A DAZZLING OPPORTUNITY.

The Attorney-General and his party seem to be having an interesting time. The meeting at South Fort George developed considerable opposition, so much, in fact, that it was not deemed safe to put a motion of confidence in the administration. It is not difficult to understand how Mr. Bowser so quickly came to the conclusion, expressed by him a few days ago, that there would be no appeal to the country until after a redistribution bill was passed, which means until after another session. His reception in his march thus far must bring to his mind much of what he has read of the discourteous way the Russians received his great prototype when he made that memorable trip to Moscow a century ago.

We have a suggestion to offer, and we trust Sir Richard will transmit it to his colleagues without delay. The Attorney-General is the head policeman of the province. He is in the heart of the new north. So is Simon Gun-Noot. Now why should the Big Policeman not get on the trail of the Big Injun? It is true Simon slew two men and is a dead shot, but we should imagine that the more dangerous the quarry the more exhilarating the pursuit would be to the Attorney-General. Besides, what an object lesson the capture of that gay and festive red-skin would be to the subordinate members of the provincial police force! How inspiring it would be to see the Attorney-General, the head of our provincial police, nonchalantly leading into New Hazelton on a rope the battered, manacled Simon Gun-Noot!

We have selected New Hazelton as the locale of the climax because it is there that the Attorney-General's stock is lowest. It was there that a number of low-brows, emboldened by the free and easy way blind pigs were being operated under the eyes of the guardians of the law, endeavored to hold up a bank in broad daylight with results disastrous to themselves and disturbing to the peace of mind of the citizens. It was at New Hazelton that a resolution was adopted in a mass meeting praying Mr. Bowser to withdraw his police because they were an obstacle to the enforcement of the law. Nothing less than the capture of Simon Gun-Noot by the Attorney-General in person would restore the confidence of New Hazelton in the department over which that minister presides, and possibly even this would not be sufficient; the long-suffering inhabitants of the little town might demand that he next endeavor to entrap the lone desperado who escaped from their deadly fusillade on the morning of the bank robbery. Will Sir Richard kindly pass our suggestion along?

FLYING ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

The man who perfected one of the greatest inventions of the age, and who therefore must be regarded as speaking with authority, says the day will come and is not far distant when passage across the Atlantic from land to land will be made in thirteen hours. That is a statement calculated to make one dizzy, is it not? Two thousand miles, the measured distance between Newfoundland and Ireland, in one hour more than half a day, between sunrise and sunset! The aviator who at present is preparing to make the initial trip across the ocean estimates that he can do it in twenty-four hours. But in a matter of this kind there are other considerations than mere swiftness of flight or saving of time to be taken into consideration if airships are projected for other than merely experimental purposes. The business end, after all, will prove the determining factor. Will the aerial fleet cater to the passenger trade of the Atlantic? Those who have enjoyed the exhilarating pastime of iceboating have some idea of what it feels like to fly through space at the rate of sixty or seventy miles an hour, with "the wind you." Under such conditions one must be well wrapped up to keep the blood from becoming congealed by cold. What would it be like two miles up in the air, where the atmospheric conditions are best adapted for making fast time, skimming along at the rate of from one hundred to one hundred and twenty-five miles an hour, in a machine whose construction in the very nature of things cannot admit of luxurious cabin accommodation and no heating appliances to speak of? Speed is a consideration in this fast age, we admit, but supposing the pioneer who is going to essay to cross the Atlantic in a plane should succeed, will the success of the experiment affect the water shipping trades? The test will be interesting, but our opinion, which may be that of an old fogey, is that that will be all. There must be developments along other lines besides those of speed before anything of a really practical nature is brought about.

FRANCE AND CAPITAL.

A contemporary comments upon the fact that the French government loan of $161,000,000 was oversubscribed forty times by the people of France and cites the incident as showing that in the republic there is a vast amount of money available for investment. While this is the case, as it has been for years, it should be borne in mind that the French investors view the call of their government for funds in a light altogether different from the aspect presented by private flotations at home and abroad. Patriotism is combined with business considerations when their country needs money, especially when it is required for purposes of national defence, as in the present instance. In these circumstances every peasant in France becomes an investor. He unearths his hoardings and stands ready to take the government's securities, for by so doing he not only is making a safe investment but he is helping France. This thrifty, patriotic peasantry, established upon the land by the policy of Napoleon, has carried France through more vicissitudes than have confronted any other nation in the world. It was the main factor in her recuperation from the effects of the great revolution, its wars and the prolonged struggle which preceded the fall of Bonaparte. It sustained her in the several upheavals which occurred subsequently; it paid Germany the billion dollars exacted as an indemnity following the disastrous war of almost forty years ago, rebuilt her cities, restored her industries and rehabilitated her as one of the leading powers in influence and the richest of them all in per capita wealth.

But of late years French capital has been exceedingly careful and cautious in regard to foreign investments. Questionable manipulations of overseas promoters not long ago inspired the government to take drastic measures for the protection of their investors. Every proposition from abroad in France is subjected to the closest scrutiny and it would be difficult to float anything there that is not absolutely sound and substantial, in spite of the fact that there are billions available for investment. Similar caution characterizes capital in the other great lending nations of Europe. There is more money lying idle in the United Kingdom than there is even in France, but it can be obtained no longer for highly speculative enterprises or at conveniently low rates of interest. Canada always will receive a large share of this capital for legitimate development. She has nothing to fear from what in some quarters may appear to be the excessive caution of the investors of Europe. On the contrary, in the long run she will benefit from their caution, for it will squeeze out of existence an element which has done her no inconsiderable amount of harm.

