

A WINTER'S PICNIC

H. MONTAGUE PORTER DESCRIBES VISIT TO NATURAL ROCK BRIDGE IN VIRGINIA

H. Montague Porter, brother of Miss Calla Porter, in a letter to relatives here describes an interesting winter hike in the east.

Come with me on a winter's picnic party, or tramp into the woods. It's so unusual to go picnicking in the winter that the novelty will be compensation for the cold.

Off we have roamed the woods and rivulets in summer and sought the deep shady dell with pleasure, but this is to be a winter sport.

A few inches of snow made the idea the more idealistic. We have wandered far into the hills and mountains, and though fresh in spirit and strong of step, the sun has far passed the meridian and we turn homeward, though not to retrace our journey by the same path, but continue exploring as we wind another way.

We start across a little ravine and, hearing the music of rippling water, follow its whisperings to a beautiful snow-cased cascade tumbling among the white-capped boulders and hiding under miniature icy bridges to a pool below.

As we approach nearer, and traverse its rugged bank, we see yet another lower waterfall, and a third. Enchanted with our winter-covered rivulet, we climb lower and lower down its slippery, treacherous course till we are below the triple falls—a veritable lacework of mist and frosty pointed etching in ice and snow and crystal-clear water.

This contrast of summer's ferns and mosses, and we linger longer than is prudent; for the sky has overcast in dark grey, blotting out the shadows' clear markings which the sun cast of every tree and stump and boulder.

We will not climb again by the sparkling waterfalls, but continue with them down the vale, as it surely leads a homeward way.

Trees are thicker and more varied in their species, adding attraction to our outing day. Large flakes of snow begin to fall so noiselessly among the spruces and the cedars as hardly to be noticed.

I think we hardly knew at first they were sentries of the fast-oncoming storms of feathery stillness. The trail was easy and mellowed water-music pleasing as were the ever-changing scenes deeper and further down the valley; and we little cared or thought of the fast increasing snow. The trail led up and over a little knoll, the inside angle of the stream. At its summit, a new water-voice joins with the murmur of the snow-muffled stream below, and we turn aside to listen to this nymph calling from the mountain. We discover in a grotto, a little cave, the singer of the water-song. We come to the opening and

THE BIG E. L. CONVENTION

The young Methodists of Glendale are surely busy with preparations for the big Epworth League Convention which will bring about 1000 of the finest young people to our city on May 10, 11 and 12. On Tuesday evening, April 2, all the committees will meet in joint session at the First M. E. Church, where co-operation will be the keynote. Interesting plans for decorating the town, for acquainting the people with the fact that so many visitors will be among us, and also the best and most effective way of showing this aggregation the hospitality for which Glendale is noted, will be the theme of the Tuesday evening meeting.

All the homes of the Methodists and their friends are promising hospitality to the visitors during the three days they will be here. All the young people are boosting and declare the Convention shall put every League of the District in the front line trench, ready for the big drives they must make in their own sectors.

EASTER SERVICE OF KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

A special Easter service which will be unusual and of great interest will be held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in the First Methodist church of this city for Knights Templar. There will be special music by the choir of the church and an address by Rev. B. D. Snudden, entitled "Knights of the White Plume." This order sprang into being at the time of the Crusades, when some of the Knights who journeyed to rescue the tomb of the Saviour were quartered in the Temple at Jerusalem. It has been in existence most of the time since then and was the subject of persecution in the fourteenth century at the time of the Inquisition.

CONVENTION OPENS

ADVENTISTS OF WORLD MEET IN EXPOSITION AUDITORIUM IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 30.—Preliminary work for the World Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, which opened at the Exposition Auditorium Friday night, progressed rapidly, various committees being appointed and speakers scheduled. Delegates continue to arrive by thousands, and the large reception room is a very busy place. The members of the General Conference committee, numbering about 60 leading Seventh-day Adventists, and which corresponds to a board of bishops, the affairs of the entire denomination being in their hands, have been holding sessions daily.

Pastor I. H. Evans, of Washington, D. C., president of the North American Division Conference of the Adventists, delivered the opening address Friday night at 8 o'clock. Sabbath school will be held Saturday morning at 9:45, Mrs. L. Flora Plummer, of Washington, D. C., secretary of the Sabbath-school department of the denomination, being in charge, and Pastor B. E. Beddoe, of Glendale, Cal., superintendent. Pastor A. G. Daniells, president of the World Conference, will speak at 11 o'clock Saturday morning; and Pastor J. E. Fulton, of Shanghai, China, president of the Asiatic Division Conference, will speak at 3:30 Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Irvin J. Morgan, one of the noted pipe-organists of the world, who for seven years played the largest pipe-organ in the world in John Wanamaker's large store in Philadelphia, and who received the gold medal at the St. Louis World's Fair, in recognition of his skill, has arrived, and will probably give several concerts on the large organ at the Auditorium. Arrangements are being made for one of these to be given for the benefit of the Red Cross. The concerts will be free, however, and a silver offering will be taken for this organization of mercy.

