SUBJECT: Deportation of Allied National Illegal Entrants

TO : Commanding General 24th Infantry Division, APO 24
Attn: Judge Advocate Section

1. Reference is made to SCAPINs 3, 660, 852, 996, 1015, 1116, 1121, 1273, 1280, 1391, 1391/1, 1738, 1742, and 1822, OD 33 dtd 14 May 1948.

2. All of the following directives are related to the control of illegal entrants but none of said directives authorize occupation force authorities to administratively deport persons from Japan.

3. SCAPIN 1121 (11 August 1946) above refers to illegal entrants from Sakhalin and the Kuriles and requires that Japanese authorities "process Japanese through the repatriation center and report non-Japanese to United States Authorities for trial by Military tribunal and/or deportation." It is believed by this Headquarters that SCAPIN 1121 is limited to its subject and that the disjunctive "and" applies to the individual case depending upon whether the individual is found in Japan or is apprehended in the process of entering Japan. In other words, if found in Japan he will be reported for trial and deportation, if found while attempting to enter Japan, he will be reported for deportation.

4. OD 33 (14 May 48) provides in paragraph 4 a (3) "In the case of other United Nations Nationals, criminal jurisdiction will be exercised by the Allied Military Court having jurisdiction in the place where the offense is committed." Also in the same directive in paragraph 4 b (9) (b) "Special provost courts are authorized to impose the following sentences: 4. Deportation to his native country or the country where he was last legally located, of any person illegally in Japan.

5. It is the opinion of this Headquarters, that under the provisions of all of the directives issued by higher headquarters that the legal method for disposing of allied national illegal entrants should be as follows:

a. If the allied national is apprehended in the process of entering Japan illegally, he should be reported to the occupation forces for deportation.

b. If the allied national is apprehended in Japan, and it is believed that he is an illegal entrant, he should be reported to the occupation forces for trial by a provost court having jurisdiction over allied nationals and upon decision of the court be deported.

j. SCAPIN 1950 (GHQ, SCAP), file AG 014.33 (6 Oct48)GA, 23 December 1948, subject: "Termination of Repatriation for Ryukyuans."

2. All alleged illegal entrants into occupied Japan are subject to trial in occupation courts for violations of directives named in 1f and/or 1i above. However, by references 1a and 1b above occupation court authorities have exclusive criminal jurisdiction over United Nations nationals as defined in reference 1e. The Japanese authorities may by administrative action deport Korean illegal entrants into occupied Japan under the provisions of reference 1c and Ryukyuans under the provisions of reference 1j above.

3. The following policy will govern deportation of United Nations nationals and non-United Nations nationals:

a. If a United Nations national is apprehended in the act of illegal entry and he admits it, there is no need for adjudication. He may be deported administratively by occupation authorities without resort to the courts.

(1) Reference 1b provides, "6. The Imperial Japanese Government shall have no authority to arrest United Nations Nationals, except (a) in areas where Allied troops are not actually present on duty and there is a reasonable suspicion that a serious crime has been committed by a United Nations National, or (b) where otherwise directed by the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers or his authorized subordinates; provided that, when such persons are taken into custody, the apprehending authority will immediately report the incident to the nearest Allied Military Authority and deliver such persons upon instructions from such Authority."

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775013

11 APR 1949

b. If a United Nations national is apprehended in Japan and is not in the act of illegal entry, his case should be referred to an occupation court for trial and disposition whether or not said illegal entrant admits his illegal act.

(1) Reference 1i in addition to prohibiting illegal entry also makes failure to register as provided an offense for which a general provost court could adjudge deportation.

4. Since many illegal entrance cases involve Koreans, Ryukyuans, and Formosans, the following procedure will be adopted in said cases:

a. Koreans and Ryukyuans

(1) Koreans are not United Nations nationals as defined in reference 1e above. Korea is classified therein as a "Special Status Nation"; thus the protective immunity against Japanese criminal jurisdiction defined in references 1a, 1b and 1h above does not apply. It is not the policy of the Eighth Army to require that Koreans or Ryukyuans who are illegally in Japan be tried and sentenced to deportation by an occupation court for illegal entrance.

b. Formosans

(1) Formosans are not in the same category as Koreans. According to the policy of the Executive Yuan of the Republic of China, all persons of Formosan birth or extraction were declared to be citizens of China as of 25 October 1945. Reference 1g above directs that: "Formosans will be examined for identification recognizing them as Chinese nationals in which case they will be tried as Chinese. If they have no such identification, their names and pertinent information will be submitted to this headquarters for clarification of their status before any action is taken." Pending clarification they will be treated as United Nations nationals.

(2) Reference 1d above provides that the Chinese Mission in Japan has undertaken the registration and documentation of persons in Japan who claim Chinese nationality and has issued registration certificates and further that the legitimate bearers of these registration certificates will be presumptively considered as Chinese subjects and considered United Nations nationals for the purpose of the exercise of criminal jurisdiction by the Japanese authorities.

(3) Cases involving Formosan illegal entrants will be reported to the occupation authorities for disposition. If Formosan is a bearer of registration certificate or passport issued by the Chinese Government or a registration certificate issued by the Chinese Mission in Japan, his case will be disposed of in accordance with either paragraph 3a or 3b above, depending upon the facts. If a clarification of a Formosan's status is necessary, the matter should be referred through channels to SCAP, who will request verification of citizenship through the Chinese Mission.

c. Other Persons

Further reference is made to OD 73, 1947 on the problem of enforced repatriation of Koreans by order of Occupation Courts.

2. Directives relative to illegal entry of Allied Nationals are less specific than in the case of all other nationals. There are, however, a number of directives pertaining to methods whereby persons may legally enter Japan, i.e., GHQ SCAP Circular 19, 1948, Control of Entry and Exit of Individuals, Aircraft and Surface Vessels into and from Japan; GHQ SCAP Circular 3, 1948, Private Commercial Entrants; O.D. 32, 1937, Entry and Exit ofIndividuals into and from Japan. In dealing with illegal entrants of allied nationality (SCAPIN 1912) this headquarters has adhered to the policy that (a) persons of allied nationality (primarily Chinese and Formosans), who are apprehended in Japan and admit their illegal entrance may be deported administratively and without Provost Court trial (b) persons of allied nationality who are apprehended in Japan and are accused of being illegal entrants but who deny their illegal entrance, should have their status adjudicated by a Provost Court.

2. It is the contention of such Military Government authorities that prior to the deportation of allied nationals apprehended in Japan proper, for illegal entrance, an adjudication of such fact and issuance of an order of deportation, by a Provost Court is a preliminary requisite thereto.

3. It is the view of this headquarters that such deportation may be ordered administratively without necessity of recourse to such tribunal.
