an attempted compliance with this act, payable by the real estate benefited by such work or improvement by making a reassessment therefor.

Reassess-
ment.

Such power of reassessing embraces both a full and a partial reassessment, and is not exhausted by a single attempted exercise thereof.

A reassessment shall be ordered under any one of three circumstances:

When
reassessment

First—Where the owner or holder of any assessments, or of bonds issued to represent assessments requests the legislative body of the city in which the assessment has been or shall be issued to order a reassessment. In such event if said legislative body be of the opinion that the assessments or bonds in question are not enforceable, it shall order the making and issuing of a reassessment covering only the assessments owned or held by the petitioner, or the assessments represented by the bonds owned or held by such petitioner.

Second—Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit to foreclose the lien of any assessment or to enforce the obligation of any bond issued to represent any assessments issued under this act, has for any reason held such lien unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

Third—Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit to set aside the lien of any assessment or of any bond representing any assessment or in any suit to quiet title against the lien of any such assessment, or bond shall in its judgment decree such assessments or bonds to be void, or unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

making reassessment.

The manner of making, issuing and enforcing the reassessments shall be as follows:

The superintendent of streets shall, upon the entering of a decree of court directing a reassessment or upon the making of an order by the legislative body of the city directing a reassessment, assess upon and against the lots, pieces or parcels of land mentioned in the decree or order the benefits derived or to be derived by each from the said work or improvement estimated as of the date of the original assessment.

Interest.

To each sum so reassessed there shall be added interest thereon from the date of the original assessment at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum. Such assessment need not be in any prescribed form, but shall refer to the original assessment, give the date of the original assessment and state that it is made pursuant to the order of the legislative body of the city or decree of the court, as the case may be. It shall then be presented to the legislative body, which shall fix a time for hearing before it. Such time must be at least twenty days after the reassessment is so presented. The city clerk shall then advertise the time of such hearing before the legislative body by publishing a notice in the newspaper in which the notice of award of contract for the improvement for which the assessment was made, was published unless the legislative body directs publication in some other paper. Such notice shall be published for five insertions, if the paper be a daily, or by two insertions, if the paper be published

less frequently. At the time fixed for said hearing, or at such time or times to which the same may be thereafter adjourned, the legislative body shall consider the objections to said reassessment and in its discretion informally direct the revision, correction or modification of such reassessment in such manner as is most equitable. When such reassessment shall have been revised, or corrected or modified so as to comply with the judgment of said legislative body, then it shall pass a resolution confirming the reassessment. The street superintendent shall thereupon record the reassessment with a certificate at the end thereof by the city clerk, that it is the reassessment approved by the legislative body of the city. He shall also note opposite the several assessments in the original assessment that have been displaced by the reassessment the fact that the reassessment has been made, giving its date, and shall credit upon such reassessment all payments heretofore made upon the original assessment, or upon the bonds issued to represent the same, applying such payments first to the interest due and then upon the principal. Such reassessment shall be collectible and payable in the same manner as an original assessment and shall be enforceable by suit in the manner herein provided for enforcing an original assessment. In the event that bonds issued under the original assessment they shall also issue upon the reassessment for such sum as may be reassessed against the lot, piece or parcel of land covered thereby. The lien of such reassessment shall hold its relative rank as to other special assessment liens as of the date of the original assessment.

An act to amend section one of an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts, and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts, and to repeal an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into six fish and game districts," approved March 21, 1911, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith,' approved May 19, 1915," approved May 28, 1917, approved July 22, 1919, as amended, and to add a new section to be numbered fifteen and one-half.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts, and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts, and to repeal an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into six fish

State divided into fish and game
districts.

Section 1. The State of California is hereby divided into fish and game districts to be known and designated as: Fish and game district one, fish and game district one and one-half, fish and game district one "A," fish and game district one "B," fish and game district one "C," fish and game district one "D," fish and game district one "E," fish and game district one "F," fish and game district one "G," fish and game district one "H," fish and game district one "I," fish and game district one "J," fish and game district one "K," fish and game district one "L," fish and game district one "M," fish and game district two, fish and game district two and one-half, fish and game district two "A," fish and game district three, fish and game district three "A," fish and game district three "B," fish and game district three "C," fish and game district three "D," fish and game district three "E," fish and game district four, fish and game district four and one-half, fish and game district four "A," fish and game district four "B," fish and game district four "C," fish and game district four "D," fish and game district four "E," fish and game district four "F," fish and game district five, fish and game district six, fish and game district seven, fish and game district seven "A," fish and game district eight, fish and game district nine, fish and game district ten, fish and game district eleven, fish and game district twelve, fish and game district twelve "A," fish and game district twelve "B," fish and game district thirteen, fish and game district fourteen, fish and game district fifteen, fish and game district sixteen, fish and game district seventeen, fish and game district eighteen, fish and game district nineteen, fish and game district twenty, fish and game district twenty "A," fish and game district twenty-one, fish and game district twenty-two, fish and game district twenty-three, fish and game district twenty-four, fish and game district twenty-five, and fish and game district twenty-six.

Sec. 2. A new section to be known as section fifteen and one-half is hereby added to said act, approved July 22, 1919.

District
two and one-half.

Sec. 15½. Fish and game district two and one-half shall consist of and include that portion of Mendocino county lying west of the summit of the divide between the Eel river and Russian river systems and the Pacific ocean, not included in fish and game district seven.

CHAPTER 223.

An act to provide for the acquiring, by condemnation or purchase, of property, easements and rights of way by municipalities, necessary or convenient for the construction of sewers and drains for sanitary or drainage purposes, and the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expense of such acquisition, and the issuance of improvement bonds to represent such assessments.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the city council of any municipality shall have full power and authority to order the acquiring, by condemnation or purchase, of all property, easements and rights of way necessary or convenient for the construction of sewers and drains, for sanitary or drainage purposes.

Power of municipalities to acquire right of way for sewers.

SEC. 2. Before ordering any acquisition of any property, easements or rights of way, authorized by section one of this act, the city council shall pass an ordinance declaring its intention so to do, which said ordinance shall briefly describe the improvement and the property, easements or rights of way necessary or convenient to be taken therefor, and shall, in general terms, describe the district to be benefited by said improvement and to be assessed to pay the expense thereof, to be known as the assessment district, and refer to a plat or map, approved by the city council, which shall indicate by a boundary line the extent of the territory to be included in said assessment district, which plat or map shall be on file in the office of the city engineer before said superintendent of streets shall proceed with the publication and posting of the notices of improvement, and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the said assessment district. Said city council may, in its discretion, order and declare that the whole, or any percentage of the expense of said improvement be paid out of the treasury of the municipality from such fund as the council may designate, in which case it shall be so stated in said ordinance of intention.

Ordinance declaring intention.

Assessment district.

SEC. 3. The street superintendent shall thereupon cause to be conspicuously posted along all the open streets within the assessment district, and along or upon the property, easement or right of way which is to be taken, at not more than three hundred feet apart, notices (not less than three in all) of the passage of said ordinance. Said notices shall be headed, "Notice of improvement," in letters not less than one inch in length, shall be in legible characters, and shall state the fact and date of the passage of said ordinance and briefly describe the improvement proposed, and refer to said ordinance of intention for a description of the assessment district and for further particulars. He should also cause a notice similar in substance to be published by two insertions in a daily, weekly or semiweekly newspaper published and circulated in said city and designated by the city council for that purpose. The city clerk shall, immediately upon the publication of the notice

Notice of improvement.

required by this section, mail, postage prepaid, to each property owner in the assessment district, at his last known address as the same appears on the tax rolls of said city, or when no address so appears, to the general delivery, a postal card containing a notice which shall be in the following, or substantially the following, form (filling blanks), to wit:

"You are hereby notified that on the ----- day of ----- 19----, the legislative body of the city of -----, California, by virtue of the sewer right of way act of 1921, passed an ordinance of intention numbered -----, for the acquisition of sewer (or drain) rights of way. Written protests may be filed with the city clerk within-----days after the-----day of -----, 19----. Your property is in the district to be assessed for this improvement.

City clerk."

If any lots or parcels of land in the assessment district be assessed to "unknown owners" on the tax rolls of said city, no postal cards shall be mailed to the owners thereof, but the notice of improvement by the publication as herein provided shall be deemed legal notice to such owners of such contemplated improvement. The city clerk shall immediately upon the completion of the mailing of said postal cards file, or cause to be filed in the office of the superintendent of streets an affidavit stating the time and manner of compliance within this requirement, but the names of the persons to whom said postal cards were addressed need not be set forth in said affidavit; provided that the failure of the city clerk to mail said cards, or the failure of the property owners to receive the same, or the failure of the superintendent of streets to post the notices of improvement shall in no wise affect the validity of the proceedings or prevent the city council from acquiring jurisdiction to order the improvement; provided, however, that the city council may require affidavits to be filed showing the posting and mailing of notices before it adopts the resolution ordering the improvement.

Objections.

SEC. 4. Any person interested, objecting to said improvement, or to the extent of the assessment district, described in said ordinance of intention, may file a written protest with the clerk of the city council, within thirty days after the first publication of the notice required by section three of this act. Every such protest must contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested, sufficient to identify the same, and must set forth the nature of his interest therein, and must be accompanied by the affidavit of one of the signers thereof that each signature thereof is the genuine signature of the person whose name is thereto subscribed; and in case any signature is made by an agent, there must be attached to the protest the affidavit of the agent that he is duly authorized to sign such protest. Any protest not complying with the foregoing requirements, shall not be considered by the city council. In the case of property held by tenancy in common, if any cotenant sign such protest, only the proportionate share of the frontage thereof represented by his interest therein, shall be counted in determining the amount of frontage represented by such protest. The clerk shall indorse on every such protest the date of its reception by him, and, at the next regular meeting of the city council, after the expiration of the time for filing protests, he shall present to said city council all protests so filed with him. If such protests are against said improvement, and said city council finds that the same are signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district, all further proceedings under said ordinance of intention, excepting in the cases hereinafter otherwise provided, shall be barred, and no new ordinance of intention for the same improvement shall be passed within six months after the presentation of such protest to the city council, unless the owners of a majority of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district shall in the meantime petition therefor. For the purpose of passing upon and determining the sufficiency of such protests in cases where by a resolution of intention it is declared that the city shall pay a portion of the expense of the improvement, the city shall be deemed to be the owner of frontage within the assessment district bearing the same proportion to the whole frontage therein as the proportion of the expense which it is to pay, and the actual frontage of property within such district shall be increased by the addition of such amount as is necessary to produce said result, and the amount of frontage as so increased shall be the total frontage to be used in determining whether a protest is signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district. If such protests are against the improvement, and the council finds that they are not signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district, or if such protests are only against the extent of said assessment district, the city council shall thereupon fix a time for hearing said protests, not less than ten days after the meeting of the council at which such time is so fixed, and shall cause notice of the time of such hearing to be published for at least five days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or if there be no such daily newspaper, by at least two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated, the city council shall hear said protests at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If any such protests are sustained, no further proceedings shall be had under said ordinance of intention, but a new ordinance of intention for the same improvement may be passed at any time. If the protests are denied, the proceedings shall continue as if such protests had not been made. At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none are filed, or if protests are filed, and after hearing are denied, as above provided, then upon such denial, the city council shall acquire jurisdiction to order the improvement described in the ordinance of intention.

If protests signed by owners of a majority of frontage.

If signed by owners of less than a majority.

Hearing.

Condemnation of property.

SEC. 5. Having acquired jurisdiction, the city council, shall, by ordinance, order said improvement to be made, and direct an action to be brought by the city attorney, in the proper superior court, in the name of the municipality, for the condemnation of the property, easements or rights of way necessary or convenient to be taken therefor. Such ordinance need not describe the property to be taken, nor the assessment district, but may refer to the ordinance of intention for all particulars.

Time of action.

SEC. 6. Said action must be brought within sixty days after the passage of the ordinance ordering the improvement, but the council may, by ordinance, extend the time for bringing such action for an additional period not exceeding ninety days. Said action shall in all respects be subject to and governed by such provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure now existing or that may be hereafter adopted, as may be applicable thereto, except in the particulars otherwise provided for in this act.

Complaint.

SEC. 7. The complaint shall set forth, or state the effect of, the ordinance of intention, and the ordinance ordering the improvement, but need not set up any other proceedings had before the bringing of the action. Said ordinances shall be conclusive evidence, in such action, of the public necessity of the proposed improvement, and also that the same is located in the manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury.

Trial.

SEC. 8. When all parties defendant to the action have answered or have been served with summons, and their default entered, the plaintiff or any party defendant to the action whose default has not been so entered, may, upon five days' notice to the parties, except defendants in default, move the court to set the action for trial. If, upon the hearing of such motion, a trial by jury or by the court without a jury is not demanded by the defendants, or any of them, or by the plaintiff, such trial shall be deemed to be waived, and the court must appoint three disinterested persons referees, to ascertain the compensation to be paid to such defendants so waiving trial by a jury, or by the court without a jury. Such referees must be residents of the municipality where such improvement is to be made, and over the age of twenty-one years, and must take and file with the court an oath to discharge their duties faithfully and impartially. If any of such referees fails to qualify, or resigns, or is removed by order of court, or is or becomes unable to act, the vacancy so created shall be filled by the court.

Referees.

Jury.

SEC. 9. The referees shall at once proceed to view the lands sought to be condemned, and ascertain the compensation proper to be paid to such of the parties interested in each parcel thereof as have waived a trial by jury, or by the court. They shall have power to examine witnesses under oath, to be administered by any of them, and may have subpoenas issued by the clerk of the court, requiring the attendance of witnesses, or the production of evidence before them. They shall make and file with the court a written report of their findings, and of their necessary expenses, within thirty days after the date of their appointment; provided, however, that the time so allowed may be extended, upon good cause shown, by the court or judge thereof, but such extension shall not exceed ninety days; and provided, further, that if any vacancy in the referees is created and filled as provided in section eight of this act, or if new referees are appointed, or if a new report from the same referees is ordered, as provided in section eleven of this act, the time herein specified for the filing of such report shall be deemed to be thirty days from the date of the order filling such vacancy, or appointing new referees, or ordering a new report from the same referees, and the same may be extended accordingly, as above provided. Any two of such referees who agree thereto, may make such report.

Powers and duties of referees.

Report.

SEC. 10. For the purpose of assessing the compensation and damages, the right thereto shall be deemed to have accrued at the date of the order appointing referees or of the order setting the cause for trial, as the case may be, and its actual value at that date shall be the measure of compensation for all property to be actually taken, and the basis of damages to property not actually taken, but injuriously affected, in all cases where such damages are allowed by the provisions of this act. No improvements placed upon the property proposed to be taken, subsequent to the date of the publishing of the notice of the passage of the ordinance of intention, shall be included in the assessment of compensation or damages.

Measure of condemnation.

The referees, or court, or jury, as the case may be, shall find separately:

Separate findings.

First—The value of each parcel of property sought to be condemned, and all improvements thereon pertaining to the realty, and of each separate estate or interest therein;

Second—If any parcel of property sought to be condemned is only a part of a larger parcel, the damages which will accrue to the portion not sought to be condemned, and to each separate estate or interest therein, by reason of its severance from the portion sought to be condemned, and the construction of the improvement in the manner proposed by the plaintiff. Such damages must be fixed irrespective of any benefit from such improvement.

SEC. 11. Upon the filing of such report the court must, upon motion of any party, appoint a day for hearing the same, not less than twenty days thereafter. Notice of the time and place of said hearing must, at least ten days before the time so appointed, be served on all the other parties, except defendants whose default has been entered. The plaintiff, or any defendant who has answered, may file exceptions in writing to said report, specifying the grounds upon which such exceptions are based, at any time within not less than one day prior to the hearing; and any such party so filing exceptions to said report, may appear at the hearing of said report and contest the same. In addition to the notice hereinbefore provided, the clerk of the court must give notice of the filing of said report, and of the time and place appointed for the hearing of the same, to all persons owning or having an interest in any property included within the assessment district for said improvement described in the ordinance of intention, by causing said notice last mentioned to be published for five days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in the city; and, if there be no such daily newspaper, then by two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated. Any publication of such notice shall commence at least ten days before the time appointed for the hearing of the report. Said notice shall require all persons owning or having an interest in any property included within said assessment district for said improvement to intervene in said action, and file, in the office of the clerk of said court, his exceptions in writing to said report, if any he has, specifying the grounds upon which such exceptions are based. Said notice shall also contain a description of the said assessment district as set forth in the ordinance of intention. At any time within not less than one day prior to the hearing, any person not a party to the action, owning or having an interest in any property included within said assessment district, may intervene in the action, and file his exceptions in writing to said report, specifying the grounds upon which such exceptions are based; and any such person so intervening may appear and contest the said report, and introduce evidence in support of such exceptions. After hearing the report, and any exceptions thereto, the court may confirm the report, or may modify it and confirm it as modified, or may set it aside and order a new report from the same referees, or from new referees to be appointed. If new referees are appointed, the same proceedings shall be had as upon the first reference. If there be a trial of the action by a jury, or by the court without a jury, the clerk of the court must give notice of the time and place of such trial to all persons owning or having an interest in any property within said assessment district for said improvement. Said notice shall be published in the same manner and for the same time as the notice hereinbefore in this section required to be given by said clerk, and shall require all persons owning or having an interest in any property included within said assessment district for said improvement, to intervene in said action, and to appear at the trial thereof and introduce evidence relative to the compensation and damages to be awarded to the defendants therein. At any time within not less than one day prior to the trial, any person not a party to the action, having an interest in any property included within said assessment district, may intervene in the action, and, upon the trial thereof, may appear and introduce evidence relative to the compensation and damages to be awarded to the defendants therein. The cost of the publication of the notice required by this section shall be paid by the plaintiff, and allowed as costs in the action.

Hearing on report.

When a time has been appointed for hearing the report of the referees, or for the trial of the action, and notice thereof has been given by the clerk by publication as in this section provided, if the hearing or trial be postponed or continued by the court to any subsequent date, no such notice need be given by the clerk of the hearing or trial upon any such postponement or continuance. Postponement of hearing or trial.

SEC. 12. Upon the confirmation of the report of the referees, or receipt of the verdict of the jury, or the filing of the findings of the court, the court shall make and enter an interlocutory judgment in accordance with such report, verdict or findings, adjudging that upon payment to the respective parties, or into court for their benefit, of the several amounts found due them as compensation, and of the costs allowed to them, the property involved in the action shall be condemned to the use of the plaintiff, and dedicated to the use specified in the complaint. The court shall allow to the referees, as costs to be paid by the plaintiff, a reasonable compensation for their services, the amount of which compensation shall be fixed by the court upon the hearing of the report, and their necessary expenses. Interlocutory judgment.

SEC. 13. An appeal may be taken from such interlocutory judgment within thirty days from the entry thereof, and from any order granting or denying a new trial within ten days after the entry thereof. Appeal.

SEC. 14. The city council may, at any time prior to the payment of the compensation awarded the defendants, abandon the proceedings, by ordinance, and cause the said action to be dismissed, without prejudice; and if any of the assessments levied to pay the expenses of the improvements, as hereinafter provided, shall have been actually paid in money at the time of such abandonment, the same shall be refunded to the persons by whom they were paid. If the proceedings be abandoned or the action dismissed no attorneys' fees shall be awarded the defendants or either or any of them. Abandonment of proceedings.

SEC. 15. Upon the entry of the interlocutory judgment, the city council shall order the city engineer, or if there be no city engineer, any civil engineer whom it may employ for that purpose, to make and deliver to the street superintendent, a diagram of the improvement and of the property within the assessment district described in the ordinance of intention. Said diagram shall show the land to be taken for the proposed improvement, and also each separate lot, piece or parcel of land within the assessment district, and the dimensions of each Diagram of improvement.

such lot, piece or parcel of land, and the relative location of the same to the proposed improvement.

Assessment.

SEC. 16. The city engineer shall deliver said diagram to the street superintendent and shall indorse thereon the date of such delivery. The street superintendent upon receiving the said diagram shall proceed to assess the total expenses of the proposed improvement (first deducting from such total expenses such percentage thereof, if any, as the city council may have declared by the ordinance of intention that the city shall pay) upon and against the lands, including the property of any railroad or street railroad, within said assessment district, except the land to be taken for such improvement, in proportion to the benefits to be derived from said improvement. The street superintendent shall complete said assessment within sixty days after the receipt by him of said diagram: provided, however, that the city council may by order extend the time for completing said assessment for a period not exceeding ninety days additional. The total expense of the improvements so to be assessed shall include the amounts awarded to the defendants by the interlocutory judgment in the action for condemnation, together with their costs, the compensation and expenses of the referees, as allowed by the court, and all other costs of the plaintiff in such action, the expenses of making the assessment, and all expenses necessarily incurred by said city, in connection with the proposed improvement, for the publication of ordinances, posting and publication of notices, for maps, diagrams, plans, surveys, searches and certificates of title to the property to be taken, and all other matters incident thereto. Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States, or to the State of California, or any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution, or institution for the feeble-minded, or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, is included within the district declared by the city council in the ordinance of intention to be the district to be benefited by said improvement, and to be assessed to pay the expense thereof, the city council may, in its discretion, in the ordinance of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment to be made to cover the expense of said improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said ordinance be omitted from the assessment, then the total expenses of said improvement shall be assessed on the remaining lots lying within the boundaries of said assessment district, without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event the city council shall, in its ordinance of intention, declare that the said lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be included within the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, then such sum or sums as thereafter may be assessed against such lots pieces or parcels of land so owned and used, shall be payable by the city out of the general fund, unless the city council shall in its ordinance of intention designate another fund; provided, however, that any such sum or sums which may be assessed against any such lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and used, shall not be payable by the city when such sum or sums are paid by the owner of or the governing body controlling such lots, pieces or parcels of land.

SEC. 17. The street superintendent shall make the said assessment in writing. Such assessment shall describe each lot, piece, or parcel of land assessed for said improvement, and shall designate each such lot, piece, or parcel of land with an appropriate number. The street superintendent shall also designate each such lot, piece or parcel of land on said diagram, with the number corresponding with the number thereof in said assessment, and said diagram shall thereupon be attached to and become and be deemed to be a part of said assessment. Such assessment shall show the total sum to be raised thereby, as hereinbefore provided, and also the items of such total sum, and opposite each lot, piece or parcel of land assessed, the amount assessed thereon, and the name of the owner thereof, if known to the street superintendent, or if the owner's name is unknown, the word "Unknown" shall be written instead of such name. Any error or mistake in the designation of the owner of any lot, piece or parcel of land, or in the particulars of his interest therein, shall not affect the validity of the assessment. Details of assessment.

SEC. 18. As soon as said assessment is completed the street superintendent shall file the same, with the diagram attached thereto and made a part thereof as aforesaid, with the clerk of the council, who shall give notice of such filing by publication for at least ten days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in the city, or if there be no such daily newspaper, by three successive insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated. Said notice shall require all persons interested to file with said clerk their objections, if any they have, to the confirmation of said assessment, within thirty days after the date of the first publication of such notice, which date shall be stated in said notice. Filing of assessment.

SEC. 19. All objections shall be in writing and shall be filed with said clerk within the time prescribed in the notice required by section eighteen hereof. The clerk shall, at the next regular meeting of the city council after the expiration of the time for filing objections, lay said assessment and all objections so filed with him, before the council; and said council shall hear all such objections at said meeting, or at any other time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon such assessment, and may confirm, modify or correct said Objections.

assessment, or may order a new assessment, upon which like proceedings shall be had, as in the case of an original assessment; or if there be no objections, the council shall at any regular meeting after the expiration of the time for filing objections, confirm such assessment, and the action of the council upon such objections and assessment shall be final and conclusive in the premises.

Recording
assessment.

SEC. 20. The clerk of the council shall thereupon deliver to the street superintendent the assessment as confirmed by the city council, with his certificate of such confirmation, and of the date thereof. The street superintendent shall thereupon record such assessment and diagram in his office, in a suitable book to be kept for that purpose, and append thereto his certificate of the date of such recording, and such record shall be the assessment roll. From the date of such recording all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of such assessment roll. Immediately upon such recording, the several assessments contained in such assessment roll shall become due and payable, and each of such assessments shall be a lien upon the property against which it is made.

assessments.

SEC. 21. The owner of any property assessed, who is entitled to compensation under the award made by the interlocutory judgment, may, at any time after such assessment becomes payable, and before the sale of said property for nonpayment thereof, as hereinafter provided, demand of the street superintendent that such assessment, or any number of such assessments, be offset against the amount to which he is entitled under said judgment. Thereupon, if said amount is equal to or greater than such assessments, including any penalties and costs due thereon, the assessments shall be marked "Paid by offset"; and if the said amount is less than the assessments, and any penalties and costs due thereon, the person demanding such offset shall at the same time pay the difference to the street superintendent in money, and the assessments shall, on such payment be marked paid, the entry showing what part thereof is paid by offset and what part in money. In either case, as a condition of the offset, such person must execute to the city and deliver to the street superintendent duplicate receipts for such part of the amount due him under said interlocutory judgment as is offset against such assessments, penalties, and costs. One of said duplicate receipts shall be filed by the street superintendent in his office, the other shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court, and on such filing, the city shall be entitled to a satisfaction pro tanto of said interlocutory judgment.

Payment of
assessments.

SEC. 22. The street superintendent shall, upon the recording of said assessment, give notice, by publication for ten days in a daily newspaper, published and circulated in such municipality, or by three successive insertions in a weekly newspaper, so published and so circulated, that said assessment has been recorded in his office, and that all sums assessed therein are due and payable immediately, and that the payment of the said sums is to be made to him within thirty days after the date of the first publication, which date shall be stated in the notice. Said notice shall also contain a statement that all assessments not paid before the expiration of said thirty days will become delinquent, and that thereupon five per cent upon the amount of each such assessment will be added thereto. When payment for any assessment is made, the street superintendent shall mark opposite such assessment, the word, "Paid," the date of payment, and the name of the person by or for whom the same is paid, and shall, if so requested, give receipt therefor. On the expiration of said period of thirty days, all assessments then unpaid shall become delinquent, and the street superintendent shall certify such fact at the foot of said assessment roll, and mark each such assessment "Delinquent," and add five per cent to the amount of each assessment delinquent.

SEC. 23. The street superintendent shall, within ten days from the date of such delinquency, begin the publication of a list of the delinquent assessments, which list must contain a description of each parcel of property delinquent, and opposite or against each description, the name of the owner as stated in the assessment roll, and the amount of the assessment, penalty, and costs due, including the cost of advertising, which last shall not exceed the sum of fifty cents for each lot, piece or parcel of land, separately assessed. The street superintendent shall append to and publish with said delinquent list a notice that unless each assessment delinquent, together with the penalty and costs thereon, is paid, the property upon which such assessment is a lien, will be sold at public auction at a time and place to be specified in the notice. The publication must be made for a period of ten days, in some daily newspaper published and circulated in the municipality, or for three weeks in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated. The time of sale must not be less than five days, nor more than ten days, after the expiration of the period of publication of said list, and the place of sale must be in, or in front of, the office of the street superintendent.

SEC. 24. At any time after such delinquency, and prior to the sale of any piece of property assessed and delinquent, any person may pay the assessment on such piece of property, together with the penalty, and costs then due, including the cost of advertising, if such payment is made after the first publication of the list of delinquent assessments. The street superintendent shall thereupon mark such assessment "paid," as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 25. On the day fixed for the sale, the street superintendent must, at the hour of ten o'clock a.m. commence the sale of the property advertised, commencing at the head of the list, and continuing in the numerical order of lots or parcels of land until all are sold; provided, that he may postpone or continue the sale from day to day until all the property is sold. Each lot, piece or parcel of land separately assessed must be offered for sale separately, and the person who will take the least quantity of land, and then and there pay the amount of the assessment, penalty, and costs due, including fifty cents to the street superintendent for a certificate of sale, shall become the purchaser. If case there is no purchaser, for any lot, piece or parcel of land so offered for sale, the same shall be struck off to the municipality, as purchaser, and the city council shall appropriate out of the general fund of the treasury, the amount required for such purchase, and shall order the city treasurer to place the same in the special fund for such improvement. No charge shall be made for the certificate of sale when the municipality is the purchaser.

Purchase
by city.

Certificate
of sale.

SEC. 26. After making the sale, the street superintendent must execute, in duplicate, a certificate of sale setting forth a description of the property sold, the name of the owner thereof, as given on the assessment roll, that said property was sold for a delinquent assessment, (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which such property was sold, the date of sale, the name of the purchaser, and the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed. The street superintendent must file one copy of such certificate in his office, and deliver the other to the purchaser, or if the municipality is the purchaser, to the clerk of the council, who shall file the same in his office. On the filing of the copy of such certificate in the office of the street superintendent, the lien of the assessment shall vest in the purchaser, and is only divested by a redemption of the property, as in this act provided. The street superintendent shall also enter on the assessment roll, opposite the description of each piece of property offered for sale, a description of the part thereof sold, the amount for which the same was sold, the date of the sale, and the name of the purchaser.

New
assessment
and new bonds.

SEC. 27. Whenever any assessment made and issued under the provisions of this act, or whenever any bond or bonds issued to represent the amount of any such assessment in accordance with the provisions of "An act providing for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent certain special assessments for public improvements, and providing for the effect and enforcement of such bonds," approved April 27, 1911, and all acts supplementary thereto or amendatory thereof, have been set aside by any court of competent jurisdiction, or such court has refused to enforce any assessment, or has decreed any such bond or bonds issued under the above mentioned statute, approved April 27, 1911, not to constitute valid and subsisting liens against the lots, pieces or parcels of land upon which the assessment represented by them have been levied, then the superintendent of streets shall cause a new assessment to be made for the same purpose for which the former assessment was made, whether any of the assessments have been paid or not, and new bonds shall in regular course thereafter issue in the event that bonds were issued under or provided for in the original assessment. It is hereby made the duty of any court of competent jurisdiction in rendering

its judgment holding invalid any assessment or assessments hereafter made or issued, or of any bond or bonds hereafter made or issued to represent the amount or amounts of any such assessment, to make a finding as to whether or not the issuing of such assessment was entirely without the power of the said city to issue, and if not, then what omission, irregularity, illegality, informality or noncompliance with the requirements of the statutes of which this is amendatory has occurred in the proceedings upon which said assessment or assessments and bonds rest, and what effect shall be given to them in making the reassessment. In the event that the court shall find that the improvement, the expenses of which are represented by said assessment or bonds, was commenced in good faith and carried on pursuant to an ordinance or resolution of the city council providing for such improvement to be paid for by special assessment, it shall be the duty of the said court to order the making of a new assessment. The city council may, at the request of any interested party, or on its own motion, by resolution duly passed, set aside any assessment or assessment and bonds, as the case may be, and order a new assessment or assessments and bonds, to be made and issued without any decree having been obtained of or from any court regarding said matter, if in its opinion the assessment be invalid, and it may take all necessary steps and make and pass all necessary orders, resolutions or ordinances to reassess and reliev such assessment, and may reassess and reliev the same with the same force and effect as an original levy. Such reassessment, whether made after decree of court has been rendered, or pursuant to a resolution of the council, shall be based upon the special and peculiar benefit of the proposed improvement to the respective lots, pieces or parcels of land assessed. The total amount of the reassessment shall not exceed the total amount of the original assessment. Such reassessment so made shall become a charge upon the property upon which the same is levied, notwithstanding any omission, failure or neglect of any officer, body or person to comply with the provisions of this statute, and notwithstanding the fact that the proceedings of the city council, board of public works or any officer of the city or other person connected with such proceedings, may have been irregular, illegal, informal, or defective, or not in full conformity with the requirements of this statute. It is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of this section to make the cost and expense of all local improvements actually made or proposed to be made in the attempted exercise of the powers conferred upon municipalities under this statute, payable by the real estate benefited or to be benefited by such improvements by making a reassessment which shall be equitably proportioned to each lot, each piece or parcel of land thereby benefited the amount of the actual benefits derived or to be derived from said improvement, notwithstanding that the proceedings of the city council or other officers or agents of the city, or other persons connected therewith may have been irregular, illegal or defective, or not in full conformity with the requirements of this statute. Such reassessment shall be made without a repetition of the proceedings had prior to the issuance of the assessment and shall be made and issued in the following manner: The superintendent of streets shall, upon the entering of a decree of court directing the reassessment, or upon the passage of a resolution of the city council directing a reassessment, proceed at once to make a reassessment in accordance with the said decree of court, or said resolution of the city council. Such reassessment shall be made upon the district described in the ordinance of intention for said improvement, and in the event that there shall have been informalities, uncertainties or ambiguities in the description of the limits of said district, then upon the district which the court or council shall find to be that actually benefited by said improvement, but in so finding said court or council shall follow the lines described in the ordinance of intention so far as the same can be ascertained, and in all cases of uncertainty or ambiguity they shall give regard to the lines described and make such a determination as to the lines where there is any uncertainty or ambiguity in the ordinance of intention as may be just and equitable. In the event that a portion of the improvement has been found to be entirely without the power of said city to order, then said assessment shall be for the remainder of the improvement only, and the benefits arising from the improvement entirely without the jurisdiction of the city to order shall not be considered in making the reassessment. Upon the completion of the reassessment it shall be presented to the city council and a day of hearing shall be fixed by it which shall be at least twenty (20) days after the filing of the reassessment. The city clerk shall then advertise the fact of filing by publishing a notice in the official newspaper, or in such other paper as the council may direct, by five (5) insertions if the paper be a daily, or by two (2) insertions if it be a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper, stating the fact that the reassessment has been filed with him and that objections to said reassessment will be heard at the time specified by the city council. At the time fixed for such hearing or at such time or times to which the same may be thereafter adjourned, the city council shall consider the objections to said reassessment and in its discretion revise, correct and modify such reassessment in such manner as is most equitable, and it shall thereupon pass a resolution approving and confirming such reassessment and such decision shall be a final determination of all matters relating to the actual benefits derived or to be derived from the improvement by the respective lots, pieces and parcels of land enumerated in the reassessment. Said reassessment shall thereupon be recorded by the street superintendent and it shall in all respects have the same effect and weight as the original assessment, and shall be enforced in the same manner.

Hearing on
ment.

All payments made upon the original assessment shall be credited upon the reassessment and in the event that the reassessment in any instance is less than the amount of the original assessment, the excess shall be payable to the persons who paid the original assessments.

Sec. 28. A redemption of any parcel of property sold for delinquent assessment may be made by any party in interest, at any time prior to the execution and delivery of a deed therefor, by paying to the street superintendent the amount for which the property was sold, and in addition thereto, ten per cent thereon if paid within three months from the date of sale; twenty per cent if paid within six months; thirty per cent if paid within nine months; forty per cent if paid within twelve months, or fifty per cent if paid at any time after twelve months. When redemption is made, the street superintendent shall note that fact on the duplicate certificate of sale on file in his office, and deposit the amount paid with the city treasurer, who shall credit the purchaser named in the certificate of sale with the said amount, and pay the same to such purchaser, or his assignee, upon the surrender of the certificate of sale, and upon satisfactory proof of assignment thereof, if any. When the municipality is the purchaser, the treasurer shall notify the clerk of the council of the redemption, and such clerk shall thereupon cancel the certificate of sale on file in his office.

Redemption of property sold for delinquent assessments.

Sec. 29. At any time after the expiration of twelve months from the date of sale, the street superintendent must execute to the purchaser, or his assignee on his application, if such purchaser or assignee has complied with the provisions of this section, a deed of the property sold, in which shall be recited substantially the matters contained in the certificate, also any assignment thereof and the fact that no person has redeemed the property. The street superintendent shall receive from the applicant for a deed, one dollar for making such deed, unless the municipality is the purchaser, in which case no charge shall be made therefor. The purchaser or his assignee must, at least thirty days before he applies for a deed, serve upon the owner of the property, and upon the occupant of such property, if the same is occupied, a written notice, setting forth a description of the property, that said property has been sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which it was sold, the amount necessary to redeem at the time of giving notice, and the time when such purchaser or assignee will apply to the street superintendent for a deed. If the said owner can not be found, after due diligence, said notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon said property, at least thirty days before the time stated therein, at which the application for a deed will be made. The person applying for a deed must file with the street superintendent an affidavit or affidavits showing that notice of such application has been given, as herein required, and if the notice was not served on the owner of the property personally, that due diligence was used to find said owner; which affidavit or affidavits must be filed by the street superintendent in his office. If redemption of the property is made after such affidavits are filed, and more than eleven months from the date of sale, the person making such redemption must pay, in addition to the other amounts required, three dollars for the service of notice and the making of such affidavits, which amount shall be paid over to the purchaser or his assignee in the same manner as other sums paid for redemption. No deed for any property sold for delinquent assessment shall be made until the purchaser or his assignee has complied with all the provisions of this section, and filed the proper affidavits with the street superintendent.

Deed prima facie evidence.

SEC. 30. The deed of the street superintendent shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all matters recited therein, and of the regularity of all proceedings prior to the execution thereof, and of title in the grantee.

Payments to city treasurer.

SEC. 31. The street superintendent shall from time to time pay over to the city treasurer all moneys collected by him on account of any assessment made under the provisions of this act. The city treasurer shall on receipt thereof place the same in a special fund, designating such fund by the name of the improvement for which the assessment was made. The city council shall on or before the time when said assessments become delinquent, cause to be transferred from the general or other appropriate fund of the city to said special fund the percentage of the total expense of such improvement to be paid by the city as provided in the ordinance of intention.

amounts awarded to defendants.

SEC. 32. As soon as there is sufficient money in the hands of the city treasurer, in the special fund devoted to the proposed improvement, to pay the amounts awarded to the defendants by the interlocutory judgment in the action of condemnation, or such parts thereof as have not been paid by offset against assessments, as hereinbefore provided, the said amounts shall be paid to the parties entitled thereto, or into court for their benefit. On satisfactory proof being made to the court of payment of the amounts awarded by the interlocutory judgment to the respective parties entitled thereto, or into court for their benefit, it shall direct the interlocutory judgment to be satisfied, and shall make and enter a final judgment, condemning the lands described in the complaint to the use of the plaintiff for the purposes specified in such complaint.

Supplemen-
assessment.

SEC. 33. In case of a deficiency in the fund for such improvement, the city council, in its discretion, may provide for such deficiency by an appropriation out of the general fund of the treasury, by ordering a supplementary assessment to be made by the street superintendent upon the property in said assessment district in the same manner and form, and subject to the same procedure as the original assessment, and in the last named case, in order to avoid delay, the city council may advance such deficiency out of the city treasury and reimburse the treasury from the collections under such supplementary assessment. In case of a surplus in the fund for such improvement, the city council may order such surplus refunded pro rata to the parties who paid the assessments.

SEC. 34. The following words and phrases shall, where used in this act, have the following meanings: Words and phrases defined.

(1) The term "improvement" includes all of the improvements mentioned in section one of this act.

(2) The terms "municipality" and "city" include all incorporated cities, cities and counties, and other corporations organized for municipal purposes.

(3) The term "city council" and "council" include any body or board in which by law is vested the legislative power of any municipality.

(4) The term "clerk" and "city clerk" include any person or officer who acts as clerk of said city council.

(5) The terms "treasurer" and "city treasurer" include any person or officer who has charge and makes payment of the city funds.

(6) The term "street superintendent" includes any officer or board whose duty it is by law to have the care or charge of streets, or the improvement thereof, in any city. In any city where there is no street superintendent, or no such board, the city council thereof is hereby authorized to appoint a suitable person to perform the duties imposed by this act on the street superintendent, and all the provisions hereof applicable to the street superintendent shall apply to the person so appointed.

(7) The terms "owner" and "any person interested" include the person owning the fee, or the person in whom, on the day any protest or petition is filed, the legal title to real property appears, by deeds duly recorded in the county recorder's office of the county in which said city is situated, or any person in possession of real property, as the executor, administrator, trustee under an express trust, guardian or other legal representative of the owner, or any person in possession of real property under a written contract of purchase thereof duly recorded, or any person in possession of real property, as lessee thereof under a lease duly recorded, which shall require such lessee to pay or discharge all assessments for street or other public improvements, that may be levied or assessed against such real property.

(8) The term "property of any railroad or street railroad" shall be deemed to include and shall include property owned or controlled by any person, firm or corporation, as a railroad, street railroad or interurban railroad right of way whether such right of way be owned or controlled in fee or as an easement or by virtue of a franchise or otherwise, also the roadbed, ties and rails located on such right of way; and such property shall be assessed and the assessment thereof enforced in the same manner and to the same effect as other lands and property in the assessment district.

Description
of district and improvement.

SEC. 35. In all resolutions, notices, orders and determinations subsequent to the ordinance of intention, a description of the assessment district by reference to the ordinance of intention shall be sufficient, and in all resolutions, notices, orders, and determinations subsequent to the "notice of improvement" a description of the improvement by reference to the ordinance of intention shall be sufficient.

Posting of notices when no newspaper.

SEC. 36. In case there is no daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in the city, then such notices and delinquent lists as are herein required to be published in a newspaper shall be posted in three of the most public places in such city, for the length of time required herein for the publication of the same in a weekly newspaper. No publication or notice other than that provided in this act shall be necessary to give validity to any proceedings had thereunder.

Proof of publication or posting of notice.

SEC. 37. Proof of publication of any notice required by this act shall be made by affidavit, as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure, and proof of the posting of any such notice shall be made by the affidavit of the person posting the same, setting forth the facts regarding such posting. It shall be the duty of any officer who is required by this act to have any notice published or posted, to obtain and file in his office the affidavit or affidavits in proof thereof; provided, that his failure so to do shall not affect the validity of any proceedings under this act. Any such affidavit so filed shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated regarding such publication or posting.

Improvement
bonds.

SEC. 38. The city council of any municipality shall have the power, in its discretion, to determine that improvement bonds shall be issued to represent assessments of fifty dollars ($50), or over, for the cost of the improvement authorized in section one of this act, in the manner and form provided by "An act providing for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent certain special assessments for public improvements, and providing for the effect and enforcement of such bonds," approved April 27, 1911.

Title.

SEC. 39. The provisions of this shall be liberally construed to promote the objects thereof. This act shall be designated and referred to as the "sewer right of way act of 1921," and shall take effect and be in force upon its passage and approval.

CHAPTER 224.

An act to amend sections two and three of an act entitled "An act providing for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent certain special assessments for public improvements, and providing for the effect and enforcement of such bonds," approved April 27, 1911, by making the provisions of said act applicable to proceedings for the acquisition of property, easements and rights of way for sewers and drains for sanitary or drainage purposes, and provided when bonds may be issued.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of the act entitled "An act providing for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent certain special assessments for public improvements, and providing for the effect and enforcement of such bonds," approved April 27, 1911, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1911,
p. 1193,
amended.

Sec. 2. City council of any municipal corporation of this state may, in its discretion, at or before the time of the confirmation of any assessment or assessment roll in proceedings had and taken under the street opening act of 1903, the park act or under any act which may hereafter become a law, providing for the acquiring of property, easements and rights of way necessary or convenient for the construction of sewers and drains by municipalities for sanitary or drainage purposes, determine that improvement bonds may issue to represent such assessments, which determination shall be made by resolution or ordinance.

Council may determine issue of improvement bonds.

SEC. 2. Section three of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1911,
p. 1193,
amended.

Sec. 3. Whenever it is determined, as provided in section two hereof, that improvement bonds may be issued to represent assessments, the owner of any lot or parcel of land against which an assessment has been made, when the amount of such assessment is fifty ($50.00) dollars or over, may, at any time prior to delinquency, elect to pay such assessment in installments and to have an improvement bond issued against said lot or parcel of land in the form and manner and with the effect in this act provided.

Payment of assessments in installments.

CHAPTER 225.

An act to amend section twenty-three of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities and for establishing and changing the grades of such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, relating to the relative priority of special assessment liens.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1468,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section twenty-three of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Recording
warrant, etc

Sec. 23. Said warrant, diagram, and assessment, together with the certificate, if any, of the city engineer of the quality and character of the work done shall be recorded in the office of said superintendent of streets. When so recorded, the several amounts assessed shall be a lien upon the lands, lots, or portions of lots assessed, respectively, for the period of two years from the date of said recording, unless sooner discharged; such lien shall be subordinate to all special assessment liens previously imposed upon the same property, but it shall have priority over all special assessment liens which may thereafter be created against the said property; and from and after the date of said recording of any warrant, assessment, diagram and certificate, all persons mentioned in section eleven of this act shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of the record thereof. After said warrant, assessment, diagram, and certificate are recorded, the same shall be delivered to the contractor or his agent, or assigns, on demand, but not until after the payment to the said superintendent of streets of the incidental expenses not previously paid by the contractor, or his assigns; and by virtue of said warrant said contractor, or his agent or assigns, shall be authorized to demand and receive the amount of the several assessments made to cover the sum due for the work specified in such contracts and assessments.

CHAPTER 226.

An act to amend sections sixty-seven, sixty-eight, sixty-nine, seventy, seventy-one, seventy-two, seventy-three, seventy-four, seventy-five and seventy-six of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, relating to the foreclosure of delinquent bonds, and providing an alternative method of foreclosure;

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section sixty-seven of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1474,
amended.

Sec. 67. Whenever payment either upon the principal, or of the interest upon any bond issued hereunder has not been, or shall not be made when the same has become, or shall become due, and the holder of the bond demands in writing that the city treasurer proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land described by said bond as being that upon which the assessment represented by said bond was levied, then said treasurer shall proceed as provided in the next section:

Penalty for nonpayment.

Sec. 2. Section sixty-eight, of said act, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 535,
amended.

Sec. 68. The treasurer shall publish for two (2) weeks in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the city in which said bond was issued, or if no newspaper is published in said city, then in some newspaper having general circulation therein, a notice which shall be substantially (filling in all blanks) as indicated following, to wit:

Notice of sale of
property.

"Notice of sale of property delinquent for nonpayment of bond No. _____, series No. _____, issued for the improvement of _____. Default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons (here fill in date and amounts of the coupon or coupons which have not been paid) and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the city treasurer of the city of _____ proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in the said bond. Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the _____ day of _____, 19____, at the hour of _____ o'clock ____m., of said day, sell at public auction the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much thereof as may be necessary at (here state the place of sale, which shall be at the office of said treasurer or at some public place in said city) unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of the publication of this notice are paid; and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay a full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond, together with costs of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to wit: (here set forth the description of the lot or parcel of land as contained in the bond). The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof, ----- dollars; due on account of interest, ----- dollars (here set forth the interest calculated and compounded semiannually up to the day on which the notice is dated at the interest rate named in said bond upon the unpaid principal for the full period for which no interest has been paid). Total amount due on said bond (here set forth the total of the foregoing items).

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required together with the cost of publications made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due accruing up to date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and one dollar for the issuing of certificate of sale. The----- (here naming newspaper) is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

Dated-----

Treasurer of the city of -----"

The day named in the notice shall not be less than fifteen (15) days from the date of the first publication of the notice.

SEC. 3. Section sixty-nine, of said act, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 69. An affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper in which the notice was published, or of someone in behalf of said publisher, setting forth a copy of the publication and stating that the publication was made in the said newspaper on specified dates shall be filed with the city treasurer and shall be primary evidence of the due publication of the notice:

SEC. 4. Section seventy, of said act, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 70. The city treasurer shall collect the sum of one dollar ($1.00), as hereinbefore mentioned, for the issuance of the certificate of sale, which sum shall belong to, and be subject to the disposition of the city; any person interested in the lot or parcel of land described in the notice of sale may at any time prior to the sale, pay the whole amount of principal of said bond remaining unpaid, the interest thereon compounded semiannually up to the date of such payment, at the rate named in said bond upon such amount of said principal remaining unpaid for the whole period for which interest has not been paid, together with the cost of the publication of the notice of sale; in such event the payment being made, the bond shall be cancelled; but if such payment be not made, the sale shall be made as advertised; the lot or parcel described in the bond shall be sold to the purchaser who shall take the least amount of said lot or parcel and pay all of the sums specified in the notice of sale given by the treasurer. In the event that through error or otherwise the total amount for which said sale shall be made is less than that which may be required by the provisions hereof, and the holder of the bond is the purchaser at the sale and elects to accept the certificate of sale hereinafter mentioned, or if he accepts from the treasurer such sum derived from said sale made to some other purchaser, then the fact that the sale may have been made for less than the amounts specified herein shall not effect or invalidate the sale, and such receipt of said certificate or said sum shall be a waiver on the part of the holder of said bond, and the said deficient amount of sale shall be the amount upon which redemption from the sale shall be calculated to all effects the same as if the sale had been made for the full amount authorized hereby;

Sec. 74. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by section seventy-three hereof for its redemption, the city treasurer, or his successor in office, upon application of the purchaser or his assignee, must make to said purchaser, or his assignee, a deed to the property, reciting in the deed, substantially, the matter contained in the certificate, and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption; the treasurer shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser two dollars for making said deed, which shall be deposited in the city treasury for the use of the city after payment has been made therefrom for the acknowledgment of said deed; provided, however, that the purchaser of the property, or his assignees must, thirty days prior to the expiration of the time of the redemption, or thirty days before his application for a deed, serve upon the owner or agent of the property purchased, if named in such certificate, and upon the party occupying the property, if the property is occupied, a written notice, stating that said property or a portion thereof, has been sold to satisfy the bond lien, the date of sale, the date number, and series of the bond, the amount then due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire, or when the purchaser will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely, until such notice shall have been given and said deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties and costs in this act required. In case of unoccupied property, a similar notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property at least thirty days before the expiration of the time for redemption, or thirty days before the purchaser applies for a deed; and no deed to the property sold, in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be issued by the city treasurer to the purchaser of such property, until such purchaser shall have filed with such treasurer an affidavit showing that the notice hereinbefore required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavit shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as other records kept by him in his office. Such purchaser shall be amended.

Sec. 76. In the event of the nonpayment of any installment of the interest or principal and by way of a separate, distinct and cumulative remedy, the holder of any bond upon which any payment either upon the principal or of the interest has not, or shall not be made when due, may file and maintain a suit to foreclose the lien of the bond in the same manner provided in this act for the foreclosure of the lien of delinquent assessments. The complaint in such suit shall be sufficient if a true copy of the bond be therein set forth and true allegations made regarding the payments made upon the principal and interest thereon, and such suit shall be brought in the superior court within whose jurisdiction the city is by which the said bond has been issued and in case the owner of the lot, or parcel of land covered by said bond, can not with due diligence be found, the service of such action may be had in the manner prescribed in the codes and laws of this state. The said bond, together with proof either orally by the said treasurer of the said city or by a certificate signed by him showing the nonpayment of any of the principal or interest upon said bond, shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the plaintiff to recover in said action. The court in which said suit shall be commenced shall have the power to adjudge and decree a lien against the lot or parcel of land covered by said bond and to order said premises to be sold on execution as in other cases of the sale of real estate by the process of said court, and the amount of interest due shall be calculated in the same manner hereinbefore set forth in section sixty-eight hereof, up to the date of the signing of the judgment. On appeal, the appellate courts shall have the same power to adjudge and decree a lien and to order such premises to be sold on execution of decree as is conferred on the court from which an appeal is taken. The court shall also fix and allow a reasonable attorney's fee for the prosecution of said suit. Such premises, if sold, may be redeemed as in other cases. Such action shall be governed and regulated by the provisions hereof, and also when not in conflict herewith, by the codes of this state. Suit to foreclose
lien.

CHAPTER 227.

An act to amend section twenty-eight of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1911,
p. 746,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section twenty-eight of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Reassess-
ments.

Sec. 28. Reassessments. Whenever any assessment heretofore issued or which may be hereafter issued is or shall be void, or unenforceable, for want of sufficient authority for its issuance or from irregularities, or illegalities in the proceedings, or if bonds shall have been, or shall be, issued to represent any assessments and such issuance shall not have been, or shall not be effective through the curative provisions thereof to make them valid and enforceable, then, in any of such events a reassessment therefor may be issued. The true intent and meaning of this section is to make the cost and expense of work or improvement made through an attempted compliance with this act, payable by the real estate benefited by such work or improvement by making a reassessment therefor.

Such power of reassessing embraces both a full and a partial reassessment, and is not exhausted by a single attempted exercise thereof.

When to be ordered.

A reassessment shall be ordered under any one of three circumstances:

First—Where the owner or holder of any assessments, or of bonds issued to represent assessments request the legislative body of the city in which the assessment has been or shall be issued to order a reassessment. In such event if said legislative body be of the opinion that the assessments or bonds in question are not enforceable, it shall order the making and issuing of a reassessment covering only the assessments owned or held by the petitioner, or the assessments represented by the bonds owned or held by such petitioner.

Second—Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit to foreclose the lien of any assessment or to enforce the obligation of any bond issued to represent any assessments issued under this act, has for any reason held such lien unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

Third—Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit to set aside the lien of any assessment or of any bond representing any assessment or in any suit to quiet title against the lien of any such assessment, or bond shall in its judgment decree such assessments or bonds to be void, or unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

The manner of making, issuing and enforcing the reassessments shall be as follows:

Manner of making reassessment.

The superintendent of streets shall, upon the entering of a decree of court directing a reassessment or upon the making of an order by the legislative body of the city directing a reassessment, assess upon and against the lots, pieces or parcels of land mentioned in the decree or order the benefits derived or to be derived by each from the said work or improvement estimated as of the date of the original assessment.

To each sum so reassessed there shall be added interest thereon from the date of the original assessment at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum. Such assessment need not be in any prescribed form, but shall refer to the original assessment, give the date of the original assessment and state that it is made pursuant to the order of the legislative body of the city or decree of the court, as the case may be. It shall then be presented to the legislative body, which shall fix a time for hearing before it. Such time must be at least twenty days after the reassessment is so presented. The city clerk shall then advertise the time of such hearing before the legislative body by publishing a notice in the newspaper in which the notice of award of contract for the improvement for which the assessment was made, was published unless the legislative body directs publication in some other paper. Such notice shall be published for five insertions, if the paper be a daily, or by two insertions, if the paper be published less frequently. At the time fixed for said hearing, or at such time or times to which the same may be thereafter adjourned, the legislative body shall consider the objections to said reassessment and in its discretion informally direct the revision, correction or modification of such reassessment in such manner as is most equitable. When such reassessment shall have been revised, or corrected or modified so as to comply with the judgment of said legislative body, then it shall pass a resolution confirming the reassessment. The street superintendent shall thereupon record the reassessment with a certificate at the end thereof by the city clerk, that it is the reassessment approved by the legislative body of the city. He shall also note opposite the several assessments in the original assessment that have been displaced by the reassessment the fact that the reassessment has been made, giving its date, and shall credit upon such reassessment all payments theretofore made upon the original assessment, or upon the bonds issued to represent the same, applying such payments first to the interest due and then upon the principal. Such reassessment shall be collectible and payable in the same manner as an original assessment and shall be enforceable by suit in the same manner provided in this act for enforcing an original assessment. In the event that bonds issue under the original assessment they shall also issue upon the reassessment for such sum as may be reassessed against the lot, piece or parcel of land covered thereby. The lien of such reassessment shall hold its relative rank as to other special assessment liens as of the date of the original assessment.

CHAPTER 228.

An act to amend section seven of an act entitled, "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885, as amended, by amending subdivision eight, relating to the payment of assessments against public property.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1911,
p. 627,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section seven of the act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Expenses of
work.

Sec. 7. Subdivision one. The expenses incurred for any work authorized by this act (which expense shall not include the cost of any work done in such portion of any street as is required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, nor include work which shall have been declared in the resolution of intention to be assessed on a district benefited) shall be assessed upon the lots and lands fronting thereon, except as herein specifically provided; each lot or portion of a lot being separately assessed, in proportion to the frontage, at a rate per front foot sufficient to cover the total expense of the work.

Street
crossings.

Subdivision two. The expense of the work done on main street crossings shall be assessed at a uniform rate per front foot of the quarter blocks and irregular blocks adjoining and cornering upon the crossings, and separately upon the whole of each lot or portion of a lot having any frontage in the said blocks fronting on said main streets, half way to the next main street crossing, and all the way on said blocks to a boundary line of the city where no such crossing intervenes, but only according to its frontage in said quarter blocks and irregular blocks.

Subdivision three. Where a main street terminates in another main street, the expenses of the work done on one-half of the width of the street opposite the termination shall be assessed upon the lots in each of the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering on the same according to the frontage of such lots on said main streets, and the expense of the other half of the width of said street upon the lot or lots fronting on the latter half of the street at such termination. One street terminating in another.

Subdivision four. Where any alley or subdivision street crosses a main street, the expense of all work done on said crossing shall be assessed on all lots or portions of lots half way on said alley or subdivision street to the next crossing or intersection, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another. Alley crossings.

Subdivision five. The expense of work done on alley or subdivision street crossings shall be assessed upon the lots fronting upon such alley or subdivision streets on each side thereof, in all directions, half way to the next street, place or court, on either side, respectively, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another.

Subdivision six. Where a subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court terminates in another street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, the expense of the work done on one-half of the width of the subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court opposite the termination, shall be assessed upon the lot or lots fronting on such subdivision, street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court so terminating, according to its frontage thereon, half way, on each side, respectively, to the next street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court or to the end of such street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, if it does not meet another, and the other one-half of the width upon the lots fronting such termination. One alley, etc., terminating in another.

Subdivision seven. Where any work mentioned in this act (manholes, sewers, cesspools, culverts, crosswalks, piling and capping excepted) is done on one side of the center line of any street or sewerage or resewering is ordered to be done under the sidewalk on only one side of any street for any length thereof, the assessment for the expenses thereof shall be made only upon the lots and lands fronting nearest upon that side of the street and for intervening intersections only upon the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering upon that side. Work on one side of street.

Subdivision eight. Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States or to the State of California, or any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution or institution for the feeble-minded or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, fronts upon the proposed work or improvement or is included within the district declared by the city council in the resolution of intention to be the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, the city council may, in its discretion, in the resolution of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment to be made to cover the cost and expenses of said work or improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said resolution be omitted from the assessment then the total expense of all work done shall be assessed on the remaining lots fronting on the work or improvement or lying within the limits of the assessment district without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event the city council shall, in its resolution of intention, declare that the said lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be included in the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, then such sum or sums as thereafter may be assessed against such lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and used, shall be payable by the city out of the general fund, unless the council shall in its resolution of intention designate another fund and the contract for said work or improvement thereafter made shall contain a provision to that effect: provided, however, that any such sum or sums which may be assessed against any such lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and used, shall not be payable by the city when such sum or sums are paid by the owner of or the governing body controlling such lots, pieces or parcels of land.

Owners
may do
grading.

Subdivision nine. It shall be lawful for the owner or owners of lots or lands fronting upon any street, the width and grade of which have been established by the city council, to perform, at his or their own expense (after obtaining permission from the council so to do, but before said council has passed its resolution of intention to order grading inclusive of this), any grading upon said street, to its full width, or to the center line thereof, and to its grade as then established, and thereupon to procure, at his or their own expense, a certificate from the city engineer, setting forth the number of cubic yards of cutting and filling made by him or them in said grading, and the proportions performed by each owner, and that the same is done to the established width and grade of said street, or to the center line thereof, and thereafter to file said certificate with the superintendent of streets, which certificate the superintendent shall record in a book kept for that purpose in his office, properly indexed. Whenever thereafter the city council orders the grading of said street, or any portion thereof, on which any grading certified as aforesaid has been done, the bids and contracts must express the price by the cubic yard for cutting and filling in grading; and the said

owner or owners and his or their successors in interest, shall be entitled to credit, on the assessment upon his or their lots and lands fronting on said streets for the grading thereof, to the amount of the cubic yards of cutting and filling set forth in his or their certificate, at the prices named in the contract for said cutting and filling; or, if the grade meanwhile has been duly altered, only for so much of said certified work as would be required for grading to the altered grade; provided, however, that such owner or owners shall not be entitled to such credit as may be in excess of the assessments for grading upon the lots and lands owned by him or them, and proportionately assessed for the whole of said grading; and the superintendent of streets shall include in the assessment for the whole of said grading upon the same grade the number of cubic yards of cutting and filling set forth in any and all certificates so recorded in his office, or for the whole of said grading to the duly altered grade so much of said certified work as would be required for grading thereto, and shall enter corresponding credits, deducting the same as payments upon the amounts assessed against the lots and lands owned, respectively, by said certified owners and their successors in interest; provided, however, that he shall not so include any grading quantities or credit any sums in excess of the proportionate assessments for the whole of the grading which are made upon any lots and lands fronting upon said street and belonging to any such certified owners or their successors in interest. Whenever any owner or owners of any lots and lands fronting on any street shall have heretofore done, or shall hereafter do any work (except grading), on such street, in front of any block, at his or their own expense, and the city council shall have subsequently ordered any work to be done of the same class in front of the same block, said work so done at the expense of such owner or owners shall be excepted from the order ordering work to be done; provided, that the work so done at the expense of such owner or owners, shall be upon the official grade, and in condition satisfactory to the street superintendent at the time said order is passed.

Subdivision ten. Whenever the resolution of intention declares that the cost and expenses of the work and improvement are to be assessed upon a district, the city council shall direct the city engineer to make a diagram of the property affected or benefited by the proposed work or improvement, as described in the resolution of intention, and to be assessed to pay the expenses thereof. Such diagram shall show each separate lot, piece or parcel of land, the area in square feet of each of such lots, pieces or parcels of land, and the relative location of the same to the work proposed to be done, all within the limits of the assessment district; and when said diagram shall have been approved by the city council, the clerk shall, at the time of such approval, certify the fact and date thereof. Immediately thereafter the said diagram shall be delivered to the superintendent of streets of said city, who shall, after the contractor of any street work has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets or city council, on appeal, proceed to estimate upon the lands, lots or portions of lots within said assessment district, as shown by said diagram, the benefits arising from such work, and to be received by each such lot, portion of such lot, piece, or subdivision of land, and shall thereupon assess upon and against said lands in said assessment district the total amount of the costs and expenses of such work, and in so doing shall assess said total sum upon the several pieces, parcels, lots, or portions of lots, and subdivisions of land in said assessment district benefited thereby, to wit: Upon each respectively, in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by each of said several lots, portions of lots, or subdivisions of land. In other respects the assessment shall be as provided in the next section.

Railroad subject to
assessment.

Subdivision eleven. The terms lot, lots, lands, piece or parcel of land wherever mentioned in this act shall be deemed to include and shall include property owned or controlled by any person, firm or corporation as a railroad, street or inter-urban railroad, right of way; and whenever a railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way shall front or abut on any street improved under the provisions of this act or shall be included within any district to be assessed for the cost of any improvement provided in this act, such railroad right of way (whether the same is owned in fee or as an easement) shall be included in the warrant, assessments, and diagram and shall be assessed in the same manner and with the same effect as other lots, lands or pieces or parcels of land are assessed as provided in this act and such railroad right of way shall be subject to sale for nonpayment of assessments as in this act provided.

Railroad to improve streets between tracks.

Subdivision twelve. Whenever any railroad track or tracks of any description exist upon the street or streets upon which the city council of any city has ordered an improvement to be made, and has excepted therefrom the portions used by the track, between the rails and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks if there be more than one, the said order, unless said city council shall by resolution theretofore passed have declared the contrary, shall be deemed to be and constitute a requirement that the person or company having said railroad track or tracks thereon shall improve the said portion with improvements similar in all respects to, with the same materials, under the same specifications and superintendence, and to the like satisfaction as those ordered to be performed by said order ordering the work, and the resolution of intention and notice of proposed improvement shall be construed and are hereby declared to be notice to said person or company of the intention to order the same. Thereupon it shall be the duty of said person or company having such track or tracks on such street or streets to notify in writing the superintendent of streets if such person or company elects to perform such work at its own charge and expense and under its own direction; said notice must be delivered to the superintendent of streets within ten days after the first publication of notice or award of contract. The omission or neglect to make such election shall be construed as constituting the superintendent of streets the agent of the owner of said track or tracks, with authority to enter into a contract made in accordance with the provisions of this section for making the said improvements. Said superintendent of streets shall advertise for bids for the improvement of said portions of street or streets lying between the rails and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks, if there be more than one. It shall be the duty of said city council to award the contract for the making of said improvements to the lowest regular responsible bidder. Such bidding and awarding of contracts shall be made in the same manner hereinbefore provided for the awarding of contracts for improvements, excepting that no notice of award shall be published. Immediately upon the award, the superintendent of streets shall enter into a contract with the person to whom said contract was awarded for the making of said improvement or improvements upon the portions of the street or streets described in said notice inviting bids, and at the price stated in said bid. The contractor shall execute bonds in the manner required for the execution of contracts for improvements. Upon the completion of the work and its acceptance, the street superintendent shall make a certificate of such completion together with a statement of the amount due under the terms of said contract for the performance of said work. Such certificate shall be countersigned by the mayor of said city, and shall be recorded in the office of said superintendent of streets. The contractor shall thereupon be entitled to payment of the full amount of said contract price, and the recording of such certificate shall be sufficient notice to the owner of such track or tracks that said contract price is due and payable. In the event that such amount is not paid within thirty days from the date of the recording of said certificate, the contractor may file a sworn statement to that effect with the superintendent of streets, who shall record the same in his office in the book in which the certificate of acceptance has been recorded. Said contractor shall thereupon have a cause of action against said person or company owning said track or tracks for the amount of said contract, together with a reasonable attorney's fee, and shall also have as security for the recovery of such amount, a first lien upon the track and franchises of said person or company, between whose rails or tracks the said work has been performed, contained within the corporate limits of said city. In such suit, the certificate of the superintendent of streets, hereinbefore mentioned, shall be and constitute prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings, and of the right of the contractor to recover judgment against said person or company. Execution may be taken out upon the entry of judgment, and levied upon any property of said person or company subject to execution. In the event that said person or company shall file the written election to perform such work at its own cost and expense and under its own direction, no further proceedings shall be taken in the matter unless such person or company neglects or fails for thirty days, or for such further time as the city council may grant, to make said improvement. In the event that the improvement of the portions of the street or streets above described, between the rails for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks if there be more than one, shall not be made with diligence, or in all respects similar to the improvement of the rest of the street, or with the same materials or under the same specifications, and to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets, the city council of said city may, by resolution entered in its minutes, prescribe such terms and conditions as to it may seem fit and proper before permitting the said person or company to continue with the said improvement. If the said person or company shall, after three days' notice of the adoption of said resolution, fail to comply with the terms and conditions so prescribed, the said city council may declare said person or company to have forfeited its privilege of performing such work under its own direction. Whereupon the street superintendent shall advertise for bids for the performance of such work, or such portions thereof as may remain uncompleted, and the contract therefor shall be awarded and entered into in the same manner hereinbefore provided for the awarding and execution of contracts where said person or company has not elected to make the improvement under its own direction; and upon the completion of the improvement, the contractor to whom such contract may be awarded, or his assigns, shall be entitled to a certificate from the street superintendent similar to that hereinbefore provided for, and shall have the right to collect from said person or company by suit the amount specified in such certificate in all respects the same as is hereinbefore provided where the contract is let for such improvement in the first instance.

Council may include different kinds of work in order.

Subdivision thirteen. The said council may include in one resolution of intention and order any of the different kinds of work mentioned in this act, and may include any number of streets and rights of way or portion thereof in one proceeding and one contract, and it may except therefrom any of said work already done upon the street to the official grade. The lots and portions of lots fronting upon said accepted work already done shall not be included in the frontage assessment for the class of work from which the exception is made; provided, that this shall not be construed so as to affect the special provisions as to grading contained in this act.

CHAPTER 229.

An act to amend section two hundred twenty-four of the Civil Code, relating to adoption.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two hundred twenty-four of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

224. A legitimate child can not be adopted without the ^{Adoption} consent of its parents if living, nor an illegitimate child without the consent of its mother if living, except that consent is not necessary in the following cases to wit:

1. From a father or mother if deprived of civil rights.
2. From a father or mother adjudged guilty of adultery or cruelty and for either cause divorced.
3. From a father or mother who has been judicially deprived of the custody and control of such child on the ground of abandonment, cruelty, neglect or habitual intemperance, by order of the juvenile court declaring said child to be free from the custody and control of its parents as provided in the juvenile court law of the State of California, approved June 5, 1915, and any act or acts superseding or amending same.
4. From a father or mother who has been declared either feeble-minded or insane by the state commission in lunacy or by three competent persons appointed by said commission; provided, that if so declared insane, said father or mother shall have subsequently been determined to be incurably insane by the superior court of the county where he or she resides.
5. From a father or mother of any child deserted by its parents without provision for their identification.
6. From a father or mother of any child relinquished by its parent or parents for the purpose of adoption expressed in writing signed and acknowledged by such parent or parents before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments, or signed by such parent or parents before two subscribing witnesses and acknowledged by such parent or parents before the secretary of any organization or society engaged in the work of placing dependent or deserted children into homes in this state, which organization or society has obtained a permit therefor, duly executed in writing, from the state board of charities and corrections, and when a copy of this relinquishment shall have been filed with the state board of charities and corrections prior to the commencement of any adoption proceedings affecting such child.

Such relinquishment, when reciting that the person making it is entitled to the sole custody of the minor, shall, when duly acknowledged before such officer or secretary, be prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and such persons sole right to relinquish.

Child in orphan asylum,
etc.

Any child, the consent of whose parents is not necessary for its adoption within the meaning of this section maintained by or in the custody of any orphan asylum within this state, any charitable organization or society receiving state aid or receiving commitments from the juvenile court, may be adopted with the consent of the president of such orphan asylum, charitable organization or society, or with the consent of such officer as may be authorized by the directors or managers of such asylum, organization or society to consent to adoption in such cases. Any orphan child for whose support no provision has been made by any person for a period of one year, but who has been maintained during said year, by or in the custody of any orphan asylum within this state, any charitable organization or society receiving state aid or receiving commitments from the juvenile court may be adopted with the consent of the president of such orphan asylum, charitable organization or society or with the consent of such officer as may be authorized by the directors or managers of such asylum, organization or society to consent to adoption in such cases.

CHAPTER 230.

An act to amend sections twenty-four and twenty-five of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1911,
p. 744,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section twenty-four of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds." approved April 7, 1911, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 24. The contractor or his assigns or some person in his or their behalf, shall call upon the persons assessed or their agents, if they can conveniently be found, and demand payment of the amount assessed to each. The council may, by ordinance, provide that all assessments shall be paid through the superintendent of streets, in which event the contractor shall make no collections, and it shall then be the duty of the contractor in making demand, to demand that payment be made to the superintendent of streets of the amount assessed to each. If such ordinance be not passed and if any payment be made to the contractor, or his assigns, or to the person making demand in his or their behalf, the person receiving payment shall receipt for same upon the assessment in presence of the person making such payment, and shall also give a separate receipt if demanded; provided, that whenever the person so assessed, or their agents, can not conveniently be found, or whenever the name of the owner of the lot is stated as "unknown" on the assessment, then it shall be unnecessary for the contractor, or his assigns, or for any person in his or their behalf, to make demand for payment.

Demanding
payment of
assessment.

SEC. 2. Section twenty-five of said act, approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1468,
amended.

Sec. 25. The warrant shall be returned to the superintendent of streets within thirty days after its date, with a return attached thereto signed by the contractor or his assigns or some person in his or their behalf, verified upon oath, stating the nature and character of the demand. Thereupon the superintendent of streets shall record the return so made with the record of the warrant and assessment either in the margin of said record or in the same book with and immediately following the record of the assessment; and also the original contract referred to therein if it has not already been recorded at full length in a book to be kept for that purpose in his office, and shall sign the record.

(Contractor's return.

The said superintendent of streets is authorized at any time to receive the amount due upon any assessment list and warrant issued by him, and give a good and sufficient discharge therefor; no such payment so made after suit has been commenced, without the consent of the plaintiff in the action, shall operate as a complete discharge of the lien until the costs in the action shall be paid to the superintendent of streets for the plaintiff; provided, that the plaintiff has given notice in writing to the superintendent of streets of the pendency of such suit, and he may release any assessment upon the books of his office upon the payment to him of the amount of the assessment against any lot, with interest. If any contractor shall fail to return his warrant within the time and in the form provided in this section, he shall thenceforth have no lien upon the property assessed; provided, however, in case any warrant is lost, upon proof of such loss a duplicate can be issued upon which a return may be made with the same effect as if the original had been so returned. After the return of the assessment and warrant as aforesaid, all amounts remaining due thereon shall draw interest at the rate of ten (10) per cent per annum until paid, said interest to be computed from the date of the recording of the return.

CHAPTER 231.

An act amending section three of an act entitled, "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1414,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section three of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Resolution
of intention.