UNIQUE SUGGESTION.

A novel suggestion, emanating from Sir James Scott Grant, the veteran Ottawa medico, has been endorsed unanimously by the Ontario Medical Council. It is that every individual in Canada should submit himself to a physical examination at least once a year, so that any disease may be detected before it advances to a dangerous degree.

The idea is pregnant with almost limitless possibilities. "Every individual" is a very comprehensive specification. It covers old and young, sick and well, white, black, yellow and others of neutral complexion. It includes Christian Scientists and others of the hygienic unorthodoxy. Once a year, at least, the copper-hued Esquimaux would have to adjust his compass and locate a physician qualified to examine him. He may be a thousand miles from such a person, but the exercise would do him good. It would reduce the adipose superfluous produced by a too generous diet of fish blubber and shoe leather. Think how proudly he would be able to exhibit to the visiting whaler a little document on the wall of his igloo certifying to the gratifying fact that he was an excellent insurance risk! Of course, it would be the burden duty-in fact the legal obligation—of those beyond the fringe of civilization to find the doctor. The Ontario Medical Council cannot expect our M.D.'s to embark on perilous expeditions to the frozen wastes of the far north, the eyrie perch of the prospector on some lonely mountain, or the distant habitat of nomadic aborigines. Enterprises of that character would be unprofessional, and Sir James Grant is nothing if not professional.

We presume that the father of this brilliant suggestion, and of the responsible body which endorsed it, would have it embodied in the law of the land. But we fear it would be more honored in the breach than in the observance. For instance, we feel tolerably certain that it would be ignored by Simon Gun-Noot and the numerous other malefactors in this province whom the inefficiency of the Attorney-General's department has placed under everlasting obligation. The genus hobo would make it the subject of a profane jest, for its observance on his part might involve a bath, which would be a shattering blow at the ethics of his profession. Besides, who would pay for the examination? Not the state, surely, for that would involve an annual outlay of something like $20,000,000. The people would object to paying out of their own pockets, while the doctors would not entertain favorably a proposition to do the job for nothing.

But why compel the person who feels well to go to a doctor? Mistakes in diagnosis—and there have been one or two since the world began—might psychologically convert a considerable proportion of ordinarily physically fit individuals into chronic invalids. Many people would be better off if they stopped running to the doctor every time they felt a cramp, and tried digesting potatoes instead. No, we fear Sir James Grant's proposal, in spite of its authoritative endorsement, is impracticable. You cannot compel people who feel well to submit to a physical examination except to obtain a life insurance policy. What is wanted is a proper enforcement of the sanitary laws and building ordinances, and a good start with them might be made in some of the communities under the eyes of the Ontario Medical Council.

The Montreal press ridicules the aldermen of that city for proposing to visit the Pacific Coast, ostensibly for the purpose of gathering information that might be of value to the municipality. For our part we think such a trip would tend to broaden the minds of the Montrealers, and besides they might see several things that would be of interest to them. There is the Komagata Maru, for instance, with her company of turbaned Indians. There is a curio that may remain with us for a long time notwithstanding the fact that the courts have held that her passengers cannot land and that the question of their landing never should have been brought before them. The presence of the Komagata here at all, therefore, is visible testimony to the unreadiness of Sir Robert who never can make up his mind to do anything when it should be done. If the Hindus had been turned back immediately all past and present complications would have been avoided. Even yet the Borden government cannot make up its mind what ought to be done. So we think it would be worth while for the Montreal aldermen to see with their own eyes evidence of the unreadiness of Sir Robert. But perhaps they know all about that phase of our premier's character.

For the first time in the history of Canada, probably, the population will show a decline this year. This is the condition to which we have been reduced by three years of Conservative rule and in the face of the promises made by candidates of the Borden government in 1911 that if prosperity was to be maintained there must be a change of government. No wonder Sir Robert has not made up his mind as to the advisability of making a tour of the West. Furthermore, the claim made by government organs that the decline in population will be due entirely to the deportation of laborers is not true, according to competent authorities. People are leaving the farms of the prairies because they have been denied access to competitive markets for their products and are at the mercy of the milling and other grain-purchasing combines. The Borden government of Manitoba, which is on trial to-day, being on the ground, appreciates the situation, and hence has declared itself in favor of reciprocity.

A knitting mill, a woolen mill and a tire factory would be desirable additions to our industrial institutions, and possibly Victoria will secure one or more of them in time. But in fixing your wagon to a star it is desirable to select the one nearest to you; the distance to be travelled will be shorter and therefore safer. There will be less uncertainty in establishing and more benefit to the community and the stockholders in successfully operating a large jam factory in Victoria than in either of the three industries named.

During our July Sale we are offering this Coal at $5.00. Would it not be advisable to stock up at this price? It will never again be as low as it is now. KIRK & CO. 1212 Broad Street. Attend first to those industries that may be called indigenous; the exotics can be taken up later.

Provincial elections are taking place to-day in Manitoba. The Roblin machine, upon which the McBride or the Bowser machine is modelled, to the last lever and wheel, is reported to be well oiled and running as smoothly as can be expected considering that it has been in steady operation for fourteen years. The Liberal opposition has had the assistance in its campaign of a lady who is known in British Columbia, Miss McClung. According to all accounts, the lady has proven herself a doughty and effective campaigner and has thrown some destructive shells into the Roblin camp.

