MERCHANTS' EXPOSITION INTERESTS, INSTRUCTS, ENTERTAINS

MISS MARY LOGAN'S ENGAGEMENT IS TOLD FRIENDS

Delightful Affair Is Given for Charming Girl Who Will Wed Marshall Pearson

The home of Mrs. Wayne Smith, 519 North Maryland avenue, was the setting for one of the prettiest affairs of the late summer season on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Noble J. Ripley and Mrs. Dwight W. Stephenson acted as hostesses at a delightful surprise announcement party in honor of Miss Mary Logan, who is to become the bride of Marshall Pearson of this city on September 23.

About a score of friends of the popular Miss Logan were present at the gay affair, which was most uniquely and daintily arranged by the clever hostesses.

Pink and green were the dominant color notes. Groups of roses, carnations and gladioli, all of pink, were used effectively throughout the house.

The game of bunco was played at small tables placed about the living room. The first prize, a beautiful vase, was awarded to Miss Christina Ferris, and the second prize, a shining aluminum sauce pan, to Miss Evelyn Williams.

Transformation Takes Place

After several musical selections the guests adjourned to the spacious front porch, until they were called in by the hostesses. Upon entering the house, they found that a transformation had taken place. At each of the small tables, graced by its bud vase containing a single pink rose, covers were laid for four. The place cards of white with pink borders were fastened with ribbons of the same hue to the stems of roses placed at each cover. These roses looked very much indeed like real buds, with their long stems and green leaves, but proved to be cleverly fashioned of crepe paper. Concealed in the heart of each of the paper rosebuds was a tiny piece of tightly rolled paper bearing the announcement that on September 23 Miss Mary Logan will become the bride of Marshall Pearson.

After this important news had been duly and gaily discussed, daintily (Continued on Page 8)

MISS MANOLA BUDD IS HOSTESS FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Attractive Garden Scene of Gathering; Program Is Most Unique and Interesting

One of the most unique social events of the season took place Saturday afternoon when Miss Manola Budd of 415 South Central avenue entertained at a garden party and shower in honor of Miss Eileen Sullivan, who is soon to become the bride of Frances Gordon of Hollywood. Miss Budd was assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery.

The guests were entertained in a beautiful garden spot which was decorated with green boughs and ferns. In the center was a large dining table beautifully decorated with white carnations and greenery. At each place were tiny green baskets filled with mint candies. The place cards were pictures of a bride and groom leaving on their honeymoon.

A very interesting task was set before the guests, being that of writing a menu for a four-course dinner. The menus were to be judged from an economical standpoint as well as appetizing.

Prizes Are Awarded

The first prize for this was awarded Miss Ruth Spafford and was a Japanese tea jar filled with Japanese tea. The consolation prize, which was a tiny red automobile, was awarded Miss Louise Ayala. The menus were written on little paper booklets and after the prizes had been given, these were returned to the guests and they were asked to write their favorite recipes, which later were turned over to the bride-elect.

Another feature which caused quite a bit of excitement was a Japanese fortune telling game.

During the course of the afternoon dainty refreshments of lemonade, pistachio ice cream and cakes were served.

The surprise of the afternoon came when Master Stanton Montgomery, brother of the hostess, came wheeling his coaster wagon up in front of Miss Sullivan. The wagon had been attractively decorated in white crepe (Continued on Page 8)

LOCAL PEOPLE CALL AT SCOUTS' CAMP IN MOUNTAINS

Glendale Boys Having Plenty of Fun and, too, Receive Outdoor Education

By H. BENJAMIN ROBISON
Glendale Scout Director
With Boy Scouts in Lytle Creek Canyon

Special to The Evening News
All goes well in the Glendale Boy Scout camp and the lads are having the times of their lives. On Friday of last week some of the older boys hiked up above Bonita falls—a trip which cannot be equalled in southern California for beauty.

At the campfire the following badges were presented: Scout Hugo Ellis, Troop No. 3, first class; Scouts Horace Brown of Troop No. 2 and Robert Eastman of Troop No. 4, second class; Charles Kaussen, Troop No. 2, tenderfoot.

And what a lot of fun we had Saturday! The boys tried their hands at washing so they would be clean Sunday. In the afternoon they went swimming in the plunge at Glenn ranch in lieu of a bathtub.

Boys Present Play

At the campfire Saturday evening the boys of Troop No. 2 gave a play with Clifford Walcott as the village gossip, Arthur Barton as her son, Willie, and Dallas Kalbaugh as the cat, Mrs. Smith. It was a near riot, that play. After songs and stories Mr. and Mrs. Kalbaugh, who were among the visitors at the camp over the week-end, treated the boys to watermelon.

Scout church was held Sunday morning in a beautiful wood near the camp. The scripture reading was the 121st Psalm, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills whence cometh my help." The scout director spoke of the worth-while things in life and of God's help in carrying out life's ambitions and in solving life's problems.

By 10 o'clock the parents and friends of the boys began to arrive from Glendale and each asked one or more of the boys to lunch with them so that dinner proved to be one huge picnic and the woods fairly rang with laughter.

Some Of Visitors

The visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kalbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Haines, Miss Haines, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Haines, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Packard and their two sons and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaussen and daughter. (Continued on Page 8)

PLENTY OF EVIDENCE PRODUCED TO PROVE WHY GLENDALE PEOPLE SHOULD DO PURCHASING AT HOME

Mayor Spencer Robinson and City Manager Reeves Open Show And Both Impress Folk With Necessity Of Trading In Glendale

By GIL A. COWAN
MORE THAN 2200 PEOPLE were present at the opening of the Greater Glendale Merchants' Exposition Saturday evening and enjoyed one of the biggest programs of entertainment ever offered the public here. It continues every afternoon and evening all week. The doors opened promptly and while a few of the exhibitors were delayed in getting their displays ready, the "first nighters" declared the great show to be more than advertised, more than expected and that more will attend each day as people learn they really are getting a great deal for their money and time in the way of entertainment and education.

In other columns will be found a complete resume of the exhibits and only the general features of the programs will be touched in this article.

Mayor Spencer Robinson was introduced by Director General H. Elmo LaBrique and after a few congratulatory remarks directed toward the Chamber of Commerce, he impressed his hearers with the necessity of making a bigger and better Glendale by trading with the local business men.

"Buy At Home"
City Manager W. H. Reeves spoke pointedly on "Buying at Home," but declared that everybody should start right by "buying at home." He referred to a visit recently to Verdugo Woodlands where he heard a speaker discuss the history of Glendale, how it was settled by the Verdugos and gradually has become the haven of more than 20,000 people.

"By his irresistible logic," said Mr. Reeves, "this man caused the visitors to resolve that they would purchase homes in Glendale. My advice to you is buy a home and buy it here. Then buy at home."

"You people and myself were due for a great surprise when we came in this great tent tonight," he continued. The variety and extent of merchants and manufacturers exhibiting here is wonderful. It means almost all we can think of for the future of Glendale will come true. It means that we must back up our city officials in a program of expansion. The city will go ahead anyway, but we all want to get into the harness and do our part. Go away from this place tonight resolved to do your share in the upbuilding of this city with the splendid future before us."

