If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes," the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the annexation of the territory referred to in such proposition to the municipal corporation named therein; and if an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "No", the vote of such elector shall be counted against such annexation. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election, shall be in conformity, as near as may be, with the laws of this state concerning general elections, except as herein otherwise provided. The judges and inspector of such election for each polling place shall immediately on the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up, certify and seal the ballots and tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, doing so, as nearly as practicable, in the manner provided in the laws of this state relating to general elections, and they shall thereupon deliver the ballots, tally sheets, and returns to and deposit the same with the clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation. Such legislative body shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of three days from and after the date of said election, meet and proceed to canvass said returns; and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments, until said canvass is completed. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass, said legislative body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, stating the proposition submitted and showing the whole number of votes cast thereon in the territory proposed to be annexed, the number of votes cast therein in favor of annexation, and the number of votes cast therein against annexation.

SEC. 3. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election held in the territory proposed to be annexed to any municipal corporation, as provided in section two of this act, that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory on the question of such annexation are in favor of annexation, such legislative body must then submit to the electors of such municipal corporation the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that pur-

Whenever such question is submitted at any election in such municipal corporation, such question shall be stated in the notice of such election and on the ballots to be used at such election, and the electors shall vote thereon, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the election in the territory proposed to be annexed. And whenever such question is submitted at any such municipal election, general or special, as above provided, it shall be submitted and voted upon as other questions are required by law to be submitted and voted upon at such elections, except in particulars otherwise in this act set forth; and the laws applicable to and governing the time and manner of giving notice, conducting, holding, canvassing the returns, and declaring the result of any such election shall apply to and govern the submission of such question to the electors of such municipal corporation at any such election.

SEC. 4. Immediately upon the completion of the canvass of the returns of any election in any municipal corporation at which the question of annexation of new territory thereto was submitted, as in this act provided, the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall cause a record to be made, and entered upon its minutes, showing the total number of votes cast in such municipal corporation upon such question at such election, the number thereof cast in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast against annexation. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation voting on the question of such annexation are in favor thereof, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall promptly make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such new territory and of the election in such municipal corporation at which the question of the annexation of the same new territory was submitted, and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, together with a statement showing the dates of such elections in said new territory and in said municipal corporation, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such elections, and containing a description of such territory. Said document shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon the receipt thereof. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed and described therein, shall be deemed to be and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes, a part of such municipal corporation, except only that no property within such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation, excepting as hereinafter provided. Territory of a city may not be annexed.

SEC. 5. Whenever any municipal corporation to which it is proposed to annex territory under the provisions of this act shall have incurred, or authorized the incurring of, any bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement or improvements, the petition presented to the legislative body of such municipal corporation, as provided in section two of this act, may contain a request that the question to be submitted to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such municipal corporation, shall be, whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of, said municipal corporation, and the property therein be, after such annexation, subject to taxation, equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay any such bonded indebtedness of such municipal corporation, outstanding at the date of such annexation or theretofore authorized. If such request shall be made in said petition, proceedings shall be had thereon, and an election shall be called and held in the territory proposed to be annexed, the same in all respects as upon a petition presented under the provisions of section two of this act, excepting that the notice of election shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted, to wit: that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of, such municipal corporation, the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof, and that the property therein, shall, after such annexation, be subject to taxation, equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay such bonded indebtedness of such municipal corporation, outstanding at the date of the said annexation, or indebtedness theretofore authorized and to be represented by bonds of such municipal corporation thereafter to be issued. The said notice shall, in addition, distinctly specify the improvement or improvements for which such indebtedness was so incurred or authorized, and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred, outstanding at the date of the first publication of such notice, and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued, and the maximum rate of interest payable, or to be payable on such indebtedness; and upon the canvass of the returns of the votes cast in any territory proposed to be annexed at any election held therein under the provisions of this section, if it shall appear that two thirds of all the votes cast in such outside territory are in favor of annexation, the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall submit to the electors thereof the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted to the electors of such municipal corporation in the same manner as provided in section three of this act, and if it shall

The provisions of sections two, three and four of this act, so far as applicable, shall apply to annexation under the provisions of this section. From and after the date of the filing in the office of the secretary of state of a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such new territory and of the election in such municipal corporation at which the question of the annexation of the same new territory was submitted under the provisions of this section, and entered upon the minutes of the legislative body of such municipal corporation, as hereinbefore in this act provided, together with a statement showing the dates of such elections in said new territory and in such municipal corporation, and the time and result of canvass of the returns of such elections, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed and described therein, shall be deemed, and shall be, complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes a part of such municipal corporation, and the property within such annexed territory shall be taxed to pay the bonded indebtedness or liability of such corporation, specified in said notice, equally with the property within such municipal corporation as it existed prior to such annexation.

Annexation deemed complete.

Questions of annexing two or more outside bodies may be submitted at one election.

SEC. 6. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent the submission to the electors of any municipal corporation as separate propositions to be voted upon separately at one and the same election therein, of the questions of the annexation to any such municipal corporation of two or more bodies of outside territory, each of which is contiguous to such municipal corporation, but no one of which is contiguous to any of the others. Whenever, upon proceedings had and taken and at elections called and held in accordance with the provisions of this act, the electors of each of two or more such bodies of outside territory have voted in favor of the annexation thereof to the same municipal corporation, the legislative body of such municipal corporation must submit to the electors thereof, as separate propositions, each to be voted upon separately and without regard to the others, the question whether each such bodies of new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such questions may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or they may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other special election at which the submission of such questions is [not] prohibited by law. The notice of such election shall state, as separate propositions to be submitted at such election, the question of the annexation of each body of new territory, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the notice of an election in such municipal corporation at which the question of the annexation of only one body of new territory thereto is submitted; and the question as to each such body of new territory, shall be printed upon the ballots to be used at such election and the same shall be voted upon, separately, in like manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the submission of the question of the annexation of one body of such new territory. The provisions of section three of this act shall apply to such election in all respects the same as in the case of an election where only one such question is submitted; provided, however, that the annexation of any such body or bodies of new territory, upon the question or questions of the annexation of which a majority of the votes cast thereon at such election shall have been cast in favor thereof, shall not be affected or prejudiced in any manner, in the event that a majority of the votes cast at such election upon the question or questions of the annexation of any other body or bodies of new territory, shall have been cast against the annexation thereof.

Annexation of one body not affected by rejection of another

If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation voting separately upon the question or questions of the annexation of any one or more bodies of new territory, are in favor thereof, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation, shall forthwith make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in each such body of new territory, at which the electors residing therein shall have voted in favor of the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation, as hereinbefore provided, and of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation at which the questions of the annexation of each such body of new territory were submitted, and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, together with a statement showing the date of the elections in each such body of new territory, and in such municipal corporation, and the time and result of the canvass of the returns of such elections; provided, however, that the aforesaid record and statement as to any number of such annexations may be included in one document. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of each body of new territory described therein, and so proposed to be annexed shall be deemed to be, and shall be complete, and thereafter each such body of annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes, a part of such municipal corporation, with the same force and effect as in the case of other annexations under this act.

Should majority in city favor.

SEC. 7. Whenever a petition for the annexation of any new territory to any municipal corporation has been received by the legislative body thereof, as in this act provided, no petition asking for the annexation, in whole or in part, of the territory described in such petition, to any other municipal corporation, shall be presented to the legislative body of such other municipal corporation, and the last mentioned legislative body shall not submit the question of the annexation of such territory or any part thereof to the electors of such other municipal corporation, until the question of the annexation thereof to the municipal corporation whose legislative body received the petition first in this section mentioned shall have been submitted to the electors residing in such territory, and a majority of electors voting upon such question in such territory, shall have voted against the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation, or, in the event that a majority of the electors in such territory voting therein shall have voted in favor of the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation, until the question of such annexation shall have been submitted to the electors of such municipal corporation, and a majority of the electors thereof voting upon such question, shall have voted against the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation.

SEC. 8. The legislative body of any municipal corporation which is or shall be divided into wards, and to which territory has been heretofore or shall be hereafter annexed, under the provisions of this act, must by ordinance either so alter the boundaries of the wards of such municipal corporation as to include such annexed territory in one or more wards adjoining such annexed territory, or make of such annexed territory one or more additional wards; provided, that the number of wards shall not be so increased as to exceed the number which such municipal corporation may have according to law. In altering the boundaries of wards, or creating new wards, regard must be had to the number of inhabitants, so that each ward shall contain, as near as may be, an equal number of inhabitants, exclusive of persons ineligible to citizenship in this state.

SEC. 9. Nothing in this act contained shall alter or affect the boundaries of any senatorial or assembly district.

Expenses.

SEC. 10. All proper expenses of proceedings for annexation of territory under this act, whether such annexation shall be made and completed or not, shall be paid by the municipal corporation so annexing or attempting to annex such territory. In the event that a tax for road purposes has been levied by the board of supervisors of any county against property situated in territory which, subsequent to such levy, is annexed to any municipal corporation under the provisions of this act, but which, at the time of such annexation has not been collected, then all such taxes so uncollected shall be and become the property of the municipal corporation to which such territory is annexed, and the same shall, with other county taxes, be collected by the county tax collector, and by him paid into the county treasury of said county, after which the same shall, by the county treasurer, be paid to such municipal corporation, upon proper warrant therefor. The town or city clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such municipal corporation, shall, at any regular meeting of the board of supervisors of said county, present, and file a

Such claim shall be audited by the board of supervisors in the manner in which other claims against the county are audited, and if the amount thereof is correct, the same shall be allowed, and the county auditor instructed to draw his warrant for said amount against the road fund of the district in which such annexed territory is situated. This section shall apply to all such taxes not paid into the county treasury prior to the taking effect of this act.

SEC. 11. This act shall in no wise affect an act entitled "An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part of such municipalities, and for the districting, government, and municipal control of annexed territory," approved March 19, 1889, or acts amendatory to said act, and this act shall not apply to any proceedings had or taken thereunder, but is intended and does provide an alternative method for the annexation of territory to municipal corporations. When any proceedings for the annexation of territory to any municipal corporation are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendments thereof as may hereafter be adopted, and no other, shall apply to such proceedings. This act may be designated and referred to as the "Annexation act of 1913."

Upon redemption of any parcel of land the tax collector shall enter the fact and date of such redemption upon the duplicate certificate of sale thereof.

Deed after one year.

SEC. 14. If the property is sold, and is not redeemed within said period of one year from the date of the sale, the tax collector shall execute to the person named in the original certificate, or to his assignee, a deed of the property described in said certificate, which said deed shall refer in general terms to the proceedings under which the same is issued, and shall contain a description of the property. To expedite the making of any such improvement, the city council may at any time transfer into said special fund, out of any money in the general fund, such sums as it may deem necessary, and the sums so transferred shall be deemed a loan to such special fund and shall be repaid out of the proceeds of the assessments provided for in this act.

SEC. 16. At any time after the funds for the work, or any part of the work, shall be in the hands of said treasurer, the municipality shall itself execute and perform the work embraced in the plans and specifications contained in the report provided for in sections three and four of this act, in accordance with said plans and specifications, and employ the labor, and provide the nursery stock, material and supplies necessary therefor. Between the first Monday in March and the third Monday before the first Monday in July the board must assess and levy the taxes as and in the manner provided for in this act and in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state. The assessments must be made to the company, person, or association owning or operating the property subject to said tax, or, in the case of banks, banking associations, savings and loan societies and trust companies, to the stockholders therein; provided, however, that in the case of banks in liquidation the assessment shall be made to the receiver, trustee or officer in charge of such liquidation, as the case may be, as the representative of the stockholders thereof. Then the state board may assess the capital stock to and in the name of such bank and said promise to pay the taxes shall be binding upon such bank and collection of such taxes from such bank may be enforced in the manner and by the same method as is provided for the collection of other taxes assessed and levied under this act. On the third Monday before the first Monday in July the said board shall publish a notice in one daily newspaper of general circulation published at the state capital, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city and county of San Francisco, and in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Los Angeles, that the assessment of property for state taxes has been completed, and that the record of assessments for state taxes will be delivered to the controller on the first Monday in July, and that if any company, person, or association is dissatisfied with the assessment made by the board, it may, at any time before the taxes thereon shall become due and payable, apply to the board to have the same corrected in any particular. on property.

Section 21. The taxes levied under the provisions of this act shall constitute a lien upon all the property and franchises of every kind and nature belonging to the companies subject to taxation for state purposes, which lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of each year. Every tax herein provided for has the effect of a judgment against the company, and every lien created by this act has the effect of an execution duly levied against all property of the delinquent; the judgment is not satisfied nor the lien removed until such taxes, penalties, and costs are paid, or the property sold for the payment thereof. No final discharge in bankruptcy or decree of dissolution shall be made and entered by any court, until all taxes, penalties, and costs due on assessments made under the provisions of this act shall have been paid and discharged.

Sec. 6. Section twenty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Taxes paid to state
treasurer.

Section 22. All taxes assessed and levied as provided in this act shall be paid to the state treasurer, upon the order of the controller, without deduction for any taxes assessed and levied to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness mentioned in subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, and the amount due to the cities, cities and counties, counties, towns, townships, and districts on account of said taxes assessed and levied for such bonded indebtedness shall be paid to said cities, cities and counties, counties, towns, townships, or districts in the manner hereinafter in this act provided. The controller must mark the date of payment of any tax on the record of assessments for state taxes. He must give a receipt to the person paying any tax, or any part of any tax, specifying the amount of the assessment and the tax, or part of tax, paid, and the amount remaining unpaid, if any, with a description of the property assessed; provided, that the receipt for the second half of the taxes may refer, by number or in any other intelligible manner, to the receipt given for the first half of said taxes, in lieu of a description of the property assessed. Whenever any taxes, penalties, or costs collected and paid to the state treasurer under the provisions of this act, shall have been paid more than once, or shall have been erroneously or illegally collected, or when any taxes shall have been collected and paid pursuant to this act upon a computation erroneously made by reason of clerical mistake of the officers or employees of the state board of equalization, or shall have been computed in a manner contrary to law, the state board of equalization shall certify to the state board of control the amount of such taxes, penalties, or costs, collected in excess of what was legally due, from whom they were collected or by whom paid, and if approved by said board of control, the same shall be credited to the company or person to whom it rightfully belongs, at the time of the next payment of taxes. No claim for such credit shall be so audited, approved, allowed, or paid unless presented within one year after the payment sought to be refunded. In case the assessment of any property or any company is duplicated upon the state assessment roll, or there appears thereon the assessment of any company whose charter has been forfeited or right to do business in this state has been forfeited, or the assessment of any company which, for any reason, could not be legally assessed, the state board of equalization or the controller shall certify such fact to the state board of control and said board of control shall authorize the cancellation of such assessment.

Controller's receipt.

Credit for erroneous payments.

Sec. 7. Section twenty-three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 23. Any company, person or association claiming and protesting as herein provided that the assessment made against him or it by the state board of equalization is void in whole or in part may bring an action against the state treasurer for the recovery of the whole or any part of such tax, penalties or costs paid on such assessment upon the grounds stated in such protest, but no such action may be brought later than the third Monday in February next following the day on which the taxes were due, nor unless such company, person or association shall have filed with the state controller at the time of payment of such taxes a written protest stating whether the whole assessment is claimed to be void, or if a part only, what part, and the grounds upon which such claim is founded; and when so paid under protest the payment shall in no case be regarded as voluntary. Whenever under the provisions of this section an action is commenced against the state treasurer, a copy of the complaint and of the summons must be served upon the treasurer, or his deputy. At the time the treasurer demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the superior court of the county of Sacramento, which demand must be granted. The attorney general must defend the action. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such taxes. In any such action the court shall have power to render judgment for plaintiff for any part or portion of the tax, penalties or costs found to be void and so paid by plaintiff upon such assessment.

SEC. 8. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered twenty-three "a" to read as follows:

(c) After such public hearing, the commission may, in its discretion, make a mandatory order to be effective in sixty days from the making of such order, specifying the minimum wage for women or minors in the occupation in question, the maximum hours; provided, that the hours specified shall not be more than the maximum for women or minors in California; and the standard conditions of labor for said women or minors; provided, however, that no such order shall become effective until after April 1, 1914. Failure to mail notice to the employer shall not relieve the employer from the duty to comply with such order. Finding by the commission that there has been such publication and mailing to county recorders shall be conclusive as to service.

SEC. 7. Whenever wages, or hours, or conditions of labor have been so made mandatory in any occupation, trade, or industry, the commission may at any time in its discretion, upon its own motion or upon petition of either employers or employees, after a public hearing held upon the notice prescribed for an original hearing, rescind, alter or amend any prior order. Payment of less than minimum wage prohibited.