There was more trouble on the Komagata Maru yesterday. This and more would have been avoided had somebody at Ottawa thought it worth while to answer the cable message from the governor of Hongkong asking for advice while he held the vessel there. The Komagata Maru should not have been permitted to cross the Pacific loaded with East Indians who, it was known, could not comply with our immigration regulations. It would have been as much in the interests of the passengers as of Canada had the vessel been held on the other side.

The Times has received about a dozen letters in reply to the original communication signed "Anglican," which appeared in our issue of Tuesday. We anticipated such a deluge, and as it is utterly impossible to find space for all the letters, although some of them are very interesting, we cannot depart from our determination, announced last evening, not to publish any more communications dealing with the subject. Experience has proved that controversies of such a nature are quite fruitless and very often are harmful in their effects.

The fact that the government press has not sent up a howl over the announced intention of the E. and N. Railway company to change the name of McBride Junction to that of Parksville Junction is conclusive proof that Sir Richard is about to retire from public life. Is it not time we began to distribute the name Bowser promiscuously over the province? General Villa's bath, the most expensive that could be bought, cannot have arrived yet. The pictures of the gentleman published in the newspapers prove it. They indicate that a little cleansing would do him a great deal of good and make him feel twice as good after one of his famous victories.

Certain erstwhile motor car drivers are beginning to find out from dear-bought experience that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty as well as of peace of mind. Two more have been committed for trial in Vancouver on the charge of killing a human being. Well, the records show that not once during the Laurier regime of fifteen years could it be said that more people were leaving the country than there were entering it. Canada needs Sir Wilfrid back again.

THE PRICE OF BORDEN RULE. St. Thomas Journal. Last year the government added some $12,000,000 to the debt of the Dominion. This year, by bond guarantees for railways, it has increased the country's liabilities by over $60,000,000. In less than a year it has increased the borrowings of the nation by upwards of $70,000,000. Upon this huge sum, Canadians must pay interest for years to come while the principal, of course, must also be repaid eventually out of the public treasury. These conditions are part of the price when Canada is paying for Borden rule.

THE PEOPLE MUST PAY. Montreal Herald-Telegraph. Canadian provinces, Canadian municipalities, Canadian private undertakings will suffer because Canada's credit has been damaged through the course of the federal ministry, and directly or indirectly, sooner or later, every Canadian citizen will suffer.

Fraser and William Blakemore as members of the board of directors of the Jubilee hospital for the year ending June 30, next, is gazetted this week.

For Newfoundlanders.—The total sent by Victorians to Newfoundland for the relief of those who suffered as a result of the great sealing disaster last spring has reached the substantial figure of $1,084.70. Supplementing the amount sent some days ago, Capt. W. H. Whiteley this morning sent a cheque for $87.75 to the colonial secretary, St. John's. The amount included $27 collected on the S. S. Maquina, $14 sent by the Banfield cable station, $30 collected on the C. G. S. Estevan and $5 sent by Capt. Heater. In the former list of subscribers published, the name of J. A. Mara, who sent $5, was omitted.

Books and Other Institute.—The Sooke and Otter Women's Institute met last Tuesday at Sooke hall, the vice-president, Mrs. Murray, in the chair. Interesting reports were read by Mrs. Stuart and Mrs. French in connection with the conference held at Duncan on June 22 and 23, and discussion with reference to the foundation of an institute library was held. Arrangements in connection with the flower show to be held on July 23 were discussed. This will be the first function of the kind held by the joint institutes, and it is hoped that it will be sufficiently successful to warrant the establishment of the proceedings as an annual affair. The government is giving a prize of a book to the child showing the best sweet-pea display, and the institute is giving a set of garden tools and a watering can as prizes for the children's competition.

School Districts Defined.—In the B. C. Gazette this week the department of education announces the limits of the assisted school districts of Carter, Columbia Park, Crawford Creek and Soisqua, and re-defines the limits of Trail City school district. All these are in the Kootenay and along the banks of the Columbia river.

Centennial Garden Party.—The Young Ladies' Bible class of the Centennial Methodist church held a very successful evening garden party on Wednesday, realizing over $30 as a result of the undertaking. The proceedings took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wood, Washington avenue, where the gardens were prettily decorated with flags and Japanese lanterns, while a booth, containing delicious home-made candies and fancy-work, was an attractive feature. This was in charge of Miss Fommerville, Miss Turnbull and Miss Gonke. Music was provided by the Centennial band, and other items of interest on the programme were provided by Miss Beatrice Palmer, who sang, and Miss Griffin, who recited. Games were played, and during the evening refreshments in the form of ice-cream and cake were served.

Will Join Alpinists.—W. W. Foster, M. P., is leaving to-night for the interior of the province, and will not return to Victoria until about the second week in August. After a short business trip he will go into the Yoho valley on July 18 to join the Alpinist club which opens there on July 21, for three weeks. Mr. Foster was one of a party of three who scaled Mount Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, last summer, and this year he anticipates attempting an ascent of Mount Farnham.

HOPES FOR BETTER LAW OF COPYRIGHT

Dominion Government Servant, Who is Well Known in Literary Circles, in City

The incumbent of one of the oldest official titles in the Dominion government services arrived in the city this morning in the person of Duncan Campbell Scott, deputy superintendent-general of Indian affairs, who is in the capital in the course of an inspection tour of the various reserves in the vicinity, and also for the purpose of having an interview with the members of the commission on Indian lands, all of whom are personally well known to him. Mr. Scott will leave Victoria tonight for the north to visit some of the more remote reservations, but will return here again before proceeding east.

