Board Soon Will Deliver Ruling on Rates of Railways

Has Application of Roads Under Advisement Now Following Hearing of Evidence and Arguments by Railway Counsel and Opponents' Representatives

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—(Canadian Press)—Argument in the application of the Canadian railways for increased freight and passenger rates was completed to-day and the case is now before the Board of Railway Commissioners for judgment.

The Chief Commissioner expressed the opinion that the presentation of the case had vindicated the decision of the Board not to hold sittings outside the capital. He was confident that if the Board had held eastern or western sittings, it would have obtained merely a repetition of arguments which had been adduced in Ottawa.

The three final addresses of the sitting were given by Mr. Coyne, representing western boards of trade, P. H. Phippen, K. C., appearing for the Canadian Railway Association, and W. N. Tilley, K. C., counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. Coyne, in summarizing his arguments, declared that the railways had not treated the public fairly in connection with the making of this application; that they had not treated the Board fairly and had come before that body under circumstances not fair to the public.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, he said, had asked for increases in rates when the company had not really suffered a deficit. It was quite true there might be some truth in the contentions put forward, but the Canadian Pacific Railway should wait.

If the operations of the company in 1920 should produce a deficit, let it come before the Board, but not now. Finally, he urged that there should be a considerable increase in eastern rates before western rates are touched.

F. H. Phippen, speaking for all the railways, asserted that the applicants had proved their cases. He emphasized on page 4.

BLAME PUT UPON MONEY SCARCITY

Philip, Queensland ex-Premier, Speaks of Premier's London Failure

London, Aug. 21.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Sir Robert Philip, a former Premier of Queensland, strongly resents the suggestion made in a speech by the Lieutenant-Governor of Queensland that he (Philip) had so misrepresented his financial position here as to interfere with Premier Theodore's mission to raise a loan to finance the state steel works.

Sir Robert says the failure of Mr. Theodore's mission was largely due to the scarcity of money, although it is not unlikely that resentment created in certain financial circles by the state's regulatory legislation had a damaging influence.

Twenty-Nine Eives Toll Of Great Lakes Disaster

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 21.—The lives of twenty-nine persons, one of them a woman, are believed to have been lost last night when the steamer Superior City, a freighter, sank four and a half miles northeast of Whitefish Point, in Lake Superior, after colliding with the steamship Willie L. King.

Four members of the crew, including Captain Edward Sawyers, of Albion, Mich., were saved. Names of the missing could not be learned to-day as all records of the boat were lost.

The missing woman was the wife of the second engineer, of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company, owners of the steamer Superior City, sunk in collision in Lake Superior last night, had received no word at 11 o'clock to-day of the safety of twenty-eight men of the crew of thirty-two and expressed grave fears that they were drowned. Press reports said four members of the crew had been saved.

TELEPHONE TO PLANE IN FLIGHT

London Man Talked Through Air to Pilot Headed for France

Heard Whizzing of Propeller; First Commercial Conversation on Record

London, Aug. 21.—What is claimed to be the first commercial conversation conducted by telephone through the ordinary central and wireless with a man in an aeroplane was carried out successfully to-day. It was not an experiment but was used for the delivery of imperative instructions. A member of a London shipping firm, using an ordinary desk telephone, was able to give one of his air pilots flying across the English Channel to Paris instructions affecting coal supplies at Marseilles, which had run short on account of the Cardiff coal strike. Connection was first established with the Croxson aerodrome and it was then switched through to the Air Ministry's wireless installation. After two calls by the official at the desk an answer came from the pilot in the air.

The caller was able to hear the whizzing propeller. The pilot told him he was just passing over Folkestone.

WIRELESS MESSAGE TRAVELED FAR

First Radio Message Heard Around World, Says Bordeaux Station

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—Interception by the navy radio station at Yerba Buena Island, San Francisco Bay, of a message early to-day from the Lafayette radio station Bordeaux, France, indicated success of world-wide radio broadcast from one station. It was stated to-day by Commander Charles R. Clark, Pacific Coast communication superintendent of the Navy Radio Service.

The Lafayette station message, picked up in perfect clarity, was as follows: "Secretary Navy, Washington: This is the first wireless message to be heard around the world and marks a new milestone on the road of scientific accomplishment."

"Lafayette Station." Series of Tests. It is first of a series of test messages to extend over thirty days, to determine the power of the Lafayette station, the most powerful in the world, and the United States navy radio communication service for France.

Yerba Buena Station here is about 1,200 miles from Bordeaux. The most distant station from Bordeaux is the Tutuila, Samoa, United States navy radio station. Commander Clark declared he is confident that Tutuila, as well as Pearl Harbor, Honolulu and Cavite, Philippines, radio stations intercepted the message.

Irish Conference Next Week to Seek Settlement

Dublin, Aug. 21.—All moderate sections of opinion in Ireland are greatly interested in next Tuesday's conference, called to enable every shade of Home Rule sentiment to unite in a statement to Premier Lloyd George regarding the future government of Ireland. This statement will detail in particular what measures short of a republic will keep Ireland within the Empire and which, though possibly opposed by the Sinn Fein, may satisfy the general body of Irish opinion. The meeting, while suggested by the Dominion Home Rulers, will be open to every section and group and will include a number of men who until six months ago were identified with the Unionist cause.

The main point for discussion will be whether a demand should be made for a complete withdrawal of the Irish Bill now before the House of Commons or whether an attempt should be made to graft on to it a wide extension of powers, especially regarding finance, which would make it acceptable and workable. The party headed by Sir Horace Plunkett favors complete withdrawal of the bill and establishment of a convention elected on the proportions representation scheme from all Ireland to put forward a joint Irish plan. Stephen Gwynn, a former member of the House of Commons, and his group believe the Government's commitments to Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, would make this impracticable. They suggest detailed amendments to the Government bill that would strengthen the power of the Central Council by assigning to it such Departments as agriculture, railroads and postoffices, which concern all Ireland.

PRAIRIE FROSTS, BUT DAMAGE SLIGHT

On the Whole Damage to Grain Crops Is Reported Negligible

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—(Canadian Press)—The past two nights there have been light frosts in some parts of the prairie provinces, but information available to-day indicates that damage to the grain crops has been negligible. Garden produce suffered a little, particularly in the Regina district. To-day the weather is warming up and it is thought the danger is over for the present at least.

A special dispatch to Winnipeg papers from Breckenridge, in the Yorkton district of Saskatchewan, says that twelve to fourteen degrees of frost at that place last night caused "tremendous damage" to late grain crops and completely destroyed all garden stuff.

Moose Jaw, Aug. 21.—No damage to grain is reported in this district as a result of the frosts of the last two nights. In the low lying districts garden crops have suffered a little, particularly potatoes. On the high-land, however, even the potato crops have so far escaped any serious damage.

North Saskatchewan. Prince Albert, Aug. 21.—There was no damage by frost in Northern Saskatchewan last night. The minimum temperature here was forty-two degrees. Reports from other places in this part of the province indicate no frost damage.

Brandon District. Brandon, Aug. 21.—The temperature in the Brandon district dropped to 21 Friday night. While some slight damage was done to market garden stuff, no serious results are feared.

Lisbon, Aug. 21.—Count Villar, a Portuguese nobleman, was shot and killed yesterday by an army officer of high rank as he was alighting from a carriage with the officer's wife. The assassin then fired upon the woman, who was about to enter the offices of a firm of lawyers to arrange for a divorce suit. She was slightly wounded.

MRS. DUNSMUIR AIDS STRICKEN FAMILY

Donation to Times Fund Includes Gift of $100 From Hatley

Mrs. Dunsmuir has given a donation of $100 to the Times fund on behalf of the family of the late William King, who with his daughter was drowned on Monday last at Goldstream, leaving the family in destitute circumstances. This generous donation is one of many which have been received at this office in response to the appeal made through these columns, but more must be forthcoming if the family is to receive the assistance which has been promised.

For the benefit of those readers who are unaware of the circumstances, it should be stated that Mrs. King and her two young children have been left without means, the result of the death of Mr. King and his daughter. The loss of their entire home through fire last Fall and Mrs. King's ill-health, which has necessitated her performance of a series of operations during the past year, depleted the family's little savings, and Monday's tragedy added the culminating blow to their troubles. Unable to work, owing to her invalid condition, Mrs. King is in desperate straits, and it is felt that these many philanthropically-inclined Victorians who will gladly help this poor woman in her terrible distress.

Donations received to date are as follows: M. S. Vancouver, $10; Unity, $1; B. and H., $30; H. M., $6; Mary Glendinning, $5; Dominion Junk Co., $5; Mrs. Harry Davy, $2; Mrs. Dunsmuir, $100; A. Friend, $1; Mable and Grace Miller, $1; A. Friend, $1; Mrs. Smith, $1; W. F. BUSH FIRE CAUSE OF THREE DEATHS

Village North of Winnipeg Swept By Flames; Homes and Crops Burned

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—Three persons were killed, twenty homes were destroyed and a new school building was razed by a bush fire which swept through the village of Mulvihill, ninety-six miles north of Winnipeg, yesterday and to-day. The victims were the wife, mother and father of George Ward.

Crops throughout a wide region have been destroyed by the flames, which have been burning slowly for several weeks. High winds during the last two days fanned them into greater force and volunteer fire fighters were unable to check the spread before the village was endangered.

READY FOR SERVICE BY SEPTEMBER 15

Pacific Great Eastern Line Will Be Extended To Deep Creek

Eighty-four additional miles of the Pacific Great Eastern will be turned over ready for operation on September 15, A. F. Proctor, Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways, Provincial Government, announced to-day on his return from an inspection of the work.

This additional mileage will carry the Pacific Great Eastern from Squamish through to Deep Creek, which is 24 miles north of Squamish and 52 miles south of Quesnel.

The Great Bridge. Construction of the big steel bridge at Deep Creek is being rushed. The steel towers from the river bed which carry the track are about the highest in the world. They are 281 feet high from the water to the base of the rail and about 300 feet from the bottom of the foundation to the rail.

Mr. Proctor announced that the Deep Creek bridge will be completed between October 15 to 25. Track-laying on the other side of the Great Bridge is proceeding satisfactorily and will be reached before the middle of December. Between Deep Creek and Quesnel all grades and bridges will be completed before the end of the year.

Fifteen hundred men are now employed in pushing the line through. Construction of the new line north of Quesnel is proceeding satisfactorily. Mr. Proctor reports. The work is 70 to 75 per cent. complete.

SAANICH VOTERS BALLOTING TO-DAY

School Board Policy Depends On Election Result; Bylaws Big Vote Expected

Saanich is excited to-day with the climax to the past ten days' speech-making activity. Polling for the vacant seat of the Board of School Trustees and for the water and sewer by-laws commenced at nine o'clock this morning and will continue until seven o'clock this evening. Not since the roads by-law was submitted to the ratepayers in September, 1914, has so great an interest been taken in any proposals as the main subject of discussion is the fate of the two by-laws.

A Question of Policy. In the minds of residents of Saanich the question of who will secure the seat on the School Board is running a close second to the money by-laws, there being, for the first time in very many years, a question of policy involved in the school trustee contest.

In previous years the choice has usually rested on the personality of the candidates. Both Mr. Oldfield and Mr. Tait are in this election resting their appeal for support rather on what they stand for. The courses taught in the schools are a question of policy, also operating in the minds of the voters.

Reports from all the wards indicate that while the vote up to midnight was light, that was only what was expected, and there is every expectation that the vote this afternoon will be large enough to mark this election as the most widely considered of any contest ever held at other than the annual pollings.

ESQUIMALT ROAD PAVING CONFERENCE

Local Improvement Plan Expected To Be Solution Of Problem

Negotiations for the paving of the main Esquimalt Road running through the old Songhees Reserve, which is in such a bad condition that automobiles make a detour of miles to get to the city, were started at the Parliament Buildings to-day between Premier Oliver, Hon. Dr. King, A. F. Proctor, Chief Engineer of Railways, representing the Provincial Government, and Mayor Porter, City Solicitor Pringle and City Engineer Preston, representing the city.

Premier Oliver announced to the conference that if the Government were to assist in the paving it would have to be done under the local improvement plan.

City representatives asked for a straight grant from the Government for the work on the understanding that the city would pay the rest of the cost.

The Premier said that if a satisfactory local improvement plan were evolved the Government would likely go right ahead under the scheme.

The executive will probably hold a meeting on Monday to decide on what local improvement terms the Government will come in. This meeting is being held before the Premier leaves for the North so that all delay will be obviated in getting the work started.

For years the city and the Provincial Government have not been able to come to terms for the paving of Esquimalt Road through the Reserve. The road is a city road, but the property it runs through is Government property. Except this half mile all of the Esquimalt Road as far as the city limits is paved.

ANNIHILATES MICE AND LOSES $1,800

Woman in Great Falls, Montana, Uses Gasoline With Unexpected Results

Great Falls, Mont., Aug. 21.—Mrs. D. D. Brown, a resident here, was troubled with a nest of mice in the stable behind her home. Last evening she poured a quantity of gasoline in the entrance to the mouse hole and touched it off with a match, hoping to suffocate the mice or kill them with the fumes. She did.

The entire mouse family was destroyed; also a pen of chickens, a hatch of rabbits, a buggy, a portion of Mrs. Brown's clothes, and the stable. Loss $1,800. No insurance.

"At least," said Fire Chief A. J. Trodick, viewing the scene of the house killing, "you will not try the gasoline cure for mice again."

"I don't know whether I shall or not," said Mrs. Brown. "That's my business."

General Wrangel took 5,000 prisoners on the lower Dnieper, where he permitted the Bolsheviks to cross the river, and then cutting them off by a speedy cavalry charge, gave his infantry, which had feigned a repulse, a chance to attack the surprised enemy.

In the Northeastern sector, Wrangel's troops have taken 1,000 prisoners and many guns.

Old Folks Need Mild Bowel Tonic

And Should Avoid the Use of Harsh Pills and Drastic Purgatives

Old people, no matter how sound and healthy, should avoid cathartic pills, purgative water, salts and all such temporary relief measures. They ease conditions to-day, but bind you up worse than ever to-morrow.

It is better to get the bowels into the habit of performing their useful function at a certain time each day and this can be done by strengthening the muscles of the stomach and bowels by the tonic action of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, a mild laxative that acts as close to nature's way as possible.

Thousands of people, old and young, prevent and cure habitual constipation by using Dr. Hamilton's Pills, a mild yet active medicine that is noted for its promptness in curing headaches, belching gas, sourness in the stomach, fullness after meals, liver soreness and muddy complexion. You'll have the best of health, feel good, eat well, digest and sleep well if you regulate the system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c. per box at all dealers.

scientists, who opened their sessions August 2, plan to close to-morrow. Hawaii's sugar output in 1876 had grown to 26,000 tons, said Mr. Bishop, and at that time the old kingdom of Hawaii concluded a reciprocity agreement with the United States which lifted the duty off Hawaiian sugar entering the United States. This gave the industry a great impetus, and in 1882, according to Mr. Bishop's figures, the output had jumped to 57,000 tons. From then on the increase was steady, with the exception of the McKinley tariff years, 1889 and 1890, until it reached the 600,000 ton mark of to-day.

Back To Japan.

Hilo, T.H., Aug. 20.—Of seven Japanese sugar cane planters who have left Hilo to retire to comparative luxury in Japan, it is said one took with him $20,000, and that none had less than $10,000. Sugar prices of the last few years, and particularly of this year, have made handsome profits for the contract planters.

