LAURIER SHOWS HIS STRENGTH IS NOT WANING

Mercilessly Scores Alliance Between Conservatives and Nationalists—Prime Minister, in Speech at Three Rivers, Defies Henri Bourassa.

Three Rivers, Aug. 18.—The statement that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has lost his hold upon the people of Quebec province was shown up in its true colors yesterday by thousands of electors from Three Rivers and the surrounding country. Despite the threatening weather and the rush of the harvest, thousands of people thronged the city and cheered the remarks of their beloved leader.

Sir Wilfrid was in splendid form, and dealt with the various problems before the electors in masterly style. He carried the war into Africa at the very outset and mercilessly attacked Mr. Bourassa and the Nationalists. After reminding the citizens of Three Rivers of his forty years of public service and touching lightly upon some of the many achievements of that period, he turned like a flash to Mr. Bourassa's tactics.

"I tell you," he thundered, "that Bourassa is not able to overthrow Laurier," and later when he revealed the strange and unholy alliance between the Nationalists and the Conservatives he declared that "the Nationalists and Tories together are not able to defeat Laurier."

Sir Wilfrid defied the Nationalists to do their worst, and ended by saying he desired to fight fairly and would stand or fall by the truth.

"I respect the truth, and if I cannot win by the truth I prefer to go down to defeat. You electors have known me as a young man. You trusted me when I came before you as a young advocate, and I defy any person to point out any way in which I have betrayed your trust."

In the course of his address the Prime Minister touched upon reciprocity and upon the Nationalist movement and in every instance his arguments went home with telling effect and were cheered to the echo by his audience.

The bad weather and the harvest rush kept away many people, but the park at Three Rivers was crowded to its capacity. Sir Wilfrid, accompanied by Hon. R. Lemieux, Hon. Dr. Bland and hundreds of admirers, came down by special train from Montreal. At the station he was met by the Hon. Jacques Bureau, the Liberal committee and a monster gathering of citizens. A procession was formed and with bands playing and carriages decorated gaily, paraded through the streets to the park, where a stand had been erected. Hon. Jacques Bureau and Dr. Bland spoke during a steady rain-fall.

Just as Sir Wilfrid Laurier arose to speak the sun broke through the clouds and a beautiful rainbow arched itself across the heavens. He had scarcely finished speaking when the rain came down in torrents, dispersing the crowd and preventing Hon. R. Lemieux and others from speaking. The rainfall did not allow either speakers or audience to do full justice to the occasion, but, on the other hand, it was an evidence of the hold Sir Wilfrid had on the people of this province, that the electors, accompanied by their wives and families, stood for hours to hear and see their chief. The simple, honest habitant was willing to brave the elements that by doing so he could hear his leader. The arguments and appeals of Sir Wilfrid found a ready response in the hearts of this gathering. Laurier is still the "Les Grand Chef" and the idol of his people.

AN EXPLANATION

Owing to a collapse in the power system of the B. C. Electric Railway Co., of which no adequate explanation could be obtained, the Times was seriously inconvenienced to-day and the issue of this evening somewhat delayed.

SOLDIERS ARE GUARDING RAILWAYS

FIVE THOUSAND ON DUTY IN LONDON

Union Leaders Claim 200,000 Men Have Obeyed Call for General Strike

London, Aug. 18.—At noon the strike order issued last night by the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants and allied organizations of employees had been a partial success. Some of the railway lines were operating only a few trains, while on other roads the service continued practically normal.

The military held possession of the stations along the lines to protect men going to work and to guard the property of the companies.

Meantime the government continues its efforts to avert the general stoppage of transportation service. Sydney Buxton, president of the board of trade, who had an early morning call from Viscount Richard D. Haldane, secretary of state for war, again met the railroad managers and the officials of the union to consider the government's suggestion for the appointment of a royal commission which should investigate and report what amendments, if any, should be made to the conciliation agreement now existing between the owners and the employees.

The union leaders this afternoon expressed themselves as satisfied with the response to the strike order. They claimed that 200,000 men quit work.

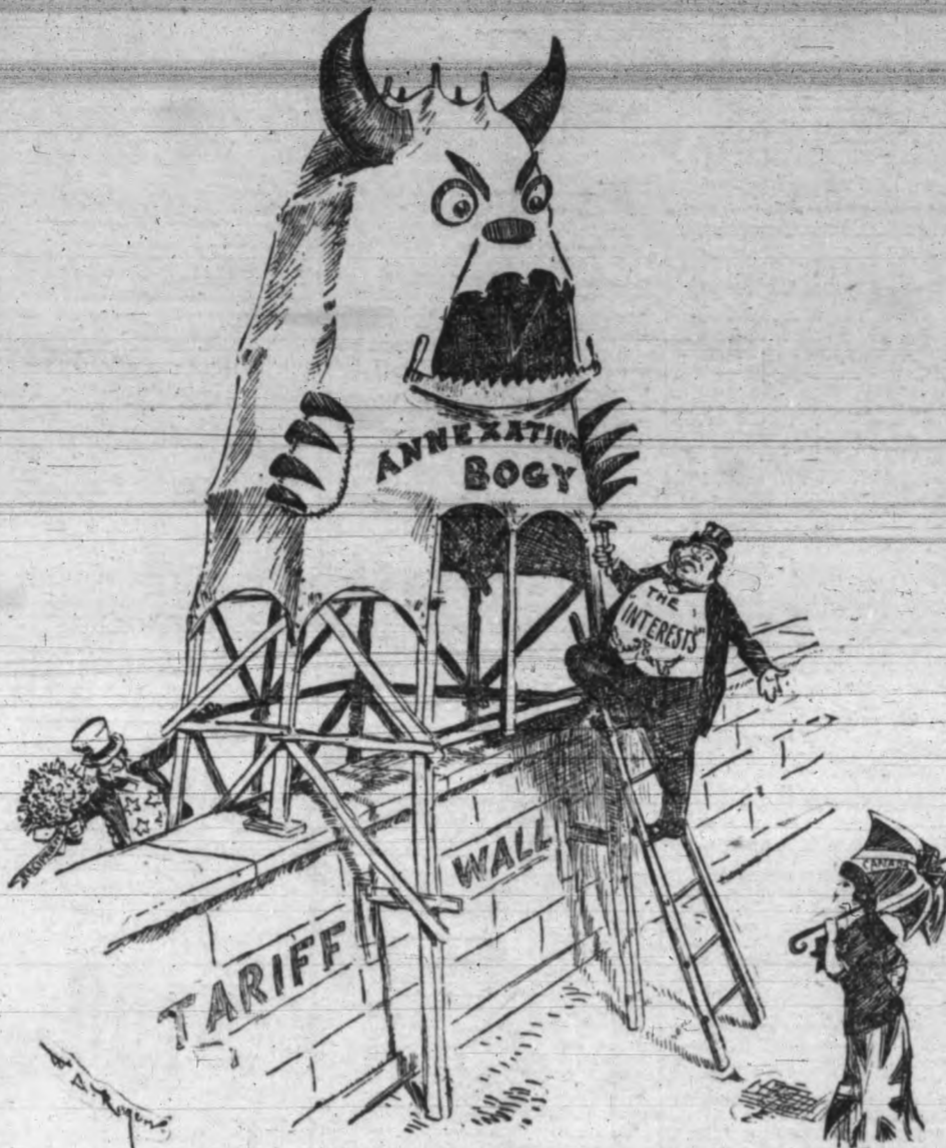

James H. Fry Thomas, labor member of parliament for Derby, and assistant secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, asserted that the strikers had almost paralyzed the whole railway system of the United Kingdom.

The government proposal for a royal commission was considered by joint committee of railway societies during the forenoon, but the men did not change their position, that the managers must deal directly with them.

Some 5,000 troops arrived in London during the night and morning found them encamped at posts where they were able to protect the lines of communication.

Reported Settlement. London, Aug. 18.—Representatives of the striking transport workers attended a conference in the home office at 5:30 this afternoon. At the conclusion it was announced that an agreement had been reached. The terms will be made public this evening.

The Lord Mayor of London this evening issued an appeal to all local members of the National Reserve who are willing, as private citizens, to enroll themselves as special constables to attend the Guildhall to-night and

CUTTING WHEAT CROP IN MANITOBA

Harvesting Will Not Be General in Alberta and Saskatchewan Until Next Week

Winnipeg, Aug. 18.—A local paper will publish to-morrow reports from 150 special correspondents on crop conditions through the prairie West, and of these quite one-half claim prospects of bonanza yields running from 30 to 45 bushels for wheat and 80 to 100 for oats. Ten to twenty per cent. of the wheat crop has been cut in Manitoba, but harvesting will not be general in Alberta until August 21, and in Saskatchewan before August 25.

Summarizing, these reports point to the greatest average yield the Canadian West has known, provided conditions remain good.

DAY TRIAL FIXED

Before Judge McInnes in the county court to-day the trial of John Day, charged with having navy yard stores in his possession, knowing the same to have been stolen, was fixed for Sept. 1st, at 10 o'clock.

At the preliminary hearing the accused elected a trial before the higher court and August 17 was set by Judge Lampman when the accused elected a trial before the county court judge.

Judge Lampman being engaged taking Judge Young's court at Atlin this week, Judge McInnes was called upon to make another date and heard H. Dallas Helmcken's application on behalf of accused. J. A. Alkman was present on behalf of the crown.

DESPOUNDENT WOMAN'S DEED.

Hangs Her Two Children and Then Ends Own Life.

Warton, Ont., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Thomas Pettigrew, of Lions Head, hanged her two children, James and Hazel, aged 10 and 12, then placing their bodies side by side in bed, hanged herself. The woman had been ill for years. The husband, who is a carpenter, was away from home.

NOT A NEW QUESTION.

As proof of the fact that reciprocity with the United States has been an important issue on Vancouver Island ever since it had an existence as a British Colony, we quote the speech of the first Governor of the Colony to its first Legislature. The following are the words of Sir James Douglas, spoken in the year 1858:

"Gentlemen, I am happy to inform you that Her Majesty's government continues to express the most lively interest in the progress and welfare of this colony. Negotiations are now pending with the government of the United States, which may terminate in an extension of the reciprocity treaty to Vancouver Island. To show the commercial advantages connected with that treaty I will just mention that an import duty of $20 is levied on every $100 worth of British produce which is now sent to San Francisco, or to any other American port; or, in other words, the British proprietor pays as much to the United States nearly the value of every third cargo of fish, timber, or coal which he sends to any American port. The reciprocity treaty utterly abolishes those fearful imposts, and establishes a system of free trade in the produce of British colonies. The effects of that measure in developing the trade and natural resources of the colony can, therefore, be hardly overestimated. The coal, the timber, and the productive fisheries of Vancouver's Island will assume a value before unknown; while every branch of trade will start into activity, and become the means of pouring wealth into the country. So unbounded is the reliance which I place in the enterprise and intelligence possessed by the people of this colony, and in the advantages of their geographical position, that with equal rights and a fair field I think they may enter into a successful competition with the people of any other country. The extension of the reciprocity treaty to this island once gained, the interests will become inseparably connected with the principles of free trade, a system which I think it will be sound policy on our part to encourage."

VISITING JOURNALISTS.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 19.—The visiting British journalists arrived here last night.

ENDS LIFE AT SEA.

Montreal, Aug. 18.—The Allan liner Sicilian, which arrived in port to-day, reported the suicide of a passenger booked as Reginald Eignall, London. He was about forty years of age and was on his way out west. He leaped overboard a few days out from London.

NEW C.P.R. LINERS FOR THE PACIFIC

FAIRFIELD COMPANY TO BUILD TWO STEAMERS

Will Be Larger Than Atlantic Empresses—Average Speed of Eighteen Knots

Montreal, Aug. 18.—It has been officially announced that the Canadian Pacific Railway yesterday placed an order for two new steamships for its Vancouver-Victoria-Hongkong service.

This step has been under contemplation for some time, the C. P. R.'s rapidly increasing freight and passenger traffic on the Pacific ocean necessitating the securing of increased transportation facilities.

The contract for the new boats has been let to the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company of Glasgow, one of the largest firms along the Clyde.

The new ships will be of the most modern construction in every respect. They will be 595 feet long over all, and will have a tonnage of about 18,000. They will be equipped with engines of from 16,000 to 17,000 horse power and will be required to maintain an average speed of eighteen knots per hour and develop on their trial trips a speed of twenty knots an hour.

In size a trifle larger than the Atlantic Empresses, the new boats will have accommodation for thirteen hundred passengers and will also have a huge freight carrying capacity. The new boats will be literally floating palaces. They will be luxuriously finished and will undoubtedly materially decrease the running time between B. C. ports and the Orient. The boats will be ready in January 1912 and will cost over $2,500,000, fully completed.

COUNCIL FACING TROUBLE TO-NIGHT

A Few of the Questions Which Aldermanic Body Will Have to Decide

The customary accumulation of routine business which the city council will have to deal with at to-night's meeting will be closely punctuated by a series of interesting questions relating to things already done as well as things contemplated, and it will not be surprising if criticism runs to open censure in the debates upon the validity, wisdom or equity of the propositions referred to.

The most distinctly belligerent suggestion with which the council will be faced when it meets to-night will be the notice of motion in the name of Ald. Hughes, requesting the reconsideration of the seal wall contract recently awarded to the Westholms Lumber Company. When the council gets down to the consideration of that resolution fireworks will be imminent.

Running on almost parallel lines is the attempt of a section of the council to withdraw the sewer contract from the city engineer, won recently in open competition with outside contractors. While this question is probably less pregnant with unpleasant eventualities, it is certain to arouse not a little discussion. In regard to this particular contract it is claimed by those desiring the change that such a piece of work should be done in the ordinary business way by contract and not by day labor, as it will, of course, be if done by the engineer's department.

Another matter that will receive the attention of the council to-night is the Mayor's resolution requesting the appointment of an official to investigate the cause and other circumstances of the high cost of living, with a possible view to having something done to mitigate this growing evil. While some people are of the opinion that the subject is outside the jurisdiction of the council, there are others who express the opinion that even if the council should discover its inability to solve the question satisfactorily, the very fact of its having obtained the data relating to this question will entitle it to no little credit. Generally speaking the main object of the resolution is to obtain just such information as will render the application of regulating remedies at least obvious if not easy.

