REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY DUE SAYS AUSTIN B.C. Nearing Eve of Property "Run," Like Cycles of Salmon Ever Increasing Tourist Travel Certain to Stimulate Market Forward looking individuals are impressed with the certainty that British Columbia will experience another epochal period of activity in real estate, according to the observation of Charles S. Austin, head of the Charles S. Austin Company, real estate expert of Seattle, who is now in Victoria. Activity in real estate comes in cycles, like salmon, and in the opinion of Mr. Austin the "run" is due.

LANDS AGREEMENT HAS BEEN SIGNED Oak Bay Land Company Completes Realty Deal; A. Carmichael Elected President With the signing of the agreement yesterday afternoon by Reeve Herbert Anascomb and Municipal Clerk R. F. A STORY WITHOUT WORDS tremendous advertising campaigns being conducted by the various Chambers of Commerce are drawing the attention of hundreds of thousands of people, and while perhaps only on a short visit in the first instance, thousands of these people, imbued by the attractiveness of this section and the phenomenal possibilities of development will ultimately come back to this great Pacific Northwest and stay.

CANTEEN FUND IS SUBJECT OF INQUIRY Ottawa, May 27 (Canadian Press)—The assertion that it was extremely doubtful if a detailed statement of all specific items of expenditure would be furnished by the Dominion command of the Great War Veterans' Association regarding money received from the Canteen Fund marked the inquiry of a special committee of the Senate this morning into the administration of the Canteen and Discharge Funds, the use to which advances from these sources have been put, and the sale and manufacture of paper poppies. Payment of $25,000 by the G.W.V.A. for stock in The Veteran, a newspaper, and a further payment of $5,000 for subscriptions to The Veteran also came under discussion.

CAREFUL OBSERVATIONS Oslo, May 27.—Dr. Hesselberg, chief of the weather bureau of the Norwegian capital, a student of polar exploration, in a statement published here, said he saw no reason for anxiety regarding the fate of the Amundsen-Ellsworth flying expedition to the North Pole. He recalled that Amundsen stopped several times on his way to the South Pole in order to obtain a sufficient number of observations. At the North Pole, Dr. Hesselberg said, Amundsen would certainly be very scrupulous about his observations, and probably would require several days to complete them.

GANGES CELEBRATES COWICHAN GOLFERS WITH SPORTS CARD HOLD FIELD DAY

Ganges, May 27.—Ganges was en fête Monday afternoon at the Mahon Hall grounds. A large crowd turned out to the celebration, and sports were held, in which all could compete. The announcer was C. F. Roberts, expressed as a wild and woolly cow puncher, with a fiery steed, with a cow-bell on its neck. Jack Freddy was his able assistant. Tipping the bucket of water with a pole and a target just below, amidst the crowd, W. E. Scott in a wheelbarrow and Dr. S. Harris propelling him, were awarded the prize. The obstacle race of about twenty entrants and created a lot of fun.

After the sports a football match was played, single vs. married men, the single men winning a very even game by one goal to the credit of Arthur Meacock, who netted the only score. Music and dancing in the hall was enjoyed. Also a dance was held in the evening at the hall. For F. F. and A. Elliott provided the music. The refreshment booth was in charge of the ladies of the I.O.E. Members of the Guild of Sunshine served tea during the afternoon.

Duncan, May 27.—The annual field day held by the Cowichan Golf Club on their links on Monday, was a most enjoyable affair, and proved a distinct success in every way. All the competitions were keenly contested, and most exciting ties occurring in some of the events. In the ladies' putting competition Mrs. Morten, Mrs. J. S. Robinson, Mrs. W. H. Harper, Mrs. Boyd Wallis and Mrs. E. W. Carr-Hilton tied for second place. Mrs. Morten and Mrs. Robinson tied again, and three exciting rounds of the green were necessary before Mrs. Morten finally won out on the last number.

In the men's putting Major Tomlinson, J. S. Robinson and H. F. Prevost tied, and after another exciting play-off Major Tomlinson gained first place, with J. S. Robinson second.

In the "long-hole" competition K. F. Duncan and E. M. Dawson-Thomas tied twice. K. F. Duncan finally winning out on the third trial. Great credit is due to John Fox, who had charge of the arrangements, assisted by H. R. Punnett, J. S. Robinson and E. W. Carr-Hilton.

FIGURES ARE GIVEN AT SHIP INQUIRY

Ratio of Expenses to Earnings of Several Lines Stated in Ottawa

Tabulation Prepared by Gordon Scott, Auditor; Session To-morrow

Ottawa, May 27.—Gordon Scott, auditor, employed by the Ocean Rates Committee of the House of Commons, to examine the statistical evidence filed with the committee, last night submitted his report for the committee's consideration, giving tabulated summaries of his findings. The report is based upon the information given by steamship companies concerning sixty-one steamships, 247 voyages and 14,764 voyage days in 1923. In 1924 the report includes the statistics of seventy-three ships, 261 voyages and 3,342 voyage days. Mr. Scott's report is based on a comparison of the years 1923 and 1924.

The report finds that from the evidence submitted by the steamship companies, the profit in 1923, exclusive of laying up expenses and depreciation, on sixty-one vessels, was $2,496,236. The profit in 1924, exclusive of laying up expenses and depreciation, on seventy-three vessels, was $2,398,524.

PERCENTAGES GIVEN

	1923	1924
Port charges	42.4	39.1
Fuel	23.6	21.8
Wages	12.2	10.3
Stores and provisions	6.2	5.4
Insurance	7.4	5.2
Repairs	7.3	6.3
Management	5.3	7.1
Broker commissions	2.2	2.8
Sundries	2.6	1.6

The varied nature of the evidence submitted, according to the auditor's statement, makes the figures in the report "less useful than they otherwise might be."

As an example, the port charges on the different lines, according to their evidence, varied from a maximum of 48.8 per cent to a minimum of 32.6 per cent of the total earnings; fuel varied from 28.7 to 17 per cent, wages from 12.8 to 8.8, and management, including commissions and brokerage, varied from 16.9 to 6.8 per cent of the earnings.

In 1923 approximately forty per cent of freight earnings was derived from passenger cargo steamships, and in 1924 forty-three per cent was derived from this kind of vessel.

According to reports, "the records suggest that the gross return per ton carried in passenger cargo steamships is better than that carried in cargo steamships."

Other exhibits suggest that in 1924 freight earnings on cargo steamships increased approximately $800,000 over 1923 and expenses decreased approximately $500,000, resulting in the conversion of a loss of approximately $300,000 into a profit of $138,000.

Dr. Dowling entered the "Geological Survey of Canada in 1884. He turned his attention to the study of coal and petroleum deposits of Western Canada and was an international authority on that subject.

His knowledge and advice was responsible for the discovery of an arctic water supply in Southern Alberta which made irrigation possible.

As late as 1921 he made an examination of the petroleum discoveries at Fort Norman.

PRESTON CONCLUDES

W. T. R. Preston, author of the report asserting the existence of a great shipping combine on the North Atlantic, concluded his evidence before the committee yesterday. Before leaving the witness chair he made a brief statement in regard to certain evidence given by H. M. Cleminson, general manager of the British Chamber of Shipping, a previous witness.

G. H. Montgomery, steamship counsel, after protesting against the introduction of new evidence, said he would not re-examine Mr. Preston on his statement.

The committee adjourned till to-morrow.

Member of Canadian Geological Survey Had International Reputation

Was Authority on Coal and Petroleum Deposits of Western Canada

Ottawa, May 27.—Dr. Donaldson Bogart Dowling, sixty-seven, explorer and geologist with international reputation and responsible for the discovery of many coal fields in Western Canada, died suddenly at his home here last night from heart trouble.

Dr. Dowling entered the Geological Survey of Canada in 1884. He turned his attention to the study of coal and petroleum deposits of Western Canada and was an international authority on that subject.

His knowledge and advice was responsible for the discovery of an arctic water supply in Southern Alberta which made irrigation possible.

NUMBER OF OTTAWA RESOLUTIONS ON LIST

Ottawa, May 27.—W. G. McQuarrie, Conservative, New Westminster, called attention in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon to a resolution relating to the Oriental situation in British Columbia which had been standing in his name for some considerable time.

"Might I ask the Premier if he would facilitate the hearing of the resolution, so it may be disposed of during the present session?" asked Mr. McQuarrie.

Premier King declared this request was similar to a dozen he had received from other members in regard to resolutions standing in their names, and it would be unfair to discriminate and give preference to the subject which Mr. McQuarrie wished to discuss.

ROYALIST KILLED BY PARIS WOMAN

Assassin Mistook E. Berger for Charles Maurras; Surrendered to Police

Paris, May 27.—Ernest Berger, treasurer of the newspaper L'Action Francaise, yesterday fell a victim to a mad woman's bullet intended for one of his articles, Leon Daudet, leader of the Royalist Association and editor of L'Action Francaise, or Charles Maurras, co-editor.

The assassin was a woman named Bonnoy, a domestic forty-four years of age. She made rambling statements to the police, and a mass of letters found in her room apparently left no doubt that she had long suffered from persecution mania.

She told the examining magistrate that as Daudet and Maurras had ignored letters in which she had revealed to them the activities of spies on the Riviera, she considered them criminals. The woman watched for them for several days.

She saw Berger, whom she mistook for Maurras, leave, and followed him to a subway. She pushed her arm over the shoulder of another person and shot Berger and ran away.

When she saw by the newspapers that she had killed the wrong man she gave herself up.

On January 22, 1923, a twenty-year-old anarchist, Germaine Bethon, entered the offices of L'Action Francaise and killed Marius Plateau, one of the employees. She had gone there to communicate with Leon Daudet, but not finding him, used her pistol against Plateau.

