THE ENCHANTED ISLE

COGNOMEN APTLY DESCRIBES THE CHARMS AND DIVERSIONS OF SANTA CATALINA

Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, Cal. August 9th, 1917.

Editor Glendale News:
Patience has certainly done its "perfect work" in the case of your correspondent and family, who realized the dream lying dormant for many years, in their arrival here a week ago. Seven days have brought no lack of expectations, and found the spot "where it is always afternoon" in this Magic Isle. We were joined in Los Angeles by Mr. and Mrs. Barton and son Arthur, Geo. Trepanie of Casa Verdugo (whose family had preceded him) and Mrs. Andrew Robertson (our own party comprising Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Kelley and David).

There was standing room only on the "Cabrillo" upon which we took passage and, although the sea was like a silver lake, there were numerous cases of "mal de mer" on board. The crest of the wave of Santa Catalina summer travel is always reached the Saturday before the 15th of August (two days hence) but we'll not be in it, but while here we were fortunate in securing good accommodations while a large number had to take "pot luck." The normal population of Avalon is 500, but now it is passing onward from 6000. All places last Saturday (three steamers) and Sunday reached the limit, except Canvas City, which expands, block by block, as business demands. This one, elastic feature is the only thing that saves the situation while the big rush is on, all steamer berths even being filled.

The Glendale delegation is very strong at this resort right now, a partial list of names being given below, many of whom we have met. This fact may have induced Payne & Moore of Glendale to put in the best grocery here, in the corner store of the new building on Crescent avenue, opposite the steamer pier. Among the many thousands here, a few names of those in the public eye may be mentioned: Of the Los Angeles Bar, Judge Conrey and Joseph Scott. In musical circles, Mr. Clifford Lott, Mr. and Mrs. Thilo Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Axel Simonsen. Mr. Lott was the vocal soloist at the Saturday evening band concert. The smart set is numerously represented while Frank Wiggins, Secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, may stand for the hundreds of solid business men enjoying an outing, while the summer girl is displayed here (more or less, varying from beach to ball room) to most alluring perfection. And national and international piscatorial stars of the first magnitude are here, all busy driving for the records and trophies of the Tuna Club. The military caste and spirit is the only world element of humanity unrepresented here and the war is indeed on the other side of the world from this spot. The only uniforms seen are those worn by the town marshal on Crescent avenue, the members of Porter's superlative band (which gives an excellent program every night in the week from 7:30 to 9), the officers of the Banning line, and the Whittier State School band (incidentally, which arrived here yesterday for an outing. So it is "think no war, all ye who enter here!").

The 19th annual summer sea angling tournament, May 1 to Sept. 30, 1917, is now in full swing.

One of the notable anglers of the Tuna Club, now here, is W. C. Boschen near neighbor of Andrew Carnegie, New York City. Last week our launch returned to dock just as the fish, a broad-bill sword fish, weighing 463 pounds, was being landed. It was caught by Mr. Boschen and brought to gaff in 2 hours and 35 minutes. Raised the record 27 pounds. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clark of Glendale, have been bringing in large swordfish and yellowtail, while Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Young, and sons, E. J. Jr., and Lawrence, have registered for albicore buttons. There are nearly 50 cups, medals and prizes offered by the Tuna Club and firms and individuals in eleven different classes, even including the dolphin, in this tournament.

Aside from the premier attraction of being the base for the world's best deep sea fishing grounds, the still water bathing—for there is no surf at all in Avalon bay—boating and sight seeing, by far the strongest claim that Santa Catalina has to the tourist as well as the jaded business man and nerve worn housewife and mother, is the fact, stated in another's words, that "the three great curses of civilization, viz. the trolley car, the automobile and the telephone, are conspicuous by their utter absence here." THE SUREST WAY TO WRITE

The surest way to write for all time is to embody the present in the finest sincerity and with the frankest truthfulness. The surest way to write for other lands is to be true to our own land and true to the scenes and people we love, and love in a human and direct way without being educated up to it or down to it.—Hamlin Garland.

WAR INSURANCE BILL

BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS CONSIDER A SUBSTITUTE MEASURE FOR THE SOLDIERS' PENSION SYSTEM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 10.—The war compensation, indemnity and insurance bill was introduced in both houses to-day. It provides insurance for every soldier and nurse up to $10,000 at $8 per thousand a year. It is a substitute for the well-known pension system. It provides for the assignment of soldiers' pay to their families. Thus $15 per month goes to the wife. If there are two children the government pays her an additional $32.50 monthly; $5 a month is allowed for each additional child. If a man fails to apply for insurance and is killed the government presumes he made application for a $5000 policy and pays his widow or his estate that amount.

