NOISE OF BATTLE HEARD IN PEKING

Two Forces Fighting South of That City

Wu Tries to Turn Chang's Troops' Flank

Peking, April 29. — The fighting south of the Peking-Tientsin Railway, which began at dawn to-day, was still in progress this afternoon, with the sound of battle distinctly heard here. The engagement between the forces of General Chang Tso Lin, Military Governor of Manchuria, and General Wu Pei Fu, military leader of Central China, was reported to extend along a line from Machang, twenty miles south of Tientsin, to a point south of Peking.

An attempt apparently was being made by General Wu to wedge in between Peking and Chang's troops, thus turning the latter's flank.

General Wu's attack seemingly came as a surprise and spread rapid-winto the general engagement now reported.

Wounded soldiers from the front

A Peking dispatch to the Associated Press received last night, but under to-day's date, owing to the time difference of thirteen hours, said fighting had begun at dawn, twelve miles southwest of Peking, and that heavy artillery firing was audible in the capital.

The Peking Tientsin railroad connects Peking with Taku, its seaport, and the Allied diplomats recently served notice, on the Chine Government that this line of communication must be kept open as a means of safe egress for the foreigners in Peking should the capital be menaced by the forces of General Wu.

It would appear that General Chang's forces were endeavoring to protect both the capital and the railway. The dispatch indicated that the battle line was approximately 100 miles long.

BROTHER-IN-LAW IS ARRESTED AFTER DEATH OF MAN

Burlington, N.J., April 29.—Harry J. Mohr, brother-in-law of John T. Brunen. a circus owner, who was shot and killed on March 10 in his home at Riverside, N.J., was arrested to-day in Camden, N.J., in connection with the killing.

Mount Holly, N. J., April 29.—A confession alleged to have been made by Charles M. Powell that he had been hired by Harry C. Mohr, brother-in-law of John T. Brunen, circus owner, to do away with the circus man, was given out to-day by the county attorney. On the strength of Powell's statement, Mohr and Powell, who are under arrest, have been formally charged with the murder of Brunen in the latter's home on March 10.

sions, say below £5,000, would not be touched.

The last item is particularly interesting. The idea of a levy on capital, is of course, not a new one, but earlier advocates mostly used to fix the exemption limit at £1,000.

Mr. Clynes's critics suggest that he is forced to realize that the capital possessions of industrial workers have increased in recent years. He is told also that death duties are a form of capital levy and that in this direction a total of £500,000,000 in the last twenty years has been diverted mostly from trade and commerce and turned into revenue, mainly for the benefit of the wage earner.

Want Information.

Mr. Clynes, even by Labor's most severe critics, has always been regarded as a moderate man. This week's announcement inclines such critics to regard him as a moderate man with extreme doctrines and they want to know if the man or the doctrines would prove the stronger if invoked in the government of the state. The Morning Post says:

"We fear he would be like Kerensky, the bonnet of men more extreme and less patriotic than himself."

Huddersfield Wins the Chief Football Trophy of Britain

London, April 29.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Huddersfield won the English Association Cup to-day at Stamford Bridge, beating Preston North End, the other finalist, by the narrow margin of one goal to nothing. This is the third year in succession that the winning team has annexed the coveted trophy emblematic of the soccer football championship of England in a game in which only one goal was scored. Huddersfield to-day won its first cup tie since the was scored. Huddersfield to-day won its first cup tie since the competitions, open to all English teams, were begun in 1871, though it was runner-up in 1920.

It was estimated 60,000 were present when the game began. Both teams got a rousing reception when they came on the field.

Huddersfield lined up as follows Murch; Wood and Wadsworth; lade, Wilson and Watson; Richard-on, Mann, Islip, Stephenson and Preston North End lined up as fol-Mitchett: Hamilton and Doolan: Duxbury, McCall and Williamson; Rawlings, Jefferies, Roberts, Wood-house and Quinn.

McCall, the Preston North End captain, won the toss and chose to play against the sun and the slight breeze blowing.

The Play.

The Play.

The game started at 3 o'clock. Preston immediately attacked. Roberts was triped by Slade and from the resulting free kick the ball went over the line. The Huddersfield left wing got away on a nice run to Preston's end, where to overcome the pressure of Smith and Stephenson, Duxbury had to kick out. Huddersfield came again and Richardson sent the ball to left, and Smith, coming in at top speed, brought Murch out to full length in order to throw the ball around the post.

A clearance by Hamilton enabled McCall to push the ball forward to Roberts, who endeavored to burst through only to find Wadsworth too much for him.

A Long Shot.

A Long Shot.

Murch next had an anxious time slearing a long shot form Duxbury, with Roberts and Jefferies tearing down on him. He was then called upon to run out and throw off with Woodhouse and Quinn close in. Murch puiled down a dangerous shot from Stephenson. Preston then dashed away hot foot for the Huddersfield end, and Wood had to kick back hurriedly to Murch. The corner that resulted was beautifully taken, and Mitchett barely had time to punch away before finding himself hurled into the net by Islip.

How the City will start to a table to bank overdraft this year, and table to bank overdraft this year, and table to be table t omplete the undertaking in years was explained at the City Hall to-day by members of the Civic Finance Committee after details of the annual budget had been set out in detail in a statement prepared by City Comptroller J. L. Raymour. All revenue received from the sale of reverted lands, it was announced, will be used to reduce the bank overdraft which now stands at about $400,000. As a revenue of about $125,000 from land sales is expected this year it is anticipated that the overdraft will disappear in three years.

It was the policy of the 1921 Council to pay all receipts from reverted hand sales into the sinking fund to help cut down the present large-sinking fund shortages. The present finance administration, however, plans to refund all sinking fund shortages and, as stated, will use land sale revenues to reduce the bank shortages.

years the grant was $5,000.

The board held its first meeting in June, 1855 with Mr. Alfred Waddington as superintendent. A request was made for a statement of the school property on Vancouver Island to be conveyed to and vested in the board. The information supplied was as follows:

Accordingly the Superintendent of Education was instructed to convey to the various teachers and other persons interested that part of the Governor's message respecting payment of salaries and educational disbursement generally, and directing them to govern themselves accordingly.

As evidence of the zeal of these teachers it is worth noting that all with but one exception expressed their willingness to continue their duties until conditions improved.

During the years 1867 and 1868 as a result of the refusal of Governor Seymour to grant aid six out of eleven schools established under the Act of 1865 were discontinued. There was little improvement in 1869 as in that year there were only twelve schools supported in the United Colonies—seven on the Island and four on the mainland, the latter being at New Westminster, Langley, Yale and Sapperton.

Dublin Session Yesterday Was Unexpectedly Quiet

Dublin, April 29.—The session of the Dail Eireann yesterday was unexpectedly quiet. There was evidently a desire not to pursue Thursday's personal recriminations, and when Arthur Griffith, the president, urged the necessity, owing to the grave state of the country, of the Dail remaining in session from week to week, there was unanimous approval. Later it was decided to adjourn the session to mext Wednesday, the motion for adjournment being agreed to without division.

The report of Richard Mulcahy, Minister of Defence, provoked a long keen debate. It condemned disturbances and raids due to the dissident section of the army.

Seconding this motion, Liam Mellowes, secretary of the dissident "Army Council," not only defended his men, but delivered an unsparing attack on the headquarters staff. Non-support of the treaty in the Dail, he said, had made the breach inevitable.

In support of the irreconcilables, Mellowes declared that owing to their allegiance to the "Republic," the soldiers would never consent to enter the British Empire, against which they fought.

Mellowes characterized the Dail as chameleon-like, one day using the green, white and orange of the "Republic" and the next day, the red, white and blue of the British Empire.