Mr. Scott is a well-known litterateur, and though press of official business in the past ten years has somewhat curtailed his efforts in letters, he is still a contributor to some of the best known magazines on this continent, and has earned a reputation which is more than national.

Speaking of Canadian literature today, Mr. Scott argued that the crying need of the authors of to-day was a real Copyright act. The present measure worked more in the interests of the publisher and printer than for the author. If a new act was promulgated, as was not unlikely, it was to be hoped that the author's side would receive more consideration than formerly. A measure along this line had been introduced by the Laurier government towards the close of its regime, but had never been passed. The Borden government had never made any attempt to bring down such a measure.

"I think there are many more chances for the Canadian author now than ever before," remarked Mr. Scott. "Many of the publishers are offering special advantages to Canadian authors, and are especially careful to nourish young talent. Another great advantage of having branches of great English publishing houses in the country is that when a book is accepted the publishers immediately take steps to have it produced in England as well as on this continent. There are some very promising writers in Canada at the present time."

The visitor is delighted with the western cities which he has not visited for many years.

"I see many changes in Victoria in that period, and the thing that amazes me most of all is the excellent appearance of the streets of Victoria and Vancouver. Municipal government seems to be much stronger and more assured than in many cities in the east of Canada."

GRACEFUL AMENDE

It is being said that the Kaiser selected the name of Bismarck for the new Hamburg-America liner as the only name worthy to make a third with Vaterland and Imperator, a story which, if true, is a graceful amende for the "dropping the pilot" incident, says the Manchester Guardian. We are very shy in this country of giving the names of our statesmen to the really big ships. Of course there might be difficulties if statesmen still in the arena were selected. If the s. s. Asquith were to ram the s. s. Bonar Law, all sorts of sinister suggestions might arise. But even taking the statesmen of the past, this neglect is noticeable. Looking through a list a few years old of the mercantile marine, one finds only one minor ship named Sir Robert Peel, and the two Palmerstons were both insignificant vessels. There were a good many Melbournes, but most, if not all, were associated with the city rather than with the prime minister. Gladstone accounted only for a sixty-tonner in the far north of Scotland, and there was but one Russell in the list and one John Bright. There was no Lord Salisbury, no Disraeli, and only one Beaconsfield. There was one C. S. Parnell and one Earl of Rosebery.

The flowers of many trees, like the oak, elm, and hickory, are so inconspicuous that they are popularly supposed to be altogether lacking.

NATURALIZATION FOR BUSINESS MOTIVES

Judge Lampman Expresses Opinion on Granting of Certificates Sought

A strong opinion was expressed this morning by Judge Lampman in the county court as to the reasons which should impel an alien to seek naturalization. His honor took the view that citizenship was a state to which a man should seek to be admitted from higher motives than the desire to earn a living by some mode that was open only to Canadian citizens.

An application was before him in chambers from Joseph Herpe and Michel Olgatoss, French fishermen, who have been residing at Steveston for some few years. Their affidavit was presented by W. R. W. Vaughan, and set out that they are desirous of obtaining a fishing license, but have been informed by the inspector that they cannot obtain one unless they produce their certificates of naturalization. They had applied last month for naturalization, but there is no sitting of the county court until September. The men say they have spent $1,500, and will be at considerable loss unless they can receive the necessary papers speedily.

"The trouble with this case, as doubtless it is with many others, is that the applicants do not seek to become citizens of the Dominion from motives of good citizenship," remarked his honor, "but in order to secure something that is open only to citizens. I do not think that the courts should be called upon to hurry proceedings for that sort of reason. In this case the applicants appear to have delayed making application until the securing of a fishing license became imminent."

Mr. Vaughan replied that the men had been living in the province for some years, had married and were owners of property, and were going into business as any other person, citizen or alien, had a right to do. They made the present application for the reason that they had made a large investment which would be hurt if they were not able to get their certificates sooner than the September court.

The judge agreed that it was an unfortunate thing for them and that it might be that the refusal to act would entail a hardship, but he emphasized the fact that it is not the intent of the Naturalization Act that people should be allowed to become citizens of Canada to the end that they may take licenses, contracts or franchises. He consented to hear the application again next week and listen to what Mr. Vaughan might be able to tell him from the government agent and residents of Steveston as to the men and the circumstances of the case. If he should decide to grant their request it will mean the calling of a special sitting of the court.

I am quite willing to live in a simple, quiet way, if that will remedy the inequality of the incomes of the clergy.—Bishop of Lincoln.

A CHARTER FROM THE PUBLIC

IF publishers of daily newspapers were to cease issuing their papers during the summer months, saying: "It's too hot in July and August to publish papers, and, anyway, people don't read papers in summer,"—what a cry of protest would go up all over the land!

The public would say to the publishers:

"We must have the news and you must give it to us. You are our servants in this matter—our news gatherers and scatterers. We are ready to pay you for this service. You have no right or liberty to take it upon yourselves to cease publishing your papers at your pleasure or convenience."

Think of it! The Daily Newspaper exists by the mandate of the people. It alone among all publications may not continue or cease at its pleasure, for it holds its charter from the people whose servant it is.

Then think of this:—

Have those other servants of the people—the merchants who supply them with their daily necessities—any right to be silent with respect to the news they have for those who depend on them? Has not the public a right to demand that the news of the stores shall be published along with other news of value and interest? We put it up to the people of this community and to the merchants of this city that the store news of this community is necessary news and should appear regularly in the public press at all seasons of the year. Think of this, you merchants of this city.