SEC. 11. The minimum wage for women and minors fixed by said commission as in this act provided, shall be the minimum wage to be paid to such employees, and the payment to such employees of a less wage than the minimum so fixed shall be unlawful, and every employer or other person who, either individually or as an officer, agent, or employee of a corporation or other person, pays or causes to be paid to any such employee a wage less than such minimum, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Penalty.

Wage fixed presumed reasonable.

SEC. 12. In every prosecution for the violation of any provision of this act, the minimum wage established by the commission as herein provided shall be prima facie presumed to be reasonable and lawful, and to be the living wage required herein to be paid to women and minors. The findings of fact made by the commission acting within its powers shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive; and the determination made by the commission shall be subject to review only in a manner and upon the grounds following: within twenty days from the date of the determination, any party aggrieved thereby may commence in the superior court in and for the city and county of San Francisco, or in and for the counties of Los Angeles or Sacramento, an action against the commission for review of such determination. (2) That the determination was procured by fraud.

Upon the setting aside of any determination the court may recommit the controversy and remand the record in the case to the commission for further proceedings. The commission, or any party aggrieved, by a decree entered upon the review of a determination, may appeal therefrom within the time and in the manner provided for an appeal from the orders of the said superior court.

SEC. 13. Any employee receiving less than the legal minimum wage applicable to such employee shall be entitled to recover in a civil action the unpaid balance of the full amount of such minimum wage, together with costs of suit, notwithstanding any agreement to work for such lesser wage.

Employee may sue for unpaid balance.

SEC. 14. An act to amend section 607e of the Civil Code of the State of California, relating to the compensation of societies organized for the prevention of cruelty to animals, or for the prevention of cruelty to children.

[Approved May 30, 1913. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 607e of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Compensation of societies for prevention of cruelty.

Section 607e. Every society, incorporated and organized for the prevention of cruelty to animals, or for the prevention of cruelty to children, may, in each city, or city and county, or county, where such society exists, while actively engaged in enforcing the provisions of the laws of this state, now or hereafter enacted, for the prevention of cruelty to animals or children, or arresting, or prosecuting offenders thereunder or preventing cruelty to animals or children, be paid as compensation therefor, from the city or county, or city and county general fund, by the board of supervisors or other governing body thereof, a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars per calendar month, in the same manner as other claims against said city or county, or city and county, are paid.

Urgency measure.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1, article IV of the constitution, and is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety. The following is a statement of facts constituting such necessity: Section 607e of the Civil Code permits societies organized for the prevention of cruelty to animals to make arrests, carry on prosecutions and collect fines and under the provisions of this section numerous societies have been organized and are being operated in such a manner as to be a menace to the public peace and safety. Arrests are being made and property seized without prosecution of the charges made, citizens are being forced to pay tribute to outlaw societies to escape persecution, and peace officers are urging the immediate withdrawal of the right of these societies to collect fines because of their greatly increased activity in these practices, pending the time when this bill may become law.

Power to ascertain value of public utilities.

Petition of city to acquire public utility.

Legislative body may file petition.

Section 47. The commission shall have power to ascertain the value of the property of every public utility in this state and every fact which in its judgment may or does have any bearing on such value. The commission shall have power to make revaluations from time to time and to ascertain all new construction, extensions and additions to the property of every public utility. Any county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district may at any time file with the commission a petition setting forth the intention of said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, any existing public utility, and the lands, property and rights of any character whatsoever connected with such existing public utility, or any part or portion thereof. Said petition shall give a full and complete description of said public utility, lands, property and rights, or the parts or portions thereof it is so intended to acquire, and may pray that the commission fix and determine the just compensation which shall be paid by such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, under the law, for said public utility and said lands, property and rights thereof, or the parts or portions thereof sought to be acquired. Or the legislative or other governing body of any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district may file with the commission a petition setting forth its intention to initiate such proceedings as may be required under the law governing such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district, for the purpose of submitting to the voters of said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district a proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, any existing public utility and the lands, property and rights of any character whatsoever connected with such existing public utility, or any parts or portions thereof. Such petition shall give a full and complete description of the said public utility, lands, property, rights, or the parts or portions thereof concerning which it is so intended to initiate said proceedings as above described. Upon either of such petitions being filed, the commission shall proceed to fix and determine the just compensation that should be paid to the owner of such public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, in the manner and in accordance with the provisions of section 70 of this act. In the case of the petition first above described, within sixty days after the commission shall have certified, in accordance with section 70, its findings as to the just compensation that should be so paid for such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district must commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction and in a manner in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof or any such parts or portions thereof, the value of which has been so fixed and determined as herein provided, unless the owner of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall file a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the compensation so fixed by the commission to be paid by the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district for the taking of said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof. Said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district shall not be required to delay for more than twenty days after the said commission shall have so certified its findings in accordance with said section 70, before commencing such proceedings in eminent domain. In the case of a petition of said legislative, or other governing body of any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, filed as above described, setting forth its intention to so initiate such proceedings for the purpose of so submitting a proposition to the voters of any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district, then within sixty days after the commission shall have certified, in accordance with section 70, its findings as to the just compensation that should be so paid for such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, the said legislative or other governing body must so initiate such proceedings, unless there be obtained a writ of review from the supreme court of the State of California, in accordance with the provisions of section 70 hereof, and if said writ of review be so obtained the time for the initiation of such proceedings shall be extended to not more than sixty days beyond the final decision of the supreme court upon such writ of review. If the people of any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, shall thereafter, as required by the law governing such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district, vote in favor of any proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings or otherwise, said public utility, or the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, then the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, shall, within sixty days after the people have so declared in favor of such acquisition, commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction, and in a manner in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said existing utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, the value of which has been so fixed and determined as herein provided, unless the owner of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall file a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the compensation so fixed by the commission to be paid by the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district for the taking of said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof. Said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district shall not be required to delay for more than twenty days after the said commission shall have so certified its findings, in accordance with said section 70, before commencing such proceedings in eminent domain; provided, however, that in any case where the law governing any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district permits such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district to commence and prosecute such proceedings in eminent domain prior to any such vote being had by the people, then the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district whose legislative or other governing body has so filed such a petition with the commission, as above described, may, within sixty days after the commission shall have certified, in accordance with section 70, its findings as to the just compensation that should be so paid for such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction and in a manner and in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, the value of which has been so fixed and determined as herein provided, unless the owner of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall file a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the compensation so fixed by the commission to be paid by said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district for the taking of said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof. incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, shall not be required to delay for more than twenty days after the said commission shall have so certified its findings in accordance with said section 70, before commencing such proceedings in eminent domain.

Whenever the owner of such existing public utility and such lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall file such a stipulation, the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district must proceed with all due diligence to provide the necessary funds under the laws governing the providing of such funds, for paying to the owner of such existing public utility and such lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, the amount fixed by the commission as the just compensation to be paid. Upon such compensation being paid to the owner of said existing public utility or the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, the owner thereof shall make and execute to the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district a deed of grant, bargain and sale conveying all of the right, title and interest such owner has in the existing public utility and lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof whose value has been so fixed as herein provided. And in default of such deed the commission is hereby empowered to execute such deed, as the trustee of said public utility and lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof. Should the owner of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or such parts or portions thereof, fail to file such a written stipulation as above, the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district must commence the action herein provided for within the time herein provided for. In such action the compensation fixed by the commission to be paid for such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall be deemed final and conclusive between the parties; and the court in which the action is pending, if it shall first decide that such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district has the right and power under the law to take the said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or such parts or portions thereof, whose value has been so fixed as herein provided for, shall enter a decree in favor of the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, as provided by law, fixing the amount that shall be paid as the just compensation for the taking of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any parts or portions thereof, as the amount fixed and determined by the commission. The judgment shall include a provision, in substance, that said judgment is subject to modification on account of any unreasonable depreciation or deterioration in value of the property taken, or on account of any loss which might be suffered by the owner of said public utility through his being required to properly take care of said property, as is hereinafter more fully provided for. If between the date of the filing of any such petition and the payment of the compensation to the owner of the public utility, the owner of the public utility shall permit the property taken to unreasonably depreciate or deteriorate in value, the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district may file with the commission a petition setting forth that fact, and praying that the commission determine and fix the amount of said unreasonable depreciation or deterioration. The commission shall thereupon order a copy of said petition to be served upon the owner of said public utility with an order to within ten days appear before said commission and show cause why there should not be deducted from the amount of compensation to be paid an amount sufficient to cover said depreciation or deterioration. The commission shall on the day so fixed, unless for good cause the hearing is continued, proceed to ascertain whether there has been any such depreciation or deterioration, and if so, what amount should be deducted therefor from the compensation to be paid. Hearings shall be had in the same manner as provided in section 70 of this act. The commission shall thereupon certify to the court any amount which may be determined upon that should be so deducted from the compensation, and the court shall thereupon modify its judgment in order to conform with said ascertainment by said commission. If between the time when the judgment in condemnation has become final and the time of the payment of the compensation the owner of the public utility shall, in order to preserve the property, be required to suffer a loss, the said owner may file a petition with the commission setting forth this fact, and praying that the commission determine and fix the amount of the loss which the owner has so suffered. The commission shall thereupon order a copy of said petition to be served upon the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district, with an order to within ten days appear before said commission to show cause why there should not be paid, in addition to the amount of the judgment, an amount sufficient to compensate for the said loss. The commission shall on the day so fixed, unless for good cause the hearing is continued, proceed to ascertain whether there has been any such loss, and if so, how much. The hearing shall be conducted as provided in section 70 of this act. The commission shall thereupon certify to the court any amount of loss so determined upon, and the court shall thereupon modify its judgment in order to conform with said ascertainment by the commission. Said amount of loss which may be so required to be paid to the owner of said utility shall not be considered as compensation for the property taken, but shall be considered as damages awarded for the loss so sustained by the owner of the utility. And the filing of any such petition by the owner of the utility shall not act as a stay of the decree in condemnation, but upon the payment of the amount fixed in the original decree in condemnation, the plaintiff shall be entitled to immediate possession of the property taken. The findings of the commission fixing the just compensation to be paid or the amount that should thus be deducted from the judgment on account of such unreasonable depreciation or deterioration, or that should thus be added to the judgment on account of said loss suffered, shall be subject to review by the supreme court of this state in the same manner and within the same time as other orders and decisions of the commission. Said writ of review may be issued at the instance of either the owner of the public utility or of the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district.

Should a writ of review be obtained from the supreme court of the State of California in accordance with the provisions of section 70 hereof, the time for the filing of such suit in eminent domain by the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district shall be extended to not more than sixty days beyond the final decision of the supreme court upon such writ of review; or, should said writ of review be obtained prior to the vote by the people of said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district upon any such proposition, then said sixty days period to be extended to not longer than sixty days after such vote is had. If the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district or the legislative or other governing body thereof shall fail to file such suit or proceed diligently to enforce the rights herein conferred and in the manner herein set forth, then upon written petition from the owner of such existing public utility setting forth said fact, the commission shall cause a notice of not less than ten days to be given to said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district to appear before said commission and show cause why an order should not be made by said commission, finding that the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district has failed to diligently pursue its rights hereby conferred, and determining that the findings of the said commission theretofore made as to the just compensation that should be paid for the existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, shall no longer be of any force or effect. And said notice shall include a copy of said written petition so filed by said owner of such existing public utility. If the commission shall determine that said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, or the legislative or other governing body thereof, has so failed to either file such suit or to proceed diligently to enforce the rights herein conferred and in the manner herein set forth, the commission shall make and enter such an order as so petitioned for by the owner of such existing public utility. obtained, decide that in any manner the commission has not lawfully pursued its power hereby conferred or conferred in this act, the supreme court shall make its findings and refer the matter back to the commission for correction or further action. Upon such writ coming down to the commission it shall proceed, as in the first instance, to correct its findings in the manner specified in the writ of review. Any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district must pay at such times in such amounts as may be directed by said railroad commission any extra costs which it might be necessary for said railroad commission to incur in order to comply with the requirements of this section. And the court, upon rendering any judgment in eminent domain, as herein provided for, may include therein the allowance of such costs as between the parties as is provided for in the law of eminent domain of this state. The rights herein conferred upon any county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district or upon the legislative, or other governing body thereof, to so file with the commission a petition for the ascertainment of the just compensation that should be so paid for any such existing public utility and lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, shall not be considered as an exclusive mode of procedure, but shall be considered as an alternative and cumulative procedure which may be followed by such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district or the legislative or other governing body thereof, in addition to any other method of procedure provided for in law for the taking by said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, of any such public utility or lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, under eminent domain proceedings, in accordance with the law of this state; and this act shall not be construed as repealing any law of this state providing for such eminent domain proceedings.

This consolidated list shall constitute the military roll for such county or city and county.

SEC. 2. Section 1898 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

On the filing with the secretary of a sworn complaint, charging the applicant with having been guilty of unprofessional conduct, the secretary must forthwith issue a citation, under the seal of the board, and make the same returnable at the next regular session of said board, occurring at least thirty days next after filing the complaint. Such citation shall notify the applicant when and where the charges of said unprofessional conduct will be heard, and that the applicant shall file his written answer, under oath, within twenty days next after the service on him of said citation, or that default will be taken against him and his application for a certificate refused. The attendance of witnesses at such hearing may be compelled by subpoenas issued by the secretary of the board under its seal. Said citation and said subpoenas shall be served in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to the service of citations and subpoenas generally, and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force relating to subpoenas and to citations are hereby made applicable to the subpoenas and citations provided for herein. Upon the secretary's certifying to the fact of refusal of any person to obey a subpoena or citation to the superior court of the county in which the service was had, said court shall thereupon proceed to hear said matter in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to contempts for disobedience of process of the court, and should said court find that the subpoena or citation has been legally served, and that the party so served has wilfully disobeyed the same, it shall proceed to impose such penalty as provided in cases of contempt of court. In all cases of alleged unprofessional conduct arising under this act, depositions of witnesses may be taken, the same as in civil cases, and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force as to the taking of depositions are hereby made applicable to the taking of depositions under this act. If the applicant shall fail to file with the secretary of said board his answer, under oath, within twenty days after service on him of said citation, or within such further time as the board may allow, and the charges on their face shall be deemed sufficient by the board, default shall be entered against him, and his application refused. If the charges on their face be deemed sufficient by the board, and issue be joined thereon by answer, the board shall proceed to determine the matter, and to that end shall hear such proper evidence as may be adduced before it; and if it appear to the satisfaction of the board that the applicant is guilty as charged, no certificate shall be issued to him. No certificate shall be refused on the ground of unprofessional conduct unless the applicant has been guilty of such conduct within two years next preceding his application. No such suspension or revocation shall be made unless such holder is cited to appear and the same proceedings are had as is hereinbefore provided in this section in case of refusal to issue certificates. Said secretary in all cases of suspension or revocation shall enter on his register the fact of such suspension or revocation, as the case may be, and shall certify the fact of such suspension or revocation under the seal of the board, to the county clerk of the counties in which the certificates of the person whose certificate has been revoked is recorded; and said clerk must thereupon write upon the margin or across the face of his register of the certificate of such person, the following: "The holder of this certificate was on the — day of — suspended for —," or, "This certificate was revoked on the — day of —," as the case may be, giving the day, month, and year of such revocation, or length of suspension, as the case may be, in accordance with said certification to him by said secretary. A "court" is an open, unoccupied space, other than a yard, on the same lot with a tenement house. A court not extending to the street or yard is an inner court. A court extending to the street or yard and bounded on three sides by a tenement house on the same lot is an outer court. If it extends to the street it is a street court. If it extends to the yard it is a yard court. If it extends from the street to the yard it is a street-to-yard court. A court bounded on one side and both ends by a tenement house and on the remaining side by a lot line is a "lot-line" court. "court";

"fireproof tenement";

A "wooden tenement" is a tenement of which the exterior walls or a portion thereof are of wood. Wooden buildings covered with metal, plaster, terra cotta, or veneered with masonry are wooden structures. "wooden tenement.";

Length and width.

For the purpose of this act the greatest horizontal linear dimension of any building shall be its length, and the next greatest horizontal linear dimension its width.

Height.

The height of buildings shall be measured from the curb level at the center of the main front of the building to the top of the highest point of the roof beams in case of flat roofs, and for high-pitched roofs the average height of the gable shall be taken as the highest point of the building.

For a building erected upon a street corner, the measurements shall be taken from the curb level opposite the center of either front.