The woman was acquitted of that crime.

A few months later Daudet's youthful son was found dead in a taxicab. It was said he had committed suicide, but Daudet insisted he had been murdered.

G. GATINEAU TO BE CITIZEN OF U.S.

Seattle, May 27.—George Gatineau, grandson of Georges Clemenceau, the Premier of France, is an automobile salesman in Seattle. He is a son of Andre and Therese Clemenceau Gatineau.

Gatineau was personally secretary to his grandfather, the Tiger of France, until he joined the French army in 1915. He saw action in many major engagements near Verdun.

After the war, Gatineau narrated, he spent an interlude of more than a million francs in gambling resorts in America and Southern Europe. When his money was gone he worked his way to Singapore, back to Paris, to New America and Seattle. Here he has taken out his first papers to become a citizen of the United States.

EDUCATION BENEFITS FOR ESKIMOS URGED

Edmonton, May 27.—While exception is taken locally to the estimate of Knud Rasmussen, the Arctic explorer, that the cost of the education of two Copper Eskimos, Aitkomiak and Talamigama, at Herschel Island a year ago was between $50,000 and $75,000, those who know the North are in agreement with him that before law enforcement is undertaken by the white men among the Eskimos, there should be an effort made to educate them to an understanding of the laws of civilization.

There is a vast difference between the Eskimos of the Mackenzie delta and the Copper Eskimos of the Coppermine Gulf district. The former tribe has had the advantage of nearly forty years of missionary effort by such men as Bishop Stricker and others. To-day they read and write the English language, and Canadian law is understood by them. Thus to-day there is very little crime among the Delta Eskimos.

On the other hand, it is pointed out, the Copper Eskimos to-day are in the same state of primitive savagery as the Delta natives of forty years ago. They know nothing of the white man's law; they do not understand the meaning of courts, the functions of judges or the justice of trial by jury.

Infanticide—the murder of female children particularly when times are hard—is a part of their custom. So with murder—the slaying of a husband for the sake of his wife, is not regarded as serious.

Those who have studied the habits of those primitive people maintain that by organized missionary effort the Copper Eskimos will be as amenable to the white man's law as the Delta tribe of to-day.

Authorities here consider $20,000 as a reasonable estimate of cost in bringing the two Eskimos to trial. This amount would include the expenses of the judicial party, court costs, witness maintenance and fees, the hangman's fees and expenses and the overland trip for the issuance of the warrant of execution.

AUTOMOBILE INQUEST

Nelson, B.C., May 27.—David Gervillik, Trail master mechanic, who drove a car containing six persons over the side of the bridge over Sheep Creek near Salmo, Monday afternoon, had slowed down to five miles an hour on reaching the bridge, and was reaching for his pocket to get a cigarette when the accident happened.—J. Demitich, one of the survivors, told the coroner's jury yesterday. The body of Gervillik was found a mile down stream yesterday.

BEER CALLED WEAK

Washington, May 27.—Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, who has returned from Toronto, denounced Ontario's 4.4 per cent beer as a fraud. He said it was about 2.8 per cent by volume and two per cent by weight alcoholic content. He declared the plan was to destroy prohibition entirely by getting the weaker beer first and then securing the real stuff.

Why not to EUROPE?

WHAT could be so enjoyable as to spend your vacation in Europe? Europe with all its wonders and beauties—London—Old England—Paris—Rome.

And, the voyage itself—the bracing sea air to refresh and invigorate you, and the luxurious comfort of a Cunard or Anchor-Donaldson liner. Every hour of the day aboard will be filled with enjoyment—games on the deck, promenades or relaxation in deck chairs, dances, concerts by the ship's orchestra, card parties, wonderful meals.

From first to last the concern of the entire ship's personnel is the passenger's comfort, pleasure and safety. Remember, too, the voyage embraces the educational value of the trip down the mighty, historic St. Lawrence River.

THE EMPIRE SPIRIT

IT IS ALL TO THE GOOD that there should be an "Empire Group" as well as a "European Group" in the British House of Commons.

Empire Day functions in Britain this year were more numerous than they have been on previous occasions.

A continued campaign of this kind must eventually have a beneficial effect upon the future prosperity of the Empire.

OUT OF DATE

CRITICS OF THE KING Government's shipping proposals are still harping on the loss of the Canadian Merchant Marine.

likewise increase the business for the C.G.M.M. ships. All these points are forgotten by opponents of the Government's scheme.

THE "NEXT WAR"

PEOPLE WHO TALK glibly about the "next war" as if nothing on earth could prevent such a calamity taking place ought to study some of the fairly reasonable predictions of the sort of war it would be and then do their bit to prevent it.

When Sir Hugh Trenchard, Chief of the British Air Staff, addressed the Cambridge University Aeronautical Society the other day he said that in ten or fifteen years from now an aeroplane would be able to throw its bombs straight on the target from 10,000 feet.

These points ought to be considered by people who scoff at the League of Nations as if it were a menagerie of freaks.

UNFORTUNATE

WHEN AN INQUIRY has been made it will no doubt develop that the absence of the members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police—now on duty at the British Empire Exhibition—from the military procession at the Wembley Stadium on Empire Day was the result of an unintentional blunder on the part of some official entrusted with the arrangements.

MR. STEVENS HOIST WITH HIS OWN PETARD

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS yesterday Mr. H. H. Stevens drew attention to a statement made by Mr. K. A. Blatchford, former mayor of Edmonton, to the effect that "certain eastern interests are putting up a big fight to blacken the port of Vancouver."

emptying its businessmen into the neighboring state? At least yesterday's incident must have appeared to Mr. Stevens as a case of "chickens coming home to roost" with a vengeance.

Another Derby has been run and lots of money made—and lost.

Conservative politicians at Ottawa are finding their stock of logic running very low.

If Mr. Stevens continues to tell the East that things in this Province are in a bad way, he must not be surprised if some people take him at his word and lose interest in this part of the world.

DR. FRANK CRANE On THE OUTLOOK

EVERY man should raise his eyes once in a while from his immediate work and see what lies around him.

In the ordinary use we can find for the sky is to furnish us an outlook.

Very frequently when the mind has wandered into the fields round about it returns refreshed to its immediate task.

A man must have not only something to do, some task to which he is devoting his best efforts, but he must have some diversion.

Very frequently a man gets an exalted opinion of himself. He thinks of himself too highly when he does not look at the world around him.

Every act and seat is apt to consider itself the most important thing in the universe.

As knowledge without justice ought to be called cunning rather than wisdom, so a mind prepared to meet danger, if excited by its own eagerness and not the public good, deserves the name of audacity rather than courage.

The art of meditation may be exercised at all hours, and in all places; and men of genius, in their walks, at table, and amidst assemblies, turning the thoughts of their minds to the things of God.

It will often happen when a thing is originally wrong, that amendments do not make it right, but more often do as much mischief in one way, as good in another.

An attack on Vancouver or Victoria would be very foolish and would not get very far. It is bad business for any part of Canada to develop sectional antipathies to the exclusion of the broader outlook which embraces the welfare of the whole.

There are other ways that baby gets the lye, but the above is the most common. One baby found a lye can that had been thrown out by a neighbor, there was still some lye in it, and the rain furnished enough water to make the deadly drink.

Now that can be done to prevent this horrible thing? In the first place the manufacturers of lye should be compelled to print poison in large letters on the cans.

The grocer could help by calling the attention of all who purchase lye to the danger attached to its use.

Those who use it can be more careful, especially when they strain down the lye should be kept for low, careless handling of it.

During the last year lye poisoning in this Province, has probably averaged one case a month.

PARKING DANGER

To the Editor:—As we hear so much about the parking of cars may I draw attention to a very real danger, namely, the long row of cars one always has to pass outside the Victoria Tennis Club.

There is not room for a car to be overtaken and they never trouble, and you always have the added danger of someone getting out of their front wheel, right under your front wheel.

THE Carnival Spirit

As the spray relieved the throat of plant life the Sprites of Carnival approached, and perching himself on the swaying nozzle, said:

"Are you not Alderman Dewar, a champion of Labor on the Council of this fair city?"

"I am, and I am the same," was the surprised rejoinder. "But who are you?"

"Your mayor can tell you who I am, for this morning early I called at his office, and very much pleased to see you posted up the solution of some of the city's most pressing problems.

"And now I ask a welcome of you. I seek your support and sympathy, and your aid in the solution of some of the city's most pressing problems.

What happens is this: Someone uses a solution of lye to clean the kitchen sink, and leaves some of it where the baby can get it.

Perhaps the mother puts it where the baby cannot reach, but she must be especially careful that she is saving it for herself.

THE Carnival Spirit

A man of sturdy physique and of serious mien, stood, on a beautiful evening in the month of May, in a park, watering the charming garden that set off the characteristically charming home of a citizen of Victoria.

THOUSAND AT ANNIVERSARY OF CITY TEMPLE

Meeting in Chamber of Commerce Auditorium Marked By Great Enthusiasm

Review of Year's Work is Given by Speakers

Over a thousand people attended the anniversary celebration of the Victoria City Temple at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last evening.

The programme commenced promptly at 8 o'clock with community singing by "Bob" Webb, Cecil Heaton presiding at the piano.

The choir, "Send Out Thy Light," by Goumel, and "Comes at Times a Stillness," by Dr. Oakley. Mr. Waddington led the choir.

The chairman of the festivities was Clarence B. Deaville, and he was supported on the platform by the pastor, Dr. Ernest Hall, delivered a racy, entertaining and humorous speech, in which he marked the development of the City Temple and its programme.

Dr. Davies, in his speech, felicitated the members on the great success which had attended their efforts during the past year of life, and stated that if the City Temple lived no longer it had been worth while.