SAN FRANCISCO'S CHINATOWN SHRINKS

Not More Than 7,000 There Now; Over 30,000 Before Fire of 1906

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—San Francisco's Chinatown, at one time perhaps the largest in any American or European city, continues to decrease in population, according to statements from the Chinese Consulate and the Chinatown police squad. Before the San Francisco fire of 1906 there were over 30,000 Chinese here, it was estimated. Today Chinatown is credited with a population of between 5,000 and 7,000.

Chinese populations of other sections of the United States also are decreasing, according to census figures at the Consulate. In 1900, they show, there were approximately 20,000 Chinese in the United States. In 1910 the number had decreased to about 17,000, and in 1920 to 55,000. Many reasons have been assigned for the decrease here. The Consulate thinks restrictions on Chinese immigration have been the main cause and agrees with officials of the police squad that the ban placed on gambling in the Chinese quarter is another reason. Chinese love to gamble, the police say, and when the ban was ordered many left. Eastern cities have called many San Francisco Chinese where they engage in the restaurant and laundry business. Chicago, it is said, has drawn heavily upon San Francisco Oriental quarter.

BRITISHERS KILLED IN MESOPOTAMIA

Five Britishers and Some Arabs Killed by Arabs; Disturbed Conditions

Bombay, Aug. 20.—Another tragic chapter of the series of Arab risings against the British in Mesopotamia has been received. The message says: "Mr. Drigley, a political officer; Brantford, commandant of the levies; Mr. Buchanan, an irrigation officer, and two British non-commissioned officers were killed at Shahrab, Mesopotamia, last Sunday by Arabs. The officers, with the levies, resisted overwhelming numbers for three days until their ammunition was exhausted. The Arab levies were loyal to the end, and died fighting side by side with the British."

London, Aug. 21.—Fears are expressed here that recent events in Mesopotamia will involve Great Britain in a costly military campaign. Official reports show that the country is in a state of anarchistic rebellion against the British administration, especially northeast of Bagdad and between Bagdad and Mosul. British garrisons have been invested, railways cut and British officers murdered.

According to official accounts, the situation is much more serious than revealed in the official dispatches. Only last night the India Office issued a statement confirming reports of a disaster to a British force in Mesopotamia last Sunday. It added that the wife of Mr. Buchanan, an irrigation officer who was killed, was captured by the Arabs, but was reported to be safe and well treated. Her child was believed to have been with her.

The news in the Bombay dispatch telling of the killing of the Britishers was the first intimation that Arab levies were fighting on the side of the British.

A War Office announcement issued earlier in the day here yesterday said latest reports showed little change in the Mesopotamia situation. The Bakuba were still in revolt as far north as Thankin, the announcement said. A British post at Sakya, twenty-five miles south of Kifri, had been invested. The railway from Hillaga to Bagdad had been secured at both ends by lines of blockhouses. Defences were being constructed near Bagdad.

Already there are 70,000 British and Indian troops in Mesopotamia and 10,000 or more with artillery are on their way from India, but apparently many more such reinforcements will be required to restore order.

Against Methods. The revolt is presumed to be against the methods of the British administration, which is wholly in the hands of British political and military officers. Under the mandate in Mesopotamia Great Britain undertakes to establish local autonomy, and the Arabs complain that they are allowed no share in the administration.

The Liberal press here complains bitterly of the alleged failure of the French Government in Syria and of the British in Mesopotamia to carry out their undertakings and establish Governments, and there is strong sentiment expressed against fighting the Arabs, who were Great Britain's allies in the great war.

Meeting Called. The British Government has appointed the brother of Prince Faisal, the King of Syria, as the ruler in the British sphere, and summoned Arab representatives to meet at Bagdad to arrange for a constitution for the Arab state in accordance with the mandate. However, under the existing conditions, with the Arabs apparently trying to invest Bagdad, there is considered to be little prospect of such an assembly meeting.

The moderate organs of Liberal opinion, while deprecating involving the country in a new war in Mesopotamia, admit the need of restoring order before autonomy there is possible.

HAWAIIAN "SWIPES" HAS A BIG "KICK"

Honolulu, T.H., Aug. 21.—A battle of "swipes," a liquor illicitly distilled in the Hawaiian Islands, which is said to have, by actual measurement, a "kick" of 250 pounds to the square inch, exploded and blew a hole in the arm of Antonio Lindo, messenger of the United States district court of Honolulu. The city physician repaired the damage with five stitches.

Lindo was helping United States Marshal J. J. Smiddy clear his office of several consignments of "swipes," "okolehao" and other illegal drinks taken in recent raids, when the accident occurred. "Swipes," it is said, is composed mainly of chewing tobacco, raisins and decayed fruit. Marshal Smiddy says a quart bottle of "swipes" two months old produces a gas pressure of 250 pounds to the square inch.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY (Publishers of the Famous-NEW Standard Dictionary), NEW YORK

Miss Annie Nicholl, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nicholl, were united in marriage Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Church, by Rev. S. Ryall, rector of the church. The groom was supported by his brother, Clyde Foster, while Miss Mary Cope-land acted as bridesmaid. After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the bridal couple left for Saanich, where they will spend their honeymoon at the summer camp of the groom's cousin, Mrs. McDonald. Mr. and Mrs. Foster will reside in Nanaimo.

8 o'clock. Grand lodge officers will be present for the purpose of instituting the lodge and installing the officers. The new lodge starts out with a good charter membership list and the members look forward to making the lodge a very strong one.

Want Site.

Nanaimo—It is reported on reliable authority that it is the intention of the Famous Players Lasky Company to erect a modern theatre in Nanaimo in the very near future, the erection of the theatre in this city to be in connection with the decision of the company to expend the sum of six million dollars in the building of theatres in Canada west of Winnipeg.

While the site of the new theatre has not been definitely selected, the company has three places in view, all of which are centrally located, it being the intention to have the front part of the building fitted up for stores and office quarters.—Nanaimo Free Press.

ANGLO-JAPANESE TREATY.

Although there is no truth in the New York report that Mr. Lloyd George is to meet representatives of the British Dominions at Vancouver next Fall to discuss the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty, it is well known that there will be a conference between the various Governments of the Empire before the treaty is renewed. The occasion of this gathering probably will be the Imperial Conference in London next October, when many important problems will come under review, including that of naval and military defence.

A FREE PORT AREA.

The Toronto Globe speaks favorably of Victoria's recent request to the Minister of Railways and Canals for the establishment of a free port area here. It makes the mistake, however, of assuming that the application covers the whole port, that Victoria desires to be placed entirely outside the operation of the tariff. What is sought is the conversion of only the district in the neighborhood of the ocean docks into a free port area, which thus would become a freight distribution centre for this part of the Pacific Coast.

THE STORMY PETREL.

North Vancouver's member in the Legislature gave an interview to an Edmonton newspaper a few days ago in which he stated that he proposed to make another effort to get to the bottom of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway affairs and find out where the campaign funds went to. In other words, if there should be another session of the present House he would re-introduce his resolution calling upon the Legislature to sanction a Royal Commission for the purpose of raking up an ancient record which has no bearing whatever on the country's progress, but which, on the contrary, would merely waste a great deal of time at a period when the Legislature's attention is demanded for the consideration of business of importance.

THE B. C. HOUSE.

In a special dispatch from London to The Vancouver World reference is made to the method of keeping the public accounts of this Province in so far as they relate to the British Columbia House. An exhaustive examination of the books by a well known Old Country firm of accountants leads to the suggestion that whereas the Province's overseas agency is debited with the entire disbursements, it is not credited with the income from rents received, not to mention the amount that would have to be paid in rent if the Agent-General occupied other premises.

The annual outlay on the establishment is $50,000, while the rents received aggregate $37,000. The auditors point out that the difference between expenditure and revenue would not be more than enough to rent a very modest suite of offices for the Agent-General himself anywhere in the proper quarter of London. They also show that the cost of running the office is nothing like as heavy at this time as the accounts for previous years would make it appear. On this basis of reckoning, therefore, the net cost of the building to the Province for the year 1918-19, for instance, actually was $12,042.19, and the question arises whether this is really a loss to British Columbia at all in view of the fact that the owner of the building, the Province, is not charged rent at all.

IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE.

Three and a half years ago laborers in the employ of the Province were paid $2.75 for a day of eight hours; to-day the lowest paid labor in the Government service is four dollars and twenty cents for the self-same eight hours. As compared with September of last year the cost of railway construction during the first six months of 1920 increased no less than thirty per cent. Added to these very vital factors should be the reminder that this kind of development work must be carried on with borrowed capital; that capital could be obtained when the Pacific Great Eastern Railway programme was inaugurated at four and one-half per cent. as against six per cent., which represents the cost of money at the present time. It will be seen, therefore, that the Government is compelled to go with a great deal of care when it comes to saddling the taxpayer with the large financial obligations involved in such a costly undertaking as railway construction.

OTHER PAPERS' VIEWS.

"UPS AND DOWNS" IN NEW YORK
(The New York Tribune)
New York is a city of ups and downs. There are 22,423 elevators moving up and down in buildings in this borough from morning until night. After 6 o'clock in the evening such traffic on the Isle of Manhattan is greatly reduced because the great system of lifts in commercial districts is closed down. The great pressure of business has made it necessary to keep more lifts in operation now in buildings below Chambers Street than before the war. For the purpose of lifting folks from the street level or the subway level to the tiers and tiers of offices, apartments and hotel rooms spread over Manhattan there are 1,222 cars, 5,952 cars carry freight exclusively, 3,530 lifts come to the sidewalk level and are known as sidewalk elevators, and there are 949 homes in Manhattan which are equipped with private elevators.

THE MAKING OF MAN.

The headmaster of a famous public school is fond of entertaining foreigners and giving them a practical insight into the mysteries of our educational system. The other day he took a Japanese gentleman to watch the work of a form, delivering in conclusion a short speech addressed directly to the visitor and indirectly to the boys. "We base all our education on the motto, 'The boy is a man,'" he said. "The boys—we should have called them—were highly diverted."

A TRIBUTE TO LORD FISHER.

The odd little tributes that appear in the streets whenever an especially popular great man dies have, as we should expect, been called out in numbers by the death of Lord Fisher. Among those that have come our way the very quaintest is a small folder with, on the outside, the flags of the Union Jack, the Union Red, and an angel holding a flaming sword aloft inside a fragment of verse, beginning:
All tears are vain; we cannot now recall thee;
Gone is thy loving voice and kindly face;
Fisher would have liked the special aptness of the second line.

READY FOR SERVICE BY SEPTEMBER 15.

Officials' quarters are now completed at the divisional headquarters at Williams Lake. There is considerable activity at Williams Lake besides that connected with the railway work. The town has been laid out by the railway. Settlers are flocking in erecting dwellings and stores. Banks are to start immediately.

Williams Lake is the distributing centre for the Chilcotin country on the West and Harper's Camp country on the East. The Chilcotin country is the largest stock country in British Columbia, while Harper's Camp, apart from its agricultural and grazing possibilities, is important because of its placer and lode mining. British and Americans are moving into this whole country in great numbers. The spirit of optimism is noticeable and striking everywhere. Mr. Proctor said to-day:
Many pre-emptors are going back throughout the entire Cariboo country. Mr. Proctor also said:
There is now a fair-sized organization working on the railroad construction from Prince George south as far as Stone Creek, twenty-five miles south. It is not expected that very much track will be laid from Prince George this year because of the late delivery of track material and motive power.

Article 10 said that, simultaneously with the demobilization of the Polish army and the turning over of arms, Russian and Ukrainian troops would retire so that at the termination of Polish demobilization only 200,000 men would remain near the neutral zone.

FREE TRANSIT.

Under Article 13 Poland would give Russia the right of free transit for goods and goods through her territory, with the Volkovisk-Bialystok-Grajevo railway remaining in full possession and control of the Russian republic. Article 14 said Poland must grant complete political and military amnesty. Article 15 provided that Poland must publish the treaty and protocols immediately following the signing of the treaty.

Bench warrants had been issued for the arrest of those indicted.

COUNCIL PUTS OFF EFFLUVIA ACTION.

Tables Big Petition Until Vancouver Completes Scientific Investigation

Mayor Porter and the aldermen decided yesterday afternoon to leave the Smoke Nuisance By-law alone until scientific investigations on sawmill refuse being carried on by Vancouver City Council are completed. They came to this conclusion on a majority vote of one when they looked at a petition signed by A. Holmes and 1,266 others. This petition stated that "it was proved in the recent prosecutions that in the light of existing engineering and scientific knowledge it is impossible to operate a sawmill without breaches of the Smoke Nuisance By-law." It asked for the "repeal of the by-law and the substituting of legislation as will enable these industries to continue to operate, coupled with maximum degree of protection to the public."

Means Nothing.

Aldermen explained that it was not known how long it would be before the Vancouver investigations are completed. Aldermen Sangster, Dinsdale, Sargent, Patrick and Cameron supported this move and the tabling of the petition. Mayor Porter and Alderman Todd and Fullerton joined Alderman Johns in opposition. Aldermen Dewar and Andrews were absent. "That petition doesn't stand for anything," said Alderman Johns. "They have got people to sign that who have nothing to do with the question. 'They went to a little girl. She said 'I am not of age,' and Mr. Cameron said 'That doesn't make any difference. You don't want to have the sawmills closed up, do you?'"

Can't "Fix" By-law.

The aldermen said it would be impossible to amend the existing by-law "so as to make the sawmills safe." "You can't fix in a by-law how much smoke you are going to allow to enter each house in the Rock Bay district," he said. "We all know that only three mills are causing any nuisance, and every man knows the cause of that nuisance. 'Take Lemon, Gonnason's mill. I am causing any nuisance from that mill or of anybody making any complaint.' The Cameron's burner is being overloaded to-day and they have got a big hole in the top of it right in the face of this by-law. When they cut 130,000 to 150,000 feet of lumber with a mill equipped to cut 75,000 to 100,000 feet you know the result."

Should Give Free Wood.

Alderman Johns declared that the McCarter mill is spreading effluvia because the firm is forcing 250 horsepower out of one boiler. "We can't amend the by-law and we ought to enforce it," the alderman went on. "What is to hinder the Cameron Lumber Co. and the Puget Sound Company being good people to the poor people of this city. Instead of wanting all the refuse, why don't they do like Lemon, Gonnason, Ltd., and pick out the big pieces and put them where the poor people can come and get free wood. It ought to be made a crime for them to burn a lot of this good wood." Must Not Close Mills. Alderman Dinsdale said that much of the refuse ought to make good fuel although he thought it would have to be mixed with something. "We can't stand for shutting the sawmills down and throwing all these men out of work without a minute's notice," said Alderman Patrick. Alderman Todd denied that aldermen who are opposed to effluvia are in favor of closing down the sawmill industry here. "There has never been any member of the city council who was in favor of closing the mills," he said. "The smoke nuisance is serious, but we have no right to shut down the lumber industry," said Alderman Sangster. "There is probably wrong on both sides."

REACH DEADLOCK ON HOSPITAL QUESTION

Jubilee Hospital and Compensation Board Have Not Reached Settlement

Following negotiations on the matter which have proceeded for some time, a deadlock between the Board of Directors of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital and the Workmen's Compensation Board apparently has been reached.

At their July board meeting the directors of the hospital instructed the secretary, G. T. Carver, and Dr. Rogers, medical superintendent, to draw up a letter specifying the terms on which the hospital would accept Compensation Cases. This followed the offer by the Compensation Board of terms unsatisfactory to the hospital.