FEDERAL LEAGUE NOW WANTS M'HENRY CENTRALIA WOULD WELCOME A FRANCHISE

Owner Kingham Will See That His Young Twirlers Do Not Jump; Has Joined His Team at Seattle; Kiddo Wilson Released

Owner Kingham, of the Victoria club, left last night for Seattle and he will remain with his club for the balance of the road trip to ward off the efforts of the Federal league agents to take away McHenry and Steele, two of his brilliant young twirlers. Al Narveson and Bobby Steele were approached early in the season with flattering offers, but both turned down the proffered contracts. Now the Federals have turned to McHenry, offering the Victoria right-hander an advance of $200 a month for the balance of the season and a three-year contract if he makes good. McHenry told the officers of the club about the offer and showed the blank contract, but it is likely that he will remain with the local club. Steele has been given a big increase in pay and as there are a couple of major league clubs who have been dickering for the sterling south paw, Owner Kingham will likely be able to keep him.

Spokane, July 10.—Fleider Jones, president of the Northwestern baseball league, has announced the release of Umpire Wilson, familiarly known as "Kiddo" Wilson. He formerly was a Victoria pitcher.

Centralia, Wash., July 10.—A movement is on foot in Centralia to organize a company, purchase the new ball park in the north end and endeavor to secure the Portland Northwest league franchise next year. The first meeting to discuss the plan has just been held. If the patronage here would not support a team, it is planned to combine Centralia, Chehalis and Tono, thus giving all three towns big league ball. All of the cities named are good ball towns, and the venture should be a success.

The Chicago Cubs have offered $10,000 for Outfielder Larue Kirby, of the Mobile team. Kirby is practically leading the southern association batters. Manager Lord announced that Kirby would not be sold until Manager Stallings, of the Boston Braves, has a chance to bid on him. Kirby is 23 years old.

Hub Perdue, the veteran Braves pitcher, who has been dissatisfied with his lot for some time, was traded early in the week by Manager Stallings to the St. Louis club in exchange for Outfielder Ted Cather and Infielder Whitfield. Boston has been badly in need of outfielders and Cather will fill in a big gap where he is much needed.

HEWITT LIKELY TO HANDLE BIG BOUT

Bayley Wagers $500 on His Chances Against O'Leary; Kilbane After Welsh

Even money is being wagered on Joe Bayley's chance against Johnny O'Leary in their bout at Brighthouse Arena to-morrow afternoon for the lightweight championship of the Dominion. Bayley's fine showing in the south and the fact that he would have had a draw against O'Leary last fall but for O'Leary's lucky knockout punch with fifteen seconds to go in the final round, have made him a strong choice. The new champion is confident that he will repeat his victory over the Victoria youth, but when Bayley is willing to wager $500 of his own money against the "Frisco boy," the Island lightweight must be conceded to be a rather confident youth. Jimmy Hewitt, the Vancouver sporting writer, is the choice of both parties as referee, but the Terminal City official is not very anxious to handle the bout. Tex. McDonald is the man in view for referee if Hewitt does not act. Several hundred Victorians will take in the bout. Should Bayley win he will leave immediately for California. He is to meet Frankie Burns on July 27 at Oakland.

Cleveland, O., July 9.—James Dunn, manager of John Kilbane, of this city, yesterday issued a challenge to Fred Welsh, of England, now lightweight champion, for a bout between Kilbane and Welsh for the lightweight championship. Dunn asks Welsh to meet Kilbane at 133 pounds, ringside, the regular lightweight limit.

Freddie Welsh's right name is Fred Hall Thomas. Welsh is merely a ring name. He was born in Pontypridd, Wales, March 5, 1886. He started boxing nine years ago and his first contest was with Young Williams, whom he knocked out in three rounds. Welsh has lost but two contests, one to Packey McFarland and one to Matt Wells. Afterward he defeated Wells and regained his English title.

Ritchie was the first fighter in history to win the title on a foul and now he has lost it to a man who outboxed him. A knockout would be appreciated once in a while.

"I hope to beat Gunboat Smith," declares Georges Carpentier. "I believe I'll do it, and my intention is to challenge Jack Johnson afterward for the envied title of champion of the world."

Boston, Mass., July 10.—C. James Connelly, vice-president of the Boston National League club, died suddenly of heart disease to-day. He was formerly a member of the state board of insanity.

VICTORIA TWELVE ANXIOUS TO WIN

Mann Cup Holders Will Play at Oak Bay To-morrow; Changes in Line-up

With Boss Johnson and Cotton Erynjofson helping in their final workout, the Victoria players are confident that they will be able to score a victory over the Mann cup-holders in to-morrow's game against the Vancouver twelve at Oak Bay. The Mann cup-holders will come over to the Capital on to-night's boat, and they will bring along the same team that defeated the Brampton team in the final game for the famous trophy. Coach Poulin will make several changes in the lineup that he has been working on, but he will have Dutch Sweeney back on the defence. The home will also be shifted.

Victoria officials will handle the game, which is billed to start at 3 o'clock.

There is a growing rumor that Con. Jones will break back into the game very shortly, now that the B.C.L.A. has fallen through. A story from Vancouver has Victoria and Vancouver as the foundation of a two-club league for the balance of the season. Jones is at present at Banff, resting up for a time, but with a clear field ahead of him, it will not take long to get things whittled into shape once more.

Jack Marshall, who has charge of the Quebec D.L.A. team, has signed up Scott, Kane and "Skinny" Astell.

