lawful money of the United States as to principal and interest. Said board of supervisors may make the principal and interest of said bonds payable at the office of the treasurer of the county, or at such other place within the United States as the board may designate, or at such treasurer's office or such other designated place, at the option of the bondholder; which place of payment shall be specified in the bonds; and this provision shall apply to all such bonds not yet issued when this section takes effect, regardless of the time when the election therefor was held. The expense of paying such principal and interest elsewhere than at the office of the treasurer shall be a charge against the junior college district funds, to be paid out of the tax for the payment of the bonds. Such bonds must be sold at the times and in the amounts prescribed by the board of supervisors, but for not less than par, and the proceeds of the sale thereof must be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the building fund of the said junior college district, and be drawn out for the purposes aforesaid as other junior college moneys are drawn out. Before selling said bonds, or any part thereof, the board of supervisors must advertise for bids therefor for at least two weeks in some daily or weekly newspaper of general circulation published in the county, or if there is no such newspaper published in the county, in some such newspaper published in some other county in the state. If satisfactory bids are received, the bonds offered for sale must be awarded to the highest bidder. If no bids are received, or the board determines that the bids received are not satisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders, the board may reject all bids received, if any, and either readvertise or sell said bonds at private sale.

bonds.

Award to highest bidder.

Levy of tax for interest
and redemption.

SEC. 3. The board of supervisors of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over any junior college district must annually, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes, levy a tax for that year upon the taxable property in such junior college district for the interest and redemption of all outstanding bonds of such district, and said tax must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest of said bonds for that year, and such a portion of the principal as is to become due during such year, and in any event must be high enough to raise annually, for the first half of the term said bonds have to run, a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon; and during the balance of the term high enough to pay such annual interest, and to pay annually a proportion of the principal of said bonds, equal to a sum produced by taking the whole amount of said bonds outstanding and dividing it by the number of years said bonds then have to run; and all taxes so levied, when collected, shall as herein provided be paid into the county treasury of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the junior college district in behalf of which such tax was levied to the credit of the bond interest and sinking fund of such junior college district, and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds and for no other purpose. The principal and interest on said bonds shall be paid by the county treasurer of the county aforesaid at the place required by the terms of such bonds, upon presentation and surrender of warrants drawn by the county auditor in payment thereof after he has cancelled the bonds and coupons, or upon the receipt of the registered owner if such bonds are registered, after a proper warrant has been drawn by the auditor therefor, out of the fund provided for their payment.

In case of a junior college district situated in two or more counties, the assessor of each of such counties must annually, as soon as the county assessments have been equalized by the state board of equalization certify to the board of supervisors of each of the counties in which any portion of such junior college district is situated, the assessed value of all taxable property in such county situated in such junior college district, and the said tax shall be so levied according to the ratio which the assessed value of the property in such junior college district in any county bears to the total assessed value of the property in such district, each board of supervisors to levy upon the property in such junior college district and within their own county, such rate of tax as will be sufficient to raise not less than the amount needed to pay the interest and such portion of the principal of such bonds as is to become due during such year. Said tax shall be entered upon the assessment roll and collected in the same manner as other school taxes are entered and collected and when collected paid into the treasury of such county and it shall then be the duty of the treasurer of any such county other than the one whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over such junior college, on written demand of the treasurer of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over such junior college to pay the sum collected on account of such tax into the treasury of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over such junior college. Wherever money has been raised for the payment of principal or interest of outstanding bonds of any junior college district and the same is at the time this section takes effect in the treasury of any other county than that prescribed by this section for the custody of such funds, the same shall at once be paid into the proper county treasury as above provided.

SEC. 4. Whenever any bonds authorized under the provisions of sections one and two of this act shall remain unsold for the period of six months after having been offered for sale in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, the junior college board of the junior college district, for and on account of which such bonds were issued, may petition the board of supervisors to whom the proceedings were certified to cause such unsold bonds to be withdrawn from the market and canceled. Upon receiving such petition, signed by a majority of the members of said junior college board, the said board of supervisors shall fix a time for hearing the same, which shall not be more than thirty days thereafter, and shall cause a notice, stating the time and place of hearing, and the object of the petition in general terms, to be published for ten days prior to the day of hearing, in some newspaper published in said junior college district, if there is one, and if there is no newspaper published in said junior college district, then in a newspaper published at the county seat of the county. At the time and place designated in the notice for hearing said petition, or at any subsequent time to which said hearing may be postponed, the said board of supervisors shall hear any reasons that may be submitted for or against the granting of the petition, and if said board shall deem it for the best interests of the junior college district named in the petition, that such unsold bonds be canceled, said board shall make and enter an order in the minutes of its proceedings that said unsold bonds be canceled; and thereupon said bonds and the vote by which they were authorized to be issued shall cease to be of any validity whatever.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act providing for the designation of money in the state treasury as surplus money, authorizing the investment and reinvestment of such money in certain classes of bonds, directing the disposal of interest or premium received therefrom and permitting the subsequent sale or exchange of the bonds so purchased," approved June 10, 1913.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1913,
D. 564,
amended

SECTION 1. Section three of an act entitled "An act providing for the designation of money in the state treasury as surplus money, authorizing the investment and reinvestment of such money in certain classes of bonds, directing the disposal of interest or premium received therefrom and permitting the subsequent sale or exchange of the bonds so purchased," approved June 10, 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sale or exchange
purchased.

Sec. 3. Any bonds purchased or held under the provisions of this act may be sold or exchanged for other bonds of any of the classes described in section one of this act, and the money received from any such sale may be reinvested by the state board of control in the purchase of any such bonds; provided, that no such sale or exchange shall be made at a price less than the market price of such bonds so sold or exchanged; and provided, further, that any interest or premium collected or received by the state from any bonds purchased or held under the provisions of this act shall be credited by the state treasurer to a fund to be known as the "bond investment fund" which fund is hereby established. The state treasurer shall semiannually, on the last days of June and December, transfer one-half of the amount then in said fund to the general fund, and shall transfer one-half of the amount then in said fund to the state school land fund.

CHAPTER 479.

An act to amend section four of an act entitled "An act defining industrial loan companies, providing for their incorporation, powers and supervision," approved May 18, 1917.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four of an act entitled "An act defining industrial loan companies, providing for their incorporation, powers and supervision," approved May 18, 1917, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. Every corporation under the provision of this act shall have power:

First—To loan money on personal security, or otherwise, and to deduct interest therefor in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, or less, and, in addition, to receive and to require uniform weekly or monthly installments on its certificates of investment, purchased by the borrower simultaneously with the said loan transaction or otherwise, and pledged with the corporation as security for the said loan, with or without an allowance of interest on such installments.

Second—To sell or negotiate choses in action for the payment of money at any time, either fixed or uncertain, and to receive payments therefor in installments or otherwise, with or without an allowance of interest upon such installments. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize corporations hereunder to receive deposits or to issue certificates of deposit. The issuance of choses in action herein authorized shall be approved as to form by the commissioner of corporations and shall bear the endorsement on the face of the instrument "This is not a certificate of deposit."

Third—To charge for a loan, made pursuant to this section, two dollars, or less for every fifty dollars, or fraction thereof loaned, for expenses, including any examination or investigation of the character and circumstances of the borrower, and the drawing and taking acknowledgment of any papers, or other expenses incurred in making the loan. No charge shall be collected unless a loan shall have been made.

Stats 1917,
p. 659,
amended.

Powers of industrial loan companies.

Fourth—To establish branch offices, or places of business within the county, in which its principal place of business is located, but not elsewhere.

In addition to the powers herein enumerated, every corporation, under the provisions of this act, shall have the general powers conferred upon corporations by chapter three, title one, part four, division first, of the Civil Code, except as herein otherwise provided.

Repealed.

SEC. 2. All acts or portions of any act in conflict with the provisions of this act be repealed.

CHAPTER 480.

An act to amend sections one thousand five hundred ninety-nine, one thousand six hundred one and one thousand six hundred two of the Political Code, relating to school elections.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred ninety-nine of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Ballots for
elections.

1599. Each county superintendent of schools shall furnish uniform ballots for the election of school trustees in his county, and no other form of ballot shall be used. The expense of printing and distributing such ballots to the various districts shall be paid as other current expenses of his office. The form of said ballots shall be as follows:

Official ballot provided by the office of the superintendent of schools to be used in the election of school trustees in----- district, in the county of-----.

Immediately following the above there shall be at least twelve spaces for the insertion of the names of candidates, each space with a blank square for the expression of the will of the voter.

The name of the county shall be printed in as a part of the official ballot.

The school trustees must provide for printing, stamping or writing into this ballot the designation of the district and the name of each candidate for office who has officially announced himself ten days prior to the date of the election by filing or having filed with the clerk of the board of trustees a written statement signed by him that he is a candidate for the office of trustee.

Marking ballot.

In casting his vote the elector must stamp or write a cross in the square space immediately following the name of the candidate for whom he desires to vote, or, should the elector desire to vote for a candidate whose name does not appear on the ballot, he shall himself write the name of said candidate in the space provided for that purpose on the ballot. Where the elector writes the name of a candidate on the ballot he may, but it shall not be necessary for him to, designate his vote by writing or stamping the cross after such name. After properly marking his ballot he shall hand it to the inspector who shall then, in his presence, deposit the same in the ballot box and the judges shall enter the elector's name on the poll list.

The board of school trustees may arrange for secret ballot ^{Booths.} by providing a booth or private room in which the voter may prepare his ballot, and in districts employing two or more teachers they must arrange for such secret ballot in the manner prescribed above.

No electioneering shall be carried on within one hundred feet of the polls.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand six hundred one of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1601. First—The superintendent of schools of the county shall furnish with the official ballots required in section one thousand five hundred ninety-nine of this code official poll and tally lists. The heading of the poll list shall read "Official poll list of ----- school district for the school election held on the ----- day of March 192..." Under this heading shall be arranged three columns. The first column shall have printed as its heading "Write your name as it appears on the great register of this county." The second column shall have printed as its heading "Write your residence, street and number, town or city, and school district." The third column shall have printed as its heading the question, "Are you a qualified registered voter in this school district?" The person offering to vote at a school election shall write his name in the first column of the poll list, give his residence in the second, and in the third shall write the word "Yes" or "No." If he write the word "No" he shall not be permitted to vote. The persons writing the word "Yes" may be subject to challenge under provisions of section one thousand six hundred of the Political Code.

Second—The tally list shall have printed as its heading "An official tally list of ----- school district for the school election held on ----- day of March 192..." It shall be arranged in lines so as to give room for at least five candidates and shall be vertically ruled providing for counting the votes under a tally system. The final column shall have as its heading "Total votes cast for each candidate." At the bottom of the page shall be provided a space for the signatures of the election officers and over these signatures shall be printed the words "We hereby certify that this is a correct report of the election held in ----- school district on the ----- of March 192..."

SEC. 3. Section one thousand six hundred two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1602. First—The officers of election must publicly canvass ^{Canvass of votes.} the votes immediately after closing the polls, fill out the tally sheet, certifying to the correctness of the canvass made. They shall make, sign and deliver certificates of election to the person or persons elected, which must with the oath of office of the person so elected attached be forwarded by the person elected to the superintendent of schools of the county.

Returns.

Second—The superintendent of schools of the county shall furnish with the ballots and poll and tally list an envelope on which shall be printed the name and address of the superintendent of schools of the county and in the lower left hand corner the words "Returns of election held in ----- school district, ----- county, on March ----- 192---. The officers of election in elementary school districts shall fill out the blanks given on the envelopes and enclose and seal in the envelopes the poll and tally list and ballots cast at said election. The judge of the election shall take possession of the returns and deliver them to the clerk of the school district who shall receipt him for the same. The clerk shall within five days after receiving such returns forward them to the superintendent of schools of the county, who shall keep the same on file for one year. In case of the election for high school trustees in union and joint union high school districts the returns shall be made as provided in section one thousand seven hundred thirty-one of the Political Code and the president of the high school board shall seal the returns in envelopes by elementary school districts and forward the same to the superintendent of schools of the county with the blanks filled out with the name of the high school district.

CHAPTER 481.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred seventy-seven of the Political Code, relating to the formation of new school districts, the change of boundaries of school districts, and providing for the education of children and their transportation to the public schools.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred seventy-seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Formation of new school
district.

1577. First—No new school district shall be formed at any other time than between the first day of October and the tenth day of February, nor at that time unless the parents or guardians of at least fifteen children between the ages of five and seventeen years as shown by the petition, residents of such proposed new district and residing at a greater distance than five miles by a state or county traveled road and from the public schoolhouse in the district in which such parents or guardians reside, present a petition to the superintendent of schools, setting forth the boundaries of the new district asked for; provided, that when any smaller number of children between the ages of five and seventeen years reside at a distance of seven miles or more by a state or county traveled road or five miles or more where there is no state or county traveled road from a public school, or where such children are unable to attend the public school for reasons that are deemed good and sufficient by the superintendent of schools of the county or city and county in which such children reside, the parents or guardians of such children may present a petition to the superintendent of schools for the formation of a new school district, setting forth the boundaries thereof; or the superintendent of schools may provide an extra teacher for, or may provide transportation for such children to the public school. The salaries of such teachers and the cost of such transportation shall be paid out of the county unapportioned fund; provided, that the provisions requiring that the petitioners shall reside a distance of more than five miles by a state or county traveled road from said public schoolhouse may be dispensed with when the petition shall be signed by parents or guardians of fifty or more children between the ages of five and seventeen years, residents of a district or districts containing more than two hundred children in average daily attendance in the elementary schools of said district or districts as shown by the report of the teacher or principal of said school or schools on file in the office of the county superintendent of schools for the school year immediately preceding; but no city or incorporated town shall be divided into separate school districts under the provisions of this act.

Second—The boundaries of a school district, except as Boundaries. provided in section one thousand five hundred fifty-one of the Political Code, shall be changed only between the first day of October and the tenth day of February in any year, and then only when at least ten heads of families, who are American citizens or who are eligible to American citizenship, residing in the districts affected by the proposed change of boundaries shall present to the superintendent of schools a petition setting forth the changes of boundaries desired, and the reasons for the same; provided, that two or more elementary school districts lying contiguous may at any time be united to constitute but one district, whenever a petition signed by a majority of the heads of families residing in each of said districts shall be presented to the superintendent of schools. Said petition shall be acted upon in the same manner as is done in case of the formation of new school districts.

Third—Joint districts (that is, districts lying partly in one Joint districts. county and partly in another) may be formed at any time between the first day of October and the tenth day of February in any year, whenever a petition signed by the parents or guardians of at least fifteen children between the ages of five and seventeen years as shown by the petition, residents of such proposed joint district and residing at a greater distance than five miles by a state or county traveled road from any public schoolhouse, shall be presented to the superintendent of schools of each county affected by the proposed formation of the joint district; and provided, further, that the provisions requiring that the petitioners shall reside a distance of more than five miles by a state or county traveled road from a public schoolhouse may be dispensed with when the petition shall be signed by the parents or guardians of fifty or more children between the ages of five and seventeen years as shown by the petition, residents of school district or districts containing an average daily attendance of two hundred or more in the elementary schools of said district or districts as shown by the reports on file in the office of the superintendent of schools for the school year immediately preceding. All the provisions relative to the formation of joint districts shall be by concurrent action of the superintendent and the board of supervisors of each county affected; still further provided, that by concurrent action of the boards of supervisors and the county school superintendents, contiguous school districts or parts of such school districts lying in different counties may, on proper petitions as above required, be united to form a joint school district, and the school property within the territory thus united shall become the property of the newly formed joint school district.

districts.

Fourth—The children residing in any newly formed district, in any district whose boundaries have been changed, or in any joint district, shall be permitted to attend the school in the district or districts from which the newly formed district was constituted until the first day of July next succeeding the formation or change.

Transfer of
funds.

Fifth—Whenever a district shall be united with a municipality or with another district, all funds belonging to said district shall be transferred, by requisition of the superintendent of the county upon the county auditor, to the municipality or district with which said district is united.

CHAPTER 482.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered one thousand seven hundred sixty-four b, relating to the raising of a tuition fund in counties having high school pupils attending school in an adjoining state.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered one thousand seven hundred sixty-four b, to read as follows:

Levy of tuition tax for pupils attending high school in adjoining
state.

1764b. 1. The board of supervisors in counties in which high school students are attending high school in an adjoining state, on the approval of the county superintendent of schools of the county in which they live shall levy a tax on the taxable property of the county to be known as the county high school tuition tax. The minimum of this tax shall be an amount provided for in subdivision second of this section, which will produce a fund large enough to pay the tuition, and also the transportation not to exceed ten dollars per pupil per month, of any pupil or pupils in such county who attended high school for the previous school year in a high school district in this or any adjoining state.

2. The county superintendent of schools in any county mentioned in subdivision first of this section shall secure from the principal of the high school mentioned in subdivision first of this section a report on blanks furnished by the superintendent of public instruction of the State of California showing such facts as shall be outlined in such blank report. Such superintendent of schools shall present said report to the supervisors. The total cost per pupil in average daily attendance for maintaining the school shall be the amount of money necessary to be raised for paying the tuition, and also the transportation not to exceed ten dollars per pupil per month, of these pupils for the previous school year.

3. The auditor of any county mentioned in subdivision first of this section shall report to the county superintendent of schools the amount of money paid into the county high school fund from the tax levy mentioned in this section. On receiving the report from the county auditor, the superintendent of schools shall draw an order in favor of the county treasurer of the county and state in which such high school is located and shall transmit the same by registered mail to said county treasurer to be placed to the credit of the high school district educating such children together with a statement showing the names and average daily attendance of pupils whose tuition is to be paid.

4. On receiving said order from the county treasurer mentioned in subdivision third of this section, the auditor of the county in California mentioned in this section shall draw his warrant and the county treasurer shall pay the same.

5. The superintendent of schools of the county in California mentioned in subdivision first of this section on receiving a sworn statement from the parent or guardian of a pupil attending such high school showing the actual cost of transportation of said pupil not exceeding ten dollars per month shall draw an order in favor of such parent or guardian on the high school fund in payment of such transportation. The auditor shall draw his warrant on receiving such order and the treasurer shall pay the same.

An act repealing sections one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven, one thousand eight hundred ninety-eight, one thousand nine hundred, one thousand nine hundred one, and one thousand nine hundred two of the Political Code, relating to the military roll.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Repealed

SECTION 1. Sections one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven, one thousand eight hundred ninety-eight, one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine, one thousand nine hundred, one thousand nine hundred one, and one thousand nine hundred two of the Political Code are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 484.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred sixty-five of the Political Code, relating to the fees for the granting of teachers' certificates.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred sixty-five of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Fees for granting teachers'
certificates.

1565. Except for a temporary certificate, or for the renewal of any certificate, every applicant for a teacher's certificate, upon presenting his application, shall pay to the county superintendent a fee of two dollars. All money so received by the county superintendent shall immediately be deposited by him in the county treasury. The county treasurer shall credit one-half of all moneys so received to a separate fund to be known as the teachers' institute fund and the other half to a fund to be known as the teachers' library fund. The teachers' institute fund may be expended in payment of the services of such instructors in the county teachers' institute as are not teachers in the public schools of the county in which such institute is held. For this purpose warrants may be drawn by the auditor upon the request of the county superintendent. The teachers' library fund may be expended, in a similar manner for the establishing of a teachers' library and for the transportation of library books, and other reading matter of the teachers' library, to and from the various schools of the county. The county superintendent may act as librarian thereof but whenever in any county there is a county library, the county superintendent may require the county treasurer to credit all moneys payable to the teachers' library fund to the county library fund, and may transfer to the county library all books and other property belonging to the teachers' library, and thereupon the county library shall administer the teachers' library as part of itself; but all funds received from the county superintendent in accordance with this section shall be expended exclusively for the purchase and maintenance of books of professional interest to teachers.

CHAPTER 485.

An act to amend sections one thousand five hundred eighteen a and one thousand five hundred nineteen of the Political Code, relating to the powers and duties of the state board of education.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred eighteen a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1518a. Annually, at such time as may be determined by the rules of the board, a meeting shall be held to consider and act upon matters pertaining to the several teachers colleges of the state. To such meeting, to submit and discuss matters affecting the training and certification of teachers, and to make recommendations for the control of the training and certification of teachers, as provided in sections one thousand five hundred nineteen, and one thousand five hundred nineteen a, of the Political Code, each state teachers college may send the president of the institution, or a member of the faculty of the institution, or both. The actual and necessary expenses incurred by such officials in attending such meeting may be audited and paid in the same manner as are other bills for the maintenance of the institution concerned.

Meeting to consider state teachers' colleges.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand five hundred nineteen of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1519. The state board of education shall have power and it shall be its duty:

CHAPTER 487.

An act to amend sections one thousand five hundred forty-five and one thousand eight hundred fifty-nine of the Political Code, relating to the length of term in elementary school districts.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred forty-five of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1545. He must, when there is sufficient money in the fund of any school district to maintain a free school therein for one hundred sixty days of actual teaching, if the trustees neglect or refuse to employ a teacher, appoint a teacher, and open and keep such school, and may draw his requisition upon the county auditor, who shall draw his warrant upon the fund of such district for the expense incurred. If trustees fall to employ teacher.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand eight hundred fifty-nine of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1859. No school district, except one newly formed, is entitled to receive any apportionment of state or county school moneys which has not maintained a public school for at least one hundred sixty days of actual teaching during the next preceding school year. A district which is prevented by fire, flood, or prevailing epidemic or other extraordinary conditions from maintaining a school for the length of time designated in this section, or a district that has not been able to secure or hold a teacher, or a district in which the illness of the teacher has prevented the holding of the required number of days of school, which fact must be shown to the satisfaction of the superintendent of public instruction by the affidavits of the members of the board of school trustees and the county superintendent of schools, is nevertheless entitled to its apportionment of state and county school moneys. A school district is a newly formed district up to the close of the school year in which the district is formed. Length of term.

CHAPTER 488.

An act to provide for the establishment of classes for training in citizenship for applicants who have filed their declarations of intentions to become citizens of the United States and for other persons desiring such instruction.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Superintendent of schools to secure list of applicants for citizenship.

SECTION 1. It is hereby made the duty of the county clerk in each county, or city and county, to furnish to the superintendent of schools of the county or city and county on or before the tenth day of each month the names and addresses of all persons filing during the previous month their declarations of intention to become citizens of the United States or their petitions for naturalization.

SEC. 2. In counties in which the United States district courts are located the superintendent of schools of the county or city and county shall obtain monthly from the clerk of the United States district court the names and addresses of all persons filing their declarations of intention to become citizens of the United States or their petitions for naturalization.

Notice to applicants.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of schools of the county or city and county after obtaining the names and addresses of such applicants specified in sections one and two of this act to send a written or printed notice to said applicants stating that this act authorizes the city boards of education in cities or boards of school trustees in rural districts to establish upon application classes in training for citizenship. The form of this notice shall be furnished by the superintendent of public instruction.

Application to establish classes.

SEC. 4. Upon application of twenty-five or more persons desiring training for citizenship and residing in a high school district the high school board or the city board of education must establish special classes in training for citizenship; provided, that application for classes be made in time to permit the high school board or city board of education to arrange to meet the expenses of such classes. Upon demand said boards may establish such classes with a less number of applicants.

Course of study.

SEC. 5. The course of study in training for citizenship shall consist of the teaching of United States history, state and community civics, and the constitution of the United States, with special reference to those sections in the constitution which relate directly to the duties, privileges and rights of the individual, and such allied subjects, including English for foreigners or activities as shall properly prepare such applicants to understand and assume the responsibilities of citizenship.

SEC. 6. The classes provided for in section four of this act shall be held at least twice a week for three months. At the close of this period if the enrollment in any class has fallen to ten or less for the month the governing board of the district may discontinue said class for that year.

SEC. 7. Upon satisfactory evidence that any school district required to do so has failed to establish and maintain classes in training for citizenship as provided for in this act, the superintendent of public instruction and county superintendent of schools may withhold five per cent of state and county apportionments until said district has complied with the provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 489.

An act to amend section nine hundred twenty of the Political Code, relating to contracts made by officers.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section nine hundred twenty of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

920. Members of the legislature, state, county, city, and township officers, must not be interested in any contract made by them in their official capacity, or by any body or board of which they are members; provided, that when traveling expenses are allowed by law to any such officer, he may contract with the appropriate authorities for an allowance or mileage rate for the use of vehicles owned or rented and used by him in the performance of duty, in lieu of the usual transportation charges.

CHAPTER 490.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred seventy-seven of the Political Code, relating to salaries and fees of officers in counties of the forty-eighth class.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred seventy-seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4277. In counties of the forty-eighth class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries and fees, to wit:

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 491.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered section one thousand six hundred seventeen e, relating to contracts between elementary school districts for the education of children.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section to be numbered one thousand six hundred seventeen e, is hereby added to the Political Code, to read as follows:

1617e. The trustees of any elementary school district when authorized by a majority vote of their district at a district meeting called for the purpose, may enter into a contract, subject to the provisions of this section, with any other elementary school district of the county for the education of the children of the district so voting.

Contracts between elementary school districts for education of children.

The trustees of the elementary school district whose children are to be educated, as herein provided, by another elementary school district shall within thirty days after each apportionment of school moneys during the life of such contract, draw a warrant for such proportion of such apportionment as may have been agreed upon in such contract, on the funds of their district in favor of the district providing for the education of such children. When such funds are transferred as herein provided, the trustees of the school district contracting to furnish education for such children shall handle and expend such funds in the same manner as provided by law for the handling and expending of other funds of the district; provided, that all state school moneys and sixty per cent of all county moneys so transferred shall be set aside to the credit of the teachers' salary fund of the district furnishing education for such children, and all remaining county funds transferred as herein provided may be used for the purpose of providing for the transportation of such children and such other purposes as the board of trustees contracting to furnish education for such children shall determine, subject to the provisions of law.

Revocation
of contract.

Such contract may be revoked by a majority vote of either board of trustees; provided, that the board of trustees of the district contracting to have its children educated as herein provided shall revoke such contract only when authorized so to do by a majority vote of their district at a special district meeting called for that purpose. Such contract shall be in effect from the first day of July following the date of the contract and shall remain in effect until the end of the year in which the contract is revoked.

CHAPTER 492.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred eighty-three of the Political Code, relating to the salaries, fees and expenses of officers in counties of the fifty-fourth class.

The county surveyor, two thousand seven hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there hereby is allowed to the surveyor one deputy, who shall be appointed by the surveyor of said county, and shall be paid a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; the salary of such surveyor shall be paid by such county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid. The county surveyor shall make all maps, plats and block books required by the county assessor; he shall do all work for the county in which the county employs a surveyor or civil engineer; he shall have general advisory supervision over all road and bridge work for the county and shall file annually with the board of supervisors a statement, which shall be published as a part of the proceedings of said board, showing the cost of all new road and bridge construction in the county, also the cost per mile of maintaining the different roads of the county for the preceding fiscal year; and provided, further, that when in the judgment of the board of supervisors of the county it is necessary to employ additional assistants for the performance of any of said work, the board of supervisors shall allow the necessary actual expense thereof; and provided, further, that said county surveyor shall be allowed all necessary transportation and expenses incurred by himself or deputies for work performed in the field; the salary of the deputy herein provided for shall be Surveyor.

paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as other county officers are paid. The salary herein fixed for said surveyor shall be in lieu of all fees, commissions or compensation of whatsoever kind or nature for services performed by said surveyor for said county. All acts or parts of acts relative to such fees, commissions or compensation for work performed for counties of this class by such county surveyor are hereby repealed.

the peace

13. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of other county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases: in townships where the population is three thousand five hundred, or more, seventy-five dollars per month, and said justice of the peace shall be furnished with offices and necessary supplies by the board of supervisors of said county; in townships where the population is two thousand five hundred, or more, and less than three thousand five hundred, fifty dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand five hundred, or more, and less than two thousand five hundred, thirty-five dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand, or more, and less than one thousand five hundred, twenty-five dollars per month; in townships where the population is less than one thousand, fifteen dollars per month; provided, that all fees and fines chargeable and collectible by justices of the peace in civil and criminal cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury; provided, further, that for the purpose of this subdivision, the population of the several townships shall be ascertained by the board of supervisors, by multiplying the number of registered voters at the last general election of each township by three.

Constables.

14. Constables, in townships having a population of two thousand, or more, shall receive a monthly salary of fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of one thousand or less than two thousand, shall receive a salary of forty dollars per month and in townships having a population of less than one thousand shall receive a salary of twenty dollars per month. Constables shall also receive actual traveling expenses in transporting prisoners to the county jail. The salaries of township officers, herein provided for, shall be paid monthly, in the same manner as the salaries of the county officers are paid, and shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases.

15. The meetings of the board of supervisors shall be monthly and shall be held on the first Monday of each and every month. Each member of the board of supervisors is to receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum and mileage at the rate of twenty cents per mile from his home to and from county seat.

16. Grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall receive from each day's attendance per day the sum of three dollars. In justices' courts in civil and criminal cases, the jurors sworn to try the case shall receive for each day's attendance per day the sum of two dollars. All jurors shall receive for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from his residence to the place of service the sum of fifteen cents per mile; provided, that in justice courts mileage shall be allowed only to those sworn to try the case. Jurors' fees.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes. Effect of act.

An act to add a new section to be known as nine a thirty-three to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, said section relating to salaries of county librarians.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, to be numbered section nine a thirty-three, and to read as follows:

Sec. 9a33. In counties of the thirty-third class the salary of the county librarian shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum. Counties of 33d class, salary of librarian.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes, nor to increase or decrease the compensation paid to or received by any such person under the provisions of such statute, except as otherwise herein expressly provided.

CHAPTER 495.

An act to provide for the organization of junior college districts and for the maintenance of junior colleges therein.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Establishment of junior colleges.

SECTION 1. Junior colleges may be established as a part of the secondary school system of this state and junior college districts formed and organized in accordance with the provisions of this act. Whenever any junior college district is so formed and organized, the governing body thereof shall establish and maintain one or more junior colleges therein.

Types of colleges.

SEC. 2. The types of junior colleges authorized under this act shall be as follows:

District.

(1) The district junior college organized in any high school district having a total average daily attendance of four hundred pupils or more in the high schools of such district as shown by the principals' reports of the preceding school year, and an assessed valuation of at least ten million dollars as shown by the last equalized assessment roll. A district maintaining a junior college of this type shall be known as a junior college district. Such district shall bear the name of the high school district in which it is organized.

Union.

(2) The union junior college maintained in a junior college district organized so as to include two or more contiguous high school districts in the same county having a total average daily attendance of four hundred pupils or more in the high schools of such districts as shown by the principals' reports of the preceding school year, and an assessed valuation of at least ten million dollars as shown by the last equalized assessment roll. A district maintaining a junior college of this type shall be known as a union junior college district. The name of such union junior college district shall be specified in the petition for its organization.

County

(3) The county junior college maintained in a junior college district embracing all territory of the county not included in a junior college or union junior college district and having a total average daily attendance of four hundred pupils or more in the high schools of such district as shown by the principals' reports of the preceding school year. A district maintaining a junior college of this type shall be known as a county junior college district and shall bear the name of the county in which it is organized.

Petition for formation of junior college district.

SEC. 3. Whenever five hundred or more qualified electors residing in any proposed junior college district shall unite in a petition to the county superintendent of schools asking for the formation of a junior college district of the type and name specified in the petition, and whenever such petition shall be accompanied by a separate petition signed by a majority of the high school board in each high school district proposed to be included in such junior college district, such superintendent of schools, after verifying the signatures to said petitions and satisfying himself that the signatures are sufficient shall transmit the same to the state board of education for approval. If the state board of education shall approve the petition, he shall submit the question for determination at an election as hereinafter provided.

In case the proposed district is a county junior college district, he shall transmit the petition to the board of supervisors of the county. Upon receipt of such petition, the board of supervisors must submit the question of establishing such junior college district to the qualified electors of the county at the next general election held therein or at a special election to be called for that purpose by the board of supervisors. If a special election is called, notice thereof must be given by publication in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county, for at least two weeks before the election. The ballots used at such election shall contain the words "County junior college district—Yes." and "County junior college district—No." and voters shall express their choice by marking a cross with pencil, ink or rubber stamp after the answer they desire to give. Said special election shall be conducted in the manner prescribed by this code for conducting special elections. The electors of any junior college or union junior college district existing in such county at the time of the submission of said proposition, shall be excluded from voting upon said proposition, unless, in addition to the petition above mentioned, there was also presented to said board of supervisors the petition of two-thirds of the qualified electors residing in such junior college or union junior college district; in which case the electors of the junior college or union junior college district or districts from which such petitions are presented, shall also be entitled to vote upon said proposition. If a majority of all votes cast upon the question of establishing a county junior college district are in the affirmative, the board of supervisors shall make an order declaring the county junior college district established and shall also declare the junior college or union junior district or districts which participated in such election, upon the petitions hereinbefore required, to be lapsed, and the property of such lapsed junior college or union junior college district shall be held or sold by the board of supervisors for the benefit of the county junior college district. The order of the board in regard to such lapsed districts shall be entered by the county clerk in his record of school districts.

In case the proposed district is a union junior college district or a junior college district coterminous with a high school district, he shall call an election to be held in every elementary school district in the proposed junior college district at the same time that the next annual election for school trustee is held, and the officers of the election for school trustee shall conduct the election herein provided for. In city school districts where school trustees are not elected on the last Friday in March, the county superintendent of schools shall divide such city school district into precincts and appoint three qualified electors in each precinct to conduct the election therein. Said election shall be held separately and simultaneously at a public schoolhouse in each elementary school district or in each precinct and shall be called by posting notices thereof in three public places in each district, one of which places shall be a public schoolhouse thereof, at least two weeks before the election, and by publishing such notice at least once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published at least as often as once a week in said proposed junior college or union junior college district, the first publication to be not less than two weeks before the election. Said notice shall specify the polling places, and in cities, the precinct lines. The expenses of printing notices and ballots shall be paid by the board of supervisors out of the county general fund. Said election shall be conducted in the manner provided by law for conducting elections of school trustees. The ballots used at such election in each district shall contain the words "Junior college district—Yes," and "Junior college district—No," or in case of a union junior college district, "Union junior college district—Yes," and "Union junior college district—No," and electors voting at such election shall make a cross with pencil, ink or rubber stamp, after the answer they desire to give. It shall be the duty of the said election officers in each district or precinct to canvass the vote at said election as soon as the polls are closed, and report the result to the superintendent of schools within five days subsequent to the holding of said election. Within ten days after receiving the returns of said election, the superintendent of schools shall combine the votes "for" and "against" the formation of the junior college or union junior college district and declare and record the result, with the details of the vote in each district, in a book kept by him for that purpose. If a majority of the votes cast at the election are in favor of the formation of the junior college or union junior college district, he shall also file, with the county clerk of the county, a certificate showing the total number of votes cast in each district in favor of the junior college or union junior college district, the total number of votes in each district against the junior college or union junior college district, the aggregate result of said election and the boundaries of said proposed district. If it shall appear from such certificate that a majority of the votes cast at such election were in favor of the formation of such district, such junior college or union junior college district shall be deemed to be formed from the time of the filing thereof, and the county clerk shall record said certificate in full in his record of school districts.

SEC. 4. In every junior college district coterminous with a single high school district, of any type, the high school board of such high school district shall constitute the junior college board and after organizing as a junior college board shall have the management and control of the junior college in said district. In every union or county junior college district, the junior college board shall be composed of five members elected at large from the district for a term of three years except as hereinafter provided.

When any county or union junior college district is formed, ^{Election.} the county superintendent of schools shall, on the first Friday in May, call an election in said county or union junior college district for the purpose of electing a junior college board. Such election shall be held at the schoolhouse of each school district in the junior college district, and such superintendent of schools shall appoint the same number of officers of election for each school district, and give the same notices of election as are required for the election of school trustees, and the election shall be held in the same manner as are elections of school trustees, except that the returns shall be at once sent to such superintendent of schools, and he shall canvass the same and issue certificates of election to the persons elected. One member shall be elected to hold office from the day of ^{Term.} receiving his certificate of election until the first day of May, next succeeding; two members shall be elected to hold office from the day of receiving their certificates of election until the first day of the second succeeding May; and two members shall be elected to hold office from the day of receiving their certificates of election until the first day of the third succeeding May. Thereafter their successors shall be elected as provided for in section five of this act. Within twenty days after said election the superintendent of schools shall call a meeting of the junior college board, by giving at least ten days' notice by registered mail to each member thereof, for the purpose of organizing the junior college board. At such meeting the junior college board shall organize by electing a president ^{Officers.} from their own number and a secretary, and may transact any other business relating to the affairs of the junior college district.

SEC. 5. The regular annual election of members of the junior ^{Annual election of members.} college board in county and union junior college districts shall be held at the same time as the regular annual election of school trustees. Said election shall be called by the junior college board, who shall for that purpose designate a polling place in each of the school districts composing the junior college district, at one of the schoolhouses thereof, at which the electors of such school district shall vote. The junior college board shall give the same notice of said election and appoint the same number of election officers in each school district, as are required for the election of school trustees, and said election shall be held in the same manner as are elections of school trustees, except that the returns thereof shall be at once sent to the junior college board, who shall meet at the junior college building on the seventh day thereafter at two o'clock p.m., and canvass said returns and issue certificates of election to the persons elected and file duplicates thereof with the superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over such junior college district. As each member's term expires his successor shall be elected in like manner for the term of three years and until his successor shall be elected or appointed and qualified. Vacancies on the board shall be filled by appointment by the superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the junior college district, the appointee to hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

Suspension
college.

SEC. 6. When the average daily attendance of students in any junior college district during the whole of any school year after the second school year shall be seventy-five, or less than seventy-five, the superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over such junior college district shall suspend the junior college in said junior college district, and shall report the fact to the board of supervisors of his county. Upon receiving such report from the superintendent of schools, the board of supervisors shall declare the junior college district lapsed, and shall cause the property thereof to be sold. All moneys received from the sale of the property of the junior college district, and all moneys in the treasury to the credit of said junior college district, shall be distributed by the superintendent of schools to the high school districts composing the junior college districts, in proportion to the assessed valuation of property in said districts, according to the last completed county assessment rolls.

of board.

SEC. 7. Junior college boards shall meet on the first Saturday in May of each year at eleven o'clock a.m., and organize by electing a president from their own number, and a secretary. Every junior college board shall hold regular monthly meetings at such times as may be provided in the rules and regulations adopted by them for their own government; provided, that in union or county junior college districts the regular meetings as above provided may be quarterly. Special meetings may be held at the call of the president of the board or upon a call issued in writing and signed by a majority of the members of the board. The date set for special meetings shall be at least two full days subsequent to the completion of the call; and no business shall be transacted other than that specified in said call; provided, that by unanimous consent a special meeting may be convened at any time and by unanimous consent, any business matter may be transacted at any special meeting. All meetings of the junior college board shall be held at the junior college building; provided, that if no junior college building exists in the junior college district, or if the junior college district consists of a single high school district, the junior college board may meet at such place in the junior college district as it may by resolution determine.

SEC. 8. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the powers and duties of the junior college board shall be such as are now or may hereafter be assigned by law to high school boards. Powers of board

SEC. 9. The junior college board may prescribe junior college courses of study, including not more than two years of work, and admit thereto the graduates of any high school of California, the graduates of other high schools and such other candidates over eighteen years of age as may be recommended for admission by the principal of the junior college; Courses of study and students. provided, that students who are not residents of the junior college district or of the same or an adjoining county shall be admitted to the junior college only upon payment of a tuition fee to be fixed by the junior college board. Junior colleges may provide courses of instruction designed to prepare for higher institutions of learning; courses of instruction designed to prepare persons for agricultural, industrial, commercial, homemaking, and other vocations; and such courses of instruction as may be deemed necessary to provide for the civic and liberal education of the citizens of the community.

The junior college board shall adopt regulations governing the organization of such courses of study and shall prescribe requirements for graduation from such courses; provided, that the minimum requirement for graduation from junior college courses of study shall be at least sixty credit-hours of work. A credit-hour is hereby defined as approximately three hours of recitation, study and laboratory work per week carried through one half-year.

All courses of study prescribed in accordance with this section shall be subject to approval by the state board of education, and no state funds shall be apportioned to any junior college district on account of the attendance of students enrolled in junior college courses, unless such courses have been approved by the state board of education. Approval of courses by state board.

SEC. 10. The attendance of students enrolled in the junior college shall be kept according to regulations prescribed by the state board of education. Attendance record.

The principal of every junior college shall annually, at the close of the term and prior to receiving his last month's salary and as a prerequisite for such salary, make out under oath and deliver to the superintendent of schools of the county a full and complete report of said junior college for the entire term or school year. Such report shall show the total number of students enrolled during the year, the average daily attendance, the number of teachers regularly employed, the total number of new pupils enrolled during the year, the names of all pupils residing in school districts not embraced in any junior college district and attending such junior college, such names being segregated according to the districts in which such pupils reside, and such other information as may be required by the superintendent of public instruction or the county superintendent of schools. Report by principal

The said report shall be made upon blanks furnished by said superintendent of public instruction, as other school report blanks are furnished.

Report of superintendent of schools.

Every superintendent of schools, who has jurisdiction over a junior college district shall annually, at the time required for making reports of high schools, make report under oath to the superintendent of public instruction, showing the number of students enrolled, average daily attendance, number of teachers regularly employed, and such other information regarding the junior colleges of his county as he may deem proper, or as may be required by the superintendent of public instruction; said report to be made upon blanks furnished by the superintendent of public instruction.

Estimate of cost for buildings and grounds.

SEC. 11. It shall be the duty of every junior college board to make and file with the board of supervisors, on or before the first Monday of September next succeeding the formation of said district, an estimate of the cost of purchasing a suitable lot, of procuring plans and specifications and erecting a suitable building, of supplying the same with furniture and necessary apparatus, and of fencing and ornamenting the grounds, for the accommodation of the junior college, unless such junior college board shall have secured or leased temporary quarters or made other satisfactory arrangements for quarters for the use of such junior college, or unless bonds shall have been voted for said purposes. If such junior college board shall have secured or leased such temporary quarters or made other satisfactory arrangements for quarters, they shall, on or before the first Monday of September next before the termination of such lease or arrangement, either make another arrangement for temporary quarters, or make and file with the board, or boards of supervisors as aforesaid, an estimate of the cost of purchasing a suitable lot, of procuring plans and specifications, and of erecting a suitable building, of supplying the same with furniture and necessary apparatus, and of fencing and ornamenting the grounds for the accommodation of the junior college, or for making additions or improvements to such buildings when once erected, or for buying new or additional furniture, or for the purchase of additional school grounds, or for providing any other school facilities, unless bonds shall have been voted for said purposes. Should the junior college board, of any junior college district, fail to make the estimate provided for in this section, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of schools of such county to make and file such estimate on or before the second Monday of September.

Estimate of amount for maintenance.

SEC. 12. It shall be the duty of every junior college board to make and file with the county superintendent of schools at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors is required by law to levy the taxes required for county purposes, an estimate of the amount of money required for maintaining the junior college in said district for the current school year, including rent or construction of temporary quarters, if any, or additions to the plant already constructed. Such estimate shall be itemized according to items required in the annual report to the superintendent of public instruction. Whenever the amount estimated for any item exceeds by ten per cent or more the amount expended for said item during the preceding school year, a written statement showing the reason for such increase must be submitted with said estimate. The first such estimate after the formation of any junior college district shall also include, if temporary quarters have been secured for the junior college, the amount of money required to provide the necessary furniture and apparatus for such temporary quarters. Should any junior college board fail to make the estimate provided for in this section, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of schools of the county to make such estimate.

Whenever such estimate has been submitted to the county superintendent of schools, he shall have power to revise said estimate or any item thereof. Said estimate as revised and approved by the county superintendent of schools, shall thereupon become the estimate of said junior college district and shall be submitted to the board of supervisors as a basis for levying the special tax for maintenance of said junior college, as provided in section thirteen of this act. It is hereby made the duty of the county superintendent of schools to submit said estimate to the board of supervisors and to the county auditor at the time he submits to them his estimate for the county school tax for the ensuing school year and he shall submit therewith a statement showing the amount expended by such junior college district for each item of said estimate, during the preceding school year.

SEC. 13. The board of supervisors with whom any estimate is filed under the provision of section eleven or section twelve of this act, must at the time of making the tax levy for the year for county purposes, levy a special tax on all the taxable property in such junior college district, sufficient in amount to carry out the purposes legally specified in the said estimate. Said tax shall be entered upon the assessment roll, and collected, in the same manner as other school taxes are entered, and collected, and when collected shall be paid into the treasury of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the junior college district in behalf of which the same were levied.

Should any board of supervisors with whom such estimate is filed fail to levy the tax as required by this section, it shall be the duty of the auditor of their county to make such levy.

SEC. 14. All taxes levied and collected under the provisions of section thirteen of this act shall be placed by the county treasurer receiving the same in a special fund to the credit of the junior college district for which the same were levied, and used only for the purposes for which the same were levied; and all moneys apportioned to any junior college district from the state shall be placed by the county treasurer receiving the same in the special fund of the junior college district to which the same is apportioned. Junior college district funds shall be paid out upon the order of the junior college board, or of the executive committee when such committee is authorized to draw the same, signed by the president and clerk of the junior college board. Such orders shall be drawn and itemized, and presented to, and acted upon by, the superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over such junior college district and the auditor of his county, in the same manner, as the orders of boards of school trustees of school districts. State moneys apportioned to any junior college district shall be used only for the payment of teachers' salaries.

Cost of educating pupils not in
district.

SEC. 15. Not later than the first Monday in September of each year the superintendent of schools of each county in which there is not a county junior college shall certify to the board of supervisors and to the county auditor of such county, the total net cost, less state aid for educating during the next preceding school year all junior college pupils residing in such county and not in any junior college district, and the estimated amount needed for that purpose for the current year.

Tax levy

The board of supervisors with whom such certificate is filed must, at the time of making the tax levy for that year for county purposes, levy a special tax upon all taxable property in the county not situated in any junior college district, sufficient in amount to defray the net cost, for the current year, of educating all junior college students residing in such county and not in any junior college district. If it shall appear by the report of the superintendent of schools that students residing in one are attending junior college in an adjoining county, the supervisors of the county in which said students live shall levy a tax as is provided by this section to pay the cost of educating such students. If the board of supervisors fail to make such tax levy the auditor of the county must make the same. Said tax when collected shall be paid into the county treasury and placed in a fund to be known as the junior college tuition fund. The auditor shall not later than the last Monday in December and the last Monday in May of each year notify the superintendent of schools of the amount in such fund, and the superintendent of schools shall thereupon apportion the same to the several junior college districts in his county or in adjoining counties as provided above, in proportion to the total net cost to each of said districts of educating junior college students who reside in his county but not in any junior college district, as shown in his report for the preceding school year compiled as directed by law, and certify such apportionment to the auditor. The amount so apportioned to each junior college district shall be paid into the treasury of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over such junior college district, to the credit of the special fund thereof, and shall be used to maintain the junior college, and paid out in the same manner as other junior college funds.

The superintendent of schools of a county having junior college pupils attending junior college in an adjoining county shall draw his order on the county auditor in favor of the superintendent of schools of the county in which such students attend junior college for any money belonging to any junior college outside of his county as provided in this section. The county auditor of said county shall draw his warrant as directed by the superintendent of schools and the county treasurer shall pay the same. A superintendent of schools in whose favor such order is drawn shall pay the amount of said money into the county treasury to the credit of the junior colleges educating the students from the county paying such money.

SEC. 16. The state board of education shall have power and it shall be its duty to adopt rules and regulations fixing the minimum standards entitling junior colleges to state aid, and shall annually investigate each junior college to determine whether it has met such standards. Standards for state aid

SEC. 17. Nothing in this act shall be construed as repealing section one thousand seven hundred fifty b of the Political Code. Pol. C. §1774b not repealed. 29 4-10-11

SEC. 18. The governing board of any junior college, or of the junior college department of any high school or of any teacher's college, may enter into an arrangement of affiliation with the University of California to provide that the courses in such junior college whose purpose is to prepare for advanced university standing shall be visited, inspected and accredited by said university, and that the qualifications of teachers in such courses shall be as recommended by said university. Such arrangement of affiliation may include such other matters as may be mutually advantageous, and as may be approved by the state board of education. Affiliation with University of California.

SEC. 19. The governing board of any junior college, or of the junior college department of any high school, may contract with the governing authorities of any state normal school or teachers' college, for the maintenance by such normal school or teachers' college, of junior college courses of instruction for the benefit of students living in such junior college or high school district and desiring junior college courses, and for such service may make such payments to such normal school or teachers' college as may be agreed upon. The attendance of students upon such junior college courses maintained by a normal school or teachers' college shall be returned and credited to the junior college or high school district as the case may be and counted in making state and county apportionments in the same manner as if such junior college courses were maintained by the governing board of such junior college or high school. Junior college courses in teachers' colleges.

An act appropriating money for the purpose of refunding to real estate brokers and salesmen the amounts collected by the State of California under the provisions of chapter seven hundred fifty-eight, statutes of 1917, which chapter was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, and making provision for the disbursement of the money so appropriated.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation.
refund to real estate brokers and salesmen.

SECTION 1. The sum of thirteen thousand three hundred eighty-two dollars and thirty-four cents is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, and made available for the refunding of license fees collected under the provisions of chapter seven hundred fifty-eight, statutes of 1917, which chapter was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court.

SEC. 2. The state controller shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the state real estate commissioner for the amount hereby appropriated, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The state real estate commissioner shall mail his check to each real estate broker and salesman of-record, and the cancelled checks shall be sufficient voucher for the payment of the claims of the several persons for whose benefit this appropriation is made.

An act to amend section fourteen of an act entitled "An act prescribing terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state and providing penalties and forfeitures for noncompliance," approved May 10, 1915, as amended, relating to the terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917,

business.

Sec. 14. Any corporation which has heretofore failed to pay any license tax and penalty imposed under the provisions of chapter three hundred eighty-six statutes 1905 and amendments thereof or under chapter one hundred ninety statutes of 1915, and for such nonpayment suffered a forfeiture of the charter of such corporation or of the right to do business in this state may be relieved of such forfeiture or may be restored to its right to do business in this state upon making application therefor in writing and paying the license tax and penalties prescribed by said act for nonpayment of which such forfeiture occurred. Application for restoration under the provisions of this section may be made by any stockholder or creditor of such corporation or by a majority of the surviving trustees or directors of such corporation and the same shall be filed with the state controller. Upon payment of the moneys due the state under the provisions of said act for the one year in which such forfeiture occurred together with any taxes levied in such year under subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution by the state board of equalization, and the license tax due under the provisions of this act, the state controller shall issue a certificate of revivor to such corporation and thereupon such corporation is revived and its powers restored to full force and effect.

In case the name of any corporation which has suffered the forfeiture prescribed by either of said acts first in this section above mentioned, has been adopted by any other corporation since the date of said forfeiture, or in case any corporation has adopted subsequent to such forfeiture any name so closely resembling the name of such reviving corporation as will tend to deceive, then such reviving corporation shall be entitled to a certificate of revivor pursuant to the terms of this section only upon the adoption by such corporation seeking revivor of a new name, and in such case nothing in this section contained shall be construed as permitting such reviving corporation to carry on any business under its former name. Such reviving corporation shall have the right to use its former name or take such new name only upon filing an application therefor with the secretary of state, and upon the issuing of a certificate to such corporation by the secretary of state setting forth the right of such corporation to take such new name or use its former name as the case may be. The secretary of state shall not issue any certificate permitting any corporation to take or use the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state and which has not suffered a forfeiture under either of the acts in this section first above mentioned, or to take or use a name so closely resembling the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state as will tend to deceive.

The provisions of title nine, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, in so far as they conflict with this section of this act are not applicable to corporations seeking revivor under this act.

An act to amend section three thousand six hundred sixty-nine d of the Political Code, relating to taxation of corporations for state purposes. .

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand six hundred sixty-nine d of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Restoration of right to
business.

3669d. 1. Any corporation which has heretofore failed to pay any tax and penalty imposed under the provisions of section fourteen, article thirteen, of the constitution, and chapter three hundred thirty-five, statutes 1911 and amendments thereof, and for such nonpayment suffered a forfeiture of the charter of such corporation or of its right to do business in this state, may be relieved of such forfeiture, or may be restored to its right to do business in this state, upon making application therefor in writing and paying the tax and penalties for nonpayment of which such forfeiture occurred. Application for restoration, under the provisions of this section shall be made by any stockholder or creditor of such corporations or by a majority of the surviving trustees or directors of such corporations and the same shall be filed with the state controller. In case such application for revivor is made in any year other than the year in which such forfeiture occurred then upon payment of twice the amount of the tax and penalty due the state for the year in which such forfeiture occurred, together with the amount of the license fee due the state under the corporation license tax act for the year in which such forfeiture occurred and for the year in which such revivor is sought, the state controller shall issue a certificate of revivor to such corporation, and thereupon such corporation is revived and its powers restored to full force and effect.

The revivor of a corporation under the provisions of this section shall be without prejudice to any action or proceeding, defense or right which has occurred by reason of the original forfeiture.

Use of new name.

2. In case the name of any corporation which has suffered a forfeiture under the provisions of chapter three hundred thirty-five, statutes of 1911 or amendments thereof, has been adopted by any other corporation since the date of said forfeiture, or in case any corporation has adopted subsequent to such forfeiture any name so closely resembling the name of such reviving corporation as will tend to deceive, then such reviving corporation shall be entitled to a certificate of revivor pursuant to the terms of this section only upon the adopting by such corporation seeking revivor of a new name, and in such case nothing in this section contained shall be construed as permitting such reviving corporation to carry on any business under its former name. Such reviving corporation shall have the right to use its former name or take such new name only upon filing an application therefor with the secretary of state, and upon the issuing of a certificate to such corporation by the secretary of state, setting forth the right of such corporation to take such new name or use its former name as the case may be. The secretary of state shall not issue any certificate permitting any corporation to take or use the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state and which has not suffered a forfeiture under either of the acts in this section first above mentioned, or to take or use a name so closely resembling the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state as will tend to deceive.

The provisions of title nine, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, in so far as they conflict with this section of this code are not applicable to corporations seeking revivor under this section.

CHAPTER 499.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered one thousand eight hundred eighty-five a, relating to the issuance of school bonds.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section to be numbered one thousand eight hundred fifty-five a is hereby added to the Political Code to read as follows:

1885a. In case any officer whose signature or counter-signature or attestation appears on any school bonds or coupons thereof, issued under the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred forty-five or section one thousand eight hundred eighty of the Political Code, shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser thereof, such signature or counter-signature or attestation appearing either on the bonds or the coupons, or on both, shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of such bonds; and the signature upon the coupons of the person who is auditor at the date of such bonds, shall be valid although the bonds themselves may be attested by a different person who is auditor at the time of delivery of such bonds.

Signature
on school
bonds.

CHAPTER 500.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred eighty-one of the Political Code, relating to the opening of schools in elementary school districts.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred eighty-one of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Opening
district.

1581. After the making of an order by the board of supervisors creating a new district, the school must be opened therein not later than the second Monday of November following the date on which said order was made; otherwise said order shall be null and void; provided, that when any newly created district becomes a part of a union school district prior to the second Monday of November following the date on which said order was made, said district shall be exempt from the provisions of this section.

CHAPTER 501.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered one thousand seven hundred forty-six a, relating to the execution of bonds of high school districts.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered section one thousand seven hundred forty-six a.

Execution of
bonds.

1746a. Any bonds executed in the manner provided by the board of supervisors heretofore or hereafter delivered shall be valid, notwithstanding any change in the officers who signed said bonds or the coupons thereto attached, or in the seal of the board of supervisors occurring after such execution.

CHAPTER 502.

An act to amend section one thousand six hundred eight of the Political Code, relating to the powers of boards of school trustees and city boards of education, by adding subdivision sixth, relating to the improvement of streets.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section one thousand six hundred eight of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1608. Boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power, and it shall be their duty:

First—To manage and control school property within their districts, and to pay all moneys received by them or collected by them from any source whatever, and all moneys apportioned to them from taxes levied and collected under the authority of city councils for school purposes, into the county treasury to be placed to the credit of the proper fund of their districts.

Second—Except as otherwise provided in this code, to purchase school furniture, including musical instruments, and apparatus, and such other articles as may be necessary for the use of schools; provided, that except in city school districts governed by boards of education, they shall purchase such books and apparatus only as have been adopted by the county board of education.

Third—To furnish, repair, and insure and in their discretion, rent, the school property of their respective districts, such insurance to be written in any solvent insurance company, doing business in this state, or in any mutual insurance company organized under the laws of this state. When the school enrollment of any school is such as to cause overcrowded schoolrooms, then boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power to make arrangements for the location of schools in temporary quarters. These quarters may be procured for a consideration, or at a rental, or by the construction of temporary buildings on school property. The boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall also have power to rent suitable quarters for administrative offices for a period not to exceed five years.

Fourth—When directed by a vote of their districts to build schoolhouses or to purchase or sell school lots.

Fifth—To receive in the name of the district conveyances for all property received and published by them, and to make in the name of the district conveyances on all property belonging to the district and sold by them.

Sixth—Boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power and may in their discretion grade, pave, sewer, or otherwise improve streets and other public places in front of real property owned or controlled by them, and appropriate money to pay the cost and expense of such improvements whether made by said boards, under contracts executed by said boards, or under contracts made in pursuance of any of the general laws of the state respecting street improvements, or under contracts made in pursuance of the charter of any municipality, and appropriate money to pay that portion of the cost and expense of opening, widening or extending streets or other public places in front of real property under any of the general laws of the state, or under the charter of any municipality, governing such proceedings.

Powers of boards of school trustees and city boards of education.

Make street improvements.

CHAPTER 503.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment, government, and maintenance of city planning commissions within municipalities, and prescribing their powers and duties," approved May 21, 1915.

[Approved May 27, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 710,
unamended.

SECTION 1. Section seven of an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment, government, and maintenance of city planning commissions within municipalities, and prescribing their powers and duties," approved May 21, 1915, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Tax levy.

Sec. 7. The city council of each municipality may, in making its annual tax levy and as a part thereof, levy and collect a tax for the purpose of defraying the lawful expenses incurred by the city planning commission of such municipality not to exceed two mills on the dollar of assessed valuation; provided, however, that no expense of any kind shall be incurred by the commission unless first authorized and approved by the city council; provided further, however, that whenever there shall be or remain in any fund created by the city council hereunder, any moneys, or any part of such fund, in excess of the amount necessary to defray the lawful expenses of such commission, or which has not otherwise been appropriated by such commission, or by such city council, such city council may transfer such fund, or any part thereof, to the general fund of such municipality to be used as a part of, and in the same manner, and for the same purposes, as such general fund.

general fund.

Repealed.

SEC. 2. All acts, or parts of acts, in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 504.

An act to amend section twenty-one of an act entitled, "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twenty-one of an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 21. Any person who shall commit any act or omit the performance of any duty, which act or omission causes or tends to cause or encourage any person under the age of twenty-one years to come within the provisions of any of subdivisions one to thirteen inclusive of section one of this act, or which act or omission contributes thereto, or any person who shall, by any act or omission, or by threats, or commands, or persuasion, induce or endeavor to induce any such person, under the age of twenty-one years, to do or to perform any act or to follow any course of conduct, or to so live as would cause or manifestly tend to cause any such person to become or to remain a person coming within the provisions of any of subdivisions one to thirteen inclusive of section one of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, or may be released on probation for a period not exceeding five years; and the superior court, sitting as a juvenile court, shall have original jurisdiction over all such misdemeanors. The said court shall in all prosecutions under this section, cause the defendant to be duly arraigned and plead to the charge made against him in the manner provided in the Penal Code of the State of California upon an indictment or information; and the said court shall also have jurisdiction in all cases where the defendant prosecuted under this section shall enter a plea of guilty to impose sentence or in its discretion to grant probation upon such terms as it may deem proper. The court may also, as a condition of such probation, require a bond in such sum as the court may designate to be approved by the judge requiring the same, to secure the performance by such person of the condition imposed by the court on such probation. Such bond shall by its terms be made payable to the State of California and any moneys received for the breach thereof shall be paid into the county treasury.

CHAPTER 505.

An act to amend section one thousand four hundred eighty-eight of the Political Code, relating to normal schools.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand four hundred eighty-eight of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Designation of normal
schools

1488. The state normal schools now established or hereafter established by the legislature shall be known as "state normal schools," or teachers' colleges and shall each be under the management and supervision of the state department of education as provided by law.

CHAPTER 506.

An act to amend sections four thousand two hundred seventy-six and four thousand two hundred seventy-six a of the Political Code, relating to the salaries and fees of officials, jurors and witnesses in counties of the forty-seventh class.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred seventy-six of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Counties of 47th class, salaries of
officers.

4276. In counties of the forty-seventh class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. The county clerk one thousand five hundred dollars per annum: provided, that in counties of this class, there shall be one deputy clerk who shall be appointed by the county clerk, whose salary shall be one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy county clerk to serve in each year in which a general election is held which deputy shall be employed only during that portion of the year requiring extra work by reason of such election and who shall receive a salary of four dollars per day, but not to exceed two hundred dollars in any one calendar year, which salaries shall be paid by said county in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk.

2. The sheriff, five thousand dollars per annum and mileage for services of any and all processes required by law to be served by him, at the rate of ten cents per mile for every mile necessarily traveled in the performance of such duty, and for services of all processes issued from all courts outside of his county; the sheriff to pay all salaries of his deputies.

3. The recorder, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, that such recorder shall collect and pay into the county treasury, for the use and benefit of the county, the fees required by law. He shall have one deputy at a salary of one hundred dollars per month, which office of deputy recorder is hereby created.

4. The auditor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The county auditor shall be allowed one deputy county auditor to be appointed by him, whose salary shall be one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

5. The treasurer, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

6. The tax collector, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

7. The assessor, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; he shall have one deputy assessor to be appointed by him, whose salary shall be one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; and one deputy for three months in each year during the assessing period at a salary of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month and his actual necessary traveling expenses, which salary shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county assessor.

8. The district attorney, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum.

9. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. The superintendent of schools, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum and all necessary traveling expenses when visiting the schools of the county.

12. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

County
librarian.

13. The county librarian, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

Justices of
the peace.

14. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered, as hereinafter provided: In townships having a population of three thousand or more, fifty dollars per month, which said salary shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by said justices of the peace in both civil and criminal cases, and all such fees as are allowed by law in civil cases shall be paid by said justices of the peace into the county treasury, as the fees of county officers are paid in. In townships having a population under three thousand, twenty-five dollars per month, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered in criminal cases.

Constables.

15. Constables, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law; provided, however, that in counties of this class each constable shall be allowed the sum of four dollars per day for each day that he is actually required to care for a prisoner in his custody or when in actual attendance during a trial or proceeding in the justices' court of his township.

Supervisors.

16. Each member of the board of supervisors, nine hundred dollars per annum; thirty cents per mile one way in attending the meetings of the board. Three dollars per day when actually serving as road commissioner, not to exceed three hundred dollars per annum.

Reporter.

17. In counties of this class, the official reporter of the superior court shall receive, as full compensation for taking notes in criminal cases in said court, before the grand jury, for preliminary examinations, and for coroners' inquests, a monthly salary of seventy-five dollars, payable out of the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of the county officers are paid, and shall receive as compensation for taking notes, when required, in civil cases a per diem of ten dollars, to be paid by the litigants as the court may direct; and for transcription of said notes, when required, the sum of fifteen cents per folio for the original and five cents per folio for each copy thereof; said compensation for transcription in criminal cases and coroners' inquests to be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county, and paid out of the county treasury; and in civil cases to be paid by the party ordering the same, or when ordered by the judge, by either party, or by both or all parties, as the court may direct. He shall also be allowed his actual traveling expenses when reporting outside the county seat.

Population
of townships.

18. Population of townships. The board of supervisors shall determine the population of each township for the purpose of fixing the salary of the township officers aforesaid.

SEC. 2. Section four thousand two hundred seventy-six a is hereby amended to read as follows:

4276a. In counties of the forty-seventh class, jurors and witnesses shall receive the following fees and mileage:

Jurors. For attending as a grand juror, for each day's actual attendance, per day, three dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only; for attending as a trial juror in the superior court in civil and criminal cases, for each day's actual attendance, per day, three dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only; for attending as a trial juror in the justice's court, in civil cases only, for each day's actual attendance, per day, two dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only. The fee of such jurors shall be paid to them, respectively, on each day during the period of their attendance, if demanded, and the mileage herein provided for shall be paid at the time the fee for the first day's attendance is paid.

Witnesses. For each day's actual attendance when legally required to attend upon the superior court, per day, three dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only; and for each day's actual attendance when legally required to attend upon the justice's court, per day, two dollars, and twenty cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, in going only. Witnesses in criminal cases shall be paid their fees and mileage, as in this section provided, immediately upon their being discharged by the court. Witnesses in civil cases may demand the payment of their fees and mileage for one day, in advance, and when so demanded shall not be compelled to attend until the same shall have been paid.

An act to amend sections one thousand seven hundred sixty and one thousand seven hundred sixty-one of the Political Code, relating to the appropriation and apportionment of state high school funds.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred sixty of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1760. It shall be the duty of the state controller, annually, between the tenth day of August and the first day of September, at the time he is required to estimate the amount necessary for other school purposes, to estimate the amount necessary for the support of high schools. This amount he shall estimate by determining the amount required at thirty dollars per-pupil in average daily attendance in all the duly established high schools of the state for the last preceding

State high

school year, as certified to him by the state superintendent of public instruction.

The state controller and state treasurer shall each year transfer from the revenues from the taxes provided in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California, together with all other state revenues, to a separate fund, hereby created, to be called the "state high school fund," the amount so estimated by the state controller.

Sec. 2. Section one thousand seven hundred sixty-one of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Apportionment

1761. The money paid into the state high school fund is hereby appropriated without reference to fiscal years for the use and support of regularly established high schools and is exempt from the provisions of part three, title one, chapter three, article eighteen, of this code, relating to the state board of control.

The money in said state high school fund shall be apportioned during the school year to the high school districts of the state by the superintendent of public instruction in the following manner:

1. He shall apportion to each high school district on account of each day four year high school, each day junior high school and each day senior high school maintained therein, five hundred fifty dollars for each year of the four year course covering grades nine to twelve, inclusive, maintained by each such the preceding school year.

2. He shall apportion to each high school district on account of each day four year high school and each day senior high school maintained therein, eighty dollars, for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the first ten units of average daily attendance in an evening high school and in special day and evening classes (exclusive of part-time classes for persons under eighteen years of age) maintained in connection with each such school during the preceding school year; sixty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the second ten units of such attendance; and forty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the third ten units of such attendance.

3. He shall apportion to each high school district eighty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the first ten units of average daily attendance in part-time classes maintained therein during the preceding school year for persons under eighteen years of age; sixty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the second ten units of such attendance; and forty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the third ten units of such attendance.

4. He shall then apportion the remainder of the annual high school fund among the high school districts of the state pro rata upon the basis of average daily attendance in the high schools of the various districts as shown by the official reports of the county or city and county superintendents for the preceding school year.

Upon making such apportionments the superintendent of public instruction shall certify to the state controller the amount apportioned to each high school district. Thereupon, the state controller must draw a warrant in favor of the treasurer of each county or city and county for the amount so apportioned to the high school districts of that county or city and county. The treasurer of the county or of the city and county shall immediately place the amount received on account of each high school district in his county to the credit of the account of said district.

CHAPTER 508.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred sixty-four of the Political Code, relating to the apportionment of county high school funds.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred sixty-four of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1764. The county superintendent of every county, and every city and county, must, at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the supervisors of such county, or city and county, are required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county, or city and county purposes, furnish to the board of supervisors and to the auditor, respectively, an estimate in writing of the minimum amount of the county, or the city and county, high school fund needed for the current school year. This amount he shall estimate in the following manner: He shall allow sixty dollars for each unit of average daily attendance of pupils residing within his county who are in attendance upon the legally established public high schools of his county and of adjoining counties; provided, that he shall not include the average daily attendance of any pupil attending high school in an adjoining county, unless such pupil resides in a joint union high school district, or unless the attendance of such pupil has been approved in writing by the superintendent of schools of the county in which he resides. To the amount thus estimated he shall add an amount sufficient to reimburse all the high school districts of his county, for money actually expended by them for transportation of pupils living in territory in the county not included in any high school district, and attending the high schools of the county; provided, that the high school board of each high school district, educating such pupils shall, on or before August fifteenth, file with the superintendent of schools a statement showing the names, and total number of months attendance of all such pupils, and the total amount expended for their transportation; and provided, further, that the superintendent of schools shall not include in such estimate, an amount for transportation exceeding five dollars per month for each pupil so attending; provided, further, that if this amount is less than sufficient to raise a sum equal to two hundred fifty dollars per teacher, not exceeding four teachers for each high school of the county, employed for full time during the preceding school year, then the minimum amount to be raised shall be two hundred fifty dollars for each teacher, not exceeding four teachers for each high school of the county, employed for full time during the preceding school year. Whenever a new high school district has been formed between the first day of May and the fifteenth day of August next preceding the date of the filing of said estimate, from territory lying wholly or partly within the county, the county superintendent of schools, in making such estimate, shall include on account of such new high school district, the sum of one thousand dollars or such proportion thereof as the assessed valuation of property in his county and in such new high school district, bears to the total assessed valuation of such high school district.

Levy of county high school tax.

The board of supervisors of such county, or city and county, must, annually, at the time and in the manner of levying other county taxes, levy and cause to be collected for the county, or city and county, high school fund, a tax to be known as the county high school tax, the minimum rate of which shall not be less than sufficient to raise the minimum amount estimated to be raised by the county superintendent as hereinbefore provided.

Pupils attending in adjoining county.

Before apportioning any of the county high school fund to the high school districts of his county, the county superintendent of schools shall draw an order on the county auditor against such fund in favor of the superintendent of schools of any adjoining county in which pupils from his county are attending high school, for an amount estimated by allowing, on account of each unit of average daily attendance of such pupils, the average amount raised in his county on account of each unit of average daily attendance in high schools; provided, that the superintendent of schools of such adjoining county shall file with the county superintendent of schools on or before the fifteenth day of August, a report showing the names of pupils residing in the county and attending high school in such adjoining county, and the total units of average daily attendance of all such pupils during the preceding school year. The county auditor of said county shall draw his warrant as directed by the superintendent of schools and the county treasurer shall pay the same. A superintendent of schools in whose favor such order is drawn shall pay the amount of said money into the county treasury to the credit of the high school or schools educating the children from the county paying such money. The superintendent of schools shall then apportion to each high school district within his county, an amount sufficient to reimburse said high school district for money actually expended for transportation of pupils residing in territory in the county not included in any high school district, and attending such high school during the preceding school year; provided, such amount shall not exceed five dollars per month for each pupil so attending.

The money paid into the county high school fund or money remaining after payments or apportionments hereinbefore required have been made shall be apportioned, during the school year, to the high school districts of the county by the superintendent of schools in the following manner:

Apportionment to districts.

1. He shall apportion to each new high school district as hereinbefore defined, one thousand dollars. He shall apportion to each high school district established previous to the first day of May next preceding on account of each day four year high school, each day junior high school and each day senior high school maintained therein, two hundred fifty dollars for each year of the four year course, covering grades nine to twelve inclusive, maintained by each such school during the preceding school year; provided, that no such school shall receive an apportionment on this basis for more grades than there were teachers employed in such grades.

2. He shall apportion to each high school district on account of each day four year high school and each day senior high school maintained therein, forty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the first ten units of average daily attendance in an evening high school and in special day and evening classes (exclusive of part-time classes for persons under eighteen years of age) maintained in connection with each such school during the preceding school year; thirty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the second ten units of such attendance; and twenty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the third ten units of such attendance.

3. He shall apportion to each high school district, forty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the first ten units of average daily attendance in part-time classes maintained therein during the preceding school year for persons under eighteen years of age; thirty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the second ten units of such attendance; and twenty dollars for each and every unit or major fraction of a unit of the third ten units of such attendance.

4. He shall apportion the remainder of the funds among the high school districts pro rata upon the basis of average daily attendance during the preceding school year.

Whenever a high school district lies partly in one county, and partly in another, the county superintendent must apportion to such district, such proportion of the school money to which such district is entitled, as the number of pupils in average daily attendance, residing in that portion of the district situated in his county, bears to the total number of pupils in average daily attendance in the entire district, as shown by the principal's annual report for the preceding school year.

District in two counties.

Availability of money.

All moneys apportioned to any high school district under the provisions of this section shall be available for the maintenance of any high school located in such district, for the current school year, and shall be paid out in the same manner that high school district funds are paid out. As provided elsewhere in this code, the high school board of any high school district may file with the board of supervisors an estimate of the amount of money, in excess of state and county moneys, required for building and maintenance of the high school of such district for the current school year. No charge for tuition shall be made in any high school district of this state.

CHAPTER 510.

An act amending an act entitled "An act to provide a relief fund in the several counties or any city and county of the state for the needy blind, providing for and prescribing the powers and duties of boards of supervisors in every county or city and county," approved May 2, 1919, by amending section four thereof.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four of an act entitled "An act to provide a relief fund in the several counties or any city and county of the state for the needy blind, providing for and prescribing the powers and duties of boards of supervisors in every county or city and county," approved May 2, 1919, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1919,
p. 188,
amended.

Sec. 4. All persons claiming relief under this act shall file, at least ten days prior to action on said claims, with the board of supervisors a duly verified statement of the facts bringing him within the provisions of this act. The list of claims shall be filed in the order of filing in a book furnished for that purpose by the board of supervisors, and which record shall be open to the public. No certificate of qualification for drawing money under this act shall ever be granted until the board of supervisors shall be satisfied, from the evidence of at least two reputable residents of said county, or city and county, one of whom shall be a duly and regularly licensed and practicing physician, that they know the applicant to be blind, and that he has the residential qualifications to entitle him to the relief asked for, which evidence shall be in writing, subscribed to by such witnesses, subject to the right of cross-examination by the board of supervisors or other persons. If the board of supervisors is satisfied upon such testimony that the applicant is entitled to the relief hereunder, it shall issue an order therefor, in such sum as it finds needed, not to exceed one hundred eighty dollars per annum, to be paid monthly out of the fund herein provided for on the warrant of the county auditor, or auditor of the city and county. Claim: for mile, one way only, from his residence to the place of meeting of said board. The secretary of said board of education of said county shall receive five dollars per day for his services for the actual time that the board may be in session. Said compensation of the members of the said board and of said secretary shall be paid out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools. Claims of such service and mileage shall be presented to the board of supervisors and shall be allowed at the rate above named, and in the same manner as other claims against the county are allowed. The compensation of members of the county board of education of this county hereby provided is not in addition to that provided in section one thousand seven hundred seventy of this code. No deputy or employee, other than those mentioned in this section, shall be employed by or allowed the superintendent of schools in counties of the seventh class, nor shall any legal charge accrue for salary against said county, for any other deputy or employee, appointed or employed by said superintendent of schools nor by the board of supervisors, or by any other authority, that are in any manner used or employed to assist said superintendent of schools or any of his employees.

Sec. 12. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered four thousand two hundred thirty-six k, and to read as follows:

7th class, salary of surveyor.

4236*k*. In counties of the seventh class, the county surveyor shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; and in addition thereto all necessary expenses for work performed in the office and all necessary expenses and transportation for work performed in the field; provided, that in counties of this class, whenever the board of supervisors shall order or the assessor may require assessor's map or block books then the surveyor shall receive in addition to the salary above noted the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars, additional expenses required for the preparation and completion of said maps or block books.

Nothing in this section contained is intended to or shall conflict with the county engineer act or any action taken under and by virtue of said act.

Sec. 13. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered four thousand two hundred thirty-six l, and to read as follows:

Counties of 7th class,
salaries of justices of the peace
constables

4236*l*. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of township justices and constables in counties of the seventh class, townships shall be classified on the basis of population as shown by the federal census of one thousand nine hundred twenty as follows: Incorporated cities having a population of twenty thousand or more, shall be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of five thousand and less than twenty thousand shall be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of more than two thousand and less than five thousand shall be known as townships of the third class; provided, that no township shall contain less than two thousand population; provided, Counties of 7th class, salaries of justices of the peace and constables. further, that the number of townships shall not exceed seven in counties of this class. It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to fix the boundaries of townships, so that all the territory in counties of the seventh class, shall be comprised within the above limitations of population.

Townships of the second and third classes, shall each have one justice and one constable.

Townships of the first class shall have one justice and two constables; provided, however, that in all such townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, there shall be one clerk to be appointed by the justice of the peace, such clerk to receive a salary of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month, payable monthly in the same manner as salaries of county officers are paid. All fees chargeable and collectible by justices of the peace in criminal and civil cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury. All fees and mileage collected by constables in civil cases shall be deposited in the county treasury monthly.

Townships containing twenty thousand or more inhabitants the board of supervisors shall furnish the justice of the peace and the constables of such townships an office to be occupied by such justice and constables jointly.

The compensation of justices of the peace in counties of the seventh class is hereby fixed as follows: Class one townships, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum; class two townships, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, class three townships, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The salaries shall be payable monthly in the same manner as county officers are paid.

The compensation of constables in counties of the seventh class is hereby fixed as follows: Class one townships, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; class two townships one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; class three townships, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The salaries shall be payable monthly in the same manner as county officers are paid. None of the foregoing provisions of this section except that applying to the clerk of justice courts of townships of the first class shall become operative or take effect until the first Monday in January, 1923. Until the first Monday in January, 1923, in counties of the seventh class justices of the peace and constables shall be compensated as follows and all salaries shall be payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid, viz:

In townships having a population of twenty-five thousand or more, justices of the peace shall receive a salary of three hundred dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them in both criminal cases and in civil cases and in all cases wherein justices of the peace perform the duties of the coroner. All fees chargeable and collectible by justices of the peace in criminal and civil cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury; provided, however, that in all such townships having a population of twenty-five thousand or more, there shall be one clerk to be appointed by the justices of the peace, such clerk to receive a salary of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month, payable monthly in the same manner as salaries of county officers are paid.

In townships having a population of five thousand and less than twenty-five thousand, justices of the peace shall receive the sum of one hundred forty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them in both criminal cases and civil cases and in all cases wherein justices of the peace perform the duties of the coroner. All fees chargeable and collectible by justices of the peace in criminal cases and in civil cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury.

In townships having a population of three thousand and less than five thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive the sum of one hundred twenty-five dollars as full compensation for all services rendered by them in both criminal cases and civil cases and in all cases wherein the justices of the peace perform the duties of the coroner. All fees chargeable and collectible by justices of the peace in criminal cases and in civil cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury.

In townships having a population of two thousand and less than three thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive the sum of one hundred dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them in both criminal cases and in civil cases and in all cases wherein justices of the peace perform the duties of the coroner. All fees chargeable and collectible by justices of the peace in criminal and civil cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury.

In townships having a population of nine hundred and less than two thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive the sum of seventy-five dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them in both criminal cases and in civil cases and in all cases wherein justices of the peace perform the duties of coroner. All fees chargeable and collectible by justices of the peace in criminal cases and in civil cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury.

In townships having a population of less than nine hundred, justices of the peace shall each receive the sum of fifty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them in both criminal cases and in civil cases and in all cases wherein justices of the peace perform the duties of coroner. All fees chargeable and collectible by justices of the peace in criminal cases and civil cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury; provided, however, that justices of the peace in townships contiguous to municipalities containing twenty-five thousand or more inhabitants or in which a penal institution is located shall be allowed a salary of one hundred forty dollars per month each, as full compensation for all services rendered by them in both criminal and civil cases and in all cases wherein the justices of the peace perform the duties of coroner, and all fees chargeable and collectible by said justices of the peace in criminal cases and in civil cases for services rendered by them shall be collected by them and by them paid monthly into the county treasury. The population referred to in classifying the townships for the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace shall be the population found and determined by the federal census taken in the year 1910; provided, that if the township census be taken after the taking of the federal census under the provision of section four thousand fifty-five, then said census shall be known and shall become the official census of the townships in which the same is taken, and the population therein determined shall be and become the official population of said township.

An act to amend sections six, eight, eleven and twelve of an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years: and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, and to add a new section thereto to be numbered section nineteen x forty-five, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six of an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith." approved June 5, 1915, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 6. Whenever a deposition or complaint shall be filed in any court other than a superior court charging a person with a crime and it shall be suggested or shall appear to the judge, justice or recorder before whom such person is brought that the person charged was at the date the offense is alleged to have been committed under the age of eighteen years, said judge, justice or recorder, shall immediately suspend all proceedings against such person on said charge and examine into the age of such person, and if, from such examination, it shall appear to the satisfaction of said judge, justice or recorder, that such person was at the date the offense is alleged to have been committed under the age of eighteen years, he shall forthwith certify to the juvenile court of his county (a) that said person (naming him) is charged with such crime (briefly stating its nature); (b) that said person appears to be under the age of eighteen years, giving date of birth when known, and (c) that proceedings have been suspended against such person on such charge by reason of his age, with the date of such suspension; and immediately thereupon all proceedings against the said person on said charge shall be suspended until said juvenile court shall issue its mandate, as hereinafter provided, directing the court before which said charge was made to proceed with the examination into or trial thereof, and the court so suspending its proceedings shall forthwith cause such person to be taken before the juvenile court of the county for consideration and proceedings under this act. To such certification said judge, justice or recorder, or the clerk of said court shall attach a certified copy of said original deposition or complaint, and when such person shall be brought before the judge of the juvenile court, said judge shall direct the probation officer to file a petition as provided in section three of this act, except that said petition need not be verified; and said probation officer shall forthwith comply with such directions. Pending such hearing said judge may admit said person to bail or otherwise provide for his temporary custody in any manner provided herein for the care of a ward of the juvenile court. The proceedings thereafter shall be the same as in the case of a verified petition; provided, however, that if said judge of the juvenile court shall after such investigation decide that the person was at the time said offense was alleged to have been committed of the age of eighteen years or more, such determination shall be conclusive and he shall immediately issue his mandate directing the court before which such charge is pending to proceed therewith, and upon receipt of such mandate said court shall proceed with the examination or trial of said charge as though no suspension thereof had taken place; except that if said judge of the juvenile court shall find that the person so charged is under the age of twenty-one years, and a fit subject for consideration under the provisions of this act, he may make such order or orders hereunder as he may deem best in relation to such person; but if such judge shall at any time conclude that such person is not a fit subject for further consideration under this act, he may sit as a committing magistrate and hold a preliminary examination if such person is charged with a felony, or he may remand such person to the court in which said person is charged with said offense for further proceedings on said charge, and upon receipt of the mandate of said juvenile court, or the judge thereof, the court before which said charge is then pending shall be vested with full authority to proceed with the examination or trial thereof.

All statutes of limitations relating to the charge so pending against such person shall be suspended as to said person and charge from the issuance by said judge, justice or recorder of his certificate hereinbefore provided for until said juvenile court, or judge thereof, shall issue its mandate remanding such person for further proceedings as aforesaid; and all statutes of limitation relating to any charge, made in any court, against any person under the age of twenty-one years, shall be suspended as to such charge and person whenever, and as long as, such person is before the juvenile court for consideration under the provisions of this act, or is subject to detention by virtue of any commitment issued hereunder and unrevoked; but if said person shall be discharged by the juvenile court or shall be honorably dismissed by the authorities of the appropriate state school, such order of discharge or dismissal shall constitute a bar to any further proceedings in any court against said person upon said charge.

SEC. 2. Section eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1915,
p. 1231,
amended.

Sec. 8. When any person alleged to come within the provisions of any of subdivisions one to thirteen inclusive of section one of this act shall be adjudged by said court or judge to come within the terms of any of said subdivisions, and adjudged to be a ward of the juvenile court, the court may make an order committing said person for such time as the court may deem fit, but not beyond the time during which the court retains jurisdiction as prescribed by the provisions of section twelve hereof, either (a) to the home and care of some reputable person of good moral character, or (b) to the care of some association, society or corporation embracing within its objects the purpose of caring for or obtaining homes for such persons, willing and able to receive and care for said ward, or (c) to the care of the probation officer, to be boarded out or placed in some suitable family home, in case provision is made by voluntary contribution, or otherwise, for the payment of the board of said ward until suitable provision may be made for said ward in a home without such payment, said ward to be subject to the supervision of the probation officer and the further order of the court; or (d) on probation to the care of the probation officer, said ward to remain in the home of said ward, or in any other fit home in which the court may order the probation officer to place said ward, subject to the visitation of the probation officer, said ward to report to the probation officer as often as may be required, and to be subject to be returned to the court for further proceedings whenever such action may appear necessary or desirable; or (e) the court may, if said ward of the juvenile court be a boy, commit him to the Preston School of Industry, or to the Whittier State School, for the period during which the court retains jurisdiction; provided, that no boy under the age of fifteen years shall be committed to the Preston School of Industry, nor any boy over the age of sixteen years to the Whittier State School, or if said ward be a girl; the court may commit her to the California School for Girls, for the period during which the court retains jurisdiction, or (g) may commit such person to any other state or county institution that is now established or may hereafter be established for the purpose of caring for and training persons that come within the provision of this act; provided, however, that before conveying any such person to any such institution it shall be ascertained from the superintendent thereof whether such person can be received; provided, however, that such commitment under this act to either the Preston School of Industry or the Whittier State School shall permit the transfer of any such boy from one institution to the other upon the agreement thereto by the superintendents of such institutions; and provided, further, that any boy committed to the Whittier State School who has passed his fifteenth birthday, and who after due trial and a reasonable opportunity has failed to make a satisfactory response to the training and instruction therein given and who has persistently resisted the discipline of said school; and any boy who has passed his fifteenth birthday and while still under commitment to said school, violates the conditions under which he may have been permitted to leave said school, shall on the recommendation of the superintendent of said Whittier school, approved by the board of trustees thereof, be transferred to and be received by the Preston School of Industry.

Court may admonish and dismiss.

When any person alleged to come within the provisions of any of subdivisions one to thirteen inclusive of section one of this act shall be found by said court to come within said provisions said court may at its discretion admonish said person and dismiss said petition.

Conditions of commitment.

No ward who is under the age of eight years and no ward who is suffering from any contagious, infectious, or other disease which would probably endanger the lives or health of the other inmates of said state schools shall be committed thereto. No person under the age of fourteen years at the time of the commission of any offense with which he may be charged shall ever be sent to a state prison unless he has first been committed to the Whittier State School, or the Preston School of Industry, and has there proved to be incorrigible or not amenable to the discipline of said school. No ward shall be committed to said state school unless the judge of said court shall be fully satisfied that the mental and physical condition and qualifications of said ward are such as to render it probable that such ward will be benefited by the reformatory educational discipline of such schools.

History of ward.

Accompanying the commitment papers, the court must send to the superintendent of the state institution to which said person is committed a summary of all the facts in the possession of the court, covering the history of the ward committed, including a statement of the mental and physical condition of said ward.

SEC. 3. Section eleven of said act, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1919,
p. 176,
amended.

Sec. 11. Any order providing for the care and custody of a ward of the juvenile court in such case where it is necessary that provision be made for the expense of support and maintenance of said ward, must direct that the whole expense of such support and maintenance of said ward, up to the amount of twenty dollars per month, shall be paid from the county treasury of the county, and in such case shall state the amount to be so paid from the county treasury of the county, the amount so ordered to be paid not to exceed, in the case of any one ward, the sum of twenty dollars in any one month. Support of

At the time of making any order providing for the support and maintenance of a ward of the juvenile court, said court shall inquire into the earnings, property or estate of said ward, and into the ability of the parent, parents, guardian of said ward, or other person liable for the support and maintenance of said ward, to pay for the expense of support and maintenance of said ward.

If it is found that twenty dollars a month is insufficient to pay the whole expense of support and maintenance of said ward, the court may order and direct that such additional amount as may be necessary shall be paid out of the earnings, property or estate of said ward, or by the parent, parents, guardian of said ward, or other person liable for the support and maintenance of said ward, to said probation officer, who shall in turn pay the same to the person, association or institution that under court order is caring for and maintaining said ward.

Said court shall further order, and direct that the county for its expense of support and maintenance of any such ward shall be reimbursed, either in whole or in part, from the earnings, property or estate of said ward, or by the parent, parents, guardian of said ward, or other person liable for the support of said ward, if it is found that there are earnings, property or estate of said ward sufficient therefor, or that said parent, parents, guardian of said ward, or other person liable for the support of said ward, is able to pay, either in whole or in part, for such expense of support and maintenance of said ward, and for the purpose of said reimbursement may order and direct payments to be made to the probation officer from the earnings, property or estate of said ward, or by the parent, parents, guardian of said ward, or other person liable for the support of said ward, the amount of which payments shall be determined by said court and which said payments shall be paid by said probation officer in turn to the county treasurer of said county on account of said reimbursement. Reimburse-
county.

No order for payment shall be made in a sum in excess of the actual cost of supporting and maintaining said ward. No order for the payment from the county treasury of the expense of support and maintenance of a ward of the juvenile court shall be effective for more than six months, and upon all said original and all subsequent hearings the case shall be continued on the calendar, but in no instance to exceed six months; provided, however, that in the case of each person committed to any state school there shall be paid monthly to the state treasurer the sum of twenty dollars by the county from which such person is committed, for and during each month or part of month such person so committed remains in such state school or in any other state school within this state to which such person may be transferred.

Accounts of probation
officer.

For the purpose of handling the reimbursement and other payments provided for herein said probation officer shall keep suitable books and accounts and shall give and keep suitable receipts and vouchers, and if such funds shall be by said probation officer kept in a bank, said bank shall be designated by the judge of said court. The auditor of said county annually in the month of January shall audit such books and accounts and shall make a report thereon to the judge of said court and to the supervisors of such county prior to the thirty-first day of said month of January.

parent's control.

In all cases the court may determine whether or not the parent, parents, or guardian shall exercise any control of said ward and define the extent thereof.

Any disobedience or interference with any order of the juvenile court or of the judge thereof shall constitute a contempt of court.

Compliance with court orders.

It shall be the duty of the probation officer to see that such parent, parents, guardian of said ward, or other person liable therefor, comply with such orders, or upon failure to make any payment directed in such orders, to report such failure to such court. The court may at any time set aside, change or modify any order herein provided for.

Execution to enforce payments.

Where said juvenile court has ordered payment of money to be made as reimbursement to the county for the expense of support and maintenance of any ward as herein provided for or as additional amount for the expense of support and maintenance of said ward for said person, association or institution that under court order is caring for and maintaining said ward, either from the earnings, property or estate of said ward, or by the parent, parents, guardian of said ward, or other person liable for the support of said ward, execution may issue for such payment or payments upon the order and at the discretion of said court, upon affidavit of said probation officer showing that any payment or payments are due and have not been made.

Stats. 1915,
p. 1235,
amended.

SEC. 4. Section twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Jurisdiction retained until ward is twenty-one years.

Sec. 12. The court shall retain the jurisdiction of any person who is found to be a ward of the juvenile court until such ward attains the age of twenty-one years, unless, if the ward is a girl, she is married with the consent of the court entered upon the minutes of the court, or until said court is satisfied that said ward has fully reformed or that further direction and supervision under the provisions of this act are unnecessary or inadvisable for said ward's reformation; provided, however, that if the ward has attained the age of nineteen years or more at the time of commitment the court shall retain jurisdiction for two years from and after the date of commitment.

SEC. 5. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered nineteen x forty-five to read as follows:

Sec. 19~~x~~45. In counties of the forty-fifth class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be thirty-five dollars per month. Counties of 45th class. salary of probation officer.

SEC. 6. The provisions of section five of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment, under the provisions of such statutes. Effect of section 5.

CHAPTER 514.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred seventy-five of the Political Code, relating to the salaries, fees and expenses of officers in counties of the forty-sixth class.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred seventy-five of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4275. In counties of the forty-sixth class the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following salaries, fees and expenses, to wit:

SEC. 2. Section one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. This act shall be known as the "Pacific colony act." There is hereby created an institution to be known as the "Pacific colony" and which is hereby declared to be a corporation.

CHAPTER 517.

An act amending the juvenile court law, by amending section twenty of an act to be known as "the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years, and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith." approved June 5, 1915, statutes 1915, as amended.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1245,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section twenty of an act to be known as "the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years, and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, statutes 1915, as amended.

Sec. 20. The probation officer shall inquire into the antecedents, character, family history, and environment of every person brought before the court, and of every person alleged to be a person who should be declared free from the custody and control of his parents, and into the cause of such person being brought before the juvenile court, and shall make his report in writing to the judge thereof. Said report shall not be by the clerk with whom the same is filed made public, nor shall the same be allowed to be inspected by any person except the parties mentioned therein or their attorneys, unless the court before which the proceeding is pending shall for good cause by minute order so direct.

Whenever application is made to the district attorney of the county for the drawing of a petition hereunder it shall be the duty of the said probation officer to make such investigation as may be required by the said district attorney, or if the application has been made to the probation officer, said probation officer shall make such investigation as to him may seem necessary for the purpose of determining the necessity for the filing of a petition. If, after such investigation it appears to said district attorney or to said probation officer to whom said application has been made that proceedings should not be brought hereunder, said district attorney or said probation officer to whom said application has been made may refuse to draw said petition.

It shall also be the duty of the probation officer to be present in court to represent the interests of said person when the case is heard, and to furnish to the court such information and assistance as the court may require and to make such report at such time; and to take charge of said person before and after the hearing as may be ordered. Every probation officer, assistant probation officer and deputy probation officer shall have the power of a peace officer. At any time the probation officer may bring any such ward committed to his care before the court with written report and recommendation for such further order or other action as the court may deem proper.

Before any such ward is recommitted, the probation officer shall inquire into the reasons assigned for such action and shall be present in court to represent the interests of such ward.

Power of attendance officer.

Every probation officer shall have the powers of a school attendance officer, in such portions of the county, in which such probation officer has been appointed, as are not otherwise provided with a school attendance officer, and shall exercise such powers when not inconsistent with his other duties.

Report.

Every probation officer, within fifteen days after the thirty-first day of December, of each year, shall make in writing and file as a public document a report to the judge of the juvenile court of the county in which such probation officer is appointed, and shall furnish to the county board of supervisors and to the secretary of the state board of charities and corrections of this state a copy thereof. Such report, without giving names, shall state separately the exact number of neglected, dependent, and delinquent persons and wards of the juvenile court that remain under commitment to the care and custody of the probation officer, and the exact number of such persons of whose cases other disposition has been made, as such number exists, deducting all cases dismissed or discharged as reformed, or where such person has passed the age of twenty-one years upon such thirty-first day of December, segregating such persons as having been adjudged by such juvenile court to be neglected, dependent, delinquent, or wards of the juvenile court, as the case may be, in one thousand nine hundred three, one thousand nine hundred four, one thousand nine hundred five, and so on, up to and including the calendar year for which such report is made and filed. Any of the duties of a probation officer may be performed by an assistant or deputy probation officer, and shall be so performed whenever directed by the probation officer; and it shall be the duty of the probation officer to see that his assistant and deputy probation officers perform their duties.

CHAPTER 518.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered one thousand five hundred twenty-seven a, relating to retirement salaries of teachers employed in state schools and state institutions.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered one thousand five hundred twenty-seven a, and to read as follows:

Retirement salaries of teachers in state schools and institutions.

1527a. All teachers employed by the California Polytechnic School in the county of San Luis Obispo, the California School for Girls, the California School for the Deaf and Blind, the Preston School of Industry, the Sonoma State Home, Pacific Colony, and the Whittier State School holding valid certificates in this state shall be subject to the burdens and entitled to all the benefits of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the payment of retirement salaries to public school teachers: creating a public school teachers' retirement salary fund, and also a public school teachers' permanent salary fund; providing for the administration of such funds, and making an appropriation for the uses of said funds," approved June 16, 1913; and the contributions of said teachers shall be collected and paid into the treasury of the state in the same manner as in the several state normal schools.

CHAPTER 519.

An act providing for farm and home aid for veterans, defining the powers and duties of the veterans' welfare board in respect thereto and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved MAY 30, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act may be cited as the "veterans' farm and home purchase act."

SEC. 2. As used in this act the term "veteran" includes any individual who has served on active duty in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States in time of war and has received an honorable discharge therefrom or who has been released from active duty under honorable conditions and who was, at the time of his enlistment, induction, commission or drafting, a bona fide resident of the State of California, but does not include—

1. Any individual at any time after April 5, 1917, and before November 12, 1918, or thereafter separated from such forces under other than honorable conditions.

2. Any conscientious objector who performed no military duty whatever or refused to wear the uniform; or

3. Any alien at any time during such period or thereafter discharged from the military or naval forces on account of his alienage.

SEC. 3. The object of this act is to furnish to veterans the opportunity to purchase farms, homes and home sites, and the administration of the provisions hereof is hereby vested in the veterans' welfare board as created by the California veterans' welfare act adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California.

SEC. 4. The board may purchase for sale to a veteran land for agricultural purposes not exceeding in value the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars or a home or home site not exceeding in value the sum of five thousand dollars; pro- vided, however, that no veteran who has taken advantage of the benefits of the California veterans' welfare act or of educational opportunities furnished by any act adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California, or who has received a bonus or adjusted compensation from this state shall be permitted to take advantage of the opportunities offered under this act; provided, further, that no veteran shall receive the benefits of this act who would thereby become the holder of land exceeding in value, in the case of a farm, the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars, or in the case of a home or home site, the sum of five thousand dollars; provided, further, that in any sales preference must be given to veterans who were wounded or disabled while a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, and who are otherwise qualified.

Preference to disabled veterans.

Listing of real estate.

SEC. 5. Any person, firm or corporation within the State of California may list any real estate therein for the price at which the same will be sold by the person listing same with the board in such form, and with such specifications, as the board may direct.

Application to board.

SEC. 6. Whenever a veteran has selected the land or home he desires to purchase under the provisions hereof, whether said property has been listed with the board or not, he shall file his application with the board in such form as may be prescribed by the board, setting forth such information as may be required by the board. Whenever such an application is made, the board, if satisfied of the desirability of the real estate and of the ability of the applicant, and that such applicant is a veteran and that such applicant has agreed with the board to actually reside upon such real estate within six months from the date of the purchase by the board, and that the price to be paid by the board for the real estate desired to be purchased does not exceed the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars in the case of a farm, or five thousand dollars in the case of a home or home site, shall be empowered to enter into a contract of purchase with the owner and to purchase from the owner thereof upon such terms as may be by them agreed. The board shall enter into a contract with the applicant for the sale of said land to said applicant at a price to be fixed by the board, which will make the purchase price and sale price reciprocal, taking into account the difference, if any, in the interest rate to be paid on deferred installments by the board and the applicant respectively, which price shall include the cost of such real estate and all expenses and costs incurred and estimated to be incurred by the board in relation thereto, inclusive of interest, administration, appraisals, examination of title, incidental expenses and such sum as shall be deemed necessary to meet unforeseen contingencies; provided, that the applicant repurchasing the land from the board must make an initial payment of at least ten per cent of the purchase price of the land, in the case of a farm, and five per cent in the case of a home or home site.

Contract with applicant.

Terms

The balance of said purchase price may be amortized over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding forty years, together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum compounded at periods to be fixed by the board; provided, however, that in each case the farm or home purchaser shall have the right on any installment date to pay any or all installments still remaining unpaid; provided, however, that in any individual case the board may for good cause postpone from time to time the whole or any part of the principal or interest of any payment other than the initial payment upon such terms as the board may deem proper. The board is empowered in each individual case to determine the terms of the contract entered into with the applicant, but no real estate sold under the provisions of this act shall be transferred, assigned, mortgaged, or sublet, in whole or in part, without the written consent of the board, until the purchaser has paid therefor in full and has complied with all the terms and conditions of his contract of purchase. Before entering into any contract for the purchase of real estate by the board there must be filed with the board an appraisal of the market value of the real estate proposed to be purchased by the president, cashier or manager of a banking corporation formed under and by virtue of the laws of the State of California and having its principal place of business in the county or city and county in which the real estate or some portion thereof is situate; providing, that if there be no such banking corporation having its principal place of business in the county or city and county in which the real estate is situate, then by the president, cashier or manager of a banking corporation organized under and in accordance with the laws of California and having its principal place of business in a county adjacent thereto; and by an inheritance tax appraiser of the county in which said real estate or some portion thereof is situated and by at least two members of the board. Each appraisal shall be verified by the maker thereof which verification shall state, among other things, that it is made in good faith and that the valuation is honestly determined and represents the bona fide opinion of the maker.

Appraisal of real estate.

Sec. 7. The contract entered into between the board and an approved purchaser shall contain, among other things, provisions that the purchaser shall maintain said farm or home as his place of residence and keep in good order and repair all buildings, fences and other permanent improvements situate thereon and that each purchaser shall, if required, insure and keep insured against fire all buildings on said land, the policies thereof to be made out in favor of the board and to such amount or amounts and in such insurance companies as may be by it specified. The board may require that the purchaser shall give some form of personal insurance, either accident or health, or some other form sufficient to carry him or his family through a period of illness, or to enable him to make his payments when due.

Duties of purchaser.

Examination
of title.

The board, before consummating a purchase under the provisions of this act, shall cause the title of the real estate sought to be purchased to be examined and may require for that purpose either an abstract or an unlimited certificate of title and may refer the same to the attorney general for his opinion.

Cancellation
of contract.

In the event of a failure of a farm or home purchaser to comply with any of the terms of his contract of purchase, the board may cancel such contract under the same conditions and with the same effect, including the right of a resale after forfeiture, as provided for the cancellation of a settler's contract of purchase under the provisions of the California veterans' welfare act adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California.

Rules.

SEC. 8. The board shall have authority to make all needed rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act. For the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of two million dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. Of this amount the sum of one million nine hundred fifty thousand dollars shall constitute a revolving fund to be known as the veterans' farm and home building fund which is calculated to be returned to the state within a period of fifty years from the effective date of this act with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum on so much thereof as shall be withdrawn from said veterans' farm and home building fund from the date of withdrawal until returned into said fund, or until returned into the general fund in the state treasury, as the case may be; provided, that in the event of the sale of any bonds which may be hereafter authorized to be issued to create a fund to be expended in accordance with the provisions of this act, then and in that event the said sum of one million nine hundred fifty thousand dollars hereby appropriated shall be returned into the general fund in the state treasury out of the proceeds from the sale of such bonds. The remaining fifty thousand dollars shall constitute a fund available for the payment of administrative expenses alone until such time as other moneys are available for such purposes from the sales of real estate as provided for in this act. The state controller is authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such funds from time to time upon requisition of the board approved by the state board of control and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants.

of control.

SEC. 9. The state board of control is hereby authorized to provide for advances of money to the board needed to meet contingent expenses to such an amount not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars, as the said board of control shall deem necessary. such advances to be administered as a revolving fund of revolving funds.

SEC. 10. The money paid by purchasers from the board shall be deposited in the veterans' farm and home building fund and be available under the same conditions as the original appropriation. Deposit of moneys paid by purchasers.

If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional. Constitutionality.

CHAPTER 520.

An act to amend sections one thousand two hundred seven and one thousand two hundred sixty-four of the Political Code of California, relating to elections.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand two hundred seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1207. Any voter who shall spoil a ballot shall return such spoiled ballot to the ballot clerk and receive another in its place, one at a time, not to exceed three in all. All the ballots thus returned shall be immediately cancelled, by drawing a cross upon the face thereof in ink or indelible pencil, said cross to be more than three inches square, and, with those not distributed to the voters, shall be returned with the registered list and ballots, as now provided in sections 1263 and 1264 of this code. Every elector who does not vote the ballot delivered to him, shall, before leaving the polling place return such ballot to the ballot clerk having charge of the ballots, who shall immediately cancel the same and return it in the same manner as spoiled ballots. The ballot clerks shall account for the ballots delivered to them by returning a sufficient number of unused ballots to make up, when added to the number of official ballots cast and the number of spoiled ballots returned, the number of ballots given to them, and it shall be the duty of the officers receiving such returned ballots to compel such an accounting; and immediately upon the closing of the polls, and before any ballot shall be taken from the ballot boxes or either thereof, the ballot clerks must, in the presence of all persons in the room, who may desire to observe the same, proceed to deface every unused or spoiled ballot by drawing across the face thereof, in ink, or indelible pencil, two lines which shall cross each other; said cross to be more than three inches square, and said ballot Spilled and unused ballots.

clerks shall thereupon, immediately, and before any ballots be taken from the ballot box, or either thereof, place all said ballots thus defaced within an envelope and seal said envelope, and thereupon a majority of the election officers shall immediately write their names across the sealed portion of said envelope.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand two hundred sixty-four of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Delivery of packages.

1264. The member to whom such packages are delivered, must, without delay, deliver such packages without their having been opened, to the county clerk, nearest postmaster, or sworn express agent, who shall endorse on such packages the name of the party delivering them, and the date of such delivery. If delivered to a postmaster or express agent, such postmaster or express agent shall forward the packages by the first mail or express to the county seat. In the city and county of San Francisco, such packages must be delivered to the registrar of voters within three hours from the time of adjournment of the board, which time of adjournment must be endorsed upon such package, and upon each poll list, in ink, or indelible pencil, and signed by a majority of the members of such board. In the city and county of San Francisco the packages must be put up and sealed in the following manner: by an inspector, and at least three other members of the board, and be signed with their respective signatures across (flap) the same written:

CHAPTER 523.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide a central bureau for the preservation of records of marriages, births and deaths, and to provide for the registration of all births and deaths, the establishment of registration districts under the superintendence of the state bureau of vital statistics; the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits and certificates of births and deaths; the appointment of state and local registrars of vital statistics; to prescribe the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons and other persons in relation to such registration and to fix penalties for violation of this act; to create the offices of state and local registrars of vital statistics, to provide for the salary and fees of same: to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith," approved May 19, 1915, as amended, by amending sections thirteen, eighteen, and twenty-two thereof.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917,
p. 722,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section thirteen of the act entitled "An act to provide a central bureau for the preservation of records of marriages, births and deaths, and to provide for the registration of all births and deaths, the establishment of registration districts under the superintendence of the state bureau of vital statistics; the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits and certificates of births and deaths; the appointment of state and local registrars of vital statistics; to prescribe the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons and other persons in relation to such registration and to fix penalties for violation of this act; to create the offices of state and local registrars of vital statistics, to provide for the salary and fees of same; to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith," approved May 19, 1915, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

of birth.

Sec. 13. Within four days after the date of each birth, there shall be filed with the local registrar of the district in which the birth occurred a certificate of such birth, which certificate shall be upon the form adopted by the state board of health with a view to procuring a full and accurate report with respect to each item of information enumerated in section fourteen of this act.

In sparsely settled districts or where there is no direct mail communication with the county seat a reasonable time shall be fixed by the local registrar.

In each case where a physician, or midwife, or person acting as midwife, was in attendance upon the birth, it shall be the duty of such physician to file in accordance herewith the certificate herein contemplated.

In case no physician was in attendance it shall be the duty of the midwife or person acting as midwife to file such certificate.

In every case it shall be the duty of the father or mother of the child, the householder or owner of the premises where the birth occurred or the manager or superintendent of the public or private institution where the birth occurred, each in the order named, within ten days after the date of such birth, to report to the local registrar the fact of such birth. In such case and in case the physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, in attendance upon the birth is unable, by diligent inquiry, to obtain any item or items of information contemplated in section fourteen of this act, it shall then be the duty of the local registrar to secure from the person so reporting, or from any other person having the required knowledge, such information as will enable him to prepare the certificate of birth herein contemplated, and it shall be the duty of the person reporting the birth or who may be interrogated in relation thereto to answer correctly and to the best of his knowledge all questions put to him by the local registrar which may be calculated to elicit any information needed to make a complete record of the birth as contemplated by said section fourteen, and it shall be the duty of the informant as to any statement made in accordance herewith to verify such statement by his signature, when requested so to do by the local registrar.

local registrar.

SEC. 2. Section eighteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1910,
p. 448,
amended.

Sec. 18. The state registrar shall prepare and distribute all forms and blanks for use in registering, recording and preserving the returns, or in otherwise carrying out the purposes of this act; and shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to procure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration; and no other forms or blanks shall be used than those prepared by the state registrar. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local registrars, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory he shall require such further information to be supplied as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory. And all physicians, midwives, informants, undertakers, clergymen, or judges, and all other persons having knowledge of the facts, are hereby required to supply, upon the forms provided or upon the original certificate, such information as they may possess regarding any birth or death or marriage upon demand of the state registrar, in person, by mail, or through the local registrar; provided, that no certificate of birth or death or marriage, after its acceptance for registration by the local registrar, and no other record made in pursuance of this act, shall be altered or changed in any respect, except where supplemental information required for statistical purposes is furnished.

Record not to be changed.

When facts not correctly stated.

(a) Whenever it may be alleged that the facts are not correctly stated in any certificate of birth, death, or marriage, already registered, the local registrar shall require an affidavit under oath to be made by the person asserting the fact, setting forth the changes necessary to make the record correct, and supported by the affidavit of one other credible person having knowledge of the facts. Having received such affidavits, the local registrar shall file them together with an amended certificate and he shall note the fact of the amendment with its date on the margin of the otherwise unaltered original certificate. He shall transmit the original certificate with the affidavits and amended certificate attached when making his regular monthly returns to the state registrar. He shall also retain copies for his files. If the correction relates to a certificate previously returned to the state registrar the local registrar shall forthwith transmit the affidavits to the state registrar. If the correction is first made in the state bureau of vital statistics the state registrar shall transmit a certified copy of the amended certificate to the local registrar.

Preservation
certificates.

The state registrar shall further arrange, bind and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive and continuous card index of all births and deaths registered; said index to be arranged alphabetically, in the case of deaths, by the names of decedents, and in the case of births, by the names of fathers and maiden names of mothers, and in the case of marriages by the names of both grooms and brides. He shall inform all registrars what diseases are to be considered infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, as decided by the state board of health, in order that when deaths occur from such diseases proper precautions may be taken to prevent their spread. If any cemetery company or association, or any church or historical society or association, or any other company, society or association, or any individual, is in possession of any record of births or deaths which may be of value in establishing the genealogy of any resident of his state, such company, society, association or individual, may file such record or a duly authenticated transcript thereof with the state registrar, and it shall be the duty of the state registrar to preserve such record or transcript and to make a record and index thereof in such form as to facilitate the finding of any information contained therein. Such record and index shall be open to inspection by the public, subject to such reasonable conditions as the state registrar may prescribe. If any person desires a transcript of any record filed in accordance herewith, the state registrar shall furnish the same upon application, together with a certificate that it is a true copy of such record, as filed in his office,

An act authorizing cities, towns and municipal corporations to sell and dispose of public utilities, providing for calling of special elections to vote upon the question of authorizing such sale, and regulating the manner in which the proceeds of such sale shall be applied.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any city, town or municipal corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, may as hereinafter provided sell and dispose of any public utility owned by such city, town or municipal corporation. Cities authorized to dispose of public utilities.