The Wanamaker organ was built for the Chicago World's Fair. It was afterwards rebuilt and enlarged for Mr. Wanamaker under the direction of Mr. Morgan, and now contains 17,000 pipes.

Committees appointed yesterday were as follows: Seating of delegates, J. E. Jayne, of New York City, president Greater New York Conference; J. F. Piper, Seattle, president Western Washington Conference; A. R. Ogden, Nevada, Ia., president Iowa Conference; Music Committee, E. E. Andross, of Glendale, Cal., president Pacific Union Conference; Prof. Frederick Griggs, Washington, D. C.; Prof. W. I. Morey, Walla Walla, Wash.; B. E. Beddoe, Glendale, Cal.; Dr. Irwin J. Morgan.

GERALD MERRITT ADAMS

Gerald Merritt Adams, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Adams of 443 South Pacific avenue, died this morning about four o'clock, of pneumonia, at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. A. Lowinsky, mother of Mr. Adams, 238 South Central avenue. Had he lived until April 2d he would have been seven months old. The death of this little child is a great blow not only to his parents but to Mr. and Mrs. John McKenzie, mother and father of Mrs. Adams, and to Mrs. Lowinsky. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at 238 South Central avenue, Rev. Vernon H. Cowser officiating. All friends are invited, and there will be no further notice of the service. Interment will be made in Forest Lawn Memorial Park and Scovern, Letton & Frey will be in charge.

BEN SCOVELL COMING

Members of the Glendale Branch of the British Ambulance Society promise a very interesting meeting at the High School Auditorium next Thursday evening, April 4th, when Ben Scovell will lecture on "Dodging Shrapnel in France," and readings on the Great War. He was recently with the British, Canadian and U. S. A. forces in Belgium and France and is considered one of the most able of the orators who are being sent out by the British and American governments to arouse enthusiasm. He is said to be as effective as Billy Sunday in waking people up. The Chattanooga News reports that more than 3000 soldiers packed the Y. M. C. A. auditorium at Camp Oglethorpe to hear Mr. Scovell's readings and stories, and that he certainly knows the game of putting it "over the top."

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair to-night and Sunday. Westerly winds.

HAIG PRAISES CAVALRY

BRITISH FIELD MARSHAL REPORTS SUCCESSFUL COUNTER ATTACK AT MESIERES, SOUTH OF SOMME

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, March 30.—"We were pressed back at Demuin and Mesieres and south of the Somme, but at the latter village we counter attacked and took a number of prisoners," Gen. Haig reported. "Only local action has taken place north of the Somme the past week," the report stated.

Gen. Haig said, "Our cavalry has fought with great gallantry, both mounted and unmounted, and has repulsed the enemy with heavy losses in numerous engagements."

"At Demuin the enemy attempted to capture the village, but broke down after sharp fighting."

THE SITUATION ON THE WEST FRONT

THE GERMANS ARE DIGGING IN—ENEMY IS CONCENTRATING ON VERDUN—HAIG ADMITS RETIREMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
The Germans are digging in. This may be an admission by Hindenburg that for the present at least the enemy drive is ended. Further it may mean that the Germans in meeting the expected allied counter drives are trying to force Foch's army to renew trench warfare instead of open fighting.

William Philip Simms, United Press correspondent, reports the extension of the fighting zone further north at the site of St. Augustine, a mile north of Lens and opposite Loos.

Dispatches from Simms declare he believes the first phase of the central powers' big offensive is over, the second phase to begin as soon as Hindenburg's battered posts can be relieved and guns brought up. In the last forty-eight hours Hindenburg has fought to a standstill.

Heavy German concentration on Verdun is reported by the correspondent of an Austrian paper who personally visited that sector.

Germany military officials are intimating they may start another vast drive on Verdun.

Haig admitted slight reverses at Demuin and Mesieres.

FRENCH TROOPS CONSTANTLY REINFORCED

WAR OFFICE REPORTS VIOLENT RESUMPTION OF BATTLE OVER 40-KILOMETER FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, March 30.—The battle was resumed with fresh violence last night, progressing on a 40-kilometer front from Ecmoreuil to beyond Lassigny, the French war office reported today.

"Our troops are supported by a continually arriving reserve and are offering desperate resistance to the enemy's powerful assault," the report stated.

French bombing planes dropped 65 tons of explosives on German communication depots.

APPOINTMENT OF FOCH PLEASAS

APPOINTMENT OF INTER-ALLIED WAR HEAD BELIEVED DUE TO RECOMMENDATION OF PRESIDENT WILSON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, March 30.—That the appointment of Gen. Foch as Inter-allied generalissimo on the west front is the result of a direct urge by President Wilson applied in person by Secretary of War Baker, is believed here.

