TEAMS READY FOR FIRST GAME OF WORLD SERIES

M'Grow to Start Art Neff Against Joe Bush in Opener Tomorrow

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The subway and its network of feeding arteries, otherwise known as the "Roaring Forties" have begun to run the first game of New York's private little big series for the world's championship a matter of twenty-four hours away. Thousands of visitors from points west, south and north are parading the famous thoroughfare, standing in hotel lobbies and dispersing themselves as might suit their convenience.

The annual convention of the American Bankers' association has cast 10,000 members on the life stream of the town. When not engaged in the problems of finance they stand around and discuss the respective chances of the Giants and Yanks. Old timers of the ball field are here, which is nothing new. They always rally around a world series.

Fans from other sections of the country, the incurable specimen, who must be in at the death, baseball correspondents armed with typewriters and a determination to miss nothing helps to swell the throng.

Serve Special Weather
A warm almost mid-summer sun shines down on all. It is supposed, according to the weather bureau to spread its stuff Thursday tomorrow and probably Thursday with the possibility that showers and cooler weather may occur later in the week.

The rest of the details have been swept up in a neat, tidy pile. No reserved tickets are on hand in either office and only the 22,000 unreserved seats for each day remain. These will be disposed of the day of each game and purchasers will be required to enter the park immediately, an honest attempt to break up speculation.

The teams will engage in their last workout today. This does not mean much, if anything. Both are in first class condition and nothing they can do in the meantime will bring a finer edge to their form before game time tomorrow.

NORTHWEST SEEKS PLACE FOR LIBRARY

City Manager Reeves Will Make Investigation and Report to Council

A committee of six from the Glendale Foothill Improvement association, including Mrs. Myrtle Buckman, chairman; Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Botsford, Mrs. C. Elmer, Mrs. C. Neushorn, are present at the regular meeting of the library board last night relative to the selection of a site in the northwest section of the city for a branch library, which is being taken under consideration by the library board.

The board has been allowed $600 for the branch library, but they desire to keep this amount intact for the purchasing of books and equipment, rather than put it into a building.

Appeal to Council
After attending the library board meeting the committee adjourned to the city council meeting, where they made a request that a second story be added to the new firehall in the Grand View district for use as branch library headquarters.

The committee was advised by the council that this would be impossible as the building was not so constructed as to take an additional story. City Manager William H. Reeves was authorized by the city council to investigate and report regarding a suitable location.

At the library board meeting action was taken on some improvements to the present library on Harvard street, including new book stacks, etc. The members of the library board are O. Spence, president; Flora M. Temple, secretary; T. W. Preston, Genevieve D. Goss and Mrs. Charles A. Barker.

SPORTSMEN BACK FROM DUCK HUNT

Glendale Men at Big Bear Receive News of Tragedy After They Left

A group of Glendale sportsmen returned to the city last night after spending Saturday night, Sunday and Monday at Big Bear, as the guests of George Bentley. The trip to Big Bear was made Saturday night when three automobile loads of local business men made the trip, arriving at 11 p. m.

Sunday morning saw the men up at 2 a. m. It is reported, when the men went duck hunting. While Mr. Bentley was said to have been lucky enough to catch a good meal of ducks for his guests, it is reported that the rest were not quite so lucky.

"There was a man for every duck," states James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, who was one of the party. In fact it was reported that there was so much shooting going on that stray bits of shot came close to the party a number of times.

News of Tragedy Reached them.

Two men are dead and a third wounded as a result of a shooting fray which occurred when F. Harding, a 63-year-old peach grower of Van Nuys, ran amuck at Bell's duck lodge in Big Bear valley.

Harding shot and killed R. C. Belt, owner of the lodge, and wounded Walter Heffner, a boat-man, before he was killed by Floyd Armentrout, firing in self-defense.

Game Warden Malone said today that he believed Harding had become insane as a result of brooding over the loss of a daughter few weeks ago.

Record Enrollment at High School Is 1486 and Growing

Enrollment at Glendale Union High school, according to a statement this morning by Principal George U. Moyle, now totals 1486.

One hundred and sixty-five students have registered at the local high school since the opening of school this term. The first day of school showed a registration of 1321.

Last year 1016 pupils were in attendance the first week of school. This number was increased considerably before the first school month was over.

The attendance figures are considered very significant by Mr. Moyle. He calls attention to the fact that, if the enrollment grows during the school year as it did last term, the increase over last year will be even larger than anticipated.

ENGAGEMENT IS TOLD TO FRIENDS

An announcement of interest in Glendale social circles is that of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Margaret M'Pherson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. M'Pherson of 607 North Central avenue, to Lawrence B. Stuart, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stuart of 1007 East Harvard street.

White, superintendent of the city schools, since her graduation from high school, and her many friends will be interested in the announcement made last night at an informal affair she gave at her home on North Central avenue.

Mr. Stuart and his parents came to California from the state of Maine eight years ago and made their home for six years in Los Angeles, where he attended school. During the past two years they have resided in Glendale.

At the affair last night games of five-hundred were enjoyed and the announcement was cleverly made during a luncheon at the close of the card games. Prizes for the games were awarded to Miss Elsie Tyler and Miss Mary Longley, Miss Tyler winning first prize, while the consolation prize went to Miss Longley.

Miss M'Pherson invited for the affair Mrs. W. A. Stuart and the Misses Marian Rich, Mary Longley, Faith Tarling, Elsie Tyler, Helen Cobb, Dora Wainwright, Alice Lookabaugh, Dorothy Jane Bolt and Marian Hindman.

EARLY SETTLERS HAD VISION OF CITY GROWTH

But Sixteen Years Ago They Little Dreamed That It Would Be So Great

Back in 1906 when the village of Glendale was incorporated, it was designated as an "over-done townsite" and this gloomy compliment hinted at Eagle Rock as well, for, while Glendale had the lead, nevertheless both cities were in the formative period and what the future held for them was a matter of conjecture.

Had anyone been visionary enough at that time to predict that in sixteen years Glendale would be nationally known as "the fastest growing city of its class in the United States," with a population of more than 32,000, while Eagle Rock would be a thriving community of 6,000 people, he would have been laughed at.

Vast Sheep Pasture
To everyone of these 32,000 or more persons it is interesting to recall that the whole lower portion of the San Fernando valley was originally a vast sheep pasture, practically all of it being included within the confines of the Verdugo Rancho. Deciduous orchards, citrus groves and vineyards occupied the major part of what is now the site of the city of Glendale and its environs, when the present city was born.

When Erskine M. Ross and Capt. C. E. Thom acquired their interest in the vast Rancho in 1870 and began improving their tract it must have been a stupendous undertaking. The land was as it was in the days of the padres and the dons. Chaparral and cactus flourished, the live oak and poison oak were abundant, and the coyote, the shot-tail cat, the rattlesnake and horned toad held title to the land by virtue of possession and numbers.

Improved Tract
Much time and money were spent in improving the tract, making experiments as to what crops could be raised to best advantage, bringing water from the canyon and protecting the land from the waters of the Arroyo Seco.

On Thanksgiving day, 1883, there were thirteen families living here, and all joined in a picnic dinner at the Chase home on Glendale avenue, later the Wilmore Parcher home.

And so the years passed, but instead of marking time as many of the California boom towns the "over-done townsite" grew steadily but surely. Glendale statistics as published frequently in the Evening News tell us that the population in 1910 was 2,742; in 1920 it was 13,356; and today it is more than 32,000. There follows a whole column of statistics that reflect the growth of the city and proves its claim to the motto, "Glendale the fastest growing city of its size in the United States."

Allen Pollock New Senior Class Head

Allen Pollock of 419 West Park avenue yesterday was elected president of the senior class at Glendale Union High school.

The class of 1923 yesterday elected Earl T. Brown and Mrs. Helen S. Moir, both members of the science department, as class teachers.

The result of election was as follows: President—Allen Pollock, 128; Harold Heacock, 44; vice-president—Miss Elizabeth Higgins, 99; Albert Bryant, 50; Miss Margaret Eckles, 26; secretary—Miss Frances Wyman, 70; Miss Jane Fritch, 65; Miss Dorothy McGinnis, 35; treasurer—George Jansen, 164.

Glendale Hunters Go 700 Miles for Ducks

Tommy Tucker had to sing for his supper but a party of local hunters had to go 700 miles for a mess of ducks. They didn't really have to go, but they got started in their automobile Friday night and kept going until they returned last night. Those in the party were Dr. John Anderson, 102 West California avenue; Al Salzman and Sid Salzman, 1913 Gardena avenue; and W. T. McCormick, 519 Pioneer drive. The itinerary included Banning, and a tour of the entire Imperial Valley. According to report they got the limit—and no mud hens off the Salton Sea.

