SENATOR BOSTOCK IS LEADER FOR LIBERALS

Chosen Unanimously Yesterday to Succeed the Late Sir George Ross

SENATE INQUIRES INTO ACTIONS OF COCHRANE

Cloran Says Senate and Country Have No Confidence in Railway Minister

SHOULD BE RECALLED BY CABLE AND DISCIPLINED

Ottawa, March 20.—At a meeting of the Liberal members of the senate yesterday afternoon Senator Bostock, of Kamloops, B. C., was chosen leader of the opposition forces, to succeed the late Sir George Ross. The choice was unanimous.

In the upper house yesterday afternoon Senator Choquette read a press report stating that Hon. Frank Cochrane had been among those who recently attended a function in London, at which Sir Edward Carson was presented with an infantry fighting sword. Senator Choquette said he was surprised to learn that a member of the Canadian government had gone to a demonstration against the home rule proposals of the British government. Especially was he surprised when it was reported that Hon. Mr. Cochrane was sick.

Senator Choquette asked if the Canadian government was against home rule and if Hon. Mr. Cochrane was in England representing that view for the government. He wanted to know if the government favored the views of those who proposed to fight against the British constitution. Senator Choquette said that Canadians were generally loyal and would be displeased with their minister who had gone to England and associated himself with those who proposed to fight against the king.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY NOT ASKING ASSISTANCE

Statement Issued From Head Office Explains Position in Regard to Government.

Montreal, March 20.—The following statement was issued from the general offices of the Grand Trunk Railway company this morning: "The reports which have appeared in the papers during the last twenty-four hours that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company was asking for further assistance from the government are not correct. The government in 1905, when the Grand Trunk Pacific transcontinental contract was entered into, among other things agreed to guarantee the company's bonds for $13,000,000 on the prairie section, and 75 per cent. of the cost of the mountain section, and in 1905 took powers by act of parliament to guarantee $4,000,000 for that purpose. This, it is found, is not sufficient to complete the line, and we have suggested to the government the advisability of taking further powers at the present session to enable them to carry out their part of the contract.

RUMORS OF ELECTION IN ONTARIO CAPITAL

Toronto, Ont., March 20.—The Conservatives of the legislature held a caucus this morning at which the feature of discussion was the testimony which is to be presented to Sir James Whitney. A committee was appointed to take charge of the affair.

BECK DISCLOSES GRAFT HERALD POINTS SCANDAL FORGERY IN RECIPROCITY

Sensation Follows Publication of Exposure in Civic Matters at Montreal—Graham's Paper Charges Borden Government—Tactics Against Reciprocity to Be Shown

Montreal, March 20.—"Echoes of the Quebec Graft Enquiry," is the way Edward Beck introduces his city hall graft charges in "Beck's Weekly," just out to-day. Mr. Beck was the writer of the now famous articles in the Montreal Mail which resulted in the resignation of three members of the Quebec legislature.

MUTUAL BETTING HAS SUPPORT IN GERMANY

Bookmakers to Be Taxed and Winners at Races Will Give Portion to Government.

Berlin, March 20.—The German government's measure legalizing betting on horse races through licensed bookmakers was published here to-day. The bill which had been long heralded, aims at combatting handbooks and other illicit forms of betting which have flourished greatly under the existing law restricting betting to the official highly taxed pari-mutuels. The measure also is intended to discourage betting among the lower and middle classes and to augment government revenues by taking the immense sums now illegally wagered.

The percentage to be taken by the government and the racetrack owners from the takings of the pari-mutuels is reduced by the new measure from 16 1/2 to 12 per cent in order to popularize machine betting while money but through bookmakers is to be subjected to a general tax of 6 per cent. Winners moreover, are to be further taxed on graduated scale ranging from six to twenty per cent, according to the odds.

VILLA CONTINUES BLOCK ON ALL NEWS DESPATCHES

Juarez, Mex., March 20.—No news was received here to-day to indicate that General Villa's forces had done more than to prepare for the impending assault on Torreon. Correspondents at the front still were unable apparently to pierce the ironclad embargo against press despatches.

ASKING IMPEACHMENT OF JAPANESE CABINET

Tokio, March 20.—The impeachment of the Japanese cabinet on account of the recent naval scandals in connection with the receipt of illicit commissions by naval officers was asked to-day in an address to the throne introduced in the chamber of deputies by the opposition parties. The address declares that the scandals are a stain on the newly-begun reign of the emperor, and are harmful to the prestige of the Japanese navy, both at home and abroad.

DUNREA TOWN HALL AND BUSINESS BLOCKS LOST

Dunree, Man., March 20.—The entire business section of Dunree was destroyed by fire which started at 4 o'clock this morning in the town hall, causing damage to property to the extent of $30,000. The insurance on property destroyed is about $15,000.

Paris, March 20.—The funeral of Gaston Calmette, victim of Mme. Caillaux, took place to-day in the church of St. Francois des Sales, in the northwestern district of Paris, and within a block of the residence of his assassin.

GUGGENHEIMS TO BUY NAVIGATION COMPANY

San Francisco, March 20.—Through the White Pass & Yukon Route, the Guggenheim brothers, who already are interested heavily in Alaska property, are understood to be negotiating for control of the Northern Navigation Company, which owns a fleet of thirty steamers, barges and terminal properties, valued at approximately $2,000,000.

The only announcement I care to make," said President Leon Stoss, of the Northern, "is that we are in negotiation with the White Pass & Yukon people and expect to enter into an arrangement with them, which will be announced at the proper time."

FOUR THOUSAND MEN AT PORTSMOUTH STRIKE

Portsmouth, Ohio, March 20.—After an all-night session, the joint council of the United Shoe Workers of America called a strike to-day in the factories operated by the Selby, Drew and Excelsior companies in this city. Approximately 4,000 employees are affected.

TWELVE THOUSAND FEET UP WITH PASSENGERS

Johannsthal, Germany, March 20.—An altitude record of 12,223 feet for a flight with three passengers was established to-day by Robert Tholen, a German aviator. The previous record for a flight in an aeroplane carrying three passengers was held by the French aviator Garas, who on March 2 attained an altitude of 10,890 feet at Charras.

Carson Given Welcome at Belfast Commons Rejects Vote of Censure

SIR EDWARD CARSON, M. P.

Carson Urges Followers to Remain Calm Garrisons Strengthened; Warships Arrive

Belfast, March 20.—Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Unionists of Ulster, made a dramatic entry into the capital of the province to-day. His purpose in coming was to consult with other Ulster Unionist leaders and with the commanders of the Ulster volunteer forces.

The great activity displayed at Unionist headquarters and in the army barracks has caused considerable excitement among the people of Belfast, who for days have been expecting confidently some decisive movement on the part of the Unionist chiefs or the government.

SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN BEATEN BY ONE VOTE

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The senate voted down 35 to 34, late to-day, the Ashurst resolution to provide for a constitutional amendment extending suffrage to women.

New York, March 20.—With the exception of Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blotch, president of the Women's Political Union, the leaders of the organizations engaged in the campaign to enfranchise women, said to-day the vote on the constitutional amendment in the senate at Washington was just what they had expected.

WITNESS TESTIFIES WHO SAW ARNOLD MURDERED

Morden, Man., March 20.—Jacob Bergen called as witness this morning in the trial of J. Kratchenko for murder, told the court that on the morning of the murder he saw a man wearing a black overcoat with the collar upturned come from the bank, followed a few feet after by Mr. Arnold. He did not hear either call out, the first man walking very fast, turned off the sidewalk, and Mr. Arnold followed.

ARCHAEOLOGY AUTHORITY ADOLF BANDELIER DEAD

Asquith Government Has Majority of Ninety-Three on Bonar Law's Motion

SECOND READING OF
BILL ON MARCH 30

Unionist Press Gives Reason for Foregoing Demand for General Election

London, March 20.—The vote of censure on the British government, moved in the House of Commons yesterday by Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, was rejected by 345 to 252. The government majority of 83 was about three above the normal majority, but several members of all parties were absent through illness. Home rule will probably next come before the commons on Monday, March 30, for its second reading.

PLEDGES FROM RECKLESS LIPS NOW CAUSE ANXIETY

Among Unionist papers, the Daily Telegraph urges that this shows a profound change in the attitude of the opposition because they have set aside their demand for a general election. "They are ready to yield such points now," says the Telegraph, "because the nation is at this moment in the very shadow of civil war."

CHEQUE FOR EDMONTON INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

Sum of $148,000 in Subscriptions to Be Devoted to Exploitation of Gas Fields.

Edmonton, March 20.—J. D. McArthur, who is building the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Columbia railway and the A. & G. W., to-day made a present of a cheque for $5,000, adding in an accompanying letter that he would give an additional $15,000 if the association continued in 1915 the excellent work it is now doing.

GROUND OPENED AND SWALLOWED TWO MEN

Pottsville, Pa., March 20.—The earth opened and swallowed two miners and a work shanty on the mountainside at Achley Run colliery at Shenandoah to-day and although large forces of men have been put to work both inside of the mines and on the surface, no trace of the men or building can be found. They may have dropped a distance of 500 feet or any portion of it and it may require weeks to learn their fate.

UNEMPLOYED ARMY IS CAMPED ON ITS ACRE

Sacramento, Cal., March 20.—The army of about 200 unemployed men camped on its "home" of an acre in North Sacramento is still the monarch of all it surveys, and apparently will so continue for some time. The members are behaving themselves but their presence is frightening the residents of that section. No steps were taken to-day by the authorities to force the "army" away.

AFRICAN COUNCIL IS PROPOSED BY BISHOP

Solution of Kikiyu Incident as Suggested is Approved by Standard

Lo, March 20.—The Kikiyu controversy, arising out of the charges of heresy, referred by the Bishop of Zanzibar to the Bishop of Uganda and the Church of England in two, and which was referred to by the Archbishop of Canterbury to the council of bishops was revived yesterday by the Bishop of Zanzibar, who publishes the details of his own statement to secure unity in the East African mission field.

The Bishop of Zanzibar objected to the scheme of federation proposed by the Bishop of Uganda, because he believed that a union of Episcopalians and no-Episcopalians involved a sacrifice of the fundamental principles of the church's order and discipline. His present scheme, designed to meet the most pressing need of unity in a common mission field, avoids the difficulties consequent from the ministerial and sacramental differences.

He proposes to establish an African mission council wherein the Episcopalians and the non-Episcopalians shall be equally represented. African representatives being included, and he proposes a special prayer service which shall be used when one denomination visits another.

The Standard, which is regarded as one of the mouthpieces of the Church of England, says that it will be found that while not desisting from his opposition to a common ministerial and sacramental policy, the Bishop of Zanzibar has set out a scheme which ought to satisfy all legitimate desires for common action under the present circumstances.

OBREGON AT MAZATLAN VILLA AFTER TORREON

Joint Armies Would Then Attack Strategic City of Guadalajara

Juarez, Mex., March 20.—A simultaneous attack on Torreon and Mazatlan are now predicted in advices received here. It was said that while General Villa's rebel army was moving against Torreon, forces under General Alvaro Obregon would assault Mazatlan. Obregon was reported to be moving 12,000 troops against the Pacific coast port. This was said to be part of a general plan for an aggressive movement against all federal forces in Northern Mexico.

The fall of Mazatlan would mean control of the west coast district, while Torreon is the railroad centre of Central Mexico, the capture of which would threaten the capital. After the capture of these two points both armies would move against Guadalajara, which is the strategic key to the interior.

According to the plans, Guaymas will be ignored in the hope that the California gulf port will fall with the capture of Mazatlan.

The ban on news from the interior below this point remained firm to-day. Indirect information, however, indicated that there had been no fighting of consequence the last few days.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—While no official word came to the White House concerning the reported purpose of General Huerta to reopen parleys with the United States by sending his minister of foreign affairs, Jose Rojas, to Vera Cruz to confer with John Lind, administration officials indicated a willingness to listen to any new proposals for a peaceful settlement. They seemed to attach most importance at this time to the outcome of the impending battle at Torreon, which is expected to mark a critical turn in the strength and prestige of the contending factions.

"War with Mexico means a war of exhaustion. The moment our troops pass the frontier the Mexicans will drop their quarrel and make common cause against the hated 'gringos,'" said Representative Hulings, of Pennsylvania, Progressive, to-day, in the house. He declared it was the duty of congressmen to stand shoulder to shoulder in the Mexican situation, and that he believed order would never be restored in Mexico save by a strong man supported by a force superior to the factions now harassing the country, that there was no such force in Mexico.

"I believe the time must come if it has not already arrived," he added, "when it will be imperative duty of this government to announce to the world that present conditions in Mexico must cease, and that unless by a given time the Mexicans themselves shall have made pacific arrangements and cease hostilities, the United States in the interest of humanity will undertake to restore peace and good order."

MRS. FRANK DOAN IS KILLED BY HER SON

Family Tragedy Occurs at Pitt Meadows; Relative of Premier is Shot.

New Westminster, March 20.—Mrs. Frank Doan, wife of the secretary of the Co-operative Investment company of this city, and a near relative of Premier Sir Richard McBride, was shot and killed by a shotgun in the hands of her 9-year-old son yesterday afternoon. The family were at Pitt Meadows, where Mr. Doan was engaged in superintending the subdivision of land, when the fatality occurred.

Mrs. Doan had been away from the cabin where they were living, and during her absence the little boy picked up the shotgun and, as his mother entered the door, he pointed it at her and pulled the trigger. The gun exploded and the full charge of birdshot entered Mrs. Doan's body at close range. She died instantly.

The body was brought to New Westminster in charge of the provincial police. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

INDUSTRIAL CENTRE IS PLANNED NEAR OLYMPIA

Seattle, March 20.—An option on 5,500 acres of tide land and upland on and around Boston harbor near Olympia was obtained yesterday by E. B. Waterman, of Los Angeles, for a party of Los Angeles and eastern capitalists, who have in view the construction of an industrial centre involving the expenditure of millions. The deal calls for the payment of $650,000.

RECOMMEND DISMISSAL OF VANCOUVER OFFICIAL

Vancouver, March 20.—Dismissal of Stephen Maddison, superintendent of the waterworks, and for twenty-seven years connected with the waterworks system of the city, because of insubordination and neglect of duty, of which the waterworks committee of the city council found him guilty, was the recommendation of that body in a special session last night. Action came after the charges preferred against him by Waterworks Engineer Beckon had been read, and Mr. Maddison had been refused the privilege of asking witnesses questions.

RAILWAY SCANDAL IN CONSERVATIVE RANKS

New Brunswick Road Built Out of Subsidies With $59,000 Profit

Ottawa, March 20.—When one prominent New Brunswick Conservative publicly attacks another prominent New Brunswick Conservative for pillaging the Conservative government at Ottawa, the case must surely be a pretty bad one.

This is what happened in parliament. Hon. H. F. Macleod, Conservative member for York, N. B., corroborated a most serious charge made by Frank Carvell as to the looting of the public treasury by some $59,000. Mr. Macleod had this to say about the transaction in which J. K. Pender and J. Guthrie, Conservative M. P.'s and his former colleagues in the New Brunswick legislature, were concerned:

"By living on the spot and knowing the men, I am in a position to know that items have been padded and items have been turned in to the government that are neither true nor correct. I place myself on record as agreeing with many of the facts that were adduced by Mr. Carvell, and I say the minister should investigate it and put it right."

When corroborative evidence like this is given by a political ally of the men against whom the charge is made there is no room for doubt as to the truth of the charges. The facts of the case may be briefly told.

The above named Conservative members of the New Brunswick legislature and some friends proposed to build a small connecting link of railway—less than thirteen miles long—from Millville to River St. John. An issue of $10,000 a mile of bonds was guaranteed by the New Brunswick government, while Mr. Hazen was premier. In 1912 a double subsidy of $6,400 a mile was secured from the Borden government. The inspecting engineer of the government, before this exceptionally large subsidy was paid over, certified that the railway had cost $22,954 per mile. As a matter of fact, sworn testimony given by the contractor in a court of law shows that the road actually cost $12,900 per mile. Thus, by the pretence to which an officer of the department of railways seems to have lent the cloak of an official endorsement, namely, that a line which really cost $12,900 cost $23,000, the owners were able to issue bonds and obtain a subsidy totalling $16,400 a mile. The road cost the owners nothing, and they were over $59,000 in pocket by the scandalous transaction.

This all happened under the Borden government, and while Messrs. Gutelius and Lynch-Staunton were unsuccessfully looking for one clear case of graft in connection with the construction of the National Transcontinental railway on which to hang a specific charge of Liberal dishonesty.

MUCH WORK TO BE DONE YET IN PANAMA CANAL

Washington, D. C., March 20.—Though merchant ships are expected to be passing through the Panama canal in the course of trade within the next three months, the canal-makers still have much work ahead of them. Nearly all of what is known as the permanent dam and docks construction has been finished, but owing to the earth slides in the Culebra Cut many hundreds of thousands of cubic yards of earth must be removed to broaden the channel to its full width. During the month of February the total amount of excavation was 1,430,050 cubic yards as compared with 1,514,972 yards in January.

HAILEYBURY DOES NOT HEAR FROM DR. R. ALLEN

Haileybury, Ont., March 20.—Dr. Robert Allen, an American subject, who resided in Haileybury last year, left El Paso, Texas, for Mexico City seven weeks ago, and no word has been received from him. He made a Christmas gift of $15,000 to the local Baptist church, and the political trouble in Mexico resulted in payment not being made when the cheque was presented at the bank in Mexico city. It was to secure the cashing of this cheque and to look after other personal interests in Mexico that Dr. Allen went south in January.

MILLIONS FOR DOUBLE TRACKING C. P. R. ROAD

Montreal, Que., March 21.—Double tracking of the Canadian Pacific railroad between Port Arthur and Sudbury this year will cost $6,000,000 between Calgary and Brandon; $5,000,000 between Revelstoke and Vancouver; $7,000,000. On the Lake Superior division, where double tracking is to be carried out the work will cost $45,113 per mile, and on the prairie section the cost will be about $28,000 per mile. The mountain section will be heavier costing about $50,000 per mile.

GREECE DETERMINED TO REMAIN SUPREME

Athens, March 20.—The minister of marine announced in the chamber of deputies yesterday that the Greek naval programme provided for three dreadnought battleships, one of which is now under construction, three armored cruisers and a number of lighter craft. He declared that Greece was prepared to pay all costs to maintain the supremacy of the sea in the recent Balkan war. With these additions the Greek fleet will be stronger than Turkey's.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP IS PLANNED FOR DAWSON

Telephone, Water, Light and Power Plants Proposed Under Bond Issue

Dawson, Y. T., March 20.—Dawson is preparing to instal city-owned tele- phone, water, light and power plants. The civic league, comprising the lead- ing citizens of all political parties, is circulating a petition to the Yukon council which is now in annual session asking for the necessary authority for the city to sell bonds to the extent of $200,000 bearing 8 per cent interest yearly, payable within ten years.

Careful estimates place the cost of the entire plant, ready for operation, at $165,000, but it is to raise a little more so as to have ample subscriptions for bonds, to be circulated here this week. It is expected that Dawsonites will take up all the bonds. The committee calculates that they will be able to pay them off in five years.

The Dawson civic league has peti- tioned the Yukon council against an- nexation of the Yukon to British Col- umbia, and it is believed that the en- tire body will adopt the resolution to the same effect, on the grounds that the Yukon will not surrender its inde- pendence and other regions cannot legislate satisfactorily for the north.

HAD WONDERFUL PAST NOW GOES TO PRISON

Englishman Aged Twenty-Two Tells San Francisco Court of Rapid Career.

San Francisco, March 20.—Ronald Truss, a young Englishman of 22, who told the court he had been an aviator, a promoter, a prize-fighter, an officer in the British army and a member of the Canadian Royal Mounted Police, was sentenced to eighteen months in the Alameda county jail yesterday after he had pleaded guilty to the theft of money orders from Cement, Cal., on which he obtained $300. He was traced to New Orleans and ar- rested.

