

GOOD ROAD CONGRESS

TO MEET IN ATLANTA, GEORGIA, DURING WEEK OF NOVEMBER 9TH.

Chairman O. A. Lane, of the City Council, has been requested by Hon. A. B. Fletcher, President of the Fourth American Road Congress and State Highway Engineer of California, to name three delegates to attend the sessions of the Congress at Atlanta, Georgia, during the week of November 9th.

Forty-seven great organizations are taking part in the Congress under the leadership of the American Highway Association and the American Automobile Association. In his letter to the Mayor, President Fletcher calls attention to the fact that practically every state highway commissioner will be present and take part in discussing the important problems of road construction and maintenance, and that some of the foremost men in public life will devote their attention to the great question of Federal Aid to road improvement, in an endeavor to work out a policy which may be submitted to the Congress of the United States with the support of the organized road movement of America. An important move bearing upon state legislation will be made at the session to be held under the auspices of the American Bar Association, at which a joint committee, appointed at the 1913 Congress, will report progress in compilation and suggested revision of state road laws. The creation of a commission participated in by each state to work out a revision of the road laws will be urged. The National Civil Service Reform League will hold an exceedingly important session on the merit system in road administration.

President Fletcher calls attention to the exhibits to be made by the United States Government, the States and more than a hundred of the leading manufacturers at the Congress, which will illustrate every known method, material and equipment for road construction and maintenance. He urges that the city and county be officially represented, as the Congress is in reality a training school where a very great amount of useful information can be obtained through attendance at lectures with leading specialists in road and street work, and the collecting of the many instructive bulletins which will be available for distribution.

The headquarters of the Congress are in the Colorado Building, Washington, D. C., in charge of I. S. Penybaker, Executive Secretary, and the exposition is in charge of Charles P. Light, Business Manager.

OUR NAVAL CODE BOOK.

Few things are so jealously guarded as the secret code book of the United States navy. It is a book of signals—not the ordinary "wigwag" signals used in the daily direction of the fleet by a commanding officer—but a code of signals to be used solely in time of war and in the presence of an enemy.

These secret code books are issued only to the executive officers of a ship, who are enjoined to protect them against theft by every possible means. These books are threatened not so much by the ordinary thief as by secret emissaries of other governments who desire to obtain knowledge of what the battleships would do in time of action. Governments have no scruples against theft in such cases.

The loss of one of these secret books by an officer, unless explained to the entire satisfaction of the secretary of the navy, would mean court martial and probable expulsion from the service. To the honor of the United States service no officer has ever yet been brought up charged with loss.

The books are bound in heavy metal covers, so that in time of threatened capture they may be thrown overboard, sinking at once to the bottom of the sea and thus avoiding seizure.

YELLOW DINNER PARTY.

Of current interest in the legitimate realm of society is the dinner party which was given recently by Mrs. Harry S. Neel Jr., in her home at 1473 West Third street.

All the appointments were prettily carried out in yellow and white, roses and honey-suckle having been used as table embellishments and through the house. Cards and music followed the delicious four-course meal and were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilde and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gus H. Pulliam and Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Neel, Jr.

IN THE MOTION PICTURE WORLD.

Happenings at the Kalem Studio.

About forty extra people have been engaged by director J. P. McGowan for the present Mexican picture he is now doing. As usual the plot contains many thrilling scenes, showing Miss Helen Holmes, Charles Wells, Hart Hoxey and G. A. Williams in the leading roles.

Manager George H. Melford has returned from a short trip to Big Bear Lake and is busy on another big two-reel feature entitled "The Prison Stain."

Members of Montgomery's company are taking a rest as that popular director is on his way to New York and expects to remain away three or four weeks.

At the Usona Studio on East Ninth street, Burton King is as busy as ever, only instead of doing two-reel features as has been his custom, he is doing one-reel stories with real plots. Just now Virginia Kirtley, Eugenie Ford, Robin Adair, E. J. Brady and others are working on "The Road to Fame" a story full of gripping scenes and human interest.

Director Mix, together with his Western company of Selig players are putting on a one-reel western play, so quite naturally the Usona Studio and vicinity is the scene of much activity.

BIRTHDAY DINNER FOR SEVEN.

Wednesday evening, August 19th, was Kingley Dutton's sixteenth birthday and in honor of the occasion his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dutton entertained with a merry dinner party in the family home, 1447 Salem street.

Besides the customary candle-decked cake in the center, roses were used as table decorations and covers were laid for seven.

