

of the right of the Supreme Court in that behalf, altogether unnecessary.

The action of the Supreme Court does not concern the issue of a writ of habeas corpus in the present case. What they deem the proper time, will witness to do so, and even to see for that purpose, if it should have been referred to a court of appeals, it is not to be presumed that a writ of habeas corpus exists in the case at all. It is not to be presumed that a writ of habeas corpus exists in the case at all. It is not to be presumed that a writ of habeas corpus exists in the case at all.

Our readers will see the force and reasonableness of this decision, and will regret that the Supreme Court had not been more liberal in its construction of the habeas corpus clause.

When the U. S. Court gets through with the prisoners convicted, it will probably will commit them to the charge of the jailor, and its action becomes complete and final. We trust it will be tried, and the result, we have little doubt, will correspond with the action of the Supreme Court.

National Anti-Slavery Standard.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, MAY 14, 1859.

CONTRIBUTORS will greatly oblige us by a careful observance of the following directions, viz: Letters for publication, or articles for the Standard, should be addressed to the Editor, No. 151 Broadway, New York.

REMOVED.—The Office of THE STANDARD has been removed to the Park Building (adjoyning Lovejoy's Hotel), No. 6 Bowler Street. Our friends, after ascending the broad stairs to the second story, cannot fail to discover our sign.

ANTI-SLAVERY STANDARD, in large letters, on the first right-hand door.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY.

Photographic Report by J. M. Yessierov. The Twenty-sixth Anniversary of the American Anti-Slavery Society commenced at the Assembly Rooms, Broadway, on the 11th inst. A large number of friends from various sections of the country, including very many from New England and from Pennsylvania and other States.

Rev. A. D. Mayo, of Albany, then offered an impressive prayer to the God of the oppressed.

Francis Jackson, of Boston, then read the Treasurer's Report, and gave an account of the financial condition of the Society for the year ending May 1, 1859.

THE PRESIDENT then said:—Whatever the upholders and apologists of slavery in our land may say, the heart of universal humanity always responds to the principles and sentiments of liberty, and always rises in rebellion against any monstrous and unchristian system.

I wish, before the regular speaking commences, to read two or three very short addresses which have come to us recently from the old world; and it is due to those who have sent these addresses over to this country that they should be read at this Anniversary.

THE PRESIDENT then read the letter, which we have already published, from the Rev. Mr. G. in relation to the slave trade in Africa.

THE PRESIDENT then introduced the Rev. Mr. G. in relation to the slave trade in Africa.

THE OLD RESCUE TRIALS.

We publish in another column, the judgment of the Supreme Court of Ohio upon the application for habeas corpus in behalf of the O'Brien recusers. We have not yet received the conviction of C. H. Langston, who is followed next after that of Bushnell. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty after a very brief trial.

Some three or four of the prisoners (from Wellington and Ontario), waiting in back-boats, concluded to ply, and were thereupon sent to pay a fine of $10 and imprisoned 24 hours.

The Tribune has a letter from Cleveland, which says:—On the examination of one of the witnesses on the 10th inst., the following facts relating to the 'Brotherhood' of the Democracy were elicited.

It is to be regretted that the O'Brien recusers, who were to-day sent to the State Prison, will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers, who were to-day sent to the State Prison.

RIGHT AND WRONG IN MINNESOTA.

LETTER FROM JAMES W. SWANWICK. Bushnell, one of the O'Brien recusers, was to-day sent to the State Prison, and will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

THE O'Brien TRIALS.

We publish in another column, the judgment of the Supreme Court of Ohio upon the application for habeas corpus in behalf of the O'Brien recusers.

Some three or four of the prisoners (from Wellington and Ontario), waiting in back-boats, concluded to ply, and were thereupon sent to pay a fine of $10 and imprisoned 24 hours.

The Tribune has a letter from Cleveland, which says:—On the examination of one of the witnesses on the 10th inst., the following facts relating to the 'Brotherhood' of the Democracy were elicited.

It is to be regretted that the O'Brien recusers, who were to-day sent to the State Prison, will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers.

RIGHT AND WRONG IN MINNESOTA.

LETTER FROM JAMES W. SWANWICK. Bushnell, one of the O'Brien recusers, was to-day sent to the State Prison, and will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

THE O'Brien TRIALS.

We publish in another column, the judgment of the Supreme Court of Ohio upon the application for habeas corpus in behalf of the O'Brien recusers.

Some three or four of the prisoners (from Wellington and Ontario), waiting in back-boats, concluded to ply, and were thereupon sent to pay a fine of $10 and imprisoned 24 hours.

The Tribune has a letter from Cleveland, which says:—On the examination of one of the witnesses on the 10th inst., the following facts relating to the 'Brotherhood' of the Democracy were elicited.

It is to be regretted that the O'Brien recusers, who were to-day sent to the State Prison, will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers.

RIGHT AND WRONG IN MINNESOTA.

LETTER FROM JAMES W. SWANWICK. Bushnell, one of the O'Brien recusers, was to-day sent to the State Prison, and will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

THE O'Brien TRIALS.

We publish in another column, the judgment of the Supreme Court of Ohio upon the application for habeas corpus in behalf of the O'Brien recusers.

Some three or four of the prisoners (from Wellington and Ontario), waiting in back-boats, concluded to ply, and were thereupon sent to pay a fine of $10 and imprisoned 24 hours.

The Tribune has a letter from Cleveland, which says:—On the examination of one of the witnesses on the 10th inst., the following facts relating to the 'Brotherhood' of the Democracy were elicited.

It is to be regretted that the O'Brien recusers, who were to-day sent to the State Prison, will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers.

RIGHT AND WRONG IN MINNESOTA.

LETTER FROM JAMES W. SWANWICK. Bushnell, one of the O'Brien recusers, was to-day sent to the State Prison, and will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

THE O'Brien TRIALS.

We publish in another column, the judgment of the Supreme Court of Ohio upon the application for habeas corpus in behalf of the O'Brien recusers.

Some three or four of the prisoners (from Wellington and Ontario), waiting in back-boats, concluded to ply, and were thereupon sent to pay a fine of $10 and imprisoned 24 hours.

The Tribune has a letter from Cleveland, which says:—On the examination of one of the witnesses on the 10th inst., the following facts relating to the 'Brotherhood' of the Democracy were elicited.

It is to be regretted that the O'Brien recusers, who were to-day sent to the State Prison, will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers.

RIGHT AND WRONG IN MINNESOTA.

LETTER FROM JAMES W. SWANWICK. Bushnell, one of the O'Brien recusers, was to-day sent to the State Prison, and will not be able to attend the trial of the O'Brien recusers.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

My friends all went to the polls well armed; and all day I stayed in the office, printing and folding tickets for the poll. I was not in the office, but I was in the office.