Truss said he had been known under the aliases of the Hon. Arthur Reginald French, Jack O'Neill, and Walter Grace. To the newspapermen he said he was a stepson of Lord Glenfalloch. There is no such peer given in the recognized lists.

The British consul was present to see that his rights were observed, however, and counsel to represent him was retained by cable from London.

PRINCE OF SWEDEN AND PRINCESS ARE DIVORCED

Stockholm, March 20.—The council of state has approved the decision of the consistory court granting a divorce in the case of Prince William of Sweden and Princess Marie, who before her marriage was the Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna of Russia, and has declared the marriage dissolved. In their petition for divorce incompatibility of temper was given by both parties as the ground for their appeal. They requested a speedy decision.

Negotiations between the courts of St. Petersburg and Stockholm for the dissolution of the marriage began last November.

CASE OF LEPROSY IS FOUND IN WASHINGTON

Seattle, March 20.—Dr. Eugene E. Kelly, state health commissioner, an- nounced yesterday that he had found a leper, Christ Katajisto, living at Win- lock, Lewis County, Wash., and that upon reporting the matter to the sur- geon-general at Washington, D. C., he was informed that the government would not permit the man to be sent to the federal quarantine station at Diamond Head, near Port Townsend, Wash., where two other lepers are now detained. The man is at home under the care of Lewis county health officers.

RICH AMERICAN BUYS WORLD'S RAREST BOOKS

New York, March 20.—Some of the rarest books in the world were includ- ed in the four thousand volumes pur- chased by Henry E. Huntington, of New York, from the library of the Duke of Devonshire. It was learned to-day, among the volumes acquired were twenty-five from the press of William Caxton, four Shakespeare folios and fifty-seven quartos and a collection of sixteenth and seventeenth century English plays, which the Brit- ish museum was anxious to obtain.

Confirmation of the sale by the Duke of Devonshire is contained in London cable dispatches.

A Drawing on the 3rd Club at Bis- sell's will take place Saturday at 8 p. m. Members be present.

GOVERNMENT OFFICERS WORKED IN ELECTIONS

Amendments to Indian and Fisheries Acts Discussed in House of Commons

Ottawa, March 20.—Consideration of the estimates of the department of the interior were the cause of a rather animated sitting of the Commons yester- day. Western opposition members, of Moose Jaw, complained of the con- duct of government homeleand inspec- tors and land agents in the west. The member for Moose Jaw asserted that the records of the department, as tabled, show that in 1912, preceding the Saskatchewan elections, several home- stead inspectors had done practically no work because they had been en- gaged in political work for the Con- servatives.

Hon. Robert Rogers, in reply, de- clared that those men, who included Inspectors Shields, Miller, McLaren and Smythe, had not done much because during the time complained of, they were wrongfully under arrest at the instance of the Scott government.

Mr. Knowles in reply said the ar- rests, which were justified, occurred in July. The records showed that the inspectors were otherwise engaged than in connection with their duties in June.

Mr. Knowles then went on to de- scribe the operations of homeleand in- spectors at Moose Jaw during the pro- vincial election of 1912.

"They certainly were busy boys," he said, and proceeded to show that In- spectors W. H. Erratt, Miller, Mac- laren and Shields were at Moose Jaw instead of at their work during the 1912 provincial election time.

Mr. Knowles went on to give quota- tions from the diaries of homeleand inspectors illustrating their political activity. For the first twelve days in June, he said, Peter McLaren drove eighty miles with a government team, and never took an application for a homeleand or inspected a homeleand. He made one inspection between July 7 and 8, and he inspected another a few miles away. On July 5 and 7, In- spector Shields drove 150 miles to make two inspections, and June 9 he drove ninety miles in an automobile. Of course the government did not supply an automobile, and so Shields must have been riding in a Conservative car. Yet so little did he fear reproof, he did not hesitate to put it in his official report to the department.

An act to amend the Indian act was introduced by Hon. Dr. Roche at the opening of the house this afternoon. One amendment deals with industrial schools, and provides that where there are not regular industrial schools the minister may declare a public school an industrial school in the meaning of the act. Another amendment regulates the procedure for the expropriation of sites for industrial schools. A third extends the existing provisions of the law for the resumption of control over Indian reserves. At present such re- serves may be taken over for municipal or industrial purposes when they are adjacent to a city or town; the amend- ment now proposed removes the qual- ification that the reserve must be ad- jacent to a city or town; it prohibits the attendance of Indians at dances or potlaches outside the crown reserve.

Alphonse Verville asked whether the government had any jurisdiction over private employment bureaus. Dr. Roche replied that any employment bureau dealing with immigrants must first receive a license from the depart- ment of immigration, and the license is granted only on the certificate of the local immigration agent and the chief of police as to the character of the applicant. The inspector for the province of Quebec resides in Montreal, and so far as possible prevents immigrants from being swindled. The department, he added, had no jurisdiction over the dealings of employment agencies with non-im- migrants.

A third reading was given to the bill to amend the Merchant Shipping act. Consideration of the act to amend the Fisheries act was then resumed in committee. Hon. J. D. Hazen, in reply to opposition questions, made a state- ment in regard to the fisheries treaty, which still awaits action on the part of the United States congress before it can become effective. He referred to the fact that the Dominion parlia- ment in 1909, without discussion, had passed a bill making the treaty fram- ing by the joint commission effective so far as Canada was concerned.

He said that when the treaty was first presented to the American senate, lobbyists arrived at Washington to protest against its approval. This he considered, was a most improper course, but probably the president had no power to prevent the American fish- ing interests taking such action. As a result of representations made, Can- ada was requested to consent to some modifications of the treaty. Consent was given to certain changes in cer- tain regulations. Mr. Hazen went on to say that in 1912 the United States had explained that it had been impos- sible to give effect to the treaty in the 1911 session because it was devoted en- tirely to tariff legislation. The neces- sary legislation was finally passed by the American senate, but when the matter came up in the House of Rep- resentatives the lobbyists again ap- peared at Washington and asked for further concessions. These Canada re- fused to grant, and it was decided to notify the American government that if the arrangement was not agreed to by March 1, 1914, the treaty must lapse. In view of the fact that the bill to give effect to the treaty is still before con- gress, the government has decided not to abide strictly by this notification.

Word was expected from Washing- ton in the near future, and, if favor- able action is not taken, the treaty is dead.

Mr. Hazen pointed out that under existing conditions Canada fishermen complain because they are subject to restrictive regulations in international waters, which are not binding on American fishermen. In the event of the expiry of the treaty, the govern- ment will have to decide whether or not these regulations are to be con- tinued.

A bill will be introduced into the senate by Hon. Mr. Lougheed, con- solidating and amending the Railway act. It is very radical, and will in- troduce reforms and stringent super- vision.

It is stated that a bill dealing with the capitalization of railways was being prepared by the solicitor-general, but it is understood that legislation governing this will be found in the new Railway act. It will be found that the policy regarding railway legislation advocated by the Conser- vatives in opposition is incorporated in the bill, and that this new act is radical enough to suit the most ad- vanced advocates of railway legisla- tion.

Premier Borden tabled in the house the opinion of the deputy minister of justice supporting the view that the government has power without an amendment to the B. N. A. act to ap- point additional senators from Man- itoba. The deputy minister, after quot- ing the act, concludes that it appears to be competent to parliament at the present time to increase the representation in the senate of any province from four to six members.

The memorandum was tabled at the request of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who dissents from the views expressed therein.

New York, March 20.—The condi- tion on which the Aero Club of Ameri- ca is understood to be willing to give its sanction to the Panama-Pacific ex- position proposed around-the-world air race, namely the deposit in a bank of $150,000 in prize money, has been fulfilled, it was announced here to-day by Arnold Kruckman, manager of the exposition bureau of aeronautics.

Mr. Kruckman said he received a telegram to-day from Charles C. Moore, president of the exposition, stating that the money had been de- posited with the Anglo and London- Paris National Bank of San Francisco. The matter of sanction will come up before the club for final action next week.

NATIONS IN SPORT.

The London Spectator, commenting on baseball, cricket, football and sport generally, says "nation-building leaves no time for play." Wrong; altogether wrong. The people of the United States have not completed their work yet by any means—in fact, the structure they thus far have created is estimated by many Europeans as being a crude affair—yet they have plenty of time for play.

Metchosin Farmers Meet.—About one hundred attended the last meeting of the Metchosin Farmers' Institute. W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, addressed the meeting on "Co-operation and the Agricultural Outlook." He spoke of co-operation as being the only way in which the farmer could eliminate the unfair methods of marketing produce which are at present prevailing throughout the province. W. T. McDonald, livestock commissioner, also spoke. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the speakers.

Inspect Sewer Work.—It was learned by a party of city officials who made a tour of the sewer work yesterday morning, that the northwest sewer, at any rate so far as the outfall is concerned, is progressing satisfactorily. Concrete pipe is now assembled on the ground and it is understood that the actual work of laying it will begin on Monday. The manufacture is carried on at Head street by Moore & Pettick, and the pipe is being transported to the scene near Macaulay point where the gangs are almost down to grade.

Captured Sea-Lion.—A battle royal was fought in the water a mile off the outer wharf yesterday between a school of some species of large fish and a huge sealion, and the net result is now to be seen at Armstrong Brothers' machine shop, Kingston street. The two Armstrong brothers saw the contest and immediately proceeded to take a hand in the affair. Approaching the scene in their launch, they fastened a line about the tail of the great sea-lion and sought to tow it ashore. To their surprise the creature did the towing instead, and dragged the high-powered launch about for some time. The superior endurance of the engines told, however, and the sea-lion surrendered to exhaustion, which was largely due to the unequal fight with the school of fish. It expired and the launch then towed the creature ashore and it is now on exhibition at the rear of Armstrong's machine shop. When measured, it was found to be 12 feet in length.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, March 20, 1889.

Mr. Higgins will move to-day in the legislature that in the opinion of the house the lieutenant-governor-in-council should formulate and lay before the house at its next session a scheme for a definite system of railway policy, said scheme to include the granting of a specified sum of money per mile, or a grant of land in lieu of a money subsidy, or a subsidy of both land and money, to aid in the construction of lines of railway in the province.

An arrangement has been made between the fire insurance agents of the city and Deputy Sheriff Langley for the latter to make an inquiry into every fire that occurs.

A. W. Vowel, stipendiary magistrate and gold commissioner for the Kootenays is at the Grand hotel.

The bill proposing to incorporate the Canadian Western Central railway, for a line through British Columbia to Bute Inlet, was laid before the house yesterday.

Phoenix Stout, $1.50 per doz. qts.

Sewer Tenders Called.—Tenders have been called by the township of Esquimalt for 10,500 feet of sewers in the southwest portion of the village section and the last date for filing offers is fixed at April 3. The cost of this section will be between $50,000 and $60,000.

Bridge Engineer Visits.—City Engineer Rust had a visit yesterday from Phelps Johnson, representing one of the leading bridge firms of Canada, whom he knew in the east. Mr. Johnson was informed of the present situation with regard to the new bridge across the harbor.

Evidence Insufficient.—Stating that the evidence was insufficient to convict, Judge Lampman dismissed the charge of breaking and entering in the case of Rex v. Darven this morning. The police alleged that the man had entered the premises of the B. Wilson Company, Ltd., Dallas road.

Elks Entertained Visitors.—The officers of Vancouver lodge No. 1, B. P. O. E. were guests of the local Elks last evening and had charge of the initiatory work of the lodge at its regular meeting in the K. of P. hall, North Park street. After the regular meeting the assembled "Horns" adjourned to the Elks club, Campbell building, where a banquet was held in honor of the visitors.

Masonic Visitation.—M. W. the grand master of the British Columbia Jurisdiction, (William Henderson); Deputy Grand Master James Starik, Vancouver, and J. W. Astley, grand junior warden, paid a visit to Vancouver-Quadra lodge, A. F. and A. M., Wednesday, and yesterday evening visited Victoria-Columbia lodge, the senior lodge of the province. The official visit of the grand lodge officers is marked with the usual ceremonies.

Ivy Leaf Social Club.—The weekly whist drive of the Ivy Leaf Social club was held in the Knights of Pythias hall on Thursday and was attended by a large number of members and friends; twenty tables were occupied for the series of twenty-four games, after which Mrs. P. James presented the prizes to the following: Miss Elsie Oddy, first lady; Miss M. Sewell, second, and Mrs. Burnham, ladies' consolation. A. J. Warren, first gentleman; F. N. Stafford, second, and J. Eva, gentlemen's consolation. J. H. Mitchell was master of ceremonies.

Fire at Rainbow Hotel.—Following closely the fire which destroyed Day's hotel at Esquimalt village last week, another outbreak occurred at the Rainbow, on the opposite side of Wharf street last evening. This also broke out in a bedroom under somewhat similar circumstances, and the police attribute it to the work of an incendiary. The loss, about $500, is covered by insurance protecting the proprietress, Mrs. Korsak. No clue to the cause is forthcoming, the origin being mysterious because the bedroom door was locked some little time before the outbreak was discovered. Two streams of water were brought into play to extinguish the flames.

Dismissed With Warning.—W. E. Ferriday was allowed to go with a warning this morning after a charge of driving a truck on a grass plot in Beacon Hill park had been preferred against him. It was shown in the evidence that accused took a team on the grass behind the football field, but that little damage, if any, was done. Ferriday was therefore let off with a warning not to commit the offence again.

Slight Traces Found.—When the negative of the seismographic record had been developed yesterday by F. Napier Denison and had dried out there were found to be very faint traces of two shocks which had taken place on Tuesday night, the first at half past eight o'clock and the second two hours later. These shocks had occurred at the same place, apparently, and that at a point from 1,200 to 1,500 miles away, probably under the sea off the Alaskan coast.

Fifth Regiment Riflemen.—Arrangements were completed at a meeting of the Fifth Regiment association last night for the opening of the shooting season at Clover Point ranges tomorrow, when both spoon shoots and aggregate scoring will begin. Lieut. Birch reported that it has been decided, when anything over ninety-nine men are competing on the ranges, to use only two of them at a time, which is the most convenient of the marksmen from the city militia corps, the permanent corps and the civilian associations.

SUNDAY CLOSING. Social Service Commission in Conference With Morals Committee and Lord's Day Alliance. A conference is being held this afternoon between the officers of the Social Service commission and the health and morals committee of the city council in regard to the question of Sunday closing. As the morals committee has to do with matters of the maintenance of proper moral conditions in the city the commission considers that it has power to order the enforcement of the laws in relation to Sunday closing, and it will place this view before the members of the committee. As Rev. Mr. Heustis, western secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, is in the city his presence will be taken advantage of for the holding of a conference at 8.30 o'clock this evening between the executive of the Social Service commission and the local executive of the alliance, when some plan of action will be considered.

CHANGED HIS SURNAME

Vancouver Resident Has Altered His Cognomen and gives Formal Notice of the Fact.

A change of surname is not a very common thing, and it always has to be accomplished with such formalities that at least the little world of a man's immediate neighborhood shall be fully apprised of the change.

This week's issue of the provincial Gazette contains notice of such a change, made on the part of a Vancouver man, following legal documents duly made and registered in the land registry office in that city.

Lionel Webb Norton is the citizen who has altered his cognomen and he announces that hereafter he will be Lionel Webb de Vis-Norton; and that since Monday last he has "assumed and adopted and determined thenceforth on all occasions whatsoever to use and subscribe the name of de Vis-Norton instead of the said name of Norton . . . so as to be at all times thereafter called, known and described by the name of Lionel Webb de Vis-Norton exclusively."

"LINK AND PIN" DANGEROUS. Albert Flynn, Brakeman, Awarded $1,500 Damages for Loss of Hand Coupling Cars.

Albert Flynn was awarded $1,500 damages against the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited by Mr. Justice Macdonald yesterday in the action in which he sued on account of injuries received while coupling cars on the railway operated at Cumberland by the defendant company. It was found that the "link and pin" coupling was dangerous.

In a similar action, trial of which opened this morning, Mr. Justice Macdonald ordered an adjournment at the request of Arthur Leighton, solicitor for the plaintiff, George Cook, also a brakeman, in order that Cook's statement of claim might be amended. On account of the radical nature of the change H. A. Maclean, K. C., counsel for the company, obtained costs for the day's proceeding.

Case Remanded.—Soo Lo Hen, a Chinaman charged with being in possession of a gold watch-chain belonging to A. Young, was remanded in the police court this morning until tomorrow.

Dining Out.—One becomes tired of the ordinary restaurant. Therefore try the only outdoor cafe; German cooking, best service, at The Kaiserhof.

MESSAGE IS RELAYED HERE FROM AKI MARU

Nippon Liner Expected to Dock Next Wednesday; Empress Off for Orient

Relayed to the Estevan wireless station by the outward bound Osaka liner Canada Maru, a message giving the position of the steamship Aki Maru, Capt. Noma, bound for Victoria from Japan, was received last night. The vessel was in longitude 167.13 W. and her latitude was 50.08 N., the observation having been made at 8 o'clock in the evening. She was about 1,800 miles from this port when she flashed the message through to the Canada. Shipping men believe that if the Aki has a spell of fine weather she will reach William Head next Wednesday afternoon in time to pass quarantine and come up to the outer wharf to work her cargo.

W. R. Dale, local agent of the line, has been advised that the Aki has on board 547 tons of general merchandise for Victoria, which is the largest cargo to be brought in by a Nippon liner for some time. She also has a huge list of passengers, the list totalling 247. Fifty-five of the steamer travellers will disembark at this port. Asia Sails To-day.

HUGE SALMON FLEET

San Francisco, March 20.—Within the next two weeks the San Francisco salmon fleet will be well started on its annual flight to the northern canneries. The vessels proceeding direct from the Golden Gate to the Behring sea stations will be headed by the Star of Russia, which will get away next week. The ship Indiana and the schooner Premier, of the Alaska Packers' association, sailed yesterday for Port Angeles and Blaine, where they will load coal, box shooks and other supplies for Cook Inlet. Thirty-two vessels, including windjammers and steam tenders, will be dispatched this year to the northern canneries by the Alaska packers. The canvass procession out of the Golden Gate will begin again with the departure of the Star of Russia.

CHICKEN RANCH FOR ALASKA

Seattle, March 20.—Five hundred and forty chickens will leave on the steamer Alameda to-night for Skagway, where they will form the nucleus of what is declared to be the first bona fide chicken ranch established in Alaska. The ranch is being established by Robert Hennessey, who has lived in Skagway for some time and believes there is a big future ahead of the chicken industry in Southeastern Alaska.

Heretofore all the Alaska ports have had to depend on eggs from the Pacific Northwest states. Strictly fresh eggs bring fancy prices in the north. While many residents in the southeastern coast ports keep small flocks for their own use, Browning's ranch, it is said, will mark the real inauguration of the egg industry so far as concerns the great north.

SEATTLE SUBMARINE LAUNCHED

Seattle, March 20.—The United States submarine K-4 was launched at the plant of the Seattle Construction & Drydock company yesterday. Mrs. J. P. Olding, wife of the navy lieutenant who will take command of the submarine, christened the boat.

UMATILLA BERTHS HERE

After a fine run north from San Francisco the Pacific Coast steamship Umatilla, Capt. Reilly, steamed into port this morning at 9.30 o'clock. She brought north a good list of passengers and discharged 266 tons of cargo here.

SHIPYARDS ARE BUSY HANDLING STEAMERS

Great Activity Along Waterfront as Vessels Prepare for Great Spring Rush

Local shipyards are extremely busy at the present time overhauling a large fleet of coasting steamers. The advent of the beautiful spring weather has caused a great deal of activity on the part of the steamship companies and they are booking space in the dry-dock and on the different marine ways of this port for their ships. The demand for places at the shipyards is exceedingly heavy and the activity this spring is far greater than in any former year, which augurs well for a great season in the coastwise trade. Owing to the fact that the Yarrows slip is tied up with the C. P. R. steamer Princess Mary, which is being lengthened, a number of the smaller steamers are being forced to use the big graving dock at Esquimalt. The cable ship Restora came out of dock yesterday after having a thorough overhaul and today the G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert was floated in to have her hull cleaned and painted and her tall shafts drawn. She will be in for some days. The lighthouse tender Estevan has been assigned the dock when the Rupert comes out and she will be in for a brief period. It is understood that she will be followed into the basin by the fishery cruiser Newington and the hydrographic steamer Lilloet.

