Create an Independent Program

Basic Program

This program type will track edits to any articles or mainspace pages by any participants. If automated wiki edits are enabled on the program's home wiki, then an on-wiki version of this program will be automatically created and updated.

Edit-A-Thon

An Edit-A-Thon program will track edits to any articles or mainspace pages. By default, no automated edits will be made for this program.

Article Scoped Program

This program type only tracks edits for assigned articles or categories. Use this type if you want to limit the statistics to a known collection of articles or topic areas. By default, automated wiki edits are turned on.

Create an Independent Program

The program title and institution form the URL of the program. The home wiki is the main wiki where participants will be working, and edits on this wiki will tracked by default. If your program spans multiple languages or projects, contributions will also be tracked for any wiki that has been explicitly added to the "Tracked Wikis". Click "Create my Program!" to start building the page for your wiki program.

Create an Independent Program

Enter the starting and ending dates for your program. You may wish to extend the end to several hours or days beyond the end of the main activities, to include related editing that happens soon after the event.

Start of activity tracking:

2022-04-04 < APRIL 2022 >

End of activity tracking:

2022-04-30

Specify separate times:

Activity statistics for the event are calculated based on the times specified above, but you can specify separate times for when the event starts and ends (e.g., for registration or when the venue closes).

Event start:

2022-04-11 00 : 01

Event end:

2022-04-24 23 : 59

Start and end times are displayed in your local time zone.