The speech was loudly applauded by the Valera adherents, some of whom, in speeches, urged unity on the basis of repudiation of the treaty, saying that if war with England followed, it would be preferable to civil war. It was the geheral argument that obedience of the army to the

First of Two Merchants' Bank

Montreal, April 29.—The outstanding feature in the evidence submitted to Judge Cusson, sitting in the enquete court here yesterday to hear the charge against D. C. Macarow, formerly general manager of the Merchants Bank of Canada, was the fact that the witnesses examined, namely, J. M. Kilbourne, secretary of the bank since 1906; J. G. Muir, chief accountant for the past fiften years, and Henry B. Loucke, of the chief accountant's staff, all explained that when the president and the general manager of the bank signed the monthly statements to the Government they had no personal knowledge of the information to which they had testified. testified.

Further evidence was to the effect that under the provisions of the Bank Act, which require a monthly return to be sent to ottawa not later than the 20th of the following month, there had been no way by which the general manager could obtain such personal verification of the statements he signed.

The case heard yesterday was against Mr. Macarow, who was charged with having "wilfully made false and deceptive statements" in the monthly statements for October, 1921. The charge against Sir Montagu Allan, who was president of the bank, of having negligently done so was not taken up yesterday. The case was put over until Monday next, and promises to take several more days sittings. He concluded his speech by allud-ing to labor and capital, saying they should get together.

E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, assured his hearers he was not a believer in state socialism and declared it could not take the place of individual effort. He urged the need of immigration by both capital and labor in Canada.

Premier King added to the pleas for harmony and co-operation and drew attention to the parallel of the affirmative.

Meetings.

During the hearing yesterday, N. Laflamme, K. C., chief counse' for Mr. Macarow, asked what meetings of directors were held close to the time when the last October return was made and Mr. Kilbournge said there was a meeting the day before it was signed and one three days after. As far as he knew, no reference to the return was made at these meetings.

Mr. Laflamme asked if the report of the manager of the Montreal of the witness answered in the affirmative.

Mr. Ribourne, being taken wer die ground concerning the time the October, 1921, statement was signed, said this took place at 2.30 on Saturday afternoon. It could have been signed and mailed the next day to have reached Ottawa, according to law, but Monday would have been too late.

Mr. Kilbourne_agreed, and .when Mr. Laflamme suggested that even if the signers had wanted to check the items then, they would be doing work already done by Mr. Muir and his assistants, and said there would be 12,000 or 13,000 entries to look up. Mr. Laflamme suggested that it would take a month to check up the figures, but thought it could have been done in a week. Mr. Laflamme said he wanted to know how long it would take to verify the figures of the branch managers; and Mr. Kilbourne said this information would not be available at the head office. He could not estimate the time it would-take to secure the information.

Does German-Russian Alliance Mean Peace or War?

Like a lightning flash in the night the announcement that Germany and Russia had signed a treaty behind the backs of the other powers at Genoa was a sudden revelation of a possibility that publicists have been discussing ever since the Versailles Treaty was signed. The treaty signed by Germany and Russia re-establishes full diplomatic relations between the two countries on an equality basis, and mutually cancels all war claims as well as claims arising from the nationalization of property. Further, "the two Governments undertake to give each other mutual assistance for the alleviation of their economic difficulties in the most benevolent According to the Philadelphia Public Ledger, "it foreshadows a new European lineup, with Russia and Germany forming what may become a military as well as an industrial and political alliance against the rest of the Old World."

The danger to Western Europe is even greater than it was in 1914, declares Maurice Casenave, former French High Commissioner in the United States. "Here is Germany recognizing Bolshevism and joining with it. This has a meaning for America as great, in my mind, as the war had. The American Government and American public opinion ought to see the significance of these events, but if they do not now they will be disagreeably shocked by the consequences." One British spokesman declared that "the signing of the separate treaty was a challenge to the whole world."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week (April 29), "Germany and Russia Defying the Allies," discusses the Genoa Conference from all angles, presenting the editorial opinions of American newspapers and also the German-American press.

THE COMING BUDGET.

By reason of the fact that the hence. Nevertheless the estimated expenditure for the number of substantial economies and stamp the document, with that understanding of the country's affairs which marked Mr. Fielding's long term of office as Minister of Finance under the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

It is interesting at this stage to recall the fact that when the Liberal Government relinquished the reins of control in 1911 the Canadian Treasury was in an excellent condition. From 1898 for thirteen years the ordinary From 1898 revenue of the country exceeded the ordinary expenditure by $166,000,000. Each year it was possible to depend upon a surplus to meet the various capital expenditures involved in three important national undertakings. And it should be membered that during the lifetime of the Laurier Administration the net debt of the Dominion was increased by less than eighty million dollars-in spite of the fact that the amount expended upon capital undertakings totalled more than $212,-000,000. Small wonder is it that Premier King should have recognized in these practical demonstrations of cautious financing all the recommendation that was necessary to permit Mr. Fielding to resume the discharge of a task which he laid down in 1911. The Toronto Globe refers to Minister during the period of 1896-1911 and proceeds to adthe magnificent record of the just its comment to the new penetrated the official sanctuary conditions under which Mr. Fielding will have to construct his Budget. It observes in part

To-day there is small hope of so rearranging the finances as to produce an unbroken series of surpluses. The World War and the collapse of two of the great railway systems of the country have added colossal sums to the national debt, which stands torailway systems of the country have added colossal sums to the national debt, which stands to day at more than two billion four hundred millions. The total revenue of Canada in 1911 was $117.884,000. That sum falls short twenty-three million of carrying the debt charges of 1922. To balance estimated expenditure on current account, the Minister of Finance must raise by taxation not less than four hundred million dollars. To obtain this great sum from the present sources of revenue under existing conditions would seem to be impossible. Customs revenue is again increasing, but it is fairly certain that some of the tariff reductions Mr. Fielding is expected to announce will be made at the expense of customs receipts. The income tax returns now being made are for the lean year of 1921 and will inevitably show a serious reduction as compared with the income tax returns based on the earnings of 1920. The saiek tax, the other considerable source of revenue, will undoubtedly produce more this year than it did in 1921, for considerable source of revenue, will undoubtedly produce more this year than it did in 1921, for there is a marked improvement in importation and domestif manufacture of commodities, which must be reflected during the year in wholesale and retail sales.

WHY NOT NOW?

As the Genoa Conference progresses-or fails to progress the chief point of discord between the British and French to fluctuations both ways for delegations gets clearer. It now appears that Mr. Lloyd George wants a meeting of the signa-tories of the Versailles Treaty pound it has had a fairly long before the May 31 reparations payment from Germany falls which the American dollar had due. The Canadian dollar seems to be staging a satisfactory come back in the United States. Yes terday it was only a trifle more than one per cent less than par, and although it may be subject some time, it is well on the way to its pre-war status in that limb, although nothing like that selimb, although nothing like that which the American dollar had to make after the Civil War. Uncle Sam's currency abroad at that time once looked like forty feents in foreign countries. There has been some talk on this side of American financial interests hammering down our dollar for selfish reasons. There is about as much substance to that charge as there would have been in the accusation that Canada half a century ago for the same reason accusation that Canada half a century down to less than half of its par value. A Saanich rancher, while ploughing yesterday, noticed something shining in a freshly turned furrow, and upon examination found that the brightness was caused by the sun shining on the glass face of a gold watch that had been lost twelve years ago. Mr. Robert Harvey has completed his law course at Dalhousie University and has returned to his home in Victoria.

Miss Norma Jones, who has been in-Calgary, April 29.—Mrs. A. G. Woolley-Dod was elected president of the Provincial Chapter of the I.-O. D. E. at the closing session here yesterday at the second annual convention. Vice-presidents elected are Mrs. E. B. Cogswell, of Edmonton, and Mrs. I. Starnes, of Lethbridge.

Mrs. Cogswell, of Edmonton, will be the Alberta representative on the National Resolutions Committee at the Vancouver convention in June. Mrs. Putman, of Blairmore, will be the representative on the Credential Committee.

wersity and has returned to his home in Victoria.

Miss Norma Jones, who has been in California for a number of months, returned to Victoria on the S. S. Ruth Alexander on Thursday.

Mrs. Smfley and Miss Byrd, of Chemainus, are spending a short holiday in town the guest of Miss Byrd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Byrd, 1489 Fort Street.