Sec. 3. Before ordering any work done or improvements made, which is authorized by this act, the city council shall pass a resolution of intention so to do referring to the street by its lawful or official name, or the name by which it is commonly known, and briefly describe the work. Said resolution shall contain also a notice of the day, hour and place when and where any and all persons having any objections to the proposed work or improvement may appear before the legislative body and show cause why said proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with said resolution; said time shall not be less than fifteen nor more than forty days from the date of the passage of said resolution. Said resolution of intention shall be published twice in one or more daily, semiweekly, or weekly newspapers published and circulated in said city, and designated by said council for that purpose. The city council may include in one proceeding, under one resolution of intention and in one contract, any of the different kinds of work mentioned in this act and any number of streets and rights of way or portions thereof contiguous or otherwise, and it may except therefrom any of said work already done upon a street to the official grade. The lots and portions of lots fronting upon said excepted work already done shall not be included in the assessment for the class of work from which the exception is made; provided, that this shall not be construed so as to affect the special provisions as to grading contained in subdivision nine of section twenty of this act. Resolution of intention.

The council may, in the resolution of intention, by reference to the plans and specifications, or otherwise, modify or change the grade at which the work is to be done. In such case the plans adopted for the proposed work shall show the existing official grade, and the grade at which the work is proposed to be done. In the event that the proposed work is to be done at a grade other than the existing official grade, the resolution of intention and the notices of improvement shall recite that fact and refer to the plans and specifications for further particulars as to such proposed grade.

Any property owner whose property is to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the proposed improvement may, at the time fixed in the resolution of intention for hearing objections to the proposed work and improvement, appear before the city council and make objections to the proposed change or modification of the grade. Failure to make such objections at such time shall be deemed to be a waiver of all objections to the proposed change or modification of grade, and shall operate as a bar to any claim for damages or any subsequent action looking to the prevention of the work or the recovery of damages on account of the performance of the work to such changed grade. The grade so changed or modified shall thereafter become and constitute the true official grade.

CHAPTER 232.

An act to amend the title of and to revise an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon public roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes and alleys not within the territory of incorporated cities or towns; for the incidental establishment of grades thereof; for the construction therein or thereon of sidewalks, sewers, manholes, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks; for the issue of bonds representing the costs and expenses thereof; for a special fund derived in part from the county road fund and in part by special assessment upon a district, and for the establishment of such districts," approved March 21, 1907, as amended, and to include therein provision for the doing of work adjacent to said public roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes and alleys which is incidental to the work thereon.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1907,
p. 806,
amended.

SECTION 1. The title of that certain act entitled "An act to provide for work upon public roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes and alleys not within the territory of incorporated cities or towns; for the incidental establishment of grades thereof; for the construction therein or thereon of sidewalks, sewers, manholes, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks; for the issue of bonds representing the costs and expenses thereof; for a special fund derived in part from the county road fund and in part by special assessment upon a district, and for the establishment of such districts," approved March 21, 1907, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"An act to provide for work upon public roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes and alleys, not within the territory of incorporated cities or towns; for the incidental establishment of grades thereof and the doing of work adjacent thereto which is incidental to the work thereon; for the issue of bonds representing the costs and expenses of said work; for the payment of said bonds by special assessment taxes raised in assessment districts established for the purpose; and for county aid in such work".

Sec. 2. Said act is hereby revised to read as follows:

Road district improvement,
powers of

Section 1. Power is hereby vested in the board of supervisors of every county in this state, by and under the procedure prescribed in this act, to grade or regrade to the official grade, plank or replank, pave or repave, macadamize or remacadamize, gravel or regravel, pile or repile, cap or recap, oil or recoil the whole or any portion of roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes or alleys so far as not within the territory of any incorporated city or town, and so far as by dedication or otherwise, public and open to public use, and to do so for any length or width of the same, one of the same or any number of the same in combination, and to construct and reconstruct therein or thereon sidewalks, sewers, manholes, culverts, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks, and any other work, improvement or structure within or adjacent to any road, street, avenue, boulevard, lane or alley on which any improvements are being made or work done in so far as it is necessary or proper for the safe or convenient use of said road, street, avenue, boulevard, lane or alley or incidental to the work being done, and to do the aforesaid things singly or in any combination of the same, and the various items of the said work and constructions need not be conterminous; and to issue bonds representing the costs and expenses of any said work or constructions as in this act hereafter provided; and to constitute a fund for the payment of such bonds as in this act hereafter provided; and to levy special assessment taxes upon a district as in this act hereafter provided; and to establish said district and determine its boundaries as in this act hereafter provided; and, as incidental to the exercise of the powers aforesaid, to establish official grades within said district and such districts; and to transfer from county funds to such special funds as in this act hereafter provided; and to purchase material and furnish the same to be used in the doing of any of the works above named: and to make direct contributions of money in part payment of the expense of any one or more or all the works above named.

But said board of supervisors is hereby prohibited from doing, under the provisions of this act, any work, except sewer or drain work, within the roadway of any railroad or within any area which by law is required to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon; and this prohibition shall have the effect of excepting the prohibited work from that described in any resolution of intention in any proceeding under this act, and of charging all persons with notice of such exception or exclusion, and such exception of said prohibited work need not be made in any such resolution of intention.

Sec. 2. The board of supervisors is hereby vested with power as follows, to wit:

1. To appoint, at any stage of the proceedings before calling for proposals or bids, any competent engineer, to be designated "engineer of work" for the purpose of doing and furnishing all the civil engineering work or services, surveying and similar work and services necessary to the proper doing of the work. His compensation or at least the rate or some basis for computing the same shall be fixed and stated in the order of his appointment, which said order shall be entered in the minutes of the boards; provided, any county officer may be appointed as such engineer without compensation.

2. To appoint, in and as a part of the resolution of intention, any competent person to be designated "superintendent of work," whose duty it shall be to perform the services for him in this act prescribed or indicated, and to have the general actual supervision of the work. His compensation shall be fixed at the time and in the resolution of his appointment at a per diem not to exceed ten dollars for all time actually devoted to the work: provided any county officer may be appointed as such superintendent without compensation.

3. To designate any competent person for the purpose of preparing and furnishing the specifications required by section three of this act, and with such designation to fix his compensation, or some basis for computing the same, or to appoint any officer of the county without compensation.

Prohibited
work.

Appointment of officers and employees.

4. To appoint and designate other competent persons in the places respectively of the persons so originally appointed, with compensation, so far as practicable, proportionately the same as fixed for the original appointee, and to appoint such additional persons as may be needed to carry on said work; and to fix their compensation which shall be a charge against the district.

No part of such or any compensation for said officers or employees, or for services rendered by any of them shall be a charge against the county or any officer thereof; except that for furnishing specifications and posting the resolution of intention the county shall be liable in case the proceedings cease or are abandoned, before the award of the contract; provided, further, that whenever any county officer is appointed to any of the positions hereinabove mentioned without compensation, the actual and necessary expenses incurred under his supervision, including the compensation of other persons, made necessary by the duties of such positions shall be a charge against the county but shall be repaid to the county by the contractor as in section twenty-five provided.

No member of the board of supervisors shall be eligible to appointment to any office, position or employment under this act, except as county officer without pay.

Preparation of specifications.

Sec. 3. A board of supervisors desiring to do any work under the provisions of this act shall, by an order to be entered on its minutes, designate some county officer or some other competent person to prepare specifications for the work. Such order shall be entitled "In the matter of road district improvement number ----" and the number used in said title shall be the number employed throughout the proceeding. The specifications shall contain a description of the work to be done; shall include a statement of the estimated cost of the work, inclusive of incidental expenses and of the cost of the proceedings; shall describe the district to be benefited by the proposed work; and shall specify the grades for all roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes and alleys or portions thereof so far as the same are to be improved. If any official grade has already been adopted or established for any of said roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes or alleys proposed to be improved, it shall be lawful in said specifications to provide new grades or grades different from those already established or adopted. Said specifications shall be signed by the person designated to prepare them and presented to the board of supervisors. The board of supervisors shall examine said specifications and may approve them or order modifications to be made in them. When approved by the board of supervisors they shall be filed with the clerk of the board. At any time before the adoption of the resolution of intention the specifications may be corrected or modified by order of the board.

Any error or informality in the appointment of any person to prepare specifications, or the omission of a formal order of appointment, shall not invalidate the proceedings where specifications otherwise sufficient are in fact filed.

Sec. 4. After specifications have been prepared and filed for any work to be done under this act, the board of supervisors shall pass a resolution of intention to order said work done. Such resolution may, in form, and shall, in substance, be (filling all blanks) as indicated following, to wit:

In the matter of road district improvement number-----, resolution of intention number----- (the same number for both blanks).

Resolved. That it is the intention of the board of supervisors of the county of-----, State of California, proceeding under and by virtue of the road district improvement act of 1907, and in the matter of road improvement district number____, on the-----day of----- 19____, at the hour of ____m. of that day or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, at the chambers of said board, to order work to be done as follows: (Here insert a description of the work, stating in general terms the location and nature of the work to be done), the said work to be done in accordance with the specifications therefor filed with the clerk of said board on the-----day of-----19____, except as the boundaries of the district and grades therein specified may be changed at the hearing of the matter hereinafter mentioned, which specifications are made part hereof by this reference, and to which all persons are referred for further particulars as to the location and nature of said work. For the costs and expenses of the work and the proceedings bonds will be issued to the amount of the same, bearing interest at the rate of----- per cent per annum, payable semiannually, and one----- part of the principal payable annually, all in gold coin. (It may be added: "the first payment of principal will be made -----years not to exceed five after the bonds are issued".)

A special fund for the payment of said bonds is to be constituted by the levy of special assessment taxes upon all land within a district to be known as "road improvement district number----- of the county of-----", (and it may be added: "and partly by transfer of moneys from county road funds").

Such district (as proposed) being all that territory in the county of-----, State of California, within exterior boundaries as follows, to wit: ----- (the blank to be filled with a careful statement of the exterior boundaries of the district which will be benefited by the proposed work, including territory within an incorporated city if necessary).

Notice is hereby given that at the time specified hereinbefore for ordering the work, the matter of said road district improvement number----- will come up for hearing, and all objections which are, under the provisions of said road district improvement act of 1907, entitled to be heard or determined, will then be heard and determined, and the boundaries of said district and grades therein be finally determined and established.

The _____ (here insert name and character of newspaper), is hereby designated as the newspaper for making publication of this resolution and for making all other publications in the proceeding.

_____, a competent person, is hereby appointed superintendent of work with compensation at the rate of _____ dollars per diem for days actually spent in the performance of duty under this appointment. (or, in lieu of the paragraph last preceding, it may appear, "_____, a county officer is hereby appointed superintendent of work").

The county will furnish and deliver to the contractor at _____ (here state place of delivery), the following materials to be used in said work, to wit: _____ (here insert a statement of the amount and kind of materials to be furnished by the county). The same to be purchased from its _____ fund.

The county of _____ will, out of its _____ fund, pay _____, (here set forth either a stated amount or a stated portion of the contract price) to the contractor by county warrant and said bonds will be issued for the remaining part of the costs and expenses of the work and proceedings.

The foregoing resolution was, on the _____ day of _____, 19____, passed by the board of supervisors of the county of _____, State of California.

Attest: _____
Clerk of the board of supervisors of said county of _____ Funds.

Sec. 5. If the resolution of intention in the matter of any road improvement district provides that the county will furnish the materials to be used in the work, or if it provides that the county will pay either a stated amount or a stated portion of the contract price, the fund from which such materials are to be purchased or such amount or portion paid must be set forth. Such fund may be (1) the fund of the road district in which the proposed improvement lies, or the funds of the road districts in which it lies if it lies in more than one; (2) any other fund available for the construction or maintenance of roads and bridges; or (3) the county general fund.

Publication
of resolution.

Sec. 6. Such resolution of intention shall be filed, and be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper therein designated, which shall be a newspaper published and circulated in the county, or, if there be no such newspaper, then in any newspaper designated by said board of supervisors in such resolution. Printed copies of such resolution, headed, "notice of road district improvement," such heading to be in letters not less than one inch in length, shall be.

by the superintendent of work, or by some person appointed by him for the purpose, posted along the line of the work described in said resolution, at not more than five hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all. The failure to post said notices shall in no wise affect the validity of the proceedings or the power of the board of supervisors to order the work.

Affidavits in proof of such publication and posting shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors. When, before the day of the hearing specified in the resolution of intention, twenty days have elapsed since the posting and the first publication (they need not be simultaneous) of the resolution of intention, the board of supervisors shall have acquired power to proceed with such hearing and to take all other action in the proceeding as is in this act authorized.

The determination of the board of supervisors to proceed with such hearing, whether evidenced by an express declaration or by its proceeding to make other determinations at such hearing, shall be presumptive evidence of the existence of all the facts upon which the power of the board to proceed depends, except such as are required to appear of the record in the proceeding, and except, also, in so far as such presumption is rebutted by the record in the proceeding.

Sec. 7. At any time before the day in the resolution of intention specified for ordering the work and the hearing of the matter, any owner of land within the boundaries of the district as set forth in said resolution may, severally, or with other such owners, file with the clerk of the board of supervisors written objection to the ordering of the work as an entirety, and not merely to some part thereof, as described in the resolution of intention. ^{Objections.}

If upon said hearing it appears that a majority of the owners of land within the district, as set forth in the resolution of intention, have so in writing made objection going to the entirety of the work described in the resolution of intention and to the ordering of the same, the board of supervisors shall, by a resolution, to be entered in its minutes, so find; and thereupon such board shall have no power to proceed further under said resolution of intention, nor to pass any resolution of intention for doing the same work, during a period of one year next after the time of such finding; and the accrued costs of the proceedings shall be a charge upon the county. But if the fact be that a majority of the owners of land lying within the district, as set forth in said resolution of intention, have not so in writing made objection going to the ordering of the work, as an entirety, the board of supervisors shall so find, and may thereupon proceed with the hearing; but such finding need not then be in writing and may, for the purpose of proceeding with the hearing, be a mere announcement of the board. ^{Hearing.}

At the conclusion of the hearing, however, the said findings shall, severally, or with other determinations of the board, be made in writing, to be filed and entered upon the minutes of the board.

Who are owners.

Owners of land within the meaning of this section are those, and those only, who appear to be such upon the records in the recorder's office of the county in which the district is situated on the day before the day set for said hearing; and an executor or administrator shall be deemed representative of his decedent; and a trustee of an express trust in land, other than as security for the payment of money, of the land held in such trust; and a trustee in bankruptcy, of the bankrupt; and a guardian, of his ward.

Next after in order of hearing, the board shall proceed to hear such objections as may be made to the grades specified in the specifications.

Thereafter, in the order of the hearing shall be heard such objections as shall be made to the boundaries of the district as set forth in the resolution of intention. Objection to the grades or to the boundaries of the district may be made by an owner of land lying within the district upon the hearing without any written statement of the same.

The hearing may be continued from time to time by the board of supervisors by an order to be entered in the minutes of the board.

Finding
of board.

Sec. 8. Unless the power to proceed shall have ceased, as hereinbefore provided, the board of supervisors shall in conclusion of the aforementioned hearing, and as a sufficient determination of all questions arising thereat, by resolution or resolutions to be entered upon its minutes, declare its finding that a majority of the owners of land within the district described in the resolution of intention have not before the day of the hearing filed written objection, going to the ordering of the work to be done and determining the boundaries of the district to be benefited by the improvement, and the grades thereon. If no changes be made in the boundaries of the district as the same are set forth in the resolution of intention, it shall be sufficient to state that the boundaries of the district are those set forth in the resolution of intention, but if any change of such boundaries is made, the boundaries of the district, as finally determined, shall be fully set forth.

If no change be made as to the grades, as set forth in the specifications on file, it shall be sufficient to state that the grades of the same, as finally determined, are those set forth in such specifications. In either case, the boundaries of the district so determined shall be the boundaries of the district for all purposes of the proceeding and until any bonds to be issued for the cost of the work shall have been fully paid and discharged; and the grades so determined shall be the grades of the district for all the purposes of the proceeding and the "official grade" within the meaning of section one of this act; provided, however, that the boundaries of the district as the same are set forth in the resolution of intention shall not be so changed as to include within the district any territory not within its boundaries as set forth in that resolution, nor so that the location of any work described in such resolution of intention shall be excluded from the boundaries of the district as so finally determined.

Sec. 9. In like manner the board of supervisors may order ^{Bids.} the work to be done and if it so do shall fix a time for receiving bids for doing the work and direct the clerk to give notice accordingly, inviting sealed bids. Such notice shall include a statement that the work is to be done "under the provisions of the road district improvement act of 1907" and according to the specifications on file therefor, except in so far as the grades specified therein shall have been fixed otherwise by the board of supervisors in conclusion of the hearing in said act provided; to which said act, to the resolution of intention and all proceedings had thereunder the attention of bidders shall be directed and they shall by reference be made a part of this notice.

Sec. 10. The notice inviting sealed bids shall be published ^{Notice} by at least two insertions in the newspaper designated in the ^{inviting} resolution of intention and, not necessarily simultaneous, a ^{bids.} copy or copies of the same be posted and kept posted for five days, at or near the chamber door of the board of supervisors. All bids shall be accompanied by a check, payable to the order ^{Certified} of the presiding officer of the board of supervisors, ^{check.} certified by a responsible bank for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the bid, or by a bond for said amount running to the county, signed by the bidder, with two sureties qualifying each in said amount over and above all statutory exemptions before an officer competent to administer oaths, or with one duly authorized corporate surety.

Said bids shall be delivered to the clerk of said board, and said board shall, in open session, examine and declare the ^{Award to} same, but no bid shall be considered unless accompanied by ^{lowest} said check or such bond in terms satisfactory to the board. ^{bidder.} The board may reject any and all bids should it deem this for the public good, and shall reject all bids other than the lowest regular bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said work to the lowest responsible bidder at the price named in his bid.

A notice of such award, attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors, shall be published two days and posted for five days in the same manner as hereinbefore provided with respect to the notice inviting bids.

The check or bond accompanying such accepted bid shall be kept by the clerk of said board until the contract for doing said work, as hereinafter provided, has been entered into. If said bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract for said work, as hereinafter provided, then the certified check accompanying his bid, and the amount therein mentioned, shall be declared forfeited to the county, and may be collected by it and paid into its general fund, and any bond forfeited may be prosecuted, and the amount thereof collected and paid into said fund.

Expenses of proceedings.

Before being entitled to a contract the bidder to whom the award thereof has been made must advance and pay to the clerk of the board of supervisors, for payment by him, the costs and expenses of publishing and posting resolutions, notices and orders required under this act to be made, which have been made, given, posted or published in the proceeding.

Notice that proceedings are faulty

Sec. 11. At any time within ten days from the date of the first publication of the notice of award of contract any owner of, or other person having any interest in any lot or land within the boundaries of the assessment district who claims that any of the previous acts or proceedings relating to said improvement are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty may file with the clerk of the board of supervisors a written notice specifying in what respect said acts and proceedings are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty. All objections to any acts or proceedings prior to the first day of publication of the aforesaid notice of award in relation to said improvement not made in writing, and in the manner and at the time aforesaid, shall be waived. It is the intent of this section that any person failing to file such notice within the time specified shall be deemed to have intentionally waived every objection to the regularity or validity of such acts or proceedings, and shall be estopped from thereafter raising the same.

If bidder does not take contract.

Sec. 12. If, for fifteen days after the first publication of said notice of award, the bidder to whom the contract was awarded, fails or neglects or refuses to enter into the contract, the board of supervisors may direct the clerk of the board to give notice inviting sealed bids and thereupon the board shall proceed as in the first instance, and as in the case of the default of the first awardee, so also in the event of subsequent defaults.

Execution of contract.

Sec. 13. The presiding officer of the board of supervisors is hereby authorized, in the name of the county, to execute the contract with the awardee of the same, and to receive and approve all bonds by this act required on the part of such awardee. He shall, by the terms of said contract, fix the time for the beginning of the work, which shall not be more than twenty days from the date thereof, and the contract shall provide that the work be prosecuted with diligence until completed, and a time for such completion shall be in the contract fixed. Such time of completion may be extended from time to time by the board of supervisors, in its discretion, and by resolution, which shall be entered by the clerk in the minutes of said board, a copy of which shall be by said clerk endorsed upon or annexed to the contract. Such extension of time may be made at any time before the expiration of three months after the time for completion fixed in the contract or by the last previous extension.

Bond of contractor.

Before entering upon such contract, a bond shall be executed and filed, running to the county, in an amount not less than one-half of the contract price of the work, signed by the contractor and two or more sureties, who shall aggregately qualify before an officer entitled to administer oaths in a sum equal to the amount of the bond, each surety in the amount for which he becomes surety, or by one duly authorized corporate surety. Such bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful execution of the contract by the party contracting to do the work, and the payment by him for all labor and materials furnished for or in the doing of the work. The form and sufficiency of said bond shall be passed upon by some member of the board of supervisors, and such bond shall inure as well to the benefit of any and all persons furnishing labor or materials for the work as to the county.

Said contract shall undertake on behalf of the county that the board of supervisors will, upon the fulfillment and performance of the contract on the part of the contractor, and under the provisions of the "road district improvement act of 1907," take all steps in or by said act authorized to be taken, to effect the issuing by the county treasurer of the bonds in said act authorized to be issued, and provide a fund for the payment of the same, as in or by said act prescribed; and it shall be in such contract stated that in no case shall any officer of the county be thereunder holden except for the discharge of official duty under the law, nor shall the county liable under the contract except for any materials or sums of money which the resolution of intention states will be furnished by the county.

Sec. 14. Whenever in the matter of any road district improvement the resolution of intention provides that the county will furnish materials to be used in the doing of the work, the execution of the contract for the doing of the work creates a liability on the part of the county to furnish the materials. If the county has a purchasing agent the materials shall be purchased by him. If the county has no purchasing agent the materials shall be purchased by the board of supervisors by contract let to the lowest responsible bidder after notice calling for bids has been published at least five days in a newspaper of general circulation in the county.

by county.

Sec. 15. If after the execution of the contract the contractor shall fail to begin the work in good faith within the time provided in said contract, or shall fail at any time thereafter to prosecute said work diligently according to the terms of the contract, the superintendent of work shall make a report to the board of supervisors setting forth wherein the contractor is in default. Thereupon the board of supervisors shall cause written notice to be mailed to said contractor at his last known address that at a time, to be set in the notice and which must be not less than five days after the mailing of the notice, the board will hold a hearing to determine whether or not the contract shall be declared forfeited.

contract.

At the time set in said notice, or at any time to which the matter may be continued, the board shall determine whether or not the contractor is in default either in respect to beginning said work or in respect to its diligent prosecution. If the board determines that the contractor is in default it may declare the contract forfeited. In such event it shall either again call for bids and award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder as provided in sections nine and ten of this act, or it may declare the county the successor of the contractor.

contract.

If bids are again called for and a new contract entered into at a price greater than that in the contract declared forfeited, suit shall be brought on the bond of the original contractor for an amount equal to the excess of the second contract over the first, plus the cost of readvertising. The sum recovered shall be placed in the interest and sinking fund of the district.

Completion of work.

If the county be declared the successor of the contractor, the work shall be completed under direction of the board of supervisors at the expense of the county either by contract or in any other method determined upon by the board. When the work is completed the declaration of completion required by section sixteen of this act shall be executed by the superintendent of work alone, and thereafter the proceedings prescribed by sections seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty-one of this act shall be followed. When the bonds have been issued they shall be sold by the board and the proceeds applied to reimburse the county for all expenditures it has made in the premises, the balance to be paid to the original contractor. Should the proceeds realized from the bonds be insufficient to reimburse the county in full for its expenditures in completing the contract and its incidental expenditures, suit shall be brought on the bond of the original contractor, in an amount sufficient to reimburse the county.

Lien against
contractor.

Sec. 16. If the contractor shall fail to pay for any labor or material furnished for, or in the doing of said work, by any person, such person shall have and hold a lien against the bonds to be issued to cover the cost and expenses of said work subject to the conditions herein set forth. Such person may at any time prior to the issuance of said bonds file with the county treasurer a verified statement of the fact that he has not been paid for such labor or material, stating the nature and amount of such labor or material and the amount due him therefor. The county treasurer shall withhold from the contractor or any one claiming under him as assignee or otherwise, sufficient of said bonds to satisfy such claim, and costs which can reasonably be anticipated. If the person filing such statement shall within three months after the date for issuance of bonds in said proceeding commence an action to enforce his lien aforesaid then the county treasurer shall keep the bonds so withheld, subject to the final judgment in such action; but if such action is not so filed the bonds so withheld shall be delivered to the contractor or his assignee. Such claimant, if he so elects, and if he has not received the said bonds, may as an alternative, at any time within six months after the filing of such statement bring an action on the bond of the sureties in his own name, or if he has assigned his claim, the action may be brought in the name of the assignee; provided, however, that the right of the county to recover on said bond shall be superior to the rights of such claimant to recover thereon.

Sec. 17. As soon as may be done in good faith, there shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors a declaration that the work has been completed according to the contract, together with an itemized statement of all the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the proceeding, inclusive of the estimated cost of publishing the notice of final hearing herein-after mentioned and of issuing the bonds.

Declaration upon completion of contract.

The aggregate of such items shall be stated, and, also, the amount due as of the contract price and the amount to be paid the contractor by county warrant, if any amount was set forth in the resolution of intention. The gross sum for a bond issue as claimed by the contractor shall also clearly appear. The said declaration and statements shall be signed and verified by the superintendent of work, and by the contractor or some person cognizant of the facts, signing on behalf of the contractor, and stating why he, instead of the contractor, so signs and verifies. Either signer may except from his signature and verification any amount or item to which he does not assent.

Sec. 18. The presiding officer of the board of supervisors is hereby authorized to fix a time and give a notice for a hearing for the purpose of determining whether the work shall be accepted as being completed according to the contract, and for determining the aggregate amounts for which bonds shall be issued.

Hearing on acceptance of work.

Such hearing shall be known as the final hearing. The notice of such hearing may, in form, and shall, in substance, be (filling the blanks) as follows:

Notice of final hearing in the matter of road district improvement number-----

Notice is hereby given that a final hearing of the above named matter will be had at the hour of-----m., on the -----day of-----19---, at the chamber of the board of supervisors of the county of-----, State of California, for the purpose of determining whether the work done under the contract made with----- under resolution of intention number -----in road improvement district number-----of the county of -----shall be accepted as being performed according to the contract, and for determining the aggregate amount for which bonds shall issue representing the cost of such work, inclusive of the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the proceeding, of which a statement has been filed with the clerk of said board of supervisors of the county of-----, to which statement the attention of all persons interested is hereby directed.

-----of the board of supervisors of the county of-----

Attest: -----
Clerk of said board of supervisors.

Such notice shall be signed by the presiding officer of the board of supervisors and attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors and published by at least two insertions in the newspaper designated in the resolution of intention, and a copy or copies thereof posted and kept posted for two days at or near the chamber door of the board of supervisors, the first day of such publication and that of such posting (they need not be simultaneous) to be not less than five days before the day in said notice specified for the hearing.

Proof of such publication shall be made by affidavit or affidavits, and the same shall be filed. If a quorum be not present at the time in the notice specified for the hearing, a member or members of the board then present may continue the hearing from day to day, and at all stages thereof the hearing may, by resolution, to be entered in the minutes, be continued from time to time.

Objections to acceptance.

Sec. 19. At any time before the day in said notice specified for the hearing, any owner of property within the district, as finally established, may solely or with any other such owner or owners, file written objection to the acceptance of the work on the ground that the work has not been completed or done according to the contract, specifying in ordinary language the particulars in which the contract has not been so completed or done.

Any person interested in the proceeding, as of the interest of the contractor, shall be presumed to take issue with such objection, and be heard accordingly.

Questions going to any other matters to be determined at the hearing may be raised orally by any owner of property situated within the district.

Evidence may be adduced going to any of the matters to be determined, and in such order as the board may summarily direct.

If, when the matter has been fully heard, whether under or in the absence of objections, the board of supervisors is of the opinion that the work has not been completed or done according to the contract, it shall in writing specify what must be done in order to complete the work, and shall, by an order or resolution to be entered in its minutes, continue the further hearing of the whole matter to a specified day, expressly stating that such continuance is for the purpose of enabling the contractor to complete his contract.

On said continued hearing the objections filed before the day of the first hearing shall continue in force as against the work, and evidence be received, if offered, as to what has been done by way of completing the contract in the particulars specified in the order of the board on the said continuance of the hearing.

If, upon such continued hearing, it is the opinion of the board that the work is still uncompleted in the particulars as to which it was ordered to be completed, it shall be discretionary with said board to order or refuse a second continuance of the hearing. If the board do order such second continuance, it shall be ordered in the same manner and with like effect as provided aforesaid, upon the first continuance.

And as provided aforesaid for a second continuance so of any other or further continuance.

All other objections shall pend and be heard on said day, or at any continued hearing had, as in this section aforesaid provided.

Every continuance of said hearing for the purpose of enabling the contractor to complete his contract or the work shall continue or revive such powers of the board of supervisors had, under the provisions of this act, in the proceeding, at the time of the filing of the contractor's declaration that the work was completed, as provided aforesaid, and also operate to extend the time for the completion of said contract in such manner that its completion within the time to which the hearing is continued, shall be as valid a performance of such contract as if completed at the time of filing such declaration or statement.

Sec. 20. Whenever upon the hearing in section eighteen aforesaid provided, whether at the first or any continued hearing, it shall be the opinion of the board of supervisors that the work has been completed and done according to the contract, said board shall by resolution to be entered upon its minutes so declare, and that the work is accepted, and shall in said resolution state the amount of the contract price for the doing of the work specified and performed, and the amount of the incidental costs and expenses of the work and proceedings which are to be charged against and to be paid by the contractor and the sum, if any, to be paid the contractor by the county, and the aggregate amount for which bonds are to be issued as hereinafter provided. The decision and determination of said board of supervisors at the hearing provided for in section eighteen and nineteen hereof shall be final and conclusive as to all matters determined at said hearing and as to all errors, informalities, irregularities, or omissions which said board of supervisors might have avoided or remedied during the progress of the proceedings, or which it can at that time remedy, upon all persons entitled to be heard before said board on said matters, and no bonds and assessment or tax thereafter levied for the payment of the bonds to be issued for said work and expenses shall be held invalid by any court for any error, informality, omission or other defect in the proceedings where the resolution of intention has been actually published as in this act provided, before the said board shall have ordered the work to be done.

Resolution
work.

Sec. 21. Whenever in the matter of any road district improvement the resolution of intention provides that the county will pay either a stated amount or a stated portion of the contract price, the liability of the county to pay arises upon the adoption of the resolution declaring that the work has been completed and done according to contract and that it is accepted. Immediately after the adoption of said order the amount which the county agreed to pay shall be paid to said contractor, less the amount of any incidental expense chargeable to and not paid by the contractor. Any amount so deducted shall be credited to the fund against which any such incidental expenses were charged.

Sec. 22. Upon the expiration of twenty days from the making of the final order mentioned in section twenty of this act, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall transmit to the county treasurer of the county an attested copy of said final order, and upon receipt of the same the treasurer shall proceed to issue bonds amounting in the aggregate to the principal sum for which bonds are to be issued as the same is stated in said final order. Said bonds, when issued, shall be dated as of the date when said final order of the board of supervisors was made. A bond may be issued in any amount, provided that the aggregate of the bond or bonds made payable in any one year is the proper part of the whole principal of the bond issue as specified in said final order, and that the interest thereon shall be payable as hereinafter in this act provided. The said bonds may be in form and shall in substance be as indicated following, to wit:

ROAD DISTRICT IMPROVEMENT BOND.

County of _____, State of California.

Road Improvement District No. _____

Bond No. _____

Under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the State of California, known as the "road district improvement act of 1907" (here may be inserted a further designation of the act, if desired) the county of _____, State of California, will pay to the bearer, out of the fund hereinafter designated, at the office of the treasurer of the said county, on the _____ day of _____, 19___, the sum of _____ dollars in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon, in like gold coin at the rate of _____ per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the second day of January and the second day of July of each year from the date hereof (except the last installment thereof, which shall be payable at maturity of this bond) upon presentation and surrender, as they respectively become due, of the proper interest coupons hereto attached, the first of which is for interest from date hereof to the next date of interest payment, and the last for interest to maturity hereof from the last preceding date of interest payment.

This bond is issued under and in conformity with the provisions of the above mentioned "road district improvement act of 1907," and the amendments thereof, and is one of a series of bonds of like date and effect numbered from one to _____ consecutively, amounting in the aggregate to _____ dollars, issued in behalf of road improvement district number _____ of said county, which constitute the only indebtedness of said district. It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all proceedings, acts and things required by law precedent to or in the issuance of this bond have been regularly had, done and performed, and this bond is by law made conclusive evidence thereof.

This bond is payable out of road district improvement fund number ----- exclusively, as the same appears on the books of the treasurer of said county, and neither said county nor any officer thereof shall be holden for its payment otherwise; but in accordance with said act the board of supervisors of said county will annually, at the time of levying other taxes, levy upon all the land in said road improvement district a special assessment tax in an amount clearly sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said bonds as the same shall become payable.

In witness whereof said county has caused this bond to be signed by the chairman of its board of supervisors and countersigned by its treasurer and the seal of said board to be hereto affixed and said interest coupons to be signed by the said treasurer this ----- day of -----, 19--

Chairman of the board of supervisors of the county of -----

(Seal of board of supervisors)

Countersigned: ----- Treasurer of the county of -----

Said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and countersigned by the treasurer of the county, and shall have the seal of said board of supervisors thereto affixed, and when so signed shall be binding according to the terms thereof as prescribed in said form. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be in such form as the said treasurer may determine, subject to the provisions of this act and the determination made by the board of supervisors, and their signature by said treasurer alone, by either written or lithographed or printed facsimile signature, shall be sufficient. Said bonds shall be delivered by the said treasurer to said contractor or to his order, assignee, or lawful representative.

Sec. 23. Said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings prior thereto under this act, and after the same are issued, no tax levied or collected for the purpose of paying the principal or interest on said bonds shall be held to be illegal or set aside or refunded by reason of any informality, irregularity, omission or defect in any of the proceedings prior to the issuance of said bonds, nor shall any action or proceeding be thereafter commenced or maintained to cancel or set aside said bonds, or to prevent the payment thereof, or the levy or the collection of a tax for such payment.

Payment
of bonds.

Sec. 24. The principal and interest of the bonds representing the cost of work done under the provisions of this act shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of America at the office of the treasurer of the county issuing the same. The board of supervisors is hereby vested with power to determine the number of equal annual payments, not to exceed twenty, by which the aggregate principal of the bonds to be issued under this act shall be paid and discharged. The board may in its discretion make the first payment of the principal of the bonds begin two years from the date of issuance thereof, and may fix the rate of interest not to exceed seven per cent per annum to be paid on said bonds and to make said bonds in all respects as indicated by the form therefor contained in this act; provided, that the board may by a four-fifths vote make the first payment of the principal of the bonds begin more than two years but not to exceed five years from the date of issuance thereof. It shall be a sufficient determination and fixing of the matters aforesaid to set forth in the resolution of intention the matters provided for in the form of said resolution as herein set forth. The portion of the principal of said bonds to be paid off each year after payments commence shall be the same for each of the years thereafter covered by said bond issue. The interest payments on said bonds shall be payable semiannually on the second days of January and July of each year, except the last installment, which shall be payable at maturity of the bonds, in the manner indicated in said form of bond. It shall not be necessary, either in the resolution of intention or otherwise, to set forth or determine the days of the month on which payments of interest are to be made, nor that payments shall be made in gold coin, nor that payments shall be made at such treasurer's office, but all persons are charged with notice of the contents of this section, especially in the aforesaid particulars.

Incidental costs and expenses.

Sec. 25. The incidental costs and expenses of the work and the proceeding shall include the cost and expenses of all posting and publication of resolutions, notices and orders required by this act to be done, the compensation of the person appointed to prepare and furnish specifications, of the superintendent of work and of the engineer of work, and the estimated costs of preparing the bonds and any other expenses incurred by authority of this act or incidental to the completion of the improvement in the manner herein specified. All of said incidental expenses shall be chargeable to and paid by the contractor, but they may be paid by the county, in which event the contractor shall reimburse the county, and they shall have been paid, or the county reimbursed, before delivery of the bonds shall be made by the county treasurer; provided, however, that if said costs and expenses are not paid, or said reimbursement made, within ten days after notice given to said contractor that said bonds, excepting such number thereof as may be withheld to satisfy claims filed as hereinabove provided, are ready for delivery, a sufficient number of said bonds may be sold at not less than ninety-five per cent of their face value to fully satisfy said costs and expenses, any surplus over said costs and expenses obtained by such sale to be paid to said contractor; provided, further, that the county treasurer may make delivery of such bonds, if there be deposited with him, subject to the order of the board of supervisors, money to the amount of the costs and expenses chargeable to the contractor as the same is stated in the attested order of the board of supervisors, provided for in section twenty-two of this act. The contractor and all persons claiming under him any interest in said bonds, whether of ownership, lien or otherwise, shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of this section.

Sec. 26. In each road improvement district in which bonds have been issued, a special fund to be named "road district improvement interest and sinking fund number-----," (the number to be that of the district) for the discharge and payment of such bonds and interest thereon, shall be constituted as follows, to wit: There shall each year at the time of the general tax levy for state and county taxes, be levied against and upon all of the land (not including improvements, but including any land which is the operative property of any public utility), within said road improvement district a special assessment tax, in an amount clearly sufficient, together with any moneys which are or may be in said fund to pay all the principal which has become or will become due, and all interest which has become or will become payable, on said bonds, before the proceeds of another tax levy made at the time of the general tax levy for state and county purposes, can be made available for the payment of such bonds.

The board of supervisors may annually, at the time of making the said tax levy, transfer from the general fund of the county, or from the fund of the road district or districts in which the road improvement district is situated, to the road district improvement interest and sinking fund such amount as in the judgment of said board should be transferred.

In any event it shall be the duty of said board of supervisors to levy a special assessment tax upon all lands, including lands comprising operative property of public utilities within said road improvement district, sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said bonds as the same shall become payable, and the board of supervisors is hereby vested with power to do all and singular the things which in this section aforesaid it is declared shall be done. Whenever any of said bonds or any interest thereon shall become due and there shall not be sufficient money in said road district improvement interest and sinking fund to pay the same, the board of supervisors may, pending the levy and collection of a tax therefor, order the amount of money necessary to pay the bonds or interest so falling due, to be transferred from the general fund to said road district improvement interest and sinking fund, and the amount of money so transferred shall be deemed a loan to said road district improvement interest and sinking fund, and shall be repaid to the general fund from the first money coming into said road district improvement interest and sinking fund thereafter. The special assessment taxes provided for herein shall be levied and collected in the same mode and manner and by the same officers as the ordinary county taxes, and all laws applicable to the levy, collection and enforcement of such county taxes, are hereby made applicable to said special taxes.

Any money remaining in any road district improvement interest and sinking fund after all the bonds of the district have been retired, shall be transferred to the general fund of the county, and may be used in repairing any road in the district. If the greater part or all of the district has been annexed to an incorporated city said money shall be placed in the general fund of the city to be used in repairing any road within the district.

If court determines proceedings
void.

Sec. 27. Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction shall determine that any contract purporting to have been made or any proceedings for any improvement purporting to have been taken under this act is or are void, or shall for any cause enjoin the issuance of any bonds proposed to be issued under this act, said court shall also determine whether any work has been done in good faith by any contractor under said invalid contract or proceeding or under any contract pursuant to which said bonds were proposed to be issued, and if so what part if any of the said work was of such kind as might have been ordered under the provisions of this act. If the court shall find that any work of such kind as might have been ordered under this act has been done in good faith by any contractor under or in pursuance of a contract purporting to have been made under the provisions of this act, then said court shall direct the board of supervisors to take proceedings as in this section provided for the issuing of bonds to cover the reasonable value of said work. The board of supervisors may also without any decree of any court upon the written application of the contractor who may have done in good faith any work, pursuant to a contract purporting to have been made under this act, or of the assignee of such contractor, if such work shall have been accepted by the superintendent of work and the board of supervisors, determine that the proceedings authorizing said work or the acceptance thereof are for any reason invalid, and direct that new proceedings be had as provided in this section for the issuing of bonds to cover the reasonable value of so much of said work as is of a kind which might have been ordered under this act.

Report for proposed new bond issue.

Sec. 28. Upon the decree of court or the order of the board of supervisors, having been made as provided in the preceding section of this act, the said board of supervisors shall cause to be made by some competent person, appointed by it for that purpose, a report for a proposed new bond issue. Said report shall set forth a description of the work done by said contractor or assignee pursuant to the contract referred to in said decree of court or order of the board of supervisors, which work has been found by said court or said board to be of such kind as might have been ordered under this act, and shall state the reasonable value of said work (which shall not exceed the original contract price, if any, for said work), and the exterior boundaries of the district of land benefited thereby, and describe the bonds to be issued for the value of said work, which bonds shall be as nearly as possible the same as to maturity, rate of interest and other particulars as the bonds described in the original proceedings for said work, correcting any errors or irregularities that may have existed in the description of the bonds in said original proceeding, and subject to the limitations contained in this act as to maturity and rate of interest. Said report shall be entitled in the matter of the same road district improvement as the original proceeding under which said work was done, shall be signed by the person making it and be filed with the clerk of said board of supervisors. Upon the filing of said report the board of supervisors shall fix a time for a hearing thereon not less than thirty days after the time of the filing and shall designate a newspaper for publication of the notice hereinafter mentioned. The clerk of said board shall thereupon give a notice of the filing of said report and of said hearing, which notice may in form and shall in substance be (filling in blanks) as follows:

NOTICE OF FILING REPORT FOR PROPOSED NEW BOND ISSUE Notice of filing.

In the matter of road district improvement number----- (Insert the same number as in the original proceeding)

Notice is hereby given that a report for a proposed new bond issue in the above entitled matter has been filed with the board of supervisors of the county of ----- . Said report describes work declared to be of the reasonable value of $ -----, as follows: (Here insert a description of the location and extent of the work sufficient to identify the same and of the character thereof in general terms.) Said report declares that the district benefited by said work is bounded as follows: (Here insert description of the exterior boundaries of the district as in the report.) Notice is hereby given to all persons interested that it is proposed to issue road district improvement bonds for said work to the amount of the reasonable value thereof as above stated bearing interest at the rate of ----- per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and one ----- part of the principal annually, all in gold coin of the United States (or such other language as is necessary to describe said bonds as in the report) and to pay the principal and interest of said bonds by the levy of special assessment taxes annually on all the land within the district above described, all as provided in the road district improvement act of 1907; and that a hearing on the said matter will be held before the said board of supervisors at the hour of ____ m. on the _____ day of _____, 19--, at the chamber of said board of supervisors.

Given by order of said board of supervisors this _____ day
of _____, 19--.

Clerk of said board of supervisors.

Said notice shall be published in the newspaper designated for that purpose five times if it is a daily newspaper or three times if it is a newspaper published less often than daily, and a copy thereof shall be posted for five days (not necessarily simultaneously) at or near the chamber door of said board of supervisors. Said publication and posting shall be completed not less than twenty days before the day fixed for the hearing.

Hearing.

Sec. 29. At the time fixed for the hearing of the report referred to in the preceding section, or at any time to which it may be continued, any person interested may appear and be heard on any of the matters set forth in said report. Said board of supervisors shall have power to confirm said report and to revise, correct or modify said report in such manner as it shall deem just and in accordance with the facts, in respect either to the amount or character of the work done, or the reasonable value thereof (which value, however, shall not exceed the original contract price, if any, for said work), or the boundaries of the district of land benefited (but not so as to include therein any lands not within the boundaries set forth in said report) and at the conclusion of the hearing shall adopt a resolution declaring its determination in the matter, which shall be conclusive on all persons and in all proceedings as to all matters so determined. If no change is made in any of the matters set forth in said report it shall be sufficient in said resolution to declare that said report is confirmed, but if changes are made therein they shall be set forth and it may be declared that the report is confirmed as so modified. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall at once transmit an attested copy of such resolution to the treasurer of the county and upon receipt of same the treasurer shall proceed to issue bonds as therein specified. Said bonds shall be dated as of the day of the passage of said resolution of confirmation and shall be issued and signed in all respects by the same officers and in like manner and form as the bonds issued under the provisions of section twenty-two of this act. The provisions of section twenty-three of this act shall apply to all bonds issued under this section the same as to bonds issued under section twenty-two hereof. Said bonds shall be delivered by the said treasurer to the contractor or to his order, assignee, or lawful representative.

Bonds.

Publication
of resolution.

Sec. 30. If publication in the newspaper designated in the resolution of intention become impossible for the reason that such newspaper has ceased to be published or for any like reason, which renders publication therein impossible, the board of supervisors may, by a resolution to be entered in its minutes, and stating the facts, designate another newspaper for each required publication as occasion therefor arises.

Sec. 31. If at the time of any hearing under this act a quorum of the board of supervisors is not present, said hearing may, by order of any supervisor present or by announcement of the clerk of the board if no member of the board be present, be continued to a day and hour to be stated in the order or announcement. Such order or announcement and a statement of the names of the members of the board present, if any, shall be entered in the minutes of the board. Continuance of hearings

Sec. 32. All papers in a proceeding under this act (save such as thereunder may be returnable to owners) shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and by him kept together in a package appropriately labeled. Whenever in this act the term "clerk of the board of supervisors" is employed, it shall be deemed to include one who is, ex officio, such, and it shall be immaterial that he designate himself as county clerk where the county clerk is ex officio clerk of the board of supervisors, nor shall it be material that his act be by deputy. Filing of papers.

Sec. 33. This act shall be known as the "road district improvement act of 1907" and by such designation shall be sufficiently identified in any proceeding thereunder, and whenever in the resolution of intention it shall be set forth or recited that the proceeding is under the "road district improvement act of 1907," this act shall be construed as the paramount statute for such proceeding, independently of, and alternatively for, other statutes for the improvement of public ways not within incorporated cities and towns. Title of act.

SEC. 3. Any road district improvement proceeding in which a resolution of intention has been passed before this act takes effect shall be continued and the bonds issued and the assessments to pay the same be governed by the law in force at the time of the passage of the resolution of intention, except that sections twenty-six, twenty-seven and twenty-eight road district improvement act of 1907 as revised by this act shall be applicable in the matter of any road improvement district, whether already formed, being formed or hereafter to be formed. Pending improvements.

CHAPTER 233.

An act to amend section fifty-six of the Civil Code, relating to the capability of minors to contract marriage.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section fifty-six of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

56. Any unmarried male of the age of twenty-one years or upwards and any unmarried female of the age of eighteen years or upwards, and not otherwise disqualified, is capable Capability of minors to contract marriage.

of consenting to and consummating marriage; provided, that any male under the age of twenty-one years and over the age of eighteen years and any female under the age of eighteen years and over the age of sixteen years, with the consent in writing of the parents of the person under age, or one of such parents, or of his or her guardian, where such written consent is filed by the clerk issuing the marriage license, as provided in section sixty-nine of the Civil Code, is capable of consenting to and consummating marriage.

CHAPTER 234.

An act to amend section twenty of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1913,
p. 79,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section 20 of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Assessment
for street
improvement.

Section 20. Subdivision 1. The expenses incurred for any work authorized by this act (which expense shall not include the cost of any work done in such portion of any street as is required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, nor include work which shall have been declared in the resolution of intention to be assessed on a district benefited) shall be assessed upon the lots and lands fronting thereon, except as otherwise in this act specifically provided; each lot or portion of a lot being separately assessed, in proportion to the frontage, at a rate per front foot sufficient to cover the total expense of the work.

Subdivision 2. The expense of the work done on main street crossings shall be assessed at a uniform rate per front foot of the quarter blocks and irregular blocks adjoining and cornering upon the crossings, and separately upon the whole of each lot or portion of a lot having any frontage in the said blocks fronting on said main streets, half way to the next main street crossing, or to the end of such street if it does not meet another, and all the way on said blocks to a boundary line of the city where no such crossing intervenes, but only according to its frontage in said quarter blocks and irregular blocks.

Subdivision 3. Where a main street terminates in another main street, the expenses of the work done on one half of the width of the street opposite the termination shall be assessed upon the lots in each of the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering on that side, according to the frontage of such lots on said main streets, and the expense of the work on the other half of the width of said street when the work is sewerage of the terminating street only, shall be assessed upon the lots fronting on the termination and the lots adjacent to said lots on each side half way from the termination to the next terminating or intersecting street, according to the frontage of such lots on that side, and in all other work done on the termination, the property fronting on the termination shall be considered frontage and be assessed as set forth in subdivision one of this section.

Subdivision 4. Where any alley or subdivision street crosses a main street, the expense of all work done on said crossing shall be assessed on all lots or portions of lots half way on said alley or subdivision street to the next crossing or intersection, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another.

Subdivision 5. The expense of work done on alley or subdivision street crossings shall be assessed upon the lots fronting upon such alley or subdivision streets on each side thereof, in all directions, half way to the next street, place or court, on either side, respectively, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another.

Subdivision 6. Where a subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court terminates in another street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, the expense of the work done on one half of the width of the subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court opposite the termination, shall be assessed upon the lot or lots fronting on such subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court so terminating, according to its frontage thereon, half way, on each side respectively, to the next street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court or to the end of such street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, if it does not meet another, and the expense of the work on the other half of the width when the work is sewerage of the terminating subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, shall be assessed upon the lots fronting on the termination and the lots adjacent to said lots on each side half way from the termination to the next terminating or intersecting street, according to the frontage of such lots on that side, and in all other work done on the termination the property fronting on the termination shall be considered frontage and be assessed as set forth in subdivision one of this section.

Work on one side of street.

Subdivision 7. Where any work mentioned in this act (manholes, sewers, cesspools, culverts, crosswalks, piling and capping excepted) is done on one side of the center line of any street, or sewerage or resewering is ordered to be done under the sidewalk on only one side of any street for any length thereof, the assessment for the expenses thereof shall be made only upon the lots and lands fronting nearest upon that side of the street and for intervening intersections only upon the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering upon that side.

Land belonging to government.

Subdivision 8. Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States, or to the State of California, or any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution, or institution for the feeble-minded or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, shall front upon the proposed work or improvement, or be included within the district declared by the city council in its resolution of intention to be the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, said city council may, in the resolution of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment thereafter to be made to cover the costs and expenses of said work or improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said resolution be omitted from the assessment, then the total expense of all work done shall be assessed on the remaining lots fronting on the work or improvement, or lying within the limits of the assessment district, without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event that the council shall, in such resolution of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned as aforesaid, or any of them, shall be included in the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, then said city shall be liable for such sum or sums as may thereafter be assessed against any such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used, and so included in the assessment by reason of the aforesaid declaration, or such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used respecting which the resolution of intention makes no declaration, which shall be payable by the said city out of the general fund unless the legislative body shall in its resolution of intention designate another fund; provided, however, that any such sum or sums which may be assessed against any such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used, shall not be payable by the city when such sum or sums are paid by the owner of or the governing body controlling such lots, pieces or parcels of land.

Subdivision 9. It shall be lawful for the owner or owners of lots or lands fronting upon any street, the width and grade of which have been established by the city council, to perform, at his or their own expense (after obtaining permission from the council so to do, but before said council has passed its resolution of intention to order grading inclusive of this), any grading upon said street, to its full width, or to the center line thereof, and to its grade as then established, and thereupon to procure, at his or their own expense, a certificate from the city engineer, setting forth the number of cubic yards of cutting and filling made by him or them in said grading, and the proportions performed by each owner, and that the same is done to the established width and grade of said street, or to the center line thereof, and thereafter to file said certificate with the superintendent of streets, which certificate the superintendent shall record in a book kept for that purpose in his office, properly indexed. Whenever thereafter the city council orders the grading of said street, or any portion thereof, on which any grading certified as aforesaid has been done, the bids and contracts must express the price by the cubic yard for cutting and filling in grading; and the said owner or owners and his or their successors in interest shall be entitled to credit, on the assessment upon his or their lots and lands fronting on said streets for the grading thereof, to the amount of the cubic yards of cutting and filling set forth in his or their certificate, at the prices named in the contract for said cutting and filling; or, if the grade meanwhile has been duly altered, only for so much of said certified work as would be required for grading to the altered grade; provided, however, that such owner or owners shall not be entitled to such credit as may be in excess of the assessments for grading upon the lots and lands owned by him or them, and proportionately assessed for the whole of said grading; and the superintendent of streets shall include in the assessment for the whole of said grading upon the same grade the number of cubic yards of cutting and filling set forth in any and all certificates so recorded in his office, or for the whole of said grading to the duly altered grade so much of said certified work as would be required for grading thereto, and shall enter corresponding credit, deducting the same as payments upon the amounts assessed against the lots and lands owned, respectively, by said certified owners and their successors in interest; provided, however, that he shall not so include any grading quantities or credit any sums in excess of the proportionate assessments for the whole of the grading which are made upon any lots and lands fronting upon said street and belonging to any such certified owners or their successors in interest. Whenever any owner or owners of any lots and lands fronting on any street shall have heretofore done, or shall hereafter do any work (except grading), on such street, in front of any block, at his or their own expense, and the city council shall subsequently order any work to be done of the same class in front of the same block, said work so done at the expense of such owner or owners shall be excepted from the order ordering work to be done; provided, that the work so done at the expense of such owner or owners, shall be upon the official grade, and in condition satisfactory to the street superintendent at the time said order is passed.

Diagram of property
affected.

Subdivision 10. Whenever the resolution of intention declares that the cost and expenses of the work and improvement are to be assessed upon a district, the city engineer shall make a diagram of the property affected or benefited by the proposed work or improvement, as described in resolution of intention, and to be assessed to pay the expenses thereof. Such diagram shall show each separate lot, piece or parcel of land, the area in square feet of each of such lots, pieces or parcels of land, and the relative location of the same to the work proposed to be done, all within the limits of the assessment district; and when said diagram shall have been approved by the city council, the clerk shall certify the fact and date thereof. Immediately thereafter the said diagram shall be delivered to the superintendent of streets of said city, who shall, after the contractor of any street work has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets or city council on appeal, proceed to estimate upon the lands, lots or portions of lots within said assessment district, as shown by said diagram, the benefits arising from such work, and to be received by each such lot, portion of such lot, piece or subdivision of land, and shall thereupon assess upon and against said lands in said assessment district the total amount of the costs and expenses of such work, and in so doing shall assess said total sum upon the several pieces, parcels, lots or portions of lots, and subdivisions of land in said assessment district benefited thereby, to wit: upon each respectively, in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by each of said several lots, portions of lots, or subdivisions of land. In other respects the assessment shall be as provided in the next section, and the provisions of subdivisions one, two, three, four, five, six and seven of this section shall not be applicable to the work or improvement provided for in this subdivision.

Definitions.

Subdivision 11. The terms, lot, lots, lands, piece or parcel of land wherever mentioned in this act shall be deemed to include and shall include property owned or controlled by any person, firm or corporation as a railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way, and whenever a railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way shall front on or abut or parallel or be included with or divide longitudinally any street improved under the provisions of this act or shall be included within any district to be assessed for the cost of any improvement provided in this act, such railroad right of way (whether the same is owned in fee or as an easement) shall be included in the warrant, assessment and diagram and shall be assessed in the manner and with the same effect as other lots, lands or pieces or parcels of land are assessed as provided in this act, and such railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way shall be subject to sale for nonpayment of assessments as in this act provided.

CHAPTER 235.

An act to amend section nineteen of an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and change of grade of public streets, lands, alleys, courts, places and rights of ways in municipalities, and providing for the improvement thereof, in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement, and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby, and to provide a system of local improvement bonds to represent the assessments for the costs, damages and expenses of such improvement, and for the payment and effect of such bonds, approved June 16, 1913, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section nineteen of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the establishment and change of grade of public streets, lands, alleys, courts, places and rights of way in municipalities, and providing for the improvement thereof, in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement, and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby, and to provide a system of local improvement bonds to represent the assessments for the costs, damages and expenses of such improvement, and for the payment and effect of such bonds, approved June 16, 1913, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 19. Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States or to the State of California, or to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, public educational, penal, or reform institution, or institution for the feeble-minded or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, is included within the district declared by the legislative body in the resolution of intention to be the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the improvement, the legislative body may, in its discretion, in the resolution of intention declare that such lots, pieces, or parcels of land so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment to be made to cover the costs and expenses of said work or improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces, or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said resolution be omitted from the assessment, then the total expense of all work done shall be assessed on the remaining lots lying within the limits of the assessment district without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event the legislative body shall in its resolution of intention declare that the said lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and in use, or any of them shall be included in the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, then such sum or sums as thereafter may be assessed against such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used shall be payable by the city, out of its general fund, unless the legislative body shall in its resolution of intention designate another fund, and the contract for said work or improvement thereafter made shall contain a provision to that effect; provided, however, that any such sum or sums which may be assessed against any such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used, shall not be payable by the city when such sum or sums are paid by the owner of or the governing body controlling such lots, pieces or parcels of land. After all sales provided for in section fourteen of this act have been made the superintendent of streets shall report to the city treasurer the amount collected.

CHAPTER 236.

An act authorizing suits against the state to quiet title against it to real property entitled to be purchased under the provisions of an act entitled, "An act to survey and dispose of certain marsh and tide lands belonging to the State of California," approved March 30, 1868, or any of the acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof, and regulating the procedure therein.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Suits against state to quiet title to marsh and tide lands
authorized.

SECTION 1. In any case where the State of California has platted land for sale under the provisions of the following named acts, or any of them, to wit: "An act entitled 'An act to survey and dispose of certain salt marsh and tide lands belonging to the State of California,' approved March 30, 1868; an act entitled 'An act supplementary to and amendatory of an act entitled "An act to survey and dispose of certain salt marsh and tide lands belonging to the State of California,' approved March 30, 1868, approved April 1, 1870; and an act entitled 'An act supplementary to and amendatory to an act supplementary to and amendatory of an act entitled "An act to survey and dispose of certain salt marsh and tide lands belonging to the State of California," approved March 30, 1868; also an act approved April 1, 1870," approved March 30, 1874, or has sold or at any time agreed to sell to any person or persons under the provisions of said acts or any of them, and full payment has been made therefor to the State of California, or such person has or persons have, by himself or themselves, and his or their grantees, been in the exclusive and adverse possession and occupation of said land or lands, claiming to own the same, for more than thirty years and said land has been regularly assessed for a period of at least twenty years, and all taxes levied upon or assessed against said lands, municipal, county and state, have been paid by said person or persons and his or their grantees, and a judgment has been duly given, made and entered in favor of such person or persons in an action instituted under the provisions of "An act to provide for the establishment and quieting of title to real property in case of the loss or destruction of public records," approved June 16, 1906, and all or any acts supplementary to and amendatory thereof, ascertaining and determining that said person was or persons were the owner or owners in fee simple, and in the actual and peaceable possession, and entitled to possession of said real property, and that his or their title be quieted and established as against all the world and that no other person has any right, title, interest, claim or estate in or to said real property or any part thereof, either legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent, and that said judgment has become final, and no deed or patent has been made or delivered by or on behalf of the State of California, or the deed or patent from the State of California therefor has been lost or destroyed and was never recorded in the office of the county recorder of any county wherein any of such land is situated, the person or persons claiming title to any of such land is and are hereby authorized to bring an action against the State of California in any court of competent jurisdiction of said state, to quiet title to said land or any portion thereof, and to prosecute the same to final judgment. In any such action where it is established that said land has been regularly assessed for a period of at least twenty years, and such person or persons claiming title thereto, and his or their predecessors in interest has or have been in the exclusive and adverse possession of said real property, claiming to own the same adversely to the State of California and to all other persons, for said period of thirty years and has or have paid all of said taxes levied upon or assessed against said real property, and a final judgment has been duly given, made and entered in favor of such person or persons or their predecessor or predecessors in interest in an action instituted under the provisions of said "An act to provide for the establishment and quieting of title to real property in case of the loss or destruction of public records," approved June 16, 1906, or any act supplementary to or amendatory thereof, ascertaining or determining that said person or persons or their predecessors in interest was or were the owner or owners in fee simple, and in the actual and peaceable possession and entitled to possession of said real property, and that his or their title be quieted and established as against all the world, and that no other person has any right, title, interest, claim or demand in or to said real property or any part thereof, either legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent, and that said judgment has become final, the title of the plaintiff or plaintiffs may be quieted against the State of California in and by the judgment given, made and entered in said action, whether or not any such deed or patent has been made or delivered.

apply.

SEC. 2. All the provisions and rules of law relating to suits to quiet title and appeals therein shall apply to such suits as may be brought under this act. If judgment be given against the state in any such suit, no costs shall be allowed against the state.

Time for commencing.

SEC. 3. Any such suits to quiet title shall be commenced within one year after this act takes effect.

Service of summons.

SEC. 4. Service of summons in such suits shall be made on the surveyor general and the attorney general.

CHAPTER 237.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered four thousand ninety-five a, relating to the destruction of county auditor, county treasurer, records which are more than ten years old.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered four thousand ninety-five a and to read as follows:

Destruction of county records.

4095a. The county auditor and county treasurer may destroy any county claim, salary warrant, school warrant or any other papers or papers issued as a voucher where a permanent record has been made in books covering the items for which the voucher or paper has been issued, and which voucher or paper is more than ten years old; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to permit or authorize the destruction of any record involving the title to real property, or that has become a record of any court of law.

CHAPTER 238.

An act to amend section three thousand four hundred fifty-seven of the Political Code, relating to the form, issuance and payment of warrants of reclamation districts.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand four hundred fifty-seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3457. Except as herein otherwise provided all warrants drawn by the trustees must be in substantially the following form: Form of reclamation district warrants.

FACE
No. Office of the board of trustees of Reclamation District No.
The treasurer of county will pay to the order of out of Reclamation District No. fund the sum of dollars for allowed by the board of trustees of said Reclamation District No. Dated 192 Trustees.
Attest: Secretary.

REVERSE

Approved by the board of supervisors of county this day of 192
Chairman of board of supervisors.
Attest:
Clerk of board of supervisors.
When registered this warrant bears interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, computed from the date thereof.
This warrant will outlaw and can not legally be paid four years after date, unless it is payable by its terms at a future date, in which event it will outlaw and can not be legally paid four years after maturity.
Pay to or order Presented for payment but not paid for want of funds, this day of 192
Treasurer of county.

Interest on warrants.

The warrants drawn by the trustees must be presented to the treasurer of the county, and if they are not paid on presentation, such indorsement must be made thereon, and they must be registered and bear interest from their date at the rate of seven per cent per annum, and such warrants are and shall be considered as contracts in writing for the payment of money, and the period prescribed for the commencement of an action based upon said warrants, or connected therewith, is and shall be the term of four years from the date of said warrants, unless said warrants are payable by their terms at a future date, in which event the said term of four years shall not commence until the maturity of said warrants; provided, however, that all warrants shall be approved by the board of supervisors before the same shall be paid or registered by the county treasurer.

All warrants shall be paid by the county treasurer strictly in the order in which they have been registered, except warrants which are by their terms payable at a future date and such warrants shall be considered as being registered as of the date of their maturity, if actually registered at or prior to maturity, otherwise as of the date of actual registration.

Warrant outstanding one year or more.

Whenever a warrant shall have been outstanding one year or more, or where a warrant is by its terms not payable upon demand but is payable at a future date and payment thereof is overdue one year or more, the board of trustees shall on demand of the holder of said warrant cancel the same and issue a new warrant for the face value of the old warrant and a separate warrant for the amount of interest then due thereon in the event of any interest being due and unpaid; or, the board of trustees may allow a claim for the amount of any interest due and unpaid on any warrant so outstanding one year or more and may draw a warrant therefor; upon drawing this warrant they shall endorse on the reverse of the old warrant the fact that interest has been paid to the date of drawing the warrant for interest and the warrant drawn for the interest must state that it is for interest on warrant No. ----- to ----- (date); the board of trustees shall notify the county treasurer upon drawing those warrants for interest and he shall note on his register of warrants the fact that interest has been paid on such warrants; provided, that any warrant not paid or presented for reissuance may within four years after its date or within four years after its maturity if payable by its terms at a future date upon the demand of the holder, be extended for a like period of four years, upon presentation to the board of trustees of the district, such extension being indorsed thereon by said board. The board of trustees and the county treasurer may cancel all warrants not paid, reissued or extended within four years after their date, or within four years after their date of maturity if payable by their terms at a future date.

In case an action or proceeding based upon any warrant or connected therewith, be commenced within four years after the date of such warrant, or within four years after the maturity thereof, if payable by its terms at a future date, and final judgment be obtained in favor of the holder or owner thereof, such warrant shall be paid the same as if it has been paid before the expiration of said four years from the date of said warrant.

In any proceeding for a writ of mandate to compel the trustees to issue a warrant, if a controversy arises as to the amount that may be due to the plaintiff, the court must determine the same in the manner provided for determining controversies in other civil actions, and shall cause a writ to issue for such sums as may be found to be due. The date of a warrant shall be the day on which the same is signed by the board of trustees.

Determination of amount due.

The trustees may issue warrants payable at a future date, not more than three years from the date thereof, and for this purpose may use the form of warrant herein provided for, adding thereto upon the face thereof that it is not due or payable until a certain date, which shall be specified.

Where there is an existing assessment on the lands in any district which is wholly or in part unpaid the trustees may issue warrants, including warrants payable at a future date, on which the interest shall be paid semiannually on January first and July first of each year, until such warrant is paid, and for this purpose may use the form of warrant herein provided for, adding thereto upon the face thereof that interest thereon is payable semiannually on January first and July first of each year upon presentation of the warrant to the county treasurer. Said interest shall be paid upon presentation to the county treasurer who shall endorse upon the reverse side of such warrant the fact of such interest payment, specifying the amount thereof and date of payment.

Warrants
when assessment
is unpaid.

The interest due at any time on any unpaid assessment, or any part or installment thereof, may be called at any time by the trustees of the district without calling any installment of the said assessment. All interest hereafter paid on any assessment or any part or installment thereof shall be deposited with the county treasurer in a fund to be known as the "warrant interest fund" and shall not be used for any purpose except the payment of interest on warrants unless the trustees of the district request the county treasurer to transfer the same, or a part thereof, to the general fund of the district.

At least ninety days before any installment of interest is due on any warrants interest on which is payable semiannually the trustees of the district shall estimate the amount of money necessary to pay such interest after crediting thereon the funds in the "warrant interest fund" applicable to the payment thereof and shall add thereto fifteen per cent of such aggregate sum to cover possible delinquencies and make a call on interest due on any unpaid assessment equivalent to said amount. All laws relative to the making of calls on any assessment, or installment thereof, and the sale of property for nonpayment thereof, and redemption thereof, shall be applicable to the making of calls for interest only as herein provided and for the sale of property for nonpayment thereof, and redemption thereof.

maturity.

Notwithstanding anything herein contained to the contrary it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to pay all or any warrants payable at a future date, before the maturity thereof, upon the request of the trustees of the district providing there is in the hands of such treasurer sufficient funds so to do, after payment of all outstanding warrants of the district payable upon demand.

CHAPTER 239.

An act to amend section four thousand one hundred thirty-two of the Political Code, relating to indexes kept by recorders.

24. An index suitable for the provisions of "An act for the certification of land titles and the simplification of the transfer of real estate."

25. Such other indices as may be required in the performance of his official duties.

26. The county recorder may keep, instead of indices enumerated in subdivisions one to twenty-five herein inclusive of this section, two indices labeled respectively: "General index of grantors," and "General index of grantees." Each page of the general index of grantors shall be divided into seven columns, labeled, respectively: "Date filed," "Grantors and defendants," "Grantees and plaintiffs," "Title," "Volume," "Book," "Page." Each page of the general index of grantees shall be divided into seven columns, labeled, respectively: "Date filed," "Grantees and plaintiffs," "Grantors and defendants," "Title," "Volume," "Book," "Page." The alphabetical subdivisions and each of the general indices herein described shall be not less than two hundred forty in number, and so arranged, as nearly as possible, that the entries to be made in said indices will be equally apportioned under the several alphabetical subdivisions. In the general index of grantors, the recorder may index names of grantors, defendants, and first parties, who would otherwise be indexed in any of the indices in this section hereinabove specified. In the general index of grantees the recorder may index names of grantees, plaintiffs and second parties, who would otherwise be indexed in any of the indices in this section hereinabove specified. Such indexing in the general index of grantors and the general index of grantees may be in lieu of indexing in any of the indices in this section hereinabove specified, and will impart notice in like manner and effect as such indexing would have imparted in any of the indices in this section hereinabove specified. If the recorder keeps the general index of grantors and the general index of grantees as herein provided, and indexes therein all of the names which would otherwise have been indexed in the other indices in this section provided, he will not then be required to keep such other indices; but the recorder may keep the general index of grantors and the general index of grantees and also any one or more of the other indices in this section provided. If the recorder keeps any index or indices other than the general index of grantors and the general index of grantees, he must index in such index or indices other than the general index of grantors and the general index of grantees all of the names which it is proper to index in such other index or indices, and he will not then be required to index such names in the general index of grantors or the general index of grantees.

CHAPTER 240.

CHAPTER 241.

An act to amend the title of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the acquisition by municipalities of land for public park or public playground purposes by condemnation, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expense of acquiring such land," approved April 22, 1909, as amended, and to add a new section thereto to be numbered one a, providing for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expenses of improving such land for park or playground purposes.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1909,
p. 1086,
amended.

SECTION 1. The title of the act, entitled "An act to provide for the acquisition by municipalities of land for public park or public playground purposes by condemnation, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expense of acquiring such land," approved April 22, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

An act to provide for the acquisition by municipalities of land for public park or playground purposes by condemnation, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expenses of acquiring and improving such land.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered one a, and to read as follows:

Assessment
of cost of improvements.

Sec. 1*a*. When land has been acquired under the provisions of this act, or otherwise acquired for public park or playground purposes, the same may be improved for park or playground purposes and the cost thereof shall be assessed upon the district to be benefited by such improvement, in the same manner as herein provided for the assessment of the damages and costs of the acquisition of land.

CHAPTER 242.

An act to amend section one thousand six hundred eighteen a of the Political Code, relating to health supervision of schools.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand six hundred eighteen a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Health supervision of schools.

Physical
inspectors.

1618*a*. First—Boards of school trustees, city and city and county boards of education are hereby authorized and empowered to provide for proper health supervision of the school buildings and pupils enrolled in the public schools under their jurisdiction. For this purpose, said boards may appoint a physical inspector or physical inspectors as the board may determine to consist of a physician, teacher, nurse, oculist, dentist, optometrist, or any one or more of said persons; provided, that in case of the appointment of more than one physical inspector, said inspectors may, in the discretion of the board, all be chosen from any one of the classes designated. Said board may also appoint such number of nurses and dental hygienists as it may be deemed necessary to work under the direction of the physical inspector or inspectors and may provide for the compensation of such employees; provided, that no money set aside for the payment of teachers' salaries or for library purposes may be used for this purpose.

Second—The qualifications of such employees shall be as follows: For a physician, an unrevoked certificate issued by the state board of medical examiners and a health and development certificate as hereinafter provided; for a teacher, a life diploma of California or a special credential in physical education, and a health and development certificate; for an oculist, a California certificate to practice medicine and surgery and a health and development certificate; for a dentist or a dental hygienist a certificate issued by the state board of dental examiners of the State of California and a health and development certificate; for a nurse a certificate of registration issued by the California state board of health and a health and development certificate; for an optometrist a certificate issued by the state board of optometry of the State of California and a health and development certificate.

Qualifications of physical inspectors.

Third—County or city and county boards of education are hereby authorized and empowered to grant health and development certificates to persons holding certificates to practice medicine and surgery issued by the California state board of medical examiners; to persons holding California life diplomas and special credentials in physical education, issued by the state board of education; to persons holding certificates to practice dentistry or dental hygiene issued by the California state board of dental examiners; to persons holding certificates to practice optometry issued by the California state board of optometry; and to the holders of certificates of registration as nurses issued by the California state board of health when said applicant shall present with his certificate a credential from the state board of education showing special fitness and training for the work here to do in the public school.

Certificates.

Fourth—The board of school trustees or the city or county board of education shall make such rules for the examination of the pupils in the public schools under their jurisdiction as will insure proper care of the pupil and proper secrecy in connection with any defect noted by the physical inspector or his assistant and may tend to the correction of such physical defect or defects; provided, however, that a parent or guardian having control or charge of any child enrolled in the public schools may file annually with the principal of the school in which he is enrolled a statement in writing, signed by such parent or guardian, stating that he will not consent to the physical examination of his child, and thereupon such child shall be exempt from any physical examination, but whenever there is good reason to believe that such child is suffering from a recognized contagious or infectious disease, such child shall be sent home and shall not be permitted to return until the school authorities are satisfied that such contagious or infectious disease does not exist. When a defect has been noted by the physical inspector or his assistant, a report shall be made to the parent or guardian of the child asking such parent or guardian to take such action as will cure such defect or defects. The physical inspector shall make such reports from time to time as he may feel is best to the board of school trustees or city board of education, or as the board may call for showing the number of defective children in the schools of the district and the effort made to correct such defects.

Examination of pupils.