BACK TO NATURE.

Rev. Bede A. Johnson and R. A. Siple have returned from a camping trip, having acquired complexions of a swarthy hue and an immense amount of enthusiasm in regard to the beauties of the country through which they traveled. They motored north through Inyo county and into Mono County nearly to Mono Lake. They camped near to the Yosemite valley, but separated from that wonderland by a mountain range. They express delight over the beauties of the Owens River Canyon where for miles the river's course is through high rock walled banks. They descended into this canyon and followed the rivers winding course between high walls of rock until the problem was to find a place to emerge. One of the natural wonders of that locality is a fissure in the earth made by an earthquake years ago. They descended into its depths and walked its length in snow. All the delights which man enjoys when he retreats into the primitive and enjoys nature's beauty and grandeur were experienced and will long be remembered.

C. H. Bott and T. A. Wright are still enjoying camp life at the foot of Mt. Whitney.

ITEMS FROM TROPICO NOT A SECRET SESSION

SOCIAL AND LOCAL ITEMS FROM OUR SISTER CITY ON THE SOUTH.

Mrs. Jack Hammond, of Cypress street, her mother and aunt, Mrs. Sarah Johnson and Mrs. Delia Coffman of Highland Park, have returned from a ten days' outing at Huntington Beach.

Mrs. O. Perry Martin and son, Bridewell Martin of San Fernando Road have returned from a two weeks' sojourn at Huntington Beach.

Owing to the Southern California Veterans' Association which has just closed a most successful ten days' encampment at Huntington Beach, which was attended by a large number of the members of N. P. Banks W. R. C. of this valley, the Kensington Club, which was to have been entertained at the residence of Miss Cora Hickman, No. 310 West Park Avenue, has been postponed until in September.

Dr. S. A. Pollock of West Park avenue returned home this morning from a week's hunting trip at Piru. The doctor, who is one of the crack nimrods of Tropico, brought home a fine deer and some of his most intimate friends are enjoying venison.

Mrs. Louise Purnell of West Tenth street is planning a most delightful two weeks' visit to Seattle, Washington, leaving Sunday evening. The ways and means committee of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon Club held a most important meeting at No. 101 South Central Avenue Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. William McNabb of Huntington Park is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Edward Gleason of East Acacia street.

A merry party motored to Long Beach Tuesday evening and while the ladies of the party enjoyed the pleasures of the beach the gentlemen witnessed the ceremonies of the initiation of the Royal Arch when the father, son and grandson were initiated into the mysteries of the Royal Arch. This notable event of the initiation of three generations is the first to occur in Southern California. The merry party who thus spent a delightful evening included Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Peckham, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Daniels, Mrs. Edward H. Weston and Mrs. W. J. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tisdale, and sister, Miss Isabella Tisdale who is their house guest, are enjoying a few days' visit at San Pedro.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tiffany and infant son, Robert William of Pasadena are spending two weeks as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Tiffany of Tropico avenue. Mrs. Richard Tiffany is the daughter of Mrs. William Tiffany. Mr. Richard Tiffany and Mr. William Tiffany are brothers. With Mrs. Richard Tiffany and young son visiting at the home of her mother, there are five generations at the home of Mrs. Wm. Tiffany, as Mrs. Adelia Hapgood, the great, great grandmother of young Robert William Tiffany arrived from her home in Boston, Mass., but a few weeks since.

Mrs. Delia Hapgood and daughters, Mrs. George Peck and Mrs. Will W. Dutton, accompanied by Miss Anle Miller, Misses Jessie and Dorothy Dutton returned this morning from a two weeks' delightful sojourn at Huntington Beach.

MANAGER WATSON SAYS TRUSTEES MET IN OPEN SESSION, ACTING CHIEF PRESENT.

The statement in the Los Angeles Times is as follows: "In the matter of the two policemen, the board of trustees did not leave the matter to Chief Herald as arbitrator. They met in secret session, heard the report of the girl and immediately dismissed the men with severe censure." The above statement is incorrect.

The facts are that Chief Herald was absent on a vacation, acting chief Miller was present at the hearing. It was not a secret session, but was held in open meeting before City Recorder Whomes.

City Manager.

DEATH OF POPE PIUS X.

Broken hearted at his inability to stay the awful slaughter among the people of Europe, Pope Pius X passed away yesterday. The end was not unexpected.