SEC. 2. Whenever the legislative branch of any city, town or municipal corporation of this state shall by resolution passed by two-thirds of all its members determine that the public interest and necessity demands that any public utility owned by such city, town or municipal corporation should be sold, it may at any subsequent meeting of such legislative branch by a vote of two-thirds of all its members order the submission of the proposition of selling such public utility to the qualified voters of said city, town or municipal corporation at an election held for that purpose. The ordinance calling for such special election shall recite the object for which the election is to be held and the purpose for which the proceeds of such Election sale is proposed to be expended, the manner of holding such election and of voting for or against the sale of such public utility, and in all particulars not recited in said ordinance such election shall be held as provided for by law for holding municipal elections in such municipality. Such ordinance shall be published once a day for at least twelve days in some newspaper published at least six days a week in such municipality or at least once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days a week in such municipality, and the insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be a sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days per week; provided, the first publication of such ordinance shall be at least two weeks prior to the date mentioned in said ordinance for holding such election. In municipalities where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance shall be posted in three public places therein for two succeeding weeks next before the day fixed for such election. It shall require the votes of two-thirds of all voters voting at such election to authorize the sale of the public utility described in the ordinance. The resolution and ordinance before mentioned may provide for the sale of more than one municipally owned public utility, but in such case the question of selling and conveying each such public utility shall be separately stated in such ordinance and upon the ballots.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred sixty of the Political Code, relating to the salaries, fees and expenses of officers, their clerks, deputies, stenographers and assistants, in counties of the thirty-first class.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred sixty of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

4260. In counties of the thirty-first class, the county and township officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries, to wit: Counties of 35th class, salaries of officers.

1. The county clerk, three thousand dollars per annum, and five hundred dollars additional per annum for compiling the great register of the county. In counties of this class the county clerk may appoint a deputy county clerk at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and a copyist and stenographer at a salary of seven hundred twenty dollars per annum, which offices are hereby created and said salaries fixed, to be paid out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. The county clerk may appoint such number of deputies as may be necessary for the convenient registration of electors in their respective precincts or townships, and each such registration deputy shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of ten cents per name for each elector registered by him to be paid monthly, at the same County clerk time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; provided, that each such registration deputy, when so appointed, shall, prior to the drawing of any warrant for such compensation, first file with the auditor a statement, verified by the oath of such registration deputy, and approved in writing by the county clerk, showing the number of electors so registered by him during the period covered by such statement. The county clerk shall also receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for issuing hunting and fishing licenses, for the naturalization of persons desiring to become citizens, and such other fees of similar character as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for the performance of any service rendered by the county clerk other than in his official character as county clerk. All other fees or commissions shall be collected by the county clerk and shall be by him paid into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

Sheriff.

2. The sheriff, four thousand five hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the sheriff may appoint an under-sheriff, which office of under-sheriff is hereby created, and said under-sheriff shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. In counties of this class the sheriff shall be allowed such sum as the board of supervisors shall fix for the board of prisoners confined in the county jail, and his actual necessary expenses for pursuing, searching for and arresting criminals and persons charged with being insane, and for conveying prisoners and persons charged with being insane to court and to prison or other place of confinement or detention and to and from state prisons, state hospitals and other institutions, and his actual necessary expenses for keeping, preserving and selling property seized, held or sold on attachment, execution or other process, and for the service and posting of all process papers and notices required by law to be served or posted by the sheriff. All such actual necessary expenses and said sum for the board of prisoners shall be a proper legal charge against the county and shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury in the same manner as other county charges are allowed, audited and paid. The sheriff shall collect from the state all per diem and expenses incurred in conveying prisoners and persons adjudged insane, to and from state prisons, state hospitals and other institutions and pay the same, when so collected, into the county treasury, and the same and all other fees, commissions and compensations other than as hereinabove provided, which, in other counties of other classes, are allowed by law to the sheriff, as a part of his compensation, shall be paid into the county treasury, and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

3. The recorder, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, Recorder. that in counties of this class the recorder may appoint a deputy which office is hereby created, and said deputy county recorder, shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, payable out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. The recorder may employ as many copyists as may be required, who shall receive as compensation, the sum of five cents per folio for recording any instrument or notice, except maps or plats, and for making copies of any records or papers, five cents per folio. The salaries of such copyists shall be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; provided, that the recorder shall file monthly with the auditor a verified statement showing in detail the persons employed as copyists and the amount due to each for such copying. All fees, commissions or other compensation allowed by law to the recorder in other counties of other classes, as a part of his compensation, shall be paid into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

4. The auditor, two thousand four hundred dollars per Auditor. annum; provided, that in counties of this class the auditor may appoint a deputy, which office of deputy auditor is hereby created, and said deputy auditor shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such, the sum of nine hundred dollars, to be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. In counties of this class the auditor may appoint additional deputies, to serve during the month that installments of taxes on real property are due and payable but not delinquent, and such deputy auditor shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of three dollars per day for each day actually employed, and the total compensation, in the aggregate, shall not exceed the sum of two hundred twenty-five dollars per annum for all additional deputies employed. Such compensation shall be paid out of the county treasury, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid.

5. The county treasurer, two thousand dollars per annum; County treasurer. provided, that in counties of this class the treasurer may appoint a deputy, which office of deputy treasurer is hereby created, and the said deputy treasurer shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. All fees, commissions or other com-

2. In townships of the second class, fifty-five dollars per month;

3. In townships of the third class, thirty dollars per month;

4. In townships of the fourth class, twenty dollars per month.

In addition to said monthly salaries each constable may receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil actions or proceedings, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and pursuing criminals and in conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which said actual necessary expense shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner other county charges are allowed, audited and paid.

16. Each member of the board of supervisors shall receive Supervisors. one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, payable in equal monthly installments and which shall be in full for all services rendered as supervisors.

17. In counties of this class the fees of grand jurors and Jurors. trial jurors, in the superior court, in civil and criminal actions and in all special proceedings, shall be three dollars a day for each day's attendance, and mileage, to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending court, or in attending sessions of the grand jury, in going only.

In criminal actions such fees and mileage of such trial jurors shall be paid by the treasurer, out of the general funds of the county, upon warrants drawn by the auditor, who shall draw such warrants upon the written order of the judge of the superior court in which said juror was in attendance, and the treasurer shall pay all such warrants.

18. The salaries herein provided in this act for deputies, assistants and stenographers, shall take effect and be in force from and after the approval of this act.

Effect of
act.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 529.

An act to amend section four thousand fourteen of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to township officers.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand fourteen of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Township
officers.

4014. The officers of a township are, two justices of the peace, two constables, and such subordinate officers as are provided by law. In townships containing cities, or parts of cities, of the second, third, fourth, or fifth class, in which city justices or recorders are elected or appointed, there shall be but one justice of the peace, and in townships having a population of less than ten thousand, there shall be but one justice of the peace and one constable; provided, however, that in townships containing cities of the first and one-half class there shall be four justices of the peace and four constables. For the purpose of this section, the population of townships in the State of California is hereby determined to be the population of such townships as shown by the federal census taken in the year 1920, or by a subsequent census taken as in section four thousand fifty-five of this code provided.

Provided, however, that appointments to fill any additional offices created by this section shall not be made by the board of supervisors except upon the presentation of a petition therefor to said board, signed by not less than forty per cent of the qualified electors residents of such townships, whose names appear upon the great register of the county at the last general election.

act.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 530.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, relating to school election precincts and officers.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred ninety-six of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1596. Trustees or boards of education charged with the calling, conduct and carrying on of elections, may subdivide the district into election precincts for the holding of the election, and may change and alter such precincts as often as occasion may require, and must appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each precinct; if none are so appointed, or, if those appointed are not present at the time for opening the polls, the electors present may appoint them, and they shall conduct the election.

election
precincts and officers.

In all cities having boards of education each inspector and judge of election may be paid, out of the funds of the district, as compensation for his services as such election officer, such sum as the board of education may determine, not to exceed the amount paid from the county treasury to officers of the last preceding general election.

CHAPTER 531.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred thirteen of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to school district libraries.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred thirteen of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1713. Except in cities governed by boards of education, the county superintendent of each county shall annually apportion to each school district, as a library fund, such sum as may be requested by the school trustees of such district, such request to be in writing and filed with the county superintendent of schools in the month of June of each year; but in no case shall the same sum so apportioned to any district be less than twenty-five dollars for each teacher, allowed under section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code; provided, further, that if the school trustees shall fail to file

13. Justices of the peace in counties of this class shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month in the same manner, at the same time, and out of the same funds as the county officers are paid. In townships having a population of more than one thousand, one hundred dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than one thousand, twenty dollars per month. They shall also receive the fees that are now or may hereafter be allowed by law; and shall receive such sum as may be necessary to maintain their offices; provided, that such sum shall not be in excess of twenty per cent of their salary as allowed herein. The board of supervisors of such county shall furnish and supply to the justices of the peace of the various townships the codes of the state and amendments thereto and all necessary stationery, legal blanks and forms for the proper conduct of business. For the purpose of this subdivision, the population of the several townships shall be ascertained by multiplying the number of registered voters at the last general election by three. Justices of the peace.

- Constables. 14. Constables, twenty-five dollars per month, and in addition thereto all necessary and reasonable expenses for performing the duties of their office in criminal matters. In addition to the monthly salaries allowed him herein, each constable may receive for his own use in civil cases the fees allowed by law.
- Supervisors. 15. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand dollars per annum, and mileage from residence to the county seat, at each sitting of the board, at twenty-five cents per mile; which said salary and mileage shall be in full for all services.
- Reporter. 16. In counties of this class, the official reporter of the superior court shall receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, to cover all work done in criminal cases, both in the superior and justice's courts of the county; and shall receive as compensation for taking notes in civil cases tried in the superior court a per diem of ten dollars, and for transcription of said notes, when required during the progress of the trial, he shall receive the sum of twenty-five cents per folio for the original, and five cents per folio for one copy, in both criminal and civil cases; but if such transcription is not required until after the conclusion of the trial, then he shall receive the sum of ten cents per folio for the original, and five cents per folio for copies required; said compensation for transcription in criminal cases to be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county, and paid out of the county treasury; and in civil cases to be paid by the party ordering the same, or when ordered by the judge, by either party, or jointly by both parties, as the court may direct. He shall also be allowed his actual traveling expenses when reporting outside of the county seat.
- Jurors. 17. Grand jurors, and trial jurors, in criminal cases, shall receive the following fees and mileage: (1) Grand jurors, and jurors in the superior court in criminal cases, shall be paid three dollars per day for each day's attendance and for each mile actually traveled in going only, while acting as jurors, twenty-five cents; and the judge of said court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the treasurer in favor of each such juror for said per diem and mileage, and the treasurer shall pay the same.
- Jurors in justice's court. 18. For attending as a trial juror in criminal cases only, in any justice's court of the county, for each day's attendance, two dollars and fifty cents. The justice of the peace shall certify to the auditor the number of days' attendance of each juror, and the auditor shall then draw his warrant therefor, and the treasurer shall pay the same.
- Witnesses. 19. For attending as a witness in criminal cases only, in the superior court of the county, for each day's attendance, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually traveled in going, one way only, while acting as juror, twenty-five cents.

20. For attending as a witness in criminal cases only, in any justices court, for each day's attendance the sum of two dollars, and for each mile actually traveled in going only, while acting as a juror twenty-five cents, one way. The judge of the superior court, or the justice of the peace shall certify to the auditor the number of days attendance of each witness, and the auditor shall thereupon draw his warrant therefor and the treasurer pay the same. Witnesses in Justice's court.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes. Effect of act.

An act to add a new section to be numbered section nineteen x thirty-five of an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers, said section to be numbered nineteen x thirty-five to read as follows:

35th class,
salary of probation
officer.

19x35. In counties of the thirty-fifth class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be thirty-five dollars per month.

CHAPTER 534.

An act authorizing any county, city and county, city, town, district or political subdivision organized under the laws of this state to sell any unsold bonds thereof at a price netting the purchaser not more than six per cent per annum, payable semiannually.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Sale of unsold bonds by city, county,
etc

SECTION 1. Any county, city and county, city, town, district or other political subdivision organized under the laws of this state may sell any bonds thereof remaining unsold, and which have heretofore been authorized by the qualified electors thereof at an election called and held as provided by law, at a price which will net the purchaser not more than the equivalent of six (6) per cent per annum, payable semiannually, on the par value of such bonds; provided, that this act shall not apply to any such bonds which have been authorized under a law permitting the sale thereof at a price netting the purchaser more than such equivalent.

CHAPTER 535.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred forty-seven of the Political Code, relating to taxation for bonds.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred forty-seven of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1747. The board of supervisors of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over any high school district must annually, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes, levy a tax for that year upon the taxable property in such high school district for the interest and redemption of all outstanding bonds of such district, and said tax must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest of said bonds for that year, and such a portion of the principal as is to become due during such year, and in any event must be high enough to raise annually, for the first half of the term said bonds have to run, a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon; and during the balance of the term high enough to pay such annual interest, and to pay annually a proportion of the principal of said bonds, equal to a sum produced by taking the whole amount of said bonds outstanding and dividing it by the number of years said bonds then have to run; and all taxes so levied, when collected, shall as herein provided be paid into the county treasury of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the high school district in behalf of which such tax was levied to the credit of the interest and sinking fund of such high school district, and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds and for no other purpose. The principal and interest on said bonds shall be paid by the county treasurer of the county aforesaid at the place required by the terms of such bonds, upon presentation and surrender of warrants drawn by the county auditor in payment thereof after he has cancelled the bonds and coupons, or upon the receipt of the registered owner if such bonds are registered, after a proper warrant has been drawn by the auditor therefor, out of the fund provided for their payment.

Any money remaining in the interest and sinking fund of any district after the payment of all bonds and coupons payable from such fund, or any money in excess of an amount sufficient to pay all unpaid bonds and coupons payable therefrom, shall be transferred to the county fund of the district upon the order of the auditor.

In case of a high school district situated in two or more counties, the assessor of each of such counties must annually, as soon as the county assessments have been equalized by the state board of equalization certify to the board of supervisors of each of the counties in which any portion of such high school district is situated, the assessed value of all taxable property in such county situated in such high school district, and the said tax shall be so levied according to the ratio which the assessed value of the property in such high school district in any county bears to the total assessed value of the property in such district, each board of supervisors to levy upon the property in such high school district and within their own county, such rate of tax as will be sufficient to raise not less than the amount needed to pay the interest and such portion of the principal of such bonds as is to become due during such year. Said tax shall be entered upon the assessment roll and collected in the same manner as other school taxes are entered and collected and when collected paid into the treasury of such county and it shall then be the duty of the treasurer of any such county other than the one whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over such high school, on written demand of the treasurer of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over such high school, to pay the sum collected on account of such tax into the treasury of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over such high school. Whenever money has been raised for the payment of principal or interest of outstanding bonds of any high school district and the same is at the time this section takes effect in the treasury of any other county than that prescribed by this section for the custody of such funds, the same shall at once be paid into the proper county treasury as above provided.

CHAPTER 536.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred thirty-nine of the Political Code, relating to trustees of county high school districts.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred thirty-nine of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1739. When a county high school district comprising an entire county is established in any county it shall be governed by a high school board which shall be elected according to the provisions of sections one thousand seven hundred thirty and one thousand seven hundred thirty-one of the Political Code, and which shall have the same power and duties in regard thereto as high school boards of other high school districts. The county superintendent of schools shall within ten days after this act goes into effect appoint a high school board of five members who shall hold office until their successors have been elected and have qualified. Within ten days after the appointment of the high school board the county board of education shall turn over to said board the control of the county high school.

Within twenty days after the appointment of the high school board, the county superintendent of schools shall call a meeting of the high school board by giving at least five days' notice by registered mail to each member thereof, for the purpose of organizing the high school board. At such meeting, the high school board shall organize by electing a president from their own number and a clerk, and may transact any other business relating to the affairs of the county high school. The election of the members of the high school board shall be held at the school house of each school district of the county on the last Friday of March of each year, and the superintendent of schools shall appoint the same number of officers of election for each school district and give the same notices of election as are required for the election of school trustees, except that the returns shall be at once sent to such superintendent of schools and he shall canvass the same and issue certificates of election to the persons elected. One member shall be elected to hold office from the day of receiving his certificate of election until the first day of May, next succeeding; two members shall be elected to hold office from the day of receiving their certificates of election until the first day of the second succeeding May; and two members shall be elected to hold office from the day of receiving their certificates of election until the first day of the third succeeding May. Thereafter their successors shall be elected as provided for in section one thousand seven hundred thirty-one of this code.

CHAPTER 537.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred thirty-three a of the Political Code, relating to high school districts.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred thirty-three a is hereby amended to read as follows:

1733a. Whenever a majority of the heads of families or of the electors residing in each of several elementary school districts having in the aggregate five hundred or more units of average daily attendance in the elementary schools, as shown by the last reports of the teachers in said districts, and having a total assessed valuation of at least three million five hundred thousand dollars, and lying two and one-half miles or more from any public high school building by the nearest traveled road, which elementary school districts or a majority thereof are a part of one or more union or joint union high school districts of the county, as shown by the affidavits of one or more of the petitioners, shall present to the superintendent of schools who has jurisdiction over said elementary school district, or districts, or a majority thereof, a petition asking for the organization of a union high school district, or joint union high school district, as the case may be, to include all of the elementary school districts represented in said petition, and shall specify in said petition the name of the proposed union or joint union high school district, the county superintendent of schools shall, within twenty days after receiving said petition, verify the signatures thereto, and if he finds them sufficient, call an election for the determination of the question, and shall appoint three qualified electors in each of the districts petitioning, to conduct the election therein. Said election shall be held separately and simultaneously at a public schoolhouse in each of the districts petitioning, and shall be called by posting notices thereof in three public places in each district, one of which places shall be a public schoolhouse thereof, at least two weeks before the election, and by publishing such notice at least once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published within said proposed union or joint union high school district, if there be such a newspaper, the first publication to be not less than two weeks before the election. Said election shall be conducted by the officers appointed for that purpose, in the manner provided by law for conducting elections of school trustees. The ballots used at such election in each district shall contain the words "Union high school district—Yes" and "Union high school district—No," or "Joint union high school district—Yes" and "Joint union high school district—No," as the case may be, and electors voting at such election shall make a cross with pencil, ink or rubber stamp, after the answer they desire to give. It shall be the duty of the said election officers in each district to canvass the vote of said election as soon as the polls are closed, and report the result to the superintendent of schools within five days subsequent to the holding of said election. Within ten days after receiving the returns of said election, the superintendent of schools of the county or in case of a joint union high school district the superintendent of the county who would have jurisdiction over the joint school district proposed to be formed shall combine the votes "for" and "against" the formation of the union or joint union high school district and declare and record the result, with the details of the vote in each district, in a book kept by him for that purpose. If a majority of the votes cast at the election are in favor of the formation of the union or joint union high school district, he shall also file, with the county clerk of the county, or of each county in which any part of the elementary school districts are situated, a certificate showing the total number of votes cast in each district in favor of the union or joint union high school district, the total number of votes in each district against the union or joint union high school district, the aggregate result of said election and the boundaries of said proposed district. If it shall appear from such certificate that a majority of the votes cast at such election were cast in favor of the formation of such district, the board of supervisors shall make an order excluding all elementary school districts in their county taking part in said election from the high school district or districts of which they, or any of them, were a part; provided, that no order excluding territory from any union or joint union high school district shall be made if the exclusion of such territory would reduce the assessed valuation of such union or joint union high school district to three million five hundred thousand dollars or less; and provided, further, that all bonded indebtedness of the union or joint union high school district and all interest thereon shall be paid by the district which incurred the same as though such exclusion had not occurred. The order of the board of supervisors excluding such elementary school districts from a union or joint union high school district shall be entered by the clerk of the board of supervisors in his record of high school districts, and he shall also send a copy thereof to the county clerk of each county in which any part of such high school district is situated and said county clerk shall enter it in his record of high school districts. The board of supervisors, after making the order of exclusion, shall make an order establishing the union or joint union high school district asked for in the petition, and the county clerk shall record the certificate of the county superintendent of schools and the orders of the board of supervisors in full in his record of high school districts.

CHAPTER 542.

An act to amend sections thirteen, twenty-one, twenty-two, eighty-two, and ninety-seven of the California irrigation district act.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section thirteen of the California irrigation district act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Stats. 1897,
p. 257,
amended.

Sec. 13. The directors of any district created after the passage of this act, on the first Tuesday after they have been declared elected and after they shall have qualified, shall meet and classify themselves by lot into two classes, as nearly equal in number as possible, and the term of office of the class having the less number shall expire at the next general February election in this act provided for; and the term of office of the class having the greater number shall terminate at the next general February election thereafter. After such classification, said directors shall organize as a board, shall elect a directors.

president from their number, and appoint a secretary, who shall each hold office during the pleasure of the board. The salary of the secretary and the amount of the bond to be given by him for the faithful performance of his duties shall be fixed by the board of directors.

Stats. 1897,
p. 260,
amended.

Sec. 2. Section twenty-one of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Notice of
election.

Sec. 21. Fifteen days before any election held under this act, subsequent to the organization of any district, the secretary of the board of directors shall cause notices to be posted in three public places in each election precinct, of the time and place of holding the election, and shall also post a general notice of the same in the office of said board, which shall be established and kept at some fixed place, to be determined by said board, specifying the polling places of each precinct. Prior to the time for posting the notices, the board must appoint for each precinct, from the electors thereof, one inspector, two judges and two clerks, or at their option one inspector, one judge and one clerk, who shall in either case constitute a board of election for such precinct. If the board fail to appoint a board of election, or the members appointed do not attend at the opening of the polls on the morning of election, the electors of the precinct present at that hour, may appoint the board, or supply the place of an absent member thereof. The board of directors, must, in its order appointing the board of election, designate the house or place within the precinct where the election must be held.

Election
officers.

Stats. 1900,
p. 1062,
amended.

Sec. 3. Section twenty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Conduct of
election.

Sec. 22. The inspector is chairman of the election board and may administer all oaths required in the process of an election; and appoint judges and clerks, if, during the progress of the election, any judge or clerk cease to act. Any member of the board of election may administer and certify oaths required to be administered during the progress of an election. Before opening the polls, each member of the board must take and subscribe an oath to faithfully perform the duties imposed upon them by law. Any electors of the precinct may administer and certify such oath. The polls must be opened at six a. m. on the morning of the election, and be kept open until seven p. m., when the same must be closed; provided, however, the board of directors may in the notice of election as provided in section twenty-one of this act provide that the polls shall be open from eight a. m. to four p. m., at which times the polls shall be opened and closed respectively.

Officers.

SEC. 3. Section eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. The board shall annually elect from their own number a president and a vice president, whose term of office shall be for one year, and until their successors shall be duly appointed and qualified.

Stats. 1893,
p. 329,
amended.
Superintendent.

SEC. 4. Section nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. The board shall establish rules and regulations governing admissions to said school. They shall appoint a superintendent of said school, not of their own number, who shall be of high moral character specially qualified for the position. They shall fix his tenure and compensation. The superintendent, except as herein otherwise provided, shall appoint and prescribe the duties of such officers and employes as the wants of the institution may, from time to time, require. The remuneration and tenure of all officers or employes of the school shall be fixed by the superintendent in accordance with law. All officers and employes of said school shall have the general powers and privileges of peace officers.

SEC. 5. Section eleven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1889,
p. 114,
amended.

Sec. 11. The board of trustees shall have a regular meeting once every three months at such time and place as they may direct; special meetings may be called by the president of said board or by any two members or by the superintendent of said school. Meetings of

amended.

Sec. 12. The superintendent before entering upon the duties of his office shall take an oath faithfully to discharge the same and execute a bond with sureties and in a sum to be approved by the board conditioned for the faithful performance of all his duties as such superintendent. He shall be the executive and administrative officer with full jurisdiction over said institution. The board of trustees in their control, management, and direction of the institution shall act through the superintendent but all his acts shall be subject to the approval of said board. He shall ex officio be the secretary of the board, taking charge of all books and papers. He shall have charge of the land, buildings, furniture, apparatus, tools, stock, provisions, and every other species of property belonging to the institution. He shall account to the board in such manner as they may require for all property entrusted to him, and all moneys received by him from whatever source shall be deposited with the treasurer. His books shall at all times be open to the inspection of the board. He shall have charge of the boys committed to said school, and shall provide for their care, supervision, education, training, discipline, employment and government and use his best efforts toward the development of their character and the promotion of their welfare. The superintendent shall organize and maintain such departments as he may deem wise or necessary in the conduct of the school, including a department of instruction, the director of which shall be well trained in modern school administration and shall rank as an assistant superintendent. Said department shall have jurisdiction over all courses of instruction which shall include industrial training. Such courses to be subject to the approval of the state superintendent of public instruction. Duties of superintendent.

Stats. 1909, p. 988, amended. Age for admission.

SEC. 7. Section fifteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15. It shall be lawful for said board of trustees to receive into said school boys over the age of eight years; provided, however, that in all such cases there shall be paid monthly to the state treasurer for each boy committed by the court to said school or to any other state school from which he may have been transferred to said school, the sum of twenty dollars by the county from which such boy is committed, for and during each month or part of month such person so committed remains in such state school, or in any other state school within this state to which he may be transferred.

Payments by counties.

Stats. 1909, p. 988, amended.

SEC. 8. Section 16 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Devises or bequests to school.

Sec. 16. The said school may take and hold in trust for the state any grant or devise of land, or any donation or bequest of money or other personal property, heretofore or hereafter granted, devised, donated, or bequeathed to the use of the school, and shall dispose of the same in accordance with the wishes of the donor, or testator, if expressed, and if no condition be attached thereto, or in so far as any wishes expressed do not prevent, then to invest and reinvest same, or to change the investment thereof, as to the board of trustees may seem best, and to use the income arising therefrom, for the best interests of the school. Such devises or bequests shall not be subject to the limitations prohibiting the devising or bequeathing of more than one-third of one's estate to any charitable or benevolent society or corporation as provided for in an act to amend section one thousand three hundred thirteen of the Civil Code, relating to restrictions on devises or bequests for charitable purposes approved May 5, 1917. All gifts, grants, devises or bequests of property, real or personal, which have been made or may hereafter be made to the State of California for the use, or benefit, of said school, or of any department thereof, shall be subject to the provisions of this section, unless a contrary intent be expressed in the instrument making the same.

Stats. 1909, p. 980, amended.

SEC. 9. Section eighteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Dismissal from school.

Sec. 18. Under rules and regulations approved by the superintendent and which shall include adequate provision for supervision, education and employment, boys may be permitted to leave the school and with the approval of the board any boy may be honorably dismissed or discharged by the superintendent. All boys honorably dismissed and all those who have attained the age of twenty-one years shall thereafter be released from all the penalties and disabilities resulting from any offenses for which he may have been committed.

Upon the final dismissal or discharge of any boy as in this section provided, the superintendent shall immediately certify such discharge in writing and shall transmit the certificate to the court by which such boy was committed. Such court, thereupon, shall dismiss the accusation and the action pending against the boy.

SEC. 10. Section twenty-three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1893,
p. 333,
amended.

Sec. 23. Upon the discharge or dismissal of, or the granting of leave of absence to any boy committed to said school, the superintendent may procure for him transportation, and provide him with suitable clothing, and with such an amount of money as the board of trustees may authorize under rules and regulations approved by the said board. Assistance upon dismissal.

SEC. 11. Sections thirteen, fourteen, sixteen, sixteen a, sixteen b, sixteen c, seventeen, nineteen, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-five and twenty-seven of said act are hereby repealed. Repealed.

SEC. 12. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered seven a, and to read as follows:

Sec. 7*a*. Said school may manufacture or raise for sale, such supplies or produce or articles of furniture as may be used in the said school or any other state institution, but the purpose of all instruction, discipline and industries shall be for the benefit of such boys and to better fit them for good citizenship rather than make said institution self sustaining. The moneys received as provided for in this section shall be paid to the state treasurer, to be placed in the contingent fund to the credit of said school and for its use. Manufacture of supplies,
etc.

SEC. 13. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section twenty a, and to read as follows:

Sec. 20*a*. The provisions of section twenty of this act shall not be construed to authorize the superintendent of said school to return to the court as feeble-minded any boy except where such feeble-mindedness has been established through investigation by the California bureau of juvenile research or some qualified person approved by said bureau. Return of feeble-minded boy.

SEC. 14. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section thirty-two and to read as follows:

Sec. 32. The Whittier State School may admit boys over eight years of age who are wards of the juvenile court under any of the subdivisions of section one of the juvenile court law as approved June 5, 1915, as amended. In any such case, instead of committing any such boy to the Whittier State School, the judge of the juvenile court may place such boy on probation in the care of said school, and for such time, as may be agreed upon by said judge and said school. Each boy so admitted shall be subject to the rules and regulations of said school. Admissions of wards of juvenile court.

Any such boy who absents himself from said school without proper permission first obtained from said school shall have violated his probation, and upon a repetition of such absence shall be deemed an habitual truant within the meaning of subdivision ten of section one of said juvenile court law.

The provisions of section eleven of the juvenile court law approved June 5, 1915, as amended, providing for payments by the county to the state, and for payments to the county by the parent, parents, guardian or person liable for the custody of any such boy who has been a ward of the juvenile court under any of the provisions of section one of said juvenile court law, shall apply in the case of each of such boys admitted to Whittier State School the same as if he had been committed to the Whittier State School by the juvenile court. The judge placing such boy on probation to said school shall issue such orders as may be necessary to authorize and require such payments being made.

SEC. 15. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section thirty-three and to read as follows:

Validity of act.

Sec. 33. The invalidity of any part of this act shall not be construed to affect the validity of any other part capable of having practical operation and effect without the invalid part.

CHAPTER 548.

An act to amend "An act authorizing the board of trustees of the Whittier State School to maintain a department for the clinical diagnosis of inmates of the school and other institutions, and to inquire into the causes and consequences of delinquency and mental deficiency, and related problems," as approved May 11, 1917, by adding thereto new sections numbers three, four, five and six.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An act entitled "An act authorizing the board of trustees of the Whittier State School to maintain a department for the clinical diagnosis of inmates of the school and other institutions, and to inquire into the causes and consequences of delinquency and mental deficiency, and related problems," is hereby amended by adding thereto new sections to be numbered sections three and four as follows:

California bureau of juvenile research.

Sec. 3. The name of said department shall be the "California bureau of juvenile research."

Sec. 4. The said bureau may affiliate with, or enter into such relations with, any university, normal school, state department, institution, corporation or individual and on such terms as may be approved by the director and the trustees of said bureau.

Sec. 5. Juvenile research and psychological work conducted in state schools, state homes for the feeble-minded and in other state institutions giving custodial care to minors, and as may be designated by the state board of control, shall be under the direction and control of the California bureau of juvenile research. Control of research work in state institution.

Sec. 6. The said bureau may take and hold in trust for the state any grant or devise of land, or any donation or bequest of money or other personal property, heretofore or hereafter granted, devised, donated, or bequeathed to the use of the bureau and shall dispose of the same in accordance with the wishes of the donor, or testator, if expressed, and if no condition be attached thereto, or in so far as any wishes expressed do not prevent, then to invest and reinvest same, or to change the investment thereof, as to the board of trustees may seem best, and to use the income arising therefrom, for the best interests of the bureau. Such devises or bequests shall not be subject to the limitations prohibiting the devising or bequeathing of more than one-third of one's estate to any charitable or benevolent society or corporation as provided for in an act to amend section one thousand three hundred thirteen of the Civil Code, relating to restrictions on devises or bequests for charitable purposes approved May 5, 1917. All gifts, grants, devises or bequests of property, real or personal, which have been made or may hereafter be made to the State of California for the use, or benefit, of said bureau, or of any department thereof, shall be subject to the provisions of this section, unless a contrary intent be expressed in the instrument making the same. Devises and bequests to bureau.

CHAPTER 549.

An act to amend section one thousand one hundred forty-two, of the Political Code, relating to elections.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand one hundred forty-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1142. (a) At each general election, and at each election, where other provisions are not made by law or charter, the election officers appointed for each precinct shall constitute a board of election for such precinct. Such board shall consist of one inspector, two judges and three clerks; provided, that in any precinct in which the total registration does not exceed one hundred electors or at any special election for selection of a board of freeholders or at which propositions, not exceeding four in number, are presented to the electors (including proposals for issuance of bonds, for annexation Election board.

of territory, and adoption or amendment of a charter), or at any special election where other provision as to election officers is not made by law, the board shall consist of one inspector, one judge and two clerks. Each of such officers shall be a registered qualified elector of the precinct for which he is appointed and in which he acts and shall serve only in such precinct; provided, that in the case of consolidated election precincts the election officers appointed therefor and who act therein shall be registered qualified electors of one of the precincts of which such consolidated precinct is composed.

Appointment.

(b) The board of supervisors, or other board having charge or control of elections in each of the counties, and cities and counties, must, at least thirty days prior to an election, issue its order appointing the members of the several boards of election unless otherwise provided herein or by law.

(c) If the election officers for any precinct, or the polling place therein, have not been designated by the fifteenth day prior to any election, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall immediately appoint the election officers for that precinct, or designate the polling place therein, as the case may require.

Failure to serve as officer.

(d) Any person who, having been regularly appointed as an election officer, shall without lawful excuse fail to act as such, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty days or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any person serving as an election officer at any election, shall, on the day of such election, be entitled to absent himself from any service or employment in which he, or she, is then engaged or employed; and such voter shall not, because of so absenting himself, or herself, be liable to any penalty, nor shall any deduction be made on account of such absence, from his or her usual salary or wages, nor shall such person be suspended or discharged from any service or employment because of so absenting himself or herself. In appointing election officers preference shall so far as possible be given to any person, otherwise qualified, who has passed a civil service examination involving a test for a clerical position, or who has previously rendered satisfactory service as an election officer if otherwise qualified. Any person may file an application for the position of an election officer on blanks prepared by the officer in charge of registration, which shall be substantially as follows:

In a city and county, the registrar of voters may require such applications to be sworn to and such registrar or his deputy shall take such oath without charge.

(e) No person shall be eligible to act as an officer of election who is not actually a resident of the precinct in which he, or she, acts and a registered and qualified elector thereof, or who has, within ninety days preceding such election, been employed in any capacity, other than that of an election officer, or as a clerk engaged in the registering of electors, by the county, city and county, or incorporated city and town in which he resides. Persons eligible.

(f) Upon filing a list of the names and addresses of those who have been appointed election officers the county clerk or registrar of voters shall immediately mail or deliver to each person appointed a notice that he, or she, has been appointed, stating therein the position to which he or she has been assigned, and the penalty for failure to serve, also such other matter as the county clerk or registrar of voters may determine. He shall also publish the names of the election officers appointed and polling places designated for each election precinct in some daily newspaper published in the county or city and county where the election is to be held, for three successive issues, the last publication to be at least one week Notice of appointment.

before the day such election is to be held. He shall also mail or deliver to each person appointed as inspector for any precinct immediately after such appointment a notice of the persons appointed to serve as election officers in that precinct. Said notice shall be substantially in the following form:

Office of the county clerk (or registrar of voters) county of _____

Form of notice to election officers.

NOTICE TO ELECTION OFFICERS.

To _____, inspector for _____ precinct.

The polling place for the _____ precinct at the election to be held on _____ the _____ day of _____ is _____

Accompanying said notice shall be an oath of office in blank which shall be immediately sworn to by the inspector free of charge before any officer authorized to administer oaths, and before performing any of the duties required of him, and which oath shall be returned to the county clerk or registrar of voters within twenty-four hours after receipt thereof. Said oath shall be substantially in the following form:

Oath of inspector.

State of California, }
County of _____ } ss.

I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be), that I will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of California, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of inspector on the board of election for ----- precinct according to the best of my ability.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this ----- day of ----- 191---

(g) On the day of election and before entering upon the performance of their duties, each of the other election officers shall take a similar oath before said inspector, or in case he is not present, before any other of themselves, each of whom is for this purpose authorized to administer an oath. Such oaths shall be taken and subscribed upon a form which shall be provided for that purpose in the poll list for that precinct.

(h) No person shall be eligible to act as a member of any election board who can not read and write the English language, nor shall any person be appointed an election officer or act as such who is not at the time in every respect qualified to act as such election officer, except as hereinbefore provided, nor shall any person so appointed serve as such until he has taken the oath required. The inspector, judges and clerks upon each board of election shall distribute the extra duties devolving upon such board of election, in addition to their own duties, in such a manner as they themselves shall deem most advantageous, and such extra duties assigned to the several officers or clerks of boards of election by other sections of this code shall be performed by the members of each board as the said duties have been distributed in accordance with this provision.

Not more than two members of any board of election shall be absent from the polling place at any one time. Such board of election shall canvass the votes for such precinct, and must be present at the closing of the polls. The members of said board shall relieve each other in the duties of canvassing the ballots, which may be conducted by at least four members of the board; provided, that there shall always be two members simultaneously keeping the tally sheets, and always two members looking at the vote on the ballot from which one of said two members is reading; and provided, further, that the final certificate shall be signed by a majority of the whole.

(i) In any city and county having a registrar of voters all preliminary or other lists of persons qualified to act as election officers and all appointments of election officers shall be made by said registrar of voters and he shall have power to excuse persons appointed from serving whenever he is satisfied any such person ought to be excused, and to substitute new appointees in all cases when any person appointed shall be excused or found disqualified or deemed incompetent down to a time when said registrar of voters shall send a final or amended list of such election officers to the inspector, for the precinct, which list shall be the registrar's final order of appointment for such precinct; such appointments shall be in the form prescribed in subdivision (f) of this section, and in addition shall have at the head thereof the words in capitals "final precinct list of election officers."

In a city and county having such a registrar of voters he may require inspectors of election who have been appointed, to take the oath of office at the office of said registrar of voters at least ten days before the day of election, and if such inspector shall refuse or fail to so take such oath of office said registrar may substitute and appoint an inspector and administer such oath of office to such newly appointed inspector. In a city and county the publication of the list of election officers referred to in this section, may, in the discretion of the registrar of voters, be made only once.

CHAPTER 550.

An act to recognize and declare valid the proceedings creating the Rannells permanent road division in Riverside county and to validate the bonds issued for the improvement of the division.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Rannells permanent road
validated.

SECTION 1. The Rannells permanent road division as formed by the board of supervisors of the county of Riverside, State of California, and as now existing together with the bonds issued for the purpose of the construction of roads within the division, is hereby recognized and declared valid and all proceedings on organization, formation and issuance of bonds thereof and thereby are hereby approved and declared valid.

CHAPTER 551.

An act to amend sections one thousand six hundred seventeen, one thousand six hundred sixty-three, one thousand seven hundred twenty, one thousand seven hundred fifty, and one thousand seven hundred fifty a, of the Political Code, relating to public schools.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand six hundred seventeen of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1617. The board of education of any city, or of any city and county, or the board of school trustees of any school district situated within a high school district maintaining a junior high school shall permit pupils who have completed the sixth year of the elementary school to attend a junior high school established as provided by section one thousand seven hundred fiftya, of the Political Code, and shall pay to such high school district for the education of such pupils, a tuition charge which shall be agreed upon by said board of education, or board of school trustees, and the high school board maintaining such junior high school; provided, that such board of education or board of school trustees shall not pay to any such high school board for educating a pupil, residing in such elementary school district and attending such junior high school, a tuition charge greater than the average net cost per pupil for educating pupils in the first six years of the elementary school in said elementary school district; and provided, further, that such tuition charge shall cease to be paid after the pupil has completed two years of work in such junior high school.

Tuition charge in junior high school.

The board of school trustees of any school district not situated in a high school district maintaining a junior high school course, may permit pupils of their district who have completed the sixth year of the elementary school, to attend any junior high school course in any high school district, and may pay to such high school district for the education of such pupils, by order on the county superintendent of schools, a tuition charge which shall be agreed upon by such board of school trustees and the high school board maintaining such junior high school course; provided, that such board of school trustees shall not pay a tuition charge greater than the average net cost per pupil for educating pupils in the first six years of the elementary school district wherein they reside, as ascertained by the county superintendent of schools; and provided, further, that said tuition charge shall cease to be paid after the pupil has completed two years of work in such junior high school course; and provided, further, that the average daily attendance of all pupils from a district paying such tuition enrolled in the first two years of such junior high school course, shall be kept separate and shall be credited to the elementary school district in which said pupils reside.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand six hundred sixty-three of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1663. The public schools of California, other than those supported exclusively by the state, shall be classed as day and evening elementary, and day and evening secondary schools.

Classification of schools.

SEC. 3. Section one thousand seven hundred twenty of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1720. First—The secondary schools of the state shall be designated as four year high schools, junior high schools, senior high schools, evening high schools, technical schools and junior colleges.

Designation of secondary schools.

Second—High school districts may be formed, organized and maintained, and secondary schools may be established and maintained in conformity with the provisions of this article.

Third—Each high school district may, in accordance with the provisions of law, establish and maintain any of the secondary schools mentioned in subdivision first of this section; and each high school district must establish and maintain for the convenience of the day pupils of the district at least one four year high school, or in lieu thereof at least one junior high school and at least one senior high school.

SEC. 4. Section one thousand seven hundred fifty of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Course of study.

1750. The course of study for each high school shall be prepared under the direction of the high school board having control thereof, and shall be subject to the approval of the state board of education. The course for four year high schools shall be designed to fit the needs of pupils of the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades of the public schools; the course for junior high schools to fit the needs of pupils of the seventh, eighth and ninth, or of the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth grades; and the course for senior high schools to fit the needs of pupils of the tenth, eleventh and twelfth, or of the eleventh and twelfth grades. Each high school district shall maintain, in one or more of its day high schools, a course of study designed to prepare prospective students for admission to state normal schools, state teachers' colleges and the state university. In addition to other subjects of instruction each high school course of study may include training in athletics, military drill and tactics, manual training, domestic science and art, agriculture, horticulture, dairying or other vocational work, for which credit may be given as a part of said high school work, and instruction therein shall be given at such times and in such manner as said high school board shall determine.

Upon satisfactory evidence being shown to the superintendent of public instruction that the high school board of any high school district has neglected or refused to establish only such courses of study as have been approved by the state board of education, or to comply with any of the other provisions of this section, it shall be the duty of such superintendent of public instruction to withhold from such high school district, all apportionments from the state high school fund, until said high school board shall fully comply with the provisions of this section.

SEC. 5. Section one thousand seven hundred fifty a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1750*a*. The governing board of a county, a union or a joint union high school district may establish a junior high school or a system of junior high schools only when a majority of the boards of trustees of the elementary school districts comprising such high school district shall approve the organization of such course in writing, and shall file a statement of such approval with the high school board, or when at an election called for that purpose in the same manner as the election for the formation of the high school district, a majority of the qualified electors voting thereat shall vote in favor of such junior high school. The ballots used at such election shall contain the words "Junior high school—Yes" and "Junior high school—No." The result of said election shall be determined and certified to the superintendent of schools as provided in case of the election for the formation of the district. All minors who have completed the work of the sixth grade and such other minors thirteen years of age or over as are, in the judgment of the principal of the junior high school and of the superintendent having immediate jurisdiction thereof, capable of doing the required work may be admitted to a junior high school.

Whenever the average daily attendance of pupils enrolled in the first two years of the junior high school of a district is less than twenty-five for any school year, such junior high school shall be deemed to have lapsed.

CHAPTER 552.

An act to be known as the Preston School of Industry act and to amend sections one, ten, eleven, twelve, seventeen, eighteen, twenty, twenty-one and twenty-three, and to repeal sections eight, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen and twenty-two of an act entitled "An act to establish a school of industry, to provide for the maintenance and management of the same and to make an appropriation therefor," approved March 11, 1889.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to be known as the Preston School of Industry act and to amend sections one, ten, eleven, twelve, seventeen, eighteen, twenty and twenty-one, and to repeal sections eight, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen and twenty-two of an act entitled "An act to establish a school of industry, to provide for the maintenance and management of the same and to make an appropriation therefor," approved March 11, 1889, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. There shall be established at or within a convenient distance from Lone city, in the county of Amador in said state an educational institution to be designated as the "Preston School of Industry."

Title of act. This act shall be known as the "Preston School of Industry act."

Stats. 1915, p. 849, amended. SEC. 2. Section ten of this act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Compensation of board. Sec. 10. The members of the board of trustees shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be allowed their reasonable expenses incurred while in the discharge of their official duties. The board shall meet once in three months for the transaction of business. Special meetings may be called by the president, any two members, or by the superintendent of said school when deemed necessary.

Meetings. Stats. 1889, p. 102, amended. SEC. 3. Section eleven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Superintendent. Sec. 11. The board shall appoint a superintendent of said school not of their own number, who shall be of high moral character, specially qualified for the position. The board shall fix his tenure and compensation. Before entering upon the duties of his office he shall take an oath faithfully to discharge the same and execute a bond with such sureties and in such a sum as may be approved by the board, conditioned for the faithful performance of all his duties as such superintendent. He shall be the executive and administrative officer with full jurisdiction over said institution. His actions shall be subject to the approval of the board of trustees of which he shall be the ex officio secretary, taking charge of all books and papers. He shall have charge of the land, buildings, furniture, apparatus, tools, stock, provisions and every other species of property belonging to the institution. He shall account to the board in such manner as they may require for all property entrusted to him, and all moneys received by him from whatever source shall be deposited with the treasurer. His books shall at all times be open to the inspection of the board.

The remuneration and tenure of all officers and employees of the school shall be fixed by the superintendent, and they shall have the general powers and privileges of peace officers.

The superintendent shall have charge of the youths committed to said institution and shall provide for their education, employment, government and discipline and use his best efforts toward the correction of their faults and the development of their characters.

Stats. 1889, p. 102, amended. SEC. 4. Section twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Departments. Sec. 12. The superintendent shall organize and maintain such departments as he may deem wise or necessary in the conduct of the school including a department of instruction, the director of which shall be well trained in modern school administration and shall rank as an assistant superintendent. Said department shall have jurisdiction over all courses of instruction, which shall include industrial training. Such courses to be subject to the approval of the state superintendent of public instruction.

Said school may manufacture or raise, for sale, such supplies or produce or articles of furniture as may be used in the said school or any other state institution, but the purpose of all instruction, discipline and industries shall be for the benefit of the youths and to qualify them for honorable employment and good citizenship, rather than to make said institution self sustaining.

All moneys received under the provisions of this section shall be paid to the state treasurer, to be placed in the contingent fund to the credit of said school and for its use.

SEC. 4. Section seventeen of said act is amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1889, p. 104, amended.

Sec. 17. It shall be lawful, with the approval of the board of trustees, for the superintendent to grant a leave of absence or to discharge or to give an honorable dismissal to any youth and to cause an entry of the reasons for such discharge or dismissal to be made in the records. All persons thus honorably dismissed and all those who are retained for the full period of their respective commitments shall thereafter be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offenses or crimes for which they were committed. Upon the final discharge or dismissal of any youth as in this section provided, the superintendent shall immediately certify such discharge or dismissal in writing and shall transmit the certificate to the magistrate or court by which such youth was committed. Said magistrate or court shall thereupon dismiss the accusation and the action pending against said person.

Discharge and dismissal of youths.

SEC. 5. Section eighteen of said act is amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1909, p. 364, amended.

Sec. 18. When in the opinion of the superintendent any youth according to regulations established for the purpose merits consideration for parole and it will be to his advantage to be paroled the superintendent, subject to review by the board of trustees, may grant such parole under such conditions as he may deem best. When such youth has proved such ability for honorable self support, then upon the recommendation of the superintendent he shall be honorably dismissed by the board. Any youth who, while on parole, violates the conditions of his parole may be returned to said school.

Parole.

Upon the parole, discharge or dismissal of any youth committed to said school the superintendent may procure transportation for him, and may provide him with suitable clothing, and with such an amount of money as may be authorized under rules and regulations approved by the board of trustees.

SEC. 6. Section twenty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1889, p. 105, amended.

Sec. 20. The provisions of section ten of the juvenile court law shall not be construed to authorize the superintendent of said school to return to the court as feeble minded any youth except where such feeble mindedness has been established through investigation by the California bureau of juvenile

In all such cases there shall be paid monthly to the state treasurer for each boy committed by the court to said school or to any other state school from which he may have been transferred to said school, the sum of twenty dollars by the county from which such boy is committed, for and during each month or part of month such person so committed remains in such state school, or in any other state school within this state to which he may be transferred.

Repealed.

SEC. 8. Sections eight, fifteen, sixteen and twenty-two of said act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 553.

An act to add a new section to be numbered section nineteen eleven to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act ^{Juvenile} entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court ^{court} law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers; said section to be numbered nineteen α eleven and to read as follows:

Sec. 19 α 11. In counties of the eleventh class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be one hundred fifty dollars per month. In counties of this class, there shall be one assistant probation officer whose salary shall be one hundred dollars per month. ^{Counties of 11th class, salary of probation officer.}

CHAPTER 554.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred fifty-one of the Political Code, relating to qualifications for admittance to California high schools.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred fifty-one of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Qualifications for admittance to high schools.

1751. Any graduate of the elementary schools of this state and any other person who furnishes to the principal of the high school and to the county or to the city superintendent of schools having immediate jurisdiction over such high school, satisfactory evidence of his fitness for high school work, may attend high school in the district in which he resides under such regulations as the high school board may prescribe. Any person who is, under the provision of this section, eligible to attend a high school and who resides in a high school district, may attend a high school in a high school district in the same county, other than that in which he resides only upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the high school boards of the two districts, or, if such boards fail to agree, on such terms as the county superintendent of schools having immediate jurisdiction over the high school which he desires to attend may prescribe. Any person who is under the provisions of this section eligible to attend a high school and who resides in a high school district may attend high school in a high school district of another county only upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the high school boards of the two districts, or if such boards fail to agree, on such terms as may be agreed upon by the county superintendents of schools of the two counties concerned. Any person who is, under the provisions of this section, eligible to attend a high school and who resides in an elementary district not contained in a high school district, may attend any high school in the county in which he resides.

Person not residing in
district.

Any person not residing in a high school district desiring to attend a high school in a high school district situate entirely outside the county in which such person resides, may attend such high school only upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the high school board of the high school which he desires to attend and the superintendent of schools of the county in which he resides, or if they fail to agree, on such terms as the superintendent of schools having jurisdiction by the provision of this article over the high school he desires to attend may prescribe.

Any person who is, under the provisions of this section, eligible to attend a high school and who resides in a county in which no high school is maintained, may attend any high school of the state upon payment of such tuition by his county as the high school board may fix not exceeding the average cost per pupil in average daily attendance for maintenance of such high school during the previous school year.

When terms have been made and agreed upon by high school boards as provided for in this section, the superintendent of schools of the county in which such person resides is authorized and empowered to apportion and cause to be paid over to the high school which such person desires to attend, such portion of the high school fund of his county as he may deem equitable.

Nothing in this section shall be construed so as to compel a high school district to accept pupils from territory lying outside of such high school district boundaries where accommodations for such pupils are not available.

Any high school district may contract with another high school district for the education of its pupils entitled to attend a high school, in such subjects or in such grades as may be named in such contract or agreement, and may make such payments to such other high school district for the education of such pupils as may be agreed upon by the high school boards of the districts concerned.

CHAPTER 555.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred seventy-two of the Political Code, relating to the salaries, fees and expenses of officers in counties of the forty-third class.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred seventy-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4272. In counties of the forty-third class the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following salaries, fees and expenses, to wit: Counties of 43d class. salaries of officers.

1. Effect of
act.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes, nor to increase or decrease the compensation paid to or received by any such person under the provisions of such statute, except as otherwise herein expressly provided.

CHAPTER 556.

An act to amend section fifteen a of the juvenile court law, approved June 15, 1915, as amended, relating to the citation issued upon filing of petition.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section fifteen a of the juvenile court law, approved June 15, 1915, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 1236, amended.

Sec. 15a. Upon the filing of a petition, as provided in section three of this act, alleging that there is within the county or residing therein a person who should be declared free from the custody and control of his parents, as defined in this act, or that there have occurred within the county acts constituting abandonment, neglect, cruelty or habitual intemperance, on the part of the parent or parents of such person, and praying that the superior court deal with said person as provided in this act, a citation shall issue, requiring the person or persons having the custody or control of said person or the person or persons with whom said person may be, to appear with said person at a time and place stated in the citation. Citation to issue upon filing of petition. The juvenile court, either of the county in which the person resides, or of the county in which he is found, or of the county in which the acts constituting the abandonment, neglect, cruelty or habitual intemperance occurred, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine such proceeding, at the election of the petitioner. Service of such citation must be made at least ten days before the time stated therein for such appearance. The parent or parents of said person, if residing within the State of California, and if their place of residence be known to the petitioner, or, if there be no parent so residing, or if the place of residence of such parent or parents be not known to the petitioner, then some relative of said person, if any there be residing within the state, and if his residence and relationship to said person be known to the petitioner, shall be notified of the proceedings by service of citation requiring him or them to appear at the time and place stated in such citation. Service of such citations must be made at least ten days before the time stated therein for such appearance.

CHAPTER 557.

An act to amend section twenty of an act entitled "An act to provide a central bureau for the preservation of records of marriages, births, and deaths, and to provide for the registration of all births and deaths, the establishment of registration districts under the superintendence of the state bureau of vital statistics; the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits and certificates of births and deaths; the appointment of state and local registrars of vital statistics; to prescribe the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons and other persons in relation to such registration and to fix penalties for violation of this act; to create the offices of state and local registrars of vital statistics, to provide for the salary and fees of same; to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith," approved May 19, 1915.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 286,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section twenty of an act entitled "An act to provide a central bureau for the preservation of records of marriages, births, and deaths, and to provide for the registration of all births and deaths, the establishment of registration districts under the superintendence of the state bureau of vital statistics; the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits and certificates of births and deaths; the appointment of state and local registrars of vital statistics; to prescribe the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons, and other persons in relation to such registration and to fix penalties for violation of this act; to create the offices of state and local registrars of vital statistics, to provide for the salary and fees of same; to repeal all acts and parts of act in conflict therewith," approved May 19, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

registrar's fees.

Sec. 20. Each local registrar shall be paid the sum of twenty-five cents for each birth certificate and each death certificate properly and completely made out and registered with him, and correctly recorded and promptly returned by him to the state registrar, as required by this act, out of which fees he shall pay the subregistrar the sum of fifteen cents in cases where the certificate is registered with the subregistrar. And in case no births or no deaths were registered during any month, the local registrar shall be entitled to be paid the sum of twenty-five cents for each report to that effect, but only if such report be made promptly as required by this act. All amounts shall be paid by the treasurer of the county in which the registration district is located, upon warrants drawn by the auditor. And the state registrar shall quarterly certify to the auditors of the several counties the number of births and deaths properly registered, with the names of the local registrars and the amounts due each at the rates fixed herein; provided, that no fee shall be paid by the county to, or for the services of, any local registrar who is also clerk or health officer of any city or town and whose salary as such clerk or health officer is by law his sole compensation for his services.

An act to amend section nine of an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction or completion thereof," which became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval February 25, 1901, as amended.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section nine of an act entitled "An act Stats 1907, p 611, amended. authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction or completion thereof," which became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval February 25, 1901, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. All contracts by a municipality for the construction Contracts. or completion of any public work or improvement or for furnishing labor or materials therefor as herein provided shall be let and entered into as other contracts are let and entered into, by such municipality; provided, that any municipality of this state may, without awarding a contract for the construction or completion of any public work or improvement, or for furnishing labor or material therefor as herein provided, do any of said work directly, and shall have the power when such municipality elects so to do, to do said work directly, to purchase the materials, hire the labor and do all other things necessary for the doing of said work; and provided, further, that when any Work done jointly with U. S. of said public work is to be done and performed by any municipality jointly with the government of the United States, the portion of the cost thereof to be borne by such municipality may be turned over to the government of the United States to be expended by it in the performance of said public work.

CHAPTER 559.

An act to amend sections one, six, twelve, sixteen and twenty-four of an act entitled "An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands, and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie; providing for the issuance of bonds and levying of assessments on lands benefited, to pay the costs and expenses thereof," approved May 18, 1919, and to add six new sections to said act to be numbered six a, twelve a, twelve b, twelve c, twenty-three a and twenty-four a.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 731,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands, and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie; providing for the issuance of bonds and levying of assessment on lands benefited, to pay the costs and expenses thereof," approved May 18, 1919, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Petition for establishment of
system.

Section 1. Whenever twenty or more property owners or the owners of a majority of the land within a district proposed to be organized under this act, which district contains a body of wet, swamp or overflowed lands, or lands otherwise needing drainage, susceptible of drainage by a ditch or drain or a system of ditches or drains, and which said district is to be benefited by the construction of any improvements contemplated by this act, shall file with the board of supervisors of the county in which said lands are situated a petition for the establishment of such ditch or drain or system of ditches or drains, for the draining of said body of lands, defining the boundary of the district proposed to be benefited and defining the boundaries of such body of lands to be drained and giving a general description and approximate location of such ditch or drain or system of ditches or drains, and shall give said board of supervisors a good and sufficient bond, in an amount to be determined by said board, for the payment of all costs that may accrue in event that said petition shall not be granted, said board shall, within thirty days after the filing of said petition, appoint a day for the hearing of the same, which shall not be less than fifteen nor more than forty days after such appointment; and shall, also, cause to be published in some newspaper published and having a general circulation in the county, a copy of said petition, together with a notice by the clerk of said board of the time and place set for hearing said petition; said publication shall be at least once each week in a daily or weekly newspaper and for at least two weeks next preceding the time set for said hearing.

Hearing.

Sec. 2. Section six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1919,
p. 733,
amended.

Sec. 6. Before ordering any work to be done under this act, the board of supervisors shall pass a resolution of intention so to do. Such resolution may be in form, and shall in substance, be as follows (filling all blanks): Resolution
intention.

In the matter of drainage district improvement No. —.

Resolution of intention No. — (both numbers being that of the district).

Resolved, That it is the intention of the board of supervisors of the county of _____, State of California, proceeding under and by virtue of the drainage district improvement act of 1919, and in the matter of drainage improvement district No. — (the number being that of the district) on the _____ day of _____, 19___, at the hour of ____m. of that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, at the chambers of said board, to order work to be done as follows: (here insert a description of the work, stating the territorial extent thereof with all reasonable exactness, and other particulars generally, yet so as to indicate fairly and approximately its probable cost), the said work to be done in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor filed with the clerk of said board on the _____ day of _____, 19___ except as the boundaries of the district and the plans and specifications may be changed at the hearing hereinafter provided, which plans and specifications are made a part hereof, and to which all persons are referred for further particulars. For the cost and incidental expenses of the work and the cost of the proceeding, bonds will be issued in the total amount thereof, due and payable in _____ annual installments bearing interest at the rate of _____ per cent per annum, payable semiannually, all in gold coin of the United States.

A special fund for the payment of said bonds and interest thereon, to be designated drainage district improvement No. — (the number being that of the district) interest and sinking fund, is to be constituted by the levy and collection of special assessment taxes upon all land within a district to be known as "drainage improvement district No. — of the county of _____," (and it may be added: and partly by transfer of moneys from the county general fund) according to the procedure set forth in section twelve (or sections twelve a, twelve b and twelve c) of the drainage district improvement act of 1919.

Such district (as proposed) being all that territory in the county or counties of _____, State of California, within exterior boundaries as follows, to wit: _____ (The blank to be filled with a careful statement of the exterior boundaries of the district.)

Notice is hereby given that at the time herein specified for ordering the work, the matter of said drainage district improvement No.— will come up for hearing, and all objections which under the provisions of said drainage district improvement act of 1919 are entitled to be heard or determined, will then be heard and determined, and the boundaries of said district and the plans and specifications will be then finally determined and established.

The ----- (here insert name and character of newspaper. If the district include lands within more than one county, as provided in section two, a newspaper, if any, published in each county, shall be designated) is (or are) hereby designated as the newspaper (or newspapers) for making publication of this resolution and for making all other publications in the proceeding.

The county surveyor is hereby appointed to superintend the work of said improvement.

The foregoing resolution was, on the ----- day of ----- 19---, passed by the board of supervisors of the county of -----, State of California.

Attest: -----

Clerk of the board of supervisors of said county
of -----

By -----

Deputy clerk.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered six a, to read as follows:

Payment by county.

Sec. 6a. In and as a part of the resolution of intention the board of supervisors may provide that the county will out of its general fund pay either a stated sum or a stated portion of the contract price to the contractor; provided, that said money shall not be so paid unless the board shall find that the expenditure thereof will promote or benefit the public health in the community in which the district lies or will protect any public road from damage by reason of storm water or overflow.

If it is provided in the resolution of intention, then the amount to be paid by the county shall become due and payable to the contractor upon the making of the final order prescribed in section fifteen of said act; and the amount paid the contractor shall be deducted from the amount for which bonds would otherwise issue.

SEC. 4. Section twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1919, p 737, amended. Estimate of cost of work

Sec. 12. Immediately after executing a contract for the construction of the improvement, the board of supervisors shall direct the engineer of construction to estimate the total cost of making the proposed improvements and performing such proposed work (which estimate shall include all expenses of every kind incurred or to be incurred, either directly or indirectly, in carrying out said work and improvements), and to assess the same in proportion to the benefits thereof to the lands in said district, and to do all things proper and necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Said engineer of construction shall proceed to view the lands within the district and may examine witnesses under oath. He shall proceed to assess against the land within said district the estimated amounts of the cost of the proposed work or improvement and the expenses incident thereto, in proportion to the benefits to be derived from said work or improvements so far as he reasonably can estimate the same, including in such estimate of benefits the land whether operating property or not or of any public utility within said district, if such there be. He shall state the amounts to be assessed on each parcel of land separately, and shall divide the total assessment on each parcel of land into yearly installments of amounts clearly sufficient to retire the bonds and to pay the interest thereon for each year that said assessment shall continue. Assessment.

In estimating the total cost and expenses of doing said work, the engineer of construction shall be governed by the amount he deems necessary to pay the principal and interest on bonds to be issued therefor as herein set forth and all incidental expenses to be incurred as herein authorized. Such estimate shall be based upon the contract price for doing the work as set forth in the plans and specifications together with an estimate of the incidental expenses to be incurred.

The engineer of construction, having made his assessment of the benefits, shall with all diligence, and before the board of supervisors declares the work to have been completed, make a written report thereof to, and file the same with, said board, and shall accompany said report with a plat of the district showing the relative location of each block, lot or portion of lot, or other piece of land and its dimensions, so far as he can reasonably ascertain the same. Each block and lot, or portion of lot, or other parcel or parcels of land affected or assessed shall be designated and described in said plat by an appropriate number and a reference to it by such descriptive number shall be sufficient description of it in all respects. Said report of said engineer of construction shall also state the names of the persons owning lands over which a right of way for said improvement has been obtained, as well as the name of any lessee, encumbrancer, or other person having an interest in said land over which a right of way has been obtained, together with the particulars of their interest therein, and together with a waiver of any interest they may have had in said land so obtained for said right of way. Errors in the designation of the owner or owners of any land or improvement or any interest therein, or of the particulars of their interest, shall not affect the validity of the assessment. Report to board.

The report of such engineer of construction and the affidavit accompanying it shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and said board shall thereupon fix a time for the hearing thereon, and thereupon the clerk of said board shall give notice of said hearing by publication once each week for at least three weeks prior to the time fixed for said hearing in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the Notice of hearing on report.

resolution of intention. Such notice shall be substantially in the following form:

Notice of the filing of the report of the engineer of construction of drainage improvement district No. — (the number being that of the district) of the county of-----.

Notice is hereby given that the engineer of construction of drainage improvement district No. — (the number being that of the district), did on the-----day of -----, 19---, file his report of the assessment of benefits in said district with the clerk of the board of supervisors of said county, which said report is now on file in the office of the said board of supervisors in the city of -----, of said county, and that said report will be heard by said board at its chamber on the ----- day of -----, 19---, at the hour of -----m. Said report and the map, plans and specifications of the improvements mentioned therein are hereby referred to for further particulars. All persons interested are hereby required to show cause, if any they have, at the time and place fixed for said hearing, why said report should not be adopted and confirmed by said board, and why the several parcels of land referred to in said report should not be assessed for said improvement as therein set forth. All objections shall be in writing, signed by the person objecting, and filed with the clerk of said board at least one day prior to the time fixed for the hearing of said report.

(Signed)-----
Clerk of the board of supervisors,
-----county.

Objections.

Any person interested may file with the clerk of said board at least one day before the time fixed for the hearing, a written objection to said report, or to any part thereof, to the assessment as a whole or to the assessments on the several parcels of land, as set forth in said report. At the time fixed for such hearing or at any time to which the hearing may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear and pass upon all objections so filed, and shall proceed to pass upon said report and the assessments therein contained, and may confirm, correct or modify the same, or may direct the engineer of construction to make a new assessment, report and plat which shall be filed, heard and acted upon in the same manner, and on like notice as an original report. The action of the board upon the report and objections thereto shall be final and conclusive as to all matters therein, and no assessment shall be set aside except upon such hearing for any error, defect, or informality therein, or in the proceedings prior thereto, where notice of the hearing of the report has been given as herein prescribed. The board of supervisors shall, upon the adoption of said report, by order entered upon its minutes, levy against and upon all lands within said drainage improvement district No. — (being the district as established and bounded in the order for the work to be done) a special assessment upon the lands found to be benefited by such improvement in the amount set forth in the said report of the engineer of construction as adopted by the board of supervisors, and which said amount shall be available for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon. Said assessment shall be payable as herein provided at the times and in the amounts indicated in said report of said engineer of construction. When the said board has levied the special assessment as hereinabove set forth, the clerk of said board shall cause to be filed with the recorder, and with the tax collector of the county or counties in which the district is situated, certified copies of the plat and report as adopted and confirmed by said board, together with certified copies of the order of said board levying said special assessment, and also give to the county auditor notice of the total amount of the installments for each year. If the district lies within more than one county as provided in section two, said certified copies shall be filed with the recorder and tax collector of each county affected. Upon the filing of such certified copies the charges assessed upon each piece of land for the first year shall immediately become due and payable, and shall constitute a lien thereon; thereafter the installments for the succeeding year shall become due and payable on the third Monday of October of each year, and shall thereupon constitute a lien upon the land against which it is assessed.

Hearing.

Action of board.

All moneys paid upon such assessment, either by property owners or by the county or municipality affected, shall be placed in the county treasury of the county in which such district was organized in a special fund to be known as drainage district improvement No. — interest and sinking fund (the number being that of the district), and shall be used only to retire the bonds issued to pay the cost of constructing the improvement and the incidental expenses thereof, and to pay the interest on said bonds. Any surplus remaining after the bonds are retired, shall be paid into the maintenance fund of said district. Upon the filing of the certified copy of the report, assessment plat, and order with the tax collector of the county or counties as above provided, the tax collector shall give notice by ten days publication in the newspaper designated in the resolution of intention, that the assessment list of drainage improvement district No. — has been filed in his office, with the date of such filing; that the first installments entered thereon are due and payable, and that if not paid on or before the last Monday of April next ensuing the same will become delinquent and will be collected as are delinquent taxes. He shall note on said assessment list all assessments paid, and give receipts as upon the payment of taxes, and shall pay all money collected into the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as money collected for taxes.

Subsequent collections of installments shall be made in the manner above set forth, and the tax collector shall annually publish a like notice, and the same proceedings shall be had as upon the collection of the first installment.

Special fund to retire
bonds.

Delinquent
installments.

When said installments have become delinquent the tax collector of the county shall proceed to collect the same, together with an additional ten per cent added thereto, and pay the same over to the county treasurer as state and county taxes are collected and paid over; for the purpose of collecting such assessments and delinquent installments and penalties, all of the provisions of chapter seven, title nine, part three of the Political Code not in conflict with any of the provisions of this act are hereby made applicable. The entire assessment against a parcel of land within the district, subsequent installments as well as the installment for the current year, may at any time be paid in full.

SEC. 5. A new section to be numbered twelve a is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

Alternative method for levying tax.

Sec. 12*a*. As an alternative method for the levying and collection of the special assessment taxes for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds of any district the board of supervisors may provide in the resolution of intention of the district that the provisions of this and the two following sections shall apply. In such event the county surveyor shall immediately after the execution of the contract for the doing of the work proceed to view the lands within the district to determine the benefit that will accrue to the respective parcels in said district from the proposed improvement. He shall thereupon with all diligence and before the completion of the work prepare a map which shall show: (1) the boundaries of said district; (2) the location of the proposed work; and (3) zones composed of the contiguous parcels or pieces of land within the district equally benefited by the proposed work. As many zones may be shown as are necessary and each zone shall be designated by a number or letter shown on the map. The boundaries of each zone shall be plainly marked on said map so that all persons interested may with accuracy ascertain in which zone any parcel of land is located.

Zones.

When said map is prepared it shall be presented to the board of supervisors together with a statement signed by the county surveyor setting forth the percentage of the whole sum to be raised each year in said district for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds of the district which should be raised in each zone. The board of supervisors shall examine said map and statement and either order modifications made or approve it.

SEC. 6. A new section to be numbered twelve b is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

Hearing on report of county
surveyor.

Sec. 12*b*. When said map and statement are approved, either when originally presented or after modification, they shall be filed with the clerk of said board. Thereupon the board of supervisors shall fix the time for a hearing on the map and statement, and the clerk of the board shall give notice of such hearing by a publication once each week for at least three weeks prior to the time fixed for said hearing (but the third publication may be on the day of the hearing) in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the resolution of intention. Such notice shall be signed by the clerk and be substantially in the following form:

“Notice of hearing on the report of the county surveyor with respect to the assessment zones in drainage improvement district No. ___ of the county of. _____.

Notice is hereby given that the map and statement provided for in section 12a of the drainage district improvement act of 1919 has been filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors in the matter of drainage district improvement No. ___ and that said board has fixed the _____ day of _____, 19__ at the hour of _____m. as the time and the chambers of said board as the place for hearing any objections to said map or statement.”

Any person interested may file a written objection with the board before the time set for the hearing, or may appear before the board at the time and place set forth in said notice, or at any time to which the hearing may be adjourned, for the purpose of making objection to any matter pertaining to the map or statement, or to the confirmation of the same. The board shall hear any objection made, and shall thereafter confirm the map and statement as presented, or after correction or modification then ordered made, or may direct a new map and statement to be made in place of the one on file. In the event that a new map and statement is ordered it shall be presented and be acted upon in like manner and on like notice as if it were an original report. The action of the board upon the map and statement and any objections thereto shall be final and conclusive as to all matters pertaining thereto, and no assessment shall be held invalid and no objection shall at any time thereafter be made to any matter which could have been heard and corrected by the board at said hearing, if notice of said hearing was given as in this section provided.

Objections.

Action of board.

SEC. 7. A new section to be numbered twelve c is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

Sec. 12c. After the confirmation of the map and statement and the issuance of bonds (as hereinafter in this act provided) the board of supervisors shall annually at the time of making the tax levy for general county purposes levy special assessment taxes on the land (exclusive of improvements but inclusive of the land of public utilities) within the several zones theretofore established. The board shall determine the total sum that will be needed to meet the payments of principal and interest on the bonds of the district that will fall due before the proceeds of the next annual levy are available, and shall determine the amount to be raised from each zone according to the percentage fixed for each zone. The special assessment tax to be levied in each zone shall be at the rate based on the value of the land in the zone as assessed for the purpose of general county taxation clearly sufficient to raise the amount determined by the board to be raised from such zone. The special assessment taxes provided for herein shall be levied and collected in the same manner and by the same officers as the ordinary county taxes, and all laws applicable to the levy, collection and enforcement of such county taxes are hereby made applicable to such special assessment taxes.

The board of supervisors may annually at the time of making any special assessment levy, transfer to the interest and sinking fund of any drainage improvement district from the general fund of the county, such amount as the board of supervisors may determine, not to exceed, however, one half of the sum that would but for such transfer have to be raised by such special assessment levy.

All moneys collected from the special assessment taxes levied on the zones of any district shall be placed in the county treasury in a special fund to be known as the "drainage improvement district No.-- interest and sinking fund" (the number being that of the district) and shall be used only to pay the principal and interest of the bonds of the district. Any surplus remaining in said fund after all the bonds have been retired shall be transferred to the maintenance fund of the district.

Stats. 1919, p. 745, amended.

Drainage district improvement bonds.

SEC. 8. Section sixteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 16. Upon the expiration of twenty days after the making of the final order provided in section fifteen of this act, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall transmit to the county treasurer of the county an attested copy of said final order, and upon receipt of the same, the treasurer shall proceed to issue bonds amounting in the aggregate to the principal sum for which bonds are to be issued as the same is stated in said final order. A bond may be issued in any amount, provided that the aggregate of the bond or bonds made payable in any one year is the proper part of the whole principal of the bond issue as specified in said final order, and that the interest thereon shall be payable as hereinafter provided. The said bonds may in form, and shall in substance, be as follows:

Form.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT IMPROVEMENT BOND.

County of-----, State of California.

Drainage Improvement District No.--

$ ----- Bond No. -----

Under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the State of California, known as the "drainage district improvement act of 1919," (here may be inserted a further designation of the act if desired) the county of -----, State of California, will pay to the bearer, out of the fund hereinafter designated, at the office of the treasurer of the said county, on the ----- day of -----, 19--, the sum of ----- dollars in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon, in like gold coin at the rate of ---- per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the _____ day of _____ and the _____ day of _____ each year from the date hereof (the last installment thereof shall be payable at maturity of this bond) upon presentation and surrender, as they respectively become due, of the proper interest coupons hereto attached, the first of which is for interest from date hereof to the next date of interest payment, and the last for interest to maturity hereof from the last preceding date of interest payment.

This bond is issued under and in conformity with the provisions of said drainage district improvement act of 1919 and the amendments thereof, and is one of a series of bonds of like date and effect numbered from one to _____ consecutively, amounting in the aggregate to _____ _____dollars, issued in behalf of drainage improvement district No. ___ of said county, which constitutes the only indebtedness of said district. It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all proceedings, acts and things required by law precedent to or in the issuance of this bond have been regularly had, done and performed, and this bond is by law made conclusive evidence thereof.

This bond is payable out of drainage district improvement
 No. ___ interest and sinking fund exclusively, as the same appears on the books of the treasurer of said county, and neither said county nor any officer thereof shall be holden for its payment otherwise.

In witness whereof said county has caused this bond to be signed by the chairman of its board of supervisors and countersigned by its treasurer and the seal of said board to be hereto affixed and said interest coupons to be signed by the said treasurer this _____ day of _____, 19___.

 Chairman of the board of supervisors of the county of _____ (Seal of board of supervisors)

Countersigned: _____
 Treasurer of the county of _____

Said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and countersigned by the treasurer of the county, and shall have the seal of said board of supervisors thereto affixed, and when so signed shall be binding according to the terms thereof as prescribed in said form. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be in such form as said treasurer may determine, subject to the provisions of this act and the approval of the board of supervisors. Said coupons need be signed only by the treasurer, either in writing or by lithographed or printed facsimile. Said bonds shall be delivered by the said treasurer to said contractor or to his order, assignee, or lawful representative.

The board of supervisors is hereby vested with power to ^{Term and}

which the aggregate principal of bonds to be issued under this act shall be paid and discharged, and to fix the rate of interest, not to exceed seven per cent per annum, to be paid thereon, and it shall be a sufficient determination and fixing of the same to set forth in the resolution of intention that bonds will issue for the work in any terms that will fairly indicate such time and such rate and the fractional part of the principal to be paid each year; provided, that the first fractional part of said principal shall not become due and payable for two years after the issuance of said bonds, which fractional part, for each year except the first and last, shall be that multiple of one hundred dollars nearest the amount obtained by dividing the amount of the total bond issue by a number equal to one less than the number of years through which said bond issue is to continue, and for the last year shall be for the balance of the total bond issue not provided to be paid in the previous years.

The interest payments on said bonds shall become due and payable semiannually on such dates as will cause the final installment thereof to become due and payable on the date of the maturity of the bond in the manner indicated in said form of bond. Interest and principal shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer in gold coin of the United States of America; but it shall not be necessary, either in the resolution of intention or otherwise, to set forth or determine the days of the month on which payments of interest are to be made, nor that payments shall be made in such gold coin, nor that payments shall be made at such treasurer's office, but all persons are charged with notice of the contents of this section, especially in the aforesaid particulars.

SEC. 9. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered twenty-three a, to read as follows:

Ad valorem tax for maintenance
and repairs.

Sec. 23*a*. The board of supervisors shall each year, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes, levy an ad valorem tax upon the taxable property in each drainage improvement district in its county organized under this act in an amount sufficient to raise the revenue which will be needed for the current year for maintaining and repairing the works and improvements for said district. Said tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment roll and collected in the same manner as state and county taxes. When collected it shall be placed in the treasury of the county in a fund to be designated "drainage district improvement No.— maintenance fund," (the number being that of the district), and shall be used only for the purpose for which it was raised. If said district includes land within more than one county as above provided in section two, the ad valorem tax herein provided to be levied, shall, by each of said counties be collected from that portion of the district lying within its boundaries; and said counties shall pay said tax so collected over to the county having jurisdiction of said district.

SEC. 10. Section twenty-four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 749,
amended Maintenance.

SEC. 24. The engineer of construction shall, subject to the approval of the board of supervisors, do all things necessary for the proper maintenance of the improvement. The compensation of any assistants or employees or the cost of any material necessary shall be payable out of the maintenance fund. If, for any reason whatsoever, there be insufficient money in the maintenance fund to pay the compensation of any such assistants or employees or the cost of any material, the county shall advance the remainder necessary to pay the compensation of said assistants or employees or the cost of said materials, and shall reimburse itself from moneys paid into said maintenance fund.

All drainage district improvements constructed under the act of 1903, being the act referred to in section twenty-seven of this act, existing at the time this amendment takes effect shall be maintained in like manner.

SEC. 11. A new section to be numbered twenty-four a is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

SEC. 24*a*. Whenever, in any drainage improvement district formed and organized under the provisions of that certain act entitled "An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands, and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie," approved March 21, 1903, or whenever, in any drainage improvement district formed and organized under this act and in which a report has been finally approved by the board of supervisors as set forth in section twelve hereof, any single parcel of land within said district is subdivided or the ownership of a portion of said parcel of land is transferred to another person, the owners of said parcel may make application to the board of supervisors to have each portion of said parcel of land assessed separately.

Separate assessment of parcels of land.

The board of supervisors shall thereupon order the engineer of construction to file with the clerk of the board of supervisors an amended assessment of the original parcel of land affected.

Each year, prior to the first day of July, the engineer of construction shall file with the clerk of the board of supervisors a report and an amended assessment of such parcels of land as have been ordered by said board, together with a plat showing how such parcels of land have been divided and the area in square feet of each of the portions of said parcels of land. Said report shall conform in all respects to the original, and the total amount of the assessments of the several portions of any one original parcel shall be equal to the unpaid assessment of that original parcel of land.

Each portion of the parcel of land of which an amended assessment is made shall retain the original number designating said parcel of land and shall be further identified by a secondary number, or suffix, and thereafter reference to said portion by said original number and suffix shall be sufficient description for all purposes.

At the time the engineer of construction files the amended assessments as ordered by the board of supervisors, he may also file amended assessments on any parcels of land which have been subdivided or otherwise affected prior to the first Monday in March of that year by the recording in the office of the recorder of the county in which said parcels of land are located, of a map, in accordance with the map laws pertaining to the subdivision of land.

Upon the filing of said report and amended assessment, the board of supervisors shall proceed as in the case of an original assessment to give notice and to hold a hearing; provided, that the final action of the board of supervisors on said report and amended assessment shall be taken before the first Monday of September of that year.

When the said board has adopted the amended assessments as herein provided the clerk of said board shall cause to be filed with the recorder and with the tax collector of the county or counties in which the district is situated, certified copies of the plats and report as adopted and confirmed by said board and thereupon and thereafter such amended assessments shall be considered as having superseded and replaced the assessment of any original parcel affected.

An act providing for the incorporation of public utility districts in unincorporated territory, authorizing such districts to incur bonded indebtedness for the purpose of the construction of works and the acquisition of property, and to levy and collect taxes to pay the principal and interest on bonds and for carrying on their operations, and providing for the powers, management and government of such districts, and imposing certain duties and functions in connection with such districts upon certain county officers.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A public utility district may be incorporated and managed as herein provided in unincorporated territory and may exercise the powers herein expressly granted.

SEC. 2. Whenever the people of unincorporated territory shall desire to organize such a district, their petition shall describe such territory, and shall be signed by electors of such territory equal in number to fifteen per centum of all the votes cast for all candidates for governor within the same at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected, and shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county within which such territory is situated, and it shall be the duty of the clerk of such board to immediately proceed to examine and verify the signatures to such petition and to certify the result of such examination to such board of supervisors. Nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent such board of supervisors from responding to such petition by proceeding to pass at any regular meeting an ordinance declaring that the public interest requires the incorporation by such unincorporated territory of a public utility district under this act, comprising such unincorporated territory and stating the name of the proposed district, which shall include the words "public utility district." Such ordinance, if enacted, shall provide for the submission of the proposition by such board of supervisors to the electors of such unincorporated territory at a special election.

SEC. 3. A petition may consist of any number of separate instruments, all of which together shall constitute one petition. A separate petition is required from each unit of the proposed district. All unincorporated territory participating in the proceedings and situated in one and the same county shall be regarded and treated for the purposes of the proceedings as an entirety and as a unit. No elector within any one such unit of the proposed district shall sign any such petition of the electors of any other such unit of the proposed district. Each such petition shall, in addition to all other matters required to be stated therein, also name or describe the territory within which the electors signing the same reside. Form of

Every petition for the formation of a public utility district shall set forth the boundaries of the proposed district, and the name of the proposed district, which shall include the words "public utility district." Every such petition shall also contain a prayer that a public utility district comprising all of the proposed territory, or such portions thereof as are designated in the petitions as essential to its formation as hereinabove provided, be incorporated under the provisions of this act. Every elector signing any such petition shall write his address opposite his signature thereto.

SEC. 4. An "elector," or "voter," or "qualified elector," for all purposes of this act, is any voter whose name appears on the great register of the county in which the public utility district is located, or any supplement thereto, as is then allowed by general law to be used to determine the eligibility of persons to vote at municipal or county elections, and whose address appearing on such great register or supplement is in the same unincorporated territory, as the address given by him on the certificate or petition that may be signed by him. All words used anywhere in this act in the masculine gender include the feminine. The singular number includes the plural and the plural the singular. Definitions.

Such great register or supplement thereto, and certificates in due form of notaries public, or verification deputies provided for by this act, acknowledging the signature of any voter to any petition or certificate under the provisions of this act, shall be sufficient evidence for all purposes of this act.

Verification
deputies.

All verification deputies under this act shall be qualified electors residing within the territory of the proposed district, or of the district formed under this act, for which they are appointed. Verification deputies required to verify signatures to petitions for the formation of a district, or to certificates or petitions nominating candidates for election to the first board of directors of newly formed districts, hereunder shall be appointed by the county clerk or county clerks of the county or counties in which the territory of the district is situated, and verification deputies required for any other purpose under the provisions of this act after the formation of a district hereunder shall be appointed by the clerk of the district. Such appointments shall be made upon written application of not less than five (5) nor more than ten (10) qualified electors of any territorial unit or units of the proposed district, or of the district formed hereunder, as the case may be. The said application shall set forth that the signers desire the appointment of the person whose name and address is given therein to be a verification deputy for the purpose of taking the oaths of signers of petitions (or certificates) in the matter of ----- Such verification deputies need not use a seal, and shall not have power to administer oaths for any purpose other than that for which they are appointed. Their appointment shall continue only for ninety (90) days from the date of said appointment. No verification deputy shall be paid, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, out of the county treasury or the treasury of a district formed hereunder. All verification deputies must, before their appointment, make and file with the clerk or clerks appointing them, respectively, an oath as to their ages, places of residence, occupation and whether or not they are qualified electors residing within the territory of the proposed district, or of the district formed hereunder, for which they are appointed.

If petition
insufficient.

SEC. 5. If, by the certificate of the county clerk, any petition hereinabove provided for is found to be insufficient, he shall certify to the number of qualified electors required to make such petition sufficient in addition to the signatures already thereon and verified by him, and said petition may then be amended by filing a supplemental petition within ten days from the date of such certificate. The county clerk, shall within ten days after the filing of such supplemental petition make a like examination of the same and certify to the result of such examination, as herein provided. If this certificate shall show any such petition as amended to be insufficient, it shall be filed by him in his office and kept as a public record, without prejudice, however, to the filing of any other petition to the same effect at some future time not less than six months thereafter. But if by such certificate such petition, or such petition as amended, is shown to be sufficient, the clerk shall present the same to the board of supervisors of such county, without delay, with his certificate attached thereto and properly dated.

If any supplemental petition be filed, all signatures appended to the petition and to the supplemental petition shall be considered in determining the number of qualified electors signing the petition. After the election for the incorporation of such proposed public utility district, the sufficiency of the petition, in any respects, shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned.

Each board of supervisors of a county, to whom a petition of electors shall have been presented, as hereinabove provided, shall within fifteen days after such presentation publish a copy of the said petition, together with a statement that the proposition involved therein, which shall be briefly specified, will be submitted by it to the qualified electors of its respective unincorporated territory at a special election to be held thereafter in each such respective territory. Publication of petition

The publication hereinabove provided for shall be for at least ten consecutive times in a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the respective unincorporated territory, or, if no such newspaper is printed, published and circulated in such territory, then in such daily newspaper printed and published elsewhere in the county and deemed most likely to give notice to the electors of such territory; or for at least three consecutive times in a weekly newspaper of general circulation similarly printed, published and circulated, if there be no such daily newspaper.

SEC. 6. Such special election shall be held not less than twenty, nor more than forty, days after the completion of said publication, and shall be called by each such board of supervisors, respectively, by ordinance, which shall specify the purpose and time of such election, and shall establish the election precincts, and designate the polling places therein and the names of the election officers for each precinct. Such ordinance shall, prior to such election, be published five times in a daily newspaper, or twice in a weekly newspaper, if there be no such daily newspaper, printed, published and circulated in the respective unincorporated territory, or, if no such newspaper is printed, published and circulated in such territory, then in such daily or weekly newspaper printed and published elsewhere in the county and deemed most likely to give notice to the electors of such territory. The notice of such election shall also be posted in at least two public places in each precinct within each unincorporated territory in which such election is held for at least ten days prior to such election. Such election shall be held and conducted, the returns thereof canvassed, and the result thereof declared by said board of supervisors, respectively, in the manner that is now or may hereafter be provided by general law for such elections in the particulars wherein such provision is now or may hereafter be made therefor, and in all other respects in Special election.

the manner provided by law for the holding of special elections within such counties, respectively.

Statement of proposition.

The proposition to be submitted at such election shall be stated upon the ballot to be used in the unincorporated territory respectively in which such petition is signed and presented, substantially as follows, to wit:

“Shall ----- public utility district (naming it) be organized under the provisions of the public utility district act.

Yes
No

Certificate showing result.

SEC. 7. Within five days after the result of the election is declared, and the order is made where required, as hereinabove provided, the chairman of the board of supervisors of each county containing unincorporated territory, wherein such elections are held, shall make and execute a certificate, to be signed by him as such official and authenticated under the seal of such county, setting forth the proposition submitted to the electors, the fact of such submission, and the result of the said election in such unincorporated territory, as so declared.

The certificate hereinabove provided shall be made and executed in duplicate, and shall be delivered in duplicate without delay to the board of supervisors of the county in which the proposed public utility district, or the greater portion thereof in point of population, is situated, or to the clerk of such board.

Majority vote.

SEC. 8. All of said certificates shall be so delivered, and the board of supervisors receiving the same shall meet and examine said certificates within three weeks after all of said elections are held; and if it appears from said certificates that a majority of the votes cast at said elections in each unincorporated territory, in which such elections are held, is in favor of the incorporation of the utility district, the said board of supervisors shall, by order entered on its minutes, so declare and shall in and by said order state the name and boundaries of the district, and that such district is formed accordingly under the provisions of this act.

In case it appears from said certificates that a majority of the electors voting at such election has voted against the formation of the district, the proceedings shall fail entirely.

Wherever in this act the words “original and primary proposition” are used, the same are hereby declared to mean the proposition to incorporate the proposed district with all of the proposed territory joining in the proceedings and mentioned and described in the several petitions presented by the electors, as hereinabove provided.

Filing certificates.

SEC. 9. When the said board of supervisors has completed its examination of said certificates, and has made the order provided in the last preceding section of this act, it shall forthwith cause to be attached together said duplicate certificates in two rolls, each roll to contain one of each of said certificates and a copy of said order of said board of supervisors, duly certified under the hand and the official seal of the clerk of said board of supervisors, and one of said rolls shall be by said board caused to be forthwith deposited and filed in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the recorder of each county in which any part of said district is situated, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein the district, or the greater portion thereof in point of population, is situated. Upon the receipt of said duplicate roll by the secretary of state he shall issue his certificate reciting that said duplicate roll is filed in his office and that the public utility district, naming it, is incorporated as a public utility district under the provisions of this act; which said certificate shall be forwarded to the said board of supervisors and by it held and delivered to the board of directors of the district after the election and organization of said board, as hereinafter provided. No charge shall be made by either the secretary of state or any county recorder or county clerk for the services required of him under the provisions of this section. From and after the date of the filing of said duplicate roll with the secretary of state, the public utility district named therein shall be deemed incorporated as a public utility district under the provisions of this act, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act.

of secretary of state.

Sec. 10. No informality in any proceeding, or informality in the conduct of any election, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any citizen, shall be held to invalidate the incorporation of any public utility district, and any proceedings wherein the validity of such incorporation is denied shall be commenced within twenty days after the date of the certificate of incorporation; otherwise said incorporation and the legal existence of said public utility district, and all proceedings in respect thereto, shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestible. If any such contest is brought, it shall be brought in the superior court of the county where the public utility district, or the greater portion thereof in point of population, is situated; provided, that if more than one contest be pending they shall be consolidated and tried together. The court having jurisdiction shall speedily try such contest and determine upon the hearing whether the election was fairly conducted and in substantial compliance with this act, and enter its judgment accordingly. The right of appeal is hereby given to either party to the record within thirty days from the entry of judgment, and the appeal must be heard and determined by the supreme court within sixty days from the filing of the notice of appeal.

Validity of incorporation.

Sec. 11. At an election to be held within such public utility district under the provisions of this act, the public utility district thus organized shall proceed within ninety days after its formation to the election of a board of directors, consisting of as many members as there are territorial units in the district, and as many additional members, not less than three nor more than four, as may be required to constitute a board composed of an odd number of directors; provided, that where the district lies entirely in one county the number of directors shall be three, elected at large. Such election shall be held in the unincorporated territory included within the district and shall be called by the board of supervisors of the county in which the district, or the greater portion thereof in point of population, is situated, and shall be called, held and conducted, the returns thereof canvassed, and the result thereof declared by such board of supervisors, in the manner and form now or hereafter provided by law for the holding of special elections within such county. Nominations for the office of director shall be had and made for the purposes of such election in all respects as is now or may hereafter be provided by law for the nomination of county officers elected within counties. A certificate of election shall be issued by said board of supervisors to each person elected and declared elected.

to have one director.

SEC. 12. All unincorporated territories situated in one and the same county and included within the district shall be so regarded and treated as an entirety and as a territorial unit of the district. Each unit of unincorporated territory having a population of at least five thousand, shall be entitled to one director, and candidates for the office of one director shall be nominated from each such respective unincorporated territory, and the remaining number of directors shall be nominated from the district at large. Each director shall have the status of a separate office for the purpose of nomination and election thereto, and, in case of a vacancy, for the purpose of filling such vacancy. Candidates for directors at large shall be designated in all declarations of candidacy, nominating certificates, and on all official election ballots as candidates for director at large number one, number two, number three, or number four (said numbers to be stated after the designating title "director at large," there being as many numbers from one up as there are directors at large to be elected), in accordance with the declarations of candidacy, which said candidates shall have filed with the county clerk or the clerk of the district, as the case may be.

at large.

Candidates for director for or from the several units of unincorporated territory in the district entitled to one director each, as above provided, shall be designated in all declarations of candidacy, nominating certificates, and on all official election ballots as candidates for director from ----- unit, ----- unit, ----- unit, and so forth (giving the name or other designation, herein provided, of the respective unincorporated territory, constituting the unit entitled to the office of director to be filled and for which said candidates severally declare themselves and are nominated as candidates, and are to be designated as candidates upon the official election ballots; said name or other designation, or names or other designations, to be stated after the designating title "director from," in accordance with the declarations of candidacy which said candidates shall have filed with the proper clerk, as herein provided.

In case only one unit of unincorporated territory is contained in the district, it is sufficient for naming or designating the same to refer to it as "the unincorporated territorial unit," but in case two or more such units are contained in the district, they shall be numbered, named and designated by the board of supervisors in charge of the election of the first board of directors, and subsequently from time to time by the board of directors of the district as unincorporated territorial unit number one, number two, number three and so forth, there being as many numbers from one up as there are such units in the district.

Such number, name and designation shall be given to each such unit by said board of supervisors by ordinance at a regular or special meeting of said board held after the formation of the district, and in time to permit of the publication and taking effect of such ordinance before the earliest time when nominating certificates and declarations of candidacy may be filed, as herein provided, and shall thereafter remain in force until the board of directors of the district, by ordinance, shall number, name and designate such units as herein provided.

None of said designations by name or number of all or any of the directors shall have any significance whatever after election and qualification of the directors elected at such election, or after appointment and qualification of a director appointed to fill a vacancy, but shall fix the name or other designation and status of each such designated office as a separate office for the purpose of nomination and election thereto, or for the purpose of filling the same in the case of a vacancy therein by appointment as herein provided. The foregoing provisions of this section shall apply to the election of the first board of directors of the district organized under this act, as well as to all elections of directors held by the district at any time after its incorporation and organization.

Said population of each unit of unincorporated territory within the district shall, at the time of calling the election herein provided for the election of the first board of directors of the district, be determined by the board of supervisors charged with the duty of calling such election and such determination shall be stated in the ordinance calling such election and in the notice of the election. Such determination shall continue in force until set aside by the board of directors of the district. The board of directors of every district formed under the provisions of this act shall determine from time to time, as to them shall seem proper or necessary, the number of inhabitants of each unit of unincorporated territory within their district, and declare the same by ordinance, and every such determination shall continue in force until another such determination is subsequently made. All such determinations shall be based upon the last preceding census taken by the United States, or upon the last preceding census of the county

population.

in which such unit of unincorporated territory is situated in case the board of supervisors of such county shall have taken or caused to be taken a census of their county since the last preceding census of the United States.

Subsequent
elections.

SEC. 13. All subsequent elections of directors shall be called and held by the board of directors of the district, and the same shall be called, held and conducted, nominations for the office of director made, the returns thereof canvassed, and the result thereof declared by the board of directors as hereinafter provided.

Term.

SEC. 14. The directors of any district created after the passage of this act, on the first Tuesday after their election, and after they shall have qualified, shall meet and classify themselves by lot, so that the largest possible minority shall hold office for two years, and a majority of them for four years. Thereafter at each biennial public utility district election a number of directors corresponding to the number whose term of office shall so expire shall be elected for the term of four years.

Vacancies.

SEC. 15. In case of a vacancy in the office of director from or for an unincorporated territorial unit within the district, the vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the board of supervisors of the county, respectively, from which such vacancy occurs. In case of a vacancy in the office of a director at large the vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the board of directors of the district. The officer appointed as above provided shall hold his office for the unexpired term of the director whom he is appointed to succeed, and until his successor is elected and qualified. If a person elected fails to qualify, the office shall be filled as if there was a vacancy in such office.

Director
at large.

SEC. 16. A director at large shall be a resident and qualified elector of the public utility district, but not necessarily of the territorial unit, from which he is nominated.

election law to govern.

SEC. 17. The provisions of law, now or hereafter made and provided, relating to the manner of holding and conducting general elections held for the election of state and county officers, the mode and manner of nominating county officers, of voting, the duties of election officers, the canvassing of returns, and all particulars in respect to the management of such general elections, as far as they may be applicable, shall, except as in this act otherwise provided, govern all public utility district elections. The returns of all such elections shall be directed to the clerk of the district, and shall be immediately delivered by the inspector, or by some other safe and responsible carrier designated by said inspector, to said clerk, and the ballots shall be kept unopened for at least six months; but if any elector of the district be of the opinion that the votes of any precinct have not been correctly counted, he may contest the election in the manner and form and within the time provided by general law for contests of state and county elections, and all the provisions of the general law relating to election contests and the recounting of ballots cast at general state and county elections, shall be applicable, so far as practicable, to contest of district elections and the recounting of ballots cast thereat.

SEC. 18. The board of directors must meet at its usual place of meeting on the first Monday after each district election to canvass the returns. If at the time of the meeting the returns from each precinct in the district in which the polls were open have been received, the board of directors must then and there proceed to canvass the returns, but if all the returns have not been received, the canvass must be postponed from day to day until the returns have been received, or until six postponements have been had. The canvass must be made in public and by opening the returns and estimating the vote of the district for each person voted for or each proposition voted upon, and declaring the result of the election. Canvass of vote.

SEC. 19. The clerk must, as soon as the result is declared, enter in the record of the board a statement of such result, which statement must show: Statement of result.

- (1) The whole number of votes cast in the district and in each municipality or other territorial unit thereof;
- (2) The proposition or the names of the persons voted for;
- (3) The office to fill which each person was voted for;
- (4) The number of votes given in each precinct to each such person, or for and against any proposition voted upon.

The board of directors must declare elected the person having the highest number of votes given for each office. The clerk must immediately make out and deliver to such person a certificate of such election, signed by him and authenticated with the seal of the board.

No informality in conducting public utility district elections shall invalidate the same, if they have been conducted fairly and in substantial conformity with the requirements of this act.

SEC. 20. The biennial public utility district election for the election of directors shall be held on the first Tuesday of May in each second year after the formation of the district. This election shall be known as the general district election. General district election.

SEC. 21. No person shall be entitled to vote at any district election held under the provisions of this act unless such person possesses all the requirements of an elector under the general election laws of the state, nor unless he shall be a duly qualified elector residing within the district. Qualifications of voters.

SEC. 22. The powers of the district hereinafter enumerated shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be exercised by the board of directors of the district. Powers exercised by directors.

SEC. 23. The other officers of the district shall be (1) a clerk, who shall also be ex officio secretary of the board of directors; (2) an accountant; (3) a treasurer, and (4) a general manager, all of whom shall be appointed by the board of directors, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided for them by the board of directors by ordinance, and they shall hold office during the pleasure of the board. They, Other officers of district.

or any of them, shall be required to give such a bond as may be prescribed by the board of directors, and they shall perform such duties as are hereinafter provided, and such further duties as may be imposed upon them by the board of directors; provided, however, that when the district acquires, constructs, owns or operates two or more public utilities, a general manager may be appointed and employed, as hereinabove provided, for each such public utility.

County treasurer to perform duties as treasurer.

SEC. 24. The board of directors of the public utility district shall, by ordinance, so determine, such duties shall be to elect that the duties of treasurer of the district shall be performed by the county treasurer of the county in which the district, or the greater portion thereof in point of population, is situated; and whenever the board of directors of such district shall, by ordinance, so determine, such duties shall be performed by said county treasurer. A certified copy of such ordinance shall be served on said county treasurer, and such ordinance shall also prescribe the manner in which money shall be drawn out of the various funds belonging to such district in the hands of the treasurer.

Time of appointing officers.

SEC. 25. At the time hereinabove provided for the first meeting of the board of directors of the district, and after said board of directors shall have qualified and organized as hereinabove provided, it shall appoint such clerk, accountant, general manager and treasurer, or shall, in lieu of appointing such treasurer, pass the ordinance hereinabove provided for.

President and meetings.

SEC. 26. The board of directors shall choose one of its members president, and shall provide for the time and place of holding its meetings and the manner in which its special meetings may be called. All legislative sessions of the board of directors, whether regular or special, shall be open to the public. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board of directors shall establish rules for its proceedings.

Ordinances.

SEC. 27. The board of directors shall act only by ordinance or resolution. The ayes and noes shall be taken upon the passage of all ordinances or resolutions and entered upon the journal of the proceedings of the board of directors. No ordinance or resolution shall be passed or become effective without the affirmative votes of at least a majority of the members of the board. The enacting clause of all ordinances passed by the board shall be in these words:

“Be it enacted by the board of directors of ----- public utility district:”

All resolutions and ordinances shall be signed by the president of the board of directors and attested by the secretary.

In effect when.

No ordinance passed by the board shall take effect within less than thirty days after its passage, and at least one week before the expiration of said thirty days copies of the same shall be posted by the clerk at three public places in said district, and if there be a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said district then said ordinance shall be published at least twice in some such newspaper so published in said district. An order entered in the minutes of the board that such ordinance has been duly posted and published shall be prima facie proof of such posting and publication.

Each member of the board of directors shall receive such compensation as the board of directors by ordinance shall provide, not to exceed, however, the sum of three thousand six hundred dollars per year. Compensation of directors.

SEC. 28. The president shall sign all contracts on behalf of the district, and perform such other duties as may be imposed by the board of directors. The clerk shall countersign all contracts on behalf of the district, and perform such other duties as may be imposed upon him by the board of directors or by the provisions of this act. He shall give his full time during office hours to the affairs of the district, and shall ex officio act as the secretary of the board of directors and shall keep a record of its proceedings. The general manager shall, subject to such restrictions as the board of directors may impose, have full charge and control of the construction of the works of the public utility district and of their maintenance and operation. The general manager shall perform such other duties as may be imposed upon him by the provisions of this act or by the board of directors. He shall report to the board of directors in accordance with such rules and regulations as they may adopt. The accountant shall be charged with the duty of installing and maintaining a system of auditing and accounting which shall completely and at all times show the financial condition of the district. He shall draw all warrants to pay demands made against the district when such demands have been first approved by a majority of the board of directors present at the meeting at which such demands are acted upon, and shall perform such other duties as may be imposed upon him by this act or by the board of directors. Duties of officers.

The board of directors, at their first meeting in January of each year, shall render and immediately cause to be published a verified statement of the financial condition of the district, showing particularly the receipts and disbursements of the last preceding year, together with the source of such receipts and the purpose of such disbursements. Said publication shall be made at least once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the district, or, if there be no such newspaper in the district, then within some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where such district is situated. Statement of financial condition.

SEC. 29. The directors of the district, immediately after receiving their certificates of election, and before assuming the duties of their office, shall take and subscribe an official oath and file the same in the office of the board of directors and execute the bond hereinafter provided for. Each member of the board of directors shall execute an official bond in the sum of Oath and bond of directors.

three thousand dollars, which said bond shall be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county where the organization of the district was effected, and shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of such county and filed with the secretary of said board. All official oaths and bonds herein provided for shall be in the form provided by law for official oaths and bonds of county officers.

Powers of district.

SEC. 30. Any public utility district incorporated as herein provided shall have power:

First—To have perpetual succession.

Second—To sue and be sued, except as otherwise provided herein or by law, in all actions and proceedings, in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

Third—To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.

Fourth—To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, or otherwise acquire, and to hold and enjoy, and to lease or dispose of, real and personal property of every kind within or without the district, necessary to the full or convenient exercise of its powers.

Fifth—To acquire, construct, own, operate, control or use, within or without, or partly within and partly without, the district, works for supplying the inhabitants of said district with light, water, power, heat, transportation, telephone service, or other means of communication, or means for the disposition of garbage, sewage, or refuse matter; and to do all things necessary or convenient to the full exercise of the powers herein granted. Whenever there is a surplus of water, light, heat, or power above that which may be required by such inhabitants or municipalities within the district, such district shall have power to sell or otherwise dispose of such surplus outside of the district to persons, firms, and public or private corporations.

Sixth—To have or exercise the right of eminent domain in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use. To take any property necessary or convenient to the exercise of the powers herein granted, whether such property be already devoted to the same use or otherwise. In the proceedings relative to the exercise of such right the district shall have the same rights, powers and privileges as a municipal corporation.

Seventh—To construct works across or along any street or public highway, or over any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state, and to have the same rights and privileges appertaining thereto as have been or may be granted to municipalities within the state, and to construct its works across any stream of water or water course. The district shall restore any such street or highway to its former state as near as may be, and shall not use the same in a manner to unnecessarily impair its usefulness.

Eighth—To borrow money and incur indebtedness, and to issue bonds or other evidences of such indebtedness; also to refund or retire any indebtedness that may exist against the district; provided, however, that no district shall incur any funded indebtedness which shall in the aggregate exceed twenty per centum of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property situated within the district.

Ninth—To levy and collect, or cause to be levied and collected, taxes for the purpose of carrying on the operations and paying the obligations of the district.

Tenth—To make contracts, to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary and convenient for the full exercise of the powers herein in this act granted.

Eleventh—To proceed in the name of the district in case of condemnation proceedings.

SEC. 31. (1) Whenever the board of directors by ordinance, Acquisition of utility. as hereinafter provided, shall determine that the public interest or necessity of the district demands the acquisition, construction, or completion of any public utility or utilities by the district, or whenever the electors of the district shall petition the board of directors, as hereinafter provided, for the acquisition, construction, or completion of any public utility or utilities, the board of directors must procure plans and estimates of the cost of original construction and completion by the district of such public utility or utilities.

(2) In securing estimates of the cost of original construction and completion of water works by the district, Estimates. the board of directors must procure and place on file plans and estimates of the cost of obtaining, from such sources as the board of directors may find and designate as available, a sufficient supply of good, pure water for the district.

(3) Before submitting propositions to the electors for the acquisition by original construction or condemnation of public utilities, the board of directors must solicit and consider offers for the sale to the district of existing utilities, in order that the electors may have the benefit of acquiring the same at the lowest possible cost thereof. In case no such offer or offers can be procured, the board of directors must, or, in case such offer or offers are procured the board of directors may, apply to the railroad commission of the State of California to ascertain the value of such existing utility or utilities for the purpose of submitting to the electors estimates of the cost of acquiring such public utility or utilities. Such valuation by the railroad commission shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section forty-seven of the public utilities act of the State of California, and said railroad commission shall have power upon such application, and it shall be its duty, to make such valuation without delay. When the railroad commission shall have made and filed its findings and decision, the board of directors of the public utility district may have said findings reviewed, as in sections forty-seven and seventy of said public utilities act provided; or such board of directors may immediately adopt such findings and decision Offers for sale of existing utilities.

as the basis of its estimate of the cost of acquiring such public utility or utilities by purchase or by condemnation.

Petitions for acquisition of utility.

(4.) Whenever any petition or petitions, each signed by electors of the district equal in number to fifteen per centum of all the votes cast within the territory of the district at the last preceding general election held for the election of state and county officers, shall be presented to the board of directors asking for the construction, completion or acquisition of the public utility or utilities therein named, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the district to immediately proceed to examine and verify the signatures to such petition or petitions and to certify the result of such examination to the board of directors. If the required number of signatures be found to be genuine, the clerk shall transmit to the president of the board of directors an authentic copy of such petition or petitions, without the signatures thereto.

Upon receiving the petition or petitions, with the certificate of the clerk stating that it or they contain the required number of signatures, the board of directors shall formulate for submission to the electors of the district at a general district election or at a special election called for that purpose, a separate proposition for the construction, completion, or acquisition of each public utility named in such petition or petitions.

All propositions formulated under the provisions of this subdivision shall be completed within six months after the filing of such petition or petitions, unless more time is required by reason of the making of a valuation applied for to the railroad commission under the provisions of subdivision three of this section, in which case the said proposition or propositions shall be completed as soon as may be possible after such valuation shall have been made and become final.

Election.

At the next regular meeting after the completion of the proposition or propositions for the acquisition, construction or completion of the public utility or utilities named in said petitions, the board of directors of the district by ordinance shall submit the proposition or propositions to the electors of the district at a general district election or at a special district election called for the purpose.

Cost to be specified.

When the cost of any public utility or utilities named in such petition or petitions can be paid out of the revenues of the district derived from the operation of its public utilities, in addition to the other necessary expenses of the district, each proposition therefor, submitted to the electors, shall specify the cost of the public utility therein proposed for acquisition, construction, or completion by the district, the proposed method and manner of payment thereof, and the board of directors shall submit therein to the electors the question whether the same shall be acquired upon such terms. The affirmative vote of a majority of the electors voting at such election shall be necessary to accept such proposition.

At as early a date after the determination of the result of such election as the board of directors shall deem for the best interests of the district, it shall undertake proceedings and enter into such negotiations and contracts as may be necessary for the acquisition, construction, or completion of any public utility or utilities named in any proposition or propositions accepted by the majority of the electors voting at such election.

If, however, the cost of any public utility or utilities named in such petition or petitions shall so far exceed the revenues of the district derived from the operation of its public utilities, in addition to the other necessary expenses of the district, as to render it necessary to incur a district bonded indebtedness therefor, each such proposition shall specify the amount of the bonded indebtedness necessary therefor, and the rate of interest thereon, and the board of directors shall submit to the electors, at such election, the question of whether such bonded indebtedness shall be incurred. The assent of at least two-thirds of the electors voting at such election upon the proposition shall be necessary to secure the construction, completion, or acquisition of such public utility or utilities and to warrant the issuance of district bonds therefor.

(5) Whenever the board of directors shall determine that the public interest or necessity of the district demands the acquisition, construction or completion of any public utility or utilities, it shall specifically declare such determination by an ordinance, which shall be published for at least two weeks in some newspaper or newspapers of general circulation printed and published in the district.

When the cost of such public utility or utilities, or any of them, can be paid out of the revenues of the district derived from the operation of its public utilities, in addition to the other necessary expenses of the district, the board of directors shall, as soon after the filing of the plans and estimates of the cost thereof as it may deem for the best interests of the district, enter into such negotiations and contracts as may be necessary for the acquisition, construction or completion of the same; provided, however, that in such case the ordinance declaring the determination of the board of directors to acquire, construct or complete such utility or utilities, and published as hereinabove provided, shall state the proposed cost of such acquisition, construction or completion, and the proposed method and manner of payment therefor; and provided, further, that no such ordinance, in case it involves the expenditure of more than one hundred thousand dollars, shall become effective before thirty days from and after its final passage.

If, however, the cost of such public utilities, or any of them, shall so far exceed the revenues of the district derived from the operation of its public utilities, in addition to the other necessary expenses of the district, as to render it necessary to incur a district bonded indebtedness therefor, the board of directors shall, at a regular meeting held within sixty days after the filing of the plans and estimates of cost thereof, by ordinance, as hereinafter in subdivision six of this section provided, submit the proposition or propositions to the electors of the district at a general district election or at a special district election called for the purpose. Such propositions shall specify the amount of bonded indebtedness necessary for the acquisition, construction or completion of the public utility or utilities therein named, and the rate of interest thereon, and the board of directors shall submit to the electors the question or questions whether such bonded indebtedness shall be incurred. The affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the electors voting at such election upon the proposition or propositions shall be necessary to warrant the issuance of district bonds for the acquisition, construction, or completion of such public utilities, or any of them.

Two-thirds vote.

election.

(6) Whenever under the provisions of section thirty-six of this act, of which this subdivision is a part, a special election is called for the purpose of submitting to the electors a proposition or propositions for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness, the board of directors shall pass an ordinance calling such election.

At such special election all propositions formulated under the provisions of this section may be submitted to the electors of the district, but no question other than such propositions shall be submitted at such special election.