Mr. Lindsay, of Boissevain, and Mr. Rowan, of Miniota, who are on their initial visit to the Western Coast, are now spending a holiday in Victoria. Much interest is being evinced in he two handsome historical figures displayed in a window of the Hudgorgeous jewels and brocade of 1670. The figures, which represent a lady and gentleman of the court of Charles Mrs. Gordon Smith, who has been attending the Provincial Chapter meeting, is the guest of Mrs. Mc-Candless, of Vancouver, for the II., commemorate the 252nd annion or near days of national remembrance and Empire events" but the amendment was lost. Mrs. J. D. Gordon and Mrs. H. P. Hodges contributed to the discussion, claiming that real patriotism could not by measured by "flag-waving" and urging that a deeper sense of lovalty and devotion to all that the Union Jack symbolises would be inspired if the children saluted the flag only on occasionals of national and historical significance.

Counter-arguments to the effect that in schools where children of many nationalities were gathered, some daily ceremonial was needed to implant the seeds of Lrue Canadianism were advanced by Mrs. W. H. Belson, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Donald, Mrs. O. L. Boynton and others, the discussion culminating in the passing of the resolution as stated above.

Teaching of History.

The following resolution sponsored by the Robert Valentine Harvey Chapter of Victoria was passed without a single dissentient:

"That whereas the Department of Education has recently announced that hereafter High School Entrance Examinations on the following subjects only, viz.: Spelling and Dictation, Writing, Geography, Grammar and Composition, and Drawing, will

Ottawa, April 29.—(Canadian Press)
—A delegation from the Canadian Authors 'Association, in session here, waited upon Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce yesterday, and asked that certain clauses be struck from the Copyright Act. The delegation, which was headed by John Murray Gibbon, president of the association, was composed of representatives from all the provinces of Conada.

Mr. Gibbon stated that many Canadian authors were severely handicapped by what was admittedly an antiquated copyright law. The delegation had drafted a bill which Mr. Gibbon submitted to the Minister, which he said would be satisfactory to the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkholder Accorded Reception by Church Organizations

Mrs. Godfrey Booth, after spending a week's holiday in Victoria, left this afternoon for her home in Scattle.

Mrs. Howell, of St. James Street, Oak Bay, entertained a few friends at the tea-hour yesterday afternoon.

Miss Gladys Irving, of Victoria, is the house-guest in Vancouver of Mrs. W. R. Brown.

Mr. A. C. Burdick is spending a few days in the Mainland City and is registered at the Hotel Vancouver.

Mrs. and Miss Sayward are visiting on the Mainland and are guests at the Hotel Vancouver.

Mr. Moresby White, a former resident of Victoria, now residing in California, is visiting in the city for a few days.

Mrs. Cantwell, accompanied by her A most interesting and unique reception was given by the Women's Missionary Society of Metropolitian Church last evening to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burkholder, of St. Patrick Street, in honor of their golden wedding anniversary. A large gathering completely filled the Sunday School room when the happy couple appeared. They were met at the door by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Sipprell, and escorted to the platform, and placed under a huge golden bell suspended from an arch of green, while the wedding march was, played by the organist of the church, Mr. Edward Parsons. Mr. Mallett, the Sunday School artist, had displayed in colored letters on the blackboard, "April 1872—April 1922—Congratulations and Best Wishes—Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Mr. and Mrs. Burkholder were completely taken by surprise. The programme continued with a beautiful rendering of the solo "Because" by Mrs. Lewtas. Dr. Sipprell, who acted as chairman, called on Mrs. Abell, who offered appropriate words of felicitation.

Mrs. David Spencer, with a dignified and happy address, presented Mrs. Burkholder with a gold brooch inscribed with her initials, the gift of the Women's Missionary Society. The recipient, with great emotion made a most feeling and appropriate reply.

A basket of lovely flowers was then made a most reeling and appropriate reply.

A basket of lovely flowers was then presented by Mrs. Kinney, president of the W.M.S., and Mrs. Staneland read an appropriate poem which had been composed for the occasion by Mrs. W. J. Pendray. Two little girls then came forward and presented a basket of roses and carnations as a token of esteem from the Young Ladles' Club.

As Mrs. Burkholder had long been associated with the work of the W.C.

dies' Club.

As Mrs. Burkholder had long been associated with the work of the W.C. T.U. Mrs. D. Spencer, on behalf of the committee of the W.C.T.U. Home, presented her with a Morocco hymnbook of the Methodist Church. The chairman then asked all to stand and sing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Dr. Sippfell spoke of the fidelity and earnest Christian character of Mr. and Mrs. Burkholder, and the esteem and love feit for them both by host of friends in the church and the city. Mr. Hugh Macdonald, a long-time friend, in a brief and appropriate word of congratulation, presented Mr. Burkholder with a gold-mounted silk umbrella. Mr. Burkholder, on behalf of himself and his wife, expressed his gratitude at the many expressions of the love of their friends. Mrs. Harvey then presented Mrs. Burkholder with a beautiful seal leathef handbag, a token from the Provincial W.C.T.U. executive, and Miss Richards followed with a delightful solo. After the singing of another hymn and prayer, by Dr. Sipppell, Mr. and Mrs. Burkholder received the congratulations of their friends. The affair was exceedingly length tan pleasant, and was under the auspices of the W.M.S., and a leading part in the preparation was tyken by Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. H. Macconald, Mrs. W. E. Stareland and Mrs. Gilroy. The evening closed with were served.

Amateur Lacrosse First Presbyterians Again League Is Formed

Vancouver and Victoria Will Play Series For Mann and Kilmarnock Cups; Vancouver Peeved Over Westminster's Attitude and Decides to Line Up With Capital In New Circuit; Six Games to Be Played Here.

Victoria is to see senior amateur lacrosse once again, games will be played here this season between Victoria and Van-couver and the cups at stake will be the Mann Cup, emblematic of the world's amateur championship, and the Kilmarnock Cup, which designated the British Columbia title-holders. Both these trophies are at present held by the Victoria Lacrosse Club.

A new amateur lacrosse league has been organized to conduct this series. A special meeting of the Victoria Lacrosse Club was held last night and this was attended by a large number of local players and enthusiasts, and Cory Hesse, of the Vancouver Lary Hesse, of the Vancouver Laccrosse Club. After an exchange of views the British Columbia Amateur Lacrosse League was formed. W.
C. Moresby, president of the Victoria
Lacrosse Club, was named president, and Dave MacFarlane secretary pro
tem. A constitution is to be drafted and the next meeting will be held in

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS HOPING FOR A WIN

Local Team Will Meet St. Marks, Vancouver, for Open B. C. Hoop Title

Just Plainly Fed Up.

To put things plainly, Vancouver has become fed up with the dictatorial methods of the New Westminster amateurs. Nursing an old grudge against Victoria because it could not win the Mann Cup, the red shirts have declared that the only way Victoria could get back into the Pacific Coast Amateur Lacrosse Association would be to turn over the Mann Cup. This the Victoria officials quite properly refused to do.

On the other hand Vancouver has been anxious to see Victoria back in the league and is willing to sacrifice. New Westminster's strained friendship for association with the Capital. Mr. Hesse put before the locals a very entertaining proposition, which includes some financial assistance, which will help the locals to make their trips to the Mainland.

Don't Like Victoria. The basketball season is now prac deally over, and to-night's game between St. Mark's girls and the Victoria High School will wind up the ladies' sames for the season. Great interest is being taken in the game, Interest is being taken in the game, and a record growd is expected. The game will be played in the V. U. A. C. Hall, Broad Street.

St. Mark's girls' team was organized in 1919, and the following season entered the Vancouver S. School League, which they won by two points. The next season they also won the Vancouver S. School League, but were defeated 10-6 by First Presbyterian girls, Victoria, for the B. C. thonors. This season they captured both the Vancouver S. School title and the B. C. championship, which includes the David Spencer cup. They have won 23 straight games this season with only 10 baskets scored against them prior to last Saturday night.

