WELLMAN STARTS IN BIG BALLOON

Wellman and his crew carried a food supply to last them 75 days as a precaution against their engines breaking down and their balloon being carried by adverse winds into desolate regions. It is equipped with a wireless outfit, a retarder, motor sledges, non-sinkable steel boat and a reserve gas supply. It is estimated the speed of the balloon is 40 miles an hour. The most difficult part of the feat ahead of Wellman, who is one of the most experienced of the dirigible aeronauts, is the encountering of heavy winds.

The dirigible problem simply is the obtaining of engine power sufficient to drive a dirigible against a wind that gains advantage from the buoyancy and spread of the big gas bag.

WHEN HEALTH IS RUN DOWN

A Tonic Such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Promptly Needed

When the health is run down from any cause whatever, a tonic is needed. A feeling of weakness, poor appetite, loss of breath after slight exertion, indicates that a complete breakdown is near. Sometimes these troubles are due to overwork or worry, or again they may be due to the after-effects of fever or some wasting illness. But whatever the cause the trouble should not be neglected, and for the purpose of gaining new health and new strength there is absolutely no better medicine than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which fill the veins with new, rich blood, which tones and strengthens every nerve and every organ in the body. Mrs. Rose A. Smith, Roblin, Man., says: "Some years ago I had a severe attack of typhoid fever. When I recovered sufficiently to be able to get about, I found that I was not able to gather up my strength. I tried tonic wines and other medicines, but with no avail. For months I could hardly go up stairs, and if I took a walk I was always obliged to take a friend with me to help me home again. A doctor had again been called in, but he said I would grow out of it in time and gave me more medicine, but instead of gaining I kept getting worse, and was at last obliged to take to my bed. One day while lying reading I chanced to come across a cure made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this decided me to try them. Before I had taken the pills long I began to feel a decided improvement and my friends also said I was beginning to look like my old self again. From this on the improvement was steady, but I continued to take the Pills for a couple of months, when I felt that the cure was complete. Several years have passed since then and as I have remained in the best of health I am warranted in saying that the cure is permanent, and I freely give this statement for the benefit it may bring to others."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"OPEN DOOR" IN PAVING WORK

CITIZENS WON'T STAND FOR ANY FAVORITISM

Competition Should Be Encouraged Declares City Engineer Smith

The question of paving processes and what policy ought to be pursued by the city council in awarding contracts was discussed at last evening's meeting of the streets committee.

The city engineer submitted the following report relative to the paving of McClure street:

"Re the petition referred from the last meeting of your committee from H. E. Langton and nine others asking that bitulithic pavement be laid on McClure street between Vancouver street and Cook street, the city assessor reports that ten owners representing $35,100 have signed the petition, and that five of the owners representing an assessment of $12,950 have not signed the petition. This petition as well as several other petitions presented to your committee specified the kind of pavement, but does not state the price per square yard. There is no doubt that the petitioners have signed the petition with the view that the city officials would protect them as regards the cost and the adaptability of the pavement. There is no doubt that all of the promoters of the three special asphalt pavements represented in your city should each procure a majority petition for any one street for their respective pavements.

"It is for the city council to decide what is a suitable pavement, and what is a reasonable price per square yard to pay for the pavement. Up to the present a standard asphalt or an asphalt of a special make varying only slightly from the standard asphalt has been considered by your council as a suitable pavement. Mr. Scott, the representative of 'bitulithic' informed your committee at the last meeting that this pavement was an asphalt pavement. Mr. Van Westrum also stated that the pavement laid by him is an asphalt pavement. Mr. Worswick also stated that the pavement laid by him is an asphalt pavement.

"In calling for tenders for Vancouver street specifications have been made for a standard asphalt pavement, and provisions have been made for bids for an alternative pavement, which must be of a form of asphalt. These will include Worswick, Bitulithic and Westrumite asphalt pavements. It would be well to have samples of these pavements and competition should be encouraged so that a pavement, although suitable should not cost fifty per cent more than it is worth.

"It might be advisable when your paving programme is more definitely settled to get a price per square yard for the different classes of asphalt pavement. This price must apply to whatever street it may be decided to pave within the next twelve months. One of the conditions should be that not less than 10,000 square yards nor more than 100,000 square yards of any of the pavements will be laid during that time and at the stipulated price."

Tenders for paving Vancouver street between Pandora avenue and Burdette avenue were opened. The bids submitted were as follows: Worswick Paving Company, on standard specifications prepared by the city engineer, $2.25 per square yard for removing material, a total of $42,820. Alternative bids for a pavement according to the company's own specifications were submitted of $1.70 and $1.40 per square yard, the total figures being $33,630 and $28,590 respectively.

The city engineer's tender was on his standard specification at a cost of $1.20 per yard, and 80 cents for removing material, a total cost of $38,160. Westrumite, Limited, bid on the standard specification at $2.25 per square yard and sixty to seventy cents for removing material, a total cost of $42,880, and submitted also an alternative bid of $1.68 per yard for pavement and sixty to seventy cents for removing material, a total of $32,604; and a second alternative bid of $1.46 per yard, a total of $31,064.

The tenders were referred to the city solicitor, city engineer, purchasing agent and the chairman of the committee; Alderman Bannerman.

To the same committee was referred a communication from the city solicitor referring to the petition of owners on Howe street for a Worswick asphalt pavement. The petition not only stated the class of pavement desired but set a figure of cost beyond which the owners would not go. Since the council had decided to accept no petitions which had not first been approved of by the solicitor and which were made out in the regular form of the petition of the Howe-street owners was referred to the solicitor for an opinion as to its effectiveness.

He advised the committee that as all the owners on the street had signed the petition it could be accepted even though it stipulated a certain type of pavement at a certain figure thus creating a monopoly of price and work, but the solicitor also stated that in his opinion such stipulations should not be allowed in petitions which in general should leave the class of pavement to be laid in the discretion of the council.

The fur business, which has been conducted in this city for the past 45 years by J. Roscovitz & Sons, on Yates street, has been discontinued here.

Gentlemen:

It gives me great pleasure indeed to state that the removal of the Scoria Blocks and the replacing of them by Bitulithic on Metcalfe street has been a wonderful improvement.

My hotel, "The Windsor," is situated on the said thoroughfare and although it is a steep grade from Albert street to Wellington street and although the traffic has increased greatly since Bitulithic was put down, we find no inconvenience, for the pavement is almost noiseless and non-slippery. Our guests complained greatly against the former pavement, "Scoria Blocks," and it was no pleasure to have these complaints continually brought to us—whereas now, nothing but praise is heard for Bitulithic pavement.

I would not for the world have things changed back again. You have only to experience the difference to find the superiority of Bitulithic over Scoria Blocks, and I also hope that the day may come when all pavement used in the city of Ottawa will be solely "Bitulithic."

Yours sincerely,

PERFECT ROADS FOR PROVINCE

URGE GOVERNMENT TO CONTROL THE HIGHWAYS

Board of Trade Passes Resolution—Quarterly Meeting Report by President

The board of trade at the regular quarterly meeting held yesterday afternoon passed a resolution that the government be requested to take over control of all municipal roads in the province. The resolution read as follows:

"It is hereby resolved that this board notices with appreciation the large amount of wagon road construction which the provincial government has under way in the various portions of the province, and this board, believing that a first class system of roads is essential to the proper development of the province, urges that the main trunk highways from north to south and from east to west on both Vancouver Island and the Mainland be pushed to completion as quickly as is reasonably possible.

"Further this board is of the opinion that in the construction of all new roads that wherever reasonable, practical permanent locations should be followed with the most ample right of ways and moderate grades, and curvature and construction generally of a higher class than the standard formerly followed in such works.

"This board is also of opinion that the provincial government should construct and locate, widen, straighten, or improve, regulate or control, and in every way administer at the cost of the provincial government throughout all parts of the main trunk highways that pass through any municipality.

"Copies of this resolution to be forwarded to the Hon. Richard McBride, Premier of British Columbia, and to the Hon. Thomas Taylor, Minister of Public Works.

"Another resolution passed was to the effect that: 'It is resolved that copies of the foregoing resolution regarding roads be forwarded to the boards of trade throughout the province and that these bodies should be requested, if they should see fit, to pass similar resolutions and to forward the same to the provincial government.'

The president, H. G. Wilson, submitted a memorandum of business done by the board during the last quarter. He referred to mail matters in the city, saying that the difficulty had been the under payment of clerks in the post office. Juniors were admitted at $50 per month, but when no increase was coming at the end of a year and a half service the men left to take better positions. In some cases work had been refused at the remuneration offered.

With a better paid staff the postmaster had informed the board better results would be obtained. The board was taking the matter up in the hope of having salaries raised. Mr. Wilson further said the mail subsidy had been talked over with Hon. Mr. Templeman and it was suggested that a subsidy at the rate of so much per mile to any steamer be advocated in place of giving a subsidy to one company.

The reason for the suggested change was that at least was compelled to lay over at Vancouver from the north, missing Victoria on account of fog or other cause, the mail could be sent by another boat, in place of waiting for the C. P. R. to connect. Mr. Templeman had considered the plan a good one, and had promised to put it forward at Ottawa.

Referring to the automobile regulations of the province, the president said at present it stood that United States automobilists could make one trip here only in six months. This should be altered and Mr. Templeman had promised assistance.

The president referred to the visit of the Manufacturers' Association here, and was sorry that the members of the board of trade had been conspicuous by their absence at the reception given by the government. A special committee is investigating the delay in shipments over the Vancouver railway from England. The cause of the delay being the lack of boats on the Pacific during the last two months. July shipments have not yet arrived. The board has agreed to assist the Fruit Growers' Association as far as possible in having a two-car load exhibit of apples displayed at the Vancouver apple show October 31st. The cost will be $2,500, of which the Fruit Growers' Association has raised half. The remainder will be open to subscription by merchants.

Speaking on provincial wagon roads, A. E. Todd brought the attention of members to the Pacific Highway Association, the formation of which he attended at Seattle. He had obtained membership for the Vancouver Island Development League, for he looked upon it as a publicity aid. The association was not an auto club, but had its membership mostly from farmers and others between Victoria and Mexico. The benefit Victoria would derive from the road on the American continent would be the share the city would obtain in the tourist trade. Los Angeles obtained the wealthy class which were driven from Los Angeles by the heat at the close of the winter. With the Pacific highway established these would travel by automobile north and benefit by the excellent summer climate of Victoria and southern B.

The board of trade supported the application of the Portland Chamber of Commerce to have the Y. M. C. A. convention held there in 1915.

A number of new members were elected. Those present were H. E. Wilson, president, in the chair; vice-president, A. E. Todd; Messrs. S. Leiser, A. W. Macfarlane, W. A. Jamieson, J. W. Anshery, S. Winchester, Ind.—"Four doctors told me that they could never make me regular, and that I would eventually have dropsy. I began to take Lydia E. After taking one and one-half bottles of the Compound, I am all right again, and I recommend it to every suffering woman."—MRS. MAY DEAL, Winchester, Ind.

Hundreds of such letters from girls and mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensation, fainting spells or indigestion, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by its use.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

C. Judge Ronald at Everett has said in America the haul rate was 23 cents per ton per mile, while in Europe the cost is 8 cents per ton per mile. With general good roads on Vancouver Island and cheap hauling would necessarily follow. Surfaces of roads should be made of heavy material. One of the biggest crops on Vancouver Island would be the tourist trade. Southern California has not scenery to equal Victoria and Vancouver Island, and with good roads this tourist trade could be attracted here. There are 20,000 autos in Southern California every season. American automobilists spend $800,000,000 annually in Europe. The government should be approached to deal with municipal deficiency in road construction. As B. C. is settled there will be more municipalities, he said, and offered a resolution asking the provincial government to take over all the principal roads throughout the province. Mr. Todd said the standard of construction of the Mill Bay road is very high indeed. Once the road bed is settled down the probability of washouts will be eliminated. The V. I. D. A. conferred with the minister of public works recently, said Mr. Todd, and put forward the importance of first class roads from Alberni to Clayoquot and to Buttes Lake. The Pacific Highway Association urges that roads should be a 12 per cent grade, 30 feet in width, hard-surface, bridged, where necessary, and of continuous grades.