Everybody who can match their sunsweet number with another visitor at the exposition will get two dollars worth of prunes and apricots in a large carry-all at the booth along the runway, according to A. A. Higgins, representing that popular brand.

Dust in the big tent has been eliminated by dampening the sawdust and shavings which cover the grounds. The big tent is kept cool by lowering the side canvas and letting the warm air escape. In fact, the whole show will be 100 per cent by evening.

The kiddies' revue and baby show has been postponed by Director LaBrique from tomorrow afternoon to Friday at 2 o'clock, due to the warm weather. "Here's hoping it cools off," he says.

P. Diederich Listed as Member No. 100

P. Diederich, superintendent of plant production for the municipal water and light department, was the one-hundredth person to apply for membership in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce through E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary, who is planning a drive to bring the total to 1000.

One week from tomorrow night the "Hundred More" members will mass in front of Chamber of Commerce headquarters, 115 West Broadway and led by the Glendale Elks' band, they will march to the exposition tent where the 550 other members will have seats of honor and awaiting the introduction of the novitiates.

Every resident of Glendale will be invited to this program and speakers, singers and the band will provide entertainment. Mr. Sanders is working on the details of the rally this week while Secretary Rhoades and Student Secretary Henry Purinton are aiding the exposition.

Miss Margaret Felkey has been added to the office force as stenographer to take care of the rush of business. Letters are being sent all new members.

ATTEND CHURCH; ROBBED
While attending the First Methodist church last night, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moule, 207 North Kenwood street, was entered by burglars and relieved of some of its valuables. Mr. and Mrs. Moule were only away for an hour and it was while they were gone that the thief entered the house through a back bedroom window. They found both the window and screen open and in looking over their home found that a gold watch, typewriter and some money had been stolen, as well as minor articles.

DIES SUDDENLY AT PICNIC
The Pulliam & Kiefer Undertaking company is in charge of the body of William B. Reese, who died at Eagle Rock Park on Saturday, August 27, 1921. The deceased was a retired contractor living at 1310 Walnut street, Los Angeles, and at the time of his death was enjoying a picnic at the Eagle Rock resort when he was suddenly stricken with heart failure. He was sixty-six years of age. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Los Angeles crematory.

Although they were tired out from their long day's automobile trip the men declared that they had enjoyed "the best time ever" and that, without a doubt, this year's convention was the most successful in the history of the state organization.

As has already been stated in the Glendale Evening News, Emil Kiefer, commander, and J. F. McBryde, chaplain of the local post, were placed on state committees during the session. Other less important honors were bestowed upon the Glendale post during the week, according to the reports of the delegates.

FASHION SHOW FASCINATING TO WOMEN; MEN, TOO, INTERESTED

Glendale Stores Provide All Costumes Displayed By Mannikins; Street Dresses, Suits Tonight

By MARGARET SHARPE

DAME FASHION, most fickle lady in all the world, was queen of the Merchants' Exposition Saturday night, Miss Classic Marlowe and six graceful models under her direction, illustrating some of her latest whims.

There is not a woman extant who does not love clothes, who is not interested in every new style even though she does not know whence it comes or how long it will hold sway. The men are interested, too, but in a vague, puzzled way, seeing more in colors than lines, missing entirely the delicate, vital touches that make or ruin a creation.

Hatz Specialty Shop and Gilbert's Millinery furnished the popular priced fall garments that were displayed by Miss Marlowe and her popular models Saturday night.

There was a good deal of excitement when the Miss Marlowe made her first appearance gracefully draped in a great black silk mantilla. A number of pleased admirers followed her up and down the room, as she smiled a lovely welcome on the sea of upturned faces.

New Color Is Shown
The "Silver Leaf" line of coats, suits and dresses were then displayed. First a dainty damsel with golden curls advanced down the elevated platform that runs the full length of the tent. She wore a blue tricotine dress embroidered in the new "Mohawk" shade, with a wide crepe de chine sash of the same bright color, that is much deeper and richer than the popular henna shade that has been used so much.

A fascinating blue embroidered street dress was worn with an equally smart blue toque and a dainty little "Queene Anne" frock in blue canton crepe with elaborate embroidery and button trimming was made perfect by a silk duvetyne hat with the new quill effect.

Coats Most Attractive
The new coats are the most attractive things seen in years, or so many of the watching women thought when they saw one of the luxurious taupe "Normandie" coats with its split panel back, large ball-button festoons and rich lining. An exceedingly smart duvetyne "chin-chin" sailor trimmed with beads was worn with this model.

A beaver-colored Normandie coat with a clipped beaver collar was worn with a brown Knox hat over which one of the newest things in veils was displayed.

A blue Bolivia coat with wide collar and cuffs of monkey fur was combined with a blue Louis velvet toque.

Something About Suits
"Oh, I just know I would look nice in that hat," exclaimed one of the onlookers, as a stately black-haired model appeared displaying an elaborate fringed and embroidered coat of African brown topped with chic little velvet creation, brightened by the new metal trimming.

Suits? The newest models have long coats, nearly to the knees, and street dress was worn with an equal- (Continued on Page 4)

Henri Monette Appears at Palace Grand Organ

Henri Monette made his initial bow in Glendale yesterday as organist at the Palace Grand and his playing on the newly installed Hope-Jones master unit Wurlitzer proved pleasing to musical lovers and picture fans as well.

Being a musician of first rank, and able to synchronize his ability to the theme of the film, Mr. Monette definitely established himself as an artist worthy of highest praise. His overture, "Bridal Rose" was not alone beautiful but brought out the tonal shades of the great organ to such an extent that its equality to a 75 piece orchestra was readily realized.

Another feature of the new musical arrangement was the playing of the pictured song, "Emeline." In deed, the entire audience was humming an accompaniment to the organist's splendid rendition.

ATTEND DANCE AT TUJUNGA
Among the many Glendale young people who attended the regular bi-monthly dance at the big pavilion at Tujunga Saturday night were Misses Margaret Crawford, Alice Holmes, Gertrude Hawkins, May Hershey and Mildred Smith; Messrs. Roy Selover, Eustace Rowley, Donald Cowlin, R. Waste and Robert Rowley. On Sunday the party, accompanied by a group of Los Angeles friends, spent the day in the Big Tujunga canyon where they enjoyed an all-day picnic outing.

ATTORNEY KING HERE
C. H. King, formerly city attorney for Port Angeles, Wash., has come to Glendale with his family to reside. He visited the Chamber of Commerce this morning while getting acquainted with the city.

PLAN TO HOLD PICNIC
The Daughters of Veterans and Sons of Veterans are planning to hold a picnic tomorrow afternoon and evening at Brookside park. Tables have been reserved for dinner at 6:30 p. m.

REV. NORTON IS ACTIVE

Rev. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue claims that he is "rapidly growing younger," as was evidenced by the elderly minister's various activities on Sunday morning. At 9 o'clock he officiated at a wedding ceremony held in his home, following which he attended the Sunday school services at the First Methodist church of this city, where he taught the young ladies' J. O. C. class. Hurrying from there Rev. Norton went to the Central Methodist church on South Central avenue, where he preached the sermon at the regular morning service. The wedding ceremony was that of Miss Alice Libby of West Sixty-fifth street, Los Angeles, and Richard L. McGinnis, who is a soldier stationed at the Arcadia balloon school. The marriage was witnessed by the bride's parents and W. N. McGinnis, a cousin of the groom.