It is the conviction of American officers here that the central direction of all the Allied armies under Gen. Fochs means a policy of blow for blow.

American officials are delighted at Gen. Foch's elevation.

CHANGE IN RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA

ALLIES BECOME MORE FRIENDLY AS MOVEMENT FOR RE-DECLARATION OF WAR ON GERMANY GROWS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PETROGRAD, March 30.—A most significant change in the relations between Russia and the Allies has been pointed out.

The United States will enter business relations with Russia. Allied diplomats are in friendly intercourse with Russia and it is not believed the allies intend any aggressive plans against her.

At the same time the movement for a re-declaration of war on Germany is spreading.

FOOD AND MECHANICS

THE FACTORS THE GOVERNMENT IS RELYING UPON TO WIN THE WAR

The following letter which has just been received by the local exemption board and which discusses the man power of this country which is liable to military service and the places where it is most needed, indicates that the government is now convinced that the chief requirement in the army is first for artisans, men skilled in technical and mechanical pursuits, and second for farmers. The situation is discussed in all its bearings and the point is made clear that there will be no large draft at present for military service. The text of the letter follows
State of California
The Adjutant General's Office
Sacramento
1-12 March 26, 1918
Circular Letter No. 255.
To all Boards:
Subject: The Next Draft.

The following letter from the office of the Provost Marshal General is published for the information and guidance of all concerned:
"There has been a great deal of speculation in the press concerning what has been termed 'The date of the next draft.' Almost every week, announcements have been made, and these announcements, being mere guesses, have resulted in an uncertainty that has been unfortunate.

"As a matter of fact, the state of preparedness of the army to assimilate recruits varies from day to day and from week to week, and the most scientific manner of recruiting the forces will be to withdraw them from civil life as fast as they can be assimilated by the army and no faster. According to this plan, men will be inducted into the service in very small groups apportioned among the various states from week to week or from month to month as they are needed. In order to distribute the burden equally over the various states, however, it is necessary to make arithmetical computations of the share of each state and it is not practicable to make these computations for such small numbers. For mere bookkeeping facility, therefore, it is necessary to assume a total of considerable size and to apportion it among the several states as their immediate burden. This total is called a national quota and the various shares are called state quotas. The announcement of the quota does not mean that any such great number of men will be called to military service at once and, indeed, has no necessary relation to the date of call for the reason that a constantly changing situation causes changes in the number of men who are to be called to the colors.

"It is unwise to attempt to make a forecast of the number of men that will be called for immediate military service in advance of the development of the whole complex problem of supply and transportation. It is also unwise to make public announcements of specific figures which might serve the enemy as a precise basis for determining the plans for military participation of the Nation in this war. It is necessary, however, to compose the present unrest and uncertainty by some public announcement and for this reason the following is authoritatively stated.
"The next national quota will be announced and apportioned among the several states as soon as pending legislation authorizing a change in the basis of computation is enacted by Congress. This legislation has been passed by the Senate and favorably reported by the House Military Committee. The number that will be assumed as a basis for computation will be 800,000, which is well within the authorization of clause 4 of section 1 of the Selective Service Act of a second increment of 500,000 men, increased by the recruit training units authorized by clause 5 of said section 1, and by the special and technical troops authorized by section 2 of said act. It can not now be announced what the total number to be called to the colors each month will be, but it may be stated that no more men will be called than can be properly accommodated and promptly assimilated.

"There are difficulties confronting the Nation in the supply of labor appurtenant to agriculture. Class 1, from which new levies are to be withdrawn, will contain many more men than are at present required for the Army. It would be a most unscientific and fatuous step if the men in Class 1 were called indiscriminately without regard to the labor situation in agriculture. Therefore, the Local Boards will be directed to fill their quotas in the order of liability of men in Class 1 as determined by

BOOSTERS AT WORK

CAMPAIGN IS ON TO MAKE RED CROSS SHOP REAL SOURCE OF REVENUE

As announced in the columns of this paper some time ago, an aggressive campaign has started to boost the sales of the Red Cross Shop at 318 Brand boulevard, of which Miss Maybelle Douglas is chairman and Mrs. Jack Boettner director. Contributions this week to the new flower and plant department which has sales on Friday, have been generous and they have added considerably to the exchequer. Next Saturday and probably every Saturday hereafter, there will be a sale of lemons, beans and other garden produce, and contributions of potatoes, onions, carrots, pie plant, or any vegetables or fruits will be acceptable; hen fruit in the shape of eggs will not be rejected.

Preparations for the Literature Sale, which is to take place about the middle of April, have begun. Beautiful hand-painted covers, which are works of art, are being designed and made by talented boys and girls of our public schools for this sale, which will consist of booklets of the choicest current literature. There will be collections of pertinent articles on the war which have just been published, collections of war poems, which are in great demand just now, stories by our most popular authors, such as Mary Roberts Rinehart. These should sell like hot cakes. They will not only have an immediate value but will be beautiful war-time souvenirs which it will be worth while to keep and which in after years may command a high price because they are unique and individual. All the returns from this sale will go to the Red Cross Fund and it will be a saving of literature which otherwise would be ground up by the paper mills.