J. J. Shallock seconded the motion, and C. H. Lugin said the government proposed to extend the Victoria-Campbell River road 150 miles further north, and to build the Buttes Lake road. Hon. Mr. Taylor also had extensive plans for the mainland, totalling with the Vancouver Island roads 600 miles of new highways. There is also planned a north and south highway road of 500 to 600 miles in B. C., said the speaker. The resolution was carried.

CONFESSION OF MURDER READ DURING TRIAL

Objection by Attorneys for Prisoner is Over-Ruled by Judge

Montesano, Wash., Oct. 15.—Two important points were scored yesterday by the state in the trial of John Klingenberg on a charge of murder in the second degree for the murder of Charles Hadberg, when Judge Sheaks ruled that both Klingenberg's written confession made last April and testimony given during the Gohl trial were admissible as evidence.

The confession was read to the jury by Prosecuting Attorney Campbell, and brought out the fact that Klingenberg had told Hadberg that the next time he returned to Indian Creek he would come to fight. This followed a quarrel between Hadberg and Klingenberg, when Hadberg drew a gun on the defendant the last time he was at Indian Creek before the murder. The state will attempt to prove that Klingenberg went willingly down the bay for the purpose of killing Hadberg.

Klingenberg's testimony in the Gohl trial was read by the court stenographer. It consumed the entire morning. It was a recital of the murder committed by Gohl and Klingenberg last December.

Klingenberg's demeanor during the trial is puzzling. He seems brave enough and almost laughs aloud at times during the introduction of evidence, which is likely to place him in the penitentiary for the remainder of his life. An objection to the introduction of the confession was made by the attorneys for the defendant on the grounds that inducements had been offered Klingenberg to make it.

MUST PAY DAMAGES.

Vancouver, Oct. 15.—Telegraphic advices from Ottawa convey the news that Richard G. Morton, of Vancouver, had won in the appeal before the Supreme Court of Canada for damages against the British Columbia Electric Railway Company for the loss of both feet under the wheels of a Fairview car a year ago last September, and had been allowed $5,000 by the court.

The suit for damages was instituted in Vancouver, and here the plaintiff, who is an orphan of 18 years of age, won from the transportation company, which appealed the case through different stages till it reached the Supreme court here, where it was again decided in favor of Morton. The accident occurred in September, 1909, at the corner of Westminster avenue and Fifth avenue, about 11 o'clock on a Saturday night, when the lad was caught under the wheels of a Fairview car and lost both his feet.

mirrors of the policy of preferential trade would be the most vehement in their denunciation of the idea. Their expressed fear that reciprocity with the United States would impair the value to Great Britain of the preference is an evidence not that they love British competition more than American competition, but that they desire the least possible amount of competition from any source.

A HOME INSTITUTION. The British Columbia Life Assurance Company, the annual report of which appears on another page, is one of the purely British Columbia institutions which is showing the world that right here in this province is a field for business enterprises which, when rightly managed may prove very profitable.

TARIFF QUESTIONS. Talking about reciprocity with the United States and improvement of Canadian trade relations in general, it is very interesting to note that the secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, addressing a meeting of American manufacturers assembled in convention, intimated that Canadian manufacturers were well satisfied with present conditions and were averse to any change.

There was an interesting story in an American weekly a few days ago designed to show that the immigrant had a great advantage over most of the middle class native-born United Statesers of the big cities.

Here is another chance for the utilization of the extraordinary energies of the ebullient Colonel, whom some people say cherishes an unwholesome ambition to be crowned first emperor of the United States.

C.: Gentlemen—I have driven my McLaughlin Buick Car continually since May 18th, 1909, covering OVER 15,000 MILES, and during this period my repairs and replacement account has only been $7.00, for one spark plug and one spring. My car is running as well now as when I purchased it. I have travelled over some of the roughest roads on this island, also been over the Summit several times, and still running on the same tires I got with the car. ### GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY MISS COMBE

Defeated Mrs. Griggs, of Tacoma, 6 Up and 5 to Play in Finals of P. N. G. A. Yesterday

Tacoma, Oct. 15.—Miss Combe, of Victoria, yesterday won the women's golf championship of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association, when she defeated Mrs. Everett G. Griggs of Tacoma in the final competition, 6 up and 5 to play. Miss Combe was far superior in her play to her opponent and won without difficulty.

Herbert S. Griggs, of Tacoma, and R. H. MacLeay, of Portland, qualified for the finals in the men's championship by winning their matches yesterday. Mr. Griggs defeated A. S. Kerry, of Seattle, 5 up and 4 to play, while Mr. MacLeay won handily from C. W. Russell, of Tacoma, by 7 up and 5 to play.

Fifty couples have started in the mixed foursomes. The handicaps are being played to-day, with about eighty players entered in the men's event.

LORD HAWKE RETIRES FROM COUNTY CRICKET

After 25 Years Activity in Field Yorkshire Captain Will Sit in Pavilion

After twenty-seven years' unbroken service as captain of the famous Yorkshire cricket team Lord Hawke has decided that time has come for him to resign. His decision was announced at a committee meeting of the County Club at Leeds and received with great regret.

Lord Hawke has for more than a quarter of a century been one of the most prominent figures in English cricket. He began his cricket career at Eton, though it was not until his fourth year that he got into the eleven. He came more rapidly to the front when he went up to Cambridge and received his "blue" in 1882. He played in the inter-Varsity matches until 1885, when he was elected the Cambridge captain.

Meanwhile he had been playing occasionally for Yorkshire, his introduction into the county team having been brought about by Canon E. S. Carter, the popular cleric and old Yorkshire cricketer.

In 1883 the Hon. M. B. Hawke, as he then was, was formally elected to the captaincy of the Yorkshire eleven, and twenty-seven years' unbroken occupancy of that position constitutes a record in county cricket.

He contributed many fine scores (among them ten centuries) to the county's total, but even had he never made a run his name would live as that of the man who was wholly and solely responsible, by his stern, yet kindly and just methods, for raising Yorkshire cricket to the high position it occupies to-day.

ATHLETICS CAUSE DOUBT AMONG FANS

Lost Four Straight Games to All-Stars—Open World Series Monday

(Times Leased Wire.)

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—The champion Athletics still insist that they were not "trying" in their games with the All-Stars aggregation of American league players that is conditioning the Philadelphia team for the coming world's series with the Chicago Cubs. The Athletics have not won a game from the All-Stars, who have taken four straight games from the American league champions.

Manager Jim McAleer, of the All-Stars, said to-day that the All-Stars is the best team living and offered to bet $10,000 that they could beat the Cubs in a series of five games.

The poor showing of the Athletics in their games with the All-Stars has had its effect on the Philadelphia fans and they are not so confident that the world's championship will rest with the American League team as they were a week ago.

The battling weakness of the Athletics is causing the fans the greatest worry. Mack's men have shown up woefully poor against the All-Star pitchers and the fans are wondering if Coombs, Plank and Bender can hold the Cubs down to as poor a showing.

The baseball bugs here fear that Chicago will play a bunting game, at which they are masters.

The advance sale of seats for the first four games up to last night is the largest ever recorded for corresponding games in a world's series. The Philadelphia team will leave to-night for the country, returning Monday for the opening game.

PORTLAND DOGS WIN LADNER FIELD TRIALS

Sacajawea Won the Derby—Spots Rip Rap, All Age Winner—Rex of Salem, Champion

The annual trials of the British Columbia Field Trials Club were brought to a close yesterday at Ladner with the running of the Championship stake, which was won by Rex of Salem, owned by E. A. Parsons, of Portland, Ore. The trials this year have been the most successful in the history of the club, eight dogs starting in the Derby, while a field of fourteen started in the all-age stake.

The Membership stake was dropped from the list this year.

Vancouver dogs made a very good showing in both the feature events, Mr. D. G. Macdonnell's Spots Rip Rap winning the All-age stake, while he finished runner-up in the Grand Championship. Birds were plentiful this year, there being plenty of pheasants and Hungarian partridges and the dogs showed particularly good form.

Results:—

Derby, 1. Sacajawea, owned by E. A. Parsons, Portland; 2. Doc Spots, owned by J. B. Miller, Vernon, Wash.; 3. divided between Zyp, owned by W. Haswell, Vancouver, and Uncle.

All-Age Stake,

1. Spots Rip Rap, owned and handled by D. G. Macdonnell, Vancouver; 2. Rex of Salem, owned by E. A. Parsons, Portland; 3. divided between Sweet Marie, owned by M. Zippel, LaConner, Wash., and Jock, owned by H. H. Abbott, Vancouver.

Championship Stake,

1. Rex of Salem, owned by E. A. Parsons, Portland; runner-up, Spots Rip Rap, owned by D. G. Macdonnell, Vancouver.

KING GEORGE HAS A NEW AUTOMOBILE

British Make, with 7-Inch Tires, Which Give Unusually Luxurious Riding

The King's new car is very much an "all-British" vehicle, the chassis is a six-cylinder, nominal 57 horse-power "Silent Knight" Daimler one, fitted with coachwork by Messrs. Hooper, of St. James street, and having the latest development of huge 7-inch Palmer cord tires, which gives uncommonly luxurious riding; it is also found, by Lord Montagu of Beaulieu, among others, to give much longer wearing life to the tires, which on this size and power of vehicle have usually cost $4 a mile, whereas the bill can now be brought as low as 1-1/2 a mile without saving the car in any way. The King, it is to be noted, uses detachable wire wheels, which will soon become the only kind in use, if only because of enhanced safety in cases of skidding or collision. The coachwork is in the nature of a limousine body, which is the sort that is a fixed cover, one, but this example has so many and such ample collapsible windows that, on the instant and at will, it can be lowered into an open carriage without even pausing in the journeying along the highroad. His Majesty has a Smith speed indicator of what is styled the "Duplex" sort, using acetylene head-lamps and electric side lamps, both sets of the "Goldenlyte" British-made sort, as the tail lamp, the accumulator, the generator lamp, the accumulator, indeed, all the accessories.

ALFRED R. HODGES TO INSTRUCT REGIMENT

Alfred R. Hodges, the young Olympic athlete whose arrival here was announced some months ago, has been engaged by the Fifth Regiment Sports Club to act as physical instructor for this winter.

Regimental athletes will have the benefit of his services two nights weekly, Tuesday and Thursday nights, having been decided upon for the regular classes.

The first class will assemble Tuesday night when all members of the Regimental Sports Club who want to take advantage of the regular physical training should be on hand. Several members of the officers' mess propose entering the class.

SPORT NOTES.

Do any of the followers of Association football in this city know of a record to beat this one: The Civic Wanderers and the Scottish teams of Winnipeg have played four ties in the Trades and Labor Cup competition and in each case the tie has been no score. On two occasions extra time was played, but with the same story of no score. This is a record dating back to 1885—when the Shankhouse and Morgan Harrier teams played five drawn games in the Northumberland Cup, but goals were scored. One can find no record where four ties were played without a goal having been scored. Does anybody know of one?