Giuseppe Melchiorre Sarto had occupied the exalted position as head of the Roman Catholic Church since August 4, 1903 and during that time some of the most stupendous problems with which it has been necessary for the Holy See to deal have confronted him. He was born of peasant parents and was ordained a priest at the age of 25. Fifteen years later he was made chancellor of his diocese, shortly after being appointed professor of theology in the Seminary. In 1884 he became Bishop of Mantua. Pope Leo XIII conferred upon him the title of Roman cardinal and in June 1893 created him cardinal and patriarch of Venice.

At the death of Pope Leo he was unanimously chosen by the conclave to hold the high position as head of the church and took up with all meekness his duties as "Pope Pius X, bishop of Rome and vicar of Jesus Christ, successor of St. Peter, prince of the apostle; supreme pontiff of the Universal church, patriarch of the West, primate of Italy; archbishop and metropolitan of the Roman province and sovereign of the temporal dominions of the Holy Roman church."

His pontificate was characterized by a spirit of humility and intense religious feeling that might well become many of less exalted station. His motto was "To Restore Everything to Christ." He instituted many reforms in the church.

To Americans Pius X was especially interesting. His great friendship for this country, his frequent audiences to Americans, both Catholic and non-Catholic, and his interest in American affairs, kept him in closer touch with this side of the Atlantic than perhaps any pontiff that had preceded him.

The Monrovia Board of Trade has set aside August 27 as anti-weed day in that city when it will be lawful and proper to expose any and all weeds to any and every kind of punishment and torture.

A boy advertised a lost gold watch in the Evening News Tuesday. J. J. Banta found it and left it at the News office today. Yes, it pays to advertise.

MRS. PULLIAM ENTERTAINS WITH PICNIC SUPPER.

With Japanese lanterns studding the tall, spreading trees and casting a soft dull glow over the attractive gardens, Mrs. Gus H. Pulliam suffered no difficulty in directing her guests to the arbor in the rear of her home, 121 Cedar street, where she entertained a few friends last evening, at a picnic supper which had been planned as a courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Neel, Jr., 1477 West Third Street, who celebrated their second wedding anniversary then.

A long table, bounteously spread and centered with showers of deep-pink carnations and fern, awaited the attack of the hungry besiegers who more than did justice to the delicacies prepared by the clever hostess who afterwards amused her guests with cards, music and song. Contributors to the musical program were Mrs. Harry Neel, Mr. Jordan Neel and Mr. C. B. Wilde in songs, accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Neel, who also gave a number of piano selections that were equally appreciated by the following: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Neel, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Althouse, Capt. J. A. Neel and family, the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neel, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Gus H. Pulliam.

ELROSE THIMBLE CLUB.

Mrs. Andrew Fleming, of 137 Elrose avenue, was at home informally Tuesday afternoon of this week to members of the Elrose Thimble Club who spent a most enjoyable two hours together.

The living room was fragrant with the perfume of pink roses and in the dining room wherein a late buffet-luncheon was served, Shasta daisies and fern were used.

Those who accepted Mrs. Fleming's invitation to spend the afternoon in needlework were Mrs. W. Workman, Mrs. Cozad, Mrs. Charles Foss, Mrs. W. Van Osdel, Mrs. L. Gibbs, Mrs. C. S. Archer and Mrs. Nettie W. Frantz.

Tuesday afternoon, September first Mrs. W. Van Osdel will entertain these same ladies in her home on West Fifth street.

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES HOLD INTERESTING MEETING.

The Missionary Societies of the First Presbyterian Church held a most interesting meeting at the church Tuesday afternoon, a large attendance having taken advantage of the opportunity to hear Miss Bettis, superintendent of the Chinese school in Los Angeles; Miss Stuart, instructor in the Rev. Percival's Vacation Bible School; and Mrs. Stafford, superintendent of the Spanish Presbyterian in Los Angeles, speak briefly upon the particular line of work in which they are so greatly interested.

Owing to the absence from the city of Mrs. Dan Campbell, president of the local Presbyterian Missionary, Mrs. M. P. Harrison, First Vice-President, presided, and Mrs. Frank Adams, who had the program in charge, introduced the speakers as they appeared.

SPEND DAY AT LA RAMADA.

Members of the St. Mark's Guild, together with their friends and families, enjoyed Wednesday at La Ramada to which place they journeyed, with basket lunches for the day.

A short business session was held during which plans were completed for the Christmas Bazaar to be given early in December and arrangements made for a social afternoon to be enjoyed Wednesday, September 2, in the home of Mrs. D. W. Hunt, 120 West Fifth Street.

