N. C. BURCH OF TROPICO GIVES HIS OPINION CONCERNING IMPORTANT TOPIC

The board of supervisors have in contemplation the formation of a storm water district that shall be charged with the cost not only of works for the protection of such district from Verdugo canyon storm water, but of works for conserving and storing the waters of such canyon for the use and benefit of such district.

I want to say that both these undertakings are commendable, but, in my judgment, from my point of view, they are matters over which the board of supervisors should be cautious in the exercise of jurisdiction, if exercised at all.

Before interfering, rights to the use and responsibilities for the care of Verdugo canyon waters, surface and underground, all persons as well as all legislative bodies should take notice of and respect the decree of court making partition of the Rancho San Rafael and of the waters of Verdugo canyon, November 29, 1871, over forty years ago, together with the decisions of the courts construing the meaning and effect of that decree.

By the terms and conditions of that time-honored adjudication, all the waters of Verdugo canyon and the canyons tributary thereto, are adjudged to belong as an appurtenance to lands that are almost wholly within the cities of Glendale and Tropic, and, with such waters was granted a perpetual easement in the channels, natural and artificial, for the flow and distribution thereof, to the owners and occupants of such lands.

This ancient court order was made final and conclusive as for and against all people, and neither to the board of supervisors nor any other municipal organization is reserved the power to either directly or indirectly modify or interfere with the rights and privileges it grants or the duties, liabilities and responsibilities it imposes.

The board of supervisors can no more extend the territorial area of the district to be charged with the cost of providing suitable channels for the transmission and flow of the waters of Verdugo canyon, storm water included, than it can extend the district that shall have the rights to their use.

In brief, the job of conserving and storing Verdugo canyon waters, and of providing suitable channels or conduits for their transmission and flow, is a job that belongs to the land owners and house holders of the Verdugo canyon water district, the owners of the taxable wealth of the city of Glendale, of the city of Tropic, and of other parts of the district to pay for in the proportion of their rights to the use of canyon water.

Indeed it is questionable if the county board can act with legal propriety at all in the premises, and so take the management and control of private water rights and responsibilities for their care out of the hands of the majority in ownership thereof, now the city of Glendale and its inhabitants.

In the provisional report of the county board of engineers on flood control, there occurs this remark: "Verdugo requires channel rectification and bank protection for about ten and a half miles." And, also the following significant paragraph: "The board advises that official channels of all waterways coming under the authority of the supervisors be located and title obtained to same as soon as practicable, and that absolute control and regulation of these channels be officially retained."

If all this does not mean the certain precipitation of a conflict of authority in Verdugo canyon over water matters, I am much in a fog over its explanation.

Glendale and its inhabitants are masters of the situation in Verdugo canyon, and if Tropic is wise and would continue in the enjoyment of its right to the use of canyon water for the supply of its necessities for domestic, fire protection and irrigation purposes, there will be no delay in having this storm water district proposition by the board of supervisors abandoned, and in proceeding promptly to joint action with Glendale in the formation of a municipal water district that will keep the protection and control of canyon water matters in their own hands forever.

So far as the rectification of the channel of the wash is concerned, that is a matter the owners of property along its course of a width of a quarter of a mile or such a matter, should be required to look after. Tropic has no interest in it further than to insist that in engineering the construction of its streets, Glendale shall quit diverting "wash water"

GLENDALE CANDIDATES

EVERY CITIZEN OF GLENDALE SHOULD VOTE FOR BAKER AND MUEHLEMAN

Glendale has two candidates whose names will be on the ballot at the election November 3. One is Frank L. Muhleman, candidate on the Democratic ticket for assemblyman from the sixty-first district. The other is Frederick Baker, candidate for the position of superior judge. Both of these gentlemen are men well fitted for the offices which they seek.

It is common courtesy and good judgment for every voter in Glendale irrespective of party to support these gentlemen at the polls Nov. 3. A solid Glendale vote for our own candidates gives this community greater prestige in the politics of the county and state.

There are appointments and favors that justly go along with the candidates' election to office, and why not make it possible to have some of these favors come to Glendale. The editor of the Evening News never has wanted any of these favors and does not want them now, but he is pleased to know that it may be possible for his neighbors to get some of the little favors going.

To make it possible to have Glendale represented at the state house and in the courts will advertise our city in a favorable manner. The words, "Representative Frank L. Muhleman of Glendale" and "Judge Frederick Baker of Glendale," when appearing in the papers of the state, will assure us that the name "Glendale" is not entirely omitted from the public press.