CLAIM U. S. TRYING TO AID MEXICAN REVOLUTION
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3.—Mexican newspapers this morning published stories under the sensational headline: "United States government trying to encourage revolution in Mexico." ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 3.—Governor Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia made history here today when he appointed Mrs. W. H. Mrs. Felton will not take office because of the senate not being in session to administer the oath of office. Simultaneously with the announcement of Mrs. Felton's appointment Governor Hardwick announced that he would be a candidate for the regular Democratic nomination to succeed Watson. The primary, ordered recently, will be held October 17.

U. S. WILL NOT BE RUSHED INTO WAR, SAY LEADERS
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Not only will the United States refuse to be stamped into a war in Asia-Minor at the behest of organized church interests, but it is also determined that there will be no sword rattling by the American government that might be used to the diplomatic advantage of some European nations most concerned in the Turco-Grecian embroglio, it was asserted today by authorized spokesmen for the administration. A definite combination apparently is under way, it was said, to push America off the neutrality perch and force this government either through diplomatic or military channels to align itself with one or another of the European political factions, whose activities have contributed to the present situation in Asia-Minor. It was marked with some impatience today by high government officials that most of the "insistence" for American intervention in the Turco-Grecian situation comes from American church men abroad, whose work and activities have come directly under French and British influence which are striving for domination of south-eastern Europe.

CREDIT MEN MAY SEEK ORDINANCE

Declare Outside Peddlers Now Use City As Field to Sell Wares

It is possible that a proposed city ordinance may be drafted by the local committee of the Glendale Credit association in an effort to curb the peddling of dishonest merchandise in the city by men who come here from other cities.

At a meeting of the association yesterday noon at the Chamber of Commerce dining room about forty were present. A good share of the period was spent in discussing what is declared by many to be "an injustice to the residents and merchants."

It is not certain just what action will be taken in the matter, according to Frank H. Pilling, secretary of the association. The committee will make a thorough investigation, and if necessary, draft the proposed ordinance, it is announced.

The selling of furs in the city by peddlers recently is said to have brought up the question again. It was declared that the peddler had misrepresented his goods and charged nearly twice their actual worth.

The distribution of handbills in the city also came up for brief discussion, but no action was taken in that matter.

Imagination—the keynote of success—needs to be used. First, imagine; then plan, and finally ACT. That is the formula for success upon which any person of moderate circumstances may start a fortune from Eagle Rock real estate investments.

Barbers, school teachers, yes, even an editor, has done it, for Eagle Rock today is but the vision of the men of yesterday; men and women who possessed imagination and who acted with the firm conviction that this place was destined to become one of the fastest growing suburbs of Los Angeles.

Eagle Rock today, with a population of 6,000 and over, is a long way ahead of the expectation of even its most hopeful residents a decade ago. What of tomorrow? Are YOU one of those who can Imagine, Plan and ACT, and profit thereby?

It is the purpose of this story and the accompanying advertising to acquaint you with what is recognized as the best and safest form of investment in Eagle Rock, namely, its real estate. ### HOPES HIGH FOR NEAR EAST PEACE

Conference Is Scheduled for Allied Generals and Turkish Envoy

By JOHN HADLEY
For International News Service.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—Despite the severity of the Turkish conditions, hope ran high here today that the Mudania armistice conference would be successful in allaying the Near East war scare.

The negotiations were scheduled for 11 a. m. with the allied generals—Ismet Pasha, Kemal commander on the western front, Hamid Bey, Kemal's envoy to Constantinople, and Henri Franklin-Bouillon, "pacification emissary of the British, French and Italians," all participating. An invitation was extended to the Greek commander in Thrace to participate, but whether he accepted was not known at the time, this dispatch was written.

Propose United Front
Mustapha Kemal Pasha, commander-in-chief of the Turkish national army, was detained at Angora but it was said that he might reach Mudania before the armistice negotiations end.

The allied commanders, before leaving for Mudania, held a meeting at which they agreed to present a united front to the Turks. It is understood that allied occupation of Eastern Thrace, pending the Near East peace conference would be suggested.

The Turkish conditions as originally outlined were:

First—Turkish general armies shall aid the allies in policing Thrace.

Second—Establishing of Turkish civil administration in Eastern Thrace.

Third—Evacuation of Thrace by Greek troops within eight days after the armistice is signed.

Fourth—Occupation of the eastern bank of the Maritza river by allied troops to protect Eastern Thrace from Greek attack.

Quit Neutral Zone
Turkish troops continue to withdraw from the neutral zone on the straits. They have evacuated Bigha, a strategic point southeast of Chanak, from which it was feared, an attack would be launched against the British positions at Chanak.

Monsignor Marmaggi, representative of Pope Pius XI, who has just arrived here from Smyrna, said that the new fires in that city could be attributed to Armenian refugees.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Western Union, Wake Up! N. Y. Hogs Whole Show Richardson Will Win Register at News Office

By Gil A. Cowan

DR. HENRY R. HARROWER calls attention to the fact that the Western Union offices in the east do not know where Glendale is located in California—that is Glendale, Los Angeles county—for there is a tank town in Humboldt county which formerly had the same name.

All of which indicates that Glendale should have a telegraph office which is not a branch of Los Angeles; the same as the post office used to be. Some startling revelations about the conduct of the Western Union business might be made, but the service has been improved only after two men sacrificed their positions.

It took ten years to get an independent postoffice, and it may take longer to get an untrammeled Western Union office, but it is worth going after.

Baseball, the great American pastime, is going to get a good deal of space during the next few days while the two New York teams fight it out for the "world's championship."

It does seem a shame that only Abie Moriarity and Patrick Ginsberg and their ilk are going to get to see those games. Truly, we could not condone any player going on a barnstorming tour when New York hogs the whole show.

Caustic comment could be written about Thomas Lee Woolwine, Los Angeles county district attorney, railing the so-called "progressives" to support a most impossible piece of legislation.

It seems strange how any man, in the face of the eighteenth amendment, can occupy the county prosecutor's chair and at the same time urge light wines and alcoholic beers.

On the other hand, Friend W. Richardson, Republican nominee, tells the workingman who is buying a home, that he is going to give this state an economical administration and save us all money.

Methinks the latter will win "hands down."

If you would vote at the November election register this week at the Evening News office from 4 to 8 p. m. with any deputy registrar of voters.

It is very convenient, however, to stop at this office and qualify as an elector.

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES AND PERSONALS GATHERED IN SOUTHERN SECTION OF CITY

Various Beach Resorts Prove Great Lure to Many Residents

Gabe W. Cox reports unusually good business last week at 1510 South San Fernando road, in the South Glendale Dry Goods store.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Goudie, of 324 West Elk street, yesterday said good-bye to their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Lambrecht and son, Gordon, who left in their automobile on their return trip to Chicago. They will visit the Grand Canyon.

Heavy Auto Travel at Los Feliz and San Fernando Road

More than 20,000 automobiles every day pass the pharmacy of George B. Black, on the southeast corner of Los Feliz and San Fernando roads, according to a check just completed on Los Feliz road under the California traffic census.

An accurate tally of all machines on Los Feliz road passing this intersection was made recently by officials of the state highway department. A crew of men made their headquarters at this corner for several days, and one of its members was on the job every minute of the twenty-four hours.

A census is now being taken of all busy highways in Southern California. The purpose is to provide definite figures upon which to base action in regard to the construction and repair of highways. When the census has been completed, the state highway department will know definitely which roads are worthy of the greatest attention.

Short Items Regarding People and Business In Busy District

"The Children's Garage" is the new name of C. L. Brinkman's toy and electrical store at 1524 South San Fernando road. It has just received a new line of vehicles for the youngsters of the neighborhood.

E. J. Diegelman, who managed La Crescencia Lodge until it burned down about five weeks ago, has acquired the lunch room at 442 West Los Feliz road. Mr. Diegelman is quite famous as a chef, and has operated a number of well-known cafes in Southern California. His chicken dinners are said to be excellent specimens of the culinary art.

Chinese wool flowers, grown by James Cook, of 710 South San Fernando road, are now on display in the meat market of J. W. Mueller, at 1421 South San Fernando road. These look very much like artificial tassels made from strands of wool. They are attracting considerable attention.