Why not organize a National Amateur Lacrosse Association along the lines of the A. A. U. of Canada? That is to say, see to it that separate provincial associations are formed in the various provinces. There are two for a nucleus—the Canadian Lacrosse Association and the British Columbia Lacrosse association. Organize in Manitoba; organize in the Western provinces, the representatives of each organization to comprise the National Amateur Lacrosse Association executive. Then possibly there might not be this sort of a mix-up over the Mann trophy.

Pro. lacrosse is here to stay, and Montrealers have proved, not that the pro. game is a failure, but that professional players and an amateur management are a bad mixture. Pro. lacrosse with a business management can be made a paying proposition in either Montreal, Toronto, Westminster or Vancouver.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Following a conference with Third Baseman Corridor of the St. Louis Browns, President Ban Johnson, of the American League, to-day announced his belief that Napoleon Lajoie's eight hits made in the game between Cleveland and St. Louis would be allowed to stand. Johnson said that his investigation of the scandal talk that arose after the game, is completed, with the exception that he would question Manager O'Connor of the St. Louis team.

New Westminster, Oct. 15.—Australian papers received in the city last night report favorably on the proposition mooted in New Westminster a few weeks ago to send the lacrosse team on a tour of that country. The season for lacrosse in Australia is over for this year and the matter will not be taken-up locally again until next spring.

Notice the pictures of the Albion cricketers and others in Uncle Dud's window. The captain's is ornamented with a beautiful green duck egg and Percy's with a wonderfully intelligent look.

Seven a-side indoor lacrosse is to be played at the Vancouver horse show building next week when the Shamrock club puts on a club benefit smoker, and boxing entertainment.

Takenosuke Samejima, one of the best known fighters in the Japanese navy, died at Tokio on Friday, aged 67. Samejima was once a member of the house of peers and later chief secretary to the cabinet and auditor of the Bank of Japan.

Very animal kept by man, excepting the cat, is taxed in Austria, and now there is a proposal to tax pussy in that country.

GIRL PAYS $200 FOR A HUSBAND

Marries in Order to Fulfill Terms of Uncle's Will—Part After Ceremony

Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—Miss Eugenia Adams, who advertised a reward of $200 for the man who would marry her within a week in order to fulfill the will and claim the estate of her grandfather in Germany, was married yesterday to Harvey O. Brown, a building wrecker. Chief Justice Bundy in the municipal court performed the ceremony.

When the ceremony was concluded the bride handed over two crisp $100 notes. "I'm much obliged to you," she said to her husband. "Good-bye," and without another word she walked out of the court room.

"Good bye and good luck to you," replied Brown.

Brown glanced from his disappearing bride to the bills in his hand. "Darned nice girl, hate to see her go," he muttered laconically. "But it was a bargain and I'll stick to it. If she ever wants to come back, darn it, I'll take her, too. If she don't, I won't bother her." The bride left at once for Philadelphia, where she will sail on the first boat to Germany to claim her estate. Brown went back to his job.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

New-York, Oct. 15.—Bradstreets says: Trade is irregular and still lacks snap, but the better undertone noted last week has become more widely disseminated. Causes for the improved feeling have been the official confirmation by the government crop reporting service of trade estimates of a bumper yield of corn and oats and a larger than expected yield of wheat, the liberal marketing of crops, more especially cereals, live stock and cotton, the advent of cooler, settled weather in some sections, and the rather better tone of the securities market.

The improvement, as a whole, is not marked, and the conservatism earlier noted is still manifest in small and frequent, rather than large buying. In some lines, as for instance, cotton goods, the profit that stocks of goods are relatively light has become more evident, and with higher prices for the raw material have come hardening quotations for the goods themselves. Wool is firmer than of late and there has been liberal buying in the interior by large manufacturers; but advices of

MAKES REPORT AS TO SEWERAGE

CITY ENGINEER ON BIG CIVIC PROBLEM

Nearly Quarter Million Dollars Involved in Scheme as Outlined

City Engineer Smith at last evening's meeting of the streets committee of the city council submitted the following report on proposed extensions to the sewerage system:

"I have had surveys and estimates made with a view to determining the extent of the sewerage requirements that will be needed in the near future. A new outlet will be required for that portion of the city north of Edmonton road and east of Cedar Hill road. This portion of the city can be drained by a trunk sewer beginning at Haultain street and Cedar Hill road, running thence easterly along Haultain street to Victor street to King's road, thence east along King's road to Richmond street, thence southeasterly to the avenue, thence southeasterly to the intersection of Port street and Foul Bay road, thence following the natural depression a distance of approximately 4,000 feet to an outlet in the sea at Oak Bay, approximately 100 feet north of San Carlos avenue. I estimate that it will cost $88,000 to build sewers for this locality within the city limits, and $12,000 for an outlet in Oak Bay municipality and for the construction of a septic tank near the sea.

not a very great range, is exceptionally sweet, and her low notes are as clear and full of ripples as a bird's. Her stage presence, too, is most pleasing. Mr. Codd was particularly successful in his presentations of the rollicking ballad, "Cavaliers and Roundheads," and his encore, "Mary," was very pleasingly rendered. Mr. and Mrs. Codd will always be favorites with Victoria audiences.

Miss Phillips' brilliant performance on the piano, more especially her final number, "Dance Caprice," by Greig, was greatly enjoyed, and she was obliged to respond to an encore.

Mrs. Guy Goddard's musical reading, "The Birth of the Opal," was very pretty and gracefully given, and "An Old Romance," given as an encore, brought a smile to every face.

Mrs. MacLure and Mrs. A. J. Gibson opened the programme with a splendidly rendered Rondo from 3rd concerto, on two pianos, and Mrs. H. Pooley and Mrs. Harry Briggs were in splendid voice and sang with their customary grace and finish, and were heartily encored.

The provincial government last week sent $2,500 to the Hon. Mr. Hazen, premier of New Brunswick, to be handed to the committee in charge of the Campbellton relief fund there.

The list for local contributions will be closed this evening and the amounts forwarded on Monday. All subscriptions will be acknowledged through the press.

Up to date the list is as follows:

The City Council	$100
The Canadian Club	25
The Women's Club	25

NEW FLYING RECORD.

Aviation Field, St. Louis, Oct. 15.—A new American aviation record for a mile was made yesterday by Alfred Le Blanc, the French aviator, who flew a mile in 53 seconds. Le Blanc used a Bleriot monoplane. The former record was a fraction less than a minute, and was held by Claude Grahame-White, being made at the Boston aviation meet.

The hawk can fly at a speed of almost 150 miles an hour; the rook 60; and the pigeon 50.

But if you are going to be a fool just because other men have been, oh, my son, what a hopeless fool you will be.—Bur-detts.

PLANS NEW YARDS AT SOUTH WESTMINSTER

B. C. Electric Railway Company Raise Level of Land on Waterfront

New Westminster, Oct. 14.—Arrangements have been concluded between the management of the Fraser river branch of the B. C. Electric Railway Company and the Dominion government whereby the dredge King Edward will be utilized to raise the level of the low lands owned by the company at South Westminster. On the reclaimed land the railway company will construct a large yard, and erect buildings, the total expenditure to be at least $100,000.

The railway company own some 42 acres of land on the waterfront at South Westminster, which is too low lying at present to be of use and the frontage is closed by a large sand bar. The dredge will raise the level of the land some four feet, drawing the material from the bar and thereby cutting a channel to the property. Just when the dredge will be available is uncertain.

The railway company proposes to expend about $100,000 in the building of their yards on the land which will be reclaimed. This will include track accommodation for over 250 cars, a car barn capable of stabling about 20 cars and locomotives and a repair shop of similar size and construction to that in the city. The yards and buildings will be entirely devoted to the repairing and maintaining of cars for the Fraser Valley branch of the company's system.

For the present no passenger coaches for this line will be built on the coast, all the passenger equipment necessary being obtained from eastern shops, the city requirements occupying the full capacity of the local shops. But several baggage cars for the Fraser Valley branch will be constructed here. At the present time the rolling stock on the new line, including locomotives, passenger, baggage and freight cars numbers about 200. These will be sufficient, it is believed, to meet all requirements until such time as the new shops are ready for use when the new equipment will be constructed at home.

PROPOSED ADVANCE IN FREIGHT RATES

Railway Companies Close Case Before Interstate Commerce Commission

Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—President W. C. Brown of the New York Central lines, was on the witness stand yesterday in the investigation by the interstate commerce commission into the proposed advance in freight rates in the Eastern trunk line territory. With the conclusion of President Brown's testimony, the case of the railroads practically was completed, although J. C. Stewart, vice-president of the Erie, is to be heard.

Under the law, it is incumbent upon railroads to make a prima facie case for the reasonableness of any proposed general advance in rates considered by the commission. Through the testimony of President McCrea, of the Pennsylvania, President Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio, and President Brown, of the New York Central, coupled with the exhibits on statistics and statements of operating officials heretofore submitted, the railroad officials expect that they have established their case.

President Brown's testimony frankly set out the industrial and financial operations of the lines under its direction. He was cross-examined at great length and adhered closely to his view that they were entitled to a fair return upon the investments in the properties—a return that would enable them to meet the extraordinary expenditures on their property.

The presidents of the three great roads maintain that it is not only the ambition of railway officials, but the desire of travelling and shipping public that the railroads of the United States should continue to be the best in the world. In order to maintain this prestige for America, it is the opinion of Mr. Brown that the freight income of the roads should be greater than it is now.

A man may honestly think, himself honest, and a fresh week's experience make him doubt it altogether.—Faber.

HIGHEST MOUNTAIN ON THE CONTINENT

Peak 22,000 Feet High Reported to Have Been Discovered in Far North

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 15.—Thomas J. Riggs, jr., a government engineer, who has been at work on the Alaska boundary survey, has reported the discovery far north of the Arctic circle of what he believes to be the highest mountain on the continent, exceeding Mount McKinley, the famous Alaska peak, by nearly 3,000 feet.

Riggs and his party discovered the mountain while at work on the boundary survey near the Porcupine river, north of latitude 67. The mountain is east of the 141st meridian. Riggs estimates its distance from the Porcupine at 70 miles, placing it close to the little known Davidson range.

The party was unable to get close enough to make accurate measurements, but Riggs estimates its height at 22,000 feet. The height of Mount McKinley is 20,460 feet. Riggs said that the newly discovered peak, like Mount Tacoma, stands alone, no other mountains of great height being near. He hopes to get close enough to it next season to make accurate measurements.

Bringing two Bleriot monoplanes and prepared to "break his neck or break a record," J. Armstrong Drexel, the Pittsburgh millionaire, arrived on the steamer Lusitania at New York yesterday, and will participate in the Belmont aviation meet.

LOCAL STEAMER GOES ON ORCAS ISLAND IN FOG.

Was Bound From Boat Harbor to Bellingham With Cargo of Coal When Wrecked.

Newspaper received in the city yesterday that the steamer Forager, owned and operated by Leeming Bros., is ashore at Orcas Island and will probably be a total loss. The well known light coaster was bound from Boat Harbor with a cargo of 120 tons of coal for Bellingham on Wednesday night when she ran upon the rocks in a dense fog. Efforts were made to refloat her but all attempts have so far proved unavailing. Several of the crew are standing by the steamer which is down by the stern and will probably not be salvaged. The Forager, which is a steamer about 110 feet long and similar to the John L. Card in appearance, has been operated out of Victoria for several years past and is one of the best known of the mosquito fleet of coasters in British Columbia.

A HOME LIFE INSURANCE CO.