The ordinance calling such election shall set forth the purposes for which it is called, the estimated cost of each utility proposed for acquisition, construction or completion by the district, the proposed method and manner of payment thereof, and shall fix a day on which such special election shall be held, the manner of holding such election, and the manner of voting for or against each proposition thereat submitted to the electors; and if it shall be necessary to incur a district indebtedness for any utility or utilities therein proposed, the ordinance shall specify the objects and purposes for which such indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, and that bonds of the district shall issue for the payment of the cost of such utility or utilities, as in said ordinance set forth (if the proposition or propositions therefor be accepted by the electors). Such election shall be held as provided for holding elections in the district.

bonds.

SEC. 32. The bonds issued by the district under the provisions of this act shall be of such form as the board of directors in the ordinance calling the election therefor shall determine; but such bonds shall be payable, principal and interest, in gold coin of the United States. The interest on such bonds shall not exceed six per cent per annum, and they shall be redeemed at such times and in such amounts as the board of directors shall determine, as set forth in the ordinance calling the election therefor; provided, that redemption of such bonds shall begin in not more than fifteen years and shall be completed in not more than seventy-five years from the date of issue.

The bonds so issued shall be issued in denominations of not less than one hundred dollars and not more than one thousand dollars, and may be sold by the board of directors at such times and in such manner as they shall determine, but shall not be sold at less than par and accrued interest. Any such bonds shall have the same force, value, and use as bonds issued by a municipality of this state.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds shall be placed in the treasury to the credit of the proper fund, and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance authorizing their issue until such objects are fully accomplished; after which, if any surplus remains, such surplus may be transferred to the general fund; except that if such surplus exceeds the sum of five thousand dollars, then such surplus and the whole thereof shall be transferred to the appropriate fund or funds to pay interest and maintain the sinking fund, or provide for the retirement of the bonded indebtedness in connection with which such surplus remains.

SEC. 33. Such bonds shall be signed by the president of the board of directors of the district, and shall be countersigned by the clerk, and shall have the seal of the district attached. The coupons shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer, by original or fac-simile signature, and the bonds and coupons shall be payable at the office of the treasurer. In case any officer whose signature, or counter-signature, or attestation appears on any bonds or coupons thereof, issued under the provisions of this act, shall cease to be such officer before the sale or delivery of such bonds to the purchaser thereof, such signature, counter-signature or attestation appearing either on the bonds or the coupons, or on both, shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the sale or delivery of such bonds.

SEC. 34. The board of directors shall annually levy and collect a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds, and also to pay such part of the principal as will fall due within the succeeding year, and as may be necessary to provide for the sinking fund payments of the next succeeding fiscal year; provided, that when the interest and sinking fund payments for any fiscal year on the bonds issued for any public utility can be met out of the surplus earnings of such public utility, or out of moneys in the general fund of the district and theretofore appropriated and transferred to the sinking fund of such public utility, no tax shall be levied for such purpose.

SEC. 35. A neglect or refusal of the board of directors to comply with the provisions of sections thirty-six, thirty-seven, thirty-eight and thirty-nine of this act shall constitute cause for removal from office of any member or members of the board guilty of such conduct or refusal.

Payment of
receipts.

SEC. 36. The receipts from the operation of any public utility shall be paid daily into the treasury of the district in a special fund set aside for such public utility. The board of directors may from time to time make appropriations from such funds for the following purposes:

1. For the payment of operating expenses of such public utility and for general salary and expense fund;
2. For repairs and reconstruction;
3. For payment of interest and sinking fund on the bonds issued for the acquisition, construction, or completion of such public utility;
4. For extensions and improvements;
5. For a reserve fund;
6. Whenever the reserve fund shall exceed one-half of the payment for operating expenses in the preceding fiscal year, the board of directors shall have power to appropriate such excess to the general fund.

Accounts.

SEC. 37. The books of account of the district shall be kept in such manner as to show the true and complete financial results of the ownership and operation of each public utility, the actual cost of each public utility, all costs of maintenance, extension and improvement, and all operating expenses of every description. The accounts of the district shall be examined at least once a year by an expert accountant, who shall report to the directors the result of his examination, and who shall be employed and selected in such manner as the directors may direct, and who shall receive for his services such compensation, to be paid out of the income or revenues of the district, as the directors may prescribe.

Expert
tions.

Every two years the directors of the district shall employ, at an expense of not to exceed the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars at any one time, to be paid out of the income and revenues of the district, as the board of directors may prescribe, an expert who shall be qualified to, and who shall with all due diligence, examine and report upon the system of accounts kept by the district; all the contracts of whatsoever kind made and entered into by the board of directors within the two years immediately preceding; the management of the utilities of the district, the operation of the same, the service furnished, and the rates charged by the district; the properties and investments of the district; all official acts of the board of directors relating to acquisition, construction, completion, extension, improvement, and betterment of the public utility or utilities of the district; the efficiency and adequacy of each public utility, and of the property used in connection therewith or with the operation thereof, the reasonableness of the service and commodities furnished, and of the rates and charges therefor; and generally all the business and affairs of the district relating to the ownership, management and operation of each public utility of the district. Said expert shall in his report make such recommendations and suggestions as to him shall seem proper and required for the good of the district, and the efficient and economical or advantageous management and operation of the public utility or utilities of the district, and of the business and affairs of the district relating to such management and operation; and he shall in his said report make such recommendations and suggestions as to the system of accounts kept, or in his judgment to be kept, by the district, in connection with each public utility, the classification of the public utilities of the district and the establishment of a system of accounts for each class, the manner in which such accounts shall be kept, the forms of accounts, records, and memoranda kept or to be kept, including accounts, records, and memoranda of receipts and expenditures of money, and depreciation and sinking fund accounts, as in his judgment may be proper and necessary.

Said expert shall be selected by the railroad commission of the State of California, and his selection shall be by said commission certified to the board of directors of the district, together with the name and address of the expert so selected, and several such experts may be so selected and certified. The board of directors of the district shall at least four months before the time of each biennial district election in writing request said railroad commission to make such selection and certification, and said railroad commission shall make and transmit the same to the board of directors making such request within two weeks after the receipt of such request by said railroad commission. Within ten days after the receipt of such selection and certification the board of directors of the district shall by resolution entered on its minutes employ the expert, or one of the experts, so selected and certified, fix the amount of his compensation either absolutely or on a per diem basis, and notify said expert of such appointment. The expert so employed shall enter upon the discharge of his duties at least ninety days before the date of the biennial district election, and shall complete his examination and file his report at least thirty days before the date of the biennial district election, then next impending. Said report shall be made to the electors of the district, in duplicate, one of said duplicates to be filed with the board of directors of the district, in the office of the clerk of the district, and one of said duplicates shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein the district, or the greater portion thereof in point of population, is situated. Such county recorder shall file, index and keep said report as a public record in his office, and shall make no charge for such filing.

SEC. 38. Only revenue producing utilities shall be acquired, owned or operated by a district formed under the provisions of this act. So far as possible the board of directors shall fix such charges for commodities or service furnished by any revenue producing utility, as will pay the expenses of the government of the district, including salaries, office expenses, and other necessary disbursements; the operating expenses of the utility; the interest on any bonded indebtedness incurred for the acquisition, construction and completion thereof; and provide a sinking or other appropriate fund for the payment of the principal of such debt as it may become due, and also provide an appropriate fund for repairs, replacements and betterments; it being the intention of this section that the district pay all of such charges and expenditures, and the interest and principal of its bonded debt, from the revenues derived by the district from the operation of its public utilities, and that each public utility owned and operated by the district shall be self-sustaining.

Levy of tax
if revenues insufficient to pay principal or interest

SEC. 39. (1) If from any cause the revenues of the district shall be inadequate to pay the principal or interest on any bonded debt as it becomes due, the board of directors must, or if funds are needed to carry out the objects and purposes of the district, which can not be provided for out of the revenues of the district, then the board of directors may, levy a tax for such purposes as herein provided. The board shall state the purposes for which such taxes are necessary, and must fix, by ordinance, the amount of money necessary to be so raised by taxation. If the amount to be raised at any one time by taxation for a purpose other than interest or sinking fund payments exceeds the sum of fifty thousand dollars, such ordinance shall not go into effect before thirty days from its final passage.

Assessments.

(2) The board of directors may by ordinance provide the mode and manner of assessing, and of correcting and equalizing assessments upon, the taxable property situated within the district, for the purpose of levying district taxes, and of levying and collecting such taxes, and may provide for the collection of delinquent taxes by actions or legal proceedings which are hereby authorized to be brought, prosecuted and maintained in the name of the district against the several owners of property from whom such taxes may be due and delinquent, for the purpose of recovering the amount of the delinquent tax, with penalties, interest, and costs; provided, that the provisions of such ordinance shall be conformable to general law.

Use of
assessments.

(3) The board of directors may elect to avail itself of the assessment or assessments made by the assessor or assessors of the county or counties in which the district is situated, and may take such assessment or assessments as the basis for district taxation; provided, that the board of directors shall declare its said election by ordinance and file a certified copy of the same with the auditor or auditors of the county or counties in which the district is situated, on or before the first Monday in February of each year. Thereafter all assessments shall be made and taxes collected by the county assessor and tax collector, or county assessors or tax collectors, of the county or counties in which the district is situated until the board of directors of the district by ordinance elect otherwise. The said county auditor or auditors thereupon must, on or before the second Monday in August of each year, transmit to the board of directors of the district a statement in writing showing the total value of all property within the district, which value shall be ascertained from the assessment book of the said county or counties for that year as equalized and corrected by the board or boards of supervisors of such county or counties. In case the board of directors shall so elect, as hereinabove provided, it shall, on the first week day in September, or if such week day falls upon a holiday then on the first business day thereafter, fix the rate of taxes, designating the number of cents upon each hundred dollars, using as a basis the value of property as assessed by the county assessor or assessors and so returned to such board of directors by the county auditor or auditors, as hereinabove provided, which rate of taxation shall be sufficient to raise the amount previously fixed by the board, as hereinabove prescribed; which acts by said board of directors are declared to be a valid assessment of such property and a valid levy of such taxes so fixed. The board of directors must immediately thereafter transmit to the county auditor or auditors of the county or counties in which the district is situated a statement of such rate so fixed by the board of directors.

The said auditor or auditors must then compute and enter in a separate column in the assessment book or assessment books, to be headed "Utility district tax, ----- public utility district (naming it)," the respective sums in dollars and cents or dollars or cents to be paid as a district tax on the property therein enumerated and assessed as being in the public utility district, using the rate of levy so fixed by the board of directors of the district, and the assessed value as found in such assessment book or assessment books. Such taxes so levied shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes; and when collected the net amount, as ascertained as hereinafter provided, shall be paid to the treasurer of the district, under the general requirements and penalties provided by law for the settlement of other taxes.

Each county auditor and tax collector affected by the provisions of this act shall annually file with the board of supervisors of his county itemized statements showing the additional expense to his office caused by the performance of the duties imposed upon him or his office under the provisions of this act, and upon the filing of such statements the board of supervisors shall, by an order spread upon its minutes, deduct such expenses from the tax money of the district, while in the hands of the tax collector, and transfer the amount deducted into the county salary fund; provided, that not more than one-half of one per centum on the amount collected shall be so charged or deducted by any county. The board or boards of supervisors of such county or counties may provide such extra help for their county offices or officers as in their judgment may be necessary for the proper performance of their duties hereunder.

Statement of expenses of county
officers.

Whenever any real property situate in any public utility district formed under the provisions of this act, which district has availed itself of the provisions of this subdivision of this section, has been sold for taxes and has been redeemed, the money paid for such redemption shall be apportioned and paid by the county treasurer or treasurers receiving the same to such public utility district, in the proportion which the tax due to such district bears to the total tax for which such property was sold.

Taxes a lien on property.

(4) All taxes levied under the provisions of this act shall be a lien on the property on which they are levied; and the enforcement of the collection of such taxes may be had in the same manner and by the same means as is provided by law for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes, all the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of the latter being hereby made a part of this act, so far as applicable; provided, that where a public utility district has not availed itself of the provisions of subdivision (3) of this section, the delinquent property sold by the tax collector of the district for delinquent taxes shall be struck off by him to the district and shall thereafter be redeemed or disposed of as is provided by law in the case of delinquent property sold to the state for delinquent state and county taxes.

Classified
service.

SEC. 40. (1) The board of directors shall classify all the places of employment in or under the district, and in or under all the offices and departments of the district, with reference to the examinations hereinafter provided for, excepting the places and offices specified in subdivision four hereof. The places so classified by the board of directors shall constitute the classified civil service of the district, and no appointment to any such place shall be made except according to the rules hereinafter mentioned.

(2) The board of directors shall make rules to carry out the purposes of this section, and for examinations, appointments, promotions, and removals, and may from time to time make changes in existing rules. All rules and all changes therein shall be forthwith printed for distribution by the board of directors.

(3) The examinations shall be practical in their character, and shall relate to those matters only which will fairly test the relative capacity of the persons examined to discharge the duties of the positions to which they seek to be appointed, and shall include, when appropriate, tests of manual or professional skill. The selection of laborers shall be governed by priority of application as far as may be practicable. No question in any examination shall relate to political or religious opinions or affiliations. The board of directors shall control all examinations.

(4) The manager, the engineer, the clerk, accountant, and the treasurer of the district shall not be included within the classified civil service of the district.

Bids for furnishing supplies.

SEC. 41. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the board of directors shall annually advertise, for at least five days in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the greater portion of such utility district is situated, for sealed bids for furnishing the district with goods, merchandise, stores, subsistence, printing, materials, and all other supplies, and advertising. Bids for furnishing supplies.

All bids shall be upon a schedule showing all articles needed by the district and the several offices thereof, prepared by the clerk of the district, and shall state separately the price of each article to be furnished, and any person may bid upon any article separately.

Except as otherwise provided by this act, the board of directors shall determine annually what goods, merchandise, stores, subsistence, materials and other supplies will be needed by the district for the ensuing year.

In considering such bids the board of directors may accept or reject all or any of them, or may accept or reject a part of any such bid, preference being given, however, to the lowest responsible bidder. All supplies furnished the district, or any officer thereof, shall be furnished at a price no greater than is specified in the bid which may be accepted by the board. The award as to each article shall in all cases be made to the lowest bidder for such article.

All bids shall be opened by the board at an hour and place to be stated in the advertisements for proposals, in the presence of all bidders who attend, and the bidders may inspect the bids. All contracts shall be made with the lowest responsible bidder, who shall give bonds with sufficient sureties for the faithful performance of his contract.

Notices of proposals for furnishing the aforesaid articles shall mention said articles in general, and shall state that the conditions and schedule may be found in the office of the clerk of the district, and shall also state that such articles are to be delivered at such times, in such quantities, and in such manner as the board of directors may designate.

All proposals shall be accompanied with a certificate of deposit, or certified check on a solvent bank within the district, or county wherein the district is located, of ten per centum of the amount of the bid, payable at sight to the order of the clerk of the district. If the bidder to whom the contract is awarded shall for five days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the clerk shall draw the money due on such certificate of deposit or check and pay the same into the treasury of the district; and under no circumstances shall the certificate of deposit or check or the proceeds thereof be returned to such defaulting bidder.

The clerk shall furnish printed blanks for all such proposals, contracts and bonds.

Advertising shall not be classified, and shall be construed to mean the advertising and publication of all official reports, orders, ordinances, resolutions, notices inviting proposals, and all notices of every nature relating to work or business of the district. No part or kind of such advertising shall be charged or contracted for at a higher rate than any other part or kind of the same is charged or contracted for; except in the case of the delinquent tax list. The advertising of the delinquent tax list shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder on a separate bidding from all other advertising. A square of advertising shall be two hundred thirty-four ems nonpareil.

No officer or employee of the district shall order any article or shall make any publication which is not expressly authorized by this act or by the board of directors.

Unless the amount involved in the purchase at any one time of any articles, for which no contract has been entered into as hereinabove provided, exceeds the sum of five hundred dollars, the board of directors may purchase such article or articles without the necessity of advertising or letting contracts therefor; but where the cost of any article or articles, for which no contract has been entered into as hereinabove provided, exceeds the sum of five hundred dollars, the board of directors shall advertise for at least five days in a newspaper of general circulation in the district for sealed bids for furnishing the district such article or articles, and shall in the matter of opening and accepting such bids and the letting of contracts for the furnishing of such article or articles in all respects proceed in the manner and form in this section hereinabove provided in the case of contracts for annual supplies.

work.

SEC. 42. Where the cost of any construction, replacement, improvement, alteration, extension, or other proposed work of the district exceeds the sum of one thousand dollars, the board of directors must adopt plans and specifications, strain-sheets, and working details, as may be proper, and must advertise for bids for such work in accordance with the plans and specifications so adopted. All bidders shall be afforded an opportunity to examine such plans and specifications and said board shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and the plans and specifications so adopted shall be attached to and become part of the contract; and the person or corporation to whom the contract is awarded shall be required to execute a bond, to be approved by the board of directors, for the faithful performance of the contract; provided, that in cases of great emergency, by the consent of at least two-thirds of the board of directors, they may proceed at once to do or cause to be done all repair or replacement work necessary to meet such emergency without notice; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to prohibit the board of directors from doing or causing to be done directly by the district, and without any contract therefor, any or all work necessary or proper in or about the making of all current and ordinary repairs or in or about current and ordinary upkeep or maintenance.

No plans and specifications when once adopted shall be altered or changed in any manner whereby the cost of the proposed work shall be increased, except by a vote of two-thirds of the board of directors.

Whenever the board of directors shall enter into a contract for any such work, such contract shall not be altered or changed in any manner, unless they shall, by a vote of two-thirds of their number, and with the consent of the contractor, first so order. And whenever any such change or alteration is so ordered, the particular change or alteration shall be specified, in writing, and the cost thereof agreed upon between the board and the contractor. In no case shall the board pay or become liable to pay for any extra work done or extra material furnished.

SEC. 43. No claim shall be paid until allowed by the board, and only upon a warrant signed by the president and countersigned by the clerk. Payment of claims.

SEC. 44. The cost and expense of purchasing and acquiring property and works, and of constructing the works and improvements herein provided for, shall be wholly paid out of the construction fund.

The maximum time of labor or service required of any laborer, workman, or mechanic employed upon any work of the district, whether so employed directly by the district and its officers, or by a contractor or sub-contractor, shall be eight hours during any one calendar day, except in case of emergency. Eight hour day.

The board of directors shall fix the hours of labor or service required of all employees of the district, and their compensation, and shall employ all necessary employees or may by ordinance provide for their employment by the several officers of the district. The board of directors may from time to time contract for or employ any professional services required by the district, or by the board, or any officer of the district.

SEC. 45. The board of directors or other officers of the district shall have no power to incur any debt or liability whatever, either by issuing bonds or otherwise, in excess of the express provisions of this act, and any debt or liability incurred in excess of such express provisions shall be and remain absolutely void. Void debts.

SEC. 46. All expenditures of money for the benefit of the district on any account or for any purpose, all contracts of every kind, and all tax levies for a purpose other than interest or sinking fund payments shall be first authorized by the board of directors, by ordinance, in every case when any such expenditure, or the amount involved in any such contract, exceeds the sum or amount of one hundred thousand dollars, or the amount proposed to be raised by such tax levy exceeds the sum or amount of fifty thousand dollars, and no such ordinance shall go into effect before thirty days from its final passage. During said thirty days a petition signed by qualified voters of the district equal to ten per centum of the entire vote cast within such district for all candidates for governor of the state at the last preceding general election at which a Expenditures to be authorized by board.
Referendum on ordinances.

governor was voted for, and protesting against the passage of such ordinance, may be presented to the board of directors. Immediately upon the receipt of such petition the board of directors shall cause the clerk of the district to examine and verify the signatures to such petition, and to certify the result of such examination to the board of directors within ten days. If the petition is found to be insufficient, the clerk shall certify to the number of qualified electors required to make such petition sufficient in addition to the signatures already thereon and verified or found genuine by him, and said petition may then be amended by filing a supplemental petition within ten days from the date of such certificate. The clerk shall within ten days after the filing of such supplemental petition make a like examination of the same and certify to the result of such examination, as herein provided. Said ordinance shall remain suspended from going into operation until the completion of such examination and verification of said petition or supplemental petition, and the certification of the result of such examination; and in case said petition, or petition as amended, is shown to be sufficient by such certificate said ordinance shall be suspended from going into effect or operation and it shall be the duty of the board of directors to reconsider such ordinance. If said board of directors shall thereupon not entirely repeal said ordinance, it shall submit the same to a vote of the electors either at a general district election or at a special district election to be called for the purpose, and such ordinance shall not go into effect or become operative unless a majority of the voters voting upon the same shall vote in favor thereof. Such petitions, in the matter of form, signatures, and preparation thereof, and the proceedings based thereon, in the matter of holding or calling and conducting said election, the manner of voting thereat, canvassing the return and declaring the result, shall conform as nearly as may be practicable, and except as herein otherwise expressly provided, to the provisions of the general law of the state governing and relating to direct legislation or the referendum by incorporated cities and towns, which are hereby made applicable hereto as far as may be practicable.

Officers not to be interested in contract.

SEC. 47. No director or any other officer of the district shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board of directors, or in the profits to be derived therefrom; and for any violation of this provision such officer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and such conviction shall work a forfeiture of his office, and he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Action to validate
bonds.

SEC. 48. The board of directors may at any time within sixty days from the date of the election authorizing the issuance of any bonds cause to be brought in the name of the district an action in the superior court of the county in which said district or the greater portion thereof is located, to determine the validity of any such bonds. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem, and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three weeks in some paper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending, such paper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings. Jurisdiction shall be complete within ten days after the full publication of such summons in the manner herein provided. Any one interested may at any time before the expiration of said ten days appear and by proper proceedings contest the validity of such bonds. Such action shall be speedily tried and judgment rendered declaring such bonds to be valid or invalid. Either party may have the right to appeal to the supreme court at any time within thirty days after the rendition of such judgment, which appeal must be heard and determined within three months from the time of taking such appeal. After the expiration of ninety days from the date of such election no action may be brought by any person to contest or question the validity of said bonds and proceedings thereto. If there be more than one action or proceeding involving the validity of any such bonds, they shall be consolidated and tried together. The court hearing any proceeding or action inquiring into the regularity, legality or correctness of the proceedings leading up to the issuance of bonds or the validity of such bonds must disregard any error, irregularity, or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to said action or proceeding. The rules of pleading and practice provided by the Code of Civil Procedure, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are applicable to all actions or proceedings herein provided for. The motion for a new trial of any such action or proceeding must be heard and determined within ten days from the filing of the notice of intention. The costs on any proceeding or action herein provided for may be allowed and apportioned between the parties, or taxed to the losing party, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 49. Every incumbent of an elective office of a public utility district formed hereunder is subject to recall by the voters of such public utility district, in accordance with the recall provisions of the general laws of the state with reference to county officers. Recall of officers.

SEC. 50. The legal title to all property acquired under the provisions of this act shall immediately, and by operation of law, be vested in such public utility district, and shall be held by such district in trust, and is hereby dedicated and set apart to the uses and purposes set forth in this act. Title to property.

SEC. 51. No suit shall be brought against the district on any claim for money or damages until a claim or demand therefor, setting forth with reasonable certainty the nature and various items of the claim or demand and verified by the claimant, or his authorized agent, has been presented to the directors and rejected in whole or in part. In case the board Claims against district.

of directors shall fail or refuse to allow or reject such claim, either wholly or in part, for a period of six months after its presentation, such failure or refusal shall upon the expiration of such period be deemed a rejection of the claim. All claims against the district must be presented to the board of directors and filed with the clerk of the district within one year after the debt, or the last item thereof, for which the claim is made, shall have been incurred, or within one year after the occurrence from which the damages are claimed to have arisen. Otherwise there shall be no recovery on any such claim.

act.

SEC. 52. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as repealing or in anywise modifying the provisions of any other act relating to public utility districts, except in so far as any of the provisions of such act may be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 53. If any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, sub-section, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, sub-sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Definitions.

SEC. 54. The word "district" shall apply, unless otherwise expressed or used, to a public utility district formed under the provisions of this act. And the word "board" and the words "board of directors" shall apply to board of directors of such district.

CHAPTER 561.

An act to amend section eleven of an act entitled, "An act providing for a county engineer for each county in this state, providing for his appointment, manner of removal, qualifications, compensation and duties; transferring to such engineer certain powers, functions and duties heretofore vested in and performed by county surveyors and members of the board of supervisors; also authorizing the board of supervisors for each county to purchase and obtain all necessary equipment, materials and instrumentalities to carry out the objects of this act; to provide said county engineer with an office and necessary assistants; to provide for abolishing the office of county surveyor and for the fixing and levying of taxes for road purposes," approved May 27, 1919.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 1294,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section eleven of an act entitled, "An act providing for a county engineer for each county in this state, providing for his appointment, manner of removal, qualifications, compensation and duties; transferring to such engineer certain powers, functions and duties heretofore vested in and performed by county surveyors and members of the board of supervisors; also authorizing the board of supervisors for each county to purchase and obtain all necessary equipment, materials and instrumentalities to carry out the objects of this act; to provide said county engineer with an office and necessary assistants; to provide for abolishing the office of county surveyor and for the fixing and levying of taxes for road purposes," approved May 27, 1919, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. The office of county surveyor of any county shall be and is hereby abolished upon the occurrence of any of the following conditions:

County
surveyor
repealed
by county engineer.

(a) Upon the appointment as county engineer of the person who holds the office of county surveyor at the time such appointment is made and the acceptance of such appointment by the county surveyor; or

(b) In other cases, upon the expiration of the term of the person who holds the office of county surveyor at the time the appointment of county engineer is made; provided, that if such appointment is made within six months of the expiration of the then current term of county surveyor, the office of surveyor in such county shall be and is hereby abolished upon the expiration of the next succeeding term; provided, however, that upon petition therefor signed by qualified electors of the county equaling in number not less than twenty-five per cent of the total votes cast in the county for governor in the last preceding election at which a governor was elected, the board of supervisors in any county in this state which shall have adopted the provisions of this act and have appointed a county engineer in accordance therewith, shall discontinue such office of county engineer by ordinance declaring their intention so to do and in such ordinance the board shall provide that the person holding the office of county engineer at the time the ordinance becomes effective shall be and become the county surveyor of such county until the next ensuing general election at which time his successor shall be elected.

An act to amend section twenty-five of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation, reorganization, dissolution and alteration of boundaries of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers, septic tanks, and other sanitary disposal of sewerage matter; the acquisition of property thereby, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levying, collection, custody, and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance, disposal and retirement of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds," approved May 25, 1919.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twenty-five of the act entitled, "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation, reorganization, dissolution and alteration of boundaries of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers, septic tanks, and other sanitary disposal of sewerage matter; the acquisition of property thereby, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levying, collection, custody, and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance, disposal and retirement of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds," approved May 25, 1919, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 25. The sanitary board shall have power, except in incorporated cities or towns, at any time after main sewers, or other sewers are laid, to order and contract for the construction of a sewer in any street, highway or upon property and rights of way owned by the sanitary district or part of any street, highway or property or rights of way owned by sanitary districts where a sewer is not already constructed, and to provide by such order that the cost thereof shall be borne by the property fronting along the line of the sewer, or to be borne by a district as ordered; provided, however, that the sanitary board may so order and contract for the construction of a main sewer and provided that the cost thereof shall be borne by the property fronting the line of the sewer, or be borne by a district as ordered, by unanimous vote of the board, if only a portion of the property in the sanitary district will be affected or benefited by the construction of such main sewer. The provisions of that certain act entitled, "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds" (approved April 7, 1911), and the amendatory acts thereto, is hereby made applicable to sanitary districts. All proceedings shall be had in accordance with the provisions of said act and the amendments thereto; provided, however, that the words "city council" and "council" used in said act shall be understood to mean sanitary boards. The words "city" and "municipality"

act.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 571.

An act to amend section nineteen f of the juvenile court law, approved June 5, 1915.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section nineteen f of an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment of commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons, providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16,

Stats. 1915,
p. 1243,
amended.

1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Counties of 7th class,
salary of probation
officer.

Sec. 19f. In counties of the seventh class there shall be one probation officer and three assistant probation officers. The salaries of such officers shall be as follows: Probation officer, one hundred ninety dollars per month; one assistant probation officer, one hundred sixty dollars per month; one assistant probation officer, one hundred thirty-five dollars per month.

CHAPTER 572.

An act to amend sections one thousand six hundred ten and one thousand six hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, relating to public schools.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand six hundred ten of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1610. Boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power, and it shall be their duty:

Suspend
pupils.

First—To suspend or expel pupils for misconduct, when other means of correction have failed to bring proper conduct.

Exclude
children.

Second—To exclude from the schools children under six years of age, except as hereinafter provided; provided, that where the kindergarten is a part of the day elementary schools, children may be admitted to the kindergarten classes at four and one-half years of age; and provided, further, that where any district has established a school for the instruction of the deaf, such children may be admitted to the deaf school at three years of age. In the enforcement of the provisions of this section children shall be admitted to the beginning classes of any school during the first month of the school year, or when the school year is divided into school terms, during the first month of each term, and children who will be six years of age before the end of the six months of the school year, or before the end of the third month of the school term, shall be admitted at the beginning of the school year, or the school term, and children who will not be six years of age by the end of the period specified, shall not be admitted until the beginning of another school year or school term. Beginners shall in like manner be admitted to the beginning classes of the kindergarten during the first month of the school year, or of the school term, if the school year be divided into terms, if such children will be four and one-half years of age before the end of the sixth month of the school year and before the end of the third month of the school term, and children who will not be four and one-half years of age within the period specified shall not be admitted to the kindergarten classes until the beginning of another school year or term.

Third—To cause the principal to keep a register, open to the inspection of the public, of all children applying for admission and entitled to be admitted into the public schools, and to notify the parents or guardians of such children when vacancies occur, and receive such children into the schools in the order in which they are registered. Register of children.

Fourth—To permit children from other districts to attend the schools of their district; provided, that should they refuse to grant such permission, the parents or guardians of such children may appeal to the county superintendent of schools and his decision shall be final and binding on both boards of trustees. Permit children from other districts to attend.

Fifth—To give diligent care to the health and physical development of pupils, and where sufficient funds are provided by district taxation, to employ properly certified persons for such work. Health and physical development.

Sixth—To provide, with the written approval of the superintendent of schools, for the transportation of pupils to and from school whenever in their judgment such transportation is advisable, and good reasons exist therefor, to purchase or rent and provide for the upkeep, care, and operation of vehicles, or to contract and pay for the transportation of pupils to and from school by common carrier, or to contract with and pay responsible private parties for such transportation; provided, that in order to secure such service at the lowest possible figure consistent with proper and satisfactory service, boards of education and boards of school trustees shall secure bids for the items of service contemplated in this subdivision; and provided, further, that no board shall make any purchase or enter into any contract for such service without securing the written approval of the county superintendent of schools. Provide transportation.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand six hundred ninety-six of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1696. Every teacher in the public school must:

First—Before assuming charge of a school, file his or her certificate with the superintendent of schools; provided, that when any teacher so employed is the holder of a California state normal school diploma, accompanied by the certificate of the state board of education, as provided in subdivision third of section one thousand five hundred three of the Political Code (normal document), an educational or a life diploma of California, upon presentation thereof to the superintendent he shall record the name of said holder in a book provided for that purpose in his office, and the holder of said diploma shall thereupon be absolved from the provisions of this subdivision. Duties of teachers. File certificate.

Second—Before taking charge of a school, and one week before closing a term of school, notify the county superintendent of such fact, naming the day of opening or closing. Boards of education and boards of school trustees must in every case Notice of opening and closing of school.

give to the teacher a notice of at least two weeks of their intention to close the term of school under their charge. No superintendent shall draw any requisition for the last month's salary of any teacher until said teacher has filed with him the notice required by this subdivision.

Enforce course of study.

Third—Enforce the course of study, the use of the legally authorized textbooks, and the rules and regulations prescribed for schools.

Hold pupils to account for conduct.

Fourth—Hold pupils to a strict account for their conduct on the way to and from school, on the playgrounds, or during recess; suspend, for good cause, any pupil from the school, and report such suspension to the board of school trustees or city board of education for review. If such action is not sustained by them, the teacher may appeal to the county superintendent, whose decision shall be final.

Keep
register.

Fifth—Keep a state school register, in which shall be left, at the close of the term, a report showing programme of recitations, classification and grading of all pupils who have attended school at any time during the school year. The superintendent shall in no case draw a requisition in favor of the teacher until the teacher has filed with him a certificate from the clerk of the board of school trustees to the effect that the provisions of this subdivision have been complied with.

Make annual report.

Sixth—Make an annual report to the county superintendent at the time and in the manner and on the blanks prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction. Any teacher who shall end any school term before the close of the school year, shall make a report to the county superintendent immediately after the close of such term; and any teacher who may be teaching any school at the end of the school year shall, in his or her annual report, include all statistics for the entire school year, notwithstanding any previous report for a part of the year. The superintendent of schools shall in no case draw a requisition for the salary of any teacher for the last month of the school term, until the report required by this subdivision has been filed, and by him approved.

CHAPTER 573.

An act to amend section ten of an act entitled "An act to accept from the Veterans' Home Association the conveyance of, and to vest the title in the State of California, to the tract of land in Napa county known as the Veterans' Home, with the improvements and furnishings thereon, to make the same a state home for United States soldiers, sailors and marines, and to provide for the government thereof by the state," approved March 11, 1897, as amended.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section ten of an act entitled "An act to accept from the Veterans' Home Association the conveyance of, and to vest the title in the State of California, to the tract of land in Napa county known as the Veterans' Home, with the improvements and furnishings thereon, to make the same a state home for United States soldiers, sailors, and marines, and to provide for the government thereof by the state" approved March 11, 1897, as amended, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 10. All moneys received by the directors, or by any officer of the home (except such as may be paid to them by the state for disbursement), including pension and other moneys belonging to the members in the home, and other trust moneys, shall be immediately paid over to the treasurer of the home. On or before the tenth day of each and every month the treasurer of the home shall forward to the state treasurer all moneys in his possession, except pension and other moneys belonging to members, and other trust funds, the post fund, and the moneys hereinafter referred to as subject to their direct disbursement, and designated the "emergency fund," together with a statement of the source from which the same has been received. Said moneys shall be immediately deposited by the state treasurer to the credit of the fund hereinafter designated "fund for the support and maintenance of the Veterans' Home of California." Any balance of pension moneys held by the board, or by its authority, upon the death of the pensioner, undisposed of by will, or any moneys belonging to the members of the home, and deposited with the board, or with any of its officers, as hereinafter provided for, and undisposed of by will, shall, upon the death of the member, be held as a trust fund, to be paid by the board, or upon its order, directly and without probate, to the heirs at law, entitled thereto, and in the proportions to which they may be entitled; should none of the heirs at law be discovered, or should the heirs at law discovered within such time be not entitled to the whole thereof, the balance of moneys not so paid to the heirs at law, and undisposed of by will, shall be paid to the post fund of the home to be used for the common benefit of the members of the home, under the direction of the board, subject to future reclamation by the heirs at law entitled thereto upon application filed within five years after the death of such member, and upon proper proof. Subject to the above provisions as to the disposition thereof, the members of the home may voluntarily deposit any of their moneys with the board, or with the officer authorized to receive the same, and the board, or such officer, shall be obligated to receive such moneys, and shall keep the same without charge as a trust fund for the member depositing the same, to be withdrawn by him in whole, or in part, during his life, and at his pleasure, and the balance, if any, undisposed of by will, shall be subject to the above trusts, and retained by the board for the common benefit of the members of the home as above provided, if not paid to the heirs at law within the time and in the manner above provided. The moneys now in the hands of the board, or the treasurer of the home, belonging to the members thereof, and heretofore deposited for safekeeping, may be withdrawn, in whole or in part, at the will of the member during his life, and in case of any balance remaining upon his death, undisposed of by will, the same shall be subject to said trust, to be disposed of as hereinbefore provided. Nothing herein contained shall in any manner affect the moneys of the members now deceased, which moneys are now held in trust under the laws of this state, the rules, regulations and by-laws of the home. The personal effects of deceased members of the home shall be held for the heirs at law above mentioned for the period of one year from the date of the death of the member, and if not claimed within said time, shall be turned over to the commandant, or the officer in charge, who, on a day and hour fixed by him, and after posting notices of the same in three conspicuous places at the home, shall sell at public sale said personal effects, the proceeds of which sale shall go to the post fund, to be used for the common benefit of the members, as hereinbefore provided for pension and other moneys, and subject to future reclamation within a period of five years from the date of the death of the member, as hereinbefore mentioned. All interest which has accrued upon the date this act takes effect, or which shall accrue thereafter on moneys turned over to the treasurer and retained by him under this act, shall be accounted for by him and deposited to the credit of the post fund to be used for the common benefit of the members. The board of directors shall make proper rules and regulations to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

CHAPTER 574.

An act to amend sections one thousand seven hundred seventy-one and one thousand seven hundred seventy-five of the Political Code, relating to the powers of county boards of education.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred seventy-one of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows 1771. County boards of education have power:

Powers of county boards of education.

1. To adopt rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of this state, for their own government.

2. To prescribe and enforce rules for the examination of teachers, to examine applicants for elementary school certificates and to establish a standard of proficiency which will entitle the person examined to a certificate.

3. To grant, in accordance with sections one thousand seven hundred seventy-two and one thousand seven hundred seventy-five of this code, the following certificates, renewable at the option of the board:

(a) High school certificates, authorizing the holders to teach in any secondary or elementary school in the county.

(b) Junior high school certificates, authorizing the holders thereof to teach in the junior high schools in the county.

(c) Elementary school certificates, authorizing the holders to teach in any elementary school of the county and in the first two years of any junior high school course in the county established as provided in this code, or to serve as a principal of a junior high school.

(d) Kindergarten-primary certificates, authorizing the holders to teach in any kindergarten class in the county and in such other grades as may be authorized by law; provided, that the holder of any kindergarten-primary certificate who shall present a credential from the state board of education vouching for his fitness may be granted an extension of his certificate authorizing him to teach in the first, second and third grades of the elementary schools.

(e) Special certificates, authorizing the holders to serve as a librarian or to teach in the schools of the county such branch or branches of learning and in such grades as are named in such certificates.

(f) Special certificates authorizing the holders to supervise health and development work in the public schools or to perform the duties of attendance officer may be issued.

4. To renew certificates granted in accordance with law; provided, that no certificate granted upon a credential issued by the state board of education for a limited period shall be renewed or extended unless the credential upon which such

boards of

certificate was issued has been renewed or extended, and then only for the period of such renewal or extension of the state board credential.

5. To grant, in accordance with the provisions of this code, permanent certificates of the grade and kind designated therein. Every certificate except a permanent certificate shall be valid for six years; provided, that when any certificate shall be granted on a recommendation or credential given for a limited period only, such certificate shall not be valid for a longer period than that specified in such recommendation or credential; and provided, further, that any certificate granted to a candidate who has not had at least one year of experience in teaching shall not be valid for a longer period than two years. All certificates must be issued upon blank forms prepared by the superintendent of public instruction, and must have the impress of the seal of the county board of education and be signed by a majority of the members of the county board of education issuing such certificate.

6. To adopt a list of books and apparatus for district school libraries and books for supplementary use in elementary schools in their respective counties and cities and counties, as required by section one thousand seven hundred twelve of the Political Code; provided, that no pupil shall be required to purchase said supplementary books, and pupils must be expressly notified by teachers that it is not required or desirable that such books for supplementary use be purchased by pupils or parents. When supplementary books are purchased, they must be paid for by the school district. Except in cities having a city board of education, to prescribe and enforce in the public schools a course of study and the use of a uniform series of textbooks.

7. To revoke or suspend, for immoral or unprofessional conduct, evident unfitness for teaching, or persistent defiance of, and refusal to obey the laws regulating the duties of teachers, the certificates granted by them. But no certificate shall be revoked or suspended until after a hearing before the county board of education, and then only upon the affirmative vote of at least four members of the board. All charges of immoral or unprofessional conduct, of evident unfitness for teaching, or persistent defiance of, and refusal to obey the laws regulating the duties of teachers, shall be presented to the board in writing and shall be verified under oath. Notice of the time of hearing and a full and complete copy of the charges shall be furnished to the accused at least ten days before the hearing. The accused shall be given a fair and impartial hearing and shall have the right to be represented by counsel. The hearing shall be governed by, and conducted under, the rules of the board.

8. To keep a record of their proceedings.

9. To provide for the conferring of diplomas of graduation, by examination and to issue such diplomas of graduation from the elementary schools of the county except city schools governed by city boards of education; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the county board of education from issuing diplomas of graduation without examination to the pupils in any school which has been accredited by the said county board of education. Such diplomas shall be conferred only upon such pupils as have completed the course of study prescribed by the board. All diplomas granted by the county board of education shall be on blanks furnished by the superintendent of public instruction and shall be signed by the president and secretary of the board.

10. To adopt and use in authentication of their acts, an official seal, and to have such printing done as may be necessary.

11. To prescribe and it shall be their duty to prescribe, on or before the first day of July of each year, the course of study in and for each grade of the elementary schools of the county for the ensuing school year; provided, that such course of study shall not apply to elementary schools in cities governed by city boards of education. Whenever necessary the board may amend and change the course of study, subject to the provisions of section one thousand six hundred sixty-five of this code.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand seven hundred seventy-five of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1775. County boards of education may, without examination grant certificates as follows:

Certificates
granted
examination.

(a) High school certificates: (1) To the holders of high school credentials approved by the state board of education in accordance with the provisions of this code; (2) to the holders of special credentials issued by said state board in accordance with the provisions of this code; (3) to holders of high school certificates issued by any county or city and county board of education in this state.

(b) Junior high school certificates: (1) To the holders of junior high school credentials approved by the state board of education in accordance with the provisions of this code; (2) To the holders of special junior high school credentials issued by said state board of education in accordance with the provisions of this code; (3) To the holders of elementary school credentials who have heretofore been granted an extension to teach in the third year of any intermediate school course in accordance with law.

(c) Elementary school certificates: To holders of the following credentials: (1) Life diplomas or certificates of any state; provided, the state board of education in this state shall have decided that said diplomas or certificates represent experience and scholarship equivalent to the requirements for the elementary life diploma in California. (2) California state normal school diplomas, San Francisco city normal school diplomas heretofore granted, and other normal school diplomas; provided, that the state board of education of this state shall have accredited the normal school issuing said diploma as being of equal rank with the state normal schools of California. (3) Diplomas of graduation with the bachelor's degree based upon a four-year course, granted by the University of California or any other university accredited by the state board of education for high school certification; provided, that the holder thereof has successfully completed eight months of experience in teaching, or twelve units of pedagogy according to regulations prescribed by the state board of education. (4) Holders of state board credentials of elementary grade issued by the state board of education in accordance with law. (5) To holders of valid elementary school teachers' certificates of any county, or city and county of California; provided, that the holder thereof has had eight months of successful teaching experience.

(d) Kindergarten primary certificates: (1) To the holders of kindergarten primary certificates of any county, or city and county of California; (2) to the holders of diplomas of graduation from the kindergarten-primary department of any state normal school in the state; (3) to the holders of credentials showing that the applicant has had professional kindergarten-primary training in an institution approved by the state board of education and also a general education equivalent to the requirements of graduation from the kindergarten-primary department of a California state normal school; (4) to the holders of kindergarten-primary credentials issued by the state board of education in accordance with the provisions of this code.

(e) Special certificates: (1) To the holders of credentials approved by the state board of education, in accordance with the provisions of this code; (2) to the holders of special credentials issued by the state board of education, in accordance with the provisions of this code.

(f) Attendance officer certificates: To the holders of special credentials therefor issued by the state board of education in accordance with the provisions of this code.

(g) Health and development certificates: To holders of certificates to practice medicine and surgery issued by the California state board of medical examiners or to holders of California life diplomas or special credentials in physical education granted by the state board of education, or to holders of certificates to practice dentistry by the California state board of dental examiners and to holders of certificates of registration as nurses, provided that certificates shall be granted to such persons only when such certificate to practice medicine and surgery, or California life diploma or certificate to practice dentistry, or certificate of registration as nurses, or a special credential in physical education granted by the state board of education, is accompanied by a special credential from the state board of education showing special fitness and training for health supervision of pupils.

2. Elementary school certificates may be granted to the holders of primary grade certificates who shall pass satisfactory examinations in such branches as do not appear on their certificates or in the record of the examination upon which the original certificate was granted. Certificates granted without examination.

3. All certificates and diplomas now valid in California shall continue in force and effect for the full term for which they were granted. County boards of education may renew any certificate issued by them prior to the adoption of this law, and now in force, provided that no certificate shall be renewed after the same has expired. Except as otherwise provided, renewed certificates shall be valid for a period of six years.

4. When the holder of any certificate or state diploma shall have taught successfully in the same county, or city and county, for five years, the board of education of such county, or city and county, may grant a permanent certificate of the kind and grade which said applicant holds, valid in the county, or city and county, in which issued during the life of the holder, or until revoked for any of the causes designated in subdivision six of section one thousand seven hundred seventy-one of this code; provided, that such permanent certificate shall in no case be of a higher grade than the grade of the certificate or state diploma on which the teaching has been done; and for a permanent high school certificate twenty months of said teaching shall have consisted of regular high school work; and provided, further, that a certificate when renewed the second time, or any time thereafter, shall become, by such renewal, a permanent certificate if the holder of said certificate shall have complied with all the conditions of this subdivision.

5. No teacher shall be employed to teach in any way in any school if the certificate held by the teacher is of a grade below that of the school or class to be taught, nor shall a teacher holding a special certificate be employed to teach any subject not authorized in such certificate; provided, that the holders of existing primary certificates, or of the same when hereafter renewed or made permanent shall be eligible to teach in any of the grades of the day or evening elementary schools below the sixth year, and not including the kindergarten grades; and in any day or evening elementary school of the county, or city and county, which the county or city and county superintendent shall designate as a primary school; and provided, further, that the holder of any valid special certificate for kindergarten work, or of any kindergarten-primary certificate who presents to the county superintendent of schools a statement that she has spent one year in a California state normal school, signed by the president thereof, or who presents evidence of one year of successful experience in teaching in an elementary school, or who holds a state board credential for kindergarten work accompanied by a statement from the state board of education extending such credential to cover first grade work, shall be entitled to teach in the first grade of the elementary schools.

6. No librarian shall be employed for more than two hours a day in any high school, unless such librarian holds a high school certificate or a special teachers' certificate in library craft technique and use, of secondary grade, granted in accordance with the provisions of this code. Such librarians shall rank as teachers, and shall be subject to the burdens and entitled to the benefits of the public school teachers retirement salary fund law on the same basis as other teachers.

CHAPTER 575.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred nineteen a of the Political Code, relating to the powers and duties of the state board of education.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred nineteen a is hereby amended to read as follows:

Powers of
state board.

1519a. The state board of education shall have power and it shall be its duty:

Prescribe credentials for high
certificates.

First—To prescribe by general rule the credentials upon which persons may be granted certificates to teach in the high schools of this state. No credentials shall be prescribed or allowed, unless the same, in the judgment of said board, are the equivalent of a diploma of graduation from the University of California, and are satisfactory evidence that the holder thereof has taken an amount of pedagogy equivalent to the minimum amount of pedagogy prescribed by the state board of education of this state.

Applicants
credentials.

Second—To consider the cases of individual applicants who have taught successfully for a period of not less than seventeen school months, and who are not possessed of the credentials prescribed by the board under the provisions of this section, and where the evidence submitted by the applicant does not satisfy the board it may, in its discretion, provide for his examination. The said board, in its discretion, may issue to such applicants high school credentials upon which they may be granted certificates to teach in the high schools of the state. In such special cases, the board may take cognizance of any adequate evidence of preparation which the applicants may present. The standard of qualification in such special cases shall not be lower than that represented by the other credentials named by the board under the provisions of subdivision first of this section.

Qualifications for
certificates.

Third—To establish and prescribe by general regulations the qualifications upon which county boards of education may grant to any person a special certificate to teach any special subject or subjects in such grades as are mentioned therein; provided, that no qualification shall be prescribed for certification to teach in any grade whatever a vocational subject unless the candidate shall have had, as a minimum, three years' experience as a journeyman, or, where this terminology does not apply, its equivalent, in the vocation in which he desires certification.

Third (a)—To establish and prescribe by general regulations the qualifications upon which county or city and county boards of education may grant to any person a special credential to serve as attendance officer or assistant attendance officer. Credentials for attendance officers.

Fourth—To consider the cases of individual applicants who are not possessed of the qualifications prescribed in subdivision third of this section, or in the general regulations of the state board of education, and where the evidence submitted by any applicant who meets the academic requirements of the board does not satisfy the board of his knowledge of the special subject and methods of teaching the same, it may, in its discretion, provide such examination as it may deem expedient and wise. When the state board of education is satisfied that any applicant possesses qualifications equivalent to those so specified, it may issue to such applicant a state board credential upon which county boards of education may grant to him a special certificate to teach such special subject or subjects as are listed in said credential in such grades and for such length of time as therein specified.

Fourth (a)—To consider the cases of individual applicants, who are not possessed of the credentials accredited by the board for kindergarten certification. When the state board of education is satisfied that any applicant possesses qualifications equivalent to those represented by credentials so accredited, it may issue to such applicant a state board credential upon which county boards of education may grant a certificate to teach in the kindergartens of the county and in such other grades as the legislature may prescribe by general law; provided, the standard for such special credential shall not be lower than that represented by credentials accredited by the board. Applicants without credentials for kindergarten certification.

Fourth (b)—To consider the case of any applicant for an elementary school credential, who is a graduate of a normal school or college, or who holds a life diploma or life certificate of another state. When the state board of education is satisfied that any such applicant possesses the qualifications which fit him for elementary school teaching as well as does graduation for a California state normal school, it may issue to such applicant a state board credential upon which any county board of education may grant to him an elementary school certificate. Applicants for elementary school credential.

Fourth (c)—To prescribe by general rule the credentials upon which persons may be granted certificates to teach in the junior high schools of this state. No credentials shall be prescribed or allowed unless the same in the judgment of said board are based upon courses that are the equivalent of at least three years of work at the University of California and shall Junior high school certificates.

show satisfactory evidence that the holder thereof has taken courses in education equivalent to the minimum amount of work in education prescribed by the state board of education for said credential and include a recommendation for a junior high school certificate from the school of education or department of education of the institution in which such work in education shall have been taken.

Fourth (d)—To consider the cases of individual applicants who have taught successfully for a period of not less than seventeen months and who are not possessed of the credentials prescribed by the board for the junior high school certificate. The said board in its discretion may issue to any such applicant a junior high school credential upon which he may be granted a certificate to teach in the junior high schools of the state. In such cases the board may take cognizance of any adequate evidence of preparation which the applicant may present, but the standard of qualification in such special cases shall not be lower than the standard fixed by the board for the junior high school credential provided for in section fourth (c) of this section.

Health and development credential.

Fourth (e)—To consider the case of any applicant for a health and development credential. When the state board of education is satisfied that any such applicant possesses the qualifications for the health and development work fixed by law and by the regulations of the state board of education, it may issue to such applicant a state board credential for health and development supervision.

Life
diplomas.

Fifth—To grant life diplomas for four grades, valid throughout the state, as follows:

(1) High school, authorizing the holder to teach in any elementary or high school.

(2) Junior high school, authorizing the holder to teach in any junior high or elementary school.

(3) Elementary school, authorizing the holder to teach in any elementary school.

(4) Kindergarten-primary, authorizing the holder to teach in the kindergarten class and in such grade or grades of the elementary school as may be authorized by law, which grade or grades must be specified in such life diploma.

(5) Special, authorizing the holder to teach in any school such special branches and in such grades as are named in such diploma.

Qualifications for
diplomas.

Sixth—To issue, except as provided in sections one thousand five hundred three and one thousand seven hundred seventy-five of this code, life diplomas only to such persons as have held for one year, and still hold, a valid county, or city and county, certificate, corresponding in grade to the grade of diploma applied for, and who shall furnish satisfactory evidence of having had a successful experience in teaching of at least forty-eight months. Not less than twenty-one months of said experience shall have been in the public kindergarten, elementary, junior high and high schools of California; pro- vided, however, that in issuing said life diplomas the state board of education may in its discretion accept teaching experience in the Whittier State School, California Polytechnic School, Preston School of Industry, Sonoma State Home, California School for Girls, or the Pacific Colony, in lieu of all or any part of the said twenty-one months of teaching experience in the public schools. Every application must be accompanied to the state board of education by a certified copy of a resolution adopted by at least a three-fourths vote of all the members composing a county, or city and county, board of education, recommending that the diploma be granted, and also by an affidavit of the applicant, specifically setting forth the places in which, and the date between which, said applicant has taught. The application for any credentials or document mentioned in this chapter or for any certified statement that such credential or document has been granted must be accompanied by a fee of two dollars, and in addition thereto each applicant permitted to take an examination shall, before he is so permitted, pay a fee of ten dollars. Each applicant for a life diploma shall pay a fee of three dollars, the same to cover the cost of the credential and accompanying portfolio. All of the above fees must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the contingent fund of the state board of education and applied by said board in defraying or in partially defraying the expense of investigating the qualifications of candidates, issuing credentials, documents or diplomas, and providing for the employment of professional experts to conduct examinations for special credentials and high school credentials, as specified in subdivisions second and fourth of this section.

Seventh—To revoke or suspend for immoral or unprofessional conduct, or for persistent defiance of, and refusal to obey, the laws regulating the duties of teachers, or for evident unfitness for teaching, life diplomas, documents issued under the provisions of sections one thousand five hundred three and one thousand seven hundred seventy-five of this code, or credentials issued in accordance with the provisions of this section; and to adopt such rules for said revocation as they may deem expedient or necessary.

Revocation
or suspension of
diplomas.

Whenever the holder of any life diploma or other teachers' credential or document issued by the state board of education in accordance with law is charged with immoral or unprofessional conduct or evident unfitness for teaching or persistent defiance of, and refusal to obey, the laws regulating the duties of teachers, the state board of education in its discretion after notifying the teacher so charged of its intention so to do, may require the county board of education of the county in which such teacher is teaching or has last taught, to give notice of, and conduct, a hearing of such charges in the manner prescribed by law for the hearing of charges for the revocation or suspension of a teacher's certificate by a county board of education. The county board of education, after such hearing, shall report to the state board of education its findings and a summary of the evidence and shall make a definite recommendation concerning the revocation or suspension of such life diploma or other teachers' credential or document. Upon receipt of a copy of such findings, summary of evidence and recommendation, the state board of education may suspend or revoke such life diploma or other teachers' credential or document for the causes hereinbefore stated, or order the charges dismissed.

Commission
credentials.

Eighth—The state board of education is hereby authorized to create a commission of credentials, to consist of the superintendent of public instruction, the commissioner of elementary schools, the commissioner of secondary schools and the commissioner of industrial and vocational education. This commission, when directed by the board, shall have authority to review the cases of applicants for any of the credentials specified in subdivisions second, third a, fourth, fourth a and fourth b of this section, and when said commission is satisfied that any candidate fully meets the standard maintained by the state board it may issue the proper credentials; provided, that said credentials to be valid must be issued upon the regular form used by the state board of education and must be signed by the secretary and president of said state board. The state board of education is further authorized to assign to the commission of credentials such duties relating to life diplomas, certificates, certification, and the accrediting of institutions for purposes of certification, as it may see fit.

Ninth—The state board of education shall have power and it shall be its duty to provide for the organization and supervision of courses in physical education in the public schools of this state.

CHAPTER 576.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred forty-two of the Political Code, relating to high schools.

[Approved May 28, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred forty-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Location of
district.

1742. When the money for the purchase of a site for a high school in any newly formed high school district has been provided and is in the county treasury the superintendent of schools who has jurisdiction over said high school district shall at once call a meeting of the high school board in the same manner as he called the first meeting of said board for organization, for the purpose of making a permanent location of the high school. If at such meeting the members of the high school board fail to agree unanimously upon the location for the high school, they shall propose, in writing, to the superintendent of schools and shall transmit to his office within ten days the names of the locations which they favor. Within twenty days ^{Election.} after receiving such proposals the superintendent of schools shall call an election in the same manner as the election for the formation of the district, to determine the location of the high school. At such election only such sites as have been named by the members of the high school board, and certified to the superintendent of schools shall be voted upon. Any form of ballot by which the voter signifies his choice of location shall be allowed. The result of said election shall be determined and certified to the superintendent of schools as provided in case of the election for the formation of the district. The location which receives the largest number of votes shall be chosen as the location of the high school. With the following ^{Change of location.} exception, no change of location of any high school where once established, shall be made except upon a petition to the superintendent of schools who has jurisdiction of the high school district, signed by two-thirds of the heads of families of the high school district, and then only upon the affirmative votes of two-thirds of the qualified electors of the high school district voting at an election called by the superintendent of schools, for that purpose. Such election shall be called and held, and the returns thereof made to the superintendent of schools, in the same manner as in the case of the election for the formation of the district; provided, however, that when any location has been once established in any of said districts, and said location lies within the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town, any change of location within the corporate limits of said city or town may be made upon any such change of location receiving the vote of the majority of the board of trustees of any such district whenever a new building is to be erected; provided, further, that when any location has been once established in any union high school district, and such location lies within the limits of any elementary school district not containing any incorporated city or town, any change of location within the limits of said elementary school district may be made upon any such change of location receiving the vote of the majority of the board of trustees of any such union high school district whenever a new building is to be erected

CHAPTER 577.

An act to amend sections twenty-six and twenty-seven of an act entitled, "An act to provide for a general system, based upon investigation as to merit, efficiency and fitness, for appointment to and holding during good behavior of office and employment under state authority and, in that behalf, to create a state civil service commission, to prescribe its powers and duties, to make the wilful violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith in so far as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 16, 1913, as amended.

[Approved May 30, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 1350,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section twenty-six of an act entitled, "An act to provide for a general system, based upon investigation as to merit, efficiency and fitness, for appointment to and holding during good behavior of office and employment under state authority and, in that behalf, to create a state civil service commission, to prescribe its powers and duties, to make the wilful violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith in so far as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Veteran
defined

Sec. 26. The term veteran as used in this act means and includes any person who has served in the United States army, navy, marine corps, revenue marine service, or as an active nurse in the service of the American Red Cross, or in the army and navy nurse corps in time of war, or in any expedition of the armed forces of the United States, and received an honorable discharge or certificate of honorable active service proof of which shall be submitted to the civil service commission at the time of examination.

Stats. 1919,
p. 1350,
amended.

Sec. 2. Section twenty-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Preference for veterans.

Sec. 27. The civil service commission shall by rule establish preference for veterans as follows: In the case of entrance examinations to establish eligible lists for policemen and watchmen, veterans who become eligible for appointment by attaining the passing mark established for the examination, and whose service as veterans exceeds three months, shall be classified on such eligible lists in the relative order of the individual ratings attained, and ahead of all non-veterans passing such examinations, and shall be eligible for appointment on the basis of such order of standing on such eligible lists.

In the case of all other entrance examinations, veterans with thirty days or more of service, and widows of veterans who were married to such veterans on or before November 11, 1918, who become eligible for appointment by attaining the passing mark established for the examination, shall be allowed an additional credit of five points, which shall be added to the percentages attained in such examinations by such veterans, and they shall be placed on eligible lists and be eligible for appointment in the order and on the basis of the percentages attained by them in examinations after such credit of five points shall have been added. All ties shall be decided in favor of veterans; provided, however, in the case of promotional examinations, a credit of three points shall be allowed to veterans and widows of veterans who were married to such veterans on or before November 11, 1918.

The civil service commission, for specific state services or employments, as determined by the commission, may, in examination, allow general or individual preferences in rating to veterans who have suffered permanent disability in line of duty; provided, that such disability would not prevent the proper performance of the duties required under such service or employment, and provided that such disability was of record in the files of the war department as of July 1, 1920.

In the case of examination to establish eligible lists for artisans, and in which credits are allowed for experience as a journeyman, periods of service in the armed forces of the United States, whether as artisan or otherwise, shall be counted by the commission as journeyman experience.

CHAPTER 578.

An act to authorize the creation of a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, through the issuance and sale of state bonds, for the single object of creating a fund to carry on the operations of the veterans' welfare board in accordance with the provisions of the California veterans' welfare act enacted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California, and also in accordance with the provisions of the veterans' farm and home purchase act enacted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California, or either of them enacted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California, and of any and all acts amendatory or supplemental to said acts, or either of them; to provide ways and means, exclusive of loans, for the payment of the interest of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such interest falls due, and also for the payment and discharge of the principal of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such principal matures; to create a veterans' welfare finance committee the members of which are to serve without compensation; to define the powers and duties of said veterans' welfare finance committee and of other state officers in relation to this act; to appropriate money for the expense of preparing and of advertising the sale of the bonds herein authorized to be issued; and to provide for the submission of this act to a vote of the people at the general election to be held in the month of November, 1922.

[Approved May 30, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Indebtedness for veteran
and authorized.

SECTION 1. For the purpose of creating a fund to carry on the operations of the veterans' welfare board in accordance with the provisions of the California veterans' welfare act enacted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California, and also in accordance with the provisions of the veterans' farm and home purchase act enacted at the forty fourth session of the legislature of the State of California, or either of them enacted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California, and of any and all acts amendatory or supplemental to said acts, or either of them, the veterans' welfare finance committee created by this act shall be and it hereby is authorized and empowered to create a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, of the State of California, in the manner and to the extent hereinafter provided, but not otherwise, nor in excess thereof.

Preparation
of bonds.

SEC. 2. After the issuance of the proclamation of the governor provided for in section sixteen of this act, and immediately after adoption of any resolution by the veterans' welfare finance committee hereby created, provided for in section eleven of this act, the state treasurer shall prepare the requisite number of suitable bonds of the denomination of one thousand dollars in accordance with the specifications contained in such resolution. The aggregate par value of all bonds issued under this act shall not exceed the sum of ten million dollars, and the bonds issued under any such resolution shall bear interest from the date of issuance of said bonds to the date of maturity thereof, at a rate to be determined by the said veterans' welfare finance committee and specified in such resolution, but in no case exceeding six per cent per annum. Both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the United States, of the present standard of value, at the office of the state treasurer, or at the office of any duly authorized agent of the state treasurer, and shall be so payable at the times specified in said resolution or resolutions.

Value.

Signature
of bonds.

All bonds issued under this act shall bear the signature of the governor and the facsimile countersignature of the controller and shall be endorsed by the state treasurer either by original signature or by signature stamp adopted for each particular bond issue under this act, and the said bonds shall be signed, countersigned and endorsed by the officers who shall be in office on the date of issuance thereof, and each of said bonds shall bear an impress of the great seal of the State of California. The said bonds so signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, although the sale thereof be made at a date or dates upon which the officers having signed, countersigned and endorsed said bonds, or any or either of said officers, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of the offices held by them at the time of signing, countersigning, or endorsing said bonds. Each bond issued under this act shall contain a clause or clauses stating that interest shall cease to accrue thereon from and after the date of maturity thereof, and referring to this act and to the resolution of the veterans' welfare finance committee hereunder by virtue of which said bond is issued.

SEC. 3. The requisite number of suitable interest coupons, ^{Interest coupons.} appropriately numbered, shall be attached to each bond issued under this act. Said interest coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the date of issuance of the bond to which said coupons pertain.

SEC. 4. All bonds issued under this act and sold shall be ^{Payment.} deemed to have been called in at their respective dates of maturity and the state treasurer shall, on the respective dates of maturity of said bonds, or as soon thereafter as said matured bonds are surrendered to him, pay the same out of the proceeds of the controller's warrants drawn in his favor as provided in section five hereof and perforate the bonds so paid with a suitable device in a manner to indicate such payment and the date thereof. He shall also, on the said respective dates of maturity, cancel all bonds bearing said dates of maturity and remaining unsold, by perforation with a suitable device in a manner to indicate such cancellation and the date thereof. The provisions of this section shall be applicable also to the interest coupons pertaining to the bonds authorized by this act to be issued, and shall be applicable, as far as practicable, to any duly authorized agent of the state treasurer.

SEC. 5. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act, as said principal and interest becomes due and payable. ^{Annual appropriation to pay principal and interest.}

There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state, as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collections of said revenue, to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

On the several dates of maturity of said principal and interest in each fiscal year, there shall be returned into the general fund in the state treasury, all of the moneys in the specific fund into which the proceeds from the sale of the said bonds have been covered as herein prescribed, not in excess of the principal of and interest on the said bonds then due and payable and, in the event of such moneys so returned on said dates of maturity being less than the said principal and interest then due and payable, then the balance remaining unpaid shall be returned into the general fund in the state treasury out of said specific fund as soon thereafter as it shall become available, together with interest thereon, from such dates of maturity until so returned, at the rate of five per cent per annum, compounded semi-annually.

Both principal and interest of said bonds shall be paid when due upon warrants duly drawn against said appropriation from the general fund by the controller of the state in favor of the state treasurer or in favor of any duly authorized agent of the state treasurer, upon demands audited by the state board of control, and the moneys to be returned into the general fund in the state treasury pursuant to the provisions of this section shall likewise be paid as herein provided upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands duly audited by the state board of control.

Appropriation for preparation and advertising of bonds.

SEC. 6. The sum of fifteen thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared and in advertising their sale. Said amount shall be refunded to the general fund in the state treasury out of the specific funds into which the proceeds from the sale of said bonds shall be respectively covered in accordance with the provisions of this act on controller's warrant duly drawn for that purpose.

Sale to highest bidder.

SEC. 7. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be by the state treasurer sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in such parcels and numbers as the said treasurer shall be directed by the governor of the state, under seal thereof, after a resolution requesting such sale shall have been adopted by the veterans' welfare board and approved by the governor of the state; but said treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date; and with the approval of the governor, he may from time to time, by public announcement at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof offered, to such time and place as he may select. Before offering any of said bonds for sale the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the day fixed for such sale.

SEC. 8. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in one newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds and such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the veterans' welfare fund for land settlement, or into the veterans' farm and home building fund, as the case may be, in accordance with the resolution of the veterans' welfare finance committee, provided for in section eleven of this act, by virtue of which resolution the said bonds shall have been issued, and must be used exclusively to provide useful employment and the opportunity to acquire farm homes with profitable livelihood on the land for veterans and to provide for cooperation of the state with the agencies of the United States engaged in work of similar character, and to furnish to veterans the opportunity to purchase farms, homes and home sites, in accordance with the provisions of the California veterans' welfare act and of the veterans' farm and home purchase act, or either of them, and of any and all acts amendatory or supplemental to said acts, or either of them; provided, that the said veterans' welfare board must pay over to the general fund of the state from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds all money which has been heretofore or may be hereafter appropriated and advanced out of the general fund in the state treasury for the use of the said veterans' welfare board on condition that it shall be so paid over; provided, further, that the said veterans' welfare board may, out of the proceeds from the sale of said bonds, pay all or any part of any indebtedness heretofore by it incurred in accordance with law and remaining unpaid, including the interest accrued thereon, unless the rate of interest applying to such indebtedness is less than the rate of interest applying to the said bonds; and provided, further, that the proceeds from the sale of said bonds may be used to pay the debt created by the issuance and sale thereof.

SEC. 9. The veterans' welfare board shall be and hereby is authorized, with the approval of the state board of control,

Notice of sale.

Disposition of proceeds.

Investment of surplus money.

to invest any surplus moneys in any of the funds subject to or appropriated for its use in bonds of the United States, or of the State of California, or of the several counties or municipalities or other political subdivisions of the State of California, and to sell such bonds, or any of them, at the governing market rates, upon approval of the state board of control.

Veterans' welfare finance committee.

SEC. 10. There is hereby created a veterans' welfare finance committee composed of the governor, state controller, state treasurer, chairman of the state board of control, and chairman of the veterans' welfare board, all of whom shall serve thereon without compensation and a majority of whom shall be empowered to act for said committee. The attorney general of the state shall be the legal advisor of the veterans' welfare finance committee.

Request to issue bonds.

Upon request of the veterans' welfare board, supported by a statement of the plans and projects of the veterans' welfare board with respect thereto, which statement shall designate the specific fund to which such plans and projects relate, the veterans' welfare finance committee shall determine whether or not a bond issue under this act is necessary or desirable to carry such plans and projects into execution.

Resolution authorizing issue.

SEC. 11. Whenever the said veterans' welfare finance committee shall have determined that a bond issue under this act is necessary or desirable to carry such plans and projects into execution, it shall adopt a resolution to this effect. The said resolution shall authorize and direct the state treasurer to prepare the requisite number of suitable bonds and shall specify:

1. The aggregate number, aggregate par value, and the date of issuance of the bonds to be issued.

2. The date or dates of maturity of the bonds to be issued and the number and numerical sequence of the bonds maturing at each date of maturity.

3. The annual rate of interest which the bonds to be issued shall bear.

4. The number, numerical sequence, amount or amounts, and the dates of maturity of the interest coupons to be attached to the said bonds.

5. The specific fund into which the proceeds from the sale of the bonds to be issued shall be placed and from which disbursements thereof shall be made in accordance with this act.

6. The technical form and language of the bonds to be issued and of the interest coupons to be attached thereto.

Determination of maturity and amount of issue.

In determining the date or dates of maturity of the said bonds and the amount of bonds maturing at each date of maturity, the veterans' welfare finance committee shall be guided by the amounts and dates of maturity of the revenues estimated to accrue to the veterans' welfare board from the project or projects to be financed by each issue, and shall fix and determine said dates and amounts in such manner that, together with the dates and amounts of interest payments on the said bond issue, they shall coincide, as nearly as practicable, and be commensurate, as nearly as practicable, with the dates and amounts of such estimated revenues; provided, that the bonds first to mature in each issue, shall mature not later than five years from the date of issuance thereof; provided, further, that specified numbers of bonds of specified numerical sequence shall thereafter mature at annual intervals; and provided, further, that the bonds last to mature in each issue shall mature not later than forty-five years from the date of issuance thereof.

The rate of interest to be borne by the said bonds shall be uniform for all the bonds of the same issue and shall be determined and fixed by the veterans' welfare finance committee according to the then prevailing market conditions, but shall in no case exceed six per cent per annum, and the determination of said committee as to the rate of interest shall be conclusive as to the then prevailing market conditions. The interest coupons to be attached to the said bonds shall be payable at semiannual intervals from the date of issuance of said bonds; provided, that the interest coupon first payable may, if the veterans' welfare finance committee shall so determine and specify, be payable one year after the date of issuance of said bonds.

SEC. 12. All actual and necessary expenses of the veterans' welfare finance committee and of the members thereof shall be paid out of the fund into which the proceeds from the sale of said bonds shall be covered, upon approval of the state board of control and on controller's warrant duly drawn for that purpose, and shall constitute expenses of the veterans' welfare board.

SEC. 13. The state controller, the state treasurer, and the veterans' welfare finance committee shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

SEC. 14. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the fifteenth day of November, 1922, as to all its provisions except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing, and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect immediately.

SEC. 15. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be held in the month of November, 1922, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and in a square thereof, the words: "For the veterans' welfare bond act of 1921," and in the same square under said words the following in brevier type: "This act provides for a bond issue of ten million dollars to be used by the veterans' welfare board in assisting California war veterans to acquire farms or homes." In the square immediately below the square containing such words, there shall be printed on said ballot the words: "Against the veterans' welfare bond act of 1921," and in the same square immediately below said words "Against the veterans' welfare bond act of 1921" in brierley type shall be printed "This act provides for a bond issue of ten million dollars to be used by the veterans' welfare board in assisting California war veterans to acquire farms or homes." Opposite the words "For the veterans' welfare bond act of 1921" and "Against the veterans' welfare bond act of 1921," there shall be left spaces in which the voters may place a cross in the manner required by law to indicate whether they vote for or against said act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the veterans' welfare bond act of 1921" and those voting against the said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the veterans' welfare bond act of 1921." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

Canvass of votes.

SEC. 16. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers; and if it appear that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at said election as aforesaid, then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided, and shall be irrevocable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof; but if a majority of the votes cast as aforesaid are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

Majority vote.

Publication of act.

SEC. 17. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state in accordance with law to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state, for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November, 1922; the costs of publication shall be paid out of the general fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose and shall be refunded to the general fund out of the veterans' welfare fund for land settlement and the veterans' farm and home building fund jointly, each of said funds sharing one-half of said costs. Said refund shall be made upon controller's warrants duly drawn against said funds for said purpose upon demands audited by the state board of control.

Title of act.

SEC. 18. This act may be known and cited as the "veterans' welfare bond act of 1921."

Repealed.

SEC. 19. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 579.

An act to provide educational opportunities for persons who served in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States in time of war, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 30, 1921. In effect July 20, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. As used in this act the term "veteran" ^{"Veteran" defined} includes any individual who has served on active duty in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States in time of war and has received an honorable discharge therefrom or who has been released from active duty under honorable conditions and who was, at the time of his enlistment, induction, commission or drafting, a bona fide resident of the State of California, but does not include:

1. Any individual at any time after April 5, 1917, and before November 12, 1918, or thereafter separated from such forces under other than honorable conditions;

2. Any conscientious objector who performed no military duty whatever or refused to wear the uniform, or

SEC. 2. There is hereby established an educational institute to be known as the California veterans' educational institute, to provide opportunities for veterans to continue their education, and to be under the management and control of the veterans' welfare board as created by the California veterans' welfare act adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California. ^{California veterans' educational institute established.}

SEC. 3. Any veteran who desires to continue his education may apply for admission to the institute and if, in the opinion of the board, the educational needs and desires of the veteran can be satisfactorily met in educational institutions in this state, the board shall assume state wardship over the education of such veteran. The board shall have the power, within its discretion, to provide educational counsel for students and where necessary to assist them in securing admission to suitable institutions of learning; provided, that private tuition schools shall be chosen only when suitable opportunity is not available in public or semipublic institutions. ^{Educational assistance to veterans.}

The board shall also, within its discretion, and in so far as the funds hereinafter provided may permit, have power to provide:

(a) For the payment of transportation charges once each year from the home of the student to and from the institution of learning.

(b) For the payment of tuition and other fees if there be such.

(c) For the purchase of necessary books and supplies.

(d) For the monthly payment of an allowance to cover all or a part of the living expenses of the student in an amount which shall not exceed forty dollars per month for each month during which the student is in actual attendance upon a day school, absence during the month on account of illness to be included as a part of such attendance.

(e) The amount expended on account of any one veteran under the provisions of this section shall not exceed one thousand dollars.

(f) The board shall consider the application of veterans for admission to the institution in the order in which they are received; however, should the funds available be insufficient to meet the obligations, should it assume wardship over all worthy applicants, the board shall assume wardship over such veterans as are most urgently in need of further education.

Cooperation with U. S.

SEC. 4. The California veterans' welfare board shall have power to cooperate and confer with the duly authorized agencies of the United States in carrying out the provisions hereof.

Appropriation

SEC. 5. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of five hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. Three hundred thousand dollars of the amount herein appropriated shall be available at the taking effect of this act and the remaining two hundred thousand dollars shall be available on July 1, 1923.

Veterans precluded from benefits.

SEC. 6. Any veteran who has taken advantage of the benefits of the veterans' welfare act or of the veterans' farm and home purchase act, adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California, or who has received a bonus or adjusted compensation from this state, shall be precluded from taking advantage of the opportunities offered under the provisions of this act.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 7. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER 580.

An act creating a veterans' welfare board and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation in aid of its operations.

[Approved May 30, 1921. In effect July 29, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act may be known and cited as the Cali- Title of act.
fornia veterans' welfare act.

SEC. 2. As used in this act the term "veteran" includes "Veteran" defined.
any individual who has served on active duty in the army, navy or marine corps, of the United States in time of war and has received an honorable discharge therefrom or who has been released from active duty under honorable conditions and who was, at the time of his enlistment, induction, commission or drafting, a bona fide resident of the State of California, but does not include—

1. Any individual at any time after April 5, 1917 and before November 12, 1918 or thereafter separated from such forces under other than honorable conditions;

2. Any conscientious objector who performed no military duty whatever or refused to wear the uniform, or

3. Any alien at any time during such period or thereafter discharged from the military or naval forces on account of his alienage.

The object of this act is to provide useful employment and the opportunity to acquire farm homes with profitable livelihood on the land for veterans and to provide for cooperation of the state with the agencies of the United States engaged in work of a similar character.

SEC. 3. For the purposes of this act the "veterans' welfare board" is hereby created. Veterans' welfare board created.
This board shall consist of five members to be appointed by the governor to hold office for a term of four years and until their successors have been appointed and shall qualify. Four of such members shall be veterans. Of the members first appointed one shall be appointed to hold office until the first day of January 1922, one until the first day of January 1923, one until the first day of January 1924 and two until the first day of January 1925. The governor shall designate one of the veteran members as chairman of the board and director of veterans' welfare. The secretary may or may not be a member of the board.

Such expert, technical and clerical assistance as may prove necessary may also be selected by the board. The board shall fix the salaries of all employees with the approval of the state board of control. Four members of the board shall receive a per diem for each meeting attended and the chairman shall receive a salary, said per diem and salary to be fixed by the state board of control, with the approval of the governor. The members shall also receive their actual necessary traveling expenses in the discharge of their duties. The said veterans' welfare board shall have power to cooperate and to contract with the duly authorized representatives of the United States government in carrying out the provisions of this act.

Rights of board.

SEC. 4. The veterans' welfare board hereinafter called "the board" shall constitute a body corporate with the right on behalf of the state to hold property, receive and request donations, sue and be sued and all other rights provided by the constitution and laws of the State of California as belonging to bodies corporate. Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum and such quorum may exercise all the power and authority conferred on the board by this act.

Purchase of lands and water rights.

SEC. 5. For the purposes of this act the board may acquire on behalf of the state by purchase, gift or the exercise of the power of eminent domain, all lands, water rights, and other property needed for the purposes hereof and may take title in trust and shall without delay improve, subdivide, and sell such land, water rights and other property with appurtenances and rights to approved bona fide settlers who are veterans; the board shall have the authority to set aside for town site purposes a suitable area purchased under the provisions of this act and to subdivide such area and sell or lease to veterans or others the same for cash, or on such terms as the board may see fit, in lots of such size and with such restrictions as to resale as they shall deem best; and provided, further, that the board shall have authority to set aside and dedicate to public use such area or areas as it may deem desirable for roads, school houses, churches or other public purposes.

Notice of purchase.

SEC. 6. Whenever the board believes that private land should be purchased for settlement under this act it shall give notice by publication in one or more newspapers of general circulation in this state setting forth approximately the area and character of the land desired and the conditions that shall govern the proposed purchase and inviting owners of land willing to enter into a contract of sale on the conditions proposed to submit such land for inspection.

Report on tracts.

SEC. 7. Within thirty days thereafter the board shall direct an officer or officers in its employ or one or more persons who may, at its request, be designated by the dean of the college of agriculture of the University of California, to inspect and report on all tracts of land suitable for closer settlement which are so submitted.

Details of report.

SEC. 8. The board shall give not less than one week's notice of the approximate date when tracts submitted will be inspected and every report of such inspection shall as far as practicable specify:

(a) The situation and brief description thereof.

(b) Extent and situation of land comprising formation of any tract as is proposed to acquire.

- (c) Names and addresses of the owners thereof.
- (d) Character of water rights.
- (e) Nature of improvements.
- (f) Crops being grown on land.
- (g) Appraisement of value of land, water rights and improvements.

Sec. 9. On receiving the reports of all the land examined the board shall decide which of the areas is best suited for the purposes of the act. Before so deciding the board may examine the land or it may employ one or more competent valuers to fix the productive value of the land and report the same in writing. The owner or his agent may give evidence as to its value.

Division on areas

Sec. 10. If, from the evidence submitted, or from the results of its personal inspection, the board is satisfied that one or more of the tracts submitted are suited to intensive closer settlement and can be acquired at a reasonable price it shall submit to the governor its report giving the reasons for recommending the purchase and on the approval of the governor the board shall be authorized to purchase the same; provided, that before such purchase is made the attorney general shall approve the title of such lands and any water rights appurtenant thereto and the state water commission shall certify in writing as to the sufficiency of any water rights to be conveyed.

Recommendation of purchase.

Sec. 11. All sales to settlers of land under this act shall be made upon such terms and conditions as shall give to the board full control of any subdivisions thereof until all moneys advanced by the state for the purchase, improvements or equipment of such subdivisions are fully repaid together with interest thereon as herein provided.

Terms of sale to settlers.

Sec. 12. Immediately upon taking possession of any land purchased as above or otherwise obtained and after deducting any areas to be set aside for town sites or public purposes in accordance with section five of this act the board shall subdivide it into areas suitable for farms and farm laborer's allotments and lay out and wherever necessary construct roads, ditches and drains for giving access to and insuring proper cultivation for the several farms and farm laborer's allotments. The board, prior to disposing of it to settlers or at any time after such land has been disposed of but not after the end of the fifth year from the commencement of the term of the settlers' purchase contract may Subdivision into farms and farm laborer's allotment.

(a) Prepare all or any part of such land for irrigation and cultivation.

Irrigation.

(b) Seed, plant and fence such land and cause dwelling houses and outbuildings to be erected on any farm allotment and make any improvements not specified above necessary to render the allotment profitable and productive in advance of and after settlement, the total cost to the board of such dwelling and outbuildings and improvements not to exceed five thousand dollars on any one farm allotment.

Planting.

Cottages. (c) Cause cottages to be erected on any farm laborer's allotment and provide a domestic water supply. The combined cost to the board of the cottage and water supply not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars on any one farm laborer's allotment.

Loans. (d) Make loans not to exceed three thousand dollars to any one settler for the purchase of necessary live stock and equipment such loans to be secured in any manner that the board may direct or without security other than the personal obligation of the settler.

Irrigation work. SEC. 13. Authority is hereby granted to the board where deemed desirable to operate and maintain any irrigation works constructed to serve any lands purchased and sold under the provisions of this act. All moneys received in tolls or charges for the operation and maintenance of any works or for any water supplied therefrom shall be deposited in the veterans' welfare fund for land settlement created by this act and shall become available for the payment of any charges or expenses authorized in this act to be paid from said veterans' welfare fund for land settlement.

Lease of land. SEC. 14. After the purchase of land by the board under the provisions of this act and before its disposal to approved bona fide applicants the board shall have authority to lease such land or a part thereof on bonded or secured leases on such terms as it shall deem fit.

Maximum value of allotments. SEC. 15. Lands disposed of under this act other than land set aside for town sites or public purposes shall be sold either as farm allotments each of which shall have a value not exceeding, without improvements, fifteen thousand dollars, or as farm laborer's allotments each of which shall have a value not exceeding without improvements one thousand dollars.

Notice of opening area for settlement. Before any part of an area is thrown open for settlement there shall be such notice thereof given once a week for four weeks in one or more daily newspapers of general circulation in the State of California setting forth the number and size of farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments or both, the price at which they are offered for sale, the mode of payment and such other particulars as the board may think proper and specifying a definite period within which applications therefor shall be filed with the board on forms provided by the board. The board shall have the right in its uncontrolled discretion to reject any and all applications it may see fit and may readvertise as aforesaid as often as it sees fit until it receives and accepts such number of applications as it may deem necessary. If no applications satisfactory to the board are received for any farm allotment or farm laborer's allotment following such advertising the board, at any time prior to readvertising, may sell to a veteran any such farm allotment or farm laborer's allotment at the price at which they were so offered for sale without the necessity of readvertising. The board shall also have the power in dealing with any such farm allotment or farm laborer's allotment for which there has been no such application satisfactory to the board to subdivide or amalgamate any one or more of such allotments as it may see fit and fix the price thereon; provided, that the limitation of fifteen thousand dollars for a farm allotment and one thousand dollars for the farm laborer's allotment, as in this section set forth are not violated. Such subdivision or amalgamation may be had without the necessity or readvertising. The board may also sell at public auction under such conditions of sale and notice thereof as the board may prescribe any areas which the board may determine are not suitable for farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments; provided, if such area has been included in such a farm allotment or farm laborer's allotment, then such sale at public auction can be made only after a failure to receive any application satisfactory to the board after the advertising thereof as required by the terms of this section.

SEC. 15a. The selling prices of the several allotments into which lands purchased under this act are subdivided, other than those set aside for townsite and public purposes, shall be fixed by the board, so as to render such allotments as nearly as possible equally attractive, and calculated to return to the state the original cost of the land, together with a sufficient sum added thereto to cover all expenses and costs of surveying, improving, subdividing, and selling such lands, including the payment of interest, and all costs of engineering, superintendence, and administration, including the cost of operating any works built, directly chargeable to such land, and also the price of so much land as shall on subdivision be used for roads and other public purposes, and also such sum as shall be deemed necessary to meet unforeseen contingencies. Selling prices of allotments.

SEC. 16. Any veteran who is not the holder of agricultural land or possessory rights thereto to the value of fifteen thousand dollars and who, by this purchase would not become the holder of agricultural land or possessory rights thereto exceeding such value, and who is prepared to enter within six months upon actual occupation of the land acquired, may apply for and become the purchaser of either a farm allotment or a farm laborer's allotment; provided, that no more than one farm allotment or more than one farm laborer's allotment shall be sold to any one person; provided, further, that no applicant shall be approved who shall not satisfy the board as to his or her fitness successfully to cultivate and develop the allotment applied for. In any such sales preference must be given to veteran trainees in agriculture, under the provisions of the vocational rehabilitation act of congress, approved June 27, 1918, and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, or to veterans who were wounded or disabled while a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, and who are otherwise qualified by experience. Conditions of purchase by veteran.

SEC. 17. Every approved applicant shall enter into a contract of purchase with the board the terms of which shall be determined by the board. Such applicant shall, if required, Contract of purchase.

by the board enter into an agreement to apply for a loan from the federal land bank under provisions of the federal farm loan act, for an amount to be fixed by the board and shall pay the board the amount of any loan so made as a partial payment on such land and improvements. The balance due on the land shall be paid in amortizing payments extending over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding forty years together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum compounded at periods to be fixed by the board; the amount due on improvements shall be paid in amortizing payments extending over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding twenty years together with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum compounded at periods to be fixed by the board; the repayments of loans shall extend over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding five years; provided, however, in each case, that the settler shall have the right on installment date to pay any or all installments still remaining unpaid; provided, further, that the board may in any individual case postpone from time to time the whole or any portion of any payment, initial or otherwise, of principal or interest, on account of land improvements or loans, upon such terms as the board may determine proper.

Purchaser to cultivate land, etc.

SEC. 18. Every contract entered into between the board and an approved purchaser shall contain among other things provisions that the purchaser shall cultivate the land in a manner to be approved by the board and shall keep in good order and repair all buildings, fences and other permanent improvements situated on his allotment, reasonable wear and tear and damage by fire excepted. Each settler shall, if required, insure and keep insured against fire all buildings on his allotment, the policies therefor to be made out in favor of the board and to be in such amount or amounts and in such insurance companies as may be prescribed by the board.

The board shall have power in its own name to insure and keep insured against fire and such other risks as the board may determine, all buildings or other improvements on any of the lands under the control of the board. The board shall likewise have the power in any contract of purchase under which the board purchases lands as authorized in this act, to provide for the return by the board to the owner so selling to the state of any insurance premium or taxes which may have been paid on said property by such owner or for which such owner may have become obligated to pay.

Transfers.
approved
by board.

SEC. 19. No allotment sold under the provisions of this act shall be transferred, assigned, mortgaged, or sublet in whole or in part, without the consent of the board given in writing, until the settler has paid for his farm allotment or farm laborer's allotment in full and complied with all of the terms and conditions of his contract of purchase.

Cancellation
of contract.

SEC. 20. In the event of a failure of a settler to comply with any of the terms of his contract of purchase and agreement with the board, the state and the board shall have the right at its option to cancel the said contract of purchase and agreement and thereupon shall be released from all obligation in law or equity to convey the property and the settler shall forfeit all right thereto and all payments theretofore made shall be deemed to be rental paid for occupancy. The board may require of the settler such mortgage or deed of trust or other instrument as may be necessary under the terms and conditions of the contract of purchase in order to adequately protect and secure the board. There may be included in such contract of purchase, mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument any conditions with reference to sale of the property or reconveyance back to the board or notice of such sale or reconveyance as may in the discretion of the board be required to be so included in such contract of purchase, mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument, in order to so adequately protect the said board in the premises. The failure of the board or of the state to exercise any option to cancel, or other privilege under the contract of purchase for any default shall not be deemed as a waiver of the right to exercise the option to cancel or other privilege under the contract of purchase for any default thereafter on the settler's part. But no forfeiture so occasioned by default on the part of the settler shall be deemed in any way, or to any extent, to impair the lien and security of the mortgage or trust instrument securing any loan that it may have made as in this act provided. The board shall have the right and power to enter into a contract of purchase for the sale and disposition of any land forfeited as above provided, because of default on the part of a settler, and this right may be exercised indefinitely without the necessity of advertising.

If illness or accident prevents a settler from cultivating his land or harvesting any crop or crops growing thereon, the board may cultivate the land or cause it to be cultivated, or harvest, or cause to be harvested the crop or crops growing thereon. In such event the board may sell such crop or crops so harvested. Out of the proceeds of such sale or sales the board may reimburse itself for any expense which it may have incurred in the cultivation of the land, the harvesting of the crops and the sale thereof, and retain any moneys due to the board from the settler, and the balance, if any, shall be paid by the board to the settler.

SEC. 21. Actual residence on any allotment sold under the provisions of this act shall commence within six months from the date of the approval of the application and shall continue for at least eight months in each calendar year for at least five years from the date of the approval of the said application, unless prevented by illness or some other cause satisfactory to the board; provided, that in case any allotment disposed of under this act is returned to and resold by the state, the time of residence of the preceding purchaser may in the discretion of the board be credited to the subsequent purchaser.

Residence on allotment.

SEC. 22. The power of eminent domain shall be exercised by the state at the request of the board for the condemnation of water rights and rights of way for roads, canals, ditches, dams and reservoirs, necessary or desirable for carrying out the provisions of this act, and on request of the board the attorney general shall bring the necessary and appropriate proceedings authorized by law for such condemnation of said water rights or rights of way, and the cost of all water rights or rights of way so condemned shall be paid out of the veterans' welfare fund for land settlement hereinafter provided for. The board shall have full authority to appropriate water under the laws of the state when such appropriation is necessary or desirable for carrying out the purposes of this act.

Appropriation.

SEC. 23. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of one million dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. Of this amount the sum of nine hundred fifty thousand dollars shall constitute a revolving fund to be known as veterans' welfare fund for land settlement which is calculated to be returned to the state within a period of fifty years from the effective date of this act with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum on so much thereof as shall be withdrawn from said veterans' welfare fund for land settlement, from the date of withdrawal until returned into said veterans' welfare fund for land settlement, or until returned into the general fund in the state treasury, as the case may be; provided, that in the event of the sale of any bonds which may be hereafter authorized to be issued to create a fund to be expended in accordance with the provisions of this act, then and in that event the sum of nine hundred fifty thousand dollars hereby appropriated shall be returned into the general fund in the state treasury from the proceeds of the sale of such bonds. The remaining fifty thousand dollars shall constitute a fund available for the payment of administrative expenses alone until such time as other moneys are available for such purposes from the sales of land as provided for in this act.

The state controller is authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such funds from time to time upon requisition of the board approved by the state board of control and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants.

Advances by board of control.

SEC. 24. The state board of control is hereby authorized to provide for advances of money to the board needed to meet contingent expenses to such an amount not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars as the said board of control shall deem necessary, which advances shall be administered as a revolving fund or revolving funds.

Deposit of money paid by settlers.

SEC. 25. The money paid by settlers on lands, improvements, or in the repayment of advances, shall be deposited in the veterans' welfare fund for land settlement and be available under the same conditions as the original appropriation.

SEC. 26. The board shall have authority to make all needed rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 27. The board is hereby authorized to investigate soldiers' land settlement conditions in California and elsewhere and to submit recommendations for such legislation as may be deemed by it necessary or desirable. The board shall render an annual report to the governor and a copy thereof to the secretary of the interior which report shall be filed and printed as required by sections three hundred thirty-two, three hundred thirty-three, three hundred thirty-four, three hundred thirty-six and three hundred thirty-seven of the Political Code with the exception that they shall be so filed annually instead of biennially as provided in such sections. Except as herein otherwise provided no land acquired under the provisions of this act shall in any event become liable for any debt contracted prior to the issuance of a deed by the board therefor.

Investigation of soldiers' land settlement conditions.

SEC. 28. The board shall, as far as possible, utilize the services of veterans in administrative and other work for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this act. Nothing contained in that certain act entitled, "An act to provide for a general system based upon investigation as to merit, efficiency and fitness, for appointment to and holding during good behavior of office and employment under state authority and, in that behalf, to create a state civil service commission, to prescribe its powers and duties, to make the willful violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith in so far as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 16, 1913, or in any acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, or in any other act or acts whatsoever, shall limit the power of the board to utilize the services of veterans in administrative and other work, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

Preference to veterans in administrative work.

SEC. 29. Any veteran who has taken advantage of the benefits of the veterans' farm and home purchase act adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of the State of California shall be precluded from taking advantage of the opportunities offered under the provisions of this act.

Veterans precluded from aid.

SEC. 30. It is hereby made the duty of all state, county, city and county officials to furnish and give all required information to the veterans' welfare board, upon request, and shall further assist said board in any manner in accordance with law and without charge therefor.

Assistance by state and local officers.

SEC. 31. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Constitutionality.

The board of control shall deliver to the state board of pharmacy such number of said machines as may be needed by the board of pharmacy in enforcing the provisions of this act. In all prosecutions for a violation of section seven of this act where any of the narcotic drugs or their derivatives mentioned in section eight of this act, are found in an automobile or other vehicle, said automobile or other vehicle may be seized by any duly authorized peace officer and held as part of the evidence for a violation of this act; provided, that nothing contained in this section shall apply to common carriers, or to any employee acting within the scope of his employment under this act. ^{Seizure of automobile or other vehicle.}

CHAPTER 582.

An act to amend sections one, two, four, six, eight and eleven of an act entitled "An act to promote the better education of nurses and the better care of the sick in the State of California, to provide for and regulate the examination and registration of graduate nurses, and to provide for the issuance of certificates of registration as registered nurses to qualified applicants by the state board of health, and to repeal an act approved March 20, 1905, entitled 'An act to promote the better education of the practice of nursing the sick in the State of California, to provide for the issuance of certificates of registration as a registered nurse, to qualified applicants of the board of regents of the University of California, and to provide penalties for violation thereof,' " approved June 12, 1913, as amended, and to add a new section thereto to be numbered five and one-half, relative to registration of nurses.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect—see section 8.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 603,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to promote the better education of nurses and the better care of the sick in the State of California, to provide for and regulate the examination and registration of graduate nurses, and to provide for the issuance of certificates of registration as registered nurses to qualified applicants by the state board of health, and to repeal an act approved March 20, 1905, entitled 'An act to promote the better education of the practice of nursing the sick in the State of California, to provide for the issuance of certificates of registration as a registered nurse, to qualified applicants of the board of regents of the University of California, and to provide penalties for violation thereof,' " approved June 12, 1913, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Registration
of graduate nurses.

Section 1. Within thirty days after this act takes effect the state board of health shall establish and maintain a department of examination and certification of graduate nurses as hereinafter provided. The state board of health shall appoint a director, whose salary shall be fixed by the board, and said director shall have been graduated from an accredited training school for nurses as defined in this act, and shall be duly certified under the provisions of this act. Said director shall visit and inspect all training schools in this state, subject to the provisions of this act, at such times as may be required by the secretary of the board, and shall perform all duties required by this act and such other duties as may be required by the state board of health in order to carry out the objects and provisions of this act. Training schools complying with requirements herein specified and upon recommendation of the director, shall be accredited by the board. Lists of Director.

Accredited training

accredited training schools for nurses and a register of the names of all nurses duly certificated under this act shall be prepared and kept by the department. A biennial report shall be prepared and filed with the state board of health.

SEC. 2. Section two of said act approved June 12, 1913, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1913, p. 21, amended. Examinations.

Sec. 2. Examinations as provided for in this act shall be held at least every six months, at such times and places as the board shall direct and according to the rules and regulations of said board. Public notice of such examinations shall be given by publishing the same at least two weeks prior to the date of such examination in two or more papers of general circulation and one nursing journal, to be selected by the board. All of said papers and said nursing journal shall be published within the State of California. Upon filing application for examination, each applicant shall pay an examination fee of fifteen ($15) dollars for certificate as registered nurse, which shall in no case be returned to the applicant. No further fee shall be required for certificate.

SEC. 3. Section four of said act approved June 12, 1913, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1913, p. 614, amended.

Sec. 4. Applicants for examination for certificate as registered nurse must be at least twenty-one years of age and must present to the board satisfactory evidence of having received and completed in an accredited school of nursing a course including instruction covering a period of not less than twenty-eight months in the actual care of medical, surgical, obstetrical patients and sick children, as required by the board. After July, 1923, applicants must also present evidence of preliminary education which is satisfactory to the board. CHAPTER 583.

An act providing for publicity of contributions and expenditures made for the purpose of influencing electors for or against any proposition voted upon throughout the state and providing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Words and phrases when used in this act shall, ^{Definitions.} unless such construction be inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows:

1. The word "association" means and includes any person and any committee, firm, association, public or private corporation or other group of persons, whether incorporated or not, that collects, raises or receives moneys, or receives promises of money aggregating from all sources a sum in excess of one thousand dollars for the payment of expenses in a campaign to influence the action of the electors for or against the adoption of any initiative or referendum measure, proposed constitutional amendment, bond act or any other proposition voted upon by the electors of the state at an election held throughout the state. ^{"Association"}

2. The word "expenses" means and includes the cost of holding and conducting public meetings, of printing and circulating specimen ballots, handbills, cards, and other papers previous to an election and of advertising, postage, expressage, telegraphing, telephoning and all salaries and expenses of lecturers, solicitors and agents and salaries and expenses of all persons employed in transacting business at headquarters or branch offices and expenses of maintaining the same, and for the renting of rooms for the transaction of the business of an association. ^{"Expenses."}

3. The word "treasurer" means and includes the treasurer, manager, secretary, agent, board of trustees, board of directors or other person or persons, who is or are in fact charged with the work, duty, or responsibility of collecting, managing or expending the funds of an association. ^{"Treasurer."}

SEC. 2. Not more than ten days nor less than five days prior to an election every association shall file in the office of the secretary of state an itemized, detailed and verified statement of receipts and expenses showing: ^{Statement of receipts and expenses.}

1. The name and address of each person, firm or corporation that has contributed, promised, loaned or advanced to such association or for its use directly or indirectly any money or the equivalent of money aggregating in value the sum of twenty-five dollars and the amount or sum contributed, promised, loaned or advanced by each.

2. The total sum contributed, promised, loaned or advanced to such association or for its use directly or indirectly in amounts of less than twenty-five dollars.

3. The total sum contributed, promised, loaned or advanced to such association or for its use directly or indirectly from all sources regardless of the amount of single or individual contributions.

4. The name and address of each person, firm or corporation to whom or which such association has contributed, disbursed, distributed, loaned, advanced, or promised any sum of money or the equivalent of money in the amount of ten dollars or more and the amount so contributed, disbursed, distributed, loaned, advanced or promised in each instance.

5. The total sum contributed, disbursed, distributed, loaned, advanced or promised by the association to any person, firm or corporation in amounts of less than ten dollars each.

6. The total sum contributed, disbursed, distributed, loaned, advanced or promised by the association to any and all persons for any and all expenses whatsoever.

Statement after election.

SEC. 3. Within twenty days next succeeding the date of the election each association must file in the office of the secretary of state an itemized, detailed, verified statement showing as of the date of said subsequent filing, all of the matters required by section two hereof; provided, however, if an association has complied with all the requirements of section two hereof the subsequent statement required by this section need only show and include matters and information not included in the previous statement.

Statements open to public inspection.

SEC. 4. The secretary of state, upon the filing of the statement required by section two hereof, shall forthwith transmit a copy thereof to the county clerks of Los Angeles county and the city and county of San Francisco, and furnish like copies to any other county clerk on demand. Such copies furnished to such county clerks shall be kept on file and shall be open to public inspection.

Penalty.

SEC. 5. Every association, as in this act defined, whether an individual or group of persons, incorporated or unincorporated, and each treasurer, managing or disbursing officer or agent thereof that violates any of the provisions hereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, one-half thereof to be paid to the informer and one-half to be paid into the county treasury.

Civil action by citizen.

SEC. 6. In addition to the penalty hereinabove prescribed, each association, whether an individual or a group of persons, incorporated or unincorporated, and each treasurer, managing or disbursing officer or agent thereof that violates any of the provisions hereof shall be liable to a penalty of one thousand dollars to be recovered in a civil action brought by any citizen of the state; provided, however, that not more than one such civil penalty may be recovered for a single offense. No statute of limitations shall apply to the bringing of an action under this section.

CHAPTER 584.

An act to amend section four thousand two hundred eighty of the Political Code, relating to the salaries of county and township officers and their deputies in counties of the fifty-first class and fixing the mileage and per diem of grand and trial jurors in such counties.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand two hundred eighty of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4280. In counties of the fifty-first class the county officers shall receive, as compensation, for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit: Counties of 51st class, salaries of officers.

1. County clerk. The county clerk, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum and such fees as he may be by law allowed to retain; and provided, that in any year when a new register of voters is required by law said county clerk may appoint such number of deputy clerks as may be necessary for the convenience of registration of voters, each of said deputies to receive the sum of ten cents per name for each elector registered by him whose name appears on the great register at the November election. Said sum to be paid out of the general county fund, on the presentation and filing with the board of supervisors of said county a duly verified claim therefor approved by the county clerk. County clerk.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and the fees or commissions for the services of all papers issued by any court of the state outside of his county, and his actual and necessary traveling expenses while executing a warrant outside of his county issued by a magistrate or court within his county and said sheriff may after the expiration of the terms of the present constables in said county, appoint five deputy sheriffs, which offices are hereby created, each of whom shall receive a salary of three hundred dollars per annum. The deputies herein provided for shall be paid at the same time, and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the sheriff is paid. Sheriff.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, that when the amount of fees collected by said recorder in any month shall exceed the sum of one hundred dollars, the recorder may receive and retain for his own use, in addition to his salary, one-half of all fees in excess of one hundred dollars collected by him in such month. Intent of act.

19. Intent of act. The legislature hereby declares that the provisions of this act are not intended to and do not increase or diminish the compensation of the officers herein mentioned, but are intended to change the same to a fixed salary basis wherever a salary is provided for compensation of such officers.

Time in effect.

20. Time in effect. The provisions of this act shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature which passed this act and said provisions shall be in force and apply to the present incumbent.

CHAPTER 585.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred twenty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the establishing of identity of heirs.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred twenty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Establishment of identity of heirs.

1724. In every case where title to real or personal property, or any interest therein, shall have vested or may hereafter become vested, other than by the laws of succession, in the heirs, heirs of the body, issue, or children of any person, without other description or means of identification of the persons embraced in such description, any person interested in such property as such heir, heir of the body, issue or child, or the successor in interest of any such heir, heir of the body, issue, or child, or the legal representatives of any of such persons or of their said successors in interest, may file a verified petition in the superior court of the State of California in and for the county wherein said property or any part thereof is situate, setting forth briefly the derangement of title of petitioner, a description of the property affected, and the names, ages and residences if known, of the heirs, heirs of the body, issue or children whose identity is sought to be determined (or if any of the same is dead or if the residence of any of the same is unknown, such facts shall be stated) and a request that a decree be entered in said court determining and establishing the identity of the persons embraced in such general description.

Notice of the time and place for the hearing of said petition must be given by the clerk by posting notices thereof in three or more public places in said county at least ten days prior to the date fixed by the clerk for said hearing.

At any time before the date fixed for such hearing any person interested in said property may answer said petition and deny any of the matters contained therein.

At the time fixed for such hearing or such time thereafter as may be fixed by the court, the court must hear the proofs offered by the petitioner, and of any person answering the same and must make a decree conformable to the proofs. Such decree shall have the same force and effect as decrees entered in accordance with the provisions of part three, title eleven of this code.

Supervisors.

16. Each member of the board of supervisors, three thousand dollars per annum and fifteen cents per mile in going from his residence to the county seat at each meeting of the board. This shall cover all his services as supervisor and road commissioner; provided, that in counties of this class each member of the board of supervisors shall be allowed his actual expenses in the performance of his official duties, the said expenses, however, for each member of the board not to exceed the sum of five hundred dollars in any one year.

Deputies,
etc.

17. The deputies, clerks, copyists and employes mentioned in this section are hereby allowed to the respective county officers named, who shall appoint the same, and said deputies, clerks, copyists and employes shall be paid by the counties of this class in monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of the county officers are paid.

Constitution-
ality.

18. If any section, subdivision, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subdivision, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes. Effect of act.

CHAPTER 587.

An act amending section eight of an act entitled "An act to regulate the examination of applicants for license, and the practice of those licensed, to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions of human beings; to establish a board of medical examiners, to provide for their appointment and prescribe their powers and duties, and to repeal an act entitled 'An act for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy, and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted, in the State of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulation,' approved March 14, 1907, and acts amendatory thereof, and also to repeal all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act." approved June 2, 1913, as amended, relating to certificates licensing the practice of medicine, drugless healing, and chiropody.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section eight of an act entitled "An act to regulate the examination of applicants for license, and the practice of those licensed, to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions of human beings; to establish a board of medical examiners, to provide for their appointment and prescribe their powers and duties, and to repeal an act entitled 'An act for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy, and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted, in the State of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulation,' approved March 14, 1907, and acts amendatory thereof, and also to repeal all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act." approved June 2, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917,
p. 96,

Sec. 8. Four forms of certificates shall be issued by said board under the seal thereof and signed by the president and secretary; first a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to use drugs or what are known as medical preparations in or upon human beings and to sever or penetrate the tissues of Forms of certificates.

human beings and to use any and all other methods in the treatment of diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions, which certificate shall be designated "physician and surgeon certificate"; second, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to treat diseases, injuries, deformities or other physical or mental conditions without the use of drugs or what are known as medical preparations and without in any manner severing or penetrating any of the tissues of human beings except the severing of the umbilical cord, which certificate shall be designated "drugless practitioner's certificate"; third, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to practice chiropody; for the purpose of this act chiropody shall be held to be the medical, mechanical or surgical treatment of the human feet.

Physician's
and surgeon's certificate.

Drugless
practitioner's certificate.

Chiropody
certificate.

Medical treatment defined.

Mechanical treatment
defined.

Surgical treatment
defined.

(a) Medical treatment shall be held to be the local application or recommendation of any therapeutic agent or remedy for the relief of foot ailments.

(b) Mechanical treatment shall be held to be the employment of any forcible means for the correction of any deformity of the foot or feet and shall not permit the treatment of fractures of the bones of the foot or feet or the application of splints or casts; provided, however, that mechanical treatment shall not include or prohibit the manufacture, the recommendation or sale of either corrective shoes or appliances for human feet.

(c) Surgical treatment shall be held to mean the surgical treatment of abnormal nails, corns, callosities, bunions, and other minor foot ailments, not involving the bony structure, and does not confer the right of amputation of toes or joints thereof except as hereinbefore specified, or any portion of the foot or the severing of any tendon, or the use of anaesthetic other than local; fourth, a certificate to practice midwifery, which shall be in the form designated by the board and in conformity with this act. Such certificate shall entitle the holder thereof to attend cases of childbirth. As used in this act, the practice of midwifery means the furthering or undertaking by any person to assist a woman in normal childbirth, but does not include at any childbirth the use of any instrument, except such instrument as is necessary in severing the umbilical cord, nor the assisting of childbirth by any artificial, forcible or mechanical means, nor the performance of any version, nor the removal of adherent placenta, nor the administering, prescribing, advising or employing in childbirth of any drug, other than a disinfectant or cathartic. The provisions hereof shall not authorize any midwife to practice medicine and surgery. A "reciprocity certificate" shall also be issued under the provisions hereinafter specified. Any of these certificates on being recorded in the office of the county clerk, as hereinafter provided, shall constitute the holder thereof a duly licensed practitioner in accordance with the provisions of his certificate.

An act to add a new section to be numbered section nineteen x six to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers; said section to be numbered nineteen x six and to read as follows:

officers.

1916. In counties of the sixth class there shall be one probation officer, one assistant probation officer, and one deputy probation officer who shall act as probation officer's clerk. The salaries of said officers shall be as follows: Probation officers, two hundred dollars per month; assistant probation officer, one hundred fifty dollars per month; and one assistant probation officer, one hundred twenty-five dollars per month.

CHAPTER 589.

An act to amend section one of an act entitled "An act defining public weighmaster; describing his duties; providing for rules and regulations governing the performance of his duties; prescribing a bond and fixing the amount thereof; and providing penalties for any violation of the provisions of this act," approved June 8, 1915, as amended, and repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 723,
amended

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act defining public weighmaster; describing his duties; providing for rules and regulations governing the performance of his duties; prescribing a bond and fixing the amount thereof; and providing penalties for any violation of the provisions of this act," approved June 8, 1915, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Public
weigh-master.

Section 1. All persons, firms, corporations, copartners or individuals engaged in the business of public weighing for hire, or any person, firm or corporation, who shall weigh or measure any commodity, produce, or article, and issue therefor a weight certificate which shall be accepted as the accurate weight upon which the purchase or sale of such commodity, produce or article, is based, shall be known as a public weighmaster, and shall file a bond with the state superintendent of weights and measures in the sum of one thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties, and shall obtain from the state superintendent of weights and measures a seal for the stamping of weight certificates hereinafter provided for, which shall only be in such form as such superintendent may prescribe.

Seals.

(a) The said seals shall be the property of the state and shall be forfeited and returned to the state superintendent of weights and measures upon termination of the performance of the duties herein prescribed as being the duties of a public weighmaster. Such seal shall be of a form and design prescribed by the state superintendent and furnished by him at the expense of the weighmaster. Said seal shall be a recognized authority of accuracy when applied to weight certificates.

Repealed.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 590.

An act to amend sections ninety and ninety-one of the California irrigation district act, relating to the inclusion of land in irrigation districts.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section ninety of the California irrigation district act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 90. If the board of directors deem it for the best interest of the district that the boundaries of the district be changed as proposed and if no protest against such change is made as provided in section ninety-one of this act, or if such protest be made and enough signatures be withdrawn therefrom so that said protest is no longer sufficient, the board shall order that the boundaries of the district be changed so as to include therein the lands described in said petition, or such portion thereof as the board shall find will be benefited by such inclusion. The order shall describe the boundaries as changed and shall also describe the entire boundaries of the district as they will be after the change thereof as aforesaid is made; and for that purpose the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of such boundaries as is deemed necessary; provided, however, that any public land of the United States of America adjoining the boundaries of any irrigation district may be included within the boundaries of any such irrigation district by order or resolution of the board of directors of such district without any petition being filed asking for such inclusion; and provided, further, that when additional land is included within any irrigation district and the board of directors of such district finds either that such inclusion without condition would work an injury to the land already in the district, either by an impairment of water rights or by requiring a greater expense for furnishing water to the lands proposed to be included, the board may prescribe conditions upon such inclusion of land, either by providing for priority of right to water or for the payment of an additional annual charge, or such other conditions as may to the board seem just. If such inclusion is upon petition of property owners, all such property owners shall sign and acknowledge an agreement with the district, specifying such conditions and describing the land so to be included. Such agreement must be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such lands are situated, together with a certified copy of the order including such lands, and thereupon such lands shall become a part of such irrigation district subject to such conditions.