Following the ceremony the young couple left on a short honeymoon, and upon their return they will make their home with the bride's parents until Mr. McGinnis receives his discharge from the army.

Why Trade At Home? There Are Plenty Of Reasons By Local Merchants

FEATURE EXHIBITS REVELATION TO CROWDS VISITING BIG TENT

It's Luring Exhibition; Beauty Wins Plaudits; Local Business Men Praised For Enterprise

WHAT ONE SEES WHILE WANDERING around the Greater Glendale Merchants' Exposition would fill a book. Indeed, this show is a revelation to all who have seen it and adjectives fail to describe the beauty and completeness of it all. Following is a brief resume of the exhibits to be found in the outer circles of the big tent:

Glendale Hardware Company

The Glendale Hardware company display may be seen both "going and coming" as it is strategically located at the entrance on the south side of the big tent. In addition to a wonderful array of door locks, knobs, etc., they are specializing on the Big 3 Vacuum Washer, B. H. paints and varnishes, gas and oil stoves and other hardware lines. The free balloons given to the kiddies Saturday night nearly created a riot. Director LaBreaque made mummies and pappas confiscate the squawkers.

Valley Supply Company

V. M. Hollister is present in person representing the Valley Supply company which is giving away samples of scratch feed and plenty of reading matter on the care of poultry and stock. The booth is niftily decorated with balloons and the walls are lined with large sacks of grain, wood, coal, hay and poultry supplies. Puritas distilled water is served the thrifty.

Oakland Sensible Six

In a vine entwined bower of blue and white the Oakland Sensible Six stands majestically awaiting inspection. Messrs. Green & McClellan are present to explain the features of their car and orders are being taken. It is a car which commands attention and speaks for itself.

Monarch Auto Supply

One of the most fascinating mechanical exhibits at the exposition is the "Accurate Timing System" for Fords which is being displayed by the Monarch Auto Supply company. H. M. Butts also is demonstrating Lubriko, the perfect grease; the Alomite lubricating system, Converse cord tires and accessories. Motor enthusiasts make their headquarters there.

Harry Moore Busy Man

Harry Moore was so busy that he didn't get his Sunset Paints display arranged until today, but much depended on his sign painting for the success of others. Of course, a typical western smooch over the mountains of Southern California with a bungalow in the foreground typifies the colors carried by Mr. Moore.

Roy L. Kent Company

A neatly equipped office room decorated by a pot of pink karanades comprises the Roy L. Kent company display. Pictures of all the buildings constructed by that firm recently line the walls of the room and it is a great display of enterprise. It gives visitors to the show an insight as to the versatility of this construction, real estate and insurance firm.

D. L. Gregg Is Proud Man

D. L. Gregg is more than proud of the representation made by his firm which has about everything in the way of handy hardware on display. Besides advertising several special lines this comprehensive exhibit is suggesting many useful articles to those attending the exposition. On Saturday night a valuable piece of aluminum ware was given away.

Jesse E. Smith, Fords

"Jesse E. Smith, authorized Ford agent, serves you right," reads the sign over a Ford coupe in a booth at the exposition here this week. With a panorama background and pictures of Henry Ford and his plants the display impresses a person with the magnitude of the Ford business. Lots of people linger to rest awhile in the easy seats of the coupe.

H. L. Miller Company

"We believe in Glendale. Therefore, believing in ourselves, we justify your belief in us." That is the statement which H. L. Miller of the H. L. Miller company, 109 South Brand boulevard, is impressing upon visitors at the big show.

An electrically lighted model bungalow provides one of the prettiest displays of the entire show with its green lawn and potted plants making it look like a regular home. A blazing home advertises the low rate insurance in which Mr. Miller specializes and the 1922 calendars of the firm are on display.

Glendale Electric Company

The Glendale Electric company of 132 North Brand boulevard, Naudain brothers' shop, has its display in a model bungalow, the cross section showing the kitchen and dining room. In the former are found a Thor washer, Hurley ironing machine and a Standard electric range. In the dining room a percolator and toaster adorn the table while the Premier and Ohio Electric vacuum cleaners are featured with a display of lighting fixtures.

Barnes-Shuck Music Co.

They keep you guessing at the Barnes-Shuck Music company display. And when it comes to entertainment, they have music of every variety. Two Sequoia cabinet phonographs and a Burnham supertone and Starr phonograph each vie with Haines and Behr Brothers pianos in the display. Pictures of artists whose playing is reproduced on the Knabe Ampico and the photographs of Paderewski and Dalmoret adorn the walls. A case of novelty instruments and accessories also are on display. The booth has the appearance of a studio with its rugs and reed furniture.

Nash Motors on Display

Glendale Nash Sales has one of the most comprehensive motor car exhibits ever presented at any show. In the first place, the setting is a work of art with the painted desert as a background. An electrically operated, glass-enclosed engine and chassis with the gears exposed reveal the workings of the Nash. Then there is the Nash Six Sport model—all dolled up in drab gray—one of the classic cars ever seen in Southern California. Every visitor admires the special job on the car and wishes it were his or hers. A Nash four ready to go also is in the display.

Packer Auto Company

deep fur collars. One unusually aristocratic looking suit with a wide band of clipped beaver bordering the coat and used for a collar was on display. Another charming thing in gray, with a little gray squirrel choker was among the most admired garments in the revue.

Miss Marlow, herself, appeared in the only evening dress shown Saturday night. It was a dinner gown of black lace over satin. A New York creation, set off with a hat of coral velvet, softened by an elaborate gray ostrich fancy. It is a real work of art and on an adaptation of a "Georgette" model.

Do not think that the display was confined to street and evening dresses, however. Sherrod's Specialty Shop offered a very beautiful revue of milady's lingerie. Miss Eva Novak appearing and reappearing in all the newest and daintiest things for the boudoir.

Very Popular Place

An exquisite negligee of blue and gold printed georgette festooned with rose-colored satin rosettes, and finished with a flowing drape of gold lace at the sleeves and hem was used as a background for the lovely undergarments. There were hand embroidered crepe de chine and pussy-willow chemise and gowns. Orchid crepe de chine combined with applique Valenciennes lace made one of the most attractive sets. There was shell pink satin with Valenciennes lace combined with ribbons and embroidery, baby-blue crepe de chine with touches of chiffon and lace. Sherrod's booth was one of the most popular places at the exposition Saturday night.

Taken Out of Stock

The greatest thing about this fashion revue is the fact that none of the models are imported for the occasion and consequently are within reach of the average buyer. The garments shown at the exposition are all taken directly out of the stock of the local shops and are of moderate price. The realization of the fact that the new fall things are so rich in design and beauty, yet within the means of the woman of moderate means is one of the things that seems to herald the return of pre-war prices in fabrics and furs.

Dainty afternoon frocks will be featured this afternoon and tonight street dresses and suits will be displayed. Each evening a complete new selection will be shown. The charm of the new fall suits and frocks is not realized until they are seen on the models. The lines cannot be judged as to their grace and beauty until they are actually "in motion." But the garments that seem so lifeless when viewed hanging in the shops suddenly assume life and distinction when donned by a woman and the Glendale women are enthusiastic about this unusual opportunity to "see themselves" as they may be seen.