OUR CANDIDATE

FOR ASSEMBLYWOMAN WILL RECEIVE SUPPORT OF LOCAL REPUBLICANS

Editor News: While locality alone should not determine the nomination of anyone for any public office, it is entitled to due consideration, all other things being equal. The "favorite sons" cut no small figure in many state delegations to national presidential conventions, harmonizing and unifying the delegation in effort over their own "son" until if failing to nominate him, they could land to advantage in the camp of the successful nominee.

Any plea for "locality" that could be made for patronizing your grocer, doctor, dry goods, drugs, barber, butcher, tailor, lawyer, preacher, teacher or any other calling in the community could with equal propriety be made for the support of a local "favorite son" who might be running for office (qualifications always considered), and emphasis grows as we travel along this line of argument, if the aspirant should be a "favorite daughter."

Having through a well conducted but fierce contest secured the long denied right of being a full-sized American citizen, and behaved so becomingly modest since "full grown," it is pre-eminently in order that our mothers, wives, daughters and sweethearts take on all the responsibility pertaining to the enlarged premises and assist in shaping the laws that are to govern our homes, courts, schools, business.

The sixty-first assembly district has such a candidate before it in the person of Mrs. Ella F. Meeker, a Glendale woman known to all of us. At the primary only Republicans can vote for her and surely local party support will give her all these.

Should she be nominated the vote would be practically unanimous for her in November.

RIP-RAP.

BUSINESS BRISK, SAYS MELROSE.

The sale of five acres unimproved land fronting on the San Fernando Boulevard at Brand Station on the Burbank line, which is a part of the Bayless Ranch, and said to be one of the choice pieces of soil in the San Fernando valley, is reported to have been made this week at a consideration of $1200 per acre. H. A. Loudermilk of Los Angeles is the purchaser. He intends to immediately begin improving with a modern 7-room bungalow, and will develop sufficient water to intensively irrigate the land. Mr. Loudermilk will make of this place a beautiful country home. H. W. Melrose of 522 Van Nuys Building, Los Angeles, acted as the agent for Mrs. Martha Bayless, the former owner.

Mr. Melrose also reports the sale of the McNutt residence on Park avenue and Brand Boulevard, Tropico, a beautiful 9-room house, to Harry Siles of Los Angeles. C. H. Henry of Tropico co-operated with Mr. Melrose in making this deal, and the consideration is said to have been in the neighborhood of $6000, a lot having figured in as part exchange.

BRIDE AND GROOM HONORED.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Goode, recent entries in the wedded colony, were the complimented guests at an informal gathering in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Clara Moore, 1504 W. Fifth Street, last evening.

Roses were used in enlivening the rooms given over to the affair and games and music were features of the evening. Delicious refreshments were also introduced and served by the hostess and her daughter, Miss Minnie Moore who assisted.

Among the Glendale guests present were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Goode, Mrs. William Livingston, Mrs. Catherine Myers, Mr. Donald Goode and Master Robert Livingston.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Goode was known to many as Miss Josephine Moore.

BAPTIST BARACAS MEET TONIGHT.

A meeting of the Baraca Class will be held tonight at the home of Glenn Wood, 500 East Third street. Everybody is urged to be present as matters of the utmost importance are to be discussed. There will be plenty of fun and refreshments for all that come. Bring a friend and take the 7:50 car for Eagle Rock and get off at Sinclair street with the crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClellan and children, Miss Anabel and Master Thomas of 318 S. Central avenue, arrived home yesterday from a week spent at Catalina Island.

The English and the Canadians have not been in harmony with all questions, but when it comes to the European war difficulties, Canada joins Great Britain, and all former party lines are abolished.
England's participation in the European conflict was indorsed by the Canadian Parliament yesterday. In the House of Commons and the Senate the government and the opposition leaders and their followers were in unanimous accord, and in both chambers the address indorsing the speech from the Throne was adopted in record time. In the Senate the debate lasted but an hour and a quarter, and in the Commons only an hour longer.
Great public interest was indicated by crowds of spectators who filled the galleries.

WHY JOHN C. CLINE SHOULD BE SHERIFF

He has lived in Los Angeles 45 years and everybody is familiar with his clean public record.

In 1894 as sheriff he handled the great American Railway Union strike without the aid of the militia, by appointing special deputies from the ranks of labor, to prevent disorder and the destruction of property. Thus in his wisdom demonstrating that men in any walk of life, put upon their honor, will observe their trust.