B. C. PEOPLE ARE AFTER-OWN BUSINESS

New Company With Headquarters in Vancouver—Will Open Offices in Victoria

That it is about time that the people of British Columbia should undertake the task of caring for at least a portion of its life insurance business is the conclusion reached by a number of the leading commercial men of Victoria and Vancouver and to that end a powerful assurance company has been formed and is now successfully launching. The company, which has ample capital is styled The British Columbia Life Assurance Company. Frederick W. Law is manager and secretary. Organization was completed in July of last year and the amount of business done since that date has been gratifying in the extreme. Mr. Law is now in Victoria preparing to open an office here and appoint a local manager. Seen this morning at the Empress Hotel, Mr. Law confirmed the announcement that the company was preparing to open offices in Victoria. He said there was every prospect that a big business would be done throughout British Columbia, the company in its brief career having already written policies amounting to $600,000.

"On every hand," said Mr. Law, "I found the people of British Columbia disposed to extend a welcoming hand to a home concern. They feel that the time has arrived when the province is big enough and the status of its financial men strong enough to undertake the handling of a considerable portion of the life insurance business and keep in the province much money which would otherwise go out of it. Why, for instance, just to show you how great is the business being done in British Columbia by outside companies I may tell you that I met a man here in Victoria who tells me that he sends $1,000 outside every year in premiums for his life assurance. We believe we can get a good share of that business and the measure of success which has attended our efforts thus far confirms us in that belief."

The first annual meeting of the British Columbia Life Assurance Company was held at the principal office of the company, Vancouver, on Tuesday, August 30, 1910, at the hour of 10:30 a. m.

The president, Mr. Jonathan Rogers, occupied the chair, and the manager, Mr. F. W. Law, acted as secretary of the meeting.

The following report of the directors was submitted:

July 31, 1910.
The British Columbia Life Assurance Company.
Authorized capital ..... $1,000,000.00
Capital, subscribed ..... 491,500.00
Receipts .....
Cash receipts from all sources ..... $ 54,475.93

Mr. Jonathan Rogers, president, in presenting the report, said: "Gentlemen and fellow shareholders: It gives me much pleasure to-day in being able to present to you at this our first annual meeting, such a creditable statement of the company's affairs. As you no doubt understand, the company is not accepting applications for insurance yet, but from the progress made in the sale of stock it will not be long until we have the required amount of shares subscribed for demanded by the Dominion Insurance Department at Ottawa, in order to obtain our license. I was not an incorporator of the company, but when I was approached last year with the request that I serve on the board of directors, I made a careful scrutiny of the state of the company at that time and found its affairs in an eminently satisfactory condition. At a subsequent general meeting of the shareholders, held to effect permanent organization, I had the honor of being elected your president, and I assure you I have made it my aim to know at all times what was transpiring with the company.

"Since occupying the position as head of the company, I have made it a cardinal principle that the expense account be kept down as much as possible, at the same time allowing enough margin to successfully carry on the organization in a creditable manner. You will see from the report that the total expense of incorporation was only $125.20, a very low figure indeed and I can add that all other accounts have been in keeping.

"We were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. F. W. Law as manager, his ability and influence having been fully recognized by the board of directors. Under his control we have made unprecedented progress, and by the time of the next annual meeting, we should be actively engaged in the business of life insurance as called for by our charter.

"A financial corporation of this nature is one that we all should support, and I am sure the future will show The British Columbia Life Assurance Company to be one of the strongest factors in the sound growth and development of this province; in addition to the entire Dominion."

The adoption of this report was moved by Mr. J. J. Banfield, first vice-president, who said: "Mr. President and gentlemen, I have pleasure in moving the adoption of the Directors' report, and congratulating the company upon the progress made towards the time when we will be in the field. The sale of stock has been most satisfactory. We have at the present time $32,542.15 to our credit in the bank, in addition to $40,820.00 in notes given for deferred payments, and upon the placing of the full amount of our stock we will have about $500,000 in cash and $500,000 on call. This amount will put the company on a footing that compares favorably with the organization of the leading companies in the business.

"Your directors realize the responsibility that will be placed on them from life insurance funds. Organizations of this kind are business men's business, both in the handling of the money and in the placing of the insurance.

"I congratulate the shareholders on their securing stock in our company, as the special charter under which we are organized has many advantages over charters issued under the new Insurance act.

"The directors have received considerable assistance from Mr. F. W. Law, with whom we were able to make a very satisfactory arrangement as to the sale of stock, and the organization of our office.

"The company is in a self-sustaining state at this time, as we have enough funds on deposit in the bank drawing interest, in addition to notes bearing interest, to pay all expenses and leave a surplus to add to the capital account. By the first of next year we will be in a position to begin the first life home insurance company to operate in this province. With the high prevailing rate of interest throughout the Western Provinces, namely from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Ocean, I am certain the British Columbia Life will meet with a great measure of success from its investments and at the same time be able to pay good dividends to its shareholders.

Mr. D. G. Williams, Director, in seconding the motion, said: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: It has been thought well that I should second this motion, as I was one of the first to be connected with the company. The report speaks for itself and I can not add much to what has already been said by the President and First Vice-President. Further than that we all should be glad and pleased to see the only life insurance company with its principal office established west of Winnipeg, showing such signal signs of growth that foretell success in the future. As the company becomes more widely known, people in this province will realize that we have built well, and also that the company will become an organization of the first rank. As the president has said, the affairs and business have been administered in a careful manner, and I am sure, judging by our past record, that we can always expect the active and hearty co-operation of each and every person interested in the upbuilding of The British Columbia Life."

The chairman then called for the question and the report was adopted unanimously.

The manager was called upon to address the meeting, and on rising was greeted with applause. He said: "Mr. President and Gentlemen: I feel too much praise has been accorded me for the work accomplished up to the present time. I wish to state that without the support of the directors I could not have done as well as the report shows the work has gone forward since I undertook the management on the first of March last. I have received loyal assistance from one and all, and it is to our combined efforts that future looks so bright. At the time my contract was signed, I found 3412 shares had been sold. Since then we have received approximately applications for 2000 shares, leaving only about 1000 more shares to be disposed of before we can secure the license from the department.

"It is gratifying to me to know you are pleased, as it is only with your aid that this company can go forward. I have lately returned from a two months' trip throughout the prairies, in which time I organized the field for the active sale of the remainder of our stock. To-day we have competent gentlemen engaged in this work and I wish to draw special attention to the business sent in by Mr. H. H. Gardner, manager of Saskatchewan, Mr. Hunter Cooper, manager for Manitoba, and Mr. George W. Potter, special representative in this province. In addition, all our local agents deserve praise for the splendid efforts they have made to assist our provincial managers. As you well know, the success of any company depends on its representatives, and I can assure you we have honest, active men working for us, and we aim to have the entire allotment of stock—10,000 shares in all, sold by the end of the present year.

"The report submitted to-day covers the business transacted up to July 31 of this year. Since that time we have received applications for stock which swell the subscribed capital to $550,000, a very gratifying increase indeed. I look for the month of September to be a banner one in our history, as I have been assured of redoubled efforts from our staff.

"There is another feature to which I wish to draw your attention, and that is this: While the stock is being sold the organization—such as the securing of agents and medical examiners—goes on apace. Formerly other companies have underwritten their stock and then had to perfect their organization. By our method we are preparing to have the entire medical and field staffs appointed in order that we can commence business throughout the other provinces the same day as we open here. You will readily agree, I am sure, that this is a unique feature, and one which means a considerable saving to us.

"While the stock is on the market, we are selling a special stock policy, which can be obtained by the holders of at least ten shares. The policy has advantages that can not be overlooked, and combines several features that appeal to the insuring public. I estimate that there will be at least $500,000 of business from this source to place on the books the first day we start. This policy will automatically cease to be sold at that time, as all the stock will have been disposed of.

"I wish to draw your attention to the fact that our consulting actuary is Mr. Miles M. Dawson of New York. He is one of the leaders of his profession, and one whose reputation is widespread. Mr. Dawson acted as advising actuary to the Royal Insurance Commission of Canada, and in the mission in the state of New York. It is safe to say our actuarial work will be dealt with in a satisfactory manner, and also that we will have policies second to none.

In addition to the support of the gentlemen I have mentioned, I want to express my thanks for the untiring efforts of our solicitor, medical director and treasurer. I have always found them willing to give me any possible assistance when called upon.

"The next annual meeting will show that we are actively conducting business."

A hearty vote of thanks and appreciation was passed for the successful efforts on behalf of the company made by the several provincial managers and local agents.

Resolutions were then introduced and passed for the re-election of the medical board and solicitor, and also for the holding of the next annual meeting on the first Monday in February, 1911.

Short addresses were made by Messrs. Thomas E. Ladner, J. T. Phelan, L. W. Shatford, M. P. P., Dr. W. D. Brydone-Jack, medical director; J. E. Ellis, solicitor, and C. E. Sampson, treasurer.

The chairman then stated that nominations were in order for the election of directors. On motion of Mr. J. B. Campbell, seconded by Mr. Joseph Caldwell, the following shareholders were nominated: Jonathan Rogers, J. J. Banfield, Richard Hall, F. C. Wade, J. T. Phelan, T. E. Ladner, L. W. Shatford, L. A. Lewis and D. G. Williams.

The nominations were then closed, and on the vote being taken the above gentlemen were elected for the ensuing term.

The meeting then adjourned. There was a large attendance of shareholders. Among those present were noticed: L. W. Shatford, M. P. P.; Dr. George Goostrey, J. T. Phelan, D. G. Williams, A. E. Latta, Jonathan Rogers, J. J. Banfield, J. Caldwell, J. N. Ellis, Thomas E. Ladner, S. H. Curtin, J. B. Campbell and J. W. Fairhall.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors, held immediately after the shareholders' meeting, Mr. Jonathan Rogers was elected president; Mr. J. J. Banfield and Mr. Richard Hall as first and second vice-presidents, respectively; Mr. F. W. Law was elected as manager and secretary, and Mr. C. E. Sampson as treasurer.

HUNTS FOR FUGITIVE

Anheim, Cal., Oct. 15.—Armed with a Winchester rifle and two revolvers, Santos Cairso, started yesterday for the Trabuca hills to search for Rosario Sainz, charged with murder, who escaped from the San Bernardino jail last week. Sainz is alleged to have killed Jose Machado by mistake. Cairso declared that the bullet which killed Machado was meant for him (Cairso).

A feud of long standing, he said, exists between himself and Sainz. Following Cairso's request that he be permitted to take Sainz's trail, he was commanded by Sheriff Lacey to capture fugitive dead or alive. He has orders to shoot Sainz on sight.

"Either I will bring Sainz back or I will not return," Cairso declared as he started on the man hunt.

FRANCE LOOKS TO CANADA FOR WHEAT

Canadian Trade Commissioner Writes Regarding Market for Grain

Montreal, Oct. 15.—A letter urging that Canadian grain exporters wake up to the possibilities of France as a market for Canadian wheat was posted on the Board of Trade recently, but it did not arouse any great enthusiasm in the breasts of the exporters who studied it.

The letter said among other things: "The estimates of the crop of 1910, made by the Millers' Association, the special papers and the Department of Agriculture here, agree on a big shortage, which may be figured at an average of about twenty millions of metric quintals, and which will necessitate imports into France of say seventy-five million bushels, in gross figures, of wheat alone, before the end of September, 1911. In commercial circles they rely upon Canadian exports to face the said shortage.

"The situation is a splendid opportunity for Canadian grain exporters to realize the large occasional and even the limited steady possibilities afforded by the French market for Canadian wheat and grain in general."

The letter comes from the office of the Canadian Trade Commissioner in Paris. Spoken to in reference to this letter several prominent grain men declared that France could get all the wheat she wanted and probably would get it.

The Greatest Cure For Rheumatism in the World

"Knowlton, Que., Oct. 12th, 1905.
"For many years I suffered from severe Rheumatism, and the attacks were very distressing and prevented me from doing my ordinary work. I tried many remedies and physicians' treatments, but nothing seemed to do me much good, and I was becoming very anxious for fear I would become a permanent cripple from the disease.