First Detachment of Workers Sent Russia

By EDWIN HULLINGER United Press Staff Correspondent RIGA, Aug. 29.—The first train bearing American relief administration workers to the famine-gripped regions of Russia was speeding on its way today, while other expeditions to follow were being rapidly organized here.

It would be impossible to duplicate the sight as hundreds of peasants, Latvian and Russian, clad in picturesque native costumes, crowded about the platform to bid the American relief workers Godspeed.

Suddenly there was a commotion. The crowd parted and the brusque business-like figure of Carroll, of the A. R. A., hustled down the platform. Six other members of the relief administration's first detachment, including Harry Fink of New York and Vance Elston Turner who were added to the list at the last minute and the time for departure arrived.

While the little, wood-burning switch engine was puffing about the yards, making up the train, the Americans climbed into the palatial salon car, reminiscent of the czar's "luxury coach."

The most touching picture of the scene was furnished by the twelve box cars behind. Here were huddled 500 emigrants, conjuring up a picture of cattle on their way to the stockyards of Chicago. They were Russians—going home.

Here was the real story of Russia's sorrow. The smoky lantern lighting the freight car revealed the emaciated faces of hundreds of little children pinched with hunger. There was childish grief in bright eyes which lifted to meet mine.

Further along, another group of peasants gazed mutely at two shiny new and expensive automobiles, mounted on a flat car labeled "American Relief Administration."

Fortune Being Given Away by Business Men; Get Your Share of It!

Glendale has fallen heir to a fortune! The whole city is to share in the luck.

Here are the facts: Not less than $15,000 in merchandise and merchandise orders will be given away, absolutely free, to persons attending the Greater Glendale Exposition.

For instance, the Glendale Phonograph company is passing out $5000 in merchandise orders; the California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., are giving away $4000 in merchandise and additional $1000 in sample pies and cakes; the Miller Tire company is presenting a motorist with a tire each night; the Pacific Coast Exposition company is awarding $15 in gold daily; and merchants are furnishing merchandise gifts each afternoon and evening that mount into the hundreds of dollars.

As an example of the value of these gifts the Walker Jewelry company on Saturday night gave away a diamond brooch.

Isn't it worth while?

TELLS 'DEAR KATIE' ABOUT HIS CRUSH AT EXPOSITION

Strivin' Reporter Gets Into Big Tent and Also Into Most Everything There

LENDALE, Aug. 29, 1921.

Dear Katie: Today I will write my first official article about this here Merchants' Exposition of which you have heard so much pro and con, for the last few weeks.

Well, the big show started to begin last Saturday night at 7 p. m., but I didn't get there until half a hour afterwards, cause I didn't want to be the first one to rush into the place, like I was a green horn that had never been nowhere.

So I come loafin' along, actin' kinda offhand, like I was takin' a evening stroll or somethin' and the curbin was lined up for a couple blocks and all waitin' to get into that there show.

Well, Katie, as a strivin' reporter, I figured as how I hadn't ought to pay nothin' to get in, but I didn't have no pass and I forgot to bring one of my callin' cards and I didn't want to get into no argument with the ticket taker, so just to show my independent nature I decided to buy a ticket and be done with it.

Well, finally at last I laid down my 11c and I got a ticket with a number on it, which the same was 17347 so from that Katie you can see what a awful crowd got in ahead of me.

Then the ticket man told me to keep my ticket with the number on it, cause I might win a prize or somethin', so I did.

Registered—Like Hotel

Well, Katie, I got into the place at last and inside of 3 minutes my face was registerin' every kind of expression from mere surprise to raptures of delight.

The glorious glare and glitter of everything from lovely lavalieres to luxurious limousines was displayed before me in those beautiful booths.

I began to walk around like I was in a maze. Right away, some of the clerks began to hand me out little books and bills and the like and I took everything anybody give to me and after while I began to look like a imitation of a waste basket.

Then, Katie, a lot of the booths began to give me samples of everything from bird seed to butter milk. At one place I wrote my name on a book and a nice man give me a coat hanger.

A few minutes later I had my pockets full of cookies and can openers and with a yard stick in one hand and a can of paint in the other I went sailin' down the aisle lookin' like a wire basket in a department store.

The crowds kept comin' till the big tent was a seething mass of human beings and strivin' reporters. Pretty soon it was a case of S. R. O. or in other words, Katie, there wasn't no place to sit down. The jazz band was whoopin' it up to beat four of a kind and every kid in the place had a whistle.

I'd sampled the ding-fangled sandwiches and crackers garnished with cheese till my mouth begun to taste like a rag rug. Mr. Cavenagh was as busy as a bartender in Havana and he give me a glass of somethin' that looked like red ink and it was as cold as a traffic cop's disposition.

Loaded up with samples and soft drinks, I began to look like I was exhibit A.

Then, Katie, a lady in a grocery shop says to me real polite, "do I feel like a cup of coffee, and I says, no I feel more like the mayor of New Jersey."

Well, Katie, who has more fun than we do? Ain't it so. After while Mr. La Breque come out and that guy knows more about (Continued on Page 7)

THERE'S LITTLE BIT OF EVERYTHING AT BUSINESS SHOW

Seeds, Cookies, Clothes, Rare Jewels, Prunes, Pictures, Varnish, Pipe and—and

Along the runway at the exposition here this week one will find a little of everything and all eyes turn toward the exhibitors there when the mannikins march out in the latest styles. Following are those having displays:

The Tropico Potteries, Inc., are showing vitrified clay sewer pipe, the same as will be used in Glendale for the first unit of a sewage system; floor mantel tile and architectural terra cotta also are displayed.

The Walker Jewelry company is making an exhibit of rare jewels, cut glass, watches, clocks and similar goods. They gave away a diamond brooch Saturday night.

Downing & Cox feature Morse's seeds in a prettily decorated booth filled with potted flowers.

Lyman & Lund's vulcanizing plant display Racine tires and auto accessories.

Little Bit of Everything The California White Stone company is selling imitation diamond jewelry.

The Colonial Dames company demonstrates toilet preparations.

Sierra Club beverages and Calora punch is served by Mrs. James M. Rhoades and corps of assistants.

The Glendale Florist has a beautiful booth filled with cut flowers.

The Harris Manufacturing company is peeling its way into the pocketbooks.

Ice cream sandwiches, something unusual, are sold by Leslie Jackson.

Harry M. Miller has fitted up a miniature real estate office where he is talking Glendale and fire insurance.

Owen & Smith are demonstrating the Universal tire filler.

Two sisters serve fruited snow to the thirsty. It's popular because it is made right in the exposition tent in Glendale.

Dr. C. S. Steelman is exhibiting the methods of scientific refraction for the eyes. All of the mechanical devices used in preparing glasses for the wearer are shown. He gives away souvenirs.

Battery, Cookies, Clothing The Willard Storage battery is featured by the E. W. Cizek Autoelectric company. Bassick lubricants also are advertised in the booth which has a lot of live wires around.

Mother's Cookies, Made in Glendale, are being eaten at the exposition. More are going into the homes. And, oh, how sweet those honey macaroons are.