Vancouver, July 10.—Whether the British Columbia Amateur Athletic union is to have authority in amateur affairs in British Columbia or whether Joe Lally will be permitted to say who is amateur and who is professional, will be determined on Saturday, July 18, when representatives of the Pacific Coast A. L. A. and the B. C. A. A. U. will meet in Vancouver for the purpose of discussing the action of the Mann cup trustee in the present lacrosse tangle.

RUSHING ENTERS MEET.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 10.—William Rushing, of England, who will participate in the national clay court championship tennis tournament, which begins here to-morrow, arrived to-day and was followed closely by the California players.

NOTED PROFESSOR ARRIVES FROM PARIS

M. Andre Siegfried is in the City Studying Reciprocity and Naval Question

To study carefully the question of reciprocity between Canada and the United States, and also the subject of a Canadian navy, Professor Andre, Siegfried, D. L., instructor at l'Ecole des Sciences Politiques in Paris, arrived in Victoria yesterday in company with Mme. Siegfried. His observations on these topics will be included in the third edition of his very popular book, "Le Canada," published some years ago by Armand Colin, which enjoyed a ready sale in several countries. It was translated into English under the title of "The Race Question in Canada."

Very naturally M. Siegfried declined to say anything as yet on what he had deduced on the subject of reciprocity, or on what conclusions he had come to in the matter of a Canadian navy. He confessed, however, that both subjects interested him very deeply, and for that reason he was studying them most minutely.

This is not M. Siegfried's first visit to the west for he was in Victoria ten years ago. He says there is no comparison of the city of to-day with that of a decade ago. Its growth and blossoming into the status of a beautiful residential city have been remarkable, while its commercial position is pregnant with great possibilities.

On this trip M. Siegfried has been in the east for two weeks during which time he visited many of the leading men in Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal. From there he proceeded to Yellowstone Park and California, making his way afterwards to this city.

Professor Siegfried will leave for Vancouver to-night, after which he will proceed to Prince Rupert, before making eastward again to Paris, where he is well known and highly popular, not only as the son of Mgr. Siegfried, a member of the French chamber of deputies and a former minister of commerce, but also in his own right as one of the deepest students of the day in France of political science and history, and as the author of several illuminative works on these and allied subjects.

This morning M. Siegfried had an interview with Ernest McGaffey, secretary of the Bureau of Provincial Information, from whom he obtained comprehensive facts about the needs and resources of British Columbia.

BOY IS MISSING Son of C. J. Wilson Left Home a Week Ago Last Tuesday and Has Not Returned.

The parents of Robln Wilson are very anxious to discover the whereabouts of their son who left his home in Victoria on Tuesday week and has not since been seen. The father of the missing boy, C. J. Wilson, is offering a reward for information which will lead to his recovery, and every effort is being made on all hands to find out where he has gone.

Robln, who is fourteen years of age, and a High school pupil, left his home on Laurel avenue, off St. Charles street, on June 30. He apparently went off to Arrowhead on the following Saturday. But on the Sunday he must have arrived home again while everybody was out, for his clothes had been changed on that day, the old ones being left and the new ones taken away. There was also taken on this occasion a revolver and a few articles necessary to travel, including a sleeping suit and a small grip.

Since then the lad has completely vanished, and nothing more of him has been heard by his anxious parents, who are afraid something untoward may have happened to him.

The boy is tall for his age, is dark and has a very brown complexion. Through being short-sighted he wears spectacles and was clad when last seen in a brown tweed suit, white straw hat with blue band, and a tie with the High school colors. He has a somewhat slouching walk.

The detective department has been working on the case for some days, but as yet all efforts to locate the lad have been in vain.

LOCAL NEWS

Takes Pastor's Place.—Rev. E. A. Wicher, D. D., professor of the New Testament Literature in the University of California, will occupy the pulpit at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Sunday, July 12 and 13, during the vacation of Rev. Dr. Leslie Clay.

Elks' Enjoyed Evening.—A most successful basket social and dance was held last night by the Elks and their guests. About one hundred were present. T. H. Brown very cleverly conducted the auction sale, introducing as much fun as business into the bidding. Altogether an exceptionally enjoyable evening was spent.

Fighting Weeds.—The necessity of waging a vigorous campaign against noxious weeds is being urged on the attention of farmers and landowners generally by the provincial department of agriculture. All provincial constables and forest guards have again been appointed agents to enforce the Noxious Weeds act. In many districts noxious weeds inspectors have been appointed, who will go over their districts, see that farmers and landowners are taking steps to destroy weeds on their lands, and in the event of non-compliance with the notices served, institute proceedings. The following are among the weeds to be driven out: Russian thistle, wild mustard or charlock, tumbling mustard, ball mustard, stalkweed, ragweed, blue bur or stick seed, dodder and wild oats, which are annuals; bull thistle, which is a biennial; Canada thistle, perennial, sow thistle and couch or quick grass, which are perennials.

Agriculture for Teachers.—Lectures on agricultural topics will be given to the teachers who are taking a special course at the High school, in order to fit them to impart agricultural knowledge to the pupils under their charge. To-day J. R. Terry, poultry expert, spoke to them on poultry foods and feeding, and next week he will conduct them on a tour of neighboring poultry farms. Other lectures will be given during next week by W. T. McDonald, H. Rive, A. Wancke, and H. E. Upton.