A circuit of the beaches, from Santa Monica to Long Beach, was made Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Reichenbach, of 1514 South Gardner avenue. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Reichenbach of Los Angeles.

Eight markers are being placed on graves in Forest Lawn cemetery this week by C. H. Ambrosch, of the Glendale Monument Works, 1727 South Brand boulevard. Among them is one for Miss Clara Midealf, who until her death last year, was vice-principal of the Wilson avenue intermediate school.

Plans for his new home are now kept by Alan N. Fairchild in his office at 1737 South San Fernando road, where he is salesman for the W. A. Heitman Realty company. The new residence, which will be located at 1055 Verdugo Knolls drive, will be somewhat unique, according to Mr. Fairchild.

The dwelling will follow English architecture and both roof and sides will be shingled. The garage roof will be occupied by one room. The living room will be open to the peak of the roof. It will be paneled in hardwood to a height of eighteen feet. The fireplace will be out near the center of the room and will be encreased by the staircases.

The exact cost of the home will not be known until bids have been received, but its estimated cost is approximately $6500.

MEAT MARKET ON BRAND NOW OPEN

'Quality and Price Always' Motto of W. Schmidt & Son, Proprietors

"Quality and price always" is the motto under which the Class "A" meat market was opened today at the Brand Central market at 207 North Brand boulevard. The North Brand shops and stores are increasing in popularity with Glendale shoppers and the new meat market is destined to enjoy a wide patronage, the management believes.

Modern equipment has been installed in the new market and Glendale people can find no cleaner and more sanitary place in which to purchase all kinds of fresh and smoked meats, sausages and lunch meats, it is announced.

W. Schmidt and son are proprietors of the market and they are delighted with their location and announce that they have come to Glendale to stay and that they have entered business with the aim of serving their patrons satisfactorily in every detail.

School Scholarships Will Be Awarded

Mrs. Evelyn M. S. Labadie of the Emerson School of Expression, 730 South Glendale avenue, is completing plans that are to be announced shortly for a scholarship contest, to be open to all students, from beginners to professionals. The awards are to be scholarships that will range in value from $12.50 up to $300.

Tighten loose teeth at home-quick

A great many people keep an eye on their teeth, examining them frequently for signs of decay, without ever giving a thought to the condition of the gums.

The most destructive of all diseases of the teeth, Pyorrhea, hides under the gums at the base of the teeth. Often the only visible sign of its presence is a softening of the gums, which become detached from the roots of the teeth. If neglected, the teeth will first loosen and then fall out.

Watch your gums as well as your teeth if you would save your teeth. False teeth are at best a poor substitute and cost a lot of money.

DENTOMEL

Made from Fresh Lemons

Get from your druggist a bottle of DENTOMEL, the lemon juice dentifrice, now being used by leading dentists for the treatment of Pyorrhea with the most remarkable success. Apply it yourself at home twice daily, exactly as you would use any other tooth cleanser, to banish all the effects of Pyorrhea and to keep your gums as well as your teeth in a healthy, sound condition.

G. O. P. HEAD IS UNDERTAKER NOW

Quite Proper That He Lead Them In Nevada, Say Democrats of State

RENO.—Boy, page Mr. Charon, superintendent of the Styx ferry? An undertaker is chairman of the Republican state central committee of Nevada and, between funerals, is actively engaged in prosecuting the campaign for the G. O. P. ticket.

His name is Silas E. Ross. He is a member of the city council, but there his professional classification does not stand out so prominently, as there is a printer, an insurance man, a civil engineer and members of other pursuits working with him.

But, as chairman of the Grand Old Party's state central committee, he is declared to be the only "mortician" the word which appears on his neat gold-and-black sign—in the United States to be the active head of a political campaign.

The Democrats say that it is quite proper that an undertaker have charge of Republican affairs in Nevada.

The Republicans retort that "SI" Ross will officiate at the funeral of the Nevada democracy in November.

Mr. Ross does not wear white gloves when presiding at meetings of the state central committee.

Sermon Story Well Known In Glendale

A strange coincidence occurred Sunday morning when Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of the First Congregational church mentioned during the sermon hour a story that he had read by chance, regarding incidents pertaining to a spectacular fire, in Minneapolis, in which a brilliant young news editor by the name of M. S. Pickett lost his life by a fall from a fire escape.

The speaker was quite unaware that L. E. Rowley, who was present in the congregation, was a friend of Mr. Pickett, having known him quite well during three years when they were both students at the state university of Minnesota.

The fire occurred twenty-five years ago, and the building destroyed was the Tribune office at Minneapolis. Mr. Pickett was the news editor of the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

It will probably surprise Mr. Calderwood to hear that a daughter of Mr. Pickett, Mrs. I. S. Doane, is a resident of Glendale and lives at 610 South Verdugo road.

WAR VETERANS IN BATTLE ON BONUS

Drive to Elect Leader Who Opposes Measure Under Way, Announced

By J. BART CAMPBELL
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—A big drive by administration supporters to kill the so-called soldiers' bonus issue by the election of a new national commander opposed to ex-service men at the American Legion national convention at New Orleans two weeks hence was well under way today.

Harford Macnider, the present national commander, and his aides in the unsuccessful fight for the bonus at the recent session of congress declared that the issue would unquestionably be "fought all over again" at the New Orleans gathering.

Supports Harding
Colonel Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian and a world war veteran who was re-named recently as Delaware's representative on the legion's national committee, is expected to figure conspicuously at New Orleans among those urging that the position of President Harding in vetoing the house bill be sustained by the convention.

In addressing the convention of the Delaware department of 'no legion at Wilmington while the bill is still before congress, Miller declared that it had "resulted in placing the ex-service men of the country in a false light before a great number of their fellow citizens for whom they fought."

The anti-bonus forces in the New Orleans convention are depending for a great addition to their ranks from the delegates from the southern states, where opposition to the bonus has developed because of what is described as the proposed "distribution of a largess among negro ex-service men."

Mosquito Cause of Epidemic of Fever

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Denig fever, mosquito-borne disease of warm climates, has occurred in so many states throughout the south as to constitute an epidemic, it was stated at headquarters of the public health service today.

The states of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Texas are the chief sufferers, according to incomplete figures gathered by federal health officials.

PLENTY OF ACTION DUE IN VERNON'S RING TONIGHT

De Pinta, Portland Battler, and Danny Kramer to Furnish Main Event

Mike De Pinta, slashing featherweight of Portland, Oregon, and recognized as one of the best in his class on the Pacific coast, is scheduled for a severe grilling tonight at the historic Vernon fight stadium when he will appear in the main event against Danny Kramer, Los Angeles battler. Both boxers are primed for the fray, each being confident of his ability to put the skids under the other.

Probably of more interest to the fans than the main event will be the semi-windup, in which "Fighting Larry" Murphy will meet the toughest opponent yet picked for him in his brief fistic career. Young Farrell has been chosen as the other member of the combination. During the past few weeks Murphy, who is a Hollywood newsie, has entrenched himself more firmly with the fans of both Hollywood and Vernon than has been the experience of any other new man in several years. Murphy is an "up-and-at-'em" battler, slugging all of the time and giving the fans action from start to finish.

Other bouts on tonight's card are as follows: George Rivers and Frankie Novey, Ernest Owen, vs. Louie Steigmeyer, Benny Kilroy vs. Johnny Webber, Robert Moran vs. Paddy Coogins and Jack Daley vs. Eddie James.

Disastrous Journey

After dropping a large majority of their games the Los Angeles baseball team returned home yesterday after having experienced one of the most disastrous road trips in the history of the team. The team is still resting securely in third place, with little or no chance of being replaced during the remaining two weeks of the season. This fact fails to comfort Wade Killefer and his cohorts, however, as they are thoroughly convinced that the next two series will be won by them in handy fashion.

Starting today the Angels will tackle the league-leading San Francisco Seals at Washington park, while Vernon, one full game behind Frisco, will battle it out with Ivan Howard's Oaks up north. Next week Vernon will tackle the Los Angeles for a crack at the Seraphs, while the Seals will fight it out in the Bay City. The race is attracting more attention and interest this year than in any previous season and it is a safe bet that the next two weeks' games will vie in importance among the fans of Los Angeles and San Francisco with the world's series contest.