When the ground upon which the walls of a structure are built is above the street level, the average level for the ground adjoining the walls may be taken instead of the curb level for the height of such structure.

Buildings
altered subject to act.

SEC. 3. A building not erected for use as a tenement house, if hereafter altered or converted to such use, shall thereupon become subject to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected.

Unlawful
structures.

SEC. 4. No tenement house shall at any time be altered so as to be in violation of any provision of this act. If any tenement house or any part thereof be erected, altered or occupied contrary to law, such tenement house shall be deemed an unlawful structure, and the department of health, or the department charged with the enforcement of this act, may cause such building to be vacated, and such building shall not again be occupied until it or its occupation, as the case may be, has been made to conform with the law.

Area of lot covered.

SEC. 5. No tenement house hereafter erected shall occupy more than ninety per cent of a corner lot or more than seventy-five per cent of any other lot, except as otherwise provided in this act; provided, that the space occupied by open iron fire escapes erected and constructed according to law shall not be deemed a part of the lot occupied, but that the space occupied by fireproof stairs, and by vent shafts thirty-two square feet or less in area, shall be considered as part of the lot occupied. For the purposes of this section the measurements may be taken at the level of the second tier of beams (the second floor level), except where rooms on the ground floor are to be used for sleeping apartments.

Corner
lots.

SEC. 6. By corner lot is meant a lot situated at the junction of two streets, or of a street and public alley or other public thoroughfare or public park, not less than sixteen feet in width. Any portion of the width of such lot distant more than fifty feet from such junction shall not be regarded as part of a corner lot, but shall be subject to the provisions of this act respecting other than corner lots. Where, in any corner lot, the two frontages are of unequal length, either street frontage may be taken as the width of the lot. Street frontage alone and not alley frontage shall be considered in determining such lesser frontage.

SEC. 7. The height of no tenement house hereafter erected shall by more than one half exceed the width of the widest street upon which it stands. Limit of height.

SEC. 8. Behind every tenement house hereafter erected, there shall be a yard extending across the entire width of the lot and at every point open from the ground to the sky, unobstructed, except that open iron fire escapes may project not over four feet from the rear line of the house. The depth of said yard, measured from the extreme rear wall of the house toward the rear line of the lot, shall be as provided in the following sections. Yard behind each house.

SEC. 9. Except upon a corner lot, as provided in section ten, or upon a lot running through from street to street or street to public alley, or public park as provided in section eleven, the depth of the yard behind every tenement house hereafter erected sixty feet in height shall not be less than twelve feet in every part. Said yard shall be increased in depth two feet for every additional twelve feet in height of the building or fraction thereof, and may be decreased in depth one foot for every twelve feet in height of the building less than sixty feet; but it shall never be less than ten feet in depth in every part. Depth of yard: lot not on corner.

In the event that two tenement houses or a tenement house and another structure of more than one story in height are constructed or erected upon the same lot, then and in that event the full yard space as set forth in this section shall be provided for each of such buildings. In no case shall two buildings of more than one story in height abut upon the yard of a width as herein provided for a single tenement house.

To determine the depth of yard as described in this section, the measurement shall be taken of the rear wall of such tenement house abutting on said yard and from the top of such wall to the level of the floor of the yard at such rear wall.

SEC. 10. The depth of the yard behind every tenement house hereafter erected upon a corner lot shall be not less than ten feet in every part and at every point open and unobstructed from the level of the second tier of beams (the second floor level); provided, that where any such lot is less than one hundred feet in depth the depth of the yard be not less than ten per centum of the greatest depth of such lot, but shall never be less than five feet in every part, nor less than the minimum width of an outer court on the lot line as prescribed by this act. If rooms on the ground floor are used as sleeping apartments the yard shall be taken from the ground up. When a corner lot is more than fifty feet in width, the yard for that portion in excess of fifty feet shall conform to the provisions of section nine of this act. Depth of yard: lot on corner.

SEC. 11. Whenever a tenement house is hereafter erected upon a lot which runs through from one street to another street or public alley or public park and said lot is not more than one hundred and fifty feet in depth one half of the width of the street or alley upon which the yard abuts may be included in the depth of the yard required by sections nine and ten, but said one half not to exceed in width the depth of the yard for such lot provided in sections nine and ten; provided, that on such lot no tenement house hereafter erected shall occupy more than ninety per centum of a corner lot, or more than seventy-five per centum of any other lot.

One half
included.

One half the width of the rear street or public alley or public park, immediately behind said lot, may be included in the portion of lot that is left uncovered in computing the percentage; provided, that whenever said one half the width of said rear street, or public alley or public park equals or exceeds the depth of yard required in section ten, if the lot be a corner lot, or in section nine, if the lot be not a corner lot, only such portion of such street, or public alley or public park may be included in computing the percentage to be left uncovered as will equal the depth of yard required for said lot.

When one half the width of such rear street, or public alley or public park is less than the depth of the yard required for such lot by the provisions of sections nine and ten it may be included in computing the percentage of the lot to remain uncovered.

Lot sur-
by streets.

If a lot is surrounded upon its four sides by streets or streets and public alleys twenty feet or more wide or public parks over twenty-four feet wide, the provisions relating to yards in sections eight, nine, ten and eleven need not be complied with; provided, that the tenement house to be constructed on such lot does not occupy more than seventy-five per centum of the lot and contains an outer court at least eighty feet deep and of a width twice as great as the depth prescribed for yards in section nine and open to one of the surrounding streets, public alleys, or public parks: provided, that said outer court shall not be required to be of a depth which shall leave less than fifty feet between the rear line of said court and the line of said lot immediately behind said court.

No court or vent shaft of a tenement house hereafter erected shall be covered by a roof or skylight, but every such vent shaft or court shall be at every point open from at least two feet above the floor of the lowest apartment abutting upon such vent shaft or court to the sky, unobstructed, except that open iron fire escapes, as required by law, or by ordinances or regulations of incorporated towns, incorporated cities or cities and counties, may project into the court, but not more than four feet from the wall of the house. All courts in tenement houses hereafter erected shall conform to the requirements of the following sections.

Except that recesses may be built on the street or yard or a court, provided the depth of same is no greater than the width and that their area be not counted in computing the area of the court.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Apportion school moneys.

2. If in any school district there has been an average daily attendance of only five or a number of pupils less than five during the whole school year, the superintendent shall, after giving due notice to all parties interested by sending notices

The board of supervisors shall investigate the matter, and, if in its judgment it would be better to temporarily suspend the school district they shall immediately so suspend it. If the board of supervisors find that there are other school facilities or that there is no reasonable chance to re-establish the district they shall declare the district lapsed, and shall attach the territory thereof to one or more of the adjoining districts in such manner as may be by them considered most convenient for the residents of said lapsed district.

presenting to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands or the greater part thereof are situated, at any of its regular meetings, a petition setting forth the following facts,— that they propose to form under the provisions of this act a water district to be known as the “(-----) water district”; the boundaries thereof; a description of the lands contained therein by legal subdivisions or other boundaries, specifying the county in which the same are located; the number of acres in the proposed district and in each parcel or tract of land contained therein with the names, if known, of the owners thereof, and, if not, designating them as “unknown”; the place where the principal business thereof is proposed to be transacted; and the source or sources (which may be in the alternative) from which said lands are proposed to be irrigated. The words “title or evidence of title” as used in this section include the possessory rights of entrymen or purchasers of public lands under any law of the United States or of this state whether evidenced by receipts or otherwise. The records of the United States land office for the district in which said lands are located; the records of the state land office; and the records in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said lands are situated shall be conclusive evidence of ownership for the purposes of this section.

“Evidence of title.”

SEC. 2. A copy of said petition and a notice signed by one or more of the petitioners stating the time and place at which the petition will be presented to and heard by the board of supervisors shall be published once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where said proceedings are to be held. Proof of publication must be attached to the petition and filed with the clerk of the board on or before the day on which the petition is presented. During the hearing, or any continuations thereof until concluded, the board must keep a full and complete record of all the proceedings and shall preserve the evidence of all persons appearing and testifying therein. If, at the hearing, it shall appear that the petition has been prepared and presented in the manner required by law and that it contains the required and properly qualified signatures thereto, the board shall enter its order approving the same. Thereupon the board shall fix the boundaries of the district and to that end may exclude therefrom any lands improperly included therein by the petitioners; and after a hearing thereon pursuant to a notice thereof published for the time and in the manner required for the publication of the petition (proof whereof has been filed with the clerk of the board on or before the date of said hearing) shall include in said district any land which shall appear to have been improperly excluded therefrom by the petitioners; and the board shall appoint until such time as their successors are elected and shall have qualified as in this act provided and from among those qualified to serve, a board of directors and an assessor. When said documents have been so recorded, the district shall be and is hereby declared to be legally organized and shall have power to sue and be sued.

organized.

SEC. 3. Any district formed hereunder, in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of the county in which it was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the district, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal water district formed under the provisions of this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof shall have been completed and proof thereof filed with the complaint any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district. If no answer shall be filed within said time the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the State of California.

SEC. 4. The district must adopt for the government and control of its affairs a code of by-laws, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state or the provisions of this act. Sixty days after they shall have qualified for office the board of directors shall prepare by-laws for the written approval of the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was organized, and, when said by-laws are approved, shall adopt the same by resolution entered in the minutes of the meeting, unless, prior thereto, by-laws shall have been adopted and filed with the secretary of the district by the written assent of the holders of title or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to a majority in area of the lands embraced in said district. The records of the United States land office for the district in which said lands are located; the records of the state land office; and the records in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said lands are situated shall be conclusive evidence of ownership for the purposes of this section. The by-laws shall provide for: the manner of calling, and the time, place and manner of conducting all elections and the manner of giving notice thereof; the mode of voting in person or by proxy; the qualifications and duties of officers, the

The by-laws may be repealed or amended, or new by-laws may be adopted by the assent of two thirds of the total vote of the district given either in writing or by ballot cast at an election of the district. The by-laws in their original form, and any repeal thereof, or amendment or addition thereto, must, together with the approval of the board of supervisors and the resolution of the directors, or the written assent thereto or a memorandum of the returns of the election at which the assent was given, be certified by a majority of the directors and the secretary of the district and must be filed for record with the county recorder of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located and by him recorded in a book kept by him for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to said district. Until so recorded, no by-law, addition thereto, amendment or repeal thereof, can be enforced against any person not having actual notice of the same.

Officers of district.

SEC. 5. The officers of the district shall be a board of five directors, a secretary, and an assessor, all of whom shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be elected by ballot, except the secretary who shall be appointed by the board of directors. No person shall be qualified to hold any of said offices, except that of secretary, unless he is a holder of title or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to lands contained in the district. Each appointee to office or officer-elect shall forfeit his office unless within ten days after he has notice of his election or appointment or before the expiration of ten days from the commencement of his term of office, when no such notice is given, he shall have filed for record with the county recorder of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located, a written acceptance of his office which shall be recorded in a book kept for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to the district.

Vacancies.

If any office shall become vacant by forfeiture, death, resignation, or from any other cause, the same shall be filled by appointment,—by the board of directors in case of vacancy in the office of secretary, and by the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was organized in all other cases.

Salaries.

Until such time as their salaries shall have been fixed by the adoption of by-laws, the officers of the district shall receive the following compensation for their services: the secretary and assessor such sum each as shall be fixed by the board of directors; and the directors five dollars each for each directors' meeting attended or for each day's service rendered as a director by order of the board of directors, together with any expenses incident to such service, except expenses incurred in traveling between his place of residence and the place at which directors' meetings are held.

SEC. 6. The board of directors shall choose from among its members a president; shall appoint the secretary of the district; shall select and maintain an office for the district in the principal place of business thereof and shall hold regular meetings therein at such time and place as may be agreed upon by resolution adopted, and shall hold therein such other meetings as, from time to time, may be deemed advisable; provided, that no meetings, except regular meetings, shall be valid unless prior thereto each director shall have filed with the secretary his written consent to the same, or unless the president, or three members of the board of directors, shall have called the same by giving each of said directors five days' written notice thereof, or unless said directors shall have authorized the same by resolution adopted at a former meeting and shall have caused five days' written notice thereof to be given by the secretary to each director not joining therein. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The vote of a majority of those present at any meeting where a quorum is had shall be necessary to determine any proposition or resolution presented. The secretary shall keep a record of all the proceedings had at meetings of the board of directors. The books, maps, papers, contracts, records and other documents pertaining to the affairs of the district shall be filed in the office of the district with the secretary and must be open to inspection at all times by any persons interested.

It shall be the duty of the board of directors to manage and conduct the affairs of the district and to that end it shall, in the name of the district, have power to plan, construct, maintain and keep in repair the irrigation works necessary or proper to supply the lands contained therein with sufficient water for irrigation purposes; to acquire by purchase, condemnation or other legal means all water, water rights, lands, properties or rights in properties necessary or proper therefor; to lease or sell for a valuable consideration any property, or right in property, belonging to the district and no longer necessary to its use and purpose; to take conveyances, contracts, leases or other assurances for property acquired by the district under the provisions of this act; to execute by its president and secretary all contracts, leases, conveyances and other documents necessary to carry out the duties and powers specified herein; to institute, maintain and defend in person, or by attorneys, all actions, proceedings or suits at law or in equity necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act, or to enforce, maintain, protect or preserve the rights, privileges and immunities created by or acquired in pursuance thereof; to establish, print and distribute among the landowners of the district equitable rules and regulations for the distribution of water; to enter, for the above purposes, either in person or by its agents or employes, in and upon any lands contained in the district;

to employ and fix the salary of such persons as may be necessary or proper to fully carry out the uses and purposes of the district; and to do any other lawful thing necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act or the uses and purposes for which the district is formed; provided, however, that the board of directors shall not let, or enter into, a contract for the construction of irrigation works, nor shall said board of directors construct the same by employees of the district until an election has been called and held to determine whether or not bonds of the district shall be issued as provided in section thirteen of this act, nor, in case bonds are voted, until eighty-five per cent of the total amount of said bond issue has been sold and the money received thereon, as provided in section eighteen hereof.

Not to let contracts until bonds are sold.

Assessment.

Hearing of objections.

SEC. 8. Between thirty and ninety days after the organization of the district, and between said dates annually thereafter, the board of directors must file with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which said district was organized an estimate of the sum required by the district to discharge the unpaid matured obligations thereof at that date and the obligations thereof that will mature or that it is probable will be incurred and mature during the two years next following, specifying that portion of said estimate which will be required for the payment of bonds and of the interest on bonds. Between the date on which the district was organized and ninety days thereafter, and between said dates in each succeeding year, the assessor must view the lands of the district and assess each parcel or tract of land contained therein at the cash value of the benefit derived by it from the construction and maintenance or proposed construction and maintenance of irrigation works and said assessor must, within said time, file with the clerk of said board of supervisors, an assessment book, with appropriate headings, in which must be listed each parcel or tract of land within the district, specifying,—(1) the name, if known, (and, if unknown, stating that fact) of the holder of title or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, thereto; (2) the description thereof by legal subdivisions, metes and bounds, or other boundaries sufficient to identify the same; and (3) the value assessed thereon. If the district is contained in more than one county, then the assessment book shall be prepared with a separate part in a separate volume for the lands of each county. Within sixty days after the said estimate and the said assessment list shall have been filed as above provided, the said board of supervisors, acting as a board of equalization, shall meet and hear any verified, written objections, stating the ground therefor, to the assessment as made, which objections, shall, prior to the hearing, be filed with the clerk of said board. Prior to the hearing, and during the office hours of said board of supervisors, the assessment list shall be open to public inspection. At the hearing, which must be continued from time to time until completed, the said board of supervisors shall hear the evidence offered in support of the objections presented and shall add to or deduct from the valuation assessed to any tract or parcel of land such per centum thereof as shall be sufficient to raise it or reduce it to the full cash value of the benefit derived by said tract or parcel of land from the construction or maintenance or proposed construction and maintenance of irrigation works and shall fix the value of any lands contained in said district that shall not have been so assessed. Thereupon, and before said hearing is closed, the assessor shall have the total valuation of all the lands assessed extended into columns, added and a statement thereof made. When said statement is completed, the board of supervisors must fix such ad valorem rate of taxation upon each hundred dollars in value of the lands so assessed as will raise the sum specified in said estimate. Any changes in or additions to said list shall be entered in said assessment book in the proper place therefor and the order therefor shall be indorsed on the margin of the entry and signed by the president and attested by the secretary of said board of supervisors. The order of the board of supervisors approving the assessment, the statement of the assessor showing the total valuation of the property assessed, the order fixing the rate of taxation thereon, and the estimate of the sum required by the board of directors of the district for the expense thereof during the two years next following shall be signed by the president and attested by the secretary of the district and shall be attached to the assessment book on the last volume thereof, unless the lands of the district are contained in more than one county, in which case a copy thereof shall be signed and attached in a similar manner to each separate part of the assessment book. Within ten days after the hearing is completed, the assessor shall compute and charge in the assessment book in a place provided therefor in the record of each parcel or tract of land assessed the amount of the tax due thereon and shall file each said separate part of the assessment book with the county tax collector of the county in which the lands therein assessed are located and thereafter the charges therein taxed shall be due and payable to the county tax collector of the county in which the lands on which they are taxed are situated. The various orders of the board of supervisors made at the hearing shall be final and when indorsed on or attached to the assessment book shall be conclusive evidence that the assessment was made and the tax levied in accordance with the law; provided, however, that any person interested in lands of the district and aggrieved by the decision of the board of supervisors may, in order to have said assessment, or the tax levied thereon, corrected, modified, or annulled, institute an action therefor in the superior court of the county in which said district was organized. No action to determine the validity in any respect of any such assessment, or tax levied thereon, shall be maintained unless the same shall have been commenced within thirty days after the assessment book, or each separate part thereof, is filed with said county tax collector as above provided, and no objection to

SEC. 9. From and after the filing of the assessment book, or separate part thereof, with said county tax collector, as provided in section eight of this act, the charges therein taxed upon any tract or parcel of land within the county for which he is the tax collector and any penalties added thereto as hereafter provided shall constitute a lien thereon and shall impart notice thereof to all persons.