Defeated Them All.

Defeated Them All.

Westminster has been the dark gentleman around the chopping block for several years. They make no bones about not liking Victoria. They want the Mann Cup and assumed a very unreasonable attitude in regard to it. They sent men over to take the cup back without furnishing bondholders to the extent of $3,000. In 1920 they recognized Victoria as world's champions and sent a team over and were held to a draw. Since then they have tried desperately to get the cup, but Victoria's one and only reply to all inquiries has been "Come over and win it on the field." This is something Westminster hasn't the slightest idea of doing.

Vancouver Wants Change. Defeated Them All.

All the star girls' teams of the Mainland, including 'Varsity seniors, King George High School, Vancouver Rowing Club, etc., were defeated by St. Mark's at Vancouver this season. Miss Aileen Hall 'captain' holds the Senior S. S. track and field championship, of Vancouver, while Miss Violet Stevenson holds the intermediate title. The Victoria girls decided to go over and meet the St. Mark's team, which they did last Saturday night, winning a thrilling game 13 to 12. A return game was arranged for to-night at the V. U. A. championship.
Gus McKinnon, captain of the First, sent word to George Tuck, manager of the Vancouvers, suggesting dates but the reply said that the Mainlanders had disbanded and did not want to play.

The Presbyterians won the championship last year and seeing that they were ready to defend their laurels this season they claim the title-for the second consecutive year. It is acknowledged all over that the Presbyterians comprise the best team in the Province and that the Vancouver team would have been trimmed had it taken the floor.

School Lacrosse League Opens; Wards Score Win

North Ward and Quadra-Burnside Met in Opening Game of Season; Boys Showed Considerable Ability As Stick-Handlers; Six Games Will Be Played Next Week; Teams Are Keen As Mustard

At Game

School lacrosse made its official bow to the public yesterday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park. North Ward opposed the Burnside-Quadra combination in the North Section. The game was keenly contested, although the Wards established a clear superiority and won out by nine goals to nil.

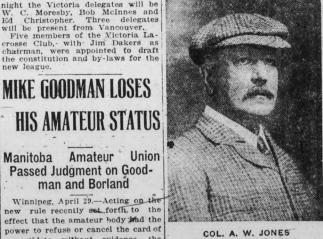

The Wards gave every indication of living up to the reputation established years ago by the formidable lacrosse twelves that represented that school and won several championships. The boys were bigger and faster than the Burnside-Quadra players and were constantly on the offensive

JOIE RAY TO TRY AND SHATTER MILE RECORD

Des Moines, Ia., April 29.—Joie Ray, who when he is not attempting to crack world's runing records, drives a taxicap in Chicago, hopes to achieve the ambition of his athletic career to-day when he meets Ray Watson of the Kansas Aggies, in a special match one mile race stanted as an added attraction to special match one mile race staged as an added attraction to the Thirteenth Annual Drake staged as an added attraction to the Thirteenth Annual Drake Relays.

Ray, holder of seven world's records in the middle distance runs, will attempt to shatter the world's mark of 4.14 2-5 for the distance. He has stepped the mile within one and four-fifths seconds of the record. After a trial spin yesterday, Ray pronounced the course to be in remarkably fast condition. The diminutive Chicagoan has raced Watson in previous events, and always has been hard pressed.

BOSTON PROTESTS WIN OF GIANTS YESTERDAY

Boston, April 29. Yesterday's game between the Giants and the Braves will be protested, Manager Mitchell of the Braves announced last night. He said that in the fifth inning with the score tied, 3 to 3, Smith was on third with one out when Bancroft flied out to Cruise in deep right field. After the catch was made, he said, Smith scored, but Bancroft, after passing second and on his way to third, stopped and leisurely caught Cruise's throw on the first bound. Mitchell said that although there was no chance of catching Smith at the plate, Bancroft'e catch of this relay constituted interference and Smith's run should not have counted.

Umpires Sentelle and Klem said last night they did not see Bancroft catch the ball.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO OAK BAY SPORTS?

Sporting Editor The Times,— What has happened to sports in Oak Bay? All activities this year seem to e along cricket lines. Are those in harge at the Monterey and High chools giving assistance to furthering of games, or just to the game of cricket?

I understand that the boys of the Monterey School have been told baseball is banned and the offer of the Gyro Club to furnish that school with lacrosse sticks was not acepted.

Have not the pupils of the public

Have not the pupils of the public schools no say as to, the kind of games they can play? Can they not play games where they can give vent to their feelings and cheer, their teams on to victory?

I would suggest that the teachers of Oak Bay schools, both public and high—support their pupils in any games they may wish to play.

I am sure the parents would be pleased to hear the reasons for the change, as I believe heretofore boys have always chosen, the kind of games they wish to play.

How does the School Board stand on the matter?

The various members of the company have demonstrated their ability to characterize and this play of "Within The Law" has done more to firmly entrench them in the hearts of Victoria theatre goers than any play yet presented. Much favy-rable comment has been, heard on all sides by those who know as to the merit of this production. In all probability Victoria will not have another opportunity to witness this great play again for a long time so it behooves those who wish to witness this much taked of drama to take advantage of the few remaining performances.

ROYAL VICTORIA

ROYAL VICTORIA

A distinctly pleasing novelty is "The Slient Call," the current feature photodrama at the Royal Victoria Theatre which will be shown for the last time to-day. In this picture, a Laurence Trimble-Jane Murfin production presented by H. O. Davis and distributed through Associated First National Pictures, there is a double story, the inter-locking of the double plots being accomplished through the agency of Strongheart, the world's most marvelous police dog, who is the real hero of the photoplay.

Herein lies the first element of novelty in this picture, the importance of the role played by Strongheart and the remarkable, in fact, almost uncanny, intelligence and dramatic performance contributed by him. Never for a moment does the beholder feel the director telling this wonderful dog what to do or how to do it; never for a moment do we feel that it is a trick, trained animal we see on the screen.

The second element of novelty lies in the remarkably beautiful scenery of the production; all of the exterior shots were filmed in the region of the High Sierra Mountains many miles away from the nearest actilement, and as a result we see Nattine's glorious handlwork in all its unframmeled grandeur.

A third feature that is distinctly novel about "The Silent Call" is a the caption of the high side of the caption of the standard of the photoprometry of the production; all of the exterior shots were filmed in the region of the High Sierra Mountains many miles away from the nearest actilement, and as a result we see Nattine's glorious handlwork in all its unframmeled grandeur.

A third feature that is distinctly novel about "The Silent Call" is the list of the principal characters in the cast. This consists, in addition to Strongheart, of even men and one strength and the caption of the strength and the caption of the handiwork in all its untrammeled grandeur.

A third feature that is distinctly novel about "The Silent Call" is the list of the principal characters in the cast. This consists, in addition to Strongheart, of seven men and one girl, each of whom gives a remarkably polished performance, so that the entire dramatis personæ stand out as living personages. The picture presents a veritable page of life, due to their sterling portrayals. John Bowers, Kathryn McGuire, William Dyer, James Mason and William V. Mong are especially worthy of honorable mention; Robert Bolder, Nelson McDowell and Ray-Howard are also fully adequate to their roles.

Jane Murfin, who adapted the photoplay, shows the direct dramatic values she has practised in her various stage successes; Laurence Trimble, the director, confirms again the critical judgment that long ago placed purposes for which stainless steel on account of its hard nature, has proved unsuitable. Stainless steel cannot be used for articles of intricate shapes with sharp angles, which have to be fashioned out of the cold metal. Stainless steel also requires to be hardened to ensure production and retention of its rustless properties, and many articles are so shaped as to make hardening an impossibility. Rustless iron overcomes all these difficulties, and is a remarkable advance on anything previously offered. This material may possibly revolutionize many trades where the use of ordinary iron or steel has so far been unsuitable owing to the inability of optimary iron or steel to withstand corrosive action. A SURPRISE PARTY.