Zite-Leen is present with furnishings for the whole family. A neat little display, indeed.

The Photo Shop of 219 East Broadway has an attractive exhibit of its work, especially enlarging.

Robinsons Men's Shop with Fashion Park clothing and other apparel makes a decided appeal to well dressed men.

SPECIAL BOOTHS ATTRACT MUCH ATTENTION; DISPLAYS OF VALUE

Educational Interest, Too, Developed By Features Arranged By City's Progressive Business Men

MANY SPECIAL BOOTHS in the aisles at the Greater Glendale Exposition are attracting attention by their unique and educational exhibits. Following is what one will find by walking around the tent:

By First National Bank

Safe deposit vaults, the escrow department and savings accounts are advertised by the First National Bank, which has its representatives in a most prominent booth near the entrance of the big tent. C. C. Cooper, president of the institution and president of the bank, was the first person to take space in the exposition. The exhibit features the modern method of bookkeeping used by the bank.

Jevne Products on Display

Jevne products are advertised for the benefit of the local grocery stores handling that line of goods. Emphasis is placed on coffee and other package goods bearing the well known name of H. Jevne & Co.

Glendale Creamery Company

Smith MacMullen, proprietor of the Glendale Creamery Co., is selling Kay-lac and sweet milk to the thirsty from a dandy dairy display showing pictures of the sanitary conditions under which milk is handled by his plant. An exhibit of milk content is quite interesting and souvenirs are given to all calling at the booth. Following is an analysis of Glendale Creamery milk which is graphically displayed: Mineral, .7 per cent; albumen, .7 per cent; casein, 2.6 per cent; butterfat, 4 per cent; milk sugar, 4.8 per cent, or a total of 12.8 per cent solids and 87.2 per cent water.

Glendale Sheet Metal Works

The sheet iron man which stands guard at the Glendale Sheet Metal Works booth makes the kiddies wonder if the Wizard of Oz had paid a visit to the exposition. For he is the queerest fellow, with Chinese eyes and mailed fist that you ever saw. The Magic Way heating system is featured in the display of appliances handled by this firm.

F. P. Newport Company

The F. P. Newport company, sub-dividers of Verdugo Woodlands, is getting acquainted with the people of Glendale at an office-like booth where pictures of improvements in this wonderful foothill section of the city are displayed. Literature regarding investment possibilities in Verdugo Woodlands is being given all visitors. O. J. DeMars, well known locally as a realtor, is in charge while W. L. Twining, general manager of the company, was present in person the opening night of the exposition.

William H. Hooper Exhibit

William H. Hooper & Co., 222 East Broadway, who recently have opened the most modern auto service station in Glendale, are among those present with a big display of Miller tires, Bosch spark plugs, Vesta batteries and other accessories. A Miller tire is being given away each evening by Mr. Hooper. That's putting the pep into the performance.

Glendale Grocerteria Feature

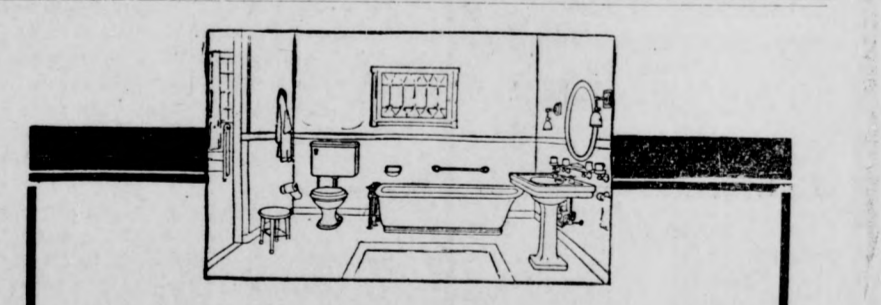

Ben Hur coffee and Blue Stem package goods packed by the Pasadena Biscuit company feature the Glendale Grocerteria display. J. Herbert Smith is on hand to greet his hundreds of patrons who have traded with him for a decade and longer. He views with pride the remarkable growth of Glendale as is evinced in the exposition.

H. S. Webb and Company

H. S. Webb & Co. department store has exhibits from all lines in its magnificent display. For instance there are Stetson hats and Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothing from the men's department, millinery from the other side of the big store, but the mannikins are showing most along this line in fall frocks and latest cloaks and suits. However, there is only an inkling in this showing as to what the big store actually sells. "Everything ready to wear for men and women" would tell the story briefly.

LOCAL ELKS GIVE DANCE

The first summer dance of the season to be given by the Glendale lodge of Elks No. 1289 took place at the clubhouse Saturday night in the form of a "shirt-waist" dance. Splendid dance music was furnished by the Brunswick Shoppe five-piece orchestra. Notwithstanding the fact that the weather was warm and that there were several other big attractions in Glendale Saturday night, a very representative and congenial crowd were in attendance. The affair was in charge of the entertainment committee, consisting of Harry Whaley, J. H. Hearnshaw, Joseph Bellue, E. P. Hayward, W. B. Kelley and Robert Jensen. During the evening refreshments of punch and wafers were served. The customary 11 o'clock toast was given by Arthur Dibbern, esteemed leading knight.

Tells Congregation of Fair In New Church

Preparatory to the sermon Sunday morning at the 9:30 o'clock mass, Rev. James S. O'Neill spoke to the congregation at the Holy Family church about the fair that is to be held in the new church before its consecration. The fair will be held, it is planned, first week in October. Following the reading of the Epistle, Father O'Neill read six verses from the seventh chapter of St. Luke's Gospel, relating the story Jesus and His disciples approaching the city of Naim and meeting the funeral procession of a young man who was the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. "Whom when the Lord had seen her, being moved with mercy, He said to her: Weep not. And He came near and touched the bier. . . . And He said: Young man, I say to thee, arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And He gave him to His mother." Father O'Neill preached a very powerful sermon on the story of the raising of the dead son. "The gospel of today," said Father O'Neill, in closing, "contains a moral that every man should take carefully to heart."

W. G. HARDING IS 'SCOOPED'

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—Warren G. Harding of the Marion Star and present resident of the White House, reluctantly admitted today that he is not the best golfing reporter in Washington. That honor is held by Robert J. Bender, manager of the United News bureau who carried off the cup in the Washington correspondent's golf tournament. "Bender," Harding said, in presenting the cup, "you have scored a 'beat' and I know how dear that is to the heart of every newspaper man."

TWO NATIONS SHARE LOSS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—The United States and Great Britain jointly will share the loss from the complete destruction of the ZR-2 for which the United States navy department was to have paid $2,000,000, according to a memorandum made public by the navy department today. Payments totalling $1,500,000 have been made to the British admiralty by the navy department, of which $500,000 is returnable to this government.

Rev. Louis Tinning Is Speaker on Sunday

In the absence of Rev. W. E. Edmonds, the pastor of the Presbyterian church, on vacation, the assistant pastor, Rev. Louis Tinning preached Sunday morning, using as his text, "Ye are my witnesses of these things." (Luke 24:48). "The great Louis Agassiz when a boy in Switzerland was once sent by his master with his younger brother across the ice of the frozen Lake Geneva. The mother watching saw with fright a crack in the ice before them. She thought Louis would cross it safely and the younger one following would fall in. But no; Louis threw himself full length across the crack and little brother crawled across him as a bridge. This is the way in witness bearing. Either you will lead your fellow-man to destruction or you will be to him a bridge of safety. You ought to be a bridge. —you will be if you are a faithful witness to Christ," said the speaker.