Protest against inclusion.

SEC. 2. Section ninety-one of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 91. If a protest against the inclusion of such lands, signed by not less than three per cent of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the district and holding the title or evidence of title to not less than three per cent in value of the lands within the district according to the last equalized assessment roll of said district, shall have been presented to the board of directors and upon the hearing of said matter said protest shall not be withdrawn, or after the withdrawal therefrom of any signatures it shall still be signed by not less than three per cent of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the district and holding the title or evidence of title to not less than three per cent in value of the lands within the district according to the last equalized assessment roll of said district, or if the board of directors deem it not for the best interests of the district to include therein the lands described in said petition for inclusion, or any of them, the board shall adopt a resolution stating the facts and describing the boundary of the tract of land proposed to be included in the district; but before calling the election provided for in the next section, the board may require an undertaking, with sufficient sureties, from the petitioners for the inclusion of said land conditioned that the petitioners or the sureties will pay all the costs of holding such election in case such inclusion shall be denied.

CHAPTER 591.

An act to add a new section to be numbered section nineteen x thirty-four to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years: and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith" approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers; said section to be numbered nineteen & thirty-four to read as follows:

Sec. 19&34. In counties of the thirty-fourth class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be one hundred fifty dollars per month, he shall maintain an office in the court house at the county seat.

Counties of 34th class,

officer.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 592.

An act to amend section four of an act entitled "An act requiring the recording of maps of subdivisions of land into lots for the purpose of sale, and prescribing the conditions on which such maps may be recorded, and prohibiting the selling or offering for sale of land by reference to said maps unless the same are recorded," approved March 15, 1907, as amended, by providing that the governing body of the city, city and county, or county, may require either the dedication or conveyance to the political subdivision of a right-of-way for storm drain purposes where the tract of land shown upon the map is traversed by a natural water course or channel.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p 725,
amended.

SECTION. 1. Section four of an act entitled "An act requiring the recording of maps of subdivisions of land into lots for the purpose of sale, and prescribing the conditions on which such maps may be recorded, and prohibiting the selling or offering for sale of land by reference to said maps unless the same are recorded," approved March 15, 1907, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Approval of map.

Sec. 4. The map or plat so made, indorsed and acknowledged shall be submitted to the governing body of the city, city and county, or county having control of public highways in the territory shown on such map or plat, for the approval of such governing body before such map or plat is filed for record in the recorder's office; provided, that said map or plat shall not be accepted or approved by such governing body unless the same is accompanied by a certificate of the county surveyor and county assessor, if such tract or subdivision of land lies in unincorporated territory, or city engineer, if such there be, and the city assessor of any incorporated city or town, in which the whole or any part of such tract or subdivision of land is situated, showing that each and every lot and block therein has been carefully examined as to its value for residence or commercial uses with their suggestions and recommendations to such governing body; and provided, further, that whenever such tract or subdivision of land lies within an incorporated city or town, the map or plat thereof shall first be submitted by the governing body thereof to the city planning commission, if such there be, of such city or town, or, if there be no city planning commission, to the city engineer, if such there be. Said city planning commission, or city engineer, shall report thereon to the governing body within ten days after receipt of said map or plat. If such tract or subdivision of land is in unincorporated territory but within three miles from the exterior boundaries of any city, or town,

Certificate
showing examinations.

the map or plat thereof shall first be submitted by the county board of supervisors to the city planning commission, if such there be, or to such city engineer as above provided of the city or town lying nearest to such tract or subdivision of land, whereupon such commission shall make an examination of such map or plat and submit a report thereon with its suggestions and recommendations to the governing body of the municipality. Said governing body shall thereupon submit a report thereon, with its suggestions and recommendations to the said county board of supervisors. Such governing body after considering the report of the city planning commission, or the city engineer, as the case may be, and said county board of supervisors, after considering the report of said governing body, shall approve or disapprove such map or plat within thirty days after the same is submitted to it as above provided. In the event of the failure, refusal or neglect of said city planning commission, or city engineer to so report within said ten days to the said governing body it shall then be the duty of said commission or city engineer to forthwith transmit said map or plat to said governing body for its action thereon. In the event of the failure, refusal or neglect of said governing body to so report to said county board of supervisors within twenty days after said county board has so filed said map or plat with said city planning commission, or city engineer, it shall then be the duty of said governing body to forthwith transmit said map or plat to said county board of supervisors for its action thereon. If approved, the said governing body or board of supervisors shall indorse, or cause to be indorsed, on said map, or plat its approval of the same. Without such approval the said map or plat shall not be filed for record or be recorded. Such governing body may require the public highways, if any, offered for dedication by said map or plat and the parcel or parcels of land, if any, therein reserved or indicated for highway or right of way purposes, and not offered for dedication to public use, to be as wide as and to conform, as near as practicable, to the adjoining, surrounding or neighboring streets or highways of said city, city and county, or county. If such map or plat offers for dedication any highways said governing body or board of supervisors shall indorse thereon which of the highways so offered for dedication are accepted on behalf of the public, and thereupon such highways which have been so accepted, and no others, shall be and become dedicated to the public use.

Highways to conform to those surrounding.

In the event that the tract of land shown upon the map or plat is traversed by any natural water course or channel, such governing body may require as a condition precedent to the approval of such map or plat, either the dedication to public use of an easement or a conveyance to the political subdivision of a right of way for storm drain purposes to conform substantially with the lines of such natural water course or channel.

CHAPTER 593.

An act to amend section fifty-seven of the California irrigation district act, relating to compensation of officers.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1915,
p. 1368,
amended.
Compensation of
officers.

SECTION 1. Section fifty-seven of the California irrigation district act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 57. The directors, when sitting as a board or acting under the orders of the board, shall each receive not to exceed six dollars per day and fifteen cents per mile for each mile actually traveled from his place of residence to the office of the board, and actual and necessary expenses paid while engaged in official business under the order of the board; provided, that in irrigation districts containing five hundred thousand acres or more the directors, in lieu of said per diem, shall each receive a salary of one hundred fifty dollars per month. The board shall fix the compensation to be paid to all officers named in this act, to be paid out of the treasury of the district; provided, that said board shall, upon the petition of at least fifty freeholders within such district therefor, submit to the electors at any general election a schedule of salaries and fees to be paid hereunder, which may include the salary or per diem to be paid to the directors. Such petition must be presented to the board not less than twenty days, nor more than forty days, prior to a general election, and the result of such election shall be determined and declared in all respects as other elections are determined and declared under this act.

CHAPTER 594.

An act to provide for the sale and conveyance of certain lands within the abandoned river channels of the San Joaquin river lying in the county of San Joaquin, State of California.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Sale of land in abandoned channel of San Joaquin river

Being all that portion of the old channel of the San Joaquin river lying between that portion of the new channel of the San Joaquin river, known as "cutoff C," and "Burns cutoff."

Preferred
purchaser.

SEC. 2. The city of Stockton and the remaining owners of lands abutting upon said parcels shall be preferred purchasers for a period of sixty days following the date upon which the board of control shall give notice by publication in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in said county that it has determined the prices, and conditions of sale of said parcels, such publication to be made for not less than five consecutive days. The center line of the abandoned channel shall, in each case, constitute the boundary line between the purchasers of parcels situate upon opposite sides thereof. In the event any of said parcels shall remain unsold at the end of said sixty day period, the board of control shall thereupon proceed to offer the same for sale, and to sell the same, after giving notice of such sale, at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, in the manner prescribed by section one thousand two hundred seventy-four of the Code of Civil Procedure; provided, that no bid which is less than the sum determined by the board of control to be the value of the tract for which it is offered shall be accepted. The governor is hereby authorized to execute in behalf of the state such deeds or other conveyances as may be necessary to pass title to the purchasers of such tracts, and, upon notice from the board of control that full payment of the purchase price has been made, to deliver such deeds or other conveyances to the persons entitled thereto.

CHAPTER 595.

An act to amend section one thousand six hundred twenty-two of the Political Code, relating to the expenditure of state and county school funds.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand six hundred twenty-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Expenditure of state
and county school
funds.

1622. Boards of school trustees and city, city and county, boards of education may use forty per cent of the county school money for any of the purposes authorized by this chapter; but all the state school money and not less than sixty per cent of the county school money shall be applied exclusively to the payment of teachers' salaries of the elementary schools; provided, that any city superintendent of public schools or supervising principal of public schools who holds a teachers' certificate in force for the full time for which the requisition is drawn may be paid out of the same money or fund used for the payment of the salaries of teachers of the elementary schools.

CHAPTER 596.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred seventy-eight of the Political Code, relating to the formation of new elementary school districts.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred seventy-eight of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1578. When a petition for a new district is presented under the foregoing section to the county superintendent of schools he shall examine the same and if he finds the same sufficient and signed as required by the section he shall set the same for hearing by the board of supervisors of his county at a regular meeting thereof and shall immediately forward the same to the superintendent of public instruction for investigation. If the superintendent of public instruction shall find that such district is necessary, he shall attach his certificate to the petition approving the same and immediately return it to the county superintendent of schools. If he finds the district is not necessary, he shall disapprove the formation of the district and shall return the petition together with a statement of his reasons for disapproval to the county superintendent of schools. On receiving the petition with the approval or disapproval of the superintendent of public instruction, the county superintendent of schools shall forthwith file the same with said board of supervisors accompanied by his recommendations and the approval or disapproval of the superintendent of public instruction and a notice containing a general statement of the purpose of the petition and of the boundaries of the proposed new district, and the time and place when and where the petition will be heard. If the superintendent of public instruction shall not approve the petition, the county superintendent of schools or the board of supervisors may in their discretion appeal to the state board of control for a hearing on the matter, and said state board shall review the evidence as presented to it and approve or disapprove of the formation of the district; whereupon, the board of supervisors may in its discretion establish or refuse to establish the new district as hereinafter provided; but no state moneys shall be apportioned to a district established hereafter under the provisions of this section unless its establishment has been approved by the superintendent of public instruction or, upon appeal, by the state board of control.

Formation of new elementary school
districts.

When a petition for a change of boundaries is presented as provided in the preceding section, the county superintendent of schools shall examine the same and if he finds it sufficient and signed as required by law, he shall set the same for hearing by the board of supervisors at a regular meeting thereof, and shall file said petition with the board of supervisors accompanied by his recommendation thereon, and a notice containing a general statement of the purpose of the petition and of the change of boundaries and the time and place when and where the petition will be heard.

At least ten days prior to the date of hearing of a petition for a new district or for change of boundaries, the county superintendent of schools shall send by registered mail a copy of such notice to each of the trustees of each school district which may be affected by the proposed change, if any, and shall post or cause to be posted for the same period copies thereof in at least three public places in the territory proposed to be included in the new district and in at least three public places in each of the districts affected thereby, if any, one of which shall be posted at the door of a schoolhouse, if any, of each of such districts. He shall attach to said original notice and submit therewith to said board of supervisors an affidavit of mailing and posting of said copies. Upon the filing with it of such petition, recommendations, notice and affidavit as herein required, the board of supervisors shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine said petition.

CHAPTER 597.

An act to amend section twenty-one of an act entitled "An act providing for the regulation and supervision of companies, brokers, agents and sales of securities as the same are therein defined, and to prevent fraud in the sale of securities; providing for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and creating a state corporation department and the office of commissioner of corporations," approved May 18, 1917, as amended.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1917,
p. 684,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section twenty-one of an act approved May 18, 1917, as amended, and entitled "An act providing for the regulation and supervision of companies, brokers, agents, and sales of securities as the same are therein defined, and to prevent fraud in the sale of securities; providing for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and creating a state corporation department and the office of commissioner of corporations," is hereby amended to read as follows:

moneys
paid.

Sec. 21. All moneys which shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the "corporation commission fund" are hereby appropriated to be used by the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this act; and the controller shall draw his warrant on said fund from time to time in favor of the commissioner for the amounts expended under his direction, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The commissioner may with the consent of the board of control, withdraw from said fund a sum not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars, to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. The commissioner must account for the sum withdrawn for said revolving fund at any time upon demand of the board of control.

CHAPTER 598.

An act to amend sections five, six, nine and fourteen of the act entitled, "An act to regulate the examination of applicants for license, and the practice of those licensed, to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions of human beings; to establish a board of medical examiners, to provide for their appointment and prescribe their powers and duties, and to repeal an act entitled 'An act for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy, and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted, in the State of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulation,' approved March 11, 1907, and acts amendatory thereof, and also to repeal all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved June 2, 1913, as amended.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section five of the act entitled, "An act to regulate the examination of applicants for license, and the practice of those licensed, to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions of human beings; to establish a board of medical examiners, to provide for their appointment and prescribe their powers and duties, and to repeal an act entitled 'An act for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy, and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted, in the State of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulation,' approved March 14, 1907, and acts amendatory thereof, and also to repeal all other acts and part of acts in conflict with this act," approved June 2, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 5. The board is authorized to prosecute all persons guilty of violation of the provisions of this act. It shall have the power to employ legal counsel for such purpose, and may also employ inspectors, special agents and investigators and such clerical assistance as it may deem necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act. The board may fix the compensation to be paid for such service and may incur such other expenses as it may deem necessary. It shall also fix the salary of the secretary, and also the sum to be paid to other members of the board, not to exceed ten dollars per diem each, for each and every day of actual service in the discharge of official duties: such service to include the attendance at special meetings of the board and committee meetings of the board and while actively engaged in the review of examination papers, based upon one per diem for each thirty papers or fraction thereof. Each member of the board shall make an affidavit before some duly authorized person in the State of California that such service has been actually performed; and the board may in its discretion add to said sum necessary traveling expenses.

Salary of secretary and board members.

Stats. 1913, p. 724, amended. Report of receipts.

SEC. 2. Section six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 6. All fees collected on behalf of the board of medical examiners, and all receipts of every kind and nature, shall be reported at the beginning of each month, for the month preceding, to the state controller, and at the same time the entire amount of such collections shall be paid into the state treasury, and shall be credited to a fund to be known as the board of medical examiners' contingent fund, which fund is hereby created. Such contingent fund shall be for the uses of the board of medical examiners and out of it shall be paid all salaries and all other expenses necessarily incurred in carrying into effect the provisions of this act. An amount not to exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000) may be drawn from the contingent fund herein created, to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary; but expenditures from such revolving fund must be substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements at the end of each fiscal year, or at any other time when demand therefor is made by the board of control.

Use of contingent fund.

Revolving fund.

SEC. 3. Section nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 9. Every applicant must file with the board, at least two weeks prior to the regular meeting thereof, satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, and a diploma or diplomas issued by some legally chartered school or schools approved by the board, the requirements of which school or schools shall have been at the time of granting such diploma or diplomas in no degree less than those required under this act, or satisfactory evidence of having possessed such diploma or diplomas, and must file an affidavit stating that he is the person named in said diploma or diplomas, and that he is the lawful holder thereof, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction and examination without fraud or misrepresentation; provided, that in addition thereto, each applicant for a "physician and surgeon certificate" must show that he has attended four courses of study, each such course to have been of not less than thirty-two weeks duration, but not necessarily pursued continuously, or consecutively: provided, further, that an applicant for a "drugless practitioner certificate" must show that he has attended two courses of study, each such course to have been of not less than thirty-two weeks duration, but not necessarily pursued continuously or consecutively, the course in chiropody is to consist of not less than thirty-nine weeks consisting of not less than six hundred sixty-four hours; provided, further, that an applicant for a certificate to practice midwifery must show that the applicant has attended a one-year course in a hospital recognized as reputable by the board, and that a course of instruction in anatomy, physiology, obstetrics and hygiene and sanitation as set forth in section ten hereof has been taken, covering a period of one year; provided, further, that in lieu thereof, an applicant who can submit satisfactory proof of the possession of a diploma from a recognized reputable hospital, and who in addition thereto has attended a course of instruction in the subjects enumerated in section ten hereof and satisfactory proof that such instruction has been taken covering a period of at least three months; and provided, further, that in lieu thereof an applicant may present proof satisfactory to the board that the applicant has taken a course of instruction with the minimum requirements as designated in section ten of any school or schools approved by the board as giving a course of instruction in said subjects for a certificate to practice medicine and surgery; provided, also, that before July 1, 1918, in lieu of the diploma or diplomas and preliminary requirements herein referred to where the applicant can show to the satisfaction of the board of medical examiners that he has taken courses hereinafter required in a school or schools approved by the board totaling for applicants for "drugless practitioner certificate" not less than sixty-four weeks consisting of not less than two thousand hours and for "physician and surgeon certificate" totaling not less than one hundred twenty-eight weeks consisting of not less than four thousand hours, it being required that all applicants shall have received passing grades in all such courses, that the applicant or applicants shall be admitted to examination for their respective form of certificates.

The said application shall be made upon a blank furnished by said board and it shall contain such information concerning the medical instruction and the preliminary education of the applicant as the board may by rule prescribe. In addition to the requirements hereinabove provided for, applicants for any form of certificate hereunder shall present to said board at the time of making such application a diploma from a California high school or other school in the State of California requiring and giving a full four years' course of same grade, or other schools elsewhere, requiring and giving a full four years' standard high school course, or its equivalent, approved by the board, together with satisfactory proof that he is the lawful holder of such diploma, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction. The passing of an examination before the entrance examining board for the entrance to the academic department of the University of California, or Stanford University or the University of Southern California, or the possession of documentary evidence of admission to the academic department of such institutions as a regular student or in full standing shall be sufficient basic or preliminary educational qualifications. In lieu of such diploma, the applicant may present: (1) a certificate from the college entrance examination board, or the college examining board of any state or territory showing that such applicant has successfully passed the examination of said board; or (2) if such applicant be thirty years or more of age he may show to the satisfaction of the board of medical examiners proof of preliminary education equivalent in training power to the foregoing requirements. After January 1, 1919, every applicant for a "physician and surgeon certificate" shall in addition to the foregoing requirements, present to the board satisfactory evidence that before beginning the last half of the second year in the study of medicine he has completed a course which includes at least one year of work, of college grade, in each of the subjects of physics, chemistry and biology. The preliminary or basic educational requirements for a chiropodist shall be as follows: On and after July 1, 1915, the successful completion of one year of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1918, two years of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1920, three years of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1922, four years of high school work or its equivalent.

The preliminary or basic educational qualifications for an applicant to practice midwifery in this state shall be the completion of one year of high school work or its equivalent, and after October, 1918, the presentation to the board of a diploma from a California high school giving a full four years' standard high school course or its equivalent.

Sec. 4. Section fourteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 14. Said board must refuse a certificate to any applicant guilty of unprofessional conduct. On the filing with the secretary of a sworn complaint, charging the applicant with having been guilty of unprofessional conduct, the secretary must forthwith issue a citation, under the seal of the board, and make the same returnable at the next regular session of said board, occurring at least thirty days next after filing the complaint. Such citation shall notify the applicant when and where the charges of said unprofessional conduct will be heard, and that the applicant shall file his written answer, under oath, within twenty days next after the service on him of said citation or that default will be taken against him and his application for a certificate refused. The attendance of witnesses at such hearing may be compelled by subpoenas issued by the secretary of the board under its seal. Said citation and said subpoenas shall be served in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to the service of citation and subpoenas generally, and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force relating to subpoenas and to citations are hereby made applicable to the subpoenas and citations provided for herein. Upon the secretary's certifying to the fact of refusal of any person to obey a subpoena or citation to the superior court of the county in which the service was had, said court shall thereupon proceed to hear said matter in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to contempts for disobedience of the court, and should said court find that the subpoena or citation has been legally served, and that the party so served has wilfully disobeyed the same, it shall proceed to impose such penalty as provided in cases of contempt of court. In all cases of alleged unprofessional conduct, arising under this act, depositions of witnesses may be taken, the same as in civil cases and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force as to the taking of depositions are hereby made applicable to the taking of depositions under this act. If the applicant shall fail to file with the secretary of said board his answer, under oath, within twenty days after service on him of said citation, or within such further time as the board may allow, and the charges on their face shall be deemed sufficient by the board, default shall be entered against him, and his application refused. If the charges on their face be deemed sufficient by the board, and issue be joined thereon by answer, the board shall proceed to determine the matter, and to that end shall hear such proper evidence as may be adduced before it; and if it appear to the satisfaction of the board that the applicant is guilty as charged, no certificate shall be issued to him. Whenever any holder of a certificate herein provided for is guilty of unprofessional conduct, as the same is defined in this act, and the said unprofessional conduct has been brought to the attention of the board granting said certificate, in the manner hereinafter provided or whenever a certificate has been procured by fraud or misrepresentation or issued by mistake or that the certificate upon which a reciprocity certificate has been issued was procured by fraud or misrepresentation or issued by mistake or the person holding such certificate is found to be practicing contrary to the provisions thereof and of this act, it shall be the duty of the board and the board shall have power to suspend the right of the holder of said certificate to practice for a period not exceeding one year or to place the holder of said certificate upon probation or suspend judgment in such cases or revoke his certificate, or take such other action in relation to the punishment of the holder of said certificate as in its discretion it may deem proper. In the event of such suspension, the holder of such certificate shall not be entitled to practice thereunder during the term of suspension; but, upon the expiration of the term of said suspension, he shall be reinstated by the board and shall be entitled to resume his practice, unless it shall be established to the satisfaction of the board that said person so suspended from practice, has, during the term of such suspension, practiced in the State of California, in which event the board shall revoke the certificate of such person. No such suspension or revocation shall be made unless such holder is cited to appear and the same proceedings are had as is hereinbefore provided in this section in case of refusal to issue certificates. Said secretary in all cases of suspension or revocation shall enter on his register the fact of such suspension or revocation, as the case may be, and shall certify the fact of such suspension or revocation under the seal of the board, to the county clerk of the counties in which the certificates of the person whose certificate has been revoked is recorded; and said clerk must thereupon write upon the margin or across the face of his register of the certificate of such person, the following: "The holder of this certificate was on the ----- day of ----- suspended for -----," or, "This certificate was revoked on the ----- day of -----," as the case may be, giving the day, month and year of such revocation or length of suspension, as the case may be, in accordance with said certification to him by said secretary. The record of such suspension or revocation so made by said county clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the fact thereof, and of the regularity of all the proceedings of said board in the matter of said suspension or revocation; provided, further, that the holder of any certificate which has been revoked or suspended by the board of medical examiners, may within twenty days after receiving notice of said revocation or suspension of his said license, appeal to the superior court of the State of California in the county or city and county in which such suspension or revocation was made by the board of medical examiners. Upon such appeal being taken by such person whose license has been revoked or suspended by the board of medical examiners in accordance with the provisions of this act, the said superior court shall have full power to review all of the proceedings and testimony taken in said hearing before the board of medical examiners, and to inquire into the sufficiency of the evidence upon which such suspension or revocation was made. If the court finds the evidence sufficient to sustain the judgment of the board, said judgment shall be upheld and affirmed, and if the court deems such evidence insufficient to justify the judgment of the board of medical examiners in revoking or suspending the license of the petitioner, said superior court shall have full power to annul or reverse said judgment. The words "unprofessional conduct" as used in this act, are hereby declared to mean:

First—The procuring or aiding or abetting or attempting or agreeing or offering to procure a criminal abortion.

Second—The wilful betraying of a professional secret.

Unprofessional conduct
defined.

Third—All advertising of medical business which is intended or has a tendency to deceive the public or impose upon credulous or ignorant persons, and so be harmful or injurious to public morals or safety.

Fourth—All advertising of any medicine or of any means whereby the monthly periods of women can be regulated or the menses reestablished if suppressed.

Fifth—Conviction of any offense involving moral turpitude in which case the record of such conviction shall be conclusive evidence.

Sixth—Habitual intemperance or excessive use of cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, alpha eucaine, beta eucaine, novocaine or chloral hydrate or any of the salts, derivatives or compounds of the foregoing substances or the prescribing, selling, furnishing, giving away or offering to prescribe, sell, furnish, or give away such substances to a habitue who is not under the direct personal and continuous treatment and care of the physician for the cure of the above mentioned drugs.

Seventh—The personation of another licensed practitioner or permitting or allowing another person to use his certificate in the practice of any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted.

Seventh (a)—Employing directly or indirectly any suspended or unlicensed practitioner in the practice of any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted or the aiding or abetting any unlicensed person to practice any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted.

Eighth—The use, by the holder of any certificate, in any sign or advertisement in connection with his said practice or in any advertisement or announcement of his practice, of any fictitious name, or any name other than his own.

Ninth—The use, by the holder of a "drugless practitioner certificate" of drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations, in or upon any human being, or the severing or penetrating by the holder of said "drugless practitioner certificate" of the tissues of any human being in the treatment of any disease, injury, deformity, or other physical or mental condition of such human being, excepting the severing of the umbilical cord.

Tenth—Advertising, announcing or stating, directly, indirectly, or in substance, by any sign, card, newspaper, advertisement or other written or printed sign or advertisement, that the holder of such certificate or any other person, company, or association by which he is employed or in whose service he is, will cure or attempt to cure, or will treat, any venereal disease, or will cure or attempt to cure or treat any person or persons for any sexual disease, for lost manhood, sexual weakness, or sexual disorder or any disease of the sexual organs; or being employed by, or being in the service of, any person, firm, association, or corporation so advertising, announcing or stating.

Eleventh—The use by the holder of any certificate of any letter, letters, word, words, or term or terms used either as prefix or affix or suffix indicating that such certificate holder is entitled to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted for which he was not licensed in the State of California.

Twelfth—The employment of “cappers” or “steerers” or other persons in procuring practice for a practitioner for a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted provided for in this act.

Thirteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked when it appears to the satisfaction of the board that in any case or cases that the licentiate may have treated, that due caution and circumspection was not used or that the holder of said certificate in its treatment of any case or cases had not used proper aseptic and antiseptic precautions.

Fourteenth—The certificate to practice midwifery herein may be revoked upon conviction for the violation of any health statute, order or ordinance or for the neglect or refusal to comply with the health rules and regulations of any state, county, city and county, city or township.

Fifteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the treatment by any midwife in any case of labor in which case there is a complicated vertex presentation in which said licentiate did not call or attempt to call a licentiate licensed to practice a system including the practice of obstetrics under this act or any preceding medical practice act in this state.

Sixteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for a failure to refer to a licentiate under this act or any preceding act in the State of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case which during pregnancy has, or develops any of the following conditions: a contracted pelvis or other deformity that will interfere with labor; bleeding from the uterus; swelling of the face and hands; excessive vomiting; persistent headache; dimness of vision; convulsions; or for failure to call or summons a physician if any of the following conditions exist or develop at the beginning of or during labor: Complicated presentation of a vertex (head); convulsions, excessive bleeding; prolapse of the cord; a swelling or tumor that obstructs the birth of the child; signs of exhaustion or collapse; unduly prolonged labor; or the failure to refer to a licentiate in this act or any preceding act in this State of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case, which during the lying-in period, develops the following conditions: Convulsions; excessive bleeding; foul smelling discharges (lochia); persistent rise of temperature to one hundred one degrees Fahrenheit for twenty-four hours; swelling and redness of the breasts; severe chill (rigor) with rise of temperature; inability to nurse the child; or for failure to refer to a licentiate under this act or any preceding act in the State of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case where the child has or develops any of the following conditions: Deformities or malformations or injuries; inability to suckle or nurse; inflammation around or discharge from the navel; swelling and redness of the eyelids with a discharge of pus from the eyes (ophthalmia neonatorum); bleeding from the mouth, navel or bowels, inability to urinate.

Seventeenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the treatment by the said midwife licentiate known as the introduction of the hand into the vagina or uterus to remove placenta or membranes.

Eighteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the failure to have the following equipment (in each case): Nail brush; wooden or bone nail cleaner; jar of green or soft castile soap; rubber gloves; tube of sterile vaseline; clinical thermometer; agate or glass douche reservoir; two rounded vaginal douche nozzles; two rectal nozzles, large and small; one soft rubber catheter; blunt scissors for cutting cord; either lysol, carbolic acid or bichloride of mercury tablets; borie acid powder; one per cent solution of nitrate of silver; medicine dropper; narrow tape or soft twine for tying cord; absorbent cotton (preferably in one-quarter pound packages); no other instruments are to be used by a midwife.

CHAPTER 599.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for proceedings against and liquidation of delinquent insurance corporations and associations," approved April 30, 1919, by adding thereto a new section to be numbered two a, relating to proceedings against and liquidation of delinquent insurance corporations and associations.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the act entitled "An act to provide for proceedings against and liquidation of delinquent insurance corporations and associations, approved April 30, 1919," to be numbered two a and to read as follows:

Sec. 2a. Whenever it shall appear to the insurance commissioner that any person or corporation has committed any of the acts set forth in paragraph two of this act, and that any officer or attorney in fact of such corporation has embezzled or sequestered or wrongfully diverted to his or its own benefit any of the moneys, assets or securities of such corporation, and that irreparable loss and injury to the property and business of such corporation has or may occur unless the insurance commissioner take immediate charge of the property, business and affairs of such corporation, then and thereupon the insurance commissioner shall forthwith, without notice and before applying to the court for any order as herein provided, seize and take possession of the property and business of such person or corporation, its books, records and accounts and the offices and premises occupied by such corporation for the transaction of its business, and retain possession of the same subject to the order of the court; and for such purpose the insurance commissioner may require the aid of all peace officers to enforce such seizure and possession by the insurance commissioner.

Thereupon the insurance commissioner shall apply to the superior court, or any judge thereof, in the county in which the principal office of such corporation is located for the order provided for in section two of this act, and thereafter shall proceed in such application and in the disposition of the property, business and affairs of said corporation as hereinafter in this act provided.

CHAPTER 600.

An act to provide for the consolidation of districts organized or existing under the California irrigation district act.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Consolidation of irrigation districts.

SECTION 1. Two or more districts organized or existing under the California irrigation district act may be consolidated as in this act provided and when so consolidated, the consolidated district shall possess all of the powers and be governed by and subject to all of the provisions of the California irrigation district act, except as in this act otherwise provided, as though originally organized under said act.

Resolution.

SEC. 2. When in the judgment of the board of directors of an irrigation district it is for the best interest of such district that it be consolidated with one or more other districts organized or existing under said California irrigation district act or when there is presented to said board a petition signed by signers equal in numbers to and possessing the qualifications required by said California irrigation district act for a petition for the organization of a district, said board must pass a resolution reciting such facts and declaring the advisability of such consolidation and its willingness to consolidate and forward a copy thereof to the state engineer.

SEC. 3. Upon the receipt of the certified copy of such resolution adopted by two or more of such districts the state engineer shall forthwith make or cause to be made such investigation as he may deem necessary. Investigation by state engineer.

SEC. 4. Upon the completion of such examination but not more than ninety (90) days after the receipt by him of a copy of the resolution from the board last adopting the same the state engineer shall submit to the board of directors of each of said districts his report thereon. Report by state engineer.

In case said state engineer shall consider the elimination of a portion of the lands included in any of the original districts advisable, he shall recommend the same in his said report, stating his reasons therefor. He shall also set out the boundaries of the consolidated district recommended and the divisions into which it is to be divided, the same being five in number.

If any of said lands so eliminated have never received water from the original district in which it was included, the owners thereof shall be entitled to the return of all assessments theretofore paid upon same. If any of said lands have theretofore received water, the said state engineer shall recommend in his said report the portion, if any, of said assessments to the return of which the respective owners are equitably entitled.

Within ten (10) days after receiving said report, if the state engineer deems such consolidation desirable, the board of directors of each of said districts must make an order calling a special election at which shall be submitted to the electors of such district possessing the qualifications prescribed by the California irrigation district act the question whether or not said consolidation shall be effected, which said election shall be conducted so far as practicable in accordance with the requirements for the election of officers provided in said act. Notice of such election shall be given for the time and in the manner provided for notice of special elections for the issuance of bonds in said California irrigation district act. The ballots shall contain the words "Consolidation—Yes" and "Consolidation—No," or words equivalent thereto, and if a majority of the votes cast in each district are "Consolidation—Yes," then such districts shall be consolidated. Election.

At such election there shall also be elected the directors and other officers of the consolidated district who shall be nominated and voted for as provided upon the organization of a district.

SEC. 6. After receiving said report, if the said engineer deems such consolidation not desirable, or if no report is received from said engineer within ninety (90) days after the submission to him of said copy of said resolution from the board last adopting the same, said boards of directors, if they each shall determine and declare by resolution that the proposed consolidation is desirable, shall each make an order calling a If engineer reports unfavorably.

special election in the same manner as provided in section five hereof, which said election shall be conducted in the same manner and upon the same notice as provided therein.

Officers.

SEC. 7. In the original resolution of consolidation the boards of directors of the several districts shall specify the offices agreed upon for the consolidated district and upon the voters of said districts consolidating said districts as herein provided, the directors and other officers then elected shall thereupon become the officers of such consolidated district and shall qualify and organize in the manner provided for a newly organized district.

Apportionment of indebtedness.

SEC. 8. The report of the said engineer shall recommend the apportionment to the lands of the respective districts any outstanding indebtedness as he deems equitable, and the board of directors of the consolidated district, if such consolidation be made, shall within sixty (60) days after such consolidation act upon such recommendation and shall apportion to the lands of the said consolidated district any outstanding indebtedness as it deems equitable.

Name of district.

SEC. 9. In the original resolution of consolidation the said boards of directors of the several districts shall specify the name agreed upon for the said consolidated district, and if such consolidation is adopted at such election, then said consolidation shall be effective and such consolidated district, under the said name, shall succeed to all of the rights, privileges and properties of all of the districts participating in such consolidation and shall be subject to all of the indebtedness, bonded and otherwise, thereof, as so respectively apportioned, and all future assessments necessary shall be levied in accordance with such apportionment.

Order declaring consolidation effective.

Within ten days after said consolidation is made, the board of directors of said consolidated district shall make an order declaring such consolidation effective and setting out the date that same became effective and the boundaries of said consolidated district. A copy of said order, duly certified by the president and secretary thereof, shall be forthwith filed for record in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any lands of said district are situate.

CHAPTER 601.

An act to amend section two of an act entitled "An act to provide for a general system, based upon investigation as to merit, efficiency and fitness, for appointment to and holding during good behavior of office and employment under state authority and, in that behalf, to create a state civil service commission, to prescribe its powers and duties, to make the wilful violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith in so far as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 16, 1913, as amended.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act to provide for a general system, based upon investigation as to merit, efficiency and fitness, for appointment to and holding during good behavior of office and employment under state authority and, in that behalf, to create a state civil service commission, to prescribe its powers and duties, to make the wilful violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith in so far as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 16, 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. There is hereby created a commission known as the "state civil service commission" which shall consist of three commissioners one of whom shall be the executive member and the other two shall be associate members, each of which members shall be appointed by the governor for the term of four years from the expiration of the respective terms of the members in office at the time this amendatory act takes effect. Vacancies shall be filled by appointments by the governor for the unexpired terms. Any commissioner may be removed by concurrent resolution of both houses of the legislature adopted by a two-thirds vote of each house. The member appointed to the position of executive member of said commission shall be ex officio president of the commission. He shall receive as compensation for his service the sum of four thousand dollars per annum and devote all his time to the duties of his office, which shall be maintained at the city of Sacramento. Each of the associate members of said commission shall receive as compensation for their services ten dollars per day while actually engaged in the duties of their office, not to exceed five hundred dollars each in any one year. All members of the commission shall receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. The total and items of all expenditures and obligations made, authorized and incurred by the commission shall not exceed the sums appropriated therefor by law. The names "commission" and "commissioners" as used in the act of which this is amendatory shall be construed to mean the executive head of the commission except that, in relation to the enactment of rules and regulations, the classifications and exemptions of places of employment and the dismissals from the public service, the votes of two members of the commis-

An act to add a new article to chapter three of title one of part three of the Political Code, to be numbered article two, embracing sections three hundred forty-eight to three hundred fifty-nine a, both inclusive, relating to public officers and employees.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Political Code is hereby amended by adding a new article to chapter three of title one of part three thereof, to be numbered article two, embracing sections three hundred forty-eight to three hundred fifty-nine a, both inclusive, and to read as follows:

ARTICLE II.

Governor to create administrative departments.

348. It is the policy of this state to vest in the governor the civil administration of the laws of the state and for the purpose of aiding the governor in the execution and administration of the laws to divide the executive and administrative work into departments as provided by law.

department.

349. Each department, when created, shall be conducted under the control of an officer or body as head thereof. Unless otherwise expressly provided in the constitution or in any act creating a new department, or amendatory thereof, the officer or body at the head of each department, and all members of boards created by law thereunder, shall be appointed by the governor, to hold office at his pleasure. Each department shall maintain its office at Sacramento and shall adopt and keep an official seal.

department.

350. The head of each department, subject to the approval of the governor, shall have power to arrange and classify the work of the department and to consolidate, abolish, or create divisions thereof. So far as consistent with law the head of each department may adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary, to govern the activities of the department and may assign to each of the officers and employees thereof such duties and labors as he may see fit. And he may, from time to time for the betterment of the public service, reassign to any and all employees under the chief of any division, such duties as he may see.

351. Except as otherwise provided by law, each division of a department shall be in charge of a chief who shall be appointed by the head of the department and receive such compensation as may be fixed by law. When a new division is created and a new chief appointed the salary of the chief shall be fixed by the governor until fixed by the legislature, such salary not to exceed the compensation paid for like services. The head of each department shall with the approval of the governor, except as otherwise provided by law, have power to appoint such chiefs, assistants, deputies, agents, experts, and other employees as are necessary for the administration of the affairs of the department, to prescribe their duties and to fix their salaries in accordance with classifications made by the civil service commission; provided, however, that the head of a department shall have no authority on the part of the state to incur obligations for salaries exceeding the amount of moneys made available by law for that purpose. The chiefs of divisions, assistants, deputies, agents, experts and other employees of a department shall execute to the state such official bonds as the head of the department may determine and require unless otherwise expressly provided by law. In each department the head of the department and the chief of each division and one position of a confidential nature under the head of each department, shall be exempt from the provisions of the civil service law. The head of each department and all chiefs of divisions, deputies and secretaries, of a department, shall be civil executive officers.

Chiefs of divisions.

352. All heads of departments, chiefs of divisions, assistants, deputies, agents, experts and other employees of a department shall be entitled to receive in addition to their salaries, their actual necessary traveling expenses when away from their headquarters on state business. Except as otherwise expressly provided by any act creating a new department, the members of no state board or commission which is created or continued in force by such act, shall receive any compensation for their services, but they shall be allowed necessary expenses incurred in the performance of duty.

Traveling expenses.

353. The head of each department may make investigations and prosecute actions concerning all matters relating to the business activities and subjects under the jurisdiction of the department, violations of any law, or the rules or orders of the department, and concerning such other matters as may be provided by law. In connection therewith he shall have the right to inspect books and records and to hear complaints, administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding pertinent or material thereto in any part of the state.

Prosecution of actions.

In any hearing in any part of the state the process issued by the head of a department shall extend to all parts of the state and may be served by any person authorized to serve process of courts of record or by any person designated for that purpose by the head of the department. The person serving any such process may receive such compensation as may be allowed by the head of the department not to exceed the fees prescribed by law for similar service, and such fees shall be paid in the same manner as provided herein for the payment of the fees of witnesses. Each witness who shall appear by order of the head of a department, other than an officer or employee of the state or any political subdivision thereof, shall receive for his attendance the same fees, and all witnesses shall receive the same mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed. To the same extent, when any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party shall be subpoenaed by the head of a department his fees and mileage shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the department in the same manner as other expenses of the department are paid.

Service of process.

Superior court to compel attendance of witnesses, etc.

The superior court in and for the county in which any hearing may be held under the direction of the head of a department shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, books, accounts and documents as required by any subpoena issued by the head. In case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena the head of the department may report to the superior court in and for the county in which the hearing is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this article, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by subpoena before the officer in the cause or proceeding named in the subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such investigation or hearing, and ask an order of said court compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the officer named in the subpoena. The court upon the filing of the petition shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended or testified or produced said papers as required. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the head of the department, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the officer named in the subpoena at the time and place fixed in said order and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

Deposition of witnesses.

The head of a department may in any matter pending before him cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken by causing a petition to be filed in the superior court in the county of Sacramento reciting the nature of the matter pending, the name and residence of the witness whose testimony is desired, and asking that an order be made requiring the witness to appear and testify before an officer named in the petition for that purpose. Upon the filing of the petition the court may make an order requiring such witness to appear and testify in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state. To that end and in the same manner the superior courts may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, and documents, and, in the same manner, may punish for contempt.

Any party to any such hearing shall have the right to the attendance of witnesses. Attendance of witnesses.
 deposition as set forth in this section upon making request therefor to the head of the department and designating the person or persons sought to be subpoenaed, and by depositing with the officer before whom such hearing is to be had the necessary fees and mileage.

A witness is not obliged to attend as a witness in any matter under this section at a place out of the county in which he resides, unless the distance be less than fifty miles from his place of residence. The powers conferred upon the head of a department by the provisions of this section may be exercised with like force and effect by such officers of the department as the head thereof may authorize and designate to conduct any such investigation or hearing; provided, however, that except in his report to the head of the department, or when called upon to testify in any court or proceeding at law, any such officer who shall divulge any information acquired by him from the private books, documents or papers of any person, firm or corporation, while acting or claiming to act under any such authorization or designation, in respect to the confidential or private transactions, property or business of any person, firm, or corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be disqualified from acting in any official capacity in the department.

354. The head of each department shall make a report to the biennial reports.
 governor at least sixty days before the commencement of each biennial session of the legislature. Such report shall give an account of all matters pertaining to the department, together with any recommendations, and shall specifically set forth a statement of expenditures made by the department during the period up to and including the thirtieth day of June preceding said session. There shall also be set forth in such report a statement of the organization plan of the department, together with the number and classes of officers and employees in the department and the compensation paid the same.

355. The attorney general shall be the legal adviser of each department in all matters relating to the department and to the powers and duties of its officers. Upon request of the head Attorney general legal adviser.

of a department, the attorney general, or under his direction, the district attorney of any county in which the proceeding is brought, shall aid in any investigation, hearing, prosecution or trial had under the laws which the department is required to administer, and shall institute and prosecute all necessary actions or proceedings for the enforcement of such law and for the punishment of all violations thereof. The sheriffs and constables in the several counties shall execute all lawful orders of a department in such counties.

Assistance to other departments.

356. Each department shall furnish to each other department upon written request therefor, approved by the civil service commission, such assistance as it may render without detriment to the administration of such department, including the deputizing of agents and inspectors, when consistent with law, and the temporary reassignment of employees when the same will tend to eliminate duplication or expense.

When
department succeeds to duties of state
board.

357. Whenever a department succeeds to and is vested with the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction of a state board, commission, office, officer, deputy, employee or employment, the name or designation of such board, commission, office, officer, deputy, employee or employment and of the several members, officers, deputies and employees thereof, when used in any statute or law now in force or that may hereafter be enacted, such name or designation shall be construed to mean and refer to said department, the same as though the title of the department had been specifically set forth and named in said statute or law.

department
is invested with enforcement of
law.

358. Whenever a department is invested with the power and is charged with the duty of administering and enforcing any statute or law which imposes a duty or jurisdiction or confers an authority upon any state board, commission, office, officer, deputy or employee, to administer the provisions thereof, such duty, jurisdiction and authority are hereby imposed upon and transferred to said department and the officers, deputies and employees thereof with the same force and effect as if the name of said department occurred in said statute or law in each instance in lieu of the name of such board, commission, office or officer, or in lieu of the name of any member, officer, deputy or employee thereof, as the case may be.

Existing obligations
and penalties
not affected.

359. Every person and corporation shall be subject to the same obligations and duties, and shall have the same rights arising from the exercise of such rights, powers and duties as if such rights, powers and duties were exercised by the state board, commission, office, officer, deputy or employee designated in the respective laws which are to be administered by departments created in conformity with this article. Every person and corporation shall be subject to the same penalty or penalties, civil or criminal, for failure to perform any such obligations, or duty, or for doing a prohibited act as if such obligation or duty arose from or was prohibited in the exercise of such rights, powers or duties by the state board, commission, office, officer, deputy or employee, designated in the respective laws which are to be administered by any such department. Every officer, deputy and employee shall for any offense be subject to the same penalty or penalties, civil or criminal, as are prescribed by existing law for the same offense by any officer, deputy or employee whose powers or duties are devolved upon him under any act creating a new department. Neither this act nor any act creating a new department shall affect any act done, ratified, or confirmed, or any right accrued or established, or any offense committed, or any action or proceeding had or commenced in a civil or criminal cause before this or any such other act takes effect; but such right may be enforced, offenses punished and actions or proceedings prosecuted and continued by the department having or acquiring jurisdiction of the subject matter to which such litigation or proceeding pertains, with the same force and effect as if said transfer of such rights, powers, duties, responsibilities and jurisdiction had not been made to the department.

359a. The civil service standing of each of the officers and employees as are taken over and reemployed by the department shall be observed under such reclassifications as shall hereafter be made by the civil service commission for the purpose of preserving such standing. But nothing herein shall be construed to require any department to retain in the public service any unnecessary officers or employes.

CHAPTER 603.

An act to add a new article to chapter three of title one of part three of the Political Code, to be numbered article two a, embracing sections three hundred sixty to three hundred sixty g, both inclusive, relating to a department of finance.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Political Code is hereby amended by adding a new article to chapter three of title one of part three thereof, to be numbered article two a, embracing sections three hundred sixty to three hundred sixty g, and to read as follows:

ARTICLE II*a*.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE.

Department
of finance created.

360. A department of the government of the State of California to be known as the department of finance is hereby created. The department shall be under the control of a governing body, as hereinafter prescribed. Except as in this article otherwise prescribed, the provisions of article two of this chapter, title and part of the Political Code as adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature, and as the same may be amended from time to time shall govern and apply to the conduct of the department of finance in every respect the same as if such provisions were herein set forth at length, and wherever in said article two, the term "head of the department," "head of a department," or similar designation occurs, the same shall, for the purposes of this article, mean the governing body of the department of finance.

Organization.

Divisions.

360*a*. For the purpose of administration the department shall be forthwith organized by the governing body or head thereof, subject to the approval of the governor, in such manner as it shall deem necessary to properly segregate and conduct the work of the department. The work of the department is hereby divided into at least six divisions, to be known respectively as the division of claims and disbursements, the division of budgets and accounts, the division of purchases and custody, the division of printing, the division of motor vehicles, and the division of libraries. The governing body or head of the department, subject to the approval of the governor, may create such other divisions and subdivisions as may be necessary, and change or abolish the same from time to time, subject to the approval of the governor.

divisions.

360*b*. The divisions of claims and disbursements, of budgets and accounts, and of purchases and custody, shall each be in charge of a chief to be known respectively as chief of the division of claims and disbursements, chief of the division of budgets and accounts, and chief of the division of purchases and custody.

The chief of the division of printing shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and before entering upon the duties of his office he shall execute an official bond to the State of California in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars; the chief of the division of motor vehicles shall receive an annual salary of three thousand six hundred dollars, and before entering upon the duties of his office he shall execute an official bond to the State of California in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars; the chief of the division of libraries, who shall be known as "state librarian," shall be a technically trained librarian and shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and before entering upon the duties of his office he shall execute an official bond to the State of California in the penal sum of three thousand dollars.

360c. The state board of control shall constitute the governing body, or head, of the department of finance, and the chairman of the board of control shall be chairman of said governing body. One member shall be chief of the division of claims and disbursements, one shall be chief of the division of budgets and accounts, and one shall be chief of the division of purchases and custody, as may be designated by the governor. For their services as chiefs of divisions they shall receive no compensation other than that allowed to them by law as members of the board of control. A majority of the members of the governing body of the department shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, for the performance of any duty or for the exercise of any power of the department. Said governing body shall assign to each of the chiefs of divisions such duties as may be necessary to effectively carry out the purposes of this article. No vacancies in the governing body of the department shall impair the right of the remaining members to exercise all the powers thereof. The governing body of the department may provide for the approval of all claims against the state by one of the members thereof, and the endorsement thereon of such member shall be sufficient. With the approval of the governor the governing body may from time to time waive or re-establish the requirement for the preauditing of contracts for purchase of supplies and materials prescribed by section six hundred eighty-three of the Political Code. Said governing body shall act as a whole in the final determination of the state budget, which shall be prepared by the chief of the division of budgets and accounts.

360d. The department of finance shall succeed to and is hereby vested with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction of the state board of control, department of public accounting, children's agents, state purchasing department, superintendent of capitol buildings and grounds, board of trustees of the state burial grounds, board of Colton hall trustees, board of Monterey custom house trustees, board of Pio Pico mansion trustees, board of Sutter's fort trustees, capitol planning commission, superintendent of state printing, motor vehicle department of California, superintendent of the motor vehicle department of California, board of trustees of the state library, and state librarian, and of the several officers, deputies and employees of such bodies and offices; and, except as herein otherwise provided, whenever by the provisions of any statute or law now in force or that may hereafter be enacted, a duty or jurisdiction is imposed or authority conferred upon any of said bodies, offices, officers, deputies or employees, such duty, jurisdiction and authority are hereby imposed upon and transferred to the department of finance with the same force and effect as though the title of the department of finance had been specifically set forth and

named therein, in lieu of the name of any such board, commission, office, officer, deputy, or employee thereof, as the case may be.

Terms designating boards to refer to department.

For the purposes of this article, the terms "state board of control," "department of public accounting," "children's agents," "state purchasing department," "superintendent of capitol building and grounds," "board of trustees of the state burial grounds," "board of Colton hall trustees," "board of Monterey custom house trustees," "board of Pio Pico mansion trustees," "board of Sutter's fort trustees," "capitol planning commission," "superintendent of state printing," "deputy superintendent of state printing," "motor vehicle department of California," "superintendent of the motor vehicle department of California," "board of trustees of the state library," and "state librarian," or similar designations, and of the several members, officers or employes of such bodies and offices, when used in any statute or law now in force, or that may hereafter be enacted, such name or designation shall be construed to mean and refer to the "department of finance," the same as though the title of the department of finance had been specifically set forth and named therein.

Bodies and offices abolished.

The following named bodies and offices and the positions of all deputies, officers and employes thereunder, are and each of them is hereby abolished and shall have no further legal existence: State children's agents, department of public accounting, state purchasing department, superintendent of capitol building and grounds, board of trustees of the state burial grounds, board of Colton hall trustees, board of Pio Pico mansion trustees, board of Sutter's fort trustees, capitol planning commission, superintendent of state printing, motor vehicle department of California, superintendent of the motor vehicle department of California, board of trustees of the state library, state librarian, and the positions of all deputies, officers and employes under the state board of control; provided, however, that the statutes and laws under which they existed and all laws prescribing their duties, powers, purposes and responsibilities and jurisdiction together with all lawful rules and regulations established thereunder, are hereby expressly continued in force.

All other bodies, offices and officers mentioned in this section shall continue in existence with the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction elsewhere in this article prescribed.

Records, etc.

360e. The department of finance shall also be in possession and control of all records, books, papers, offices, equipment, supplies, moneys, funds, appropriations, land and other property, real or personal, now or hereafter held for the benefit or use of all of said bodies, offices and officers mentioned in this article, and the title to all property now or hereafter held by any of said bodies, offices or officers, for the use and Title to property.

benefit of the state is hereby transferred to the State of California to be held in the possession of said department.

360f. The department of finance is hereby invested with the power, and is charged with the duty of administering and enforcing the act entitled, "An act to authorize the state board of fish and game commissioners to prepare and maintain free camping grounds on land in Placer county belonging to the State of California, and to adopt and enforce regulations pertaining thereto," approved May 13, 1919, and all other laws now or hereafter imposing any duty, power or function upon any of the bodies, offices, officers, deputies or employes herein transferred to said department.

In charge of Tahoe camping grounds.

360g. From and after the date upon which this act takes effect, the department of finance shall be and is hereby authorized and empowered to expend the moneys in any appropriation or in any special fund in the state treasury now remaining or made available by law for the administration of the provisions of all the statutes the administration of which is committed to the department, or for the use, support, or maintenance of any board, commission, office or officer whose duties, powers, and functions are, by the provisions of this article, transferred to and conferred upon the department of finance.

CHAPTER 604.

An act to add a new article to chapter three of title one of part three of the Political Code, to be numbered article two e, embracing sections three hundred sixty-four to three hundred sixty-four d, both inclusive, relating to a department of labor and industrial relations.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Political Code is hereby amended by adding a new article to chapter three of title one of part three thereof, to be numbered article two e, embracing sections three hundred sixty-four to three hundred sixty-four d, and to read as follows:

ARTICLE IIe.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS.

364. A department of the government of the State of California to be known as the department of labor and industrial relations is hereby created. The department shall consist of the following governmental agencies of the State of California, to wit: the industrial accident commission, the commission of immigration and housing, the industrial welfare commission and the bureau of labor statistics. Said department shall be divided into four divisions as follows:

Division of workmen's compensation.

(1) The division of workmen's compensation insurance and safety, which shall be administered by the industrial accident commission and shall succeed to and is hereby invested with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction now or hereafter conferred by law upon the industrial accident commission.

Division of immigration
and housing.

(2) The division of immigration and housing, which division shall be administered by the commission of immigration and housing and shall succeed to and is hereby invested with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction now or hereafter conferred by law upon the commission of immigration and housing.

Division
of industrial welfare.

(3) The division of industrial welfare, which division shall be administered by the industrial welfare commission and shall succeed to and is hereby invested with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction now or hereafter conferred by law upon the industrial welfare commission.

Division
of labor.

(4) The division of labor, which division shall be administered by the commissioner of labor statistics and shall succeed to and is hereby invested with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction now or hereafter conferred by law upon the commissioner of labor statistics and the bureau of labor statistics.

and industrial relations.

364a. On or before the first day of October, 1921, and on or before the first day of January of each and every year thereafter and at such other times in case of a vacancy, each of divisions one, two and three shall designate one of its members as its representative on the department of labor and industrial relations; and the chief of the division of labor shall be the representative of the division of labor. Such representatives shall meet at a place to be designated by them at least once each month or oftener at the call of any two members. At their first meeting which shall be held during the month of October, 1921, they shall organize by electing one member as chairman and one as secretary. It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep a minute record of the proceedings of each meeting.

At each meeting of the department there shall be presented for determination all problems, involving conflict of authority or activity of two or more divisions and the department shall hear, consider, and act upon any complaint or complaints of duplication of activities.

Rules governing
divisions.

364b. The said department of labor and industrial relations shall make and promulgate rules and regulations that will eliminate overlapping and duplication of the activities of the several divisions and may provide for the transfer of functions and activities from one division to another in the interest of the betterment of the service of such division or divisions.

364c. From and after the date upon which this act takes effect, the funds now made, or which hereafter may be made available for the support of the industrial accident commission shall be transferred to the division of workmen's compensation insurance and safety; the funds now made, or which may hereafter be made available for the support of the commission of immigration and housing shall be transferred to the division of immigration and housing; the funds now made, or which may hereafter be made, available for the support of the industrial welfare commission shall be transferred to the division of industrial welfare; the funds now made, or which may hereafter be made available for the support of the commissioner of labor statistics and the bureau of labor statistics shall be transferred to the division of labor; provided, however, that the department of industrial relations may by majority vote, and with the approval of the state board of control, transfer moneys from one division to another in such amounts as the department may determine to be necessary, to pay the cost and expenses of performing or carrying out any duty or activity so transferred.

Transfer of funds.

364d. The department of labor and industrial relations shall submit a report to the governor and to the forty-fifth session of the legislature embodying a complete plan of reorganization and departmentalization of the activities herein mentioned.

Report on reorganization.

CHAPTER 605.

An act to add a new article to chapter three of title one of part three of the Political Code, to be numbered article two c, embracing sections three hundred sixty-two to three hundred sixty-two c, both inclusive, relating to a department of education.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Political Code is hereby amended by adding a new article to chapter three of title one of part three thereof, to be numbered article two c, embracing sections three hundred sixty-two to three hundred sixty-two c, and to read as follows:

ARTICLE IIc.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION.

362. A department of the government of the State of California to be known as the department of education is hereby created. The department shall be conducted under the control of an executive officer to be known as director of education, which office is hereby created. The state superintendent of public instruction shall be ex officio director of education. Except as otherwise in this article prescribed, the provisions of article two of this chapter, title and part of the Political Code, as adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature and as the same may be amended from time to time, shall govern and apply to the conduct of the department of education in every respect the same as if such provisions were herein set forth at length, and wherever in said article two the term "head of the department," "head of a department," or similar designation occurs, the same shall, for the purposes of this article, mean the director of education.

362a. The work of the department is hereby divided into at least two divisions to be known as:

Division
of textbooks, certification,
and trust
funds.

1. Division of textbooks, certification and trust funds, to be in charge of the state board of education, which board is hereby continued in force with all the powers and functions heretofore conferred upon it by law and the members thereof shall receive the compensation now allowed by law. In addition, said board is hereby vested with certain powers and functions, elsewhere in this article mentioned, in respect to the conduct of normal school or teachers' colleges and special schools.

Division
of normal
and special schools.

2. Division of normal and special schools, to perform the functions heretofore conferred by law upon the boards of trustees of the several state normal schools or teachers' colleges, the California Polytechnic School and the California School for the Deaf and the Blind, to be in charge of the director of education for purposes of administration; provided, however, that the principal or president of the faculty of each such school shall be appointed by the director of education subject to the approval of the state board of education. The other members of the teaching staff of each such school and all officers and employees thereof shall be appointed by the director of education subject to the approval of the state board of education only upon recommendation of said principal or president, except that temporary appointments may be made by director of education to remain in force until the next meeting of the board of education. The state board of education is also invested with all the powers conferred by law on the boards of trustees of the several state normal schools or teachers' colleges in so far as they relate to the enactment of rules and regulations and to the revocation of diplomas.

Powers
department.

362b. The department of education shall succeed to and is hereby invested with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction of the state board of education, boards of trustees of the several state normal schools, or teachers' colleges board of trustees of the California Polytechnic School, board of directors of the California School for the Deaf and the Blind, and of the several officers, deputies and employees of such bodies and offices; and, except as herein otherwise provided, whenever by the provisions of any statute or law now in force or that may hereafter be enacted a duty or jurisdiction is imposed or authority conferred upon any of said bodies, offices, officers, deputies or employees, such duty, jurisdiction and authority are hereby imposed upon and transferred to the department of education with the same force and effect as though the title of the department of education had been specifically set forth and named therein.

The department of education shall be in possession and control of all records, books, papers, offices, equipment, supplies, moneys, funds, appropriations, land and other property, real or personal, now or hereafter held for the benefit or use of said bodies, offices and officers whose duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction are transferred to and vested in the department of education.

362c. The following named bodies and offices and the positions of all deputies, officers and employees thereunder are and each of them is hereby abolished: the boards of trustees of the several state normal schools, or teachers' colleges of the California Polytechnic School, and of the California School for the Deaf and the Blind; but the statutes and laws under which they existed, and all laws prescribing their duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction, together with all lawful rules and regulations established thereunder, are hereby expressly continued in force; provided, however, that the presidents, principals, officers, and employees of the respective normal and special schools in office when this act becomes effective shall continue to serve their respective terms or contracts of employment unless removed for cause.

Bodies and offices
abolished.

362d. The department of education is hereby invested with the power and is charged with the duty of administering and enforcing all laws now or hereafter imposing any duty, power or function upon any of the bodies, offices, officers, deputies or employees herein transferred to said department.

Enforcement
of laws.

362e. From and after the date upon which this act takes effect, the department shall be and is hereby authorized and empowered to expend the moneys in any appropriation or in any special fund in the state treasury now remaining or made available by law for the administration of the provisions of any of the statutes enumerated in this article or for the use, support, or maintenance of any board, commission, office or officer that is abolished by the provisions of this article and whose duties, powers and functions are, by the provisions of this article, transferred to and conferred upon the department of education; provided, however, that the funds of the state board of education in respect to functions retained by it, including such funds as are now or hereafter may be entrusted to said board for administration, and the funds of the superintendent of public instruction shall be administered as heretofore.

Expendi-
department.

CHAPTER 606.

An act to add a new article to chapter three of title one of part three of the Political Code, to be numbered article two b, embracing sections three hundred sixty-one to three hundred sixty-one d, both inclusive, relating to a department of agriculture.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Political Code is hereby amended by adding a new article to chapter three of title one of part three thereof, to be numbered article two b, embracing sections three hundred sixty-one to three hundred sixty-one e, and to read as follows:

ARTICLE IIb.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

agriculture.

361. A department of the government of the State of California to be known as the department of agriculture is hereby created. The department shall be conducted under the control of an executive officer to be known as director of agriculture, which office is hereby created. The director shall be appointed by and hold office at the pleasure of the governor, and shall receive a salary of five thousand dollars per annum. Before entering upon the duties of his office, the director shall execute an official bond to the State of California in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. Except as otherwise in this article prescribed, the provisions of article two of this chapter, title and part of the Political Code, as adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature and as the same may be amended from time to time, shall govern and apply to the conduct of the department of agriculture in every respect the same as if such provisions were herein set forth at length.

Divisions.

361a. For the purpose of administration, the department shall be forthwith organized by the director in such manner as, with the approval of the governor, shall be deemed necessary to properly segregate and conduct the work of the department. The work of the department shall be organized into at least five divisions to be known respectively as the division of plant industry, the division of agricultural chemistry, the division of animal industry, the division of markets, and the division of weights and measures. The director, with the approval of the governor, may create such other divisions and subdivisions as may be necessary, and change or abolish the same from time to time with the approval of the governor. The director shall act as chief of one of the divisions without additional compensation. The chief of the division of agricultural chemistry shall receive an annual salary of four thousand dollars; the chief of the division of animal industry shall receive an annual salary of four thousand dollars; the chief of the division of plant industry shall receive an annual salary of four thousand dollars; the chief of the division of markets shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and the chief of the division of weights and measures shall receive an annual salary of four thousand dollars.

361b. The department of agriculture except as in this act otherwise provided shall succeed to and is hereby invested with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction of the state commissioner of horticulture, state board of horticultural examiners, state dairy bureau, state veterinarian, stallion registration board, state board of viticultural commissioners, board of citrus fruit shipments, cattle protection board, state superintendent of weights and measures, state market director, state market commission, and of the several officers, deputies and employees of such bodies and offices; and, whenever by the provisions of any statute or law now in force or that may hereafter be enacted a duty or jurisdiction is imposed or authority conferred upon any of said bodies, offices, deputies, or employees, or upon any other person by any statute, the enforcement of which is transferred to the department, such duty, jurisdiction and authority are hereby imposed upon and transferred to the department of agriculture and the appropriate officers thereof with the same force and effect as though the title of said department of agriculture had been specifically set forth and named therein; in lieu of the names of any such board, commission, office, officer, deputy or employee thereof as the case may be. Said bodies and offices, the duties, powers, purposes and responsibilities of which are so transferred to and vested in the department of agriculture and the positions of all officers, deputies and employees thereunder are and each of them is hereby abolished and shall have no further legal existence, but the statutes and laws under which they existed and all laws prescribing their duties, powers, purposes and responsibilities and jurisdiction together with all lawful rules and regulations established thereunder, are hereby expressly continued in force. The department of agriculture shall also be in possession and control of all records, books, papers, offices, equipment, supplies, moneys, funds, appropriations, land and other property, real or personal, now or hereafter held for the benefit or use of said bodies, offices and officers.

361c. The department of agriculture is hereby invested with the power and is charged with the duty of administering and enforcing the following laws.

To act to regulate the sale of commercial fertilizers or materials used for manurial purposes, and to provide penalties for the infractions thereof, and means for the enforcement of the act, approved March 20, 1903, and all acts amending or supplementing said act;

An act to prevent the propagation by the production of seed of that certain plant known as Sorghum halepense, otherwise known as Johnson grass, approved March 20, 1903, and all acts amending or supplementing said act;

An act to regulate the manufacture, sale, adulteration and misbranding of insecticides or fungicides or materials used for insecticidal or fungicidal purposes and to provide penalties for the infraction thereof and to appropriate money therefor, approved May 1, 1911, and all acts amending or supplementing said act;

An act to regulate the production of certified milk, cream, ice cream, butter and cheese; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the production of certified milk," approved March 18, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, approved April 25, 1913, and all acts amending or supplementing said act;

An act prohibiting the destruction of foodstuffs, food products or food articles, approved June 5, 1913, and all acts amending or supplementing said act;

And all other laws now or hereafter imposing any duty, power or function upon any of the bodies, offices, officers, deputies or employees herein transferred to said department.

Expenditures by department.

361*d*. From and after the date upon which this act takes effect, the department of agriculture shall be and is hereby authorized and empowered to expend the moneys in any appropriation or in any special fund in the state treasury now remaining or made available by law for the administration of the provisions of all the statutes the administration of which is committed to the department, or for the use, support, or maintenance of any board, commission, office or officer that is abolished by the provisions of this article and whose duties, powers and functions are, by the provisions of this article, transferred to and conferred upon the department of agriculture. Such expenditures by the department shall be made in accordance with law in carrying on the work for which such appropriations were made or such special funds created.

Continuation of existing law.

SEC. 2. This act in so far as it does not add to, take from, or alter an existing law shall be construed as a continuation thereof.

CHAPTER 607.

An act to add a new article to chapter three of title one of part three of the Political Code, to be numbered article two d, embracing sections three hundred sixty-three to three hundred sixty-three h, both inclusive, relating to a department of public works.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Political Code is hereby amended by adding a new article to chapter three of title one of part three thereof, to be numbered article two d, embracing sections three hundred sixty-three to three hundred sixty-three h, and to read as follows:

ARTICLE II d.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS.

363. A department of the government of the State of California to be known as the department of public works is hereby created. The department shall be conducted under the control of an executive officer to be known as the director of public works, which office is hereby created. The director shall be appointed by and hold office at the pleasure of the governor and shall receive a salary of not to exceed ten thousand dollars per annum. The director shall act as chief of the division of highways, without additional compensation. He shall be state highway engineer. Before entering upon the duties of his office, he shall execute an official bond to the State of California in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. Except as otherwise in this title and part of the Political Code as adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature, and as the same may be amended from time to time, shall govern and apply to the article prescribed, the provisions of article two of this chapter, conduct of the department of public works in every respect the same as if such provisions were herein set forth at length. Whenever in said article two the term "head of the department," "head of a department" or similar designation occurs the same shall for the purposes of this article mean the director of public works, except that in respect to matters under the jurisdiction of the California highway commission, such term or designation shall mean said California highway commission.

363a. For the purpose of administration, the department shall be forthwith organized by the director of public works in such manner as with the approval of the governor shall be deemed necessary to properly segregate and conduct the work of the department. The work of the department is hereby divided into at least five divisions to be known respectively as the division of highways, the chief of which division shall be the executive officer of the California highway commission, the division of engineering and irrigation, the division of water rights, the division of land settlement and the division of architecture. The director of public works with the approval of the governor may create such other divisions and subdivisions as may be necessary and change or abolish the same from time to time with the approval of the governor. The chief of the division of engineering and irrigation shall be and is hereby designated as the state engineer and shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars. The chief of the division of water rights shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, the chief of the division of land settlement shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, the chief of the division of architecture shall receive an annual salary of four thousand eight hundred dollars.

Board of
works.

363b. A board of public works is hereby created, to consist of the director of public works and the three members of the California highway commission. Said board shall succeed to the duties and responsibilities of the advisory board to the department of engineering, insofar as they relate to the issuance of highway bonds and to the refunding of interest charges against counties arising out of expenditures of state highway bond proceeds within their respective limits.

Board of review.

363c. For all quasi judicial functions relating to irrigation or water rights the director may appoint a board of three engineers of the department to sit as a board of review or appeal wherever a review or appeal, other than review by or appeal to the courts, is provided for under the laws relating to any of the boards, officers or commissions whose functions are transferred to the department.

California highway commission.

363d. The California highway commission is hereby created to consist of three members to be appointed by and hold office at the pleasure of the governor. Each member is to receive a salary of three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The governor shall designate the chairman of this commission, and shall fill vacancies occurring from any cause in the membership thereof. The chairman of said California highway commission shall be a member of the highway finance board.

Duties transferred

363e. Except as in this article otherwise provided the department of public works shall succeed to and is hereby invested, with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction of the state Carey act commission, advisory board to the state Carey act commission, state engineer, state land settlement board (provided, that said land settlement board is hereby continued as an advisory board to the department in matters relating to land settlement), the state water commission, the state highway engineer and the department of engineering, and of the several officers, deputies and employees of such bodies and offices; and whenever by the provisions of any statute or law now in force or that may hereafter be enacted a duty or jurisdiction is imposed or authority conferred upon any of said bodies, officers, officers, deputies or employees, or upon any other person by any statute, the enforcement of which is transferred to the department, such duty, jurisdiction and authority are hereby imposed upon and transferred to the department of public works and the appropriate officers thereof with the same force and effect as though the title of said department of public works had been specifically set forth and named therein, in lieu of the names of any such board, commission, office, officer, deputy or employee thereof as the case may be. For the purposes of this article, the terms "state Carey act commission" "advisory board to the state Carey act commission" "state engineer" "state highway engineer" "state department of engineering" "state land settlement board" and "the advisory board to the department of engineering" shall be construed to mean and refer to the "department of public works"; and wherever in any statute or law the term "member of state Carey act commission" "member of advisory board to the state Carey act commission" "member of state department of engineering" "member of the state land settlement board" and "member of the advisory board to the department of engineering" is used, it shall be construed to mean and refer to the "department of public works" and the appropriate officers thereof, and whenever in any statute or law the term "executive member of the state water commission" or "state water commission" is used, it shall be construed to mean and refer to the chief of the division of water rights, except as otherwise provided in this article.

Except as in this article otherwise provided, said bodies and offices the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction of which are so transferred to and vested in the department of public works, and the positions of all officers, deputies and employees thereunder are and each of them is hereby abolished and shall have no further legal existence, but the statutes and laws under which they existed and all laws prescribing their duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction together with all lawful rules and regulations established thereunder, are hereby expressly continued in force. The department of public works shall also be in possession and control of all records, books, papers, offices, equipment, supplies, moneys, funds, appropriations, land and other property, real or personal, now or hereafter held for the benefit or use of said bodies, offices and officers; provided, however, that the California highway commission hereby created shall be in possession and control of all records, books, papers, offices, equipment, supplies, moneys, funds, appropriations, land or other property, real or personal, now or hereafter held for the benefit or use of the appointed members of the advisory board of the state department of engineering, formerly designated as the California highway commission.

Duties transferred to California highway commission.

363*f*. The California highway commission hereby created shall succeed to, and is hereby invested with all the duties, powers, purposes and responsibilities and jurisdiction of the appointed members of the advisory board to the department of engineering which formerly composed a subdivision of the department of engineering designated as the California highway commission. Whenever by the provisions of any statute or law now in force or that may be hereafter enacted, a duty is imposed or authority conferred upon the California highway commission, such duty and authority are hereby transferred to, imposed and conferred upon the California highway commission hereby created. For the purposes of this article, the term "California highway commission" shall be construed to mean and refer to the "California highway commission" hereby created, and wherever in any statute or law the term "appointed member of the advisory board to the state department of engineering" or "member of the California highway commission" is used, it shall be construed to mean and refer to the members of the "California highway commission" hereby created.

Enforcement of laws.

363*g*. The department of public works is hereby invested with the power, and is charged with the duty of administering and enforcing all laws now or hereafter imposing any duty, power or function upon any offices, officers, deputies or employees herein transferred to said department.

Expenditures by department.

363*h*. From and after the date upon which this act takes effect, the department of public works shall be and is hereby authorized and empowered to expend the moneys in any appropriation or in any special fund in the state treasury now remaining or made available by law for the administration of the provisions of all the statutes the enforcement of which is committed to the department or for the use, support, or maintenance of any board, commission, office or officer that is abolished by the provisions of this article and whose duties, powers and functions are, by the provisions of this article, transferred to and conferred upon the department of public works; provided, however, that the California highway commission hereby created is in like manner hereby authorized and empowered to expend the moneys in any appropriation or in any special fund in the state treasury, now remaining or made available by law for the use, support or maintenance of the appointed members of the advisory board to the department of engineering, formerly designated as the California highway commission. Such expenditures by the department or commission shall be made in accordance with law in carrying on the work for which such appropriations were made or such special funds created.

CHAPTER 608.

An act to amend sections two, three, four, eight, eleven, thirteen and fifteen of an act entitled "An act defining mattresses; regulating the making, remaking and sale thereof; prohibiting the use of insanitary and unhealthy materials therein; requiring that materials used shall be accurately described and the percentage of materials used in each mattress stated, and prescribing the manner in which mattresses shall be labeled; and making the violation of any of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, and repealing legislation inconsistent with this act," approved June 7, 1915.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of the act entitled "An act defining Stats. 1915, p. 1207, amended. mattresses; regulating the making, remaking and sale thereof; prohibiting the use of insanitary and unhealthy materials therein; requiring that materials used shall be accurately described and the percentage of materials used in each mattress stated, and prescribing the manner in which mattresses shall be labeled; and making the violation of any of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, and repealing legislation inconsistent with this act," approved June 7, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. (1) No person or corporation, by himself or by his agents, servants or employees, shall employ or use in the making, remaking or renovating of any mattress, any material of any kind that has been used in or has formed a part of, any mattress used in or about any public or private hospital, or institution for the treatment of persons suffering from disease, or for or about any person having any infectious or contagious disease; any material known as "shoddy," and made in whole or in part from old or worn clothing, carpets or other fabric, or material previously used, or any other fabric or material from which shoddy is constructed; any material, not otherwise prohibited by this act, of which prior use has been made; unless any and all of said materials have been thoroughly sterilized, and disinfected by a reasonable process, approved by the state board of health of the State of California.

(2) No person or corporation by himself or by his agents, servants or employees, shall sell, offer to sell, deliver or consign, or have in his possession with intent to sell, deliver or consign any mattress made, remade or renovated in violation of subsection one of this section. Selling certain mattresses prohibited.

An act to add a new article to chapter three of title one of part three of the Political Code, to be numbered article two g, embracing sections three hundred sixty-six to three hundred sixty-six e, both inclusive, relating to a department of institutions.

[Approved May 31, 1921. In effect July 30, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Political Code is hereby amended by adding a new article to chapter three of title one of part three thereof, to be numbered article two g, embracing sections three hundred sixty-six to three hundred sixty-six c, and to read as follows:

ARTICLE II*g*.

DEPARTMENT OF INSTITUTIONS.

Department
of institu-
created.

366. A department of the government of the State of California to be known as the department of institutions is hereby created. The department shall be conducted under the control of an executive officer to be known as director of institutions which office is hereby created. The director shall be appointed by and hold office at the pleasure of the governor and shall receive a salary of five thousand dollars per annum. Before entering upon the duties of his office the director shall execute an official bond to the State of California in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. Except as in this article otherwise prescribed, the provisions of article two of this chapter, title and part of the Political Code as adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature, and as the same may be amended from time to time, shall govern and apply to the conduct of the department of institutions in every respect the same as if such provisions were herein set forth at length.

Divisions.

366*a*. For the purpose of administration the department shall be forthwith organized by the director in such manner as with the approval of the governor shall be deemed necessary to properly segregate and conduct the work of the department. The director with the approval of the governor may create such divisions and subdivisions as may be necessary and change or abolish the same from time to time.

Superintendents
institutions.

366*b*. The director shall have power to appoint the superintendent or executive officer of each institution and define his duties and with the approval of the governor fix his salary. The appointment of the superintendent of state hospitals for the insane and Sonoma State Home shall be made in accordance with the qualifications and examination provided for in section two thousand one hundred fifty-two of the Political Code.

Duties

10. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law. Public administrator.

11. The superintendent of schools, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and said superintendent of schools may appoint a clerk, which office is hereby created, who shall receive a salary of fifty dollars per month. Said clerk shall be paid by the county at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the superintendent of schools is paid. In counties of this class the superintendent of schools shall receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses for visiting and examining schools and school properties of the county and in performing such other duties as are incident to the full discharge of the requirements of the office of superintendent of schools. Superintendent of schools.

12. The surveyor shall receive two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum for all work performed for the county, and, in addition thereto, actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in connection with field work. Whenever the surveyor is directed by the board of supervisors or assessor to plat, trace or otherwise prepare maps, plats or block-books for the use of the county assessor or said board, he shall be allowed only the actual cost of preparing the same. Surveyor.

13. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them, and of all fees. In townships having a population of three thousand five hundred or more, one hundred ten dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than one thousand five hundred and not more than three thousand five hundred eighty-five dollars per month; in all townships having a population less than one thousand five hundred, fifty dollars per month. All fees collected by justices of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury, and shall belong to the county. The provisions of this subdivision shall apply to the incumbents. Justices of the peace.

14. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships having a population of three thousand five hundred or more, one hundred twenty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than one thousand five hundred nor more than three thousand five hundred, one hundred ten dollars per month; in all townships having a population of less than one thousand five hundred, seventy dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salary allowed herein, each constable may collect and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law for all services performed by him in civil actions; and he shall also be allowed his actual and necessary expenses incurred in executing any warrant outside of his county issued by a magistrate or justice of his county. Constables shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting Constables.

and conveying prisoners to the county jail, which said expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors, and paid out of the county treasury.

Board of
education.

15. Each member of the board of education shall receive five dollars per day as compensation for his services when in actual attendance upon said board, and mileage at the rate of twenty-five cents per mile one way only, from his residence to the place of meeting of said board. The secretary of said board of education shall receive five dollars per day for his services for the actual time that the board may be in session. Said compensation of the members of said board, and of said secretary, shall be paid out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid. Claims for such services and mileage shall be presented to the board of supervisors, and shall be allowed at the rate above named, in the same manner as other claims against the county are allowed. The compensation of the members of the county board of education herein provided is not in addition to that provided in section one thousand seven hundred seventy of this code.

Supervisors.

16. Each supervisor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and twenty cents per mile for traveling from his residence to the county seat; provided, that when a supervisor is also road commissioner he shall receive in addition to the twenty cents per mile allowed to him by law as such road commissioner his actual traveling expenses, the total mileage and expenses not in any one year to exceed the sum of three hundred dollars. The changes as to salary made in this subdivision shall not apply to incumbents.

Justices of the peace.

17. In townships having a population of three thousand five hundred or more, justices of the peace shall be allowed for their office rent, and expenses, the sum of forty dollars each per month, in addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed. In townships having a population of less than three thousand five hundred, justices of the peace shall be allowed for their office rent, and expenses the sum of twenty-five dollars each per month in addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed. Each justice of the peace must pay into the county treasury monthly, all fees and fines collected by him; and he must keep a book open for the inspection of the public, during office hours, in which must be entered at once and in detail the amount of all fees and fines collected by him. The auditor must withhold warrants for salary and office rent until a sworn statement has been filed with him, of all cases tried, and fees and fines collected; and the same are paid into the county treasury. No justice of the peace shall draw or receive any monthly salary unless he shall make and subscribe an affidavit before an officer entitled to administer oaths, that no cause in his court remains pending and undecided, that has been submitted to him for decision for a period of thirty days; said affidavit to be filed with the auditor of the county.

18. In counties of this class, grand jurors and trial jurors ^{Jurors.} in the superior court shall each receive for each day's attendance, per day, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat, in going only, per mile, the sum of twenty cents; such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend.

19. In counties of this class there shall be appointed by the sheriff a suitable woman as jail matron, who shall have care of female prisoners confined in the county jail. She shall be paid a salary of seventy-five dollars per month, to be paid by the county in monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund that the salary of the sheriff is paid.

administer oaths.

Said justice's clerk shall be authorized to administer all oaths, take and serve affidavits, and shall be authorized to issue and sign writs, summons and all other processes in any action or proceeding in the justice's court of the township for which he is appointed, or pending before any justice of the peace in said township, in the name of the justice before whom the same is pending, or out of whose court the same is issued, which shall be in substantially the following form:

“-----
Justice of the Peace.

All legal papers of every kind in actions or proceedings in such justice's court shall be issued by the said justice's clerk in the manner and form hereinbefore set out. The said justice's clerk shall issue, sign and certify to any and all papers, transcripts or records which are required to be issued, signed or certified by said justice of the peace. All complaints, answers and other pleadings and papers required to be filed in the said justice's court, shall be filed with such justice's clerk, who shall keep a permanent record of such actions and proceedings in the justice's docket, now provided by law to be kept by such justice. Said clerk shall keep a record of the proceedings of said court and shall have the custody of all records and papers of the same.

All fees for the issuance of process, or other fees, which are by law allowed for any official service of the justice of the peace, shall be exacted and paid in advance into the hands of the justice's clerk which, together with all fees, fines, forfeitures or penalties received in said justice's court, shall be paid into the county treasury.

Said justice's clerk shall render each month to the county auditor and county treasurer an exact account, under oath, of all fines, forfeitures and penalties and fees received by him or collected by said court. Said justice's clerk shall receive a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per year, which shall be payable in like manner and out of the same funds and at such times as county officers are paid.

In the event that the board of supervisors do provide, by order, that two justice's courts be established in any township of the first class, then and in such an event the justice of said additional court shall be entitled to and shall appoint a clerk for said additional court, which said clerk shall be vested with the same authority and charged with the same duties and entitled to the same compensation as the clerk of the justice's court hereinbefore provided for.

The board of supervisors shall provide, in a convenient locality, a suitable office and court room, including all necessary office furniture, telephones, light, heat and water and all necessary stationery and office supplies for the justices and clerks thereof, for all justice's courts in and for townships of the first class.

Justices of the peace and persons now performing the duties of justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as the county officers are paid and the same shall be in full compensation for all their services rendered and shall include their office rent except as heretofore provided for justices of the first class, to wit:

Justices of the peace, other townships.

In townships of the second class.....	$100
In townships of the third class.....	90
In townships of the fourth class.....	75

Justices of the peace shall pay to the county treasurer once a month all fees and fines collected by them and shall be responsible for the collection and payment to the county treasurer of all such fees and fines as herein provided.

16. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as the county officers are paid and to be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit:

Constables.

In townships of the first class.....	$125
In townships of the second class.....	100
In townships of the third class.....	90
In townships of the fourth class.....	75

In addition to the monthly salaries above provided each constable may receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil cases, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or prison, which expenses shall be audited by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county treasury; provided, further, that when a constable is required to go out of the county to serve a warrant of arrest or any other paper in a criminal case, he shall be allowed mileage in going and returning outside of the county at the rate of five cents per mile.

17. The supervisors shall receive each the sum of four thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly in installments of four hundred dollars per month, in full compensation for all services rendered, either as supervisors or road overseers. The supervisors shall devote their entire time to the work of the county.

Supervisors.

18. The salaries of all county and township officers and their deputies shall be payable in installments monthly on the first day of each month.

Monthly installments.

officers, said section to be numbered nineteen x thirty-nine to read as follows:

Counties of 39th class, salary of probation officer. Effect of act.

Sec. 19x39. In counties of the thirty-ninth class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be one hundred twenty-five dollars per month.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 649.

An act to regulate the business of selling live stock at public auction and requiring live stock auctioneers to obtain a license and to execute a bond to the State of California, and providing penalties for violation of this act, and repealing acts in conflict herewith.

[Approved June 1, 1921. In effect July 31, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

License for live stock auctioneers.

SECTION 1. (a) A live stock auctioneer within the provisions of this act is one who conducts a public, competitive sale of live stock for a commission, fee or other compensation.

(b) Any person or firm residing in this state, or any corporation organized under the laws of this state, having license to act as auctioneer in the county, city and county, city or town in which he, they, or it resides or has a principal place of business, may carry on the business of selling live stock at public auction in any other county, city and county, city or town in this state upon obtaining a license and executing a bond as hereinafter provided.

Issuance by secretary of state.

SEC. 2. The secretary of state shall, upon application therefor by any person or firm resident in this state, or corporation organized under the laws of this state and having its principal place of business therein, and upon receipt of twenty-five dollars and the filing in his office of the bond herein provided, issue a license to such person, firm or corporation authorizing such applicant to sell live stock at public auction in this state, which license shall be in the following form:

Live Stock Auctioneer's License.

-----, having paid the license fee of twenty-five dollars and having executed a bond as required by law, is hereby licensed to conduct sales of live stock at public auction in the State of California from date hereof until January first next.

Dated this ----- day of -----, 19--.

Secretary of state.

SEC. 3. An applicant for license shall file with the secretary of state an application for such license, giving applicant's name and residence address, and business address, and in case of a copartnership shall give the names and residences of the members thereof and the business address of the firm, and in case of a corporation giving the names of the officers thereof and the business address of the corporation, which said application shall be verified under oath by the applicant, or, in case of a corporation, by one of the officers of the corporation; the applicant shall accompany said application with a license fee of twenty-five dollars.

SEC. 4. That applicant shall at the same time that he makes his application execute and file with the secretary of state a bond in the principal sum of five thousand dollars conditioned to be paid to the people of the State of California in case of the failure of the licensee during the period covered by said license or any renewal thereof to faithfully and honestly conduct business as a live stock auctioneer. In the event any person, firm or corporation shall suffer any damage by reason of the failure of the licensee to faithfully perform his duties as auctioneer according to the provisions of this act, or by reason of any fraud practiced by such licensee in the conduct of any sale of live stock at public auction, then said person, firm or corporation so aggrieved may in an action on such bond recover of the licensee and the sureties the amount of such damage, not exceeding, however, the principal of said bond. The bond shall be executed by the applicant and two sureties, residents of this state, which sureties shall be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county in which the licensee is resident, or, in case applicant is a corporation, of the county in which it has its principal place of business, at the time the license is issued. In lieu of two sureties, residents of this state, the applicant may provide a bond executed by a surety company which is authorized under the laws of this state to execute undertakings required by the laws of this state.

SEC. 5. All licenses issued according to the provisions of this act shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding the date thereof, but the same may be renewed by the payment of a license fee of twenty-five dollars. In case of the renewal of any license the liability of the licensee and sureties on the bond filed with the original application shall continue; provided, the licensee files with his application for renewal a statement by his sureties on said bond that they acknowledge such continuing liability and a sworn statement by each of them that he is a resident of California and worth the sum of five thousand dollars over and above his just debts and liabilities exclusive of property exempt from execution. Unless such statements be filed or a new bond executed such license shall not be renewed.

SEC. 6. No license issued under the provisions hereof shall be transferable.

Criers.

SEC. 7. Every auctioneer to whom there has been issued a license under the provisions hereof may employ criers or other assistants for the purpose of conducting sales, and shall be responsible for their acts.

Forfeiture
license.

SEC. 8. Any licensee under the provisions of this act who shall be convicted in any court of this state of any offense involving fraud, misrepresentation or deceit, or against whom any judgment shall be entered whereby it shall be adjudged that said licensee has committed any fraud, misrepresentation or practiced any deceit, shall, upon such conviction or the final entry of such judgment, forfeit his license, and the same shall not be renewed or any new license issued to such licensee under the provisions hereof within the period of two years thereafter.

Penalty
for not having license.

SEC. 9. Any person who conducts any sale of live stock at public auction in this state without having a license so to do issued either to such person or to the firm or corporation which he represents in making such sale, as herein required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars or more than two hundred fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than ten days or more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Sales
excepted.

SEC. 10. Sales of live stock by a sheriff, a constable, or any public official of the United States or of the State of California, or of any county, city and county, township, or other political subdivision of this state, in the course of official duty, are excepted from the provisions of this act.

Repealed.

SEC. 11. All acts and laws in conflict herewith are to the extent of such conflict hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 650.

An act to add a new section to be numbered section nineteen & twenty-five to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers.

[Approved June 1, 1921. In effect July 31, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers; said section to be numbered nineteen x twenty-five and to read as follows:

Sec. 19x25. In counties of the twenty-fifth class there shall be one probation officer, whose salary shall be two hundred dollars per month. In counties of the twenty-fifth class the probation officer shall perform in addition to his duties as probation officer the duties of the attendance officer for the schools of the county and investigator for the board of supervisors on applications for county and state aid, without any additional compensation except his necessary expenses and such mileage as the board of supervisors shall fix and allow in the performance of his duties.

officer.

CHAPTER 651.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered one thousand two hundred fifty-two a, relating to the conduct of elections.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be known as section one thousand two hundred fifty-two a, and to read as follows:

Resolution
determining manner of counting
ballots.

1252a. Whenever the board having charge and control of an election in any city, county or city and county shall adopt a resolution by a majority vote of said board, at least twenty-five days before the holding of an election at which candidates for public office are to be voted for within this state or any political subdivision thereof, that the ballots cast at such an election shall be counted in the manner provided for in this section; such resolution shall be entered in the minutes of said board, and then, and in that event, unless the provisions of a freeholders' charter shall provide a mode or method for counting the ballots cast at such an election, the ballots cast at such an election shall be counted in the manner provided in this section. The respective precinct boards to hold and conduct such an election at the polling places, and also the counting boards to count the ballots cast at said election shall be appointed and constituted pursuant to the provisions of this section.

boards.

The board having charge and control of such election shall pursuant to the provisions of section one thousand one hundred forty-two of the Political Code, so far as applicable, select and appoint for each election precinct a precinct board of election officers to hold and conduct such election at the polling place in each respective precinct for which such board is appointed. Such boards to hold such election at such polling places shall each consist of four persons, one inspector, one judge and two clerks, who shall perform all the duties required by law at such polling place except as in this section provided, and such board of election officers shall, except as in this section provided, have all the powers provided for by the board of elections appointed pursuant to the provisions of section one thousand one hundred forty-two of the Political Code, and each member of such election board shall have the same powers that he, or she, respectively, would have if such board and its members had been appointed pursuant to the provisions of section one thousand one hundred forty-two of the Political Code, except as in this section provided. In constituting such precinct election boards, the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk having charge and control of the election shall have power to excuse persons appointed whenever satisfied any such person ought to be excused, and to substitute new appointees in all cases when any person appointed shall be excused or found disqualified or incompetent down to a time when said county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk having charge and control of said election shall send a final or amended list of such election officers to the inspector, for the precinct, which list shall be the final order of appointment for such precinct and such appointments shall be in the form prescribed in this act, and in addition shall have at the head thereof the words in capitals "FINAL PRECINCT LIST OF ELECTION OFFICERS." The county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk having charge and control of the election, shall perform all the duties which he would be required to perform if said board had been appointed pursuant to the provisions of section one thousand one hundred forty-two of the Political Code except or unless otherwise provided by this section.

When the ballots cast at any election are to be counted under the provisions of this section, then, and in such event, the ballots cast at any given precinct shall not be counted at the polling place, but as soon as the polls are closed the precinct election officers shall not open the ballot box, except as necessary to close the mouth of the box and see that the ballot box is securely locked, without any ballot being removed, or added, or opened, and seal the ballot box and separately seal the key in the manner provided by printed instructions from the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk having charge and control of the election, in the presence of the public, and as soon as said election officers have certified, signed and sealed the several packages or envelopes as required by law, such ballot box and key, and packages shall be sent by not less than two of said precinct election officers to the office of the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the board having charge and control of the said election: and until so delivered it shall be unlawful when conveying the same to allow any other person or persons to have possession of said ballot box or key, or packages, or any thereof. Such officers so sent with such ballot box and key and packages shall proceed as continuously as possible to the office of the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the board having charge and control of said election, or to the place where the said ballots are to be counted. Immediately upon the delivery of such ballot box to the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the board having charge and control of the said election, or the proper deputy of any of these respective officers, said county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the board having charge and control of such election, shall cause each such box to be plainly labeled with the correct number or designation of the precinct in which such ballots were cast.

Ballots not to be counted at polling place.

The board having charge and control of the election, or officer authorized thereto, whenever such board shall by resolution entered in its minutes, authorize and empower the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the board having charge and control of such election so to do, shall, as the case may be, in such manner as it, or he, shall deem best calculated to provide competent persons therefor, select and provide as many persons, as it or he may deem necessary for the counting, tallying and certifying of the returns of the vote cast in each precinct at such election, and such persons shall have the qualifications required for election officers at state elections, save that all persons who are deputies or employees of the board having charge and control of elections, or the county clerk, or the registrar of voters, or clerk of the board having charge and control of such election, or who report for service from the civil service list of the city, or county, or city and county or local subdivision where such election is held, shall, upon requisition for such duty, if not a candidate at such election, be qualified, and save that none of the persons so selected need reside in any particular precinct. The persons so selected and provided shall assemble at the place provided by the board having charge and control of the counting of the ballots cast at such election upon the evening of such election day, at an hour and time to be designated by notice to be served by the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the board having charge and control of such an election, and shall there be segregated by the county clerk, registrar of voters, or clerk of the board having charge and control of said election, or his deputy or deputies, into counting boards, respectively, to consist of three persons each; each such selected counting board shall proceed to count and tally such ballots by precincts, separately, under the direction of the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the board having charge and control of such election, or his deputies, or such superintendents as such county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the body having charge and control of said election, may choose for that purpose and shall count, tally and certify such returns in the same manner provided by law for counting, tallying and certifying ballots at state elections, except as in this section otherwise provided.

The form of tally sheets shall be provided and determined as to form by the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the body having charge and control of such election, and there shall be a certificate at the end thereof to the effect that the foregoing is the correct result of the election in such precinct as to each and all candidates voted for, and all propositions voted upon at such election, and such certificate shall be signed by the three persons who completed such tally list and return.

Control of
boards.

The county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the body having charge and control of said election, shall have charge over said counting boards during the entire time of such counting and he, or any deputy empowered by him so to do, may excuse or dismiss any person from any such counting board and enforce such order, and shall substitute any person so provided as hereinbefore required, or, if enough have not been provided, then any competent and qualified additional person necessary to such work, to be provided by such county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the body having charge and control of said election at the time when such substitution becomes necessary, shall be substituted in the place of any person so excused or dismissed or any person who absents himself from said counting board or table. Any person acting on any such counting board who refuses to obey any lawful order of the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the board having charge and control of said election, or his deputy, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless thereby guilty of a higher crime under the laws of this state.

The tally sheets shall be in duplicate, kept by two clerks. ^{Tally sheets.} One copy upon the completion thereof shall be sealed in an envelope and signed across the flap in the manner provided by the laws of the State of California for sealing tally lists at state elections where votes are counted in the precincts, and the other tally list shall remain open for inspection in the office of the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the body having charge and control of the said election, for the period of six months from the date of said election. The returns so sealed shall be securely kept by the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the body having charge and control of the said election, in the same manner as if said returns had been counted at the election precinct, and returned to such county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the body having charge and control of such election, pursuant to the laws of the State of California, and be so securely kept until produced before the board having charge and control of such election for official canvass in the manner provided by law.

The board having charge and control of such election shall, ^{compensation of boards.} upon the recommendation and report of the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the body having charge and control of such election, fix the compensation to be paid to each member of such respective counting boards for counting, tallying, completing and certifying such votes and returns, which compensation shall not exceed five cents to each member of such board, respectively, for each ballot so counted, tallied, completed and certified and such claims and demands when certified or allowed by the said board having charge and control of said election shall be audited by the auditor whenever the compensation of election officers is required to be audited, and shall be paid by the treasurer of the city, or county, or city and county, or political subdivision in which such election is held, from the general fund, or any moneys applicable to the payment of such claims, in the same manner that the compensation of election officers is required to be paid to those election officers who have been appointed in accordance with law and certified as election officers at the respective precincts at such an election, and except as in this section otherwise provided, all the provisions of the laws of the State of California, both civil and penal, applicable to boards.

state elections or to precinct election officers at state elections shall apply to such election and to such election officers and to the persons acting on any of said counting boards, and all such laws of the state, civil and penal, except as herein otherwise provided, relating to the official counting and canvass and declaration of the result of state election returns shall apply to the counting, tallying, certifying, sealing and official canvass and declaration of the result of such election and to all the returns of such election counted and returned under the provisions of this section. All the powers of precinct election boards and of the respective members thereof shall be exercised by the precinct election boards and appointed pursuant to the provisions of this section, and all such election boards shall perform all the duties which they would be required to perform under the laws of the State of California if they had been appointed pursuant to the provisions of section one thousand one hundred forty-two of the Political Code, except as in this section provided, and such precinct election boards and their respective members shall be liable to all the liabilities and penalties to which they would be liable if appointed pursuant to the provisions of section one thousand one hundred forty-two of the Political Code, except as otherwise provided in this section, and the said counting board by this section authorized shall be deemed to be boards of election officers of the said election and such boards and the members thereof shall perform all the duties with regard to counting such votes provided by the laws of the State of California as to state elections in the same manner as if said votes were being counted at the precincts where polled, pursuant to the laws of this state, except as in this section otherwise provided, and said counting board and all its members shall be subject to all the liabilities and penalties to which election precinct boards or the members thereof are subject when appointed pursuant to section one thousand one hundred forty-two of the Political Code, to count and certify the said votes and return the same from the precincts where the same were polled, except as otherwise provided in this section.

Place of
counting.

The board having charge and control of such election shall, by order entered in its minutes, specify the place where the ballot boxes and the ballots of said election shall be brought by the persons by this section authorized to so bring such ballots, which shall be the place where such ballots shall be counted, which must be a public place, and the said ballot boxes and ballots shall be so brought to such place and be at such place counted, tallied and certified in the manner provided by this section and such place shall be specified by such order at least ten days prior to the holding of said election, and the board having charge and control of said election shall cause notice of the selection of such place to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, city or county, where such election is to be held, or, if there be no such newspaper, shall cause such notice to be prominently posted in the office of the county clerk, registrar of voters or clerk of the body having charge and control of such election, and the place where such votes shall be counted shall be open to the public, and said counting must be in the presence of the public, and in the presence of bystanders, and must be continuous and without adjournment until completed and the result thereof tallied, certified and returned as by this section or law required and any candidate shall be entitled to have a representative among such bystanders.

CHAPTER 652.

An act to provide for the organization and government of public cemetery districts.

[Approved June 1, 1921. In effect July 31, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever a petition signed by a majority or more of the electors whose names appear upon the last great register of the county as residing within territory definitely described in such petition, requesting that the said territory be organized into a public cemetery district, shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which such territory is situated, at a regular or special meeting of said board, said board of supervisors shall by resolution at said meeting fix a time for the hearing of said petition at not less than two nor more than five weeks from the time of presentation thereof and shall cause notice to be given of the time and place of said hearing by publication in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said county for not less than two weeks prior to the time of said hearing. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments. Said notice shall contain one copy of said petition but the names attached to said petition need not be included in said notice or publication. Said notice shall state that any person residing or owning property within said proposed district may appear before said board at said hearing and show cause why said petition should not be granted or the boundaries thereof changed.

SEC. 2. At the time fixed for said hearing, said board of supervisors shall hear said petition and shall determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements hereinbefore set forth and whether or not the notice required herein has been published as required, and must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. Said hearing may be adjourned from time to time for the determination of said facts, not to exceed two weeks in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures thereto, shall vitiate any proceeding thereof, provided such petition or petitions have sufficient qualified signatures attached thereto. The determination of the board shall be expressed by resolution.

Boundaries SEC. 3. If the board of supervisors shall determine that the petitioners have complied with the requirements herein set forth and that the notice required herein has been published as required, it shall thereupon proceed to a final hearing of the matter. Said board shall make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed district as it may deem advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries. Any person residing or owning property within said proposed district may appear before said board of supervisors at said hearing, in person or by attorney or agent, and oppose the creation of said district or request a change in the boundaries thereof and may produce evidence in support of his opposition or request.

Finding conclusive. SEC. 4. A finding of the board of supervisors in favor of the genuineness and sufficiency of the petition and notice shall be final and conclusive against all persons, except the State of California upon suit commenced by the attorney general. Any such suit must be commenced within one year after the order of the board of supervisors declaring such district organized as herein provided, and not otherwise.

Order organizing district. SEC. 5. Upon the conclusion of the hearing of said matter said board shall, by an order entered on its minutes approve the said petition, as originally presented, or in a modified form, and declare the territory embraced within the boundaries established by said board as herein provided duly organized as a cemetery district. Said board shall then cause a copy of such order, duly certified, to be immediately filed for record in the office of the county recorder of such county. From and after such filing, the organization of such district shall be complete.

Trustees. SEC. 6. Such cemetery district shall be governed and managed by three trustees, appointed by the board of supervisors from electors residing therein. The trustees shall hold office for four years and until the appointment and qualification of their successors, and shall serve without compensation.

Seal. SEC. 7. Such cemetery district shall have power to adopt and use a common seal and to sue and be sued by its name.

Powers of district. SEC. 8. Said district shall maintain a cemetery for the use of all inhabitants of the district, and for that purpose shall be capable of holding title to property, taking property by grant, gift, devise, lease, or any other method, and doing all acts necessary or proper for the carrying out of the purposes, of this act, including the selling or leasing of burial lots.

Levy of tax. SEC. 9. The said board of cemetery trustees shall annually, at or before the time fixed by law for the levy of county taxes, estimate and certify to the board of supervisors the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation for maintaining the cemetery of the district, and the board of supervisors shall thereupon include in the annual tax levy a tax upon all the property within such cemetery district sufficient to raise the amount so certified by the trustees, but not exceeding two mills on each dollar of assessed valuation within the district.

SEC. 10. Said tax shall be collected by the same officers and in the same manner as other county taxes, and the same, together with all other moneys received by the trustees, shall be paid into the county treasury and shall constitute a separate fund to be expended solely for the purposes of the cemetery district upon warrants issued by the county auditor on orders signed by not less than two of said cemetery trustees. Cemetery district fund.

SEC. 11. The trustees shall, as soon after the first day of July in each year as is practicable, file with the county board of supervisors a report, setting forth all their transactions during the preceding fiscal year, and containing an itemized account of all their receipts and disbursements during said fiscal year, together with proper vouchers therefor. Report of trustees.

SEC. 12. The trustees shall make proper rules and regulations for the management of the cemeteries under their control, and all laws now in existence or which may hereafter be enacted relating to cemeteries, and not inconsistent with this act, shall apply to the cemeteries provided for in this act. Rules and regulations.

CHAPTER 653.

An act appropriating the sum of one hundred thousand dollars to carry out the purposes of an act entitled "An act authorizing the state treasurer and the board of control to enter into agreements to pay commissions on the sale of certain bonds of the State of California, and providing for the funds from which such commission shall be paid," as adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended in carrying out the provisions of an act entitled "An act authorizing the state treasurer and the board of control to enter into agreements to pay commissions on the sale of certain bonds of the State of California, and providing for the funds from which such commission shall be paid," as adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature. Appropriation: commissions on sale of state bonds.

This appropriation is in addition to any funds provided for this purpose by any other act of the legislature of the State of California.

CHAPTER 654.

An act to add a new section, to be known as nine a thirty-six, to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, said section relating to salaries of county librarians.

[Approved June 1, 1921. In effect July 31, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, to be numbered section nine a thirty-six, and to read as follows:

CHAPTER 656.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and, also, to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, by amending sections thirty b, thirty-two, forty-seven and sixty-one thereof and to add a new section to said act to be numbered one hundred nine a, relating to the names of irrigation districts and to changing the names thereof.

[Approved June 1, 1921. In effect July 31, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919,
p. 663,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section thirty b of the act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and, also, to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Order

amount
of bonds.

Sec. 30b. If after such examination and investigation the said commission shall deem it advisable that the said plans be modified or that the amount of the bonds proposed to be issued be changed, or that certain conditions should be prescribed to insure the success of the project, or that in its opinion it is not advisable to proceed with the proposed bond issue, it shall so state in its report to the board of directors. After receiving said report, or if no report is received within ninety days after the submission of said estimate and engineer's report to said commission, said board of directors, if it shall determine and shall declare by resolution that the proposed plan of works or some modified plan recommended by said commission is satisfactory and that the said project or said modified plan is feasible, shall make an order determining the amount of bonds that should be issued in order to raise the money necessary therefor, and in determining said amount sufficient shall be included to cover the estimated cost of inspection of works in course of construction, as provided for by law; provided, that if any district shall issue bonds to carry out any plans approved by said commission as herein provided it shall be unlawful for said district to make any material change in said plans thereafter without the consent of said commission.

bonds.

SEC. 2. Section thirty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 32. The board may sell said bonds from time to time in such quantities as may be necessary and most advantageous to raise money for the construction of said canals and works, the acquisition of said property and rights, or the acquisition of any water or water rights, and otherwise to fully carry out the objects and purposes of this act. Before making any sale the board shall, at a meeting, by resolution, declare its intention to sell a specified amount of the bonds, and the day and hour and place of such sale, and shall cause such resolution to be entered in the minutes, and notice of the sale to be given, by publication thereof at least three weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors is located and in any other newspaper at its discretion. The notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by the board at their office, for the purchase of bonds, till the day and hour named in the resolution. At the time appointed the board shall open the proposals and award the purchase of the bonds or any portion or portions thereof to the highest responsible bidder or bidders; provided, however, that they may reject any or all bids; and provided, further, that no proposal shall be accepted which is not accompanied by a certified check for such reasonable percentage of the amount of the bid as shall be determined by the board of directors, but in no event less than two per cent of the amount thereof to apply on the purchase price of the bonds, the amount of which check shall be forfeited if after the acceptance of the proposal the bidder shall refuse to accept said bonds and complete his purchase thereof on the conditions stated in his proposal. In case no award is made, the board thereafter may either readvertise said bonds or any part thereof for sale or sell the same or any part thereof at private sale but no sale of said bonds at private sale shall be valid unless approved by the California bond certification commission.

Sec. 3. Section forty-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 47. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner, or any party in interest, within three years from the date of purchase, or at any time thereafter before a deed has been made and delivered. Redemption must be made in gold or silver coin, as provided for the collection of state and county taxes, and when made to the collector he must credit the amount paid to the person or his assignees. In each report the collector makes to the board of directors, he must name the person entitled to redemption money, and the amount due each. On receiving the certificate of sale, the county recorder must file it and make an entry in a book similar to that required of the collector. On the presentation of the receipt of the person named in the certificate, or of the collector for his use of the total amount of the redemption money, the recorder must mark the word "redeemed," the date, and by whom redeemed, on the certificate and on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made. If the property is not redeemed within the time herein provided, the collector or his successor in office, upon demand, must make to the purchaser, or his assignee, a deed of the property, reciting in the deed substantially the matters contained in the certificate, and that no person redeemed the property during the time allowed by law for its redemption; provided, that where property has been sold to the district it may be redeemed as herein provided, at any time before the district has disposed of the same. The collector shall receive from the purchaser, for the use of the district, two dollars for making such deed.

SEC. 4. Section sixty-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

amended.

Power to
restricted.

SEC. 61. The board of directors or other officers of the district shall have no power to incur any debt or liability whatever, either by issuing bonds or otherwise, in excess of the express provisions of this act; and any debt or liability incurred in excess of such express provisions shall be and remain absolutely void, except that for the purposes of organization, or for any of the purposes of this act, the board of directors may, before the levying of the first assessment, incur indebtedness in such sum or sums as shall amount to two thousand dollars, or, if the district shall contain more than four thousand acres, to one-half as many dollars as there are acres of land in the district, and may cause warrants of the district to be issued therefor, bearing interest at not more than seven per centum per annum, said rate to be fixed by the board of directors. Each such warrant shall be made payable on a date not later than the first day of July next after the first assessment in the district shall be levied, and if not paid when presented on the due date or thereafter shall be registered and the amount due thereon shall draw interest as provided in section sixty-one a of this act. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as limiting the right of the board to enter into any contract or lease for any lands, waters, water rights or other property as elsewhere in this act authorized and by such lease or contract to bind the district for the payment of the consideration specified in such lease or contract, but if the smallest payment to be made under such lease or contract in any year exceeds an amount equal to ten cents an acre for all the land in the district, such lease or contract shall not be valid unless approved by the commission authorized by law to approve the bonds of irrigation districts as legal investments for savings banks, or unless an assessment sufficient to meet all the payments to become due under such lease or contract shall have been or shall be authorized for that purpose in accordance with section fifty-nine of this act.

SEC. 5. A new section is hereby added to said act after section one hundred nine thereof, to be known as section one hundred nine a and to read as follows:

Change of
name.

SEC. 109*a*. The name of any district hereafter organized hereunder shall contain either the words "irrigation district" or "water conservation district." Any district heretofore or hereafter organized and existing, the name of which shall include the words "irrigation district" may change its said name by substituting for the word "irrigation," "water conservation" by filing with the board of supervisors with which was filed the original petition for the organization of the district, a certified copy of a resolution of its board of directors adopted by the unanimous vote of all the members of said board at a regular meeting thereof providing for such change of name; and thereafter all proceedings of such district shall be had under such changed name, but all existing obligations and contracts of the district entered into under its former name shall remain outstanding without change and with the validity thereof unimpaired and unaffected by such change of name.

CHAPTER 657.

An act to amend sections two, three, four, five, six, seven, nine, eleven, fifteen and thirty-six of an act entitled "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the State of California," approved April 5, 1917.

[Approved June 1, 1921. In effect July 31, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of the act entitled, "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the State of California," approved April 5, 1917, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917, p. 46 amended.

Sec. 2. The board of supervisors of any county may initiate proceedings for the creation of a joint highway district to be composed of two or more counties of the state by the adoption of a resolution reciting: Resolution initiating proceedings.

(a) That the public interest requires the construction of a public highway, stating generally the location and course thereof, and naming the counties in or through which such highway will pass.

(b) The names of the counties interested in and which will be benefited by such highway construction.

(c) That it is proposed to create a joint highway district composed of the counties so named.

When adopted, certified copies of the same shall be transmitted to the clerks of the boards of supervisors of the counties named in the resolution.

SEC. 2. Section three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917, p. 46, amended.

Sec. 3. Upon receipt of a copy of the resolution adopted as aforesaid, the boards of supervisors of the several counties affected shall proceed to consider the advisability of forming said joint highway district. Each county board of super- Approval by supervisors.

visors, as soon as it has given tentative approval, shall notify the board initiating the proceedings. The latter board, as soon as it has received satisfactory evidence of tentative approval of the formation of the district by the several counties affected, shall notify the clerk of each board of supervisors of that fact.

Board of
directors.

SEC. 3. Section four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. Upon the receipt of such notice it shall be the duty of each of the boards of supervisors to name and appoint one of its members as a member of the board of directors of the joint highway district. When but two counties comprise a district the two directors thus chosen shall in turn select a third member of the board of directors.

directors.

SEC. 6. Section seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. Said board of directors shall tentatively fix the route of the proposed district highway, determine the approximate total cost thereof, and the portion thereof that should be borne by each county respectively. The board shall make and file a copy of said report with the board of supervisors of each of the counties affected. Within thirty days of the receipt of such report, each board of supervisors shall adopt or reject the proposal for formation of the joint highway district. Failure of a board of supervisors to act within said time shall be deemed a rejection. A certified copy of each such ordinance shall be forthwith transmitted to the board which initiated the proceedings, whereupon the latter board shall make a finding as to the final approval or disapproval of the formation of the district, and notify the clerks of the several counties as to the result. In case the several boards vote in favor of formation of the district, a certified copy of such notice of finding shall be filed with the secretary of state, whereupon the said joint highway district shall be deemed created and organized, and shall exercise all the powers granted by this act, and shall be a public corporation under the designation of "Joint highway district No.----- of the State of California." Districts shall be numbered in the order of their creation.

