INTRODUCTION

This report provides current basic information concerning all Japanese newspapers and magazines receiving official paper rations during the period 1 July - 30 September 1949, from the Bureau for Allocation of Paper for Newspapers and Publications, Prime Minister's office, or from the Ministry of Education.

It is the third completely revised edition of a periodical report bearing the same title which first appeared on 10 June 1948, compiled by Information Media Research Branch, Information Division, Civil Information and Education Section.

The report includes a general introduction, two sections listing, respectively, all newspapers and magazines published currently with official paper rations, and a newly added index of newspapers and magazines appearing in the report.

The section on newspapers is divided into general papers and special coverage papers, the general papers being subdivided into two groups, daily and non-daily, while special coverage newspapers are subdivided into eight categories. The papers included are arranged alphabetically within their sub-divisions. The section of the report dealing with magazines lists all magazines which receive official paper allocation. These are divided into 22 categories arranged alphabetically, as are the magazines, within each of these categories.

Both the Bureau for Allocation of Paper for Newspapers and Publications and the Japanese Ministry of Education are primary sources of information on official paper rations for newspapers and magazines for the period 1 July to 30 September. Data supplied by these sources were supplemented by information in the files of Civil Information and Education Section, and of the Japan Newspaper Association concerning names of editors, and actual circulation, whenever such information was available. Thus all basic data concerning newspapers and magazines contained in this report was obtained from these official sources.

The report lists titles, locations, names of editors, and rationed paper circulation for all daily general papers, while furnishing also frequency and claimed circulation for all non-daily general papers. In the case of special coverage newspapers and magazines, titles together with their translations are given, with locations, names of editors and publishers, frequency, and claimed and rationed circulations.

Magazine sizes are expressed in number of pages and size of pages in A-3 to A-6, and B-3 to B-6. Translated into inches these sizes are as follows:

A-3	11-3/4 x 16-1/2"	B-3	14-1/4 x 20-1/4"
A-4	8-1/4 x 11-3/4"	B-4	10-1/8 x 14-1/4"
A-5	5-7/8 x 8-1/4"	B-5	7-1/8 x 10-1/8"
A-6	4-1/8 x 5-7/8"	B-6	5 x 7-1/8"

In the newspaper section, claimed circulation figures are included only when they differ significantly from the circulation possible with rationed newsprint. Circulation figures for both newspapers and magazines indicate single-issue circulation.

The number of newspapers listed in this report is more than double that listed in the preceding one. The increase is almost entirely in the categories of labor, and student newspapers. The paper allocation to these two categories was placed on a basis of membership of labor unions and student enrollment of educational institutions. Another important change in allocation basis was made with the political party organs. While formerly only two parties had been granted paper rations, at present nine major political parties are allocated paper on the basis of number of votes polled by each in the last general election.

Newspaper totals in the various categories listed in this report are:

		Number of Papers
I. General
a. Daily		121
b. Non-Daily		23
	Sub-Total	144
II. Special
a. Economic and Financial		9
b. Education and Youth		65
c. Labor		415
d. News Services		21
e. Political Party Organs		9
f. Religions		21
g. Scientific and Medical		9
h. All Others		93
	Sub-Total	640
	TOTAL	784

Increased paper production has resulted in increased paper allocation for both newspapers and magazines. Newsprint allocated for newspapers was increased from 55,645,000 pounds for the period 1 January - 30 March 1949 to 58,325,000 pounds, or 4.1 percent, while allocation of printing paper for magazines by the Bureau for Allocation of Paper for Newspapers and Publications increased from 3,911,000 pounds to 4,810,000 pounds, or about 23 percent. Allocation by the Ministry of Education remained unchanged. A significant change in allocation occurred first during the 1 January - 30 March 1949 allocation period with the introduction of rationed simile or senka paper for magazines. During that period, 1,751,000 pounds of simile paper was first allocated to magazines. This quota has been almost tripled, amounting to 5,150,000 pounds for the 1 July - 30 September period. During the three months period 1 July - 30 September, the Bureau for Allocation of Paper for Newspapers and Publications has allocated paper for 1,487 magazines, while the Ministry of Education has allocated it for 202 scientific, academic, and school magazines.