Yarrows are Very Busy.
Yarrows yards are very busy at the present time. The work of building in the new 40-foot section of the Princess Mary is proceeding apace and is keeping a large gang of men employed. The steamers Estevan and Lilloet are also in the hands of the firm and several minor jobs are under way.

At the upper harbor shipyards there are unusual scenes of activity. The Victoria Machinery Depot has several ships alongside its docks overhauling and its slip is in almost constant use. The Princess Ena was lowered into the water a few days ago and next week the steamer Melmore is to come over from Vancouver to be placed in the hands of the depot for overhauling. At Turpel's yards the ship is handling the bulk of the overhauling work, although the Vancouver yards are getting a little.

MILLION DOLLAR WHALING DEAL CLOSED AT SEATTLE

Seattle, March 20.—One of the biggest marine transactions of recent years was closed on Wednesday, when the Pacific Sea Products company, of which John Lind, President Wilson's representative in Mexico, is a stockholder, bought the vessels, stations and equipment of the Alaska Whaling company, in which Capt. Otto Sverdrup, the Norwegian explorer, was heavily interested. Property valued at a million dollars changed hands.

Included in the transfer of property are the whaling steamers Unimak and Kodiak, built at the plant of J. F. Duthie & Co. on the East waterway, at a cost of $112,000; the big Norwegian steamer Admiralen, which has been lying idle at Akutan, Alaska, and spent over $200,000.
The new corporation some time ago purchased the barge Fresno and she will leave in tow of the tug Pioneer on April 1 for Akutan with a cargo of supplies.
The steamship Admiralen is practically a floating whaling factory, with equipment for boiling oil from the whale carcasses, but her operation in this service has been found unprofitable. It has been announced by President Birkeland that his company will sell the vessel. A new whaling station is to be built in the north, where both the whale blubber and carcasses will be refined on shore. This plant completed will cost over $300,000.

TO CLEAR FROM SEATTLE

With the sailing of the steamship Tacoma Maru from Puget sound for ports in the Orient, March 20, vessels of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha will make Seattle instead of Tacoma their last American port. The call before beginning their voyages across the Pacific. In the past, vessels of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha fleet have been steaming direct from Tacoma to the Orient, by way of Victoria, B. C., by beginning March 20 they will call at Seattle for mail, passengers and freight on their way to sea.
The liners of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha will clear at the custom house in Tacoma and again in Seattle.
Inbound, the vessels of the fleet will go direct to Tacoma from the Orient, by way of Victoria, B. C., as in the past.
The Blue Funnel line formerly cleared from Tacoma direct, but now vessels of the fleet begin their long voyages to Europe by way of the Orient from Seattle.

TRI-WEEKLY SERVICE TO RUPERT BY G. T. P.

Summer Schedule is Announced; Goes Into Effect March 29; Fine Service

Three steamers flying the houseflag of the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship company will sail from Victoria for Prince Rupert every week during the coming six or seven months. Capt. C. H. Nicholson, manager of the company, who is in town to-day on business, says that the spring and summer schedule has been drawn up and arrangements have been made for the best service between here and the northern port, which has been provided since the G. T. P. entered the coasting trade.
The new schedule goes into effect on March 29, when the steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. McKenzie, will sail from Victoria for Seattle, and returning from the Sound will clear for the north on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. After being the mid-week boat for the past two years the G. T. P. has decided to switch her to a Monday sailing, and will let the Prince George, Capt. Donald, fill in on Thursdays.

During the past four years the company has always operated the two three-streakers to Prince Rupert on a semi-weekly schedule during the spring and summer. This year, however, to look after the trade in a better and more efficient manner the G. T. P. has decided to run three boats every seven days. The steamers Prince John, Capt. Wearmouth, and Prince Albert, Capt. Morehouse, will alternate out of Victoria every Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and provide the third sailing of the week. The company is placing itself in a splendid position to secure the bulk of the passenger and freight business, which will move both northward and southward during the next six months. The three boats clearing from here will all connect with the trains both departing and arriving at Prince Rupert.

Other Changes Made.
While the inauguration of the tri-weekly service to Prince Rupert is the most important item of the new schedule, the G. T. P. officials have arranged several other changes. The Prince Rupert will steam through to Granby Bay every week, and the Prince George and Prince John will alternate in providing Stewart with a weekly service. The George will steam to the Portland canal mining town when she leaves Victoria on April 2.

The Prince Albert and Prince John will look after the Queen Charlotte Islands' run. A weekly service will be provided to Masset, the steamer sailing from Prince Rupert for that port on Mondays at 10 p. m. Every fortnight the vessels will call at Naden harbor and Queenstown, a new town which is situated about 25 miles farther up Masset Inlet from Margat. At 10 p. m. on Tuesdays the steamers will sail for Skidegate and Queen Charlotte City.
On both northbound and southbound voyages the Prince John and Prince Albert will call at Alert Bay, Sointula and Swanson bay. The big boats will steam direct from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, without stopping at any way ports.

Rupert in Dry-Dock.
The steamer Prince Rupert arrived in port late yesterday from Vancouver, and was floated into the dry-dock at Esquimalt. She will be in the blocks for about four days, having her hull scraped and painted and her tall shafts drawn. After coming out of dock she will steam around to the inner harbor docks to complete her overhaul. She will relieve the Prince George on the northern run at this port on March 29, and this will give the latter vessel a chance to obtain a few days' overhaul before she takes up the mid-week sailing out of Vancouver.

SENT OFF WITH BEST WISHES FOR SUCCESS

Farewell Banquet to W. E. Duperow Was Enjoyable Affair; Departure Regretted

"We are sorry to see him go, but we are glad to know that his work has been recognized by the big chiefs, and we are satisfied that he is able to take care of his new position."

So spoke L. D. Chatham, city passenger agent of the C. P. R., at the Brown Jug cafe last evening, at the farewell banquet tendered W. E. Duperow, recently appointed assistant passenger agent of the G. T. P. at Winnipeg, and this concise paragraph embodied to a nicety the feelings of the twenty other transportation men who were present to give their departing friend a royal send-off, the kind that is only known to, and is a pleasure for, railroad officials to give.

With Claude A. Solly in charge and E. J. Blackwood at his right hand, the little party sat down to a delightful repast shortly after 6 o'clock, and the merriment continued until the clock was striking the tenth hour. An extensive toast programme, the kind railroad men like to go through, included toasts to King George and President Wilson, of the United States, and to W. E. Duperow. The names of W. P. Hinton, who has just been promoted to the important post of assistant passenger traffic manager of the G. T. P., and C. E. Jenney, late city passenger and ticket agent at Toronto, who succeeds Mr. Duperow as general agent of the passenger department at Vancouver, were coupled with that of Mr. Duperow in the toast which Mr. Blackwood proposed. The toastmaster made a splendid eulogy to Mr. Duperow. He reviewed the rapidity of his friend's promotion, which had been brought about through faithful and devoted attention to the work which had been entrusted to him.

Mr. Blackwood first knew his Grand Trunk friend about four years ago, when Mr. Duperow came to Victoria as passenger and ticket agent of the company. About eighteen months ago the guest of honor of the evening was promoted to be general agent of the passenger department at Vancouver. Now the chiefs of the line had found fit to trust him with a far more difficult position, which he knew full well Mr. Duperow would fill to the satisfaction of the heads. The toastmaster said that their guest would carry with him the best wishes of his coast friends, who would watch with interest his success.
Using his famous line of transportation expressions to its last degree, Mr. Duperow thanked his friends for the honor they had done him and the kind words they had spoken. He would not forget all their courtesies to him and Victoria transportation men would always hold a warm place in his heart. His business would bring him to the coast on frequent trips and he promised that he would look up everyone when he called.
Among those who took part in last evening's affair were the following: Passenger agent of the G. T. P.: W. P. Hinton, assistant passenger traffic manager of the G. T. P.; Geo. Hinton, of Vancouver; L. V. Druce, commercial agent of G. T. P.; Vancouver; J. H. Burgess, general agent passenger department G. T. P. at Seattle; Laughlin McLean, of Spokane, a prominent immigration and irrigation man; W. R. Taylor, of the Vancouver office of the G. T. P.; E. E. Blackwood, N. P. railway; Claude A. Solly, C. M. & St. Paul railway; C. E. Jenney, general agent of the G. T. P. at Vancouver; William Allan, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, in Victoria; T. Johnson, of the G. T. P. Transfer Co.; L. D. Chatham, district passenger agent for the C. P. R. in Victoria; Ross Osborn, of the C. M. & St. Paul; W. R. Dale, of the G. N. railway; H. P. Davenport, of Dodwell & Co.; J. B. Burford, of the U. S. immigration department in Victoria; N. S. Nakrup, of the U. M. & St. Paul; R. Nelson; J. A. McArthur, local freight agent; Chas. F. Earl and Roy Merritt, of the local ticket office, and Jack Savannah.

SEATTLE-HONOLULU RUN STARTS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Seattle, March 20.—Seattle's first regular passenger service to the Hawaiian Islands will be inaugurated next Wednesday afternoon when the liner Honoluluian, under charter to the Matson Navigation company, sails for Honolulu and other island points. Although the vessel's departure is six days off, Alexander & Baldwin, the local agents of the line, already have booked a number of passengers.
The Honoluluian has accommodations for sixty first-class passengers. No steerage passengers are carried. The vessel has always carried passengers between the Islands and San Francisco, so that the inauguration of the Matson Navigation company, sails for Honolulu and other island points. Although the vessel's departure is six days off, Alexander & Baldwin, the local agents of the line, already have booked a number of passengers.

W. P. HINTON IN TOWN

W. P. Hinton, assistant passenger traffic manager of the G. T. P., with headquarters at Winnipeg, arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon from the prairie on one of his regular visits to the coast. Mr. Hinton says that the eastern and western ends of the G. T. P. transcontinental railway will be joined together about the middle of next month. The road bed has been completed and the tracklayers are dropping the steel at the rate of four miles a day.
Mr. Hinton said that the company hoped to establish local services over the track by the beginning of August, but that no transcontinental trains would reach Prince Rupert, the western terminus, until early in 1915.
From Victoria Mr. Hinton is going on a visit to California and on his return to the east he may make a trip to Prince Rupert. Mr. Hinton leaves Victoria on Sunday.

STAMINA IN MEN AND HOW TO POSSESS IT.

(From "Man's Maladies.")
A prominent physician being asked the question "What are the things in life a man needs most?" answered, "Physical health, strong nerves, mental efficiency, money and social success." Any man possessing these five attributes is a success. A man possessing the first three can be a success and have the other two. Possession of a sound body with strong nerves is really the requirement which imparts most success. Men need courage, staying qualities, endurance and perseverance, but in order to have these qualities the nerves must be strong and keenly sensitive to every emotion. When a man has foregoing sensations of fear, timidity, accompanied with such symptoms as trembling hands and limbs, weak voice, nervousness, sleeplessness, numbness, dizziness, heart palpitation, restlessness, forgetfulness, melancholia, weariness without cause, and many others of a similar nature, it cannot be expected that he will be a success financially, socially or otherwise.
Strong virile magnetism comes only to those whose nerves are properly nourished in a sound body. Nature in her wisdom has supplied certain extracts, essences, etc., which, if properly blended, will re-energize the nervous system, nerves so that any man can feel the rich, red blood surging through his body, supplying all the elements necessary to derive the most out of life in all its various phases.
For the benefit of those temporarily deficient in nerve strength, the following ingredients can be obtained of any good druggist and prepared in the privacy of home. Purchase three ounces of strychnine compound in a six-ounce bottle. Add one ounce of compound fluid extract of sassafras to the strychnine compound. Then add one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not caradomene) and one ounce compound essence cardoli. Mix. Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. All distressing symptoms will soon vanish and a complete restoration to normal follows.

CONGRESS TO BE ALTERED.

Seattle, March 20.—Officials of the Pacific Coast Steamship company yesterday announced that the liner Congress, operated in the coastwise service between Puget sound and California ports, following her arrival in Seattle on the night of April 23, will be taken off the run temporarily, for alterations to her cabin and a general overhauling. The work will be done at the plant of the Seattle Construction & Dry Dock company.
The alterations include the changing of a number of three-berth staterooms to two-berth staterooms, which have proved to be more popular on the Seattle-California route.

The "Home-Maker" Store for Variety and Value

NO time in the life of any young man or woman seems to be so interesting as the few months previous to commencing married life.

The problem of "fixing up" the home is full of charm. Many ideals are focused in the mind, but the adaptation of the scheme for furnishing the future home must often be modified to meet the existing conditions in the house chosen, and, frequently, by the financial position of the young couple.

Why not come and make your selection from what is easily the largest, best assorted and most moderately priced stock of furniture in the West?

Our policy is to help you to get the most and best out of your expenditure, to make your home just what you want it to be, and to help you over financial or other difficulties.

May we be of service to you?

DOUGHY SPRING FOR LOCAL CLUB

B. C. L. A. POSTPONES MEETING

Mayor Stewart to Address General Meeting of Pro. Club To-morrow Night; Amateurs Also Prepare for Season

D. W. Gilchrist, secretary of the British Columbia Lacrosse Association, telegraphed to the Victoria Lacrosse club this afternoon that the annual meeting of the B. C. L. A. would not be held until next Tuesday, March 24, when the officers for the coming year will be chosen and plans prepared for the active lacrosse season. A general meeting of the Victoria club will be held Saturday night at the Camosun club, at which delegates to this gathering will be elected.

Despite the claims of the Toronto club that it had secured a number of Westminster stars, the Victoria club has stolen a march on the eastern teams and has signed up four members of the Royal City twelve. Doughty Spring, sensational home fielder, wired yesterday, accepting terms offered and he will be brought here at once. Hugh Gifford, Len Turnbull and Johnny Howard have also accepted terms, all but Howard signing contracts to play with the locals this season.

The Victoria club is now after an eastern homefielder and there are representatives in the east now looking after this player. The Victoria club will bid with the Big Four clubs if necessary for this star.

At to-morrow night's meeting of the lacrosse club it is expected that Mayor Stewart will address the gathering, while an invitation has also been extended to Joe Lally, the Cornwall magistrate, to attend.

Lacrosse enthusiasts will be pleased to hear of the return to health of Harry Godfrey, the former Vancouver lacrosse captain, who has been seriously ill for some months. Godfrey is recuperating at Shawnigan Lake, but says that he is through with lacrosse.

It has been decided to call a meeting of the Victoria Amateur Lacrosse club for next Friday night, when the officers will be elected for the season and arrangements will be made for a city league this season. J. A. Virtue has kindly donated a handsome silver cup, together with suitable souvenirs. It is probable that four teams, Oak Bay, North Ward, Victoria West and High school, will enter teams in the senior series.

BATTLE ROYAL TO FEATURE PROGRAMME

Novice Tourney Attracting Attention; To-night's Classy Card at V. I. A. A.

Four entries have been received for the battle royal which will be a feature of the Vancouver Island A. A. smoker this evening at the club rooms on Douglas street. Manager Billy Davies looks for a big crowd and he will offer a splendid card for the entertainment of the local fans. The pick of the evening will be the battle royal, in which all contestants get into the ring and box until there is only one left.

Billy Sneddon, who captured the first novice tourney, has again entered for the 115-lb. event and he will find several tough opponents in Bobby Ross, Hill, Baker, Neil and Appa. The complete programme is as follows:

125 pounds—Jack Larrigan, Scot Cropper and Donald McKay; 115 pounds—Theo. Hill, R. Baker, Bobby Ross, W. Sneddon, W. Neil and Patsy Appa; special 115 pound bout—Al Davies vs. Al Gerrard; special 115 pound bout—O. Moggie vs. Scotty McKay. In addition to these events a battle royal will be staged in which Kid Cotter, Jack White and a number of others will participate.

Harry Skuce, the secretary of the V. I. A. A., will take a squad of four boxers and wrestlers to Seattle to-day.

Drawings in No's 1, 2 and 3 Clubs will take place at Bissell's, 1314 Douglas street, Saturday, 8 p. m.

STRONG FAVORITES

Vancouver Team Meets Local All-Stars at Oak Bay To-morrow; the Prospects

That Vancouver's representative team is in for a trimming when it invades Victoria this Saturday is the general opinion of the local football enthusiasts.

To-morrow's contest is the second of the home-and-home games played between the Islanders and the Mainlanders. Victoria met Vancouver recently, the game resulting in a draw, each team bagging the net twice. On this occasion several of the local stars who were selected were unable to make the trip and the weakened team managed to hold the Terminus even.

Tommy Miller, former star back of the Victoria professional team, will play on the Vancouver defence. Tommy a few years ago was the pick of the east at fullback, and if he is showing the same form to-day he will be hard to penetrate.

Baker and Muir on the left wing are a pair of the fastest and trickiest players in the city. Pickering at centre is easily the best shot here, while Caskie and Nichol, the other two who were selected, complete a quintette of the fastest and best shooting forwards ever representing this city. Victoria has an exceptionally strong half-back division. Fred Brown, right half, is both fast and tricky. Petticrew, at centre half, is noted for the excellent manner in which he feeds the forwards, while Jimmy Allen, the third man chosen, although a youngster, is the pick of Victoria's left halves.

Bob Whyte, veteran Victoria West back, and Ed Taylor, North Wards snappy defender, are like a stone wall in defence, and Thornburn in goal has been playing a remarkable game.

Douglas and Hines are on the (forwards) reserve list should any of the selected members fail to put in an appearance. Pilkington is the reserve

MCGRAW'S BIG SALARY.

Marlin, Texas, March 20.—Thirty thousand dollars a year is the salary received by John J. McGraw as manager of the New York Giants, according to the affidavit signed by McGraw here in accordance with the income tax law. This far exceeds the salaries said to be paid Tris Speaker, "Ty" Cobb, and other stars of the game. His contract signed last winter has four years more to run. According to the report here, McGraw's income from baseball last year was $33,500. This included his salary, his share in the world's series receipts and incidentals from exhibition games.

TORONTOS WIN FINAL GAME IN SENSATIONAL CONTEST WITH LOCALS

Victoria Team Nosed Out 2 to 1; Eastern Champions Had Superior Forward Line; Lindsay Stars

Toronto, March 20.—Standing out even greater in defeat than if they had won the third game of the series, Victoria lost its third straight game to Toronto last night 2 to 1, the Stanley cup and world's hockey title, remaining with the N. H. A. champions. The coast club put up a marvelous fight against the greatest of odds, and it was only the wonderful run of luck that Toronto enjoyed that gave the eastern title-holders the victory. It was a battle of giants, with the blue and white emerging victorious by the odd goal. The game was one of the most strenuous of the year, Victoria finishing the contest with Bobby Genge and Lester Patrick on the ice against the orders of the club physician.

Victoria Team Cheered

Five thousand wildly-cheering hockey fans witnessed the match, and it is to the credit of the Queen City sporting enthusiasts that they cheered the defeated challengers to the echo as the Victoria team skated off the ice at the conclusion of the struggle. The hosts had proven their gameness all through the series, and last night's demonstration of their nerve was a fitting climax to a wonderful hockey series. A review of the three games gives Toronto the edge by 13 to 8, two of the games being single goal victories, with one of the games going into overtime. Eastern critics admit that Toronto has shown but slight superiority over the coast title-holders and the reputation of the P. C. H. A. has suffered little in the three consecutive losses. The Toronto team was battling of its own ice, while the coast champions travelled almost 3,000 miles, in addition to tying up a week in the Queen City with the N. H. A. championship was being decided.