"This great work could not be carried on in the bounds of B.C. Methodism, but a large number of you decided that the great work begun at Centennial must be carried on, and you have perpetuated the League of the Youngest Friends of the Church, your highest dreams. We have tried to make the world safe, so far as British Columbia is concerned, for ecclesiastical democracy and to-day we stand, not feared, but loved, not only by people outside the churches, but by many people inside the other denominations of the city."

Refreshments were served to the large assembly by the Ladies Aid and Young Ladies League of the Temple, and everyone present received a piece of the birthday cake, a gift of Messrs. Rennie and Taylor of this city.

Wellington Man Escaped Death in Motor Accident

Nanaimo, May 27.—J. A. Campbell of Wellington had a narrow escape from death in an accident which took place over the weekend end on Front Street, near the post office, when his car plunged over an eight-inch curb and into the sea.

The driver jumped free and escaped with nothing more serious than a bruised wrist. Less than two years ago a similar accident occurred at the same place.

Decision Soon on Pedro Zanni Flight

Seattle, May 27.—Miguel A. Molina, Argentine consul here, announced yesterday that a decision would be made this week as to whether Major Pedro L. Zanni, who has reached Tokio from Amsterdam on a flight around the world, should continue.

Informed of an Associated Press dispatch from Tokio stating Zanni had postponed resumption of the flight till September, Molina pointed out that winter begins in mid-August in the Aleutian Islands, along which the aviator would have to pass.

AGONIZING RHEUMATISM

Of 5 Years Standing Completely Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives"

MR. JAMES DOBSON

"Be good enough to publish for the information of Rheumatism sufferers how 'Fruit-a-tives' relieved my Rheumatism which had at least five years' standing. The trouble was in my right hip and shoulder; the pain almost unendurable. This kept up until I started to take 'Fruit-a-tives.' After a continuous treatment for about six months, I am now in first-class condition. This, I attribute to my persistent use of 'Fruit-a-tives.'"

The above is the letter which Mr. James Dobson of Bronte, Ont., wrote after trying the wonderful Fruit Treatment 'Fruit-a-tives' which consists of intensified fruit juices combined with tonics. If you suffer with Rheumatism, 'Fruit-a-tives' will make you well and keep you well. 25 cents and 50 cents, at dealers. (Adv.)

Throngs Witnessed Ypres Funeral

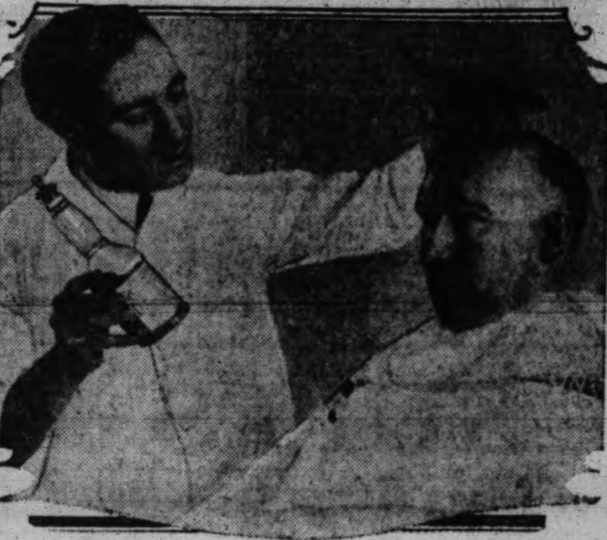

London, May 27.—Great crowds yesterday paid final tribute to the memory of the Earl of Ypres, whose ashes rested in state in Westminster Abbey, and then were carried to Victoria Station, where the casket was transferred to a train for Ripplevale, Kent, his birthplace, for interment.

The general public was admitted without restrictions to the abbey yesterday. A special service was conducted, at which all members of the royal family were represented.

After the service the funeral cavalcade passed through the Horse Guard's Parade and the Mall, past Buckingham Palace and on to Victoria Station, all the route being packed with reverent crowds.

Marshal Joffre of France and a body of French and Belgian soldiers marched in the procession.

A STORY WITHOUT WORDS

DEAD LETTER OFFICE WASTE IS AVOIDABLE, STATES U.S. CHIEF

Washington, May 27.—Postmaster-General New has determined to attempt to curb careless correspondents and prod parcel post users who are responsible for a drag on the postal service which causes an enormous economic and considerable financial loss each year.

With a view to reducing dead letters and parcels, now going to the dead-letter office at the rate of 21,000,000 letters and 800,000 parcels a year, the Postmaster-General has designated the week of June 1 to 7 as "Better Mailing Week," during which a nation-wide campaign will be conducted to educate everyone to use more care in the addressing of mail.

"If everyone who mailed a letter or parcel put a return address on the envelope (and the proper place is the upper left-hand corner, not the back)," says the Postmaster-General, "the dead-letter office could be closed and a vast amount of money, time and energy saved. More than ninety-nine per cent of dead letters contain no clue to the sender on the envelope."

GOAL OF PERFECTION

"Mistakes are bound to occur, but investigation of claims and complaints divulges that in the vast majority of cases it is the mailer rather than the postal clerk who makes the error. We are going to try to do better. We are striving for that goal of perfection, and we would like you to co-operate with us and help reduce that appalling dead letter revenue. It can be done."

Addressing letters plainly, leaving out nothing that will help the carrier make delivery.

"Putting return address in upper left-hand corner.

"Using strong cord and stout paper."

Of the 21,800,000 pieces of mail

which went to the dead letter office last year, 100,000 letters were in perfectly blank envelopes. Cash removed from dead letters amounted to $55,523, which was turned into the United States treasury because its owners could not be located, owing to lack of return and other addresses. Postage stamps amounting to $12,165 were similarly found in undeliverable and unreturnable mail. Checks, drafts and money orders amounting to $2,548,542 likewise were found, but they represented only so much paper because they could not be cashed and have to be held a year for reclaiming, then to be destroyed.

The revenue of the dead letter office is sufficient to keep that institution functioning, but it is not nearly enough to pay the annual bill for support of the "Nixie," as postal employees call a letter or parcel so improperly addressed that it cannot be delivered to the addressee nor returned to the sender without special treatment. This special treatment, called directory service, costs the taxpayer $1,740,000 a year. In New York City alone it costs $500 a day to look up addresses. Approximately 300,000,000 pieces of mail yearly are given directory service. The simple addition of a return address would obviate it entirely, post officials say.

SURVEY OF COASTS OF THE PHILIPPINES NEARS COMPLETION

Manila, May 27.—The United States Coast and Geodetic Survey expects to complete within a few years the work of surveying all the coasts and adjacent waters of the Philippine islands and bring to a close a task that has been under way since American occupation nearly twenty-seven years ago, states Commander W. E. Parker, chief of the division of hydrography and topography, who has arrived here from Washington.

Commander Parker, comes as the personal representative of Col. E. Lester Jones, director of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, and expects to remain in the Philippines several months.

"It is the desire of the Government to complete the surveys of the Philippine coasts and waters," said Commander Parker. "The areas which have not yet been charted are the west coast of Palawan, the southern half of the Sulu Sea to Borneo, the Sulu Archipelago, south Mindanao, northern Luzon to Bashi Channel, almost to Formosa, and the west coast of Luzon from Cape Engano to Casuaran Bay. The most important of these areas, judging from a commercial standpoint, will be surveyed first.

"As to the importance of the task we are about to undertake, it can not be overestimated. It is likely to result in the change of steamship routes, will make navigation safer in these waters, and will change the status of the areas from one of unknown waters to one well charted and entirely safe to navigation."

These waters not only will be charted, but a complete photographic record of them is to be made by airplane. When the actual work begins the survey party will be accompanied by a plane which will be used to prepare for photographing the entire coast by airplane.

FEDERAL ELECTION CHANGES DEBATED

Ottawa, May 27.—The period between nominations and polling in Federal elections is reduced from fourteen to seven days in a bill to amend the Elections Act brought down yesterday by the Secretary of State. Further restrictions also are made regarding advertisement and election, but a complete photographic record of them is to be made by airplane. When the actual work begins the survey party will be accompanied by a plane which will be used to prepare for photographing the entire coast by airplane.

Some thirty changes are made in the Elections Act, most of them recommended by the Chief Electoral Officer as necessary to a smoother administration of the act.

Chemical Warfare Conference Urged

Geneva, May 27.—Following the decision of the military and naval experts yesterday favoring convocation of a special conference to examine the problem of chemical and bacteriological warfare, with a view to its universal condemnation, the International Conference on the Control of Traffic in Arms is expected to close at the end of next week.

The question of whether Abyssinia should be excluded or included in the forbidden African zone where arms traffic is prohibited, and whether warships and their armaments will be excluded from all control, are the outstanding problems not yet settled.

Plans are under way to solve the delicate warship issue by treating war vessels in a special section of the convention whereby some publicity would be accorded the traffic.

At Last

a really New Milk Chocolate Bar

35 YEARS' EXPERIENCE brings JERSEY MILK

for people who want the Very Best

WE tried dozens of different formulas to achieve the right flavor and the proper, smooth, silky texture in the chocolate. At last our experts were satisfied—and here is the result, Neilson's Jersey Milk. No fruit, nuts, cream centre or mixture, but solid milk chocolate of the highest quality, of new flavor and of enticing richness. Jersey Milk is a distinctive achievement and its success has been tremendous.

Look for the white-and-gold wrapper.

5c, 10c and 25c sizes.

WAR RESULT OF FEAR

War was usually the result of a feeling of fear and in its place must be given that real sense of security which would grow when the world saw the sanity of peace. This sense of security would only come when the nations realized that the difficulties could be settled amicably through the medium of an international sense of justice as administered by an impartial tribunal...