HONOR OFFICER

One of the most delightful social events of last week was the evening at the home of the Misses Midcalf of 118 South Brand boulevard, when the Una lodge of the Rebekah order of Los Angeles came in a body, some fifty in number, and surprised Miss Alice Midcalf, formerly their past noble grand, now holding the responsible office of financial secretary. The evening was most happily spent in music, games and social conversation and dainty refreshments were served by the happy honoree. One of the pleasant features of the evening was the presentation of a set of exquisite hand-painted toilet articles from the lodge to their esteemed and charming member by the present noble grand, Mrs. Effegene Smith, who in a few well-chosen words plainly showed the appreciation of the lodge toward their sister and friend. In acceptance, Miss Midcalf was overwhelmed and a gracious thank you won the approval of all present. The evening was one that will linger long in the memory of all who enjoyed the privilege of the happy occasion.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION HELD TWICE

The birthday anniversary last week of Mrs. W. L. Wheeler, formerly of Glendale, but now of Burbank, was celebrated with two very lovely but informal affairs, the first of which was a dinner and theater party given in Los Angeles by the honoree's mother, Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan of the Monte Vista apartments on Hawthorne street. Guests for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wheeler, Mrs. F. J. Wheeler and Mrs. Ryan.

On Sunday a delightful little dinner party was enjoyed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wheeler, 1330 North Maryland avenue, when in compliment to their daughter-in-law, places were set at a beautifully chrysanthemum adorned table for Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wheeler, Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, Mr. H. Ogden and Mr. Arthur McAdams.

CONSOLIDATION IS FRIENDLESS

Of all the projects brought forward by the large cities of the state, the matter of city and county consolidation seems to be the most friendless of all as far as the smaller towns are concerned. We have yet to find a small town within the county that receives the proposition with favor. Nearly every civic body outside of the city has put itself on record against this scheme to get a larger tax-paying area for the larger cities. The proposition is not without fruit, however, for it has the effect of quickening the smaller communities and making them stand more firmly for their own interests and more wide-awake to their own possibilities.—Downey Champion.

and pouring it down upon Tropic, as Mayor Lane of Glendale can testify was the case last winter.

BEAUTIFYING GLENDALE

MEMBERS OF "GLENDALE CITY BEAUTIFUL" ACTIVE IN LAYING PLANS

The City Beautiful organization met at the city hall on Saturday night. Present were Messrs. Thomas Watson, McGillis, Willisford, Pearson, Lilly, Grist, Woolsey, Grieve and Mrs. M. T. Grosvenor, Tight, Butterfield and Grieve.

A suggestive plan for securing more definite and speedy accomplishment of the beautification of our city was offered by the city manager, Mr. Watson. As the plan contained certain valuable suggestions which need working out, the chair referred the plan to a committee composed of Messrs. Lilly, Pearson and Mrs. Grosvenor for investigation, their report to be presented at the next meeting of the organization, which is set for Nov. 7th at the city hall, 7:30 p. m.

A solution of the tree-planting problem seems to be soon at hand, as the law gives definite information as to how a community can set about to secure the necessary means to carry into effect a general tree planting movement. In the meantime, it was reported that there is already considerable activity all over Glendale in the matter of planting trees, and still more activity in the matter of cleaning vacant lots. There are several lots on our chief thoroughfares, however, that are an eyesore and a disgrace to the community, and it is urged that the owners get busy at once to relieve the city of the necessity of taking the initiative in cleaning them. Now is a time when the civic pride of all the residents, whether property owner or renter, should be aroused to activity, and keep alive the spirit of improvement that has had birth here.

Mr. Pearson, chairman of vacant lots, reported that he had secured the offer of several vacant lots to be cultivated by those desirous of having small areas for raising grain, potatoes or other crops. In times past there has been considerable revenue from the cultivation of vacant lots. If anyone is desirous of securing the use of a lot or lots, telephone to Mr. Pearson, Sunset 740J, or go to his office, 1214 West Broadway.

With much regret, the president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, presented her resignation, giving as her reason for resigning that she has all the public work she can do in connection with the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, which office she had accepted before the City Beautiful organization was formed. The members present gave a vote of thanks to Mrs. Toll for her services and the energy with which the work had been pushed.