Not Playing For Cup

With regard to the Stanley cup it was stated that the trustees would not allow the trophy to go west even should the Victoria team have succeeded in beating the Torontos in the series. It is understood that the Pacific coast champions overlooked the important formality of filing a challenge for the mug and that the trustees, Ed Quinn and Ross, in forming President Quinn, of the Torontos, that they did not regard the Victorias as qualified contestants. It would, therefore, appear that the Victorias' visit was not for the Stanley cup after all. However, the coast men said they did not care anything about the historic trophy anyway; all they wanted was the championship.

Poor Shooting Cost Game.

Toronto's weight and superior shooting told the tale of last night's game, the Blue Shirts showing a much better attack, while Holmes was practically invulnerable. The Victoria forwards did not locate the net with their usual skill, and this was their chief weakness throughout the entire series. The Senators presented a stonewall defense, only to have their forwards fall down on their numerous chances to score. With but two minutes to go and Toronto one goal to the good, Kerr missed an open net on a splendid opportunity, this being the dying effort of the coast champions. Kerr scored the only goal for the Victoria team, while Foyston and Cameron were the goal-getters for the Toronto club.

Lindsay in Fine Form.

One of the remarkable features of the game was the magnificent work of the Victoria defense. Lindsay stopped innumerable shots, while Lester Patrick and Bobby Genge starred with their end-to-end rushes. Toronto's defense was also in top form, and the contest was literally a game in which the tremendous share of the work was performed by the defense players. The game was evenly divided, but the Victoria shooting was erratic, while Toronto displayed stellar marksmanship in drives on the Victoria net. Toronto scored the first goal on a beautiful end-to-end rush by Foyston in the second period, the teams going scoreless for the entire first stanza. In the third stanza Cameron added another goal, the Queen City total on a pass from Marshall. Kerr got Victoria's solitary score on a pass from Foyse. The finish saw Victoria crowding Toronto's net, but unable to break through for the tying goal.

Local Stars Injured.

Lester Patrick received a blow on his left arm that rendered that member useless. It was feared for a time that the broken bone in his forearm had again been fractured. Genge twisted his knee, but promptly stuck to his position. Kerr was the bright star of the forward line, closely followed by Small, Davidson, Walker and Holmes were the pick of the Toronto club. It is expected that the members of the winning team will receive about $50 each as their share of the series, while the Victoria team will draw down about $20 apiece. The Victorias will leave for their homes tomorrow, Poulin going direct to the coast, while Kerr, Dunderdale and Ulrich will stop off at Winnipeg. Genge and Lindsay will remain in the east all summer. Bobby Rowe and Lester Patrick will return in about two weeks.

Youngsters Are Showing Up Well in Victoria Work-outs; Those on Hand

Victoria's baseball squad is about completed. The California boat arriving to-night will bring Lee Ryan, Ashley Pope, Tom Scanlon and Al Moir, while Elbert Felts, Mahoney and a couple of the recruit twirlers will show up later. Manager Deimas is delighted with the showing of the squad in the last few days and he states that his club, while lacking the experience of the rest of the teams will be more dangerous than last season. "I'll have plenty of pepper this season," says Deimas, "and every man will have to hustle for his job."

Babe Driscoll will be here next week and the Bees may put through a deal for a Coast league backstop before many days. Deimas is well pleased with the way Tony Brostrom shapes up, while Cunningham, a Seattle youngster, also looks ripe for a Class B berth. The showing that Blackburn and Beyer are making at first base, with Ryan still to show, means that Brooks will have a tough time winning the first base job, even should he report before the season opens. Lamb is here and will give Faley a hard fight for the hot corner, while Scanlon and Gorman will battle for second base.

Crum and Zimmerman, both of whom are here, are certain for the outfield, while Mahoney, Felts and Dushback to choose a right-fielder from. Of the young twirlers, Reinhardt, Jarstad and Chapman look the best. The former has everything, while Jarstad can hardly be beaten, though Bobby Steele can almost be counted upon as a regular. Chapman's splitter and speed will win a bunch of games for this bony recruit.

The players now at the training grounds include Cunningham, Dale, Roach and Trotter, catchers; Steele, Chapman, Jarstad, pitchers; Reysler, Blackburn, first base; Scanlon, second base; Deimas, short-stop; Lamb, third base; and Crum, Dushback, Zimmerman, outfield.

Pinky Grindle, the Vancouver catcher, who has been wintering here, will report to the Beavers to-day. Five runs were scored by the Chicago Americans' first team in the seventh inning, in a game against the Venice team. The final score was Chicago 7, Venice 0.

There is a possibility of the Winnipeg baseball club changing hands within the next few days. This was the rumor which was heard in the prairie city yesterday, it being learned that a couple of Chicago businessmen were there.

In the opinion of Fielder Jones, former big league star and president of the Northwestern league, Detroit, secured something like $25,000 worth of players when it annexed Carl Mays, Harry Heltman and Johnny Williams, the Hawaiian pitcher, last year with Sacramento. A glance at the purchase price shows that this trio of sterling players brought only $4,500 to the teams from which they were purchased.

TO-DAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

—1912—Charley Ledoux knocked out Jas. Fowler in the eighth round at London. It was this victory that brought the Little Frenchman to general notice, and in France Ledoux was hailed as the coming bantamweight champion. A little later Ledoux lost to Digger Stanley, the clever little English boxer, but in a return match at Dieppe Stanley was knocked out after cleaning up the best of the little boxers of Europe. Ledoux crossed the Atlantic in search of the title, but, although clever, he wasn't good enough. Phil McGovern held him to a draw at Boston, and at Vernon the Frenchman was decisively defeated by Eddie Campi, the French-Irish-Navajo Son bantamweight, and Kid Williams, the Dane. Ledoux is only twenty-one, and, with his speed and science, he may yet reach the top.

—1913—Johnny Dundee outpointed Kid Julian in ten rounds at Syracuse.

TENNIS DATES.

New York, March 20.—At the annual schedule meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis association, in session here to-day, an effort is to be made to complete the list for the season. The difficulty in arranging the dates for the important tournaments is due to the Davis cup matches, which will be played on August 13, 14 and 15. The all-comers tournament at Newport is scheduled to begin on August 24, while the week between these two important fixtures will be taken up by the Meadow club at Southampton.

ADMIRAL TIRPITZ ON GERMAN NAVY

POLICY AND RELATIONS WITH GREAT BRITAIN

Explains Difficulty in Way of Accepting Churchill's Offer of Naval Holiday

Last month Admiral Tirpitz, the German navy minister, made a highly important speech before the budget commission of the reichstag. The proceedings were secret, but, in accordance with custom, a carefully edited report of what took place was published a few days later in the German press.

Only short summaries of this were transmitted to the British press, in which, indeed, no complete report of Admiral Tirpitz's speech has yet appeared. The speech is a classical statement of Germany's naval policy at the present time, and is therefore of much interest. Admiral Tirpitz spoke as follows:

In connection (said Admiral Tirpitz) with what I had the honor to put forward last year over this matter (i.e. Germany's naval relations with England), I should like to say that there has been no alteration whatever in my opinion in regard to the armaments question. I have, with regard to the statements made at that time, nothing either to add or to withdraw.

You will remember that at that time my colleague from the English admiralty had stated that he considered a relation of 14-12 between the English and German fleets as sufficient. (It will be noted that Admiral Tirpitz makes no reference here to the limitations inserted by Mr. Churchill.) At that time I declared here such a ratio to be acceptable. It corresponds, indeed, to the intention of the navy law. In our naval policy we have never pursued aggressive tendencies against England. Our aim has been to reach a measure of naval strength that would entitle us to respect. In particular I directed my remarks to organization. The first part of the admiralty stated that the English fleet was to consist of eight squadrons, and I pointed out that we should have five squadrons of eight capital ships each. We are, it is true, at a certain disadvantage through our system of recruiting, through the heavily-reduced crews of our reserve divisions, etc. At the same time I believe we can make up for that by our intensive work of training.

It did not consider it advisable, and still do not, to extend such a comparison of strength to other classes of ships (cruisers, gunboats, torpedo-boats, submarines). For if one is going to have a ratio of any value, one must remain simple. To add in such vessels—especially as England with regard to cruisers has other needs than ours—would be to complicate matters.

Capital Ships.

Both navies have still not completed the organization at which they aim. Germany needs for its five squadrons 41 capital ships; England for its eight squadrons 65 capital ships. If one takes for a capital ship a length of life of twenty years, this means for Germany a yearly renewal of two capital ships on the average. More than this is not our intention. England needs for its 85 capital ships a yearly renewal of three capital ships. In actual fact, however, it has built in the last five years 24 capital ships—that is, five capital ships a year; 24 instead of 15 capital ships, that is still very far from the 16-10 ratio. If one really desired to come to an understanding over armaments on the basis of this proportion it is only natural that England, as by far the strongest sea power in the world, should be the one to make positive proposals. I have no doubt that such positive proposals would be most carefully considered by us ("auf das eingehendste geprüft werden würden").

Since what was said last year my colleague in England has also, on the occasion of an election, suggested that a shipbuilding holiday of a year should be introduced for the whole world. At least I have read this in the newspapers; further information about it I have not received. I cannot, however, recognize it as a positive proposal; I believe that we should consider such a proposal—this I will say at once—as unsuitable. Either it is a question only of postponement for a year, which would have to be made up in the following year. In that case our finances, the ship-yard labor, and our military organization—the regular entry into the front of new ships—would be thrown into confusion. England's ship-yards are filled with new ships; ours have barely enough orders. Besides its own navy, too, England has to build for a number of foreign states; we have not. We should therefore be involved in the dismissal of a large number of workmen, and the whole arrange of our yards would be disturbed.

If, on the other hand, the ships of this holiday year were to fall out altogether, we should, since with us it is only a question of renewals, transgress the organization of the fleet as legally laid down. In addition, I am not aware that any understanding has been announced from the side of the French or Russian governments.

The Growth of Budgets.

If one wants to be clear over the position adopted by the nations towards the question of a reduction of armaments, all the many tables set out in the newspapers fail to give a proper picture. One must go very deeply into figures in order to reach anything like the right conclusion over the real relation of strength. There is, however, an excellent method by which a proper judgment may be reached—the growth of budgets. On the whole, for the same money the same results are produced by all nations. Although the budgets of different countries differ in many points in the main, the same is reached with the money which is granted by the various parliaments. The growth of budgets, therefore, allows a very good judgment to be made over the growth of armaments, and at the same time over the question of limitation.

In the last five years Germany has had an increase in its naval budget of 55 million marks. England in the same time, although at the beginning of the period its budget was twice as large as that of Germany, an increase of 216 million marks—that is, four times the increase of the German budget! At the same time I am not counting in the supplementary estimate of 60 million marks, which, according to newspaper information, my English colleague announces for 1912. Frange has had an increase of 134 million marks—that is, two and a half times the German increase. What gives the last increase especial importance is that it is almost exclusively applied to the building-up of the Baltic fleet. When we survey the huge increase in the naval budgets of our neighbors I can leave it calmly to the decision of the commission as to which of our neighbors should make a beginning in a limitation of armaments.

In the course of the debate Admiral Tirpitz next remarked that he had not recently remarked the increase in the budget of the United States. Any warlike conflict with that country seems so distant a possibility that it would not be right to mention it in this connection. Although congress has accepted the idea of a naval holiday, its agreement receives at the same time a particular flavor through the fact that nearly the whole of the American fleet lies concentrated before Mexico. A great American newspaper, the Sun, has said with reference to the naval holiday idea that one could just as easily suspend the law of gravity for a year.

In agreement with the statements of a Radical member, the secretary of state continued: I also have the firm

CURLING CLUB WILL HAVE RINK NEXT YEAR

Sufficient capital was subscribed at yesterday's meeting of the Victoria Curling club to ensure the erection of a curling rink in the capital for next winter, which will be owned and operated by the club itself. A company known as the Victoria Curling club, Ltd., composed of the most prominent business men of the capital, has been incorporated, the club having over 200 members to date.

A meeting of the ways and means committee of the Curling club was held yesterday afternoon in the offices of Messrs. Benson and Winslow, 1202 Douglas street. All the members were present, and J. A. Turner presided. The finance committee is composed of J. A. Turner, R. W. Douglas, W. S. Curry, W. S. Benson and Treasurer J. F. M. Pinkham; the building committee of Thos. McCosh, D. S. McCannel and James Anderson. The building committee made a very interesting report in regard to the building, plant and machinery, which was received with enthusiasm. There will be an artificial curling rink in Victoria next winter. The property has been purchased. The location is at the corner

SWIMMING MEETS FOR ROSE CITY

Portland, Ore., March 20.—Following a conference between Frank E. Watkins, chairman of the Multnomah swimming committee, and C. V. Cooper, chairman of the rose festival aquatic sports committee, it was announced that the coast swimming championships would be pulled off on the Willamette river on the afternoon of June 5, the first day of the festival.

Mr. Watkins also announced that he had decided to hold the P. N. A. indoor championships on April 19 in the Multnomah club tank. It is expected that crack swimmers from Vancouver, B.C., Victoria, B.C., Spokane, Seattle and other points in the northwest will be entered.

FIGHT STOPPED.

Lacrosse, Wis., March 20.—The Redmond-Childs fight was stopped by state officers here last night and the gate receipts were seized because of alleged violation of the Wisconsin law, which forbids hitting in the clinches. Childs was charged by the referee and boxing commissioner with violating this rule.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Play Tennis Features in the East.

Despite the fact that two of the Canadian Davis cup team will be selected from coast tennis stars, the secretary of the Canadian Lawn Tennis association, A. T. Hall, of Toronto, announces that he will endeavor to hold the preliminary round between the Australians and Canadians at Niagara-on-the-Lake. The Victoria or Vancouver clubs would certainly like to be given this fixture and there is no doubt but that they could give the Australians a substantial guarantee should the latter agree to make the trip. As the arrangements now stand, trials are to be held at Toronto, Vancouver and Halifax for positions on the team. It might be proper to state that these trials will be for the purpose of selecting a fourth member; as both B. P. Schwengers and R. B. Powell are certain of places.

Changes in Baseball Rules.

Three radical changes have been made in the playing rules that will govern baseball wherever it is played. The Federal league is expected to abide by the changes just the same as the so-called "organized baseball" teams. Probably the most important change is the one that will prevent the coacher at third base from stopping or holding up a runner. If the coacher puts his hands on the runner, the latter is out. Under the old rules the coacher was permitted to put his hands on the runner. Another improvement in the rules is that the coacher can encourage the batter, runner, or, in fact, anybody on his own side. In the old way the umpire used to rule against a coacher shouting to the batter. Another change signifies that if an umpire is hit by a ball on fair ground the play continues just the same as though nothing happened. Last year the batter was often sent to hit over after the umpire had been hit by the batted ball. It is also ruled that a pitcher can deliver the ball without danger of having a balk called on him as long as either foot is back of or on the pitcher's plate. Now, even if a pitcher should drop the ball accidentally, a balk is called on him. Such matters used to be left to the discretion of the umpire. When a player knocks a home run over the fence he must touch every base. If an attempt is made to hinder the catcher from throwing, the batter only is out, and not the runner also, if he is nailed. The runner gets two bases if a fielder throws up his glove, cap or the like to stop the progress of the ball. If a ball catches in the screen back of the bat the runners can only take two bases.

Joseph's hospital yesterday afternoon, when a large attendance of prominent Victorians testified to the interest taken in the institution. The wards and reception rooms of the hospital were en fete for the occasion and were gay with a profusion of spring flowers. A most attractive musical programme included solos by Messdames Harry Briggs, H. Bergeron, R. Troup, Miss Ptolemy and Mr. H. Morand, while charming violin and piano-forte selections were contributed by Miss Howard. Among those present were Mrs. T. W. Paterson, wife of the lieutenant-governor; Lady McBride, Mrs. Stewart, wife of Mayor Stewart, and Mrs. McPhillips.

SCRAP BOOK

Birthday of "Uncle Tom," Who Kindled Fires of War.

Nowadays that type of dramatic production professionally known as the "Uncle Tom show" has been relegated to the "kerosene circuit," and the novel on which it is based has been picked to pieces by literary critics, who have found many faults and flaws in the immortal work of Harriet Beecher Stowe. Yet no other novel in the history of literature ever exercised so profound an influence on human events as "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "crude" and "melodramatic" as the critics say it was. To-day may be called the sixty-second birthday of "Uncle Tom," for the novel was first published in book form on March 29, 1852. At the time of its book publication it was still running as a serial in the "National Era," an abolitionist journal published in Washington by Gamaliel Bailey. The serial publication was commenced in June, 1851, and was not completed until the following April. The anti-slavery paper had a comparatively small circulation, and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" provoked no more than a ripple on the surface of events until it was brought out as a book. The same phenomenon has been more recently duplicated in the case of Upton Sinclair's novel, "The Jungle." As a serial in a socialist weekly the best trust exposure disguised as fiction passed all, but unnoticed, but its book publication immediately upset the world's stomach.

John P. Jewett, of Boston, was the first publisher of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." He was a young man, and his business was not firmly established when he undertook the publication of Mrs. Stowe's work. He was greatly interested in the early chapters of the serial, and, being an abolitionist, he had a sentimental as well as commercial interest in giving the story a wide circulation. He contracted with Mrs. Stowe for the book rights, but, as the serial publication proceeded, Jewett became alarmed over the length of the tale. He begged Mrs. Stowe to bring the story of Uncle Tom's vicissitudes to an end, declaring that its further extension would involve bringing it out in two volumes, with the probability of great financial loss. The author refused these suggestions, but the publisher, with dire misgivings, stuck to his bargain, and on March 29, 1852, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was placed on sale in the book stores of Boston.

Neither publisher nor author had dreamed of such a greeting as was accorded the novel by the reading public. The political contest over the slavery question in the United States was then at a bitter stage, and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was hailed by the abolitionists as an epoch-making work that would overturn the hated institution, while the friends of slavery were impelled to read it in order that they might attack the conclusions drawn by the author. Within a week the novel was selling by the thousands, and the presses of the young publisher could not supply the demand. "Uncle Tom's" fame spread over the United States, but it did not stop there. In Canada and England it was read and commented on almost as eagerly as in the states. Within a year 300,000 copies were in circulation in the United States alone, and probably as many more in other countries. It was translated into French, German, Spanish, Dutch, Bohemian, Armenian, Danish, Hungarian, Flemish, Finnish, Polish, Italian, Illyrian, Rumanian, Portuguese, Russian, Swedish, Wallachian, Welsh, and Greek, all within twelve months, and later into Chinese and Japanese and later into a score of different dramatizations were made of the novel. The copies of the book that had been printed run far into millions, just how many nobody knows. Nothing is achieved before it be thoroughly attempted.—Sir Philip Sidney.

RETEL STORY OF NORTHWEST RISING

British Campaigners Include in Ranks Several Who Were in Operations

Although the attendance at the British Campaigners' meeting last evening was smaller than usual, owing to the counter attractions in the city, the fact that it was in commemoration of the Northwest rebellion attracted a number of Victoria residents who took part in the campaign.

were with regiments in the Northwest rebellion were given an opportunity to speak. Mr. Boggs vacated the chair at this stage to Dr. Bapty.

Mr. Boggs, connected during the operations in the Northwest with the 66th Princess Louise Own Fusiliers, Halifax, described the events of the campaign, and the march across the prairie, while E. C. B. Bagshaw, of Bolton's Scouts, told the story of Ba-touche. He mentioned that Lieutenant Muleahy was with a battery of the artillery. W. H. Cullin, of the Ninetieth Regiment, spoke of the events at Fish Creek, and alluded to the service of Mr. Justice McPhillips, then a lieutenant in the Ninetieth battalion, Winnipeg Rifles.

Mr. Bagshaw referred in feeling terms to the late Lord Minto, who took a prominent part in the campaign and whom he afterwards met as governor-general of Canada.

Others noticed present who took part in the campaign were J. G. Brown, of the Queen's Own, Toronto; Major Christie, D. S. O.; T. Heaslip, Lincoln Smith (York and Simcoe Regiment), and Messrs. Kelly and Wilke.