W. C. T. U. LEADERS HERE

Mrs. Lella A. Dillard of Emory University, Georgia, and president of the W. C. T. U. of that state; Mrs. Robert V. Hardeman of Macon, Georgia, former vice president of the W. C. T. U. of Georgia, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rumble, 111 North Central avenue, making a short visit on their return trip home. Mrs. Dillard, Mrs. Hardeman and Mrs. Rumble were delegates to the recent W. C. T. U. convention held in San Francisco. They were delighted with San Francisco and southern California.

ELKS WILL MEET TONIGHT

The regular weekly meeting of the local Elks' lodge will take place at the club rooms tonight, with initiation as the principal business to be transacted. Following the lodge session the members will adjourn to the jinks room, where a musical program will be held.

NEW YORK—Little boys took a skeleton down Broadway. Women screamed, men didn't believe it. Police and a dog gave chase. The dog caught the officer. The skeleton appeared in court today.

Rev. V. Hunter Brink at Methodist Church

Rev. V. Hunter Brink, pastor of the Central Avenue Methodist church occupied the pulpit of the First Methodist church yesterday morning, Rev. Crist being on his vacation. Rev. Brink's sermon was based on Hebrews 2:9: "But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death crowned with glory and honor: that he, by the grace of God should taste death for every man." "In conclusion, this is my message, Christ, tasted death for every man who will accept it. No other way of salvation. Not a merit. It is a free gift, and only such as accept it will be saved," said the speaker. In the evening the Women's Chorus rendered a program of old Negro melodies and they were assisted by J. B. Clark, who gave a very interesting reading.

WOMAN OVER 100 DIES

LOLETA—An old Indian woman, known as Mrs. Sam Dungan, who died recently at the reservation near the lighthouse, was over 100 years old. How much older she didn't know herself. She was a familiar character to all the earliest settlers, being well past the flush of youth in the earliest memory of the oldest settlers. She was well up on all the Indian history of the district and could be traced as the source of more than one alluring aboriginal legend. Nobody ever knew who Sam Dungan was, and she herself had more or less forgotten, though she could tell many astonishing anecdotes of his career and attainments. Mrs. Sam Dungan is dead, and with her many of the most fascinating if not the most accurate, fables of the tribesmen.

Do You Like Prunes?
The California Prune & Apricot Growers, Inc., are passing out free samples of prune pie and cake, also packets of famous recipes. Here's the one for prune pie:

Two cups Sunsweet pitted prunes; 1-3 cup sugar; two teaspoons butter; two tablespoons flour; one teaspoon lemon juice. Wash Sunsweet prunes and soak in cold water to cover two hours or more. Cook slowly in same water until soft. Cut prunes in quarters and mix with sugar and lemon juice. Line plate with pastry, cover with prunes, pour over the prune juice, dot with butter, dredge with flour, put on upper crust and bake in moderate oven.

Effecto auto finishes, Vitralite enamel and "61" floor varnish are prominent in the display of the Glendale Paint & Paper company. Beautiful samples of wall paper also are being shown.

"Ask Mr. Platt what your car needs" is good advice to all as they leave the exposition. He has the exclusive agency for Hartford tires and handles the U. S. Royal Cord as well as auto accessories of every description.

speech-making than Bill Hart knows about six-shooters.
Mr. La Brique boomed and boosted this here town like he actually believed it himself. Mayor Robinson then made a short speech, followed by City Manager Reeves, both of which were well applauded.

By this time, Katie, I felt like I ought to go out and buy another 11c ticket to help pay for all the fun I was havin'.

Bouquets Hurlled About

Everybody that made a speech threw verbal bouquets at Mr. Rhoades and Mr. Rhoades was there stronger than horse radish. When Mr. La Brique come out to give away the $5.00 bills, I got so rattled I didn't know where I was at. The first number he picked was 19853. Well, Katie, I come within $4.90 of gettin that one.

The next lucky number won a prune pie. Well, there was a lot of other nice prizes given away, Katie, like diamonds and sauce pans, etc., but I didn't even get an engraved potato masher.

Well, Katie, I guess I could write a couple hundred more pages about the Glendale Merchants' Exposition, but if I did I'd be working overtime.

The show is and will be a complete success with a Whiz-Bang bunch of promoters and merchants behind it, and if there is anything that the people of Glendale want that they can't "Buy at Home," it must be something that they hand't ought to have, anyhow. Ain't it so, Katie.

Yours, till you get better news. E. C. HALE.

Old Man Time and Little Cupid Enter Into Real Conflict

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Father Time and Cupid ran a race at the convention of Widows and Widowers. Two hundred men and women, ranging from 40 to 75 years of age, were young once more.

The gathering, which was held in Washington park, was the result of the hard work of Miss Marceline Stokes, a social worker, and object matrimony.
Miss Stokes insisted but one condition upon which those who joined the Widows' and Widowers' club—they had to affirm that they fulfilled their marriage vows and lived with their chosen mates until "death did them part."

Members of the club joined because they were weary of spending their last days unloved and lonesome. "Yes," said Miss Stokes, "the club has been a success. Already eight marriages have resulted from our little gatherings and many more are in the offing."

The founder has asked social agencies in other cities to establish similar clubs.

They Like to Meet
"We try to have our meetings once every week," she said, "usually Sunday afternoon. And how they look forward to them! Many have regular dates in the park. Lovers' quarrels and petty jealousies are not at all unusual.

"Love is the same, I believe, whether it's engendered in the heart of a sixteen or sixty-year-old."
And a love pirate is just as apt to be an old man as a handsome bounder, Miss Stokes has found.

She tells this "scandal" of the club:
"One old boy nearly 70 was a regular attendant at our meetings. He was the favorite with all the women and broke up many a happy little affair.

"All went well until an irate little woman appeared on the scene and shouted: "Here you are, oh, Ezra, posing as a widower when you are my husband!"

MALE CHORUS TO 'CROW'
PETALUMA—Petaluma, the home of the brave, will have an Egg Day chorus. Daring male volunteers are daily rehearsing—not dodging, but singing. The chorus will sing several numbers in the Hill park just before the parade starts. Thousands of eggs, which constitute most of the decorations, will be lying around idle. Dr. Cliff D. Carpenter, in charge of the Egg Day chorus, requests that every man in town help in any way possible.

HER PROBABLE INTENTION
Wright had been sent to the bank with his weekly amount, and when he returned he did not have his book. His mother asked him where it was. After quite a little hesitation he confessed to her in a whisper, "Well, mother, the girl took it and kept it. I think she wanted to weigh it."

with blue and white Studebaker pennants adding color to the display. Within twenty minutes from the opening of the show Saturday night C. C. Richford, salesman, sold W. L. Twining, general manager of the F. P. Newport company, the most extensively "dolled up" car ever put out of the Dustin-Roman top factory in Los Angeles. It is a handsome Light Six which is vieing with a Special Six and Sedan in comfortable quarters next to the stage at the exposition.