"I tried 'Fruit-a-tives' and this medicine has entirely cured me, and I honestly believe it is the greatest Rheumatism cure in the world."

"E. R. MILLS.
Such a statement could not be bought from a man like Mr. Mills. He thinks too much of his good name, to sell it or sign it for an untruth. Mr. Mills tried 'Fruit-a-tives' after all other treatment failed, and 'Fruit-a-tives' cured him of Rheumatism. In the goodness of his heart, he wrote the above letter in order that sufferers in all parts of Canada should know that there is one remedy that actually does cure Rheumatism. This testimonial was entirely unsolicited on our part. We did not know that Mr. Mills was taking 'Fruit-a-tives' until we received the above letter.

It is a case like Mr. Mills' that proves the marvelous powers of 'Fruit-a-tives' in arresting and curing disease. It may be stated, without fear of contradiction, that 'Fruit-a-tives' will positively cure Rheumatism when properly used.

'Fruit-a-tives' is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices and is the greatest Rheumatism cure known to modern science. Fifty cents a box, $ for $2.50, or trial box 25c. Sold by all dealers or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

FALES NINE STORIES.
Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 15.—Although he fell nine stories from the steel framework of the new building of the Los Angeles Trust Company's building, Charles Umberger, a metal worker, received no worse injury than a broken arm.

Umberger fell from the tenth story of the new building and landed on the roof of an adjoining one-story structure. His feet went through the roof, leaving him suspended by the arm pits. J. C. Spencer, a clerk in an office in the small building, who saw Umberger's wildly waving legs, secured a ladder and with the help of other clerks helped Umberger to the floor.

The evidence showed that the owner had entered into negotiations himself with a party for an exchange of properties between them. She did so, although she stated in court that she had intended doing so ultimately. Plaintiff then claimed commission from defendant, who refused; hence the action.

HOLDING WHEAT FOR HIGHER PRICES

Oregon Railway Man Says There is as Yet No Heavy Demand for Cars

Portland, Ore., Oct. 14.—That there has been no large demand as yet for cars to move the 1910 wheat crop in the Northwest is attributed to the fact that farmers have not begun to dispose of their crops, except in isolated cases, according to E. W. Robinson, general freight agent of the Southern Pacific and O. J. & N. lines to-day. "The farmers in the large producing wheat districts are holding for better prices, and as a great percentage of the growers are able to do so, this year's crop has not started to move to a large extent," said Mr. Robinson. "With a general shortage of crops throughout the country, it would seem that prices will soon become more attractive to the farmers. I look for a strong movement within the next few days. Then we will be taxed to our capacity in supplying cars to move the crops."

A Detailed Statement of the Unusual Offer to Investors

This company has just been organized under the strict laws of California, having an authorized capitalization of 10,000,000 shares of a par value of $1.00 per share. It has been organized under a broad charter which enables it to acquire and develop proven California Oil properties, construct pipe lines, build refineries and engage in any other business appertaining to the Oil industry. Deals have already been consummated for the acquisition of at least three of the leading individual oil companies of California. The net income of two of these companies at this time, conservatively estimated at a very low price for crude oil, is about $300,000 per annum. This represents a profit of 10 per cent per annum on the entire capitalization of the California Consolidated Oil Company at the present price of the stock, regardless of future development. Properties and Earning Power. The properties proposed to be operated by the California Consolidated Oil Company, now being operated by three individual oil companies, are as follows: MASCOIT OIL COMPANY—Located in the Midway District. Consists of 160 acres. Equipped with 34 wells. Four additional wells now being drilled. Present output 90,000 barrels per month, provides a net income of $360,000 per annum. Has a contract for the delivery of 5,000,000 barrels of oil at a gross price of $2,500,000. Now paying dividends of 2 per cent per month. PREMIER OIL COMPANY—Located in Coalinga Oil Fields. Property consists of 160 acres. Fourteen producing wells, one now being drilled and one ready for drilling. These 16 wells, basing the figures upon the present production of the 14 now producing, will yield at least 864,000 barrels yearly. This means a net income of $240,000. Has been paying dividends at the rate of 12 per cent per annum. YELLOWSTONE OIL COMPANY—Holdings in Kern River, Sunset and McKittrick Fields. Property consists of 225 acres, all leased to other companies except 10 acres. This 10 acres being operated by the company, contains six wells. The estimates of profit from the Mascot and Premier properties above are based upon the present 50 wells upon the two properties. In the judgment of the best oil experts of California, these properties will easily support 140 wells. On the same conservative basis of estimate, this should provide a net income of $1,630,000 per annum. This estimate is based upon the two properties alone, making no allowance for the Yellowstone property or for other profitable branches of the industry into which this corporation will enter. A Detailed Statement of the Unusual Offer to Investors

This company has just been organized under the strict laws of California, having an authorized capitalization of 10,000,000 shares of a par value of $1.00 per share. It has been organized under a broad charter which enables it to acquire and develop proven California Oil properties, construct pipe lines, build refineries and engage in any other business appertaining to the Oil industry. Deals have already been consummated for the acquisition of at least three of the leading individual oil companies of California. The net income of two of these companies at this time, conservatively estimated at a very low price for crude oil, is about $300,000 per annum. This represents a profit of 10 per cent per annum on the entire capitalization of the California Consolidated Oil Company at the present price of the stock, regardless of future development. Properties and Earning Power. The properties proposed to be operated by the California Consolidated Oil Company, now being operated by three individual oil companies, are as follows: MASCOIT OIL COMPANY—Located in the Midway District. Consists of 160 acres. Equipped with 34 wells. Four additional wells now being drilled. Present output 90,000 barrels per month, provides a net income of $360,000 per annum. Has a contract for the delivery of 5,000,000 barrels of oil at a gross price of $2,500,000. Now paying dividends of 2 per cent per month. PREMIER OIL COMPANY—Located in Coalinga Oil Fields. Property consists of 160 acres. Fourteen producing wells, one now being drilled and one ready for drilling. These 16 wells, basing the figures upon the present production of the 14 now producing, will yield at least 864,000 barrels yearly. This means a net income of $240,000. Has been paying dividends at the rate of 12 per cent per annum. YELLOWSTONE OIL COMPANY—Holdings in Kern River, Sunset and McKittrick Fields. Property consists of 225 acres, all leased to other companies except 10 acres. This 10 acres being operated by the company, contains six wells. The estimates of profit from the Mascot and Premier properties above are based upon the present 50 wells upon the two properties. In the judgment of the best oil experts of California, these properties will easily support 140 wells. On the same conservative basis of estimate, this should provide a net income of $1,630,000 per annum. This estimate is based upon the two properties alone, making no allowance for the Yellowstone property or for other profitable branches of the industry into which this corporation will enter. LITTLE BOY IS BURIED ALIVE IN SAND PITS. Arthur Nicholson Victim of Dismal Death. Arthur Nicholson, aged 15 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson, recent arrivals in South Saanich, was smothered to death when a land slip occurred and buried him. Immediately after the accident, the companions of Nicholson, who had a narrow escape from being caught in the death-trap, summoned aid from nearby residents. The rescuers worked diligently to recover the body before life had become extinct, but on extracting him it was found that he was dead. The children state that the slip came without warning and that young Nicholson, who was playing close to the foot of the embankment, was unable to escape, although he tried desperately. He was buried in several feet of sand and the task of rescuing him was by no means easy owing to the nature of the covering.

The Highlanders fooled in the fourth, but the Giants got one on Doyle's single, his advance to third on Vaughn's wild throw and Murray's sacrifice fly. Neither side scored in the fifth. The Highlanders scored one in the sixth when Hemphill doubled and trotted across the plate on Chase's two bagger. In their half of the same frame the Giants scored three. # An Echo From The Distant Past

The editor of the Times, was very glad to receive the other day the following self-explanatory letter:

"The Rectory,
Farmington-Earl,
England,
Sept. 29, 1910.

"Dear Sir,
"As a slight token of my appreciation of the Times, I venture to ask your acceptance of the enclosed photograph, copied from a scarce original and representing, I believe, the Legislature of Vancouver Island between 1863 and 1866. If you should think it worthy of reproduction in your columns, old-timers among your readers will identify without difficulty the several members of the group.

"Believe me, dear sir, yours truly,
(Sgd.) "A. ALSTON."
The writer, Rev. A. E. Alston, is a native of Victoria, being a son of Edward G. Alston, a pioneer legislator of British Columbia. The photograph which accompanied the letter, and is produced herewith, was submitted to Edgar Fawcett, who kindly identified the persons appearing therein as follows, reading from left to right:

Charles Good, deputy colonial secretary; Wm. H. Franklin, messenger; Mr. McClure, Victoria; Edward G. Alston, registrar-general of titles; Philip J. Hanken, acting colonial secretary; that is likely to impede, and favoring all that is likely to facilitate such a result. But I am aware that the prevailing feeling is, at present, strongly adverse to such a measure, and in defence of that feeling, I am prepared to take steps for placing them under different governors, so soon as proper financial arrangements are made for permanent support of the government.

"It is, however, plain that the fixed population of British Columbia is not yet large enough to form a sufficient and sound basis of representation, while the migratory elements far exceed the fixed, and the Indian far outnumber both together. Gold is the only product of the colony, extracted in a great measure by an annual influx of foreigners. Of landed proprietors there are next to none, of tradesmen not very many, and these are occupied in their own pursuits, at a distance from each other. Under these circumstances, I see no mode of establishing a purely representative legislature, which would not be open to one or two objections. Either it must place the government of the colony under the exclusive control of a small circle of persons, naturally occupied by their own local, personal or class interests, or it must confide a large amount of political power to immigrants or other transient foreigners, who have no permanent interest in the prosperity of the colony.
"For these reasons I think it necessary that the government should retain, for the present, a predominating which shall enable Her Majesty's government to ascertain, with some certainty, the character, wants and disposition of the community, with a view to the more formal and complete establishment of a representative system, as circumstances shall admit of it.

"With these explanations, I have to instruct you first to proclaim a law allotting to Her Majesty the right to all the above salaries to the officials of British Columbia; and, having done so, to give publicity to the enclosed order-in-council, and to convene as soon as possible, the proposed legislature. (Signed) Newcastle."
The members of the legislative council of British Columbia, to be appointed from the colonial officials, were: Ex-officio, the colonial secretary, the attorney-general, the treasurer, the chief commissioner of lands and works, and the collector of customs.
The question of the union of the colonies occupied the attention of the leading men of both the island and the mainland, and was warmly discussed. Resolutions for and against were passed at public meetings, and in the legislative assembly at Victoria, as well as in the executive council in New Westminster.
On January 26th, 1865, resolutions were submitted to the assembly: "That the immediate union of this colony with British Columbia, under such constitution as Her Majesty's government may be pleased to grant, is the means best adapted to prevent permanent causes of depression, as well as

FASHION NOTES

Entire small hats, usually of turban shape, in breast feathers are not a novelty, but this fall they are appearing in a greater variety of good shapes and in more beautiful colorings that ever before. For a first autumn hat to replace the battered and faded straw, one of these turbans is a conservative and wise choice, for they are light in weight, attractive and not as likely to be unsatisfactory later as is a felt hat bought before the modes are definitely set. Moreover, the very handsome feather turban is too expensive to be commonized and cannot be imitated in cheap material so readily as can the popular black satin hat, which bids fair to be the early autumn millinery fad.

There are innumerable little hats designed primarily for motoring, though some of the models are available for street also, and some women prefer a general utility, hat small and comfortable enough for motoring to a model suitable for wear nowhere save in a car. A little round shape in beaver or felt, something like a skull cap, but without seams and with a brim rolling up closely across the forehead and arching above the ears, is of French design and is usually trimmed with choux at the sides and strings or merely with a draped veil and large-headed pins. Some of the little close-fitting black satin hats are admirable for motor purposes, light, comfortable, easily veiled and shedding dust readily.