DUTY OF WOMANHOOD

"Our sons and husbands and brothers who made the supreme sacrifice in the last war thought it was their duty to go to war. That was the cry. Yet we dare not forget that, when around the British Empire there is a circle of war memorials crying out to us that those boys gave their lives in a war which was to end wars. We women have only done our duty when we try to build up a new world where war and its horrors is a thing of the past..."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Frank Brooks, charged with arson in the city police court to-day, was remanded until to-morrow.

The Publicity Bureau was last night voted a further $5,000 from the appropriation set aside for this purpose by the City Council.

James Campbell, arrested for vagrancy, and who appeared before Magistrate George Jay this morning, was dismissed on suspended sentence.

The secretary of the Canadian Legion has an imperial silver service badge. The owner can have same by calling at the office, 1406 Douglas Street, and proving same.

The City Council last night confirmed the sale of the northeast corner of Linden Avenue and Dallas Road to Eli Bean for $1,000, made last week by the Lands Department.

H. B. Dawson is constructing a six-roomed frame and stucco residence at the corner of Dallas Road and Douglas Street. A permit issued by Building Inspector James Barf yesterday places the value at $7,000.

On Friday at 8 o'clock a special meeting of the Esquimalt School Board will be held to discuss the manual training and domestic science teaching question as it affects the public schools.

W. N. Turpel, who received his degree as M.D. at McGill University, is the son of Emerson Turpel, of Quadra Street. He is a native son and was educated at the North Ward and Victoria High Schools.

Dr. J. S. McCallum was reappointed to his post on the Jubilee Hospital Board of Directors at Esquimalt Medical Health Officer and consequently their representative, at the meeting of the municipal body held last night.

The Rotary Club weekly luncheon to-morrow at the Chamber of Commerce will be addressed by J. Vernon McKenzie, editor of Maclean's Magazine, who will speak on the influence national periodicals have upon Canadian nationalism.

The city will hereafter register agreements for sale of city lands, to have future trouble similar to a number of cases experienced of late, when purchasers on deferred payment plans have failed to record their interest in properties.

"Drummond and His Country, the Land of the Habitant," will be the subject of an address to be given by A. D. Fairbairn, B.C., at the Memorial Hall on Thursday, May 28, at 8.30, under the auspices of the Women's Parish Guild of Christ Church Cathedral.

The Tuberculous Veterans' Association will hold a special meeting of executive members on Friday, May 29, at 3 p.m. The question of representation at the E.V.A. Conference, which will be held in Ottawa during the latter part of June, will be discussed.

Plans were discussed at the meeting of the Oak Bay School Board last night for the building of two additional rooms to the High School. Trustees E. M. McConnaughey occupied the chair. After considerable discussion of the plans that have been submitted it was decided to leave the matter over and the contract will be let at a special meeting of the Board to be held in the near future.

Seasonal workers employed by the city, such as those who have been employed on the maintenance of the city's parks, will be granted holidays, the City Council last night decided. The schedule will provide six days' vacation with pay for all employees of this grade who have served the city for not less than six months in each of two consecutive years, and with not less than twelve months' service.

At a meeting of business men held this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, the carnival executive committee was promised full accord, in any decision arrived at, upon the proposal to advance the date of the carnival parade from Dominion Day to Saturday, June 27. The carnival executive was advised that the change would cause little disturbance to business if it should be decided upon.

Band concerts will commence on Sunday at Beacon Hill Park, July 5, with an entertainment by the Fifth Regiment. The programme will continue until September 6, with the band of the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Battalion alternating with the Fifth Regiment. The City Council last night decided to pay $100 per concert, provided at least twenty-four musicians take part in each programme.

BEER PARLORS PROVOKE M.P.P. IN VANCOUVER

Charles Woodward Says Liquor Commissioner May Resign Over Trouble There

Vancouver, May 27.—That Hugh Davidson, Liquor Commissioner, had decided to increase the number of beer parlors in Vancouver from fifty-two to sixty in the immediate future to serve public demands, and that while he intimated sixty would be a maximum number for a time, he would not commit himself to such a promise, was the message conveyed from the Vancouver Board of Trade which returned this morning from Victoria, where Mr. Davidson had been interviewed.

Vancouver, May 27.—Hugh Davidson, Government Liquor Controller, may resign as the result of protests lodged over the granting of beer bar licenses in this city, according to a statement made to-day by Charles Woodward, M.P.P.

Mr. Woodward endeavored to convince Mr. Davidson that his liquor policy concerning this city was wrong and bad for the Government. Mr. Davidson replied that if he thought his policy was wrong or injurious to the Government he would resign.

Mr. Woodward said he could resign and he, Mr. Woodward, would take the responsibility of his resignation as one of the Liberal representatives of the city of Vancouver.

"These are the facts, and I have no comments to make at the present time," Mr. Davidson continued to dwell on the fact of his resignation until this by-play on his part so annoyed Mr. Woodward that he said I would take the responsibility of his resignation as one of the Liberal representatives of the city of Vancouver.

"These are the facts, and I have no comments to make at the present time."

GOOD THINGS FROM SCOTLAND

Scotch Apple Tart
Peel and core a half dozen tart apples and place in a casserole in a slow oven, adding neither water nor sugar. When tender mix in Sultana raisins allowing a quarter of a pound to each pound of apples, sprinkle with sugar and grated lemon; cover with a top crust, prickling well to allow for the escape of steam; bake in a quick oven. Serve with milk.

Scotch Tea Cakes
Two cups oatmeal, one cup sugar, two-thirds teaspoon salt, two eggs, one teaspoon melted butter, few drops vanilla.

Beat eggs until very light, and add sugar gradually. Add other ingredients and beat. Drop from spoon on well-greased pan; spread in flat cakes. Bake in very moderate oven twelve minutes. Let cool in pan before removing.

Scotch Collage
Two cups raw chopped beef, one cup cold water, two teaspoons chopped onion, pepper, salt and butter, cook five minutes, thicken with two teaspoons browned flour. Serve on toast.

licenses would be quite sufficient for Vancouver City, but Mr. Davidson confessed he had already granted fifty-two beer licenses and that the number of beer licenses in Vancouver was not finished.

"I said: 'You cannot fly in the face of public opinion and grant more beer licenses?'"

"Mr. Davidson stated it might be a very warm summer, and if so people would be thirsty and require more beer parlors, and also that he did not believe in monopolies. In fact, that was his principal argument against me."

"I failed to impress Mr. Davidson," the statement continues, "that his liquor policy was wrong. I said it was bad for the Government, and was a serious weakness to the Liberal Party. I also introduced the fact that General Odium and Capt. Mackenzie, two Liberal members of the city, sitting here, were willing to take Cabinet positions in the British Columbia Government, and Vancouver City was suffering from the effect that we had no Cabinet representation in the Government and the Government dare not, under present conditions, open a seat for Vancouver, owing to that condition."

"Mr. Davidson replied that if he thought his policy on the liquor question was wrong, he could resign, and he would resign. General Odium and Capt. Mackenzie both protested very strongly against his resignation, and I agreed with them."

"Mr. Davidson continued to dwell on the fact of his resignation until this by-play on his part so annoyed Mr. Woodward that he said I would take the responsibility of his resignation as one of the Liberal representatives of the city of Vancouver."

"These are the facts, and I have no comments to make at the present time."

DR. CLEM DAVIES TO DRIVE CAMPAIGN FOR QUEEN CONTEST

Popular Cleric Compelled by Business Men to Undertake Task

To assure an intensive and successful campaign in the Carnival Queen Contest, Dr. Clem Davies was this afternoon unanimously appointed chairman of the committee in charge, at a luncheon given by Mayor Pendray at the Chamber of Commerce, attended by prominent merchants and businessmen. Mayor Pendray's guests

DR. CLEM DAVIES

Included R. B. Ker, W. J. Spencer, Mark Graham, Alfred Carmichael, J. H. Beatty, P. B. Schmeck, Harold Diggon, R. Dunn Jr., F. McGregor, A. M. D. Fairbairn, Joe Parfitt, R. H. Webb, Dr. Clem Davies, F. Frederickson, H. D. Twigg, M.P.P., Harry Savage, G. I. Warren.

SOLID SUPPORT

Dr. Davies was reluctant to accept the post until assured of one hundred per cent support by all present at the meeting. His objections were trenchantly overruled by H. Despard Twigg, M.P.P., and his nomination by Mayor Pendray and James Beatty was endorsed with many phrases of admiration for his energy and ability.

Dr. Davies will preside over the activities of seven sub-committees: Local Council of Women, Service Clubs, Ladies Aids to Churches, Civil Service, Commercial Auxiliaries, Hotels, Breweries and Cafes, Mills and Factories. A spirit of rivalry between the various teams will be fostered as a means of rapidly attaining the objective of $15,000 expected to be realized from the Queen contest.

How Stringent Blockade Of Rum Row Is Driving Bootleggers Off New York

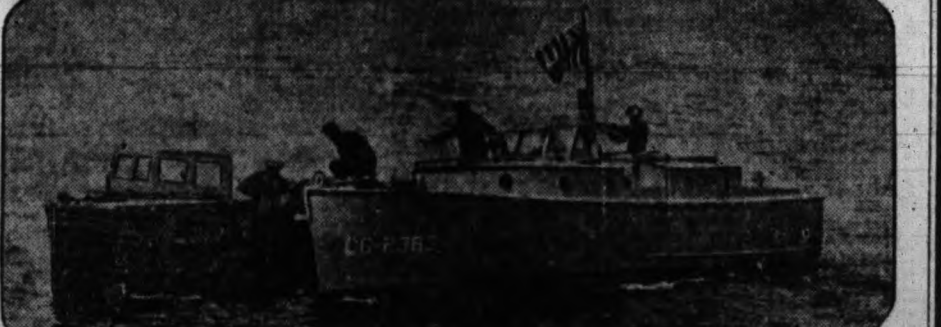

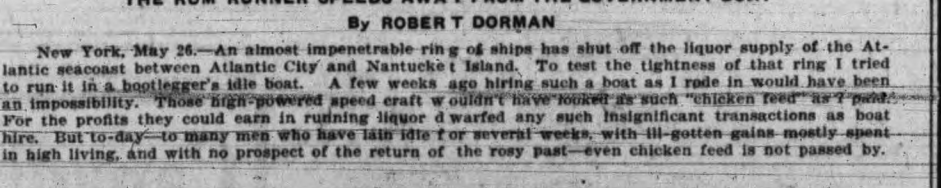

New York, May 25.—An almost impenetrable ring of ships has shut off the liquor supply of the Atlantic seaboard between Atlantic City and Nantucket Island. To test the tightness of that ring I tried to run it in a bootlegger's life boat. A few weeks ago hiring such a boat would have been an impossibility. Those high-powered speed craft would not have looked as such "chicken feed" as they did. For the profits they could earn in running liquor d'warfed any such insignificant transactions as boat hire. But to-day—too many men who have lain idle for several weeks, with ill-gotten gains mostly spent in high living, and with no prospect of the return of the rosy past—even chicken feed is not passed by.

THE RUM RUNNER SPEEDS AWAY FROM THE GOVERNMENT BOAT

By ROBERT DORMAN

Putting out from Jones Inlet with several suspicious glances from the two Coast Guard picket boats anchored there, we entered the open sea. Heading east along the coast we made our way toward New York. Suddenly out from shore from a concealed inlet shot a war-gray picket boat. Straight toward us it headed. Faintly a megaphoned call to halt came to us. Our answer was an increased burst of speed. There was a bullet that clipped a wave a hundred yards to starboard of us. By this time both boats were racing at top speed. Swiftly the rum runner drew away from her slower pursuer. Doggedly the picket boat hung on. Then we slowed down and gradually permitted her to overhaul us. She drew alongside with an alert, grimaced young officer inquiring what it was all about. With a Coast Guard officer aboard us as a guarantee of our honesty of purpose he had to be satisfied, but it was very evident that he questioned the sanity of newspapermen who tested out the alertness of an armed patrol boat in a boat whose very lines shrieked "rum-runner." The test of the efficiency of the Coast Guard patrol was part of an inspection of what was formerly "Rum Row."

Everywhere the story was the same. Not a change was there for a shore boat to establish contact with a supply ship at sea. Each of them I found to be picketed with two to four ships of the Coast Guard patrol. Many of the rum ships were hauling up their anchors and making sail even as we passed. In one place we found four rum ships. They were surrounded by twelve vessels of the Coast Guard. And at night the lights twinkling out from each of the vessels gave that far-to-sea portion of the ocean the appearance of the entrance to New York Harbor. Discouragement is laying hold of the rum fleet. One skipper offered to trade a case of whisky for two cartons of cigarettes. Others not so affable as this skipper who invited us aboard to have a drink, were surely in their disappointment. If the Coast Guard can maintain the present rigidity of their watch, the importation of liquor from the ocean, at least, is at an end.

CAPTAIN LUSTIE RETURNS TO SHIP

Has Formulated Plan For Higher Education of United States Seamen in Training

When the steamship President McKinley sails from this port this afternoon, Capt. Alvin O. Lustie, who has been on a long holiday, will be in command again. Capt. Lustie is advocating something new in the maritime laws of the United States. It is his wish that young men in training on ships at sea of two years' experience, be given the opportunity of periodical college or university courses without losing their seniority in the service.

He says that his plan is as yet not in perfect shape. But he has given the matter a long and thoughtful consideration and he thinks that he will have suggestions to offer shortly which should prove acceptable. He will then place his plans before the United States Shipping Board in concrete and concise form.

It will then be possible for a marine officer to be as well educated as any "white collar man ashore," says Capt. Lustie.

Capt. Lustie has been spending a vacation traveling in various parts of the United States and only just returned to Seattle to take charge of his ship.

French Ships Will Inaugurate 14-Day Schedule to Coast

Route From Bordeaux, Havre and Antwerp to Puget Sound Will Be Quickened

Seattle, May 27.—Two freighters of the largest and fastest type of ships operated by the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, the French steamer La Marcellaise and Notre Dame de Fourviere, will arrive in Seattle in June from Europe. The General Steamship Corporation, agent for the service, announced here yesterday. La Marcellaise sailed from Antwerp May 3 and is to reach Seattle June 15. The Notre Dame de Fourviere left Antwerp May 5. Assigning of these ships to the Pacific Coast-European service will enable the company to maintain a fourteen-day service from Bordeaux, Havre and Antwerp to Puget Sound, the General Corporation said.

A radio message received here yesterday from the steamer Arizona Maru of the Asaka Steamship Line said the vessel would reach the British Columbia quarantine station at William Head, near Victoria, Friday. The Arizona Maru has 2,564 bales of raw silk, thirteen tons of silk goods, 577 tons of wood oil, 440 tons of general freight, seventy-one tons of peanuts and 254 bags of mail for discharge in Seattle.

After loading a cargo here yesterday the French steamer Nevada departed for Vancouver, B.C., to complete for North European ports.

TREES ARE SENT TO FARMS ON PRAIRIES

Indian Head, Sask., May 27.—More than 5,000,000 seedlings and cuttings are being supplied by the Dominion Forestry farms at Indian Head and Sutherland, Sask., to 6,500 farmers in the three prairie provinces. This represents the annual output of the two forestry farms.

The season opened with a huge shipment of more than 1,500,000 trees from the Sutherland farm for distribution among farmers in the northern parts of the province. Shipment of evergreens now has commenced from the local farm, with 90,000 spruce and pine transplants for distribution among 508 applicants. Fifty thousand others are to be shipped to government reserves and forest plantations throughout the prairie.

At the present time the forestry farm carries a list of 9,900 names for inspection during the summer, by the night inspectors who will start on the road early in June.

With 11,300 tons of cargo and one of the largest mails that has ever left Seattle, the American Oriental Mail liner President McKinley will sail to-day for Japan, China and the Philippines. The mail consisted of 7,500 sacks. Capt. Alvin O. Lustie, who had been on a vacation, will command the vessel.

Immigrants Pass Winnipeg on Way To Western Homes

Winnipeg, May 27.—Fourteen nationalities with English comprising more than half the total personnel, were represented in a large party of immigrants from the steamships Aurania and Niagara, sailing at Winnipeg over the Canadian National lines on Monday evening. The party, which numbered 125, included fifty-seven English and two Irish, the majority being divided between the following nationalities: Estonian, Estonian, Hebrew, Norwegian, Rumanian, Swedish, Danish, German, Hungarian, Polish, Russian and Ukrainian.

BLUE FUNNEL LINE AND C.N.R. MERGE FREIGHT BUSINESS

Exchange of Freight on Pacific Coast is Latest Plan of Big Concerns

Winnipeg, May 27.—An arrangement between the Blue Funnel Line of steamships and the Canadian National Railways for the interchange of business at Pacific Coast ports has been concluded. It was announced to-day at Canadian National office here, which will bring the command and the vessel's operations. The agreement covers the interchange of through line business of both freight and passengers at Vancouver, though the line will continue to receive and discharge cargo at American ports. The agreement indicates also the growing importance of the Canadian National Railways in the transcontinental trade.

POLA A BAKER! DEMONSTRATED IN HER OWN KITCHEN

Unable to obtain black bread to be used in a motion picture scene, Pola Negri personally supervised the baking of five loaves in her own kitchen at home.

In her new starring vehicle, "The Charmer," which Sidney Olcott produced for Paramount, much of the story is laid in a small mountain village in Spain. One scene shows a dinner consisting chiefly of black bread, sausage and coffee.

To obtain the black bread meant a search for a European baker who knew the ingredients that went into the bread. Much to the surprise of everybody concerned, Pola Negri volunteered to bake the bread herself.

Persons on the set at first refused to take the offer seriously. Miss Negri then explained that during the Russian revolution, when her father's estate in Poland was confiscated by the Cossacks, they were forced to flee to the home of a peasant. While at this home, Miss Negri explained, she learned to make black bread, which was practically all they had to eat. Accustomed to the best of foods and never having done housework, Miss Negri declared that the bread making incident was indelibly impressed on her mind.

Supporting her in the cast of "The Charmer" are Robert Frazer, Wallace MacDonald, Tricie Friganza, Cesare Gravina and Gertrude Astor. The picture plays at the Capitol Theatre.

"CONFESSIONS OF A QUEEN" THRILL AS LOVE STORY

"Confessions of a Queen," which plays at the Dominion Theatre, was made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer by Victor Seastrom, who, together with Agnes Christine Johnson, adapted it to the screen from "Kings in Exile," Alphonse Daudet's famous story.

"Confessions of a Queen" is a powerful story of love and intrigue. In tempo and theme it is unlike Seastrom's two preceding productions, "Name the Man" and "He Who Gets Slapped." Previous to that time he was director in chief with a Swedish motion picture company located in Stockholm, where he established himself as a director of unusual ability in handling all types of productions from weird tragedy, and still others of light bubbling comedy.

The cast of "Confessions of a Queen" is headed by Alice Terry, Lewis Stone, John Bowers and Helena d'Algy.

M. K. Wilson assisted Director Seastrom, while Percy Hilburn was chief cameraman.

FLAPPER HEIRESS PLAYS AS AN EXTRA IN JACK PICKFORD FILM

A veritable melting pot of the varied scale of actors and "extras" were used by Jack Pickford in his latest photoplay, "The Hill Billy," which is at the Columbia Theatre to-day.

One of the most distinguished "extras" used during the filming of Jack's latest Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation release was sixteen-year-old Margaret

Caldwell Shotwell, self-styled flapper, and heiress to nearly a million. She is the daughter of Franz Shotwell, prominent lawyer of Omaha, Neb. Her mother, a literary critic, is known under the nom de plume of "Bodollet." Margaret doffed her silks, placed her swagger stick on the dressing table in one of the dressing rooms at the Pickford-Franz Studio, Hollywood, donned a tattered apron and sun bonnet and worked in one of the court room scenes in "The Hill Billy."

She was given the regular "extra" check of $7.50 for her day's services. Instead of cashing the check, she had the youthful star autograph it for her.

"H.M.S. PINAFORE" DRAWING LARGE COLISEUM HOUSES

Sir Arthur Sullivan probably stands alone in the list of well-known composers in that his works have never failed to draw large houses for the past twenty-five years. This week, at the Coliseum Theatre, the H.M.S. Pinafore, are playing to large and enthusiastic houses.

The standard of acting and singing is of a good order.

"What's in a name?" queried Shakespeare rhetorically a few hundred years ago, and answered his own question by pointing that "a rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

But a certain prominent film actor believes that Shakespeare was wrong, and so, the "Johnny Jones" of stage and screen has become Edward Pell, Jr.

The transformation took place when Edward signed his name to a contract by the terms of which he became one of the featured players in "The Goose Hangs High," showing all week at the Coliseum Theatre, the new James Cruze photoplay for Paramount.

As "Johnny Jones," he worked in dramatic productions, was a member of the little Theatre Stock Company of Los Angeles, and played extensively in the Booth Theatre, New York, and the Booth Theatre, London, in the "Edgar" series for the screen.

MUSIC LOVERS' NIGHT AT CAPITOL

The programme of music arranged by A. Prescott for music lovers' night at the Capitol to-night will consist of a varied and pleasing selection of numbers. The feature film, "The Charmer," starring Pola Negri, is a picture which allows the director to select a very varied programme of music.

Some of the numbers to be rendered during the evening are as follows: Overture—"Reminiscences of Victor Herbert"..... Arranged by A. Prescott
"Vision D'Amour"..... Friml
"Serenade"..... Rachmaninoff
Fox trot—"Seal It With a Kiss"..... Vescy
Waltz—"Listening"..... Berlin

MORTON COMPANY IN "FOLLIES OF FRISCO" AT THE PLAYHOUSE

The story of the choice of Blanche Sweet for the title role of "Thou Shalt Not" is a remarkable production of "Anna Christie," a First National release, now running at the Playhouse Theatre, is one of the most remarkable of screen romances.

Miss Sweet, after an absence from the screen of two years, due to illness, returned to play in "Quincy Adams Sawyer" and was so successful that she was given the lead in "In the Palace of the King." When announcements were made that Ince had purchased screen rights for Eugene O'Neill's successful stage play and was casting the part, a flood of telegrams began to pour in at the Ince studios. "Blanche Sweet would make an ideal 'Anna Christie'."

D. W. Griffith said, "there is only one screen actress of the day who could do that role and that is Blanche Sweet."

On the stage Frank Morton and his company are being featured in "The Follies of Frisco."

DEBT VIEWS STATED BY FRENCH SENATORS

Paris, May 27.—The policy of the United States respecting war debts and the attitude of the United States Senate toward the guarantee pact signed by President Wilson in 1919 received a stout defence in the French Senate yesterday.

An attack by Senator Gourju on "certain American politicians" who, he said, threatened France with their common while they left her without the security promised by President Wilson, drew from M. Briand, Foreign Minister, the statement that there was no ground for questioning the propriety of the United States Senate's stand on the guarantee treaty. He recalled that those engaged in the peace negotiations were made well aware that the Senate could not be expected to ratify such a document.

Shepherd Trial Proceeds Slowly

Chicago, May 27.—The murder trial of William D. Shepherd, charged with killing his foster son, William N. McClinch, has been set back a week through disqualification of one of the four jurors sworn last Friday.

The jurors, one venetian tentatively passed by both sides, one questioned briefly by the State, and seven who had not been examined, occupied the jury box at adjournment yesterday. Eight days' questioning had resulted in 139 men being excused.

Three events in the courtroom and an equal number outside kept interest from languishing, however.

Harold Pillar, the "baby" of the four young jurors sworn in last Friday, disapproved by both sides, was prejudiced against capital punishment. He was ordered dropped from the panel by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Twice during the day, William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien, defence counsel, sought to have Judge Lynch direct the State attorney, Robert E. Crowe, to drop his investigation of alleged jury tampering at least during the Shepherd trial. Judge Lynch ruled with the prosecutor, however, that either side was privileged to question excused veniremen as to possible efforts with regard to "fixing."

"SUNNY JIM"

Miss Dorothy E. Lee, daughter of Elisha Lee, vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was awarded one of the highest honors at Bryn Mawr College, that of "Sunny Jim." It was given to her as the student who possessed the "qualities of courage, cheerfulness, fairness, and good sportsmanship; whose influence will be felt and who has the courage to live up to her convictions."

RELIEF FOR SETTLERS IS TO BE PROVIDED

Ottawa, May 27.—Debate in the House of Commons last night centered on the resolution providing for credits for the accounts of any soldier settlers whose contracts with the Government had not expired, of forty per cent of the value of all livestock advanced and purchased before October 1, 1920, and twenty per cent of the purchase price of all livestock in the following twelve months.

J. H. Harris, Conservative, East York, Ont., stated there seemed to have been no attention paid by the Government to the question of relief in respect to the excessive cost of chattels to the soldier settlers. In one case a soldier had paid $350 for a horse in years old and $35 for twenty-five chickens. He thought livestock at this price was rather expensive, and asked what the policy of the Government was in regard to affording relief in such cases.

Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Immigration, replied that he would have the case referred to "Mr. Harris" looked into, but no further legislation was in view in regard to this matter.

A. W. NEILL'S VIEWS

A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, regretted the reduction in the purchase price of livestock had been fixed at forty instead of sixty per cent, as originally recommended in regard to purchases prior to October 1, 1920.

Mr. Neill asked special consideration for the soldier settlers at Courtenay, B.C. The Government had bought land at $15 an acre, which was worth only $1.50. The stumps were so thick that settlers ought to be given the land for nothing, and also paid a bonus to clear it.

Hon. J. A. Robb stated that "generally speaking, soldier settlers are doing fairly well." There were others, however, who were not.

NOMINATIONS MADE IN SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, May 27.—One hundred and twenty-six candidates were nominated yesterday to contest sixty-one seats in the Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan. The people will go to the polls next Tuesday.

Two acclamations were given yesterday, both of them Government supporters. Hon. J. M. Uhrich, Minister of Public Health and Provincial Secretary, was returned, unopposed in the Rosthern constituency, and P. L. Hyde, ex-member for Maple Creek, received an acclamation in that riding.

Of the 126 candidates nominated sixty-one are supporters of the Government, twenty-one are Conservatives, thirty-eight are Progressives, three are Independents, one is an Independent Liberal, one is an Independent Conservative and one Labor.

Of those nominated forty were members of the last Legislature supporting the Government and eight were in the House on the opposition side.

Only one woman was nominated yesterday, Mrs. H. K. Bamford of Pelly, who was also elected to the last Legislature.

In forty-eight constituencies there are two-cornered fights and in the balance three-cornered fights, except in the cities. In Regina city there is a four-cornered fight for two seats, in Saskatoon a five-cornered fight for two seats, and in Moose Jaw a four-cornered fight for a like number of seats.

Two nominations, Cumberland and WONG CASE

Vancouver, May 27.—No decision was reached yesterday afternoon at the conference of Wong From-Sing, the hon. of action-planned seeking his release on bail or on habeas corpus proceedings, it was stated by J. H. Senkler, K.C.

SHANKS WOULD TRADE BIRDCAVE FOR HEARTY LINIMENT RUBBER

Hopkins of Cloverdale Offers Black Bear as Testimonial

Possession of a black bear was presented by Alderman Shanks last night to the City Council as fully qualifying "Cloverdale" resident named Hopkins for a position as gardener at Beacon Hill. So eager was the alderman to obtain the services of Mr. Hopkins, he offered to convert an unexpended $300 appropriation for a palatial birdcave into a retainer for the mainland bear owner.

"This man owns a splendid black bear and he wants a job" was the introductory remark of Alderman Shanks. An expert in the handling of bears is the desired eagle, one willing to gub liniment into the hide of Ursus Kermodei, a task which otherwise would soon require the services of a veterinarian, he feared.

"With his knowledge of bears, we can get him for the price of a common laborer; anyway Beacon Hill needs another gardener; we cannot keep the park in shape for lack of employees," he argued.

Alderman jocularly objected, and Alderman Brown suggested: "Maybe we can get a qualified nurse for Ursus in town." Alderman Shanks doubted this possibility. "Men may claim ability, but they don't have a fine bear to show in proof."

Alderman Marchant demurred. "Little Ursula is not worrying for lack of an expert caretaker," and Alderman Cullin agreed. Alderman Todd suggested that the council accept Alderman Shanks' proposal to abandon the birdcave expenditure, but use the funds released to send Alderman Shanks to Cloverdale for sixty days, to enable him to learn bear husbandry.

Amid an outburst of laughter, the council voted down Alderman Shanks' request for a sixty-day employment of Mr. Hopkins.

CHICAGO GANGSTER MURDERERS' VICTIM

Angelo Genna Shot by Gunmen in Auto as He Was Driving Auto

Chicago, May 27.—Angelo Genna, gangster, feudist and political leader, was shot to death yesterday by four gunmen who pulled alongside his speeding automobile and fired four shotguns. As Genna's car skidded into a lamp post his assailants sped away. He died a few hours later in a hospital.

Police, fearing a new gangster war outbreak last night, patrolled the district Genna once ruled. Word went in rounds that the slaying marked vengeance for the murder of Dion O'Banion, notorious gangster and beer runner, who was shot to death last December.

Genna a few years ago was tried and acquitted of the murder of Paul Labriola, municipal court bailiff.

LIQUOR ARRESTS ON LAKE ONTARIO

Three Canadians and Three Persons of U.S. Held in Rochester

Rochester, N.Y., May 27.—The war-fare which United States prohibition officials have declared against what they term "Lake Ontario's Rum Ring" early this morning led to the arrest of three Canadians charged with attempting to smuggle liquor into the United States. They are Len Kerr of Toronto, who, according to the officials, was the leader of the party, and John Elliott and John Clark also of Toronto.

The arrests were made at Oklawaha, on the lake shore near Seaboard. The officials were on board a motor launch. The officers also took into custody Valmer Evershed, Chris Cottrell and Mae Davis of Webster. They declare the girl was not involved.

The Canadians were on board a motor boat which the prohibition officials observed contained a cargo of Canadian whisky. The three others were on shore and, according to the officials, an attempt was being made to land the cargo. The launch attempted to escape when halted by a coastguard cutter and eight shots were fired at it before it stopped.

Stocks Accumulated in Vancouver For Busy Mining Season

Vancouver, May 27.—Buying orders are numerous on the Vancouver Stock Exchange, and accumulation of good mining stocks is proceeding prior to the opening of the active mining season in the various camps.

Considerable volume of business is transacted in Daly Alaska. Owing to very favorable report of a new strike made on the property about a week ago, prices have stiffened considerably. A wire has been received from the superintendent referring to No. 2-acc-to-day, which was being crosscut at above 420 feet below surface and reads: "Have struck greenstone porphyry; contact width of porphyry 243 feet; heavy sulphide mineralization looks decidedly good."

W. Sloan had left for England to complete new financial arrangements previous to receipt of this news. Ore found in Daly, Alaska, is similar to that found in the Premier, which is located a short distance above them.

R. C. Silver—There was very little trading in the shares during the past week. The floating supply of stock is very limited, as practically all is owned by Selwicks of London, England, and Premier Gold Mining Company. Any buying quickly affects price.

Silvercrest—These shares are more active and likely to be more so as work progresses on the tunnel being driven to intercept ore bodies at depth. Stock is being strongly held. Very little is being offered in the market at present prices.

L. and J. Glacier—Remains very steady. It is reported that the company intends shipping soon and it claims to have considerable ore in sight.

Selkirks do not seem to improve, although word should be received soon as to intentions of American interests who have agreed to put up certain money before the end of this month.

Gladstone Mountain has not yet become an active trader owing to lack of knowledge of its property. Dividends are being paid monthly at 1 1/2 per cent per share and stock quoted around 26c. News has been received that ore has been cut at depth of 200 feet below new strike. It will take a week or ten days to determine something of its size.

Dawell is still awaiting news of negotiations. This situation has a moral effect on all other mining stocks.

Brokers report good sale for Georgia River Gold Mines, one of the latest offerings being made. Work will soon be undertaken at the mine.

Remember the Protestant Orphanage tag day, Saturday, May 30

First Lady: I wonder how it is I can't get a shine on my shoes like these they show in the stores.

Second Lady: Oh, there's no secret about that, my dear. They use "Nugget." I've always used it because I find it gives a brighter and more lasting shine than any other.

TIMES CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Get out the big dictionary to-day and resolve to take more than the usual time to solve this puzzle. Look at the number of unkeyed letters, especially the two sets of three in a row.

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may occur in both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the puzzle. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of the Times.

NEW SERIAL STORY

"The Steadfast Heart"

By Clarence Budington Kelland

"Waitin' for you to come up, Mr. Trueman," he said, letting his eyes drop as if they were about to pause in the midst of the conversation for a nap. "Plik told me you were tinkin' with the miscreant's soul."

Trueman smiled—not an ordinary smile, but the sort he reserves for a highly regarded friend. "I was heading straight for the printing office," he said. "I want to talk to you."

"Um... Prayer, politics, or personalities?"

"About this child downstairs... He tells a story that is beyond belief—and I believe it."

"If you hadn't a talent for believin'," said the tall, old-young man, "you couldn't keep to your profession."

Dave Wilkins, editor and proprietor of the Rainbow Weekly Observer, was the village's one agnostic—a sort of curiosity of which the town was rather proud. It pointed him out unobtrusively to strangers as a man predestined to hell life and by no means, and small boys used to discuss him in whispers and wonder how a man could get along when he knew for certain he was condemned already to the pains and penalties of the hereafter... Perhaps it was to prove the inconsistency of human nature that he was the most superstitious man in Rainbow. There was no sign, apparently, in which he did not believe, from thirteen at table to the evil luck of walking under a ladder...

Together the pair, representing religion and antireligion left the courthouse together, and it is not without its significance that when religion asked help in the prosecution of a project of mercy it did not apply to religion, but to one whose Bible was a combination of Bob Ingersoll and Buechner's Force and Matter. They proceeded down the hill and across the bridge to Main Street, at the extremity of which, in a rickety, unpainted frame building, were the printing shop and editorial rooms of the Weekly Observer. As they walked, Trueman repeated the story he had heard from Angus Burke's lips. "And there you have it," he ended as they sat down at a table littered with proof sheets, in a room odorous with printers' ink and glue and the myriad allied and allied scents of the craft. "It must be true, because only an extraordinary imagination could have invented it."

"A new test of credibility. If a thing passes imagination it is, therefore, true. If a man who tells you a story has the brains to invent it, it is a lie; if it's a stretch above his capacity, it's the truth."

"Don't you believe it, Dave?"

"Yes."

"Then, of course, the boy isn't guilty of anything."

"He's guilty of the worst crime in the list—a sight of bad luck and a heap of misfortune and sufferin'." A Rainbow jury would send him to prison for life on those counts."

"You're too hard on Rainbow, Dave... But there really is no need for him to be tried. Can't we see the prosecutor and judge and have him released?"

"Um... Crane's prosecutor. He's hell-wether of your flock, isn't he?"

"I doubt if that would influence him," said the pastor.

"There," said Dave with a touch of dry malice, "I agree with you. Knowin' him as you do, and his habits of character, would you say offhand he would nolle pros the first murder case he's ever sunk his teeth into?"

"If the boy is innocent, why shouldn't he?"

"Wa-al, Trueman, there's a disadvantage and a disadvantage in a murder trial with elements like this one. For a week Crane'll be as conspicuous as a silk hat on a saddle horse."

"Do you intimate he would force the thing through for his own selfish ends?"

"I'll be mighty inclined to see. Folks are mighty fascinatin' to me at a time like this. It'll be entertainin' to watch Crane run slap up against an alternative as to speak... Let's go watch it."

Prosecutor Crane arose as his visitors entered his office and stepped forward with an air that verged on the hearty welcome—but fell just short of it. Crane always verged upon but never quite attained. As Wilkins said of him, he was a mite short at one end. He was somewhat older than Wilkins but appeared young. He verged upon stoutness. The cast of his face verged upon good humor; his eyes verged upon frankness; he verged upon baldness. Now he was wondering what could have brought this pair of callers.

"Good morning, gentlemen," he said, and insisted upon shaking hands with each of them. "It is seldom the law is visited by both pulp and press at once. I hope I can be of service to you."

Wilkins smiled his dry, spectator's smile. It was characteristic of him—a man who has been pushed aside or has chosen to step aside from the actual jostle of life to occupy a little grandstand of his own and watch the parade pass by. Crane did not fall to detect the smile out of the corner of his eye, and for an instant his expression verged upon a frown.

"We came," said Trueman, "to see you about that poor child in the jail."

"Of course. Of course. I might have expected that of your warm heart, Mr. Trueman. You've been to see him? Quite right. Quite right."

"I've seen him," said Trueman, "and in his pitiful way—he told me all about it—about the shooting. He isn't very bright—not imbecile, you understand, but dull, deadened..."

"He admits the shooting, I am informed."

"Of course. He pulled the trigger. But that alone doesn't make him a murderer... Let me tell you to me—and you can judge for yourself. When I come to think of it—from the way things appeared to him at that dreadful hour—he did a brave thing for a boy."

"It takes a special kind of bravery to murder a sheriff," said Crane, verging upon the ironical.

Trueman plunged into Angus's story, and told it well. Crane listened calculatingly. When the pastor finished nobody spoke for a moment. Crane's face was ruddier than usual, and his eyes, which had shifted to the window, were veiled... They waited for him to speak.

"There are no witnesses to support this?"

"None. The boy's mother, as you know is dead."

"Wilkins was certain Crane found relief in this corroboration of his understanding of the facts. He was giving his best consideration to the narration; weighing it, estimating its possible effect on a jury of twelve good and true men selected from the vicinage of Rainbow.

"You see," Trueman said eagerly, "the child is guiltless. He thought he was protecting his mother and his own life. It seems to me there's something worth saving in a boy who could do as Angus Burke did... As I understand it, the law doesn't punish acts so much as intentions. Criminal intent is indispensable, is it not, to guilt?"

"Perfectly right. Perfectly right. But—" Crane paused impressively. "The jury alone are permitted to pass on a question of fact. It is not for me, not for the judge."

"But isn't it within your province to investigate and to find that the facts do not justify prosecution?"

"It is," said Crane. "But in a matter of this importance I should not take that responsibility. Here is the murder of a high official."

"Not murder... Surely you don't believe a jury would convict the boy?"