GERARDY AND YSAVE.

The wonderful melting beauty and emotional depth of tone which Jean Gerardy brings from a violoncello has never been equalled by any cellist of the past or present. Art and genius in him have combined to give the world the greatest cellist of modern times. Ysave early recognized his genius and established himself on terms of warm friendship with him. As a youth Gerardy took America by storm. No human voice has ever reached the inmost depths of the heart with more potent effect than has Gerardy through the medium of his chosen instrument.

It is now nine years since Gerardy has visited Pacific shores, and in that time he has attained ripe maturity and rich development of the intellect and emotions. He is now at the height of his genius.

On March 23 Gerardy and Gabriel Ysave, the talented son of the great Eugene Ysave, will give a joint recital at the Royal Victoria theatre under the direction of the Ladies' Musical club.

The electric quality of Gerardy's genius is felt perhaps most of all in his power of working up a climax from a mood of quiet tenderness to impassioned dramatic intensity.

"I have heard Gerardy in four different concerts during the past two years," declared an expert a short time ago, "and his performances were the most masterful I have ever encountered. If he was a marvel when he came to America in 1905-6 I doubt if to-day one can find a word that may suitably classify his abilities."

There are nearly twelve million Jews in the population of the world, of which some three millions reside in America.

FRIENDLY HELP NOW

IS INCORPORATED

Six Directors Are Named and Powers of Society Extended Under Act

For many years the Friendly Help association has been doing a quiet and effective work in the relief of the few cases of distress that have arisen in this favored community. It has been thought well recently to have the association incorporated under the Beneficent Societies act, which would give it power to acquire and hold real property, enable it to receive bequests, and greatly assist it in its work, which must enlarge as the city increases in size.

A certificate of incorporation has been issued to the association by the registrar of joint stock companies, and it is now empowered to carry on its operations under the act, with six directors, to be elected at the annual meeting in each year, to be held on the third Saturday of March. The first directors are Lady McBride, Mrs. Helen M. Grant, Mrs. Margaret Leighton McMicking, Mrs. Christina D. Watson, Miss Sarah Mary McDowell, Mrs. Mary Hardie.

The annual meeting of the association will be held at half-past two o'clock to-morrow afternoon, in the rooms of the association in the Market building. In view of its being the first under incorporation it is the desire of the officers that there should be a large attendance of those who are interested in its work.

The purposes of the society are set out as:

To obtain assistance for the really needy.

To conduct all business in every department of its work independently of questions of religious belief, politics, and nationality.

To investigate thoroughly the cases of all applicants for relief which are referred to the society for inquiry, and to send the persons having a legitimate interest in such cases full reports of the results of the investigation, and to provide visitors who shall personally attend cases needing assistance.

To divide the city into districts, visiting every family in need, supplying, if possible, those who are in distress with work, and relieving only those cases of absolute necessity.

To obtain from proper charities and charitable individuals suitable and adequate relief for deserving cases, no alms being dispensed except by permission of the committee of management.

To procure work for poor persons who are capable of being partially or wholly self-supporting.

To repress mendacity by the above means and by the reporting of impostors.

It is specifically provided that no person representing the society in any capacity whatsoever shall use his or her position for the purpose of proselytism. All cases shall be placed under the care of their own religious denomination.

Hints on Hair Health

If you use our treatment, we will either stop your hair from falling or pay for the treatment ourselves.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe, which if not removed, causes baldness. This microbe often comes from some comb or brush belonging to someone else.

If you are troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair, or baldness, we believe that Rezell's "93" Hair Tonic will do more for you than any other remedy to remove the dandruff, destroy the germ, make the scalp healthy and stop falling hair, and, if there is any life left in the roots, also promote growth of new hair.

We believe that probably 65 per cent of the cases of baldness could be overcome if people would only use Rezell's "93" Hair Tonic for a reasonable time, as directed.

We don't want you to take our word for this. We want you to test the merits of Rezell's "93" Hair Tonic at our store. If you use it and it does not give satisfaction, just come back to us and tell us, and we will immediately hand back to you the money you paid for it. You promise nothing, sign nothing and your mere word will be taken for it.

We are dependent upon your confidence and patronage, and we would not make those claims, or make this offer if we did not believe that Rezell's "93" Hair Tonic is the very best hair preparation you can use. Two sizes of bottles, 50c and $1.00.

RICHMOND PALACE.

Offered to the British Nation—A Historic Pile.

Will the nation accept as a gift "The Old Palace," Richmond, so rich in historical associations of all kinds? asks the London Chronicle.

Here Good Queen Bess was seized with "a distemper" which cast her into so deep a melancholy that she died—tradition says in a little room, still preserved, over the gateway. Here, too, Anne of Cleves learnt that parliament had confirmed the petition for divorce sought by Henry VIII. She received the palace as a residence, and after the divorce Henry—good lover at all times!—was "so delighted by her pleasant and respectful reception that he supped with her right merrily and went often to see her."

His visits created a scandal in the neighborhood, and to stop idle chatter he found it necessary to have two gossips executed.

The palace—that is, what remains of the imposing Plantagenet and Tudor building—has now been entirely conserved and renovated. Seven years ago Mr. J. L. Middleton secured the lease with the intention of carrying out repairs so as to offer it to the nation. Three years ago his work was described in the Daily Chronicle, and when seen yesterday he announced that, provided a few technical difficulties are surmounted, he would be happy to present the renovated building to the nation.

"The freehold belongs to the crown," he said, "but the lease has another 28 years to run. Last year I offered to dispose of my interest to the crown, and, although my proposal was sympathetically received, some technical difficulties stood in the way."

"Since then the act for the protection of historical monuments has been passed, and in addition Sir William Lever has created a precedent by offering the lease of Stafford House to the nation. I think, in view of these

A PLEASANT MEETING

Women's Missionary Society of Metropolitan Church Gathered at "Lan Daerwen."

At "Lan Daerwen," the home of Mrs. David Spencer, a well-attended meeting was held of the Women's Missionary Society of the Metropolitan Methodist church. Much regret was expressed at the absence through illness of the president, Mrs. Carr, who is in St. Joseph's hospital, and earnest prayers were offered for her quick recovery. Mrs. C. T. Scott occupied the chair.

Proceedings opened with a short Bible lesson given by the deaconess on the words "Come, Tarry, Go." Then followed an interesting part of the programme, when the lives of Chinese and Canadian women were contrasted and five ladies, Mrs. Whiteley, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Grainer, Miss Henderson and Miss Heyward, representing respectively the views of wife, mother, mother-in-law, daughter and daughter-in-law. Prayers were then offered for the prosperity of the work in respect to the women of other nations.

Miss Charlotte Spencer contributed two vocal solos, her beautiful voice being heard to great advantage in the song "Flee as a Bird," while in response to enthusiastic demands for an encore she gave "Thy Will be Done."

Miss Katherine Spencer rendered a very delightful selection of the violin, playing with the technique and artistry that marks her performances.

An event of interest and gratification was the enrolling of six ladies as life members, each of which means an addition of $25 to the funds of the society. Six ladies also became annual members, paying $1 yearly fees. Donations and collections up to the grand total of $200 were received, and after a discussion as to ways and means for raising the balance to equal last year's treasury the meeting was brought to a close with prayer.

A dainty afternoon tea was then served, and a very hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Spencer for her kindness and hospitality before the gathering dispersed.

London Letter

Lord Roberts' Appeal.

BY ANTHONY SCAIFE, J. P.

London, March 7.—The manifesto published this week in the Times on the subject of home rule is a wonderful document. It is signed by twenty well known names, including those of the field-marshal, Lord Roberts; the admiral, Sir S. H. Seymour; the historian, Professor Dicey; the musician, Sir Edward Elgar; the poet, novelist, Mr. Rudyard Kipling; noble dukes, earls and viscounts, such as His Grace of Portland, Lord Althorpe, Lord De Grey, Lord Milner and others. One is struck by the venerable age of the signatories, several of whom are well over eighty, a considerable number over seventy, and only one I think who cannot boast his half century or close upon it. It would almost seem as if wisdom were not invariably the concomitant of advanced years, and the application of a certain proverb which is scarcely complimentary to grey hairs, becomes painfully apparent. If it really is going to produce the effect that is claimed for it and serve the purpose of a national referendum destructive not only of the Government but of the spirit of our constitution, do hereby, solemnly declare, that if that bill is so passed I shall hold myself justified in taking or supporting any action which may be effective to prevent it being put into operation and more particularly to prevent the armed forces of the crown being used to deprive the people of Ulster of their rights as citizens of the United Kingdom.

With all the good will in the world it is difficult to treat the matter seriously, and of course the Liberal papers have had a glorious opportunity to make fun of it, which they have naturally turned to account. Naturally enough the Irish question overshadows everything else in the political world just now and many are the comings and goings between the upper chamber and the Tory whip's rooms in the lower one, while occasionally dark and dreadful hints are dropped as to what is going to be done to defeat the nefarious designs of the government and prevent the hated measure from becoming law. Whatever Mr. Asquith suggests is to be rejected, without short of the total exclusion of the whole province of Ulster will do. As the government will make no suggestion of the kind all further overtures are to be refused. The Unionist party will then "heartily prepare" for the great struggle which is to overhaul the ministry and restore the ascendancy of the house of lords. A huge demonstration will be organized in Belfast and a parade of volunteers armed with real rifles will be ordered. Appropos of Belfast and the wartime preparations alleged to be taking place there the Westminster Gazette, the leading Radical paper, none too soon has sent a special commissioner over to report progress and describe exactly what he sees. His first letter appeared on Thursday of this week and gives the lie direct to the harrowing picture drawn by Mr. Austin Chamberlain of the conditions in Belfast at the beginning of the present season. Speaking in the house of commons he said: "The strain in Ulster on everybody is very great. They are going about their business as well as they can and at the same time they are organizing and drilling an army, but business is interfered with, all life is rendered uncertain for the men themselves while for their wives and children it is a long drawn out agony of which every day and hour and minute counts—blood and tears."

That is the picture which Unionist speakers and the Tory press have turned in ever accentuating colors for the benefit of the public, and the only trouble about it is that it doesn't happen faithfully to depict the subject it purports to portray. After spending more than a week in Ulster the Westminster Gazette correspondent has been unable to discover anything which in the smallest degree resembles the description given above. As for Belfast, business goes on precisely as usual. The largest ship in the world, the Britannic, (60,000 tons), is launched one day during his visit and the next the keel of another is laid down. This, mind you, in a city which in a few months' time is to be devastated by the ravages of civil war. The volunteer force which is drilling in its thousands, took a lot of finding and so far has not attained the standard of an ordinary boys' brigade. There were complaints certainly and bitter ones as to the status of the property market and the drop in the price of real estate, but analysis it is discovered that property has fallen in value not on account of the fear of civil war, but because the Irish parliament when established should adopt tariff reform, which, of course, it will be at liberty to do if it chooses. Nor a word is said in that "terro-haunted" city, in which "every day and hour and minute" (why not second?) "counts in blood and tears," as he would if he really believed war were looming on the horizon. Unless the subject is introduced by you you hear nothing about it. I heard more about the victory of Ireland over Scotland on the football field in a day than I did about war in a week.

The best opinion of our time, irrespective of denominational differences, is growing more and more hostile to this unscrupulous appropriation of money devoted to religious purposes.—Mr. A. J. Balfour.

FAMOUS WORKS ON VATICAN'S INDEX

Maeterlinck Joins Ranks of Great Writers Whose Books Are Banned

London, March 23.—The announcement from Rome that all the works of Maeterlinck are to be placed on the "Index" of books forbidden to Roman Catholics has caused great stir among the many admirers of the famous author and playwright. Henceforth not only his books but the popular "Blue Bird," the well known opera "Pelleas and Melisande," for which Debussy wrote the music, and "The Death of Tintagiles," recently played at the Savoy theatre here, will be taboo to good Roman Catholics.

The "Index Librorum Prohibitorum Expurgatorum" was instituted in the troubled period following the reformation, when Europe was flooded with books containing many contradictory doctrines. The council of Trent appointed a commission to consider the matter and it drew up a list of books to be prohibited. But afterward the council, at its last session in 1563, relegated the whole matter to the judgment of the Pope. A few years later Pius V. appointed the Sacred congregation of the Index, it consists of a number of cardinals, with a secretary, taken from the Order of Preachers, and a great number of theological and other professors called consultors. Cardinal Della Volpe is the prefect of the present congregation, which consists of twenty cardinals and thirty consultors.

Prohibition and Censorship. The congregation deals first with the prohibition, and secondly with the censorship of books. They forbid all books defending heresy or schism or attacking the foundations of religion, and all books by non-Catholics treating expressly of religion, unless it is clear that they contain nothing contrary to the Roman Catholic faith. Newspapers or periodicals which despoiledly attack religion or morality are forbidden, and Roman Catholics must not write in them without reasonable cause. A book which has been placed on the "Index" can be restored to circulation among the members of the church if the author removes the objectionable passages and makes arrangements to the Pope.

The following are some of the most notable books on the "Index": Addison.—"Remarks on Several Parts of Italy" (1723). Balzac.—"All his love stories" (1841, 1842, 1854). Bible.—With commentaries by English authors, French edition, Dec. 15, Mart. 1745. Book of common prayer.—May 15, 1714.

Sir Thomas Browne.—"Religio Medici." Comte.—"Positivum" (1854). Gabriele d'Annunzio.—"All love stories, dramatic works and selected prose" (1911). Erasmus Darwin.—"Zoonomia, or the Laws of Organic Life" (1817). Defoe.—"History (Political) of the Devil." Descartes.—"Philosophical Works." All Dumas Love Stories. Dumas (Father).—All love stories (1852). Dumas (Son).—All love stories (1862) and "Le Question du Divorce" (1889). Flaubert.—"Madame Bovary" (1864). Gibbon.—"The History of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" (1783). Goldsmith.—"An Abridged History of England from the Invasion of Julius Caesar to the death of George II." (1823). Hallam.—"The Constitutional History of England from the Accession of Henry VII. to the death of George II." (1833) and "Views of the state of Europe During the Middle Ages" (1833). Helne.—"Practically the whole of his works (1836 and 1844). Hobbes.—All his works. (1761 and 1827). Kant.—"Kritik of Pure Reason" (1827). Andrew Lang.—"Myth, Ritual and Religion" (1896). John Locke.—"An Essay Concerning Human Understanding" (1724) and "The Reasonableness of Christianity as Delivered in the Scriptures" (1737). John Stuart Mill.—"Principles of Political Economy" (1856). Sir George Mivart.—"Happiness in Hell" (1893). Montaigne.—Essays (1876). Renan.—Nineteen books. (1859-1894). Samuel Richardson.—"Pamela." Rousseau.—Books. (1762-1806). Sainte-Beuve.—"Port Royal." (1845). George Sand.—All her love stories. Spinoza.—"Posthumous works." (1689). Sterne.—"Yerick." Swedenborg.—"Principia." (1738). Thomas & Kempis.—"Imitation of Christ." (1723). Tolstoy.—"La Catholiceisme Romain en Russie." (1896). Voltaire.—Eight books. (1752-1804). Zola.—All his books.

SAYS KISSING OF HANDS BECOME TOO COMMON

Paris, March 20.—Kissing a woman's hand as a salutation instead of merely shaking it has become so common that a writer in L'Homme Libre declares that it is time to call a halt. Not long ago the practice was confined to aristocratic circles, but now it has spread to many of the bourgeois class. The writer goes on to question whether the custom is a revival of the past and asks whether its present vogue is not another symptom of Americanization. He says: "Is it not a kind of natural compliment to the fashion for a smooth face and shaved upper lip? Is it not one of those numerous automatic gestures whereby American formality seeks to 'give itself a foreign air'? It is comparable with the wearing of a smoking jacket in the evenings. Anyway the generalization of hand kissing destroys all its meaning and charm."

DR. YOUNG IS ACTING MINISTER OF MINES

Other Appointments of the Week; Gazette Notices of General Interest

It is announced in this week's issue of the British Columbia Gazette that Francis C. Wolfenden, of Armstrong, has been named as a court of revision and appeal for the Vernon assessment district, in the place of A.H. John Dillworth, of this city, who resigned on Wednesday.

Hon. Dr. Young is to act as minister of mines during the absence of the premier.

James Arthur Arnold, Cranbrook, has been appointed as police magistrate for that city and stipendiary magistrate and judge of the small debts court for the Cranbrook electoral district.

Other appointments of the week are: Dr. Arthur Edgelow, Clinton, to be a coroner; William W. Crompton, Vancouver, to be a notary public and a commissioner for taking affidavits within the province; John Emerson, Vancouver, to be a notary public.

Arthur William Corker, Alert Bay, has resigned his commission as a justice of the peace; Almsley Megraw, Hedley, his commission as registrar under the Marriage act, and George P. Napier, of the public works department, has resigned as consulting engineer to the provincial board of health.

The public works department gives notice that a highway, sixty-six feet in width, has been established in North Saanich, to be known as Wain's cross road, from the east to the west Saanich roads, and having a length of one mile and one-half.

Tenders are invited by the department of public works for the erection of a small one-room school-house at Koksilah, to be in by noon on Friday, April 3. Tenders are also invited for the operation of ferries at Yale, Ruby creek, Hope and Arassac, on the Fraser, and at Kelowna, on Okanagan lake.

The department of lands announces a reserve for government purposes of all the islands not already reserved in the Esquimalt, Sooke, Metchosin and Otter districts. The water branch gives notice of a reserve of three cubic feet per second of all unrecorded water in Sutton creek, which flows into Cowichan lake on the west side, for municipal purposes. The forest branch calls for tenders for the purchase of four timber licenses, one of these being to cut 2,880,000 feet on Wyat bay, Okishollow channel.

The organization meeting of the South Saanich Women's institute will be held in the temperance hall at Keating on Thursday next, March 26, at 8 o'clock in the evening. The organization of a women's institute at Strawberry hill, in the municipalities of Delta and Surrey, is authorized by the minister of agriculture, as well as of farmers' institutes at Spiller river, on Porcher island and at Elk valley, in the Kootenays.

Certificates of incorporation have been issued during the week to the following: Canadian Distributors Company, Limited, Vancouver, capital $50,000; Dominion Contracting Company, Limited, Vancouver, capital $75,000; Equitable Securities Company, Limited, Vancouver, capital $500,000; Interior Hardwood Finishing Company, Limited, Victoria, capital $50,000; Leasehold Corporation, Limited, Vancouver, capital $250,000; Leslie H. Wright and Co., Limited, Vancouver, capital $1,000,000; Northwest Underwriters, Limited, Vancouver, capital $25,000; Orr Brothers, Limited, Vancouver, $50,000; Prudential Security Company, Limited, Vancouver, Vancouver Cannery, Limited, capital $100,000; Westminster Cigar & Tobacco Company, Limited, New Westminster, capital $10,000.

Registration as extra-provincial companies has been granted to Delta Gold Mining company and White Brothers Lumber company. The Dominion Gresham Guarantee & Casualty

Co. and the Niagara Fire Insurance Co. have been licensed to transact business in this province, while the Missouri Fidelity & Casualty Co. has consented to do business in British Columbia.

A DOG'S PROTEST.