No time has been lost in bringing forward the petition for the widening of Hillside avenue, which the B. C. Electric Company has just decided to favor with a car line. Almost coincidental with the announcement of the company comes the petition of the property owners on the street to have it widened to seventy feet from Douglas street to Cedar Hill road. The petition was very heavily signed, and in view of the other circumstances it is not likely that any "let or hindrance" will shelve the project, as it is understood that the company will be ready to start laying the rails in a very short time, reputed by various authorities to be within from thirty to sixty days. The resolution approving of the widening will be submitted to the council to-night, together with the report of the building inspector, W. W. Northcott, whose duty it is to see that the petition complies with the statutes in regard to numbers and assessment value represented by the petitioners.

In connection with the new main sewer which is to run through the Oak Bay municipality, the arrangements for which have been completed by the city and the representatives of the municipality, the city is now calling for tenders for the supply of brick and vitrified pipe. These tenders will be considered at to-night's meeting.

BORDEN'S TRADE POLICY REPUDIATED

CONSERVATIVE NOMINEE OUTLINES ATTITUDE

John Herron, Candidate for MacLeod, Tells Why He Will Vote for Reciprocity

Winnipeg, Man. Aug. 18.—At MacLeod, Alberta, Conservative convention on Wednesday night, John Herron, member for MacLeod for the past seven years, went back on Borden's trade policy. In taking the nomination he said: "If elected again I will go to Ottawa and vote for the reciprocity pact. I think it dangerous in spots, but everyone in the constituency wants it, and therefore I will vote for it."

Mr. Herron, who declared that he favored reciprocity with the United States because everyone in his constituency was for it, issued a statement in MacLeod, Alta., last night, explaining his position. He said that Farmer unions had voted in favor of the agreement almost unanimously, town councils and boards of trade had indorsed it, and he had only a few letters opposing it. He said he saw dangers in reciprocity, but that if the people did not find it to work to their advantage, it could be cancelled by a stroke of a pen.

TAKEN AFTER LONG CHASE.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 18.—Travelling across the continent for eighteen months by the brother of the man he killed, John Sullivan is now in jail here, charged with the death of Thomas Weeks, in Kansas City in May, 1909. Herman Weeks, the brother, recognized him on the street. Sullivan says he killed Weeks in self-defence, according to the police.

LACROSSE GAME AT ROYAL ATHLETIC PARK

Victoria and Westminster Teams Will Take Field—Match is Crucial One

To-morrow afternoon the Victoria lacrosse team will line up at the Royal Athletic park for what may be its last game of lacrosse in the provincial series. New Westminster will be the opposing team. Considerable importance is attached to the match for it will decide whether Victoria has another chance for the Pacific coast championship and the European trip or whether the Terminal City stick-wielders take the honors and the benefits accruing therefrom without further trouble.

The teams will line up at 3 o'clock. Captain Clute has had his men working hard all week and they should experience no trouble in winning the game. They will, however, have to do more than just scrape home ahead for unless they can beat Westminster fairly easily they might just as well hang up their sticks for the remainder of the season. Vancouver has completely outclassed the Royal City twelve in their last two or three matches and if Victoria is not able to do the same they do not stand a chance with the Terminal City boys.

The local team will line up as follows: Goal, Ross Johnson; point, F. Sweeney; cover-point, J. Baker; 1st defence, L. Noel; 2nd defence, L. Styles; 3rd defence, S. Okeil; centre, C. McCarter; 3rd home, E. Brynjolfson; 2nd home, J. Petticrew; 1st home, A. Caras; outside home, L. McDonald; inside home, C. G. Clute. Reserves, A. McGregor, J. Johnson.

ADMIRAL BERESFORD TO VISIT VICTORIA

Says English-Speaking Nations Should Organize to Maintain Peace of World

New York, Aug. 18.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, who retired from the British navy a few months ago, left New York yesterday for a cruise up the Great Lakes. Later he will visit Vancouver and Victoria. He arrived in New York on the Olympic. His cruise will be made on board the Duke of Sutherland's yacht Catania, which will carry him up the New England coast to St. Andrews, N. B., Montreal, and thence westward.

Before leaving New York, the admiral spoke his admiration of the American battleship Delaware, which he saw at the coronation ceremonies.

"We were glad to have the Delaware there," he said. "Englishmen are proud to see the English-speaking nations in the possession of big guns and the big ships. The English-speaking nations should organize to maintain the peace of the world. You cannot afford to try to maintain peace on sentimental grounds."

"I believe the peace of Europe depends on the British fleet being sufficient. There should be no arrogance about it, but a nation must be strong to be respected. No weak thing ever is respected."

WANT ALL CLOSE SEASONS ABOLISHED

Salmon Cannerymen Declare Fishing on Fraser Has Been Almost a Failure

Vancouver, Aug. 18.—So convinced are the salmon cannerymen of the Fraser river that the time has arrived to make or break the sockeye fisheries of that stream that they are making use of every possible influence to induce the Ottawa government to cancel the close season on the river this year. One of the largest cannerymen on the river declared yesterday that Canada is doing all the catching and American fishing interests on Puget Sound are doing all the catching. He insisted that the Fraser river cannerymen are only securing 15 per cent of the fish which makes that river their objective point in running in from the sea. It is estimated by Vancouver cannerymen that Puget Sound packers have 150,000 cases up against not to exceed 40,000 on the Fraser. Under these circumstances the Fraser cannerymen say there is nothing left to do but to cancel all close seasons and make the fishing free for all. The only way of saving the industry, they declare, is for the United States government or the state of Washington to enact and enforce adequate salmon protection laws.

The British Columbia Salmon Cannerymen's Association has memorialized Ottawa on the matter, pointing out that under the present conditions American fishing interests are receiving 85 per cent of the benefits of Canadian fisheries conservation. Holding this to be unfair, the cannerymen are for the abolition of all close seasons on the Fraser.

The fisheries committee of the Vancouver board of trade has telegraphed Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, minister of marine and fisheries, strongly supporting the petition for an extension of fishing on the Fraser.

J. J. Senkler, K. C., president of the Vancouver Liberal Association and liberal candidate in the forthcoming elections for Vancouver, has telegraphed Hon. Mr. Lemieux stating the Fraser sockeye fisheries had been almost a failure this year and that unless the close season lasting from August 24 to September 15 were cancelled the fishermen would lose heavily.

Vancouver salmon cannerymen assert that the greatest evil the Canadian fisheries have to contend with at present is the large number of purse seines operated in United States waters. These seines are handled by powerful gasoline launches and they follow the fish from the entrance of the Strait of Juan de Fuca right to the mouth of the Fraser, breaking up the schools of fish and catching practically all of them. These seines are declared to be a greater menace to the fisheries than all the traps maintained in United States waters.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—The old United States steamship San Marcos, battered and bent by the big guns of the modern navy and now merely a pile of junk in Chesapeake Bay, is to be punched again with 12-inch armor-ripping projectiles.

Only a ghost of her former self, the battleship Texas will be the target for the Dreadnought Delaware, one of the most powerful vessels in the navy, which in long-range firing experiments on August 25th, probably will batter her to pieces.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

We should dwell among the Classics. The difference is this: a Classic is anything that lasts, it grows with your growth. You may not like it at first, but the more familiar you become with it, the more it pleases you. Common, cheap and popular things, on the contrary, attract you at first, but speedily become tiresome. Everybody whistles the latest comic-opera hit, for a month; after that everybody abhors it.

Some one said, "What is new is not true, and what is true is not new." Allowing the due discount for a fine phrase, this is a good statement of the case. The proof of the real excellence of Beethoven and Wagner and Bach is their persistence in music, at least, "the good die not."

But the truth herein is of wider application than to music alone. What I want is a classic life. There are classic emotions; if I cultivate them I am surer of permanent feelings; such are the love of home, of wife, of children, and of God. The trouble with the pleasure one gets from novels, smart clothes, vaudeville hits, alcohol, and all sorts of things listed under amusements and vices, is mainly that they flash and go. And one is left more dry of mouth than before. I also want to know classic people, rich natures that do not pall. There are classic books also, that are more interesting than the first reading. There are classic women, such as she of whom the poet said, "To love her is a liberal education." There are classic spots, where to live is to feel life daily striking deeper roots.

ENDS HIS LIFE IN PRESENCE OF WIFE

Man Shoots Himself When Efforts to Effect Reconciliation Fail

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 18.—In the presence of his wife who had begged for divorce, and his wife's sister, Victor Edwards, 45 years old, sent a bullet through his brain at the home of Andrew Johnson, 5418 Fifty-first avenue south, Wednesday. Death was instantaneous. Edwards was formerly game warden of Kitsap county and more recently was employed as a watchman at a lumber mill four miles from Bremerton. His home was at Charleston.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Edwards came to Seattle to live and announced her purpose to obtain a divorce. She found a home with her sister, Mrs. Andrew Johnson. Last night Edwards presented himself at the Johnson home and asked to see his wife. He said that he intended to plead with her to go back with him and to arrange their differences. Mrs. Johnson, with whom he talked through Mrs. Edwards from a rear room and almost as soon as she appeared in the doorway Edwards drew a revolver and shot himself in the head. The bullet entered his skull behind the left ear and came out in the right temple. The weapon with which he took his life was found beneath his head. Another revolver, loaded, was found in his pocket. He had $318 in currency in his purse.

ATWOOD'S LONG FLIGHT

Completes Another Stage of Journey From St. Louis to New York.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 18.—With another gain to his credit of 123 miles, Harry N. Atwood arrived in Cleveland last night on his aeroplane flight from St. Louis to New York. He covered the 123 miles between Toledo and Cleveland in an actual flying time of 2 hours 20 minutes.

"Just an easy canter," said Atwood, as he stepped from his biplane in a park on the Lake Shore. The Bostonian has now travelled 425 miles from his starting point at St. Louis. He has still 822 miles to fly to reach New York. His total time actually in the air since he left St. Louis last Monday is 13 hours 15 minutes.

Atwood's entrance into Cleveland was thrilling. Coming with the "uphill" slant usual with him on approaching a city, the aviator soared to an altitude of 1,500 feet, and the biplane was barely visible.

That an aeronaut cannot suddenly pick out the spot arranged for his landing in a strange city was again evidenced when Atwood descended at Edgewater Park, in the western part of the city, whereas Euclid Beach, 13 miles to the east, had been assigned to him. Not to disappoint the people, Atwood ascended, and in 15 minutes covered the 13 miles over the city and landed safely.

Leaving Toledo at 10:25 a.m. Atwood had started along the edge of Lake Erie at an altitude varying from 200 to 500 feet. He made intermediate landings at Venice and Sandusky, although his schedule called for only one.

For twenty-five miles after leaving Sandusky he steered his machine out over the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern tracks. Between Toledo and Venice he flew 55 miles in 23 minutes, including time lost in searching for a landing place.

A remarkable fatality occurred at Sandusky. A boy named Raymond Watson, ten years of age, was rocking himself on a rocking horse when he overbalanced himself and fell over backwards with the chair. His head became fast in the reins of the horse, and in falling he dislocated his neck, and was killed instantly.

PRESIDENT VETOES WOOL TARIFF BILL

Majority Leader Will Attempt to Put Measure Through House Again

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—Republican applause which greeted President Taft's veto of the wool tariff bill, was read in the House yesterday, and it was signed last night by Vice-President Sherman and Speaker Clark.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 18.—The funeral of St. Croix Johnstone, who, like William R. Badger, was killed by a fall from an aeroplane last Tuesday, was held yesterday. Several of his late companions at the aviation meet here were present. A monoplane made of flowers appeared among the lavish floral tributes. The body will be cremated.

Badger's funeral will be held at Pittsburg, his home.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—That his fellow-aviators may have tampered with the mechanism of his aeroplane is a statement made by Mrs. Johnstone in reference to her son, St. Croix Johnstone, who was killed by his machine at Chicago the other day. Mrs. Johnstone said that her son had told her this some time ago.

Colon, Panama, Aug. 18.—Chief Engineer Goethals at Colon yesterday said he had heard nothing of the reported arrest of a Spanish anarchist, cited in some American papers with being in a plot to dynamite the Panama canal and assassinate Lieut.-Col. Goethals.

The rumor of intended violence may have arisen in the recent misunderstanding between a foreman and a group of Spanish laborers. The men somewhat dissatisfied held meetings at Rio Grande, at one of which they addressed a petition to Col. Goethals asking that he bear future grievances personally instead of receiving the story from the men through an interpreter. The police made no arrests.

Ogden, Utah, Aug. 18.—Local leaders of the federated unions of the Harriman system, including boilermakers and machinists and their helpers and carmen, state there is no immediate danger of a strike on the western roads, and that no decision will be reached as to the future action of the men until after a conference has been held by their representatives and the heads of the Harriman roads, and then not until a referendum vote of the employees has been taken on the result of that conference.

LIBERAL NOMINATIONS.

Five of the seven Liberal candidates in the approaching election have already been selected by the conventions of their constituencies and are busily preparing for the formal nominations.

It is understood also, who will be the standard-bearers in the other ridings. Already the Conservatives concede that four of these seats will fall to the Liberals, and it is admitted by them that the contests in the remaining constituencies have no more than the usual uncertainty as to the election results.

It must be conceded that the Liberal candidates in all the ridings are men of parts, and to the personnel of the Liberal ticket throughout the province there could be no desirable change suggested. Each of the candidates has personal distinction and is of such standing in the Liberal party that the unanimity with which the selections were made is but a tribute to the esteem in which they are personally held.

In Victoria Hon. William Templeman has been so much before the public, both by his personal interest in civic affairs and because of his long residence in the city that his name is a household word. This is true not only to the old-timers, but of the rising generation. His determination to confide his membership in the Laurier government to the test of his personal, business and political standing in the electoral constituency where all his interests lie rather than accept the nomination of a safe seat generously tendered by other constituents will constitute a powerful appeal to those who admire the pride and pluck which faces the fight necessary to redeem Victoria from occupation by his political opponent.

ponent. There was a ring of confidence in the tone which he manifested and a note of appreciation of its evident sincerity when his nominating convention cheered him to the echo in his plea for a "clean and fair contest" by his own followers. It is needless to state that Hon. Mr. Templeman is armed and prepared to discomfit any attempt at a repetition of the discreditable tactics by which his last election was stolen.