Report on conditions
of school buildings.

Fifth—In case the physical inspector shall note any defects in plumbing, lighting, heating, or other defects in the school building or buildings as may tend to make such building or buildings unfit for the proper housing of the children he shall at once make a detailed report to the board of trustees or the city board of education. If within fifteen days after he has filed this report, he finds that the board has made no provision for the correction of the defect, he shall at once report the same to the county superintendent of schools who shall under the provisions of section one thousand five hundred forty-six of the Political Code proceed to have such defect corrected.

Districts
may join in employing inspectors.

Sixth—The boards of school trustees or the city boards of education of two or more school districts in the same county may join in the employment of a physical inspector or physical inspectors, and may use funds not set aside for the payment of teachers' salaries or for library purposes for the expenses of such work. Such boards may employ a nurse or nurses under the direction of a physical inspector to examine the schools under their jurisdiction.

Inspectors
must hold certificates.

Seventh—No physician, oculist, dentist, dental hygienist, optometrist, nurse or other person shall be employed or permitted to supervise the health and physical development of pupils under this section or any other provision of law unless such person holds a health and development certificate granted in accordance with the provisions of this section.

CHAPTER 243.

An act to amend an act entitled an act authorizing and providing for suits for the collection of delinquent taxes upon personal property, approved March 13, 1903.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1903,
p. 130,
amended.

An act authorizing and providing for suits for the collection of delinquent taxes upon personal property, approved March 13, 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

1. Each county and city and county, may sue in its own name for the recovery of any and all moneys due or hereafter to become due as delinquent taxes or assessments upon any and all personal property, where no real property is assessed as security for the payment of such personal property taxes, or where in the judgment of the board of supervisors, there is not sufficient real property to secure the payment of such personal property taxes, whether the same be for county or city and county, and state purposes, or either of them, and for all penalties and interest charges due upon said taxes for non-payment thereof. Collection of personal property taxes by suit.

2. Suit may be brought in like manner for the recovery of any and all county or city and county, or state moneys due or hereafter to become due as delinquent taxes or assessments upon any and all improvements when situated upon leased land when said land is exempt from taxation. Manner of bringing suit.

3. On the trial of any such suit the assessment roll of said county or city and county, or a copy of any entry therein duly certified, showing unpaid taxes or assessments against the defendant or his property, or, in cases where the defendant is sued in a representative capacity, against any person or estate or the property thereof which he represents, shall be prima facie evidence of the plaintiff's right to recover. Evidence.

4. All actions now pending for the collection of such taxes may be carried on and prosecuted under the provisions and in accordance with this act. Pending actions.

5. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed, but the method of collecting such taxes herein provided shall not be deemed to be the exclusive method, nor shall the provisions of this act in any manner abrogate or modify the provisions of sections three thousand eight hundred thirty-one or three thousand eight hundred ninety-nine of the Political Code of the State of California. Repealed.

CHAPTER 244.

An act to provide for suitable sanitary conditions in foundries and metal shops, and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect January 1, 1922.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The owner, employer or manager of every foundry or metal shop engaged in the casting, fabricating, or working over in any manner, of iron, brass, steel, or other metal or compound, and where five or more men are employed, shall establish and maintain, for the use of the employees, wash bowls, sinks or other appliances, connected with running water, and also a water closet connected with running water. The Sanitary conditions in foundries.

room where the wash bowls are installed, and the water closet shall be kept properly ventilated and protected, so far as may be reasonably practicable, from the dust and fumes of the foundry or metal shop.

SEC. 2. Whoever fails to comply with the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars for each offense.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force on and after January 1, 1922.

CHAPTER 245.

An act to create the office of public defender, to provide for the election of such officers, and prescribing their duties and compensation.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Office of public defender created.

SECTION 1. There is hereby created in each county and city and county of the State of California, the board of supervisors of such county or city and county so deciding, the office of public defender, and the person to be elected to this office shall be known as the public defender. No person shall be eligible to the office of public defender who shall not have been a practicing attorney in all of the courts of the state for the period of at least one year next preceding the date of his election.

Election.

SEC. 2. Under this act the first election of a public defender in any county or city and county in the state shall be held in the general election of November, 1922, and all such elections shall be held in accordance with the election laws governing the election of county officials; provided, however, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to counties in this state that have adopted, or may hereafter adopt a county charter in which provision is made for a public defender or in any county from the tenth to the fifty-eighth class, both inclusive.

Counties
excepted.

Term.

SEC. 3. The term of office of the public defender shall be four years from and after the first Monday in January next following his election.

Compensation.

SEC. 4. The compensation of said public defender shall be paid by the several counties in the same manner as other county officers are paid and said compensation shall be in full for all services rendered, except actual and necessary traveling expenses while engaged in the discharge and performance of his official duties and which expenses shall be audited and paid as are other claims against the county. The compensation of the public defender shall be as follows: In counties of the first and second classes, five thousand dollars per annum; in counties of the third class, four thousand dollars per annum; in counties of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth classes, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum. Provided, however, that in the counties of the first, second and third classes the public defender shall devote all of his time to the duties of his office and shall not engage in the practice of law except in the capacity of public defender.

SEC. 5. Upon request of the defendant or upon order of ^{Duties.} the court, the public defender shall defend, without expense to them, all persons who are not financially able to employ counsel and who are charged with the commission of any contempt, misdemeanor, felony or other offense. He shall also, upon request, give counsel and advice to such persons, in and about any charge against them upon which he is conducting the defense, and he shall prosecute all appeals to a higher court or courts, of any person who has been convicted upon any such charge, where, in his opinion, such appeal will, or might reasonably be expected to, result in the reversal or modification of the judgment of conviction.

He shall also, upon request, prosecute actions for the collection of wages and of other demands of persons who are not financially able to employ counsel, in cases in which the sum involved does not exceed one hundred dollars, and in which, in the judgment of the public defender, the claims urged are valid and enforceable in the courts.

He shall also, upon request, defend such persons in all civil litigation in which, in his judgment, they are being persecuted or unjustly harassed.

SEC. 6. The board of supervisors of each of the counties in ^{Office and deputies.} which the office of public defender is hereby created shall provide suitable rooms for the use of the public defender and office furniture and supplies with which to properly conduct the business of his office. The board of supervisors shall provide for a sufficient number of deputies, clerks and employees to properly conduct the office of public defender in each of said counties, and shall fix their salaries. All of the expenses herein referred to shall be a charge upon the county in which the public defender is employed. All appointments of deputies, clerks or other employees in the office of public defender shall be made in writing by the public defender and filed with the county clerk and may be revoked by a writing similarly filed.

SEC. 7. Said public defender shall keep a record of all ^{Report.} services rendered by him in such capacity and shall file with the board of supervisors annually a written report of said services.

SEC. 8. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the ^{Repealed.} provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 246.

An act to provide for the extension of the public works of the State of California during periods of extraordinary unemployment caused by temporary industrial depression, and regulating employment therein, and authorizing the board of control to enforce the provisions hereof; and repealing all acts inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Board of control to secure plans for extension of public works.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the board of control to ascertain and secure from the various departments, bureaus, boards, and commissions of this state tentative plans for such extension of the public works of the state as shall be best adapted to supply increased opportunities for advantageous public labor during periods of temporary unemployment; together with estimates of the amount, character, and duration of said employment, the number of employees who could be profitably used therein, together with rates of wages and such other information as the board of control shall deem necessary.

Inquiry on extraordinary unemployment.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the bureau of labor statistics in cooperation with the immigration and housing commission and the industrial welfare commission, to keep constantly advised of industrial conditions throughout the state as affecting the employment of labor; and whenever it shall be represented to the said bureau by the governor of the state, or the said bureau shall otherwise have reasons to believe, that a period of extraordinary unemployment caused by industrial depression exists in the state, it shall be the duty of the said bureau to immediately hold an inquiry into the facts relating thereto, and to find and report to the governor of the State of California whether, in fact, such condition does exist.

Extension of public works to relieve unemployment.

SEC. 3. In the event that the bureau of labor statistics shall report to the governor that a condition of extraordinary unemployment caused by industrial depression does in fact exist within this state, the said board of control is hereby authorized to make such disposition and distribution of the available emergency fund among the said several departments, bureaus, boards and commissions of the state, for such extension of the public works of the state under the charge or direction thereof, including the purchase of materials and supplies necessary therefor, as shall, in the judgment and discretion of the said board of control be best adapted to advance the public interest by providing the maximum of public employment, in relief of the existing conditions of extraordinary unemployment consistent with the most useful, permanent, and economic extension of the works aforesaid.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, immediately upon the publication, under this act, of a finding that a period of extraordinary unemployment due to industrial depression exists throughout this state, to cause to be prepared by the appropriate departments of his bureau approved lists of applicants for public employment, and to secure from such applicants, or otherwise, full information as to their industrial qualifications, and to submit the same to the board of control for transmission to such departments, bureaus, boards, and commissions as shall avail themselves of the provisions of this act; provided, however, that preference, for employment under this act shall be extended first to citizens of California; second to citizens of other states within the United States, who are within the State of California at the time of making their application; and last to aliens who are within the state at the time of making application.

List of applicants for work.

SEC. 5. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed, in so far as they are in conflict herewith.

Repealed.

CHAPTER 247.

Every person who, between the first day of November and the thirty-first day of July of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches or kills any trout in any lake within three hundred feet of the mouth of any stream flowing into any lake or within three hundred feet of the outlet of any lake, or who has in his possession any trout so taken, is guilty of a misdemeanor;

Every person who, at any time, takes, catches or kills any trout except with hook and line, said hook and line to be used in the manner commonly known as angling, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that in fish and game districts two, two and one-half, two "A" and ten not more than one trout may be taken, caught or killed by spear during any one calendar day during the entire year, except during the months of February and March. Protection of trout.

Every person who, in any fish and game district, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession during one calendar day more than twenty-five trout or more than ten pounds of trout and one trout, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that it shall be lawful to take, catch, kill or have in possession in fish and game districts one and one-half, one "A", five, six, seven "A", eight and nine, not more than five trout regardless of weight during any one calendar day between November first and December thirty-first of the same year, both dates inclusive; provided, further, that in tidewater in fish and game districts two, three and ten, five trout per day, regardless of weight, can be taken and possessed between December fifteenth and the last day of February, of the year following, both dates inclusive; provided, further, that it shall be lawful to take, catch, kill or have in possession any number of Dolly Varden trout (Salvelinus malma or Salvelinus parkeri) when such trout are taken in the open season for other trout in the same district; provided, further, that any person lawfully catching and killing trout in an open district may ship or transport the same into a closed district provided an affidavit is made before a justice of the peace or notary public in the county in which the trout are caught, and in which is set forth the date and place of catching such trout, the name and address of the consignee and consignor, and the number of the angling license of the consignee. The original of this affidavit must be attached to the shipment and a copy left on file with the justice of the peace or notary public before whom the affidavit is made; provided, further, that it shall be unlawful at any time to offer for shipment, ship or receive for shipment or transport from the State of California, any trout caught or taken in the waters of the states.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the possession and sale of steelhead and Dolly Varden trout from without the state nor the taking of any number of steelhead trout in fish and game districts five, six, seven "A" at such times and in such nets as is provided for the taking of salmon in those districts; nor the sale of such trout within the state when the same shall be inspected and tagged according to regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. The cost of such inspection and tagging must be paid by the person or persons submitting such steelhead trout or Dolly Varden trout for such inspection and tagging.

Nothing in this section shall apply to trout raised under the provisions of the act authorizing and regulating the raising and selling of domesticated trout.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the fish and game commission of this state, or persons authorized by them, from taking at all times such trout as they deem necessary for the purposes of propagation, or for scientific purposes.

Every person found guilty of a violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, or more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had not less than ten or more than one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 277.

An act to amend section four thousand three hundred seven of the Political Code, relating to county charges.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand three hundred seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4307. The following are county charges:

County
charges.

1. Charges incurred against the county by virtue of any of the provisions of this act.

2. The traveling and other personal expenses of the district attorney, incurred in criminal cases arising in the county, and in civil actions and proceedings in which the county is interested, and all other expenses necessarily incurred by him in the detection of crime and prosecution of criminal cases, and in civil actions and proceedings and all other matters in which the county is interested.

3. The expenses necessarily incurred in the support of persons charged with or convicted of crime and committed therefor to the county jail, and for other services in relation to criminal proceedings for which no specific compensation is prescribed by law.

4. The sums required by law to be paid to the grand and trial jurors and witnesses in criminal cases.

5. The accounts of the coroner of the county for such services as are not provided to be paid otherwise.

6. All charges and accounts for services rendered by any justice of the peace in the examination or trial of persons charged with crime, not otherwise provided for and allowed by law.

7. The necessary expenses incurred in the support of the county hospitals, almshouses, and the indigent sick and otherwise dependent poor, whose support is chargeable to the county.

8. The contingent expenses necessarily incurred for the use and benefit of the county.

9. Every other sum directed by law to be raised for any county purpose under the direction of the board of supervisors, or declared to be a county charge.

10. The fees of constables in criminal cases allowed by law.

11. The actual and necessary expenses of county auditors, clerks, district attorneys, assessors, sheriffs and tax collectors, incurred while traveling to and from and while attending the annual convention of their respective associations; provided, that in no event shall such expense exceed the sum of fifty dollars for each of said officers in any one year.

12. The necessary expenses other than attorney's fees incurred by county auditors and treasurers in the defense and prosecution of any action brought by, or against said officers, for the purpose of testing the validity or constitutionality of any act of the legislature providing for the payment of county funds or funds held in trust by the county.

CHAPTER 278.

An act to amend sections two and eight a of an act entitled "An act to provide for the levy and collection of taxes by and for the use of municipal corporations and cities incorporated under the laws of the State of California, except municipal corporations of the first class, and to provide for the consolidation and abolition of certain municipal offices, and to provide that their duties may be performed by certain officers of the county, and fixing the compensation to be allowed for such county officers for the services so rendered to such municipal corporations," approved March 27, 1895, as amended.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the levy and collection of taxes by and for the use of municipal corporations and cities incorporated under the laws of the State of California, except municipal corporations of the first class, and to provide for the consolidation and abolition of certain municipal offices, and to provide that their duties may be performed by certain officers of the county, and fixing the compensation to be allowed for such county officers for the services so rendered to such municipal corporations," approved March 27, 1895, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Duties of city treasurer
may be performed by county
treasurer.

Sec. 2. The board of trustees, common council, or other legislative body of any municipal corporation or city in this state, except municipal corporations of the first class, shall have the power to elect that the duties of the city treasurer of such city or municipal corporation, shall be performed by the county treasurer of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated; and whenever such board of trustees, common council or other legislative body shall by ordinance so determine such duties shall be performed by the treasurer of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated, until such ordinance is repealed. Certified copies of such ordinance and of any ordinances repealing such ordinance shall be served on the auditor, tax collector and treasurer of such county, and such ordinance shall also prescribe the manner in which money shall be drawn out of the various funds belonging to said city or municipal corporation, in the hands of the treasurer.

SEC. 2. Section eight a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8a. Whenever any municipal corporation elects or has heretofore elected to avail itself of the provisions of this act relating to the assessing and collecting by the county of taxes for such municipal corporations, redemption of property which has been sold to such municipal corporation on account of nonpayment of taxes shall be effected through the office of the county auditor.

CHAPTER 279.

An act to amend sections five, six, and twelve of an act entitled "An act regulating the employment of women and minors and establishing an industrial welfare commission to investigate and deal with such employment including minimum wage; providing for an appropriation therefor and fixing a penalty for violation of this act," approved May 26, 1913, as amended.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1913,
p. 834,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section five of an act entitled "An act regulating the employment of women and minors and establishing an industrial welfare commission to investigate and deal with such employment, including a minimum wage; providing for an appropriation therefor and fixing penalty for violation of this act," approved May 26, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. If, after investigation, the commission is of the opinion that, in any occupation, trade, or industry, the wages paid to women and minors are inadequate to supply the cost of proper living, or the hours or conditions of labor are prejudicial to the health, morals or welfare of the workers, the commission shall call a conference, hereinafter called "wage board," composed of an equal number of representatives of employers and employes in the occupation, trade, or industry in question, and a representative of the commission to be designated by it, who shall act as the chairman of the wage board. The members of such wage board shall be allowed five dollars per diem and necessary traveling expenses while engaged in such conferences. The commission shall make rules and regulations governing the number and selection of the members and the mode of procedure of such wage board, and shall exercise exclusive jurisdiction over all questions arising as to the validity of the procedure and of the recommendations of such wage board. The proceedings and deliberations of such wage board shall be made a matter of record for the use of the commission, and shall be admissible as evidence in any proceedings before the commission. On request of the commission, it shall be the duty of such wage board to report to the commission its findings, including therein:

Conference of "wage board."

1. An estimate of the minimum wage adequate to supply to women and minors engaged in the occupation, trade or industry in question, the necessary cost of proper living and to maintain the health and welfare of such women and minors.

Report of findings.

2. The number of hours of work per day in the occupation, trade or industry in question, consistent with the health and welfare of such women and minors.

3. The standard conditions of labor in the occupation, trade or industry in question, demanded by the health and welfare of such women and minors.

SEC. 2. Section six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1919, p. 302, amended.

Sec. 6. (a) The commission shall have further power after a public hearing had upon its own motion or upon petition, to fix:

Power to fix wages, hours, etc.

1. A minimum wage to be paid to women and minors engaged in any occupation, trade or industry in this state, which shall not be less than a wage adequate to supply to such women and minors the necessary cost of proper living and to maintain the health and welfare of such women and minors.

2. The maximum hours of work consistent with the health and welfare of women and minors engaged in any occupation, trade or industry in this state; provided, that the hours so fixed shall not be more than the maximum now or hereafter fixed by law.

3. The standard conditions of labor demanded by the health and welfare of the women and minors engaged in any occupation, trade or industry in this state.

Notice of
hearing.

(b) Upon the fixing of the time and place for the holding of a hearing for the purpose of considering and acting upon any matters referred to it in subsection (a) hereof, the commission shall give public notice by advertisement in at least one newspaper published in each of the cities of Los Angeles, Oakland, Sacramento, San Jose, Fresno and in the city and county of San Francisco, and shall give due notice in at least one newspaper published in each of the cities of Fresno, San Jose, Eureka, San Diego, Long Beach, Alameda, Berkeley and Stockton, and by mailing a copy of said notice to the county clerk of each county in the state to be posted at the court house of each county, or city and county, and also to each association of employers or employees and to any employer within the State of California filing with the commission a written request for such notice of such hearing and the purpose thereof, which notice shall state the time and place fixed for such hearing, which shall not be earlier than fourteen days from the date of publication and mailing of such notices.

Order
fixing wages.

(c) After such public hearing, the commission, may, in its discretion, make a mandatory order to be effective in sixty days from the publication of such order, specifying the minimum wage for women or minors in the occupation in question, the maximum hours; provided, that the hours specified shall not be more than the maximum for women or minors in California and the standard conditions of labor for said women or minors. Such order shall be published in at least one newspaper in each of the cities of Los Angeles, Sacramento, Oakland, San Jose, Fresno and in the city and county of San Francisco, and a copy thereof be mailed to the county clerk of each county in the state, and such copies shall be filed without charge. The commission shall send by mail, so far as practicable, to each employer in the occupation in question, a copy of the order, and each employer shall be required to post a copy of such order in the building in which women or minors affected by the order are employed; and it shall be the duty of the commission to send a copy of such order to each employer registering his name with the commission and requesting such order to be mailed, but failure to mail such order or notice thereof to any employer affected thereby shall not relieve such employer from the duty to comply with such order, and finding by the commission that there has been the publication and mailing to county clerks as herein provided shall be conclusive as to service.

Stats. 1915,
p. 951,
amended.

Prosecutions.

Evidence.

SEC. 3. Section twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 12. (a) In every prosecution for violation of any provision of this act, the minimum wage, the maximum hours of work and the standard conditions of labor fixed by the commission as herein provided, shall be prima facie presumed to be reasonable and lawful and to be the living wage, the maximum hours of work and standard conditions of labor required herein.

(b) The findings of fact made by the commission acting within its powers shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive; provided, that any person aggrieved directly or indirectly by any final rule or regulation of the commission made or entered under any provision contained in this act may apply to the commission for a rehearing in respect to any matters determined or covered therein or thereby and specified in the application for rehearing within twenty days after the publication thereof as herein provided. Such application for rehearing shall be verified and shall state fully the grounds upon which the application for rehearing is based. The commission upon considering any such application or applications for rehearing, may either grant the same by order and notice thereof given by mail to the party or parties applying for such rehearing, fix a time for such rehearing and reconsider its order, rule or regulation, or it may redetermine the matter upon the record before it and give such notice of its redetermination in the same manner as is herein provided for service of an original order, rule or regulation; or the commission may deny such rehearing upon the record before it, giving notice of such decision by mail to the applicant or applicants therefor. Such rehearing shall be deemed to be denied unless acted upon by the commission within thirty days after being filed. No rehearing shall be granted except on the grounds that the final order, rule or regulation was obtained as follows, that is to say—

That the commission acted without or in excess of its powers.

That the order, rule or regulation was procured by fraud.

The final determination made by the commission shall be subject to review only after application for rehearing as herein provided and the final disposition thereof by the commission, and then only in the manner and upon the grounds following:

Within twenty (20) days from the date of the service of any final order, rule or regulation, any party aggrieved thereby may commence in the superior court in and for the city and county of San Francisco or of Los Angeles or of Sacramento, or of Santa Clara, or of Alameda, or of Fresno, an action against the commission for review of its determination. In such action a complaint, which shall state the grounds upon which a review is sought, shall be served with the summons. Service upon the secretary of the commission, or any member of the commission, shall be deemed a complete service. The commission shall serve its answer within twenty (20) days after the service of the complaint, and with its answer shall make a return to the court of all documents and papers on file in the matter, and of all testimony and evidence which may have been taken before it or by it, and of its findings and decision. The action may thereupon be brought on for hearing before the court upon such record by either party on ten (10) days' notice to the other. Upon such hearing, the court may confirm or set aside the decision of the commission, but the same shall be set aside only upon the following grounds, that is to say—

1. That the commission acted without or in excess of its powers,

2. That the determination was procured by fraud.

Upon the setting aside of any decision of the commission, the court may recommit the controversy and remand the record in the case to the commission for further proceedings. The commission, or any party aggrieved, by a decree entered upon the review herein provided for, may appeal therefrom within the time and in the manner provided for an appeal from the final orders of the said superior courts.

(c) The filing of an application for a rehearing shall have the effect of suspending the order, rule or regulation affected only with respect to the party or parties applying therefor and for a period of not to exceed ten (10) days unless otherwise ordered by the commission, which shall have the power to grant a further stay upon such terms and conditions as it may direct.

CHAPTER 280.

An act providing for the selection of an area within which the state normal school at San Francisco shall be located; authorizing the board of trustees thereof to acquire by purchase, gift, condemnation or otherwise such tracts of land within said selected area as may be necessary for the uses of said school; authorizing the construction or reconstruction of suitable and necessary buildings and improvements thereon, and the purchase of necessary and appropriate furniture and equipment therefor; making an appropriation therefor, and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Selection of permanent location for San Francisco state normal school.

SECTION 1. The board of trustees of the state normal school at San Francisco are hereby authorized and empowered to determine by resolution upon a location or area within which the school shall be permanently located, subject to the written approval of the governor and board of control and to acquire for the uses of the school by gift, purchase, condemnation, or otherwise for and on behalf of the State of California such property within the location or area so determined upon, as the said board of trustees from time to time shall, by resolution, determine are necessary for the uses and purposes of the school and to improve the lands so acquired or now owned by the state within the location or area so selected in a manner suitable for its intended uses and to erect thereon all buildings and other structures and improvements necessary and proper for said school or to alter any existing structures on any of any such lands, and to remove or contract for the removal and sale of the materials of such structures as may not be suitable for normal school purposes provided, that the board of trustees shall incur no obligation for the payment of money for any of these purposes in excess of the amounts which are appropriated or provided for in this act or subsequent acts for such purposes, and provided further that the site so selected shall include the city block upon which said school is now located.

SEC. 2. The title to all property acquired by said board of trustees in pursuance of the provisions of this act shall be taken in the name of the State of California. Title in name of state

SEC. 3. Upon written notice to the attorney general of the State of California from said board of trustees, that certain real property within the area selected as herein provided as the permanent location of the said school has been declared by resolution of said board of trustees to be necessary for the uses and purposes of the state normal school at San Francisco, and can not be obtained from the owner or owners thereof for a reasonable consideration, the attorney general shall commence in the name of the State of California, and prosecute to final judgment, condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of such property. Condemnation proceedings.

The said board is also authorized and empowered to provide and purchase such furniture, fixtures, apparatus and other things as may be required for the proper equipment of said buildings and grounds for conducting said normal school.

SEC. 4. The act entitled "An act to authorize and empower the board of trustees of the San Francisco State Normal School to sell or exchange and convey the lands and buildings of said school; to acquire by purchase, gift, condemnation or otherwise a new site for said school and to erect thereon buildings suitable and appropriate therefor, or to remodel or reconstruct any building already erected on the site so purchased or acquired, and to purchase therefor necessary and appropriate furniture and equipment; to create a fund into which shall be paid the proceeds of the sale of the present school property and making an appropriation to carry out the purposes of this act," approved January 11, 1916, as amended by an act, entitled "An act to amend sections three, six and seven of an act entitled 'An act to authorize and empower the board of trustees of the San Francisco State Normal School to sell or exchange and convey the lands and buildings of said school; to acquire by purchase, gift, condemnation or otherwise a new site for said school and to erect thereon buildings suitable and appropriate therefor, or to remodel or reconstruct any buildings already erected on the site so purchased or acquired, and to purchase therefor necessary and appropriate furniture and equipment; to create a fund into which shall be paid the proceeds of the sale of the present school property and mak-

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred seventy of the Political Code, relating to duties of county boards of education.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred seventy of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Meetings of county board of education.

1770. (1) Each county board of education shall meet semiannually at such time as they may determine. Special meetings may be called by the superintendent whenever, in his judgment, the exigencies of the schools may require them to be held. Upon the request of any three members, in writing, the superintendent shall call a special meeting. Notice of all semiannual meetings shall be given by the secretary at least ten days prior to the time of meeting. No business shall be transacted at a special meeting, except as provided in subdivision two of this section, other than such as may be specified in the call of the secretary.

Semiannual meetings.

(2) At the semiannual meetings only, the board shall examine applicants for certificates to teach in the public schools. All examination papers for teachers' certificates shall be kept on file in the office of the superintendent of schools for at least one year, and shall be open for the inspection of the applicants or their authorized agents. Certificates upon credentials may be granted, and unexpired certificates may be renewed, at any meeting of the board.

Compensation.

(3) The board of supervisors shall allow to each member of the county board of education a compensation of five dollars a day for his services, and the same rate of mileage as is allowed to the members of the board of supervisors of the county; provided, however, that in the event that the members of the board of supervisors of any county are not allowed mileage, the board of supervisors of such county shall allow to each member of the county board of education of that county actual and necessary traveling expenses not to exceed twenty-five cents per mile one way in attending the meetings of the board. The secretary shall be allowed the sum of five dollars per day for the actual time that the board may be in session: said compensation of the members of the board, and of the superintendent, shall be payable out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid.

Expenses

(4) All expenses for printing required by the county board of education, and all incidental expenses incurred for stationery or other purposes in the performance of their duties, shall be audited and paid as other claims against the general fund of the county are paid.

CHAPTER 298.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred eighty-one of the Political Code, relating to the salaries, fees and expenses of officers in counties of the fifty-second class.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred eighty-one of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

11. The superintendent of schools, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county, and the sum of five dollars per day for each day's services on the board of education; said sum, together with the traveling expenses, to be allowed and paid the same as other county charges are allowed and paid; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the superintendent of schools one deputy to be appointed by him for two months in each year at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, said salary to be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid.

Surveyor.

12. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

Justices of peace.

13. Justices of the peace in counties of this class shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same funds as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them: in townships having a population of more than one thousand, fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than five hundred and less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than five hundred, ten dollars per month. The board of supervisors of such counties shall furnish and supply to the justices of the peace of the various townships in such counties the codes of the state and amendments thereto and all necessary stationery, legal blanks and forms for the proper conduct of business.

Constables.

14. Constables shall receive the following salaries to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: (1) In townships having a population of five hundred or more, twenty dollars per month; (2) in townships, having a population of less than five hundred, ten dollars per month; provided further, that in addition to the salary herein allowed, each constable shall be paid out of the treasury of the county for traveling expenses outside of his own township, for service of a warrant of arrest or any other paper in a criminal case, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law. For serving a coroner's subpoena the same fees and mileage as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for the service of a subpoena issued out of a justice's court. CHAPTER 300.

An act to amend section three thousand eight hundred ninety-seven of the Political Code, relating to the sale of property for delinquent taxes.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand eight hundred ninety-seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sale of property for delinquent taxes.

Notice.

3897. Whenever the state shall have become the owner of any property sold for taxes and the deed to the state has been filed with the controller as provided in section three thousand seven hundred eighty-five, the controller may thereupon by a written authorization direct the tax collector of the county or city and county to sell the property or any part thereof as in his judgment he shall deem advisable in the manner following: He must give notice of such sale by first publishing a notice for at least three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county or city and county, or if there be no newspaper published therein, then by posting a notice in three conspicuous places in the county or city and county, one of which shall be at the United States post office, nearest the land, in addition to a notice conspicuously posted on the land itself for the same period. Such notices must state specifically the place of and the day and hour of sale and shall contain a description of the property to be sold and shall also contain a detailed statement of all the delinquent taxes, penalties, costs, interest, graduated penalties required under section three thousand eight hundred seventeen as if redemption were to be made, and expenses up to the date of such sale and shall give the name of the person to whom the property was assessed for each year on which there may be delinquent taxes against said property or any part thereof and said notice shall embody a copy of the authorization received from the controller. It shall be the duty of the tax collector to mail within five days after the publication of said notice of sale a copy of said notice, postage thereon prepaid and registered, to the party to whom the land was last assessed next before the sale, at his last known post-office address twenty-one days before the date of sale thereunder. At the time set for such sale, the tax collector must sell the property described in the controller's authorization and said notices, at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States; but no bid shall be received or accepted at such sale for less than the amount of all the taxes levied upon such property and all costs and penalties for every year delinquent as shown by the delinquent rolls for said years and also all tax liens up to the date of the execution of the deed to the state and all expenses accrued to the date of the sale under this section, together with interest at seven per cent per annum and also the graduated redemption penalties required under section three thousand eight hundred seventeen computed upon the aggregate amount of the taxes for each year delinquent from the first day of July following delinquency in each of said years to the date of the sale hereunder; provided, however, that if the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county, in which any such property is situate, shall, by resolution entered upon their minutes, declare that, in their judgment, the property so owned by the state, and particularly described in said resolution, is not at that time of value great enough that it can be sold by the state for a sum equal to the amount of all taxes levied upon said property, and all interests, costs and penalties and expenses up to the date of such sale, and that it would be to the best interest of the state to sell the said property for a sum to be stated in said resolution, less than the sum above named, upon receipt of a copy of said resolution, certified by the clerk of said board or supervisors, the state controller may thereupon, by written authorization, direct the tax collector of the county, or city and county, to sell the said property so described in said resolution for a sum not less than the sum so stated in said resolution, together with expenses of sale. The expense of giving the notice herein required shall be a charge against the property so advertised, and shall be collected by the collector, and no redemption of such property before said sale may be had without payment of such cost of advertising; and to secure the payment of such advertising cost the collector shall demand in advance from the party or parties seeking to purchase, a deposit with said officer of a sum sufficient to defray such cost of advertising, which deposit shall be forfeited in the event said party or parties fail or refuse to highest bidder.

Expense of
notice.

purchase at such sale; provided, that if the party or parties so depositing fail to secure such property on their bid, such deposit shall be returned, and such advertising cost shall be collected from the successful purchaser; provided also, that if the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county, in which the property is situated shall by resolution entered upon the minutes, direct the tax collector to apply for an authorization of sale of any property which has been deeded to the state, and shall authorize him to order the necessary advertising to be done at county expense, the tax collector shall thereupon proceed as though a deposit had been made to cover advertising costs, and shall add a proportionate part of the total expense of advertising to the amount of taxes, penalties and interest chargeable against each tract or parcel sold. In any case in which no sale is made, the advertising shall be charged and paid as are other county charges.

CHAPTER 301.

An act providing for the creation of county boards of trade and county chambers of commerce in the several counties of the state by the boards of supervisors thereof; providing for the appointment of the members of such boards; providing for the powers and duties of such boards and providing for the compensation and expenses of the members thereof.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Creation of county board of trade or chamber of commerce.

SECTION 1. The board of supervisors of any county in the State of California is hereby authorized to create a body for the purpose of advising and assisting the board of supervisors of such county in the matter of advertising, exploiting and making known the resources of such county, for the purpose of inducing immigration to, increasing trade and commerce in such county, or for exhibiting or advertising the agricultural, mineral, manufacturing and other resources of such county. Such body shall be known as the county board of trade of such county or the county chamber of commerce of such county according to the discretion of such board of supervisors. Such body shall consist of one member from each supervisorial district of such county and the members thereof shall be appointed by the board of supervisors of such county. The members of such county board of trade or county chamber of commerce shall hold office at the pleasure of the board of supervisors.

Rules.

SEC. 2. The board of supervisors of any county creating a county board of trade or county chamber of commerce under the provisions of this act shall adopt and prescribe rules for the conducting of the affairs of said board of trade or chamber of commerce providing that such rules shall in no way conflict with the laws of the State of California, nor usurp the powers vested by law in any of the offices of the county.

SEC. 3. It shall be the power and the duty of such county board of trade or county chamber of commerce, under the direction of the board of supervisors to advertise, exploit and make known the resources of the county for the purpose of inducing immigration to, increasing the trade and commerce of said county, and exhibit and advertise the agricultural, mineral, manufacturing and other resources of the county, and, when directed by the board of supervisors of such county, collect, prepare and maintain an exhibit of the products and industries of the county at any domestic or foreign exposition, for the purpose of encouraging immigration and increasing trade in the products of the State of California.

Powers and duties.

SEC. 4. The board of supervisors of any county in the State of California creating a board of trade or county chamber of commerce under the provisions of this act is hereby authorized to appoint a secretary to the county board of trade or county chamber of commerce. The board of supervisors is hereby authorized to fix the salary of such secretary, which salary shall be paid from the advertising fund of such county, upon a warrant as county officers are paid.

Secretary.

SEC. 5. The board of supervisors in any county in the state creating a county board of trade or a county chamber of commerce under the provisions of this act may allow the members of such body their necessary traveling expenses actually incurred while discharging their duties under the provisions of this act.

Traveling expenses.

CHAPTER 302.

An act reappropriating money for the purpose of refunding to real estate brokers and salesmen the amounts collected by the State of California under the provisions of chapter seven hundred fifty-eight, statutes of 1917, which chapter was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, and making provision for the disbursement of the moneys so appropriated.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of twenty-nine thousand four hundred ninety-five dollars and sixty-six cents remaining in the state treasury known as the real estate commissioner's fund, created under the provisions of the real estate commissioner's act approved June 1, 1917, is hereby reappropriated and made available for the refunding of license fees collected under the provisions of said act.

Appropriation refund to real estate brokers and salesmen.

SEC. 2. The state controller shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the state real estate commissioner for the amount hereby appropriated, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The state real estate commissioner shall mail his check to each real estate broker and salesman of record and the cancelled checks of the said commissioner shall constitute a sufficient voucher for the payment of the claims of the several persons for whose benefit this appropriation is made.

CHAPTER 303.

An act to reserve all minerals in state lands; to provide for examination, classification and report on the mineral and other character of state lands; to provide for the granting of permits and leases to prospect for and take any such minerals; to provide for the rents and royalties to be paid, and granting certain preference rights; to provide for the making of rules, regulations and contracts necessary to carry out the purposes of this act; and repealing acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith; providing for an appropriation to defray the cost of administering this act.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Minerals in state lands reserved to
state.

SECTION 1. All coal, oil, oil shale, gas, phosphate, sodium, and other mineral deposits in lands belonging to the state, or which may become the property of the state, are hereby reserved to the state; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall apply to lands acquired by the state on a sale of delinquent taxes, except such land, the deed for which is required to be filed in the surveyor general's office. Such deposits are reserved from sale except upon a rental and royalty basis, as herein provided for; and a purchaser of any lands belonging to the state, or which may become the property of the state, shall acquire no right, title or interest in, or to, such deposits except as hereinafter expressly provided; and the right of such purchaser shall be subject to the reservation of all coal, oil, oil shale, gas, phosphate, sodium, and other mineral deposits, and to the conditions and limitations prescribed by law providing for the state and persons authorized by it to prospect for, mine, and remove such deposits, and to occupy and use so much of the surface of said land as may be required for all purposes reasonably extending to the mining and removal of such deposits therefrom.

Reservation
in sales.

SEC. 2. All applications to purchase state lands which may be filed subsequent to the passage of this act, and all sales shall be subject to and contain a reservation to the state of one-sixteenth of all coal, oil, gas, and other mineral deposits in all land so acquired, as hereinafter provided for, and all certificates of purchase and patents issued therefor, shall contain such reservation.

SEC. 3. The surveyor general may from time to time classify any or all state land for its different possible values and uses, and, when he deems it advisable, may require the state mineralogist, director of agriculture or other organization, agency or institution of the state government to make such classification. It is hereby expressly made the duty of any such officer, organization, agency or institution to make such classification and to render a report thereon upon the application of the surveyor general. Classification of lands.

SEC. 4. The surveyor general is hereby authorized, upon the payment to him of fifty cents per acre, for each acre in area embraced within the boundaries of the lands proposed to be prospected and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, to grant to any person or association of persons, who are residents of the State of California and citizens of the United States or who have declared their intention of becoming such, or corporations ninety per cent of whose stockholders are citizens of the United States a prospecting permit, which shall give the exclusive right, for a period not exceeding two years, to prospect for oil or gas, upon not exceeding six hundred forty acres of land wherein such deposits of oil or gas belong to the state and are not within any known geological structure of a producing oil or gas field, upon condition that the permittee shall begin drilling operations within six months from the date of the permit, and shall within one year from and after the date of the permit, drill one or more wells for oil or gas to a depth of not less than one thousand feet each, unless valuable deposits of oil or gas shall be sooner discovered, and shall, within two years from date of the permit, drill for oil or gas to an aggregate depth of not less than two thousand feet unless valuable deposits of oil or gas shall be sooner discovered. The surveyor general may, if he shall find that the permittee has been unable with the exercise of diligence to test the land in the time granted by the permit, extend any such permit for such time, not exceeding two years, and upon such conditions as he shall prescribe. Whether the lands sought in any such application and permit are surveyed or unsurveyed the applicant shall, prior to filing his application for permit, locate such land in a reasonably compact form and according to the legal subdivisions of the public land surveys if the land be surveyed; and in an approximately square or rectangular tract, if the land be an unsurveyed tract, the length of which shall not exceed two and one-half times its width; the land to be surveyed by the surveyor general at the expense of the applicant for the permit in such form as the surveyor general shall deem to be to the best interest of the state; provided, however, that in case of prospecting permits and leases to river beds, lake beds, overflowed, tide and submerged lands, the width or length Prospecting permits for oil and gas.

of the prospecting permit or lease along the shore line, measured on an east and west or north and south line, shall not exceed one-quarter mile. If the applicant shall cause to be erected upon the land for which a permit is sought a monument not less than four feet high, at some conspicuous place thereon, and shall post a notice in writing on or near said monument, stating that an application for permit will be made within thirty days after the date of posting said notice, giving the name of the applicant, the date of the notice, and such a general description of the land to be covered by such permit by reference to courses and distances from such monument and such other natural objects and permanent monument as will reasonably identify the land, stating the amount thereof in acres, he shall during the period of thirty days following such marking and posting, be entitled to a preference right over others to a permit for the land so identified; provided, however, that applicant shall, as a part of his application for a permit, show that within two days after the posting of the said notice, he recorded a copy of the same in the county recorder's office of the county in which the said land is situated. The applicant shall, within ninety days after receiving a permit, mark each of the corners of the tract described in the permit upon the ground with substantial monuments, so that the boundaries can be readily traced on the ground, and shall post in a conspicuous place upon the lands a notice that such permit has been granted and a description of the lands covered thereby; provided, however, that where the boundaries of the land sought to be prospected or developed under lease are wholly or partially in river or lake beds, overflowed, tide and submerged lands, the notice shall be conspicuously posted on a monument as close to a corner of the land as possible and shall specifically describe the area to be developed by courses and distances so that the limits of the area can be easily determined; provided further, however, that in no case shall permits or leases be granted covering tide, overflowed or submerged lands fronting on an incorporated city, or for a distance of one mile on either side thereof; provided further, however, that in case of an application for a permit or a lease covering tide, overflowed or submerged land by anyone other than the littoral or riparian proprietor, said littoral or riparian proprietor shall have six months within which to file an application for a permit or lease, but if said littoral or riparian proprietor fails to comply with the requirements of this act and its rules and regulations made in pursuance hereof, his preferential rights shall thereupon cease and forever be terminated, and the original applicant shall be permitted to proceed with his application.

Lease.

SEC. 5. Upon establishing to the satisfaction of the surveyor general that valuable deposits of oil or gas have been discovered within the limits of the land embraced in any permit, the permittee shall be entitled to a lease for one-fourth of the land embraced in the prospecting permit; provided, that the permittee shall be granted a lease for as much as one hundred sixty acres of said lands, if there be that number of acres within the permit. The area to be selected by the permittee shall be in compact form and if surveyed, to be described by the legal subdivision of the public land surveys; if unsurveyed, to be surveyed by the surveyor general at the expense of the applicant for lease in accordance with rules and regulations to be prescribed by the surveyor general, and the lands leased shall be conformed to and taken in accordance with the legal subdivisions of such surveys; deposits made to cover expense of survey shall be deemed appropriated for that purpose, and any excess deposit may be repaid to the person or persons making such deposits or their legal representative. Such lease shall be for a term of twenty years upon a royalty of five per centum in amount or value of the production and the annual payment in advance of a rental of one dollar per acre, the rental paid for any one year to be credited against the royalties as they accrue for that year, with the right of renewal as prescribed in section eight hereof. The permittee shall also be entitled to a preference right to a lease for the remainder of the land in his prospecting permit at a royalty of not less than twelve and one-half per centum in amount or value of the production, and under such other conditions as are fixed for oil or gas leases in this act. the bonus and royalty to be determined by competitive bidding or fixed by such other method as the surveyor general may by regulations prescribe; provided, that the surveyor general shall have the right to reject any and all bids.

Royalty.

SEC. 6. Until the permittee shall apply for lease to the one quarter of the permit area heretofore provided for he shall pay to the State of California twenty per centum of the gross value of all oil or gas secured by him from the lauds embraced within his permit and sold or otherwise disposed of, or held by him for sale or other disposition.

Payment of percentage of value.

SEC. 7. All permits and leases of lands containing oil or gas, made or issued under the provisions of this act, shall be subject to the condition that no wells shall be drilled within two hundred feet of any of the outer boundaries of the lands so permitted or leased, unless the adjoining lands have been patented or the title thereto otherwise vested in private owners, and to the further condition that the permittee or lessee will, in conducting his explorations and mining operations, use all reasonable precautions to prevent waste of oil or gas developed in the land, or the entrance of water through wells drilled by him to the oil sands or oil bearing strata, to the destruction or injury of the oil deposits. Violations of the provisions of this section shall constitute grounds for the forfeiture of the permit or lease, to be enforced through appropriate proceedings in courts of competent jurisdiction.

Conditions of permits and lease.

Lease of unappropriated deposits to highest bidder.

SEC. 8. All unappropriated deposits of oil or gas situated within the known geologic structure of a producing oil or gas field and the unentered lands containing the same not subject to preferential lease, may be leased by the surveyor general to the highest responsible bidder by competitive bidding under general regulations to qualified applicants in areas not exceeding six hundred forty acres and in tracts which shall not exceed in length two and one-half times the width, the surveyed land to be leased according to legal subdivisions, the unsurveyed land to be surveyed by the surveyor general, at the expense of the lessee, in such form as the surveyor general shall deem to be to the best interest of the state; provided, however, that in case of leases to river bed, lake bed, overflowed, tide and submerged lands, the width or length of the lease along the shore line, measured on an east and west or north and south line, shall not exceed one-quarter mile, such leases to be conditioned upon the payment by the lessee of such bonus as may be accepted and of such royalty as may be fixed in the lease, which shall not be less than twelve and one-half per centum in amount or value of the production, and the payment in advance of a rental of not less than one dollar per acre per annum thereafter during the continuance of the lease, the rental paid for any one year to be credited against the royalties as they accrue for that year. Leases shall be for a period of twenty years, with the preferential right in the lessee to renew the same for successive periods of ten years upon such reasonable terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the surveyor general, unless otherwise provided by law at the time of the expiration of such periods.

Bonus and royalty.

Term.

Reduction of royalty.

Whenever the average daily production of any oil well shall not exceed ten barrels per day, the surveyor general is authorized to reduce the royalty on future production when in his judgment the wells can not be successfully operated upon the royalty fixed in the lease. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to all oil and gas leases made under this act.

Prospecting for other minerals.

SEC. 9. The right to prospect, and lease lands containing any other minerals shall be acquired in a similar manner as the right to prospect for and develop oil and gas, under such reasonable and proper rules and regulations, as the surveyor general shall from time to time prescribe.

SEC. 10. For the purpose, however, of promoting the sale of state land, and the more active cooperation of the owner of the soil, and to facilitate the development of its mineral resources the state hereby constitutes the purchaser of the soil, its agent for the purposes herein named and in consideration hereof, relinquishes to and vests in the purchaser of state lands an undivided fifteen-sixteenths of all oil and gas and the value of the same that may be upon or within any state land purchased after the passage of this act. The purchaser of the soil is hereby authorized to sell or lease to any person, firm or corporation the oil and gas and other minerals that may be thereon or therein upon such terms and conditions as such purchaser and owner may deem best, subject, however, to the provisions of this act and the reservations herein contained; and provided, further, that the lessee or purchaser shall in every case pay to the state an undivided one-sixteenth of the mineral produced or the value thereof at the well or mine as may be determined by the surveyor general; provided further, however, that upon the discovery of oil or gas in paying quantities on adjoining lands the purchaser shall within three months thereafter begin or cause to be started the drilling of a well upon his land, which drilling shall be continuous, as may be provided for by appropriate rules and regulations, prescribed by the surveyor general.

SEC. 11. The surveyor general shall reserve and may exercise the authority to cancel any prospecting permit or lease upon failure by the permittee to exercise due diligence and care in the prosecution of the prospecting work in accordance with the terms and conditions stated in the permit or lease and shall insert in every such permit or lease issued under the provisions of this act appropriate provisions for its cancellation by him. Cancellation of permit or lease

SEC. 12. No person, association or corporation, shall take or hold, under the terms of this act, more than one oil or gas permit or lease; no corporation shall hold any interest as a stockholder of another corporation in more than one lease and no person or corporation shall take or hold any interest or interests as a member of an association or associations or as a stockholder of a corporation or corporations holding a lease under the provisions hereof, which, together with the area embraced in any direct holding of a lease, under this act, or which, together with any other interest or interests as a member of an association or associations or as a stockholder of a corporation or corporations holding a lease under the provisions hereof, for any kind of mineral leased hereunder, exceeds in the aggregate an amount equivalent to the maximum number of acres of the respective kinds of minerals allowed to any one lessee under this act. Any interest held in violation of this act shall be forfeited to the State of California by appropriate proceedings for that purpose in the superior court for the county in which the property, or some part thereof, is located, except that any ownership or interest forbidden in this act which may be acquired by descent, will, judgment, or decree may be held for two years and not longer after its acquisition; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to limit or to prevent any number of lessees under the provisions of this act from combining their several interests so far as may be necessary for the purposes of constructing and carrying on the business of a refinery, or of establishing and constructing as a common carrier a pipe line or lines of railroads to be operated and used by them jointly in the transportation of oil from their several wells, or from the wells of other lessees under this act, or the transportation of coal; pro- Only one permit or lease to each person or corporation.

Forfeiture of interest.

vided, further, that if any of the lands or deposits leased under the provisions of this act shall be subleased, trusteeed, possessed, or controlled by any device permanently, temporarily, directly, indirectly, tacitly, or in any manner whatsoever, so that they form part of, or are in anywise controlled by any combination in the form of an unlawful trust, with consent of lessee, or form the subject of any contract or conspiracy in restraint of trade in the mining or selling of coal, phosphate, oil, oil shale, gas, or sodium entered into by the lessee, or any agreement or understanding, written, verbal, or otherwise to which such lessee shall be a party, of which his or its output is to be or become the subject, to control the price or prices thereof or of any holding of such lands by any individual, partnership, association, corporation, or control in excess of the amounts of lands provided in this act, the lease thereof shall be forfeited by appropriate court proceedings.

Rights of way for pipe-line purposes.

SEC. 13. Rights of way through all state lands are hereby granted for pipe-line purposes for the transportation of oil or natural gas to any applicant possessing the qualifications provided in section four of this act, to the extent of the ground occupied by the said pipe line and twenty-five feet on each side of the same under such regulations as to survey, location, application, and use as may be prescribed by the surveyor general and upon the express condition that such pipe lines shall be constructed, operated, and maintained as common carriers; provided, that the surveyor general shall in express terms reserve and shall provide in every lease of oil lands hereunder that the lessee, assignee, or beneficiary, if owner or operator or owner of a controlling interest in any pipe line or of any company operating the same which may be operated accessible to the oil derived from lands under such lease, shall at reasonable rates and without discrimination accept and convey the oil of the state or of any citizen or company not the owner of any pipe line, operating a lease or purchasing gas or oil under the provisions of this act; provided, that no right of way shall hereafter be granted over said lands for the transportation of oil or natural gas except under and subject to the provisions, limitations, and conditions of this section. Failure to comply with the provisions of this section or the regulations prescribed by the surveyor general shall be ground for forfeiture of the grant by appropriate proceedings prosecuted in the superior court for the county in which the property, or some part thereof, is located; and provided, further, that all of the rights and privileges as are now, or as may hereafter be provided by law, respecting the acquisition of rights of ingress, egress and regress over the property of another, by proceedings in eminent domain, are hereby expressly given to a permittee or lessee so that such permittee or lessee may carry on the operations contemplated under the terms of this act.

SEC. 14. Any permit, lease, occupation, or use permitted under this act shall reserve to the surveyor general the right to permit upon such terms as he may determine to be just, for joint or several use, such easements or rights of way, including easements in tunnels upon, through, or in the lands leased, occupied, or used as may be necessary or appropriate to the working of the same or of other lands containing the deposits described in this act, and the treatment and shipment of the products thereof by or under authority of the state, its lessees, or permittees, and for other public purposes; provided, that said surveyor general, in his discretion, in making any lease under this act, may reserve to the state the right to lease, sell, or otherwise dispose of the surface of the lands embraced within such lease under existing law or laws hereafter enacted, in so far as said surface is not necessary for use of the lessee in extracting and removing the deposits therein; provided, further, that if such reservation is made it shall be so determined before the offering of such lease; and provided, further, that the said surveyor general, during the life of the lease, is authorized to issue such permits for easements herein provided to be reserved.

Right reserved to surveyor general to permit rights of way.

SEC. 15. No lease issued under the authority of this act shall be assigned or sublet, except with the consent of the surveyor general. The lessee may, in the discretion of the surveyor general, be permitted at any time to make written relinquishment of all rights under such a lease and upon acceptance thereof be thereby relieved of all future obligations under said lease, and may with like consent surrender any legal subdivision of the area included within the lease. Each lease shall contain provisions for the purpose of insuring the exercise of reasonable diligence, skill, and care in the operation of said property; a provision that such rules for the safety and welfare of the miners and for the prevention of undue waste as may be prescribed by said surveyor general shall be observed, including a restriction of the workday to not exceeding eight hours in any one day for underground workers except in cases of emergency; provisions prohibiting the employment of any boy under the age of sixteen or the employment of any girl or woman, without regard to age, in any mine below the surface; provisions securing the workmen complete freedom of purchase; provision requiring the payment of wages at least twice a month in lawful money of the United States, and providing proper rules and regulations to insure the fair and just weighing or measurement of the coal mined by each miner, and such other provisions as he may deem necessary to insure the sale of the production of such leased lands to the public at reasonable prices, for the protection of the interests of the state, for the prevention of monopoly, and for the safeguarding of the public welfare.

Conditions of lease.

SEC. 16. Any permit or lease issued under the provisions of this act may be forfeited and canceled by an appropriate proceeding in the superior court for the county in which the property, or some part thereof is located, whenever the lessee or permittee fails to comply with any of the provisions of the permit or the lease, or of the general regulations promulgated under this act and in force at the date of the lease or permit; and the lease may provide for resort to appropriate methods for the settlement of disputes or for remedies for breach of specified conditions thereof.

Action to forfeit permit or lease.

Trespass.

SEC. 17. Any person, or association of persons, corporate or otherwise, who enters or has entered upon any land or lands coming under the provisions of this act, and who is holding, or attempting to hold or develop, any such land, is guilty of a trespass, and the claims being exerted are hereby declared to be null and void, and any property placed upon the said land is hereby declared forfeited to the state, and the surveyor general is hereby authorized and empowered to issue a prospector's permit or lease on the said land to any qualified claimant who shall comply with the provisions of this act after it becomes effective; provided, however, that the surveyor general may, and he is hereby expressly authorized and empowered to grant a lease, on a royalty of twelve and one-half per centum of the production, to any qualified person, or association of persons, corporate or otherwise, who shall apply therefor within three months after the passage of this act, and who, at least six months prior to the passage of this act, was operating a producing well or wells, or who was drilling the same, or actually mining for or otherwise developing the mineral products on the said area of lands; provided, further, however, that in case of such a lease the area shall be limited to that which is necessary for the operation of the wells or mines, and the surveyor general shall have the right to call for competitive bids for the lease or leases upon the surrounding area of land as hereinbefore provided for.

Powers of surveyor general.

SEC. 18. The surveyor general of the state is authorized to prescribe necessary and proper rules and regulations and to do any and all things necessary to carry out and accomplish the purposes of this act, also to fix and determine the boundary lines of any structure, or oil or gas field, for the purpose of this act.

Disposition of moneys.

SEC. 19. All moneys received by the surveyor general under the provisions of this act from rents, fees, bonuses and royalties accruing from the use of state school land shall be paid into the "school fund," all other moneys received under the provisions of this act shall be deposited in the "general fund."

Appropriation

SEC. 20. For the purposes of administering this act, there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of ten thousand dollars to be expended by the surveyor general, and the state controller is directed to draw his warrant in favor of the person or persons entitled to the same, upon demand of the surveyor general approved by the board of control, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

SEC. 21. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 22. All acts and parts of acts, inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

Repealed.

CHAPTER 304.

An act making an appropriation for the construction and maintenance of fire lanes and trails on the mountains composing the watersheds of Los Angeles county.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of twenty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which money shall be used and expended for the purpose of cooperating with the county of Los Angeles in the construction and maintenance of fire lanes and fire trails on the mountains composing the watersheds of Los Angeles county which are not included within the area of a national forest.

Appropriation: fire trails, Los Angeles county.

SEC. 2. The state board of control is authorized to enter into a contract with the county of Los Angeles on behalf of the State of California and the board of supervisors of the county of Los Angeles is authorized to enter into a contract with the state board of control on behalf of the county of Los Angeles whereby the county of Los Angeles agrees to construct and maintain fire lanes and fire trails on the mountains composing the watersheds of said county which are not included within the area of a national forest and to expend thereon, during each of the seventy-third and seventy-fourth fiscal years, an amount in said contract to be agreed upon. One-half of the said amount to be expended shall be furnished by the county of Los Angeles from its general fund and one-half shall be furnished to the county of Los Angeles by the State of California on the order of the state board of control; provided, however, that the sum to be furnished by the state shall not exceed, in either of said fiscal years, the sum of ten thousand dollars.

Contract with Los Angeles county.

SEC. 3. The state controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrants in favor of Los Angeles county in an amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars in each of the seventy-third and seventy-fourth fiscal years, upon receipt of a statement from the state board of control that a contract has been entered into under the provisions of this act and that the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county has appropriated and agreed to expend an amount equal to that furnished by the state.

Any part of the sums hereby appropriated may, with the consent of the governing body thereof expressed by resolution, be expended within the limits of any municipal corporation.

CHAPTER 305.

An act making an appropriation to meet the expenses of compiling, printing and distributing constitutional amendments.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
printing constitutional amendments.

SECTION 1. The sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended in accordance with law for the compilation, printing and distribution of constitutional amendments to be submitted to the people during the seventy-third and seventy-fourth fiscal years.

CHAPTER 306.

An act to pay the claim of George Milias, John Raden, and Louis Cupich for judgment rendered in their favor against the State of California.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
claim of George Milias,
John Raden,
Louis Cupich.

SECTION 1. The sum of two hundred eighty-seven dollars and fifty-eight cents is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the claim of George Milias, John Raden, and Louis Cupich for judgment rendered in their favor against the State of California as entered February 3, A. D. 1919, in book eighteen of judgments, at page two hundred fifty-three, in department one of the superior court in the county of Santa Clara.

CHAPTER 307.

An act to provide for the assessment, levy and collection of taxes for the support of the state government for the seventy-third and seventy-fourth fiscal years.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The state board of equalization shall, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July in the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, for the support of the state government assess and levy taxes upon the property in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as provided for in the subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d), of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California, or if any rate of taxation shall have been changed by the legislature pursuant to subdivision (f) of said section and article, then upon such rate of taxation as so changed and fixed, for the purpose of raising the sum of forty million four hundred thousand dollars for annual expenditure for the support of the state government for the seventy-third fiscal year, and in the event that the taxes so assessed and levied, together with all available revenues other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, shall not raise said sum of forty million four hundred thousand dollars, then said above named revenues shall be deemed insufficient to meet the annual expenditures of the state for the seventy-third fiscal year, which deficiency is hereby declared to be the difference between the amount of taxes assessed and levied upon the property and in the manner and upon the rates of taxation hereinbefore specified, together with all other state revenues, other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, and said sum of forty million four hundred thousand dollars, then said state board of equalization, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (e) of said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California, at the time provided in section three thousand six hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, shall fix such an ad valorem rate of taxation for the said seventy-third fiscal year upon each one hundred dollars in value of taxable property, upon all the property in the State of California not exempt from taxation under the law and subject to taxation for state purposes on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, as, after allowing five per cent for delinquencies, will raise for said seventy-third fiscal year the amount of said deficiency.

Assessment
and levy
of state taxes.

Sum to be raised for 73d fiscal year.

Ad valorem
tax.

Sec. 2. The state board of equalization shall, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July in the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, for the support of the state government, assess and levy taxes upon the property in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as provided for in subdivisions (a), (b), (c) and (d) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California, or if any rate of taxation shall have been changed by the legislature pursuant to subdivision (f) of said section and article, then upon such rate of taxation as so changed and fixed by the laws now in force, for the purpose of raising the sum of forty-one million one hundred thousand dollars for annual expenditure for the support of the state government for the seventy-fourth fiscal year; and in the event that the taxes so assessed and levied, together with all available revenues other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, shall not raise the said sum of forty-one million one hundred thousand dollars, then said above named revenues shall be deemed insufficient to meet the annual expenditures of the state for the seventy-fourth fiscal year, which deficiency is hereby declared to be the difference between the amount of taxes assessed and levied upon the property and in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as hereinbefore specified, together with all other state revenues, other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, and said sum of forty-one million one hundred thousand dollars, then said state board of equalization, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (e) of said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California, at the time provided in section three thousand six hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, shall fix such an ad valorem rate of taxation for said seventy-fourth fiscal year upon each one hundred dollars in value of taxable property, upon all the property of the State of California not exempt from taxation under the law and subject to taxation for state purposes on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, as, after allowing five per cent for delinquencies, will raise for said seventy-fourth fiscal year, the amount of said deficiency.

Sum to be raised for 74th fiscal year.

Ad valorem tax.

Tax to meet deficiency levied on all property.

In effect immediately.

SEC. 3. Any tax so levied and collected to meet a deficiency in state revenues for either of said fiscal years shall be assessed, levied and collected on all property in the state, not exempt from taxation, including the classes of property enumerated in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, under the provisions of the Political Code relating to the assessment, levy and collection of state and county taxes as said provisions were in force on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten.

SEC. 4. This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy for the usual current expenses of the state, shall, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

He shall at all times be subject to the orders of the board of supervisors. The office of the county surveyor shall be kept open for the accommodation of the public, with the surveyor, a deputy, or a competent clerk in charge from nine o'clock a.m. until five o'clock p.m., the same as other county offices. The county surveyor shall be allowed the services of a competent clerk, to be appointed by the principal, and receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the same fund, at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid. Such compensation and salaries as above set forth shall be in full for all services as such county surveyor, and all fees and compensation received or collected by him for services other than for the county, shall be paid into the county treasury. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

Classification of townships.

13. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the total number of registered voters, in each township, at the next preceding general election, prior to the fixing of the classification, the said population to be determined by multiplying the said total number of registered voters by three and one-half; townships having a population of fifteen thousand and more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of eight thousand and less than fifteen thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of three thousand and less than eight thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of one thousand and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of less than one thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class; provided, that the board of supervisors of the county may, prior to any general election, consolidate two or more of such townships into one.

the peace.

13a. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred seventy-five dollars per month; provided, that in townships of this class the board of supervisors may by ordinance provide for the appointment of a clerk and fix his compensation. He shall have authority to receive and file all pleadings and other papers to be filed, sign and issue summons and process including writs of attachment and execution, enter satisfaction of judgments and issue transcripts and abstracts thereof; in townships of the second class, one hundred dollars per month; in townships of the third class, fifty-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, thirty dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, twenty dollars per month. Each justice must pay into the county treasury once a month all fees and fines collected by him. Justices of the peace of the first class are required to keep their offices open from nine o'clock a.m. until five o'clock p.m. In townships of the first, second and third classes the board of supervisors shall furnish adequate office room, in all other townships all justices shall be allowed not to exceed five dollars per month for office rent. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

14. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, ^{Constables.} to be paid each month as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred twenty-five dollars; in townships of the second class, one hundred dollars; in townships of the third class, eighty dollars; in townships of the fourth class, sixty dollars; in townships of the fifth class, forty dollars. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed, each constable may receive and retain for his own use, such fees as are now allowed or may hereafter be allowed by law, for all services rendered by him in civil actions, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors, and paid out of the county treasury; provided, further, that when a constable is required to go out of his own county to serve a warrant of arrest or any other papers in a criminal case, he shall be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited by the board of supervisors. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

15. Supervisors shall receive the sum of two thousand one ^{Supervisors.} hundred dollars per annum, each, and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for each mile traveled in coming to and from the meetings of the board; provided, that only one mileage at any one session of the board shall be allowed. They shall act as road commissioners in their respective districts. The change in compensation hereby made is not an increase in compensation of a county officer and shall become operative as soon as this act takes effect.

15½. In counties of the sixteenth class the salary of the ^{County} ^{librarian.} county librarian shall be two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of the sixteenth class when the county librarian also acts as city librarian that he may receive additional compensation from said city for which he acts as city librarian. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

16. Witnesses in criminal cases and in cases of dependent ^{Witnesses.} and delinquent persons shall receive two dollars per day, and ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, one way only. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The court may disallow any fee to a witness unnecessarily subpoenaed.

Jurors.

17. Jurors in a county of this class, both grand and petty jurors in the superior court, shall each receive for each day's attendance, per day, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat in going only, the sum of twenty cents per mile, such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same.

This act to go into effect immediately, and apply to all present incumbents, except as hereinbefore provided and excepted.

1. The county clerk, three thousand dollars per annum; and in any year when a new and complete or supplemental registration of voters is required by law to be made, he shall receive the sum of fifteen cents for each elector registered, which shall be allowed by the board of supervisors at the close of registration preceding a general election, and paid from the general fund of the county. The county clerk shall be allowed one deputy at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

The county clerk shall also be allowed one copyist at a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum, and two copyists during the month of October in each even numbered year and prior to the holding of the November general election, said copyists to receive a salary of fifty dollars each for said month; said deputies and copyists to be appointed by the county clerk.

The county clerk shall appoint all necessary deputies for the registration of voters, said deputies to be paid by the county clerk.

2. The sheriff, five thousand dollars per annum, and necessary expenses for pursuing criminals or transacting any criminal business. The sheriff shall be allowed one deputy, who shall be the jailer, at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; and one deputy at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; said deputies to be appointed by the sheriff; and such additional deputies as may be required to enforce the provisions of the motor vehicle law, said deputies to be appointed by the sheriff and to receive such compensation, to be paid out of the general fund of the county, as the board of supervisors may fix.

3. The recorder, three thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed the recorder the following deputies and copyists who shall be appointed by the recorder of said county and shall be paid salaries and compensations as follows:

One chief deputy who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and three additional deputies for indexing and comparing, each of whom shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

Said recorder may also appoint such copyists, not to exceed three as may be required for the recording of all papers, notices and documents in his office, who shall receive as compensation for their services the sum of six cents per folio for actual work done in copying any instrument to be recorded (except maps and plats) and for making copies of any records or papers.

The salaries and compensations of all deputies and copyists herein provided for shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county recorder is paid; provided, that the recorder shall file monthly with the auditor a verified statement showing in detail the persons employed as such copyists and the amount due to each for such copying. All fees collected by said recorder for filing and recording of instruments and other documents, maps and plats, or for copies made from records shall be paid into the county treasurer.

4. The auditor, three thousand dollars per annum. The auditor shall be allowed one deputy at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; said deputy to be appointed by the auditor; and provided, further, that the said auditor shall be allowed one copyist who shall hold office for a period not to exceed four months of each year, at a salary of one hundred dollars per month; said copyist to be appointed by the auditor.

5. The treasurer, three thousand dollars per annum. The treasurer shall be allowed one deputy for six months of each year at a salary of one hundred fifty dollars per month; said deputy to be appointed by the treasurer.

Tax
collector.

6. The tax collector, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The tax collector shall be allowed one deputy at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; said deputy to be appointed by the tax collector; and provided, further, that the said tax collector shall be allowed one deputy who shall hold office during the months of September, October, November and December at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month; said deputy to be appointed by the tax collector.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred twenty-three of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1723. When the death of a person terminates a life estate or a homestead right, or vests a homestead, or affects a joint tenancy, or vests one with the title to community property without the necessity of administration, any person whose interest in land is affected by such death may file in the superior court of the county of which the decedent was a resident, or if the decedent be a nonresident then in any county in which any of the land is situated, a verified petition setting forth those facts and particularly describing the land and his interest therein, and naming all persons who claim or might claim an interest therein as personal representative, heir or devisee of the decedent, so far as known to the petitioner.

Establishment of fact of death

Hearing.

The clerk must set the petition for hearing by the court and give such notice thereof as the court may order, either by publication or by causing notices of the time and place of hearing to be posted in at least three public places in the county, one of which must be at the place where the court is held, at least ten days before the hearing. Written notice of the time and place of hearing, together with a copy of the petition, must be served upon any person named in the petition as representative, heir or devisee of the decedent, in the same manner as a summons, at least ten days before the time set for the hearing or to which it may have been postponed. The court shall take evidence in support of the petition and of any issues raised, and may render judgment thereon establishing such termination of estate or investiture of title and determining to whom the property belongs by reason thereof. All persons so served shall be concluded by the judgment; but the court, in its discretion, may proceed without personal service being made, in which event, as to persons not so served, the decree shall be conclusive only of the fact of such death.

Any inheritance tax which becomes payable by reason of such death must be paid before such decree is made.

Recording
decree.

A certified copy of the decree shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of each county in which any part of the land is situated.

CHAPTER 328.

An act to amend section twenty-three of the "water commission act," approved June 16, 1913, as amended, relating to fees upon applications for and issuance of permits to appropriate water.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917,
p. 195,
amended

SECTION 1. Section twenty-three of the "water commission act," approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Fees.

Sec. 23. Every person, firm, association or corporation making application for a permit to appropriate water or the use of water under this act shall pay to the state water commission at the time of filing said application, a filing fee in the sum of five dollars, and, upon the issue of a permit, the additional fee, if the purpose or use is for the generation of electricity or electrical or other power, of ten cents for each theoretical horsepower capable of being developed by the works up to and including one hundred theoretical horsepower, of five cents for each horsepower in excess of one hundred theoretical horsepower up to and including one thousand theoretical horsepower, and of one cent for each theoretical horsepower in excess of one thousand theoretical horsepower; also, if for agricultural purposes, of five cents for each acre of land to be irrigated by means of said appropriation to and including one hundred acres, of three cents per acre for each acre in excess of one hundred acres up to and including one thousand acres and of two cents for each acre over one thousand acres; provided, that only one fee shall be paid upon issuance of two or more permits for the irrigation of the same land, whether said permits be issued simultaneously or otherwise; and that only one fee shall be paid upon issuance of two or more permits for water to be applied to the same power generating machinery or appliance whether said permits be issued simultaneously or otherwise. All fees shall forthwith be paid into the state treasury by the state water commission. No fee shall be required from any person, firm, association, or corporation exempt by any law of the State of California from the payment of such fee.

agricultural purposes.

CHAPTER 329.

An act to amend sections fifteen and sixteen of the "water commission act," approved June 16, 1913, as amended, relating to the powers and duties of the state water commission in acting upon applications to appropriate water and applications to change the place of use of water.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section fifteen of the "water commission act," approved June 16, 1913, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Stats. 1917,
p. 194,
amended.

Sec. 15. The state water commission shall allow, under the provisions of this act, the appropriation for beneficial purposes of unappropriated water under such terms and conditions as in the judgment of the commission will best develop, conserve and utilize in the public interest the water sought to be appropriated. It is hereby declared to be the established policy of this state that the use of water for domestic purposes is the highest use of water and that the next highest use is for irrigation. In acting upon applications to appropriate water the commission shall be guided by the above declaration of policy. The commission shall reject an application when in its judgment the proposed appropriation would not best conserve the public interest.

Use of unappropriated water.

SEC. 2. Section sixteen of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Stats. 1913,
p. 1021,
amended.

Application
for permit.

Sec. 16. Every application for a permit to appropriate water shall set forth the name and post-office address of the applicant, the source of water supply, the nature and amount of the proposed use, the location and description of the proposed headworks, ditch, canal and other works; the proposed place of diversion and the place where it is intended to use the water; the time within which it is proposed to begin construction, the time required for completion of the construction, and the time for the complete application of the water to the proposed use. If for agricultural purposes, the application shall, besides the above general requirements, give the legal subdivisions of the land and the acreage to be irrigated, as near as may be; if for power purposes, it shall give, besides the general requirements prescribed above, the nature of the works by means of which the power is to be developed, the head and amount of water to be utilized, and the use to which the power is to be applied; if for storage in a reservoir, it shall give, in addition to the general requirements prescribed above, the height of dam, the capacity of reservoir, and the use to be made of the impounded waters; if for municipal water supply, it shall give, besides the general requirements specified above, the present population to be served, and, as near as may be, the future requirements of the city; if for mining purposes, it shall give, in addition to the general requirements prescribed above, the nature and location of the mines to be served, and the methods of supplying and utilizing the water. All applications shall be accompanied by as many copies of such maps, drawings, and other data as may be prescribed or required by the state water commission, and such maps, drawings, and other data shall be considered as part of the application. If any permittee or licensee, or the heirs, successors, or assigns of any permittee or licensee, desire to change the point of diversion, or place of use, from the point of diversion, or place of use, specified in the original application, or after the granting of any permit or license, such change or changes may be made only upon the permission of the state water commission; provided, that, before granting such permission, such applicant must establish, to the satisfaction of the state water commission, and such commission must so find, that such change in the place of diversion, or place of use, will not operate to the injury of any other appropriator or legal user of such waters before permitting such change in the place of the diversion or place of use. Upon receipt of application for permission to make such change in the place of diversion, or place of use, the commission shall, by order, fix a time within which any person interested may appear in opposition to such application, and such applicant shall, if the commission so require, cause to be published at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the county in which is situated both the old and new points of diversion or place of use, a copy of said order. Proof of such publication shall be by affidavit of the publisher of such newspaper. Should any objection be made to the change in point of diversion, or place of use, so applied for, the state water commission shall fix a time for the hearing of said application and of the objections thereto, which time shall be not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days after the period of said publication, and upon such hearing the said commission shall grant or refuse, as the facts shall warrant, such permission to change place of diversion or place of use.