SEC. 10. Within ten days after each tax shall have become due and payable, the assessor shall publish in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the district was organized, a notice stating that the same became due and payable on (inserting date) to the county tax collector of the county in which the lands on which the charge therefor is a lien are located and that unless paid within six calendar months from said date the same will become delinquent, an additional charge of ten per cent thereof added thereto and the delinquent property sold at public auction. The tax must be paid in United States gold coin and the tax collector must mark the date of payment in the assessment book opposite the name of the person paying, and must give to such person a receipt, specifying the property taxed, the amount of the charge thereon and the amount paid, and thereafter must pay the moneys so received to the county treasurer of said county, who must pay the same to the county treasurer of the county in which said district was organized, and he shall place the same to the credit of the district. As soon as possible after the tax shall become delinquent the assessment book and each separate part thereof shall be returned to the secretary of the district and the board of directors thereof shall publish once a week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which said district was organized a notice containing a description of the delinquent property; the name, if known, and, if unknown, stating that fact, of the person to whom it is assessed; the amount of the taxes and penalties due thereon; and a statement that the delinquent property will be sold therefor in front of the courthouse of said county on a date therein stated, which must be not less than twenty-one or more than twenty-eight days from the first publication, unless an error is made in the publication and discovered prior to the sale, in which case the notice shall be republished in the same manner, specifying the sale for a date not less than twenty-one or more than twenty-eight days from the first republication.

Purchaser.

SEC. 11. At the time and place stated in said notice or at such other time (written notice whereof has been posted at the place of sale) to which the board of directors may have postponed it, not exceeding thirty days in all from the original date of sale, that person is the purchaser who will immediately pay in gold coin of the United States the delinquent tax and the penalty thereon for the smallest portion of the delinquent property, or in case an undivided interest is taxed, then the smallest portion of the interest. In case there is no purchaser in good faith for the same the whole amount of the delinquent property shall, for the amount of the tax and penalty thereon, be struck off to the district as the purchaser. A certificate of sale shall be executed in duplicate by the board of directors, one of which shall be delivered to the purchaser or to the district, if the property shall have been struck off to the district, and the other of which shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property sold is located. The certificate shall be dated the day of the sale and shall specify—the description of the property sold; the name, if known, and if not, stating that fact, of the person to whom it was assessed; the fact that it was sold for the amount of the tax and penalty thereon, giving the amount and year of said tax; and the date on which the purchaser will be entitled to a deed. The recorder upon receiving the certificates of sale must, when he records the same, enter, in a book provided for that purpose and kept with the book provided for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to the district, a description of the land sold, corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of sale, the name of the purchaser, and the amount paid. The entries in said book shall be numbered consecutively on the margin thereof and a corresponding number shall be indorsed on the certificate. At the time of the sale the board of directors shall indorse in the assessment book opposite the description of the property, the portion of the same sold for taxes and penalties, with the date of sale and name of purchaser, and shall thereafter pay to the tax collector of the county in which the lands sold are located the amount received on the sale thereof and shall return said assessment book, or any such separate part thereof, to the county tax collector from whom the same was received, who must keep and file the same for the use and benefit of the district. Any person interested in any property sold may redeem the same within one year from the date of sale by paying in gold coin of the United States to the county tax collector of the county in which the property is located, and in trust for the purchaser or his assignees, the amount for which the same was sold, together with interest thereon at the rate of two per cent per month from the date of sale, and the tax collector must give him a receipt therefor, specifying therein a description of the property redeemed, the name of the purchaser and the date of sale, and he shall credit the amount so paid to the purchaser and shall thereafter pay the same on demand to the purchaser or his assignee. The county recorder of the county in which is located the property redeemed shall, upon presentation of the tax collector's receipt for said amount, mark the word "redeemed," the date and by whom redeemed on both the record of the certificate of sale of said property and on the margin of the memorandum thereof made in the book kept for that purpose. If no redemption shall be made within said one year, the purchaser, or the district, if said property shall have been sold to the district, shall be entitled to a deed executed by the board of directors, and said deed shall contain all the recitals of the certificate, and when duly acknowledged shall be (except as against actual fraud) conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings from the assessment to the execution of said deed, inclusive, and said deed will convey to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, free of all encumbrances, except state, county, municipal or subsequent district taxes, and except when the land is owned by the United States or this state, in which case it is the prima facie evidence of the right of possession. All property sold for taxes to the district shall subsequently be assessed for district taxation as though it had never been sold, but it shall not again be sold for delinquent tax, as long as it is owned by the district. The title acquired by the district, in case it becomes the purchaser at a delinquent tax sale of the district, may, subject to the right of redemption herein provided, be sold at public auction or private sale, but such sale shall not be made for less than the reasonable market value of the property, or for less than the amount of the taxes levied thereon, plus any penalties that may have been added thereto.

If for any reason any tract or parcel of land contained within the district shall not have been charged with its portion of any tax levied, or if the tax levied on any tract or parcel of land shall be adjudged invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, then such tract or parcel of land shall at the hearing in any subsequent tax levy be additionally taxed and charged by the board of supervisors of the county in which said district was organized in a sum which bears the same proportion to the total amount of said former tax as its then assessed valuation bears to the total amount of the assessed valuation placed on all the lands in the district at the time said former tax was levied.

for the purpose of obtaining all of the money necessary to pay the costs and expenses specified in the estimate accompanying the plan of the irrigation works or when the holders of title, or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to a majority in area of the land contained in the district, shall sign and file with the secretary of the district a petition therefor, the said board of directors shall, by resolution adopted and entered in its minutes, order a special election to be held at the time designated by said board at which shall be submitted to the landowners the question of whether or not bonds of the district shall be issued in said amount. A notice of said election, specifying the time and place at which the same will be held, the amount of the bonds proposed to be issued, the interest rate and purpose thereof, shall be published once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located, and proof thereof must be filed with the secretary of the district prior to the date on which said election is held. The ballots cast at such election shall specify the amount and purpose of the proposed bond issue and the rate of interest proposed. Within ninety days after the third and last member thereof is chosen, unless said time shall be extended by the board of directors, in which case within said extension of time, each member of said board of investigation shall prepare his separate written report and shall file the same with the state superintendent of banks and shall certify and file a copy thereof with the board of directors of said district, which report shall specify whether or not said cost will be in excess of one hundred per centum of the total amount of the said bonds so issued. In case lands of the district, when sold for delinquent taxes, are struck off to the district as the purchaser, the tax collector of the county in which said lands are located shall, in making his accounting with the treasurer of said county, furnish a statement of the lands so sold to the district and of the amount for which the same were sold, and said treasurer shall deliver the same to the treasurer of the county in which said district was organized and said last-named treasurer shall thereupon estimate that portion of said amount belonging to the bond fund and shall charge the general fund with said portion and shall pay the same from

An act to amend the Political Code of the State of California by adding a new section thereto, to be known and numbered as section 3489a, relating to reclamation and swamp land districts.

[Approved June 13, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be known and numbered as section 3489a and to read as follows:

Change of boundaries of reclamation districts.

3489a. The boundaries of any reclamation and swamp land district now organized or hereafter organized under the provisions of the laws of the State of California may be changed and tracts of land which were included within the boundaries of said district at or after its organization may be excluded therefrom in the manner in this section prescribed; but neither such change of the boundaries of the district nor such exclusion of land from the district shall impair or affect its organization or its right in or to property or any of its rights or privileges of whatever kind or nature; nor shall it affect, impair or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge for or upon which said district was or may become liable or chargeable had such change of its boundaries not been made or had not said land been excluded from the district.

Petition to exclude land.

The owner or owners in fee of one or more tracts of land which constitute a portion of a reclamation or swamp land district may jointly or severally file with the board of supervisors of the county in which the district, or the greater part thereof, is situated, a petition praying that such tract or tracts and any other tracts contiguous thereto may be excluded and taken from said district. The petition shall state the grounds and reasons upon which it is claimed that such lands should be excluded and shall describe the boundaries thereof and also the land of such petitioner or petitioners which are included within such boundaries. Such petition must be acknowledged in the same manner and form as is required in the case of the conveyance of land and the acknowledgment shall have the same force and effect as evidence as the acknowledgment of such a conveyance. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be published for at least two (2) weeks in some newspaper of general circulation in the district and published in the county where the said district, or the greater part thereof, is situated and if any portion of such territory to be excluded lies within another county or counties, then said notice shall be so published in a newspaper published within each of said counties; or if no newspaper be published therein, then by posting such notice for the same time in at least three (3) public places in said district and in case of the posting of said notices, one of said

notices must be so posted on the lands proposed to be excluded. In addition to the notice by publication or posting, as above provided, he shall cause to be mailed a notice to each person owning property within said district by United States mail, postage prepaid, to the post-office address of such landowner. Said notice shall be mailed at least ten (10) days before the day set for said hearing. The notice shall state the filing of such petition, the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands mentioned in said petition and the prayer of said petition; and it shall notify all persons interested in or who may be affected by such change of the boundaries of the district to appear at the office of said board at a time named in such notice and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the change of the boundaries of said district as proposed in said petition should not be made. The time to be specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be at a regular meeting of the board. The board of supervisors at the time and place mentioned in the notice or at the time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition and all evidence or proofs that may or shall be introduced by or on behalf of the petitioner or petitioners and all objections to said petition that may or shall be presented in writing by any person showing cause as aforesaid and all evidence and proofs that may be introduced in support of such objections. Such evidence shall be taken down in shorthand and a record made thereof and filed with the board. The failure of any person interested in said district other than the holders of bonds thereof outstanding at the time of the filing of such petition with said board, to show cause in writing why the tract or tracts of land mentioned in said petition should not be excluded from said district, shall be deemed and taken as an assent by him to the exclusion of such tract or tracts of land or any part thereof from said district; and the filing of such petition with said board as aforesaid shall be deemed and taken as an assent by each and all of such petitioners to the exclusion from said district of the lands mentioned in the petition or any part thereof. The expenses of giving said notice and of the aforesaid proceedings shall be paid by the person or persons filing such petition. If, upon the hearing of any such petition, no evidence or proofs in support thereof be introduced or if the evidence fails to sustain said petition or if the board deem it not for the best interests of the district that the lands or some portion thereof mentioned in the petition should be excluded from the district, the board shall order that said petition be denied as to such lands; but if the said board deems it for the best interests of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition or some portion thereof be excluded from the district and if no person interested in the district show cause in writing why the said lands or some portion thereof should not be excluded from the district, or if having shown cause, withdraws the same or upon the hearing fails to establish such objections as he may have made, then it shall be the duty of the board to and it shall forthwith make an order that the lands mentioned and described in the petition or some defined portion thereof be excluded from said district; provided, that if the holders of the legal title representing ten (10) per cent of the assessed valuation of all the land within said district, as appears from the last preceding assessment roll, file with the board of supervisors of said county written objections to the withdrawal of such land from said district, it shall be the duty of the said board of supervisors to forthwith deny said petition and refuse to exclude said lands from the boundaries of said district. If there be outstanding bonds of the district at the time of the filing of said petition, the holders of such outstanding bonds may give their assent in writing to the effect that they severally consent that the lands mentioned in the petition or such portion thereof as may be excluded from said district by order of said board may be excluded from the district and if said lands or any portion thereof be thereafter excluded from the district, the lands so excluded shall be released from the lien of such outstanding bonds. The assent must be acknowledged by the several holders of such bonds in the same manner and form as is required in case of a conveyance of land and the acknowledgment shall have the same force and effect as evidence as the acknowledgment of such conveyance. The assent shall be filed with the clerk of said board of supervisors and must be recorded in the minutes thereof and said minutes or a copy thereof certified by the clerk shall be admissible in evidence with the same effect as the assent and a certified copy thereof shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of each of the counties wherein said lands are situated. In the event said board of supervisors shall exclude any lands from such district upon petition therefor, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to cause to be made an entry in the minutes of the board describing the boundaries of the district should the exclusion of said lands from said district change boundaries of said district and for that purpose the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of the district as the board may deem necessary; and a certified copy of the entry in the minutes of the board excluding any land certified by the clerk of the board shall be filed for record in the recorder's office in each county within which are situated any of the lands of the district, but said district notwithstanding such exclusion shall be and remain a reclamation and swamp land district as fully to every intent and purpose as it would be had no change been made in the boundaries of the district or had the lands excluded therefrom never constituted a portion of the district. Nothing herein provided shall in any manner operate to release any of the lands so excluded from the district from any obligation to pay or any lien thereon or any valid outstanding bonds or other indebtedness of said district at the time of the filing of such petition for the exclusion of said lands, but on the contrary said lands shall be held subject to said lien and unanswerable and chargeable with the payment and discharge of all said outstanding obligations at the time of the filing of the petition for the exclusion of said land as fully as though said petition for such exclusion were never filed and said order of exclusion never made; and for the purpose of discharging such outstanding indebtedness, said lands so excluded shall be deemed and considered as part of said district the same as though said petition for its exclusion had never been filed or said order of exclusion never made, and all provisions which may have been resorted to to compel the payment by said land of its quota and portion of said outstanding obligation had such exclusion never been accomplished, may, notwithstanding said exclusion, be resorted to to compel and enforce the payment on the part of said land of its quota and portion of such outstanding obligations of said district for which it is liable but said land so excluded shall not be held answerable or chargeable for any obligation of any nature or kind whatever incurred after the filing with the board of supervisors of the petition for the exclusion of said lands from the said district; provided, that the provision of this section shall not apply to any outstanding bonds, the holders of which have assented to the exclusion of such lands from said district, as hereinbefore provided. The boundaries of any district now organized or hereafter organized may be changed in the manner herein prescribed, but such change of the boundaries of the district shall not impair or affect its organization or its rights in or to property or any of its rights or privileges of whatever kind or nature; nor shall it affect, impair or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge for or upon which it was or might become liable or chargeable had such change of its boundaries not been made.

Change of boundaries does not impair organization.

An act amending sections one and three of an act entitled, "An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure, building, road, or other state improvement of any kind and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to erections and buildings, approved March 28, 1876,' " (approved March 22, 1909).

[Approved June 14, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of an act entitled, "An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure, building, road, or other state improvement of any kind and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to erections and buildings,' approved March 28, 1876, (approved March 22, 1909)," is hereby amended to read as follows:

State construction under direction of engineering department.

Section 1. Whenever provision is made by law for the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure, building, or other state improvement of any kind excepting improvements on the property of the state on the water front of the city and county of San Francisco under the jurisdiction of the board of state harbor commissioners, the total cost of which will exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, the same shall be under the sole charge and direct control of the department of engineering. Said department, before entering into any contract for the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure, building, or other state improvement of any kind, shall prepare full, complete and accurate plans and specifications and estimates of cost, giving such directions for the same as will enable any competent mechanic or other builder to carry them out. The plans, specifications and estimates of cost must be approved by the advisory board of the department of engineering and the original draft thereof filed permanently in the office of the department of engineering before further action is taken.

SEC. 2. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Opening of bids and awarding of contract.