Beautiful covers were made yesterday by boys and girls who worked at the shop under directions of Miss Douglas, the list of such workers including Elizabeth Bullard, Margaret Sharpe, Agnes Brown and Agnes Caldwell of the High School, Francis and Harold Betz of the sixth and seventh grades, and Bertha Brown of the fifth grade.

As stated above, the shop will be glad to sell flowers and will be grateful for contributions. Mrs. G. W. Henderson has charge of this department.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

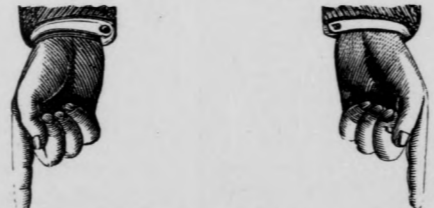

Two ladies who are warm friends and who chance to have birthdays on March 28th, Mrs. B. P. Jodon of South Jackson street and Mrs. J. K. Crawford of 151 Cedar street, were delightfully surprised Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hutton, 900 Colorado boulevard, by about fifty members of the Christian Church. The ladies had been doing Red Cross work at the church and the two celebrants were summoned to Mrs. Hutton's home for a committee meeting, where they were duly surprised in accordance with the program arranged. Mrs. Jodon is president of the Ladies' Aid Society and held that office when the church was organized ten years ago, and Mrs. Crawford was president of the Missionary Society at that time. An exceedingly pleasant afternoon was spent, as the pastor, Rev. Clifford Cole, made an entertaining and appropriate speech, informal talks were made by other guests, there were musical numbers and recitations and delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake.

HIGH SCHOOL P.-T. A.

Mrs. Irene J. McReynolds, the Chairman of Education of the High School P.-T. A., has received a most gracious reply from Edgar H. McMath, consenting to speak before the Association at its regular meeting Monday evening, April 1st, at 8 o'clock, in Glendale Union High School. His subject will be "The Student and the War." Emphasis will be placed on the reconstruction problems after the war. This will be an unusual opportunity to hear a thoroughly informed educator on a subject of universal interest, and officials who have the matter in charge hope that all members and friends of the Association will attend.

THE SCHOOL ELECTION

A very light vote was polled at the school elections in this city Friday. Dr. A. L. Bryant and Hartley Shaw were candidates for re-election on the High School Board, and were elected without opposition. The only candidate for the Glendale City Schools was John Todd, incumbent, and he too was elected without opposition.

CARRY ON!

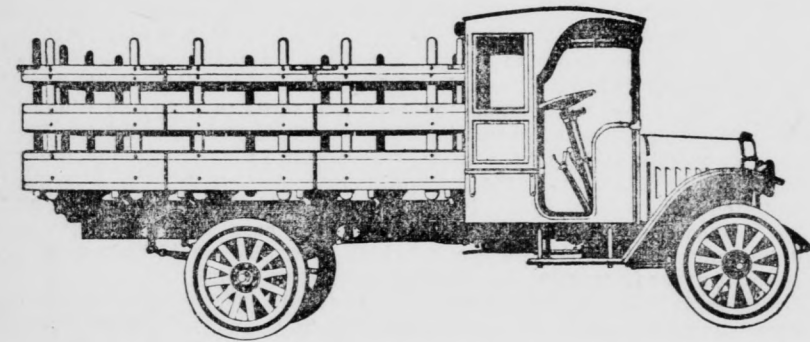

(By O. L. K.)

The third Liberty Loan Drive is at hand, and all who can must get into the fray. Our boys, mine and yours, are facing the atrocious Hun, who, flushed with victory over a wide front, is claiming the world as his. As our boys interpose their sturdy forms like adamant against this insolent drive, so we at home can with our dollars rear an equally effective barrier against the foe. If they can sacrifice their lives, cannot we sacrifice our paltry money? Let luxuries be banned and comfort sacrificed that the world be made safe for free peoples to live in. So let each one do his best, then his more than best, and then still more. This awful world-crisis demands not only men, better men, best men, but super-men—and women, too. But woman's supreme effort, God bless her, we always take for granted.

And you who can give abundantly, moderately, or only meagerly, in joyous sacrifice, remember those who are suffering keenest anguish because they can give nothing at all. Burdened with years or cut off from employment, they can but look on helplessly while others give. But let us all take to heart that ages-old admonition, "Stand fast. Quit ye like men. Be of good courage." Our God still reigns in the heavens and right shall yet prevail.

There are now more than 6600 Maxwell trucks in use. They will do everything a 5-ton truck will do except haul 5 tons at one load.