Following is the letter sent to Dr. G. A. B. Hall, chief medical referee of the Workmen's Compensation Board, by the Medical Superintendent of the Hospital:

July 20, 1920.
Dear Sir,—Our Board of Directors at their meeting on the 16th inst., considered the proposed readjustment of fees paid hospitals for W. C. B. cases as outlined in your letter of July 5, and have instructed me to advise you as follows:

A flat rate of $2.50 a day per patient will be accepted on the understanding that this amount is simply a maintenance fee, for which the hospital gives bed, meals, ward-attendance and ordinary medicine and ward dressings.

For every case requiring the use of the operating room, irrespective of the length of time the patient remains in hospital, a charge of $5 will be made, and this does not include the anaesthetist's fee, when an outside anaesthetist is used.

All X-ray work, diagnostic and therapeutic, all special treatments such as massage and electro-therapeutic and all special drugs as sera, vaccines and alcoholic stimulants, will be charged for separately.

Special nurses' fees and the hospital charge for special nurses' meals are also subjects for separate charge.

The Board also wish it to be clearly understood that inasmuch as the hospital cannot discharge a case until instructed by the attending physician, the hospital looks to the W. C. B. to pay its account for the full term of the man's stay in hospital, even though in the opinion of your Board the stay was unnecessarily long.

The Reply.

The following is the reply, under date of July 27, sent by Dr. Hall, the Chief Medical Referee of the Workmen's Compensation Board, to the foregoing:

"In reference to your letter of the 20th inst. This matter has been carefully considered by the Board, but they feel that they are unable to make any different terms with your hospital than the terms already agreed upon by all hospitals other than those in Victoria. They are reluctantly placed in the position of having to deal differently with the patients going to Victoria hospitals than those going to other hospitals in the Province.

On and after the 1st proximo the Board will not be in any way responsible to you for any treatment supplied by you to patients coming under the Workmen's Compensation Act. In other words, you will be in the same position as if the present Workmen's Compensation Act did not exist. We are to-day advising the members of the medical profession of Victoria of the position herein."

Consult St. Joseph's.

The hospital directors intend to ascertain the views of the St. Joseph's Hospital on the Compensation Board question. It is apparent from a letter to the Compensation Board from the St. Joseph's Hospital, however, that the latter institution considers that the terms formerly paid by the Compensation Board are not sufficient to cover the maintenance of patients. A copy of the letter from the St. Joseph's Hospital to the Board has been sent to the Jubilee Hospital Board and read in part as follows: "St. Joseph's Hospital will accept the flat rate of $2.50 per day for patients, with the following exceptions.

"First, that the hospital will not be responsible for massage, anaesthetics, special nurses, nor for X-ray or serum, as stated in your letter. "Second, we would supply surgical dressings at a rate of $5 for each patient, irrespective of the number of days the patient remains in the hospital."

The secretary was instructed by the Jubilee Board last night to inform the Canadian National Railways that it could offer C.N.R. patients the same terms as those offered the Compensation Board. The secretary also was instructed to write the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment authorities, stating that the hospital was prepared to accept their patients at $2.95 per diem on the understanding that not less than twenty patients a day be treated. The Jubilee Hospital Board last night considered the request of the City Council that it take over the management of the Isolation Hospital. The House Committee appeared favorably disposed toward the suggestion, and the directors will consult further on the matter with the Mayor and Aldermen.

Granted Leave.

The Board last night granted Dr. L. U. Poyntz, radiologist in charge of the X-ray equipment at the hospital, four months' leave of absence in order that he may travel in Europe and gain further knowledge concerning his work.

During the Board meeting last night, Chairman R. S. Day welcomed the new member from Oak Bay, Charles Williams, and Dr. McCullum, the new member from Esquimalt. The chairman also thanked the directors for re-electing him to the chair.

TO HOLD EXHIBIT OF WORK OF BLIND

Booth Being Arranged at Vancouver Exhibition; Appeal For Entrants. Through the kindness of the Directors of the Vancouver Exhibition Association, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind has been allotted space at the coming exhibition in the mainland city. This space will be used for an interesting display of work done by the blind. The organizers are anxious to make the exhibit really representative and of use to the largest number of afflicted and so would be glad to hear from any blind person having work of interest which might be included, or who are engaged in working up a business connection or agency.

The booth at the exhibition will be in charge of Mrs. D. O'Brien, field worker. Communications in regard to the exhibit should be sent to Mrs. D. J. O'Brien, 215-217 Metropolitan Building, Hastings Street, Vancouver, or to Miss Leatham, 332 Front Street East, Vancouver, who will gladly supply any information on the subject.

NOVEL ATTRACTIONS FOR I.O.D.E. FETE. On Wednesday next the Lady Alderson Chapter's fete will be held in the house. Tables may be secured by communicating with Mrs. F. W. Jones, telephone number 322, or Mrs. Hase 327E. The beautiful gardens, in themselves a big attraction, will be opened to the public from three o'clock, and tea will be served during the afternoon.

From 5 o'clock "the dansant" will be held on the lower lawn with Miss Tasia's orchestra furnishing the music, and it is hoped will have an appeal to the younger people and will be a pleasing innovation from the more stereotyped garden party. Mrs. S. MacIure has consented to take sitters for her attractive silhouettes. Contributions towards the refreshments may be sent care of Clara's before 5 o'clock on Wednesday. Visitors are reminded to take the Oak Bay car, alighting at Rockland Avenue. A Union Jack will indicate the entrance to the grounds.

INTERESTING WOMEN WITH PRESS PARTY. Though the feminine members of the Imperial Press party numbered scarcely more than twenty-five, it was the most interesting group of British women. Almost every type was there. In Miss Billington, a foremost British suffrage leader, in 1915 when the referendum was taken on the women's franchise question, Mrs. Clark was chairman of the referendum committee in the city of Vancouver. The franchise obtained, Mrs. Clark became president of the New Era League, which has as its objective the improvement of laws which affect women in the Province of British Columbia, holding this office for two years. She assisted in the registration of a great number of women voters, and during the war was a member in Vancouver of the Dominion Food Board. A member of the Local Council of Women, Mrs. Clark is chairman of the labor committee in that organization. She is also a member of the Woman's Forum, and last, but not least, as she herself would say, she is very much a housewife.

For Children's Aid Society. Mrs. McNair's good work has been done very unostentatiously, but should she at any time leave the city, there are a great many organizations here which would find that they had lost a worker whose place could not well be filled. Perhaps most of her interest has been centered in the Children's Aid Society, of which she is now honorary president, after having filled the position of president for four succeeding years. As convalescer of the trying committee for about eight years, her work was invaluable, and her home has always been at the disposal of the society. The King's Daughters can also claim her as a valued member, for she has been president of the Princess Circle for the past several years, is on the executive of the main body and was president of the board of management for one year. She is also on the executive of the Local Council of Women, and has been president of the women's guild of the First Presbyterian Church for some ten years, taking an especial interest in the Presbyterian Rescue Home for Girls. She is also vice-president of the Women's Canadian Club. Mrs. Sheasgreen has been interested in work on behalf of the children for many years, having at one time devoted a great deal of time to Juvenile Court work. She is also greatly interested in the Catholic Orphanage and St. Paul's Hospital. Announcement is being awaited regarding the Victoria woman who will act on this advisory board.

CLEVER ENGLISH WOMAN AUTHOR VISITING COAST. Vancouver, Aug. 20.—Mrs. E. M. Cran, an English woman who has made a desirable place for herself in the literary world, arrived in Vancouver yesterday and expects to remain for the visit of the Imperial Press Conference party. She is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Graeme, 1718 Robson Street. Mrs. Cran has had a varied experience and has several books and one play to her credit. This year she received the appointment of honorary secretary of the British Press, to report on conditions of Emigration within the Empire. Before beginning her literary work she trained in the Rotunda Hospital at Dublin. Following that she took the position of sub-editor of The Connoisseur, and later acquired a similar position with the Burlington Magazine and Art Critic. In 1903 she received the appointment of commissioner for the Dominion Government to report on conditions for women in Northwest Canada, and under this appointment she did some valuable work. During the war Mrs. Cran served as matron of the Whitcomb Sanatorium for a year, leaving that post to become assistant secretary to the Imperial Association for Disabled Officers, remaining there until a year ago. Mrs. Cran is doing special work on this visit for The London Daily Telegraph, and has also contributed articles to The Pall Mall Gazette, Daily Mail, Sketch, Ladies' Field, Gentlewoman, and other publications. Her books include "The Life of H. Beerboom Tree," "A Woman in a Woman" (poems), "The Song of a Woman" (poems), "The Garden of Ignorance." Her play "The Shell of a Man" was produced at the Kingsway Theatre.

Cathedral School Picnic.—The annual picnic for members of Christ Church Cathedral Sunday School will take place early in September at Deep Bay. St. Matthias Mission School, Fowl Bay, will join the teachers and scholars of the Cathedral School in this outing, and the big party, accompanied by adult friends of both congregations who take the opportunity of making the trip through the Saanich Peninsula to Deep Bay will travel by a special morning train on the B. C. Interurban Railway. Until September, the Cathedral School will continue to meet on Sunday mornings at ten o'clock.

RATS WORRY PORTO RICO

San Juan, P.R., Aug. 20.—Porto Rico has a rat population of 2,500,000—two to each inhabitant—and it costs the island $15,000,000 annually to support them. This is the estimate of Major G. M. Corput, of the United States Public Health Service, chief quarantine officer for Porto Rico.

Each rat, according to Major Corput, consumes provisions, or damages crops and property to the extent of $5 monthly. The rat population gave Porto Rico a population of approximately 1,300,000. On this basis each man, woman or child in the island contributes about $11 annually to the support of the rat family.

The death occurred yesterday of Martin McGuire, of Kerr Avenue, Saanich, at the age of 79 years. He was a native of Kentucky, U. S. A., and came to this country about fifteen years ago. NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Honored Mr. Cammell

Representatives of mining and associated industries of British Columbia met Wednesday in Vancouver to do honor to Charles Cammell on the eve of his departure to assume the position of Deputy Minister of Mines at Ottawa, to which office he was appointed recently. The occasion took the form of a banquet tendered under the auspices of the B. C. division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, of which Mr. Cammell was secretary, and supported by the B. C. Mining Club and other professional and business organizations. The banquet was held at the Citizen's club, under the chairmanship of J. Mortimer Lamb.

Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines for British Columbia, spoke in glowing terms of the work Mr. Cammell had done for British Columbia, both as secretary of the institute and in the general geological surveys made by him from time to time. His work of the past, he said, would prove of incalculable help to the men of the present. The surveys made in B. C. were being appreciated abroad and the new deputy minister would see that British Columbia would be looked after and that the obligations entered into with regard to this province would be carried out in its wish. Mr. Cammell had done for British Columbia, he said, what no other man could do. Sloan said that the appointment was exceedingly popular.

Mr. Cammell, on rising to reply was received with prolonged cheering. He expressed his gratitude at the reception accorded to him and said that he would strive to do right in the new office he had undertaken. "Since spending a few days at Ottawa," he said, "I have felt the sense of responsibility more than ever. At first I doubted my ability, but on mixing with those connected with the department and finding my way about I feel now a confidence which will aid me in the work. I have a feeling of optimism in the future of the mining industry of Canada, and when one considers what has been done in this country in a comparatively short time, one is justified in such optimism." Mr. Cammell spoke of the discovery of a new area in which nickel had been discovered in B. C., and said that the report of the finding of oil in the Mackenzie Basin district was of the greatest importance.

A good aperient for children is syrup of figs, but a careful diet is the best means of preventing constipation. A dessertspoonful of olive oil, given twice a day, is a safe remedy in obstinate cases.

Child Drowned At Sidney Mills This Morning From Boom

Walter Logan, the six-year-old son of the foreman of the Sidney Roofing Company's plant at Sidney, was drowned at the mill yesterday when he fell on a boom of logs at the Sidney Lumber Company's mill.

The boom was lying in shallow water and when the child fell on it he fell and was rendered unconscious. J. Reade, from the beach, saw the accident, and got a boat and hurried to the boy's aid and brought him ashore. For two hours volunteers endeavored to resuscitate the child, and eventually the Victoria Fire Department was called upon to send out the pumpmotor. By the time Lieut. Gwyer had arrived it was too late for the apparatus to be of use.

TUDOR MUSIC SHOWS EARLY TALENT IN BRITISH ISLES

British Composers Represented In Paris; People's Leisure Hours

(By George J. Dyke)

At a conference held in London on July 13 by the Carnegie United Kingdom Trust the recovery of some lost musical literature written in the Tudor period had been made. In a speech by Sir Henry Hadow, vice-chancellor of the University of Sheffield, we read that "for one hundred years between the time of Henry VII and James I. Englishmen were writing music rivaling that which appeared in Flanders and Italy, and comparable with the great Elizabethan literature." He added "Practically the whole of that music disappeared and until recently nobody in the world knew the extent and value of that treasure." Now this Tudor music has been discovered in MSS. in the British Museum, where it has lain during all these years. At this distance it does seem strange that for such a long period so valuable, and national examples, too, of the musical art should have escaped the notice of the Museum authorities. Surely some person whose business it was to know did know about it. A complete edition of the music has been made, and if the Carnegie Trust has made the vast find referred to by Sir Henry it would be interesting to get more information on the matter.

Queen's Have Promenade Concerts.

All good concert-goers here and especially the many who have had the pleasure of attending them will be glad to hear that the promenade concert of Queen's Hall are to be revived. These concerts will run for ten weeks, extending to Saturday, October 23. Sir Henry Wood will be in his familiar place in command of the New Queen's Hall Orchestra. There are engaged ninety-three soloists, amongst whom are many well-known artists. Many of the artists are newcomers and these will be much new music by British composers included in the wonderful and popular programme.

"The Daring of the Gods."

"The Diving Pavlova" is due to arrive in Victoria, where she is a great favorite, after an absence of several years. Her last visit to London was in 1914. Since then she has spent three in South America, and in 1919 danced with extraordinary success in Lisbon, Madrid, Paris, Brussels and elsewhere. She carries an orchestra of sixty pieces with her, and her large repertoire of ballets, divertissements, etc., is divided equally between new creations and those which were popular in former times. To the musician it is noted that the programme to which she dances includes a new ballet, "La Peri," by Paul Duval, the orchestra score of which is described as "a masterpiece of difficulty"; Chopin's E flat and D flat nocturnes; the C minor study and the C sharp minor impromptu; "Autumn Leaves," "The Faun's Dance," by Maurice Ravel, and "The Three Doves," by Maurice Michel Levy, recently produced in Paris.

British Compositions for the Chicago Symphony.

The conductor of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Frederick Stock, is returning from England with twenty of the newest compositions obtained in London and Paris for "his performers" in Chicago. Among the works the British composers represented are Arnold Bax, Sir Edward Elgar, Gustav Holst, Georges Goossens and Frederick Delius.

A Widow's Tribute.

An unusual tribute to the memory of the late Oscar Hammerstein of the Manhattan Opera House, was recently published in the New York newspapers by his widow, Emma Swift Hammerstein. Arthur, his son, and George Blumenthal, his business associate, also made public memorial tributes to the famous impresario. "In loving memory of my dear husband, Oscar Hammerstein, who laid his all upon the altar of operatic art; who, though single handed, against great odds, was backed only by his own creative brain and effort, and who died broken-hearted, the immediate cause of his death being that on account of his property being taken from him and being unable to protect the mortgage which became due at the Manhattan Opera House, he had no hope of financing his future operatic plans for the coming year, which work he had been impatiently waiting for ten years. Words are inadequate to express how much I miss him, but the Great Director of the Universe has called Oscar Hammerstein to a new world."