It is gratifying to learn of the solidarity of Mr. Ralph Smith, in the confidence of his constituents and of his unanimous selection as the candidate for this contest. Mr. Smith's constituency is peculiar, though not unique, in the sense that it comprises a complex political representation ranging from the staid, established and orthodox Liberal through every color of political creed and affiliation to the Socialist and extreme radical. The member for such a constituency must be a man of parts and a man of patience. It is frequently necessary to affect indifference to the temporary apparent triumph of some new fever in the body politic and the self-control which can watch the progress of such events until they reach their climax and the subsidence begins is a rare quality. The steady confidence that the elector must in the end become wise to the finality of tangent political creeds is a gift which Mr. Smith possesses in an unusual degree. It is safe to say that he is better understood and more thoroughly appreciated by his constituents to-day than at any previous appointment which he has made for their suffrages. Mr. Smith has had no "shooting star" or "meteoric" career, either as the representative of Nanaimo or as a member of the House, now high in the confidence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Apart from the clear-cut issue upon which the Liberal appeal is being made to the electorate, Mr. Ralph Smith has won a place from which it will be difficult, if not impossible, to dislodge him. The Times is not informed who will be the candidate selected for Comox-Atlin, but the choice has already sufficiently narrowed to warrant the assertion that whichever Liberal candidate is nominated will win the seat.

OUR FRUIT LANDS.

In a carefully argued and well written article in the July number of The New Empire, published at Vernon, Mr. H. P. Lee answers the question "Is Fruit Land Worth Three Hundred Dollars an Acre?" Mr. Lee argues, of course, concerning the land in the Okanagan Valley and the substance of his demonstration, which by the way is conclusive, is that the land is worth that much because it produces results which pay good interest on money invested at that price. No one who has studied the fruit land question in the province will be disposed to controvert his argument, but many will be inclined to ask why is fruit land not selling for much more than $200 per acre? Lands in the Kootenay Lake Valleys sold recently for as much as $1,000 per acre, though it must be admitted that the residential advantages of the locality somewhat enhanced the price.

But there is no reason why all the fruit lands in the province should not, in the near future, sell for $1,000 per acre. Fruit lands in the Wenatchee Valley, less than half a thousand miles south of British Columbia and in the same parallels of longitude, sell for from $1,200 to $2,000 per acre and for the same reason that lands in this province sell for high values, because they pay high interest on the investment. As is the case in every economic question, there must be reason for this remarkable contrast in values. It does not lie in the productive power of the land nor in the quality of the fruit produced, because, in the first case, the provincial lands are equal in producing power and in the second case the foreign fruit is not only not superior but is actually inferior in quality. Both these statements can be proved, the first by a reference to the productive returns and the second by the fact that the fruits of the province, and especially those of the Okanagan and Kootenay Valleys, have taken the highest prizes repeatedly in competition in the world centres with the fruit products of the world.

Barring the fact—soon to be overcome—that the Washington fruit lands have been longer cultivated and orchards are more mature, the whole question is one of "free markets." Freight rates to Winnipeg and the Eastern markets are no more favorable from Spokane than they are from Vernon. If they are, the fault is not with the fruit growers and does not affect the question in the matter of our argument.

The fact is that the Washington producer has an open market and can ship his fruit anywhere he likes without combatting the handicap of a tariff duty. He, therefore, ships his best fruits to the eastern markets and competes with the Canadian importer to be contented with his second and third grades. The Canadian consumer must have these or go without fruit, and when he imports them he is compelled to pay the duty. It is always the consumer who pays the duty when other competition is equal.

With the duty removed from his exports, the Canadian producer could—owing to the superior quality of his products—capture the best markets in the United States, because he could sell to the consumer, through the dealers, at a price which would place his fruit in direct competition with that grown in other countries.

Just as soon as he can do this his land must rise in its value to compare with the lands of his even competitors. In maintaining the duty—small as it is—on fruit the disadvantage is as much to the producer as shutting him out of the best markets as it is to the consumer by compelling him to pay an artificial price for the fruit which he cannot procure from native orchards.

Particularly in British Columbia the opposition to reciprocity is unthoughtful, because it not only will cheapen the price of fruit but, by the extension of the markets, will raise the price obtainable by the producer as well as enhance the price of his lands. This is the view taken by a large number of those in the province who are engaged in the industry. They are not fearful of the future; they have not planted for to-day and to-morrow, but for ten days hence, and their desire is to develop their markets with the progress of their local production, so that when the latter reaches its highest stage the question of a market will be already solved.

We think these considerations, when carefully resolved, will add much to the determination of both producer and consumer of fruits to aid in the endorsement of the reciprocity measure.

WORTH CONSIDERING.

A few days ago a former American citizen who has made extensive purchases of realty in and around Victoria and who has invested heavily in industrial enterprises in British Columbia, discussed the prospects of reciprocity with members of the various firms through which he had negotiated some of his business affairs. To these he expressed surprise that there could be any opposition to the reciprocity pact, as, according to his understanding, the failure of the people of Canada to confirm the agreement would mean a serious setback to the advancement and prosperity of the province. He pointed out that reciprocity would induce settlement on unoccupied lands, the cultivation of the farms already occupied by new comers, the building up of industries throughout the whole country and the consequent commercial prosperity of British Columbia. Holding investments in lands bought for speculative purposes adjacent to the city, he tersely stated that he looked to reciprocity to enhance the value of these and he intimated that had he not been content that reciprocity would be ratified he might not have been quite so ready to invest. He went farther and stated that many of his friends, who had been induced by his example to consider Victoria and its environs as offering desirable investments, are merely awaiting the final ratification of the pact to justify their business instincts by taking time at the forelock and availing themselves of first-floor opportunities that still remain. His talk was a serious business talk to serious and successful business men and we rehearse the salient features of the conversations, as we think their substance is worth considering.

BUNCH OF FACTIONS.

(Arcadian Recorder.)

The Orange Sentinel is out against Sir Wilfrid Laurier because, as it alleges, he is a tool of the Papacy. The Bourassa organs are out against him and denounce him as a traitor to his race. The Conservative organs are denouncing him as being false to the Empire. The Tories in Quebec are indicting him for cringing to imperial influences. The Montreal Witness pointedly asks, "Are all these people going to get together and form a government when they get him out?" They cannot get together and carry on a government. They would scratch each other's eyes out in a week. The kind of government they would give would be similar to that of Hayti. It is not a party capable of governing the Dominion that is opposing Sir Wilfrid, but a bunch of factions. The banking faction, the high protection faction, the anti-reciprocity faction, the Bourassa faction, the Orange faction and several others, none of which can assimilate any more than oil and water.

CUTE BOTH WAYS.

(Ottawa Citizen, Conservative.)

For the mere reason that the Liberal party has staked its future on the prediction that reciprocity will be a success, it by no means follows that the Conservative party should stake its future that reciprocity will be a failure.

Make Your Girl a Cloth Dress at a Cost of Only $1.75

One of our customers tells us that she frequently made a splendid cloth dress for her girls at a cost of not more than $1.75, and this is how she explains the proposition: A remnant of navy blue serge of good quality, containing about 3 yards of material, costs $1.50 plus one spool of cotton and about 10c worth of buttons, are all the materials she uses, and makes a dress that will last her daughter about six months. She explains that she not only saves money on the cost of the dress, but she gets far better value than she can usually get out of the lower priced ready-to-wear garment, and makes a dress that will suit her individual taste. With a suitable pattern from our stock of The Ladies' Home Journal Pattern Book anyone should be able to make a neat dress—the patterns are simple to understand, all complications having been removed. Is this proposition worth your consideration? It certainly is a money saver. A large and varied assortment of remnants to choose from at prices that should tempt the most exacting customer. Inspect them to-day.

THE SHOOTING SEASON.

Provincial Gazette Contains Announcement Without Reference to Island.

The following appears in the official publication of the province:

"His honor the Lieutenant-governor in Council has been pleased to make regulations providing for the removal of the disabilities as to the shooting of the birds mentioned therein, and the shooting and sale of Columbian or coast deer, namely:

"That the disabilities as to the shooting of blue, willow grouse and ptarmigan be removed throughout the mainland, except in the Fernie, Cranbrook, Richmond, Dewdney, Delta and Chilliwack electoral districts, and that portion of the Kent municipality situated in the Yale electoral district, between the 1st day of September, 1911, and the 31st day of December, 1911, both days inclusive.

"That the disabilities as to the shooting of duck of all kinds, snipe and geese, be removed throughout the mainland and the islands adjacent thereto, between the 1st day of September, 1911, and the 28th day of February, 1912, both days inclusive.

"That the disabilities as to the shooting of Columbian or coast deer be removed throughout the mainland and islands adjacent thereto, with the exception of the Queen Charlotte Islands, between the 1st day of September, 1911, and the 15th day of December, 1911, both days inclusive.

"That the disabilities as to the sale of Columbian or coast deer on the mainland and islands adjacent thereto be removed between the 1st day of September, 1911, and the 15th day of November, 1911, both days inclusive.

"The said regulations shall not affect Katen Island, the Yalakom game reserve in the Lillooet district, the Elk river game reserve in East Kootenay, or the game reserve in the Fort George district."

The fact will be observed that no reference is made to the opening of the shooting season on Vancouver Island and the islands adjacent thereto, although sportsmen in Victoria and neighborhood are naturally anxious to know what is to be done and to make their arrangements accordingly. The authorities in whose hands the game regulations lie are evidently pursuing their old tactics in treating with contempt the convenience of the people of this neighborhood, although it was understood that in accordance with arrangement the opening of the shooting season was to alternate between the middle of September and the 1st of October. This is the year in which the 1st of October should mark the opening of the season.

The question of the limits within which express companies are required to deliver parcels in Victoria is being considered by the railway and freight committee of the board of trade, for presentation before the board of railway commissioners. As the hearing is set for an early date the committee requests that all those who have suggestions to offer should send them to the secretary of the board of trade immediately.

Workmen employed in taking down the old saloon building opposite the general post office at knock-off time last evening, thoughtlessly left the hydrant near the corner of Government and Humboldt streets covered with old lumber. It was not long before the boys at the central fire hall heard of it and the hydrant was promptly cleared ready for action. It seems that it is not easy to catch the Victoria fire department napping.

The annual picnic of St. Paul's Sunday school, Esquimalt, will take place in the rectory grounds to-morrow afternoon at 1:30. Parents of the children are given a cordial invitation to be present. The school will reopen after the summer vacation on Sunday, September 2.

Building permits were issued yesterday by the building inspector to T. S. Love, dwelling, Pendergast street, $3250; to Mrs. M. J. Vivian, dwelling on Shakespeare street, $500; to A. W. Veal, dwelling on Cook street, $2,000; to E. B. Knowlton, dwelling on Shelbourne street, $1,500; to J. B. Bartlett, dwelling on Grant street, $1,700.

The members of "Ourappym" camp, Willows beach, are making arrangements for a picnic to be held at their camp to-morrow afternoon, starting at two o'clock, to which they invite their many friends and acquaintances. During the afternoon games will be played and a few competitions will be held, among them being the following: The prettiest girl, the cutest boy, the meanest man, the latest married couple, the biggest foot. Competent judges have been secured for all these contests and suitable prizes will be awarded the winners.

On Wednesday evening a pleasant time was spent at the Old Men's Home, where an entertainment was given by the Gerson Bible class. Mr. Crook, the class president, occupied the chair. The following programme was given: Reading, R. Wellwood; violin solo, Mr. Staples; recitation, G. Wilson; cello selection, A. Staples; piano solo, Mrs. B. K. Hardwick; reading, Mrs. E. E. Hardwick; instrumental quartette, A. Staples, D. Staples, and Mrs. B. K. Hardwick; reading, E. E. Hardwick. After the programme refreshments were served in the dining room.

PASSING SHOW

Majestic Theatre.

For Friday and Saturday a selection of high class pictures will be shown. "A Smile of a Child," illustrates the influence of the smile of a child. It makes an ill-natured prince pleasant, and later it saves its mother. "The Prejudice of Pierce and Marie," is a story of love and jealousy developing some excellent character drawing in two men. A jealous husband misjudges a sincere friend and regrets it when too late. "The Lucky Card," depicting an American who saves the life of a Mexican prospector. A year later, when the American has mortally offended a Mexican in a dance hall, he is kidnapped and about to be assassinated when one of the Mexicans recognizes his rescuer and frees him. "On the Frontier of Tibet," a very interesting travel picture. "Boys Will Be Boys," a comedy in which boys play pranks on many, and full of amusing situations.

Princess Theatre.

The Williams Stock Co. is having capacity houses at every performance of "La Belle Marie" this week. The last performance of this bill will be to-night and to-morrow night, with a matinee to-morrow afternoon. A bill which will prove very popular is being prepared for next week.

A pleasing feature of the present company is the general high standard of its players. In the three plays in which they have appeared all have been well cast, and have filled their roles in an admirable manner. Mention should be made of Miss Margaret Doyle's songs between the acts, which bring her hearty and well-earned applause.

Empress Theatre.

A furor of applause greeted the Kaufman cycling girls again last night at each show at the Empress theatre, where their magnificent display of bicycle riding was seen by two full houses. The act is without question the fastest bicycle act ever got together, and the Kaufman sextette has won wide praise between the two oceans.

Josephine Gassman and her small colored children are a delight to see and hear, little Bill Bailey being the feature. Noodles Fagan, the American newsboy king, is very popular here; Maximo, the loose wire artist, gives a really wonderful performance, and Shriner and Whits prove to be entertainers of great strength in their piano and singing act.

To-morrow the Empress will have four shows, the first at 3 p. m. when the regular matinee performance will be given, and at night the full show is to be given three times, the first commencing at 7 o'clock.

AMATEUR BALL GAME TO-MORROW AFTERNOON

Prides and Bays at Athletic Park—Former Claim Hills Not Champions

According to one aggregation of ball players at least the senior amateur baseball league is not yet over. The Prides have risen up in anger and protested against the Hills being styled champions. It is claimed by the Prides that, if they win two games and the Hills drop two, the two clubs will be tied and will have to play off a deciding game.

This is not exactly the way it was put to the Times by some of the members of other teams, but then there has been so little serious or order in the league that it is more or less a matter of guess work with anyone. As far as can be discovered it would appear that each of the three teams, the Bays, the Hills and the Prides, have two more games to play. The Bays are out of the running, that is, unless they get around quick before it is all doped out. The Hills have won seven and the Prides claim to have won five, one of the five, the latter day, was defaulted by the Hills. If that

FISHER'S SACRIFICE WON.

Hills	7
Prides	5

As can be seen, the loss of two games by the Hills and the gain of two by the Prides will place the teams on level. The Prides are confident they can win their two and feel almost equally sure that the Hills will drop two. The latter have never yet lost a game they played, but are now in a sadly disrupted condition owing to the loss of Charlie Surphils and Fowler, and this, it is claimed, will cause their downfall.

To-morrow afternoon at the Royal Athletic park the Prides and Bays will meet, the game taking place after the lacrosse match.

TENNIS RESULTS.