Section 3. On the day named in said public notice the department of engineering shall proceed to publicly open said sealed bids, and shall award such contract or contracts to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders. All bids shall be presented under sealed cover and shall be accompanied by cash, a bidder's bond, or a certified check made payable to the state engineer, for an amount equal to at least ten per cent of the amount of said bid and no bid shall be considered unless such cash, bond or check is enclosed therewith. Should the successful bidder to whom the contract is awarded fail to execute the same, such cash, bond or check shall be forfeited to the State of California and the same shall be the property of the state. All other cash, bonds and certified checks shall within ten days after the date of the public opening of said bids, be returned to the unsuccessful bidders who submitted the same. Such contract or contracts shall not be binding on the state until they are submitted to the attorney general and by him found to be in accordance with the provisions of this act, and his certificate thereon to that effect made. If in the opinion of such department of engineering the acceptance of the lowest responsible bid or bids shall not be for the best interests of the state, it may be lawful for them to reject all bids and advertise for others in the manner aforesaid. But after the approval of the plans, specifications and estimates of costs by the advisory board of the department of engineering, if, in the opinion of such department of engineering the acceptance of any bid or bids shall not be for the best interests of the state, or if in the opinion of such department of engineering the acceptance of any further bids after the rejection of all bids submitted shall not be for the best interests of the state, it may be legal for them to direct that the erection, construction, alteration, repair, or improvement of any state structure, building, or other state improvement of any kind, except as provided in section one of this act, shall be done by day's labor, under the direction and control of the department of engineering. Upon the approval of the advisory board, the state engineer may, when proceeding upon the basis of day's labor, let any subdivision of said work by contract upon informal bids, provided no such contract shall be entered into for a sum in excess of the lowest responsible bid received and rejected for such portion of said work. All contracts shall provide that such department of engineering may, as hereinafter provided, and on the conditions stated, make any change in the plans and specifications. Certified copies of such contracts shall be filed with the controller and the board of examiners.

Said serial bonds shall extend over a period not to exceed fifteen years from the second day of January next succeeding the issuance of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the second day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid; provided, that if the period over which said bonds are to extend exceeds ten years, one tenth part of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the second day of January of each of the last ten years of said period. Said bonds and interest thereon shall be paid at the office of the city treasurer of said municipality, who shall keep a fund designated by the name of said bonds, into which he shall receive all sums paid him for the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon, and from which he shall disburse such sums upon the presentation of said coupons; and under no circumstances shall said bonds or the interest thereon be paid out of any other fund. When said city council shall determine that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the expenses of any proposed work or improvement under said street work act, it shall so declare in the resolution of intention to do said work, and shall specify the rate of interest which they shall bear and the period of time over which they are to extend. A like description of said bonds shall be inserted in the notice of award, and a notice that a bond will issue to represent each assessment of twenty-five dollars or more remaining unpaid for thirty days after the date of the warrant, or such further time as may be thereafter granted by way of an extension, or five days after the decision of the city council upon an appeal, or thirty days after the recording of a reassessment in the event that one be made, and describing the bonds, shall be included in the warrant provided for in section nine of said street work act.

SEC. 3. Section four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 4. After the full expiration of thirty days from the date of the warrant, or if an appeal be taken to the city council, or an extension of time be granted the contractor in which to make his return as provided in section 10 of said street work act, then five days after the final decision of said city council, or the expiration of the extension, or after the full expiration of thirty days from the recording of a reassessment in the event that such be made, and after the street superintendent shall have recorded the return, and in the event that a reassessment is ordered, after all previous payments have been credited on the reassessment, the street superintendent shall make and certify to the city treasurer a complete list of all assessments unpaid, which amount to twenty-five dollars or over upon any assessment or diagram number: and said treasurer shall thereupon make out, sign and issue to the contractor, or his assigns, payee of the warrant and assessment, a separate bond, representing upon each lot or parcel of land upon said list the total amount of the assessments, or reassessments as the case may be, against the same as thereon shown. And if said lot or parcel of land is described upon said assessment and diagram by its number or block, or both, upon the official map of said municipality, or upon any map on file in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said municipality is situated, then it shall be in said bond a sufficient description of said lot or parcel of land to designate it by said number or block, or both, as it appears on said official or recorded map. Said bond shall be substantially in the following form:

Under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the State of California (title of said act), I, out of the fund for the above designated street improvement bonds, series _____, will pay to _____, or order, the sum of _____ dollars, ($ _____), with interest at the rate of _____ per cent per annum, all as hereinafter specified, and at the office of the treasurer of the _____ of _____, State of California.

This bond is issued to represent the cost of certain street work upon _____ in the _____ of _____, as the same is more fully described in assessment No. _____, issued by the street superintendent of said _____, after acceptance of said work, and recorded in his office (or if there has been a reassessment then the reference shall be to such reassessment). Its amount is the amount assessed in said assessment (or reassessment if such be made) against the lot or parcel of land numbered therein, and in the diagram attached thereto, as No. _____, and which now remains unpaid, but until paid, with accrued interest, is a first lien upon the property affected thereby, as the same is described herein, and in said recorded assessment with its diagram, to wit:

That certain lot or parcel of land in said ----- of -----, county of ----- and State of California, described as follows:

This bond is payable exclusively from said fund and neither the municipality nor any officer thereof is to be holden for payment otherwise for its principal or interest. The term of this bond is ----- years from the second day of January next succeeding its date, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid shall be due and payable; but on the second day of January of each year after its date an even annual proportion of its whole amount is due and payable upon presentation of the coupon therefor until the whole is paid (or if said bonds are to extend over a period exceeding ten years from their date, insert in place of the last statement the following: But on the second day of January of each of the last ten years of the term of this bond an even one tenth part of the whole amount of the principal of said bond shall be due and payable upon presentation of the coupon therefor,) with all accrued interest at the rate of ----- per centum per annum. The interest is payable semiannually, to wit: on the second days of January and July in each year hereafter, upon presentation of the coupons therefor, the first of which is for the interest from date to the next second day of -----, and thereafter the interest coupons are for semiannual interest. Should default be made in the annual payment upon the principal, or in any payment of interest, by the owner of said lot or parcel of land, or anyone in his behalf, the holder of this bond is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable and to have said lot or parcel of land advertised and sold forthwith, in the manner provided by law.

In case the amount of the unpaid assessment or reassessment upon any lot or parcel of land shall be less than twenty-five dollars, then the same shall be collected as is provided in said street work act. If any person, or his authorized agent, shall at any time before the issuance of the bond for said assessment or reassessment upon his lot or parcel of land present to the city treasurer his affidavit made before a competent officer, that he is the owner of a lot or parcel of land in said list, accompanied by the certificate of a searcher of records that he is such owner of record, and shall with such affidavit and certificate notify said treasurer in writing that he desires no bond to be issued for the assessment upon said lot or parcel of land, then no such bond shall be issued therefor and the payee of the warrant, or his assigns, shall retain his right for enforcing collection of said assessment or reassessment as if said lot or parcel of land had not been so listed by the street superintendent. The bonds so issued by said treasurer shall be payable to the party to whom they issue, or order, and shall be serial bonds, as is hereinbefore described, and shall bear interest at the rate specified in the resolution of intention to do said work. They shall have annual coupons attached thereto, payable in annual order on the second day of January in each year after the date of the bonds until all are paid, or if the term of said bonds be more than ten years, then said coupons shall be payable on the second day of January of each of the last ten years of the term of the bonds; and each coupon shall be for an even annual proportion of the principal of the bond. They shall have semiannual interest coupons thereto attached, the first of which shall be payable upon the second day of January or July, as the case may be, next after its date, and shall be for the interest accrued at that time, and the rest of which shall be for the semiannual interest accruing from the second day of January or July, as the case may be. The owner of, or any person interested in, any lot or parcel of land upon which a bond has been issued, under the terms of this act, may at any time pay off such bond and discharge his land from the lien of the assessment, by paying to the city treasurer for the holder of such bond the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, and all interest thereon which has accrued and is unpaid, together with the semiannual installment of interest which will next become due thereafter, and in addition thereto, interest for two years at the rate specified in the bond upon the unpaid amount of the principal. The treasurer shall thereupon make an entry upon his bond register that such bond has been paid in full. When all the coupons of principal and interest are paid or the bond is surrendered or satisfied, the city treasurer shall report the fact to the street superintendent, who shall forthwith endorse the same on the margin of the record of the assessment to the credit of which the same is paid. The assessment upon which a bond is issued shall be a first lien upon the property affected thereby until the bond issued for the payment thereof and the accrued interest thereon shall be fully paid. Said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings leading up thereto under said street work act and under this act, and of the validity of said lien.

Such legislative body may include in one improvement, under one ordinance or resolution of intention and order and under one contract, the whole, or any portion of one or more streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places, or rights of way, and the establishment, change or modification of grade of all, or any, or any portion thereof and any and all of the different kinds of work mentioned in section one hereof, and may exclude therefrom any of said work already done, either to the official grade or in any other designated manner.

The city clerk shall immediately upon the completion of the mailing of said cards file in the office of the superintendent of streets an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of his compliance with this requirement; provided, that the failure of the city clerk to address said cards or any of them to the true owners of said property, or to mail said cards, or the failure of the property owners to receive the same, shall in no wise affect the validity of the proceedings or prevent the legislative body from acquiring jurisdiction to order the work; provided, however, that the legislative body shall not pass any ordinance or resolution ordering the work until such affidavit is made and filed as herein prescribed.

SEC. 4. At or before the time fixed for the hearing, any person interested, objecting to the proposed improvement or to the extent of the assessment district described in the ordinance or resolution of intention, may file a written protest with the clerk of said legislative body. Any protest not complying with the foregoing requirements shall not be considered by said legislative body. The clerk shall endorse on every such protest the date of its reception by him, and at the time fixed for the hearing, or at any other time to which the hearing may be adjourned, he shall present to said legislative body all protests so filed with him. Before the hearing of any protest there shall be filed with such legislative body affidavits showing that the said notices have been posted and published as hereinbefore required, and the said legislative body shall thereupon cause to be entered in its minutes an order reciting that notice of said hearing has been posted and published as required by law, and such order shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the facts therein recited. The legislative body shall hear said protests at said meeting, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be continued, and pass upon the same, and its decision shall be final and conclusive. If such protests are sustained, no further proceedings shall be had under said ordinance or resolution of intention, but a new ordinance or resolution of intention for the same improvement may be passed at any time. At or before the time set for the hearing of petitions for damages any person owning property, and claiming that the same will be damaged by said proposed improvement, shall file with the superintendent of streets, who shall transmit the same to the commission, a petition showing the fact of such ownership, a description of the property claimed to be damaged, its market value, and the amount of damages which it is claimed such property will sustain by the proposed improvement, and the post-office address of such petitioner, or his agent. Every such petition shall be verified by the oath of the petitioner or his agent. After considering the petitions filed as herein provided, and after hearing the petitioners who may appear, and after viewing the location of the proposed improvement and the property affected thereby, said commission shall proceed to determine the amount of damages, if any, which will be sustained by each such petitioner because of the proposed improvement. No damages or compensation whatsoever shall be allowed or awarded to the owner of any property affected by said improvement unless a petition therefor be filed as provided in this section, and any property owner who fails to file a petition for damages as hereinbefore provided, shall be deemed to have waived any and all claims for damages caused by said improvement.

enter into a contract with the city to do the work, with the bonds hereinafter required. Said bids shall be opened by the legislative body in public session and publicly declared, and no bid shall be considered unless accompanied by said bond or said certified check. The legislative body must let the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall give bond for the faithful performance of the work in such sum as may be required by it, with sureties satisfactory to said legislative body; provided, however, that the legislative body may reject any and all bids, should it deem this for the public good, and also the bid of any person who has been delinquent or unfaithful in the performance of any former contract with the city, or of any other contract let by or under the authority thereof. The contract must provide that the work shall be done under the supervision of the superintendent of streets, and no work shall be paid for until it has been accepted by the legislative body. Whenever the contractor desires the work, or part thereof, to be accepted, he must make written application to that effect to the legislative body. Upon the filing of such application for acceptance, the clerk of the legislative body shall give not less than five days' notice by publication by two insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper, published and circulated in the city, or by posting for two days in three public places in the city, in case no such newspaper is published and circulated therein, that at a certain time and place, to be named in said notice, the legislative body of the city will hear and consider any objections to the acceptance of the work, or part of the work, for the acceptance of which said contractor has made such application, and only after such hearing shall any work be accepted. If upon such hearing any objections to the acceptance are made, and are sustained by the legislative body, the legislative body must require the contractor to take such steps as will remove such objections; and in the event of his failure to do so, within such time as the legislative body shall prescribe, the legislative body may relet such portion of the work, and charge the contractor the cost thereof, together with all expenses incident to said reletting, and retain the same out of any moneys due, or to become due, to him under the contract, and also hold him and his sureties responsible therefor upon his bond. The contract shall provide that the work must be commenced within twenty days after the contractor receives written notice from the superintendent of streets that there is sufficient money or bonds, or money and bonds in the special fund devoted to the proposed improvement to pay the contract price, and completed within such time as the superintendent of streets shall prescribe. If the contractor abandons the work or fails to proceed with the same as rapidly as required by his contract, the legislative body may relet the contract, or any portion thereof, and pay the cost of the same, and also any expenses incident to the reletting, out of any funds due, or to become due the contractor, and also hold him and his sureties responsible upon his bond for such costs and expenses, and also

Such bond shall be executed by the principal and at least two sureties who shall qualify for double the sum specified in said bond, and shall be made to inure to the benefit of any and all persons, companies, or corporations who performed labor on or furnished materials to be used in the said work or improvement, and shall provide that if the contractor to whom said contract was awarded fails to pay for any material so furnished for the said work, or for any work or labor done thereon of any kind that the sureties will pay the same to an amount not exceeding the sum specified in said bond. Any materialman, person, company or corporation furnishing materials to be used in the performance of said work specified in said contract or who performed work or labor upon the said improvement, whose claim has not been paid by the said contractor to whom the said contract was awarded, may, within thirty days from the time said improvement is finally accepted, file with the superintendent of streets a verified statement of his or its claim, together with a statement that the same, or some part thereof, has not been paid. At any time within ninety days after the filing of such claim the person, company or corporation filing the same, or their assigns, may commence an action on said bond for the recovery of the amount due on said claim, together with the costs incurred in said action and a reasonable attorney fee to be fixed by the court for the prosecution thereof. Upon the signing of the contract for the doing of the work the clerk of the legislative body, if there be no board of public works in said city, shall certify to such commission the amount of the contract price.

A proposed assessment of the total amount of damages that will be caused by said improvement, as determined by the commission, the total amount of the contract price for the work and the total amount of the incidental expenses thereof as above specified, upon the respective lots or parcels of land in said district in proportion to the benefits to be received by such lots or parcels of land, respectively, from said improvement. Said assessment shall refer to such lots or parcels of land upon said diagram by the red ink numbers thereof, and need contain no other description thereof, and shall show the names of the owners, if known, otherwise designating them as unknown; but no mistake in the name of the owner of any lot or parcel of land shall affect the validity of the assessment thereon. Proposed assessment.

In case the commissioners do not all agree, a majority of the whole number may make such report.