Negro Musicians in Conviction.

The National Association of Negro Musicians held its second annual convention in New York last month. There were 200 delegates present. This Association is made up of prominent negro musicians from every part of America, many of whom are graduates of conservatories of music. The convention voted to preserve negro folk music and to keep it above the level of minstrel songs. It also discouraged an attempt on the part of some composers to give this music new settings. There was present Mrs. Harriet Gibbs Marshall, the first colored woman to graduate from the Oberlin College Conservatory of Music, and the first to start the conservatory movement among negroes.

British Composers Represented in Paris.

The old continental indifference to serious British music seems to be gradually breaking up. During the past season Paris has had several opportunities of hearing the old and the new—mostly new—music composed in England. British composers represented at some programmes given by European artists at the Salle Gaveau, Paris, were Graham Peel, Cyril Scott, Frederick Delius, Eugene Goossens, Ralph Vaughan Williams, Dennis Arundell, Herbert Radford, Goring Thomas and examples of old Henry Purcell from "The Fairy Queen." Surely the British composer has come into his own.

Jamming and Canning Plant Started At Errington.

The beginning of what may prove to be an industry of importance on Vancouver Island, had its birth this Spring when the Errington Farmers Produce Association was incorporated. A modest jamming and canning plant to preserve fruits and vegetables grown by the settlers in the vicinity of Errington, has been installed and already about a ton of the finest strawberry, blackberry, loganberry and other jams have been put up. The district about Errington, near Parkerville, is well suited to fruit growing and poultry raising. Land can be purchased in small blocks from the Vancouver Island Fruit Lands Limited, at $40 per acre on terms of $5 per acre cash and the balance in four equal annual payments. Many are taking advantage of this attractive offer either for immediate or future settlement in the District. Full particulars may be had from the Vancouver Island Fruit Lands Limited, Belmont House, Victoria, B. C.

Much Gasoline Offered—The Board of Trade has received a telegram from Los Angeles offering to supply gasoline in carload lots. Any quantity from one to a hundred cars are available, each car containing 3,000 gallons. In view of the reported shortage of gasoline across the line Secretary Elworthy considers this offer remarkable.

To Handle Cemetery Negotiations—Alderman E. B. Andros was chosen by Mayor Porter yesterday afternoon as the city's representative on the Inter-Municipal Cemetery Committee. Some of the aldermen proposed that there should be two representatives of the city on the committee, but it was decided that Alderman Andros was well versed in matters relating to the proposals and could carry on negotiations without assistance.

Lost Number Plate, Pays Fines—H. S. Allen appeared before Magistrate Jay this morning in the city police court on a charge of speeding on Douglas Street. Motorcycle Constable R. Forster said his attention had been attracted because the number plate was missing from the motorcycle the accused was riding and that he had followed accused from Discovery Street to Courtney Street before he was able to catch up. At times the speed attained through traffic had reached 45 miles per hour. Mr. Allen said the plate was attached when he left Esquimalt, and protested that the speed made by the constable in the effort to catch him was no criterion in his own speed. Fines of $10 for speeding and $5 for driving without the license plate were imposed.

Will Serve Seven Months—John Handley, a longshoreman, was this morning sentenced by Magistrate Jay to seven months imprisonment with hard labor for being drunk and assaulting a constable. F. J. Sinnott appeared for the accused, and pleaded for leniency on the second charge. Constable Jones wrote down on paper some of the expressions used by Handley in making a disturbance on Yates Street, and said he only arrested accused after warning him to go away, and had been told "it will take a couple like you to put me away." Magistrate Jay told Handley, "you are a public nuisance when you are drunk." Handley has only recently served a two months' sentence for a similar offence.

Maccabees Hold Enjoyable Outing—Fully eighty members and friends of Queen Alexandra Review attended and enjoyed the annual picnic held at Cordova Bay Beach, which proved to be the largest gathering in the Review's history. An exceptionally attractive programme had been arranged by the Cordova Bay Campers' Association, and was much appreciated by all present. Too much cannot be said of the kindness of Mrs. Ball and her friend, Mrs. Wilson, for their kind hospitality. Mrs. Ball kindly offering her Summer home for the use of the Review. Dainty refreshments were served, it being necessary to arrange two sittings of fifty each, owing to the large attendance. During the evening a large bonfire was much enjoyed by all present and an extremely delightful day brought to a happy termination in song and campfire yams.

Garden Party At Fairfield—The Excelsior Bible Class of the Fairfield Methodist Church held an enjoyable and successful garden party on Wednesday through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. F. Green, at their lovely gardens at 269 Moss Street. The gardens were beautifully illuminated with vari-colored electric lights and the tables and candy stalls were daintily arranged, and the promoters, the members of the Bible Class, received many congratulations upon the artistic and efficient arrangements. They were taken to and from the beach in motor cars by Miss Hall, Mrs. Scott, Mr. Lewthwaite and Mr. Wright.

Omitted To Sign—Leod Gould yesterday afternoon apologized to the Mayor and members of the City Council for sending the letter to them in the name of the United Veterans last week, and omitting to sign his name to it. Mr. Gould's letter asked that local labor be employed in the building of the Johnson Street bridge when it is got under way. A DISCLAIMER

Alfred E. Hall, Secretary of the Necessities Committee, supporting D. S. Tait, candidate for Saanich School Trustees, issued the following statement to the Times this afternoon: "Regarding the remarks of Trustee P. Holloway at last night's meeting that D. S. Tait was put up by the Government, and the Government officials were supporting him, I beg to state that this is not true. Mr. Tait was nominated by Saanich residents, members of Parent Teachers Associations, women's institutes, as will be seen by a perusal of his nomination papers.

"Officials of the Government have only spoken at the meetings at the request of the committee, as private citizens only. Mr. Hallwright spoke to answer charges made against him, and John Kyle, because a man with his feelings could not stand by and see such necessities wrenched away from the children by those who cannot realize the value of the three subjects."

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Inquest this morning on Gerald Butler, Victim of Elk Lake Fatality.

At the inquest held this morning at the B. C. Funeral Chapel on the body of Gerald Joseph Thomas Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Butler, of Keating, who was drowned in Elk Lake on Thursday evening, a coroner's jury returned the verdict of accidental death. Evidence of the disaster was given by two young comrades who were with the deceased at the time of the accident. Dr. E. C. Hart presided at the enquiry. The funeral will be held from the family residence at Keating on Thursday morning at 10 a.m., proceeding to the Roman Catholic Church at Saanich, where services will be held. Interment will be made in the cemetery at Saanich.

NEW HOME FOR CHOP SUEY

Building started in Heart of Chinatown Away From All Streets.

Chop suey is becoming so popular among Victorians and visitors who come here from all parts of the continent to see Chinatown, that work was started to-day by Parfitt Brothers on the erection of a new, thoroughly Oriental chop suey restaurant in the very heart of Chinatown.

This chop suey headquarters is being constructed, hidden from all city streets, on Oriental Alley, one of the tortuous passage ways that leads through Chinatown and which few white persons are familiar with. The palace will cost $11,500.

It is being built for the Ning Yee Hong Tong, of which Lee Dan and other wealthy Chinese are members.

Building operations have also been started by James Price at 212 Simcoe Street; J. Smith at 1719 Seaview Terrace, and Swinerton & Musgrave at 1110 Fairfield Road.

PROTESTS AGAINST HOSPITAL REMOVAL

Board of Trade Appeals To Premier Meighen; Another Solution For Economy

In accordance with the request of several of the returned soldier organizations, the Victoria Board of Trade yesterday sent telegrams to the Hon. Arthur Meighen, the Prime Minister, and Hon. S. F. Tolmie, protesting against the proposed scheme of consolidating the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Hospitals by removing the patients taking treatment at the Victoria and Esquimalt to Vancouver hospitals.

In the telegrams the Board points out that the change will work a "terrible blow" to the men taking treatment, inasmuch as they will be separated from their relatives and friends.

It further pointed out that, as the Government is the owner of the local buildings, it would be a more practical plan, from the economical point of view, for the S. C. R. to remove the patients taking treatment at Vancouver to this city.

NOTABLE BOOKINGS FOR THEATRE SEASON

Some Features Include "Chu Chin Chow; Two Night Shows Planned

Local theatre-goers will learn with great pleasure that Clifford Denham has booked a number of leading plays and players for the coming season at the Royal Victoria Theatre. These plays, which are not moving pictures but the legitimate drama, will include such well-known London and New York successes as "Linger Longer Letty," the Royal English Opera Company, with Jefferson De Angeles as the leading singer; "Frivolties of 1920; McIntyre and Hinch; "Civilian Clothes;" "Chu Chin Chow," the great musical success which ran for over three years in London; "Listen Lester," while Victoria is also to be favored with a "Linger Longer Letty" by the great American actor, Otis Skinner.

Victoria will be the only place in British Columbia to have "Chu Chin Chow," as the Royal Victoria stage is the only one big enough to accommodate this spectacular production, which is coming direct from England.

The plays will be given on the Mondays and Tuesdays of the booking week, and the first to be given will be "Linger Longer Letty," on August 29 and "McIntyre and Hinch" has stated that the carrying out of the contracts for the above plays will be dependent upon the support given by the theatre-going public to the earlier productions.

FEEL THE SURGE OF ABUNDING YOUTH

Age is sickness—gradual disintegration of the tissues which comprise your vital organs—your nerves, heart, liver, kidneys, bladder. Each of these organs depends on the internal secreting fluids of certain glands. When such glands become lax in their functioning, through under or over-secretion, you are sick. Unless these glands are aided to resume proper functioning, the tissues of the vital organs gradually wear and become livid, you are old. In health, if not in years, and old-fashioned methods of treating sickness are admittedly helpless. Your days are numbered unless you get at the cause of the trouble by direct action, and that is by revitalizing and restoring the glands to their proper functioning.

CONDUCTED INQUIRY INTO OIL PROSPECTS

Dr. Gwillim, Famous Geologist, Investigated Peace River Possibilities

The announcement of the death of Professor J. C. Gwillim at Kingston, Ontario, on Thursday last draws attention to the valuable work which, as one of Canada's great oil geological experts, he performed for this Province last year, under instructions from Hon. T. D. Pattullo.

Appointed in May, 1919, to make a geological examination of the Peace River district, he submitted a report to the Department of Lands which was placed before the Legislature on February 12 last.

The report made a comparison between the oil-bearing formations in South Alberta and similar formations found in the Peace River district, the latter being declared to be on the larger scale.

After describing the lay of the strata and the various types of possibly oil-bearing shales and sandstones found, Professor Gwillim's report says that the strata commonly prevalent, the Bullhead sandstone, is the geological equivalent to the oil or tar bearing strata of the lower Peace River, Athabasca, Fraser and of the Black Diamond area of Southern Alberta.

"These bullhead sandstones are structurally favorable, that is, there are rolls, saddles or anticlines covered by St. John's shale, which is impervious enough to hold down any oil beneath them. There is no proof that oil exists in or beneath the bullhead sandstone. The possibilities are sufficient to justify extensive reconnaissance work in adjacent areas by a large oil corporation," said Professor Gwillim, in his report.

TWO STREETS CUT FROM PROHIBITION AREA IN NEW CITY MEASURE

Victoria's down-town streets will not look so deserted as most people feared as a result of the streets traffic by-law if Aldermen Sargent and Todd succeed in pruning down a number of the clauses which practically prohibit a motor car stopping at all night or day, on many thoroughfares.

The by-law will come again before the Council Monday night, when something may be said about provisions which will not allow a man to leave his car standing on a downtown street at night although the streets are entirely deserted and all shops closed.

Alderman Todd is to make an effort to do away with the necessity of motorists burning tail lights while standing on a paved street illuminated by cluster lights.

Tail Lights Too Costly.

"Surely on our well lighted streets there is no need for cars to be put to the expense of keeping tail lights going as they consume the batteries," the alderman said at yesterday afternoon's Council meeting.

He pointed out that it is no longer necessary to keep side lights burning while a car is standing although the driver has to turn them on when he puts the car in motion.

Alderman Sargent yesterday induced the aldermen to eliminate from the prohibited parking areas, Fort and Yates Streets from Douglas to Blanshard. He said that he had been observing traffic on these streets and it is so light that it would be ridiculous to say that motor cars cannot stop on them.

The prohibited parking streets have now been cut down to the boundary streets of the loop district, that is, the Government, Yates, Douglas, Fort, block and Government Street from Fort to Humboldt and Broad Street from Johnson to Cormorant.

H. N. Egan informed the Council that the automobile section of the Board of Trade has read the by-law and has "expressions of approval and commendation of the regulations as now worded and considers further discussion with your body unnecessary."

The report made a comparison between the oil-bearing formations in South Alberta and similar formations found in the Peace River district, the latter being declared to be on the larger scale.

After describing the lay of the strata and the various types of possibly oil-bearing shales and sandstones found, Professor Gwillim's report says that the strata commonly prevalent, the Bullhead sandstone, is the geological equivalent to the oil or tar bearing strata of the lower Peace River, Athabasca, Fraser and of the Black Diamond area of Southern Alberta.

"These bullhead sandstones are structurally favorable, that is, there are rolls, saddles or anticlines covered by St. John's shale, which is impervious enough to hold down any oil beneath them. There is no proof that oil exists in or beneath the bullhead sandstone. The possibilities are sufficient to justify extensive reconnaissance work in adjacent areas by a large oil corporation," said Professor Gwillim, in his report.

MAYOR PROTESTS CHANGE

Telegraphs Ottawa Opposing Removing Military Patients From Here To Vancouver.

Mayor Porter, on the authority of the City Council, to-day telegraphed Ottawa protesting against proposals to move all military hospital patients from Victoria and Esquimalt to the Shaughnessy Hospital at Vancouver. "Climate conditions should be enough if there were no other reasons against the change," said the Mayor.

PALLID CHEEKS MEAN ANAEMIA

New Health Can be Obtained by Enriching the Blood Supply.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and daintiness do not tempt her and daintiness do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse ill. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion, by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New, rich, red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 25 cents a box or six boxes for $1.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Victoria Has Splendid Chance of Winning Flag

Faces Easy Series With Seattle and Concludes Season With Yakima, While Tacoma, Present Runners Up, Have Hard Series With Yakima and Another With Vancouver.

With only two more weeks of baseball to be played it looks as though Victoria will have the honor of capturing the first pennant in the Pacific International League. The Capitals are hanging on to the upper berth in the league by a very slender margin over Tacoma but the two remaining series provide them with rather easy going whereas the Tigers will have to work overtime to secure anything like an even break. Barring accidents, a strict adherence to training rules by all the Victoria players and an even out on the breaks and the Capital City will have its first pennant.

Tacoma and Yakima, which are pressing the Capitals for the championship, will find the rest of the road rather rough and bumpy. Next week the Tigers and Fruit-pickers will shift the scene of their daily combat from Tacoma to Yakima. Vancouver will lock with Spokane and Victoria will play here with Seattle. On the first two series none of the teams can hope for better than an even break, while if the Capitals do not underestimate the Giants they can make a big clean up, taking at least five out of the six games scheduled.

The Final Week.