To the Editor:—My master has just told me that the city council has refused the very small grant of $100 to the Kennel club this year. I certainly have a voice in this matter, as I and all my dog friends have paid our taxes to the city for many years, and we get nothing in return for them. So I must say I think it is very mean, and a howling shame, and these aldermen who talk of the impossibility of granting this $100 to the club, owing to the "financial stringency," ought to be ashamed of themselves, especially as in the next breath they vote for $4,000 salary for a new job for some mere man. The alderman who talked of dogs as "only a hobby" does not seem to know as my home people do, that a dog is man's truest and best and most faithful friend. Let me ask the mistaken but possibly worthy council to reconsider their decision, and to grant some money to the Kennel club. I am an Irish terrier, and not ashamed of my name, which is

ROLLER SKATING ON SIDEWALKS

To the Editor: I was interested to read letter in your issue yesterday by "Mother." While I agree with most of it, she absolutely declines to concede the pedestrian any rights whatever. I think Victoria is the only city of any size in Canada that allows roller skating on the sidewalks, and you will agree, Mr. Editor, that it is a dangerous practice. Only the other day I noticed a child (?) of about fifteen, calmly skate into a baby buggy and keep on going without ever turning round to see what damage he had done, and the fact that these boys are on roller skates is the reason you cannot catch them. I agree that we should give children all the liberty and pleasure we can so long as it does not mean injustice to other people, but when you see an overgrown boy tear down the sidewalk and expect everyone to give him right of way the matter gets beyond a joke. After a heavy rain our roller skaters do not think it injures the boulevard to calmly dig chunks out of them in walking from sidewalk to road. Let the kiddies have a good time, Mr. Editor, but keep the roller skate off the sidewalk. There are plenty of well-paved roads for the purpose and in my opinion a cyclist has just as much right on the sidewalk as a roller skater. Let us all have a square deal and inform our aldermen that they are there to do their duty to the public and not to cater to one element, even if little boys are late for school. The good roads still remain and the sidewalks can be used for what they were made for.

THE TABERNACLE DWELLERS.

To the Editor:—A great deal has been said regarding the tents at Fowl Bay and a good many people have gone out of their way to complain, although directly or indirectly, it has been none of their business. I am not writing this letter for any particular groucher, as opinions regarding the removal of the campers seem to be both empty and varied. What really prompted me to write was a conversation of which I was a compulsory listener. I overheard going to Fowl Bay by car the other evening, between a lady and gentleman.

The conversation, besides affording me a good deal of amusement, proved to me how ignorant some people are concerning the conditions prevailing in tent town. The lady thought they ought to be done away with, as they were a disgrace to the city; and the gentleman, being there were like a lot of gypsies, they ought to be burned down; in fact the people living there were blessed with no human properties whatever, according to her estimation. However, as soon as the male person got a chance to speak he displayed his ignorance by stating that they (the campers) only lived there cheaply so that they could go over to Seattle to buy clothing, etc., and some of them even went there for a hair-cut. Mr. Editor, I do sincerely hope that this opinion is an isolated one, but in case it is not, for the benefit of others who may have similar ideas, allow me just a few moments to explain the exact conditions. Most of the people living in the tents are property owners in this city, inasmuch that they are paying off for their respective lots in which at some future date to build a home, and under the present conditions these people are unable to pay large rents, and also pay for their property. By living in these tents they are able to keep out of debt and get something to eat until such times come that they can do better, which I sincerely hope will be very soon.

Now I readily agree that the tents are not very pleasant to look at, and if I had a residence opposite I should be one of the first to kick, and rightly so, but at present they are obstructing nobody's view; but I should certainly not make false accusations against the people living there. As long as they are living honestly and decently I do not see why outsiders should kick. I for one do not live here out of choice, but I certainly prefer living here, and keeping out of debt than paying an exorbitant rent and getting into debt.

In conclusion let me offer my humble opinion that it would be a far greater crime forcing these people out of the tents to pay big rents than allowing the tents to remain until things pick up a little in Victoria. They are all white people in these tents, your know, and cannot live like Chinese and Hindus. Myself I prefer living a

GYPSEY.

THAT ESQUIMALT DISPUTE.

To the Editor:—On last Monday night the solicitor (Mr. McIntosh), for the Esquimalt municipality, report was read, condemning in the strongest terms the Yarrows erecting a fence on Broad street, which was gazetted as a public highway in 1881, 33 years ago, with a width of 66 feet.

It was a grand sight when Councillor Wolfenden rose in his majesty from his easy chair and proposed a resolution, which was unanimously carried, that the rovee and councillors remain seated in their easy chairs and advise Mr. Boscowitz that the council would take no action in this matter, and also displayed greater courage in refusing to write the Yarrows a few words like this: "Please, won't you remove that fence."

I understand, since the courageous decision by the Esquimalt council last Monday night, the dispute between Boscowitz and the Yarrows over a ten-foot fence put up by the Yarrows on a public street, the Esquimalt council have caused to be posted throughout the district of the municipality: "Please take notice: Any dispute arising between any party regarding the obstruction of any highway, such as erecting fences, piling cord wood in the public road, erecting barriers across bridges by which no one can pass, and blocking the sidewalk in front of your house, must settle all these disputes amongst those most interested." From this decision of the council there is no appeal, except in the case where it affects any member of the present council; otherwise they will simply sit in their easy chairs and do nothing.

I have never seen a more partisan councillor than Mr. Wolfenden. From the very first he stated to the council that Broad street was a private street, and only a short time before the Buleens wanted some repairs made, and he, as one of the committee, refused to make any repairs. Before Mr. Wolfenden had finished his courageous speech he stated the Yarrows should be encouraged and not harassed; I have no objection to that, provided they run a ten-foot fence all around Mr. Wolfenden's property. And when he comes for redress before his brother councillors he will be told what he said on Monday last: "We will take no action." Should this fence by any chance be erected in front of his home, he might then take refuge on the sidewalk and meditate, and cry aloud, "I am stewing in my own juice." Mr. Wolfenden also stated that the Yarrows should not be harassed. I take issue with Mr. Wolfenden on this point. The Yarrows have had the sole monopoly for harassing Mr. Keay stated to me that from documents—and a long research was made by his solicitor—he could not find any trace of Broad street being a public highway. At the meeting of the council Monday night he was present with his solicitor, who admitted that the Gazette of December 3, 1881, made Broad street a public highway. I had a letter written to Mr. Keay, asking him would he now take down the fence. I have not received any acknowledgment of his intentions.

MISS CORELLI'S RIVAL.

Miss Marie Corelli has, in a remarkable outburst, given the world a satirical estimate of her rivals in literature and at the same time has expressed her independence of the reading public. In a letter to the Birmingham Daily Mail, which had published a paragraph asking, "Where is Miss Marie Corelli?"

After stating that she is very much alive and in possession of all her faculties, she writes:

"I have certainly withdrawn for a time into a retired literary corner overpowered by the crowd of stupendous geniuses (according to publishers' advertisements) who occupy it, considering it but just and decent to stand aside out of the glittering galaxy of these many marvels of the age who (if publishers' advertisements and newspaper booms mean anything) have arrived unto their own-gifted beings who can be nothing less than Shakespeare and the classics re-embodied, even eclipsing those over-rated, well-nigh mythical personages, to say nothing of such out-of-date authors as Scott, Dickens, Thackeray and Bronte.

"I am not waiting till clouds roll by, but only till the dazzling procession of publishers' planets sweep onward in their brilliant course, leaving trails of Bernard Shaw, Joseph Conrad, Chesterton, De Morgan fire behind them.

"Then perhaps I may venture humbly forth with a little book in a limited edition, of which Birmingham may perhaps generously purchase one copy. I put it at this modest figure because from my very first beginnings I have never suited the literary taste of Birmingham, though this distressing state of things has not yet moved me to tears."

Miss Corelli goes on to say: "What readers want they will have, and if they do not want me, I do not want them, and there need be no strained relations between us."

I feel in Russia that for the first time in my life I am in a country where Christianity is alive.—Mr. H. G. Wells.

MR. ASQUITH'S SPEECH ON ANGLO-AMERICAN RELATIONS

Prime Minister Emphasizes Significance of the Treaty of Ghent and the Coming Celebration—Lord Bryce on the Unfortified Frontier

The recent meeting at the Mansion House in London in support of the British Peace Centenary fund was made notable by an eloquent speech on Anglo-American friendship by Mr. Asquith and Lord Bryce, former British ambassador to Washington. A full report of the prime minister's speech follows:

My Lord Mayor,—I came here, and came very gladly, at the invitation of the Duke of Teck upon the terms that I was to be content, as I am sure you will be content, with a very few words. And, indeed, I could add nothing in point either of cogency or reasoning or of beauty of language to what has just been said by the Archbishop of Canterbury. The governments of Great Britain and of the United States, as far as I am aware, are not officially associated with this movement, and perhaps for that very reason it becomes more significant and more likely to be fruitful, because it is the spontaneous expression on the part of the two great peoples of a feeling which is equally firmly and equally deeply rooted on both sides of the Atlantic. (Cheers.)

The Treaty of Ghent.

In that respect at any rate it recalls to those who are acquainted with the facts of history the conclusion, the centenary of which we are celebrating this year, of the Treaty of Ghent. For what was the origin of that treaty? The diplomats went to Ghent, they spent a good many months in more or less fruitless and ineffectual negotiations, and then by one of those curious and significant waves of feeling, of which we have so many examples in history, the public opinion of the two great countries took the business out of their hands, and said, with authoritative and irresistible emphasis—Peace must be made. (Cheers.) And peace was made. (Renewed cheers.)

One of the curious features of the Treaty of Ghent, which distinguishes it, I suppose, from most of the diplomatic instruments in history, is this—that it takes no account of any sort or kind, of any cause of quarrel which had led to the war. I see my friend the outbreak of war between any other two nations in the world. (Cheers.)

Anglo-American Sentiment.

I am quite certain that this organized movement which the Duke of Teck has explained to us and over which today, my lord mayor, you are casting the seals of your great authority, is not needed to corroborate or to stimulate that deeply-rooted sentiment. I think it cannot be more than a couple of years ago that the Archbishop of Canterbury and I were present in the Guildhall at a meeting presided over by one of your predecessors and attended by, I suppose, as representative a gathering of all classes and sections of opinion and of influence in this great community as could be brought together within four walls, at which we affirmed, here in the city of London and in the centre of the empire, on behalf of the British Empire, that under no conceivable conditions could a state of war ever arise again between us and the United States of America. (Cheers.) That was not an impulsive resolution come to in a fit of passing sentiment. It represented the deep-seated and permanent resolution of the British people. (Cheers.) It is not therefore for the purpose either of creating or of nourishing a feeling so deeply rooted and so well established that this movement has been organized. It is, rather, as I understand it, to take advantage of the one hundredth anniversary of the conclusion of a peace which has since been, and God grant, and we believe, will continue to be, absolutely unbroken (cheers), to take advantage of that anniversary to embody in some form a permanent memorial of that deep-seated determination of our English-speaking races on both sides of the Atlantic. I will not presume to discriminate between or to comment upon the different suggested forms that such a memorial should take. The acquisition of the Sulgrave Manor, the ancestral home of the Washington family, will, I am sure, appeal to sentiment on both sides of the Atlantic, and will everywhere be regarded as perhaps the most fitting inauguration of such a movement.

The Study of Anglo-American History.

But in regard to the other schemes which are suggested, I should like if I may just for a moment to lay special emphasis upon one, and that is the proposal to establish by endowment a professorship or lectureship in Anglo-American history which—as I understand it alternately—or in turns at alternate—to exercise its activity in American and in British seats of learning. That, I think, is a most excellent and a most practical idea, for, as the archbishop has so well said, we feel, Britons and Americans alike, that we share history together and that I mean not merely that we go back to great traditions in the days when we were still undivided, not merely that we have a common heritage in the sphere of law and of institutions, but that we share with an intimacy, an affection, and a reverence which is impossible to other people, or great men, their memories, their achievements, and their fame. Americans take pride in the great names of our old English history, alike in the spheres of war, of administration, of literature, and of art. But we take an equal pride, we Englishmen, Scotchmen and Irishmen, in the great men whom America has contributed since the formal separation—a separation which is not inconsistent with real unity of spirit and feeling—men like Washington and Lincoln and the other great heroes whom America has produced and with whom America has illuminated and illustrated the British traditions of history. What could be a better and more human and fruitful way of celebrating this great centenary than that we should establish in both our countries—in America and in the United Kingdom—a systematized, organized teaching of these common traditions and this common history which will lead us both, by reverencing and appreciating the examples of the great men whom we share in common, to realize more fully what is the depth and breadth of our common heritage and our common responsibility in the history of the world. I earnestly commend to you and to the largest public outside—for we are speaking here not merely to the city of London, but to the great municipalities of the country—the opportunity which this centenary so appropriately provides of commemorating not merely by statues and by other outward memorials—valuable and important as they are—but by the persistent teaching of the essential unity of our British race, the greatest security which history has yet afforded to any two sovereign communities to contribute their share to the permanent pacification of the world. (Cheers.)

Lord Bryce.

Lord Bryce bore testimony from his recent experience as the representative of this country in the United States to the depth and the universal sentiment which existed throughout the great republic in support of this celebration. It had not only the support of the president and the secretary of state, who both entered into it in the warmest way when he had the honor to speak to them on the subject some six months ago, but also of men of all parties. It was a matter which rose in the United States above all considerations of party. The same was true about Canada, where, whatever party differences there might be on other subjects, they were all of one mind in the desire to celebrate the maintenance of happy relations with the people who lived to the south of them. There had been many opportunities during the last 100 years which would have constituted sufficient cause for quarrel between the two countries if there had been any desire to have a war, having regard to the peculiar conditions which subsisted between the United States and Canada, because it was chiefly through Canada that any difficulty would arise if it ever did arise. No doubt there had been many cases in which great powers had kept the peace for 100 years. He was happy to think that with Germany we had never been at war at all. (Loud cheers.) But what made this celebration unique of its kind, what gave it special value as showing how war could be avoided if people desired to avoid it, was the peculiar circumstances of the frontier which separated Canada from the United States. It was a frontier of more than 3,000 miles, a frontier which might easily furnish grounds of controversy. In large part it was an artificial frontier, following a parallel of latitude and running through towns and villages. Even houses were interested by the boundary line. He remembered being shown a house which an enterprising man had used for the purpose of evading the law which in both countries regulate the sale of excisable liquors. (Laughter.) When anything inconsistent with the law either of Canada or the United States was being perpetrated in a room on the one side, the scene of the offence was rapidly removed to the other. (Laughter.) It could be readily understood that where rivers meandered from one country to the other, where the boundary line ran through lakes, there were endless questions in regard to fishing, navigation, irrigation, and the use of water power out of which a war might be created if the greatest care and good feeling were not exercised on both sides. All those difficulties had been avoided (cheers) by the sense in both countries that it was their highest interest to avoid a breach of the peace. There was no war which could be avoided if the nations wished to avoid it. (Loud cheers.)

Armaments.

They heard many discussions, and they were not likely to be soon over, about the maintenance of armaments and the evils which they inflicted upon the great countries of the world. In that respect we and the United States had an example which it was worth while to bear in mind. In 1817, not long after the end of the war of 1812, an agreement was made by an interchange of notes that there should in future be on Lake Ontario one vessel kept by each nation, not exceeding 100 tons burden and armed with one gun; an 18-pounder. On the upper lakes there were to be two vessels of the same size and the same gunnery strength. (Laughter.) That note, determinable upon six months' notice by either party, had remained as the bond of security and assurance of friendship, a pledge of peace between the two nations ever since. (Cheers.) Yet the great mercantile marine of the United States on the Great Lakes were not afraid of a sudden descent of Canadian vessels upon them, nor were the Canadians afraid of the sudden descent of an armed fleet upon their shores. Let them hope and trust that the value of the example which the two countries had set in being able to live without armaments directed against one another would arouse the sympathy of other countries, that it would be an example all over the world to those who in every nation seek peace and ensure it. He concluded by moving a vote of thanks to the lord mayor for presiding and the encouragement he had given to a movement which he believed was fraught with blessings to the future of mankind.

DR. GRENFELL IN
ROLE OF MAGISTRATE
HOW HE ADMINISTERS
JUSTICE IN LABRADOR

Another Aspect of Celebrated Missionary's Life Among the Deep Sea Fishers

All the world knows Grenfell as the fisherman's doctor and preacher; but few know that there is also another side to his varied life in the wild places of the great white north. He is also the chief magistrate of the Labrador. It is a side of his work, however, which does not much appeal to him. Yet he never shrinks what his duty demands. But it is a pretty well-known fact that the doctor does not care much about the law or "jurisdiction" as the Newfoundlanders from the Tickle call it. Usually he simply collects the facts and the evidence, writes Bernard Huddiman, binding over the two parties to keep the peace until the case is settled by the minister of justice of Newfoundland.

"Medicine and surgery are my particular business—if anyone wants cutting up, I'll do it. I'm very fond of that." And as he tells you that, the doctor's lean, tanned, face wrinkles into a smile like the weathered old sea dog he is fast becoming.

To be exact, Doctor Grenfell's law jumbles are the jest of the Labrador, for as an old fisherman put it:

"Doctor Grenfell is de finest man I know, and he has done a most wonderful lot o' good for de fishermen of de Labrador; but he don't know much about de laws."

Crime is Not Frequent

The cases he is called upon to judge are not serious affairs. Crime, as a rule, is almost unknown among the fishermen and traders of the Labrador. And when it does break out, there is the great lonely silent places to hide it in till the crack of doom. Thus generally the worst cases that come into Dr. Grenfell's movable court are squabbles between fishermen.

When the doctor's yacht, the Strathcona, puts into a Labrador haven, on an errand of mercy to the sick, if a fisherman of the cove has had trouble with a neighbor, he seizes the opportunity to come to the judgment seat. For example, he judges a complaint that his neighbor has a trap net within sixty fathoms of his own. But the law forbids traps being set closer than eighty fathoms. He further adds to this charge the statement that thus all the fish of the north Atlantic that should go into his own net are intercepted by his rival's.

Now in almost all of these "law-jumbles" Grenfell takes into his council the whole of his ship's crew from the skipper down to the hands. In consequence many laughable mix-ups result.

Engineer is Requisitioned

First of all a constable is required to serve the summons on the offender. George Gosse, the Strathcona's burly engineer, since he is the largest man on board, and thus least liable to personal injury, is generally requisitioned. After having been formally sworn in as constable and after banking his fires, he is put ashore to serve the summons on the recalcitrant fisherman. Big with his mission and the betting dignity of a constable, he trudges off to the shack of the defendant, wholly unsuspecting of a dread minion of the law in the person of an old personal friend.

"I know ye!" he cries in indignation and pity. "Ye be no magistrate!" "I don't say I be. I be only a servin' a summons," explains the newly-made policeman. "What is dat?" asks the other suspiciously. "Has he to do wit de law?"

"De doctor will explain he all to you, when you come aboard. I be only de policeman—" "Get out o' here!" roars the fisherman. "Ye be no policeman! I know ye, George Gosse—ye fished out of Bonavista Bay. Ye be no more policeman dan I be. Get out 'fore I foul your headgear for ye!"

Goes Back to the Ship

With this unexpected incredulity before him the constable of summonses deems it wiser to return to the ship without attempting to serve. But the next day the doctor sends him back reinforced by two of the hands. They find the defendant down on the shore, setting his nets. As before, he shows fight and very little respect for the law in the person of the engineer. Finally, however, the strong opposition, more than explanations and arguments, prevails.

"Dis summons don't mean nothin'."

they explain. "Thou' better come aboard an' see de doctor, and maybe 'twill beat out to wind'ard after all."

Still suspiciously, however, the fisherman takes his oars and follows them. When the magistrate has taken the man's evidence the latter, only too glad to escape, scrambles over the side into his boat and rows away as hard as he can through the lap. When suddenly the doctor runs up the ladder on deck and yells: "Hey! Come back. I forgot to swear you." "Hold on, there!" sings out the skipper and crew.

Wondering what is the matter, the escaping fisherman halts irresolute. Then, finally, curiosity makes him turn. Rowing alongside he clings to the rail, fending his skiff off with his foot so that the waves may not crush.

"How He Was Sworn" explains the doctor, with a smile. "What!" shouts the bewildered fisherman, dropping on to the thwart and pushing his craft clear of the ship's side. The procedure was getting to be too much for him. These people were either crazy or trying to make a fool of him. He heads his boat for the shore. The wind begins to pipe and makes conversation difficult. The doctor puts up his hands to his mouth trumpet-fashion. "You must say, 'So help me, God,'" he hollers.