CHAPTER 330.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the periodical inspection of elevators operated in places of employment in this state: to require a permit for such operation; to make it a misdemeanor to operate such elevator without such permit; and to provide for an injunction against such operation if dangerous to the life or safety of employees, to vest in the industrial accident commission the power to make such inspections and determine the competency of inspectors and require reports of inspections and to issue such permits and prescribe maximum fees therefor," approved April 6, 1917, by amending sections one, three, four and five.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to provide for the periodical inspection of elevators operated in places of employment in this state: to require a permit for such operation; to make it a misdemeanor to operate such elevator without such permit; and to provide for an injunction against such operation if dangerous to the life or safety of employees; to vest in the industrial accident commission the power to make such inspections and determine the competency of inspectors and require reports of inspections and to issue such permits and prescribe maximum fees therefor," approved April 6, 1917, is amended to read as follows:

Section 1. No power elevator or hand power elevator, unless exempted in the following section, shall be operated in any place of employment in this state unless a permit, as hereinafter provided, for the operation thereof, shall have been issued by the industrial accident commission, and unless such permit shall remain in full force and effect, and posted conspicuously in the elevator car. The operation of such elevator by any person owning or having the custody, management or operation of such elevator without such permit shall constitute a misdemeanor, and each day of operation of such elevator without such permit shall constitute a separate offense; provided, that no prosecution shall be maintained where the issuance or renewal of such permit shall have been requested and shall remain unacted upon. Whenever any elevator in any place of employment is being operated without the permit herein required, and is in such condition that its use is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, the industrial accident commission, a commissioner, or any person affected thereby may apply to the superior court of the county in which such elevator is located for an injunction restraining the operation of such elevator until such condition shall be corrected. Proof by certification of the said commission that such permit has not been issued, together with the affidavit of any safety inspector of the commission that the operation of such elevator is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, shall be sufficient ground, in the discretion of the court, for the immediate granting of a temporary restraining order. No bond shall be required from the commission in such proceeding.

Injunction to restrain operation without permit.

Stats. 1917, p. 87, amended. Inspection of elevators.

SEC. 2. Section three of said act is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 3. The industrial accident commission shall cause all power and hand-power elevators to be inspected not less frequently than once each year. If such elevators shall be found upon such inspection to be in a safe condition for operation, a permit shall be issued by said commission for their operation for not longer than one year, which shall be the permit referred to in section one. If such inspection shall show such elevator to be in an unsafe condition, the commission, or a commissioner, may issue a preliminary order requiring such repairs or alterations to be made to such elevator as may be necessary to render it safe, and may order the use of such elevator discontinued until such repairs or alterations are made or such unsafe conditions are removed. Unless such preliminary order be complied with, a hearing before the commission, a commissioner or referee of such commission shall be allowed, upon request, at which the owner, operator or other person in charge of such elevator shall have opportunity to appear and show cause why he should not comply with said order. If it shall thereafter appear to the commission that such elevator is unsafe and that the requirements contained in said preliminary order should be complied with, or that other things should be done to make such elevator safe, the commission may order or confirm the withholding of the permit to operate such elevator and may make such requirements as it deems proper for its repair or alteration or for the correction of such unsafe condition. Such order may thereafter be reheard by the commission or reviewed by the courts in the manner specified by the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 or reenactments thereof, for safety orders, and not otherwise. If the operation of such elevator during the making of repairs or alterations is not immediately dangerous to the safety of employees, the commission may, in its discretion, issue a temporary permit for the operation of such elevator for not to exceed thirty days during the making of such repairs or alterations. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as a limitation upon the authority of the commission to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

SEC. 3. Section four of said act is amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917, Inspectors.

Sec. 4. The commission may, in its discretion, cause the inspection herein provided for to be made either by its safety inspectors or by any qualified elevator inspector employed by an insurance company, or may issue its permit, based upon a certificate of inspection issued by qualified elevator inspectors of any municipality, upon proof to its satisfaction that the safety requirements of such municipality are equal to the minimum safety requirements for elevators adopted by the commission; provided, that such persons making inspection shall first secure from the commission a certificate of competency to make such inspections. The commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to determine the competency of any applicant for such certificate, either by examination or by other satisfactory proof of qualifications. The commission may rescind at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, and after hearing, if requested, any certificate of competency issued by it to an elevator inspector, or may at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, and after notice and an opportunity to be heard, revoke any permit to operate any elevator. Fees for inspection.

Sec. 5. The commission may fix and collect such fees for the inspection of elevators as it may deem necessary; provided, that the charge for each inspection shall not exceed three dollars and fifty cents, and that no charge shall be made in any one year for more than one inspection; provided, however, that where the safety orders of the commission have not been complied with and subsequent inspections are necessary, an additional fee of three dollars and fifty cents may be charged, in the discretion of the commission, for not more than one subsequent inspection annually. Such fees must be paid before the issuance of any permit to operate such elevator. No fee shall be charged by the commission where an inspection has been made by an inspector of an insurance company or municipality if such inspector holds a certificate of competency and an inspection report is filed with the commission within the period prescribed in section six hereof. All fees collected by the commission under this act shall be paid into the accident prevention fund.

CHAPTER 331.

An act to amend section six hundred twenty-eight f of the Penal Code of the State of California, relating to the protection of fish and game.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred twenty-eight f of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Protection
abalone.

628f. Every person who, between the fifteenth day of January and the fifteenth day of March of the same year, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any pink abalone (Haliotis corrugata), or any red abalone (Haliotis rufescens), or any black abalone (Haliotis crackerodic), or any green abalone (Haliotis fulgens) is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who at any time, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any red abalone (Haliotis rufescens) the shell of which is less than seven inches in greatest diameter, or any green abalone (Haliotis fulgens) the shell of which is less than six and one-half inches in greatest diameter, or any pink abalone (Haliotis corrugata) the shell of which is less than six inches in greatest diameter, or any black abalone (Haliotis crackerodic) the shell of which is less than five inches in greatest diameter, or who by any means whatsoever, takes, or catches any abalone (Haliotis) and does not bring the same naturally attached to the shell and alive, to the shore above high water mark, or who takes, catches or kills any abalone (Haliotis) for other than food purposes, or who, at any time, dries any abalones (Haliotis), or who offers for shipment, or ships, or receives for shipment or transportation from the State of California to any place in any other state, territory or foreign country any abalone meat or abalone shells, excepting articles manufactured from abalone shells; or who takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any abalone (Haliotis) taken, caught or killed with a spear shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who, in fish and game districts seventeen, nineteen, twenty and twenty a of this state, uses or assists in using any diving apparatus of any character for the taking or catching of any abalone (Haliotis), or who, in fish and game districts fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, nineteen, twenty and twenty a, takes, catches or kills or has in possession during any one calendar day more than ten abalone (Haliotis); or who, in fish and game district seventeen takes, catches, kills or has in possession more than twenty abalone in any one calendar week shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who in fish and game districts ten and eighteen in the waters lying between high water mark and a line twenty feet beyond extreme low tide line, takes more than ten abalones in any one calendar day or sells or offers for sale any abalones so taken is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who in fish and game districts ten or eighteen takes or has in possession for commercial purposes any red abalones whose shells measure less than eight inches in greatest diameter is guilty of a misdemeanor.

None of the provisions of this act shall apply to abalone or clams caught or taken without the waters of this state and bearing after inspection such evidence of having been so caught or taken as may be hereinafter prescribed by the fish and game commission; provided, however, that such clams and abalones must conform to the size limits as provided in the laws of this state, and must not be brought into this state or held in possession during the closed season for clams or abalones as provided in the laws of this state; and provided, further, that the expense of such inspection shall be determined by the fish and game commission and must be paid by the importer of such clams and abalones; provided, however, that no abalone may be taken for commercial purposes from the area lying between a line extending due west from Point Buchon and a line extending due west from the mouth of Pico creek, both in San Luis Obispo county.

Every person who gathers or takes in any manner or destroys or has in his possession any clam known as the Pismo clam (Tivela stultorum) whose shell shall measure less than four and three-quarter inches in greatest diameter, or who during any one calendar day, takes, gathers in any manner or has in his possession more than fifteen of said clams, or who, between the first day of May and the thirty-first day of August, both dates inclusive, of any year, takes, catches or gathers any clams in fish and game district seventeen is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who takes, gathers in any manner or has in his possession, or who ships, offers for shipment, sells or offers for sale any cockles or little-neck clams (Tapes staminea) whose shell measures less than one and one-half inches in greatest diameter; every person who takes, catches or gathers in any manner any razor clam (Siliqua patula), except during a period of forty-eight hours beginning at the first low tide after the first high tide (large water) of the full moon of each month and for a period of forty-eight hours beginning at the first mean low tide after the first high tide (large water) of the new moon of each month, or who takes, catches or gathers in any way more than fifty of said razor clams (Siliqua patula) during any one calendar day is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who during any one calendar day takes, gathers in any manner, or has in his possession, or who ships, offers for shipment, sells or offers for sale, more than ten clams of the species Schizothærus nuttallii, variously known as rubber-neck, big-neck, or great Washington clam, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who during any one calendar day takes, gathers in any manner, more than ten black abalones in fishing districts fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty a, and twenty-one is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person who takes, catches or kills or has in possession any clam or clams taken from fish and game districts eight or nine, between the first day of May and the thirty-first day of August of any year, both dates inclusive; or who at any time ships or offers for shipment or receives for shipment or transportation, to any place outside the limits of fish and game district one, any clam or clams of any species taken in fish and game districts seven, eight or nine, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Every person violating any of the provisions of this section upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had not less than ten days nor more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines and forfeitures imposed or collected for any violation of the provisions of this section must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

CHAPTER 332.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to regulate the construction, operation and maintenance of elevators in buildings during the course of construction and providing for the inspection of same by the bureau of labor statistics, and providing for a penalty for violation thereof" (chapter two hundred seventy-five, laws 1913), approved June 7, 1913, by amending sections two and three thereof.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1913,
p. 507,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act to regulate the construction, operation and maintenance of elevators in buildings during the course of construction; providing for inspection of same by the bureau of labor statistics; and providing for a penalty for violation thereof," approved June 7, 1913, is amended to read as follows:

Signals and persons to give them.

Sec. 2. Every hoist hereafter used in buildings during the course of construction shall have a system of signals for the purpose of signaling the person operating or controlling the machinery which may operate or control the hoist. And it shall be the duty of the person in charge of such building to appoint one or more persons to give such signals, such person to be selected from those most familiar with the work for which said hoist is being used. The signaling devices provided shall be protected against unauthorized or accidental operation. The industrial accident commission shall within six months after this act takes effect, make and enter its general safety order or orders in the manner prescribed by law, and may from time to time thereafter amend such orders in the manner prescribed by law, for the making of general safety orders specifying and fixing the nature and method of signals and signaling devices and uniform signals to be used in this state under the provisions of this act. Until such general safety order or orders are so adopted, such signals and signaling devices shall be governed by safety order number one thousand one hundred fifteen of the general construction safety orders of the industrial accident commission as in effect at the time of the passage of this act.

SEC. 2. Section three of said act is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the industrial accident commission to inspect all hoists coming within the definition contained in section one of the act herein amended. If any part of the construction or system of signals used on a hoist is defective or may endanger the lives of the men working in immediate vicinity of said hoist, the industrial accident commission shall direct the person in charge thereof to remedy such defect, and such hoist shall not be used again until the order of the commission shall have been complied with.

CHAPTER 333.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to regulate certain scaffolding or staging for the protection of workmen; requiring that in addition to the duties imposed by any law upon employers using or directing or permitting the use of scaffolding or staging swung or suspended from an overhead support such employers shall be subject to the provisions of this act; fixing penalties for a violation hereof to be the same as provided in section four hundred two c of the Penal Code; and providing for the enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics" (chapter forty-eight, laws 1913), approved April 22, 1913.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to regulate certain scaffolding or staging for the protection of workmen; requiring that in addition to the duties imposed by any law upon employers using or directing or permitting the use of scaffolding or staging swung or suspended from an overhead support such employers shall be subject to the provisions of this act; fixing penalties for a violation hereof to be the same as provided in section four hundred two c of the Penal Code;

amended.

and providing for the enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics" (approved April 22, 1913), is hereby amended to read as follows:

Safety rail on scaffolding.

Section 1. All scaffolding or staging swung or suspended from an overhead support which is more than ten feet from the ground or floor, shall have a safety rail of wood, or other equally rigid material of sufficient strength. Such rail shall be properly secured and braced; such rail to rise at least forty-two inches above the floor or floors or main portions of such scaffolding or staging, and to extend along the entire length of the outside and ends thereof, and properly attached thereto; and such a scaffolding or staging shall be fastened so as to prevent the same from swaying from the building or structure, or place of work where such scaffolding or staging is being used. Any and all parts of such scaffolding or staging shall be of sufficient strength to support, bear or withstand with safety, any weight of persons, tools, appliances or materials that may be placed thereupon or that are to be supported thereby while such scaffolding or staging is being used for any of the purposes thereof. The industrial accident commission of the State of California is hereby authorized to make and enforce safety orders in the manner prescribed by law, to supplement and carry into effect the purposes and provisions of this act.

Stats. 1913,
p. 50,
amended.

SEC. 2. Section four of said act is amended to read as follows:

Enforcement

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the industrial accident commission to enforce the provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 334.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for temporary floors in buildings more than three stories high in the course of construction and for the protection of the life and limb of workmen employed in such buildings from falling through joists or girders, and from falling bricks, rivets, etc.,' approved March 6, 1909, and to make the act apply to buildings more than two stories high in the course of construction," approved April 26, 1911, by amending sections one, two, three, four and five of said act, and repealing sections six and seven thereof.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1911,
p. 1112,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for temporary floors in buildings more than three stories high in the course of construction and for the protection of the life and limb of workmen employed in such buildings from falling through joists or girders, and from falling bricks, rivets, etc., approved March 6, 1909,' and to make the act apply to buildings more than two stories high in the course of construction," approved April 26, 1911, is amended to read as follows:

Section 1. Any building more than two stories high in the course of construction shall have the joists, beams or girders of floors below the floor or level where any work is being done, or about to be done, covered with flooring laid close together, or with such other suitable material as will protect workmen engaged in such building from falling through joists or girders, and from falling planks, bricks, rivets, tools, or any other substance, whereby life and limb are endangered, as follows:

(a) Any such building which is of reinforced concrete construction, with reinforced concrete floors, shall have the floor filled in either with forms or concrete on each floor before the commencement of work upon the walls of the second floor above, or the commencement of work upon the floor of the next floor above. Any building having wooden floors, other than a steel frame building, shall have the underflooring, if double flooring is to be used, laid on each floor within the time hereinabove described for reinforced concrete floors. Where single wooden floors are to be used, each floor shall be planked over within the time hereinbefore prescribed.

(b) If such building has a structural frame of iron or steel, the entire floor of every second story, except such spaces as may reasonably be required for the proper construction of such building, shall be thoroughly covered with planks tightly laid together, so that workmen shall have at all times planked floors within two stories below them.

(c) If a span of a floor exceeds thirteen (13) feet, an intermediate beam shall be used to support the temporary flooring; provided, however, that spans not to exceed sixteen (16) feet may be covered by three (3) inch planks without such beam. Such intermediate beam shall be of a sufficient strength to sustain a live load of fifty (50) pounds per square foot of the area supported.

(d) If the distance between planked floors in any building or structure exceeds twenty-five (25) feet, intermediate flooring or safety nets shall be provided which shall be fixed not to exceed twenty-five (25) feet below a floor upon which work is being performed and as close to such floor as practicable.

(e) The erection gang shall at all times have a planked floor below them not more than two stories distant.

(f) The riveting gang and steel painters shall at all times have a planked floor below them not more than two stories distant. Men working below riveting gangs shall at all times be protected from falling objects by having a planked floor between them and the riveting gangs.

(g) If building operations are suspended and the temporary flooring, hereinbefore required, is removed, upon the resumption of work, in case of such suspension, the building

CHAPTER 341.

An act to amend title twenty-one of part four of division first of an act entitled "An act to establish a Civil Code," approved March 21, 1872, relating to nonprofit cooperative agricultural, viticultural and horticultural associations by amending sections six hundred fifty-three m, six hundred fifty-three n, six hundred fifty-three p, six hundred fifty-three q, six hundred fifty-three s and by adding three new sections to be numbered section six hundred fifty-three sa, section six hundred fifty-three sb and section six hundred fifty-three sc.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title twenty-one of part four of division first of an act entitled "An act to establish a Civil Code," approved March 21, 1872, is hereby amended to read as follows:

653m. Three or more persons engaged in the production, preserving, drying, packing, shipping, manufacturing, preparing for market, or marketing of agricultural, viticultural, or horticultural products, or all of them, may form a non-profit cooperative association under the provisions of this title, to carry on said business, and such association shall have, and may exercise, the powers authorized by this title, and the powers necessarily incidental thereto and all other powers granted to private corporations by the laws of this state, except such powers as are inconsistent with those granted by this title. Nonprofit cooperative associations.

653n. Such association shall not issue capital stock, but shall issue membership certificates to each member. Its business shall not be carried on for profit. Any person or any number of persons, in addition to the original incorporators, may become members of such association, upon such terms and conditions as to membership and subject to such rules and regulations as to their, and each of their, contract, and other rights and liabilities between it and the member, as the said association shall provide in its by-laws. Membership certificate.

The association shall issue a certificate of membership to each member, but the said membership, or the said certificate thereof, shall not be assigned by a member to any other person, nor shall the assigns thereof be entitled to membership in the association, or to any property rights or interest therein. Nor shall a purchaser at execution sale, or any other person who may succeed, by operation of law or otherwise to the property interests of a member, be entitled to membership, or become a member of the association by virtue of such transfer. The board of directors may, however, by motion duly adopted by it, consent to such assignment or transfer and to the acceptance of the assignee or transferee as a member of the association, but the association shall have the right, by its by-laws, to provide for or against the transfer of membership and for or against the assignment of membership certificates, and also the terms and conditions upon which any such transfer or assignment shall be allowed.

653o. Articles of incorporation. Each association formed under this title must prepare and file articles of incorporation setting forth: Articles of incorporation.

1. The name of the association.
2. The purpose for which it is formed.
3. The place where its principal business will be transacted.
4. The term for which it is to exist, not exceeding fifty years.
5. The number of directors thereof, which must not be less than three and which may be any number in excess thereof, and the names and residences of those selected for the first year and until their successors shall have been elected, and shall have accepted office.
6. Whether the voting power and the property rights and interest of each member shall be equal or unequal, and if unequal the articles shall set forth a general rule or rules applicable to all members by which the voting power and the property rights and interests, respectively, of each member may and shall be determined and fixed, but the association shall have power to admit new members who shall be entitled to vote and to share in the property of the association with the old members, in accordance with such general rule. This provision of the articles of incorporation shall not be altered, amended or repealed except by the unanimous written consent or the vote of all of the members.

7. Said articles must be subscribed by the original members and acknowledged by one of them before an officer authorized by the law of this state, to take and certify acknowledgments of deeds of conveyance, and shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of section two hundred ninety-six of this code, and when so filed the said articles of incorporation or certified copies thereof shall be received in all the courts of this state, and other places as prima facie evidence of the facts contained therein.

By-laws.

653p. Each association incorporated under this title must, within thirty days after its incorporation, adopt a code of by-laws for its government and management not inconsistent with the provisions of this title. A majority vote or the written assent of members representing a majority of the votes, is necessary to adopt such by-laws. The provisions of section three hundred three and three hundred four of this code, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this title, shall apply to the by-laws of the corporations provided for in this title. Each association may also, by its by-laws adopted, as aforesaid, provide for the following matters:

1. The manner of removal of any one or more of its directors and for filling any and all vacancies in the board of directors.

2. The number of directors and the number of members or votes thereof constituting a quorum.

3. The conditions upon which and the time when membership of any member in the association shall cease; the mode, manner and effect of expulsion of a member, subject to the right of the expelled member to have the board of directors equitably appraise his property interests in the association and to fix the amount thereof in money, and to have the money paid to him within sixty days after such expulsion.

4. The amount of membership fee, if any, and the amount which each member shall be required to pay annually, or from time to time if at all, to carry on the business of the association, and also the compensation, if any, to be paid by each member for any services rendered by the association to him, and the time of payment and the manner of collecting the same, and for forfeiture of the interest of the member in the association for nonpayment of the same.

5. The number and qualifications of members of the association and the conditions precedent to membership and the method, time and manner of permitting members to withdraw, and providing for the assignment and transfer of the interest of members and the manner of determining the value of such interest and providing for the purchase of such interest by the association upon the death, withdrawal, or expulsion of a member or upon the forfeiture of his membership, at the option of the association.

6. Permitting members to vote by their proxies, and determining the conditions, manner, form and effect thereof.

653q. Each association incorporated under this title shall have the powers granted by the provisions of this code and other laws of California relating to private corporations, and shall also have the following powers:

1. To appoint such agents and officers as its business may require, and such appointed agents may be either persons or corporations; to admit persons to membership in the association, and to expel any member pursuant to the provisions of its by-laws; to forfeit the membership of any member for violation of any agreement between him and the association, or for his violation of its by-laws.

2. To purchase or otherwise acquire, hold, own, sell, and otherwise dispose of any and every kind or kinds of real and personal property, including stock in other corporations, necessary or convenient in the carrying on of its business; to borrow money; to mortgage or pledge any property, real or personal, owned or held by such association; to secure any contracts made by it, or any bonds, debentures, promissory notes, or other obligations by it issued or incurred or guaranteed; and to acquire by purchase or otherwise the interest of any member in the property of the association.

3. Upon the written assent or by a vote of members representing two-thirds of the total votes of all members to cooperate with any other cooperative association or associations for the cooperative and more economical carrying on of their respective business, by consolidation as provided in section six hundred fifty-three of this code, whereupon the effect of such consolidation shall be the same as declared in said section; or upon resolution, adopted by its board of directors, to enter into all necessary and proper contracts and agreements, and to make all necessary and proper stipulations and arrangements with any other cooperative association or associations for the cooperative and more economical carrying on of its business, or any part or parts thereof; or any two or more cooperative associations organized under this title, upon resolutions, adopted by their respective board of directors, may, for the purpose of more economically carrying on their respective businesses, by agreement between them, unite in employing and using, or several associations may separately employ and use, the same methods, means and agencies, for carrying on and conducting their respective businesses.

4. Any association formed, existing or consolidated under this title may be dissolved and its affairs wound up voluntarily by the written request of members, representing two-thirds of the total votes, in the manner and with the effect provided in section six hundred fifty-three j of this code, except that the moneys remaining after liquidation shall be divided among the members in proportion to their property interests therein.

Amendment
of articles of incorporation.

653^r. Any corporation, whether stock or membership, heretofore incorporated under the laws of this state for the purpose of engaging in and carrying on the business specified in section six hundred fifty-three m of this title, the stockholders or members of which would be entitled to incorporate under the provision of this title, may, by the unanimous written assent or vote of all the stockholders or members, amend its articles of incorporation to conform to the provision of this title in the manner and with the effect provided in section three hundred sixty-two of the Civil Code, and from the time of filing the amended articles, such corporation shall have the same powers as if it had originally incorporated under the provisions of this title; provided, however, that the debts, obligations, and other liabilities against such corporation or against the members or the stockholders thereof, existing at the time of such amendment, shall not be discharged or their collection or enforcement otherwise impaired; and provided further, that the respective property interests of the several stockholders by virtue of their ownership of shares of stock therein, or the several members by virtue of their membership therein, and also the voting power of each of them, shall be determined and fixed by the amended articles of incorporation in accordance with the provisions of subdivision six of section six hundred fifty-three o, but which rights shall be subject to the right of the association to admit new members.

Proceedings to determine right to do business.

653^s. The right of an association claiming to be organized and incorporated and carrying on its business under this title, to do and continue its business may be inquired into by quo warranto proceedings at the suit of the attorney general, but not otherwise.

If unequal voting power.

653^{sa}. In the event the articles of incorporation shall provide for unequal voting power, the provisions of law with reference to a majority, a two-thirds, or other vote of the members shall not apply, and in lieu thereof there shall be substituted a majority or two-thirds of the votes of the interests represented by the several members, or otherwise, as the case may be.

Powers.

653^{sb}. Nothing in this title shall be deemed to prohibit any cooperative association formed or existing hereunder from having and exercising the same powers in carrying out its purposes as are enjoyed or exercised by corporations which issue capital stock.

Profits.

Any association formed or existing under this title shall conduct and carry on its business without profit to itself: it may, however, conduct its business for the profit of its members; it may use or employ any of its facilities for any purpose except the handling for others, not members, of products similar to the products handled for its members; provided, the proceeds arising from such use and employment shall go to reduce the cost of operation for its members.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force ninety days from and after its passage.

653*sc*. No corporation now or hereafter incorporated under this title shall sell, or offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any security of its own issue until it shall have first applied for and secured from the commissioner of corporations a permit authorizing it so to do and complied with all the terms and conditions of chapter 532, statutes 1917; as amended, chapter 148, statutes 1919 known as the corporate securities act. All the provisions of said corporate securities act are hereby made applicable to and binding upon corporations incorporated under this title. Authority to sell securities.

CHAPTER 342.

An act to amend title twenty-two of part four of division first of an act entitled "An act to establish a Civil Code," approved March 21, 1872, relating to nonprofit cooperative corporations by amending sections six hundred fifty-three u, six hundred fifty-three v, six hundred fifty-three w, six hundred fifty-three x, six hundred fifty-three z, six hundred fifty-three zb and adding a new section to be numbered six hundred fifty-three zc and adding a new section to be numbered six hundred fifty-three zd.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title twenty-two of part four of division first of an act entitled "An act to establish a Civil Code," approved March 21, 1872, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 653*t*. Nonprofit cooperative corporations may be formed by the voluntary association of any three or more persons in the manner prescribed in this title. A majority of such persons must be residents of this state, and such corporations shall have and may exercise the powers authorized by this title, and the powers necessarily incident thereto, and also all other powers granted to private corporations by the laws of this state, excepting such powers as are inconsistent with those granted by this title. Nonprofit cooperative associations.

Sec. 653*u*. Such corporation shall not issue capital stock, but shall issue a membership certificate to each member. Its business shall not be carried on for profit. Any person or any number of persons including and in addition to the original incorporators, may become members of such corporation. Membership certificates.

upon such terms and conditions as to the membership, and subject to such rules and regulations as to their, and each of their, contract and other rights and liabilities between it and the member, as the said corporation shall prescribe in its by-laws. The corporation shall issue a certificate of membership to each member, but the said membership, or the said certificate thereof, shall not, except as herein provided, be assigned by any member to any other person, nor shall the assigns thereof be entitled to membership in the corporation, or to any property rights or interest therein, nor shall a purchaser at execution sale, or any other person who may succeed, by operation of law or otherwise, to the property interests of the member, be entitled to membership, or become a member of the corporation by virtue of such transfer. The board of directors may, however, by motion duly adopted by it, consent to such assignment or transfer, and to the acceptance of the assignee or transferee as a member of the corporation. The corporation shall also have the right, by its by-laws, to provide for or against the transfer of membership and for or against the assignment of membership certificates, and also the terms and conditions upon which any such transfer or assignment shall be allowed.

Articles of Incorporation.

Sec. 653v. Each corporation formed under this title must prepare and file articles of incorporation in writing setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The purpose for which it is formed.
3. The place where its principal business will be transacted.
4. The term for which it is to exist, not exceeding fifty years.
5. The number of directors thereof, which must not be less than three and which may be any number in excess thereof, and the names and residences of those selected for the first year and until their successors have been elected, and shall have accepted office.
6. Whether the voting power and the property rights and interest of each member shall be equal or unequal, and if unequal the articles shall set forth a general rule or rules applicable to all members by which the voting power and the property rights and interests, respectively, of each member may and shall be determined and fixed, but the corporation shall have power to admit new members who shall be entitled to vote and to share in the property of the corporation with the old members, in accordance with such general rule. This provision of the articles of incorporation shall not be altered, amended or repealed except by the unanimous written consent or the vote of all of the members.
7. Said articles of incorporation shall be subscribed by three or more of the original members, a majority of whom must be residents of this state, and acknowledged by each before some officer authorized to take and certify acknowledgments of conveyances of real property, and shall be filed in all respects in accordance with the provisions of section two hundred ninety-six of this code, and thereupon the secretary of state shall issue to the corporation, over the great seal of the state, a certificate that a copy of the articles containing the required statement of facts has been filed in his office, and thereupon the person signing the articles and their associates and successors shall be a body politic and corporate by the name stated in the certificate. When so filed, the said articles of incorporation or certified copies thereof shall be received in all the courts of this state, and other places, as prima facie evidence of the facts contained therein.

Sec. 653w. Each corporation incorporated under this title must, within one month after filing articles of incorporation, adopt a code of by-laws for its government and management not inconsistent with the provisions of this title. A majority vote or the written assent of members representing a majority of the votes is necessary to adopt such by-laws. The provisions of section three hundred three and three hundred four of this code, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this title, shall apply to the by-laws of the corporation provided for in this title. Each corporation organized hereunder may also, by its by-laws adopted as aforesaid, provide for the following matters:

1. The manner of removal of any one or more of its directors and of filling any and all vacancies in the board of directors.

2. The conditions upon which and the time when membership of any member in the corporation shall cease; the mode, manner and effect of expulsion of a member, subject to the right of the expelled member to have the board of directors equitably appraise his property interests in the corporation and to fix the amount thereof in money, and to have the money paid to him within sixty days after such expulsion.

3. The amount of membership fee, if any, and the amount which each member shall be required to pay annually, or from time to time, if at all, to carry on the business of the corporation, and also the compensation, if any, to be paid by each member for any services rendered by the corporation to him, and the time of payment and the manner of collecting the same, and may provide for forfeiture of the interest of the member in the corporation for non-payment of the same.

4. The number and qualifications of members of the corporation and the conditions precedent to membership and the method, time and manner of permitting members to withdraw, and providing for the assignment and transfer of the interest of members, and the manner of determining the value of such interest and providing for the purchase of such interest by the corporation upon the death, withdrawal or expulsion of a member or upon the forfeiture of his membership, at the option of the corporation.

Sec. 653x. Powers of Corporation. Each corporation incorporated under this title shall have the powers granted by the provisions of this code and other laws of California, relating to private corporations, which are not inconsistent with those granted by this title, and shall also have the following powers:

1. To appoint such agents and officers as its business may require, and such appointed agents may be either persons or corporations; to admit persons and corporations to membership in the corporation, and to expel any member pursuant to the provisions of its by-laws; to forfeit the membership of any member for violation of any agreement between him and the corporation or for his violation of its by-laws.

2. To purchase, lease or otherwise acquire, hold, own and enjoy, to sell, lease, mortgage and otherwise encumber and dispose of any and all and every kind or kinds of real and personal property, including stock in other corporations, also to carry on any and all operations necessary or convenient in connection with the transaction of any of its business; to borrow money; to mortgage or pledge any property real or personal, owned or held by such corporation; to secure any contracts made by it, or any bonds, debentures, promissory notes, or other obligations by it issued or incurred or guaranteed; and to acquire by purchase or otherwise, the interest of any member in the property of the corporation.

Consolidation.

3. Upon the written assent of two-thirds of all the members or by a vote of members representing two-thirds of the total votes of all members of each of two or more such nonprofit cooperative corporations to cooperate with each other for the more economical carrying on of their respective businesses by consolidation as provided in section six hundred fifty-three i of this code, such consolidation shall be effected, and thereupon the effect of such consolidation shall be the same as declared in said section. Any such corporation upon resolution, adopted by its board of directors, shall have the power to enter into contracts and agreements, and to make stipulations and agreements with any other corporation or corporations, for the cooperative and more economical carrying on of its business, or any part or parts thereof; or any two or more cooperative corporations organized under this title, upon resolutions adopted by their respective boards of directors, may, for the purpose of more economically carrying on their respective businesses, by agreement, unite in adopting, employing and using, or several such corporations may separately adopt, employ and use the same methods, policy, means, agents, and agencies for carrying on and conducting their respective businesses.

4. Any corporation formed, existing or consolidated under this title may be dissolved, and its affairs wound up voluntarily by the written consent of members representing two-thirds of the total votes, in the manner and with the effect provided in section six hundred fifty-three j of this code, except that any property remaining after liquidation shall be divided among the members in proportion to their respective property interests therein.

Sec. 653y. Any such corporation may amend its articles of incorporation in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this title, in the manner provided for by section three hundred sixty-two of the Civil Code of this state. Amendment of articles.

Sec. 653z. The right of a corporation claiming to be organized and incorporated and carrying on its business under this title, to do and continue its business, may be inquired into by quo warranto proceeding at the suit of the attorney general, but not otherwise. Proceedings to determine right to do business.

Sec. 653za. This title is not applicable to railroads, telegraph, telephone, banking, insurance, building and loan, or any other corporation, unless the special provisions of this code applicable thereto are complied with. Railroads, etc., excepted.

Sec. 653zb. Voting. In the event the articles of incorporation shall provide for unequal voting power, the provisions of law with reference to a majority, a two-thirds, or other vote of the members shall not apply, and in lieu thereof, there shall be substituted a majority or two-thirds of the votes of the interests represented by the several members, or otherwise, as the case may be. Voting.

Sec. 653zc. Nothing in this title shall be deemed to prohibit any cooperative corporation formed or existing hereunder from having and exercising the same powers in carrying out its purposes as are enjoyed or exercised by corporations which issue capital stock. Powers.

Any corporation formed or existing under this title shall conduct and carry on its business without profit to itself; it may, however, conduct its business for the profit of its members; it may use or employ any of its facilities for any purpose except the handling for others, not members, of products similar to the products handled for its members, provided the proceeds arising from such use and employment shall go to reduce the cost of operation for its members. Profits.

Sec. 653zd. No corporation now or hereafter incorporated under this title shall sell, or offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any security of its own issue until it shall have first applied for and secured from the commissioner of corporations a permit authorizing it so to do and complied with all the terms and conditions of chapter 532, statutes 1917; as amended, chapter 148, statutes 1919 known as the corporate securities act. All the provisions of said corporate securities act are hereby made applicable to and binding upon corporations incorporated under this title. Authority to sell securities.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force ninety days from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 343.

An act to provide for leasing kelp beds in the waters of the State of California by the board of fish and game commissioners.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Leasing of kelp beds.

SECTION 1. The board of fish and game commissioners are hereby authorized to lease to any person, firm or corporation the exclusive privilege to take, cut and harvest kelp in any bed or beds not to exceed twenty-five square miles in area.

Application
for lease.

SEC. 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to lease the exclusive privilege of taking, cutting and harvesting kelp shall make application to the board of fish and game commissioners in writing, designating the particular bed or beds or part thereof from which said person, firm or corporation desires to take, cut and harvest kelp.

Notice of
application.

SEC. 3. Upon said application being filed said board of fish and game commissioners shall cause to be published in a newspaper in the county in which said bed or beds or part thereof are located, or if no newspaper is published in the county, then in a newspaper published in the adjoining county, at least once a week for four successive weeks, that an application has been made to the fish and game commission for the exclusive privilege of taking, cutting and harvesting kelp, giving the description of said bed or beds or parts thereof, described in said application and asking for bids for such privilege, which shall be filed with said board of fish and game commissioners within ten days after the last publication. Said bid or bids shall be accompanied by a payment of ten per cent of the amount bid for said privilege and said notice shall state the day on which said bids shall be opened. Any or all of said bids may be rejected.

Bids.

Expenses of advertising.

SEC. 4. Any person, firm or corporation making application to lease the exclusive privilege of taking, cutting and harvesting kelp upon filing said application shall pay to said fish and game commissioners the sum of fifty dollars to cover the expenses of advertising for said bids and said expenses shall be paid by the person, firm or corporation to whom such privilege is awarded and if the applicant is not the successful bidder, then said sum so advanced shall be returned to such person, firm or corporation advancing the same.

Term of privilege.

SEC. 5. Said exclusive privilege shall be granted for a period not exceeding two years, and said board of fish and game commissioners are hereby authorized to execute said lease.

Recording
notice of privilege.

SEC. 6. When an exclusive privilege to take, cut and harvest kelp as provided herein has been granted any person, firm or corporation, a notice signed by the board of fish and game commissioners shall be filed in the recorder's office of the county in which said kelp bid or bids or part thereof are located, setting forth the name of the person, firm or corporation having such privilege, the description of said kelp bid or bids or part thereof and the time for which such privilege has been granted and said recorder is hereby authorized to file and record the same.

[ED. NOTE.—The words "bid" and "bids" occurring in section six are as enacted by the legislature.]

SEC. 7. The sum bid for such privilege by any person, firm or corporation shall be for a period of one year and said sum so bid shall be paid annually in advance. Annual payments.

SEC. 8. All moneys received for the leasing privilege of taking, cutting and harvesting kelp shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. Payment of moneys.

CHAPTER 344.

An act declaring bonds negotiable instruments.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Bonds payable to bearer or holder shall be negotiable, notwithstanding any condition contained therein or in the mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument securing the same. Bonds negotiable instruments.

CHAPTER 345.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act approving the report of the California debris commission transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, directing the approval of the plans of reclamation along the Sacramento river or its tributaries or upon the swamp lands adjacent to said river, directing the state engineer to procure data and make surveys and examinations for the purpose of perfecting the plans contained in said report of the California debris commission and to make report thereof, making an appropriation to pay the expenses of such examination and surveys, and creating a reclamation board, and defining its powers," approved December 21, 1911, as amended by an act approved May 27, 1913, and as further amended by an act approved June 9, 1915, and as further amended by an act approved May 27, 1919, by amending section thirty-three thereof, the said amendment relating to the application of compensation to be made to any reclamation district, levee district, drainage district, municipal corporation, association, private corporation or person.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 1129,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section thirty-three of an act entitled "An act approving the report of the California debris commission transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, directing the approval of plans of reclamation along the Sacramento river or its tributaries or upon the swamp lands adjacent to said river, directing the state engineer to procure data and make surveys and examinations for the purpose of perfecting the plans contained in said report of the California debris commission and to make report thereof, making an appropriation to pay the expenses of such examination and surveys, and creating a reclamation board, and defining its powers," approved December 24, 1911, as amended by an act approved May 27, 1913, and as further amended by an act approved June 9, 1915, and as further amended by an act approved May 27, 1919, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Application
of compensation.

Sec. 33. Any compensation that may be made to any reclamation district, levee district, drainage district, municipal corporation, association, private corporation, or person, in accordance with section eighteen of this act, shall be applied toward the payment of any assessment upon any tract of land assessed for any particular portion or project owned by any such municipal corporation, association, private corporation, or person, but in case of any reclamation district, levee district or drainage district, such compensation shall be applied and credited pro rata toward the payment of the balance remaining unpaid upon the assessments levied by the reclamation board against the lands respectively situated within such reclamation district, levee district or drainage district, as part of the assessment out of which such compensation is to be made, based upon the total amount of the assessment charges against the lands in such reclamation district, levee district or drainage district, respectively, and if such compensation, when so applied, shall exceed the total amount of such credits upon the assessments upon the lands in such district, the excess shall be paid to the district itself; provided, that whenever any reclamation district, levee district, or drainage district shall have warrants outstanding, or shall have a bond issue outstanding, or both, such compensation shall be made and paid directly to such district, and in such event, or events, such compensation must, by said district, be applied and paid as hereinafter provided, and not otherwise. Such compensation, or the proceeds thereof, when received by any reclamation district, shall be paid or delivered by the board of trustees thereof to the county treasurer having the custody of the funds of the district, who shall place such compensation in the fund of such district out of which warrants are payable, and when such compensation shall be received by any levee district, or drainage district, the same shall be paid or delivered by the governing body thereof to the officer having the custody of the funds who shall place the same into the proper funds of such district. Any reclamation district, levee district, or drainage district, to which such compensation shall be made, must apply the same, or the proceeds thereof, to the payment of warrants of such district then outstanding. If any reclamation district, levee district, or drainage district, shall have a bond issue outstanding, the board of trustees of such district shall direct the county treasurer, or officer having the custody of the funds of said district to apply the residue of such compensation, if any residue there be, after the payment of all outstanding warrants, as above required, to the payment of interest on such bonds, or the principal of such bonds, or both, and the county treasurer, or other officer having the custody of the funds of such district shall comply with such direction, and shall transfer to the proper fund the necessary amount therefor. The county treasurer shall transfer sufficient funds from the general fund of the district to the bond and interest fund for that purpose. Any district, association or corporation may act through a majority of its trustees or other governing body.

CHAPTER 346.

An act to amend section six hundred twenty-eight of the Penal Code, relating to the protection of shrimp, spiny lobster and crab.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred twenty-eight of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

628. (a) Every person who dries any shrimp or shrimps caught or taken in the waters of this state other than unmarketable shrimps caught or taken in fish and game district thirteen, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who, between the first day of March and the fourteenth day of October inclusive of any year, takes, catches, kills, has in possession, buys, sells, or offers for sale any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus), or who at any time takes, catches, kills, has in possession, buys, sells, or offers for sale any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus), of less than ten and one-half inches or more than sixteen inches in length, measured from one extremity to the other and exclusive of legs, claws or feclers, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who, at any time, takes, catches, kills, has in his possession, buys, sells, or offers for sale any crab (Cancer magister), of less than seven inches in breadth, measured straight across the back from point to point, or any female crab (Cancer magister), or who, between the thirty-first day of July and the fourteenth day of November, inclusive, of any year, takes, catches, kills, has in possession, buys, sells or offers for sale any crab (Cancer magister), shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: provided, that crabs from without the state may be imported into the state for sale at any time; provided, such crabs are duly inspected and tagged according to the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. The cost of such inspection and tagging must be borne by the person or persons importing such crabs. Any person who shall at any time, pickle, can, or otherwise preserve any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister), or who shall at any time sell any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister) meat not in the shell of any such spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister), or who shall bring to shore any part or portion of any spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister) without the remaining portions of such spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister) in such condition that the size of such spiny lobster (Panulirus interruptus) or crab (Cancer magister) can not be measured, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) Every person who ships or offers for shipment or transportation any species of crab taken in fish and game districts five, six, seven, seven a, eight and nine, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(c) None of the provisions of this act shall apply to spiny lobster caught or taken without the waters of this state, when said spiny lobsters are caught in waters lying south for a distance of ten miles from the international boundary line between the United States and Mexico, extended westerly in the Pacific ocean, and bearing after inspection such evidence of having been so caught or taken as may be hereafter prescribed by the fish and game commission; and be it provided, that all the expenses of such inspection shall be borne by the importer of such spiny lobster; and be it provided, further, that all spiny lobster imported into this state shall be of the size prescribed in this section.

CHAPTER 347.

An act to amend section six hundred twenty-eight b of the Penal Code, relating to the protection of fish.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred twenty-eight b of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

628b. Every person who at any time, except with hook and line and in the manner commonly known as angling, takes, catches or kills any black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, calico bass or any variety of sunfish, or has in his possession more than twenty-five black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, calico bass or any variety of sunfish, during one calendar day, or who takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any black bass less than seven inches in length, or who buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale any black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, calico bass or any variety of sunfish; every person who in any fish and game district, between the first day of December and the thirtieth day of April of the year following, both dates inclusive, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any black bass, Sacramento perch, crappie, calico bass or any variety of sunfish, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that in fish and game district four "E," black bass may be taken in the manner and amount provided elsewhere in this section at any time of the year. Black bass so taken may be possessed in fish and game district four.

Protection
of bass, perch, sunfish, etc.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the taking of black bass at any time in any lake exceeding seventy-five square miles in area within the boundaries of fish and game district number two, or prohibit the possession within the boundaries of fish and game district number two, of black bass taken in such lake or lakes.

Every person who, at any time, has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale, any catfish, between the fifteenth day of May and the fourteenth day of August, inclusive, of any year, or who at any time has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale, any dressed catfish, which shall measure less than seven inches in length, exclusive of any part of the head, or who at any time has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale, any undressed catfish less than nine inches in length, or who retains any catfish in live cars or boats that do not measure nine inches in length, or who at any time, within a period of five years, kills or has in his possession any sturgeon, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing in this section, or elsewhere in this code, shall prohibit the state fish and game commission, or persons authorized by it, from taking at all times such fish as they may deem necessary for scientific purposes, or for purposes of propagation.

CHAPTER 348.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered four thousand forty-one f, providing for homes and meeting places for veterans and associations of veterans.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered four thousand forty-one f, and to read as follows:

Homes and meeting places for veterans.

4041f. Any county may provide and maintain (1) a home or homes for veteran soldiers, sailors and marines who have served the United States honorably in any of its wars; (2) buildings, memorial halls, or meeting places for the use of patriotic, fraternal and benevolent associations of such persons. For these purposes the board of supervisors of any county shall have jurisdiction and power:

(a) To purchase, receive by donation, take by condemnation, lease or otherwise acquire, real or personal property necessary for such building or buildings, and to improve, preserve, take care of, manage and control the same.

(b) To purchase, construct or lease, build or rebuild, furnish or refurnish, or repair any and all such buildings, and to provide all necessary custodians, employees, attendants and supplies for the proper maintenance of the same.

(c) To levy in any year a special tax not to exceed three mills on the one dollar of assessed valuation on all the taxable property in the county, such tax to be in addition to all other taxes provided for and the fund so created to be expended for the purposes hereof.

(d) To establish a fund or funds for the purposes hereof, and to transfer from the general fund to such fund or funds, from time to time, such moneys as the board may deem necessary.

(e) To incur, in the manner provided by law, a bonded indebtedness on behalf of the county for any of the purposes hereof.

CHAPTER 349.

An act to amend section three thousand eight hundred ninety-eight of the Political Code and to add two new sections thereto to be numbered three thousand eight hundred ninety-seven a and three thousand eight hundred ninety-eight a, relating to the sale of lands purchased by the state for delinquent taxes and making the proceeds thereof available for vocational education of dependents of veterans.

[Approved May 18, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered three thousand eight hundred ninety-seven a and to read as follows:

3897a. When, in his opinion, it would be for the best interest of the state to sell any or all parcels of the tax deeded lands of any county, it shall be the duty of the controller to provide for listing and a classification of any or all such lands and direct the tax collector, with the consent of the board of supervisors, to proceed to arrange for the sale as provided for in the preceding section. The notice shall be given by posting or publication as required by section three thousand eight hundred ninety-seven of this code. All expenses of the sale are to become a charge against the property to be sold and no redemption can be made under section three thousand eight hundred seventeen of this code without including also that proportional cost of the sale resting upon the certain lot or parcel to be redeemed. In any case in which no sale is made, the cost thereof shall be charged and paid out of the receipts from the sale, the state and county to bear each its proportional share to be determined by the ratio the state rate bears to the city or county rate of taxation.

land purchased by state.

SEC. 2. Section three thousand eight hundred ninety-eight of said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3898. 1. The moneys received from such sale shall be distributed as follows: The tax collector shall deduct the penalties, costs and other amounts received as expenses of such sale in such cases as the property so sold shall have been sold for a sum not less than the amount of all taxes levied thereon and all interest, costs, penalties and expenses up to the date of such sale, but where the property so sold shall have been sold for a sum less than said amount, the tax collector shall deduct only the amounts received as expenses attending such sale, and the balance shall be distributed between the state and the county, or city and county, in the proportion that the state rate bears to the county, or city and county, rate of taxation; said tax collector shall pay all amounts into the county treasury, and the treasurer shall account to the state for its portion in the settlement required by section three thousand eight hundred sixty-five and section three thousand eight hundred sixty-six. The state's portion from such sales shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the tax land fund, which fund is hereby created.

Distribution
of moneys.

2. On receiving the amount bid, as prescribed in the preceding section, the tax collector must execute a deed to the purchaser, which deed shall be in substance and may be in form as follows:

Deed.

"This indenture, made the ____ day of _____, 19____, between _____, tax collector of the county of _____, State of California, first party, and _____ of the county of _____, State of _____, second party, witnesseth:

That whereas the real property hereinafter described was duly sold and conveyed to the State of California for the non-payment of taxes which had been legally levied and which were a lien upon said property under and in accordance with law; and

Whereas in conformity with law the State of California, acting by and through _____, tax collector as aforesaid, did offer said property, hereinafter described, for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, at which sale said second party became the purchaser of the whole thereof for the sum of $_____.

Now, therefore, the said first party in consideration of the premises and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, does hereby grant to the said second party, his heirs and assigns, that certain real property hereinbefore referred to, and situate in the _____ county of _____, State of California, more particularly described as follows, to wit:

* * * * *

In witness whereof, said first party has hereunto set his hand the day and year first above written.

Tax collector of the county of _____."

No other matters need be recited in the said deed than those provided for in the above form. No charge shall be made by the tax collector for the making of any such deed, and the acknowledgment of all such deeds shall be taken by the county clerk free of charge. Said deed shall be prima facie evidence of all the facts recited therein and shall operate to convey all of the interest of the state in and to said property.

3. Within ten days after each sale as provided in the preceding section the tax collector shall report to the assessor and recorder, giving the name or names of all persons to whom deeds have been issued under the provisions of this section, together with the dates of such deeds, the amount for which the property was sold, a description of the property conveyed, together with the numbers and dates of the certificates of sale and of the tax deeds by which title to such property so granted was conveyed to the state.

4. The recorder shall note on the margin of each certificate of sale and of each tax deed involved in the sale and transfer of such property, the name of the purchaser, the date of the deed to the purchaser and the consideration named therein.

The assessor shall use such report in his determination of the ownership of such property for assessment purposes.

5. (a) Whenever in any action at law, it has been or shall be determined by a court that the sale and conveyance provided for in this and the preceding section or in section three thousand seven hundred seventy-one of this code heretofore or hereafter made are void for any reason, and that the purchaser from the state may not be finally awarded the property so purchased, no decree of the court shall be given declaring a forfeiture of the property until the former owner, or other party in interest, shall have repaid to the purchaser the full amount of taxes, penalties and costs paid out and expended by him, to be determined by the court, in pursuit of the state's title to the property so sold. The said purchaser may within one year after such decree becomes final also present a claim against the county, in the manner provided by law, for a refund of the amount paid into the county treasury as the purchase price of such property in excess of the amount for which he may have been reimbursed for taxes, penalties and costs as herein provided, and such excess shall be refunded in accordance with section three thousand eight hundred four of this code.

(b) Whenever it shall be determined to the satisfaction of the board of supervisors of the county in which the land is situated that any land belonging to the United States government or to this state, a municipality or other political subdivision of this state has been erroneously sold and conveyed under the provisions of this or the preceding section, or section three thousand seven hundred seventy-one of this code, and the said land should not have been so sold, the purchaser at said sale may present a claim against the county in the manner provided by law for a refund of the amount so paid into the county treasury by reason of such sale.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered three thousand eight hundred ninety-eight a, and to read as follows:

3898*a*. (1) In the state treasury there is hereby created a fund to be known as the "veterans' dependents' education fund." At the end of each fiscal year any balance remaining unencumbered in the tax land fund shall be transferred to the veterans' dependents' education fund, and all moneys that may be in the latter fund from time to time are hereby appropriated, without reference to fiscal years, to be expended in accordance with law by the veterans' welfare board in providing instruction, educational counsel, textbooks, quarters and other assistance for dependents of veterans.

Veterans'
dependents' education fund.

(2) The word "veteran" as herein used shall be as defined in the California veterans' welfare act as adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature.

The term "dependent of a veteran" as herein used shall be construed to mean a child, widow, parent, brother or sister of a veteran who died or who was killed in active service, or "Dependent of a veteran."

who died as the result of such service. Said term also means and includes the wife, child, parent, brother or sister of any veteran classified by the United States war risk insurance bureau as being totally and permanently disabled.

The benefits hereof are limited to dependents of veterans who are without means to adequately support or educate themselves.

(3) A dependent of a veteran who desires to continue his education may apply to the veterans' welfare board, and if in the opinion of the board the educational needs of the applicant can be satisfactorily met in educational institutions in this state the board shall assume state wardship over the education of the applicant. The board shall have the power within its discretion to provide educational counsel for applicants, and where necessary to assist them in securing admission to suitable institutions of learning; provided, that private tuition schools shall be chosen only when suitable opportunity is not available in public or semipublic institutions.

The board shall also, within its discretion, and in so far as the fund may permit, have power to provide: For the payment of transportation charges once each year from the home of the student to and from the institution of learning; for the payment of tuition and other fees if there be such; for the purchase of necessary books and supplies; for the monthly payment of an allowance to cover all or a part of the living expenses of the student in an amount which shall not exceed fifty dollars per month for each month during which the student is in actual attendance upon a day school, absence during the month on account of illness to be included as a part of such attendance.

The amount expended on account of any one applicant under the provisions of this section shall not exceed one thousand dollars.

The board shall consider such applications in the order in which they are received; however, should the funds available be insufficient to meet the obligations, should it assume wardship over all worthy applicants, the board shall assume wardship over such applicants as are most urgently in need of further education.

CHAPTER 350.

An act to amend section ten of the Political Code, relating to holidays.

[Approved May 19, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section ten of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

10. Holidays within the meaning of this code, are every ^{Holidays.} Sunday, the first day of January, twelfth day of February, to be known as Lincoln day, twenty-second day of February, thirtieth day of May, fourth day of July, ninth day of September, first Monday in September, twelfth day of October, to be known as "Columbus day," twenty-fifth day of December, eleventh day of November, known as "Armistice day," every day on which an election is held throughout the state, except a general primary election, and every day appointed by the president of the United States or by the governor of this state for a public fast, thanksgiving or holiday. ^{"Armistice day."}

If the first day of January, twelfth day of February, twenty-second day of February, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, the ninth day of September, the twelfth day of October, the twenty-fifth day of December or eleventh day of November falls upon a Sunday, the Monday following is a holiday.

Every Saturday from twelve o'clock noon until twelve o'clock midnight is a holiday as regards the transaction of business in the public offices of this state, and also in political divisions thereof where laws, ordinances or charters provide that public offices shall be closed on holidays; this shall not be construed to prevent or invalidate the issuance, filing, service, execution or recording of any legal process or written instrument whatever on such Saturday afternoon; and provided, further, that the public schools of this state shall close on Saturday, Sunday, the first day of January, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, the ninth day of September, the twenty-fifth day of December, and on every day appointed by the president of the United States or the governor of this state for a public fast, thanksgiving or holiday. Said public schools shall continue in session on all other legal holidays and shall hold proper exercises commemorating the day. Boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power to declare a holiday in the public schools under their jurisdiction when good reason exists therefor.

All public offices of the state and all state institutions, including the state university and all public schools in the state shall be closed on the ninth day of September of each year, known as "Admission day."

CHAPTER 351.

An act to amend section thirty-two of the "water commission act," approved June 16, 1913, relating to fees to be paid upon submission of proof of appropriation of water.

[Approved May 19, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917,
p. 234,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section thirty-two of the "water commission act," approved June 16, 1913, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Fees collected
claimants.

Sec. 32. At the time of submission of proof of appropriation, the state water commission shall collect from such claimants, on the basis of the statements in the proofs, a fee of five (5) dollars for each cubic foot per second claimed for any purpose; the minimum fee, however, for any claimant to be five (5) dollars. For all purposes of this section three hundred fifty acre feet of water claimed for storage shall be deemed the equivalent of one cubic foot per second. As soon as practicable after the expiration of the period fixed in which proofs may be filed, the state water commission shall compute the cost of surveys, maps, reports and gathering of data and should the aggregate cost thereof exceed the total amount received from claimants with their submission of proofs, the excess shall be apportioned among the claimants in proportion to water claimed by them. Notice of the assessment of said additional charges shall be sent by registered mail to each claimant, such notice to include a statement of the total sum assessed and of the sum assessed to claimant addressed. All assessments remaining unpaid sixty days after the mailing of said notice shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the end of said sixty day period, and all assessments remaining unpaid at the time of entry of decree as provided in section thirty-six c of this act shall be taxed as costs against the delinquent claimants and collected in the manner provided by law for the collection of judgments. All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid, at least once each month, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the cash revolving fund of the state water commission in the state treasury.

CHAPTER 352.

An act to amend section two thousand three hundred twenty-two b of the Political Code, relating to horticulture.

[Approved May 19, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two thousand three hundred twenty-two b of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2322b. Said county horticultural commissioner shall have power to divide the county into districts, and to appoint a local inspector, to hold office at the pleasure of the county horticultural commissioner, for each of the said districts, and may, with the consent and approval of the board of supervisors, appoint one or more deputy horticultural commissioners, who must at the time of their appointment hold certificates of eligibility to the office of county horticultural commissioner from the director of agriculture as hereinbefore provided. Such deputy or deputies shall hold office at the pleasure of the county horticultural commissioner.

Deputy horticultural commissioners.

The county horticultural commissioner shall in his county perform all the duties delegated to a quarantine guardian in an act entitled "An act to provide for the protection of horticulture and to prevent the introduction into this state of insects or diseases, or animals, injurious to fruit or fruit trees, vines, bushes or vegetables, providing for a quarantine for the enforcement of this act, making a violation of the terms of the act a misdemeanor, and providing the penalty therefor; providing that said act shall be an urgency measure and go into effect immediately, and repealing that certain act entitled 'An act for the protection of horticulture and to prevent the introduction into this state of insects, or diseases, or animals, injurious to fruit or fruit trees, vines, bushes or vegetables, and to provide for a quarantine for the enforcement of this act,' approved March 11, 1899," approved January 2, 1912, and amendments thereto, and he shall enforce the provisions of said act under the supervision and direction of the director of agriculture.

Duties of
county
horticultural commissioner.

The director of agriculture shall have supervision and control over the county horticultural commissioners in the various counties of the state in the performance of their duties pertaining to the standardization of fruits, vegetables, and other plant products, and in the prevention of the illegal introduction into the state, or dissemination within the state, of plant diseases, noxious weeds and insects and other animal pests, and said county horticultural commissioners shall carry out their respective duties in such matters under the direction of the director of agriculture. The refusal by any county horticultural commissioner to carry out the orders and directions of

Control by
agriculture.

the director of agriculture in reference to such matters shall be deemed neglect of duty. The said quarantine guardians, local inspectors, deputies or the said county horticultural commissioner, have full authority to enter into any orchard, nursery, place or places where trees or plants or fruit are kept and offered for sale or otherwise, or any house, storeroom, sales-room, depot, or any other such place in their jurisdiction, to inspect the same, or any part thereof.

CHAPTER 353.

An act authorizing the conveyance to the county of Los Angeles of a right of way for a county road over land owned by the State of California near Castaic station, Los Angeles county, California.

[Approved May 10, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Right of way over state land granted to Los Angeles
county.

SECTION 1. The grant and conveyance by the State of California to the county of Los Angeles, a legal subdivision of the State of California, of the right of way and incidents thereto for a county road over and across the following described lands and premises, lying and being in the county of Los Angeles, State of California, and more particularly described as follows, to wit: A strip of land fifty feet wide, being that portion of the rancho San Francisco, as shown on map recorded in book 1, pages 521 and 522, of patents, records of Los Angeles county, conveyed to the State of California by a deed recorded in book 6418, page 120, of deeds, records of said county, which lies twenty-five feet each side of the following described center line: Beginning at the intersection of the center line of the Castaic canyon road, conveyed to the county of Los Angeles by a deed recorded in book 4230, page 1, of deeds, records of said county, with the northeasterly prolongation of the center line of the Saugus and Ventura road, conveyed to the county of Los Angeles by a deed recorded in book 6027, page 288, of deeds, records of said county; thence northeasterly along the northeasterly prolongation of the center line of said Saugus and Ventura road, a distance of 153.28 feet to the beginning of a curve concave to the southeast, having a radius of 300 feet and tangent to said last mentioned line; thence northeasterly along said curve, a distance of 214.17 feet to the center line of that certain highway conveyed to the State of California by a deed recorded in book 6055, page 286, of deeds, records of said county: is hereby authorized and approved; and the governor of the State of California for and on behalf and in the name of the State of California is hereby empowered and directed to execute, acknowledge and deliver a good and sufficient deed granting and conveying to said county of Los Angeles said right of way, hereinbefore more particularly described.

CHAPTER 354.

An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of tenement houses and hotels, in all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of dwellings in incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which such tenement houses, hotels and dwellings are erected or located, and to provide for its enforcement, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of tenement houses, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which tenement houses are erected or located, in all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved April 16, 1909, statutes of California of 1909, page 918, approved April 10, 1911, statutes of California of 1911, page 860, and approved June 13, 1913, statutes of California, 1913, page 737, and approved May 29, 1915, statutes of California, page 952, and all acts amendatory thereof," and approved May 31, 1917, statutes of California of 1917, page 1473; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of hotels, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which hotels are erected or located, in all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 16, 1913, statutes of California of 1913, page 1429," and approved May 31, 1917, statutes of California of 1917, page 1422; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of dwellings, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which dwellings are erected or located, in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," and approved May 31, 1917, statutes of California of 1917, page 1461.

[Approved May 19, 1921. In effect September 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Title. SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the "state housing act" and its provisions which relate in any manner whatsoever to "tenement houses" and "hotels" shall apply to all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and its provisions which relate to "dwellings" shall apply to all incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties in the State of California.

Enforcement
in cities.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the health department of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all the provisions of this act; provided, however, that every incorporated town, incorporated city and incorporated city and county in the State of California shall have and are hereby given authority to designate and charge by ordinance or otherwise any other department, officer or person than the health department with the enforcement of this act or any portion thereof; provided, that the health department of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county shall always have supervision over and shall enforce the provisions of this act relating to sanitation, ventilation and health in all buildings not in course of actual erection, construction, alteration or moving, and shall issue the "permit of occupancy" as hereinafter provided. In the event that an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county has designated or does designate and charge another and different department, officer or person than the health department to enforce the provisions of this act or any of them which by the provisions of this act may be transferred to the control of another department, officer or person than the health department all powers and duties not so transferred shall be and remain in the health department.

If no health department.

In the event that there is no health department or no building department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act.

In every county it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or of the maintenance, sanitation, occupancy and ventilation of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said county, to enforce all of the provisions of this act outside of the limits of any incorporated town or incorporated city. Enforcement in counties.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or arrangement of tenement houses, hotels and dwellings in all incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, and counties in the State of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instance specified in said written notice. Enforcement by commission of immigration and housing.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any building or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any building or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, yards or courts which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act: or to do or cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any building or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act. Unlawful construction.

SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes, or reconstruction work of any kind whatsoever, to any existing building or to increase the height of any building or the percentage of the lot occupied, or in any manner to diminish the size of the yards, courts or shafts or the size of windows or skylights, or to remove any stairway Unlawful alterations.

or fire escape, or to obstruct the egress from such building or from the hallways or stairways, or to do anything that would affect the ventilation and sanitation of the building, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Converted
building.

SEC. 5. A building not erected for use as a tenement house, hotel or dwelling, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all of the provisions of this act affecting a tenement house, hotel or dwelling, as the case may be, hereafter erected; except where elsewhere in this act specific exemption is made.

Building
moved.

A building erected for use as a tenement house, hotel or dwelling at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting such a building hereafter erected, in so far as such provisions pertain to the percentage of lot occupied and the size of outer courts, inner courts bounded by a lot line, and yards.

Reconstruction of damaged
building.

It shall be unlawful to reconstruct any building which is hereafter damaged by fire or the elements to an extent in excess of sixty (60) per cent of its physical proportions, unless the said building is made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting buildings hereafter erected.

Penalties

SEC. 6. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition to the penalty therefor, shall be liable for all costs, expense and disbursements paid or incurred by the department, by any of the officers thereof, or by any agent, employee or contractor of same, in the prosecution of such violation. The costs, expense and disbursements by this section provided shall be fixed by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of buildings or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a building or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

Building
permit.

SEC. 7. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to commence or to proceed with the erection, construction, reconstruction, conversion, or alteration of a building or to move or to build upon a building or any portion thereof for use as a tenement house, hotel or dwelling, without first obtaining a permit in writing so to do from the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Any person, firm or corporation desiring a permit to erect, construct, reconstruct, convert or alter a building or to build upon or move a building shall file an application therefor with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. The said application shall give a detailed statement in writing of the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion or alteration, as the case may be, upon blanks or forms to be furnished by the said department. Except as otherwise hereinafter provided, in the case of a tenement house or hotel the said application must be verified by affidavit made under oath by the person that makes such application and the application must be accompanied with a full, true and complete set of the plans of the building, alteration, or work proposed, as the case may be, together with a set of specifications describing the materials proposed to enter into the erection, construction or alteration of the building or proposed work, also a plan of the lot on which such building is proposed to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, converted, altered, or moved, as the case may be, and such lot plan shall clearly indicate or show an outline of any existing building or structure thereon. Such statement shall give in full the name and address by street and number of the owner or owners, also the name and address of the architect and of the contractor, if there be such an architect or contractor. The affidavit to the said application shall allege that the plans and specification and statements contained therein are true and correct; and if any person other than the owner makes such affidavit, such person must allege in the affidavit that he is authorized and empowered by the said owner to act for him and to sign the required affidavit.

Application.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act shall cause all plans, specifications and statements filed to be examined and if it appears that they conform to the provisions of this act, shall issue a permit to the person submitting the same. Said department may, from time to time, approve changes in any plans, specifications or statements previously approved by it; provided, that all changes when so made shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act. Said department shall have the power to revoke or cancel any permit or approval that it has previously issued in case of any refusal, failure or neglect of the persons to whom such permit or approval has been issued to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or in case any false statement or misrepresentation is made in any of the said plans, specifications or statements submitted or filed for such permit or approval. The erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or conversion of any such building shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and statements submitted or filed and upon which the permit is issued. A true copy of the plans, specifications and other information submitted or filed, upon which a permit is issued, with the approval of the department with which they are filed, stamped or written thereon, shall be kept upon the premises of the building or work for which the said permit is issued, from the commencement of the said building or work to the final completion of same, and shall be subject to inspection at all times by proper authorities.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act may, at its discretion, issue a permit in case of nominal alteration or repairs, when application is made therefor, in writing, by the owner or his agent, when the making of said nominal alterations and repairs does not affect any structural feature or the sanitation or the ventilation of the tenement house or hotel, as the case may be, without requiring the filing of plans or specifications.

The issuance or granting of a permit or approval by the department charged with the enforcement of this act under the authority of this section shall not be deemed or construed to be a permit or an approval of the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Every permit or approval which is issued by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, but under which no work has been done within ninety days from the date of issuance, or where work has been suspended for a period of ninety days, shall expire by limitation and a new permit shall be obtained before the work may be done.

If work is not done in ninety days.

"Certificate of final completion" and "permit of occupancy."

SEC. 8. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to occupy or to permit to be occupied any tenement house or hotel hereafter erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, converted or moved, as the case may be, or any portion thereof, for human habitation until the issuance of a "certificate of final completion" and a "permit of occupancy" by the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act.

Any person desiring a certificate of completion shall file a written application therefor with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. The said department shall cause an inspection to be made of the tenement house or hotel or portion thereof, or work described in the said written application, within ten days after the written application is filed, and shall issue a "certificate of final completion" if it is found that all the provisions of this act, regulating the erection, construction, alteration or moving, as the case may be, have been complied with.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act and designated to issue the permit of occupancy shall issue the said "permit of occupancy" upon application, in writing, therefor by the owner or his agent, and upon the filing by the owner or his agent of the "certificate of final completion."

All permits and certificates shall be made in duplicate and a copy shall remain on file in the department issuing them.

Tenement house and hotel.

In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, every owner or lessee of every tenement house occupied by five or more families or hotel shall obtain a permit of occupancy each calendar year from the department designated by this act to issue permits of occupancy which permit of occupancy shall run for one year from the date of its issuance. Such permit of occupancy shall not issue unless such tenement house or hotel conforms to the provisions of this act regarding sanitation. No annual permit of occupancy shall be required for any tenement house occupied or intended or designed to be occupied by less than five families, but such tenement house must obtain the original permit of occupancy upon completion. Every permit of occupancy so issued shall be displayed in some conspicuous place in the building so as to be readily seen by the authorized representatives of any department charged with the enforcement of this act.

Any tenement house or hotel which is occupied, or any portion thereof which is occupied for human habitation, prior to a "certificate of final completion" or a "permit of occupancy" being issued, shall be deemed a nuisance, and the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act may cause it to be vacated until the said certificate of completion and permit of occupancy have been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this act.

SEC. 9. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments, may, whenever necessary, enter buildings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, cities and counties, or counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter buildings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter buildings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act.

Provided, however, that the authority to enter buildings, as in this section given to the persons hereinbefore enumerated, shall not be construed or deemed to apply to the entering of any dwelling between the hours of six o'clock p.m. of any day and six o'clock a.m. of the succeeding day, without the consent of the owner or of the occupants of such dwelling; but in no event shall the authority in this section given be construed as permitting any of the persons hereinbefore enumerated to enter any such dwelling in the absence of the occupants thereof without a proper written order, duly executed by a competent court authorized to issue such orders.

SEC. 10. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning. Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural the singular. Words used in the present tense include the future. Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine. Words "building department," "housing department," "health department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," "fire commissioner," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county," as the case may be, in which the building is situated or proposed to be situated.

"Apartment"

"Apartment" is a room or suite of rooms which is occupied or is intended or designed to be occupied by one family for living and sleeping purposes in a tenement house or dwelling.

"Approved."

"Approved" means whatever material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter meets the requirements and approval of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or which conforms to the requirements of, and bears the approval of the "national board of fire underwriters" or the "underwriters' laboratories;" provided, however, that no such material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter shall be deemed "approved" for use where, or in such a manner as would be inconsistent with the intent, or specific provisions of this act and for this purpose any department, officer or commission, charged with the enforcement of this act, or authorized to enforce the provisions of this act, as set forth in section two hereof, may cause to be tested or demand that any such material, appliance or appurtenance be tested to its satisfaction that the said material, appliance or appurtenance, and its or their use fulfills requirements that are consistent with the intent and specific provisions of this act to be "approved."

"Basement."

"Basement" in a tenement house or hotel is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, or to or below the adjoining natural ground level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts.

"Building."

"Building" is a tenement house, hotel or dwelling as the case may be or a combination of any two or more such buildings.

"Building department."

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, board of public works, or any other officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar."

"Cellar" in a tenement house or hotel is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which in any part is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels and which is not a basement as defined in this act.

“Court” is an open, unoccupied space other than a yard ^{“Court.”} on the lot on which a building is erected or situated. A court, one entire side or end of which is bounded by a front yard, a rear yard or a side yard, or by the front of lot, or by a street or a public alley, is an “outer court.” Every court which is not an “outer court” is an “inner court.”

Every court shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms or apartments abutting the said court and served by the said court, except that a cornice, belt course or similar projection on the building may extend into an “outer court” two inches for each one foot in width of such court, and may extend into an “inner court” one inch for each one foot in width of such court; and provided, further, that a cornice or similar projection may extend any distance desired into a court provided the minimum unobstructed width of the court is maintained.

“Curb level” is the curb level opposite the center of the ^{“Curb level.”} “front of lot,” and if a curb level has not been established it means the average ground level at the “front of lot.”

Wherever the word “department” is used it means the ^{“Department.”} building department, the housing department, the health department or such other department or officer or commission, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

“Dormitory” is a room in which more than two persons ^{“Dormitory.”} are “guests” and are not living together, and shall, for the purpose of computing the number of rooms, be deemed a separate guest room for each one hundred square feet of superficial floor area therein.

“Dwelling” is any house or building, or any portion there- ^{“Dwelling.”} of, which is not a “tenement house” or a “hotel” as defined in this act, and which contains one or more “apartments” or “guestrooms,” used or intended or designed to be used, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or are occupied for living purposes.

“Family” is one person living alone or a group of two or ^{“Family.”} more persons living together in an apartment, whether related to each other by birth or not.

“Fireproof building” is a building wherein all the exterior ^{“Fireproof building.”} and interior loads or strains are transmitted to the foundation by means of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone, or by means of a skeleton framework of steel or iron, or of reinforced concrete or a combination of such materials; the exterior walls, inner court walls and roof constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone, terra cotta or concrete tile; where all the structural steel or iron is thoroughly fireproofed by concrete, cement plaster, tile, brick or sandstone, not less than two inches thick; where all the interior partitions are constructed of either terra cotta or concrete tile blocks, gypsum blocks, brick, concrete, reinforced concrete, or of metal studs lathed with metal lath, and plastered not less than three quarters of an inch thick, or constructed of wire glass not less than one fourth inch thick, set in metal frame and sash, and all other materials used in the said building are of approved fire resistive or incombustible material, except that the glass in windows, transoms, or doors may be in plain glass, and except that doors, frames, sash and the usual trim of rooms, hallways, corridors and passageways may be of wood, and except that wood floors may be placed, on top of the floors constructed of incombustible materials, except in the stairways and public hallways.

"Guest."

"Guest" is any person hiring and occupying a room for sleeping purposes, and shall include both boarders and lodgers.

"Guest room."

"Guest room" is a room which is occupied, or is intended, arranged or designed to be occupied for sleeping purposes by one or more guests, but shall not be deemed to include dormitories used for sleeping purposes.

"Hotel."