On the final week of the season the Tigers will meet the Beavers on their home lot. Tacoma will not be able to profit any on this series for the Vancouver pitching staff is going great guns and will make things merry for Bobbie Vaughan's pirates. Spokane will lag Seattle off to the back country for some easy pickings. Even if the Indians make a clean sweep of this series they cannot take the pennant as they are too far in the rear. However, the fact that the Indians have Seattle as their guests for the final drive relieves considerable anxiety among the local team. If one of the present runners-up had the Giants for the week it would alter the Capitals' pennant chances considerably. The fruit-pickers will conclude the season in Victoria. This will probably be a hard series, but if the Capitals make a sweep of the Seattle games they will go into the concluding week with their tails flying high.

Want New Pitcher.

The only requirement of the Victoria team at the present time is a new pitcher. The development of Russell James has been the source of considerable relief but he and Morton cannot be expected to carry a club forever. Cy Young has turned in some good games, but gets the bumps fairly regularly on the road.

ELGIN ROAD RACE OFF ON ACCOUNT OF RAIN

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 21.—The Elgin National Road race, scheduled to start at noon, has been postponed for one week on account of rain.

CARL MAYS WILL PLAY AGAIN IF HE WISHES

New York, Aug. 21.—Miller Huggins, manager of the New York American League baseball team, said today that Carl Mays, pitcher, would be used in the series with Detroit, opening here this afternoon, provided he feels equal to attempting any baseball within the next few days. Mays was reported yesterday to be suffering from a nervous breakdown, following the accident here last Monday when he threw the ball that fatally injured Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop.

Colin Blain, Athlete of Early Days, Back in Town

Colin Blain, of Seattle, who, between two and three decades ago, was looked upon as the leading athlete in Victoria and one of the finest sprinters on the Pacific Coast, is revisiting this city accompanied by Mrs. Blain, formerly Miss A. Russell, of Victoria, and his daughter. Mr. Blain is renewing his host of acquaintances while here.

Old-timers will recall in Mr. Blain the slight and wiry centre man of the famous Victoria lacrosse team which mopped up all the Mainland teams in the '90s. He was the fastest and neatest stickhandler who ever performed in the West and would put to shame many of the supposedly brilliant stars of the present day.

Was a Mainstay.

In 1892 Mr. Blain came to Victoria from the East, and became one of the mainstays of the local lacrosse team, which was engaged in a bitter struggle with the New Westminster and Vancouver twelves. In 1893 he was picked as a member of the British Columbia team which was sent East to play for the world's championship. Other well known players who were on the team were: Archie MacNaughton, Charlie Cullin, Frank Cullin, Dan Judson, Billie Dittburn, Art Bettry and Ross Eckhart. The B. C. players met the Tecumsehs, of Toronto, the Capitals of Ottawa, and Shamrocks, of Montreal. They defeated the Capitals and tied with the Shamrocks.

Mr. Blain did not return with the team, but remained in the East for four years. The call of the West, however, proved too strong for him and he wended his way over the Rockies once again and donned a Victoria uniform and helped the Capital to more championships.

SISLER TAKES LEAD FROM TRIS SPEAKER

Hard-hitting St. Louis First-baseman Climbs Up In American League

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Players in the National League, who last week were leaders in their specialties, continued to set the pace, according to averages released today, which include games of Wednesday. Roger Hornsby, St. Louis, who topped the list of batters participating in fifty or more games a week ago with an average of .372 retained the same mark, although he played in eight games during the week. However, he increased his lead in total bases to 245 on 162 hits.

Layers, of Boston, although dropping three points, continued to be the runner up, with 323, while Nicholson, Pittsburgh, stepped in front of Roush, of Cincinnati, for third place with 341. The Cincinnati outfielder slumped five points for an average of .327, which ties him with J. Smith, of St. Louis for fourth place.

Cy Williams, Philadelphia outfielder, failed to swell his home run total to 13, Max Carey, of Pittsburgh, negotiated a quartette of stolen bases, and is working the way with 42.

Dethroned Speaker.

George Sisler, St. Louis star first-baseman during the past week has dethroned Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians in the American League for the leadership among the players who have participated in fifty or more games. Sisler is batting .408, an increase of four points over last week while Speaker dropped 17 points to .400. Joe Jackson, Chicago slugger, and Babe Ruth, of Chicago the home run king, each suffered a slump in their hitting, but are sticking among the leaders, being tied for third place. Each is batting .350.

Ruth made only one home run from Wednesday a week ago to last Wednesday. He had up to this point gathered 42 circuit drives. His total base record has been increased to 403 bases, and as a run getter he has counted 127 times. Rice, of Washington, continued to set the pace among the base stealers with a total of 45 thefts.

Ty Cobb, Detroit star, has not kept up the pace he set a couple of weeks ago. He is hitting .315, compared with .341 a week ago.

Marathon Will Be Run At Antwerp To-morrow

Classic Event of Olympic Games Attracts Immense Field of Athletes From Thirteen Nations—Want Marathon Eliminated From Future Olympiads.

Antwerp, Aug. 21.—(Associated Press)—A determined movement has been begun among various national Olympic committees to abolish the Marathon race as the feature of future Olympiads. It is claimed this race is not humane and a petition to this effect will be presented to the international committee to-night. Sponsors for the movement would substitute a 25,000-metre (about fifteen miles) race.

Nothing But Water.

Arrangements have been completed for the Marathon classic to-morrow. Members of the Belgian Olympic committee sought to secure a change in the rules so as to permit runners to obtain refreshments, such as light soup, but the committee has ruled that men will be permitted to receive only water. The route will be guarded by Belgian soldiers.

Wins Weight Put

P. J. McDonald, New York A. C., won the final of the 55-pound weight to-day with a put of 11.945 metres. Ryan, Loughlin Lyceum, New York, was second, with 10.95 metres. Lind, Sweden, was third with 10.25 metres. Archie McDiarmid, Canada, fourth, with 10.15; Swansen, Sweden, fifth with 9.40 and Peterson, Finland, sixth, with 9.37 metres.

Italian Walker Wins.

Frigerio, of Italy, won the 3,000-metre walk in 13 minutes 14.5 seconds. Second, R. Remer, Australia, finished second, 14.17; Sherman G. England, sixth, 14.18; Wood of Landers, Chicago, 14.19 and Dan Ahearne, holder of the world's record in the event, sixth with 14.08.

The promises made to the returned men that their disabilities would receive life-long treatment were recalled, and it was stated that that would be impossible if the Victoria occasional patients were under the obligation of going to Vancouver for treatment.

Save by Battery Care Here Are Simple Rules

By MERLE SHEPARD

At one time the neglect of the storage battery was probably one of the worst faults of which the motorist was guilty. But lately there has been a growing tendency to recognize the fact that constant care is needed for this part. However, as a matter of instruction to those who have not made a study of the subject, the following information which has been published by one of the battery companies will be of interest:

A complete cell consists of the rubber jar, the element in the jar, resting on the bridges, the electrolyte covering the element, and the cover, which is carefully sealed to the jar with sealing compound.

The complete battery consists of the desired number of cells being connected together in accordance with requirements of the starting and lighting system with which it is to be used.

When the cell is fully charged the electrolyte has a density, or specific gravity, of 1.300, the active material on the positive plates being oxide of lead, and on the negative plates pure spongy lead. The pressure between the positive and negative groups is about two volts, and if these groups are connected together through an electrical conductor, such as an electric lamp or motor, current will flow between them, discharging the cell. During this discharge a chemical action takes place which converts the lead oxide on the positive plates and the pure spongy lead on the negative plates both to sulphate of lead. This chemical change removes sulphur from the acid, thereby lowering the solution. When the cell is completely discharged its density is about 1.150.

Charging Current Action

When current is sent through the cell in an opposite or charging direction, a chemical action occurs, precisely the reverse of that on discharge. The action of the charging current removes the sulphur from the plates, changing the lead sulphate on the positive plates back to lead oxide, and on the negative plates to pure spongy lead. Inasmuch as the sulphate returns to the solution, this solution becomes more dense, and when the cell is fully charged the solution reaches its original density of 1.300.

As above stated the charging current changes the plates back to their original chemical formation, and when the element is completely charged the charging current can do no more useful work; its only effect being to convert particles of water in the electrolyte to hydrogen and oxygen gas, which bubbles up violently and indicates that the battery is at, or near, a full state of charge. These gases are also formed in the plates, the oxygen gas in the positive plate and the hydrogen gas in the negative plate, and there is a tendency for the oxygen gas mechanically to force the lead oxide from the positive plate. This condition is one that is often met with in automobile starters and lighting systems, which are, necessarily, set to overcharge the battery rather than to undercharge it. For this reason the plates have to be particularly rugged.

Current Causes Heat

If the element does not receive sufficient charge the sulphate is apt to harden to such an extent as to be very difficult to remove. This happens to a lesser extent when the battery is fully charged. It is therefore necessary to charge the battery immediately after a discharge, about once a month when idle, even though fully charged.

When the element is charged or discharged the chemical reactions due to the passage of the current through the electrolyte cause heat to be formed. This heat does not become injurious until the temperature rises to about 105 degrees Fahrenheit and it can rise to 110 degrees or even higher for brief periods of time without injury. It is, however, not considered advisable to charge a battery for any length of time after the temperature has risen to 105 degrees. The battery should then be taken off charge and allowed to cool.

Due to heat formed on charge and discharge and also due to evaporation, the water in the solution evaporates, and, as the sulphuric acid does not evaporate, the solution becomes more dense. This evaporation must, therefore, be made by pure water only.

The amount of evaporation will depend on the temperature, the amount of work done by the battery, and is therefore a varying quantity, but a safe rule to follow is to replace the water lost by evaporation every week in the summer and every two weeks in the winter.

SUPPLY OF GAS NOW INCREASING

Reserve Stocks Larger, But Motorists Must Still Conserve.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Gasoline supplies are increasing nationally and on the Pacific Coast, according to Bureau of Mines figures and the American Petroleum Institute.

The body of shortage is being dispelled by the official reports which show that during April, the latest month for which there are figures, production of gasoline was 2,829,931 gallons ahead of the demand. Consumption was 11,421,843 gallons, whereas output was 14,243,774 gallons. Reserve stocks increased to 645,552,644 gallons, which showed a considerable gain on the March figure of 626,393,046 gallons in reserve.

Shortage on Coast

States on the Pacific Coast have been suffering shortage in spite of the general plenty, because of local conditions. This situation is passing. The American Petroleum Institute reports that no expense or effort to provide sufficient gasoline to supply the Pacific Coast demands is being spared.

Arizona, Nevada and eastern parts of Oregon and Washington are being supplied to some extent from the mid-continent and Wyoming fields. Practically all this business was supplied last year from California.

Improved refining processes are being introduced in the California fields, which will greatly increase the possibilities of output in that territory within a few months. Many fields are getting only 12 to 15 per cent. of gasoline from the crude.

Protect Pacific Exports

During the present emergency exports from Pacific ports are being kept down to 3 per cent. of the total production. Only contractual obligations already assumed are being met, and no new foreign business is being sought. In 1918 the exports from Pacific ports were 18 per cent. of the production in that region as compared with the present 3 per cent.

Motorists need to continue a careful conservation policy, as the rate of consumption increased during the past four months was 32 per cent. against the rate of increase in production, which was 18 1/2 per cent. This means that, inroads are being made on the potential supplies of crude oil.

William Albert White, makes statements: "Mr. White is the inventor of the low pressure oil feeding system which has been installed in 700 ships.

A forty horse-power automobile in England costs $25,000.

What The Experts Say

The slightest break between the carburetor and the combustion chambers of the cylinders will tend toward irregular firing, especially when running slowly.

To determine which is the positive and which the negative wire from a battery, polish the wire terminals and insert them in an acid fluid. The positive will tarnish quickly while the negative will remain bright.

The leather washers used in tire pumps should not be saturated with oil. Equal parts of glycerine and water keeps them soft and efficient.

After the proper level for the oil supply in the crank case has been determined, it is a simple and not expensive operation to install drain cocks in all compartments, by which the operator is enabled to keep his oil at just the right level.

When two metal surfaces, no matter where they may be located in the mechanism, rub together and produce a squeaking sound, graphite grease is the indicated cure.

A rim cut patch or an inside tire protector will often add hundreds of miles to the life of a tire. A rim built that is designed for application on the inside of a tire, and is constructed with flaps which fit underneath the head of the tire on both sides to hold the patch in place. It is flexible and enduring and once applied is out of sight and mind. Tires which seem to be hopelessly rim cut are given a new lease of life after being reinforced by a good rim-cut patch.

Painting the outside of the zinc and the exposed top of the cell with liquid shellac will protect the cell from moisture and prevent consequent short-circuiting.

And there is the inside tire protector, which is designed to provide complete reinforcement for worn and weakened casings. Its use often adds several thousand miles to tire life that appears to be about ended. It is applied on the inside of the tire, as its name suggests, and provides at a low cost many miles that otherwise would be lost.

If once a week you should make the rounds of bolts and nuts on the body, frame and engine, tightening those needing it, you will, perhaps, save a serious accident, or a big repair bill. When the new car owner discovers that the front wheels are not straight, that they spread outward, he should know that they were built that way to hold the road and also to steer and drive easier.

WHICH TYPE OF CAR?

Motorist To-day Has Much To Think of Before He Decides On a Closed or Open Body.

By Merle Shepard.

Shall I buy a sedan or touring car? Thousands of automobilists are asking themselves this question this year and are seriously at a loss as to how to answer it. It is, indeed, a difficult question to answer in a great many respects, and yet there are certain considerations which, if properly bettered, can determine which is the better car to buy. There is but little doubt for the man who uses his car in business and who must be out in all kinds of weather, that the sedan is the better car.

There are a great many users of open cars who believe that they would never like a closed car, but there are growing less year by year. Prominent car manufacturers whose closed products were no more than twenty per cent. of the total production are now making from fifty-six to sixty per cent. closed bodies. In fact, the sedan is rapidly taking the place of the touring car, and there is little doubt that ten years from now it will have taken its place altogether. By this it is not meant that open cars will be discontinued, but that the balance of popularity will be in favor of the closed type.

Growing in Popularity.

Year by year the percentage of people to drive their open cars with the tops down is decreasing. There are a great many owners of open cars who, in possibly two years of ownership, have not had the tops down more than a few days. This is more particularly true in the West, where the weather conditions do not lend themselves to the open car. It is very annoying on a summer day, when a thunder shower comes quickly, to have to stop and put up the top. Furthermore, the operation, even with the best of tops, takes an appreciable amount of time during which the occupants of the car may become soaked to the skin.

There are just two seasons of the year when it is two seasons of the year when it is desirable to have the top down. This is in the Spring and in the Fall. During the Summer the hot sun renders the covering desirable, and during the Winter, as we all know, tops are desired. There are very much in order. With the up-to-date type sedan, there is little doubt but that the occupants can get practically as much air as in the touring car by lowering the windows, and should a sudden shower arise, a few turns of the crank handle which governs the windows puts them into operation, even with the best of tops, takes an appreciable amount of time during which the occupants of the car may become soaked to the skin.

Keep Out Drafts.

When the side curtains of a touring car are closed it is very difficult at times to get a clear view. It is impossible to keep the celluloid lights clean and they deteriorate very rapidly. Once they become worn the only cure is to replace them and it takes a large amount of the cloth fabric to support the lights, so that visibility from the driver's seat is not nearly as good as it should be. In fact, it is not too much to say that a great many accidents have been caused, because the driver did not have a good view of vehicles approaching from either side.