ORDERED SOLD

The railway committee voted to sell the three lots on Broadway, corner of Everett street, owned by them. Sealed bids will be received up to noon August 20th, 1914, for one or all of the following three lots—4, 5 and 6, block 18, McIntyre-Miner tract in city of Glendale.

Committee reserves right to reject any or all bids.

"No," said the old gentleman sternly, "I will not do it. Never have I sold anything by false representations, and I will not begin now."

For a moment he was silent, and the clerk who stood before him could see that the better nature of his employer was fighting strongly for the right.

"No," said the old man again. "I will not do it. It is an inferior grade of shoe, and I will never pass it off as anything better. Mark it 'A Shoe Fit for a Queen,' and put it in the window. A queen does not have to do much walking."

Pat had just arrived from the Emerald Isle, and he was feeling very hungry, as he had not eaten anything since 4 o'clock last evening and it was now 8 o'clock in the morning. So he went into a restaurant close by and asked the waiter how much he would charge him for breakfast.

"A quarter," replied the waiter.

"Well, how much will you charge me for my dinner?" said Pat.

"Thirty-five cents," replied the waiter.

"Well what will ye charge me for my supper, then?"

"Twenty cents," was the reply.

Then, if ye please, will ye give me my supper?" said Pat.

Dante Gabriel Rossetti once showed Whistler a sketch and asked his opinion of its merits.

"It has good points, Rossetti," said Whistler. "Go ahead with it by all means."

Later he inquired how it was getting along. "All right," answered Rossetti, cheerfully. "I've ordered a stunning frame for it."

In due time the canvas appeared at Rossetti's house in Cheyne Walk, beautifully framed.

"You've done nothing to it, since I saw it, have you, asked Whistler.

"No-o," replied Rossetti, "but I've written a sonnet on the subject, if you'd like to hear it."

He recited some lines of peculiar tenderness.

"Rossetti," said Whistler, as the recitation ended, "take out the picture and frame the sonnet."

All registered voters are receiving through the mail a sample of the ballot to be voted at the primary election next Tuesday.

The average voter knows but little about the ability of the candidates. However, every intelligent voter should acquaint himself with the past record of the various candidates and then allow such information to guide him as to whom he shall vote for next Tuesday.

The question of voting intelligently is an important one. When too late we often learn that the wrong kind of men have been elected to office. The blame of electing dishonest and incompetent men to office falls upon the voter.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fletcher, of 1476 Milford street, are at Catalina where they are enjoying a most delightful outing and rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maubert, of 1436 Milford street, are entertaining Mr. Maubert's mother, Mrs. W. Maubert of Pasadena, in their home.

A cascade of Kilarney roses and maidenhair ferns centered the table and were given as favors to the ladies as they left the attractive room. "The Spoilers" now running at the Auditorium was later enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson and their guests who were Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Billings, of Fresno, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Billings, Mrs. H. R. Brouffe and little Mary Jane Billings of Los Angeles.

"LUCILLE LOVE" COMES TO GLENDALE.

This Thrilling Serial Film to be Shown Friday Evening at the Glendale Theatre, Opp. Sanitarium.

The second story of this series opens when Lucille deserts the hydroplane in the open ocean and makes a sensational landing upon the steamship. Then, for the first time, Loubeque becomes aware that his program of revenge is being interfered with. The moment he sees the girl and is struck by her resemblance to his first love, who in reality was Lucille's mother.

Loubeque's first move aboard the ship is to have sent out an unsigned wireless message to the effect that General Love and not his aide, proved a traitor by selling diplomatic secrets. After this message is sent out, and to prevent further communications with the ship, Loubeque disarranges the wireless apparatus. In doing so he causes an explosion in which he is injured.

Lucille realizes that her opportunity has arrived, and she volunteers to nurse him. Her services are accepted. She is soon on friendly terms with the international spy, but seek as she will the hiding place of the documents remains a mystery.

Fortune, however, favors her. A fierce fire breaks out in the hold of the ship. Lucille is with Loubeque in his stateroom when the impending disaster is announced. With the first shock of the news the spy's first thought is of the valuable documents and his startled glance toward a desk reveals to Lucille the hiding place of the stolen papers. Loubeque leaves the room for an instant, and the next instant Lucille finds the papers and thrusts them in her bosom.

The fire in the hold is now burning fiercely, and all hope for the ship is lost. The lifeboats are lowered and the rule of "women first" is adhered to.

Realizing that he must desert the ship at once the spy rushes to his cabin only to find the papers gone. He then realizes that his late nurse is no other than Lucille Love, daughter of his deadliest enemy. He dashes to the ship's rail just in time to see the boat in which Lucille is seated, lowered into the angry seas.

"Well played, Miss Love," he cries.

"But I am afraid you will have to return the papers."

No sooner does Lucille's boat touch the water than it is capsized and all the women occupants are left to the mercy of the waves.

The burning ship listing almost to the water's edge, the ocean spotted with the dying and the dead, Lucille grasps a floating timber and clings to it until she loses consciousness.

When she regains her senses she finds herself upon a long stretch of beach; a castaway upon one of the South Sea Islands.

This picture as well as others, complete in itself.

RAT ATTACKS SWEETHEART.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—While Leo Kennedy was fighting to save himself from the attacks of a large sewer rat last night his sweetheart fainted and added to the excitement of the occasion.

Kennedy was leaving the home of Miss Margaret Loughrey, 131 Master street, when the rat bit his right leg. The noise he made attracted the people in her home, whereupon they called two cats to the rescue of Kennedy. There was a battle royal for a time with the rat showing no fear for either man or the cats.

Miss Loughrey during the excitement fell to the doorstep in a semi-conscious condition. She soon was revived by her family. Her screams were heard at the Front and Master streets police station. Policeman Taylor hurried to the scene, but the rat meanwhile had made its escape through a manhole at the corner. A physician fixed up Kennedy's leg a little later. There were half a dozen deep gashes made by the rat's teeth.

SAFETY BY RAIL.

During the six months, January 1st to July 1st, 1914, the Pennsylvania Railroad carried 73,000,000 passengers without a single loss of life or accident, which would seem to prove that the safest place of all is on a railroad train.

NORTH GLENDALE.

Mrs. George Marsh of 1645 Ruth Street motored to Hollywood yesterday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilbur of Rancho La Solana, San Gabriel, where they were guests of Mrs. Lynn Norris of 1630 Orchid Avenue, at a beautifully appointed afternoon luncheon.

Some twenty-eight invited guests were in attendance, among them, Mrs. Archie Parker of Glendale. A dainty six-course luncheon was served at tables seating four in the lovely rose arbor, which were after luncheons used for Auction Bridge which was enjoyed during the afternoon by some of the guests while others rambled over the spacious grounds, and cabinets of rare curios delighted the artistic and curio-loving guests. Certainly the occasion was one that will linger long in the memory of all privileged to enjoy the charming hospitality of the gracious hostess.

Miss Dollie Jones of 14 San Rafael street will leave Sunday with a party of friends from Los Angeles on a motor trip to Independence, Inyo county where they will camp for two weeks. Miss Jones is well known as the Private Branch Exchange Supervisor of the Sunset Telephone Co., and is enjoying her midsummer vacation.

Misses Lucille and Idelle Pittman of 1001 North Pacific Avenue leave Friday for San Francisco where they remain at least a fortnight. An interesting and delightful trip is anticipated by these popular young ladies of North Glendale.

Mr. George Murphy of 1640 Ruth Street is spending the week at Cudahy City as the guest of his aunt, Mrs. L. Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. West of 1102 San Rafael street were guests of Mrs. West's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Taylor of Lankershim during the past week.

Mr. Judson Edwards of Kenneth Road and a party of friends motored to Long Beach yesterday where they will remain a few days.

Mr. Frederick Maison of Los Angeles, was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fairchild of 1321 Arden Avenue very recently.

MISTAKEN IDEA CORRECTED

There is a widespread opinion among people who have never had anything to do with the publication of a newspaper that next to the manufacturer of munitions of war, the man who prints a newspaper, particularly of that class called metropolitan, profits most by war news. No idea can be further from the truth. There is no kind of news which costs so much and yields so slight a net return.

A writer for the Philadelphia Ledger has recently given testimony to the effect that one eastern publisher of a newspaper told him that the Spanish-American war cost him a cool three-quarters of a million dollars, yielding nothing like that sum in the way of increased circulation and increased rates of advertising, that the editor of the London Post had told him his newspaper had twenty special correspondents in the Boer war at one time when cable rates from Cape Town were $1.20 a word, that that war practically annihilated newspaper dividends for the year. The same writer claimed to have seen one bill for one dispatch, sent from Manila to an American newspaper during the Philippine war which dispatch cost the newspaper just $3000 a column.

In concluding his testimony the writer said that a company of American newspaper publishers would welcome a general European war about as cordially as would a thrifty farmer welcome a pack of wolves to guard his sheep.

It is difficult for the public to understand that few if any newspapers ever realize any possible profit on the sale of their daily product. The fact is that the cost of a single copy of a newspaper is often a trifle more than the publisher gets for it. To demonstrate this fact it is only necessary for the doubting Thomas to weigh his newspaper and then ascertain the cost of a like weight of white paper of the same quality as that on which the paper weighed was printed. He will find the cost of the white paper and the printed product almost identical. The extra cost of printing is all out of the pocket of the publisher. The latter's profits are, almost without exception, in the returns from advertising.

There are many newspaper publishers in the East who actually suffer a fractional loss on every copy of their product they circulate. In their high rate for advertising as a consequence of large circulation they realize their profits.

Their profits in circulation in war times are of the kind a Cincinnati fruit stand proprietor who was born in the Kaiser land once described to the writer when he said: "Some days in my pizness I do nooddings atall and den some days I do twice as mooch."

WHAT ADVERTISING WILL DO.

One Chicago mail order house sells annually $100,000,000 worth of goods, never seeing a patron. It does this by a lot of type and numerous pictures bound up as a catalog. No show windows, not being known locally so well that it wasn't necessary to advertise. Going some, sure enough.

THE PRIMARY TICKET.
The Sample Primary Ballot is in the hands of voters as a study for what they desire to do next Tuesday, and its use is not so puzzling or forbidding as to distress any intelligent voter.
The directions for use are so plainly given that we will not attempt to add anything except at one point, the danger of overvoting, that is, to vote for too many names where groups are presented and this only can occur in case of County Central Committee, 61st Assembly district, 7; Associate Justice Supreme Court, 2; Judges of Superior Court, 10. In all other cases, you stamp but one name for each office. Nothing could be more simple. But in the groups of 7, 2, 10, if you should in any case stamp 8, 3, or 11 names the vote would be lost as by doing so you exceed your voting power. You can vote for a less number in these groups, or vote only for the men you know anywhere on the ticket, and many votes of that kind will be cast. Party considerations only may prompt to vote for candidate unknown to you, and party is unknown in the county offices for which so many are seeking.

"So you advertised for your lost purse, pretending that the person who found it was recognized?"
"Yes."
"How did the bluff work?"
"Didn't work at all. Next day this ad appeared in the same paper: 'The recognized gentleman who picked up the purse on Boylston street requests the loser to call at his house.'"

FOLLY.

All the world seems thinking, John,
 Of reform a-thinking;
 Yet the world is winking, John,
 Over sin is winking;
 And the world is writing, John,
 Of its plan is writing,
 While the world is fighting, John
 With itself is fighting.

All the world is racing, John,
 With itself is racing;
 Hence the world is chasing, John,
 Foolish phantoms chasing;
 All the world is weeping, John,
 Over sorrows weeping,
 While it should be sweeping, John
 Mortal errors sweeping.

All the world is sighing, John,
 Sad of heart and sighing;
 Hence the world is dying, John,
 Fearing death and dying;
 But when we've grown jolly, John,
 Pure and wise and jolly,
 Then we'll lose our folly, John,
 Lose our fear and folly.
 —Mrs. Julia S. Nichols.

Half of the world fights and it will keep on fighting for some time to come, and it seems as though the more fighting is done, the more is to be done. The wars of the past left such bitter hatred in the hearts of the peoples of Europe that now they go at each other in a more cruel, more scientific and more blood-thirsty manner than ever before. And in years to come, no doubt, the results of this war will linger in the hearts of the people and cause another outbreak of country versus country and cousins versus cousins for the slightest excuse possible, and in reality only one super-climax upon another to the inevitable end of destruction and ruin. Ay! that it should be, that a civilization such as ours should, or could, continue this maddening, sickening, appalling thing—war—with its utter disregard of life, morals, education, honor and futurity, in one vast struggle for the realization of an empire for a generation or less. Such is the way of the world today, but let us hope that this war may be the last great struggle, that the United States and other neutral nations can go forward in the upbuilding of a peace congress so strong that the present belligerent nations cannot fall to see the real worth of international peace.

AMATEUR ORATORY

When I hear the cannons roar July Fourth, I always think of the story about Joseph Cannon when he visited the school of a town where he was billed to speak and was entertained by an exhibition of amateur oratory, the selection being "The Battle of Waterloo."

Just as the boy reached the end of the first paragraph, Speaker Cannon suddenly gave vent to a violent sneeze.