SEC. 7. Section nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917,
p. 48,
amended.

Sec. 9. Said joint highway districts shall be managed, and the powers herein conferred thereon, shall be exercised by a board of directors. Said directors shall be chosen and appointed as follows: One by the board of supervisors of each of the counties composing said district from its members, and in case the district is composed of but two counties, a third member shall be chosen by the two members chosen by the counties. Said directors shall serve during the pleasure of the appointing power. They shall receive no compensation for their services, but may be allowed actual expenses incurred by them in connection with the discharge of their duties under this act. Appointment of
directors.

SEC. 8. Section eleven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917,
p. 48,
amended.

Sec. 11. Said joint highway district through its board of directors shall have power— Powers of
district.

To lay out, construct and maintain a highway as specified in this act.

To accept in the name of the district all gifts, donations or contributions from any source whatsoever made to further the purpose of this act, and the counties composing the district may convey such public highways as may be utilized as a part of the highway herein authorized to be constructed.

To acquire necessary lands, or rights of way for purposes of such highway.

To exercise the right of eminent domain necessary to acquire lands or rights of way for highway purposes.

To acquire and use such personal property as may be necessary in the exercise of the powers herein granted.

To employ such labor and service as may be necessary.

To arrange for the safe keeping of all funds belonging to the district and to this end may appoint a treasurer or depository, and exact from him such bonds or other security as may be proper.

To sue and be sued.

To adopt a seal.

SEC. 9. Section fifteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917,
p. 49,
amended.

Sec. 15. Upon the conclusion of such hearing such board of directors shall make an order determining the amount of the benefits to accrue to the state and to each county comprising the district, and to the people residing therein, and shall make an assessment against the state and said counties in proportion to the benefits so to accrue, in a sum equal to said estimated cost, or so much thereof as may be necessary, but said estimated cost, if deemed excessive, may be reduced to Assessment

such an amount as the board of directors shall deem proper. The amount of such assessment shall be certified to and transmitted to the state board of control, and to the boards of supervisors of the counties constituting the district.

The provisions of this section shall not be construed to require that the assessment imposed shall be sufficient to meet the entire estimated cost of the proposed highway, but may provide for the construction of only such portions thereof as may be deemed expedient. From time to time additional assessments may be imposed for any remaining portion of such highway, or to provide for its completion in the event of the cost exceeding the estimate made by the engineer.

Sec. 10. Section thirty-six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 36. In case it shall be determined that any sum of money authorized to be expended from the state treasury shall be expended as required by section twenty-two of article four of the constitution, then the advisory board of the state engineering department shall have the exclusive management and control of such expenditure, if the boards of supervisors of the several counties concerned assent to the relinquishment and transfer of such management and control, but such advisory board may, in its discretion, delegate its powers to the board of directors of the joint highway district and said joint highway district is hereby declared to be a state institution within the meaning of said constitution. The board of directors of the district may vest in the state engineering department authority to supervise the work of construction.

CHAPTER 658.

An act to amend sections two, twenty and twenty-five of an act entitled "An act providing for the regulation and supervision of companies, brokers, agents and sales of securities as the same are therein defined, and to prevent fraud in the sale of securities; providing for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and creating a state corporation department and the office of commissioner of corporations," approved May 18, 1917, as amended.

[Approved June 1, 1921. In effect July 31, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act of the people of the State of California entitled "An act providing for the regulation and supervision of companies, brokers, agents, and sales of securities as the same are therein defined, and to prevent fraud in the sale of securities; providing for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and creating a state corporation department and the office of commissioner of corporations" approved May 18, 1917, as amended, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 2. Words used in this act in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter, and in the neuter, the masculine and feminine; the singular number includes the plural, and the plural, the singular; "Writing" includes "printing" and "typewriting"; "oath" includes "affirmation"; the word "county" includes "city and county"; and "territory" includes "district." The following words have in this act the signification attached to them in this section, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

1. The word "department" means the "state corporation department" created by this act.

2. The word "commissioner" means the "commissioner of corporations."

3. The word "company" includes all domestic and foreign private corporations, associations, joint stock companies, and partnerships, of every kind, and also trustees, as hereinafter defined; excepting therefrom:

(a) All national banking associations and other corporations organized and existing under and by virtue of the acts of the congress of the United States;

(b) All public utilities subject to the jurisdiction, control, and regulation of the railroad commission of this state;

(c) All corporations now or hereafter organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of conducting the business of banking within this state and all corporations transacting insurance business within this state;

(d) All corporations, associations, or societies transacting business under the supervision, examination, and license of the bureau of building and loan supervision; and

(e) Every corporation organized under the laws of this state exclusively for the purposes provided in any of the following titles, to wit: Eleven a, twelve, twelve a, and fourteen, of part four, division first, of the Civil Code, and in accordance with the provisions of such titles.

4. The word "trust" as used in this act includes all voluntary trusts, as the same are defined in the Civil Code, expressly created by or declared in an instrument in writing, other than a will or a judicial writ, order, decree, or judgment, to carry on any business or to secure the payment or repayment of money.

5. The word "trustee," except as hereinafter used in subdivision nine of this section, includes only persons or companies executing trusts as hereinbefore defined.

6. The word "security" includes:

(a) All shares or other interests or rights into which the capital, capital stock, or property of companies or rights of stockholders or members thereof are divided, including all treasury shares and shares of their own capital stock purchased or otherwise acquired by companies upon delinquent assessment sales or in any other lawful manner, and all certificates and other instruments issued by them or their authority, evidencing or representing such shares, interests, or rights;

(b) All bonds, debentures, and evidences of indebtedness issued by any company; and

(c) Any instrument issued or offered to the public by any company, evidencing or representing any right to participate or share in the profits or earnings or the distribution of assets of any business carried on for profit; excepting therefrom the following:

1. Bills of exchange and promissory notes not offered to the public by the drawer, maker, or underwriter thereof, and all mortgages and deeds of trust of property situated in this state, executed to secure the payment thereof; and

2. Any security listed in any standard manual of information, as to which the commissioner shall first make and file his written finding to the effect that such security is fully and accurately described in such manual and that a sale thereof will not, in his opinion, work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof; provided, that if such finding shall thereafter be vacated or set aside, such security shall not thereafter be deemed to be included within this exception.

"Sale."

7. A "sale," within the meaning of this act, includes every contract by which, for a pecuniary consideration, called a price, one transfers to another an interest in property, and also an exchange, a pledge, a hypothecation, and any transfer in trust or otherwise as security for the performance of an obligation, and also any issue of any security by a company; and the word "sell," as used in this act, includes every act by which such sale is made; provided, however, that the execution or delivery of a certificate or certificates in exchange for a certificate or certificates evidencing a like aggregate par value of its shares theretofore legally issued by it, shall not be construed to be a sale.

"Agent."

8. The word "agent" as used in this act means and includes every person or company employed or appointed by a company or a broker who shall, within this state, either as an employee or otherwise, for a compensation, sell, offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any security of any company of its own issue offered for sale by it.

"Broker."

9. The word "broker" as used in this act includes every person or company, other than an agent, who shall, in this state, engage, either wholly or in part, in the business of selling, offering for sale, negotiating for the sale of, or otherwise dealing in any security or securities issued by others, or of underwriting any issue of securities or of purchasing such securities with the purpose of reselling them or of offering them for sale to the public for a commission or at a profit; excepting therefrom the following:

(a) Any owner of any security who is not the issuer or an underwriter thereof, who sells or exchanges the same for his own account; provided, that such sale or exchange is not made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of like or similar character by him;

(b) Any trustee of a trust created by or declared in a will or a judicial writ, order, decree or judgment, who, in such capacity, lawfully disposes of any property;

(c) Any company transacting a banking or insurance business in this state, selling a security for an owner thereof or a broker, other than an underwriter thereof, at a commission of not more than two per cent of the par or face value thereof; provided, such sale is not made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of like or similar character by such company;

(d) One, not the issuer, who disposes of securities to a broker or to a purchaser who, as a part of his regular business, purchases such securities;

(e) Any pledge holder selling, in good faith and not for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this act, and in the ordinary course of business, a security pledged with him as security for a bona fide debt.

10. The words "actual fraud," as used in this act, are defined in section one thousand five hundred seventy-two of the Civil Code. "Actual fraud."

p. 683,
amended.

Sec. 20. The commissioner shall charge and collect the following fees: Fees.

1. For filing any application for a permit to issue securities, ten dollars, plus

One twentieth of one per cent of the amount of any excess of the aggregate value of the securities sought to be issued over twenty thousand dollars and not exceeding fifty thousand dollars;

One twenty-fifth of one per cent of such amount in excess of fifty thousand dollars and not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars;

One fiftieth of one per cent of such amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars; and

One one-hundredth of one per cent of such amount in excess of five hundred thousand dollars.

The value of such securities shall be deemed to be their par or face value, if they have a par or face value; otherwise, the price at which the company proposes to sell or issue the same, or the value, as alleged in the application, of the consideration (if other than money) to be received in exchange therefor.

2. For filing any application for a permit or other authority to make dividends, create debts, or to divide, withdraw, increase, reduce or pay to the stockholders, or any of them, the capital stock, or any part thereof, the same amount that would otherwise be chargeable or collectible if such application were for a permit to issue securities; provided, that in any such case the value shall be determined by the amount of dividends made, debts created, or capital stock divided, withdrawn, increased, reduced, or paid.

3. For filing any application for a broker's certificate, five dollars.

4. For filing any application for an agent's certificate, one dollar.

5. For any examination, audit, or investigation, ten dollars per day or fraction thereof, if made by the commissioner, or the actual amount of the salary or other compensation, not exceeding ten dollars per day, paid to any deputy or other employee of the commissioner, if made by a deputy or other employee, for each day or fraction thereof that such commissioner, deputy, or other employee shall necessarily be absent from his office for the purpose of making such examination, audit, or investigation, plus the actual amount of expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of such work.

6. For copies of papers and records not required to be certified or otherwise authenticated by the commissioner, ten cents for each folio.

7. For certified copies of official documents, orders, and other papers filed in his office; for making and mailing copies of process served upon him under the provisions of section eighteen of this act, and for transcripts on appeal, fifteen cents for each folio and one dollar for each certificate under seal affixed thereto.

8. For certificate of service and mailing of process served upon the commissioner under the provisions of section eighteen of this act, two dollars.

No fees shall be charged or collected for copies of papers, records, or official documents furnished to public officers for use in their official capacity or for the reports of the commissioner in the ordinary course of distribution; but the commissioner may fix a reasonable charge for the publications issued under his authority.

All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid at least once each week, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state to the credit of a fund to be known as the "corporation commission fund," which fund is hereby created.

SEC 3. Section twenty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 25. Neither this act nor any provision hereof shall be deemed to prohibit subscriptions for shares of a domestic corporation made prior to the incorporation thereof and set forth in its articles of incorporation; but such subscriptions shall be deemed to have been made and accepted upon the condition that such corporation shall be incorporated within ninety days thereafter and, when incorporated, shall with reasonable diligence apply for and secure from the commissioner a permit

CHAPTER 660.

An act to amend section one hundred three c of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, relating to the appointment of clerks and deputy clerks of justices of the peace in certain townships and providing for the duties and compensation thereof.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one hundred three c of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Counties of 3d class, justice's
clerk.

103c. In counties of the third class in townships having a population of more than seventy-five thousand as said population was determined by the federal census taken in the year anno domini 1910, where provision is not otherwise made by law, there shall be one justice's clerk and one justice's deputy clerk who shall be appointed by the justice of the peace or justices, if more than one, and who shall hold office at the pleasure of such justice or justices. Said clerk and deputy shall be appointed immediately on this act taking effect and shall take the oath of office prescribed for county officers and give a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned on the faithful discharge of the duties of the office, which bond shall be approved and filed in the same manner as the bonds of county officers. If a surety company be the surety on such bond, the premium or charge therefor shall be paid by the county in the same way and shall be governed by the same restrictions as to the amount of premium as are the bonds of county officers. Such justice's clerk and justice's deputy clerk shall perform the duties required of them by law, and in addition such clerical duties in connection with the business of the court as is required of such clerk or deputy by the justice or justices of said court. The board of supervisors shall provide in a convenient locality a suitable office for the justice's clerk. The said justice's clerk and deputy justice's clerk shall be in attendance at his office or the court and in the discharge of official business daily from nine a.m. until five p.m.

act.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes, nor to increase or decrease the compensation paid to or received by any such person under the provisions of such statute, except as otherwise herein expressly provided.

CHAPTER 661.

An act to add a new section to be numbered section nineteen x thirty-two to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section to be numbered one thousand five hundred thirty-four is hereby added to the Political Code to read as follows:

1534. First—No person shall conduct or teach in a private school, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation in this state unless and until he shall have first applied to and obtained a permit so to do from the superintendent of public instruction or deputy appointed by the superintendent for such purposes. This shall also be construed to include persons exercising or performing administrative powers in any such school.

Permit to conduct school in foreign language.

Second—No permit to teach in a private school, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation, shall be granted unless and until the superintendent of public instruction or deputy is satisfied that the applicant for the same is possessed of knowledge of American history and institutions and knows how to read, write and speak the English language; provided, however, that the provision concerning knowledge of the English language shall be liberally construed up to the first of July, 1923.

Knowledge of American history and English
language.

Third—Before issuing a permit to conduct or teach in such private school, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation, the superintendent of public instruction or authorized deputy shall require the applicant for such permit to file an affidavit pledging himself, after being granted a permit to conduct or teach in such school, to abide by and observe the terms of this law and the regulations and orders of the superintendent of public instruction and will, to the best of his ability, so direct the minds and studies of pupils in said private schools, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation, as will tend to make them good and loyal American citizens, and will not instruct or permit said pupils to receive instruction in said school in any way inconsistent therewith.

Affidavit to abide by law and regulations.

Fourth—No private school, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation, shall be conducted in the morning before the school hours of the public schools or during the hours while the public schools are in session, nor shall any pupil attend a private school, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation, for more than one hour each day nor exceeding six hours in any one week nor exceeding thirty-eight weeks in any school year; and provided, however, that any pupil over the age of seventeen years, who is not required to attend the public or high schools, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act.

Approval of course of study and books.

Fifth—The superintendent of public instruction shall have full power from time to time to approve the course of study and the textbook to be used in any private school, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation and no other course of instruction or textbooks shall be used in such schools except the ones approved by the said superintendent of public instruction.

Inspection.

Sixth—The superintendent of public instruction or his authorized deputy shall have power to visit and inspect any private school, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation, at any time. Should he find through inspection or other information that the teacher or teachers in such schools are not conducting said school in harmony with the agreements provided for in this section, he shall have power to revoke any permit granted to such teacher and to discontinue such school until such time as satisfactory teachers may be secured.

Penalties.

Seventh—Any person who shall conduct or teach in a private school, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation, contrary to the provisions of his agreement as specified in this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof punished by a fine not less than twenty-five dollars, which fine shall be paid into the unapportioned county school fund of the county in which the school has been conducted.

Local super-
as deputies.

Eighth—The superintendent of public instruction shall have power to appoint any county, city or city and county superintendent of schools as his deputy to act in investigating such private schools, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation, as are located in this county, city, or city and county, under the jurisdiction of such superintendent and it is hereby made his duty to act without pay in investigating such private schools, conducted wholly or in part in a language of a foreign nation, under the instruction of the superintendent of public instruction.

property.

(2) In case infectious diseases, scale insects, codlin moth, or other insect or animal pests injurious to fruit, plants, vegetables, trees, or vines, or their eggs, or larvae, are found to exist on trees or shrubs in public parks or along streets, highways, or other property subject to the control of a city or county government, or if there is found growing in any public park, street, highway, or on other property subject to the control of a city or county government any Russian thistle, or saltwort, Johnson grass, or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water grasses, or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, when said public park, street, highway, or other property subject to the control of the city or county government is adjacent to rice fields, or canals or ditches used for the purpose of conveying water to rice fields for the irrigation thereof, then said notice in writing shall be served on the chairman of the governing body of said city or county, and in case the work of eradication, or of control, or of destruction of the said pests, diseases, or noxious weeds in the said public parks, streets, highways, or other public property shall be performed by the county horticultural commissioner, then the cost thereof shall become a city or county charge, as the case may be, and shall be paid from the general fund of said city or county; provided, however, that if any such infested or infested articles, property or premises as hereinabove specified belong to any person who is not a resident of the county, and there is no person in control or possession thereof, and such nonresident person has no tenant, bailee, depositary or agent upon whom service can be had; or if the owner or owners of any such articles, property or premises can not after due diligence be found, then such notice may be served by posting the same in some conspicuous place upon such article, property or premises, and by mailing a copy thereof to the owner thereof at his last known place of residence, if the same is known or can be ascertained; or if not known then to the county seat of the county wherein said property is situated.

Places declared public
nuisance.

(3) Any and all such places, or orchards, or nurseries, or rice fields or fields adjacent to rice fields, or canals or ditches used for the purpose of conveying water to rice fields for the irrigation thereof, or trees, plants, shrubs, vegetables, vines, fruit, or articles thus infested or infected, or premises where the Russian thistle or saltwort or Johnson grass or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water grasses, or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, or where any squirrels, gophers or other predatory animals shall be found, are hereby adjudged and declared to be a public nuisance; and whenever any such nuisance shall exist at any place within this county, and the proper notice thereof shall have been served as herein provided, and such nuisance shall not have been abated within the time specified in such notice, it shall be the duty of the county horticultural commissioner to cause said nuisance to be at once abated, by eradicating, or by controlling, or by destroying said diseases, insects, animals or other pests, or their eggs, or larvae, or Russian thistle or saltwort, or Johnson grass or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water grasses, or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture.

(4) The expense thereof shall be a county charge, and the board of supervisors shall allow and pay the same out of the general fund of the county; any and all sums so paid, together with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum shall be and become a lien on the property and premises from which said nuisance has been removed or abated in pursuance of this chapter. Notice of such lien shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the said property and premises are situated within thirty days after the right to the said lien has accrued and a copy of said notice of lien shall be mailed to the person or persons who appear of record to be the owners of any mortgage, trust deed, lien, contract, option, bond, or other incumbrance on said property, at the last known place of residence of said incumbrancer, and if the place of residence of said incumbrancer be unknown to said county horticultural commissioner, then said fact shall be stated in said copy so mailed and it shall be addressed to the county seat of the county wherein said property is situated. Such lien shall take precedence over and be paramount to all mortgages, trust deeds, liens, contracts, options, bonds, or other incumbrances upon the land excepting only the lien of taxes. If said sum secured by such lien be not repaid to said county within eighty days from the filing of said notice of lien then there shall be added to the same and secured by such lien a penalty of fifteen per cent on the amount of said lien. An action to foreclose said lien shall be commenced within ninety days after the filing and recording of said notice of lien, which action shall be brought in the proper court by the district attorney of the county in the name and for the benefit of the county making such payment or payments, and when the property is sold, enough of the proceeds shall be paid into the county treasury of such county to satisfy the lien and costs; and the overplus, if any there be, shall be paid to the owner of the property, if he be known, and if not, into the court for his use when ascertained.

(5) When any such notice of eradication, or of control, or of destruction is served concerning any property, said county horticultural commissioner may cause a copy thereof to be filed for record in the office of the county recorder of the county within which said property is situated, and shall cause a copy thereof to be mailed to the person or persons who appear of record to be the owners of any mortgage, trust deed, lien, contract, option, bond, or other incumbrance on said property, at the last known place of residence of said incumbrancer, and if the place of residence of said incumbrancer be unknown to said county horticultural commissioner, then said fact shall be stated in said copy so mailed and it shall be addressed to the county seat of the county wherein said property is situated.

abating nuisance.

Copy of notice filed.

Summary
abatement.

(6) The county horticultural commissioner is hereby vested with the power to cause any and all such nuisances to be at once abated in a summary manner.

Certificate
to persons engaging in business of eradication.

(7) The county horticultural commissioner shall have power and authority to prescribe and enforce rules for the examination and qualification of any person, persons, firm or corporation, who desires to engage for hire in the business of eradicating or controlling infectious diseases, insect or other animal or weed pests injurious to the plant industry of the state, and to issue certificates to all persons whom he shall find by examination or otherwise to be duly qualified for engaging in such work. Such certificate shall be revocable whenever the county horticultural commissioner shall deem such revocation necessary. No person, persons, firm or corporation shall be permitted to engage for hire in the business of eradicating or controlling infectious diseases, insect or other animal or weed pests injurious to the plant industry of the state, who has not first secured a certificate in the manner herein provided.

CHAPTER 685.

An act to amend section one thousand six hundred sixty-two of the Political Code, relating to elementary schools.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand six hundred sixty-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Courses of study.

1662. First—The courses of study for the day elementary schools of California shall embrace eight years of instruction; and such courses must allot eight years for instruction in subjects required to be taught in such schools and may allot not more than two years for kindergarten instruction.

Age of admission.

Second—The day elementary schools of each school district of California shall be open for the admission of all children between six and twenty-one years of age residing within the boundaries of the district, including Indian children whose education may not otherwise have been provided for by the federal government, and may be open for the admission of adults if the governing body of the district deem such admission advisable; provided, that where kindergarten instruction is given in the schools of a district, such school shall admit children to the kindergarten classes at four years of age; and the reports for the kindergarten classes shall be kept and shall be made separate from other school reports; and provided, further, that wherever a school is established for the instruction of the deaf, such children may be admitted to such school at three years of age; provided, that the average daily attendance of deaf children who are six years of age or older shall be counted as part of the average daily attendance in the day elementary schools.

Third—The governing body of the school district shall have power to exclude children of filthy or vicious habits, or children suffering from contagious or infectious diseases, and also to establish separate schools for Indian children and for children of Chinese, Japanese or Mongolian parentage. When such separate schools are established, Indian children or children of Chinese, Japanese, or Mongolian parentage must not be admitted into any other school.

Children excluded.

Separate schools.

It is further provided, that in school districts in California where the United States government has established an Indian school, or in an area not to exceed three miles from the said Indian school, the Indian children of the district, or districts, eligible for attendance upon such Indian school, may not be admitted to the district school.

Indian schools.

Fourth—The governing body of any elementary school district shall have power to establish and maintain, in connection with any school under its jurisdiction, special day and evening classes for the purpose of giving instruction in any of the branches of study mentioned in section one thousand six hundred sixty-five of this code. These classes may be convened at such hours and for such length of time during the school day or evening, and at such period and for such length of time during the school year as may be determined by such governing authority; and the enrollment of and attendance upon such classes shall be kept separately and the units of average daily attendance shall be determined as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code and shall be added to the attendance of the elementary school district.

Special day and evening classes.

Fifth—The evening elementary schools and the special day and evening classes of the elementary schools of any school district shall be open for the admission of all children over the age of sixteen years, residing in the district and for the admission of adults.

Age of admission

Sixth—The board of education of any city school district, upon recommendation of the city superintendent of schools, or the board of school trustees of any elementary school district, upon recommendation of the county superintendent of schools, may establish and maintain one or more separate classes for pupils who would profit more from a course other than the regular course of study prescribed for the elementary schools, and may substitute for the regular course of study other types of school work or study approved by the superintendent of schools as being better adapted to the mental needs of the pupils enrolled. Pupils enrolled in such classes shall be required to use the state series of textbooks only in so far as such textbooks may be adapted to the work of such classes, but all textbooks and materials required in such classes shall be furnished free.

Classes differing from regular course.

Registration of minors.

Seventh—(a) The first full week in October of each year is hereby designated as official registration week for minors under eighteen years of age and over three years of age; provided, that in case of epidemic, fire, flood, or other public disaster which would make it undesirable or impossible to provide for this registration during such week, the governing board of such district shall designate a week, not later than fifteen days after said school has reopened, as official registration week; and shall post a notice thereof on the school house and otherwise advertise the new date set for such registration. Said registration shall be conducted on every day of said week except Sunday and holidays.

Registrars.

The principal and elementary school teachers of the district shall serve in their respective schools as registrars of minors; and it is hereby made the duty of such principal and teachers to so act. Should there be a vacancy in any regular teaching position in any district, or should any teacher of a district be unable to act on account of illness or other cause that would be sufficient to excuse him from regular school work, some other teacher or some other person or persons appointed by the board shall take his place as registrar.

Blanks

(b) It shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction to prescribe registration and such other blanks as are necessary to record information regarding sex, age, nationality of parents, nativity, residence, education, occupation, and such other information as he may deem necessary in providing free educational opportunities under the laws of this state; such blanks to be provided in cities and counties by the boards of education, and in territory outside of cities, by the superintendent of schools of the county.

Duty of parents.

(c) It shall be the duty of every parent, guardian, or other person having control or charge of any minor under the age of eighteen years, and over the age of three years, to cause such minor to be registered each year according to the provisions of law, on the official registration days at a public elementary schoolhouse in the school district in which he resides.

When the place of residence of a minor under eighteen years of age has been changed after the first full week in October, the parents, guardians, or other person or persons having control or charge of such minor shall within ten days after coming into the district, or on the first day of the opening of the school term, cause him to be registered during the regular school hours on a regular school day at a public elementary schoolhouse of the district into which he has moved.

Registration after specified dates.

(d) Any parent, guardian, or other person who for any reason fails to cause any minor under eighteen years of age over which he has control or charge, to be registered on or within the dates specified in this section, may appeal to the governing board of the district for the privilege of registering at once such minor; and, if in the opinion of said board such parent, guardian, or other person shows good and sufficient cause why he failed to perform such duty, said board may permit him to register such minor.

Should a teacher, a member of a board of education, or an attendance officer know of any minor under eighteen years of age who is not registered as provided by this section, said official is hereby authorized and it is his duty to provide for the registration of such minor.

CHAPTER 686.

An act to protect domestic live stock from contagious and infectious diseases, to prescribe the duties of officials to carry into effect the provisions of this act, to provide for the appointment of a veterinarian, and to repeal an act entitled, "An act to protect domestic live stock from contagious and infectious diseases, to provide for the appointment and duties of officials to carry into effect the provisions of this act, and to provide an appropriation therefor," approved March 18, 1899, as amended.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Upon information received by the director of agriculture, or his duly authorized representative or agent, of the existence of any contagious or infectious disease affecting domestic animals within this state, he shall proceed to thoroughly investigate the same, and he is hereby authorized to establish such quarantine, sanitary, and police regulations as may be necessary to circumscribe and exterminate such diseases and prevent the extension thereof. He is authorized and empowered to enter upon any grounds or premises and inspect any animal necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Whenever any county or counties shall enact any ordinance providing for quarantine against any contagious or infectious disease, such quarantine shall be maintained by official veterinarians acting under the direction and authority of the director of agriculture. No county or counties shall enact ordinances inconsistent with the rules and regulations promulgated by the director of agriculture for the purpose of preventing the spread of such contagious and infectious diseases within said county or part thereof.

SEC. 2. Upon the discovery of any case of contagious or infectious disease affecting any domestic animal or animals in the State of California, the director of agriculture shall have the power and it shall be his duty to quarantine such diseased animal or animals, and when necessary other animals which have been in contact with such diseased animal or animals, upon the land or premises where such animal or animals are located, and thereafter it shall be unlawful for the owner or owners of the animal or animals quarantined, their agents or employees, to break such quarantine or to move or allow to be moved any of such animals from within the premises or across the quarantine line so established without first obtaining a permit from said director of agriculture. If said director of agriculture shall deem it proper to issue a permit after inspection, he shall cause such animals, premises and vehicles of transportation to be properly cleaned and disinfected.

County
quarantine.

SEC. 3. Whenever it shall become necessary to restrict the movements of domestic animals from any county or counties or portion thereof within this state on account of the fact that such animals are liable to transmit an infectious disease to animals not so affected, it shall be the duty of the director of agriculture, by and with the approval of the governor, to quarantine the animals in such county or counties or portion thereof in order to prevent the spread of such disease. The governor shall issue his proclamation, proclaiming the boundaries of such quarantine, and thereafter, while said proclamation is in force and effect, no person, firm, company, or corporation, their agents and servants, shall move or allow to be moved any such animals within the boundaries of said quarantine without the approval, and if such approval is given, without a permit issued by said director of agriculture, after said animals have first been inspected, and if necessary, disinfected by the director of agriculture, or his duly authorized representative.

Quarantine
against state or foreign country.

SEC. 4. Whenever the director of agriculture shall have determined that an infectious disease exists among domestic animals in any other state or territory in the United States of America, or in any foreign country, and the importation of domestic animals from said state, territory or foreign country might spread such disease among domestic animals within the State of California, said director of agriculture shall notify the governor thereof, and the governor, if he deem it expedient, shall issue his proclamation proclaiming the facts as set forth by said director of agriculture, and said proclamation shall prescribe quarantine restrictions against said state, territory or foreign country, which restrictions shall prescribe that under no conditions shall said animals be brought into the State of California from said state, territory or foreign country, or if circumstances shall warrant, said proclamation shall prescribe the conditions under which such animals may be brought into the state.

Veterinarian to be chief of division of animal industry.

SEC. 5. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act, the director of agriculture is hereby authorized to appoint a veterinarian, who at the date of such appointment shall be a graduate in good standing of a recognized college of veterinary medicine, legally qualified to practice as such in the state, and who shall hold the office of chief of the division of animal industry, as provided in section three of an act creating a department of agriculture, providing for its organization and declaring its functions; transferring to said department the powers and duties of various state agencies and the unexpended balances of their appropriations and funds; prohibiting certain acts, and prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof, and who shall hold office at the pleasure of the director of agriculture.

SEC. 6. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not less than fifty dollars or more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months or both such fine and imprisonment. Penalties.

SEC. 7. An act to protect domestic live stock from contagious and infectious diseases, to provide for the appointment and duties of officials to carry into effect the provisions of this act, and to provide an appropriation therefor, approved March 18, 1899, as amended, and any other acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. Repealed.

CHAPTER 687.

An act appropriating money for buildings and equipment for the Industrial Home for the Adult Blind.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of seventy-six thousand three hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used in accordance with law for buildings and equipment for the Industrial Home for the Adult Blind. Appropriation: buildings, Industrial Home for the Adult Blind.

CHAPTER 688.

An act to provide for the inspection of foreign cold storage meat sold or offered for sale within the State of California for purposes of human consumption; authorizing the director of agriculture to prescribe rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, to sell, offer for sale, or have in possession for sale, any cold storage meat that has been imported into the State of California from without the United States, with- Inspection of foreign cold storage meat.

out having first obtained a license from the director of agriculture as hereinafter provided, and without having submitted all such meat for inspection and examination at port of entry. The director of agriculture shall cause all such meat to be inspected upon arrival, and shall establish such bacteriological or chemical standards as he shall deem proper to determine the wholesomeness and fitness of such meat for human consumption; any meats found unfit for human consumption shall be marked conspicuously with the words "unfit for human consumption" and the sale thereof for human food is hereby prohibited. All meats inspected and passed for food as provided in this act shall be marked with a tag of such size and design as shall be promulgated by the rules and regulations established by the director of agriculture for the enforcement of this act, and shall bear the words "foreign cold storage meat inspected and passed by the state department of agriculture." Such tag shall not be removed until the meat is cut for retail, and meats so tagged shall at all times be subject to reinspection.

Statement
of sale.

SEC. 2. Wholesalers, dealers, or importers selling, handling, or furnishing cold storage meat imported from without the United States, are hereby required to forward by registered mail to the director of agriculture a certified statement on the first day of July, October, January and April of all sales of such meat made by these respective persons, firms or corporations, during the last preceding three months and in each case shall state the name and address of the purchaser and the amount of each and every sale.

License.

SEC. 3. The director of agriculture, upon application of any person, firm, or corporation, selling, dealing or furnishing foreign cold storage meat, shall issue a license to such applicant providing the application is accompanied by a fee of ten dollars for retailers, and five dollars for hotels, restaurants, lunch rooms, dining cars, or boarding houses, selling, handling, furnishing, or serving such cold storage meat. All such licenses shall expire on June 30 of each year, and may be issued in periods of one year or less than one year, on payment of a proportionate part of the license fee herein mentioned, provided that no license shall be issued for a period of less than three months.

Rules and regulations.

SEC. 4. For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this act, the director of agriculture is hereby authorized to make such rules and regulations as he shall deem necessary and prescribe such inspection fees as may be required to defray the actual cost of such inspection and he is hereby given authority to enter upon any premises for the purpose of making such inspections and investigations, or the examining of books, papers, or documents of any person, firm or corporation as shall be deemed necessary to execute the provisions of this act.

SEC. 5. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to violate any provisions of this act or any of the rules and regulations authorized herein, and upon conviction of the violation thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Penalties.

SEC. 6. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act if for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. Constitutionality.

CHAPTER 689.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section seventeen of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor,' and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act," approved April 21, 1911, as amended, by amending section two thereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section seventeen of an act approved Stats. 1917, p. 1033, amended.

March 4, 1897, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor,' and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act." approved April 21, 1911. is hereby amended to read as follows:

Unsanitary
dairies.

Sec. 2. A dairy shall be deemed unsanitary within the meaning of this act, among other causes that render milk, or products made therefrom, unclean, impure, and unhealthy, in the following cases:

(a) If the drinking water is stagnant, polluted with manure, urine, drainage, decaying vegetable or animal matter.

(b) If the yards or enclosures are filthy or unsanitary or if any part of such yards or enclosures, other than pastures, are made the depositories of manure in heaps or otherwise where it is allowed to ferment and decay.

(c) If a suitable milk house or room is not provided and maintained, properly screened to exclude flies and insects, for the purpose of cooling, mixing, canning, and keeping the milk. Said milk house or room, shall not be located in or be a part of any residence, or dwelling house, or any barn or poultry house, and shall not be used for any other purpose whatsoever.

(d) If any milk or cream shall be cooled, stored, mixed, canned, or kept in any room or place which is occupied by any person or persons as a sleeping or living apartment, or occupied by horses, cows, hogs or other animals, or fowls of any kind, and if the milk or cream shall not be cooled to as low a temperature as practicable within one hour after it is drawn from the cows.

(e) If any urinal, privy vault, open cesspool, horse stable, pig pen, stagnant water, accumulation of manure or other filth shall be permitted within one hundred feet of any such milk house or room, or within fifty feet of any cow stalls or stanchions or other place where milking is done.

(f) If the walls become soiled with manure, urine or other filth.

(g) If to the interior of cattle stables, barns, milking sheds, milk house or room, an application of lime whitewash is not made at least once in two years, or oftener if in the judgment of the agent of the state dairy bureau it is needed, or if in the mangers, or other receptacles from which cows are fed, decaying food or other material is allowed to accumulate.

(h) If the pails, cans, bottles or other containers for milk or its products, or the strainers, coolers or other utensils, appliances, apparatus or equipment coming in contact with the milk or its products are not thoroughly washed and afterward sterilized by exposing them to water or water vapor at a temperature above one hundred seventy degrees Fahrenheit for a period of at least fifteen minutes or by boiling water or by superheated steam each and every time the same are used; or if the said containers, utensils, appliances or equipment after sterilization are not adequately protected from flies and dust and all other contamination; or if any of said containers, utensils, appliances or equipment shall be used for any purpose other than that of handling milk or its products.

(i) If the person or wearing apparel of the dairyman, his employees, or other persons, who come in contact with milk and its products, are soiled or not washed from time to time with reasonable frequency.

CHAPTER 690.

An act to establish standards for the packing, marketing and sale of apples, forbidding the sale of certain infected and diseased apples, providing for the inspection and certification thereof, and for its enforcement, fixing penalties for its violation and repealing an act entitled "The standard apple act of 1917," approved May 7, 1917, as amended.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known and for any and all ^{Title of act.} purposes may be designated and referred to as "the California standard apple act."

SEC. 2. The following standard grades and standard box ^{Standard grades.} are hereby established for apples. packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in the State of California.

(a) The "California fancy" grade shall consist of apples ^{"California fancy."} of well grown, properly matured specimens of one variety; hand picked, well colored and normally shaped for the locality where produced, uniform in size, well packed and shall be free from insect pests, diseases, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spot, insect bites, bruises, skin broken at stem and other defects, except such bruises and defects as are necessarily caused in the operation of packing, and virtually free from dirt; provided, however, that a variation from the said standard as to insect pests, diseases, dry rot, Baldwin spot, insect bites, bruises and other defects shall be allowed not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package not to exceed five per cent of any one such defect; and provided, further, that a variation in the size of the apples shall be allowed not to exceed three-eighths of one inch when measured through the widest portion of cross-section thereof.

(b) The "B grade" shall consist of apples of well-grown, ^{"B grade."} properly matured specimens of one variety, hand picked, uniform in size, well packed, free from insect pests, diseases, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spot, insect bites, sun scald and frost bite more than skin deep, and bruises resulting in the breaking of the skin and virtually free from dirt; provided, however, that insect bites, which have healed in the process of maturity of the apples and which do not cause serious deformity, slightly misshapen apples, and scab spots on any one apple not larger than one-fourth inch in diameter in the aggregate shall be permitted in this grade; that a variation in size of the apples shall be allowed, not to exceed three-eighths of one inch when measured through widest portion of cross-section thereof, and that a variation from the said standard, as to insect pests, diseases, dry rot, Baldwin spots, bruises and other defects, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed five per cent of any one such defect.

"C grade."

(c) The "C grade" shall consist of apples of properly matured specimens of one variety, free from insect pests, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spots and diseases; provided, that scab spots on any one apple not larger than one-fourth inch in diameter in the aggregate shall be permitted in this grade; provided, further, that a variation from said standard as to insect pests, dry rot, Baldwin spots and diseases shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed five per cent of any one such defect.

Standard container.

(d) The standard container shall be a box of the following dimensions, inside measurements, when measured without distention of parts: Depth of end ten and one-half inches; width of end eleven and one-half inches; length of box eighteen inches, and having a cubical content of as nearly as possible two thousand one hundred seventy-three and one-half cubic inches.

Irregular container.

(e) All packed apples, when shipped, offered for sale or sold, shall be placed in the standard box herein described; provided, however, that other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch high "irregular container."

Statement on container.

SEC. 3. Every packed container of apples shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in the State of California, shall bear upon the outside thereof, and on the end, in plain words or figures and in the English language, the following: The grade of the apples therein contained, as herein defined; the designation of grade, when the stamps hereinafter provided for are not used, being stated in letters not smaller than thirty-six point type, that is, not less than one-half inch in height; the number of apples contained in the package, or the minimum net weight of the apples contained therein; the variety of the apples contained in the package, unless the variety be unknown to the packer, in which case the variety shall be stated as unknown; the name and business address of the person, firm, company, organization or corporation, who first packed or caused the same to be packed, and if repacked, the name and business address of the person, firm, company, organization or corporation who repacked the same or caused same to be repacked; the date when such apples were first packed, or if repacked, the date of repacking, and on each container of apples which have been held in cold storage for more than fifteen days after being packed a statement showing the fact that the contents have been held in cold storage; provided, however, that a variation of five apples, more or less, than the number stated, shall be allowed.

(a) The term "packed" whenever used in this act, shall mean the regular, compact arrangement of all or a part of the fruit in any container.

(b) The terms "three and one-half tier," "four tier," "four and one-half tier" and "five tier" whenever used as the designation of the size of apples sold or offered for sale, shall have the following meanings, respectively, to wit: Meaning of "tier."

The term "three and one-half tier" shall mean an apple larger in size than three and one-eighth inches when measured through the widest cross-section thereof; the term "four tier" shall mean an apple larger in size than two and five-eighths inches and not larger than three and one-eighth inches, when so measured; the term "four and one-half tier" shall mean an apple not smaller in size than two and one-fourth inches nor larger than two and five-eighths inches, when so measured; the term "five tier" shall mean an apple not smaller in size than one and seven-eighths inches nor larger than two and one-fourth inches, when so measured.

SEC. 4. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation shall sell or offer for sale, within the State of California, any apples labeled, designated, invoiced or represented to be, of "California fancy" or "B" or "C" grade, whether contained in closed packages or otherwise, unless the same shall conform to the standard for such grade herein established. Apples to conform to standard.

SEC. 5. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation shall import into this state or sell, barter, offer for sale or have in his possession for sale any apples infected with any insect pest or the pupæ or larvæ thereof or any disease; provided, however, that this section shall not be construed to prevent a grower of fruits so infected in the State of California from selling the same as a part of his crop in bulk, to a packer, or to prevent a grower or packer from manufacturing the same into an apple by-product or from selling the same to any person for the express and sole purpose of such manufacture; and provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall be construed to be limited by the variations allowed by the terms of section two of this act. Sale of infected apples.

SEC. 6. No statement, figure, design or device appearing upon any container in which apples are sold, bartered, or offered for sale, or in which apples are packed for sale or Misleading statements.

shipment, or upon the braud or lining of any such container, or upon the wrapper of any apple therein contained, or upon any sign or placard used in connection therewith and having reference to the apples contained, shall be false or misleading, in any particular. The word "fancy" shall not be used with reference to any apples the grade of which does not conform to the standard for "California fancy" as in this act defined.

director of agriculture in enforce-ing act.

SEC. 7. The director of agriculture of California shall be charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, and for that purpose shall have the power:

(a) To enter and to inspect every place within the State of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all apples and apple containers and equipment found in any such place.

(b) To provide a uniform method of stamping, or otherwise marking or identifying packages of apples which have been inspected by him or his deputies or inspectors; such method when once provided shall not be changed during that fiscal year, but with this exception, may be varied from time to time as he may determine.

(c) In accordance with the provisions of the civil service law of this state, to appoint, superintend, control and discharge such chief inspectors and subordinate inspectors as in his discretion may be deemed to be necessary, for the special purpose of enforcing the terms of this act, to prescribe their duties, and, in conjunction with the board of control, to fix their compensation.

(d) Personally, or through any deputy or any such inspector, to seize and retain possession of, any apples or apple boxes packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

(e) In the name of the people of the State of California to cause to be instituted and to prosecute, in the superior court of any county or city and county of the State of California in which apples packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act, may be found, an action or actions for the condemnation of apples as provided in section thirteen of this act.

(f) The director of agriculture at the request of any person interested, personally, or by his duly appointed deputies or inspectors, may inspect any package or lot of apples and at the request of any person interested may issue a certificate stating the fact and the quality and condition of the package or lot of apples so inspected. Such certificate shall be received in evidence in any of the courts of the State of California as prima facie proof of the truth of the statements therein contained. For such inspection certificate, when the apples have theretofore been inspected by him, his deputies or inspectors, the director of agriculture may charge and collect such fee as he may determine to be reasonable; provided, that such fees shall be uniform for each fiscal year.

(g) From time to time to establish, promulgate and enforce such reasonable and uniform rules and regulations not in conflict with any provisions of this act, as he may deem to be proper for the conduct of inspectors, the inspection of fruit, the use of stamps, marks or other designation, the form of and the collection of fees for certificates and the charges to be made hereunder for the use of such stamps, marks or other designation.

SEC. 8. For the privilege of affixing to or using upon any container of apples the stamp, mark or other designation provided by the director of agriculture to identify apples which have been inspected as provided by section seven of this act, there shall be paid to said director not in excess of three-fourths of one cent for each container bearing such stamp, mark or other designation. No such stamp, mark or other designation so provided by the director of agriculture shall be affixed to or used upon any container of apples, the contents of which have not been inspected, or which is not one of a unit of like containers so inspected. All moneys received by the director of agriculture for certificate fees, or for such privileges, shall be paid over to the treasurer of the State of California, who shall deposit the same to the credit of the standard apple fund, which fund is hereby created to be used exclusively for the payment of the expenses of enforcing the provisions of this act, and to be paid out only upon claims approved by the director of agriculture and by the board of control. Subject to the approval of the board of control, one thousand dollars of the standard apple fund may be used as a revolving fund for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this act.

Fee for affixing stamp.

SEC. 9. The inspectors appointed by the director of agriculture of California, as in section seven hereof provided, shall be citizens of the United States, and of the State of California, not less than twenty-one years of age, shall be skilled in the inspection of apples, and have a thorough knowledge of insect pests and diseases commonly preying upon such fruit; they shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the State of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect all such places and apples and apple containers, found in any such place; and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the director of agriculture of California, or by law.

Qualifications of inspectors.

The said director of agriculture shall assign such inspectors to such territory, within the state, as he may see fit; provided, that when for any year the moneys paid in for certificates and for the privilege of using the said stamps or marks, by packers in any town, city or district, shall yield a sum of money sufficient to pay the expense thereof, such director of agriculture shall assign one inspector or more for special duty in such town, city or district, during the packing season of that year, or for a longer period, if deemed to be necessary.

Duties of Inspectors.

SEC. 10. Every such inspector shall have power to enter and to inspect any place within this state where any apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such apples and the containers thereof and the equipment found in any such place. It shall be the duty of the inspectors to enforce the provisions of this act and to cause the prosecution of any person, company, firm, corporation or organization, whom he knows or has reason to believe to be guilty of the violation of any of its provisions. Every inspector, in the performance of his duties, shall have the same powers possessed by peace officers under the laws of the State of California.

Repacking.

SEC. 11. No container to or on which is attached any such stamp or on which shall appear the designation of grade as "California fancy," "B grade" or "C grade" shall be used as the container of any apples, other than those originally packed therein, until such stamp or grade designation has been removed; provided, that when apples are repacked, without the addition of new stock, other than stock of the same grade and from the same lot of which the package or packages repacked is or are a part, the same containers may be used without removing the stamps or grade designations.

Right of
inspection.

SEC. 12. No person, firm, company, organization, or corporation, shall refuse to permit the director of agriculture of California, or any of his duly appointed deputies, or any inspector duly appointed by said director of agriculture under the provisions of this act, to enter or to inspect any place within the State of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, or to inspect such places, or any apples or apple containers or any equipment found there.

Penalties.

SEC. 13. Any person, firm, company, organization or corporation, who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Seizure of apples illegally packed.

SEC. 14. Any apples packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and the containers in which they may be, shall be deemed to be a public nuisance, may be seized by said director of agriculture, his deputies or any inspector appointed as herein provided, and by order of the superior court of the county, or city and county, within which the same may be found shall be condemned and destroyed, or released upon such conditions as the court, in its discretion, may impose to insure that they will not be packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Sec. 15. It shall be lawful for any person, firm, corporation or organization and for any common carrier to refuse to accept for shipment or transportation and to refuse to ship or transport any apples which upon inspection are found to be or to be packed in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and any such person, firm, corporation, organization or common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other writing given to the consignor thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or to hold at the expense and risk of the latter all apples which upon inspection are found to be or to be packed in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Common carrier may refuse to accept shipments.

Sec. 16. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall be convicted of a violation of any provision of this act, if he shall establish a guaranty, signed by the person, firm, company, organization, or corporation, residing or lawfully engaged in business in the State of California, by or for whom the apples in question were originally packed, or repacked, to the effect that the apples, container, brand and label in question comply in all respects with the provisions of this act, and in addition, shall establish that the same are in substantially the same condition, in every respect, as they were when they were delivered out of the possession of such packer, and that the accused was not aware that such apples, container, brand or label, were or was in any respect in violation of any provision of this act. The signature to such guaranty may be printed, when done by the authority of the signer. To afford protection, such guaranty, in form and substance, must be substantially as follows:

Guaranty.

“The undersigned guarantees that (this box or other package of apples or the boxes or other packages of apples mentioned in this, or the attached invoice, or all boxes or other packages of apples packed or repacked by the undersigned), comply in all respects with the California standard apple act. (Signature of the packer, with statement as to whether packer is firm, company, organization or corporation and business address.)”

Form.

Where the guaranty is used on each separate box, it may consist of the legend, “guaranteed by the packer, under the California standard apple act,” printed, stamped or written on the labeled or branded end of the package.

Sec. 17. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of the county, or city and county, in which any violation of this act may occur, to prosecute the person, firm, company, organization or corporation accused of such violation, and also, at the request of the director of agriculture, or any one of his deputies, to institute and prosecute such actions for condemnation as may be authorized under the provisions of this act.

Duty of district attorney.

Effect on foods and drugs act.

SEC. 18. No act which is made unlawful by any provision of an act of the legislature of the State of California, entitled, "An act for preventing the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods and liquors and regulating the traffic therein, providing penalties, establishing a state laboratory for foods, liquors and drugs and making an appropriation therefor," approved March 11, 1907, or any amendment thereto, shall be deemed lawful by reason of any provision of this act; nor shall this act be construed in any respect to limit the powers of the state board of health.

Constitution-
ality.

SEC. 19. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

An act entitled "An act to establish standards for the packing and marketing of apples, forbidding the sale of certain infected and diseased apples, providing for its enforcement, fixing penalties for its violation, and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions thereof, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to establish a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions, and providing for its enforcement and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions hereof,' approved June 10, 1915," approved May 7, 1917, statutes 1917, page 285, amended statutes 1919, page 258, is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 691.

An act to provide for the maintenance of schools for the children of migratory laborers in the rural districts of the state and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Schools for children of migratory laborers.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction to superintend, organize and maintain special classes of elementary grade for the education of children of migratory laborers in the rural districts of this state. Within the limits of the appropriation hereinafter made, he is empowered to employ the necessary teachers, purchase the necessary supplies and incur such additional maintenance charges as may be necessary for the education of such children. Schools or classes organized under the provisions of this act may be held in the public school house of the school district in which such children reside or in such other quarters as the superintendent of public instruction may deem suitable for the purpose; provided, that no public school house shall be used for this purpose without the consent of the governing board of the district. It shall be the duty of the county superintendent of schools and of school boards to cooperate with the superintendent of public instruction in carrying out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2. The sum of ten thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used in accordance with law for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

Appropriation.

CHAPTER 692.

An act to amend section sixty-seven a of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the superior court of Los Angeles county.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

67a. In counties of the first class there shall be twenty-three judges of the superior court, any one or more of whom may hold court, and there may be as many sessions of said court at the same time as there are judges thereof. The said judges shall choose from their own number, a presiding judge, who may at any time be removed as presiding judge and another judge chosen in his place by a vote of any twelve of them. The presiding judge shall distribute the business of the court among the judges thereof, and prescribe the order of business and perform such other duties as the judges of the said court may by rule provide. The judgments, orders, and proceedings of any session of the superior court held by any one or more of the judges of the said court shall be equally as effective as if all the said judges of said court presided at such session. Within thirty days after this act goes into effect, the governor shall appoint three additional judges of the superior court in counties of the first class, in addition to the twenty superior court judges already provided by law in and for the said counties of the first class, who shall hold office until the first Monday after the first day of January 1923. At the next general election to be held in November, A. D. 1922 three additional judges of the superior court shall be elected in counties of the first class who shall be successors of the judges appointed hereunder, to hold office for the term prescribed by the constitution and by law. The salaries of the other judges shall be the same in amount and be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of the other judges of the said counties of the first class now authorized by law.

Superior court of Los Angeles county.

CHAPTER 693.

An act to provide for the inspection, classification, regulation and licensing of warehouses and other enclosures where agricultural products are stored, providing penalties for violations hereof, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Title. SECTION 1. This act shall be known by the short title of "California warehouse act."

Definitions. SEC. 2. The term "warehouse" as used in this act shall be deemed to mean every elevator, building, structure, or other protected inclosure within the State of California in which any agricultural product is or may be stored. The term "agricultural product" wherever used in this act shall be deemed to mean cotton, wool, hay, fertilizer, grain products, grains, tobacco, rice, beans and flaxseed, or any of them. As used in this act, "person" includes a corporation, municipality, partnership, or two or more persons having a joint or common interest; "warehouseman" means a person lawfully engaged in the business of storing agricultural products; and "receipt" means a warehouse receipt. As used in this act "director of agriculture" means the director of the state department of agriculture.

Powers of director of agriculture. SEC. 3. The director of agriculture is authorized to investigate the storage, warehousing, classifying according to grade and otherwise, weighing, and certification of agricultural products; upon application to him by any person applying for license to conduct a warehouse under this act, to inspect such warehouse or cause it to be inspected; at any time, with or without application to him, to inspect or cause to be inspected all warehouses licensed under this act; to determine whether warehouses for which licenses are applied for or have been issued under this act are suitable for the proper storage of any agricultural product or products; to classify warehouses licensed or applying for a license in accordance with their ownership, location, surroundings, capacity, conditions, and other qualities, and as to the kinds of licenses issued or that may be issued for them pursuant to this act; and to prescribe, within the limitations of this act, the duties of the warehousemen conducting warehouses licensed under this act with respect to their care of and responsibility for agricultural products stored therein.

License to conduct warehouse. SEC. 4. The director of agriculture is authorized, upon application to him, to issue to any warehouseman a license for the conduct of a warehouse or warehouses in accordance with this act and such rules and regulations as may be made hereunder; provided, that each such warehouse be found suitable for the proper storage of the particular agricultural product or products for which a license is applied for, and that such warehouseman agree, as a condition to the granting of the license, to comply with and abide by all the terms of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder.

SEC. 5. Each license issued under sections four and nine ^{Term.} of this act shall be issued for a period not exceeding one year and shall specify the date upon which it is to terminate, and upon showing satisfactory to the director of agriculture may from time to time be renewed or extended by a written instrument, which shall specify the date of its termination.

SEC. 6. Each warehouseman applying for a license to con- ^{Bond of warehouse-} duct a warehouse in accordance with this act shall, as a condi- ^{man.} tion to the granting thereof, execute and file with the director of agriculture a good and sufficient bond to the State of California to secure the faithful performance of his obligations as a warehouseman under the laws of the State of California, as well as under the terms of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder, and of such additional obligations as a warehouseman as may be assumed by him under contracts with the respective depositors of agricultural products in such warehouse. Said bond shall be in such form and amount, shall have such surety or sureties, subject to service of process in suits on the bond within the State of California, and shall contain such terms and conditions as the director of agriculture may prescribe to carry out the purposes of this act. Whenever the director of agriculture shall determine that a bond approved by him is, or for any cause has become, insufficient, he may require an additional bond or bonds to be given by the warehouseman concerned, conforming with the requirements of this section, and unless the same be given within the time fixed by a written demand therefor the license of such warehouseman may be suspended or revoked.

SEC. 7. Any person injured by the breach of any obliga- ^{Suit on} tion to secure which a bond is given, under the provisions of ^{bond.} sections six or nine, shall be entitled to sue on the bond in his own name in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover the damages he may have sustained by such breach.

SEC. 8. Upon the filing with and approval by the director ^{Bonded} of agriculture of a bond, in compliance with this act, for the ^{warehouse.} conduct of a warehouse, such warehouse shall be designated as California bonded hereunder; but no warehouse shall be designated as bonded under this act, and no name or description conveying the impression that it is so bonded, shall be used, until a bond, such as provided for in section six has been filed with and approved by the director of agriculture, nor unless the license issued under this act for the conduct of such warehouse remains unsuspended and unrevoked.

SEC. 9. The director of agriculture may, under such rules ^{License to} and regulations as he shall prescribe, issue a license to any ^{person not} person not a warehouseman to accept the custody of agricul- ^{a ware-} ^{houseman.}

tural products and to store the same in a warehouse or warehouses owned, operated, or leased by the State of California, or any municipality, upon condition that such person agree to comply with and abide by the terms of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder. Each person so licensed shall issue receipts for the agricultural products placed in his custody, and shall give bond, in accordance with the provisions of this act, and the rules and regulations hereunder affecting warehousemen licensed under this act, and shall otherwise be subject to this act and such rules and regulations to the same extent as is provided for warehousemen licensed hereunder.

Fees.

SEC. 10. The director of agriculture shall charge, assess, and cause to be collected a reasonable fee for every examination or inspection of a warehouse under this act when such examination or inspection is made upon application of a warehouseman, and a fee not exceeding two dollars per annum for each license or renewal thereof issued to a warehouseman under this act. All such fees shall be deposited and covered into the treasury of the State of California and shall be credited to the standardization fund subject to the uses of the director of agriculture for the carrying out of the provisions of this act.

License to classify and certify products.

SEC. 11. The director of agriculture may, upon presentation of satisfactory proof of competency, issue to any person a license to classify any agricultural product or products, stored or to be stored in a warehouse licensed under this act, according to grade or otherwise and to certificate the grade or other class thereof, or to weigh the same and certificate the weight thereof, or both to classify and weigh the same and to certificate the grade or other class and the weight thereof, upon condition that such person agree to comply with and abide by the terms of this act and of the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder so far as the same relate to him.

Suspension and revocation of license.

SEC. 12. Any license issued to any person to classify or to weigh any agricultural product or products under this act may be suspended or revoked by the director of agriculture whenever he is satisfied, after opportunity afforded to the licensee concerned for a hearing, that such licensee has failed to classify or to weigh any agricultural product or products correctly, or has violated any of the provisions of this act or of the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder, so far as the same may relate to him, or that he has used his license or allowed it to be used for any improper purpose whatsoever. Pending investigation, the director of agriculture, whenever he deems necessary, may suspend a license temporarily without hearing.

No discrimination.

SEC. 13. Every warehouseman conducting a warehouse licensed under this act shall receive for storage therein, so far as its capacity permits, any agricultural product of the kind customarily stored therein by him which may be tendered to him in a suitable condition for warehousing, in the usual manner in the ordinary and usual course of business, without making any discrimination between persons desiring to avail themselves of warehouse facilities.

SEC. 14. Any person who deposits agricultural products for storage in a warehouse licensed under this act shall be deemed to have deposited the same subject to the terms of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder. Storage subject to act.

SEC. 15. Grain, flaxseed, or any other fungible agricultural product stored for state, in a warehouse licensed under this act shall be inspected and graded by a person duly licensed to grade the same under this act. Inspection of grain,
etc.

SEC. 16. Every warehouseman conducting a warehouse licensed under this act shall keep the agricultural products therein of one depositor so far separate from agricultural products of other depositors, and from other agricultural products of the same depositor for which a separate receipt has been issued, as to permit at all times the identification and redelivery of the agricultural products deposited; but if authorized by agreement or by custom, a warehouseman may mingle fungible agricultural products with other agricultural products of the same kind and grade, and shall be severally liable to each depositor for the care and redelivery of his share of such mass, to the same extent and under the same circumstances as if the agricultural products had been kept separate, but he shall at no time while they are in his custody mix fungible agricultural products of different grades. Depositors' products
separately.

SEC. 17. For all agricultural products stored for state, interstate or foreign commerce, in a warehouse licensed under this act original receipts shall be issued by the warehouseman conducting the same, but no receipts shall be issued except for agricultural products actually stored in the warehouse at the time of the issuance thereof. Receipts.

SEC. 18. Every receipt issued for agricultural products stored in a warehouse licensed under this act shall embody within its written or printed terms (a) the location of the warehouse in which the agricultural products are stored; (b) the date of issue of the receipt; (c) the consecutive number of the receipt; (d) a statement whether the agricultural products received will be delivered to the bearer, to a specified person, or to a specified person or his order; (e) the rate of storage charges; (f) a description of the agricultural products received, showing the quantity thereof, or, in case of agricultural products customarily put up in bales or packages, a description of such bales or packages by marks, numbers, or other means of identification and the weight of such bales or packages; (g) the grade or other class of the agricultural products received and the standard or description in accordance with which such classification has been made; provided, that such grade or other class shall be stated according to the official standard of the United States applicable to such agricultural products as the same may be fixed and promulgated. Contents of receipts.

under authority of law; provided, further, that until such official standards of the United States for any agricultural product or products have been fixed and promulgated, the grade or other class thereof may be stated in accordance with any recognized standard or in accordance with such rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith as may be prescribed by the director of agriculture; (h) a statement that the receipt is issued subject to the California warehouse act and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder; (i) if the receipt be issued for agricultural products of which the warehouseman is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership; (j) a statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouseman claims a lien; provided, that if the precise amount of such advances made or of such liabilities incurred be at the time of the issue of the receipt unknown to the warehouseman or his agent who issues it, a statement of the fact that advances have been made or liabilities incurred and the purpose thereof shall be sufficient; (k) such other terms and conditions within the limitations of this act as may be required by the director of agriculture; and (l) the signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent; provided, that unless otherwise required by law, when requested by the depositor of other than fungible agricultural products, a receipt omitting compliance with subdivision (g) of this section may be issued.

Establish-
standards.

SEC. 19. The director of agriculture is authorized, from time to time, to establish and promulgate standards for agricultural products in this act defined by which their quality or value may be judged or determined; provided, that federal standards for grain established under authority of the United States grain standards act shall be considered as the official standards for California under the provisions of this act.

New
receipts.

SEC. 20. While an original receipt issued under this act is outstanding and uncancelled by the warehouseman issuing the same no other or further receipt shall be issued for the agricultural product covered thereby or for any part thereof, except that in the case of a lost or destroyed receipt a new receipt, upon the same terms and subject to the same conditions and bearing on its face the number and date of the receipt in lieu of which it is issued, may be issued upon compliance with the statutes of the State of California applicable thereto in places under the exclusive jurisdiction of the State of California.

Delivery
products.

SEC. 21. A warehouseman conducting a warehouse licensed under this act, in the absence of some lawful excuse, shall, without unnecessary delay, deliver the agricultural products stored therein upon a demand made either by the holder of a receipt for such agricultural products or by the depositor thereof if such demand be accompanied with (a) an offer to satisfy the warehouseman's lien; (b) an offer to surrender the receipt, if negotiable, with such endorsements as would be necessary for the negotiation of the receipt; and (c) a readiness and willingness to sign, when the products are delivered, an acknowledgment that they have been delivered if such signature is requested by the warehouseman.

SEC. 22. A warehouseman conducting a warehouse licensed under this act shall plainly cancel upon the face thereof each receipt returned to him upon the delivery by him of the agricultural products for which the receipt was issued. Cancellation of receipt.

SEC. 23. Every warehouseman conducting a warehouse licensed under this act shall keep in a place of safety complete and correct records of all agricultural products stored therein and withdrawn therefrom, of all warehouse receipts issued by him, and of the receipts returned to and canceled by him, shall make reports to the director of agriculture concerning such warehouse and the condition, contents, operations, and business thereof in such form and at such times as he may require, and shall conduct said warehouse in all other respects in compliance with this act and the rules and regulations made hereunder. Records of warehouseman.

SEC. 24. The director of agriculture is authorized to cause examinations to be made of any agricultural product stored in any warehouse licensed under this act. Whenever, after opportunity for hearing is given to the warehouseman conducting such warehouse, it is determined that he is not performing fully the duties imposed on him by this act and the rules and regulations made hereunder, the director may publish his findings. Examinations of stored products.

SEC. 25. The director of agriculture may, after opportunity for hearing has been afforded to the licensee concerned, suspend or revoke any license issued to any warehouseman conducting a warehouse under this act, for any violation of or failure to comply with any provision of this act or of the rules and regulations made hereunder or upon the ground that unreasonable or exorbitant charges have been made for services rendered. Pending investigation, the director of agriculture, whenever he deems necessary, may suspend a license temporarily without hearing. Revocation of license.

SEC. 26. The director of agriculture from time to time may publish the results of any investigations made under section three of this act; and he shall publish the names and locations of warehouses licensed and bonded and the names and addresses of persons licensed under this act and lists of all licenses terminated under this act and the causes therefor. Publication of results of investigation.

SEC. 27. The director of agriculture is authorized through officials, employees, or agents of the state department of agriculture designated by him to examine all books, records, papers, and accounts of warehouses licensed under this act and of the warehousemen conducting such warehouses relating thereto. Examination of books.

SEC. 28. The director of agriculture shall from time to time make such rules and regulations as he may deem Rules and regulations.

necessary for the efficient execution of the provisions of this act.

Penalties.

SEC. 29. Every person who shall forge, alter, counterfeit, simulate, or falsely represent, or shall without proper authority use, any license issued by the director of agriculture under this act, or who shall violate or fail to comply with any provision of section eight of this act, or who shall issue or utter a false or fraudulent receipt or certificate, shall be deemed guilty of a felony.

Appropriation.

SEC. 30. There is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, available until expended, for the expenses of carrying into effect the provisions of this act, including the payment of such rent and the employment of such persons and means as the director of agriculture may deem necessary, it being understood that when a fund of twenty-five thousand dollars shall be accumulated the appropriation shall be returned to the State of California, provided the fund shall not at any time be so reduced as to impair the working of this act, and he is authorized, in his discretion, to employ qualified persons not regularly in the service of the State of California, for temporary assistance in carrying out the purposes of this act, and out of the moneys appropriated by this act to pay the salaries and expenses thereof.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 31. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this act shall, for any reason, be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

CHAPTER 694.

An act to amend section two of an act entitled "An act to regulate the sale of commercial fertilizers or materials used for manurial purposes, and to provide penalties for the infraction thereof, and means for the enforcement of the act," approved March 20, 1913, and acts amendatory thereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1911,
p. 488,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act to regulate the sale of commercial fertilizers or materials used for manurial purposes, and to provide penalties for the infraction thereof, and means for the enforcement of the act," approved March 20, 1913, and acts amendatory thereof, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. No person shall sell, offer or expose for sale in this state any pulverized leather, hair, ground hoofs, horns or wool waste, raw, steamed, roasted, or in any form, street sweepings, or the dung or urine of any domestic animal, mixed with, or in combination with, water artificially added thereto, or with any sand, soil or other material not commonly used for bedding domestic animals, as a fertilizer or as an ingredient for fertilizer or manure without an explicit statement of the fact in printing or writing conspicuously placed thereon and affixed to every package, container, car or vehicle in which the same shall be transported or delivered to any purchaser thereof, said statement to go with every lot, parcel or package of the same: that a fine of fifty dollars for the first offense and one hundred dollars for each subsequent offense be imposed for violation of this section.

CHAPTER 695.

An act appropriating money to complete the payment on the purchase of land and water rights for the Riverside farm school by the University of California.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of one hundred twenty-nine thousand one hundred sixty-five dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used by the board of regents of the University of California to complete the payment on the purchase of land and water rights for the Riverside farm school by the University of California, during the seventy-third and seventy-fourth fiscal years, in accordance with an act of the legislature entitled "An act to establish a university farm in Riverside county and making an appropriation to carry out the purposes hereof," approved May 27, 1919.

Appropriation:
land,
Riverside
farm school, University of California.

CHAPTER 696.

An act providing for the pasteurization of skim milk, whey, buttermilk, or other milk by-products used for feeding purposes for farm animals, and providing a penalty for the violation hereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Pasteuriza-
tion of skim milk,
etc.

SECTION 1. Every person, firm, copartnership, or corporation, owning, operating, or managing a cheese factory, creamery, skimming station, or other place where milk is received and by-products distributed, shall, before returning to or delivering to any person or persons any skim milk, whey, buttermilk, or other milk by-products to be used for feeding purposes for farm animals, cause such skim milk, whey, buttermilk, or other milk by-products to be thoroughly pasteurized by heating the same to one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit, and holding at that temperature for not less than thirty minutes or to one hundred eighty-five degrees without holding.

Sanitary
containers.

SEC. 2. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, copartnership, or corporation referred to in section one of this act to maintain vats, tanks, or other containers used for storing or holding milk, or similar by-products, in an unclean or unsanitary condition.

Penalties.

SEC. 3. Any person, firm, copartnership, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

CHAPTER 697.

An act to provide for the inspection and certification of foreign eggs, foreign powdered eggs, and foreign egg products imported into the State of California for purposes of human consumption; to prescribe certain powers and duties of the state board of health with respect thereto, and to provide penalties for violations of the provisions of this act.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Inspection
of foreign eggs.

SECTION 1. All eggs, powdered eggs and egg products, imported into the State of California from foreign countries shall be sold subject to inspection as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or offer for sale for human consumption in the State of California any eggs, powdered eggs or egg products imported into the State of California from foreign countries until after the same shall have been first inspected by the state board of health, found to be fit for human consumption and a permit authorizing such sale by the state board of health issued. The state board of health shall cause an inspection of all such eggs, powdered eggs or egg products to be made and if the same are found, upon such inspection, to be in fit condition for human consumption, the board shall issue to the importer or consignee a permit authorizing the sale thereof for such purpose, together with certificates of inspection equal in number to the number of the containers in which said eggs, powdered eggs or egg products are packed or otherwise contained. Such certificates of inspection shall be in such form as the board may deem appropriate and shall have printed upon a white background in plain black letters, not less than one inch high, "foreign eggs," or, as the case may be, "foreign powdered eggs," or "foreign egg products," "inspected" (inserting the date) "by California state board of health." Such certificates shall be printed upon gummed, adhesive labels, and it shall be the duty of the importer or consignee to affix or cause to be affixed one such certificate to each of such containers in such manner that the inspection certificate shall be plainly visible to the buyer. All such foreign eggs, foreign powdered eggs, and foreign egg products shall be sold only from the original containers. No certificate of inspection shall be removed from the container or defaced, and no container upon which such inspection certificate has been affixed shall be used as a receptacle for any foreign eggs, foreign powdered eggs or foreign egg products which have not been so inspected and pronounced fit for human consumption by the state board of health.

SEC. 3. The state board of health may make rules and regulations to secure a proper enforcement of the provisions of this act, including rules and regulations with respect to the inspection of the eggs, powdered eggs and egg products mentioned herein and the labeling thereof, and the violation of such rules shall be punished on conviction as provided in section four of this act.

SEC. 4. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act or any rules and regulations made pursuant to the provisions of this act by the state board of health shall, upon conviction, be punished for the first offense by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), and for the second offense by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by an imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 5. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 6. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER 698.

An act to provide for the appointment of a commission to investigate the plan of operation and organization of agricultural colleges in the United States, and to recommend a plan for the reorganization of agricultural instruction in the State of California, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Commission to investigate agricultural colleges.

SECTION 1. The governor of this state is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint a commission of seven persons, which commission is hereby charged with the investigation of the entire problem of agricultural instruction and investigation. Said commission shall investigate the plan of operation and organization of the leading agricultural colleges of the United States, and report to the governor before the convening of the forty-fifth session of the legislature their recommendations upon the reorganization of the agricultural instruction as given in the University of California.

Appropriation.

SEC. 2. The sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of carrying on the work of said commission as provided for in this act; said money shall be expended and used for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses of the members of said commission while engaged in the performance of their duties, and for all necessary clerical, printing and other expenses connected with the work of carrying out the provisions of this act. The claims of each shall be audited and approved by the board of control in the manner provided by law, and when so approved the state controller is authorized to draw his warrant therefor, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

CHAPTER 699.

An act making an appropriation for the purpose of building a children's recreational, physical, mental and industrial training hall on the state prison grounds at San Quentin.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of building a children's recreational, physical, mental and industrial training hall and equipping it with the necessary furniture and apparatus on the grounds of the state prison at San Quentin.

Appropriation:
children's hall, San Quentin prison.

CHAPTER 700.

An act to add a new section to the Penal Code, to be numbered one hundred sixty-four, relating to the practice of law by persons not licensed to practice law; to the furnishing of legal advice, services and counsel, and advertising in connection therewith; providing a penalty for violation of the provisions of this act, and making certain exemptions from the operation thereof.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code to be numbered one hundred sixty-four and to read as follows:

164. It shall be unlawful for any person not licensed as an attorney and counselor to practice law; or to appear as an attorney at law for any person other than himself in or before any court or other judicial body in this state; or to make it a business or a practice to render or furnish legal advice or services; or in any manner to assume to be entitled to practice law, or to assume, use, or advertise the title of lawyer, attorney at law, counselor or counselor at law, or similar terms, in any language, in such manner as to convey the impression that he is entitled to practice law, draw wills, or furnish other legal advice or services; or to advertise that, either alone or together with, or by, or through any person, whether a duly and regularly admitted attorney at law or not, he has, owns, conducts or maintains a law office or an office for practice of law, or that he will furnish legal advice or services.

Unlawful
practice of law.

It shall be unlawful for any person, whether a licensed attorney and counselor or not, to assist any person in the performance of such prohibited acts.

Exceptions.

This section shall not prevent any person from preparing ordinary business agreements and conveyances and giving advice incidental to the preparation thereof; nor from examining, certifying, guaranteeing or insuring titles to property, real or personal, or an interest therein, or a lien or incumbrance thereon; nor from acting as escrow holder; nor from furnishing information and advice relative to any such title or escrow; nor from preparing any document necessary or essential for use in connection either with such escrow or title employment; nor from employing an attorney and counselor in and about his own immediate affairs or in any litigation to which he is or may be a party; nor shall it apply to organizations organized solely for benevolent or charitable purposes, or for the purpose of assisting persons without means in the pursuit of any civil remedy; nor shall it apply to associations or corporations organized upon a nonprofit basis when dealing with the affairs of their members or of embarrassed or insolvent debtors; nor shall it apply to actions or proceedings in justice's or police courts. Nothing in this act shall be held to prohibit any person from performing any act authorized by an existing state or federal statute.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any person from furnishing to an attorney and counselor information or clerical services in and about his professional work; provided, that at all times the attorney and counselor receiving such information or such services shall maintain full professional and direct responsibility to his clients for the information and services so received.

The word "person" in this section includes natural persons, copartnerships, any member of which is not licensed as an attorney and counselor, corporations and voluntary associations.

Penalties.

Any person violating any provision hereof is guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by a fine of not less than one hundred ($100) dollars and not more than five thousand ($5000) dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

CHAPTER 701.

An act regulating the sanitary conditions of bakeries, prescribing conditions connected with the manufacture and sale of bakery products and fixing penalties for violation of the provisions thereof.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any building, or portion of any building, occupied or used as a bakery, wherein is carried on the business of the production, preparation, storage or display of bread, cakes, pies and other baking products intended for sale for human consumption, shall be clean, properly lighted, drained and ventilated. Every such bakery shall be provided with adequate plumbing and drainage facilities including suitable wash sinks, toilets and water closets. All toilets and water closets shall be separate and apart from the rooms in which the bakery products are produced or handled. All wash sinks, toilets and water closets shall be kept in a clean and sanitary condition and shall be in well lighted and ventilated rooms. The floors, walls and ceilings of the rooms in which the dough is mixed and handled or the pastry prepared for baking or stored, shall be kept and maintained in a clean, wholesome and sanitary condition. All openings into such rooms, including windows and doors, shall be properly screened or otherwise protected to exclude flies. No working rooms shall be used for purposes other than those directly connected with the preparing, baking, storage and handling of food, and shall not be used as washing, sleeping, or living rooms. Rooms shall be provided for the changing and hanging of wearing apparel apart and separate from such work rooms, and such rooms, as so provided for the changing and hanging of wearing apparel, shall be kept clean at all times.

SEC. 2. The California state board of health shall make all necessary rules for carrying into effect the foregoing section and for the enforcement of the provisions thereof. If after inspection, such board shall find that any bakery is being operated in violation of the provisions hereof, notice in writing shall be given to the proprietor wherein shall be stated the particulars in which such bakery is not being properly conducted, and fixing a reasonable time, not less than thirty days, in which such conditions shall be remedied. If the requirements of such notice shall not be complied with, said board shall order such bakery closed and it is hereby empowered to take all necessary steps to enforce such order; provided, that if any person, firm or corporation shall feel aggrieved by any order of said board, it shall have the right to appeal to the superior court of the county in which is located said bakery; provided, further, that on the taking of said appeal the owner

or operator of said bakery shall furnish bond to the approval of the board; and, provided further, that said appeal shall be taken within a period of thirty (30) days from the order of said board.

Cleanliness
employees.

SEC. 3. No employee or other person shall sit or lie upon any of the tables, benches, troughs, shelves, et cetera, which are intended for the dough or bakery products. No animals or fowls shall be kept or allowed in any bakery or other place where bread or other bakery products are produced or stored. Before beginning the work of preparing, mixing and handling the ingredients used in baking, every person engaged in the preparation or handling of bakery products shall wash the hands and arms thoroughly and rinse in clean water; and for this purpose sufficient wash basins and soap and clean towels shall be provided. Every person engaged in such work shall wash the hands and arms after using toilet rooms or water closets. Employees or other persons affected with any venereal disease, smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, yellow fever, tuberculosis or consumption, bubonic plague, asiatic cholera, leprosy, typhoid fever, epidemic dysentery, measles, mumps, whooping cough, chickenpox, or any other cutaneous or infectious disease, shall not work or be permitted to work in any such bakeries or be permitted to handle any of the products therein or delivered therefrom. Any person engaged in any of the work above mentioned, who knowingly is infected with any of the diseases specified in this section, or any employer, who knowingly employs such person shall be deemed guilty of violating the provisions of this act and shall be subject to the penalties provided for violation thereof. The state board of health shall make all necessary rules for carrying into effect the foregoing section.

Water supply.

SEC. 4. All water for mixing the dough or used in the mixing of any other bakery products shall be pure and wholesome. In case the water supply is taken from a well, the baker shall have a certificate of the purity of said water supply from the state board of health, or from any city or county health board within the State of California. Bakers shall not use the water from wells, the water of which is not so certified to be pure and wholesome.

Wagons, baskets,
etc.

SEC. 5. The wagons, boxes, baskets and other receptacles in which bread, cake, pies or other bakery products are transported, shall be kept in a clean and wholesome condition at all times and free from dust, flies and other contamination. All show cases, shelves, or other places where bakery products are sold, shall be kept well covered, properly ventilated, well protected from dust and flies, and shall be kept in a sweet, clean and wholesome condition at all times. Boxes or other receptacles for the storing or receiving of bread and other bakery products, before and after the retail stores and selling places are open, shall be so constructed and placed as to be free from the contamination of streets, alleys and sidewalks, and shall be raised at least four inches from the sidewalk or street and shall be kept clean and sanitary, and no bread shall be placed in any such box along with any other articles of food other than bakery products.

SEC. 6. All materials used in the production or preparation of bakery products shall be stored, handled and kept in a way to protect them from spoiling and contamination, and no material shall be used which is spoiled or contaminated, or which may render the bread or other bakery products unwholesome or unfit for food. The ingredients used in the production of bread and other bakery products and the sale or offering for sale of bread and bakery products shall comply with the provisions of the California laws against adulteration and misbranding. No ingredients shall be used which may render the bread or other bakery products injurious to health. No ingredients shall be used which may deceive the consumer or which lessens the nutritive value of the bakery product without being plainly labeled, branded or tagged or having a sign making such facts plain to the purchaser or consumer under rules to be prescribed by the state board of health; provided, however, that in case of bread to be sold by the loaf such labeling shall be, in the case of unwrapped bread, placed upon the same sticker as hereinafter provided to show the name of the manufacturer.

SEC. 7. All handling or sale of bread or other bakery products and all practices connected therewith shall be conducted at all times so as to prevent the distribution of contamination or disease among consumers, so as to prevent the distribution of the infection in bread commonly known as "rope" or other bakery infections, and so as to protect the food supply against waste. No bread or other bakery products except as hereinafter provided shall be returned from any consumer or other purchaser to the dealer or baker nor from any dealer to the baker, and no baker or dealer shall directly or indirectly accept any returns or make any exchange of bread or other bakery products from any dealer, restaurant or hotelkeeper, consumer or any other person and all bread and all other bakery product shall be kept moving to the consumer in as direct a line as may be practicable and without unreasonable delay and without any exchange, return or practice whatsoever which may disseminate contamination, disease or fraud among consumers or infection among bakeries, or which may cause waste in the food supply. The state board of health shall make such reasonable rules as may be necessary for carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of this section; provided, that this section shall not be construed to apply to crackers or to such other bakery products as are packed at the place of production in cartons, cans, boxes or similar permanent containers and where the product is so packed or sealed at the place of production as to fully protect the freshness and wholesomeness of the product and to protect it from contamination, adulteration, deterioration and fraud in the channels of trade and which remains in the original unbroken package in which such bakery product has been packed, except in so far as may be necessary to prevent waste in the food supply; provided, further, that the state board of health may by rules establish such exemptions as may be necessary to facilitate the sale of any accumulated or unsold stocks of wholesome bread or other bakery products, but any such exemptions or sales shall not be in violation of the expressed purposes of this section; provided, further, that the phrase "permanent containers" shall not be construed to include the paper or parchment wrappers as used in wrapping loaves of bread.

Label indicating manufacturer.

SEC. 8. Every loaf of bread made or procured for the purpose of sale, sold or offered for sale except when sold directly from the manufacturer to the consumer, shall have affixed thereon in a conspicuous place a label indicating the manufacturer, or bearing the registered trade mark or trade label of such manufacturer. In case of wrapped bread, such information shall be stated in a plain position upon the wrapper of each loaf, and in the case of unwrapped bread shall be stated upon a label no larger than one by one and one-half inches in size and not smaller than one inch by three-quarters of an inch, and such label affixed to an unwrapped loaf shall not be affixed in any manner or with any gums or pastes which are unsanitary or unwholesome.

Penalties.

SEC. 9. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars, and each day's continuance of any practice, act or condition prohibited herein shall constitute a separate offense within the meaning of this act.

Power of local authorities limited.

SEC. 10. Except as in this act provided, no city or town or any board or officer thereof shall have power to enact or make any ordinance, law, resolution, rule or order, affecting the matters covered by this act.

Validity of act.

SEC. 11. That if any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this act, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment has been rendered.

Repealed.

SEC. 12. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 702.

An act to amend section seven of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and supervision of courses in physical education in the elementary, secondary and normal schools of the state and appropriating ten thousand dollars therefor," approved May 26, 1917.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section seven of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and supervision of courses in physical education in the elementary, secondary and normal schools of the state and appropriating ten thousand dollars therefor," approved May 26, 1917, is hereby amended so as to read as follows: Stats. 1917, p. 1178, amended.

Sec. 7. The supervisor of physical education appointed under the provisions of this act, shall be experienced in the supervision of physical education in public schools. He shall not be subject to the provisions of any civil service law of the state. He shall exercise general supervision over the courses of physical education in elementary and secondary schools of the state; shall exercise general control over all athletic activities of the public schools; shall advise school officials, school boards and teachers in matters of physical education; shall visit and investigate the work in physical education in the public schools and shall perform such other duties as may be assigned to him by the state board of education. The state board of education shall have power to employ the necessary expert and clerical assistants in addition to the state supervisor of physical education in order to carry out the provisions of this act, and to fix the compensation of the state supervisor of physical education and all other employees, and to pay the actual and necessary traveling expenses of the state supervisor of physical education and expert assistants while on official business; provided, that the salary of the supervisor of physical education fixed under the provisions of this act shall be subject to approval by the state board of control. Supervisor of physical education. Salary.

CHAPTER 703.

An act making appropriation for the purchase of a building site and the erection of a building for the state printing office.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
site and building for state printing office.

SECTION 1. The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used in accordance with law for the purchase of a building site in the city of Sacramento and erection thereon of a building to house the state printing office.

SEC. 2. The selection of the site provided for in section one of this act, together with the purchase price therefor, shall be determined by the state printer by and with the written approval of the governor. The title to said property shall be taken in the name of the State of California and no payment therefor shall be made until such title has been passed upon and approved by the attorney general.

CHAPTER 704.

An act establishing and standardizing the weight of loaves of bread and regulating the sale thereof.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Standard weights for bread.

SECTION 1. All loaves of bread made or procured for the purpose of sale, sold, offered or exposed for sale in the State of California shall weigh, six hours after baking, not less than sixteen ounces avoirdupois, except as hereinafter provided, and such weight shall be the standard weight of a small loaf in the State of California. Bread may also be made or procured for sale, sold or offered or exposed for sale in twenty-four ounce loaves, which shall be known as a standard large loaf; also, in multiples of the standards fixed for the small and large loaves and no other. Commercial tolerances in excess are hereby fixed for small loaves of one ounce and for large loaves of two ounces, and there shall be no tolerance below or in deficiency of the fixed standard weight. Bread commonly known as "twin loaves" or multiple loaves may be made or procured for the purpose of sale, sold, offered or exposed for sale, providing each unit of such "twin" or multiple loaf conforms to the standard weights as herein fixed. The commercial tolerance fixed for small loaf shall apply to each unit of the "twin" or multiple loaf.

SEC. 2. Any person, firm or corporation who shall make or procure for the purpose of sale, sell, offer or expose for sale within the State of California any bread in loaves otherwise than herein provided for or in conflict with the standard weights of bread when baked as herein fixed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. All inspection of the weight of bread shall be made on the premises of the maker or manufacturer by averaging the weight of not less than twenty loaves of bread of any one unit and such average weight per loaf shall not be less than the minimum or more than the maximum weight herein fixed for such units. Penalties.

SEC. 3. The provisions of this act shall not apply to crackers, pretzels, biscuits, buns, scones, rolls or loaves of fancy bread weighing less than one-fourth of a pound avoirdupois or to what is commonly known as "stale bread," sold as such, provided the seller shall, at the time of sale, expressly state to the buyer that the bread so sold is stale bread. Exceptions.

SEC. 4. The enforcement of the provisions of this act shall be under the supervision of the state superintendent of weights and measures. Enforcement.

SEC. 5. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. Repealed.

CHAPTER 705.

An act to enable the state board of forestry to accept deeds and conveyances of land in the name of the people of the State of California, for park purposes, to manage and control the same, to consent to conditions attached to the grant thereof, prescribe regulations therefor, or prohibit violations thereof.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The state board of forestry is hereby authorized to accept deeds and conveyances of lands in the name of the people of the State of California, for park purposes. State board of forestry authorized to accept lands for park purposes.

SEC. 2. The state board of forestry is hereby authorized and empowered to consent to such conditions as may be imposed by the grantors of any such lands and to attach to the same the name or names of the grantors thereof. Such tracts shall thereafter be known by the names selected by the grantors and agreed upon by the state board of forestry.

SEC. 3. Said forestry board shall have full power and control over said park or parks and over any and all funds provided for the care, maintenance, preservation and improvement of the same and shall make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations for the care, maintenance, preservation and improvement of the same.

CHAPTER 706.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act relating to bonds of irrigation districts, providing under what circumstances such bonds shall be legal investments for funds of banks, insurance companies and trust companies, trust funds, state school funds and any money or funds which may now or hereafter be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities, and providing under what circumstances the use of bonds of irrigation districts as security for the performance of any act may be authorized," approved June 13, 1913, by amending sections three b and five thereof, and to add a new section to said act to be numbered section eight, relating to the inclusion in the term "Irrigation districts" districts designated as water conservation districts.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917,
p. 583,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section three b of the act entitled "An act relating to bonds of irrigation districts, providing under what circumstances such bonds shall be legal investments for funds of banks, insurance companies and trust companies, trust funds, state school funds and any money or funds which may now or hereafter be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities, and providing under what circumstances the use of bonds of irrigation districts as security for the performance of any act may be authorized," approved June 13, 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

No expenditures without consent of commission.

Sec. 3b. Whenever the bonds of any irrigation district have been certified as provided in this act, no expenditures shall be made from the proceeds of such bonds, nor shall any liability to be met from such proceeds be incurred, until there shall have been filed with and approved by said commission such a schedule of proposed expenditures of such proceeds as may be necessary to set forth to the satisfaction of said commission the plan proposed for carrying out the purposes for which said bonds were authorized, or such of said purposes as the district may, at the time of filing such schedule, desire to proceed with; and no expenditures from the proceeds of said bonds shall be made for any purpose not specified in such approved schedule or for any approved purpose in excess of the amount allowed therefor in such schedule without the consent of said commission; nor shall any expense of any kind be incurred in excess of money actually provided by levy of assessment or otherwise except as provided in section fifty-nine of the California irrigation district act. During the progress of any work to be paid for from the proceeds of any bond issue certified as in this act provided, the department of engineering, on behalf of the commission herein authorized, shall make from time to

Inspection

CHAPTER 707.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred eighty-two of the Political Code, relating to the suspending or lapsing of elementary school districts.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred eighty-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1582. First—If in any elementary school district there has been an average daily attendance of only five or a number of pupils less than five during the whole school year, the superintendent shall, after giving due notice to all parties interested by sending notices by registered mail to each of the trustees, or, by causing notices to be posted in three public places in the district, one of which shall be at the door of the schoolhouse, for not less than ten days, report the fact to the board of supervisors at their first meeting in July or August. The board of supervisors shall investigate the matter, and, if in its judgment it would be better to temporarily suspend the school district they shall immediately so suspend it. If the board of supervisors find that there are other school facilities or that there is no reasonable chance to reestablish the district they shall declare the district lapsed, and shall attach the territory thereof to one or more of the adjoining districts in such manner as may be by them considered most convenient for the residents of said lapsed district.

Suspension
of school
district.

District declared
lapsed.

Reestablishing
district.

Second—At any regular meeting between July first and November twentieth of any year, the board of supervisors may reestablish a suspended school district upon proper showing of the people or board of school trustees of the district that there are eight or more pupils of the district ready to attend school.

Apportionment for suspended
district.

Third—After a district has been suspended, the county superintendent shall at the time of making the apportionment of school moneys as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of the Political Code, apportion seven hundred dollars from the unapportioned state school fund and seven hundred dollars from the unapportioned county school fund to such suspended district. This amount, with any unexpended balance to the credit of the district, shall be held for the use of the suspended district, in case it should be reestablished, and so much of it as may be needed to keep the property of the suspended district insured may be expended by the trustees in the same manner as if the district were not suspended. But no subsequent apportionment shall be made to a suspended district, until the school year following the first school year after it has been reestablished.

Trustees.

Fourth—Trustees shall be elected or appointed in suspended districts just as if they were not suspended.

Notice in July.

Fifth—The superintendent may at any time in the month of July of any year give notice as provided in subdivision two of this section, to any suspended district which has not maintained school during the year past, and at the first meeting of the board of supervisors in July, August or September, ask that such district be declared lapsed.

Suspended
district merged with adjoining
district.

Sixth—A suspended district may be merged with one or more adjoining districts whenever a petition signed by the majority of heads of families residing in each of said districts shall be presented to the board of supervisors. Such petition must be filed with the county superintendent and by him presented to the board of supervisors with such suggestions as he thinks best.

Disposition of property of lapsed
district.

Seventh—When any district has been declared lapsed, the board of supervisors shall sell or otherwise dispose of the property thereto belonging, and shall place the proceeds of such sale to the credit of the district. Thereupon the superintendent shall determine all outstanding indebtedness of said lapsed district, and shall draw his requisition upon the county auditor in payment thereof. Any balance of moneys remaining to the credit of said lapsed district after all indebtedness has been paid shall be transferred by the superintendent to the credit of the district into which the said lapsed district has been merged. If the lapsed district has been attached to more than one of the adjoining districts, the superintendent must apportion the moneys remaining to the credit of the lapsed district to the several districts pro rata according to the number of pupils in average daily attendance in the respective districts as shown by the teachers' reports for the preceding school year. Should there not be sufficient funds to the credit of the lapsed district to liquidate all of the outstanding indebtedness thereof, the superintendent shall draw his requisition upon the county auditor pro rata for the several claims.

CHAPTER 708.

An act authorizing the state treasurer and the board of control to enter into agreements to pay commissions on the sale of certain bonds of the State of California and providing for the funds from which such commissions shall be paid.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The state treasurer upon the approval of the governor and the board of control is hereby authorized to enter into agreements to pay commissions for services rendered in the procuring of bids for all or any portion or portions of the state bonds issued under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to be known as 'state building bonds,' to provide a fund for the erection and equipment of state buildings in the city of Sacramento for state purposes, creating a commission to determine the amount to be expended for furnishing and equipping said buildings and accepting a suitable site, creating a sinking and interest fund for the payment of interest on said bonds and the redemption of the same, making an appropriation therefor, making an appropriation of five thousand dollars for the expenses of printing and lithographing said bonds and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people," approved June 5, 1913.

Payment of commissions on state building
bonds.

No agreement shall be entered into by the state treasurer to pay any commission, or commissions, which shall, singly or in the aggregate exceed the amount made available for such purposes by the provisions of this act or any act adopted by the legislature at its forty-fourth session for this purpose, and no commission shall be paid except to one who has procured and effected the sale and not until the money from the sale of such bonds has been paid into the state treasury, and no commission shall be paid on any sale of any such bonds to any board, department or agency of the state authorized by law to purchase the same.

Should any purchase of said bonds or any thereof, hereafter be made by any board, department or agency of the state authorized by law to make such purchase, on any resale of such bonds so purchased or any thereof, thereafter made by such board, department or agency the foregoing provisions of this act as to entering into agreements to pay, and the payment of commissions shall apply to such resales as well as to original sales of said bonds or any thereof.

Reappropriation.

SEC. 2. The moneys appropriated by the act entitled "An act appropriating the sum of three hundred thousand dollars for the erection and equipment of state buildings in the city of Sacramento for state purposes," approved May 27, 1919, are hereby reappropriated to carry out the purposes of this act, and the entire amount of said moneys, three hundred thousand dollars, shall become available for the purposes of this act on the -----day of -----.

Original sale.

SEC. 3. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent an original sale, or a resale by any board, department or agency of the state, of said bonds or any thereof without the payment of such commission.

CHAPTER 709.

An act to amend sections one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, one thousand nine hundred twenty-eight, one thousand nine hundred thirty-four and one-half, one thousand nine hundred fifty-four, one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven, one thousand nine hundred sixty-four, one thousand nine hundred sixty-five, one thousand nine hundred eighty, one thousand nine hundred eighty-three, one thousand nine hundred eighty-four, one thousand nine hundred eighty-five, one thousand nine hundred eighty-seven, two thousand three, two thousand four, two thousand eight, two thousand forty-one, two thousand seventy-six, two thousand seventy-seven, two thousand seventy-eight, two thousand seventy-nine, two thousand ninety-eight, and two thousand one hundred eleven, and to repeal sections one thousand nine hundred eighty-one and two thousand eighty of the Political Code, all relating to the national guard.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Staff departments of national guard.

SECTION 1. Section one thousand nine hundred twenty-five of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1925. The national guard of California shall consist of the following staff departments, to wit: An adjutant general's department, an inspector general's department, a judge advocate general's department, a quartermaster corps, a medical department, a corps of engineers, an ordnance department, a signal corps, and such other staff departments as may be prescribed and authorized by the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the various amendments thereto; it shall also consist of the commissioned officers who shall hereafter be placed in the national guard reserve; it shall also consist of all organizations now forming the national guard of this state under the terms of the said national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the amendments thereto; and shall include the naval militia of this state when organized; it shall also consist of such other organizations as may be required by the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the amendments thereto. The commander-in-chief shall have the power, and it shall be his duty to change the organization of the national guard of this state so as to conform to any organization, system of drill or instruction now or hereafter prescribed by the laws and regulations of the United States for the organization and government of the national guard, and for that purpose the number of officers and noncommissioned officers of any grade may be increased or diminished or the grades may be altered or created whenever necessary to procure such uniformity.

Organization
to conform to U. S. laws.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand nine hundred twenty-eight of said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1928. The chief of the adjutant general's department shall be in control of the military department of the state, and subordinate only to the commander-in-chief in matters pertaining to the said department. He shall be chief of staff. He shall perform such duties as are prescribed in this title and such other duties consistent with the regulations and customs of the United States army and United States navy as may be prescribed by the commander-in-chief. All the duties of the adjutant general shall be performed under the direction of the commander-in-chief.

Duties of adjutant general.

1. He shall keep a register of all the officers of the militia of the state, and keep in his office all records and papers required to be kept and filed therein, and make a biennial report to the commander-in-chief including a detailed statement of the moneys received and disbursed by him for military purposes during that period, and the number and condition of the national guard.

Register of
officers.

2. He shall, at the expense of the state, when necessary, cause the military law, general regulations of the state and articles of war of the United States, and such other military publications as may be necessary for the military service, to be printed, indexed, and bound in compact form and distributed to the commissioned officers and the several organizations of the national guard.

Publications.

3. He shall cause to be prepared and issued all necessary blank books, blanks and notices required to carry into full effect the provisions of this title. All such books and blanks shall be and remain the property of the state.

Books and blanks.

4. The seal now used in the office of the adjutant general shall be the seal of his office, and shall be delivered by him to his successor. All orders issued from his office shall be authenticated with his seal.

Seal.

5. In order that the national guard of the state may receive the funds provided by congress, it shall be the duty of the adjutant general of the state to prepare and submit a plan of proposed field or camp service of instruction for the ensuing proposed field or camp

service.

year, with an estimate of the funds required for pay, subsistence, and transportation of the portion of the national guard participating therein; and said estimate to furnish the details and to be made out in the form required by instructions from the secretary of war, or the secretary of the navy.

Regulations pertaining to reports
and property.

6. He shall make such regulations pertaining to the preparation of reports and returns and to the care and preservation of property, in the possession of the state for military purposes, whether belonging to the state or to the United States, as in his opinion the conditions demand; such regulations to be operative and in force when promulgated in the form of general orders, circulars or letters of instruction.

Care of arms
ment.

7. He shall attend to the care, preservation, and safekeeping and repairing of the arms, ordnance, accoutrements, equipments, and all other military property belonging to the state or issued to the state by the government of the United States for the purpose of arming and equipping the organized militia. All military property of the state, which, after a proper inspection, shall be found unsuitable for the use of the state shall, under the direction of the commander-in-chief, be disposed of by the adjutant general at public auction after suitable advertisement for sale, daily for ten days, in at least one newspaper published in the English language in the city or county where the sale is to take place; or the same may be sold at private sale or may be condemned and destroyed when so ordered by the commander-in-chief. He shall bid in the property or suspend the sale whenever in his opinion better prices may or should be obtained. He shall, from time to time, render to the commander-in-chief a just and true account of the sales made by him, and shall expend the proceeds of the same in the purchase of other military property, as the commander-in-chief may direct. And all such military property belonging to the state may be disposed of by the adjutant general without reference to the state board of control. He shall be responsible for all the arms, ordnances, accoutrements, equipments and other military property which may be issued to the state by the secretary of war and secretary of the navy in compliance with the law; and it shall thereafter be his duty to prepare returns of such arms and other property of the United States at the time and in the manner required by the secretary of war and the secretary of the navy. He shall, upon the order of the commander-in-chief, turn in to the ordnance department of the United States army or navy, the rifles, carbines, bayonet scabbards, gun slings, belts, and such other necessary accoutrements and equipments the property of the United States and in the possession of the state, which may be replaced from time to time, by new arms, equipment, etc., sent by the United States in substitution therefor, and cause the same to be shipped, under the instructions from the secretary of war, or secretary of the navy, to the designated arsenal or depot at the expense of the United States. And when the national guard of the state shall be fully armed and equipped with the standard magazine arms, and the standard equipment and accoutrement of the United States army and navy, he shall cause all the remaining arms, equipments, etc., the property of the United States, and in possession of the state, to be transferred and shipped as above directed.

8. He shall keep a just and correct account of all expenses necessarily incurred, including pay of officers and enlisted men, subsistence of militia, transportation of the militia, and of all military property of the state, and such expenses shall be audited and paid in the same manner as other military accounts are audited and paid. Account of expenses.

9. He shall issue such military property as the commander-in-chief shall direct, and under his direction shall make purchases for that purpose. No military property shall be issued to persons or organizations other than those belonging to the active militia, except such portions of the reserve militia as may be called out by the commander-in-chief. Purchases of property not exceeding five hundred dollars in value shall be made in such manner as the adjutant general shall direct. If such purchases shall require an expenditure of a sum exceeding five hundred dollars he shall publicly advertise for not less than ten days for sealed proposals for furnishing such property; such proposals shall be publicly opened by him at the place, day and hour designated in such advertisement; provided, however, that he may purchase at any time any or all military property, equipments and supplies, required by the military department of the state from the United States government, under the provisions and regulations of the war and navy departments governing such purchases. He shall, if the commander-in-chief approve, make contract with the lowest responsible bidder to furnish such property. All proposals and contracts made under the authority hereby conferred shall be filed in the office of the adjutant general. The adjutant general is authorized and directed whenever, in his opinion, it shall be to the interest of the state, to require the party who shall agree or contract to furnish such property to give bond to the people of the state in such sum and with such surety as he shall direct, conditioned for the faithful performance of such agreement or contract. In case of default such bond shall be prosecuted by the attorney general and all moneys received therefrom shall be expended by the adjutant general for the benefit of the national guard. All property purchased under authority herein granted shall be inspected by an inspector or officer detailed for the purpose by the commander-in-chief, and no payment shall be made therefor until it shall appear by the certificate of such officer that such property is of the kind and quality specified in such agreement or contract. In case of insurrection, invasion, tumult, riot, breaches of the peace, or imminent danger thereof, the commander-in-chief may temporarily suspend the operation of this paragraph and direct the adjutant general to purchase Issuing of military property. Purchases. Bond of bidder. In case of insurrection, etc.

such military property or supplies as may be required in open market.

Attest commissions.

10. The adjutant general shall attest all commissions issued to military officers.

Reports to U. S. government.

11. He shall superintend the preparation of all returns and reports required by the United States from the state on military matters.

In absence of adjutant general.

12. In the absence or inability of the adjutant general to perform his duties, the officer on duty in the adjutant general's office of the rank of lieutenant colonel, shall perform the duties prescribed for the adjutant general, and in the absence or inability of both of said officers, the commander-in-chief may detail a national guard officer to perform the said duties during such absence or inability. The duties of the officers of the adjutant general's department shall be such as prescribed by law and the commander-in-chief and shall conform as closely as practicable to the duties prescribed by orders and regulations of the war department for like officers in the United States army.

SEC. 3. Section one thousand nine hundred thirty-four and one-half of said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Machine gun units.

1934½. Machine gun units may be organized and assigned as provided for similar organizations of the United States army, in the discretion of the commander-in-chief of the national guard of California. Such number of officers and enlisted men of the ranks and grades as obtain in the United States army for similar organizations, shall constitute such machine gun units.

SEC. 14. Section one thousand nine hundred fifty-four of said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Examination
of officers.

1954. Before receiving a commission, or before being commissioned to a higher grade as a result of promotion, every officer of the national guard must have passed a satisfactory physical examination before a medical officer of the United States army or national guard, active or reserve, and a satisfactory examination before a board of commissioned officers as to his knowledge of military affairs and general knowledge and fitness for the service, and anyone failing to pass such examination shall not be eligible for an office in the national guard or for promotion for a period of one year after date of such failure; provided, that a candidate for original appointment or for promotion may, upon his own application, be reexamined after the expiration of six months from the date of the first examination; provided, further, that pending the announcement of the results of the examination as to the officer's professional qualifications the governor may issue a temporary commission to said officer.

SEC. 5. Section one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Vacancies.

1957. When a vacancy occurs among the general officers of the line of the national guard, the governor shall propose to the war department, upon the recommendation of the adjutant general, the name of an officer to fill the vacancy. The officer so recommended will be required to take such examination as may be prescribed by the war department. When notified by the war department that the officer has successfully passed such examination, the governor shall commission him; provided, that pending the announcement of the results of such examination the governor may issue a temporary commission to the appointee. Staff officers of a brigade, regiment, unit of coast artillery corresponding to a regiment of infantry, and staff officers of a separate battalion or separate squadron, shall be recommended to the adjutant general by such brigade, regimental, battalion or squadron commander, or commanding officer of unit of coast artillery corresponding to a regiment of infantry, who may recommend not to exceed three candidates to the adjutant general, who will cause such candidates to be examined. In making these recommendations seniority of candidates will be taken into consideration. In the case of officers of separate organizations, the adjutant general will select not to exceed three candidates, whom the adjutant general will cause to be examined. The candidate receiving the highest rating in such examination will be recommended by the adjutant general to the governor for commission, subject to such examination as may be prescribed by the war department. All officers shall be commissioned in the arm of the service in which they are appointed and shall be assigned to duty by the adjutant general upon recommendation of the commanding officer of the regiment, unit of coast artillery corresponding to a regiment of infantry, separate battalion or squadron.

SEC. 6. Section one thousand nine hundred sixty-four of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1964. The commander-in-chief, whenever he may deem that the good of the service requires it, or upon the request of a brigade commander, or other commanding officer, may order any commissioned officer before a board of examination, to consist of three officers, of the grades specified in the national guard regulations of the war department, which is hereby invested with the powers of courts of inquiry and courts-martial, and such board shall examine into the moral character, capacity, and general fitness for the service of such commissioned officer, and record and return the testimony taken and a record of its proceedings. If the findings of such board be unfavorable to such officer and be approved by the commander-in-chief, he shall be discharged from the service. No officer whose grade or promotion would in any way be affected by the decision of such board, in any case that may come before it, shall participate in the examination or decision of the board in such case. Failure to appear when ordered before a board constituted under this section shall be sufficient ground for a finding by such board that the officer ordered to appear be discharged.

Examination
and discharge
of officers.

SEC. 7. Section one thousand nine hundred sixty-five of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Absence deemed resignation.

1965. Any commissioned officer who absents himself from the state, or from his command, for three months, without the permission of the commander-in-chief, is deemed to have resigned, and such resignation shall be announced in orders from the adjutant general's office immediately after the fact of such absence becomes officially known.

SEC. 8. Section one thousand nine hundred eighty of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Who may be enlisted.

1980. Any male who is a citizen of the United States or who has legally declared his intention of becoming a citizen, of more than eighteen and less than forty-five years of age, able-bodied, free from disease, of good character and temperate habits, may be enlisted in the national guard of this state under the provisions of the national defense act of June 3, 1916, and the various amendments thereto. Original enlistments in the national guard shall be for a period of three years and subsequent enlistments for periods of one year each; provided, that persons who have served in the United States army for not less than six months, and have been honorably discharged therefrom, may, within two years after June 4, 1920, enlist in the national guard for a period of one year and reenlist for like periods. The restriction as to maximum age and citizenship shall not apply to soldiers who have previously served honestly and faithfully in the United States army, regular army, the organized militia, or the national guard. The qualifications for enlistment shall be the same as those prescribed for admission to the regular army, and all men enlisting in the national guard must sign an enlistment contract, and take and subscribe to the oath set forth in section seventy of the national defense act of June 3, 1916, as amended.

SEC. 9. Section one thousand nine hundred eighty-three of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Transfers.

1983. Enlisted men may be transferred upon their own application in the same regiment, battalion or squadron not part of a regiment, from one company or troop to another, by the commanding officer of such regiment, battalion or squadron; from one regiment, battalion or squadron not part of a regiment, signal corps, unattached troop or company, to another in a brigade, by the commanding general of that brigade or by the commander-in-chief; from an organization in one brigade to an organization in another brigade, by the commander-in-chief. Noncommissioned officers must be reduced to the grade of private before they can be transferred. No transfer shall be made except upon the approval of the commanding officers of the organizations affected.

SEC. 10. Section one thousand nine hundred eighty-four of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1984. Commanding officers of regiments and of coast defense commands and of battalions and squadrons not part of regiments shall appoint and warrant the noncommissioned officers of their respective regiments, coast defense commands, battalions and squadrons, and they shall, in their discretion, warrant the noncommissioned officers of the troops, batteries and companies of their respective regiments, coast defense commands, battalions, and squadrons from the members thereof, upon the written nomination of the commanding officers of the troops, batteries and companies, respectively. In troops, batteries and companies not part of a regiment, coast defense command, battalion, or squadron, but attached to a brigade, the noncommissioned officers shall be warranted by the brigade commander, in his discretion, from the members thereof, upon the written nomination of the commanding officer of such troop, battery or company. In troops, batteries, companies, and corps, except the coast artillery corps, not attached to a brigade, regiment, coast defense command, battalion, or squadron, the noncommissioned officers shall be warranted by the respective commanding officers thereof. The officer warranting a noncommissioned officer shall have power to reduce to the ranks, for good and sufficient reasons, the noncommissioned officers warranted in accordance with this section.

Appointment of non-commissioned officers.

SEC. 11. Section one thousand nine hundred eighty-five of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Honorable
discharge.

1985. An honorable discharge shall be issued under the following circumstances, viz: To a man who has faithfully performed his duties during his term of service as required by the conditions of his enlistment or reenlistment, or during his total service, and who has been lawfully relieved of all responsibility for public property issued to him, and from all accountability to his organization. Unless unavoidable circumstances intervene such discharge will be furnished an enlisted man at once upon the expiration of his term of service, which term will date from the taking of the oath of enlistment or reenlistment. Proper steps shall be taken in due time for the settlement of the enlisted man's accounts and responsibility for property, and forwarding the necessary papers so as not to withhold the discharge after it is due.

Any enlisted man may be honorably discharged before the expiration of his term of service by the commanding officer of a regiment, of the coast artillery corps, of the naval militia, or unattached battalion or squadron, or, if a member of an unattached company or troop, by the brigade commander or the commander-in-chief, or by order of the commander-in-chief, upon the recommendation of his commanding officer, for any of the following reasons:

1. To accept promotion by commission;
2. To enlist in the United States army, navy, or marine corps;

3. Upon disability established by a certificate of a medical officer;

4. Upon removal of residence from the state or out of the bounds of the command to which he belongs to so great a distance that in the opinion of the commanding officer he can not properly perform his military duty.

5. At the discretion of the officers authorized to issue discharges upon the recommendation of the company, troop, or other immediate commander, when the man seeking discharge shall make application and furnish satisfactory proof under oath that further service in the national guard will entail great loss and unusual hardship upon him; such discharge shall not be granted when a man is ordered into active service.

6. To a man rendered supernumerary by the reduction of the organization of which he is a member; or who is a member of an organization which may be disbanded.

Dishonorable
discharge.

A dishonorable discharge shall be issued:

1. To a man sentenced by a general court-martial to be discharged;

2. To a man convicted of a felony in a civil court;

3. To a man for neglecting or refusing to pay any fine imposed by a military court within thirty days after it was imposed.

A discharge without honor may be issued:

1. By sentence of a general or summary court-martial;

2. Whenever the commanding officer of a company shall approve the application of two-thirds of the members of the company for the discharge of an enlisted man thereof; provided, that at a regular meeting of the company, or at a meeting called for that purpose, two-thirds of the members of the company desire by vote the discharge of one of their members;

3. To a man whose immediate commanding officer applies for his discharge without honor. The application for such discharge shall be directed to the officer authorized to issue it, and shall briefly state the grounds on which the discharge is applied for. The man whose discharge is applied for shall be entitled to be heard in person to explain the statements contained in the application and shall have ten days' notice of such hearing, a copy of the application and of the notice of time and place of hearing being served on the man in the same manner as warnings for duty are given. If the officer authorized to issue the discharge approves of the application of the immediate commanding officer after the conclusion of the hearing above provided for, he will issue the discharge, and if he disapproves, the man will not be discharged;

4. The officers authorized to issue discharges may also upon application of company commanders, discharge without honor, if convinced after proper investigation that such discharge should be issued, any enlisted man who habitually absents himself from the drills and instruction of his organization, or has shown a lack of interest in his military work sufficient to warrant the same;

5. Or any enlisted man may be discharged without honor for the good of the service by the commanding officer of the regiment, coast artillery corps or unattached battalion or squadron, or if a member of an unattached company or troop, by the brigade commander, or in other instances by the commander-in-chief, upon the recommendation of a company or troop commander and after a careful investigation by the officer issuing the discharge.

The officers authorized to issue the discharges hereinbefore specified are: The commanding officer of a regiment, or of a battalion or squadron not part of a regiment or the coast artillery corps; the commanding officer of a brigade for any organization attached to the brigade and not above specified; the commanding officer of the naval militia and the commander-in-chief.