Another argument against the open car with the side curtains up, particularly in the Winter, is that it is drafty. Air enters the overlapping curtains very easily and sometimes a sharp current of cold air is directed against either the driver or passengers in a very annoying way. With the closed car the draft is eliminated and it is very easy to keep the interior as comfortably warm as the room in a house. The rubber strips, or other anti-rattling devices used in connection with the windows in a sedan, also act to keep the car free from draft, but at the same time, with the readily adjustable windows now in use, it is possible to assure any desired ventilation. On both the closed car and the open car there have been a number of improvements in the interior fittings and arrangements to take care of the regular quota of passengers and extra passengers, according to the capacity of the car. The arrange of robe straps, auto lamp and the useful fitting to hold little knickknack in the touring car has been very much appreciated by those who have gone over to the 1920 cars.

One of the little developments in the way of comfort which may now be seen on a great many of the better touring cars is the use of a tonneau lamp. Quite frequently this tonneau lamp combines a trouble lamp within itself. This is done by having the tonneau lamp mounted in a socket from which it is readily removable and having a wire with which it is connected mounted on a reel or in some other way so as to give an extension cord several feet in length.

Sedan Improvements.

On the sedan the use of the dome light and step lights for illuminating the interior of the car and also the entrance have proven very satisfactory improvements. Methods of preventing rattle in sedans—and other closed bodies have also been developed to an extent where the car is no longer subject to the annoying rattle and drum formerly considered as one of the necessary evils accompanying the use of the sedan, limousine or town car. Professional men, particularly doctors, have found the coupe to be a particularly useful machine. For family use it is of course only desirable where there are but two in the family, and even then there are so many times when it is desired to carry extra passengers that it is seldom preferred.

As far as mileage on gasoline and tires is concerned, the owner of the closed car must be content with yielding about ten per cent. in favor of the open car. The body is heavier, therefore necessitating very frequently the over size tire, and also naturally requiring a little more in the way of gasoline. Compensation in the way of added comfort and convenience is the offsetting advantage to these objections. After all, the choice of a car rests with the use and personal idea of the buyer, but all of the above facts should be taken into consideration in buying.

In British Guiana, one out of every forty inhabitants owns a motor vehicle.

In Sydney, Australia, a large motor show will be held in the early part of 1921.

Unearthed by the police of different cities from Boston to Chicago, a well-organized band of motor thieves has been working on a large scale by disassembling and rebuilding cars for resale.

Traveling about the country to reduce the high cost of living, educate his son and enjoy his middle-age life, Frank Harrold, of Canton, O., is sleeping and eating in a specially constructed touring car, the construction of which has been converted into something which closely resembles the body of a Pullman car.

RED CROSS HAS FLEET

Rural Nursing and Home Service Work of American Society Carried On By 1,000 Cars.

New York, Aug. 21.—The American Red Cross is using 1,000 cars for rural nursing and home service. This number will increase as the work grows.

The Red Cross is aiming to help local authorities in establishing health standards. It is looking after the insurance and back pay rights of the returned soldiers. It is pushing its work in rural centres so that the farm boy will get the same degree of attention as the man from the city, so that farm life has the same sanitary advantages as the city.

In order to reach the territory which a rural secretary must cover a passenger car is needed. These are provided where possible, and in many places cars are loaned for the purpose.

MASTER ROAD OPEN NEXT WEEK

Sixty-Day Tour To Dedicate National Park to Park Highway

Denver, Col., Aug. 21.—Without detracting from its recreational features, the master highway connecting the principal national parks of the West, official opening of which is set for August 25, will mean much to tourists from the standpoint of economy in automobile travel.

Unnecessary delays, through confusion in choosing the proper road and determining if any of the scenic wonders have been overlooked, are eliminated in this longest in the world continuous automobile highway of 4,500 miles.

They are factors which the National Park Service, the National Park to Park Highway Association, and the American Automobile Association have in mind encouraging automobile tourist parties and others to spend an entire summer in this wonderland, or a part of it, traveling in comfort.

It's the greatest achievement for pocketbook economy and recreational advantage that the National Park Service has undertaken, and means much to sight-seeing parties coming from New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Atlanta, Baltimore, Memphis, Chicago and many other points, to behold such wonders as "spouting geysers, active volcanoes, glacial fields and petrified forests."

Of the 900, 225 have cars as part of their equipment, the remainder borrow cars.

AUTOMOBILES MADE FOURTH CITY

Story of Detroit Is That of the Rise of the Motor Car—How the Trade Has Increased in the Last Eight Years.

By L. J. Faulkner.

Automobiles are credited with putting Detroit in the position of fourth city in the United States, in point of population, according to the 1920 census, which gives the Auto City 996,796.

In 1910 the Wolverine City ranked as ninth, showing a gain in ten years of over 131 per cent. In those days her greatest boast was being the largest center of the stove industry. To-day there are twenty-four passenger car factories in Detroit and nearby towns that are in active production. There are two others almost ready to start. In addition, there are eighteen truck manufacturers, turning out trucks of various sizes. Added to these are innumerable manufacturers of accessories and parts which enter into the construction of an automobile, and it is estimated that there are employed in these latter plants nearly as many as are employed in the main industry itself.

The entire city of Detroit practically now exists on the automobile industry. This is evidenced by the fact that there are at least 350,000 of the total population employed in some branch of the trade.

The latest manufacturing census made by the Government credits the industry with products valued at $146,975,944 and a created value of $62,485,725. (By created value is meant the excess value over cost.)

These figures give convincing proof of the great value to the economic progress of this country, created by the automobile, and yet there are people who still insist that a motor car is a luxury and designate the output as "pleasure cars."

It has assumed in the United States a rank next to that of the steel industry, and it should be considered in the same category as a considerable factor in increasing this business itself, therefore proving a valuable contributory medium to the increase in the production of its nearest competitor.

In 1914 there was invested in the business in Detroit $2,530,559. It is safe to assume in the absence of any definite figures that this has been increased in the past six years by over 50 per cent.

All hats off to Detroit and her industry!

If these figures were not enough to convince the man who still claims that the automobile is a "pleasure vehicle," the following statistics, just published by Andrew F. Anderson, highway engineer, Bureau of Public Roads, should put a quietus on any further talk about automobiles being so called.

A total of 7,565,448 motor cars, including commercial vehicles and 241,935 motorcycles, were registered in 1919 in the forty-eight States and the District of Columbia. The revenue in license fees, including those of chauffeurs, operators and dealers, amounts to a total of $64,697,255.38. As compared with 1918, the data for 1919 represents an increase of 23 per cent, or 1,618,829 motor cars. This increase alone represents about 18 per cent more cars than the total number registered in the United States during the calendar year of 1913.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the number of cars registered during 1919 in the two States of New York and Pennsylvania exceeded the total number of cars registered in the United States in 1912, while the revenues derived from the New York and Pennsylvania registrations during 1919 were about double those derived from all motor cars used in the United States during 1912. The revenue derived from all registrations and licenses during 1919 exceeded those of 1912 by 28 per cent, or a total of $12,219,338.97. In 1914 the total gross revenue collected amounted to only $12,381,951.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY TIMES NEWSBOYS DELIGHTED

Manager Jamieson and Noodles Fagan Entertain At Pantages Theatre

Times newsboys to the number of one hundred and eighty entered with wholehearted boyish zest into the pleasures of the bill at Pantages Theatre last night, when they were the guests of Noodles Fagan, the erstwhile newsboy now vaudeville star, and Manager Bob Jamieson, for the second performance. The boys fell in at the Times office at eight o'clock and headed by the more fortunate possessors of bicycles marched down to the theatre, via the purchase of Chinatown. The Orientals, amazed by the shrill cries and "cat-calls" of the invaders rushed out in alarm while many, mystified by the procession, followed in amazement to the theatre, where the boys called a halt under their temporary leader, Jerry Wellburn, of The Times business staff.

Here the boys were welcomed by their hosts and filed into the theatre, where they were accommodated in the balcony. Every turn was received with hearty and spontaneous applause, while the appearance of "Noodles" was the signal for an ovation as the boys welcomed their cheery host. Little Mary Fagan also shared in the generous applause and cheer of the boys who were evidently delighted with her song, "Pretty Little Cinderella." At the close Noodles gave a talk to the boys, pointing out that newsboys were an important factor in the daily life of the city and that selling newspapers was as serious a business as managing a bank and called for their best efforts. "Noodles" terminates his engagement at Pantages Theatre this evening.

COLUMBIA

It took a great deal of patience to get the Australian love birds appearing in Mary MacLaren's latest Universal picture, "The Road to Divorce," now at the Columbia Theatre, to pose in the manner desired by the director. The director, who was no trouble to photograph the bird mates affectionately caressing each other. They are seldom doing anything else. But after the young couple in "The Road to Divorce" had become slightly estranged Mr. Rosen wanted to bring the fact out subtly by showing the love birds standing aloof from each other. He hadn't had into consideration the unchanging fidelity of the little feathered lovers. The director and cameraman worked for days trying to get the birds to stand on opposite sides of their cage for a moment. Finally it was necessary to photograph them separately and use double exposure, a camera trick, to produce the desired "estrangement."

Finally, as well as birds, appear in "The Road to Divorce," and all play their parts well.

PRINCESS

This is the last opportunity you will have to see "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row" at the Princess Theatre. There will be the usual matinee to-day, and the last performance of this delightful play will be given to-night.

Wednesday, August 25, the Cowboy comedy chosen to follow "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row" will be presented in a matinee. It is one of the many admirers of this capable company. You will find all the players cast to advantage and you cannot help but enjoy this clever play, "The Renovated Ranch." Cowboy plays are not only dear to the hearts of small boys and girls, but grown boys and girls, men and women of riper years and larger experience. They are usually thrilled by the romance that envelops the lives of the sturdy fellows who ride the range and do dare in a spirit of adventure. There are many laughs, a few tears, and some thrills in "The Renovated Ranch." One shouldn't miss what promises to be a treat for the fun loving hearts, and as Cowboy plays are hard to get these days it may be weeks before another Western play is presented at the Princess.

Remember to-day's matinee and the night performance will be the last chance to see "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row."

PANTAGES

The feature attraction at Pantages Theatre next Monday and Tuesday is Olive Thomas in a new Selznick Picture, "Out Yonder," written by Pauline Phelps and Marion Sher, and made under the direction of Ralph Ince.

"Out Yonder" is a novel drama in that practically all the scenes are laid in and about a stately light-house on a rocky reef in the Atlantic. It is a story of stormy coasts and sunny beaches with Olive Thomas in the role of "Flotsam," daughter of the keeper of the light. The action is fast and absorbing, introducing new scenes, new characters, new plot, Miss Thomas has an excellent supporting cast including Huntley Gordon, Mary Coverdale, Louise Prussing, Edward Ellis and others.

BOHEMIAN CONCERT PARTY CONCLUDES SEASON AUG. 29

The Bohemian Concert Party at the Gorge Park will close a most successful engagement Sunday week with the usual Sacred Concert. The Company has been under the careful management and direction of Mrs. E. Lang, and certainly has won many friends who will wish them all success in their future careers.

What to Use and Avoid On Faces That Perspire

Skin, to be healthy, must breathe. It also must perspire—must expel through the pores, its share of the body's waste material. Certain creams and powders clog the pores, interfere with elimination and breathing, especially during the heated period. If more women understood this, there would be fewer self-rimed complexion. If they would use ordinary mercolized wax instead of the cosmetics they would have healthy complexions. This remarkable substance actually absorbs a bad skin, also unobscuring the pores. Result: The fresher, younger, under-skin pores, permitted to breathe and to show itself. The acquired new complexion gradually peels out, free from any appearance of artificiality. Obtain an ounce of mercolized wax from your druggist and try it. Apply nightly like cool cream for a week or two, washing it off mornings.

To remove wrinkles, here's a marvelously effective treatment, which she acts naturally and harmlessly: Dissolve an ounce of powdered ammonia in a half pint with hazel and use as a wash.

Mary Thurman is "bustly engaged" in "Seeing America First." While other screen celebrities are fighting for steamer reservations out of New York for Europe, Miss Thurman, who is "between pictures," is making a tour of America's national parks. She has just finished "The Sin of Martha Qued," an Allan Dwan production presented by May-Bower and will next appear in a "Big Six" offering.

MOTOR WANTS CHANGE

Buyer To-day Is Not Technical Faddist, But Wants Car For Service.

A writer in The London Field makes the interesting statement that the new motorist is not of the same outlook or engaged with the same ideas as the majority of pre-war motorists.

Generally speaking, he says, the popular American car has a low compression or a slow speed engine, and so it is more acceptable to this section of motorists than the smaller British model with equal power in a smaller compass. The result is that the British manufacturer has shut himself out from a definite section of his own market, and a growing one. It cannot be disputed that the technical character and attitude of motorists are changing. The greatest mass of recruits to the movement, so far as car owners are concerned, are people who are not acutely interested in the technical character of construction or engaged with the same ideas as the majority of pre-war motorists.

"How any or all of those attributes are attained does not greatly arouse their interest. If they obtain what they pay for they are satisfied; if they do not they are dissatisfied; and do not re-invest in the same car. They are not concerned that the designer has been merely too ambitious when he has failed, and that he could more easily have produced a commonplace and therefore reliable chassis. And even the present-day technical enthusiast has his predilections tempered appreciably by the question of price.

"We shall be surprised if these matters do not find some form of expression in the designs that will be submitted to the public at the next Olympia Show. The deliberately inefficient engine, of course, would be countenanced, but something that requires less driving, less constant supervision, and will permit a greater measure of what we shall call negligence for lack of a more precise term."

ABOUT TIRE REPAIRING

Rim cuts cause more tires to be prematurely junked than almost any other tire injury. The causes of tire neglect send more tires to the scrap heap—tires that have been incapacitated and are beyond repair—but a majority of the rim cut tires reposing in junk yards should not be repaired—they can be successfully repaired say these experts.

A rim cut tire is usually relegated to the discard because the tire repair man says, "It can't be repaired." He should say, "I don't know how to repair it." The last remark would be the reply of a majority of tire repair men if they were willing to admit their lack of knowledge of their trade.

If the motorist would make sure that he is picking the best tire repair man in his community or his city he will make sure to select the repair man who can repair rim cuts.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN AND THE HOME

The "Unknown Quantity" Lends Flavor to a Meal

Your husband will come to his meals with keener zest if you have not beforehand told him just what you have prepared for his delectation.

Haven't you seen housewives who are continually propounding the following question:

"What shall I have for dinner?"

"Are you tired of potatoes?"

"Shall I order more lamb for tomorrow?"

"I believe I'll have soup to-day."

Shall I?

Taking Edge Off.

Occasionally a husband comes back with "Oh, don't tell me what we're going to have. It takes the edge off my appetite. I like to be surprised."

Some wives would put this, but isn't it your part of the job of being a housewife and helpmate to attend to this part of the domestic regime without calling in the family in consultation?

We soon get to know the likes and preferences of each individual member of the family, and to most of us it is a pleasure to cater to these preferences so long as it does not mean indigestibility or a too great strain on the family exchequer, but to make a pronounced point of such individual catering is liable to cause a selfish insistence upon it later on when "mother" is not present to carry on the hampering old begun. Many children suffer keenly from this and make later rather difficult husbands to feed!