"That," said Wilkins with an increase of dryness in his voice, "is what Crane's prayin' over this minute."

from J. E. Miles for a permit for a racing card on Dominion Day. Mr. Miles wrote the council that the British Columbia Agricultural Association had "flatly refused" a permit and criticized the reason given as "the same old complaint, we would spoil the track," and denounced the refusal as preventing the staging of an attraction during the Carnival which would interest from two to four thousand visitors. He had offered the Agricultural Association twenty per cent of the gate receipts, Mr. Miles stated. Aldermen Cullen, Mars and Blair, council directors of the Agricultural Association, agreed that races would be dangerous to the public, as amateur driving, with the lack of banking at the turns, would be an unduly hazardous combination. A proposal that the request be referred back to the Agricultural Association was met by Alderman Blair with a pledge of second refusal. After Mayor Penderay had pointed out that permission, if given, should be for a date which would not draw attendance from the attractions being organized by the carnival committee, who need all the money they can get to keep even with expenses. Mr. Miles will be informed that the Agricultural Association has a lease of the grounds and the matter of a motor racing concession is outside the province of the council.

Will no Longer Suffer Saanich Health Peril Without Protest

Dr. Price Reports on "Grave Menace," and Action is Considered

Teetering upon the edge of an appeal to the Provincial Health Department for protection from perils existing in Saanich, the City Council last night drew back from such drastic action at the last moment, and deferred for the moment any formal appeal for aid.

Alderman Todd, gravely introduced to the council a letter outlining city ditch pollution by Saanich from Medical Health Officer Dr. A. G. Price. "This is a very important matter, more so than the recent small-pox," the alderman stated. "I have personal knowledge of these bad conditions; there is sewage in the open ditches along the sides of the roads in Saanich; I note that Dr. Price mentions none of these in his report, which he confines to the conditions existing in Victoria as a result of lack of sanitation in Saanich."

The report of Dr. Price cites existing conditions at points on the city boundary at Barriet Road a number of Saanich houses drain eventually into Burnside Road on the city side of the boundary. "The sewage in this ditch is very foul," is the comment made.

Conditions are stated to have been a source of many complaints in past years, and were investigated by the sanitary inspector of the Provincial Health Department, but nothing was done by Saanich, and conditions have remained the same. Three Saanich houses on Dupplin Road discharge their drains into the city, and around Douglas Street, Toimie Avenue and Quadra Street many cases are noted where "there are open ditches containing foul sewage along the Saanich side of the road. The sewage from these ditches passes into the city."

"GRAVE MENACE"

In closing his report, the city's medical health officers stated:

"I consider that these open ditches along the road sides containing foul sewers, and not only those, but others in the neighboring streets outside the city boundary, are a grave menace to public health, not only to the residents in Saanich but in the city, and especially so in the Summer season.

"And I consider that so serious is the menace that an effort should be made to compel those responsible for the nuisance to forthwith abate it, either by making connections with the city's sewer or by installing a system of sewers."

Alderman Todd moved that the question be referred to the health committee for further investigation and tabulating of supporting information prior to the making of any appeal to the Provincial authorities.

Alderman Brown preferred action by the whole council, and was supported by Alderman Cullen, who pointed out "This originated outside the city limits; we can do nothing. It is a provincial matter, and Dr. Price's letter should be promptly referred to the Provincial Board of Health."

Alderman Blair agreed, "I did not know that such conditions were now allowed anywhere in North America," he said, moving that the Government be advised of conditions and supplied with a copy of Dr. Price's report.

Alderman Woodward favored the gathering of more information, and Alderman Dewar seconded Alderman Blair's motion for prompt action. He believed that quick result would follow the presentation of a report and complaint.

POWER TO CHARGE

"It never has, the only action ever taken by the Board of Health has been in the interest of medical fees," retorted Alderman Woodward, who pointed out that recently the Board of Health was stated by the city solicitor to have power to take over all health administration and charge the cost to the city. "Surely that have the same power in Saanich," he inquired.

Alderman Marchant was in sympathy with the proposals to notify the Government, "But they do not go far enough. Dr. Young is as fully aware of conditions as any here present. Saanich is in no frame of mind to undertake the true solution of the question. The proper course is to submit the case to the Government, not to the Board of Health. Sooner or later we must bring the matter to an issue; it is no question of a house here and there.

"If the Government says it will not interfere, that is another matter. We have done our best to get Saanich to settle the sewer question.

"This is a good time to take our case to the Government. We have this report; should go further, enlarge the report with other data such as Alderman Todd has referred to."

Alderman Blair then withdrew his motion for immediate complaint to the Provincial authorities. Alderman Todd remarked, "This is a real health menace. If it is necessary to shut up all these bordering houses and condemn them, it should be done."

Alderman Brown, chairman of the health committee, protested unavailingly against delay. "It is only postponing action; Saanich will continue the usual policy of 'receive and file,' never found an effective remedy," but the council voted by a 5-3 majority to turn the matter over to the health committee for further inquiries.

PARK GAMES TO REMAIN CLOSED

Police Board Will Not Alter Decision; Council's Request Ignored

There will be no games played in the Gorge Park on Sunday. The stalls and booths which previously drew many visitors and did a thriving business will be closed in future on the week's seventh day. For the Esquimalt Police Commission stood by its former decision to keep these places of amusement closed and at its meeting last night, despite the request of the municipal council, did not alter its decree.

Reeve Matheson fought against the majority of the council in supporting the Police Board's decision, which was absolutely unnecessary to reconsider the matter at all, the board members decided last night, for they had previously thrashed the matter out in every detail, viewed it from every angle and come to their decision after much consideration.

Commissioner Saddington, strongly opposed to the action of the board in closing the Sunday games and declared that it would arouse a storm of criticism. Although his colleagues admitted that it might be believed that they were acting in the best interests of the municipality and would not alter their stand.

LAY FOUNDATIONS FOR IMPROVEMENT TAX IN DISTRICT

Esquimalt Council Will Assess Improvements in Municipality Shortly

What appears to be the possible forerunner of the improvement tax in Esquimalt, according to members of the municipal council, is the decision of that body to begin valuations of improvements in that area at once. Although being taken in haste, it does not in any way imply that the improvement tax will follow, either now or later, or that it may be a stepping stone towards that end or future concrete, but it leaves a loophole whereby the council's decision to impose an improvement tax would be easily carried into effect.

It was Reeve Matheson's suggestion that the valuation of improvements be made. The municipal clerk was instructed to call for applications for suitable persons who might conduct the task of assessing the Esquimalt improvements.

The hope was expressed at last night's meeting that it would be necessary for next year's council to place an improvement tax, but it was thought that the step taken was essential in order to keep pace with the times, and a check upon the steady growth of property valuation in the municipality.

Other municipal business were taken up by the council and the meeting adjourned early in the evening.

STRUGGLE FAILS TO SAVE BIG POSTER

Council Overrules Varied Appeals; Belleville St. Sign Must Come Down

Alderman Shanks last night found an ally in defence of the much discussed Belleville Street tally-ho sign in Alderman Todd. The City Council was prepared to adopt the report of the works committee, ordering removal of the sign, when Alderman Shanks objected. The sign is artistic, and you are going to have one heck of a time making them remove them too."

Alderman Todd explained that, since the agitation for the removal of the sign ceased by the Veterans' Sightseeing Company had grown strong, he had talked with many objectors and had come to the conclusion that if the complainants had been personally interested as property owners they would take a different view "and tell us to mind our own business."

"I personally object to all signs, but these complainants, Mayor Penderay and Alderman Woodward blamed lack of zoning regulations for many unsightly conditions, and considered that such signs on a public square should be impossible."

Alderman Woodward warmly denounced the sign as "an eyesore." The council then voted 6-4 in favor of insisting upon removal of the sign.

CITY PREPARES TO CLEAN UP LAST REFUNDING WORK

Authorizes Issue of $525,000 Bonds at 5 Per Cent For Twenty Years

The City Council last night put through preliminary readings a bylaw authorizing the borrowing of $525,000 for twenty years at five per cent interest, payable semi-annually in Canadian or British funds.

The proceeds will be used to refund the last of the Local Improvement bylaws, numbers 12 and 13, which mature in July. The bylaw provides for the raising by taxation of $17,630.75 annually for sinking fund and $26,350 for interest on the issue.

TOP OF THE HILL

In supporting the refunding operation, Alderman A. E. Todd, chairman of the finance committee, stated that this issue will be the last of the refunding operations authorized by special legislation, and asserted that "Victoria is at last at the top of the hill, and can now look forward to a steady improvement in conditions."

Alderman Marchant mildly criticized the sinking funds total available towards redemption of the two maturing issues, and was reminded by Alderman Todd that financing operations through the loan years had necessitated drawing upon sinking funds for current expenses.

IN CITY'S INTEREST

"These funds were doubtless part of those drawn upon. The action of the then city controller and other officials was not strictly legal, but was in the best interests of the city. In fact, had they not acted as they did, it is doubtful if any other source could have been found wherefrom to secure the funds then required," he explained.

Plans Are Made For Byng's Northern Trip

Calgary, May 27.—Baron Byng, Governor-General of Canada, is planning to spend about ten days in Calgary after his return from the Arctic Ocean. It was learned yesterday. Although the date of his arrival here is indefinite, it is understood he will arrive between August 18 and 25. He will leave on his trip down the Mackenzie River about July 15 on the Distributor, which vessel is being equipped with sending and receiving wireless apparatus with a radius of about 500 miles. Communication will be kept up between the party and the outside world by way of Fort Simpson and Edmonton. It is understood the wireless will be maintained on the Distributor permanently in the future. During his stay in Calgary, Lord Byng will address a meeting of the Alberta Military Institute.