Happy Valley, April 28.—On Tuesday evening there was a raid on "Calais," the residence of Capt. and Mrs. Baker. The self-invited guests took them by storm and provided a real "surprise."

The evening was a delightful success, games were played and fun was rife. Capt. Baker provided most interesting and varied musical programme, and his witty Irish and Scotch characterizations kept the guests in roars of langhter. The festivals ended at a late hour by singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and "Auld Lang Syne."

ALICE ADAMS

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON INSTALLMENT NO. 1

The patient, an old-fashioned man, thought the nurse made a mistake in keeping both the windows open. He thought the night air worst of all in April; he hadn't a doubt it would kill him he declared.

"To-morrow it'll be May night air, and I expect that'll be a lot better for you, don't you?" Miss Perry was indulgent. "Now let's just sobed down and be a good boy and get some nice sound sleep."
She gave him his medicine and returned to her cot, where, after a still interval, she snored faintly.

The man did sleep intermittently, drowsed between times, and even dreamed; but he believed, as usual, that he lay awake the whole night long. When he opened his eyes, the nurse was just rising from her cot. "Well, isn't that grand! We've had another good night," she said as she departed to dress in the bathroom.

"Yes, you had another!" he retorted, after she had closed the door, Presently his wife came in.

"Oh, you're better again! I can see that, as soon as I look at you," she said. "Miss Perry tells me you've had another splendid night."

He made a sound of irony and added, "She slept well, as usual!"

But his wife's smile persisted. "It's a good sign to be cross; it means you're practically convalescent right now. You'll be right on your feet in a couple of weeks from now."

"Oh, I will."

"She slept well, as usual!"

But Alice, progressing with her toilet, appeared to be little concerned. The stood sign to be cross; it means the practically convalescent right. You'll be right on your feet in ouple of weeks from now."

"Oh, I will?"

"Of course you will!" She laughed briskly. "You'll be as strong as you ever were; maybe stronger." She shad, then added, cheerfully, "So that you can fly around and find something really good to get into."

"What did you say about my finding 'something good to get into?"

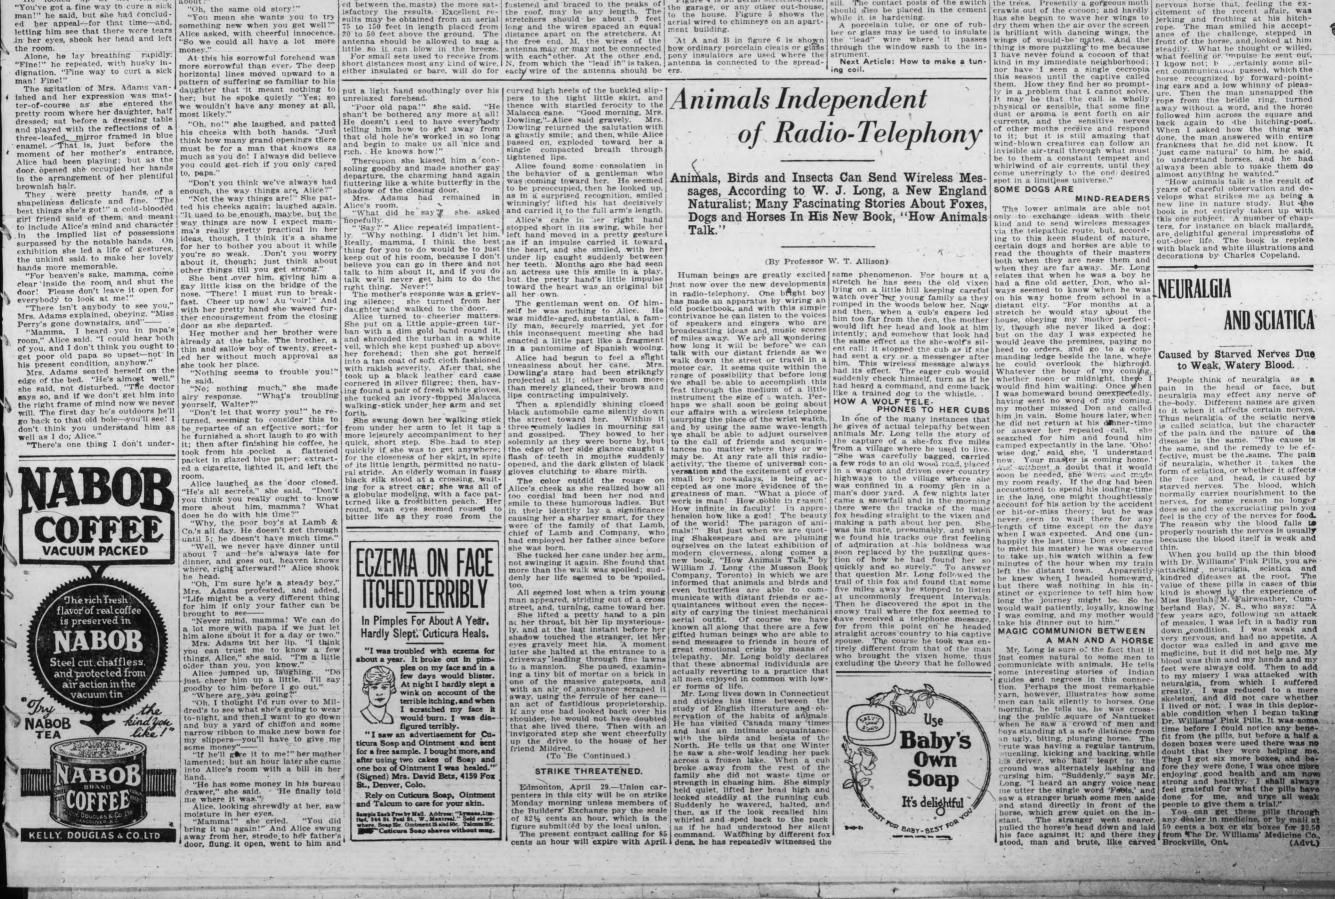

"What did you say about my finding 'something good to get into?"

"Blease don't talk like that." Alice said, quickly. "I realize that papa may need pressure of all sorts; I only think it makes him more obstinate to get him cross. You probably do understand him better, but that,'s one thing I've found out and you haven't let yourself get nervous," she said. "But of course when you get well you must'nt go back to that old hole again."

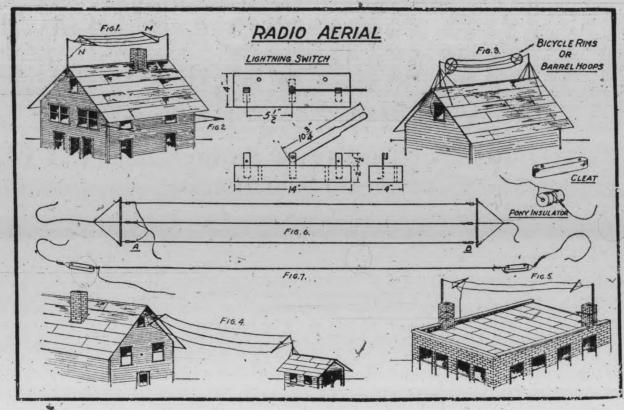

"Old hole? That's what you call it, is it?" In spite of his weakness, anger made his yoice strident.

Her father looked up wistfully. "I suppose you heard your mother going for me," he said.

"I heard you going for her, too!"
Alice laughed. "What was it all about?"

"Oh, the same old story!"

"You mean she wants you to try something new when you get well?"
Alice asked, with cheerful innocence. "So we could all have a lot more money."

Lord Rosebery Called Orator of the Empire

Publication of His Speeches Calls Forth Widespread Appreciation of His Fine Gifts of Imagination and Expression.

OW marvellous it all is! Built not by oW marvellous it all is! Human, and yet not wholly human, for the most heedless and the most cynical must see the finger of the Divine. Growing as trees grow, while others slept; led by the faults of others as well as by the character of our fathers; reaching with the ripple of a resistless tide over tracts and islands and continents, until our little Britain woke up to find herself the foster-mother of nations and the source of united empires. Do we not hail in this less the energy and fortune of a race than the supreme direction of the Almighty?'

This is an extract from a speech by Lord Rosebery on the British Empire, and it may be taken as an example of charm and style of a collection of Rosebery speeches recently published in two volumes. The British critics are lavishing praise on the gifted peer as an orator and man of letters.

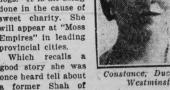

"Those who heard the speeches delivered," says the Scotsman, "will peruse them now with renewed fascination; while in them posterity will find the title-deeds of their author to a permanent niche in the temple of literary and oratorical fame."

"The two volumes," says the Glasgow Herald, "will explain and illustrate for future generations Lord Rosebery's contemporary reputation as the orator of the empire, and they will be quoted as examples of British eloquence, but they will also be read for their insight, their width of sympathy, their sober sense, and for the skill with which Lord Rosebery succeeded in arousing the interest, moral and intellectual, of every audience he ever addressed. They are no mere record of a veteran statesman's prime, for their appeal is insistent and permanent.

What lovable, reasonable and understanding friends man has in animals. What could equal the devotion of a dog to its master or a horse to a kind owner? As you will know by this time, little reader, commencing with Monday next the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will hold the annual observance of "Be Kind to Animals Week," an institution that is all the more needed in these days when mankind is less dependent on animals than in former days.

Time was when a man who owned a horse, made his living by the work that his horse could perform, and for that reason if for no other took good care of his "livelihood." The same is true of cows to this day, when many are dependent on the returns of their cattle for living, and it is a backward man who illtreats a cow that gives him milk and advances his bank account.

Besides the more monetary aspect, how-ever, one should be kind to animals for their own sake. If cruelty and neglect is meted out own sake. world that is never spent illadvisedly.

The more kindness that is dispensed the more its expenditure enriches the character, and often the purse, of its donor. It seldom costs the smallest sacrifice to be kind to one another, or to our domestic pets, but how seldom is this remembered. The type of boy who "swings a cat by the tail," and is cheered on by his companions is seldom found to-day, and flekily so, for in that boy is the making of a worthless man, and his companions, who could applaud such a performance are in companion on their own degraded level.

In France and many other parts of Europe animals play a much larger part in the affairs of mankind than on this continent, where the gasoline method of transportation has almost gasoine method of transportation has a supplanted the horse. MR. FOX'S WOOL COVERING.

It was not bright but it was early when Mr. Fox crawled out from under the warm wool covering he had borrowed from Mr. Wolf. Through the woods he ran and over the hill to the very farm Mr. Wolf happened to have visited the night before to get something for his breakfast. Mr. Wolf had awakened Mr. Dog, so he was not sleeping soundly when Mr. Fox came creeping along behind the barn with his eyes fixed upon the chicken house where there was a loose board at one side.

He was half way in when Mr. Dog sniffed.

He was half way in when Mr. Dog sniffed the air and then out of his house he came with a bound and the first thing Mr. Fox knew Mr. Dog barked to his heels.

Out came, Mr. Fox's head and off he bounded followed by Mr. Dog, and Mr. Man with a gun, for Mr. Dog's first bark had brought his master out of the house.

"Bang, bang," went the gun, but Mr. Fox was lucky and ducked in time. Then he scooted along by a stone wall and somehow gave Mr. Dog and his master the slip.

Mr. Fox's eyes shone when a few minutes later he peeked out from his hiding place and saw his followers going in the opposite direction. "I will follow along at a safe distance," he thought, "and see what they are up to."

But his foy soon turned to sorrow, for Mr. Dog had picked up the scent along the very path over which Mr. Fox had run to the farm and was making straight for Mr. Fox's home, followed by his master.

Mr. Fox not only felt very hungry but very sad and discouraged, for he knew they would think when they saw the sheep and lamp skins that he was the thief instead of Mr. Welf and from now on would be on the lookout for him.

"Life isn't worth a button for me around these parts now," he thought as he walked in another direction. "Just as I had everything fixed for a comfortable time for the rest of the Winter luck turns against me.

"I wonder if Mr. Wolf would be neighborly enough to give me shelter for a night or two. He seemed to have plenty of room and I shall not mind if I do not have a wool covering. I believe I will run up there and see."

But before he reached the home of Mr. Wolf, Mr. Fox changed his mind, for he saw Mr. Wolf looking around his house with his nose to the ground and knew that he had discovered that someone had called in his absence.

He was looking for tracks and Mr. Fox knew when he found them that he would be much more comfortable very far away from there, so he took to his heels and laway he bounded wishing that he had not borrowed Mr. Wolf's wool covering. For now he was not only hungry and cold but homeless as well.

Ladies of Aristocracy Rush in Unprecedented Numbers to Bureaux Seeking Husbands.

IT IS IMMATERIAL WHETHER FORMER ENEMIES OR NOT

Do Not Seek Officers or "Vons," But Thoughtful Business Men of Good Character.

ARRIAGE brokers are doing a thriving business in Germany, according to Dr. Edward J. Bing, writing from Berlin in the New York Herald. He continues:

It is accentuatingly interesting that those who seek the literal marriage marts are not, as may be supposed to the contrary, representative of the poorer classes. The clientele of the marriage brokers now consists almost exclusively of members of the aristocracy, the landed gentry, and the families which grew into aristocracy be-fore the war by means of industrial power.

These and other characteristic facts were mentioned and explained to me by Mrs. Lehmann, the owner of one of Berlin's best-known

'We are extremely busy," she said. "We get about a hundred letters a week from Ger-many and abroad, and the preference of foreigners for German wives is remarkable. "It seems that the German woman has a good reputation abroad. She is a good house-wife and mother. The economic situation in Germany makes it very difficult for the average weman to find an ideal husband in the Fatherland. This accounts for the fact that a very great number of our women are interested in getting married to foreigners. Nationality has ceased to be an obstacle. It is immaterial whether they are former enemies or not. In fact, preference is given to Americans. Only Dutchmen are rather unpopular among our ladies, who consider them too coarse.

"About 50 per cent, of the women ready to get married abroad are members of the aristocracy, although practically none of their future husbands belong to their own social class. justice to our women I must say, however, that their attitude is not, as might be supposed, inspired by materialistic motives.

The life insurance companies give doleful penniless, and I am one of them: So what can life offer to a woman without means, bereft of home, husband, and the niche she formerly filled in her own social set. Where does the wonderful part of being a widow come in anyway? You sell out your furniture, and it is a separate grief to part with every cherished bit of it. With the little money realized you look about for some way to make your bread and butter—no cake now, just bare necessities.

A sister writes from a distance, "Come and make your home with us, and in return you can family mending, and it will be a comfort when John and I go out at night to know you will be with the children." A Widow's Queer Experiences

HE said he had had the misfortune to be born with a man's body and a woman's soul, and had therefore decided to ignore the former and become to all purposes a woman in dress, demeaner, annearance, and manner. The writing showed culture, the letter was expressed as only a well-educated person could write, and the notepaper was in the best taste.

My first impulse was to hand over the letter

Come along another friend (in those days I was like a female Job, with commiserating friends pointing out how utterly helpless I was). and she said if I knew how to use the typewriter she believed her husband would be able to get me in a small branch bank, as the inspector was their great friend. It happened I could typewrite, for my husband having been a writer l had often helped him with his typing. So inhad often helped him with his typing. So in-side of a week I became attached to the staff of a branch bank. As the manager stuttered ter-ribly he was unable to dictate, so wrote out his sistance, and comforts to the applicants. # And a Yard of Grass, Please

THE man who is thinking of improving his lawn need not now buy turf in the oldfashioned way. Thanks to a novel idea invented by an Englishman, you can buy grass by the yard just as you would calico or linen. Nor does the grass for a lawn require several carts to bring it-it comes by train in quite small and light rolls, each of which contains a good many yards.

The inventor found that grass seed would grow on damp cloth just as well as in soil. He takes a bale of cloth, stretches it out flat, soaks it and sows it thickly with seed. short time it is bearing a fine crop of young grass. As soon as the grass is ready the cloth is rolled up, made into a parcel and sent away to the buyer.

When it arrives the "grass-cloth" is stretched out on the prepared ground and pegged down. In a few days the roots of the ing grass strike down through the fabric and obtain a firm hold in the soil. The cloth itself remains in place until it rots away.

The widow is in a difficult position. Accustomed to a man's companionship and depending on it, she is suddenly deprived of the masculine point of view and contrast. It is lonely, and there is always the feeling that the best part of life is missing. If, as sometimes happens, rather than suffer from this intense loneliness a widow drifts into friendship with a man, she is sure to he the subject of remarks if not of criticism

The real truth is many widows suffer the companionship of men of inferior type rather than have only women to associate with. They are used to men, and the habit is hard to grow

"What can you see in that man you go around with—a woman of your brains?" a friend exclaims, and you tell her that while Alf may not be brilliant or clever, he is a good sort, and you really need someone to escort you about a little, although you would never in the world dream of marrying him. But Alf begins to get sentimental, and when you tell him your feelings are purely platonic he is indignant and blames you for encouraging him. You say to him, "Why, do you imagine I could marry you after the husband I had?" and Alf gets angrier still, and the friendship ends with a jolt. How you wish you could find a sensible man whose companionship would remain on the calm level of friendship! Origin of Sensational Story Which Appeared in Hearst Papers.

HERE is the latest story which is going the rounds in the United States. When the Prince of Wales was in Calcutta one of the Hearst newspapers sent out a sensational story of an attempted assassination. It wasn't true, of course, but there was no adequate explanation at the time. It now appears that the cable received by the newspaper read:-

Calcutta Prince hit bycullah club mean that the Prince had made a hit at the

However, the brightest brains in Americ got busy on that cable—you will remember a story of O. ## North Park St. Mission Is Inaugurated Crowded to its very doors last night and full to overflowing was the new Mission Church on North Park Street built by the Presbyterian Church for the Chinese of Victoria.

Street built by the Presbyterian Church for the Chinese of Victoria, The white friends and supporters of the movement were well represented, and a promising feature of the congregation was the large number of Chinese girls and youths who were all agog with interest and enthusiasm for the work of the Mission. An attractive programme had been arranged for the dedication of the church. The opening hymn, "All Hall the Power," was sung in English and Chinese, after which Rev. W. McRae, who took the chair, gave an interesting account of the growth of the Mission in Victoria, from its carliest beginnings in 1893 in a room at the corner of Pandora and Douglas Streets, to the present day. It was in September of last year, he stated, that the Mission Board in Toronto took the first definite step towards the new edifice, by buying the site where the church now stands. He paid warm tribute to Mr. Hood, the architect of the building, and to the Bible was read by Rev, D. Walker, followed by a prayer offered by Rev. Joseph McCoy.

Academician.

Mr. Gilbert Scott, who is 42, is already famous as the architect of Liverpool Cathedral, that magnificent example of Modern Gothic in which has followed and surpassed the tradition of style bequeathed to him by his grandfather, Sir George Gilbert Scott, R.A. He was just 21 when his design for the Cathedral was finished, and it was the one selected in a sealed competition. It is interesting to note that he has since modified his original plan of twin towers substituting one great centratower, the massive effect of which is generally considered preferable in view of the commanding position of the Cathedral to the gracefulness of the two smaller towers. Mr. Scott's father, Mr. George Gilbert Scott, and his uncle, Mr. John Oldrid Scott, were also architects of merit. He is groman Catholic, educated at Beaumont. Among his other works may be mentioned the restoration of Chester Cathedral, the Church of the Annunciation at Bournemouth, and St Paul's Chürch, Liverpool. He was elected A.R.A. in 1918, at the age of 33. His grandfather was A.R.A. at the age of 44, and-was 50 before he was elected B.A.

- CANADA'S RAILWAYS Springfield, Ills., April 29.-That Springfield, Ills., April 29.—That Canada has preserved competition under a plan of Government ownership of railways which after three years' demonstration has proved thoroughly practicable, was asserted by D. B. Hanna, president of the Canadian National Railways, in an address here last night. He explained that the National system competes with the Canadian Pacific for the transportation business of the nation, and that the object of the Government ownership in Canada was to insure adequate and efficient rail-

TO-DAY'S EXCHANGE

Honey Crop in Southern State OIL STOCKS THE Is Assured Bountiful Season

Strawberries will commence to arrive in consiedable quantities on May 10 on wholesale row. The Los Angeles strawberries were intro-duced on the wholesale rows of some of the southern cities. There has been a plentiful supply of rain in the Florin district this being followed by an ideal growing weather. A large yield in expected from the Florin Valley and consignments of the carfrom the south about May 10. Strawperries are expected to reach here to-day being of the Louisiana variety. This will be the last of this kind of berry to arrive from that district, due to the opening of the California

Asparagus is receiving very light weather is paring down the yield lue to a sluggish demand. But the ocal supply is consistently filling the market with fresher produce. Carbut the supply will most likely last but the supply will most likely last out till the new arrivals are regeived. A feature of the fluctuations on the wholesale row to-day was that of cucumbers which registered a drop of a dollar under the old quotation. With the reduction in price retailers are now picking up this commodity at $4.75.

are now picking up this commonly at $4.75.

One of the heaviests yields in honey has been assured California producers owing to continued rains in that state. Honey of the extract variety is rapidly being cleaned up, and it is thought will be sold out before the "new supply arrives. The local producers are expected to be heard from before long and the market in this commodity can then be given a future. Very few changes were registered on the wholesale row to-day, the prices having been revised as follows:

Tickets Selling Rapidly for Bellingham Celebration May 5

Emphasis is laid on the fact that the Bellingham excursion for the big Tulip Festival in that city will leave

Victoria and return on standard time. The palatial steamer will leave here at 9 o'clock next Friday morning, May 5, arriving Bellingham at 12.30. The visitors will be able to spend four and a half the wonderful floral parade. The bridge contract to the Canadian steamer will leave Bellingham at 5 Bridge Company, provided the new

Tickets are on sale at the Canadian Pacific Rafiway ticket office, Government Street, and they are going fast. Tickets are on sale at the Canadian Pacific Rafiway ticket office, Govern-ment Street, and they are going fast. The excursion will be held under the auspices of the Victoria Chamber of Compared.

auspices of the victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Bight hundred passengers will be the limit the Princess Louise will take on the excursion.

Following the visit to Victoria of the large party of Americans in connection with the inauguration of the Victoria-Anacortes, the Bellingham delegates and the citizens of Bellingham are looking for a large number of Victoria and Island visitors at the Tulip Festival.

The people of Bellingham have arranged to charter a vessel to bring a certifying to the sufficiency of this amount.

"Even if we run over $110,000 to a small extent we could pay it but of general revenue but in the meantime let us get something before the people instead of dilly-dallying as we have been doing," said Alderman Patrick. "Let's do the business and go home!"

Finally the motion awarding the contract to the Canadian Bridge Company provided satisfactory financial arrangements can be made was carried only Alderman Todd and Alderman Leeming voting against it on the ground that it bound the Council to spend money out of general revenue if the by-law were defeated.

The people of Bellingham have arranged to charter a vessel to bring a return excursion to this city on May 24.

Commissioner W. E. Staneland Stands Up for His Policy

Alfred Carmichael Shows What Could Happen

Closed Sunday, varying in degrees of restrictiveness, until it was inally described as "Jet-Black Sunday," formed the subject of a two-loug debate at a meeting at the hamber of Commerce rooms last light, with H. S. Stevenson in the chair. The meeting was open to live fetallers under the auspices of he Retail Merchants' Association, alled to discuss Sunday closing, and other matters.

Will Petition Council. Will Petition Council.

As a result of the meeting the City Council will be asked by the retailers to submit a plebiscite on the whole question of the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act. The executive of the R. M. A. received a hearty endorsation of their stand in alding the Anti-Blue-Sunday League in its fight against a closed city on that day.

Mr. Staneland Fights. Mr. Staneland Fights.

A feature of the meeting was a letermined stand taken by Police Commissioner W. E. Staneland, himself a retailer, on the point. Mr. Staneland fought his way through explanation, after explanation, in inswer to questions from the floor of he gathering.

Enforcement Obligatory

Enforcement Obligatory. He concluded smiling, with the statement that the police commission would not retract, and that even if a plebiscite were taken the enforcement of the Act was obligatory on the board, and would be carried out, if leave to prosecute were forthcoming.

f leave to prosecute oming.

That it was the duty of the board of enforce the act, and that unless that body did so the Province would do so at the expense of the city, was the statement made by Mr. Staneland as communicated to himself by Attorney-General Manson.

"Everlasting Interference." "It is time this everlasting interference with personal liberty should come to an end" stated A. E. C. Cornwall in moving the resolution, endorsing the executive's action. "The motive behind the Lord's Day Act enforcement is just about 400 years behind the times," he continued amid cheers. "This is a time for the development of individual responsibilities, not for the suppression of the masses of people."

"Some things in the present conditions are not right," interjected W. H. Bone, "I refer more particularly to the operation of the drug stores in selling other things than drugs. If that is to be tolerated other stores should be permitted to do likewise. I think, too, that Blue Sunday is misnamed, it is not Blue at all; but I would like to see the question submitted to the people; and to get their opinions."

Explains Act.

"One of the conditions in the Act is that it cannot be enforced against the will of the people, and in this connection I think the committee of the Anti-Blue Sunday League have won the first round. (Cheers.) They have made the Police Commission realize that the Act cannot be enforced without the will of the people. Let us have a plebiscite, and then those who do not like the result need not stay here; they can get out.

Makes for Contempt.

"There is no authority for enforcing one part of it and not another," he continued. "That would be gross discrimination, making for contempt of the law and evasion. The Act is almost discriminatory itself, for, in the first part it exempts all railways with Dominion charters.

Victoria "Well Behaved."

"As cities go, Victoria is one of the best behaved cities on a Sunday that I have ever seen (cheers), and I venture to say that the people behind the closing move now do not know what life is for the small stores affected.

"Thing Is Ridiculous."

"The whole thing is ridiculous—why a child cannot take an ice cream cone and eat it on the street, without breaking the act," he continued amid laughter. "Then they cannot enforce all the terms of the act, and why should there be discrimination?"

Sunday Not "Blue."

Explains Act.

At this stage Alfred Carmichael addressed the gathering, giving a synopsis of what the rigid enforcement of the Lord's Day Act would mean:

"As a member of the Anti-Blue Sunday League," he stated. "I have studied the Act which I think is an absolute infringement on personal liberty, taking a narrow, rather than a broader, view of life. The Act was not conceived primarily in the cause of labor, and labor men tell me they can look after themselves on this question.

"One of the conditions in the Act is that it cannot be enforced against the will of the people, and in this

Anti-Blue Creed

"I have here a creed of the AntiBlue Sunday League. It reads, Follow the dictates of your own conscience, do not employ any man against his will on Sunday, and do not insist that any man shall order his life upo that any man shall order his lie about your views. The last would be foreing religion down your neighbor's throat. Evasion and contempt of the law would follow," concluded Mr. Carmichael.

"There is always discrimination in very law," stated Police Commissionary W. E. Staneland, "why even in the sales tax there is discrimination, and rou all know that. I am a retailer, wholesaler and a manufacturer, but it is as a police commissioner that I am going to outline my views.

"The attitude of the commission to

"The attitude of the commission today is that we stand for a Sunday that is not commercialized. This will affect the stores alone. I take a liberal interpretation of the act, and there will be no effort made to interfere with transportation." Commissioner Staneland here produced letters from former Attorney-General
J. W. de B. Farris to the former
Board of Commissioners when Alderman Todd, was a member.

"All bunkum"

"All bunkum," shouted a voice from the floor, "it is not necessary to go back twenty years; deal with the law to-day." From a file of letters thus read to the meeting the commissioner drew the inference that the Lord's Day Act and its enforcement rested with the commission and was obligatory on that body and not with the people. The only point to be decided by the Attorney-General was that any suggested prosecutions should not be of a discriminatory nature.

Duty to Enforce.

The Chinese, he stated, were not confined to Chinatown, as formerly, but had spread fan-wise over the city. "It is about time we had a show-down," continued Mr. Staneland, "no less than 186 Chinese were charged in court in the last four months, and there is going to be a show-down soon. I am in favor of a referendum, and I think the wording of the plebiscite should be "Shall Sunday closing of all stores be enforced throughout the city."

Some Heckling.

At this stage the commissioner

At this stage the commissioner was subjected to some heckling. He tenied that he had stated the retail executive was acting without the support of its membership in fostering the Anti-Blue-Sunday League. I have here a list of retailers presented to me, and 75 per cent of the ames here are in favor of Sunday closing," he continued.

The Silent Vote.

"I believe when it comes to a vote

"I believe when it comes to a vote that the quiet, silent vote will carry, and already I have had some workers come to me and thank me for my stand on this matter," he resumed. "Is it obligatory on the board to enforce the Lord's Day Act?" Daniel Poupard wanted to know.

Staneland Questioned. Staneland Questioned.
"It is obligatory and no discretion is permitted," replied Mr. Staneland.
"Then, if it be obligatory, will you enforce the act against the will of the people, even if a plebiscite be held," returned Mr. Poupard, "and if so, what is the use of a referendum?"
"We will prosecute anyway, if the Attorney-General gives us leave," replied Mr. Staneland.

Sandwiches for Hungry.

Sandwiches for Hungry. "If a traveler wants a dozen and a half sandwiches to take with him on the boat, can I give them to him on Sunday?" Mr. Buller wanted to know.

"Yes, I think that would be an act of necessity," was the reply.
"Why Not Ice Cream?" "Well, if sandwiches, why not ice cream?" asked another.

Veteran Pleads. Commissioner Staneland here gave way to a returned soldier, a cringfied veteran of the late war, who stated that if forced to close on Sundays he would be forced out of business and "go to the wall." "Is that Victoria's thanks for the men who went to fight your battles. I used to be able to make enough in six days a week, and now I can barely scrape along on seven days work, even with a pension," he concluded. "Remember, when you vote, that there is such a thing as British fair play."

Resolution Carried.

Resolution Carried. The resolution carried.

The resolution, supporting the president and executive of the Anti-Blue-Sunday League in their actions to date, and calling on the City Council for a plebisoite on the whole matter, was then carried by a vote of 50 to 8. After other business the meeting adjourned.

Charges Mayor With Disregarding Promise on Improvement Tax Issue

Move to Quash Plebiscite on Tax Question Held Up; Decision Monday

"What we need is a little mor veracity here and less verbosity!" exclaimed Alderman Joseph Patrick, at the City Council meeting yesterday afternoon when he delivered a slashing attack on Mayor Marchant for his alleged breach of faith with him and upon Alderman E. S. Woodward for his attitude on the improvement tax question. But after listening to a series of hot passages among these three members, the Council failed to act on the proposal that a plebiscite on the improvement tax question should be submitted to the ratepayers. Alderman Gillespie moved that no plebiscite should be held and this motion undoubtedly would have carried but for the fact that the discussion, held up on a technicality, wandered far afield and the Council had to adjourn before anything definite could be done. Alderman Gillespie announced after the meeting, however, that he would exclaimed Alderman Joseph Patrick

Alderman Giffespie's motion records followed but no one could find the provision upon which Alderman Woodward based his assertion. Thus, it was stated, there will be nothing to prevent the discussion of the Gillespie motion on Monday night. Alderman Patrick's attack upon the Mayor had been expected. The Alderman, it was known, had left, the city asome time ago to attend the Rotary convention in Vancouver on the promise from the Mayor that no controversial matter would be dis-