SEC. 11. Upon the filing of the report provided for in section ten hereof, the clerk of the legislative body shall present such report to the legislative body, which shall fix a day for the hearing thereof by said legislative body, which day shall not be less than twenty days from the date of filing such report, and shall cause a notice of such hearing to be published by the clerk thereof, by three insertions in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or if there be no daily newspaper in said city, then by two successive insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated; or if no newspaper is so published and circulated, then by posting for two days in three public places in said city. Such publication shall be completed at least ten days before the date fixed for the hearing. Any objection to said report shall be in writing signed by the objector, or his agent, and shall comply with the requirements of section four hereof for the form and substance of protests, and shall be filed with the clerk of the legislative body at or before the time fixed for the hearing. At the time fixed, or at any other time to which the hearing may be continued, the legislative body shall hear said report and any objections thereto, and any person interested may appear and be heard upon said report and objections. If no objections are filed, or if the objections filed are not sustained, the legislative body shall confirm the report. The action of the legislative body upon said report shall be declared by resolution entered upon its minutes, and shall be final and conclusive, except as to the damages to be caused by the proposed improvement; and when such report is confirmed, or is confirmed as modified or corrected, the clerk of the legislative body shall transmit the diagram and assessment provided for in section ten hercof, as finally confirmed, to the superintendent of streets. The superintendent of streets shall thereupon record such assessment and diagram in his office, in a suitable book to be kept for that purpose, and append thereto his certificate of the date of such recording, and such record shall be the assessment roll. From the date of such recording all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of such assessment roll. Immediately upon such recording the several assessments contained in such assessment roll shall become due and payable, and each of such assessments shall be a lien upon the property against which it is made, paramount to all other liens, except liens for state, county and municipal taxes; and such liens shall only be discharged by payment of the assessment or by redemption of the land after sale for delinquency. The superintendent of streets shall, upon the recording of said assessment, give notice by publication for five days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or by two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated; or in case no such daily or weekly newspaper is so published and circulated in said city, then by posting such notice for four days in three public places in said city, that said assessment has been recorded in his office and that all sums assessed therein are due and payable immediately, and that payment of the said sums must be made to him within thirty days after the date of the first publication or posting, which date shall be stated in the notice. Said notice shall also contain a statement that all assessments not paid before the expiration of the said thirty days shall become delinquent, and that thereupon five per cent upon the amount of each such assessment will be added thereto. When payment of any assessment is made the superintendent of streets shall mark opposite such assessment the word "paid," the date of payment, and the name of the person by or for whom the same is paid, and shall give a receipt therefor. SEC. 13. The superintendent of streets shall within thirty days from the date of such delinquency begin the publication of a list of the delinquent assessments, which list must contain a description of each lot or parcel of land delinquent, and opposite each description the name of the owner as stated in the assessment roll, and the amount of the assessment and costs due, including the cost of advertisement, which cost of advertisement shall not exceed the sum of fifty cents for each parcel of land separately assessed. He shall append to and publish with said delinquent list a notice that unless each assessment delinquent, together with the penalty and costs thereon, is paid, the property upon which such assessment is a lien will be sold at public auction at a time and place to be specified in the notice. Such publication must be made by five insertions in some daily newspaper published and circulated in the city, or by two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated, or, in case no such newspaper is so published and circulated in said city, such list of delinquent assessments and notice shall be posted in three public places in said city for five days. The time of sale must not be less than five days nor more than ten days after the last publication of said list, or after the completion of such posting, as the case may be, and the place of sale must be in or in front of the office of the superintendent of streets. At any time after such delinquency and prior to the sale of any piece of property assessed and delinquent, any person may pay the assessment on such piece of property, together with the penalties and costs due thereon, including the cost of advertising, if such payment is made after the first publication of the list of delinquent assessments.

Sec. 14. At the time and place fixed for the sale the superintendent of streets must commence the sale of the property advertised, commencing at the head of the list, and continuing in numerical order of lots or parcels of land until all are sold; provided, that he may postpone or continue the sale from day to day until all the property is sold. Each lot or parcel of land separately assessed must be offered for sale separately, and the person who will take the least quantity of land and then and there pay the amount of the assessment, penalty and costs due, including fifty cents to the superintendent of streets for a certificate of sale, shall become the purchaser. In case there is no other purchaser for any lot or parcel of land offered for sale, the same shall be struck off to the city as purchaser.

Sec. 15. After making the sale the superintendent of streets must execute in duplicate a certificate of sale setting forth a description of the property sold, the name of the owner thereof as given in the assessment roll, that said property was sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which such property was sold, the date of sale, the name of the purchaser, and the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed. The superintendent of streets must file one copy of such certificate in his office, and deliver the other to the purchaser, or if the city is the purchaser, to the clerk of the legislative body, who shall file the same in his office. copy of such certificate in the office of the superintendent of streets, the lien of the assessment shall vest in the purchaser and is only divested by a redemption of the property as in this act provided. The superintendent of streets shall also enter upon the assessment roll opposite the description of each piece of property offered for sale, the description of the portion thereof sold, the amount for which the same was sold, the date of the sale, and the name of the purchaser.

SEC. 16. At any time before the expiration of one year from the date of the sale, any lot or parcel of land sold for a delinquent assessment may be redeemed by any party in interest by the payment to the superintendent of streets of the amount for which the property was sold, and in addition thereto, ten per cent thereon if paid within six months from the date of sale; and twenty-five per cent if paid within twelve months. When redemption is made the superintendent of streets shall note that fact and the date thereof on the duplicate certificate of sale on file in his office, and deposit the amount paid with the city treasurer, who shall credit the purchaser named in the certificate of sale with the said amount and pay the same to such purchaser, or to his assigns, upon the surrender of the certificate of sale and upon satisfactory proof of assignment thereof, if any. When the city is the purchaser, the superintendent of streets shall notify the clerk of the legislative body of the redemption, and such clerk shall thereupon cancel the certificate of sale thereof on file in his office.

SEC. 17. At any time after the expiration of twelve months from the date of sale the superintendent of streets must execute to the purchaser, or to his assignee on his application, if such purchaser or assignee has complied with the provisions of this section, a deed of the property sold, in which shall be recited substantially the matters contained in the certificate, also any assignment thereof, and the fact that no person has redeemed the property. The superintendent of streets shall receive from the applicant for a deed, one dollar for making such deed, unless the city is the purchaser, in which case no charge shall be made therefor. The purchaser or his assignee, must at least thirty days before he applies for a deed, serve upon the owner of the property, and upon the occupant of such property, if the same is occupied, a written notice, setting forth a description of the property, that said property has been sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which it was sold, the amount necessary to redeem at the time of giving notice, and the time when such purchaser or assignee will apply to the superintendent of streets for a deed. If the said owner cannot be found, after due diligence, said notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon said property at least thirty days before the time stated therein, at which the application for a deed will be made. The person applying for a deed must file with the superintendent of streets an affidavit or affidavits, showing that notice of such application has been given, as herein required, and if the notice was not served on the owner of the property personally, that due diligence was used to find said owner; which affidavit or affidavits must be filed by the superintendent of streets in his office. If redemption of the property is made after such affidavits are filed, and more than eleven months from the date of sale, the person making such redemption must pay, in addition to the other amounts required, three dollars for the service of notice and the making of such affidavits, which amount shall be paid over to the purchaser, or his assignee, in the same manner as other sums paid for redemption. No deed for any property sold for delinquent assessment shall be made until the purchaser, or his assignee, has complied with all of the provisions of this section, and filed the proper affidavits with the superintendent of streets. Such deed shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all matters recited therein, and of the regularity of all proceedings prior to the execution thereof, and of title in the grantee.

Provisions to be complied with.

SEC. 18. The funds collected by the superintendent of streets under the proceedings herein provided for, either upon voluntary payment or as the result of sales, shall be paid by said superintendent of streets as fast as collected to the treasurer of said city, who shall place the same in a special fund designated by the number or name of the proceedings, and payment shall be made out of said special fund only for the purposes provided for in this act. To expedite the making of any such improvement the legislative body may at any time transfer into said special fund out of any money in the general fund such sums as it may deem necessary, and the sums so transferred shall be deemed a loan to such special fund, and shall be repaid out of the proceeds of the assessments provided for in this act; provided, however, that the legislative body of any municipality may, in its discretion, order by resolution entered upon its minutes that the whole, or any part, of the costs and expenses of any of the work mentioned in this act shall be paid out of the treasury of the municipality from such fund as the legislative body may designate, and whenever a part of such cost and expenses is so ordered to be paid the commission in making up the assessment heretofore provided for such cost and expenses shall first deduct from the whole cost and expenses such part thereof as has been so ordered to be paid out of the municipal treasury, and shall assess the remainder of said costs and expenses proportionately upon the lots, part of lots and lands within the district to be assessed for such work, and in the manner heretofore provided.

the costs and expenses of the improvement, the legislative body may, in its discretion, in the resolution of intention declare that such lots, pieces, or parcels of land so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment to be made to cover the costs and expenses of said work or improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces, or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said resolution be omitted from the assessment, then the total expense of all work done shall be assessed on the remaining lots lying within the limits of the assessment district without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event the legislative body shall in its resolution of intention declare that the said lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be included in the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, then such sum or sums as thereafter may be assessed against such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used shall be payable by the city, out of its general fund, unless the legislative body shall in its resolution of intention designate another fund, and the contract for said work or improvement thereafter made shall contain a provision to that effect. After all sales provided for in section fourteen of this act have been made the superintendent of streets shall report to the city treasurer the amount collected.

SEC. 20. When sufficient money is in the hands of the city treasurer in the special fund devoted to the proposed improvement to pay the total amount of estimated damages therefrom, all expenses of the proceedings and the cost of doing the work, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of streets to notify the contractor for the work of that fact, and to draw demands on said special fund for the respective amounts of damages awarded by the report, and to notify the owner of each parcel of land declared by the report to be damaged, if the name of such owner is stated in the report, that the awards of damages are payable, and that he may receive the sum awarded to him on executing a release to the city of all liability for damages caused by said improvement. Such notification may be given by depositing a notice, postage prepaid, in the post office addressed to such person at his last known place of residence.

award.

SEC. 21. If any owner of property that will be damaged by the proposed improvement shall fail or refuse to accept the amount awarded to him by the report provided for in section 10 hereof, the legislative body may cause proceedings to be brought against him in the name of the city, in the proper superior court, to have the amount of damage to such property determined. Such proceedings shall conform, as nearly as may be, to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, regarding eminent domain; provided, however, that the plaintiff shall not be required to pay the amount of damages awarded within thirty days after judgment. In such proceeding the ordinance ordering the improvement shall be conclusive evidence of the necessity of the same. If no such proceeding is brought against him any owner of property that is damaged by the proposed improvement may decline to accept the amount awarded him, if any, and bring an action against the city to recover the amount to which he claims to be entitled. Any such action must be brought within thirty days after the final completion of the improvement. If in such action he fails to recover more than the amount awarded to him by the report aforesaid, he shall not recover costs.

Action to recover amount claimed.

SEC. 22. If the first assessment for any improvement under this act, or if the sale of any bonds issued to represent assessments under this act as hereinafter provided, fails to raise a sufficient amount of money to pay all costs, damages and expenses of the improvement, including any judgments rendered in the action and proceedings mentioned in section 21 and the costs and expenses of such action or proceedings, the legislative body may pay the deficit out of the general fund, or may order a supplemental assessment to raise such deficit, which shall be made and collected in the same manner, as nearly as may be, as the first assessment, and so on until sufficient money shall have been raised to pay for such improvement.

When assessments raise insufficient amount.

SEC. 23. The legislative body of any municipal corporation of this state may, in its discretion, determine that improvement bonds may issue to represent assessments for the costs and expenses of improvements under this act. Such determination, together with the term of such bonds, which shall not exceed twenty-five years from the second day of January next succeeding the date of such bonds, shall be declared in the ordinance or resolution of intention to do said work.

Improvement bonds.

SEC. 24. Whenever it is determined as provided in section twenty-three hereof that improvement bonds may be issued to represent assessments, the owner of any lot or parcel of land against which an assessment has been made when the amount of such assessment is fifty dollars ($50.00), or over, may at any time prior to delinquency, elect to pay such assessment in installments and to have an improvement bond issued against said lot or parcel of land, in the form and manner and with the effect provided in this act; provided, there be no other bond or bonds outstanding against said lot or parcel of land representing any special assessment.

Owner may elect to have bond issued.

SEC. 25. Such election shall be made by such owner, or his agent thereunto duly authorized in writing, by filing with the superintendent of streets an affidavit made before a competent officer that he or his principal, as the case may be, is the owner of the lot or parcel of land in question, and that there is no other bond outstanding against said lot or parcel of land representing any special assessment, which affidavit must be accompanied by a certificate of a searcher of records that he or his principal is such owner, and that there is no other bond outstanding against said lot or parcel of land representing any special assessment, and also by filing with such officer a writ-

Said agreement shall contain a provision to the effect that in case of default in the payment of any installment of the principal provided for therein, or interest accrued on deferred payments, at the time called for by said agreement, then, and in that event, the entire remaining unpaid installments shall become immediately due and payable, and that the same, and all liens and agreements which are security therefor, may be collected and enforced as in this act provided. Said agreement shall be in the following or substantially the following form (filling blanks):

The owner of, or any person interested in, any lot or parcel of land upon which a bond has been issued under the terms of this act, may at any time pay off such bond and discharge his land from the lien of the assessment, by paying to the city treasurer, for the holder of such bond, the amount then unpaid or the principal sum thereof, and all interest thereon which has accrued and is unpaid, together with the semiannual installment of interest which will next become due thereafter, and in addition thereto, interest for two years at the rate specified in the bond upon the unpaid amount of the principal.

Owner may pay off bond.

When court declares assessment invalid new assessment may be made.

SEC. 26. Whenever any assessment or any bond to represent the amount of such assessment, made or issued under the provisions of this act, has been set aside by any court of competent jurisdiction, or such court has refused to enforce any assessment, or has decreed any such bond not to constitute a valid and subsisting lien against the lot, piece or parcel of land upon which such assessment has been levied, then the superintendent of streets shall cause a new assessment to be made for the same purpose for which the former assessment was made, whether any of the assessments have been paid or not, and new bonds shall in regular course thereafter issue in the event that bonds were issued under or provided for in the original assessment. It is hereby made the duty of any court of competent jurisdiction in rendering its judgment holding invalid any assessment hereafter made, or of any bond hereafter issued to represent the amount of any such assessment, to make a finding as to whether or not the making of such assessment was entirely without the power of the said city, and if not, then what omission, irregularity, illegality, informality or non-compliance with the requirements of this act has occurred in the proceedings upon which said assessment or assessments and bonds rest, and what effect shall be given to them in making the reassessment. In the event that the court shall find that the proceeding, the expenses of which are represented by said assessment or bonds, was commenced in good faith and carried on pursuant to an ordinance or resolution of the city council providing for such improvement to be paid for by a special assessment, it shall be the duty of the said court to order the making of a new assessment. The city council may, at the request of any interested party, or on its own motion, by resolution duly passed, set aside any assessment or assessments and bonds, to be made and issued without any decree having been obtained of or from any court regarding said matter, if in its opinion the assessment be invalid, and it may take all necessary steps and make and pass all necessary orders, resolutions or ordinances to reassess and relevy such assessment, and may reassess and relevy the same with the same force and effect as an original levy.

Such reassessment, whether made after decree of court has been rendered, or pursuant to a resolution of the council, shall be based upon the special and peculiar benefit of the proposed improvement to the respective lots, pieces or parcels of land assessed. The total amount of the reassessment shall not exceed the total amount of the original assessment. Such reassessment so made shall become a charge upon the property upon which the same is levied, notwithstanding any omission, failure or neglect of any officer, body or person to comply with the provisions of this act, and notwithstanding the fact that the proceedings of the city council, board of public works or any officer of the city or other person connected with such proceedings, may have been irregular, illegal, informal or defective, or not in full conformity with the requirements of this act. It is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of this section to make the cost and expense of all local improvements actually made or proposed to be made in the attempted exercise of the powers conferred upon municipalities under this act, payable by the real estate benefited or to be benefited by such improvements by making a reassessment therefor which shall equitably proportion to each lot, each piece or parcel of land thereby benefited the amount of the actual benefits derived or to be derived from said improvement, notwithstanding that the proceedings of the city council or other officers or agents of the city, or other persons connected therewith may have been irregular, illegal or defective, or not in full conformity with the requirements of this act. Such reassessment shall be made without a repetition of the proceedings had prior to the issuance of the assessment and shall be made and issued in the following manner: The superintendent of streets shall, upon the entering of a decree of court directing the reassessment, or upon the passage of a resolution of the city council directing a reassessment, proceed at once to make a reassessment in accordance with the said decree of court or said resolution of the city council thereof. Such reassessment shall be made upon the district described in the ordinance of intention for said improvement, and in the event that there shall have been informalities, uncertainties or ambiguities in the description of the limits of said district, then upon the district which the court or council shall find to be that actually benefited by said improvement, but in so finding said court or council shall follow the lines described in the ordinance of intention so far as the same can be ascertained, and in all cases of uncertainty or ambiguity they shall give regard to the lines described and make such determination as to the lines where there is any uncertainty or ambiguity in the ordinance of intention as may be just and equitable. In the event that a portion of the improvement has been found to be entirely without the power of said city to order, then said assessment shall be for the remainder of the improvement only, and the benefits arising from the improvement entirely without the jurisdiction of the city to order shall not be considered in making the reassessment. Upon the completion of the reassessment it shall be presented to the city council and a day of hearing shall be fixed by it which shall be at least twenty days after the filing of the reassessment. The city clerk shall then advertise the fact of the filing by publishing a notice in the official newspaper, or in such other paper as the council may direct, by five insertions, if the paper be a daily, or by two insertions, if it be a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper, stating the fact that the reassessment has been filed with him and that objections to said reassessment will be heard at the time specified by the city council. At the time fixed for said hearing, or at such time or times to which the same may be adjourned, the city council shall consider the objections to said reassessment and in its discretion revise, correct and modify such reassessment in such manner as is most equitable, and it shall thereupon pass a resolution approving and confirming such reassessment and such decision shall be a final determination of all matters relating to the actual benefits derived or to be derived from the improvement by the respective lots, pieces and parcels of land enumerated in the reassessment. Said reassessment shall thereupon be recorded by the street superintendent and it shall in all respects have the same effect and weight as the original assessment, and shall be enforced in the same manner. All payments made upon the original assessment shall be credited upon the reassessment and in the event that the reassessment in any instance is less than the amount of the original assessment, the excess shall be payable to the persons who paid the original assessments.