Chinese Boxer In Bout

George Lee, the little Chinese boxer from San Francisco, has been chosen to mix with Teddy Silva in the semi-windup event at the weekly fight card at Hollywood on Friday night. Lee is easily the best Oriental in the business on the coast and in his several fights here has obtained a considerable following. The main event, according to Matchmaker Frank Crowley, will be a go-between Jimmy Sacco, lightweight, and George Lavigne, welterweight. Although Sacco will be outweighed about ten pounds he is confident that he will be able to overcome his heavier opponent. Other events listed on the calendar are as follows: Willie Jackson vs. Joe Murphy, Ray Ke Lee vs. Pete Herman, Kid Mende vs. Alec Macdonald, Spec Woods vs. George Gilmore, Joe Dunn vs. Sailor Ashmore.

LUNCHEON CLUBS TO STAGE GAMES

Meet Saturday for Aid of Boy Scout Movement in Local Council

According to announcements being made there will be something doing next Saturday when the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of Glendale lock horns in a combined field meet and baseball game for the purpose of raising funds for the Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills district.

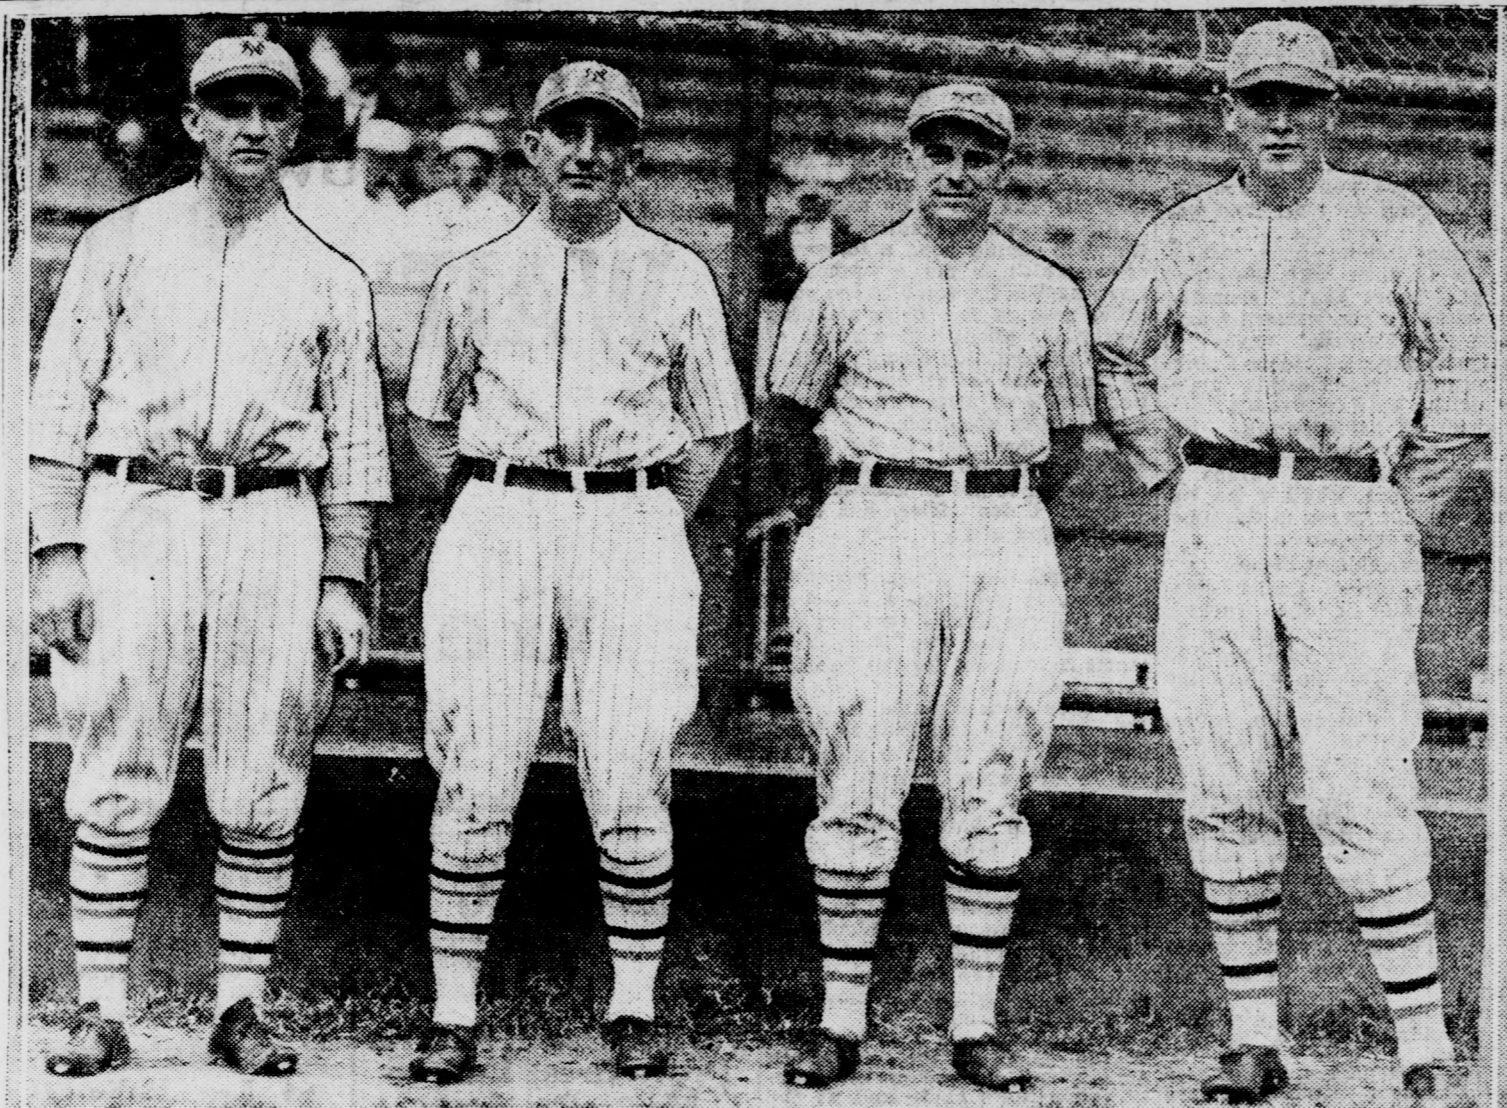

It appears that at a joint meeting of the clubs a challenge was hurled from one camp to the other for a baseball game between picked teams of the two clubs to decide the champions. Two games have been scheduled for the day, it is announced. The first game will be between the two clubs, and promises to be one of the hardest fought battles.

Following the Rotary-Kiwanis game will be another real baseball event, when the Glendale Merchants' team which has had few defeats and many victories, will play another strong team in the industrial league. The name of the team they will play has not yet been announced.

The event will be held at Park avenue and San Fernando road.

In order to demonstrate the independence won by American women, Miss J. ne Burr, novelist and poetess, is making a trip around the world clad in knickerbockers.

Giants' Slugging Outfield—Everyone Hits Over Three Hundred

STENDEL CUNNINGHAM YOUNG MEUSEL

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Edition

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—How good do the Giants' pitchers have to be to stop a team that, under the whip, scores exactly five times and gets a matter of twenty-five hits in the last five games? The answer is just a little bit better than downright bad.

The Yanks, with their accustomed lack of good taste, have selected the few days preceding the world's series to fall in their worst batting slump of the year. In the five games in question, they failed to score at all against Uble and Jack Quinn, three times in one inning against Ferguson and not at all during the remainder of the game against Pennock and once against Rip Collins in Boston and Warmouth, a recruit, in Washington yesterday.

Uble, Collins and the rest of them, barring Warmouth, are recognized as first class pitchers, when right, but the odds are against them all being right at one and the same time. Anemic hitting must have something to do with it.

Almost simultaneously McGraw has begun to get commendable pitching from Nehf, Scott and McQuillan. He has worked them a few innings, here and there, and they have done well. Nothing exceptional, of course, because three innings makes a ball game no more than one swallow makes a high ball.

The combination of fair pitching by the Giants and poor hitting by the Yanks has prompted many speculative gentlemen—who once chanced 7 to 5 on the Yanks to run to cover. Bets are being made at Doyle's at 6 to 5 and before game time Wednesday, even money very possibly will be the price of expressing one's opinion, openly arrived at.

Make Attempts to Cut Ticket Scalping

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The war against ticket speculators for the world series is on. As the fans lined up at the local baseball offices for reserved tickets, detectives coursed along the lines and any time they recognized a scalper, the gentleman in question was given the good and highly bracing air. This happened enough to leave many of the speculators without an adequate supply, one of them going so far as to try to bribe a clerk at a recognized ticket brokerage office.