"So help me, God," sings back the other, and bends strenuously on his oars to get clear of such a pack of fools. On his side the doctor, undecided of the legality of the swearing, turns to his crew for comfort. "I guess that was all right," he says, uncertainly. "I guess I could swear him if he were on the beach and I out here." "Oh yes, sir," agree all hands. "It sounds as though it be all right."

So further work is postponed on the case until to-morrow. Judgment has to be rendered if you are a magistrate.

"Now to decide who's in the wrong," says the doctor. "We might measure he," suggests a practical mariner. "That's a good idea, Jimmie," says the doctor. "We'll measure the distance right now while it's calm."

So, after looking up the law, Dr. Grenfell is rowed away in the dory by Jimmie and another of the hands several miles down the coast, where the disputed territory lies, or, rather, floats. At the scene, after a long and hard pull, the doctor suddenly remembers: "Did you bring a line, boys?" "No, sir," confesses the reluctant Jimmie. "He be left aboard." "Shall us go back, sir?" asks the other, in an anxious whisper. "Neither of them want that long pull again."

"Hold on! Let's see!" answer the magistrate. "We may be able to get along without it. We might judge the distance," he adds after a moment's thought.

"Yes, sir, us might judge he all right," reply the crew, with willing alacrity. That is enough for the crew and magistrate. The doctor, thoroughly satisfied with his own suggestion, tells them to row up to one of the traps. When they have done so, he buttons up his coat, puts away his pipe, straightens himself in the stern sheets, and takes the steering oar in both hands. "Pull for the other net," he commands. "Row ahead until I say stop."

After the boat has gone some little distance Grenfell sings out "Stop." They check her way, while their leader turns about and carefully scrutinizes the water over which the boat has passed.

Rough-and-Ready Measuring. "How far have we come now?" he asks. "About twenty fathoms?" "Yes, sir, he might be about twenty fathoms," promptly answers the crew. "All right, go ahead as before."

Another short row and they stop again on the word of command. "How far is that from where we stopped last time?" asks the doctor. "From there, I mean—just where that wave broke—that's about where you rowed from." He points back to a spot on the water, distinguishable only to himself. "Dat's about thirty fathoms, I judge, sir," replies Jimmie. "It's only ten," speaks up his mate. "Ye-ex," says Grenfell slowly; "I was going to say twenty myself—the same as before." "Twenty fathoms, sir—yes, sir—just twenty," his assistants, perfectly agreed, speak as one man. The distance thus settled, on they go again. The next length brings them to the defendant's net.

"Another twenty fathoms, boys. What do you think?" "Twenty fathoms, sir," answered the consulting counsel. "Twenty, if he's a fool."

"That's sixty, then, Trenier's trap is too near."

"So judgment is delivered. Labrador has more than once been called a land of compromise. And in accordance with the spirit of the land, the judgments of Grenfell move and satisfy the few litigious spirits of her cod fisheries."

WINS RIGHT TO BATHE.

French Court Decides That Bathroom is No Luxury.

Paris, March 20.—By French law a prodigal son (or daughter or even father or mother) may be provided with a counsel judiciaire, or legal guardian, whose consent must be obtained before the prodigal can spend any money except for what are the actual necessities of life. The prodigal can obtain all the credit he likes, but his signature is not sufficient, and those who give him credit cannot collect unless the guardian's signature has also been obtained. A curious case in this connection came before the court recently.

A youth, son of rich parents, provided with a counsel judiciaire, installed a bathroom in his apartment at a cost of 700 francs ($140). The legal guardian refused to pay the bill, arguing that it was not necessary to bathe at home nor to bathe all over at the same time, when wash bowls could be used and public baths offered their services. On behalf of the tradesman it was argued that hygiene is a luxury and even a prodigal has the right to wash at home. The court adopted this view and ruled that the expense was justified.

SPY EXPOSER SAYS
HIS TASK IS ENDED

Bourtzeff Tells How He Drove Czar's Agents Out of Paris

Paris, March 20.—Vladimir Bourtzeff, the Russian revolutionist who had devoted most of his life to exposing agents of the czar and unmasked the notorious spy Azef, talked in an entertaining manner recently with the correspondent of the New York Sun in regard to Russia and his own work. Bourtzeff was summoned before the correctional court to answer charges brought by a man named Pomansky, whom Bourtzeff denounced as an agent provocateur. The hearing in this case was postponed until April 1.

Bourtzeff said a stronger effort was made in Russia to prove a ritual crime against the Jews regarding the murder of young Fashkov, near the village of Pastoff, not far from Kiev, than was made even in the Bellis case. "Russia's misfortune," said Bourtzeff, "is haste, for the czar is a sick man who is obsessed with anti-Semitism and thinks only of finding a crime. The minister of justice, who is anxious to satisfy the czar for the sake of his own career, recently visited Pastoff and made the utmost effort to prove that a ritual murder had been committed, although the boy was really murdered by bandits. More of such charges may be expected until a conviction is obtained."

"I intend to publish within two or three weeks documents and auto-graph letters in regard to the Bellis case which will give striking proof of the role played by the czar's minister in that affair and will lay bare all the secret history of the case."

Secret Agents Less Numerous. In reply to a question about his work in Paris Bourtzeff replied that the number of ochrana, or members of the third section of the Russian police, in Paris had diminished greatly. He added:

"The Russian government seems to be inclined to abandon the use of the ochrana and I now consider my task ended. All the secret servants of the Russian government have been exposed and are known."

"I denounced Pomansky as a government agent. He denied the charge a year afterward and brought an action for defamation of character. I do not expect that he will appear when the case is called on April 1. There has been no news from Azef since he professed his willingness to appear before his comrades for trial and to commit suicide if he was found guilty."

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative"
Can't Harm Stomach, Liver and Bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given. Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

MASQUERADE ENJOYED BY MANY CITIZENS

Drill Hall Offered Pretty Scenes Last Evening; Motor Car Parade

A riot of color and confetti distinguished the Mi-Careme carnival held last night in Victoria. In imitation of the famous carnivals of Southern France...

At the drill hall a throng of merry young Victorians entered with zest into the merriment of the evening, and the carnival spirit reigned supreme.

Many of the fair masqueraders had arranged passwords with their friends, so that they might be independent of the hazards of a chance acquaintance...

"Keep off the Grass," an aptly thought-out costume worn by Miss Neale, won the first prize for a lady's comic costume...

The committee wishes to tender grateful thanks to the following friends who gave such valuable aid in the preparing and carrying out of the entertainment...

Lists Close for May Revision on First Monday in April; Who May Register

Monday, April 6, will be the last day for the making of applications to the registrar of voters for the placing of names on the provincial list of voters for the several electoral districts at the May revision.

Any Liberal who has not yet had his name placed on the lists, and who is qualified, should call at the chambers of the registrar, according to the latest amendment to the act, put through by the attorney-general at the recent session.

UNIFORMS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE HERE SOON

Highlanders Expect Soon to Appear in New Dress; Affiliation With Gordons

Very soon now the members of the newly-formed Fiftieth regiment, Highlanders of Canada, expect to appear in the streets of Victoria resplendent in their new uniforms.

The Highlanders are also hoping that soon they will learn that their affiliation with the original Gordon Highlanders has been effected.

Receiving for the new regiment was carried on steadily, and there are now over 235 men on the roll.

The regiment has a smoking concert arranged at the Connaught hall for Friday week (March 27), when the prizes won in the miniature rifle shooting competitions will be presented.

MEETINGS

Closing Dance.—Capital Athletic club will hold its closing ball on Monday, April 20, in the Alexandria club.

Caledonian At Home.—An At Home will be given by the Caledonian club for the members and their friends on Thursday, March 26, at 8 p.m., in the Foresters' hall, Broad street.

To Speak of Flying.—Flying and Flying Machines will be the subject of an attractive address by A. F. Hudson on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A.

Ladies' Committee Y. M. C. A.—The ladies' committee of the Y. M. C. A. will hold its regular monthly business meeting Monday, March 23, at the home of Mrs. F. W. Witham, 1410 Harrison street, at 3 p.m.

Friendly Help Association.—The annual meeting of the Friendly Help association will take place to-morrow, Saturday, at 2:30 p.m., in the rooms in the Market building.

Sunday Concert.—The usual concert will be given by the band of the 88th Fusiliers on Sunday evening at the Victoria theatre, at 8.45.

Date of Dance Changed.—In consequence of conflicting engagements the Victoria club has decided to hold its dance on Wednesday evening next, instead of this (Friday) evening, as formerly announced.

Fine Programme.—The Shamrock cafe chantant which will be held on Saturday night in the Victoria Ladies' club, under the auspices of the Young People's branch of the W. C. T. U., promises to be a great success.

The quantity of "matter" which passed through the hands of those engaged in the manipulative department in the United Kingdom in the twelve months ending last March was as follows: Letters, 3,288,337,000; post cards, 899,000,000; half-penny packets, 1,079,300,000; newspapers, 252,899,000; parcels, 1,793,200,000; telegrams, 26,945,000; money orders, 10,848,000; postal orders, 14,632,000; old-age pensions, 40,574,944; savings bank deposits, 22,283,077; wireless messages, 61,000,000.

WARM WEATHER HERE IS NEARLY RECORDED

Heat To-day Is but Three Degrees Below Highest Ever Recorded in March

To-day the thermometer rose again, and at noon showed one degree of heat more than it did yesterday at noon, while it was but three degrees below the recorded maximum for March.

At noon it was 65 on the thermometer at the meteorological bureau in the post office building. Yesterday at the same hour it was 64, which was the maximum recorded during the day.

All along the Pacific coast the same balmy weather is being experienced as in Victoria, according to the dairy reports received by the local station.

Contrasted with that is the low temperature recorded at the eastern points of observation. It is colder even than usual at the several points where the temperature is taken, and winter is certainly lingering in the lap of spring.

The cool weather is extending far to the south. To-day at Memphis, Tennessee, it is 36 above, which is lower than the minimum in Victoria was yesterday, and all through what is usually considered as the sunny south, the people are by no means as warm as they would like to be.

So far as the indications go it will continue to be as warm here as it is for another few days.

FAT MEN. CHEER UP! JUBILEE IS AT HAND

Fellows in obesity, let us not longer suffer in silence! Let the tocsin sound, whatever that means, and let us rise in our might and by our united weight crush the skinny straight-fronted men and women who have ruled us and forced upon us diets and the very patterns for our clothes.

Let the crushing be a good job. Let it be thorough, complete, and may we fatten the lean, attenuated men and women of the nation so they shall be as horizontal as a boarding-house pancake.

"Nobody loves a fat man" is on the lips of every thin man and every lathy woman.

Indignities have been heaped upon us. Postal card poets have written lines of derision about us. Comic papers have cartooned us, and even the magazines and the newspapers publish along with advertisements concerning how a person whose nature has slighted can produce a thirty-six-inch bust—alleges remedies for reducing the so-called surplus fat.

There is no such thing as too much fat. A person may have too much drink, or money, but he never has too much avoirdupois.

Only recently did I join the ranks of the weighty. Nevertheless, my heart and sympathy are in the cause of the puffy. My heart has grown with my waistband, and I'm ready and willing to sacrifice everything but my composure, if fat men and women can be restored to the rank of respect that is theirs by right.

A campaign of education must be waged, that people may come to realize large persons have hearts. Moreover, many reforms are needed.

Are the tango, the turkey trot, the harem trot, the subway glide, and the kitchen sink dances intended to promote contentment and harmony in the ranks of the three-hundred-pounders? They are not. They are inventions of the devil. And here let me say that all authorized photographs of the devil show him to be exceedingly thin.

Have any of the readers of this article ever seen a fat hoker? Are not the skinny chicken-pickers, oyster-openers, and professional dish-washers in the majority?

And you can count the attenuated captains of finance, the scrawny postmasters, county clerks, bankers, magistrates, secretaries of state, controllers, and governors on your two hands.

Who all the divorce committees of the senate? Did anybody ever observe a 300-pound affinity? Has anybody ever picked a mammoth joy-ryder out from an overturned automobile at four o'clock in the morning two miles from a roadhouse?

RINGING EARS DEAFNESS INSTANTLY RELIEVED BY THE OLD DR. MARSHALL'S CATARRH SNUFF

o'clock in the morning two miles from a roadhouse? Corpulent waiters usually own the place wherever they may be. The hungry-looking barbers always have the last chair and shout "Next" the loudest. Victory does not come to the thin, but to the diligent, the well-fed, and the fat. Of course there are exceptions from the rule, but usually with these exceptions corpulency comes along right smack-bang at the heels of success. History is replete with the achievements of men, boys, and women, of generous pouidage. Nine illustrious men out of ten had a substantial frontage on Main street. Napoleon was short, but he expanded at an angle of forty-two degrees just below the wishbone. Tom Wallace, M. P., was, and is, Napoleonic in more ways than one. William H. Taft could probably be in the White House still if he hadn't taken up golf to reduce, and Joseph Oliver, look at him, he's president of the exhibition now. Notwithstanding our pre-eminence, we have been ignored, slighted, and even insulted by that portion of the cruel and unthinking world known in the fashion plates as the svelter or slender. Every year a batch of animated Pittsburg stogies assemble in Paris, Indiana, and outside the days of the acquisition with their styles for men. The bixam are ordered by these string-bean clothing clerks to squeeze into the pants that, pinch, and to crowd into coats and vests that make fat men look like the laundry-bag just before the driver calls for it Monday morning. And the fleshy men are to blame. While these aforesaid designers of fashion, in convention assembled, are draping trousers over their pipe-stem legs, the embonpoint of the land are holding directors' meetings, or figuring out schemes for monopolizing trade through the Panama canal. Fleshy women likewise are careless. They accept anything that may be handed out in the way of fashion. The 237-pound wife, mother, and good cook bravely tries to slip into a dress designed by a human hairpin on the lines of an umbrella cover. Every time I go to a baseball game on a warm day I am fain to notice that the fat man, right down front, with his eighteen-inch collar open at the throat; his sleeves rolled up and a big palm-leaf fan grasped in his good, chubby right hand, seems to be enjoying himself a lot more than the animated flag-pole of a clerk, whose greatest achievement in life was when he learned to roll a cigarette with one hand. I've noticed, also, that whenever the orphan's home is given an outing, or a bunch of kids are taken to the circus, there's always a big, round-stomached man or woman, whose clothes fit like a partially inflated balloon, leading the procession and putting up for it. I utter this prophecy: The day will arrive when fleshy people will come into their own. Those who trip blithely down the streets conscious, because they are "the perfect thirty-six," they are admired by all, will climb into the garret and resurrect grandma's sack of hay known of old as a bustle or pad. And they'll wear it. Then we fat men and women will ascend the throne that too long has been usurped by the straight-front population.

Have already been reached in this city. Prices to-day in many cases are higher than those of two months ago.

The Reason Is

That property-holders are remembering Victoria's development. They see the Breakwater, Piers, Songhees Reserve Wall, Esquimalt Dry-Dock, Drill Hall, Hudson's Bay Store, Weiler's, Limited, etc., either being built or about to be constructed.

THEY SEE that the people behind these movements are hard-headed business men who foresee in Victoria and Esquimalt

There are others like it and now is the time to look at them. When you SEE you will buy. Come in to-morrow.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

The "Mac" have given Canada many great statesmen and pioneers, and also a great poet in Orangeville, Ont., eighteen years ago to-day, March 20, 1896. The Scottish "weaver of rhymes," who was known as "The Canadian Burns," was born in Johnstone, Renfrewshire, Scotland, in 1815, and it is not too early for his admirers—a great multitude—to begin planning a proper celebration of his centenary. The future bard was but two years old when his parents joined the tide of immigration that was then running from Scotland to Canada. The McLachlans settled on a farm in what was then the "wild and woolly west," and amid such humble surroundings the Canadian bard received his scanty education and grew to manhood. He was born a poet, and the rural scenes of his youth served but to develop his poetic instincts and make him a true bard of nature. His backwoods muse drew inspiration from the forests and fields, the grass and trees and flowers, the beasts and birds, the distant stars and the earth beneath his feet. Thus his poetry was, as one writer has expressed it, "fragrant with odors of forest and meadow, and musical with the heart-sonnets of his people." Most of his poetical works are peculiarly and distinctively Canadian. His fancy did not wander far afield, but contented itself with immediate surroundings, and that was McLachlan's greatest glory. There were quiet touches of humor in many of his verses, and through them all ran the thread of a profound religious belief, a conviction based not on books or creeds, but on communion with nature. McLachlan's "Idylls of the Dominion" must be read by every Canadian who wishes to claim any degree of familiarity with the best literature of his country. Four years hence there should be a Dominion-wide observance of the centennial of "The Canadian Burns," whose gentle spirit still lives in the literary heritage he has left to his countrymen.

FIRST THINGS

This year marks the centenary of the death of Dr. Joseph Ignatius Guillotin, who invented the instrument for beheading persons at one stroke and causing instant and painless death called the guillotine. It was 122 years ago to-day, March 20, 1792, that M. Louis, secretary of the Academie de Chirurgie, submitted to the national assembly of France a model of Dr. Guillotin's instrument, which he praised as a mode of capital punishment "sure, quick and uniform." It was immediately adapted by the assembly, and within a month the first apparatus had been set up. The first person executed by it was a highway robber named Pelletier. The first political victim of the instrument that was to claim so many was Dancergmont, who was executed in August, 1792. During the reign of terror "The Widow," as the instrument for decapitation was popularly called, was in almost daily use. The use of the guillotine has been largely confined to France, although similar instruments have been used in Italy, in Halifax, England and in Scotland. In the latter country it was called "the Maiden and the Widow."

The time will come when six months in a year, with five days a week and five hours a day will be quite enough for men to work.—Mr. Tom Mann.

The pseudo-economists, the worst scoundrels that our commercial and social life have and that our country and the empire have. If we err, let us err on the side of strength rather than weakness.—Mr. Robert A. Yerburgh, M. P.

HUMAN PROCESSION

Bishop David Mummell Greer, head of the most populous Anglican diocese in America, that of New York, will reach the three-acre-and-ten milestone to-day, having been born in Wheeling, W. Va., March 20, 1844. Besides his many duties in the episcopate and as a leader in the councils of the Protestant Episcopal church, Bishop Greer has found time for numerous other philanthropic activities. He is the president of the Church Peace Union, which will administer the income from $2,000,000 in 5 per cent. bonds recently given by Andrew Carnegie to promote the cause of universal peace. The bishop's heart is very much in this work, and he fully agrees with Andrew Carnegie "that the killing of man by man in battle is barbaric and negates our claim to civilization." As head of the Church Peace Union, Bishop Greer is working in concert with the bishops and prominent clergy and laymen of the leading religious bodies—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish. The New York bishop is also the leader in the recently incorporated joint commission of the Protestant Episcopal church to arrange for a world conference on faith and order.

Bishop Greer is not pessimistic as to the outlook for Christianity. In an interview last month he asserted that the church "is in a better position and enjoying a healthier state of growth" now than at any previous time in his experience. "There is a tremendous spiritual thirst throughout the land," added the bishop. "The people are hungering for the things of the spirit. They want the deep, refreshing stream of religion, and they flock eagerly wherever they find it. You may say that not many people go to church, but I tell you that far more go to church to-day than ever went before. Put the right man in a church, and the people will come to hear him, and stay to believe."

Bishop Greer recently celebrated the tenth year of his episcopate, as he was consecrated bishop coadjutor of New York early in 1904, and became bishop on the death of Bishop Potter in 1908. His connection with the Protestant Episcopal church has continued for nearly half a century, as he was ordained a deacon in 1868, having been educated at Washington college, Pa., and the Protestant Episcopal seminary at Gambier, O. He was rector of churches at Clarksburg, W. Va.; Covington, Ky., and Providence, R. I., before going to New York in 1888 to occupy the pulpit of St. Bartholomew's church.