"Hotel" is any house or building of more than one story in height or portion thereof, containing six or more guest rooms used or intended or designed to be used, let or hired out to be occupied, or which are occupied by six or more guests, whether the compensation for hire be paid directly or indirectly in money, goods, wares, merchandise, labor or otherwise, and shall include hotels, lodging and rooming houses, turkish baths, bachelor hotels, studio hotels, public and private clubs, and any such building of any nature whatsoever so occupied, designed or intended to be occupied, except jails, hospitals, asylums, sanitariums, orphanages, prisons, detention buildings and similar buildings where human beings are housed and detained under restraint.

"Housing department."

"Housing department" is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances relating to the protection of the public health.

"Kitchen"

"Kitchen" is any room used or intended or designed to be used for cooking and preparation of food.

"Lot."

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a building together with the land, yards, courts and unoccupied spaces required by this act for such building; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the owner of the building.

A lot situated at the junction of two or more intersecting streets, with a boundary line thereof bordering on each of the two streets is a "corner lot." All parts of the width of such a corner lot which are distant more than seventy-five feet from the junction point of the two or more intersecting streets, shall be deemed to be an "interior lot." The owner or his authorized agent may designate either street frontage as being the front of such corner lot for the purpose of determining the width thereof. A lot which is not a "corner lot" is an "interior lot." "Front of lot" is the boundary line of lot bordering on the street. In case of a corner lot, either frontage may be the "front of lot." "Rear of lot" is the boundary line of lot opposite the "front of lot." "Depth of lot" is the mean distance from the "front of lot" to the "rear of lot."

"Metal lath" is any standard approved type of expanded metal lath painted or galvanized, and for the purposes of this act, in lieu of metal lath, there may be used any type of "approved" plasterboard that is approved as in this act provided, and such plasterboard shall have applied over the same not less than three-eighths of an inch of plaster; provided, however, that when plasterboard is used on the weather side of exterior walls and shafts it shall have applied thereon, before it is plastered, a reinforcement of metal lath or redipped or galvanized wire mesh.

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health, and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or illumination, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Occupied space" is all the space covered by a building including outside stairways, platforms, fire escapes, balconies, fire towers, chimneys, vent shafts not exceeding thirty-two square feet in area, cornice which projects into a court or a yard more than is permitted elsewhere in this act, except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may extend not exceeding four feet beyond the exterior walls of the building into a yard or court providing they do not in any manner obstruct the light and ventilation of the rooms or apartments, and except that a retaining wall may extend not to exceed twelve inches into a yard or court. For the purpose of determining occupied space, the area of the building shall be taken at the lowest story or portion thereof used for the living or sleeping purposes.

"Person" is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; and also includes a firm, partnership or corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

"Public hallway" is a hallway, corridor, passageway or vestibule not within an apartment in a tenement house, or not within a suite of rooms in a hotel, and includes stairways, landings and platforms.

"Semifireproof building" is a building which does not fully comply with the requirements of this act for a "fireproof building" as defined in this act and with all exterior walls and walls of inner and outer courts and recesses constructed of brick, stone, concrete, reinforced concrete, terra cotta or concrete tile or similar approved fire resistive or incombustible materials and that conforms in all other respects to the provisions of this act for semifireproof buildings; provided, however, that the exterior walls of inner courts that are surrounded on four sides by the same building may be constructed as hereinafter provided for such inner courts by section fifty-seven of this act. In every semifireproof building designed and built to exceed four stories in height, all the interior walls, partitions and ceilings therein and the soffits of stairways and the stairwells shall be constructed of the same kind of materials and in the same manner hereinbefore provided for fireproof buildings or the interior walls, partitions and ceilings and the soffits of stairways and the stairwells and the ceilings of basements or cellars therein shall be of wooden construction and shall be lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick. In every semifireproof building designed and built not to exceed four stories in height, all the walls and partitions and ceilings of public hallways and the soffits of stairways and the stairwells and the ceilings of basements or cellars therein shall be constructed of the same kind of materials and in the same manner hereinbefore provided for semifireproof buildings that are designed and built to exceed four stories in height or such walls and partitions and ceilings of public hallways and the soffits of stairways and the stairwells and the ceilings of basements or cellars therein shall be of wooden construction and shall be lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick. The roofs of every semifireproof building shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials or be well covered with an "approved" composition fire resistive or fire retardant material. In semifireproof buildings the usual trim of rooms and hallways, finished floors, windows and doors and the frames therefor may be of wood and the glass in windows and doors may be in plain glass except where in this act otherwise prescribed.

"Shaft."

"Shaft" is any shaft whether for air, light, ventilation, elevator or dumb waiter. A vent shaft is one used solely to ventilate or light water closet compartments and bath rooms and in a tenement house or hotel, hereafter erected, no window or windows from a living room, bed room, kitchen or other room or place used for cooking, preparation or storage of food, shall open onto such a vent shaft. Every vent shaft shall be open and unobstructed to the sky.

"Shall."

"Shall" whenever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

"Street."

"Street" is any public street, public alley, thoroughfare or public park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the "front of lot," to the opposite "front of lot," and which shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

"Tenement house."

"Tenement house" is any house or building, or portion thereof, more than one story in height, which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or which is occu-ped as the home or residence of three or more families living independently of each other and doing their cooking in the said building.

"Wooden building" is a building which does not fully comply with the requirements of this act for a "fireproof building," or a "semifireproof building" as defined in this act. Every wooden building hereafter erected in any incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county shall have the exterior walls thereof and roofs thereon constructed of the same kind of materials and in the same manner hereinbefore provided for semifireproof buildings; provided, however, that the exterior walls of any wooden building may be constructed of wooden materials or stuccoed or veneered in an approved manner on wooden frame work. In every wooden building which is a tenement house designed and built to accommodate three or more families above the first story thereof, and in every wooden building which is a hotel designed and built to accommodate six or more guests above the first story thereof, the walls, partitions and ceilings of public hallways, soffits of interior stairways and stair wells shall be lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick; provided, however, that in the case of a wooden building, erected prior to the passage of this act, which is hereafter altered or converted for use of a tenement house or hotel the provisions hereinbefore set forth as regards metal lath and plaster shall apply only to the new work therein or portion thereof which is renewed.

"Yard" is an open unoccupied space other than a court on the lot on which is situated a building, open unobstructed from the ground to the sky except where otherwise provided by this act. If such a yard is between the front line of the building and the front boundary line of the lot, it is a "front yard." If the yard is between the extreme rear line of the building and the rear of the lot, it is a "rear yard." If the yard extends from the rear yard to the front yard or front of lot, it is a "side yard."

SEC. 11. Whenever a building used for human habitation is erected behind another building or there is placed a building in the front of another building, the rear building shall have direct access to a street by means of a passageway not less than five feet wide, and not less than seven feet high if it passes through the building in the front thereof, and such passageway or portion thereof that passes through a building must be constructed as provided by section sixteen hereof regarding passageways.

SEC. 12. No semifireproof tenement house or hotel hereafter erected shall exceed six stories at any point, nor more than two times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts. No wooden tenement house or hotel hereafter erected shall exceed three stories for living and sleeping purposes at any point nor more than thirty-six feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than two times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts; provided, however, that semireproof or wooden tenement houses or hotels may be erected of a height more than two times the width of the widest street to which the lots abut on which such tenement houses or hotels are situated; provided, that in such tenement houses or hotels each story that is built above the height hereinbefore prescribed is set back not less than six feet from the street facade of the story immediately below such story; and provided, further, that the height limit for semireproof or wooden tenement houses or hotels above set out is not exceeded. For the purpose of determining the number of stories in a building the basement shall be counted a story. A wooden tenement house or hotel may be increased to a height not exceeding forty feet provided that the courts required by this act are not less in widths or areas than is required for a tenement house or hotel, as the case may be, having four stories designed for human habitation and provided such wooden tenement house or hotel shall not have more than three stories occupied or intended or designed to be occupied for human habitation. The height of a building is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the lowest point of the finished ceiling of the top story; provided, that in case of a wooden tenement house or hotel situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed forty feet above the curb line measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed fifty feet above the adjoining curb in the case of a corner lot or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot. For the purpose of this section the width of street shall be measured from the extreme front of the building to the front of lot opposite across the street.

Unoccupied
area.

SEC. 13. On every corner lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least ten per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied. On every interior lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least twenty-five per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied; provided, however, that if either of such lots extend through from one street to another street, or a public alley, or public park one-half of the narrowest street or public alley or public park to which the lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied; except that if such one-half of the narrowest street or public alley or public park is greater than the rear yard required for the tenement house, then only as much of the said street or alley or public park as is required for the rear yard shall be considered as part of the lot for the purpose of computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied.

SEC. 14. On every lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected there shall be provided a rear yard immediately Rear yard behind such tenement house. In the case of an interior lot, such yard shall extend across the entire width of the lot;

 except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may extend not more than four feet into any yard. The minimum depth of a rear yard on an interior lot shall be not less than twelve feet for a building of sixty feet in height and the said yard shall be increased in depth two feet for each additional twelve feet in height of the building or fractional part thereof up to one hundred eight feet, and the said yard may be decreased in depth one foot for each twelve feet in the height of the building less than sixty feet; provided, however, that in no event shall any such yard be less than ten feet in depth; and provided, further, that in the case where a building exceeds one hundred eight feet in height the minimum depth of the said yard shall be twenty feet.

In the case of a corner lot the rear yard shall extend across the entire width of the lot and from the lowest floor which is used for living or sleeping apartments, clear and unobstructed to the sky. The minimum depth of a rear yard on a corner lot that does not exceed one hundred feet in depth shall be not less than ten per cent of the depth of the lot nor less than five feet nor less than the minimum width required for an outer court, and in case the lot exceeds one hundred feet in depth the depth of the rear yard shall be not less than ten feet nor less than the minimum width required for an outer court.

Except where otherwise provided the depth required for a rear yard shall be determined by the height of the rear wall of the tenement house which abuts on the said rear yard and measured from the top of such wall to the level of the floor of the yard at such rear wall; provided, however, that if either lot extends through from one street to another street, or to a public alley or public park, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley or public park to which such lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required by this section. In the case of a tenement house hereafter erected, designed and built to accommodate not more than two families above the first story thereof, the percentage of unoccupied space and sizes of rear yards may be one-half of that prescribed by sections thirteen and fourteen hereof, but in no event shall a rear yard be less than five feet in depth.

SEC. 15. Where a hotel hereafter erected is designed to Rear yard of have a rear yard the minimum size of such rear yard shall be not less in depth than the width of an inner court nor in area than the area of an inner court, except that if such rear yard is bounded on its entire one end or side by an outer court, or by a side yard or by a street, or by a public alley or park, then such rear yard shall be not less in depth than the width of an outer court; provided, however, that if the lot extends through from one street to another street or public alley, such public street or alley may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard.

In a dwelling hereafter erected, which is designed to have a rear yard the minimum depth of such yard shall be not less than four feet.

Passageway
to rear yard.

SEC. 16. Every rear yard required by this act, for a tenement house hereafter erected, and not bordering on a street or public alley shall have access to a street or public alley by means of an unobstructed passageway, separate from the main public hallway through the building, not less than three feet in clear width, nor less than six feet six inches in clear height; and if such passageway or any portion thereof passes through a building, such portion thereof shall be built of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lathed with metal lath plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick, or shall be lined with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron, and shall be drained.

Distance
buildings.

SEC. 17. Where a tenement house or hotel is now or hereafter erected upon a lot other than a corner lot no other building of any character or kind shall hereafter be placed on the front or the rear of such lot unless the minimum distance between such buildings shall be at least twenty feet, and two additional feet shall be added to such minimum distance of twenty feet for every story more than two in height of the highest building on such lot; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply when dwellings only stand upon or are to be placed on the lot.

Measurement of rear yard.

SEC. 18. The depth of a rear yard for a tenement house or hotel shall be measured at right angles from the extreme rear line of the building towards the rear lot line.

Front yard below level of curbs.

SEC. 19. Every front yard which is excavated below the level of the curb or below the adjoining ground level for the purpose of furnishing light and ventilation to a basement shall in no part be less in width and length than required for outer courts.

Side yard.

SEC. 20. The width of every side yard shall be not less than the width required for an outer court and measured in the same manner as an outer court, except that the provisions of this act regarding the maximum lengths of an outer court shall not apply to a side yard; provided, that if there is a side yard on both sides of the building, connected one with the other across the rear of the building by a rear yard, then the width of the side yards may be reduced twelve inches.

SEC. 21. The outer courts of all tenement houses hereafter erected shall have not less than the following minimum widths nor more than the following maximum lengths as set out in the following table: Outer courts of tenement houses.

Height of building in stories based on the full number of stories in the building measured upwards from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments	Minimum width of outer court in every part	Maximum length of outer court
2 stories -----	4 feet 0 inches	60 feet
3 stories -----	4 feet 6 inches	25 feet
4 stories -----	5 feet 6 inches	30 feet
5 stories -----	6 feet 6 inches	35 feet
6 stories -----	8 feet 0 inches	35 feet
7 stories -----	10 feet 0 inches	40 feet
8 stories or more -----	12 feet 0 inches	40 feet

Provided, however, there shall be added to the minimum width of each such outer court six inches for each five feet or fractional part thereof in excess of the maximum length, except in the case of outer courts in tenement houses not more than two stories in height. The maximum lengths herein provided shall not apply when the outer court is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line; provided, however, that if an outer court is bounded by a public alley or public park, the width of such public alley or public park may be considered a part of the lot in determining the required width of the outer court.

The outer courts of all hotels hereafter erected shall have not less than the following minimum widths as set out in the following table: Outer courts of hotels.

Height of building in stories based on the full number of stories in the building measured upwards from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room or guest rooms, or dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of outer court in every part
2 stories -----	4 feet 0 inches
3 stories -----	4 feet 6 inches
4 stories -----	5 feet 6 inches
5 stories -----	6 feet 0 inches
6 stories -----	7 feet 0 inches
7 stories or more -----	8 feet 0 inches

Outer courts for dwellings shall be governed by the same minimum widths herein provided for tenement houses of two stories in height and every such outer court shall contain at least forty square feet of floor or ground area. Outer courts of dwellings.

SEC. 22. In no event shall any yard or court be made to serve two buildings hereafter erected, or an existing building and a building hereafter erected. Yard not to serve two buildings.

Inner courts of tenement houses.

SEC. 23. The inner courts of all tenement houses hereafter erected shall have minimum areas and minimum widths in all parts not less than the areas and widths contained in the following table:

Height of building in stories based on the full number of stories in the building measured upwards from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments	Minimum width of inner court in every part	Minimum area of inner court in square feet
2 stories -----	6 feet	75 square feet
3 stories -----	7 feet	120 square feet
4 stories -----	8 feet	160 square feet
5 stories -----	12 feet	250 square feet
6 stories -----	16 feet	400 square feet
7 stories -----	20 feet	625 square feet
8 stories or more -----	24 feet	840 square feet

Provided, however, that the minimum size of inner courts bounded on one side for their entire length by a lot line shall be not less than of the minimum areas and minimum widths contained in the following table:

Height of building in stories based on the full number of stories in the building measured upwards from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments	Minimum width of inner court in every part	Minimum area of inner court in square feet
2 stories -----	5 feet	60 square feet
3 stories -----	6 feet	120 square feet
4 stories -----	7 feet	175 square feet
5 stories -----	9 feet	225 square feet
6 stories -----	12 feet	360 square feet
7 stories -----	15 feet	525 square feet
8 stories or more -----	18 feet	630 square feet

Every inner court in tenement houses hereafter erected and every inner court in any tenement house or hotel shall be provided with a door or window at or near the bottom thereof, giving sufficient access to such court or vent shaft as to enable it to be properly cleaned out. Any inner court, including inner courts one entire side of which is bounded by a lot line, for a tenement house hereafter erected designed and built to accommodate not more than two families above the first story thereof, may be reduced one foot in its width from the widths hereinbefore prescribed, and every such inner court shall contain an area of not less than sixty square feet. Inner courts for dwellings shall be not less in width and area than hereinbefore provided for outer courts for dwellings.

SEC. 24. The inner courts of all hotels hereafter erected shall have not less than the following minimum lengths nor less than the minimum widths in every part as set out in the following table:

Inner courts of hotels.

Height of building in stories based on the full number of stories in the building measured upwards from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room or guest rooms, or dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of inner court in every part	Minimum length of inner court
2 stories -----	5 feet	9 feet
3 stories -----	7 feet	10 feet
4 stories -----	10 feet	12 feet
5 stories -----	12 feet	16 feet
6 stories -----	14 feet	18 feet
7 stories -----	16 feet	20 feet
8 stories or more -----	16 feet	22 feet

Provided, however, that the inner courts bounded on one side for their entire length by a lot line shall have not less than the following minimum lengths nor less than the minimum widths in every part as set out in the following table:

Height of building in stories based on the full number of stories in the building measured upwards from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court in every part measured at right angles to lot line	Minimum length of court running parallel to the lot line
2 stories -----	4 feet	9 feet
3 stories -----	5 feet	10 feet
4 stories -----	6 feet	11 feet
5 stories -----	7 feet	12 feet
6 stories -----	8 feet	13 feet
7 stories -----	9 feet	14 feet
8 stories or more -----	10 feet	15 feet

The minimum width of an inner court bounded by a lot line for a hotel shall always be measured at right angles to the lot line and the minimum length of such a court shall always be measured parallel to the lot line.

SEC. 25. Every recess from a court, yard or street in a tenement house or hotel hereafter erected shall be not less in width than its depth, and the area thereof shall not be counted in computing the area of a court or yard. Every such recess shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are rooms the said recess is designed to serve.

Recesses.

SEC. 26. Every inner court, including inner courts bounded on one side for their entire length by a lot line in a tenement house hereafter erected shall be provided with a horizontal intake at the bottom of such court. Every such intake shall always extend directly to the front of lot or front yard or rear yard or to a side yard or to a street or to a public alley or public park. Each such intake shall consist of an unobstructed duct or passageway having a minimum width of three feet in all its parts and a minimum height of six feet six inches.

Intake in inner courts.

Every such intake shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick, or shall be lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof. Such air intake may be closed at each end with a gate or grill having not less than seventy-five per cent of open work.

In case the inner court does not extend below the second floor level, then each such air intake may consist of an unobstructed open duct or ducts, constructed of materials as herein above set forth and contain an interior aggregate area of not less than ten square feet, and in no dimension be less than twelve inches, and covered at each end with a wire screen with a mesh of at least one inch in diameter.

Every air intake shall be drained and so constructed and arranged as to be readily cleaned out.

Cellar and basement
rooms.

SEC. 27. In no tenement house or hotel shall any room in the cellar thereof be hereafter constructed, altered, or occupied for living or sleeping purposes; and no room in a basement of a tenement house or hotel shall hereafter be constructed, altered, or occupied for living or sleeping purposes, unless such room conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building and the ceiling of each such room shall be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground level. Every basement shall be ventilated. The walls and floors of every basement hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceiling thereof shall be plastered.

Space beneath lowest floor in tenement or hotel.

SEC. 28. In every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected, the lowest floor thereof, except masonry floors laid directly on the soil or self-supporting masonry floors, shall be at least twelve inches above the surface soil adjoining and under the floor, and the entire space under such floor shall be kept clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

Such space under the floor shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with screens, lattice work, or similar provisions of a size to insure ample ventilation.

SEC. 29. Every dwelling hereafter erected shall be constructed in a substantial manner; and the building shall be so constructed as to provide shelter to the occupants against the elements, and so as to exclude dampness in inclement weather; and there shall be provided in every dwelling hereafter erected in any incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county a clear air space under the lowest floor thereof of at least six inches, except where there is a ventilated basement or cellar underneath such floor and except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, or there is used a self-supporting masonry floor. Such clear air space shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with screens, lattice work, or similar provisions, of a size to insure ample ventilation. The surface underneath the floor shall be kept clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth. All floors in such dwellings and the roofs thereon shall be constructed in the manner and of the materials and to sustain the live loads elsewhere in this act provided.

SEC. 30. In every apartment in every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one room that contains not less than one hundred twenty square feet of superficial floor area, and every other room shall contain not less than eighty square feet of superficial floor area. In every hotel hereafter erected each guest room shall contain not less than eighty square feet of superficial floor area. Superficial floor area.

Open sleeping porches or enclosed sleeping porches and similar rooms may be designed and built with a superficial floor area of seventy square feet; provided, such porches or rooms are designed and built with windows on at least two sides thereof or with window areas of twice the minimum size in this act elsewhere prescribed for rooms and in no event of a window area of less than twenty-four square feet, and provided such windows open onto a street, yard, or court. Sleeping porches.

Every kitchen in a tenement house hereafter erected shall contain not less than fifty square feet of superficial floor area. Kitchen.

In every tenement house hereafter erected, designed, or built to accommodate three or more families above the first story thereof, and in every hotel hereafter erected, every room shall have a ceiling height of not less than nine feet, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; and in every other tenement house hereafter erected, every room shall have a ceiling height of not less than eight feet and six inches measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling. The minimum width of every room in a tenement house or hotel hereafter erected shall be not less than six feet at any point. Attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need only have the prescribed ceiling heights in not less than one-half of the area of the room. The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to water-closet, bath or slop-sink compartments, nor to closets, recesses from rooms and dressing rooms, nor shall the minimum width of rooms apply to kitchens. Ceiling height.

Every water-closet compartment in every building hereafter erected, shall be not less than thirty inches in clear width, and every such water-closet compartment, bath or slop-sink compartment, closet and recess from a room shall have a ceiling height of not less than seven feet and six inches, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling. In every tenement house designed and built to accommodate three or more families above the first story thereof and hotel hereafter erected, every closet, recess from a room or dressing room, Water-closets.

which contains more than twenty-five square feet of superficial floor area (built-in dressers, clothes presses and similar features which are a substantial part of the structure shall not be deemed to be a part of the floor area of a closet, recess from a room or dressing room) shall conform to all of the provisions of this act for rooms and shall contain not less than eighty square feet of superficial floor area.

Division of room.

No part of any room in any tenement house or hotel shall hereafter be enclosed or subdivided, wholly or in part, by a curtain, portiere, fixed or movable partition, or other contrivance or device, for any purpose contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Entertainment
rooms.

Entertainment, amusement, or reception rooms hereafter constructed, altered or converted, in a tenement house or hotel shall conform to the provision of section thirty-two of this act.

Dormitories hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any building shall conform to the provisions of section sixty-two of this act.

Windows.

SEC. 31. In every building hereafter erected, every living room, bedroom, guest room, dormitory, kitchen, scullery, pantry (except pantries in apartments) or other room in which food is stored or prepared, dining room, general amusement, entertainment or reception room and room or compartment wherein there is installed a water-closet, shower, bathtub or toilet or general utility room shall have a window or windows of the area hereinafter required, opening onto a street, public alley, or a yard or court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot.

All such windows shall be located so as to properly light all portions of the room or compartment as the case may be, and shall be made and arranged so that at least one-half of the aggregate window area, required in each such room or compartment, may be opened unobstructed.

Opening
into vent
shaft.

The windows required by this section in a water-closet or shower compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room may open directly into a vent shaft in lieu of a street, yard or court. Such vent shaft shall be not less than the minimum size, and constructed of the materials and in the manner prescribed by section fifty-six of this act.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit windows from hallways and rooms to open through roofed porches that do not diminish the percentage of unoccupied space, or sizes of yards and courts, required by this act, provided, that such windows face the street, yard or court to which such porches abut.

Exhaust system of ventilation.

In a hotel, water-closet or shower compartments, bath, toilet, kitchens, sculleries, pantries or other rooms used for cooking, storing or preparing of food, and in a tenement house or hotel, general amusement rooms, reception rooms, public dining rooms, and general utility rooms in lieu of windows, may be ventilated by an exhaust system of ventilation installed.

constructed and maintained as hereinafter prescribed by section sixty hercof.

SEC. 32. Every room in every tenement house hereafter erected; and every room, kitchen, scullery, pantry or other room in which food is stored or prepared, and general utility room, in every hotel hereafter erected, and every room used for living and sleeping purposes and every kitchen in every dwelling hereafter erected, shall have one or more windows the total area of which shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room or compartment such window or windows are designed to serve, and in no event shall the aggregate window area in a room be less than twelve square feet, and in rooms in a tenement house or hotel no single window shall be less than six square feet in area; provided, however, that rooms in dwellings designed to be occupied by but one family shall have a minimum aggregate window area of twelve square feet irrespective of the floor area of the room.

In every building hereafter erected the window area in a water-closet compartment, bath, toilet, or shower room, shall be not less than three square feet, and in a tenement house or hotel the aggregate area of windows for each such compartment or room shall be not less than six square feet, and in each such compartment or room containing more than one water-closet, bath, or urinal the aggregate window area shall be equivalent to three square feet for each water-closet, bath or urinal therein, except that at no time need the aggregate window area exceed one-fourth of the superficial floor area of such compartment or room.

In every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected, the total window area in each room used or intended or designed to be used for the purpose of amusement, entertainment, reception room, public dining room or any room used for similar purposes, which room has a superficial floor area not exceeding one hundred eighty square feet, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of such room. Every such room which has a superficial floor area exceeding one hundred eighty square feet shall have an aggregate window area not less than that required for a room of one hundred eighty square feet of superficial floor area.

Every such amusement, entertainment, or reception room, or public dining room, or room used for similar purposes, shall have a minimum height between the finished floor and the finished ceiling of not less than nine feet. No such room or part thereof shall be used for living or sleeping apartments, except that said room or part thereof complies with all of the other provisions of this act, for living and sleeping rooms.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to the outside of the sash.

SEC. 33. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every public hallway that serves three or more apartments on any floor, and in every hotel hereafter erected, every public hallway that serves five or more guest rooms on any floor, shall have at least one window opening directly onto a street, or onto a yard or a court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot; such window or windows shall be at the end of the public hallway or placed so as to secure the maximum light into the hallway; provided, however, that in tenement houses or hotels not exceeding two stories in height, the public hallway may, in lieu of such windows, be lighted and ventilated by one or more skylights constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Window
area.

Every window required by this act in a public hallway shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height, and the finished sill of same shall not be more than thirty inches above the adjoining finished floor. Every such window shall be made so as to open and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

Skylights.

Every skylight provided for in this section shall have an effective horizontal area of glass of not less than fifteen square feet, and shall have ridge ventilators or fixed or movable louvers so as to provide a ventilating area of not less than five hundred square inches. Such skylights shall be so located that no portion of the hallway be distant more than twenty feet (measured from a vertical line) from a skylight opening.

Separate hallway.

Any part of a public hallway which is offset, recessed, or cut off from any other part of a hallway where such offset or recess is more in length than three times the width of the public hallway from which it offsets or recesses, shall be deemed a separate public hallway within the meaning of this section.

French
windows.

French windows or doors, if arranged to open and glazed to give the areas of opening and glass required by this act for windows in public hallways, or windows in rooms of any building, may be used in lieu of windows therein.

Ventilating skylight.

SEC. 34. In every tenement house or hotel two or more stories in height, hereafter erected, where there are more than three apartments, in the case of a tenement house, and more than five guest rooms in the case of a hotel, on any one floor above the first floor thereof, there shall be provided at the roof over each stairway a ventilating skylight, placed directly as practicable over same, having a minimum effective horizontal area of glass at least twenty square feet in area for buildings two stories in height, and the area of glass in such skylight shall be increased at a ratio of six square feet for each additional story in height. In every such skylight the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Every such skylight and the ventilating openings and the shutters and the closing and opening devices for the ventilating openings shall be made of approved incombustible materials and so arranged that the entire ventilating area may be readily opened from at least the topmost and first story levels, except that in tenement houses or hotels, not exceeding four stories in height the ventilators may be arranged so as to open from at least the first story, or the ventilators may be fixed permanently in an open position.

Skylights as in this section prescribed may be omitted in case that windows are provided of the size fixed by section thirty-three hereof and located adjoining the stairways, and that each window adjoining the stairway be provided with an open louver or ventilator providing a ventilating area of not less than one hundred square inches or such louver or ventilator may be placed in the roof over the stairway, in which event the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Whenever a skylight is required as in this section provided there shall be constructed a stair well, the clear open area of which shall be at each floor equal to one-third of the area of glass in the skylight.

SEC. 35. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every apartment that contains four or more rooms, exclusive of bath rooms, shall be so arranged that access may be had to a water-closet compartment, without passing through any bedroom. Access to water-closet.

SEC. 36. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be installed one water-closet within each apartment located in a separate compartment or located in a compartment with a bathtub, shower or lavatory, used exclusively by the occupants of the apartment. Water-closets in tenement house.

In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for each sex on such floor. One of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men" and one of the water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for women"; and there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every ten guest rooms or fractional part thereof in excess of ten guest rooms on such floor which are not provided with private water-closets. Each of the said water-closets shall be accessible from each of the guest rooms through the public hallway, and not more than one hundred feet distant from the entrance door of each of the guest rooms the said water-closet proposes to serve. In hotel.

In every dwelling hereafter erected there shall be provided one water-closet for each family living therein; provided, however, that in the case of group dwellings and in dwellings where there live persons not living together as families, the department charged with the enforcement of this act may at its discretion issue a special permit whereby there shall be provided at least one water-closet for each sex, located in a separate compartment, and such compartments shall be distinctly marked "for men" and "for women." Such two water-closets shall not serve more than four families and there shall be provided one additional water-closet for each additional two families or lesser fractional part thereof in excess of four families. In In dwelling house.

the case of persons not living together as families there shall be provided not less than one water-closet for each ten such persons or fractional part thereof of each sex in the aforesaid manner.

Door. No door or other opening in a water-closet or urinal compartment shall open from or into any room in which food is prepared or stored in a tenement house or hotel.

Walls. The walls enclosing a water-closet compartment shall be well plastered, or constructed of or painted with some nonabsorbent material, except that the ordinary wood trim for openings may be used in such a compartment. Every water-closet compartment shall be provided and equipped with a full door, properly hung, and provided with a lock or bolt to lock same.

Floor The floor of every water-closet compartment hereafter constructed, in a tenement house or hotel, shall be made waterproof with asphalt, tile, marble, terrazzo, cement or some other similar nonabsorbent material, and such waterproofing shall extend not less than two inches on the vertical walls of the compartment.

Water-closets in buildings erected prior to passage of act. SEC. 37. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway of the same floor, for every three apartments or fractional part thereof on such floor which are not provided with private water-closets. Where two or more water-closets are required by the provisions of this section to be located on a public hallway, one of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets distinctly marked "for women."

In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway for each sex; one of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for women"; and there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every twelve guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, on such floor, which are not provided with private water-closets; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any building existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this and the preceding paragraph of this section, when in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the building or premises, or it is impractical to fully comply with the aforesaid provisions because of structural reasons that exist in the building; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a tenement house or hotel.

Every water-closet hereafter installed in a building erected prior to the passage of this act shall comply with every provision of this act relative to water-closets installed in buildings hereafter erected, except that in the case of water-closets and baths installed in the top story of any building, the compartment in which they are installed may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvers in lieu of a window or windows; provided, however, that a new water-closet may be installed to replace a defective or antiquated fixture in the same location.

Every building erected prior to the passage of this act, or hereafter erected, where a connection with the sewer is possible, shall discontinue the use of any school sink, privy vault, or any similar receptacle used to receive fecal matter, urine or sewage, and every such receptacle shall be completely removed and the place where it was located be properly disinfected. All such receptacles shall be replaced by individual water-closets of durable nonabsorbent material, properly connected, trapped, vented and provided with flush tanks, the same as is required, by the provisions of this act in buildings hereafter erected.

SEC. 38. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a bathtub or shower within each apartment, and such bathtub or shower shall be located in a separate compartment, or there may be provided one such bathtub or shower in a separate compartment for every three such apartments which are not provided with private baths or showers; provided, that said bathtub or shower is on the same floor and is accessible from each apartment through the public hallway.

In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one kitchen sink within each apartment. In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one bathtub or shower, in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every ten guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, not provided with private baths; provided, that the said bathtub or shower is on the same floor and is accessible from each guest room through the public hallway.

The walls and floors of every bath or shower room hereafter constructed shall be waterproofed and shall be provided with doors in the same manner as required for the construction of water-closet compartments in tenement houses and hotels hereafter erected.

Every dwelling hereafter erected, designed and built to accommodate four or more families shall be provided with at least one bath tub or shower-bath and for each four families or fractional part thereof in excess of four families there shall be provided an additional bath tub or shower-bath. Such bath tubs or shower-baths shall be located in a suitable compartment or compartments therefor. Every dwelling hereafter erected designed and built to accommodate ten or more persons not living together as families shall be provided with at least one bath tub or shower-bath and for each fifteen such persons or fractional part thereof in excess of the first ten persons living therein there shall be provided an additional bath tub or shower-bath. Such bath tubs or shower-baths shall be located in a suitable compartment or compartments therefor.

Bathtub or shower in buildings erected prior to passage of act.

SEC. 39. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one bathtub or shower in a separate compartment, located on the same floor, for every five apartments, or fractional part thereof, which are not provided with private baths or showers, on each such floor, and there shall be provided at least one kitchen sink in each apartment.

In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be installed not less than one bathtub or shower, in a separate compartment, located in the public hallway, for every twenty guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, which are not provided with private baths; provided, that the said bathtub or shower is located on the same floor and is accessible from each guest room through the public hallway.

Provided, however, that the department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any tenement house or hotel existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this section when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the said tenement house or hotel or premises, or it is impractical to fully comply with the aforesaid provisions because of structural reasons that exist in the building; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a tenement house or hotel.

Plumbing connections.

SEC. 40. In every building hereafter erected, and in every building erected prior to the passage of this act, every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and in every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected, or erected prior to the passage of this act, there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system of every building hereafter erected, shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer. Whenever deemed necessary for the health of the occupants and the sanitation of the building or premises, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, there shall be installed in the building, properly connected with the building sewer line, an approved type of automatic sewer flushing device that will have a discharge sufficient to thoroughly cleanse such sewer line.

SEC. 41. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets, and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the building hereafter erected or an existing building as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practicable means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water and proper means of sewage disposal. A special permit in writing shall be obtained in every such case from the department charged with the enforcement of this act, which permit shall be made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the department issuing it; provided, further, that proper separate toilet facilities for each sex shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy, and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter shall be enclosed by mosquito screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals. All drainage water shall be conveyed from the premises by means of a covered drain to a covered cesspool.

SEC 42. In every building hereafter erected, and in every existing tenement house and hotel, all plumbing fixtures affecting the sanitary drainage system shall be properly trapped and vented and made sanitary in every particular. In no building hereafter erected and in no existing tenement house or hotel shall any water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory be enclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around same must be left open, and all woodwork enclosing such plumbing fixture shall be removed and the floors and wall surfaces beneath and around such water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory shall be maintained in good repair, and if of wood, well painted with a light colored paint of sufficient body to make it nonabsorbent. All wooden seats, attached to water-closet bowls, shall be varnished or enameled, or by some other method made nonabsorbent.

In every building hereafter erected water-closets shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats integral with the bowls, or wooden seats varnished or enameled so as to be nonabsorbent or seats made of some nonabsorbent material attached directly to the bowls. No wooden wash trays or wooden kitchen sinks shall be permitted in such buildings. All plumbing connections hereafter made in buildings shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass, except house sewer connections which may be of cast iron, vitrified clay or machine made glazed cement pipe, and every gas and water service connection hereafter made shall be of steel or iron and shall be equipped with cut-off valves placed outside of the building and readily accessible.

Whenever any plumbing fixture becomes insanitary the department charged with the enforcement of this act may cause the fixture to be removed and cause it to be replaced by a fixture conforming to the provisions of this act.

Stairways.

SEC. 43. Every fireproof tenement house or hotel hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet wide, for each six thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every semifireproof tenement house or hotel hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet wide, for each five thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every wooden tenement house or hotel hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet wide, for each four thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every tenement house or hotel three or more stories in height hereafter erected, shall have not less than one stairway leading from the outside to every basement or cellar thereof.

Computing number of stairways.

SEC. 44. The largest floor area above the first or ground floor shall be used as the basis for computing the number of stairways required in every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area of the building are diminished in area, the stairway or stairways from that portion of the building containing a smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

Location of stairways.

SEC. 45. All stairways hereafter constructed shall be located so as to furnish the best means of egress from the building, and shall be as far removed from each other as practicable, and shall in conjunction with the fire escapes hereinafter required for tenement houses and hotels, provide two reasonable means of egress from each apartment, in a semifireproof or wooden tenement house that is three or more stories in height and has three or more apartments on any one floor above the first floor thereof, and from each guest room in a semifireproof or wooden hotel that is three or more stories in height and has six or more guest rooms on any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Access to stairways shall be provided at every floor by means of a public hallway, corridor, or passageway, and the public hallway, corridor, passageway and stairway from the ground exit level to the top story or roof shall be accessible at all times.

No stairway shall abut on more than one side of an elevator shaft, except on the lowest and topmost stories, and then only if the stairway is so located that it can be approached from the street entrance without passing by or in front of the open side of the said elevator shaft.

No stairway shall be located over a steam boiler, gas meter, gas heater or furnace, nor shall any such boiler, meter, heater or furnace be placed or located under a stairway, unless such boiler, gas meter, gas heater, or furnace be located in a room, the walls and ceiling of which are constructed as required for a boiler room by section fifty-eight of this act. No stairway leading from any other portion of the building shall terminate in or pass through a boiler room.

SEC. 46. Every stairway hereafter constructed, in a tenement house or hotel, shall be as follows: have a rise of not more than eight inches and a run of not less than nine inches, without change in the run or rise between floors; and shall be provided with head room of not less than six feet six inches measured from the nearest nosing of the stairway to the nearest soffit. Construction
stairs.

In every building three or more stories in height, the depth of every landing in a stairway shall be not less than the width of the stairway, and all treads shall be of equal width for every run of stairs, and shall not vary in width in the width of the stairs.

Stairways required by this act shall be continuous from the ground floor level to the top story and the flights of such stairways shall be constructed one directly above the other, or shall be constructed so that each flight shall be in plain view of each succeeding flight; provided, however, that half of the stairways from the upper floors may terminate at the second floor, in the event that the aggregate width of the stairways, from the first to the second floor, is increased not less than fifty per cent.

Every stairway shall have at least one handrail, and if the stairway be five feet or more in width, shall have a handrail on each side thereof.

The width of all stairways shall be measured in the clear of all projections except the baseboards, and except that handrails and newel posts may project not more than four inches.

SEC. 47. No closet of any kind shall be constructed under any wooden stairway, in any tenement house or hotel of more than two stories in height designed and built to accommodate three or more families or six or more guests above the first story thereof, but such space shall be kept entirely open, and be kept clean and free from all encumbrances, or such space shall be effectually closed with walls of studs, lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick, with no door or opening of any kind therein. Space under stairs.

SEC. 48. In every tenement house designed and built to accommodate three or more families above the first story thereof or hotel hereafter erected more than two stories in Stairway to roof.

height, the stairway nearest to the main entrance of the building shall be carried to the roof level and shall give egress to the roof through a penthouse or roof structure if the pitch of roof makes it practicable to construct such a penthouse or roof structure with safety to the occupants that may have occasion to use such egress, otherwise in such building there shall be constructed a scuttle in the public hallway over the stairway. Such scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, and shall be cut through the ceiling and roof.

Penthouses over stairways shall be built either of fireproof materials or of wood studs, lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick; or such penthouses may be covered in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required by this act for the doors from such penthouses.

The door to the roof from a penthouse or roof structure shall be self-closing and shall open outward to the roof, and shall be covered on both sides and edges with tin or other metal.

The frames and trim of such door opening shall be similarly constructed and all glass in such door shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick.

Every now existing tenement house or hotel of more than two stories in height, that is not provided with a stairway to the roof as hereinbefore prescribed shall have in the roof a penthouse or a scuttle, which scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, located in the ceiling of a public hallway, and there shall be provided a stairway or a stationary ladder, leading from the top floor of such tenement house or hotel to the roof thereof. Such stairway or stationary ladder shall be made readily accessible to all the tenants of the building. No scuttle or penthouse door shall at any time be locked with a key, but may be fastened on the inside by a movable bolt or lock.

Width of hallways.

SEC. 49. Public hallways and corridors from stairways shall be measured in the same manner as the stairways and be not less than three feet in width.

Fire escapes.

SEC. 50. On every tenement house or dwelling hereafter erected more than two stories in height, designed and built to accommodate two or more families above the second story thereof, and on every hotel hereafter erected more than two stories in height, designed and built to accommodate four or more guests above the second story thereof, there shall be provided at least one fire escape. On every such semifireproof or wooden tenement house or hotel wherein the floor area exceeds four thousand square feet on any one floor above the second floor thereof, there shall be provided one additional fire escape for each five thousand square feet of floor area or fractional part thereof, in excess of the first four thousand square feet of floor area hereinbefore provided; and on every such fireproof tenement house or hotel wherein the floor area exceeds six thousand square feet on any one floor above the second floor thereof, there shall be provided one additional fire escape for each five thousand square feet of floor area or fractional part thereof in excess of the first six thousand square feet of floor area hereinbefore provided.

Fire escapes required by this act shall be one of the following types:

Type 1. Metallic throughout and fastened securely to the exterior walls of the building, with a balcony at each story above the first story thereof, with inclined stairways connecting all balconies and a goose-neck ladder connecting the topmost balcony to the roof. The lowest balcony of such fire escape to be not more than fourteen feet above the street or ground level directly under the same.

All metallic balconies shall be not less than forty-four inches in width nor less than thirty-three square feet in area. The stairway openings therein shall be not less than twenty-one inches wide and forty inches in length. The balcony balustrade shall be not less than thirty-four inches high, with no opening in such balustrade greater than eight inches in horizontal dimension.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in a fire escape balcony platform, except the stair well opening.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in the lowest fire escape balcony platform, except that there be attached a counterbalanced or permanent ladder reaching to the street or ground below.

Every balcony platform shall be fastened to the outside walls of the building by building in and anchoring to such walls the balcony platform and the balustrade framing, or by securely bolting same thereto. Every balcony shall be supported by brackets, braces, or struts fastened to or built in and anchored to the walls.

The inclined stairways shall be not less than eighteen inches in width and placed in no part nearer than twenty-one inches from the face of the wall. Such inclined stairways shall have an inclination of not less than four inches and not more than six inches horizontally to each twelve inches of vertical height. The treads shall be not less than four inches wide, placed not more than twelve inches apart. Each side of such stairways shall be provided with a handrail not less than one inch in diameter fastened to the stair stringers and continued around the well hole openings of balcony platform.

The goose-neck ladder shall be not less than fifteen inches wide and extend vertically from the topmost balcony to three feet above the fire wall or roof above, and then be brought down and fastened to the inside face of the fire wall or to the roof. The rungs of the goose-neck ladder shall be not less than five-eighths inch round iron or steel, placed not more than fourteen inches apart. The goose-neck ladder shall be securely braced and fastened to the outside wall, and in no case shall such ladder pass in front of any opening in the wall to the interior of the building. The cornice opening for the passage of such ladder shall be not less than twenty-four inches in width and twenty-four inches in the clear outside of the ladder.

Such fire escape shall be framed and riveted or bolted together in a solid, substantial manner and properly supported, braced and fastened to the outside walls so as to be rigid, durable and secure and carry the loads imposed.

All metallic fire escapes shall be painted with not less than two coats of good, durable paint; or such fire escapes may be galvanized.

Type 2.

Type 2. Metallic ladders and stairways conforming to the provisions set forth for "type one" and with reinforced concrete or iron or steel fireproofed balconies, with fastenings of similar materials. Such balconies to measure the full size inside of balustrades. Floor openings and well holes provided and protected similarly to the requirements for metallic balconies.

Type 3.

Type 3. Any type of an enclosed approved metallic spiral fire escape which consists of a rigid form of an inclined chute or chutes constructed entirely of incombustible material; securely attached to the outside walls of the building; provided with proper means of ingress thereto from the building and egress therefrom at the bottom; having means enabling firemen to reach the roof thereby from the ground; equipped with standpipes; painted the same as provided for metallic fire escapes; and satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act as being solid, substantial and durable and as fireproof in construction, and providing at least as safe and efficient means of escape from the building for the occupants thereof, and furnishing all the protection and utility of the metallic fire escapes described as "type one" in this act.

Type 4.

Type 4. Fire and smoke towers, consisting of a fire escape stairway not less than twenty inches in width, constructed of reinforced concrete, iron or steel, or a combination of these materials; and in all other details as required in this act for metallic fire escape stairways; said stairways being continuous the full height of the building from the first floor exit level to the roof, and with handrails on each side thereof the full length of same. Such fire and smoke towers to be constructed at a point adjoining the exterior walls of the building and be entirely enclosed with walls of brick, terra cotta tile, concrete or reinforced concrete not less than eight inches thick: such walls to be continuous from the basement up to and extending three feet above the roof of the building, with no covering of any kind over the fire and smoke tower unless that such covering is constructed of approved incombustible materials and that in the said covering there is provided permanent open louvers or other permanent unobstructed openings to the outer air and that such permanent open louvers or other permanent unobstructed openings shall be of an aggregate open area equivalent to fifty per cent of the aggregate superficial area of the covering, and with no openings in the walls of such tower into the building. The enclosing walls of such tower not to be used to carry or support any floor joist, beam, girder or other structural feature of the building, nor to be chased for any pipe, conduit or other purpose; to have an exit from the enclosure at the first floor line opening directly to a street or yard, and having an entrance by means of an outside balcony at each floor, such balconies to have a solid floor and in all other details and kind of materials to be as in this act required for metallic fire escape balconies. The balconies to be located and arranged to connect with a door opening from a public hallway in the interior of the building and with a door opening leading from the balcony to the tower, such door opening from the building to the balcony and from the balcony to the tower to be not less than thirty inches wide by seventy-two inches high and be equipped with metal lined doors and with a frame and threshold of such door openings constructed of fireproof materials.

Type 5. A fire and smoke tower in every way similar to "type four" of this section, except that instead of the outside balcony there be built a vestibule with enclosing walls continuous with and of the same kind of materials and of the same thickness as the enclosing walls of the fire tower; that the vestibule opening be direct from a public hallway and be equipped with metal-lined doors. The vestibule floor to be of masonry construction. The enclosure to have an opening at each floor through the exterior wall of the building, such opening to extend from the floor to the ceiling and be not less in width than three-fourths of the width of the tower, said opening to be protected with an open metallic balustrade similar to that specified for metallic fire escape balconies.

SEC. 51. In any tenement house or hotel hereafter erected in which there is constructed a fire escape of "type four" or "type five," as prescribed in this act, such fire escape may be used and constructed as a stairway and a fire escape combined: provided, that there is at least one other stairway or one other fire escape, constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act, in the said building.

SEC. 52. Every fire escape required by this act shall be located on the building so as to furnish the best means of escape therefrom for the occupants, and at least one such fire escape shall be located on a street front in the case of a semi-fireproof or wooden tenement house or hotel. Every fire escape shall have egress thereto from a public hallway or passageway not less than three feet wide, or such fire escapes in lieu of being located on a public hallway, shall be located so that each apartment in a tenement house and each guest room in a hotel has direct egress thereto without passing through another apartment or room; or if a public parlor,

Strength of fire escapes

SEC. 53. All parts of each balcony platform of a fire escape shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred pounds per square foot over the entire area thereof (using outside dimensions) and the live and dead loads from the ladders or stairs supported thereon.

Each ladder shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per square foot.

Each stairway shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred fifty pounds per square foot of horizontal projection.

Top rails of balcony balustrades shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per lineal foot of railing.

Each balcony shall be independently supported.

All fastenings of fire escape balconies to the building shall be designed to carry twenty-five per cent greater load than the total dead and live loads carried by the balconies. The balcony anchorage shall be direct to the structural steel or iron members of the balustrades and platforms extended into the walls and anchored into the structural work of the building.

The level of the inside sill of the door or window giving access to a fire escape balcony or to the balcony floor shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining floor in the building. Every such door or window opening shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height.

Where double-hung windows are used in such openings, the lower sash shall be at least the size of the upper sash and shall slide to the top of such opening. Any lock used on any such window shall be of a type which can be readily opened from the interior of the building without the use of a key or other tool.

The basis for computing floor areas in relation to fire escapes shall be determined in the same manner hereinbefore provided for stairways.

Every fire escape, in or on a tenement house or hotel hereafter erected, or in or on an existing tenement house or hotel, shall at all times be maintained in good order and repair, well painted and clear and unobstructed at all times, and be readily accessible.

Standpipes.

SEC. 54. On every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected four or more stories in height, there shall be provided one or more metallic standpipes. Each such standpipe shall be not less than four inches in internal diameter, and shall have a Siamese inlet valve near the sidewalk or the ground directly under same, and an outlet valve at each story above the first story and on the roof.

One such standpipe shall be placed on or in the exterior walls of the building at one fire escape, or line of windows where there is no fire escape, on the street frontage, and the outlet valves shall be readily accessible from the balconies of the fire escape or windows.

The inlet and outlet valves on every standpipe shall be threaded and brought to a size which will meet the standard connections of the local fire department of the municipality in which such tenement house or hotel is being erected.

The standpipes required by this section need not be installed in any tenement house or hotel which is situated where there is no running water and where it is not practicable or possible to obtain water for efficient use of such standpipes in case of fire, until such time as it is practicable and possible to obtain running water; and the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is possible or practicable to obtain running water.

SEC. 55. In every fireproof tenement house or hotel hereafter erected, every elevator shaft, dumb-waiter shaft or other interior shaft shall be enclosed in walls constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible materials, or shall be constructed of metal studs lathed with metal lath and plastered on both sides so as to make a solid partition not less than two inches thick.

Walls of elevator and dumbwaiter shafts.

In every semifireproof or wooden tenement house or hotel hereafter erected, every such shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed as provided by this act for a fireproof building or such walls may be constructed with wood studs, with fire-stops between the studs at each floor and half way between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick.

Every opening from any shaft into the building shall be equipped with a metal door and with door frame and trim entirely of metal; or such door and door frame shall be constructed of wood covered with metal on the shaft side thereof, and if there is any glass therein, such glass shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch thick. Every door or window therein shall be made to close tight, and every door except elevator doors therein shall be self-closing.

Openings
from
shaft.

Every window in such shaft shall be of wired glass, not less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch thick, set in a metal sash or a sash metal covered on the shaft side thereof. At the roof over every elevator shaft there shall be constructed a ventilating skylight or a ventilator with open louvres.

Windows
in shaft.

SEC. 56. In every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected every vent shaft shall be enclosed with walls constructed the same as is required by this act for an elevator shaft in the same class of building. Such a vent shaft may, in a semifireproof or wooden tenement house or hotel be lined on the outside thereof (weather side) with metal in lieu of metal lath and plaster; also, that portion of such shaft extending from the ceiling joists to the top thereof may be lined with metal in the same manner as is required for the weather side of such vent shaft.

Every opening from any vent shaft into the building or any window therein, shall be equipped in the same manner as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building.

Plaster on the weather side of any such shaft shall be of Portland cement plaster.

Area of vent
shaft.

Every vent shaft by this act provided for a tenement house shall be not less than four feet in any direction and be at least sixteen square feet in area; provided, however, that a vent shaft that is bounded on one or more sides by a lot line may be not less than two feet in any direction and be at least sixteen square feet in area. If such vent shaft exceeds fifty feet in height, measured from the bottom to the top of the walls of such shaft, then such vent shaft shall throughout its entire height be increased in area one square foot for each additional ten feet or fractional part thereof above fifty feet.

Every vent shaft by this act provided for a hotel shall be not less than thirty inches in its least dimension and contain an unobstructed area of not less than twelve square feet. Every vent shaft shall be open and unobstructed to the sky and at the roof line every vent shaft in a tenement house or hotel shall be provided with parapet wall or rail at least thirty inches in height so constructed that no person may walk in or fall into such shaft.

Air intake.

Every such vent shaft in a tenement house hereafter erected shall be provided with an air intake or duct at or near the bottom thereof, communicating with the street or yard or a court. Such intake shall be not less than three square feet in total area, and may be divided into not more than three separate ducts running between the joists or otherwise, and shall in all cases be placed as nearly horizontal as possible. Every such intake or duct shall be constructed of approved fire resistive material or shall be of metal or metal lined, and be provided with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh at each end. Whenever the end of an intake is capped, hooded or otherwise covered, there shall always be provided a clear space of not less than four inches above and between the end of such intake and the lower part of the cap, hood or other covering. Plumbing, gas, steam or other similar pipes may be placed in vent shafts in tenement houses or hotels.

Every vent shaft shall be so arranged as to permit of its being readily cleaned out. The provisions of this section shall not apply to dwellings, nor to tenement houses not exceeding two stories in height designed and constructed with no more than two apartments for use of not more than two families above the second floor thereof, nor to hotels not exceeding two stories in height designed and constructed with no more than six guest rooms for use of no more than six persons on the second floor thereof; provided, however, that any vent shaft constructed in any such buildings shall be not less than eighteen inches in its least dimension and shall be open and unobstructed to the sky.

SEC. 57. The walls of every inner court in a fireproof tenement house or hotel hereafter erected shall be constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible material. In a semifireproof or in a wooden tenement house or hotel such inner court walls, if surrounded on four sides by the walls of the same building, shall be constructed as provided for fireproof buildings or may be of wood studs, with fire stops between the studs at each floor and half way between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick. Plaster on the weather side of such inner court walls shall be Portland cement plaster, or such inner court walls may be lined, on the weather side, with metal of not less than twenty-six gauge, in lieu of metal lath and plaster.

inner court

SEC. 58. In every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected, every boiler used for purposes of heating the building, using fuel other than gas, and every heating furnace or water-heating apparatus, using oil or other fluid fuel, shall be installed in a room, the walls of which room shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or concrete or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, and such walls shall extend from the floor of the boiler room to the ceiling over same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of similar materials as the walls, or shall be built with a double ceiling, with a space not less than seven-eighths inch between the two ceilings; each ceiling shall be metal lathed and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick. The floor of a boiler room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick.

Boiler
room.

Any door in the wall of such rooms shall be a fire-resisting door, constructed of three (3) thicknesses of seven-eighths ($\frac{7}{8}$) inch by not more than six (6) inches, tongued and grooved, matched redwood boards entirely covered on the sides and edges with lock-jointed tin; every such door shall be self-closing, so hung as to overlap the walls of the room at least three (3) inches, and any glass in any such door or any glass in any window or opening in the walls of a boiler room shall be wired glass, not less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch thick, set in a metal or metal covered sash.

Doors.

All such doors shall have hinges, hangers, latches and other hardware of wrought iron, bolted to the doors, and shall have steel tracks, when sliding doors are used, with wrought-iron stops and binders bolted through the walls. Swinging doors shall have wall eyes of wrought-iron, built into or bolted through the wall.

Every such boiler room shall have a sill across each door not less than four (4) inches high. Such sill shall be of masonry, and the doors shall overlap same at least three (3) inches, or in lieu of a masonry sill a steel or iron sill may be used, in which case the bottom of the door shall close tight on top of same. Every swinging door in a boiler room shall open outward from the boiler room.

Where oil or other fluid fuel is burned, the oil or other fluid fuel shall not be fed by a gravity flow.

Walls of room in which automobile is kept.

SEC. 59. In every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected any portion of such building, in which there is kept or stored any automobile or automobiles, shall be a room, the enclosing partitions of which shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone, concrete tile or blocks, or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, or may be of wood studs lined on the automobile storage room side with redwood boards not less than seven-eighths ($\frac{7}{8}$) of an inch thick covered with asbestos paper one-eighth ($\frac{1}{8}$) of an inch thick, and then covered with No. 26 (gauge) galvanized iron, or such enclosing partitions may be constructed of studs lathed on both sides with metal lath and plastered with Portland cement plaster not less than three-quarters of an inch thick. Such enclosing partitions shall extend from the floor of the room to the ceiling of the same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of material or materials similar to that used in the construction of its walls, or shall be lathed with metal lath and be well plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick. The floor of every such room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick.

Every door, window or other opening in the walls of such room, opening to the interior of the building, shall be protected in the same manner as required by this act for doors, windows and other openings in a boiler room.

Public
garage.

In no tenement house hereafter erected shall any portion of the building be used as a public automobile garage, public automobile repair shop, public machine shop, public gasoline or oil station or store, but in the case of a hotel, hereafter erected, if any portion of the building is used as a public automobile garage, automobile repair shop or machine shop, gasoline or oil station, the room shall be constructed as in this section provided and the ceiling thereof shall be constructed either of masonry, or of a double ceiling lathed with metal lath and with a space between the two ceilings of not less than six inches measured vertically. The lower ceiling shall be suspended with iron or steel channels. In each case each of the ceilings shall be plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick.

Fan exhaust
ventilation

SEC. 60. In every hotel hereafter erected the water-closet compartments, bath, toilet or slop-sink rooms, kitchens, sculleries, pantries or other rooms in which food is stored or prepared, public dining rooms, laundries, general amusement, entertainment or reception rooms, and rooms used for similar purposes and general utility rooms, and in every tenement house hereafter erected general amusement, entertainment and reception rooms and general utility rooms, in lieu of being provided with windows, as in this act prescribed, may be provided with a fan exhaust system of ventilation. Such fan exhaust system of ventilation shall consist of independent exhaust ducts extending from each such room or compartment to the outer air above the highest roof of the building, and such exhaust ducts shall always be connected to an exhaust fan mechanically operated, so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed fifteen minutes for each room used for the following purposes: kitchens; pantries or other rooms used for cooking, storing or preparing of food; laundries, general amusement, entertainment, reception or dining rooms, or rooms used for similar purposes; general utility rooms; and the said fan exhaust system of ventilation shall be so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed five minutes for each room used for the following purposes: water-closets; shower compartments; bath, toilet or slop-sink rooms or sculleries.

All of the inlet ducts and exhaust ducts shall be constructed of galvanized iron or other smooth surfaced nonabsorbent material and so arranged that they may be readily cleaned out.

Any person in charge of a building in which a system of fan exhaust ventilation is installed and used as in this section prescribed, who fails, neglects or refuses to operate and maintain the said system of ventilation in good order and repair so that the ventilation (complete change of air) herein specified is provided in each of the rooms or compartments at all times, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to all of the penalties fixed by this act.

Penalty for failing to keep system in good order.

SEC. 61. Every building hereafter erected shall be constructed in a safe and substantial manner; the materials used therein shall be of substantial stock and of the kinds in this act elsewhere provided; the footings, foundations, walls, joists, studding, girders, columns and all other bearing portions shall be of such sizes and so constructed to safely sustain in all parts all the live and dead loads transmitted thereto. Each floor shall be constructed to safely sustain a live load of not less than forty pounds to each square foot. Each roof shall be so constructed to safely sustain a live load of not less than twenty pounds to each square foot. The loads shall be computed on the basis of at least a factor of safety of four. Schedules for weights of materials, and formulas used for computing loads, shall be of standard recognized practice including those contained in "F. E. Kidders Architects and Engineers Pocket Book," "American Civil Engineers' Pocket Book," and other standard architects and engineers handbooks. For the purposes of this act the term "dead load" shall be deemed to be the weight of the walls, partitions, framing, floors, roofs and similar permanent construction that enters into a building, and the term "live load" shall be deemed to be all other forms of loading in the building including the assumed live loads for floors and roofs above set forth.

Construction of buildings.

In every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected, the studs in every bearing wall and partition shall be not less than two inches by four inches (2" x 4"), and in every such building that exceeds two (2) stories in height the studs in every bearing wall and partition below the second floor thereof shall be not less than two inches by six inches (2" x 6") or the equivalent thereof. Every stud wall and partition shall have fire stops at each floor and ceiling and at approximately half-way between the floor and the ceiling, except that where two (2) inch plates are used the full width of the studs at the floor and ceiling of a wall or partition then the fire stops at the floor and ceiling may be omitted. Each stud wall and partition shall be diagonally braced at each corner and at least once in each twenty-five (25) foot length thereof, except where such exterior walls and partitions are plastered and back-plastered with Portland cement plaster on expanded metal lath reinforcement that weighs not less than three and four-tenths (3.4) pounds to the square yard. Every such partition or wall that is plastered and back-plastered shall be plastered not less than three-quarters ($\frac{3}{4}$) of an inch thick and back-plastered between the studs not less than one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of an inch thick in an approved manner so that the expanded metal lath will be thoroughly imbedded in the plaster. Over each bearing partition or wall and at the exterior walls, the space between the floor joists shall be blocked solid with blocks not less than two (2) inches thick and the full depth of the joists. No wooden floor joists less than two inches by eight inches (2" x 8") shall be used to support any floor above the first floor of any such building and such floor joists shall not be spaced more than sixteen (16) inches apart. No span of such two inch by eight inch (2" x 8") floor joist shall exceed fourteen (14) feet. All joists that span more than fourteen (14) feet or that otherwise vary from the foregoing dimensions or that support loads other than the live floor loads, shall be of such sizes as to safely sustain the loads transmitted thereto. No floor joist or other bearing support shall be cut or notched for any purpose unless reinforced to take up the weakness caused thereby. Every span of wooden floor joists shall be cross-bridged with two (2) inch cross-bridging at intervals not more than seven (7) feet apart, and a bearing partition, wall, girder or other support under such joists that is blocked solid over the top thereof between the joists as hereinbefore provided shall take the place of a cross-bridging.

Joists.

Foundation. Wherever the soil conditions make it practicable to do so, every tenement house or hotel hereafter erected shall have a masonry foundation composed of hard incombustible materials and the footings of such foundation shall in no case be less than sixteen (16) inches wide at the bottoms thereof and the foundation walls shall not be less than six (6) inches wide at the tops thereof. The footings of such foundation walls shall not be less than ten (10) inches below the surface of the adjoining ground levels and such foundation walls shall extend at least six (6) inches above the adjoining ground levels. The width of such foundation walls and footings shall be increased whenever necessary to support additional loads transmitted thereto.

SEC. 62. Every dormitory hereafter constructed, altered, ^{dormitory.} or converted in any building shall be as follows:

(a) In no one dormitory shall there be provided sleeping accommodations for more than twenty persons.

(b) The ceiling height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling shall in no case be less than nine feet in the clear, and in no case shall there be permitted in such dormitory more than one tier of beds; provided, however, that in a dormitory in which the clear ceiling height is not less than twelve feet measured between the finished floor and finished ceiling thereof, a double tier of beds may be permitted, i. e., one tier above the other; provided, that in no event shall there be less than three feet of clear vertical space between the beds, or tier of beds, nor less than three feet in any horizontal direction between any of the beds, nor less than one foot of clear space between the floor of the room and the underside of the first tier of beds.

(c) In every dormitory there shall be provided windows opening onto a street or a yard or court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot. The window area shall in no case be less than one-eighth of the superficial floor area in the dormitory, and in the event that a double tier of beds are provided, the said window area shall be doubled.

(d) The frames of beds in every dormitory shall be made of steel or iron or of some other hard, smooth, incombustible and nonabsorbent material.

(e) Every existing dormitory maintained and erected prior to the passage of this act shall be made to conform to the provisions of subsection (a) of this section.

SEC. 63. In any existing tenement house or hotel every ^{Additional} additional room or hallway that is hereafter constructed or ^{rooms.} created may be of the same height as the other rooms or hallways on the same story of such building.

SEC. 64. Every room in a tenement house or hotel erected ^{Windows in} prior to the passage of this act shall, if the said room be here- ^{buildings} after occupied for living or sleeping purposes, have a window ^{erected} upon a street, a yard, a court or upon a shaft not less than ^{prior to} twenty-five square feet in area, which vent shaft shall in no ^{passage} part be less than four feet wide and open and unobstructed, ^{of act.} without roof or skylight over same; except that if such room be located on the top floor of the building, such room may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres directly to the outer air, or may have a window opening upon a vent shaft not less than ten square feet in area, if such window from the room be not more than three feet below the top of the wall of such vent shaft.

Ventilation
of hallways in buildings erected prior to passage of act.

Every public hallway in every tenement house or hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, which does not conform to the provisions for public hallways in buildings hereafter erected, shall be provided with light and ventilation to the outer air. Such light and ventilation shall be provided by the placing of windows or skylights, or by making such alterations as in the judgment of the housing department may be deemed necessary to accomplish the result.

Unlawful to cook in bathroom,
etc.

Sec. 65. It shall be unlawful for any person to cook or to prepare food, or to permit or suffer any person to cook or to prepare food in any bath, shower, slop-sink or toilet room or water-closet compartment, or in any other place which in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, is detrimental to the health of the occupants or the proper sanitation of the building.

Hotel
kitchen.

In a hotel food shall be cooked or prepared in a room or a kitchen designed for that purpose. Floors of kitchens and rooms in which food is stored or prepared in a hotel, shall be made impervious to rats by a layer of concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick or by a layer of sheet tin or iron or similar material.

Unlawful to sleep in cellar,
etc.

It shall be unlawful for any person to use for living and sleeping purposes or permit or suffer any person to use for living or sleeping purposes any cellar, bath or shower compartment, slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, or any other room or place which does not comply with the provisions of this act, or which in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of its overcrowded condition or the want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage, or on account of dampness or offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors.

Lighting
public hallways,
etc.

Sec. 66. In every tenement house or hotel there shall be installed and kept burning from sunrise to sunset throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, public stairway, fire escape egress, elevator, public water-closet compartment, or toilet room, whenever there is insufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof.

In every tenement house or hotel there shall be installed and kept burning from sunset to sunrise throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, passageway, public stairway, fire escape egress, elevator, public water-closet compartment, or toilet room.

Painting of sleeping
rooms.

Sec. 67. The walls and ceilings of every sleeping room in every tenement house or hotel shall (except when there is sufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof during daytime) be calcimined or painted or papered with a light-colored material, and such calcimine, paint or paper, as the case may be, shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color and clean and free from vermin.

The walls of courts and shafts, unless built of light-colored materials, shall be painted of a light color or whitewashed, and such painting or whitewashing shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color. Not more than two thicknesses of wall paper shall be placed upon any wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any tenement house or hotel. Where any such wall, partition or ceiling has two thicknesses of wall paper thereon the old wall paper shall be first removed therefrom before re-papering. Nothing in this section contained shall prohibit painting or calcimining over wall paper.

Painting of courts and shafts.

Sec. 68. Every building shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter. Every semi-fireproof building and wooden building hereafter erected shall have the roofs thereof constructed and covered and maintained in good repair with materials as in this act hereinbefore provided for semifireproof buildings.

Roofs.

All portions of the lot about the building, including the yards, arcaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways, shall be properly graded and drained; and whenever the department charged with the enforcement of this act deems it necessary, for the protection of the health of the occupants of a tenement house or hotel, or for the proper sanitation of such premises, it may require that the lot, yards, arcaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways be graveled or properly paved and surfaced with concrete, asphalt or similar materials.

Grading
of lots.

Sec. 69. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any building or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

Screens.

Sec. 70. There shall be provided for every building, such number of tight metal receptacles with close-fitting metal covers for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or in lieu of such metal receptacles there may be constructed a garbage chute or shaft approved by the housing department. Such receptacles shall be kept in a clean condition by the occupants or tenants in a tenement house or dwelling, and by the owner or person in charge in the case of a hotel, and in case of a chute or shaft by the person in charge of or in control of the building.

Garbage
cans.

Sec. 71. In every building, every room, hallway, passage-way, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet room, bathroom, slop-sink, or wash-room, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar or basement and the lot, yard, court or any of the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

No person shall, or permit or cause any person to, deposit any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substances in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom, or otherwise to obstruct the same, or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same, or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room or apartment or in or about the building or premises thereof, for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

Beds to be kept in sanitary condition.

SEC. 72. In every tenement house or hotel, every part of every bed, including the mattress, sheets, blankets and bedding, shall be kept in a clean, dry and sanitary condition, free from filth, urine or other foul matter, in or upon the same, and free from the infection of lice, bedbugs or other insects. In a hotel the bed linen shall be changed as often as a new guest occupies the bed. No roller or public towel shall be kept or maintained for the common use of a hotel.

Storage of dangerous articles.

SEC. 73. In no tenement house or hotel or any part thereof, or in the lot, yard, court or any portion thereof, shall there be kept, stored or handled any article dangerous or detrimental to life or to the health of the occupants thereof; nor shall there be stored, kept or handled any feed, hay, straw, excelsior, cotton, paper stock, rags or junk, except upon a written permit so to do, obtained from the fire commissioner or other department authorized to issue such permit. Every such permit shall be deemed to be a public record, made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the office of the fire commissioner or department issuing same.

Animals not to be kept.

SEC. 74. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in any building or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable be kept or maintained within twenty feet of any window or door of such building.

Bakery.

No bakery or place of business in which fat is boiled shall be constructed or maintained in any tenement house, unless the ceilings and side walls of the place in which fat is boiled is constructed of approved fire resistive materials, with no openings connecting into the tenement house, and so separated and arranged as to prevent odors from entering such building.

Janitor.

SEC. 75. In every tenement house in which eight (8) or more families reside, or hotel in which there are twelve or more guest rooms, and in which the owner does not live, there shall be a janitor, housekeeper or other responsible person, who shall reside in such tenement house or hotel or on the same lot or premises thereof and have charge of same.

Proceedings to prevent unlawful construction.

SEC. 76. In case any tenement house, hotel or dwelling or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any of the provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such tenement house, hotel, or dwelling, or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said tenement house, hotel or dwelling, to prevent any illegal act, conduct or business in or about such tenement house, hotel or dwelling or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such tenement house, hotel, or dwelling, or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such tenement house, hotel, dwelling, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

Sec. 77. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a tenement house, hotel or dwelling owner shall be a lien upon the building or house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said tenement house, hotel or dwelling is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

Sec. 78. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice, and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

Notice filed by owner or lessee of tenement house or hotel describing property.

SEC. 79. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county every owner of a tenement house or hotel and every lessee of the whole of a hotel or tenement house, or other person having control of a tenement house, or hotel, shall file in the housing department a notice, containing his name and address, and also a description of the property, by street and number and otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same; and also the number of apartments in each house, the number of rooms in each apartment, and the number of families occupying the apartments in a tenement house, and the number of rooms in a hotel. In case of a transfer of any tenement house, or hotel, it shall be the duty of the grantee of said tenement house or hotel to file in the housing department a notice of such transfer, stating the name of the new owner, within thirty days after such transfer. In case of the devolution of the said property by will, it shall be the duty of the executor and the devisee, if more than twenty-one years of age, and in the case of devolution of such property by inheritance without a will, it shall be the duty of the heirs, or in case all the heirs are under age, it shall be the duty of the administrator of the deceased owner of said property, to file in said department a notice, stating the death of said owner and the names of those who have succeeded to his interests, within thirty (30) days after the death of the decedent, in case he died intestate, and within thirty days after the probate of his will, if he died testate.

Notice giving name and address.

SEC. 80. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county every owner, agent or lessee of a tenement house or hotel shall file in the housing department a notice containing the name and address of such agent of such house, for the purpose of receiving service of process, and also a description of the property, by street and number or otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same. The name of the owner or lessee may be filed as agent for this purpose.

Filing of notices.

SEC. 81. The names and addresses filed in accordance with sections seventy-nine and eighty hereof shall be indexed by the housing department in such a manner that all of those filed in relation to each tenement house or hotel shall be together and readily ascertainable. Said indices shall be public records, open to public inspection during business hours.

SEC. 82. Every notice or order in relation to a tenement house, hotel or dwelling shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

Service of notice.

SEC. 83. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a tenement house, hotel or dwelling, for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Service of summons.

SEC. 84. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of tenement houses, hotels and dwellings. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, from enacting, from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions, or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates, or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal or county department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

Minimum requirements.

Power of local authorities.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present law or ordinance of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county in the state which further restricts, the percentage of the lot to be covered by a building, the number of stories or height of a building or number of apartments or rooms therein, or the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in the construction, or that increase the size of the yards or courts, or the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire

Repeal of inconsistent statutes and ordinances.

Exceptions.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating, diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict, the percentage of the lot to be covered by a building within said municipality, the number of stories or height of a building or number of apartments or rooms therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in the construction, or to increase the size of the yards or courts, or the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 85. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 86. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1921.

Stats. 1917,
p. 1478,
repealed.

SEC. 87. The act entitled "An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of tenement houses, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which tenement houses are erected or located, in all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof,' approved April 16, 1909, Statutes of California of 1909, page 948," approved April 10, 1911, Statutes of California of 1911, page 860, and approved June 13, 1913, Statutes of California, 1913, page 737, and approved May 29, 1915, Statutes of California, page 952, and all acts amendatory thereof," approved May 31, 1917, Statutes of California of 1917, page 1473, is hereby repealed.

p. 1422,
repealed.

The act entitled "An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of hotels, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which hotels are erected or located, in all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 16, 1913, Statutes of California of 1913, page 1429, and approved May 31, 1917, Statutes of California of 1917, page 1422," is hereby repealed.