Hats still sit low on the head, the little drooping brim hats and bonnet-like shapes often fairly covering the front and back of the hair and falling low over the forehead. Many of the shapes are made with reference to the soft puffs and curls, etc., which have crept into the back of the modish coiffure, and are quite impossible with closer hairdressings.

The beavers are offered in various phases of fluffiness, softness, etc., the length and thickness of the pile or nap varying as well as the quality of the material. Exquisite colorings are shown in these beavers, particularly in the somber, yet rich, tones—lovely grays and blues and browns, soft, fruity deep reds and purples, beautiful bronze-greens. Some particularly good models have been displayed in these soft bronze greens, and the blues appear likely to extend their summer vogue over into the autumn. There are charming things in gray. One was covered with smoky gray satin crepe and a wide, drooping brim and a large crown practically hidden under a swirl of plumes, white next the stem, but gray tipped.

A cluster of heavy upstanding ostrich plumes is used for the trimming of many of the high-crowned small hats, the plumes being posed so that they stand almost upright and accentuate the height of the hat. Beautiful wings are in demand, too, and on the so-called small hats are made to add to the height, though they stand backward slightly. On the big turban-like shape, whose broad slant upward toward the back wings are much liked, the broad, full beautiful things sweeping upward jauntily and often extending far out at the back.

These wings are worked out in most exquisite colorings, as are all of the fancy feather effects. Clusters of tail feathers or quills starting from soft tufts of feathers, the whole beautifully blending coloring, are numerous and trim effectively the small hats with deep, close, upturned brim, and extending upward and backward.

A host of the new shapes have wide brims turning up sharply against the crown all around, though higher at one point than at another. This highest point is frequently at the back the width of the brim, lessening toward the front; and the crown, plain or draped, usually follows the same lines, sloping upward toward the back.

To those who suffer sickness, to those who want to be well, we say let us buy a 50-cent bottle of Psychine from your druggist and give it to you free to prove.

The white corpuscles of the blood—the Phagocytes, as they are known scientifically—are the policemen of the scavengers of the body.

Not a germ of disease can invade the body anywhere but these white corpuscles get after it. And, if they are strong enough or in sufficient numbers, they devour it.

If they're not strong enough or in sufficient numbers, then the invading army of disease germs triumphs and disease holds the body.

Any preparation that strengthens these white corpuscles or that increases their number, will not only preserve health, but will build up its defences so strongly that contagion or infection are impossible.

Herbs have always been great curative agents from time immemorial. They have been styled nature's own remedies.

Certain herbs more than others are noted for their curative powers. And it has been found that those herbs that are most effective in maintaining or restoring health, do so by building up the white corpuscles or Phagocytes.

These herbs are incorporated in Psychine.

And it is the tremendous curative power of these herbs that is responsible for the unequalled record of this splendid preparation.

Think of it. In Psychine we have a preparation that has been in use a third of a century. That has cured hundreds of thousands of many kinds of diseases.

For which we have received hundreds of thousands of unsolicited testimonials.

Here are the diseases for the treatment of which Psychine is indicated:

GROUP OF PIONEER LEGISLATORS.

Clement Cornwall, Hon. Wymond Hamley, Robert Kinser, upper country members; Hon. Amor De Cosmos, Arthur Bunster, Joseph W. Carey, members for Victoria City; Thomas B. Humphreys, Henry Nainan, members for Lillooet; Hon. Dr. Helmcken, Victoria City.

Something about the manner in which the first representative assembly was created will no doubt prove of interest to Times readers in connection with the foregoing. Governor Douglas forwarded a long memorial to the secretary of state and in a dispatch dated June 15, 1863, His Grace the Duke of Newcastle, said:

"I have long had under my consideration the various questions which have arisen respecting the form of government which should be adopted in British Columbia and Vancouver Island; and I have now to communicate to you the decision at which I have arrived. I should have much desired, if it had been possible, that these two colonies should have formed one government. I feel confident that economy and efficiency would have been promoted, that commerce would be facilitated, that political capacity would be developed, that the strength of the colonies would be consolidated, and generally that their well-being would be greatly advanced by such a union; and I hope that the moderate and far-seeing men in both communities will be convinced of this, and will bear in mind the expediency of avoiding or removing all influence in the legislature. From the best information I can obtain, I am disposed to think it most advisable that about one-third of the council should consist of the colonial secretary and other officers, who generally compose the executive council; about one-third of magistrates from different parts of the colony, and about one-third of persons elected by the residents of the different electoral districts. But here I am met by the difficulty that these residents are not only few and scattered, but (like the foreign gold-diggers), migratory and unsettled, and that any definition of electoral districts now made, might, in the lapse of a few months, become wholly inapplicable to the state of the colony. It would, therefore, be trifling to attempt such a definition, nor am I disposed to rely on any untried contrivances which might be suggested for supplying its place—contrivances which depend for their success on a variety of circumstances, which, with my present information, I cannot safely assume to exist.

"By what exact process this quasi-representation shall be accomplished, whether by ascertaining informally the sense of the residents of each locality, or by bringing the question before public meetings, or (as done in Ceylon) by accepting the nominee of any corporate society or body, I leave you to determine. What I desire is this, that a system of virtual, though imperfect representation shall be introduced, to stimulate trade, foster industry, develop our resources, augment our population, and ensure our permanent prosperity; and that this house pledges itself, in case Her Majesty's government shall grant such union, to ratify the same by legislative enactments if required; and that the resolution be submitted to His Excellency the Governor, with the respectful request that he may take the same into his earnest and immediate consideration."

His Excellency, Governor Kennedy, in a dispatch dated March 21st, 1865, transmitted the resolutions, and explained to the colonial secretary in reference to them, that they had been passed by the legislative assembly of Vancouver Island after a warm debate, by a vote of eight to four, on the 27th January, 1865. They were introduced by Mr. Amor De Cosmos, one of the members for Victoria. "It was thereupon alleged by the minority that the majority did not fairly represent public opinion and to test this fact, Mr. De Cosmos, who proposed, and Mr. C. B. Young, who opposed the resolution (being two members for the city of Victoria), agreed to resign their seats, and went before their constituents for re-election, which resulted in the return of Mr. De Cosmos and Mr. McClure, both advocates of a union and a tariff, by a large majority."

consultation with the chief whip (Sir Alexander Acland-Hood) and the chief agent (Mr. Percival Hughes), and he brought their authority to announce to the party in Lancashire that the Unionists would spare no effort to turn out the government during the autumn session.

If they could get a general election in January they would have a Unionist majority and a Unionist government to meet the representatives of the overseas Dominions at the Imperial conference called for next year. That was the crux of the situation. Another slamming and barking and bolting of the door would be fatal.

Unionists must get the government out, or, if by any chance the Liberals should contrive to avoid an election and to hang on, must stir up such a feeling throughout the country as would make it impossible for the blunder of 1907 to be repeated. But Unionists did not intend to let them hang on if they could help it. They meant "to go straight for getting them out."

Mr. Kent therefore lowered his wife and three children from the bedroom window, to be caught by Police-Sergeant Wright and a constable who had hurriedly arrived on the scene. Then the dog was lowered, and finally Mr. Kent let himself down.

HALL CAINE FINED.

Hall Caine was at Liverpool police court fined 5s, with 5s costs, for keeping a dog without a license.

The dog appeared on the stage in Hall Caine's play, "The Bishop's Son," and it was ascertained that no license had been taken out for it. Mr. Hall Caine had written stating he was the original owner of the dog, but that he had handed it over to the theatrical company, and had expected them to take over the entire responsibility. There was a misconception as to who should pay, but he had advised his secretary to take out immediately a license.

CONGREGATIONAL

First Church.

Rally Sunday. — The special services last Sunday were exceedingly well attended and were of great interest. In the morning the presence of some forty Boy Scouts in uniform added interest to the service, and the members of the Sunday school and their friends filled the church to its capacity. The pastor, Rev. H. A. Carson, preached an appropriate sermon, which was much appreciated. The flower service in the afternoon attracted much attention and the abundant supply of floral offerings were afterwards taken by a committee of the children to the hospitals for distribution among the patients. The evening service was a Young People's Rally and the members of the various young people's organizations rendered sacred choruses during the services. The sermon by the pastor was especially for young people. The church was again filled for the service. The attendance at the Sunday school service in the afternoon was a record one.

On Monday evening next the monthly missionary meeting will be held in the school room and the topic for discussion is "What a Denomination is Doing in Other Lands."

METHODIST

Metropolitan.

Temperance Address. — There was a large congregation last Sunday evening to listen to the address of the pastor, Rev. T. E. Holling, on "The Sting of the Adder." The case against the licensed liquor traffic was very strongly put, and the address made an impression upon all.

Epworth League. — The school room was well filled last Monday evening for the lecture given by Dr. Ernest Hall on "King Alcohol and His emissaries." The lecture was listened to with intense interest. The regular monthly missionary meeting of the league will be held on Monday evening next.

Final arrangements have been made for Mrs. Francis King Headlee's lecture on "Beautiful Hawaii, the Queen of the Sea," to be given on Wednesday, October 26th, in the school room of the church. This lecture has been given in many cities of the coast and reports say that it is one of the most interesting and instructive lectures ever given. ## SOME REMARKABLE CASES

MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP

Throughout the whole of Canada, it would be difficult to find a village, or even a street of over twenty houses, in which there do not reside persons who frankly state that they owe their present good health to the old and world-famous remedy, Mother Seigel's Syrup. The extent to which this well-known remedy is used as the regular family medicine, for all those troublesome ailments which arise from stomach or liver disorder, would be surprising were it not for the fact that this root and herb extract has established itself as a popular favourite, by reason of the remarkable cures it has effected all over the world. Here are three cases in point:—

Mrs. C. S. Gildert, of Prosser Brook, Albert Co., N.B., suffered severely from indigestion. In writing to the proprietors of Mother Seigel's Syrup, on Jan. 18, 1910, Mrs. Gildert said:—

"About four years ago, I fell ill and for nearly three years life seemed almost unbearable. The distress after eating was intense and I had pains in my right side. A faint feeling would come over me and I would vomit as soon as I ate anything. Nothing would remain on my stomach. I had a pain in my head that nearly drove me wild. Breathing became an exertion, and I fell a victim to nervous prostration.

"Of course, housework was impossible, as I had a 'swimming round' sensation badly that I would sometimes fall over when I attempted to stir about. I had much wind in my stomach and bowels, my heart palpitated; indeed I had aches and pains too numerous to mention.

"Many medicines failed to aid me, and I only began to take Mother Seigel's Syrup as a last resort. After the third bottle of Syrup, I felt the benefits of using it. I continued the Syrup until I was cured, so there is absolutely no doubt that I owe my restoration to health to Mother Seigel's Syrup. If anyone has indigestion, or suffers after eating, my advice is 'Take Mother Seigel's Syrup at once, and save unnecessary pain.'"

My appetite, naturally, was very poor. I lost flesh and became very weak."

As Mr. Lemieux had stomach and liver disorder, in a severe form, no wonder he felt weak and ill. But he tells us how the change came.

"I began," he says, "to take Mother Seigel's Syrup last July, and the change for the better in my health was quickly apparent. The numerous other preparations I tried did not give me relief, but at three months' course of Mother Seigel's Syrup restored me to perfect health. I can now work with ease, and eat without distress."

Like thousands of other people, Mr. Lemieux proved that Mother Seigel's Syrup does cure indigestion.