Psenner-Doll Make Friends

With a dozen Philadelphia Diamond Grid storage batteries neatly arranged in a business like booth, Psenner-Doll, automobile electricians of 610 East Broadway, are making many friends for their line. An attractive touch is added to their display by a pot of chrysanthemums. And the boys are live wires when it comes to talking batteries.

Two displays from the Page Furniture company store feature "new goods for less money." In one booth rugs, beautiful in design, are artistically hung with overstuff furniture, stand lamps, etc., adding luxury to the display. In a separate booth an expensive parlor set is eliciting the praise of passersby. Yardsticks are being given away.

J. A. Newton Electric Company

The J. A. Newton Electric company, besides a myriad of electric fixtures, are demonstrating the Utenco Ironer, Sunnysuds and Eden electric washers, Hoover Vacuum cleaners and the Westinghouse range. A comprehensive display of Westinghouse appliances also will be found at the J. A. Newton booth, where courteous attendants are telling the good points of those lines.

Coker & Taylor Display

Coker & Taylor of 209 South Brand boulevard feature the Direct Action gas range which is controlled by a Lorain regulator for cooking, boiling, baking or simmering; and the Pittsburgh Automatic water heater. Both are in action, but nobody as yet has used the bathtub which is included in the plumbing fixture display. Undoubtedly many will these warm afternoons.

Glendale Phonograph Co.

The Glendale Phonograph company has a decidedly artistic booth done in green velvet drapes advertising the Brunswick Phonographs. Three beautiful cabinet machines are on display. The Chickering piano also has a prominent place in their exhibit. The photographs of Max Rosen, Archer Chamlee and Leopold Godowsky are hung on the walls. Attendants are "delighted to play any record for you." Of course, the music attracts large numbers to their excellent representation.

Russell Furniture Company

The Russell Furniture Manufacturing company has a spacious booth well filled with bedroom, dining room and parlor sets. When one looks at the luxurious overstuff chairs, the birdseye maple dresser or mahogany dining table they can truly wonder at Glendale's industrial possibilities. Many visits to their factory in the old Tropicco business district on San Fernando road undoubtedly will result from exposition display.

C. E. McPeck, Plumber

C. E. McPeck, the plumber of 110 West Broadway, has the Ideal Arcola radiator boiler on exhibition in his booth. A bathtub, lavatory and toilet comprise the ideal bathroom. It is a very representative display and merits the attention of all visitors to the exposition.

Buick Four Is Featured

The Buick Four, the latest sensation in the motor world, is displayed by Tanner & Hall, Ltd., in one of the most artistic settings of the Greater Glendale exposition. The scenic background is the work of the Moore-Champin company and portrays a cross-roads near a mountain hill that looks so real that it recalls happy days in the hills with the rod and reel.

Several offers of $100 bonus for immediate delivery of the Buick Four demonstrator were turned down Saturday night, according to R. L. Galvin of Tanner & Hall's sales force. He is enthusiastic about the new model.

American Industry Is Coming Back, Reports Over Nation Indicate

By HAROLD D. JACOBS
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—American industry is coming back. Authoritative reports from nine of the nation's basic industries to the United Press show that in all but one—shipping—conditions are rapidly improving and that business "normalcy" is just around the corner. These reports, briefly summarized, showed the following situation:

Agriculture—Farmers expect to experience the best season financially in years despite a general crop shortage.

Railroads—The steam carriers have "turned the corner" and plan on new earnings of $500,000,000 for the year.

Meat packing—The packers, in practically every line, are experiencing a substantial increase over pre-war business.

Textiles—Cotton manufacturers are planning on again working full time by fall and early winter.

Automobiles—The motor industry is "booming again" after a period of depression.

Shipping—The American merchant marine is still seriously crippled and there is little hope for improvement until it receives financial support from the public and legislative backing from the government.

Coal—Production of both the soft and hard coal is increasing for the first time in two months and all industries are practically dependent upon fuel.

Steel—The demand for steel products is increasing and prices appear to be practically stabilized.

Oil—Petroleum operators are becoming optimistic and plan shortly to develop new properties in addition to reopening old ones temporarily shut down.

QUADRILLE IS COMING BACK

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—They shimmy no more; neither do they toddle. The debutante will soon be taking dancing lessons from grandmother—the quadrille is coming back. The latest dances, the society walk and the promenading waltz, are very tame, indeed, and do not disturb one's mental balance or physical equilibrium. Just be natural and you're an up-to-date dancer. That's what the association of dancing masters announced to the public.

DECLARES REPAIRS FAULTY

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Girders of the ZR-2 snapped when the dirigible first was inflated and were never properly replaced, Frank M. Gorey, former chief machinist's mate, U. S. N., and one of the original crew of the airship, declared in a sworn copyrighted statement published in the New York Daily News.

H. D. Charlton, their architect, is present at the exposition to advise home-builders on the helps this concern can give. Two electrically lighted display cabinets enable him to demonstrate how a home will look when completed. His service talks are highly appreciated by an almost constant crowd.

C. A. Wishart & Son

A Vello sedan is displayed by C. A. Wishart & Son. Motor enthusiasts gather around the display like bees at a hive and prospective buyers are numerous. The Westinghouse Battery service has a part of the booth for a comprehensive exhibit.

F. A. Clarke Electric Co.

The most spacious booth in the big exposition tent is that of the F. A. Clarke Electric company. "Freedom from drudgery" and "efficiency in housework" are the slogans used in demonstrating the Johnson, Woodrow washer, Syracuse and Eden Electric washers and the America Vacuum cleaners. The Utenco Ironer also is exhibited. Two statues of Liberty emblems of the America cleaner are worthy of special comment. The booth is at the north entrance of the big tent.

McKittrick, relatives of Mr. Robison from Colton, also spent the day at the camp. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wolcott arrived about 1 o'clock and brought with them a treat which caused a "howl of delight." Think of it, ice cream in the mountains. Oh, boy! It sure tickled the scouts' palates.

Hear Call To Colors

In the afternoon Mr. Robison led a party of guests up to Bonita falls. Upon returning to camp the visitors heard the call to colors, watched the lowering of the flag—a very impressive ceremony—and Wallace Haines played a stirring march on the bugle as the boys marched through the company street to the parade ground.

Campfire after supper closed the biggest day and the last two days this week in camp will be crowded with everything undone at this writing.

EDUCATIONAL

The adored and only daughter was sad. "Papa," she said, "why is it you have changed so? Once you used to gratify my every wish, but lately when I ask you for a few dollars you grumble and growl and want to know if I think you are made of money. It's very strange, papa. Don't you love me any more?" "My dear," her father answered, "I love you just as much as ever; but you are to be married soon and I am trying to prepare you gradually for the change."

Program Is Enjoyed

After these had been opened the guests adjourned to the living room where they enjoyed numbers on the saxophone by Merle Budd, accompanied at the piano by Manola Budd. Miss Gertrude Champlain then played several selections on the piano. Mrs. Mabel Capell also rendered several vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Champlain.