If a soldier is supporting his parents and pays $5 monthly, the government gives them an additional $10 monthly.

Total disability gives a compensation of $40 to $75 monthly. In case of death all funeral expenses are paid and relatives are paid additional sums monthly besides insurance.

SIGNS FOOD BILLS

MEASURES GIVING PRESIDENT EXTRAORDINARY POWERS BECOME LAWS THIS MORNING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 10.—President Wilson signed both the food control bill and the food survey bill this morning. The former gives the president control over food, feed and fuel; allows him to license business and plants; authorizes him to control and operate coal and coke mines and fix prices; directs him to fix a minimum price for wheat in an emergency; prevents the use of foods, fruits or food materials in the manufacture of distilled spirits; directs the president to spend $10,000,000 and sell to the farmers at cost; punishes hoarding and destruction of foodstuffs; allows the president to close grain exchanges and boards of trade in order to prevent speculation; allows the president to requisition supplies for the army and navy; authorizes him to buy, store and sell wheat, flour, meat, beans and potatoes; allows him to take over and run factories. The sum of $2,500,000 is provided for running expenses and $150,000,000 to carry out the work of the whole food administration. Food control ceases at the expiration of the war.

ADDITIONAL WAR FUND

WASHINGTON, August 10.—Following a conference this morning between Secretary McAdoo and House leaders, he will ask an additional bond issue running into the billions at this session of Congress.

STRANGE CONDITIONS

WALTER MEN FAIL TO PASS THE PHYSICAL EXAMINATION. EXEMPTION REQUESTS

One of the most deplorable conditions possible is revealed by the first day's examination yesterday in Glendale. Out of the first twenty men examined only ten, or 50 per cent, passed the physical examination.

What is still more deplorable only four, or 20 per cent, out of the ten who passed did not apply for exemption. At this rate only one-fifth of the men registered are either able or willing to go into the service of the government. This would mean that out of the nine and a half million who registered between the ages of 21 and 31, only one-fifth, or less than two millions, are either able or willing to enter the service of the government.

If the predictions of some students of war conditions be true, that by next spring we must place two million men in France, it will mean that by that time the entire registration will have been exhausted, and if more men are needed the age limit will have to be extended.

Those who passed the examination yesterday in District No. 7, were as follows, those who did not claim exemption being marked with a star:

- Geo. Walter Pettit

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

N. P. BANKS G. A. R. POST CORPS AND SONS OF VETERANS FURNISH PROGRAM

The N. P. Banks Post G. A. R., the W. R. C., and the Sons of Veterans, gave the program on Thursday evening in the assembly hall at the annual encampment of the G. A. R. at Huntington Beach, in a manner very creditable to the three organizations and to the great pleasure of those attending who were most generous in their applause. The program was varied in character and each number was enthusiastically received.

Those presenting this most excellent program were Roger Baker, Tropico, violin solos, variations of "The Old Oaken Bucket," and "Flowery Song," Lang; Male quartette, Dr. Henry, Robb Taylor, R. D. Goss and C. H. Clarke, "Just Before the Battle, Mother" and "The Sword of Bunker Hill"; Dorothy Dutton in solo dances; Dr. Henry, solo, "Brave Men Behold Your Fallen Chief," a song written in commemoration of Ellsworth, the young Zouave leader, who was the idol of his men, who was killed early in the Civil war, a song not often heard now-a-day but which thrilled the hearts of the veterans. Dr. Henry also read the little Hat-chett story, by "Bob" Burdett, Representing the Sons of Veterans, J. V. Griffin gave humorous stories, I. H. Hibbert, magic illusions, and Jack Stathem and Ed Shipman presented a very amusing sketch, "At the Barber Shop."

Encampment Notes

Dr. J. H. Henry, accompanied by Mrs. W. M. Crawford and Miss Margaret Crawford, went to Huntington Beach Thursday where Dr. Henry took part in the evening program at the G. A. R. annual encampment. Dr. Henry will spend the week-end at Ontario, where he will occupy the pulpit of the First Methodist church.

Commander Robinson of N. P. Banks Post, is attending the encampment this week.

J. J. Weiler and Robt. Taylor are spending the week at the encampment.

Mrs. Susie Peck and her mother, Mrs. Celia Haggood, are at Huntington Beach for the encampment.

R. M. McGee, representing the Sons of Veterans, was in attendance at the encampment Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Sanford, of Sycamore Canyon, are in attendance this week at the G. A. R. encampment at Huntington Beach.

Chaplain Norton will be at the encampment over Sunday.

Mrs. W. M. Crawford returned Thursday evening after the program but will return for the week-end.