Stats. 1917,
p. 1406,
repealed.

The act entitled "An act to regulate the construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of dwellings, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which dwellings are created or located, in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof, and approved May 31, 1917, Statutes of California of 1917, page 1461," is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 355.

An act to amend section one thousand thirty-two of the Political Code, relating to inspection of public records.

[Approved May 19, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand thirty-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1032. The public records and other matters in the office of any officer, are at all times, during office hours, open to inspection of any citizen of this state. In cases of attachment the clerk of the court with whom the complaint is filed shall not make public the fact of the filing of such complaint, or of the issuance of such attachment, until after the filing of the return of service of the writ of attachment.

CHAPTER 356.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered four thousand one hundred thirty-one a, relating to the recording of instruments in the offices of county recorders.

[Approved May 19, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered four thousand one hundred thirty-one a, and to read as follows:

4131a. When an instrument intended for record is executed or certified in whole or in part in any other language than the English language, recorders are not required to accept such instrument for record; provided, however, that a translation in English of an instrument executed or certified in whole or in part in any other language than the English language may be presented to the judge of a court of record, and upon verification that such translation is a true translation such judge shall duly make certification of such fact under seal of the court, and shall attach such certification to such translation, and shall also attach such certified translation to the original instrument. For such verification and certification a fee of fifty cents shall be paid for each folio contained in such translation. Such attached original instrument and certified translation may be presented to the recorder, and upon payment of the usual fees the recorder shall accept and permanently file the same and shall also record the certified translation. The recording of such certified translation shall give notice and be of same effect as the recording of an original instrument. Certified copies of said recorded translation may be recorded in other counties, with like effect as the recording of the original translation.

CHAPTER 357.

An act to amend sections one thousand four hundred twelve, one thousand four hundred thirteen, one thousand four hundred fifteen and one thousand four hundred seventeen of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to special administrators.

[Approved May 20, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand four hundred twelve of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Appointment of special administrators.

1412. The appointment may be made at any time upon such notice to such of the persons interested in the estate as the court may deem reasonable. After the person appointed has given bond, the clerk must issue special letters of administration to such person.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand four hundred thirteen of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Preference in appointment.

1413. In making the appointment of a special administrator the court must give preference to the person entitled to letters testamentary, or of administration, but no appeal may be taken from such order.

SEC. 3. Section one thousand four hundred fifteen of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Powers and duties.

1415. The special administrator must collect and preserve for the executor or administrator, all the goods, chattels, debts, and effects of the decedent, all incomes, rents, issues and profits, claims, and demands of the estate; must take the charge and management of, enter upon, and preserve from damage, waste and injury, the real estate, and for any such and all necessary purposes may commence and maintain or defend suits and other legal proceedings as an administrator; he may sell such perishable property as the court may order to be sold, and exercise such other powers as are conferred upon him by his appointment, but except when appointed with the powers, duties and obligations of a general administrator, as hereinafter provided, he is not liable to an action by any creditor on a claim against the decedent. The special administrator may commence and maintain all proceedings, do all acts, and apply for and obtain all orders and decrees, authorized and provided for, in or by article five of chapter seven of title eleven of part third of this code, in the same manner and with like effect as an executor or administrator. When a special administrator is appointed pending determination of a contest of a will instituted prior to the probate thereof, or pending an appeal from an order appointing, suspending or removing an executor or administrator, such special administrator shall have the same powers, duties and obligations as a general administrator, and the letters of administration issued to him shall recite that such special administrator is appointed with the powers of a general administrator.

SEC. 4. Section one thousand four hundred seventeen of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1417. The special administrator must render an account ^{Account.} on oath of his proceedings in like manner as other administrators are required to do. His fees and those of his attorney shall be fixed by the court; provided, however, that the total fees paid to the special administrator and executor, or to the special administrator and general administrator of an estate must not, together, exceed the sums provided for in section one thousand six hundred eighteen of this code, including the further allowance therein provided; and that the total fees paid to the attorneys both of the special administrator and executor, or of the special administrator and general administrator, must not, together, exceed the sums provided for in section one thousand six hundred nineteen of this code, including the further allowance therein provided. And when the same person does not act as both special administrator and executor, or as special administrator and general administrator, of the estate, such fees shall be divided between the special administrator and executor, or between the special administrator and general administrator of the estate, in such proportions as the court shall determine to be just and reasonable. And when the same attorney does not act for both the special administrator and executor, or for the special administrator and general administrator of the estate, such fees shall be divided between the attorneys in such proportion as the court shall determine to be just and reasonable. ^{Fees.}

CHAPTER 358.

CHAPTER 360.

An act to amend section two hundred seventy-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to attorneys of other states admission.

[Approved May 20, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two hundred seventy-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended so as to read when amended as follows:

Admission of attorneys from other states and countries.

279. Every citizen of the United States residing in this state who has been admitted to practice law in the highest court of a sister state, or of a foreign country, where the common law of England constitutes the basis of jurisprudence, and who has been engaged in actual practice in such state or foreign country for a period of at least three years, may be admitted to practice in all the courts of this state, by any district court of appeal, upon the production of his license, and satisfactory evidence that his license has not been revoked and that he is of good moral character, and that he has been so engaged in actual practice in such state or foreign country for a period of at least three years; but the court shall before admitting any such person to practice require an investigation and report by the board of bar examiners as to his moral and other qualifications, unless the court shall otherwise direct in a particular case. In all cases in which such investigation and report shall be required, the applicant shall pay to the clerk of the district court of appeal to which he presents his application, as a fee for such investigation, the sum of fifteen dollars. Such fee must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the bar examinations fund and disbursed, accounted, settled and charged for in the same manner as provided by law for other fees collected by said clerk, and as provided in section two hundred seventy-six a of this code.

CHAPTER 361.

An act relating to tuition fees in the Leland Stanford Junior University.

[Approved May 20, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The trustees of the Leland Stanford Junior University are hereby authorized to charge residents and non-residents of this state, fees for tuition, as may be necessary for the administration of the affairs of the university.

Tuition fees
at Stanford University authorized.

CHAPTER 362.

An act to add a new section to be numbered one thousand three hundred ninety-four and one-half of the Political Code, relating to fees and rates of tuition of nonresident students of the University of California.

[Approved May 20, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered one thousand three hundred ninety-four and one-half, and to read as follows:

Tuition fees
for non-resident students at University of California.

1394½. An admission fee and rate of tuition fixed by the board of regents must be required of each nonresident student. The board of regents shall cause to be computed the actual cost to the university of maintaining one student in each of the respective courses of the several colleges for the period of one year. Each nonresident student shall be required to pay as the rate of tuition the sum provided for by the above computation for the particular course such student is following; provided, that the maximum sum to be paid shall not exceed five hundred dollars; and provided, further, that such sum may be remitted in whole or in part in the case of graduate students in other than professional colleges and schools. A nonresident student as used in this section shall mean any person who has not for more than one year immediately preceding his entrance into the university been a bona fide resident of the State of California.

CHAPTER 363.

An act providing for the joint exercise of powers by counties, by municipalities or by municipalities and counties.

[Approved May 20, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Joint exercise of powers by counties and municipalities.

SECTION 1. Two or more counties, two or more municipalities or one or more municipalities and one or more counties, by agreement entered into respectively by them and authorized by their legislative bodies, may jointly exercise any power or powers common to the several contracting parties.

Agreements.

SEC. 2. Such agreements shall state the purpose of the agreement or the power to be exercised and provide for the method by which the purpose sought shall be accomplished or the manner in which the power shall be exercised.

Funds.

SEC. 3. The parties to such agreement may provide that contributions from the treasuries may be made for the purpose for which the agreement was entered into or payments of public funds shall be made to defray the cost thereof which funds may be made to and disbursed by such agency as may be agreed upon; provided, however, that the method of disbursement shall agree as far as the same is practicable with the method provided by law for the disbursement by the parties to such agreement. Strict accountability of all funds and report of all receipts and disbursements shall be provided for.

Term.

SEC. 4. Such agreements may be continued for a definite term or until rescinded or terminated and may provide for the method by which the same may be rescinded or terminated by any of the parties thereto.

Disposition of property and surplus.

SEC. 5. Such agreement shall provide for the disposition, division or distribution of any property acquired as the result of such joint exercise of powers, and the return of any surplus moneys on hand after the purpose thereof shall be completed in proportion to the contributions made.

CHAPTER 364.

An act to amend section seven hundred thirty-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to actions to quiet title to real and personal property.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section seven hundred thirty-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Action to quiet title to real and personal property.

738. An action may be brought by any person against another who claims an estate or interest in real or personal property, adverse to him, for the purpose of determining such adverse claim; provided, however, that whenever in an action to quiet title to, or to determine adverse claims to, real or personal property, the validity or interpretation of any gift, devise, bequest or trust, under any will, or instrument purporting to be a will, whether admitted to probate or not, shall be involved, such will, or instrument purporting to be a will, is admissible in evidence; and all questions concerning the validity of any gift, devise, bequest or trust therein contained, save such as under the constitution belong exclusively to the probate jurisdiction, shall be finally determined in such action; provided, that if the said will shall have been admitted to probate and interpreted by a decree of the superior court sitting in probate which decree has become final such interpretation shall be conclusive as to the proper construction of said will, or any part thereof, so construed, in any action under this section; and provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive a party of the right to a jury trial in any case where, by the law, such right is now given.

CHAPTER 365.

An act to amend an act, known as the "water commission act," approved June 16, 1913, amending section thirty-seven thereof and adding thereto five new sections, to be numbered thirty-seven a, thirty-seven b, thirty-seven c, thirty-seven d, thirty-seven e, relating to the distribution of water and providing for the appointment of water masters and defining their duties.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section thirty-seven of an act known as the "water commission act," approved June 16, 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1913, p. 1082, amended.

Sec. 37. The state water commission shall divide the state into water districts to be so constituted and adjusted as to insure the most practical and economical supervision of the distribution of water on the part of the state, and shall have authority to make such reasonable regulations to secure distribution of water in accordance with the determined rights as may be needed. Said water districts shall be created from time to time as the claims to water shall be determined by adjudication of court either under the procedure provided for in the water commission act, or otherwise, and thereafter changed from time to time as convenience of administration may require. Division of state into water districts.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered section thirty-seven a, and to read as follows:

Appointment
of water master.

SEC. 37*a*. Upon written request of the owners or governing bodies of at least fifteen per cent of the conduits, ditches, pipe lines and other means of diversion lawfully entitled to directly divert water from the streams or other sources of water supply in any water district, the state water commission may, if in its discretion necessity therefor exists, appoint one or more water masters for such water district. The state water commission may from time to time discontinue water master service in any water district, if necessity therefor ceases, and revive the same whenever and as frequently as necessity exists. The water master shall be properly qualified and shall perform the duties imposed on him by this act as an employee under the general supervision and control of the state water commission. It shall be the duty of the water master to divide the waters of the streams, or other sources of supply, among the several conduits, ditches, pipe lines and other means of diversion (all of which are hereafter referred to as conduits) and reservoirs taking water therefrom, and so to adjust or close the headgates of conduits and regulate the controlling works of reservoirs, as may be necessary to insure a distribution of the water thereof among the water users entitled to its use, according to the rights of such water users as determined by court adjudication either under the procedure provided for in the water commission act or otherwise and permits and licenses issued by the state water commission after such adjudication; provided, that any person who may be injured by the action of any water master, shall have the right to appeal to the superior court of the county in which the injury takes place, for an injunction; such injunction to be issued only in case it can be shown at the hearing that the water master has failed to carry into effect decrees of the court or permits or licenses of the state water commission as in this section provided. Whenever, in the pursuance of his duties, the water master regulates a headgate to a conduit or the controlling works of reservoirs, it shall be his duty to attach to such headgate or controlling works a written notice properly dated and signed setting forth the fact that such headgate or controlling works has been properly regulated and is wholly under his control, and such notice shall be a legal notice to all parties interested in the diversion and distribution of the water of such conduit or reservoir.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered section thirty-seven b, and to read as follows:

Penalty for opening headgate,
etc.

SEC. 37*b*. Any person who shall wilfully and without authority open, close, change or interfere with any headgate, water box or measuring device while under the control of the water master, or who shall wilfully take or use water which has been denied him by the water master under the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. The possession or use of water when the same shall have been so denied him by the water master shall be prima facie evidence of the guilt of the person using it.

Sec. 4. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered section thirty-seven c, and to read as follows:

Sec. 37c. The owner of any conduit subject to regulation by a water master as provided by section thirty-seven a of this act shall construct and maintain to the satisfaction of the state water commission a substantial and serviceable headgate or diversion works, at or near the point where the water is diverted, which shall be of such construction that it can be locked and kept closed by the water masters and such owners shall construct and maintain, when required by the state water commission, suitable measuring devices at such points along such ditch as may be necessary for the purpose of assisting the water master in determining the amount of water that is to be diverted into said conduit from the stream. Any and every owner or manager of a reservoir located across or upon the bed of a natural stream or of a reservoir which requires the use of a natural stream channel, subject to regulation by a water master as provided by section thirty-seven a of this act shall construct and maintain, when required by the state water commission, a measuring device of a plan to be approved by the state water commission, below such reservoir, and a measuring device above such reservoir on each or every stream or source of supply discharging into such reservoir, for the purpose of assisting the state water commission or water master in determining the amount of water to which appropriators are entitled and thereafter diverting it for such appropriator's use. If any such owner or owners of water works shall refuse or neglect to construct and put in such headgate or measuring devices after thirty days notice, the water master may close such ditch, and the same shall not be opened or any water diverted from the source of supply, under the penalties prescribed by law for the opening of headgates lawfully closed until the requirements of the state water commission as to such headgates or measuring device have been complied with, and if any owner or manager of a reservoir located across the bed of a natural stream, or of a reservoir which requires the use of a natural stream channel, shall neglect or refuse to put in such measuring devices after thirty days notice by the state water commission, the water master may open the sluice gate or outlet of such reservoir and the same shall not be closed, except by order of the state water commission, under the penalties of the law for changing or interfering with headgates, until the requirements of the state water commission as to such measuring devices are complied with.

Sec. 5. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered section thirty-seven d, and to read as follows:

Sec. 37d. The water master shall have the power to arrest any person violating any of the provisions of sections thirty-seven b, and thirty seven c of this act, and to give him into the Owners to maintain headgates and measuring devices.

Power of water master to arrest.

custody of the sheriff, or other competent police officer within the county, and immediately thereafter make complaint before a magistrate against the person so arrested.

SEC. 6. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered section thirty-seven e, and to read as follows:

Penalties.

Sec. 37e. Any person violating any of the provisions of sections thirty seven b and thirty-seven c of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than two hundred fifty dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not less than ten days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

CHAPTER 366.

An act to amend section one of an act entitled "An act to secure to native-born and naturalized citizens of the United States the exclusive right to be employed in any department of the state, county, city and county and city government in this state, except in certain schools, to validate certain acts, and to repeal all acts in conflict herewith," approved May 19, 1915.

*[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 690,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to secure to native-born and naturalized citizens of the United States the exclusive right to be employed in any department of the state, county, city and county and city government in this state, except in certain schools, to validate certain acts, and to repeal all acts in conflict herewith," approved May 19, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Advance of
expenses.

Sec. 17. Before being entitled to a contract, the bidder to whom the award was made, or the owners who have elected to take the contract, must advance to the superintendent of streets, for payment by him, the cost of publication of the notices, resolutions, orders and matters required under the proceedings prescribed in this act, and of such other notices as may be deemed requisite by the city council, together with all other incidental expenses incurred up to the time of entering into the contract. And in case the work is abandoned by the city before the letting of the contract the incidental expenses incurred previous to such abandonment shall be paid out of the city treasury.

CHAPTER 369.

An act to provide for the exclusion of any portion of the lands embraced within a subdivision or tract of land and for the alteration or vacation of recorded maps or plats thereof and repealing an act entitled "An act to provide for the exclusion of any portion of the lands embraced within a subdivision or tract of land and for the alteration or vacation of recorded maps or plats thereof," approved May 7, 1919.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Exclusion of land from subdivision.

SECTION 1. Upon the application of the owners of at least two-thirds of the area of the land included within the boundaries of any tract or subdivision of land described in a recorded map or plat, or of that portion thereof sought to be excluded, where application is made to vacate a portion of any subdivision or tract, the superior court of the county or city and county wherein such land is situated, may cause all or any portion of such land to be excluded from the subdivision or tract and the recorded map or plat thereof to be altered or vacated as hereinafter provided.

Application.

SEC. 2. The application provided for in section one hereof shall be made by filing in the office of the county clerk of the county or city and county in which the tract or subdivision, or that portion of the land sought to be excluded, is situated, a petition signed and verified by the owners of at least two-thirds of the total area of the land included within the boundaries of the tract or subdivision, or of that portion thereof sought to be excluded, where application is made to vacate a portion of such subdivision or tract, as shown on the recorded map or plat, praying that all or such portions of the land included within such subdivision or tract as are described shall be excluded therefrom. Such petition shall also show the reasons therefor. The land sought to be excluded shall be accurately and distinctly described by reference to the recorded map or plat or by an accurate survey. The petition shall further show the names and addresses of all other owners of the land in the subdivision or tract, or of that portion thereof sought to be excluded, where application is made to vacate a portion of such subdivision or tract, so far as the same are known to the petitioners.

SEC. 3. Upon the filing of a petition as hereinbefore provided, any judge of the superior court of the county or city and county wherein such land is situated, shall make an order directing the clerk of such court to give notice of the filing of such petition. Said notice shall be for not less than thirty, nor more than fifty, days as shall be by such judge directed, by publication in some newspaper of general circulation within the county, or city and county, or if there is no newspaper published therein, by posting in three of the principal places in the county or city and county. Such notice shall contain a statement of the nature of the petition together with a direction that any person may file his objection to the petition, in writing, at any time before the expiration of the time of posting or publication.

Notice of filing.

SEC. 4. When the time of posting or publication has expired there shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court an affidavit showing the posting or publication, whereupon the court may, if no objection has been filed, proceed without further notice to hear the application. If upon such hearing the petitioners shall produce to said court satisfactory evidence of the necessity of the exclusion of said lands, and that the owners of two-thirds of the area of the land included within such tract or subdivision, or of that portion thereof sought to be excluded, where application is made to vacate a portion of such subdivision or tract, are such petitioners, and that there is no reasonable objection to making such exclusion, the court may proceed to exclude the lands sought to be excluded by the petition, and alter or vacate any recorded map or plat thereof, and enter its decree accordingly.

Hearing.

SEC. 5. If objection is made to the petition which, in the judgment of the court is material, the court shall proceed to hear such objection and may adjourn the proceedings to such time as may be necessary upon proper notice to the petitioners.

Objection.

SEC. 6. The exclusion of any territory herein provided for or the alteration or vacation of any recorded map or plat, shall not affect or vacate the whole or any part of any public highway. The exclusion of any land herein provided for or the alteration or vacation of any recorded map or plat, shall be complete with the filing in the office of the county recorder of the county or city and county in which such land is situated,

Public highway not affected.

Filing decree.

of a copy of the decree of the superior court. The county recorder shall make upon the face of any such recorded map or plat a memorandum stating briefly that such recorded plat has been altered or vacated, whichever the case may be, and giving the date and reference of such decree.

New map.

SEC. 7. In case any land has been excluded and any map or plat altered pursuant to the provisions of this act, a new map or plat shall be filed with the county recorder in the manner provided by law showing the boundaries of such subdivision or tract as same appears after the exclusion and alteration.

Stats. 1919,
p. 329,
repealed.

SEC. 8. An act of the legislature of the State of California entitled "An act to provide for the exclusion of any portion of the lands embraced within a subdivision or tract of land and for the alteration or vacation of recorded maps or plats thereof," approved May 7, 1919, is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 370.

An act to regulate the control of smallpox and vaccination and to repeal an act entitled "An act to encourage and provide for a general vaccination for all public and private schools of California, specifying the duties of certain officers and persons with relation thereto making violations of its provisions a misdemeanor, providing penalties, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to encourage and provide for a general vaccination in the State of California,' approved February 20, 1889," approved March 7, 1911.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Control of smallpox.

SECTION 1. The control of smallpox shall be under the direction of the state board of health, and no rule or regulation on the subject of vaccination shall be adopted by school or local health authorities.

Stats. 1911,
p. 395,
repealed.

SEC. 2. An act entitled "An act to encourage and provide for a general vaccination for all public and private schools of California, specifying the duties of certain officers and persons with relation thereto making violations of its provisions a misdemeanor, providing penalties, and repealing an act entitled, 'An act to encourage and provide for a general vaccination in the State of California,' approved February 20, 1889," approved March 7, 1911, is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 371.

An act to amend section two thousand one hundred sixty-nine of the Political Code, relating to the attendance, examination, fees and expenses of witnesses at hearings of persons charged with being insane.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two thousand one hundred sixty-nine of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2169. The judge of the superior court may for any hearing order the clerk of the court to issue subpoenas and compel the attendance of witnesses from any place within the boundaries of this state; provided, however, that no person is obliged to attend as a witness in such a hearing out of the county where the witness resides or is served unless such judge, upon affidavit to the effect that affiant believes the evidence of the witness is material and his attendance at the hearing necessary, shall endorse on the subpoena an order for the attendance of the witness. And such judge must compel the attendance of at least two medical examiners, who must hear the testimony of all witnesses, make a personal examination of the alleged insane person, and testify before the judge as to the result of such examination, and to any other pertinent facts within their knowledge. The judge must also cause to be examined before him as a witness, any other person whom he has reason to believe has any knowledge of the mental condition of the alleged insane person or of his financial condition or that of the persons liable for his maintenance. The alleged insane person must be present at the hearing, and if he has no attorney, the judge may appoint an attorney to represent him. All witnesses attending such hearing upon a subpoena issued under this section shall be entitled to the same fees and expenses, to be paid upon the same conditions and in like manner, as in criminal cases.

CHAPTER 372.

An act to amend section nine of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885, as amended, relating to the relative priority of special assessment liens.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section nine of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers with municipipalities," approved March 18, 1885, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Form of
warrant.

Sec. 9. To said assessment shall be attached a warrant, which shall be signed by the superintendent of streets, and countersigned by the mayor of said city. The said warrant shall be substantially in the following form:

By virtue hereof, I (name of the superintendent of streets), of the city of-----, county of----- (or city and county of-----), and State of California, by virtue of the authority vested in me as said superintendent of streets, do authorize and empower (name of contractor), (his or their) agents or assigns, to demand and receive the several assessments upon the assessment and diagram hereto attached, and this shall be (his or their) warrant for the same.

(Date) -----(Name of superintendent of streets.)

Countersigned by (name of mayor).

Said warrant, assessment, and diagram, together with the certificate of the city engineers, shall be recorded in the office of said superintendent of streets. When so recorded, the several amounts assessed shall be a lien upon the lands, lots, or portions of lot assessed, respectively, for the period of two years from the date of said recording, unless sooner discharged; such lien shall be subordinate to all special assessment liens previously imposed upon the same property, but it shall have priority over all special assessment liens which may thereafter be created against the said property; and from and after the date of said recording of any warrant, assessment, diagram and certificate, all persons mentioned in section eleven of this act shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of the record thereof. After said warrant, assessment, diagram, and certificate are recorded, the same shall be delivered to the contractor, or his agent, or assigns, on demand, but not until after the payment of the said superintendent of streets of the incidental expenses not previously paid by the contractor, or his assigns; and by virtue of said warrant said contractor, or his agent or assigns, shall be authorized to demand and receive the amount of the several assessments made to cover the sum due for the work specified in such contracts and assessments. Whenever it shall appear by any final judgment of any court of this state that any suit brought to foreclose the lien of any sum of money assessed to cover the expense of said street work done under the provisions of this act has been defeated by reason of any defect, error, informality, omission, irregularity, or illegality in any assessment hereafter to be made and issued, or in the recording thereof, or in the return thereof made to or recorded by said superintendent of streets, any person interested therein may, at any time within three months after the entry of said final judgment, apply to said superintendent of streets who issued the same, or to any superintendent of streets in office at the time of said application, for another assessment to be issued in conformity to law: and said superintendent shall, within fifteen days after the date of said application, make and deliver to said applicant a new assessment, diagram, and warrant in accordance with law; and the acting mayor shall countersign the same as now provided by law, which assessment shall be a lien for the period of two years from the date of said assessment, and be enforced as provided in section seven of this act.

CHAPTER 373.

An act authorizing the regents of the University of California to sell and convey certain land situate in Butte county, known as the Chico forestry station and directing that the proceeds of such sale shall become the property of the regents of the University of California.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. WHEREAS, The State of California is the owner of a certain tract of land commonly known as the Chico forestry station, situate in the county of Butte, in said state and described as follows:

Description
of Chico

north sixty-five degrees fifty-five minutes east one hundred feet to post marked "N"; run thence north sixty-eight degrees five minutes east ninety feet post marked "O"; run thence north twenty-four degrees fifteen minutes west forty-seven feet to place of beginning; containing twenty-nine and six hundred sixty-seven thousandths acres and situated in said sections twenty-four (24) and nineteen (19) (run by the true meridian, variations seventeen degrees east), being all that tract of land described in that certain deed from John Bidwell to the State of California dated the second day of December, 1889, and recorded at pages four hundred seven to four hundred eight in book thirty-eight of deeds, Butte county records; and

WHEREAS, The said tract of land is maintained as a forestry station under the charge of the regents of the University of California; and the expense of maintaining it has become greater than the benefits derived therefrom, it is provided:

And

WHEREAS, Said land was by the late General John Bidwell conveyed to the University of California without monetary consideration; and

WHEREAS, The said General Bidwell has donated for the purpose of a park a large tract of land immediately joining that herein described; and

WHEREAS, A public subscription in the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars has been raised by various citizens of Chico with which to purchase for the city of Chico, a municipal corporation, the land herein described; and

WHEREAS, It is deemed by the board of regents of the University of California, State of California that the amount thus raised, to wit one thousand five hundred dollars, for the purchase of said land is the fair and adequate value thereof when conveyed subject to the conditions herein mentioned, it is provided:

1. That the regents of the University of California, a corporation, be and it is hereby authorized and empowered to sell and convey to the city of Chico, a municipal corporation, all of the land herein described, for the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars which is hereby declared to be the fair value of said land, said conveyance to be made subject to the following conditions, to wit:

Conveyance
to city of Chico
authorized.

Conditions.

That the present forestry plant and improvements upon said land shall be maintained and kept in good condition by the said city of Chico without expense to the University of California and that the same shall not be permitted to depreciate or decline by reason of neglect and that such maintenance shall be provided for, by or under the direction of the said city of Chico.

And provided, further, that said conveyance shall also contain a condition that said University of California or any of its agencies, employees or other persons designated by it shall be permitted at any and all times to take data as to the growth and condition of the various trees and vegetation growing or to be grown upon said lands; and provided, further, that if said property herein authorized to be conveyed shall at any time be used otherwise than for public purposes the same shall revert to the University of California subject to all of the terms of the original grant thereof from General John Bidwell.

That said regents of said University of California be and they are hereby authorized and directed to make, execute and upon the receipt of one thousand five hundred dollars, to deliver to said city of Chico the conveyance of said tract of land subject to the conditions herein mentioned.

2. That the proceeds of such sale of the said land shall ^{Proceeds.} be and remain the property of said regents of the University of California, to be expended by it for the benefit of the forestry department of the college of agriculture of the University of California in such manner and for such purposes as it shall deem expedient.

CHAPTER 374.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered three thousand four hundred sixty-six and one-half, relating to sales of land for delinquent reclamation assessments.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered three thousand four hundred sixty-six and one-half and to read as follows:

3466½. The owner of any land or some portion thereof offered for sale pursuant to the provisions of section three thousand four hundred sixty-six of the Political Code may designate in writing to the trustees of the district prior to the sale, what portion he wishes, first sold if less than the whole; but if the owner does not, then the trustees may sell the whole or the least quantity or portion of the land that will bring the amount due for the assessment accrued, interest, penalty and costs, and if any person bids or offers the total amount of said assessment or delinquent installment thereof, interest, penalties and costs for a less portion of said land than the whole of said tract or tracts offered for sale, to accept such bid, or the bid of the person who will take or accept the least portion thereof for the amount of such delinquent installment or installments of said assessment, accrued interest, penalties and costs.

The certificate of sale executed by the trustees to the purchaser of any land sold for delinquent assessments as provided

Certificate
of sale
evidence.

in said section three thousand four hundred sixty-six of the Political Code shall be prima facie evidence that:

(a) That said land was assessed and said assessment duly apportioned as required by law.

(b) That said assessment was not paid.

(c) That due and legal notice of such sale was given and published by the trustees, and that such sale was had at the time and place specified in said notice or at the time to which such sale may have been regularly continued, and that all the steps and proceedings required to be taken by the trustees in order to make a valid sale have been taken by them, and that the deed thereafter made by said trustees duly acknowledged, if no redemption be made, shall be likewise prima facie evidence of the same facts as in said certificates.

If, for any reason the land upon which an assessment heretofore or hereafter levied or any installment thereof is delinquent and remains unpaid, in whole or in part, is not sold at the time or place specified in the notice of sale or to which the sale may have been postponed the trustees shall have jurisdiction to and they shall, give and publish a new notice of sale and proceed to sell said land in all respects as provided in section three thousand four hundred sixty-six of said Political Code, and with like effect as in this section provided. No sale, certificate or deed made for a valid delinquent assessment shall be adjudged invalid, without the payment to the purchaser of the land of the amount of the said delinquent assessment, penalties, interest and costs.

In case more than one installment of any assessment or more than one assessment on the same tract of land shall be delinquent at the time of such sale, said trustees may sell said land for the total amount of all such delinquent installments, of such assessment and for all assessments then delinquent on the same tract of land in one sale.

CHAPTER 375.

An act to amend section five of an act entitled "An act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvements within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27, 1893, as amended, relating to the foreclosure of delinquent bonds, and providing an alternative method of foreclosure.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1913,
p. 849,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section five of an act entitled "An act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvements within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27, 1893, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. Whenever payment either upon the principal, or of the interest upon any bond issued hereunder has not been, or shall not be made when the same has become, or shall become due, and the holder of the bond demands in writing that the city treasurer proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land described in said bond as being that upon which the assessment represented by said bond was levied, then said treasurer shall proceed as follows:

Failure to pay interest and principal on bonds as due.

Subd. a. He shall publish for two (2) weeks in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the city in which said bond was issued, or if no newspaper is published in said city, then in some newspaper having general circulation therein, a notice which shall be substantially (filling in all blanks) as indicated following, to wit:

Publication of notice of delinquency.

"Notice of sale of property delinquent for nonpayment of bond No.-----, series No.-----, issued for the improvement of-----.

Default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons (here fill in date and amounts of the coupon or coupons which have not been paid) and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the city treasurer of the city of -----, proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in the said bond.

Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the ----- day of -----, 19-----, at the hour of ----- o'clock -----m. of said day, sell at public auction the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much thereof as may be necessary at (here state the place of sale, which shall be at the office of said treasurer or at some public place in said city) unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of the publication of this notice are paid; and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay a full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond, together with costs of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to wit: (here set forth the description of the lot or parcel of land as contained in the bond). The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof, ----- dollars; due on account of interest, ----- dollars. (Here set forth the interest calculated up to the day on which the notice is dated at the interest rate named in said bond upon the unpaid principal for the full period for which no interest has been paid.) Total amount due on said bond: (here set forth the total of the foregoing items):

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required together with the cost of publications made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment;

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due accruing up to date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and one dollar for the issuing of certificate of sale. The ----- (here naming newspaper) is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

Dated -----

Treasurer of the city of -----"

The day named in the notice shall not be less than fifteen (15) days from the date of the first publication of the notice;

Affidavit of publication.

Subd. b. An affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper in which the notice was published, or of someone in behalf of said publisher, setting forth a copy of the publication and stating that the publication was made in the said newspaper on specified dates shall be filed with the city treasurer and shall be primary evidence of the due publication of the notice;

Cost of publication.

Subd. c. The city treasurer shall collect the sum of one dollar ($1.00), as hereinbefore mentioned, for the issuance of the certificate of sale, which sum shall belong to, and be subject to the disposition of the city;

Payment
before
sale.

Subd. d. Any person interested in the lot or parcel of land described in the notice of sale may at any time prior to the sale, pay the whole amount of principal of said bond remaining unpaid, the interest up to the date of such payment, at the rate named in said bond upon such amount of said principal remaining unpaid for the whole period for which interest has not been paid, together with the cost of the publication of the notice of sale; in such event the payment being made, the bond shall be canceled; but if such payment be not made, the sale shall be made as advertised;

Sale.

Subd. e. The lot or parcel described in the bond shall be sold to the purchaser who shall take the least amount of said lot or parcel and pay all of the sums specified in the notice of sale given by the treasurer. In the event that through error or otherwise the total amount for which said sale shall be made is less than that which may be required by the provisions hercof, and the holder of the bond is the purchaser at the sale and elects to accept the certificate of sale hereinafter mentioned, or if he accepts from the treasurer such sum derived from said sale made to some other purchaser, then the fact that the sale may have been made for less than the amounts specified herein shall not effect or invalidate the sale, and such receipt of said certificate or said sum shall be a waiver on the part of the holder of said bond, and the said deficient amount of sale shall be the amount upon which redemption from the sale shall be calculated to all effects the same as if the sale had been made for the full amount authorized hereby;

Treasurer's record.

Subd. f. The city treasurer, before delivering any certificate, must, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, enter the date, number, and series of the bond, a description of the land sold corresponding with the description of the certificate, the date of sale, purchasers' name, the amount paid, regularly number the descriptions on the margin of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection during office hours when not in actual use, and he shall enter on the record of the bond the words "canceled by sale of the property," giving the date of such sale;

Subd. g. Immediately on the sale, the purchaser shall become vested with a lien on the property, so sold to him, to the extent of his bid, and is only divested of such lien by the payment to the city treasurer of the purchase money, including costs herein provided for, with interest thereon at the rate of one per cent per month from the date of sale; Lien of purchaser.

Subd. h. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner of the property, or any party in interest, within twelve months from the date of purchase, or at any time prior to the application for a deed, as hereinafter provided; Redemption.

Subd. i. Redemption must be made in lawful money of the United States, and when made to the city treasurer he must mark the word "redeemed," the date and by whom redeemed on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made, and credit the amount paid to the purchaser named in the certificate, and pay the same to such purchaser, or his assignee, upon the surrender of the certificate of sale, and upon satisfactory proof of an assignment thereof, if any;

Subd. j. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by subdivision h hereof for its redemption, the city treasurer, or his successor in office, upon application of the purchaser or his assignee, must make to said purchaser, or his assignee, a deed to the property, reciting in the deed, substantially, the matter contained in the certificate, and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption; the treasurer shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser two dollars for making said deed, which shall be deposited in the city treasury for the use of the city after payment has been made therefrom for the acknowledgment of said deed; provided, however, that the purchaser of the property, or his assignee must, thirty days prior to the expiration of the time of the redemption, or thirty days before his application for a deed, serve upon the owner or agent of the property purchased, if named in such certificate, and upon the party occupying the property, if the property is occupied, a written notice, stating that said property or a portion thereof, has been sold to satisfy the bond lien, the date of sale, the date number, and series of the bond, the amount then due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire, or when the purchaser will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely, until such notice shall have been given and said deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties and costs in this Deed to purchaser if property not redeemed.

act required. In case of unoccupied property, a similar notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property at least thirty days before the expiration of the time for redemption, or thirty days before the purchaser applies for a deed; and no deed to the property sold, in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be issued by the city treasurer to the purchaser of such property, until such purchaser shall have filed with such treasurer an affidavit showing that the notice hereinbefore required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavit shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as other records kept by him in his office. Such purchaser shall be entitled to receive the sum of fifty cents for his service of such notice and the making of said affidavit, which sum of fifty cents shall be paid by the redemptioner at the time and in the same manner as the other sums, costs and fees are paid;

Deed
evidence of regularity
of proceedings.

Subd. k. The deed, when duly acknowledged or proved, is primary evidence of the regularity of all proceedings theretofore had, and conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, as of the date of the expiration of the period for redemption, free of all encumbrances, except the lien for state, county and municipal taxes:

Suit to foreclose lien on bond.

Subd. l. In the event of the non-payment of any installment of the interest or principal and by way of a separate, distinct and cumulative remedy, the holder of any bond upon which any payment either upon the principal or of the interest has not, or shall not be made when due, may file and maintain a suit to foreclose the lien of the bond in the same manner provided in the "act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers in municipalities," approved March 18, 1885, as amended. The complaint in such suit shall be sufficient if a true copy of the bond be therein set forth and true allegations made regarding the payments made upon the principal and interest thereon, and such suit shall be brought in the superior court within whose jurisdiction the city is by which the said bond has been issued, and in case the owner of the lot, or parcel of land covered by said bond, cannot with due diligence be found, the service of such action may be had in the manner prescribed in the codes and laws of this state. The said bond, together with proof either orally by the said treasurer of the said city or by a certificate signed by him showing the non-payment of any of the principal or interest upon said bond, shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the plaintiff to recover in said action. The court in which said suit shall be commenced shall have the power to adjudge and decree a lien against the lot or parcel of land covered by said bond and to order said premises to be sold on execution as in other cases of the sale of real estate by the process of said court, and the amount of interest due shall be calculated in the same manner hereinbefore set forth in subdivision a hereof, up to the date of the signing of the judgment. On appeal, the appellate courts shall have the same power to adjudge and decree a lien and to order such premises to be sold on execution of decree as is conferred on the court from which an appeal is taken. The court shall also fix and allow a reasonable attorney's fee for the prosecution of said suit where personal demand for payment has been made before the institution of suit. Such premises, if sold, may be redeemed as in other cases. Such action shall be governed and regulated by the provisions hereof, and also when not in conflict herewith by the codes of this state.

CHAPTER 376.

An act to improve the quality and regulate the number and use of bulls running upon the open range.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. No person shall permit to run upon any open range of this state any bull over eight months of age that is not a pure bred bull of recognized beef breed; provided, that for the year 1922 not more than twenty-five per cent, for the year 1923 not more than fifty per cent and for the year 1924 not more than seventy-five per cent of such bulls need be pure bred bulls. only pure bred bulls to run at large.

SEC. 2. For the purposes of this act the term "pure bred bulls" is hereby defined as bulls bred in a herd of one of the recognized beef breeds, the ancestral sires of which must have been registered bulls of the same breed for at least four generations, and the dams of which must have been cows of the same breed of good quality. "Pure bred bull" defined.

SEC. 3. The term "open range" for the purposes of this act is hereby defined to be all unenclosed lands outside of cities, towns and villages, upon which by custom, license or otherwise cattle are kept or permitted to roam. "Open range" defined.

SEC. 4. Every person causing or permitting his cows to graze upon the open range as herein provided must run with said cows one bull for every thirty head of cows. That no bull shall be required for less than ten cows. One bull for every thirty cows.

SEC. 5. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall also be liable for all actual damage caused thereby. Penalty.

CHAPTER 377.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered three thousand six hundred thirty-eight a, relating to situs of property in transit.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered three thousand six hundred thirty-eight a to read as follows:

Situs of property
in transit.

3638a. All personal property in the possession or under the control and management of any person, corporation or company engaged in the intrastate transportation by water of goods or commodities of any sort or description shall in the event that said personal property is in transit have as its situs for purposes of taxation the residence of the owner thereof, and it is hereby made the duty of every such individual, company or corporation to file with the forwarding agent or warehouse proprietor for delivery to the assessor of his county, a copy of the bill of lading or manifest for all goods in transit or on board on the first Monday of March, showing description and value of such personal property together with name of consignor and consignee thereof, or if such personal property be delivered for transportation by other persons it shall then be the duty of said person, company or corporation to report same to the county assessor of the county from which such property was received.

Any tax found to be due under the provisions of this act shall be and become a lien upon any and all property belonging to the owner of such personal property. The word residence as herein used shall be defined to mean the county in which such property was produced or from which such shipment was made, if the owner is a property owner therein, if not then at the place of domicile of said owner.

Penalty.

Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

CHAPTER 378.

An act to amend section twelve and one-quarter of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places, and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twelve and one-quarter of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places, and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1913, p. 409, amended.

SEC. 12 $\frac{1}{4}$. Whenever any assessment heretofore issued or which may be hereafter issued is or shall be void, or unenforceable, for want of sufficient authority for its issuance or from irregularities, or illegalities in the proceedings, or if bonds shall have been, or shall be issued to represent any assessments and such issuance shall not have been, or shall not be effective through the curative provisions thereof to make them valid and enforceable, then, in any of such events a reassessment therefor shall be issued. The true intent and meaning of this section is to make the cost and expense of work or improvement made through an attempted compliance with this act, payable by the real estate benefited by such work or improvement by making a reassessment therefor. New assessments and bonds, when old have been declared invalid.

Such power of reassessing embraces both a full and a partial reassessment, and is not exhausted by a single attempted exercise thereof.

A reassessment shall be ordered under any one of three circumstances: Reassessment.

First—Where the owner or holder of any assessments, or of bonds issued to represent assessments requests the legislative body of the city in which the assessment has been or shall be issued to order a reassessment. In such event if said legislative body be of the opinion that the assessments or bonds in question are not enforceable, it shall order the making and issuing of a reassessment covering only the assessments owned or held by the petitioner, or the assessments represented by the bonds owned or held by such petitioner.

Second—Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit to foreclose the lien of any assessment or to enforce the obligation of any bond issued to represent any assessments issued under this act, has for any reason held such lien unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

Third—Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit to set aside the lien of any assessment or of any bond representing any assessment or in any suit to quiet title against the lien of any such assessment, or bond shall in its judgment decree such assessments or bonds to be void, or unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

making reassess-
ment.

The manner of making, issuing and enforcing the reassessments shall be as follows:

The superintendent of streets shall, upon the entering of a decree of court directing a reassessment or upon the making of an order by the legislative body of the city directing a reassessment, assess upon and against the lots, pieces or parcels of land mentioned in the decree or order the benefits derived or to be derived by each from the said work or improvement estimated as of the date of the original assessment.

To each sum so reassessed there shall be added interest thereon from the date of the original assessment at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum. Such assessment need not be in any prescribed form, but shall refer to the original assessment, give the date of the original assessment and state that it is made pursuant to the order of the legislative body of the city or decree of the court, as the case may be. It shall then be presented to the legislative body, which shall fix a time for hearing before it. Such time must be at least twenty days after the reassessment is so presented. The city clerk shall then advertise the time of such hearing before the legislative body by publishing a notice in the newspaper in which the notice of award of contract for the improvement for which the assessment was made, was published unless the legislative body directs publication in some other paper. Such notice shall be published for five insertions, if the paper be a daily, or by two insertions, if the paper be published less frequently. At the time fixed for said hearing, or at such time or times to which the same may be thereafter adjourned, the legislative body shall consider the objections to said reassessment and in its discretion informally direct the revision, correction or modification of such reassessment in such manner as is most equitable. When such reassessment shall have been revised, or corrected or modified so as to comply with the judgment of said legislative body, then it shall pass a resolution confirming the reassessment. The street superintendent shall thereupon record the reassessment with a certificate at the end thereof by the city clerk, that it is the reassessment approved by the legislative body of the city. He shall also note opposite the several assessments in the original assessment that have been displaced by the reassessment the fact that the reassessment has been made, giving its date, and shall credit upon such reassessment all payments theretofore made upon the original assessment, or upon the bonds issued to represent the same, applying such payments first to the interest due and then upon the principal. Such reassessment shall be collectible and payable in the same manner as an original assessment and shall be enforceable by suit in the same manner herein provided for enforcing an original assessment. In the event that bonds issued under the original assessment they shall also issue upon the reassessment for such sum as may be reassessed against the lot, piece or parcel of land covered thereby. The lien of such reassessment shall hold its relative rank as to other special assessment liens as of the date of the original assessment.

CHAPTER 379.

An act to amend sections one, two, three and sixteen of an act entitled "An act to provide for the laying out, opening, extending, widening, or straightening, in whole or in part, of public streets, squares, lanes, alleys, courts and places, within municipalities, for the condemnation of property necessary or convenient for such purposes, and for the establishment of assessment districts, and the assessment of property therein to pay the expense of such improvement," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, to allow the opening, extending, widening or straightening by municipalities of any one or more of any public streets, squares, lanes, alleys, courts, or places within municipalities, or any portions thereof, whether contiguous or otherwise, and the acquiring, by condemnation, of any and all property necessary or convenient for that purpose, and relating to the ordinance of intention, the giving of notice and assessments against public property.

•[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of the act entitled "An act to provide for the laying out, opening, extending, widening, or straightening, in whole or in part of public streets, squares, lanes, alleys, courts, and places, within municipalities, for the condemnation of property necessary or convenient for such purposes, and for the establishment of assessment districts, and the assessment of property therein to pay the expense of such improvement," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

intention.

SEC. 2. Section two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. Before ordering any improvement to be made which is authorized by section one of this act, the city council shall pass an ordinance declaring its intention so to do, which said ordinance shall briefly describe the improvement and the land necessary or convenient to be taken therefor, and shall, in general terms, describe the district to be benefited by said improvement and to be assessed to pay the expense thereof, to be known as the assessment district, and refer to a plat or map, approved by the city council, which shall indicate by a boundary line the extent of the territory to be included in said assessment district, which plat or map shall be on file in the office of the city engineer before said superintendent of streets shall proceed with the publication and posting of the notices of public work, and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the said assessment district. The city council may include in one proceeding, under one ordinance of intention, any of the different kinds of improvement mentioned in section one of this act, on any number of any public streets, squares, lanes, alleys, courts or places, within such municipality, or any portion or portions thereof, whether contiguous or otherwise. Said city council may, in its discretion, order and declare that the whole or any percentage of the expense of said improvement be paid out of the treasury of the municipality from such fund as the council may designate, in which case it shall be so stated in said ordinance of intention.

Stats. 1913,

Notice of public

SEC. 3. Section three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. The street superintendent shall thereupon cause to be conspicuously posted along all streets and parts of streets or other public places or rights of way where any property is to be taken for the widening or straightening thereof, and along or upon any private unimproved property which is to be taken for the opening or extending of any street or other public place, at not more than three hundred feet apart, notices (not less than three in all) of the passage of said ordinance. Said notices shall be headed, "Notice of public work", in letters not less than one inch in length, shall be in legible characters, and shall state the fact and date of the passage of said ordinance and briefly describe the improvement proposed, and refer to said ordinance of intention for a description of the assessment district and for further particulars. He should also cause a notice similar in substance to be published by two insertions in a daily, weekly or semiweekly newspaper published and circulated in said city and designated by the city council for that purpose. The city clerk shall, immediately upon the publication of the notice required by this section, mail, postage prepaid, to each property owner in the assessment district, at his last known address as the same appears on the tax rolls of said city, or when no address so appears, to the general delivery, a postal card containing a notice which shall be in the following or substantially the following form (filling blanks), to wit:

“You are hereby notified that on the ----- day of -----, 19____, the legislative body of the city of -----, California, by virtue of the street opening act of 1903, passed an ordinance of intention numbered -----, for the opening and widening of ----- street between ----- street and ----- street. Written protests may be filed with the city clerk within ----- days after the ----- day of -----, 19____. Your property is in the district to be assessed for this improvement.

-----,
City Clerk.”

If any lots or parcels of land in the assessment district be assessed to “unknown owners” on the tax rolls of said city, no postal cards shall be mailed to the owners thereof, but the notice of public work by the publication as herein provided shall be deemed legal notice to such owners of such contemplated improvement.

The failure of the city clerk to mail said postal cards, or any thereof, or the failure of the property owners to receive the same, or the failure of the superintendent of streets to post the notices of street work shall in no wise affect the validity of the proceedings or prevent the city council from acquiring jurisdiction to order the work; provided, however, that the city council may require affidavits to be filed showing the posting of notices and the mailing of postal cards before it adopts the resolution ordering the improvement.

SEC. 4. Section sixteen of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1913,
p. 433,
amended.

Sec. 16. The city engineer shall deliver said diagram to the street superintendent and shall indorse thereon the date of such delivery. The street superintendent upon receiving the said diagram shall proceed to assess the total expenses of the proposed improvement (first deducting from such total expenses such percentage thereof, if any, as the city council may have declared by the ordinance of intention that the city shall pay) upon and against the lands, including the property of any railroad or street railroad, within said assessment district, except the land to be taken for such improvement, in proportion to the benefits to be derived from said improvement. The street superintendent shall complete said assessment within sixty days after the receipt by him of said diagram; provided, however, that the city council may by order extend the time for completing said assessment for a period not exceeding ninety days additional. The total expense of the improvements so to be assessed shall include the amounts awarded to the defendants by the interlocutory judgment in the action for condemnation, together with their costs, the compensation and expenses of the referees, as allowed by the court, and all other costs of the plaintiff in such action, the expenses of making the assessment, and all expenses necessarily incurred by said city, in connection with the proposed improvement, for the publication of ordinances, posting and publication of notices, for maps, diagrams, plans, surveys, searches and certificates of title to the property to be taken, and all other matters incident thereto.

Land belonging to government.

Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States, or to the State of California, or any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution, or institution for the feeble-minded, or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, is included within the district declared by the city council in the ordinance of intention to be the district to be benefited by said improvement, and to be assessed to pay the expense thereof, the city council may, in its discretion, in the ordinance of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment to be made to cover the expense of said improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said ordinance be omitted from the assessment, then the total expenses of said improvement shall be assessed on the remaining lots lying within the boundaries of said assessment district, without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event the city council shall, in its ordinance of intention, declare that the said lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be included within the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, then such sum or sums as thereafter may be assessed against such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used, shall be payable by the city out of the general fund, unless the city council shall in its ordinance of intention designate another fund; provided, however, that any such sum or sums which may be assessed against any such lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and used, shall not be payable by the city when such sum or sums are paid by the owner of or the governing body controlling such lots, pieces or parcels of land.

CHAPTER 380.

An act to amend sections one, four, eleven, and fourteen of an act entitled "An act to provide for local improvements upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities, such act to be known as 'the local improvement act of 1901,' which became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval February 26, 1901, relating to taxation for local improvements.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to provide for local improvements upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places, and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers, within municipalities, such act to be known as 'the local improvement act of 1901' which became a law under constitution provision, without governor's approval, February 26, 1901, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1901,
p. 31,
amended

Section 1. All streets, lanes, alleys, places, or courts in the municipalities of this state, now open or dedicated, or which may hereafter be opened or dedicated to public use, shall be deemed and be held to be open public streets, lanes, alleys, places or courts, for the purposes of this act, and the legislative body of each municipality is hereby empowered to establish and change the grades of said streets, lanes, alleys, places or courts, and fix the width thereof, and is hereby invested with the jurisdiction to order to be done thereon any of the work mentioned in section two of this act, under the proceedings hereinafter described; provided, that any of said work may be done to or upon a grade other than the established official grade of any such streets, lanes, alleys, courts, or places, in which case the grade at which the work is proposed to be done together with the official grade shall be set forth and fully described in the report of the engineer provided for in section four of this act.

engineer.

Sec. 4. Thereafter, the said engineer, or board of public works, or commissioner of public works, shall file with the clerk of the municipality the report called for by section three above, and there shall be annexed thereto the following exhibits, to wit:

1. A general description of the work to be done, excepting therefrom any work to be done by any person, firm or corporation having railroads on any of the streets, lanes, alleys, courts, or places within said municipality.

General
description.

2. A description of the exterior boundaries of the district of lands which will be benefited by the proposed improvement, the lots and lands within which should be specially assessed, according to the benefits, if any, they may receive, to pay the costs and expenses of the improvement.

Boundaries.

3. Plans, profiles, cross-sections, and specifications for making the proposed improvement.

Plans.

4. An estimate of the total cost of said improvement, including incidental expenses likely to be incurred, in connection therewith, including clerical, engineering, inspection, printing, advertising and all other incidental expenses.

Map.

5. A map showing the district above referred to, giving the subdivisions of the property therein, as nearly as can be ascertained by said engineer, or board, or commissioner, with the dimensions thereof, as ascertained by said engineer, or board, or commissioner, each of which subdivisions shall be given a red ink number upon said map, which red ink number shall in all of the subsequent proceedings be a sufficient description of such land when given or referred to in connection with a reference to said map. But any error in the description, or in the dimensions of any lot or lands appearing on said map shall not invalidate the assessment or the proceedings herein provided for.

List of owners.

6. A list, referring to said subdivisions upon said map by the respective red ink numbers thereon, and giving the names of the owners, if known, otherwise designating them as unknown; but any error in the name of the owner of any lot or lands shall in no way invalidate the proceedings, or the assessment levied against such lot or lands. The list shall include an estimate of the benefits, if any, which each lot or parcel of land within said district will receive from the proposed improvement. Whenever any park, block, tract, lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to, or under the control of, the State of California, or any county, city and county, city, town, township, irrigation or drainage district, board of education, school district, penal or reform institution, institution for the feeble-minded, or the insane, or any other public or quasipublic agent, mandatory or instrumentality of the state, county or municipal government, shall be included within the district declared to be benefited and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the improvement, the said work shall be done, and such lots, pieces or parcels of land shall be assessed as in other cases; and the State of California, or any county, city and county, city, town, township, irrigation or drainage district, board of education, school district, penal or reform institution, institution for the feeble-minded, or the insane, or any other public or quasipublic agent, mandatory or instrumentality of the state, county or municipal government, shall be liable for and shall pay any such assessment so levied.

Number of proceedings.

7. The number of the proceedings, which shall be the number under which all subsequent action shall be taken in said proceeding, and thereafter a reference to such number shall be sufficient to identify any record or action thereunder.

Stats. 1915, p 383, amended.

Sec. 3. Section eleven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Payment of assessments.

Sec. 11. The said tax collector shall thereupon fix a time, which shall not be more than thirty days thereafter, within which the payments of said assessments shall be made, or agreements and waivers executed as hereinafter provided for bonds to issue in lieu of such payments, notice of which time shall be given by publication at least once in some newspaper of general circulation, published in such municipality, if there be one published therein, otherwise by posting in three public places in said municipalities. All such assessments shall be paid or agreements and waivers executed therefor within such time, or such further time as the legislative body of such municipality shall grant by resolution, not exceeding thirty days; provided, that whenever any park, block, tract, lot, piece, or parcel of land belonging to, or under the control of the State of California, or any county, city and county, city, town, township, irrigation or drainage district, board of education, school district, penal or reform institution, institution for the feeble-minded, or the insane, or any other public or quasi-public agent, mandatory or instrumentality of the state, county or municipal government, shall be included within the district declared to be benefited and which shall be in actual use in the performance of a public function and shall have been assessed as in other cases as provided in section four of this act, such assessment shall be paid out of any funds on hand and available for such purpose upon the presentation of a proper claim therefor; but if no funds shall be available, then provision shall be made by the proper officials of the State of California, or any county, city and county, city, town, township, irrigation or drainage district, board of education, school district, penal or reform institution, institution for the feeble-minded, or the insane, or any other public or quasipublic agent, mandatory or instrumentality of the state, county or municipal government, for the payment of any such sum so due in the same manner and as though such assessment constituted a judgment against such state, county, city and county, city, town, township, irrigation or drainage district, board of education, school district, penal or reform institution, institution for the feeble-minded, or the insane, or any other public or quasipublic agent, mandatory or instrumentality of the state, county or municipal government, and any such assessment shall, for said purpose only, have the same force and effect as a judgment of a court of record against the State of California, or any county, city and county, city, town, township, irrigation or drainage district, board of education, school district, penal or reform institution, institution for the feeble-minded, of the insane, or any other public or quasipublic agent, mandatory or instrumentality of the state, county or municipal government; and it shall be the duty of the officer, board or body authorized by law to levy taxes or assessments to raise revenue for the costs and expenses of carrying on the government or the affairs of the State of California, or any county, city and county, city, town, township, irrigation or drainage district, board of education, school district, penal or reform institution, institution for the feeble-minded, or the insane, or any other public or quasipublic agent, mandatory or instrumentality of the state, county or municipal government to include the amount of any such

At any time before the expiration of one year after said sale, any property sold under the provisions of this act may be redeemed by the owner thereof by the payment to the said tax collector of the amount for which the said property was sold, and also any amount which the said purchaser may have paid out for taxes or assessments, a memorandum of which may have been filed with said tax collector, and which shall be noted on said record by him, together with interest at the rate of one per cent per month on all amounts paid by such purchaser; which redemption money shall be paid by the said tax collector to the owner of the certificate of sale, upon the same being delivered up to be cancelled, and a receipt given to said tax collector for the amount so paid by him, the fact and date of which redemption together with the amount paid therefor, shall be noted by said tax collector on the margin of said record of assessment.

CHAPTER 381.

An act to amend section three thousand seven hundred fifty-one of the Political Code, relating to tax receipts.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand seven hundred fifty-one of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Tax
receipts.

3751. He must give a receipt to the person paying any tax, or any part of any tax, specifying the amount of the assessment and the tax, or part of tax, paid, and the amount remaining unpaid, if any, with a description of the property assessed, and printing clearly the beginning and ending of the fiscal year for which such tax is paid; provided, that the receipt for the last installment of taxes may refer, by number or any other intelligent manner, to the receipt given for the first installment of taxes, in lieu of a description of the property assessed.

CHAPTER 382.

An act to amend section three hundred ninety-four of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the place of trial of actions or proceedings to which a county, city and county or city is a party.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three hundred ninety-four of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

394. An action or proceeding against a county, or city and county, may be commenced and tried in such county, or city and county, unless such action or proceeding is brought by a county, or city and county, in which case it may be tried in any county, or city and county, not a party thereto. Whenever an action or proceeding is brought by a county, city and county, or city, against a resident of another county, city and county, or city, or a corporation doing business in the latter, the action or proceeding must be, on motion of either party, transferred for trial to a county, or city and county, other than the plaintiff, if the plaintiff is a county, or city and county, and other than that in which the plaintiff is situated, if the plaintiff is a city, and other than that in which the defendant resides or is doing business or is situated. Whenever an action or proceeding is brought against a county, city and county, or city, in any county, or city and county, other than the defendant, if the defendant is a county, or city and county, or, if the defendant is a city, other than that in which the defendant is situated, the action or proceeding must be, on motion of the said defendant, transferred for trial to a county, or city and county, other than that in which the plaintiff, or any of the plaintiffs, resides, or is doing business, or is situated, and other than the plaintiff county, or city and county, or county in which such plaintiff city is situated, and other than the defendant county, or city and county, or county in which such defendant city is situated. In any action or proceeding, the parties thereto may, by stipulation in writing, or made in open court, and entered in the minutes, agree upon any county, or city and county, for the place of trial thereof. This section shall apply to actions or proceedings now pending or hereafter brought.

Place of trial in action to which city or county is a party.

CHAPTER 383.

An act to amend section four hundred of the Civil Code, relating to corporations.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four hundred of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Directors
to be trustees
of dissolved
corporation.

400. Unless other persons are appointed by the court, the directors or managers of the affairs of a corporation at the time of its dissolution are trustees of the creditors and stockholders or members of the corporation dissolved, and have full powers to settle the affairs of the corporation, collect and pay outstanding debts, sell the assets thereof in such manner as the court shall direct, and distribute the proceeds of such sales and all other assets to the stockholders. Such trustees shall have authority to sue for and recover the debts and property of the corporation, and shall be jointly and severally personally liable to its creditors and stockholders or members, to the extent of its property and effects that shall come into their hands. Death, resignation or failure or inability to act shall constitute a vacancy in the position of trustee, which vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the superior court upon petition of any person or creditor interested in the property of such corporation. Such trustees may be sued in any court in this state by any person having a claim against such corporation or its property. Trustees of corporations heretofore dissolved or whose charters have heretofore been forfeited by law shall have and discharge in the same manner and under the same obligations, all the powers and duties herein prescribed. Vacancies in the office of trustees of such corporations shall be filled as hereinbefore provided; provided, however, that any deed executed in the name of such corporation by the president or vice-president and secretary or assistant secretary after a dissolution thereof or after a forfeiture of the charter of such corporation or after the suspension of the corporate rights, privileges and powers of such corporation, which deed shall have been duly recorded in the proper book of records of the county in which the land or any portion thereof so conveyed is situated, for a period of five years, shall have the same force and effect as if executed and delivered prior to said dissolution, forfeiture or suspension.

CHAPTER 384.

An act to add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure, to be numbered section five hundred twenty-six b, relating to actions to restrain the issuance, sale, offering for sale or delivery of bonds of any city, city and county, town, county, district or other political subdivision of the State of California.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to be numbered five hundred twenty-six b, and to read as follows:

526b. Every person or corporation bringing, instigating, exciting or abetting, any suit to obtain an injunction, restraining or enjoining the issuance, sale, offering for sale, or delivery, of bonds, or other securities, or the expenditure of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds or other securities, of any city, city and county, town, county, or other district organized under the laws of this state, or any other political subdivision of this state, proposed to be issued, sold, offered for sale or delivered by such city, city and county, town, county, district or other political subdivision, for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, completing, improving or extending water works, electric works, gas works or other public utility works or property, shall, if the injunction sought is finally denied, and if such person or corporation owns, controls, or is operating or interested in, a public utility business of the same nature as that for which such bonds or other securities are proposed to be issued, sold, offered for sale, or delivered, be liable to the defendant for all costs, damages and necessary expenses resulting to such defendant by reason of the filing of such suit.

of

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The expression "street opening act of 1889" as used herein and in the title hereof, shall mean the act (hereinafter referred to as the "street opening act") entitled "An act to provide for laying out, opening, extending, widening, straightening, or closing up, in whole or in part, any street, square, lane, alley, court, or place within municipalities, and to condemn and acquire any and all land and property necessary or convenient for that purpose," approved March 6, 1889, as heretofore amended, and as may be hereafter amended.

The expression "improvement bond" as used herein shall mean a bond issued under the provisions of this act.

The terms "assessment" or "assessment roll" as used herein shall mean a special assessment made under the provisions of said "street opening act."

The term "delinquency" as used herein shall mean delinquency in the payment of an assessment made under said "street opening act," and the expression "time of delinquency" as used herein shall mean the time fixed in said "street opening act" when assessments become delinquent.

The expression "city council" as used herein shall mean the legislative body of the municipality.

Issue of street improvement
bonds.

SEC. 2. The city council of any municipal corporation of this state, may, in its discretion, at or before the time of the confirmation of any assessment or assessment roll in proceedings had and taken under the said street opening act, that improvement bonds may issue to represent such assessments, which determination shall be made by ordinance or resolution.

Payment
of assessment in installments.

SEC. 3. Whenever it is determined as provided in section two hereof that improvement bonds may be issued to represent assessments, the owner of any lot or parcel of land against which an assessment has been made, when the amount of such assessment is fifty dollars or over, may at any time prior to delinquency, elect to pay such assessment in installments and to have an improvement bond issued against such lot, in the form and manner and with the effect in this act provided.

Affidavit
of owner.

SEC. 4. Such election shall be made by such owner or his agent thereunto duly authorized in writing filed with the superintendent of streets an affidavit made before a competent officer that he or his principal, as the case may be, is the owner of the lot or parcel of land in question, which affidavit must be accompanied by a certificate of a searcher of records, that he or his principal is such owner and also by filing with such officer a written agreement upon the form hereinafter fixed, waiving all objections of whatsoever kind or nature against the assessment and all proceedings thereto and undertaking to pay the amount of such assessment in either five or ten annual installments, each of which shall be due on the first day of July of each year, and the first of which shall be due on the first day of July next following the date of such bond, with interest on all deferred payments at the rate of eight per cent per annum, payable at the same time as the installments of principal. Said agreement shall contain a provision to the effect that in case of default in the payment of any installment of the principal provided for therein, or interest accrued on deferred payments, at the time called for by said agreement, then and in that event, the entire remaining unpaid installments shall become immediately due and payable, and that the same, and all liens and agreements which are security therefor, may be collected and enforced as in this act provided Said agreement shall be in the following or substantially the following form (filling blanks) :

The undersigned, being the owner of the lot assessed in the assessment for ----- said lot being assessed therein for the sum of ----- ($----) dollars, does hereby expressly waive and release all objections of whatsoever kind or nature against the said assessment and all proceedings prior thereto, and in consideration of the benefit of said improvement and of the extension of time for paying therefor herein requested, do undertake and agree to pay the amount of said assessment, to wit: the sum of ----- ($----) dollars in ----- yearly installments, at the time, in the manner, and with the interest, specified and provided in ----- (title of act), and do request and elect to have a bond issued against said lot in the manner and form and with the effect provided in said act, and do expressly agree that in the case of default in the payment of any installment of the principal provided for in said bond, or interest accrued on deferred payments, then, and in that event, that the entire remaining unpaid installments shall become immediately due and payable, and that the same, and all liens and agreements which are security therefor, may be collected and enforced as in this act provided.

Upon an election being effected as herein provided the superintendent of streets shall make a note thereof in his records opposite the assessment as to which such election is made. All agreements and affidavits made and filed hereunder shall be bound in a substantial book and kept among the records of the superintendent of streets. At the time of delinquency, such officer shall advise, in writing, the city treasurer respecting the assessments as to which the owners have elected to pay in installments. The city treasurer shall thereupon prepare a separate bond representing each assessment as to which such right of election has been exercised, running for either five or ten years, as specified in the agreement made as herein provided, which bond shall be in the following or substantially the following form (filling blanks) :

IMPROVEMENT BOND.

Improvement bond.

Series -----

$----- No.-----

Under and by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of ----- (title of act), I, out of the fund for the above designated improvement bonds, series ----- will pay to bearer the sum of ----- ($----) dollars with interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, as is hereinafter specified, at the office of the city treasurer of the city of -----, State of California. This bond is issued to represent an assessment for ----- in the city of ----- as the same is more fully described in the assessment therefor.

Its amount is the amount assessed in said assessment against the lot numbered _____ therein and in the diagram attached thereto, and which now remains unpaid; but until paid, with accrued interest, is a first lien upon the property affected thereby, as the same is described herein and in said recorded assessment with its diagram. to wit: the lot or parcel of land in the city of _____, county of _____, State of California, described as follows:

and it is issued in accordance with the written request therefor on file in the office of _____ the _____ of said city.

This bond is payable exclusively from said fund, and neither the city of _____ nor any officer thereof is to be holden otherwise for its principal or interest. The term of this bond is _____ years from July 1, 19____, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid shall be due and payable; but on the first day of July of each year, after the date hereof, an even annual proportion of its principal is due and payable upon presentation of the coupon therefor, until the whole is paid, with accrued interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum.

The interest is payable annually on the first day of July in each year hereafter upon presentation of the coupons therefor, the first of which is for the interest from date to the first day of July, 19____, and thereafter the interest coupons are for the annual interest.

Should default be made in the first, or any succeeding payment of the principal, or in any payment of interest, by the owner of said lot, or anyone in his behalf, the holder of this bond is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable, and shall thereupon have a right to collect the same and to enforce all liens and agreements which are security therefor as in said act provided.

At said city of _____, this _____ day of _____, in the year one thousand nine hundred and _____.

City treasurer of the city of _____.

Said bonds shall be payable to the bearer and no mistake or error in the description in the bond of the lot assessed shall affect the validity or lien of the bond, unless the mistake or error is such that the lot can not be identified, and in such event the holder of such bond may have the same corrected upon application to the city treasurer and the officers or board who or which made the assessment to represent which such bond is issued.

Record of bond
and payments.

SEC. 5. The city treasurer shall enter in a book kept for that purpose in his office, a record of each bond issued hereunder, specifying the date of its issue, the amount for which issued, to whom delivered, its duration and a description of the lot against which issued. Payments of principal and interest on account of any bond issued hereunder shall be made to the city treasurer who shall keep a separate account of all such payments (entering the same in the record herein required to be kept), and place the same in appropriate funds for the payment of principal and interest of the bonds on account of which paid, and who shall, upon the surrender of the coupons attached to said bond, pay to the holder thereof, or his order, the amount called for by said coupons out of the funds in his possession applicable thereto.

SEC. 6. Improvement bonds issued hereunder shall by their issuance be conclusive evidence of the regularity and validity of all proceedings thereto. The amount due upon any such bond shall be a lien upon the lot described in such bond superior to all other liens, charges, and encumbrances except the liens or prior assessments and of municipal, state and county taxes.

Bonds

of validity
of proceedings.

SEC. 7. Improvement bonds or any number of such bonds, issued hereunder, except as otherwise provided in section nine hereof, shall be sold to the highest cash bidder, after advertisement for bids, which advertisement shall be published for at least three times in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or if there be no such daily newspaper, then such advertisement shall be published once in a weekly or semiweekly newspaper so published and circulated; provided, however, that said bonds shall not be sold for less than par. If any bond be sold for an amount in excess of par such excess shall be paid into the general fund of the city.

Sale of bonds to highest bidder.

SEC. 8. The proceeds of the sale of such improvement bonds shall be paid into the fund of the proceeding to represent assessments in which said bonds were issued.

Payment of proceeds.

SEC. 9. It shall be competent for the city to advance to the appropriate fund the par value of all or any part of said bonds, in which case said city shall have the same rights in respect to the enforcement and collection thereof as other purchasers. Where the city advances money as in this section provided it shall have full authority at any time to sell said bonds to reimburse itself therefor.

Advance of
funds.

SEC. 10. Whenever, through the default of the owner of any lot or parcel of land upon which such bond is issued to represent the assessment, payment, either of the principal or of the interest, is not made when the same has become due, and the holder of the bond thereupon demands, in writing, that the city treasurer proceed to advertise and sell said lot or parcel of land as herein provided, then the whole bond or its unpaid remainder, with its accrued interest, as expressed in said bond, shall become due and payable immediately, and on the day following shall become delinquent.

If payment is not made.

SEC. 11. Upon the application of the holder of any bond that is now or shall hereafter become delinquent as hereinbefore provided, the said city treasurer shall publish twice in a newspaper of general circulation, to be designated by him, published in the city where his office is situated, a notice which must contain the date, number, and series of the delinquent

property.

bond, a description of the property mentioned in said bond, and the name of the owner of such property (if known), and if unknown, the fact shall be so stated, the amount due thereon, and a statement that unless the amount of said bond and the interest due thereon, together with the cost of publication of such notice are paid, the real property described in said bond will be sold at public auction on a day to be therein fixed, which shall not be less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the day of the first publication of said notice, and the place of such sale, which must be the office of the said city treasurer. A like notice shall not less than fifteen days before the day of sale so fixed be served upon any such owner if known either personally or by depositing the same in the post office at such city addressed to such owner at his address if known with the postage thereon prepaid.

Payment before sale.

At any time prior to the sale, the owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale under the provisions of this act may pay the whole amount of said bond then due, with costs, and such bond shall thereupon be canceled; but in case such payment is not made by such owner or person in possession, or by some one in behalf of such owner, or person in possession, the property subject thereto shall be sold at public auction to the bidder offering to pay the amount due on the bond with costs for the least portion of such lot or parcel of land offered for sale.

Affidavit of publication.

SEC. 12. The city treasurer, before the day of sale hereinafter provided for, must file with the city clerk a copy of the publication, with an affidavit of the publisher of such newspaper, or some one in his behalf, attached thereto, that it is a true copy of the same; that the publication was made in a newspaper, stating its name and place of publication and the date of each appearance in which such publication was made, which affidavit is prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein.

Cost of publication.

SEC. 13. The city treasurer must collect, in addition to the amount due on such bond, the cost of the publication of such notice, and fifty cents for the certificate of sale delivered to the purchaser as hereinafter provided.

Record of treasurer.

SEC. 14. The city treasurer, before delivering any certificate of sale must, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, enter the date, number and series of the bond, a description of the land sold corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of sale, purchaser's name, the amount paid, regularly number the descriptions on the margin of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection during office hours when not in actual use, and he shall enter on the record of the bond the words "canceled by sale of the property," giving the date of such sale.

Purchaser's lien.

SEC. 15. Immediately on the sale, the purchaser shall become vested with a lien on the property so sold to him, to the extent of his bid, and is only divested of such lien by the payment to the city treasurer of the purchase money, including costs herein provided for, with interest thereon at the rate of one per cent per month from the date of sale.

SEC. 16. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner of the property, or any party in interest, within twelve months from the date of purchase, or at any time prior to the application for a deed, as hereinafter provided. Redemption must be made in lawful money of the United States, and when made to the city treasurer he must credit the amount paid to the person named in his certificate, and pay it on demand to him or his assignees. Redemption.

SEC. 17. On receiving the certificate of sale, the recorder must file it, and make an entry in a book similar to that required of the city treasurer, the fee for which shall be fifty cents, and on presentation of the receipt of the city treasurer for the total amount of the redemption money, the recorder must, without charge, mark the word "redeemed," the date, and by whom redeemed, on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made. Record of recorder.