Mrs. John W. McGregor, of McLarty, Algoma District, Ont., writing to the Proprietors of Mother Seigel's Syrup, on Jan. 25, 1910, said:—

"Had it not been for Mother Seigel's Syrup, I know that I would not be alive to-day to testify to the virtues of your preparations. For many years, dyspepsia caused me great suffering, and nothing but Mother Seigel's Syrup gave me the least relief.

"At the early age of fifteen, I began to suffer distress after eating. The action of my bowels was irregular. I could sleep only by snatches. My face was pale, and frequently I had severe pains in my back. In 1883 I first began to use Mother Seigel's Syrup, and I found that it helped me. I used the Syrup with the best results, and I have had no further need of it for over twenty-six years. I have unbounded confidence in this remedy!"

Mrs. McGregor had no further need for Mother Seigel's Syrup because it restored her stomach, liver and bowels to healthful working order, and for twenty-six years they have done their digestive duty. The cures effected by Mother Seigel's Syrup are not only sure and speedy, but permanent too!

Mr. A. Lemieux, writing from Chambord, Lac St. Jean Co., P.Q., on January 9, 1910, stated as follows:—

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the value of Mother Seigel's Syrup. In my case it has been of incalculable worth. It has restored me to health, after suffering over three years from indigestion, or dyspepsia. I had pains after meals, headaches, sleepless nights, bad breath, and a coated tongue. I had distressing pains in the back and loins, as well as dizziness.

These letters are typical of tens of thousands received by the Proprietors of Mother Seigel's Syrup, and their genuineness can easily be proved by anyone who will take the trouble to do so. To any fair-minded person, they cannot fail to establish the merit of this old family medicine. Indeed, the very fact that Mother Seigel's Syrup, with its record of over forty years' unbroken success, has stood the severest of all tests—the test of time—should convince the most sceptical that there must be some great merit or quality, in this root and herb extract, which is not found in any other medicine known to the public, and which accounts for its world-wide popularity and success in curing disorders of the stomach and liver.

ECZEMA MUST YIELD TO THE WONDERFULLY SOOTHING, HEALING INFLUENCE OF DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

There is one thing you can depend on Dr. Chase's Ointment to do every time, and that is to cure eczema. There is no more severe test to which an ointment can be put, and because Dr. Chase's Ointment triumphed over eczema it has become the standard Ointment.

When another ointment is praised it is said to be as good as Dr. Chase's. And this illustrates the high position held by this preparation.

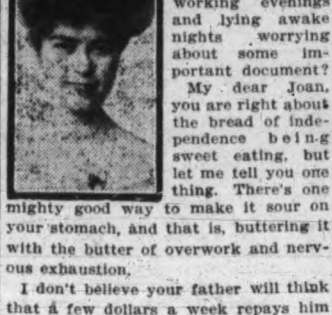

Mrs. Oscar Vanocott, St. Antoine, Sask., writes: "I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment to be a permanent cure for eczema and other skin diseases. One son while nursing broke out with running, watery sores all over his head and around the ears. Many salves were prescribed to no effect. The child's head became a mass of scabs and he suffered agony untold. He became weak and frail; would not eat and we thought we would lose him."

"Provisionally we heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment and it soon thoroughly cured him. He is seven years old now and strong and well. An older boy was also cured of eczema by this Ointment and we hope more people will learn about it so that their poor little ones may be saved from suffering."

Do not be satisfied with the experience of others, but put Dr. Chase's Ointment to the test when occasion arises. Try it for chafing and irritation of the skin, for chapped and cracked hands, for chilblains and frost bites, for sores and burns. It is delightfully soothing and healing. 60 cts. a box, all dealers; or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

One always pictures the astrologers of old time as aged men, and there is warranty for the idea that the quiet study of the heavens is conducive to longevity. Excluding Sir William Christie, who has been Astrologer Royal thirty years (he is now merely retiring under the age limit), there have only been seven previous holders of the Royal observatory since Charles II. founded it in 1675.

The Evening Chit-Chat
BY RUTH CAMERON

LETTERS OF A SUCCESSFUL WOMAN TO HER NIECE.

Dear Niece: What's all this I hear from your mother, about your working evenings and lying awake nights worrying about some important document? My dear Joan, you are right about the bread of independence being sweet eating, but let me tell you one thing. There's one mighty good way to make it sour on your stomach, and that is, butting it with the bitter of overwork and nervous exhaustion.

I don't believe your father will think that a few dollars a week repays him for having his jolly, sweet-tempered daughter transformed into a nervous, irritable creature who flies off the handle over nothing and has hysterics every time her big brother teases her a little.

Of course, you are nothing like that yet, but that's the goal you seem to be aiming for.

Now, niece, no doubt you've read a good deal in the newspapers, and so forth, about the clerk who doesn't see Miss Opportunity when she beckons to him, because he is too all-fired busy watching the clock.

Of course, there's plenty of truth in that kind of dope. But as usual, there's another side to that question. There's the man who's worked evenings and lain awake nights worrying over his business so much that he's too dead sleepy to open his eyes wide enough to see the lady of the beckoning finger even when she shakes it right under his very nose.

To keep yourself bright, and alert, and efficient, is your duty, both to yourself and your employer.

And that doesn't mean that you should always refuse to work overtime either. That would be absurd. There are exigencies in every business that demand that occasionally, and the girl who has her hatpins all poised ready to ram them into the correct holes at the first stroke of five, and who acts like an abused wife when her employer asks her to stop a few moments and take an important letter, loses as many jobs as she deserves to. But being asked to work overtime or in the evenings as a regular thing, is something that no girl should stand. When that happens it means that your employer is trying to make you do the work of two girls. And you can't do that even though you think you'd like to, except by drawing on the future. That means that some day you will have to pay up on that overdraft account by not being able to do the work of one. And that doesn't pay.

Now for the lying awake and worrying. That's got to stop right here, niece. Believe me, if you spend your first year just learning to leave your work at the office when you come away at night, and learn nothing else, you will have done well.

And doing that isn't lack of devotion to your employer and your business, either. It's the height of devotion.

Which do you think a business man would rather have come to work in the morning for him—a fagged-out, nervous girl who was so devoted to his interests that she spoiled her evening's relaxation and her night's rest worrying over a fancied mistake, that she couldn't correct until morning anyhow, or a bright, efficient young person who had put her business out of her head the minute she left the office, and rested and relaxed for all she was worth, and came back to her desk with a clear, steady brain, ready to correct any past mistakes and to minimize mistakes in the future?

Well then, niece, why don't you prove your common sense by being the right kind and justifying the skyhigh good opinion of

Your fussy but devoted-to-your-interests
OLD AUNT.

Stomach Distress IS ENDED FOREVER
Indigestion, Stomach Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Will Be Relieved in Five Minutes

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a small case of Pepsin Diapetsin and let you eat one 22-rain Triangle and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, gripping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as new; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapetsin.

"Good Cheer" Circle Water Pan Furnace

Evaporation from this big waterpan, which entirely surrounds the firepot and holds from 4 to 6 gallons, is sufficient to keep the warm air supplied to each and every room almost as humid as the outdoor air. That means genuine comfort without heating the house above 65°—and in consequence a substantial saving in coal.

Even more important than the economy is the improvement in the health of your whole family. Breathing the humid, healthy air from the "Good Cheer" furnace, they will escape the colds, sore throats and lung troubles which are bound to follow the continued breathing of the dried out, over heated atmosphere produced by the average furnace with its make-shift little water pan.

Before you decide on your furnace write for descriptive literature which explains more fully the advantages of the "Good Cheer" furnace and its patented Circle Water Pan.

BERESFORD ON NAVAL POLICY

WANTS SEVEN MORE BIG FIGHTING CRAFT

Makes Comparisons of Future Fighting Strength of Navy With That of Triple Alliance

Lord Charles Beresford has sent an open letter to Premier Asquith in which he urges that seven new heavy warships be laid down in addition to the present building proposals. The letter is of great interest as showing the point of view of British naval men on the important question of defence. It is in part as follows:

During the next few weeks there must occur a momentous crisis in the affairs of the nation and of the Empire. If the right measures are taken by the executive government, of which you, sir, are the representative, the defences of the Empire may be secured. But if, on the contrary, the present opportunity be neglected, then, sir, I will venture to affirm, with such assurance as fifty years of public service may lend my words, that the position of affairs with regard to the naval defence of the Empire will be three years hence fraught with a danger whose gravity I believe it to be difficult to exaggerate. I select the year 1913-14 as the critical moment, because if the country is to be fully equal to the contingencies which will then arise due preparation must be begun immediately.

These preparations must be begun during the present autumn, because, should they be postponed, the building capacity of the country will prove unequal to the requirements of the case, which involve the completion of a large number of vessels by a definite date.

In order that the naval power of Great Britain may be maintained in its proper relation to the strength of the naval power of foreign nations three years hence, I believe it to be absolutely essential that in addition to the five capital ships which are to be laid down next year, seven more first class armored ships should be laid down.

Such an increase in the force of heavy ships must, of course, be supplemented by the full and adequate provision of all those other elements of fighting power upon which depend the whole utility of the battle squadrons. These elements consist in men, stores, docks, cruisers, torpedo-craft, hospital ships, and a war reserve of coal.

For the moment I propose to confine my observations to the provision of capital ships, always assuming that their construction will be supplemented by their complete equipment with all fleet accessories. I have no intention of adducing facts or figures whose accuracy cannot be easily ascertained by means of reference to the proceedings in parliament and to the ordinary textbooks.

Before entering upon the question of the relative naval strength of Great Britain as compared with the naval strength of foreign powers, I desire to clarify the confusion which has been created in the public mind by the emergence of the new type of heavy warship, commonly called the Dreadnought type. In gun power and in speed the ships of the Dreadnought type are greatly superior to their predecessors. The fighting value of the pre-Dreadnought ships must automatically decrease by depreciation incidental to the lapse of time. No au-

WHAT CAN I DO FORM SKIN-TORTURED BABY?

In the Despairing Cry of Thousands of Mothers. A Scotchwoman Tells How Her Child was Cured.

"What can I do for my skin-tortured baby?" How many worried, worn-out mothers, whose children are suffering with eczema, tettes or other torturing skin-diseases, have asked themselves this question. Through neglect or improper treatment, some minor eruption has developed into a distressing and unlovely affliction. If treatments fail and strong ones are tried, sometimes so harsh that the suffering is increased rather than allayed. Even professional aid has proven useless. The disease will become chronic, turning the child's future into a nightmare of physical and mental misery.

Such mothers, who have witnessed their children's suffering and who have undergone the long, sleepless nights and distracting anxiety which they alone can realize, will understand the gratitude that prompted this letter from Mrs. John B. "Kiss" Stewart, Inverurie, Scotland, and will read it with keenest interest:

"I use Cuticura Soap steadily for my baby's skin. She had the eczema when she was three months old. She was in an awful mess all over her body. We never thought she would get over it. We sat with her night and day for about a month, expecting every minute to see her die. The doctor gave me an ointment to rub her with but it did her no good. My mother was from America and she told me to try Cuticura Ointment and to wash her with Cuticura Soap. There was a great difference when I used the first box. It seemed to soothe the itching of the skin and she was quite cured. She has the purest skin and it is the bestest in my neighborhood. I told the doctor about it. I am glad to tell anybody about it."

The success of the Cuticura Remedies is not confined to the treatment of eczema, is amply proven by Mrs. M. A. Schmidt, 674 Springfield Ave., Detroit, Mich., who writes:

"When my little Vivian was about six months old, her papa had a boil on his forehead. She was so afraid of it that she would not touch it and I suppose in scratching it her own head became infected. For it broke out in boils on her head. She had about six or eight and I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her of them entirely. We do not think any one can praise Cuticura Remedies too highly."