Thos. Gillett was a member of a party of veterans who went to Huntington Beach on Thursday.

DON'T! DON'T! DON'T!

Don't be too ready to condemn the drafted man who doesn't want to go. You don't know what his motives are. He may have a loving sweet-heart whose tears and entreaties not to leave her almost unman him. He may have a dear old mother, whose idol he is and whose heart will break if they take her boy. He may have been looking forward eagerly to climbing higher in his chosen profession. Put yourself in his place. Would you be eager to go, under such circumstances?

We know that if the country were invaded and his home land in danger of abolition none would be so eager as he to face the cruel foe. There would be no faltering then, no claim for exemption on any ground. Then let us be generous and not misjudge the man who is reluctant to go. If he is chosen he'll go bravely and do his bit.

And the mother who tries so hard to keep her boy from going. Do not misjudge her either. She did not raise her boy to be a soldier, maybe, and she does not want him to face the battle's storm. Can you blame her? She went down into the valley of the shadow for that boy. She watched over him in the years of helpless infancy. She guided his youthful footsteps, she gazed with pride on the manly form as he reached his twenties. He is her boy, her joy and pride. Can she give him up for the cruel trenches? Yes, she can and she will, if she must, but her fond arms will cling to him to the last, her tear dimmed eyes will follow his departing footsteps, her sad heart mourn for the desolated home.

Think of her feelings then, and be not so free with the term "slacker" for maybe it does not fit.

W. C. T. U. COMFORT BAGS

Mrs. R. J. Smart, with Mesdames Warner, Pettit, Paige and Miss Estery, spent a busy day at the Temple, state headquarters in Los Angeles, Wednesday, assisting in arranging the contents for over 500 comfort navy bags, already received, and hundreds of the new British bandages. These, called the many tailed bandages, go to the British Relief Society. Glendale Union has contributed fifty-three bags and large bundle of bandages thus far. Three special requests from sailors and three from soldiers have been filled by us. Additional supplies are being received daily at the Temple and the first installment of 1200 bags will soon be on the way to the ships leaving San Francisco.

During the day a further request from the war department was received asking for 500 more bags. Those who are skeptical of the value of this work should read the pathetic letters received almost daily at headquarters, asking for a "Comfort Kit." Also what General Pershing, hero of many battles, who surely knows what is of value to his men, without sentiment, in a message of thanks to the National W. C. T. U. for a large consignment of bags for the troops that recently sailed for France, said:

"These things cause the soldiers to remember that the people at home are behind them. You cannot know how much they signify to any American who is over here in France carrying the flag of his country. This is the point to be impressed upon the minds of those who are working for the soldiers. Greater than the usefulness of the articles placed in each kit should be rated the certain, intangible, invisible things of moral worth, such as love, sympathy and appreciation that go with each bag and bring to the mind of the recipient sweet memories of mother, wife and children, home and America. For these he is willing to endure hardship, face certain danger, and if need be embark upon the great adventure from which no man ever returns."

In reply to the query, "What does the W. C. T. U. bag contain?" we give the list: Plain bag of blue denim for sailors; khaki or cretonne for soldiers, small button bag, needle case and pin ball attached inside, buttons, needles, pins, darning needles, safety pins, thread, darning cotton, scissors, pencil, comb, court plaster, roll of absorbent cotton, clean muslin for bandage, narrow tape, pledge cards, good leaflets or purity, tobacco and temperance, good letters from the state and national officers and one from the giver of the bag, which the boys always look for, it is said, and a testament, highly prized on shipboard or in the trenches, also songbook of home and patriotic songs. The cost of furnishing one of the bags, at wholesale prices, is $1.00. Assistance from any one interested in doing their "bit" this way will be gratefully received by any of the members or the president. It will not hinder any Red Cross work but helps on the similar work for humanity.

Mrs. D. E. Mallett, 321 East Second street, is confined to her home by illness but is improving and her friends hope to hear of her complete recovery soon.

In reporting remarks made by Mr. Jones, member of the exemption board, when giving information to the young men, the writer made him say "Much discussion is not welcomed by the board" when he said "Such discretion is not welcomed by the board."

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Case have just returned from a delightful motor trip which took them from the mountains to the sea. They motored over the Ridge route to Taft, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Allen and Mr. Lester Case. Returning they spent some days at Balboa Beach, later spending a week at their cabin up in the Arroya.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Parsons, 3355 La Clede avenue, were the hosts at an informal little dinner given Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. Harold M. Salisbury and bride. The table was prettily decorated with Shasta daisies and greenery. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe A. Salisbury, Miss Maude L. Salisbury and Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Salisbury.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Chase and little daughter Shirley, of 438 South Adams street, and their guest, Mrs. E. W. Pack, returned Wednesday evening from a week's outing spent at Big Bear Lake. Going, the party motored by the "Rim of the World" route. The return was made by the way of Mill Valley. They report the fishing excellent and the party were very successful.