The results of yesterday's matches in the Victoria Tennis Club's handicap tourney were:

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for night serve to distinguish high water from low water. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the lowest tide in each month of the year. This low water is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

GROCCERS' PICNIC AT GOLDSTREAM

PROSPEROUS TRADERS TAKE ANNUAL OUTING

Thousands of Picnicers Witness Sports and Attend Dance at Night

The wholesale and retail grocers of Victoria held their annual picnic at Goldstream yesterday, where several thousand people attended and spent one of the most enjoyable of picnic days held in the course of many years. With beautiful weather a long and varied programme of sports, and much enthusiasm, the 1911 picnic was one to be long remembered.

Two trains left in the morning, one at 1.30 and one later in the afternoon. Many went out to the beautiful pleasure resort by automobile and numbers drove in carriages and rigs. Among the visitors present other than those connected with the trade, was Hon. William Templeman, minister of mines, who was cordially welcomed.

From the time of the arrival of the morning trains the sports committee was busy with the long programme, while interest in the early part of the day centered in the ball game between the wholesalers and the retailers. At the end of nine innings the wholesalers were four runs to the good, the score being 12 to 8.

The teams were composed of the following: Wholesalers—A. Shanks, 1 b.; Vincent K. Gray, 2 b.; Dinsmore, c. f.; Brown, s. s.; S. Shanks, 3 b.; Pike, Nason, 1 f.; Meldrum, r. f.; and Meldrum, p. Retailers—James, 1 b.; Hillier, 2 b.; E. Speed, r. f.; Pullin, 1 f.; E. White, p.; Webster, c.; Coates, c. f.; A. McNeil, 2 b.; Cocker, s. s.

Francis McKenna Gibbs, the son of E. B. and Mrs. Gibbs, 1192 Yates street, won the honors of the baby competition, with seventeen competitors against him. The judges who won the ire of seventeen mothers by their decision were A. Thornton, J. W. Dilworth and S. Nason.

Olive Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Baker, 143 Ontario street, secured the verdict from the three judges as the best girl infant, and there were fourteen beautiful baby girls in the contest. The fat man's race, the tug of war, and all the other events were full of fun and interest, and in the evening the umbrella prizes were drawn. The winners will be announced later. There were 405 prizes offered.

of music rendered by a first-class orchestra. In all ways the picnic was a success, and the committee men responsible for the outing and deserving of hearty congratulation are:

INDIAN BUDGET JOKE

How Native Tribes' Fear of the Census Was Overcome.

Mr. Montagu, introducing the Indian budget in the British House of Commons, raised a laugh by explaining how some suspicious tribes were beguiled into allowing themselves to be enumerated for the census.

In certain cases the natives were convinced that the enumeration was preliminary to their sale as slaves. To overcome this belief the officials explained that a lot had been made between the Empress Victoria and the Tsar of Russia as to which had the larger number of subjects.

The reputation of the Empress was at stake, and every tribe ought to return its full number of people. The tribes responded to the appeal, and the figures came in promptly.

In the course of his statement Mr. Montagu held out the hope that the coming loss of revenue through the total liquidation of the opium traffic would be compensated for by the growth of modern industries. The census, just completed, he said, indicated an increase of 2,900,000 of population in ten years, the figures being: 1901, 291,000,000; 1911, 315,000,000.

"I would like mightily to enjoy riches."

"Then why don't you try to marry me?"

"As I said, I want to enjoy them."

We Must Clear Out Our Stock at Once Prices Slashed to Profitless Proportions

AN UNFORTUNATE ERROR IN AN OLD SURVEY RESULTED IN THE HOLDING UP OF OUR NEW BUILDING FOR TWO MONTHS, and in the meantime goods, intended for our new and enlarged store, have been accumulating, until we were at our wits' ends to know where to store them. We have now made up our minds to offer them to the public at sacrifice prices, for we must clear out the whole of the stock at our store at once. The builders are tearing things to pieces so as to rebuild the walls and notify us they will not be responsible if our goods are damaged by rain. So now is your supreme opportunity to buy House Furnishings at extraordinary low prices, and at the same time help us to get our new store rushed to completion. We are growing—we need the room. QUEER POLITICS IN NORTHWEST LEAGUE

President Lindsay Refused to Call Meeting at Instigation of Dugdale

Tacoma, Aug. 18.—There is some mighty queer league politics being played in the Northwestern League just at present. Yesterday there were five of the directors of the league in Seattle and they wanted to hold a meeting. At least four of them wanted to, but one did not. The one had his way and the other four were forced to disband.

"Who is this powerful director?" asked the bewildered fan, who was laboring under the misapprehension that majority rules in directors' meetings as well as other places.

President Dugdale of Seattle is the director in question, and he is able to do it because it is said he controls President Lindsay. Such was the case yesterday. Presidents Wattelet, Brown, Shreeder and Cohn were in Seattle yesterday and wanted to have a meeting, but the stout owner of the Seattle ball club tipped it off to the president of the league that he did not desire any such meeting.

"I see no reason for calling a meeting and will not," the president told the other directors.

"Bob" Brown, went back to Vancouver, Joe Cohn and George Shreeder returned to Tacoma and Wattelet went into the alley and kicked himself.

Dugdale had thrown the switch and that was all there was to it.

"What was done at the meeting this afternoon?" President Shreeder was asked last night on his return to Tacoma.

"There was no meeting," he replied.

"Why not?"

"I have nothing to say about that," said Shreeder, "but we had no meeting."

Joe Cohn could not tell why. He had come to Seattle expecting that President Lindsay would accede to the request of a majority of the directors, but he was disappointed.

Although the magnates will not give out the underlying facts which surround the present imbroglio, the conditions are about as follows:

The directors want to find out why Ort was returned to good standing after a double assault upon an umpire, while another player is given a longer suspension for a much more trivial offense.

The directors want President Lindsay to explain a number of his weird decisions, but he has been sidestepping.

Dugdale wants no investigation of the Ort case and he is not going to give the other directors a chance if he can help himself. President Lindsay is also interested. He realizes that if the directors get investigating there is liable to be another president at the head of the league as soon as the meeting adjourns, so the old judge wants to keep connected with the snare berth he has as long as possible. Dugdale is the man who put him there and he has not forgotten it.

It is high time, the fans believe, that someone was placed at the head of the league who has some real backbone. The domination of the league by one man or a clique will be the ruin of the game, they consider. Unpleasant must be sustained regardless of the personal trouble it may cause, but examples should not be made of one player and another allowed to go partially punished because he happens to belong to a club, which controls the head of the league. It is a certainty that Lindsay will not be president next year, but there might be a change during the present season, many fans think.

CRICKET

TO-MORROW'S GAMES.

Albion C. C. vs. Seattle C. C., at Beacon Hill.

Victoria C. C. vs. United Service at Jubilee Hospital grounds.

Albion C. C. 2nd XI. vs. Strawberry Vale, Burnside Road.

The two games of importance on Saturday are Victoria against a strong united service team, on the Jubilee Hospital ground. The game begins at two o'clock. Rumor says Victoria will send the visitors to the bat so that the home eleven may secure the much-needed fielding practice. Maybe this has been suggested on account of the recent enlarging of the boundaries at both ends of the grounds by cutting back the long grass. This is a decided improvement, adding at least a hundred feet to the field of play.

The Seattle-Albion game, commencing at 1:30 p. m., on the Beacon Hill grounds, will be watched with keenest interest to get some relative idea of the strength of these two teams. Albion is far more dangerous this year than ever before. In the last few weeks their fielding has been decidedly improved. All the year their batting has shown exceptional strength and as Seattle are picked as the possible winners of Division "A" the game should be well worth watching.

Seattle, although lacking their full tournament strength, as some of their players will not arrive until Monday, have one of the strongest teams on the coast. If their good men all arrive there are some who pick this team as possible winners of the finals.

Certain it is that in no former years has the outcome been so uncertain. When men of the calibre of Iselsther and A. Thomas are open for engagements there must be an abundance of good material.

Again the attention of those interested in the tournament is called to the Pacific Coast Cricket Association folder, which gives all the information in regard to cricket week and can be obtained upon application at the Times business office.

SPORT NOTES

President Nels Nelson of the British Columbia Lacrosse Association announced Wednesday night that he had appointed Billy Moresby and Fred White of Victoria, as referees for Saturday's match at Vancouver between Westminster and Vancouver. They have consented to officiate.

It seems strange that Billy Ditchburn, who was appointed official referee in the Minto Cup matches by the president of the G. C. L. Association should now be turned now. Ditchburn, it was understood, was always to have first call, while the others, White, Moresby and Wilson, were to officiate as second men.

The standing of the Northwestern League teams is:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Vancouver	76	47	.618
Tacoma	72	51	.588
Seattle	65	55	.541
Spokane	64	59	.520
Portland	58	62	.483
Victoria	31	92	.252

SEATTLE TENNIS.

Fifty-three matches, the highest number ever played in one day on the courts of the Seattle Tennis club, were run off in the fourth day of the Washington state tennis tournament yesterday, and it is now believed that the finals will be played on Saturday.

In the men's doubles Capt. Paulkes of Victoria, and J. C. Tyler of Spokane, defeated P. Denton of Tacoma, and Hewitt of Tacoma, 6-3, 6-0. In the singles Capt. Paulkes defeated Fisk, 6-1, 7-5, and J. C. Tyler defeated H. Kelleher, 6-1, 6-1.

HAL BEASLEY WILL HAVE TO BE SPEEDY

Best Coast Sprinters to Compete at Astoria—Ralph Rose in Weight Events

That Hal Beasley, who is entered in the Centennial-Pacific Coast championship games to be held at Astoria on August 25, will have to go some to win or even make a showing in his events, the 100 and 200 yards is realized when one glances over the records established by some of those likely to oppose him. "Hal" has done the 100 in 16 flat and he figures that if he can equal that at the games he will stand a chance; but even granting he can do it he is not at all sure of winning, for several of the other entrants are credited with covering the distance in less than 10 seconds.

Notable among these are Nelson, Martin and Courtenay, of the San Francisco Olympic club, and Troop, from Los Angeles, all of whom claim "high water" marks of 9.45 seconds. "Pete" Garhart, captain of the Frisco Olympic club, will go with his squad and will endeavor to come back in the 100 yard dash and repeat his performance of 15 years ago, when he won at Astoria.

W. F. Wymann, of Stanford University; C. C. Taylor and J. Leaman have entered the 440-yard event. Wymann is a fast man who was defeated by three feet in the 440-yard event at Pittsburg in the remarkable time of 49 seconds. Taylor and Leaman have both gone the distance in 59 seconds, and at one time did a dead heat in 50.1-2 seconds.

There will be at least eight 440-yard men, and all of them have done better than 50 seconds. McCauley, of the San Francisco Olympic club, has done under 50 seconds, and his entry, with these fast ones, will make a race that anybody should wish to see far in the west.

The peer of all entries at all in the weight events is that of Ralph Rose, world's champion shot-putter, who has two world's records and a long list of good performances to back up his work. Rose, it will be remembered, was the one who, when being paraded before the King, refused to lower the American colors. This was a good deal of comment, but Rose failed to see why the American flag should be lowered to any man.

"Con" Walsh, of the New York Athletic club, another champion who is on his way to Seattle, has entered against Rose, and from all indications there will be a profession of weight men at this championship meet. James Donahue, an all-round champion has written in the best possible condition, and will compete in the all-round championships at Chicago August 12, and then start immediately for the Astoria meet.

He says he will specialize in the low hurdles and the broad jump. In the low hurdles he has held the championship of United States and Canada for 1909 and the Pacific coast championship in high hurdles and Pacific Coast championship broad jump this year. He will carry the colors of the Olympic club of San Francisco.

"Dad" Houston, who is building the track for these events, says he has never seen a climate so adapted to speed as that of Astoria. The nights are cool, so that the men can sleep, and the days warm enough to bring out the best they have in them without causing intense suffering because of heat. This veteran trainer from San Francisco has personal experience every athlete he knows, urging attendance at the Astoria Centennial meet, for which the railroads have granted reduced rates of fare.

Tom McDonald, coach of the Seattle Athletic Club track team, will leave with his band of crack sprinters, hurdlers, broad jumpers and weight throwers, next Wednesday or Thursday for Astoria.

Coach McDonald says his squad is in grand condition. The boys work out every morning at the Madish Park speedway, Seattle, and all of them appear to be ready for hard, consistent performances.

Among the high-class athletes whom Coach McDonald will take to Astoria are: Jack Nelson, A. A. U., 220-yard champion; Ira Courtney, W. Martin, sprinter; "Con" Walsh, the famous weight tosser; W. Thomassen, high and broad jump; Don Evans, high jump and javelin throw; Paul Clyde, distance runner; Cochran, pole vault; Sherrick, weight events; Frank Brockaw, broad pump and hurdle events;

Brittan, quarter-mile and Oro Holman, pole vault.

ABOUT BASEBALL

It seems astonishing, but the first home run ever batted over the Tacoma ball ground fence was followed a day or so later by another. The second one was made by Curtis Coleman on Wednesday afternoon. It is a strange coincidence that last week, when the Tigers were here, Coleman remarked to the Times sporting editor that he did not think a fair ball would ever be batted over the Tacoma fence.

There is a good story going the rounds on Pitcher Maxmeyer, of the Portland club. Maxmeyer has just broken into professional baseball and took his first ride on a Pullman Sunday night when the club was going from Portland to Seattle.

Just before the players turned in to their berths, Tonneson took Maxmeyer aside.

"It's your watch to-night," he said. "You are supposed to patrol the car while the other fellows sleep. You take the first shift up to 12 o'clock. Then wake up Perle Casey and let him go on shift. Wake Williams when you go off shift and report."

Pursuant to instructions, Maxmeyer stood watch. He patrolled the aisle and kept a vigilant watch. At midnight he went to the berth occupied by Nick Williams.

After shaking him, he shouted: "Twelve o'clock and all is well!" Then something happened but what Maxmeyer is not very clear on. He expressed himself, however, as being rather glad his watch was over.

The French police are inquiring into the disappearance of bonds to the value of $3,000, which a wealthy widow lost while on a railway journey between Tarbes and Saint Giron. She had packed this valuable property with her bonnets in a hat-box. At Montrejeau she quit the train to lunch at the buffet, and was left behind. When her luggage was recovered it was found the hat-box had been opened, and although the bonnets were there, the securities had vanished.

The Camperdown, which rammed the Victoria in the Mediterranean in June, 1903, when the latter went down with the loss of Admiral Sir George Tryon and 23 lives, was sold at Devonport to the Ship-breaking Company of London for $10,000.

C. H. BARNARD GETS THE NOMINATION

Conservatives Name Him as Standard-Bearer and Then Hear Scrap-Book Speech.