Even the unreserved sections will not be overlooked by officials. As each ticket is bought the day of the game the purchasers will be required to enter the grounds immediately. This will reduce ticket scalping of unreserved seats to a minimum.

The World Over

By Franklin R. Morse
Pacific Sports Service

For the sake of undue barrenness to their trip across continent next December when they play Stanford university in California at football, it is to be hoped that Glenn Warner's charges at Pittsburg make a good showing during the season. There is always a lot of interest taken in inter-sectional games, but if one of the teams is hopelessly weaker than the other, it takes something of an effort to get up any enthusiasm in the event. However, Pittsburg has shown no signs in recent years of not being able to take mighty good care of itself.

It will be only a matter of a few days now before we know exactly what all the percentages are worth that the baseball experts and statisticians have worked out in connection with the relative playing values of members of the Giants and Yankee teams. We sometimes wonder if anybody ever takes the trouble of checking up after the thing is all over?

Battling Siki rather put the kibosh on Jack Dempsey's contemplated trip to Europe in order to have another pick at the handsome Georges Carpentier. At all events that little jaunt has been called off by the world's champion.

The top three are better than any trio McGraw can muster but they are not altogether fool proof. Shawkey, although pitching fine ball, has been beaten his last two times out. Bush also lost his last start and had to go to the rescue of Hoyt in the final Saturday. The pitching has not flopped, however. It is the hitting. If the venerable Jack Quinn, the wild-eyed Collins and a kid pitcher can do it, there is hope yet for the Giants staff, however foolish looking they may be.

Postpones Operation to Direct Big Games

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Miller Huggins, the little manager of the Yanks, is going through with the world's series on his nerve alone. Huggins is a sick man but not too ill to carry on in the face of big stakes, not only in the matter of money but honor.

Best of Weather for World Series

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Ideal weather conditions will prevail in New York during the first few days of the world's series, weather bureau officials said today. Fair weather with moderate temperatures is the prediction for tomorrow.

The World Over

By Franklin R. Morse
Pacific Sports Service

When one recalls, only a few years ago, what gala days Labor day and Thanksgiving day were in the annals of festivity, it becomes evident that the fight game is come to somewhat evil days, largely due to the fact that in the heavy-weight and light-weight divisions the title holders are too good for any of the present crop of challengers. In the other divisions, the trouble seems to be that from the title holder all down the line there is nothing but mediocrity and no outstanding figures to inject the necessary interest.

John McGraw was a bit more positive than Huggins in his claims of a Giant victory. "Of course, I expect the Giants to win," he said. "Why shouldn't they win? They are the better ball club, and they will prove it. It is said that my pitching is bad. You haven't seen anything wrong with the work of Nehf, Scott, McQuillan and Jess Barnes during the last few weeks, have you? The pitchers will stand up all right, and behind them they will have a great hitting and fielding ball club."

Both teams worked out at separate hours at the Polo Grounds this morning. They will then rest until game time Wednesday. Dave Bancroft and Frank Frisco, both of whom suffered bone bruises in a recent exhibition game at Baltimore, took part in the workout, apparently none the worse for their injuries.

Do you remember a year ago this week, Oct. 2 to 8. That Babe Ruth hit his fiftyninth home run against Fullerton, Boston. That Jay Kirke, Louisville American Association, established a world record for season's base hits with .282. That Los Angeles won the Pacific coast league pennant. That Jacobson, St. Louis, made five singles in five times at bat against pitcher Cole, Detroit. That first-base man McInnis, Boston, played his 119th errorless game against New York and Short Stop Scott, Boston, played his 832nd consecutive game.

That E. C. Quigley and C. Riggley, National League, and G. Moriarty and O. Cahill, American League, were named umpires for world series contests. That Johnny Dundee won 12-round decision from Block Richards at Dayton, Ohio. That Harry Heilman, Detroit, led the American league batting for the season with .390.

That the United States women's national golf championship opened at Deal, N. J. That Joe Stoehrer was awarded a decision over Strangler Lewis after two hours wrestling without a fall at San Francisco, Calif. That Tiff Denton, Kansas City, and Charles Otis, N. Y., won their preliminary matches in national three-cushion billiard championships at Pittsburgh, Pa.

That A. B. Cox's two-year-old filly, Helen Dillon, won the $7,000 Lexington Futurity stakes at Lexington, Ky. That the New York Americans won the first game of the world series, defeating the Giants, 3 to 0 at New York.

That Jim Barnes, national open golf champion, and Walter Hagen, professional champion, defeated Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, British professionals, 3 up and 1 to play at Bayside, N. Y. That Chicago American league defeated Chicago National league 2-0 at Chicago in inter-league city series.

ALL OF RESERVED SEATS ARE SOLD FOR BIG GAMES

Lack of Enthusiasm Seems Evident in Spite of Record Crowds Due

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—There is not enough money in the world to buy a reserved seat for the world's series at either of the local baseball headquarters. Both are sold out to the tune of 18,000 seats for the first six days, or a sum total of 108,000 tickets, and only the fact that 22,900 unreserved seats will be placed on sale on the day of each game gives the late-comer a morsel of comfort.

Throngs of tardy fans are milling through the lobbies of both offices today, trying to persuade some member of the respective staffs that they have overestimated the equation of supply and demand. To these importunists is vouchsafed only one reply:

"No more reserved tickets. Line up the day of the game."

Lack of Enthusiasm

This indicates that, contrary to reports, New York is rising to its second exclusive world's series in as many years with the same readiness that marked the 1921 series when all attendance records were broken. On that occasion, however, nine games were played against seven this year. Therefore, the actual attendance cannot be estimated at present.

It is obvious enthusiasm is not there. Local fans are a bit weary with championship ball clubs, and interest in the outcome of the series may be said to be almost nil. Partisanship is a lost art here.

Your New Yorker, however, is a creature of habit. Going to a world series is something that is done by the best of families. He does it, if the time and money are available. Hence the sell-out. Out-of-town newspapers are not sending special men to cover the series with the referee abandoned of 1921. On that occasion they came from as far off as Medicine Hat, Alberta, to say nothing of special correspondents from Cuba.

Leaders Are There

Active baseball men, however, are rallying around the event. Judge Landis, supreme head of baseball, has been here for several days. So has Garry Herrmann and a special party from Cincinnati, to say nothing of old-time players like Johnny Evers, Hans Lobert, Larry Doyle, Nick Altrock, Joe Kelley, Bob Conners and Bobby Gilks, the latter three Yankee scouts.

Miller Huggins, little douc-faced manager of the Yankees, had this to say today: "I've got my pitchers in good shape," quoth Huggins. "And I expect them to carry us through. Pitching has always decided the world's series. It will decide this one. Shawkey and Hoyt are right at the top of their stride, and both Mays and Jones have been pitching much better ball throughout the last six weeks of the season. The team has been in a batting slump during the past week, but I expect the boys to snap out of it, pronto."

Old Man Positive

John McGraw was a bit more positive than Huggins in his claims of a Giant victory. "Of course, I expect the Giants to win," he said. "Why shouldn't they win? They are the better ball club, and they will prove it. It is said that my pitching is bad. You haven't seen anything wrong with the work of Nehf, Scott, McQuillan and Jess Barnes during the last few weeks, have you? The pitchers will stand up all right, and behind them they will have a great hitting and fielding ball club."

Both teams worked out at separate hours at the Polo Grounds this morning. They will then rest until game time Wednesday. Dave Bancroft and Frank Frisco, both of whom suffered bone bruises in a recent exhibition game at Baltimore, took part in the workout, apparently none the worse for their injuries.

Besides being the playground of the world, Chicago is one of its most thriving and busiest workshops also.

Book Reviews

"Witch Doctors," by Charles Beadle, is a curious tale of native life and customs in equatorial Africa. It was probably written during the war, or else the learned author has not yet discarded his war-time state of mind. The heavy in the piece is a particularly wooden-headed German army officer of pre-war days—a scurvy, flat-headed villain who wallows in atrocities in the approved 1914-1918 fashion. The hero is an American anthropologist, super-cunning and super-brave, and very wise in native ways. The bad German, actuated by jealousy and fear, delivers the professor into the hands of the witch doctors, but the professor, handsly out-witches the witch doctors and turns the tables in due time. Fortunately, this plot is not the book. It is merely a framework for a very interesting picture of native life. It makes the book easy to read, for it is well written and the suspense is admirably sustained. But the really interesting characters of the book are not the villain and hero, but the witch doctors and warriors of the savage Wanga tribe. Mr. Beadle seems very much at home with his wild negroes. It may be book wisdom, but it reads like first-hand knowledge. In either case, his descriptions of the "king-god" tribal systems, of native love and intrigue, and of the muddled thinking of native minds, escape the mark of the ordinary romancer. They appear to be true. The blacks, indeed, are more like real people than his whites. His native savages fight each other for power and riches just as ferociously and stupidly as we do ourselves.