Big trucks spend more gas hauling themselves than the Maxwell uses at peak load.

TORRENS TITLES

ANSWERS MR. LILLY'S LETTER AND MAKES PLEA FOR TORRENS TITLE SYSTEM

Editor of the Glendale Evening News:

I was surprised to see the attack against the Torrens Title System of J. F. Lilly, because the people have been outraged and oppressed by the old style title companies so long that nowadays there is hardly one person in a hundred who will rush to their defense or who will seek to perpetuate their tyranny.

Mr. Lilly first apologizes with the statement that "I hold no brief for the title companies." Then he clumsily follows the ideas and uses almost the very words of the brief furnished by the title companies' attorneys against the Torrens Law. The people of Glendale well know that he is not an attorney.

Let us take up Mr. Lilly's objections one at a time. He first says that if a property has been placed under the Torrens system it is impossible to get it back under the old system. If by this he means that it is impossible to get an old style certificate of title for such a property his statement is not only false, but willfully false, because I have cited Mr. Lilly specific instances where the title companies have written old style certificates on registered property. If he means by the above statement that when property is once registered under the Torrens System you can not again have it covered with clouds and irregularities, as under the old system, then his statement is correct and true. Nobody with registered property in this state has ever wanted it back under the old system. What the Torrens System does is to quiet the title against all clouds and adverse claims of whatsoever nature. This is done by a decree of the Superior Court. Who would want this decree set aside?

He next says, "Judging from the inquiries which come to me, many people" are taking advantage of the Torrens Law. Even Mr. Lilly is bound to admit this fact, for one can not ask the people on the streets of Glendale their opinion in regard to this matter without finding that our citizens are practically unanimous in favor of Torrens Titles. That is the reason that in almost every real estate deal that has occurred in Glendale in recent weeks the purchaser has demanded a Torrens Title Certificate. That is the reason that there are so many people who will not lend money now on any other kind of certificates. The firm Crail & Crail, Union Oil Bldg., Los Angeles advertised in Sunday's papers that it had fifty thousand dollars on hand to loan on property under the Torrens System.

Mr. Lilly next advises that people wait until various questions in the law have been passed upon. Does he know that these questions have been passed upon; that the law has been declared constitutional on every question raised against it by the Supreme Court of the State of California, in the case of Robinson v. Kerrigan, 151 Cal. Reports, pages 49-50, and again by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of American Land Co. v. Zeiss, 219 U. S. Reports, page 47, and in the case of Tyler v. Judges of the Court of Registration, 179 U. S. Reports, page 405?

Mr. Lilly's application of the "Blue Sky Law" should be turned against himself. The exposure by Judge York of the Superior Court before the Board of Supervisors, that property valued at between twenty million and thirty million dollars is involved in certain fraudulent deeds and old style title certificates perpetuated by real estate agents and others, has unduly affected a certain class of real estate agents, while other real estate agents are glad the exposure has been made, and this whole system was discovered through the benefits of the Torrens Title System.

Mr. Lilly makes another false statement when he says, "A fraction of one per cent of the fees charged for registration is set aside in a fund to guarantee such certificates. The fact is that the insurance fund is not based on the fee charged for registration but on the assessed value of the property and is hundreds of times as big as Mr. Lilly would indicate. I do not know why Mr. Lilly would attempt to deceive in this matter. The state insurance fund is ten times as big as experience has shown is necessary in other states where the Torrens Law is used, and it is almost one hundred times as big in proportion as the fund created by the title companies.

But the fact is that a holder of a Torrens Title certificate does not need the state insurance fund to protect him. He is protected by a decree of our State Court, which is backed up by all the power and majesty of the state of California. If some other person is injured through the Torrens Law, he may get the advantage of the insurance fund.
 Mr. Lilly says, "If the State really wants to get back of these titles, let the legislature provide a fund of not less than one-half a million dollars as evidence of good faith with the people." This statement is certainly ridiculous. The State of California doesn't have to prove its good faith to the people. The State of California is a government of the people, by the people and for the people. It backs up its Torrens Title Certificates

MRS. SALYER'S LECTURE

The Towards Democracy Club at its next meeting, Sunday, March 31, at 7:45 p. m., will be addressed by Mrs. Martha Y. Salyer. To those who have heard Mrs. Salyer, it is not necessary to say that a rare treat is in store for those who attend, her subject being "The Trials and Tribulations of a New Idea on Entering This World." The address abounds in good thought, treated in such a manner as to leave not a dull moment from start to finish. Questions from the audience follow.

These meetings are held every Sunday night at the residence of Rev. N. J. Wright, southeast corner of Colorado and Central. No silver offering and no collection. Extra seats are provided for this occasion and you and your friends are abundantly welcome. Sunday, 7:45 p. m., Colorado and Central.

with a decree of the State Court and places behind its courts the sheriffs and their deputies, and, if necessary, the State militia. The State of California backs up the decrees of its courts with all its power and majesty and the sovereignty which the people give it. Why not ask the State of California to back the other decrees of its courts with a half million dollars to show its good faith? When a woman gets a divorce from a drunkard or an adulterer does she ask the State of California to back up the decree with a half million dollars? Mr. Lilly says that "In five or ten years the state insurance fund will probably be large enough to afford real protection." This one admission answers his whole contention, for a claim against the state insurance fund is good until it is paid, and, if it is not paid before, it will be paid at that time with legal interest.

Mr. Lilly says that some of us are misleading the people by representing that the old-style certificates of title are not good after two years. I say that the title companies' certificates not only are not good after two years but they are not good now, as the title companies state at the top of nine-tenths of them that they are made at the request of some other person than the owner, and then they claim that the owner has no claim against the title company when he loses his property. Furthermore, the old-style title certificates merely say "as appears of record" the title is so and so, whereas nine-tenths of the trouble with titles is not on the records at all. In other words, the old-style certificates are not certificates of title at all but are merely guarantees of what appears of record. Torrens Title Certificates state clearly and distinctly who owns the property.

The Torrens Title System is not an experiment; it is used in seventeen states of this Union and by every country which speaks the English language, and it is here to stay. It will save the people of this county millions of dollars each year, and it is one of the people's laws which the people are especially interested in taking advantage of.

 spending the week-end at Glenwood Mission Inn at Riverside and will motor up Mt. Rubidoux for the Easter sunrise service.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilson are the very happy parents of a nine-pound girl who was born Friday afternoon at the home of her grandmother, Mrs.
 Clara Moore, of 1504 West Fifth St.
 She has been named Eleanor Ruth.
 Mother and child are doing well.

Mrs. Etta L. Marsh of 113 Central avenue (Tropic District), who was hurt recently while driving on Brand boulevard and run into by an automobile, is so far recovered from her bruises that she is able to be about the house and perform her accustomed duties.

J. J. Burk of Blanche avenue has a contract to build for Mrs. E. B.
 Hall on Halstead street a six-room plastered house at a cost of about $2300. It will have a shake exterior, composition roof, Oregon trim inside and pressed brick mantel. There will also be a garage to match the house.

Miss Lois Candee, well known in this city and a member of the "Lucky Thirteen," whistled Thursday night at the Hotel Raymond in Pasadena in the whistling chorus from the Artistic School of Whistling of Los Angeles. They will entertain the guests again on Sunday, when Melba will sing.

The choir of the Tropic Methodist Church will unite with the Normandie avenue Methodist Church in giving the Easter cantata, "The Triumph," at the Normandie church Sunday evening. Last Sunday the Normandie choir came to Glendale to join in giving the cantata at the Tropic M. E. church.

Merrill Burk, son of Mr. and Mrs.
 J. J. Burk of 220 Blanche avenue, who is a member of the Regimental Band of the Coast Artillery at Fort MacArthur, blew in from San Pedro this (Saturday) morning to spend the day with his parents. He reports everything normal in camp and no special news from the soldier boys.

The choir of the First Methodist Church, which is under the leadership of Miss Isabelle Isgrig, has become a vested choir. It will appear in its vestment, a black gown over a white stole, at the morning service on Easter Sunday. The choir will have a busy day as it is to give a cantata in the evening and special music in the afternoon at the service for the Knight Templars at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Clifford East and daughter Katherine, who have been spending the winter in Glendale, left this morning for their home in Indiana.
 I. N. East and wife accompanied them as far as Exeter, California, where they will visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carroll. Mrs. East and her daughter leave Glendale very reluctantly, but hope to return in the near future.

The Misses Snell of 116 East Eu-lalia street, Miss Ruth Rider, and Ralph Skinner, a student at Occidental College who has just passed an examination for interpreters in the war zone and who is awaiting orders, went to San Pedro Friday afternoon to see Paul Rider, who is in the Y. M. C. A. service there. They remained for the evening to attend a musical entertainment for the sailors.

Mrs. A. P. Offutt of 1100½ Broadway entertained informally from 2 to 5 Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. M. L. Smith, who has recently sold her interests in the Vert Mont, and who is leaving Glendale. Ladies of the neighborhood who know Mrs.
 Smith well were guests and a very delightful afternoon was spent. Mrs.
 Smith has been a resident of this city for some time and will be missed.

A frolic in the snow was enjoyed by a party of Glendale young people Thursday when Wilbur Lee, Margaret Lusby, Waunita Emery and Eugene Imler, chaperoned by Mrs. Harold Salisbury, motored to Mount San Antonio (Baldy). They left early enough to have breakfast in the mountains and remained late enough for two other meals. They made snow men and manufactured other works of art and had a jolly time.
 The air, they declare, was deliciously warm in spite of the snow. They returned the same evening.