The element of surprise in a meal gives "tang" to the feast. Don't tabulate what you're going to have three meals in advance. Think about it a lot, do a deal of planning, but keep it to yourself. The capable housewife does not "stage" all the domestic machinery.

Careful Catering.

It is a delicate compliment to serve some certain dish that you've heard a particular guest likes. His pleasure in it may be spoiled, however, if the hostess relates some marvellous tale of difficulties in securing the ingredients for its concoction. We like to have a "fuss" made over us, but not too much of a fuss.

The other day a neighboring family was expecting the formal arrival of the house on a visit. It was mentioned that he liked old-fashioned cookies. This fact was mentally noted by the next door neighbor and the day of the visitor's arrival a silver tray of cookies was presented. The pleasurable surprise was greater than if the neighbor had announced beforehand that she was going to provide cookies for the occasion.

You probably have not thought about it before, but do you not harass your husband and family as to "what shall we have to eat?"

Women complain in this way just as they do about their illnesses. They get in the habit of doing it. Neither meals nor illnesses are any the better.

It is discouraging and depressing to the family to hear "I'm so tired cooking these same old things I don't know what to do." Is your task to fix the old things (if you can't get new ones) into appetizing dishes, and the smiles and graciousness with which you announce dinner will probably set the note as to its satisfaction, or the reverse.

We pay our doctor's bills and bills for this and that amusement for our discontented children, and yet overlook the simple fact of our responsibilities for meals—meals that if properly prepared, come to with pleasure and sweetness of heart, would be so satisfying that there would be less occasion for outside pastimes and fewer bills to pay.

Disregarded Factor.

The corner drug stores are patronized too much by children. Parents complain of it, yet they do too little in the way of making meals and home a successful competitor of ice cream and confectionery stands.

But you must be too much of a "cheerful teller" of what you're going to have to eat. People do not like to be surprised. Just plan to yourself the good things you know the family likes, provide such pleasant pastimes that there is not the far too prevalent rush to get out and away to movie and dance hall. Don't complain, mothers, but get busy—sensibly, thoughtfully. Don't expect the children to go into ecstasies over the scrubbing of floors and sunning of bedclothes you've done. This does not appeal to them. But a good, happy meal and your smile will, in ordering meals for guests at a hotel luncheon one may spoil the pleasure of it by trying to pin the guest down to "just what would you rather have?" As a rule we'd rather the hostess said the ordering. We all like about the same things. If pressed to state our choice we feel some hesitancy as regards prices, thus embarrassing the hostess.

Our "Ain" Folk.

We housewives get tired of the drudgery of meals, but "the family" come in from their work and play with hearty zest. What have we for them to eat? How do we serve it? Are there flowers on the table and a welcoming smile on our faces? Do we cater to strangers to mere acquaintances, more than to our "ain folk"? Do we reserve the best linen, flowers and smiles for guests? If we do it is high time for us to make a change.

Ostrich Is Seen in Fascinating Though Formal Roles

The value of any picture is enhanced by its frame, and when one dresses to suit one's type one's good points are rendered doubly effective—and one's less attractive characteristics are cleverly concealed. This is the knowledge that is winning for the American girl the reputation of being the best dressed in the world—this choosing her clothes to suit her personality.

Fashion is prepared to go to all lengths in pushing her fancies upon now ostrich, and tomorrow, several favors in her sight. And it must be admitted that, as a rule, she knows what she is doing even in the fads of the moment.

When one is inclined to be stately she may wear a feathered bandana to good effect, but let the short, plump damsel beware. What is a crown for one may prove a footstep for another.

The plumed fan is a democratic sort of thing and care not for stature nor color. Careless alike of whether mildly be tall or short, blonde or brunette, it lends an air of distinction to any costume when it matches the gown, and when breathless nights it is a most useful adjunct as well.

The powers that are responsible for the mid-season fashions have demonstrated more than a surface knowledge of the tastes and needs of those women chief among whose aspirations it is to be well dressed. And they have subtly created an impression that it is better part of a chic appearance to select a happy few for one's wardrobe rather than an ill assorted many.

It is really astonishing with how very little we can really get along and look well. There must, of course, be the serviceable suit or costume for traveling, and for the day when one goes to town to shop, a sports skirt or two, with an assorted number of blouses, an afternoon frock of either silk or cotton, several little evening frocks and the inevitable Summer wrap, and behold there is the wardrobe that will be sufficient until the next of the summer girl.

Decolletage is not quite so well self with the names of the principal streets of the United States.

Stock in Trade.

Another stock in trade of that individual whose work it is to write or to come in contact with many strangers is the spelling of and pronouncing of their names. There is nothing that makes a more unfavorable impression upon the receiver of a letter than seeing his name misspelled upon the envelope.

Concentrating again upon the stenographer as an example. One thing that will make much for her success is the ability that she demonstrates in composing letters. Nothing can give the householder if a different story. With not much ground it is possible for her to decorate her table with blossoms most of the year around.

One woman has made it her special pride and pleasure to have flowers from early April until frost, and her garden is tiny, too. This is how she achieves it.

In the first place, she's stocked it well with bulbs. In April the blue scillas opened. They are very dainty blossoms and play well their part until they are supplanted by the daffodils. These bloom for almost a month due to a trick she has of planting different varieties a few days apart, and when they are vanishing the narcissus comes to make their absence less noticeable.

Then tulips are in order, and following them are flowering shrubs, then lilacs, and next the lovely iris. Long before they are gone the daisies have arrived and with them the primroses, the larkspur and the columbines.

At last with the arrival of mid-Summer come the old standbys—phlox and bee-balm and coreopsis.

When the Spring bulbs are taken up this clever manager plans annuals, buying a few plants to save the space that would otherwise be needed for sowing them. From June on she has plenty of annuals to draw from—pinks and nasturtiums, marigolds and poppies and lots of other things.

Really a few flowers at a time are all that anybody needs, and better continuous bloom than masses at any one season.

It always is fine to have many varied blossoms to draw upon, for with them it is possible to work out so many lovely color schemes. If the space allows, by all means include sweet peas and asters in the garden. They are among the most beautiful of all.

The "Middle" Daughter Rebels at Repression

The middle daughter grew so fast that grandmother laughingly suggested tucks be taken in her legs. Instead of the continual lengthening of skirts to keep pace with her growth, "Poor little middle daughter! We have to keep her back so tight. The older sister won't seem so old. Some mothers act as if it was imperative that this older girl 'marry off' before the middle daughter comes out, but somehow this is a difficult and often ludicrous thing to do. Firm, young flesh will grow, and burgeoning youth clamors for attention and pretty clothes. What is to be done about it?"

In Her Place.

It is difficult for us older people to realize the heartache and loneliness these middle daughters endure—unless we ourselves have been one!

Why can't fledgling Mary wear grownup Sue's old garments? It seems the logical, the economical thing to do.

Yet Mary objects bitterly, tearfully. Dad enough, but this is not all. This compulsion, repression may result in a permanent emotional disposition. Mary may recall her girlhood tinged with envy and hate of a selfish older sister and inconsiderate parents.

We cannot expect her to know how our hopes are set on Sue shining socially and marrying eligibly. We intend to do all these things for Mary later, but Sue continues to hang on the parental stem. We become uncomplained, Mary frantic. She it is who must bear the brunt of our disappointments.

The Elder Sister.

The other day a certain middle daughter "rose up in arms" and asserted her rights. She absolutely declined to wear any garment that had been used by any other member of the family. She even went to the extent of securing a position as companion to an old aunt so that she could "live on her own life" and wear her own clothes, as she militantly expressed it.

Of course the family was shocked, they had not realized how deeply this daughter felt her wrongs! In talking it over afterward she recalled her protests at wearing clothes an older sister had been seen in; her rage at having to vacate the best living room for more privileged companions—because she was not yet "out."

It is a custom among mothers of several daughters to expect wearing apparel to do duty for them all alternately. One visits at a certain place, and one at another. Why can't they make use of the same costumes?

"Well, there are some militant daughters who say that they are not 'themselves'—in some one else's clothing. It is highly insulting to them if someone chances to say 'why that's the lovely blouse'—saw Jane wearing the other day. How convenient that you can walk into the same clothes like that.

Perhaps high wages, more spending money and a realization of feminine independence breed of the war accounts for this insubordination among our girls. Anyway, we are going to have to stop suppressing the middle daughter.

And after all, is it right or necessary?

Perhaps the older daughters will marry off better if they are not harassed by parental promptings in this respect. More clothes for middle daughter and less for the older sister may not be able to solve the latter's luxury she is accustomed to at middle daughter's expense. How often we see the anomaly of Cinderella (hard working middle daughter) walking in town with the most eligible boy in town and the daughter who has spent so much upon still unsought.

Unfair Discriminations.

Last Christmas at a family gathering it was noted that the elder daughter received more gifts than the younger girl. The assembled group delightedly expatiated upon the popularity of the lucky girl and there was openly expressed commiseration for the younger one.

Of course, family love was equally divided between the girls, in fact, the middle daughter was the favorite; if there was any difference whatsoever, but because Kate was older, socially launched, she received the expensive furbelows fitting her stage of the complex social and matrimonial age. The expression on middle daughter's face was not as happy as it should have been this Christmas morning. Can we expect her to follow the devoted workings of our worldly minds and patiently bide her time?

ARE WOMEN TO-DAY TOO MASCULINE?

London Writer Rejoices In Improved Physical Development of Women

"Fifty years ago we were told that our women were over-feminine. Today we are told that they are becoming masculinized. Apparently we are on the eve of the deterioration of both sexes, the subjection of man, and a complete revolution in the social status of man and woman," says a writer in the London Daily Mail.

The improved physical development of the rising generation of women is surely not a cause for lamentation. Strength is quite compatible with beauty, sympathy, and tenderness in women, and frailness of body and semi-invalidism do not always ensure the virtues known as distinctly feminine.

Nor need we fear the intellectual advancement of women so long as education is humanistic, broad, and sane. A girl can retain all the charm of femininity, and even enhance it, by a truly liberal education.

The fragrant defect of the woman of the era when physical attractiveness was considered the chief or only charm was insipidity. Nowadays women are beginning to recognize that a vacuous mind lends no beauty to the countenance, and that a lively intelligence is in itself a valuable feminine asset.

I grant that a proportion of women in revolt against the old order tend to the countenance, and that a lively intelligence is in itself a valuable feminine asset.

I frequently remember themselves ridiculous by their attempt to combine an air of manliness with an exacting demand for man's continued civility and courteousness.

I cannot discover an alarming decrease of womanliness. Despite the bodily and mental development of the women of to-day, the great majority of sisters remain the engaging, bewitching, variable characteristics that we recognize as specifically womanly.

I can discern no sign of a diminishing interest in personal adornment. The wisest of our "sweet girl graduates" cannot resist the entertainment of a milliner's shop-window.

A woman B.Sc. whose lecture I listened a few days ago was attired in the newest fashion. The strongest minded women are still wont to fall in love, to marry, and to exhibit maternal feeling in a quite natural manner.

There is the same April tendency that has provided programs for man throughout the ages. Sweet moods, tears, tantrums, vanity, music, self-sacrifice, sensitivity, intuition, fortitude, and timidity—all these manifestations of femininity rest upon the spine of higher education and rapid body growth in youth.

A BOY'S BLOUSE.

Use daddy's discarded shirts for making boys' blouses. They like to wear their father's vest, wash the shirts and then rip them apart. Using a good pattern, cut from the shirt from the blouse front, from the shoulders the blouse sleeves and so on. Take pains to tailor stitch collar, cuffs, pocket and yoke just as the shirt was. The front plait of the shirt may be just as it was for the blouse, or it may be cut away and a new one made. If necessary or desirable, a yoke can be added to the back of the blouse.

VACATION COSMETICS.

The old-fashioned aversion to cosmetics of every sort is passing. Every woman now realizes the usefulness of talcum powder and certain creams and lotions. In the Summer time they are really indispensable—if one wants to present always a fresh, attractive appearance. Oh, the shiny noses, the plump cheeks, the rosy lips, the "no lady" used face powder! It is not always possible to obtain warm water for bathing the face at summer boarding houses and small hotels, and even when one has a small contrivance for heating water—an electric stove or an alcohol stove which can be packed in its own case—there is still the problem of powdered borax, which makes hard water delightfully soft.

Did you know that ordinary baking soda is a good Summer substitute for talcum powder? Use it after bathing and it will help to keep your skin dry and soft and prevents any odor of perspiration. Use also a good deodorant—not just before dressing, but two or three times a week before going to bed. It will check perspiration so that you will not have to wear shields in thin frocks and blouses in grandma's day, when no "lady" used face powder!

"GENERAL INFORMATION"

Inevitably an Invaluable Factor in Success

Technical skill is never the sole requirement for the highest type of success. Over and above it, the person who intends to rise to the top rung of the ladder in any work that he has chosen must possess a number of other qualifications, among them being imagination, tact, good nature, an unlimited capacity for taking pains and a fund of general information, and perhaps the greatest of these is the last.

Acquiring Details.

"General information" covers many things. Certainly one cannot be very well informed without having a fairly good idea of the topics of the day, without being able to discuss intelligently upon the current events and the things and people that are before the public attention, and the surest and quickest way of acquiring this detail is by a perusal of the daily paper.

It is nothing short of stupid to live in a city for any length of time and know nothing about it. It is the better part of sense to familiarize oneself with the points of interest and the general plan of the town—one never knows when this knowledge will stand one in good stead.

We may have spent most of our time to date in our "own home town," but there is no way of telling when we shall be to parts unknown, or where we shall go when we do, and at any rate sooner or later our paths are sure to cross those of travelers. How much more at ease will we feel if we are able to show a general acquaintance with American and European history, with the names of famous people, places and facts.

To be sure to remember all that one hears or reads does require a certain amount of concentration when one is acquiring it, but with a conscious training of the mind any one may collect a store of knowledge—almost without effort—that will give those with whom we converse the impression that we are interesting, intelligent and altogether worth cultivating.

To sum it all up, there is no kind of knowledge, no degree of education,

that will not at some time or other prove useful.

Concentration.

Just as an example take the stenographer. Daily, if one may suppose that she is on duty in an expert way, does she write letters that will carry their way to all parts of the world. She is a very phlegmatic person of thought that she escapes her employer may be in the shoe case business, but as a vacation he may indulge in occasional poetry or in the drama, and in spite of himself traces of these are sure to creep into his dictation.

If you seem a trifle far fetched, but the better versed an intelligent reader in character reading, poultry raising, automobile, music, literature, and golf the easier she will find it to take dictation and the better will she enjoy her work.

"But," argues the busy girl, "how can I acquire all this information when I have so little time; surely there are not very many hours left after the working ones are counted out!"

This is perfectly true, but when one cannot accumulate in the first hand, getting them predestined is far better than not getting them at all.

For current events, as we have mentioned before, an intelligent reading of the newspaper is the most satisfactory means to an end. While a street map will do much to acquaint one with the salient features of the city—and an occasional dip into the street directory will prove of decided value in helping her to know the names of the streets and their approximate numbering.

This not only will prevent her from wasting time in getting lost upon her rambles about town, but it will oblige her to take a more conscious training of the mind any one may collect a store of knowledge—almost without effort—that will give those with whom we converse the impression that we are interesting, intelligent and altogether worth cultivating.