They Say That

A program to make Los Angeles "a city without a shadow at night" has been outlined by the city's bureau of power and light. The program, it was announced by engineers of the power bureau, bids fair to make Los Angeles nights "rival in brilliancy the far-famed daylight glow of Southern California sunshine." Contending that "a good street light is a good watchman," officials of the power bureau have just purchased 1000 new improved street lamps for $30,000. Already 600 of these have been installed. These lamps will replace the arc lights now in service in the residential districts, and to furnish lights where there are none. The municipal power bureau has taken over the work of supplying 2800 street lights with electric energy, which formerly were supplied by the Los Angeles Gas & Electric Corporation, while it also holds a contract of long standing to supply power for 2700 other street lamps. The new lamps not only illuminate the street intersections over which they are suspended, but all four diverging street ways at a distance of 150 feet. The old style lamps, it was declared, throw a bright light on the pavement immediately below them, but leave the surrounding area in deep shadows. The installation of the modern street lamps, it was asserted by city officials, will wipe out hundreds of dark nooks and corners that have long served prowlers and holdup men.

DISCOVER MASTODON BONES Near the Yukon border, in a valley in far northern British Columbia, a mining engineer has discovered the remains of mastodons that once roamed northern Canada. This valley is north and west of the headwaters of the Findlay river and is not marked on the maps. Footprints of a three-toed animal are imprinted in the sandstone. The bones are not fossilized but are in an excellent state of preservation. Only dog teams are used in that section and it requires a year to make the journey.

SYSTEMATIZING LAUNDRY WORK

Monday and Tuesday have been, for many years, the traditional days for washing and ironing, but the woman who does her own work, or perhaps has a helper, or one maid, may find it a good plan to do no more on Monday than the mending, removing of stains, and sorting. This gives time to put the house in order after Sunday, and to prepare food, some of which may last over the next two days. Order of Work—Mending, sorting the clothes, removing stains, soaking (if any need it), washing, boiling (if no machine is used), rinsing, bluing, starching, drying, sprinkling and rolling, ironing, folding, airing, sorting and distributing. Spots and Stains—Where ordinary washing or solvent action does not suffice, special chemical treatment is necessary to remove spots and stains. Methods for the removal of various kinds of stains may be classified under certain general principles. A few common stains are removed as follows: Fruit and Coffee Stains—Hold the spotted fabric tightly over a bowl and pour boiling water through it. Of course, remove stains at once if possible. Peach Stains—Peach stains are removed by Javelle water. Apply a few drops and pour boiling water through at once. Cocoa and Chocolate Stains—These are removed by borax, and by soap and cold water. Ink Stains—Liquid ink removers provided for library use are convenient. Wet the spot, use No. 1, dry with a blotter, and use No. 2 and rinse at once, the same thing is done by wetting, apply-

Ice-Box Economy

Don't let your ice-box get entirely empty before you fill it with ice. That's poor economy. If you permit it to get warm it consumes more ice when you do refill it. And if your foods are not kept cold, even for a short time, they lose their freshness and some of their nourishment. It's real economy—and a good health measure—to keep your ice-box well filled all the year round.

CAN'T WE HAVE A LITTLE LESS? There are certain things for which I deeply admire the members of the medical profession—their self sacrifice and courage in times of epidemic and the vast amount of charity work they do. There is one respect in which I think the medical profession needs a good overhauling. I refer to some of the conventions that go under the head of professional etiquette. They Don't Have to Be Right. "Why," says a friend of mine, "do you have such faith in doctors? They aren't always right. They can't be. And they don't have to be, either. They don't have half the incentive men in other jobs have to be right because it's professional etiquette that one doctor shall not say anything about another doctor's work. If a lawyer, or an architect, or a manufacturer makes some mistake people know about it and he hears about it. So he's everlastingly careful to make as few mistakes as possible. But if a doctor makes mistakes, all the rest of the profession are supposed to help him cover them up so he will help them when they make mistakes." Of course that's putting the case pretty harshly. But there is some reason for his strong feeling, surely. A doctor told me the other day of a patient who was brought to him for his eyes in a frightful condition which at once made him suspect some serious trouble with the ductless glands. "It was against professional etiquette," he said, "but when I found that the doctor was treating him for some other trouble altogether I felt so badly for the family that I couldn't help suggesting they get a specialist on glands." They got such a specialist and the boy who had been on the verge of idiocy was restored to normality. "Most doctors," he said, "wouldn't have

Diet and Health by Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ACNE—PART I Perhaps those of us who have always had clear skins cannot realize the tragedy it means to young girls and boys just awakening to the wonders of life, to be afflicted with acne. A letter I have had from a boy expresses, in his boyish way, one of the underlying tragedies. "Dear Doctor," he wrote, "you have helped so many others, won't you please help me? I am a clean boy but my face is covered with pimples. How can I ever make a hit with the girls? I don't see why I should be so afflicted." How can he make a hit with the girls—how can she make a hit with the boys! That may sound trivial to some, but it is the underlying unhappiness of despair that it expresses that makes this a subject of great importance. Although the boys and girls do not realize it, this plea is an expression of the very primal biologic impulse which, rightly directed, means the foundation of home and happiness. Intercursively they are saying that fate is trying to thwart them. Acne is an inflammatory disease of the sebaceous glands and the hair roots. It usually begins at puberty (the age at which childhood changes to manhood and womanhood) and unless cured, may continue through adolescence (the growth period, from puberty to full maturity). It is characterized by an eruption of papules—small solid elevations—and pustules, upon the face, neck, shoulders or chest. There are two general varieties of acne, Acne vulgaris, or simple acne, and acne indurata. In simple acne the face, shoulders, or chest will be dotted with pinhead to small pea sized pimples, from pinkish to red color. Very often in the centre there will be comedones (blackheads). Some of these pimples usually go on to suppuration. Together with the papules and pustules there may be the milia (the little hard, white pimples) and the affected parts are usually very oily and very greasy. Between them there may be simple blackheads. There may be also a considerable number of scars from the old pimples scattered among them. Usually, the simple acne does not leave permanent scars. Acne indurata is the pustular acne in which the pustules are of large size and look like purplish lumps, size of a pea to a bean. Sometimes several of these may run together. When incised there will be found a large amount of thick pus. These usually leave scars and may be very disfiguring unless opened very early in their course. This form of acne usually occurs at an older age than does acne vulgaris or simple acne.

Promises may get friends, but it is performance that must keep them. —Feltham The test of business vitality is in performance, not in promises. ## The MUCKER

by Edgar Rice Burroughs
Copyright 1921 by Edgar Rice Burroughs

Billy scratched his head, and blinked his eyes. He never before had been spoken to in any such fashion—at least not since he had put on the avoirdupois of manhood. His head ached horribly and he was sick to his stomach—frantically sick. His mind was more upon his physical suffering than upon what the mate was saying, so that quite a perceptible interval of time elapsed before the true dimensions of the affront to his dignity commenced to percolate into the befogged and pain-racked convulsions of his brain.

The mate thought that his bluster had bluffed the new hand. That was what he had come below to accomplish. Experience had taught him that an early lesson in discipline and subordination saved unpleasant encounters in the future. He also had learned that there was no time to give a bluff of this nature across than when the victim is suffering from the after-effects of whiskey and a drug-mentality, vitality, and courage are then at their lowest ebb. A brave man often is reduced to the pitiful cowering of a yellow dog when nausea sits astride his stomach.

But the mate was not acquainted with Billy Byrne of Kelly's gang. Billy's brain was befuddled, so that it took some time for an idea to wriggle its way through, but his courage was all there, and all to the good. Billy was a mucker, a hoodlum, a gangster, a thug, a tough. When he fought, his methods would have brought a flush of shame to the face of His Satanic Majesty. He had always taken every advantage of size and weight and numbers that he could call to his assistance. He was an insulter of girls and women. He was a bar-room brawler and a saloon-rigger. He was all that was dirty and mean, and contemptible, and cowardly in the eyes of a brave man, and yet, notwithstanding all this Billy Byrne was no coward. He was what he was because of training and environment. He knew no other methods; no other code. Whatever the meager ethics of his kind he would have lived up to the death. He never had squealed on a pal and he never had left a wounded friend to fall into the hands of the enemy—the police.