SEC. 18. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by the provisions of section sixteen hereof for its redemption, the city treasurer, or his successor in office, upon application of the purchaser, or his assignee, must make to said purchaser, or his assignee, a deed to the property, reciting in the deed substantially, the matter contained in the certificate and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption; the treasurer shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser two dollars for making said deed, which shall be deposited in the city treasury for the use of the city after payment has been made therefrom for the acknowledgment of said deed; provided, however, that the purchaser of the property, or his assignee, or agent, must, thirty days prior to the expiration of the time of the redemption, of thirty days before his application for a deed, serve upon the owner or agent of the property purchased, if named in such certificate of sale, and upon the party occupying the property, if the property is occupied, a written notice, stating that said property, or a portion thereof, has been sold to satisfy the bond lien, the date of sale, the date, number, and series of the bond, the amount then due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire, or when the purchaser will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely, until such notice shall have been given and said deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties, and costs in this act required. In case of unoccupied property, a similar notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property at least thirty days before the purchaser applies for a deed; and no deed to the property sold, in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be issued by the city treasurer to the purchaser of such property, until such purchaser shall have filed with such treasurer an affidavit showing that the notice hereinbefore Deed to property.

required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavit shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as other records kept by him in his office. Such purchaser shall be entitled to receive the sum of fifty cents for his service of such notice and the making of such affidavit, which sum of fifty cents shall be paid by the redemptioner at the time and in the same manner as the other sums, costs and fees are paid.

16b. To regulate the exhibition, posting or carrying of banners, placards, posters, cards, pictures, signs or advertisements in or on the street, or on or upon buildings, fences, billboards or other structures; or on or upon any pole in any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park or other public place; to regulate the suspension of banners, flags, signs, advertisements, posters, pictures, or cards across or over any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park, or other public place, or such suspension from fences, poles, houses, or other structures; to prohibit and prevent encroachments upon or obstruction in or to any sidewalk, street, alley, lane, court, park or other public place, and to provide for the removal of such encroachment or obstruction.

Compel removal of dirt, weeds,
etc.

16c. To compel the owner, lessee or occupant of buildings, grounds, or lots to remove dirt, rubbish, weeds and rank growths from the sidewalk opposite thereto, and from the buildings or grounds, and on his default, after such notice as the board of trustees may prescribe, to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city at the expense of such owner, lessee or occupant, and by such procedure as the board of trustees may prescribe, to make such expense a lien upon such buildings or grounds.

17. To issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses, or the production of books or other documents, for the purpose of producing evidence or testimony in any action or proceeding pending before the board of trustees, which subpoenas must be signed by the president of the board of trustees, and attested by the city clerk and may be served in the same manner as subpoenas are served in civil actions. Whenever any person duly subpoenaed to appear and give evidence, or to produce any books or any documents as herein provided, shall neglect or refuse to appear, or to produce such books or documents, as required by such subpoena, or shall refuse to testify before such board, or to answer any questions which a majority thereof shall decide to be proper and pertinent, it shall be the duty of the president of the board to report the fact to the judge of the superior court of the county, who shall thereupon issue an attachment in the form usual in the court of which he shall be judge, directed to the sheriff of the county where such witness was required to appear and testify, commanding the said sheriff to attach such person, and forthwith bring him before the judge by whose order such attachment was issued. On the return of the attachment and the production of the body of the defendant, the said judge shall have jurisdiction of the matter, and the person charged may purge himself of the contempt in the same way, and the same proceedings shall be had, and the same penalties may be imposed, and the same punishment inflicted as in the case of a witness subpoenaed to appear and give evidence on the trial of a civil cause before a superior court.

18. To expend such sum as the board of trustees shall deem proper, not to exceed five per cent of the property tax levy in any one fiscal year, for music and promotion.

19. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act.

An act to amend section three thousand eight hundred seventeen of the Political Code, relating to redemptions of lands sold to the State of California for delinquent taxes.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand eight hundred seventeen of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Redemption of property
sold for taxes.

3817. In all cases where real estate has been sold, or may hereafter be sold for delinquent taxes to the state, and the state has not disposed of the same, the person whose estate has been, or may hereafter be sold, his heirs, executors, administrators, or other successors in interest, shall, at any time after the same has been sold to the state, and before the state shall have disposed of the same, have the right to redeem such real estate by paying to the county treasurer of the county wherein the real estate may be situated, the amount of taxes, penalties and costs due thereon at the time of said sale, with interest on the aggregate amount of said taxes, at the rate of seven per cent per annum; and also all taxes that were a lien upon said real estate at the time said taxes became delinquent; and also all unpaid taxes of every description assessed against the property for each year since the sale; or, if not so assessed, then upon the value of the property as assessed in the year nearest the time of such redemption, with interest from the first day of July of each of said years, respectively, at the same rate, to the time of redemption; and also all costs and expenses of such redemption, and penalties as follows, to wit: Ten per cent if redeemed within six months from July first of the year of sale; twenty per cent if redeemed within one year therefrom; thirty per cent if redeemed within two years payable.

therefrom; forty per cent if redeemed within three years therefrom; forty-five per cent if redeemed within four years therefrom; and fifty per cent if redeemed within five or any greater number of years therefrom. The penalty shall be computed upon the amount of each year's taxes in like manner, reckoning from July first of the year when the lands would have been sold for the taxes of that year, if there had been no previous sales thereof.

The county auditor shall, on the application of the person desiring to redeem, make an estimate of the amount to be paid, and shall give him triplicate certificates of the amount, specifying the several amounts thereof, which certificates the redemptioner shall deliver to the county treasurer, together with the money, and the county treasurer shall give triplicate receipts, written or indorsed upon said certificates, one to the redemptioner, and two to the county auditor, who shall deliver one of the said receipts to the state controller.

Estimate
by county
auditor.

Upon consummation of the redemption and the delivery of the receipts aforesaid by the treasurer, the auditor shall report the same to the assessor, tax collector and recorder, and the recorder shall, without payment of fee, note on the margin of the record of the certificate of sale, or deed, if issued, the fact of such redemption, the date thereof, and by whom redeemed, which certificate of sale, or deed, shall become null and void, and all right, title and interest acquired by virtue of the tax sale, shall cease and determine.

When state's title ceases.

The county treasurer shall settle for the moneys received as for other state and county moneys.

The state controller shall, upon request of the auditor, issue a receipt which may be recorded in the recorder's office of the county in which said real estate is situated, in the book of deeds, and the record thereof shall have the same effect as that of a deed of reconveyance of the interest conveyed by such deed or certificate of sale.

State
controller's receipt.

This act shall also apply to state lauds sold by the state when the full amount of the purchase price has not been paid to the state therefor, after the deed to the state, provided for in section three thousand seven hundred eighty-five has been filed with the surveyor general; provided, however, that one of the receipts showing the redemption of such land shall be delivered to the surveyor general who shall issue his receipt to the redemptioner; and provided, further, that no certificates of redemption shall be issued by the county auditor until he has first ascertained from the surveyor general that the land has not been disposed of by the state.

Application.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of two thousand five hundred dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used in accordance with law for the purchase of furniture and equipment in the office of the secretary of state.

Appropriation: Furniture, secretary of state's office.

CHAPTER 421.

An act to provide for the accomplishment of the work of the direct improvement of the navigation of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers of the State of California, by controlling the floods, removing the debris and continuing the improvement of the Sacramento river, California, in accordance with the plans of the California debris commission contained in the report of said commission submitted August 10, 1910, and transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, and printed in house of representatives document number eighty-one of the first session of the sixty-second United States congress, as modified by the report of said commission submitted February 8, 1913, approved by the chief of engineers of the United States army and the board of engineers for rivers and harbors and printed in rivers and harbors committee document number five, sixty-third United States congress, first session, in so far as said plan provides for the rectification and enlargement of river channels and the construction of weirs; and making an appropriation for such work; and providing for the continuance of such work as provided by section two of an act of the congress of the United States entitled "An act to provide for the control of the floods of the Mississippi river and of the Sacramento river, California, and for other purposes," approved March 1, 1917.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
flood control, Sacramento river.

SECTION 1. The sum of five hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which shall be available July 1, 1921, for controlling the floods, removing the debris and continuing the improvement of the Sacramento river, California, in accordance with the plans of the California debris commission contained in the report of said commission submitted August 10, 1910, and transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, and printed in house of representatives document number eighty-one of the first session of the sixty-second United States congress, as modified by the report of said commission submitted February 8, 1913, approved by the chief of engineers of the United States army and the board of engineers for rivers and harbors and printed in rivers and harbors committee document number five, sixty-third United States congress, first session, in so far as said plan provides for the rectification and enlargement of river channels and the construction of weirs.

SEC 2. The appropriation made by section one of this act is made in compliance with the provisions of section two of that certain act of congress of the United States entitled "An act to provide for the control of the floods of the Mississippi river and of the Sacramento river, California, and for other purposes," approved March 1, 1917, and shall be paid to the treasurer of the United States whenever a like sum of five hundred thousand dollars shall have been appropriated or authorized to be appropriated by the congress of the United States, conditional on the payment of an equal amount by the State of California, for the prosecution of said work pursuant to section two of said act of congress. ^{Purpose of act}

SEC. 3. The money hereby appropriated, when paid to the treasurer of the United States, shall be expended under the direction of the California debris commission and in such manner as it may require or approve, and as provided in section two of said act of congress; and none of the money so appropriated shall be expended in the purchase of or payment for any right of way, easement or land acquired for the purposes of said improvement. ^{Expenditure by California debris commission.}

SEC. 4. The controller of the State of California is hereby authorized and directed, upon request of the governor, to draw his warrant or warrants on the state treasury in favor of the treasurer of the United States for the amount hereby appropriated, and the state controller is hereby directed to pay the same. ^{Warrants in favor of U. S. treasurer.}

SEC. 5. If the congress of the United States shall not appropriate the full sum of five hundred thousand dollars for the prosecution of said work in accordance with section two of said act of congress, as hereinbefore referred to, but shall appropriate a less sum or sums from time to time for said purpose, then the said sum hereby appropriated shall become available and be paid over to the treasurer of the United States, for said purpose as hereinbefore provided, in such sum or sums from time to time as may equal the sum or sums so appropriated or authorized to be appropriated by congress. ^{Sums appropriated by U. S.}

CHAPTER 422.

An act appropriating money to be used for the support and maintenance of the division of public health nurses by the state board of health.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used in accordance with law during the seventy-third ^{Appropriation: division of public health nurses.}

and seventy-fourth fiscal years for support and maintenance of the division of public health nurses by the state board of health.

CHAPTER 423.

An act making an appropriation to carry out the purposes of an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of a bureau of tuberculosis under the direction of the state board of health; defining its powers and duties; providing for the granting of state aid to cities, counties, cities and counties and groups of counties for the support and care of persons afflicted with tuberculosis; making an appropriation therefor, and repealing certain acts of the legislature of the State of California" and amendatory acts thereto.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
bureau of tuberculosis.

SECTION 1. The sum of six hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated in addition to any amounts heretofore appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be expended by the state board of health in carrying out the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of a bureau of tuberculosis under the direction of the state board of health; defining its powers and duties; providing for the granting of state aid to cities, counties, cities and counties and groups of counties for the support and care of persons afflicted with tuberculosis; making an appropriation therefor, and repealing certain acts of the legislature of the State of California"; provided, however, that not more than sixty thousand dollars shall be available for the purposes of said act other than the state aid herein provided.

All claims against this appropriation shall be submitted for approval and audit to the state board of control and shall be paid in accordance with law; provided, that there may be withdrawn from such appropriation with the permission of the state board of control and without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars, which sum so drawn shall be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary upon the demand of the board of control at any time, and must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and the controller.

SEC. 2. The money appropriated by section one of this act shall be available for expenses incurred from and after the first day of July, 1921.

CHAPTER 424.

An act to add a new chapter to title nine of part three of the Political Code, to be numbered chapter nine thereof, embracing sections three thousand eight hundred thirty-nine to three thousand eight hundred fifty-six, both inclusive, providing for the levy and collection of poll taxes pursuant to the provisions of section twelve of article thirteen of the state constitution as adopted November 2, 1920.

[Approved May 25, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Political Code is hereby amended by adding a new chapter to title nine of part three thereof, to be numbered chapter nine, embracing sections three thousand eight hundred thirty-nine to three thousand eight hundred fifty-five, and to read as follows:

Chapter IX.

3839. Every alien male inhabitant of this state over twenty-one years of age and under sixty years of age, except paupers, idiots and insane persons, must annually pay a poll tax of ten dollars, as hereinafter provided. In the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one A. D. such poll tax shall become due and payable on the first day of August and shall become delinquent if not paid on or prior to the thirty-first day of December of said year, whereupon there shall be added thereto a penalty of fifty per cent for such delinquency. In all succeeding years such poll tax shall become due and payable on the first Monday in March and shall become delinquent if not paid on or prior to the thirty-first day of July next ensuing, whereupon there shall be added thereto a penalty of fifty per cent for such delinquency. In the event such poll tax and penalty be not paid on or prior to the thirty-first day of December of the year in which levied, the whole amount thereof, tax and penalty, shall thereafter bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually in advance on the first day of January for the ensuing year and no remission thereof shall be made for any part of the year during which such delinquent tax, penalty and accrued interest may be collected. ^{Alien poll tax.}

3840. It shall be the duty of every person liable to pay such poll tax to register, annually, as hereinafter provided, in the county, or city and county, wherein he may reside; provided, that if he be employed and temporarily domiciled in a different county during the time prescribed for registration he may register in the county of his employment. In conjunction with such registration, such aliens shall in all cases give, under oath, the following data: ^{Registration of aliens.}

1. Name in full.

2. Place of nativity, naming country, and province or state, city or town where born.

3. Age.

4. Height.

5. Weight.

6. Color of eyes and hair.

7. Visible marks or scars.

8. Place of residence, giving, in cities, name and number of street, including number of room if in a hotel or lodging house; in rural districts the name, distance and direction of the nearest town, and name of school district.

9. Place of business or employment, giving exact location as before, and, if permanently employed, the name, address and business occupation of his employer.

10. Length of time in California.

11. Has application for naturalization been made?

12. If so, when and in what court?

13. Number and ages of minor sons, if any, residing in California.

14. Place or places of residence of such minor sons, if not residing with the person registered.

Time for registration.

In the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one A. D. the registration of persons liable to such poll tax shall begin ten days after the taking effect of this act and shall be completed on or before the thirty-first day of July. In all subsequent years such registration shall begin on the first business day following the first day of January and shall be completed on or before the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March of such year.

Registration
by county clerk or registrar of voters.

3841. Subject to the provisions of this chapter, such registration shall be conducted under the direction and control of the county clerk, or registrar of voters, in each county, or city and county. Except as otherwise provided herein, each school district within the county, or city and county, shall constitute a territorial unit for the purposes of such registration and each alien subject to the payment of such poll tax shall be required to register within the school district wherein he resides, or wherein he may be employed and temporarily domiciled during the period of registration; provided, however, that in school districts composed of cities, or cities and counties, which comprise two or more assembly districts contained wholly or in part within the territorial limits of such city, or city and county, each such alien residing or employed and temporarily domiciled within such city, or city and county, may be required to register within the assembly district wherein he may reside or be so domiciled, and it shall be the duty of the county clerk, or registrar of voters, to keep an accurate record of the aliens so registered in each of such assembly districts.

Temporary
registration
clerks.

In addition to the number of deputies and clerks now allowed by law, each county clerk, or registrar of voters, is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint such number of temporary registration clerks as he may deem necessary to complete the registration of such aliens within the time limited by the provisions of section three thousand eight hundred forty hereof, and it shall be the duty of each county clerk, or registrar of voters, to appoint at least one such temporary registration clerk within each school district in the county. Before entering upon the duties of such employment, each of such temporary registration clerks shall file in the office of the county clerk, or registrar of voters, his written oath faithfully to perform the duties of such employment. Each of such temporary registration clerks is hereby authorized and empowered to administer oaths to each alien by him registered and to attest with his signature the affidavit required by the provisions of section three thousand eight hundred forty hereof. Each of such temporary registration clerks shall receive in full compensation for all services by him rendered hereunder, a fee of ten cents for each alien so registered, which he shall be entitled to keep for his own sole use and benefit, and the payment of such fee shall not be held, deemed or construed to be an increase in the compensation of the county clerk or registrar of voters by whom he was appointed, and no county clerk or registrar of voters shall be required to pay any part of any such fee into the treasury of the county, anything in any statute to the contrary notwithstanding; provided, that no person who is regularly employed and paid a salary by the county shall be eligible for appointment as such temporary registration clerk; and provided, further, that no fees shall be charged or collected for the registration of any alien who may register at the office of the county clerk, or registrar of voters, in any county, or city and county, of this state. The provisions hereof shall not be deemed to prohibit the appointment of school trustees or of school teachers as such temporary registration clerks. The fees hereby allowed to such temporary registration clerks shall be a charge upon and shall be payable from the unapportioned county school fund of the county, or city and county, wherein the service is rendered, and shall become due and payable immediately upon the close of the period of registration in each year; provided, no payment shall be made to any such temporary registration clerk until the county clerk, or registrar of voters, and the assessor of such county, or city and county, shall each certify, in writing, to the auditor thereof that such temporary registration clerk has delivered to the county clerk or registrar of voters all original affidavits of registration subscribed and sworn to before him and the duplicates thereof to the assessor; provided, further, that the auditor shall certify to the superintendent of schools of the county the amounts of such claims and in whose favor. The superintendent of schools of the county shall draw a requisition on the auditor in favor of the claimants against the unapportioned county school fund

tion.

the auditor shall draw his warrant against such fund and the treasurer shall pay the same.

Duplicate
registratun.

The registration of each such alien shall be made in duplicate. The affidavit of registration marked "original" shall be returned to and filed with the county clerk, or registrar of voters; the one marked "duplicate" shall be returned to and filed with the assessor of the county, or city and county. All such affidavits must, in every case, be so returned and filed within three days following the close of the period of registration. The foregoing provision is mandatory and not directory. Every temporary registration clerk who shall fail, neglect, or refuse so to return and file such affidavits shall be subject to a penalty of ten dollars per day for each and every day in excess of three days following the close of registration during which such affidavits are not returned and filed as herein provided, such penalty, in every case, to be deducted from the compensation which would otherwise be due and payable to such temporary registration clerk, unless the penalty be greater than the sum earned, in which event the excess penalty shall be remitted, and the delinquent temporary registration clerk shall receive no compensation.

Alien to sign affidavits.

All aliens required to register by the provisions of this chapter who are able to write their names in English script must so sign the affidavits of registration, in duplicate. Those who can not write English script shall sign such affidavits in the script or characters of their native language, and the person by whom such alien is registered shall write the English equivalent immediately below such signature. If such alien be unable to write he shall be required to make an imprint of the ball of his right thumb in the space provided for his signature, after pressing his thumb upon a pad lightly saturated with fast black ink to be supplied for that purpose to each temporary registration clerk by the county clerk, or registrar of voters, by whom he was appointed. If the right thumb of such alien be missing, the left thumb may be so impressed, and a notation of such fact shall be made upon the affidavit of registration, at the time, by the person attesting the same.

Certificate
registration.

Each person by whom any such alien is registered shall, at the time of registration, issue to such alien a certificate of registration, which shall be printed upon strong, durable paper, showing the county and date of registration, the name of the person by whom registered, the apparent age, the occupation, and the nativity, height, weight, and color of eyes and hair of the person registered. Such certificate shall also contain an appropriate space for the signature of the person registered, who shall be required to sign such certificate in the same manner that his affidavit of registration is signed and in the presence of the person by whom he was registered. It shall be the duty of each alien so registered to keep such certificate of registration in his immediate personal possession at all times and to exhibit the same, upon demand, to any assessor, deputy assessor or peace officer within this state, whether within the county of registration or not. Any inability, failure or refusal so to exhibit such certificate of registration for inspection after the period of registration is closed for the current year shall be prima facie evidence of the failure of such alien to register as herein provided and shall be sufficient cause for the immediate arrest, without warrant, and the detention of such alien; provided, that any alien who may enter the state to reside or to procure employment after the period of registration is closed must register in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters of some county, or city and county, in this state within three days after entering the state; and provided, further, that any such alien who may so enter the state subsequent to the thirty-first day of July in any year shall be required to pay only the poll tax herein prescribed, without the penalty for delinquency, for such year, such payment to be made at the time of registration. A notation of the remission of such penalty and the reason therefor shall be entered upon the records of such county clerk, or registrar of voters, and upon those of the assessor, auditor and treasurer of such county, or city and county.

The county clerk, or registrar of voters, and the assessor with whom such affidavits of registration are filed must examine the same without delay, and whenever it shall appear therefrom that any person registered within the county, or city and county, was temporarily employed and domiciled therein at the time of registration but resides in some other county, they shall, respectively, at once transmit to the county clerk, or registrar of voters, and to the assessor of such other county, or city and county, a true copy of the affidavit of registration of such person.

Aliens temporarily in county.

3842. Prior to the fifteenth day of July, A. D. one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, and prior to the fifteenth day of February annually thereafter, the treasurer of each county, or city and county, shall procure such number of ten dollar poll tax receipts as may be reasonably adequate to supply the requirements of his county, as determined by the county superintendent of schools, county assessor and county clerk of such county. Such receipts shall be bound together in books or pads of twenty-five each, and shall be attached by a perforated line to a stub. Each receipt and the corresponding stub shall bear the same number. Prior to the fifteenth day of July, A. D. one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, and annually thereafter, the county treasurer shall similarly procure such number of fifteen dollar poll tax receipts as may be reasonably adequate to supply the requirements of his county, to be determined as aforesaid. All such poll tax receipts shall contain appropriate spaces for the insertion of the name, nativity, age, place of residence, or of employment, height, weight, color of hair and color of eyes of the person to whom issued, and shall be signed with ink or indelible pencil by the person issuing the same.

Receipt books procured by treasurer.

The corresponding stub shall contain appropriate spaces wherein there shall be entered the name, occupation, place of residence or employment, age and nativity of the person to whom issued, and the name of the person by whom issued.

Delivery of receipt books to auditor.

3843. The treasurer must, prior to the thirty-first day of July, A. D. one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, and prior to the third Monday in February annually thereafter, sign the ten dollar receipts and enter the number and aggregate amount thereof in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. He shall thereupon deliver all such receipts to the auditor and charge him therewith. Prior to the thirty-first day of July, A. D. one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, and annually thereafter, he shall similarly sign the fifteen dollar receipts, and enter in his records the number and aggregate amount thereof, as before. He shall thereupon deliver such receipts to the auditor and charge him with the number and amount thereof, as before.

receipt books to assessor.

3844. Upon the delivery of the foregoing receipts to him, the auditor shall, in each instance, sign the same and enter the number and aggregate amount thereof in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. He shall, thereafter, and at the times fixed by the provisions of this chapter, deliver them to the assessor, in their respective orders, and shall, in all cases, charge the assessor with the aggregate number and amount of all receipts so delivered to the latter.

Collection of poll tax
by assessor.

3845. It shall be the duty of the assessor of each county, or city and county, in this state to collect the poll taxes and the penalties for delinquency and the interest imposed by the provisions of this chapter. To assist him in the performance of this duty, each assessor is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint in addition to the number now allowed by law, in the years one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and one thousand nine hundred twenty-two A. D. one field deputy for every one thousand aliens residing within such county, or city and county, as shown by the returns of the United States census of one thousand nine hundred twenty, and thereafter one field deputy for every one thousand aliens from whom such poll taxes and penalties were collected within such county during the preceding calendar year; provided, however, that in the event the number of such aliens in any county, or city and county, shall exceed five thousand, but one additional field deputy for each two thousand of such number in excess of five thousand shall be appointed. Such additional field deputies shall serve not to exceed ninety working days in any year, and in no event shall their employment begin prior to the first Monday in March or continue later than the thirty-first day of July in any year subsequent to the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, A. D.; provided, however, that whenever it shall appear that all aliens shown by the registration records to reside within the county, or city and county, or to be employed and temporarily domiciled therein, who are liable to the poll tax imposed by the provisions hereof have paid the same, the employment of such additional field deputies shall cease immediately; and, provided, further, that so soon after the first day of August in the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, A. D. and succeeding years as the assessor can ascertain from the records of known registrations and payments the number of such aliens registered within the county who have failed to pay such poll tax he shall have power and he is hereby authorized to appoint one additional field deputy for each five hundred of such delinquent aliens, to serve not to exceed thirty days, and in no event later than the first Monday in December next following. In the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one A. D. the additional field deputies authorized by the provisions of this section shall not be appointed prior to the first day of August, nor shall their employment be continued later than the thirty-first day of December in such year.

The additional field deputies authorized by the provisions of this section shall be paid at the rate of six dollars per day for such time as they actually may be employed at the county seat or within the limits of any incorporated city or town. During such time as they may be employed in rural districts they shall be paid at the rate of seven dollars per day, but shall receive no allowance for mileage, meals, hotels or other traveling expenses of any kind, or for the rental or use of any automobile or other vehicle used in the performance of such duties.

Subject to the limitation that in no event shall the total cost of collecting such poll taxes, penalties and interest exceed twelve per centum of the amount collected, the compensation of all additional field deputies employed hereunder shall be paid, at the foregoing rates, out of the sums so collected, and the assessor is hereby authorized and directed to pay such compensation to such additional field deputies, monthly, at the same time the salaries of other county officers are paid. The aggregate of the sums so paid shall be deducted from the total collections of the preceding month, at each settlement with the auditor and treasurer provided for in sections three thousand eight hundred fifty and three thousand eight hundred fifty-one hereof, and the latter shall, respectively, credit the assessor with the amounts so paid, not, however, exceeding, in any event, twelve per centum of the gross collections.

Nothing in this section contained shall be held, deemed or construed to increase the salary or compensation of any assessor now holding office in any county, or city and county, of this state, it being hereby declared that the foregoing authorization for the employment and compensation of such additional field deputies is directly due to the adoption of the amendment adding section thirteen to article twelve of the constitution of this state, whereby there are imposed upon such assessors new and exacting duties which were not foreseen or provided for at the time of their election or appointment, and for the proper discharge of which their respective existing forces of deputies, clerks and assistants are hereby determined and declared to be insufficient.

Sale of personal property on failure to pay tax.

3846. The assessor must demand the payment of the foregoing poll taxes, penalties and interest from every person liable therefor, and upon the failure, neglect or refusal of such person to pay the same, he must collect the amount thereof by the seizure and sale of any personal property owned by such person. Such sale may be made after three hours verbal notice of the time and place thereof, and the provisions of sections three thousand seven hundred ninety-one, three thousand seven hundred ninety-three, three thousand seven hundred ninety-four, three thousand seven hundred ninety-five, and three thousand seven hundred ninety-six of this code shall apply to all such seizures and sales.

Garnishment of debts and wages.

3847. In the event any person subject to the poll tax hereby levied shall fail, neglect, or refuse to pay the same prior to the date fixed for the delinquency thereof, the happening of such delinquency shall, ipso facto, render all debts owing to such delinquent, including wages due or to become due for personal service, subject to garnishment and seizure in payment of such taxes and penalties, together with any interest which may have accrued thereon.

Notice of delinquency to employers.

Immediately following the thirty-first day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one A. D. and the thirty-first day of July in all succeeding years the assessor must examine the duplicate affidavits of registration on file in his office and ascertain therefrom the identity, business occupation and address of the employer, if any, of each person registered in the county, or city and county, who has failed, neglected or refused to pay such poll tax. He shall thereupon cause to be served upon each such employer, or upon the local agent or representative of such employer, if the employer be a non-resident of the county, or the city and county, a written notice of such delinquency, together with a demand that such employer withhold from any moneys in his possession, then due or thereafter to become due to such delinquent alien, whether for personal services or otherwise, a sum sufficient to pay in full all such delinquent tax and penalties, together with any interest which may have accrued thereon, and a further demand that the amount so withheld be delivered to the assessor in payment of such tax, penalty and interest, if any. Such notice shall state the name, age, nativity and particular place of employment of such delinquent alien, and the amount of the tax, penalties, and interest, if any, due.

Employer to withhold amount.

Upon receipt of such notice it shall be the duty of every employer to withhold from any moneys then due or which may thereafter become due to such employee a sum sufficient to pay such delinquent tax and penalties in full, with the interest thereon, if any, and to pay the amount so withheld to the assessor, taking therefor a receipt, in the name of such employee, for the amount so paid, which he shall deliver to the delinquent employee, in lieu of an equal amount of cash at the time of his next payment of wages to such employee; provided, that before any employer so pays to the assessor any wages due to an employee he shall notify the employee of his intent so to do and afford the latter a reasonable opportunity, not exceeding three days, to produce a receipt for the tax alleged to be delinquent; and, provided, further, that such notice need not be given if the employee deserts his employment or secretes himself to avoid such notice.

The assessor may serve a similar notice and demand upon any debtor of any person liable to pay such poll tax and penalty, and it shall be the duty of the debtor so served to withhold from his creditor the amount specified in such notice and demand, and to pay the amount so withheld to the assessor; provided, such creditor be first notified of such intent and afforded a reasonable opportunity to produce a receipt for the tax alleged to be delinquent. Any debtor so paying any tax, penalty or interest for another shall take from the assessor a receipt therefor, in the name of the person liable, and may deliver such receipt to such creditor in lieu of an equal amount of cash.

In all cases wherein such delinquent alien may be performing work under any contract, whereby his wages are paid by any contractor or subcontractor, and not by the person for whom, or upon whose property, such work is done, the contractor, or subcontractor, by whom such wages are paid shall be held and deemed to be the employer of such delinquent alien for the purposes of this chapter, and such notice shall be served upon the contractor, or subcontractor, and not upon the person for whom, or upon whose property, such work is being done.

3848. The receipt is the only evidence of the payment of such poll taxes. It shall be the duty of every person to whom such receipt is issued to retain the same in his immediate personal possession at all times, and to exhibit the same, upon demand, to any assessor, deputy assessor or peace officer in this state. It shall also be the duty of any such person to exhibit to his employer or to his creditor at the request of either, the receipt for any poll tax or penalty which has been actually paid which is alleged to be unpaid by the terms of any notice served by the assessor upon such employer or creditor as provided herein, and any person who fails so to exhibit any such receipt, within three days after such request, shall have no recourse against such employer or creditor for any money paid by either to the assessor by whom such notice was served.

3849. On or before the third Monday of October in each year subsequent to the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one A. D., the assessor shall certify to the tax collector the name of every person appearing upon the current assessment roll of the county who, being liable thereto, has failed, neglected or refused to pay any poll tax or penalty, imposed by the provisions of this chapter, whereupon it shall be the duty of the tax collector to note the fact of such delinquency upon his rolls and to collect all such taxes and penalties at the same time with the first installment of the taxes assessed against any property of such delinquent for the current year. The assessor shall deliver to the tax collector such number of fifteen dollar poll tax receipts as may be necessary to enable the tax collector to issue proper receipts for the poll taxes and penalties collected by him. The latter shall give his receipt therefor, in duplicate, to the assessor, who shall deliver one of such receipts to the auditor, who, in turn, shall charge the tax collector with the aggregate amount of the poll tax receipts so delivered to him.

Monthly settlement
by assessor.

3850. On the first Monday in each month the assessor must make oath, before the auditor, of the total amount of poll taxes and penalties thereon collected by him during the last preceding month, and must, at the same time, settle with the auditor for the same, and pay to the county treasurer the total amount of such poll taxes and penalties so collected, less the deduction authorized by section three thousand eight hundred forty-five thereof.

Yearly settlement
by assessor.

3851. On the first Monday in January, A. D., one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, and thereafter on the first Monday in August of each year, commencing with August in the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-two A. D., the assessor must return to the auditor all ten dollar poll tax receipts received by him and not used. He shall, at the same time, pay to the treasurer the total amount collected and not previously paid in, less the deduction authorized by section three thousand eight hundred forty-four hereof. The auditor shall thereupon deliver to the assessor the fifteen dollar poll tax receipts. On the last Monday in December in each year subsequent to one thousand nine hundred twenty-one A. D., the assessor must return to the auditor all of such fifteen dollar poll tax receipts received by him and not used and must make settlement with the auditor and treasurer therefor. The auditor must, so soon as the settlement is made, return to the treasurer the receipts not used. The treasurer must credit the auditor with the receipts so returned, and must thereupon seal them up securely and deposit and keep them in his office.

Correction of error.

3852. Whenever the name of a person not liable for poll tax is erroneously entered upon said poll tax roll, or whenever the assessor has failed to note the payment of poll tax lawfully assessed, if paid, the board of supervisors may, upon proof thereof, order the necessary correction to be made on the poll tax roll and the assessment roll whereon the same may appear.

Payment of proceeds to school
fund.

3853. The proceeds of all poll taxes, penalties, and interest collected under the provisions of this chapter, less only the deductions authorized by section three thousand eight hundred forty-five hereof, shall be paid into the unapportioned county school fund of the county, or city and county, wherein the collection thereof occurred.

3854. The forms of registration affidavits, certificates of registration, poll tax receipts, notices of garnishment and other forms or papers required by the provisions of this chapter shall be uniform throughout the state and shall be prepared by the attorney general. All bills for printing such forms shall be a charge upon and shall be payable from the unapportioned county school fund of the county, or city and county, for which such work is done, and it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to file with the superintendent of schools of the county an approved bill in which he shall give an itemized cost of such printing. The superintendent shall draw a requisition on the auditor in favor of the claimants against the unapportioned county school fund, the auditor shall draw his warrant against such fund and the treasurer shall pay the same within fifteen days following the receipt of each completed order. The color of the paper upon which certificates of registration and poll tax receipts are printed shall be changed annually so that the same color shall not be employed in any two successive years and there shall also be a difference in the colors of the paper upon which there are printed the forms of poll tax receipts prepared to be issued prior to delinquency and those which are prepared to be issued subsequent to the date of delinquency in each year. The forms of affidavits of registration supplied to each county, or city and county, shall be consecutively numbered, in duplicate, commencing with the number one and continuing in sequence until all such forms provided for each county shall be numbered. Such forms, originals and duplicate shall be bound in books or pads of twenty-five each. The certificates of registration, with their corresponding stubs, shall be consecutively numbered and bound in like manner. The numbering shall begin anew with each new registration.

Preparation and cost of forms.

3855. Every person subject to the payment of the poll tax hereby imposed who shall: Penalties.

1. Fail, neglect or refuse to register as herein provided; or
2. Falsely state his age to be under twenty-one years or over sixty years for the purpose of evading such tax; or
3. Give or lend to another any certificate of registration or poll tax receipt issued to him hereunder; shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished in the manner provided by law.

3856. In the event it shall be determined by the final judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction that any tax, penalty, or interest collected under the provisions of this chapter was wrongfully collected and that the person from whom such tax, penalty, or interest was collected is entitled to receive restitution of the amount thereof, such judgment shall direct that such restitution be made from the school fund of the county into which such tax, penalty, or interest was paid. Upon receipt of a certified copy of such judgment it shall be the duty of the superintendent of schools of the county to draw his requisition on the auditor in favor of the Tax collected.

claimants against the unapportioned county school fund, and of the auditor to draw his warrant upon such fund for the amount thereof, and the treasurer shall pay the same. No public officer shall be held personally liable for the proper performance of any official duty imposed upon him by the provisions of this chapter.

CHAPTER 432.

An act to amend section eight hundred eighty of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, as amended.

[Approved May 23, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1903,
P. 133,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section eight hundred eighty of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Marshal.

880. The department of police of said city or town shall be under the direction and control of the marshal; and for the suppression of any riot, public tumult, disturbance of the peace, or resistance against the laws or public authorities in the lawful exercise of their functions, he shall have the powers that are now or may hereafter be conferred upon sheriffs by laws of the state, and shall in all respects be entitled to the same protection; and his lawful orders shall be promptly executed by deputies, police officers, and watchmen in said city or town, and every citizen shall also lend his aid, when required for the arrest of offenders and maintenance of public order. He shall, and is hereby authorized to, execute and return all process issued and directed to him by any legal authority. It shall be his duty to prosecute before the recorder all breaches or violations of or noncompliance with any ordinance which shall come to his knowledge. He shall collect all taxes levied by the board of trustees, except as is herein provided, and shall, if practicable, mark the post-office address of each absentee property owner on the assessment roll. He shall, at the expiration of any month, pay to the treasurer all taxes and other funds of said city or town collected by him during said month. He shall, upon payment of the money, file with the treasurer an affidavit, stating that the money so paid is all the taxes or funds that he has collected or received during the preceding month. He shall, upon the receipt of any tax list, give his receipt for the same to the clerk, and shall, upon depositing with the clerk the delinquent tax list, take his receipt therefor. He shall receive from the clerk all licenses, and collect the same. He shall have charge of the prison and prisoners, and of any chain gang which may be established by the board of trustees. He shall for service of any process receive the same fees as constables, but his fees for services in any criminal action or proceeding upon process issued from the recorder's court shall not be a charge against the county. He may appoint, subject to the approval of the board of trustees, one or more deputies, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible. He may also, with the concurrence of the president of the board of trustees, when the same may be by them deemed necessary for the preservation of the public order, appoint additional policemen. He shall perform such other services as this act and the ordinances of the board of trustees shall require.

CHAPTER 433.

An act to amend section one thousand six hundred sixty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to payment of taxes before distribution.

[Approved May 26, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand six hundred sixty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1669. Before any decree of distribution of an estate is made, the court must be satisfied, by the oath of the executor or administrator, or otherwise, that all inheritance taxes and personal property taxes due and payable have been paid. Payment of taxes before distribution.

CHAPTER 434.

An act to repeal section three thousand seven hundred fifty-two of the Political Code, relating to the payment of taxes before distribution.

[Approved May 26, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand seven hundred fifty-two of the Political Code is hereby repealed. Repealed.

CHAPTER 435.

An act to amend section eight hundred fifty-six of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, as amended.

[Approved May 26, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1883,
p. 268,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section eight hundred fifty-six of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Election
provisions.

Sec. 856. All elections in such city or town shall be held in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same may be made applicable, or such election laws as may be provided for municipalities; and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he shall be a qualified elector of the county, enrolled upon the great register thereof, and shall have resided in such city for at least thirty days next preceding such election. The board of trustees shall give notice of each election, shall appoint a board of election, and fix their compensation; and they shall establish election precincts and polling places, and may change the same.

CHAPTER 436.

An act to amend section two hundred seventy-six a of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to appointment, qualifications and compensation of board of bar examiners.

[Approved May 26, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two hundred seventy-six a of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended so as to read when amended as follows:

Board of bar
examiners.

276a. The supreme court is empowered to appoint three competent attorneys to examine applicants for admission as attorneys and counselors at law. Such persons shall constitute the board of bar examiners. The said board shall hold examinations for admission to the bar of applicants who have regularly filed their applications and paid all necessary fees, upon such subjects, and at such times and places as the supreme court or said board may, by its rules or orders direct; provided, that said examination shall be wholly or in part written examinations. The examinations may be conducted by two members of the board. Said board shall issue a certificate to each of said applicants who shall satisfactorily pass such examination and who shall satisfy said board as to his moral character. Nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the district courts of appeal from further examining any applicant where deemed proper.

In addition to any fee prescribed by law for certificate of admission of attorney or counselor, every applicant for examination shall pay to the clerk of the district court of appeal to which he presents his application, as a fee for such examination, the sum of fifteen dollars. Such fees must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the bar examinations fund and accounted, settled and charged for, in the same manner as provided by law for other fees collected by said clerk. A bar examinations fund is hereby created for the expenses of said board of bar examiners, which fund is under the control of the supreme court. Upon the order of the supreme court the controller must without approval of any board, draw his warrant upon the treasurer for the amount specified, and in favor of the person designated in such warrant, which warrant must be paid out of such fund exclusively. Unused balances, if any, in such fund may be transferred to the general fund, from time to time, upon the order of the supreme court.

The members of said board shall act without compensation, but shall be allowed their necessary traveling, office and incidental expenses, including clerical and other assistance required by the board in preparing and conducting such examinations and determining the results thereof, and may fix, subject to the approval of the supreme court, the compensation for such assistance. Payments for the said expenses and assistance shall be made exclusively out of the fees of applicants as provided in this section and section two hundred seventy-nine of this code, and out of such appropriation as may be expressly made for that purpose by the legislature.

No person who is engaged in the teaching of law or who is connected with any law school, either in a teaching or an administrative capacity, shall during such employment be eligible as a member of said board or in any employment under said board.

The members of said board shall hold office during the pleasure of said supreme court, and all vacancies therein shall be filled by said court.

CHAPTER 443.

An act to amend section one of an act entitled "An act prescribing terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state and providing penalties and forfeitures for noncompliance," approved May 11, 1917, as amended, relating to the terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state.

[Approved May 26, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917,
p. 371,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act prescribing terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state and providing penalties and forfeitures for noncompliance," approved May 11, 1917, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Corporations
must file articles of incorporation.

Section 1. Every corporation organized under the laws of another state, territory, or of a foreign country, which is now doing interstate or intrastate business in this state or maintaining an office herein, and which has not filed with the secretary of state prior to the day on which this act takes effect the document or documents required by this section, or which shall hereafter do such business in this state or maintain an office herein, or which shall enter this state for the purpose of doing such business herein, must file in the office of the secretary of state of the State of California a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of its charter, or of the statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act or acts creating it, in cases where it has been created by charter, or statute, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act, duly certified by the secretary of state or other officer authorized by the law of the jurisdiction under which such corporation is formed to certify such copy, and must also file a certified copy thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state of this state in the office of the county clerk of the county where its principal place of business in this state is located, and also where such corporation owns any real property. With such certified copy of its articles of incorporation, charter, or legislative, executive or governmental act creating it, such corporation shall also file with the secretary of state an affidavit sworn to by the president or secretary of such corporation, which shall state the amount of such corporation's authorized capital stock at or within fifteen days prior to such filing. Every such corporation shall pay to the secretary of state for filing in his office such certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of its charter, or of the statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act or acts creating it, a fee of seventy-five dollars; provided, that foreign corporations organized for educational, religious, scientific or charitable purposes and having no capital stock, and foreign nonprofit corporations shall pay a fee of five dollars for filing the document or documents hereinabove required. Fee.

Foreign corporations shall also file any amendment of or change in any of the provisions of its original articles of incorporation, or charter, or of the statute or legislative, executive or governmental act or acts creating it. Every foreign corporation subject to the tax hereinafter provided shall file with the secretary of state, at the time it tenders payment of said tax and any penalty which has accrued, an affidavit sworn to by its president or secretary, showing the amount of its authorized capital stock on the first day of January of the year in which said payment is made and in the event that such authorized capital stock, as shown by such affidavit, differs from the amount of such capital stock as appears from the records of the secretary of state, then the tax hereinafter provided shall be measured by the amount of the capital stock shown in such affidavit. The license hereinafter required shall not be issued nor shall the amount so tendered be accepted until copies of any documents relating to such change in authorized capital stock, certified as required by this section, shall have been filed with the secretary of state. Foreign corporations.

Every foreign corporation shall file with the secretary of state a designation of some person residing within this state upon whom process issued by authority of law may be served as the representative, for such purpose, of such corporation. A copy of such designation certified by the secretary of state is sufficient evidence of the appointment of such representative. Such process may be served on the person so designated, or, in the event that no such representative is designated, then on the secretary of state, and such service shall be a valid and binding service on such corporation. Affidavit.

Every corporation subject to the provisions of this section and every such corporation hereafter becoming subject to the provisions thereof, which shall neglect or fail to file with the secretary of state as herein provided, shall be subject to a fine of not less than five hundred dollars to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction: and it is hereby made the duty of the secretary of state and of the state board of equalization, when either may be advised that corporations are doing Representative of foreign corporation business in contravention of this section to report the fact to the attorney general of this state, who shall as soon as practicable institute proceedings to recover the fine provided for in this section, and the amount so recovered must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the general fund of the state and it is hereby made the duty of the district attorney of any county in which any action shall be brought under the provisions of this act, to assist the attorney general in the prosecution thereof.

In addition to the penalty herein provided every contract made by or on behalf of any such foreign corporation affecting the personal liability thereof or relating to property within the state shall be held void on its behalf and on behalf of its assigns, but shall be enforceable against it or them.

Corporation
entitled to benefit of law.

Every corporation which complies with the provisions of this section is thereafter entitled to the benefit of the laws of this state limiting the time for the commencement of civil actions, but any corporation created by or under the laws of any foreign state or country and that has not complied with this section is not entitled to the benefit thereof, nor can any such foreign corporation maintain or defend any action or proceeding concerning its property in this state or any intra-state business or transaction, in any court of this state or acquire or convey any legal title to any real property within this state. In any action or proceeding instituted against any body styled as a corporation, but not created by nor under the laws of this state, evidence that such body has acted as a corporation, or employed methods usually employed by corporations, must be received by the court for the purpose of proving the existence of such corporation, the sufficiency of such evidence to be determined by the court with like effect as in other cases. Every corporation which has complied with the law requiring it to make and file a designation of the person upon whom process against it may be served, need not make or file any further designation. Any designation made may be revoked by the filing by the corporation with the secretary of state of a writing stating such revocation. Within forty days after the death or removal from the state of any person designated by the corporation, or after the revocation of the designation, the corporation must make a new designation, or be subject to the provisions and penalties of this section: provided, however, that any foreign corporation which, prior to the eighth day of March, one thousand nine hundred one, shall have complied with the provisions of the act entitled, "An act to amend 'An act in relation to foreign corporations,' approved April 1, 1872," approved March 17, 1899, shall, in lieu of the provisions of this section above set forth, file the affidavit and designation of representative herein required and the license tax due from such corporation shall be measured by the authorized capital stock, as shown thereby.

CHAPTER 444.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," which became a law under the constitutional provision without the governor's approval, February 25, 1901, as subsequently amended, by adding a new section thereto to be numbered section fourteen, relating to bonds for a city plan.

[Approved May 24, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," which became a law under the constitutional provision without the governor's approval, February 25, 1901, as subsequently amended is hereby amended by adding a new section thereto to be numbered fourteen, and to read as follows:

Sec. 14. In any city having a city planning commission, Bonds for city plan. which commission has approved a number of municipal improvements in one group as constituting a city plan, and which city plan has been subsequently approved by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the city voting thereon, the legislative body of such city may submit a bond issue as authorized by this act, said bond issue to include bonds for all the improvements of said city plan in one bond issue for one gross amount. The approval of such city plan by the electors of the city may be given at the election at which said bond issue is submitted or may have been given at a previous election. Included in the improvements covered by such city plan and bond issue therefor may be land for public use, public buildings including auditoriums and stadiums, parks, streets, transportation facilities, or any of the improvements for which bonds are authorized to be voted by section two of this act, or elsewhere therein.

CHAPTER 451.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred sixty-four of the Political Code, relating to the compensation of officers of counties of the thirty-fifth class.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect—see subsection 10.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred sixty-four of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:
4264. Counties of the thirty-fifth class, salaries of officers.

Counties of 35th class,
salaries of officers.

In counties of the thirty-fifth class the county and township officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following salaries and fees to wit:

County
clerk.

1. The county clerk, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum, which shall be in full for all services, including registering voters and making the great register, excepting such services as are performed by said clerk as agent for the state; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the county clerk two deputies, who shall be appointed by said county clerk, one of which deputies shall be paid a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and the other said deputy shall be paid a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, said salaries to be paid in monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the county clerk is paid.

Sheriff.

2. The sheriff, five thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed, in addition thereto, one undersheriff to be appointed by him, who shall receive one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, whose salary shall be paid by the county, in monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the sheriff is paid.

Said sheriff shall also have for his own use all fees, commissions and mileage for the service of all papers served by him and issued without his county.

3. The recorder, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, in full of all services, and he is hereby allowed, in addition thereto, one deputy appointed by him, who shall be a copyist, and who shall receive one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, whose salary shall be paid by the county in monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the recorder is paid; provided, that when the board of supervisors shall deem it necessary, it may allow the recorder an additional copyist, to be paid not more than five cents per folio for any work done by said copyist, said compensation to be paid monthly by the county; provided, further, that the fees heretofore allowed the recorder for his own use by section three thousand seventy-nine of the Political Code shall be hereafter paid into the county treasury. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation, and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents. Recorder.

4. The auditor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed one deputy, to be appointed by him, who shall receive one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, whose salary shall be paid in monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the auditor is paid; provided, that if the board of supervisors in any year shall order or direct the auditor to prepare and compile its annual statistical report, and on so performing such services, he may be allowed a further sum not to exceed three hundred dollars, which said board of supervisors shall allow upon the completion and acceptance of the report; provided, further, that if the board of supervisors in any year shall order or direct the auditor to prepare and compile a report showing the classified annual pay roll of the county, and on so performing such services, he shall be allowed an additional sum of not to exceed one hundred dollars, to be allowed by said board of supervisors and paid by the county; provided, that the compensation herein provided for the auditor shall include the services heretofore compensated under the provisions of section four thousand ninety-nine a, Political Code, and it is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents. Auditor

5. The treasurer, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, that all commissions received by the treasurer on the collection of inheritance taxes shall be paid into the county treasury. Treasurer.

6. The tax and license collector, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, in full compensation for all services, and he is hereby allowed a deputy, to be appointed by him, for eight months of the year, at a compensation of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month, the salary of said deputy to be paid by the county, in monthly installments, at the same Tax and License
collector

time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the tax collector is paid.

Assessor.

7. The assessor, three thousand dollars per annum, in full compensation for all services, and he is hereby allowed, in addition thereto, such deputies and typists, to be appointed by him, as he may deem necessary to carry on the work of his office; provided, however, that not more than a total of four thousand dollars shall be paid in any year for such deputies and typists, no typist to be paid more than seventy-five dollars per month and no deputy to be paid more than eight dollars per day while engaged in the performance of their respective duties; provided, further, that the assessor shall be allowed his own necessary traveling expenses in the performance of his official duties as assessor.

District attorney.

8. The district attorney, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed, in addition thereto, one deputy appointed by him, who shall receive one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

Coroner.

9. The coroner, such fees as are now, or may be hereafter allowed by law; provided, that for such miles necessarily traveled by him in going to and returning from the place of an inquest, he shall receive twenty-five cents per mile each way.

Public administrator.

10. The public administrator, such fees as are now, or may be hereafter allowed by law.

Superintendent of schools.

11. The superintendent of schools, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and necessary expenses in visiting schools in the county, not to exceed ten dollars for each school visited, to be allowed by the board of supervisors of the county; and there is hereby allowed one deputy, appointed by the superintendent of schools, who shall receive nine hundred dollars per annum, said salary to be paid by the county in monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the superintendent of schools is paid.

Surveyor.

12. The surveyor, ten dollars per day for all work performed for the county, and, in addition thereto, all necessary expenses and transportation for work performed in the field, which per diem and expenses shall be in lieu of all fees and per diem heretofore allowed by law.

Classification of townships.

13. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships in this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the federal census of one thousand nine hundred twenty as follows: Townships having a population of three thousand and more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of one thousand five hundred and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of one thousand three hundred and less than one thousand five hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of eight hundred and less than nine hundred shall belong to

and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of nine hundred and less than one thousand three hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class; and townships having a population of less than eight hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the sixth class.

14. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries ^{Justices of the peace.} which shall be paid monthly out of the general fund of the county in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid, and shall be in full of all services, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred ten dollars per month; in townships of the second class, ninety dollars per month; in townships of the third class, sixty-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, fifty dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, fifteen dollars per month; and in townships of the sixth class, fifteen dollars per month.

15. Constables shall receive the following salaries, which ^{Constables.} shall be paid monthly, in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid out of the general fund of the county, and which shall be in full of all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred dollars per month; in townships of the second class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the third class, sixty dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, forty-five dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, fifteen dollars per month, and in townships of the sixth class, fifteen dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed for services in criminal actions, cases and proceedings, each constable shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually and properly incurred, in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, and also all necessary expenses actually incurred in the transportation of prisoners from prison to court, and the return of said prisoner to prison; and shall be allowed, also, for each mile actually traveled, both in going and coming in the service of subpoenas, in criminal actions, per mile, ten cents; which said expense and mileage shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county are audited and allowed, and shall be paid out of the county treasury.

In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed for services in criminal actions and cases, each constable may, for his own use, collect the following fees, and no other, in civil actions:

For serving summons and complaint, for each defendant served, fifty cents.

For each copy of summons for service, when actually made by him, twenty-five cents.

For levying writ of attachment or execution, or executing order of arrest, or for the delivery of personal property, one dollar.

For serving writ of attachment or execution on any ship, boat or vessel, three dollars.

For keeping personal property, such sum as the court may order; but no more than one dollar and fifty cents per day shall be allowed for a keeper when necessarily employed.

For taking bond or undertaking, fifty cents.

For copies of writs and other papers, except summons, complaint and subpoenas, per folio, ten cents; provided, that when correct copies are furnished to him for use, no charge shall be made for such copies.

For serving any writ, notice, or order, except summons, complaint and subpoenas, for each person served fifty cents.

For writing and posting each notice of sale of property, fifty cents.

For furnishing notice for publication, twenty-five cents.

For serving subpoenas, each witness, including copy, twenty-five cents.

For collecting money on execution, one and one-half per cent.

For executing and delivering certificate of sale, fifty cents.

For executing and delivering constable's deed, one dollar and fifty cents.

For each mile actually traveled within his township in the service of any writ, order, or paper, in civil actions, in going only, per mile, twenty-five cents.

For traveling outside of his township to serve such writ, order, or paper, in civil actions, in going only, twenty-five cents per mile; provided, that a constable shall not be required to travel outside of his township to serve any civil process, order, or paper. No constructive mileage shall be charged, allowed, or paid in criminal or civil cases.

For each day's attendance in court, in civil cases, three dollars per day.

For executing a search warrant, two dollars; and for each mile necessarily traveled within his county in executing a search warrant, both in going and returning from the place of search, fifteen cents; said fee and mileage to be paid by the party demanding the search.

For summoning a jury, in civil cases, two dollars, including mileage.

For commissions for receiving and paying over money on execution without levy, or when the goods or land levied on shall not be sold, one per cent. The fees herein allowed for the levy of an execution, and for making or collecting the money on execution, shall be collected from the judgment debtor, by virtue of such execution, in the same manner as the sum herein directed to be paid.

Census of new township.

16. It is expressly provided that in counties of this class, where a township has been created, or may hereafter be created out of any township, the population of which is shown in the federal census of nineteen hundred twenty, the population of the newly created township and the population of the township from which the newly created township was taken shall be separately ascertained and determined by the board of supervisors in the following manner: By appointing a suitable person in each of such townships to take said census, and said census shall be taken by said person so appointed of all the inhabitants of each of said townships; the full name of each person shall be fully written, the names alphabetically and regularly numbered in one complete series, and when completed shall be verified before any officer authorized to administer oaths, and be filed with the county clerk, and thereupon the same shall be the official census of said township or townships. The expense of taking said census shall be a county charge. From the taking of such census the salary of the justices of the peace and of the constables of the newly created township, and the township from which the newly created township was taken, shall be estimated and paid on the basis of the classification hereinbefore given under the federal census of nineteen hundred twenty pro rata according to the population of the newly created and former township as shown by the census taken as hereinbefore provided to be ascertained and determined by the board of supervisors. County officers must, and township officers may, demand the payment of all fees in advance. Justices of the peace shall, on or before the first Monday of each month, pay into the county treasury all moneys collected by them on fines imposed and collected and all moneys belonging to the county coming from any source.

17. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand ^{Supervisors.} five hundred dollars per annum and ten cents per mile, one way between residence and county seat, in attending upon all regular, special or adjourned meetings of the board of supervisors; provided, that the chairman of the board of supervisors may receive twenty-five cents per mile, one way, between residence and the county seat, when attending at the county seat for the single purpose of counting the money in the county treasury as required by law.

18. Grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court in ^{Jurors.} civil or criminal cases, shall receive, as compensation for each day's attendance, per day four dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in attending court as such, in going only, per mile twenty-five cents. Witnesses in the justice courts and trial jurors in the same, in civil or criminal cases, when sworn to try the case, shall receive as compensation for each day's attendance, two dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in attending court as such, in going only, fifteen cents per mile.

19. The provisions of subdivisions fourteen and fifteen of this act shall not become operative until the first Monday of January, at noon, in the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, but the other provisions hereof shall become operative at the expiration of ninety days after the final adjournment of the present session of this legislature, excepting the increases in compensation of the principal offices mentioned in subdivisions six and eleven, and the increase in mileage mentioned in subdivision nine, which increases shall not become operative until the expiration of the present terms of the incumbents in the offices affected thereby.

Effect of act.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 452.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred sixty-nine of the Political Code, relating to salaries of officers of counties of the fortieth class.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Counties of 40th class, salaries of officers.

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred sixty-nine of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: 4269. In counties of the fortieth class the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries, to wit:

The said assessor may appoint one office deputy assessor, which said office of deputy office assessor is hereby created, who shall serve as such only during five months of each calendar year. Said office deputy assessor shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month, payable during the period of said services, at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of county officers is paid. The said assessor may also appoint one additional deputy assessor, who shall be designated as a "field deputy assessor," which said office of "field deputy assessor" is hereby created, who shall serve as such only during five months of each calendar year. Said "field deputy assessor" shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month payable during the period of such service, at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of county officers is paid. Assessor.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, three thousand dollars per annum. Said district attorney may appoint one clerk to the district attorney, which said office of clerk is hereby created. Said clerk to the district attorney shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month, payable at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of county officers is paid. District attorney

9. Coroner. The coroner, nine hundred dollars per annum, and his actual traveling and other expenses while performing the duties of his office. Coroner.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law. Public administrator.

Superintendent of schools.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county. Said superintendent of schools may appoint one deputy superintendent of schools, which said office of deputy superintendent of schools is hereby created. Said deputy superintendent of schools shall receive a salary of eighty dollars per month; provided, that said deputy superintendent of schools shall only serve and be paid as such during five months in each calendar year.

Surveyor.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; and in addition thereto he shall receive his actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred by him while engaged in work for the county.

Justices of the peace and constables.

13. Justices of the peace and constables. In counties of this class the township officers shall receive the following compensation, to wit:

In townships having a population of five thousand or more, justices of the peace shall receive a monthly salary of one hundred fifty dollars per month; constables in townships of this population shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month.

In townships having a population of one thousand five hundred and less than three thousand, the justices of the peace and constables shall each receive a salary of forty-five dollars per month.

In townships having a population of eight hundred and less than one thousand five hundred, the justices of the peace and constables shall each receive a monthly salary of thirty-five dollars per month.

In townships having a population of five hundred and less than eight hundred, the justices of the peace and constables shall each receive a monthly salary of twenty dollars per month.

In townships having a population of less than five hundred, the justices of the peace and constables shall each receive a monthly salary of ten dollars per month.

The above named salaries shall be in full compensation for all services of said justices of the peace and constables in criminal cases; provided, that in addition to the salary herein allowed, each constable shall be paid out of the treasury of the county for traveling expenses outside of his township, for service of a warrant of arrest or any other paper in a criminal case, such fees as they are now or may be hereafter allowed by law, for transporting prisoners to the county jail, the actual expenses of such transportation; and provided, further, that for the purpose of this subdivision, the population of the several townships shall be ascertained by multiplying the number of registered voters at the general election of nineteen hundred twenty by three.

Supervisors

14. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and mileage when acting as road commissioner, twenty-five cents per mile one way; provided, the amount of mileage shall not exceed the sum of three hundred dollars in any one year.

15. Jurors. In counties of this class grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall each receive for each day's attendance the sum of three dollars, and mileage to be computed at the rate of twenty cents per mile for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residences to the county seat, in going only. Such fees and mileage shall be paid by the treasurer of the county out of the general fund of said county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon the written order of the judge of the superior court in said county. Jurors.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes. Effect of act.

CHAPTER 453.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred thirty-five of the Political Code, relating to the salaries, fees and expenses of officers in counties of the sixth class.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

11. The county superintendent of schools, three thousand dollars per annum; and the said superintendent of schools may appoint a deputy superintendent of schools who shall receive a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy superintendent of schools who shall receive one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; and the said superintendent of schools shall also be paid actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of the county. The deputies herein provided for shall be paid at the same time and in the manner and out of the same fund as is the superintendent of schools. County superintendent of schools.

12. The county surveyor, the sum of three thousand six hundred dollars per annum; and said surveyor may appoint a deputy surveyor who shall receive a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; also one deputy who shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; one deputy at a salary of one thousand three hundred eighty dollars per annum; one deputy at a salary of one thousand three hundred twenty dollars per annum and one deputy at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum who shall be a draftsman whose duties shall include the preparation of maps for the county assessor; and one deputy at County surveyor.

nine hundred dollars per annum. Such compensation and salaries as above set forth shall be in full for all services as such county surveyor, and all fees and compensation received or collected by him for surveying other than for the county, shall be paid into the county treasury; provided, that said county surveyor shall be allowed all necessary transportation and expenses incurred by himself or deputies for work performed in the field, and in the official discharge of his duties. Such salaries shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. Said surveyor shall also have power to appoint such inspectors as he may deem necessary, for the proper supervision of all roads and bridges under construction, and the compensation of said inspectors shall be a proper charge against the county.

Fish and game warden.

13. The fish and game warden, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum and the actual and necessary expenses incurred by him in the performance of his official duties.

Additional
assistance.

14. The board of supervisors may at any time grant such additional assistance, or pay for such additional employees or service as it deems necessary to perform any service required by or in connection with any of the foregoing county offices in counties of this class.

Justices of the peace.

15. In counties of this class, justices of the peace shall be compensated as follows, and all salaries shall be payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid, viz:

(1) In townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of two hundred fifty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that in all such townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, there shall be two township justices of the peace in and for any such township, and said justices of the peace shall each be allowed a clerk to be appointed by such justice of the peace at a salary of one hundred thirty-seven and one-half dollars per month each, payable monthly in the same manner as salaries of county officers are paid, and shall be furnished with offices and necessary supplies by the board of supervisors.

(2) In townships having a population of fifteen thousand and less than twenty thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of one hundred seventy-five dollars per month for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

(3) In townships having a population of ten thousand and less than fifteen thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of one hundred thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents per month for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

(4) In townships having a population of five thousand and less than ten thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of one hundred thirty-five dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

(5) In townships having a population of two thousand five hundred and less than five thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them except as hereinafter provided.

(6) In townships having a population of two thousand and less than two thousand five hundred, justices of the peace shall each receive the sum of sixty dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases. All fees collected by them shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury; provided, that where a township census has been ordered taken and adopted by the board of supervisors, as in this act contained said census shall be and remain the official census of such township; and shall not be affected by any provision of this act with respect to the application of the federal census of 1920 in classifying townships.

(7) In townships having a population of one thousand and less than two thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of fifty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

(8) In townships having a population of less than one thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of thirty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

Justices of the peace in all townships in counties of the sixth class shall be permitted to receive and retain for their own use, fees for celebrating marriages and returning certificates thereof, but all other fees shall be collected by them and by them paid into the county treasury at least once a month.

16. In counties of this class constables shall be compensated as follows, and all salaries herein provided shall be paid in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid, viz:

(1) In townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, constables shall each receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. As compensation for all services rendered in civil cases and all other matters wherein they may charge fees for their services, a constable may collect and retain for his own use as his compensation such fees as are now, or may hereafter be allowed by law.

(2) In townships having a population of fifteen thousand and less than twenty thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of one hundred dollars per month as salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. As compensation for all services rendered by them in civil cases and in all matters wherein they may charge fees for their services, constables in such townships may collect and retain for their own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

Constables.

(3) In townships having a population of ten thousand and less than fifteen thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of seventy-seven dollars and fifty cents per month as salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. As compensation for all services rendered by them in civil cases and in all other matters wherein they may charge fees for their services, constables may collect and retain for their own use as compensation such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

(4) In townships having a population of five thousand and less than ten thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of seventy-seven dollars and fifty cents per month as salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, civil cases and in the performance of all other duties imposed upon them by law. All fees chargeable and collectible in both criminal cases, civil cases, and in all other cases wherein fees are chargeable by constables, shall be collected in advance and paid monthly into the county treasury.

(5) In townships having a population of two thousand five hundred and less than five thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of sixty dollars per month as a salary for all services rendered by them in both civil and criminal cases. All fees collected by them in civil and criminal cases shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury. For all other services performed by them, they may charge and retain for their own use such fees as are chargeable by law.

(6) In townships having a population of two thousand and less than two thousand five hundred, constables shall each receive the sum of sixty dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases. All fees collected by them shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury; provided, that in townships in which a township census has been ordered, taken and adopted by the board of supervisors, as in this act hereinafter provided, constables shall each receive the sum of seventy-five dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in criminal cases, and that for all other services performed by them they may charge and collect for their own use such fees as are allowed by law.

(7) In townships having a population of one thousand and less than two thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of forty dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in criminal cases. All fees collected by them in criminal cases shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury. For all other services performed by them they may charge and collect for their own use such fees as are allowed by law.

(8) In townships having a population of less than one thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of thirty dollars per month as a salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. All fees collected by them in criminal cases shall be paid monthly into the county treasury. For all other services performed by them they may charge and collect for their own use such fees as are allowed by law.

Constables shall be allowed all necessary expenses incurred in conveying prisoners.

The population herein referred to in classifying townships for the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables shall be the population found and determined by the federal census taken in the year 1920; provided, however, that a township census may be taken for the purpose of establishing the official census of such township in the manner hereinafter specified and when so taken, such census shall be known as and shall become the official census of such township in which it is taken and the population therein determined shall be and become the official population of such township. Whenever there shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county a petition signed by the qualified electors of any township or townships in number equal to twenty-five per cent of the votes cast at the preceding general election, praying that said township or townships may be allowed to take the census of said township or townships for the purpose of ascertaining the population therein contained, the board of supervisors may order such census to be taken by one or more suitable persons appointed therefor by the board of supervisors and such census shall be taken by such persons so appointed, of all of the inhabitants of such township or townships. The full name of each person shall be plainly written, the names alphabetically arranged and regularly numbered in one complete series and when completed, shall be verified by the proper official authorized to administer oaths and be filed with the county clerk and thereupon, the same shall be known and shall be the official census of said township or townships.

17. Each supervisor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and mileage of ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled in going to and from their residence to the county seat or in the performance of the duties required of them by law or by virtue of their office; provided, that in attending sessions of the board only four mileages shall be allowed for each month and that the total mileage allowed shall not exceed five hundred dollars in any one calendar year.

18. The fees of grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior courts of said counties of the sixth class, in civil and criminal cases shall be three dollars, in lawful money of the United States, for each day's attendance, and mileage to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending court, in going only. In criminal cases such fees and mileage of said trial jurors in the superior court shall be paid by the treasurer of the county out of the general fund of said county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon the written order of the judge of the court in which said juror was in attendance, and the treasurer of said county shall pay said warrants. The board of supervisors of said county is hereby directed to make suitable appropriation for the payment of the fees herein provided for.

Effect
of act.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 454.

An act to add a new section to be known as nine a six to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, said section relating to salaries of county librarians.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, to be numbered section nine a six and to read as follows:

Counties of 6th class,
salary of librarian.

Sec. 9a6. In counties of the sixth class the salary of the county librarian shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum.

Effect
of act.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 455.

An act amending section four thousand two hundred forty of the Political Code, relating to salaries and compensation of officers in counties of the eleventh class.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred forty of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4240. In counties of the eleventh class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their office, the following salaries: Counties of 11th class, salaries of officers.

1. The county clerk, four thousand dollars per annum, one chief deputy to act as clerk of the board of supervisors at two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and also two deputies to act as courtroom clerks at one thousand five hundred dollars per annum each. The county clerk shall also have for use in his office, and under his supervision and control, two stenographers at a salary of one hundred dollars per month each, to be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid. The said positions of stenographers shall be filled by the county clerk in the same manner as deputies are appointed by him. It shall be the duty of the county clerk to take the affidavit of registration of such persons as shall present themselves at the office of said county clerk for the purpose of so making such affidavit; provided, however, that the county clerk shall appoint additional deputies who shall, during each even numbered year and outside of the county court house grounds, act as registration clerks; such deputies shall receive the sum of ten cents per name for each affidavit of registration taken by them, and claims of such deputies for such services shall be presented to and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims are presented and allowed. The supervisors shall provide the county clerk with such clerks at a compensation not to exceed three dollars and a half per day each, as are necessary to properly carry out the provisions of the statutes relating to registration of electors. The county clerk shall receive such fees as may be allowed by law for issuing hunting and fishing licenses. All other fees received by him shall be paid into the county treasury and placed to the credit of the salary fund. In any county of this class where an additional deputy clerk has been allowed on account of an increase in the number of departments of the superior court in and for said county since the year one thousand nine hundred ten, the deputy herein provided for to act as courtroom clerk shall take the place of, and perform the duties of such additional deputy so allowed on account of an increase in the number of departments of the superior court. In the event the legislature shall hereafter increase the number of superior County clerk.

judges in any county of this class, an additional court room deputy shall be appointed by said county clerk at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

Sheriff.

2. The sheriff, four thousand dollars per annum. He shall have an under sheriff who shall be a deputy at a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, four deputies at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum each, and a matron who shall also perform the duties of cook at a salary of three dollars per day and board. The sheriff shall receive and retain for his use the per diems allowed by the state for the transportation of prisoners and insane persons, also all expenses incurred in the performance of the duties of his office. All other fees and mileage received by him shall belong to the county and shall be paid into the county treasury and placed to the credit of the salary fund. In any county of this class where an additional deputy sheriff has been allowed on account of an increase in the number of departments of the superior court in and for said county since the year one thousand nine hundred ten, the deputies herein provided for shall take the place of and perform the duties of such additional deputy so allowed on account of an increase in the number of departments of the superior court. In the event the legislature shall hereafter increase the number of superior judges in any county of this class, an additional court room deputy shall be appointed by said sheriff at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The provisions of this subsection shall take effect immediately.

Recorder.

3. The county recorder, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, one chief deputy at two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, two deputies at one thousand five hundred dollars per annum each, two comparing clerks at a salary of one hundred dollars per month each; and such copyists as are necessary to perform the duties of the office, at a compensation of three cents per folio: said salaries and compensation shall be paid out of the salary fund of the county. All fees collected by the county recorder shall be paid into the county treasury and placed to the credit of the salary fund. The supervisors may allow, when in their judgment it is necessary, such additional clerks, as may from time to time be required to transact the business of the office at a maximum salary of one hundred dollars per month. None of the foregoing provisions affecting the office of the recorder shall take effect during the term of the present incumbent, except that said recorder shall have the right to appoint said chief deputy at a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, one of said deputies at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and one of said comparing clerks at a salary of one hundred dollars per month immediately. The remainder of the above provisions affecting the said office of the recorder shall take effect on the first Monday after the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, and until such time, the present law affecting said office of county recorder, his compensation and deputies shall remain in full force and effect except as modified by this paragraph.

4. The county auditor, three thousand dollars per annum, ^{Auditor.} and two deputies, each to receive one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; in addition to said deputies, the county auditor shall have the right to employ from time to time in his office, such additional assistants as may be required to promptly perform the work required to be done therein, the board of supervisors to fix the per diem compensation of such assistants, and such salary shall be paid out of the county general fund of the county upon proper claims presented therefor to the board of supervisors; provided, however, that the total amount to be paid such assistants shall not exceed one thousand dollars in any one year. On and after the first Monday after the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, all fees and commissions received by the auditor shall be paid into the county treasury and placed to the credit of the salary fund.

5. The county treasurer, two thousand eight hundred ^{Treasurer.} dollars per annum, and one deputy at one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum.

6. The tax collector, two thousand eight hundred ^{Tax collector.} dollars per annum, and one deputy at one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, one deputy at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, one stenographer at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and twelve clerks at a salary of one hundred dollars per month each, not to exceed two months in each year. In addition, the supervisors may make provision for securing additional help when they deem it so necessary; provided, that the total amount to be paid such assistants shall not exceed five hundred dollars in any one year. On and after the first Monday after the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, all fees and commissions received by the tax collector shall be paid into the county treasury and placed to the credit of the salary fund.

7. The county assessor, four thousand dollars per annum, ^{Assessor.} and a chief deputy at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, one deputy at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, one copyist or stenographer at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, three copyists from January first to July first at a salary of one hundred dollars per month each, six field deputies from March first to July first at a salary of six dollars per day each, and ten field deputies from March first to July first at a salary of seven dollars per day each. All fees and commissions collected by the assessor shall be turned into the county treasury monthly for account of the salary fund. The provisions of this subsection concerning the salary, fees and commissions of the assessor shall not affect the present incumbent, but shall take effect on the first Monday after the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, but as to the appointment of such deputies, copyist or stenographer and field deputies, this subsection shall take effect immediately.

District
attorney.