There were vacant seats at the Institute hall last night when the Conservative party of this city got together to nominate their candidate. There was no competition for the honor of carrying the standard of high tariffs and opposition to cheaper food. Consequently G. H. Barnard, unanimously adopted, talked to his supporters for an hour, after which Hon. R. McBride addressed them, at the conclusion of which latter speech half the audience got up and went home, not waiting for the resolutions, which were afterwards put and carried.

As soon as the candidate had been duly nominated and endorsed he was called upon by Leonard Tait, president of the Conservative Association, who was in the chair, to address the meeting. In doing so Mr. Tait mentioned that apart from those of Mr. Barnard and the premier, all the other speeches would be curtailed without mercy. No curtailment, however, was necessary as there were no other speeches beyond the formal proposals in connection with the resolutions.

Before Mr. Barnard had completed a quarter of an hour of his earnest reading of Hansard several of the audience went, an example which, at intervals, was copied by others. Perhaps they were disappointed because the advertised "fine orchestra," which was to render "a choice programme of music," was absent.

At any rate it is probable they were rather disappointed with the candidate. His address was hardly what might have been expected from a just-adopted parliamentary candidate. By far the greater part of it was a continual reading of Hansard reports and the portion he devoted to remarks of his own, with constant reference to his notes, was given in a halting way, altogether making him out an indifferent figure as the local standard bearer of the Conservative party. It was not an ideal election address. It seemed more like a boy reading a lesson, and it was made more conspicuous by the address afterwards delivered by the premier, which was certainly of a stirring character when offered to a Conservative audience.

The first thing Mr. Barnard claimed was that the Liberals had not fifty per cent of the total vote of the electorate. He qualified this statement by adding "outside of Quebec," and as Quebec province includes Montreal, with the largest urban population in Canada, and other big centres, this was important. After sneering at the flash-light taken at the Liberal meeting the night before, he went on to talk about the naval question, and Hansard was in constant requisition. After exhaustive reading he wondered why "one heralded as such a statesman as Sir Wilfrid Laurier" should propose to spend $1,847,000 a year on the Atlantic coast while only half that amount was to be expended on the Pacific. He claimed that the government had no better reason than to place ships where the votes were. Mr. G. H. Barnard criticized the statesmanship, and suggesting the motives of Sir Wilfrid Laurier on a subject on which the latter has had exceptional opportunities to consult the wishes of the British government was distinctly funny.

At 9:20 the premier arrived, and still Mr. Barnard, who had now got to the subject of reciprocity, continued to monotonously read Hansard reports. It made things dull, and several men went out. In addition to Hansard, Mr. Barnard quoted newspapers in the endeavor to find out "Where Sir Wilfrid was leading the country." He said: "I hope I do not weary you," but it seemed plain he was doing so. He also quoted the opinion of Sir William Van Horne, chairman of the C. P. R., whom, he said, had no politics, but everyone knows the C. P. R. naturally wants the trade and business of Canada carried east and west. Then the candidate approached the subject of the awful risk of cheaper food.

He did not profess, he said, to know the cause of high prices of the cost of living, but he was certain there was "nothing in it." He considered reciprocity "absolutely rotten."

After answering in the affirmative three questions as to whether he would support better postal facilities, harbor accommodation and a continuance of the Chinese head tax, Mr. Barnard sat down, while Premier McBride came forward to speak.

The premier occupied the first quarter of an hour by uttering platitudes in stained-glass attitudes as to Mr. Barnard's wonderful gifts and ability and general fitness as their candidate, and then referred to the criticism by the Liberal papers of what they called the Conservative platform of jingoism and imperialism. He did not approve of such criticism, which made him think that, at heart, the Liberals felt their cause was not good.

The premier then proceeded to again issue a warning against the terrible result of what he called a probable fusion with the United States. He held that reciprocity would mean that he knew it would lead to unrestricted reciprocity. But he admitted that before any such fusion could take place additional legislation would be necessary.

Soon after stating that this fusion would unquestionably and inevitably be the case, he mentioned that Sir John Macdonald had been in favor of reciprocity, which certainly gave the impression, whether the premier intended it or not, that if reciprocity meant annexation the same suggested likelihood must surely have existed at the time when Sir John Macdonald advocated reciprocity.

From this Mr. McBride went on to repeat his arguments of Saturday last as to the democracy of British people and the want of freedom existing amongst the people of the United States, and he also repeated his statements as to reciprocity meaning the severance of Empire. The Conservative party, he said, would leave nothing undone to destroy the government responsible for such a risk.

As to the cause of the measure, he believed Sir Wilfrid had been pushed in to it by Messrs. Fielding and Paterson, who must have been inoculated with some kind of microbes, and he concluded, after three-quarters of an hour, by referring to the trusts, combines and cliques of the United States, to whom it would surely mean, he said, that Canadian possessions would be surrendered.

Then the resolutions were placed before the attenuated meeting and carried. These were as follows:

"That this meeting wishes to place on record its satisfaction at the vigorous and determined manner in which R. L. Borden has conducted the opposition to the reciprocity pact, and to express its confidence in him as leader of the Conservative party in the present campaign."

"That this meeting expresses its absolute confidence in Hon. Richard McBride as leader of the government in British Columbia and congratulates him on the splendid success which has attended his administration of provincial affairs during the last eight years."

The meeting concluded shortly before 11 o'clock.

CLAY PIPES AND CANCER.

Specialist Revives Old Theory of Causes of Disease.

One of the interesting statements in Dr. E. F. Bashford's report to the Imperial Cancer Research Fund is that peculiar customs render persons especially liable to cancer. Dr. Bashford mentions specifically the practice of eating very hot rice in China, the use of kangri in Kashmir and the chewing of betel nut. It is not only in the East, however, that customs conducive to cancer prevail. Inquiring at the laboratories of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund—a correspondent was told that the smoking of clay pipes was one danger.

"Such pipes get very hot and the clay often sticks to the lips," it was stated. "Any smoker who wishes to run the least possible risk of this dread disease should taboo such pipes, especially short ones."

"Alcoholic excess which may lead to irritation of the stomach is another practice which introduces the risk of cancer. Curries and highly seasoned food generally, if taken habitually, are also a source of danger."

"There are trades which render the workers more liable than usual to cancer. The workman who runs most risk is the chimney sweep, whose body is covered with soot. Unless the sweep is extremely careful to keep his skin thoroughly clean the ashline products in the soot will cause irritation, which may end in cancer."

"In the same way workers in aniline factories run considerable risk, and all persons who make use of X-rays are particularly liable to cancer."

GROW WITH VICTORIA

Anyone familiar with conditions in Victoria must admit that there is a wonderful field for a Home Building Company run on a strictly cash basis and British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., with an authorized capital of $500,000 has been organized to reap the benefit of the opportunity offered, and at the same time help in building up the city.

COMPANIES RUN ON SIMILAR LINES

Companies run on the lines to be pursued by British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., have proved phenomenally successful, notably The Los Angeles Investment Co., and "Home Builders," Los Angeles, the former having accumulated assets of over $6,000,000 in fourteen years, and now paying 28 per cent dividends on their $1.00 shares, which are selling at $3.60, and the latter, which only started business three years ago, has assets to-day of $1,089,000, surplus $308,000, and is paying 17 per cent dividends on the $1.00 shares which are now selling at $2.30.

Plan of Operation

British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., plan of operation is based upon the sound business principle of no dangerous speculation, and no costly debts. It sells its capital stock at steadily advancing prices, based upon the surplus earning and profits, and utilizes the money received therefrom in building homes for its customers which it sells either for cash or on the easy payment plan.

In the case of customer owning lot and wishing to build on it, British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., will build on payment down of 10 per cent of the cash value of the house, and one per cent per month. For example, party wishing a $2,000 house built would be required to pay down $200 cash, and $20 per month including interest at 7 per cent. Arrangement can also be made where the lot is only partly paid for.

No Delay

British Canadian Home Builders, do not ask you to make monthly payments for one, two or three years before building your house for you, but on agreement as to plans, commence work immediately.

No Promotion Shares

A very important feature of British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., is that every share will bring to the treasury $1.00 per share or more, as all the shares are treasury shares, not one share of promotion stock.

Is It Safe?

A company that pays cash for everything and has no debts cannot be anything but safe. Your money will be invested in building houses after they are sold and a cash payment of 10 per cent has been made on them when a first mortgage will be taken on the house and lot.

Where Profits Are Derived

The profits of the company will be derived from building its own houses, dealing in real estate, paying cash for everything, insurance on all houses it builds, buying for cash and selling on easy payments, and the interest on deferred payments.

How to Purchase Shares

Shares of British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., fully paid and non-assessable, can be purchased at $1.00 per share cash, or on easy payments 10 per cent cash and 5 per cent monthly. For example, $10 cash and $5 monthly purchases 100 shares.

ADJUSTABLE BAKING PAN.

Bottom and Sides Separate and Latter Can Be Any Diameter.
In the adjustable baking pan devised by a Pennsylvania man there would seem to be a stencil that will find a welcome in every kitchen. Not only can this pan be made in different sizes, but there is no chance of cakes sticking to the sides and bottom. The bottom, indeed, is a separate shallow pan.

and the body portion is a circular strip of metal with a series of notches near one end and two tongues in the other end. One of these tongues engages a notch and makes the pan of any diameter desired and the other tongue prevents vertical movement of either end of the strips, so with readily be understood, all that need be done when a cake is baked is to lift the body portion of the vessel from the bottom pan and unhook the strip, which will then be found leaving the cake in perfect condition.

Y. Keast, who have been making a fortnight's visit in Seattle, arrived here yesterday en route for Dunoon, to attend the funeral of the late Hubert Keast.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

An old aunt of ours paid us a visit last week, and during her stay told me the following little story about my grandfather which I venture to think worth repeating.

Grandfather's oldest son was in his early youth a ship's carpenter. His first long voyage was to Calcutta. He was gone several months, and when it came time for him to return, grandmother, of course, began to make all sorts of preparations. Days before the ship was due she began to plan how they would all go down to the wharf to meet John, and what they would have for dinner, and all the dear delicious details of his homecoming.

During this planning, grandfather was strangely unenthusiastic. "I wouldn't plan too much, mother," he would urge. "Suppose the ship is late, or something."

Grandmother thought all this very strange, for grandfather wasn't usually a wet blanket; but she laid to an unsuspected streak of superstition, and let it go at that.

When the ship was actually sighted in the harbor, grandfather acted even more strangely than before. He didn't want grandmother to lay out the "boiled shirt" she had ready for John, and he wouldn't even let her go to the wharf with him.

So he went alone to meet John. And by and by he came back in a carriage with John with his leg in a plaster cast and his young face all pale and wan and thin and then, of course, the whole story came out.

It seemed that some months before, grandfather had gotten word from a vessel which came direct from Calcutta, instead of by a roundabout route, as John's ship did, that John's ship was about to sail with all on board except the ship's carpenter, who had had some kind of an accident and had to be left behind. And John was the ship's carpenter.

As a matter of fact, the report had been correct about the accident, but not about John's being left behind. He had risen out of bed in the hospital the day the ship sailed and insisted on being taken home.

And all these months grandfather had been bearing that anxiety alone. All the family asked him why he didn't tell them, and he just said, "What good would it have done? I would have told you if you could have helped; but you couldn't. It would have made you worry."

Do you know, that story is as inspiring to me as a story of real physical heroism.

I felt a new respect for and pride in my grandfather when I heard it. And more than that, a new shame for my own weakness in sharing anxieties.

That is why I have repeated this bit of family history to you. "What good would it have done?" said grandfather, simply.

What good does it do for any of us to darken someone else's heart with the anxiety that is overshadowing our own?

COAL

We desire to call the attention of the public to the fact that during the months of August and September their winter supply of coal. During these months roads are in good condition and deliveries, especially to the outside districts, can readily be made. If this is not done, then, when the rainy season arrives and the roads are in bad condition, deliveries cannot be guaranteed. Whenever a cold snap has come in the past the demands on the coal dealers have been more than they could possibly take care of, but if the public will take the precaution of laying in early and maintaining a reserve supply this trouble can be minimized.

CLEVELAND NEXT CONVENTION CITY

Selected at Session of the International Typographical Union

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 18.—(Bying an account of a physical encounter between the two factions of the International Typographical Union, in convention here, in which it is said about thirty members and delegates participated early Wednesday morning, Delegate George Koop, of Chicago, brought about a trial of strength between the administration forces and the "insurgents" on the floor of the convention late yesterday. The administration, headed by President James M. Lynch, who is accused by his opponents of dominating the union, won by a vote of 113 to 102.

The vote was on a laws committee substitute for a proposal by Koop to amend the constitution, making the holding of secret sessions to influence legislation punishable by removal from office. The committee substitute leaves the matter to local unions. The vote was taken after three hours of debate, termed by old members the bitterest ever heard in a convention of the union. Koop gave an account of the meeting reported to have been held by the members of the administration faction, in which he mentioned Edward H. Bessett, foreman of the Cleveland Leader press room, as having first emerged from the meeting. "Yes, and you ran like a rat, you stiff," shouted Bessett.

When order had been restored Koop continued in a long address, in which he denounced what he termed the domination of the union by a secret ring, and offered his proposed amendment. Koop was supported by James H. Dahm, of New York, Leon H. Rouse, of New York, and Fred Barker, of Spokane.

"I defy you and dare you to press this matter," said President Lynch in reply. "You can't scare me, you can't outvote me and you can't outtalk me. I can prove that the men who bring these charges have been holding secret meetings."

Cleveland was chosen on the second ballot as the site of the next convention, receiving 117 votes to Houston's 106. On the first ballot Cleveland received 112, Houston 51, Vancouver 19, Ottawa 12. The proceedings of yesterday indicated that the piecemeal referendum vote of May 17 may be reconsidered. President Lynch, in speaking on a proposal to require the petition of 100 unions to initiate legislation instead of fifty, said he was in favor of the referendum, but not its use in cases like that of the recent vote.

Points Worth Noting

When purchasing a Columbia sound-producing instrument, note carefully the fidelity with which it reproduces the human voice in songs or speeches—and the full, rich, musical notes in band or orchestral selections. Until you have heard the

Columbia Graphophone

You cannot realize how the Columbia people have progressed and improved their instruments in these respects.

Every note, every syllable, is faithfully rendered clearly and distinctly—indeed a perfect reproduction of the performance of the singer, speaker, band or orchestra who made the original, or master, record.

EXTRACT FROM "BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL" March 23, 1907. "A Most Valuable Food" At a time when the preparation of artificial foodstuffs is receiving more attention than ever before, and when new forms of easily assimilable fat to take the place of cod liver oil are being frequently brought to the notice of the medical profession, it is desirable that some of the older forms of admixtures of natural fats should not be lost sight of. Among natural fats, butter easily takes first place for nutritive value and when combined with a suitable soluble carbohydrate, a most valuable food is produced. THE BUTTER SCOTCH which Messrs. Callard & Bowser, Duke's Road, Stoney Road, W. C. have prepared for thirty years is such an article, which has the great advantage of being palatable, so palatable in fact, that children are never likely to need restraining from excess. This article is prepared to take it. It is 31% per cent of fat and 75% per cent of sugar and the results of an analysis which we have made recently of a specimen of this Butter Scotch, confirm these figures. This chemical examination of the fat extracted showed it to be genuine butter fat. This conclusion can therefore be recommended, not only as a highly sweetened, but also as a very useful addition to the diet in suitable cases. In all the Principal family stores in Victoria.

THOUSANDS HEAR "NOODLES" FAGAN

TALKS ON TRAVELS AROUND THE WORLD

Sullivan - Considine, Empress Theatre Packed to Doors - Treat for Newsboys

The Empress theatre was unable to hold the crowd last night who came to hear "Noodles" Fagan and Sullivan. Considine road show. "Noodles" Fagan's act is the talk of the town. He will close his engagement to-morrow night.

"Noodles" concluded his great week's work in this city as the guest of the Times by entertaining thousands of children at the Empress this morning. He delivered his famous illustrated lecture, "Around the World," and the treat will long be remembered by the children. He sang Joe Morris' big song hits.

"Noodles" great work in this city during the last week has won him many warm friends. He will leave Victoria to-morrow, having accomplished more good in a single week than it would be possible for most individuals to do in a year.

During his stay he has instilled good wholesome thoughts and advice into many thousand school children; he has cheered the weary, fed the hungry, made glad the hearts of many sufferers and scattered seeds of sunshine and good cheer wherever he has appeared. That the entire city has benefited by his visit goes without saying.

About 1,000 people took in the first show, and another was found necessary, the large crowd in front of the theatre patiently waiting their turn.

If the Times has assisted "Noodles" in a solid way by throwing publicity on his great work, the results accomplished are ample payment. Victoria, and in fact, the whole country, needs just such men. Here's hoping that at some future date this city may again welcome this earnest expounder of wisdom.

Children commenced to gather in front of the Empress before 9 o'clock this morning, and when the doors were opened, the line was the longest ever known at the playhouse. Despite the large number of children anxious to see "Noodles," who is the guest of the Times this week, and is showing at the Empress to packed houses, there was not the slightest disorder. In keeping the youngsters in line "Noodles" was assisted by the boys themselves.

Good Nature Contagious. The irresistible good nature of "Noodles" was contagious, and soon pervaded the whole line of waiting kids. When the doors were finally opened by Manager Wisner the youngsters marched in the same good order that characterized their wait.

"It's just the way you handle a bunch of kids," smilingly remarked "Noodles" afterwards. "Treat them kindly and they will treat you square."

So dense was the throng of youngsters that crowded into the Empress that several hundred more were turned away because they arrived too late to find room.

Because of the overflow it was necessary for "Noodles" to give an open air talk to those who were unable to gain admittance.

Preliminary to the lecture, the children were treated to a concert by the Empress orchestra, which set them wild with delight. They showed their appreciation with repeated cheers for "Noodles," the Empress and the Times.

In commencing his address, "Noodles" gave a graphic description of his life as a newsboy in New York city, where he commenced his business career as a street waif among the hurried fotters of that great city. As he told how he often had to peddle papers until 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning before acquiring enough pennies to buy a meagre breakfast; until 2 or 3 in the afternoon to get dinner, and sometimes until midnight before accumulating enough to buy supper, tears appeared in the eyes of many.

Tells of Hardships. "Noodles" then narrated the manner in which he secured lodgings, sleeping in the jail sometimes, along the boxes on other occasions, and in the wharves or in the parks during warm weather, and sometimes on the gratings over the cellar windows of the newspaper offices along Park row when the nights were cold and he could secure no place of shelter, keeping warm with the heat that came from the press-rooms.

"These hardships wouldn't be tolerated by a city like Victoria," said "Noodles," but they are common for the newsboy without a home in New York.

The lecture ended with the biggest volley of cheers and yells and hand-clapping that was ever shot off in this playhouse. For there on the magic lantern screen was the King.

Boys Cheer Wildly.

The audience, every man Jack of them - every Billy and Teddy and Mike and Giuseppe and Ivan and Ludo and Frank - stood up in their seats and howled. And "Noodles" couldn't have stopped them if he'd wanted to. He hadn't he explained afterwards, the slightest desire to try.

"Noodles" waited until they were all quiet again and then, with the King still on the screen in front of them, he left the "travels of the world," that had formed the fascinating topic of his talk, and began to speak to them on something very different indeed.

All Canadians.

"You know what that is, boys, don't you?" said "Noodles." "And you know what it means, every fellow down there? Of course you do."

"There's not a boy down there in that audience, no matter where you were born or what country your parents came from, that isn't a Canadian and that doesn't know what the King Jack stands for, and what it means."

"It's a pretty good old country to live in, isn't it, fellows? And you are mighty glad you are Canadians, aren't you? Of course you are, every one."

"But it isn't enough to be glad. You've got to work for your country. Every single one of you are citizens now, and you're going to grow up to be big citizens some day. And now it's up to you to be the sort of men she needs, and to work hard to keep Canada the best on earth."

"You can't do these things by talking, fellows. You've got to work. You've got to get your cheering into your lives. See that?"

They saw. They called back their answer to "Noodles" question from the orchestra seats and the balconies and the boxes. They overflowed every nook and corner in the theatre, and they were all telling "Noodles" as loud as they could how they "saw" what he meant and how they were going to remember it, too.

But that little talk on patriotism isn't the only thing that the boys are going to remember. There was so much else in "Noodles" straight talk to-day that the boys are thinking about, just because it's all too jolly and interesting to forget.

Why, how were the boys to know that some funny Indian women way out in Arizona or Colorado or some far-off place, painted their faces with stove blacking, and thought they looked nice, if "Noodles" hadn't told them. Wasn't that the funniest thing?

"Noodles" said he didn't think it was much sillier for red women to put stove polish on their faces, or girls with white faces to put corn starch on their cheeks. And that was even funnier, wasn't it?

Newsies Amazed.

And there was that man in Hawaii that was 125 years old, and was selling things just like a newsboy. "Noodles" said that lots of people in Hawaii lived to be 125. He said they lived out of doors, and they knew queer things about wonderful medicines that cure smallpox in three days, and that they were really queer people.

Then there are these Mexican families that live on 16 cents a day. Well, some of the boys had done that on slow days. Guess they knew how the Mexicans felt all right.

"Noodles" said that the people in Mexico were the poorest people in the world. That was funny, too, wasn't it? And a fellow would never have heard of it if "Noodles" hadn't told him and shown him the picture.

Tears for McKinley.

The talk wasn't all about the travels of the world though, and it wasn't all funny. At the very beginning of his address "Noodles" talked to the boys about the late President McKinley of the United States. He told them how he spoke to the newsboys in Chicago not long before he was shot in Buffalo.

And he showed them, too, a picture of the life of the soldiers in the west, and the Indians and the drills, and reservation work of the cavalry in the west. They cheered at the army pictures, cheered almost as much as they did for the Union Jack.

But somehow or other when "Noodles" told them about McKinley the boys felt as if they'd like to cry. If it hadn't been so babyish-well, they weren't going to act like girls - they rubbed their eyes with the backs of their hands and sat very straight.

They weren't going to let the fellow next knee they were crying. But-but they felt like it, somehow. Queer to think, isn't it, how things make a fellow feel.

"Noodles" warned the boys present to leave cigarettes and strong drink alone and to take advantage of the excellent schools and opportunities this city offered, to be kind to their parents and live as they should.

"Noodles" explained how he got that name. When he was selling papers, a man asked him to get a "ball of soup." Fagan did so and secured noodle soup. Every day for some time Fagan would get noodle soup for this man, earning 10 cents a trip, and finally the other newsies commenced to call him "Noodles."

Clarence Thompson, 1774 Fourth street, gave several piano solos and led the children in the singing this morning.

To-night the newsboys of the city will be the guests of the Times and Sullivan and Considine at the Empress to see "Noodles" Fagan and the rest of the bill.

PARTIES ARE EQUAL.

Sydney, N. E. W., Aug. 18.—The political crisis in New South Wales, in which Mr. McGowen's government is involved, has been intensified by the victory of the Liberal opponent of the administration at the bye-election just held. The parties are now exactly equal, and if the labor government appoints the speaker of the House, as it is entitled to do, it will be left in a minority of one. The Liberals are endeavouring to force the government to dissolve, for they foresee victory.

DON'T BE BALD

Nearly Anyone May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

We have a remedy that has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 93 out of every 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so certain Rexall "32" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for it in every instance where it does not give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "32" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or matt the hair. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. With our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas streets.

M'CURDY WINS BOMB THROWING CONTEST

Secures Second Prize in Nine Mile Speed Event for Biplanes at Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Suit was filed here yesterday by the Wright company in the United States circuit court against the International Aviation Meet Association, its officers and members, charging an infringement of patent by every one of the two score aeroplanes at the meet, except the Wright aviators, and asking protective profits and damages.

Lincoln Beachey flirited with death again 17 his flight yesterday, and he was forced to make another spectacular descent, from which even his brother aviators scarcely expected him to escape alive. When about 2,000 feet high his engine ran out of gasoline. A high blast of smoke could be seen stretching behind the aeroplane, and it was at first thought the machine was on fire. He reached the earth by a steep glide, which threatened to dash him to pieces. He brought the machine to a standstill and escaped unshaken. As a result of accidents thus far, the course has been changed from the crib course.

Results: Nine-mile speed contest for biplanes—Lincoln Beachey won; time, 15:44 seconds; J. A. D. McCurdy second, time 13 minutes, 46 seconds. Starting—John J. Frisbie, 131 feet, 9 inches. Bomb throwing—J. A. D. McCurdy, five points out of a possible twenty-four. Passenger carrying speed contest for monoplanes—Thomas J. Sopwith, 13 minutes, 44.82 seconds.

DIED OF THIRST IN DESERT.

San Bernardino, Cal., Aug. 18.—"I am lost and can't find water. This torture is terrible. I hope to find water to-night."

This was the notation in the diary of Albert Williams, pioneer prospector, whose dead body was discovered in a box canyon 15 miles northeast of Johannesburg, showing that the old miner had succumbed in a desperate struggle against the heat and thirst of the Mojave desert.

It is figured that Williams died June 13 or 12. He had been known on the desert for more than 25 years.

PRESIDENT TAFT INVITED.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—President Taft will have an opportunity to take an airship ride at the aero meet at Squantum, which begins next week. Officers of the Harvard Aviation Association have decided to present an invitation to the President to take his first ride into the air on the day that he visits the exhibition. The President already has promised to attend.

BUSINESS LOTS FOR BUSINESS MEN AT FORT GEORGE

The big money in real estate is made by those who buy business lots at the beginning of a city.

Knowing what you do now, if you had the opportunity of buying at prices prevailing a few years ago, you would not hesitate to buy on Hastings or Granville streets, Vancouver; Main street or Portage avenue, Winnipeg; Jasper avenue, Edmonton; or Eighth avenue, Calgary. You would not be buying at Shaughnessy Heights, Tuxedo Park or any of the outlying additions no matter how high-sounding the name or how many boulevards or parks they might have, notwithstanding the fact that lots in these sections are first-class investments—but BUSINESS LOTS FOR PROFIT.

Most people cannot afford to buy business lots in the streets mentioned above at present prices. It is possible, however, to get in at the starting point of what will be undoubtedly a place of as much importance. In making an investment in real estate the necessary thing to do is to pick out the most promising of the prospective cities and examine into their possibilities.

What are their natural advantages? After you have looked them all over and considered the good and bad points, then you will find out that—

Fort George has every natural advantage possessed by all the others combined.

One of the prospective cities will be a railroad centre.

Another has coal mines. This one has timber lands. Another will talk of the fine climate.

That one is the centre of an agricultural district.

Fort William and Fort Arthur will talk to you about their water transportation.

Stewart will talk of her mines. Some other places may have a great waterpower.

Fort George has them ALL.

Don't overlook this point. It means that Fort George has a combination of all the resources possessed by all the other cities of Western Canada, except that she is not an ocean port.

Fort George is the geographical and strategic commercial centre of British Columbia. British Columbia is Canada's largest and richest province. You should know all about Fort George and British Columbia. Let us send you map plans and official information free. Send your name or call to-day. You can get in at the beginning if you hurry.

MISSIONARIES WILL HOLD CONVENTION

Monster Gathering Planned for Vancouver in Middle of October

Vancouver is to be the seat of a remarkable religious gathering in October. From October 15th, to the 21st, the "Men's Missionary Convention" of the Laymen's Missionary Movement will hold its sessions there. Some of the leading men—lay and clerical, the missionary experts and specialists of the churches from Eastern Canada—are coming to participate in these meetings.

The convention is interdenominational in character. Dr. Chown, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada; Dr. Sydney Gould of the M. S. C. C.; Dr. R. P. McKay, Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly; Mr. J. F. Brown, Chief Justice of Saskatchewan; Mr. H. K. Caskey, General Secretary of the L. M. M. for Canada and a number of other men will be on the programme.

Mr. Senior of Toronto is to be musical conductor. Locally, British Columbia will be represented on the programme by some of her strongest men. The Right Rev. the Bishop of New Westminster will lead the devotions of the convention on the first evening. The best known man in public life in B. C. has been asked to give the address to the visiting delegates, and it is expected he will agree to do so.

The names that will take the largest place in the public eye will undoubtedly be those of John R. Mott, L. L. D., and Sir Andrew Fraser. While in India as Governor of Bengal, Sir Andrew Fraser obtained a very intimate knowledge of the workings of the missions and he has very decided convictions in regard to the value of them. He does not belong to the official leisure class who sometimes when they return from non-Christian lands say missionaries are a failure. He is a most ardent advocate of missions. A speech he delivered a few days ago in the U. F. Assembly, Edinburgh, was a most telling bit of apologetic literature.

J. R. Mott has been a prominent figure and worker in missionary circles the last 15 years. He was chairman of the Nashville convention of the Students Volunteer Movement in 1904, and again unanimously chosen Chairman of the Edinburgh World's Missionary Conference. By his tact, skill, courtesy and kindness he fairly captured the hearts of the members of that great gathering regarded by many as the greatest of Christian Councils. FLYING MACHINES IN TIME OF WAR

Pros and Cons of Questions and Methods of Utility Argued

According to an article by Walter Kaempfert in Chambers' Journal, it would appear that a great deal of hysterical nonsense has been talked about the possibilities of destruction embodied in the aeroplane, says the Mail and Empire. Many articles have been printed designed to prove that the little two-thousand dollar biplane could destroy a ten million dollar Dreadnought and her crew. It has been asserted that in the war of the future the great battles will be fought in the air, and that the control of the sea has meant in the past. Actual experiments, which are reviewed by Mr. Kaempfert, reassure us on this point. Aeroplanes will not destroy battleships, nor will they drop a few bombs on a city and wipe it off the map. In fact, their destructive possibilities are small indeed. Their possibilities of usefulness as scouts, however, are great, and it is as scouts that they will figure in the next great war between civilized powers.

There are several good reasons given by the writer why the actual damage done by flying machines must be small. In the first place, the extreme difficulty of hitting anything from one of them is to be considered. It is true that birdmen have dropped oranges from their craft in an effort to prove that bombs could thus be exploded; but to drop an orange somewhere in an area of a hundred square feet is one thing, and it is quite another to drop a destructive bomb within a similar area from an aeroplane half a mile in the air. Even at this distance the flying machine would be well within the range of modern guns, and in the case of a battleship both marksman and target would be moving at a high rate of speed, thus further spoiling the chances of a good shot. Again, a bomb to be of any effect against a fortress or an armored ship would have to be very large and heavy, and much more difficult to carry on an aeroplane than an orange, and much more likely to destroy the equilibrium of the flying machine suddenly relieved of its weight.

It is possible that an occasional lucky aim might result in considerable damage, but military experts are generally of opinion that the operations of the aeroplane as an engine of destruction will be limited, and unlikely to add a new terror to warfare. They are agreed, however, that as a scout the airman has a great part to play in the next war. He will be also the despatch bearer. When the presence of an enemy is suspected in a certain direction he will wheel into the air, and, flying at a speed of sixty miles an hour, will make a reconnaissance and return with photographs and sketches of the concealed enemy.

He will be able to report as to the probable strength of the foe, but only after he has been well trained in the work, for French manoeuvres of 1910 showed how difficult it is for a man at a height of half a mile to form an approximate idea of the number of troops below. He can calculate, in fact, only by counting the companies or other group formations. It is to be assumed, therefore, that when the presence of these aerial spies is feared the enemy will seek to deceive him by grouping regiments in battalion or even brigade form.

The scouting of the aeroplanes ought to do away with the military movement known as a reconnaissance in force to ascertain the enemy's disposition, for a birdman will be able to do in an hour or two, what it might require a pitched battle to determine without his assistance. It will be recalled that one of the bloodiest battles in the world's history was the Japanese attack on 263 Metre Hill the sole object of which was the placing of two or three men on the summit of the hill to direct the fire of the Japanese siege guns upon the Russian fleet in the harbor of Port Arthur. The use of an aeroplane or a couple of dirigibles would have made this engagement unnecessary. The efficiency of these scouts will be vastly increased when they are fitted up with some sort of wireless apparatus, enabling them to report each new discovery to headquarters without returning.

Mr. Kaempfert's idea is that in the next great war airship will be pitted against airship, and not airship against fortress or battleship. They will battle with some sort of light machine gun, for revolvers and rifles will be useless. Nor will it be feasible for one airship to ram another, since the collision would mean disaster to both. The proper armament for the aeroplane has not yet been invented, although the guns for their destruction have already been turned out from two German factories.

LEGEND OF JACOB'S PILLOW.

Interesting Mythology of Stone Under Coronation Chair.

Most persons are aware, in a general kind of way, that according to legend, this "La Fal" or Stone of Destiny, which rests beneath the coronation chair at Westminster, formed Jacob's pillow at Bethel. But the details of its legendary history and its connection with the Ark of the Covenant and other sacred relics, is, says the Westminster Gazette, less well known. The story is that Jacob handed over the stone to his son Joseph, who bequeathed it to his heirs and that, along with the Ark of the Covenant, it accompanied the Israelites in their wanderings in the wilderness. In later and more settled days both had places in the Temple of Solomon. When, in the eighth century, B. C., the Israelites were carried off to Babylon, the Prophet Jeremiah, it is asserted, escaped with a Royalist princess of Judah, carrying with them the Stone, the Ark, the Tables of the Law, and Aaron's Rod that budded, they reached Ireland, where the Princess married a chief, or King, of Ulster.

The Royal pair were crowned by Jeremiah on the mystic stone. Incidentally it may be mentioned that there are persons who profess to trace the genealogy of our British Sovereigns back through the Stuarts and the early Celtic Kings of Scotland to this Judaean Princess and her Irish husband, and through the Princess to David. When she died, says the legend, the Ark, the Tablets of the Law, Aaron's Rod were buried in her tomb, but Jacob's pillow was preserved as a Coronation Stone. From Ireland it passed with the Scots to Iona, thence to Dunstaffnage, thence to Scone, and there it remained till it was carried off to England by Edward I.

The Stone seems to have been held in equally high repute in England and in Scotland, and although, after the acknowledgment of the independence of the latter country, the Scots were very anxious to get it back, the English were as anxious to retain it. In the Treaty of Northampton (1328) the Stone of Destiny is not mentioned, but from a writ under the privy seal of the Dean and Chapter of Westminster it appears to have been agreed that it should be returned to Scotland. This, however, was strongly disapproved of by the people—with whom, indeed, the whole treaty was unpopular—and when the trophy was to be taken from its place in Westminster a riot occurred, and a London mob determined and successfully opposed its removal.

LIVELY TIME AT COUNCIL MEETING

Tilt Between Mayor of New Westminster and One of Aldermen

New Westminster, Aug. 17.—On the hour of midnight the session of the town council was put at the weekly meeting of the city council after a session which at periods was "sultry."

While there was no outstanding business on the agenda, a deal of warmth was infused into the sitting by the objection taken by Ald. Bryson to the report of the private meeting of the council last week being passed upon, and accepted by the full open session.

The alderman took the strongest possible objection to the statements from the chair over matters which had come up at that meeting having reference to the agreement, and workings between the council and the B. C. E. R. regarding the Coupland dam and the water supply of this city. He averred that the mayor had been responsible for the election of Sir Hibbert Tupper as solicitor for the city in the negotiations between the company and the council, and hinted that Sir Hibbert was very much interested in, or at least his relatives were in, the workings of the Coupland dam. What he wanted was an independent solicitor.

"What I want to know is, am I wanted on the city council or not? If not, I will go and live the life of a quiet citizen. There will be a reckoning some day, mark my words."

Continuing the alderman said the mayor without taking any member of the council into his confidence had gone over to Vancouver and consulted with the B. C. E. R. directors.

"I would like to have been there and heard what transpired at that meeting. When he (the mayor) came back here, he met me and said, 'Bryson, we will beat these fellows.' You can tell that I was surprised when a few days afterwards the mayor said, 'This is a hopeless case.'"

The Mayor—I did not say any such thing.

Ald. Bryson—You certainly did, and I can prove it.

The Mayor—I will reply in my own time.

Ald. Bryson—The people of Westminster were not fools, although they elected some of us to sit on this board. They have, however, tired of the doings of some of the members.

Rising to reply the mayor was interrupted by Ald. Bryson, but the latter was ruled out of order.

In the course of a long speech the mayor opined that the previous speaker had very much changed of late. His judgment had likewise changed. "Bryson's natural temperament made it necessary for him to let off fireworks from time to time."

Speaking to the subject matter of the whole argument, the mayor said that the city council held the key to the whole situation, but in his opinion Ald. Bryson did not know where it was.

After being refused by the executive to further address the meeting, Ald. Bryson appealed to the other aldermen, and on the question being put he was granted privilege.

At a late hour when the council was in committee over some by-laws, and at a time when it is held that the members might smoke on permission from the chair, Ald. Bryson took objection and rising, was on the point of leaving the chamber when he was asked by the mayor if he wished to leave the council chamber.

"This is not a council chamber any longer," replied the alderman, "not when you permit smoking."

"Do you refuse to ask permission to leave the sitting?" repeated the mayor.

No reply was forthcoming and again the query was directed to the rapidly vanishing alderman.

The Mayor—"Ald. Bryson is the most unreasonable man who has ever sat in the council chambers, or with any body of men. He is the only man who has ever been unceremonious to the chair, or the other aldermen."

The incident then closed.

NICE LEGAL POINT.

Courts May Be Asked to Decide Whether Some Platinum Locations Are Valid.

Nelson, Aug. 17.—There is trouble brewing as a result of the staking of ranches along the Granite road during the platinum excitement, if rumors which are going the rounds in mining circles are to be credited.

It appears that the act is not very clear on the point as to whether a prospector may go out and stake as a mineral claim a ranch which he does not own nor as to the procedure supposing that such land may be staked and local lawyers are averse to giving any definite opinion on the matter as there appears to have been no decision by the courts of the province on the point.

For a number of ranchers, however, the matter is being looked into by their legal advisers, and if the platinum strike proves as important as has been stated, a great deal of litigation may follow.

That some of the records of locations which have been made on ranches are invalid seems apparent from the fact that in all except one case the regular affidavit which contains the following clause has been sworn to by the locators:

"That to the best of my knowledge and belief the ground comprised within the boundaries of the said claim is unoccupied by any other person, as a mineral claim; that it is not occupied by any building or any land falling within the curtilage of any dwelling-house, or any orchard, or any land under cultivation, or any Indian reservation."

This is clause eight of the declaration for the recording of a full claim. In the declaration for a fractional claim the similar clause is number nine.

The one exception is John Roche, who has staked his own ranch. In Mr. Roche's case clause eight has been amended to read "That to the best of my knowledge and belief the ground comprised within the boundaries of the said claim is unoccupied by any other person, as a mineral claim; that it is not occupied by any building or any land falling within the curtilage of any dwelling-house, or any orchard, or any land under cultivation, or any Indian reservation."

LAUNDRY DISTRICT.

By-law to Eliminate Chinese Wash-houses in Residential Quarters of Prince Rupert.

Prince Rupert, Aug. 17.—A laundry and wash-house by-law is to be introduced into the city council by Ald. Hilditch. It will be prepared by the city solicitor along the line of those adopted in other cities having for its object the forcing of Chinese who open wash-houses to keep their places clean and conform to the rules observed in white laundries. It is proposed also to limit the location of laundries and wash-houses in the future.

Ald. Hilditch in his notice of motion designated block 41 to 46, section 5, as the location for laundries and wash-houses.

Ald. Smith wanted to know if this would apply to steam laundries.

Ald. Hilditch said it would apply to any built in future. It would not apply to those now in existence.

Ald. Douglas objected to making that a laundry district.

Ald. Hilditch said he did not care where it went. If there was any other site more suitable he would accept the suggestion. He explained that his action was taken now because there was an application in for permission to build a Chinese wash-house on Fifth avenue where one had burned down before. The by-law was introduced to prevent the erection of Chinese wash-houses in the residential quarters.

FINED FOR ILLEGAL FISHING.

New Westminster, Aug. 17.—Chief Inspector Cunningham of the fisheries department tried eighteen cases of infringement of the salmon fishing regulations, were convicted of fishing with nets. The question of confiscation of the nets was reserved.

PORT ALBERT LIBERALS.

Port Albert, Aug. 17.—A successful re-organization meeting of the Port Albert Liberal Association was held in the offices of Jas. R. Morton, First avenue. Several new members were enrolled and officers were elected as follows: President, J. A. Maughan; Vice-president, R. M. Ellis; secretary, treasurer, R. F. Blandy.

OPPOSITION TO REDISTRIBUTION

Vancouver Aldermen Hold It is Not Necessary in View of Commission Vote

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—Ald. McMaster decided to distribute the wards in the city encountered some opposition in the meeting of the city council, and was eventually laid over for two weeks. It has been provided that copies of by-laws shall be in the hands of the aldermen twenty-four hours before the council meeting, but owing to the city solicitor being in Victoria this did not happen in this instance.

Objections were entered by the Sunnyside Ratepayers' Association and the South Hastings Improvement Association against the proposed by-law, and Ald. Macpherson raised the matter for discussion. He stated that as the citizens had voted in favor of the commission form of government the redistribution was hardly necessary.

"That reminds me of a man I used to know," Ald. McMaster remarked, "who did not paint his house because he did not like the color. He said that was necessary and that he would not prevent the carrying out of the wish of the people."

Some of the aldermen favored the by-law going into committee of the whole, when changes might be made, and Representative McBeath of Hastings declared that the representatives from both Hastings and 201 should oppose it as it meant a violation of agreement. These newly annexed districts were to have two members on the council, and if this by-law passed it meant that before they got their seats they would have to be reduced to a single representative.

The mayor declared that the by-law would have to go over.

FIRES AT NANAIMO.

Nanaimo, Aug. 17.—At the weekly meeting of the city council Ald. Shaw called attention to the large number of fires which occurred in the city during the past month, and moved the wardens bring in a report monthly dealing with the number of fires and the cause thereof.

Ald. Wilson remarked the biggest trouble from fires was caused by reason of householders dumping hot ashes against fences which was contrary to the by-law and should be prohibited.

Cod Liver Oil With the Oil Taken Out

A Triumph for Chemical Science and Pharmaceutical Skill

Oil from the liver of the cod-fish has been used as a preventative of disease and a restorative for ages.

For a long time it has been the general opinion that the medicinal value of Cod Liver Oil was the greasy, oily part itself—its only drawback being the unpalatable, fishy taste of the oil.

From the first experts have been trying to find means to make it more palatable. They used to "cut" it with whiskey—take it in wine, or with lemon juice—anything to get away from that abominable fishy taste and smell.

Lots of people still take it in Emulsion form, which is nothing more than "churned" oil—broken up—but still greasy, oily and a strain on the digestion.

Doctors take it in wine, favor the oil itself that built up the system—they were slow to find out that the oil was a distinct drawback to the medicinal principles contained in it.

Crude oil is quite indigestible, and will, in time, put the strongest stomach out of order.

A way has now been discovered to do away with the grease and the smell, and yet retain all the medicinal properties of the liver. This is done by removing the fresh oil from the new livers. The liver pulp is then extracted to the form of an extract like beer extract.

Nyal's Cod Liver Compound is simply this liver extract combined with an extract of malt and healing wild cherry. It also contains the true hypophosphites.

This combination makes Nyal's Cod Liver Compound a delicious tonic-builds up the system, and makes you strong.