Nor had he ever let a man speak to him as the mate had spoken, and get away with it, and so, while he did not act as quickly as while he has been his wont had his brain clear, he did act, but the instant of time when the mate spoke into an erroneous conception of its cause, and into a further rash show of authority, and had thrown him off his guard as well.

"What you need," said the mate, advancing toward Billy, "is a wash and a barber. I'll help you remember that you ain't nothin' but a dirty damn landlubber, an' when your betters come around you'll—"

But what Billy would have done in the presence of his betters remained stillborn in the mate's imagination. In the course of time Billy really did do to his better as that worthy swung a sudden, vicious blow at the mucker's face. Billy Byrne had not been scrapping with third- and fourth-rate heavies, and sparring with real ones for nothing. The mate's fist whistled through the air, and the bear-eyed hunk of clay that had seemed so easy prey to him was metamorphosed on the instant into an alert, catlike bundle of steel sinews, and Billy Byrne swung that awful right with the pile-driver weight, that even the Big Smoke himself had acknowledged respect for, straight to the short ribs of his antagonist.

With a screech of surprise and pain the mate crumpled in the far corner of the forecastle, rammé halfway beneath a bunk by the force of the terrific blow. Like a tiger Billy Byrne was after him, and dragging the man out into the center of the floor space he beat and mauled him until his victim's blood-curdling shrieks echoed through the ship from stern to stern.

When the captain, followed by a half-dozen hands, rushed down to the companionship, he found Billy sitting astride the prostrate form of the mate. His great fingers circled the man's throat, and with mighty blows he was dashing the fellow's head against the hard floor. Another moment and murder would have been complete.

"Avast there!" cried the captain, and as though to punctuate his remark he swung the heavy stick he usually carried full upon the back of Billy's head. It was that blow that saved the mate's life, for when Billy came to he found himself in a dark and smelly hole, chained and padlocked to a heavy stanchion.

They kept Billy there for a week; but every day the captain visited him in an attempt to show him the error of his way. The medium used by the skipper for impressing his ideas of discipline upon Billy was a large, hard stick. At the end of the week it was necessary to carry Billy above to keep

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SAMMIE'S CARROT

Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose, hopped out of his hollow stump bungalow and made a low and polite bow to Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy with his tail silk hat.

"I bid you good morning, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," spoke the rabbit gentleman. "I am going to hop away and look for an adventure, and I don't know when I shall be back."

"Good luck to you!" wished the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Thank you," responded Uncle Wiggily, and over the fields and through the woods he hopped. He hopped rather fast, for the day was cool, but Uncle Wiggily stopped, now and then, to look at the leaves on the trees. The leaves were turning to colors of brown, gold, purple and red, for already Jack Frost had touched them with his tiny, cold fingers.

"Ah, ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, as he hopped along. "It will soon be Thanksgiving and then Christmas, though I suppose it seems long enough off to the animal boys and girls. 'Heigh ho! What a thing it is to be young!'"

Then, just to show that he was not as old as he looked, Uncle Wiggily jumped in the air and clapped his hind paws together. Down he came with a bounce.

"Ouchie! Wouchie!" suddenly cried, voice almost beneath Uncle Wiggily's paws, and the bunny jumped to one side and exclaimed: "Bless my pink nose! I beg your pardon, whoever you are, I hope I didn't step on your tail."

"No, you didn't do that, for I have no tail," answered a voice, and out of the tall grass came Buddy the guinea pig boy. Guinea pigs have no tail at all, as I have told you before. Neither Bright Eyes nor Buddy had even the slightest tiniest bit of a tail.

"You didn't step on my tail, Uncle Wiggily, but you almost stepped on me," went on Buddy. "Oh, I'm sorry," said the rabbit gentleman. "You see, I was jumping up and down, because I felt rather spry. I didn't know you were anywhere around here."

"I just came," said Buddy, "and I was looking for you."

"Looking for me! Why?" asked the bunny. "I—I hope the Fuzzy Fox or Wootzie Wolf isn't coming," spoke Mr. Longears.

"No, it isn't that," explained Buddy. "I came to tell you that Sammie Littletail is in trouble just over the hill."

"Sammie in trouble? What sort of trouble?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Carrot trouble," said Buddy.

"Carrot trouble?" repeated the rabbit.

"I don't know that I ever heard of that kind of trouble. Unless you mean Sammie has eaten too much carrot and has the toothache."

"No," said Buddy. "But Sammie's mother sent him to the store to get a carrot. Sammie had it down in a crack in the rock and Sammie can't get it up. I mean he can't get the carrot up, and he feels sad about it. I met him and I said I'd come and see if I could find you, and I have, and maybe you can help Sammie and his carrot."

"I shouldn't wonder but what I could," laughed the bunny gentleman. "I'll come with you and try."

Buddy led Uncle Wiggily over the hill to where Sammie sat beside the rock, in the crack of which the carrot was caught. And Sammie was crying. Tears ran Sammie was crying.

FUNDAMENTS OF THE ELECTRIC CIRCUIT

It is common knowledge that a battery supplies what is known as a current of electricity. To obtain the current there must be a complete closed circuit or conducting path from the battery through the apparatus which is to be acted upon by the current and back to the battery.

For example, when connecting up an electric bell a wire from one terminal of the battery to one binding post of the bell and a second wire run from the other post of the bell back to the second terminal of the battery, this would cause the bell to ring. Any break in the wires immediately causes the current to stop and the bell to be silent. This furnishes an easy method of controlling the ringing of the bell, since it is only necessary to break the circuit at one point to stop the current or to connect across the gap a piece of metal to start the current going again. This we have a button for accomplishing the act of control, and the battery supplies the energy to ring the bell.

Similar considerations apply when we are using city lighting facilities. Wires are brought, more or less directly, from the lighting station to the lamp, and a small break in the path through the socket is provided. This can be bridged by a metal spring actuated by the key, or the opening and closing of the circuit can be accomplished by a similar mechanism on the wall of the room or by a knife switch in a small cupboard. Sometimes the lights go out and we say a fuse has blown. A short length of wire (in a fireproof container) through which the current has been passing is of an easily fusible metal which has melted because too strong a current was passing through it. A break in the circuit occurs and the current stops. Or it may be that it has become necessary to open a switch in the power house. It makes absolutely no difference where the break occurs in the circuit, the result is the same—the current suddenly stops. Electricity must, then, be regarded as flowing in every part of the circuit, so that electricity is leaving the battery or dynamo at one side and coming back to it at the other side.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN, RADIO ENGINEER

PLATE CIRCUIT REACTORS

Standard radio telephone transmitting circuits using one or more tubes as oscillators and one or more additional tubes as modulators require a reactor in series to the plate circuit to maintain the D C supply of voltage to the plate at a constant value, even though the output of the set is modulated at audible frequencies.

The reactor shown herewith was designed for this purpose. This reactor in general is built on the same lines as the microphone transformer described in the preceding article. It is intended primarily for use in the common positive plate lead to the oscillating and modulating tubes, and as previously mentioned, provides a constant current system of modulation. This particular unit has an inductance of one henry.

The reactor shown herewith was designed for this purpose.

Gives Information on Eastern Crisis

The Evening News is in receipt of the following communication from Frank Booth, 119 South Kenwood street, relative to the eastern crisis.

"Editor of Evening News: It may be interesting to your readers regarding the eastern crisis, England vs. Turkey, that during the Russian and Turkish war in 1870, when Russia had envious eyes and wanted Constantinople, my father and oldest brother were fighting side by side with the Turks in the British army. When the Russians got within five miles of Constantinople, a place called Plevna—the Russians were stopped by the combined forces of Turkey and England. My father was presented with several articles by the then sultan of Turkey."

"I believe the present forces of British troops posted in and around Constantinople, 75,000 troops, supported by the strong navy in the Dardanelles and the Sea of Marmora, is sufficiently strong enough to cope with the 400,000 Turkish rabble of soldiery the Turks can bring forward into the field. I believe the slaughter of Turkey would be sufficient to supply the whole world for a general thanksgiving against the biggest bunch of Christian murderers and pillagers the world has ever known."