To sum it all up, there is no kind of knowledge, no degree of education,

If one lives in an apartment all the year around one must depend upon the florist for flowers, and since prices are as prohibitive there as elsewhere Mrs. Housewife must perforce be satisfied with few. CHURCH CRITICISM OF BRIDAL GOWNS

Roman Catholic Dignitaries Protest Against Too-Gauzy Frocks in Church

London, Aug. 21.—Father Antoine's refusal to marry a wealthy young Italian woman who arrived at St. Louis Cathedral, New Orleans, in what he considered too diaphanous a dress—"above the waistline nothing more than a piece of gauze"—is warmly approved by Roman Catholics in London.

Monsignor Jackman, of Westminster Cathedral, said that some women attend places of worship in clothes which are not in accord with Christian principles.

No rule about wedding dresses is laid down, the matter being entirely one of the taste of brides, but the Bishop of Salford and high dignitaries of the church in France and Belgium have spoken strongly on the subject.

An official of a women's society said that notices are posted at the doors of many French churches to the effect that women who wish to enter must be decently clothed.

It is stated that the question of "sketchy" women's dresses may be taken up shortly by a big Church association.

An Archbishop's Appeal to Modesty. "I do hope," said the Archbishop of Melbourne (Dr. Lowther Clarke), in addressing the Mothers' Union at Westminster, "that you will steadfastly set your faces against the scanty dress which so many women, married and unmarried, are now wearing, both during the day and in the evening."

"Short dresses are a great gain, in so far as they facilitate walking and keeping the skirts clear of mud and dust, but that is no justification for the extreme scantiness of which I have spoken. Something similar happened after Waterloo, when Byron ridiculed it with good effect. I hope the modern and good sense which I have always admired in English women will bring about a remedy now."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS. TIMELY TIPS.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Cottage cheese and guava jelly spread on barley bread make novel and delicious sandwiches.

Soda fountain straws will be found valuable on camping trips—used instead of drinking cups.

As far as possible see that the refrigerator is filled with one piece of ice. It will melt evenly.

Always wash fruit jars and covers very thoroughly in clean, soapy water before using.

For making salad dressing most satisfactorily use a Dover egg beater and a conical-shaped bowl.

When traveling with an ink bottle, make sure that the cork is held in by a strip of adhesive plaster carried over the cork.

Put the thermos bottle into a shawl strap when on a trip and it will stay where it is put, besides being handy to carry and less likely to break.

When peaches are over-soft it is best to make jam of them or to press them through a fruit strainer. In the latter case serve ice cold with whipped cream.

TIMELY TIPS.

When ironing place an old kettle or tin over your irons. They will heat quicker and keep hot longer.

Wiping windows or glass doors over with a chamomile cloth dipped in water will remove all stains and clean glass thoroughly.

Rock salt or common salt sprinkled on your steps will melt the ice. It can also be swept away and prevent accidents.

TIMELY TIPS.

Spring has decided on deep flounces. Soft colors are preferred for children.

Oranide still holds the centre of the stage.

Faisley linings are used for black satin suits.

Wool Jersey is favored even for youngsters.

SERVICES IN THE CITY CHURCHES

INSTAL COURSE IN CHURCH PUBLICITY

(By Dr. Christian F. Reiser.)
Church advertising has grown to be such an important factor in the progress of every modern church that one of the leading theological schools, located in Boston, has installed a course in church publicity.

Student Ministers.
Hundreds of young student-ministers are being trained there in the fine essentials of advertising their churches to the community. When they go out to take appointments, not only will these ministers be able to convince church boards of the necessity of making appropriations for advertising, but they will know how to send out the kind of published messages that will fill their churches regularly with interested, enthusiastic audiences.

The importance of training a minister in publicity has been recognized by pastors who believe in advertising. Even though a dominie may believe in advertising, he may fail because he does not know how to get his messages across to those whom he would bring into his church, according to preachers who have obtained gratifying results through publicity.

Converted Newspapermen.
One of the best types of advertising pastors is the ex-newspaperman, who has been converted at an evangelistic meeting or at a regular church service. He has the true spirit of Christianity, together with devotion to the cause, a knowledge of men and the ability to make forceful appeals to those whom he would have in his congregation.

BISHOP OF COLUMBIA WELCOMED IN OLD PARISH IN PORTSEA

Dr. Schofield Visits Portsmouth During English Tour, Is Heartily Greeted

"After being for a long time in charge of St. Mary's Mission, Fratton, under Dr. Lang (now Archbishop of York), when he was Vicar of Portsea, the Rev. C. de V. Schofield, in 1919 left to undertake a mission work in British Columbia. He has now returned to England as Bishop of Columbia Diocese and is touring the country to explain the needs and requirements of his diocese. On Monday he addressed a large gathering at the Portsea Parish Institute, over which Rev. A. L. Edwards presided, in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar of Portsea.

Bishop Schofield said he was the first Canadian born bishop, his four predecessors having been Englishmen. He described the difficulties experienced by the clergymen owing to the widely scattered population in the huge country, as well as among the large number of islands off the coast. For the regularly organized work in the great towns the diocese was able to supply the needs. It did not ask for any help for that phase of its work, but in the great back country and among the islands towns were constantly being formed. It was most necessary to supply their needs at the start, until they were in a position to help themselves. The bishop added that he was appealing to the Mother Country to send them help in connection with these newly-formed townships, especially clergymen to go out and work among them.

The bishop described his work with Canadian lumbermen, among whom he had found very many rough diamonds; also among the coast line settlers, and among the Red Indians and their children, for whom schools had been founded with splendid results. Speaking of the large numbers of Chinese and Japanese who had settled in the diocese, the bishop emphasized the importance of carrying the Gospel message to them, and explained that the church was doing so by means of Chinese and Japanese Catechists. In conclusion he asked for the prayers of his former parishioners. A collection was made at the close of the service for the Diocese Funds—Portsmouth Evening News, England.

GREAT "NATIONAL PILGRIMAGE PLAY" STAGED IN CANYON

Hopes Of Hundreds Of All Creeds Realized In Story Of Christ's Life

The hopes and plans of hundreds of people of all sects and churches, people from all parts of the United States who have worked earnestly for many months, were realized when the first public production of the "National Pilgrimage Play" was given in the natural amphitheatre in El Camino Real Canyon, situated at the Los Angeles end of Cahuenga Pass out in the Hollywood hills of California.

The "National Pilgrimage Play," unlike the famous "Passion Play" of Oberammergau, was not confined to the last week of Christ's life on earth, but began with prophecies of His coming and Herod's fear, and then, following faithfully the story of the Gospels, continued the chronicle through the Resurrection and Ascension.

The immense natural theatre in El Camino Real Canyon, which is accessible to all by electric cars or by motor, has a seating capacity of 1,000. More could have been provided, but the venture was to awaken interest in the Gospel and not for money-making purposes.

Workers Step to Rehearse.
For many weeks persons passing near the mouth of the canyon, where an entrance way has been graded on each duplication of the old gates of Jerusalem, have wondered at the number of people going busily in and out of the protected inclosure. Had they been permitted to look into its recesses they would have observed men and women at work with carpenter tools, shovels and pickaxes; had they been thereabout at four o'clock each afternoon they would have seen the majority of the workers halt and rest while others of their number, still clad in overalls and jumpers, rehearsed their parts in a play which many hope will outshine the greatest efforts of those workers, but the venture was to awaken interest in the Gospel and not for money-making purposes.

Every Word From Bible.
The "National Pilgrimage Play" contains the story of Christ's entire life and every word He spoke on earth as duplicated in the Bible. The four Gospels of the New Testament have been so transcribed that the words of the greatest spiritual figure that has appeared on earth in all the ages are given literally and without alteration, substitution or the introduction of a single word. The transcription of the Scriptures was made by Mrs. W. Yorke Stevenson, Registrar, Yates Hill, pastor of the Mother Church of Presbyterianism in America; George Arliss, president of the Actors Church Alliance; the Right Rev. Joseph H. Johnson, Episcopal Bishop of Los Angeles; Miss Violet Oakley, mural decorator; Clayton Hamilton, author and dramatic critic; Edward W. Bok, until recently editor of the "Ladies Home Journal"; and Mrs. Charlotte Tower, Mrs. W. Yorke Stevenson and Mrs. Otis Skinner.

Four Main Diversions.
The play consists of fourteen scenes, divided into a prologue, two acts and an epilogue. In the prologue the players recite the prophecy of Christ's coming, Herod's fear and proclamation, the angel-heralded nativity and the coming of the wise men. The first act presents the story of the baptism of Christ by John the Baptist. His temptations and teachings, the transfiguration, miracles and episodes in His life, including those of Lazarus and Mary Magdalene. In the second act the play shows the entrance into Jerusalem, the Last Supper, Gethsemane and the trial by Pilate. The epilogue tells the story of the death of Christ, the Resurrection and the Ascension.

The peculiar topography of the canyon, constructed so that twenty remarkably nature-like stages have been built, makes possible many soul-stirring, beautiful illusions. The stages are so constructed that all are invisible to the audience except the one on which the illumination is directed. Far up the hillside, 300 feet from the audience, a large pipe organ is installed. Near by is concealed the choir-organ and space for an orchestra of seventy-five pieces. Many actors and actresses of note are to be found among the 280 people who appear in the play, but there

THE OBJECTS OF GUILD OF HEALTH

Rev. T. E. Rowe Makes Statement Here on Its Constitution

Rev. T. E. Rowe announced this week in Christ Church Cathedral the objects and constitution of the society known as "The Guild of Health," or as he declared its full title to be, "The Guild of Health in Christ Jesus Our Lord." It was pointed out that although Mr. Rowe is a clergyman of the Anglican Church, membership in the guild is not confined to this branch of the Christian Church.

Constitution.
"The Guild of Health is a Society within the Christian Church designed to promote a deeper interest in the relation between spiritual life and bodily health. We know that by strengthening our grasp on Eternal Realities we find reinforcement for the life in us which quickens all the functions of body as well as those of mind," said Mr. Rowe.

"This truth we believe to be a vital part of the Gospel, and as in the primitive Church, should be taught in true co-relation with the other truths of the Christian Faith.

"We believe that such a Society as this is at present necessary to revive within the Church a right proportionate emphasis upon this neglected point—of Christian doctrine, and to secure recognition of a truth which we firmly believe to be a definite part of the salvation which is in Christ Jesus."

Objects of Guild.
"The objects, therefore, of the Guild are:
"1. The study of the influence of spiritual upon physical well-being, as taught by the Word of God.
"2. United prayer for the inspiration and guidance of the Holy Spirit in all efforts to reach the sick.
"3. The exercise of healing by spiritual means in obedience to the conditions laid down by Jesus Christ, and in complete loyalty to true scientific principles and methods.
"4. The cultivation through spiritual means of both individual and corporate health."

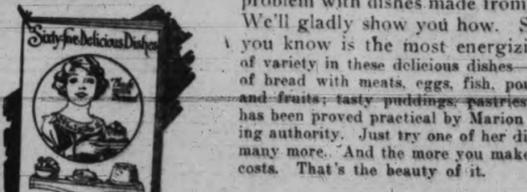

Rules and Officers.
Mr. Rowe announced that there is only one rule, the rule of daily prayer, and only one officer, that of secretary-treasurer, which position is at present held by Mrs. A. M. Christie.

The Guild of Health prayer is from an ancient source, in use in the Eastern Church, and reads as follows: "O Almighty Father, Who dost heal both the bodies and the souls of men, Who didst send Thine Only-begotten Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, to heal every disease and sickness, and to redeem us from death; deliver us, we humbly beseech Thee, from all infirmities both of soul and body which do

LEADER KING AGAIN URGES ELECTION

Liberal Chieftain Says Meighen's Duty Is To Go Before Country

Milton, Ont., Aug. 21.—Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Party in the House of Commons, and A. R. McMaster, member for Bromo, addressed a large meeting in Victoria Park here last night.

In the course of his speech the Liberal Leader said he did not believe in religious differences and the next could be changed, even if Canada did have groups of United Farmers, Labor and other so-called parties.

Mr. McMaster said the first thing Canada had to do was to get rid of religious differences and the next was to straighten out the language question. The present trouble was the work of political tricksters who were trying to divide the people.

He also said that now that women had the franchise things would be better looked after in future at Ottawa.

SEEKING OUTLET FOR B. C. PRODUCE

George E. Shortt, Junior Trade Commissioner, on a Visit. Here

There is room for everything in the export trade. George E. Shortt, Junior Trade Commissioner for the Department of Trade and Commerce, and widely known as a writer on industrial subjects before he joined the department recently, is now in the city. Mr. Shortt is able to show that Chile wants the inferior grades of salmon packed on this coast, chubbs and poor pinks, which have hitherto been a drug on the market. Mr. Shortt has been making inquiries, for there is a strong possibility that he may be sent to Valparaiso to reside next year—into the openings for Pacific produce in the southern republic. Lumber and fish are the two chief imports of the country desired from Canada, but the most significant data he has ascertained is that the poorer grades of salmon which have no market in other parts of the world can be absorbed readily by the planters on the western slopes of the Andes. Mr. Shortt, who was overseas with an artillery corps, and is a son of Professor Adam Shortt, has been making a thorough investigation into trade conditions in the West, and while in Victoria has met a number of local manufacturers, and exporters. Prior to leaving here on Monday evening he will be glad to meet persons who are interested in the export trade at the Empress Hotel. "The Pacific," he stated, "will be the scene of the export trade of the future. The Atlantic ocean connects countries which are large producers and manufacturers themselves, while the Pacific ocean has on its Oriental margin a vast consuming public which will take some generations to change from its present mode of living. I find on inquiries that in addition to trade with the Orient and South Africa, British Columbia merchants are increasing their business with the Straits Settlements, for rubber, and Peru for sugar." Mr. Shortt will visit Okanagan, and the Boundary country, and return to Ottawa to make a report. He expects to be out in Victoria again in January before he proceeds to an overseas appointment.

TO PROBE CITY THEFTS

Thousand Feet of Lumber, Wire Netting and Utensils Vanish From Market Building Despite Guard.

No less than 1,000 feet of lumber, a quantity of wire netting and feeding utensils, stored in the upper part of the City's Market Building and under the guard of a watchman, has mysteriously disappeared, the City Council was informed late yesterday by W. Miller Higgs, secretary of the Victoria and District Rabbit Breeder's Association.

"I think the city should be officially informed by letter of this regrettable fact," Mr. Higgs said. As a citizen and on behalf of the rabbit association he asked for a thorough investigation of the matter of thefts.

Mr. Higgs and members of the association held a meeting and discussed the incident. Their investigation, they informed the aldermen, leads them to believe that clever thieves have got away with the property by working through some of the main entrances of the Fire Hall while firemen were off on duty. During the day the market is under the guard of a caretaker and at night the big outside gates are locked up.

"Seeing this has happened with this property other property in the building may disappear in the same way unless something is done," Mr. Higgs added. Mayor Porter and the aldermen ordered an immediate investigation. This will be carried out by the market committee of the council.

WANT TO WALK AGAIN

W. Monteith Informs Aldermen People Are Planning to Revert to Customs of Twenty-five Years Ago.

People want to walk across the Songhees Reserve as they did twenty-five years ago. W. Monteith, of the Victoria West Brotherhood informed the City Council yesterday afternoon. He asserted that now that the shippers have gone and because of the likelihood of the seven-cent fare on the street cars many are going to use their limbs as was their habit a quarter of a century ago.

Because of these conditions Mr. Monteith said the people want to use the old thoroughfare through the reserve and do away with the overhead walk. The city engineer was instructed to look into the matter.