A DRIVE
 for funds to help the starving Armenians and Syrians will be made in Glendale next week.
 The sufferings of the Belgians and Servians are not to be compared to that of these poor unfortunates who inhabit the countries in which the Saviour, Paul, and all the other Bible characters lived and wrought.
 Your heart must go out to them and you are only waiting for a chance to help them, even if you can give very little.
 Don't you rejoice every day that your own "little flock" has plenty to eat and all the blessings which come to them?
 But are you neglecting to insure a continuance of their comfort if something should happen to you? In other words, hadn't you better talk to me about an income policy? Don't neglect it—ninety per cent of men are under-insured.

 the national drawing, except that, where it is shown that a registrant is completely and assiduously engaged in the planting, cultivation or reaping of a crop, his call to the colors shall be deferred to the foot of the quota of his board as long as he continues to be so engaged. Whenever any registrant, whose call to the colors has been deferred by reason of his engagement in agriculture, is shown to have been idle on the farm on which he is engaged or to have trifled with the deferment that has been accorded him, the boards will forthwith induct him into military service if his order number has been reached in the meantime. The effect of this expedient is to grant furloughs from service prior to actual call to the colors to the men so greatly needed in the production of this year's crops.

"This is not, however, the only expedient that is to be adopted to conserve the supply of labor appurtenant to agriculture and to mobilize all means for increasing the harvest for the agricultural season of 1918.
 There is now pending before Congress a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to grant furloughs, with or without pay, to men in the Army to enable them to engage in industrial and agricultural pursuits. The purpose of this bill is to relieve serious situations in particular instances in which men who are the main stay of farms have been inducted into the service either through voluntary enlistment or selection and whose service during the present emergency in agriculture are needed. These furloughs will be granted after consideration of the circumstances of the individual case in which they arise and when the military situation is such that they can be granted without too great disruption and disorganization of the Army or of any particular organization of the Army.
 "As to further means to protect agriculture a new regulation has been promulgated authorizing agricultural students in their senior year in land grant colleges to enlist in the Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Quartermaster's Department provided their class standing is such as to place them in the upper third of their class. By this means it will be possible to defer the draft call of such young men in order to enable them to perfect themselves as agriculturists and thereafter to protect them in such services as it may seem that they should perform in the best interests of the Nation.

"The whole industrial and agricultural situation is being subjected to a very comprehensive study in order to discover any means that may be taken to protect and augment the labor supply appurtenant to industry and agriculture without precluding the prompt and orderly progress of our military plans. It is confidently believed that great progress can be made along this line and that more effective measures can be put into operation to attain the desired end.

"It must be emphasized that this is a war of mechanics. The need of the several armed forces for men highly skilled in technical and mechanical pursuits is greater than in any former war. Yet this need for specially skilled men finds the nation under a necessity for increasing its production in almost every line of industry. Withdrawals of men from industry must be made and these withdrawals must take men who might otherwise be deferred on account of their special qualifications and skill. The necessary numbers of such skilled men will be obtained in one of three ways. First, men already in the military service who have such special skill will be taken from the line regiments and assigned to the staff organizations and departments where their skill is needed.
 Second, men classified by the Selection Boards, even though they may have been placed in a deferred classification, will be withdrawn with great care and particularity from the industries of the Nation for special service in staff corps and departments. Third, young men of draft age with certain educational qualifications will be inducted into the service and sent to universities, colleges, and technical and secondary schools to be instructed in technical arts until they have acquired such proficiency as will justify their assignment to the special units that are being organized in considerable numbers.

"In accordance with this plan, the Provost Marshal General has already called upon the states for some 10,- 000 skilled artisans and will shortly call upon the states for 10,000 young men, graduates of grammar schools, who will be sent before the first of April to various technical and other schools throughout the United States for a two months' course of training. Regularly thereafter, an increasing stream of selected men will be sent through educational and other training institutions for this purpose.
 "To sum up, it may be said that there will be no sudden withdrawal of great numbers of men from the ranks of industry and agriculture during the coming summer but that men will be drawn in relatively small groups throughout the year in such a way as to create the least possible interference with industry and agriculture. Men in deferred classes as well as men in Class 1 will be selected in small numbers either on account of their special technical qualifications or for the purpose of sending them to schools where they will

The Monarch Company, 421 So. Brand Blvd.
 Gentlemen:—
 I am leaving a Plain Tread Goodyear Fabric Tire with you for your collection. This was one of the original tires on my 7-passenger Velie car, and has completed 19,500 miles without a blowout, after over two years continuous service.
 A companion to this tire is doing still better, having passed 22,000 and is still running. I will also let you have this one when I am through with it.
 (Signed) A. W. BEACH.