Fire was discovered in the garage and shed in the rear of the residence of Chas. Lehman, 629 North Louise on Thursday about 11:30. The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and were able to keep the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings, but the garage and shed with contents were destroyed. The building had been used as a sleeping room recently and the bed and bedding, a trunk, garden tools, etc., were a total loss. A crossed wire is supposed to be responsible for the fire.

The mid-summer picnic held at La Ramada Park Thursday by the Ladies' Aid Society and the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the First Methodist church, was a great success from a social point of view. A number of the members of the three societies are out of town but those present report a most enjoyable time. The day was spent in sewing and fancy work. At the luncheon hour every good thing imaginable was produced from basket and thermos bottle, while Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Wright with their hot meat pie and hot baked beans, earned the well deserved praise they received for their most welcome surprise.

G. B. HOFFMAN FUNERAL

The funeral of George B. Hoffman as definitely arranged will be held in the Pulliam Undertaking parlors on Saturday at 2 o'clock.

The services will be open to the public. Rev. R. W. Mottern, pastor of the Lutheran church, assisted by Rev. Edmonds, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will have charge of the services.

EXEMPTION BOARD

Secretary Mattison B. Jones of Glendale, whom everybody knows, made an important announcement this morning before the examinations began. The latest instructions from the Government concerning exemptions are in substance as follows:

There is more discretion given the exemption board than is welcome. But the board must discharge its duty to the Government the same as any enlisted soldier. The minimum pay for an enlisted soldier is $30.00 per month. In addition, the Government furnishes all other necessities for living, including housing, clothing, food, etc. For this reason many soldiers are now setting aside $25.00 a month for the support of their families. On a written order left with the Government, that $25 will be sent without delay direct to the individual of the soldier's family authorized by him to receive the same.

In this way many are able to do better for self and family as enlisted soldiers than they are doing outside the army.

Now right here comes in the discretion the exemption board is authorized to exercise. Where all the facts cannot at once be obtained, sometimes the man is recalled for further examination. With only two physicians, 71 men were examined yesterday. To-day there is a third examining physician, he to occupy the two rooms above the Chamber of Commerce.

There was need for several typewriters and persons to operate them, to copy names, etc., for a second call, as the required quota could not be obtained from the first call.

These occupy the large back room of Samuel Stoddard's real estate office kindly loaned by him.

All day yesterday and to-day, many autos were parked near the Chamber of Commerce and the pavement in front of the doors was crowded. All the extra chairs of the Chamber of Commerce were in use out there and most of the auto seats were occupied by thirsty young men waiting for a chance to serve their country. A large pitcher and bucket of pink lemonade in pounded ice were in evidence. The big pitcher, provided by Cornwell & Kelly, went into the Chamber of Commerce for the exemption board, their assistants and the physicians. The large bucket was set outside for the boys, with the invitation, "Help yourselves."

MERRY DANCING PARTY

Mrs. H. M. Morton of 116 West Fifth street gave a very pleasant little dancing party for her daughter, Miss Dorothy, and son, Archie, on Tuesday evening. The home was artistically decorated in the national colors. Punch was served during the evening and about ten o'clock delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Morton assisted by her daughter Miss Dorothy. Those enjoying the evening were Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Hunt, Mrs. H. M. Morton, the Misses Dorothy Hunt, Dorothy Gilson, Frae Morse, Grace Shropshire, Amanda Soderburg, Ruth Wilson, Dorothy Morton, Messrs. Smith and De Coursey of Los Angeles, Louie Lewis, Herbert Henning, Sidney Parrotte, Theodore Soderburg, Lynwood Le Saucheur and Archie Morton.

THE SECRET OUT

David Young of Glendale, and Miss Viva Scanton of Cudahy, motored to Chino on Sunday, July 29 and were there united in marriage. They kept the affair secret until this week, when their friends were informed. The groom has lived in Glendale, with his aunt, Mrs. Justin Stone, at 945 Chestnut, but worked in Los Angeles for the Union Iron Works. The bride was a stenographer in the same institution and the acquaintance there made ripened into love. He is a faithful workman and was held in very high esteem by his employers.

Several weeks ago David joined Ambulance Corps No. 2, N. G. C. This corps is now in the U. S. service and will soon start for France, hence the honeymoon will be a very short one.