Provided, the provisions of this section are in addition to the provisions of the military laws of the United States and the regulations of the United States war department governing the discharge of enlisted men, when not in conflict with such laws and regulations, which laws and regulations shall have precedence over state laws and regulations in all matters pertaining to the discharge of enlisted men of the national guard of this state.

Sec. 12. Section one thousand nine hundred eighty-seven Desertion. of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1987. If any member of the national guard absents himself without leave for a period of three months from all drills, or parades of his company, and there is reason to believe that he does not intend to return, he will be carried as a deserter, except when such absence is caused by sickness, the fact of such sickness to be established by doctor's certificate and his commanding officer will furnish a statement setting out all the facts, forwarding the same through military channels to the adjutant general, for the action of the governor, who may authorize the soldier to be dropped as a deserter.

If any member of the national guard when on duty with his company, by order of the proper authority for the suppression of insurrection, preservation of the peace, or similar duty, wilfully absents himself from his command for more than twenty-four hours, he shall be carried as a deserter, and his commanding officer will take immediate steps to secure such deserter's arrest.

Deserters in time of insurrection, or disturbance of the peace, when captured, or when voluntarily surrendering themselves, will be brought before a court-martial according to the statutes of California and the rules and articles of war.

Lists of deserters will be published by the adjutant general, in orders, for the information of the national guard of California.

A deserter will make good the time lost by desertion, unless discharged by competent authority. He will be considered again in the service from the date of his apprehension or surrender; but if a deserter enlists while in desertion, such service shall not be counted as making good time lost by desertion.

A deserter will not be restored to duty without trial except by authority competent to order his trial; such restoration, being ordered in case the desertion is admitted, does not remove the charge of desertion or relieve the soldier from any of the forfeitures attached to that offense; he must make good the time lost by desertion, refund the expenses paid for apprehension and delivery, and forfeit pay while absent. The same authority is competent to set aside a charge of desertion as having been erroneously made and his order to this effect operates to remove the charge of desertion and all stoppages and forfeitures arising therefrom.

Members of the national guard not charged with crime, discovered to be deserters from the army, navy, or marine corps, will be dropped from the rolls of the national guard of California. In such case a report will be forwarded to the adjutant general, stating all the facts connected with the case, by the proper commanding officer.

SEC. 13. Section two thousand three of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Drills.

2003. Officers and enlisted men of each troop and company must assemble for drill and instruction at least four times each month, at intervals of not less than one week, and for such duration as may be prescribed by the national guard regulations of the war department. In addition to such drills and instructions, the commanding officer of any organization may require officers and enlisted men of his command to assemble for drill or instruction at such other times and places as he may appoint; provided, that no commanding officer shall order a parade without the approval of the commanding general of the brigade to which his organization is attached, or of the commander-in-chief. All mounted companies may be required to drill mounted at least four times each year. Upon the occasion of public receptions, or upon the celebration of any event of public importance, the commander-in-chief, or the commanding general of a brigade, may order out any portion of the national guard under his command to parade.

Parades.

SEC. 14. Section two thousand four of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Disbanding of company.

2004. Any company parading at any of the parades or drills in this article provided for with a less number than required by regulations or orders, must be reported to the adjutant general, and by him reported to the commander-in-chief, who, in his discretion, may, with the approval of the secretary of war, disband the same.

SEC. 15. Section two thousand eight of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Annual
inspection.

2008. The entire national guard and naval militia may, in the discretion of the governor, be inspected at their home stations at least once in each year; provided, however, the inspection made by the United States government, through its army and navy officers, may be accepted by the commander-in-chief in his discretion as and for the state and no other inspection ordered for that year.

SEC. 16. Section two thousand forty-one of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2041. Every enlisted man who enters the service of the state shall be provided by the state with a service or dress uniform, or both, corresponding in make and general appearance to the service and dress uniform of the United States army. Uniform of enlisted men.

SEC. 17. Section two thousand seventy-six of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2076. Officers while on active duty in the service of the state shall receive the same pay and allowance as officers of similar grade in the United States army and United States navy. Enlisted men while on active duty in the service of the state shall receive two dollars per day; provided, that no pay shall be allowed to any officer or enlisted man when on duty in any state camp mentioned in section two thousand five of the Political Code of the State of California; and in any camp held in pursuance of orders from the commander-in-chief there shall be allowed for each mounted officer and enlisted man an adequate sum per day for the horse necessarily used by him at such camp; provided, further, that all enlisted men in attendance at joint-manuever camps of the national guard and United States army and all enlisted men of the naval militia while on an annual cruise of instruction in pursuance of the orders of the commander-in-chief shall receive one dollar per day in excess of the government pay per day at such camp or for such cruise of instruction; provided, that the time for which pay is allowed naval militia men on such cruise shall not exceed fifteen days in any one year; and provided, further, that officers of the national guard on duty in the adjutant general's office when called into active service by competent authority shall receive the same pay and allowance as officers of similar grade of the United States army. In case the legislature does not appropriate sufficient money to pay one dollar per day to each enlisted man participating in joint manuevers or cruises for instruction, then the money actually appropriated shall be apportioned among, and paid pro rata, to the enlisted men participating, upon estimate made by the adjutant general in advance of such apportionment and payment. Pay of officers and men.

SEC. 18. Section two thousand seventy-seven of said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2077. Whenever an officer of the national guard is detailed for special duty in any matter relating to the national guard, by order of the commander-in-chief, or by order of the brigade, regimental, battalion or squadron commander, on approval of the commander-in-chief, he shall be allowed three dollars per day and actual traveling expenses. An enlisted man similarly detailed shall be allowed two dollars per day and Traveling expenses.

actual traveling expenses. Whenever an officer or enlisted man of the United States army or navy, detailed by the war or navy department for service with the national guard of California, is detailed by the commander-in-chief of this state for special duty involving travel not specially directed by the war or navy department, said officer or enlisted man shall be allowed his actual traveling expenses, but no per diem.

Sec. 19. Section two thousand seventy-eight of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Officers'
uniforms.

2078. All officers shall receive at the conclusion of each fiscal year the sum of fifty dollars to assist in uniforming and equipping themselves; provided, they have served as such for the entire twelve months comprising such fiscal year, and if not, then such proportion of said sum as the time served bears to said year.

Sec. 20. Section two thousand seventy-nine of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Allowances to organizations.

2079. There must be audited and allowed by the adjutant general and paid out of the appropriation for military purposes, upon the warrant of the state controller, to the commanding officer of each infantry company designated as a rifle company, and each company of coast artillery, each engineer, hospital, ambulance, and howitzer company, and the headquarters company of each regiment and battalion of infantry, and each division and marine company of the naval militia, except the engineer division of the naval militia, the sum of one hundred fifty dollars per month; to the commanding officer of each machine gun unit; signal company, troop of cavalry, battery of field artillery, tank company, service company, motor transport company, and the engineer divisions of the naval militia, the sum of two hundred dollars per month; provided, that when animals are not maintained by a machine gun unit or mounted organization, the allowance to said organizations shall be one hundred fifty dollars per month; the sum so paid to be used for armory rent, care of arms and equipment, and proper incidental expenses of the company, troop, battery, or division. There shall be audited, allowed, and paid out of the same appropriation to the commanding officer of each division and brigade the sum of two hundred dollars per month; to the commanding officer of the naval militia, and to the commanding officer of each unit of coast artillery corresponding to a regiment of infantry, the sum of two hundred dollars per month; to the commanding officer of each regiment of infantry, cavalry, field artillery, and engineers, the sum of one hundred fifty dollars per month; to the commanding officer of each separate battalion of infantry, field artillery, naval militia, engineer troops and squadron of cavalry, the sum of fifty dollars per month, and to the commanding officer of each separate fort command, coast artillery, the sum of twenty-five dollars per month, the sums so paid to be used for rent of headquarters, clerical expenses, stationery, printing, postage and proper incidental expenses of the commanding officer of the organization for which said sums are audited, allowed and paid. There shall be audited, allowed and paid to the commanding officer of the naval militia, and such officer as may be designated by the adjutant general in each regiment of infantry, cavalry, field artillery, and coast artillery, which shall have attached to it a uniformed and organized band of not less than twenty-five men, the sum of seventy-five dollars per month for such band; to the chief surgeon the sum of fifty dollars per month for rent and proper incidental expenses; and to the adjutant general the sum of fifteen thousand dollars per annum, to be expended by him in promoting target practice. There must be audited and allowed by the adjutant general, and paid out of the appropriation for military purposes, to the medical officer in charge of each detachment of the medical department on duty with each regiment of infantry, cavalry, field artillery, engineers, coast artillery, the naval militia, separate battalions and squadrons, the sum of fifty dollars per month for rent and proper incidental expenses of such detachments, and to the medical officer in charge of detachment of the medical corps attached to each separate fort command, coast artillery, the sum of ten dollars per month for proper incidental expenses. In case a unit is organized under and by virtue of the authority granted the commander-in-chief in section one thousand nine hundred twenty-five of this code, and an allowance is not otherwise provided therefor in this section, the adjutant general is authorized to determine and fix a monthly allowance for such unit, to be used for armory rent, care of arms and equipment, and proper incidental expenses. No claim shall be allowed under the provisions of this section except upon demand made quarterly in duplicate, signed and sworn to by the officer claiming the same, before any officer of the national guard, or notary public, and forwarded through the headquarters of the regiment, coast artillery corps, separate battalion, or separate squadron, or naval militia, with the approval of each commanding officer through whose headquarters they are required to pass, direct to the adjutant general; provided, that the adjutant general may make expenditures at any time for the promotion of target practice out of the appropriation for that purpose herein provided for.

Sec. 21. Section two thousand ninety-eight of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2098. (1) All officers and enlisted men of the national guard who comply with all military duties, as provided by law and regulations, are entitled to the following privileges and exemptions, viz: Exemption from road tax and head tax of every description; exemption from jury duty; and service on any posse comitatus. All officers and enlisted men who have faithfully served in the military service of this state for the space of seven consecutive years, or eleven years not consecutive, and received the certificate of the adjutant general certifying the same, are thereafter exempted from further jury duty and military duty except in time of war. And the adjutant general must issue such certificate of exemption when it appears that the party applying is entitled to the same.

(2) Officers and enlisted men heretofore or hereafter honorably discharged or mustered out of the service by reason of the disbandment or consolidation of any organization, or by the provisions of any act of the legislature, shall be, and the same are hereby entitled to all the privileges and exemptions mentioned in this section, upon making a proper application therefor; provided, they shall have served at least five years continuously in the national guard.

(3) Former members of the national guard who have been honorably discharged for "expiration of term of service" or on account of "removal," and have returned to the limits of their commands, and officers who have resigned, been honorably discharged, or whose terms have expired, who reenlist or reenter the national guard within ninety days from the date of their discharge or the expiration of their term of office, will be given credit for continuous service and the enlistment considered consecutive.

SEC. 22. Section two thousand one hundred eleven of the said code is hereby amended to read as follows: militia.

Naval

2111. The naval militia of California when organized, shall consist of such numbers of deck and engineer divisions, companies of marines, and aeronautic and such other organizations as the commander-in-chief may, from time to time, prescribe, in conformity with the requirements of the navy department. The naval militia shall be located throughout the coast of the State of California at the discretion of the commander-in-chief. The words "division" and "company" as used in this chapter in connection with the naval militia shall have the same meaning and effect as "company" when used in connection with infantry as used in this chapter, and the word "battalion" as used in this chapter in connection with the naval militia shall have the same meaning and effect as "battalion" when used in connection with infantry as used in this chapter. The several divisions, companies of marines, and other organizations of the naval militia may be organized into battalions at the discretion of the commander-in-chief.

CHAPTER 710.

An act to amend section twenty-three of an act entitled "An act to provide for and regulate primary elections, and providing a method for choosing the delegates for political parties to state conventions and for nominating electors of president and vice president of the United States, and providing for the election of party county central committees, and to repeal the act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also to repeal the act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections one, three, five, seven, ten, twelve, thirteen, twenty-two, twenty-three, and twenty-four of said direct primary law, and also to repeal all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act," approved June 16, 1913, as amended.

[Approved June 2, 1921. In effect August 1, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twenty-three of an act entitled "An act to provide for and regulate primary elections, and providing a method for choosing the delegates for political parties to state conventions and for nominating electors of president and vice president of the United States, and providing for the election of party county central committees and to repeal the act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also to repeal the act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections one, three, five, seven, ten, twelve, thirteen, twenty-two, twenty-three, and twenty-four of the said direct primary law, and also to repeal all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act," approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1917,
D. 1356,
amended.

Sec. 23. Except in the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office the person receiving the highest number of votes at a primary election as the candidate for the nomination of a political party for an office shall be the candidate of that party for such office, and his name as such candidate shall be placed on the official ballot voted at the ensuing election; provided, he has paid the filing fee as required by section seven of this act; and provided, further, that no candidate for a nomination for other than a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office who fails to receive the highest number of votes for the nomination of the political party with which he was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as ascertained by the secretary of state from the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such candidate resides, shall be entitled to be the candidate of any other political party.

the office and the words "vote for -----," the blank being filled by a number equal to the number of persons to be elected to such office, less the number of names in the "majority group." In case of a tie vote, the names of all candidates receiving the same number of votes shall appear on the ballot in that group which would have contained any one of them had no tie occurred, whether or not the inclusion of such candidates in any group would cause such group to contain more names than hereinabove provided; and this provision as to tie votes shall, in all cases where two or more persons are to be elected to any office, be applied in lieu of the provisions of section twenty-six of the direct primary law.

Of the candidates for election to membership in the county central committee, the candidates equal in number to the number to be elected receiving the highest number of votes in their supervisorial district or assembly district, as the case may be in accordance with the provisions of subdivision five of section twenty-four of this act, shall be declared elected as the representatives of their district to membership in such committee. It shall be the duty of the officers charged with the canvass of the returns of any primary election in any county, city and county or municipality to cause to be issued official certificates of nomination to such party candidates (other than congressional and legislative candidates, candidates for the state board of equalization, and delegates to the state convention from a holdover senatorial district) as have received the highest number of votes as the candidates for the nomination of such party for any offices to be voted for wholly within such county, city and county, or municipality, and cause to be issued to each delegate elected to the state convention from a holdover senatorial district wholly within one county or city and county and to each member of a county central committee a certificate of his election, said certificates of nomination or election, as the case may be, to be issued immediately upon the completion of the canvass as to such party offices as provided in section twenty-two of this act; and to cause to be issued official certificates of nomination to such candidates for judicial, school, county, township or municipal offices voted for wholly within one county or city and county as may be entitled to nomination under the provisions of this section. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue official certificates of nomination to candidates nominated under the provisions of this act for representatives in congress, members of the state senate and assembly, members of the state board of equalization, and for all officers voted for in more than one county or city and county; and to issue a certificate of election to each delegate elected to the state convention from a holdover senatorial district comprising more than one county or city and county; and to issue certificates of election to all persons elected at the May presidential one-fourth of a mile to the southwest corner section thirty-three; east on section line to intersect the northwest line of the rancho Corral de Piedra; southwest along the northwest line of said rancho Corral de Piedra to the southeast corner section six; west along the south line of sections six, one, two and three to intersect the east line of the rancho La Laguna; northeast and northwest on rancho lines to the south corner of lot one, section thirty-three, township thirty south, range twelve; and running thence north on section lines about one mile to the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section twenty-eight, in said township; thence west one-fourth of a mile to the northwest corner of said subdivision; thence north on subdivision lines one-half mile to the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section twenty-one, of the same township; thence west on subdivision lines three-fourths of a mile to the east boundary line of the rancho Los Osos; thence north along said line and along the westerly line of section twenty-one, township thirty south, range twelve east to the northwest corner of lot one, section twenty-one; thence east one-fourth of a mile; thence north three-fourths of a mile to the northwest corner of the east half of the southwest quarter of section sixteen; thence northeast on a direct line to the point of intersection of the north and south quarter section line of section three with the north line of the rancho Potrero de San Luis Obispo; thence north about one-half mile to the point of beginning.

SEC. 3. Inasmuch as said district is in immediate want of school facilities and it is essential that it immediately issue its bonds for the purpose of providing such facilities, it is hereby declared that this act is an urgency measure necessary for the public health, peace and safety, and that it shall accordingly go into effect immediately.

CHAPTER 712.

An act for the prevention of the adulteration or mislabeling of agricultural seed, providing for the indicating of the purity and viability thereof, and prescribing penalties for violations of the provisions hereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Certain terms when used in this act shall, unless such construction be inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows: Terms defined.

(a) The words "agricultural seeds," all domesticated grasses, cereals, legumes such as alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover, crimson clover, alsike clover, white clover, field peas, cowpeas, beans, soy beans, and vetches, and the seeds of all other crops that are or may be grown commercially on a field scale in this state, not including flower, sugar beet, and garden vegetable seeds.

(b) "Noxious weeds," any of the following named plants: dodder (Uscuta species), star thistle (Centaurea species), thistles (Carduus species, Cirsium species, Cnicus species), Russian thistle (Salsola kali), hoary cress (Lepidium draba), morning-glory (Convolvulus arvensis), Johnson grass (Holcus halepensis), nut grass (Cyperus species), creeping mallow (Sida hederacea), St. Johnswort (Hypericum species), coast dandelion (Hypochaeris radicata), water grass (Echinochloa crusgalli), ground bur nut or puncture vine (Tribulus terrestris).

(c) The words "weed seeds," any and all noxious weed seeds and any and all seeds not included in the definition of agricultural seeds.

(d) "Label," a tag or label affixed in a conspicuous place on the exterior of a package or other container, plainly written or printed in the English language in type not smaller than seven-point.

Label on agricultural seed.

SEC. 2. Every lot of agricultural seeds, except as herein otherwise provided, when sold, offered or exposed for sale in bulk, packages or other containers of five pounds or more shall bear a label stating:

(a) The commonly accepted name of such agricultural seeds and the bushel weight thereof;

(b) The approximate percentage by weight of purity; meaning the freedom of such agricultural seeds from other kinds of seeds distinguishable by their appearance and from inert matter.

(c) The approximate total percentage by weight of weed seeds.

(d) The name of each kind of seeds or bulblets of noxious weeds which are present singly or collectively, as follows:

(1) in excess of one seed in each five grams of timothy, red top, tall meadow oat grass, orchard grass, crested dog's-tail, Canada blue grass, Kentucky blue grass, fescues, bromo grasses, perennial and Italian rye grass, western rye grass, crimson clover, red clover, white clover, alsike clover, sweet clover, alfalfa, and all other grasses and clovers not otherwise classified; (2) one in twenty-five grams of millets, rape, flax, and other seeds not specified in (1) or (3) of this subsection; (3) one in one hundred grams of wheat, oats, rye, barley, buckwheat, vetches and other seeds as large or larger than wheat.

(e) The approximate percentage of germination of such agricultural seeds together with the month and year said seed was tested; provided, however, that this statement shall not be a basis for prosecution under this act until after a hearing has been held thereon before the director of agriculture under such general rules and regulations as may be adopted by the director of agriculture.

(f) The full name and address of the vendor of such agricultural seed.

SEC. 3. Mixtures of alsike and timothy, alsike and white clover, red top and timothy, alsike and red clover, when sold, offered or exposed for sale as mixtures and in bulk, packages or other containers of five pounds or more shall bear a label stating: Label on mixtures.

(a) That such seed is a mixture.

(b) The name and approximate percentage by weight of each kind of agricultural seed present in such mixture in excess of five per cent by weight of the total mixture.

(c) The approximate percentage by weight of weed seeds.

(d) The name of each kind of seeds or bulblets of noxious weeds which are present singly or collectively in excess of one seed or bulblet in each fifteen grams of such mixture.

(e) The approximate percentage of germination of each kind of agricultural seed present in such mixture in excess of five per cent by weight, together with the month and year said seed was tested; provided, however, that this statement shall not be a basis for prosecution under this act until after a hearing has been held thereon before the director of agriculture under such general rules and regulations as may be adopted by the director of agriculture.

(f) The full name and address of vendor of such mixture. Label on special mixtures.

SEC. 4. Special mixtures of agricultural seeds, except as specified in section three of this act, when sold, offered or exposed for sale as mixtures, in bulk, packages or other containers of eight ounces or more shall bear labels stating:

(a) That such seed is a special mixture.

(b) The name of each kind of agricultural seed which is present in proportion of five per cent or more of the total mixture.

(c) The approximate total percentage by weight of weed seeds.

(d) The approximate percentage by weight of inert matter.

(e) The name of each kind of the seeds or bulblets of noxious weeds which are present singly or collectively in excess of one seed or bulblet in each fifteen grams of such special mixture.

(f) The full name and address of the vendor of such special mixture.

SEC. 5. Agricultural seeds, mixtures or special mixtures of the same shall be exempt from the provisions of this act: Exemption.

(a) When possessed, exposed for sale, or sold for food or manufacturing purposes only.

(b) When sold to merchants to be recleaned before being sold or exposed for sale for seeding purposes.

(c) When in store for the purpose of recleaning, or not possessed, sold or offered for sale for seeding purposes within the state.

Enforcement
by director of agriculture.

SEC. 6. The duty of enforcing this act and carrying out its provisions and requirements shall be vested in the state director of agriculture. The director of agriculture is hereby empowered to adopt, from time to time, such reasonable rules and regulations not in conflict with law as he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act by setting forth such rules and regulations in a proclamation, which proclamation shall be published in the agricultural bulletin of the state department of agriculture and in one or more newspapers or agricultural journals of general circulation published in the State of California. The said director of agriculture shall maintain a laboratory with proper equipment for the making of laboratory tests under this act. He may publish or cause to be published the results of the examination, analysis and test of any sample of agricultural seed, mixture or special mixture of such seed.

Inspection
of seed.

SEC. 7. It shall be the duty of the said director of agriculture, either by himself or his duly authorized agents, to inspect, examine and make analysis of and test any agricultural seed sold, offered or exposed for sale within this state for seeding purposes within this state, at such time and place, and to such extent as he may determine. The director of agriculture and his agents shall have free access at all reasonable hours to any premises or structures to make examination of any such agricultural seeds, whether such seeds are upon the premises of the owner or consignee of such seeds, or on the premises or in the possession of any warehouse, elevator, railway, steamship or transportation company, and he is hereby given authority in person or by his agents, upon notice to the dealer, his agent or the representative of any warehouse, elevator, railway, steamship or transportation company, if present, to take for analysis a composite sample of such agricultural seeds upon payment of a reasonable purchase price for the same when demanded.

Said sample shall be thoroughly mixed and two official samples taken therefrom. Each official sample shall be securely sealed. One of said samples shall be left with or upon the premises of the party in interest, and the other retained by said director of agriculture or his agent for analysis.

In case a sample drawn as provided herein upon test or analysis is found to fall below the statement on the tag or label attached to the lot from which said sample was secured, or to violate any of the provisions of this act, the vendor or consignee of said lot of seed shall be notified and a copy of said notice shall be mailed to the person, firm or corporation whose tag or label was found affixed thereto.

Seed
submitted to test.

SEC. 8. Any citizen of this state shall have the privilege of submitting to the director of agriculture samples of agricultural seeds for test and analysis, subject to such rules and regulations as may be adopted by said director of agriculture; provided, that the director may by such regulations fix the maximum number of samples that may be tested free of charge for any one citizen in any one period of time and fix charges for tests or samples submitted in excess of those tested free of charge.

SEC. 9. Any person, firm or corporation that shall fail, ^{Penalties.} neglect or refuse to affix to the packages or other containers in which agricultural seeds are sold, offered or exposed for sale, the labels required by the provisions hereof, or shall affix to any such package or other container any label containing any false statement of the matters or things required by the provisions hereof, or shall in any manner interfere with or obstruct the taking of samples of such seed as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months or both; provided, that for a second or subsequent offense a fine, if imposed, shall not be less than one hundred dollars.

SEC. 10. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this ^{Repealed.} act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 11. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or ^{Constitution-} phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, ^{ality.} such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER 713.

An act making an appropriation to carry out the purposes of an act entitled "An act for the prevention of the adulteration or mislabeling of agricultural seed, providing for the indicating of the purity and viability thereof, and prescribing penalties for violations of the provisions hereof."

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to be expended in accordance with law in carrying out the purposes of the act entitled "An act for the prevention of the adulteration or mislabeling of agricultural seed, providing for the indicating of the purity and viability thereof, and prescribing penalties for violations of the provisions hereof," adopted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature of California. ^{Appropriation: pure seed law.}

CHAPTER 714.

An act to prevent, control, and eradicate tuberculosis in cattle in the State of California; to empower the director of agriculture to establish tuberculosis eradication or free areas; providing penalties for the violation hereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Survey of tuberculous
cattle.

SECTION 1. In order to determine the prevalence of tuberculosis in cattle in the State of California, the director of agriculture shall upon request of the board of supervisors of any county make a survey of said county to ascertain the extent of tuberculosis in bovine animals in the said county.

Tuberculosis eradication
area established.

SEC. 2. If, after investigation, said director finds that ninety per cent of the cattle in any county, or counties are free from tuberculosis, he may establish an area or areas to be known and designated as "tuberculosis eradication area." A tuberculosis eradication area shall be an area established by a proclamation by the director of agriculture. Such proclamation shall designate the territorial boundary of such area and shall be published for three successive weeks in one or more newspapers, of general circulation, in said area. For the purposes of this act and to eradicate tuberculosis in cattle, and to prevent tubercular cattle from being imported into such area, all cattle shall be subject to examination, inspection, quarantine and tuberculin test applied under the directions and in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the said director of agriculture. After the eradication of tuberculosis in domestic live stock has been completed, the eradication area shall by proclamation by the director of agriculture, as above provided, be declared tuberculosis free area.

Branding
animal.

SEC. 3. Upon discovery by the director of agriculture of California of any bovine affected with tuberculosis, he shall cause the same to be branded with a hot iron with the letter "T" on the left neck or jaw, for purposes of future identification.

Permission to dispose of branded cattle.

SEC. 4. All animals branded with the above mentioned brand ("T"), within or without said eradication or free areas, must not be sold, slaughtered, or disposed of in any manner whatsoever, or removed from the premises where located when branded, unless permission is first obtained from the director of agriculture.

Rules
governing removal or slaughtering.

SEC. 5. Every animal known to be affected with tuberculosis may, with permission in writing from the director of agriculture, be removed from tuberculosis eradication or free area, in accordance with and under such rules and regulations as shall be promulgated in said written permission or shall be slaughtered under the supervision of an inspector of the division of animal industry of the state department of agriculture, or of the United States bureau of animal industry and disposed of in accordance with the rules and regulations of the State of California or of the United States bureau of animal industry, governing meat inspection.

SEC. 6. No cattle shall be permitted to enter any tuberculosis eradication or free area by common carrier, or otherwise, unless accompanied by certificate of inspection, certifying that they have been examined and inspected within ten days before the date of their entrance into such area, and showing the said cattle to be free from tuberculosis and other communicable diseases. Such certificate of inspection which shall include a tuberculin test record shall also indicate the final destination of said cattle within said eradication or free area and said certificate shall not be valid until duly approved, in writing, by the director of agriculture, which approval shall be written across the face of said certificate. All cattle so admitted shall remain upon the premises described in said approved certificate for thirty (30) days or until released by order of said director.

Inspection
of cattle entering area.

SEC. 7. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, the director of agriculture or his duly authorized inspectors, may, at any time, or place, enter upon any premises, except dwelling houses. No person shall obstruct, hamper or interfere with the work of said director, his agent, or inspector, while enforcing the provisions of this act. Should any owner or person in charge of cattle subject to examination, under the provisions of this act, after ten days notice in writing, refuse to properly confine in corrals or stanchions all cattle in his charge, possession, or control, in order to permit of a proper examination, under the provisions of this act, the director of agriculture, his agents, or inspectors are authorized to employ help and incur such expense as is necessary in order to properly examine for tuberculosis any and all of said cattle, and the expense of rounding up, driving, corralling, and holding for the purpose of said examination shall become and remain a lien upon said cattle, and such lien, unless paid, within five days after written notice of the amount of the same has been given by the said director of agriculture to the owner or person in possession of the same, shall be foreclosed in the manner provided in section one thousand two hundred eight of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Power to enter premises.

Refusal to permit examination.

SEC. 8. Any person, firm, or corporation, whether principal, agent or otherwise, violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars or not more than thirty days in jail, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 9. In order to carry into effect the provisions of this act and other acts relating to the control of tuberculosis and animal diseases, the director of agriculture is authorized to employ a sufficient number of legally qualified graduate veterinarians and such other assistants as may be required, Assistants.

Constitution-
ality.

SEC. 10. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Rules for droves.

SEC. 11. Under such reasonable rules and regulations as the director of agriculture shall prescribe, bands or droves of bovine animals may be driven or transported from one county into another for grazing purposes.

CHAPTER 715.

An act to amend section nineteen c of an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p 1248,
amended.

SECTION 1. Section nineteen c of an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 19c. In counties of the third class there shall be one probation officer and eight assistant probation officers. The salaries of said officers shall be as follows: Probation officer three thousand six hundred dollars per annum; one assistant probation officer at a salary of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; one assistant probation officer at a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; one assistant probation officer, who shall also act as collector, at a salary of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; three assistant probation officers at a salary of two thousand dollars per annum each; two assistant probation officers, who shall also act as stenographers, at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum each.

Counties of 3d class, salaries of probation officers.

CHAPTER 716.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act creating a revolving fund for the purchase of ballot paper, prescribing its use and appropriating money therefor," approved June 7, 1913.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act creating a revolving fund for the purchase of ballot paper, prescribing its use and appropriating money therefor," approved June 7, 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1913, p. 926, amended.

Section 1. The sum of thirty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be paid into and constitute a revolving fund for the purchase of ballot paper, which fund is hereby created. Said fund shall be used for the purchase of ballot paper in carrying out the provisions of section one thousand one hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, and shall be reimbursed by the receipts from the county or municipality obtaining such paper in accordance with said section. Said fund shall at all times be intact and represented either by cash on hand in the state treasury or ballot paper in the custody of the secretary of state, purchased from said fund and having a cost value equal to the amount necessary to bring the total fund up to thirty thousand dollars.

Appropriation: revolving fund for purchase of ballot paper.

SEC. 2. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state shall, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 717.

An act making an appropriation for the encouragement of county agricultural fairs and providing for the distribution of the moneys hereby appropriated.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
encouragement of county agricultural fairs.

SECTION 1. To encourage the holding of county agricultural fairs and to stimulate better agriculture and horticulture and the breeding of better live stock in the various counties of the State of California there is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, one-half of said amount to be expended during the seventy-third fiscal year, and one-half to be expended during the seventy-fourth fiscal year, in accordance with the directions contained in section two of this act.

Apportionment by state board
of control.

SEC. 2. The money hereby appropriated shall be expended under the supervision of the state board of control for premiums for agricultural, horticultural and live stock exhibits only. The state board of control shall apportion the money hereby appropriated to the various agricultural fairs held in any county or by any group of counties on the basis of the amount which such fairs actually paid in premiums for agricultural, horticultural and live stock exhibits, at the fairs held in the preceding year. It shall be the duty of the secretary of any such fair desiring to take advantage of the provisions of this act to file with the state board of control on or before August 1, 1921, and August 1, 1922, a sworn statement setting forth the actual amount paid for premiums by such county agricultural fair held in the preceding year. No allotment from the appropriation herein provided shall be made for more than one fair in any year in any county. The fact that one county joins with another county, or with several others, to hold an agricultural fair shall not bar it from receiving a proper proportion of the moneys as herein appropriated.

CHAPTER 718.

An act to establish standards for grain, providing for grading and inspection, defining the powers and duties of the director of agriculture in respect thereto, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known and when cited or amended may be designated as the "California grain standardization act "

SEC. 2. The director of agriculture of the State of California is hereby charged with the duty of carrying out all of the provisions of this act, and he shall on or before sixty days from the time this act becomes effective put into effect the provisions of this act relative to the grading and inspection of grains for which federal standards have been established under authority of the United States grain standards act. He shall appoint, fix the compensation and determine the duties of such inspectors and other employees as shall be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. He shall have the power:

(a) To establish uniform grades for grain, which are hereby defined as including corn (maize), wheat, rye, oats, barley, grain sorghum and beans. Any standard for grains now or hereafter made mandatory under authority of the congress of the United States, shall forthwith, be established and promulgated by the director of agriculture as the official standards of this state. In establishing grades for grain that is sold on a dockage basis, dockage shall be considered and such dockage that is of value and retained shall be paid for. Dockage as used therein shall be understood to mean dockage as defined in the official grain standards of the United States.

(b) To make, amend, or repeal rules and regulations for the grading and inspecting of grain, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, provided that all such rules shall be published by him in such manner as to give proper publicity thereto.

(c) To fix and determine all charges for sampling, grading and inspecting grain.

SEC. 4. The director of agriculture may establish official stations for the inspection of grain at any town or place where grain is bought, sold, marketed, stored or manufactured. The director of agriculture shall inspect and grade upon request all grain sold, offered for sale, or consigned for sale. He shall issue a uniform grade certificate stating the kind and grade of grain, test weight per bushel, and the reason for all grade below number one, and such other facts as he may require; provided, however, that none of the facts certified in such certificate shall be presumed to continue or exist beyond sixty days after the date of such certificate; provided, further, that certificates issued by authorized agents of the department of agriculture shall be received in all courts of the State of California as prima facie evidence of the truth of the statements therein contained at the time of the issuance of said certificate and for sixty days thereafter. Such certificates shall be delivered to the owner of such grain or his agent.

Inspectors.

SEC. 5. The director of agriculture may appoint any person as an inspector under the provisions of this act eligible for a license under the United States grain standards act. No officer or employee of the department of agriculture engaged in the inspecting or grading of grain under the provisions of this act shall be interested financially or otherwise, directly or indirectly, in any grain elevator, warehouse or in the merchandising of grain, or be employed by any person, firm or corporation owning or operating any grain warehouse or elevator.

Inspector's certificate

SEC. 6. The director of agriculture shall issue to each employee authorized to grade and inspect grains under this act a certificate showing such authority, which shall be posted in a permanent and conspicuous place at the official station of such employee.

Certificates of grade.

SEC. 7. Whenever standards and grades shall have been fixed and established under the provisions of this act for any grain, it shall be unlawful thereafter for any person, firm, or corporation to buy or sell grain designed for intrastate shipment on the basis of any standard or grade that may be established under the authority of this act without first having procured certificates of grade from the director of agriculture.

Determination of grade.

SEC. 8. The grade of grain shall be determined at such points as inspectors of the department may be located, by actual sampling, grading and inspection. Such grain delivered at points where an agent or inspector of the department may not be located shall be graded on the basis of fair samples guaranteed to be such in writing by the buyer and seller. Such samples shall be taken in the manner prescribed by the director of agriculture under the rules and regulations of this act; provided, that certificates issued on the basis of fair samples guaranteed to be such by the buyer and seller shall state only the grade of such samples.

Appeal to federal grain supervisor.

SEC. 9. Any person aggrieved by the grading by any employee of the director of agriculture of any grain for which federal standards have been fixed, may with the approval of the secretary of the United States department of agriculture appeal to the federal grain supervisor of the supervision district in which the State of California may be located. The federal grain supervisor is hereby appointed as an employee of the department of agriculture of the State of California to serve without pay for the sole purpose of hearing and deciding appeals from the original grading of grain by an employee of the state department of agriculture. Such federal grain supervisor may confer with the director of agriculture, his duly authorized agents, and employees and any other interested parties and shall make such tests as may be deemed necessary to determine the correct grade of the grain in question. After making such tests the federal grain supervisor shall issue, or cause to be issued, a federal appeal grade certificate to all interested parties, which shall state the grade of the grain as determined by such tests, the number of the inspector's certificate which is superseded by the federal appeal grade certificate, and the following statement: "This certificate is issued pursuant to the United States grain standards act and the California grain standards act." Such federal appeal grade certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the correct grade of the grain in any court of the State of California; provided, that any person aggrieved by the grading by any employee of the director of agriculture of any grain for which federal standards have not been fixed but for which state grades have been established under the provisions of this act may appeal the question to the director of agriculture. The director of agriculture shall make such tests as shall be deemed necessary to determine the correct grade of the grain in question and after making such tests shall issue or cause to be issued an appeal grade certificate to all interested parties. Said certificate shall take such form as is prescribed by the director in the rules and regulations under this act. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the correct grade of the grain in any court of the State of California. The director of agriculture shall charge, assess, and cause to be collected for each such appeal as is filed with the state department of agriculture or the United States department of agriculture a fee of five dollars which shall be paid to the director of agriculture, and same shall be refunded if the appeal is sustained; provided, further, that any appeal from inspection and grading made under the provisions of this act shall be taken before the grain leaves the place where the inspection appealed from was made and before the identity of the grain has been lost, under such rules and regulations as the director of agriculture shall prescribe; provided, also, that any buyer of grain buying under the standards and grades of this act shall be entitled to appeal from any inspection or grading made under the provisions of this act at any time within five days of the transfer or delivery to said buyer by any seller of any certificate issued under the provisions of this act and regardless of any movement of said grain.

SEC. 10. The director of agriculture shall cause all grades established hereunder to be published in one or more newspapers or farm journals of general circulation throughout the state, with the dates when such grades so established shall become effective, which shall not be less than thirty days from the date of such publication. Official grades shall be kept on file in every official grading station for public inspection.

Tools for testing.

SEC. 11. The director of agriculture shall provide proper sieves, cleaning devices and other apparatus necessary for separating dockage from grain, grain testers, stokers, and such other tools as shall not be disapproved by the bureau of markets of the United States department of agriculture.

Penalty.

SEC. 12. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Power to make inspection.

SEC. 13. The director of agriculture and his duly authorized employees may enter and inspect any place where grain is stored, shipped, sold, or offered for sale for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act. The director of agriculture and his duly authorized employees may, for purposes of inspection and examination of grain, break the seals of cars and after such inspection has been made the said officials shall securely close and rescal such doors as have been opened by them, using the special seal provided by the department of agriculture for the purpose. A record of all original seals broken by said officials, and the date when broken, and also a record of all state seals substituted therefor, and the date and number of said seals, shall be made by such officials. Any person who forcibly assaults, resists, impedes, or interferes with said director of agriculture or his employees in the execution of any duty authorized to be performed by him under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Grain standardization fund.

SEC. 14. All moneys received under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury and placed to the credit of the grain standardization fund, which fund is hereby created. All of the moneys that may be in said fund from time to time are hereby appropriated to carry out the provisions of this act.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 15. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Repealed.

SEC. 16. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 719.

An act to promote the development of the California fruit, nut and vegetable industry in state and interstate markets, and to protect the state's reputation in these markets by establishing standards and standard packages for certain fruits, nuts and vegetables specified therein, and to prevent deception in the packing and sale of fruits, nuts and vegetables, to provide for the certification of fruits and vegetables including the payment of fees, to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof and to repeal an act entitled "An act to promote the development of the California fruit and vegetable industry in state and interstate markets, and to protect the state's reputation in these markets by establishing standards and standard packages for certain fruits and vegetables specified therein, and to prevent deception in fruit packages, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof and making an appropriation for the enforcement of all provisions hereof, and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 27, 1919.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows.

SECTION 1. This act shall be known, and for any and all purposes may be designated and referred to, as "The California fruit and vegetable standardization act." Title of act.

SEC. 2. To promote the development of the California fresh fruit, nut and vegetable industry and to prevent deception in the packing, shipping or sale of fruits, nuts and vegetables for state or interstate shipment, there are hereby created and established certain standards and standard packages for walnuts, apricots, berries, cantaloupes, cherries, grapes, melons, oranges, peaches, pears, plums, prunes, quinces, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, and tomatoes. Standards for fruits and vegetables established.

SEC. 3. All fresh fruits, nuts and vegetables of the kind specified in section two of this act, except oranges which shall be governed by the provisions of section ten, and except such fruits and vegetables for which special grades shall be established under section four of this act, when being packed, or after packing, or when shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in any container or subcontainer shall be mature but not overripe, well colored for the variety and locality, virtually uniform in quality, virtually free from insect, nematode and fungous pests, rots, bruises, frost injury, sunburn and other serious defects, and except in the case of unpacked fruit or vegetables, shall be virtually uniform in size. When packed in layers there shall be approximately the same numerical count in each layer throughout a container or subcontainer having straight sides. In the case of sloping side containers no layer below the top layer shall contain a greater numerical count than the top layer. Conditions of packing.

SEC. 4. The director of agriculture is hereby empowered, through his duly authorized agents, and the county horticultural commissioners of each county of the state, their deputies and inspectors, to enforce all the provisions of this act. The director of agriculture shall have supervision and control over all enforcing officers of this act in the State of California. The refusal of any officer to carry out the orders Enforcement by director of agriculture.

and directions of the director of agriculture in the enforcement of this act shall be deemed neglect of duty. The director of agriculture is also empowered to establish and enforce such additional grades and grading rules as may be deemed necessary on fruits and vegetables for which standards have not been provided in this act, after a thorough investigation has been made of the needs of the particular fruit or vegetable for which grades are contemplated. Such grades or grading rules must, before they become effective, be approved in one or more public meetings attended by representative growers and shippers of the locality interested in the industry affected. Such meetings shall be advertised at least once in a newspaper published in that locality one week or more prior to the meetings and every grower and shipper in that locality of the commodity in question whose name is on file with the department of agriculture shall be duly notified in writing of such meetings; said meetings shall be presided over by the director of agriculture, or any of his duly authorized agents, and shall, in so far as possible and practicable, be conducted at such place or places that can be conveniently reached by representatives of the affected industry. In like manner the director of agriculture may provide for standard packages other than those provided for in section seven of this act. Grades and grading rules established in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not be modified during the current shipping season of the fruits or vegetables for which such grades were established nor shall standard packages be changed without two years notice to the industry involved.

On receipt of a written appeal signed by at least twenty-five representative growers and shippers of the commodity for which grades, grading rules or standard packages have been established under the provisions of this section, protesting against the grades, grading rules or standard packages so established, the director of agriculture shall call a hearing within ten days after the receipt of such an appeal. Due notice shall be given by the director of agriculture to all interested parties of the date and place of such hearing and the grades, grading rules or standard packages established shall be sustained, modified, or revoked in the discretion of the director of agriculture on the basis of the evidence presented. If such grades, grading rules or standard packages are not changed or modified by the director of agriculture in accordance with the provisions of this section they shall continue to be in full force and effect. Grades, grading rules and standard packages established under the provisions of this section shall be promulgated by the director of agriculture, published in one or more newspapers and farm journals of general circulation in the State of California and distributed by mail to those growers and shippers affected whose names are on file with the department of agriculture.

SEC. 5. All fresh fruits or vegetables of the kind specified in this act intended for use in processing, preserving, or in the manufacture of by-products, except that grapes must conform to the sugar standards in section ten hereof, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act, and any inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables may require from the owner or shipper of such fruits or vegetables such proof as he may deem necessary that they will be used in processing, preserving, or in the manufacture of by-products, and shall hold same until satisfactory proof is given.

SEC. 6. When used in this act the words herein mentioned shall be defined as follows: "Packages" shall mean any box, crate, lug, basket, barrel, drum, sack, or other container used for packing, shipping or selling fruits, nuts or vegetables. "Pack, packing or packed," shall mean the regular compact arrangement of all or part of the fruit or vegetables in any container or subcontainer used for the purpose of sale or transportation for sale. "Deceptive pack" shall mean any package of fruits, nuts or vegetables, which has in the outer layer or the exposed surface fruits, nuts or vegetables which are so superior in quality or condition to those in the interior of the package, or the unexposed portion, as to materially misrepresent the entire contents. "Fresh fruit (except oranges) or fresh vegetables" shall mean the fresh product of any tree, vine or plant which produces edible fruits or vegetables suitable for human consumption. "Mature" shall mean a degree of ripeness fit for shipment. "Virtually uniform in size" shall mean in the case of packed fruits a difference in size of the various fruits as follows: pears, peaches and quinces, a variation of not more than one-half of an inch when measured through widest portion of cross-section; apricots, plums and prunes, a variation of not more than one-fourth of an inch when measured through widest portion of cross-section. "Virtually free" from insect, nematode and fungous pests, rots, bruises, frost injury, sunburn, and other serious defects, shall mean that the total defects shall not exceed ten per cent in any one package of fruits or vegetables, and excepting grapes that there shall not be more than five per cent of any one defect. "By-product" shall mean any product manufactured from fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, or their juices. "County" shall include in its meaning a consolidated city and county. "Container" shall mean any box, crate, or other package utilized in handling fresh fruit or vegetables. "Subcontainer" shall mean any basket or other receptacle used within a container. "Substantially colored" shall mean at least seventy per cent color.

SEC. 7. Standard packages are hereby established as follows:

(1) Standard apricot, plum and grape basket, approximately eight inches square on top, six and one-half inches on bottom, and four inches deep, inside measurements.

(2) Standard berry baskets, dry pint containing an interior capacity of approximately thirty-three and six-tenths cubic inches and dry one-half pint containing interior capacity of approximately sixteen and eight-tenths cubic inches; provided, that the standard basket for strawberries shall be the dry pint.

All cantaloupe packs other than those provided in this section shall be conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch in height "irregular pack."

Labels on containers.

SEC. 8. All containers of fruit of a kind specified in this act, except subcontainers, when packed and offered for sale, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof the following: Name of the orchard where the same was produced, with the post-office address thereof, or the name and post-office address of the person, firm, company or corporation, or organization who shall have first packed or authorized the packing of same, or the name under which such packer shall be engaged in business, together with the post-office address of such packer; name of variety if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety"; minimum net weight or approximate number of fruits in the container or subcontainer, which number shall be within four of the true count, and no container or subcontainer shall have less than the minimum stamped thereon. When two or more varieties are packed or placed in a container, they shall be labeled "mixed varieties." Pears and peaches, when packed, shall have the correct number within four placed on the container.

Standard or other containers when used as subcontainers are exempt from the provisions regarding marking, when the container in which they are placed is marked in compliance with the terms of this section. No containers or subcontainers of fruits or vegetables shall bear grade or other designations that are in any way false or misleading. Nothing in this act shall be construed to conflict with any California or federal regulations regarding net weight markings on containers or subcontainers.

Containers in which the fruit in the top layer only is placed in regular compact arrangement, excepting cherries, berries, and grapes, shall be labeled "face and fill" in lieu of the approximate number of fruits or net weight.

SEC. 9. All fresh fruits of the kinds specified in this act, except such as shall be used in the manufacture of by-products, when prepared or offered for sale or sold, shall be packed or placed in standard containers, which are hereby established, and shall conform to all provisions of this act; provided, that, with the exception of berries, other sized containers may be used if conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch high. "irregular container."

Fresh fruits to be packed in standard containers.

SEC. 10. In addition to the standards prescribed in section three of this act, grapes shall show a sugar content of not less than seventeen per cent Balling scale, except Burger, Emperor, Gros Colman, Pierce Isabella, and Cornichon, which shall show not less than sixteen per cent Balling scale; provided, however, that in cases where lower sugar content is required for processing, preserving, or manufacturing grapes than is established in this section, the director of agriculture is authorized to issue a permit for delivery of same, such permit to be a matter of public record in the department of agriculture. Containers of grapes moved under special permit shall be conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch in height "low sugar content."

Sugar content of grapes.

Permits so issued shall be revocable at any time upon proper showing being made to the director of agriculture. Oranges shall be deemed properly matured for shipment or sale under the provisions of this act when the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization; provided, that the oranges have attained at least twenty-five per cent yellow or orange color before picking, and oranges which are substantially or at least seventy per cent colored at the time of picking shall be deemed properly matured for shipment or sale, irrespective of analysis of the juice. When packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, oranges shall be virtually free from insect and fungous diseases and other serious defects. Oranges shall be considered unfit for shipment when frosted to the extent of endangering the reputation of the citrus industry, if shipped. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to shipments of oranges to foreign countries other than the Dominion of Canada, during any season, provided such shipments are made after the first day of November.

Orange-

Horticultural commissioners to be inspectors.

SEC. 11. The horticultural commissioner of each county, his deputy and inspectors, shall be, by virtue of their office, inspectors of fruits and vegetables under this act in their respective counties.

Powers of enforcing officers.

SEC. 12. All enforcing officers under the provisions of this act shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the county for which they have been appointed where any fruits, nuts or vegetables mentioned in this act are produced, stored, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such fruits, nuts and vegetables and the containers thereof and equipment found in any such places. It shall be the duty of all enforcing officers mentioned in this act, to carry out the provisions of this act in their respective districts, and to cause the prosecution of any person, firm, corporation or organization, whom they know or have reason to believe to be guilty of the violation of any of its provisions. Any enforcing officer in the performance of his duties shall have the same powers possessed by peace officers of the city, county, or state, and shall have the right while exercising such police powers to seize and hold as evidence part or all of any pack, load, consignment or shipment of fresh fruits, nuts or vegetables packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold in violation of this act, as may in his judgment be necessary to secure the conviction of the party he knows or believes has violated or is violating any of the provisions of this act. He may start proceedings in any court of the county, or city and county, within his jurisdiction to secure the conviction of the party or parties who have violated any of the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of said county, or city and county, in which any violation of this act may occur, to prosecute the person, firm, company, organization or corporation accused of such violation and also, at the request of the director of agriculture or his duly authorized agents, to institute and prosecute such action as may be authorized under the provisions of this act.

Rejection of shipments delivered in violation of act.

SEC. 13. It shall be lawful for any forwarding company, person, firm, corporation or organization and for any common carrier to decline to ship or transport any fresh fruits or vegetables which upon inspection are found to be delivered for shipment in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and any such forwarding company, person, firm, corporation, organization or a common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other writing given to the consignor thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or hold at the expense and risk of the latter, all fresh fruits and vegetables which upon inspection are found to be delivered for shipment in violation of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 14. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, company, organization or corporation to pack or cause to be packed for sale or shipment, import, sell, offer for sale, or deliver for shipment any of the fresh fruits, nuts or vegetables specified in this act that do not conform to the standards herein provided. It shall also be unlawful to prepare, sell or offer for sale, a deceptive pack of fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, nuts, dried fruits or dried vegetables, or to mislabel any package of such fruits, nuts or vegetables. Any person, firm, company, corporation or organization who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor. Penalties.

SEC. 15. The director of agriculture is empowered to define, promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and to prescribe the limits of tolerance within which deviations from the standard dimensions set forth in section seven shall be permitted. Rules by director of agriculture.

SEC. 16. The director of agriculture and his duly authorized agents or employees may investigate and certify to shippers or other interested parties the quality and condition of fruit, vegetables, and other farm products under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, including the payment of such fees as will be reasonable; provided, that certificates issued by authorized agents of the department of agriculture shall be received in all courts of the State of California as prima facie evidence of the truth of the statements therein contained. Such investigations shall not be made or such certificates issued by any person not specially authorized by the director of agriculture. All moneys collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the "standardization fund," which fund is hereby created, and of which one thousand dollars ($1,000) may be used as a revolving fund, subject to the approval of the state board of control. The "standardization fund" shall be held subject to the uses of the director of agriculture for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act. Certificates showing quality of products.

SEC. 17. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. Constitutionality.

SEC. 18. An act entitled "An act to promote the development of the California fruit and vegetable industry in state and interstate markets, and to protect the state's reputation in these markets by establishing standards and standard packages Stats. 1919, p. 1221, amended.

for certain fruits and vegetables specified therein and to prevent deception in fruit packages, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof and making an appropriation for the enforcement of all provisions hereof and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 27, 1919, is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 720.

An act to amend section two thousand three hundred twenty-two of the Political Code, relating to horticulture.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two thousand three hundred twenty-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Petition for appointment
of county
horticultural commissioner.

2322. Whenever a petition is presented to the board of supervisors of any county or city and county, and signed by twenty-five or more persons each of whom is a resident freeholder and possessor of an orchard, or greenhouse or nursery, or rice fields, stating that certain or all orchards or nurseries or trees or plants of any variety or rice fields, are infested with any infectious diseases, or insects of any kind injurious to fruit, fruit trees, vines or other plants or vegetables, or that there is growing therein the Russian thistle or saltwort (Salsola kali var. tragus), Johnson grass (Sorghum halepense) or other noxious weeds, or red rice, or water-grasses or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, codlin moth or other insects, ground squirrels, gophers or other animals that are destructive to trees and plants; or that serious pests, plant diseases injurious to fruit, fruit trees, vines, or other plants or vegetables, or noxious weed seed are being shipped into the county which would cause damage or be liable to cause damage to the orchards, vineyards, gardens or farms of the county or state; and praying that a commissioner be appointed by them whose duties shall be to supervise the eradication, the control, or the destruction of said insects, ground squirrels, gopher or other animals, discases or Russian thistle or saltwort, Johnson grass or other noxious weeds, or red rice, water-grasses or other weeds or grasses detrimental to rice culture, when growing in fields of rice or fields adjacent thereto, or in canals or ditches used for the purpose of conveying water to rice fields for the irrigation thereof, as herein provided, the board of supervisors shall immediately notify the director of agriculture to furnish them a list of names of persons eligible to the position of county horticultural commissioner and from such list the said supervisors shall appoint a commissioner in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, whose term of office shall be for four years and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified and who shall give a bond in the sum of one thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties.

In any case where such petition has already been presented or submitted, or is on file at the time of the passage of this act, as the basis for the appointment of a board of horticultural commissioners under this chapter as heretofore existing, such petition shall continue in full force and effect and the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county with which any such petition has been filed, or in which the office of county horticultural commissioner has heretofore existed, must appoint a county horticultural commissioner. Said appointment must be made by the board of supervisors within thirty days after receipt of said list of eligible persons from the director of agriculture.

If for any reason the board of supervisors refuse or neglect to appoint a county horticultural commissioner at the expiration of the thirty days or at the expiration of the term of office, or if they refuse or neglect to appoint a county horticultural commissioner to fill a vacancy in the office of county horticultural commissioner, as elsewhere provided for in this act, then the director of agriculture shall select and appoint a county horticultural commissioner from the said list of eligible persons. Whenever the director of agriculture shall appoint a county horticultural commissioner as herein provided, then the board of supervisors must provide for the payment of such appointee's compensation and expenses in the same manner as if such appointment had been made by the board of supervisors.

In case of vacancy in the office of county horticultural commissioner it shall be the duty of the director of agriculture to furnish the board of supervisors of the county in which such vacancy shall have occurred with a list of names of persons eligible to the office of county horticultural commissioner and from such list of names the board of supervisors shall appoint a county horticultural commissioner to fill the unexpired term within thirty days after the receipt thereof. No person shall be eligible to the office of county horticultural commissioner unless, prior to his appointment, he has received from the director of agriculture a certificate of eligibility to the office. If the position can not be filled from said list of eligibles, then such vacancy may be temporarily filled for a period not exceeding three months by a person who has not received a certificate of eligibility but who is recommended to the board of supervisors in writing by the director of agriculture.

The director of agriculture shall, by examination, pass upon the qualifications of all persons desiring to become county horticultural commissioners and may, in writing, adopt rules and regulations governing such examinations not inconsistent with law for carrying out the purposes of this act.

Term.

agriculture.Examination of candidates.

Certificates of eligibility issued by the director of agriculture shall be good for five years from the date of certification and, in the case of incumbents, shall be renewed by the director of agriculture without further examination. At the time of his appointment a county horticultural commissioner need not be a resident of the county.

Trial of commissioner.

Upon the petition of twenty-five resident freeholders, each of whom is possessed of an orchard, greenhouse or nursery, or upon evidence being presented to the director of agriculture that any county horticultural commissioner is guilty of neglect of duty, incompetence or misconduct in office, which evidence in the opinion of the director of agriculture shall warrant a hearing or hearings upon the matter, the county horticultural commissioners' trial board shall thereupon hold such a hearing or hearings at such times and places as it shall provide.

Trial
board.

The state director of agriculture and the president of the state association of county horticultural commissioners shall thereupon select an impartial third person who with said director of agriculture and said president of the state association of county horticultural commissioners shall compose a trial board to determine whether said county horticultural commissioner is guilty of the charges as presented by said petition or by said director. Said board, as thus created, shall be known as the county horticultural commissioners' trial board, and at such hearing or hearings the trial board shall hear such evidence as is offered and thereafter make an order either dismissing the charges as untrue or an order disqualifying the accused. The said director of agriculture shall give notice to the said county horticultural commissioner in writing of the time and place of such hearing and such information as to the nature of the charges as will enable him to make a defense thereto, at least ten days prior to the date of said hearing or hearings. In case the order being made by said trial board disqualifies said county horticultural commissioner such order shall be immediately transmitted in writing by the director of agriculture to the board of supervisors of said county who shall forthwith remove said commissioner of horticulture and shall immediately proceed to fill the said office for the unexpired term as in cases of vacancy as hereinbefore provided.

Office and expenses.

The said board of supervisors shall provide a suitable office for the said county horticultural commissioner, and shall furnish and equip the said office with all necessary furniture and effects for the proper discharge of the commissioner's duties. The said board of supervisors may also provide the county horticultural commissioner with all necessary field equipment for the proper discharge of the duties of his office. All expense ordered by the board of supervisors for such office, furniture and equipment and for stenographic and other office help and expense shall be a county charge and the board of supervisors shall allow and pay the same out of the general fund of the county.

This act shall in no wise affect any other act or acts providing for the destruction of ground squirrels or applying to the proceedings thereunder, but it is intended to and does provide the alternative system of proceedings for the extermination of ground squirrels and gophers referred to in this act; and it shall be within the discretion of the governing body of each county, city and county, city or town herein mentioned to provide for the destruction of ground squirrels whether under the provisions of this act or under the provisions of such other act or acts; but when any proceedings are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendments as may hereafter be adopted, and no other, shall apply to all such proceedings and any provision contained in any other act or acts in conflict with the provisions hereof shall be void and of no effect as to the proceedings commenced under the provisions of this act.

Effect of
act.

CHAPTER 721.

An act to amend section two thousand three hundred twenty-two d of the Political Code, relating to horticulture.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two thousand three hundred twenty-two d of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2322d. The salary of inspectors working under the county horticultural commissioner shall be not less than three and one-half dollars per day, and the necessary personal traveling expenses. The salary of the deputy shall be not less than five dollars per day when in the actual performance of his duties, and the necessary personal traveling expenses. In the case of the commissioner himself his compensation shall be fixed by the board of supervisors, either at not less than one thousand eight hundred dollars per year, or at not less than six dollars per day, when actually engaged in the performance of his duties. He shall also be allowed the necessary personal traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his regular duties as prescribed in this chapter.

sioner.

CHAPTER 722.

An act to amend section one thousand five hundred twenty-one of the Political Code, relating to the per diem of members of the state board of education and the compensation of the assistant superintendents of public instruction.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand five hundred twenty-one of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read when amended as follows:

Compensation of state board of education.

1521. First—The members of the state board of education shall receive as compensation fifteen dollars per day when the board is in session. They shall also receive ten dollars per day while engaged in committee work at the Sacramento or Los Angeles offices of the board or elsewhere under the direction of the state board of education; provided, that the total amount of such per diem for committee work, for all members of the board shall not exceed three thousand dollars for any fiscal year. They shall also receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses.

Compensation of assistant superintendents of public instruction.

Second—Each assistant superintendent of public instruction provided for in section one thousand five hundred nineteen of the Political Code shall receive such salary as may be determined by the state board of education subject to approval by the state board of control. They shall also receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses while on official business.

Third—Within their appropriation, the state board of education may appoint such clerical and other help as may from time to time be necessary.

CHAPTER 723.

An act to amend section one of an act entitled "An act to fix the salaries of the state forester, deputy forester and assistant forester," approved March 22, 1909, as amended.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1917, p. 439, amended.

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to fix the salaries of the state forester, deputy forester and assistant forester," approved March 22, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Salary of state forester.

Section 1. The salary of the state forester shall be four thousand dollars per annum. The state forester shall have the authority to appoint a deputy forester at a salary of three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The salary of the assistant state forester shall be three thousand dollars per annum. The deputy forester shall exercise all the powers and duties of the state forester during the latter's absence. All the salaries mentioned herein are to be paid in the same manner as the salaries of the other state officers are paid.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith ^{Repealed.} are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 724.

An act to prevent the propagation of noxious weeds.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The term "noxious weed" as used in this act shall be defined as any of the following species of plants: ^{"Noxious weed" defined.}

Johuson grass (Holcus halepensis), sand bur grass, (Cenchrus pauciflorus), water grass (Echinochloa crus-galli), nut grass (Cyperus species), Russian thistle (Salsola kali), tumbling mustard (Sisymbrium altissimum), hoary cress (Lepidium draba), puncture vine or ground bur nut (Tribulus terrestris), creeping mallow (Sida hederacea), St. Johnswort (Hypericum species), morning glory (Convolvulus arvensis), dodder (Cuscuta species), star thistle (Centaurea species), Canada thistle (Cirsium arvense), creeping sow thistle (Sonchus arvensis), coast dandelion (Hypochaeris radicata), and any other weed which the director of agriculture shall declare to be noxious and a menace to agriculture, as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. Upon information that any species of plant is a noxious weed and a menace to agriculture, the director of agriculture may declare such species to be noxious and such species shall thereafter be considered noxious within the meaning of this act. ^{Species declared noxious by director of agriculture.}

SEC. 3. After having made a practical survey, the director of agriculture may declare that an area within this state is practically free from one or more of the noxious weeds which shall be named in said proclamation and which area thereafter shall be known as a noxious weed free area as to the noxious weeds named therein which names shall be a part of the name of said area. The said director of agriculture may by similar proclamation change the boundaries of said area or declare said noxious weed free area free from additional noxious weeds, naming the same. Such proclamations shall be under the seal of the department of agriculture and shall be published in a newspaper or farm journal of general circulation published and circulated in the area to be affected by said ^{Noxious weed free area.}

proclamations for two successive weeks, and if there is no such newspaper or farm journal published and circulated in such areas, then said publication shall be made in a newspaper or farm journal published and circulated in the county in which such area is situated; and a copy of said proclamation shall be posted in one or more public places in said area.

Unlawful to distribute noxious weed seed.

SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, distribute or offer or expose for sale or distribution, or transport into or to sow or disseminate or cause to be sown or disseminated in any noxious weed free area any seed, bulb, tuber, rhizome or other reproductive part of any noxious weed, either singly or in combination or as an impurity in any commercial seed, which has been declared to be practically nonexistent in such noxious weed free area.

Unlawful to permit growth of noxious weed.

SEC. 5. It shall be unlawful for any railroad, canal, ditch or water company, or any person, firm or corporation owning, possessing, leasing, controlling or occupying lands in such noxious weed free area to permit any noxious weed named in said proclamation to mature and disseminate its seed thereon, or for more than two successive years to reproduce itself thereon by crowns, underground stems, buds, or any other vegetative means whatsoever.

Enforcement by director of agriculture.

SEC. 6. The duty of enforcing this act and carrying out its provisions shall be vested in the director of agriculture. The said director of agriculture shall be empowered to adopt such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Penalty.

SEC. 7. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 8. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER 725.

An act to provide for the registration of brands and earmarks, the licensing and regulating of cattle slaughterers and sellers of meat; prescribing duties of the department of agriculture in relation thereto, and penalties for the violation hereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Title of act.

SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the hide and brand law.

SEC. 2. The director of agriculture is hereby authorized and it is made his duty to enforce the provisions of this act and to exercise a general supervision over and protect the cattle of this state from theft, and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

Enforcement
by director of agriculture.

He shall appoint a secretary, counsel and such hide and brand inspectors and other employees and clerks as may be necessary for this purpose and fix the salaries of such appointees. The salaries and expenses of appointees, including other additional expenses incurred in the enforcement of this act, as hereinafter provided, shall be paid out of the cattle protection fund, which fund is hereinafter provided.

All rules and regulations made under this act shall be promulgated in a proclamation under the seal of the department of agriculture, and shall be published in one or more stock journals of general circulation in the state.

SEC. 3. 1. It shall be unlawful to brand and earmark any cattle with a brand and earmark unless said brand and mark shall be recorded and not forfeited under the provisions of this act.

Recorded brands and marks.

2. Any person owning cattle in this state, except as hereinafter provided, may adopt a brand and earmark with which to brand and mark his cattle; provided, such brand and mark be not the same or similar to the brand and mark heretofore adopted by any other person, except by special permit issued by said director. Said brands and marks must be recorded by the director of agriculture.

3. Recording a brand and mark shall consist of depicting in the brand records a facsimile of the design of the brand adopted, a diagram denoting the manner of earmarking adopted, an entry of the name and address of the person adopting the same, the date of recordation, the place upon the animal where the brand is to be used, number of the district and the location of the range whereon such animals are to range.

A brand and mark shall not be deemed similar if it is not recorded by any other person in the same or a contiguous district.

Whenever the brand records on file with the state department of agriculture disclose evidence whereby the same or a similar brand and mark has been recorded by two or more persons in any one branding district, the director of agriculture may proceed to cause an investigation to be made, and hearing held, for the purpose of determining the rights of prior ownership in such brand and mark, and when in the judgment of the director of agriculture, prior ownership to such brand and mark has been fully established, the director shall cause the cancellation of any duplicated or recorded brand in such branding district.

A brand and mark shall not be considered recorded unless all renewal fees due have been paid.

Districts.

4. The director may divide the state into a number of districts. Such districts may be changed as often as may be necessary to avoid the recordation of a brand and earmark in any two contiguous districts. Earmarks may be recorded only with a brand.

Fee.

5. The sum of two dollars shall be paid said director for the recordation of any brand and earmark; for the right to continue the use of said brand and of said earmark, under the provisions of this act, the owner thereof shall before the first day of January of each year after its recordation transmit to the said director the sum of one and one-half dollars. Failure to make such payment shall forfeit the right to use said brand and earmark. When forfeited, said brand and earmark shall not be recorded by any other person until after the expiration of one year from the date of the forfeiture thereof. Provided that no brand used or to be used for the purpose of branding cattle shall be recorded by any county clerk or recorder of any county of this state until said brand has been recorded under this act.

Transfer.

6. No transferee of any mark and brand shall use such mark and brand until transfer thereof shall have been recorded in the office of the said director and the sum of one dollar paid therefor.

Obliterating
brand.

7. No person shall obliterate a brand on the hide of any bovine animal until such hide has been inspected and tagged.

Inspection
of cattle.

SEC. 4. Inspection of cattle shall consist of the examination of the same for marks and brands, and in the case of unbranded cattle, for natural marks, and the issuance of a certificate showing said brands and marks. The inspector, as he proceeds with the inspection, shall make a record showing the number, kind, age, sex, mark and brand of each animal inspected, name of owner or claimant, consignor and consignee.

Inspection of carcasses.

2. Inspection of carcasses of cattle with the hides attached, and of hides, will be the same as for cattle, except such inspector before issuing a certificate of inspection shall tag the same with the official tag of the department of agriculture; provided, that the animals from which such hides were removed, or from which such carcasses were obtained, were not inspected at shipping point or place of slaughter within fifteen days prior to slaughter.

Inspection
fee.

3. The inspector shall make such inspection upon request of the shipper or slaughterer at the point of shipment prior to shipment or place of slaughter prior to slaughter as soon as practicable after being notified, and shall receive from the person in charge of the same for such inspection the sum of five cents for each animal, carcass or hide inspected before he shall issue a certificate of inspection therefor.

4. It shall be unlawful for any inspector or other employee to issue any certificate of inspection unless such inspection shall have been personally made by him and all inspection fees collected, or neglect or refuse to forward the original certificate of inspection and fees collected to the director of agriculture within fifteen days after said inspection has been made.

5. Tagging shall consist of attaching the official tag of the department of agriculture to the left side of the neck of the hide, and when so attached, said tag shall be prima facie evidence of inspection. Tagging.

6. No charge shall be made for the inspection of hides which have been previously inspected and tagged under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 5. 1. No person shall slaughter a bovine animal or offer for sale, barter or exchange the meat thereof, unless he shall have a license therefor issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, except as herein otherwise provided. License to slaughter or sell animal.

2. Every person slaughtering cattle as a business shall do so in a designated slaughterhouse. Before beginning business he must procure from the director a license to carry on such business and execute a bond to the State of California, in the penal sum of one thousand dollars to be approved by the director, conditioned that such person shall not slaughter, sell or expose for sale any cattle or the meat thereof, without first being the owner thereof, or being authorized so to do by such owner, and that in case he shall slaughter any cattle without being the owner, or so authorized by the owner, he shall, in addition to all other statutory penalties, pay therefor double the value of such animal. All amounts recovered on said bonds shall be paid as follows: One-half to the owner of such animal and the remaining one-half to the cattle protection fund. Slaughter-house license.

3. Said director shall grant to every applicant who complies with the provisions of this act a license to slaughter cattle and sell the meat thereof for the unexpired portion of the current calendar year. Every applicant for such license shall pay to said director the following annual fee which shall be paid in advance: Applicants who slaughter less than ten head per month: five dollars per annum. Applicants who slaughter more than ten head and less than fifty head per month, ten dollars per annum. Applicants who slaughter more than fifty head, twenty-five dollars per annum. One-fourth of said fees shall be paid for a fractional quarter of a year. But in no case shall the fee be less than two dollars for a fractional part of the year. Fees.

4. The applicant shall state in his application where his slaughterhouse is located, and he shall not slaughter cattle at any other place. If a licensee desires to change the location of his slaughterhouse, he shall apply to said director to have his license transferred, and the director may reissue the license without additional charge. Location.

5. Upon failure of a licensee for a period of fifteen days to pay said fee, his license shall thereupon be forfeited and thereafter it shall be unlawful for him to slaughter cattle until a penalty of twenty-five dollars and fifty cents per day for every day the licensee slaughters cattle after the expira- Forfeiture of license.

tion of his license, is paid to the director and a new license issued.

Revocation
of license.

6. The director may revoke a license for a wilful violation of any of the provisions hereof, after notice to the interested party and a hearing and a license so revoked shall not be re-issued except upon the payment of a renewal fee of twenty-five dollars.

Records.

7. Every slaughterer of cattle shall keep on file in his office for ninety days after slaughter, the original bill of sale and the certificate of inspection of all cattle slaughtered by him.

Record of retailer

8. Every peddler, or retailer of meats, purchasing the meat of any bovine animal, must enter in a book to be kept for that purpose and exhibit the same on demand, the name of the person from whom said meat was purchased or otherwise obtained, the date of said purchase, the quantity so purchased, and the time and place of the delivery thereof to him.

No peddler, or retailer of meat, shall purchase the meat of a slaughtered bovine animal from any person not known to him to be licensed under the provisions of this act, or a regular wholesale dealer in meats with an established place of business.

Sale to
without license.

9. No person not licensed as a slaughterer under this act shall give, sell, or deliver to any peddler of meats any part of the carcass of a bovine animal. This provision shall not apply to purchases from a regular wholesaler of meat having an established place of business.

Slaughtering
for own consumption.

10. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prohibit an owner of property, or a ranchman located on a definite property as a tenant, lessee or purchaser under contract, from slaughtering cattle in small numbers on said premises for his own consumption, and nothing herein shall be so construed as to prohibit such ranchmen from selling or giving away a portion of the meat thereof.

Slaughtering
calves.

11. Any person actually engaged in the dairy business or engaged in the raising of cattle may slaughter upon his own premises, any calves under eight months of age, actually produced by him, upon annual notification to the director of agriculture of his intention to slaughter such calves, and filing with the office of the director of agriculture a monthly report giving the number of calves slaughtered per month.

Report of
slaughterer.

12. Every licensed slaughterer shall at the end of each calendar month mail to the director a written report stating the total number of cattle inspected for marks and brands and slaughtered during the preceding month and showing in separate columns the number thereof that were: (a) calves under one year of age; (b) cows one year of age and over; (c) steers; (d) stags; (e) bulls; (f) number slaughtered on each date; (g) branded, and (h) unbranded cattle.

Tagging
hides.

SEC. 6. 1. The director shall adopt a device for tagging the hides the design of which may be changed from time to time at his option.

2. No person shall buy or sell a bovine animal, or the carcass of any bovine animal from which the hide has not been removed, or hide thereof, unless the seller give, and the buyer receive, at the time of the delivery of such animal, carcass of any bovine animal from which the hide has not been removed, or hide, a written bill of sale, giving the number, kind and marks and brands of each hide, carcass of any bovine animal from which the hide has not been removed, or animal, signed by the party giving the same and two subscribing witnesses who have been freeholders of the county for at least two years; provided, that no witness shall be necessary if each of the parties is known to the other to have been resident of the county for two years immediately preceding the date of sale.

3. The hides of all cattle slaughtered by the owner thereof, or removed from any cattle which have died from any cause shall be retained in the possession of the owner where the same may be inspected, with the brands attached thereto, and without any alteration or disfiguration thereof, until said hides are inspected and tagged.

4. Every ranchman, who so slaughters cattle on such premises, shall keep a record in a book to be kept for that purpose of all cattle so slaughtered by him, with a description thereof, including all the marks and brands of such slaughtered cattle, the date of slaughter and shall at the end of each month, make a true and correct copy of such record and send the same by registered mail to the office of the director of agriculture, and he shall likewise exhibit the said record on demand of any inspector or peace officer.

5. It shall be unlawful to counterfeit or reuse the official tag adopted by the director of agriculture for tagging hides.

6. No person shall remove any tag from a hide within this state until after it has been partially tanned.

7. No person shall sell, give away, deliver, transport, buy, accept or receive the hide of any bovine animal within thirty days after the same has been removed, unless such hide shall have been inspected and tagged, as herein provided.

SEC. 7. 1. No common carrier, or owner or driver of any conveyance or vehicle engaged in the business of freighting or transporting cattle, the carcasses of cattle or the hides thereof, shall receive cattle, the hide or the dressed carcass thereof with the hide thereon, for transportation until the same has been inspected under the provisions of this act, and said carrier, owner or driver, has been furnished with duplicate certificates signed by an inspector, showing the brands and earmarks, the names of the shipper and consignee and also the origin and destination of the same; provided, however, that in the case of hides that have been previously tagged and the bundles or packages of the same are so arranged that the tags are all visible, the certificates shall simply tell the number of hides and the fact that they are officially tagged. No inspector shall issue such certificate in the case of dressed carcasses, with the hides thereon, or the shipment and transportation of hides, until the official tag has been attached. One copy of said certificate of inspection shall accompany said shipment and the other copy shall be sent to the consignee forthwith.

2. No cattle except cattle shipped for slaughter and which have been inspected as herein provided prior to shipment shall be slaughtered until they shall have been inspected as herein provided, and any slaughterer claiming the right to slaughter cattle because of an inspection at time of shipment, shall keep on file and produce on demand, the certificate of inspection thereof, made and forwarded to him at the time of shipment; provided, that any person licensed hereunder to slaughter cattle, after twenty-four hours notice in writing addressed to the local inspector demanding his presence at a specified time and place for the purpose of inspecting such cattle for slaughtering, may, without the certificate of inspection, slaughter said cattle, providing he makes a written statement specifying in detail the earmarks and brands, number and sex, of such animal or animals and mails the same immediately to the director; and provided, further, that he retain the hides of such animal or animals until inspected, and tagged as herein provided.

E-strays.

Sec. 8. 1. Any bovine animal presented for inspection, either before shipment or slaughter and which is not claimed by the consignor or the consignee or which does not bear the brand and earmark of the person presenting the same for inspection and is not accompanied by a bill of sale to the party presenting the same for shipment from the holder of the brand or earmark upon the same is hereby declared to be an estray, and shall be taken by the inspector and proceedings shall be had as provided by law for estrays; provided, however, that the proceeds from the sale of said cattle, after paying the costs thereof, shall be paid to the director of agriculture, who shall make a record of the same showing the marks and brands and other means of identification of such animals giving the amount realized from the sale of the same. All moneys received by the director of agriculture for the sale of estrays shall be kept in the hands of the director of agriculture aside from other funds, and shall be known as the "estrays fund," and shall be so held by the director of agriculture until paid to the owner of the said estray. If, after the expiration of one year from date of such sale no claim is made, said money shall be paid over to the state treasurer and by him credited to the cattle protection fund.

2. Whenever an inspector finds the hide of a bovine animal in the possession of any person whom he has reason to believe is not the legal owner thereof he shall notify said person to retain possession thereof for the purpose of further inspection and investigation for at least thirty days, and no person shall be permitted to sell, ship, give away or transport, or otherwise dispose of the hide of a bovine animal within thirty days after receiving such instruction from an inspector under this act.

SEC. 9. 1. It shall be the duty of said director to prepare volumes for the recordation of said marks and brands, and to keep a true record of all official transactions. When cattle or the hides thereof have been shipped or slaughtered, a record thereof must be filed in such manner as to disclose under the record the particular mark and brand, the number of cattle and hides bearing such marks and brand which have been shipped or slaughtered. Recordation of marks and brands.

2. All moneys received by any inspector, deputy, servant or employee, shall be forwarded to said director at least bi-weekly. Report of moneys.

3. The director, at least once each month, shall report to the state controller the total amount of moneys collected for fees, penalties, judgments or otherwise, and at the same time or oftener, he shall pay into the state treasury the entire amount of such receipts. All moneys received by the director shall be paid to the controller and credited to the cattle protection fund, which fund is hereby created, and shall be held subject to the uses of and for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this act. One thousand dollars of this fund may be used as a revolving fund, subject to the approval of the state board of control. All moneys in the state treasury deposited to the credit of the cattle protection fund under the approved provisions of the act of May 28, 1917, as heretofore existing shall be merged with and become a part of the cattle protection fund created under this act.

SEC. 10. 1. The term "tag" wherever used herein shall mean the official tag for hides provided in section four of this act. Terms defined.

2. The term "person" wherever used includes every person, persons, firm, association or corporation.

3. The term "cattle" wherever used herein includes every kind of animal of the bovine species.

4. A civil action may be brought by the director to recover any fee, penalty or other money that may become due hereunder.

5. Any person, who, as servant, employee, or otherwise, assists another in the performance of any act in violation of the provisions hereof, shall be punishable therefor to the same extent as if acting as principal.

6. Any person violating any provision of this act, shall, unless otherwise provided herein, be guilty of a misdemeanor. Penalty.

7. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. Repealed.

8. It is declared to be the intention of the legislature to enact each subdivision of each section irrespective and independently of every other subdivision or every section and that if any subdivision of any section thereof be declared unconstitutional all of the other subdivisions are intended to remain in full force and effect. Constitutionality.

9. All brands recorded and all licenses issued under the provisions of chapter six hundred seventy-eight, entitled "An act to create a cattle protection board, to define its powers and duties, to protect the breeders and growers of cattle from theft, to provide for the registration of cattle brands and the licensing of cattle slaughterers and sellers of the meat thereof, to provide for the inspection of cattle and cattle hides for brands and marks, to provide for the collection of license and inspection fees, to provide for the creation of a fund to be known as the cattle protection fund, and to provide penalties for violation of the provisions hereof," and amendments thereto, under the approved provisions of the act of May 26, 1917. are hereby continued in full force and effect under the provision of this act.

CHAPTER 726.

An act providing for notice to the director of agriculture, of the proposed sale of estray, branded, bovine animals, providing a means for identifying estray animals, and declaring certain sales of such estrays null and void.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Notice to director of agriculture
of sale of estrays.

SECTION 1. No branded, bovine animal shall be sold under the provisions of the estray laws of this state, or any of the subdivisions thereof, until the justice of the peace, before whom such proceedings are being had, shall have first notified the director of agriculture of the state department of agriculture, at least ten days before such sale by registered letter, of the age, color, sex, and all marks and brands on such estray animal, the name of the person in possession of the same and the time and place where such sale is to be had, and the returned receipt from such registered letter shall have been returned to said justice of the peace and made a part of the proceedings in said sale. A copy of such notice shall be publicly read at the time of said sale, and a copy thereof given to each purchaser at said sale at the time of the consummation thereof.

The director of agriculture shall immediately cause a search to be made of the brand records on file in his office for the purpose of ascertaining ownership of such brands and marks as shown on the animal offered for sale. If he finds such brands and marks recorded on said files, he shall immediately by registered letter notify all persons recording such brands and marks, of the time and place of sale of such estray animal. Any sale not in conformity with the provisions of this act shall be null and void.

CHAPTER 727.

An act for the prevention, eradication and control of insect pests and diseases affecting grapes, defining the powers and duties of the director of agriculture in relation thereto.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. To prevent the spread of the insect known as the grape mealybug, the director of agriculture is hereby authorized to declare any portion of the state where the grape mealybug may be found to exist, to be a grape mealybug infested district by prescribing the boundaries thereof in a proclamation setting forth said fact and such boundaries and by having a copy of same printed in one or more papers in the county or counties in which said infested district exists.

SEC. 2. The director of agriculture is hereby authorized to prescribe rules and regulations not in conflict with the laws of the state for the purpose of preventing the spread of the grape mealybug.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to move or ship any grapes, picking boxes, trays or other vineyard appliances from or within any grape mealybug infested district as herein defined, except in accordance with the rules and regulations of the director of agriculture issued under authority of this act; and it is further provided, that any treatment of picking boxes, trays or other vineyard appliances which may be required by the rules and regulations of the director of agriculture shall be at the expense of the owner or owners, their agent or agents, or persons in charge of or possessing the same at the time of treatment; and it is further provided, that the county horticultural commissioner in any county in which such a grape mealybug infested district shall be proclaimed shall aid in carrying out the provisions of this act or any rules and regulations made hereunder upon request by the director of agriculture in writing.

SEC. 4. The director of agriculture is hereby directed and empowered to make whatever study may be necessary to determine the most effective methods of control of the grape mealybug, grape phylloxera, and black mildew.

CHAPTER 728.

An act providing for the control and destruction of predatory wild animals, making an appropriation therefor, and repealing acts authorizing the payment of bounties on such animals.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Control of predatory wild animals.

SECTION 1. The state director of agriculture may employ hunters and expert trappers throughout the State of California for the purpose of controlling and eradicating coyotes and other harmful predatory animals. For the purpose of carrying on this work he may enter into contracts with the bureau of biological survey of the United States department of agriculture in order to enlist the support of the federal government, and to prescribe the manner, terms, and conditions of such cooperation for the seventy-third and seventy-fourth fiscal years.

Appropriation.

SEC. 2. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to carry out the purposes of this act.

Acceptance
donations.

SEC. 3. The director of agriculture is hereby authorized to accept on behalf of the state donations of money from individuals, associations, corporations, county boards of supervisors, and other agencies interested in the control of coyotes and other harmful predatory animals, all such moneys to be paid into the state treasury and credited to the predatory animal control fund, which fund is hereby created, to be expended only in the control of coyotes and other harmful predatory animals in accordance with the terms and conditions fixed by the director of agriculture. Moneys thus made available by any county board of supervisors shall be expended solely within the boundaries of the county making the appropriation, unless otherwise authorized by the supervisors of that county. All donations made by individuals, associations or corporations shall be applied to the particular locality in one or more counties where such donors are interested unless said donors specifically consent to its use in other localities.

Repealed.

SEC. 4. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith which authorize the payment of bounties on coyotes and other harmful predatory animals are hereby repealed; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be deemed to repeal any provision of law authorizing the payment of bounties on mountain lions.

CHAPTER 729.

An act to regulate the manufacture, sale, and use of economic poisons; to prevent the adulteration, misbranding, and misrepresentation of economic poisons; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to provide means for its enforcement; and creating the division of chemistry fund.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known and referred to as Title of act. "the California economic poison act of 1921."

SEC. 2. It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, deliver, or offer to deliver, sell, offer or expose for sale in this state any adulterated or misbranded economic poison which is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act; or to export, or offer to export the same to any foreign country; provided, that no article shall be deemed misbranded or adulterated within the provisions of this act when intended for export to any foreign country and prepared or packed according to the specifications or directions of the foreign purchaser; but if said article shall be in fact sold, or exposed for sale for domestic use or consumption, then this proviso shall not exempt said article from the operation of any of the provisions of this act. Sale of adulterated or misbranded economic poison.

SEC. 3. The director of agriculture shall administer and enforce the provisions of this act and shall make rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act, including the collection and analysis or examination of samples, the registration of manufacturers and dealers, and other procedures not inconsistent with this act. No rule or regulation shall become effective until the expiration of thirty days after it shall have been first promulgated by a proclamation signed by the director of agriculture and published in one or more newspapers and farm journals of general circulation in the State of California and sent to each person registered in compliance with the provisions of this act. Enforcement by director of agriculture.

SEC. 4. The director of agriculture, in person or by his agents, shall take samples of economic poisons, make analysis or examination thereof, and make investigation concerning the use, sale, adulteration or misbranding of economic poisons at such times and to such extent as are necessary for the full enforcement of this act. Investigations by director.

SEC. 5. The results of examination or chemical analysis official samples of economic poisons shall be published by the director, and such additional information as to him may seem advisable. Publication of results.

SEC. 6. When the director of agriculture becomes cognizant of the apparent violation of any of the provisions of this act or of any of the rules and regulations promulgated there- Notice of violation.

under, it shall be his duty to cause notice of such fact, together with a copy of the findings, to be given to the person suspected of violating the law. The person notified shall be given an opportunity to be heard under such rules and regulations as may be promulgated for that purpose.

Terms defined.

SEC. 7. The term "economic poisons" as used in this act shall include any substance, or mixture of substances intended to be used for preventing, destroying, repelling, or mitigating any and all insects, fungi, weeds, rodents, or other plant or animal pest, collectively or individually, which may infest or be detrimental to vegetation, man or other animals or households, or be present in any environment whatsoever.

The term "insect" as used in this act is defined as any of the small invertebrate animals known as insecta and similar forms of animal life such as centipedes, lice, and other animals of these classes.

The term "fungi" as used in this act is defined as all rusts, smuts, mildews, molds, yeasts, bacteria, and similar forms of plant life.

The term "weed" as used in this act is defined as any plant which grows where not wanted.

The term "rodent" as used in this act is defined as all members of the order Rodentia and all rabbits and hares.

The term "other plant or animal pest" as used in this act shall include any form of plant or animal life which the director of agriculture may by rules and regulations declare to be a pest.

For the purpose of this act an economic poison shall be deemed to be adulterated:

Adulterated poison.

First—If its strength or purity shall fall below the standard or quality under which it is sold; second, if any valuable constituent of the article has been wholly or in part abstracted or omitted in its manufacture, or other materials substituted for the same; third, if it is intended for use on vegetation and shall contain any substance or substances which, although preventing, destroying, repelling, or mitigating insects, fungi, weeds, rodents or other plant or animal pest, shall be seriously injurious to vegetation, except weeds, when used according to the directions recommended and furnished therewith.

For the purpose of this act economic poisons shall be deemed to be misbranded:

Misbranded poison.

First—If the package or label thereon shall bear any statement, design, or device regarding such article or the ingredients or substances contained therein which shall be false or misleading; second, if such package or label is falsely branded as to the city, state, territory or country in which the same is manufactured or produced; third, if it be an imitation or offered for sale under the name of another article; fourth, if it be labeled or branded so as to deceive or mislead the purchaser; fifth, if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed in whole or in part and other contents shall have been placed in such package; sixth, if in package form and the contents are stated in terms of weight or measure, they are not plainly and correctly stated on the outside of the package; seventh, if it consists partially or completely of any inert substance or substances which do not prevent, destroy, repel, or mitigate insects, fungi, weeds, rodents, or other plant or animal pest, and does not have the names and percentage amounts of each and every one of such inert ingredients plainly and correctly stated on the label; provided, however, that in lieu of naming and stating the percentage amount of each and every inert ingredient, the producer may at his discretion state plainly upon the label the correct names and percentage amounts of each and every active ingredient and make no mention of the inert ingredients, except in so far as to state the total percentage of inert ingredients present.

The word "person" as used in this act shall be construed to mean both the plural and the singular, as the case demands, and shall include corporations, companies, societies and associations. When construing and enforcing the provisions of this act, the act, omission or failure of any officer, agent, or other person acting for any corporation, company, society or association, shall in every case be also deemed to be the act, omission, or failure of such corporation, company, society, or association, as well as that of the other person.

SEC. 8. In any prosecution of any agent or dealer under the provisions of section two of this act, the proof that the adulterated or misbranded economic poison which is the basis of said prosecution was guaranteed by the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer, or any other party from which said economic poison was purchased, to the effect that the same is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act, shall be a full and complete defense thereto. Guaranty.

SEC. 9. Every lot, parcel, or package of economic poison sold, offered or exposed for sale, within this state, shall be accompanied by a plainly printed label, stating the name, brand or trademark, if any there be, under which the economic poison is sold, the name and address of the manufacturer, importer, or dealer, and the place of manufacture. Label.

SEC. 10. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the sale of any of the preparations, drugs and chemicals of the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary when used or sold for medicinal or toilet purposes which conforms to the standard and tests prescribed in the latest edition of the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary, nor shall the provisions of this act apply to the sale of any medicinal or toilet preparations or substance guaranteed under the United States pure food and drugs act of June 30, 1906, and the California pure food and drugs act, Statutes of California for 1907, chapter one hundred eighty-seven, and manufactured and sold exclusively for toilet and medicinal purposes. Exceptions.

SEC. 11. The director of agriculture shall upon the receipt of a sample of economic poison, accompanied by the required fee, cause such analysis, examination or test to be Analysis of samples.

made thereof, as will substantially establish the conformity or nonconformity of said sample to the guarantee under which it is sold or to be sold, and shall inform the sender thereof the results of all such analysis, examination or test. The schedule of all fees required for such analysis, examination or test, shall be determined by the director of agriculture and shall be a part of the rules and regulations provided for in section three hereof. All fees collected in such manner shall be applied as provided for in section seventeen hereof.

Certificate of
registration.

SEC. 12. Every manufacturer, importer, agent of, or dealer in any economic poison, except as hereinafter provided, shall, before the same is offered for sale, obtain a certificate of registration from the director of agriculture authorizing the manufacture and sale of economic poisons in this state. Every manufacturer, importer, agent of, or dealer in economic poisons, except county, state and federal officials or employees selling the same at cost, and further excepting any person manufacturing an economic poison or poisons intended to be used in households or their immediate environments, which economic poisons do not exceed a total retail value of five hundred (500) dollars per annum before obtaining such registry, shall pay to the director of agriculture the sum of fifty (50) dollars to be applied as provided for in section nineteen of this act, and shall file a statement of the brands, trademarks, and kinds of economic poisons intended to be manufactured or offered for sale, together with a statement of the correct names and percentage amounts of each and every active ingredient and the total percentage of inert ingredients contained therein; or in lieu of stating the correct names and percentage amounts of each and every active ingredient and the total percentage of inert ingredients contained therein, may deliver to the director of agriculture or his agent a representative sample not less than one pound in weight of each economic poison desired to be registered.

Additions or corrections to the above statements may be made at any time during the period of registration without additional charge upon notifying the director of agriculture together with a statement of the correct names and percentage amounts of each and every active ingredient and the total percentage of inert ingredients contained therein, or in lieu of such statement delivering to the director of agriculture or his agent a representative sample of not less than one pound in weight of each additional economic poison desired to be registered or for which corrected statement is desired to be made. Such registration shall expire on the thirtieth day of June of the fiscal year for which it was given; provided, the provisions of this section shall not apply to the sale, by an agent or dealer, of any economic poison which is registered by the manufacturer or wholesaler thereof as herein provided, nor to the sale of raw material to manufacturers to be used in the preparation of economic poisons.

When any manufacturer, importer, agent of, or dealer in economic poisons having fully complied with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations as provided for therein makes application for registration, the director of agriculture shall without unnecessary delay cause the same to be registered and issue a license to the applicant authorizing the manufacture and sale of economic poisons in the state.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to manufacture, deliver, offer to deliver, sell, offer for sale, or expose for sale any economic poison not registered and described as provided for in this section.

SEC. 13. All persons charged with the enforcement or execution of any of the provisions of this act shall not directly or indirectly be interested in the sale, manufacture or distribution of any economic poison affected by this act.

SEC. 14. The director of agriculture shall have the power after hearing, as provided for in this act, to cancel or to refuse to register any economic poison which has been shown to have little or no value for the purpose for which it is intended to be used, or has been shown to be generally detrimental or seriously injurious to vegetation (except weeds), to domestic animals, or to public health, when properly used. Said director shall also have the power to cancel the registration of, or refuse to register, any manufacturer, importer, agent of, or dealer in economic poisons who repeatedly violates any of the provisions of this act, or rules and regulations which shall be made for carrying out the provisions of this act.

Cancellation
or refusal of registration.

SEC. 15. Any economic poison that is condemned as being adulterated, or misbranded within the meaning of this act, or detrimental to agriculture or to the public health shall be seized and disposed of in such manner as the court, after notice to all interested parties and hearing, may direct.

Disposal of seized poisons.

SEC. 16. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Penalty.

SEC. 17. The director of agriculture shall, at least once each month, report to the state controller the amount of fees and moneys collected, and, at the same time, he shall pay into the state treasury the entire amount of such receipts. All such receipts shall be credited to the division of chemistry fund, which fund is hereby created, and shall be held subject to the uses of the division of chemistry, state department of agriculture.

Report of
moneys.

The division of chemistry fund shall also include all funds remaining in the state treasury when this act becomes effective, which have been collected under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to regulate the sale of commercial fertilizers or materials used for manurial purposes, and to provide penalties for the infraction thereof, and means for the enforcement of the act," as amended, approved March 20, 1903, and all fees and moneys which shall be hereafter collected under said act shall also be paid into said fund and held subject to the uses of said division of chemistry.

Constitution-
ality.

SEC. 18. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Repealed.

SEC. 19. An act to regulate the manufacture, sale, adulteration and misbranding of insecticides or fungicides or materials used for insecticidal or fungicidal purposes and to provide penalties for the infraction thereof, chapter six hundred fifty-three, California Statutes of 1911, approved May 1, 1911, and all amendments thereto and all other acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 730.

An act to control the spread of the walnut codling moth, to regulate the movement of and treatment of any shipment of walnuts, sacks, trays and other orchard appliances into or from any premises or districts known to be infested with walnut codling moth and to confer power on the director of agriculture to prescribe rules and regulations for such or other control of said pest and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Walnut
codling moth
district.

SECTION 1. To prevent the distribution of and effect control of the walnut codling moth, the director of agriculture is hereby authorized to declare any portions of the State of California known to be infested with the walnut codling moth to be a walnut codling moth district by prescribing the boundaries thereof in a proclamation setting forth said fact and such boundaries, and having a copy of same printed in one or more papers of general circulation in said infested district.

SEC. 2. The director of agriculture is hereby authorized to prescribe rules and regulations governing the movement of and the treatment of any shipment of walnuts, sacks, trays or other orchard appliances within or from any such infested district; it is further provided, that any treatment of walnut sacks or other containers or orchard appliances which may be required to carry out the provisions of this act or regulations issued hereunder shall be at the expense of the owner or owners, their agent or agents, or persons having charge of, or possessing same, at the time of treatment.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to move or ship any walnuts, sacks, trays, or other orchard appliances within or from any infested district as herein defined except in accordance with the provisions of this act or regulations issued hereunder, or to fail to treat any walnuts, sacks, trays or other orchard appliances to destroy any such infestation in such manner as may be prescribed hereunder by the director of agriculture by regulation.

SEC. 4. Any person, firm, corporation, company or organization who shall violate any of the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Penalty.

SEC. 5. That certain act entitled "An act making an appropriation for the purpose of determining and applying control measures to combat the spread of the walnut codling moth," approved May 27, 1919, statutes of 1919, page 1212, is hereby repealed. Stats. 1919, p. 1212, repealed.

CHAPTER 731.

An act to amend section twenty-nine of an act entitled "An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section seventeen of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor,' and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act," approved April 21, 1911, as amended, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twenty-nine of an act entitled "An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomar- Stats. 1915, p. 333, amended.

garine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section seventeen of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor.' and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act," approved April 21, 1911, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Definitions
and standards.

Sec. 29. Milk and the products of milk enumerated in this section shall be deemed adulterated within the meaning of this act if it or they shall not conform to the following definitions and standards:

MILK.

(1) Milk is the fresh, clean, lacteal secretion all parts of which within forty-eight hours, if raw, and within sixty hours, if pasteurized, last prior to its delivery to the consumer or purchaser shall have been obtained from the udder by the complete milking of one or more healthy cows, properly fed and kept, excluding that obtained within fifteen days before and five days after calving, and contains not less than three per cent of milk fat, and not less than eight and five-tenths per cent of solids not fat.

Skim
milk.

(2) Skim milk is milk from which a part or all of the cream has been removed and contains not less than eight and eight-tenths per cent of milk solids.

Condensed
milk.

(3) Condensed milk or evaporated milk, is milk from which a considerable portion of water has been evaporated. The standard of purity of condensed milk and evaporated milk shall be that proclaimed and established by the secretary of the United States department of agriculture.

Condensed
skim milk.

(4) Condensed skim milk is skim milk from which a considerable portion of water has been evaporated, and contains not less than eighteen per cent of milk solids.

Cream

(5) Cream is that portion of milk, rich in milk fat which rises to the surface of milk on standing, or is separated from it by centrifugal force, is fresh and clean and contains not less than eighteen per cent of milk fat.

Evaporated
cream

(6) Evaporated cream, or clotted cream, is cream from which a considerable portion of water has been evaporated.

Milk fat.

(7) Milk fat, or butter fat, is the fat of milk and has a Reichert-Meissl number not less than twenty-four and a specific gravity not less than .905 (40 degrees C.).

Butter.

(8) Butter is the clean, nonrancid product made by gathering in any manner the fat of fresh or ripened milk or cream into a mass, which also contains a small portion of the other milk constituents, with or without salt, and a harmless coloring, and contains not less than eighty per cent of milk fat.

Cheese.

(9) Cheese is the sound, solid, and ripened product made from milk or cream, by coagulating the casein thereof with rennet or lactic acid, with or without the addition of ripening

ferments and seasoning, and with or without salt and harmless coloring matter. All cheese marked "full cream cheese," or "full milk cheese," must contain in the water-free substance, not less than fifty per cent of milk fat. All cheese marked "half skim cheese," must contain in the water-free substance not less than twenty-five per cent of milk fat. All cheese not plainly marked or branded as to its quality must contain in the water-free substance not less than fifty per cent of milk fat. The percentage of moisture in cheese shall be that established and proclaimed by the director of agriculture.

(10) Buttermilk is that portion of the cream which remains after the separation and removal therefrom of the butter fat in the process of churning, without the addition of water. Buttermilk.

(11) Ice cream is the frozen product, made from pure sweet milk or condensed milk or cream and sugar with or without a harmless flavoring or coloring, and contains not less than ten per cent of milk fat, and not more than six-tenths of one per cent of pure and harmless vegetable gum or gelatin. Ice cream.

(12) Fruit ice cream is the frozen product made from pure, sweet cream, sugar, and sound, clean, mature fruits, and contains not less than eight per cent of milk fat, and not more than six-tenths of one per cent of pure and harmless vegetable gum or gelatin. Fruit ice cream.

(13) Nut ice cream is the frozen product made from pure, sweet cream, sugar, and sound, nonrancid nuts, and contains not less than eight per cent of milk fat, and not more than six-tenths of one per cent of pure and harmless vegetable gum or gelatin. Nut ice cream.

(14) Ice milk is the frozen product, containing less fat than ice cream, and made from pure, sweet milk and sugar, with or without a harmless flavoring or coloring, and contains not less than two and four-tenths per cent of milk fat, and not more than six-tenths of one per cent of pure and harmless vegetable gum or gelatin. Ice milk.

(15) The process of pasteurization, as applied to milk, skim milk, cream and milk products, is hereby defined to be a process for the elimination therefrom of organisms harmful to human beings, which process shall consist of uniformly heating such milk, skim milk or cream, as the case may be, to a temperature of not less than one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit and of holding the same at the said temperature for a period of not less than twenty-five minutes, and immediately thereafter of cooling the same to a temperature of not above fifty degrees Fahrenheit; provided, that when cream is pasteurized to be used and is used in the manufacture of butter, or when milk is pasteurized to be used and is used in the manufacture of cheese, and where the process of ripening or starting in each case is to be commenced immediately, then it shall not be required that such cream or milk be cooled to a lower degree than is necessary for such ripening or starting. Milk for drinking purposes shall not be heated for more than one Pasteurization.

hour nor above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit. Cream that is to be manufactured into butter may be pasteurized by heating above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit, and when the same is uniformly heated to and held at a temperature above one hundred fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit, the time for holding may be decreased from twenty-five minutes by one minute for each degree of temperature over one hundred fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit.

All pasteurized cream or milk used in the manufacture of pasteurized butter and cheese, respectively, shall be pasteurized at and in the plant where such butter or cheese, as the case may be, is manufactured therefrom. If milk is repasteurized it must not be sold for human consumption. It must be heated to a higher temperature than necessary for pasteurization and delivered in a distinctive container, plainly marked with the words "not suitable for human consumption," in letters not less than one-quarter inch in length and one-twelfth inch in stroke.

Apparatus to be kept clean.

All apparatus used for the pasteurization of milk, skim milk or cream shall be kept in strictly clean and sanitary condition and every pasteurizing plant shall be equipped with sufficient recording thermometer devices to accurately record the temperature to which, and the length of time for which the pasteurized product has been heated. All recording thermometer devices used in the pasteurization of any such milk, skim milk or cream must be approved by and at all times subject to the approval of the state department of agriculture. All persons, firms or corporations using pasteurizing apparatus within the State of California shall preserve and keep on file, for a period of not less than two months after the same are made, all records made by such thermometer, or in lieu of such preservation may deliver such records to any public officer authorized by law or ordinance to receive the same, and said records shall, at all times, be open to the inspection of the state department of agriculture, state board of health and of all other state, county and municipal officers charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances respecting dairy products or the public health.

Goat's
milk.

(16) Goat's milk is the fresh, clean, lacteal secretion, free from colostrum, obtained by the complete milking of one or more goats properly fed and kept.

Sheep's
milk.

(17) Sheep's milk or ewe's milk is the fresh, clean lacteal secretion, free from colostrum, obtained by the complete milking of one or more sheep properly fed and kept.

CHAPTER 732.

An act to provide for the sanitary inspection of slaughtering houses; the inspection of animals or meats intended for human consumption, to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to provide for the penalty for the violation thereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the California meat Title of act. inspection law.

SEC. 2. The director of agriculture is hereby given super- Supervision by director of agriculture. vision over all establishments used in the business of slaughtering and preparing animals for food purposes in the State of California, except all establishments slaughtering and preparing animals for food products under the supervision of an inspection department, of any chartered or incorporated city, or city and county, whose inspection is performed by persons employed who have passed a regular civil service meat or market inspector's examination, or where inspection is maintained by the bureau of animal industry of the United States department of agriculture, or under and in accordance with a county meat inspection ordinance and he is empowered and directed at any and all times to visit any establishment, place, or premises where animals are slaughtered or prepared for food purposes, as well as all retail meat markets, meat canneries, sausage factories, curing and smoke houses, and similar places, for the purpose of determining the wholesomeness and healthfulness of animals slaughtered for food purposes, meats, and meat food products intended for human consumption and the sanitary conditions of buildings, drainage, sewage, cleanliness, equipment, utensils, employees, clothing, water supply, and disposal of refuse, and he is further authorized and empowered to provide suitable rules and regulations to insure a healthful, wholesome, and safe meat supply for the State of California.

SEC. 3. For the purpose of this act, the director of agri- Inspectors. culture of California is authorized to employ persons who have passed a civil service meat or market inspector's examination and found skilled in the inspection of meats and meat food products for wholesomeness and healthfulness, necessary additional employees and equipment as required, and he is authorized to utilize and employ in the enforcement of this act any employee or agent of the state department of agriculture.

SEC. 4. No animal shall be slaughtered for food purposes Hours for slaughtering. in the State of California except between the hours of seven o'clock a. m. and eight o'clock p. m. of any one week day, and slaughtering is forbidden on Sundays and legal holidays unless a special permit in writing is issued by the director of agriculture, or his authorized agent.

Ante-mortem inspection.

SEC. 5. When it is deemed necessary, in order to safeguard the public health, the director shall cause to be made an ante-mortem inspection of any cattle, sheep, swine, or other animals before being slaughtered for food purposes. Such inspection shall be made prior to slaughter and satisfactory facilities shall be provided for conducting such examinations and separating from the passed animals those deemed unfit for immediate slaughter, and if any owner or person in charge is about to slaughter for food purposes any animal or animals, which the department of agriculture believes may be affected with disease, said director shall notify the owner or person in charge of said animals to refrain from slaughtering them for food purposes until the previously mentioned ante-mortem examination shall be completed, and any owner or person slaughtering animals for food purposes after notification by the director to hold them for ante-mortem examination by said director shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, however, that no owner or person shall be required to refrain from slaughtering animals for a period longer than seventy-two hours.

Post-mortem inspection.

SEC. 6. The director is authorized to provide postmortem inspection of all animals slaughtered for food purposes in any or all establishments in the State of California, if he deems the same necessary in order to safeguard the public health, and the head, tongue, tail, thymus glands, viscera, and other parts and blood used in the preparation of meat food, meat food products, or medicinal products shall be retained in such a manner as to preserve their identity until after the postmortem examination has been completed. Carcasses and parts thereof found to be sound, healthful and wholesome after inspection, fit for human food shall be passed and may be marked in the following manner: "Cal. inspected and passed." This mark may also include any number given the establishment. Each carcass or part thereof which is found on postmortem inspection to be unsound, unhealthful, unwholesome, or otherwise unfit for human food shall be marked conspicuously by the inspector at the time of inspection with the words, "Cal. inspected and condemned." and such carcasses or parts thereof, under the supervision of the inspector, shall be rendered unfit for human consumption in a manner approved by the director of agriculture.

Continuous inspection service.

SEC. 7. Any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the slaughtering of cattle, sheep, swine, or other animals for food purposes, desiring to maintain continuous or part time inspection service in the establishment, in order to have the healthfulness of the meat and meat food products certified to, may make application for the inauguration of a continuous inspection service in such establishment. Such application shall be in writing addressed to the department of agriculture, division of animal industry, of California on blanks which shall be furnished by said department of agriculture. In such application the applicant for inspection shall agree to comply with the provisions of this act and to maintain said establishment in a clean and sanitary manner. Upon receipt of said application the director of agriculture shall make an inspection of said establishment and if found clean and sanitary, and properly equipped to conduct its business in accordance with the rules and regulations of the department of agriculture, he shall inaugurate an inspection service therein, and shall give to such establishment an official number, and this number shall be used to mark the meat and meat food products of the establishment as provided in this section. Such an establishment shall thereafter be known as "official establishment No. _____," and such establishment shall pay for such inspection service a fee in the amount designated by the director of agriculture. All such fees payable to the department of agriculture shall be credited to the meat hygiene fund, which fund is hereby created, to be utilized in the payment of salaries of inspectors. All such fees shall be paid during the first week of January, April, July and October of each year, and shall be paid in advance for the ensuing three months in amounts designated by said director. The total amount of said fees collected shall be reported at least once each month to the state controller, and at the same time, the entire amount of such receipts shall be paid into the state treasury.

SEC. 8. The dressed carcasses of all animals intended for human consumption, parts thereof, meats, or meat food products inspected and marked in accordance with sections five and six of this act shall be permitted to be sold and offered for public consumption in the State of California, and any subdivision thereof without restriction, except that imposed upon meat or meat food products bearing the inspection stamp of the United States department of agriculture.

SEC. 9. It shall be unlawful for any firm, person, or corporation, except employees of the state department of agriculture, to have in possession, keep, or use any mark, stamp, or brand provided or used for marking, stamping, or branding the carcass of any animal intended for food purposes, parts thereof, meats, or meat food products, or to have in possession, keep, or use any mark, stamp, or brand having thereon a device or words the same or similar in character or import to the marks, stamps, or brands provided or used by said department of agriculture for marking, stamping, or branding carcasses of animals intended for food purposes, parts thereof, meats, or meat food products.

SEC. 10. The director of agriculture shall from time to time provide rules and regulations necessary for the efficient execution of the provisions of this act, and all inspections and examinations made under this act shall be made in such a manner as described in the rules and regulations provided by said director not inconsistent with the provisions of this act; provided, however, that in such rules and regulations said director shall be guided by the rules governing meat inspection of the United States department of agriculture.

Insanitary slaughterhouse.

SEC. 11. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to maintain, or operate a slaughtering house, which is unclean or insanitary.

Penalties.

SEC. 12. Any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of slaughtering and preparing animals for food purposes, or preparing or retailing meats, or meat food products, or manufacturing sausage, or operating meat canneries, curing or smoking rooms, or any owner or person in charge of any animal intended for slaughter for food purposes violating any of the provisions of this act, or the rules and regulations promulgated by the director of agriculture for its enforcement shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Constitution-
ality.

SEC. 13. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER 733.

An act to authorize the creation of a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, through the issuance and sale of state bonds, for the single object of creating a fund to carry out the provisions of the land settlement act, approved June 1, 1917, and of any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto; to provide ways and means, exclusive of loans, for the payment of the interest of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such interest falls due, and also for the payment and discharge of the principal of such debt or debts, liability or liabilities, as such principal matures; to create a state land settlement finance committee the members of which are to serve without compensation: to define the powers and duties of said state land settlement finance committee and of other state officers in relation to this act; to appropriate money for the expense of preparing and of advertising the sale of the bonds herein authorized to be issued; and to provide for the submission of this act to a vote of the people at the general election to be holden in the month of November, 1922.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect—see section 14.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Debt for furthering land settlement
authorized.

SECTION 1. For the purpose of creating a fund to carry out the provisions of the land settlement act, approved June 1, 1917, and of any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, the object of which acts is to provide employment and rural homes for soldiers, sailors, marines and others who have served with the armed forces of the United States in the European war or other wars of the United States, including former American citizens who served in allied armies against the central powers and have been repatriated, and who have been honorably discharged, to promote closer agricultural settlement, to assist deserving and qualified persons to acquire small improved farms, to demonstrate the value of adequate capital and organized direction in subdividing and preparing agricultural land for settlement, and to provide homes for farm laborers, the state land settlement finance committee created by this act, to wit, in section ten hereof, shall be and it hereby is authorized and empowered to create a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, of the State of California, in the manner and to the extent hereinafter provided, but not otherwise, nor in excess thereof.

SEC. 2. After the issuance of the proclamation of the governor provided for in section sixteen of this act, and immediately after adoption of any resolution by the state land settlement finance committee hereby created, provided for in section eleven of this act, the state treasurer shall prepare the requisite number of suitable bonds of the denomination of one thousand dollars in accordance with the specifications contained in such resolution. The aggregate par value of all bonds issued under this act shall not exceed the sum of three million dollars, and the bonds issued under any such resolution shall bear interest from the date of issuance of said bonds to the date of maturity thereof, at a rate to be determined by the said state land settlement finance committee and specified in such resolution, but in no case exceeding six per cent per annum. Both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the United States, of the present standard of value, at the office of the state treasurer, or at the office of any duly authorized agent of the state treasurer, and shall be so payable at the times specified in said resolution or resolutions.

All bonds issued under this act shall bear the signature of the governor and the facsimile countersignature of the controller and shall be endorsed by the state treasurer either by original signature or by signature stamp adopted for each particular bond issue under this act, and the said bonds shall be signed, countersigned and endorsed by the officers who shall be in office on the date of issuance thereof, and each of said bonds shall bear an impress of the great seal of the State of California. The said bonds so signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, although the sale thereof be made at a date or dates upon which the officers having signed, countersigned and endorsed said bonds, or any or either of said officers, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of the offices held by them at the time of signing, countersigning, or endorsing said bonds. Each bond issued under this act shall contain a clause or clauses stating that interest shall cease to accrue thereon from and after the date of maturity thereof, and referring to this act and to the resolution of the state land settlement finance board hereunder by virtue of which said bond is issued.

Interest coupons.

SEC. 3. The requisite number of suitable interest coupons, appropriately numbered, shall be attached to each bond issued under this act. Said interest coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the date of issuance of the bond to which said coupons pertain.

Payment on maturity.

SEC. 4. All bonds issued under this act and sold shall be deemed to have been called in at their respective dates of maturity and the state treasurer shall, on the respective dates of maturity of said bonds, or as soon thereafter as said matured bonds are surrendered to him, pay the same out of the proceeds of the controller's warrants drawn in his favor as provided in section five hereof and perforate the bonds so paid with a suitable device in a manner to indicate such payment and the date thereof. He shall also, on the said respective dates of maturity, cancel all bonds bearing said dates of maturity and remaining unsold, by perforation with a suitable device in a manner to indicate such cancellation and the date thereof. The provisions of this section shall be applicable also to the interest coupons pertaining to the bonds authorized by this act to be issued, and shall be applicable, as far as practicable, to any duly authorized agent of the state treasurer.

Annual appropriation to pay principal and interest.

SEC. 5. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act, as said principal and interest becomes due and payable.

There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state, as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue, to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

On the several dates of maturity of said principal and interest in each fiscal year, there shall be returned into the general fund in the state treasury, all of the moneys subject to and available for the use of the state land settlement board not in excess of the principal of and interest on the bonds, then due and payable and, in the event of such moneys so returned on said dates of maturity being less than the said principal and interest then due and payable, then the balance remaining unpaid shall be returned into the general fund in the state treasury as soon thereafter as it shall become available, together with interest thereon, from such dates of maturity until so returned, at the rate of five per cent per annum, compounded semiannually.

Both principal and interest of said bonds shall be paid when due upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state in favor of the state treasurer or in favor of any duly authorized agent of the state treasurer, upon demands audited by the state board of control, and the moneys to be returned into the general fund in the state treasury pursuant to the provisions of this section shall likewise be paid as herein provided upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands duly audited by the state board of control.

SEC. 6. The sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared and advertising their sale. Said amount shall be refunded to the general fund of the state treasury out of the land settlement fund in accordance with the provisions of this act on controller's warrant duly drawn for that purpose.

Appropriation for preparation of bonds.

SEC. 7. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be by the state treasurer sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in such parcels and numbers as the said treasurer shall be directed by the governor of the state, under seal thereof, after a resolution requesting such sale shall have been adopted by the state land settlement board and approved by the governor of the state; but said treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date; and with the approval of the governor, he may from time to time, by public announcement at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof offered, to such time and place as he may select. Before offering any of said bonds for sale the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the day fixed for such sale.

Sale to highest bidder.

SEC. 8. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in one newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds and such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the land settlement fund in the state treasury and must be used exclusively to provide employment and rural homes for soldiers, sailors, marines and others who have served with the armed forces of the United States in the European war or other wars of the United States, including former American citizens who served in allied armies against the central powers and have been repatriated, and who have been honorably discharged, to promote closer agricultural settlement, to assist deserving and qualified persons to acquire small improved farms, to demonstrate the value of adequate capital and organized direction in subdividing and preparing agricultural land for settlement, and to provide homes for farm laborers, in accordance with the provisions of the land settlement act, approved June 1, 1917, and of any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto; provided, that the said land settlement board must pay over to the general fund of the state from the proceeds of the sale of bonds all money which has been heretofore or may be hereafter appropriated and advanced out of the general fund of the state treasury for the use of the state land settlement board on condition that it shall be so paid over; provided, further, that the said state land settlement board may, out of the proceeds from the sale of said bonds, pay all or any part of any indebtedness heretofore by it incurred in accordance with law and remaining unpaid, including the interest accrued thereon, unless the rate of interest applying to such indebtedness is less than the rate of interest applying to the said bonds; and provided, further, that the proceeds from the sale of said bonds may be used to pay the debt created by the issuance and sale thereof.

Investment
of surplus
moneys.

SEC. 9. The state land settlement board shall be and hereby is authorized, with the approval of the state board of control, to invest any surplus moneys in any of the funds subject to or appropriated for its use in bonds of the United States, or of the State of California, or of the several counties or municipalities or other political subdivisions of the State of California, and to sell such bonds, or any of them, at the governing market rates, upon approval of the state board of control.

State land settlement finance committee.

SEC. 10. There is hereby created a state land settlement finance committee composed of the governor, state controller, state treasurer, chairman of the state board of control, and chairman of the state land settlement board, all of whom shall serve thereon without compensation and a majority of whom shall be empowered to act for said committee. The attorney-general of the state shall be the legal advisor of the state land settlement finance committee.

Upon request of the state land settlement board, supported by a statement of the plans and projects of the state land settlement board with respect thereto, the state land settlement finance committee shall determine whether or not a bond issue under this act is necessary or desirable to carry such plans and projects into execution.

SEC. 11. Whenever the said state land settlement finance committee shall have determined that a bond issue under this act is necessary or desirable to carry such plans and projects into execution, it shall adopt a resolution to this effect. The said resolution shall authorize and direct the state treasurer to prepare the requisite number of suitable bonds and shall specify:

Resolution
committee authorizing bond issue.

1. The aggregate number, aggregate par value, and the date of issuance of the bonds to be issued.

2. The date or dates of maturity of the bonds to be issued and the number and numerical sequence of the bonds maturing at each date of maturity.

3. The annual rate of interest which the bonds to be issued shall bear.

4. The number, numerical sequence, amount or amounts, and the dates of maturity of the interest coupons to be attached to the said bonds.

5. The technical form and language of the bonds to be issued and of the interest coupons to be attached thereto.

In determining the date or dates of maturity of the said bonds and the amount of bonds maturing at each date of maturity, the state land settlement finance committee shall be guided by the amounts and dates of maturity of the revenues estimated to accrue to the state land settlement board from the project or projects to be financed by each issue, and shall fix and determine said dates and amounts in such manner that, together with the dates and amounts of interest payments on the said bond issue, they shall coincide, as nearly as practicable, and be commensurate, as nearly as practicable, with the dates and amounts of such estimated revenues; provided, that the bonds first to mature in each issue, shall mature not later than five years from the date of issuance thereof; provided, further, that specified numbers of bonds of specified numerical sequence shall thereafter mature at annual intervals; and provided, further, that the bonds last to mature in each issue shall mature not later than forty-five years from the date of issuance thereof.

The rate of interest to be borne by the said bonds shall be uniform for all the bonds of the same issue and shall be determined and fixed by the state land settlement finance committee according to the then prevailing market conditions, but shall in no case exceed six per cent per annum, and the determination of said committee as to the rate of interest shall be conclusive as to the then prevailing market conditions. The interest coupons to be attached to the said bonds shall be payable at semiannual intervals from the date of issuance of said bonds; provided, that the interest coupon first payable may, if the state land settlement finance committee shall so determine and specify, be payable one year after the date of issuance of said bonds.

Expenses of
committee.

SEC. 12. All actual and necessary expenses of the state land settlement finance committee and of the members thereof shall be paid out of the land settlement fund, upon approval of the state board of control and on controller's warrant duly drawn for that purpose, and shall constitute expenses of the state land settlement board.

Report of proceedings.

SEC. 13. The state controller, the state treasurer, and the state land settlement finance committee shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney-general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

SEC. 14. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the fifteenth day of November, 1922, as to all its provisions except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing, and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect immediately.

Submission to people.

SEC. 15. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be holden in the month of November, 1922, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and in a square thereof, the words: "For the land settlement bond act of 1921," and in the same square under said words the following in brier type: "This act provides for a bond issue of three million dollars to carry out the purposes of the land settlement act." In the square immediately below the square containing such words, there shall be printed on said ballot the words: "Against the land settlement bond act of 1921" and in the same square immediately below said words "Against the land settlement bond act of 1921" in brier type shall be printed "This act provides for a bond issue of three million dollars to carry out the purposes of the land settlement act." Opposite the words "For the land settlement bond act of 1921" and "Against the land settlement bond act of 1921," there shall be left spaces in which the voters may place a cross in the manner required by law to indicate whether they vote for or against said act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the land settlement bond act of 1921" and those voting against the said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the land settlement bond act of 1921." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

SEC. 16. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers; and if it appear that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at said election as aforesaid, then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided, and shall be irrevocable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof; but if a majority of the votes cast as aforesaid are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

SEC. 17. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state in accordance with law to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state, for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November, 1922; the costs of publication shall be paid out of the general fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose and shall be refunded to the general fund out of the land settlement fund in accordance with this act.

SEC. 18. This act may be known and cited as the "Land TITLE settlement bond act of 1921."

SEC. 19. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the Repealed. provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 734.

An act making an appropriation for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of "An act creating a state land settlement board and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation in aid of its operations," approved June 1, 1917, and any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of "An act creating a state land settlement board and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation in aid of its operations," approved June 1, 1917, and any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, the sum of seven hundred fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which sum shall be placed in and constitute a part of the land settlement fund, and is calculated to be returned to the general fund in the state treasury within a period of fifty years from the date of this appropriation going into effect, with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum on so much thereof as shall be withdrawn from said land settlement fund from the time of such withdrawal until returned into the said land settlement fund or until returned into the general fund in the state treasury, as the case may be. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw

CHAPTER 745.

An act to add a new section to be numbered twenty-five a to the act entitled "An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions: to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section seventeen of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor,' and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act," approved April 21, 1911, as amended, relating to tests for butter fat content of milk.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the act entitled "An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section seventeen of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor,' and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act and amendments thereto," approved April 21, 1911, as amended, to be numbered twenty-five a, and to read as follows:

Sec. 25a. In conducting the Babcock test the fat column in tests on milk in milk test bottles shall be read from the extreme bottom of the fat column to the top of the top meniscus; the fat column in tests on cream in cream test bottles shall be read from the extreme bottom of the fat column to the extreme bottom of the top meniscus (when such meniscus in the butterfat is not destroyed by use of a foreign liquid); or from the extreme bottom of the fat column to the plane of separation between the butterfat column and the overlying foreign liquid (when such meniscus in the butterfat column is destroyed by the use of a foreign liquid).

Reading fat column in Babcock test.

A permanent record of all tests of milk or cream purchased or received on the basis of the amount of butterfat contained therein must be made by the tester with an indelible pencil or ink on standard forms supplied at cost by the department of agriculture, each test being legibly recorded in common arabic numerals, and being accompanied by the patron's name or number in such a manner as to identify the patron whose milk or cream has been tested and also in such a manner as to prevent erasures or changes made in these tests and said record shall be at all times during business hours open to the inspection of the agents and officers of the department of agriculture or of any officer of the city or county board of health or of the district attorney of any county, and, in so far as tests on his own milk or cream are concerned, to any patron of the given plant or concern. Each sheet or page shall be authenticated by the signature of the tester and dated. A duplicate of these records must be kept in the personal possession of the tester for a period of at least three months after they were made, or must be deposited by the tester immediately after making in a box provided by the purchaser or receiver of milk or cream, and constructed and sealed according to the rules and regulations of the department of agriculture.

Record of
tests.

The original shall be kept by said purchaser or receiver of milk or cream for at least three months from the date it is made. The tester also shall retain a sample of all milk or cream tested by him for a period of not less than forty-eight hours after tests of said milk or cream have been made and said tester shall be responsible for the safekeeping of such samples of milk or cream, and shall retain same in his custody at all times.

Penalty.

Any tester violating the provisions hereof or any rules and regulations promulgated by the director of agriculture for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act shall be guilty of misdemeanor and shall also forfeit his license. The director of agriculture on receiving evidence of the violation of this act by the tester shall give same ten days notice of a hearing to be held to determine if said tester has violated his license, and if said director shall find that said tester has violated his license said director shall revoke the same.

Any proceeding or hearing held by said director relative to the provisions of this act shall be a part of the records and evidence in any review of such matter in any court of records in the State of California.

Enforcement
by director.

The director of agriculture shall make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 746.

An act to amend section four hundred fifty-seven of the Political Code.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

460. The state treasurer may employ a porter at an annual salary of one thousand two hundred dollars, who shall act as relief watchman and have the same power to make arrests as is by the Penal Code conferred upon peace officers.

CHAPTER 748.

An act to prevent the importation into the State of California of horses, mules, dairy cattle, breeding bulls, goats, breeding bucks and sheep, which are affected with communicable diseases, providing for the inspection or certification of such animals before being brought into the State of California, exempting certain animals from such inspection or certification, providing penalties for violating any of the provisions of this act, and repealing an act approved June 4, 1913, entitled "An act to prevent the importation into the State of California of horses, mules, asses, or cattle which are affected with any infectious or contagious disease; to provide for the inspection of such animals before they are brought into the state; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to prevent the importation of neat cattle for dairy or breeding purposes affected with tuberculosis into the State of California,' approved March 7, 1911; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to prevent the importation of horses, mules and asses, affected with glanders into the State of California,' approved March 7, 1911;" and repealing an act entitled "An act to prevent the importation into the State of California of horses, mules, dairy cattle and breeding bulls which are affected with communicable diseases, providing for the inspection or certification of such animals before being brought into the State of California, exempting certain animals from such inspection or certification, providing penalties for violating any of the provisions of this act, and repealing an act approved June 2, 1913, entitled 'An act to prevent the importation into the State of California of horses, mules, asses, or cattle which are affected with any infectious or contagious disease; to provide for the inspection of such animals before they are brought into the state; to repeal an act entitled "An act to prevent the importation of neat cattle for dairy or breeding purposes affected with tuberculosis into the State of California," approved March 7, 1911; to repeal an act entitled "An act to prevent the importation of horses, mules and asses affected with glanders into the State of California," approved March 7, 1911," approved April 12, 1915, as amended.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, company, or corporation, their agents and servants, to bring into the State of California any horses, mules, dairy cattle, breeding bulls, goats, bucks, or sheep, except as hereinafter provided.

Importation of livestock.

(a) Dairy cattle and breeding bulls over six months of age must be accompanied by a certificate of health and tuberculin test record signed by a qualified veterinarian showing that each of said animals is free from communicable diseases, including tuberculosis, and copy of such certificate and tuberculin test record shall be mailed to the department of agriculture of the State of California on the day the shipment of said animal starts from its origin.

(b) In lieu of such certificate of health and tuberculin test record, as provided for in subdivision (a) of this section, said dairy cattle and breeding bulls may be brought into the State of California; provided, said animals are accompanied by a signed statement issued by the director of agriculture or other authority in charge of live stock sanitary work in the state from which such animals are transported, stating that the animals in the shipment originated in herds which are free from tuberculosis and are not affected with any communicable disease; and a copy of said statement shall be mailed to the department of agriculture of the State of California on the day the shipment of said animals starts from its origin.

Horses and mules.

(c) Horses and mules must be accompanied by a certificate of health signed by a qualified veterinarian, stating that each animal in the shipment is free from communicable diseases, and a copy of said certificate shall be mailed to the director of agriculture of the State of California on the day the shipment of said animals starts from its origin.

(d) In lieu of the certificate provided for in subdivision (c) of this section, horses and mules may be brought into the State of California; provided, said animals are accompanied by a signed statement issued by the director of agriculture or other authority in charge of live stock sanitary work in the state from which said animals are transported, stating that each animal in the shipment is free from communicable diseases, and has not recently been exposed to any communicable diseases, and a copy of said statement shall be mailed to the department of agriculture of the State of California on the day the shipment of said animals starts from its origin.

Bucks

(e) Any person or persons desiring to ship bucks into the State of California shall notify the director of agriculture of the State of California by registered mail ten days before said shipment is made, which notice shall include the name and address of consignor and consignee, and destination of shipment. Such notification shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty cents payable to the department of agriculture for each buck included in the shipment. Bucks that have not been shipped in crates, or cars that have been thoroughly cleaned and disinfected before loading, shall be dipped one or more times upon arrival at the point of destination, under the supervision of the director of agriculture, or his agent, and in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the director of agriculture for the dipping of sheep; provided further, that bucks shipped in cars that have been thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, and unloaded in corrals at any point en route to the final destination, shall also be dipped in a like manner as bucks shipped in cars not cleaned and disinfected.

(f) Any person or persons desiring to import sheep or goats ^{Sheep or goats.} into the State of California, except sheep or goats for immediate slaughter, shall notify the director of agriculture of the State of California by registered mail before said importation shall be made, which notice shall include the name and address of the consignor and consignee, the owner of said sheep or goats, the place of entrance into the state, and such description of the destination as will enable said director of agriculture to readily locate said sheep or goats upon their arrival.

SEC. 2. Animals accompanying shipments of emigrant ^{Exemptions.} movables shall be exempt from the inspection of certificates as provided for in this act. It is further provided, that when horses, mules, dairy and breeding cattle are being brought into the State of California for exhibition or theatrical purposes, said animals shall likewise be exempt from the inspection and certification as provided for in this act; provided, however, that when dairy or breeding bulls which have been brought into the State of California for exhibition purposes are sold to remain in the State of California, said animals shall be subjected to the tuberculin test and certified to as free from tuberculosis by the director of agriculture of the State of California before said animals are delivered to the purchaser.

SEC. 3. Whenever it shall have been determined by the ^{Quarantine.} director of agriculture that a communicable disease exists among domestic animals in any other state or territory in the United States, or foreign country, and the importation of animals from said state or territory, or foreign country might spread such disease among animals within the State of California, nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent or prohibit the governor of the State of California from issuing his proclamation quarantining said state or territory, or foreign country, or from prescribing the regulations under which animals might be imported into the State of California from said state or territory, or foreign country.

SEC. 4. That certain act of the legislature of the State of ^{Stats 1913, p 379, repealed.} California approved June 4, 1913, entitled "An act to prevent the importation into the State of California of horses, mules, asses, or cattle which are affected with any infectious or contagious disease; to provide for the inspection of such animals before they are brought into the state; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to prevent the importation of neat cattle for dairy or breeding purposes affected with tuberculosis into the State of California,' approved March 7, 1911; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to prevent the importation of horses, mules and asses affected with glanders into the State of California,' approved March 7, 1911," is hereby repealed.

SEC. 5. Any person, firm, company or corporation, their ^{Penalties.} agents, servants and employees, who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding one hundred eighty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Constitution-
ality.

SEC. 6. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act; and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Stats. 1915,
p. 59,

An act appropriating money in furtherance of the objects of the Los Angeles county flood control act.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
Los Angeles county flood control.

SECTION 1. The sum of three million dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be used in furtherance of the objects and purposes of the Los Angeles county flood control act as set forth in section two of said act; and in particular in carrying out the projects outlined in the report of the engineer of the Los Angeles county flood control district filed with and approved and adopted by the board of supervisors of said district on the second day of January, 1917.

1502

SEC. 2. The controller of the State of California shall, immediately upon the taking effect of this act, draw his warrant in favor of the board of supervisors of the Los Angeles county flood control district for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and he shall draw his warrant in favor of said board for a like sum upon the first day of July, 1922, and upon the first day of each July thereafter until the sum of three million dollars has been paid. And the treasurer of the State of California is hereby directed to pay each of said warrants out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. All of said sums shall be applied by said board of supervisors in the manner provided by section one of this act.

CHAPTER 750.

An act providing for the creation and management of the Mount Diablo park, creating a board of five commissioners with power to acquire and manage said park and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Within thirty days after the taking effect of this act the governor shall appoint five persons who shall constitute the Mount Diablo park commission. The commissioners appointed by the governor shall hold office for the term of four years. Vacancies shall be filled by the governor.

SEC. 2. The north three hundred twenty (320) acres (or the north half), lot one, the west half of lot two, and lots four, five, seven and eight of section thirty-six, township one north, range one west, Mount Diablo meridian, said land being the property of the State of California, is hereby reserved from sale and set aside for park purposes and said land is hereby placed under the management and control of the Mount Diablo park commission to be maintained by them as a public park for the honor of the State of California and for the benefit of succeeding generations; provided, however, that should the State of California at any future period abandon said land for park purposes, that in that event said land shall be and become subject to sale under the then existing laws providing for the sale of school lands.

SEC. 3. Said commission shall provide for the conservation and reforestation of the land herein mentioned and any other lands that may be acquired hereunder and shall make provision for the preservation of animal and bird life thereon. They shall also provide and maintain public recreation grounds for the benefit of the people of the State of California and shall develop and conserve all water resources upon said lands.

Purchase of additional land.

SEC. 4. The commission shall have the power to purchase such additional land as it may in its judgment deem necessary, not to exceed four thousand acres in extent, or it may proceed by action at law in the superior court to condemn the same or any portion therein in the name of the people of the State of California. The commission may also receive contributions from any source for the purchase of additional lands, and for the care and maintenance of lands, and forest under its charge.

Rules and regulations.

SEC. 5. The commissioners shall receive no salary, but shall have full power and control over the said park, and over the funds provided for the purchase and maintenance of the same, and shall make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations for carrying out the purposes of this act.

Attorney general to examine abstracts.

SEC. 6. No payment of any part of the purchase price of any lands acquired in accordance herewith shall be made until an abstract or abstracts of title shall have been furnished to the attorney general showing that said lands, and the whole thereof, are free from any valid liens or encumbrances thereon, and it is hereby made the duty of the attorney general to examine said abstract or abstracts of title, and to render and deliver to said commission his opinion in writing, certifying that no valid liens or encumbrances exist thereon, and that the title to said land and the whole thereof is good and valid. Said opinion of the attorney general together with said abstract or abstracts of title shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

Appropriation.

SEC. 7. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated to be expended in accordance with law in carrying out the provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 751.

An act to amend section eleven of an act entitled "An act to define real estate brokers and salesmen; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to create a state real estate department and the office of real estate commissioner; to provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled 'An act to define real estate brokers, agents, salesmen, solicitors; to provide for the regulation, supervision, and licensing thereof; to create the office of real estate commissioner; and making an appropriation therefor,' approved June 1, 1917, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act," approved May 27, 1919, and to add three new sections thereto to be numbered eleven a, twenty a and twenty b.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section eleven of the act entitled "An act to Stats 1919, p. 1256, amended. define real estate brokers and salesmen; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to create a state real estate department and the office of real estate commissioner; to provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled 'An act to define real estate brokers, agents, salesmen, solicitors; to provide for the regulation, supervision, and licensing thereof; to create the office of real estate commissioner; and making an appropriation therefor,' approved June 1, 1917, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act," approved May 27, 1919, is hereby amended to read as follows:

20*b*. It shall be unlawful for any person, copartnership, or corporation to issue, circulate or publish any advertisement, pamphlet or circular concerning any agricultural lands being offered for sale or proposed to be offered for sale for colonization purposes or for farm acreage subdivision or for rural settlement wherein it is stated that the real estate commissioner has made a report on such enterprise unless the substance of said report shall be clearly set forth in said advertisement, pamphlet or circular. Any person or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall upon conviction thereof, if a person, be punished by a fine not to exceed two thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail or state prison for a term not to exceed one year, or by both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court; or if a corporation, be punished by a fine of not to exceed five thousand dollars.

CHAPTER 752.

An act to amend section one thousand two hundred three of the Penal Code, relating to probation of persons arrested for crime after plea or verdict of guilty and the suspending of the imposition or execution of sentence during the term of probation and the disposition of such accusation after full compliance with the terms of probation and providing for the creation of the offices of adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer and deputy adult probation officer in certain counties and cities and counties and fixing their compensation and duties and providing for adult probation boards in certain counties and cities and counties.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand two hundred three of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Investigation by probation
officer.

1203. After plea or verdict of guilty, where discretion is conferred upon the court as to the extent of the punishment, the court, upon oral suggestions of either party, or of its own motion, that there are circumstances which may properly be taken into view, either in aggravation or mitigation, of the punishment, may in its discretion, refer the same to the probation officer, directing said probation officer to investigate, and to report, recommending either for or against release upon probation, at a specified time, and the court shall hear the same summarily at such specified time, and upon such notice to the adverse party as it may direct. At such specified time, if it shall appear from the report furnished by the probation officer, or otherwise, and from the circumstances, of any person over the age of eighteen years so having pleaded guilty, or having been convicted of crime, that there are circumstances in mitigation of the punishment, or that the ends of justice shall be subserved thereby, the court shall have power, in its discretion, to place the defendant upon probation in the manner following:

(a) The court, judge or justice thereof, may suspend the imposing, or the execution of sentence and may direct that such suspension may continue for such period of time not exceeding the maximum possible term of such sentence, except as hereinafter set forth, and upon such terms and conditions as it shall determine, which terms and conditions may include, in the discretion of the court, the requirements of bonds for the appearance of the person released upon probation before the court, at any time that the court may require such appearance in the investigation of any alleged violation of said terms and conditions of probation and such bonds may be at any time by the court exonerated without affecting any of the other terms or conditions of such probation; and in case of such suspension of imposition or execution of sentence, the court shall place such person on probation and under the charge and supervision of the probation officer of said court, during such suspension: provided, however, that where the maximum possible term of such sentence is less than two years, then such period of suspension of imposition or execution of sentence may, in the discretion of the court, continue for not over two years. Where the offense consists of a violation of section two hundred seventy or two hundred seventy a of the Penal Code of the State of California, such suspension of imposition or execution of sentence may, in the discretion of the court, continue for not over five years.

(b) If the judgment is to pay a fine, and the defendant be imprisoned until it be paid, the court, judge or justice, upon imposing sentence, may direct that the execution of the sentence of imprisonment be suspended for such period of time, not exceeding the maximum possible term of such sentence and on such terms as it shall determine, and shall place the defendant on probation, under the charge and supervision of the probation officer during such suspension, to the end that he may be given the opportunity to pay the fine; provided, however, that upon the payment of the fine being made, judgment shall be satisfied and the probation cease.

Rearrest.

(c) At any time during the probationary term of the person released on probation, in accordance with the provisions of this section, any probation officer may, without warrant, or other process, at any time until the final disposition of the case, rearrest any person so placed in his care and bring him before the court, or the court may, in its discretion, issue a warrant for the rearrest of any such person and may thereupon revoke and terminate such probation, if the interest of justice so requires, and if the court, in its judgment, shall have reason to believe from the report of the probation officer, or otherwise, that the person so placed upon probation is violating the conditions of his probation, or engaging in criminal practices, or has become abandoned to improper associates, or a vicious life. Upon such revocation and termination, the court may, if the sentence has been suspended, pronounce judgment after the said suspension of the sentence for any time within the longest period for which the defendant might have been sentenced, but if the judgment has been pronounced and the execution thereof has been suspended, the court may revoke such suspension, whereupon the judgment shall be in full force and effect, and the person shall be delivered over to the proper officer to serve his sentence.

Revocation of order by court.

(d) The court shall have power at any time during the term of probation to revoke or modify its order of suspension, of imposition or execution of sentence. It may, at any time, when the ends of justice will be subserved thereby, and when the good conduct and reform of the person so held on probation shall warrant it, terminate the period of probation and discharge the person so held, but no such order shall be made without written notice first given by the court or the clerk thereof to the proper probation officer of the intention to revoke or modify its order, and in all cases, if the court has not seen fit to revoke the order of probation and impose sentence or pronounce judgment, the defendant shall, at the end of the term of probation, be by the court discharged.

Change of plea.

(e) Every defendant who has fulfilled the conditions of his probation for the entire period thereof, or who shall have been discharged from probation prior to the termination of the period thereof, shall at any time prior to the expiration of the maximum period of punishment for the offense of which he has been convicted, dating from said discharge from probation or said termination of said period of probation, be permitted by the court to withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a plea of not guilty; or if he has been convicted after a plea of not guilty, the court shall set aside the verdict of guilty; and in either case the court shall thereupon dismiss the accusation or information against such defendant, who shall thereafter be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense or crime of which he has been convicted.

(f) The offices of adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer and deputy adult probation officer are hereby created; provided, that except as hereinafter specified the probation officers, assistant probation officers and deputy probation officers appointed under an act known as the juvenile court law and entitled, "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, or under any laws amending or superseding the same, shall be ex officio adult probation officers, assistant adult probation officers and deputy adult probation officers respectively except in the case of offenses committed in any city and county and also in those counties not operating under a freeholder's charter, and having a population of more than three hundred thousand, as the same is determined by the federal census taken in the year Anno Domini 1920, in which counties and cities and counties the adult probation officers, assistant and deputy adult probation officers appointed under subdivision (g) of this section shall serve under this act; provided, however, that in all cases of offenses defined by section twenty-one of said act, known as the juvenile court law and by section two hundred seventy of the Penal Code, the same probation officers, assistants and deputies shall serve under this act as are appointed under said juvenile court law.

Adult

(g) In any city and county and in any said county having a population of more than three hundred thousand and not operating under a freeholder's charter, the judges presiding in the departments designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings by a majority vote shall by order entered in the minutes of the court appoint seven citizens of good moral character to be known as the adult probation board and shall fill all vacancies occurring in such board. The clerk of said court shall immediately notify each person appointed on said board and thereupon said person shall appear before a judge of the superior court and qualify by taking an oath, which shall be entered in said court record, to perform faithfully the duties of such adult probation board.

Adult
board.

Term.	The members of such adult probation board shall hold office for four years and until their successors are appointed and qualify; provided , that of those first appointed one shall hold office for one year, two for two years, two for three years and two for four years, the terms for which the respective members shall hold office to be determined by lot as soon after their appointment as may be. When any vacancy occurs in any
Vacancies	probation board by expiration of the term of office of any member thereof, the successor shall be appointed to hold office for the term of four years. When any vacancy occurs for any other reason the appointee shall hold office for the unexpired term of his predecessor. Any member of the probation board may be removed for cause at any time by an affirmative vote of four members of said board at a meeting called for the special purpose of considering the question of said removal and the subsequent written approval of a majority of the said judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings, said written approval to be filed with the clerk of the court within thirty days after the written report of the said board has been received by said judges. Written notice as to said special meeting shall be served on each of the members of said board at least ten days prior to the date set therefor and shall specify the purpose thereof.
Removal for cause.
Duty of board.	It shall be the duty of such adult probation board to exercise a friendly supervision of probationers when so directed by the court, to furnish the court information and assistance whenever required upon the request of the court and from time to time to advise and recommend to the court any changes or modification of the order made in the case of a probationer as may be for the best interests of such person.
No compensation.	Members of the adult probation board shall serve without compensation.
Salaries of adult probation officers.	In any city and county there shall be one adult probation officer and eight assistant adult probation officers, who shall receive salaries as follows: adult probation officer, two hundred fifty dollars per month, one assistant adult probation officer, two hundred dollars per month, and seven assistant adult probation officers at one hundred forty dollars per month, each. In any county of more than three hundred thousand and not operating under a freeholder's charter, there shall be one adult probation officer; one assistant adult probation officer and two deputy adult probation officers who shall receive the following salaries: adult probation officer, three thousand dollars per annum; assistant adult probation officer, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; one deputy adult probation officer, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; one deputy adult probation officer, six hundred dollars per annum. One deputy adult probation officer in such county shall be a woman and shall be a competent stenographer and typist of sufficient ability to perform the clerical and stenographic work of the office in addition to her other duties. The salaries of the adult probation officer, assistant and deputies herein provided shall be paid out of the treasury of the county or city and county in which they are appointed in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers. The said adult probation officer, assistant and deputies shall be allowed such necessary incidental expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as required by any law of the State of California as may be authorized by a judge designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings, or by the judge of a department to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned, and the same shall be a charge upon the county and said expenses shall be paid out of the county treasury upon the written order of said judge, directing the county auditor to deliver his warrant upon the treasurer for the specified amount of such expenses. The adult probation officer shall keep a list of expenses and file a copy monthly with the board of supervisors.

In any city and county and in said counties having a population of more than three hundred thousand and not operating under a freeholder's charter, the adult probation officer, assistant and deputies hereinbefore provided shall be nominated by the adult probation board and shall be appointed by majority vote of the judges presiding in the departments designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases. The term of office of the adult probation officer, assistant and deputies herein provided for shall be two years from the date of their appointment. The said officers may at any time be removed by vote of a majority of the judges presiding in the departments designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings for good cause shown and on the filing of written charges by the said judge or judges with the adult probation board. Each adult probation officer, assistant and deputy shall give a bond in the sum of not more than two thousand dollars to be fixed and approved by the judges of the superior court presiding in the departments designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of said office. If said bonds are furnished by a surety company licensed to transact business in the State of California, the premium thereon shall be paid out of the county treasury.

The adult probation officer may appoint as many additional deputies as he may desire; provided, however, that such deputies shall not have authority to act until their appointment shall be approved by a majority vote of the adult probation board and by a majority vote of the judges presiding in departments designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases. The term of office of such deputies shall expire with the term of the adult probation officer making such appointment, but the adult probation officer may at any time in his discretion revoke and terminate such appointment. Such deputies, except as herein provided, shall serve without compensation. Boards of supervisors of cities and counties and of counties having a population of more than three hundred thousand and not operating under a freeholder's charter, shall provide and maintain at the expense of such county or city and county in a location in the vicinity of the county jail, suitable offices and quarters for the adult probation officer. Nothing contained in this subdivision shall apply to the offenses defined by section twenty-one of the said juvenile court law and by section two hundred seventy of the Penal Code.

Offices.

Transfer of cases.

(h) Whenever any person is released upon probation under the provision of this act, the case may be transferred to any court of the same rank in any other county, or city and county, of this state in which such person resides, or to which such person may remove, and such court shall thereupon commit such person to the care and custody of the probation officer of the county, or city and county, to which such person has been transferred; such court shall thereafter have entire jurisdiction over such case, with like power to make transfer whenever to such court such transfer may seem proper.

Report on person's antecedents, etc.

(i) At the time of the plea or verdict of guilty of any crime of any person over eighteen years of age, the probation officer of the county of the jurisdiction of said crime shall, when so directed by the court, inquire into the antecedents, character, history, family environment, and offense of such person, and must report the same to the court, and file his report in writing in the records of said court. His report shall contain his recommendation for or against the release of such person on probation. If any such person shall be released on probation and committed to the care of the probation officer, such officer shall keep a complete and accurate record in suitable books or other form in writing, of the history of the case in court, and of the name of the probation officer, and his acts in connection with said case; also the age, sex, nativity, residence, education, habits of temperance, whether married or single, and the conduct, employment and occupation, and parents' occupation, and condition of such person so committed to his care during the term of such probation and the result of such probation. Such record of such probation officer shall be and constitute a part of the records of the court, and shall at all times be open to the inspection of the court, or of any person appointed by the court for that purpose, as well as of all magistrates, and the chief of police, or other head of the police, unless otherwise ordered by the court. Said books of record shall be furnished for the use of said probation officer of said county, and shall be paid for out of the county treasury.

Report of probation officers.

(j) Every probation officer, within fifteen days after the thirtieth day of June, and within fifteen days after the thirty-first day of December, of each year, shall make in writing and file as a public document with the county clerk a report to the superior court of the county or city and county in which such probation officer is appointed to serve, and shall furnish a copy of such report to each judge in said county or city and county who has released any person on probation who at the time of such report remains on probation; and a further copy to the secretary of the state board of charities and corrections. Such report shall state, without giving names, the exact number of persons, segregating male and female, and segregating misdemeanors and felonies, who have been released on probation to such probation officer as such number exists, deducting all cases of expiration, discharge, dismissal, and restoration of rights, on said thirtieth day of June and said thirty-first day of December; and such report shall further segregate such person as having been released on probation, as the case may be, in one thousand nine hundred three, one thousand nine hundred four, one thousand nine hundred five and so on, up to and including the calendar year in which such report is made and filed.

(k) The probation officer shall furnish to each person who has been released on probation, and committed to his care a written statement of the terms and conditions of his probation unless such statement has been furnished by the court, and shall report to the court, judge or justice, releasing such person upon probation, any violation or breach of the terms and conditions imposed by such court on the person placed in his care. Statement of terms of probation.

(l) Such probation officer shall have, as to the person so committed to the care of said probation officer, the powers of a peace officer. Powers of peace officers.

on farm.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person to suffer or permit any dog owned, harbored or controlled by him to run at large on any farm whereon live stock or domestic fowls are kept, without the consent of the owner thereof; provided, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit the use of any dog for herding live stock or for hunting or sporting purposes or any competitive trials when such dog is within reasonable control or call of the owner thereof or his agent.

Unlawful killing or impounding.

SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to kill, injure or impound any dog, the owner of which has complied with the provisions of this act; provided, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit any person from killing or impounding any dog which he sees in the act of attacking, killing or persistently pursuing or worrying any live stock or domestic fowls in any enclosure or in any district where measures have been adopted by the state, county or city for the control of rabies; provided, further, that any owner, lessee or employee may detain or impound any dog found straying on any farm whereon live stock or domestic fowls are kept.

County dog license
tags.

SEC. 5. Upon the filing of a petition therefor by twenty-five electors whose names appear upon the last preceding assessment roll of the county as owners of domestic live stock, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of any county to provide for the annual issuance of serially numbered metallic dog license tags, stamped with the name of the county and the year of issue, which shall be issued by the county clerk directly or through justices of the peace, to owners of dogs, who make application for the same. Each application shall state the age, sex, color and breed of the dog for which the license is desired and the address of the owner. The county clerk shall endorse upon the application the number of the license tag issued upon such application and all applications so endorsed shall be kept on file in the office of the county clerk open to public inspection. The fee for the issuance of such license tag shall be fifty cents. It shall be unlawful for any person to attach such license to the collar of any dog other than the one described in the application for such license tag. Fee.

SEC. 6. The board of supervisors shall provide for the taking up and impounding of any and all dogs found running at large contrary to the provisions of this act in said county and for the killing in some humane manner or other disposition of any dog so impounded. The board of supervisors may appoint proper persons to attend to the duties described by this section or they may enter into a contract with any humane society or other organization or association, which will undertake to carry out the provisions of this act, regarding the taking up, impounding and killing of dogs, and which shall give a proper bond in whatever amount may be fixed by the board of supervisors for the faithful performance of the contract. Impounding

No dog impounded under the provisions of this act shall be killed or otherwise disposed of without notice to the owner of such dog, if he be known, and no dog impounded under the provisions of this act shall be killed before seventy-two hours have elapsed from the time of the taking up of such dog.

SEC. 7. The board of supervisors shall fix the compensation of the county clerk for issuing dog license tags and shall also fix the fee for impounding any dog and the amount to be paid for keeping such dog, which shall not be more than ten cents for each day that the dog is so kept. When the impounding is done by an appointee of the board of supervisors or by a humane society or other organization or association, which has entered into a contract for impounding dogs, the fees for taking up and impounding and for keeping such dogs shall be a charge upon the county treasury, to be paid as other claims against the county are paid; provided, that in any case where a dog so impounded is claimed by the owner, the fee for impounding and keeping such dog as fixed by the board of supervisors, shall be paid by the owner to the person, organization or association having custody of such dog, to be retained by him or them, and no charge for fees pertaining to such dog shall be paid by the board of supervisors; provided, further, that the refusal or failure of the owner of any such dog to pay such fee and charges after due Fee for tag.

SEC. 9. For the purpose of this act, any dog license tag issued by any city and county, or incorporated city or town, which substantially complies with the provision of this act and which provides for the wearing of such license tag upon the collar of the dog and the keeping of a record which will establish the identity of the person who owns or harbors such dogs, will be deemed to comply with the provisions of this act.

Penalties.

SEC. 10. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars for the first offense, and for the second offense a fine of not less than fifty dollars and imprisonment in the county jail for ten days or both.

Live stock indemnity
fund.

SEC. 11. All fees for the issuance of dog license tags and all fines collected under the provisions of this act, shall be paid into the county treasury and shall constitute a fund to be known as the live stock indemnity fund, which shall be used: First, to pay fees for the issuance of dog license tags; second, to pay fees for the impounding and keeping of unlicensed and unidentified dogs as prescribed by this act; third, to pay damages to owners of live stock killed by dogs: provided, that each such claim shall be verified by the affidavits of two disinterested witnesses who shall fix the value of such live stock, such affidavits to be executed within forty-eight hours after the finding of the carcasses of each animal and to establish the fact beyond reasonable doubt that such animal was killed by a dog or dogs. Such claims shall be paid from the fund herein provided in the same manner as other claims against the county are paid.

CHAPTER 758.

An act to provide for the acceptance of the provisions and benefits of an act passed by the senate and the house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, to provide for the promotion of vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise; to empower and direct the board designated as the state board for vocational education to cooperate with the federal board for vocational education in carrying out the provisions of said federal act; to prescribe its powers and duties in carrying out the provisions of this act; to provide for a plan of cooperation between the state board for vocational education and the industrial accident commission; to provide for the appointment of a custodian of all moneys received by the state from appropriations made by the congress of the United States and from other sources for the purpose of promoting vocational rehabilitation; to create a vocational rehabilitation fund and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The people of the State of California do hereby, through their legislative authority, accept the provisions and benefits of the act of congress entitled "An act to provide for the promotion of vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise and their return to civil employment," approved June 2, 1920. In accepting the provisions and benefits of said act, the people of the State of California agree to observe and comply with all of its requirements.

Acceptance of federal vocational rehabilitation act.

SEC. 2. The state board of education, heretofore designated as the state board for vocational education, is hereby also designated as the board for the purpose of cooperating with the federal board for vocational education in carrying out the provisions and purposes of the federal act providing for the vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise. Said board is hereby empowered and directed to cooperate with the federal board for vocational education in the administration of said act of congress; to provide for the supervision and support of such courses of vocational rehabilitation as it may deem essential in order to carry out the provisions of the federal act and of this act.

State
board of education
to cooperate.

SEC. 3. The state board of education shall direct its program of vocational rehabilitation through the commissioner of vocational education. Said board is hereby authorized to appoint all necessary professional assistants and teachers who shall not be subject to the provisions of any civil service law of the state; to appoint such other assistants as may be necessary; to fix and pay the compensation of such employes; and to perform any other duties necessary in order to carry out the provisions of the federal act, and of this act.

Assistants
and employes.

SEC. 4. It is hereby made the duty of the state board of education and the industrial accident commission to formulate a plan of cooperation in accordance with the provisions of the federal act, and of this act, such plan to become operative when approved by the governor of the state.

Cooperation with industrial accident commission.

Custody of funds by state treasurer.

SEC. 5. The state treasurer, as required by the federal act, is hereby authorized, and required to receive and provide for the proper custody of all funds apportioned to the State of California under the provisions of that act. He is also authorized and required to receive and provide for the proper custody of all moneys appropriated by this act, of all moneys that may be hereafter appropriated for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, and of all moneys that may be received by the state board of education under the provisions of section six of this act.

Vocational
tion fund.

The moneys above mentioned shall constitute the "vocational rehabilitation fund" of the state board of education, which fund is hereby created, and shall be paid out by the state treasurer on warrants drawn by the controller as requisitioned by the state board of education in carrying out the provisions of this act, the federal act, and the rules and regulations of said state board established as required by the said acts.

Gifts and endowments.

SEC. 6. The state board of education is hereby authorized and empowered to receive and provide for the proper custody of such gifts and donations either from public or private sources as may be offered unconditionally, or as may be offered under conditions that are, in the judgment of the state board, proper and consistent with the purposes and the provisions of this act. Any endowments placed in the hands of the state board of education, only the incomes of which may be applied to vocational rehabilitation, may be invested by said board under such agreements as may have been entered into with the donors, or under the provisions and regulations customary in handling other permanent state funds.

The moneys received by the state board of education as income from endowments or as direct contributions shall be expended as conditioned by the several donors or, if not so conditioned, as deemed necessary by said board, to provide for the vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise, to provide for the support of such persons and their dependents while undergoing such rehabilitation, and to conduct such investigations as are considered necessary in order to promote the establishment and maintenance of vocational rehabilitation.

Report.

A full report of all moneys and donations offered and accepted together with the names of donors and the respective amounts contributed by each, and all disbursements made under the provisions of this section, shall be submitted annually to the governor of the state by the state board.

Appropriation.

SEC. 7. For the three successive fiscal years beginning July 1, 1921, the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars is hereby annually appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be used in whole or in part by the state board of education to match the funds allotted to the State of California under the provisions of said act of congress entitled "An act to provide for the promotion of vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise and their return to civil employment," approved June 2, 1920; and to carry out any other provisions of this act. The above funds are exempt from the provisions of part three, title one, chapter three, article eighteen of the Political Code, relating to the state board of control.

CHAPTER 759.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one-half class, to fix the jurisdiction of said courts and to provide for the officers thereof, to prescribe the powers and duties of the officers of said courts and to fix the compensation of certain officers thereof, and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one-half class, to fix their jurisdiction and provide for officers of said courts and fix the compensation of certain officers thereof' which became a law under the provisions of the constitution of the State of California without the governor's approval on the fifth day of March, 1901, and all acts amendatory of said act or supplementary thereto," approved June 6, 1913, by amending section six thereof, providing for a clerk and deputy clerks for police courts in cities of the first and one-half class, fixing their compensation, providing for their duties and responsibilities, and providing for the care and disposition of moneys in their hands, and their removal and tenure of office.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six of an act entitled "An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one-half class, to fix the jurisdiction of said courts and to provide for the officers thereof, to prescribe the powers and duties of the officers of said courts and to fix the compensation of certain officers thereof and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one-half class, to fix their jurisdiction and provide for officers of said courts and fix the compensation of certain officers thereof' which became a law under the provisions of the constitution of the State of California without the governor's approval, on the fifth day of March, 1901, and all acts amendatory of said act or supplementary thereto," approved June 6, 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 6. Said police court shall have a clerk and eleven deputy clerks. Said clerk shall be ex officio clerk of the city justices or either of them. Either of said deputy clerks may amended.

Clerks.

perform any of the duties of clerk of said police court, or either of said justice's courts. Said clerk or one of said deputy clerks shall attend in each department of said court while said department is in session and at such other times as may be necessary for the proper transaction of the business of such department. Any act or duty devolving upon or required to be performed by said clerk may be performed by him through either of said deputies with like validity and effect as though performed by himself.

Election
by judges.

Said clerk and six of said deputy clerks shall be elected by a majority vote of the judges of said court. Each judge shall appoint one deputy clerk and should the position filled by such deputy become vacant such judge shall fill said vacancy by appointment as before. Should the position filled by the clerk or either of the six elected deputies become vacant such vacancy shall be filled by said judges by election as above provided.

Term.

The term of office of said clerk and each of said deputy clerks shall be four years from the date of his appointment; provided, that the judges of said court may, by a majority vote, remove said clerk or any deputy for willful neglect of duty or misconduct in office.

Bond.

Said clerk and each of said deputy clerks shall before entering upon the duties of his office give a bond conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. If such bond is executed by a surety company the city shall pay the premium thereon. Said bonds shall be approved by the mayor and city attorney and filed with the city auditor.

The bond of the clerk shall be in the sum of ten thousand dollars; and that of each deputy in the sum of five thousand dollars.

Salaries.

Said clerk shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars, and each deputy clerk shall receive an annual salary of two thousand seven hundred dollars, both payable in equal monthly installments out of the treasury of said city, which salary shall be full compensation for all services rendered by him.

Said clerk and each of said deputy clerks shall, in the performance of their duties, be subject to the orders of said court, and may, by order of the presiding judge, pursuant to the vote of a majority of the judges of said court, be assigned to any department of said court, or any duty required to be performed by a clerk of said court.

Deposit of money with city
treasurer.

Any money which is or may come into the hands of the clerk as such clerk and which is not and may not in the regular course of the business of said court become payable into the city treasury, and which has so remained in the hands of said clerk for a period of six months without being claimed by the owner shall by said clerk be deposited with the city treasurer in a special fund subject to the order of said court. At any time within five years from the deposit of any such money with the city treasurer any judge of said police court may, upon satisfactory proof of the ownership of such money or any part thereof make an order directed to said city treasurer requiring the payment of such money or such part thereof to such owner and the said treasurer shall upon presentation of such order pay said money or part thereof to such owner. Any such money remaining in such fund in the hands of the city treasurer five years from its deposit therein by said clerk shall be reported by said treasurer to the city council of said city and shall be transferred to and become a part of the reserve fund of said city.

Said clerk or either of said deputy clerks while acting as clerk of a department of said court shall keep a record of the proceedings of said court and issue all processes ordered by the city justices or either of them or by said police court, or a judge thereof. Said clerk shall receive and pay into the city treasury all fines imposed and collected by said court and all forfeitures of cash deposited in lieu of bail in said court, and all other moneys which may come into his hands belonging to or payable to said city. He shall also render each month to the city council an exact and detailed account, under oath, of all fines imposed and collected, and of all fines imposed and uncollected since his last report, which said account shall also show the amount of money remaining in his hands at the date of said account, which is or may become payable to said city and has not been deposited with the city treasurer as above required.

With the approval of the city auditor of the city in which said police court is held, said clerk may deposit any money in his hands as such clerk which has not become payable to said city in a bank in a special account, and it shall be the duty of such clerk at any time at the said city auditor's request to give said auditor full information as to the condition of said account.

Said clerk or either of said deputy clerks may prepare and approve bonds and may in the absence of a judge of said court fix the amount of bail to be required of any defendant charged in such court with any offense of which such court has jurisdiction; and may also justify bail, and may administer and certify oaths. Said clerk and his said deputies shall remain at the courtroom or other office of said court during business hours and during such reasonable times thereafter as may be necessary for a proper performance of their duties; and said clerk or one or more of his deputies shall be in attendance at such office at all times for the purpose of fixing and receiving bail and performing such other duties as may be required of him or them.

Before receiving any monthly payment of salary said clerk shall make and file with the city auditor an affidavit that he has deposited with the city treasurer all moneys that have come into his hands belonging to the city. Any violation of this provision shall be a misdemeanor. Said clerk by himself or deputies shall keep, compile and be the custodians of the dockets, files and records of said court. Said dockets shall in civil cases be kept in conformity to the provisions of sections 911, 912, 913 and 914 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California. In criminal cases the docket shall contain in each case:

Docket in criminal cases.

1. The title of the case;
2. A minute entry of filing of demurrer, if any;
3. A minute entry of any motion to dismiss, or for change of venue, or continuance, or any motion, ruling or order affecting the disposition of the case; and waiver of jury if jury be waived;
4. The plea of defendant;
5. Any order of the court fixing bail or setting time for hearing of demurrer or motion to dismiss, or setting the case for trial;
6. The names of the witnesses sworn and examined at the trial;
7. The verdict;
8. The time set for rendering judgment, if judgment is not pronounced immediately after verdict or plea of guilty; and the waiver of time for sentence if there be such waiver;
9. The judgment;
10. A minute of all motions, rulings and orders made after verdict or judgment;
11. The dates of the various actions or things required to be recorded.

CHAPTER 760.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act providing for the improvement, development, or protection of any harbor, bay, inlet, or other arm of the sea existing within any county of this state, providing for the appointment of a harbor commission by the board of supervisors of any such county to have charge and control of the improvement, development, or protection thereof, and the voting, issuance and sale of the bonds of such county to pay the cost thereof," by amending section two thereof, and adding three new sections to be numbered sections thirteen, fourteen, and fifteen.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1459.
amended.

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act providing for the improvement, development, or protection of any harbor, bay, inlet, or other arm of the sea existing within any county of this state, providing for the appointment of a harbor commission by the board of supervisors of any such county to have charge and control of the improvement, development, or protection thereof, and the voting, issuance and sale of the bonds of such county to pay the cost thereof," approved June 11, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. The harbor commission shall consist of five members, each of whom shall, at the time of his or her appointment, be and have been for two years a bona fide resident, elector, and freeholder of such county. The harbor commission shall be appointed to serve for the term of four (4) years, and until their successors are appointed and qualified, and any vacancy in the harbor commission shall be filled by appointment by the board of supervisors; provided, however, that if, after a careful survey, investigation and examination, the harbor commission shall report to the board of supervisors that the improvement, development or protection of any such harbor is not practicable, or would involve too great an expense, and such report shall be approved by the board of supervisors, the said harbor commission shall thenceforth cease to exist, or if the proposition for the issuance of the bonds of the county for the improvement, development, or protection of such harbor shall, when submitted to the electors, fail to carry by the requisite number of votes, or when any proposed improvement, development or protection of such harbor shall have been completed, and that fact established by a finding of the board of supervisors, the said harbor commission shall cease to exist, unless the board of supervisors shall, by an order entered upon its minutes continue the harbor commission in existence for the purpose of carrying out any additional improvement, development or protection of any such harbor, bay, inlet, or other arm of the sea. When any harbor commission appointed under the provisions of this act shall cease to exist another harbor commission may thereafter be created by the board of supervisors without requiring any new additional petition as is provided for by section one of this act in the first instance, and such harbor commission when so created shall exercise all of the powers and be governed by the provisions of this act as the harbor commission first appointed.

SEC. 2. Three new sections numbered thirteen, fourteen and fifteen, are hereby added to an act entitled "An act providing for the improvement, development, or protection of any harbor, bay, inlet, or other arm of the sea existing within any county of this state, providing for the appointment of a harbor commission by the board of supervisors of any such county to have charge and control of the improvement, development, or protection thereof, and the voting, issuance and sale of the bonds of such county to pay the cost thereof," approved June 11, 1915.

Sec. 13. When any improvement, development or protection of a bay, inlet, or other arm of the sea, commenced under this act shall be accomplished, and the board of supervisors shall continue the harbor commission in existence, or thereafter create another harbor commission, as provided for in section two hereof, such harbor commission shall proceed to examine such harbor, bay, inlet or other arm of the sea in connection with such proposed further or additional improvement, development or protection thereof and shall provide detail plans and specifications therefor and report to the board of supervisors the practicability and estimated cost thereof. The board of supervisors shall thereupon be vested with all the authority and be charged with all the duties concerning such report, the calling of an election and to cause the bonds of the county to be issued and sold for such further and additional improvement, development or protection equally as in the first instance.

When management passes to supervisors.

Whenever the improvement, development or protection of any such harbor, bay, inlet or other arm of the sea shall have been completed and the harbor commission created under this act shall cease to exist, then the management and control of such harbor in so far as it shall have been improved, developed or protected under this act shall pass to and vest in the board of supervisors of the county; and the future cost and expense of the maintenance of such harbor shall be a charge upon the county.

Appointment of officers and employees.

Sec. 14. The board of supervisors in which the control and management of any harbor, bay, inlet or other arm of the sea shall have vested, as provided for in this act, shall have the power to appoint, define the duties of, and pay, all officers, agents and employees, necessary for the complete control of said harbor, and to make and enforce all necessary and proper regulations for that purpose.

Establishing fees.

Sec. 15. The board of supervisors of any county in which the control and management of any harbor, bay, inlet or other arm of the sea has vested, as provided for in this act, shall have the power to establish all anchorage, wharfage, dock and warehouse fees, and to collect the same and which shall be paid in to a proper fund for the maintenance of said harbor and for its further development, maintenance and protection.

CHAPTER 761.

An act to amend section five hundred fifteen of the Political Code, relating to the salaries of assistants in the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section five hundred fifteen of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Salary of deputy superintendent of public instruction.

515. The annual salary of the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall be three thousand dollars. The superintendent of public instruction shall have the power to employ the necessary clerical and expert assistance in addition to statutory employees enumerated in section five hundred fourteen of the Political Code and to fix the compensation of all statutory and other employees except as herein otherwise provided.

CHAPTER 762.

An act providing for and authorizing the Fullerton school district and Orangethorpe school district to ascertain the amount of and adjust the taxes lost to Orangethorpe school district by the inclusion of certain territory within the exterior boundaries of the city of Fullerton.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The board of trustees of Fullerton school district and Orangethorpe school district, grammar school districts existing in the county of Orange, are hereby authorized and empowered to annually ascertain and adjust as between said school districts the amount of taxes lost to Orangethorpe school district through and by the inclusion within the city of Fullerton of certain property heretofore taxed by Orangethorpe school district for school purposes, and when ascertained and adjusted to be paid into the school fund of the county for the use and purposes of Orangethorpe school district.

Adjustment of taxes between Fullerton and Orangethorpe school districts.

CHAPTER 763.

An act to amend sections ten and eleven of the state medical practice act.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

CHAPTER 764.

An act to amend section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of the Political Code, relating to high schools.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Special day and evening high school
classes.

1750c. The high school board of any high school district subject to the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred fifty of this code, shall have power to establish and maintain, in connection with any high school under its jurisdiction, special day and evening classes for the purpose of giving instruction in any of the branches of study that may be taught in a high school. These classes may be convened at such hours and for such length of time during the school day or evening, and at such period and for such length of time during the school year as may be determined by said governing authority; and the enrollment of and attendance upon such classes shall be kept separately and the units of average daily attendance shall be determined as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code, and shall be added to the high school attendance of the district.

Vocational
courses.

The high school board of any high school district subject to the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred fifty of this code shall have power to establish and maintain, in connection with any high school under its jurisdiction, cooperative part-time vocational courses in agricultural, commercial, industrial, trade or other vocational subjects. The enrollment of and attendance upon such courses shall be kept separately and the units of average daily attendance, determined as provided in section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code, shall be added to the high school attendance of the district; provided, that each pupil of a class pursuing such a cooperative part-time course in agriculture shall devote, under the direct supervision of a teacher holding a special certificate in agriculture or a vocational certificate in agriculture, at least three hours daily or an equivalent amount of time to farm mechanics and to farm project work conducted by him on a commercially productive basis, and at least three hours daily or an equivalent amount of time to academic work in school or in class, a part of which shall supplement the practical work; and provided, further, that each pupil of a class pursuing a cooperative part-time course in commerce, industry, trade, or other vocational subject shall devote, under the direct supervision of a competent teacher holding a vocational certificate in the special subject, at least three hours daily or an equivalent amount of time to educative practical work under employment and at least three hours daily or an equivalent amount of time in school or class to academic work, a part of which shall supplement the practical work. The high school board of any high school district maintaining a part-time agricultural course as provided above may, at its option and in such manner as it may deem advisable, furnish the necessary transportation for teachers of agriculture engaged in supervising the project work of the pupils and may pay any expense so incurred from the county or district high school funds of the district.

CHAPTER 769.

An act to amend section two thousand two hundred seven f of the Political Code, relating to the Industrial Home of Mechanical Trades for the Adult Blind.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two thousand two hundred seven f of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2207f. The superintendent is the chief executive officer of the home. He must be a man of good education and of good

Superintendent.

moral character and business experience. His salary is three thousand dollars per annum. He must execute an official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars. His powers and duties are as follows:

Powers and
duties.

1. To superintend the grounds, buildings, workshops, manufacturing departments, and property of the home.

2. To certify to the board of directors the number of instructors and employees needed in the manufacturing departments, and to recommend to the board the appointment of suitable persons for these positions;

3. To dismiss any domestic, servant, or person employed at the home, other than an instructor or employee in the manufacturing department, whenever in his judgment the good of the home demands it;

4. To prescribe and enforce the duties of all instructors, employees, domestics, servants, and laborers employed at the home;

5. To admit inmates only upon the certificate of the attending physician, or by order of the board, as hereinafter provided; to control the inmates, and to prescribe and enforce a system of instruction and labor;

6. To suspend any employee or instructor pending a recommendation to the board for his permanent dismissal, and to appoint substitutes during the absence of any or all employees;

7. Pending a recommendation to the board for his final dismissal, to suspend the privileges of, and to remove from the premises, any inmate whose presence appears to be in conflict with the interests of the home. Should any inmate so suspended or removed be in destitute condition, the superintendent must, upon his demand, furnish him with suitable lodgings and board elsewhere, until the decision of the board is made thereon. The bill therefor must be presented to the board for payment, in the same manner as other claims;

8. To reside at the home;

9. To keep a daily record of his official acts in the manner prescribed by the board, and to present the same to the board at each monthly meeting, verified by his oath, in accordance with the blanks furnished by the board for that purpose, and to make in the monthly reports such recommendations as he may deem proper. The monthly report must contain a statement of all stock, goods, and supplies of any nature received at the home during the month;

10. To turn over to the board, at the close of each month, together with the balance sheet, all moneys derived by him from the sale of manufactured goods, and all revenues derived by him from any source whatsoever in behalf of and for the benefit of the home, and to take the secretary's receipt therefor;

11. To make up and present to the board, in the month of July of each year, his annual accounts and statement of the affairs of the home, verified by his oath. The annual statement must be an epitome of the monthly reports, and must contain the number and names of all inmates, officers, and employees, and their respective dates of admission or beginning of employment, and the respective dates of dismissals made during the year. It must contain a full review of all receipts and expenditures, and an invoice of all goods and stock and supplies on hand. It must contain, also, the average weekly cost of board per capita of all persons residing at the home, without considering the labor credits, and the average annual cost of instruction per capita. It must show clearly the relation of the gross products to the gross cost, and the percentage lacking in order to become self-supporting. For the making up of such statement, the superintendent shall have full access to the secretary's and other books of the home, and such statement must be independent of each and all of the other annual reports;

Powers and
duties.

12. To make requisitions on the board of directors for articles and goods needed at the home, and to order the same as directed by the board. It may, by resolution spread upon its minutes, authorize the superintendent, in case of emergency, to make purchase of material and supplies for the home without such previous requisition. He must, in addition, perform such further services as may be required of him by the board.

CHAPTER 770.

An act to add a new section to be numbered section nineteen x forty-one to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith." approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Juvenile
court
law.

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, as amended, said section relating to the salaries of probation officers; said section to be numbered nineteen x forty-one and to read as follows:

Sec. 19x41. In counties of the forty-first class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be twenty-five dollars per month.

CHAPTER 771.

An act to amend chapter one of title five of part three of the Political Code, relating to state hospitals, and the care, custody, apprehension and commitment of insane and other incompetent persons, by amending sections two thousand one hundred forty-four, two thousand one hundred fifty-three, two thousand one hundred fifty-three a, two thousand one hundred sixty-seven a, two thousand one hundred seventy-two, two thousand one hundred seventy-six, two thousand one hundred seventy-eight, two thousand one hundred eighty, two thousand one hundred eighty-one, two thousand one hundred ninety-one, and two thousand one hundred ninety two thereof, and adding thereto new sections to be numbered two thousand one hundred forty-one a, two thousand one hundred seventy-six a, two thousand one hundred seventy-eight a, and two thousand one hundred eighty-one b.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two thousand one hundred forty-four of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2144. The authorities for the several hospitals must furnish to the commission the facts mentioned in subdivision seven of section two thousand one hundred forty-two and such other obtainable facts, as the commission may from time to time in the discharge of its duties require of them, with the opinion of the superintendent thereon, if requested. The superintendent or other person in charge of a hospital, must, within ten days after the admission of any person thereto, cause an abstract of the medical certificate and order on which such person was received and a list of all property and books, and papers of value found in the possession of or belonging to such persons to be forwarded to the office of the commission, and when a patient or inmate is discharged, transferred or dies, such superintendent or person in charge, must, within three days thereafter, send the information to the office of the commission, in accordance with the form prescribed by it.

Information
to be furnished to lunacy
commission.

SEC. 2. Section two thousand one hundred fifty-three is hereby amended to read as follows:

2153. The medical superintendent of each hospital is its chief executive officer. In his absence or sickness the first assistant physician or other medical officer designated by the medical superintendent, or by the commission, must perform his duties and be subject to his responsibilities. Subject to the rules and regulations established by the board of managers, the medical superintendent has general superintendence of all buildings, together with their furniture, fixtures, and stock, and the direction and control of all persons therein, and must:

Duties of medical superintendent.

1. Personally maintain an effective supervision and inspection of all parts of the hospital, and generally direct the care and treatment of the patients and inmates. To this end the superintendent must personally examine the condition of each patient or inmate within five days after his admission to the hospital and must visit all the wards or apartments for patients or inmates at such times as the rules and regulations of the hospital prescribe;

2. The superintendent of the home for feeble-minded must, on or before the fifth day of each month, prepare a true and correct report, verified by oath, of all inmates supported, cared for, trained, and educated in such hospital for the preceding month, and whose support, care, training, and education in such hospital are provided to be paid for by the several counties

whence they came. This report must give the names and counties from which committed of all such inmates, and the name of the committing judge. Copies of this report must be filed in the offices of the state board of control, the controller, the treasurer of state, and state commission in lunacy, but must not be printed, or used, nor permitted to be used, for any other purpose than the special information of the officers designated. The superintendent must also, within the time above designated, prepare a report, verified by his oath, showing substantially the facts set forth in the above report, which must be filed with the county auditors of the several counties from which the commitments have been made to the institutions, showing the name of each inmate supported, and for which such county is liable to the state for support and maintenance.

3. The superintendent of the home for feeble-minded must, annually, after the close of the fiscal year, and before the date at which the managers are required to make their annual report, make to the managers a report, giving the name, age, sex, nativity, residence, and date of reception of each pupil in the institution within the preceding year, and, as far as can be ascertained, the causes of imbecility; also the number discharged, with the date and reason therefor in each case, together with the name of each paying pupil, and the amount charged for him, and the amounts paid or unpaid; and also such other information and suggestions as may seem proper; which report must be kept on file in the office of the secretary of the board, but must not be printed.

SEC. 3. Section two thousand one hundred fifty-three a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2153*a*. The medical superintendent of each hospital must appoint, by and with the consent of the board of managers:

1. A supervisor, matron, and business manager, and all employes, none of whom must be his relatives, or that of any member of the board of managers, either by consanguinity or marriage, who shall be subject to such examination as he deems for the best interest of the hospital, the questions to be prepared by the general superintendent, subject to the approval of the commission;

2. Such assistant physicians and internes as may be determined by the commission. Such assistant physicians and internes must be graduates of incorporated medical colleges, well educated in their profession, who have received a certificate from the state board of medical examiners, and of good moral character;

3. Where there are first and second assistant physicians, the first assistant physician must have had two years' actual experience, and the second assistant physician one year's actual experience in the care and treatment of the insane;

4. From and after the first day of July, A. D. 1905, whenever an additional assistant physician is appointed in any state hospital for the care and treatment of the insane or the California Home for the Care and Training of the Feeble-Minded

Children at Eldridge, Sonoma county, the appointment of such additional assistant shall be so made that at least one physician in each of said state hospitals and said home shall be a woman;

5. No appointment of any person as first, second, or other assistant physician or interne shall be effective for any purpose unless such person shall pass or has passed an examination touching his qualifications for such position in all the different branches of medicine and surgery, and especially of diseases affecting the mind and nervous system. Such examination shall be conducted by the medical superintendent on questions prepared by the general superintendent and by such medical superintendents as may be designated by the commission, subject to the approval of the commission. The passing of an examination for a given position in any state hospital shall qualify any person for a similar position in any other state hospital;

Examina-
tions.

6. At the homeopathic state hospital all assistant physicians and internes besides possessing the qualifications herein prescribed, must be graduates of an incorporated homeopathic medical college;

7. The medical superintendent must: Give such orders and instructions as he may deem best calculated to insure good conduct, fidelity, and economy in every department of labor and expenses;

Duties of superintendent.

8. Maintain salutary discipline among all who are employed in the institution, and enforce strict compliance with his instructions and uniform obedience to all rules and regulations of the hospital;

9. Cause full and fair accounts and records of the entire business and operations of the hospital to be kept regularly, from day to day, in books or form provided for that purpose.

10. See that all such accounts and records are fully up to the last day of June in each year, and that the principal facts and results, with his report thereon, are presented to the managers within thirty days thereafter, who must incorporate them in their report to the commission.

11. Keep a record, in which he must cause to be entered at the time of reception of any patient, his name, residence, and occupation, and the date of such reception, by whom brought and by what authority, and on whose petition committed, and an abstract of all orders, warrants, requests, petitions, certificates, and other papers accompanying such person.

12. To prepare and keep the pay rolls of the hospital, and collect all moneys; keep the accounts for the support of the patients, and expenses incurred in their behalf; furnish the treasurer statements thereof as they fall due; turn all moneys collected over to the treasurer, and report same to the board of managers at each meeting; notify the treasurer of the death or discharge of reimbursing or pay patients, within five days after such death or discharge.

13. Prepare triplicate estimates of the amount, kind, and quality of furniture and household furnishing goods, provisions, fuel, forage, clothing or material for clothing, and other material required for the twelve months ending June thirtieth of each year, which must be approved by the board of managers, unless a different time is allowed by the commission. He must submit two of the triplicate estimates to the commission, and file the third in his office. The commission may revise the estimates for supplies, either as to quality or quantity thereof, and must certify that it has carefully examined the same, and that the articles contained in such estimate, as approved by it, are actually required for the use of the hospital; whereupon, after having approved the estimates, the commission must, beginning upon the fifteenth day of the month preceding the month in which contracts are to be let, advertise for four successive weeks, for contracts for furnishing such supplies; said advertising being in brief, referring to the class of supplies and the fact that all contemplated bidders can receive schedules by applying to the superintendents or secretaries of the various hospitals, or the state commission. All contracts must be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, or bidders, upon their giving to the board of managers a bond amounting to one-fourth of their actual bids, as security for the faithful performance of the same. The board of managers reserves the right to reject any and all bids submitted to them;

14. Prepare monthly triplicate estimates, as approved by the board of managers, two of which must be submitted to the commission, and the other filed in the superintendent's office, for necessary expenditures required for the hospital of which he is superintendent, for the ensuing month. The commission may revise these estimates for supplies, either as to quality, quantity, or price thereof, and must certify that they have been carefully examined, and that the articles contained in such estimates, as approved by it, are actually required for the use of the hospital; whereupon the board of managers must direct its superintendent to secure the supplies according to the approved estimates.

15. Submit to the commission monthly statements of all collections for maintenance of pay patients at said hospital on forms approved, prescribed and furnished by the commission.

16. Shall immediately examine the statement of maintenance accounts of pay patients at said hospital as submitted by the secretary of the commission and report forthwith to the commission as to its correctness.

17. Whenever the board and maintenance account of a pay patient becomes delinquent for a period of three months, then the medical superintendent shall forthwith cause to be made a special report to the commission of such case and furnish to the commission all data in his possession concerning such case.

SEC. 4. Section two thousand one hundred sixty-seven a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2167a. The superior judge of each county, or city and county, may grant certificates in accordance with the form prescribed by the commission, showing that the persons named therein are reputable physicians and graduates of incorporated medical colleges, and have been in active practice of their profession at least five years, and when certified copies of such certificates have been filed with the commission, the latter shall issue to such persons certificates or commissions, and the persons therein named become known as "medical examiners," and there must at all times be at least two such medical examiners in each county. Such certificate may be revoked by the commission for incompetency or neglect, and shall not be again granted without the consent of the commission.

SEC. 5. Section two thousand one hundred seventy-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2172. The insane person, together with certified copies of the affidavit, warrant of arrest, and of the order for hearing and examination, the order and accompanying statement of the judge and the certificate of the physicians, must be delivered to the sheriff of the county, and by him must be delivered to the officer in charge of the hospital to which such person is committed; but no female insane person shall be taken to any hospital without the attendance of some other female or of some relative of such insane person.

Any moneys found on the person of an insane person at the time of arrest must be certified to by the judge, and sent with such person to the hospital, there to be delivered to the medical superintendent and by him deposited in a fund to be known as the patients' personal deposit fund.

If the sum exceed one hundred dollars, the excess must be applied to the payment of the maintenance and medical attendance of such person while in the hospital; if the sum is one hundred dollars or less, it may be expended for the personal expenses of the person or applied to the payment of funeral expenses if the person dies at the hospital.

SEC. 6. Section two thousand one hundred seventy-six of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2176. The husband, wife, father, mother, or children of an insane person or inebriate, and the guardian of his estate, must cause him to be properly and suitably cared for and maintained, and must pay the costs and charges of his commitment and transportation to a state hospital for the insane or inebriates. The husband, wife, father, mother, or children of an insane person or inebriate, or the estate of such insane person or inebriate, shall be liable for the care, support and maintenance of any insane person or inebriate in a state hospital to which he has been or may hereafter be committed or transferred, and it is hereby made the duty of the commission to make collections of all of the aforesaid costs and charges, and charges for the care, support and maintenance of any insane person or inebriate in a state hospital, or to see that they are collected.

Investigation by commission.

The commission shall, following the admission of a patient into a state hospital for the insane or into the Sonoma State Home, cause an investigation to be made to determine what monies, property, or interests in property, if any, the patient may have, and whether he has a duly appointed and acting guardian to protect his property and his property interests. The commission shall also make an investigation to determine whether the patient has any relative or relatives as mentioned in this section, and who are herein made responsible for payment for the care, support and maintenance of such patient, and for the payment of the costs of commitment and transportation, and shall ascertain the financial condition of such relative or relatives, to determine whether in each case such relative or relatives are in fact financially able to pay such charges. All reports in connection with such investigations, together with the findings of the commission, shall be records of the commission, and may be inspected by interested relatives, their agents, or representatives at any time upon application.

SEC. 7. Section two thousand one hundred seventy-eight of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Duties of district attorneys.

2178. The commission shall prepare, have printed, and furnish the district attorney in each county of the state with uniform blank forms upon which to report information in connection with the ability of the person committed to a state hospital, and the relatives of such person liable for his maintenance under Section 2176 of the Political Code, to pay the charges of commitment and costs of maintenance while at a state hospital. The district attorney in each county in which an order of commitment is made must, on the filing of a copy of such order with the county clerk, make diligent inquiry into the ability of the person committed, or the relatives above mentioned, to pay the charges and costs of his maintenance and care while in a state hospital and make a report to the secretary of the commission of the result of such inquiry in accordance with the forms furnished by the commission.

SEC. 8. Section two thousand one hundred eighty of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Monthly rate for insane at hospitals.

2180. The monthly rate for the care, support, and maintenance of all insane patients at state hospitals for the insane, where there is liability to pay for such care, support, and maintenance, shall be twenty dollars per month payable in advance; provided, however, the medical superintendent of a state hospital for the insane shall, on the order of the commission, reduce or remit the amount to be paid by the estate or the relatives, as the case may be, liable for the care, support, and maintenance of any insane person committed thereto and confined therein, on satisfactory proof that said estate or said relatives, as the case may be, are unable to pay the said sum of twenty dollars per month. If any insane person die at any time, while his estate is liable for his care, support, and maintenance and other expenses at a state hospital, the claim for such amount as may be due, may be presented to the executor or administrator of his estate and paid in the same manner as are other debts and claims against the estate of a deceased person.

SEC. 9. Section two thousand one hundred eighty-one of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2181. If said insane person has sufficient estate for the purpose, it shall be the duty of the guardian of his estate to pay for his care, support, maintenance and necessary expenses at the hospital to the extent of the estate. Payment for said care, support, maintenance and expenses may be enforced by the order of the judge of the superior court where said guardianship proceedings are pending. On the filing of a petition therein by the secretary of the commission, showing that said guardian has failed, refused or neglected to pay for said care, support, maintenance and expenses, the court, by order, shall direct the payment by the guardian. Such order may be enforced in the same manner as are other orders of the court. If there is not at any time sufficient money on hand in the estate of said insane person to pay the claim of a state hospital for the care, support, maintenance and expenses of said insane person therein, the court may, on petition of the guardian of the estate, or if said guardian fails, refuses or neglects to apply, on the petition of the secretary of the commission, make an order directing the guardian to sell so much of the other personal or real estate or both, of said insane person as may be necessary to pay for the care, support, maintenance, and expenses of said insane person at said hospital. From the proceeds of such sale, the guardian shall pay the amount due for the care, support, maintenance, and expenses at said hospital, and also such other charges as are allowed by law; provided, however, payment for the care, support, maintenance, and expenses of any insane person at a state hospital shall not be exacted when such payment will, in any case, where there is a likelihood of such insane person recovering or being released from said hospital, reduce his estate to that extent, in the event of his discharge from the hospital, he is likely to become a burden on the community; but if a certificate from the medical superintendent of the state hospital in which such insane person is confined as a patient is filed in the office of the county clerk with the papers in the guardianship proceedings of such patient, in which certificate said medical superintendent shall state that said patient is suffering from a chronic form of insanity, and that in his opinion a recovery is beyond reasonable hope and that said patient will in all probability continue to be a charge in a state hospital until death, such certificate shall be prima facie evidence that said patient is not likely to recover or to be released from said hospital, and said guardian shall pay the amount due for the care, support, maintenance and expenses at said hospital and such other charges as are allowed by law out of any moneys of said estate in his possession.

SEC. 10. Section two thousand one hundred ninety-one of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Return of issue persons to other state or county.

2191. It shall be the duty of the commission to cooperate with the United States Bureau of Immigration in arranging for the deportation of all alien public charges who are now confined in or may be hereafter admitted or committed to any state hospital.

The commission shall also return all nonresident public charges, who are now confined in or who may be hereafter admitted or committed to any state hospital, to the state or states in which they may have a legal residence. For the purpose of facilitating the return of such persons the said commission may enter into reciprocal agreements with the proper boards, commissions, or officers of other states for the mutual exchange of such public charges now confined in or hereafter admitted or committed to any state hospital in one state whose legal residence is in the other, and it is authorized and empowered to give written permission for the return of any resident or residents of California now confined in a public institution in another state, corresponding to any institution coming within the definition of state hospitals for the insane.

Who are residents
of state.

A person shall be deemed to be a resident of this state within the meaning of this act who shall have lived continuously in the state for a period of one year and who has not acquired a residence in another state by living continuously therein for at least one year subsequent to his residence in this state; provided, however, that the time spent in a public institution or on parole therefrom shall not be counted in determining the matter of residence in this or another state.

Expenses.

All expenses incurred in returning such persons to another state shall be paid by the State of California, but the expense of returning residents of this state shall be borne by the state making the return.

The cost and expense incurred in effecting the transportation of such persons shall be paid from the funds appropriated for that purpose, or from the money appropriated for the care of the insane or incompetent, as may be necessary, upon vouchers approved by the state board of control.

SEC. 11. Section two thousand one hundred ninety-two of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Petition to commit imbecile, etc., to home.

2192. Whenever any parent, guardian, or other person charged with the support of an imbecile or feeble-minded person, or any idiot, or epileptic who is not insane, desires him to be admitted into the home for feeble-minded, he may petition the superior court of the county in which he resides, for an order admitting such person to such hospital. The judge must inquire into the condition or status of such person, and if he finds him to be an imbecile, feeble-minded person, idiot or epileptic, and that he has been a resident of the state for one year next preceding the presentation of the petition, such judge must make an order that he be received, maintained, and educated in such hospital. and on the presentation of such order the superintendent must receive him therein, if the hospital is not already full, or the fund available for its support exhausted; but the imbecile, feeble-minded person, idiot, or epileptic, need not be received if, in the judgment of the management of the hospital or the commission, he is not a suitable subject for admission thereto. The judge must inquire into the financial condition of the parent, guardian, or other person charged with the support of any such person, and if he finds him able, in whole or in part, to pay its expenses at such hospital, he must make a further order requiring such parent, guardian, or other person charged with the support of such person to pay to the hospital at stated periods such sums as, in the opinion of the judge, are proper during such time as the person may remain in such hospital. This order may be enforced by such further orders as the judge deems necessary, and may be varied, altered, or revoked in his discretion, and the board of managers may, with the approval of the commission, cause the peremptory discharge of any person who has been an inmate or patient for the period of one month. For each child or other person committed to such home there shall be paid by the county from which he is committed to the state treasury the sum of twenty dollars monthly for and during each month, or part of month, such person so committed remains an inmate of the hospital, in case the payments herein provided to be made by the parent, guardian, or other person charged with the support of any such person shall not be made.

SEC. 12. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered two thousand one hundred forty-one a, and to read as follows:

2141*a*. The commission and each member thereof and its secretary shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding in any part of the state. Each witness who shall appear by order of the commission or a member thereof, or its secretary, shall be entitled to receive, if demanded, for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed, unless otherwise ordered by the commission. When any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party is subpoenaed by the commission, his fees and mileage may be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission in the same manner as other expenses of the commission are paid. Any witness subpoenaed, except one whose fees and mileage may be paid from the funds of the commission, may, at the time of service, demand the fee for which he is entitled for travel to and from the place at which he is required to appear, and one day's attendance. If such witness demands such fees at the time of service and they are not at that time paid or tendered, he shall not be required to attend before the commission, member thereof, or its secretary, as directed in the subpoena. All fees or mileage to which any witness is entitled under the provisions of this section may be collected by action therefor instituted by the person to whom such fees are payable. The superior court in and for the county or city and county in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held by the commission or any member thereof, or its secretary, shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, including books, accounts and documents, as required by any subpoena issued by the commission, or member thereof, or its secretary. The commission, or the member thereof, or its secretary, before whom the testimony is to be given or produced, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, may report to the superior court in and for the county or city and county in which the proceeding is pending by petition setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been subpoenaed in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such proceeding, and ask an order of said court compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission or member thereof, or its secretary. The court upon the petition of the commission or such member thereof, or its secretary, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court, at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he had not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission, member thereof, or its secretary. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission, or member thereof, or its secretary, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission, or member thereof, or its secretary, at a time and place to be fixed in such order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. The remedy provided for in this section is cumulative and shall not be construed to impair or interfere with the power of the commission, or a member thereof, or its secretary, to enforce the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers and to punish for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of record.

If witness refuses to attend.

SEC. 13. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered two thousand one hundred seventy-eight a, and to read as follows:

2178*a*. The commission shall prepare, have printed and furnish each county clerk of the state with uniform blank forms upon which to report to the commission the filing of a petition for letters of guardianship of any insane or incompetent person, the name and address of the incompetent person, and the name and address of the petitioner, and the name and address of his attorney, and the time and place fixed for hearing the petition. And the county clerk in each county in which a petition for letters of guardianship of an insane or incompetent person is filed, on the filing of such petition with the county clerk, shall report to the secretary of the commission the name of the insane or incompetent person, the name and address of the petitioner and his attorney, and the time and place fixed for the hearing of said petition, upon the forms furnished by the commission. Blank forms.

SEC. 14. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered two thousand one hundred eighty-one b, and to read as follows:

2181*b*. The guardian of the estate of an insane person who is confined in a state hospital may, from time to time, pay to the state hospital moneys out of such estate to be used for the future personal needs of such insane person while in a state hospital and for burial expenses, such sums so paid to be credited to the patient's personal deposit account. Payments by guardian.

CHAPTER 772.

An act defining corporations for the purpose of engaging in international or foreign banking or other international or foreign financial operations or in banking or other financial operations in a dependency or insular possession of the United States, either directly or through the agency, ownership or control of local institutions in foreign countries, or in such dependencies or insular possessions and to act when required by the secretary of the treasury of the United States as fiscal agents of the United States; providing for the incorporation, powers and supervision of such corporations, and providing for the licensing by the superintendent of banks of foreign corporations to transact in this state the business of a corporation defined and organized by this act.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. When authorized by the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks as provided by section one twenty-seven of the "bank act" of California three or more persons may organize a corporation for the purpose of engag- International or foreign banking corporations.

ing in international or foreign banking or other international or foreign financial operations, or in banking or other financial operations in a dependency or insular possession of the United States, either directly or through the agency, ownership, or control of local institutions in foreign countries, or in such dependencies or insular possessions as provided by this act, and to act when required by the secretary of the treasury of the United States as fiscal agents of the United States.

Articles of incorporation.

Such persons shall execute articles of incorporation which shall specify in general terms the objects for which the association is formed and may contain any other provisions not inconsistent with law which the corporation may see fit to adopt for the regulation of its business and the conduct of its affairs.

Organization
certificate.

Such articles of incorporation shall be signed by all of the persons intending to participate in the organization of the corporation and, thereafter, shall be forwarded to the superintendent of banks and shall be filed and preserved in his office. The persons signing the said articles of incorporation shall, under their hands, make an organization certificate which shall specifically state:

First—The name assumed by such corporation, which shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of banks.

Second—The place or places where its operations are to be carried on.

Third—The place in the State of California where its main office is to be located.

Fourth—The amount of its capital stock and the number of shares into which the same shall be divided.

Fifth—The names and places of business or residence of the persons executing the certificate and the number of shares to which each has subscribed.

Sixth—The fact that the certificate is made to enable the persons subscribing the same, and all other persons, firms, companies, and corporations, who or which may thereafter subscribe to or purchase shares of the capital stock of such corporation, to avail themselves of the advantages of this act.

Powers of corporation.

Each corporation so organized shall have power, under such rules and regulations as the superintendent of banks may prescribe:

Purchase
notes, securities,
etc.

(a) To purchase, sell, discount, and negotiate, with or without its indorsement or guaranty, notes, drafts, checks, bills of exchange, acceptances, including bankers' acceptances, cable transfers, and other evidences of indebtedness; to purchase and sell, with or without its indorsement or guaranty, securities, including the obligations of the United States or of any state thereof but not including shares of stock in any corporation except as herein provided; to accept bills or drafts drawn upon it subject to such limitations and restrictions as the superintendent of banks may impose; to issue letters of credit; to purchase and sell coin, bullion, and exchange; to borrow and to lend money; to issue debentures, bonds, and promissory notes under such general conditions as to security and such limitations as the superintendent of banks may prescribe, but in no event having liabilities outstanding thereon at any one time exceeding ten times its capital stock and surplus; to receive deposits outside of the United States and to receive only such deposits in this state or in any other state of the United States as may be incidental to or for the purpose of carrying out transactions in foreign countries or dependencies or insular possessions of the United States; and generally to exercise such powers as are incidental to the powers conferred by this act or as may be usual, in the determination of the superintendent of banks, in connection with the transaction of the business of banking or other financial operations in the countries, colonies, dependencies, or possessions in which it shall transact business and not inconsistent with the power specifically granted herein. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to prohibit the superintendent of banks, under his power to prescribe rules and regulations, from limiting the aggregate amount of liabilities of any or all classes incurred by the corporation and outstanding at any one time. Whenever a corporation organized under this section receives deposits in the United States authorized by this act it shall carry reserves in such amounts as the superintendent of banks may prescribe, but in no event less than 10 per centum of its deposits.

(b) To establish and maintain for the transaction of its business branches or agencies in foreign countries, their dependencies or colonies, and in any state of the United States, and in the dependencies or insular possessions of the United States, at such places as may be approved by the superintendent of banks and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, including any state of the United States, or countries or dependencies not specified in the original organization certificate. Establish branches.

(c) With the consent of the superintendent of banks to purchase and hold stock or other certificates of ownership in any other corporation organized under the provisions of this act, or under the laws of any foreign country or a colony or dependency thereof, or under the laws of any state, dependency or insular possession of the United States but not engaged in the general business of buying or selling goods, wares, merchandise, or commodities in the United States, and not transacting any business in the United States except such as in the judgment of the superintendent of banks may be incidental to its international or foreign business: provided, however, that, except with the approval of the superintendent of banks, no corporation organized hereunder shall invest in any one corporation an amount in excess of 10 per centum of its own capital and surplus, except in a corporation engaged in the business of banking, when 15 per centum of its capital and surplus may be so invested: provided, further, that no corporation organized hereunder shall purchase, own, or hold stock or certificates of Purchase stock of other corporations.
Limitation.

ownership in any other corporation organized hereunder or under the laws of any state which is in substantial competition therewith, or which holds stock or certificates of ownership in corporations which are in substantial competition with the purchasing corporation.

Nothing contained herein shall prevent corporations organized hereunder from purchasing and holding stock in any corporation where such purchase shall be necessary to prevent a loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith; and stock so purchased or acquired in corporations organized under this act shall within six months from such purchase be sold or disposed of at public or private sale unless the time to so dispose of same is extended by the superintendent of banks as provided by section thirty-seven of the "bank act" of California.

No business
in U. S.

No corporation organized under this act shall carry on any part of its business in the United States except such as, in the judgment of the superintendent of banks, shall be incidental to its international or foreign business; and provided, further, that except such as is incidental and preliminary to its organization no such corporation shall exercise any of the powers conferred by this act until it has been duly authorized by the superintendent of banks to commence business as a corporation organized under the Civil Code of California and the provisions of this act.

Not to fix price of commodities.

No corporation organized under this act shall engage in commerce or trade in commodities except as specifically provided in this section, nor shall it either directly or indirectly control or fix or attempt to control or fix the price of any such commodities. The license of any corporation violating this provision shall be subject to forfeiture in the manner hereinafter provided in this act. It shall be unlawful for any director, officer, agent, or employee of any such corporation to use or to conspire to use the credit, the funds, or the power of the corporation to fix or control the price of any such commodities, and any such person violating this provision shall be liable to a fine of not less than one thousand dollars and not exceeding five thousand dollars or imprisonment not less than one year and not exceeding five years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Capital stock.

No corporation shall be organized under the provisions of this act with a capital stock of less than two million dollars, one-quarter of which must be paid in before the corporation may be authorized to begin business, and the remainder of the capital stock of such corporation shall be paid in installments of at least ten per centum of the whole amount to which the corporation shall be limited as frequently as one installment at the end of each succeeding two months from the time of the commencement of its business operations until the whole of the capital stock shall be paid in. The right of every corporation organized under the provisions of this act to increase or decrease its capital stock, to change the number of its directors, to amend its articles of incorporation, to change its principal place of business, or its name, to extend its corporate existence, or to effect any other organic change shall be governed by the general corporation laws of this state and by the "bank act," and the procedure to effect any such change shall be that defined by the general corporation laws and the "bank act." Any bank may invest in the stock of any corporation organized under the provisions of this act, but the aggregate amount of stock held in all corporations engaged in business of the kind described in this act and in section fifty-eight of the "bank act" of California as amended shall not exceed ten per centum of the subscribing bank's capital and surplus.

- A majority of the shares of the capital stock of any such corporation shall at all times be held and owned by citizens of the United States, by corporations the controlling interest in which is owned by citizens of the United States, chartered under the laws of the United States or of a state of the United States, or by firms or companies, the controlling interest in which is owned by citizens of the United States.

Ownership
by U. S. citizens.

Whenever it shall appear to the superintendent of banks that any corporation organized under the provisions of this act has violated the provisions of its articles of incorporation or any law of this state, or is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, or if the capital of any such corporation is impaired, or if any such corporation shall refuse to submit its books, papers and concerns to the inspection of any examiner of the state banking department of California or if any officer thereof shall refuse to be examined upon oath touching the concerns of any such corporation or if any such corporation shall suspend payment of its obligations, or if from any examination or report provided for by this act the superintendent of banks shall have reason to conclude that such corporation is in an unsound or unsafe condition to transact the business for which it is organized, or that it is unsafe and inexpedient for it to continue business, or if any such corporation shall neglect or refuse to observe any order of the superintendent of banks specified in sections one hundred thirty-three or one hundred thirty-four of the "bank act" of California, the superintendent of banks may forthwith take possession of the property and business of such corporation and retain such possession until such corporation shall resume business, or its affairs be finally liquidated as provided by law for the liquidation of banks.

Superintendent
of banks to take possession
when.

No corporation organized under the provisions of this act shall deposit any of its funds with any other moneyed corporation unless such other corporation has been nominated and designated as such depository as provided by section forty-three of the "bank act" of California; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to the deposit of funds by such corporation with another moneyed corporation, which owns all or a majority of the capital stock of such corporation.

Deposit of funds.

Not to own its own stock

No corporation provided hereunder shall be the holder of any shares of its own capital stock unless such stock shall have been taken to prevent loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith, and stock so acquired shall, within six months from the time of its acquisition, be sold or disposed of at public or private sale; nor shall it, either directly or indirectly, make any discount to any person for the purpose of enabling him to pay for or hold shares of its stock either subscribed for or purchased by him. Any corporation organized under the provisions of this act making any such discount shall forfeit to the people of the state twice the amount of such discount.

True entry of assets.

No corporation organized under the provisions of this act shall by any system of accounting or any device of bookkeeping, directly or indirectly enter any of its assets upon its books in the name of any other individual, partnership, unincorporated association or corporation, or under any title or designation that is not truly descriptive thereof.

Methods of keeping books.

Every corporation organized hereunder shall conform its methods of keeping its books and records to such orders in respect thereto as shall have been made and promulgated by the superintendent of banks. Any corporation organized hereunder that refuses or neglects to obey such order shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each day it so refuses or neglects.

Communications from superintendent of banks.

Each official communication directed by the superintendent of banks to a corporation organized under the provisions of this act or to any officer thereof, relating to an examination or investigation conducted by the state banking department or containing suggestions or recommendations as to the conduct of the business of such corporation, shall be submitted by the officer receiving it, to the board of directors at the next meeting of such board, and duly noted in the minutes of the meetings of such board.

Annual
report.

On or before the first day of February in each year, each corporation organized under the provisions of this act and every foreign corporation licensed by the superintendent of banks to transact the business of such a corporation in this state, shall make a written report to the superintendent of banks which shall contain a statement of its condition on the morning of the first day of January in said year and shall be in the form and contain the matters prescribed by the superintendent of banks. The superintendent of banks may, however, in his discretion, accept from a corporation organized hereunder, which has branches in a foreign country or countries, a report containing a statement of its condition as of a date not later than the first day of January and not earlier than the first day of November in the preceding year. Every such report shall be verified by the oaths of the two principal officers in charge of the affairs of such corporation organized under the provisions of this act or foreign corporation at the time of such verification, which shall state that the report is true and correct in all respects to the best of the knowledge and belief of the persons verifying it, and that the usual business of such corporation or foreign corporation has been transacted at the location required by this act and not elsewhere.

Every such corporation organized hereunder and foreign corporation shall also make such other special reports to the superintendent of banks as he may from time to time require, which shall be in such form and filed at such date as may be prescribed by the superintendent of banks and shall, if required by him, be verified in such manner as he may prescribe. Special reports.

If any such corporation organized hereunder or foreign corporation shall fail to make any report required by this act on or before the day designated for the making thereof, or shall fail to include therein any matter required by the superintendent of banks, it shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of one hundred dollars for every day that such report shall be delayed or withheld, and for every day that it shall fail to report any such omitted matter, unless the time therefor shall have been extended by the superintendent of banks. Penalty for failure to make report.

Every corporation organized under the provisions of this act shall hold a meeting of its stockholders annually upon a date fixed in its by-laws, such meeting to be held at its main office in this state. Every such corporation shall keep at its main office books containing the names of all stockholders thereof, and the names and addresses of the members of its board of directors, together with copies of all reports made by it to the superintendent of banks. Every such corporation shall make reports to the superintendent of banks at such times and in such form as he may require; and shall be subject to examination once a year and at such other times as may be deemed necessary by the superintendent of banks by examiners appointed by him, the cost of such examinations to be fixed by the superintendent of banks and to be paid by the corporation examined. Annual meeting of stockholders.

The directors of any corporation organized under the provisions of this act may, semiannually, declare a dividend of so much of the net profits of the corporation as they shall judge expedient; but each corporation shall, before the declaration of a dividend, carry one-tenth of its net profits of the preceding half year to its surplus fund until the same shall amount to twenty per centum of its capital stock. Dividends.

No officer, director, clerk or other employec of any corporation organized under the provisions of this act, and no person in any way interested or concerned in the management of its affairs, shall as individuals discount, or directly or indirectly, make any loan upon any note or other evidence of debt, which he shall know to have been offered for discount to such corporation, and to have been refused. Every person violating the provisions of this subdivision, shall, for each offense, forfeit to the people of the state twice the amount of the loan which he shall have made. Limitations on officers and employees.

No officer, director, clerk or other employee of any corporation organized under the provisions of this act shall borrow, directly or indirectly, from such corporation any sum of money without the written approval of a majority of the board of directors thereof filed in the office of such corporation or embodied in a resolution adopted by a majority vote of such board exclusive of the director to whom the loan is made. If an officer, director, clerk or other employee of any such corporation shall own or control a majority of the stock of any other corporation a loan to that corporation shall be considered as a loan to such officer, director, clerk or other employee. Every person violating this provision shall, for each offense, forfeit to the people of the state twice the amount which he shall have borrowed.

Penalty for embezzlement, etc.

Every officer, director, clerk, employee, or agent of any corporation organized under this act who embezzles, abstracts, or wilfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds, credits, securities, evidence of indebtedness or assets of any character of such corporation; or who, without authority from the directors, issues or puts forth any certificate of deposit, draws any order or bill of exchange, makes any acceptance, assigns any note, bond, debenture, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, or decree; or who makes any false entry in any book, report, or statement of such corporation with intent, in either case, to injure or defraud such corporation or any other company, body politic or corporate, or any individual person, or to deceive any officer of such corporation, the superintendent of banks, or any agent or examiner appointed to examine the affairs of any such corporation; and every receiver of any such corporation and every clerk or employee of such receiver who shall embezzle, abstract, or wilfully misapply or wrongfully convert to his own use any moneys, funds, credits, or assets of any character which may come into his possession or under his control in the execution of his trust or the performance of the duties of his employment; and every such receiver or clerk or employee of such receiver who shall, with intent to injure or defraud any person, body politic or corporate, or to deceive or mislead the superintendent of banks or any agent or examiner appointed to examine the affairs of such receiver, shall make any false entry in any book, report, or record of any matter connected with the duties of such receiver; and every person who with like intent aids or abets any officer, director, clerk, employee, or agent of any corporation organized under this act, or receiver or clerk or employee of such receiver as aforesaid in any violation of this act, shall upon conviction thereof be imprisoned for not less than two years nor more than ten years, and may also be fined not more than five thousand dollars, in the discretion of the court.

Penalty for misrepresenting liability of state.

Whoever being connected in any capacity with any corporation organized under this section represents in any way that the State of California is liable for the payment of any bond or other obligation, or the interest thereon, issued or incurred by any corporation organized hereunder, or that the State of California incurs any liability in respect of any act or omission of the corporation, shall be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars and by imprisonment for not more than five years.

No person shall act in this state as the representative of any foreign corporation in transacting the business described in this act as the business of a corporation organized hereunder unless such corporation shall have complied with the provisions of this act relating to such corporations.

Every foreign corporation before being licensed by the superintendent of banks to transact in this state the business of a corporation defined and organized hereunder, or any part thereof, shall subscribe and acknowledge and submit to the superintendent of banks at his office, an application certificate in duplicate, which shall specifically state:

1. The name of such foreign corporation.
2. The place where its business is to be transacted in this state.
3. The amount of its capital stock actually paid in cash and the amount subscribed for and unpaid.

4. A complete and detailed statement of its financial condition as of a date within sixty days prior to the date of such application certificate.

At the time such application certificate is first submitted to the superintendent of banks, such corporation shall also submit a duly authenticated copy of its charter, or articles of incorporation and its by-laws.

No foreign corporation shall transact in this state the business defined in this act or any part thereof, unless such corporation shall have

1. Been authorized by its charter to carry on such business and shall have complied with the laws of the state or country under which it is incorporated;
2. Made the deposit with the state treasurer of the State of California hereinafter in this section required;
3. Designated the superintendent of banks, by an instrument in writing duly executed, its true and lawful attorney upon whom all process in any action or proceeding by any resident of the state against it may be served with the same effect as if it were a domestic corporation and had been lawfully served with process within the state;
4. Received a license duly issued to it by the superintendent of banks.

When the superintendent of banks shall have issued a license to any such foreign corporation, it may engage in the business of a corporation of the kind authorized by this act at the location specified in such license.

Every such foreign corporation, before receiving a license to transact business in this state, shall deposit with the state treasurer of the State of California upon authorization of the superintendent of banks in trust as security for the depositors with and creditors of such corporation in this state, lawful money of the United States or securities of the kind and character described in section ninety-six of the "bank act" of California, of the value of one hundred thousand dollars. Such foreign corporation so long as it shall continue solvent and comply with the laws of this state, may be permitted by the superintendent of banks to collect the interest on the securities so deposited and from time to time to exchange such securities for others, as provided by section ninety-six of the "bank act" of California, and may examine and compare such securities, as provided by section ninety-six of the "bank act" of California. Such foreign corporation shall pay for such license a fee of two hundred fifty dollars.

Statement giving name of representative.

Every foreign corporation, duly licensed by the superintendent of banks to transact in this state the business hereinabove defined and authorized, or any part thereof, shall within thirty days after the date of such license, submit to the superintendent of banks a statement verified by two of its principal officers, which shall contain the full name and business address of every individual, partnership or unincorporated association, who is acting or whom it proposes to have act as its agent or representative in this state. Whenever any such corporation shall engage any person to act for it in this state and the name and address of such person is not contained in such verified statement submitted to the superintendent of banks, such foreign corporation shall forthwith submit to the superintendent of banks an amended statement verified in the same manner as the original. A violation of this provision shall subject such foreign corporation to a forfeiture of one thousand dollars for each offense.

Rights cease on revocation of license.

Whenever the superintendent of banks shall have revoked this license of any such foreign corporation and shall have taken the action to make such revocation effective, all the rights and privileges of such foreign corporation to transact business in this state shall forthwith cease and determine.

An act to authorize and empower the board of directors of the California Polytechnic School to sell and convey certain real property situate in the county of San Luis Obispo, and belonging to the state.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Board of directors of California
Polytechnic School authorized to sell property.

SECTION 1. The board of directors of the California Polytechnic School are hereby authorized and empowered to sell and convey at public auction to the highest bidder, all or any portion of a certain piece of land situated, lying and being in the county of San Luis Obispo in the State of California, and particularly described as follows, to wit:

A triangular shaped tract of land of about one and one-quarter acres, being part of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section twenty-seven of said township thirty south, range twelve east, Mount Diablo meridian described as follows: Beginning at stake at northeast corner of said section twenty-seven and running thence on section line, south eight hundred eighteen feet to west line of Santa Rosa street; thence on said street line north twelve degrees thirty-five minutes west eight hundred thirty-eight and twelve hundredths feet to north line of said section twenty-seven; thence on section line east one hundred eighty-two and six tenths feet to the point of beginning containing one and seventy-one hundredths acres but subject to right of way for sixty foot public road across north end of said tract as per deed of C. H. Johnson to county of San Luis Obispo of January 6, 1914, recorded in volume one hundred of deeds at page one hundred fifty-seven in said recorder's office.

Subject, however, (1) to all rights of Jennie W. Johnson and Mary Florence Livingston therein appearing of record in the county recorder's office of said county, (2) to all easements and rights of way heretofore granted over the same, and (3) to the leases executed by said grantor for agricultural purposes to E. H. Meinecke, Richard Berry and H. P. Beck.

SEC. 2. A deed, duly executed by the president of said board shall be sufficient to convey the title of said property. The proceeds from the sale of the property enumerated in section one hereof shall be turned over by the directors of the California Polytechnic School to the state treasurer and be by him credited to the general fund in the state treasury.

CHAPTER 775.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act approving the report of the California debris commission transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, directing the approval of plans of reclamation along the Sacramento river or its tributaries or upon the swamp lands adjacent to said river, directing the state engineer to procure data and make surveys and examinations for the purpose of perfecting the plans contained in said report of the California debris commission and to make report thereof, making an appropriation to pay the expenses of such examinations and surveys, and creating a reclamation board and defining its powers," approved December 24, 1911, as amended by an act approved May 26, 1913, as further amended by an act approved June 9, 1915, and as further amended by an act approved May 27, 1919, by adding a new section thereto to be numbered section thirty-six relating to reapportionment of assessment when tracts of land may be divided into smaller parcels, providing for the giving of notice and the filing of lists of charges assessed against smaller parcels.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An act entitled "An act approving the report of the California debris commission transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, directing the approval of plans of reclamation along the Sacramento river or its tributaries or upon the swamp lands adjacent to said river, directing the state engineer to procure data and make surveys and examinations for the purpose of perfecting the plans contained in said report of the California debris commission and to make report thereof, making an appropriation to pay the expenses of such examinations and surveys, and creating a reclamation board and defining its powers," approved December 24, 1911, as amended by an act approved May 26, 1913, as further amended by an act approved June 9, 1915, and as further amended by an act approved May 27, 1919, is hereby amended by adding a new section thereto to be numbered section thirty-six, and to read as follows:

Sec. 36. Whenever any tract of land upon which an assessment shall have been made shall be subdivided into smaller parcels, the reclamation board shall at any time, after the list shall have been certified by the secretary of the board to be correct and deposited as provided in this act, have power to and shall reapportion the assessment or assessments upon such tract in such manner as will charge each of said smaller parcels with a just proportion of assessment or assessments made upon said tract so subdivided.

Apporportionment of assessments on subdivision of tract.

Application.

Whenever an application shall be made to the reclamation board for such reapportionment, the reclamation board shall reapportion the assessment upon such tract or tracts in such manner as in their judgment will charge each of said smaller tracts with a just proportion of the assessment made upon said tract so subdivided, but before such reapportionment shall become final, the reclamation board shall appoint a time when it will meet for the purpose of hearing objections to such reapportionment, and notice of such hearing shall be given by publication for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which such land or some portion thereof is situated. Such notice need not describe the lands with particularity, but it shall be sufficient to describe the tract or tracts of land subdivided as a tract or tracts assessed to the owner or owners giving his name or other names upon the assessment list. As many tracts may be embraced in one application as applicant is the owner of, or interested in.

Objections.

At the time appointed, or such other time to which the hearing may be postponed, or which may be appointed by the reclamation board, the board shall hear any objections that may be made to such reapportionment and shall approve, or modify, or alter such reapportionment in such manner as in their judgment will charge each of said smaller parcels with a just proportion of the assessment made upon the tract so subdivided and shall enter an order on its minutes accordingly. When such reapportionment shall have been made by the reclamation board, it shall deposit, in the office of the county treasurer of the county in which such land is situated, a list or lists of the charges assessed against each of said parcels, and said lists, after such filing with the county treasurer of said county, shall have the same effect as an original assessment. The filing of such lists shall be conclusive evidence that the requisite notice has been given, and that all acts required to be done before the filing of such lists have been duly done and performed, and the decision of the reclamation board shall be final and conclusive.

Expenses.

The expenses of publication and such other expenses as the reclamation board may order shall be borne and paid by the applicant.

CHAPTER 776.

An act to amend section seventeen of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization of the railroad commission, to define its powers and duties and the rights, remedies, powers and duties of public utilities and their officers, and the rights and remedies of patrons of public utilities, and to provide penalties for offenses by public utilities, their officers, agents and employces and by other persons and corporations, creating the 'railroad commission fund' and appropriating the moneys therein to carry out the provisions of this act, and repealing title fifteen of part four of division first of the Civil Code and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act," approved April 23, 1915.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section seventeen of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization of the railroad commission, to define its powers and duties and the rights, remedies, powers and duties of public utilities and their officers, and the rights and remedies of patrons of public utilities, and to provide penalties for offenses by public utilities, their officers, agents and employces and by other persons and corporations, creating the 'railroad commission fund' and appropriating the moneys therein to carry out the provisions of this act, and repealing title fifteen of part four of division first of the Civil Code and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act," approved April 23, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1919, p. 483, amended.

Sec. 17. (a) 1. No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall engage or participate in the transportation of persons or property, between points within this state, until its schedules of rates, fares, charges and classifications shall have been filed and published in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Filing of rates.

2. No common carrier shall charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for the transportation of persons or property, or for any service in connection therewith, than the rates, fares and charges applicable to such transportation as specified in its schedules filed and in effect at the time; nor shall any such carrier refund or remit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates, fares or charges so specified, except upon order of the commission as hereinafter provided, nor extend to any corporation or person any privilege or facility in the transportation of passengers or property except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons.

Different rates not to be charged.

Passes.

3. No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall, directly or indirectly, issue, give or tender any free ticket, free pass or free or reduced rate transportation for passengers between points within this state, except to its officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families; to ministers of religions, traveling secretaries of railroad men's religious associations, or executive officers, organizers or agents of railroad employees' mutual benefit associations giving the greater portion of their time to the work of any such association; inmates of hospitals or charitable or eleemosynary institutions, and persons exclusively engaged in charitable or eleemosynary work, and persons and property engaged or employed in educational work or scientific research or in patriotic work when permitted by the commission; to the executive officers of mercantile or promotion boards or bodies within this state when traveling in the performance of duties affecting the advancement of the business of such boards or bodies, or the development of trade or industry within or without this state, when authorized by the commission; to hotel employees of season resort hotels, when authorized by the commission to indigent, destitute and homeless persons and to such persons when transported by charitable societies or hospitals, and the necessary agents employed in such transportation; to inmates of the national homes or state homes for disabled volunteer soldiers and of soldiers' and sailors' homes, including those about to enter and those returning home after discharge; to necessary caretakers, going and returning, of live stock, poultry, milk, fruit and other freight, under uniform and nondiscriminatory regulations; to employees of sleeping-car corporations, express corporations and telegraph and telephone corporations; to railway mail service employees, United States internal revenue officers, post-office inspectors, customs officers and inspectors and immigration inspectors when traveling in the course of their official duty; to newsboys on trains, baggage agents, witnesses attending any legal investigation in which the carrier is interested, persons injured in accidents or wrecks and physicians and nurses attending such persons; provided, that the term

"Employees."

"employees," as used in this section, shall include furloughed, pensioned and superannuated employees, persons who have become disabled or infirm in the service of any such carrier, ex-employees traveling for the purpose of entering the service of any such carrier, and the remains of persons dying while of his family; nor to prohibit the issue of reduced rate transportation by a common carrier to children attending an institution of learning; nor to prohibit the issue of passes or franks by telegraph or telephone corporations to their officers, agents, employeés, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families, or the exchange of passes or franks between such telegraph and telephone corporations or between such corporations and such common carriers, for their officers, agents, employeés, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families; nor to prevent the carrying out of contracts for free or reduced rate passenger transportation heretofore made, founded upon adequate consideration and lawful when made; nor to prevent a common carrier from transporting, storing or handling, free or at reduced rates, the household goods and personal effects of its employeés, of persons entering or leaving its service, and of persons killed or dying while in its service.

Certain property may be carried free.

4. Every common carrier subject to the provisions of this act may transport, free or at reduced rates, persons or property for the United States, state, county or municipal governments, or for charitable purposes, or for patriotic purposes, or to provide relief in cases of general epidemic, pestilence or other calamitous visitation, and property to or from fairs or expositions for exhibit thereat; also contractors and their employeés, material or supplies for use or engaged in carrying out their contracts with said carriers, for construction, operation or maintenance work or work incidental thereto on the line of the issuing carrier, to the extent only that such free or reduced-rate transportation is provided for in the specifications upon which the contract is based and in the contract itself. Common carriers may also enter into contracts with telegraph and telephone corporations for an exchange of service.

Rebates prohibited.

(b) Except as in this section otherwise provided, no public utility shall charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for any product or commodity furnished or to be furnished, or for any service rendered or to be rendered, than the rates, tolls, rentals and charges applicable to such product or commodity or service as specified in its schedules on file and in effect at the time, nor shall any public utility engaged in furnishing or rendering more than one product, commodity or service, charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less, or different compensation for the collective, combined or contemporaneous furnishing or rendition of two or more of such products, commodities or services, than the aggregate of the rates, tolls, rentals or charges specified in its schedules on file and in effect at the time, applicable to each such product, commodity or service when separately furnished or rendered, nor shall any such public utility refund or remit, directly or indirectly, in any manner or by any device, any portion of the rates, tolls, rentals and charges so specified, nor extend to any corporation or person any form of contract or agreement or any rule or regulation or any facility or privilege except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons; provided, that the commission may by rule or order establish such exceptions from the operation of this prohibition as it may consider just and reasonable as to each public utility.

CHAPTER 777.

An act to add a new section to be known as nine a nineteen to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled, "An act to provide county library systems," approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act, approved February 25, 1911, as amended, said section relating to salaries of county librarians.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing an act entitled, "An act to provide county library systems, approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 25, 1911, as amended, to be numbered section nine a nineteen, and to read as follows:

Sec. 9a19. In counties of the nineteenth class, the salary of the county librarian shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum.

Counties of 19th class, salary of librarian.

An act to amend section six hundred forty-one of the Civil Code, relating to guarantee stock surplus of building and loan associations.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred forty-one of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

641. Profits and losses shall be apportioned to all shares in each class at the time of such apportionment, according to the actual or book value thereof. If the guarantee capital herein provided for if any there be, together with the reserve fund, or if the reserve fund, where there be no guarantee capital, shall not equal five per cent of the outstanding loans at the time of each apportionment of profits, the directors shall set aside, as a reserve fund, not less than five per cent of the net profits accruing since the last prior apportionment, and shall continue so to do until said fund shall amount to at least five per cent of the loans in force, at which figure said fund shall thereafter be maintained. Said reserve fund shall at all times be available to meet losses arising from any source not heretofore provided to be assumed by the guarantee capital. Every such corporation having a paid-in guarantee capital stock, may provide in their by-laws, that an amount not exceeding one per cent per annum on the average loans in force, shall be set aside from and out of the net profits, at each annual distribution thereof, or a proportionate amount at each semi-annual distribution, from which to declare dividends on and provide a reserve fund that shall be specially applicable thereto. At least one-tenth of the amount so set aside shall be carried to such reserve fund until the same shall amount to at least twenty-five per cent of the paid-in guarantee stock; provided, however, that no guarantee stock association with stock and reserve equalling the amount required by law need maintain a reserve in excess of fifty thousand dollars.

CHAPTER 779.

An act to amend sections seven hundred eighteen and seven hundred nineteen of the Political Code, relating to the employees of the superintendent of capitol building and grounds.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section seven hundred eighteen of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

718. The superintendent of capitol building and grounds may appoint one deputy or clerk who shall be a civil executive officer. He may appoint one engineer, one fireman, one electrician, one typewriter and key expert, two elevator attendants, three telephone operators, and may employ such other assistants of each as may be necessary for emergencies and during sessions of the legislature. He may appoint one captain of police and eleven regular policemen and such other policemen as may be necessary for emergencies, who shall have the power of police officers and the same power of arrest as is herein given the superintendent. He may appoint one head porter and such other porters as may be necessary for the proper care of the building. He may appoint one head gardener, one assistant head gardener and one general mechanic, and such other assistant gardeners as are necessary for the proper care and maintenance of the capitol building and grounds. All such assistant gardeners and regular laborers, porters, appointees and employees shall have the power of peace officers. The number of such gardeners, porters, laborers and other employees, where not herein specifically mentioned, shall be such as are deemed necessary by the superintendent of the board of control, and the compensation of all employees, shall be fixed by the superintendent by and with the consent of the board of control.

SEC. 2. Section seven hundred nineteen of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

719. The salary of the electrician shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per year, the captain of police, one thousand nine hundred twenty dollars per year, the head gardener two thousand one hundred dollars per year, the head porter one thousand three hundred twenty dollars per year, the deputy or clerk two thousand one hundred dollars per year.

CHAPTER 780.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909, as amended, designated the "bank act," by amending sections one, five, thirteen, fifteen, seventeen, nineteen, twenty-one a, twenty-three, twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-eight, thirty-one, thirty-seven, forty-eight a, fifty-six a, fifty-eight, sixty, sixty-one, sixty-one a, sixty-five, sixty-seven, sixty-eight, eighty, eighty-two, eighty-three, ninety, ninety-two, one hundred one and one hundred thirty-nine thereof and by adding new sections thereto to be numbered sections fifteen a, twenty-one b, twenty-four a, thirty-one b, fifty-six b, and fifty-seven a, all relating to the definition and regulation of the business of banking.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to define and regulate the business of banking" approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1915, p. 1104, amended.

Section 1. This act shall be known as the "bank act," Title of act. and shall be applicable to all corporations specified in the next section and to such other corporations as shall subject themselves to special provisions and sections thereof, and to such other persons, associations, copartnerships or corporations who shall, by violating any of its provisions, become subject to the penalties provided therein.

Commercial
bank.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. The term "commercial bank" when used in this act, means any bank authorized by law to receive deposits of money, deal in commercial paper or to make loans thereon, and to lend money on real or personal property, and to discount bills, notes or other commercial paper, and to buy and sell and advertise for purchase or sale such securities as are permissible for investment by commercial banks, gold and silver bullion, or foreign coins or bills of exchange; provided, any commercial bank located and doing business in any place the population of which does not exceed five thousand persons, as shown by the last preceding federal census, or any subsequent census compiled and certified under any law of this state, may, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the superintendent of banks, act as the agent for any fire, life, or other insurance company authorized by the authorities of the State of California to do business in this state, by soliciting and selling insurance and collecting premiums on policies issued by such company; and may receive for services so rendered such fees or commissions as may be agreed upon between the said bank and the insurance company for which it may act as agent; and may also act as the broker or agent for others in making or procuring loans on real estate located within one hundred miles of the place in which said bank may be located, receiving for such services a reasonable fee or commission; provided, however, that no such bank shall in any case guarantee either the principal or interest of any such loans or assume or guarantee the payment of any premium on insurance policies issued through its agency by its principal; and provided, further, that said bank shall not guarantee the truth of any statement made by an assured in filing his application for insurance.

Transmitting money to foreign countries.

SEC. 3. Section thirteen of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 13. No person, firm or corporation, except banks and duly incorporated and qualified railroad, steamship and express companies, or general travel and tourist copartnerships and corporations that are in actual international operation, shall engage in this state in the business of receiving money for the purpose of transmitting the same, or the equivalent thereof, to foreign countries. Every such company shall, within thirty days after the date this section goes into effect, and thereafter on or before the first day of January and the first day of July in each year file with the superintendent of banks a certificate specifying each place in this state where such company maintains its own office where money is or will be received for transmission to foreign countries, and the person or persons in such office authorized to receive money for such purpose; and shall, also within thirty days after this act goes into effect file with the superintendent of banks a certificate specifying the name and business address of every person, not regularly employed by it in its own office, who is authorized to receive money for the purpose of transmitting the same, or the equivalent thereof, to foreign countries; and each person specified in such certificates shall be the designated agent of the company making the certificate for all purposes connected with or incident to the receipt and transmission of money or its equivalent to foreign countries.

Whenever any such agent who is not regularly employed by any such company in its own office is replaced, or an additional agent, who is not so employed by any such company, is authorized to receive money for the purpose of transmitting same, or the equivalent thereof as aforesaid, notice of such fact and of the name of the person replacing the original agent, or the name of such additional agent, shall be certified forthwith to the superintendent of banks; and such person shall thenceforth be the designated agent of such company aforesaid until notice of the termination of such agency is filed with the superintendent of banks. The deposit hereinafter required shall be in addition to and not in lieu of the primary liability of any such company for the acts of its designated agents.

Notice of change of agent.

At the time of filing the certificate first herein required, and before any agent of any such company is authorized to transact any business hereunder, the company filing such certificate shall deposit with the treasurer of state, upon authorization of the superintendent of banks in the manner provided by section ninety-six of this act, the sum of fifty thousand dollars in lawful money of the United States, or in the securities specified in section ninety-six of this act; in case such deposit is in securities, the company making the same shall have the privilege of withdrawal, substitution and collection of interest provided in said section; or in lieu thereof such company shall execute and deliver to the superintendent of banks, who shall deposit it with the treasurer of state, a bond or other surety acceptable to the superintendent of banks in the sum of fifty thousand dollars to cover money received by any and all its agents in this state for the purpose of transmission to foreign countries; such bond or other surety to be conditioned upon the faithful holding and transmission of money, or the equivalent thereof, which shall be delivered to or deposited with any such agent for transmission to a foreign country, for the benefit of such persons as shall deliver to or deposit money with any such agent of such company for such purpose. Such bond shall be executed by such company with a corporate surety company, acceptable to the superintendent of banks, as surety. Such moneys or securities deposited with the treasurer of state and the money which in case of default shall be paid on such bond or other surety shall constitute a trust fund for the benefit of such persons as shall deliver to or deposit with any such designated agent of such company money for transmission to foreign countries as aforesaid; suit to recover on any such bond or other surety may be brought by or upon the relation of any party aggrieved, in a court of competent jurisdiction of any county in which such company has an agent; and service of summons on any agent of such company shall be sufficient. All moneys received for transmission to a foreign country by a railroad, steamship or express company shall be forwarded to the person to whom the same is directed to be transmitted within ten days after the receipt thereof. The receipt given by any such company by its agent or agents, for deposits of money received for transmission to a foreign country shall be on a form or forms certified copies of which have first been filed with the superintendent of banks; in case of use by any such company of a form or forms for this purpose certified copies of which have not been filed with the superintendent of banks, whether the use of such receipts is authorized or not, shall not relieve such company of its liability for the acts of such agent hereunder and such company shall be subject to a penalty of fifty dollars for every such violation.

Forms.

Examination.

Every agent of any such company not regularly employed in its own office shall be subject to inspection and examination by the superintendent of banks in order to ascertain that such business is being lawfully conducted, and that all moneys received are properly accounted for; for which purpose the superintendent of banks may also prescribe the manner and form of keeping the books and accounts of such agent.

Expenses
of examination.

Whenever the superintendent of banks upon his own determination makes an examination of any such agent transacting or about to transact business under the provisions of this section, the expenses thereof shall be paid by the company represented by such agent.

Report.

Every railroad, steamship and express company transacting business in this state under this section shall annually, on or before the fifteenth day of March, file with the superintendent of banks its duly verified report, in the form prescribed by the superintendent of banks, showing in such detail as may be required by him, its business and transactions during the preceding calendar year relative to the receipts and transmission of money to foreign countries. The superintendent of banks shall have the power to revoke the authority to transact such business in this state of any railroad, steamship or express company which fails to make and file such annual report as herein provided.

Fee.

Every railroad, steamship or express company transacting business in this state under this section shall pay to the superintendent of banks on or before the first day of July in each year a fee of two hundred fifty dollars.

This section shall not apply to the receipt of money for immediate transmission by telegraph by the duly authorized agent of any duly incorporated telegraph company, at any regularly established office of such company.

Whoever, not being an authorized officer or employee of a bank, or the duly designated agent for that purpose of a railroad, steamship or express company, holds himself out as authorized to receive, or solicits, or receives money for the purpose of transmitting the same, or the equivalent thereof, to foreign countries, shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than five thousand dollars or imprisoned in the penitentiary not more than ten years, or both.

SEC. 4. Section fifteen of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15. All amounts of money heretofore or hereafter deposited with any bank to the credit of depositors who have not made a deposit on said account or withdrawn any part thereof or the interest and which shall have remained unclaimed for more than twenty years after the date of such deposit, or withdrawal of any part or principal or interest, and where neither the depositor or any claimant has filed any notice with such bank showing his or her present residence, shall, with the increase and proceeds thereof, be deposited with the state treasurer after judgment in the manner provided in the Code of Civil Procedure. At the time of issuing the summons in the action provided for in section one thousand two hundred seventy-three of the Code of Civil Procedure, the clerk shall also issue a notice signed by him, giving the title and number of said action, and referring to the complaint therein, and directed to all persons, other than those named as defendants therein, claiming any interest in any deposit mentioned in said complaint, and requiring them to appear within sixty days after the first publication of such summons, and show cause, if any they have, why the moneys involved in said action should not be deposited with the state treasurer as in said section provided, and notifying them that if they do not so appear and show cause, the state will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint. A copy of said notice shall be attached to and published with the copy of said summons required to be published by said section, and at the end of the copy of such notice so published there shall be a statement of the date of the first publication of said summons and notice. Any person interested may appear in said action and become a party thereto. Upon the completion of the publication of the summons and notice, and the service of the summons on the defendant bank, or banks, as in said section one thousand two hundred seventy-three of the Code of Civil Procedure provided, the court shall have full and complete jurisdiction over the state, and the said deposits and of the person of every one having or claiming any interest in the said deposits, or any of them, and shall have full and complete jurisdiction to hear and determine the issues therein, and render the appropriate judgment thereon. The president or managing officer of every bank must, within fifteen days after the first day of January of every year, return to the superintendent of banks and to the state controller a sworn statement showing the names of depositors known to be dead, or who have not made further deposits, or withdrawn any moneys during the preceding twenty years. Such statement shall show in detail the following matters, viz:

Statement concerning unclaimed deposits.

First—The name and last known place of residence or post-office address of the person making such deposit;

Second—The amount and date of such deposit and whether the same are in moneys or securities, and if the latter, the nature of the same;

Third—The interest due on such deposit, if any, and the amount thereof;

Fourth—The sum total of such deposit, together with the interest added thereto due from such bank on account of such deposit or deposits and the interest thereon to such depositor, but nothing contained herein shall require any corporation or person renting lock boxes or safes in vaults for storage purposes to open or report concerning property stored therein. Such reports itemized as aforesaid shall be signed by the person making the same and shall be sworn to before a person competent to administer oaths as a full, complete and truthful statement of each of the items therein contained.

Statement of ten-year unclaimed deposits.

The president or managing officer of every bank must, within fifteen days after the first day of January of every odd numbered year, return to the superintendent of banks a sworn statement showing the names of depositors known to be dead, or who have not made further deposits, or withdrawn any moneys during the preceding ten years. Such statements shall show the amount of the account, the depositor's last known place of residence or post-office address, and the fact of death, if known to such president or managing officer. Such president or managing officer must give notice of these deposits in one or more newspapers published in or nearest to the town or city where such bank has its principal place of business, at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, the cost of such publication to be paid pro rata out of such unclaimed deposits. The superintendent of banks must incorporate in his subsequent report such returns made to him as provided in this section. If any president or managing officer of any bank neglects or refuses to make the sworn statements required by this section such bank shall forfeit to the State of California the sum of one hundred dollars a day for each day such default shall continue. Any president or managing officer of any bank who violates any of the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the State of California the sum of one hundred dollars a day for each and every day such violation shall continue. For the purposes of this section all deposits received by any bank under the provisions of section thirty-one, section thirty-one a or section thirty-one b of this act shall be deemed to have been deposited with such bank at the time the deposit was made with the bank from which the deposit was transferred; provided, that any bank which shall make any deposit with the state treasurer in conformity with the provisions of this section shall not thereafter be liable to any person for the same and any action which may be brought by any person against any bank for moneys so deposited with the state treasurer shall be defended by the attorney general without cost to such bank.

SEC. 5. A new section is hereby added to said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, to be numbered fifteen a and to read as follows:

Sec. 15*a*. When any deposit shall be made by or in the name of any minor, the same shall be held for the exclusive right and benefit of such minor, and free from the control or lien of all other persons, except creditors, and shall be paid, together with the dividends thereon, to the person in whose name the deposit shall have been made, and the receipt or acquittance of such minor shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to such savings bank for such deposit or any part thereof. Deposit by minor.

When any deposit shall be made by any person in trust for another, and no other or further notice of the existence and terms of a legal and valid trust shall have been given in writing to such savings bank, in the event of the death of the trustee, the deposit or any part thereof, together with the dividends thereon, may be paid to the person for whom the deposit was made. Deposit in trust.

When a deposit shall be made by any person in the names of such depositor and another person and in form to be paid to either or the survivor of them, such deposit and any additions thereto made by either of such persons after the making thereof, shall become the property of such persons as joint tenants, and the same together with all dividends thereon shall be held for the exclusive use of such persons and may be paid to either during the lifetime of both or to the survivor after the death of one of them, and such payment and the receipt or acquittance of the one to whom such payment is made shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to such savings bank for all payments made on account of such deposit prior to the receipt by such savings bank of notice in writing not to pay such deposit in accordance with the terms thereof. The making of the deposit in such form shall, in the absence of fraud or undue influence, be conclusive evidence, in any action or proceeding to which either such savings bank or the surviving depositor is a party, of the intention of both depositors to vest title to such deposit and the additions thereto in such survivor. Deposit in name of two depositors.

SEC. 7. Section nineteen of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Capital and deposit liabilities.

Sec. 19. The aggregate of paid-up capital together with the surplus, of every commercial bank, must equal the following percentages of its deposit liabilities:

(a) Ten per centum of any amount up to and including two million dollars.

(b) Seven and one-half per centum of any amount in excess of two million dollars up to and including five million dollars.

(c) Five per centum of any amount in excess of five million dollars.

The aggregate of paid-up capital together with the surplus of every savings bank having a capital stock, and the reserve fund of every savings bank without a capital stock, must equal the following percentages of its deposit liabilities:

(d) Ten per centum of any amount up to and including one million dollars.

(e) Seven and one-half per centum of any amount in excess of one million dollars up to and including three million dollars.

(f) Five per centum of any amount in excess of three million dollars up to and including ten million dollars.

(g) Two and one-half per centum of any amount in excess of ten million dollars up to and including twenty-five million dollars.

(h) One per centum of any amount in excess of twenty-five million dollars.

The deposits shall not be increased if such proportion of paid-up capital and surplus or reserve fund to deposit liabilities is not maintained, and in no event shall said paid-up capital be less than the minimum paid-up capital provided by this act; provided, that such deposit liabilities shall be exclusive of United States and postal savings deposits and deposits of the State of California and of any county and municipality in the State of California which are secured as required by law.

SEC. 8. Section twenty-one a of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 21a. No bank, banker, or bank officer, shall give preference to any depositor or creditor except as otherwise authorized by law; provided, that any commercial bank or commercial department of a departmental bank, is authorized and empowered for temporary purposes, to borrow money, or to borrow money and pledge or hypothecate as collateral security therefor, its assets not exceeding fifty per centum in excess of the amount borrowed, but only to the extent and upon terms and conditions as follows:

Terms and conditions on which bank may borrow money.

(1) Any amount up to, but not exceeding the amount of its capital and surplus, without consent of the superintendent of banks; provided, however, that any amount borrowed, except as otherwise provided in this section, in excess of the amount of its capital and surplus, at such time actually paid in and remaining undiminished by losses or otherwise, must first be approved in writing by the superintendent of banks; provided, also, that no excess loan made to any such bank shall be invalid or illegal as to the lender, even though made without the consent of the superintendent of banks; provided, also, that the rediscounting with or without guarantee or endorsement with a federal reserve bank, of notes, drafts, bills of exchange and loans secured by obligations of the United States, is hereby authorized and shall not be limited by the terms of this act, and shall not be considered as borrowed money within the meaning of this section.

(2) Any amount of California, state, county, city, city and county funds, or any other public money, in the manner it is or may be authorized by law to borrow and receive such public money on deposit without the approval of the superintendent of banks.

(3) Any amount of the United States moneys and postal savings moneys of the United States, and receive such moneys on deposit, and pledge or hypothecate such of its securities and upon such terms as may be required by the laws of the United States or the rules and regulations of the secretary of the treasury of the United States, without the approval of the superintendent of banks.

(4) Any amount, in addition to the amounts authorized to be borrowed in this section, for the purpose of buying from the United States, United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or notes or obligations of the United States.

(5) To rediscount with and sell to a federal reserve bank any and all such notes, drafts, bills of exchange, acceptances and any other securities, with no other restrictions, and as fully, and to the same extent as this privilege is given to national bank members under the terms of the federal reserve act, or by regulations of the federal reserve board made pursuant thereto.

Sec. 9. A new section is hereby added to said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, to be numbered twenty-one b and to read as follows:

Partial payments.

Sec. 21b. (1) No bank shall make partial payments upon any certificate of deposit.

Overdraft as asset.

(2) In no case shall an overdraft of more than ninety days' standing be allowed as an asset of any bank.

Bad debts.

(3) Any debt due to any commercial bank, on which interest is past due and unpaid for the period of one year, unless the same is well secured, and is in process of collection, shall be considered a bad debt and shall be charged off to the profit and loss account at the expiration of that time.

Stats. 1913, p. 149, amended.

Sec. 10. Section twenty-three of said act approved March 1, 1909; as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Departmental business.

Sec. 23. When a bank desires to do a departmental business, it shall first obtain the consent of the superintendent of banks, and in its application therefor, file a statement making a segregation of its capital and surplus for each department. Such capital and surplus, when so apportioned and approved by the superintendent of banks, shall be considered and treated as the separate capital and surplus of such department as if each department was a separate bank. Thereafter a bank may, from time to time, with the previous consent and approval of the superintendent of banks and subject to the provisions of section nineteen of this act, change any segregation and apportionment of capital and surplus previously made and make a new segregation and apportionment of its capital and surplus. Every bank hereafter organized doing a departmental business shall have paid up, in cash, capital stock as follows:

Capital stock

Place of 5,000 persons.

(a) In any locality in which the population does not exceed five thousand persons, not less than twenty-five thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars, if it transacts both a commercial and trust business, or not less than one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business and not less than one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

More than 5,000 persons.

(b) In any city in which the population is more than five thousand persons, but does not exceed twenty-five thousand persons, not less than fifty thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and trust business, or not less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business, and not less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

More than 25,000 persons.

(c) In any city in which the population is more than twenty-five thousand persons, but does not exceed one hundred thousand persons, not less than one hundred thousand dollars, if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than two hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and trust business or not less than two hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business, and not less than two hundred thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

(d) In any city in which the population is more than one hundred thousand persons, but does not exceed two hundred thousand persons, not less than two hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than four hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and trust business, or not less than four hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business, and not less than four hundred thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

More than
persons.

(e) In any city in which the population exceeds two hundred thousand persons, not less than three hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than five hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and trust business, or not less than five hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business, and not less than five hundred thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

More than
persons.

The foregoing classifications shall not apply to any bank already in existence which has received from the superintendent of banks a certificate to do a banking business nor to any bank the location of which shall have been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city of a class requiring a larger capitalization, but no bank thus excepted shall be permitted to establish any new branch office as provided in section nine of this act or to remove its place of business from the original limits of the city or township wherein it was located prior to such annexation or consolidation until it shall have the capital required of banks in such city not within said exception. Such excepted banks may not in any case decrease their capital stock, but may increase the same in the manner provided by law to an amount either greater or less than that required of banks in such city not within said exception. The capital stock referred to herein shall be increased from time to time and to the same extent as provided for in section nineteen of this act.

Banks not included.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the superintendent of banks in the exercise of his discretion from granting his license to any bank hereafter organized in a locality which has been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city requiring a larger capitalization with a capital stock paid up in cash equal to that which would have been required for said locality if it had not been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city requiring a larger capitalization; provided, that no bank so licensed shall be permitted to establish any branch office as provided in section nine of this act or to remove its place of business from the original limits of the city or township which has been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city requiring a larger capitalization until it shall have the capital required of banks in such city requiring said larger capitalization.

Population.

For the purposes of this act, the population shown and determined by the last preceding federal census, or any subsequent census compiled and certified under any law of this state, shall be deemed to be the population of any city in which any such bank is to be organized. If the principal place of business of any bank so organized is located outside of the corporate limits of any city, then the population of that portion of the judicial township in which said bank is to have its principal place of business, which is not included within the boundaries of any municipal corporation, as such population is shown and determined by such federal or subsequent official census, shall be the basis for classification under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 11. A new section is hereby added to said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, to be numbered twenty-four a and to read as follows:

Seal of superintendent.

Sec. 24*a*. The superintendent of banks shall adopt an official seal. Every paper executed by him as such superintendent of banks in pursuance of any authority conferred on him by law, and sealed with his seal of office, shall be received in evidence, and may be recorded in the proper recording offices in the same manner and with the same effect as a deed regularly acknowledged.

Whenever it is proper to furnish a copy of any paper filed in the state banking department and to certify such paper, except where such copy or certification is made for the benefit of a corporation to which this act is applicable, the superintendent of banks may charge ten cents per folio for each such copy, and for affixing his official seal on such copy and certifying the same, one dollar.

Stats 1915, p. 1109, amended.

SEC. 12. Section twenty-five of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Total reserves for each department.

Sec. 25. Every bank shall maintain for each department total reserves equal in amount to that required by this act for the respective business conducted, and shall keep separate and distinct the total reserves of any department from that of any other department; and all deposits made with other banks, whether temporary or otherwise, shall be assets of the respective departments by which they were made, and shall be so carried on the books of such other banks, and shall be repaid only upon the order of the department to whose credit they stand. No department shall receive deposits from any other department of the same corporation; except that a trust department, in proper cases, may make deposits of trust or any other funds under its control with the savings department or the commercial department of the same corporation; provided, however, that any bank having departments shall have the right to sell and transfer any bonds, securities or loans from one department to another upon receipt of the actual value thereof. if such bonds, securities or loans are, under the provisions of this act, a legal investment for the department purchasing the same.

Trans-actions between departments.

Sec. 13. Section twenty-six of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1909, p. 93, amended.

Sec. 26. Every bank having different departments shall keep separate books of account for each department of its business, and shall be governed as to all deposits, reserves, investments and transactions relating to each department by the provisions in this act specifically provided for the respective kind of business. Separate books, etc., for each department.

It shall keep all investments relating to the savings department entirely separate and apart from the investments of its other department or departments.

Every bank shall conduct the business of all its departments in one building, or in adjoining buildings; provided, that any departmental bank, having a trust department, may conduct, with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, the business of its trust department in a building separate from its principal place of business in the same city in which its principal place of business is located.

Every bank shall keep entirely separate and apart in each department the cash, securities and property belonging to such department, and shall not mingle the cash securities and property of one department with that of another.

Sec. 14. Section twenty-eight of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917, p. 606, amended.

Sec. 28. Every bank in this state must, on its principal place of business and on all communications to depositors, and on each of its branch offices, use the word "savings" if it conducts a savings business, and the word "trust" if it conducts a trust business, and the word "commercial" if it conducts a commercial business. Every bank which maintains a branch office must on all window signs and in advertising, and on letterheads and other stationery on which the business of said branch office is transacted, use in letters and type, equal in prominence to that used in its corporate name, the word "branch" and the name of the place where its principal business is located; provided, that any such bank may on all window signs and in advertising, and on letterheads and other stationery of such branch offices as are located in the city where the principal place of business of such bank is located, use in letters and type, equal in prominence to that used in its corporate name, the word "branch" or the word "office" and the designation by street and number of the place where its principal business is located. Sec. 15. Section thirty-one of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1913, p. 151, amended.

Sec. 31. Any bank may sell the whole of its business or the whole of the business of any of its departments to any Sale of business.

other bank which may purchase such business after obtaining the consent of the stockholders of the selling and of the purchasing banks holding of record at least two-thirds of the issued capital stock of each of such corporations; such consent to be expressed either in writing executed and acknowledged by such stockholders and attached to the instrument of sale, or to a copy thereof, or by vote at a stockholders' meeting of each of such banks called for that purpose. The selling and purchasing banks must for such purposes enter into an agreement of sale and purchase, which agreement shall contain all the terms and conditions connected with such sale and purchase. Such agreement shall contain proper provision for the payment of liabilities of the selling bank or of the department sold, and the assumption by the purchasing bank of all fiduciary and trust obligations of the selling bank or department sold, and in these particulars shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of banks; and shall not be valid until such approval is obtained. Such agreement may contain provisions for the transfer of all deposits to the purchasing bank, subject, however, to the right of every depositor of the selling bank to withdraw his deposit in full on demand after such transfer, irrespective of the terms under which it was deposited with the selling bank; and such agreement may also contain provisions for the transfer of all court and private trusts to the purchasing bank, subject, however, to the right of trustors and beneficiaries, after such transfer, to nominate another and succeeding trustee of the trusts so transferred. The rights of creditors of the selling bank shall not in any manner be impaired by any such sale, nor shall any liability or obligation for the payment of any money due or to become due, or any claim or demand, in any manner, or for any cause existing against such selling bank or against any stockholder thereof, be in any manner released or impaired, and all the rights, obligations and relations of all the parties, creditors, depositors, trustors and beneficiaries of trusts shall remain unimpaired by the sale, but such bank to which the other shall sell all its business or all the business of any of its departments, shall succeed to all such relations, obligations, trusts and liabilities and be held liable to pay and discharge all such debts and liabilities and to perform all such trusts of the selling bank in the same manner as if such bank to which the other had sold had itself incurred the obligation or liability or assumed the relation of trust, and the stockholders of the respective corporations so entering into such agreement shall continue subject to all the liabilities, claims and demands existing against them as such at or before such sale.

Publication of notice.

Immediately after the execution of such agreement of sale and purchase notice thereof shall be published for at least four successive weeks in a newspaper in each of the counties of the state in which either of such banks shall have its principal place of business; provided, however, that no action can be brought against such selling bank or any of its stockholders on account of any deposits, obligations, trusts or liabilities so transferred after the expiration of one year from the last day of publication herein required; and provided, further, that such selling bank shall maintain for a period of one year after the last day of publication herein required such an amount, if any, of capital or capital and surplus as the superintendent of banks, in the exercise of his discretion, may deem necessary.

An affidavit showing such publication shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks within ten days after the last publication thereof. The affairs of such selling bank, or selling department of a bank, shall remain subject to the provisions of this act. Affidavit showing publication.

Upon the approval by the superintendent of banks of an agreement of sale and purchase and the transfer of the business of a trust department or of a bank having a trust department the purchasing bank shall, ipso facto and by operation of law and without further transfer, substitution, act or deed, and in all courts and places, be deemed and held to have succeeded and shall become subrogated and shall succeed to all rights, obligations, properties, assets, investments, deposits, demands, contracts, agreements, court and private trusts and other relations to any person, creditor, depositor, trustor, principal or beneficiary of any court or private trust, obligations and liabilities of every nature, and shall execute and perform all such court and private trusts in the same manner as though it had itself originally assumed the relation or trust or incurred the obligation or liability. Purchasing bank succeeds to rights when.

Sec. 16. A new section is hereby added to said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, to be numbered thirty-one b and to read as follows:

Sec. 31*b*. (1) Any two or more banks, respectively empowered by their articles of incorporation, and authorized by the provisions of the bank act to do the business of a commercial bank and savings bank and trust company, or any one or more or all of them, are hereby authorized to merge one or more of such banks into another of them, as hereinafter provided. Merger of banks.

(2) The respective boards of directors of such banks may by a majority vote of all of the members of each board, at a meeting duly called and held, make or authorize to be made between such banks a written agreement in duplicate for the merger of such banks. Such agreement shall specify each bank to be merged and the bank which is to receive into itself the merging bank or banks, and it shall prescribe the terms and conditions of the merger and the mode of carrying it into effect. Such agreement may provide for such and any matters to effect and accomplish such merger, not inconsistent with the provisions of the bank act or the other laws of this state. Agreement.

Approval by superintendent.

Such agreement and sworn copies of the proceedings of the meetings of the respective boards of directors at which the making of such agreement was authorized, shall be submitted in duplicate to the superintendent of banks for his approval and shall not be valid until such approval is obtained.

Ratification
by stockholders.

Said merger shall not take effect unless and until such merger agreement shall have been ratified and confirmed in writing by the stockholders of the respective banks holding of record at least two-thirds of the issued capital stock of their respective banks, or such merger agreement may be submitted to the stockholders of each of such banks at either a regular or special meeting thereof, to be duly called in the manner provided in the by-laws of such respective banks, or if no manner for calling such meeting is therein provided, then in the manner prescribed by law; and if such agreement shall be approved at each of such meetings by the affirmative vote of stockholders owning at least two-thirds in amount of all of the issued and outstanding shares of stock of their respective banks, it shall thereupon become binding upon such banks.

Filing
agreement.

(3) After such merger agreement shall have become binding upon the respective banks who are parties thereto, as herein provided, one of the duplicates thereof with a copy of the superintendent of banks' written approval and a sworn copy of the proceedings of the meetings at which such agreement was finally approved, made by the secretaries thereof respectively, shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks, and the other duplicate of such agreement shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the bank into which the other corporation or corporations are to be merged.

In effect
when.

(4) Upon filing the duplicates of such merger agreement, together with copies of its approval by the superintendent of banks, the merger agreement shall take effect according to all of its terms and the merger shall thereupon take place as provided in the agreement without further or other act, transfer or substitution. Upon the taking effect of the merger agreement, the merged corporation or corporations shall surrender their licenses to do a banking business for cancellation by the superintendent of banks.

Effect of
merger.

(5) Upon the merger of any corporation or corporations into another, as provided in this section:

(a) Its corporate existence shall be merged into that of such other corporation, and all and singular its rights, privileges and franchises, and its right, title and interest in and to all property, real, personal or mixed, and choses in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing or which would thereafter inure to it under an unmerged existence shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, interruption, impairment or limitation of title, right or privilege, transferred to and vested in the corporation into which it shall have been merged, without further act or deed, and such last mentioned corporation shall have, hold, possess, enjoy and enforce the same in its own right, as fully as the same was possessed, enjoyed and held by the merged corporation from which it was, by operation of the provisions of this section, transferred.

(b) Its rights, obligations, properties, assets, investments, deposits, demands, contracts, agreements, court and private trusts, as defined in the bank act, and other relations to any person, creditor, depositor, trustee, principal or beneficiary of any court or private trust, shall remain unimpaired and without change or alteration in any respect, and the corporation into which it shall have been merged shall, by such merger, ipso facto and by operation of law, without further transfer, substitution, act or deed, and in all courts and places be deemed and held to have, and shall become subrogated and shall succeed, to all such rights, obligations, properties, assets, investments, deposits, demands, contracts, agreements, court and private trusts, and other relations to any person, creditor, depositor, trustee, principal or beneficiary of any court or private trust, obligations and liabilities, of every kind or nature, and shall execute and perform all such court and private trusts in the same manner as though it had itself originally assumed the relation or trust or incurred the obligation or liability; the corporation into which it shall have been merged shall succeed to and be entitled to take and execute and receive the appointment to all executorships, trusterships, guardianships, and other fiduciary capacities in which the merged corporation may be then or thereafter named in wills theretofore or thereafter probated, or in any other instruments; and the liabilities and obligations of such merged corporation to the depositors, beneficiaries, principals and other creditors existing for any cause whatever shall not be impaired by such merger; nor shall any obligation or liability of any stockholder in any corporation which is a party to such merger be affected by any such merger, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as existed before such merger.

(c) Any action pending or other judicial proceedings to which any corporation that shall be so merged is a party, shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the merger, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or other decree in the name of the merged corporation, in the same manner as if the merger had not been made, or such merging corporation may be substituted as a party to such action or proceeding, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against it that might have been rendered for or against such merged corporation, if the merger had not occurred.

(6) The corporation into which the other corporation or corporations shall have been merged, as herein provided, may require the return of the original certificate or certificates held by each stockholder in such other corporation or corporations,

New stock
certificates.

and may issue in lieu thereof new certificates for such number of its own shares as such stockholder may be entitled to receive under the merger agreement.

(7) In the event that, either

If stockholder refuses new certificate or votes against merger.

(a) Any stockholder of any such merged corporation shall fail or refuse, within ninety days after such merger shall take effect, to return the original certificate or certificates held by such stockholder in such merging corporation or corporations and to accept in lieu thereof a new certificate or certificates for such number of the shares of the merging corporation as such stockholder may be entitled to receive under the merger agreement; or,

(b) Any stockholder or shareholder shall vote against or not in favor of such agreement of merger, at the meeting where such merger is approved, or shall dissent in writing and file such written dissent with the secretary of the merged corporation within thirty days after such merger agreement shall have been ratified in writing by the holders of record of not less than two-thirds of the issued and outstanding stock of such corporation or corporations, as hereinbefore provided, and shall, within thirty days after such stockholders' meeting or after the date of such stockholders' ratification, as the case may be, make written demand for payment for his shares of stock;

Purchase of stock.

In either of the events hereinabove mentioned, the merging corporation shall buy, and such stockholder shall sell to it, all such stock held by such stockholder, and, if such stockholder be a borrower from said corporation, said merging corporation shall demand liquidation of his indebtedness and the cancellation of his shares. If such stockholder and the board of directors of such merging corporation cannot agree upon the amount to be paid for such shares of stock or the amount of said indebtedness, if any, either said merging corporation or such stockholder, after said merger takes effect, may, at any time within sixty days thereafter, apply to the superior court in the county wherein is situated the principal place of business of the corporation into which the other or others are merged, for the appointment of three disinterested persons to appraise the value of shares of stock held by such dissenting stockholder. The court shall thereupon, after ten days' notice to said merging corporation and to such stockholder, appoint such appraisers, and designate the time and place of their meeting, with such directions in regard to their proceedings as it shall deem proper, and shall also direct the time and manner in which payment shall be made for the value of the shares of stock of such stockholder and the cancellation of his shares of stock. The court may fill any vacancies in such board of appraisers. The appraisers shall meet at the time and place designated, and after being duly sworn honestly and faithfully to discharge their duties, they shall make and certify a written estimate of the value of such shares of stock, and the amount of such indebtedness, if any, and shall deliver one copy to the merging corporation and the other to such stockholder. The charges and expenses of the appraisers shall be paid by such corporation.

When the corporation shall have paid the appraised value of such stock, or if such stockholder be a borrower as aforesaid, when he shall have paid the amount of his indebtedness as fixed by such appraisal, such stock shall be cancelled and such stockholders shall cease to be a member of said corporation or to have any interest in such stock or any corporate property, and such stock may be sold and disposed of by the corporation for its own benefit; and if such stockholder or shareholder be a borrower as aforesaid, proper instruments of acquittance shall be duly executed and delivered to him by the corporation and thereupon he shall be discharged from all further liability to the corporation.

Membership ceases.

Sec. 17. Section thirty-seven of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1910, p. 627, amended.

Sec. 37. No bank shall, except as otherwise provided in this act, purchase or invest its capital or surplus or money of its depositors, or any part of either, in the capital stock of any corporation unless the purchase or acquisition of such capital stock shall be necessary to prevent loss to the bank on an obligation owned or on a debt previously contracted in good faith. Any capital stock so purchased or acquired shall be sold by such bank within six months thereafter if it can be sold for the amount of the claim of such bank against it; and all capital stock thus purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by said bank within three years after such purchase or acquisition unless the superintendent of banks shall extend the time of its sale for a period not to exceed two years.

Investment in capital stock of corporations.

Any bank, with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, may purchase or otherwise acquire and hold the whole or any part of the capital stock of not more than one trust company organized and existing under the laws of this state, and doing business in the same county in which the principal place of business of such bank is located; provided, however, that not more than an amount equal to twenty-five per centum of the capital and surplus of any such bank may be at any one time invested in the capital stock of such trust company or such other corporation; and provided, further, that no such trust company shall engage in or combine the business of a commercial bank or a savings bank or a title insurance company.

Sec. 56a. Nothing in this act shall prevent or prohibit any bank from converting into a national banking association under the provision of section five thousand one hundred fifty-four of the United States revised statutes, or section eight of the federal reserve act, or any other federal or state law; provided, however, that in the event of the application for conversion of a state bank into a national banking association the superintendent of banks may in his discretion revoke any or all licenses for branch offices granted within two years immediately preceding said application for conversion of any state bank into a national banking association.

Bank
converting into national bank.

No savings bank and no departmental bank having a savings department, organized and existing under the laws of the State of California, shall convert into a national banking association except upon the following conditions:

1. Coincident with its application to the comptroller of the currency, any such savings or departmental bank shall file with the superintendent of banks formal notice of intention to convert into a national banking association.

Notice of intention.

2. Prior to conversion, any such savings or departmental bank shall place in the hands of the superintendent of banks,

Notice of conversion.

(a) A constructive notice for newspaper advertisement, directed to its savings depositors, of the fact of conversion;

(b) Actual notice addressed to each and every savings depositor, at his or her last known address, enclosed in stamped and addressed envelopes ready for mailing, this notice to be as follows:

"You are hereby notified that the undersigned, formerly the -----, now the -----, has converted from a banking corporation existing under the laws of California into a national banking association; and has therefore ceased to be under the jurisdiction and direction of the California state banking department and the bank act of California, and is now under the jurisdiction and control of the federal reserve act and the national act." No other matter may be enclosed with this notice unless by permission of the superintendent of banks.

3. Upon conversion said bank shall file with the superintendent of banks a copy of its authorization as a national banking association, certified by the comptroller of the currency; and shall surrender to the superintendent of banks its license as a state banking corporation.

Surrender of state license.

4. Immediately following the conversion of a state bank, the superintendent of banks shall cause the publication of the notice provided in subdivision (a) of paragraph two of this section; same to be at least once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in every town where said bank transacts its business and if there be no such paper in any such town or towns, then in the county where such bank transacts its business, and the superintendent of banks shall cause to be mailed the notices provided in subdivision (b) of paragraph two of this section. The advertisement shall be at the expense of the converting bank, prepaid to the department.

SEC. 20. A new section is hereby added to said act, approved March 1, 1909, as amended, to be numbered fifty-six b and to read as follows:

National bank becoming state bank.

Sec. 56*b*. Any banking corporation organized under the laws of the United States and doing business in this state may become an incorporated bank of this state with all the powers and subject to all the obligations and duties of banks organized under the provisions of this act, provided such banking corporation has authority by virtue of any law of the United States, to dissolve its organization as a national banking corporation. A national banking corporation desiring to become such an incorporated bank of this state shall proceed in the following manner:

It shall take such action, in the manner prescribed or authorized by the laws of the United States, as shall make its dissolution as a national banking corporation effective at a future date certain.

Articles of incorporation.

A majority of its directors shall thereafter and before the time when its dissolution becomes effective, subscribe and acknowledge in duplicate upon the authority in writing of the owners of at least two-thirds of its capital stock, the articles of incorporation required by section two hundred ninety of the Civil Code of California, and attach thereto copies of the said written authority of stockholders and the resolution fixing the date at which its dissolution as a national banking association shall become effective, executed in the same manner as said articles of incorporation.

It shall thereupon take such action, in the manner prescribed or authorized by the laws of the State of California, as shall create a corporation for the purposes set forth in the said articles of incorporation.

Certificate of authorization.

It shall thereafter and before the time when its dissolution becomes effective, make application to the superintendent of banks for his certificate of authorization to transact business as is prescribed in sections one hundred twenty-seven and one hundred twenty-eight of this act.

If the superintendent of banks shall issue his certificate of authorization to transact business, its corporate existence as a state bank shall begin as soon as its dissolution as a national banking corporation becomes effective. But such bank shall transact no business as a state bank other than that relating to its organization until it shall have received the said certificate of authorization of the superintendent of banks.

Property
transferred.

At the time when the corporate existence of said state bank begins all the property of the dissolved national banking association shall immediately by act of law and without any conveyance or transfer be vested in and become the property of such state bank. The directors of the dissolved corporation at the time of such dissolution shall be the directors of the bank created in pursuance hereof until the first annual election of directors thereafter, and shall have power to take all necessary measures to perfect its organization, and to adopt such regulations concerning its business and management as may be proper and not inconsistent with law.

SEC. 21. A new section is hereby added to said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, to be numbered fifty-seven a and to read as follows:

Sec. 57*a*. Whenever in this act it is required that loans or investments shall be secured by a first lien on real estate, any lien given to secure the payment of assessments or subscriptions to meet the requirements of any law of the United States in respect to any irrigation project of the United States which may be levied, made or received by any corporation or association formed to carry out the objects and requirements of any such law of the United States, or the lien of any tax, assessment or bond levied, or issued by any state in the United States other than the State of California or by any county, city and county, city, town, municipality, school district or any other political or governmental subdivision of such state and the lien of any assessment levied to pay such bonds shall be deemed to be a prior encumbrance or lien on such real property; provided, however, that with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks any bank may make loans or investments upon the security of real property so encumbered if the total of all such liens taken with the loan or investment so secured shall amount to not more than fifty per cent of the market value of the real property securing the same; and provided, further, that the superintendent of banks shall grant no such permission in the event that the payment of any installment or call of any such tax, assessment or bond or other governmental lien is due and delinquent.

SEC. 22. Section fifty-eight of said act, approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 58. Any bank possessing a capital and surplus of one million dollars or more may file application with the superintendent of banks for permission to exercise, upon such conditions and under such regulations as he may prescribe, either or both of the following powers:

First—To establish branches in foreign countries or in dependencies or insular possessions of the United States for the furtherance of the foreign commerce of this state and of the United States and to act if required to do so as fiscal agents of the United States.

Second—To invest an amount not exceeding in the aggregate ten per centum of its paid-in capital stock and surplus in the stock of one or more banks or corporations chartered or incorporated under the laws of the State of California, or of the United States, or of any state thereof, and principally engaged in international or foreign banking or banking in a dependency or insular possession of the United States either directly or through the agency, ownership or control of local institutions in foreign countries, or in such dependencies or insular possessions.

Investment
in stock of international banking corporation.

Any bank, without regard to the amount of its capital and surplus, may file application with the superintendent of banks for permission, upon such conditions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by said superintendent of banks, to invest an amount not exceeding in the aggregate five per centum of its paid-in capital and surplus in the stock of one or more corporations chartered or incorporated under the laws of the United States or of any state thereof, and, regardless of its location, principally engaged in such phases of international or foreign financial operations as may be necessary to facilitate the export of goods, wares or merchandise from the United States or any of its dependencies or insular possessions to any foreign country; provided, however, that in no event shall the total investments, authorized by this section by any bank exceed ten per centum of its paid-in capital and surplus; provided, also, that such investments may be carried in either the commercial, savings or trust department, or may be apportioned to any two or all three of such departments of any departmental state bank.

Such application shall specify the name and capital of the bank filing it, the powers applied for and the place or places where the banking or financial operations proposed are to be carried on. The superintendent of banks shall have power to approve or to reject such application in whole or in part if for any reason the granting of such application is deemed inexpedient, and shall also have power from time to time to increase or decrease the number of places where such banking operations may be carried on.

Information
on foreign banking activities.

Every bank operating foreign branches shall be required to furnish information concerning the condition of such branches to the superintendent of banks upon demand, and every bank investing in the capital stock of banks or corporations hereinbefore described in this section shall be required to furnish information concerning the condition of such banks or corporations to the superintendent of banks upon demand, and the superintendent of banks may order special examinations of the said branches, banks or corporations at such time or times as he may deem best. The cost of such special examinations shall be paid by said branches, banks or corporations.

Agreement with superintendent of banks.

Before any bank shall be permitted to purchase stock in any such corporation the said corporation shall enter into an agreement or undertaking with the superintendent of banks to restrict its operations or conduct its business in such manner or under such limitations and restrictions as the said superintendent of banks may prescribe for the place or places wherein such business is to be conducted. If at any time the superintendent of banks shall ascertain that the regulations prescribed by him are not being complied with, said superintendent of banks is hereby authorized and shall have power to institute an investigation of the matter and to send for persons and papers, subpoena witnesses and administer oaths in order to satisfy himself as to the actual nature of the transactions referred to. Should such investigation result in establishing the failure of the corporation in question, or of the bank or banks which may be stockholders therein, to comply with the regulations laid down by the said superintendent of banks, such banks may be required to dispose of stockholdings in the said corporation upon thirty days' notice, and in the event of their noncompliance with such order the superintendent of banks may institute proceedings for forfeiture of license.

Every such bank shall conduct the accounts of each foreign branch independently of the accounts of other foreign branches established by it and of its home office, and shall at the end of each fiscal period transfer to its general ledger the profit or loss accruing to each branch as a separate item.

SEC. 23. Section sixty of said act, approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 60. Every savings bank hereafter organized must have paid up in cash a capital stock of not less than

(b) Fifty thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than five thousand persons, but does not exceed twenty-five thousand persons;

(c) One hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than twenty-five thousand persons, but does not exceed one hundred thousand persons;

(d) Two hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than one hundred thousand persons, but does not exceed two hundred thousand persons;

(e) Three hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than two hundred thousand persons.

Excepting that any savings bank organized without capital stock must have a reserve fund of at least one million dollars.

Until the capital stock or reserve fund hereinbefore required shall be actually paid in, the superintendent of banks shall refuse to issue the certificate required by this act.

The foregoing classification shall not apply to any savings bank already in existence which has received its certificate to do a banking business from the superintendent of banks; nor to any bank the location of which shall have been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city of a class requiring a larger capitalization, but no bank thus excepted shall be permitted to establish any new branch office as provided in section nine of this act or to remove its place of business from the original limits of the city or township wherein it was located prior to such annexation or consolidation until it shall have the capital required of banks in such city not within said exception. Such excepted banks may not in any case decrease their capital stock, but may increase the same in the manner provided by law to an amount either greater or less than that required of banks in such city not within said exception; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to affect the provisions of section nineteen of this act relative to the proportion of capital and surplus to deposits or of section twenty-three of this act relative to the capital stock required of banks doing a departmental business.

The provisions of section twenty-three of this act, as to population, shall apply to any bank organized under the provisions of this section; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the superintendent of banks in the exercise of his discretion from granting his license to any bank hereafter organized in a locality which has been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city requiring a larger capitalization with a capital stock paid up in cash equal to that which would have been required for said locality if it had not been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city requiring a larger capitalization; provided, that no bank so licensed shall be permitted to establish any branch office as provided in section nine of this act or to remove its place of business from the original limits of the city or township which has been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city requiring a larger capitalization until it shall have the capital required of banks in such city requiring said larger capitalization.

· SEC. 24. Section sixty-one of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 61. Any savings bank may purchase, hold or sell real or personal property, as follows:

1. The lot and building in which the business of the bank is carried on; furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes and other personal property such as may be necessary or proper to carry on its banking business; such lot and building, furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes shall not, in the aggregate, be carried on the books of such bank as an asset to an amount exceeding its paid-up capital and surplus; and hereafter, the authority of a two-thirds vote of all of the directors shall be necessary to authorize the purchase of such lot and building, or the construction of such building.

2. Such as may have been mortgaged, pledged or conveyed to it in trust for its benefit in good faith, for money loaned in pursuance of the regular business of the corporation.

3. Such as may have been purchased at any sales under pledge, mortgage or deed of trust made for its benefit for money so loaned and such as may be conveyed to it by borrowers in satisfaction and discharge of loans made thereon.

4. Gold or silver bullion, and United States mint certificates of ascertained value.

5. Bonds and other securities of the following classes: Bonds.

(a) Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest; U. S. Bonds.

(b) Bonds of the State of California, or those for which the faith and credit of the State of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or those of any county, city and county, city or school district of this state; State of California bonds.

(c) Bonds or stocks or notes of any state in the United States, other than the State of California, that has not, within twenty-five years previous to making such investment by such bank, defaulted in the payment of any part of either principal or interest, or those of any county, city and county, city or town, or school district, in any state in the United States other than the State of California, issued under authority of any law of such state, which county, city and county, city or town, or school district, had, as shown by the federal or state census next preceding such investment, a population of more than twenty thousand inhabitants; provided, however, that the entire bonded indebtedness of such county, city and county, city or town, or school district, including such issue of bonds or stocks or notes, does not exceed fifteen per centum of the value of the taxable property therein as shown by its last equalized assessment roll; and provided, further, that such county, city and county, city or town, or school district, or the state in which it is located has not defaulted in payment of any part of either principal or interest due upon any legally authorized bond or stock or note issue within twenty-five years next preceding such investment; Bonds of other states.

(d) Bonds of any district organized under the laws of the State of California which are required to be and are investigated and approved by a commission now or hereafter authorized by a law of this state to conduct such investigation and give such approval and by authority of which approval said bonds are declared to be legal investments for savings banks. District bonds.

(e) Notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust, payment of which is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance, and mortgage participation certificates, issued by a mortgage insurance company in accordance with the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of division first of the Civil Code. Secured notes or bonds.

6. Bonds and other securities of the following classes; provided, that such bonds or securities shall first have been certified by the superintendent of banks after an investigation as provided for under section sixty-one a of this act;

Foreign
government
bonds.

(a) Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of any foreign country or government, or those for which the faith and credit of any foreign country are pledged for the payment of principal and interest;

Irrigation
district bonds of another state.

(b) Bonds of any district organized under the laws of any state in the United States other than the State of California for the purpose of irrigating lands within such district, which are required to be and are investigated and approved by a commission now or hereafter authorized by a law of said state to conduct such investigation and give such approval; provided, that the entire indebtedness of such district, including the bonds under consideration, and all prior liens, within the meaning of section fifty-seven a of this act, do not exceed fifty per centum of the aggregate market value of the lands within said district, and of the irrigation system owned or to be acquired by said district with the proceeds of said bonds;

District
bonds.

(c) Bonds of any district organized under the laws of the State of California not otherwise provided for in this section;

Bonds of railroad
corporation.

(d) (1) Bonds of any railroad corporation, as the same is defined in the "public utilities act," incorporated under the laws of any state in the United States and operating exclusively in the United States; provided, that said corporation shall have had net earnings for either its fiscal year or twelve consecutive months in the fourteen months next preceding application for certification of said bonds under the provisions of section sixty-one a of this act, amounting to at least one and one-half times the interest on all bonded indebtedness outstanding at the time of said certification, and on all additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

(2) Bonds on any railroad corporation, the payment of which is guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a railroad corporation whose bonds are a legal investment for savings banks in this state.

Bonds of other public utility corporations.

(c) (1) Bonds of any other public utility corporation, as the same is defined in the "public utilities act," incorporated under the laws of any state in the United States and operating exclusively in the United States; provided, that said corporation shall have had net earnings for either its fiscal year or twelve consecutive months in the fourteen months next preceding application for certification of said bonds under the provisions of section sixty-one a of this act, amounting to at least one and one-half times the interest on all bonded indebtedness outstanding at the time of said certification, and on all additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

(2) Bonds of any similar public utility corporation, the payment of which is guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a public utility corporation other than a railroad corporation, whose bonds are a legal investment for savings banks in this state.

Determining
income.

In determining the income of any railroad or other public utility corporation mentioned herein, there shall be included the income of any corporation or corporations out of which it shall have been formed through consolidation or merger, and of any corporation the entire business and income-producing property of which the corporation issuing such bonds has wholly acquired.

All bonds issued by a railroad or other public utility corporation must be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust which at the time of said certification is: either

Security for railroad or public utility bonds.

I. A closed first mortgage or deed of trust; or,

II. A first mortgage or deed of trust containing provisions restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements heretofore specified in either paragraph (d) or (e) of subdivision 6 of this section applicable to such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

III. A refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation and restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements of such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

IV. An underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning said property. In the case of bonds secured by an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, the net income required by this section shall be based exclusively upon the income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust or, if such income, maintenance charges or operating expenses can not be definitely ascertained, on the proper proportionate share of such property in the general income, maintenance charges, operating expenses and taxes of the corporation then owning such property and on the mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust.

(f) Notes or bonds secured by first mortgage or deed of trust or other first lien upon real estate, improved or unimproved; provided, that the entire note or bond issue shall not exceed sixty per centum of the market value of such real estate, or such real estate with improvements, taken as security; and provided, further, in case the said note or bond issue is created for a building loan on real estate, that at no time shall the entire outstanding note or bond issue exceed sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate and the actual cost of the improvements thereon taken as security; and provided, also, in case said real estate is located outside of this state, that the provisions of this paragraph shall be subject to the limitations and modifications contained in section fifty-seven a of this act;

Bonds
secured by lien on real estate.

and provided, also, that no such notes or bonds shall be disqualified as investments for savings banks for the reason that the payment thereof is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance.

Determining
market
value.

In determining the market value of any real estate under the provisions of the preceding paragraph where such real estate, improved or unimproved, consists of oil or other mineral or timber land, the value represented by such oil or other mineral or timber shall not be included in fixing such market value. Nothing herein contained shall prevent savings banks from making loans secured by mortgage or deed of trust upon lands wherein redwood timber is included in fixing the market value thereof.

Any bank, however, may, without such certification by the superintendent of banks, purchase any note or bond or issue of notes or bonds provided for in said paragraph (f) of subdivision six of this section, whenever such purchase constitutes the entire amount of notes or bonds executed by the makers thereof and secured by the same real estate; provided, that no savings bank shall hold any such notes or bonds unless such holding constitutes the entire issue thereof at any time outstanding; and provided, also, that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to permit savings banks to invest in notes or certificates evidencing participation in any mortgage on real estate unless by law specifically authorized, or in or on any form of obligation secured by any undivided interest in real estate designed to distribute the obligation so secured.

Collateral trust bonds or notes.

(g) Collateral trust bonds or notes when secured by either:

(1) Deposit of notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section of a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; or,

(2) Deposit of notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section and other securities of a combined market value at least twenty per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued: provided, that the par value of said collateral trust bonds or notes shall in no case exceed the market value of that portion of the security represented by notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section.

Railroad equipment trust
certificates.

(h) Railroad equipment trust certificates or obligations issued or guaranteed by a corporation to which a loan or loans for the construction, acquisition, purchase or lease of railroad equipment has or have been made with the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission; provided, that the entire issue shall not exceed sixty per centum of the cost of such equipment and shall mature serially not later than fifteen years from date of issue; provided, further, that said certificates or obligations must be secured by or be evidence of a prior lien upon or reservation of title to such equipment, or by an assignment of or prior interest in the rent or purchase notes given for the hiring or purchasing of said equipment.

(i) Acceptances issued by a discount, acceptance or investment corporation formed under the federal statute commonly known as the "Edge act" or under the "investment companies act" of New York, or by a corporation of identical character and capacity, organized under the laws of any state of the United States. Acceptances.

The legality of investments heretofore lawfully made pursuant to the provisions of this section, or of any law of this state as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by any amendments to this section or this act; nor shall any such amendments require the changing of investments once lawfully made under this act.

Any bonds authorized by this section as a legal investment for savings banks may be carried on the books of said bank at their investment value, based on their market value at the time they were originally bought, unless the superintendent of banks shall require any or all of the bonds which may thereafter have a market value less than the original investment value to be written down to such new market value which shall be done gradually if practicable and in such manner as he may determine or he may, by a plan of amortization to be determined by him, require such gradual extinction of premium as will bring such bonds to par at maturity. Book value of bonds.

When it shall be necessary to prevent loss to any savings bank on an obligation owned or on a debt previously contracted in good faith, it may, with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, purchase or acquire bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of California and operated exclusively therein, notwithstanding such bonds do not conform to the requirements in this section contained; provided, any bonds so purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by any bank within five years after such purchase or acquisition. Bonds of railroad operating exclusively in state may be purchased when.

No savings bank shall hereafter purchase or loan money upon any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any "public utility," subject to the jurisdiction, regulation or control of the railroad commission of this state under the provisions of the "public utilities act," approved December 23, 1911, and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, unless each such bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness was either: Conditions of loans on public utility bonds.

(a) Issued prior to the taking effect of the "public utilities act"; or,

(b) Issued under authority of the railroad commission in accordance with the provisions of said act, or,

(c) A note issued for a period not exceeding twelve months, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b) of section fifty-two of said act.

Investigation of bonds by superintendent
of banks.

Sec. 25. Section sixty-one a of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 61a. The superintendent of banks shall have power, when any issue of bonds or securities is presented to him for that purpose, to investigate and ascertain whether such bonds or securities come within and fully conform to all the requirements of paragraphs (d), (e), (f) or (g) of subdivision six of section sixty-one of this act, or of either of said paragraphs. He may also investigate and ascertain for what period of time, and upon what conditions, any franchise granted to or held by any corporation issuing any such bonds or securities will remain in force, and any other facts or conditions bearing upon the value of sufficiency of such bonds. The superintendent of banks may accept and act upon the opinions and appraisements of any attorneys, engineers or appraisers which may be presented by such person or corporation, so applying, and the reports of any of the executive officers of the corporation issuing such bonds or securities, on any question of fact concerning or affecting such bonds or securities, the security thereof, the franchise conditions herein mentioned, or the financial condition of the corporation issuing the same. In lieu of or in addition to such opinions, appraisements and reports, the superintendent of banks may, if he deems proper, have any or all such matters passed upon and certified to him by attorneys, engineers, appraisers or accountants of his own selection at the expense of the applicant. If the superintendent of banks shall find from such investigation that the bonds or securities so presented come within and fully conform to all the requirements of any of said paragraphs of subdivision six of section sixty-one of this act, and is satisfied from such investigation as to such franchise conditions, he shall so certify unless for any reason he shall be of the opinion that such bonds are not a safe or proper investment for savings banks, and in such event or if such bonds shall fail to meet the requirements of this act such certificate must be refused. The superintendent of banks also shall have power to investigate and ascertain the status and sufficiency as investments for savings banks of any bonds or notes or obligations specified in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (h) and (i) of subdivision six of section sixty-one of this act. If upon such investigation it shall be determined in the opinion of the superintendent of banks that any bonds or notes or obligations specified in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (h) and (i) of subdivision six of section sixty-one of this act constitute a proper investment for savings banks he shall so certify.

Certification
of bonds.

Revocation
of certificate.

Any certificate issued by the superintendent of banks under authority of the provisions of this section may be revoked at any time in his discretion. Any certificate issued in relation to notes or bonds of a railroad or other public utility corporation shall expire not later than three months after the end of the then current fiscal year of the corporation issuing such notes or bonds.

Any such certificate expiring may be renewed or extended by the superintendent of banks without application therefor from such corporation or other interested parties if he shall be satisfied that the notes or bonds referred to in said certificate are in conformity with the then requirements of section sixty-one of this act. Renewal.

The actual expense of investigating any issue of bonds or securities so presented shall be paid by the person, district or corporation presenting the same for investigation, and the superintendent of banks, before making such investigation, may require a cash deposit of such amount as he may deem necessary to cover such expense. The superintendent of banks shall keep an official list of all bonds and securities certified by him. Expense of investigation.

No provision of this act, and no act or deed, done or performed under or in connection therewith, and no finding made or certificate issued under any provision thereof, shall be held or construed to obligate the State of California to pay, or be liable for the payment of, or to guarantee in any manner whatsoever, the regularity or the validity of the issuance of any stock or bond certificate, or bond, note, or other evidence of indebtedness certified under any provision of this act, by the superintendent of banks.

It shall not be lawful for any individual, firm, association, bank, trust company, stock company, copartnership or corporation to advertise by newspaper or circular or in any other manner that any securities are legal investments for savings banks in this state unless such securities are at the time of said advertisement legal investments for savings banks in this state, or to use any advertisement which might lead the public to believe that any securities conform to the requirements of law relating to investments by savings banks unless such advertisement shall have been approved in writing by the superintendent of banks prior to publishing, circulating or otherwise issuing the same. Any individual, firm, association, bank, trust company, stock company, copartnership or corporation who shall advertise any securities in violation of the provisions of this paragraph shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine and imprisonment. Unlawful advertisement of securities as legal investments.

SEC. 26. Section sixty-five of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1910, p. 642, amended.

Sec. 65. No loan shall be made, for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any director or officer of any savings bank by such bank, or on the endorsement, surety or guaranty of any such officer or director, except that loans may be made to any corporation in which any director or officer of such savings bank may own or hold a minority number of shares of stock, upon authorization of or confirmation within thirty days after making such loan, by a majority of all the No loans to director or officer.

directors of such bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all other respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such interested director or officer shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan; provided, also, that by and with the consent of the superintendent of banks previously obtained in writing, all directors may vote upon such a loan made by one bank to another bank where the entire capital stock of one is owned by or held in trust for the stockholders of the other bank and where all or a majority of the board of directors of each of said banks is composed of the same persons. Such authorization or confirmation shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing or confirming such loan, the corporate name of the borrower, the name of each director or officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, officer or director of the corporation, to which such loan is made, the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporations, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks; provided, that any loan made to any corporation of which any director, officer, agent or employee of such savings bank owns not more than five per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation nor any loan made to any corporation of which any two or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such savings bank own not more than twenty per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation, shall not be reported to the superintendent of banks. No loan may be made to any corporation a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors or officers, or officers and directors, of such savings bank collectively, except with the previous consent of the superintendent of banks.

Loan to agent or employee.

A loan may be made to any agent or employee, other than an officer or director, of any savings bank by such bank upon authorization or confirmation of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and an affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such authorization or confirmation shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the borrower, the nature of his employment, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of the security given therefor, and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks; provided, that any loan made to any corporation of which any director, officer, agent or employec of such savings bank owns not more than five per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation nor any loan made to any corporation of which any two or more directors, officers, agents or employecs of such savings bank own not more than twenty per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation, shall not be reported to the superintendent of banks. Any officer or director of any savings bank who knowingly procures a loan from such savings bank contrary to the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the State of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club, or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employecs of such savings bank may be members or officers, but in which they have no financial interest.

Loans may be made to any director, other than an officer, directly or indirectly, or to any agent or employec of a savings bank on the security of United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or interest-bearing notes, or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for repayment of principal or interest, or those issued under authority of the United States, notwithstanding anything in this section contained, and such loans may be made in the usual manner of making loans in which no director of such bank is interested.

Sec. 27. Section sixty-seven of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 67. 1. No savings bank shall loan money except on adequate security of real or personal property, and no such loan shall be made for a period longer than ten years. No such loan shall be made on unsecured notes; provided, that a savings bank may discount or purchase bankers' acceptances of the kind and character and maturities defined and made eligible for rediscount with a federal reserve bank; provided, also, that such bankers' acceptances are accepted or endorsed without qualification by a bank or trust company, which bank or trust company has a paid-in capital of at least one million dollars; and provided, also, that a savings bank may discount or purchase a bill, or a participating interest in a bill, evidenced by on loans.

a participation certificate issued by a state or national bank in this state, which must comply with the following requirements:

Requirements for bill of exchange.

(a) It must be a bill issued by a solvent individual or firm or corporation engaged in mercantile or manufacturing business in the United States that makes statements of its condition duly ascertained and certified to by a public accountant. Copy of such a certified statement shall be on file in the office of the savings bank discounting or purchasing such bill in a file maintained for such purpose. Said statement shall have been issued within the preceding fourteen months and shall be the latest issued by said individual or firm or corporation. Said statement shall consist of a balance sheet showing quick assets, slow assets, permanent or fixed assets, current liabilities and accounts, short term loans, long term loans, capital and surplus. Accompanying said balance sheet shall be a copy of a statement from the borrower or public accountant concerning the following:

(1) The nature of the business.

(2) All contingent liabilities such as endorsements or guarantecs.

(3) Particulars respecting any mortgage debts and whether there is any lien on current assets.

(4) The maximum and minimum liabilities of the individual, firm or corporation during the twelve months previous to the date of audit.

(b) It must be issued by an individual, firm or corporation whose net worth is not less than two times the amount of its outstanding liabilities, including any contingent liabilities arising from the rediscount of bills receivable or other accommodation endorsements, nor less than three hundred thousand dollars. The quick assets of said individual, firm or corporation, consisting of merchandise, finished, raw, and in the process of manufacture, accounts receivable, bills receivable, bonds or obligations of the government of the United States at the then market value of said bonds or obligations and cash, shall not be less than two times its outstanding quick liabilities including any contingent liabilities arising from the rediscount of bills receivable or other accommodation endorsements, as shown by said statement.

(c) It must have a maturity of not more than six months.

(d) It must have arisen out of actual commercial transactions; that is, be a bill which has been issued or drawn for industrial or commercial purposes or the proceeds of which have been or are to be used for such purposes.

Bills ineligible for discount or purchase.

No bill shall be eligible for discount or purchase by a savings bank, the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for any of the following purposes:

(1) For investments of a merely speculative character whether made in goods or otherwise.

(2) Must not have been issued for carrying or trading in stocks, bonds or other investment securities, except bonds of the government of the United States, and must not cover merely investments.

(3) Must not be a bill of any individual, firm or corporation which has under pledge or hypothecation any of its personal assets.

The word "bill," when used in this section, shall be construed to include notes, drafts, or bills of exchange, and the word "goods" shall be construed to include goods, wares or merchandise.

Any savings bank purchasing or discounting such paper shall have in a file maintained for the purpose, letters from banks and merchants or mercantile reports bearing upon the credit and standing of the person, firm, copartnership or corporation whose paper is under discount. Credit reports.

No savings bank shall at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such bills of any one person, firm, copartnership or corporation in any amount which shall exceed five per centum of the capital and surplus or reserve of such savings bank, nor shall any savings bank at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, an amount of bills, of the character defined and limited by this section, greater than twelve and one-half per centum of the deposits of such bank. Limitation on amount.

No savings bank shall at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such bankers' acceptances from any one acceptor in any amount equal at any time in the aggregate to more than ten per centum of its paid-up capital and surplus or reserve, unless the said acceptance is secured either by attached documents or by some other actual security growing out of the same transaction as the acceptance; provided, however, that any savings bank may, irrespective of any such security, acquire and hold acceptances equal to twenty-five per centum of its capital and surplus or reserve, of any one acceptor having a paid-in capital of not less than three million dollars.

No savings bank shall at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, a combined total amount of bankers' acceptances and bills of the character defined and limited by this section, greater than twenty per centum of the deposits of such bank: provided, however, that any savings bank may acquire and hold bankers' acceptances in the amount of two thousand five hundred dollars.

2. No savings bank shall invest or loan an amount greater than fifty per centum of its actual paid-up capital and surplus in or on any one note or bond issue of the class specified in paragraph (f) of subdivision six of section sixty-one of this act, or in or on mortgage participation certificates issued by a mortgage insurance company pursuant to the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of division first of the Civil Code, nor more than five per centum of its assets in or on any one issue of bonds or notes or obligations of any other class, except bonds of the United States, or interest- Loans on bonds.

bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or bonds of the State of California, bonds for which the faith and credit of the United States or of the State of California are pledged, or bonds of any county, city and county, city or school district in this state, or bonds of any irrigation district in this state such as are legal for investment by savings banks

3. No savings bank shall loan money:

(a) On bonds of the character specified in paragraph (a), (b), (c) and (d) of subdivision five of section sixty-one of this act, or on bonds of the character specified in paragraph (c) of subdivision six of section sixty-one of this act, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least ten per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(b) On bonds or notes or obligations of the character specified in paragraphs (d), (e), (g), (h) and (i) of subdivision six of section sixty-one of this act, when eligible as investments for savings banks pursuant to said sections, unless such bonds or notes shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(c) On bonds or equipment trust certificates legal for investment by savings banks in the states of New York or Massachusetts, unless such bonds or equipment trust certificates shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(d) On notes or bonds of the character specified in paragraph (f) of subdivision six of section sixty-one of this act when certified as legal investments for savings banks under the provisions of section sixty-one a of this act, or on securities issued by a mortgage insurance company pursuant to the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of division first of the Civil Code eligible for investment by savings banks, unless such bonds, notes or securities shall have a market value at least ten per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(e) On notes or bonds of the character specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subdivision six of section sixty-one of this act when certified as legal investments for savings banks in this state, unless such notes or bonds shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(f) On personal property unless such personal property shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(g) On other bonds, or on capital stock of any corporation, unless such bonds or stock shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; provided, however, that no loan shall be made upon the capital stock of any bank unless such bank has been in existence at least two years and has earned and paid a dividend on its capital stock.

Loans on real estate.

4. No savings bank shall make any loan on security of real estate, unless it be a first lien, and in no event to exceed sixty per centum of the market value of any real estate taken as security except for the purpose of facilitating the sale of property owned by such savings bank or except under the conditions specified in section fifty-seven a of this act; provided, that a second lien may be accepted to secure the repayment of a debt previously contracted in good faith; and provided, also, that any savings bank holding a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate may take or purchase and hold or loan upon another and immediately subsequent mortgage or deed of trust thereon, but all such loans shall not exceed in the aggregate sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate securing the same; provided, further, that a savings bank may loan not to exceed ninety per centum of the face value of a mortgage which constitutes a first lien upon real estate, but in no event shall any such loan exceed ninety per centum of sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate covered by said mortgage or deed of trust.

5. No savings bank shall loan to any one borrower on the security of the capital stock of any corporation an amount exceeding ten per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank; provided, that all loans on the capital stock of any one corporation shall not exceed in the aggregate twenty-five per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank.

SEC. 28. Section sixty-eight of said act, approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1910,
p. 647,
amended.

Sec. 68. Every savings bank or savings department of a bank shall at all times maintain total reserves equivalent to five per centum of the aggregate amount of its deposits, exclusive of United States, postal savings bank, state, county and municipal, and other public money deposits, which are secured as is required by law; at least two and one-half per centum of such deposits shall be maintained as reserves on hand, which shall consist of gold bullion, or any form of money or currency authorized by the laws of the United States, and two and one-half per centum of such deposits may be maintained as reserves on hand, which shall consist of bonds, or interest-bearing obligations of the United States, of gold bullion, or any form of money or currency authorized by the laws of the United States or may be maintained as reserves on deposit subject to call with any reserve depository provided for in sections twenty and forty-three of this act; provided, however, that all or any part of the reserves may be deposited, subject to call, with a federal reserve bank in the district in which such bank is located; provided, also, that no savings bank or savings department shall be required to maintain reserves on hand in excess of four hundred thousand dollars, and when such reserves on hand reach that amount, the balance of total reserves necessary to make up the five per centum may be kept as reserves on deposit, subject to call, with any reserve depository provided for in sections twenty and forty-three of this act.

Member of federal reserve
bank.

If any savings bank shall have become a member of a federal reserve bank, it shall comply with the reserve requirements of the federal reserve act and its amendments, and its compliance therewith shall be in lieu of, and shall relieve such savings bank or savings department of a departmental bank from compliance with the provisions of this section.

Failure to maintain reserves.

If any savings bank shall fail to maintain its total reserves in the manner authorized by this section, it shall be subject to the penalty provided for in section twenty of this act for commercial banks.

Deposits with commercial
banks.

No new loan shall be made during any deficiency in the total reserves. Deposits with any commercial bank, or commercial department of a bank, on open account, as provided in this section, shall be permitted and shall not be construed as loans. Not more than five per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with any one bank, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks; provided, that any savings bank may deposit with any one bank not more than twenty-five thousand dollars without the permission of the superintendent of banks. Not more than fifteen per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with all commercial banks, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks. No savings bank or savings department shall receive deposits of other banks other than savings deposits and such deposits shall not be treated or considered as a part of the reserves on deposit of such depositing bank; provided, however, that the sum so deposited shall not exceed thirty per centum of the paid-in capital and surplus of the depositing bank, nor more than fifteen per centum of the paid-in capital and surplus of the depository bank.

Stats. 1010,
p. 649,

SEC. 29. Section eighty of said act, approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Loans of commercial banks.

Sec. 80. No commercial bank shall make any loans, directly or indirectly, to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation, in an amount which, including therein any extension of credit to such person, firm, copartnership or corporation, by means of letters of credit, or by acceptance of drafts for, or the discount or purchase of the notes, bills of exchange or other obligations of, such person, firm, copartnership or corporation, shall exceed the following percentage of its capital and surplus:

Without
security.

1. Ten per centum without security, except where such capital stock and surplus is not more than twenty-five thousand dollars, in which event an amount not to exceed twenty per centum of such capital stock and surplus may be loaned without security, and where such capital stock and surplus is greater than twenty-five thousand dollars and does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars may be loaned without security. Nothing herein shall prohibit any commercial bank from taking or receiving any kind, character or amount of security whatsoever, either real or personal, for the protection of any loan made under the provisions of this subdivision, but no such loan or any part thereof shall be considered or construed as a secured loan unless the whole thereof is loaned upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan; or,

2. Fifteen per centum, in addition to the amount that may be loaned under the provisions of subdivision one of this section, upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan so secured; provided, the total amount which can be loaned under subdivisions one and two hereof can not exceed twenty-five per centum in all; provided, however, that a separate note or notes shall be taken for the unsecured loans and a separate note or notes shall be taken for the secured loans, and the secured and unsecured loans shall not be combined in any way within one note, or notes; or,

3. Twenty-five per centum upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of its loans so secured; or,

4. Forty per centum, provided such loans are upon commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same to such bank, and are endorsed by such person without limitation; provided, however, that in addition to the amounts permitted to be loaned by subdivisions one, two or three of this section, an amount may be loaned on the securities fixed by subdivision four of this section, which taken with the amounts so permitted by said subdivisions one, two or three will not exceed forty per centum; provided, also, that the restriction under this section shall not apply to bills of exchange or drafts, with bills of lading attached, drawn in good faith against actual existing values.

Any commercial bank may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it having not more than six months' sight to run, exclusive of days of grace, which grow out of transactions involving the importation or exportation of goods; or which grow out of transactions involving the domestic shipment of goods provided shipping documents conveying or securing title are attached at the time of acceptance; or which are secured at the time of acceptance by a warehouse receipt or other such document conveying or securing title covering readily marketable staples. No commercial bank shall accept, whether in a foreign or domestic transaction, for any one person, company, firm, or corporation to an amount equal at any time in the aggregate to more than ten per centum of its paid-up and unimpaired capital and surplus, unless the bank is secured either by attached documents or by some other actual security growing out of the same transaction as the acceptance; and no commercial bank shall accept such bills to an amount equal at any time in the aggregate to more than one-half of its paid-up and unimpaired capital and surplus; provided, however, that the superintendent of banks, under such general regulations as he may prescribe, which shall apply to all commercial banks alike regardless of the amount of capital and surplus, may authorize any commercial bank to accept such bills to an amount not exceeding at any time in the aggregate one hundred per centum of its paid-up and unimpaired capital and surplus; provided, further, that the aggregate of acceptances growing out of domestic transactions shall in no event exceed fifty per centum of such capital and surplus.

Any commercial bank may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it having not more than three months' sight to run, exclusive of days of grace, drawn under regulations to be prescribed by the superintendent of banks by banks or bankers in foreign countries or dependencies or insular possessions of the United States for the purpose of furnishing dollar exchange as required by the usages of trade in the respective countries, dependencies, or insular possessions; provided, however, that no commercial bank shall accept such drafts or bills of exchange referred to in this paragraph for any one bank to any amount exceeding in the aggregate ten per centum of the paid-up and unimpaired capital and surplus of the accepting bank unless the draft or bill of exchange is accompanied by documents conveying or securing title or by some other adequate security; provided, further, that no commercial bank shall accept such drafts or bills in an amount exceeding at any time the aggregate of one-half of its paid-up and unimpaired capital and surplus.

Limitations not applicable to
U. S. bonds.

None of the limitations or restrictions contained in the previous subdivisions of this section shall apply to loans, discounts or other extensions of credit secured by liberty bonds or by other bonds or securities issued by the United States government, if the market value of such liberty bonds or other securities exceeds by ten per centum the amount of any such loan, discount or other extension of credit.

Loans which are made upon security available for loans in a savings bank may be made in a commercial bank upon the same margin of security as is permitted to savings banks anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding, and all such loans shall be deemed to be secured loans within the meaning of this section.

Computing
liabilities.

In computing the total liabilities of any person to a commercial bank there shall be included all liabilities to the bank of any copartnership or unincorporated association of which he is a member, and any loans made for his benefit or for the benefit of such copartnership or unincorporated associations; of any firm, copartnership or unincorporated association to a commercial bank there shall be included all liabilities of its individual members and all loans made for the benefit of such copartnership or unincorporated association or any member thereof; and of any corporation to a commercial bank there shall be included all loans made for the benefit of the corporation.

Sec. 30. Section eighty-two of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1913, p. 173, amended.

Sec. 82. Every commercial bank hereafter organized must have paid up in cash a capital stock of not less than, Capital stock of commercial banks.

(a) Twenty-five thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any locality the population of which does not exceed five thousand persons;

(b) Fifty thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than five thousand persons, but does not exceed twenty-five thousand persons;

(c) One hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than twenty-five thousand persons, but does not exceed one hundred thousand persons;

(d) Two hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than one hundred thousand persons, but does not exceed two hundred thousand persons;

(e) Three hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than two hundred thousand persons.

The foregoing classification shall not apply to any commercial bank already in existence which has received its certificate to do a banking business from the superintendent of banks; nor to any bank the location of which shall have been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city of a class requiring a larger capitalization, but no bank thus excepted shall be permitted to establish any new branch office as provided in section nine of this act or to remove its place of business from the original limits of the city or township wherein it was located prior to such annexation or consolidation until it shall have the capital required of banks in such city not within said exception. Such excepted banks may not in any case decrease their capital stock, but may increase the same in the manner provided by law to an amount either greater or less than that required of banks in such city not within said exception; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to affect the provisions of section nineteen of this act relative to the proportion of capital and surplus to deposits or of section twenty-three of this act relative to the capital stock required of banks doing a departmental business. Existing banks.

The provisions of section twenty-three of this act, as to population, shall apply to any bank organized under the provisions of this section; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the superintendent of banks in the Banks in annexed territory.

exercise of his discretion from granting his license to any bank hereafter organized in a locality which has been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city requiring a larger capitalization with a capital stock paid up in cash equal to that which would have been required for said locality if it had not been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city requiring a larger capitalization; provided, that no bank so licensed shall be permitted to establish any branch office as provided in section nine of this act or to remove its place of business from the original limits of the city or township which has been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city requiring a larger capitalization until it shall have the capital required of banks in such city requiring said larger capitalization.

SEC. 31. Section eighty-three of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 83. No loan shall be made for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any officer of any commercial bank by such bank or on the endorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such officer; provided, that a loan may be made to a corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank, proposing to make such loan, is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee. Loans to any director, agent or employee other than an officer, or to any firm, copartnership or corporation of which any director, agent or employee other than an officer is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee, or to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation on the endorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such director other than an officer, agent or other employee, can be made by any commercial bank; and provided, further, that a loan may be made or a line of credit may be given to any member of an advisory board or body of a commercial bank, not otherwise an officer of such bank, or a loan may be made to any firm, copartnership or corporation of which any member of such advisory board or body is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee, or to any person, firm, copartnership, or corporation on the endorsement, surety or guaranty of any such member of such advisory board or body upon such conditions as are herein fixed for a loan, directly or indirectly, or a line of credit and the report thereof to any director of such bank. Loans herein authorized can be made only on authorization of or confirmation within thirty days after making such loan, by a majority of all the directors of such bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan. Such interested director shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan; provided, that by and with the consent of the superintendent of banks previously obtained in writing, all directors may vote upon such a loan made by one bank to another bank where the entire capital stock of one is owned by or held in trust for the stockholders of the other bank and where all or a majority of the board of directors of each of said banks are composed of the same persons. The board of directors of any such bank may fix the total amount of credit that may at any one time during the twelve months next succeeding be given to any director, agent, or other employee other than an officer, or to any firm, copartnership, or corporation in which any director, agent, or other employee other than an officer is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee or to any corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank, proposing to fix such total amount of credit, is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee, and any or all loans made within or up to the total amount of such authorized credit may at any time during said twelve months be renewed from time to time, in whole or in part, by the officers of the bank without any further vote or action on the part of the board of directors. Each such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of said bank. No director shall vote or participate in any manner in such action of the board fixing the total amount of credit that may at any one time be given to himself or to any firm, copartnership or corporation in which he is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the director, agent or employee obtaining such loan, or the name of the firm, copartnership or corporation in which such director, agent or employee is interested, or the name of the corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee obtaining such loan, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor, if any, and the fact of final payment when made shall forthwith be reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such bank to the superintendent of banks; provided, that any loan made to any corporation of which any director, officer, agent or employee of such commercial bank owns not more than five per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation nor any loan made to any corporation which any two or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such commercial bank own not more than twenty per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation shall not be reported to the superintendent of banks. In case a loan is made to a corporation there shall be reported in the same manner the name of each director and officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, director, officer or employee of such borrowing corporation and the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation. All the provisions of this section relating to reports shall apply to the granting of credit and all loans made under any credit given and payments made thereon shall also be reported immediately after the same is made. In case of a loan made without the previous authorization of the directors, the fact of making such loan shall forthwith be reported and the action of the board of directors, in confirming or refusing to confirm such loan within thirty days thereafter, and the fact of final payment when made shall be reported in the same manner as herein required for loans made under previous authorization. Any officer, director, agent, or employee of a commercial bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such commercial bank contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the State of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such commercial bank may be members or officers, but in which they have no financial interest.

No loan may be made to any corporation a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors or officers, or directors and officers of such commercial bank collectively, except with the previous consent of the superintendent of banks.

Loans may be made to any director, other than an officer, directly or indirectly, or to any agent or employee of a commercial bank, on the security of United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for repayment of principal or interest, or those issued under authority of the United States, notwithstanding anything in this section contained, and such loans may be made in the usual manner of making loans in which no director of such bank is interested.

Sec. 32. Section ninety of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 90. Any corporation which has been or shall be incorporated under the laws of this state, which is authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, which has its principal place of business in a city in which the population does not exceed one hundred thousand persons and which has a capital of not less than one hundred thousand dollars actually paid in, in cash, assigned to or available for the purpose of conducting business in any such capacity, or trust business of any character permitted by law, and which has made with the state treasurer the deposit of money or securities of the character and in the amount ^{Trust} required by the terms of section ninety-six of this act, and _{companies.} which has received from the superintendent of banks the certificate of authority required by the terms of section one hundred twenty-seven of this act, to transact such business, and any corporation which has been or shall be incorporated under the laws of this state, which is authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, which has its principal place of business in a city in which the population exceeds one hundred thousand persons and which has a capital of at least two hundred thousand dollars actually paid in, in cash, assigned to or available for the purpose of conducting business in any such capacity, or trust business of any character permitted by law, and which has made with the state treasurer the deposit of money or securities of the character and in the amount required by the terms of section ninety-six of this act, and which has received from the superintendent of banks the certificate of authority required by the terms of section one hundred twenty-seven of this act, to transact such business, may act, or may be appointed by any court to act, in any such capacity in like manner as an individual, and when so qualified shall be known as a trust company. Any such trust company may, as provided in this act, accept or receive any deposit of money or personal property authorized, directed or permitted to be made with any such corporation by any court or law of this state, and may accept and execute any trust provided for in this act, or permitted by any law of this state, to be taken, accepted or executed by an individual. Any such trust company, if located in a city the population of which does not exceed one hundred thousand persons must segregate that portion of its capital and surplus assigned to or available for its trust business and must apportion and set aside at least fifty thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside at least fifty thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it and whenever such trust company shall, under the provisions of sections ninety-six and ninety-eight of this act, be required to make the first additional deposit of securities with the state treasurer, such trust company must also apportion and set aside an additional fifty thousand dollars of paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside an additional fifty thousand dollars of paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it, and any such trust company, if located in a city, the population of which exceeds one hundred thousand persons, must segregate that portion of its capital and surplus assigned to or available for its trust business and must apportion and set aside at least one hundred thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside at least one hundred thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it; provided, that no such trust company shall at any time be required to apportion and set aside any portion of its surplus as security for the faithful performance and execution of such private trusts, nor shall it be prohibited from so doing; and provided, further, that the respective amounts of capital or capital and surplus so apportioned and set aside shall be treated in all respects as the separate capital or capital and surplus of each respective kind or class of business, as though the same were conducted by separate and distinct corporations, and each shall be kept, held, used and disposed of wholly for the exclusive benefit, protection and security of the respective classes of trust business to which the same were respectively so apportioned and set aside. In all cases in which it is required that an executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, shall qualify by taking and subscribing an oath, or in which an affidavit is required, it shall be a sufficient qualification by such corporation if such oath be taken and subscribed or such affidavit be made by the president, vice president, secretary, manager, trust officer or assistant trust officer, and such officer shall be liable for the failure of such trust company to perform any of the duties required by law to be performed by an individual acting in the capacity and subject to like penalties; provided, any such appointment as guardian shall apply to the estate only, and not to the person.

Powers of trust company when member of federal reserve
bank.

Any trust company upon becoming a member of a federal reserve bank is authorized and empowered:

To continue to administer, execute, enjoy and exercise all court and private trusts as defined in the bank act, powers, rights, privileges, and other fiduciary relations, appointments and business it may have at the time of becoming such trust company member, and also to take, execute and administer all new court and private trusts as defined in said bank act, including the right to the appointment of all fiduciary capacities in which it may be named in wills theretofore and thereafter executed and probated, and other appointments, powers, privileges and business, of every kind and nature, as may be then or thereafter permitted to, but subject to the same requirements and limitations as may be imposed upon any corporation under all of the provisions of the bank act.

To hold, administer, execute, and in all respects generally handle, manage and dispose of, without charge, restriction, limitation or impairment of any nature, all of its investments, rights, interests, titles to property, contractual, legal and other rights, obligations or liabilities, of every kind or nature, court and private trusts as defined in the bank act, and other powers which it may be then permitted to exercise by law.

A foreign corporation may be authorized to act in this state as trustee for the following purposes: Foreign corporation as trustee.

- (1) To deliver bonds, and receive payment therefor.
- (2) To deliver permanent bonds in exchange for temporary bonds of the same issue.
- (3) To deliver refunding bonds in exchange for those of a prior issue or issues.
- (4) To register bonds, or to exchange registered bonds for coupon bonds, or coupon bonds for registered bonds.
- (5) To pay interest on such bonds, and to take up and cancel coupons representing such interest payments.
- (6) To redeem and cancel bonds when called for redemption, or to pay and cancel bonds when due.
- (7) The certification of registered bonds for the purpose of exchanging registered bonds for coupon bonds.
- (8) To act as trustee under any mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument securing notes or bonds issued by any corporation.

Sec. 33. Section ninety-two of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1913, p. 178, amended.

Sec. 92. Any public administrator may deposit any or all moneys of any estate upon which he is administering, not required for the current expenses of such administration, with any such trust company authorized to transact business in the county, or city and county in which he is acting as such administrator. Any court having jurisdiction of an estate being administered by a public administrator, may direct such administrator to deposit all or any part of the moneys of said estate with any such trust company. Such deposit shall relieve the public administrator from depositing with the county treasurer the moneys so deposited with such trust company. Moneys so deposited by a public administrator may be drawn, upon the order of such administrator, countersigned by a judge of the superior court, when required for the purposes of administration, or otherwise. Deposit of trust funds by public administrator.

Sec. 34. Section one hundred one of said act, approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 1132, amended.

Sec. 101. For the purposes of this act, all trusts permitted to be accepted or executed by any such trust company, under any provision of this act are hereby classified and defined as either: Classification of trusts.

- (a) Court trusts; or,
- (b) Private trusts.

Court trust.

A court trust is one in which any such trust company acts under appointment, order or decree of any court, as executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, or in which it receives on deposit from a public administrator, under any provision of this act, or from any executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, under any order or decree of any court money or property.

Private trust.

Any other trust is a private trust; provided, that the creator of any private trust of which a trust company shall be made, or at any time come to be, the trustee, may, at the time of the creation of such trust, or the creator of any such private trust, or his successors in interest, and the beneficiaries thereof may, at any time, by their joint consent, direct that such trust shall be subject to and entitled to the benefit of all of the provisions of this act relating to court trusts and thereafter such trust shall for all the purposes of this act be deemed to be a court trust and wherever in this act the words "court trust" are used they shall be deemed to include private trusts which are subject to supervision except in so far as any of the provisions of this act relating to court trusts may, by their nature, be inapplicable to such private trust. Such direction shall be in writing addressed to the trustee and a copy thereof, certified by the trustee, delivered to the superintendent of banks.

In case such direction shall be made after the acceptance of the trust, the trustee shall have the right to resign as such and a new trustee shall be appointed as provided in the trust instrument or by law. The inspection and supervision of the superintendent of banks shall extend only to court trusts as herein defined and to private trusts subjected to the provisions of this act relating to court trusts as above provided; except, that the superintendent of banks, his attorneys, examiners or other assistants may, in the examination of the bank, inspect and inquire into any private trust or trusts administered by such bank.

Private trusts, except as in this section provided, shall not be subject to the inspection or supervision of the superintendent of banks, his attorneys, examiners or other assistants.

In making the reports to the superintendent of banks required by this act, every trust company shall, in addition to the other facts to be reported by it, furnish only a list and brief description of the court trusts and private trusts, which are subject to supervision, held by it, the source of appointment thereto, the authority by which the appointment or deposit was made, and the amount of real or personal property held by such trust company by virtue thereof.

Receiving money in escrow.

Nothing in this act contained shall make it unlawful for any person or corporation not subject to the supervision of the superintendent of banks to engage in the business of receiving and holding in escrow money or its equivalent pending investment in real estate or securities for or on account of his or its principal, or of acting as trustee under deeds of trust given solely for the purpose of securing obligations for the repayment of money, other than corporation bonds.

Sec. 35. Section one hundred thirty-nine of said act approved March 1, 1909, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1917, p. 619, amended.

Sec. 139. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of every bank to examine fully, or to cause a committee of at least three of its members, none of whom shall be an officer of the bank, to examine fully into the books, papers and affairs of the bank of which they are directors, and particularly into the loans and discounts thereof, with a special view to ascertaining the value and security thereof, and of the collateral security, if any given, in connection therewith, and into such other matters as the superintendent of banks may require; such examination to be made at least once a year, but no such subsequent yearly examinations shall be made within three months of the next preceding examination. Such directors shall have power to employ such assistance in making such examinations as they may deem necessary. Within thirty days after the completion of such examination, a report in writing thereof, sworn to by the directors making the same, shall be made by the board of directors of such bank, and placed on file with the records of said bank, and shall be subject to examination by the superintendent of banks. Examination by board of directors.

Such report shall particularly contain a statement of the assets and liabilities of the bank examined, as shown by its books, together with any deductions from the assets, or additions to liabilities, which such directors or committee, after such examination, may determine to make. It shall also contain a statement, in detail, of loans, if any, which in their opinion are worthless or doubtful, together with their reasons for so regarding them; also a statement of loans made on collateral security, which in their opinion are insufficiently secured, giving in each case the amount of the loan, the name and market value of the collateral, if it has any market value, and if not, a statement of that fact, and its actual value as nearly as possible. Such report shall also contain a statement of overdrafts, of the names and amounts of such as they consider worthless or doubtful, and a full statement of such other matters as affect the solvency and soundness of the bank. Report.

If the directors of such bank shall fail to make such examination or fail to cause it to be made, or shall fail to file such report of such examination in the manner and within the time specified, the superintendent of banks shall have authority to make or cause to be made an extra examination of such bank, at the expense of such bank. Failure to make examination.

Whenever the board of directors of any bank may determine by resolution, duly entered in its minutes, that a special examination shall be made or caused to be made by the superintendent of banks in lieu of the examination herein required Special examination.

to be made by the board of directors of such bank, a certified copy of such resolution shall be transmitted to the superintendent of banks, whereupon it shall be the duty of the superintendent of banks to make or cause to be made a special examination of the affairs of such bank in lieu of the examination of such bank by the board of directors thereof. Such special examination shall be made at such time as the superintendent of banks may determine but in any event such examination shall be made within sixty days after the receipt by the superintendent of banks of the resolution hereinbefore referred to. The cost of making such examination shall be a charge against the bank for which such examination is made.

Upon the completion of such examination the superintendent of banks shall cause a report thereof in writing to be prepared and delivered to the board of directors of such bank at such time as may be fixed by the superintendent of banks, but not later than thirty days after the completion of such examination.

The superintendent of banks may accept in lieu of the directors' examination herein provided for any year any examination, made, during such year, by the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, of any bank which is a member of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco.

Urgency measure.

SEC. 36. This act, inasmuch as its object is to make available without delay the resources of the state banks of California to present and insistent agricultural, industrial and manufacturing necessities, is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and under the provisions of section one, article four of the state constitution, it shall take effect immediately.

The present urgent, financial need of California is a greater liquidity of its banking assets and a larger available credit. This act is designed to fulfill the promise of departmental banking in this state by granting a larger measure of freedom to and liquidity of the tremendous banking assets of California; this act grants to state banks particularly the same freedom in uttering acceptances and the same liberal loaning capacity now enjoyed by national banks in this state.

Sixty per cent of the banking resources of California are resident in state banks but upon national banks in this state has been thrown the great bulk of the commercial credit burden of our productive enterprises. This act is intended, as far as safely will permit, to bring to the relief of the situation the banking and credit resources of the state banks.

Our financial readjustment is largely dependent upon our ability to resume safely and profitably, our foreign trade. The existing economic disturbance in nation and state is measurably the result of our inability to sell our products abroad. The so-called Edge act corporations, which are designed to function in foreign trade much as the federal reserve system has functioned in domestic finance, will solve this problem.

The foreign trade corporation now being organized under congressional authority must receive the support of the state banks of California if California products now unsold are to find a foreign market. By act of congress national banks in California are permitted to and are now subscribing for stock of this foreign trade corporation. State banks cannot do so unless and until this act is a law of this state. Time is the essence of this situation and the movement of California dried fruits, canned fruits, cotton, wool, etc., is essentially dependent upon this act, the urgency of which is apparent.

CHAPTER 781.

An act concerning the waterfront of the city and county of San Francisco.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In addition to the powers now possessed by the board of state harbor commissioners to open along the water front line of the city and county of San Francisco a thoroughfare of a uniform width of two hundred feet, and to lay out and open up other water front streets of said city and county the said board is authorized and is hereby given the power to acquire needed lands for that purpose by purchase or to exchange therefor upon an equitable basis any portion or portions of the property of the State of California, under the jurisdiction of said board, lying inland of the inshore line of the said contemplated thoroughfare or water front streets, or to sell any of said inland property, and to apply the proceeds thereof to the purchase of any of said needed lands, and a full record of the proceedings of the said board in said regard shall be entered upon the minutes of the board and a sworn statement of all transactions, exchanges, sales, purchases and other transactions shall be filed with the secretary of state. Said statement shall show in full the payments and receipts itemized so as to definitely exhibit the price of each parcel or parcels of land transferred, and in case of exchange, to definitely describe the parcel or parcels exchanged.

Purchase of lands for thoroughfare on San Francisco waterfront.

SEC. 2. Nothing herein contained shall curtail or limit the board's present power to acquire property for the purposes indicated by proceedings in eminent domain and the respective rights as provided herein and the power of the board to condemn shall be concurrent and neither or any shall be dependent upon the other, or any other.

SEC. 3. The said thoroughfare and said contemplated streets are hereby declared a public use in the laying out and opening of which the right of eminent domain may be exercised by the board of state harbor commissioners, in the name of the people of the State of California for the estates and rights, and in the manner provided in part three, title seven, of the Code of Civil Procedure; the said commissioners are authorized to pay, out of the harbor improvement fund, any compensation and damages assessed in such proceedings.

SEC. 4. The said board shall have and it is hereby granted similar power as hereinabove provided for the purpose of acquiring any land held in private ownership seaward of the waterfront line for the purposes of commerce and navigation, and any land lying seaward of the waterfront line of the city and county of San Francisco is necessary for commerce and navigation and is hereby declared a public use for that purpose.

SEC. 5. The board is further authorized to acquire by purchase or by exchange of property, any lands along the waterfront of the city and county of San Francisco for the purpose of the commerce of the port and upon such acquisition, the line of jurisdiction of said board shall be extended so as to embrace said property.

CHAPTER 782.

SEC. 2. The management and control of said Bay Farm island reclamation district is hereby made subject to the provisions of article two of chapter one of title eight of part three of the Political Code of the State of California relating to swamp and overflowed lands and reclamation districts, or any amendments or additions thereto. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the management and control of said Bay Farm island reclamation district shall be vested in three trustees who shall hold office until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified. A. L. Stone and Henry M. Wolff and Otto von Geldern are hereby appointed trustees for said reclamation district to act until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified. An election of three trustees shall be held in said district on the third Tuesday in October, one thousand nine hundred twenty-six, and on the third Tuesday in October every four years thereafter, at which said elections the trustees of the said district are to be elected in pursuance with the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California thereunto appertaining, and the trustees so elected shall hold office until said successors are elected or appointed and qualified.

In case of any vacancy in the office of trustees of said district the governor of this state shall appoint some person as trustee who shall hold said office until the next election. All trustees whether appointed by the governor of this state, or named herein, or elected as herein provided, shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor of this state.

The office and principal place of business of said district shall be in the city of Oakland and in such place as the board of trustees may from time to time fix.

The board of supervisors of the county of Alameda shall have jurisdiction of all matters concerning said district to the same extent as if the said district were formed under the provisions of the said Political Code of the State of California, except as otherwise provided in this act.

All funds of said district shall be deposited with the county treasurer of the said county of Alameda, and shall be disbursed by the treasurer of said county in payment of the warrants of the district.

A majority of the board of trustees of said district shall adopt by-laws, not inconsistent with the laws of the State of California, for the government and control of the affairs of the district. The by-laws thus adopted must be signed by a majority of the board of trustees, and must be by them filed with the county recorder of Alameda county, and by him recorded in a book kept by him for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to reclamation. The by-laws thus adopted may be amended at any time in the same manner that the original by-laws were adopted. Said district and the trustees thereof shall have all the rights and powers, which are now, or may hereafter be, conferred by the provisions of the Political Code or by other laws of the State of California upon reclamation or swamp land districts. The board of trustees shall have the power to elect one of its members president thereof, to employ engineers and others to survey, plan, locate and estimate the cost of work necessary for the reclamation of the lands of the district; to thereafter at any time in its discretion modify or change such original plan or plans, or adopt new, supplemental or additional plan or plans, when in its judgment the same shall have become necessary; to acquire by purchase, condemnation, or other legal means the right of way and the right to take material for the construction of all works necessary for the accomplishment of that object, including the right to acquire by purchase, condemnation or other legal means, any existing works of reclamation including such drains, canals, sluices, bulkheads, water-gates, levees, embankments and pumping plants as may have been heretofore constructed or erected at or near the said Bay Farm island reclamation district, and which in the opinion of said trustees are or may be necessary to the general plan or plans decided upon by said trustees for the reclamation of the said district. The said Bay Farm island reclamation district shall also have the right and power to join with other reclamation districts, levee districts, or swamp land districts, or other persons in the construction and maintenance of reclamation works, and to contract for the same, and also to do other acts and things that may be incident to or necessary to the reclamation of the lands of the said district as the board of trustees thereof may determine. All the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, unless inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are made a part of this act and shall be deemed to be incorporated herein. And the said reclamation district hereby created shall have the power in addition to the power hereby conferred, to do all other acts or things that any other reclamation district in the State of California shall have the power to do under any existing law, or any law hereinafter enacted. The said Bay Farm island reclamation district shall have the right to construct or purchase or lease works of reclamation either within or without the boundaries of the reclamation district for the purpose of promoting the reclamation of lands within said district.

SEC. 3. Any reclamation district wholly situate within the boundaries of said reclamation district is hereby dissolved, Dissolution of existing district. except for the purpose of liquidation, if such be necessary, and the disposition of its property, if any there be, and for this purpose only is the existence of said district contained. Any land situate within the boundaries of Bay Farm island reclamation district is hereby excluded from any such reclamation district.

SEC. 4. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with or inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. Repealed.

CHAPTER 783.

An act concerning the registration, numbering, and use of air craft, and the licensing of operators thereof.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The term "air craft" as used in this act shall include every kind of vehicle or structure intended for use as a means of transporting passengers or goods, or both, in the air; the term "aeronaut" shall include every person who, being in or upon an air craft or anything attached thereto, undertakes to direct its ascent, course, or descent in the air or the ascent, course, or descent in the air of anything attached to such air craft; the word "fly" or the word "voyage" shall include every kind of locomotion by an air craft. Definitions.

SEC. 2. No air craft shall be flown from any point in this state or to any point in this state unless said air craft is registered as provided by section three of this act, except as provided by section nine hereof. Registration of aircraft.

SEC. 3. Every owner of one or more air craft kept in this state, shall file, annually, in the office of the superintendent of the motor vehicle department, upon a blank furnished by the superintendent, a statement of his name, residence, and post office address, and a description of each air craft owned by him, and shall give such other information pertaining thereto as shall be required by the superintendent; and said superintendent shall register each air craft, assigning to it a distinguishing number, and shall thereupon issue to such owner a certificate of registration which shall contain the name, place of residence, and post office address of such owner, the number assigned to such air craft, and such further information as said superintendent may determine. Such certificate shall at all times be carried upon such air craft and shall be subject to examination, upon demand by any proper officer. An applicant for the registration of an air craft who does not file his application until after the first Certificate issued by superintendent of motor vehicle department.

Transfer of
ownership.

day of June in any year shall be entitled to a pro-rata reduction in the fee for such registration, calculated to the first day of the month in which application is made. Upon the transfer of ownership of any air craft its registration shall expire, and the person in whose name such air craft is registered shall forthwith return the certificate of registration to the superintendent, with a written notice stating the date of such transfer of ownership and the name, place of residence, and post office address of the new owner. The registration of every air craft shall expire at midnight on the thirty-first day of December in each year.

Expiration of registration.

Number
plate.

SEC. 4. Every air craft shall, at all times when in use or operation within this state, have displayed thereon, in a conspicuous place and in the manner directed by the superintendent of the motor vehicle department, a plate or marker bearing, in figures not less than three feet in height the distinguishing number assigned to said air craft.

License to operate
air craft.

SEC. 5. No person, except as hereinafter provided, shall direct or operate an air craft or act as aeronaut of any air craft until he shall have obtained from the superintendent of the motor vehicle department a license for that purpose as hereinafter provided. No such license shall be issued until said superintendent has caused the applicant to be examined by boards of one or more competent persons, who shall serve without compensation, said examination to be conducted in such manner as said superintendent may determine and said board is satisfied that the applicant is a proper person to receive such license, except that said superintendent may issue, without examination, a license to any aeronaut holding a license from any association of individuals or societies formed for the purpose of promoting the science of aeronautics or aviation, if the standing and character of such association is such that said boards are satisfied that such license has been issued after due examination and deliberation. In any case the applicant must be able to pass the tests required by the United States army or navy for a military or naval aviator or aeronaut. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the operating of an air craft by an unlicensed person nineteen years of age or more, other than a person whose application has been refused or revoked, if accompanied by a licensed aeronaut, which licensed aeronaut shall be personally liable for any violation of the provisions of this act, or if receiving flying instruction from a regularly established flying school.

Examination.

Classes of licenses.

SEC. 6. Licenses for directing or operating an air craft shall be issued by said superintendent, but no license shall be issued by said superintendent to any person under the age of nineteen years, and such licenses shall be divided into three separate classes: License to operate spherical balloons; license to operate dirigible balloons; license to operate aeroplanes or heavier-than-air machines. Applications for licenses shall be made upon blanks furnished by said superintendent, which blanks shall be in such form and shall contain such provisions, not inconsistent with this act as said superintendent may determine. A number shall be assigned to each license and a proper record of all applications for licenses and of all licenses issued shall be kept by said superintendent at his office and shall be open to public inspection. Each license shall state the name, place of residence, and post office address of the licensee and the number assigned to him, the class of air craft to be operated, and such provisions, not inconsistent with this act as the superintendent may determine. Such license shall expire at midnight on the last day of December in each year. Such license, shall at all times be carried by the licensee when he is directing or operating an air craft in this state, and shall be subject to examination upon demand, by any proper officer.

SEC. 7. The superintendent of the motor vehicle department shall collect fees as follows: For the registration of every air craft, five dollars; for examinations and tests of an applicant for a license to direct and operate air craft, as provided in this act, such sum as he may require, in any instance not exceeding twenty-five dollars; for a license to operate and direct air craft, two dollars; for every additional copy of a certificate of registration or license, fifty cents.

SEC. 8. The superintendent of the motor vehicle department may, after due hearing suspend or revoke any certificate of registration or any license to operate issued to any person under the provisions of this act, for any cause which he may deem sufficient.

SEC. 9. Any nonresident of this state may operate an air craft in this state without complying with the provisions of this act, relative to the registration of air craft and the licensing of aeronauts; provided, that the said nonresident shall secure special authority from the superintendent of the motor vehicle department before any exhibition flight.

SEC. 10. No aeronaut shall engage in aerial acrobatics below an altitude of one thousand five hundred feet, nor over populated or built over districts, whether land or water, nor over an enclosure at a meet or exhibition which is not closed to spectators. By "aerial acrobatics" is meant any manipulation of the controls which may tend to divert the aircraft from a normal flight with every consideration for stability and safety. No air craft shall fly over any part or section within the limits of any city in the State of California at a height lower than that enabling such aircraft to glide, in any emergency and at all times, to an open or unobstructed place on land or water, except at the beginning or end of a flight.

SEC. 11. Any person operating an air craft in this state who fails to comply with any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars, or imprisoned not more than six months or both.

U. S. air craft
excepted.

SEC. 12. All air craft and aeronauts operating under authority of the United States government are excepted from the provisions contained in this act.

In case of
U. S. legislation.

SEC. 13. It is hereby determined that until the congress of the United States passes legislation to control and direct the operation of all air craft over all of the territory and territorial waters of the United States, at which time the provisions of this act shall automatically cease and become void, all air craft operating within the geographical limits of the State of California shall be governed by the provisions hercof.

CHAPTER 784.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act prescribing terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state and providing penalties and forfeitures for noncompliance," approved May 10, 1915, as amended by an act approved May 11, 1917, by adding a new section thereto to be numbered three a.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby added to the act entitled "An act prescribing terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state and providing penalties and forfeitures for noncompliance," approved May 10, 1915, a new section to be numbered three a and to read as follows:

Certificate
showing names of directors and managers.

Sec. 3a. No state license therefor shall be issued unless there be filed with the secretary of state, at the time of the payment of the license tax imposed by this act, a certificate under the hand of the secretary of said corporation setting forth the names and addresses of each and all of the acting directors and managers of said corporation at the time of paying said tax.

It is hereby made the duty of the secretary of state to mail on or before the first day of December of each year a notice to every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act, notifying such corporation that such certificate is required as a prerequisite to the issuance of such license, and he shall mail with said notice a printed form, to be prepared by his office, upon which such certificate shall be made. Immediately after the first Monday in February of each year the secretary of state shall mail a notice to every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act and which has failed to file such certificate notifying such corporation of the penalty for failure to file such certificate. Within ten days after the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March of each year, the secretary of state shall, by registered mail, notify such corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act and which has failed to file such certificate that such corporation has been recorded by him as a "suspended" or "forfeited" corporation in accordance with the provisions of this act, and that such suspension or forfeiture may be removed by complying with the provisions of this act. Mailing by the secretary of state to any corporation of any of the notices required by this section shall not be a jurisdictional prerequisite to the accrual of any forfeiture provided by this act, or to the suspension of the corporate powers of any delinquent corporation and the officers thereof hereinafter provided, nor be held to be an essential prerequisite to the imposition of such or any other penalties for delinquency.

CHAPTER 785.

An act to amend sections one and five of an act entitled "An act to provide for and regulate the deposit of county and municipal moneys in banks and banking corporations, limiting the amount of public moneys that may be deposited therein, and providing a penalty for the illegal deposit and use thereof," approved March 23, 1907, as amended.

[Approved June 3, 1921. In effect August 2, 1921.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to provide for and regulate the deposit of county and municipal moneys in banks and banking corporations, limiting the amount of public moneys that may be deposited therein, and providing a penalty for the illegal deposit and use thereof," approved March 23, 1907, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 1. All moneys belonging to any county or municipality within the state, may be deposited by any officer of such county or municipality having the legal custody of such county or municipal funds in any state or national bank or banks in this state; provided, that such bank or banks in which such moneys are deposited shall furnish as security for such deposits, bonds of the United States, or of this state, or of any county, city and county, city or school district within this state, or of any irrigation, or county water works district organized under the laws of this state and which bonds are legal for investments by savings banks in this state, approved by the officer making the deposit and the district attorney for the county or the attorney for the municipality to which the deposit belongs. The market value of the bonds furnished as security, shall be at least ten per cent in excess of the amount of the deposit secured thereby; but the amount of the deposit shall in no case exceed the face