Mr. W. J. Clendenin was nominated to fill the vacancy, and was unanimously elected as president of the City Beautiful organization. The city and the organization are to be congratulated upon having secured Mr. Clendenin's co-operation, as he is a very progressive and public-spirited citizen, as well as a man of wide experience and travel, having spent much time in old-world centers and seen the results of general municipal movements for beautification. Mr. Clendenin also has sufficient leisure to devote to the work, and as he is a man of tireless energy and has the executive ability of a successful business man, the organization cannot fail to be carried on to the great benefit of the community. Mr. Clendenin is comparatively a new-comer, and as such can see, perhaps better than those who have lived here for a longer period, just where we can make our city more attractive. Mr. Clendenin has an abounding faith in the future of Glendale, which he has chosen, before all others he has seen, for his home.

Mr. Frederick Baker had been invited to address the meeting relative to the co-operation of the organization with the city government, but having been detained in Monterey, where he had gone to deliver an important address at a convention, was unable to be present. It is hoped that Mr. Baker will be able to give his address at the next meeting, on Nov. 7th.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the time and place given above.

MISS JACKSON HOSTESS

Miss Frances Jackson of 1446 West Third street was hostess on Saturday afternoon to members of the Tennis Thimble club, whom she entertained informally in her home. Needlework was the chief feature of the afternoon, which pleasantly terminated in the serving of dainty and delicious refreshments. Chrysanthemums of variegated tints, together with fragrant roses of well blended shades, were used by the charming hostess, whose guests for the occasion numbered ten.

HELP ADVERTISE

ONLY TWO THOUSAND COPIES OF ANNIVERSARY NUMBER REMAIN UNSOLD

There are yet 2000 copies of the anniversary number of the Evening News unsold. They should be sold and they will be sold. Five thousand copies were printed and every copy should go into a home somewhere. This special number has been well printed and it is being sold at a reasonable price, and should not and will not be sold for one cent less.

The purpose of the manager of The News in issuing the number was not to publish a cheap, all-advertising sheet. In preparing this special number, cost was not taken into consideration, but what will best give a true representation of the Glendale community was uppermost in the mind of the publisher.

The best newspaper critics in Southern California have said a great success has been made of the project.

It seems true that the publisher made good his part, and that by the expenditure of $2500 and many extra hours of hard work on his part and that of his assistants, the work was accomplished, and the same thought that prompted him to have confidence in publishing a special of superior make-up yet prompts him to feel certain that the citizens of this community have sufficient enterprise to see that everyone of the remaining copies of the anniversary number are placed in homes in the East where they will do the greatest good. The publisher claims he has done his part and he feels sure the people will do their part.

The publisher does not expect people who are not able to do so to purchase these copies, and furthermore he does not feel that it is a charity act toward the publisher when 25 cents is paid for a copy. There has been an urgent call for a publication of this character in Glendale, and now you have it before you, approved by the people in general. These facts being true, you will do the honorable and right thing.

THE WAR

Nothing could be worse in the way of war than this mad waste of life and wealth, this outbreak of barbarism, this mockery of civilization, now sweeping over Europe, unless there were to be added to it the hatred, the passion, the fighting strength of such parts of the world as are at the moment spectators and not participants. Upon whom, above all others, rests the responsibility for this crime of crimes it is not for us to say. But if it be that unwarranted ambition, unholy schemes for aggrandizement and power have led any special group of men to precipitate this war, history will at last write their names in letters of such infamy as will make the Borgias of the middle ages seem harmless saints.

In the Wiertz gallery in Brussels there is a painting of "Napoleon in Hell." The once great leader of armies stands surrounded with scores of widows, mothers, sisters, children, whose husbands, sons, brothers, fathers he had used but as the living stones by which he had climbed to power. They thrust with eager and outreaching hands the bleeding hearts of these perished loved ones into his guilty, frightened face. Some such hell must await all those whose greed for dominion, whose lust for power leads them to trample beneath their feet the sacred rights of their human kind.

Behind this conflict that seems to have made the whole world sick are the forces that mean progress for civilization and those that would turn it back to the days when might made right and kings ruled by the special will of heaven. Appalling as were the scenes accompanying the French Revolution, it was yet out of that night of horror and death that there came a new birth of freedom for mankind. May the victory come to those through whom it can best be used to hasten the day of reason among the nations of the earth, to serve the rights of man, and to bring the dawn of universal peace! F. H. R. in Our Dumb Animals.