Take it when you feel yourself losing your grip. It's a pleasure to take—even the children like it.

Get a bottle to-day and ward off disease. $1.00 for a large bottle. Your druggist will cheerfully recommend it because he knows all about it.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY AT GOLD-STREAM

200 Acres—10 acre good land, 100 acres rough but beautifully wooded with commercial trees, about 20 acres cleared and cultivated, good fruits, small, good house on high ground, with grand view of valley; ever-flowing spring water. Although only 15 minutes from Goldstream station, the shooting, including deer and pheasants, is abundant. The rough land makes a splendid sheep-run. A stream runs through the property, which is close to two lakes. Close to school and the new Luxton station. The price, $50.00 per acre, is only a quarter of that asked for adjoining land.

Terms—$4,000 cash, balance on time. This is a gentleman's farm as well as a commercial proposition.

There are two trains daily to Goldstream, and the journey occupies only half an hour. Sole Agent.

PANAMA CANAL AND PACIFIC LUMBER

Expert Discusses Effect of Waterway on Coast Shipping.

J. H. Bloedel, president of the Larson Lumber Company of Bellingham, and a member of the board of governors of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, delivered the following address on "The Panama Canal, Its Relation to the Lumber Industry of the Pacific Coast," at the convention of the national association in Chicago recently.

"Regarding the value of the Panama Canal to our industry, there exists a wide divergence of opinion throughout the United States. Shipping men identified with water-borne commerce are generally inclined to magnify its influence; and those holding briefs for the railroad assert its futility as a means of changing the routes of transportation. A noticeable stir was created recently by the publication of an interview in the Portland Oregonian by John F. Stevens, former chief engineer of the canal, but more recently president of one of the Western Hill roads. Mr. Stevens' opinion on account of his knowledge of the canal and the West, is entitled to be heard with respect.

"Admitting that the canal will benefit the Northwest in general, he yet fails to see how it will pay. And as to the movement of lumber from the Pacific coast to the Atlantic seaboard, he notes the East cannot receive a full shipload at any one point, nor will the Coast product stand the deckload exposure for so long a journey; and, he says, will not the Gulf coast cross-haul its lumber to the Pacific Coast? Hence where is the profit? The foregoing covers substantially the opinion of those who question the value of the canal and for this reason I am choosing it for my text.

"The product of the North Pacific coast states in 1899 was 1,965,000,000 feet. For the year 1909, ten years later, it was 7,500,000,000 feet. Of this product approximately 1,500,000,000 feet, or about 20 per cent, was water-borne, the balance being consumed locally or shipped East by rail. Of the water-borne commerce that portion which goes to foreign ports has increased only about 150,000,000 feet in ten years, our exports to-day amounting to only 400,000,000 feet annually. The increase in production, about 5,000,000,000 feet annually, has been marketed entirely within ourselves. It is the home market that has absorbed the increase, and it is to the home market we must look for any absorption of the future increase.

"My attention has been called to several charters made last fall, one of which was from the British Columbia side at $2 less than the other, which was from the American side. You naturally ask why, and I answer that an

EXCHANGING FOODSTUFFS UNDER DIFFICULTIES

Table Showing Volume of Trade in Natural Products With Duties Between the Two Countries.

Some very misleading statistics are current as to the interchange between Canada and the United States of foodstuffs. In spite of the high duties on both sides of the line, there is a considerable exchange showing that at times and places this is profitable, despite the obstacles placed in the way. We have prepared from official sources a table, herewith reproduced, which shows the Canadian exports to, and imports from, the United States in foodstuffs, with the current rate of duties charged by each country:

Article.	Canadian Duty.	Canadian Duty Paid from U.S.	United States Duty.	Canadian Duty Paid to U.S.
Wheat	15c bu.	$ 25.139	25c bu.	$1,882,647
Barley	15c bu.	25.819	25c bu.	65,632
Oats	15c bu.	13,357	15c bu.	53,622
Beef	3c lb.	75,845	1c lb.	12,635
Eggs	5c doz.	17,277	5c doz.	38,896
Pork	4c lb.	36,163	6c lb.	20,938
Sheep	25c ea.	25,452	25c ea.	52,534
Poultry	25c ea.	2,140	$1.50 ea.	4,307
Potatoes	25c bu.	178,849	25c bu.	340,714
Green fruit		1,305,588		304,711

* Canadian schedules on green fruits are: Apples, bbl. 40c; berries, 2c lb.; cranberries, etc., 25c; peaches, 1c lb.; pears, 2c lb.; bananas, pineapples, pears, etc., and berries, 1c per quart.

These statistics of Canadian imports from the United States are taken from a tabulated statement submitted to parliament on March 20, 1911, by Hon. W. Paterson in reply to an inquiry by a member. The figures as to wheat and many other items conflict with those published in Conservative campaign literature, but the above table is official and is correct. It will be seen that the total imports of natural products into Canada for the year 1910 paid duty at $1,957,266 while the exports to the United States for the same year paid $2,951,082. The result is somewhat startling. It shows that the balance of trade in duty on natural products amounts to $2,003,716 in favor of Canada. It will thus be seen that the products which are included in the reciprocity pact and from which the duty is to be removed constitute the chief items of export. It will pay the reader to cut this table out and keep it for reference in case of the distortion of facts and publication of false figures so often resorted to by the opponents of reciprocity.

BOTTLES AT THE SPRINGS, BUNA FERT, HUNGARY.

American built vessel carrying three and a half million feet of lumber can save $3 per thousand feet in shipping to the Atlantic seaboard.

"It appears from present indications that the reciprocity bill, now before congress, will become a law, putting rough lumber on the free list, and if there is no provision on behalf of American shipping overcoming this differential, all advantages in us, arising from the construction of the canal, are for naught.

"To provide for this discrepancy between American and foreign shipping, several bills have been introduced and are now before congress. The Fordney bill, as introduced April 25, 1911, provides:

"That all tolls and transit charges which may heretofore be imposed on vessels of the United States for passing through the Panama Canal shall be paid from any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, etc., etc. * * * Provided, that all vessels benefitted by this act may be taken by lease or purchase, at the option of the government, to be used by the government of the United States as auxiliary to the army and navy, etc., etc. * * *

"Nor is the Pacific coast alone in this game. The gulf coast will no doubt export considerable yellow pine of certain grades to the west coast of South America and into Mexico, and this is the cross-haul referred to by Mr. Stevens. It is all a well known fact that lumber of different species has different uses and adaptability. One of the largest shipping merchants of the Pacific coast recently took a cargo of fir ties to China and a return of oak ties from Japan to Mexico. The return cargo reduced the freight on the fir. The Mexican would have nothing but oak, so why is a cross-haul, not profitable?

"I am an optimist, but hardly an enthusiast. I believe that the development of the Pacific coast by virtue of the completion of the Panama canal will be tremendous, and that it will be to the gain of all parts of our country and to the detriment of none. But above all else the canal stands out as a monitor of transportation, a sort of traffic policeman standing at the crossing of the continents, with more inherent power for regulation of trans-continental rates than the interstate commerce commission."

AERIAL FLIGHTS.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 17.—The gusts of wind that made flying dangerous yesterday were missing when the meet opened to-day. Instead there were slight but steady breezes off the lake and aviators said it would help rather than hinder the flights. C. P. Rodgers retained his hold of the duration lead with 13 hours and 29 minutes and 18 seconds in the air.

FIGHTING IN MEXICO.

Cuernavaca, Mex., Aug. 17.—The first battle of the Morales revolution was begun yesterday at Yatepec, 27 miles from here. Under the direction of Jesus Maraisa, a considerable force of the followers of Emiliano Zapala opened fire on the detachment of troops that entered the town.

From tops of the surrounding hills, and church towers the insurgents fired into the ranks of the federals, who were answering the fire when carriers left to bring the news to General Huerta's headquarters here.

Among the federalists being sent forward is the force of former revolutionists under General Ambrosio Figueroa. The federal advance is the movement

CALIFORNIA FOREST FIRES.

Rangers and Volunteers Save Resort From Destruction by Flames.
Banning, Cal., Aug. 18.—The combined efforts of all the rangers and volunteers in the fire-swept region of the Cleveland reserve have forced the flames back from the Palm Springs resort, where the lives of a number of invalids were endangered. According to statements of the rangers the fires are under control and confined to an area two miles wide on the desert side of Mount San Jacinto, but the possibility of another high desert wind this afternoon renders the situation still grave.

All energies are now being centred in an effort to keep the fires from the main forest reserve. The Indians of the Banning reserve are working vigorously to save their homes and farms, which will again be in danger if the wind rises.

Queen Charlotte Island COAL AND OIL

THE CORNET COAL, MINERAL & OIL LANDS COMPANY, LIMITED (non-personal liability), has purchased the rights to FIVE COAL & PETROLEUM RESES, containing about 2,200 acres of COAL AND OIL lands situated on LOUIS INLET, West Coast of Graham Island, which show excellent indications of large deposits of both Coal and Oil.

For a short time 25,000 shares are offered for public subscription at the par value of 25 cents per share; 1/4 cash on application and the balance to three equal monthly payments. Get in on the ground floor. This is going to be good.

Important Features

- LOUIS INLET is a land locked harbor capable of affording anchorage to any vessel on the Pacific seaboard.
- The LEASES front on deep water, thereby offering every advantage to the building of wharves, bunkers, etc.
- The CAPITAL is low, being only $500,000, 400,000 shares in the Treasury for development purposes.
- NO PERSONAL LIABILITY.
- The OIL indications are highly satisfactory and COAL has been found within half a mile of the property.
- BOREING is being done on the claims immediately behind our holdings. OIL is expected to be found at any moment.
- Speaking of the opportunities of Graham Island, Mr. J. W. Covert, a Civil Engineer of Portland, who for the past two months has been inspecting various properties on the Island, says his view very clearly before the public in an article to the Vancouver World under date of July 2nd, in which he says in part:

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

JOHN BURNS ON WHITE SCOURGE

Noted Labor Leader Declares Consumption is on Decline

"Tuberculosis is dying a natural death." This statement was made by John Burns in the course of an interesting speech at Caxton hall, Westminster, where the National Association for the Prevention of Consumption and other Forms of Tuberculosis held the first sitting of its annual conference. Five hundred representatives of public health authorities in all parts of the country were present.

At the opening of the conference the chairman, Sir William Younger, read the following message from the King to Dr. J. J. Perkins, honorary secretary of the association:
"As patron of the National Association for the Prevention of Consumption and other Forms of Tuberculosis, I congratulate all who take part in the annual conference which assembles tomorrow. I sympathize deeply with the association's work, so far-reaching in its influence upon the future of the human race. I note with interest the important questions to be dealt with at the conference as useful, practical and eminent authorities by whom the message will be considered and addressed."

In his address Mr. Burns described the conference as useful, practical and human. It was useful because it had a message of hope to an army of nearly 200,000 people in this kingdom who were ill and sick through tuberculosis in some of its forms. It was practical because it sought to terminate the premature death of two army corps of men and women before their time by what he regarded as a preventable disease. (Hear, hear.) It was human because it intended in their day in this generation to undermine and destroy tuberculosis, which John Burnan described as "the captain of the men of death."

The conference in a word, was a meeting of the national staff in the arm of health that had given King Tuberculosis his notice to quit. The man in the street had determined to cooperate with the medical officers, and to do all in his power to help in this important work. Tuberculosis in all its forms was a declining disease, and he thought in 25 or 30 years its annihilation ought to be effected. (Applause.)

Proceeding, Mr. Burns said that facts and figures justified the optimism of his department. In the last ten years in England and Wales tuberculosis had diminished 19 per cent., in Scotland 24 per cent., in Ireland 24 per cent., in Germany 18 per cent., in London 20 per cent., in Berlin 24 per cent and in Paris only 3 per cent. It was comforting to them as Londoners and Britons to know that were two died in London of tuberculosis, three died in Berlin and five in Paris. He wanted, however, the other two cities to share their immunity from the same complaint.

The largest decline in the last ten years had been in the last six years, which, by the way, coincided with his own office at the local government board, but, taking a broad and hill-top view over a longer period, they saw that in 50 years tuberculosis had declined over 50 per cent. for all ages, and between birth and 25 years it had been reduced by 70 per cent.

There was another significant thing, coinciding with the decline in the consumption death rate and the general death rate, they had seen the drink bill diminished from $4 12s per head of population to $3 8s 11d—a diminution of 25 per cent—and one of the most distinguished men ever identified with consumption had said that the public-house was the purveyor of tuberculosis and that alcoholism was the most potent factor in propagating it. All these declines, too, were coincident with better housing, improved education, the social improvement of the people and their moral elevation.

By reducing consumption pauperism would very rapidly decline. They acted and reached on one another. The tubercle was the pauperizer and pauperism was the seed plot of tubercle. (Applause.) They were both useless, both dangerous and they ought to be abolished, and that conference was one of the practical means towards that end. Those by that hall were the barracks of 8,000 of the finest men in Europe, the Brigade of Guards. In 1875 they had a death rate of 20.4 per 1,000. Today in the same building it was not more than 2 per 1,000, because the barracks were cleaner, the windows were open, and the soldier had not only picked up in the increasing sobriety, but had in many cases gone beyond it, and a like improvement could be shown in the navy and other sections of society. Tuberculosis was dying a natural death. (Applause.)

Continuing, Mr. Burns said that there was no comparison between the London milk shop of to-day and what it was 25 or 40 years ago, but there was still room for improvement. The royal commission had justified them in seeking for new legislation as soon as the opportunity occurred. He would not outline the measures necessary to carry out the most immediate of their recommendations, but a milk bill was essential and urgent. (Applause.) He had one ready, but they had no right to emancipate a good bill simply to get it through parliament in the next month or five weeks.

If he could get an agreed bill which was a good bill, they would do their best to secure it at once, but if they could not get a good bill at once, they were determined that before many months were over their heads the milk and dairy industry of the country must be placed on a clean, sound and healthy basis.

The insurance bill, supplemented by the finance bill gave them one and a half millions of money for building sanatoria, convalescent homes, hostels for the dying, and other institutions for tuberculous people. With the increasing opportunities thus afforded they would be able to accelerate the rate of the decline of tuberculosis, and might be able to stamp it out in half the time that even an optimist like

ADMIRAL'S TRIP CURTAILED.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—An attack of acute indigestion declared by his attendants to be slight, caused the cancellation of the programme of entertainment in honor of Admiral Togo, Japanese naval officer here yesterday. The proposed trip of the admiral to Provincetown to receive the courtesies of the United States fleet at that port was also abandoned.