8. The district attorney, four thousand two hundred dollars per annum. He shall have two deputies at a salary of three thousand dollars per annum each; and he shall also have for use in his office and under his supervision and control one stenographer at a salary of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month, and one stenographer at a salary of one hundred dollars per month, which offices of stenographer are hereby created. Said positions of stenographer shall be filled by the district attorney in the same manner as deputies are appointed by him, and the salaries of said stenographers shall be paid in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid. In counties of this class the district attorney shall prepare all papers for all elections to be held in any school district in said county for the issue of bonds by such school district.

Coroner.

9. The coroner, such fees as are now, or may be hereafter allowed by law.

Public administrator.

10. The public administrator, such fees as are now, or may be hereafter allowed by law.

Superintendent of schools.

11. The superintendent of schools, for full services including his duties with and on the county board of education, three thousand dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses when visiting schools of his county. He shall have a first deputy at a salary of two thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and a second deputy at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and a third deputy at one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, said first and second deputy to be qualified teachers capable of doing either field or office work.

County
surveyor.

12. The county surveyor shall receive a salary of two thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and he shall be allowed one deputy at a salary of two thousand dollars per annum. The county surveyor shall be allowed all necessary traveling and field expenses of self and chainmen or other help in the field. In addition, the county surveyor shall be allowed to employ all necessary inspectors and field or office help; provided, however, that before employing such inspectors or field or office help, the surveyor shall first obtain the consent of the board of supervisors to such employment. The salaries and expenses of such inspectors or field or office help shall be paid out of the county general fund upon proper claims presented therefor to the board of supervisors. In any county of this class where bonds have been or shall hereafter be issued under the provisions of section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code for the construction of roads, bridges or highways, the board of supervisors may at any time during the planning, laying out or construction of such roads, bridges or highways, employ all necessary inspectors and field or office help to assist the surveyor in planning, laying out or constructing such roads, bridges and highways. All inspectors and field or office help so employed by the board of supervisors, shall work under the supervision of the surveyor, and board of supervisors, and shall not be employed longer than is necessary to actually complete the roads, bridges or highways constructed with funds created by such bond issue. The salaries of all persons so employed by the board of supervisors as such inspectors or field or office help, shall be prescribed by the said board, and all such salaries, together with the field expenses of all such inspectors or field or office help, shall be paid out of the fund created by such issue of bonds upon proper claims presented therefor to the board of supervisors. The supervisors shall have the power to appoint the county surveyor superintendent of the maintenance of permanent highways constructed under bond issues, direct tax, or county general funds, and such surveyor in case of such appointment must perform the duties of such superintendent of maintenance, and when so appointed shall receive a salary of eight hundred dollars per annum. He shall be allowed such necessary help to perform the duties of such superintendent of maintenance and at such salaries to be paid by said county as the board of supervisors shall by resolution provide, and the board of supervisors shall furnish such superintendent of maintenance with necessary equipment and funds to properly perform such work.

13. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered as hereinafter provided: In townships having a population of ten thousand or more, one hundred fifty dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than three thousand and under ten thousand, one hundred dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than two thousand and under three thousand, fifty dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than one thousand and under two thousand, forty dollars per month. In townships having a population of less than one thousand, thirty dollars per month: provided, however, that in townships having a population of ten thousand or more, the justice shall be allowed the services of a clerk at seventy-five dollars per month. Said salaries enumerated in this paragraph shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by said justices of the peace in both civil and criminal cases. All such fees as are allowed by law in civil cases shall be paid by all justices into the county treasury in the same manner as the fees of county officers are paid. In fixing the population of the several townships, the United States census of 1920 shall control.

the peace.

14. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation of all services rendered by them in both civil and criminal cases: In townships having a population of more than eight thousand, one hundred twenty-five dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than three thousand and under eight thousand, eighty dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than one thousand and under three thousand, forty dollars per month. In townships having a population of less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month. All such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law in civil cases shall be paid by all constables into the county treasury in the same manner as the fees of county officers are paid. In addition to the monthly salary allowed herein, such constable shall be allowed ten cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in the execution of all criminal process within the county, and ten cents per mile, one way only, for each mile necessarily traveled in the execution of all criminal process outside the county. In addition, each constable shall be allowed all expenses necessarily and actually incurred by him in transporting prisoners to court, and to prison, and all expenses necessarily and actually incurred by him in executing all process in civil cases.

15. It shall be the duty of each and every constable and justice of the peace to file on or before the first Monday of each and every month, a full and complete statement, showing all business, both civil and criminal, done during the preceding month, with the board of supervisors, and he shall file the same on or before said date above mentioned, with the clerk of said board. The statement of the constable shall contain a full and correct account of all process served in both civil and criminal actions, also in criminal cases the places where defendants were arrested, together with the mileage. And justices of the peace shall file a full and correct statement of all civil and criminal actions and fees received therefrom, said statements to be sworn to either before the county clerk or some officer allowed by law to administer oaths.

Supervisors.

16. Each supervisor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, for personal services performed by him as supervisor, member of the board of equalization, and road commissioner. Each supervisor shall also receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred in performing any of the duties of his office, to be allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county general fund; provided, that the amount so allowed him for such expenses shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month. Each supervisor to furnish his own means of conveyance; and provided, further, that each supervisor shall render each month, an itemized statement showing the miles traveled in the pursuance of his duties as a supervisor for which he shall be allowed mileage at twelve and one-half cents per mile as expenses up to the amount above specified.

County
librarian.

17. The salary of the county librarian shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum.

License fees.

18. No fees shall be allowed the sheriff or tax collector for collecting licenses in counties of this class.

19. All fees and sums required by law to be paid into the county treasury by any county officer shall be so paid on the first Monday in each month after collection. Payments to treasury.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes. Effect of act.

CHAPTER 456.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred fifty-eight of the Political Code, relating to the salaries, fees and expenses of officers in counties of the twenty-ninth class.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred fifty-eight of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

14. In counties of this class, each member of the county board of education shall receive five dollars for each day the board of education is in session, not to exceed a total of three hundred fifty dollars per annum. In addition each member shall receive the same mileage as is allowed the members of the board of supervisors of said county. Compensation of the members of the county board of education shall be payable out of the same funds and in the same manner as is the salary of the county superintendent of schools.

Justices of
the peace.

15. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of other county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases. In townships where the population is four thousand or more, one hundred fifty dollars ($150) per month, and said justice of the peace shall be furnished with offices and necessary supplies by the board of supervisors of said county; in townships where the population is two thousand and less than four thousand, eighty dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand and less than two thousand, forty dollars per month; in townships where the population is less than one thousand, twenty dollars per month; provided, that the justice of the peace shall, before receiving his monthly salary, file with the auditor a statement of all fines received, together with the treasurer's receipt for same; provided, further, that no justice of the peace shall hold the office of city recorder.

16. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships where the population is four thousand or more, eighty dollars per month; in townships where the population is two thousand and less than four thousand, seventy dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand and less than two thousand, fifty dollars per month; in townships where the population is less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salary herein allowed each constable may retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil actions; each constable shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred by him in arresting, pursuing or conveying prisoners to court or to prison, and actual expenses incurred in serving any process in any criminal case pending in said county, which said expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors out of the county treasury.

17. For the purposes of subdivisions fifteen and sixteen of this section, the population of the several judicial townships shall be ascertained by the board of supervisors of said county at their regular meeting in the month of December following the election of justices of the peace and constables in said county, by multiplying by three the number of registered voters in said township as shown by the register prepared by the county clerk of said county for the general election next preceding the date of such determination. It is hereby found as a fact, that the salaries provided for in subdivisions fifteen and sixteen do not work an increase in the compensation and the same shall apply immediately to incumbents.

18. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) per annum, and their necessary expenses when attending to the business of the county, other than the meetings of the board at the county seat, and twenty cents (20¢) per mile in traveling from his residence to the county seat; provided, that not more than one mileage for any one regular session of the board shall be allowed, and not more than one mileage for any special session of the board shall be allowed.

19. The salaries of all county and township officers and their deputies shall be payable in monthly installments on the first day of each month.

20. For acting as a grand juror in the superior court, for each day's attendance per day, three dollars. For every mile actually traveled in attending court as a grand juror in going only, twenty-five cents per mile.

In effect
when.

SEC. 2. The changes made by this amendment, in so far as they do not increase the compensation of a county officer, shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the forty-fourth session of the legislature; provided, however, that the increases in the salaries of the deputies in the office of county clerk shall become effective on the first day of January, 1923.

Effect
of act.

SEC. 3. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 459.

An act to make available for the use of the United States government suitable places in this state for the public defense, and for that purpose authorizing any county or municipal corporation now or hereafter organized to incur indebtedness, issue negotiable bonds, levy taxes to pay the principal and interest thereof, acquire by condemnation or otherwise land within the county or municipal corporation and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation to convey the same to the United States: conferring on such counties and municipal corporations the power of eminent domain for the purposes of this act and providing the procedure therefor; granting the consent of the state to such conveyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the land so conveyed.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

County or city may tender land to U. S. for public defense.

SECTION 1. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county or the legislative body of any municipal corporation now or hereafter organized in this state shall consider it desirable or expedient to tender to the United States for the use of the war department or the navy department thereof, a designated number of acres at such location or locations within any such county or municipal corporation as may be determined upon by the said board of supervisors or legislative body, such board of supervisors or legislative body may, by four-fifths vote, acquire and pay for out of the general fund such land as it may determine upon and convey it to the United States for the use of the war department or navy department thereof, or if such board of supervisors or legislative body shall also determine that it is desirable for the general welfare and benefit of the people of such county or municipal corporation and for the interests of the county or municipal corporation to incur an indebtedness in an amount sufficient to acquire land in such county or municipal corporation aggregating approximately the number of acres so designated at such location or locations as may have been selected and designated by the said board of supervisors or legislative body and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation, to convey all such lands to the United States to be used by the war department or the navy department of the United States for its use, such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered by and through its said board of supervisors or legislative body to incur an indebtedness evidenced by negotiable bonds of such county or municipal corporation for such purposes, in any amount not exceeding, together with all existing bonded indebtedness of such county or municipal corporation, five per cent of the taxable property of the county or municipal corporation, as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof, whenever two thirds of the qualified electors of the county or municipal corporation voting thereon shall assent thereto, at any election either general or special, at which the proposal to incur such bonded indebtedness may be submitted to such electors in the manner provided by law.

SEC. 2. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of a county shall be issued in the manner provided for in section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code, and a payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said section for the payment of principal and interest of other bonds issued by any county, and said section, except as herein modified, is hereby specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of municipal corporations shall be issued in the manner provided for in an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, townships and municipal corporation for municipal improvements, regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof." which became a law on February 25, 1901, without the approval of the governor, and the amendments thereto, and the payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said act for the payment of the principal and interest on other bonds issued by any such municipal corporation, and said act, except as herein modified is specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. The acquisition of land for the use thereof by the war or the navy department of the United States and all such military or naval purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States is hereby declared to be a public use, and the right of eminent domain is hereby granted and extended to every county and municipal corporation availing itself of the provisions of this act for every purpose of condemnation, appropriation or disposition intended by this act and such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and appropriate all lands and rights whatsoever necessary or convenient for carrying out the provisions of this act. Such right of eminent domain may be exercised on behalf of such public use in accordance with the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California.

Bonds.

Right of eminent domain.

Consent of legislature to transfer.

SEC. 4. Pursuant to the constitution and laws of the United States and especially to paragraph seventecn of section eight of article one of such constitution, the consent of the legislature of the State of California is hereby given to the United States to acquire, upon the conditions and for the purposes herein set forth, from any county or municipal corporation acting under the provisions of this act, title to all lands herein intended to be referred to; such title to be evidenced by a deed or deeds of such county or municipal corporation signed by the chairman of said board of supervisors or the chairman of said legislative body and attested by the clerk of such county or municipal corporation under seal, and consent of the State of California is hereby given to the exercise by the congress of the United States of exclusive jurisdiction in all cases whatsoever over such tracts or parcels of land so conveyed by it; subject, however, to the right of the state to have concurrent jurisdiction so far that all process, civil or criminal, issued under authority of the state may be executed by the proper officers thereof within such tract, upon any person or persons amenable to the same in like manner and with like effect as if such conveyance had not been made. The said board of supervisors or legislative body shall have the power to insert in every conveyance made under the authority of this act, such conditions subsequent as such board or legislative body shall deem necessary to insure the use of such lands by the United States government for the purposes herein mentioned and to carry out the provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 460.

An act to add a new section to be known as nine a thirty-four to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, said section relating to salaries of county librarians in counties of the twenty-second and thirty-fourth classes.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, to be numbered section nine a thirty-four, and to read as follows:

Sec. 9a34. In counties of the thirty-fourth class the salary of the county librarian shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum. In counties of the twenty-second class the salary of the county librarian shall be two thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

Counties of 34th class,
salary of librarian.

CHAPTER 461.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred sixty-three and to repeal section four thousand two hundred sixty-three a of the Political Code, relating to the compensation of officers of counties of the thirty-fourth class.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred sixty-three of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

4263. In counties of the thirty-fourth class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

Counties of 34th class,
salaries of officers.

1. The county clerk, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and when a new great register of voters is required by law to be made, he shall receive his actual clerk.

expenses in making said register and ten cents per name for every name registered, in lieu of the sum of five hundred dollars heretofore received for performing said duties. It is hereby found as a fact that the salary provided for in this subsection does not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbent.

Sheriff. 2. The sheriff, four thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

Recorder. 3. The recorder, three thousand four hundred dollars per annum.

Auditor. 4. The auditor, two thousand dollars per annum, and in lieu of fees heretofore paid him under the provisions of section four thousand ninety-nine a of the Political Code he shall receive an additional sum of five hundred dollars per annum as compensation for the extra duties imposed by said section four thousand ninety-nine a. It is hereby found as a fact that the salary provided for in this subsection does not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbent.

Treasurer. 5. The treasurer, two thousand dollars per annum.

Tax collector. 6. The tax collector, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum.

Assessor. 7. The assessor, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and his actual and necessary traveling expenses, when engaged in assessing the property of his county; provided, such traveling expenses shall not, in any one year, exceed the sum of three hundred dollars.

District attorney. 8. The district attorney, two thousand three hundred dollars per annum.

Coroner. 9. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

Public administrator. 10. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

Superintendent of schools. 11. The superintendent of schools, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county. In counties of this class the secretary of the county board of education shall receive the sum of five hundred dollars per annum, said salary to be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools. The compensation of the secretary of the county board of education of this county hereby provided is in lieu of the fees heretofore allowed under the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred seventy of this code.

It is hereby found as a fact that the salary provided for in this section does not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbent.

Surveyor. 12. The county surveyor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, he to furnish all necessary instruments; but transportation charges for field work shall be allowed him. He shall not be required to perform county work more than two-thirds of the working days in any month, except on payment of fees now allowed by law.

13. Justices of the peace, the following salaries to be paid ^{Justices of the peace.} each month as county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them as such justices of the peace: In townships having a population of five thousand and more, one hundred dollars; in townships having a population of twenty-five hundred and less than five thousand, sixty-five dollars; in townships having a population of fifteen hundred and less than twenty-five hundred, forty dollars; in townships having a population of one thousand and less than fifteen hundred, twenty-five dollars; in townships having a population of less than one thousand, ten dollars. Each justice must pay into the county treasury, once a month, all fees and all fines collected by him. In all townships having a population of less than five thousand, if there be more than one justice, the compensation or salary allowed herein shall be equally divided between them so that the sum total of their compensation shall not exceed the salary allowed herein for a single justice in such township.

14. Constables the following salaries, which shall be paid ^{Constables.} monthly as salaries of county officers are paid, and shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships having a population of twenty-five hundred or more, seventy dollars; in townships having a population of fifteen hundred and less than twenty-five hundred, forty-five dollars; in townships having a population of one thousand and less than fifteen hundred, thirty dollars; in townships having a population of less than one thousand, fifteen dollars. In addition to the monthly salary allowed herein, each constable may receive and retain for his own use, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all the services performed by him in civil actions. In all townships having a population of less than twenty-five hundred, if there be more than one constable, the compensation herein allowed shall be equally divided between them, so that the sum total of their monthly compensation shall not exceed the salary allowed herein for a single constable in each township. The board of supervisors shall, during each and every year, ascertain and determine the population of the several townships of the county for the purpose of ascertaining the compensation of township officers regulated by this section, in proportion to their duties.

15. Each supervisor, one thousand two hundred dollars per ^{Supervisors.} annum for all services performed by him as supervisor, member of the board of equalization and road commissioner.

SEC. 2. Section four thousand two hundred sixty-three ^{Repealed.} of the Political Code is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 462.

An act to amend section eight hundred sixty-two a of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, as amended.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p 761,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section eight hundred sixty-two a of the act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1888, as amended, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Powers of trustees in cities of 6th class.

Sec. 862*a*. In any city of the sixth class the board of trustees shall have power:

(a) Upon a petition signed by fifteen per cent of the registered, qualified electors of the city, to submit to the electors of the city the question whether a municipal hospital shall be established in said city; provided, that no municipal hospital has been already established therein. Said proposition may be submitted either at a general or special election and said election shall be conducted and the results thereof declared in conformity with the general election laws governing elections in cities of the sixth class. If a majority of the votes cast at said election are in favor of said proposition, the municipal hospital for said city shall be deemed established and shall be managed and conducted in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(b) To erect and maintain a municipal hospital whenever the same has been established as provided in subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) To prescribe rules for the government and management of any such hospital and the terms upon which patients may be admitted thereto.

(d) To appoint and fix the compensation of physicians, surgeons and other necessary officers and employees of such municipal hospital who shall hold their positions during the pleasure of the board of trustees.

(e) To acquire any and all property, real or personal by purchase or donation, and construct and equip such buildings as the board may deem necessary and suitable for the proper conduct of any such municipal hospital. In receiving any donation of money, the city may agree to pay the donor or donors interest upon the principal at a rate not exceeding seven per cent per annum, during the lifetime of the donors, or of any of them, or of the survivor, but not exceeding a period of forty years, and without repayment of the principal or any part thereof. In the case of the incurring of such indebtedness in favor of donors, the indebtedness shall be incurred and means for the payment thereof shall be provided in the manner prescribed by the provisions of the act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," in effect February 25, 1901, as amended, so far as the same may be applicable; provided, however, that the ordinance calling the election shall not contain any statement as to bonds that are to be issued, but shall in general terms describe the proposed donation, the purpose for which it is to be used, and the terms upon which the same is to be made and accepted.

Powers of trustees in cities of 6th class.

(f) To levy and collect annually a property tax for the maintenance of such municipal hospital and the interest charged on any donation accepted in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (d) of this section, and also for interest upon any bonded indebtedness created for the purchase or acquisition of any real or personal property for any such hospital, and the construction and equipment thereof, including a sinking fund for the payment of such bonds in the amount provided for in any such bond issue.

CHAPTER 463.

An act to add a new chapter to title fourteen of part two of the Code of Civil Procedure, to be numbered chapter eight, embracing sections one thousand sixty to one thousand sixty-two, both inclusive, relating to declaratory relief.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new chapter to be numbered eight is hereby added to title fourteen of part two of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to declaratory relief, and to read as follows:

CHAPTER VIII.

DECLARATORY RELIEF.

1060. Any person interested under a deed, will or other written instrument, or under a contract, or who desires a declaration of his rights or duties with respect to another, or in respect to, in, over or upon property, or with respect to the location of the natural channel of a water course, may, in cases of actual controversy relating to the legal rights and duties of the respective parties, bring an action in the superior court for a declaration of his rights and duties in the premises, including a determination of any question of construction or validity arising under such instrument or contract. He may ask for a declaration of rights or duties, either alone or with other relief; and the court may make a binding declaration of such rights or duties, whether or not further relief is or could be claimed at the time. The declaration may be either affirmative or negative in form and effect, and such declaration shall have the force of a final judgment. Such declaration may be had before there has been any breach of the obligation in respect to which said declaration is sought.

Power not exercised when 1061. The court may refuse to exercise the power granted by this chapter in any case where its declaration or determination is not necessary or proper at the time under all the circumstances.

Other remedies not affected.

1062. The remedies provided by this chapter are cumulative, and shall not be construed as restricting any remedy, provisional or otherwise, provided by law for the benefit of any party to such action, and no judgment under this chapter shall preclude any party from obtaining additional relief based upon the same facts.

CHAPTER 464.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred sixty seven of the Political Code, relating to the salaries of county and township officers and their deputies in counties of the thirty-eighth class, and fixing the mileage and per diem of grand and trial jurors in such counties.

20. The following provisions of this act, in relation to compensation, deputies, fees and expenses, to wit: subdivision two; and (a) of subdivision eleven, respectively, are intended to affect present incumbents and shall take effect and be in force ninety days after the final adjournment of the legislature.

CHAPTER 466.

An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of municipal hospitals within cities of the fifth and sixth classes.

[Approved May 26, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Establishment of municipal hospital in cities of fifth and sixth class.

SECTION 1. The board of trustees of any incorporated city of the fifth or sixth class in the State of California, must upon a petition signed by fifteen per cent of the registered, qualified electors of the city submit to the electors of the city the question whether a municipal hospital shall be established in said city; provided, that no municipal hospital has been already established therein. Said proposition may be submitted either at a general or special election and said election shall be conducted and the results thereof declared in conformity with the general election laws governing elections in cities of the fifth or sixth class, as the case may be. If a majority of the votes cast at said election are in favor of said proposition the municipal hospital for said city shall be deemed established and shall be managed and conducted in accordance with the provisions hereof.

Board of
trustees.

SEC. 2. Such municipal hospital shall be managed by a board designated as the board of hospital trustees, consisting of seven members to be appointed by the president of the board of trustees, by and with the consent of the legislative body of said city. Such trustees shall severally hold office for three years, serving without compensation; provided, that the members of the first board appointed shall so classify themselves by lot that two of their number shall go out of office at the end of the current fiscal year, two at the end of one year thereafter and the other three at the end of two years thereafter. Residents and nonresidents shall be equally eligible to such appointment and vacancies shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term in the same manner.

SEC. 3. Board of hospital trustees shall meet at least once a month at such times and places as they may fix by resolution. Special meetings may be called at any time by three trustees, by written notice served upon each member at least three hours before the time specified for the proposed meeting. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Such boards shall appoint one of their number president who shall serve for one year and until his successor is appointed and in his absence shall select a president pro tem. Such board shall cause a proper record of their proceedings to be kept.

SEC. 4. The boards of hospital trustees shall have power:

First—To make and enforce all rules, regulations and by-laws necessary for the administration, government, protection and maintenance of municipal hospitals under their management and all property belonging thereto.

Second—To administer any trust declared or created for such hospitals, and received by gift, devise, or bequest and hold in trust or otherwise, property situated in this state or elsewhere, and where not otherwise provided, dispose of the same for the benefit of such hospitals.

Third—To prescribe the duties and powers of the manager, secretary and other officers and employees of any such hospitals; to determine the number of and appoint all such officers and employees, and to fix their compensation, which said officers and employees shall hold their offices or positions at the pleasure of said boards.

Fourth—To purchase all necessary surgical instruments and hospital equipment and equipment for nurses' homes and all other property necessary for equipping a hospital and nurses home.

Fifth—To purchase such real property, and erect or rent and equip such buildings or building, room or rooms as may be necessary, when in their judgment a suitable building, or such portions thereof, has not been provided by the legislative body of the municipality for such hospital.

Sixth—To establish a nurses' training school in connection with such hospital, to prescribe a course of study for same and after the completion of same, to provide for the issuance of diplomas to graduate nurses.

Seventh—To do any and all things which an individual might do which is necessary for and to the advantage of a municipal hospital and a nurses training school.

Eighth—To do any and all other acts and things necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 5. Boards of hospital trustees shall, on or before the last day of July in each year, make a report to the legislative body of their municipality, giving the condition of the hospital on the thirtieth day of June preceding, together with a statement of their proceedings for the year then ended.

Tax levy.

SEC. 6. The legislative body of any municipality in which a municipal hospital has been established in accordance with this act, shall in making the annual tax levy and as a part thereof, if provision has not been otherwise made therefor levy a tax for the purposes of maintaining such hospital and purchasing property therefor including any other indebtedness incurred under the provisions of section four hereof by said board of hospital trustees, which tax shall be in addition to other taxes, the levy of which is permitted in a municipality; provided, that the board of trustees of any such municipality may, in lieu of such tax, levy for the purchase of property necessary for such hospital or the necessary surgical instruments or hospital equipment or equipment for nurses homes, raise the funds necessary therefor by a bond issue of such municipality under and pursuant to the provisions of an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction or completion thereof" in effect February 25, 1901, as amended, and said act shall be applicable to such bond issue, and for the purpose of issuance of such bonds each and all of said purposes for which a tax levy may be made hereunder shall be deemed a municipal improvement within the meaning of said bond act.

Hospital fund.

SEC. 7. The revenue derived from said tax, together with all money acquired by gift, devise, bequest, or otherwise, for the purposes of the hospital, shall be apportioned to a fund to be designated the hospital fund, and be applied to the purposes herein authorized. If such payment into the treasury should be inconsistent with the conditions or terms of any such gift, devise or bequest, the board shall provide for the safety and preservation of the same, and the application thereof to the use of the hospital, in accordance with the terms and conditions of such gift, devise or bequest. Payments for this fund shall be made upon warrants issued after due audit, by and on order from the hospital trustees, which warrants shall be signed by the president and secretary of said board of hospital trustees. The treasurer of the municipality shall pay such warrants without any further order or warrant from any other authority.

Title in municipality.

SEC. 8. The title to all property acquired for the purposes of such hospitals, when not inconsistent with the terms of its acquisition, or otherwise designated, shall vest in the municipalities in which such hospitals are, or are to be situated, and in the name of the municipal corporations may be sued for and defended by action at law or otherwise.

CHAPTER 467.

An act to amend sections four hundred forty-three, four hundred sixty-one, one thousand five hundred thirty-two, one thousand five hundred forty-three, one thousand six hundred eighteen, one thousand eight hundred seventeen, one thousand eight hundred eighteen, and one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to schools and school revenues.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four hundred forty-three of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

443. On or before the thirty-first day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, and on or before the thirtieth day of June and the thirty-first day of December in each succeeding calendar year, the state controller shall transfer from the general fund of the state, to the state school fund, such sums in addition to the funds provided by the constitution for the support of the common schools and any other funds paid into the state school fund from other sources or made available by any provision of law for the support of the elementary schools of the state as shall provide in said fund for distribution in each school year in such manner as the legislature shall provide an amount not less than thirty dollars per pupil in average daily attendance in the day and evening elementary schools in the public school system during the next preceding school year.

Transfer by controller of money to school fund

SEC. 2. Section four hundred sixty-one of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

461. The state treasurer shall transfer from the general fund to the state school fund such sums as shall be certified to him by the state controller under the provisions of section four hundred forty-three of the Political Code.

Transfer by
treasurer

SEC. 3. Section one thousand five hundred thirty-two of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

1532. It is the duty of the superintendent of public instruction:

Duties of superintendent
of public instruction

First—To superintend the schools of this state.

Second—To report to the governor, on or before the fifteenth day of September preceding each regular session of the legislature, a statement of the condition of the public elementary and secondary schools, the state normal schools and other educational institutions, supported in whole or in part by the state.

Report to governor

Tabular statements accompanying report.

Third—To accompany his report with tabular statements, showing the number attending public schools, and the average attendance; the amount of state school fund apportioned, and the sources from which derived; the amount raised by county, city and county and district taxes, or from other sources of revenue, for school purposes; and the amount expended for salaries of teachers, for building schoolhouses, for district school libraries, and for incidental expenses.

Apportion
funds.

Fourth—To apportion the state school fund, and to furnish an abstract of such apportionment to the state controller, the state board of control, and to the county and city and county auditors, county and city and county treasurers and to the county and city and county superintendents of schools of the several counties and cities and counties of the state.

In apportioning said funds, he shall apportion to every county and to every city and county, seven hundred dollars for each and every teacher determined and assigned to the county, or city and county on average daily attendance by the report of the county or city and county superintendent of schools for the next preceding year as required of the county or city and county superintendent of schools by the provisions of section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code, and after thus apportioning seven hundred dollars on the teacher basis, he shall apportion the balance of the state school fund to the several counties or cities and counties according to their average daily attendance as shown by the reports of the county or city and county superintendents of schools for the next preceding school year.

Certify
ment.

Fifth—To certify his apportionment of school moneys to the state controller, who must thereupon draw a warrant in favor of the treasurer of each county, or city and county, for the amount so apportioned to that county, or city and county.

Prepare blanks.

Sixth—To prepare, have printed, and furnish all officers charged with the administration of the laws relating to the public schools, and to teachers, such blank forms and books as may be necessary to the discharge of their duties, including blank teachers' certificates to be used by county and city and county boards of education.

Compile school laws.

Seventh—To have the laws relating to the public schools printed in pamphlet form, and to supply school officers and school libraries with one copy each.

Visit orphan
asylums.

Eighth—To visit the several orphan asylums to which state appropriations are made, and examine into the course of instruction therein.

Visit
schools.

Ninth—To visit the schools in the different counties, and inquire into their condition; and the actual traveling expenses thus incurred, provided that they do not exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the general fund in the same manner as other claims are audited and paid.

Tenth—To authenticate with his official seal all drafts or orders drawn by him, and all papers and writings issued from his office. Authenticate orders.

Eleventh—To have bound, at the state bindery, all valuable school reports, journals, and documents in his office, or hereafter received by him. Bind documents

Twelfth—To report to the controller, on or before the tenth day of September of each year, the total average daily attendance in the elementary day and evening schools including the special day and evening elementary school classes, the average daily attendance in the day and evening high schools including the special day and evening high school classes, as shown by the annual reports of the county superintendents of the several counties on file in his office for the school year immediately preceding, and the average daily attendance of pupils upon each of such part-time vocational courses as are established and maintained by each high school district under the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of this code, and as are shown by these reports and approved by the commissioner of vocational education. Report daily attendance.

Thirteenth—To deliver over, at the expiration of his term of office, on demand, to his successor, all property, books, documents, maps, records, reports, and other papers belonging to his office, or which may have been received by him for the use of his office. Deliver records to successor.

Fourteenth—To visit and inspect each state normal school from time to time, inquire into its condition and management, require such reports as he may deem proper from the teachers of the school and exercise general supervision over the same. Inspect state normal schools.

Fifteenth—Not later than the tenth day of August in each year to prepare an estimate of the amount of state school money that will be apportioned to each county or city and county during the current school year, and to furnish a certified copy of such estimate to each county or city and county superintendent of schools. Estimate amount of state school money.

SEC. 4. Section one thousand five hundred forty-three of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

1543. It is the duty of the superintendent of schools of each county:

First—To superintend the schools of his county. Duties of county superintendent of schools.

Second—To apportion the school moneys to each school district as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code, at least four times a year. For this purpose he may require of the county auditor a report of the amount of all school moneys on hand to the credit of the several school funds of the county not already apportioned: and it is hereby made the duty of the auditor to furnish such report when so required. If at the beginning of any school year any school district shall have an unincumbered balance in its maintenance funds which combined with its total estimated income to be received for maintenance purposes from all sources other than district taxes during the current year shall exceed a sum of money sufficient to maintain and conduct the schools of the district during the current year. then the county superintendent of schools shall in the month of August of that school year transfer a sum of money from the maintenance funds of that district to the unapportioned school funds of the county, or city and county, equal to eighty per cent of the excess estimated as herein provided.

Requisitions upon county
auditor

Third—(a) On the order of the board of school trustees, or board of education of any city having a board of education, to draw his requisition upon the county auditor for all necessary expenses against the school fund of any district. The requisitions must be drawn in the order in which the orders therefor are filed in his office. Each requisition must specify the purpose for which it is drawn, but no requisition shall be drawn upon the order of the board of school trustees or board of education against the funds of any district except the teachers' or janitors' salaries, unless such order is accompanied by an itemized bill showing the separate items, and the price of each, in payment for which the order is drawn; nor shall any requisition for teachers' or janitors' salaries be drawn unless the order shall state the monthly salary of teacher or janitor, and name the months for which such salary is due. Upon the receipt of such requisition the auditor shall draw his warrant upon the county treasurer in favor of the parties for the amount stated in such requisition. The order of the board of school trustees, or board of education, shall be made only on the form of blank prescribed by the county superintendent of schools and approved by the superintendent of public instruction; provided, that said blanks shall be printed and furnished to the school districts by the board of supervisors of the respective counties of the state, and when signed by at least two members of the board of trustees, or the officials authorized to sign orders for the board of education, shall be transmitted to the superintendent, who shall, in case he approve such demand, indorse upon it, "examined and approved." together with the number and date when approved, and shall, in attestation thereof, affix his signature thereto, and deliver the same to the claimant, or his order, who shall transmit the same to the auditor, who shall, in case he allows said demand, indorse upon it "allowed." together with the number and date when allowed, and shall, in attestation thereof, affix his signature thereto, and deliver the same to the claimant and make a proper record thereof and charge against the particular fund of the particular district against which such demand was allowed; and said demand when so approved and signed by the superintendent, and when so allowed and signed by the auditor, shall constitute the requisition on the auditor, and the warrant on the treasury within the meaning of this act; and provided, further, that, the county superintendent of schools, after examining and approving any demand, may transmit the same directly to the county auditor, who after allowing such demand shall return the same to the county superintendent of schools, who shall thereupon return said demand to the governing board of the school district, which shall issue said demand to the claimant or to his order.

(b) On the order of the board of trustees or board of education of any elementary school district located within, or having the same boundaries as, a high school district which has established an intermediate school course as provided for in section one thousand seven hundred fifty a of the Political Code, to transfer from the school funds of such elementary school district to the fund of the board having control of such intermediate school course, such sum as may be agreed upon, as provided in section one thousand six hundred seventeen d of the Political Code, by said board of trustees or board of education and said board having control of such intermediate school course, for the tuition of pupils residing in such elementary school district and attending such intermediate school course; provided, that all of the funds so transferred shall be applied exclusively to the support of the grades of such intermediate school course corresponding to the seventh and eighth grades of the regular elementary schools.

Transfer funds for intermediate school
course.

Fourth—To keep, open to the inspection of the public, a register of warrants, showing the fund upon which the requisitions have been drawn, the number thereof, in whose favor, and for what purpose they were drawn, and also a receipt from the person to whom the requisition was delivered.

Register of warrants.

Fifth—To visit and examine each school in his county at least once in each year. For every school not so visited the board of supervisors must, on proof thereof, deduct ten dollars from his salary.

Examine
schools.

Sixth—To preside over teachers' institutes held in his county, and to secure the attendance thereof of lecturers competent to instruct in the art of teaching, and to report to the county board of education the names of all teachers in the county who fail to attend regularly the sessions of the institute; to enforce the course of study, the use of state textbooks, and of high school textbooks regularly adopted by proper authority, and the rules and regulations for the examination of teachers prescribed by the proper authority.

Teachers' institutes.

Seventh—When he finds that the service makes it necessary and desirable, to issue temporary certificates as follows:

Temporary
certificates.

(a) A temporary kindergarten certificate to the holder of a valid kindergarten certificate issued by a county board of education of California, or to the holder of a credential issued by a school authorized by the state board of education to recommend teachers for kindergarten certificates in the State of California or a credential issued by the state board of education recommending the holder to receive a kindergarten primary certificate.

(b) A temporary elementary school certificate to the holder of a valid county certificate issued by a county board of education of California, or to the holder of a diploma issued by a California state normal school or other state normal school accredited by the state board of education, or a credential issued by the state board of education recommending the holder to receive an elementary certificate.

(c) A temporary secondary school certificate to the holder of a valid county certificate of secondary grade granted by a county board of education of California, or to the holder of a valid credential of secondary grade issued by a university authorized by the state board of education to recommend candidates for the high school certificate in California or to the holder of a state board high school credential.

(d) A temporary special certificate of elementary grade or of secondary grade to the holder of a special certificate of like grade issued by a county board of education in California, or to the holder of a recommendation of like grade in special subjects issued by an institution authorized by the state board of education to recommend persons for special certificates in the State of California, or to the holder of a credential of like grade in special subjects issued by the state board of education of California; provided, that a temporary special certificate may be issued only in such subjects as are listed in the certificate, recommendation, or credential upon which it is granted.

(e) A temporary health and development certificate, or an attendance officer certificate, or junior high school certificate, may be issued on credentials granted by the state board of education recommending the holder to receive such certificate.

(f) A temporary certificate issued between July first and December first shall expire on the January first following, and a temporary certificate when issued between December first and June twenty-ninth shall expire on the July first following; provided, that no person shall be entitled to receive a temporary certificate more than once in the same county.

Preliminary certificates.

Eighth—To issue to persons in training for the teaching service "preliminary certificates" of a temporary character as follows:

(a) Upon a recommendation signed by the president, principal or director of a California school authorized by the state board of education to train teachers for kindergarten teaching, a preliminary certificate of kindergarten grade which shall authorize the holder thereof to do cadet-teaching without salary in any kindergarten school of the county.

(b) To a person holding a recommendation from a California state normal school a preliminary certificate of elementary grade which shall authorize the holder thereof to do cadet-teaching without salary in any subject in any elementary school of the county.

(c) To the holder of a recommendation from a university in this state authorized by the state board of education to issue recommendations for high school certificates, a preliminary certificate of secondary grade which shall authorize the holder thereof to do cadet-teaching without salary in any elementary or secondary school of the county.

(d) To the holder of a recommendation from a California institution authorized by the state board of education to issue credentials for teachers of special subjects, or to the holder of a recommendation from the secretary of the state board of education, under regulations proscribed by said board, a preliminary special certificate of elementary or secondary grade as specified in said recommendation. Said preliminary special certificate shall authorize the holder thereof to do cadet-teaching without salary in the special subjects listed in the recommendation upon which the preliminary certificate has been granted in any school of like grade in the county.

No such preliminary certificate shall be granted for a period exceeding two years, nor shall the superintendent of schools collect a fee therefor.

Ninth—To distribute all laws, reports, circulars, instructions, and blanks which he may receive for the use of school officers. Distribute laws, etc.

Tenth—To keep in his office the reports of the superintendent of public instruction. Keep reports.

Eleventh—To keep a record of his official acts, and of all the proceedings of the county board of education, including a record of the standing, in each study, of all applicants examined, which shall be open to the inspection of any applicant or his authorized agent. Keep record of acts.

Twelfth—Except in incorporated cities having boards of education, to pass upon and approve or reject all plans for schoolhouses. To enable him to do so, all boards of trustees, before adopting any plans for school buildings, must submit the same to the county superintendent for his approval. Approve plans for school houses.

Thirteenth—To appoint trustees to fill all vacancies in elementary school districts as provided in section one thousand five hundred ninety-three of the Political Code or as may be otherwise provided by law; to appoint trustees to fill all vacancies in high school districts as provided in section one thousand seven hundred thirty-one of the Political Code or as may be otherwise provided by law; to appoint trustees in new elementary school districts to hold office until the first day of May next succeeding their appointment. In case of the failure of the board of school trustees to appoint a clerk of the district on the proper date or in case of a vacancy in the position of clerk of the district, the superintendent shall appoint a member of the board of school trustees clerk of the district. In case of the failure of the trustees to employ a janitor, as provided in section one thousand six hundred seventeen, subdivision seventh, of this code, he shall appoint a janitor, who shall be paid out of the school fund of the district. Should the board of school trustees of any district fail or refuse to issue an order for the compensation of such service, the superintendent is hereby authorized to issue, without such order, his requisition upon the county school fund apportioned to such district.

Make reports

Fourteenth—To make reports, when directed by the superintendent of public instruction, showing such matters relating to the public schools in his county as may be required of him.

Preserve reports.

Fifteenth—To preserve carefully all reports of school officers and teachers, and, at the close of his official term, deliver to his successor all records, books, documents, and papers belonging to the office, taking a receipt for the same, which will be filed in the office of the county clerk.

Grade schools.

Sixteenth—The county superintendent shall, unless otherwise provided by law, in the month of July of each year grade each school, and a record thereof shall be made in a book to be kept by the county superintendent in his office for this purpose. And no teacher holding a certificate below the grade of said school shall be employed to teach the same.

Contract for Indian children.

Seventeenth—On the recommendation of the county superintendent of schools, boards of school trustees and city boards of education are hereby empowered to enter into contract with the national government to receive money from said national government for the Indian children in attendance in the schools under the jurisdiction of said boards, in addition to any money that may be appropriated for such schools by the state and the county. Any money received on such contract shall be transmitted to the county superintendent of schools to be by him paid into the county treasury to the credit of the special school fund of such school district. Any required amount of money so received may be used to provide suitable housing quarters for the teacher or teachers and to meet the necessary expenses of erecting, equipping and caring for the school property; and also for the purpose of purchasing food or clothing or both for pupils in cases of absolute necessity and want. On the receipt of such money the superintendent shall notify the clerk of the board of school trustees of the receipt of the money.

Emergency and supervision fund.

Eighteenth—The superintendent of schools of the county, or city and county, shall use the money allowed and apportioned under section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight, third, of this code, as an emergency and supervision fund, for the employment of duly qualified teachers to supervise the work of teaching in the school districts of the county, or city and county, which had less than three hundred pupils in average daily attendance during the next preceding school year, for the payment of the salaries of teachers employed by him to visit, at least twice a month, and to instruct pupils and to direct the education of pupils who live more than five miles from the nearest public school in the district of which they are residents, and such other pupils residing in the school district as may not be able to attend the public school for reasons which are deemed good and sufficient by the superintendent of schools of the county, or city and county in which such pupils reside; and for employing and paying the salary of teachers when unexpected emergencies arise, requiring the services of teachers and no other means of supplying teachers are available.

SEC. 5. Section one thousand six hundred eighteen of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1618. First—The board of education of any city, or city and county, or the board of school trustees of any school district in this state may in its discretion establish and maintain separate classes in the elementary grades of the public schools for the education of deaf children by the pure oral system for teaching the deaf whenever there are five or more children between three and twenty-one years of age who are unable to hear common conversation by reason of deafness and who will attend such separate classes upon the establishment of the same. Classes for deaf children

Second—The board of education of any city or city and county or the board of school trustees of any school district in this state may in their discretion establish and maintain separate classes in the elementary grades of the public schools for the education of blind children whenever there are five or more blind children between the ages of three and twenty-one years who will attend such separate classes for the blind whenever the same are established. Classes for blind children.

Third—The board of education of any city or city and county or the board of school trustees of any school district in this state may in their discretion establish and maintain separate classes in the elementary grades of the public schools for the education of crippled children whenever there are five or more crippled children between the ages of three and twenty-one years who are unable to attend the regular full time day schools by reason of their crippled condition and who will attend a separate class for crippled children whenever such class is established. Classes for crippled children.

SEC. 6. Section one thousand eight hundred seventeen of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

1817. The county superintendent of schools of every county, and of every city and county, must, at least ten days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors of such county, or city and county, is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county, or city and county purposes, furnish to the board of supervisors and to the auditor, respectively, an estimate in writing of the minimum amount of county or city and county elementary school fund needed for the current school year. This amount he must compute as follows: Estimate of school fund.

He shall calculate the amount required to be raised at thirty dollars per pupil in average daily attendance in the public day and evening elementary schools of the county or city and county for the next preceding school year.

He shall compare the amount thus determined with the estimated amount to be received from the state school fund for the support of the public day and evening elementary schools of the county or city and county for the current school year as shown by the report and estimate of the state superintendent of public instruction, made to him not later than August fifteenth of the current year.

He shall report in writing to the board of supervisors the larger of the two amounts as the minimum amount of county or city and county school money required to be raised by a county or city and county school tax for the support of the public day and evening elementary schools of the county or city and county for the current school year.

SEC. 7. Section one thousand eight hundred eighteen of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

L levy of elementary school tax.

1818. The board of supervisors of each county or city and county must annually, at the time and in the manner of levying other county or city and county taxes, levy and cause to be collected for the county or city and county elementary school fund a tax to be known as the county, or city and county elementary school tax, and fix a rate sufficient to raise an amount not less than the amount estimated to be raised by the county superintendent of schools of the county or city and county, in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eight hundred seventeen of the Political Code, after deducting therefrom the total amount received for school purposes from the United States forest reserve fund and from poll tax collections during the previous fiscal year.

The supervisors must determine the minimum rate of the county or city and county school tax as follows:

They must deduct five per cent from the equalized value of the last general assessment roll and the amount required to be raised divided by the remainder of the assessment roll, is the rate to be levied; but if any fraction of a cent occur, it must be taken as a full cent on each one hundred dollars.

Special fund for teachers'
salaries.

(a) In every county, or city and county, constituting but one school district, a portion of the school funds for any fiscal year subsequent to the present fiscal year equal in amount to the sum total of teachers' salaries for the next preceding fiscal year payable out of the school fund in question, shall constitute a special fund, to be used only for the payment of teachers' salaries as hereinafter provided, and to be known as the teachers' salary fund; provided, that no portion of any school fund consisting of moneys which are applicable exclusively to some special purpose defined by statute other than the payment of teachers' salaries shall be deemed a part of such school fund for the purposes of this act. Out of the teachers' salary fund shall be paid the salaries of all teachers holding in the fiscal year positions which existed in the preceding fiscal year. No other demands whatsoever shall be paid out of such fund. If, by any increase in the rate of salaries, or for any other cause, such fund should be insufficient to pay all of the salaries which constitute demands against it such fund shall be divided pro rata among such demands, and the portion of such demands unpaid shall be payable out of any available money in the school fund of which said teachers' salary fund constitutes a part. If teachers' positions other than or in addition to those which existed in the preceding fiscal year are created, the salaries of teachers holding such different or additional positions shall not be paid out of the teachers' salary fund, but out of any other available moneys; but the amount of such salaries shall be included in determining the amount of the teachers' salary fund for the succeeding fiscal year. If there remain in any fiscal year any money in any teachers' salary fund after the payment of all legal demands for such year against such fund, such money so remaining shall be transferred to the general school fund of which said teachers' salary fund is a part, and shall become available for the payment of any unpaid lawful demands against such general fund. It shall be the duty of any officer whose duty it is to audit demands against the school fund of any such county, or city and county in this state, on or before the first Monday of the fiscal year, to file with the board of supervisors of such county, or city and county, and with the officer whose duty it is to pay demands against the school fund of any such county, or city and county, a certified copy of the statement made by him of the amount of money used in such county, or city and county, for the payment of teachers' salaries for the next preceding fiscal year, and no demands against the school funds of such county, or city and county, shall be allowed, audited, or paid until said copies shall have been filed, as aforesaid. The allowance, audit, or payment of any demand out of a teachers' salary fund in violation of this act, may be enjoined by the suit of any teacher whose salary is payable from said fund. The members of the governing body of any such county, or city and county, in this state, who shall pass a demand against said teachers' salary fund in violation of the provisions of this act, and any officer whose duty it is to audit demands against such fund and who shall audit a demand against such teachers' salary fund in violation of the provisions of this act, and any officer whose duty it is to pay demands against such funds, and who shall pay a demand against said teachers' salary fund in violation of this act, shall each be jointly and severally liable therefor to any teacher whose salary is payable from said fund who shall have been damaged by the allowance, audit, and payment of such demand.

SEC. 8. Section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

1858. The school superintendent of every county and city and county must apportion all state and county school moneys for the elementary grades of his county or city and county as follows:

First—He must ascertain the number of teachers each school district is entitled to by calculating one teacher for the first thirty-five or a less number of pupils in average daily

Apportionment for elementary grades.

Number of teachers in each district.

attendance and one additional teacher for each additional thirty-five pupils or fraction of thirty-five pupils in average daily attendance, in the district, and one additional teacher for each three hundred pupils in average daily attendance in the district as shown by the annual school report of the school district for the next preceding school year; and in each school district wherein a separate class is established for the instruction of the deaf, or the blind, or the crippled, as provided in section one thousand six hundred eighteen of this code, an additional teacher for each nine deaf, or blind, or crippled children, or fraction of such number not less than five actually attending such class as shown by the school report of the school district for the next preceding school year; and in addition to the teachers herein before provided for each school district of the county or city and county, he must calculate one additional teacher for the county or city and county for each five hundred pupils or a major fraction thereof in average daily attendance in the aggregate in those school districts of the county, or city and county, in each one of which there were less than three hundred pupils in average daily attendance as shown by the annual school report of the county, or city and county for the next preceding school year.

Number of teachers in
county.

Second—He must ascertain the total number of teachers for the county or city and county by adding together the number of teachers allowed as provided in subdivision one hereof. He must make an annual report of the schools of his county or city and county under oath, to the superintendent of public instruction not later than August first of each year and must report the number of teachers ascertained or allowed to his county or city and county by the rule or provisions of subdivision one hereof.

Apportion-
ment.

Third—One thousand four hundred dollars shall be apportioned to each school district for each and every teacher allowed to it; provided, that one thousand four hundred dollars shall be apportioned to each county or city and county for each teacher allowed on the aggregate average daily attendance of pupils in attendance in the various school districts, each of which had less than three hundred pupils in average daily attendance for the next preceding school year and the funds thus apportioned shall constitute an emergency and supervision fund under the control of the superintendent of schools of the county or city and county, and shall be used by him as provided by law.

Remainder apportioned by daily attendance.

Fourth—All school moneys remaining on hand after apportioning school moneys as provided for in subdivision three of this section, must be apportioned to the several districts in proportion to the number of pupils in average daily attendance in each school district during the next preceding school year.

In any newly organized school district where school was not maintained during the school year in which it was organized the county superintendent of schools must apportion one thousand four hundred dollars to the newly organized school district for the purpose of maintaining school therein during the school year next succeeding the school year in which it was organized.

If, in any school year, any existing school district shall be suspended by the board of supervisors upon the recommendation of the county superintendent of schools, one thousand four hundred dollars shall be apportioned to such suspended school district during the year in which such district was suspended and such portion of such sum of money as may be needed may be used from time to time to insure and maintain the school property of the suspended district.

Fifth—A minimum full day's attendance on the regular full-time elementary day school as hereby established is, for a pupil of the first, second, or third grade, two hundred minutes, and for a pupil of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, or eighth grade, two hundred forty minutes, of actual attendance for any given day upon school sessions, exclusive of intermissions. When a pupil is absent from the first, second, or third grade of a regular full-time day school, for any day, session, or part of a session, five per cent of a day's absence must be recorded for each full ten-minute period of absence; and when a pupil is absent from any other grade of said elementary school for any day, session or part of a session, five per cent of a day's absence must be recorded for each full twelve-minute period of absence; provided, however, that such record may not for any one day exceed one hundred per cent. The actual attendance of a pupil upon a regular full-time day school for any given length of time shall be the number of days school was actually taught during such time less the sum of his absences. Attendance upon evening schools and special day and special evening classes of day schools of elementary and secondary grade shall be kept according to regulations prescribed by the state board of education. A full day's attendance upon such schools or classes shall be four sixty-minute hours. Units of average daily attendance in elementary schools shall be construed to be the quotient arising from dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance in the regular full-time day and evening elementary schools including the special day and evening classes of the elementary schools of the district for the school year by the number of days school was actually taught in the regular elementary day schools of the district during said year; and units of average daily attendance in secondary schools shall be construed to be the quotient arising from dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance in the regular full-time secondary schools, the evening secondary schools, the special day and evening classes of secondary schools, and the part-time vocational courses of the district for the school year by the number of days school was actually taught in the regular secondary day schools of the district during said year; provided, that where a high school maintains during the school year four terms of school of at least twelve weeks each, and where the course of instruction is so arranged that students may complete a full year's work in any three of these terms, the total number of days of pupils' attendance, as specified above, shall be divided by the greatest number of days school was actually taught in any three of the four terms, but in no case shall said divisor be less than one hundred seventy-five; provided, further, that in making up the aggregate attendance, if the number of days of attendance of any pupil for the fiscal year exceeds the above-mentioned divisor, the number of days which may be included on account of such pupil's attendance shall equal said divisor.

Uniform regulations governing attendance.

Sixth—Subject to the provisions of this code, the state board of education shall adopt uniform regulations governing the keeping of attendance in all secondary schools. In adopting regulations governing the keeping of the attendance of pupils upon the part-time vocational courses provided for in section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of this code, the state board may, in its discretion, provide that the time spent by a pupil in practical vocational work shall be counted in making up each six-hour minimum daily unit of attendance.

Where school closed because of contagious disease, etc.

Seventh—Where a school in a district maintaining more than one school is closed for a part of a term by order of a city or county board of health or of the state board of health, on account of contagious disease, or where such school has been closed on account of fire, flood or other public disaster, the average daily attendance of said school shall be estimated separately and added to the average daily attendance of the other schools of the district. The units of average daily attendance of said school shall be determined by dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance upon such school including the special day and evening classes and the part-time vocational courses by the number of full-day sessions actually maintained in such school during the year; provided, that where such number is less than one hundred twenty days the divisor shall be one hundred twenty.

When districts do not have sufficient funds.

Eighth—Whenever in any school year, prior to the receipt by the school districts of any county, or city and county of this state, of their state, county, or city and county, or special or high school fund, the school districts of that county, or city and county shall not have sufficient money to their credit to pay the lawful demands against them, the county or city and county superintendent shall give the treasurer of said county or city and county, an estimate of the amount of school money that will next be paid into the county or city and county treasury, stating the amount to be appropriated to each district. Upon the receipt of such estimate it shall be the duty of the treasurer of said county, or city and county, to transfer from any fund not immediately needed to pay the claims against it, to the proper school fund an amount not to exceed ninety per cent of the amount estimated by the superintendent, and he shall immediately notify the superintendent of the amount so transferred. The funds so transferred to the school fund shall be retransferred by the treasurer to the fund from which they were taken, from the first money paid into the school fund after the transfer.

CHAPTER 468.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred thirty-three of the Political Code, relating to conventions of county and city superintendents.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred thirty-three of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1533. He shall have power to call, annually, a convention of the county, city and district superintendents, to assemble at such time and place as he shall deem most convenient, for the discussion of questions pertaining to the supervision and administration of the public schools, the laws relating thereto, and such other subjects affecting the welfare and interest of the public schools as shall properly be brought before it. It is hereby made the duty of all county and city superintendents and of all district superintendents in districts employing fifty teachers or more to attend and take part in the proceedings of such convention when it is called. The actual expenses of the county superintendents attending the convention shall be allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the general fund; the actual expenses of the city superintendents and of all district superintendents in districts employing fifty teachers or more attending the convention shall be allowed and paid out of the same fund as the salary of such city or district superintendents is paid.

Conventions of county
and city superintendents.

CHAPTER 469.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred fifty-two of the Political Code, relating to the county superintendent of schools.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred fifty-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1552. Each county superintendent shall receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses, said expenses to be allowed by the board of supervisors, and to be paid out of the county general fund; provided, that this amount shall not exceed ten dollars per district per annum; provided, further, that in any city and county each three hundred pupils enrolled in such city and county, as shown by the last report to the superintendent of public instruction, shall be considered equal to one school district.

Expenses of
county
superintendent of schools.

Each county superintendent shall also receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses, when with the approval of the board of supervisors, he attends any convention or conference to which he is called by the state board of education or the superintendent of public instruction, and when the board of supervisors delegates him to perform service outside of his county.

CHAPTER 470.

An act to accept the provisions and benefits of an act passed by the senate and the house of representatives of the United States congress assembled and approved February 25, 1920, entitled "An act to promote the mining of coal, phosphate, oil, oil shale, gas and sodium on the public domain" and setting aside the funds received by the state under the provisions of said act of congress.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Assent given to federal oil leasing act.

SECTION 1. The assent of the State of California is hereby given to the provisions in the act of congress of the United States entitled, "An act to promote the mining of coal, phosphate, oil, oil shale, gas and sodium on the public domain," and approved by the President of the United States, February 25, 1920.

Moneys credited to state junior college

SEC. 2. All moneys derived from bonuses, royalties and rentals under the provisions of said act of congress hereinbefore referred to, and apportioned under said act to the State of California, shall be received by the state treasurer and by him credited to the state junior college fund which is hereby created: provided, that if the amount so received by the state treasurer shall exceed the amount required to be apportioned to junior college districts as hereinafter provided, then all moneys apportioned under said act of congress to the State of California, in excess of the amount of state junior college fund so computed, shall be credited by him to the state school fund provided for in section six of article nine of the constitution of the State of California, as a part of the minimum amount of the state school fund therein required to be set aside for day and evening elementary schools. The superintendent of public instruction shall on or before September fifteenth of each year certify to the state treasurer and to the state controller the total number of students in average daily attendance in the junior college districts of the state during the next preceding school year and the total amount of money that should be set aside to be apportioned to the junior colleges as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 3. Each junior college district maintaining an accredited junior college, after the first full school year said junior college has been maintained, shall be entitled to receive from the junior college fund two thousand dollars per annum as the junior college allotment, and in addition thereto, one hundred dollars per unit of average daily attendance during the preceding school year; provided, that no junior college district shall receive any apportionment from the state unless it has provided during the preceding school year for the maintenance of the junior college an amount at least equal to the amount apportioned by the state. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction to apportion the state junior college fund in accordance with the provisions of this section. The state treasurer shall notify the state controller of all amounts that may be set aside for the junior college fund and the state controller must keep a separate account of the state junior college fund and must on the first Monday in January and on the first Monday in July of every year report to the superintendent of public instruction a statement of all moneys belonging to said fund. He must draw his warrant on the state treasurer whenever such treasurer presents, with his endorsement, an order drawn by the superintendent of public instruction against the state junior college fund and the state treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the same.

CHAPTER 471.

An act to amend sections three hundred fifty-four, one thousand four hundred eighty-seven, one thousand four hundred eighty-eight, one thousand four hundred eighty-nine, one thousand four hundred ninety-four, one thousand four hundred ninety-five, one thousand five hundred three, and one thousand five hundred seven of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to the state normal schools or teachers colleges, and to repeal sections one thousand four hundred ninety-seven, one thousand five hundred one and one thousand five hundred two of the Political Code.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three hundred fifty-four of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

354. The state normal schools located at San Jose, Chico, San Diego, San Francisco, Santa Barbara, Fresno and Arcata, and any normal or teacher-training school established by the legislature of the State of California after the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, shall hereafter be known as "state teachers colleges," shall be des-

Maintain training schools.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand four hundred eighty-seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1487. The state teachers colleges shall have for their objects the education of teachers for the public schools of the state. The courses of instruction in such teachers' colleges shall not exceed four years in length.

SEC. 3. Section one thousand four hundred eighty-eight of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1488. The state teachers colleges shall be under the management and control of boards of trustees, constituted as provided in section three hundred fifty-four of the Political Code of the State of California.

SEC. 4. Section one thousand four hundred eighty-nine of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1489. The powers and duties of each board of trustees of the state teachers colleges of California are as follows:

1. To prescribe rules for their government and the government of the college;
2. To prescribe rules for the reports of officers and teachers of the colleges and for visiting other schools and institutions;
3. To provide for the purchase of apparatus, furniture, equipment, stationery and textbooks for the use of students;
4. To establish at their discretion, and maintain model and training schools of the kindergarten, elementary and intermediate or junior high school grade, and to require the students of the teachers college to teach and instruct classes therein;

5. To establish, with the approval of the state board of education, courses for training of teachers in any or all of the subjects for which special certificates of the elementary and secondary grade may be granted, and upon the satisfactory completion of these courses to grant diplomas of graduation therefrom; and to establish, with the approval of the state board of education, such additional teacher-training courses as may be authorized by law or by the state board of education in accordance with law;

6. When authorized so to do by the state board of education in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand five hundred nineteen of the Political Code, to establish and maintain courses of instruction and teacher training leading to a baccalaureate degree, and to grant the same.

7. To elect the president of the college, who shall be ex officio secretary of the board, and an assistant secretary who shall receive such salary as may be allowed by the board; and to elect members of the faculty, and other collegiate officers, upon their nomination by the president of the college, fix their salaries and prescribe their duties; provided, that after the president, or a member of the faculty, or other collegiate officer, has served successfully and acceptably in the college for a period of two years after the passage of this act, his or her appointment thereafter may, at the discretion of the board of trustees, be made for a term not to exceed four years, unless removed for cause; and provided, further, that in case a member of the faculty of a California state teachers college be engaged to instruct in extension work, evening work, special Saturday work or summer session work, he may receive such additional compensation for the same as may be agreed upon by the employing board of trustees. The trustees shall appoint the other employees of the college, and fix and provide for the payment of their salaries;

8. To control and expend all moneys appropriated for the support and maintenance of the college, and all moneys received for tuition or donations;

9. To cause a record of all their proceedings to be kept, which shall be open to public inspection at the college;

10. To report annually to the state superintendent of public instruction a statement of their transactions, and of all matters pertaining to the college; and such other information as the state superintendent of public instruction may require;

11. On recommendation of the faculty and president of the college, to exclude students who, because of poor scholarship or other evidence of unfitness, are judged incapable of becoming successful teachers in the public schools of the state;

12. To establish and maintain courses of study only in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the state board of education as provided in section one thousand five hundred nineteen of the Political Code;

School
extension service.

13. To detail one or more regular instructors of the college for school extension service in the rural schools of the state and to pay the salary and transportation expenses of any such instructor; provided, that the school extension service in any county shall be given only with the approval of the county superintendent of schools. Such school extension service may include a special study of rural school conditions and problems, and supervision and instruction of classes in the rural schools; and provided, further, that they may authorize the president of the college, or any member of the faculty designated by him, to attend any county institute as a lecturer or instructor, or to attend other educational meetings and conferences.

SEC. 5. Section one thousand four hundred ninety-four of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Admission
of students.

1494. Students shall be admitted to the state teachers' colleges in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state board of education, as provided in section one thousand five hundred nineteen of the Political Code.

SEC. 6. Section one thousand four hundred ninety-five of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Admission
of teachers.

1495. Teachers holding valid certificates to teach in any county in this state, and such other persons as may be qualified for admission under the rules and regulations of the state board of education, may be admitted to any state teachers' college.

SEC. 8. Section one thousand five hundred one of the Political Code is hereby repealed.

Repealed.

SEC. 9. Section one thousand five thousand two of the Political Code is hereby repealed.

SEC. 10. Section one thousand five hundred three of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Diploma to entitle holder to teacher's
certificate

1503. 1. The board of trustees of each state teachers college, upon the recommendation of the faculty, may issue to those students, who worthily complete the full course of study and training prescribed, diplomas of graduation, from any of the courses of study and training authorized by section one thousand four hundred eighty-nine of this code.

2. A diploma thus granted, when accompanied by a credential issued by the state board of education, shall entitle the holder thereof to a certificate corresponding in grade to the grade of the diploma from any county, or city and county, board of education in the state; provided, that the state board of education shall grant such credential upon the presentation of such diploma, such credential being revocable by the state board of education for any of the causes specified in section one thousand five hundred nineteen of the Political Code. Upon presentation to any county, or city and county board of education, of a diploma from a teachers college of this state, accompanied by the credential hereinbefore provided for, such board of education shall without fee grant the holder of such diploma and credential a certificate corresponding in grade to the grade of the diploma.

3. Said diploma of graduation from any state teachers' college in this state, when accompanied by a document granted by the faculty of the state university on or before the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred three, showing that the holder of such diploma has successfully completed the course of instruction in said university prescribed for students who are graduates of a teachers college of this state, shall entitle such holder to a high school certificate authorizing the holder to teach in any elementary school and in any high school in the state.

Sec. 11. Section one thousand five hundred seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1507. Each order upon the controller of the state by the board of trustees of a state teachers college must be signed by the president of the board and countersigned by the secretary. Upon presentation of the order aforesaid, signed and countersigned, as aforesaid, the controller of the state must draw his warrant upon the state treasurer in favor of the board of trustees, for any moneys, or any part thereof, appropriated and set apart for the support of the teachers college, and the treasurer must pay such warrants on presentation.

CHAPTER 472.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred forty-six of the Political Code, relating to the powers and duties of the county superintendent of schools.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred forty-six of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1546. He may, in his discretion, require the trustees of any district to repair the school buildings or property, or to abate any nuisance in or about the premises, if such repairs or abatement can be done for a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, and there is a sufficient amount of money in the treasury to the credit of the district. He may also, in all cases, require the trustees to provide suitable outhouses, and, where practicable, to adorn the ground with fruit and ornamental trees and shrubbery; and if the trustees neglect to make such provision, he may cause it to be done, and pay for it on his requisition upon the county auditor, who shall draw his warrant payable out of any money to the credit of the district.

If a board of school trustees of any school district shall refuse or neglect to purchase and display United States flags as provided in section one thousand six hundred fourteen of the Political Code, the superintendent of schools of the county shall purchase such flags and direct the teacher or teachers to display the flags as provided by law, and he shall draw his warrant on the current expense fund of the district in payment of the cost of such flags as he may find necessary to purchase.

CHAPTER 473.

An act to provide for an acceptance by the State of California of the provisions of an act passed by the congress of the United States known as the Smith-Lever act, and entitled, "An act to provide for cooperative agricultural extension work between the agricultural colleges in the several states receiving the benefits of an act of congress approved July 2, 1862, and of acts supplementary thereto, and the United States department of agriculture;" approved May 8, 1914.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Assent of state to Smith-Lever
act.

SECTION 1. The State of California hereby assents to the provisions of an act passed by the congress of the United States known as the Smith-Lever act, and entitled, "An act to provide for cooperative agricultural extension work between the agricultural colleges in the several states receiving the benefits of an act of congress approved July 2, 1862, and of acts supplementary thereto, and the United States department of agriculture;" approved May 8, 1914.

CHAPTER 474.

An act to add a new section of the Political Code to be numbered section one thousand six hundred twelve a and relating to school district budgets and school district taxes.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section numbered one thousand six hundred twelve a and relating to school district budgets, and school district taxes is hereby added to the Political Code of the State of California.

School
district budget.

1612a. Each board of school trustees, city board of education, and high school board shall have power and it shall be its duty annually in the month of June to make a school budget showing all the purposes for which the school district will need money and the amount of money that will be needed for each of said purposes for the next ensuing school year. The budget shall be made in quadruplicate upon blanks approved by the superintendent of public instruction, and shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools of the county or city and county not later than the first day of July next succeeding.

The county superintendent of schools shall examine such budget and if no changes are necessary shall approve the budget as submitted. If clerical corrections are needed he shall make such corrections and approve the budget as corrected. If in his judgment substantial changes are necessary he shall indicate the changes which he deems necessary and shall return the budget thus changed to the school board for reconsideration and resubmission. Not later than the thirty-first day of July the school board shall resubmit its budget with or without change from its original form as the school board may desire. Thereupon the superintendent of schools shall approve such budget.

Approval by county
superintendent
of schools.

After approving the budget of a school district, the county superintendent of schools shall determine the amount of money which must be provided by a school district tax. He shall determine this amount by deducting from the total estimated needs of the school district as shown by its budget the total estimated income of the school district from all sources other than a school district tax for the current school year as estimated by himself. The remainder, if any remainder there be, thus obtained shall be the minimum amount of the school district tax to be levied by the board of supervisors for the particular school district.

Determination of school district
tax.

Not later than ten days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county or city and county purposes, the county superintendent of schools shall file with the board of supervisors and with the auditor a copy of the approved budget of each school district showing the amount of school district taxes required by each school district of the county or city and county.

The board of supervisors of each county or city and county must annually at the time and in the manner of levying county or city and county taxes levy and cause to be collected a district tax for each school district whose budget shows a district tax to be necessary, and to fix such a rate for such district tax as will produce at least the amount of district tax money requested by the particular district. If the board of supervisors refuse or neglect to make the levy provided for under this section then the levy shall be made by the county auditor.

Levy of
tax

If the school board of any school district neglect or refuse to make a school district budget as prescribed by this section, the county superintendent of schools shall not make any apportionment of state or county school money for the particular school district for the current school year.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts not in harmony with this section are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 475.

An act to amend section three hundred forty-five of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the time of commencement of civil actions.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three hundred forty-five of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Time for commencement of actions.

345. The limitations prescribed in this chapter apply to actions brought in the name of the state or for the benefit of the state, in the same manner as to actions by private parties, except that actions for the recovery of money due on account of the support of patients at the state hospitals may be commenced at any time within four years after the accrual of the same.

CHAPTER 476.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered one thousand seven hundred thirty-four b, relating to high school districts.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section to be numbered one thousand seven hundred thirty-four b is hereby added to the Political Code and to read as follows:

Annexation of common school districts to high school
districts.

1734b. Not later than August thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, the board of supervisors of each county or city and county in which there are one or more high school districts, and in which there are one or more common school districts not members of any high school district at the time of the passage of this act shall upon recommendation of the county superintendent of schools annex each of such common school districts to that high school district whose high school is most easily accessible to the children of the particular common school district; provided, that no common school district shall be annexed to such high school districts without the recommendation of the county superintendent of schools, and the supervisor or supervisors in whose district or districts said common school districts may be located; and provided, further, that no common school district shall be annexed unless the nearest point of such common school district lies within ten miles of a high school district.

For the purpose of giving notice to all parties interested the board of supervisors must publish a notice at least once a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county or if there is no such paper, then in some newspaper of general circulation, circulated in such county. Such notice shall state the time when, and the place where, the board of supervisors will act and shall give the names of the common school districts which will be affected by the action of the board; provided, that every school district effected by the provisions of this section shall upon request of its governing board or a petition by a majority of the heads of families residing therein have the right to determine the high school district to which it shall be annexed. Election for such purpose shall be held as provided in section one thousand seven hundred twenty-seven for a formation of a union high school district except that the ballots used at such election in each district shall contain the words.

provided, further, that the principal of any high school may deny admission to any student of a district lying outside the high school district if there is no room to receive such student.

CHAPTER 477.

An act to provide for the issuance of bonds by junior college districts.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Issuance of bonds by junior college
districts.

SECTION 1. The junior college board of any junior college district may, when in its judgment it is advisable, and must upon a petition of the majority of the heads of families residing in such junior college district, call an election and submit to the electors of the junior college district the question whether the bonds of such junior college district shall be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for purchasing junior college lots, for building or purchasing one or more junior college buildings or making alterations or additions to the junior college building or buildings, for repairing, restoring or rebuilding any junior college building damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other public calamity, for supplying junior college buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus, for improving the grounds, for liquidating any indebtedness already incurred for said purposes, or for refunding any outstanding valid indebtedness of such district, evidenced by bonds or warrants thereof. Any one or more or all of said purposes, except that of refunding any outstanding valid indebtedness of such district, evidenced by bonds or warrants thereof, may by order of said board, entered in its minutes, be united and voted upon as one single proposition. Such election must be called by posting notices, signed by a majority of the junior college board, in at least three public places in the junior college district, not less than twenty days before the election; and if there is a newspaper of general circulation published in any county in which any part of said district is situated, by publishing such notice therein not less than once a week for three successive weeks. The first publication of said notice shall be not less than twenty-one days before such election. Such notice must contain: The time and place, or places, of holding such election; the names of the inspectors and judges to conduct the same; the hours during the day in which the polls will be open; the purposes for which the bonds are to be issued; the amount of bonds and the denomination thereof, which shall not be more than one thousand dollars or less than one hundred dollars; the rate of interest, not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable annually or semiannually;

and the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run. Such election shall be conducted in conformity with the provisions of sections one thousand five hundred ninety six, one thousand five hundred ninety-seven, one thousand five hundred ninety-eight, one thousand five hundred ninety-nine, one thousand six hundred, and one thousand six hundred one of this code, and the words to appear upon the ballots shall be "Junior college district bonds—Yes" and "Junior college district bonds—No" or words of similar import. Electors voting at such elections shall mark a cross with pencil, ink or rubber stamp, after the answer they desire to give. On the seventh day after said election at one o'clock p.m. if the returns have all been made to the junior college board of such junior college district, such junior college board must meet and canvass said returns. If all the returns have not then been received, the board must adjourn from day to day until said returns are all received, and must then proceed to canvass the same. The canvass may be continued from day to day until completed.

SEC. 2. If it appears that two-thirds of the votes cast at said election were cast in favor of issuing such bonds, then such junior college board shall cause an entry of that fact to be made upon its minutes, and shall certify to the board of supervisors of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction of said junior college district all of the proceedings had in the premises, and thereupon said board of supervisors shall be and it is hereby authorized and directed to issue the bonds of such junior college district, in accordance with such proceedings, payable out of the interest and sinking fund of such junior college district, naming the same; provided, that the total amount of bonds so issued shall not exceed five per cent of the taxable property of the junior college district as shown by the last equalized assessment of the county in which such district is located. The board of supervisors, by an order entered upon its minutes, shall prescribe the form of said bonds and of the interest coupons attached thereto, if any, and must fix the time when the whole or any part of the principal of said bonds shall be payable, which shall not be more than forty years from the date thereof. If the notice calling the election shall have provided that the bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in gold coin of the United States, the bonds shall be made payable in such gold coin, as to principal and interest. If the notice calling the election shall have provided that the bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in lawful money of the United States, the bonds shall be made payable in lawful money of the United States as to principal and interest. If the notice shall have made no such specific provisions, the board of supervisors shall have power in the order prescribing the form of the bonds either to make the bonds payable in gold coin of the United States as to principal and interest, or to make them payable in