Dr. Charles William Eliot, world-famous educator, philosopher and president emeritus of Harvard, will celebrate his eightieth birthday to-day. At four-score years of age Dr. Eliot is intellectually as active as he was in his physical prime, and his supplementary article on "The Future of Religion," published early this year, has attracted the attention of thinking people all over the civilized world. Dr. Eliot's "twentieth-century Christianity" would take away the word "God" and replace it with "Our Father." The story of the serpent he casts on the rubbish heap. The Genesis record of creation, the account of the delivery of the ten commandments to Moses, the stopping of the sun for Joshua, and the Jonah's whale legend, among other dogmas, miracles and creeds, are dismissed by Dr. Eliot as unworthy of serious belief. He has "no faith in magic or miracles," and he views Deity as "a sleepless, active, energy and will, recognized chiefly in the wonderful energies of sound, light and electricity."

Brandy to Cure Catarrh

Recent experiments have proved conclusively that catarrh is a constitutional disease, and that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the disease, and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The result is given in the following formula, which has been found to produce most surprising results in an incredibly short time.

From your druggist obtain 1 oz. of Parment. Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and two tablespoonfuls of brandy and 4 oz. of moist or granulated sugar. Stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. The first dose promptly ends the most miserable headache, dullness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal discharges, and other loathsome symptoms that always accompany this disgusting disease. Loss of smell, defective hearing, and mucous drooping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrh, and which are quickly overcome by the use of this simple treatment.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better. IMPORTANT—In ordering Parment always specify that you want Double Strength; your druggist has it or he can get it for you; if not, send 75c. to the International Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, P. Q., who make a specialty of it.

There should be some method by which the employer could be charged on the amount of profit he made, rather than on the quantity of labor he employed.—Major Sir Mathew Wilson, Bart.

For Students, Young and Old A Complete Atlas For Times Readers

The Times has received from the printers a consignment of the Canadian Home and Office Atlas of the World

One copy of which can be procured by any subscriber to the Times on presentation of the coupon printed below and payment of $1.25. This Atlas sells elsewhere for over double that price and is procurable in Victoria only through the Times. This is cost price to the Times in large quantities, our object being to provide readers of the Times with a book that they need.

The Atlas contains a new series of maps compiled from Government surveys and exhibiting the latest results of geographical research. The book contains 126 pages and is divided in four sections, as follows:

- First Section, pages 1 to 62—Maps of Canada, the British Empire and all parts of the world; 62 full pages of beautiful and accurate maps.
- Second Section, pages 1 to 40—Population figures of all cities and towns of Canada, principal cities of the world and a descriptive gazetteer of the principal cities of the world.
- Third Section, pages 1 to 8—The World in half-tone.
- Fourth Section, pages 1 to 16—Panama and the Canal.

The Atlas, complete in every respect, is well printed on heavy paper and bound in heavy covers. It is in every respect a book that every home in Victoria should possess, and for students, whether young or old, is simply indispensable. Many Atlases have been published but one so complete has never been offered at such a remarkably low price. All the maps and other information are brought up-to-date, the book having just come from the press. The Times offers it only to subscribers and readers who present this coupon at the Times office, where the book can be inspected. Sent by parcel post at same price.

HID STOLEN MONEY IN THE PATROL WAGON

Oriental Had Recourse to Old-Time Trick; Amazed When Discovered

It was somewhat unfortunate for Chew Toy, an old Chinaman, that at the time when he chose to steal 50 cents from Bob, an Indian, a plain clothes officer should have been standing within a foot or two, and thus overheard the whole conversation which led to the theft, and witnessed the offence itself. Yet this is what happened. Bob, who is also hardened with years, was standing at the corner of Johnson street and Wagner street about 9 o'clock last night after seeing the motor procession. He was just wondering whether he should take in a picture show or go to bed, when along came Chew Toy, who asked him if he wanted whiskey. The Chinaman stammered badly, and it was some time before Bob could make out what he meant; but when he did he was at length refused to enter into the proposition at all. Then the wily Chinaman taunted the Indian with having no money, and Bob all unsuspecting, but desiring to clear himself of a charge of poverty, pulled out a 50-cent piece and showed the Chinaman. Chew Toy pretended to peer more closely to examine the coin, and suddenly snatched it out of Bob's hand and darted away. License Inspector Scott happened, however, to be an interested eavesdropper of the conversation just a foot or two away, and he was after Chew immediately. A long chase ensued in which the Chinaman led the officer through many by-way and alleys. But he was at length captured and brought to the station in the patrol. Inspector Scott handed Chew over to Constable Ireland, who searched the accused, but found no money on him. The constable, however, has met Chinamen before and knows some of their ways, so he hid back to the patrol wagon and after a long search found the 50-cent piece cleverly stuffed away behind the seat where the Chinaman had been sitting. Chew Toy did not know the money had been found when he got into court this morning, and therefore when Constable Ireland was in the witness box he leaned forward, and said craftily: "Well, you may not find any money on me, did you? So how could I have stolen it?" And then the constable told him. Chew Toy was so stricken that he could not utter another word, but went out quietly to serve the month with hard labor that the magistrate imposed upon him for the proper discipline of his soul.

MEETINGS IN SAANICH

Two meetings in connection with the unemployed situation are to be held this evening in Saanich. One will take place at Colquhoun hall, Ward 4, and the other at Adams' store, Tillicum road, Ward 7. The former is to be a general meeting of unemployed and the latter is to be held under the auspices of the Ward 7 Ratepayers' association. At Royal Oak last evening, Ward 5, Councillor Grant addressed some 60 persons from Wards 4 and 5, and stated the council's case in connection with the paving contract. Excursionists Quick and Dunn, and Trustee Campbell spoke and a resolution opposing litigation was unanimously adopted.

AUTOMOBILE ABLAZE

Occupants Thrown Out of Vehicle Which Skidded and Caught Ablaze This Morning.

A strange accident to a car driven by Frederick H. Deppel resulted in the motor being completely overturned and the occupants thrown out at 2 o'clock this morning. Mr. Deppel was driving on Fort street and approaching the Nurses' home, the car skidded, jumped the curb, overturned and caught ablaze. The fire alarm was sent in, while the police ambulance also arrived on the scene and attended to the occupants who had had a miraculous escape from death. The occupants were William Smith, who was rendered unconscious and had to be taken to the hospital; E. G. Reber, A. L. Procter and Mr. Deppel. The fire was put out by the men from the Duchess street hall.

HELLO, CENTRAL CONNECT US WITH EVERYBODY

We want to tell them of the opening of the only outdoor cafe in the city—the Kaiserhof.

High School Desks—The school board has been advised that the new high school desks are on their way west. They will be erected on arrival.

Peach Jubee—A large quantity of these jubees, which are very popular in England, will be manufactured on Saturday and offered to the public, as a special, on that day, at 25 cents per pound, usual price, 40 cents. The free 5 pound tin of "K" Butter Tablets will be given away as usual to-morrow. Wipac & Co., 1210 Douglas St.

Building Permits—Building permits have been granted to E. A. Chater, for a six-room house at 1922 Carey street, costing $2,500; to A. Parritt, for a house at the corner of Denman street and Shakespeare avenue costing $2,250; to L. Keefer for a house on Chandler avenue, costing $1,750; and to H. Goolley for additions to a house on Mekzie street costing $350.

Taken to D'Arcy Island—Suffering with incipient leprosy, a Chinaman has been brought from Duncan to Victoria and taken from here, by order of the quarantine authorities, to D'Arcy Island, in the Gulf of Georgia, the isolation island. It is almost two years since a case of leprosy was discovered on Vancouver Island, it being the case of a Chinese fruit-packer, who was also taken to D'Arcy Island.

Hospital Meeting—It is expected that some further progress will be made in connection with the plans for the new buildings of the Jubilee hospital at the meeting of the directors this evening. The architect has been at work on the specifications since the last meeting, and the board has also had an opportunity of meeting Miss McCalmont, the expert, who advised upon matters of hospital equipment.

ACCUSED CONDUCTS HIS OWN DEFENCE

F. S. May, Arraigned on Two Fraud Charges, is His Own Counsel

Facing two criminal charges, Frederick S. May, who says he represents imported financial institutions in the east, appeared in the police court dock again this morning, and conducted his own defence. He was again remanded on both charges. Since pleading not guilty to obtaining money by fraudulent means, another indictment has been preferred against the prisoner, it being alleged that he obtained board and lodging at the Empress hotel by fraudulent means. Accused, who is a well-dressed, well-preserved man of forty-six, stated in the dock yesterday that he had been prevented by the police of this city from obtaining possession of documents from the customs department which would show that he was connected with important business institutions. It was shown, however, in rebuttal, that every opportunity had been given for him to do so. It is in order that he may have the opportunity to present these documents to the court that the remand of the cheque case was ordered until to-day. The ledger keeper at the Vancouver branch of the Imperial bank was in court yesterday, and testified that the accused had had an account at the Vancouver branch, but that it was closed on September 22 last. The cheque for $150 was presented in Victoria, however, on March 12, some months after the time when accused had stated that May had come to the hotel from Seattle on March 5, and shortly afterwards had made arrangements to stay a couple of months in the hotel at a rate of $50 per month. He stayed one week, and at the expiration of that period, stated witness, left the hotel without giving anyone notice of his intention. A weekly account was rendered to him, but never paid. In giving his own account of the affair, May said that he had come from Seattle on the morning of March 5 in expectation of returning on the 130 boat. Business, however, had made it incumbent on him to stay for a longer period. Hence his arrangement with Mr. Jackson about the room. The reason he had not paid the weekly bill was that one item appeared in it that he did not understand, and he asked the cashier to look up the checks. That same afternoon he went to the hotel desk and told a young clerk who was standing there that he was going away, telling the clerk to keep the room for him, as he would need it on his return. He went to Seattle, he said to get his baggage, and to attend a convention there. There was no attempt whatever to defraud the Empress hotel, he added. He had spent many thousands of dollars in C. P. R. hotels, and certainly had never thought of getting by them. The cheque case was continued this morning with the production of certain papers by the accused, which showed that he had some time last year been working for certain concerns headed by a Mr. Latham, of Vancouver, who is now in the east. The accused averred that he wrote to Mr. Latham asking him to put $200 to his (Mr. May's) credit at the Imperial Bank at Vancouver. It was with this in view, May alleges, that he wrote the cheque for $150 on the Vancouver branch, which is the whole cause of the trouble. There were, however, certain discrepancies between statements made by the accused in the witness box and the evidence of Inspector Perdue, to whom the accused talked on the way from Seattle. This difference was emphasized by the prosecution. The charge of attempting to secure board and lodging by fraudulent means from the Empress hotel was remanded until to-morrow, and Magistrate Jay reserved sentence on the cheque case.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Digests Food When Stomach Can't; Cures Indigestion

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Diapepsin, get this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition, so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes it is needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

"MUTT AND JEFF."

An event of more than usual attractive power is chronicled for the Royal Victoria theatre this evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening, Gus Hill's latest production, "Mutt and Jeff in Panama," being the offering. These two fun-making characters are known to thousands of people on the North American continent, through the many humorous cartoons of them which have appeared in the papers and through the fact that the theatrical vehicle has brought them before many audiences. In their new stage vehicle they have plenty to do and numerous opportunities to entrench themselves more firmly in the liking of their hundreds of followers. Owen Davis wrote the book, while Will H. Cobb and Leo Edwards are responsible for the jingles and tunes. Mutt and Jeff, with their familiar entanglements, are carried through a series of scenes and situations with a melodramatic tinge and flavor. They are here, there and everywhere, bobbing into view when least expected and leaving a trail of happy infectious mirth in their wake. There is a vein of love in the story which they help to unfold, but it is merely confined to the hero and heroine. As for themselves, they are so busy extracting themselves from their various pitfalls that they have no time to think of the divine passion. There is to be a special Saturday matinee for the children.

CITY ASSESSOR NOW ROUNDS JUBILEE YEAR

Popular Public Official Connected With Civic Office for Quarter Century

Steps were taken by the city council twenty-five years ago to-day which led to that long association with the city which has made City Assessor W. W. Northcott one of the best known, most popular and most esteemed officials who have been connected with the municipal life of Victoria.

The methods of assessment had been unsatisfactory and no serious attempt to make a house-to-house visitation for the purpose of assessment had been made. In 1889 the city treasurer had become vacant and Mr. Kent, who retired some few years ago, was appointed to the position. The incoming council was discontented with the way the assessment had been conducted and at a meeting held on March 20, 1889, it was suggested that three assessors be appointed to act with Mr. Kent. Several applications were made to the council at a subsequent meeting for the position, and Mr. Northcott, who had been a resident some five or six years and had already acted in some arbitrations for the city, was mentioned for the post, although not an applicant. So formal applications were invited and Mr. Northcott was a candidate. The three assistants selected were: William Denny, 9 votes; W. W. Northcott, 8 votes; and E. Dickinson, 6 votes. They began their duties at once, making a systematic examination of the town in the next three months.

In the following spring Mr. Northcott was appointed sole assessor, and has continued so till this time. The assessment of 1890 was only $9,358,970, of which land totalled $6,394,224, as against $8,000,000 on land and $7,000,000 on improvements on the roll for 1914, recently presented to the council. Mr. Northcott being a practical contractor, who had built several important blocks in Victoria before entering the civic service, it was natural that the building inspectorship should be attached to his office, but it was not till the boom of 1910 to 1912, the last being a record year, that this branch of his work got beyond the scope of himself and an assistant. A second assistant was appointed last year.

No man enjoys the confidence of the public and the councils of successive years more thoroughly and his known impartiality has probably been the ruling factor in the several appointments as returning officer at elections.

In only some half-dozen or half-a-score of his plays do we see Shakespeare asserting his characters firmly on their feet, endowing them with exuberant vitality. Professor Brander Matthews.

SPORTSMAN COMES. New Manager of Ritz Hotel Supervisor of Manly Athletics in Vancouver for Long.

The management of the Ritz hotel, Fort street, has been taken over by J. W. Wallis, formerly of Vancouver, who assumed control as the new host of the premises this week. Mr. Wallis, though well known to many of the travelling public of Victoria, is best known in Vancouver where he was owner of the badminton hotel in its palmy days. During eight years Mr. Wallis conducted that formerly popular hostelry and obtained a national reputation as a genial host.

The new manager of the Ritz has not confined his attention solely to the conduct of his house but, in the early days in Vancouver, was one of the sponsors of many sports and athletic organizations to a generous degree. He was one of the organizers and first president of the B. C. Football association and did much to formulate the organizations which have since developed into substantial institutions. He was also for the usual term supreme chief ranger of the Sons of England in British Columbia and in 1907, the delegate from this province to the high court Ancient Order Foresters in England as chief ranger for this province. For eight years he was president of the Celtic Cricket club and one of the most enthusiastic promoters of the championship contests between Victoria and Vancouver for provincial honors.

Mr. Wallis is, therefore, sure to be welcomed to Victoria by the devotees of the manly sports as well as by the travelling public generally.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

LIBERALS MEET AT THE ROOMS TO-NIGHT

Question of Permanent Quarters and Other Important Matters to Be Discussed

A meeting of the Victoria Liberal association and the Liberal Reform club is called for this evening in the Liberal rooms, Cormorant street. All Liberals, whether members of these organizations or not, will be welcomed to this meeting.

The chief matter for discussion to-night is that of the securing of headquarters for the club and association. The club is satisfied with the quarters tentatively selected, and it remains for the members of the association to express an opinion.

In the premises which are in mind there would be ample accommodation for the offices of the association and for the various branches of a club's activities. For these there are needed reading and writing rooms, a billiard room, smoking room, a large hall where meetings of the club can be held and an office for the secretary.

The plans of the Liberal Reform club have been arranged for much work in the furtherance of Liberal principles, and as soon as the club quarters are ready for occupation they will be put into action. Addresses by prominent members of the party will be a feature of the club's activity, debates and discussions on federal and provincial topics and the providing of a good reference library on political subjects.

A large attendance of the members of the party and all who are interested in the inauguration of good government in the province is asked for to-night, as other matters besides that of the securing of quarters are to come up for discussion.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONER

Real Estate Exchange Prepares to Hold Luncheon Next Week; To Discuss Industries.

The entertainment committee of the Real Estate exchange, which is in charge of the luncheon to be given to the mayor and aldermen next week, has secured the consent of C. H. Lugin to speak on that occasion on the subject of the appointment of an industrial commissioner for the city. The luncheon is to be held at the Camosun club on Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock.

In addition to the members of the city council the officers of the board of trade, the Development league and other civic bodies are being invited to the luncheon by the exchange and a thorough discussion of the project is expected to take place.

It is the belief of a number of the members of the exchange that such an official should be appointed with the object of inducing manufacturers to establish factories or branch factories in this city and by adding to the tax-roll still further strengthen the position of the city as the metropolis of the Pacific coast of the dominion.

The many advantages which this city can offer which are not to be obtained elsewhere are such that it is felt they should be more prominently brought to the attention of the manufacturing community than can be done otherwise than through an official whose sole business it would be to look after the matter.

3-Grain Tablet Makes Flesh.

Anyone wishing to add to their weight, improve their color, and restore a normal condition of the stomach and nerves should adopt the wonderfully successful treatment known to physicians and druggists as "3-grain hypo-nutrient tablets" put up in sealed packages with full directions for home use. Red lips, pink cheeks, and a 20-pound increase in weight are not uncommon results from several months' usage. Ask your physician or a well-stocked druggist for them.

It is nonsensical to pretend that we (women) are sufficient to ourselves, because even if we do not really believe it, men could do without us much more easily than we could do without them; though I hope they would be too kind to acknowledge it.—Mrs. G. Robertson (Glasgow).

DISCUSSED CHICKENS.

Lake Hill Women's Institute Heard Interesting Paper by Mrs. Forbes; Arranging Dance.

"Raising and Feeding Young Chickens," was the subject of an interesting paper read by Mrs. Forbes, at the monthly meeting of the ladies of the Lake Hill Women's Institute at "Valley Field," the home of the president, Mrs. Palmer. Mrs. Forbes advised amateurs to begin poultry-farming on a small scale if they wished to achieve success, and gave some valuable hints on the making of simple, inexpensive but effective brooders.

Preliminary arrangements were made for an Easter dance, to be given in the Cedar Hill hall, the date of which is to be announced later. Other business transacted was the appointment of Mrs. Head and Miss Logan as delegates to the next monthly meeting of the S. W. C., to be held at the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Service, secretary of the institute read a list of prizes offered by the agricultural department to be competed for at the Dominion exhibition here by the various women's institutes. Mrs. Power was appointed vice-president in place of Miss Nicholson, whose resignation had been received.

After the usual business had been completed, a dainty afternoon tea was served by Mrs. Palmer. Following this came the presentation of a china berry bowl and dishes to Mrs. M. S. Calvert in recognition of her kindness in placing her home at the members' disposal during their dress-making course. Mrs. Calvert thanked the members for the pretty gift and assured them she would be only too pleased to offer her rooms again for the next dressmaking course which takes place.

After this little ceremony the guests paid an interesting visit to Mr. Willie Palmer's large family of young chickens, before bringing the meeting to a close. Next month's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Head North Quadra street.

FIRST ANNUAL MEETING.

Retail Employees' Organization Elects Officers, Hears Reports and Passes Resolutions.

The following officers were selected by the Retail Employees' organization at its first annual meeting last evening: Chairman, J. M. Anderson; vice-chairman, W. Chouen; treasurer, E. J. Williams; secretary, Percy R. Pike. An executive was also appointed.

The organizing secretary, Dan W. Poupard, explained the progress made towards securing a weekly half-holiday, and detailed the interviews with Sir Richard McBride with regard to the passage of legislation desired by the association.

The financial statement showed that the income was $1,434 and the expenditure $1,160. There was a membership of 540 on the books.

Resolutions calling on the city council to respect pre-election promises and enact a by-law with regard to early closing and arranging that the premier be asked for information as to the powers of the legislature to regulate hours of employment were then adopted.

The idea is universal in England (veiled by chivalry in the upper classes, hideously naked in the lower) that women exist for men.—Canon Green at Cambridge.