Payments on original assessment credited.

Record of bonds issued.

SEC. 27. The city treasurer shall enter in a book kept for that purpose in his office, a record of each bond issued hereunder, specifying the date of its issue, the amount for which issued, to whom delivered, its duration and a description of the lot against which issued. Payments of principal and interest on account of any bond issued hereunder shall be made to the city treasurer, who shall keep a separate account of all such payments, (entering the same in the record herein required to be kept) and place the same in appropriate funds for the payment of principal and interest of the bonds on account of which paid, and who shall, upon the surrender of the coupons attached to said bond, pay to the holder thereof, or his order, the amount called for by said coupons out of the funds in his possession applicable thereto.

Bonds lien on property.

SEC. 28. The improvement bonds issued hereunder shall take the place of and have the same force, validity and effect as assessment liens that the assessments would have had if no bonds had been issued, and the lien of said bonds shall not be held or construed to be merely contractual. Said bonds shall by their issuance be conclusive evidence of the regularity and validity of all proceedings leading up thereto. The amount due upon any such bond shall be a lien upon the lot described in such bond superior to all other liens, charges and incumbrances, except the liens of prior assessment and of municipal, state and county taxes.

SEC. 29. Improvement bonds or any number of such bonds, issued hereunder, except as otherwise provided in this act, shall be sold to the highest cash bidder, after advertisement for bids, which advertisement shall be published for at least three times in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or if there be no such daily newspaper, then such advertisement shall be published at least once in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper so published and circulated, or shall be sold in such other manner as the legislative body may determine. If any bond be sold for an amount in excess of par such excess shall be paid into such fund of the city as the legislative body thereof may prescribe. The proceeds of the sale of such improvement bond shall be paid into the fund of the proceeding to represent assessments in which said bonds were issued.

bonds.

SEC. 30. Any bonds not sold at the full expiration of fifteen days after the completion of the publication of the advertisement provided for in the preceding section shall be turned into the fund for the improvement for which the assessment is made, and shall be deemed and treated as so much money in said fund, and shall upon final acceptance of said improvement be issued to and accepted by the contractor for the work, or his assigns, in payment pro tanto of the contract price of said improvement, provided there is sufficient money in the said fund to pay all incidental expenses and all awards of damages that must be paid prior to the doing of the work. Whenever in the proceedings for any improvement bonds are authorized under the provisions of this act, and at the expiration of fifteen days after the completion of the publication of said advertisement, there is not sufficient money in the fund for the improvement to pay the incidental expenses and the amount of any award or awards of damages that must be paid prior to the doing of the work, the contractor may advance to the fund for said improvement an amount sufficient to pay said incidental expenses and damages, and receive therefor bonds in sufficient amount, at their par value, exclusive of any accrued interest thereon, to equal the amount so advanced by him. If the said contractor in such event fails, neglects or refuses for a period of ten days after written notice from the city treasurer that said fifteen days from the completion of the publication of said advertisement has expired, and that there is not sufficient money in said fund to pay said incidental expenses and said awards of damages, to advance to said fund a sum sufficient for said purposes, the legislative body of the municipality may, in its discretion, declare said contracts forfeited, and said contractor shall thereupon lose all rights under said contract.

SEC. 31. The owner of any property assessed, to whom damages have been awarded, as provided in this act, may take such bonds, or any thereof, in lieu of, or in satisfaction pro tanto of, such damages. When so taken such bond shall be deemed to have been sold to such owner and the amount of damages to which he is entitled shall be reduced by the amount of such bonds so taken at their par value. Such owner may, also, at any time after such assessment becomes payable, and before the sale of said property for non-payment thereof, demand of the street superintendent that such assessment, or any number of such assessments, be offset against the amount of damages to which he is entitled. Thereupon, if the amount of such damages be equal to or greater than such assessments, including any penalties and costs due thereon, the assessments shall be marked "paid by offset"; and if said amount be less than said assessments, and any penalties and costs due thereon, the person demanding such offset shall at the same time pay the difference to the street superintendent in money, and the assessments shall, on such payment, be marked paid, the entry showing what part thereof is paid by offset and what part in money.

SEC. 32. The legislative body of any municipality may, in its discretion, upon the failure of any contractor to advance sufficient money to the fund devoted to any improvement to pay the incidental expenses and the awards of damages as hereinabove provided, advance from the general fund, or from such fund as said legislative body may designate, to said fund the amount necessary for such purposes. Whereupon the city treasurer shall issue to said city bonds of the improvement in an amount equal at their par value to the amount of money so advanced by the said city, and in any event it shall be competent for the city to advance to the appropriate fund the par value of all or any part of said bonds, in which case the said bonds shall be issued to the city, and the said city shall have the same rights in respect to the enforcement and collection thereof as other purchasers. Where the city advances money as in this section provided, it shall have full authority at any time to sell said bonds at a point acceptable to the legislative body thereof.

SEC. 33. Whenever the contractor or the city has advanced to the appropriate fund an amount sufficient to pay the incidental expenses and awards, and has received bonds at their par value in an amount equal to the sum so advanced, as hereinbefore provided, the bonds remaining shall be turned into said fund, and shall be treated and regarded as so much money in said fund, and shall upon final acceptance of the work be issued to and received by the contractor in payment pro tanto of the contract price of the said improvement.

SEC. 34. Whenever, through the default of the owner of any lot or parcel of land upon which such bond is issued to represent the assessment, payment, either of the principal or of the interest, is not made when the same has become due, and the holder of the bond thereupon demands, in writing, that the city treasurer proceed to advertise and sell said lot or parcel of land as herein provided, then the whole bond or its unpaid remainder, with its accrued interest, as expressed in said bond, shall become due and payable immediately, and on the day following shall become delinquent.

[Approved June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of the act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and, also, to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Petition to organize

SEC. 2. In order to propose the organization of an irrigation district, a petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands within the proposed district, or the greater portion thereof, are situated, signed by the required number of holders of title, or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to lands within such proposed district, and representing the requisite majority in value of said lands, which petition shall set forth generally the boundaries of the proposed district and also shall state generally the source or sources (which may be in the alternative) from which said lands are proposed to be irrigated, and shall pray that the territory embraced within the boundaries of the proposed district may be organized as an irrigation district under the provisions of this act. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments, and must be accompanied with a good and sufficient undertaking, to be approved by the board of supervisors, in double the amount of the probable cost of organizing such district, conditioned that the sureties shall pay all of said costs in case said organization shall not be effected. Said petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of said board and shall be published for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where said petition is presented, together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the same will be presented; and if any portion of the lands within said proposed district lie within another county or counties, then said petition and notice shall be published, as above provided, in a newspaper published in each of said counties. When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published, but the names attached to all of said instruments must appear in such publication. On or before the day on which said petition is presented to said board of supervisors, a copy of said petition shall be filed in the office of the state engineer. When said petition is presented, said board of supervisors shall hear the same and shall proceed to determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements hereinbefore set forth and whether or not the notice required herein has been published as required, and must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. Said hearing may be adjourned from time to time for the determination of said facts, not exceeding two weeks in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures thereto, shall vitiate any proceedings thereon; provided, such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. The determination of the board shall be expressed by resolution. If it shall determine that any of the requirements hereinbefore set forth have not been complied with, the matter shall be dismissed, but without prejudice to the right of the proper number of persons to present a new petition covering the same matter or to present the same petition with additional signatures, if such additional signatures are necessary to comply with the requirements of this act. If the board of supervisors shall determine that the petitioners have complied with the requirements hereinbefore set forth, it shall cause a copy of the resolution so declaring to be forwarded to the state engineer and shall postpone further hearing of said petition for one month, or from time to time, not exceeding one month in all. Upon receiving a copy of said resolution, the state engineer shall make or cause to be made such an investigation as may be practicable, with a view to determining whether any condition or conditions exist that would justify him in reporting against the organization of the proposed district. He shall report in writing on the matter to the board of supervisors from which the copy of said resolution was received, and said report shall be made within one month from the date of the adoption of said resolution, but failure by the state engineer to perform any duty required herein shall not invalidate the organization of any district, nor shall any board of supervisors, because of failure to receive a report from the state engineer, delay the proceedings herein required for a longer time than is allowed herein. If the state engineer shall report that the supply of water available for the use of the proposed district, or that may be acquired by any practicable means, including the condemnation of existing rights, is not sufficient or that the project is not feasible for any other reason or reasons and if such report shall be filed with the said board of supervisors before the expiration of one month from and after the date of the adoption of the aforesaid resolution, the hearing of the petition shall again be continued for one month and shall then be dismissed, unless the board of supervisors shall be requested in writing by three fourths of the holders of title or evidence of title, including possessory rights, to lands within said proposed district to grant the same; provided, that if such request is not received, the board of supervisors may modify the plans for the proposed district in accordance with recommendations by the state engineer. If the report of the state engineer shall not compel the continuance of the matter as aforesaid, the board of supervisors shall, at the regular meeting at which said report shall have been received, proceed to a final hearing of the petition, and if said board shall, after receiving an adverse report from the state engineer, decide to modify the plan as set forth in said petition or shall be requested in writing by three fourths of the holders of title or evidence of title, including possessory rights, to the lands within said proposed district to grant said petition, said board shall then proceed to a final hearing of the matter. On any final hearing herein provided for, the board may adjourn from day to day, but not for a longer time, until a determination of the matter is reached. On said final hearing said board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as it may deem advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries; but said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which is susceptible of irrigation from any of the sources proposed, unless said board shall decide to modify the plan for such proposed district, as herein provided, nor shall any lands which will not, in the judgment of said board, be benefited by irrigation by means of any of said systems of works be included within such proposed district. Any person whose lands are susceptible of irrigation from any of the proposed sources may, upon his application, in the discretion of said board, have such lands included within said proposed district.

SEC. 2. Section three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Order reaffirming conclusions.

Section 3. Upon the final hearing of said petition or said matter, the board of supervisors shall make an order reaffirming its conclusions as to the genuineness and sufficiency of the petition and notice hereinbefore provided for, reciting that a report regarding the proposed district has been made by the state engineer and is on file with the other records of the board, and describing the boundaries of the proposed district as defined and established by said board. Said order shall be entered in full upon the minutes of said board. At said final hearing no evidence shall be heard against the genuineness or sufficiency of said petition or notice unless it shall be shown to the satisfaction of said board that new evidence which, if uncontradicted, would disprove the genuineness or sufficiency of said petition or notice has been discovered since said board adopted the resolution declaring that said petition and notice complied with all the requirements of this act. In case any new evidence is admitted, full opportunity shall be given for the introduction of evidence in rebuttal thereof.

SEC. 3. Section thirty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Estimate
of money needed for improve-

Section 30. For the purpose of constructing necessary irrigating canals and works, and acquiring the necessary property and rights therefor, and for the purpose of acquiring waters, water rights and other property necessary for the purposes of said district, and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this act, the board of directors of any such district must, as soon after such district has been organized as may be practicable, and also whenever thereafter the construction fund has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized therefrom and it is necessary to raise additional money for said purposes, estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised. For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of money necessary to be raised for such purposes, or any of them, said board shall cause such surveys, examinations, drawings and plans to be made as shall furnish the proper basis for the said estimate. All such surveys, examinations, drawings and plans, and the estimate of cost based thereon shall be made under the direction of a competent irrigation engineer and shall be certified by him. Said board shall then submit a copy of the said engineer's report to the state engineer, who shall forthwith proceed to examine said report and any data in his possession or in the possession of the district and to make such additional surveys and examination as he may deem proper or practicable, and within ninety days from the time of receiving said copy of said report shall make to the board of directors of said district a report, which shall contain such matters as in the judgment of the state engineer may be desirable; provided, that it shall state his conclusions as to the supply of water available for the use of the district and the feasibility of the project for which the proposed bonds are to be issued. After receiving said report, said board of directors, if it shall be convinced and shall declare by resolution that the supply of water available for the use of the district is sufficient for the project for which the proposed bonds are to be issued, if said issue, or any part thereof, is to be used for the acquisition or construction of irrigation works, and that the said project is feasible, shall make an order determining the amount of bonds that should be issued in order to raise the amount of money needed for the purpose or purposes for which said bonds are desired. And thereafter said board, when petitioned by a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title, and of possessory rights to lands within the district, such holders of title, or evidence of title, and of such possessory rights representing a majority in value of said lands according to the equalized assessment roll of the district, if such has theretofore been made, and, if such has not been made, then according to the equalized county assessment roll covering the lands in such district, shall immediately call a special election, at which shall be submitted to the electors of such district, possessing the qualifications prescribed by this act, the question whether or not the bonds of said district in the amount as set forth in said petition shall be issued. Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued; and said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. At said election questions as to the issuance of bonds may be submitted separately on the same ballot if estimates of the cost of the respective projects have been made and the state engineer has reported thereon and the aforesaid petition has requested that said questions be so submitted and the respective propositions have been stated in the notices of the election. At such election the ballots shall contain a statement of the proposition or propositions to be voted on, including the amount of bonds proposed to be issued for each purpose. Each proposition shall be followed by the words "Yes" and "No," on separate lines, with a small enclosed space after each of said words. The electors shall vote for or against any proposition by stamping a cross (X) in the voting space after the word "Yes" or "No" respectively. On the ballot shall be printed the following under the heading "Instructions to Voters": "To vote for a proposition, stamp a cross (X) in the voting space after the word 'Yes' following the proposition. To vote against a proposition, stamp a cross (X) in the voting space after the word 'No' following the proposition." If a majority of the votes cast for and against any proposition are for "Yes," the board of directors shall cause bonds in the amount specified in such proposition to be issued; if a majority of the votes cast for and against any proposition are for "No," the result of the vote on such proposition shall be so declared and entered of record. Whenever thereafter a petition of the character hereinbefore provided for in this section is presented to the board, it shall so declare of record in its minutes and shall thereupon submit such questions to said electors in the same manner and with like effect as at such previous election.

SEC. 4. Section thirty-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Life of bonds.

Section 31. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be payable in gold coin of the United States, in twenty series, as follows, to wit: At the expiration of twenty-one years from the date of any issue of said bonds, two per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of twenty-two years from said date, two per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of twenty-three years from said date, three per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of twenty-four years from said date, three per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of twenty-five years from said date, four per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of twenty-six years from said date, four per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of twenty-seven years from said date, four per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of twenty-eight years from said date, four per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of twenty-nine years from said date, five per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of thirty years from said date, five per centum of the whole amount of such issue; at the expiration of thirty-one years from said date, five per centum of the whole amount of such

While the foregoing several enumerated percentages are of the entire amount of the bond issue, each bond must be made payable at a given time for its entire amount and not for a percentage. SEC. 8. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated for the fiscal years 1913-1914 and 1914-1915 out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated; and the state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such sum from time to time upon the requisition of the state water commission approved by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants.

SEC. 9. All indebtedness incurred for salaries, and all necessary costs in traveling and other expenses of said commission, and each of its members and persons employed by it, while actually engaged in the business of said commission, shall be paid by the state out of the funds hereby appropriated, upon the sworn statement of the person or persons incurring such indebtedness, and upon the requisition of the state water commission, approved by the state board of control, and the state controller is hereby authorized to draw warrants upon the state treasurer for said indebtedness, salaries, costs and expenses, as provided by law for the payment of similar costs and expenses and the drawing of similar warrants.

SEC. 10. The state water commission is hereby authorized and empowered to investigate for the purpose of this act all streams, stream systems, portions of stream systems, lakes, or other bodies of water, and to take testimony in regard to the rights to water or the use of water thereon or therein, and to ascertain whether or not such water, or any portion thereof, or the use of said water or any portion thereof, heretofore filed upon or attempted to be appropriated by any person, firm, association, or corporation, is appropriated under the laws of this state.