We often wonder why some succeed while others fail. The reason is the same with regard to tires as with other things: START

see a little river of the underworld hurrying, hurrying away to again hide itself. We stoop down and listen and seem to hear it say: I come from far up in the Blue Ridge Mountains. I have just leaped down into a secret inter-mountain pool or lake, and in hurrying down these rapids I come to this window of the mountain to say peek-a-boo to the stream below, and then I'll hurry on over these ripples just below the window and then like a hydroplane I soar off into a great sub-mountain sea; but in this flight I spread out into mists, for the sea is very far below.

Of course we were not sure that is just what this peek-a-boo river said, but that is what we thought we heard as we listened at the little cave, the mountain window by the side of the trail.

We drink of its water and having a pleasant memory of peek-a-boo river we turn again to the trail down the valley, hoping it will lead us homeward.

The snow is coming faster and we hasten along. The mountains are steeper and thicker the forest as we descend. We come to a still thicker grove of arbor vita trees, in entering which the fast-waning day impresses us and night is drawing its mantle closer. We push on more energetically as the snow deepens. We pass through the grove and soon come to an entrance to what may be a cave. This is indeed a sheltered spot, and we explore further within. It is not like a natural cave, but appears to have been partly dug under the rocky cliff and waste thrown out the mouth of the entrance so as to form a semi-barricade and protection. But within it was dark and only then did I discover in one of man's numerous pockets a small electric battery lamp, which enabled us to explore sufficiently to determine this shelter was much warmer than outside, was dry and well protected from winter's breeze and storm. So we decided to camp there for the night, having become suspicious of the valley and trail leading whither we would go.

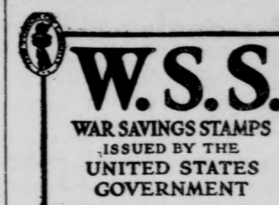

Later I went to the mouth of our rock-bound shelter and found the storm had changed to rain, but little cared we back within the cavern, be it cave or deserted mine of some sort. In the morning it was much colder, a strong crust on the snow, induced by cold succeeding rain, and we came forth from our lair firm in purpose to follow down our chosen valley. Its sides grew steeper, the stream hurried faster, the snow-laden boughs seemed closer, and pine cones with their icy coating came sliding into our trail.

We seem to come out from among the trees and face a wall of rock. The valley has rapidly narrowed and in surveying our surroundings there appears only this solid wall of black-blue limestone rock. The valley has come to an abrupt end. At no visible point is there a turn or way out of this pocket in the mountains. We advance a few steps and again look about for a way out. Then we stop to ponder our situation. All this long, long way down the valley and then to turn back? No, there must be a way. Where does the little river get out? Ah, it may, like peek-a-boo river, dive under these mountains. We go forward a few more steps. A bright spot on the black rock attracts our attention. It is like sunlight shining on the mountain, but where could it come from? Only the tops of the mountain sides show the brightness of direct rays. We advance again, the bright spot grows in extent. We hasten a few more steps, a marvel comes into view. There is a hole in the solid rocky wall through which the sunlight is streaming in all its glory. We quicken our steps along the trail, scarcely heeding where we go. Our hearts and minds are beating fast in expectancy, as with eyes fixed upon the sunlit spot, the fast-increasing size of the opening through which the sunshine streams, till with amazement we pause in the presence of one of the matchless wonders of the world, The Natural Rock Bridge, in Virginia.

Unparalleled in height, in span or strength, it stands a giant model of the Supreme Architect's construction. How did it happen? What was its cause? are queries unanswered. As a model of structural strength it is unsurpassed in shapely proportion, style and grace of artful beauty.

Where we paused, in ages past, a Moses might have stood and inspecting carefully to discover a vulnerable point in this rock-bound buttress of the valley, chose the solid wall, and with the faith that moves mountains, smote the barrier of stone and cried, "Open a gateway to Liberty."

Hardly a seam in this black limestone, just a solid, buttressed arched bridge, 215 feet high with a span of 90 feet and a width of about 300 feet. From the water to the top of the arch 160 feet, with 55 feet in the arch.

We wonder at its perfection from any viewpoint. Its proportion, its massiveness, its solidity as being without seam or crevice, its beauty of outline in widening as it arises from the valley bed, then closing in as it ascends to form the arch.

We advance a few steps at a time, then pause to gaze upward; then another advance, with a pause to wonder and ponder at its smoothness of finish, and yet without mark of chisel or mawl, nor creased by erosion. A truly monumental wonder of nature's own handiwork.

We pass beneath, only to again pause in renewed expressions of pleasure as we turn to view the sparkling beauty of the innumerable number of icicles glistening in the bright sunshine from every point or edge of rock, or twig of tree, and beneath were the encrusted snow capped stones in the little river, like a company of white-shelled turtles wading here and there in the shallow rapids.

And this is the story of our winter's picnic day, the end of the valley that in such majestic way burst forth in all the glory of a winter's morning clad in sparkling crystals to join the wider valleys leading to the River James.