Given Possession.—An application was made to Judge Lampman in county court chambers this forenoon for a writ of possession of the premises, 2627 Quadra street, owned by Daniel Clark and occupied for thirteen months past by Gustav Larsen, millwright. Evidence was put in that Larsen took the premises by the month at a rent of $32.50 a month, paying a deposit of $10. He had made no other payment during all that time, and as he had refused to get out these steps had to be taken. The order was made. C. K. Courtney acted for the owner.

Obtained Money By Fraud.—Sidney Petch this morning pleaded guilty in the police court to obtaining $5 by false pretences and with intent to defraud, from John Percival Walls. The procedure was that a telephone message, purporting to come from Petch's father, was received by Mr. Walls, to the effect that the former desired him to loan his son $5 to pay some C. P. R. freight charges. The telephone message was a bogus one. Petch blamed drink for the perpetration of the fraud and asked earnestly for another chance. Magistrate Jay reserved his decision until to-morrow.

Hindu Sympathizer Deported.—The immigration authorities have deported to England a woman who has been very conspicuous for some months as a champion of the Hindus. Mrs. Isa deHaughton Crook is her name, and she is of middle age. She has been endeavoring to secure support for local charitable societies, the officers of which deny having given her any authority to represent these, and the immigration officers deported her on the ground that she was likely to become a public charge. Of late she has been bothering people to assist the Hindus in their fight to get admission to the country.

COLLEGIATE SCHOOL HAS ANNUAL SPORTS

Fine Weather Favors Ever-Popular Event at Jubilee Grounds; Bishop Speaks

The annual sports of the Collegiate school took place yesterday afternoon in the Jubilee hospital cricket grounds, glorious weather favoring this ever-popular event, and a large crowd of visitors lining the course and giving an additional holiday touch to the occasion. Among those present were the Bishop of Columbia and Mrs. Roper, and the Dean of Columbia and Mrs. Doull, who have faithfully followed the programme of school-closings which culminated so successfully yesterday, the summer vacation now being fairly launched on its two months' course for all the schoolboys and girls in the city.

It was an ideal day for sports, the programme being ushered in with the 100 yards race for boys under 10 years of age, and concluding with the parents' race, this constituting the nineteenth in a schedule of events, every one of which was interesting. A short interval was taken about half way through the programme when afternoon tea and ices were served, the boys as usual making excellent hosts.

Shortly before 6 o'clock the visitors rallied once more round the pavilion for the prize-giving, which was preceded by a short talk by the Bishop of Columbia to the boys. In congratulating the school on the excellent programme of sports provided, his lordship particularly referred to the fine exhibition of jumping which had been given. The running showed that there was plenty of good sporting instinct in the boys of the Collegiate school, which came out as much in those who did not win as in those who won. Winning was not the only thing in sport or anything else. The effort was what counted. He hoped that the school would continue to produce sportsmanlike boys. There was something in British sportsmanship which counted much in the history of the race, and a school such as the Collegiate which did well in sports was one of which masters, pupils, and parents should be proud.

Robertson, T. Ellis, S. de Trafford Cunningham, and F. A. Pauline. Owing to a school rule boys taking more than three prizes gave their prize to the boy next after them in the event won.

The proceedings concluded with a short address by Mr. Muskett, thanks being expressed to the Bishop and Mrs. Roper, the Victoria Cricket club for the use of the grounds, and the staff for preparing the grounds and sports programme, after which three sounding cheers and a tiger for the Bishop and Mrs. Roper, followed by cheers for Mr. Muskett and the other masters were given. With mutual good wishes, congratulations, and farewells the gathering dispersed, this constituting the last school-closing of the season in Victoria.

WILL SPEAK HERE

Vice-President of Dominion Trades and Labor Congress Will Discuss Workmen's Compensation.

Vice-President Fred Bancroft, of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, who is now in the west, will arrive in Victoria shortly. The Victoria Trades and Labor council on Wednesday appointed a special committee consisting of A. Watchman, president of the B. C. Federation of Labor; Christiana Sivertz, and J. Turner to arrange for a public meeting in Victoria.

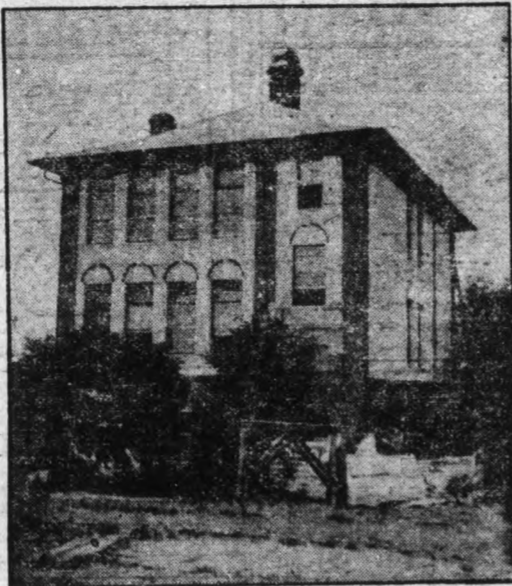

Mr. Bancroft has given special attention to the operation of workmen's compensation acts, and the recent act passed in Ontario, the newest of these measures, will form the subject of his address.

The meeting appointed C. Sivertz and E. Fisher as delegates to the convention of the B. C. Federation of Labor in Vancouver next week. The deportation of alien laborers under the order in council has exercised the attention of the labor unions. The matter was discussed at Wednesday evening's meeting. Many of the members held that as the unions were international in character officials of the local unions should not assist the immigration officials in deportation proceedings against members of a union, as had been done in connection with a deported Portland workman recently. A committee consisting of A. S. Wells, C. Sivertz and T. Mathieson was named to explain the situation to the various unions and outline the attitude of the council on the matter.