SEC. 11. All water or the use of water which has never been appropriated, or which has been heretofore appropriated and which has not been in process, from the date of the initial act of appropriation, of being put, with due diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the work necessary properly to utilize for the purpose of such appropriation such water or the use of water, or which has not been put, or which has ceased to be put to some useful or beneficial purpose, or which may hereafter be appropriated and cease to be put, to the useful or beneficial purpose for which it was appropriated, or which in the future may be appropriated and not be, in the process of being put, from the date of the initial act of appropriation, to the useful or beneficial purpose for which it was appropriated, with due diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the work necessary properly to utilize for the purpose of such appropriation such water or the use of water, is hereby declared to be unappropriated. And all waters flowing in any river, stream, canyon, ravine, or other natural channel, excepting so far as such waters have been or are being applied to useful and beneficial purpose upon, or in so far as such waters are or may be reasonably needed for useful, and beneficial purposes upon lands riparian thereto, or otherwise appropriated, is and are hereby declared to be public waters of the State of California and subject to appropriation in accordance with the provisions of this act. If any portion of the waters of any stream shall not be put to a useful or beneficial purpose to or upon lands riparian to such stream for any continuous period of ten consecutive years after the passage of this act, such non-application shall be deemed to be conclusive presumption that the use of such portions of the waters of such stream is not needed upon said riparian lands for any useful or beneficial purpose; and such portion of the waters of any stream so non-applied, unless otherwise appropriated for a useful and beneficial purpose is hereby declared to be in the use of the state and subject to appropriation in accordance with the provisions of this act. In any case where a reservoir or reservoirs have been or shall hereafter under the provisions of this act be constructed or surveyed, laid out and proposed to be constructed for the storage of water for a system, which water is to be used at one or more points under appropriations of water heretofore or hereafter made, which appropriations and rights thereunder are now, or shall hereafter be held and owned by the person or corporation owning such reservoir site or sites and constructing such reservoir or reservoirs, such reservoir or reservoirs and appropriations and rights shall, in the discretion of the state water commission, constitute a single enterprise and unit, and work of constructing such reservoir or reservoirs, or any of them, or work on any one of such appropriations shall, in the discretion of said commission, be sufficient to maintain and preserve all such applications for appropriations and rights thereunder.

SEC. 12. The state water commission shall have authority to, and may, for good cause shown, upon the application of any appropriator or user of water under an appropriation made and maintained according to law prior to the passage of this act, prescribe the time within which the full amount of the water appropriated shall be applied to a useful or beneficial purpose; provided, that said appropriator or user shall have proceeded, with due diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the project, to carry on the work necessary to put the water to a beneficial use; and in determining said time said commission shall grant a reasonable time after the construction of the works or canal or ditch or conduits or storage system used for the diversion, conveyance or storage of water; and in doing so said commission shall also take into consideration the cost of the application of such water to the useful or beneficial purpose, the good faith of the appropriator, the market for water or power to be supplied, the present demand therefor, and the income or use that may be required to provide fair and reasonable returns upon the investment and any other facts or matters pertinent to the inquiry. Upon prescribing such time the state water commission shall issue a certificate showing its determination of the matter. For good cause shown, the state water commission may extend the time by granting further certificates. And, for the time so prescribed or extended, the said appropriator or user shall be deemed to be putting said water to a beneficial use.

And if at any time it shall appear to the state water commission, after a hearing of the parties interested and an investigation, that the full capacity of the works built or constructed, or being built or constructed, under an appropriation of water or the use thereof made under the provisions of this act has not developed or cannot develop the full capacity of the stream at the point where said works have been or are being built or constructed, and that the holder of the said appropriation will not or cannot, within a period deemed to be reasonable by the commission, develop the said stream at said point to such a capacity as the commission deems to be required by the public good, then and in that case the said commission, in its discretion, may permit the joint occupancy and use, with the holder of the appropriation, to the extent necessary to develop the stream to its full capacity or to such portion of said capacity as may appear to the state water commission to be advisable, by any and all persons, firms, associations, or corporations applying therefor, of any dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions already built or constructed or in process of being built or constructed under this act; provided, that said commission shall take into consideration the reasonable cost of the original and new work, the good faith of the applicant, the market for water or power to be supplied by the original and the new work, and the income or use that may be required to provide fair and reasonable returns upon such cost; provided, further, that the applicant or applicants shall be required to pay to the party or parties owning said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions a pro rata portion of the total cost of the old and the new works, said pro rata portion to be based upon the proportion of the water used by the original and the subsequent users of said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions, if the water is used or to be used for irrigation or domestic purposes; or, if the water is used or to be used for the generation of electricity, or electrical or other power, the said pro rata portion shall be based upon the relative amount of electricity or electrical or other power capable of being developed by the original and the new works; or, if a portion of the water utilized under a joint occupancy of any dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or construction, shall be used for the purpose of irrigation and another portion of said water shall be used for the generation of electricity or electrical or other power, then and in that case the applicant or applicants for joint occupancy shall be required to pay to the party or parties owning said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions a pro rata portion of the total cost of the old and new works, said pro rata portion to be based upon the proportion of the relative amount of water used by each joint occupant and the income derived by each said joint occupant from said joint occupancy; or, if any of the waters used under such joint occupancy shall be utilized for purposes other than those specified above, then and in that case the applicant or applicants for such joint occupancy shall be required to pay to the party or parties owning said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions, such a pro rata portion of the total cost of the old and new works as shall appear to the state water commission to be just and equitable. Said applicant or applicants shall also be required to pay a proper pro rata share, based as above, of the cost of maintaining said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch or other works or constructions, on and after beginning the occupancy and use thereof. Furthermore, the state water commission if it appears to the said commission that the full capacity of the works built or constructed, or being built or constructed, under an appropriation of water or the use thereof under this act, will not develop the full capacity of the stream at that point, and it appears to the commission that the public good requires it, and the commission specifically so finds after investigation and hearing of the parties interested, may permit any person, firm, association or corporation to repair, improve, add to, supplement, or enlarge, at his or its proper cost, charge and expense, any dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions already built or constructed or in process of being built or constructed under the provisions of this act, and to use the same jointly with the owners thereof; provided, that the said repairing, improving, adding to, supplementing, or enlarging, shall not materially interfere with the proper use thereof by the owner of said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions or shall not materially injure said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch or other works

The state water commission shall allow, under the provisions of this act, the appropriation of unappropriated water or of the use thereof, or of water or of the use thereof which may hereafter cease to be appropriated, or which may hereafter be declared to be unappropriated, or which, having been used under claim of riparian proprietorship or appropriation finds its way back into a stream, lake or other body of water and also such water as is declared under section eleven of this act to be subject to appropriation. Use of unappropriated water.

SEC. 16. Every application for a permit to appropriate water shall set forth the name and post-office address of the applicant, the source of water supply, the nature and amount of the proposed use, the location and description of the proposed headworks, ditch, canal and other works; the proposed place of diversion and the place where it is intended to use the water; the time within which it is proposed to begin construction, the time required for completion of the construction, and the time for the complete application of the water to the proposed use. If for agricultural purposes, the application shall, besides the above general requirements, give the legal subdivisions of the land and the acreage to be irrigated, as near as may be; if for power purposes, it shall give, besides the general requirements prescribed above, the nature of the works by means of which the power is to be developed, the head and amount of water to be utilized, and the use to which the power is to be applied; if for storage in a reservoir, it shall give, in addition to the general requirements prescribed above, the height of dam, the capacity of the reservoir, and the use to be made of the impounded waters; if for municipal water supply, it shall give, besides the general requirements specified above, the present population to be served, and, as near as may be, the future requirements of the city; if for mining purposes, it shall give, in addition to the general requirements prescribed above, the nature and location of the mines to be served and the methods of supplying and utilizing the water. All applications shall be accompanied by as many copies of such maps, drawings, and other data as may be prescribed or required by the state water commission, and such maps, drawings, and other data shall be considered as part of the application. If any permittee or licensee, or the heirs, successors, or assigns of any permittee or licensee, desire to change the point of diversion from the point of diversion specified in the original application, or after the granting of any permit or license, such change Application for permit.

or changes may be made only upon the permission of the state water commission; provided, that, before granting such permission, such applicant must establish, to the satisfaction of the state water commission, and such commission must so find, that such change in the place of diversion will not operate to the injury of any other appropriator or legal user of such waters before permitting such change in the place of the diversion. Upon receipt of application for permission to make such change in the place of diversion, the commission shall, by order, fix a time within which any person interested may appear in opposition to such application, and such applicant shall, if the commission so require, cause to be published at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the county in which is situated both the old and new points of diversion, a copy of said order. Proof of such publication shall be by affidavit of the publisher of such newspaper. Should any objection be made to the change in point of diversion so applied for, the state water commission shall fix a time for the hearing of said application and of the objections thereto, which time shall be not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days after the period of said publication, and upon such hearing the said commission shall grant or refuse, as the facts shall warrant, such permission to change place of diversion.

Permit.

SEC. 17. Any person, firm, association or corporation may apply for and secure from the state water commission, in conformity with this act and in conformity with reasonable rules and regulations adopted from time to time by the state water commission, a permit for any unappropriated water or for water which having been appropriated or used flows back into a stream, lake or other body of water within this state. And any application so made shall give to the applicant a priority of right as of the date of said application to such water or the use thereof until such application shall have been approved or rejected by said commission; provided, that such priority shall continue only so long as the provisions of law and the rules and regulations of the water commission shall be followed by the applicant. Upon the approval of any application by the commission, said approval shall give priority of right as of the date of said application, and shall give the right to take and use the amount of water specified in said approval until the issuance by the state water commission of a license for the use of said amount of water, or until the said commission refuses to issue said license. But the approval of any application shall give the right to take and use water only to the extent and for the purpose allowed in said approval; provided, that any defective application made in a bona fide attempt to conform to the rules and regulations of the state water commission and to the law shall secure to the applicant a priority of right as of the date of said application until he shall have been notified by said commission in what respect his application is defective.

And said applicant shall be allowed sixty days after notice of said defect in which to file an amended and perfected application. If, within said sixty days, said applicant shall not file an amended and perfected application, said priority of right shall cease and determine, unless for good cause shown the state water commission shall allow said applicant to file a further amended and perfected application; provided, also, that any priority of right secured under this section shall not be effective for more than thirty days after service of notice of such approval, personally or by registered mail, on the applicant, unless within said period of thirty days a true copy of said approval upon which such priority is based shall have been filed in the office of the recorder of the county or city and county in which the water is to be diverted, and, within ten days thereafter, a certificate of such filing by the county recorder is also filed with the state water commission.

SEC. 18. Actual construction work upon any project shall begin within such time after the date of the approval of the application as shall be specified in said approval, which time shall not be less than sixty days from date of said approval, and the construction of the work thereafter shall be prosecuted with due diligence in accordance with this act, the terms of the approved application, and the rules and regulations of said commission; and said work shall be completed in accordance with law, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, and the terms of the approved application and within a period specified in the permit; but the period of completion specified in the permit may, for good cause shown, be extended by the state water commission. And if such work be not so commenced, prosecuted and completed, the water commission shall, after notice in writing and mailed in a sealed, postage-prepaid and registered letter addressed to the applicant at the address given in his application for a permit to appropriate water, and a hearing before the commission, revoke its approval of the application. But any applicant, the approval of whose application shall have been thus revoked, shall have the right to bring an action in the superior court of the county in which is situated the point of proposed diversion of the water for a review of the order of the commission revoking said approval of the application. And thirty days after the revocation of said permit all rights of the said permittee under said permit shall cease and lapse, unless said permittee shall within said thirty days after said revocation bring an action in the superior court for a review of the order of revocation. The priority of right of any permittee so bringing an action shall continue under said permit until a final judgment is rendered as to the reasonableness of the revocation of said permit. But until and unless the revocation of the permit shall be finally decreed by such court, the permittee shall not take or use any of the water the right to take and use which is granted by said permit.

SEC. 19. Immediately upon completion, in accordance with law, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, and the terms of the permit, of the project under such application, the holder of a permit for the right to appropriate water shall report said completion to the state water commission. The said commission shall immediately thereafter cause to be made a full inspection and examination of the works constructed and shall determine whether the construction of said works is in conformity with law, the terms of the approved application, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, and the permit. The said water commission shall, if said determination is favorable to the applicant, issue a license which shall give the right to the diversion of such an amount of water and to the use thereof as may be necessary to fulfill the purpose of the approved application. Said license shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the state water commission under the provisions of this act. But if the said commission shall find, upon inspection and examination of the works constructed, that the construction and condition of said works are not in conformity with the law, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, the terms of the approved application and the terms of the permit, then and in that case the said commission may, after due notice in writing and in the manner provided in sections one thousand and eleven, one thousand and twelve, and one thousand and thirteen of the Code of Civil Procedure to the applicant or the holder of the permit, and a public hearing thereon, refuse to issue said license. And thirty days after the refusal of said commission to issue said license all rights of the applicant and the holder of the permit under said application and permit shall lapse and cease. But the holder of any permit to whom the said water commission may have refused to issue said license, shall have the right to bring an action within thirty days after the said refusal, in the superior court to review said order and to obtain a decree requiring the issuance of such license. And the rights of the holder of any permit so bringing an action shall continue under said permit until the decree in such action has been entered and become final. But until the refusal of the commission to issue said license shall be finally determined by the courts, the permittee shall not take or use any of the water, the taking and using of which is granted to him by said permit. The commission shall establish and enforce rules and regulations under which records of unsatisfactory service may lead to reduction in grade and compensation of the person holding the position concerned, and shall further provide for the manner in which persons falling below the standards of efficiency fixed by its rules and regulations may be removed from their positions by the commission proceeding substantially as provided in this act and with the same effect as in case of removals by the appointing power.

If, after the payment of any tax in pursuance of an order fixing such tax, made by the superior court having jurisdiction, such order be modified or reversed by the superior court having jurisdiction within two years from and after the date of entry of the order fixing the tax, or be modified or reversed at any time on an appeal taken therefrom within the time allowed by law on due notice to the state controller, the county treasurer shall refund to the executor, administrator, trustee, person or persons by whom such tax was paid, the amount of any moneys paid or deposited on account of such tax in excess of the amount of tax fixed by the order modified or reversed, out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody, and credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him to the controller on his semiannual settlement; but no application for such refund shall be made after one year from such reversal or modification, unless an appeal shall be taken therefrom, in which case no such application shall be made after one year from the final determination on such appeal or of an appeal taken therefrom, and the representatives of the estate, legatees, devisees or distributees entitled to any refund under this section shall not be entitled to any interest upon such refund, and the state controller shall deduct from the fees allowed by this act to the county treasurer the amount theretofore allowed him upon such overpayment. Where it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the superior court that deductions for debts were allowed upon the appraisal, since proved to have been erroneously allowed, it shall be lawful for such superior court to enter an order assessing the tax upon the amount wrongfully or erroneously deducted. Martin died on the 30th day of May, 1911, and Isabelle Martin has been appointed and is now the executrix of his last will and testament, and said moneys so paid by him are still retained in the school land fund but that no sale of any school or other lands have been made to said Martin, and no provision of law exists for the return of said moneys to said Martin, or his representatives.

SECTION 1. The state register of the state land office is hereby authorized and directed to issue unto Isabelle Martin, as executrix of the last will of James B. Martin, deceased, a certificate showing the payment by said Martin of the sum of nineteen hundred and sixteen dollars to the State of California for the purchase of indemnity certificates or scrip, and likewise showing the class of land upon which said payment was made, and the fund into which the same was deposited. Before the issuance of said certificate, the said state register shall see that said certificates of indemnity or scrip are properly returned and canceled. Upon the presentation of said certificate to the state controller, the said state controller is authorized and directed to draw his warrant in favor of said Isabelle Martin, as such executrix for the amount herein specified, upon the treasurer of the state, who is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same out of the funds into which the said money was paid.

Where two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected, stamp a cross (X) after the name of all the candidates for that office for whom you desire to vote, not to exceed, however, the number of candidates who are to be elected. If the ballot does not contain the names of candidates for all offices for which you may desire to vote, you may vote for candidates for such offices so omitted by writing the name of the candidate for whom you wish to vote in the blank space left for that purpose. To vote for a person not on the ballot, write the name of such person under the title of the office in the blank space left for that purpose. To vote on any question, proposition or constitutional amendment, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the word "Yes" or after the word "No." All marks, except the cross (X) are forbidden. All distinguishing marks or erasures are forbidden and make the ballot void. If you wrongly stamp, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election and obtain another. In elections when electors of president and vice-president of the United States are to be chosen, there shall be placed upon the ballot in addition to the instructions to voters as above provided, an additional instruction as follows: To vote for all or a group of persons, stamp a cross (X) in the square opposite such group, this instruction appearing immediately before the words: "To vote for a person not on the ballot."