That mothers may test the efficacy and economy of the Cuticura Remedies for themselves, the Potter Drug and Chem. Corp., 121 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass., will send free of application, a generous trial box of Cuticura Ointment, sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of eczema, tettes, itching and scaling of the skin, dandruff, the itching and burning of the scalp. Under the influence of Cuticura Ointment the itching and burning stop, the child falls into a refreshing sleep, the mother rests, and for the first time, perhaps in many weeks, peace falls on a distracted household. The Cuticura Remedies are sold by druggists everywhere.

HARVEST OF THE SEA

Life on a Steam Trawler Described —Improvement in Methods of Fishing

Intimately associated as I am with the political life of Grimsby, I regarded it as in the nature of an obligation on my part to obtain, by personal experience, a knowledge of the fisherman's work on the waters in the pursuit of his livelihood, writes Tom Wing, M. P. for Great Grimsby, in the London Chronicle.

It is probable that the catch for the whole of the United Kingdom will this year total something over £12,000,000. There are many millions invested, and thousands of people employed in gathering in the harvest of the sea. In this work Grimsby occupies a leading place.

It therefore seemed fitting, in order to understand more fully the many complications of so great an enterprise, that it should be seen at first hand; and that was my object in shipping on the trawler Cyrano for the Faroe Islands fishing ground with as cheery a crew as ever manned so small a vessel. The Cyrano left the glorious Humber some days ago, and braved the North Sea past the frowning heights of Flamborough Head, where so many mariners have paid the toll of death. We sighted Peterhead, and passed Moray Firth, and so on through Pentland Firth into the spacious Atlantic, arriving at the Faroe fishing grounds after a journey of 600 miles.

The Faroe Islands rear themselves in the tempest-tossed North Atlantic like grim sentinels. They are intersected by fords, where drs. to be found harbors of refuge in which many a vessel has been saved from disaster while the sea spent its fury upon the terrible rocks without. The peoples who inhabit the group are a restless, hardy race like unto the old Vikings. Here the oppressed of other lands have sought the air of freedom. The Irish during periods of persecution while wandering across the Atlantic turned aside northwards and found a haven. One of the harbors records the fact in its name, Westmanhavn, in other words, the Haven of West Man.

must leave the story of these islands for some other time.

As the Cyrano approached the islands a smack sailed out to welcome her. This smack was once a Grimsby vessel, but in the march of progress has given place to the modern steam trawler upon the deck of which I stood. The Cyrano is, indeed, the last word in fishing vessels. Regardless of time and tide and wind, she has churned her way across those 600 miles of water, and presently she will spread her nets by the aid of machinery in the vasty deep.

She is fitted with every appliance for the capture of the fish, and for dealing with the haul, with a celerity unknown to the fisherman a few years back. Her decks are lighted with acetylene gas in place of the glaring oil lamps called "ducks." Steam comes to the aid of the fishers when pulling up the trawl net.

The engineer is an important factor in modern fishing. For over twelve days his engines worked unceasingly on the Cyrano. As one man left for rest another took his place, and at his behest the engine throbbed, moving tons of steel and raising myriad fishes. In every direction you see improvement. Boy labor has been reduced, and whilst the apprenticeship system may again become more prevalent it will be under much better conditions than in the old days. This is guaranteed by the fact that preliminary knowledge will be gained at the Fishermen's Institute, where every form of handicraft connected with this industry is taught under the education authority, guided by a committee of energetic practical men who give their valuable time for the public weal.

The improved life on board the trawler may to some extent be traced in the improved feeding arrangements. The steward is now a cook with some knowledge of the difficult art of catering for the men's wants. You realize this as you witness the deck hand, hungry, tired, viewing the substantial and varied food that is placed before him. Compare this with the bad old past when the food was spoiled by an inexperienced cook, and the angry crew practically starved at their posts.

I was struck by the sound and unerring judgment of the skipper in selecting the spot for a likely haul. Once his decision is arrived at, no time is lost in getting to work. The call is given to the engine-room to "slow down." All hands are on deck, the doors of the net are loosed from position, lifted and lowered. The bobbing

The Poet Philosopher

Father came home sore and surly from his labors in the mart; came home from the hurly-burly with some wormwood in his heart, for the luck had been against him in the war of bonds and stocks, and the other brokers fened him up and pelted him with rocks. So his heart was sad and bitter, mangled by misfortune's pokes; like a wild and savage critter, he kept ranting at his folks. And his wife was scared and worried by the smoking things he said, and the children, frightened, hurried pale and trembling, off to bed. And poor father roared and ranted, and he kicked at this and that, and he pawed the air and panted and he threw things at the cat. He was awful in his dudgeon, and his wife sat weeping there, when she should have got a bludgeon, or have slugged him with a chair. Oh, the wrathful man who raises in his home at close of day, fifty kinds of brimstone blazes in a chicken-hearted jay; and his wife is weak and dollish if he bends before the storm; she should get a club and polish off his wild, rambunctious form.

GOVERNMENT WHARF.
Prince Rupert, Oct. 14.—About the beginning of the new year the provincial government wharf in this city will be ready for use. This is the announcement of Sol. Cameron, the contractor for the work, who has just returned to the city. The sea wall, the lowest part of the work, is now nearing completion. With that part completed the remainder can be rushed forward much quicker. A place has been cleared for the construction of the great, reinforced concrete piles that are to be put in. The material is being assembled to be used in the construction and the moulding of them will soon commence. The apparatus for handling the heavy piles has all been got on the ground and there should be little delay when the undertaking is once in progress.

Unsworth, of Montreal, and Rev. E. Tremayne Dunstan, of West Seattle. Dr. Pidgeon of Westminster Hall, Vancouver, has also been asked to be present and take part in the meetings and the sessions will be of especial interest. The full programme will be given next week.

PIONEER FOUND DEAD IN CABIN.
Nelson, Oct. 14.—Lying in a pool of blood and evidently dead for hours, Charles Shannon, one of the pioneers of Deer Park and Renata, was found dead in a cabin on a ranch at Renata by Gerhard Buhler. The coroner's jury found no evidence of foul play and brought in a verdict of death from natural causes, believed to be heart disease. Deceased's two unmarried sisters live in London, Ont.

AUDITOR COTSWORTH'S REPORT DISCUSSED

Two Clauses Adopted by New Westminster Council—Others Referred to Committee

New Westminster, Oct. 14.—Auditor Cotsworth's report was discussed by the city council meeting in committee. The council passed and accepted the first two clauses; the first stating the conditions under which the auditor was appointed and the second remarking on the chaotic state of the city's books. Ten clauses had been discussed when the city solicitor, who was asked for his opinion on a certain point, threw a bomb into the camp by remarking that the council was proceeding with the report in an extraordinary manner. The solicitor was called in on a question as to whether the auditor could surcharge certain officials for delinquencies as he suggested in his report, and the solicitor took advantage of the opportunity to make a few remarks on the auditor's report. He did not see what good could be done by striking out a word here and substituting one there; by dropping a clause here or adopting one there. The council might receive the report, but there was not provision made for the council to adopt or revise the report. "What is the use of having an auditor and then treating the report like this. The council is making the report instead of the auditor. You will take two or three months at it like this." This rather put a damper on further discussion and discussion ceased, the report being laid over for the time being.

A feature of the meeting was the objections taken by members of the council, especially Ald. Johnston, to certain words used by Auditor Cotsworth in the report. "Schemers," "dodge," "falsely," "trick," were some of the words used which the aldermen could not countenance. Just before the meeting adjourned and after Solicitor McQuarrie had given his opinions on the subject, Ald. Gray moved that the report be filed with the evident intention of having it on record and bringing it up again to discuss any clause which might be of use to the city.

Ald. Bryson thought that Ald. Gray's intention was to bury the report and never have it come up again.

Ald. Gray explained that Ald. Bryson had evidently misunderstood him. For his part he was not afraid of a commission. He would be glad to see one.

At the start of the meeting Ald. Bryson asked leave to make a few remarks and as the council had resolved into committee no one raised any objection. He said that the auditor's report had been read and there were certain charges and allegations made. He had been talking to men who had been connected with civic offices for the past ten years and they one and all blamed all the difficulty on the system. So far as the system was concerned he did not feel free to properly express his opinion on it, but he thought that if the angle of the lower regions were working under that system, they would be well pleased. It was natural for men away back before the time of Moses the first to lay the blame on some one else. Some people laid the blame for all evil on his satanic majesty, but there were men, whom, if they had as much power as the devil, would use it to no better end.

Ald. Bryson expressed a wish that a commission of independent men would be appointed to probe the report. "Every member of this council is included directly or indirectly in this report; yet who are the judges? We who are judged. There is no common sense, reason or justice in it. There are friends of mine mentioned in the audit and it will be hard for me to pass upon it."

Mayor Lee remarked that much that Ald. Bryson had said coincided with what he had said on Monday night. There were many things in the audit which the council was not in a position to prove, and which if it adopted might become liable for. There were charges made against individuals, which the auditor said he could prove by the books and by statements of men. He had affidavits from men that certain things were done at the instigation of others, but these were ex-parte statements and should not be adopted by the council. "I do not think it will make any difference if certain of these clauses are struck out. I hope there is a great deal in the report which is incorrect. If all the statements are proved when the council and the people must take action. If malfeasance is proved, then let the responsible parties suffer for their actions."

Ald. Johnston wanted to hear the explanations of any individuals involved before he adopted any clause which the integrity of an official was brought into question.

Ald. Gray was surprised at Ald. Bryson's suggestion of a commission.

The auditor had more power than any commission ever appointed. He had the right to summon any one under oath. Ald. Gray said that he had gone to the auditor and suggested that if he wanted to ask him any questions, he would be pleased to answer them, but instead of that the auditor made, in his next report, a misleading statement concerning him.

Ald. Gilley again expressed his opinion on the audit. He thought the auditor had made statements and allegations against certain aldermen when he might have found out the facts. It was the same all through the report. He made a sort of investigation, but he did not make an audit.

The reading of the report was then proceeded with. Ten clauses were read; the first two adopted and the others referred to the finance committee for report, although Ald. Johnston said he did not know how soon a report would be forthcoming, as there was enough to occupy the committee until after the first of the year. One or two sentences in the report, which had been withdrawn by the auditor or about which there was some uncertainty, were struck out from the report.

MINER SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Vancouver, Oct. 14.—While priming an unexploded charge of powder at the Britannia mines, Peter Collins, a miner, 48 years of age, was severely injured by the discharge of the blast. Collins was hurled to the ground, one finger torn off and his face badly burned by the explosion. He was brought to the city immediately in a gasoline launch, and removed to the general hospital for treatment. It was found there that he would recover, though there is a possibility that he may lose his eyesight as a result of the accident. Collins was at work placing a fuse on the unexploded charge, and was using his jack-knife to prime the charge. Suddenly, through some unknown cause, the blast went off, throwing the man to the ground. Two of the blades of the knife were torn off, and one of these blades cut off one of the victim's fingers.

WESTMINSTER BOYS' BRIGADE.

New Westminster, Oct. 14.—Another boys' brigade company will shortly be formed in the city in connection with Sixth Avenue Methodist church, providing that no hitch occurs in the plans now being made. It is probable that the company will be affiliated with the Boys' Brigade movement of England, although it was suggested to form a troop of Boy Scouts in connection with the church. This idea was abandoned on account of the cost attached to the latter.

NEW PRESIDENT.

New Westminster, Oct. 14.—A. B. Christie, delegate from the Carpenters' Union to the Trades and Labor Council, was unanimously elected as president of that organization. For the past several months R. E. Monteith has been president, but he has been forced to retire owing to the pressure of other business.