DEATH OF MRS. PRICHARD

Mrs. Elizabeth Prichard, who was residing with her mother, Mrs. H. E. Frayley, at 144 South Isabel street, Glendale, accidentally met her death while using a small electric battery taking treatment Sunday. The deceased was born in Pennsylvania about fifty years ago. The county coroner may be called upon to inquire into the cause of the lady's death.

The burial will be conducted by the Pulliam Undertaking company.

Reports persist that Przemysl has fallen. Stumbled over its name, perhaps.

PARENT-TEACHERS

THIS ORGANIZATION IS BUSY ALONG MANY LINES OF ACTIVITY

Responding to the call of the president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. J. N. McGillis, twenty-five of the executive board of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations met with others who had been similarly invited to hear the president of the Nomel company lay his project before the assembled audience. Being greatly interested in securing a park for Glendale, the women were keenly interested in hearing what Mr. Kallman had to offer in relation to a park. The members of the Parent-Teacher organization are eager to do what they can individually and collectively to further the advancement and improvement of Glendale.

On Friday last the Federation parliamentarian, Mrs. P. S. McNutt, gave her first parliamentary drill at the intermediate school. Mrs. McNutt is familiar with the best methods of imparting instruction to a class of women, and the expressions as to the utility of her help to the organization are unanimously most favorable. An arrangement is to be made whereby everyone desirous of familiarizing herself with the more common points of parliamentary procedure will have the opportunity to do so.

Under the auspices of the Federation, the president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, presiding, an open educational meeting was held in the high school auditorium on Friday evening last. The Federation believes in furnishing the means of information to people of the community necessary to their intelligent casting of the ballot in November. They have uniformly tried to secure the best and most logical speakers available, as well as those who have made a special investigation of the subjects they handle. For instance, one of the speakers on Friday night was the author of the act, No. 44, which he discussed, and another speaker has had special experience on the superior bench with cases that would be directly affected by amendments Nos. 26 and 30, which he spoke upon. As these meetings are for education only, and not in any sense to exploit any political candidate, the speakers have been chosen with a view to securing clear, logical statements of fact.

The speakers Friday night were Judges Willis I. Morrison, Louis W. Meyers and Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, who spoke, to quote them exactly, to the largest suburban audience they had seen anywhere, and they have been speaking throughout the county extensively. So much to the credit of our community.

But the Federation will not be satisfied unless all seats are filled at the meeting on the evening of Tuesday, Oct. 20 (tomorrow), for they feel that it is the duty of all voters to be awake in this matter and not go to the polls unprepared to vote wisely. For instance, there is one of the amendments, which, if carried, will deprive our schools throughout the state (and this hits Glendale hard) of thousands of dollars. How many know this, and will not vote against the interests of their own children? For the amendment is so worded that the loss of this money is entirely hidden, unless the reader is familiar with the law; and on the surface it might seem a good thing to vote for.

The speakers for Tuesday evening are: Mr. Seward Simons, who will discuss amendments Nos. 19 and 21, dealing with the question of consolidation of city and county; Mrs. Estelle Lawton Lindsey, who will talk on amendments Nos. 4 and 13, and Mr. Frederick Baker, who will speak on amendments Nos. 25, 28, 29 and 33, dealing with municipal charters and the regulation of public utilities. The program has been arranged by Dr. Jessie A. Russell. The vice-president of the Federation, Mrs. J. F. Padelford, will preside.

DEATH NOTICES

Rosalva Croasdale died at 5:35 a. m. Sunday at the age of 47 years. She was born in Plymouth, Me., Pa., and had resided in California four years. Services will be held Saturday, October 24th, at the Pulliam undertaking parlors.

Frank Kennedy was killed Saturday about 1:30 p. m. by the Southern Pacific one and a half miles this side of Chatsworth. He was a tramp by profession. His father resides at 241 East Sixty-second street, Los Angeles. Remains at Pulliam undertaking parlors.

Mrs. Elizabeth Prichard, who was residing with her mother, Mrs. H. E. Frayley, 144 South Isabel street, accidentally met her death Sunday while using a small battery taking an electric treatment.

ANSWERS REV. TROY

J. R. PETERSON SAYS THAT DEMONSTRABLE RELIGION MOST DESIRABLE

Editor News: I see by The News that the Rev. Troy again tries to explain what he finds wrong in other religions but his own.

What does the every-day man care whether Mrs. Eddy or Mr. Troy capitalizes the words "All in All" or not? Life is too short to be hairsplitting assertions which do not prove or assert anything or anybody.

What the people nowadays want is a demonstrable religion. Creed cuts no figure. The Rev. Gentleman says he believes on the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus said (according to the Bible), "He that believeth on me the works I do, shall he also do, and more, too, etc." Maybe the man that wrote that verse lied. Now why does the Rev. Gentleman (who thinks he is such an authority) not do as he is commanded by Jesus?

Jesus also said: "Preach the gospel and heal the sick." Why does he ignore that or that command? I am not a Christian Scientist. In fact, never belonged to any church. Yet I am seeking the truth, and cannot help but notice that the Scientists never criticize or condemn any other church. Yet they seem to be the most prosperous and progressive today. They need not resort to vaudevillian stunts, cabaret singers or chicken pie suppers, etc., to draw a congregation.

It is very evident that they have a religion that is satisfying and demonstrable. The Bible says, "By their fruits ye shall know them."

"Belief is not knowledge." You may say you believe from now until doomsday—that does not prove anything or convince anyone. This is an age of scientific demonstration.

SURPRISE PARTY

Surprises lurk in every corner, at least here in Glendale, for every day brings us word of a surprise party, wedding or something.

We have in mind for the present the celebration of the birthday anniversary of Dr. C. Raymond Lusby, a popular young dentist in Glendale, who was surprised last Friday evening in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby, 111 Cedar street.

Games, music and song were the chief diversion of the evening and were happily brought to a close by delicious refreshments brought by the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Butterfield, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDonald, Miss Edna Learned, Miss Gertrude Wilson, Miss Helen Wright, Miss Marion Henry, Miss Margaret Lusby, Miss Dorothy Lee, Mrs. Leora Cammack, Mr. Harold Salisbury, Mr. Loyd Wilson, Mr. Ralph Lusby, of Glendale; Mr. Floyd Ray of Long Beach, Dr. Lusby and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby.

After renewed wishes significant of the occasion, the guests departed, one and all, leaving the honoree in pleasant meditations over a most delightful evening and happy birthday.

DINNER FOR FOURTEEN

On Saturday evening of last week the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hunchberger, 344 South Central avenue, was radiant 'midst the glow of crimson blossoms, fern and foliage. Candles bursting forth from subtle stems and their own rich foliage were arranged in the living-room, where cards and music were later enjoyed, and the table in the dining-room, at which an elaborate five-course dinner was served, was most effectively centered with a cut bowl full of dark red begonias and mignonette. Cuddling crimson flower bonbon baskets, together with hand-painted heads upon which rested the latest creations in crimson bonnets, served as favors and place cards for the following guests seated: Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. M. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hunchberger and the Misses Evangeline and Virginia Hunchberger.

CELEBRATE APPLE DAY TOMORROW

Tomorrow, Tuesday, is California Apple Day. Just as Raisin Day, Orange Day and Newspaper Day have been celebrated, it is planned to celebrate Apple Day. Apples are a very plentiful crop this season, and many merchants are offering this wholesome fruit at special prices. On pages 2 and 3 will be found apple specials offered by local merchants.

Anyway, American women may be happy, whoever originates the fashions.

TO DISCUSS AMENDMENTS

There will be a neighborhood campaign gathering held at the residence of Mrs. David Keim, 1430 West Second street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of exchanging ideas and discussing the various amendments to be voted on at the coming general election. A cordial invitation is extended to all. These meetings are being held in every neighborhood in Glendale and is a rare opportunity for those wishing to become posted on the various propositions to be voted on. This is a wise move and will do much towards enabling the people of Glendale to cast a full and intelligent vote.

NEW STORE BUILDING

The brick store building being erected on the corner of Broadway and Belmont by Mr. P. Jensen is nearing completion and will be stocked with a fresh and up-to-date line of groceries and opened for business in the near future. Mr. Jensen has built a very substantial building, doing most of the work himself, and has adhered to the mission type of architecture.

"MONEY IN A NAME" CONTEST

We call the attention of the readers of The News to page four of this issue, where you will find a novel guessing contest. No ad on the page has a firm name on it and the "stunt" is to see who will bring the first correct list of firm names to The News office. The contest is open to everyone, young or old. Try your luck.

REV. TROY'S TALKS CONCLUDED

Great interest was shown in the service at the Baptist church Sunday evening. The pastor's talk on Christian Science was listened to with great respect and it is certain that no offense could be taken at what was convincingly stated. Among other things, Rev. Troy said:

"Professionals who have lectured on Christian Science recognize three classes. The orthodox Christians who are exposed to this strange teaching. The majority of Scientists who have at the best a very crude conception of the philosophy of Mrs. Eddy. The small minority of Christian Scientists who have a clear conception of the thoughts contained in 'Science and Health,' etc.
 "The most effective means of influencing the first class is to show that the teaching of Science destroys the fundamentals of the Christian faith. With the second class the most effective procedure is to be firm and dogmatic. The minority of intelligent Christian Scientists need to be shown the unreasonableness of their philosophy.
 "The following extracts from Science and Health convey some idea of the contents of the book:
 "God is All in all. God is good. God is Mind. God, Spirit, being all, nothing is matter. Life, God, omnipotent Good, deny evil death, evil, sin, disease. Disease, sin, evil, death deny good, omnipotent God, Life.
 "Adhesion, cohesion and attraction are properties of Mind. They belong to principle, and but support the equispace of that thought-force which launched the earth in its orbit, and saith to the proud wave, 'Thus far and no farther.'
 "The blood, heart, lungs, etc., have nothing to do with life.
 "You say a boil is painful, but that is impossible, for matter without mind is not painful. The boil simply manifests your belief in pain, through inflammation and swelling; and you call this belief a boil; now administer mentally to your patient a high attenuation of truth on this subject, and it will soon cure the boil.
 "You can even educate a healthy horse so far in physiology that he will take cold without his blanket; whereas the wild animal, left to his instincts, sniffs the wind with delight."
 "A course in logic, psychology, philosophy and Biblical theology is the best antidote for Christian Science in the acute stages.
 "Berkeley (1680-1753) said that nothing exists but spirits and their modes, that a thing is only as it is perceived, that all is caused by an incorporeal substance or spirit-God.
 "The fact is, this brand of philosophy applied to such absurdity by Mrs. Eddy is as old as thinking.
 "The Bible is written in language which the average man can grasp. Science and Health is such a combination for the unlocking of the treasure safe of God's word as only those gifted in the metaphysical mode of thought can use. And even such will find upon opening with the key of Baker Eddy that the contents of the sacred revelation are gone.
 "The Bible nowhere denies the reality of material body, matter etc., but speaks in plain language of spirit, soul and body. Also the power of reason is not therein dethroned.
 "If Mrs. Eddy was sent into the world to give us the key to the Bible, how about the millions who lived, believed and were gloriously saved by the truths of revelation hundreds of years before she was born?
 "Why is Christian Science so material in her stately buildings, love of dollars, and ordinary matters of life? Why does the Mother Church in Boston have thermometers at the end of the pews?
 "Suppose the leading nations should suddenly adopt the philosophy of Christian Science, what would happen? The lower races believing in the reality of bullets and cannon would overrun the earth.
 "Why is it that the wonderful mind of God is not stronger than the puny minds of men? If God is for Christian Science, being right in their definition of God as all good and all mind, how can errors of mortal mind exist for a moment?
 "A gentleman in New Rochelle, N. Y., took a man and his wife, both of whom were Scientists, for a boat ride. The sea was nasty and both Scientists soon looked pale-blue, but they would not admit they were sick. To every inquiry of the captain they asserted that they were all right.
 "The cruel commander was determined to show them up in their true color, and so as they more and more declared all was well, he more and more turned his vessel out to sea, where the waves rolled higher and higher. Finally something happened. It was real. The lady had nothing to say, but was very busy. The husband was holding on with grim determination.
 "'Are you sick?' asked the captain once more. Then the event took place that was only too long deferred. 'Are you sick?' again asked the captain.
 "'Yes, I'm (it was an awful word) sick!' The boat was immediately turned to shore with two converted Christian Scientists aboard the ship of reason, there to stay.
 "Thus saith the Lord, stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rests for your souls. But they said, 'We will not walk therein,' Jeremiah 6:16.
 "Every time a wise man makes a mistake he learns something.

LONG BEACH IN LINE

As was to be expected from her past history, Long Beach has lined up solidly against the proposed consolidation amendments. That city has consistently opposed every effort made by Los Angeles in the past to shut her out from all commercial development. The fact that she was possessed of a magnificent harbor site, and was determined upon its proper development, has been an especial incentive to the county seat to do all in her power to secure control. Several different campaigns have been made for the purpose of building up annexation sentiment, but all have failed.
 The people of Long Beach realize that they have nothing to gain and everything to lose by joining with Los Angeles. No matter what the boomers in the larger city say regarding the great love they have for the outlying cities, and their generous plans for the rebuilding of the same, they are always working for their own advancement regardless of all others. The treatment accorded San Pedro and Wilmington since they gave up their identities to become part of Greater Los Angeles shows the truth of this statement. Before annexation these cities were promised everything they could ask if they would only come in. When they were once secured, these promises were conveniently forgotten. It is true the harbor is being developed, but for the benefit of Los Angeles, and not for the people who were induced to give away this great asset. To them is accorded the precious privilege of being a landing place where they can watch the business which should have been theirs as it is spirited back twenty-two miles into the interior.
 With these examples before their eyes, the people of Long Beach are not liable to be overcome by mere promises. They realize that their hope for commercial growth depends upon the development of their harbor, and they also realize that the only use Los Angeles could have for that harbor for years to come would be to close it up and force all the business to her own wharves. Accordingly, they are opposed to consolidation and must remain so, at least until they have established themselves commercially.
 The great danger to Long Beach, however, in the consolidation measures now being considered, lies in the peculiar situation of the town with reference to the remainder of the county. If either of the amendments prevails, it will be within the power of Los Angeles to so incorporate the new city and county as to absolutely shut Long Beach off from all that would be left of the county. The embarrassments of such a situation are easily evident, and it is no wonder Long Beach is opposed to such a future.
 Much the same danger confronts Pasadena. It will be comparatively easy for Los Angeles to so plan her new county as to surround this city and leave it the poor choice of standing alone or joining its more powerful neighbor. All the outside portions of the county are endangered alike by this ambition on the part of the present county seat, and all should be working together, day and night, for the defeat of both these amendments.—Pasadena News.

WHY YOU should do business with the BANK OF GLENDALE

California's laws regulating this bank are among the strongest in the United States.

In these laws are defined just what loans a bank may make.

Regular examinations are made by the State Banking Superintendent, and as a further protection to our depositors and to ourselves, we secured connection with the Los Angeles Clearing House and are examined by the Clearing House Examiner.

The funds are protected by a good screw-door safe in a vault fortified with electric burglar alarm, in addition to being insured against burglary and hold-up.

All officers are bonded. The Bank of Glendale makes no loans to any of its officers.

Disinterestedness in those having care of your money is thus assured.

Keep in mind that we do a Commercial and Savings Bank business; that we are provided with all that is desired in safety and service.

TO THE PUBLIC

For some time I have felt a growing need for competent assistance in my business. I wanted a man of the same high standing as Mr. David Black, who was unable to continue with me.

In Mr. Calvin Whiting of Pasadena, I am sure I have found such a man.

Mr. Whiting has had fifteen years of active experience in the real estate business in Denver and Albuquerque.

I have made careful investigations as to his past record before entering into partnership with him. He is all right.

The business hereafter will be conducted under the firm name of

and at the former location, No. 1106 W. Broadway.

Besides handling real estate and mortgages, we will continue to represent the same strong, reliable insurance agencies formerly represented in this territory by Mr. G. W. Strobel, now deceased, and by Mr. S. B. Shearer.

"Reliable service" will be the constant aim of both Mr. Whiting and myself.

Respectfully, JOSEPH F. LILLY.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Anna L. Smith of 1427 Riverdale drive enjoyed Sunday with friends at Long Beach.

Mrs. F. E. Whitney of Los Angeles spent all day Sunday in Glendale as a guest of Mrs. Charles G. Hezmalchal of 317 Belmont street.

TROPICO

Butler's hall presented a most pleasing scene Friday evening when the sophomores of the Glendale Union high school gave a class party. The hall was prettily decorated in black and orange and many pennants were gaily festooned throughout the room. The girls of the class wore white duck middie suits and orange colored silk middie ties. Iced punch was served and the evening of games, music and dancing was one of unalloyed pleasure. Mrs. John Hunchberger, Mrs. William Bode, Mrs. D. W. Hunt, Mrs. Lyons, Miss Helen M. Darsie, Prof. Earl H. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Padelford acted as the chaperones for the merry boys and girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin of Acacia street entertained as their guests Sunday Mrs. James Fletcher and daughters, Miss Nelle and Miss Josephine Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Overholtzer and son and daughter of Los Angeles.

Miss Ruth Bradley of Los Angeles was the over-Sunday guest of Miss Lillian Schick of North Central avenue.

MUNSON THE DRUG MAN

NORTH GLENDALE

Miss Elizabeth Lange of 904 Dryden street entertained last Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Katherine Wells, a charming bride-elect, who will sometime during the month of November become the bride of Dr. J. L. Flint of Glendale.

The affair was delightful in every detail. The chosen motif was yellow and white, great bunches of chrysanthemums being arranged in beautiful vases and Japanese baskets in every available place throughout the house. Five Hundred was enjoyed during the afternoon. The tally cards were hand painted and beautifully suggestive for the occasion.

Miss Bessie Provolt received the highest score, Miss Wells receiving the second and also the guest prize.

An unique feature of the merry afternoon was the playing of the old-fashioned game, "hide the thimble," and of course the happy honoree was "it." To the strains of music she began her search, the music announcing the nearness of the hidden thimble, which was found, in a drawer, reposing upon the most beautiful and daintiest of gifts for the prospective bride. Quite an unusual miscellaneous shower, for such it proved to be.

Delicious refreshments were served very elaborately at the small tables, the hostess being assisted in serving by Miss Harriett M. Wells, sister of the honored guest, and her own sister, Mrs. Joseph L. Stagner.

Following were the guests who enjoyed the afternoon: Mrs. Richard H. Wells, Mrs. Charles U. Wells, Mrs. Arline Hallihan, Mrs. Joseph L. Stagner, Miss Mattie Belle Provolt, Miss Lillian Mills, Miss Ethel Reed, Miss Bessie Provolt, Miss Irene Reed, Miss Ethel Land, Miss Clara Provolt, Miss Pauline Sholz, Miss Clara Reed, Miss Charlotte Reed, Miss Dorothy Smith, Miss Gertrude Champlain, Miss Cecelia Wilson, Miss Eva Black, Miss Olga Purt, Miss Athena Purt, Miss Harriett M. Wells, of Glendale; Mrs. George V. Meserole of Pueblo, Colo.; Dr. M. Louise Davis of Los Angeles and the honored guest, Miss Katherine Wells.

This is the first of a number of delightful affairs which have already been planned to take place within the next two weeks.

Saturday evening a very happy surprise was tendered Mrs. William Alston of 1652 Ruth street, when about twenty relatives and friends called upon her in honor of her birthday. After a delightful social time, delicious refreshments were served to the following guests, who were more than satisfied at the result of the surprise upon the gracious honoree, who was the recipient of the hearty congratulations and best wishes of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckles, Mrs. T. W. Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. George Alston, Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Alston, Mr. John Alston, Mr. William Alston, Mrs. George Vradenburgh, Miss Mary Vradenburgh, Miss Olive Wright, Mrs. John Murphy, Miss Nelle Murphy, Mr. George Murphy, Mr. William Rising, Miss Ruth Wright, and Mrs. O. E. Wright, all of North Glendale.

The many friends of Mr. Van Vleck Eddings of 1025 Fairview avenue, who has spent the past year in Venezuela, South America, as missionary under the auspices of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, will be very glad to hear that he is now at home, to the delight of his immediate family.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fairchild of 1321 Arden avenue entertained as their guest for the week-end Mr. M. R. Thompson of New York, who with Mr. Fairchild enjoyed a hunting trip Sunday and were successful in bagging a number of quail.

Miss Marjory Duncan and brother, Mr. Leland Duncan of 1600 Ruth street, entertained as their guest at dinner Sunday Mr. Francis Murphy, who is a member of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York.

Miss Marjory Duncan of 1600 Ruth street has secured a two weeks' contract to sing for the Bartlett Music company of Los Angeles. Miss Duncan also sang at the Elks club in Los Angeles Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Rich of 1500 Burchett street enjoyed a trip to Los Angeles Sunday, witnessing "Fine Feathers" at the Burbank theater.

Mr. Clark Talbot of 1321 North Pacific avenue visited his mother, Mrs. C. E. Blake and family at Little Lands last Saturday.

Mrs. Luther Colson of Burbank was the guest of Mrs. John Murphy of 1648 Ruth street last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lyan of 1617 Ruth street entertained a friend from Los Angeles over Sunday.

PARENTS SOMETIMES AT FAULT

How about the public schools? Have all who have children in the schools taken steps to co-operate with their teachers. Some mothers and fathers will neglect this most important step and then wonder why some other children get along better in their studies, imagining that there must be something the matter with the schools or that favoritism is shown, when they themselves are at fault in that they are not working with the teachers.

Now it appears the United States has depended on Europe for its best seed, it is so hard for the westerners to let anything go to seed.