Considerable discussion took place when the special committee on unemployment appointed to meet the premier and Mayor Stewart reported in the manner already detailed in the Times. The restriction of work in the municipalities to the British-born residents came under review. It seemed the consensus of opinion that on the public works now in progress in municipalities no discrimination should be made between residents, provided they are not of Asiatic birth, and that any white man should get work if he can do it, irrespective of nationality.

The committee which had interviewed the hospital directors regarding the insertion of the Dominion fair wages clause in the specifications for the new buildings reported a favorable result of its mission, the schedule now being in operation.

To Relieve Kingston Street School

The new Beacon Hill school, facing Douglas street, which will be finished this month. It is intended next term to withdraw a number of pupils from Kingston street primary school, now in training for South Park school, and place them at the new Beacon Hill school. The building contains four rooms, and is being built from the designs of J. C. M. Keith.

CADETS ARE REVIEWED ON MACAULAY PLAINS

Col. Roy, D. O. C., Inspects the Corps and Sir Richard McBride Addresses Lads

The young citizen soldiery of the province made a brave showing when drawn up on Macaulay Plains yesterday afternoon to be reviewed by Colonel Roy, D. O. C. of military district No. 11, and to be addressed by the premier, Sir Richard McBride.

To the training which the cadets have received from their instructors has been added nearly a week in camp, with the advance in efficiency which that brings about. They looked smart and well set up, went through the various evolutions with the ease and sureness of old campaigners, and marched with a steady swing. Their uniforms were all spick-and-span and in every way they deserved and won the warm commendation of military and civilian alike.

The nine hundred lads who are in camp were drawn up in battalion formation when the premier arrived and before they were put through their drill the ranks were inspected by Colonel Roy and Sir Richard McBride, who then took up their position at the foot of a little knoll for the march past. Others who were present were the Bishop of Columbia, Mr. Speaker Eberts, Lt.-Col. R. G. E. Leckie, 2nd Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver, commandant of the camp; Captain Moore, D. S. A.; Major W. H. Beeson, officer in charge of cadet corps; Captain R. V. Harvey, G. H. Barnard, M. P.

In the march past the Seaforth Highlanders cadet corps led with its pipers, the lads making a splendid appearance in their kilted uniforms. After the various corps had passed back and forth they were drawn up in hollow square and the premier addressed them. Having congratulated

Lt.-Col. Leckie and the officers and members of the corps, Sir Richard said he personally looked upon the cadet movement and its development as a most serious and important national work. It was one of the first duties of a Canadian to stand by his flag, as it was for the people of any land to stand by their own colors, and it was necessary that every means taken to the end of defending the flag must be as complete as possible. If it was found necessary to have an army for the purpose that army must be a strong and efficient defence.

It required great self-sacrifice to do one's duty as a member of the militia force or any other body which was connected with the national defence, and he expressed his sense of the fact that by leaving their homes and recreations at this season of the year, which all lads looked upon as their own holiday time, the cadets before him recognized the responsibilities that were theirs, in common with every citizen. Training such as they were getting now would not only fit them for the defence of their homes and country but would be found of great benefit to them in after years in civil pursuits and in the conduct of their everyday life. They had the great privilege of living in the fairest portion of the Dominion, a land well worth defending for itself, as well as because its defence as part of the greatest of empires was a solemn duty incumbent upon them. That they were giving their time to fit themselves for this duty was at once a credit to them and an inspiration not alone to other lads but to those who were older as well.

The premier closed with an expression of appreciation for the work being done here, as had been done in other parts of the Dominion, for the advancement of the militia forces of the country by Colonel Roy, and of the work being done on the mainland by Lt.-Col. Leckie.

The commandant thanked the premier on behalf of his officers, the cadets and himself, and also thanked Col. Roy for the interest he had shown in the lads. Three cheers were called and were given with vim, as were other three for Lt.-Col. Leckie, on the call of Sir Richard.

QUICK SELLING IN EVIDENCE ON RISE

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.) Chicago, July 10.—The bearish figures of the government had more effect to-day as a bulge early there was quick selling pressure. Most of the news developments were bearish. Good weather was reported, and country acceptances were about as heavy as any time on the crop. On the other hand exporters are said to be taking all the wheat offered. Farmers are not delivering wheat as freely as expected and the stronger cash situation is indicated by the advancing premiums for wheat for nearby shipments.

show that the senator did not attend a single sitting during its course. During the session just closed his health and the very serious illness which terminated in the death of Mrs. Macdonald kept him here throughout. It is provided by the B. N. A. act that the place of a senator shall become vacant if he fails for two consecutive sessions of the parliament to give his attendance in the house. Even if the senator were to be out as a result of non-attendance it is not likely that the Borden government would press the case, in view of his being a member of the Conservative party, and especially because of his being by so much the senior member of the senate. The provincial minister of finance, the senior local member for Vancouver and the federal member for New Westminster, among other aspirants for a seat in the Red Chamber, will have to curb their impatience for a while longer.

There is no likelihood of a vacancy in the representation of British Columbia in that house for a considerable time, and the senate itself gave a quietus to the proposition to bring the desired increase in the membership into effect before the next parliament, when the redistribution of seats in the House of Commons will be effective. There are at present four vacancies by death in the senate, all being in Ontario and caused by the decease of Liberal senators.