"But hush! Hark!" declaimed the youngster. "A deep sound strikes the rising knell! Did you hear it?" The visitors smiled and a moment later the second sneeze came with increased violence.

"But hark!" bawled the boy. "That sound breaks in once more! And nearer, clearer, deadlier than before! Arm! Arm! It is the cannon's opening roar!"

This was too much and the laugh that broke from the party swelled to a scream when Uncle Joe chuckled: "Put up your weapons, children; I won't shoot any more."—Woman's Home Companion.

A MIGHTY ARMY

A mighty army is now being recruited in Chicago, before which none but the wicked and vicious need tremble, and these have felt, in a few local skirmish campaigns something of the power which is held in reserve for the greater contest soon to be ushered in. Nearly a half million of women are being registered and lined up for the bloodless conflict at the primaries next month, at which they will in large part determine the nominees of all parties, but in like manner determine who of these thus nominated shall be elected Nov. 3. United States senators, congressmen, general assembly and county officers are involved, and consternation reigns among the old-time crews, from Joe Cannon, O'Neal, Brown and from Joe Cannon, O'Neal Brown and

A LESSON IN GEOGRAPHY.

In his book, the "Conquest of the Tropics," Frederick Upham Adams calls attention to some little known geographical facts:

Most of us picture Havana as nearly south of New York, when it is in fact, about south of Detroit. A study of a map of the new world discloses the disconcerting fact that all of the west coast of South America is east of Detroit, and that most of it is hundreds of miles east of New York city. The truth of the matter is that we should call that continent "Southeast America."

I also made the astounding discovery that a considerable portion of South America lies north of the southerly sections of North America. When we set sail from Colon for Santa Marta, Colombia, we do not head south or southeast, we point our prow northeast. This is almost as puzzling as the other fact to the effect that Colon, the Caribbean Port (the supposed east port,) is twenty odd miles west of Panama City, which is on the Pacific, and presumably west end of the canal.

It is positively uncanny to look out of a window of the Tivoli hotel, in Panama City, and watch the sun rise squarely out of the Pacific ocean! Of course an accurate map justifies the sun in selecting the Pacific for rising rather than setting purposes, but it never seemed right or proper to me. Oceans should stay where they belong, and the Pacific has no business to twist itself to the east of Panama.

WAR IS WHAT SHERMAN CALLED IT.

Sherman's brief but pointed definition of war was full of truth, as the following lines will indicate: "From Liege to the Dutch border the air is foul with the stench of decomposing bodies of horses and men. The dead, when buried at all, are only slightly covered with earth. Carcasses of cattle and horses lie everywhere in the fields. It also is said that there are many dead in the houses left standing on or near the scenes of conflict."

After all other considerations have vanished into thin air, the one cardinal element of Success is work. Many a man with no personality or ability to speak of, has made a lasting success by "Stick-to-it-ive-ness" and hard plugging.

Sugar consumption of nations says a bulletin of the agricultural department is according to their wealth. Also according to their sickness.

Santa Monica gets a $200,000 hotel to be erected by a couple of Pasadena hotel men. Wouldn't it be the right kind of a boost if these men would think enough of Glendale to erect a family hotel of some size here?

Some American school teachers new in Europe may be tardy in reaching the school-room on opening day.

MEXICO TALKS WAR.

While all Europe is engaged in war it is feared the Mexicans will disturb the peace of the Western Continent by resuming their quarrelsome habits.

According to authoritative information received at the State Department, an agreement has been reached between Gens. Villa and Obregon under which Gen. Carranza will not be permitted to assume the provisional Presidency of Mexico.

Obregon is now occupying Mexico City. Carranza is outside expecting to enter tomorrow. If the information in the possession of the State department is correct he will not be allowed to do so. Should Carranza be denied the fruits of his campaign, unquestionably he will inaugurate war against the generals who have conspired against him. He permitted Obregon to go to Mexico City with his troops, believing he could depend on his loyalty. He kept Villa away from the capital because he feared a revolt by him and his forces. The agreement between Obregon and Villa consequently is of serious import to him.

Standing by Villa in his opposition to Carranza is Gov. Maytorena of Sonora. He has been driving Carranza supporters from his State and soon will be in complete control.

Villa is getting large supplies of ammunition through Nogales and is in position to take the field.

Secretary Bryan is endeavoring to arrange the difficulties between Carranza and his most important generals. He is hopeful something can be done to keep the peace. It is recognized, however, that this will be difficult and the revolution probably will continue.