After this delightful musical program the guests departed with many good wishes for the bride-to-be. The invited guests were: The honoree, Miss Eileen Sullivan, and Misses Ruth Spafford, Louise Ayala, Corinne Orff, Gertrude Champlain, Lillian Schick, Dorothy Hunt, Harriette Cook, Isabel Yates, Marjorie Morris, Marguerite Hauber, Ruth Ryan, Mrs. Mabel Capell and Mrs. M. Pacific Electric Man Makes Reply to Local Resident's Comments

H. L. Tepe recently wrote to the Pacific Electric Railway company concerning an accident to a Glendale boy. A copy of his communication appeared in the Evening News. F. L. Annable, general superintendent of the railway, has answered Mr. Tepe's letter. The railway man's reply follows:

"H. L. Tepe, Glendale, Calif. "Dear Sir: Have read with considerable interest yours of August 5, in reference to accident whereby a Glendale boy lost his foot while alighting from one of our Glendale trains on the morning of August 11."

"Our investigation of this unfortunate occurrence shows that the young man who was injured was occupying a seat at the time the train started, and did not attempt to leave the seat until the train was crossing the intersection at Temple and Glendale boulevard.

"The occurrence, I fully appreciate, is a most regrettable one, and I wish some method might be adopted that would prevent such accidents.

"I appreciate very much your kindly comment, both of our service and operation, and assure you that we are making every effort not only to keep the service and operation at the highest point of efficiency, but the conduct and courtesy of our train employes as well.

"Yours very truly, "F. L. Annable."

Thrilling Tale Told on Glendale Screen

"The Scarab Ring," which will be shown at the Glendale Theatre again today, is a veritable fashion show. Each of the female members of the company wears no less than six different gowns, each the last word in fashions of the season. The costumes ranged from sport dresses to evening gowns, many of which were designed by exclusive New York modistes from Paris models, and are considered the vogue for the coming season.

But most important, however, in connection with the story of "The Scarab Ring," is the fact that Lorimer Johnson, a motion picture director and explorer, who has been a resident of this city recently actually possesses one of the rare rings buried with Rameses II in 570 B. C.

It is around one of these rings that the thrilling tale is pictured. Other attractions make a perfectly balanced bill with an unusual organ program by Madame Clement.

Vaudeville Program at Glendale Scores Hit

What's on your mind? If there was anything and you asked Panthea or Presco while Aleko held your hand at the Glendale Theatre Saturday night you found out. For they certainly showed ability as mental telepathists. They were the headline act of Meiklejohn & Dunn's great road show which was better than ever. De Michele brothers again were a big hit with their good and bad music. And Dinky De Michele actually lost his trousers at the matinee. He didn't hitch 'em high enough. A male trio, a Hawaiian trio and two cornet players made up the balance of a musically inclined bill, but it went over great.

Beginning next week this same high class of vaudeville will play every Tuesday in addition to Saturday, according to Manager W. A. Howe.

Known generally as the "coldest inland lake," the waters of Lake Superior in the vicinity of the head of the lakes, for the first time in several years, have been warm enough this summer to permit bathing to a marked extent.

DIRIGIBLE VICTIM'S RELATIVES LIVE IN THIS CITY

Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Is Aunt of Lieutenant Killed in Tragedy in England

The city of Glendale was indirectly affected by the recent tragedy of the giant dirigible ZR-2 in the fact that Philip Bradley of 825 East Maple street, was a cousin of Lieutenant Henry B. Little of Newburyport, Massachusetts, who was reported to have lost his life in the disaster.

No definite word has yet been received either by Bradley or his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bradley, although they are of the opinion that the report is true, as they were aware that Lieutenant Little was a member of the ill-fated crew.

Mrs. Rebecca Bradley, who also lives at the East Maple street address, was an aunt of Little, while her grandson, Philip, was a second cousin to the unfortunate officer.

Rev. John Berry Speaker Congregational Church

"The Man with a Program" was the text of the sermon preached yesterday at the local Congregational church by Rev. John E. Berry of San Fernando, who is filling the pulpit during the vacation of Rev. C. M. Calderwood. An exceptionally large summer crowd attended the service, as it was the last Sunday that Rev. Berry was to have officiated.

Rev. Mrs. Calderwood, who are spending their vacation at Camp Idyllwild, will return to Glendale the latter part of this week.

According to the established custom of the local church, no services were held last night, although it was announced that the regular Sunday night services will be resumed on September 11.

These Thoughts Come as Result of Outing

Here are several breezy thoughts from week-enders and vacationists: E. L. Fodge says sleeping on the sand at Santa Monica canyon stiffens one's backbone.

H. Knapp, boss barber, found no realtors subdividing the atmosphere on Mt. Lowe yesterday.

Len C. Davis believes the next most beautiful place to Grand View Memorial Park is the Owens river country where he went fishing.

G. W. Biggins of the Elite Sweet Shop and friends caught enough fish Sunday to feed a multitude. His friends are dining on mackerel today.

Rev. J. W. Utter Talks at Christian Church

In the absence of Rev. C. C. Cole, who is the regular pastor, the members of the First Christian church yesterday listened to both morning and evening sermons by Rev. J. W. Utter of Corona, who was the founder of the local church and is known by practically all of the congregation. The morning text was "Love," and was taken from the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians; while the evening sermon was more of a descriptive address with the subject, "The Red Sea—Typical of the Christian's Life."

MISS MARY LOGAN'S ENGAGEMENT IS TOLD FRIENDS

Delightful Affair Is Given for Charming Girl Who Will Wed Marshall Pearson

(Continued from Page 1) refreshments were served. These were also carried out in pink and green, from the ice-cream, which was in the form of full-blown roses, to the little pink and green candies. While at the table the guest of honor was presented with a beautiful brides' book by the hostesses.

Good Wishes Extended

The guests departed after showering more good wishes upon the happy bride-to-be.

The announcement of Miss Logan's engagement to Mr. Pearson marks the culmination of a romance which began in the high school days of the young couple. Both of the newly-weds-to-be are old residents of Glendale, and are well known among Glendale's younger social set. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Logan of 122 East Park avenue, and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pearson of 807 South Maryland avenue, each of whom has lived in Glendale for several years.

Will Go to Brawley

Following the wedding, which was announced to take place on September 29, the couple will spend a month in this city, after which they will go to Brawley, where Mr. Pearson will take over a position with the Pacific Fruit Exchange company of that city. At present he is employed at the Los Angeles office of that firm.

Those who were invited to enjoy Saturday's affairs were the guest of honor, Miss Mary Logan, Mrs. John A. Logan, Mrs. Guy Pearson, Miss Harriet Barnes, Miss Elaine Hudson, Miss Evalyn Williams, Miss Pearl Pollock, Miss Irene Rich, Miss Dorothy Vredenberg, Miss Helen Vredenberg, Miss Helen Kapus, Miss Dorothy Haig, Miss Eva Green, Miss Edith Hagman, Miss Hester Nelson, Miss Beth Nelson, Miss Lillian Layne, Miss Maryon Pearson, Miss Clara Pearson, Miss Christina Ferris, Miss Lois Webb, Miss Lena Ashton, Miss Ila Mae McClanin, Miss Mildred Svenson, Miss Gladys Garder, Miss Alice Grey Beach, Miss Jane Snyder, Mrs. Leola Breshnahan and Mrs. Grace Burns.