SELL SCULPTURED HEAD

The sculptured head of the Egyptian king, Amenemes III, who lived about 3000 B. C., was sold at Sotheby's in London, for not less than 10,000 pounds. The sculptor is unknown but the work is beautiful, a little lusty barely more than six inches high, carved out of one of the hardest of stones, obsidian, a masterpiece that has not been surpassed by any sculptor of any country or age, according to experts.

GOOD PROGRAM GIVEN AT SCHOOL
Institution Opens Its Fall Activities With Music, Songs and Readings

Guests received and entertained last night at the studio of the Emerson School of Self-expression at 730 South Glendale avenue were unanimous in their compliments of the program, which opened the fall activities of the school.

Miss Dorothy Wright, teacher of nature dancing, was hostess for the evening, while the program was given by Mrs. Retta King Nelson, teacher of voice, assisted by Miss Lilla Litch, teacher of piano, and Henry Biederman and Dr. Pearl Anderson, advanced students of expression.

Mrs. Nelson gave the first group on the program and she was most enthusiastically received. Her songs were sufficiently varied to please all tastes, but her rich, full voice seemed especially suited to the Indian songs by Leaurance and Cadman.

Prominent Artists
Mrs. Nelson has been one of the soloists at the "Pilgrimage Play" during its recent engagement in Hollywood, and she has also filled engagements with the various radio broadcasting stations.

Miss Litch's ability as an accompanist is well known and her work last night was admirably done. In addition to her piano work she teaches pipe organ and serves as organist in a local church.

"Please Pass the Cream" was the title of the one-act play presented by Mr. Biederman and Dr. Anderson as the second and final part of the program. It is a clever farce in which Mr. Biederman presented the character of John Clark, an obstinate, unyielding husband, who seems to do everything within his power to provoke his wife to anger, and finally succeeds in causing her to break one of the old family cream pitchers, which brings about an unusually amusing climax.

Clever Portrayal
Dr. Anderson, cleverly portrayed the wife, who attempts to force her husband to use correct English at all times, and who especially prides herself on her own and particularly on her self-control. Dr. Anderson showed unusual poise, but also demonstrated to the audience that she is capable of "breaking up house-keeping" as well.

Work of the Emerson School students is becoming widely known and there is a steadily increasing demand for their appearance on social and club programs, it is stated.

URGES U. S. TAKE PART IN EUROPE

Thomas W. Lamont Talks on Co-operation at Meeting American Bankers

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
For International News Service, NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—America is at the parting of the ways and must meet the responsibility that comes with power or suffer loss of world leadership, in the opinion of Thomas W. Lamont, partner in J. P. Morgan and Company, whose address featured the first general session of the convention of the American Bankers' association here today.

A cooperation that is not solely economic but that is based upon sympathetic understanding of the problems and aspirations of other nations was espoused by Lamont.

By indirectness Lamont put forth the belief that America must participate more actively in councils where Europe's affairs are discussed.

Lamont's speech was in effect the address of welcome to the 10,000 bankers assembled for the forty-eighth annual convention of the association. The subject of his speech was "The American Bankers' Responsibility Today."

Reparations Question
Lamont declared that the question of German reparations is now secondary to that of the larger question of inter-allied indebtedness. The reparations question, he said, has not been settled but "public opinion, on the other side, has now advanced to a stage where, when reparations questions come up again next November, it ought not to be impossible to settle."

Regarding the indebtedness of foreign nations, Lamont expressed the frank belief that not all of it is collectable.

"Let us, by investigation, determine what, if any, of these debts are in any way uncollectable, and so should be written off in order to 'quit fooling ourselves,'" he said.

Await Even Money Before Making Bets

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Although betting on the outcome of the world series or single games between the Yanks and the Giants has been noticeably light, it is expected it will become more brisk within the ensuing twenty-four hours. Most of those, speculatively inclined, are waiting for even money and this price is expected to prevail before game time tomorrow.

Little advance betting has been reported at the McAlpin or the Waldorf-Astoria, although Chief Detective Joe Smith at the Waldorf has received some fair-sized commissions by wire and mail, most of them at even money. A. G. Dennison, at the McAlpin, has several thousand dollars, no more, as stakes. Most of the betting has been made on single games.

One Dead and Many Hurt In Mob Attack

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 3.—Montgomery is under guard of three companies of Alabama national guard, one negro is dead from a gunshot wound, a white man is wounded by a bullet and dozens of negroes are suffering today from injuries received at the hands of a mob which late last night attempted to storm the county jail here and take possession of Joe Terrell, a negro charged with having slain George Wilson and Joe Partin, game wardens.

In the fighting between officers and members of the mob the fire department was called upon and attempted to disperse the crowd by turning streams of water on them.

A little nonsense now and then is peaches and cream to the best of men.

Say Da Vinci Work Is Found In France

PARIS.—Experts believe they have found the famous cartoon of "The Battle of the Anghari," by Leonardo da Vinci. It was made in 1505 and has just recently turned up in the village of the Chevreuse. The cartoon now belongs to Abbe Ferrand, who bought it in Italy several years ago for the small sum of 200 liras.

Artist Says Divine Urge Guides Brush

NEW YORK.—Characterizing the spiritualism of Sir Oliver Lodge and A. Conan Doyle as "the commercial variety" and the latter as "pure drivel," Miss Eileen McConaughty, of Brooklyn, says she paints entirely by means of a sort of spiritual urge. Astral bodies of artists long dead, especially Rembrandt, gather in her studio and direct her hand, she says. She is not a spiritualist, she says.

NEHR AND BUSH IN OPENING GAME

Weather Man Promises Best In Stock Tomorrow; Big Crowd Is Assured

In tomorrow's inaugural, Nehf created a world's series record in holding the Yanks to thirteen hits in three games last year. The chances are against him repeating, particularly since he has had an indifferent season. Bush has enjoyed his most prosperous campaign since coming to the big leagues in 1913.

There is little evidence of partisans among the fans. Manhattan promises to go out and look at the thing, but apparently wishes to notify one and all concerned that it is compelled to become neither agitated nor enthusiastic. The players of both teams are hardly inimical, either. They are more than friendly; all little pals together, in fact.

However, the future is a shy, evasive animal. According to official edict, Bill Klem and Barry McCormick of the National league staff and "Brick" Owens and George Hildebrand of the American league will umpire the series. The Yanks and Hildebrand are on terms of perfect understanding. It is one of those beautiful friendships that seeks expression by saying that with heel pants. Let "Hildy" pull an adverse decision or so and the Yanks will want to lick him and the Giants as well.

Now 6 to 5 on Yanks
The betting, as anticipated, has dropped to 6 to 5 on the Yanks, and in some cases to even money. Most of the boys, however, manage to keep their hands in their pockets and their tongues between their teeth.

Judge Landis, who has taken up his headquarters at the Commodore, again wishes to assure prospective seat occupants that plenty of seats can be purchased at the Polo grounds each day.

All you have to do is park yourself early and avoid your neighbor's pockets.

The "I knew him when" club is gathering delegates every hour. Members already on hand and taking a leading part in the meetings are Fred Clarke, former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates and a great outfielder; Wilbert Robinson, fat, funny and fifty, torn between his friendship for John McGraw and "Cap" Huston; George Washington Grant, president of the Braves; Pat Moran and Garry Herrmann, of Cincinnati; Jack Dunn, who thinks McGraw likes Jack Bentley better than he does $100,000; Hans Lobert, former Giant, former Phil, former Red; Fred Jacklitzech who used to warm up pitchers in a rocking chair out in the bull pen; Dan Brouthers, champion hitter of a past generation, and many others.

They dope the series according to their affiliations, and each can give you a perfect plausible reason why either the Giants or Yanks can and will win.

Huggins and McGraw, rival managers, have been hiding out more or less. If you can do some open field running through a squad of office attaches, you can have a word with either at their respective offices. Otherwise, John and the worthy Miller are not for public view.

Huggins is a bit reticent about expressing his opinion of the outcome. He says he thinks the Yanks will win, basing his prediction on the commendable condition of Bush, Shawkey and Hoyt, his first string pitchers, and the fact that the estimable Mr. Ruth is bringing his fragile anatomy to the series intact. Mr. Ruth overlooked that detail last year.

McGraw is a trifle more positive in his views. Nehf, Scott, McQuillan and J. Barnes, he says, will pitch good ball and the Giant hitters constituting the most effective offensive machine in baseball, will get to the Yank pitchers and blast out a victory.