One of the most delightful of these was the dancing party given by Miss Louise and Miss Christine Ferriss at their home, 1446 Hawthorne street, on Thursday evening.

The home was decorated in the national colors by these most patriotic young hostesses. Light refreshments were served to the guests during the evening. The young people enjoying the dancing were the Misses Marjorie Imler, Katherine Renshaw, Ruth Wilson, Catherine Phillips, Jean Anderson, Evangeline Hunchberger, Louise and Christine Ferriss, Messrs. Tom Phillip, Wm. Renshaw, Seymour Smith, Harry Wilson and Harry Coker.

"HAIL COLUMBIA"

This familiar tune was written as a march—without words. It is supposed to have been the work of a German bandsman, named Fayles, and was first played in 1789 when General George Washington went to New York to be inaugurated. It was then known as "Washington's March" and became very popular. Mr. John Hopkins wrote the "Hail Columbia" ode for adaption to the tune, and it was first sung as a choral under its present name in Philadelphia in 1789.

A reception will be tendered on Friday evening by the members of the Central Christian church at the residence of O. L. Kilborn, 1317 Lomita avenue, to Rev. Fred E. Hagin and family, who are leaving for the east the first of the week.

Inhabitants"—for this town contains some of the quaintest spots occupied by the older denizens—I am sure never saw a street car, nor talked through a telephone.

Every taste in the recreation line may be gratified here. Among our party, in which were Casey and Kelley, the joke was cracked, "with Casey at the bat," and Kelley on 3rd base, there are sure to be some scores made in the recreation game." As everywhere else, they have here "the sportiest golf links in the world." There are also drives, rides and walks—for this island is a domain 22 miles long by an average of 7 miles wide, with an area of about 50,000 acres—there is golf, tennis, wild goat hunting, and this is the quail's paradise.

Motor boat trips, barbeques and moonstone hunting. The glass bottom boats take you over the finest marine gardens in the world.

Band music is furnished by Porter's Catalina Band, an organization equal to any of the kind, and which was one of the bands that played at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco.

There is a real large dancing pavilion that is open from 9 to 10 p. m., strictly closed at 10 p. m.

Regulations for perfect order, quiet, cleanliness and morality are perfectly kept here by all the authorities; and by the sign mental, no moral taint can be detected at all in the natural and mental atmosphere of this beautiful resort, located in the place "where it is always afternoon."

The great events of the day are the steamer arrivals at which time the newcomers have to go through ordeal of inspection by hundreds who form lanes extending a block from either side of the gate of the pier.

Another important hour is watching the arrivals of the various fishing launches with expectancy as to the nature of each fisherman's luck. We were the heroes of one such hour, with largest catch, by far, of albicore.

But, Mr. Editor, one does not know where to stop.

Several of our fishing stories have been given on request to Editor Windle of the weekly paper published here, "The Islander." This little sheet really has a unique circulation, since many tourists from all parts of the world subscribe to it largely to keep posted on the "fish stories" of Santa Catalina.

Since our stories in the "Islander" are not copyrighted they are subject to the "scissors." The accepted motto here is "Behold the Fisherman." He riseth up early in the morning and disturbeth the whole household. Mighty are his preparations. He goeth forth full of hope, and when the day is far spent he returneth, smelling of strong drink and the truth is not in him."

Nevertheless we failed to catch sight of any fisherman of that sort, during our stay here. But this is a good place to stop, until our next, as the band has just struck up to greet the arrival of the "Cabrillo" with its crowded decks. By the way it is stated that the great majority of steamer passengers make the round trip in one day, having three hours here in which they can see a great deal. Since in the opinion of many, Santa Catalina is unique, and in a class by itself, the acme and ultimate of resorts, so there is a spirited contest on every evening by members of Porter's band to answer the question embodied in the title of a band piece, "Where Do We Go From Here?"

Many funny skits are given by the two "end men" of the band all of which draw applause from the audience of 2,500 present. And in passing, it may be noted that it is another of "the" sights of Avalon to see that great audience file out at 9 p. m. from the natural Greek amphitheatre, lit by its strings of colored lights, out through its 200 yard exit, flanked by tall eucalyptus trees.

Answer to the question: "Oh joy, oh boy, where do we go from here?"

We've had the boat and auto trips. And seen some things most queer. It's fine in Catalina but we can't stay all the year;

Oh joy, ah boy, where—where do we go from here?"

At 12:30 the bunch of boys rush from the dock, crying the first news of the outside world received on the island. From among the daily papers, the Glendale News is absent. But I am sure that there are many among the following list now, or recently here, that would be glad to see its bright little columns every day:
